THE ECUMENICAL DINNER panel met for a pre-dinner session last week to discuss plans for the Inter-Faith supper planned for Jan. 21 at Lofy's. On the panel, to be headed by Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister, are, left, Father Alfred Renaud, of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Sanford Burr, Dean of Academic Affairs at Southfield High School, Ron Phelps, Wayne County Training School Chaplain, and John Herb, American Community Mutual Insurance executive. Last year, a similar panel discussion drew over 400 people. This year the panel will discuss "Why the church must be involved in the life of the community."

Builder Thomas Cape's 27th visit before City nets him final denial

Thomas Cape's bid for a portion of Byron Ave. was unanimously denied Monday night by the Plymouth City Commission, but Cape's wife took the City fathers to task for the decision, and read them a lesson in the Bible and law.

and insisted that any discussion should be kept to the case at hand.

brought up again," Houk commented.

The Commission last week had voted to reconsider a denial made in a December meeting, hoping to work out some way Cape could be allowed to occupy the two empty apartments.

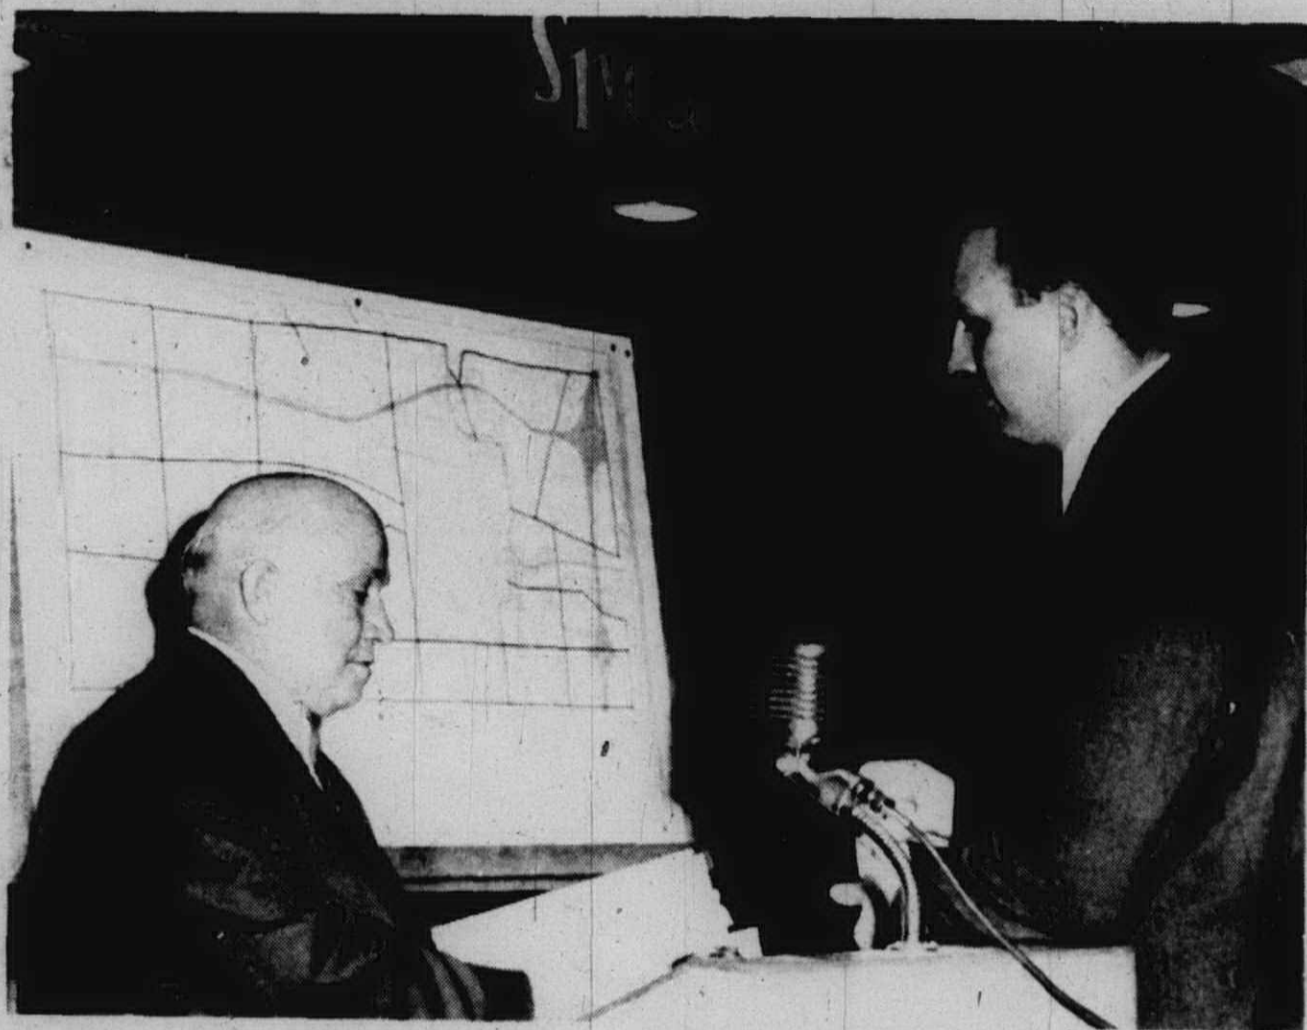

Even then, the Commission split, with Commissioners Arch Vallier, James McKeon and George Hudson voting to let the denial stand. Then the matter was set aside for a special meeting for Monday night. It was at this time that McKeon spoke out on his reasons for denial:

Mrs. Cape took the floor after the Commission voted 7-0 to deny Cape's request for a partial vacation of Byron Ave. to satisfy land requirements for two of his apartment units, at a special meeting called just to consider his matter.

Mrs. Cape, in a tremulous voice, read the Commissioners a Bible lesson from a religious tract, after passing out another pamphlet to each of them.

Citing the fable of Saul of Tarsas who became St. Paul and Christ's Martyr, Mrs. Cape told the City officials that "whatever had been done here was God's will. Whatever we sow, so shall we reap."

MRS. CAPE also noted that there was a certain righteousness in keeping the law, and the laws were for all of the people. Mayor James Houk cut short Mrs. Cape's reading, SPEAK FOR YOURSELF John. Those pioneer words that decorate the John T. Alden room of the Mayflower Hotel applied to Township Supervisor John D. McEwen last Thursday as he spoke before the Businessmen's Forum. Over 50 heard his talk on Plymouth Township's federally-aided 701 master plan. Here, McEwen, left, chats with City of Plymouth's City Manager Richard Blodgett.

"THIS MATTER has been on the agenda for 27 times in 20 months. Now, I'm willing to overlook this. If a citizen has got a problem, we've got to hear him out."

"But," McKeon continued, "I cannot overlook that for 27 times we've been trying to solve the problem. We have other problems — traffic, more police, water source, a new budget — it's about time we had some action on this thing. We cannot vacate a portion of this street and ever again stand up here and pass other build-

'Showboat' planned in concert

In the first of its three winter concerts the Plymouth Community Band will perform jointly with the Ford Chorus on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 30 at 4 p.m. in Plymouth High School gymnasium.

Highlighting the concert will be the Finale to Symphony No. 1 by Kalinnikov featuring the brass choirs from the University of Michigan Symphony Band. Along with joint numbers with the Chorus, the band will also play excerpts from "Showboat."

Besides the three winter concerts, the Community Band holds a series of concerts in Kellogg Park during the summer evenings.

JC's Man of the Year to be feted next Monday

Announcement of Plymouth's Man of the Year next Monday evening at Hillside Inn will kick off a busy week-long series of activities in observance of JayCee Week here.

The Bosses' Night banquet is an annual feature climaxed by presentation of the Distinguished Service Award by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce. Plymouth Mayor James C. Houk has proclaimed Jan. 18-22 as Jay-Cee Week.

The DSA is given to a local man, under the age of 35, who has distinguished himself in community service and virtually all other facets of life. The winner is chosen from a group of nominees submitted by service organizations throughout the community. Featured at next Monday evening's banquet will be Dr. Donald Starr, Assistant to the Chairman of the Board of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co.

Plans folk songs for annual family concert

Music for the youngsters and the oldsters will highlight the annual Family Concert presented by the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, Jan. 23, 4 p.m., in the Plymouth High School gymnasium.

Under the direction of Wayne Dunlap, all concerts are open to the public without charge and baby sitting service is available in room 106.

Of interest to the younger members of the audience will be a selection of folk songs in serious music. The numbers will provide an opportunity for comparison between serious folk music and the popular folk music of today.

Included in the folk music will be "New World Symphony," 2nd movement, by Dvorak, "Variations on a Cowboy Tune" by Effinger, "Winter's Past" by Barlow and "Espagna Rhapsody" by Chabrier.

The program for the afternoon includes Fantasy on a Theme of Thomas Tallis by Vaughan Williams. The string section of the Ferndale High School Orchestra will join the Symphony Orchestra with Kenneth Sanford conducting. A total of 110 strings will perform.

THE YOUNGSTERS will also enjoy "Jonathon and the Gingery Snare" by Ward narrated by Henry Austin. Austin is a member of the speech department staff at the University of Michigan and assisted with this num-

Attack teen girl on way to school

A Junior High East girl was attacked by an unknown male assailant on her way to school last Thursday; it was the third such attack in the City of Plymouth in the past few weeks.

The victim's name is being withheld because of her age. Her attacker, described as a high school boy, according to assistant police chief Loren Johnson, grabbed her from behind as she walked along Harding St. on her way to school.

Police indicated the youth tried to put his hand over her mouth, and she bit his hand, causing him to flee. She was not hurt in the attack.

Scientists view local smasher site

A team of National Academy of Science members toured one of the 85 proposed sites for a $400 million atom smasher Friday — a site located between Plymouth and Ann Arbor in Washtenaw County.

Total investment in the project would reach $1 billion, according to Congressman Weston E. Vivian, who represents the Second Congressional District, which includes Plymouth.

The Atomic Energy Commission has been considering many sites for several months. Plans call for a major scientific laboratory for the study of nuclear physics; the lab would include a giant proton accelerator.

Vivian, in a statement to the Plymouth Mail, said the National Academy team toured the proposed site with top-ranking scientists and administrators from the University of Michigan. He also said he felt that the Michigan site would be one of the final sites considered.

"Only a very few of the many sites in the Nation have been singled out for this special attention. The visitors discussed with the university officials the extent to which university facilities and staff could be expected to aid in the location, and operation, of training of personnel for the laboratory.

"Most important, however, the visitors came to obtain as complete information as possible on the geological characteristics of the land in the proposed site; that is, the

Fisher among candidates screened in Twp.

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees interviewed three candidates for their public service director post, among them, City of Plymouth police chief and administrative aide, Kenneth Fisher, at a special executive session last Wednesday.

Fisher is reportedly up for retirement at the end of this year. The names of Fisher, Alvin Royal and Sgt. Micael Sibal all appeared on the agenda for Tuesday night's (Jan. 11) regular meeting of the Township Board. Royal is from Ecorse, Sibal is with the Michigan State Police.

Board action took place too late to make the Plymouth Mail front page deadline. Long-time Township resident State Police Commissioner Frederick Davids has aided in the search for a public service director, and has directed candidates to the Board.

THE POST will pay $7,500 a year, according to Township supervisor John McEwen. His first duty will be to take over the fire department.

Fisher, long a Plymouth policeman, was the City's Director of Public Safety, then later acting City manager in the interim between Richard Blodgett who came in August, and the loss of Alvin Glassford in December, 1964.

Recently, he was appointed administrative aide to Blodgett. Fisher has directed the complicated activities of the urban renewal projects, and has spent much time meeting with the routine boards and commissions that make up the City's governmental structure, aside from his police and fire duties.

A BARRAGE:

McEwen fields queries on Township's course

Plymouth Township's supervisor John McEwen outlined the proposed 701 plans for Plymouth Township, then faced a barrage of questions from the floor Thursday noon at the Businessmen's Forum meeting.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the luncheon are held in the Mayflower Hotel, and are designed to bring speakers talking on current issues before the community's businessmen.

McEwen briefly outlined the 701 plan, noting he expected adoption after the public hearing was reconvened this Saturday.

"The plan forecasts a population of 44,485 people when we are completely developed. Their forecast for 1970 is for 16,000 homes. I'm not sure how this will hold up because we're at 12,000 homes now, and pushing," McEwen said.

The 1-275 route is firm through the Township McEwen noted, and land purchase will begin this year.

THE SCHOOLCRAFT extension that would run south of Five Mile Rd. may cut diagonally across the Township, he said, "but we want them to run along the tracks, and behind the Detroit House of Correction."

"We've made good progress in our sewer and water systems, McEwen noted, continuing. "The new plans also attempt to discourage strip

Kiwanis Club honors new officers for '66

William Lyons, 349 Adams, was installed as president of the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth, Jan. 3 at the annual installation meeting held at Lofy's restaurant.

Art Walker, past Lieutenant-Governor of Michigan Kiwanis clubs and former Plymouth High School coach, was the installing officer.

Lyons, who has been an active Kiwanian for eight years, succeeds Marvin Terry as president. Lyons is sales representative for the Wilson Sporting Goods Co.

Also installed at the Jan. 3 meeting were: Robert Uter, 11827 Amherst Ct., first vice-president; Harper Stephens, 11410 Southworth, second vice-president; Ernest Henry, 383 Pacific, secretary for the 23rd year; Roland Lutz, treasurer for the ninth year.

In accepting his new office, Lyons outlined the objectives for the club during 1966: Leadership for Youth; Build youth for leadership (Continued on Page 8)

Teen girl attacked

(Continued from Page 1) the boy walking towards her, and then grabbed her once they had passed each other, police say. She went on to school and reported the incident there.

THE ATTACK occurred sometime between 7:15 and 7:20 a.m., when it's still dark. The victim's description is general: 5'4", thin build, light hair.

Johnson said this, and two other similar attacks in recent weeks are still under investigation.

The first happened Dec. 23 when a 15-year-old baby-sitter was dragged from a home and severely beaten late at night. A returning housewife apparently scared off the attacker.

Johnson noted that the victim had viewed several suspects, but did not identify any one of them as her attacker.

"We are no further than we were. We've run out of suspects," Johnson said Monday.

The other attack occurred Jan. 3. In this case, a Junior High West girl was dragged behind a bush and molested on her way to school.

Like the attack Thursday, she was alone and it was still dark outside.

Two girls across the street from the attack Jan. 3 were able to describe the attacker as a high school boy, Johnson said.

CONTINUED and expanded surveillance of children walking to and from school is in effect, Johnson concluded.

The good life

The domestic scene

Doug Johnson

This week marks a change in the title of the column I get to write every once in a while.

Previously it was called "The Sporting Life" and was to be devoted to the Plymouth Sports scene. But sports were such a small portion of the total scope of my job, and I often took up topics other than sports, over the past year.

Now, all we have done is dropped the word 'Sporting' and added 'Good'.

And, at 23; it is a good life for me. I was married Saturday to a college sweetheart from Grand Rapids. We met over a cafeteria steam table at Michigan State University, and it was love and mashed potatoes at first sight.

Our wedding was simple and very moving for me personally. I really can't say too much about it except it capped a wonderful year that began last January when I began working for the Plymouth Mail.

The days preceding my wedding I was the epitome of coolness and calmness. But the whole facade came tumbling down about an hour before the ceremony. I was like the great one-horse shay. I fell apart at the seams after ages of complete composure.

Which is the way it should be I guess. But I really was afraid my knocking knees would drown out the organ music.

To show you what kind of beautiful and well educated child bride I have, note her first grocery shopping venture:

Faced with a limited budget for the week, she needed to keep count of money spent as she plopped goodies into the grocery basket. So she marked off three columns and headed them 25 cents, 50 cents and $1. Each item got one mark in the column closest to its actual price. It was a judgement if an item cost 27 cents, or 79 cents, just where it went.

By her method the bill should have totaled $13.50.

Now I don't want to set modern accounting and banking back 50 years, but gentlemen, get set.

The actual bill: $13.36 — only 14 cents off.

That, folks, is womanhood and modern math, in lovely combination.

Talking to Township treasurer Elizabeth Holmes, she reports that the Township now has 1509 water customers. She promised to buy all her co-workers a drink whenever her department went over 1500 customers.

So last week, her befuddled co-workers were paid off with a long tall drink of . . .

You guessed it. Plymouth Township water.

Long time Plymouth High School coach and now PHS assistant principal John M. Hoben is now recovering from a painful neck and head injury received in a pre-holiday crash with another car.

Big Mike says he wouldn't wish it on anyone.

He was hurt in an accident that was not his fault, where the driver apparently fell asleep.

Like they say: You've got to watch out for the other guy.

Followers of the Ecumenical movement should take note of an important event: the second annual Inter-Faith dinner set for Jan. 21 at Lofy's. Last year the inter-denominational panel discussion drew over 400 watchers.

Something new on the Plymouth scene: a new telephone prefix. New accounts in Plymouth are now being serviced with a 455 prefix rather than a 453 prefix. If you're confused, write a letter to Bell Telephone. I don't know why either.

on the FLIP side

By Jim Miller

Blunk's dynamic Chuck Getson and his family will never forget the 1965 Christmas holidays. It was his brother-in-law who was held for two and a half hours at Metro Airport because of the "nothing box" found in his luggage following a crank telephone call reporting a bomb on his plane. The little wooden box with dials, lights and beepers that does absolutely nothing was found next to a gift assortment of small wrenches and screwdrivers.

Have you heard about two of our local men, Bob Portman and Walt Wilczewski? They had been tinkering with their own idea of a tip up for the past four years before they got serious last July and decided to go into production. By October they had sold 3,000 units and have orders for 10,000 more. The two have appeared on Michigan Outdoors twice, once in a film portion showing 15 straight tip up hits which included a seven and a half pound Wall Eye.

Both will attend the Tip Up Town — U.S.A. Ice Festival at Houghton Lake this weekend where they will demonstrate and sell their new rig. Walt took first prize last year with a 17 3/4 pound Northern Pike. If you missed their showing on TV, you can see the tip up at The Trading Post. In fact, Bill Keiffer will undoubtedly let you take one home to show the family for just $3.95 rigged.

Seven-year-old Howard McLellan of 11644 Francis set some sort of a first for Wendell Lent of Davis & Lent when he entered the store recently and was fitted for a size nine jacket and size seven pants in order to serve as ring bearer for his cousin's wedding.

According to Fred Hadley of Sherwin-Williams, the paint industry which is frequently used as a measure of forthcoming business prosperity reports that business will be up approximately 6 per cent in 1966. It is expected that there will be over one and a half million new homes started in the new year and that the repair and remodeling of just residential buildings will reach into a 14 billion dollar market.

Carl Caplin didn't tell how well his fabrics sold in December, but he had a soaring success with a gift item from Cessna. His order of battery operated, remote controlled airplanes were sold out in less than a week after delivery. The item itself proved sturdy, outlasting all dad's stunts before being passed on to the small fry.

The Ray Conzett's of the newly opened Baskin-Robbins Ice Cream Store have provided a menu of flavors that's as good reading as eating. Have you ever tried a "Rocky Road" or a "Cha Cha Cha"?

The only way we could make a Catalina look even better would be to show you its price tag.

Because stretching back for nearly 18 feet behind that dashing front end is everything that would make pricing a Catalina the next logical step: A 389-cu. in. V-8 Wide-Track wheels. Nylon carpets. C of C has new look

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce has a new look for 1966.

In mid-December, Chamber leaders unveiled a far-reaching program for the coming year, labeling it "Blueprint for Progress," and calling for:

A full time director for the Chamber's many activities.

Chamber representation at local governmental meetings.

Formation of a downtown parking authority.

Creation of a week-end Leadership Conference, with Hillsdale College Leadership Development Center as a possible location.

Encouragement of businessmen taking part in political activity in the upcoming election, with the party of their choice.

Conducting the political action course to acquaint adults with the problems and procedures of political parties.

Continued dynamic membership drive that in the last two years has added 93 new members.

Continued interest in improving relationships between the area governmental units, and the industrial development group — the Plymouth Area Planning Commission.

These, and many more points were made by the leadership of the Chamber of Commerce in December when their plan was proposed.

The "Blueprint for Progress" reflects a growing awareness among the Chamber businessmen of their individual and collective roles in the decisions that shape their community.

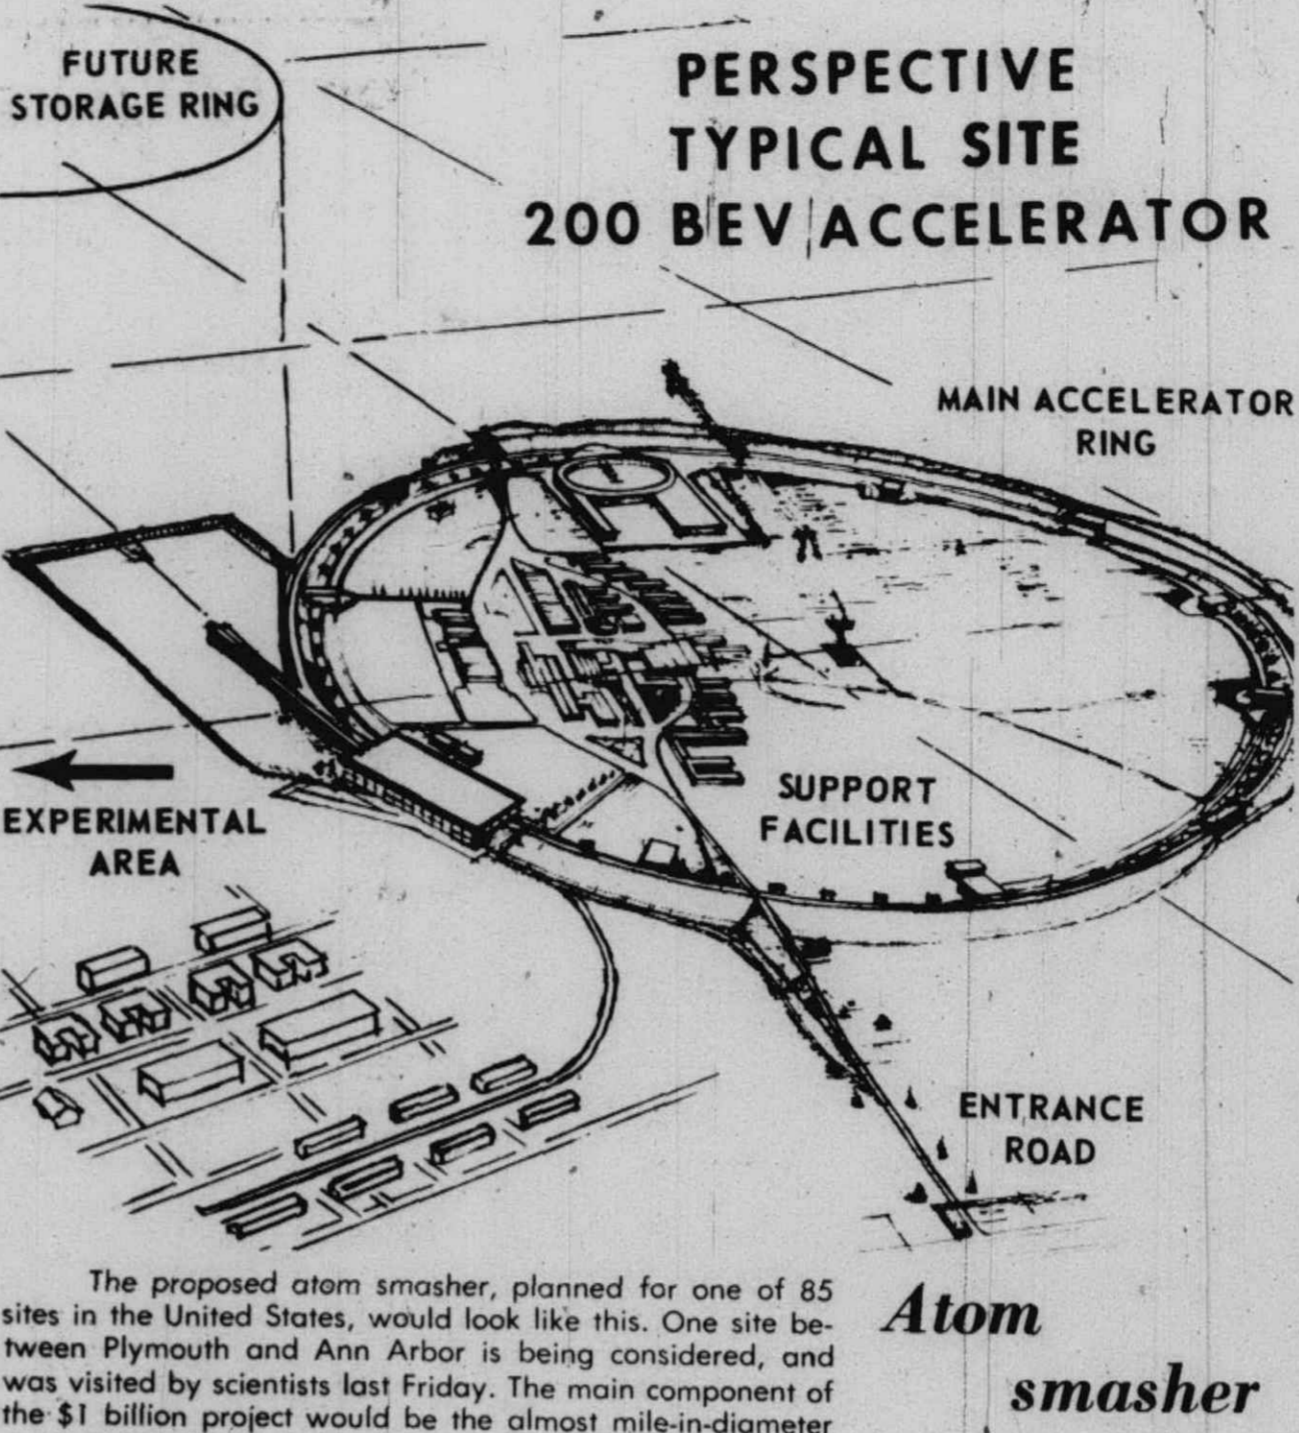

The "Progress" plans are ambitious and pose an important challenge to every single member of the Chamber.

To what extent the challenge is met will determine how well Plymouth's business community continues to prosper and grow.

Part of the plans are already in progress. The Chamber has had a representative at several of the governmental meetings the last few weeks.

There is probably no better place to start, because if any major goals are to be achieved they must be achieved by working with the legislative bodies that govern Plymouth.

The new look being planned by the Chamber merits everyone's attention, and if the beginnings are the signs of eventual fulfillment the Plymouth Community has taken one more step towards being truly unique.

The proposed atom smasher, planned for one of 85 sites in the United States, would look like this. One site between Plymouth and Ann Arbor is being considered, and was visited by scientists last Friday. The main component of the $1 billion project would be the almost mile-in-diameter acceleration ring, composed of 5000 electromagnets.

load-bearing strength of the under-surface soils and the stability of the soils — crucial questions which will determine what sites can be used. "Members of the engineering staff at the university and of local engineering firms provided the visitors extensive data. Professor William S. Housel, one of the recognized experts in soil mechanics, summarized their views as follows: 'The soil bearing strength and stability are excellent, entirely adequate for the purpose; the site geologically is probably as good as any site which can be found in the Nation.'

Hospital thanks gift givers

Dear Editor: As we enter the New Year, we should like that you share with your readers our kindest appreciation for their thoughtfulness during the recent Christmas Season. Your readers' responses to our appeal letter, in behalf of our forgotten patients, were generous and most helpful. Clubs and groups which regularly sponsor parties on the wards of our hospital planned extras in treats and programs which added greatly to the Season's meaning. And carolers and special hospital-wide programs told all of us that Christmas certainly is Christendom's season of sharing.

The Plymouth Pilgrim
By DAVE WILEY

Late one evening last week the phone rang and Mrs. Thomas Cape, wife of the Plymouth apartment builder, was on the other end.

She thought The Mail's editorial on her husband's request for the city to vacate a portion of Byron St. was unfair. Mrs. Cape pointed out that her husband was not convicted when he appeared in court on a charge of allowing an apartment to be occupied without final inspection approval.

She also told me that her husband had been given direction at the City Hall, in terms of some of the procedures he has employed in construction of his apartments.

City officials emphatically denied this when I queried them.

The builder's wife said her husband has a long-standing desire to build a Christian camp for delinquent children and noted that Christ himself urged forgiveness on an unlimited basis.

The inference, I guess, was that the City should overlook irregularities and illegal procedures in this case.

Monday evening, Cape made his 27th appearance in 20 months before the city's governing body at a meeting called especially to reconsider his case.

His wife accompanied him to the special session, and passed out a religious pamphlet to those present and, one point, began to read from another to the commission.

But City Fathers apparently were as convinced as I am that the law, if not the Lord, would frown on some of Cape's procedures and techniques.

They voted the request down unanimously.

This is a somewhat disorganized dissertation, to be followed in the next couple of weeks by goodness-knows-what since Plymouth Mail Advertising Manager Jim Miller is leaving Wednesday for greener pastures.

Since competent men are scarcer than hen's teeth, I will become a local Willie Loman of the advertising field for a brief (I hope) period.

Jim's departure has been imminent for about a month; and, frankly, we'll all miss him. Those of us here at The Mail, and many of the community's businessmen have come to like and respect Jim Miller during the time he's been here.

It will probably do me good to reacquire myself with retail advertising. I started out, some years ago, in the ad department of a central Michigan county-seat weekly and it will be fun to get back in the swing of things.

Bear with me, huh?

News Editor Doug Johnson, who joined the ranks of the carefree, happy marrieds Saturday, has written a column this week that modestly points out how cool, calm and collected he was.

I have been threatening to tell the REAL story. But I won't.

Just let me say that Doug's bride, Mary Lou, is gay and articulate and lovely. She will no doubt accompany old cool, calm and collected to newsworthy events and occasions.

Just watch for the man with a devil-may-care look and a pretty blonde, carrying a battered press camera and two or three cartons of flash bulbs.

Deny Cape request

"Cape may have a hard case, but as the lawyers say, hard cases don't make good law," McKeon concluded.

Commissioner George Lawton, among those voting for re-consideration, questioned Cape about the possibility of acquiring land adjacent to the stranded apartment units. Cape noted that the owner was in California and the matter was complicated by a will.

The Commission itself last week split not only over Cape and his request, but also over the parliamentary method of handling it. Commissioner Vallier questioned a ruling made by City Attorney Thomas Healy, and again Monday filed a written challenge, noting he felt a partial vacation deserved a second public hearing. Healy had ruled a partial vacation was possible.

Three property owners affected by the Byron Ave. problem also filed written objections: Harold Stevens, Robert Gillis, and William Hubbs.

The matter was voted for re-consideration, thus reversing the first denial. But Monday, the Commission, after hearing McKeon, and reviewing a lengthy report on the matter from the City's administration — a report that recapitulated the entire case — decided to deny the request for only a portion of the street.

Cape, long embroiled with the City, paved a portion of Byron Ave. this summer, was told it was illegal but that it could stay in place.

Then building inspector Chuck Thompson 'red tagged' two apartments, holding up their rental until Cape had land to satisfy the City zoning laws — land he hoped to get when Byron Ave. was vacated.

This beautiful Shrine recently celebrated its 250th anniversary.

LAVENDER FLU

Your grandfather probably knew this cure. Flowers of lavender quilted in a hat were supposed to ward off "stuffed-up" noses and head colds. Pleasant treatment—but certainly not a sure cure. Today, thanks to medical science, we have numerous effective vaccines . . . against flu, whooping cough and other respiratory diseases . . . to immunize and protect us from the discomforts of infections. So, why suffer needlessly. Ask your physician about them. Let him prescribe the medication that is most effective for your needs. Then come to us for prescription service.

Trenton nips tankers 54-47 in home meet

Marked improvement in the Plymouth swimmers was noted this week as they came close to topping powerhouse Trenton, 47-54. Pat McCord continued his impressive swimming with a first in the 50 yd. freestyle event. Bill Wolfe and John Skinner placed second and third respectively in the 200 yd. freestyle event.

Sophomore Bob Reinas, a transfer student, took a third in the 200 yd. individual medley.

John Larson won a second, and Rick Lorenz a third in the springboard diving event.

McCord swam second in the 100 yd. butterfly, and Captain Al Saxton won a first in the 100 yd. freestyle, with teammate Pat Brady taking a third in the same event.

Ron Wittoff swam first in the 100 yd. backstroke, posting a 1:04.1 time.

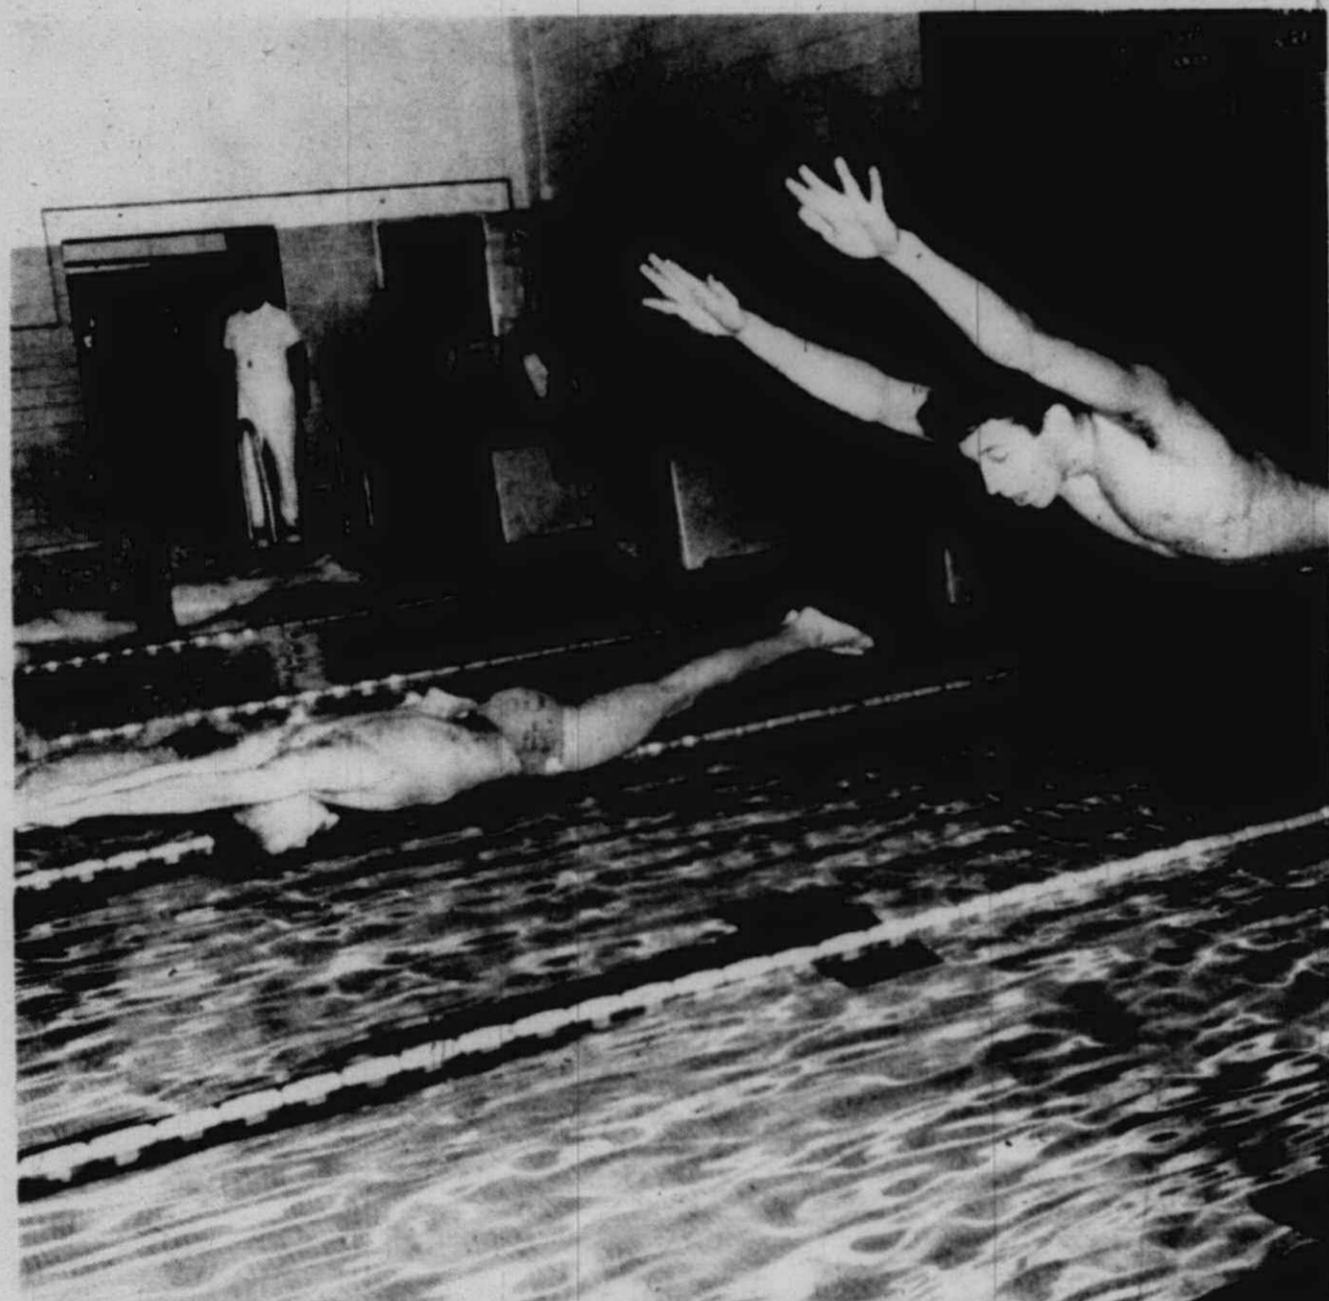

Wolfe took a second in the 400 yd. freestyle, one of the events that Plymouth has made a poor showing in this year.

Reinas swam second and Biff Leonard third in the 100 yd. breaststroke.

The 200 yd. freestyle team took a first to close out the meet, with a team of Bob Shirey, Pete Kenney, John Norman and Chick Porter swimming.

SOPHOMORE transfer student Bob Reinas may help bolster the hopes of Rock swimmers. Here he finishes the last leg of the 200 yard individual medley at the meet Friday afternoon at PHS, which Plymouth lost to Trenton, 54-47.

TWO PLYMOUTH SWIMMERS, Bob Reinas and Mark Newman kick off the starting line at the Plymouth-Trenton swimming meet Friday afternoon. Trenton, a swimming powerhouse this year, topped the Rocks by a narrow margin.

Three ex-PHS swimmers aid in Schoolcraft College victory

Freshman Doug Jaskerney, Gary Bohl, and Burt Quinn, all former Plymouth High swimmers, earned points in Schoolcraft College's 46 - 45 victory over Aquinas College last week in the Franklin High pool. Jaskerney and Bohl were double winners and Quinn took a first in springboard diving.

The Schoolcraft squad had been badly shaken by the loss of experienced swimmers earlier in the week due to their failure to measure up in the classroom. Schoolcraft's coach Bob Leggat commented: "Our squad lacks size but we hope to pick up some new swimmers from the group of students that registered for the Freshman class last week. Incoming Freshmen are immediately eligible for collegiate competition."

Jaskerney's victories in the 200 yd. individual medley and 500 yd. freestyle were matched by Bohl's wins in the 200 yd. freestyle and 100 yd. freestyle. The final event of the evening was decisive. Schoolcraft won the 400 yd. freestyle relay to edge Aquinas out by one point.

In a second dual meet, Schoolcraft fell to a squad with more depth from Delta College. Strong individual performances by Schoolcraft swimmers were not enough to offset the overwhelming performances of Delta swimmers. Delta pulled away to stay in the final three events on the program; the final score was: Delta 55, Schoolcraft 36.

"In both meets every man on our squad contributed individual points to our team total - I was very proud of their efforts as individuals and as a team, perhaps we can find a few more swimmers on campus to give us some needed depth," Leggat said.

SCHOOLCRAFT'S next performance will be on the road. They travel to Oakland University for a double-dual meet with Oakland and Windsor University on Saturday, Jan. 15.

JV swimmers lose by three to determined Trenton squad

Plymouth's JV swimmers lost another close meet last week to Trenton, 52-49.

Tom Workman's team took a first in the 200 yd. medley. Bob Wellman swam second in the 200 yd. freestyle, with a second being posted by D. J. Catton.

John Larson netted a second place in the diving event, Mark Newman a third. John Norman took the 200 yd. individual medley.

Wellman won the 400 yd. freestyle, and Craig Zurn took a second in the 100 yd. breast stroke.

Promising Junior High tankers whip Redford Union 58-37

Paul Cummings' junior high swimmers whipped Redford Union 58-37 last week, taking eight firsts to win.

A team of Craig White, Jack Smith, Ralph Collins and Bill Kloote won the 200 yd. individual medley.

Bob Andes won the 50 yd. freestyle event, while Randy Keeth took a second in the 100 yd. individual medley.

Gary Carlson took a first in the diving, and Brad Maxey a second. Keeth swam first in the 50 yd. butterfly.

Len Wendel won the 100 yd. freestyle, and Andes won the 50 yd. backstroke event, with White taking a second.

Smith won the 50 yd. breaststroke, and the junior highers then topped the meet by winning the 200 yd. freestyle relay.

Ninth graders dump Farmington

The Plymouth ninth grade team whipped Farmington East last Thursday 40-28 as the junior high teams opened their season.

Coach Casey Cavell's charges scored a big 15 points in the second quarter to build a comfortable margin that was never threatened.

Bob Kellman hit for 10 points, Jerry Latham for 11 and Bruce Bauman for 9 in the game.

In eighth grade play, the local team was trounced 47-8 as Wayne Weimer's charges were held scoreless in two whole periods.

Next games for the two teams will be here, Jan. 13 against Farmington. Games begin at 4 at Junior High East.

Trading Post, Wilson's win

The Trading Post topped Nankin 4-2, and Wilson's Engineering ran over another Nankin team 4-1 last week in the Plymouth Hockey Association.

In the Trading Post game, Dan Bongiovanni scored two goals, and Denny Shelley and Dale Crawford one each. John Gillis netted two, and Butch Shelly and Tony Daykin one each in the Wilson game.

In defeats, the VFW team was shut out 4-0 by Nankin, and University Litho lost 5-3 to Nankin, with Chuck Prochazka, Dave Palmer and Bill Hudson scoring one apiece.

IN AN EXHIBITION game last Sunday, the VFW team trounced Milford 7-0 as Doug "Lead On" McDuff scored four goals, and Kevin O'Brien, Pat Herter and Chris Thomas scored one each.

Rescheduled

The swimming meet scheduled for Jan. 29 with Franklin has been rescheduled for this Saturday, Jan. 15, at 6:30 p.m. here.

Trenton shells Rock cagers with 33-point first quarter

Basketball is a game in which two teams try to put a round ball through a round hoop; that's it, basically, with everything else being a refinement.

One of the refinements is the ability to move the ball up court, a refinement at which Plymouth has been so poor all season they have become notorious.

Guard trouble, and the lack of forward Mike Stakias for most of the game left the Rocks helpless against a powerful Trenton team Friday, as Plymouth bowed, 80-42.

Trenton shelled Plymouth unmercifully in the opening quarter, hitting for 33 points, while the Rocks hit for a modest 12. And Trenton had 49 points at the half, which would have been enough to win, had they, by some great mistake, gone scoreless in the final two quarters. Plymouth had 24 points at the half.

SOPHOMORE star forward Mike Stakias hit for 10 points to lead the Rocks, but was sidelined after the first quarter play with a sprained ankle. Stakias, a key in Plymouth's offense, had hurt his ankle earlier in the week in practice.

Trenton pressed the Rocks early in the game, and the guards threw the ball away several times.

Rick Jones and Bob McCord started the game at the guard positions but Steve Hulce and Ron Lowe soon replaced them, but fared no better in the ball handling department.

To add to Plymouth's woes, big Jim Scharmen, the Rock center, scored seven points, but then fouled out. Neither he, nor Stakias were up to their usual performances on the boards.

Trenton's guards, on the other hand, burned up the net, hitting well from outside. To make matters worse, Plymouth hit only 8 of 26 charity tosses, a dismal 30%.

Theatre Guild to stage 'Monique', two-act mystery

The Plymouth Theatre Guild will present "Monique," a suspense filled drama in two acts on Jan. 13, 14 and 15. Curtain time is 8:15.

The Guild was very fortunate to have Kingsley Page of Walled Lake direct this unusual play which is a combination of terrifying suspense and mystery with a wee bit of the supernatural thrown in for good measure.

Page has been directing in the theatre for 35 years and in addition to small theatre has done work in the movies and television.

Helen Fortney, a Plymouthite, portrays Monique, the attractive and domineering woman doctor who has ensnared the leading man. Helen graduated from Plymouth High School and Hamilton Secretarial College in Ann Arbor, and has been in four previous productions here in Plymouth.

Fernand, the leading man, Alexander Zeran, is also from Walled Lake. He has been active in theatre work since his college days at Penn State and is presently Director of Vocal Music at Walled Lake Senior High School.

The wife of Fernand, Lucienne, is played by Ellen McNeiece of Northville. She has done much theatre work in various parts of the country including California and New York; she thus far has produced two plays for the Plymouth Guild. Last year she appeared in "Ladies in Retirement" for the Northville Guild of which she is also a member.

DENISE LORENZ of Plymouth is a newcomer to the Guild; she portrays the girl next door, Lisette, madly in love with the leading man. Miss Lorenz has many talents including dancing with which she teaches at the high school. Recently under her direction three of her pupils appeared in the children's show the Guild presented.

The maid in the play is Norma Loveless who has appeared in several productions. Her excellent portrayals of the witch in all the children's shows make her the favorite actress of the children in Plymouth.

Others in the cast include Milo Jordon as a retired police inspector. Milo is presently News and Continuity Director of WOIA F. M. Stereo and WOIB A. M. in Ann Arbor and has made several appearances in Plymouth and with the Nankin Players.

Jerry French, "Monique's" producer, has been with the Guild for ten years and is a member of the board. You can see French in the part of Andre.

Jacob Rumpf, who is considered one of the charter members of the Guild, will play Goutte. Guild fans remember Jacob for his brilliant performance in "Harvey" last year and more recently an eccentric doctor in "Everybody Loves Opal."

At the present time he is president of the Guild.

KENNETH MacLEOD, who excels in our special lighting effects, plays as the messenger. To date he has appeared in several Guild performances and has done lights for the past three years.

Meanwhile behind the scenes Merlin Heft, the set designer, is keeping his crews busy painting and hammering till all hours of the night.

Heft calls it fun; his crew laughingly refer to it as "slave labor." Richard E. Brown also keeps everyone hopping as he is tape recording all sorts of spooky sound effects and voices; Brown is one of the best sound men available, according to Guild officials.

JayCee Week activities will come to a conclusion on Sunday, Jan. 23 when a prayer breakfast is held at the First Methodist Church at 7 a.m. Open to all JayCees and their families and local ministers, the prayer breakfast will be conducted by Lutheran Church of the Epiphany Pastor David Strang, a member of the Junior Chamber.

During JayCee week observances here, the U.S. JayCees will be recognizing America's Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1965 in St. Paul, Minn.

The Distinguished Service Award winner from Plymouth will be entered in the Michigan JayCee contest, which picks the outstanding young men, 21 through 35, in the State. State winners will in turn be entered in national competition.

Last year's DSA winner in Plymouth was Harvey Ziel, prominent young Plymouth accountant — active in many civic activities and in the local Industrial Development Corporation.

Dr. Starr, speaker at the Monday banquet, is the former Dean of Eastern Nazarene College of Quincy, Mass. A nationally known educator and lecturer, he joined Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. in June, 1965.

His duties include coordination of the company's planned activities in community and educational relations.

Dr. Starr is the recipient of four National Science Foundation Fellowships. He is listed in "Who's Who in Education" and "American Men of Science," and has lectured at Poona University in Poona, India by appointment of the U.S. State Department.

A graduate of Muskegon High School, Dr. Starr received an A.B. degree in chemistry from Olivet Nazarene College and a Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. Before becoming Dean of Eastern Nazarene College, Dr. Starr taught and lectured in several other institutions and was associated with the Engineering Division of Chrysler Corp.

He is co-founder of College Resources, Educational Consultants, and is serving his 14th year on the Board of Trustees of Olivet Nazarene College. He and Mrs. Starr and their four children live in Plymouth.

In sports, he likes baseball, swimming and football. He lists camping as his favorite activity.

Serving our country

Bradley D. Miller
Airman Apprentice Bradley D. Miller, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas J. Miller of 9609 Southworth, is serving at the Naval Air Station, Patuxent River, Md.

The air station is the site of the Naval Test Center, Naval Test Pilot School, and several anti-submarine warfare patrol squadrons.

OVER 100 YEARS OLD: Pioneer home falls for parking area

MORE PARKING is sorely needed in downtown Plymouth, and Ralph Lorenz, in the black topcoat, has set about creating some. The parking, just off Maple Street, will serve his new Mayflower Meeting House on the recently-remodeled second floor of the old Tonquish Oddfellow Building. Here wreckers tear down a house over 100 years old at 723 Maple St.

A house more than 100 years old fell before the heavy shovel of a wrecking machine last Wednesday at 723 Maple St.

The wrecker's shovel cleared the house in less than a day.

The house, and other land in the immediate vicinity is being cleared by Mayflower Hotel owner Ralph Lorenz.

"What we're doing is creating parking for the new Mayflower Meeting House," Lorenz said.

Lorenz was on hand when the wrecking began, and ordered the salvage of several hand-hewn beams that held the house together.

Apparently built before the Civil War in an age when nails were an expensive commodity, the studding and beams of the home show they were all held together by wooden pegs. Studs and beams were joined together with mitered, hand-cut joints.

SEVERAL longtime Plymouth residents recall portions of the history of the house. Oral Rathburn recalled last week: "723 Maple's been there a long time. We lived there—my folks—and rented it for $4 a month long time ago. Then they built a house across the street." Rathburn now lives at 662 Kellogg.

No one knows how many Plymouth families have lived there, or even for sure what date it was built. One Plymouthite, Roswell Tanger, 444 Irvin, was born there in 1899.

"It was an old house when I was born in 1899. I think it is much over 100 years old, easily one of the oldest places in town."

Now, an obscure house, built when Abraham Lincoln walked the land, is gone, the almost willing victim of progress and the ravages of time.

OUTLIVING its usefulness, and making way for much needed downtown parking and the significant and ambitious plans of Ralph Lorenz, the house fell beneath the wrecking tools easily, as if it were glad something was finally taking its honored place.

News and notes

The Drama Club is going to see the "Sound of Music" next week at the Madison Theatre. Those who will be going are those people who participated in the Christmas program.

The student-faculty talent show will be held in February. The theme this year is, W.E.S.T.-T.V. Try-outs will begin soon. This is to be sponsored jointly by the Drama Club and the Student Council.

Recently Obreheim Kamel visited Miss Gibson's social studies classes. Mr. Kamel is a student at the University of Michigan from Cairo, Egypt. The students were somewhat surprised to find people are really alike all over the world.

The Art Club will begin working with ceramics as soon as the mosaics are finished.

Name Foust technical representative

Donald E. Foust has been appointed a Technical Representative for Unistrut Corporation, Wayne, it was announced by Michael J. Sonk, Director of Sales.

Foust has been a member of the Corporation since 1959 and prior to his appointment was a member of the Corporation's engineering staff. In his new position he will be giving technical assistance to architects and engineers in the states of Michigan, Ohio and parts of Kentucky and Indiana.

He is a resident of Plymouth, married, and the father of three children.

American Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Mae Hoelscher, President of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 391, said that with a record enrollment of members during the annual membership drive, the organization is planning ahead for a busy, successful year.

Activities to help strengthen the security of America's peace and freedom will be emphasized in January. During February the American Legion Auxiliary stresses Americanism, as it joins with the nation in observance of the birthdays of two great Americans, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

March is community service month, when the membership strives to improve the communities as they cooperate in community projects. Carrying forward the Auxiliary's continuous program for the welfare of America's children will be April's special activity, along with the study of the Philippines, the 1966 study country in the Foreign Relations program.

POPPIES — May is the month we see poppies blooming in memory of the nation's war dead. An estimated 20,000,000 of the little veteran-made flowers will be distributed by the American Legion Auxiliary.

June will bring attention to the work of the Auxiliary's 148,000 junior members and July will emphasize the nationwide Girls State program, a youth citizenship training program. Annual Department Conventions are in August, and September is music month.

Passage-Gayde Unit No. 391 Rehabilitation Chairman Fern Burleson announced that in December, Jim Stein and Harry Burleson delivered and distributed 100 canteen books and cigarettes for Christmas to the veterans at Maybury. This is one project the Post and Unit carry on every year.

Auxiliary President Mae Hoelscher wishes to thank members for their assistance at the special joint meeting with the VFW Post and Auxiliary.

Post Entertainment Chairman Bob Richter and Unit Activities Chairman Betty Richter wish to thank everyone for all their help on the New Year's party.

Passage-Gayde President Mae Hoelscher announces there will be a short executive board meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 19, at 7 p.m. All officers are asked to be present. The regular business meeting will start at 8 p.m.

Passage-Gayde Post and Auxiliary will resume the "Why Are We" banquet series Saturday, Jan. 22. Dinner starts at 6:30 p.m., with program to follow. Members' donations are being accepted by Lillian Kinghorn. Please make your contribution to her as soon as possible.

Canton sends new zoning to County for final approval

The Canton Township planning commission met in regular session last week and sent the completed draft of the new 701 master plan zoning to the Wayne County Coordinating Committee for final approval.

The new plan has occupied most of the commission's time the past few months after a series of public hearings in early spring uncovered several areas of controversy.

The public hearings also prompted one woman, Mrs. Letha MacDermid, whose house is in the path of the proposed freeway, to circulate a referendum on the entire zoning proposal.

Earlier last fall, she announced she had enough signatures to insure the matter would be on the ballot. Just when the election will be held is still up in the air.

"We could hold a special election," Canton supervisors or Phil Dingley said last week. "But we really haven't decided. It might even be with the regular election next August."

Canton will, he said, work on the zoning, then move to the comprehensive development plan. A similar plan went up for public hearing Dec. 4 in Plymouth Township.

Several changes have been made in the proposed zoning, according to Dingley, all as a result of the public hearings and the objections.

"WE MADE quite a few changes," he said. Now we will wait for approval from Wayne County.

The Comprehensive development plan, better known as the 701 federally-aided master plan, notes several significant accomplishments during the last two years — all of which point towards Canton being a potential boom area:

1. Five miles of trunk water lines operating at a cost of $198,000.

2. Three miles of trunk sewer constructed.

3. Three automobiles and two trucks purchased.

4. Twelve miles of drainage ditches cleaned.

5. $7000 spent on recreation, industrial and planning promotion, and road maintenance. (A portion of that went to the Plymouth area planning commission, a three-government commission designed to spur interest in industrial developments in the area.)

The public improvement plans call for the purchase of 40 acres for a civic site, two recreation sites, further extension of sewer and water lines, a new fire station on Warren Rd., an Administration or water board building. Also proposed is the addition of two police cruisers, two more fire trucks, and extensive road improvements.

Among the startling projections are proposals for 43 policemen to serve Canton by 1980, a 60 acre recreation center, and a civic center located at the Number One Fire Station and Township Hall at Cherry Hill and Canton Center Roads.

The plan also notes needs for schools in the three school districts that cover Canton: Plymouth, Van Buren (Belleville) and Wayne.

"The whole thing is really a kind of a dream book," Dingley said.

Just how much can be done, and when, now puzzles Canton's officials.

BUT, THE ground work is being laid many years ahead of the boom, in keeping with the modern trend toward advance planning.

"We'll be ready when it comes," they say.

Register now for Merit Scholarship at high school

Students who expect to complete their secondary school requirements at Plymouth High School and enter college in 1967 can register now at the school office for the 1966-67 National Merit Scholarship Program, Principal Carvel Bentley announced today.

The first step for all students who wish to enter the nationwide competition is to take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQST), which will be given in the school at 9:00 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 26 (or Tuesday, March 1) 1966.

Participating students pay a $1.00 fee, which is remitted by the school to the testing agency, Science Research Associates. When the test is given on a Saturday the school may charge an additional fee up to $1 for special administrative costs of testing on a non-school day. The cost to students at P.H.S. is $1.50. If a student is unable to pay, the testing fee will be paid by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) if requested by his school.

Students can take the test to obtain information useful in planning their further education or careers as well as competing for the scholarships awarded by NMSC. Along with his NMQST scores, each participating student will receive a handbook to help him understand his educational strengths and weaknesses, evaluate his scores, and compare his performances with that of other high school students across the country. The handbook and other interpretive materials are furnished by the testing agency at no extra cost.

The highest-scoring students in each state will be named semifinalists and will receive further consideration in the Merit Program. In addition to these awards made by NMSC, more than 280 business corporations, foundations, colleges, professional associations, unions, trusts, other organizations, and individuals give scholarships through the Merit Program.

Some 2,000 Merit Scholarships were awarded last year with stipends ranging from $400 to $6,000 for four college years. A winner's stipend is determined by assessing the amount of financial assistance he will need at the college he will attend.

About 11,000 students have won Merit Scholarships in the first ten annual programs.

Senior Citizens now 100 strong

Over one hundred members were greeted jointly by president Sam Wilhelmi and vice-president Grant Camphausen at the first meeting of the Senior Citizens Club on Jan. 6.

The yearly report from an outstanding committee showed another abundant year in attendance, membership, social activities and planned trips.

A reminder for 1966 dues: it is important that each member write his or her full name, address, telephone number and birthday date on a slip of paper and enclose it in an envelope with the dues.

Host and hostess for the month of January are Mr. and Mrs. George Pook with Chairman Mrs. Russell Cook and her committee: Maud Cushing, Florence Gould, Maude Hardy, Lucile Keefer, Irene McCartney and Mary Winning.

Harvest celebration takes several weeks

It is the season for merriment and feasting in Sierra Leone. The harvesting of rice is in full swing throughout the country. After several hungry weeks there is once again a large supply of rice.

In October and November I made two trips upcountry. On one of these trips I inspected six of the branch and regional libraries which the Library Board maintains. Books were loaned to 29 primary schools in Moyamba District on the other trip.

In the two and a half weeks I was away from Freetown I traveled nearly 1,200 miles. Everywhere people were harvesting the year's rice crop.

All the people in some of the villages harvest one field at a time until all the fields have been done. It is the responsibility of the farmer's family and relatives in other towns. Either way necessitates much work for old and young alike.

The harvesters move through the fields with short knives cutting the rice about five inches down the stalk. The stalks are tied into small bundles and placed on stakes or stumps. Then these bundles are gathered together and carried on trays or in burlap bags on top of the head to the farmer's house.

AT FIRST only enough rice is cut to prepare a sacrifice to one's ancestors and for a feast for the harvesters. Only then is the remainder cut. Since all the work is done by hand, it often takes several days to harvest the rice in even a small field.

It is hard work. But there is laughing and singing in the fields throughout the day and dancing in the villages at night.

Once the rice has been cut it must be thrashed, cleaned, and stored away to feed the family until harvest time the following year. Some of the rice also has to be kept to plant next year's crop.

There are several methods used for the thrashing and cleaning. The grains of the swampland rice, the tastiest variety, are usually pulled off the stalk by hand. Then they are parboiled, spread out on mats or the ground to dry, bagged, and placed in circular storage huts.

Upland rice is usually separated from the stalk by stomping on it with bare feet or beating it with a stick. Next it is placed in winnowing baskets and thrown into the air to enable the wind to blow away the chaff. Then it is dried in the sun, fanned again, bagged, and stored.

Some people place the rice on platforms and dry it over slow burning fires before thrashing it.

By December practically all the rice has been harvested. The people have worked hard for several months in the fields. So once the rice has been safely stored away they spend several weeks celebrating and relaxing. Local crafts and tools are made, houses are repaired, relatives are visited, and the secret societies initiate new members.

The life of a farmer in Sierra Leone is a hard life. strenuous work is forgotten. But for the moment the and merriment prevails.

6 TIPS FOR SAFER WINTER DRIVING

By Prof. A. H. Easton

Director, Motor Vehicle Research Laboratory
University of Wisconsin

1. Get the "feel" of the road. Accelerate carefully at low speed and away from other traffic to see if the wheels spin, then brake to see if they skid. Reduce speed accordingly, steer gently and smoothly, use gas and brake pedals sparingly.

2. Increase your following distance. It takes three to twelve times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry pavement, so lengthen your following distance to suit road and weather conditions.

3. "Pump" your brakes to slow or stop — don't jam them on. Proper pumping technique is to apply and release the brake pedal rapidly once or twice a second. This intermittent pumping action keeps the wheels rolling and helps maintain steering control.

4. Have good tires with good treads. Good tire treads are always superior to smooth treads on slippery pavements. Even better for snow are snow tires, which provide half again as much pulling power as regular tires.

5. Always carry reinforced tire chains in the trunk of your car and use them for severe snow and ice conditions. They provide four to five times as much traction on snow or ice as regular tires.

6. Keep your windshield and windows clear at all times. Replace streaking wiper blades that may have been baked dry by summer sun. Be sure that your windshield washer solution contains adequate antifreeze.

PROGRESS IN Bill and Dean Saxton's new Garden Center building was being noted this week as builders awaited steel stringers and rafters for the roof. Saxton's, located on Ann Arbor Trail near Kellogg Park, announced expansion plans last fall that called for a doubling of present floor space (up to 11,300 sq. ft.) and increased parking spaces. Saxton, here in front, said last week he hopes to have the building done by March.

Easter seal chairmen make plans

Earl Merriman of the Plymouth Rotary Club and local chairman of the 1966 Easter Seal Campaign in Plymouth on behalf of crippled children and adults will meet at the Easter Seal Center, near Middlebelt and Michigan in Inkster, on Jan. 20 to lay final plans for organizing the annual appeal. The campaign opens March 1 and runs through April 10, Easter Sunday.

Thousands of volunteers are involved in this effort beginning with those who address the envelopes for the mail campaign. These volunteers include students in high school typing classes, housewives working both at the Easter Seal Center and in their homes as well as secretaries who give some of their leisure hours to the effort. Brownies, Girl Scouts, future nurses or Future Nurses clubs join service clubs, church groups and hundreds of other individuals in stuffing the envelopes for mailing.

The colorful Easter Seals contained in the envelope carry a message of hope that those for whom medical research into the causes and treatment of disability come too late may still lead full lives.

Contributions from last years' campaign aided 522 crippled children and adults, individually and in groups. Services included information concerning and referral to other agencies for assistance, since the Easter Seal Society does not duplicate services available in other agencies.

ARE YOU KIDDIN'?

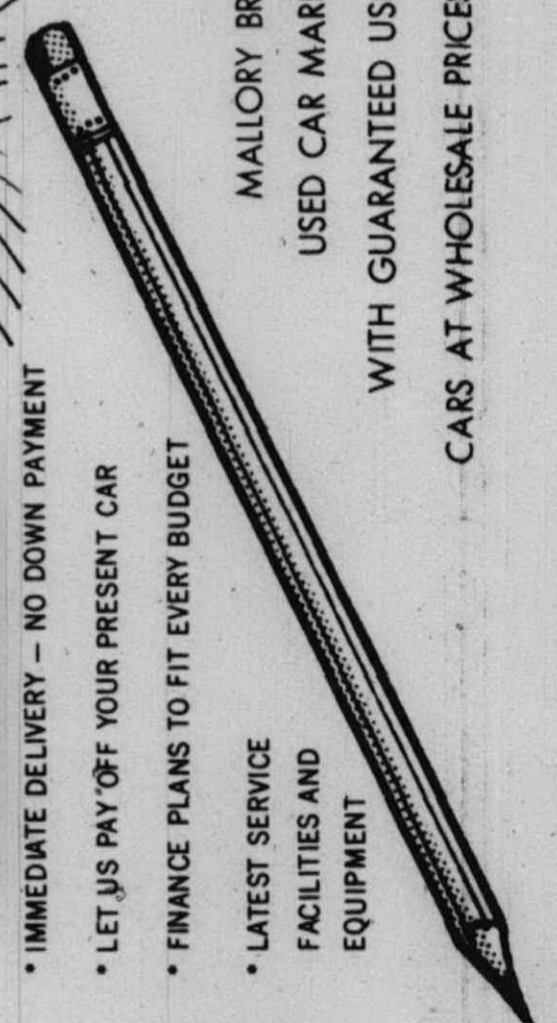

A Used Car Sales Palace . . .

Erected and Furnished Overnight!

Yes, Virginia . . . as you now know, there is a Santa Claus. We can't fully explain the miracle of Santa, but we can tell you about our new office. We did it up overnight. Three huge trucks drove up one day loaded with three complete sections of our new office. They had everything in them . . . lamps, desks, chairs, carpeting . . . just everything you could imagine. They did the sections off the trucks and into place right in the center of our used car lot. After they hooked them together, we were in business . . . and now we're looking forward to a personal inspection of our new facilities and our guaranteed used cars by you and your mom and daddy.
