Judge upholds guilty verdict in teacher case

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Judge Dunbar Davis, 35th District Court, denied a motion Friday to reconsider his guilty verdict against Central Middle School teacher Scott Kurtz on assault and battery charges, but he admitted his decision raises difficult legal questions.

Kurtz was charged with assault and battery following an Oct. 22 incident in which he used physical force while disciplining 16-year-old student John James of Plymouth.

Charles Bokos, Kurtz's attorney, filed the reconsideration motion based on Davis' reasoning for the guilty verdict, handed down in December.

Davis heavily relied on an Attorney General's opinion outlining a teacher's right to use corporal punishment.

That opinion condones a teacher's use of reasonable physical force when disciplining a student "under his supervision."

Based on the opinion, Davis said Kurtz's actions were reasonable each of the three times he applied force — in his own classroom, in the hallway, and in a substitute teacher's classroom.

However, the judge ruled the student wasn't under Kurtz's supervision inside the substitute teacher's classroom. Bokos disagreed with the ruling of the court.

"The court said the attorney general's opinion properly interpreted the statute (regarding school discipline)," Bokos said.

The attorney general's opinion was rendered in 1956 and couldn't have interpreted the school discipline statute in question, Bokos said.

"The statute came into effect eight years after the attorney general's opinion."

The 1964 statute states that a teacher or superintendent may use reasonable physical force on a pupil, necessary for the maintenance of discipline over students "in attendance."

Based on the statute, Bokos said, a teacher has the power of supervision any place in the school.

"In attendance is such an all-encompassing word," he said.

"It would not make sense to limit the teacher to certain areas of the school."

Since the case was a criminal proceeding, Bokos said, the prosecution must develop the question of supervision — not the court.

"There was no effort by the prosecution to prove that point beyond a reasonable doubt."

Kurtz's testimony indicated he believed he was doing what should have been done, Bokos said before reading portions of the trial transcripts.

"These are all indications that Mr. Kurtz thought he was working within the framework set forth for him."

Kurtz was "operating under the dictates of the Central Middle School administration," Bokos said.

Acting City Attorney Ron Lowe said the school conduct rules are "very vague" and lend to other interpretations.

Kurtz didn't pay attention to one rule which requires teachers to take students without hall passes to the building administrator, Lowe said.

Kurtz should have taken James to the principal rather than trying to find out where he belonged, Lowe said.

Teachers have an "individual area of responsibility; that being the classroom — and a shared responsibility for common areas," he said.

Davis said the boundaries of a teacher's supervision is a difficult question — one that should be decided in a higher court.

While Davis realized the importance of his decision on "the public, teachers and Mr. Kurtz," he stood by his interpretation of the law.

"When one teacher goes into another teacher's classroom, the teacher in charge is the one assigned to the classroom," he said.

Davis postponed execution of the $135 fine for four weeks. He set a $1,000 personal bond for Kurtz.

Bokos plans to file an appeal in Wayne County Circuit Court.

"The judge is inviting an appeal, and we're going to take him up on the invitation," Bokos said.

School hot lunch program records 6-month earnings

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools show a $3,000 profit in its food-service operation through the first six months of the school year.

Transporting lunches, a freeze in labor costs and a price increase for secondary-school lunches help the program record its first profit in a number of years, according to Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

"You put that all together and we better be in the black or something's wrong," Hoedel said.

The operation registered more than $20,000 in profits for September, October and November, according to recently released budget figures. The program lost more than $15,000 in July and August and another $2,000 in December. Financial losses in the summer months were expected because of small participation at Extended School Year (ESY) buildings, Hoedel said.

Labor costs are controlled because members of the Plymouth-Canton Cafeteria Association (PCCA), the cafeteria workers' union, have worked without a contract since the beginning of the school year.

TRANSPORTING "satellite" lunches from a central kitchen to other schools has saved more than $13,000 in lunch costs. The system still operates at a $5,000 loss, compared to an $18,000 deficit at the same time last school year.

Lunches are prepared at Plymouth Salem High School and transported to Plymouth Canton High School and four elementary schools, under the satellite system.

Farrand, Gallimore and Tanger elementary schools operate at modest profits under the system, while Starkweather elementary runs at a small loss.

The Board of Education wants to operate the food-service program on a break-even basis so educational dollars won't supplement the program. The operation has lost money in recent years, however, including more than $60,000 in the 1981-82 school year.

Loses license

Probation for fatal wreck

A 23-year-old woman is on three years' probation in the traffic death of a teen-ager in Canton last May.

Mary Katherine Celesky of Dearborn pleaded no-contest Oct. 7 to a charge of manslaughter with a motor vehicle, Canton police recently learned.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge William Leo Cahalan placed Celesky on three years' probation, and suspended her driver's license for that period.

The charge stemmed from the May 9 death of Linda Ide, 16, of Westland, a former Canton resident and student at Plymouth Salem High School.

Ide had suffered injuries in a three-car crash two days earlier on Ford Road east of Lilley in Canton. According to police, Celesky's car struck two other cars, including the vehicle in which Ide was a passenger.

A Breathalyzer test indicated Celesky was intoxicated, police said.

UNDER TERMS of probation, Celesky was ordered to serve 48 days of community service at the Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center, an alcoholism treatment facility in Detroit.

The community service is to be done during weekends, police said. Celesky also was ordered to attend a highway safety education program and to pay $780 in court costs, police said.

Forensics set for arson suspect

A forensic exam is scheduled for the 34-year-old man charged in January's fatal arson-fire at the Old Village Inn.

Gary Lee Cook of Livonia was arraigned in Wayne County Circuit Court Thursday morning. He stood mute to charges of first degree murder, arson, and assault with the intent to kill.

Defense attorney Robert Delaney requested the forensic exam for Cook, a former resident of the hotel.

"The exam is to determine his criminal liability," Delaney told the Observer.

"It's not for purposes of a mentally insane defense, it's to see if he's capable of standing trial," he said.

The forensic exam is expected to be completed in 30 days.

Cook is accused of starting the Jan. 5 fire at the Old Village Inn, 886 N. Mill, Plymouth. One man died and others were left homeless by the fire which destroyed the back portion of the building.

Delaney earlier said he wants the assault charge against Cook dismissed because "it wasn't substantiated" during the preliminary examination.

The preliminary exam was last month in Plymouth's 35th District Court. Judge Dunbar Davis heard two days of testimony before ordering Cook bound over for trial.

During the testimony, investigators said a medium petroleum distillate was used to accelerate the hotel fire.

Medium petroleum distillates include such items as charcoal lighters and paint thinners.

Delaney's defense is expected to center on the medium distillate believed to have been used in the fire.

"I would like to do some more investigation about the medium distillate," Delaney said last week.

In district court, hotel resident Joe Thomas testified about Cook's visit to the hotel Jan. 5.

Thomas said he saw Cook carrying one bottle — a liquor bottle from which Cook drank during his visit with Thomas.

"My client apparently didn't bring the distillate with him," Delaney said.

Long-split family excited because they're reunited

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Paul Vogle may return to Vietnam one day, but for now he's happy to be at home in Plymouth with his family.

Vogle, 51, foreign correspondent for United Press International (UPI), brought his Vietnamese wife and three children "home" Tuesday night. He was forced to leave them when Saigon fell in 1975.

"I've never known as much happiness in my entire life as I've known in the past week," Vogle said. "It's much better than I possibly could have imagined."

Vogle and family were reunited Jan. 27 at the Tan Son Nhut Airport in Ho Chi Minh City (formerly Saigon). Leaving Saigon with Vogle's family were 47 other children fathered by Americans during the Vietnam War.

This was the third group of Am-erians to leave Vietnam since September, when the two governments agreed to the airlifts.

Vogle and wife Mai Chi met in 1964. He was a soldier-turned-war correspondent and she a sales clerk at the Saigon airport.

The two were married three years later by a Catholic priest in Vietnam. They bought a farm outside Saigon and settled to raise a family.

"We made one tragic mistake," Vogle recently wrote for the UPI. "We neglected to register our marriage at the local city hall."

IN APRIL 1975 Communist forces moved into Saigon. Two months after the fall of Saigon, Vogle was forced to leave the country.

"I was invited to leave but I couldn't decline the invitation," said Vogle.

By now, the government had taken over Vogle's farm, and Mai Chi had destroyed their church marriage certificate and other documents linking the family to the "American enemy."

Eight years after their wedding, Vogle was forced to leave his home, now a Saigon apartment. Mai Chi and the three children (Kiet, Tuan and To Nga) couldn't go with him.

His son Kiet, the oldest, was 7 years old at the time. To Nga, his daughter, was 4 and his youngest son, Tuan, was 3.

Vogle doesn't remember much about leaving.

"I was in a state of shock. I was just doing what I was ordered and told to do."

Vogle went to Bangkok, Thailand, and continued covering the war. Mai Chi stayed in the apartment, trying to eke out a living for the three children.

Geake praises board opposing income tax hike

State Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, has described as "a wise decision" the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education's public opposition to a proposed increase in the state income tax. In a letter to Superintendent John M. Hoben, Geake applauded the board's action and expressed his own opposition to Gov. Blanchard's proposed 38 percent increase in the state income tax. "A state income tax increase at this time is ill-timed and unwarranted," said Geake, whose district includes Plymouth, Canton, Livonia and Redford. "I plan to do all I can, as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, to encourage positive and realistic fiscal policies to revitalize Michigan without further penalties to its people. "The state of Michigan still must face up to the fact that it has mispent, mismanaged and budget-tyranted for too many years. It is time to make additional budget cuts, and there are cuts which can be made. "It is time to eliminate the waste which has permeated so many of our departments and it is time to begin wise and prudent spending practices." Geake was responding to a resolution approved by the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education at its Jan. 24 board meeting. The resolution implores state legislators and the governor to "resist the quick-fix temptation to raise taxes and continue out-of-control state spending." The resolution also calls upon lawmakers "to face up to the state's financial difficulties and become problem solvers, and to build for the future by maintaining present tax levels, while reducing state services and programs."

Family reunited after long wait

The family's desire and hope was to be reunited. However the Communist government didn't have a policy regarding Amerasian families who were separated.

Vogle told Mai Chi he would work for the family's release. He didn't know it would take almost eight years.

"The next seven years of red tape, lost documents and bungling by both our governments and ourselves were a nightmare that will haunt me the rest of my life," Vogle recently wrote.

"I kept running into stone walls," he said. Attempts to authorize his family's release were channeled through the United Nations, Red Cross, Vietnamese government and American government.

"The first three years was tough and go," Vogle said of correspondence with his wife. He feared Communist retaliation.

"I think they thought I would keep trying," he said of his family, who lived on income from an illegal sidewalk coffee shop Mai Chi started. Vogle left them some money, but the government took a majority of it.

"There were doubts. You never know what's going to happen. But it was the one thing that kept both of us going."

During the eight-year separation, Mai Chi's life was completely up in the air, he said.

"How did she know what I was really up to? They didn't know what to believe — what I wrote them, what their government was telling them, or what they heard on the Voice of America."

"Their mother kept me alive to them by reading my letters to them."

Vogle saw his wife twice during the eight years spent apart. The first time came in May 1980.

"I got into a Vietnam tour group and went into Saigon as a tourist."

He saw Mai Chi but didn't see the children.

"She was a bit ashamed of their clothing. It wasn't good enough to be seen in the downtown area."

The second meeting came in December. Vogle was covering the third flight of Amerasians leaving Vietnam.

Vietnamese officials permitted Mai Chi to see Vogle at the Ho Chi Minh City airport. She showed Vogle the paperwork which permitted the family to leave on the next Amerasian flight.

The Communist government had developed a belief that family ties are important, Vogle said. The Vietnamese and American governments agreed to allow some Amerasian children and families to come to the states.

Vogle returned to the Saigon airport on Jan. 27 and met Mai Chi and his children.

Being a stranger to his own children was the "thing that scared me the most," Vogle said. That wasn't the case.

"The reunion was an emotional moment for my wife and me, but five minutes after their mother had reintroduced the kids to their long-lost father, the three of them were chattering away as though I'd just come home from a day at the office," Vogle wrote for UPI.

The youngest son, Tuan, bounces a balloon with the oldest brother, Kiet, seated in the background.

Watching "Shogun" on television is Tuan, Paul Vogle's youngest son, during his first evening in Plymouth.

Stadium planned in Canton for outdoor specials

By Dennis O'Connor
staff writer

Community activist Bart Berg wants Canton Township to "grow up" and build a stadium behind Township Hall. He wants the private sector to support the project, which could attract major events such as rodeos, demolition derbies and music concerts.

Township officials support Berg's idea — in concept — but want recreation superintendent Mike Gouin to research the project's costs before getting involved.

Berg wants to begin the first phase of the stadium immediately so it will be ready for Country Festival activities in June. He says he needs government support to start the stadium. After that, the project can pay for itself from gate receipts, volunteer workers and private donations.

"We want this to be a community project with everyone involved," Berg said. "I would feel everyone should take part in it — and do it without taxpayers' dollars."

"You keep adding on to it until you have it completed," Berg said. "I don't think you need more than 10-12 acres for parking and the arena."

Besides the land, Berg believes he needs $10,000 from a township surplus of golf course revenues. That money is needed for a down payment on bleachers (3,000 seats), initial grating of the land and temporary fencing, Berg said.

Bleacher costs alone are $100,000 cash or $168,000 on credit, Gouin said.

The recreation advisory committee is against this project, Gouin said.

"It's a big project," Gouin said. "If you are going to do it, you're going to have to do it right."

"It's possible — who knows who might be interested in supporting this kind of project?" Gouin said. "There may be people out there who want to back it financially."

The board asked Gouin to define costs for a feasibility study on the project. Gouin believes a study must be made if the township participates financially, because of the project's magnitude. A study will cost approximately $10,000, Gouin said.

Berg does not believe a study is necessary. He thinks minimal government funds and volunteer workers will support the project.

"I've had my belly full of that (feasibility studies) because everything they touch costs double the money," Berg said.

Berg also doesn't think contract workers are necessary to construct the stadium.

"I don't think you have to hire somebody to tell you if the land is six inches too high or five inches too low," Berg said.

Berg also doesn't think contract workers are necessary to construct the stadium.

Longtime banker, Barbour, retires

Edgar
staff writer

Although he has been in retirement for little more than a month, Robert (Bob) Barbour, a pillar in the banking business for more than a quarter of a century, is already having trouble finding things that will keep him active.

"I am having a lot of fun just thinking of the things I might do, but so far I haven't decided on any one. But it is enjoyable up to now."

Barbour retired as manager of the National Bank of Detroit branch at Sheldon and North Territorial, at the start of the year because of a throat ailment. It still bothers him and that is one of the things holding him back.

"At 63 I was nearing the retirement age and I didn't want to be a lame duck. I didn't want to be told they had a man to replace me. So, I did what I thought best. I left on my own."

Barbour is certain of one thing — how to spend his summers.

"We own a cottage at Green Lake and we'll be enjoying the farm weather up there. Then in the fall we will possibly go to some nice place in the southwest. Just where that will be I don't know. But I am sure it will be fun."

Barbour came to Plymouth from Cleveland where he had been employed by the Burroughs Corp. When that firm moved to Plymouth 33 years ago he came with it.

During the first two years he developed a liking for the area and took a position with the First National Bank of Plymouth.

He laughs now when he tells you that on the day he was hired by the late Flo Kehrl, he told him, "I came here to be your successor, and I hope it isn't too long."

As fate would have it he followed Kehrl to the National Bank of Detroit and then succeeded Kehrl when he died.

During this change, the new building at Penniman and North Territorial Road was under construction. He moved his office up there when the building was finished.

"Already I have missed being in the business world and meeting people every day, but I guess I will get accustomed to that. It's part of retirement."

The mild winter to hurt farmers

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

While most folks are enjoying the mild winter and the absence of snow, ice and sleet, the farmers in the area see nothing but dark clouds ahead and the possible ruin of the winter wheat crop.

The fact that the groundhog didn't see his shadow and — according to folklore — this means six more weeks of the current mildness, isn't much help to those who work the soil for a living.

"If we don't get snow soon," Wilfred Bunyea, a retired Plymouth farmer, said, "we are in trouble."

He said there is too much water in the ground at the moment and unless there is a dry spring, the wheat will be lost and the sweet corn crop delayed until later in the summer.

"We need the snow," he said, "to freeze the ground. Then with the spring thaw the earth becomes what we farmers call 'mellow' and is just right for the winter wheat."

"The way things are now with the ground soggy and bloated with the many rains we have had, the wheat could be rotted in the ground and the farmers would be in a hard way."

While discussing the condition Bunyea spoke a word of pity on the farmers.

"They have it bad enough now with high taxes and the inflation without adding trouble."

"Many of the fellows who were farming when I was active sold out or cut down their acreage. They just couldn't make it anymore."

"In my own case, when my father died we had 900 acres. The high taxes and the rise in the price of everything forced us to reduce to 200 acres. My son runs that much now and can't make any money — maybe not enough to even pay his taxes."

Asked why he concentrated on the trouble with wheat crops in this mild weather and dismissed the possible trouble with sweet corn, he quickly answered:

"With sweet corn, it is a different thing. We can delay planting until late April and still have a good crop by fall when the sweet corn becomes a family dish."

"And if we get a real dry spring, we can always irrigate the corn fields. This is no problem. In fact, oftentimes it helps."

"What we need now, and need it badly, is a dry spell. If we get the dry weather we hope for, or the snow that would freeze the ground now, much of the trouble would be eliminated. But we need the dry spring to save the wheat or all is lost."

WHICH TOOTHBRUSH FOR YOU?

Although we don't often think about what kind of toothbrush to buy, there are differences, and important ones. Toothbrushes must be prescribed for individual use just as medicines are.

Not long ago, the hard, natural bristle brush was almost universally recommended, and with some dentists, it still is. However, the natural bristles have almost knife-like tips that can cut the gums and, when used to remove plaque under gums, can break and create irritation in the area. Consequently, more and more dentists are recommending the soft, multi-tufted nylon brushes with rounded bristles. These are ideal for plaque removal. These bristles won't break under or irritate the gums. When properly used, the many bristles loosen the plaque and scrub it away.

In general, the straight handles are better than one with a curved or angled handle and the kind with tufts shaped into waves or bumps are not required unless you have wavy or bumpy teeth. If your dentist recommends a particular brush for you, use it. He knows your condition and what's best for you.

It's Tax Time

by Charles H. Williams, C.P.A.

CHOOSING AN ACCOUNTANT

Who'll prepare your tax return this year? It's time to start choosing a professional, and to undertake the planning that may help you shelter some of your income from taxes.

If your income is fairly straightforward and deductible expenses minimal, you might satisfactorily use a short-form return and do it yourself or with the help of a tax preparer. But with more income, and more deductions, as the return becomes more complicated, you're going to want a tax professional.

Why? Because it's worth the difference to put your tax return in the hands of someone with the knowledge to find every likely loophole, and the experience to know which are acceptable. And as you reach the higher brackets, you'll get the advice you need on sheltering some income from taxes.

Some free help is available from the IRS. Revenue employees will answer your questions (but the tax court has challenged some of their answers) and prepare the simplest returns. There are also independent and chain tax preparers who pop up at tax season. Their workers may not be experienced enough to catch all legal deductions.

A certified public accountant can handle most complex returns and are familiar with shelters and investing. His or her tax know-how can save you more than the fee.

How do you choose a professional? Recommendations from satisfied clientele are one way, as are referrals from lawyers. Once a relationship is entered, the client will find his accountant helpful in making financial decisions all year round.

INCOME TAX

We're a local organization. Even though we served more than 3,000 clients last year we haven't forgotten that every client is an individual and that each individual deserves the best service we can provide.

When we sign a tax return that we've prepared, we're proud of having done the best possible job for you. When you see our signature on your tax return you can be sure that:

1. The counselor who prepared your return was competent and thoroughly experienced in tax matters.
2. You have received the maximum legal deductions and the minimum legal tax.
3. Your tax return has received all the time and attention that was necessary to do a proper job.
4. Your tax return has been double-checked for both accuracy and tax saving possibilities.
5. Your return has been handled in a confidential manner.

Call us for a free tax organizer. Our fees are often less than the highly advertised tax firms and averaged less than $50.00 last year.

Breaking the deadlock.

"We couldn't decide on what to buy, so this is for you. For one of your little dreams, or part of a big dream."

Everybody... we all agree at last... it's a U.S. Savings Bond! Applause drowned out the rest.

The lunch was held at LaSota. It took over the entire restaurant and it still was crowded.

Grace presented Hattie with a funny card and everyone laughed. Then she handed her the $1000 Bond and said, "We couldn't decide on what to buy, so this is for you. For one of your little dreams or part of a big dream."

Hattie took the Bond and looked at it with relief. "Last week I found a sheet of paper someone left on the copier," she said. "It was a list of 42 different gift suggestions. Everything from a Hawaiian vacation to fancy luggage. I didn't understand what it was at the time. Now, all I can say is I'm so glad you decided on the Bond."

As the crowd cheered, she kissed Grace on the cheek and smiled a big smile. Then she sat down and burst into tears.

U.S. Savings Bonds make a perfect gift. They fit everyone. They're indestructible. And they cost only half the face value.

Take stock in America.

Schoolcraft 'burned mortgage' 6 years early

(Part XXXIX)

In October 1973, on the 12th anniversary of the founding of Schoolcraft College, student enrollment had climbed to 8,000, including those enrolled in both credit and community service classes. This was an 18-percent increase over enrollment in the fall of 1972.

Students enrolled in regular college classes totalled 6,371. The balance were in the expanded community services program, where non-transfer credit was given.

As Tommy Thompson noted in the Observer on Oct. 24, the institution had come a long way from the time in the early stages of its development when it had been called "Haggerty High." "From the description," Thompson wrote, "it has developed into one of the foremost community colleges in Michigan and in the Midwest."

The instructional center in Garden City had 550 students enrolled that semester.

that the typical Schoolcraft student was 18 to 20, male and a resident of the college district. Two out of every three students were 25 or under. The remaining 33 percent of the student body ranged in age from 25 to 70. The average age was 23.

By year's end, building additions on campus, representing a cost in excess of $1,270,638, had been completed and recommended for acceptance by the architect. They included a 25,000-square foot addition to the Applied Science Building and a 5,200 square-foot addition to the Liberal Arts Building.

In the spring of 1974, the board of trustees approved new educational advantages for senior citizens. Free enrollment in one institutional credit Community Service course per instructional session was made available under the terms of a Senior Adult Grant Fund set up for this purpose.

THE BIG NEWS that spring, however, was the "burning of the mortgage."

In May the college celebrated payment of the last installment on its first bond issue. The bonds, totaling past and present

Sam Hudson

$2,435,000, had been approved by district voters in mid-1962. The money had paid for site acquisition, site improvements, the Forum Building, the administration building, and the library, at prices which could not have been duplicated in 1974 and certainly not in 1983.

Sold in January 1963, the bonds were not scheduled for retirement until 1982. Due to rapid growth in the district's tax base, partially as a result of inflation, the board found it possible to retire the issue six years in advance, thereby saving taxpayers more than $500,000 in interest.

In July, Fernon Feenstra, an instructor at Schoolcraft since 1964, was appointed director of technology. Feen-stra, who earned his master's degree at Western Michigan University, had been an engineering supervisor with AC Spark Plug for four years before joining the college as instructor in electro-mechanics. He is now assistant dean of technology.

In August the college received a grant of $400,000 from the state for expansion of its Garden City instructional services. The board's first action was to approve an expenditure to improve the center's parking lot.

Sports fans at the college were elated in October, when Schoolcraft's soccer team defeated Henry Ford Community College to win the state championship of the Michigan College Athletic Association. Jorge Palma scored three goals in the championship game. The team had a 4-0 record in 1974.

Tennis buffs watched in November as work began on a dozen new plexi-pave-surfaced courts at a cost of $130,000. Installed near the physical education building, the courts were opened to play in June of the following year. Off-campus courts had been used for tennis instruction until the college courts were opened.

The tennis courts were part of Schoolcraft's $250,000 outdoor and physical recreation project, which eventually included 23 acres for archery, touch football, field hockey, soccer and other activities.

WHEN STATISTICS for the nine-year period from October 1964 to the same month in 1974 were released, they showed that Schoolcraft enrollment had risen 400 percent.

They also showed that the percentage of transfer of pre-degree students at the college had dropped from a 1966 high of 67.4 percent to a low of 45.4 percent in 1974. During the same period, the percentage of vocational or career-oriented students had jumped from a 1966 low of 32.6 to a 1974 high of 54.6.

In March of 1975 it was announced that Schoolcraft College instructor Robert W. Jones, who had come to the college as a composer-in-residence in 1969 under a Ford Foundation Grant, had been awarded a commission to write a bicentennial composition.

The $4,000 award was made by a subcommittee of the Worship and Arts Committee of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. The dramatic, hour-long composition written by Jones traced the growth of the Episcopal Church in Michigan. It employed vocal soloists, spoken narrative, dance ensembles and congregational participation.

WSDP thanks Four Seasons

To the editor:

WSDP-FM, Plymouth-Canton's community radio station, has developed an underwriting program to generate revenue to cover operation costs. The program, instituted Jan. 1 and approved by Superintendent John M. Hoben, is necessary because of the financial status of the Plymouth-Canton schools.

The program gives area businesses an opportunity to contribute funds to WSDP in exchange for promotional materials designed to enhance the contributing business.

It is a pleasure to announce WSDP's first major contributor is The Four Seasons Square in downtown Plymouth. The Four Seasons is underwriting WSDP's broadcast coverage of Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton basketball.

Its involvement has been tailored to provide maximum exposure for both operations.

The Four Seasons underwrites every game WSDP broadcasts, which totals four or five games per month. WSDP, in return, airs announcements three times during each game stating the support of the 15 cafes of The Four Seasons Square.

My personal thanks, and the appreciation of all students involved with WSDP, go to Bill Fehlig, manager of The Four Seasons Square and the owners, managers and workers of the 15 cafes located in the square.

WSDP is a community radio station which needs the support of the community to survive. The Four Seasons Square has taken a step which I hope other area businesses will follow.

Don't reduce library service

To the editor:

Regarding the Observer's "Joint service desired" by Gary M. Cates on Jan. 27, 1983. Trustee Andrew Pruner is quoted, "The library is used mostly by students. Why can't they use the high school library?"

I am concerned about the loss of library services. Seventeen years ago when we purchased our home, schools and a library service were major considerations in selecting the Plymouth community to live in.

A number of questions come to mind in reading Trustee Pruner's remarks: 1. Could the schools give us comparable services as economically as our library? 2. Where do the schools get their money? 3. Would adults have access to the library during the day?

It appears from the article that Trustee Pruner is unaware of the benefits and rewards that a good library and school system provides a community and a culture. Personally I would rather see a reduction in the number of township trustees than a reduction in the library.

Lee Davis
Plymouth

It's too bad that our political leaders can't listen in on the conversations these days at the luncheon table.

If they could, they would get the answers to most of the problems that have the country in the horrible condition it is. For instance, long before President Reagan announced that he would ask for a five cent a gallon tax increase on gasoline and use the money to repair the roads and bridges along the nation's highways, one of the diners suggested that if he were president he would ask for 50 cent a gallon increase and put thousands of unemployed to work.

And when it was learned recently that the unemployment commission distributed $1.8 million a month from the Canton office, the diners spoke up.

"Why not make these folks do something for the money," one of them asked. Then he added, "By putting these folks to work, and there are workers of all trades and professions, we could get the underpass or the overpass built on Main Street."

"THE CITY could buy the material and it wouldn't take long until the job was done. And once the overpass or underpass was a reality, other jobs could be found for these people who would rather work than take a handout from the government every week or two."

Then the other day came the dandy. One of the diners spoke up and said, "Why not give the 'guests' at the House of Correction something to do instead the stroller

of sitting around all day looking at television."

This was a new slant and the diner went on to tell how the "guests" at Dehoco some years ago farmed the land, raised all sorts of products and took care of the orchard that yielded all sorts of fruit.

"On top of that," he said, "they helped to rebuild and finish furniture until that program was stopped. But they now could raise chickens, thousands of them, raise the feed right on the ground and this would help to feed the hungry. We wouldn't have to go around begging organizations to supply food to the hungry and unemployed."

This suggestion drew considerable interest and it soon was figured out that about 5,000 chickens could be raised in six-week periods at very little cost as a starter. Sure, the first supply of food would have to be purchased. After that the corn and other feed could be raised right there. It was done before and it could be done again.

could be made in to a profitable venture. It would save the taxpayers a lot of money that now goes for the food that is purchased. It could be raised right on the acres of property and it would not only provide food for the hungry, but make of DeHoCo an asset instead of just a meeting house where the guests sit and watch television.

The speaker added another thought when he said, "They even could raise cattle and hold auctions like they did years ago."

These are just a few of the reasons it is too bad that our political leaders don't sit in on the conversations at the luncheon table.

correction

The Observer Newspapers in a recent news report on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education's opposition to an increase in the income tax incorrectly reported that State Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, was opposed to the proposed increase in the income tax.

Actually Keith said that he knew some legislators were opposed to the increase because they felt it would drive industry out of Michigan. In making the statement, Keith was expressing the view of fellow lawmakers and not his own position, which is in favor of the hike.

Libertarians meet tonight

An earlier article incorrectly reported the date as Sunday.

WELCOME THE YEAR OF THE BOAR WITH A FEAST OF CHINESE FAVORITES

February 13 is the start of the year 4681 according to the Chinese lunar calendar. It will be called the Year of the Boar (or Pig) following the custom of naming the years after the twelve animals in the Chinese zodiac.

New Year's Eve is traditionally the time for family feasting. This year what could be more appropriate than a menu featuring Red Roast Pork? The pork, the Hot & Sour Soup and the Shrimp Fried Rice are subtly flavored with soy sauce, that favorite Oriental sauce made from soybeans.

Soy Sauce is naturally brewed and imparts a salty sweet-tart flavor to the dishes. Another piquant flavor-enhancer, Teriyaki Sauce which is a combination of the soy sauce, wine and various herbs and spices, is used in the stir-fried vegetable dish on the menu.

Rice, of course, is always a staple in Chinese meals not only because it is a nutritious food but also because it is considered a good luck symbol. Consequently, rice appears in this New Year's feast not once but twice; first in the elegant Shrimp Fried Rice dish mentioned above and second in a plain version to accompany the roast pork.

Throughout the meal, small cups of steaming hot tea, the traditional drink of the Chinese, are served. As a matter of fact, according to legend, China is where tea was discovered almost 5,000 years ago. The clean, fresh taste of tea makes it the perfect accompaniment to hot and spicy foods as well as creamy-sweet ones.

Although sweets are not a specialty of the Chinese cuisine, a New Year's celebration deserves a fitting finale... ice cream flavored with another Oriental favorite—ginger—and, of course, fortune cookies.

✶Gung Hay Fat Choy! (Happy New Year!)

HOT & SOUR SOUP

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 1 can (10-1/2 oz.) condensed chicken broth | 2 tablespoons white vinegar |
| 2 soup cans water | 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce |
| 1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms (sliced or stems & pieces) | Dashi M.S.G. (optional) |
| 2 tablespoons cornstarch | 1 egg, beaten |
| 2 tablespoons Soy Sauce | 2 green onions and tops, sliced |

Combine chicken broth, water, mushrooms, cornstarch, soy sauce, vinegar, Tabasco and M.S.G. in medium saucepan. Cook over high heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and is slightly thickened. Pour egg into soup, stirring constantly in one direction, remove from heat. Mix in green onions. Spoon into individual soup bowls; garnish with additional chopped green onions or cilantro, as desired. Makes about 5 cups.

RED ROAST PORK WITH FLUFFY RICE

- | | |
|--|-------------------------------------|
| 2 pounds boneless pork loin roast (boned, rolled and tied) | 1/3 cup honey |
| 1/3 cup Soy Sauce | 1 teaspoon minced fresh ginger root |
| 1/3 cup plum jam | 1 clove garlic, minced |
| | 3 to 4 cups hot cooked rice |

Untie and unroll pork roast. Pierce both sides of roast with fork; place in large plastic bag. Thoroughly combine soy sauce, plum jam, honey, ginger and garlic; pour into bag over roast. Press air out, tie top securely. Turn bag over several times to thoroughly coat meat. Refrigerate 8 hours or overnight, turning bag over occasionally. Remove pork from marinade; reserve marinade. Retie and re-roll roast. Place on rack placed in pan of water. Brush thoroughly with marinade. Roast in 325 F. oven 1 hour and 45 minutes or until meat thermometer inserted into thickest part registers 165°; brush several times with marinade. (Cover lightly with aluminum foil during last half hour of cooking time if roast browns too quickly.) Let stand 15 minutes before slicing. Meanwhile, combine 1/2 cup remaining marinade and 1/2 cup water in small saucepan. Bring to boil and simmer 1 minute; spoon over roast and serve with rice. Makes 6 servings.

VEGETABLE MEDLEY STIR-FRY

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--|
| 1/4 cup Teriyaki Sauce | 1 medium onion, cut in chunks |
| 1 tablespoon cornstarch | 1 clove garlic, minced |
| 2 tablespoons water | 1/4 pound fresh mushrooms, sliced (about 2 cups) |
| 1 pound fresh broccoli | |
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil | |

Combine teriyaki sauce, cornstarch and water; set aside. Remove broccoli flowerets; cut in half lengthwise, then peel stalks and cut diagonally into 1/8-inch thick slices. Heat oil in large frying pan or wok over high heat. Add broccoli, onion and garlic. Stir fry 4 minutes, or until vegetables are tender crisp. Stir mushrooms and teriyaki sauce mixture evenly into vegetables. Cook and stir only until sauce boils and thickens. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

SHRIMP FRIED RICE

- | | |
|---------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 2 eggs | 3 cups cold, cooked rice |
| 2 tablespoons water | 1/4 pound cooked shrimp, chopped |
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil | 3 tablespoons Kikkoman Soy Sauce |
| 3 green onions and tops, sliced | |

Beat eggs and water together just to blend; set aside. Heat oil until hot in large frying pan or wok over medium heat. Add green onions and stir-fry 30 seconds. Add eggs and scramble. Stir in rice and cook until heated, gently separating grains. Add shrimp and soy sauce; cook and stir until thoroughly heated. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

GINGER ICE CREAM

(not illustrated)

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 quart vanilla ice cream | 1-1/2 teaspoons fresh ginger juice and pulp (fresh ginger root forced through garlic press) |
| 1/2 cup finely diced candied or crystallized ginger* | |

Place ice cream in mixing bowl. Allow to soften slightly. Fold in candied ginger and ginger juice and pulp. Spoon into freezer container. Store in freezer for 3 to 4 days to develop flavor. Makes 6 servings.

*OR, substitute with 1/2 cup ginger preserve.

FOR THE VERY BEST TEA

Follow these simple rules to insure a fragrant, refreshing brew every time. Don't guess about the amount of tea to use or the length of the brewing time.

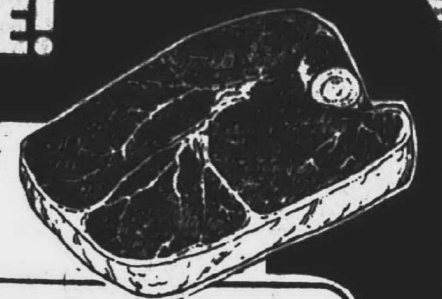

- Use a teapot, preheating it by rinsing it out with hot water.
- Bring fresh cold tap water to a full rolling boil.
- Use enough tea — 1 teabag or 1 teaspoon of tea for each cup of water (about 5 ounces of water per serving). Pour the boiling water over the tea.
- Cover the teapot and let stand for 3 to 5 minutes.
- Serve plain as the Chinese generally do.
- Or add a couple of thin slices of fresh ginger to the pot while the tea is brewing... or a few dashes of naturally brewed soy sauce for a distinctive Oriental flavor.

Spaghetti server is well worth its cost

Are you a gadget grabber? Do you reach for some gizmo hanging from a supermarket hook even though you aren't sure when you will use it? Later, does the gadget go into the kitchen drawer with your other time-saving devices?

You probably wished you could have seen the empty card — "Keep me full because customers want me" — the supplier's ingenious way of telling shoppers that an item has sold out.

In the interest of helping you kick the gadget-grabbing habit, Pilot Light from time to time will test inventive devices, but the purchase price will be close to one figure. There will be two ratings: try it or forget it.

Pasta lovers, meet the spaghetti server. When pouring the cooked strands into a colander, do you get a face full of steam? This clever creation allows you to transfer the pasta directly from pot to bowl with ease.

The server is pure nylon, with a handle about eight inches long that bends inward in the middle. The serving end resembles a hollowed out back scratcher with teeth. It also can fish out boiling eggs and works with meatballs.

When dipping into the pot of spaghetti, keep the teeth face up. The strands catch, the water drains back into the pot and you deposit the pasta where you desire. When most of the spaghetti is removed, empty most of the water and snag the remainder. If you cooked the spaghetti with a little oil, nothing should stick to the pot.

After placing the pasta in a serving bowl for mixing with sauce, meat, fowl or vegetables, it can be dished out to smaller bowls or plates with equal efficiency.

The spaghetti server should cost less than a buck. It is change well spent.

TURKEY TETRAZZINI

- 2 tsp margarine
- 2 tsp chopped onion
- 1 cup chicken broth
- 1 can (10 1/4 oz.) cream of mushroom soup
- 2 cups cubed cooked turkey
- 1 tsp chopped parsley
- 1/2 tsp white pepper
- 1 can (4 oz.) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
- 1 package (8 oz.) spaghetti, cooked.

In Dutch oven, melt margarine on medium heat, lightly brown onion, add broth, then soup and stir until smooth. Add turkey, parsley, pepper and mushrooms, reduce heat to low and cook 5-7 minutes, occasionally stirring. Drop in spaghetti, stir and heat through. Yields 4 heaping portions.

CHICKEN AND SPAGHETTI

- 2 chicken breasts, boned, skinned and diced
- 1 stick margarine
- 1 tsp olive oil
- 8 mushrooms, sliced
- 1 tsp salt
- Milled black pepper to taste
- 1 package (1 lb.) spaghetti, cooked
- 2 tsp grated Parmesan cheese

In large skillet, cook chicken in 6 tsp melted margarine mixed with oil on medium high heat 10-12 minutes, stirring often. Add mushrooms, cook 2-3 minutes, stir in salt and pepper, remove from heat and keep warm. In large bowl, toss spaghetti with remaining margarine and cheese, then with half of chicken-mushroom mixture. Serve in soup bowls and top with remaining chicken-mushroom mixture. Yields 5 heaping portions.

Color February red

Color perception depends upon many complex scientific factors. Conditioning and training, however, influence color perception of many objects, including foods. For instance, apples are expected to be red, green or yellow and never blue.

Colors of food also affect taste perception. Studies reveal that certain colors elicit certain expectations. For example, reds excite and call the viewer to action. Red is frequently associated with sweet, succulent flavors.

Valentines and George Washington's cherry tree create expectations of the color red. Home economists have developed two timely recipes that permit us to fulfill color and taste expectations of the ingredients. Maraschino cherries flavor, as well as color, Angle Souffle. Red tart cherries add color and excitement to Date-Cherry Crumble Dessert.

ANGEL SOUFFLE

- 1 package white angel food cake mix
- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp vanilla

Need to lose weight? Try Chinese stir-fry

These days, most of us are thinking about foods with fewer calories. One easy answer is stir-fry, using lots of vegetables and perhaps a little pork, beef or chicken for extra flavor.

A good many people have been attracted to Chinese wok cooking because of time. If you work a full day, stir-fry is a fast method of preparing dinner in less than an hour. The most time-consuming part of the job is the slicing of meat and vegetables.

You'll find meats can be sliced more thinly if you pop them into the freezer for a few minutes to firm the tissue. A food processor is handy for slicing vegetables, but a cleaver or sharp knife will also do the job.

Keep some Michigan sherry, fresh ginger root and soy sauce on hand for your wok cooking. And use your imagination in combining ingredients for stir-fry. Strips of chicken breast can be combined with sliced onion, slivers of carrot and broccoli flowerets.

Another time, prepare tender beef strips with snow peas and add carrots for color. Again, use slivers of pork, green peas, green pepper and onions with a sweet-sour sauce.

For a vegetarian side dish, stir-fry together sliced Michigan onions, green pepper and shredded Michigan cabbage. It may not be oriental, but it's mighty good.

You can serve crusty French bread with stir-fry foods. Surprisingly good, too, is hot cornbread as an accompaniment.

- 2 cups chilled whipping cream
- 1 jar (10 ounces) maraschino cherries, drained
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows

Bake and cool cake as directed on package. Tear cake into about 1-inch pieces. Beat cream cheese, sugar and vanilla in small bowl on medium speed, scraping bowl occasionally, until smooth and creamy. Beat whipping cream in chilled bowl until stiff. Gently fold whipped cream, cherries and marshmallows into cream cheese mixture.

Toss cake pieces and cream cheese mixture. Make 4-inch band of aluminum foil 2 inches longer than circumference of 8-cup souffle dish. Extend dish by securing band around outside of dish. Turn angel food mixture into dish. Refrigerate until set, about 8 hours. Refrigerate any remaining souffle. 12 to 16 servings.

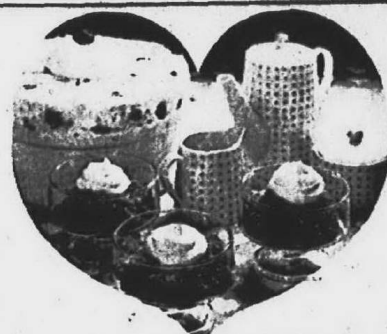

DATE-CHERRY CRUMBLE DESSERT

- 1 package date bar mix
- 1 can (16 ounces) pitted dark sweet or red tart cherries, drained and coarsely

chopped Whipped cream or ice cream

Heat oven to 375°. Prepare date mix and crumb mix as directed on package. Stir cherries into date mixture. Press half of the crumb mixture lightly in ungreased square pan, 8x8x2 inches.

Top with cherry mixture. Sprinkle remaining crumb mixture over cherry mixture. Bake until crumb mixture is golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. Serve warm with whipped cream. About 8 servings.

These two desserts which feature the color red are ideal for Valentine's Day or George Washington's Birthday.

THIS IS THE YEAR for the Arts Council's musical revue. The biennial event stars the local talented and even the not-so-talented.

Janet Brass and John Claeys are co-chairing Follies '83. They have been working for months on planning. The professional director from New York will be welcomed with a Meet the Director party Tuesday, April 12. This gala gathering also will be a casting call for those interested in being part of the show.

The actual show dates will be April 29 and 30 in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium.

ALL THOSE amateur photographers who were dismayed (and angry) about the removal of the ice carvings in Kellogg Park a couple of weeks ago may have a second chance this week.

It all depends on the weather. If the weather is right, the ice carvers will be back in the park this week. And there may be skating in the Gathering.

It's all part of the Johnny Mann Great American Choral Festival which will be going on Friday and Saturday in Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium.

The Plymouth Community Chorus and chorus director Mike Gross are hosting the state festival. Johnny Mann is hoping to use the ice carvings as a backdrop for taping segments of the festival for national television.

The ice carvings in the park may rank a close second to the annual hot air balloon festival as an attraction for photographers.

COULD BE the balloon festival will receive wider coverage this year. Lurching together Friday at the Round Table Club were Scott Lorenz, Gordon Boring, John Vos and Tom Dean of radio station WCZY. When those four get their heads together, it must be balloon festival talk.

The U.S. Post Office is issuing a new hot air balloon stamp commemorating 200 years of ballooning in this country. The Plymouth Post Office has not received word about when it will get the 20-cent stamps. They do know there will be four stamps in the block.

MARTY JABARA was invited to supply the keyboard music for the halftime show at the Super Bowl. Friends here caught Marty's sound on the piano and synthesizer.

He is a regular member of the group of 22 musicians who provide the musical background for the television show "St. Elsewhere." He does the percussion.

Marty's parents are Jean and Jim Jabara of Plymouth.

"BAREFOOT IN THE PARK" opened a week ago at True Grist Ltd. dinner theater in Homer with Charles Burr of Plymouth in the cast. The Neil Simon favorite will play for eight weeks.

Charles is the son of Ruth and Sanford Burr of Plymouth.

JACQUELIN DYER of Plymouth has been awarded a $250 scholarship from the Stephenson Foundation of Grosse Pointe Woods. Grants are based on academic excellence.

Jacqueline, a junior majoring in special education at Madonna College, has maintained a 4.0 grade point average.

CINDY JOHNSON of Plymouth had a major role in the Spring Arbor College presentation of "The Piper." Cindy played Mistress Hale in the musical fantasy based on Robert Browning's poem "The Pied Piper of Hamelin."

SHERRY HANNON of Canton was one of the state's skilled horsemen honored recently by the Michigan Horse Show Association. Sherry received special awards at a banquet at the Holiday in Livonia. She was cited for inner circle champion and reserve champion for amateur and open three-gaited saddlebred and Society's Something Sweet Champion, three-gaited pleasure horse.

VIKEY WHIPPLE and Evelyn Beck had high scores at last Thursday's party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Games begin shortly after noon and are open to all bridge players.

Johnny Mann visits musical celebration

Thirty-six choirs representing 2,000 voices will compete this weekend in Johnny Mann's Great American Choral Festival which will be emceed by the composer-arranger at Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium.

It is the first amateur choral competition in Michigan. The choirs will compete for $4,000 in prize money as the four best choral groups in the state are selected.

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and Plymouth Community Chorus will kick-off the activities at 8 p.m. Friday — opening night of the two-day musical celebration.

The choirs will begin competing Saturday morning. There will be workshops all day long for choral participants.

The finals will be at 8 p.m. Saturday with the Plymouth chorus opening the program. The 24 finalists and the grand prize winners will be announced at the end of the evening.

Mann is flying in from California to be master of ceremonies. His television show, "Stand up and Cheer," ran for three years. He has 34 albums in release and was nominated five times for Grammy Awards. He won the award two times.

He will return to television this fall with "Johnny Mann's Singin' Celebration." The show will feature the Johnny Mann Singers and segments from the Great American Choral Festival.

THE OPENING NIGHT concert is coordinated by Michael Gross, community chorus director.

"I've always wanted to work with the Plymouth Symphony and I could never express what a joy it has been to work with symphony conductor, Johan van der Merwe," said Gross.

"Our problem has always been finding music that would demonstrate the strengths of both organizations."

Judge Dunbar Davis also is involved in the opening of the festival.

"Ever since I met Judge Davis and discovered he was an admirer of Abraham Lincoln, I've wondered why someone didn't combine this admiration with the Plymouth Symphony. I knew that Aaron Copland had written a piece for orchestra and narrator telling about the life of Lincoln.

"The timing was perfect. Lincoln's birthday is Feb. 12 and the festival opens Feb. 11. I called Johan van der Merwe and Judge Davis. Both were very interested in doing the piece and thus the project began to take shape."

DAVIS WILL narrate Copland's "An American Portrait" with van der Merwe conducting the orchestra.

Johnny Mann will lead the orchestra for Copland's "Fanfare for the Common Man." The Plymouth Community Chorus and the orchestra will combine talents in Fred Waring's arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." Soloist will be Dick Schaw who performed with the orchestra at its 1982 Pops Concert.

Gross has invited four choral groups to round off the Friday evening concert.

"All four choirs are excellent examples of the highest achievements in choral music. I'm sure the audience will love this concert," Gross said.

The Livonia Franklin Bel Canto Choir, directed by Robert Ballard; the Interlochen Arts Academy Chorale, Lawrence Gray, director; the Macombers from Macomb Community College, Prof. Ellen Brown, director; and the Wayne State University Men's Glee Club, Dr. Harry Langsford, director, will complete the opening night festivities.

Gross said, "We have some of the best directors in the state on stage for this concert and I'm totally in awe of each of them. This should be a great concert."

THERE WILL be a reception for all of the choirs at the Plymouth Hilton Inn after the concert.

Admission to the Friday night concert is $5. Tickets for all day Saturday and Saturday night is $3. They may be purchased in advance at the Plymouth Community Chorus office 377 Amelia, Plymouth from noon to 4 p.m. Monday-

Friday; or at Sideways, 505 Forest, Plymouth. For information call the chorus office, 455-4080.

The festival is sponsored by the Hilton Hotels Corporation and is made possible through the efforts of the City of Plymouth, the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, the Plymouth Hilton Inn and the Mayflower Hotel.

"Everyone who enjoys music is invited to be a part of the excitement," Gross said.

He said a limited number of tickets are available. He encourages those who would like to attend to order them quickly.

City puts best foot forward for festival

The city of Plymouth and the Chamber of Commerce are planning some interesting sidelights to the Johnny Mann Great American Choral Festival this weekend.

An ice sculpture spectacular in Kellogg Park and members of the Plymouth Figure Skating Club performing across Penniman Avenue in The Gathering will add dimension to the festivities. If the weather cooperates with temperatures are low enough to make ice. Chuck Skene, director of parks and recreation is working with the skating club.

Johnny Mann hopes to use the sculptures and the skaters as background for taped segments of the festival. These will be televised nationally.

The prestige of the festival is shown by the number of choral groups taking part. They are:

- Battle Creek: Battle Creek Boys' Choir, Battle Creek Central High School A Cappella Choir, Battle Creek Community Chorus.

Balladeer charms town hoppers

By Elinor Graham staff writer

Balladeer Bill Shustik travels light. He could have wandered into town on foot with his knapsack and musical instruments in the traditional manner of balladeers. Plymouth Y Town Hall representatives who met his plane at Metro Airport commented on his lack of luggage. He had a small knapsack, a banjo and a four-year-old Martin six-string guitar. The major item in the knapsack was a bulky hooded jacket, a necessity for his next stop, Bismarck, N.D.

He carries the major tools of his trade — a vast library of American folklore and history — in his head.

His harmonica is the easiest of instruments to transport.

SHUSTICK was the third guest artist in the Plymouth Y Town Hall Series. The Wednesday morning audience in the Penn Theatre was entertained, educated and charmed. Town hoppers who had never heard of the balladeer became fans. They discovered why Shustik had been invited to perform at the White House and the Lincoln Center. They wanted to know where to buy his tapes and albums.

He recounts the country's history in song and story. The people's feelings come through during the battles, storms, and political changes. The opening of the west, the railroads, the heroes and the sinners, are recorded in song.

Shustik collects the old love songs, barroom ballads, hymns and spirituals. Sometimes new lyrics are added when he meets an oldtimer who recalls a different version.

He is interested in the songs of the Depression and the WPA and is adding them to his repertoire.

His story of Meg the witch could be called a dramatic reading, with musical background and emphasis.

THE BALLADEER played his banjo, which he referred to as a "native American instrument," as an accompaniment for a medley of Civil War tunes. He switched to guitar for the love ballad, "Ora Lee."

Later, at the celebrity luncheon in the Mayflower Meeting House, he said

Lorena was the Northern counterpart to the Southern name, "Ora Lee."

The audience presented written and oral questions during a question and answer session following the luncheon. Queries dealt with his personal life — age, married or single, where he lived, children.

He is 37, single, and lives in a loft in New York City overlooking the Hudson. He responded to questions about the Shenandoah, a square-rigger sailing vessel. Shustik used to spend his summers aboard the ship, working crew and as official sea chanteur. His busy schedule now limits his sailing to a short two weeks.

Shustik says his fascination with American history and an old Burl Ives song book were instrumental in starting his career as a balladeer. He expressed great admiration for Burl Ives.

He said Benjamin A. Botkin's books have been a tremendous source of information. He recommended all his "Treasury" books — the west, New England, American Folklore, and the Mississippi, as well as Botkin's "Legends of the Civil War."

Plymouth's first Town Hall Series will conclude March 2 with Jack Reynolds, NBC bureau chief, as speaker. Individual tickets at $8 may be reserved by calling the Plymouth Family Y, 453-2904. For celebrity luncheon reservations, call the Y.

Listening skills theme of workshop

Families, couples considering marriage and members of the human service field can improve their communication skills in an "Empathy Listening Skills" workshop offered Friday-Saturday at Madonna College in Livonia.

Madonna instructor William Vanderwill will conduct the workshops. All workshop concepts will focus on how to work with people and how they can be applied to work situations.

Vanderwill said participants will begin improving communication skills by "identifying their feelings." He said they will then "clarify and resolve any problems they have with those feelings and learn to express them.

Workshop sessions will be Friday 6-10 p.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Both classes will be in room 102.

Participants can receive college credit or continuing education credit for the workshop. The cost is $65.

For more information or registration, call the continuing education office, 591-5049.

Near-perfect Salem sinks Stevenson

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

There are a lot of people in Livonia, Plymouth and Canton who missed something special Thursday night.

If they were at home watching "Shogun" reruns, playing videogames or counting snowflakes, they were in the wrong place. Where they should have been is at Livonia Stevenson High School, where the Spartans hosted Plymouth Salem in a key Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) basketball game.

The crowd at Stevenson half-filled the gym, but what they saw was a classic contest, as Salem turned in a near-flawless performance to knock off the Spartans, 55-50.

IT WAS A BIG game for both teams. Salem had one loss in the WLAA Lakes Division coming into the contest — against Stevenson Jan. 7, by a 49-48 margin. Stevenson had one loss on its overall record (12-1) and was unbeaten in nine WLAA Lakes Division games.

A Spartan win would have just about wrapped up the homecourt advantage throughout the upcoming WLAA playoffs. But the Rocks had other ideas.

As Salem coach Fred Thomann accurately described it, "We couldn't play that team any better than we did tonight."

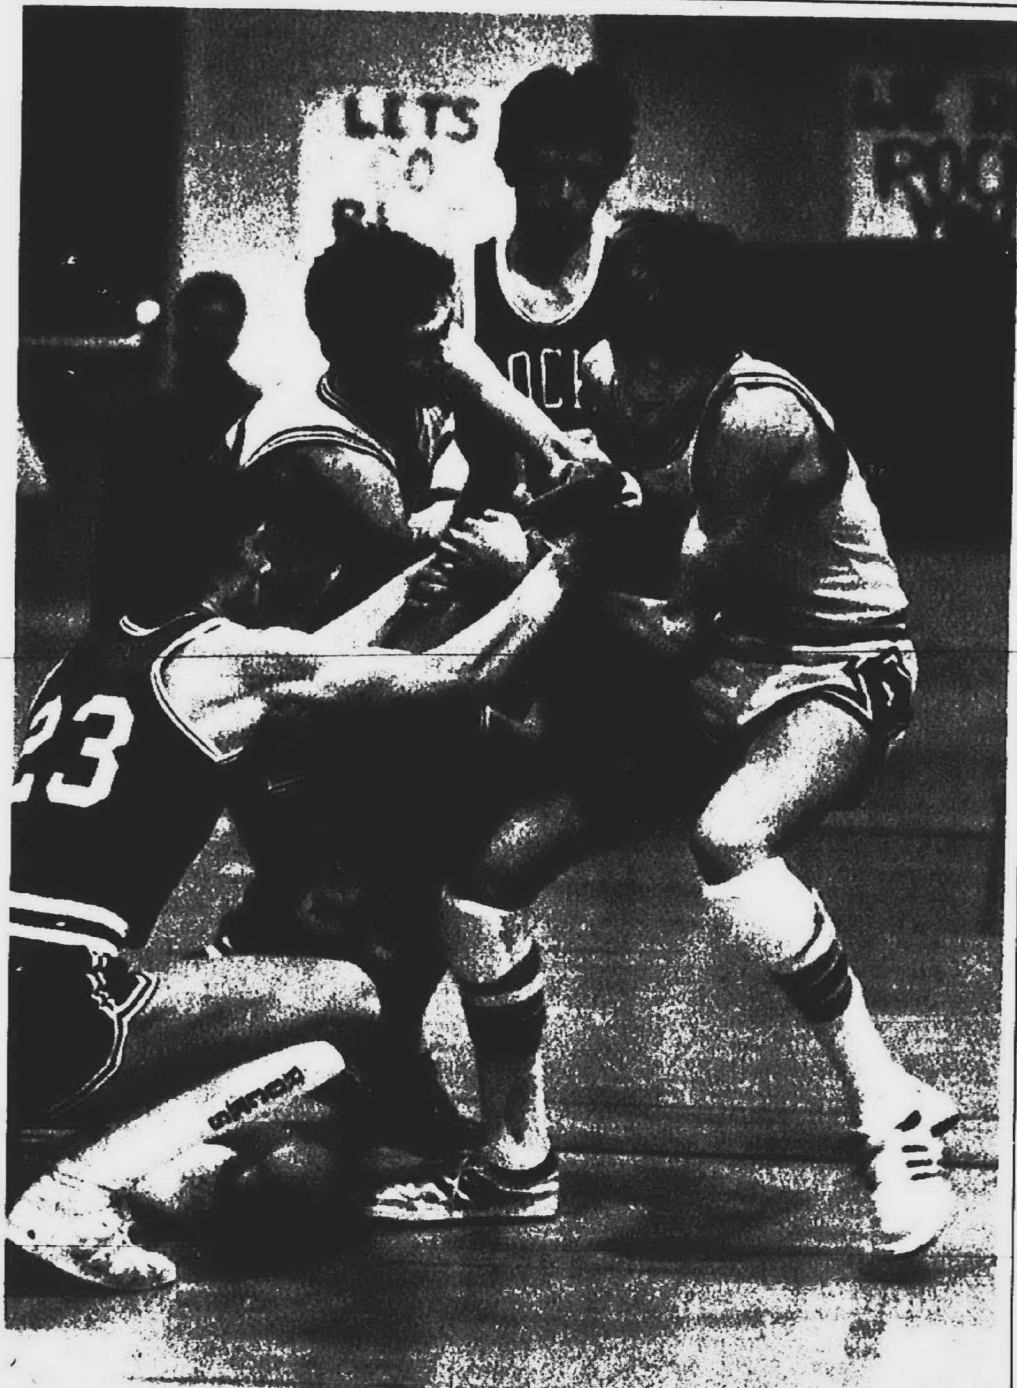

How close was it? Tied at 14 after one quarter and at 26 at the half. The biggest lead for either team in the opening half was four points by Salem.

A Rick Berberet basket with 16 seconds left in the third quarter allowed the Rocks to take a 39-36 advantage into the final eight minutes. Salem then scored the first five points of the last quarter, on baskets by Marvin Zurek and Matt Broderick and a Dave Houle free throw, to open up a 44-36 lead.

A PAIR OF Gary Mexicotte free throws sliced the deficit to six for Stevenson, and the Spartans seemed ready to roll when, with 5:46 still to play, Bob Sluka took a Mexicotte pass and layed it up and in.

Well, not quite in. Houle leaped up and slapped the ball away just before it hit the rim, an obvious goaltending call. Except the officials never saw it. They did see Stevenson coach George Van Wagoner explode on the sidelines and tagged him with a technical foul.

Broderick bagged both free throws and Stevenson, instead of closing to within four, was back down by eight, 46-38.

The Spartans never gave up. Twice they closed to within four, on Mexicotte's bucket with 3:03 to go and on Pete Rose's field goal with 1:03 left. But Salem always answered to frustrate Stevenson.

"They played well," Van Wagoner said of Salem's performance. "We played well, but not well enough."

"No way do I think they are better than us. They normally don't shoot well from 20 feet."

Subbing for... Luckless Chiefs still win

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Hey, what is this — a game? What happened to all those guys who started the season as the first team of Plymouth Canton wrestlers?

The answer is easy: injuries, illnesses, accidents, etc. Canton coach Dan Chrenko has had to overcome as many calamities as the Egyptian pharaoh who tried to stop Moses from freeing the Hebrews.

At least there's been no flood — knock on wood.

The surprising thing is that the Chiefs keep winning. They did Thursday. Despite losing the first two matches, Canton rolled to its ninth win in 10 dual meets and seventh in eight Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) outings, toppling Northville, 42-25 at Canton.

THE VICTORY kept the Chiefs on a collision course with Walled Lake Western for the WLAA's Western Division dual meet crown. Both teams have lost once in league play, to unbeaten Plymouth Salem.

"It's a big rivalry for us," Chrenko said of the upcoming meet, slated for 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Western. "If there's one team we like to beat, it's Western. We have a pair of one-point wins in the last two years."

During the early years of the now-defunct Western Six League, the Warriors were perennial mat champs. Canton assumed that role in the last few years before both became members of the WLAA, currently in its first season.

Canton temporarily lost three of its top wrestlers — Todd Bartlett, Todd Gattoni and John Allmand — after they were injured in a car accident Jan. 15. Bartlett returned against wrestling

Northville and Chrenko said it "looks pretty optimistic" that Gattoni and Allmand will be back for the Western meet.

BUT, IN THE meantime, Jamie Riegall, who was also involved in the car accident but not injured as seriously, hurt his knee in practice last week. He didn't wrestle against Northville, and his status remains uncertain.

Jeff Condit filled in at the 101-pound weight division for Riegall and was defeated by the Mustangs' Jim Assemany, 11-0. Northville's Bruce Wolgram (108) then pinned Heath Smith, who was subbing for Gattoni, in 5:12.

Bartlett (115) ended the Northville surge and got Canton rolling with a 9-1 win over Erwin Morfe. The Chiefs rattled off six more match wins, four on pins, to clinch the victory.

Winners on pins in the Canton streak were Jim Parks (122), in 3:52 over Mike Bates; Tom Frigge (135), in 5:37 over Bob Wolgram; Bob Parks (141), in 3:23 over John LeTarte; and Marty Heaton (158), in 4:1 over Mark Levitt.

Tim Collins (129) blanked Northville's Kent Mathes, 12-0, and Larry Janiga (148) shut out the Mustangs' Jay Anderson, 6-0, in the Chief surge.

Paul Fletcher (201) was the final Chief victor, nailing Don Unsworth in just :33.

Following the Western dual, Canton will compete in the WLAA championships, hosted by Western. Favorites for the title are Salem, Western and Canton, with Livonia Bentley and Walled Lake Central upset hopefuls.

S'craft triumphant

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Teamwork was the key Wednesday night as Schoolcraft College avenged an earlier loss to Henry Ford Community College with a homecourt 88-83 basketball triumph.

Schoolcraft and Henry Ford went into Eastern Conference action this weekend tied for second place at 6-3. Flint Mott holds down the top spot.

The Ocelots, sporting a 19-5 overall record, played flawlessly in the first half, racing to a 44-27 advantage.

Lady Ocelots stun Henry Ford CC

Cathi Hengy scored 24 points to lead the Schoolcraft College women's basketball team to an upset 74-73 win over Eastern Conference leader Henry Ford.

It was Ford's first conference loss in 10 games. Schoolcraft, meanwhile, is now 6-4 in league play and 11-5 overall.

Hengy, a guard from Redford Union, sparked the Lady Ocelots to a 39-33 half-time lead with her accurate outside shooting.

Schoolcraft sports

The visitors from Ford, however, rallied in the second half, closing the gap to one, but failed to convert the go-ahead basket with possession of the ball in the final 11 seconds. Gina Johnson and Cheryl Sobkow each added 17 points for the winners. Deborah Johnson chipped in with 14.

Sobkow continues to lead the conference in rebounding as she came up with 10 loose balls.

Marsha Welser and Kathy Siemiesz scored 19 and 13 points, respectively, to pace Henry Ford. Livonia Franklin grad Julie Wilga added eight.

Rocks spike Canton plans

Plymouth Salem's volleyball team, sluggish over the past few weeks, got its game together Wednesday to knock off rival Plymouth Canton in a tightly contested three-game match, 11-15, 15-7, 16-14, at Salem.

The win improved Salem's Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) record to 6-2. Canton fell to 3-6 in the WLAA.

"It was a good match all the way around," said Salem's winning coach, Jeanne Martin. "It was not sloppy at all. Both teams played really well."

Although the Rocks dropped the first game, it proved to be instrumental in shaking them out of their doldrums. Canton raced to a 13-1 lead before Salem rallied to make it close.

"WE GOT REAL good sets yesterday, something we haven't been getting," Martin said. "And our serves all the way around were real good."

"We were much more aggressive than we have been."

Martin credited Lisa Granger, Diane Murphy and Darlene Dunlop with providing the sets that made the difference. Despite Salem's solid league record, Martin has not been satisfied with the Rocks' play since the Battle Creek Invitational earlier this season.

That assessment changed Wednesday. Canton had been on a tear recently with two straight wins (after five losses in a row) and a second-place finish in the Plymouth Invitational a week ago.

But the Chiefs' chances to beat Salem were damaged severely when Polly Roberts injured a knee in the final game. "She hit well at the net and served and set well until that," Martin said of Roberts' performance. An emergency unit was summoned, and Roberts had to be taken off on a stretcher.

Martin also thought Canton got a standout effort from Kris Harrison at the service line.

Salem hosts Farmington Harrison in a WLAA match at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Canton entertains Northville in a WLAA contest at 7 p.m. Thursday.

GARY CASKEY/staff photographer

Salem's Diane Murphy provided proficient sets to help the Rocks edge Canton in a tight three-game match Wednesday.

Canton tops Western

Plymouth Canton's gymnasts outclassed Walled Lake Western in a dual meet Jan. 26, but were out-matched themselves five days later in losing to North Farmington.

Against Western, the Chiefs rolled to a 102.45-92.65 victory behind Linda Beale's wins in the uneven parallel bars (7.7), floor exercise (7.9) and all-around (29.6). Beale was second in the vault (7.45) and balance beam (6.6).

Annette Bryce was second in the all-around (29.05), after winning the vault (7.6) and taking second in the bars (7.35) and floor exercise (7.7). Lisa Lovich was third in the floor exercise (7.25), fourth in the bars (6.0) and fifth in the vault (6.65) and beam (7.35).

Pam Modson, a Farmington Hills Our Lady of Mercy student who competes in Canton's meets, scored 8.2 in the vault, 7.8 in the bars, 8.35 in the beam, 8.15 in the floor exercise and 30.5 in the all-around.

gymnastics

ON JAN. 31, the Chiefs proved no match for perennial power North, losing by a 122.05-108.1 margin at North.

Beale again topped the Canton effort, winning the bars (7.8), placing second in the vault (8.25), floor exercise (8.15) and all-around (31.3) and taking a third in the beam (7.1).

Bryce was third in the vault (8.15) and all-around (28.9) and fifth in the bars (7.25) and floor exercise (8.15). Lovich took a fourth in the all-around (25.7), a fifth in the beam (6.6) and a sixth in the vault (8.4).

Modson scored 8.4 in the vault, 8.0 in the bars, 6.0 in the beam, 7.8 in the floor exercise and 30.2 in the all-around.

Canton, now 3-2 in dual meets, travels to Ann Arbor Pioneer for a dual meet Monday.

700 series keep piling up, but 800 mark is elusive

Bill Bashara, manager of Wonder-land Lanes, is puzzled. And with good reason.

"We can't understand why there hasn't been an 800 series rolled in his house, while more than 60 members of the high-scoring Classic have bettered the 700 mark thus far this season."

"We have had five perfect games, which is about normal," Bashara said. "But while the 700 series keep piling up, the fellows don't seem to be able to put three high games together. One of these days, it should happen."

With that, Bashara reported four more members to the 700 club from his house. Paul Crispin was the leader this week with a 741, made possible because of an opening 275.

Following Crispin were Tom Gow, who sandwiched a perfect game between counts of 237 and 198 for a 735; Ed Austreng, who rolled a 284 in a 734; and Gerry Heilstadt, who had a closing 278 in a 707.

IN THE LADIES' Classic, Jean Essa had a middle game of 243 in a 606 series.

Two other 700 series were reported during the week. At Merri-Bowl, Carl Hansen opened with a 269, fell to a 196, then rallied for a 257 for a 722. At Westland Bowl, Gene Elsner had a 288 in a 741 in the Tri-City Men's League.

In the pocket

by W.W. Edgar

There was a battle royal in the Men's Trio League at Woodland Lanes, where Tom Schoen nosed out Mike Rose for the pace-maker's role. Schoen had a 246 in a 668 to top Rose by three pins. Rose had a 242 high game in his 665 series.

High game of the week at Woodland was a 275, posted by Butch Walton in the Mixer's League. In the Gay '90s Senior Citizens League, Bill Lawler had a 250 for high game.

At Garden Lanes, Bob Fletcher recorded a 268 game in a 690 series. Other good scores came in the St. Linus League, with Jim Strong the leader (657), followed by Brad Lackey (650). In the Ladies' Classic, Jan Schultz was high with a 611.

OTHER GOOD PERFORMANCES: At Merri-Bowl, Polly Cole, a 607 in the Ladies' Classic, and Richard Iannetta, a 267 in the Senior House League; at Westland Bowl, Kim Jones, a 651 in the Ladies' Classic and Rich Smith, a 255 in a 638 in the Monday Morning Men's League.

Ocelots avenge loss

In the second half, Schoolcraft went ahead by 22 points with 12 minutes to play, but Henry Ford made a futile run, cutting the lead to five in the final minutes.

The Hawks frustrated Schoolcraft in the second half with a half-court trap.

"We had a super first half but I had a bad second half," said Schoolcraft coach Rocky Watkins. "I took the momentum away from them by substituting and playing too conservative."

SCHOOLCRAFT point-guard George Merriweather was charged with 11 turnovers. As a team, Schoolcraft turned it over 20 times in the second half.

Carlos Briggs, the nation's leading scorer, enjoyed a fine all-around game as he poured in 21 points and added 10 assists. Many of his passes went to 6-foot-4 reserve forward

Schoolcraft sports

Ricky Johnson, who tallied 17 points. Johnson made all seven field goals attempts and was 3-for-3 from the free throw line.

Livonia Stevenson grad Bill Keyes, who spearheaded the quick Schoolcraft start, contributed 12 points and five rebounds. Merriweather and Scott Conrad added 10 and nine points, respectively.

CHARLES CRUMP, a guard, led Henry Ford with 19 points. Four other Hawks were also in double figures including Redford Union grad Jerry Burk (15), Pat Riazzi (16), Bob Gyori (12) and Bob Brusco (11).

Rocks repulse Chiefs

SHOOTING WELL from 20 feet for the Rocks was Glenn Medalle and Broderick. Medalle sizzled, riddling Stevenson's 1-3-1 zone defense with jumpers from the free throw line and the corner to finish with 16 points.

What Medalle missed, Houle collected. The 6-foot-4 senior was out-sized underneath by Stevenson's 6-7 Tom Domako and the 6-4 Sluka, but he more than held his own and finished with 18 points. Broderick complemented Medalle's outside shooting with some of his own, pumping in nine points.

Domako netted 14 points and nabbed

13 rebounds for the Spartans. Rose had 12 points and three steals, Mexicotte contributed 10 points and five assists and Curt Ullstrom had 10 points.

The game left something to be talked about: a possible rematch in the WLAA tournament finals.

"I thought this was a great high school basketball game," Thomann said, then added his prediction: "And I think the next time we meet it will be, too."

"The thing is, the next time we play them we'll have to be that much better because they'll be improved."

If it happens, that game will be something to witness — in person.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm® Vent Dampers.

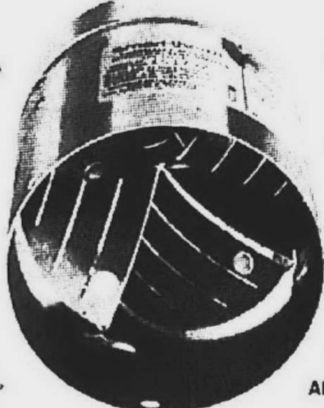

The problem is very common:

When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

Ben Kingsley makes his motion picture debut as spiritual and political leader Mahatma Gandhi in Richard Attenborough's "Gandhi."

the movies

Louise Snider

3-hour 'Gandhi' lives up to billing as significant film

"Gandhi" (PG) is three hours and 10 minutes long, and you can count that as time well spent. It's epic in more than length. Its scope; its cast of characters and, most important of all, its subject are all on a grand scale. Too often we see large, costly films that simply magnify trivia. That is not the case here.

The story of the great Indian leader, Mohandas K. Gandhi, called Mahatma (Great Soul), is the story of a man who affected the course of history and left an important philosophical legacy.

He is still a controversial figure in India and elsewhere, where proponents of social and political change look for quick solutions and regard Gandhi's strategy of noncooperation and nonviolence as impractical.

Yet, putting his teachings into practice, he stirred the conscience of the world and inspired millions of his countrymen to follow his own example of moral courage. He spearheaded the drive for Indian home rule and succeeded in creating an independent India within the British commonwealth.

THE FILM, WHICH spans 56 of Gandhi's 79 years, took producer-director Richard Attenborough 20 years to make. Most of those years were spent in cutting through bureaucratic red tape, winning Indian government approval and obtaining financing. Gandhi surely would have been amused by the irony of an Englishman, Attenborough, making a film about the man who contributed so largely to the dissolution of the Empire.

And Gandhi probably would have been pleased. Even though he sought to expel the British from India, he wanted "to part friends." His ties to England and his advocacy of English law emerge from the first half of the film.

It shows Gandhi as a young, English-educated attorney, arriving in South Africa to undertake work for an Indian client there. He is shocked by the harsh discrimination he encounters and moved to enlist other Indians in opposing and overturning the discriminatory laws.

This is by far the best part of the film. We see Gandhi as a mortal man given to outbursts of temper, quarreling with his wife, learning to become a forceful speaker and struggling to find his way to effect change.

At the conclusion of this important chapter in Gandhi's life, with the victory in South Africa won, the action shifts to Gandhi's role in the liberation of India from colonial rule. Unfortunately, this portion of the movie lacks cohesiveness. There is a disturbing randomness to events and absence of information about characters (background, motives, etc.).

WE ARE, FOR EXAMPLE, presented with the instance of an Englishwoman, the daughter of a British admiral, who travels to India to join Gandhi's household. We are given no clues to her conduct and simply left to guess about her reasons. We are also left guessing about the nature of Gandhi's political alliances. In one speech, he warns his countrymen about the danger of replacing British exploiters with Indian ones.

Later we see him working with political figures, at least one of whom seems to be the kind he was warning against.

The contradictions and loose ends, however, pale beside the bright core of this film, the incredibly realistic and magnetic performance of Ben Kingsley as Gandhi. Kingsley, half-Indian by birth, bears an uncanny resemblance to Gandhi. His body takes on the contours and shape of the Mahatma as he sits, wearing a loincloth and spinning cotton into yarn. His luminous eyes hold our attention and project the glow of a vital, burning spirit.

When we leave the theater, we may still be vague about Indian politics, and Gandhi, the man, may still be an enigma to us, but the image of Gandhi created by Kingsley's brilliant performance is sharp, concrete and lasting.

what's at the movies

AIDA. Sophia Loren stars in 1954 film version of Verdi's opera "Aida." Sophia's dubbed singing voice is that of opera star Reneta Tebaldi.

BEST FRIENDS (PG). When marriage comes in the door, friendship goes out the window in this romantic comedy with Burt Reynolds and Goldie Hawn as a couple of screenwriters who work well together until they get married.

THE CHOSEN (PG). Dramatization of Chaim Potok's novel about father-son relationships, the interlocking lives of two teenage friends and the faith that divides and unites them.

THE DARK CRYSTAL (PG). An adventure-fantasy by the creators of the Muppets features strange, elf-like creatures caught up in a struggle between the forces of good and evil in a setting that resembles J.R.R. Tolkien's Middle Earth.

EATING RAOUL (R). Deadpan dialogue and tacky surroundings set the tone for this bizarre comedy about a stuffy couple who come up with an outrageous plan for bankrolling a restaurant.

Local soprano sings role of beautiful loser

By Mary Jane Doerr
special writer

FOR BIRMINGHAM RESIDENT and coloratura soprano Jan Albright, singing the part of Elsa Schraeder in Michigan Opera Theatre's production of "The Sound of Music" is a totally different experience.

"She is not like any character that I have played," said Albright. "She doesn't win."

In the stage play of "The Sound of Music," Elsa Schraeder is a wealthy widow from Vienna who is engaged to the Baron. Unlike the movie where it is almost a cat fight between Maria and Elsa, the stage play portrays the Viennese lady in quite a different perspective.

"She is a strong person who has carried on her husband's business after his death. She knows her place and can stand on her own two feet. She doesn't need the Baron, but it would be nice," Albright said.

THERE ARE TWO solos not in the movie that Albright will sing, "How Can Love Survive?" (Act I) and "No Way To Stop It" (Act II), which add dimension to the character.

"Elsa truly loves the Baron, but completely disagrees with his philosophical approach to life. She is a survivor. She believes if you smile and are charming and don't have any confrontations everything will be alright. You just play life day by day."

But as the story tells, the Baron couldn't be forced into smiling his way along with the "Anschluss," the German take-over of Austria. Finally Elsa realizes the incompatibility of their two philosophies and bows out.

For Jan Albright, the 3 1/4 years she and her husband Michael Albright, now with Kelly Services of Troy, spent in Germany helped her to better understand this musical.

"We talked with the people in Germany. We had German friends. We spent time in the Alps," she said. "I think because of that experience I have a better comprehension of the character."

The attractive, slim, redheaded Albright was talked into taking this part by her sometimes accompanist, David DiChiera, MOT's general director. Albright has sung with the company since 1971 in over 12 different roles both at Music Hall and on tour.

She has sung everything from minor parts to major ones such as Musetta in "La Boheme," Lucia in "Lucia di Lammermoor," Marietta in "Naughty Marietta" and Adele in "Die Fledermaus."

BESIDES THOSE OPERA roles she has sung with nearly every symphony in Michigan, countless oratorio and solo engagements, and now is a member of the voice faculty at Oakland University.

Two of Albright's students are also singing in this production. Coleen Downey is Liesl and Irene Onken will sing Sister Margartta.

"I have discovered teaching and I am hooked on it," said Albright, a graduate in music education of Indiana University. "I teach both at Oakland University and at my home nearly six days a week."

Albright's husband shares her interest in music. He serves as her vocal Judy Kaye as Maria is surrounded by the children, and Jeff Duncan, in the Michigan Opera Theatre production of the hit musical.

coach as he also studied voice for four years at Indiana University even though he graduated with a business degree. He is a substitute singer at Metropolitan Methodist Church where his wife is soloist with the choir, and he sometimes joins the MOT chorus.

A few years ago when Albright decided to go to New York to seek a career in opera, it was her husband who encouraged her.

"To have that kind of life, one really must be a gypsy," explained Albright.

Jan Albright is Elsa Schraeder and Bob Grossman is Max Detwiler in "The Sound of Music" at the Music Hall.

wine Richard Watson

William Gibbs III was in town recently. Bill — Brother Rice class of '68, Michigan State University class of '72, which makes him a bit younger than Bronco Nerd of Michigan's Kalkaska Mountain Winery — is most recently of Felton-Empire Vineyards.

His purpose in being here, in addition to visiting his family, was to announce his decision to make his winery a significant marketing matter in the Detroit area.

Its presence has been evident for a couple of years but just barely. Now associated with a new distributor, Bill has seen our area as a significant national market for his 15,000-cases-a-year winery and has decided to concentrate his attention on us as one of his prime "outstate" markets.

It is a good decision. Michigan is a prime consumer, probably fourth nationally, of California wines.

THE WINERY ITSELF is in the low mountains above Santa Cruz, surrounded by madrone and redwood. It was originally used, from 1945-64, as the famous Hallcrest Winery. In its day it was the producer of some of the finest cabernet from California.

The property lay quiet for the next 10 years until the mid-1970s when Bill, winemaker Leo McClosky and two others joined together to purchase it and its limited amount of grapes. The two had been at Ridge together but decided to strike out on their own to purchase grapes selectively and process them in Felton.

When winemakers are free to purchase their grapes, they can make anything they want to and are not dependent on their own grape production. Leo and Bill have taken advantage of this and have, over the years, produced a large array of wines.

However, personal preference seems to be aiming them in a Germanic direction, their preferences being gewurztraminer and, most important, white riesling. The latter has been especially effective for them. They have won much national acclaim for their late-harvest desert wines and have done nearly as well with their table wine production.

Their goal is to be known as table wine producers. The late harvest is a quirk of nature they plan to take advantage of when they can.

ADDITIONALLY, two excellent have been made recently. A full, complex and warm pinot noir from 1979 is a beautiful thing. Small amounts are in Michigan, to be followed by a 1980 cabernet sauvignon using Hallcrest grapes just loaded with good fruit and balanced with strong tannins.

In addition to the pinot noir, a riesling and a gewurztraminer, both from 1981, are now on the shelves. Worthy of investigation.

And then there is the unfermented grape juice they have bottled. Several different grapes have been used in this venture but riesling and beaujolais have been most successful. Designed as a quick cash-flow operation, it has been a huge success for them, essentially allowing them to buy time for their aging wines.

The first six years of Felton Empire have been interesting ones, and successful as well. The future looks good with Leo in the winery and Bill on the road making white wines in a world that cannot seem to get enough of them.
