

MYSTERIOUS CAUSE:

Fire levels Township door factory; in flames when firemen arrive

The view below, from a slight rise above the site of the Livonia Door Co., shows the remains of the building engulfed in flames. The fire broke out early Thursday in the building, which is located along the C & O tracks, west of Haggerty. The smoking frame, right, is all that's left moments later firemen arrived to find the building completely in flames.

Plymouth Township and detectives from the State Police fire marshal's office are investigating the mysterious early morning blaze that leveled a factory occupied by Livonia Door Company Thursday.

Firemen Fred Knupp and Captain Barney Maas arrived on the scene of the fire at 13925 Haggerty Rd. at 6:30 Thursday morning to find the building a mass of flames.

"The building was totally in-involved in flames," Krupp said. "I'm not sure, but I think the roof had collapsed."

THE CAUSE of the fire is as yet undetermined, as is the total cost, estimated to be over $100,000. The building about 300 feet long and 40 feet wide, rested near the C & O tracks, well back from Haggerty Road. The fire burned the entire building, and the wooden doors and wood working equipment within. The City of Plymouth was called to assist with the fire, originally reported to be at the Lake Pointe apartments. Early risers had phoned in the fire and reported it at the apartments.

The fire was well behind the apartments, down on the level of the tracks. The apartments sit on a high section of land.

There were several hectic moments when the Township's huge tanker snapped a drive train and bogged down in the road leading to the fire. It had to be towed away, for repairs.

Lines for water had to be strung nearly one-half mile to the corner of Haggerty and Schoolcraft. But observers on the scene noted the building was lost before the firemen arrived - no amount of water could have saved it.

EARLY FIREMEN poured water on telephone and power lines, a truck parked near the building, and several box cars on the tracks. The water in the tank truck was used up before a water line to the hydrant could be laid.

The box cars were eventually towed into the City, where they were put out on Davis Street. The truck, an old car, trailer, and a gas tank were all hauled away from the burning building. The truck, full of rubbish, was already burning when it was moved. And power lines snapped from the heat and lay on the ground, still live.

Nearly 30 regular and volunteer firemen from the Township and the City fought the blaze.

The building was owned by Ted Sprague, 721 S. Evergreen, and was occupied by two brothers, William and James Schroderus of Livonia.

FIREMEN STAYED nearly all morning dousing the final flames, and pouring over the embers for a possible cause.

Captain Maas summoned the State Police fire marshal's office for help, and Detective Carl Patterson was sent. Because of the size of the fire, the Township requested help.

Patterson is currently working on the fire, but virtually no details of his investigation have been reported.

Firemen were delayed arriving at the scene by inaccurate reports of the fire. The building is in an isolated area, and it was not noticed until the fire was well underway. Another call for a grass fire on Five Mile Rd. came in at about the same time, but proved to be a false alarm.

THE FIRE created several traffic problems as the Burroughs morning shift traffic was rerouted past Haggerty. Wayne County Sheriff's patrolmen were delayed in arriving, but soon had the road blocked off at both ends.

Grant NBD rezoning for Twp. branch

The National Bank of Detroit received proper rezoning for a branch bank on the corner of Sheldon Rd. and N. Territorial.

At Wednesday's meeting of the Plymouth Township planning commission.

Several residents were present at a public hearing on the matter, and asked several questions, mainly about the traffic the new bank would generate.

The commissioners approved the rezoning, from professional office space, to Commercial for the bank, after they learned the bank had acquired land on the corner.

The next step - the final approval of the Township Board, is several weeks away.

The first proposal had been for a site just down from the corner on the west side of Sheldon Rd. But the bank optioned land to the corner, and added an exit and entrance on Territorial Rd.

Plymouth firemen - in both the City and the Township - were unusually busy this week, as the two departments answered a total of 25 calls from Thursday morning until Monday afternoon.

Besides the huge fire at the Livonia Door Co., on Haggerty Road, which both departments fought, there were eight other calls for the City's fire department, and 16 for the Township's.

Township firemen were called Monday around noon to a massive grass fire along the C & O tracks between Ridgewood and Ridge Roads.

SGT. FRED KNUPP, officer in charge of the Township fire department in the absence of Captain Barney Mass, who is in Tennessee attending a fire fighter's school, said the fire burned between 100 and 150 acres of grass and wood land.

The Detroit House of Correction, Wayne County Training School and the City of Plymouth's departments were all called to fight the grass fire, which sprang up on several fronts.

The fire apparently started from the sparks of a C & O train. Krupp said Monday a volunteer fireman, Bob Norman, standing on the south side of N. Territorial Rd. saw the fires start just after the train passed through.

The Detroit House of Correction department, and the Training

School truck fought the fire west of Beck, which had spread on a front from the tracks north to Five Mile Rd. Several homes and out buildings were being carefully watched as a lack of manpower and the inability of the trucks to get onto the muddy-wet fields threatened to create a problem.

BUT FRANK MILLINGTON, who lives on the east side of Beck Rd. filled a fruit tree sprayer with water, and under the direction of the Training School firemen, and about 30 DeHoCo men, doused the blaze with water. They traversed the length of the ridge with the water tank and tractor, and soon had that portion of the fire under control.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the road, City and Township firemen fought the blaze along the tracks, and into the woods.

OTHER fires involving Plymouth firemen:

Thursday, the Township had seven grass fires, and one false alarm, in addition to the factory fire on Haggerty. They were called out once Saturday, then twice on Sunday.

Sunday, City firemen doused a fire in a pile of rubbish behind Stop and Shop supermarket. Kids playing with matches was thought to be the cause.

Cape files suit against City; labels zoning action illegal

Thomas Cape has filed a suit against the City of Plymouth over the denial of two occupancy permits to him for apartment units. City administrators insist do not meet land space requirements.

Attorney Albert Schlenker, Jr. of Inkster has summoned the City to court, and at Monday night's City Commission meeting, the City fathers wholeheartedly voted to defend the suit. City attorney Thomas Healy will prepare the case for the City.

CAPE'S summons and brief attached charges the City's zoning ordinance is "unreasonable, arbitrary, capricious and confiscatory in nature."

The court action will seek a mandatory injunction and a declaratory judgement against the City, and will also ask the City to issue occupancy certificates in compliance with the ordinance. The summons also charges the City's appeal board acted illegally in denying any appeal.

"The action of the Board of Appeals is illegal in the denial and contrary to the due process of law," the charge reads.

The charge further explains the plaintiff, bulldozer Cape, feels the land requirements for apartments are "exorbitant", noting the ordinance requires 3,000 sq. feet for a unit, and does not take into consideration the number of

Hockey rink taken off thin ice

A proposal for a hockey rink from the Gay Blade Corporation was before the City Commission Monday night, and the matter was handed to the area recreation committee for study.

Gay Blade has proposed a rink built with federal funds under a setup similar to the one used to build the City Hall.

The recreation committee has been extremely inactive during the past few months. Appointed at the beginning of 1965, few meetings have been held, and no action taken.

LOUIS NORMAN, a Township trustee heads the committee, with Dick Lauterbach, trustee, as Plymouth Township's other representative. City commissioners James McKeon and James Jabara, school board members J. D. Planning gala anniversary Symphony week

A deadline of Thursday, March 31 has been set for the Plymouth Symphony Afterglow, to be held Saturday evening, April 2 at the Mayflower Meeting House following the orchestra's 20th anniversary concert at Plymouth High School.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of Plymouth High School. Reservations for the Afterglow may be made by calling 453-1620.

As the anniversary concert approaches, Plymouth began preparing for the gala event. Mayor James Houk of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township Supervisor John D. McEwen have signed a proclamation, designating the week of March 28 to April 2 as Plymouth Symphony Week.

Invitational posters have been placed in businesses and offices in the downtown area.

Mrs. Norma Cassidy, owner of Cassidy's Apparel Shop, will decorate the corner window of the store as a tribute to the symphony. Mrs. Cassidy has been one of the strongest supporters of the symphony since its beginnings 20 years ago.

The Plymouth Mail will publish a special Plymouth Symphony section next week.

In a nutshell

★ The annual meeting of The Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union will be held next week, Monday, March 28 at 8 p.m. in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel, according to a notice issued to 3,700 Credit Union members. Those planning to attend should call GL 3-1200 so refreshments may be planned.

★ Plymouth Township building inspector Matthew McClellan reported Monday that he had issued 51 permits for homes this month, well above normal. Many of them went for Kaufman and Broad's Salem Square. And in the City, Charles Thompson, inspector, said 30 permits were issued in February, many of them for New England Village on N. Territorial Rd.

★ The Easter Seal campaign in Plymouth has reached its halfway mark, according to a release from the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, Inc. A total of $1,375.25 has been reported.

★ The Motor City Speakeasy Toastmasters Club meets on alternate Mondays at 7 p.m. at Hillside Inn; the next meeting is on March 28. The club recently was organized in Plymouth, and is seeking new members. More information can be had by calling George Stakias, 453-7032.

★ The Circle K Club of Schoolcraft College, sponsored by the Kiwanis Clubs of Plymouth, Northville, Livonia and Garden City, will try to set a new record for endurance on a teeter-totter. The marathon teeter-totter session will begin on the Schoolcraft central quad Friday at noon, and run until March 31 at 1 p.m., for a 168 hours. The record, from Oakland University, is 147 hours. The service club is doing it to gain recognition, and make the public aware of their role. Club president Larry Carver, of Plymouth, notes the club is sponsoring a blood drive, and helped on the Medicare Alert.

The good life — To the fire, willy nilly

Doug Johnson

I think last week I finally found out what it is like to be a fireman.

Thursday morning at 6:30 a.m. I was awakened by the Plymouth Township fire whistle. While it was still raining my sleep the telephone rang.

The call was for a bad fire at the Lake Pointe apartments.

"Condition red," the caller said, and to us old fire buffs, that means all H— had broken loose. I dressed (?) and kissed my bewildered bride goodbye, dashed for the car, sped through the City at breakneck speed just in time to see the City fire department go out to assist.

I had the camera, and followed the City's truck to Lake Pointe but it was apparent the fire wasn't exactly there. The truck I was following suddenly disappeared and I stepped out of the car and ran to the ravine overlooking Haggerty Rd., Wilcox Rd. and the railroad track in between.

The fire in the distance looked like it was burning trees and grass; it was going good on about a 300 foot front.

"Some grass fire," I thought as the sleep just began to erase from my head. I decided to go across country rather than try to drive over.

That was a real mistake. The ravine in the area has steep hills, thick underbrush, and a mucky bottom. Very mucky.

I ran and in a few seconds, was puffing and wheezing and climbing the hill out of the muck, after sinking ankle-deep in it. The fire was still there, and I was missing my prize winning pictures.

Several thoughts crossed my mind: At 6:30 in the morning your playing forest ranger and newsman?; maybe the blaze will trap you and you will be burned in a great forest fire?; you'll drop the $400 camera and ruin it, thus being crucified at work?; you'll get there, and have two shots left in the camera, and no film?

I reached a small crest overlooking the fire, which had totally engulfed the Livonia Door Co., along the tracks, just west of Haggerty Road.

"Wow," I said to myself. "That's no grass fire."

Indeed, it was not. The building, about 300 foot long was a mass of flames. One or two hoses played helplessly on nearby trucks and telephone lines. I snapped a picture from the top of the hill, then ran down to the scene, tripping once on a log.

Out of breath, I got close to the fire, and took one or two pictures more. City and Township firemen are still running lines to a faraway fire hydrant on the Schoolcraft and Haggerty Rd. corner.

The building was already a total loss, with the wreckers pulling trucks and gas tanks away from the building.

Several box cars, already on fire, were being towed into the City, presumably to be put out there with more available water. "That's different," I thought out loud.

I approached a veteran fire watcher, the City's redoubtable Arch Vallier, commissioner, Ford engineer, and fire chaser. He was barely dressed, but he had beaten me by a few seconds.

At this point he and I learned the Township's old tanker had snapped a drive train on the way in, and had to be towed off, laden with valuable water, for repairs. Thus there were several hectic moments with no water despite the efforts of the thirty firemen present.

Also at this point, dapper James McKeon appeared — City commissioner and DSI executive. Jim was impeccably dressed in suit, topcoat, and hat. Hat!

He was fully dressed for work at 6:30 in the morning — that's impressive.

Word was passed along that lines were being laid for water, and that certain fallen power lines might be hot. A tow truck continued to remove vehicles from the front of the burning building.

Two railroad plainclothes detectives arrived with pistols on their hips, and stood by, watching.

Water soon came and the telephone poles were saved. But it was too late to save any of the building.

Fire captain Barney Maas of the Township, was one of the first to arrive on the scene, and said that the entire building was in flames before he had even stopped the engine.

Maas ordered the telephone lines and box cars saved first, then called for help. Several reports of the blaze had come in, including a report of a fire at the Lake Pointe apartments.

It was one of nine fire runs for the Township Thursday.

The last to arrive, to direct traffic, and to make out a report, was the Wayne County Sheriff's patrolmen. It took them a good 45 minutes to even get to the scene after I had arrived. Good thing they weren't needed to help out.

By this time I had shot two rolls of pictures, talked with everybody there, and suddenly felt like falling asleep under a nearby rock.

By 8 a.m. the Township fire puffs had come with coffee and donuts, and City fire chief George Schoeneman personally got me a cup of coffee. He had already worked harder in one hour than I would all day. It's tough work, snapping the shutter, and winding film.

It's not a miracle that we have good firemen, but a miracle that we have them at all.

Louis Norman, one time head of the Plymouth fire department, and Township trustee, gave me a ride back to my car, thus saving a walk back over no man's land.

I returned home at 8:30, smelling like I had been to an eight-day weenie roast and looking like a sewer worker. In the wrestle over the hill I wrenched my back. What a life.

The whole thing was great fun, and I wouldn't have missed it for anything, including more sleep.

By 11 a.m. I was in the Northville Townhall listening to famed author Vance Packard telling me I was a status seeker, and how original Picassos were being used in the men's room of executive level office suites.

Vallier asks ruling on Demel's use of building

The occupancy of attorney Earl Demel's Colonial Professional Building for offices has been questioned by City commissioner Arch Vallier.

Vallier asked for a ruling on the matter Monday night at the regular meeting of the City fathers, noting the upstairs office space in the building had been recently rented.

And the Commission agreed to have an opinion handed down by City attorney Thomas Healy, despite the fact that Healy ruled informally that, as it stood, the Commission was on a shaky ground.

DEMEL three weeks ago was before the Commission asking to buy a piece of City owned land across the street for parking, stating then that his upstairs office space had been rented, and he needed parking.

The City had sought bids for the lands, and Demel's was the highest. But the Commission, divided on what to do, moved to hand the sale of the lot over to the parking committee, a special study group recently revitalized, and headed by Ralph Lorenz.

Two other offers had been received on the lot — one from adjacent furniture store owner Gerald Snyder.

Then, Monday, Vallier asked if an occupancy permit for the upstairs could be held up because Demel did not have enough parking.

Healy explained that if the use of the building had changed since it was originally designed, Vallier might have a case. But since the building, built for telephone switchboards and offices, has always been an office building, Healy felt there was no case. "We'd need a clear cut case to support it, and the facts here don't support such a case. We cannot make new requirements retroactive for existing buildings," he noted.

THE BUILDING was built in 1926, before parking requirements were very stringent. Recently, the City adopted new parking requirements.

Healy said a building's use may not be changed without a permit, but that this was not the case in Demel's building. George Hudson, City commissioner, and long a member of the City's planning commission, agreed:

"We'd be on pretty skinny ground to deny occupancy because he doesn't have parking," he said. Vallier didn't like the answer he got, and said:

"We bend over backwards to make a new building conform. Now there is this loophole in this. I'd like an opinion on fixing this loophole."

Healy was asked to review the ground rules of the situation, and bring up alternatives for future buildings.

Post Office has Medicare information

Acting Postmaster John A. Mullan of Plymouth Post Office announced today that application blanks for supplemental Medicare benefits are available at the windows of the Plymouth Post Office.

The application blanks are being made available as the Social Security Administration seeks to contact 3.1 million senior citizens before a March 31 deadline imposed by the Medicare law.

President Johnson has proclaimed March as "National Medicare Enrollment Month." He urged all federal agencies and all citizens to cooperate in enrolling senior citizens in the program.

INITIALLY, some two and one-half million application blanks were distributed to nearly 34,000 main post offices throughout the 50 states. Additional forms are available as needed.

Through direct mailings and other means, the Social Security Administration has had contact with 16 of the 19.1 million citizens who will be 65 or over on July 1. Of the 16 million who replied, less than one million said they did not want to sign up for the supplemental program.

The supplemental program costs $3 a month and provides doctor bill and other benefits. Everyone 65 and over is eligible for the basic hospital benefits under Medicare.

A COPY of the application blank is displayed on the lobby bulletin board of the Plymouth Post Office.

Senior citizens who reached 65 before 1966 face a two-year delay if they do not sign up by March 31. The application forms are preaddressed to the Social Security Administration in Baltimore, Maryland.

★ Continued from page 1 of 80 expected. If the class cannot be filled, then a select group of Juniors will be taken, according to John M. Hoben, head of the guidance office.

The class will employ the relatively new process known as team teaching. All four instructors will teach portions of the class.

The methodology is a radical departure from standard procedure of 30 students, and one teacher in a regular classroom.

This class will meet in the bandroom for lectures, then break up from time to time in discussion groups.

THE EMPHASIS will be on literature, and the history of music and art.

"It's really a long time dream come true," PHS principal Carvel Bentley said Friday. "And these four people have indicated a real interest in the project."

Mrs. Hudson said her portion of the class would involve the evolution of art as a form of expression. She noted she would make use of slides of famous works of art to teach her portion.

Nelson said he would cover similar ground, tracing the history of music, and would employ records for his purpose.

Both Nelson and Mrs. Hudson emphasized that their sections on art and music would be for appreciation, not proficiency in, or the performance of, art or music.

"We really have always wanted to reach a larger audience than we have with our music and art classes," Mrs. Hudson said. Hoben noted some demands for this among the parents.

"This has some roots in the community demands. There has been some interest in music with the bands, and Symphony, and in great books. We have been asked to expand in this area many times," he said.

THE LITERATURE section will be worked out by Sands and Barlow. They expect to make use of inexpensive paperback books as text for the course, and the total number of required books may reach 15. And, outside lecturers will also be considered.

All four teachers will meet this summer for a workshop to plan the course, and their conference periods during the year will correspond.

The class may be taken in addition to senior English, or in lieu of senior English. It will count as an English credit.

Those interested in the class should go to the guidance office immediately, according to Hoben.

Humanities is offered in few high schools in the area, and is usually reserved for college.

License, the opposite of freedom

NOTE: This is the first of a three-part editorial series on freedom of information, a topic that is just as important at the Plymouth City, Township and School District level as it is in state and federal government. The editorials were prepared by the Newspaper Public Information committee. The Plymouth Mail subscribes wholeheartedly to their philosophy and intent.

The word "license" comes from a Latin word meaning "to allow." If you have a "license", it means you have asked permission from a governmental authority to do a certain act, or engage in a certain activity. You may, or may not, get the license. The matter is for the authorities to decide.

Of course, the public welfare is protected by some licensing. It makes good sense, for example, that persons in the practices of medicine and pharmacy be required to pass stiff licensing examinations, and that the license be subject to review. The same might be said for other professions and crafts engaged in important work affecting the general public. But in a democracy, the licensing of knowledge doesn't work.

Licensing is the exact opposite of freedom. If those who gather news and comment on it, were required periodically to renew their licenses, this by itself would act to stultify the full feeling of freedom with responsibility so necessary to anyone handling news of public affairs. Licensed newspapermen wouldn't feel free. They wouldn't be free.

American newspapers broke away from licensing before the American Revolution. The first colonial newspaper to print an "unlicensed newspaper" was James Franklin. In 1721 he established the "New-England Courant", a lively outspoken, trouble-making newspaper. Before that time newspaper publishers took their copy to government censors and "cleared" it before publication.

"News" before Franklin's time was generally limited to facts and opinions which officials thought safe for the public to read. Franklin took out vigorously after the pompous religious and political authorities, dropped the words "Printed by Authority" from his front page, and was thrown into jail. His New-England Courant, folded, and the old licensing power was revived.

After Franklin's young brother, Benjamin, made newspaper publishing respectable, there was little further attempt to control colonial newspapers. Some historians say it was largely the work of skilled journalists and propagandists who brought the American Revolution about. From the 1600's in England down to the present time, men who print the news have been very sensitive to any effort by government to censor news before it is published.

There are men in government who would be only too happy to censor your news. There are strong departments in the federal government now, which impose an "internal censorship" on news. There has even been official justification for telling deliberate falsehoods, so clearly enunciated by Assistant Secretary of Defense for Public Affairs Arthur Sylvester, who defined news as "weaponry" and declared that where news is concerned, the ends justify the means. News about government is getting more difficult to report, each day.

Yet, fear of the government censor is not in the mind of American newspapermen. Other media are licensed.

The people who work on American newspapers still have a feeling of freedom. This feeling is drawn from the clear knowledge that newspaper work is bound up with free thought, which is sanctioned as the first law of the land. It will be a long, long time before newspapermen run to government for licensing.

It's the absence of licensing that makes newspapers free. It's the absence of restraints — within responsibility — that define freedom. That's the essential character of our political process . . . that's the essence of good journalism . . . and that's the way we hope it remains.

GIVE TO THE EASTER Seal drive, these children ask. Sponsored by Rotary and Anns, the sale will be held in the downtown Plymouth and other commercial areas on April 1 and 2. Mrs. Carl Hopkins hands out cannisters and lilies for the sale to Lila Hegazi and Annan Hegazi, children of Mr. and Mrs. Youself Hegazi, 338 Farmer.

Annual Rotary Ann lily sale set for April 1, 2

More than 150 Plymouth youngsters are expected to pitch in and help when Plymouth's Rotary Anns hold their annual Easter Lily sale on Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2.

The proceeds of the sale go to the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, Inc. to help crippled children. Mrs. Carl Hopkins and Mrs. David Wiley, co-chairmen of the event, have been working to line up the young workers who will sell the small, white lilies during the two-day sale.

No set purchase price is required. The flowers are sold on a voluntary donation basis. The youthful salesmen will be working throughout the Plymouth downtown commercial area and other commercial locations.

The Good Old Days

Fire razes school building 50 years ago March 16

From Plymouth Mail Files

Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed the Plymouth public school building nearly fifty years ago to this date.

According to a Plymouth Mail of March 31, 1916, the fire began in the rear of the building and spread to the nearby Methodist Church, eventually destroying both. The school was located on the exact site of the current Plymouth High School.

The story read:

"Not since the fire of 1893 has Plymouth been visited with such a disastrous conflagration as that of yesterday when the fine, large public school and the Methodist Church were totally destroyed, involving a loss estimated at approximately $65,000. The fire originated mysteriously in the school building and when discovered the rear and west corner was a seething mass of flames. The alarm was sounded at about 4 o'clock, and the fire department responded quickly, with the whole populace being called out."

"To those first on the ground it was apparent that the fire had obtained too great a headway even to be checked and the doom of the building was a foregone conclusion."

The story continues on, relating on the flames spread to the church spire, and then to the parsonage. A probable cause was offered - arson. It was also noted that no school was held for a few days, and that insufficient water and water pressure were being investigated.

"The heat of the flames shooting out from the upper windows and roof of the school ignited the spire of the church and the flames gradually creeping down until the structure also succumbed to the fire fiend. Yet, had their been sufficient water pressure, this building could have been saved very easily. All that could be done by the department under the circumstances was done, the boys working valiantly, climbing up on the roof making the best effort to reach the flames licking up the spire."

Everything movable was carried out of the church, and the nearby parsonage, the story relates.

Next week's paper outlines how several buildings throughout the community were being used for classrooms. The greatest loss, that of textbooks, was reported critical, with citizen donations being sought. The Grange hall was used for a mass meeting of all the High School students. And it was many months before things were back to normal.

Gee, I'm glad spring is here.

By the time this is printed (it's being written on Wednesday the 16th) we'll probably be chest deep in snow, but that's O.K. because it's the feeling that counts.

The season has really been off to a good start for a couple of weeks. My daughter nagged me into replenishing her stock of marbles for recess time at school, the wife is sewing away on a batch of material she purchased for a springtime dress and last week, Washtenaw Co. Sheriff's officers spotted a flying saucer in the night sky.

Here in Plymouth spring always has a salutary effect on grassroots government. Which is to say that generally, commissioners and trustees and members of the assorted boards get markedly less long winded when the weather is nice.

Spring is the time when little kids rediscover that the great outdoors can really be more interesting than television.

It is the time when newspapers run formula stories on the weather, formula editorial cartoons on the change of season and formula pictures of a young couple on a park bench with their arms around each other and the headline, "It's that time again!"

Spring is when monthly inventories and earnings statements and linotype machines and malfunctioning printing presses and work in general all get a bit less compelling.

It is a time for wandering away from Plymouth and contemplating how much more orderly one's life would be if Johannes Gutenberg had never been born.

When the trees start to bud and ladies begin calling to announce that the first Robin of the year has, in fact, been sighted in their back yards, it makes one wish that Washington and Moscow and Peking and Hanoi and Jakarta and the Dominican Republic would go away.

This is the time of year when life is really worth living.

One's inclinations change.

Entertainment for instance. In springtime, corny musical productions become far more palatable than "Dr. Strangelove" or "The Collector."

If one has a literary bent and has no where to turn but battered copies of old pseudo-intellectual magazines, a re-reading of James Thurber is much easier to take than the incoherent ruminations of a perpetually adolescent Holden Caulfield.

It is a time, you will pardon the lapse out of character, for boosting not knocking.

On the other hand, there are some aspects of spring that are not really so appetizing. For it is spring that puts the slightly wild expression on the faces of wives — a look that carries with it the inherent threat of that diabolic institution called spring housecleaning.

Many a man will seat himself at the dinner table in the next few weeks and his wife will inquire innocently and quietly:

"Honey?"

"Mmmmf?" he will reply.

"Don't you think," she will inquire, "we should straighten up the garage a little this weekend?"

"Mmmmf," he will agree, sealing the destruction and ruin of his weekend. For "straighten up the garage a little" means moving everything out of it and the basement, sweeping the floors, hosing them down and moving everything back in again.

It means hauling the double bed mattress and box springs out into the yard for airing and waxing floors and taking curtains down so they may be laundered and putting them back up after the awry drapery rod has been straightened from the angle it has assumed during the past year.

It means raking in the yard and trying to hide from the incarnate fiend whose mind seems exclusively devoted to thinking up more things to do.

In short, it means blowing an entire weekend that could be beautifully employed in polishing the rusty golf swing, or cleaning last year's dried bait off the fishing tackle.

Come to think of it, I'm not so sure I'm glad spring is here or not.

Vance Packard speaks on 'Status'

March 17 at the Meeting House

Vance Packard was in Plymouth March 17 to speak at the Mayflower Meeting House and earlier at the Northville Town Hall. About 450 people attended the lecture in Northville with about 200 of them returning to Plymouth for the luncheon at the Meeting House.

The well known author of "Status Seeker", "The Hidden Persuaders", "The Pyramid Climbers" and "The Waste Makers", is the only writer in recent years to have three books in a row reach the top rung in the non-fiction field.

His talk Thursday was about his first successful book, "Status Seeker".

"When I chose the title, I asked a group of advertising executives what they thought of 'Status Seeker' as a title", he said. "They told me it was terrible and would never be bought by the public because people wouldn't be sure how to pronounce it. I went to the dictionary and found that I had been using the pronunciation that was not preferred - with a short 'a', he added. He continues to pronounce status this way and, certainly, it has been no detriment to the sale of his book.

Speaking in a monotone, he went on to cite examples of status symbols which he had used in his book.

"Name dropping is one status symbol that people use who crave recognition," he said. He admitted that he too is a name dropper.

Decorating a home was another example. A sophisticated color scheme is often used by status seekers. He added that books are often used in a home to indicate status. People often buy books by the yard for their shelves without regard to content. "Dr. Zhivago" is one of the greatest unread books I have ever seen on coffee tables", he remarked.

The use of antiques in home decorating was another example, he used. People who buy antiques are usually trying to prove something about themselves.

Pictures are also used. Pictures are a true status symbol in office buildings, he added. The man who is low on the totem pole might have a couple of pictures on the walls of his office. As he moves up a notch, he may have prints displayed. Then it is an original painting. When he gets to the top of the ladder of success, he might have a Picasso.

The man at the top often has a British secretary with a "Rolls Royce accent", he remarked; "and a chromium water carafe instead of a plastic one. He usually has two pen sets on his desk instead of one."

Schools for children are another status symbol. A woman once asked him where his three children attended school and when he said that they attended the local public school, she said, "How nice," in a condescending tone.

One mother told him that she sent her daughter to an exclusive school because it was socially necessary.

Fraternities and sororities are another means of seeking status. Packard said that one coed told him that she had dropped out of school because she wasn't admitted to one of the top four sororities.

"Clubs are another example. 'Important people' belong to polo clubs and the curling club is now chic."

"People also indicate their status by the length of their boat, a colored TV, or by traveling where no one else has gone," he added.

"What can we do to ease the strain of all of this?" Packard asked himself. "We can recognize the need to make people feel important", he said.

"We can widen the gates of opportunity for people who have ability by helping economically the student who lacks the funds to go to college."

"We can broaden our horizons by seeking friends from all classes instead of staying within the bounds of our own kind."

He added that he knows a millionaire and handyman both well and prefers the company of the handyman because he is a more interesting person.

He concluded that, while people have relaxed somewhat about status in the past few years, 90% of the people in this country worry about their background and therefore are 'status seekers'.

Batman and Catwoman host a different kind of party

Batman came to Plymouth last Thursday night when Mr. and Mrs. James Henley of Sheldon Rd. hosted a different kind of party.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Tveitaraas, Mr. and Mrs. Bill King, Mr. and Mrs. Ken DeCorte, and Mr. and Mrs. George Purcell.

Greeting the guests as they approached the front door was the amplified sound of the "Batman Theme". Signs posted along the sidewalk said "Will the Batman meet with cat-tastrophe tonight?", and "Will the Cat Woman play cat and mouse with the Batman?", and "Welcome to Gotham City".

The front door of the Henley house was disguised as a cave door and was sprayed an eerie black.

When the door opened, the guests were completely surprised to see their host and hostess dressed as Batman and the Cat Woman. In true character, they flew at their guests as they walked into the living room.

Inside, eerie green lights reflected from the bat-mobles hanging from the ceiling.

The evening's entertainment consisted of watching "Batman" on television and "Hollywood a-Go-Go".

Refreshments were a "batman dessert" and coffee.

Well known author, Vance Packard, discusses his book, "Status Seeker," with Mrs. Walter Couse, hostess for the day, and Miss Ruth Knapp at the Mayflower Meeting House March 17. He had spoken earlier at the Northville Town Hall followed by a luncheon and question and answer period at the Meeting House.

Ink on my apron

Who needs exercise

with Yvonne Schmitz

Exercise is a waste of time, I would think to myself a few years back. With a 6-bedroom house and seven children to care for, who needs it?

Till one day, about eight years ago, I took a good hard look at myself in the mirror and didn't like what I saw at all.

There was the start of a double chin and (pardon the expression) flab where it should never be.

That was the day I decided to give exercise a try. Off to the local library I trotted. (It has been a source of solution to a multitude of problems through the years for me.)

The shelves on exercise and calisthenics didn't disappoint me. Various authors had volumes to say about the benefits of exercise.

Taking several home with me, I found a series of calisthenics that seemed to fit my particular needs.

From that day, I have been addicted to exercise to the point of feeling guilty if a day is missed.

It doesn't take much time - just 15 minutes a day - but those few minutes can make a world of difference.

Aside from helping a gal stay slim, I've found that a person just feels better and stronger with daily exercise.

For example, lifting the vacuum cleaner to clean the stairway carpeting used to leave me breathless. It seemed so heavy. It is still the same vacuum cleaner but it seems at least 10 pounds lighter.

Scientists and doctors have long known that a person who exercises daily is less likely to have heart disease or diabetes.

In her book "How to Keep Slender and Fit after Thirty", Bonnie Prudden says, "I used to think that forty was old. Now I'm not even sure about eighty. I've come to believe that there's no reason in the world why people can't go along being active, good looking and vigorous until they are ninety. Then it's permissible if they slow down a little. The day of the chimney corner, however, is long gone, and anyone who sits in one does so at his peril."

"Aging brings changes to be sure, but most of these changes are brought on by habits that are far more telling than the accumulation of years. Habits assumed by both our bodies and our minds determine in large measure not only how long we shall live, but how well we shall live and even by what means we shall take our departure."

I must agree with the authority on exercise that age is often a state of mind. I have known people who seemed old in their twenties.

On the other hand, there are people like a teacher I had in school. We have managed to keep in touch through the years. If ever there were an inspiration for keeping active, she is it.

Always a believer in physical exercise, she spent her summers hiking through the woods near her Higgins Lake cottage, or swimming, or canoeing up the Au Sauble River.

When she retired from teaching ten years ago, she thought she would slow down a bit and try sewing as a hobby. She had never sewn a stitch in her life. She now makes all of her own clothes, suits, coats and dresses.

Still not content to sit back and sew, she decided that she would like a house of her own. So she drew up the plans and, with the advice of a builder friend, built her own home. A relative helped with some of the heavy work involved, but she did most of the construction herself - no easy feat for a woman in her 60's. And the small house is beautiful.

This energetic woman will never grow old. Not only because she keeps active physically, but because she has an active mind and a keen interest in the world around her.

While most of us wouldn't consider building a house to keep active, I do believe we all would benefit from daily physical exercise.

AAUW plans book sale

The annual book sale for the AAUW will be held Thursday, March 31, and Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2, at the A & P Store on Ann Arbor Rd.

The entire proceeds from the sale of the books will go toward scholarships for women.

The books are priced low, with the average price 20 to 30 cents. Some are priced higher and a few lower. No books are more than a $1.00.

The books are carefully sorted and organized into categories so that the buyer can easily select the type book he is interested in.

Included are condensed Readers Digest books, National Geographic, American Heritage magazines as well as hard cover books.

Among the hard cover books are those on homemaking, science, business, history, children's biographies, travel, non-fiction, classic literature, religious, recent and older novels, foreign language.

Several sets of encyclopedias, some dictionaries, and sets of classic literature are also included.

There is also a wide variety of paperbacks for sale.

Collection boxes have been placed at Food Fair, Kroger, Stop and Shop, Terry's Bakery and the A & P store for anyone who would like to donate books to the sale.

English muffins are a treat

As a former hospital dietician, Mrs. George W. Conover has always been interested in food and recipes.

Her recipe for English Muffins has long been a favorite with her family.

She and her husband and two of their four children live at 279 Blunk St. Their son, Bill, 23, is working in East Lansing; son Don, 22, is a student at Smith College, Northampton, Mass.; son Bob, 18, is a special education student and works at the Sheltered Workshop; and daughter Nancy 14, is an eighth grader at J.R. High East.

Mrs. Conover is a part-time teacher at Northville State Hospital. A vocational rehabilitation tutor, she teaches homemaking to women about to leave the hospital in order to increase their skill.

She is also enrolled at Eastern University as a graduate student in a course called "homemaking for handicapped homemakers".

Both Mr. and Mrs. Conover have been active with the Sheltered Workshop. George Conover is on the Board of Directors for the Workshop and helped with the membership drive. The couple is also active in a parents group for parents of special education students in Plymouth.

The family attends the Methodist Church and all are ski enthusiasts.

Easy to prepare and delicious to serve for any meal, the recipe for Mrs. Conover's English Muffins follows:

ENGLISH MUFFINS

Combine 1 c. scalded milk, 1/4 c. shortening, 2 tsp. salt and 1 T. light corn syrup.

Cool to lukewarm. Mix 1 pkg. yeast in 1/4 c. lukewarm water. Add to milk mixture and mix well. Add 3 cups flour. Blend well and roll on a floured board to 1/4" thickness. Cut with 3 1/2" cutter. Dust top and bottoms with cornmeal. Let rise 1 to 2 hours (until doubled) in a warm place. Cook 7 minutes on each side on a medium heat ungreased griddle. (300 F. electric frying pan)

Makes 12 muffins. To serve, split and toast under broiler.

Mrs. George W. Conover of Blunk St. prepares English muffins in an electric skillet. A home economics teacher, Mrs. Conover is expert in the art of cooking.

Engagement

Wes Vivian speaks of national budget and women at BPW meeting

Judi K. Rose

The engagement of Judi K. Rose and Thomas R. Rollin has been announced.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Harold P. Rose of Garden City and the late Mr. Rose. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Rollin of North Harvey St.

Miss Rose is a 1964 graduate of Wayne High School and is employed in the display department of the J. L. Hudson Company, Westland.

Her fiancé is a 1959 graduate of Plymouth High School and attended Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn. He is employed by the Kroger Co. in Plymouth.

An October wedding is planned.

Congressman Wes Vivian talked of the national budget and women in Washington before 45 women at the Business and Professional Women's Club dinner at Hillside last night.

A rapid speaker, he mentioned names of prominent women in government such as Martha Griffith, Lenore Sullivan, Edith Green, Margaret Chase Smith, and others.

He also told of his own staff which is made up mostly of women. He said that his office staff has four women and only two men.

He told of Martha Griffith's fight before Congress for equal rights for women. He said that she waxes well on the subject and is distressed because women rarely occupy top jobs and are almost never paid as well as men. She is also upset about the Congressional pension system.

He said that by 1970 every third person gainfully employed will be a woman. He added that while more girls than boys complete high school, the ratio goes down to only 40% of girls completing college. The ratio of girls to boys is still lower for masters degrees or doctorates, he added.

"Did you know that one fourth of all women in this country live in poverty?" he asked.

He said that 47% of all families with an income of $3000 or less are headed by women while only 15% of families with this income are headed by men.

He said that, while the fight goes on for equal rights for women, they don't really like to descend from their pedestal to become equal. He added that he had noticed that men are no longer standing in New York subways, however.

Talking of the 89th Congress, he told of the major bills that had been passed such as medicare, elementary and secondary education bill, the housing act, aid for higher education in the form of scholarships, the economic opportunity act, all of which have to do with the Great Society. He said that while our economy is booming, he is depressed because only low cost bills are talked about. The only expensive bills that are passed have to do with the war, he said.

Vivian said that he didn't agree with the telephone and auto excise tax because he didn't think they were fair, but that he had no choice but to accept these or none.

"The pressure for money in our government is severe," he said. "Our budget has hit such a deficit that we have to both raise taxes and cut any major progress."

He added that, as a successful businessman he is most familiar with budgets, but that the only budget he is concerned with at present is the president's.

"Changes will not be great,"

U. S. Congressman Weston E. Vivian is introduced to the Business and Professional Women's Club by Miss Louise Spence at the Hillside Inn for the dinner meeting Monday night.

he said. "Any Congressional reform will be slow and it usually takes years for any major change to take place."

"How well has the 89th Congress done?" he asked. "The democrats say monumental and Republican Gerald Ford says rubber stamp."

"Very few key bills will be passed this year because of the war," he added.

"One that may get passed, however, is the truth in packaging bill."

He noted that this bill would probably be of interest to women because it has to do with food.

He told of Phil Hart's comment that a packaged pie showed 37 cherries pictured in one wedge while he counted only 43 in the entire pie.

He also mentioned the way coffee is advertised "20¢ off", "Off what?" he asked.

He said that laws should not be too stringent so that adver-

DETROIT EDISON CROWNS QUEEN OF THE KITCHEN

Mrs. Brook Noon of Birmingham was crowned "Queen of the Kitchen" last week in the Edison Company's fifth annual cook-off for women who work by President Donald F. Kigar.

Mrs. Noon's recipe for "Lobster Pie" was judged best among the ten finalists who competed in the cook-off. More than 400 recipes were submitted in the contest.

The 1966 "Queen of the Kitchen" received the grand prize of a new deluxe self-cleaning electric range. She is an executive secretary for Grand Steel and Manufacturing Co.

Mrs. Albert Arvay of Port Huron who is employed by the Port Huron and Detroit Railroad Co., won second prize, a smokeless roaster, for her recipe "Wild Rice and Chicken Casserole."

Miss Marianna Fortuna's recipe "Confetti Corn Casserole" earned the third prize, a seven-speed blender. She lives in Redford and works at Burroughs Corp.

The seven finalists also received appliances as prizes.

The contest is sponsored each year by Edison in association with Detroit's Central Business District Association as part of the Salute to Women Who Work Week. The finalists were special guests at the Women Who Work Week Banquet in Cobo Hall last Tuesday.

Alpha Xi Delta offers fellowship

Alpha Xi Delta, national social fraternity for college women, is again offering a graduate fellowship for advanced study in the field of Social Service, the grant to be $1,500.

Alpha Xi Delta is offering this Fellowship because of the increasing need for trained personnel to work with youngsters.

In 1948 the decision was made by the sorority's National Council to support the American Child through local and national philanthropic projects, and the Fellowship has been granted each year since 1958.

The local Alpha Xi Delta Alumnae Chapter has as its philanthropic project, working with the Plymouth State Home. Toys and clothing have been donated to the children, "Touch and Feel" books have been made for them, and most recently - toy and cosmetics bags have been made.

To be eligible for this fellowship award, an applicant must be a graduate of an accredited college or university, have an outstanding scholastic record and be interested in pursuing a career of working with children or youth.

Interested persons may obtain an application for this Fellowship at this time from Mrs. Owen Newell, 14128 Ingram, Livonia - phone 422-3105.

Completed applications should be sent to the National Philanthropy Chairman and postmarked no later than May 1, 1966.

Sunshine Club meets in Florida

Twenty-four Plymouth residents who are spending the winter in Florida attended an annual picnic at Lake Alfred, Florida March 1.

The group who call themselves "The Plymouth Sunshine Club" are also planning a picnic here in Michigan for July 28 at the Edward Lines park at the corner of Haggerty Rd.

New President of the club is Howard Salisbury with Herman Scheel as vice-president. Former president was Oren Blackmore.

Baby talk

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter of Detroit have announced the birth of their second child, Catherine Diane, Feb. 14.

Mrs. Hunter is the former Diane Stickels.

ORDINANCE NO. 317

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 182, ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH, MICHIGAN

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. Section 3.13 of Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 3.13. OFF-STREET PARKING REQUIREMENTS. In all zoning districts, off-street parking facilities for the storage or parking of self-propelled motor vehicles for the use of occupants, employees, and patrons of the building hereafter erected, altered or extended after the effective date of this Ordinance, shall be provided and maintained as herein prescribed:

(a) Loading space, as required in Section 3.04, shall not be construed as supplying off-street parking space.
(b) When units or measurements, determining the total number of required parking spaces for a site, result in requirement of a fractional space, any fraction up to but not including one-half (1/2) shall be disregarded, and fractions one-half (1/2) or more shall require one parking space.

(c) Whenever a use requiring off-street parking is increased in floor area, and such use is located in a building existing on or before the effective date of this Ordinance, additional space for the additional floor area shall be provided and maintained in amounts hereafter specified for that use.

Provided, however, in the central business district, where the city and the various property owners have co-operatively developed parking facilities, and additional parking space as required for the increased floor space is not available within the required three hundred (300) feet as required in the second paragraph of (e) below, the City Planning Commission may through negotiations with the owner of such property, vary the location of such required parking spaces or agree to the owner's participation in other authorized parking facilities which will furnish the same amount of space as required for his increased floor space.

(d) For the purpose of this Ordinance, "Floor Area," in the case of offices, merchandising or service types of uses, shall mean the gross floor area used or intended to be used for services to the public as customers, patrons, clients or patients, or as tenants, including areas occupied for fixtures and equipment used for display or sale of merchandise.

(e) Off-street parking facilities for one and two family dwellings shall be located on the same lot or plot of ground as the building they are intended to serve. The location of required off-street parking facilities for other than one and two family dwellings shall be within three hundred (300) feet of the building they are intended to serve, measured by public right-of-way from the nearest point of the off-street parking facilities and the nearest point of the building.

(f) Where a use is not specifically mentioned herein, off-street parking facilities required shall be the same as those required for a use mentioned herein which is most similar or analogous to such unspecified uses.

(g) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the collective provision of off-street parking facilities for two or more buildings or uses; provided such facilities shall not be less than the sum of the requirements for the various individual uses computed separately in accordance with the following table.

(h) The minimum amount of required off-street parking space for new uses or buildings, additions thereto, and additions to existing buildings as specified above shall be determined in accordance with the following table set forth in this section, and the space, so required, shall be irrevocably reserved for such use.

USE REQUIRED PARKING SPACE

1. One family dwelling. Two (2) parking spaces.
2. Two or more family dwelling units, apartment house, or efficiency apartments. One (1) parking space for each dwelling unit plus one-half (1/2) space for each bedroom or room usable as a bedroom as determined by the building inspector.

3. Tourist homes, motels and hotels. One (1) parking space for each guest or sleeping room or suite in a tourist home, motel or hotel, plus one space for each two (2) employees.

4. Convalescent homes and homes for the aged or similar uses. One (1) parking space for each four (4) beds, plus one (1) space for each staff or visiting doctor, plus one (1) space for each four (4) employees including nurses.

5. Hospitals and sanatoriums. One (1) parking space for each one (1) bed.

6. Orphanage or similar use. One (1) parking space for each ten (10) beds.

7. Boarding and lodging houses. One (1) parking space for each guest bedroom, plus two (2) additional spaces for owner or management.

8. Community centers, libraries, museums, post offices, civic clubs, etc. Provide about each building an improved area other than the front yard which shall be sufficient in size to provide adequate facilities for parking and as approved by the City Planning Commission.

9. Theaters and auditoriums, multi-purpose rooms. One (1) parking space for each three (3) persons allowed within the maximum occupancy load as established by the fire marshal.

10. Churches, auditoriums incidental to schools. One (1) parking space for each three (3) seats in the main assembly unit.

11. Schools. One (1) parking space for each employee (including teachers and administrators) plus sufficient off-street space for the safe and convenient loading and unloading of students, plus one (1) space for each student permit issued.

12. Dance halls, roller rinks, exhibition halls, and assembly halls without fixed seats. One (1) parking space for each three (3) persons allowed within the maximum occupancy load as established by the fire marshal.

13. Stadiums and sports arenas. One (1) parking space for each three (3) seats.

14. Bowling alleys. Five (5) parking spaces for each alley.

15. Mortuaries or funeral homes. One (1) parking space for each fifty (50) square feet of floor space in the slumber rooms, parlors or individual funeral service rooms.

16. Establishments for sale and consumption on the premises of alcoholic beverages, food or refreshments. One (1) parking space for each fifty (50) square feet of floor area, plus one (1) parking space for each two (2) employees.

17. Drive-in restaurants. One (1) parking space for each fifteen (15) square feet of floor space.

18. Offices.
a. Business offices or professional offices, except as indicated in the following item (b). One (1) parking space for each three hundred (300) square feet of usable floor area.

b. Professional offices of doctors, dentists or similar professions. One (1) parking space for each one hundred (100) square feet of usable floor area in waiting room, and one (1) space for each examining room, dental chair, or similar use area.

19. Banks. Four (4) parking spaces per each teller window.

20. Furniture and appliance stores, household equipment or furniture repair shops, clothing or shoe repair shops, or service shops, hardware stores, motor vehicle sales, wholesale stores and machinery sales. One (1) parking space for each eight hundred (800) square feet of floor space.

21. Beauty parlors and barber shops. Three (3) parking spaces for each barber and/or beauty shop chair.

22. All retail stores, except as otherwise specified herein. One (1) parking space for each one hundred and fifty (150) square feet of floor space.

23. Industrial establishments, including manufacturing, research and testing laboratories, creameries, bottling works, printing and engraving shops, warehouses and storage buildings. One (1) parking space for each two (2) employees computed on the basis of the greatest number of persons to be employed at any one period during the day or night.

Section 2. Section 7.50 of Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7.50 USE REGULATIONS. In the PR-2 District, no building, structure or premises shall be used and no building or structure shall be hereafter erected or altered unless otherwise provided in this Ordinance, except for one or more of the following uses:

(a) All uses permitted in Section 6.01, paragraphs a, b, c, and d of this Ordinance including multiple family dwellings with more than eight (8) units in one building shall not exceed one hundred and eighty (180) feet in length.

(b) Office buildings for such professional offices as: doctors, lawyers, dentists, architects, engineers or any office which sells professional services, and uses necessary to the servicing of such offices provided such service uses are an incidental use of the structure.

(c) Office buildings and service uses within such buildings necessary to service the office uses therein for such personal services as: real estate, insurance, stocks and bonds, banking facilities, and other such personal services.

(d) Mortuaries, clinics and hospitals (not including animal hospitals or institutions for the care of the feeble-minded or insane) when licensed by the Health Department of the State of Michigan and approved by the City Planning Commission.

(e) Churches and private schools.

(f) Community buildings, including educational, recreational, social, neighborhood or community centers.

(g) One or more illuminated non-flashing or non-illuminated signs not exceeding a total area of fifty (50) square feet for any one building or lot may be attached to the building. The sign so attached shall not project more than eighteen (18) inches beyond the building line or eighteen (18) inches beyond the front face of an existing non-flashing.

One or more illuminated non-flashing or non illuminated signs not exceeding a total area of fifty (50) square feet for any one building or lot may be provided as a free standing sign in a front or side yard subject to the review and approval of the Planning Commission. The City Planning Commission shall consider the following factors and such other factors as it may impose in order that the spirit and purpose of this ordinance is fulfilled:

(1) Illuminated signs shall be of a low and constant light level so as not to be of danger to adjacent traffic or of nuisance to nearby residential areas.

(2) Locations for signs shall be sufficiently set back from intersections of drives or roadway entrances and thoroughfares so that obstruction of view of approaching traffic will not result.

(3) Location of illuminated signs in side yards abutting residential zones shall be prohibited, and in no instance shall a free standing sign be located closer than one hundred (100) feet to a residential zone.

(4) The height of free standing signs shall not exceed twenty (20) feet.

One (1) non-illuminated sign pertaining to the sale or lease of a building or lot and not exceeding six (6) square feet in area for any one building or lot.

(h) Buildings and uses customarily incidental to the above permitted uses as specified under Section 6.01 (i) and (j) of this Ordinance.

Section 3. Section 7.51 of Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7.51 BUILDING HEIGHT. In PR-2 Districts, no building hereafter erected or altered shall exceed thirty-five (35) feet in height, or two and one-half (2-1/2) stories, except as provided in Article XII of this Ordinance. The height limitation here specified may be increased on parcels of one acre or greater not to exceed five (5) stories or fifty (50) feet in height, whichever is greater; provided that minimum side, front and rear yard of not less than three quarters, (3/4) of the height of the building, for buildings over two stories or thirty-five (35) feet in height, shall be provided. Where such district abuts an R-1 zone district such setback shall not be less than one times the height of the building for those yards abutting the R-1 zone district. A five (5) foot opaque fence or wall shall be provided on the property line where such PR-2 District abuts an R-1 District.

Section 4. Section 7.52 of Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7.52 LOT AREA. In PR-2 Districts every dwelling of two (2) stories or less in height shall provide a lot area of not less than three thousand (3,000) square feet per each family unit. In PR-2 Districts, every dwelling hereafter erected over two (2) stories in height shall provide a lot area of not less than fifteen hundred (1,500) square feet per each family unit; no minimum lot area is required for other uses permitted in the PR-2 Districts as long as the yard requirements and the required off-street parking are provided. Where a permitted use, other than a dwelling, is combined with a dwelling, such combined use shall provide a lot area of not less than five thousand (5,000) square feet.

Section 5. Section 7.53 of Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7.53 LOT COVERAGE. In PR-2 Districts, no dwelling, together with its accessory buildings other than carports or garages, hereafter erected on any lot, shall cover not more than forty (40%) percent of the area of such lot; provided, however, that lots less than four thousand (4,000) square feet in area used for a one family dwelling, the allowable percentage of lot coverage may be increased by one (1%) percent for each one hundred twenty-five (125) square feet by which the area of a lot is less than four thousand (4,000) square feet, with a maximum coverage, in any such case, not in excess of forty-five (45%) percent.

Section 6. Article VII-A of Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, is hereby amended by adding a new Section thereto as follows:

Section 7.62 OPEN SPACE REQUIREMENTS. In PR-2 Districts, for every multiple family residential structure of three (3) or more stories in height hereafter erected there shall be provided and retained as part of the site of said structure, exterior open space area, over and above parking areas, driveways and walks, which open space area shall be in an amount not less than the aggregate of one hundred fifty (150) square feet for each bedroom or room usable as a bedroom in the apartment unit in said structure; provided, however, that in computing said open space area, if any open balcony or porch on a n y such structure contains fifty (50) square feet or more in floor area, then the entire floor area of such balconies or porches shall be included as part of the open space area required under this Section.

Section 7. Article VII-A of Ordinance No. 182, Zoning Ordinance of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, is hereby amended by adding a new Section thereto as follows:

Section 7.63 REQUIRED CONDITIONS. All principal uses permitted in the PR-2 Districts shall be permitted only after review and approval of the site plan by the Planning Commission. Subsequent development of the site shall comply with the approved site plan. Such review of the site plan is required in order to minimize the possibility of adverse effects upon adjacent property; and further to develop proper relationship between development features as they relate to traffic safety on service roads, driveways and parking areas, and also to properly relate principal buildings, accessory buildings and uses, and open spaces to one another, and to the traffic pattern within and surrounding such development.

Section 8. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency ordinance and shall become effective immediately.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan this 21st day of March, 1966.

"Schultz! Leave that cat alone!"

The Scribbler

Historic moments

with Joyce Holmes

This week I'm directing the column to relative newcomers to the Plymouth community like myself who know very little of its past, but you old-timers can read along to be sure I have my facts straight.

One Sunday I spent an interesting afternoon in the Plymouth Historical Society's museum on Main St. It is open Saturdays and Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m. and is filled to bursting with artifacts from Plymouth's past, including of all things, a mastodon tooth found right in this area in 1865.

The collection of old-fashion toys and dolls interested me a great deal, and lo, I found one of those 3-D viewers which I haven't seen since I rummaged in my grandmother's attic many years ago. A case that displays old-time medicines made me wonder how many calls druggists have for Parke, Davis & Co.'s black cohosh, cleavers, arnica flowers or coltsfoot today.

What intrigued me the most was the room dedicated to old photographs, maps and newspapers of the city of Plymouth. It's fun to see how it evolved from a town that looked like a set from "Death Valley Days" to the city of today.

Once upon a time, for instance, there was a livery stable where the Plymouth Art Theatre is now and minstrel shows were held at City Hall. The main streets were Main and Sutton, now Penniman — Mr. Penniman hadn't earned the honor yet.

The Detroit Free Press, dated April 19, 1893, gives a vivid account of a ravaging fire that completely demolished the business district. Such establishments as the First National Exchange Bank, a barber shop, drug store, dry goods and hardware stores were all reduced to ashes, but the postoffice escaped damage.

The estimated damage was $40,000, a sum that seems small to us today. The amounts of insurance carried on each business were listed, the highest being $4,500 with the average around $2,000, an amount that would be insufficient for a private house today.

Plymouth had no fire department at that time so a creek behind the stores was dammed and citizens carried buckets of water to the blaze while a telegram was sent to Detroit for assistance. A fire engine arrived in three hours time, which I would assume a commendable time under the conditions of dirt roads and real horsepower of that era.

Getting back to Ebenezer Jenks Penniman I learned that he was a prominent businessman who arrived in Plymouth in 1835 from New York. He made his fortune in the mercantile business and banking. Mr. Penniman was elected to Congress and was a member of the group that organized the Republican party "Under the Oaks" in Jackson in 1854.

A lot of other items in the museum are awaiting the perusal of interested people, but as I said every available nook and cranny seems to be used. The Society would very much like to build a new museum but their only source of revenue is dues and special money raising projects. Anybody can be a member, the dues being just one dollar a year. Membership entitles you to attend the monthly meeting every second Thursday of the month where some more of Plymouth's past is brought to light.

Prices for the dinner include: $.60 for under 12, $1.25 for adults, and $3.75 for a family, regardless of size. The troop is sponsored by the Farrand PTA.

Appraisal in for senior housing plan

The appraisal on the proposed site of the City of Plymouth's senior citizen's home has been received, and forwarded to Federal offices in Chicago.

The appraisal was for the Wilcox property on the corner of Union St. and Penniman Ave. According to clerk Eugene Slider, who is the head of the Housing Commission, the appraisal was reviewed, and then sent on.

It had been rumored that several points of contention were raised by the Commission, and it was felt that the appraisal might be too high.

Slider agreed with this, and noted that any action on the project was several months away. In the meantime the housing Commission is expected to also consider several other sites proposed by the City Commission during recent committee-of-the-whole sessions.

The Federal government approved a grant of nearly $900,000 for the project last summer.

Then last fall, Jack Wilcox, owner of the property the City is seeking, said he would take the matter to court before he would sell it for the project.

The Commission then met informally, and suggested several other sites.

Earlier in the summer Cape had been embroiled with the City legislators over his illegal paving of Byron Ave. for parking.

And, three property owners near Cape had objected to the vacation of the street.

Cape at the time of the request for vacation told the City he was nearly broke, and that if he didn't have the land, he would be washed up.

He had not been heard from for several weeks, then this week announced his suit.

The commission approved the rezoning 6-1, with Maurice Breen voting no. He explained he voted the matter down because he felt the professional planners opinion should be upheld.

A structure with colonial architecture is planned; the extra land will be used for parking and grass area. The Bank will not rest right on the corner.

ON OTHER matters: the Commission: * Approved the preliminary plat for the 62-home subdivision, Stoller Estates (JAR Corporation), on the northeast corner of Joy and Beck, after several objections were heard about the layout of the lots. In general, the objection centered around the homes on the edge of the subdivision abutting their rear property line on Beck and Joy, rather than their front line. A row of trees was requested by the commission to eliminate the problem, and Sam Stoller, developer, agreed.

* Tabled, until the applicant was joined by the land owner, a request for apartment rezoning on Schoolcraft Rd., from Derald Jennings. Breen opposed hearing the request until the land owner involved was present and represented the application.

Hockey rink under study

community, and in June asked for an area wide study of recreation needs.

The study was to be headed by Angelo Palerno of Garden City, but no action has been taken on the matter.

The hockey rink idea has kicked around for several months, and it was originally thought the Gay Blade Corp, would buy land in the Mill St. Urban renewal project. But the company could not finance the project.

The Commission voted formally to turn the matter over to the committee, having the week before informally decided the question at a committee-of-the-whole session.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Commission discussed a request from the Checker Cab Company for a rate increase over the present rate of $.40 for the first one-third mile. The City fathers voted to deny the rates 7-0, then heard City attorney Thomas Healey report the City may set a maximum charge, but that it did not prohibit one company from charging less than another.

Then the Commission split 4-3 in favor of reconsidering the rate increase. Commissioners James Jabara, Robert Smith, Mayor James Houk voted yes, with George Lawton, James McKeon and Arch Vallier voting no.

Jabara said he felt the matter should be revisited in light of the fact that the taxi cab ordinance only sets a maximum.

City manager Richard Blodgett spoke in favor of the increase, noting that help was hard to get.

But Lawton explained his objection was the rate would make the cost of a short trip across town as high as a $1.

Vallier interjected that the matter should not be considered without both parties involved being represented, then moved the matter be tabled.

ALL COMMISSIONERS, except Lawton, voted yes on the tabling motion.

M. L. Tucker, of Checker cab, and John Florence, of the Plymouth Cab, company had both been present earlier, but then had left.

Florence had said he felt the present rate was adequate. Tucker asked for it on the grounds that labor was getting harder to hire.

The rate change would boost rates for the Checker cab to $.50 for the first one-fourth mile and $.10 for every one-fourth mile thereafter.

IN OTHER ACTION, the Commission:

Granted permission for the JayCees to hold the annual Fourth of July parade.

Heard a legal opinion from Healy on the powers of the county in the area of air pollution. The opinion reported that the county does generally have the authority to regulate air pollution with proper statutes.

Heard a complaint from Stewart Dodge, 1327 S. Main, about trash blowing into his yard from a nearby drive-in, and agreed to rectify the matter.

Authorized City manager Blodgett to continue talks with another municipality on an incinerator authority.

Approved a change order that would assure final payment for gravel and land fill used on the site of the new reservoir.

Dunn Steel celebrates Townsend's 150th year

Employees of Dunn Steel Products Division of Townsend Company in Plymouth will hear Townsend Company president, F. R. Dickenson speak on March 24 and 25 in connection with the parent company's sesquicentennial celebration.

TOWNSEND COMPANY, a 150-year old industrial pioneer and the first wire producing company west of the Allegheny Mountains, is a world leader in the production of fasteners and cold-formed special parts. With headquarters in Beaver Falls, Pa., Townsend counts eight divisions between New England and California, nine operating locations and over 1,700 employees.

F. R. Dickerson

Dunn Steel Products Division, located in Plymouth since 1925, became a Townsend division in 1951. Dunn, a leading producer of critical "safety" parts for the automotive and farm implement industries, is a pioneer in its own right.

It pioneered in developing special techniques to cold-form precision ball studs for automotive type steering and suspension systems and was the first to mass-produce them successfully by this method in the middle 1930's. The car you drive probably has Dunn ball studs in the steering and suspension.

Dickerson will speak to the midnight shift employees on the 24th before they report to work and he will address the other two shifts, executives, sales and office personnel on the 25th.

In 1816, when Townsend was established in the heart of what is now Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle, the War of 1812 was recently ended, there were only 18 states in the Union and the wire making industry was in its infancy.

Since then, Townsend Company, now an affiliate of Textron Inc., has become a world leader in the production of fasteners and cold-formed special parts.

The old, hand-forged iron key which once opened and locked the main entrance to the Townsend plant on Pittsburgh's Market Street has been selected as the symbol of the anniversary. The old key is six and a quarter inches long and weighs six ounces.

Since the days when Robert Townsend founded the company in collaboration with two other associates, Townsend has had a long story of steady growth. Four generations of Townsends headed the company until two decades before Townsend became a Textron company in 1959.

The young company made wire for the cables for the first telegraph line over the mountains, for the canal boat portage over the same Allegheny Mountains and many other historical structures.

For Townsend's first quarter of a century, wire and wire products were the chief products. Early woven wire products included sieves, riddles (either coarse sieves or pegged boards used to straighten wire), wheat fans, fire fenders, screening, as well as fence wire and wire rope.

By 1826, Townsend employed six workers and did $10,000 worth of business annually. In 1828, with the completion of a dam across the Beaver River from New Brighton to Fallston, Pa., in the Beaver Valley, the Company built a new plant at Fallston, 30 miles northwest of Pittsburgh.

DURING 1880, the Pittsburgh offices and warehouses were moved to the Beaver Valley location. The company's wire drawing and solid rivet operations still are located at that site in a modern shop. During the company's 100th Anniversary year, the present name of Townsend Company was adopted.

By 1926, Townsend was one of the world's rivet plants. Rivets for the first wagon built by the Studetaker Brothers at South Bend, Ind., were supplied by Townsend. The company still makes fasteners for the automotive industry.

After Robert Townsend Townsend, the last Townsend to head the company, died in 1928, H. C. Weidner took over the presidency for the next 20 years. F. R. Dickenson, who joined the com-

Tickets on sale for Scout-O-Rama

Hundreds of Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers in this community this week have launched their ticket sales effort for the huge Detroit Area Council "Scout-O-Rama '66" show to be held at Michigan State Fairgrounds on June 3, 4, 5.

Over 20,000 Cubs, Scouts, Explorers and leaders from this and other communities throughout the metropolitan Detroit Area will be actively involved in staging Scout-O-Rama '66. The show will feature the great variety of Scouting skills, sciences and hobbies which are a part of the hundreds of merit badges, vocational guidance interests, advancements and hobbies found in the Scouting program - and in the imagination of boys.

Nearly 450 action-packed booths and demonstration areas will fill the huge Coliseum and many other permanent buildings at the Fairgrounds, including the Community Arts Building. In addition, many acres of outdoor space will be used for staging Camp-O-Rama, Trail-O-Rama, and Road-O-Rama.

Other Scout-O-Rama '66 features will include a colorful Cub-O-Rama, Nature-Rama and Indian-Rama. A highlight for high school age Explorers and their girl friends will be a Hootenanny on Sunday, June 5, to which show visitors are invited as spectators.

Marvin L. Katke, vice president of Ford Motor Company, is General Chairman of the Scout-O-Rama '66 show, and Allen K. Parrish, sales manager for Thompson-Ramo-Woodruff, is Ticket Sales Chairman. Most of the packs, troops and posts in this community have already received their ticket sales packages, and are busily engaged in pany in 1947, is the current president.

Townsend embarked on a renewed diversification and growth program that resulted in today's corporate organization. To avoid undue emphasis on standard fasteners, the company adopted new products, acquired new companies and stepped up research and development.

Following this program, Townsend has acquired seven new divisions, made international manufacturing and marketing arrangements in Europe and Australia and acquired an interest in a fastener producing plant in Chile. Six new plants were built from coast to coast.

In the midst of the expansion, Townsend's executive offices were moved from New Brighton to Beaver Falls in 1960. By then, all operations were on a divisional basis.

THE VARIOUS divisions and their locations are: Engineered Fasteners Division (EFD), Ellwood City and New Brighton, Pa.; Cherry Rivet and Identikit Divisions, Santa Ana, Calif.; Dunn Steel Products Division, Plymouth, Mich.; Fabricated Products Division (Fabco), West Newton, Pa.; Boots Aircraft Nut Division, Norwalk, Conn.; TRS (Tubular Rivet and Stud Division), Braintree, Mass., and Chicago, Ill.; and Parmenter & Bulloch, Ganagoque, Ontario.

First Federal leads in lending for mortgages

Mortgage lending in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties in February totaled $118,577,737. The home mortgages (under $35,000) accounted for $58,049,555 of the total.

The figures were released March 15 in the monthly mortgage summary of Lawyers Title Insurance Corp., 735 Griswold St., Detroit.

Leading the list of 69 lending institutions - banks, savings and loan associations, mortgage companies and individuals - in under - $35,000 was First Federal Savings of Detroit, which reported it has closed 223 mortgage loans in the three counties in February in the lower category, for a total of $4,017,850. First Federal reported $927,500 in the higher category.

Largest lender in over - $35,000 mortgages in the area for the month was Bank of the Commonwealth, which reported $9,377,000 in that category. That bank's totals in the "unders" was $1,162,935.

Second largest lender in under - $35,000 in the area for the month was National Bank of Detroit, with $3,290,928; in the overs that bank reported $2,839,500.

Second and third largest lenders in the area in February in over - $35,000 mortgages were Detroit Bank & Trust Co., $6,071,900, and State Mutual Assurance Company of America, $4,000,000.

Calvary Baptist Church plans Missionary Conference week

The annual Missionary Conference of Calvary Baptist Church begins Sunday, March 27, and continues through Sunday, April 3.

For the past twenty-one years a missionary conference has been conducted in the spring at Calvary Baptist Church, resulting in an increase of missionary vision and giving.

During the year 1965 the church gave $25,000 to the support of missions and missionaries. Several young people of the congregation are now serving as missionaries. During the conference this year some of these will be speaking and showing pictures of the work in which they are engaged.

The main speaker of the conference will be Rev. A. R. Hughes, Deputation Representative of the Africa Evangelical Fellowship. Rev. Dick Knox, a missionary to the Middle East, will have charge of music. He is an accomplished trombonist and vocal soloist.

Pictures from the various mission fields will be shown by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sansone, recently returned from Colombia, South America, also, by Rev. and Mrs. Vern Carvey, coming direct to this conference from the Philippines. Pev. Richard Manion, a former resident of Plymouth and a graduate of Plymouth High School, will represent the Pioneer Bible Mission.

There will be 24 missionary displays on exhibit during the conference. These displays will show many curios from foreign lands, as well as provide information of the work being done by missionary societies.

Services on Sunday at 9:45, 11:00, 5:30 and 7 p.m. Week-night services at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 2, a Men's Missionary Prayer Breakfast will be held at 7 a.m. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Credit Union League gears for annual meeting

On March 19, Michigan Credit Union League member credit unions from Wayne, Michigan and surrounding areas met at Wayne Memorial High School to discuss in advance, major policy issues to be reviewed at the League's annual meeting in Detroit, April 14 to 16.

Panel chief were Iret Ferris, Director of the Credit Union National Association, and Treasurer of Detroit Teachers Credit Union. Speakers were Everett Wood, Manager of Burroughs Detroit Employees Credit Union; Richard W. Trytten, Treasurer Ann Arbor Co-op Credit Union; Robert MacKimmon, Treasurer Redeemer Parish Federal Credit Union. Jack Gray, Treasurer of Burroughs Plymouth Employees Credit Union, acted as master of ceremonies.

You can send "Voices From Home" record to serviceman overseas

Free Red Cross "Voices From Home" recordings will be made at the Northwest Service Office, 31228 Five Mile Road at Merriam, in Livonia from Monday, March 21 to Saturday, April 7, according to Mrs. Roger Page, 14234 Farmington Road, area chairman for the project.

"With the build-up as it is in Vietnam, we are sure that every family in the area will be vitally interested in sending 'talking' messages, in addition to writing letters," she said. "However," she continued, "Voice recordings do not only go to Vietnam, they can be sent anywhere in the world. They are recorded by families of servicemen stationed overseas, in military hospitals in the United States, as well as by families of Peace Corps members and foreign students studying here. The records are then sent, free of charge, to designated areas by the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross."

Mrs. Page also added that in order to make it more convenient for many families, the Northwest Red Cross Service Office will also be open until 8 p.m. on both Thursday and Friday evenings to record.

For an appointment, call Red Cross, 422-2787.

"Volpone" next film at Schoolcraft

"Volpone," a French film with English subtitles, will be shown in the Schoolcraft College Library on March 25 at 8 p.m.

John McCarten of the "New Yorker" wrote: "It's been a long time since any film has made me laugh as much as 'Volpone', a French film that does complete justice to Ben Johnson's play." The public is invited and admission is free.

The Conference will be conducted by District Governor Perry W. Richwine, and Conference General Chairman is Frank Henderson, Past District Governor, both are from Plymouth. Governor-Elect Steven Boyan of the Monroe Rotary Club will be introduced at the Conference.

Dr. Bergen Evans

Speaker at the noon luncheon on March 26 is John E. Stempel, who will represent Rotary International President C.P.H. Teestra of the Netherlands. Speaker at the evening banquet on March 26 will be Bergen Evans, Professor of English, Northwestern University, editor, author, and TV personality. Dr. Evans' topic will be "The Pleasures of Life".

PREVENT TB

Here's how to get free chest x-ray

Detroit's annual Spring Chest X-ray Survey to find unknown cases of tuberculosis and other chest abnormalities, begins Monday, April 4.

Mobile units will be at 51 locations throughout the area before the survey ends on May 13.

The program is co-sponsored by the Detroit and Michigan Departments of Health and the Tuberculosis and Health Society, Wayne County's Christmas Seal organization.

Anyone, 18 or over, may obtain the free chest X-ray in Detroit. Detroit ranked fifth in 1964 among the nation's major cities with 1,070 new active cases of tuberculosis.

The Motor City case rate of 66 per 100,000 population compares to 26.3 per 100,000 for the nation.

The recent outbreak of TB at a Garden City nursery dramatically revealed that tuberculosis is far from licked and that case finding efforts must be increased. The coming survey is part of that effort.

Kickoff ceremonies will be at 11 a.m. at the United Artists Building, Bagley near Clifford in downtown Detroit on Monday (April 4).

Women's Committee volunteers under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herman E. Reichart of W. Long Lake Road, Orchard Lake, will register and direct persons to a unit they purchased with Cinderella Ball funds and donated to the City of Detroit two years ago.

That unit will be at the Bagley-Clifford location for four days. It will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Monday (April 4); from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Other units will be at the following locations during the first week:

Paul's Cut Rate, Broadway near Grand River - Open Tuesday (April 5) from 12 noon to 7 p.m. and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

Litman's Store, East Jefferson and Engle - Open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (April 5-7) from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Miami Pharmacy, South Fort and Visger - Open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday (April 5-7) from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Arlan's Cut Rate, East Grand Blvd. and Concord - Open Thursday (April 7) from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

A permanent chest X-ray unit in Room 333, City-County Building, is open daily, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Further information may be obtained from the TB and Health Society, WO 1-1697.

Western Homeowners set meeting

The Western Homeowners Association will hold its annual meeting Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m. in the Gallimore School multi-purpose room. General business and elections of officers for the coming year will constitute the agenda.

Harold Fischer, director of the Plymouth Area Planning Commission, will speak on "Industrial Development within the community, and how it affects you."

All members are urged to attend, and refreshments will be served.

Carrier of the week

Bruce Rudloff has been cited by Plymouth Mail circulation manager Fred Wright as this week's Carrier of the Week.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rudloff, young Bruce, 11, has one brother, Jack, and two sisters, Karen and Margaret.

He attends Junior High West in the sixth grade. His family has lived here five years.

Music plays a big part in his life - he can play the accordion and the trombone.

In sports, he enjoys basketball, football, baseball, ice skating and swimming; he likes swimming and water skiing the best.

Undecided about what he would like to be, Bruce has set his sights on either the priesthood or the field of science.

His route covers portions of Greenbrook, Huntington, Farmbrook, Russet and Greenbriar Lanes, and Greenbriar Cr.

His mother is a housewife, his father a design engineer at Centri-Spray.

Circulation manager Wright notes that in many instances the paper route is the first business venture for a young man, and his first formal contact with people on a business basis.

"Often it teaches them the value of money, business logic and a sense of responsibility," he said.

Air objections to Greenspan's plan for Five Mile apartments

A written petition objecting to the proposed apartments on Five Mile and Robinwood in Northville Township was filed last week during a stormy public hearing at the Northville Township Hall.

FRED GREENSPAN, owner and developer of the Lake Pointe area, had requested appropriate rezoning for apartments for a 12.5 acre site on the Northeast corner of Five Mile and Robinwood.

Greenspan requested the action in October, but the Northville Township planning commission had set the matter aside while discussion and adoption of the 701 master plan was taking place.

Mrs. Margaret Tegge, Deputy Clerk, said Monday there were about 185 signatures on the petition. Considerable opposition was also expressed at the meeting, which all but jammed the Township Hall.

The planners tabled the matter until the regular meeting on March 29. A recommendation from their professional planners, Velican and Leman, has not been issued, as yet.

Greenspan has not disclosed how many units would be involved. He began Lake Pointe several years ago, and has continued work on the Wilcox Lake apartment development along with the 1200 homes he announced.

New Books at Dunning-Hough

"The Source" by James Michener is a dramatically fictionalized account of life in the Holy Land at different periods from 12,000 B.C. to modern times.

"Peninsular Country" by Raymond Burroughs pictures the land, animals, vegetation, and people of the Great Lakes Region.

"Unsafe at Any Speed" by Ralph Nader discusses how and why cars kill and why the automobile manufacturers have not made cars safe. A controversial book whose issues are being tested in court.

"A Fair Stream of Silver" by Ann Moray is a retelling of several love stories from the Celtic lore found in ancient manuscripts, tales, and ballads of Ireland, Scotland, Wales, and Brittany.

"When London Walked in Terror" by Tom A Cullen presents Jack the Ripper's reign of terror and a new theory as to the identity of this famous killer who was never caught.

"Congo Kitabu" by Jean Pierre Hallett is the author's account of his several years spent among Central African tribes.

Seminar planned for GOP campaign work

A tri-county seminar for Republican candidates and campaign managers will be conducted by the Wayne, Oakland and Macomb County Republican Committees in April. High-ranking Republican state officials will address the workshop, to be held April 16, at the Lawrence Institute of Technology, located at 10 Mile Rd. and Northwestern Highway. They include Governor George Romney, Republican State Chairman Elly Peterson and Wayne County Chairman Robert Waldron. More than 300 Republicans are expected to attend the day-long session which will cover campaign techniques, issues and organization. Other speakers at the workshop will include Bill McLaughlin, Republican State Vice-chairman; Hugh Humphrey, State Central PR Director, Steve Stockmeyer, House Republican Legislative assistant; Congressman William Broomfield; Jack Slater, Southeast Director of the United Republican Fund; plus many others. Applications for the seminar, or additional information, may be obtained by calling Larry Baker at the Wayne County Republican Headquarters at 873-6220.

FROM WASHINGTON:

Congressman Vivian reports to Plymouth

It has now been almost a year since the 1965 Palm Sunday tornadoes struck the Midwest, including southern Michigan. The first order of business was, of course, to care for the injured and the homeless. Then followed many months of clean-up and reconstruction, some of which is not yet complete. In the weeks following Palm Sunday, I wrote and spoke with Dr. Robert M. White, who was the Director of the Weather Bureau at that time, expressing strongly my conviction that we could and should immediately improve our tornado warning capability. Other members of Congress from nearby areas conveyed the same message.

DR. WHITE, now the Administrator of the Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA), appointed a working committee of specialists to review this subject, drawing together representatives of the U. S. Weather Bureau, the Coast Guard, Army Corps of Engineers, Federal Communications Commission, Office of Civil Defense and the Office of Emergency Planning.

In their report to the President, several months ago, this group recommended "that greatly expanded and improved nationwide natural disaster warning services be provided by the Government as soon as possible. A NATIONWIDE Natural Disaster Warning System (NADWARN) is proposed as the best means of accomplishing prompt and efficient warning everywhere."

ESSA has now announced that such a system will be established this year. (And thus another acronym joins the daily language) NADWARN provides for the rapid dissemination of warnings for such natural hazards as tornadoes, hurricanes, blizzards, floods, seismic sea waves storm surges, and other natural disasters. These disasters are now estimated to cost the Nation between 500 and 600 lives annually, and cause economic losses averaging between $11 billion and $15 billion a year.

With NADWARN, ESSA will extend the benefits of 24-hour-a-day weather intelligence including natural disaster information to all populous areas of the Nation. Ultimately it will provide around-the-clock weather service, now available to only 224 communities, to every one of the 2,900 communities in the United States which has a daily newspaper or radio or television station - a more than twelvefold increase.

IN MICHIGAN, one of fifteen states in "Tornado Alley", eighty-five stations will be connected to a National teletype-writer warning service. The communication links between the tornado detection stations and radio and television stations will be improved.

In subsequent stages, the system will be expanded to provide rapid warning of floods and seismic sea waves, for coastal areas.

Although it is becoming increasingly clear that some degree of weather modification is now very much a possibility, we shall probably never be able to prevent all natural disasters. But our ability to take adequate steps to protect life and property against the effects of tornadoes and other such disasters will be immeasurably increased by our increasing ability to predict these events, and to notify the public of their approach.

To honor C. Finlan

Charles P. Finlan of 790 Burroughs will be cited by The Travelers Insurance Company as one of the leading life agents producing over one-half million dollars of individual life insurance.

Finlan represents The Travelers through the Detroit office. He will be admitted to membership in The Travelers Inner Circle Club, an agents' honorary organization, at the annual conference May 3 to May 7 at the Hotel Del Coronado, Coronado, Calif.

Clip poison prevention list

Michigan physicians this month appeal to parents to poison-proof their homes and help reduce the annual death rate of 1,300 from poisoning in the home. Six suggestions are made by the Michigan State Medical Society which also this month is supporting the "Poison Antidote Kit" project of the Michigan pharmacists. "Accidental poisoning is preventable," stresses the medical society. Its prevention requires a personal effort to develop good habits of poison prevention. Many physicians this month are displaying a special poster which urged Michigan residents to "Poison-Proof Your Home." "The matter of accidental poisoning, particularly of young children, is a matter of grave concern of all health professionals," the medical society has stated. The physicians long have carried out an educational program to point out to the public the dangers of accidental poisoning. The medical society urges readers to clip and save the following list of six ways to prevent poisoning: 1. Label everything. Don't depend on memory when identification can be absolute. 2. Keep all household chemicals, cleaning agents, and polishes out of reach of children. 3. Keep all medicines, including such common drugs as aspirin in a locked or inaccessible cabinet. 4. Never put a poison or toxic substance in a container designed to contain food - milk bottle, soft drink bottle, cereal box, etc. 5. Accept children's curiosity, and the fact that they will eat or drink anything regardless of its flavor. 6. Teach children that there are some things that are yours, and they must leave them alone. If poisoning occurs, the medical society advises three steps: (1) Administer first aid to the victim, (2) save the container and any of the poisonous substance to identify the poison, and (3) get medical help.

Plymouth high lites... stk. Anxious PHS students... will be happy to hear that the 1966 Plymouth has been assembled, sent to press, and will be ready sometime in May!

The guidance office has announced that the following 17 seniors have maintained a 3.5 or better average during their senior high career. Listed alphabetically they are: Jon Adams, Mary Jo Arnold, Chuck Catlett, Tom Chandler, Jack Dean, Mary Fink, Ralph Heid, Rowena Innes, Rick Jones, Judi King, Sally McKenzie, Jim Nelson, Leslie Smith, Ginny Smith, Rick Wagar, Tom Webber, and Kay Zoet.

Congratulations!

Busy rehearsing for this semester's all-school play "You Can't Take It With You," are leading ladies and gentlemen, Nancy Newton, Steve Ott, Ed Wendover, and Judy Motkuz. Other members of the cast of the Kaufman and Hart comedy will be Debbie Broderick, Darryl Kiefer, Chris Sherry, Doug Bruce, Chuck Kellman, Karen Upton, Chris Behler, Diane Richardson, Clark Chapin, John Egan, and Mary Holmes.

Directed by Mrs. Dianne Johnson, the play will be presented Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, in the auditorium.

year's Model United Nations delegates from Plymouth. Going to U of D for the annual MUN conference are Sweden's delegates Sue Hulce, Sherada Erdelyi, Joan Schell, Mike Staff, and Mary Theeke; Denmark's delegation, Mary Fink, Paul Arrigan, Phyllis Barney, Cindy Eley, and Sam Farmer; and the Loas delegation, consisting of Tom Chandler, Chuck Catlett, Ralph Heid, Tom Leckie, and Brenda Mackie.

The delegations will spend Friday night, Saturday and Sunday at MUN. Former Governor G. Menen Williams will be the guest speaker at the General Assembly Friday night. Travelling with the MUN delegates will be Judi King, Ed Wendover, Kathy VanLo, and Nancy Spigarelli. They will form part of a student press corps which will report the various meetings and publish three papers during the weekend.

Plymouth is also sending several students to compete in the district forensic contest to be held at Belleville High on April 2. Kay Zoet and Mary Jo Arnold will be participating in the serious interpretive readings while Sue Foote and Larrie Noffsinger will enter the humorous interpretive reading.

Edison takes action on in-factory safety problems

"Safety is Everybody's Business" will be the theme as the Detroit Edison Company pulls out all the stops in their fight against employe accidents during the week of March 21-25. This week is designated as Safety Action Week at all Edison facilities.

"ALTHOUGH EDISON is one of the safest electric utilities in the country, there is always room for improvement," says Lewis Knickerbocker, chairman of the event. "We have set aside this week to reaffirm our stand against accidents on the job, on the highway, and in the home, and to emphasize that there is a 'Safe-way' of doing things that is also the 'Right way,'" said Knickerbocker.

During the week about 120 thousand pieces of literature, decals, and pins will be passed out to the almost 10,000 Edison employes participating in the project. Each day more than 600 supervisors will give talks to workers about the safety topic of the day and pass out literature for them to read in their spare time.

Posters, placards and banners will remind Edison people at every installation of the significance of safety on and off the job.

Mayors in eleven communities have commended Edison for their interest in safety on the job and in the community and have urged their citizens to join in and promote safety in their own way.

EACH DAY of the week has a safety topic assigned to it, starting with Monday, March 21, as kick-off day. Tuesday will be "Safety Attitude Day," on which a test will be given the employes to see how their attitudes effect safety, and special emphasis will be given the company's policy of paying cash for good safety ideas.

Wednesday is "Vehicle Safety Day." All Edison cars and trucks will travel with their headlights turned on during the day, and a check list for vehicle safety will be given each employe.

Thursday is devoted to "Safety off the Job." According to Knickerbocker and Company President Donald F. Kigar, "This is probably the most important event of the week; for more accidents and lost man-hours on the job are attributed to the lack of safety in the home and during off hours than any other time."

Friday is "Departmental Safety Day," during which each group of employes will evaluate the safety precautions on their individual jobs, and attempt to eliminate causes of accidents before they occur.

That neat-looking car in the foreground is the Malibu Sport Coupe. And the time to own one has never been better! It's inspired by the potent SS 396 lurking in the background. You've got to drive it to really know what we mean—a great reason for visiting your Chevrolet dealer's and taking one out. And when you see Malibu's your kind of car, get choosy inside. Order Strato-bucket seats. 4-speed. Stereo. Then, when your friends are through ah-ing, tell them how much money you saved. After all, that's one of the nicer aspects of Chevrolet's Double Dividend Days.

Eight features now standard for your added safety: Seat belts front and rear. Padded instrument panel. Padded sun visors. Outside mirror (use it always before passing). Shatter-resistant inside mirror. Two-speed electric wipers for better visibility in a downpour. Windshield washers. Back-up lights.

FUTURE MASTER CRAFTSMEN Mark Kulick and K. C. Steiner prepare for the annual 4-H Achievement Day fair which this year will be held in Plymouth at Junior High West, Saturday, March 26, all day. The pair are in Mrs. Russell Magraw's leather working class.

Saturday, Achievement Day for 4-H members
Mrs. Roy Lindsay attends workshop on beautification

A 4-H Achievement Day for Western Wayne County 4-H members will be held this Saturday at Junior High East, all day. The public is invited, free.

Risen Christ will show "The Trial"

"The Trial" is the film being presented on Wednesday, March 23, at 6:45 p.m. at the mid-week Lenten service of the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ.

Concluding the weekly Devotions on Wednesday, March 30, "The Crucifixion and Burial", last of the Passion. History film series, will be shown.

Set to begin at 10 a.m., the special day will feature project exhibits from 4-H members from this area. Bake goods, leather and wood work, exhibits on safety, photography and entomology are among those included.

In the evening, a dress review fashion show will be held, beginning at 7:30, followed by a talent show.

Over 50 members from the Plymouth area are expected to be represented at the Achievement Day.

Winners in judging will have their exhibits taken to a similar day in Greenfield Village later this spring. And, many of the exhibits will be sent to the Wayne County 4-H at Belleville this summer.

The Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan held a Beautification Workshop on Wednesday, March 16, in Warren, which Mrs. Roy Lindsay attended representing Plymouth Township. She is the wife of the late Roy R. Lindsay, popular Plymouth Township supervisor.

This is the first organization of its kind in the United States and currently consists of 49 member municipalities in Southeastern Michigan.

Its purpose is to motivate and help all municipalities in this area to set-up an Anti-Litter-Beautification program of their own; to discuss and coordinate projects; to agree on time schedules for certain emphasis time; and to strengthen the overall effort of civic improvement in this area.

Mrs. Lindsay reported that emphasis will be stressed for the year as follows:

- APRIL - Arbor Week - the last week of April.
- MAY - Clean-Up; Paint-Up, Fix-Up - the whole month.
- JUNE - Clean Water for Michigan - the whole month.
- JULY & AUGUST - Improve your lawns and street - the whole month.
- SEPTEMBER - Youth involvement.
- OCTOBER - Business involvement.

ON MONEY ORDERS:

Postal rate hikes effective next week

Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C.O.D. rates will become effective March 26, Acting Postmaster John A. Mulligan said today.

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues by $60 million annually. The fee increases will narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million, based on business handled in Fiscal Year 1965.

Fees for money orders, registry and C.O.D. were last changed in 1961; insurance and certified mail in 1957.

The fee changes, announced in the Jan. 11 Federal Register and confirmed in the register on Feb. 25, are put into effect under the existing administrative authority of the Postmaster General.

The increases include:

MONEY ORDER FEES: Domestic and international money order fees will be increased by 5 cents.

INSURANCE FEES: The minimum fee bracket will be increased from $10 to $15 and the minimum fee will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents. The revised insurance fees will be as follows:
$0.01 - $15 ... 20 cents
15.01 - 50 ... 30 cents
50.01 - 100 ... 40 cents
100.01 - 150 ... 50 cents
150.01 - 200 ... 60 cents

REGISTRY FEES: The present 60 cents and 75 cents fees will be combined into a single fee at 75 cents for values up to $100. Registry fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

C.O.D. FEES: The present 40 cents and 50 cents fee brackets will be combined into one fee bracket at 60 cents for amounts up to $10. There will be no change in the fees covering items valued above $10.

CERTIFIED MAIL: The fee will be increased 10 cents from the present 20 cents per item to 30 cents.

Losses incurred in the operation of special services are paid from funds drawn from the Federal Treasury. The fee increases will shift a substantial portion of the special service cost borne by the public to the users of these services.

Special Service Fees Effective March 26, 1966

The following schedules of fees for registered, insured, certified, and C.O.D. mail, and for money orders will become effective March 26, 1966:

1. REGISTERED MAIL (Domestic)

Commend Hockey coaches

The Plymouth Squirts play a late-season hockey game, beating Detroit Highlander, 3-1, March 16.

Ed Dobbs scored two goals, and Mike St. Lawrence one in the win.

On other matters, the Plymouth Hockey Association voted to not have a banquet, mainly due to a lack of funds.

The officers of the Association will meet at a later date to prepare a budget for the next season. The men who led the Hockey Association have been commended by James McKindies, spokesman for the League: Bill Crowther, Carl White and Major Smith of the Trading Post Juniors; Ed O'Brien and Bob Hudson of the Wilson Engineering Midgets; Hal Shelly and Vern Schilawski of the University Litho Bantams; Jim Wibby of the VFW PeeWees; and Norman Moore, of the Russ's Boys Squirts.

Unveil Jr. Football League for fall of '66

Plymouth will have a Junior League football program next fall. That was the announcement from a newly formed Board of Directors for the Plymouth Community Junior Football League last week. The League will begin operation immediately, preparing for the fall. It will be patterned after a similar league in Livonia. Details of the League were announced Friday by Bud Young, spokesman for the group. Young, and several other of the men in the league have been active in other junior league programs in Plymouth. "We will have three squads - a varsity squad, a JV squad and a freshman squad. Teams will be broken up by age groups as follows: Varsity: 10, 11 and 12. Junior varsity: 10 and 11. Freshman: nine and 10."

It is hoped to have registration before the end of this school year. The team will compete outside of Plymouth with teams from Garden City, Livonia, and Nankin. "We are buying the best equipment you can get," Young noted. Registration fees have been set at $7, which will include a full uniform, insurance and other items. The shoes will have to be bought by the individual player. The board of directors includes: Dick Nelson, George Hunter, Dave Wilkenson, Dale Blackmore, Dick Brooks, Jim McKee, Phil Johnson, Joe McCann, Bud Young and Jack Matthew. Young was named president of the League, Hunter unit director, Nelson, vice-president, Blackmore, secretary and McKee, treasurer.

A meeting has been planned for the first Wednesday of each month. Coaches are being sought as well as boys interested in the program. Parents will also be needed to help at games. The Panthers will become part of the Western Suburban Football League. The League schedules games, and provides paid referees. No scores are reprinted or standings kept. High school rules are used with the exception of extra points, which must be run, not kicked, field goals are not allowed. Young noted that Livonia had nearly 500 boys in the program last fall, and had only two serious accidents - that is, ones with broken bones. A head coach - Jim McDowell - has been named. He will direct all three squads of the Panthers. And each team will have a head coach, with several assistants. According to League rules, everybody plays at least four consecutive plays, and everyone must sit out at least four consecutive plays. Young feels they may require that coaches play the boys more than that. A seven game schedule has been planned, with one non-league game or scrimmage also possible. Games will be played on Sat-

The toe

Dale Livingston, ex-PHS'er who never played high school football, and leading scorer for the Western Michigan University gridlers, has reported out for spring football. Livingston won some close games for Western last fall, kicking extra points and field goals. His talent was discovered by the coach who watched him on the IM fields. Livingston kicked five extra points and eight field goals last fall, to lead all Bronco scoring. Spring practice lasts from March 28 to April 23, with the 23rd being set aside for a public intersquad game.

Jr. Baseball sets meeting

With registration for the 1966 Plymouth Community Junior Baseball League only a few weeks away, officials are holding a special meeting at 8 p.m. next Monday, March 28 at the American Legion Hall on Sheldon Road.

THE MEETING is open to the public and it is urged that adults who are interested in supporting the League's activity attend. Of particular concern is the shortage of umpires and coaches. At their last meeting a plan to consolidate the present program with football, hockey and basketball activities was discussed, but tabled because of the unavailability of sufficient facts at the time. It will be presented again at next week's meeting. A change in the eligibility rules was passed to extend the age limit to include boys who have not reached their 13th birthday prior to August 31, 1966. An election of officers was held and all positions except League Secretary were filled. Any volunteers? Details of the April 16 and 23 registrations will be announced within the next few weeks.

Junior cagers to unwind at annual banquet

The 1965-66 Plymouth Community Junior Basketball season ends this Saturday, March 26, with Championship and All-Star games in the morning and the annual banquet in the afternoon. The rundown of the games at the Senior High school includes two All-Star games and the Class 'A' championship game: 8:45 a.m. Celtics, 'B' champions, (coached by Jack Matthew and Hank Nay) vs. 'B' All-Stars (coached by Al White and Fred Marshall). 10:15 a.m. The Class 'A' championship game - Celtics 'A' (coached by voted to conditioning drills only. Money for the league is expected to come through donations, candy sales and concessions stands. A $3 membership for a family is also being sold to raise money.

The school system has offered tentative approval of the plan, and Young and other League officials have talked to athletic director John Sandmann and head football coach John McFall. Young said they offered help for the program.

Sports leaders in Plymouth have felt that Plymouth's poor showing on the varsity high school football field has been due to a lack of a proving ground for boys to start football at an early age. It is hoped this League will fill the gap.

More information may be had by calling Young at 453-6687, or Hunter at 453-2395. No sponsorships are allowed in the League, and the team is going to rely solely on support from individuals and groups who donate funds. Parents who have boys interested in football are urged to attend the next meeting, set for April 6.

PHS to go to Huron Relays

Celebrating its twelfth anniversary, the Huron Relays has invited 65 Class A high school track teams, including Plymouth's and 55 Class B teams in Michigan and Ohio to compete in the 1966 Relays March 25-26. All events will be held in Bowen Field House at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

THE HURON Relays, traditionally signaling the opening of the high school track and field season, is headed this year by Bruce L. Waha, Redford High School track coach.

The meet, sanctioned by the Michigan High School Athletic Association and the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, is sponsored by The Detroit News.

Class B schools will compete Friday, March 25 beginning at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Class A events will be held Saturday, March 26 beginning at 1 p.m. and at 6 p.m.

Last year's Class A champion team was Roseville High School. River Rouge High School was the Class B champion.

Tickets for the two day meet will go on sale each evening of the events at 6 p.m. Admission for adults is $1 and students special price is 50¢. Free admission for afternoon events.

Two PHS'ers win WMU swim awards

Two graduates of Plymouth High School, Gary L. Gould and Phil Bender were awarded varsity swimming awards from Western Michigan Swimming coach Ed Gabel.

Western posted a 11-1 record in the dual meet season and won the Mid-American relays title in December.

Tourney needs you

Blanks for the Plymouth Mail's first annual mixed doubles bowling tournament are available at the Mail and at Plymouth Bowl, where the tournament is being held.

Prizes of $1,000, $500, and $250 are being offered. The tourney begins April 9 and runs for two months.

A $10 entry fee covers all expenses: $3.30 bowling, $1.70 tournament expense, and $5 prize fee.

Plymouth Bowl is located at 40475 Plymouth Rd. Information about the tournament may be had by calling 453-9100.

Set umpires meeting

Managers, coaches and umpires are invited to attend an instructional meeting of the Suburban Umpires Association at Plymouth High School, Room 110, at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 30. Instruction will be given by Earl Gray, secretary-treasurer of the Umpire Association.

BEHIND THE MASKS are two members of the newly formed fencing class being offered by the PHS adult education and recreation office. Jack Dean, left, and Bob Krietch, both seniors at PHS, demonstrate a basic technique.

"EN GUARD"

Recreation department offers fencing

A fencing class will be offered during the spring session of the adult education and recreation program at the High School, it was announced last week.

The class will begin Tuesday, March 29 and run until the first week in June. The course was not on the regular printed schedule.

Greg Dean, an engineer for the Michigan Seamless Tube Co. in South Lyon will teach the class; he lives in Plymouth.

Dean learned his fencing in Austria, at a military school.

Born in Austria, he came here at age 16.

Later he was on the fencing team at Michigan State University.

His class will run for ten sessions, all held at Junior High West, in the cafeteria. The fee is $10, and may be held at the adult education office at Plymouth High School.

The class will begin at 7:30 p.m. and go for one hour.

Further information may be had by calling 453-3100, and asking for the adult education office.

Pamela Kloote wins honors at State swimming meet

Pamela Kloote, 13-year-old eighth grade student at Junior High West, won several honors at the girls Michigan State Swimming Championship Meet March 20 at Garden City High School pool.

Young Pam won:

5th place, 100 yd. backstroke, time, 1:14.5.

6th place, 50 yd. freestyle, time, :28.7

7th place, 100 yd. butterfly, time, 1:16.9.

Also she was a member of the relay team that won 4th place in the 200 yd. Medley Relay, time 2:14.7 (Pam swam 50 yd. backstroke leg).

Pamela has been swimming in competition for four years. She began under Coach John McFall in the summer recreation program. Now she is a member of the Garden City Parks and Recreation team coached by Mrs. Jewel Cooke, formerly of Plymouth.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kloote of Herald St.

Questions & Answers

Is it possible to cook a cracked egg in water?

Yes — and with nary a king's horse or a king's man involved. To make the egg whole again, simply add a few drops of lemon juice or vinegar to the water in which it is to be cooked. Then cook the egg at a bare simmer, as all eggs cooked in water should be done.
