

Primary Candidates to be at JayCee Town Hall

In an effort to combat traditional Plymouth primary election lethargy, Junior Chamber of Commerce members have set up a "meet the candidates" Town Hall for this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Junior High School East.

Blunk. Included are hopefuls for the State Senate in the 14th Senatorial District, candidates for nomination in the 36th State House of Representatives District and Second U. S. Congressional District candidates.

Since all candidates for Plymouth Township offices are running unopposed in the primary, they will not appear at the program.

Each person appearing will be given three minutes to present his views and opinions. A question and answer period from the audience will follow. The program is expected to run throughout the entire evening.

NOTING that this will probably be the last chance for Plymouth Community residents to meet their candidates before the Sept. 1 primary, Jay-Cees issued an urgent invitation for attendance.

In previous Town Hall meetings, more candidates have been present than persons to listen to them. Expected to attend are:

Republican candidates for the nomination from the 14th State Senatorial District: Paul M. Chandler and Carl Wagenschutz, both of Livonia; Paul Kern, Jr. of Orchard Lake; and Fitzhugh Prescott and George Westlund, both of Farmington.

Democratic candidates for the same post who have promised to attend include City Commissioner and Wayne County Supervisor A. E. Vallier of Plymouth, and James McCarthy and James Mull-aney, both of Livonia. In the 36th State Congressional District, Democratic candidates for the nomination expected to be on hand at the Town Hall are Lewis Feister and E. J. Karner, both of Nankin Twp.; Attorney Maurice Breen of Plymouth Twp.; and Charles Mattice, Don Sellers, James Tierney, Charles Lowe and Marguerite Webster, all of Garden City.

THE LONE Republican candidate for the State Representative seat, Attorney W. Wallace Green of Plymouth, will be present.

Second U. S. Congressional District hopefuls to be at the Town Hall include incumbent George Meader, State Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer and C. Ralph Kahn, all Republican candidates from Ann Arbor. Democrats running for the U. S. House seat include Gerald Faye and Weston Vivian, also from Ann Arbor. Also present will be Wayne County Auditor Charles Edgcomb who will explain County Proposition No. One, a request for a one-mill tax increase to finance county operations.

Township Trustees Back Millage as Drive Starts

Adding their weight to the drive for approval of Wayne County's proposed one-mill tax increase in the Sept. 1 election, were Plymouth Township Trustees at their meeting held last Tuesday.

Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay spoke in favor of a resolution urging passage of the millage. He said:

"The county is several million dollars in the red now. We can't keep up with the increased demand for services. If a person understands the situation, I can't see how he could vote any way except yes."

Unanimous passage was given to the resolution of support. Township Trustees completed the list of local governmental units to urge passage of the measure.

Similar resolutions of support have been passed by Canton Township Trustees and Plymouth City Commissioners.

In other action related to the millage issue, Wayne County School Superintendents in 43 districts were

Court Action Looms as Plymouth Twp. Issues September Smoke Case Deadline

The threat of imminent court action grew stronger last Tuesday evening as Plymouth Township Trustees voted to adjourn action for another month on the nagging smoke problem between the governmental unit and Evans Products Company.

On a motion from Trustee Ralph Garber, township lawmakers voted to set a deadline of Sept. 8, at which time they will proceed on advice from their law firm.

NOTHING WE CAN DO: Lapham Addition is Legal, Opinion Says

"There is nothing we can do about it." That was the summation of a legal opinion rendered last week to the Plymouth Community School District concerning addition of small outlying districts to Plymouth schools.

School board attorney William Sempliner handed down the opinion at the request of officials after the Lapham Corners School District in Washtenaw County expressed its determination to become a part of Plymouth Community Schools.

In his opinion, Sempliner wrote: "You have asked me to advise you on the somewhat arbitrary action of the Washtenaw County Board of Education in dividing the Lapham School District between the Ann Arbor District and our School District."

After detailing the legal requirements for such a move, Sempliner concluded:

"NOWHERE in the Act is any provision made for the Home, Northville, Mrs. Schrader died at the age of 81, Sunday, Aug. 16, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Shave, of Northville.

Funeral services for Mrs. Nelson Schrader, mother of Nelson Schrader, owner of Schrader Home Furnishings, have been set for tomorrow, Wednesday, Aug. 19, at 3 p.m., at Ebert Funeral Home, Northville. Mrs. Schrader died at the age of 81, Sunday, Aug. 16, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Shave, of Northville.

The request was predicated on the possibility that the from Evans' Director of Public Relations Sam Hudson who told the township board that the firm was, in fact, taking the matter seriously.

Hudson's comment came after Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay read a July 22 letter from Brashear, Brashear and Mies, the Livonia law firm representing the township in the matter. In the letter, copies of which were sent to Evans Products and the Wayne County Health Department, the lawyers wrote:

"THERE IS not much we can do but commence civil action. Frankly, so much time has elapsed, Evans probably doubts you will take action."

Another letter, read by the attorneys noted that township resident Mrs. Fred Davids, who has circulated petitions protesting air pollution from Evans, Burroughs Corp. and other sources, apparently represents other dissatisfied residents.

The law firm told Evans that a review of the file indicates that several attempts to get action on the problem have been made, but the attorneys concluded:

"The letters from you (Evans) explain only delays. It becomes our duty to protect the citizens of the community. We hope you understand."

Another letter, read by

Lindsay, came from Lazier Stevens of the Wayne County Health Department. Commenting on Evans' contention that it was studying a switch from coal to gas, Stevens wrote: "In our judgement, the time for a decision on the switch from coal to gas is now..."

HUDSON TOLD trustees that studies of estimates indicate that considerable expenditures are involved in the installation of a flyash collector and an addition to the power house at the plant.

He said representatives of both the Wayne County Health Department and heating consultant firm, Cummins and Barnhart, have been on hand at the Evans plant site. A recommendation is expected shortly from C. & B., he said.

Cummins and Barnhart is also being employed by Burroughs Corporation to recommend measures to alleviate smoke coming from their stack.

"As soon as the Cummins and Barnhart report is finished," Hudson said, "Evans management is prepared to make a recommendation to the board of directors."

Hudson said Stevens of the health department couldn't say if the installation of a flyash collector and a low-load boiler would correct the situation to the extent of meeting Plymouth Township specifications.

"NO MANAGEMENT," Hudson pointed out, "will spend a considerable amount of money without knowing the results." Evans has asked Cummins and Barnhart for a speedy report, Hudson said, and was

Proposed Sewer and Water Provide Flurry of Activity

Extension of sewer and water lines to the western portion of Plymouth Township already has caused a flurry of activity at a meeting of the Township Board of Trustees.

Board members were faced with decisions on two requests at their regular monthly meeting in the Township Hall last Tuesday evening — requests which grew directly out of the proposed sewer and water project.

In a letter noting that the school board was favorably disposed to granting easement to Plymouth Township through Plymouth Community School District property at Junior High School West on Ann Arbor Trail, school officials asked that front footage assessment against the district be waived.

The request was predicated on the possibility that the Board of Education may, at some future date, decide to change from Plymouth City to Township water at the school.

Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes pointed out that ordinances require that the school district will pay.

"WE CANNOT waive taxes," she said. Trustee Ralph Garber said he thought it would be unfair to Township taxpayers to grant the request.

"In my opinion, the attorney would, in effect, be paying more than Canton Township and City residents," he pointed out. Township Attorney Earl Demel backed Garber's viewpoint.

"I don't think Miller-Canfield (bonding attorneys) would approve. Also, the school district is not confined to Plymouth Township. It extends to Canton, the City of Plymouth and Washtenaw County."

Trustees voted unanimously to inform the Board of Education it was not possible to modify either the rate schedule or the terms of the proposed easement to grant the school district's request.

Having disposed of the school district request, township officials found yet another matter growing directly out of the proposed sewer and water program.

Joseph La Blanc, representing Glenview Subdivision — located south of N. Territorial Rd. in the western portion of the township — appeared with Robert Kepner of Savon Homes, Inc.

THE TWO men requested permission to begin construction of houses before sewer water lines were extended to the subdivision site. (Continued on page 6)

Pick Mail as Official Paper For Township

Following action at last week's Plymouth Township board meeting, The Plymouth Mail was declared the township official newspaper for all legal advertising.

Notification came to The Mail by letter from Township Clerk John D. McEwen. The Township Board decision followed similar action by the City of Plymouth on July 28.

Completely edited and published in the Plymouth Community, The Plymouth Mail has served the City, Township and Plymouth Community School District for over 75 years.

RUDE AWAKENING:

For three-year-old girl when car crashes into her bedroom

A three-year-old Plymouth Township girl was rudely awakened Saturday evening and thrown from her bed as an out-of-control car hurtled into the bedroom of her home at 9314 Elmhurst, corner of Marlin, about 11:30 p.m. Little Debbie Burmeister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burmeister, was asleep when the accident occurred. She was taken to Wayne County General Hospital for examination.

Wayne County Sheriff's Officers said the driver of the car, Norman D. Holladay, 21, of 9445 Brookline, was headed west on Marlin when he saw another car approach the intersection on Elmhurst St.

Investigating officers said Holladay applied his brakes, lost control of his vehicle, headed off the roadway and crashed into the house.

UNINJURED. Holladay was ticketed for reckless driving. He appeared before Plymouth Township Justice of the Peace Martin Schomberger Monday and pleaded guilty to the charge.

Holladay was fined $15 plus $10 costs. Justice

Schomberger said. Since Holladay was on furlough from the Army, the Justice noted, he was reluctant to hand down a jail sentence.

In a second accident Saturday evening, two persons were taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia for treatment of injuries received after a car driven by Sarah Wall, of Detroit, made a left turn from N. Territorial Rd. onto Beck Rd., in front of a vehicle driven by Leonard A. Hoyer, of 5590 Gotfredson Rd., the sheriff's department said.

The officer explained Mrs. Wall's car was traveling west on N. Territorial Rd. when she made a left turn in front of Hoyer's eastbound car.

No summons was issued, the officer said. Mrs. Wall was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way on the accident report, the officer said.

BRUTALLY awakened and knocked out of her bed Saturday night was little, three-year-old Debbie Burmeister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burmeister of 9314 Elmhurst, corner of Marlin. Debbie apparently emerged uninjured after a car hurtled through the wall of her bedroom. Above, her mother surveys the damage left in the wake of the crash.

In a Nutshell . . .

★ The way was cleared last Tuesday evening for conversion of Plymouth Township voting machines so all candidates and propositions can be placed on them for the Sept. 1 primary election. Township Trustees gave unanimous approval to Clerk John D. McEwen's recommendation that the nine machines be adapted at an approximate cost of $2,466, or $274 per machine. If not converted, paper ballots would have been required for township offices and charter commissioners for the proposed City of Plymouth Heights.

★ Absentee ballots for both City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township residents are now available from City Clerk Richard Shafer and Township Clerk John D. McEwen. Deadline for application for absentee ballots is Saturday, Aug. 29 at 2 p.m. Voters are required to fill out a form and note one of three statutory grounds for the request. The three acceptable reasons are absence from the community on election day, physical inability to attend the polls or inability to attend for religious reasons. Persons should apply at either the Plymouth City Hall or Plymouth Township Hall.

Announce More Festival Events

Two more programs have been added to the list of Fall Festival activities published in last week's Plymouth Mail. A flower show is being planned by the Plymouth branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, according to Mrs. Paul Wiedman. The displays, which are free, will be held at the First Federal Savings building on Saturday, Sept. 2, 1 p.m. until 8 p.m., and Sunday, Sept. 13, 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Indian Guides from the Plymouth Y.M.C.A., made up of even local tribes of fathers and sons, will appear at the festival in their Indian costumes and will display their "raft work." The guides will sell popcorn, three cans for $1, in their booth.

Lapham Addition Is Legal

(Continued from Page 1) HE SAID the Washtenaw County Superintendent of Schools assured him that property owners in the newly added portion would be obligated to assume the 23.71 mills of Plymouth Community School District taxation. Based on Sempliner's opinion, the door is apparently wide open for other districts in the eastern fringe of the Washtenaw District to attach themselves to the Plymouth District if they want to.

Otis Rowe Returns to Puerto Rico for First Time in 66 Years

A Christmas present answered a longtime dream of Otis Rowe of Plymouth and Miami, Fla., when he returned to Puerto Rico this summer where he was stationed with the Army 66 years ago at the end of the Spanish-American War.

Although several landmarks he remembered from 36 years ago were still standing, all the people he had known on the island were dead, Rowe, who is 90 years old, said.

"It seemed funny that everyone was gone," Rowe said. He added that he enjoyed his trip, however.

He was honored at banquets and given escorted tours of the various towns he visited in Puerto Rico, he said. His three daughters, who gave him the trip as their Christmas present, accompanied him on his three week trip in the latter part of June and first part of July, he explained. The daughters are Lois Rowe, of Al Smith Rd., and Margaret and Emma Rowe, of Miami. He also has two sons, Henry and Milton.

Puerto Rico is booming, today, Rowe said. He explained that any industry can build a factory there and be exempt from taxes for ten years. Cooperatives are being formed to replace shacks with hurricane proof housing, Rowe said. He explained that men agree to work a certain number of hours a day building houses until all members of the cooperative have houses.

The airport at San Juan brings tourists from all parts of the world, Rowe said. Sugar factories are going full force in addition to other industries that have arisen there, he said. He said when he was there the first time much of the water was taken from the sugar cane through evaporation by the sun, but now machinery does the entire job.

At the end of the Spanish-American War, Rowe spent ten months on the island, most of it occupying the town of Coamo, which is located in the mountains, he said.

Although some of the people in Coamo told us we were wrong to occupy the town they treated us well and actually better than we were treated in the States, he said.

When Rowe visited Coamo, he said he found the barracks where the soldiers had lived still standing but falling apart. He also visited the doctor's house where he and another soldier friend had caught the doctor's sons English, although the family was gone. He remarked that the same furniture was being used in the house that had been there at the turn of the century.

The Clubhouse where he and other American soldiers were invited occasionally was also standing, according to Rowe, who added he didn't visit it.

In another town Rowe found a blacksmith shop where the soldiers had visited and been given lunch and although it was owned by the same family, the owner was absent.

The blacksmith shop is doing electric welding and iron work now.

Rowe reminisced that the time he spent in Puerto Rico was a part of his life he has enjoyed the most.

SPANISH-AMERICAN War veteran Otis Rowe, of Plymouth and Miami, Fla., returned to Puerto Rico where he was stationed during the war for the first time in 66 years earlier this summer. Above, he is pictured looking at some of the material he brought back with him from Puerto Rico and reminiscing about the changes he found on the island.

NO RULING:

Trustees Table Action On Fire Admin. Board

Action on a resolution setting up a five-man Plymouth Township Fire Administration Board, was tabled last Tuesday evening after Township Attorney Earl Demel failed to render an opinion on the legality of the measure.

Demel had been asked a month ago by Township Trustees to rule on the matter. He did submit a ruling citing the law authorizing creation of a fire or police administration board.

Demel told trustees he was not aware that the request concerned the resolution itself. He said he had neither seen nor read the resolution.

In an abrupt change from last month, Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay said he was opposed to formation of the administrative board.

"We'd have 12 people to manage a five-man fire department," Lindsay said, pointing out that the civil service commission has power to act in fire department personnel matters.

"I FEEL the Township Board should lay down the rules and administer the fire department," he said. Lindsay said he was in favor of rescinding last month's action approving formation of the board, contingent upon a favorable ruling by Demel.

Builder Withdraws Twp. Re-Zoning Application

After months of work, including a number of setbacks, Plymouth builders and developers Stewart Oldford and Sons last week withdrew their application for rezoning of the south 502 feet of land located at the northwest corner of Snelton and Ann Arbor Roads.

In a letter to the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, the building firm said it was withdrawing because of the Township Planning Commission's refusal to rezone the north 270 feet of the property.

Originally two requests to rezone from the present R-1-S classification to R-3, multiple dwellings, had been submitted by the Oldford company.

IN THE face of heated opposition from property owners in Parklane Subdivision, to the north, planning commissioners denied rezoning of the northern 270 feet of the plot, but approved the change at the southern portion of the property.

Then the Oldfords were contacted by representatives of The Michigan Bank, who sought the property as a site for construction of a branch office.

Stewart C. Oldford told The Plymouth Mail last week that bank officials were no longer interested in the site and expressed his determination to withdraw the rezoning application.

Denial of the application by Township Trustees would have forestalled further rezoning requests at the site for one year. Following withdrawal, the building firm will be free to submit further applications any time in the future.

Mabel Bowers Dies Aug. 11 in Anderson, Ind.

Miss Mabel Bowers, of Livonia, died in St. John's Hospital, Anderson, Ind., Aug. 11 at the age of 58. She had been a patient at the hospital since Aug. 1.

A native of West Branch, Ia., she had lived in Livonia for 28 years. She was a supervisor of music at Wayne County Training School and was a member of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Detroit. Miss Bowers was a member of the National Music Education Association, the Detroit Music Association, National Education Association, AAUW and Business and Professional Women. She was a member of P.E.O. and Delta Kappa Gamma, a teacher's honorary society.

She was listed in "Who's Who in American Women," "Who's Who in the Midwest," and "Who's Who in Musical International" for her work. Survivors include two nephews, Robert Bowers, of Detroit, and Dr. Richard Bowers, of Evanston, Ill., a sister-in-law, Mrs. Marie Bowers, of Olivet, and a cousin, Dr. Mabel Freeman, with whom she had lived.

Twp. Trustees

(Continued from page 1) of Supervisors, as well as a former Juvenile and Circuit Judge called on more than 20 years of first-hand experience to underscore the need for Proposition No. 1.

He stressed that the proposed increase, which would cost the average homeowner 50 cents a month, would be the first one sought by Wayne County in 30 years.

"A VAST number of services performed by county government bear directly on liveability in Wayne County," Judge Edwards said. "Adequate court control of juvenile delinquency, emergency hospital care, and the handling of mental cases all depend on a favorable vote," he said.

"Until we can take the bad kids who are a danger to the community off the streets we cannot effectively stage a maximum rehabilitation effort on other delinquents," he said.

Judge Edwards cited two examples of the value of such institutions of the Wayne County Training School, located near Plymouth, and Juvenile Court to underline the necessity for continuing adequate operation of these institutions.

One seven-year-old immigrant child whose mother was mentally ill and whose father had an IQ of 45 was admitted to the Training school in a badly retarded condition. A speech effect complicated the picture. After years of intensive training, this individual is now a photographic researcher for a large automobile company, instead of a public charge.

A ONE-TIME juvenile delinquent was, within a year, set straight. After finishing in the upper 5 per cent of his high school class, he now is in the top section of his class at the U.S. Military Academy.

Multiply this type of activity by hundreds, it was pointed out, and the savings to the taxpayer exceeds the moneys expended to properly care for these problems.

"Calculated risk" seems to be a popular phrase for old-fashioned "gamble."

But there's no place for either in preparing or dispensing pharmaceuticals.

Ever notice the letters U.S.P. or N.F. on a medicine label? The letters represent two official books that are recognized by federal law—the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

Together they are the pharmacist's "bible." They give approved standards of the quality, purity, and potency of most medicinal agents.

Call for Festival Financial Support

With Fall Festival time less than a month away, a plea was issued this week for financial support to underwrite the cost of the annual event.

In a covering letter, mailed out with the estimated budget, Plymouth Community Fall Festival Committee Treasurer John Herb called for monetary help. Herb wrote: "To put on a festival of the magnitude which our Fall Festival has achieved requires, in addition to countless man-hours of donated time, a considerable financial outlay. Noting that participating organizations have agreed to contribute a portion of their profits to this year's festival, and part of this year's profits to future festivals, Herb commented:

"HOWEVER, in order to meet this minimum budget, contributions are needed from the Community as a whole. Your contribution to this worthwhile community project will be appreciated."

Checks should be made payable to "Plymouth Fall Festival," a Michigan non-profit corporation. Contributions may be mailed to 455 S. Main St., Plymouth.

$4,500. It will include $2,200 from business and professional groups, $600 from industry, $1,400 from service clubs and $300 from concessions. Club donations include:

Rotary, $650; Junior Chamber of Commerce, $200; Lions, $100; Kiwanis, $200; Symphony League, $100; V.F.W., $100; and Elks, $50.

Disbursements, planned to equal income, include $1,200 for publicity, $700 for entertainment, $500 for staff personnel, $100 for office expense, $1,000 for capital improvements, $500 for labor costs, $200 for insurance and $300 for miscellaneous.

The Plymouth Community Fall Festival will be presented from Thursday through Sunday, Sept. 10 to 13.

PLANS MOVED toward completion in the past few weeks as local service clubs wrapped up final details for their Fall Festival activities, scheduled from Sept. 10 through 13. Above, Plymouth Rotarians polished techniques for their chicken barbecue, traditionally the high point of the Festival. From left to right are barbecue co-chairmen Cal Jabara and Frank Allison, and Rotarians Loren (Bud) Gould, Herald Hammill, Cliff Tait — on whose property the barbecue "dry run" was held — and Jack Selle. Plymouth Rotary is expecting 12,000 persons for the barbecue.

City DPW Activities

By Sup't. Joseph Bida

Work was continued on the improving of Coolidge Street this week. Four Catch Basins were installed and a fire hydrant was moved. No parking signs were installed. Work was continued in the parks with mowing, cleaning and trimming trees.

The department continued with mowing of vacant property that had not been taken care of by owners. In the near future, owners will receive a bill for the time spent on each piece of property.

In the cemetery, trees were trimmed and mowing was continued. There were no funerals this week.

On Monday and Tuesday the public works department helped with the moving from the old City Hall to the new one. Catch basins were cleaned, some raised, and some unplugged. Sanitary sewers were flushed. A great deal of time was spent in removing any diseased elm trees that were city owned and condemned by the State Agriculture Department.

Anyone receiving a notice from the State Department that they have condemned elm trees please read the Condemnation Order carefully.

This order states that the tree or trees must be removed within ten days. It also explains how to take care of the tree prior to moving an also how to take care of the stump.

Anyone knowing of a red tagged tree that is not removed should call the Department of Public Works at 453-1556. This would help the Department in enforcing the order.

The Dutch Elm Disease Fungus is an infectious disease and the City of Plymouth is trying to control it as much as possible.

Fast Action Stops Fire

Prompt notice from a passerby and speedy action by Plymouth Township firemen early Saturday morning combined to thwart the progress of a house fire.

Township Fire Chief Barney Maas said heat from a spotlight, left on the roof of the George Henshaw residence at 4775 N. Territorial Road, apparently ignited shingles and siding on the house.

A passerby noticed and summoned firefighters who extinguished the blaze immediately. Maas estimated damage at $100.

He said the light was apparently being used to illuminate the area where construction of an addition to the home was underway.

FOR SCHOOLS:

Pint-Sized Tax Hike Approved

A tax increase, noteworthy only because of its smallness, will be levied against property owners in the Plymouth Community School District this year.

Based on action taken Thursday evening by the Board of Education, an increase of one one-hundredth of a mill will take effect. It will raise the tax rate from 23.70 mills to 23.71. The breakdown of tax funds will be 15.90 mills for the operating fund, 2.67 mills for 1955 mitted a bid of two and three eighths per cent on bonds through April 1, 1966 and two and five eighths per cent from April 1, 1966 through April 1, 1967.

The net interest cost to the school district on the bonds will be $25,313.53. No premium will be charged.

The only other bidder, First of Michigan Corp., had offered a rate of three and a quarter per cent and a premium of $929.90 for a net cost of $32,246.98.

ON THE tax anticipation notes, N.B.D. outbid four other financial institutions with a rate of 1.78 per cent per year.

Other bidders included Manufacturers National Bank at 2.14 per cent, Detroit Bank and Trust at 1.95 per cent and Community National Bank of Pontiac at 1.83 per cent.

The Board of Education gave unanimous approval to acceptance of the National Bank of Detroit bids on both the bonds and the tax anticipation notes.

Tax anticipation funds will be used to finance operations for the coming school year in the district. Short-term bonding funds will be used to pay for school additions at Allen and Farrand Elementary Schools and a vocational education unit to be built at Plymouth High School.

VOLUNTEERS

Among 100 young people from high schools in the Detroit area assisting the TB and Health Society during their summer vacation were two Plymouth girls, Marcene Jenkins, of 5561 Canton Center Rd., and Beatrice Williams, of 1720 Sheridan Ave., helped the agency prepare almost 700,000 Christmas Seal letters for delivery to Wayne County homes in November.

OPENING BIDS last Thursday evening at a special meeting of the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education, was Board Secretary Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, left, assisting her, right, was James Callian of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates, architects for the planned classroom additions to Allen and Farrand Elementary Schools. Low bidders were accepted on the two projects.

Open Bids, Clear Way For School Additions

The way was cleared for construction of classroom additions to Farrand and Allen Elementary Schools Thursday evening, as contractor bids were opened and granted at a special meeting of the Board of Education.

Contracts granted by the board at the special meeting held in school district offices on Lilley Rd. clear the way for construction of a seven-room addition to Farrand School and a five-room addition to Allen School.

Architectural contracting on the two projects went to Roberts and Orr, Inc. with a low bid of $194,478 plus $1,425 for terrazzo flooring at Allen and $1,600 for terrazzo flooring at Farrand.

Of the total figure, $89,590 is for the Allen project and $104,888 for Farrand. The Farrand addition will include six classrooms and kindergarten facilities. At Allen, four classrooms and a library will be built.

CONSTRUCTION on the two projects is expected to begin soon. Mechanical contracting went to the J. L. O'Loughlin Co. with a low bid of $86,368. The firm divided the cost with $39,911 going for Allen and $46,457 going to Farrand.

A bid of $26,600 was submitted for electrical work by the John Gillies Electric Co. At first, board members indicated some misgivings about the lowness of the bid — wondering if the contractor could fulfill the requirements of the job.

A conditional award was made Thursday evening, pending a check of the firm.

Investigation showed no reason for denying the low bid.

Gillies Electric split the costs with $12,800 for the Allen addition and $13,800 for Farrand. Both projects are scheduled for occupancy in February, 1965.

Local Man is Key State Fair Staffer

Preparation for the Michigan State Fair, Aug. 28 through Sept. 7, is gaining momentum. Members of the State Fair staff will have few free moments between now and the close of the exposition Labor Day.

One of the busiest of the key staff members supervising preparations is Robert McLachlan, of 11626 Riverside Dr., Plymouth, who with his father Eldon McLachlan directs the agriculture exhibits of the State Fair.

The McLachlans joined the State Fair staff 10 years ago when Eldon McLachlan became director of agricultural exhibits.

The younger McLachlan came as an aide to his father on a part-time basis while he still was a dairy inspector for the State Department of Agriculture. He later became a full-time State Fair staff member.

The McLachlans are a smooth working team in the direction of State Fair activities concerned with agricultural, which include a wide array of exhibits associated with farming, livestock exhibits and the State Fair Horse Show.

The magnitude of the McLachlans' job is reflected in

Court Action

At that time, local management, will presumably recommend further modification of present Evans power house equipment — or installation of gas-fired apparatus.

"This is just as much of an aggravation to us as it is to this board," Hudson concluded as he emphasized that Evans management was anxious to reach a solution.

In other action, the board declared the Venice Construction Company in default of their contract, because of unsatisfactory clean-up operations along Joy Road. Venice was the contractor for sewer construction along Joy Road to Beck Road.

A definite date was requested in writing from the Plymouth Assembly of God Church for blacktopping of the church parking lot.

The pastor of the newly-constructed church had requested permission to gravel the lot with the assurance that it would be blacktopped next year. Township law requires blacktopping of the lot. Dedication services at the new edifice, located at 42021 Ann Arbor Trail, are set for Sept. 27.

AN UPDATED version of Plymouth Township's swimming pool ordinance was tabled for further study by township trustees. Approval was granted to a motion to renew present township insurance policies at a cost of $771.

Tabled was a request from Arbor Village No. Four Subdivision for a storm water retention basin, and a request from Plymouth Bowl, Inc., for special permit for sale, consumption and service of alcoholic beverages on the concourse area of bowling lanes.

The request from Plymouth Bowl follows a new law, effective Aug. 1, requiring local governmental approval before alcoholic beverages may be served in the concourse area. State Police Captain Fred Davids told trustees the new state regulation was brought about by persistent teen-age drinking problems in similar situations. He urged careful consideration by trustees before action on the request.

Communications were read to the township board from the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, thanking them for help in making Fourth of July activities a success and presenting Supervisor Lindsay with a certificate of appreciation.

Another, from Justice of the Peace Martin Schomberger expressed appreciation to the board for sending him to the Justice's Convention.

TRUSTEES tabled an invitation from the Metropolitan Fund, Inc. to attend a workshop on public purchasing. The co-ordinating zoning commission of Wayne County acknowledged receipt of proposed township zoning changes at the southwest corner of N. Territorial and Sheldon Roads.

Proposed Sewer

"We would like to start 20 to 30 homes before cold weather," LaBlanc said, "and lay sewer and water lines through the subdivision." LaBlanc said he figured sewer and water would be out to the subdivision site in about 90 days.

Voicing strong opposition to the move was Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay.

"It would take much longer than 90 days, even if everything were ready now," he said. "We don't even have right-of-ways." Lindsay said the township has had word from one property owner wondering how much he will be paid for sewer and water right-of-way.

"We might run into condemnation proceedings," he claimed.

"I, myself," Lindsay said, "think it's a darn poor policy to build houses before facilities are met." Speaking for Savon Homes, Kepner said he felt construction of the homes might act to speed action on the sewer and water program in Lansing.

"In the event anything happened," he said, "we'd go to septic tanks, but the sewer lines would already be laid. It's been done in Cleveland, O. and also Illinois.

"IT GIVES us a chance to get a head start," Kepner said homes in the $25,000 and up class would be built at Glenview. An immediate start would keep construction workers occupied throughout the winter, he said.

In addition to the Linotype and Intertype, several other line casting machines have been developed for use in the composing room.

The first news cartoon of "Uncle Sam" appeared in the New York Latarn, a comic weekly, on March 13, 1852.

"Some people don't believe they are having a good time unless they're doing something they can't afford."

both Holmes if he'd be willing to place money in escrow for underground facilities, Kepner said his company would be willing.

"Funds for every cent of actual construction, plus the $140 tap charge and the $200 house connection charge for each residence would have to be placed in escrow before I'd approve it," Mrs. Holmes said. Trustee Richard Lautebach spoke in favor of the move.

"If we put in a $2 million sewer project," he said, "I would like to have customers out that way. If these people submit plans agreeable to our water department, I would see no reason not to approve building permits."

Kepner told trustees his firm would submit, in writing, a promise to meet all township requirements — including, if needed, the placement of funds in escrow to complete the project.

IN THE EVENT that sewer and water is not extended to the subdivision by the time of home occupancy, he said, each house would be equipped with fittings to permit a switch from well and septic tank operation to sewer and water.

Trustees delayed action on the request for building permits at Glenview until the required guarantees had been submitted in writing.

Extension of sewer and water to the western portion of Plymouth Township is expected to set off skyrocketing development in the area.

A special meeting for tonight, Tuesday, Aug. 18, was set by Canton Township Trustees at their regular monthly meeting, Aug. 11 to discuss further a zoning ordinance for the township establishing criteria and restrictions for multiple dwelling units, motels and trailer parks.

Trustees tabled the amendment at their Aug. 11 meeting after a Township Supervisor Louis Stein expressed concern that the amendment did not provide for a maximum number of units per acre of land.

In other action on amendments to township ordinances the trustees tabled and ordered published an amendment establishing minimum floor area of 900 feet for dwellings with basements and 950 feet for ones without basements and another which would change the deadline for obtaining dog licenses from Aug. 1 to Jan. 1 - Mar. 1.

Under the proposed amendment to the dog ordinance the price of licenses would double after the Mar. 1 deadline, increasing from one dollar for a male or unsexed dog to two dollars and from two dollars for a female dog to four dollars.

The amendment would also provide that no dog would be released by the township until its owner proved it was properly licensed and a fee of $3.50 paid.

TRUSTEES also authorized the Township Clerk John Flodin to buy six attachments for the present voting machine so voters may cast their ballots for all candidates in upcoming elections on one machine.

The attachments cost approximately $170 each, but will eliminate any need for voters to either have to use two separate machines or to use the machine for some of and another which would change the deadline for obtaining dog licenses from Aug. 1 to Jan. 1 - Mar. 1.

Supervisor Louis Stein suggested to trustees the township apply to the National Housing and Home Finance Agency to find out what programs they are eligible for. He said because the township is already in the agency's 701 program it should have little trouble meeting qualifications.

In other action by the trustees, they voted unanimously to instruct their attorney that the Gertrude Hanlon case, taken to court, is in violation of township ordinances and they don't want to set a precedent.

A carport was added to the house of the late Mrs. Hanlon, corner of Warren and Ford Roads, that created a violation of the amount of area required for sideyards in the township.

Township Treasurer Philip

Dingley told trustees he was instructed by the Township Attorney William Sempliner to ask trustees to wait to take further action on the case until someone built on the adjacent lot.

He explained that Sempliner made the request after the Wayne County Circuit Court Judge hearing the case asked him to.

Pledge Township Funds for Rights Commission

An appropriation of $125 was pledged last Tuesday evening by Plymouth Township Trustees to the Plymouth Community Human Relations Commission, to be available if needed.

The commission, which includes appointed representatives from Canton Township and the City of Plymouth, is designed to study and recommend future action in the human relations field throughout the Plymouth Community.

The Plymouth Township vote saw Trustee C. Veach Sparks abstain because, he said, there was no indication where or what the funds will be used for.

All three participating governmental units have now pledged financial support to the commission. Canton Township has promised $125 and the City of Plymouth has pledged $250.

By DAVE WILEY

Like virtually everyone else who fancies himself a writer of sorts, I find myself a frustrated poet.

When I was much younger, and a trifle gayer, I used to get rid of the urge by composing warm and passionate, not to say deathless, verse to my wife.

Now, older and droopier, I am at a loss for subject matter.

I have tried stirring sonnetry (hey, there's a word for you) about patriotism, limericks which always seem to wind up out of rhythmic whack, and free verse distinguished more by its incomprehensibility than anything else.

I guess I am doomed to be frustrated.

Let me see now, what could I possibly do versified justice to? Love? Naw, I'm nearly 30.

Nature? Frankly, here in Wayne County, there just isn't a heck of a lot of nature left. Beauty?

Yeah, I know. Truth is beauty and beauty is truth. Let's see, now, where was I?

How about mystery? Yep, mystery combined with something else might do the trick. Mystery and politics! There's a combination!

In a mystery, it's always fun if you can have a missing party. We've got that. And if the missing element is so gargantuan in size that misplacement is ludicrous, it's all the more interesting.

We've got that, too. To further titillate the imagination, it's nice if no apparent reason for the disappearance is evident, clues are skimpy, and no solution is apparent.

Here in Plymouth, are all these elements. Herewith, a little poetic mystery entitled "Where, Oh Where?" or "The Case of the Missing Levathan." With apologies to all concerned:

Where, oh where, has the elephant gone?

Where, oh where, can it be? With primary time fast drawing near. We seem to have no G.O.P.

As editor of The Plymouth Mail, I have literally been besieged, snowed under with Democratic candidates. I have been invited to and attended a couple of Democratic functions. I have gotten reams of copy on Democrats.

But the Republicans are another story. True, one or two candidates have filtered into the office. Among them, Senator Stanley Thayer who is making a bid for the Second U.S. Congressional District seat. Wallace Green, youthful Plymouth candidate for State Representative and a couple of others.

But they have been the exceptions. To my knowledge, there have been no organized meetings held by local Republicans, no sessions to present their candidates to the voters.

Frankly, there has been nothing. Plymouth seems to be if you'll pardon the cliché, a vast wasteland of Republicanism.

Over in Northville, Thursday evening, the local Republican club is presenting a program to acquaint voters with G.O.P. candidates. Here, the JayCees are assuming responsibility for a bipartisan confab. But, local Republicans?

Other than Wallace Green and incumbent Plymouth Township officeholders, there apparently aren't any. So, hello out there, can anyone give me an answer?

Who killed the Republican party in Plymouth? It's your right to know — our duty to inform. For you as for us, truth must remain the weapon of democracy.

Time for decision seems near

At last week's Plymouth Township Board Meeting, held Tuesday in the Township Hall, trustees voted to give Evans Products Company an additional month's time to come up with a satisfactory solution to the smoke problem which has been plaguing both the industrial firm, township officials and — more importantly — township residents.

By the end of this month, according to Evans Public Relations Director Sam Hudson, the firm will have a report on the matter from heating consultants Cummins and Barnhart.

Based on that report, Evans will presumably decide whether to modify their existing heating facilities or to convert to gas.

But, meanwhile, Mrs. Fred Davids and other homeowners like her are scraping soot and greasy film from their furniture, windows and home exteriors. After an extended period of little tangible action, they are understandably impatient.

On May 19, when Plymouth Township, in the absence of Attorney Earl Demel, engaged the Livonia law firm of Brashear, Brashear and Mies to handle the smoke case, this newspaper applauded Trustee Ralph Garber for his argument in favor of moderation and reason.

We still think Garber was justified at that point. At last Tuesday's meeting, Township Supervisor Roy R. Lindsay read a letter from Lazier Stevens of the Wayne County Health Department. In it, Stevens noted that the time for a decision from the industrial firm was apparently at hand.

We agree. While this newspaper will be the first to admit that any management should carefully consider both cost and effectiveness before investing a large sum of money, we would suggest that Evans Products' moment of truth is near.

Based on findings to be submitted by Cummins and Barnhart, the firm should decide which course of action it will follow — whether it will further modify its present facilities or make the switch to gas fuel. In any event, no improvement can be realized until plant inventory rolls around and Evans has adequate time to shut its boilers down and take steps to eliminate the problem.

The Plymouth Mail urges Evans Products Company to make every effort to arrive at a decision and be prepared to take action at the first possible opportunity.

We realize that both Evans Products Company and Burroughs Corp. are sincerely interested members of the Plymouth industrial community and want to eliminate the problem of air pollution.

We trust they will take the necessary steps.

Crescendo of lethargy

With the JayCee Town Hall "meet the candidates" meeting set for this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Junior High School East, The Plymouth Mail hopes the turnout will indicate more than the usual crescendo of lethargy among Plymouth Community Voters.

At the last Town Hall meeting sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the spectacle of more candidates to speak than audience to listen presented itself.

Thursday should not be a re-enactment of that scene.

Plymouth JayCees have made an effort to contact all candidates for national and state offices that pertain directly to The Plymouth Community.

Indications are that most, if not all, will be on hand. Plymouth Community residents should turn out en masse to hear the candidates and question them.

An intelligent decision on Sept. 1 depends on being informed. Insure that your vote will be an enlightened one. Attend the Town Hall Meeting.

Urge strong, unequivocal "yes"

With Plymouth Township trustees adding their voice in support of Wayne County's millage increase, scheduled for the Sept. 1 election, approval of the move by local governmental units is unanimous.

County supervisors have promised drastic cutbacks in services if the millage, which will yield about $9 million annually, is not approved by voters.

Cuts will include vitally needed services at Wayne County General Hospital, the Wayne County Training School and other county-operated services. None of the items and services to be eliminated are required by state law.

In effect, what Plymouth area voters and others throughout the county are faced with is a moral decision. Legally, they are not bound to vote funds to operate services for the care of elderly persons, wayward boys, mentally ill.

Morally, they are. With the junior senator from Arizona running hard for this nation's highest office, there will be much talk this year of "federal takeover," "power grabs," "states' rights" and "creeping socialism."

These are nothing more than emotion-laden, so-called conservative jargon that mask the fact, in many cases, that local people have failed to live up to their rights and responsibilities.

When a need exists, local residents are given a choice — at the state, county or municipal level — to meet that need, and when they fail to do so, they are opening the door wide with an invitation for federal intervention.

More often than not, Washington assumes a new role only when individual residents have abdicated their responsibility. A "NO" vote on County Proposition Number One will leave such an opening here in Wayne County.

The Plymouth Mail urges a strong, unequivocal "YES" vote on Sept. 1 when voters make their choice on the Wayne County millage issue.

The liberal, with his passion for social reform, is honor bound to cast an affirmative ballot. Conservatives, with their obsession for thwarting further federal intervention, should be equally happy to do likewise.

No matter which end of the political spectrum a voter may lean toward, it seems that a "YES" vote is justified.

We vigorously support such a vote.

The Sporting Thing

By Bill Nelson

There are at least two famous things about Michigan weather. Firstly, you get four distinct seasons to play in or with during most years and, secondly, as the saying goes "if you don't like the weather, just wait a minute and it will change."

Plymouth Community activity reaches its height in the fall. And last week's clear hint of the cool crisp air to come set me licking my chops in anticipation like a fuel company owner.

For then comes the Fall Festival, football season and golden trees that line most of the streets in the city. In the township, all is turning from green to gold in sweeping panoramas of soft hills and rolling farms.

Its a nice sight. In the August Atlantic Monthly magazine, there is a nostalgic story by Sheila Burnford, the wife of a Canadian Doctor who spent her early childhood in Scotland.

Mrs. Burnford's article is entitled simply "Walking" and it's so well detailed that you almost want to soak your own feet when she gets through telling you about her lifetime of joy in just plain walking.

The story brought to mind, perhaps, the most beautiful way to see Plymouth any time, but particularly in the fall—on foot. There is probably no community in the midwest—certainly not in the Detroit Metropolitan area—that can touch our area as a site for walking.

Compared to Mrs. Burnford, who has made a lifetime pleasure of walking, I'm in the toddler category. But in Plymouth I've walked some and the town is, in one respect, a vast Japanese garden. Every trip produces new surprises, some little area or some architectural delight that had not been noticed before.

While waiting at Hilltop's final hole the other day to greet the winners, of the Plymouth Junior Golf Tournament, there was an opportunity to survey that beautiful landscape.

As one who has never been able to completely fathom to the desire to chase a little white ball with a stick, Hilltop's rolling landscape helped provide a little more appreciation.

But, why golf. Why not just set these areas aside to walk on and charge for that. Why should anyone get all excited about it if he takes an extra swing or two to get his ball around the course? We ought to have our eye on scenery, not the ball.

The story last week of the Lake Pointe subdivision's hassle over the proposed playspace that was apparently originally included in the site plans and now has been left out with official approval is one that ought to alarm every citizen.

It goes against every sensible modern concept of recreational planning and if it becomes a precedent of things to come, we will be faced with house jammed next to house as each new development explodes in the area during the next few years.

We owe ourselves and our heirs something more than that.

At different times throughout history, man has looked upon himself as driven by gods, demons, spirits viscera, heart or head and on up to what we might agree today are civilized explanations of motivating forces.

Our prize of the week goes to a three and a half year old boy, clearly affected by his consuming interest in automobiles, who says he has "a motor in my feet" to make him go. Now there's drive.

Speaking of walking and recreational space, there has been a noticeable increase in bicycle riders around town lately, particularly with toddlers tagging behind on seats or baskets. Perhaps we ought to have a committee to look into the feasibility of paths for bicycles. Walking and cycling are two activities that nearly anyone can engage in to his benefit. Plymouth is the perfect site for either.

The sale of the New York Yankees for a figure reportedly in the neighborhood of $10 million (and that's a nice neighborhood) underlines the business aspect of professional sports.

Professionals are paid players and it is a delight to watch them perform, because they are the best at their business.

By way of contrast, particularly in football, high school players are the closest thing to the idea of amateur competition—in a sport that draws sizable crowds.

Both pro football players and high school football players provide excitement for the fan, but for different reasons. The pros because they are so good and are motivated by the paycheck and the high schoolers because they are learning and are erratic enough to provide thrills. Both groups produce upsets galore, but for different reasons.

College football, on the hand, has suffered lately because it is a combination of the two. The athletes are still young, but most of the good ones are receiving some kind of support and there is alumni pressure on the coaches and teams.

Consequently, caution develops on the field and the game turns on who has the best recruiting system. Chances are rarely taken as is common among the pros and high school teams.

For some reason, alumni of importance insist on measuring the academic quality of the school on the basis of the football team, whereas everyone knows there is absolutely no connection between the two.

In fact, it gets rather humorous, though pathetic, at times to watch major institutions trying to reconcile big time promotion of athletics with academic principles.

We ought to be more realistic and enjoy college athletes.

Scott, Hulce Finish One-Two, As Junior Golf Play Winds Up

For the first time in its eight-year history rain postponed the championship finals of the Plymouth Junior Golf League. In a way it was typical of unusual activity, because upsets, sudden deaths and sophomore victories ruled the day.

Originally scheduled for last Tuesday, the finals were washed out in the summer's first big rain and played on Tuesday, when Jeff Scott beat runner up Steve Hulce to become the 1964 champion.

Forty-three participated in the tournament, which was the culmination of eight weeks of activity at Hilltop Golf course.

Following is a complete list of awards and certificates given to winners:

Special awards were given for the following: Girl's Most Improved Swing, Betty Niemi; Boy's Most Improved Swing, Kenneth Proskie; Sportsmanship Achievement Award, Sally Childs; League Medalist, Dave Wall; League Low-net Trophy Winners, Kevin Woody and Pat Cunningham; Tournament Medalist, Bob Waters (38) and Tournament Low-net, David Dunlap. Certificates were awarded to the following:

Flight Number Three Point Winner, Dave Palmer; Runners-up, Chuck Wibby, Doug Irvine and Jim Wibby; Flight Number Four Point Winner, Tom Batterman and Runner-up Kevin Woody and Girl's Point Winners, Betsy Dunlap, Sally Childs and Runner-up Debbie Schultz.

The awards, which were sponsored by the Plymouth Recreation Department and the Plymouth JayCees, were presented at the annual ceremony at Hilltop Golf Course last Thursday night.

Cake and punch were served to all present and although the 48 beginners didn't participate in the tournament, they received trophies for their participation.

Rev. Arnold Kehrl, Mrs. Harold Niemi, Mrs. Don Vanderveen, Mrs. Howard Beck, Mrs. Ray Hulce, Mrs. Wayne Dunlap, Mrs. Ralph Fluckey, Mrs. Dean Manely and golf pro Chris Burghardt all played key roles in the seasons' program or on award night.

TRAPPED — on the final hole is runner-up Steve Hulce in Plymouth Junior Golf Championship play last week at Hilltop. The shot wasn't decisive, because Champion Jeff Scott already led at this point by five strokes.

PUTT PEFT — on this shot by Champion Jeff Scott didn't alter the finish any. Scott went on to win handily at Hilltop last week and became the 1964 Junior Plymouth Golf champion.

JayCees Move Up, Tait's Wins Again

Plymouth recreation softball winds up this week with two rained out games being played that could tighten up the race considerably.

The title has already been won by Tait's Cleaners. They pushed their unbeaten streak to 14-0 for the season with a 12-9 victory over second place Carlings last week.

Plymouth JayCees, meanwhile, moved into third place with a 24-0 pounding of the Detroit House of Correction. The JayCees now have 9-5 mark for the season.

McAllisters shut out Plymouth Plating 7-0 and Evans Products beat Bathey Manufacturing 8-4. Evans and McAllisters, each with 8-5 records, will play a rained out contest this week and the winner will tie the JayCees for third place for the season.

IN OTHER action last week, Paragon Steel lost to Vico Products 7-3. Bathey and Vico will meet each other in the final game of the season this week.

The complete standings for the season, with the exception of the two games yet to be played are:

Team	W	L
Tait's	14	0
Carlings	11	3
JayCees	9	5
McAllisters	8	5
Evans	8	5
Men's Lutheran	8	6
Vico	7	6
Plymouth Plating	6	8
Paragon Steel	2	12
DeHoCo	2	12
Bathey	1	13

Gals' Golf Totals Sail With Wind

A windy day, cold weather and an allegedly sub par course sent the Women's Suburban Golf Association scores soaring last week at Glen Oaks course.

No one of the ladies broke 100, but Mrs. Thomas Stewart of Allen Park won the championship flight with an even 100 total. Mrs. Jean Vollmer of Dearborn posted the low net score of 86 on a 102 with a 16 handicap.

The first flight was won by Mrs. Edward Atwood of Trenton with a 108 total. Mrs. Clark Brooks, Livonia, was low net in this flight with an 88 on 112 with a 24 handicap.

IN THE second flight Plymouth's Mrs. Douglas Bathey won with a 114 card, while Mrs. Arthur Bernker posted a low net of 87 on a score of 116 and a 29 handicap.

This week the gals play at Salem Hills.

Everybody Loses In Playoffs

Plymouth Recreation baseball teams concluded play last week, when every one of them was knocked out of playoff competition in their first games.

In Class "E" competition, DiPonio was beaten by Inkster 5-3, while the senior DiPonio team was being beaten by Livonia 3-1.

Boys' and Girls' Staters Recount Their Activities

Special guests at the Kiwanis Club meeting last Tuesday night were Becky Lyons, Sue Ward, Chuck Olson and Richard Irvine who were sponsored by the Club to attend Girls' State and Boys' State.

Becky and Sue were among the 460 who attended Girls' State in Ann Arbor and Chuck and Richard were among approximately 1,000 who participated in the Boys' State programs at East Lansing.

These programs, conducted by the American Legion, provide an opportunity for young people from all over the State of Michigan to experience self government. The 10-day program included all phases of forming a government with nominating speeches, seconding speeches, demonstrations, general campaigning, elections, and inauguration. Officers are elected on all government levels. Each person is assigned to a city and three or more cities make up a county and the combined counties form the state. The young people are divided into two political parties, Nationalists and Federalists.

AND JUST like real politics, the various persons running for office promised political jobs in government to various persons running for office promised political jobs in government to various persons in exchange for their support. The four Plymouth representatives agreed that two things were very apparent:

(1) When in doubt, keep your mouth shut.
 (2) You vote for my candidate and I'll vote for yours.

Girls State also passed two bills—the Massachusetts Ballot and a Civil Rights Bill, which marked only the second time in their 24 years of existence that any bill had been passed or approved.

GUESTS included members of the Circle K Club recently organized in Schoolcraft College: Peter Cucinella, Derek Higham, Bob Mayer, Jim Driscoll, John Dybas, Gerry Wouters, Joe Bigo, Gary McLean, Ron Bartholomew, Ron Meyer and Jim Simmons.

Also in attendance was Paul Lundstedt, District Governor of Kiwanis Circle K International. Other guests were Charles Lowe, Harold Anderson, J. A. Brennan, Carl Wright, Ralph Wagenschutz, F. R. Woodruff, Virgil Morgan, William Walluh, H. S. Canfield, Dave Sackett, Ray Wilson, R. A. Cusato, Otto Schotz, Richard Hammer and Richard Hammer Jr., Gordon Priest, and Stan Rynicki.

August 18 will be the annual advertising night. Each Kiwanian is expected to bring a small item representing his business or occupation.

Wayne's "Most Effective" Sheriff

County government officials declare Peter L. Buback "the most effective Sheriff in Wayne County's history. Here are just a few of their reasons:

1. Sheriff Buback has established a strong Parks Patrol.—2. Tripled the Waterways Patrol.—3. Given the Communications System's network of 47 Police Departments new efficiency.—4. Modernized the Sheriff's Scientific Laboratory, with its more than one million fingerprint sets.—5. Established a Central Identification Bureau.—6. Improved the Juvenile Division, which handles juvenile problems in Wayne's unincorporated areas.—7. Made the Racket and Vice Squad so effective it is now training men for several city police departments in Wayne County.

Sheriff Buback has achieved these results quickly. His more than 20 years as a top County Administrator have proved invaluable. Hard work helps, too—he's on the job from 8:30 every morning till all hours of the night.

CIRCUS RED and glittering gold, puffs of shrill but harmonious music — these exciting sights and sounds for eye and ear will lift the spirits and quicken the step of young and old alike as Edison's popular calliope takes part in the Plymouth Fall Festival on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 11 and 12 at 3 p.m. Combining nostalgia with today's streamlined convenience, the calliope is mounted on a truck but is reminiscent of an old-time circus wagon. The loud boom of a signal cannon, mounted over the cab of the truck, salutes the crowds and punctuates the unique, chortling calliope music. A simulated boiler gives an idea of the quantity of steam once required by this musical engine. One of about a 100 still in existence, Edison's calliope was uncovered in an amusement park after a long search. Its 53 whistles, ranging in size from 1/2 inch to four inches in diameter, are powered by compressed air and operated by a piano-type keyboard. The calliope will be located at Main St. and Penniman Ave. during the Fall Festival.
