

What to do when bees bug you

What do you do when your wife goes out in the back yard to hang up clothes and discovers a swarm of bees in a cluster as big as a basketball?

That's the quandary that Donald C. Zander of 41825 River Oaks found himself in last week when he got an excited phone call at Fisher's Shoes which he manages for Plymouth's Mayor James C. Houk.

Zander made a hurried series of calls himself and ended up talking to officials at Plymouth Township Hall.

Yes, they said, there is a man who knows what to do. His name is James C. Alderman and he lives at 43558 Shearer Drive.

Alderman was finally located at Jerry's Marathon Service in Plymouth, where he works, and he agreed to help Zander out of his predicament.

The two men drove to Alderman's house, picked up a hive and took it to Zander's. There, the soft-spoken, 40-year-old bee keeper donned a veil and sorted through the little insects searching for the queen bee.

When he found it and directed into the hive, the other bees began to follow.

Alderman told Zander that swarms sometimes occur when a queen is banished from a hive. Normally, he said, the queen bee kills all newly hatched females in an effort to forestall competition.

OCCASIONALLY, however, the queen misses a young female and she grows up to be bigger and stronger than the older insect. A clash results and the queen, because she is older and weaker, usually gets the short end of it.

So she packs up and leaves, taking a bunch of the boys with her.

Hence, the swarm in Zander's tree.

Contacted by telephone, Alderman said it's highly unusual for a swarm to show up in town.

"They could have come from anywhere," he said in a quiet southern drawl.

Alderman has 285 "stands" or hives of bees at his home. He sells the honey in its natural state without the boiling process that many commercial organizations use.

"We sell it just like the bees make it," he noted.

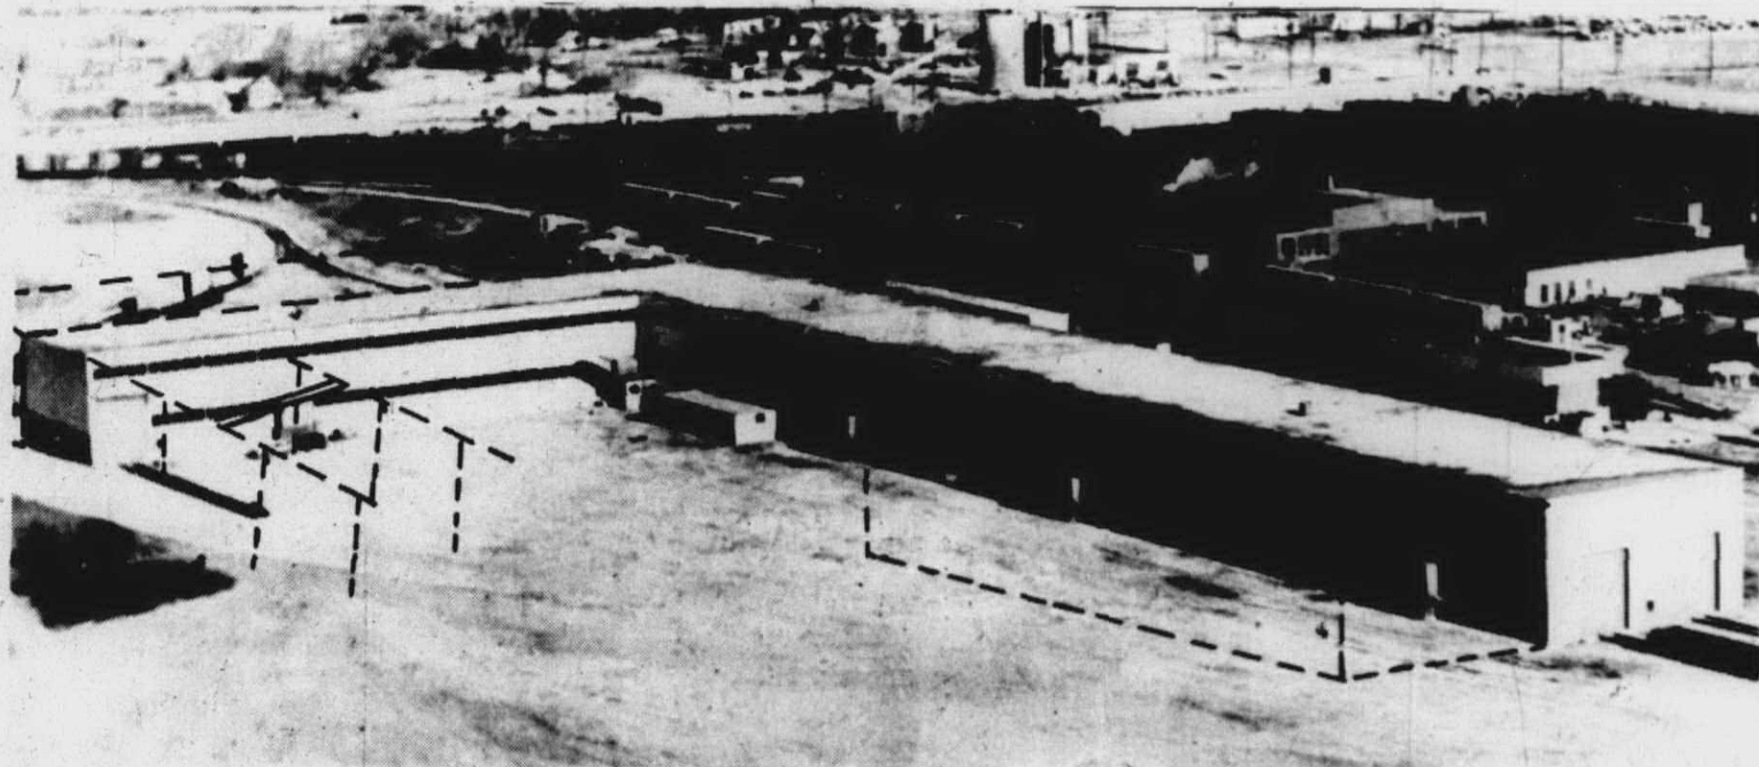

His interest in bees began when a swarm invaded his yard in West Virginia, he said. Alderman's father put the bees in a box and his son's interest hasn't lagged since.

BEES, according to Alderman, are peaceful little critters who won't mess with you if you don't bother them. He offered some advice for those who may find themselves in a situation similar to Zander's.

- Don't get excited.
- Let the bees settle.
- Call someone who knows what they're doing.

So if your wife heads out in the yard with a basket of wash some day and hears an ominous buzzing, tell her not to panic.

If she doesn't fell like sorting through the bees to find the queen, Jim Alderman will be happy to do it for her.

EVANS PRODUCTS announced this week a $1.5 million expansion of their boxcar fabricating plant. The dotted lines indicate where the additional 50,000 square feet of space will be built. The addition will mean 50 more jobs, mostly for welders.

Evans adds $1.5 million building

Evans new venture in railroad boxcar assembly is booming and this week the company announced a $1,500,000 expansion program.

The expansion will include an addition of a car fabrication bay to the carbuilding plant, according to company officials.

Evans Products Plymouth Transportation Equipment Division is now employing about 1150 employees; the new facilities will add about 50 more jobs to the payroll, mostly skilled welders.

The contracts have not as yet been let.

The building addition will have about 50,000 square feet of space, and considerable new equipment and material handling machinery.

The assembling of boxcars was started by Evans last summer when they broke ground in June for a building which was completed in September.

ACCORDING TO Sam Hudson, public relations spokesman for Evans:

"This is kind of a new venture for us, and has presumably been quite successful because we are expanding."

James J. Conway, the Division's vice president and general manager, said Evans' railway carbuilding facility completed at Plymouth only last September is already outstripping its capacity.

He said the expansion program will increase both the production and product capabilities of the facility.

New buildings include a fabrication wing, a rail car truck assembly shop enabling the Division to assemble its own trucks, and a new grit blast facility to prepare cars for painting. The new buildings are expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The program also includes an investment in material handling and service equipment, new engineering facilities, and additional production machinery and equipment.

Conway said the Division's engineering facilities are being expanded to provide for additional experimental research and development activities, and for more engineering space needed because of increased work load and personnel.

IN ADDITION TO manufacturing railroad freight cars, Evans Transportation Equipment Division is the leading producer of rail and truck damage prevention equipment, and a manufacturer of a variety of automotive equipment and material handling and shipping containers.

Record first half sales and earnings were announced by Evans Products Company.

Net earnings were $3,291,000, up 40 per cent from $2,342,000 earned in the first half of 1964. Sales for the period rose to $101,967,000, 19 per cent above the $85,647,000 recorded in the first half of 1964.

After providing for preferred dividends in 1965, earnings per common share increased 32 per cent to $1.93, based on 1,603,301 shares outstanding on June 30, 1965. Earnings per share for the first half of 1964 were $1.46, adjusted to reflect the four per cent stock dividend paid in March, 1965.

Monford A. Orloff, Chairman, noted that the outlook for the balance of the year continues to be "most favorable" for Evans Products. Order files and sales, particularly in the Transportation Equipment Division, continue at record highs.

Orloff revealed that the Board of Directors has authorized a major addition to Evans Products' railroad car building facility at Plymouth, Michigan, constructed last year, which will substantially increase its capability as well as

Shoots neighbor after feud

A neighborhood feud in Canton Township erupted into violence Tuesday afternoon according to Sheriff's department when Mrs. Carol Lilley, 8425 N. Haggerty was shot in the stomach by her neighbor Mrs. Carolyn Boyles, 21.

According to Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol officers, the woman was shot with a .22 automatic in the stomach, was removed to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, and was undergoing surgery late Tuesday afternoon.

Her condition was termed serious.

Board splits over Garber

The Plymouth Township Board split over the appointment of Trustee Ralph Garber as their man on the planning commission last Tuesday.

The vote in favor of the appointment was 4-3. Supervisor McEwen cast the tie-breaking vote at this, the regular meeting of the Board.

At the June meeting of the Township Board, McEwen had named Garber to replace C. V. Sparks on the planning commission. Sparks could not serve because of his appointment as Township Clerk.

In June, the Board had refused to confirm McEwen's appointment, and moved to table the item.

At Tuesday's meeting, McEwen said:

"I now request this item to be removed from the table and the appointment be considered."

Trustees Dick Lauterbach, Louis Norman and Gene Overholt were opposed to the appointment, all on grounds that it gave the western portion of the Township too much representation on the planning commission.

Lauterbach called for a roll call vote. Sparks, Garber, Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes and McEwen voted 'yes' on the appointment.

THE APPOINTMENT was approved, but Lauterbach called for statements for the record on all the 'no' votes. Lauterbach said:

"I am opposed to this appointment. It gives inequitable township representation on the planning commission. The commission already has seven members west of Sheldon Road. I deem this very inequitable representation and strongly believe there should be more representation from other areas."

Norman commented on his 'no' vote, and said: "I feel the same way. We should have more representation from the east."

Overholt agreed with Norman, and said:

"I think the same, due to the fact that I live in the eastern part of the Township. I do believe at one time the planning commission representation was more equal."

Lauterbach also said he would like to challenge Garber voting for his own appointment. Township attorney Earl Demel was not present to rule on the question.

In an interview Thursday, McEwen commented on the Garber appointment, and said:

Festival pledges still short

The budget pledges and contributions for the Fall Festival have reached the half way point, according to Festival board member William Fehlig.

Fehlig also commented that he hoped all the money could be in by the end of July.

"We need a month to handle the Festival properly," he said. The Festival will begin September 9, and run until the 12th.

The budget is set at about $2700. In years past the drive for funds has been started later, and in some cases, not completed until after the Festival was over.

Of the 400 letters sent out seeking business, professional and industrial pledges, only about 30 have been returned. Fehlig said he hoped the contributions would be made as soon as possible.

The Festival will feature a German Night, a Melon and Ice Cream Social, a Pancake Festival, a Square Dance, a Chicken Barbeque and an Antique Mart.

THEY'VE GOT DEADLINE:

Lorenzes pitch in to restore old building

It was a proud day in Plymouth 40 years ago when, on Saturday, Oct. 31, 1925, hundreds of people turned out for the dedication of the sparkling new I.O.O.F. Temple on South Main St.

Thrombs toured the bright, cream colored Ketanning brick building and admired the vast 42 by 92 foot main lodge room on the second floor with its high ceiling and orchestra balcony.

And it's expected to be another proud day for a

Plymouth family next month when the huge hall is reopened as the Mayflower Meeting House.

The occasion? A daughter's wedding.

The family? The Ralph G. Lorenzes who have turned the refurbishing operation into a family project with participation virtually all members.

The older three of the five Lorenz boys — Staton, Kirk and Dick — have all pitched in to get the meeting house ready for their Sheila's wedding on Aug. 7. Even smaller brothers Scott, 9, and Randy, 7, have helped by swinging paint brushes.

Their father, Ralph, is operator of Plymouth's Mayflower Hotel and opening of the Mayflower Meeting House, the name of the Massachusetts colonists' first building, will see a longtime desire fulfilled.

Lorenz recently succeeded in acquiring the building and plans call for conversion of

Hough Park group raps police addition report

The handful of irate Hough Park citizens who two weeks ago complained to the City Commission about high speed driving in their areas left just as mad last Monday night as they heard a report read to them that was supposed to be current, but was written in November of last year.

Dean Manley, 1260 Linden, commenting on the report, and took the floor, reading from a copy of a report he had from former City manager Al Glassford.

"This is a verbatim report except for five lines. Does this represent an actual report with these minor changes made?"

Commissioner Arch Valler said: "None of us are satisfied. This is a rehashing."

William Fronk, 1231 Linden, also was dissatisfied with the report on police protection:

"We came away two weeks ago expecting a study of the problem, and this is what we get — a letter that was written in 1964. I'm not content to pay the taxes I pay when we are promised a report and this is all we get from the City."

THE CITY Commission had asked for a report two weeks ago on police protection after hearing from several citizens seeking a beefing up of the police department. They complained of several instances of high speed driving on residential streets.

The Commission listened to the report read, and then ordered Acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher to bring in a more detailed study of police protection, including officer scheduling.

The report from Loren Johnson, assistant police chief, recommended four additional police officers, and read, in part:

"First, I would like to state that with the number of employees we presently have in the Police Department, it has become exceedingly difficult each year to provide the police service a community this size should be afforded. One thing to be considered is the population growth versus the growth of police personnel.

"In 1951 we hired an additional police officer, making a total of 11, and since that time, we have added two part-time people to work at the communications desk, so we do not have to use police officers for relief on the desk. During this period of time, the population has increased by approximately three thousand persons."

"Also, during this period of time, there has been an increase in criminal and non-criminal complaints, doors to check and community activities. For example, during the night hours when we receive most of our complaints on reckless driving on Main Street, around the drive-in restaurants, and in residential areas, we only have one car on the road to cover the complete City, and one call, such as a family trouble call or an accident, can take this patrol car off the street from 15 to 30 minutes.

"During the night hours of 10:30 p.m. to 2:30 a.m., when we have two cars on the road, we have to check doors of the business places and this takes two and one-half hours to complete.

"At the present time, we

The Cubs and Indians will play in the World Series of the Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League this week, as expected. Games are scheduled for Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The Indians clinched the American league title last week with two big wins, a 10-3 trouncing of the White Sox, and a 22-1 whitewash of the Orioles.

The Cubs also won three big ones in the National.

Here are the scores: In the American, July 13, Yankees 8, Red Sox 6; Orioles 11, Tigers 4.

The 11-4 win was the first for the hapless Orioles.

On July 15, scores were Yankees 8, White Sox 5; Red Sox 11, Tigers 0.

Saturday's games were rained out as a afternoon showers made the diamonds useless.

Over in the National, on the 13th, the second place Dodgers topped the Red Legs 8-5, the Cubs edged the Giants 6-5, and the Braves clobbered the Pirates 17-5.

Later in the week, the Cubs topped the Braves 6-0, the Pirates beat the Red Legs

7-3, and the Dodgers won over the Giants 17-6.

On Saturday, before the rains came, the Pirates lost to the Dodgers 12-4, the Cubs topped the Red Legs 4-1 and the Giants beat the Braves 12-8.

Recreation leagues in final weeks

The Plymouth Optimists lost to Northville last week, 7-5, as their opponents scored 7 runs in the second inning, too many for Northville to be overtaken.

Ron Boyne pitched, then Jackie Robertson relieved him. Nunez came in after the disastrous second inning and kept them scoreless the rest of the way.

Thursday, the Optimists tied Inkster 4-4, with Robertson pitching. Jim Arnold and John Adams got big hits for Plymouth, with Adams clouting a triple.

The Optimists have two more regular season games, and three postponed games to be played. They will play the league-leading N. Redford team the last game of the season.

The Elks are still deep in the cellar, and lost 6-0 to N. Dearborn Heights Thursday, as Russel Wade of Dearborn pitched his third win of the season.

In the Class 'E' recreation league, run by Plymouth High School, Novi General Filters is leading the pack after two victories last week.

Not enthusiastic about vote in own favor

It doesn't take much introspection to conclude that the 4-3 vote of Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees last Tuesday evening points up misgivings on the part of some board members about naming Ralph Garber to the Township Planning Commission.

Garber was recommended by Supervisor John D. McEwen over a month ago to replace C. Veach Sparks who was elevated to Township Clerk when McEwen became Supervisor.

At last Tuesday evening's meeting, things went like this:

(1) Trustees voted unanimously to remove the matter of the planning commission from the table where they had placed it a month before.

(2) Clerk Sparks moved that Garber be appointed.

(3) Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes seconded the motion.

(4) Trustee Richard Lauterbach of the township's Lake Pointe Subdivision called for a roll call vote.

(5) Lauterbach cast a negative vote, Mrs. Holmes and Sparks voted yes, and Trustees Louis Norman and Gene Overholt voted no.

(6) Then Garber voted on his own appointment, casting an affirmative vote and deadlocking the issue at 3-3.

(7) Supervisor McEwen, who votes only in case of a tie, voted yes — assuring Garber of the post.

Lauterbach, Norman and Overholt made statements indicating that they felt the nine-man planning commission was already top-heavy with representation from the western portion of the township. Therefore, they argued, the appointee should come from the eastern part of the governmental unit.

Others close to township affairs have speculated on the appointment. Some have said they felt McEwen was settling a political debt. But the Supervisor told The Plymouth Mail he chose Garber simply because he was outstandingly qualified.

Still others have attempted to draw inferential parallels between Garber's land holdings in Western Plymouth Township and installation of sewer and water which will open the area to development, the inference being that Garber will use the position to further his personal interests.

Again, going back to the supervisor, he heatedly told this newspaper he didn't care one whit what people said about political implications or other insinuations.

"I have known Mr. Garber for a long time," he commented, "and I have nothing but respect for him and his integrity."

Last week in a telephone conversation, Garber — with a note of shock in his voice — pooh poohed the rumors.

He explained that his holdings only amounted to his home, a 53-acre farm. And he said he had no plans to develop or subdivide his holdings.

"It's my home," he commented, "and I'm perfectly happy here with my horses."

"Of course," Garber said, he would abstain from voting on planning commission action that affected any of his interests.

This newspaper has watched Ralph Garber and his fellow trustees closely over the past few years. Never, at board meetings, with the possible exception of last Tuesday's vote on his own appointment, has Garber given any indication of self interest.

He has, on occasion, brought a note of calm and reason to heated sessions.

An assistant Wayne County prosecutor for many years, Garber is known as a skillful attorney and politician. His background and skill has been apparent at meetings of the board of trustees.

While we can't get terribly enthusiastic about Garber's Tuesday vote in his favor, based on his own reassurances, there is no reason to assume that he will act with less reason as a planning commissioner than he has shown as a trustee.

Short stuff from hither and yon. This might be a good week to apologize and attempt to atone for all the sins of omission and commission which have occurred here at The Plymouth Mail.

Local drug tycoon Robert Beyer achieved notoriety of sorts recently when a reproduced Beyer Rexall Drug advertisement got some play in "American Druggist," a trade journal.

I hasten to mention it because the ad appeared you-know-where.

That's a misstatement. I didn't exactly hasten to mention it because the magazine, which carries a May 10 date, got lost in the shuffle and I found it when I was shoveling my office out last week.

Justice of the Peace Lawrence Schendel of Plymouth Township called the other week to comment about a letter to the editor that appeared in The Mail.

His next door neighbor accused him of being the judge in question.

The guy next door can heave a sigh of relief because it wasn't Schendel. Neither was it Township Justice Martin Schomberger.

And I can heave a sigh of relief because I remembered to clarify the situation this week. I forgot to do it in last week's paper.

When the paper came out last week, I ran home and sat down to read a story that a Mail staffer wrote about how Alexander Hamilton Chairman of the Board E. Keith Owens parlayed $1,200 in debts into a million bucks.

I should have read it sooner. The last sentence said, "In any event, Alexander Hamilton remains a Plymouth monument to 100% gold-plated, deep pile rug success, and most of it belongs to be-speckled E. Keith Owens . . ."

No, Owens doesn't have measles. He wears glasses and is be-spectacled, not "be-speckled."

Publisher Robert Silbar of "The Fenton Independent," which prints on the same offset press as The Mail, hammered out a column recently about a man he knows who refuses to be tyrannized by the telephone.

If the stupid thing rings and he doesn't feel like answering it, he doesn't.

They tell me that Mayflower Hotel boss, Ralph Lorenz, is the same way. If Lorenz is talking to someone who took the trouble to come in personally and see him, he's apt not to let himself be interrupted by a jangling phone.

That takes fortitude. My wife accuses me of not answering when she calls the office to ask why I wasn't home for supper 15 minutes ago.

How could she think a thing like that?

Columnist James Reston noted that the western world lost one of the last of its articulate spokesmen when Adlai E. Stevenson died.

Reston grouped Stevenson with Churchill, Nehru, John F. Kennedy and others — the few men capable of adequately defining the goals and ideals of the free world.

I, for one, will miss the intellectual power of Stevenson. His public utterances were a delight to me.

Lyndon may be doing a good job of riding herd on The Great Ranch, but he's at a serious disadvantage when he vocalizes.

And Hubert Humphrey is very nearly as corny. I'll be glad when American political life outgrows its Homer and Jethro stage.

Maybe it was the threatening sky, or maybe everyone was on vacation, but Friday's community band concert could have been better attended.

The band is led by James Griffiths, the musicians donate their talents, the city donates Kellogg Park and the Plymouth Community Credit Union donates a wad of money to take care of expenses.

The concerts are each Friday evening at 8 p.m. The music is good, the grass is relatively soft, the little kids aren't too noisy and everyone has a good time.

Come on out next Friday.

Slow grinding wheels

The City Commission has held up issuance of taxi cab licenses for the City of Plymouth for several weeks, pending several reports.

First, the matter was brought before the Commission because the licenses were up for renewal. Commissioners asked that the two groups seeking new licenses appear before them and explain their respective causes.

Earlier, City Attorney Edward Draugelis had been asked to draft an ordinance guaranteeing better service. Taxi service had long been a thorn in the side of Commissioners and they wanted to end the complaints once and for all.

After hearing from the two people involved — James Berry, of Checker Cab Co. in Livonia, and John Florence, a local man — they decided they wanted reports on their police and traffic records. Public Safety Director and Acting City Manager Kenneth Fisher was commissioned to get the reports.

That was 24 days ago.

Then Monday night, the taxi people once again were before the Commission. This time, Commissioners want in writing exactly what type of service each cab group will give, including number of cars, and peak hour loads.

By the time the next meeting rolls around the Commission should be up to its eyeballs in reports on the taxi situation. To date they have:

A comment from Fisher that the licenses were due for renewal.

An ordinance drafted by Draugelis, which he later withdrew, thinking better of it.

A series of public utterances from both Florence and representatives of the Checker Cab Co. relative to the type of service they expect to give.

A verbal report from police chief Fisher that the two applicants are clean, "crimewise," if you'll pardon the non-word.

Another series of public utterances from the two cab groups, relative to the type of service they expect to give.

And then they will have another report at the next regular meeting on August 2. By then, 35 days will have passed since the matter first came before them.

Oh, the wheels of local government grind exceedingly slow.

We cite these facts, not because the taxi situation is a hot issue or a crying public need, but because it demonstrates how hamstrung a government can get by its own molasses-like movements.

Enough facts were at hand Monday night to grant both the companies licenses.

Reports are fine, but if every businessman that would like to get started in Plymouth had to go through 35 long days of reports to satisfy the City Commission that he hadn't run a stop sign since 1949, our growth would be at a standstill.

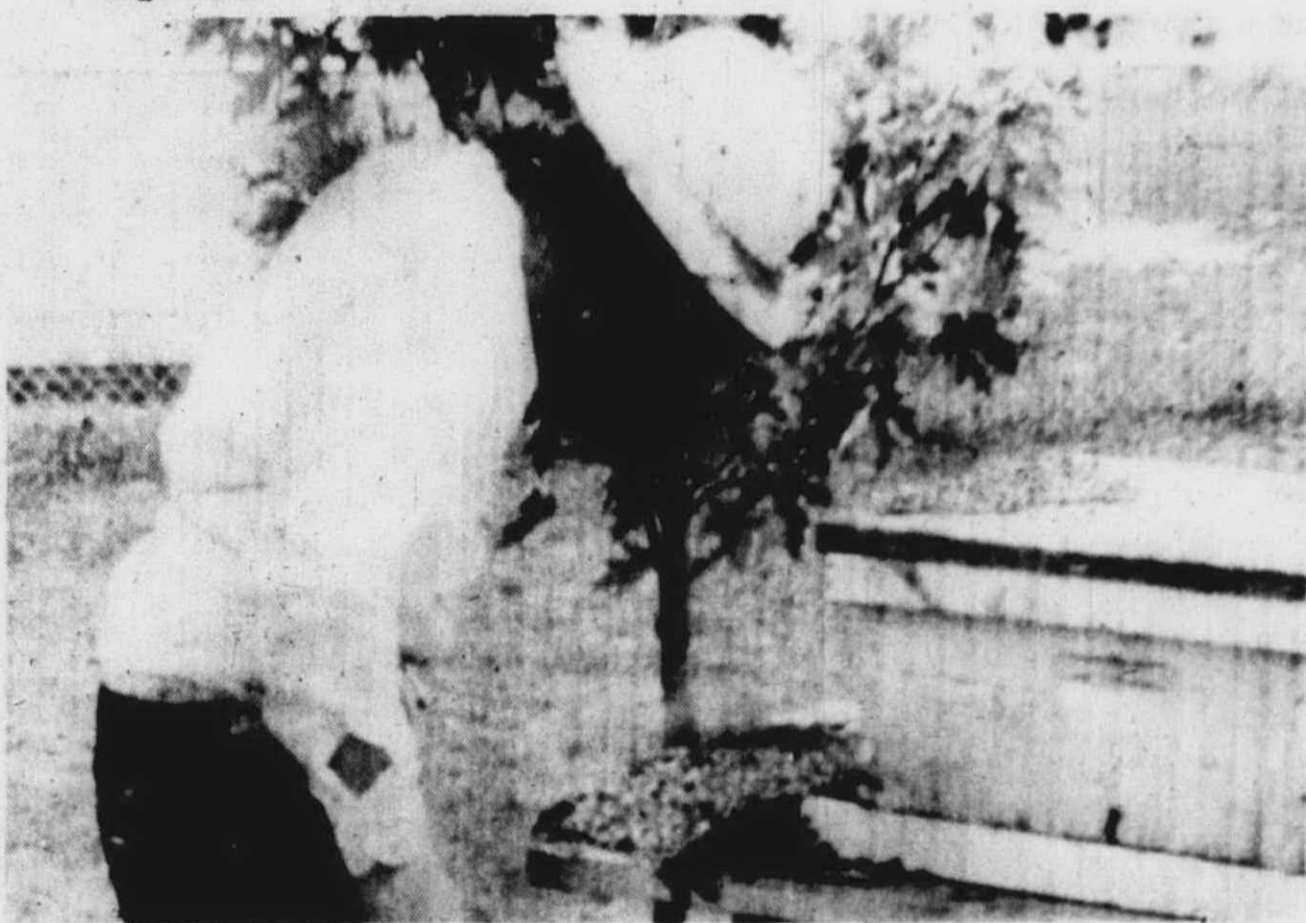

We feel the public trust has been exercised well in this situation, and the two cab groups be given a chance to operate on the streets of Plymouth. City Commissioners have gone overboard in their concern.

Restraint of trade is a nasty phrase, but that might well be what the Commission is moving toward when they brainpick individual businessmen.

Adults beer party ruins trashcan at playground

Dear Editor,
I live across the street from the Auburn Playground. I have lived here for a long time. I have also read all of the articles concerning Plymouth playgrounds.

If any vandalism was going on around here the "blind and deaf" parents and people would have called the police. However, the truth of the matter is that the equipment has just plain worn out. The picnic table was worn out after two years of faithful service as a backstop.

Where (I dare ask) was the backstop we have been promised? It's only been four to five years since you tore down the old one. We're still here; all of us haven't disappeared!

The trash can? Oh some "adults" used it for a beer party and after they returned it all dented up we crawled in and had our buddies push us around. It was more fun than the swings. They're old and Mom doesn't want me to swing high; the chains are almost worn through and might break besides there are only three swings and one of us would have to wait to swing.

Why can't they fix the things that break at our playground like they do at Hamilton by my Grandma's house.

I'm little but I still can't see where they get the time and money to make a big ugly sign when they can't even fix a baseball diamond that's used everyday. What good does a sign do? It's not preventing juvenile delinquency.

I'm still young, but when I get older I wouldn't want to live in a town that doesn't have any interest in helping out the kids even if all they have to do is chip in a few dollars, maybe the price of a carton of cigarettes for some play equipment.

And please don't tell me to go to another playground. My Mother doesn't let me cross busy streets.

MIXING UP HER "Crescent Rolls Coffee Cake" is Mrs. James Surratt of Palmer Ave. She describes the coffee cake as having a buttery taste.

The coffee cake recipe her family likes best, "Crescent Rolls Coffee Cake," is the one Mrs. James Surratt of Palmer Ave., suggested this week.

The Surratts have been Plymouth residents for less than one year, moving here from Toledo, Ohio in August. Before moving to Ohio they lived in Livonia, Mrs. Surratt said.

They have four daughters, Carol, ten, Linda, eight, Nancy, five, and Susy, two.

Mrs. Surratt said she likes to bake, particularly bread and coffee cakes, and listen to classical music. She is a member of a bridge club in Arbor-Croft subdivision and of a circle at the First Methodist Church.

The dominant flavor of the coffee cake, Mrs. Surratt described as buttery and she recommended using butter rather than margarine when making the coffee cake.

CRESCENT ROLLS COFFEE CAKE
(makes four coffee cakes)
1 C. warm milk
2 cakes or packages dry yeast
3 eggs, separated whites and yolks
4 C. all-purpose flour
4 Tbl. sugar
3/4 C. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1 C. soft butter
1 C. finely chopped pecans

Add yeast to the warm milk, stirring until it dissolves. Add three beaten egg yolks to the mixture (save egg whites for the next day) and set it aside.

Measure into a large mixing bowl: flour, salt, butter and sugar (4 Tbl.) and mix like a pie crust. Add milk mixture to this and stir well. Seal bowl with foil and refrigerate the mixture over night.

On the following day, beat the three egg whites until stiff, gradually add, beating well, 3/4 C. sugar. Finally add chopped pecans.

Divide the cold dough into four parts. Roll each part on a floured surface until very thin, similar to a pie crust. Spread 1/4 of the meringue over the top of each crust, then roll them up like jelly rolls. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets, two coffee cakes to a sheet. Let rise for two hours.

Bake coffee cakes in 350 degree oven until golden brown, 25-30 minutes. While warm spread with quick white frosting.

QUICK WHITE FROSTING
Sift approximately 3/4 box confectioner's sugar into bowl. Moisten with milk to a spreading consistency and add 1/2 to one teaspoon vanilla flavoring.

Come to Church

after the Parade

The parade is over, and Tim is hot, dusty, and his feet hurt. This was his first parade, and somehow it didn't come off as he thought. He didn't expect to be the whole show, but he did think he and his tuba would stand out a little. As it happened, he was just "one of the band."

Later, he will realize that if each player weren't just "one of the band" there wouldn't be any band at all. He'll start thinking from there, and the parade will seem a lot better in memory than it does right now. For Tim has a good sense of value, for a boy his age—thanks in part, to the teachings of his church and church school.

Tim will weather his disappointments and march successfully through life, instead of giving up. Will your youngsters be as lucky?

Give your children the chance to go to church school.

The upstairs into one of the poshest banquet halls in the area.

The former lodge room fell on hard times and following its close as a bowling alley some years ago has remained vacant until now.

Dust settled, plaster fell and the hall was mainly used for storage of unused Chamber of Commerce material and equipment.

But all that has changed. Now the large room sports new paint and plaster. The floor gleams with fresh varnish and the walls glow in muted green. Plush carpeting will surround the main area.

New kitchen equipment is being installed, an entrance has been added in the rear and rest rooms are being paneled and painted.

A new top stone will be installed in the large fireplace that was the focal point of a 22 by 48 foot lounge when the building was new.

THE MAYFLOWER Meeting House is designed to accommodate over 350 diners for weddings, conventions and special occasions.

He said that two new production plants devoted to the manufacturing of prefinished plywood are now in full production, while an expanded and newly equipped hard-board plant is rapidly reaching this point.

Orloff further noted that "the company's continuing policy of modernizing and expanding its production and marketing facilities is enhancing its ever-widening profit base."

have the personnel of the Police Department working split shifts, odd hours and many hours of overtime to try and provide the best police service possible, though we still find it difficult to do the job that we would like to do.

"Therefore, to do a better job of policing the City, to try and lessen the number of complaints regarding traffic, to try and reduce the number of accidents, and to provide an Investigator-Youth Officer to work in the area of prevention, I would like to recommend that the City Commission provide the funds to employ four (4) additional police officers."

Vallier asked if the department could stop checking doors at night, and Fisher replied that other cities had done it, with some success. The City Commissioners also asked to see a report on the drive-in ordinance and its effectiveness.

Fisher also reported a new radar unit is soon to be purchased for City police use.

In other action the Commission tackled the taxi cab license problem once again.

Fisher said he had checked out both applicants for the license — John Florence, and the Checker Cab Co. of Livonia — and had found "no reason to deny either Florence or Checker licenses" as far as the police department was concerned.

Merwin Tucker, spokesman for Checker Cab Co., said his company, which currently has the cab licenses in the City, takes between 60 and 70 calls a day, and that he has three or four cabs here all the time.

Mayor James Houk said he was still receiving complaints of poor service, particularly on Forest St. calls.

Houk asked the two cab

Airman Kuisel, who has just completed basic military training, will be assigned to an Air Training Command, (ATC) school at Lackland. and Mrs. Lilley had had a running feud for some time. It blew up this afternoon in the back yard, apparently over a clothesline.

Sheriff's officers said there were witnesses to the shooting, and that Mrs. Boyles was under arrest. The case is being handled by deputies Harry Cummings and Arthur Torikian.

Both women have husbands and families, but very few details were known as the Mail deadline was reached late Tuesday.

My Neighbors

In other action, the city fathers approved a preliminary study of a second urban renewal program, planned for the southeasterly quadrant of the central business district.

They also received for the first time the new master plan zoning ordinance and land use breakdown. They will study it for several weeks.

Earlier in the meeting, commissioner Arch Vallier asked for a report on all uncollected taxes, those turned delinquent in March of every year.

The City also authorized specifications for the widening of Ann Arbor Trail from Penniman Ave. to Hamilton St., and completion of plans for the widening of Main St. from the Mayflower Hotel corner to Wing St.

Workshop site given

The area's first sheltered workshop for trainable mentally retarded people has been granted a building for its use by the Livonia School Board.

The building is the old school house on Newburgh Rd. between Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail.

The action was approved at last Thursday's meeting of the Livonia Board. The action came close on the heels of the hiring of a director for the Community Opportunity Center, Ernest Moran, of Plymouth, who comes to the job with several years experience at Wayne County Training School.

Moran said they expect to open the workshop with 28 people. They will do simple tasks on a contract basis, and will work a six-hour day.

Moran said last week: "The workshop will offer an opportunity to get out and work, getting practical experience in a real situation. Ultimately we are striving to rehabilitate as many of the people as we can."

THE SHOP will take anyone over 16 years old. Moran holds a special education certificate, and a B.A. from Wayne State University.

The program will take care of those trainable retarded that are unable to withstand the rigors of normal competitive life in a job. They will be paid a nominal wage for their work.

The workshop is a joint effort of several area communities: Livonia, Plymouth, South Lyons, Northville and Redford.

Wendell E. Smith, a Plymouth JayCee, has been the president of the organization. George Conover, William Green, David Copper, Anna Jung, Marjorie Conover, John Murawski and Alice Mohardt are other officers from Plymouth.

The program will take care of those trainable retarded that are unable to withstand the rigors of normal competitive life in a job. They will be paid a nominal wage for their work.

COLD FEET...?
A generation ago some people thought rubbing the soles of the feet with grease would ward off a head cold. Today, we know better. Adequate rest and a well-balanced diet go a long way toward preventing colds. But, sometimes even the best precautions aren't good enough. When you are ill—whether you have a cold or something more serious—effective medications are important. They can be the difference between pain or comfort... slow or fast recovery. Let your physician decide the remedies you need. Then come to us for the prescribed medication.

Colonial Community

A trip to Seattle, Washington this summer is the goal of these two young homemakers, Mrs. Gail Cavell and Mrs. June Olson, who are earning money by painting homes. They will leave by car on August 13. In the meantime they will be busy slapping their paint on this house at 592 Maple Street. They're not sure whether or not the project will bring them enough money for the across-continent trip and, jokingly, all donations are welcome.

Park-woods wanderings with Chris

Call 453-5581 with news items from Park Lane and Hough Woods VACATIONLAND

Traveling from Alaska to Florida, and most of the states in between, indicates that many Plymouthites decided to "see America first" this summer.

Our northernmost state of Alaska was the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Moiso of Carol St. this month. Traveling with a group, the Moisos flew to the land of the midnight sun for their 18 day tour.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Notebeert, Craig and Michelle, of Beech, Ct., have returned from a two week motor trip to Florida. They visited friends and enjoyed the tourists' sights of our southernmost state.

GO WEST, young man — and so they did. Dr. and Mrs. Donald Davies and family of Sheldon Rd., spent 10 days traveling to Oklahoma where they visited with long-time Army friends, Kansas and Colorado were vacation stops for Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schultz and family of Elm St., who have returned from visiting relatives in the West for three weeks.

California was the place to go for Dr. and Mrs. Fred Foust and family of Woodland Pl. They spent a month on the West Coast, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Day of Park Pl., also traveled to sunny California for their vacation.

Also touring California was the Ted Sprague family of Evergreen St. They visited their son for two weeks this month.

THE EAST COAST also claimed some visitors from Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Voss and Joey of Beech St., motored east for two weeks. They toured Washington, D.C., Virginia Beach, and visited relatives in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Living on an island for two weeks was exciting for Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schmitz and their seven children. Hilton Head Island, off the coast of South Carolina, proved to be a different kind of vacation for the Schmitz family.

Another family who enjoyed an island vacation are the Harvey Troutmans of Carol St. They spent one week on Beaver Island in northern Michigan "roughing it."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Powell and family of Beech St. spent their week's vacation at Rice's Rustic Resort on Round Lake, near Traverse City. Mrs. Henry Jensen of Penniman Ave., is managing the resort this summer.

CAMPING is always fun. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiley and family of Carol St. camped at Burroughs Farms near Chelsea. The Gordon Eddy family of Beech Ct., were campers near Traverse City for one week.

Also traveling in northern Michigan for a week were the Joseph Bribois family of Irvin St. Their stops included Mackinac, Indian River and Ludington.

RUB ELBOWS

Want to rub elbows with the state's Republican leaders? The Wayne and Macomb County Republicans will hold their 5th annual moonlight cruise to Bob-Lo Island Aug. 12. Tickets at $2, are available locally from Mrs. Betty Jacobus, GL 3-5547.

NBD Instalooan department celebrates twentieth year

The Plymouth Office of National Bank of Detroit is celebrating this month in a special way the twentieth anniversary of the Instalooan Department.

Roland R. Bonamic, assistant vice president in charge of Instalooans at Plymouth, said the Plymouth Office had been an important factor in building up NBD's record of more than 2,000,000 Instalooans totaling more than $2,800,000,000.

Vice Presidents J. Edwin Cronander and William R. Hill, who head the department, have seen many changes since its establishment in July 1945. At that time there were nine employees in the department; now there are 340.

Average loan in 1945 was about $400; now it is approximately $2,300. Instalooans (NBD's copyrighted name for consumer loans) now account for a substantially greater volume than all of the bank's loans and mortgages did in 1945.

The name Instalooan signifies "Instalment Loans" and "Instant Service." It was the winning entry of 1,600 submitted in a contest which the bank conducted at the time it set up its personal loan de-

Rev. Berg heads panel at church conference

Participants in the opening session of the Second Lutheran Free Conference meeting here at the Town House Motor Hotel were told that "though we are striving for eventual full confessional unity, we penitently acknowledge the differences which are publicly witnessed to by the variety of synodical backgrounds represented here."

The statement was made by the Rev. Norman W. Berg, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Plymouth, in his opening remarks to the Conference.

Pastor Berg, who is also president of the Michigan District of the Wisconsin Ev. Lutheran Synod, is serving as moderator of the three-day Conference.

The Second Lutheran Free Conference opened Tuesday morning, July 13, with 271 pastors, teachers, and laymen from nine Lutheran synods. The participants do not speak for or bind their respective church bodies.

Continuing his opening remarks Pastor Berg asked the participants, who discussed six essays at the Conference, to "stick closely to the subject at hand." We are not here, he said, "to act as judge and jury regarding the individual actions of synods or churches or theological professors, or pastors not present here. We are not here to relate stories of the aberrations of this or that individual group. We need not establish the scriptural correctness of this or that individual position by the intemperate denunciation of the heresy or deviation of others."

The theme of the Conference is "Justification: God and Sinners Reconciled." The doctrine of Justification—that God forgives sins for Christ's sake alone—is considered the central doctrine of Lutheran theology.

Awareness . . .

When you go into a Plymouth store, there's an intangible sense of awareness that makes shopping a reassuring experience.

For Plymouth retailers are aware of what it takes to satisfy your needs.

Like Jamie Lent in the teen shop of Davis & Lent's Father and Son Store, they can tell you which pair of trousers will compliment a certain coat. Or they'll be happy to suggest a tie that will provide just the right accent.

The reason? Plymouth business people in all fields make it part of their profession to be aware.

Aware of what's fashionable.

Aware of what will work best.

Aware of what fits your budget comfortably.

Aware that you will take nothing less than best quality, merchandised in a personalized and friendly atmosphere.

They know that people don't come back when they've been brushed off or treated coldly or charged too much or given shoddy goods.

That's why they're aware.

That's why . . .

Work-Study grant for Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College has received notification from the Bureau of Higher Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, that its request for $60,336 to be used for the Federal Work-Study Program has been approved for the 1965-66 college year. The College has recently received $24,372 of the approved amount.

The Work-Study Program, a part of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, has been in operation on the campus since March of this year. John Cansfield, who is administering the Schoolcraft College project, reports that twelve students have been determined as eligible, and that five of these students are currently employed full-time for the summer. Students may continue their employment on a part-time basis while taking classes in the fall.

In order to take part in the program, students must be in real need of this employment to continue their education and must be capable of maintaining a full-time college program during fall and winter semesters.

Cansfield may be contacted in the Office of Student Affairs for additional information.

Mrs. Luella Davey of Harding St. and her granddaughter, Marilyn Gibson, arrived home Wednesday evening from a month's vacation of which they spent two weeks in Honolulu, the Isles of Oahu, Kawai and others. They saw the Isle of Orchids, lots of peapods, some erupting, and Pearl Harbor. They had a brief visit with her sister, Mrs. Ruth Robinson in Los Angeles on their way to Hawaii and a three day visit with her and her nephew, Warren Davey of Yonez, Calif. on their return trip. For more than 500 miles on the return trip they rode in an astro-jet which traveled a mile higher. The trip for Marilyn, who graduated in June, was a present from her grandmother. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gibson of Butternut St.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Brillhart of Ann St., who had been on a two weeks vacation, returned home Sunday. They visited relatives in Syracuse and Utica, N. Y. first, then went on to Mesina where they saw the huge power plant of the St. Lawrence Seaway, then across to Ottawa, then drove 60 miles north of North Bay to Lake Obabika, Canada, where they spent a week in a fishing cabin.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker of Oakview, received word on Thursday of the death of his brother, Kenneth Baker of Chicago, formerly of Plymouth.

Lou McKinnon, who has lived in the home of Mrs. George Holstein of Rose St. for more than four years, is ill and is a patient in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Mabel Cress had surgery Thursday morning in St. Mary Hospital. She is on the fifth floor if her friends wish to send her a card or note.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Fisher of Ann Arbor, son and wife of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Fisher of Plymouth, are taking a six weeks western tour in a camper bus, planning to visit Oklahoma, Colorado, Utah, and Phoenix, Ariz., where his maternal grandparents reside.

A picnic and swimming party was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore L. Carney on Wilcox Rd. honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Arcott of Mesa, Ariz. Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lloyd of Winamac, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, and daughters of St. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Harding of Mesa, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Mesa, Ariz., and Mrs. Basil Carney of Marysville, and members of their dinner club and families. All were former Plymouthites.

Mrs. Ford Schroeder and two children, Susan and David, of South Lyon, visited her sister, Mrs. James Nairn and family of Sheridan Ave., Sunday.
