DIGGING RIGHT IN—a group of shoppers outside Graham's Apparel last Friday evening during the annual Sidewalk Sale celebration. Plymouth was jammed as persons packed the streets. One merchant said he "couldn't believe it" when a check showed a 30 per cent increase in business over last year. More pictures inside.

MOVING DAY: That's what Monday was at Plymouth's City Hall. Here, assistant police chief Loren Johnson pauses as a mover pushes a load out through the doors of the old City Hall. Electricity in the timeworn old structure is expected to be shut off this week. It will fall soon to the blows of wreckers.

Salem Township to Meet County and Local Candidates

Six Washtenaw County officials have said they will appear at a meeting to introduce candidates for Salem Township and Washtenaw County offices Aug. 18 at 8 p.m. in Salem Township Hall, according to Township Treasurer Floyd Taylor.

Incumbent county officials Louella M. Smith, clerk; John Flook, drain commissioner; William F. Delhey, prosecuting attorney; Patricia M. Hardy, register of deeds; George A. Petersen, sheriff; and Sylvester A. Leonard, treasurer, will attend the meeting sponsored by the Salem Republican Club, Taylor said. He added other candidates will also appear.

The only contest in the Township election will be between Russel Knight and Harriette Edmund Lichow for township treasurer, Taylor said. He said he is running for Township Supervisor.

Appoint Five New Teachers

Approval was granted for the addition of five new staff members to the Plymouth Community School system as the school board O.K.'s their appointment at their meeting held Monday evening in the school district offices.

In addition, the board accepted the resignation of four school staffers.

Appointed to teach second grade classes at Farrand Elementary School was Sally Jo Botzler, a graduate of Wayne State University. Miss Botzler holds a B.A. degree.

Thomas Cavanaugh, a veteran of two years experience in the Dearborn school system, will teach Math and Science at Plymouth's two Junior High Schools. Cavanaugh holds a B.A. degree, attended St. Joseph's College, Ind., and Eastern Michigan University.

Teaching kindergarten at Farrand School will be Marcia Raafaub. Holder of a B.S. degree from Cortland College, N.Y., she has taught in Fremont, Ind. for one year.

APPROVAL, contingent upon his signing a contract, was granted to the appointment of Donald R. Chadderdon, strings and orchestra instructor in grades five through 12.

Chadderdon holds a B.M. degree from the University of Miami and an M.M. degree from Michigan State University. He has taught for one year in East Lansing, a year in Marshall, Mich., and seven years in Garden City, N.Y.

Board member Robert Soth abstained from voting on Chadderdon's appointment. Soth said he objected.

Twp. Planners O.K. Lake Pointe Additions

The way was cleared for eventual construction of nearly 225 new homes in Plymouth Township as planning commissioners approved preliminary plans for Lake Pointe Village No. Eight and Lake Pointe Village No. Nine.

The two additions to develop Fred Greenspan's Lake Pointe subdivision would be built in the area north of Schoolcraft Road and west of Haggerty, adjacent to the existing development.

At a special meeting held last Wednesday evening in the Township, planners approved preliminary plans for the two additions without playgrounds.

ACTION had been delayed while commissioners debated whether the original proposals, submitted about 10 years ago, included provisions for play areas. The group agreed that playfields created a policing problem for township officials and added little to the development.

Assuming an average value of $20,000 per home, completion of the two additions to Lake Pointe Village could mean more than $4,450,000 in increased township valuation.

Lake Pointe No. Eight calls for 156 lots and No. Nine includes plans for 67.

Consolidation to Mean 500-700 New Employees at Burroughs

Approximately 500 to 700 employees will be added to the Burroughs Corporation's Plymouth division before the consolidation of the Detroit and Plymouth plants is completed in mid-1965, General Manager of the new Michigan Manufacturing and Engineering Division Herbert DeBorde told Plymouth businessmen.

Speaking at the Businessmen's Forum Luncheon, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Aug. 8 at Hillside, DeBorde said 3,700 persons are now employed in Plymouth.

Consolidation of Detroit and Plymouth plants and personnel has already been completed in their tool division, special parts and tape-controlled fabricating division, maintenance office and shops and punch press area.

Burroughs announced the consolidation of the two plants into the Michigan Manufacturing and Engineering Division to be headquartered in Plymouth, this past December.

DeBorde said all production will be out of the Detroit plant by the end of this year.

"IT'S AMAZING to move something that was the main plant and office for 60 years and transfer and combine the organization," DeBorde added.

DeBorde said the Plymouth division grew up with Plymouth, explaining the office opened in 1937 in a five-story building with a few hundred employees as a branch of the main plant. It finally became a question of which was the main plant, DeBorde added.

There are no plans for expansion of physical facilities at the Plymouth plant at this time, DeBorde said. He explained that any expansion would be carried out only on a limited basis because the products are so complex that it is extremely difficult technologically to have many different operations in one area.

The Burroughs direct accounting computer, E2100, which was acclaimed in Michigan and at the New York World's Fair as Michigan's 1964 Product of the Year, is manufactured exclusively in Plymouth. DeBorde told the businessmen. He explained it is the new-at Junior High School East, was elevated to the post of principal.

Smith and Taylor replace William Harding who divided his time between the two junior high schools until his appointment early this summer as Assistant Superintendent of Schools for secondary education.

The 40-year-old Hoben well-known and acclaimed as head coach of Plymouth's winning baseball and football squads, has been serving as a high school counselor.

He has won local fame as head of Plymouth's YMCA youth employment bureau with offices in the Plymouth-

D.S.I. Explains Expansion, Predicts Bright Future

With an extensive expansion and remodeling project underway at D.S.I. Corporation in Plymouth, at the site of the former Daisy Air Rifle Company, a trio of representatives from the distribution firm spoke Friday at a Plymouth service club meeting at the Mayflower Hotel.

President W. C. Scott, Vice President W. P. (Phil)

Scott and John Dillan of D.S.I.'s creative staff outlined the past and present and painted a glowing picture of the future of their organization.

Speaking before Plymouth Rotary, W. C. Scott said D.S.I.'s progress is evidence of how a community industrial program, backed by a dedicated, unified effort can benefit the area.

"It was a bit of a dismal picture," Scott said in reference to the situation four years ago when D.S.I. came to Plymouth. "I hope it's not now."

Scott said a group of men with a five-point list of objectives had been responsible for the corporation's move to Plymouth. Those objectives included improvement of local tax base, activation of a landmark (the old Daisy plant), improvement of the community economic balance, an increase in the flow of money and better employment balance.

THESE MEN, who organized Plymouth's Industrial Development Corporation, made their first sale in July, 1961 to D.S.I., bringing 75 employees to the city.

Following W. C. Scott to the firm's creative staff, D.S.I., he said, is working with and through marketing executives and their staff at various corporations to attain "customer focus selling."

Four goals, he said, are paramount to the concept:

(1) Product-Program distribution. Involving marketing materials, D.S.I. handles all or part of the distribution of these materials.

(2) Market requests — fulfillment. Involves requests from customers and potential customers for items and product information, and gathering, screening and fulfilling these requests.

(3) Achievement recognition. Includes motivating sales staffers, by offering a continuous challenge and the distribution of award certificates and lapel pins.

(4) Controlled selling. Data processing machines are used to create more selling time. The concept of controlled selling is expected to be expanded to insurance, petroleum and other industries.

All these services are personalized to fit the needs of management, according to Dillan. D.S.I., he said, is a professional organization, offering professional services. With headquarters, it has plants in Detroit and Los Angeles. Its services are available from medium sized

Dems Endorse Two At Friday Meeting

Receiving endorsement at a meeting of the Plymouth Democratic Club held Friday evening in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union Building were two candidates for office in the Sept. 1 primary election.

Orville Tungate said the club has urged its membership to support persons they themselves feel would be best for public office.

"Y" to Hire Older Persons

Thomas B. Foley of Plymouth, a non-partisan candidate for the Appellate Court of Wayne County and Joe B. Sullivan, Democratic candidate for Wayne County prosecutor were both given the stamp of approval by local Democrats.

The two men were among 13 Democratic primary candidates who appeared and spoke to the club. On the roster of the lengthy meeting which lasted from 8 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. was only one incumbent, Wayne County Sheriff Peter L. Buback.

An opportunity for older persons in the Plymouth area to secure employment will be offered by the Plymouth YMCA employment service, according to director John M. Hoben.

Starting immediately, applications for work will be taken at the employment service offices in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union building at 500 S. Harvey St.

Hoben said 40 jobs will be available, beginning in mid-September. Some experience in light assembly work is required. Interested persons, over 45 years of age should apply at the "Y" office.

PLYMOUTHITES A. E. Vallier and Maurice Breen both spoke to the group. Vallier is a primary candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator in the 14th Senatorial District, and Breen is running for the nomination for State Representative in the 36th Congressional District.

Executive Board Member

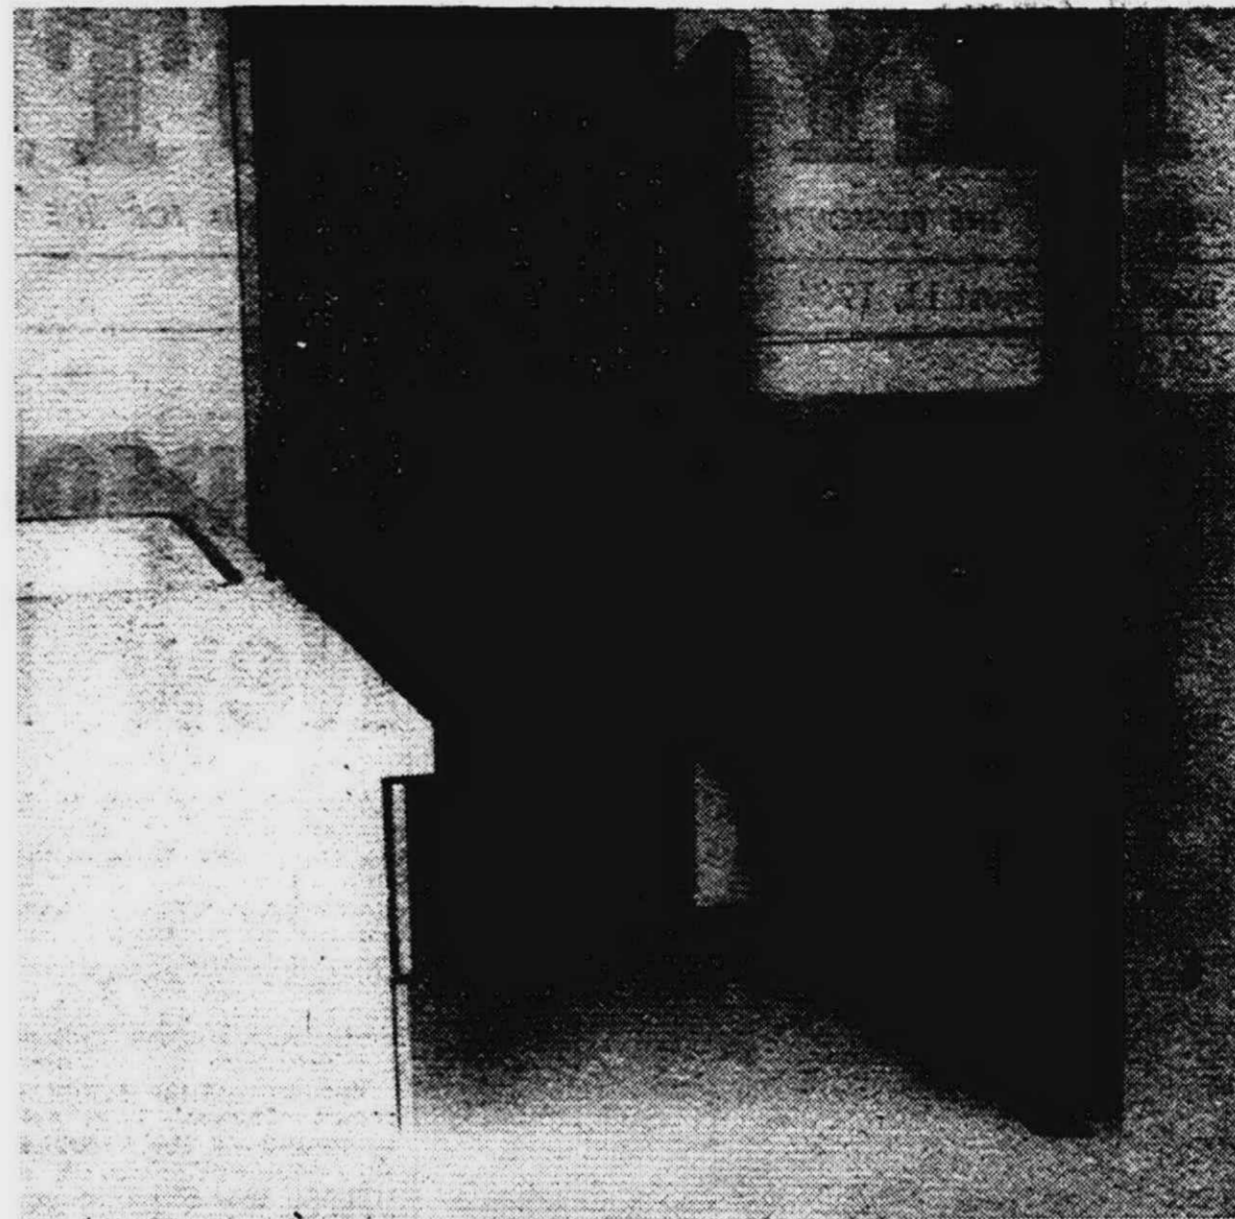

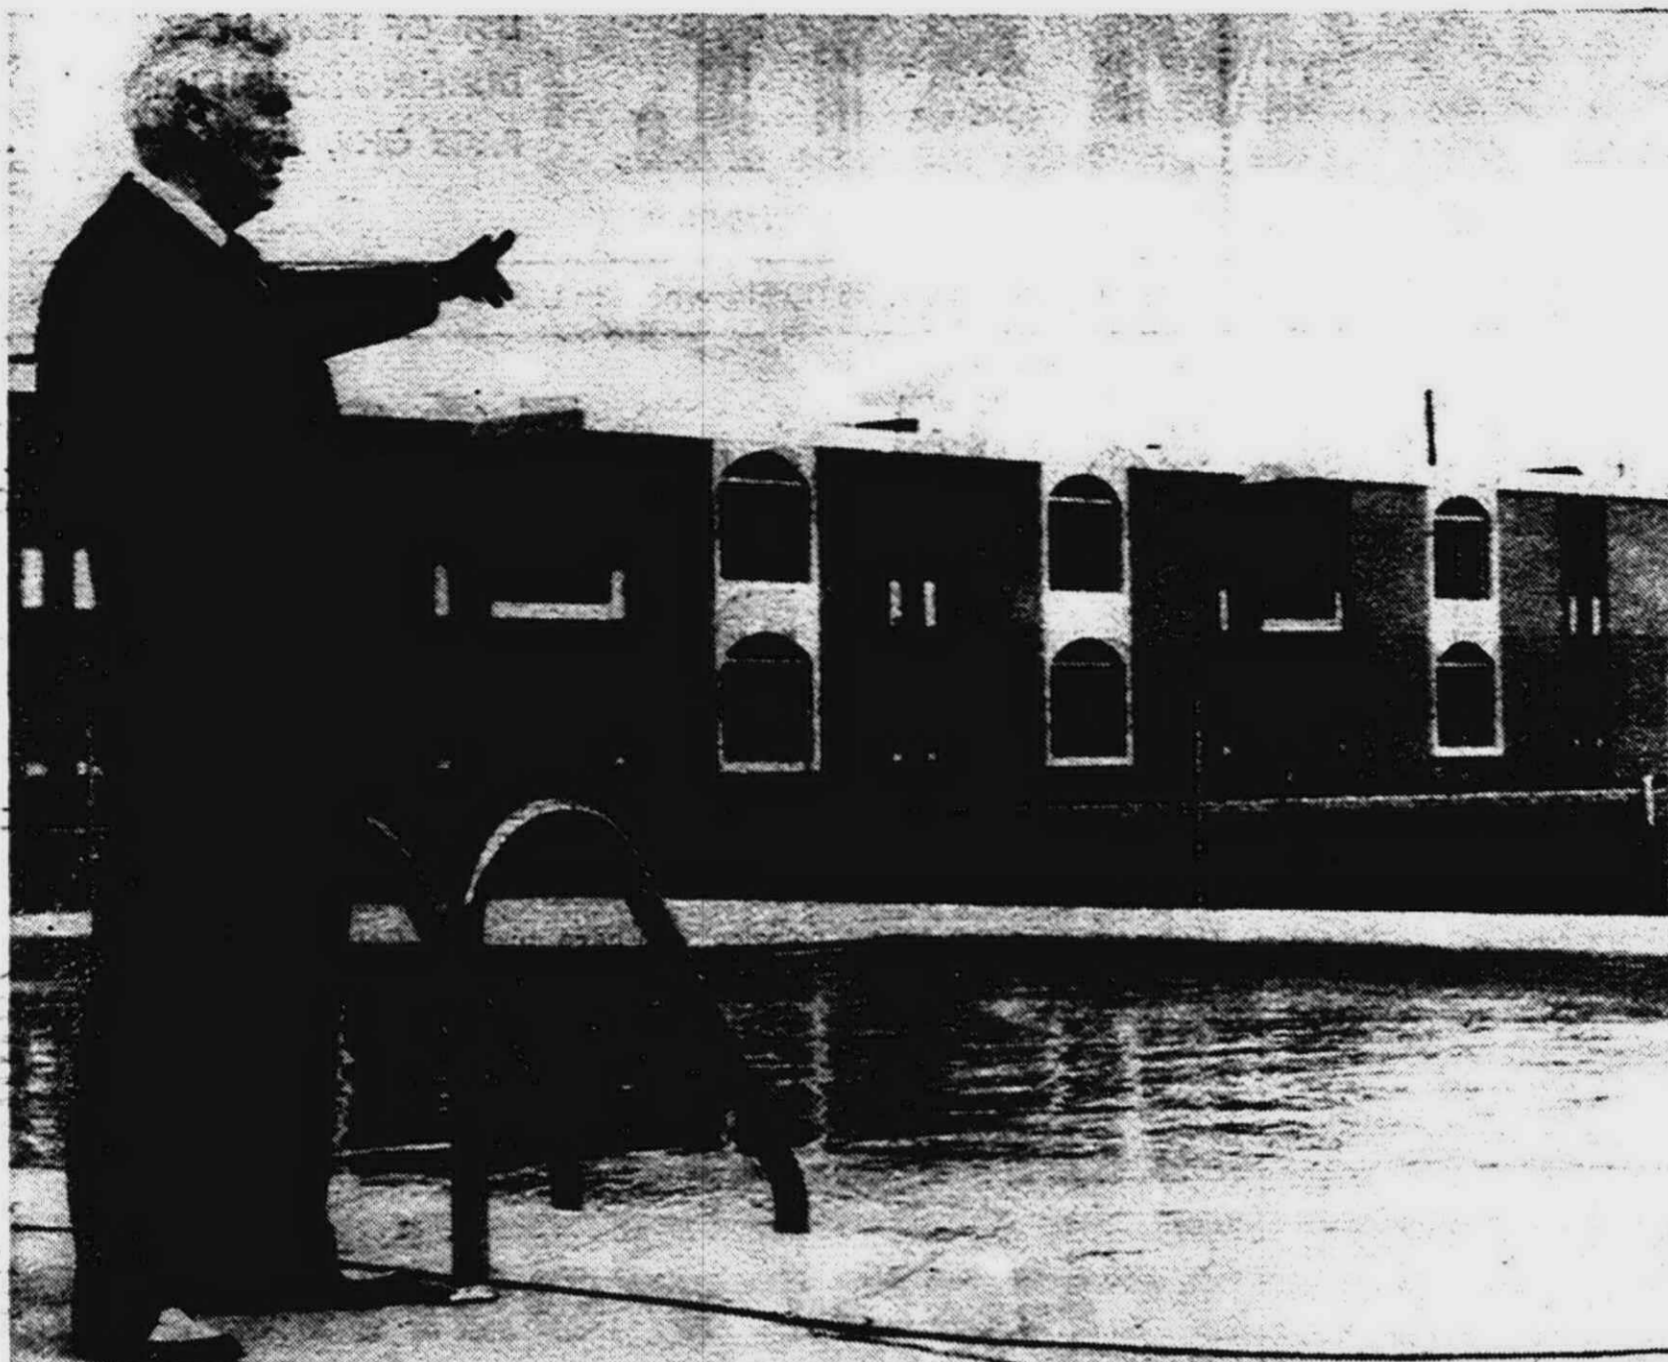

In a Nutshell . . .

★ Authorization to sell 350 $100 debentures, bearing six per cent interest, was granted last week by directors of Plymouth's Industrial Development Corporation. Board president Frank Arlen said the $35,000 raised will be used to finance a portion of the cost of expansion operations at Plymouth's D.S.I. Corporation. Arlen pointed out that approximately 10 per cent of the principal will be paid back each year. D.S.I. Corp. occupies the plant facilities that formerly housed the Daisy Air Rifle Company.

★ At the final concert of the Plymouth Community Band, held Friday evening in Kellogg Park, bandleader James Griffiths and Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union Board President Harold Guenther paid tribute to those whose efforts made the concerts possible. For the second year in a row, the Credit Union has contributed $1,500 to the cost of the summer concerts. (See editorial, Page Two, Section Three).

★ With two grass fires reported in a two-day span last week, Plymouth Township Fire Chief Barney Maas issued a word of caution to township residents about burning. Maas pointed out that a permit is required before anything may be burned. He said that the relative dry spell of the past few weeks has created conditions conducive to blazes.

Set Opening for Plimeth Place Apartment Units

COMPLETELY equipped Hotpoint kitchens are featured in the crisp, clean apartment development. Included is an eye-level control four-burner range and oven, a built-in exhaust system, automatic dishwasher and continuous feed quiet disposal.

POINTING THE way to spacious elegance in apartment living in The Plymouth Community is Joseph L. Hudson, owner of the J. L. Hudson Real Estate Company in Plymouth. The firm will offer for rental one and two-bedroom units in Plimeth Place Apartments, located at 1401 South Sheldon Road, just north of Ann Arbor Road.

Quality and spaciousness will be the keynote on Wednesday, Aug. 12 when the long awaited grand opening of the 72-unit Plimeth Place apartments, located at 1401 South Sheldon Road, just north of Ann Arbor Road, takes place.

The J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co., at 479 South Main St., has been named leasing agent for the sparkling new multiple family units — apartments that will be the first in this area to accept children.

The apartments will be open for inspection beginning tomorrow (Wednesday) from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., seven days a week.

From their convenient localities, residents will be able to drive to downtown Plymouth's shopping center in moments or shop at nearby stores just three blocks away on Ann Arbor Road.

The crisply designed buildings are within commuting distance of Detroit and lie minutes away from the cultural activities of the University of Michigan.

Designed by well-known architect, Wah Yee of a Detroit architectural firm, the clean, functional lines of the buildings blend well with the distinctive style of a free-form swimming pool.

NO COMPROMISE is offered on convenience, luxury and space, according to J. L. Hudson of the real estate firm offering the units.

"These brand-new apartments are truly home — filled with all the features you'd pick yourself," he commented.

Offered at $165 per month for two-bedroom units and $145 for the single bedroom, the rental price includes heat, water and, Hudson emphasized, covered parking.

The brightly illuminated apartments feature huge, sweeping plate glass windows, central air conditioning, extra-large wardrobe and walk-in closets and insulated soundproof walls.

In addition, are ceramic tile baths, aluminum sliding windows, R. C. A. master antennas, individually controlled heating, electrically equipped kitchens by Hotpoint and a built-in exhaust system.

THE LADY of the house will be further impressed by eye-level control four-burner range and oven, automatic dishwasher, a continuous feed quiet disposal, and cabinets and counters of walnut grain texture.

Tiled center entrance foyers, a carpeted lobby and hall will impress visitors and guests. For those extra items there is a private basement with room for storage and laundry facilities.

Fire Calls Rise As Losses Drop In Canton Twp.

Canton Fire Department answered 29 more fire alarms during the period from Jan. 1 until July 1, 1964 than during the same period in 1963, but fire losses dropped $13,300, according to township fire chief Fred J. Korte, Jr.

Fire loss for the 96 alarms answered this year was $7,000 whereas for the 67 alarms answered the previous year, damage reached $20,300, Korte said. He explained that $1,015 was lost this year in contents of buildings and $3,200 was lost in contents last year.

Of the 96 alarms, 44 were for grass fires, nine dwellings, nine rescue, nine car fires, five mutual aid to neighboring departments, one house trailer, one false alarm and 18 other including fires in barns and sheds.

Over a two year period the number of fire alarms has increased approximately 95%.

SPACIOUS, WELL-lighted hallways highlight the architectural style at Plimeth Place. Sliding doors on the upper levels open onto balconies overlooking the sweeping avenues that lead to the free-form swimming pool and recreation area.

"It (the E2100) will carry the 'Made in Plymouth' mark to all 50 states plus 126 countries," DeBorde told his audience.

"The E2100, with its national honors as well as the enthusiastic market response throughout the world since its announcement, is, I believe, symbolic of the fact that Burroughs, more than any other Michigan manufacturer, has been responsible for bringing electronics to Michigan," DeBorde said.

THE NEW Michigan manufacturing and engineering division has been given responsibility for engineering development and production of commercial electronic data processing systems.

Other products of the Michigan division include the sensimatic numeric and alphanumeric accounting machines, magnetic ink character recognition check and document sorter-readers, a utility ledger readers, high speed card punches, card readers and tape listers and drum printers for B5000 and B2000 computer systems, a mount printers, tape punch adding machines and auxiliary tape and card punch units for accounting machines.

The employee must also show interest and a desire to learn before training, according to DeBorde.

"We (Burroughs) have in the past and will continue to actively participate in every community where Burroughs does business. We are proud of our efforts to be a helpful, effective corporate citizen and pledge continuation of this policy and practice," DeBorde told the businessmen in conclusion.

Rights Group Sets Meeting For Thursday

At their meeting this Thursday evening, Aug. 13, members of the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity will employ the technique of role-playing to better acquaint and prepare themselves with questions and answers about current civil rights issues.

School Officials Back County Millage Issue

Support to the passage of a committee of staff members one mill additional taxation to study sex education in the for Wayne County was given schools and to report back to by the Plymouth Community School Board at its regular meeting on Tuesday, August 10, 1964.

The move came following a report by John M. Hoben, the administrative officer of the school system, and Dr. Edward Kaufmann, on the sex education program presented by the Y.M.C.A.

HOBEN told the Board that the Y had not been able to reach everyone they wanted to in the program and he feels the schools should direct the program. Dr. Kaufmann suggested junior high school as a good starting point for the program.

Rev. Costner added the for this past year, $40,000 better than expected, according to financial committee chairman Carl Schendel. He added this was an unanticipated figure and further explanation would be made at the next meeting.

The Board also directed Superintendent of Schools Russell Heister to purchase products and eggs.

DISCUSSING a case before a trial in his justice court are Justice of the Peace Lawrence A. Schendel and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Gerald T. Celesky. Schendel holds his court in the Plymouth Township Hall.

Township Justice: A Vital Position

Performing a vital position, which may be abolished within five years, in Michigan's judicial system is Plymouth Township Justice of the Peace (J. P.) Lawrence A. Schendel.

Certified as a J. P. by the Michigan Justice of the Peace Association, Schendel is one of two J. P.'s elected in Plymouth Township for four year terms: Martin Schomberger, of 40810 E. Ann Arbor Tr., is the other.

An attorney in the Wayne County Road Commission's legal department for 12 years, Schendel has held office since July 4, 1963.

As a J. P. he has criminal jurisdiction for Wayne County in misdemeanors (cases involving fines of $100 or less and less than 90 days in prison) and civil jurisdiction in cases involving less than $200.

HIS CASES involve traffic violations primarily, although he occasionally hears other cases, he said. Schendel holds justice court in the township hall, complete with jury if the defendant wishes.

Police bring in traffic tickets to the J. P. in the township where the offense occurs, Schendel said, explaining how the system works.

The first thing he does when an accused person is brought before him, he said, is to advise him of his rights to counsel, and jury trial.

The one qualification for the office is a requirement of ownership residence. Schendel explained that the majority of J. P.'s are not lawyers; they hold varied other positions in addition to being justices of the peace.

Under the new Michigan Constitution and subsequent court rulings, J.P.s are to be abolished within five years from Jan. 1, 1964 or as soon as the state Legislature establishes a court system to take its place.

One problem that has to be solved by the Legislature in establishing a new court will be where to put the money for it, Schendel suggested. He explained that under the J. P. system the court is self-sustaining and at no cost to the township. Fines are put in the County's library fund and court costs are put in the County's general fund, he said.

The J. P. system is adaptable, Schendel said, it's here when needed, without large expense.

"EVERY township is entitled to two J. P.s regardless of size," Schendel said, adding that when establishing a new system this should be remembered.

A graduate of Wayne State University and Wayne law school, Schendel and his wife Barbara have lived in Plymouth since Dec. 1959. He also has two sons, Marty, two, and David, a one-year-old. A native of Garden City, Schendel lived in Wayne before moving to Plymouth.

D.S.I. Explains Expansion

(Continued from page 1) Employment has doubled and D.S.I. has added more than $1 million annually to the local economy. Working floor space is now being increased by 50 per cent, making D.S.I. the largest concern in its field.

By 1969, Scott predicted, D.S.I. will use all of the land surrounding it, will occupy more floor space and will constitute a completely new landmark. Upper and middle employment will increase.

Fulfillment services, begun in 1962, now account for 10 per cent of the firm's volume, according to W. P. (Phil) Scott. And the concept is still in its infancy.

Controlled selling, he said, is the most sophisticated of the Plymouth corporation's services. D.S.I.'s sister company, Scott-Phillips Corporation, offers identical services, but is completely divorced from the former organization to maintain complete security among competing clients.

IN 1961, Scott said, D.S.I. was using less than one half of the old Daisy industrial complex and two acres of land. Today, all of the existing floor space is in use and our acres are occupied.

City DPW Activities

By Sup'l. Joseph Bida

The department has been busy this week with the following: Sweeping of the business district. Cleaning of approximately eighty catch basins. The work on the main and water tap at the city garage was completed. Two curb boxes were dug up and cleaned and repaired at 42669 Five Mile Road and 1112 Palmer Avenue.

Work continued with trimming, cleaning and mowing in the parks. Diseased Elm trees were cut down in the cemetery and the Mausoleum was cleaned on the inside and mowing was continued. Men were scurrying from the old city hall to the new city hall moving materials for all departments. Moving should be completed by the first of next week.

Moving of vacant property was continued this week. Two hour parking signs were made up in the sign department and installed on Industrial Drive. Dead end sanitary sewers were flushed and a chemical placed into them to help keep them clean. Streets were cold patched.

The work was continued on Coolidge Street and catch basins were installed. Several times during the week the department received a "Help" call from Gay Bros. Construction Company as they ran into a bit of trouble and needed the help of the city men. This was due to unknown location of water lines.

Again I will mention a problem which is getting out of hand and in the future the Department of Public Works will sign complaints. This problem is dumping grass and debris out into the street so it plugs up catch basins and causes a lot of unnecessary expenses.

Also, anyone caught dumping debris on vacant lots or along the creeks will have a complaint signed against them. The City of Plymouth can only be kept clean with the help of everyone, adult and children alike. PLEASE HELP KEEP PLYMOUTH CLEAN.

Obituary

Charles A. Steinhebel

Charles A. Steinhebel, of Northville, died Aug. 7 in St. Mary Hospital, Livonia, at the age of 77, following a six months illness.

Born July 5, 1886 in Detroit, he was the son of Fred and Julia Steinhebel. He lived in Northville for 46 years and was retired from the Wayne County Road Commission.

Mr. Steinhebel is survived by his widow Myrtle; a daughter, Mrs. Louis Waterman, of Plymouth; a son, Charles E., of Northville; one grandchild and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held Aug. 10 at Casterline Funeral Home, Northville, and interment followed at Oakland Hills Memorial Garden.

Violations Promised For Dogs

Deploring a drastic increase in complaints of dogs running loose, Plymouth Township officials this week issued a warning to dog owners whose animals may be at large.

"Purchase of a dog license does not mean the owner can permit his animal to run loose," a township spokesman said. Township ordinances specifically prohibit animals at large and require the dog to wear a collar and be leashed.

Dogs will be impounded, the officials emphasized, and if not claimed after 48 hours, will be destroyed or sold at public auction.

Violations will be issued to the owners, meaning a trip to justice court. Violators may be punished by a fine of not more than $100, a jail sentence of 90 days, or both.

PLYMOUTH STREETS were packed Friday evening for the annual Sidewalk Sale, sponsored by downtown merchants in co-operation with the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

This view, from the upper window of Davis & Lent, shows a portion of the crowds that jammed city sidewalks.

OVER IN Kellogg Park, swarms of adults and youngsters gathered for the final concert in the summer series by the Plymouth Community Band. Tenor Henry Naasko, foreground, right.

sang selections from "West Side Story." The concerts have been sponsored by the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union.

MEANWHILE, at street level, on the other side of Main St., shoppers continued to flock to local stores. Traffic flow on the sidewalks was hampered by large numbers of persons. The sale was advertised primarily in a free distribution shopper, delivered in Plymouth and Plymouth Township from house-to-house.

OUTSIDE Fisher's Shoes, the gals dug in with great enthusiasm, to pick shoes from the displays outside the store.

Like fingerprints, tastes in curry seem to vary with the individual. The cook of India makes her own curry powder, and may pulverize from five to fifty different ingredients to obtain just the precise flavor she wants for a particular dish. In other countries such precision is not required; prepared curry powder will do the trick. But the foods to be curried, the amount of spice used and the accompaniments are subject to wide variation. Two facts do not seem to change, however: curries are popular, and are always accompanied by rice.

The reason for the latter fact is simple. Whether the curry is hair-curling hot or subtle as a hint, the bland flavor of rice sets it off ideally. Rice adds to the attraction of the dish, too, with its contrasting texture and compatible color — snowy white or delicate yellow as in the Saffron Rice below.

Lamb Curry With Bananas is a Caribbean version of the classic Indian curry. Bananas as the single accompaniment and saffron rice (yellow rice) give it the island touch.

- Lamb Curry With Bananas
- | | |
|--|--|
| 1 cup thinly sliced onion | 2 whole cloves |
| 3/4 cup chopped green pepper | 1 dash of ground mace |
| 1 small clove garlic, minced | 2 1/2 to 3 cups cooked lamb, cubed |
| 3 tablespoons olive oil, butter or margarine | 3 bananas, sliced about 1/2-inch thick |
| 2 tablespoons flour | |
| 2 cups meat stock or bouillon | |
| 1/2 cup tomato sauce | |
| 2 tablespoons minced parsley | Saffron Rice: |
| 1 tablespoon curry powder | 1 cup uncooked rice |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 2 cups water |
| 1/2 teaspoon pepper | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 large bay leaf | 1/2 teaspoon saffron |
| 1 pinch thyme | 1 tablespoon butter or margarine |

Cook onion, green pepper, and garlic in 2 tablespoons oil until golden. Sprinkle on flour, stir until well blended. Add meat stock, simmer until thick and smooth. Add tomato sauce, parsley and seasonings; simmer about 15 minutes. Stir in the meat and let stand in the sauce — preferably overnight but at least an hour. Shortly before serving, cook banana slices in remaining oil. Cook lamb mixture just long enough to heat it through. Serve over Saffron Rice and garnish with the sauteed banana slices. To prepare Saffron Rice, combine ingredients in a saucepan. Heat to boiling. Stir, cover, and cook over low heat until rice is tender, about 15 minutes.

6 servings.

Festival Event Schedule

SATURDAY, SEPT 12
 Plymouth Kiwanians will highlight the gastronomical scene with their annual Pancake Festival from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Plymouth's Masonic Temple. Other activities, centered in Kellogg Park, include a pet show sponsored by the recreation department, the Washu-Nang Interpretive Indian Dancers, an accordion concert by Jerry's Accordion and a cookie sale by Plymouth Grange.

Family fun will be provided during the evening when the V.F.W.'s popular "Pageant of Drums" is repeated. A parade and park entertainment will precede the program to be held at the Plymouth High School football field.

Following the 7:30 p.m. Pageant of Drums, a square dance will be sponsored by the Newcomers Club. The event will be held in the city's central parking lot and will include both square and round dancing.

Continuing in its second day will be the Plymouth Symphony League's antique show, to be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Grange and Community Center. At least 22 dealers are expected to participate.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 13
 Always the largest and most spectacular of the Festival days, Sunday will revolve around Plymouth Rotary's Chicken Barbecue, with 12,000 guests expected.

Included in the day's events are a flower show sponsored by the Plymouth division of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, a candy sale by costumed girls under the auspices of the Sarah Ann Cochrane D.A.R. chapter and a sale of novelty items produced by handicapped persons and marketed by Rotary Annex.

The Three Cities Art Club will hold a jury show with featured artists and exhibitors displaying merchandise for sale. In addition to the continuing antique show and cookie sale, the American Association of University Women will have displays highlighting their annual Listening Post Series and the popular children's play.

Other participants include the Sceptimist cider and donut sale, a crafts display and popcorn sale by YMCA Indian Guides, a Theater Guild concession, antique cars owners, Plymouth Historical Society exhibits and the Chrysler Art-Mobile.

Last week, both Plymouth JayCees and Plymouth Rotary held trial runs of their Fall Festival events.

Rotarians met at Cliff Tait's for chicken barbecuing and brushing up on cooking and preparing techniques. JayCees assembled at the home of Wendell Smith where they practiced fish cooking methods.

JayCees will offer fish, rolls, salad, potato chips and butter from 12 noon to 3 p.m. on Sept. 11. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, $1 for children. Also at the meeting, Jay-

Township Building Goes On

While dropping in comparison to past months, building activity continued at a healthy pace in Plymouth Township as permits for structures valued at $134,357 were granted during the month of July.

Township Building Inspector Matthew McLellan said the bulk of the figure was reflected in five permits granted for single family residences valued at $98,000.

Industrial additions, three of them valued at $9,000 were begun; 10 addition and alteration projects totalling $15,262 were started and nine garage buildings worth $11,395 got underway.

One sign permit was granted for $700. The building permits brought $645 in revenue into Plymouth Township, the first six months of the year.

Building activity in the township got off to a blistering start this year as more than $3 million worth of construction was started in the first six months of the year.

Thayer Steps Up Local Campaign

A coffee hour has been set for 8:30 p.m. tomorrow (Wednesday) at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Olsen of 4215 Bruce St. at which people will have a chance to meet and talk with Michigan Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer.

The Senator is a Republican candidate for Congress in the Second District which now includes Plymouth City and Township. Concerning this area, Thayer commented:

"The needs of Plymouth are every bit as important as those of any other section of this large district. If elected, he said, he hopes that Plymouthites will feel free to inform him of their views and opinions on all legislation important to them.

"I WANT to continue to appear in Plymouth and meet your people so that I will be in the best possible position to represent you. I do not believe that there should be such a thing as an 'Ann Arbor Congressman' — a man who does not make every effort to acquaint himself with the specific problems and desires of each township in the district. "You have been represented in the past," Thayer concluded, "by an active Congresswoman, and I am aware of the close communication you have had with her. I hope I can serve you as well in future years."

Last week, during Plymouth's Sidewalk Days, Thayer launched an active campaigning effort here with Plymouth industrialist James Jabara. He was a guest of Plymouth Rotary Club at last Friday's luncheon meeting at the Mayflower Hotel.

The Senator's entire family accompanied him to Plymouth. Mrs. Thayer and their daughters wore white campaign dresses. Gwen, 17, and Bobbi, 16, helped to pass out literature while little Vicki, who is only five, passed out balloons.

THIRD PLACE winner in the American Legion Auxiliary Essay Contest in Michigan was Kay Zoet, of 380 W. Liberty St. She received a $15 prize in the department (state) contest after winning unit and district contests. Miss Zoet, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zoet, is a junior at Plymouth High School.

School Means Arithmetic for Mom

Approaching school days mean a session in arithmetic for mother — as she figures out how to get the most wearability and style out of mixing and matching separates for her back-to-school child.

Here are some new variations on old formulas — based on children's fashions now on the market.

MULTIPLY by color, texture, and style. In some parochial schools, the formula for maximum wear with easiest upkeep is "2 x 6" — for girls, two jumpers and six blouses — for boys two pair of pants, two jackets, six shirts. Translated into the brighter colors of public school life, the "2 x 6" idea keeps clothes rotating in and out of the closet and washing machine at a speed best geared for your convenience.

DOUBLE the number of colorful costumes with smart selection of sweaters and separates. New colors, blends, combinations multiply your choice. One combination already a classic is a sweater and plaid skirt set. For playtime, there are matching solid stretch pants to substitute for the skirt.

COUNT on your fingers. When cold weather strikes, you'll be digging deep in the bureau drawers to find a matching pair of mittens or gloves. Buying two or three pair of the same kind is economical — like buying several pairs of stockings. Teachers will be grateful if you sew or press on name tags into both gloves — one school ended the year with 17 gloves in its lost and found box!

GET the right answer to the winter coat problem with new warm textures which are not too heavy, not too light. Plaids are important in coats, too. A gay fleecy coat can make a hit with your daughter. Also popular this year is the perennial parka — either with a shaggy or smooth pile.

Plymouth Pantries

CUTTING her husband's favorite pie and this week's Plymouth Pantries recipe, "Sour Cream Fruit Pie," is Mrs. Thomas Armstrong, of 1199 Sheldon Rd. The pie is light and fluffy and the fruit used in it may depend on the season.

For a perfect dessert to serve to guests, Mrs. Thomas Armstrong, of 1199 Sheldon Rd., suggests "Sour Cream Fruit Pie."

Ponches, rhubarb, strawberries or cherries may be used in the light, fluffy pie. Mrs. Armstrong's proudest achievement, according to her husband, is that she recently learned to swim. She explained she has always been afraid of water, but finally decided if everyone else could swim she could learn.

Pictures drawn by several of her five grandchildren decorate Mrs. Armstrong's walls. The Armstrongs have three children.

Originally from Detroit, they moved to Plymouth about a year ago. Both work for Burroughs Corporation in Plymouth.

The recipe for "Sour Cream Pie," one of her husband's favorite desserts was given to her by Mr. Armstrong's mother, Mrs. Armstrong said. She uses rhubarb when it is available, she said, but added other fruits are equally good in the pie.

SOUR CREAM FRUIT PIE
(Serves 6 to 8)

1/2 C. flour
1/2 C. granulated sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
2 C. sour cream
3 eggs, well beaten
1/4 tsp. almond extract
1 C. cooked rhubarb, slightly sweetened and well-drained.
Baked nine inch pie shell.

Mix flour, sugar and salt in a double boiler. Blend in cream and cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring constantly. Pour part of mixture over beaten eggs, stirring vigorously; return to double boiler and cook for three minutes, still stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Cool. Add flavoring and fold in fruit. Turn into baked pie shell and chill thoroughly. Top with whipped cream if desired.

Strawberries, peaches, berries and cherries may be substituted. Drain fruit well before adding.

CORRECTION

For those who have tried Mrs. Terry Goebel's "Pineapple Cream Cheese Cake" July 28 and wondered when to add the pineapple, the recipe should have read:

Combine Jello with two cups water and cool till slightly thickened. Freeze evaporated milk until ice appears on top. Whip pet milk, then add gelatin and whip. Mix pineapple, sugar and cream cheese together. Add gelatin mixture to sugar and cream cheese. Pour into a buttered square cake pan lined with half of crushed graham crackers. Sprinkle rest of crackers on top. Chill until firm and cut in squares.

Indianapolis 500 Featured at Kiwanis Meeting

Plymouth Kiwanis Club members were entertained last Tuesday evening by the presentation of an Indianapolis 500 Mile Race colored film shown by Kiwanian Chet Haines and guest Bill Wright, through the courtesy of the Mobil Oil Company.

This was the first race that was halted because of an accident, with only 14 out of 33 cars being able to cross the finish line. One of the interesting facts of this race was that most of the cars used magnesium wheels and inner tubes had to be used because the magnesium wheels would leak air.

Kiwanian Arch Vallier urged his fellow club members to approve the one mill increase on County taxes which will appear on the September ballot. He informed them that Wayne County is already in debt 33 million dollars and the Board of Supervisors says that this cannot continue.

WILL THE ONE YOU WANT STILL BE HERE TOMORROW? ... WHO KNOWS?

Funny thing about used cars. Once you decide what you want, what you'll pay, and find that car, you've got to act fast. Before somebody else does. We can't order another one from the factory for you if the one you want is sold. Fact is, we never know from day to day how many '61 Cadillacs, Model "A's", '58 Chevies or even used VWs we'll have for sale. One week we're loaded with factory-clean convertibles. Next week, we may not have a single one traded in that's good enough to sell. So if you're in the used car market, shop around. That's our list up there. Pick out what you want to see and come and see it. But don't put it off till tomorrow - or the day after. Chances are, somebody else has his eye on it, too. And may act a little faster. Somebody else may end up driving your car.

World's Fair Visitors View Post Office of Tomorrow Exhibit

Visitors to the New York World's Fair from Plymouth have an unusual opportunity to see a post office of the future. Postmaster Timpona said.

A carefully-chosen group of 80 employees from the New York area post offices man the facility which handles all the Fair's mail and some from the Flushing, N.Y. area. The post office handles approximately 250,000 pieces of mail each day.

Postcards to friends and relatives back home are a big item. About 30,000 are mailed from the Fair each day. One third of these are addressed to persons overseas.

Foreign visitors have no trouble understanding U.S. postal operations. The facility has staff members who speak twenty languages.

Postmaster Timpona notes that residents of Plymouth who attend the Fair and wish to try out their foreign language ability can either talk with the multi-lingual window clerks or listen to a tape recorded presentation in the post office lobby which features individual cassettes for those who speak Japanese, French, German, Italian and Spanish.

New equipment includes an experimental certified which spins envelopes rapidly around a wheel-like mechanism and places them upright on their longest side. They then move into a machine which cancels stamps and postmarks envelopes at a rate of 500 letters a minute.

Letters are sorted to go all over the world by machines which position the mail so that the addresses are visible to an operator who sits in front of a keyboard similar to that on a typewriter. By pressing the correct buttons, 100 letters a minute are automatically directed to bins for 50 different destinations.

A larger sorter drops letters and cards into 131 different bins at a rate of 58 letters per minute for each of the twelve operators.

The work area is surrounded by a ramp and gallery for visitors which is open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. seven days a week. Tape recorded vignettes explain the action on the work floor and describe the operations of each machine.

Outside the building, mail boxes from 21 countries serve as background for the red, white and blue box of the United States.

A prototype stainless steel mail box being tested as an eventual replacement for the standard box used for the past forty years is located at one of the Fair's busiest intersections.

Visitors to the Fair may express their comments in the new box by dropping a note addressed to the "Superintendent, World's Fair Post Office" through the modernistic mail slot. Postage is not necessary. If they wish, visitors may discuss their reactions with clerk at the post office building.

Buback Gives New Image to Sheriff's Office

There's a bright, new look to the Wayne County Sheriff's Office. Architect of the new look is Sheriff Peter L. Buback. Under him, this Department of County Government has taken on entirely new dimensions. For years recognized as one of the top administrators in County Government, Sheriff Buback has made his Department remarkably effective in law enforcement. Other sheriffs regard it as a model. Among the "new look" measures inaugurated by Sheriff Buback is a central, scientific Identification Bureau. This constantly assists a high-efficiency network of 47 Police Departments. Sheriff Buback also cooperates with the Juvenile Court to deter crime. His new Youth Bureau arranges scores of teen-age youth tours of the County Jail. These are powerful object lessons that crime does not pay. We ask you to join us in supporting Peter L. Buback at the polls, Tuesday, Sept. 1. A public servant of his caliber should be retained.

Heartfelt thanks is deserved

Last Friday evening marked the last performance of the Plymouth Community band for this season and Kellogg Park was packed with listeners, both adult and small. The band, under capable direction, performed in its usual stellar fashion and the crowd — especially the kids — seemed enthusiastically pleased.

At intermission time, director James Griffiths paid tribute to those who had made the season possible. Included were City Manager Albert Glassford and D.P.W. Superintendent Joseph Bida, both of whom co-operated in the setup and operation of the city's portable bandstand.

In addition, Bida was cited for his part in stringing lights and providing facilities while the band shell was out of service and being repaired.

Others, including musicians who donated their talents without pay, were thanked for their part in the successful season. Then Griffiths introduced Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union Board President Harold Guenther.

Guenther noted that next week, when the park is dark and empty, people will realize that something is missing. Without the support of local residents and that indefinable spark that makes the Plymouth Community a little bit different, he noted, something could be missing permanently.

Then Guenther pointed out that the concerts have been made possible through financial support by the Credit Union. The financial institution has, for the second year in a row, donated $1,500 to underwrite the cost of presenting the weekly programs.

It's unfortunate that the Credit Union's role has, for this long, gone relatively unnoticed. Certainly its part in financing the concerts deserves widespread recognition.

The Plymouth Mail applauds all those whose efforts have made the concert season a success. The unselfish devotion of the musicians, the work donated by city officials, the service performed by those who manned the concession stand during the programs — all are worthy of commendation.

But, most important, we salute the Board of Directors of the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union. They have made this past summer a little more worthwhile.

The entire Plymouth Community should say a heartfelt "Thanks" to them.

Citizens duty in free society

Telephone calls to Plymouth Police complaining about irresponsible drivers on residential streets have proven more of a problem than a blessing in recent weeks.

Time and time again residents have called to tell law enforcement officers that drag races are underway in their neighborhood and, invariably, to demand immediate action.

Equally as often, offenders have disappeared by the time officers arrive on the scene. The next step is to contact the person making the call.

Sure, he says, he can give a description of the car. Of course, he knows who was driving. It's that hare-brained Jones kid who lives around the corner. He's forever peeling off in front of the house.

"If I've called you guys once," says the complainant, "I've called you a hundred times. Why don't you nab that guy?" Then comes the hitch. Officers explain that they can do nothing unless they either catch Jones in the act or some citizen signs a formal complaint.

"Oh, no! Not me, brother," the caller replies. "I'm not about to sign anything. First of all, the kid's old man would get mad at me and, secondly, the boy might retaliate."

What kind of world, pray tell, are we living in? This newspaper would be the first to admit that, as a whole, the younger generation has been maligned. But when a few knuckleheads make life miserable for the rest of the neighborhood, why are we reluctant to take the necessary action?

When the tyranny of youthful punks begins to make itself felt in Plymouth, it's time for people to begin to assess their responsibility to the community and to forget what the pimply-faced kid in the too-tight pants might do to them personally.

Chances are, he wouldn't do anything.

The Plymouth Mail deplores the "I'm not gonna squeal" sort of mentality that seems to hold sway in our society today. When flagrant violations of the law have been committed, it is the duty of the individual citizen to see that legal machinery is set in motion to counteract the situation.

WJBK-TV news director and Plymouthite Carl Cederberg lashed out against persons who are afraid to become involved when he spoke at Memorial Day ceremonies in Kellogg Park.

Apparently too few persons heard him.

We urge Plymouth residents to begin assuming their duty. When a wrong has been done, they have a mandate to bring it to the attention of authorities. And, having done that, they have a responsibility to sign a complaint if it's needed. Unpleasant as it may be, this is one of the duties of a person in a free society.

Remember, in a dictatorship, no such problem exists.

Closed doors should open

At the conclusion of last week's City Commission meeting, two of Plymouth's lawmakers questioned the concept and practice of committee-of-the-whole sessions as they relate to the public's right to know.

Both Commissioner George Lawton and A. E. Vallier said they felt the governing body had devoted far too much time to committee-of-the-whole meetings in recent months.

Lawton said it seemed to him that the commission had scheduled virtually everything of an even remotely controversial nature for closed door meetings. He and Vallier pointed out that the press is invited to attend such sessions, but the public is not.

This type of meeting, also known as executive session, is designed for the discussion of matters involving individual personnel problems and other items not conducive to public airing.

We, like the two commissioners, would hate to see any governmental unit abuse the concept of private session. The city has, in fact, scheduled a number of committee-of-the-whole meetings recently and the warning of the two men comes appropriately. But this newspaper would hate to think that any of the meetings were set with conscious intent to deprive the public access to information rightfully theirs.

Rather, we prefer to assume that the press of business dictated extra sessions and committee-of-the-whole was the most convenient way to dispose of them.

In the future, however, The Plymouth Mail wishes to go on record in firm opposition to closed-door meetings, except when absolutely necessary. We suggest that the city fathers consider scheduling a greater number of regular meetings for the disposition of city business.

And we urge a larger number of city residents to participate in these meetings. Government, any government, only deteriorates when the public it serves chooses to ignore it.

Large-scale attendance at city meetings would stimulate the interest of both citizens and lawmakers, and squelch the tendency to refer business to committee-of-the-whole.

JAMMED: That's the way Kellogg Park was Friday evening as Plymouthites turned out for the final concert of the Plymouth Community Band for this season. In an editorial at left, The Plymouth Mail pays tribute to those who made the season possible.

The Grim Pilgrim

By DAVE WILEY

Given the axiom that we all have something to be thankful for, I got to thinking the other day that the Plymouth Mail's sports thing, Bill Nelson, might well be grateful that his duties don't extend to coverage of road racing events.

He'd never make the grade.

I base my hasty judgment on an isolated incident that befell Nelson and myself a week or two ago. It all started in the Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union offices one afternoon as I was about to make my way back to the salt mines.

"Hey," someone inquired, "how would you like to go along and help pick up Tom Workman and his gang when they get through canoeing?"

"O.K.," I said innocently. "What time do we leave?"

"Oh," came the reply, "about 4:30. It takes about an hour." Well, to make a long story palatable, The Plymouth Mail's answer to Doc Greene came a blinding through the door at departure time and was conked into coming along.

Now Nelson is not a flamboyant guy. He dresses modestly, speaks softly and, with great care, drives a compact car. On the other hand, while I am not exactly Barney Oldfield, I can lay claim to the somewhat dubious honor of possessing what is probably the only four-on-the-floor-equipped station wagon in The Plymouth Community.

On the way out to the canoe drop-off site, director Mike Hoben tells us that he has explicit directions, spelling out the route from the point where the canoe trailer has been left to the site where the water journey is expected to end.

But his route is not quite right and we end up exploring every gravel road in the Kensington Park area looking for a way to Kent Lake.

Hoben leads the way in Workman's car, dragging the canoe trailer behind. I follow, dragging Bill Nelson. Hunched up in the front seat, he is plastered up against the front door as though a jump is imminent.

"Let go of the door handle," I urge gaily. "You're not the type to be over there on the far right."

"Geez," he pleads, "slow down, willya?"

"I'm only going 45."

"Yeah, know. But these gravel roads are treacherous." I turn the radio on. Bill shrinks farther down in the seat. I turn it off. Making conversation, I ask:

"How are the wife and kids?"

"Aw, come on, dammit, slow down. You want to get us killed?"

"Bill, I'm only going 35."

"Uh huh, and the car's skating all over the road. Slow down. He'll wait for us."

"Hey, what do you think of Barry Goldwater's statement that moderation in the . . ."

"WATCH OUT!!!"

"You almost scared me out of my skin. What's the matter now?"

"I saw a rock in the road."

"Oh, O.K. Anyway, what do you think when Barry said . . ."

"Look out for that CURVE up there!"

No more conversation. Just tight-lipped driver and white-faced passenger. Finally we arrive. No canoes. Must be on the other side of the lake. Nelson announces that he will drive the lead car. And he does—sedately. Later, when it's all over, I say, "You never did tell me what you thought when Barry said . . ."

"Moderation in the pursuit of canoe trailers is no vice," Nelson interrupted.

"Sure, very funny. Now, what about . . ."

"And extremism on gravel roads is no virtue."

you wholeheartedly support the Democratic platform?"

Phooey!

It's no secret that Vallier recently announced his party affiliation, nor is it any secret that he's an individual in the highest sense of the word. He deserves more intelligent questions than these.

One of the other two candidates, taking the cue, proudly proclaimed himself a Democrat's Democrat. Born, raised and destined to die without ever having once questioned the holy doctrine.

Hogwash.

The days of blind allegiance to any dogma, be it Republican or Democratic, conservative or liberal, are over.

It's time both the elephant herd gang and the mule team boys realized it.

DiPonio Takes Playoff, Top Teams In Tournaments

DiPonio Builders won the Class "E" Western Wayne County Championship with a dramatic 4-0 playoff win over a scrappy Fisher Shoe team. The two teams had gone into the specially scheduled playoff with identical 15-1 records. Each team had beaten the other once in the regular season. DiPonio won the first one 5-4 and Fisher took the second encounter 2-1. DiPonio this week is representing the league in state competition, while Fisher is participating in an Inter-City tournament, representing Plymouth. The fourth-place Spagy T-Birds will represent Northville in the latter tournament. Each tournament is a one defeat elimination. SPAGY T-Birds, incidentally, were ruled fourth for the season and Party Pantry third, even though the T-Birds won more games. Recreation Director, Herb Woolweaver, recently out of the hospital, made the decision when Party Pantry ended the season with a 10-4-3 record and the T-Birds finished with a 12-5-1. The decision was based on the fact that the percentage for Party Pantry (games played divided into games won) was .714, while the T-Birds figured out to .705.

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

Two weeks ago amidst a couple of snickers and polite smirks, Plymouth's head football coach, John M. Hoben, made a comment that he customarily makes about this time of year. He said of coaching, "This is my last year". After the announcement this week that he would become the new assistant principal in charge of guidance at the high school, he repeated the statement again — this time to more attentive ears.

It could not have been an easy decision to make, even for this amazingly modest man, because he has given 17 of his 40 years to the coaching of high school football teams. He has coached the last nine of those years in Plymouth and has never had a losing season.

According to Hoben, his total record in Plymouth and at Cheboygan, Michigan adds up to something like 70-17-4, but he isn't sure of that. It's probably better.

Before he got to coaching, he played end and center at Adrian College. Hoben has a B.S. in Mathematics, an M.A. in Guidance and 30 hours towards his doctorate degree, the latter part he has picked up along the way at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Incidentally, Hoben is not the only member of the football coaching staff that has been pursuing intellectual subjects in his spare time. Line Coach John McFall, who has been with Hoben for all of his successful nine years at Plymouth, is studying law at nights.

Lawbooks McFall and Dr. Hoben ought to strike intellectual as well as physical fear into opponents now. Lest things get too cerebral — which I doubt — the two of them can always counsel with Plymouth's bright young end coach, Tom Workman. Workman has been at it for three years — and have you noticed Plymouth's terrific end play lately?

Hoben and Workman this summer have put together an inspiring YMCA youth outdoors program in addition to Hoben's successful efforts as director of the YMCA's youth employment service.

They have done a magnificent job in a short time with canoe trips. The two of them have raced around Wayne County with dozens of Plymouth youngsters, six canoes and their own cars.

On several occasions, it got funny. Hoben and Workman missed a few transportation signals with each other and hours lost on travel piled up — but the canoe trips went on.

Once Hoben lost Kent Lake, on another occasion Workman, leading, turned south after telling Hoben to turn north on U.S. 23 and the two were separated for hours. Later Workman cooked stew on an overnight camp out and the preparation took until midnight. Everyone awoke at heartily.

The two men come back exhausted from these trips, but go back for more with a different batch of youngsters the next time.

Anyone who has met Hoben, knows that he can take care of his enemies, if any. But his friends worry him. Last fall some of them prevailed upon the city commission, which promptly passed the year's most popular resolution, commending him for his efforts with youth and for his 7-0-1 football record last year. Several have angled for a Mike Hoben Day and during Michigan Week it almost came about, but Hoben prevailed upon his friends to spare him the embarrassment.

He contented himself with the chairmanship of Youth Day of Michigan Week and proceeded to organize the painting of the Historical Museum by willing youngsters in town. He pitched in throughout the day, and when the paint buckets were being put away, Hoben was doing it.

Today when it is not who does the work, but who gets the credit that seems to be important, Mike Hoben is, at least, refreshing.

He would publicly forget part of his record, on the theory that you've heard it before. Through numb jaws last Saturday caused by the pulling of six front teeth, Hoben said that he was a "lousy" Marine in answer to a question about service.

The trip to the dentist had been occasioned in part by an old shrapnel wound — one of three — which had broken his jaw in Eastern Korea. He was a Marine Captain, stationed as a forward artillery spotter. Ask your insurance company about those premiums.

Somewhere in the maze of the government's pentagon, there is an unclaimed Purple Heart that has Hoben's name on it. He would just as soon he would forget the whole thing.

So, get your tickets early for the coming football season. Hoben says Plymouth is mighty weak at the tackle spot, although some 16 varsity letter winners are returning.

Twenty reserve letter winners are also coming out. Workman, McFall and Hoben will put together another exciting, if not championship team. The team will never quit, and if you saw the 33-33 Belleville-Plymouth tie last year you know that.

Dr. Hoben, Lawbooks McFall, and Tom Workman have a way with youngsters. A football era is about to pass. Be sure you see its final glory.

In the final week's action Bill's Market shut out General Filters 6-0 and lost to the Northville Plumbers 5-3.

School tied the Novi Flyers 3-3 and lost to General Filters 7-6, while Party Pantry beat the Plumbers 14-1 and shut out Spagy T-Birds 4-0 to move into third place.
