The 701 master plan for Plymouth Township will be open for public review from now until Dec. 4, and a large food warehouse has indicated its willingness to locate in the area.

That was the news that was announced at last Tuesday's regular meeting of the Plymouth Township Board.

The master plan will be up for public hearings on Dec. 4, from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m., at the Township Hall on Ann Arbor Rd.

The large food distribution warehouse was brought to the attention of the Board by Harold Fischer, Plymouth Area Planning Director, whose job it is to seek industrial and commercial developments for the entire Plymouth Community.

Fischer said the warehouse needed four items cleared up before a land deal could be closed: A sewer line, a soil test boring, a lifting of a certain weight restriction and a confirmation of proper zoning.

THE NAME of the warehouse remains undisclosed at this point; it will be located on the west side of Haggerty Rd., along the C&O tracks, between Ann Arbor Rd. and Joy Rd.

Fischer would not confirm estimates as to how many people the warehouse would employ, or how big it would be.

The site is on about 30 acres of land.

The Township Board took almost immediate action on Fischer's requests, and agreed to:

- Hook up the sewer, pointing out the cost to the warehouse would defray the cost to the Township.

- Write to the Wayne County Road Commission seeking a lifting of certain weight limits on roads in the area.

- Write a letter confirming the lot, and its proper zoning.

In their action, the Board authorized a study of costs and preliminary plans for about 1100 feet of sewer for the project, a project which is expected to be one of the area's biggest.

ON THE MASTER plan, the Board agreed to the one-day hearing. The hearing climaxes several years of work by the planning commission, and the Township's professional planner, W. C. Johnson.

In other action, the Board approved the planning commission's rezoning of land near Woodlore Subdivision to half-acre lots for the controversial JAR development company.

Their action came despite protests from the Western Homeowners Association, who charged that the public hearing upon which the rezoning was granted failed to provide sufficient information.

Elect new officers for C of C

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce elected new officers last Tuesday, with a vote of the board members.

Carl Purcell will be president of the Chamber next year, succeeding Wendell Lent. Lent owns Davis and Lent's Men's Store.

Purcell owns and manages Western Office Equipment 754 S. Main.

John Kamego, district manager for Michigan Bell Telephone Co., is the new vice-president. He follows Purcell. Harvey Zell, an accountant, was re-elected Chamber treasurer.

ASSISTANT superintendent of schools William Harding was elected secretary, succeeding Margaret Wilson, owner of the Penn Theater and Melody House.

According to Fran Booth, Chamber of Commerce coordinator, the new officers' terms start in November.

However, the formal office taking ceremony is scheduled for Jan. 27 and the Annual Meeting. For the meeting, the Chamber has engaged Kenneth McFarland, noted speaker who recently drew over 2000 people into Roma Hall for a special speech sponsored by the Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America.

Symphony tunes up for Sunday

Suzanne Lecroix, mezzo soprano, and John Mohler, clarinet soloist, will be featured in the second concert of the season performed by the 100 piece Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 21, 4 o'clock in the high school auditorium. All Symphony concerts are under the direction of Wayne Dunlap.

Miss Lecroix, who holds a BA degree from Wayne State University and who studied with Avery Crew, will be featured in Mahler's Symphony No. 4 in G major. Her latest performance was with the WSU production (Continued on Page 8)

TWO DETROIT MEN were involved in the crash of a light plane on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 13 in Salem township west of Chubb Rd. Bernard Hiller, Jr., the pilot, and Thomas H. Burnley, his passenger, were both thrown from the plane despite the use of their seat belts. The plane had just taken off from Shoebridge airport in Salem when a gust of wind lifted the craft and tossed it into the trees. Burnley received minor injuries and was taken to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, according to Washtenaw County Sheriff's office.

City tables parking ban, high-rise ordinances

Two ordinances — one that would ban over-night parking on City streets, and another that would permit high-rise buildings — were moved another step along the way Monday night by the City Commission.

At the regular meeting of Plymouth's city fathers, it was agreed to send the PR-2 high-rise apartment ordinance back to the City planning commission and professional planners Velican and Leman for study on two items:

- (1) Land density requirements.
- (2) Off-street parking.

Commissioner George Lawton made the motion to send the matter back, and it was approved unanimously, with Commissioner Arch Vallier absent.

The ordinance actually has two parts. One, a general part, would permit high-rise buildings in the City under a special PR-2 (professional residential district). The other would grant the specific rezoning for high-rise to luxury apartment developer Patrick Finlan.

He proposes to build a five-story apartment development along S. Main St. near Food Fair Store. It met with some opposition at a public hearing Monday, Nov. 8 with homeowners objecting mainly to the high-rise feature, and not the apartments themselves.

THE MATTER was tabled until last Monday, when it was removed from the table, and placed in the hands of the planners. One of the snags is that the new ordinance provides for 1500 square feet of land per unit, and Finlan will need 1300 square feet per unit.

On the parking ordinance, which would ban parking on City streets between 2 a.m. and 6 a.m., the Commission passed it through its second reading, but then, instead of declaring it an emergency and reading it a third and final time, passed it over to City Manager Richard Blodgett for him to establish ground rules for the ordinance.

Blodgett will have to wrestle with the problem of older homes that have no room to park cars other than on streets.

Commissioner George Hudson expressed some misgivings about having the ban at all.

"I feel this is a very serious ordinance in this little town of ours, after all these years. I can't see where it is an emergency. Do we want to make this a (Continued on Page 3)

Charge secrecy in City's housing project, Legal battle looms

A charge of secrecy was leveled at Plymouth's city government by a local resident this week in connection with the proposed senior citizens' housing project, but city officials say they have been working in conformance with Federal regulations on the matter.

Lifetime city resident Jack Wilcox who operates The Wilcox Apartments at 676 Penniman Avenue and The Penniman Apartments at 620 Penniman in downtown Plymouth accused the city of keeping the matter "wrapped in secrecy" in a letter addressed to the citizens of Plymouth.

The two properties owned by Wilcox comprise the site being considered by the city and the Federal Government for construction of over 60 low income, senior citizen housing units. They are located on Penniman avenue at the eastern end of Kellogg Park.

Wilcox submitted a multi-lith reproduction of the letter to The Plymouth Mail Monday morning. He said he was giving the letter to people he thought would have interest in it. The letter has been submitted to the Chamber of Commerce and area papers. In it, Wilcox notes the city's intention to acquire his property.

"SINCE the properties include his home and business," the letter reads, "Mr. Wilcox does not wish to sell and the city has indicated its intention to take his property away from him through the legal process of eminent domain."

According to the letter, Wilcox seems to have several key objections to the plan:

(1) He argues that the properties would be taken off the local tax rolls and would cease to produce revenue for the city.

(2) He claims he has had long-range plans for commercial and residential development of the site, including a $1 million, 100-unit middle income apartment retail-office building, ten stories high.

(3) He says businessmen feel the senior citizens' project would have a depressing effect on developing downtown business.

(4) He seems to feel that other sites are available at less cost and without a legal battle which he says he will wage if the city goes ahead with its plans.

In an interview at The Plymouth Mail, Wilcox said he had been notified of the city's intention in August just before he left for a European trip.

"Ken Fisher and Dick Shafer showed me architect's drawings that had been made especially for the site," he said. "This had been done unbeknownst to me." Wilcox displayed a letter from former Housing Director Shafer, dated August 26, that spelled out the city's selection of the property as the best available site.

Wilcox said he felt the site could best be used for a combination of commercial and residential and he detailed his long-range plan for a high rise building.

When he returned from Europe about a month ago, (Continued on Page 8)

Club denies it's source of bullet

The Western Wayne County Conservation Association this week produced a drawing that they feel proves the bullet that slammed through an Oak Haven trailer Oct. 31 did not come from their range.

The drawing is based on an expert's conception of the path a bullet might take if it missed the club's 44 ft. backstop. The drawing, which was supplied by club treasurer Joseph Fortier, of Livonia, shows that a bullet that cleared the backstop would pass well over the trailer park.

The park is on Ridge Road. The club is on Napier Rd.

Calling servicemen

Call your relatives in the service over the holidays.

That's what the Bell Telephone employees union, the Communication Workers of America, AFL-CIO, local 4015 is urging.

This year local 4015 will sponsor 10 calls at $15 apiece for Christmas holidays over-the-phone family reunions.

Requests should be sent to Gerald Greer, local president, 600 Ross St., or Jim Fagan, 15886 Denby, Detroit 39.

CWA, which represents over 390,000 workers in the telephone and allied communications industries, annually sponsors the "Hi, Mom" program in cooperation with the USO. This year in addition to calls originating from this country, the international union is financing 50 calls which originate from overseas.

City dedicates giant Beck water reservoir Sunday

The new City of Plymouth water reservoir and facilities were dedicated at ceremonies conducted on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 14 at the reservoir site, 16225 Beck Rd.

Master of ceremonies at the dedication of the $605,200 new ground level reservoir was Richard H. Wernette, former mayor of the City of Plymouth. The Federal grant amounted to $299,600 while the City's share is $305,600.

Mayor James Houk presented the honored guests and also accepted the facilities for the city.

Three major considerations remain in the water situation for Plymouth, according to the program's review of the history of Plymouth water.

1. When shall the City construct one additional well at the Six Mile field?
2. Shall the City build adequate water treatment facilities to remove iron and reduce hardness?
3. Shall the City continue with its well fields or purchase water from an outside source?

In a nutshell

★ The Plymouth Community Thanksgiving Service will be held Wednesday, Nov. 24, at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist Church. The Reverend David M. Strang, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Epiphany, will speak on "The Foolishness of Our Thanksgiving." The service is sponsored by the Plymouth Ministerial Association.

★ David Agnew's jewelry store was robbed over the weekend according to City of Plymouth police. The thief or thieves went through the transom window, and took articles valued at an as yet an undetermined amount.

★ The Optimist Club is sponsoring a teenage dance over the Thanksgiving weekend on Nov. 26, at the High School.

★ Robert Dwyer, branch manager of the Secretary of State's office, reported that his office, and the two Automobile Club of Michigan offices in Plymouth and Livonia had sold about 1800 license plates for 1966. He also reports they have collected $35 from only four uninsured drivers. Dwyer urged every motorist to get their plates early; he anticipates a big jump in February because of the new laws.

★ Plymouth's Old Newsboys have already started their drive for their annual paper sale. They will hold a meeting at 7 p.m. on December 1 at the High School station to complete their plans for the December 11 paper sale. All members are urged to attend the meeting.

Girl shot accidentally as prowler rattles doorknob

A nine-year old girl was accidentally shot in the thumb and kneecap last Thursday as she and her two sisters sat in their living room with a loaded shotgun, fearing someone was trying to enter their home.

Kathy Scheland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scheland, 392 Farmer, was shot by her sister Alece, 13. Alece, Kathy and a younger sister told City of Plymouth police they thought they heard a prowler at the door. They told police the door knob was rattled three or four times.

The girls, apparently out of fear, loaded a shotgun that was sitting in a closet, and sat on the living room couch, waiting to see who it was.

Kathy, according to police, saw Alece was nervously holding the gun pointed at her. She pushed at it to move it aside; the weapon went off accidentally, hitting young Kathy in the thumb and knee cap.

SHE WAS taken to Wayne County General Hospital for emergency treatment of her wounds and for shock.

Assistant police chief Loren Johnson said that the incident was "definitely not" connected with the prowlers and so-called Nankin slasher in that suburb just southeast of Plymouth.

He said the older girl, Alece, had been babysitting when they heard somebody at the door, around noon.

Plymouth school officials Monday cancelled the two plays by Edward Albee scheduled for Friday and Saturday, citing "objectionable words and phrases," as their reason.

The two plays, "The American Dream," and

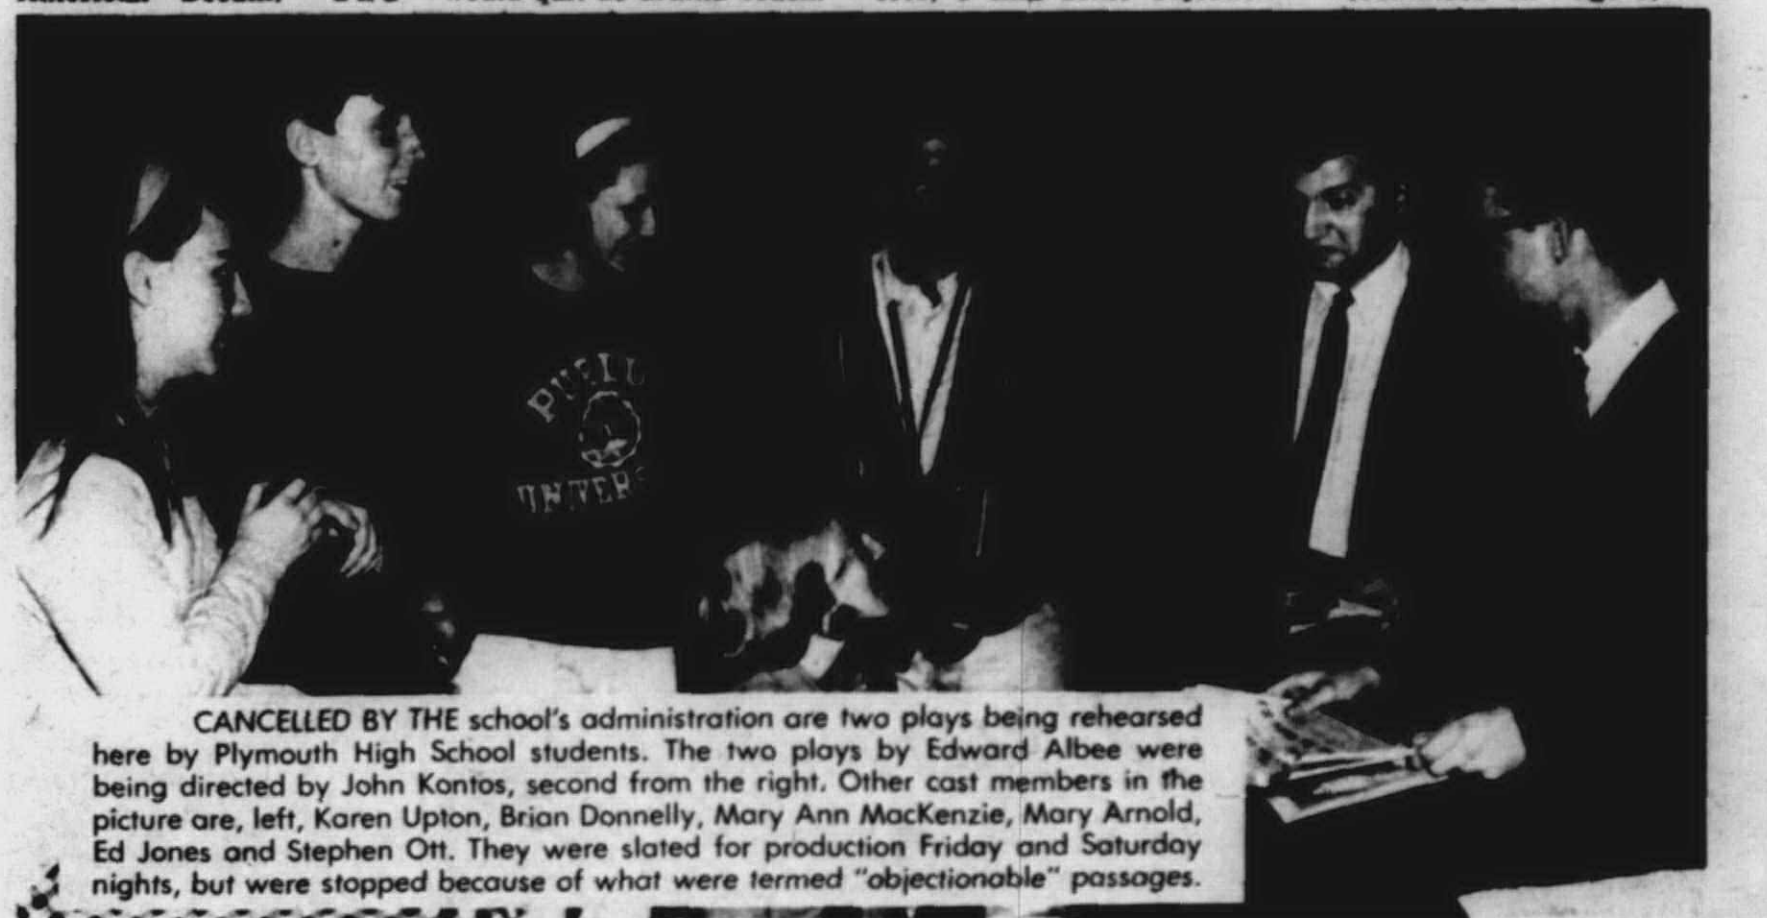

"The Sandbox" were being prepared by a cast of high school students under the direction of the drama teacher at Plymouth High School, John P. Kontos.

Kontos said Monday he did not like the censorship, and would quit as drama coach.

High School principal Carvel Bentley issued a statement Monday on the cancellation:

"After a careful review of the plays scheduled for production in Plymouth High School on Nov. 19 and 20, 1965, I find some objectionable words and phrases unfit for students. After some conferences with the director he continues to be unwilling to make any modification in words or phrases in the plays. Therefore I find it to be my duty as high school (Continued on Page 8)

They were slated for production Friday and Saturday nights, but were stopped because of what were termed "objectionable" passages.

No, rationing is not back in. The long line on Main Street last week was merely students waiting to order their class rings from Dave Agnew's Jewelry Store.

Another touch of colonialism was added to the city when Howard Green of Peace Paint completed his store front remodeling.

Charles Bruce announced last week that Indiana has given permission for Alexander Hamilton insurance to operate in their state. This week they added Maine which recalls the old saying "As Maine goes..."

Reaume reports that the structure, not including the weathervane, is seven feet high, has frosted glass on all eight sides, is to be illuminated and took 160 skilled man hours to erect.

Pat Wiltse is back on a limited schedule at Community Pharmacy following surgery which has had him off his feet for some time.

The removal of fountains from Peterson's Drug Store and Community Pharmacy brings back that time-worn phrase, "the only thing constant is change".

The used car sales office at Bob Mallory's Chrysler-Plymouth, to be completed sometime in December, could easily serve as a plush emergency annex to the Mayflower Hotel upon a repeat performance of last winter's snow drop.

Watch for the mail. Hugh Jarvis has added a gift catalogue for Plymouth area residents desiring a new adventure in shopping. What a fine way to browse for unusual gifts collected from all over the world. The Christmas candles on page 12 are bound to be a great item this year.

Legion will hear

firemen, Goodfellows

The Goodfellows and the Firemen's Association will be the guests of the Passage-Gayde Post and Auxiliary at the Legions' "Why Are We —?" banquet and program on Saturday evening, Nov. 20 at the Legion Home on Sheldon Road.

John Kirciu will be the speaker on behalf of the Goodfellows and will speak on "No Child Without a Christmas".

The President of the Plymouth Firemen's Association will be the speaker in behalf of his organization. President Ronald Wood graduated from Michigan State University with BS in Forest Products and continued his further education and in 1959 he received his secondary teaching certificate in Industrial Education from MSU and in 1965, he received his MA in Industrial Education from Eastern Michigan University and is currently an Industrial Education teacher at Thurston High School in the South Redford School District.

Past State Vice-Commander William J. Plummer of Warren will brief the audience on the workings, aims and goals of the American Legion. Plummer has served as Post Commander and the 18th District as its Committeeman. He has held practically all offices on the Post

American Legion Auxiliary

Many thanks goes to all those members who helped on the Feather party and made it such a grand success.

Rehabilitation Chairman Fern Bureson announced that Passage-Gayde Unit No. 391 sent apples, oranges, cookies and cigars for over 90 patients at Maybury for Veteran's Day. Members from the Plymouth Post, Fred Johnson and Jim Stein, helped distribute these items. The other Units in the 17th District also contributed.

Mrs. Bureson also stated that preparations have started for the Christmas project—the Gift Shop in the VA hospitals. A vast Christmas shopping project is under way by the women of the American Legion Auxiliary throughout the country in behalf of disabled war veterans. Gifts will be distributed through approximately 200 Christmas gift shops operated in hospitals of the Veteran's Administration and other hospitals where veterans are under care.

Plans for the gift shops are now being completed by state organizations of the Auxiliary.

EXPERT'S TESTIMONY AND THIS drawing prove that the bullet that went through a trailer at Oak Haven Trailer Park on Ridge Rd. Oct. 31 did not come from the Western Wayne County Conservation Club's gun range, according to club treasurer Joseph Fortier. The artist's conception bears this caption: "Assuming the trailer court was actually in line with the 200 yard shooting range backstop as pictured, at the highest point of its arc, the projectile would be approximately 500 yards above the trailer court, and would travel, a considerable amount of distance beyond the court, assuming, of course, it missed the 44 foot high backstop."

Club denies bullet came from their range

(Continued from Page 1) and Mrs. Cleo Curtis. The stray bullet hit the trailer and went through outside walls, narrowly missing Mrs. Curtis. It was the second such mishap for the park. The State Police investigated the incident, did not rule out the gun club as a source, but did report that an unauthorized hunter might have fired the shot. Fortier pointed out Friday that at the time of the incident, the range was under the supervision of a qualified range officer.

THE CONTROVERSY between the trailer park and the gun club has ranged since 1962, when both parties entered court on the matter. And, according to Fortier, they will be back in court on Nov. 22, next week.

Clyde Smith, one of the owners of the trailer court, appealed to the Township Board for action at last Tuesday's regular meeting. The Plymouth Township Board tabled the appeal until a full report was forthcoming from the State Police.

Smith said he fears somebody would get killed by a stray bullet.

The State Police office in Redford reported late Tuesday that nothing new had developed on the incident.

The club moved from a Nankin Township location in 1962 to its present location along Napier Rd. It was started in 1935, and now boasts over 750 members.

Fortier said the club's cause had been used as a test case for the National Rifle Association, and that experts from that group had testified to the range's complete safety.

Make special plans for Christian Science Thanksgiving

The traditional Thanksgiving Day service of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, 1100 W. Ann Arbor Trail, will be held at 10:30 Thursday morning.

The public is invited. This annual service is distinctive for its concluding testimony period when any Christian Scientist in the congregation may rise and openly express his individual thanks to God for blessings received.

A hymn and reading of the President's national Thanksgiving Day Proclamation will open the service, followed by scriptural selections, prayer, and a lesson-sermon on Thanksgiving taken from the Bible and the "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

This year's Thanksgiving reading includes Jesus' well-known injunction as recorded in Matthew: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you," and these lines from the Science and Health: "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than he has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since he is unchanging wisdom and Love."

No strong arguments against rezoning

At last week's public hearing on a proposed zoning change on Plymouth's south Main street from C-2 (commercial) to PR-2 (professional-residential), it seems that both the concerned public and some of the city's commissioners lost sight of a few things.

It might be well to look at the proposed Finlan Apartment project in the harsh light of day, without emotion, and come to some reasoned conclusions.

First of all, the high-rise aspect: It's no secret that the City of Plymouth, for all practical purposes, is out of useable land to develop. Since we cannot expand outward it seems only reasonable that we expand upward if we care to grow and progress at all. High rise buildings are the only practical method of achieving this end.

One man testified that he objected to a five-story building because the tenants could look down and see what he was eating for breakfast. All it takes is a little geometry to show that a person could see more of the man's breakfast from a second floor level, than from a fifth floor.

Next, let's look at Plymouth's "traditional" atmosphere.

It is only in the past twenty or thirty years that the City of Plymouth has made it a point to stress a colonial architectural theme.

By no mean stretch of the imagination could the houses in the affected area of Main St. be considered in keeping with the ideal we strive for.

Rather, they are genuine George Babbitt, midwestern Early Ugly bungalow. Forty years ago they may have looked comparatively good. Now they do nothing for the appearance of South Main. Almost anything would be an improvement — anything, that is, except some of the things that could be constructed there under present zoning.

Like a gas station, for instance. Or a greasy spoon drive-in. Or a garish, neon lit, high volume, low margin business.

But what about a reduction in space per living unit? That was proposed too.

Sure it was. The high cost of property dictates a reduction in the land space per unit. But let's look at it this way. If you build 40 units and put them on two floors of 20 units each, you're going to take up a heck of a lot more land than if you build 40 units on five floors of eight units each.

In fact, for the commissioner who's so concerned with dirt for junior to dig a hole in, he'd have far more in the high rise — even with reduced land area per unit.

There is one individual in the area who repeatedly emphasizes three key points when it comes to planning.

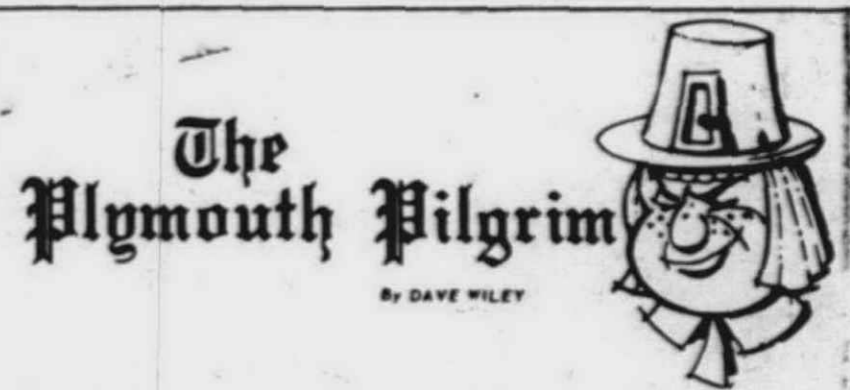

They bear repeating here. Governmental units should take into consideration:

- (1) The welfare of the developer in that he deserves a reasonable return on his land.
- (2) The welfare of surrounding residents. They deserve to be heard, but not necessarily to dictate.
- (3) Probably most important. The welfare of the community as a whole.

In summation, we see no imperative reasons for denying the rezoning request. Nor do we see any strong arguments against reducing required land area per unit to some extent for high rise buildings. After all, the city itself expects to maintain only about 1,000 square feet per unit in its proposed senior citizen housing project.

Neither can we swallow arguments that Plymouth should be made as sleepy and backward as a turn-of-the-century village. But we do see developments of this type as a potentially profitable tax producer for the community without the attendant burden on the school system that three and four and five bedroom homes tend to bring.

That in itself is a strong argument as far as over all community welfare is concerned.

The word "charisma" has been applied with increasing frequency lately to the Kennedy family in a few of the more erudite journals; so last Friday evening I groped through the rain and fog to see the youngest member of the clan at the Wayne II Democratic feed in Dundee.

Senator Edward F. Kennedy is impressive. Good looks he's got. Personality he's got. A command of the language he's got. Immense popularity he's obviously got. But charisma, which means a special divine endowment that prepares one for a certain task in life, I doubt if he has. Let me give a little of the evening's background though.

The occasion was the annual dinner of the Michigan Second Congressional District Democratic Organization; and the purpose was a testimonial to the district's articulate, crew-cut freshman Congressman, Weston E. Vivian of Ann Arbor.

The reason for the testimonial is, quite frankly, because Vivian may have a hard row to hoe in next year's Congressional election.

If you will recall last fall's campaign, you'll remember that the Ann Arborite with the Ph.D. in engineering barely nosed out seven-term conservative Republican George Meader.

Meader had won a primary race from former State Senate Majority Leader Stanley G. Thayer of Ann Arbor. And already, the rumor mill is grinding about next year. To wit:

- (1) Meader will run again.
- (2) Thayer will run again.
- (3) Republican State Senator Gil Bursley will run.
- (4) A liberal Republican from the Monroe area will run.
- (5) The GOP will spend an astronomical sum to regain the Second District.

The Democrats are faced with a couple of alternatives. They can hope Thayer and Bursley and the other guy will run in the primary and cut each other to shreds — giving the nomination by default to Meader, a one-time loser going on two.

Or they can pull out the stops. So Friday evening there was Senator Patrick McNamara, Senator Phil Hart, State Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh, Attorney General Frank Kelley and Senator Kennedy.

And there were laudatory telegrams from Lyndon B. Johnson, Hubert Humphrey, G. Mennen Williams and House Speaker McCormack.

It was a blast. The dinner was a good old-fashioned, ain't you glad you're a Democrat kind of affair in which everybody stood up and said yes they were and they didn't care if the other guys called them a rubber stamp Congress or not.

What the heck, they said, the legislation that got passed has been kicking around for the past generation waiting and was long overdue.

But most of the glory was reserved for Vivian. "Here is a man," Senator Hart said, "who has demonstrated an appreciation of those qualities of intellect which can be developed through education."

"He is the only doctor of philosophy in engineering in the Congress of the United States. "But," Hart concluded, "he's there by the skin of our teeth."

Vivian himself spoke about the challenges and demands and excitement of the job. He expressed pride in the legislative record of the 89th Congress and noted that he was anxious to get back. Referring to the President, he said:

"This is a Congress that is not arm-twisted to work with him. We are proud to work with him."

But back to Senator Kennedy. He drew his largest burst of applause when he commented on the recent mayoralty election in New York. "Some people are saying," he noted, "that this man is a Republican Kennedy."

"And I'm here to tell you that THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A REPUBLICAN KENNEDY!" When the applause had died, however, you realized that here was a man faced with a tremendous hurdle in the classical heroic myth which has grown up about his late brother.

A quip he made after his introduction is illustrative. "When I entered politics," he said, "I wanted to be judged on my own. I even considered changing my name — from Teddy Kennedy to Teddy Roosevelt."

Funny? Maybe.

But touching too, for it points up Edward F. Kennedy's struggle to make it on his own.

One wonders if the nation and the world will let him do it.

CAN WE WAVE THE FLAG TOO MUCH?

by William Cadaret, Commander, Mayflower Post 6695, Veterans of Foreign Wars
I would like to quote Dr. S. L. DeLove's answer to a listener of his radio broadcast, "Know Your History Hour."

The listener stated, "you are waving the flag too much."
I would like to quote a portion of Dr. DeLove's reply.

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much?

"The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough."

"It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the Stars and Stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day in America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us . . . for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy.

"Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired?"

"Ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is time for us . . . for the mad, rushing Twentieth Century American . . . to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded."

It would seem presumptuous for me to try to improve Dr. DeLove's answer. With your permission I would like to say this.

You and I, as Americans, have seen many instances of disrespect to our flag. In foreign countries, yes, this can be expected. In our own country, we have been seeing far too many country-men showing disrespect for, not only our flag, but also their's. This has become very prevalent at our football games, public meetings, and parades.

Today, it seems, to be patriotic is to be old-fashioned or square. How many of us quiet down, stand at attention or salute when OUR FLAG goes by?

In these times, when our young men are fighting and dying under this flag, I ask all of you, young and old, to stand up and be counted as old-fashioned Americans by renewing our faith in our flag, country and God.

I will leave it up to you. What statement would you rather hear, "The Stars and Stripes that's My Flag" or "That's Your Flag, Baby, not mine!"

THE MAGIC NAME of 'Kennedy' graced a dinner honoring Weston E. Vivian, who is a U.S. Congressman from the Second Congressional District, which includes Plymouth, Friday night at Dundee High School. It was the annual dinner of the District's Democratic organization, and honored guest and key speaker was Senator Edward M. Kennedy, Kennedy, and other top Michigan Democrats, including Senator Phil Hart, Senator Patrick V. McNamara, Thomas Kavanagh, chief justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Stabler spoke on behalf of Vivian. The fund raising affair drew almost 1000 people, who honored the freshman member of the U.S. House of Representatives, who at last year's election unseated a seven term Republican, George Meader.

Owen C. McKenney, a member of the group, in a special letter, pointed out that the planning commission had told area residents that the Woodlore rezoning would not set a precedent.

The JAR land was "not endowed with any special assets which justify spot zoning," the letter said.

On other matters, the Board handed several knotty legal matters over to attorney Thomas Foley, who will fill in as Township attorney until the ailing Earl Demel returns.

In other action, the Plymouth Township trustees:

- Tabled for further study a request for water to the second trailer park, but OK'd an extension of sewer, along Ridge Road, near the park site.
- Approved a study by consultant Johnson of the election precincts in the Township.
- Agreed to pay their share for the second year for the Plymouth Area planning commission's operation.

Blodgett pointed out that it would take some time to put up proper signs, and set the ordinance in motion. He has recommended it to ease DPW Chief Joseph Bida's task on street cleaning and snow removal.

In other action the Commission agreed to:

- Set a review of this year's audit for Nov. 22.
- Seek bids on new parking meters for the downtown area.
- Endorse a cooperative training program that belongs to Schoolcraft College by hiring a part time student to help in accounting.

Thomas Cape's request for vacation of the rest of Byron Ave. was approved, and a hearing set for Dec. 20. Cape had been ordered to settle with the City on various debts before the vacation would be acted upon, and it was reported Monday that he had complied with all the City's requests.

In final action, the Commissioners approved the appointment of George Bauer, Carroll Porter and Ezra Rotnour to the planning commission.

Try this wild rice dressing

Just the right dressing for your Thanksgiving turkey was suggested this week by Mrs. John Hannula of Byron St. This Wild Rice Dressing is especially good with giblet gravy served over it, she said.

The Hannulas have lived in Plymouth for five years. Another special note Mrs. Hannula offered was a delicious sauce to be used over the mince pie on your Thanksgiving menu. She says to combine 1 C. sugar, 1/2 C. water and 2 Tbls. brandy or brandy flavoring. Cook until thick and serve warm over the pie.

WILD RICE DRESSING
1 1/2 C. wild rice
2 Tbls. finely chopped parsley
1/2 C. finely chopped celery
1/4 C. (4 Tbls.) chopped onion
1 med. apple—cored, peeled and chopped
3 C. water
1 tsp. salt
Wash rice thoroughly. Place in large pan with parsley, celery, onion, apple, water and salt. Cover and boil 20 min. Drain. When rice is cool enough to handle, stuff the turkey or other fowl.

A member of the Michigan chapter of Grapho Analysts, Mr. Woods is also a hand writing analyst. Commenting on their move to Plymouth, Mr. Woods said, "We were so enthused about the friendly, civic minded people in Plymouth that we wanted to be part of it."

UNICEF Christmas Cards to be sold in Post Office

United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) Christmas greeting cards will be offered for sale in the lobby of the Plymouth post office, Acting Postmaster John A. Mulligan announced today. Members of the Plymouth-Northville chapter of the United States Committee for UNICEF will be stationed in the post office lobby Friday and Saturday, Nov. 19 and 20. In authorizing the sales at the discretion of the postmaster, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien said, "Since its inception in 1946, UNICEF has helped millions of children to a better, fuller, healthier life. Though a part of the United Nations, the organization is financed only through voluntary contributions such as the annual greeting card campaign. Proceeds from one box of cards can provide the vaccine to protect 50 children against tuberculosis. Two boxes will furnish 80 children with a glass of milk for an entire week. Five boxes will buy enough penicillin to cure 50 children of yaws."

There is no question in my mind that the sale of UNICEF cards in post office lobbies will materially better the lot of needy, often helpless youngsters throughout the world. Postmaster Mulligan said that there would be no interference with regular postal activities and that there would be no active solicitation of postal patrons by the UNICEF representatives. Sales will be restricted to the assigned area and the Post Office will provide no equipment. There will be no expense to the government.

Project Hope aids many

Project Hope — the people to people program which brings Health Opportunity to People Everywhere—was explained to members of the Business and Professional Women's Club at their regular meeting on Monday evening. Dr. Herbert Bloom, oral surgeon from Detroit, told how the ship the S.S. Hope serves for about 11 months at a time at various underprivileged countries and brings friendship and understanding along with the medical aids so necessary. The movie he showed on Hope's mission to Peru brought out the fact that although Project Hope is primarily a teaching program where the doctors and nurses on the S.S. Hope teach the native doctors, the program also renders service and promotes friendship between the natives and America.

Things not always bad

Doug Johnson

Setting the record straight on this year's disaster in football at Plymouth High School is hard to do. A couple of the coaches reviewed the past performances of the Rocks, and covered their season records back to the time they joined the Suburban Six league. It was 40 wins, 23 losses, and four ties, or something like that.

Things have not always been bad. "But they'll never put that in," said one. Ok. So I put it in.

The high school newspaper sports columnist Mike Manley was less complimentary. He writes for the Pilgrim Prints:

"Somewhere, somehow, something has gone mighty wrong this fall. They aren't that bad. They can't be that bad. It's hard to comprehend how a team like Plymouth, with potentially good players can be outscored 156-15 in its first five games. A person looking for alibis could blame the backs, or the line, or maybe even the . . . no, that's impossible, not the . . ."

Columnist Manley might as well have filled in the words 'coach.'

I'm glad he has been given enough freedom to write as he does.

But it was not the coach. Not entirely. As Dave Strack, U of M's basketball mentor, said before the Chamber of Commerce Businessmen's Forum recently, "my coaching improved tremendously when Cassie Russell came along."

It takes a coach, AND players to make a season go. And head football coach John McFall has proven it can be done with his championship swimming teams.

Robert Dwyer, head of the local Secretary of State's office, last week dropped off a pamphlet on survival.

The blackout in the New England states came at about the same time, and it's enough to chill your bones.

The blackout was the gigantic power failure that could never happen, but did. And the pamphlet arrived with scary coincidence.

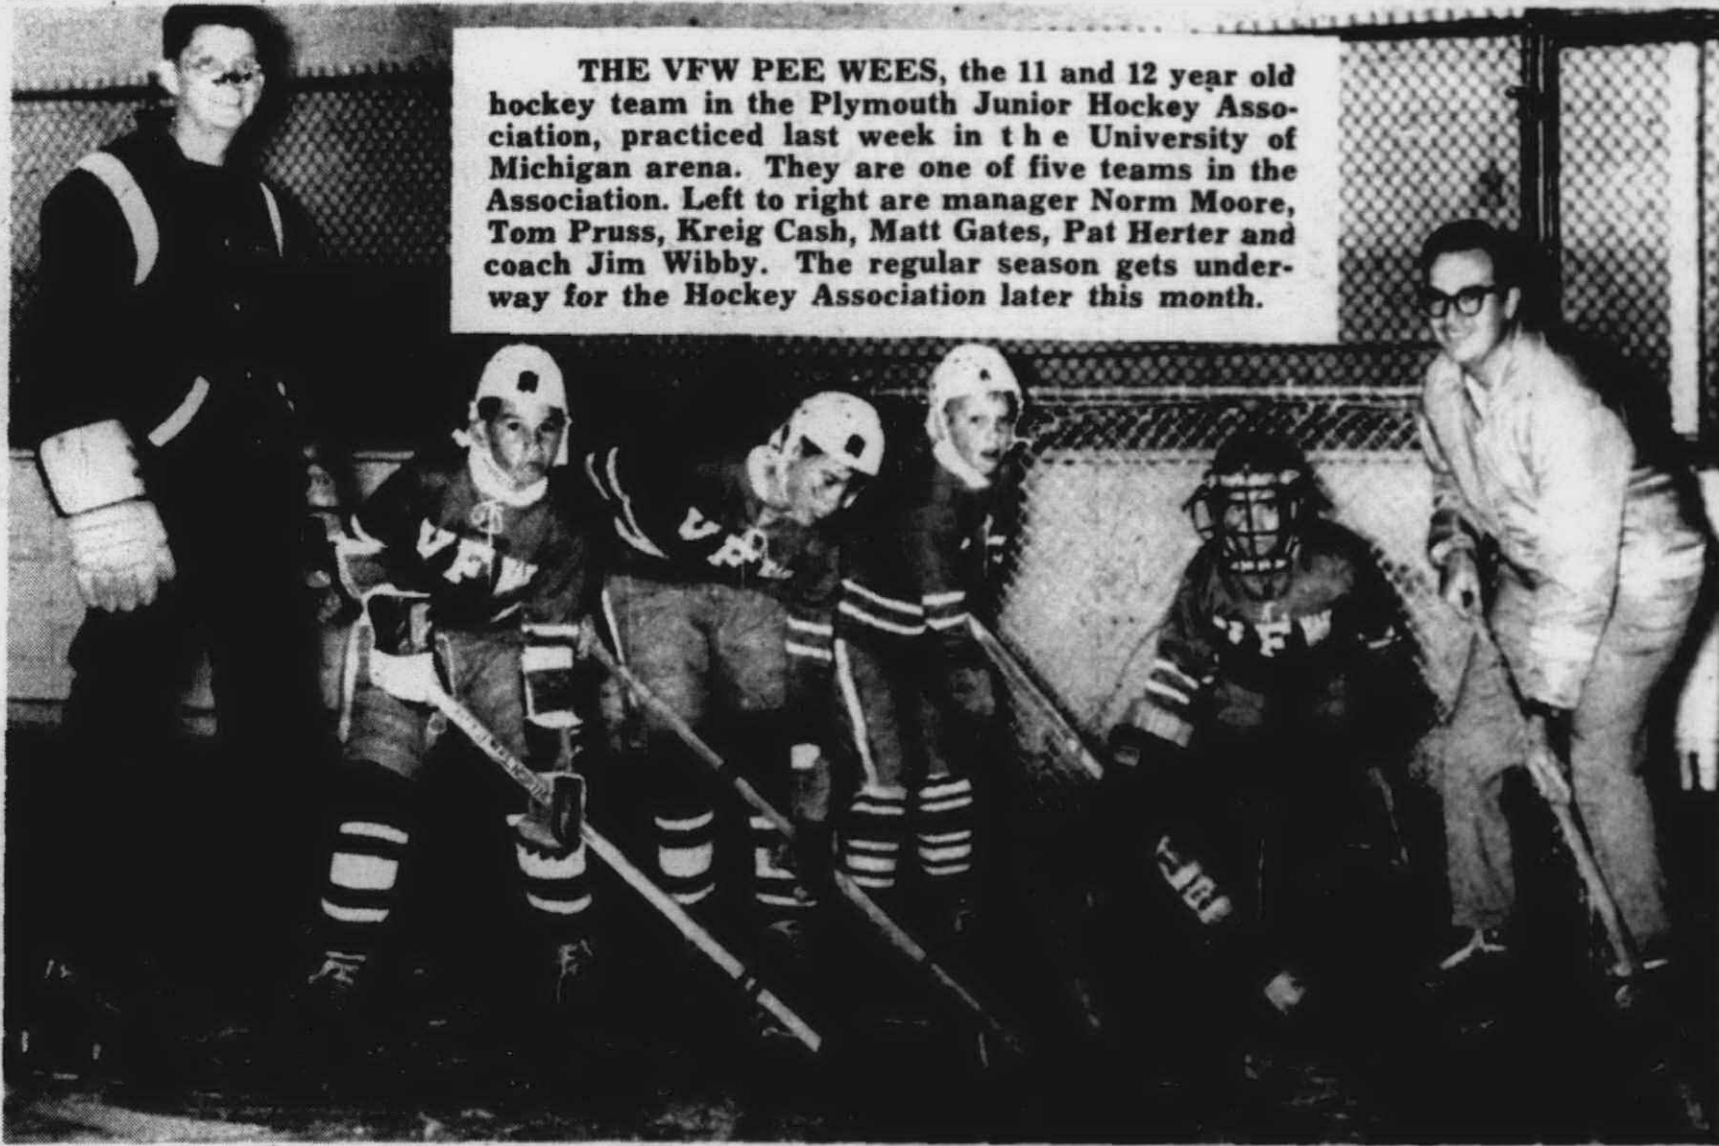

Dwyer will deny this, but among the signs put out along the highways in the event of a national disaster is one, in highly radioactive areas, that permits "top safe speed limit," and implies that speeds over 70 mph would be allowed because of the danger.

One would think that national disaster strikes the country just about every weekend.

Other survival signs point to "decontamination centers, for the motorist's safety and comfort."

Last weekend I saw one poor guy rushing at about a 110 mph through what must have been a terribly dangerous zone. Later I saw him stopped at a decontamination center.

The center was called "Marty's Tavern".

Schoolcraft begins new soccer club

Former Plymouth High athletes Tom Von Glahn and John (Ben) Daniel played major roles in helping the Schoolcraft College Soccer Club enjoy a successful week. Both men are starters on the squad that has built up a record of two wins against one loss and a tie.

Last Thursday night Schoolcraft played Oakland University at Livonia's Ford Field. When the match had cleared, Schoolcraft had played the more experienced Oakland squad to a 3-3 standoff. Scorers for Schoolcraft were Tom Van Glahn and Paul Hartke who scored a pair of goals.

Saturday afternoon at the Delta College field in Bay City, Schoolcraft evened its season record with Delta by kicking out a 5-4 win on a wet and windy field. Von Glahn picked up the initial Schoolcraft goal when he beat the Delta goalkeeper on a short shot from the left side of the goal. It was an uphill victory for Schoolcraft who trailed 3-2 at half time.

Other scorers in the game were Bob Tolstyka, Mac Graham, and team captain, Frank Ferrari, who scored two. Delta had won the earlier game in the series, 2-1. Two games remain on the Schoolcraft schedule: Concordia Lutheran College and Western Ontario Institute. The game with Western Ontario is expected to provide Schoolcraft with its most experienced and toughest opposition. It will be played Saturday afternoon at Windsor's Waggie Stadium.

Older boys needed for basketball

Boys age 13-15 interested in Jr. League basketball are urgently needed to round out teams for the coming season, according to John VanWagoner, head of the Plymouth Community Junior Basketball league.

He said Monday that not nearly enough boys were available for the 13-15 age group. He urged them to contact him, or Howard Oldford.

About 235 registered during the last two Saturdays. Last Saturday, tryouts were held following registration.

Ten teams will comprise both class A and B, and practice sessions will begin this week. Each team will practice one day a week, and on Saturdays before the season starts.

VanWagoner reported Monday that registration was still open.

The season begins Dec. 4, and will go for 12 games this year.

CORRECTION

OLGC wins, not loses
Oops. We goofed.

Fred Crissey's OLGC football team climaxed its season with a win over St. Susanne, 21-7, not a loss. The team's final box score shows 4 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie.

Mr. Elzie Wheelock, Consultant for the Wayne County Intermediate School District, read a report of the transportation study which he had been requested to make regarding the transportation services now being provided to the students in the Plymouth Community School District.

Mr. Wheelock noted in his report the following minimum safety standards which a community wide action program should achieve:

1. Sidewalks, or suitable substitutes thereof, wherever children are required to walk with backs to traffic on the shoulder of main roads.
2. Warning signs properly placed at all school crossing points.
3. Uniformed and deputized adult crossing guards supervised by the local police department and assisted by school safety patrol boys. Crossing guards and bus drivers should coordinate their efforts whenever feasible.
4. The utilization of every opportunity to teach traffic safety to both school children and the general public. Rules for riding bicycles need particular emphasis here.

Until the minimum safety standards are met Mr. Wheelock recommended the implementation by the Board of Education of the following secondary procedures:

1. The fullest possible employment of available school bus transportation facilities in these critical areas.
2. The immediate purchase of additional transportation equipment if needed and if this can be done without impairing educational programs. This would envision busing all elementary children in hazardous areas as a temporary measure until such time as minimum safety standards are met.
3. Frequent studies in each of the critical areas, to review walking routes and safety conditions at crossing points. Participation in these studies by parents groups such as a PTA safety committee is suggested.
4. A long range study by the board of education of future transportation needs and ways of financing them. Current problems are small compared to what the future holds.

After some discussion by the Board members and the citizens who were in attendance President Fischer stated that the recommendations would be taken under advisement and that a special meeting would be held on Monday, October 25, 1965, at which time decisions would be made on what changes, if any, would be made in the transportation policy.

Superintendent Isbister was directed by the Board to prepare cost estimates on the implementation of recommendation one and two.

Supervisor McEwen discussed the sidewalk situation in Plymouth Township and noted the legal restrictions under which the Township must operate in the construction of sidewalks.

Mr. Wheelock was complimented for the time and thought which he put into the transportation study.

Member Henry, Chairman of the Township and noted the legal restrictions under which the Township must operate in the construction of sidewalks.

New automatic payroll processing plan

computes and completes your entire payroll (about all you do is pass out the checks)

If you employ more than 25 people and are interested in cutting your per-paycheck cost, here is a new service you'll want to know more about. It's the Automatic Payroll Processing Plan... developed especially for the complex, highly industrialized Detroit area by the National Bank of Detroit.

This Plan applies the speed and accuracy of electronic computers to payroll processing. Regardless of how your employees are paid—salary, hourly rate, commission or bonus—all can be covered. Overtime pay, deductions and contributions are computed. Checks are automatically prepared each pay period.

You will receive a payroll register showing who was paid and how much. Your W-2 and 941-A forms, as well as Unemployment Compensation reports, will be prepared automatically. We even handle the time-consuming job of payroll reconciliation. And, of course, the entire operation is conducted in strict confidence.

Battle looms on housing

Wilcox said, he contacted Mayor James C. Houk.
"He was very formal and very short and didn't seem to listen to my arguments," Wilcox said. He noted that appraisers have been hired and he has shown them the properties and opened his books to them.
He said he has engaged two Detroit law firms to represent him in the matter.
"They'll make an offer," he commented, "which I probably won't accept because Mayor Houk indicated it would be based on the price of property sold in the area and not on future potential value."
CONTACTED by The Mail, Mayor Houk said he had told Wilcox that the appraisal would be based on reality, not dreams. And Housing Commission chairman Kenneth Fisher corroborated this viewpoint.
"The appraisers consider everything," he said. "They don't appraise just from the standpoint of what's there now. They appraise based on future use." Fisher noted that the appraisal must be based on fact and stand up in court.
"They can't just come up with a figure out of the air," he commented.
Fisher admitted that Wilcox had not been notified until August that his property was under consideration, but he said this was in keeping with Federal regulations. Mayor Houk and City Manager Richard Blodgett agreed.

"After all," said Blodgett, "until we could get Federal approval of the proposed site, there was no sense in contacting him and getting him all hot and bothered."
"We let him know ahead of what most communities would have," Mayor Houk remarked. And he pointed out that nothing is definite yet. Both he and Fisher agreed that the appraisal might be too high and the Federal Government would suggest looking for a less expensive site.

Houk noted that the housing commission had to settle on three proposed sites, get concurrence from the planning and city commissions and then seek Federal approval of one of the sites.
He emphasized what he felt was a local obligation to provide for senior citizen housing, pointing out that surrounding communities have already done so.
Both the city manager and Fisher questioned Wilcox's claim of long-range development plans for the site.
"Has he ever made an attempt to change the high rise limitation?" Blodgett asked. "As far as I know, he's never made his dreams known to the planning commission."
Questioned on this point, Wilcox said he didn't feel the matter was right.
"I'm going to let someone else make the attempt," he said. But he noted that he would make it at the "appropriate time."

One of the properties in question has been a Plymouth landmark since the turn of the century. Built by the Markham family who founded the firm that preceded the Daisy Air Rifle Co., the house was acquired by Wilcox's father, George, in October of 1911.
Fisher noted that the senior citizens project has been under consideration for a year and a half. Over 100 favorable responses were returned about a year ago when the city queried area oldsters about the project.
Mayor Houk pointed out that the city is receiving calls regularly from senior citizens who want to see the project started.

The Federal Government has authorized a total grant for construction of the units, a grant in lieu of taxes on the property and a promise to subsidize the project if rents do not support it completely, Fisher said.

Present: Comms. Hudson, Jabara, Lawton, McKeon, Smith, Vallier and Mayor Houk.
Absent: None.
The Mayor postponed the appointment of the Michigan Week Chairman until the next regular meeting.
The City Manager reported that Mr. Cape had not, as of 5:00 p. m., paid to the City the moneys involved in connection with vacating Byron Street, and recommended that the matter be deferred to the next regular meeting. Upon the recommendation of the City Manager, the matter was deferred to the next regular meeting.
The Mayor introduced Mr. William Heath, Instructor at the Adult American History Class in the audience.
The Mayor recessed the meeting at 7:40 p. m. and reconvened it at 8:00 p. m.
The Mayor opened the hearing on the proposed ordinance to amend certain portions of the text in connection with PR-2 zoning, and rezoning Lots 6-11, both inclusive, Block 1, of Shepard and Morse's Addition to Plymouth Village and portions of adjacent vacated alley and vacated Voorhies Avenue, from C-2, Commercial Business, to PR-2, Modified Professional Residential zoning.
Warren Smith, Clarence Moore, Wayne Dunlap, Ed Miller, Robert Baxter and Sam Blackford, property owners in the area, were present and spoke objecting to the proposed rezoning of the property for the purpose of erecting a 5-story apartment building. It was stated that reasons for objecting were possible insufficient parking, insufficient play or recreation area for children, noise factor, style of building and incompatibility with the surrounding area. The City Manager presented a communication from Dr. John Kenzie approving the rezoning.
Mr. Pat Finlan, petitioner, presented his proposed plans for a 5-story apartment building and outlined the reasons for the erection of said building and the area selected.
Mayor Houk closed the hearing at 9:17 p. m.
Moved by Comm. Vallier and supported by Comm. Hudson that the proposed ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance, not be adopted.
Moved by Comm. Hudson and supported by Comm. Jabara that the matter be tabled.
Yes: Comms. Hudson, Jabara, Lawton, McKeon and Mayor Houk. No: Comms. Smith and Vallier. Motion carried.
Moved by Comm. Smith and supported by Comm. Hudson that the meeting be adjourned. Carried unanimously.
Time of adjournment was 9:53 p. m.

School cancels play

principal to deny the presentation of these plays in Plymouth High School.

KONTOS agreed that he was unwilling to make changes.

"I am not only unwilling to make modifications in the script, but am unable to, without violating the copyright laws," Kontos said.

The plays have been in rehearsals several weeks but the matter came to a head recently when Bentley, and the assistant principal Gustav Gorguz casually listened to parts of the play being practiced.

They determined at that time certain passages might be objectionable and called for a parental review of both plays, in their entirety.

Such a review was given Friday after school, before parents of all the cast members. They, according to Bentley, agreed there were objectionable passages.

Kontos said that the two plays contained some swear words, and one or two references that might be termed "objectionable." He said he did not feel the plays couldn't be given on the high school stage.

KONTOS said Monday afternoon that he was willing to put his job as drama teacher on the line to make his point. He said he will take the matter up with the faculty advisory committee first, then go further, to the Plymouth Education Association and the Michigan Education Association, if it be needed.

"I knew what I was doing eight months ago," Kontos commented. "But I had a feeling that it would go because of the quality of the work."

"Under the conditions of censorship as shown by the present administration, Mr. Bentley as high school principal, and superintendent Russell Isbister, I cannot, I am unwilling to work as dramatic director at PHS," Kontos commented.

Kontos said he would remain as reading teacher at the High School.
Bentley commented on his move:
"I've never heard of a high school play where these things weren't smoothed out a bit for a high school audience."

Isbister also commented on the cancellation, and gave Bentley his "unqualified support" for the action.

Kontos said he feels the administration waited rather a long time to determine the plays unfit.
"I had a meeting earlier in the week with Mr. Bentley. That meeting was a farce; it was loaded; it was funny. The parents who saw the play Friday merely re-informed what had already been decided," Kontos asserted.

Albee is considered one of the modern dramatic giants, gaining wide fame with his "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolfe," the bitter story of a marriage that is tearing two individuals apart. His most recent effort has been the re-writing of a work by Carson McCullers, which he is calling the "Ballad of the Sad Cafe." "Tiny Alice," Albee's attack on the clergy, is still being produced after a first-year success last winter.

ALBEE, according to his critics, has a great fear of changes being made in his work. The plays sent to Kontos were granted on the basis that the script would not be changed in any way.

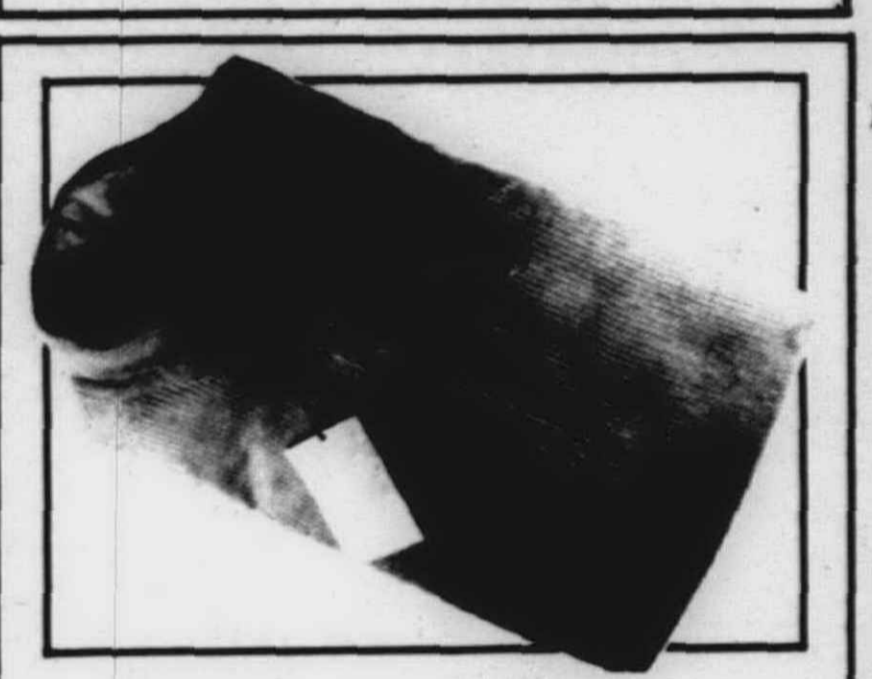

Both plays are surrealistic in nature, and incorporate some of the same characters. Albee himself has often commented on the matter of censorship.

Kontos points this out, and cites a passage from an interview between Albee's director, Alan Schneider and Albee himself, written by John Booth for the Theatre Arts Magazine. Albee says:

"No compromises. I'm always willing to change things if I don't think they are right. You know, if it seems to be an error, I'm delighted to change something. But I've not had any experience with the Broadway Theater and I don't know. I hear awful, dreadful stories about what goes on out of town — the awful rewriting that has to go on."

Kontos said the cast was disappointed by the cancellation, and that the parents had said the production and cast had done a fine job to date.

Slate freeway for Plymouth Rd. 'The Bible and Archeology'

Highway construction projects at a total estimated cost of $429,854,000 are scheduled for five counties in the Detroit Metropolitan Region of Michigan during the five-year period beginning July 1, 1967, State Highway Department Director Howard E. Hill announced last week.

The schedule is part of a road-building program that will boost Michigan's total construction to $2,750 billion for the 15-year period ending by 1972.

Included is M-14 (Plymouth Rd.), 3.5 miles of freeway from the county line east to interchange with I-96.

The First Baptist Church of Plymouth is presenting a series of illustrated talks on "The Bible and Archeology" by Dr. Arnold S. Schultz.

These talks will be given at the church Friday, Saturday, and Sunday evenings, Nov. 19, 20, 21 at 7:30. His talks were very enthusiastically received when he was here two years ago.

Dr. Schultz holds BA and MA degrees from the University of Chicago and a PhD from Northwestern Baptist Land.

Dr. Schultz has done archeological research in Israel, Jordan, Iran, India, Japan, Russia and Central America. Most recently he has made two excursions behind the iron curtain and to the Holy Land.

Mrs. Robert Jenkins has recently returned from a successful house hunting trip in Darrin, Conn. The Jenkins and their four daughters plan to move from their Sheldon Rd. home the week preceding Thanksgiving. They will spend the holiday with Mrs. Jenkins' parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Kennard of Washington, D.C., and then journey on to their new home in Darrin. A small group of Mrs. Jenkins' friends got together for a packing party on Nov. 12 to assist in moving preparations and have lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs left Saturday for a trip to Seattle, Van Couver, and San Francisco. While on the coast they will visit Mrs. Jacobs' mother, and will in turn be visited by her sister, who will travel with her family from LaMirada, Calif. for a long anticipated reunion.

The Senior High group spent exciting days during J-Hop weekend. Anne Wood entertained at a going away brunch for Priscilla and Debbie Jenkins on Saturday morning. Proceeding the dance Dr. and Mrs. Fredrick B. Foust poured punch at an open house given in her home by Mary Vallier. Jane Emer-son also had a group in for a pre-dance warm up. Following the prom, the Jenkins' twins, Mary Vallier, Brian Foust, Brian Smith and Dave Sibbold added a special touch to the festivities by celebrating Brian Smith's 16th birthday at the Hillside Inn with a birthday cake and gifts.

The power failure in New York City temporarily spoiled plans for a get together between the John Conns and Robert Jenkins. The Conns, who had been spending sev-is a many splendored thing. Just like the dime store. Sounds sort of silly doesn't it. But there is a sort of many-splendored thing about a superior dime store.

And when you take a link out of a large chain . . . like Kresge's . . . and you carefully place this link down into the center of Plymouth it takes on flavor.

The superior flavor of Plymouth.

The superior flavor of the people of Plymouth . . . because they're in Kresge's, too. Working and shopping and delightfully discovering the hidden qualities in a store like this.

The quality that has been part of the old fashioned five and dime store has quietly and naturally graduated through the years into a marvelously modern 'general store'.

But don't worry.

The goldfish and the turtles and the orange banana candy and the little kid's bunny slippers are still there.

And the superior service is still there. They've just added many more splendid things . . . because
