

SYMBOLIC OF the Easter season and God's sacrifice for man is the cross, standing in brilliant contrast through the night of The Plymouth Community and the concepts its namesake died for.

Plymouth clergymen analyse the meaning of Easter season

(Editor's note. With Easter approaching, the Plymouth Mail asked two Plymouth clergymen to write messages for the people of the Plymouth Community.)

Easter Message — 1965

The Rev. Edward W. Castner
First United Presbyterian Church

Easter answers the question as to what is really real? All of us answer this question in one way or another. Some persons by their living proclaim that what is really real is the material side of life—the tri-level home and well stocked wardrobe, the sharp new car and the investment portfolio. Yet the possession of such things does not always bring joy, often brings worry, and never brings lasting security. Others proclaim that what is really real is sex. And while the power and meaning of sex can be real, sex without love becomes empty and sex placed upon a pedestal, as our society tends to do, becomes cheap. Still others indicate by their activities that what is really real is brute force and violence, and yet those who live by this creed often die by it, do not have James Bond's luck, and almost always reveal a basic insecurity and immaturity within. What is really real may differ for each individual and usually is quite concrete, such as one's work, one's hobby, one's pain, one's defeat, or one's complacent self-satisfaction.

Easter as the celebration of the Resurrection of Jesus proclaims that the real of real is the Love of God. Easter announces that the outermost context and the innermost center of existence is neither material or ethereal but personal. Easter demonstrates that what stops man does not stop God's Love, that what frustrates man does not frustrate that Love, and that the power of that Love does overcome, does have the last word, and does bring out into the light the shadow of death.

Presbyterian church hosts tre-ore rites

The annual Union Good Friday Tre-Ore Service, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Ministerial Association, will be held this year at the First United Presbyterian Church.

The service will consist of the seven last words of Christ. The following ministers will be taking part:

- The Rev. John Walasky will speak on "Father! Forgive them for they know not what they do."
- The Rev. John W. Miller will speak on "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise."
- The Rev. Donald Williams will speak on "Woman! Behold thy son," "Son! Behold thy mother."
- The Rev. Hugh White will speak on "My God, My God! Why hast thou forsaken me?"
- The Rev. Henry J. Walch will speak on "I thirst."
- Brigadier Ernest V. Hammer will speak on "It is finished."
- The Rev. Ronald Phelps will speak on "Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit."

Special music will be provided by Mrs. Thomas Lock who will sing "The Crucifixion," the Chancel Choir, of the First United (Continued on Page 6) for all unleashed that Love into the world. Whatever you think of the details, the indisputable Easter fact is that Jesus was a more potent factor in Jerusalem in the weeks and months after His death, than when He rode into the city on Palm Sunday. In the final analysis, that which was really real then, in the midst of all the tragic events, was the power of the personal—the most concrete expression of the Love of God that the world has ever known.

Having said this, consider those who assert that what is really real is death. Death and taxes—what could be more real? The answer is that death is real, is not illusory, and therefore those who counsel us to "so teach us to number our days" give us sound wisdom.

Yet the Easter dawn heralds the truth that there is a reality more sure and more real than death—even God and His Love. Funeral days will come, but Easter asserts that even on a funeral day, there is an enveloping reality of Love that affirms us and sustains us. Furthermore this Love which encompasses all that has been and all that will be, receives those whom we have been privileged to love (Continued on Page 6)

Assembly will hear freedom singers

The Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity will open its spring lecture series with a panel from the Fitzgerald Community Council on Tuesday, April 20. In addition to the panel discussion, the Fitzgerald Community Singers will present a program of folk and freedom songs. Fitzgerald Community is an inter-racial neighborhood in Detroit, bordered north and south by McNichols and Fenkell, and east and west by Livernois and Wyoming. Marygrove College is included in the area, and is an active part of the council. To quote Marygrove President Sister Mary Emil: "One of the purposes of the council is to protect our integrated neighborhood as in- (Continued on Page 6)

City agrees to joint study on combination with township

Upon the suggestion of a citizen of the Township, the City Commission agreed to a joint study of the possibility of combining the City and Township at last Tuesday's regular meeting—if the Township also agrees.

The suggestion came in the form of a letter from Township resident Sam Hudson, who lives at 44951 N. Territorial. The letter had been sent to both the Township and the City.

Hudson urged the study of "The pros and cons of joining the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township into one governing unit have been discussed for many years. I think the time is right to take another look at this question, with the aim of informing the citizens of both the City and the Township of the advantages and disadvantages of such an amalgamation."

Hudson further urged that leaders of both governing units appoint a committee of citizens from both area to make a report.

HUDSON, Public Relations Director for Evans Products, emphasized that he was writing as a citizen and not as a representative of any organization or group.

The letter awaits the action of the Township board. Township officials indicated Monday that the letter would be studied carefully.

Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes agreed there is a need for study, but that it "is not something you make up your mind on overnight." She further agreed that perhaps the time was appropriate for an objective study.

Commissioner George Lawton moved that the Commission go on record as willing to cooperate with a committee, if the Township agreed to form one. Mayor Wernette also urged cooperation of the letter received favorable attention in the Township.

Hudson is active in the Plymouth Community, particularly in the Plymouth Symphony and Schoolcraft College.

IN OTHER action, the Commission discussed the letter Judge Harry Deyo sent to them, and which was reprinted in full in a recent edition of the Plymouth Mail. The letter raised certain questions about the municipal court following a circuit court decision that declared a city Charter provision regarding judge qualifications invalid.

Commissioner James Houk raised the question of how the Charter had been defended at the hearing, which had been held over the question of the eligibility of City Attorney Edward Draugelis for the Municipal Judge post.

Draugelis replied that much of the defense had been fought out in briefs and that the City had been adequately represented by its attorney, William Sempliner. Draugelis further stated that he felt the Charter had not been hurt by the ruling.

Questioned about the validity of the court by Commissioner Lawton, Draugelis pointed to the 1956 Uniform Municipal Court Ordinance, a state statute, which provides for a system of municipal courts.

There was no support on the part of the Commission for an appeal of last month's ruling from Judge Joseph Rachid.

In other action, the Commission decided to hold a spe-

School board slates June 14 election

A special school election will be held Monday, June 14 to elect a new School Board member. The term of Board member Robert Utter expires this year.

Last day for filing as a candidate is May 15. Last day to register to vote in the election is May 17.

This was announced at the School Board's regular meeting Monday night.

In other action the Board approved the use of school facilities by the Lutheran Church of The Risen Christ. The Church proposes to rent the Allen School multi-purpose room from April 25 through June 20.

SOME objection was expressed to the move, and Board members J. D. McClaren and Robert Soth voted 'no' on the approval. Every-Hungry?

Tickets are on sale now for the annual Plymouth Kiwanis Pancake Festival, an eagerly awaited spring-time event in The Plymouth Community.

This year a free transistor radio will be given away to the holder of a ticket to be drawn at the event on Saturday, April 24, at Plymouth's Masonic Temple.

The Festival, as in years past, will run from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tickets are available from any Kiwanian or at the door. Last year, Kiwanians served more than 4,500 pancakes and 360 pounds of sausage to over 1,000 hungry customers. Donation is $1.

one else voted yes, and the motion carried 4-2.

The Board approved the appointment of Miss Janice Vitek to the Junior High East staff for the 1956-66 session. (For other appointments see page B-4.)

An appointment to the Board of Canvassers was sideline for some study.

The Board was also presented a letter from Athletic Director John Sandmann concerning the proposed wrestling program at the high school. Sandmann urged the program be postponed and other more pressing athletic facilities and projects be completed.

"Outside storage facilities is a must to continue our present program and protect our existing equipment. The athletic department believes it would be most impractical to add wrestling to our program, when facilities for the existing program are so lacking."

Another letter was on hand from tennis coach Jim Stevens who urged construction of more tennis courts. He proposed two new courts at the High School, and six at Junior High West. His request said in part:

"The summer program has well over one hundred students ranging in age from six to eighteen. The junior high program approaches forty boys. And the varsity will have sixteen to twenty boys. The number of adults playing tennis has increased tremendously in Plymouth and the need for additional courts is a real necessity."

SANDMANN listed as facilities needing attention:

- (1) Outside storage building.
- (2) Re-condition track-curb track. Pave (blacktop) runways.
- (3) Change locker room set-up; near capacity 1964-65 school year.
- (4) Re-light locker rooms.
- (5) Re-light swimming pool.
- (6) Paint swimming pool.

The Mail's new look

This week marks the most noticeable change in look in your Plymouth Mail in many years.

We hope you like it. Most obvious and dramatic is the bright, new nameplate at the top of the page, symbolic of both the spirit of progress at your community newspaper and the traditional atmosphere of The Plymouth Community.

The building appearing in it is an artist's drawing of the Dunning-Hough Library in Plymouth. We chose it because it is used by residents of the entire Plymouth Community and is emblematic of the identity we are striving to maintain.

Designed by Plymouth artist Paul Keller, the lettering on the new banner is a modern variation of Old English type.

This week also marks the final transition of The Plymouth Mail from the old letterpress method to photo-offset printing with its crisp reproduction and brilliant color capabilities.

Along with it, we have changed our headline type, employing Bodoni type faces. Heads will be set down-style with only the first letters of headlines and proper names capitalized.

Plymouth man is killed in spectacular, speeding crash

Gary E. Carson, 23, 14655 Eckles Road was killed instantly early last Wednesday morning when his car went out of control on a curve on Schoolcraft Road and hit a tree, ripping the vehicle in half.

A passenger, Ronald F. Sellers, of 38050 Schoolcraft was listed in serious condition at Wayne County General Hospital. He was apparently thrown clear of the car.

The 1964 Pontiac Tempest skidded on a curve near 40350 Schoolcraft crossed the centerline and slammed into a tree on the other side of the road. According to police, reports, the car was traveling at a very high rate of speed. No other car was involved in the accident, and police labeled as "unfounded" rumors that the driver of the car had been involved in a drag race.

POLICE further reported the pavement was clear at the time of the accident. (Continued on Page 6)

CUT IN HALF upon impact, this car killed its driver, Gary E. Carson early last Wednesday morning when it went out of control and hit a tree.

In a nutshell

★ Students in the Plymouth Community School District will have a week's spring vacation beginning Monday next week, according to Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister.

★ The 1965 J. A. Fund Drive in Plymouth reached $4,214, or 107% of goal in the final report from James McKeon, Fund Drive Chairman, to Arnold Johanson, Chairman of the Plymouth-Livonia J. A. and a member of the J. A. Southeastern Michigan Board of Directors. Both men credited the success of the Fund Drive to the hard work of the 26 solicitors and Plymouth area business and industry.

★ James McKindles has been appointed chairman of the V.F.W.'s annual Buddy Poppy Drive by Post 6685's Commander Harvey Jones. The drive this year will be held May 20.

★ The Easter Seal Campaign in Plymouth has to date collected $2,036.50.

★ Howard Pyle, President of the National Safety Council, in a letter of congratulations to Mr. J. P. Tarantino, III, Gaylord Container Division of the Crown Zellerbach Corp. explained that the local company qualified for the award because of its injury-free period of 225,500 man-hours from April 5, 1963 to December 31, 1964. The award is presented only where an establishment's record satisfied rigid requirements.

Fire destroys barn in Township

The Plymouth Township fire department was busy this week with a handful of grass fires and two barn fires. Monday morning a barn at 50360 Ann Arbor Road was totally destroyed by a fire that was whipped by 40-mile-per-hour spring winds. The barn was owned by Howard Gordale; Robert J. Sse is the occupant of the land.

Cause is as yet undetermined. Township Fire Chief Barney Maas estimated loss at $2,250. The barn, an older structure, was filled with hay.

Three trucks were sent to the blaze, which was reported well underway when the first truck arrived. The alarm was turned in at 9:45 a.m.

LAST WEEK, on April 9, Township firemen doused a fire in the rafters of a barn at 14368 Haggerty. Part of the roof was destroyed, but the blaze was put out in 10 minutes and loss limited to about $100.

Several grass fires have kept the department busy, including one Tuesday in an abandoned basement near Ann Arbor Road and McClumpha on the Bennett Farm.

Vivian visits here April 22

Congressman Weston E. Vivian, of the Second District in Michigan, which includes the City of Plymouth and Plymouth and Northville Townships, will hold office hours for citizens of this area on Thursday, April 22.

Congressman Vivian will be available to talk with interested constituents from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Post Office.

Congressman Vivian has been holding a series of office hours throughout his district at such times as his Congressional schedule permits him to return here. This will be the second opportunity, in recent weeks, for area residents to meet with their Congressman.

No appointment will be necessary for those wishing to talk briefly with Congressman Vivian. However, those wishing to schedule a specific time may do so by calling the Second Congressional District office in Ann Arbor, at 761-0491.

MAILING A CHECK for the orphan they support are Starkweather School students, Mickey Holly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holly of N. Harvey St.; Patricia Thomsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thomsen of York St.; and Henry Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Riley of Hartsough St.; and Principal Mildred Field. As a school project, each year the children send money to an orphan through the Christian Children's Fund, Inc., Richmond, Va. They raise the money by holding weekly bake sales at the school. This year the money will go to an eight-year-old Japanese boy, Kenichi Kennizaki.

City DPW activities

Last week the department conducted four funerals at Riverside Cemetery and was responsible for setting up materials for the April 5 election and removing same the following day.

A 3/4 inch water tap was replaced at 865 Penniman after service line broke at this address. When the men attempted to replace it they found the old service line was broken under the building at 863 Penniman. Therefore, the old line was cut off and a new line run in from the alley.

One inch taps were installed at 18420 Donnegal Court, Northville, and at 870 N. Holbrook. Stop boxes are being repaired and replaced because of breakage from the snow plow, during the big storm.

Streets have been cold patched throughout the city, and Torch Drive platform has been sanded, cleaned and repainted during the week.

39 catch basins were cleaned in the northwest section of the city. A sanitary sewer was dug up at 194 Rose St., and it was found that there was a bad joint in the line. A six inch sanitary sewer tap was installed at 870 N. Holbrook Ave. Business and residential sections have been swept and traffic signs have been repaired and replaced.

Grading has been done during the week on Goldsmith, Holbrook, Virginia, Hamilton and Maple to Ann Arbor Trail; Simpson and S. Harvey to McKinley; Sutherland and Main to S. Harvey; Linden and Main to McKinley and streets in the north end of the city have been graded to help drain water from the streets.

It has been brought to the attention of Denski Brothers that their men are throwing rubbish cans and covers along with the rubbish and this they will try to remedy. Violation tickets have been given out this week to people using the wrong kind of containers and this will be continued.

The week of May 10th is "Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week." Anything you want to get rid of will be picked up during this week. Any items that cannot be picked up by the regular rubbish pick up will be picked up by the city forces if put out to the alley or at the curb.

Alley pickups are still being picked up at the curb.

Mmmm...

In the middle ages, "the sweet smell of success" belonged to anyone who owned spices for toiletries and food seasonings. According to historians, cloves were then worth $20 a pound and a pound of ginger could buy three healthy sheep. Now, for much less than the price of a can of ginger or cloves, you can enjoy the lasting effect of perfected colognes.

Salvation Army slates services

The Salvation Army, 290 Fairground St., has announced special services for Easter weekend, April 16-18. Services will be each evening at 7 p.m. and Easter Sunday at 7 a.m. and 11 a.m. with Sunday School at 10 a.m. A breakfast will be served following the early service. Featured at the meetings will be the Lamplighters, a revival team from Helena, Ohio.

St. John's slates annual meeting

The Episcopal Churchwomen of St. John's Episcopal Church, 574 S. Sheldon Road, will hold their Annual Meeting and election of officers on Wednesday, April 21 following the 10 a.m. Communion Service. At Noon there will be a Pot Luck luncheon and a very special program will follow at 1 o'clock. The Rev. Donald V. Young, Co-Chaplain in the Episcopal Chaplaincy to the Medical Community in Ann Arbor, has been invited to speak to the women.

Chaplain Young has as an avocation the collecting of folk songs. Part of the program for April 21 will include "The Scripture in Spirituals" — a sung and spoken interpretation of the relationship between Negro spirituals and the Bible. The remainder of the program will deal with the work of the Episcopal Chaplaincy to the Medical Community.

All women of the Parish and the community are invited to this meeting. A sitter will be provided for those who have small children.

In September of 1964, the Rev. Donald V. Young came to work with the Rev. Dr. Henry Lewis as co-Chaplain in the Episcopal Chaplaincy to the Medical Community in Ann Arbor.

Chaplain Young, a native of Newcastle, Indiana, graduate of Asbury College, Kentucky, Bexley Hall Seminary, Ohio, has served as Vicar of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Delmar, in the Diocese of Delaware for four years and as Pastoral Counselor for St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Dayton, Ohio for 15 months.

White Cane Drive April 30, May 1

Governor Romney has proclaimed the week beginning with April 25, as White Cane Week in Michigan and all Lions clubs in the state are expected to participate in its observance.

The privilege of soliciting financial assistance on the streets of Plymouth was extended to the club last week. The campaign will be conducted on Friday, April 30, and Saturday, May 1.

For many years thousands of white canes have been distributed free-of-charge to blind persons throughout the City and State by the various Lions Clubs.

The approximately fifteen thousand blind people in Michigan who have been presented white canes without cost are today walking about more safely because the white cane is his special means of communication.

The Lions Clubs have for some time been interested in sight conservation, working and assisting those who are blind.

For instance, the Plymouth Lions Club distributed throughout the community in excess of $2000 for various specific projects such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, The Band Shell, Eye Examinations, The Leader Dog School and sponsoring local representation at Boys State.

Car mishap leaves Plymouth girl seriously hurt

A Plymouth girl, Sandra Sue Holland, 301 Adams, is reported in serious condition as a result of a head on car collision near the intersection of Ford and Beck Roads in Canton last Tuesday, April 6. The driver of the other car, Kathleen Buurma of Ann Arbor, was also injured in the accident. Both were taken to Wayne County General Hospital.

Miss Buurma was marked at fault for the accident, according to Wayne County Sheriff's officers. She had pulled out to pass and failed to leave enough room to get back in. Miss Holland, in an attempt to miss the oncoming car, hit the soft shoulder of the road and was flipped back into the path of the other car.

DAR slates antique show May 9 at Joy Road Studio

An antique show, sponsored by the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, is slated for Sunday, May 9 from 1-6 p.m. at Joy Road Studio, 48234 Joy Rd.

Mrs. Donald Sober, studio owner, is DAR American Heritage chairman.

"Collector's Choice" antiques will include Mrs. Robert D. Willoughby's miniature lamp collection including her pink satin fairy lamp with inverted drape and a double-faced owl of green satin glass with double base.

Mrs. Walter Hammond will exhibit her collection of blue milk glass, each piece authenticated and documented and Mrs. Karl Starkweather, who has a collection of 25,000 buttons, will display her black glass, star-shaped, gold and silver luster, bone and horn and brass buttons.

A collection of amberina and cranberry glass, owned by Walter L. Cousex, and 150 toy banks, showing ways to save a penny 100 years ago, belonging to Charles Schultz also will be displayed.

Lewis Goddard will display a collection of domestic and foreign coins and Irene McNamara of Ann Arbor will display the oldest of her 600 dolls.

Mrs. Felix Hoheisel will exhibit some of her Meissen onion pattern porcelain.

Demonstrations of spinning by David Stewart of Ann Arbor, and chair caning by Fred T. Alder of Ypsilanti are also planned.

Proceeds from the show will be used to help DAR-owned schools in Appalachia, Bacone Indian College, Bacone, Okla., and St. Mary's School for Indian Girls, Springfield, S. D.

For tickets, call Mrs. Sidney Strong, GL 3-4223, or Mrs. William Bake, FI 9-1815.

Zing into spring! Corvair by Chevrolet

The steering's crisper, the ride's flatter, the style's racier—even the grass looks a shade greener from behind the wheel of this new Corvair

For all its finely calibrated instrumentation—tachometer, manifold pressure gauge, even an electric clock with a sweep second hand for rally buffs—the most important thing that happens when you get a Corvair Corsa out on the road doesn't register on the dash. It registers on you.

You feel it in the steering—crisp and precise—as you double back on a curve. In the flat riveted-to-the-road stability of the new fully independent suspension. In the response of the rear engine (up to 180 hp available now in Corsa's Turbo-Charged version).

Drop down to your dealer's now—while the trading's extra good—and see for yourself.

Children's Nursery opens Membership for coming year

Applications for Plymouth Children's Nursery 1965-1966 school year are now being accepted.

A cooperative effort of parents and teachers for the three to five-year-old child, classes meet in the two room Hough School, corner of Warren and Haggerty Roads.

Enrollment is limited to 60 children and they are divided into three groups, one three day class and two classes that meet Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Each class is taught by a trained teacher, and mothers assist her, take care of administrative duties at the school and arrange transportation carpools. Mothers meet one Monday a month for programs featuring this age group.

The program consists of free play with creative materials, music and rhythm games, art projects, outdoor play and a rest and refreshment time. Special activities include trips to the fire station and airport, train rides to Detroit and visits to nearby farms, woods, libraries and museums.

The school year will begin with a series of three orientation meetings to prepare parents for effective participation in the program on Saturday, Sept. 11. Classes will begin on Monday, Sept. 27, and continue until the end of May 1966.

Any Plymouth area resident with a child three years old by Dec. 1, 1965 is eligible.

To register call membership chairman Mrs. Alan Woodworth, GL 3-8232.

Among the new books at Dunning Hough Library are the following, according to Mrs. Warren Worth, librarian.

"The Sea Flower" by Ruth Moore is a novel about two youngsters cast ashore off the coast of Maine during a hurricane, who meet an odd assortment of characters.

"A Covenant with Death" by Stephen Becker is a psychological study of a judge who must hand down a decision in a murder case that brings back unhappy memories of his own early life.

"Tiger in the Honeysuckle" by Elliott Chaze is a novel about the civil rights movement and about a young newspaper reporter in a small southern town who falls in love with a Negro girl.

"A Bend in the Ganges" by Manohar Malgonkar, author of "The Princess," is a novel about India's fight for independence from the British, and the violent upheaval which followed the British withdrawal from the country.

"Accident at Vichy" by Arthur Miller is a one-act play in which nine men suspected of being Jews are held by the Nazis during the occupation of France.

"Nina's Book" by Eugene Burdick tells of an American flier shot down over Brittany who was rescued by Nina and her friends in the Resistance. He escaped, but she was captured and spent the rest of the war in a German concentration camp.

"Children for Adoption" by Pearl Buck has information on children all over the world available for adoption in America, the legal means of application and the flourishing "black market" operation.

Symphony launches membership drive

The Plymouth Symphony Society Board's once-a-year membership drive will be held during the week of May 3.

Wayne Dunlap, director of the Symphony, has attributed much of the success of the Symphony to the support given by the people in the Plymouth area.

The Symphony will complete its 19th season next month with its annual pop concert. Founded in 1945, the Symphony gave its first concert in 1947. The Symphony has consistently been singled out as one of Plymouth's outstanding cultural contributions.

Plymouth's orchestra is the largest of its kind in the state, yet it comes from the smallest town boasting such a group.

DUNLAP is the power and prestige behind the Symphony, and carries impressive credentials, having been at the head of at least five community orchestras. He studied in Vienna and is presently music director for the newly formed Schoolcraft College.

The Symphony drive hopes to raise $15,000 for next year's budget.

The Symphony, in addition to its regular season, sponsors a Plymouth Junior Symphony Orchestra. Also, Plymouth children are sent to Detroit Symphony concerts by bus.

A third project includes five scholarships for students of music to go to Interlochen.

Memberships are divided into four categories:

Patron $50.00 or over

Sustaining $25.00

Supporting $15.00

Active $ 7.50

There are four committees: Family Membership, Mrs. Donald Graham; Industrial, Harold Guenther; Business, Robert Sincok; and Organizations, James Thomas. Heading up this committee as general chairman is Sam Hudson.

President of the Symphony Board is Arthur Haeske, Conductor of the Symphony, Wayne Dunlap; Vice-President of the Board, Sam Hudson; Secretary, Mrs. Herbert Woolweaver; Treasurer, David Wood, and Business Manager, Jack Moehle.

Other members of the board are: Harold Guenther, Mrs. Arthur Larson, Vern Jones, Mrs. Dean Manley, Robert Sincok, James Thomas, Mrs. Donald Graham, Mrs. Roger Zerby and Mrs. James Warren.

Reveal betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest B. Williams of Houghton Lake and formerly of Plymouth, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Joyce, to William Wood Vasse, Jr., son of Mrs. William Wood Vasse of Pasadena, Calif., and the late Mr. Vasse.

Miss Williams graduated from Plymouth High School (1957) and Chatham College and is a student at the University of Michigan Rackham School of Graduate Studies.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Santa Barbara College and University of California, Berkeley, teaches American and English literature at the U-M's Flint College.

The couple plans a June 29 wedding in Christ Episcopal Church, Flint.

Newcomers plan Harold's Club party April 24

Plymouth Newcomers are having a Harold's Club Party, April 24 beginning at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Hargreaves, 15031 Lakewood Dr.

One of the most popular parties of the year, each couple, is given $1,000,000 in play money for such games as poker, blackjack and roulette.

Cost will be two dollars a couple to cover prizes and a late evening snack.

Reservations close Thursday, April 22, and any cancellations must be made within 24 hours of the party. Call Mrs. Thomas Bowling (A-M), 453-1149, or Mrs. Taylor Trask (N-Z), 453-4308, for reservations.

 cial meeting with their planning consultants, Velican and Leman, to discuss planning costs.

Gay Blade Corporation was granted an extension until June 1 to obtain financing for their purchase of Urban Renewal land on Mill St., south of Bathey Manufacturing, and a small parcel east of Marathon Petroleum Products.

THE ORIGINAL sale terms set April 5 as the financing deadlines, but Gay Blade President Vern W. Schilawski wrote to the Commission requesting an extension because of legal delays and difficulties in financing.

The corporation has proposed to build an indoor ice skating rink on the property. Permission was granted to the Plymouth Lions Club to hold their annual White Cane campaign on city streets Friday, April 30, and Saturday, May 1, and to the Plymouth community Junior Chamber of Commerce to hold their annual Fourth of July parade.

The Commission agreed to loan the portable bandstand to Schoolcraft College for their commencement exercises on April 25. Permission was given providing the college pay the total cost of a truck with all safety features to transport the bandstand and the D. P. W. labor for erecting and dismantling the bandstand.

Commissioner James Jabara made a motion which the commission unanimously supported to declare the building owned by Walter Beglinger at 705 S. Main St. a public nuisance and to take the necessary steps to remove it.

for a while, and keeps what was good in their lives.

God grant, in an age of so-called realism, that all of us might more firmly lay hold of that which is really real—the ever-present Love of God. And as it was said of the post-Resurrection Christians, "See how they love one another"—let this be said of us in all our relationships—with all classes, with all races, with all creeds — with all of God's children.

Son became a man. He is the "New Adam" as St. Paul says. The Son united mankind to himself and became the new head of the human race. He emptied Himself and became a slave obedient even to the death of the cross. He endured the penalty of sin but was without sin.

Having forged a bond with man, now the God-man would return to his heavenly Father. In this return He would carry all who are united with himself. This "return" to the Father meant undoing what Adam had done.

Jesus Christ the Son of God, returned to His Father but now He must complete this "return" in men. He sent His Holy Spirit. "Unless a man be born again of water and the Holy Spirit, he cannot enter the kingdom of heaven." By the rebirth of Baptism a man becomes a Christian. He is brought into the Body of Christ. St. Paul explains that we, the church, are the Body and Christ is the Head. A Christian is so intimately united with Christ that the actions of Christ become the actions of the baptized. Through Baptism Christ's death to sin, resurrection to life and ascension to glory become our very own.

Even the action or sign of Baptism shows this union with the death and resurrection of Christ. In the full symbol of Baptism we are buried in water which is union with the burial and death of Christ, a dying sin.

And so if Easter is going to be a time of real peace and joy, then it will have to be much more than an egg, a rabbit or a new outfit. Each Easter we celebrate Christ's "Return" to His heavenly Father, but it is meaningless for us unless we become more involved in His "return."

EASTER IS MORE THAN AN EGG!!!

by Father Alfred H. Renaud
 Assistant priest
 Our Lady of Good Counsel Church

If today's Christian is to understand the true meaning of Easter, then the meaning of his own Baptism must be understood. The Sacrament of Baptism has from very earliest times been associated with Easter in a very particularly way. Many Christians today still bless and set aside water for baptizing on the eve of Easter. Lent which is a period of preparation for Easter, was at one time a period of intensive preparation for those to be baptized on the Vigil of Easter. Perhaps some thoughts on the reason for this association would help us to celebrate Easter with more meaning and benefit.

It would be well to remember that a rupture between God and man had resulted from the sin of Adam, the head of the human race.

From the very beginning God promised to repair the rupture and to bridge the gap. Finally the moment of truth came. God, the Father, sent His only begotten Son. The Former residents head committee for campvention

Former Plymouthites Mr. and Mrs. Vic Grayshaw, now of Garden City, are chairmen of the campgrounds committee for the third annual NCHA (National Campers and Hikers Association) state campvention.

This year the Way-O-Mac chapter of which the Grayshaws are charter members is planning the meeting which will be held May 14-16 at Paradise Beach on old U.S. 10, between Pontiac and Flint.

Plans include a fishing contest, horseshoe tournament, hootenany, adults' and children's games, campfire programs, dancing, pancake breakfast and church and Sunday School services.

Open to all, an advance registration of four dollars per family is required and this includes all camping fees and participation in all events.

NCHA is a national non-profit, volunteer organization made up of self-governing local chapters. Membership is open to anyone interested in camping.

A national convention in Beech Bend Park, Bowling Green, Ky., is slated for July 12-15.

For further information on the campventions or the association write or call the Grayshaws, 4211 Cadillac, Garden City, 421-6709.

Plymouth junior high west news

April 7 to be exact, Junior High West was the host school for two Wayne County's district spelling bees. 27 schools participated in district 3 including Taylor, Southgate and Wyandotte, and 26 schools participating in District 1 which was comprised of Northville, Livonia, Redford, Dearborn Heights and Plymouth. Winner in District 3 was Denise Dailey, a sixth grader from Southgate; William Myers was the winner of district 1. He is an eighth grade student at Nankin Mills Junior High School Janet Alford represented Junior High West and was runner-up in district 1. She will represent the district in the Metropolitan Bee if the winner can't attend.

Mr. South's sixth grade room put out a magazine called "Wee Willey Winkle News." Some of the features were Dear Van Meter (teenage problems), sports, fashions, jokes, comics and interviews.

Mrs. DeRoo's room has been putting out a sixth grade newspaper. It started in September and ten issues have been published. The paper, called the "Sixth Echo," costs one cent for one or two pages and two cents for three or more pages. The money will go to the Detroit Order of Nuns or Little Sisters of the Poor, an old folks home for their Easter project. Some of the features are jokes, games, girls' section, sports, first aid, school news, poems and stories.

The 45 girls in Mrs. Young's sixth grade GAA are now working on their year-end tournament which covers all the sports the girls have been working on this year.

Mrs. Williams seventh grade classes had a fiesta on April 6-8. The fiesta featured Mexican food, games, pinatas and costumes. One group also entertained with their own version of Mexican music. On April 8, Dr. Fitch came to show the students

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL A-7 slides and movies of his trip to Mexico.

A chess club has been organized for sixth graders in Mr. Kelley's room. The students meet after school on Wednesdays.

The seventh grade girls are waiting for the Charm School to begin. Next Tuesday will be the first meeting. This will be a six weeks course and will deal with things a young teenage girl should know. Good grooming and poise are a part of the planned program of after school discussion.

EASTER MESSAGE

She's as young as spring-time, as sweet-scented as a lily, beautifully serious with the total dedication of youth. People in church smile as they watch her, and they walk out into the April sunlight feeling better, happier, for having seen her.

They cannot, ever again, be as young as she is, but this doesn't seem to matter. For she is a symbol to them. She represents the wonder of spring when the world becomes new and fresh again, when flowers bloom as if for the first time, and when the Church retells the story of its greatest miracle — Christ's promise of everlasting life.

This, unquestionably, was the greatest promise ever made, and the reminder of it comes at Nature's most perfect season. Be sure that you go to the Church of your choice this Easter, so that you may again hear and remember the Easter message in all its glory.

A PAIR OF KIDS, Paul McIntosh and Rosemary Hall were the first to see the Mill's Brothers posters go up last week. Robert Tripp and barber Jerry Harder are about to put the sign up announcing the Circus' arrival on May 12 for a one-day stand. Tripp, general chairman of the event, which is being sponsored by the Optimist club, urged Plymouth residents to get their tickets early.

Mills Bros. circus People you know here on May 12

The 26th annual edition of the Mills Bros. Three Ring Circus is coming here on May 12, it was announced today by Dick Merriam, president of the Optimist Club.

"Our organization is bringing the world's largest motorized circus here to enable the children of our community to enjoy a traditionally wholesome form of unique American entertainment," Merriam said. "Profits derived from sponsoring the circus will go toward our scholarship fund," he continued.

"Our fund will benefit the greatest from the sale of advance tickets by our members. We receive up to 50% of the proceeds from these tickets. In addition, patrons purchasing tickets in advance of circus day will save up to 50 cents on each ticket."

Hailed as bigger and better than ever, the 1965 edition will again feature scores of imported and domestic circus acts, the traditional pageant spectacle, liberty horses, trapeze chimpanzees, llamas, camels and animal-land fantasies climaxed by the world renowned Mills Bros. elephant ballet.

Woman speaks

'Negroes need more than voting rights'

The Salem incidents brought cries of anguish from people all over the nation, but for one Plymouth woman it struck a different cord. Mrs. Glen Aldrich, 751 Irvin St., a housewife and aspiring writer, feels the problems in the South go deeper than merely the right to vote for Negroes.

In a letter to The Plymouth Mail, Mrs. Aldrich recalled her days in Arkansas and wrote "that the Negroes aren't the only poor people in the South."

Born one of thirteen children of white sharecroppers in the sleepy little town of Caraway, Arkansas, she spent her time chopping cotton in 105-degree weather. She writes:

"FROM the time I was ten years old, until I graduated from high school in 1954, I worked ten hours a day in a 100 and 105 degrees in the sun; then in the fall I picked cotton until I was so tired many, many nights that I could not eat my supper, which was usually beans, potatoes and corn bread."

Mrs. Aldrich, then Bonnie Winemiller, recounts that she had many wonderful experiences as a sharecroppers daughter, and feels no shame about her origin. Her parents, neither of which graduated from high school, worked hard to see that all 13 of their children got through. One daughter even made it through college.

She has one regret, however, and it reflects her thoughtfulness about the problems in the south. She feels the problem not only involves the Negro rights, but education for all southerners, many of whom are poor, and white, like her parents.

"We worked hard," she writes, "but when we played we played hard too, and had fun. If I could choose where to be born, I'd choose my same parents and the farm, along with a prayer for education for all southerners." Education, or the lack of it, has hurt her the most. She feels a tremendous urge to write, and will be attending college level classes soon. She has found her high school education is not enough to be a writer.

She holds no bitterness towards the South, and has a great deal of intelligent insight into its problems.

THERE is "no middle class" where she comes from, she says. You're either a professional person or a politician at one extreme, a poor farmer at the other. The closest factory to Caraway is a shoe factory in nearby Jonesboro.

She also recalls in her childhood how a lack of education is used by local political leaders. An attorney from Jonesboro was running for an Arkansas State Representative seat from that area and had won an accident claim case for Mrs. Aldrich's father. He had won $2800, keeping $1300 for himself and giving $1300 to her father and eliciting from him his vote and that of several other farmers in the area.

Even in her teens, Bonnie Winemiller could see the way things worked. "I would get awfully worked up. I could see they were misleading the uneducated this way."

Negroes weren't part of their local way of life and she never saw one until she was 16. She put her thoughts on Negroes into a poem recently.

God's Earth or Disgraced History

Thirteenth Amendment on January 31, 1865 — Freedom for the Negro came alive.

When Honest Abe declared all slaves would be free. Surely, then, today we have disgraced history!

While in many states the battle is still alive, And the freedom dead that was won in 1865.

Negro and White, side by side, have spilled their blood upon this earth. . . To keep the freedom that gave America her birth.

Yet, all to oft whites think, 'this land is mine, you Negro, not mine and thine'

Yet brothers in Christ can you not see We're needlessly disgracing our history

And forgetting Him who gave us birth, When equally He placed us all on His earth.

— Bonnie Aldrich, 1965.

Presbyterian youth slate car wash

A car wash is being planned by the Senior High Fellowship of the First United Presbyterian Church for Saturday, April 17, from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. behind West Brothers. Proceeds from the event will be used in the fellowship's project with Knox Community Center, Baltimore, Md. An inner-city organization the Plymouth teenagers will learn about some of the problems in the inner-city from them.

Red Cross holds awards tea, meeting

On Thursday, April 8, 1965, the Northwest Regional Office was the scene of the Annual Meetings of the Livonia and Plymouth Branches of the Detroit Chapter, American Red Cross.

Officers for the coming year remain unchanged in Plymouth, however new officers for Livonia are: Mrs. Olson Hensley, Chairman; Mrs. Richard Cook, Co-Chairman and Mrs. Edwin Selte, Secretary.

Following the business meetings an Awards Tea was held for all volunteers in the region. Those honored were: Mesdames L. Couzens, E. Edel, R. E. Blanchard, M. B. Brillhart, R. Barber, and H. Atwood.

Name Plymouth MEA delegates

Mrs. Lois Jensen, 1482 Penman; and Mrs. Gladys Tiltonson, 607 Blunk, have been named delegates to the Michigan Education Association's annual Representative Assembly, April 8-10.

Gov. George W. Romney will be among the speakers addressing the 300-plus delegates who will meet at Lansing's Civic Center.

Major items to be considered by the Assembly, the policy-making body of the 70,000-member MEA, include enactment of a state professional practices act for educators and expansion of the Project for the Improvement of Instruction.

In addition, the delegates will choose a president-elect to serve during the 1966-67 term, nominate a state director of the National Education Association, and make appointments to MEA commissions and committees.

THIS IS A white sharecroppers front yard in Arkansas. The little girl is a niece of Mrs. Glen Aldrich, who sees the problem in the south as a matter of education for all people, white and black.

EASTER

The time is now right to take another good look

Perhaps it's because spring turns man's thoughts to bright and cheerful concepts, or maybe it's the cumulative result of increased co-operative efforts during the past year, but recent months in The Plymouth Community have seen more talk than ever before of unification of Township and City.

And finally, someone had courage enough to bring the matter out in the open and approach the governing bodies of both City and Township with the matter.

In letters written over a week ago, Township resident Sam Hudson suggested that leaders of both governmental units appoint a joint committee of citizens from both areas to attempt an objective report on the subject.

Hudson, a man who has been sufficiently active to maintain a finger on the pulse of the area, noted that the pros and cons of joining the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township into one governing unit have been discussed for many years.

"I think the time is right," he wrote, "to take another look at this question, with the aim of informing the citizens of both the City and the Township of the advantages and disadvantages of such an amalgamation."

We hope Hudson's suggestion will be taken seriously.

Over a year ago, when the Citizens for Plymouth forum was held at a Plymouth Community school, it was agreed that the question of community relationships was the prime one that faced us.

But, given that agreement, things rested and little more was done to actively pursue the matter. This newspaper agrees that things have progressed to the point where, as Hudson points out, the time is right.

City officials, at their meeting last Tuesday evening, expressed willingness to participate in such a study—and a study it should be. For if a committee is appointed, its membership should consist of people capable of looking at things objectively and appraising the situation calmly and unemotionally.

The Plymouth Mail strongly urges Plymouth Township's board of trustees to give favorable consideration to Hudson's suggestion.

A number of their constituents, they will find, are in favor of studying the factors involved in blending the two areas into a strong and cohesive community entity.

A first year success

Schoolcraft College on Haggerty Road will be dedicated April 25, and with the dedication should come a certain sense of pride for Plymouth residents.

If the College's namesake, Henry Rowe Schoolcraft, were here he probably wouldn't know what to make of the three squat, modernistic buildings that rest on a treeless plot of land in Livonia. He was an 18th Century Indian agent and explorer.

But he was also a regent of the University of Michigan and, so the story goes, a man of vision. In any event, it is in his name the College will be dedicated a couple of Sundays from now, and people in the Plymouth Community might do well to take note.

The College was formed by residents of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth and Northville. A one mill tax was passed and the College opened last August. Nearly 150 students attended from Plymouth High School last year, and even more are expected this fall.

Some active minds have brainstormed the College thus far, including the Dean, Miss Lois Waterman, the President, Dr. Eric J. Bradner, and Plymouth residents Sam Hudson, Harold Fischer and Mrs. Jane K. Moehle, all three of whom are on the Board of Directors.

John M. Hoben, guidance chief at the High School, said this week that there is "no question of the College's value from our standpoint."

We would agree. It gives PHS graduates a second chance at college. The College is committed to taking all students from the area encompassed in its district up to May 1.

And for the students in the area it offers a place to go without leaving home—and thus a savings on expensive room and board costs.

Further, the College is in the process of being accredited and has transfer courses for all the big state universities. Its curricula includes several technical courses and high school courses that permit students with certain deficiencies to come up to college standards.

It, in effect, gives the area a trade school.

Ground will be broken in June for two new buildings, with money coming partly from matching funds from state and Federal governments.

With 2,000 students on campus this year, and an added 1,000 expected next, Schoolcraft College can count itself a first year success. We believe the College has made a higher education institution for the area a reality, and salute Schoolcraft's initial efforts.

We also salute the residents of the area who undertook one of the hardest jobs possible—that of taxing themselves for something as intangible as education.

April 25 is the day. Go and see who and what you're paying for.

Should wag its tail

No matter what one's partisan allegiances are, there should be a stir of admiration for a Plymouth man for his part in the victory, last week, of Farrell E. Roberts in the 14th State Senatorial District.

For, as campaign manager for the Republican candidate, Carl Pursell went all out for his political convictions.

A young man with a new business that deserved all the attention he could give it, Pursell took time away, neglected his personal gain and threw himself on a 24-hour-a-day basis into the effort for his candidate.

Last Monday, his toil paid off. In addition, he found time for an occasional Chamber of Commerce committee meeting, service club sessions and participation in the activities of the rejuvenated local Republican organization during the campaign.

Such feverish activity should not go unnoticed.

Pursell deserves, and herewith gets, a tip of The Plymouth Mail's editorial hat.

The local Republican elephant should either wave its trunk or wag its tail in appreciation.

Methodist church sets Holy Week services

The Holy Week schedule of the First Methodist Church includes Maundy Thursday service, participation in a community-wide Good Friday Tre-Ore service and four Easter Sunday services.

Holy communion in the sanctuary is slated for Maundy Thursday at 8 p.m.

Tre-ore services from 12 to 3 p.m. Good Friday will be held in the First Presbyterian Church this year.

Sanford P. Burr will preach at the Easter sunrise service at 6 p.m. and the Junior High Choir will sing. An Easter breakfast in the church dining room will be served by the couples club at 7 a.m.

Other Easter services will be at 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m. The Rev. Hugh C. White will preach and the Chancel Choir will sing.

DURING THE SPRING WEATHER this past week while four students from Our Lady of Good Counsel School entered science projects in the Metropolitan Science Fair at Cobo Hall, other students tried out kites they made as an art project. Examining one of the science projects entered at the fair, April 10-13, were, above, Susan Spinski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Spinski of Hines Ct.; and Brian Stannard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stannard of Robinwood Dr.; and, back row, Joseph Renauer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Renauer of Ann Arbor Tr.; and Beth Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Holland of Bruce St. The display exhibited is Beth's on analog computers. The other projects entered were Brian's on fire fighting apparatus, Sue's on effects of soil and water changes on plants and Joseph's on magnetic repulsion. These exhibits started as a class project, then eight were selected to be entered in a division contest at which time the four from OLG were selected for the Metropolitan fair. Below, sixth grade girls ready to fly their kite were, Carolyn Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green of Haggerty Rd.; Paulette Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Keller of Sunset St.; and Maureen McMahon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McMahon of Hix Rd.

Why don't people go to the dictionary?

Dear Editor:

It has been a pleasure, to me, to read your paper frequently — as a resident of Northville. And now I enjoy it regularly as a new voter and Plymouth resident.

Regardless of Mrs. Schmidt's letter and your "Pilgrim" referral, I want to put in my two bits and ask why so many do not go to the dictionary on such matters.

Webster's Third International (1963) gives the definition of the word "irregardless" as "(prob. blend of ir-respective and regardless) nonstand." So, I am not taking a stand, just quoting.

Since the many new discoveries and industries working on so many new and strange things I find myself going to Webster's continually. As one who bot his first car in 1919, after coming back from France, and having to have a starter installed as an accessory, I have come a long

And there are many words that have come into common usage, as well. So, may I recommend more intensive referral to the best source of such change.

Sincerely yours,
E. M. Rice

The phone buzzed last week and on the other end was a member of Plymouth's Republican Club. Would I be interested, he wondered, in writing an editorial lambasting the lethargic electorate for its degree of non-participation at the polls?

I didn't know.

It's become routine, I explained, and redundant for newspapers to expend undue amounts of ink and newsprint on a semantic battering of the reluctant voter following his absence at the polls.

After the two of us hung up I spent some time re-examining the conversation. And the analysis led to some sticky questions.

Can the word merchant assemble his goods in a manner that will effectively move a citizenry, beleaguered on all sides by the communicative efforts of radio, television, newspapers and magazines?

Or has the voter's skin become too thick, his perceptions too dulled? Is he, in fact, punchy—drunk with the mass of verbiage tossed at him each day?

Or does he simply not give a damn?

And, if so, why should I?

Why should I bang my head on the cold wall of public indifference week after week after week?

The answer is there.

It was there while I was asking the questions, submerged in the subconscious under an avalanche of daily detail.

Late one evening News Editor Doug Johnson, who is—above all—a literary man, joined me around a coffee pot in the family kitchen.

We were mumbling about literature of one sort and another when I had the insane compulsion to read aloud William Faulkner's foreword to a collection of his works.

In doing so, I rediscovered why I was banging my head.

The gentle Mississippian's comments, while directed at his readers, apply with equal force to editors.

Referring to a book in his grandfather's library where he spent many hours reading, Faulkner noted:

"This one, like all books of that period, . . . had a preface, a foreword . . . It went something like this:

"This book was written at the expense of considerable effort, to uplift men's hearts, and I thought: 'What a nice thing to have thought to say.'"

" . . . To uplift man's heart; the same for all of us: for the ones who are trying to be artists, the ones who are trying to write simple entertainment, the ones who write to shock, and the ones who are simply escaping themselves and their own private anguishes.

"Some of us don't know that this is what we are writing for. Some of us will know it and deny it, lest we be accused and self-convicted and condemned of sentimentality, which people nowadays for some reason are ashamed to be tainted with; . . .

"But we all write for this one purpose.

"This does not mean that we are trying to change man, improve him, though this is the hope—maybe even the intention—of some of us. On the contrary, in its last analysis, this hope and desire to uplift man's heart is completely selfish, completely personal.

" . . . He who, from the isolation of cold impersonal print, can engender . . . excitement, himself partakes of the immortality which he has engendered.

Some day he will be no more, which will not matter then, because isolated and itself invulnerable in the cold print remains that which is capable of engendering still the old deathless excitement in hearts . . ."

So there is the answer.

* * *

Ah yes, the voters.

Rather than flaying what appears to be, right now, a very dead horse, I will try to engender excitement in their hearts prior to the next election.

For the first time in several years in Canton township the Republicans elected their entire ticket, Monday. The vote was 184. There was a tie for the office of clerk between Philip Dingeldey, Democrat nominee, and Clifford McClumpha, Republican nominee. In the draw to decide the winner, Mr. McClumpha was the lucky man.

The annual election in Plymouth township passed off very quietly here Monday for an event of this kind, and about the normal vote was cast. Republicans made a clean sweep with the single exception of highway commissioner. 532 ballots were cast.

Kiwanis heads

goodwill week

Kiwanians on both sides of the border are spearheading the 42nd annual observance of Canada-U.S. Goodwill Week, April 25 - May 1, according to Marvin Terry, President of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club.

April 28, falls within Canada-U.S. Goodwill Week, is the 148th anniversary of the signing of the Rush-Bagot Agreement which demilitarized the 3000 mile border between Canada and the United States; hence the dates.

To dramatize the peaceful nature of this coast-to-coast boundary, Kiwanians in both countries have set up some thirty-five "peace markers" one at each principal port of entry.

Kiwanis, which celebrates its own Golden Anniversary this year, has grown up simultaneously in the United States and Canada, Terry said. The encouragement of mutual friendship between the two countries has always been one of Kiwanis' prime efforts, he added. Canada-U.S. Goodwill Week, which is now widely observed, was established by Kiwanis.

Of the unguarded 3000 mile border between the two countries the late Sir Winston Churchill said, "That long frontier from the Atlantic to the Pacific Oceans, guarded only by neighborly respect and honorable obligations, is an example to every country and a pattern for the future of the world."

AT A RECENT Grange meeting, the Degree team gathered to confer degrees on 3 new candidates. The Bartells moved to Salem Square in Sept. 1964, from Redford Township. They have one daughter, Dyane, who is a senior in the Co-op program at Thurston High School. For the past two years Dyane has worked after school and on Saturdays as a poodle trimmer for the Wagon Wheel Poodle Shop in Redford Township. Mr. Bartell is employed at the General Motors plant at Willow Run.

Each Sunday afternoon now until June, Melinda Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Stevens, 40753 Orangelawn Rd., will travel to Grinnell's in downtown Detroit to rehearse for the annual Grinnell Piano Recital to be given at Cobo Arena. Melinda, who has taken lessons for two and a half years, will play two duets, "America the Beautiful," and "Toy Trumpet," with Karen Upton of Plymouth, who is the granddaughter of their piano teacher, Mrs. Florence Crandell, also of Plymouth. The recital will be given on June 6, and tickets are free.

Name Wall Wayne Ed. president

The Michigan School Public Relations Association, state chapter of the National School Public Relations Association, has named Robert Wall, Wayne County Intermediate Office of Education, president of its organization. Wall, formerly vice-president of the MSPRA organization, moved into the top executive position when President Ned Hubbell moved outstate earlier this year.

MSPRA President Bob Wall has been serving as an educational consultant in school public relations at the Wayne County Intermediate School District for the past nine years.

Prior to his appointment as an educational consultant, Wall served nine years as a high school principal in the school systems of Brighton and Grand Rapids and superintendent of schools in Dimondale.

As president of the Michigan School Public Relations Association, Wall will be an ex-officio member of the Michigan Education Association Public Relations Commission.

Wall lives at 299 Ann Street, Plymouth with his wife and daughter, Linda.

Promote 5 BGR men

Promotion of five men at the B-G-R Division, Associated Spring Corporation, was announced by L. F. Johns, regional general manager for the Corporation. The B-G-R Division has plants in Plymouth and Ann Arbor.

Kenneth R. West, of Plymouth, was named to the new position of superintendent, called parts, at the Plymouth Plant. Succeeding him as divisional sales supervisor was Edward A. Kerschen, of East Grand Rapids.

Charles B. Roberts, of Livonia, was named sales coordinator for inside sales at the Plymouth Plant, a new position. Bruce W. Adams, of Ann Arbor, was transferred to outside sales and Charles C. Clark, of Detroit, assumed Mr. Adams' former responsibility as supervisor - small order, at Plymouth.

West joined Associated Spring following his graduation from Lawrence Tech in 1950. He is married and has five children.

KERSCHEN has been with the company since 1951. Prior to that he had held positions in sales engineering and metallurgy with other organizations. He is a graduate of Michigan State University, is married and has one child.

Roberts has been with ASC since 1948. He is married and has two children.

Adams was first employed by the company in 1948. He is married and has two children.

Clark joined ASC in 1942 after seven years with Chevrolet. He is married and has two children.

Hams to display "homebrew" at meeting

Plymouth radio amateurs will have a display of "homebrew" equipment at their regular meeting Tuesday, April 20.

"Homebrew" means making equipment in your own workshop. Often the amateur designs or modifies a design to suit his own particular requirements.

In the early days of amateur radio all equipment was "homebrew," but today much of the equipment can be purchased.

Prizes will be awarded for the best display.

Any ham in the area is welcome to participate. Meetings are held in the Credit Union Building at 8 p.m. on the third Tuesday of each month.

Jr. High Tennis Schedule

The Junior High Tennis team, under Claude Wilbanks, a special education teacher, will play a regular spring schedule, opening April 12 with Ann Arbor.

Wilbanks reports that about 50 boys are out for the team. The boys have been divided up, making two teams, 'A' and 'B'.

Ten players from the 'A' team will compete in the opening match.

Part of their spring schedule is below. Other matches will be scheduled, Wilbanks said:

Junior High Tennis Schedule

April:	12 Ann Arbor
	28 Varsity Match
May:	4 Northville	H
	6 Ypsilanti Roos.	H
	12 Hamtramac	A
	18 Northville	A
	20 Varsity Match
	26 Ypsilanti Roos.	A

as a sort of proving ground for his still untested baseballers.

His opening day lineup looks like this.

Ron White at first. He played there last year and won a letter. Kurt Irish has second sewed up and like White lettered at that position last year. Letter winner Bob Gotro, in a shuffle from the catcher's position he had last year, will play short stop.

Third will go to one of the JV's big guns last year — Jim Arnold. Arnold hit above .300 last year.

THE TEXAS transfer, Marlan Sutton, got the catchers job. "He has the best arm of my catchers," Boring said.

Outfield is up in the air, but a sure starter will be Jim Lake, a powerhouse who might or might not help the team at the plate. John Underwood and Terry Cosgrove are expected to fill out the outfield.

Pitchers Dave Troutman and John Daniel will be considered mound starters — Troutman most likely.

Fred Hix and Randy Williams stack up as the two best relievers for Boring.

The game starts behind the High School at 3:30 Wednesday, the fickle weather permitting.

PLYMOUTH HIGH NOTES

By Sharon Olin

Miss Elizabeth McDonald and 18 staff members of the Prints will attend the annual Michigan Interscholastic Press Association Conference on April 30 at Ann Arbor. Fred M. Hechinger will be the keynote speaker, and his topic of discussion will include the book "Teenage Tyranny" which he and his wife wrote. Hechinger is education editor of the "New York Times."

Mohammed Yakan, a former citizen of Lebanon, was the guest speaker of several world history classes on April 5. Mr. Yakan spoke about the various practices of Islamism and Lebanon. Mohamed Yakan is presently attending the University of Michigan and is working on his Ph.D. in political science.

A special program which will provide information in specific vocational fields has been designed by the guidance department in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce. The format of the program is to acquaint the students with the specific jobs or careers they have chosen, and experts in these fields will explain such items as job description, requirements and rewards of particular careers. Students will be asked to meet the appointments on their own time during the week of May 17 to 21.

Tom Leckie '66 has been elected president of the Hi-Y Club for the next school year. Serving under Tom will be Jamie Lent '66, vice-president.

IN AND AROUND PLYMOUTH

BOB RAY, the archery team's champion, lines up a shot while Clifford Smith looks on.

Ray takes top prize in youth club archery

Awards were presented to winners of the archery group of the Plymouth Police Youth Club on Wednesday evening, April 7. The awards were earned for shooting in ten weeks competition beginning January 6, 1965.

Winners were: Club Champion, Bob Ray. Class A, first place, Mike Krause; second place, Don Robertson; third place, Carol Pagenkopf.

Class B, first place, Don Cowan; second place, Alex Allan; third place, Mike Eckles. Class C, first place, Eric Morton; second place, Carol Wheeler; third place, Dave Magee.

This is the eighth year that archery has been sponsored by the Plymouth Police Department. Clifford "Tip" Smith, supervisor and instructor, has been with this activity since its beginning. He is now assisted by Russell Cunningham.

The archery group meets on Wednesday 6 to 9 p.m. Shooting will continue until June and there are a few openings at this time for youngsters between the ages of 12 and 17. Applicants may apply at the Community Building at the corner of Union and Dodge Streets on Wednesday evening.

INSTRUCTIONS in the handling and shooting of the 22 caliber rifle is the other activity of the Youth Club. Mr. and Mrs. John Olendorf are the supervisors of this group. A few years ago their youth rifle team was the Michigan State Champions. The instructors of the Youth Club receive no pay for the hours they contribute.

Beating the weather and pennant picks

Doug Johnson

The one day I picked last week to pack up our trusty Rolleiflex camera, assorted telephoto lenses, film and film guides, and head for the tennis courts and baseball diamonds to get some pictures, it began to

You guessed it. Rain. Splat. Ack!

I grabbed a couple of quick shots of the tennis team getting drenched, and dashed for my car. Later, I went over to watch Brian Boring's baseball team hit balls pitched by a pitching machine.

It was too rainy to take pictures.

The weather has held up local sports. I asked Boring if he thought he'd ever get any games played this year, and we both agreed that one or two might be squeezed in late May.

And Jim Stevens, tennis coach, is looking ahead to June when the State JC tennis Championships will be held here.

With the delay in decent weather, local fans can find enough scheduled and re-scheduled high school sports to keep them busy every afternoon. For instance, if everything goes well, there are eleven (11) sports events for the last week in April.

Yes, the iceman has stayed all too long. In the meantime, I haven't seen a spring sport, except maybe our managing editor, Dave Wiley.

Down in Houston, they have licked the weather problem with millions of dollars and good ol' Texas thinking. They have the Big Picture down there, and they have taken baseball inside to the airconditioned, many splendored Astrodome. What interests me is the scoreboard. Costing $2 cool million, it requires eight men to operate. A home run hitter gets to see his picture flashed on the board, 50,000 colored lights, longhorn steers, cowboys, rockets, American and Texas flags. Whew.

I am willing to take a crack at predicting who will win or lose the pennant this year. First, it must be understood that I know nothing about any of the teams. I'm like the woman who bets on a horse because she likes his white forefeet.

Anyway, here goes.

I'll pick the Yankees to win in the American League for three reasons:

(1) Johnny Keane, whom the players can respect. They couldn't Yogi Berra.

(2) New York has been winning pennants for a long time, 15 of 'em since the war ended. Detroit won one back then, (1945) Cleveland a couple, and Chicago fell into it in 1959.

(3) Even if Whitey Ford fails them, the Yankees have the horses. Give the Mets the fans; the Yankees can sweep a series from you before you know it.

I figure the White Sox and the Orioles and maybe the Tigers but I doubt it. More like the Orioles, the Sox, the Twins, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cleveland, Boston, Washington and Kansas City. If exhibition baseball is any guide, I'm way off. Chicago is leading the race, and the Yankees share the cellar with Kansas City.

The National League is anybody's guess, but Cincinnati is not too bad, winning 18 games, losing only 7 in exhibition play. But it's anybody's guess really, what with the Dodgers, and the Giants up high in the tussle. From there on, it makes little difference. The Mets are a shoe-in, but Houston and the Cubs could give them a fight in the dark and dank basement. Pittsburgh, St. Louis and Milwaukee give the top teams somebody to beat 4 games to one in a five game series.

So, if I'm right, it'll be Cincinnati and New York in the fall series. If I'm wrong, I can say like the woman who bet on the horse with the cute white forefeet: "Oh dear."

TWO WAYS TO TREAT YOUR NEIGHBORS

For more than 500 years, the 1500 mile Great Wall around China has been a symbol of international fear, distrust and misunderstanding.

In dramatic contrast—the 3000 mile border between the United States and Canada has been unfortified for 148 years. Canada-United States Goodwill Week, April 25 to May 1, commemorates the signing of the Rush-Bagot Agreement which demilitarized this long border that the late Sir Winston Churchill described as "an example to every country and a pattern for the future of the world."

Kiwanis International, which celebrates its 50th anniversary this year, is proud of its contribution to the peaceful neighborliness which exists between the United States and Canada.

Signs of spring call the gardener

Plump robins are scurrying across greening lawns hunting for worms, and crocuses are bursting into bloom in sunny spots in the garden. Red-wing blackbirds trill from a cattail marsh and tiny spring peepers chorus from the ponds. Eagerly the gardener notes these and other signs of Spring. The first warm days are good for clean-up chores and for pruning, lawn feeding and seeding. Digging operations can commence when the soil has become warm and dry enough for a handful to crumble when it is squeezed.

LAWN CARE
After being drab and brown for many months, lawns are turning green. This is a most welcome sight, for nothing sets off a house and garden better than an expanse of velvety green turf. However, it takes planning and effort to keep a lawn looking its best throughout the growing season. We are compelling the grass plants to behave in an unnatural way. We seed the lawns heavily so the plants grow close together in fierce competition for available moisture and nutrients. We feed these plants to stimulate growth, then shear them off close to the ground. We tread upon them and crush them and subject them to treatment that no other plants can withstand; and despite all this we still expect them to flourish and provide us with a flawless emerald carpet. IT IS EASY TO SEE why lawns need special care and why the carpet is a poor one if the necessary tender loving care is not provided. Begin the program by giving the lawn a brisk raking to remove accumulated debris and to loosen up matted grass. Feed the lawn early in the season with a high nitrogen fertilizer. Chemical fertilizers have nitrogen in a form that is readily available and gives the lawn an immediate boost. This, however, is soon depleted and more fertilizer should be applied later in the season. Organic fertilizers release their nitrogen more slowly and last a long time. Some gardeners have found they get good results by giving an application of chemical fertilizer early in the season, followed by an application of a urea-form or other organic fertilizer. Where turf has been worn thin or where bare spots have developed, scratch the soil to loosen the surface and seed with a grass mixture that is the same as used to make the lawn originally. Keep moist until the seeds sprout. IF CRABGRASS WAS a problem, this is the time to use a pre-emergent killer that kills the seeds before they can grow. Follow the directions carefully for the product that you use.

NEW BOARD members for Alexander Hamilton Insurance Company are Rockwell T. Gust, Charles A. Dean and Stanley S. Kresge. Chairman of the board on the right is Keith Owens. They, and nearly 400 stockholders gathered at Roma Hall last Wednesday for the company's first annual stockholders meeting.

Hamilton stock report shows company booms

The record setting Alexander Hamilton Insurance Company, whose home office is in Plymouth, held its first stock holders meeting last Wednesday and elected S. S. Kresge and Rockwell T. Gust as new members of the board.

Kresge is a dime store king and Gust is a Detroit lawyer. Gust ran for Lt. Governor in the past.

The meeting climaxed the company's phenomenal first year, which saw them write over $100 million in insurance. The feat nearly doubled a $51 million world's record set by another company for first year sales.

The company's payroll is about $1,750,000 and company officials estimate about 40% of that comes directly back to Plymouth.

The meeting Wednesday was the first annual meeting. A special meeting was held in February to ratify earlier board actions.

THE COMPANY also got unanimous approval from stockholders present at the meeting to increase the capital stock of the company to 4 million shares.

The company is still a Michigan company, but long-range plans call for Alexander Hamilton to be in all states.

The company began insurance operation in May, 1964, but had been organized early in the year. The annual report lists assets of about $8,900,000.

The board is composed of E. Keith Owens, chairman of the board; Charles H. Bruce, president of the company; Robert O. Safford, vice president of marketing for the company; James H. Milby, vice president, treasurer and chairman of resident advisory board of the company; G. Eugene Davidson, administrative vice president of the company; Fred Chalfant, account executive, Wilding, Inc.; Harold Guenther, vice president, E-Z Enterprises; Robert F. Hofheins, financier; Charles A. Dean, senior partner, Dean, Coon & Westphal, attorneys and secretary and general counsel of the company; Stanley S. Kresge, president, Kresge Foundation; Rockwell T. Gust, Jr., attorney, Butzel, Eaman, Long, Gust & Kennedy.

American Legion Auxiliary

Voice of the American Legion Auxiliary has been added to that of the American Legion in asking for a six months delay in the closing of the 31 Veterans Administration installations now scheduled for May 1, according to Mrs. Fern Burleson, rehabilitation chairman of Passage-Gayde Unit 391 of Plymouth. The extension beyond the May 1 deadline is being asked in order that the appropriate committees of Congress may have enough time to study the situation and determine if the proposed closing of 11 hospitals, four domiciliaries and 16 regional offices is justified.

"Inventing Tomorrow" is the theme this year of the American Legion Auxiliary in its child welfare work, being emphasized throughout the organization during April, reports Mrs. Virginia Overmyer child welfare chairman.

This theme presents us with the realization that today's children will live their adult lives in tomorrow's world, which promises to be vastly different from the world of today. In this rapidly changing world, our child welfare plans and programs must be shaped to fit the future as best as we can see the future. Seven points are being emphasized in the Auxiliary's national child welfare program this year, and the organization is working in cooperation with other interested organizations and agencies to meet these seven problems, which are youth employment, mentally handicapped children, economically dependent children, abused children, recreation, eye safety, and dangerous drugs. New laws for protection of children were sought by the American Legion and Auxiliary in 44 state legislatures in session this year.

Passage-Gayde Unit 391 will hold the monthly business meeting on Wednesday, April 21 at 8 p.m. in the post home. All Chairmen are asked to start preparing for their annual Department reports which are due May 15. Report forms will be distributed at Unit meeting.

First Vice-President Mae Holescher recently underwent surgery.

GRASS GROWS GREENER WITH QUALITY FERTILIZER

EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN BUT THE RAIN...

FOR A "SHOW LAWN", THIS IS IT!

IMC GUARANTEES RESULTS OR YOUR MONEY BACK

PREMIUM THRIVE

—guaranteed to contain more things to make grass grow than any other lawn food

If you really take pride in your lawn, then Premium Thrive is for you.

The professionals' choice, Premium Thrive is exactly what it says, a premium product—it contains more soil nutrients than any other plant food made. Thirteen different ingredients guaranteed, right on the bag. Unlike other fertilizers, Premium Thrive contains no filler whatever; everything in the bag is there to make grass grow. (Actually, when you measure results, Premium Thrive is the most economical lawn food you can buy.)

Another plus: Premium Thrive releases lawn-building nitrogen in two stages—first, an immediate boost—then, a slow release supply that nourishes your lawn well through the season. Your lawn becomes literally "like a carpet": walk across it and your footprints spring right back! That's Premium Thrive: costs a little more but worth it. Bag covers 5000 square feet.

Not quite so fussy about your lawn? Then ask for Thrive Regular. Low cost, lightweight, easy spreading—for those who "want a good, serviceable lawn."
