

Sing in park to highlight Mich. week

Michigan Week in Plymouth will be highlighted by a special twilight service in Kellogg Park on May 16, spiritual foundations day, featuring combined choirs of the churches in the Plymouth Ministerial Association.

This marks the first time churches in the area have done something like this for Michigan Week, and Chairman of Michigan Week in Plymouth, William Nelson, called it a "real first."

Michigan Week around the state kicks off on the 16th, but in Plymouth it will begin with a Saturday, May 15, mid-morning Junior League baseball parade and followed with the opening game of the season. The parade will begin at 10:45 a.m. at Hamilton Park and wind its way to behind the City Hall.

The combined choirs will be a part of the first day celebrations; sermons in the churches relating to Michigan are urged by the local committee.

MONDAY, May 17, is Mayor's exchange day. Mayor James Houk will travel to

Teens say 'egg in your eye'

A case of spring fever got a little out of hand Saturday night as an estimated 100 teens engaged in scattered egg fights in the Haggerty Field - Hines Road area.

Wayne County road patrol officers reported that the fight involved teens from Plymouth High School, and that they had received numerous complaints of property damage from passing motorists who had been hit by the eggs. Some damage was also reported to homes in the River Oaks subdivision.

The dark night hampered identification of individual egg throwers, and no arrests were made. Several Plymouth youths were taken to the road patrol station and questioned, but no action has been taken.

Scout cars patrolled the area until 1 a.m. Sunday morning, cleaning up stragglers. The Hines Road and Haggerty Road intersection was reported covered with broken eggs and egg cartons.

ACCORDING TO the road patrol, 7 cars were in the area at one time. Plymouth police sent five officers to (Continued on Page 8)

In a nutshell . . .

★ Swimming classes for women will begin Thursday, May 13 and continue for five consecutive Thursdays in the Plymouth High School pool, according to Herbert Woolweaver, director of Plymouth's recreation office. The class for intermediate swimmers will meet at 7:30 p.m. and one for advanced swimmers will meet at 8:30 p.m.

★ This week (Monday, May 3 through Saturday, May 8) has been proclaimed Plymouth Symphony Week by Plymouth Mayor James C. Houk and Plymouth Township Supervisor John D. McEwen. In making the proclamation both men called upon "all citizens interested in the wholesome growth of our community to give support to Symphony endeavors."

★ Roger Norris, new regular City fireman was named top man in a 44-hour basic firemanship training course at the U of M last week. He graduated from the top of the class at the Civil defense and disaster training center, which is part of the U of M's extension service.

★ The Plymouth branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation located in the Veteran's Memorial Building, 173 N. Main St., will be open Monday through Friday from 1 until 3 p.m. These new hours are effective immediately, according to acting office chairman Mrs. Robert D. Nesbitt.

★ The transistor radios given away at the Kiwanis Pan-Cake Festival were won by David Parshall, of 47147 Stoncrest and David Sackett of 1191 Hartsough.

Union City and Union City's village president Doyle Carpenter will come here. Union City is a town between Coldwater and Battle Creek in southwestern Michigan.

A luncheon is planned for the visiting village president, and a tour of The Plymouth Community.

Hospitality day falls on Tuesday, May 18. A tea for all newcomers has been planned, sponsored by the Newcomers Club.

Livelihood day on May 19 will honor new industry in town and hold a dinner at which Bingo Brown, EMU official, will speak. The dinner will be held at the Mayflower Hotel, beginning at 6:30.

John Kamego from Michigan Bell will m.c. the affair, with Frank Hutchinson of Plymouth Plating presenting the awards. Awards will go to four people representing business, industry, professional and institutional organizations. J. D. McLaren, Sr., will receive the business award. The industrial award is expected to go to Doug Bathey, of Bathey Manufacturing. Floyd Kehrl of the National Bank of Detroit will receive an award in the industrial division, and a doctor, Walter Hammond, will be given the professional award.

The education day activities will be centered around career conferences for Plymouth young people. They will have an opportunity to meet someone from 75 various professions. Each conference will have some local person as a resource. Heritage day will feature a DAR tea, window displays of Plymouth history up town, and a pamphlet on Plymouth history. The Plymouth Historical Society will hold open house at their museum.

Saturday, May 22, the final day, will be Youth Day and will feature posters telling what Plymouth service clubs do, and a special junior league baseball game beginning at 1:30.

Car-bicycle mishap hurts two

Two Plymouth boys are patients in Wayne County General Hospital — one seriously hurt — following their involvement in a traffic accident April 30.

Jeffrey Lynn Cardinal, 16, 585 McKinley St., and James D. Walker, 16, 46789 Ann Arbor Rd., were riding a bicycle east on Ann Arbor Rd., west of Sheldon Rd., about 9 p.m. (Continued on Page 8)

City tables Cape's extra land request

Thomas Cape's proposal for a City dedication of part of Byron St. for his apartment units was tabled at Monday night's City Commission meeting after Commissioner Arch Vallier labeled his plans "plain subterfuge."

Commissioner George Lawton agreed and noted that Cape was trying to "achieve by indirect action what he would deny by direct action."

Cape had proposed to have the City dedicate an extra portion of Byron Ave., behind the A&P store to bring his land space up to zoning requirements for 32 multiple units, eight in four buildings. He has space for 30 such units, but sought the added portion in exchange for other land he had dedicated to the City.

It also was brought out that Cape took out a single family residence building permit but had "no intention" in his words, to build such a structure. He instead went ahead and roughed in walls and fixtures for apartments.

HE CAN do this according to building inspector Chuck Thompson just as long as he has only one kitchen in the building. Cape has only one with the other 'kitchens' listed as lounge areas.

It was extremely apparent that several Commissioner members didn't like the idea, and Vallier moved the appeal for more land be denied.

Cape had been before the Commission several times previously, and in the words of City Attorney Edward Draugelis, had been "indulged." Draugelis further stated.

"You can't do this. Time and time again you've gone ahead without first getting approval. This Commission is where you start."

The matter was left up in the air for the time being. His buildings as they stand roughed in right now represent no violation of codes.

In other action, the Commission sidetracked a request from the Muscular Dystrophy Association to solicit funds in Plymouth and decided to set up a meeting with the Plymouth Community fund to establish a policy for fund drives outside of the Community Fund.

The commission heard a report from Draugelis concerning negotiations with Theresa Cameron for the Forest Ave. parking lot. Last Tuesday she agreed to lease the lot if the City paid the taxes, representing an identical agreement that the City has on three other lots downtown.

But later that night, plans were changed — According to Draugelis' letter:

"At approximately 12 p.m. on that date the undersigned were contacted by Mr. Charles Finlan and Mr. Patrick Finlan respectively and advised that there would be no lease from their mother to the City of Plymouth. Patrick Finlan advised both writers that his brother, Charles, has leased the subject property for an indefinite period of time for an undisclosed amount."

The Commission also heard (Continued on Page 8)

Jenkins enters school board race

Robert Jenkins, 525 S. Sheldon Rd., has taken out a petition to seek the one seat available on the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education in the June 14 special election.

Jenkins, who served on the Livonia Public School Board of Education for five years and three of those as president, has lived in Plymouth since 1959; he is 44 years-old. He is training manager for the Lincoln Mercury division of Ford Motor Company.

Financing public education was the subject of Jenkins' doctoral thesis. He earned his Ph.D. from Ohio State University, Columbus, after completing his undergraduate degree work at Denison University, Granville, Ohio, and his masters at Ohio State.

Before joining Ford Motor Company, Jenkins served as assistant director of research for the Ohio Education Association. He also has been a professor of management at Henry Ford Community College's night school. His military service was in the Army Air Force.

JENKINS' activities in Plymouth include being a past president of the Plymouth Symphony Board of Directors, chairman of the Board of Deacons of the First Presbyterian Church and a member of the board of directors of the Colony Swim Club.

He is married and has four daughters.

Robert Utter, whose seat is up for election, is circulating a petition to place his name on the ballot. Two other persons whose names are not known at this time also have taken out petitions.

A minimum of 50 signatures of qualified school district electors is necessary to place a name on the ballot. Deadline for filing petitions is May 15.

Deadline for registering to vote in the election is May 17.

Name McEwen new Township chief

John D. McEwen, long time Wayne County supervisor and Township clerk since early 1963, was named Township supervisor last Wednesday in a special session of the board of trustees. The vote for McEwen was unanimous.

C. Veach Sparks, member of the board of trustees and retired Burroughs tool maker, was named clerk. His election was also unanimous.

The appointments climaxed several weeks of speculation about who would replace Roy R. Lindsay who died March 27 of heart failure. Several names were talked about to replace Lindsay, but Township officials never openly declared who they were considering.

Frank Millington, soon to retire Cadillac executive, was rumored to have been considered, but both Township treasurer Elizabeth Holmes and McEwen said this was not true.

"Outside of Captain Fred Davids, I know of nobody else," McEwen said last week. Davids is a captain in the State police post in Detroit.

McEwen said of his appointment:

"I am very pleased to be promoted to the position of Township supervisor. I will attempt to follow in the footsteps of my predecessor and his dedication to the Township."

McEwen made this and other comments in an interview Friday. On the current question of community unity he noted:

"Ultimately we are going to get together and have a mutual understanding. I am sure that Mayor Houk is going to be cooperative with the Township as I will be with him."

McEwen pledged himself to several duties, including development of the industrial site north along Sheldon Road. He said he would work to get Sheldon brought up to a class 'A' road.

McEwen took over his duties immediately, and went to a county supervisors meeting Thursday where he was appointed to the Road and Bridge committee.

Both McEwen and Sparks have been appointed to a two year term. Clerk Sparks said Monday that he would do his "best to serve as I have served for the past eight years."

The appointments left the Township board with a vacancy that is expected to be filled at a later date. Sparks, a member of the planning commission, will have to drop those duties, so that creates a second vacancy in Township government.

McEwen came to Township politics after over 30 years with Wayne County. When he retired in 1959 he was record procedures supervisor. He had moved to the area three years earlier in 1956.

The county experience left him with a wealth of knowledge about the ins and outs of county and township government, and the appointment caps a lifetime in politics. McEwen is 58, a World War II veteran and is married.

Clinton Veach Sparks, or just "Sparky" to most, has lived in Plymouth since 1948.

He has been in Township organizations since 1956 when he was appointed to the planning commission. He is a member of the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

Born in 1899, he is 66, has two married daughters and three grandchildren

C. Veach Sparks, Township trustee, member of the planning commission and retired Burroughs tool maker, stepped into the clerk's post. The promotion for 'Sparky' left a vacancy on the board of trustees and the planning commission, which will be filled at a later date.

Free rubbish pickup for cleanup week

In observance of Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week, May 10-14, the City of Plymouth and refuse contractor, Deniski Brothers, will pick up all rubbish placed at the curb.

There will be no limit on the amount of rubbish picked up, and no charge for the service during this one week, only. Rubbish must be placed at the curb, however, for this service.

Annual water show at PHS May 6, 7, & 8

Plymouth High School will present its 12th annual water show this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 6, 7 and 8, in the high school pool.

"Our Aqua Mater" will center around school life, depicting both the serious and light sides of education.

Lynn Niles, Jean O'Donnell, Katie Hurson, Connie Nickerson, Janet Covington, Pam Anderson and Luanne Gendreau will surge out of the pages of history to present the opening number "Vikings."

"Brotherhood of Man" will be portrayed by Nancy Spigarelli, Cathy Miller, Mary Lynn Beglinger, Chris Sullivan and Ruth Ann Morrell.

A duet, "Dutch Treat," will feature Carol Ottwell and Sue Niemi. "Windemere" is a soft tropical breeze and will be portrayed by Kay Zoet, Laura Raaslaub, Rhea Fluckey and Sally McKenzie.

"Picasso's Three Musicians" are Sue Ward, Pat Fehlig and Brenda Mackie. Nancy Derr, Pat Barry, Beth Miller, Pat Skinner and Marilyn Gibson will give the audience a glimpse of "A German's Toast."

Nine students, Chris Sullivan, Janet McCully, Sally VanAntwerp, Ruth Ann Morrell, Debbie Jenkins, Judy Conn, Karen Burke, Jill Allison and Cindy Adams will show surprising patterns when the teacher is called from the class room.

Again this year the "Mischievous Mistery" will tickle the audience's funny bones. They are Jim Haarbauer, Doug Jaskierny, Jeff Gustafson, Denny Tonkovich, Jeff Cardinal, Bill Flippen, Dick Lorenz and Don Norman.

Fourteen seniors will be featured in the "Senior Color Spectrum." Swimming will be Pat Barry, Nancy Derr, Pat Fehlig, Jan Firestone, Marilyn Gibson, Sue Hudson, Suzanne Mettetal, Beth Miller, Sue Niemi, Carol Ottwell, Linda Shutes, Pat Skinner, Sue Ward and Kaye Perish. Kay Zoet and Laura Raaslaub will interpret escapism in "Beyond the Closed Door." A touch of green will be shown as Sue Hudson, Linda Shutes, Kaye Perish and Sandy Rittenhouse leap into the number "Frogs in a Bag."

"Swedish Gymnastics" will feature Brenda Mackie, Sally McKenzie, Rhea Fluckey, Sue Mettetal, Lynn Niles and Pam Anderson.

The mechanized age will be revealed by swimmers Nancy Spigarelli, Karen Burke, Mary Lynn Beglinger, Debbie Jenkins, Judy Conn and Cindy Adams. Ernest Borlach's sculpture, "Pity, 1919" will give soloist Sue Mettetal her theme.

The finale will be "Plymouth's Flight Song." Narrating the show will be Norman Fisher.

The show was choreographed by the girls, and all costumes, scenery and properties were made by the members.

For the 8 p.m. evening performances tickets will be 75 cents for students and one dollar for adults. Tickets for the 1:30 p.m. Saturday matinee will be 50 cents.

SUE METTETAL, Carol Ottwell and Pat Fehlig are three of the girls who will be swimming in Plymouth High School's 12th annual water show, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 6, 7 and 8 in the high school pool.

McEwen brings open mind to job

Plymouth Township residents should watch, with interest, the direction their local government takes in the months ahead under the guidance of former Clerk John D. McEwen—named last week to succeed the late Roy R. Lindsay.

For, as clerk, McEwen had little opportunity to display the course he might chart as titular head of Township government.

In the waning days of the former supervisor's term of office, as Mr. Lindsay's health became less robust, the clerk took an increasingly active role in governmental activities.

In addition to the staggering load of paperwork that came his way, Mc-

Ewen shouldered the burden of acting as a buffer between the aging Lindsay and outside elements.

It was McEwen who channeled most of the information on Township government to the press.

It was McEwen who met hopeful builders and developers when they came in to request appearances before planning commissioners and township trustees.

But, in spite of his heavy workload, in spite of the increasing duties that came his way, John McEwen did not usurp the prerogatives of Supervisor Lindsay.

He succeeds to the new office as something of an unknown political quantity.

The challenges and changes which face the new supervisor are varied and many.

Ahead of him is the largest year of building expansion in Plymouth Township's history.

Currently in the air, is increased talk of more of co-operation between city and township — co-operation which is now at an all-time high.

But McEwen seems unawed by problems which would halt many larger men. And he brings two key qualities to the job which should be of advantage.

(1) He was not intimately involved in past disagreements between the two local governmental units and assumes his new duties with, as far as we can tell, an open mind.

(2) A veteran of years of public life at the county level, McEwen is a canny politician who has displayed great sensitivity to public opinion.

The Plymouth Mail thinks Supervisor John D. McEwen is a man who will seek and solicit views from the electorate.

He will listen to those views, relatively unhampered by prejudice and preconception.

The Grim Pilgrim

By DAVE WILEY

Having waxed idiotic and lighthearted in this corner for the past few weeks, it's high time that I get serious about a question that's current in the Plymouth Community.

Nay, that is an understatement.

Rather, the time is past due for residents of this area to get down to brass tacks on a subject that could mean the difference between life and death for the Plymouth Community as we know it.

I refer to the concept of community unification. Life and death — admittedly a melodramatic cliché, but nonetheless apt; because, if we don't express our opinion on the subject now, we are guilty of a degree of gross neglect and apathy that renders us deserving of whatever we get.

Some years ago, as I understand it, a Citizens for Plymouth forum was held at one of the local schools. At that meeting, it was generally agreed that the most pressing local question was the city-township relationship and closer co-operation between the two governments.

The problem, however, was relegated to a secondary position and quietly permitted to stagnate.

There it lay dormant until a couple of weeks ago when Township resident Sam Hudson drafted a letter to the legislative bodies of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township, suggesting that a committee of citizens be formed to study community amalgamation.

City fathers hastily agreed to the idea and Township trustees quickly vetoed it.

Since that time, the Plymouth Mail has carried a questionnaire seeking grassroots opinion on the subject. While response generally has been good, in proportion to the size of the community, the silence has been deep and thick.

Men who for years have been paying loud lip service to the concept of a Plymouth Community have, in many cases, not responded.

Lake Pointe Subdivision, quick to beat its collective breast earlier this year because of school crowding, has said little — apparently rendered voiceless and disinterested by imminent solution of its most discomforting problem.

People, as usual, are not giving a tinker's damn. Which, if you will pardon the directness, aggravates the chronic personal nausea that humanity inspires from time to time.

I get sick and tired of people who don't care what their local governmental units do.

It irritates the heck out of me when less than 15 per cent of the voters turn out for a local election, few people show up for township, city and school district meetings, but the remaining 85 per cent are eager to moan and groan about legislative action at the state and federal levels that encroaches on a franchise they never saw fit to use.

When I hear a person mumbling about big government and yearning for a return to 19th Century levels, and I know he hasn't shown his face at a local meeting since I've been around, it makes me want to puke.

Why don't people care? Are they so wrapped up in the pursuit of affluence that they will surrender every prerogative they have to centralized control?

Will they remain so obsessed with color television and next year's car and hi-fi and beating the crabgrass and making payments on the split-level that they will let the Plymouth Community go to hell in a handbasket?

Presumably, they are living here because they like the flavor of the area, the difference, the atmosphere of individuality. Deep down inside they don't want to be part of a characterless sprawl like Levittown, or Warren, or neighboring Livonia.

If only they could see that retention of our community character lies in a greater degree of co-operation and unity and cohesiveness.

If only they had time enough to say "Yes, I'd like to see the matter studied," or "No, I wouldn't."

In fact, I'd rather see their voice opinion by letter to their respective local government.

I just wish they'd get off their tail and say something.

A clear-cut stand

Plymouth's City Commission took a long awaited stand on its closed door committee-of-the-month sessions Monday night and clarified what has always been a fuzzy position.

The Commissioners went on record as willing to dispense with all closed meetings, unless City personnel are to be discussed or the purchase or sale of land is to be hashed over.

George Lawton made the motion, and A. E. Vallier seconded it. Lawton noted that, perhaps in the past, the public had been deprived of background information on some issues.

We would agree.

Committee of the whole sessions can keep the opinion of commissioners from the public, and that is neither the intent nor the wish of the City. The general public has the right to know what decisions were made—and how and why they were made.

New commissioner George Hudson noted that it was a "good motion" and agreed to support it. The motion passed 6-1, with Robert Smith voting no.

It was agreed in later discussion that the topics to be discussed in closed sessions would be announced and voted on. Only if the discussion might damage a personality involved, or hamper a land deal the City was making, would the Commission close its doors.

The move came at a time when interest in local government is at an all-time high, and should help to stir up further interest. Normally, city officials, elected officers and the press are the only ones present.

The occasional citizen's complaint that the matter had been decided before formal action had been taken and then rubber-stamped in the open meeting no longer is valid.

And no longer can the cocktail commando sit back and say his ideas would never be heard because the matter is decided before it gets into the open.

We don't wish to make too much of a thing that perhaps has been informally agreed upon for years, but we commend the City and the Commission on its forthright action.

We further feel that it is incumbent on us to respect the wish of the City in confidential matters—particularly in matters that are pending and might fall through if given too early and too sketchy press coverage. But the more information we have, the better job we can do.

And both the City and the Plymouth Mail owe it to the people in the Plymouth Community to do that job.

DECLARING SYMPHONY WEEK in The Plymouth Community are new Township supervisor John McEwen and new City mayor James Houk. Also present at the signing were Sam Hudson, general chairman of the Symphony's membership drive and Robert Sincock, ex-mayor and chairman of the family membership committee. Houk took the opportunity to present a check to Sincock as the first patron membership for this year. The membership drive, an annual early May event, is seeking a record $15,000 for the Symphony.

LETTERS:

No plans for real estate office

Dear Editor: I very much appreciate the fine coverage you have given to the programs of the Plymouth Assembly for Equal Opportunity. However, I fear the report of our meeting of Tuesday, April 20th, was a little misleading on two rather key points. I'd appreciate your publishing this letter in order to correct them.

First, we met last Tuesday with members of the Fitzgerald Community Council in order to hear of the experiences as their community became racially integrated.

It happens that they found it necessary to set up their own non-profit real estate office in order to prevent their community from becoming a ghetto. We were most interested to hear this, but we did not come to be told how to set up a real estate office.

We have no such plans. Second, the thing that finally convinced this Council that they had to set up a real estate office was not that local dealers were refusing to show to Negroes, but rather that they were refusing to show to whites after Negroes had moved into a neighborhood.

LET ME ADD that we have yet to hear of a bona fide complaint of discrimination by real estate dealers in Plymouth. Moreover, I have every hope and expectation that there never will be any, or any cause for such. It may be that at some future time the Assembly will set up a listing service.

If and when it does, it won't be to bypass real estate dealers, but only to get open market sellers and buyers together. Real estate dealers will be invited to take part in it, and prospective sales will be referred to dealers for consummation.

I write this letter to reassure friends and members of the Assembly that there is no thought of setting up a real estate office, nor would there be unless events make it absolutely necessary as appears to have happened in Fitzgerald. The newspaper article left room for doubt on this.

Thanks again for the excellent coverage.

Don't want a change

Dear Editor: I am sure that Mr. Hudson has the welfare of the Plymouth Community at heart, and is motivated by the best of intentions in his attempt to draw Plymouth and Plymouth Township together.

However, there is one thing that everyone, including the Mail, seems to overlook — and that is, most of the people of the township are happy with the present situation.

We don't want a change. We have a good, honest government; an excellent fire department; a fine water supply; and reasonable taxes. What more could one ask?

THE VERY FACT that the Plymouth Heights charter has been turned down twice by about a twenty-to-one margin would indicate that we do not want to incorporate or be incorporated.

The Mail is certainly doing no one a service by kicking this problem around. The best thing they could do would be to drop it.

Very truly yours,
Charles E. Childs

New books at Dunning-Hough

Among the new books at Dunning-Hough Library are the following, according to Mrs. Warren Worth, librarian.

"An Age of Fiction" by Frederick Karl is a survey-critique of the nineteenth century British novel, useful to the advanced student as well as the beginner.

"How I lost 36,000 Pounds" is written by Melvin Anchell, a physician who has helped many patients in weight reduction.

"Junior Mechanics Handbook," edited by Garry Winter, explains and illustrates many projects involving science, mechanics and electricity.

"Renoir" by William Gaunt contains a brief biography of the artist and 50 full color reproductions of his works.

"Jim Clark at the Wheel" is the world motor racing champion's story told in his own words.

"Guide to Fun in Michigan," published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, contains lists of camping areas, state parks, ski hills and canoe trails, in addition to maps and guides of many places of interest.

"All About Parks for Mobile Homes and Trailers" tells how to find suitable parks and how to select and buy lots for mobile homes.

"A New Testament History; the Story of the Emerging Church" by Floyd Filson is a study of the origin and growth of the Christian Church.

"Fighting the Flying Circus" by Edward Rickensacker is an account of true World War I air adventures.

SET CONCERT
The Guild of Music is giving its eighth and final concert of the season on Wednesday, May 12 at 8:15 p.m. at the Michigan Conservatory of Music, 14700 Puritan at Marlowe.

PLEDGES SORORITY

Former Plymouthite Scharlene Stofko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stofko of Edina, Minn. has pledged Alpha Phi sorority at St. Cloud State College. A 1963 graduate of Plymouth High School, Miss Stofko is a sophomore at St. Cloud majoring in elementary education.

Gallimore sets fair

A fun fair is being planned at Gallimore School for Friday, May 7 from 3:30 until 8 p.m. Featuring all kinds of games complete with prizes, spook house and bake sale, cotton candy, popcorn and hot dogs will be sold.

An old family recipe for "Sugar n' Spice Cookies" was suggested this week by Mrs. John Sowers, 14462 Oxford Rd.

The Sowers have lived in Plymouth for six years, moving here from the east. They have two daughters, Ann, five-years-old, and Barbara, three.

They are treasurers of the First Presbyterian Church's couples club and Mrs. Sowers added she helps with Sunday School classes for the one and two-year-old children.

Reading all kinds of books and knitting are her hobbies. Now, she is knitting sweaters for her daughter's dolls.

The cookie recipe is one, she said, that she learned to make from her mother, before she was married. It was a favorite in her home, and now it is well-liked by her daughters. Mrs. Sowers' added Ann helps her make them by dipping the cookies in powdered sugar after they have been baked.

She described the cookie as being crisp, explaining that they become crisp after they have been cooled.

"SUGAR N' SPICE COOKIES"

- 3/4 C. soft shortening
- 1 C. sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/4 C. molasses
- 2 C. flour
- 2 tsp. soda
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 3/4 tsp. cloves
- 3/4 tsp. ginger

Mix together shortening, sugar, egg and molasses. Stir in flour, soda, salt, cinnamon, cloves and ginger and mix thoroughly. Drop onto greased cookie sheet by heaping teaspoon.

Bake eight to ten minutes in 375 degree oven.

Dip in powdered sugar while still warm.

Tennis team wins three

Plymouth's tennis team roared back from two defeats before spring vacation to win three in a row last week, giving them two wins and one loss in league play for the season.

The Rocks lost to Ann Arbor and Trenton two weeks ago, dropping both matches by a 4-3 score.

This week was different as Plymouth edged Ypsilanti Central 4-3 and white-washed league for Bentley and Allen Park by 5-1 and 6-1 scores respectively. It was a busy week for the tennis team, that has had several matches postponed and rescheduled due to an unusually late spring.

NEW ASSISTANT tennis coach Claude Wilbanks and top junior high singles prospect Bob Stover are two of the reasons why Jim Stevens tennis teams may be even better in years to come. This is the first year he has had help in the junior high program, which normally sees about 50 boys out for practice. Wilbanks, a junior high teacher, played tennis in college with Stevens, was a top collegiate wrestler, and ranks as a good candidate for the wrestling coaches job, if and when it comes up.

They have two matches this week. In the singles, Dave Tidwell beat Jim Walton of Central 6-2, 6-1; Robin Wideman topped Wes Ichesco 3-6, 6-1, 6-4. Gary Fuelling lost to Bill Crane 7-6, 3-6. Tom Chandler lost to Rufus Stewart 3-6, 5-7.

In the doubles action against Central, Bob Waters and Rick Jones won in three sets, over Dave Larson and Chuck Stribley, 6-0, 4-6, 6-4.

JIM BRUFF and Clark Raven also won, whipping Bob Issacson and Al Deal 6-1, 6-0. Steve Hulce and Jay Reynolds lost to Phil Wells and Chris Dobin 6-2, 2-6, 4-6.

Against Bentley, Tidwell won 6-2, 6-1. Wideman lost 1-6, 2-6. Tim Wernette won 3-6, 9-7 and Bill Wolfe was called before completed. Each had won a set.

In the doubles with Bentley, Hulce and Fuelling, Bruff and Raven, and Waters and Jones all won handily.

At Allen Park Friday, Waters and Jones were the lone Plymouth losers in a 6-1 trouncing of the down river school.

Tidwell topped Jim Smith 6-3, 6-2. Wideman edged Tom Smith 6-4, 7-5. Wernette beat Jim Shipola 6-4, 6-1, and Chandler won over Larry Sears 7-5, 6-3.

In the doubles Waters and Jones lost to Ken Snodgrass and Ron Nelson 7-9, 7-9 in closely fought sets.

Bruff and Raven won easily 6-1, 6-2 over Gary Bosanich and Jerry Lawrence. Hulce and Fuelling shut out Glen Suchs and Greg Schultz 6-0, 6-0.

JV thinclads crush AP

Dick Bearup, reserve trackman, won one and lost one this last week—both by lopsided scores.

Belleville reserves topped them 69-30, but the JV Rocks clobbered Allen Park 73-39 Thursday to redeem themselves.

The scoring at Belleville went this way:

Bill Nelson won a first place in the 220 yd. run with a :25.2 time.

In the 440 yd. run, Dave Allen took a third.

Keith Siegert and Peter Ackerman won a second and a third respectively in the 880 with 2:18.1 and 2:19.4.

Fred Godwin won a second in the mile run.

In the low hurdle event, Ron Pennington won a second. Bob Myers grabbed a third in the high hurdles.

Plymouth showed its best in the 880 yd. run with a team of Pennington, Tim Sager, Gary Kelly and Nelson winning a first place.

Sager took a first in the high jump with a 5'2" jump. Plymouth's Nueman tied a Belleville entry for second.

Jeff Gustafsen went 8'6" to grab a second in the pole vault. The shot put event went to Gary Gidecomb. Bill Gabel won a third for Plymouth.

Siegert went 16'6 3/4" to take a third in the broad jump.

In Plymouth victory over Allen Park, Gidecomb took a third in the shot put, Ron Pennington a second in the broad jump, and Tim Sager tied for a second in the high jump. The pole vault event was a forfeit for Plymouth as Allen Park had no entry.

The Rocks won the 880 with the same team that won at Belleville, and then swept the mile event with Joe Smith, Godwin and Tom Swartz finishing one, two, three.

It was the same story in the high hurdle event with one, two, three finish for Bob Myers, Pennington and Mike Zamboras.

The 440 went to Dave Allen of Plymouth.

Nelson won the 100 yd. event with a 11.2 mark.

Siegert and Ackerman went one, two in the 880 with 2:19.6 and 2:19.8 times.

Lake to play football for Tampa Unit.

Jim Lake will play football at the University of Tampa in Tampa, Fla., this fall on a four-year athletic scholarship.

Harvey Reilich, who lives in Plymouth Township, is responsible for recruiting Lake. Reilich, a graduate of the University of Tampa, does recruiting for them in this area.

"It is primarily a football scholarship," Reilich said. "We're in need of ends."

Reilich also called Lake a "pretty good basketball player" and indicated he might even be used in that capacity.

One more possibility was mentioned for Lake—that of a position on the Tampa crew team as a rower.

Reilich called the PHS senior a "real asset" to the community.

LAKE WAS apparently deciding between two schools, the U of M and Tampa. He decided on Tampa and will report in mid-August for football practice. A B-plus student, he will have some stiff competition for a starting position according to Reilich. But freshmen can play ball at the school, so there is a chance.

The school is a non-profit, private, non-affiliated school. They are not in a league, but play schools of the stature of Mississippi State, Northern Michigan and Buffalo.

Lake played football, basketball, track and baseball for Plymouth. Currently, he is playing for coach Brian Boring's baseball team.

He had played baseball in his sophomore year, switched to track in his junior year to help his football speed, then returned to baseball this season.

Jim Lake, one of the best of this year's crop of PHS graduating senior athletes, waits his turn at the plate in last Thursday's game with Allen Park

Golfers drop two openers

John Sandmann's winter rusty golf team lost their opening match to Trenton Thursday, 172-168.

Medalist honors went to Sandy Frederico, who shot a 40 for the nine holes at Braeburn.

"We expect to do better," Sandmann said after the match. He has been plagued by a lack of decent days for green practice, having only been out a handful of times.

Shooting went like this: Dave Wall 41, Jeff Griswold 43, Bob FeCall 43, Chuck Ames 45.

In a quadrangle match at Brighton Saturday, Plymouth came out on the bottom of the heap. Captain Dave Wall shot an 80 for the 18-hole course, and was low for Plymouth.

Dearborn won the match; scoring went: Dearborn 309, Jackson St. Johns 321, Brighton 338, Plymouth 344.

Trackmen topple Trenton

Pat Brady catches a deep breath of air as he hurls the shot in his final try against Trenton last week. Brady took a second in the shot put event.

The Sporting Life Three bring honor to Plymouth sports

Doug Johnson

Three Plymouth athletes did themselves proud off the PHS playing fields last week.

Dick Gretzinger swam in the YMCA National Swimming championships in New Jersey, winning a first in the 200 yd. medley, a third in the medley relay, and a fifth in the 100 yd. freestyle.

He swam with the Huntington YMCA team. Huntington is in Indiana and is where the Gretzingers lived before coming to Plymouth.

Dick will be a June graduate of Michigan State University with a degree in physical education.

What else? * * *

Bob Steele, a sophomore at MSU and ex-PHS track star, won a second place in the 330 yd. intermediate hurdles Saturday against Ohio State behind crack hurdler Gene Washington of MSU. Steele, along with Washington, Clinton Jones and Fred McKoy make up probable the best team of hurdlers in the nation. They have won four titles this year, including the Drake Relays championship, which they ran only four-tenths of a second off the NCCA record.

In a column written by Hal Bateman of the Lansing State Journal, Spartan track coach Fran Dittrich was quoted as saying:

"He didn't really develop until last year." Dittrich noted that Steele had been a 'sleeper', but was still number two hurdler behind Washington. Washington set other records Saturday including a meet, field and school record in the intermediate hurdles. Both Washington and Steele have many hours of MSU track ahead of them.

Jim Lake, PHS senior and cage and grid star, will get a chance to play college ball on what has been reported as a full-ride athletic scholarship to Tampa. Lake deserves the break, and will be another collegiate standout like Steele and Gretzinger.

Plymouth teams have been holding their own in sports despite the late start. But John Sandmann finally got his team on the golf course last week for a match and lost by four strokes. He shouldn't complain, though, because there has been only about a week of decent weather since winter, or whatever it was, ended.

A Yogi Berra story is always in order, and I heard one the other day. It seems Yogi was discussing teammate Mickey Mantle, and was saying: "He can hit as good right-handed as he can left-handed. He's naturally amphibious."

Oh, Well. * * *

The circus will be in town May 12 and I urge any boy hoping to run away with it to pack his blue jeans and peanut butter sandwiches early. The need for Toby Tylers has rapidly diminished, unfortunately, and there is little left that is adventurous for a young and care-worn lad.

There's got to be something to that running away from it all; floating down the Mississippi; running away with the circus; Becoming a forest ranger.

Nowadays, you can bring adventure into Johnny's back yard with a Super-seven combination sten gun, tank gun, rocket launcher, and torpedo rifle made by the toy firms. Nothing is left to the imagination, and you are given a book on karate, and map reading and camouflage. You can grab your super-seven equalizer and foray forth in search of the enemy.

The enemy? No imagination, and no place to run away to, even in your mind.

The Rocks topped league foe Trenton 59-50 last week in a track meet that saw Dan Johnson win two firsts and two seconds to lead the way. It was the second victory in as many meets.

Johnson took first places in the broad jump and the 120 yd. low hurdles, and seconds in the high jump and 180 yd. high hurdles. This is the way scoring went:

Johnson leaped 19'10 1/2" to win the broad jump. Plymouth's Reiss took a second.

Johnson posted the one victory in the high jump with his second place. Grant Fischer went 10'6" to take the pole vault event, with Plymouth's Bill Clyde taking a third.

Pat Brady grabbed a second in the shot put.

In the 880 yd. relay, last year's school record-setting team of Bob Kane, Dave Jordan, Garry Grady and Dennis Tonkovich won with a 1:37.2 time. That was about four seconds off last year's pace of 1:33.2, which set the school record.

Frank Dorset took a third in the mile event.

Johnson won the first place in the high hurdles with a :15.3 time, with Fischer netting a third place.

Dave Bukema won the 880 event with a 2:05.1 mark.

DAVE DIRLAM was the best of the meet in the 440-turning a 54.1 time, a fourth-tenths of a second improvement over his performance against Belleville. Garry Grady took a second in the 440.

Kane went :10.6 to win the 100 yd. event; he went :10.9 in the same event two weeks ago at Belleville.

Johnson and Fischer took a second and third in the 186 yd high hurdles.

Kane won again in the 220, going :23.2 for a second place.

The mile relay went to Trenton.

A meet was held Tuesday night of this week with Bentley, there. Results will be in next week's Plymouth Mail.

light ceremony April 17 in the bride's home at 1300 Linden. The Rev. Arnold H. Kehrl performed the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a classically styled floor-length gown of mousseline de soie combined with peau d'ange lace frosted with seed pearls. The fitted bodice, appliqued with the lace, was designed with petal scalloped decolletage and long traditionally tapered lace sleeves. The bouffant skirt was adorned with peau d'ange flowers and a dramatic back accent was created with an all lace chapel length Watteau train, topped with a Dior bow. A filigree crown of seed pearls and aurora crystals inlaid with lace held the bride's tiered veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of one white orchid circled with white roses.

Maid of honor was Sally Phillips of Plymouth. She wore a gown of mint green crystaletta over satin with a matching headpiece and carried a crescent bouquet of yellow roses.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Joseph E. Lang of Chicago, Ill.

The couple will reside at 1453 Sheldon Road.

Plymouth edges Allen Park 4-3; bows to Trenton in 10-9 hitfest

Plymouth nipped Allen Park's baseball team 4-3 Thursday despite a big third inning for the Park.

The victory left Plymouth with a 1-1 mark in league play, and with a 2-1 mark overall. Earlier in the season, Plymouth beat Northville. They lost to Trenton in a close one, 10-9 Tuesday.

Dave Troutman got the win, giving up four hits and three runs, all in the Park's big third inning.

Jim Lake doubled in the second frame, and pitcher John Daniel, playing in the outfield for this game, drove in Lake with a single.

In the fourth, the Rocks scored on two walks and a single by Ron Gotro.

In the fifth, Plymouth got two runs on four walks and a Ron White single. The second run scored on an infield grounder.

Allen Park put in a relief, but it was too late.

Back in the third it was all Allen Park as they unloaded a triple that carried over Daniel's head in right field, a single, another triple and another single, scoring three runs.

It was the second loss for Allen Park.

Without the walks by the Park, it would have been a different ball game as Plymouth still needed more power at the plate.

Plymouth lost 10-9 last Tuesday in a wild hitfest that wasn't decided until the last inning.

It was anything but a pitchers duel as hits were scattered all over the field. It was Trenton's game until the fifth inning, but after that it was anybody's guess.

Trenton uncapped 2 runs in the first, three runs in the third, and four runs in the sixth. The runs in the first came on a homer with one on.

Trenton's runs in the third came from a triple, a double and a single. In the sixth, it was a double and four singles.

Then it hit. With two out, nobody on, Plymouth scored eight runs on all sorts of hits and walks. Here's the way it went:

After two walks, Terry Cosgrove singled, driving in two runs. Then Ron White was hit by a pitch, another man was walked and the bases were loaded.

At this point Jim Lake reached out and sent one deep for a triple, driving in three runs. Then Curt Irish doubled, driving in Lake. Then Jim Arnold doubled, driving in Irish.

JV nine nips the Park 6-5

Plymouth's JV baseballers whipped Allen Park last Thursday, but lost earlier in the week 6-5 to Trenton.

Dave Prochazha led the hitting attack in the Allen Park game as Dave Nunez was credited with the win. Nunez hurt his finger in the third inning and was pulled. Jack Robinson finished the game.

Prochazha hit three for four, all singles, netting one rbi and "looked good" in the words of JV coach Paul Cummings.

The Park's three runs were unearned.

Pat Williams went two for four for the Rocks, and Dan Camp doubled with the bases loaded.

Plymouth's runs came on four RBIs in the fourth, and two in the seventh. The Rocks scored four runs in the sixth, two in the seventh.

Against Trenton, Dave Neoffer was the losing Plymouth pitcher, with John Adams and Dave Eisenlord getting the big Plymouth hits.

Trenton scored one in the first, two in the fifth, and three in the sixth. Plymouth scored three in the third, which left a 3-3 standoff which stood until the sixth. Then Trenton got a homer with two on, sending in three runs. Plymouth countered with two more in the sixth, but it wasn't enough.

Bye bye candlesticks

Candlestick Park has been the unofficial name of the PHS football field but that will be all changed next fall after this summer's installation of a more modern lighting system. School officials traveled to Northville to view their four pole system and were reported impressed. They proceeded after the visit two weeks ago to seek plans from the architect.

The new lights will rest behind the bleachers; the old ones will come out. Cost is estimated at $20,000. Rotary Foundation is paying $5000 of that cost, the school the rest. Work is expected to be started and completed this summer.

That was all for then. In the seventh the Rocks tied it up at 9-9 when Irish singled and Arnold stroked a triple, driving in Irish. It was 9-9 at this point and all pitchers were tired. In the Trenton half of the seventh, Bob Eldridge stepped to the plate and blasted a homer for the winning run.

Plymouth's ace hurlers, Troutman and Daniels, were both tapped rather badly—Troutman for five runs and five hits, Danieles for four runs and six hits.

HERALD OF CHRIST awards were presented to Jerry and Larry Warnemuende recently by Joseph Caughlin (left) founder of the Christian Service Brigade. Elgin Green, the representative of the Brigade for this area was also present. Jerry and Larry were the first twins ever to receive the awards. The Brigade in Plymouth meets at the Calvary Baptist Church, and is an organization that trains boys for leadership in church and business. The twins are varsity letter winners in track and football at PHS.

A mother's thoughts
Atomic bombs darken our skies... radioactive fallout threatens unborn generations... there is strife, unrest, even war in many parts of the world! How can we face the future with confidence when humanity stands at the very brink of destruction?
There is only one way: to be courageous and steadfast, and trust in the wisdom and mercy of God!
This little girl, my own daughter, does not know what troubles my heart. She is not afraid of tomorrow... not yet! Through the Church she will learn the ways of the Lord and how to live a truly Christian life. Through prayer may God help me set an example for my daughter... teaching me to put my trust, yes, my very life into His hands, no matter what the future might have in store for us!

 a telegram read to them from Congressman Weston E. Vivian announcing that the City had been granted $13,285 for continued comprehensive planning. The money involved recertification, which means Plymouth remains eligible for several kinds of federal assistance, including monies for master planning and urban renewal.

DON LIGHTFOOT'S vegetable stand on 1208 was declared in violation of City ordinances and ordered torn down.

The proposed new ordinance to regulate drive-ins was passed, and declared an emergency ordinance. It is expected that the ordinance will go into effect next week after legal publication.

Acting City manager Kenneth Fischer presented a report on the Urban renewal project, but Commissioner Vallier asked for more information, especially as to the projects new tax base.

The Commission also heard a citizens complaint about a stagnant pool of water behind Parkview Drive in Garling Sub. No. 2. Superintendent of Public Works Joe Bida was asked to order it sprayed, and a report was sought on steps to take to have it drained.

In other action, the City approved the American Legion Memorial Day parade, and the sale of Optimist club tickets on the streets of Plymouth.

Considerable discussion took place over various maintenance contracts the City has, and a possible com-the scene, according to assistant police chief Loren Johnson.

County officials issued warnings to teens about the 11:30 curfew in the Park and said that the "nonsense was not going to be tolerated. It could have developed into something big."

A sign was discovered in the high school last week announcing the fight and was taken down by school officials. They called the sheriff on April 30, the day before, telling them of the sign.

The police blocked off the park, and rounded up some of the teens, who were on foot and in cars.

The event apparently is some sort of annual affair. One Plymouth teen told the Mail that "it happens every year about this time."

There were no official reports of injuries.

Africa and me

Wedded bliss and a home for my African chicken

Lon Dickerson

What does a city boy do when someone gives him a live chicken? This was the problem I faced recently when a paramount chief gave me a rooster. The presentation was made on a trip up-country after I had been out of Freetown for one day.

The simplest solution would have been to eat it then and there. But I decided to take it back to town with me and raise him. So for the next nine days he rode in the back of the bookmobile and caused some commotion when teachers entered to select books. Then the day we returned home the shelves inside the mobile unit tipped over dumping several hundred books on top of him.

When I happened to look inside, he was nowhere to be seen. Finally after several futile attempts I heard a faint cackle and located him.

Upon returning to Freetown I kept him tied up for a few days so he would become familiar with his new surroundings. In the meantime I searched the library for books on poultry keeping. The ones I found went into great detail on how to keep them warm by using light bulbs at night, how to build a chicken house so the snow wouldn't collapse the roof, and other items which were just as useful for this hot tropical climate.

A couple of days later I turned the rooster loose in our yard only to discover he kept running next door. My houseboy suggested the only way to keep him at home would be to buy a wife for him. Since the chief who gave him to me was polygynous, I decided the rooster wouldn't be happy with just one wife. So I went to the market and bought two hens for him. Thereafter he stayed at home and appeared to be very grateful. He is so elated now, in fact, that he crows continuously from dawn to dusk.

A cardboard box inside our empty garage didn't appeal to me as a permanent house for chickens, though, no matter how happy they appeared to be. Once again my houseboy came to the rescue and volunteered to construct an African style chicken coop.

After selecting sticks from a nearby field, palm branches, grass and old chicken wire he started to build. It wasn't long before it was finished.

The house has a grass roof and palm branches cover the chicken wire on the sides. It is raised on stilts about two feet above the ground. And stick ladders are located at the doors on two sides. The doors even have hinges and can be bolted at night. In short, it was a house any chicken would be proud to call his own.

But not my chickens. They had grown used to their cardboard shack and refused to move. Then one day it went up in flames. After that they moved into the new house. Uncooked rice, corn kernels, and table scraps soon had them looking healthy. We began to eagerly look forward to a daily supply of fresh eggs. Sure enough within a brightening nearly every yard in the community. In addition to the commonly seen deep yellow Forsythia with its upright branching form with long sweeping branches that arch into a veritable fountain of bloom. Lynwood Gold is a relatively new variety that is upright in form and has large golden yellow flowers. Spring Glory is another new variety that has masses of lovely pale yellow flowers.

FLORERING QUINCE or Cydonia are the most brilliant of the early blooming shrubs. Colors include coral, and crimson as well as pure white. There are dwarf forms that remain under three feet in height and tall forms that reach eight feet. They are beautiful in the garden and they are easy to force into bloom indoors and are especially lovely in Japanese-type arrangements.

Daphne cneorum, the garden flower, is a lovely little shrub with evergreen foliage and sweet scented pink flowers that open very early in Spring. It forms a low spreading mound and is good as an edging plant.

Mahonia is another evergreen with conspicuous Spring flowers. It has clusters of bright yellow blossoms that are followed by blue berries that resemble wild grapes. Because of the fruit and the holly-like leaves this shrub is known as Oregon grape holly.

MANY OF THE EARLY blooming shrubs have delicately tinted flowers that add an airy charm to the Spring garden. Included among these are the pearl bush, arguta spirea, flowering almond, flowering cherries, flowering peach, crab apples, viburnum Carlesii, heaths, and pussy willow.

The gardener who includes some of these shrubs in his landscape plan will bring the wonder and beauty of Springtime into his own yard. Low growing forms can be included in the foundation planting close to the house. Tall forms can serve as an informal hedge or as a background for other plants.

2 out of 3 professional turfmen use Agrico. Do they know something about grass feeding you should know?

Most of the Agrico we sell goes to professional turfmen—landscape gardeners, golf course superintendents, nurserymen. Even sod growers.

These professionals rely on Agrico for one reason: it consistently gives them superior results. Do you have to be a "pro" to get professional results on your lawn? Definitely not. Agrico Grass Food is as easy to use as any fertilizer.

1. Agrico Grass Food contains a special combination of nutrients that actually enriches your soil. These nutrients build strong roots and produce hardy grass.

2. Ordinary fertilizers help make grass green for a while. But Agrico, with 60% organic nitrogen content, helps keep grass green all season.

3. Agrico's formula gives you more total plant foods per bag to build soil fertility over a longer period of time. $4.95 bag nourishes 5300 sq. ft. Now you know what the professionals know. For a thick, green lawn, use Agrico Grass Food—the fertilizer that enriches your soil as it greens your grass. There's an Agrico Garden Dealer near you.

Illuminate For homeowners planning to illuminate gardens, patios and terraces, a new product of interest is a low-voltage outdoor lighting system developed by AMF Wen-Mac Corporation.

The system eliminates the need for an underground conduit installation, and results for less than 70 dollars. It includes six self-contained sealed-beam units with interchangeable lenses in varied colors — pink, blue, amber, green and clear. The units clip onto a 100-foot cable like Christmas tree lights.

FREE HOME DEMONSTRATION NEW AUTOMATIC UNDERGROUND SPRINKLER SYSTEM!
See it work... on your actual water pressure

Just give us a call and we'll be out to show you the newest work ever for the home.

It's Tom's new Moist-O-Matic, the first automatic underground sprinkler system practical for every homeowner.

Everything you need to sprinkle is even as easy as 2, 3 or 4 comes in a package. Fits at just 1/2 inch.

It's so easy to install you can do it yourself in a weekend. Or, if you prefer, we'll have it installed for you at low cost. (Ask for a free estimate.)

Operation is completely automatic. The Moist-O-Matic control center works like a clock radio, turning sprinklers on and off at preset times, even while you sleep.

Moist-O-Matic not only saves work, but builds a beautiful lawn at the same time. Sprinklers apply just the amount of water that can be absorbed by the soil.

Call today for a free demonstration. We'll show you on your lawn all the advantages of Moist-O-Matic. Tom's new low-cost automatic underground sprinkler system. No obligation, of course.

Diagram shows use of various plants for landscaping

A typical landscape plan for an average home property consists of plant arrangements for beauty, flowers, shade and year-round color. A healthful garden living area is included.

The large circles illustrate trees — shade trees near the terrace or garden living area, evergreen trees at rear corners. The planting near the driveway and front door is known as the foundation planting. It presents a colorful, green appearance 12 months of the year.

The garden living area in the rear is attractively planted with trees and shrubs to provide colorful flowers at various seasons, such as dogwood, rosebushes, piers, Pyracantha, which has brilliant orange or red berries in the fall, Hydrangea, Viburnum and other shrubs.

To obtain the best plant and tree selections for your area the American Association of Nurserymen advises you contact an established nurseryman.

Pool need filter

Someday, fully-automatic swimming pools will clean themselves.

Until that happy day, the single most important aspect of maintenance for pool owners will be keeping the water pure through proper filtration. Fortunately, today's filters operate with ease and economy. Many modern filters are more compact than their predecessors, won't rust or corrode, and can be cleaned and backwashed more easily. Periods between cleanings have been lengthened.

There are two basic types of water filters — sand and diatomite. Although both types are effective, the more compact diatomite units, the type used in most pools, offer greater efficiency in less space.

Proper maintenance of filters involves cleaning every three to ten days. The interval between cleanings can be lengthened by proper care of pool with frequent vacuuming and skimming (either by hand or with automatic skimmer.) Careful control of algae will also cut operating costs. Clogging of diatomite filters can be prevented by proper pre-coating with diatomite filter aid.

Filters should be run so that the pool-water is completely filtered every 18 to 24 hours. Before the swim season starts, pool owners should check filtration equipment in accordance with the manufacturer's manual. When filling the pool, the filter can be put into operation as soon as the water level reaches the filter intake pipe. A complete filtration of the water in a newly filled or winter stagnant pool may take up to a full day.

Three Cities Art Club to sponsor public lecture

Are you interested in art, design, pottery or photography? Would you like to have a new view of nature? A blade of grass, a stone, a drop of water, in fact, all things in nature contain elements of design that have served as inspiration for artists.

Tuesday evening, May 11 at 8 p.m., the Three Cities Art Club will sponsor a free public program in the Northville High School room C. "Photography - A Potter's Point of View" will be a lecture and slide program presented by John Loree. His slides show abstractions in nature, and he will also bring some slides of his pots, showing how ideas from nature are incorporated into art and design.

Loree received his masters degree from Alfred University, Alfred, N.Y. He is presently with the Art Department at Eastern Michigan University; his special field is ceramics, but he also teaches classes in art and design.

Loree's work has been exhibited at the Detroit Artists' Market and the Forsythe and Lantieri galleries in Ann Arbor.

Consumers to expand

A formidable expansion program, involving expenditures of almost $400,000 for every working day for the next five years, was announced Monday by Robert P. Briggs, Executive Vice President of Consumers Power Company, a regional meeting of shareholders in Royal Oak.

Briggs said a substantial portion of this expansion would occur in the Company's South Oakland, West Wayne, Macomb and Pontiac Divisions. He recalled that Macomb County alone, is expected to show a population increase of 65 per cent in the decade from 1960 to 1970, while an increase of 31 per cent is forecast for Oakland in the same period. The suburban portion of Wayne County also is continuing a record rate of growth.

Demands for natural gas have increased so rapidly in these four divisions, Mr. Briggs said, that Consumers Power will have to spend approximately $19 million this year, alone, in expanding services in its South Oakland, West Wayne, Macomb and Pontiac Divisions.

In all, said Mr. Briggs, Consumers Power expects to invest at least $500 million in the five-year period 1965-1969 to meet anticipated demands for electricity and natural gas in 66 of the 88 counties of Michigan's lower peninsula. Consumers Power now serves 668,000 customers with gas, and 932,000 customers with electricity, a total of 1,600,000 customers.

Last year, the Company spent $71,500,000 to expand its facilities, and in 1965 the total will be about $100,000,000.

Mr. Briggs said Consumers Power's long-range construction program includes plans for another large electric generating unit. Tentatively scheduled for service in 1970, this unit probably will be twice the size of the largest Consumers Power generating unit now operating in Michigan.

Laundry list leads to new offset press

A laundry list printed on a stone with a greasy crayon back in the 1790's started the modern printing process that is responsible for the new look of your Plymouth Mail.

Today it's called offset but it is all part of the printing process known as lithography that was born in 1797 when a little old German printer and drama buff Aloys Senefelder jotted down a laundry list with a greasy substance similar to a crayon on a smooth flat polished stone surface.

Later, when water was spilled over the stone, he noticed that the greasy writing repelled the moisture. From this discovery he worked out a method of printing from a flat face by making ink adhere to the non-moistened places on a stone. The ink was then transferred to paper by pressing it against the stone - a form of DIRECT lithography. Modern methods have proven OFFSET lithography to be a better process.

This little drama out of the analogs of the early industrial revolution started a new printing process that is just now coming into its own. Current and lives famous nineteenth century art works were reprinted with lithography. Today one of the best color magazines printed anywhere is printed on an offset press - the Arizona Highways magazine.

Delivery by carriers is new to Mail

The Plymouth Mail's big change over was made to satisfy Plymouth residents desire for late-breaking news at their doorsteps.

The carriers are hired and supervised by a full time circulation manager. He personally counted every home in The Plymouth Community and laid out routes for 42 carriers.

The boys deliver all the paid subscriptions plus a free FULL-COVERAGE section on their routes. The free section is a part of our paper, and goes into every home in Plymouth, either as part of a paid subscription, or as a free section to those people who have not as yet decided to take the paper.

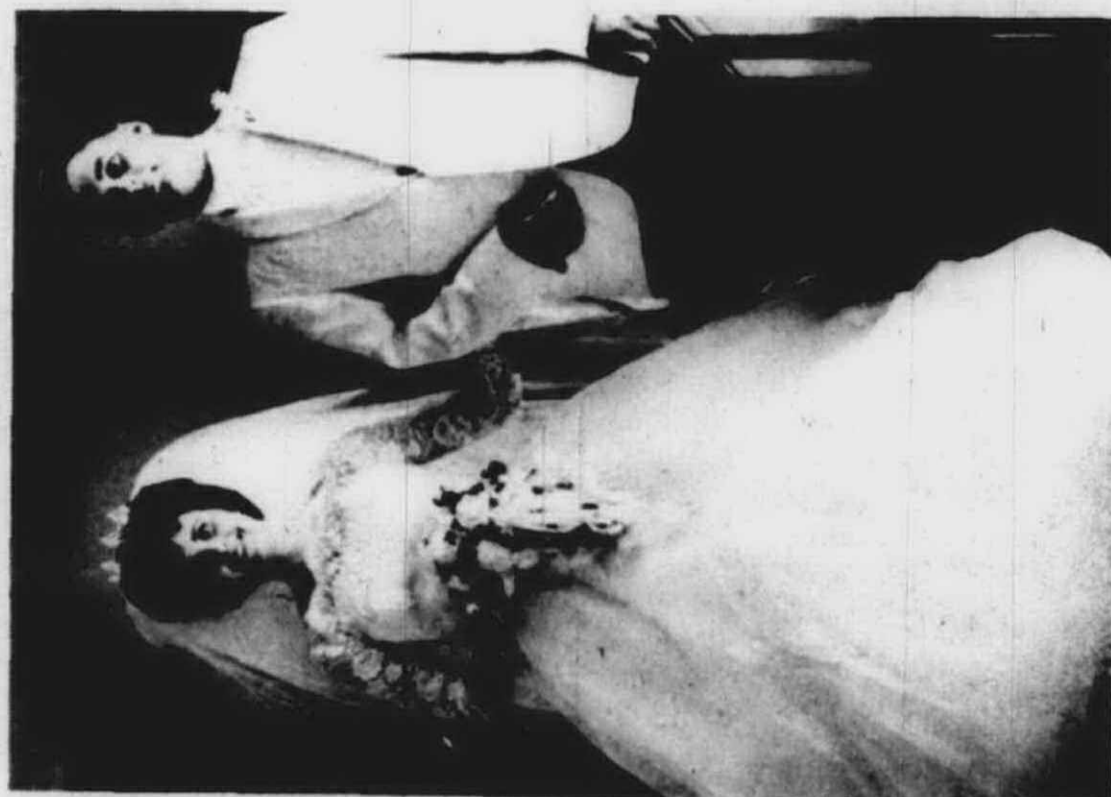

The bulk of the paper is still on a paid circulation basis, based upon the conception that people will read carefully what they wish to pay for, but will discard quickly what is haphazardly shoved through their door free every so often.

Unlike other free distribution plans, our free, TOTAL-COVERAGE section goes into every week. The carriers did not go into an area and make a guess as to how many homes they needed papers for. The home count was taken step by step and guaranteed by our TOTAL-COVERAGE.

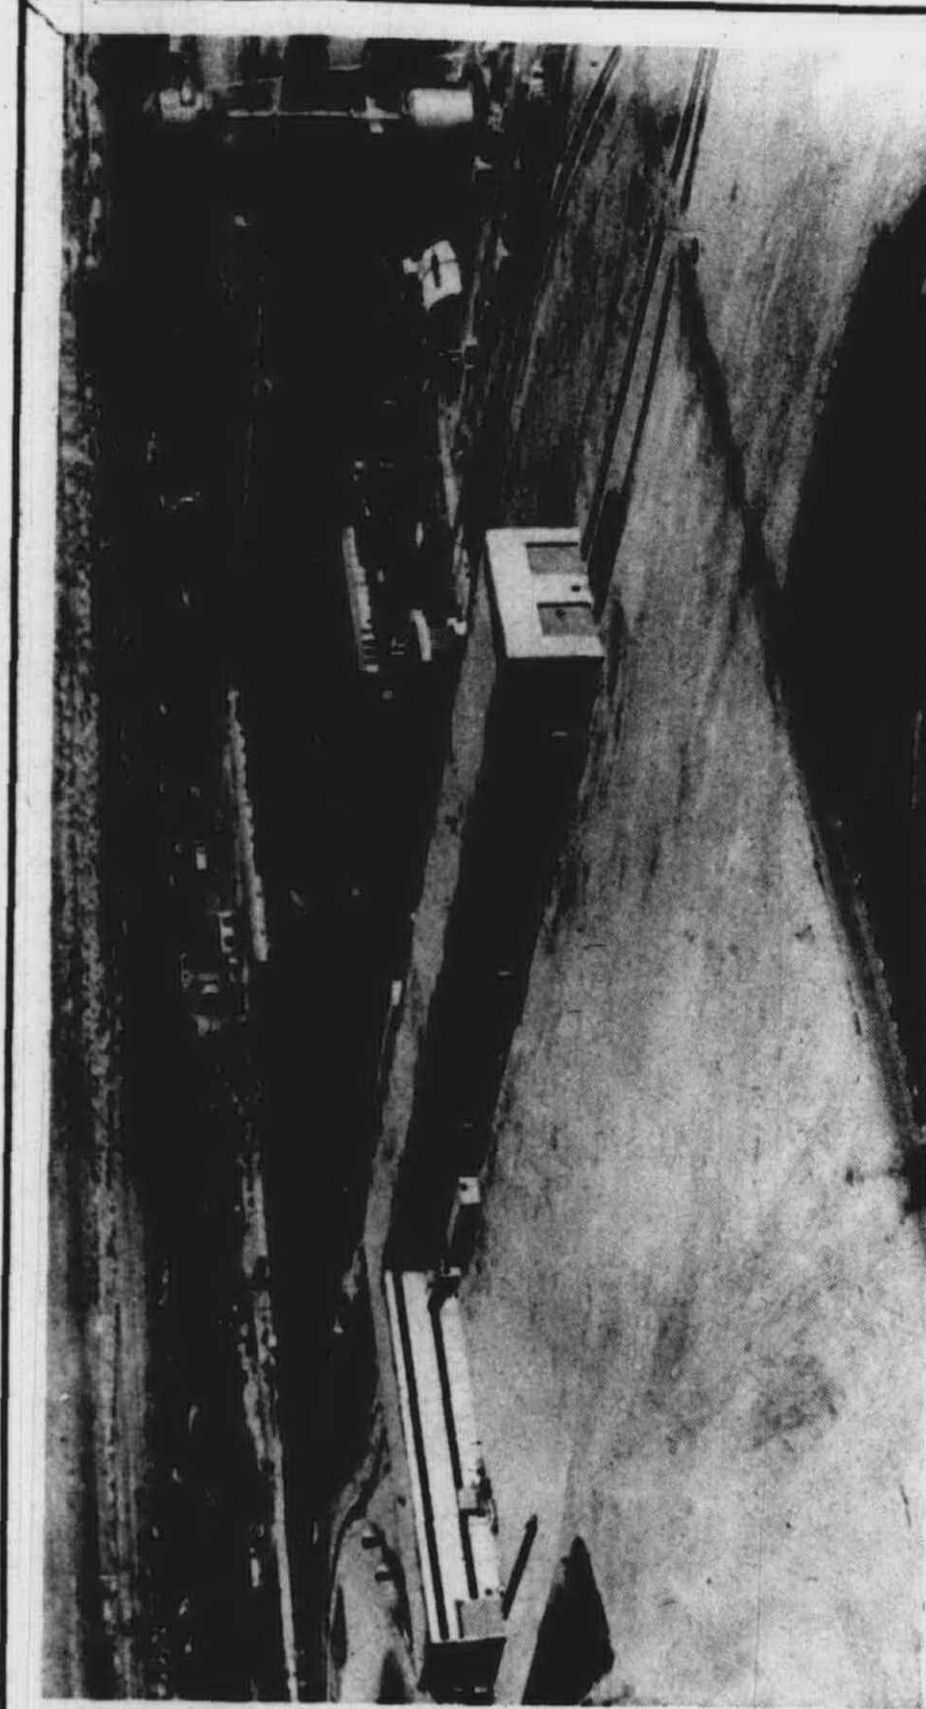

Advertisers who place ads in the TOTAL-COVERAGE SECTION can count on reaching all our paid subscribers, plus everyone in the community who doesn't take the paper. In other words, the advertiser's message is guaranteed to get into every home in Plymouth.

The old way handset lead type

heavy forms

The old way went out the window a few weeks back when we traded our hot type, old press and heavy lead forms for glue, scissors and photography. The pictures at the right explain some of the basics of the old process. Type, heads and spacing material were all lead metal and assembled each week in page forms as shown at the top photo. The forms were lifted on to the press as the picture at the left shows, and printed on the old flatbed shown below. The process was harder, slower and brought poorer results than the new offset process. We have retained the hot type linotype machines to set body copy, but we use pasted up reproduction proofs of the type. The basic principles of letterpress are no longer used.

old flatbed press

A new process

What does it mean for a newspaper to be offset? Take a look at this week's Mail and an issue from four weeks ago. In last month's issue the picture quality is poor in some instances. Some pages have too much ink, some too little. The paper looks dirty, and ink rubs off on your hand from the pages.

Try that with the new offset Plymouth Mail. No ink. No dirty hands. And the pictures are as clear as the original photographs. Every detail remains, and is not lost in plate making processes.

And we're using a modern technology... more modern than the big city dailies. They, and most of the country's papers, use machines and a method perfected before the turn of the century. It was time for a change, and we made it.

The result, particularly as our newly trained pressmen get used to their press, will be a sharper, cleaner, brighter paper. Other advantages include brilliant four color process that is available to our advertisers and the ability to copy for the paper anything that can be photographed.

Page composition is easier, too. Gone are clumsy and heavy foundry types, metal forms and fittings. It has all been replaced with glue pots, scissors and make-up tables like an artist would use.

Here's how offset process works: Body type in our plant is set the old way—with linotype machines, which use hot lead and a letter mold. The lead cools, instantly, like jello, in the shape of the letter molds cast in a line.

Proofs are taken of the type set, corrected, and taken again on glossy paper. These are cut out in column width and are ready to go.

Headlines are set on our headliner, a photographic machine that shoots light through stencil-like lettering guide. The letters are on a big plastic disc that fits on the machine. The light goes through these letters as the wheel is turned by the operator, and exposes photo paper in the headliner. The machine then develops them on bright white paper.

At this point, both heads and body copy are ready for the make-up artist. Ads are put together in the same way, using both the headliner, and proofs of linotype lines. Pictures and art work are added to the ads from a cutout book to make them more eye-appealing.

The make-up artist uses a light table to guide his work. He cuts and pastes all the items that will make up a page on a white layout sheet. This gives us a paste-up—a composite of body type, headlines and ads. Pictures are added after they have been specially screened in our darkroom. The screening breaks the picture into fine dots. Each dot will hold so much ink when reproduced on the printing plate. The variances in ink give the black, white and gray tones to the pictures.

With all ads, headlines, body copy and pictures in place, the page is hurried over to the Inter-City, the new printing corporation formed by the Mail's publisher Russell S. Strickland, and William Sliger, owner of the Northville, South Lyon and Novi papers, and Robert Silbar, owner of the Fenton Independent and Fenton Adventure.

At the Inter-City Press location the page paste-ups are photographed with a huge camera. It produces, after development, a negative the exact size of our newspaper pages.

The negative is placed on a flat metal plate, a light turned on and the plate exposed. That plate is what your paper is printed from. It is pre-sensitized, flexible. Unlike the other two major printing processes, gravure and letterpress, there is no raised surface. It works, instead, on a grease-and-water-don't-mix principle. The darker the areas of the plate, the more ink they will soak up and the less water from the water trays of the press.

In letterpress, paper is pressed against a raised type surface that has been inked. In gravure, ink is drawn out of etched holes in a plate like a vacuum. The holes have been filled with ink and wiped clean by an ink leveler.

Madonna College newspaper gets highest rating

National recognition was received recently by the "Madonna Herald," student publication of the Madonna College Journalism class. An All-American rating, given by the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP), was presented to the paper by this year's judge R. E. Koback. The purpose of ACP, a critical evaluation organization, is to meet the needs of college publications by suggesting improvements, giving advice and constructive criticism. Judges use a standard guide book to note weaknesses, measure achievements and suggest improvements. The Madonna newspaper was judged in competition with other colleges in the United States and Canada having similar enrollment and frequency of publication. Five to 15 per cent of all colleges judged receive the All-American rating indicating superior work. Previously the Madonna newspaper won All-American recognition seven years ago and has consistently received first honors and excellent ratings since 1958.

Co-editors of the newspaper are Dianne Johnson and Betty Satawa. Other staff members are seniors Virginia Chapman and Anita Roggenbuck; Junior Sister M. Kaeri, CSSF; sophomores Dianne DeGrande, Noreen Haggerty, Sandra Shackelford and Laura Champagne and freshmen Sue Schachiner and Maureen Fox. The newspaper is printed by the Plymouth Mail.

City officials, Monday night, took another step in the direction of obtaining a downtown municipal parking lot for the city of Plymouth when they met with the major property owners of the area to the rear of the business places on Penningman avenue and Main street.

As recognition of his 15 years of service, W.C. Smith, of South Harvey street, spent last week as a guest of the W.T. Rawleigh company, at Freeport, Illinois. President-elect Glenn M. Others from Plymouth attending were Mr. and Mrs. William Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Eaton, Charles H. Bennett and Russell Daane. William Rambo, manager out at the Plymouth country club, located on North Territory Rd., announces that the golf course is in fine shape and has been opened to the public.

Over 200 ladies were present at the annual Methodist birthday luncheon held Wednesday. Mrs. Fred Thomas, general chairman was assisted by Mrs. Kenyon, Mrs. Penhale, Mrs. Arthur Blunk, Mrs. Harry Mummy, Harry Manna Blunk, Mrs. Harry Terry, Mrs. S. S. Yesterday afternoon the roof on the kitchen of the house occupied by Charles Morgan was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was turned in and the fire department responded promptly, but their services were not needed, as the fire was extinguished with a few pails of water.

Model UN shows what teens can do

Last April 23, 24, and 25, a group of world leaders met in the Memorial Building at the University of Detroit. Actually, a "future" should be inserted before "world leaders." Every year about this time the U. of D. sponsors a program that attracts hundreds of young people in the Detroit area.

They come in the form of delegations representing each country that belongs to the United Nations. The program is called MUN, or Mock United Nations. I say they are future world leaders because these are the people, the competent, young diplomats of today, who are taking an active interest in the world problems confronting us.

Watching them work, listening to them speak, pondering their ideas, should leave little wonder in the viewer's mind what kind of hands the United States, and much of the world, I hope, may be in some day.

Young hands, to be sure, but ready, willing, and highly skilled in the arts and crafts of world politics.

There were five major crises confronting the General Assembly when it convened on April 23. They ran from the question of renunciation of arms in territorial disputes, to the territorial sovereignty over natural resources, to the problems in Southern Rhodesia. If you're an adult and you find these issues new and slightly confusing you're in the majority.

For, as a whole, adults seem rather ignorant to all problems confronting the UN. Add a few figures to the final number at the end of their tax sheet.

The above are the identical problems confronting the UN in New York, and they had to be dealt with the same prestige, exactness, courtesy, and effectiveness that must be accorded them in New York.

The new way artist light tables

There is no raised surface in lithography, or as it is called when used our way, offset. The image from the plate is transferred to a rubber blanket roller, and then to paper. The paper is thus one step away from the plate, and hence 'offset' from the plate.

The ink continues to adhere to the darker surfaces as special chemicals keep dark parts of the plate ink away from white spaces.

It sounds complicated, but is actually fairly simple and amounts to one of the greatest advances in newspaper technology since the turn of the century.

New press at Inter-City prints your Plymouth Mail

The highspeed press and large camera that is used to bring your paper to you with its new look is located on Grand River Avenue just west of Novi.

The Inter-City Press, Inc., was formed by three publishers to make such a purchase would have been prohibitive. Russell S. Strickland, owner and publisher of the Plymouth Mail, and The Faxington Enterprise, joined with William Slier, publisher of the Northville Record, the Novi News, and the South Lyon Herald and Robert Silbar, publisher of the Fenton Independent and the Fenton Ad-Venture to form the company.

That allows us to cover late Tuesday news in time to get it to your doorsteps early Wednesday afternoon.

THE PRESS can print four colors at one time, one color on each side of the four units. The press, one of the best made, prints your Plymouth Mail every Tuesday and Wednesday. Back sections are printed on Tuesday. Front page and last section are printed mid-morning on Wednesday.

The press allows us to cover late Tuesday news in time to get it to your doorsteps early Wednesday afternoon.

cold type on paper

The new way uses an artist's light table for pasting up pictures, headlines and body copy. Everything is kept clean, and the completed paste-up is photographed at our printing plant at the Inter-City Press Co. at Novi. At the right, cold type headlines are set on a Headliner. The headline is sent through a drier (like you would black in a letter with ink and a stencil) and prints it on photographic paper. The paper is developed and comes out as you can see, ready to be pasted up. A circular lettering guide is used as a stencil. Below is the new high speed press. When this picture was taken it was running, but the camera 'stopped' the motion of the newspaper through the rollers. The press can print up to 20,000 papers in an hour.

THERE ARE five delegates from each country, each delegate specializing in one topic. Most of Friday evening and Saturday morning are spent in individual committee meetings. Here resolutions, bills introduced by one country or a group of countries in an attempt to solve the problem before the committee, are placed on the floor for viewing by the other nations on that committee.

Amendments are submitted, a vote is called for and taken, and if the resolution passes in committee it is then taken to the floor of the General Assembly. Each step is painfully accurate in making the process as exact as the one in the United Nations.

If a resolution is fortunate enough to ever reach the Assembly it must go under further intensive scrutiny by a great many more delegates, and the process is activated again. The bill is introduced on the Secretary General's rostrum and is brought to the floor.

Debate is held on it, more amendments, more approvals, more votes.

Once in a while a bill slips through.

But many people say, "You're all Americans. You act like Americans. You're bound to have the same ideas on most things." These are the unthinking blocs of flesh who love to go along with the crowd and, if you don't happen so, then you're "un-American." What they're trying to do is take away the process of thinking for one trying as hard as one can to see the other guy's view.

But it must not be taken away. This is what makes for better understanding among individuals and philosophies, this is what makes for a prosperous, peaceful world. And so these delegates delve into the terrific task of not only finding what their country's stand on an issue is, but why they take this stand and hold the general philosophy they do.

In this way, taking the stand of the country they represent and arguing for it, they come to find out that the American way of life, ideals, morals, and philosophies, maybe aren't so perfect after all, and that there are many other interests in this world to look out for other than the United States. In the end they may still disagree, but at least now they know what the other side is, what it stands for, and how to fight it.

IT'S TOO BAD that only teen news sense to be bad news; only the sensational, eye-catching headlines about some rape or robbery. If a teen pulled a knife on a teacher or it would make every paper, but if a teen pulled a teacher from a lake, little fuss would be made, few newspapers would carry the story.

Lico, have knocked teens more than once, and I'll do it again, but when accomplishments of this stature happen consistently they must not go unheralded.

There are MUNs all over the United States. Just as successful as the U of D's, with the same competent, able young men and women working diligently to solve world problems against seemingly impossible odds.

Adults may worry and get ulcers over what the world will be tomorrow, but the minds of today's youth are the minds that can lead this world to peace and prosperity tomorrow.

Like a flower in spring, our own community newspaper has blossomed out . . .

When the Plymouth Mail appeared in its new offset, spring dress, people were pleased and surprised.

"How sharp the pictures are," they said.

"The type is easier to read too."

"And the color, it's breathtaking!"

As the people talked, they noticed other things. They saw that the new banner on the front page is at once colonial and vibrant - in keeping with the flavor of The Plymouth Community.

And the catchline says,

"Where The Plymouth Community Comes First."

This is important, they said. -Having our own community newspaper that puts us first.

That means a lot.

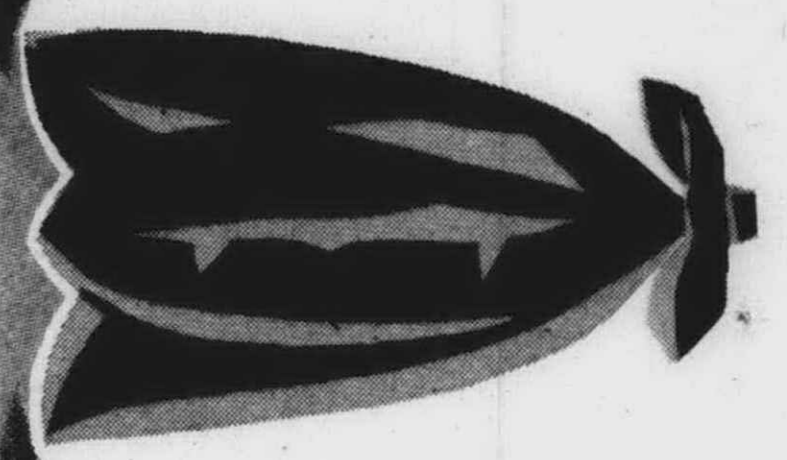

It will help us maintain the atmosphere that makes Plymouth such a wonderful place in which to live and work.

And because we are part of The Plymouth Community, we wanted to join the people in expressing our happiness with the new Plymouth Mail.

We think the improvement makes our newspaper even more of a credit to The Plymouth Community. In short . . .
