Arson reports mount thanks to fire training

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

The number of reported arson or suspicious fires in Plymouth has increased since 1980 — mostly because of increased fire investigation training.

"The number of such fires has always existed. It's just that we blamed it on a cigarette or circumstances that existed rather than arson or suspicious origin," Fire Chief Roy Hall said.

Since 1980 the Plymouth Fire Department has reported 20 fires as arsons or as having suspicious origins; seven in 1980, eight in 1981, two in 1982, and three to date in 1983.

Many of those fires wouldn't have been listed as arson or suspicious origins if the Force Five training hadn't been implemented in 1980, Hall said.

Force Five training involves 80 classroom hours of fire investigation training. The course was set up by fire departments in five communities — Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville, Northville Township, and Canton Township.

All of the Plymouth department's officers have completed the training.

"Eventually we are going to try to get the whole fire department trained in arson investigation," Hall said.

Later this year Force Five will implement a computer cross-referencing program. Fire information from the five communities will be fed into a computer owned by Northville Township, Hall said.

Computerizing fire data will increase the chances of finding persons with past records of suspicious fires, he said.

However, improved arson investigation doesn't guarantee an increase in arson convictions.

"It's very hard to get an arson conviction through court because there's usually a reasonable doubt since nobody sees the person light the match," he said.

"Arson is the only crime you convict on circumstantial evidence — seeing the person carrying accelerant, what they told someone, running from the building, and stuff like that."

Of the 20 arson/suspicious fires since 1980, the Plymouth Fire Department has closed the books on one case, and another case is now in court. The remainder still are under investigation.

The closed case involved an apartment fire on July 20, 1980, at 400 Plymouth Road. Fire officials believe the boy who died in the fire was responsible for setting it.

Other fires on the list were set for profit or even revenge, Hall said. He believes a majority of the Plymouth fires were revenge motivated.

The 20 fires in Plymouth "don't seem to be related in any way," Hall said.

Here is a list of the arson/suspicious fires in Plymouth, starting in 1980.

• Feb. 16, 1980: the Penniman Mall fire at 825 Penniman. The entire building was lost with an estimated $950,000 in damages.

• March 6, 1980: a fire at the Western Electric building, 909 Sheldon. An estimated $7,000 in damages.

• May 30, 1980: a garage fire at 230 Spring which caused an estimated $1,800 in damages.

• June 21, 1980: a fire at Garfield Auto, 1102 W. Ann Arbor Road. An estimated $200 in damages.

• June 25, 1980: a fire at the Mayflower Beauty Shop, 470 Forest. An accelerant was used and the entire mall could have been lost, Hall said. An estimated $18,500 in damages.

• July 20, 1980: an apartment fire at 400 Plymouth Road. An accelerant was poured throughout the apartment. The fire left one person dead and caused an estimated $55,000 in damages.

• Sept. 13, 1980: a minor fire at the Slak Shack, 853 W. Ann Arbor Trail. No estimated loss.

• Jan. 7, 1981: a car fire at 790

Beech. An estimated $8,500 in damages.

• May 3, 1981: a fire on a loading dock at the Troy Packaging building, 350 N. Mill. No estimated damages.

• May 9, 1981: boxes which burned against the door of an antique shop at 157 Liberty. The entire building and contents could have been lost, Hall said. No estimated damages.

• July 14, 1981: a car fire at 324 Auburn. An estimated $600 in damages.

• Aug. 7, 1981: a house fire at 635 Fairground. An estimated $300 in damages.

• Nov. 10, 1981: a fire at Bee-Jay's Kitchens, 628 S. Main. An accelerant was used in the pizza parlor and could have burned the entire building, Hall said. An estimated $45,000 in damages.

• Sept. 18, 1982: a fire at Central Middle School, 650 Church. The fire started on a plexiglass door and could have burned down the entire wing of the building within minutes, Hall said. An estimated $5,000 in damages.

• Sept. 27, 1982: a fire at Saxtons, 587 W. Ann Arbor Trail. An estimated $500 in damages.

• Jan. 5, 1983: a fire at the Old Village Inn, 886 N. Mill. An accelerant was used, and the fire left one resident dead. An estimated $200,000 in damages.

• Feb. 10, 1983: a minor fire at Westchester Mall, 550 Forest. An estimated $350 in damages.

• Feb. 16, 1983: three isolated fires at Central Middle School, 650 Church. The fires were set by someone who broke into the building. Each of the fires burned themselves out.

Old-fashioned all the way

An old-fashioned town hall will be the format for the business session Thursday of the Winter Council meeting of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association — and what could be better centerpiece than old-fashioned flower baskets? Eleanor Nief of Livonia and Shirley Ball of Redford helped assemble them along with other garden club members. Five area garden clubs (Apple Run of Canton, Lake Pointe Village, Tonquish Creek and Trailwood of Plymouth, and Livonia) will be hostesses at the day-long event at the the Sheraton-Oaks in Novi that will draw members from 90 branches across the state. Lenore Howe of Lake Pointe Village will be the meeting general chairman.

Eileen Miller takes folk music into the schools for the Plymouth Community Arts Council (PCAC).

Folk music enters schools

By Pat Waurzyniak
staff writer

An Appalachian limberjack tap dances wooden tunes and a mouth bow twangs primitive notes at Eileen Miller's command.

A life-long lover of good music, the 39-year-old Miller of Canton entertains elementary-age students in Plymouth and Canton with productions of hearily-forgotten mountain folk music.

Miller uses instruments like the limberjack, a small, wooden marionette, and a mouth bow, a flat hickory stick, to make vibrant musical expression.

Another favorite is the dulcimer, a thin, guitar-shaped instrument originally brought to America by Scottish-Irish settlers more than a century ago.

"One of the things I've found interesting is what's called 'playing the bones,'" Miller said, referring to the wooden sticks resembling bones. Youths in the Ozarks area of Arkansas and Missouri use the 'bones' to rap musical rhythms.

MILLER'S DEMONSTRATIONS for students and other groups are scheduled through the volunteer Plymouth Community Arts Council. Miller's fascination with folk music started on a summer trip with her husband, Lance, and their two children, to the Ozark Folk Center in Mount View, Ark., two years ago.

Professional and amateur folk singers presented their musical talents on fiddles, banjos and dulcimers. The Millers bought a kit to build a dulcimer.

Now, Miller uses a limberjack, a mouth bow and a dulcimer to demonstrate to young students a music form little known to many people.

"We run the gamut from classical, opera, puppets and folk singing to storytelling and dancing," Miller said of her programs. "They really love it."

IN ADDITION to her demonstrations, Miller gives weekly piano lessons to about 15 students. She also lines up professional acts for other school shows through the arts council.

For example, the folk duet "Gemini" regularly perform for the students. This group is made up of brothers Sandor and Laszlo Slomovits of Ann Arbor.

The Slomovits brothers spin folk tales with their music, gleaned from their own resources as well as popular artists and writers.

Sandor composes music to use with lyrics written by American authors such as William Stafford and e.e. Cummings. Laszlo pens original song-portraits of people he has met while touring Michigan.

"I guess that's folk people — doing their thing," Miller said of the duet's penchant for describing contemporary life through folk ballads. "They make the kids aware."

Performers listed by the council are usually booked at the end of summer for the next academic year, Miller said.

Board to announce ruling on charges against Kurtz

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education will announce its decision tonight on charges brought against a Central Middle School teacher. The decision was made last week in closed session.

Scott Kurtz, 30, was charged with "using capricious and impulsive action" when disciplining an unruly student on Oct. 22. Kurtz, an industrial arts teacher, is suspended with pay pending tonight's decision.

"The board did arrive at a decision, but I can't share it with you," Board President Tom Yack said Friday.

The board's decision will be announced by way of two resolutions tonight, he said.

The charges against Kurtz stem from a confrontation with 16-year-old John James of Plymouth. James entered Kurtz's classroom without permission and refused to identify himself.

ATTEMPTS TO identify and subdue the student resulted in Kurtz's use of physical force when he grabbed James by the hair and twice lowered him to the floor.

Board members met Thursday night in a closed-door session to discuss testimony given during the tenure hearing, which continued over a period of two months.

Members of the school administration weren't allowed into Thursday's session. Some administrators and a hearing officer were present during earlier sessions.

"The tenure process has become so legalistic bound it's hard to conceive of any school board going through the process without qualified legal aid at their side," Yack said.

THE BOARD arrived at its decision after five hours of discussion Thursday. "What we did is line up the charges and run through the transcripts to see if they are substantiated by the testimony. Our findings will be noted in the

3 charged in burglary

Three men suspected of several area break-ins were arrested Wednesday in connection with a Plymouth Township burglary.

Robert Kiser, 18, of Canton, Bradley Faulkner, 17, of Plymouth, and Spencer Wagner, 18, of Plymouth stood mute Thursday to charges of breaking and entering.

Judge Dunbar Davis, 35th District Court, entered not guilty pleas and set a Feb. 28 date for the preliminary examination.

The men were stopped by Canton police for an equipment violation while driving Wednesday night.

Open intoxicants and approximately $5,000 worth of property, including a television, silverware, jewelry, and stereos were found in the car, according to police.

Plymouth police were called to help identify the property. Some of the goods were believed stolen from a house on Highmeadow Court in Plymouth Township. The Highmeadow house was broken into earlier Wednesday evening. The men are free on conditional $5,000 personal bonds. Kiser and Wagner are confined to their homes 24 hours a day. Faulkner is confined to his home with the exception of several hours on Monday.

Kiser and Wagner requested court-appointed attorneys while Faulkner said he will hire his own.

Ski club members load onto Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' buses for the weekly trip to Mount Brighton.

Equipment is loaded onto a truck.

Butch Steele, senior at Plymouth Salem High, has a tough time on the hill.

Ski caravan a weekly event

Although there hasn't been loads of snow this winter, there have been loads of students going skiing every weekend.

Those students gather at the Plymouth Cultural Center each Friday and Saturday night. They are members in the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' continuing education ski program.

The sixth to 12th graders load on buses and ride to Mt. Brighton. Once there they ski and have loads of fun, all at a discount price.

Membership in the club is $20, however Mt. Brighton officials drop $5 off the price of skiing each trip, according to Paul Sincok, program director.

There are more than 700 members, but not all members show up for each of the club's 20 trips.

The $20 membership fee covers bus transportation to and from Mt. Brighton, identification cards, and the administrative costs of the program.

"The kids have a really good time with it," Sincok said. The club charters four or five school buses for each trip, and takes a school truck for hauling the ski equipment.

"We usually have 200 pair of skis. We load them in the truck and it usually gets to Mt. Brighton 10 or 15 minutes before the buses, so we can unload them," said Sincok.

Discipline is stressed in the program. If someone creates problems, they aren't allowed on future trips, according to Sincok.

"The Mt. Brighton people really appreciate the discipline," he said.

Large numbers of students make the skiing trip each weekend, as seen by this picture of young people waiting for the buses to arrive.

Pittman backs jail release bill

By Carol Azizian
staff writer

A new state law designed to reduce overcrowding in county jails has drawn both criticism and praise from sheriffs in Oakland and Wayne counties.

Oakland County Sheriff Johannes F. Spreen dislikes it, saying it gives a "schizophrenic message." Wayne Sheriff Loren Pittman praises it.

Sheriffs must comply with the new law by declaring a state of emergency when the inmate population exceeds maximum capacity for seven consecutive days. They also must take steps to reduce sentences and release prisoners when jails are overcrowded.

"On the one hand," said Spreen, "we work to arrest offenders and take them off the streets. Then, under the bill, we must participate in a process to release them before their sentences are completed."

BUT WAYNE Sheriff Pittman said Wayne County has followed procedures similar to those outlined in the bill for several years.

Pittman, a former River Rouge police chief, admitted "the concept of early releases, lower bonds and other formulas designed to ease overcrowding is usually contrary to general police philosophy."

But he said, "My duties with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department have shown me the other side of the coin."

SPREEN, WHO already has declared a state of emergency, will start making plans to release nearly 70 Oakland prisoners.

Under the law, the maximum number of prisoners allowed in the Oakland jail is 385. During the first week of this month, there have been as many as 494 inmates in the jail at Pontiac.

"We're going to end up releasing all the good prisoners (those in work release programs and trusty camps) and keep all the bad," said Spreen.

He said the problem could become chronic in Oakland County.

"It is entirely possible that we will be in almost a continuous state of emergency if our inmate population follows past trends."

"We're herding people in there like cattle," he said. "If we had more space, we could treat the prisoners better."

SPREEN HAS been battling for almost two years with the County Board of Commissioners for either a larger jail facility or alternative housing for low-risk prisoners in empty buildings such as closed schools.

Current solutions to the overcrowding problem are costly and ineffective, Spreen said.

The county now ships as many as 60 inmates to jails in Washtenaw and Allegan counties at a cost of nearly $50,000 per month.

Spreen has suggested that a 100-bed women's facility be constructed to relieve the problem. "This would allow us to use almost 50 beds for male prisoners in the main jail."

"Modular construction would allow us to have such a facility at much less cost and build it within six months," he said. It takes up to three years to build a permanent jail facility.

WAYNE COUNTY'S new jail, scheduled for completion in fall, is expected to ease overcrowding problems.

Overcrowding law only a 'short-term solution'

The new law designed to ease overcrowding at county jails has been described by sponsors of the bill as a "short-term solution to a very serious problem."

The bill provides incentives to county officials to use already available legal means to ease overcrowding, according to state Rep. Jeffrey Padden, D-Wyandotte, chief sponsor.

Here's how the law works:

- When the inmate population exceeds maximum capacity for seven consecutive days, the sheriff must notify the chief circuit judge, chief district judge and each municipal court judge in the county, the chairman of the county board of commissioners and the county executive.

- If county and court officials agree with the sheriff's jail count figures, then the sheriff declares a state of emergency.

- The sheriff and judges then attempt to reduce the jail population by legal, available means. Those include reducing bonds, delaying sentences, giving out work release or community service orders or providing alternative housing.

- If those measures fail to reduce the jail population to 90 percent of maximum capacity within two weeks after the state of emergency is declared, then the sheriff must give the chief circuit judge a list of prisoners, their offenses and sentences.

- The chief circuit judge classifies the prisoners into two groups — low and high risk — and sets limits for reducing sentences. The sheriff then reduces sentences of all low-risk prisoners.

- If the jail population still exceeds 90 percent of maximum capacity after 28 days, then the sheriff must reduce sentences of all prisoners. But he can't reduce sentences by more than 30 percent across the board.

- If that measure fails to reduce the inmate population, the sheriff can turn away some prisoners. He can't, however, turn away persons convicted of or charged with violent or assaultive crimes, sex offenses, escape from prison or jail, drug or weapons offenses.

Faces manslaughter rap

A Plymouth man faces a manslaughter charge in the Feb. 5 traffic death of his father on Warren Road in Canton.

Victor Merritt, 37, of Normandy, was arraigned Wednesday on a charge of manslaughter with a motor vehicle. Judge Dunbar Davis in 35th District Court entered a not guilty plea in Merritt's behalf.

Merritt was released on $15,000 personal bond. Preliminary examination will be March 3.

ACCORDING TO police, Merritt was driving a 1982 Pontiac Trans-Am which went off the road and hit a utility pole on Warren Road east of Lilley at 2:33 a.m. Feb. 5.

Merritt's father Arthur Merritt, 63, of Lansing was a passenger in the car. The elder Merritt was dead on arrival at Oakwood Hospital Canton Center, according to reports.

A Breathalyzer test indicated Victor Merritt had a blood alcohol reading of 0.21, police said. A reading of 0.10 is legally intoxicated.

Manslaughter with a motor vehicle carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison upon conviction.

statements of conclusions and facts," Yack said.

The board's action on the charges can range from doing nothing to firing Kurtz.

"It doesn't necessarily end with the school board. The teacher still has available to him the circuit court, as well as the state tenure commission," Yack said.

James filed assault and battery charges against Kurtz in 35th District Court. Judge Dunbar Davis found Kurtz guilty in December and upheld the verdict during a reconsideration motion heard this month.

JAMES HAS since left the school district.

The district court proceedings haven't affected the school board hearing, Yack said.

"To my knowledge, no school board member has seen the written opinion of Judge Davis. These are separate actions," he said.

Tonight's school board meeting starts at 7:30 at the board office, 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth.

Auto learning group

A new automotive advisory committee has been organized for Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The group recently met to discuss its purpose, elect officers, and review vocational programs of the school district.

Doug Swatosh volunteered to serve as chairman and Dennis Wheeler agreed to be chairman-elect. Harold Gaertner, director of vocational education for the district, will serve as secretary. Swatosh will be chairman through June 1984.

The major responsibility of the committee will be to review and recommend changes, if desired, on program content and curriculum, equipment and facilities, and job placement efforts.

IF A FILLING FALLS OUT
Every dentist I've ever met would like his patient's fillings to last forever. However, while a good many restorations do sustain for the life of the tooth, no filling ever becomes an organic, integral part of it. Thus none CAN be guaranteed to last indefinitely.
Even a filling placed with the best of intentions and preparation can fail for a variety of reasons. If there is not enough of an undercut in the remaining tooth structure, the filling can fall out. Occasionally a part of the tooth around the filling will break, loosening the lock, and the filling will fall out. If decay somehow recurs, the filling may become surrounded by decay, loosen and fall out. It should also be noted that, the larger the filling, the greater the risk of fracture from chewing forces.
What can you do when a filling does fall out? First, rinse your mouth carefully with lukewarm water to make sure the cavity is clean. If there is discomfort, a drop of oil of cloves on a piece of cotton will lessen it. See your dentist as soon as possible and have the filling replaced.

Grote rated low by faculty, high by trustees

(Part XLI)

In July 1976, a high-ranking administrator was sent from Schoolcraft's main campus to head the satellite campus in Garden City.

Acting on the recommendation of college president, C. Nelson Grote, the board of trustees transferred Dr. Robert Keene, the institution's vice president for instructional affairs, to the Garden City instructional center.

In announcing the transfer, Grote said the instructional position vacated by Keene would remain unfilled for at least a year, with Grote himself assuming many of its functions. "This is consistent with the board's desire that the president make the instructional program a high priority in 1976-77," Dr. Grote said.

Clay Fechter, who had been director of the Garden City Center, was transferred to the main campus to head a number of instructional programs and to conduct research and planning for a proposed instructional center in Canton Township. Fechter now is assistant dean of business and public service at the college.

A MONTH LATER relations between Grote and the faculty, never very cordial, hit a new low.

They had gotten off to a poor start in past and present

Sam Hudson

1971 when the invitations to his inauguration as president had indicated that the faculty was welcome to attend the ceremonies if there was enough space after civic and other officials had been accommodated.

Further deterioration had occurred in 1972 after the faculty proposed reducing the number of area directors as a cost-cutting measure, and Grote had termed the suggestion an attempt to interfere with his governing of the college.

Now, toward the end of August 1976, the dichotomy was even more noticeable.

At 10 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 25, administrators and faculty convened for the college's annual orientation meeting prior to the opening of the fall semester. The faculty contract had expired on Aug. 23 and instructors were working under an extension of the old one. The extension was due to expire on Sept. 7.

Two deans announced personnel changes. Then Grote started to speak, saying that he would talk from notes for about 45 minutes. Before he could begin his talk, a faculty member rose and asked the president if he would engage in a dialogue about the lack of a new contract and about his evaluation of the faculty. Grote ruled the questioner out of order and started to continue his prepared remarks.

At this point all of the faculty members walked out, leaving only administrators in the auditorium.

Richard Arlen, president of the Faculty Forum, insisted that the walkout wasn't planned by the union. He told the Observer the faculty was not only disappointed with the lack of progress in negotiations but was dissatisfied with Dr. Grote's "general attitude that the faculty is second and everything else was first." He said the instructors' resentment of the president's attitude "has been building up for six years."

ALTHOUGH DR. GROTE'S standing with the faculty suffered by this and similar confrontations, it remained high with the college board of trustees.

And the board's confidence in Grote continued to be high for the remainder of his ten years with the institution. If tangible evidence of this was needed, it came shortly thereafter when the board awarded Grote a four-year contract and increased his annual salary from $40,000 to $43,900.

Official enrollment figures released in November by Russell S. Bogarin, who had succeeded Norman Dunn as registrar, indicated that 14,059 students had registered for the fall term. This was a decline of 133 from 1975.

Of the total, 7,837 were credit hour students (down from 8,056), and 2,222 were community service students (up from 2,136). Credit hour generation was 10,634 hours below budget projections.

One result of the decline in enrollment and credit hours, the consequent decline in state aid, and the failure of the millage election in June, was an increase in tuition fees. The trustees also directed the administration to cut $343,000 from the $9.9 million budget approved on June 30.

ALSO IN NOVEMBER, the Campus Globe, the college's student weekly newspaper, complained that the student activities fund was being improperly used to provide programs of little interest to most of the students.

Students had a vested interest in the fund. The money came from a 50 cent per credit hour (maximum of $7.50 per semester) fee assessed to each student by the college.

The money was used to support the Student Activities Office, the Campus Globe, the Child Care Center, and a variety of cultural and public affairs programs brought to the college campus by the Cultural and Public Affairs Committee.

The Globe's chief complaint centered on the work of that committee. It said that the speakers, bands and concerts the committee was bringing to campus appealed primarily to adults and not to the "average college student."

Vice president for Student Affairs Edward McNally defended the Cultural and Public Affairs program, noting that many of the college students were, in fact, adults, and that it was difficult to arrange for activities that would please everyone. He promised, however, that the students' complaint would be taken into consideration when activities for the following year were planned.

A special dream conjured; former coaches activated

Curled up in his easy chair the other evening The Stroller dozed off while reading a newspaper story dealing with the many ideas and plans being studied to reduce the state's deficit.

He had read that the schools were to be given quite a slash, and there were hints that the entire educational system may have to undergo some outstanding changes.

The article said some of the courses would have to be changed and some of the special education series would have to be abandoned. Then came the word — hinted at, at least — that the sports programs would have to undergo a great change and possibly be eliminated.

THEN, ALL of a sudden, he started dreaming — and it was a dream so rare.

He was standing on the sidelines of the athletic field at Centennial Educational Park watching football practice. For a time it didn't seem unusual as the young athletes went through their paces.

Then came the surprise. Standing in the middle of the group when practice was halted for a few moments was Mike Hoben, in the role of head coach.

It couldn't be possible that Mike was back on the job he had held before assuming the superintendent's role. But there he was, giving instructions.

The strangeness of the dream caused The Stroller to roll over a bit. Then it

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

dawned on him that it wasn't a strange role for Mike. He had been rated one of the best high school football coaches in the state when he coached the Cheboygan High School team.

AS A matter of fact, The Stroller recalls the days when Mike was sought by several teams in the National Football League and was sought by some of the top colleges, too.

The strangeness of the scene was enhanced when The Stroller spotted Bill Brown, the principal of Plymouth Salem High, attired in football pants, kneeling in front of the linemen, giving them instructions on getting off the ball fast.

As the dream went on The Stroller remembered that Bill was a member of the Eastern Michigan University football squad before turning to teaching. He had started as a fullback because of his chunky build. But when the game changed, and speed was needed, Bill was moved to a guard position in the line. And he was a good one, too.

THEN, NOT far away, was Kent Buikema, another football player in his college days before he turned to teaching and became principal of Plymouth Canton High.

As The Stroller looked on he suddenly thought that the Plymouth-Canton officials were taking the proposed cuts in educational funds very seriously and now were coaching during their off hours. And when Bill Brown changed his togs he donned his running attire and started giving tips to the trackmen.

Bill still runs every morning, and has for years, so his switch to coaching the track team wasn't much of a surprise — even though it was in a dream.

AND NOT far away, looking on, was John Sandman, present athletic director, who had been a star basketball player in his college days at Colgate. He was taking over the basketball squads.

What a strange sight it was. But just about then The Stroller awakened and got to thinking again.

Suppose the state cut again, and the school system was strapped for funds. There is enough talent in the ranks of the officials to keep the sport program going full tilt.

But after all, it was only a dream.

It's Tax Time

by Charles H. Williams, C.P.A.

CHOOSING AN ACCOUNTANT

Who'll prepare your tax return this year? It's time to start choosing a professional, and to undertake the planning that may help you shelter some of your income from taxes.

If your income is fairly straightforward and deductible expenses minimal, you might satisfactorily use a short-form return and do it yourself or with the help of a tax preparer. But with more income, and more deductions, as the return becomes more complicated, you're going to want a tax professional.

Why? Because it's worth the difference to put your tax return in the hands of someone with the knowledge to find every likely loophole, and the experience to know which are acceptable. And as you reach the higher brackets, you'll get the advice you need on sheltering some income from taxes.

Some free help is available from the IRS. Revenue employees will answer your questions (but the tax court has challenged some of their answers) and prepare the simplest returns. There are also independent and chain tax preparers who pop up at tax season. Their workers may not be experienced enough to catch all legal deductions.

A certified public accountant can handle most complex returns and are familiar with shelters and investing. His or her tax know-how can save you more than the fee. How do you choose a professional? Recommendations from satisfied clientele are one way, as are referrals from lawyers. Once a relationship is entered, the client will find his accountant helpful in making financial decisions all year round.

INCOME TAX

We're a local organization. Even though we served more than 3,000 clients last year we haven't forgotten that every client is an individual and that each individual deserves the best service we can provide.

When we sign a tax return that we've prepared, we're proud of having done the best possible job for you. When you see our signature on your tax return you can be sure that:

1. The counselor who prepared your return was competent and thoroughly experienced in tax matters.
2. You have received the maximum legal deductions and the minimum legal tax.
3. Your tax return has received all the time and attention that was necessary to do a proper job.
4. Your tax return has been double-checked for both accuracy and tax saving possibilities.
5. Your return has been handled in a confidential manner.

Call us for a free tax organizer. Our fees are often less than the highly advertised tax firms and averaged less than $50.00 last year.

Call us. We understand small businesses, personal and corporate tax returns. Computerized bookkeeping and payroll, tax planning system.

Traditions of folk music surround Michigan area

By Hugh Gallagher
staff writer

The hills and hollers aren't the only places with folk music. Great Lakes ships, logging camps and the streets of Detroit have their own musical traditions.

Robert B. Winans, associate chairman of the Wayne State University English Department, will discuss "Folk Music of Michigan and Ohio" at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Detroit Historical Museum, Woodward at Kirby, Detroit. Reservations may be made by calling 833-7934.

Winans, a banjo picker and a writer on folklore and folk music, will illustrate his talk with slides and play tape recordings based on his extensive field work. He will also perform.

"I will make a distinction between what popular entertainment considers folk music and what folklorists consider folk music," Winans said.

The distinction is a "sticky issue," according to Winans. The folk revival of the late '50s brought back Woody Guthrie and Pete Seeger and introduced the popular folk styles of the Kingston Trio, Peter, Paul and Mary and Joan Baez. It brought new interest in traditional music, but it also gave the public a distorted view of what folk music is.

"THERE'S A difference in the way in which the music is learned, the uses the music is put to and the mental attitude of the performer toward the music," Winans said.

The real folk singers, said Winans, learn their songs in the community and pass them down in the community. They sing for the love of it and not for the chance at fame and fortune.

"The popular performer is an entertainer. He does it for pay. The traditional performer only incidentally does it for pay. Historically, you have performers who play at local dances for some money. But there is a major difference in how the music is presented," Winans said. "The traditional performer is presenting the music for itself. The popular performer uses it to present himself or herself."

American folk music is usually thought of as southern or mountain music. But Michigan and the Detroit area have their own distinct folk traditions, kept alive by traditional performers.

Winans said Michigan folk music takes many forms because of the state's diversity of population.

"In Detroit, one of its main features is the different ethnic music. Michigan music is ethnic music. The different ethnic groups have longstanding traditions," Winans said.

Before the influx of different ethnic groups at the end of the 19th century, Michigan was settled primarily by people of English, Irish and Scottish ancestry. These people, who also settled the southern mountain regions, brought the fiddle and banjo tunes that are often associated with the South but have deep roots in the British Isles. In Michigan, these tunes changed to fit the new environment.

"HAMMERED DULCIMERS became associated with Michigan," Winans said. "This seems to be reviving with several hammered dulcimer groups, particularly the Original Hammered Dulcimer Players Club. They provide a forum for the musicians to play and have developed a repertoire of music that is Michigan."

Winans said that other distinctions of Michigan folk music include a strong French-Canadian influence on fiddle playing and a less prominent role for the banjo.

'In Detroit, one of its main features is the different ethnic music. Michigan music is ethnic music.'

— Robert B. Winans
folklorist

Another strong ethnic contribution to Michigan music has been the Afro-American influence.

"Early in the 20th century, you find Detroit was the center for the development of the blues. Important blues performers, many of whom started in Mississippi, made a home in Detroit. One group I may be playing on tape is a black gospel singing group which has roots in traditional music," Winans said.

Lyrical, Michigan music has drawn on the diversity of occupations available. Winans said Michigan is rich in songs about lumbering, mining, railroading and sailing on the Great Lakes. He will devote a part of his lecture to discussing and playing songs of the Great Lakes' sailors.

"Traditional songs have themes that don't come up in popular songs which usually deal with teen-age love. Traditional music is much broader than that," Winans said. "There are humorous songs, such as about courtship. There are true love songs, but there are even more unfaithful or unsuccessful love songs. Love is often tied with death. It is seen as something serious that sometimes leads to death."

THE COMING OF radio and television made it possible for people to find entertainment without providing their own. Winans said that though folk music is still being created, the bulk of it is from the 19th century.

But, he said, there is a renewed interest in the music and in traditional square and contra dancing. He said many young musicians have begun to revive the old songs and are keeping the tradition alive.

"It's not going to die," he said.

Show features black history

A cast of actors and musicians led by Kent Martin and Burniece Avery will appear in "Shades of Dark America" at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 23, in Friends Auditorium of the Main Library, 5201 Woodward, Detroit.

The stage production draws upon black history, poetry, drama and music to trace the black experience from the days of American slavery down to the present.

Gregory Bowman, Marion Buckner, Council Cargle and Alma Parks also are in the cast. The Cass Hudson Ensemble will sing. The production was compiled and directed by Kent Martin.

FABULOUS SUPPERS ON A SHOESTRING

Everyone's being economical these days. But just when people think they can make ends meet... someone moves the ends! Or so it would seem.

Suppers shown here were planned with economy in mind. It would be difficult to find a trio of menu items more economical than chicken, rice and onions. Serve each prepared separately. Or mix 'n' match to solve mealtime money problems.

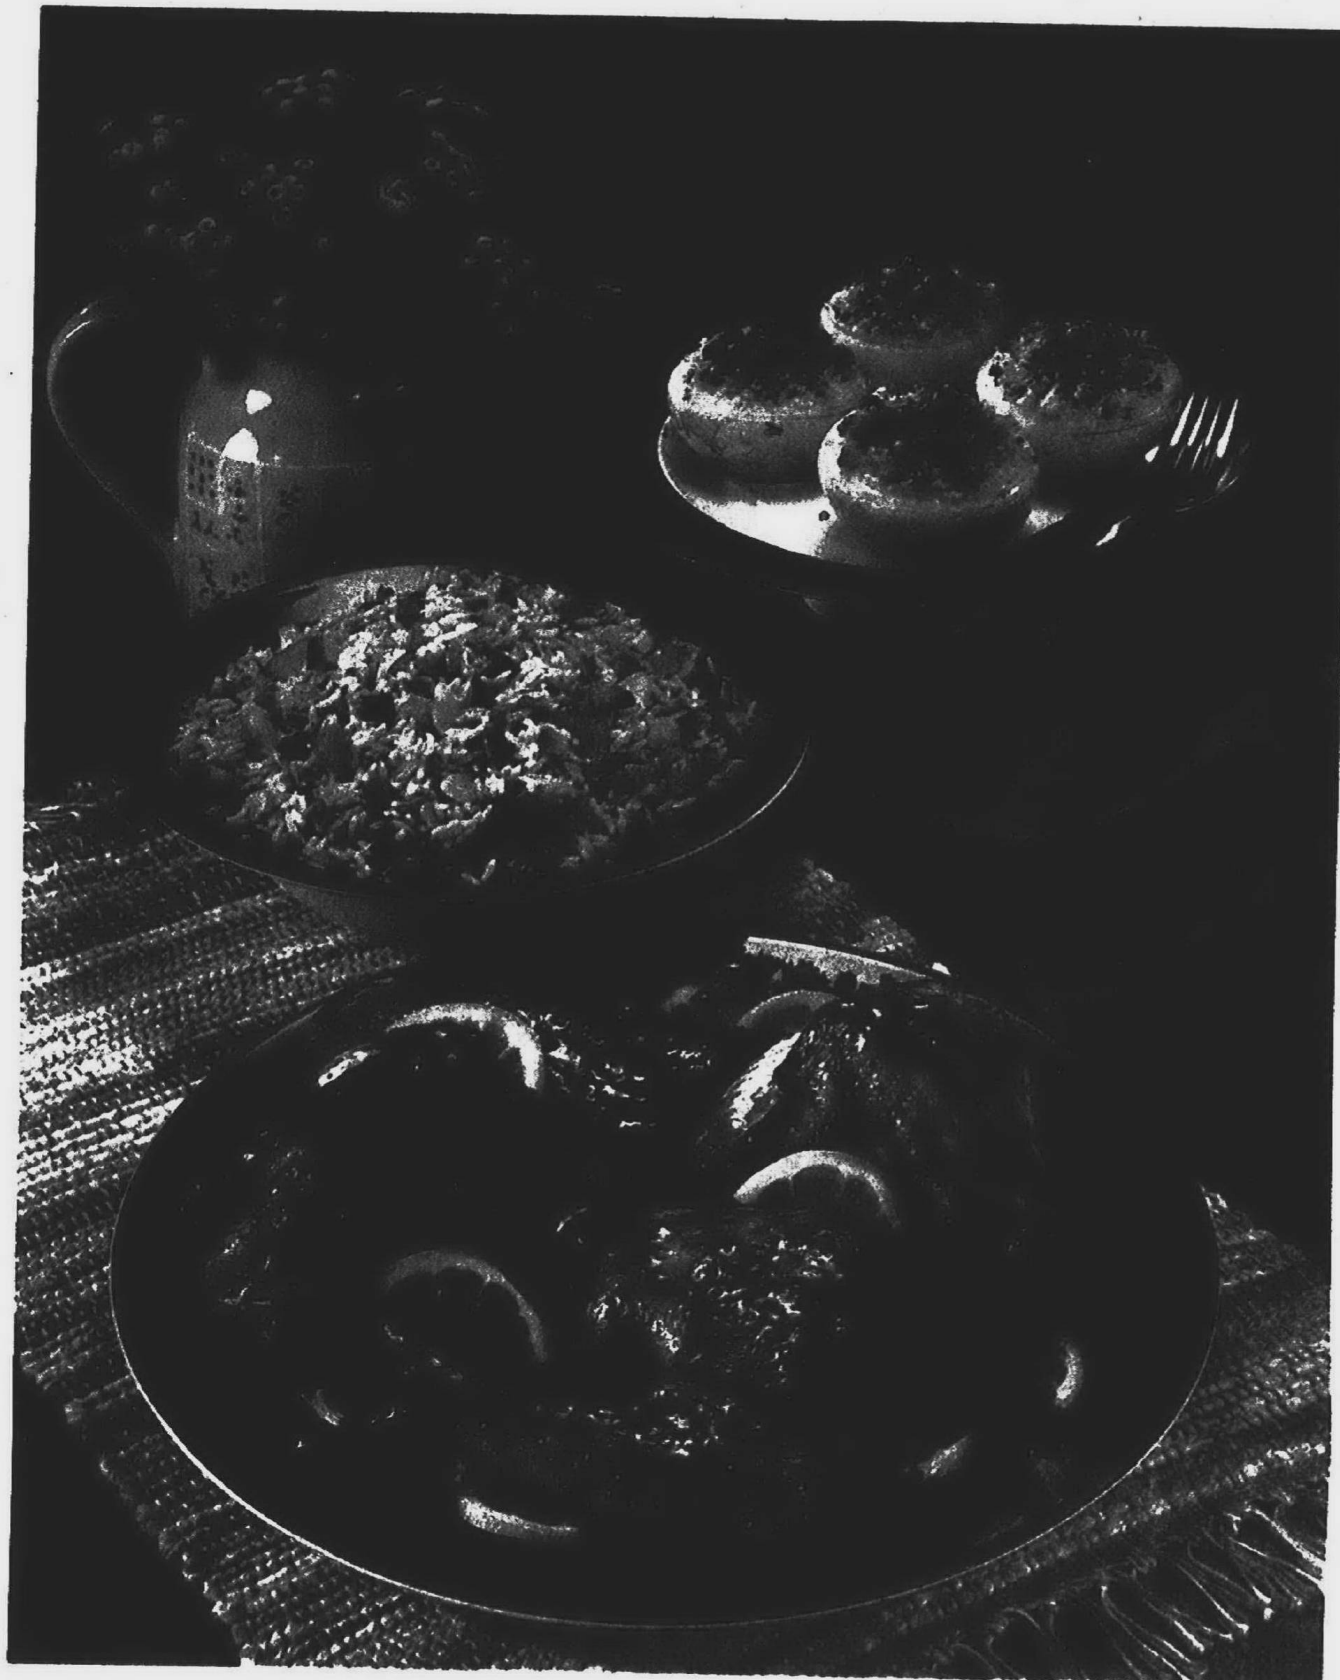

This isn't a penny-wise-and-pound-foolish approach, either. For all three provide good nutrition without adding unwanted calories. Chicken, rice and onions are also low in sodium and cholesterol.

Chicken is the ideal choice for appetite-appeasing entrees, providing the complete protein needed daily in the diet. Low in fat content, chicken is one of the most versatile of meats, easily combined with other foods and different seasonings to create new tastes when it is served frequently.

Rice, the principal sustenance of half the world's population, is an excellent source of complex carbohydrates. Long, medium and short grain rices are nutritionally equal and can usually be used interchangeably in recipes. Most U. S. grown and processed white rice is enriched with iron, niacin and thiamine and costs just pennies a serving.

Sweet Spanish onions add bulk to the diet and contribute significant amounts of Vitamin C, the B vitamins and several minerals. Idaho-Oregon grown Sweet Spanish onions are the "jumbos" of the onion market, making them ideal for stuffing. They are also available in medium sizes and are known for their sweet, mild flavor.

To keep the food budget from flying out of control, clip coupons, buy special sale items and be sure to include chicken, rice, and onions often.

Elegant yet economical describes this supper menu featuring Glazed Baked Chicken with Stuffed Sweet Spanish Onions and a delectable Fruit and Vegetable Pilaf.

GLAZED BAKED CHICKEN

- |                                  |                         |
|----------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 4 broiler-fryer chicken quarters | 1/3 cup soy sauce       |
| 1/2 cup sherry                   | 1 teaspoon paprika      |
| 1/2 cup honey                    | 2 cloves garlic, minced |

Place chicken in glass baking dish, skin side up. Combine remaining ingredients and brush on chicken. Place in 375° F. oven and bake 1 hour. Turn after 30 minutes. Brush with glaze frequently. Reserve some glaze to brush on onions. Garnish chicken with lemon slices and parsley, if desired. Serve with Stuffed Sweet Spanish Onions and Fruit and Vegetable Pilaf. Makes 4 servings.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLE PILAF

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1 cup uncooked rice                           | 1 tart red cooking apple, cored and coarsely chopped |
| 2 cups chicken broth*                         | 1 rib celery, thinly sliced                          |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt                             | 1/4 cup slivered almonds                             |
| 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning or ground sage | 1/4 cup raisins, plumped                             |
| 1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper              | 1 teaspoon sugar                                     |
| 1 tablespoon butter or margarine              | 1/4 cup half and half (cream and milk)               |
| 1 carrot, finely diced                        |  |

In saucepan, combine rice, broth, seasonings and butter. Bring to a boil. Stir once or twice, lower heat, cover and simmer 15 minutes, or until rice is tender and liquid is absorbed. Remove from heat; add remaining ingredients. Toss lightly, cover and let stand 5 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

*For extra flavor, use broth in which onions for Stuffed Sweet Spanish Onions were cooked.

STUFFED SWEET SPANISH ONIONS

- |  |                                      |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| 2 medium Sweet Spanish onions (3 inches in diameter) | 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese |
| Chicken broth  | 1 tablespoon chopped parsley         |
| 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas, cooked               | 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard             |
| 1/3 cup soft bread crumbs                            | 2 tablespoons butter, melted         |
|  | Glaze from Glazed Baked Chicken      |

Peel and halve onions. Place in saucepan in 2 inches chicken broth. Bring to boil, cover and simmer 15 minutes, or until tender-crisp. Drain, reserving chicken broth for cooking the rice for the Fruit and Vegetable Pilaf. Gently lift centers from onions, leaving a shell, 2 to 3 rings thick. (Refrigerate or freeze onion centers to use in soups or casseroles.) Fill centers of onion shells with cooked peas. Mix bread crumbs with Parmesan cheese, parsley, mustard and butter. Sprinkle over onions. Brush outer sides of onion halves with glaze used for chicken. Broil 5 to 7 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes 4 servings.

Microwave Method: Place peeled and halved onions in shallow casserole with 1/2 inch chicken broth. Cover and microwave on high for 8 to 10 minutes or until tender-crisp. Remove center portions of onions and stuff and broil as directed above.

For a quick and casual company supper, stir fry bite-size pieces of marinated chicken breasts with crisp mellow rings of Sweet Spanish onions and slices of celery, water chestnuts and dried fruits. Serve over mounds of fluffy rice; pass additional soy sauce. All else that's needed with the Golden Valley Stir-Fry is a tray of fresh fruits with a choice of cheese and beverage.

GOLDEN VALLEY STIR-FRY

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 3 whole broiler-fryer chicken breasts, skinned and boned | 2 medium Sweet Spanish onions, sliced and separated into rings   |
| 4 tablespoons cornstarch, divided                        | 2 cups chicken broth   |
| 1/4 cup soy sauce  | 1-1/2 cups diagonally sliced celery                              |
| 2 tablespoons honey                                      | 1 can (8 oz.) water chestnuts, drained and sliced                |
| 1 teaspoon grated fresh ginger                           | 1/2 cup pitted moist dried prunes (moisture pack), cut in halves |
| 1 clove garlic, minced                                   | 3 to 4 cups hot cooked rice cooked in chicken broth              |
| 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper                         |  |
| 1/2 dried apricots, cut in halves                        |  |
| 1/4 cup sherry   |  |
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil                              |  |

Cut chicken into 1-inch pieces. Combine 3 tablespoons cornstarch, soy sauce, honey, ginger, garlic and pepper in mixing bowl. Add chicken and mix well. Cover apricots with sherry. Set chicken and apricots aside for 15 minutes. Heat oil in wok or large skillet. Add chicken and cook, stirring over medium-high heat about 4 minutes or until chicken is opaque and firm. Add onion and cook, stirring 2 minutes. Pour in chicken broth. Cover and steam 2 to 3 minutes. Remove cover. Add celery, water chestnuts, prunes and apricots. Blend remaining cornstarch with 1/4 cup water. Stir into chicken mixture. Cook, stirring occasionally, 2 minutes or until liquid is clear and thickened. Serve over beds of fluffy rice. Pass additional soy sauce if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

CHICKEN BROTH

Using discarded bones and skin to make chicken broth is another way to make every penny count. For instance, when preparing Golden Valley Stir-Fry, place skin and bones from chicken breasts in saucepan with 2 cups of water, 1/4 cup diced onion and the leaves from celery used in recipe. Simmer, covered, about 30 minutes. When cooking a whole chicken for use in casseroles or salad, always save the liquid. Broth may be stored in refrigerator for two or three days, or frozen for use later. Canned chicken broth is also available.

Stuffed onions are certain to please

There's hardly a recipe that doesn't include a hint of onion. From the very large sweet-tasting Bermuda onions to the small, young green onions or scallions, these pungent roots enhance and liven tossed salads, meat dishes and vegetable accompaniments.

Stuffed onions is a savory main course that's certain to please any onion lover's palate. STUFFED ONIONS FLORENTINE

- 6 large onions (about 1 1/2 lbs.)
- 6 slices bacon
- 1 can (10 1/2 oz.) cream of mushroom soup
- 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen chopped spinach, cooked and well drained
- 1 tsp. brown sugar
- 1 tsp. vinegar

2. In a 10-inch skillet, cook bacon until crisp; re-

- move and crumble.
3. Cook chopped onion in drippings until tender. Stir in soup, spinach, brown sugar, vinegar and bacon.
4. Fill onion shells with spinach mixture.

Learn to make soup

The second in a series of gourmet workshops by Judy Antishin at Schoolcraft College will be 7-9:30 p.m. Thursday in the Waterman Campus Center culinary arts demonstration lab.

Antishin will prepare basic stock that can be used in a savory soup. Three soups will be featured. A main entree soup will be "a meal in itself." The second soup will be a "company soup" to be served with a five or seven course dinner. The third soup will be a "back of the stove or oven bake soup" to save both time and money.

The remaining classes in the series will be: International Cooking, Mar. 3; Buffet Entertaining, Mar. 24; Cooking for Men, Couples and Singles, April 7 and Speciality Cooking April 14. All will be at the same time and place. Call Jane Lurain at 591-6400, Ext. 409 for reservations. The fee is $25 per class.

Lamb stew is cheap, hearty dinner

Has talk of the nation's economic woes made you more conscious of food costs? Fresh lamb neck slices, combined with a mixture of vegetables and spices make an economical and nutritious meal. Tossed together in a Harvest Vegetable Lamb Neck Stew, you will delight your family or guests.

Lamb neck slices are just what the name implies. They are thin slices cut across the neck, exposing the neck muscles, the connecting cirtus and the backbone. Layers of meat are interspersed with fat and there is a small amount of fat covering the outside of each slice. Sometimes sold as slices, lamb neck also can be cut and sold as lamb neck stew.

The lamb neck is tender and juicy. Braised, or simmered in liquid, it provides an alternative to the everyday meal. Mixed with the fresh vegetables included in this delicious stew and fresh lamb neck slices become a favorite entree item.

HARVEST VEGETABLE LAMB NECK STEW

- 4 lbs. lamb neck slices
- 2 tbsp. cooking oil
- 1 1/2 cups chicken bouillon or broth
- 2 1/4 cups water
- 2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. ground pepper
- 2 tsp. dried oregano leaves
- 1/2 tsp. dried thyme leaves
- 1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg

- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 cups diced turnips
- 1 cup sliced carrots
- 12 small white onions
- 1 medium green pepper, cut into 1-inch strips
- 2 tbsp. flour
- 1 can (8 oz.) whole kernel

corn, undrained
 Freeze-dried or fresh chopped chives

In Dutch oven, brown lamb in oil over medium-high heat. Pour off fat. Add broth or bouillon, 2 cups water, salt, pepper, oregano, thyme, nutmeg and garlic. Cover and simmer about 45 minutes over medium-low heat. Add turnips, carrots, onions and green pepper. Cover and cook about 20 minutes, or until vegetables are almost tender. Blend remaining 1/4 cup water into flour. Add flour mixture and corn to stew, cook about 10 minutes longer. Sprinkle with chives. (6 servings)

Lamb neck slices are combined with fresh vegetables in this savory stew.

A catered affair

Enjoy an evening out — at home

Are you tired of eating out everytime there is a special occasion? Do you wish you were rich enough to afford a cook and a maid so you could enjoy a romantic, candlelight dinner in your home which you didn't have to cook and which you don't have to clean up?

Well, send the kids to grandma's and prepare the bubble bath. A Farmington Hill's woman has teamed with her life-long friend to bring gourmet dinners to your dining room.

Carolyn Savard of 33721 Lyncroft and her friend Mary Aitken of Detroit have been in business as Marie's Catering for about three years. Savard handles the business and promotional details while Aitken does the cooking.

Recently, they decided to branch out by expanding their service to include dinners for two.

"We found that there was a demand for this type of service and that we could provide it for a reasonable cost," said Savard. "Restaurants are nice but we think eating at home can be nicer."

Aitken said that a set menu is provided each week. Someone interested can call, check the menu and order. Aitken said she will go to the client's home, cook the meal, have it served and do the clean up, if that's what the client wants. She can also deliver the meal, leaving preparation instructions if the client would rather serve it her or himself.

AMONG THE first to give the new service a try were Grace and Phil Howard of 6950 Eagle, West Bloomfield.

Their dinner for two menu was artichoke canape, seafood Florentine (flounder on a bed of creamed spinach with mornay sauce), a bibb, watercress and mushroom salad with vinaigrette sauce, baguettes (French bread) and a heart-shaped lemon mousse with raspberry sauce. Their wine was French Muscadet.

"What I enjoyed most was being able to sit down to a beautiful gourmet dinner which I didn't have to prepare myself," said Grace Howard. "I enjoyed every bit of it."

"An extra treat was having the food served to us. We felt like we were in a fancy restaurant."

"To top it off the server cleaned the table and did the dishes. I didn't have to do anything," she said.

Savard and Aitken cater parties, weddings and small group dinners. Aitken does demonstrations of all kinds of international cooking including French and Chinese. Savard also owns a book store near Houghton Lake.

Marie's Catering can be reached at 862-6295.

Among the desserts that Aitken could prepare for you is the lemon mousse. Or, you can fix it yourself using the following recipe.

LEMON MOUSSE WITH RASPBERRY SAUCE

- 2 egg yolks
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 2 envelopes (2 tsp) unflavored gelatin
- 3/4 cup plus 2 tsp granulated sugar
- Zest (outer peel without the white) of 4 lemons, finely chopped (optional)
- Juice of 4 lemons
- 2 egg whites
- 2 cups heavy cream

1. In the top of a double boiler beat together the egg yolks and 1 cup of the milk. Soften the gelatin in the remaining 1/2 cup milk in a saucepan, then dissolve it over low heat. Cool.

2. Stir into the egg yolk mixture the dissolved gelatin and 3/4 cup sugar.

3. Set the double-boiler top over simmering water in the base and heat, stirring often, for about 5 minutes or until the mixture is slightly thickened.

4. Add the (optional) lemon zest, then the lemon juice and transfer the mixture to a larger bowl. Set aside to cool until it resembles a runny custard. Do not let the lemon mixture become too firm.

5. In a large mixing bowl, whip the egg whites with the remaining 2 tsp of sugar until soft peaks form. Whip the cream in another bowl until stiff, then fold the egg whites and cream together.

6. When the lemon mixture has reached the proper consistency, fold in the whipped cream mixture.

7. Pour the lemon mousse into a 2 1/2 quart (10) mold or into several smaller molds. Refrigerate until set, or as long as overnight.

RASPBERRY SAUCE

- 1 cup fresh raspberries or 2 10-ounce package frozen raspberries, defrosted.
- 6-8 berries for decorating the mousse
- 1 tbsp water (if fresh berries are used)
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 tbsp lemon juice
- 1 1/2 tsp light rum

1. If using fresh raspberries, cook them about 2 minutes in a saucepan with the water, just until they have softened. Drain, reserving the liquid. If using thawed frozen berries, drain, saving the juice.

2. In a food processor or blender, combine the raspberries, sugar, lemon juice and rum. Process until pureed; Push the puree through a fine strainer to remove the seeds, then thin puree with reserved raspberry juice to a medium-thin consistency.

To serve: Unmold the mousse by running a thin, wet knife around the inside edge of the mold. Place a serving platter over the top of the mold, invert mold and platter together, and gently rap the platter on a hard surface, or dip the mold briefly into hot water, wipe the outside and repeat the effort. Carefully remove the mold. Spoon some of the raspberry sauce around the base of the mousse, some over the top. Decorate with whole raspberries.

Enjoying a gourmet dinner served at home is Grace Howard of West Bloomfield. Doing the honors is Mary Aitken, co-owner of Marie's Cuisine. In the foreground is a heart-shaped lemon mousse with raspberry sauce which was the finale to the dinner.

History of foods flavored with coffee

Ethiopians are credited with discovering the coffee bean, but first they fed the little red berries that grew on evergreen shrubs to their goats.

They made wine from the coffee cherries, minus the olive-green seeds. They found the seeds too bitter to eat raw and too hard to digest roasted. After soaking the beans in water, they decided the brown liquid tasted rather good.

Enter the Persians. Invited by the Ethiopians to help whip Arabian invaders, the Persians demanded only one reward: bags of roasted coffee beans. History tells us the Persians did for coffee what the Romans did for wine.

ENTER THE TURKS. They brought coffee beans to Europe in the 16th century. They left them behind after their siege of Vienna collapsed.

Enter the English. In late 17th-century London, the most popular place to do business was Lloyd's Coffee House. Since the establishment was located along the Thames, it attracted merchants, some clever enough to insure their cargoes because in those days shipping was a risky venture.

Enter the French. Marie Antoinette was such a coffee fanatic that the late 18th-century French court paid homage to her charms by drinking the dark brew from porcelain cups modeled after her bosom.

Enter the Americans. We made coffee a household word. We consume about one-third of the beans grown in the world. We each put away 12 pounds of coffee a year.

EVEN THOUGH coffee has no nutritional value — and no calories — today it is more than a drink.

COFFEE CHICKEN

- 2 1/2 to 3-lb. broiler-fryer chicken, cut up
- 1 cup coffee
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 3 tbsp. soy sauce
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- 2 tbsp. wine vinegar
- 1 tbsp. cooking oil
- 1/2 cup brown sugar

Wash chicken, pat dry and place in shallow baking dish. Preheat oven to 350°. In medium saucepan, mix other ingredients in order, bring to boil, reduce heat and simmer 5 minutes. Pour sauce over chicken and bake uncovered about 1 hour, occasionally basting. Pour some sauce over chicken when serving. Serves 3-4.

COFFEE POT ROAST

- 3-lb. beef chuck roast
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 tbsp. cooking oil
- Salt and black pepper
- 1 1/2 cups coffee
- 1 cup red wine
- 6 medium potatoes, halved
- 6 carrots, halved

Wipe meat with damp cloth, dredge in flour, heat oil in electric frypan at 360° and brown roast 5 minutes on each side. Sprinkle on salt and pepper to taste, add 1 cup coffee and 1/2 cup wine, cover, close vents and simmer at 220° 1 hour. Remove roast, add rest of coffee and wine, put in potatoes and carrots, place roast on top, cover and cook until tender, about 45 minutes. Slice meat and pour on gravy. Serves 6.

No need to travel to get good bakers

There's a mistaken notion that seems to be rather prevalent that if a potato bag says "Idaho" on it, the potatoes are intended for baking, but if it says "Michigan" on it, the potatoes are not meant to be baked.

"That's a misconception about Michigan potatoes," said Ray Kaschky, Executive Director of the Michigan Potato Industry Commission.

"Michigan potatoes make very good bakers. They're good all-purpose potatoes, and that includes baking." "As good a bargain as Michigan potatoes are right now, at only pennies per pound, consumers who think they have to buy potatoes grown in other states in order to get good baking potatoes are missing a real good bet."

Kaschky thinks there are two main points that need to be made clear.

FOR ONE, he stresses, there is no such thing as a potato variety named "Idaho." Actually an Idaho potato is simply a potato grown in Idaho. That state happens to specialize in a variety called Russet Burbank, which has a dry, mealy texture and lends itself well to baking.

But Russet Burbanks are grown elsewhere, too — like Michigan. Michigan Russet Burbanks exhibit the same good characteristics for baking, he said, explaining that the dryness and meanness go with the variety, not the source region.

More Russet Burbanks are produced in Michigan than any other variety, but the majority of them go into the state's processing plants, where they are made into french fries and hash browns.

Many Michigan Russet Burbanks go to grocers' shelves, too, however. Since they are home-grown and don't have to have 2,000 miles of freight charges added into the price at the store, he said, consumers can get just as good a baker for a lot less cost than a western Russet Burbank.

THE OTHER point that should be clarified, Kaschky said, is that "round white" potatoes are also good for baking.

Round whites are the other basic type of potato grown in Michigan and account for more fresh-market sales than Michigan Russet Burbanks and have a slightly lighter skin color, though noticeably more brownish than "white."

"Round white potatoes are good any way you want to prepare them," he said.

ROBB C. FLEISCHER and his business partner Michael Kocina are back home in San Francisco at the Dijon Galleries after an extended business trip. Stops in Egypt included the cities of Cairo, Luxor and Alexandria. On the return trip they stopped in London, England, to visit friends. Robb is the son of Judith Cushing of Plymouth.

CLARA NALLI Bohrer of Embassy Drive, Canton Township, and Micheline Ann Valenti of Ivywood Lane, Plymouth Township, have been selected outstanding young women of America for 1982. Their biographies will be included in the annual awards volume, "Outstanding Young Women of America."

Micheline is a 1972 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. She graduated from Central Michigan University in 1976 with a bachelor of science degree in speech and communications.

She is office manager for Deluxe Check Printers on Industrial Drive in Livonia, where she has 10 people in her department. Before joining the firm, she was a sales representative for a custom design business form company.

PIANIST Forrest Robinson will present a lecture/recital at 10 a.m. Wednesday, March 2, in the recital hall of the Hammell Music Co., 15630 Middlebelt, Livonia. He will perform and lecture on the Debussy Preludes, Book I.

The Livonia Piano Teachers' Forum is sponsoring the recital, which is free and open to the public.

SUSAN GERISH and Jane Shephard of Plymouth will be spending their winter-term break on tour. They are members of the Alma College A Cappella Choir. From Feb. 26 through March 3, the 61 choir members will present concerts at one church in Michigan and four in Canada. Susan, a senior, sings alto, and Jane, a sophomore, sings soprano in the choir.

Susan, a 1979 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, is the daughter of Arthur and Jan Gerish. She is majoring in business administration at Alma.

Jane, a 1981 graduate of Plymouth Salem, is the daughter of R.S. and Heather Shephard. She is majoring in elementary education.

The choir's first concert will be in First Presbyterian Church in Royal Oak. They will perform two concerts in Toronto, one in Quebec City, Quebec, and one in Belleville, Ontario.

In the middle of the week choir members will have a free day in Quebec City. They will stay overnight at the Chateau Frontenac in the heart of the old city.

SUSAN ODOM will play the role of Hilde in Henry Ibsen's "Lady from the Sea" at Earlham College in Richmond, Ind. Susan is a freshman at Earlham and a member of the college's Mask & Mantle Theater Company. Her parents are William and Jo Ellen Odom of JoAnn Lane in Plymouth Township. She is a graduate of Plymouth Canton High School.

CORRECTION DEPARTMENT: It was the Top 20 from the Kenton, not Canton, Ohio, high school that came in second in high school competition last Sunday at the Johnny Mann Great American Choral Festival.

Kenton is in the middle of Ohio, about 50 miles from Columbus, according to my informant, a local resident who knows it well. In fact, her cousin's grandson was a member of the Kenton chorus.

Also, apologies to Austin Whipple, whose birth date is Feb. 7, 1893, not 1983 as mentioned in the story about his birthday party at the Plymouth Bowl.

THE FALL BIG 50-50 fund-raiser for the athletic department at Plymouth Salem High School is over. The parent sports boosters group will start a 10-week series sometime in March.

Bob Brodie, Dan Alstatt, Bob Wade, and Hank and Carolyn Starr were winners of the final four $100 drawings. The Blue Chapter of the CEP Athletic Boosters Club has given $3,200 to the Rocks' coaches this school year. Each high school has its own chapter with the Red Chapter supporting the Chiefs at Plymouth Canton High School.

Tickets will be $10 for participation in the spring fund-raiser. Ask any of the Plymouth Salem coaches about tickets.

Donna Rennolds plays the White Rabbit, and Judy Kammeraad is Alice.

Mary Uhl (left) as Tweedledum, Sue Silletti as the Jabberwock, and Jane Nichols as Tweedledee are the comedians in the children's play.

'Alice in Wonderland' opens Friday

Judy Kammeraad has been keeping a close eye on her children. She has been paying special attention to their movement, their body action. It's all part of the preparation for her lead role in "Alice in Wonderland" in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium.

Kammeraad is a member of the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University Women. For 23 years the branch has been presenting an annual children's play with AAUW members making up the cast of the live theater productions. The tradition was originated to give area children the experience of seeing live drama.

Many of the youngsters in the audiences that fill the auditorium to capacity get their first taste of legitimate theater at the AAUW play.

This year's choice by the AAUW drama group is the classic Lewis Carroll story of a confused young girl and her dream.

KAMMERAAD said, "We are dealing with the dream differently. Because what happens in Alice's real life is then in her dream, we may be helping children handle their own dreams."

"In the end, Alice will herself to awake, to take command of her situation and herself."

She said becoming Alice is a tiring role, because her emotions always are displayed. Alice is bewildered, confused, angry and frustrated. "That should be very interesting for parents," said the star of the show.

There will be the one performance Friday night. Three shows are scheduled for Saturday at 10 a.m., 1 p.m., and 3 p.m. There will be two shows on Sunday at 1 and 3 p.m. All seats are $1.25.

Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Rainbow Shop on Penniman Avenue, Plymouth, and at the Book Break in Harvard Square, Canton Township. The AAUW expects to have some tickets available at the door.

Tickets for Group Night on Thursday had to be ordered in advance by mail.

SHARON Belobraidich of Plymouth is directing "Alice" with Kathy Woodruff of Ann Arbor as assistant director.

Characters and actors are: Alice, Judy Kammeraad of Canton Township; White Rabbit, Donna Rennolds of Canton; Caterpillar, Esther Nelson of Canton; White Queen, Kathy Woodruff of Ann Arbor; Cheshire Cat, Edna Fleming of Northville; Mad Hatter, Dee Foreman of Northville; March Hare, Carol Bochy of Canton; Dormouse, Marilyn Johnson of Plymouth Township; Tweedledum, Mary Uhl of Plymouth Township; and Tweedledee, Jane Nichols of Livonia.

Others in the cast are: Queen of Hearts, Linda Witzburg of Canton; King of Hearts, Linda Anderson of Plymouth Township; Duchess, Sylvia Rozian of Plymouth; Knave, Mary Thomas of Plymouth Township; Jabberwock, Sue Silletti of Livonia; Cards, Doris Fedus of Plymouth, Judy Smith of Plymouth and Jan Majjanka of Canton.

Proceeds from the show support the AAUW scholarship program and community projects.

Information not misinformation

Ordinarily we don't advertise. We feel that "being persuaded" has more to do with the kind of light and conviction that came to St. Paul than with advertising. But we've placed this ad because we feel it's time to make available some accurate information about Christian Scientists and what we really believe.

For example: maybe you've heard that Christian Scientists are "against doctors." That's not a fair statement. Yes, we do believe strongly in Christian healing - as distinguished from "faith healing." In this secular time, we believe it's crucial to humanity that the practical power of prayer survive. But we also totally support free moral choice, and we love and value humanitarian efforts wherever they're found.

Or maybe you've read something recently that labels Christian Science as a "cult." You may or may not agree with what Christian Scientists believe, but you can easily determine there's nothing about us that fits this derogatory category. We've been a democratically organized church of lay members on the American scene for over 100 years. Church services and Reading Rooms are open to all. And anyone who's attended a church service knows of the emphasis on Christian prayer, quiet reasonable thought, and individual spiritual experience.

As we said, the reason for this ad is to offer information instead of misinformation. And if you send the coupon, be assured there is no follow-up of any kind - phone, letter or personal.

Salem stings Vikes; league playoffs next

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

The first round is over. Now the fun begins.

Plymouth Salem's boys' basketball team concluded Phase I of its first Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) season in sterling fashion Thursday by romping past Walled Lake Central, 64-45, at Salem.

The victory enabled the Rocks to conclude the regular season portion of their WLAA schedule with a 12-1 mark, tying Livonia Stevenson for the top spot in the Lakes Division. A coin flip slated for today in the Farmington Public School offices will determine which team is seeded No. 1.

The Rocks now advance to the WLAA playoffs. Depending on their seeding, they will play either Farmington Harrison, Northville or Plymouth Canton at Salem Friday.

"IT DOESN'T MAKE any difference (who we play)," Salem coach Fred Thomann said, "as long as we have the opportunity to play."

"I like (the playoffs). It gives the No. 2, 3 and 4 teams the chance to knock off the big guys. And it gives us another opportunity to challenge the players."

The Central contest was hardly a challenge for Salem. Tuesday night's scare at Livonia Bentley, in which the Bulldogs missed several chances in the final moments to upset the Rocks, had Thomann worried that his players might not be ready two days later.

His fears were groundless. Scott Norris' field goal were the only Central points of the first quarter as Salem rolled to a 12-2 advantage after one period.

The Rocks clung to that 10-point advantage at the half (24-14) before putting the game on ice by the end of the third quarter. Dave Houle, who notched 17 points in the game, poured in 10 in the third period to lead the Salem surge as the Rocks stretched their lead to 40-26.

DEFENSE AGAIN played a vital role in the Salem victory, although Thomann said his team did nothing out of the ordinary in its man-to-man setup.

"We just played hard," the Rocks coach said. "We set the defense for No. 11 (Central's Dean Terpstra) but he didn't start. He came in within two minutes, though."

Terpstra, an important part of Central's game, was ill and that affected his play. Still, he bagged 10 points. Clark Bock was high for the Vikings with 16.

Salem pulled away in the final quarter as Erich Hartnett scored all eight of his points, and John Cohen, who finished with eight, had six in the period. Glenn Medalle netted 12 for the Rocks, and Marvin Zurek had nine.

Salem boosted its overall record to 15-2. Central fell to 5-8 in the WLAA and 6-9 overall.

CANTON 63
W.L. WESTERN 61

Rob Schultz canned one of two free throws with five seconds left and Pat Murphy pilfered Walled Lake Western's ensuing inbounds pass to secure Plymouth Canton's basketball win Friday at Western.

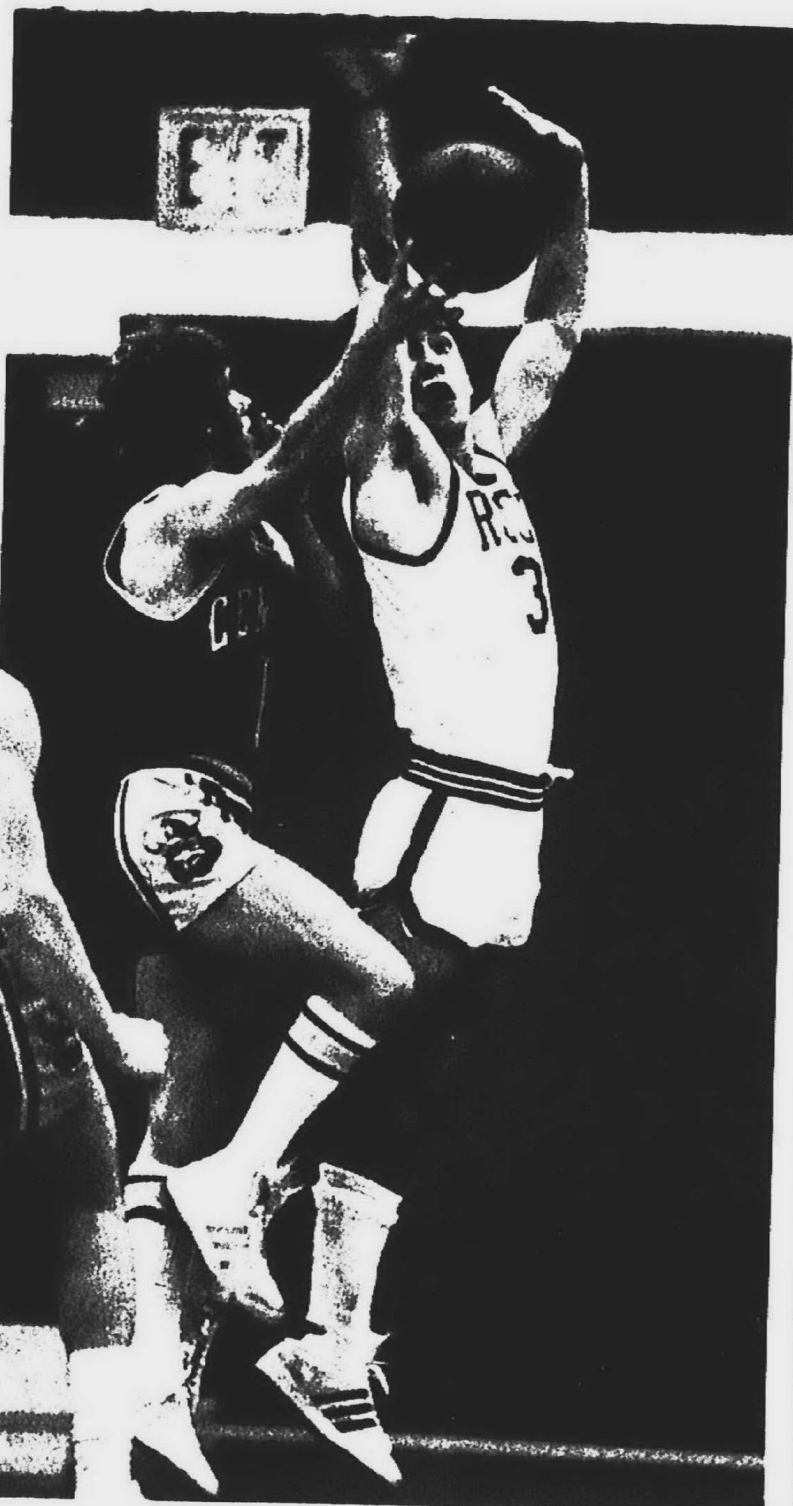

The victory was Canton's seventh in the last nine games and it lifted the Chiefs over the .500 plateau for the first time this season. Canton is now 9-8 overall and 7-6 in the WLAA's Western Division.

Depending on the outcome of Northville's final WLAA game and a series of coin flips scheduled for Monday at Farmington's Public School offices, Canton will play at either Walled Lake Central, Plymouth Salem or Livonia Stevenson in the first round of WLAA playoffs Friday.

Western is winless in 13 conference games and 17 contests this season, but the Warriors were a determined bunch against Canton Friday.

"We played a good team tonight," said Chief coach Dave Van Wagoner, with emphasis on "tonight." "They played a good game and we played a good game."

Dean Terpstra's hook shot isn't high enough to clear the outstretched hand of Salem's Matt Broderick, who tipped the ball and forced it to fall short of its target.

Coin Flip I

High drama, lots at stake

Fans crushed against each other trying to edge closer to the action. Shorter ones stretched to their full height, standing on tiptoes and craning their necks for a glimpse of what was happening.

Parents hoisted infants over their heads so they could view the historical moment. Would the toddlers remember? Doubtful — but they would have witnessed it, and it would be something they could someday share with their children and their children's children.

The moment was at hand. The huge assemblage hushed, many barely able to hear what was happening. Only the whir of television cameras broke the stillness, until a voice from somewhere in the middle of the crowd resounded.

THIS WAS IT. This would decide who would reign as regular season boys' basketball champion of the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Lakes Division.

It was a tense moment. Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem had tied for the Lakes Division title with 12-1 records. They had dominated the league. Their only losses had come against each other. Stevenson won at Salem and Salem won at Stevenson.

It had to be decided who was No. 1. The WLAA playoffs were set to start. The team with the top Lakes Division rating would be assured of the home court advantage throughout the playoffs.

So the stage was set — the first-ever WLAA Coin Flip Tournament was at hand.

Tip-off for the CFT I was scheduled for 10 a.m. this morning at the Farmington Public Schools offices. Just who would make the all-important call — and whether he (or, for luck, perhaps she) would call heads or tails — was a closely guarded secret.

INSIDE SOURCES confirmed that a best-two-of-three series was ruled out. However, negotiations continued into the early hours Monday morning concerning the possibility of a coin flip to decide who would get the chance to call THE coin flip.

"We got the opportunity for the 'Coin Toss,' which is always nice," said Salem coach Fred Thomann Thursday after his team rolled over Walled Lake Central, 64-45. "You work hard for 13 games and it comes down to a coin toss."

According to WLAA rules, Lakes Division teams will host all first-round games. Eight of the 10 teams — the top four in both the Lakes and Western Divisions — qualified for the playoffs. Second-round games will be played at sites according to seeding.

Salem and Stevenson will be the top two seeds. Livonia Churchill will be third. Northville and Plymouth Canton will fill the fourth and fifth positions and Central is sixth. Farmington is seventh and Farmington Harrison is No. 8.

Edge Highland Park, 69-67

Ocelots streak to title

They cut the nets down Wednesday night at Schoolcraft College.

Scott Conrad tipped in Tom Niergarth's missed shot with 28 seconds left, propelling the Ocelots to a thrilling 69-67 victory over Highland Park and a share of the Eastern Conference basketball crown.

Schoolcraft, now 22-6 overall, is co-champion along with Flint Mott. Both teams sported 9-3 league records.

"It's the best feeling in the world," said coach Rocky Watkins, who gained his second Eastern championship Wednesday night in front of an enthusiastic crowd.

Trailing by as many as nine points, Schoolcraft made one of its patented comebacks capped by Conrad's tip to break a 67-67 deadlock. The 6-foot-6 sophomore center touched off an eight-point Schoolcraft surge by making key block with only four minutes to play.

Highland Park, three-time losers to the Ocelots, missed an opportunity to tie the game in the final seconds when four consecutive shots failed to drop.

CARLOS BRIGGS, the Ocelots' high-scoring swingman, finished with 28 points. Niergarth, playing despite a dislocated finger, tallied 10 points as did Conrad and Bill Keyes. Point-guard George Merriweather came up with six assists and Niergarth added five steals.

Watkins said his bench played a key part in the victory.

"We were missing Ricky (Johnson) who is out with a bad knee, but both Barry Vaughn and Ken Stone held their own," he said. "They had their best games of the year."

James Ross, whose 17 points helped Highland Park to a one-point halftime lead, finished with 26

Schoolcraft sports

to pace the Panthers. Maurice Wofford and Eugene Tillman contributed 16 each.

On Thursday, Watkins and his team received more good news.

The Ocelots won a coin flip against Mott and will represent the Eastern Conference as No. 1 seed when the Michigan Community College Athletic Association (MCCAA) tournament gets under way Tuesday at Delta College.

Schoolcraft drew a first-round bye and will not play until 6 p.m. Thursday against the Macomb CC-Lake Michigan CC winner Lansing, the Western Conference champ, also drew a bye.

"THINGS ARE going our way," Watkins said. "We even won the coin flip."

"It was great because it bought some valuable time for us. Ricky wouldn't have been able to play on Tuesday or Wednesday, but now he should be ready."

Johnson, a 6-foot-5 center, has been valuable down the stretch in a reserve role. He's been out for two weeks.

For Schoolcraft to win the state, only three victories would be required. Kalamazoo Valley, Highland Park, Muskegon, Oakland, Lake Michigan and Macomb will join Schoolcraft on one half of the draw. Henry Ford, Lansing, Delta, Southwestern, Kellogg, Glen Oaks and Grand Rapids round out the field.

Webb's reigns in snow

No one got frightened and ran home when they saw their shadow last Saturday (Feb. 12). Instead, they stayed and played ball.

At least until Webb's Sports Locker sent everyone scurrying with a powerful display of snow softball.

The event was the Fourth Annual Canton Parks and Recreation Groundhogs Day Classic Softball Tournament at Griffin Park. And, for the second straight year, it was an event that had to be rescheduled (from Jan. 29 to Feb. 12) due to lack of snow.

THERE STILL WASN'T much snow when the 14 teams took to the field under bright, sunny skies, but that didn't seem to bother Webb's Sports. The team slipped past MBM, 6-5, on Bruce Webb's game-winning run batted in.

That proved to be the tightest game of the tournament for Webb's. Against Service Window Cleaning in the semifinals, Webb's pounded out a 10-2 victory behind Gary Sineveck's two homers.

In the finals, it was all Webb's in a 27-1 thrashing of Rusty Nail Lounge. Willie Walker hit for the cycle (a single, double, triple and homer) and Mark Borowski slammed a pair of two-run home runs for the winners.

Larry Davis pitched superbly throughout the tournament for Webb's.

Rusty Nail advanced to the finals by downing Michigan Bell, 5-3, with Marty Bliven collecting a pair of hits, and by blanking McMurray Insurance, 7-0, as Ron and Rick Martinez had two hits apiece and Mark Wegzyn added three.

An organizational managers' meeting for this year's slow-pitch softball leagues in Canton is scheduled for Feb. 26.

The men's league meeting will start at 10 a.m., with the women's following at 11 a.m. The co-ed league and the 35 and over league will meet in April.

The sessions will be in the meeting room on the first floor of the Canton Township Administration building, located at 1150 S. Canton Center. Among the topics to be discussed are entry fees, registration dates and times, contract requirements, residency requirements, new proposals and new leagues (co-ed and 35 and over).

For further information, call the Canton Parks and Recreation department at 397-1000 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

SOFTBALL EXHIBIT

All softball managers, players, umpires and enthusiasts are invited to attend the Third Annual Softball Workshop and Exhibit 3:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 23 at the Southfield Civic Center, 26000 Evergreen, Southfield.

BUSCH LEAGUE

Pool players, take notice: the first-ever attempt to organize the sport on a nationwide basis is now forming in western Wayne County.

A 10-week league is scheduled to begin Feb. 23, sponsored by Busch beer and Central Distributors of Beer. Local competition will be at several area bars and taverns.

At the end of the season, the top team emerging from the playoff competition will advance to the regional championships in Grand Rapids May 7 and 8.

Interested players should call league organizer Bob Calderon at 425-4182 for further details.

GOLF DATES

Swinging your clubs might be difficult this time of year, but you can still get into golf by attending one of the scheduled golf luncheons this winter.

On Feb. 22, Oakland Hills Country Club will be the site of a luncheon with Hord Hardin, chairman of the Masters Tournament and former president of the USGA, speaking. Chick Harbert, former PGA champion and Meadowbrook Country Club pro, will be the featured personality at the March 29 outing at a site to be determined.

The price for each luncheon is $15 per person, with proceeds split between the Michigan PGA Junior Golf Fund and the Evans Caddie Scholarship Fund. The luncheons are under the sponsorship of the Golf Association of Michigan (GAM) and the Michigan section of the PGA.

For information, call Doug Findlay of the PGA at 569-0400 or Bud Erickson of the GAM at 569-3400.

It's tournament time for the Schoolcraft College women's basketball team. The seven-member Lady Ocelot squad finished its regular season with a surprising 16-5 overall record under first-year coach Ed Kavanaugh.

Schoolcraft, a third-place finisher in the Eastern Conference, opens Michigan Community College Athletic Association (MCCAA) tournament play against Western Conference champion Lansing at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Lansing.

Lansing was rated No. 10 in the last national junior college poll.

On Wednesday, Schoolcraft closed out its regular season by downing Highland Park, 81-52, behind Cathi Hengy's 26 points and five steals.

Schoolcraft sports

Schoolcraft led by 10 at the half, 37-27, and never looked back.

Center Cheryl Sobkow also had a big night, hauling down 15 rebounds and scoring 13 points. She finished as the conference's leading rebounder.

Other Schoolcraft players scoring in double figures included Kathy Peck and Deborah Johnson, 14 each, and Gina Johnson, 12.

Marie Doss led Highland Park with 28.

ON MONDAY, Sobkow surpassed the 300-rebound mark with 17 grabs and added 22 points as the Lady Ocelots edged Southwestern Michigan, 56-54.

The Lady Ocelots, who led by one at the half, also got 16 points from Johnson.

Judy Hamilton countered with 19 points for Southwestern.

In a game played Feb. 12, Schoolcraft defeated Delta 77-64 as Johnson led the way with 22 points and nine rebounds.

Sobkow and Hengy each added 18 points, and Sue Remer came off the bench to contribute eight points and 10 rebounds.

Cindy Ahler paced Delta with 18 points.

Christian wins 2, drops 2

Solid spiking by Faith Yuchida and Muzette Carroll enabled Plymouth Christian to split a pair of volleyball matches with Detroit Bethesda Thursday at Christian.

The Eagles were uninspired in the opener as they lost, 15-9, 15-9. Only Carroll's spiking kept Christian in the contest.

In the second match, the Eagle awoke to claim a 15-10, 9-15, 15-10 decision.

ON THURSDAY, Feb. 10, Christian split a pair of three-game matches with Inkster Huron Valley Lutheran, winning the first, 13-15, 18-16, 15-13, and losing the second, 6-15, 15-7, 15-9.

Setter Vol Andres came off the bench to spark the Eagles in the opening triumph, and Carroll and Margie Franklin both performed well. In the second match, Christian failed to serve consistently and it proved costly.

The Eagles, now 6-9 overall, host Grace Bible at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Battle of Coin Flip intense

COIN FLIPS would decide several of the seeded spots. Until seeds were determined, first-round matchups could not be decided. For example, the top seed in the Lakes Division would play Harrison, the last place team in the Western Division.

None of the other coin tosses had the drama of Salem-Stevenson in CFT I. Home court advantage was at stake. If Salem won CFT I, it would be a definite disadvantage. After all, the Rocks were 10-0 on the road and 5-2 at home.

The crowd gasped as the coin soared high into the air, tumbling end over end and bouncing onto the carpet.

Canton clips Western

CANTON, WHICH has been without starting guard Mark Bennett for the last six games (out with a foot stress fracture), was also without guard Gary Thomas Friday. Thomas, who scored 40 points in the two Chief victories previous to the Western contest, suffered a muscle tear in his leg. Van Wagoner was hopeful Thomas would return for the playoffs.

Western surged to an eight-point advantage after one quarter (22-14) but Canton fought back to lead by one at the half (31-30). The Chiefs increased their lead to four after three quarters and led by as many as eight in the last period before the Warriors bounced back.

'1959 Pink Thunderbird' staged at Fourth Street

The Fourth Street Playhouse will open "1959 Pink Thunderbird" by James McLure on Friday, Feb. 25, at the playhouse, 301 W. Fourth in downtown Royal Oak.

Performances continue Thursdays-Fridays at 8:30 p.m., Saturdays at 9 and Sundays at 7:30 through April 9.

Tickets for "1959 Pink Thunderbird" are $6 on Thursdays and Sundays and $8 on Fridays-Saturdays. For reservations call the playhouse at 543-3666.

"1959 Pink Thunderbird" is the umbrella title for two related one-act comedies: "Lone Star" and "Laundry and Bourbon." Set in Texas in the early 1970s, "Lone Star" is the story of a Vietnam vet trying to cope with his inability to recapture his pre-war lifestyle.

In "Laundry and Bourbon," the vet's wife and her friends deal triumphantly with wandering husbands, monster children and game shows.

JAMES McLURE was born and raised in Shreveport, La., and studied at Southern Methodist University. McLure is primarily an actor and has appeared in New York and at many regional theaters. He wrote "1959 Pink Thunderbird" while unemployed as an actor.

The production is directed and designed by Bill More and features Darrell Zink, Patrick Butler, Scott McCue, Karen Moore and Nancy Bright in the cast.

More champagne coming from coast

There is little duller reading than a report of numbers involving change and volume, especially in the world of wine. This column avoids such things when possible. Wine is, after all, a subject that should transcend all that.

However, I recently secured some numbers that are in themselves fascinating for what they tell of our drinking habits today and probably tomorrow — at least, for those who are addicted to sparkling wine. So, here we go.

We all acknowledge that California makes very decent cheap (sometimes inexpensive) sparkling stuff. We and the Spanish seem to have a good hold on that corner of the market. No contest.

But in the world of premium sparkling wine, we in America look to France. Right? Only, it would seem, partly so.

BOTH THE GROWTH over the last 10 years in champagne process ("fermented in this bottle") and the projected growth over the next 10-or-so are indeed awesome. A lot of people are gambling that quality California sparkling wine is a good production investment. Let's look at the data.

In retrospect, 1973 was the key year. At that time, total production of quality bubbly in California was a mere 150,000 cases. Then France's Moet-Hennessy announced Domaine Chandon's arrival in the world via the acquisition of 1,150 acres of prime Napa land to plant to champagne grapes (pinot noir and chardonnay) and to build a winery.

Its original production estimates for 1977, its first year, was 20,000 cases, fairly ambitious even then. Such has been its success that in 1982 its production hit 195,000 and for 1985 projections are 400,000 cases.

During this interval, other bubbly makers have been racing ahead as well, knowing that the market for $11-17 wines is there. Korbel had been under 100,000 cases a year in the early 1970s. The spurt in sparkler growth has moved them to a level of 650,000 in 1982.

Hans Kornell has announced its intention to make 85,000 cases a year and has diversified its offerings and has begun to vintage-date some of its releases (possibly only with large-scale production). Tiny Schramsberg has expanded its facilities and will significantly expand to the 12,000-case level.

TWO LARGE established wineries are going seriously into the sparkling business (they had done only small quantities before). Mirassou and Chateau St. Jean. Monterey Vineyard and San Martin will follow soon, and Wente Brothers will be releasing the first of an extensive offering of sparklers.

Piper-Sonoma has just opened its new facilities that will in time be making 100,000 cases a year. At least half a dozen others have serious plans and/or wine in the cellar already. Those that I know about include Ventana, Iron Horse, S. Anderson and Scharffenberger.

Added to all this volume business is the increased use of proper champagne grapes for these wines: pinot blanc, pinot noir and chardonnay. This quality assurance bodies as well as anything for the future in California. Only Kornell holds out, continuing to use the riesling grapes of his native Germany.

Who can foresee the market by the end of this decade? Clearly, there will be huge quantities of premium bubbly which, if it is not priced out of sight, will hold up well when compared to wine

Richard Watson

what the French send in. And it is good, easily comparable to the French offerings on a dollar-for-value scale. We'll all be "drinking stars" soon to help consume our share, a most delightful prospect.

Second City plays at EMU

The Second City National Touring Co. will appear at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Tuesday at Roosevelt Hall on the Eastern Michigan University campus in Ypsilanti.

General admission tickets are $5 in advance and $6 at the door. For further information call the EMU Office of Campus Life at 487-3045.

Second City develops all its material in a performance situation, improvising on ideas suggested by the audience and fellow actors. The material is presented in a rapid-fire collage of spicy comic commentaries.

The Second City comedy revue premiered in Chicago in 1959 in a defunct Chinese laundry on the fringe of Old Town and was an instant success.

Second City has groomed many talented new actors, including a sizable chunk of the original "Saturday Night Live" cast.
