City to appoint study panel on public safety

The Plymouth City Commission is preparing to appoint a blue-ribbon committee to study the possibility of forming a public safety department in the city.

Mayor Bud Martin has asked each city commissioner to recommend the names of residents to serve as citizen representatives on the committee. The committee will investigate whether it makes economic and operational sense to have a single department in which public safety officers perform both firefighting and police duties.

Also to be appointed on the blue-ribbon committee will be the presidents of the police and firefighters unions, and the police and fire chiefs.

Martin would like to have the commission appoint the committee at its March 7 meeting so the study can begin soon.

"Instead of hiring a consultant and spending thousands of dollars for a study," City Manager Henry Graper said Tuesday night, "we would like to have a citizens committee study the proposal for six months along with firefighter and police union leaders and chiefs and make a recommendation."

THE CITY MANAGER noted that the city of Plymouth once had a public safety department in 1968 under Ken Fisher, and that it probably was a mistake that the concept was not continued.

Graper also said that neighboring Canton Township spent some $25,000 for a study, and the firefighters there killed it in a single night, and the study now is sitting on a shelf.

Martin said Kalamazoo is implementing the public safety concept over a 10-year period, and neighboring Livonia is considering such a move.

"Every time we attend a conference, such as the Michigan Municipal League, the major topic of discussion there is a public safety department. A lot of cities have spent thousands of dollars on a study and never implemented the concept. A public safety department will not work in all communities, but we need to take a look at the concept," Graper said.

The city manager said the main appeal was cost savings while maintaining service levels. "When it's possible to be in a position of keeping the same level of services and not raise taxes, we need to look at it. We must look at everything we can do to save a dollar. As city manager it's my responsibility to look at this, and I feel the best way is to ask a citizen committee to study the idea."

Graper promised to stay out of the process, unless specifically asked by the committee for information. "I'll stay out of it completely. It will be up to the committee to decide if public safety officers will work here or not."

The city of Farmington, which is geographically the size of Plymouth, has had a public safety department for a number of years now. Farmington City Manager Bob Deadman, who once headed the public safety department in that city, was hired by Canton for its study. Deadman reportedly told Graper that based on the Canton experience he believes it would be better to appoint citizens to study the concept and recommend feasibility and desirability than to hire a consultant.

Graper said the concept will not work without public support, and he wants to begin with citizen exploration before the idea comes to the commission.

In recent years the idea of public safety officers performing both police and firefighting duties has met its stiffest opposition from firefighters.

Teacher docked year without pay

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Central Middle School teacher Scott Kurtz will appeal a school board decision to suspend him without pay until the second semester of the 1983-84 school year.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education suspended Kurtz Monday night following completion of a tenure hearing on charges that Kurtz used capricious and impulsive action while disciplining a student.

The board ruled Kurtz used excessive force while acting in a "highly unprofessional manner" and decided that a psychiatric examination would be a condition for his return to work.

"We believe the board's factual findings are erroneous. We believe their legal conclusions are incorrect, and that the board's procedures violated Kurtz's right of due process," said Steven Amberg, Kurtz's attorney.

"We plan to appeal with the State Teacher Tenure Commission."

There was no basis for requiring a psychiatric examination, Amberg said.

"There was no medical testimony offered that even suggests a problem exists," he said.

"The board's hearing officer is a member of the same law firm as the council for the charging party (Superintendent Dr. John Hoben)," Amberg said.

THE BOARD'S hearing officer was Dennis Pollard, while Hoben's attorney was Bill Albertson. Pollard and Albertson both work for the same Birmingham-based law firm.

"Based on that, and other procedural questions that arose, we believe there was a violation of due process," Amberg said. He plans to file the appeal by next week.

While relying on Pollard for legal advice, the board stressed it did not ask or receive his interpretation of the evidence or suggestions for discipline.

The school charges against Kurtz stem from an Oct. 22 incident involving 16-year-old student John James of Plymouth. James entered Kurtz's drafting classroom without permission while Kurtz was delivering a referral to the principal's office. A physical confrontation resulted when Kurtz returned and questioned James about where he belonged.

When James failed to answer Kurtz's questions, Kurtz used actions which violated the board's policy on corporal punishment, according to the board's written conclusions.

The board ruled that Kurtz caused James to "hit the ground, struck his head on the floor several times and caused him to hit a vise or table in the industrial arts classroom."

Because of the actions, "the student suffered bruises on his right side and lumps on the back of his head, dizziness and vomiting," the board wrote.

AN EXAMPLE of force the board objected to, was a "sweep kick" karate move in which Kurtz grabbed James' hair on both sides of the head and simultaneously kicked his feet from under him.

The board stressed it felt Kurtz could have avoided the altercation.

Kurtz was fully aware of the board's policy on the use of physical force, the board wrote.

Kurtz had demonstrated a propensity to use excessive physical force against students, the board determined, because of two recent incidents involving other students.

According to testimony Kurtz was warned about the "no corporal punishment" policy after one of the earlier incidents.

Kurtz's action can't be justified as self-defense because Kurtz is considerably larger than James and is trained in karate, the board wrote.

While James was defiant, he didn't pose a physical threat to Kurtz, other students or himself, the report said.

In separate action, James filed assault and battery charges against Kurtz. 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis found Kurtz guilty and upheld the verdict in a subsequent reconsideration proceeding.

Kurtz reportedly is in the process of appealing that decision in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Township ends talk on taxes

Plymouth Township officials will not collect school property taxes in June, increasing chances school taxes in the future will be paid to Wayne County or banks.

Because the township and Plymouth-Canton Community Schools couldn't negotiate an agreeable price for the collection, the township voted 6-0 to bow out of the talks.

A new state law allows school districts to collect school property taxes twice a year to improve their cash flow and reduce the need for expensive tax anticipation loans.

School districts may collect the taxes themselves or contract with cities, townships, counties or private institutions to collect the taxes.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP officials and school representatives met twice to negotiate a price for the tax collection, Supervisor Maurice Breen said.

Suggested costs for the collection ranged from $15,000 to $126,000. Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent of business for the school district, has said the township's suggested fee was excessive. Hoedel has begun talks with local banks (First National Bank of Plymouth and National Bank of Detroit), he said.

Canton Township has gone on record as refusing to collect the school taxes in June.

"You'd have to add additional personnel to collect the taxes," Breen said. "The summer tax problem is coming at the same time the county bureau of taxation is throwing things back at us."

TWO MORE employees would be needed if the township were to make the summer tax collection for the schools, Treasurer Joe West said. Superior Township in the past has indicated it would need an additional half-time employee.

Collection of the summer taxes means additional bookkeeping assistance past the collection period due to delinquent taxes, West said.

"I thought we were in the ballpark," he said.

"I think we're way out of the ballpark," Clerk Esther Hulsing said. Hulsing wanted to charge a lower price because all the money ultimately "comes from the same pocket."

Other municipalities were doing the collections at lower fees, said Hulsing, a former school board member.

"MR. WEST thinks I'm too low. Mrs. Hulsing thinks I'm too high. I'm right in the middle of the road and think I'm a reasonable guy," Breen said.

"Mr. West is already doing clerical

Federal funds suggested for DPW Yard

The city of Plymouth is considering spending a little more than half of its anticipated federal Community Development Block Grant funds to renovate its DPW Yard.

The city anticipates receiving some $240,000 in 1983, 1984, and 1985 in block grant funds.

As part of the application process, the administration is developing a proposed three-year plan on how the funds (if approved) would be spent.

The administration's tentative proposal was presented Tuesday night to the Plymouth City Commission.

At the same meeting, the commission held a public hearing to receive suggestions from residents on how the money would best be spent. No citizens were on hand, however, to make suggestions.

According to Richard Saathoff, deputy finance director, application for the funds must be made by March 15. Before the application is filed, the administration also will receive recommendations from the Citizen Advisory Council on Community Development funds.

The city commission is expected to adopt the final three-year plan at its March meeting.

The administration has proposed spending a total of $134,000 on the DPW Yard modernization - $66,500 in 1983 and $67,500 in 1984. The money would be used to pay for a project study and for water and sewer service.

The next-largest expenditure the administration proposes is $64,000 in 1985 for a commercial rehabilitation program in Old Village. Also proposed is spending $10,000 on an Old Village tree planting and maintenance program in 1985.

City Manager Henry Graper also suggested spending some $41,500 to rehabilitate Fire Station No. 2. The administration also recommends spending $13,500 this year to purchase a replacement senior citizen van, another $12,500 next year to purchase a replacement senior citizen chore worker vehicle, and $2,000 each of the three years to be allocated to the Plymouth Community Council on Aging.

A final suggestion is to spend some $6,000 for large-print library books for senior citizens.

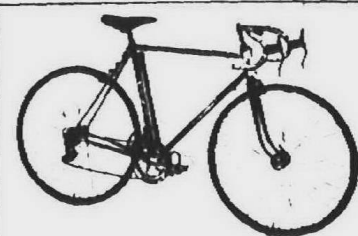

Graper also is interested in allocating some funds to modernize the Mill Street Pumping Station in Old Village and to improve some water mains in that area.

Under federal guidelines, Community Development Block grant funds are generally to be used for programs benefiting low- and moderate-income individuals or areas. The money usually is used for capital items, and not for operating expenses.

Sincock is honored for promotion

Paul Sincock, a Plymouth city employee, recently helped the municipality win a national award for public information.

Sincock, assistant parks and recreation director, produced a 150-slide presentation on the city to win the grand prize in the sixth-annual City Hall Public Information Awards Competition, a national contest recognizing the efforts of municipalities in communicating with employees, businesses and residents.

Plymouth was one of eight winners among about 300 entries from cities of all sizes in the United States and Canada. Plymouth took first place in the "Audio-Visual General Audience" category for cities under 50,000 population.

Sincock, a 1975 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and life-long city resident, took pictures, wrote the script, and narrated the presentation which includes various activities and characteristics about and around the Plymouth area.

Mark Evan, owner of Ami-Com of Plymouth, helped Sincock with the technical aspects of the presentation which includes an automatic cassette tape player that explains the slides.

SINCOCK PRODUCED the initial slide package as a special attraction for the Massachusetts delegation which stayed in Plymouth during the 1980 Republican National Convention.

The presentation has expanded in recent years, according to Sincock. The slide show now is geared for out-of-town groups and businesses which come to visit the city, Sincock said. City officials plan to use the presentation to help attract organizations and firms to the area for conventions, he said.

Sincock, the chairman of WSDP-FM's radio advisory committee, is active in community organizations. He is a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club and was voted student "Citizen of the Year" in 1975 by the American League.

The city of Plymouth received a wall plaque for the top finish. The award was announced in December by Raymond Bancroft of Seabrook, Md., editor-publisher of City Hall Digest which sponsors the contest.

Republicans pick Legg as chairman

Michael Legg

Plymouth Republicans were among state convention delegates who recently elected Michael W. Legg of Livonia as chairman of the 2nd Congressional District Republican Committee, to serve until 1985.

The 2nd District includes Plymouth, Northville, Livonia, and Hillsdale, Lenawee, Branch, Jackson, and Washtenaw counties.

Legg, who has been an elected precinct delegate in the 2nd District since 1972, has been a member of the Wayne 2nd District Executive Committees at various times since 1973. He served as vice chairman of the 2nd District 1975-78.

LEGG HAS attended virtually every state convention since 1972 and attended the GOP National Convention in Kansas City in 1976 and in Detroit in 1980 as a guest.

He served as the only Republican on the Wayne County Apportionment Commission in 1982 and in 1981 was elected chairman of the Wayne 2nd District.

Legg is corporate counsel of the Birmingham-based Compuware Corp., a supplier of computer software and services.

A Mercy College of Detroit and Detroit College of Law graduate, Legg studied international and comparative law at Oxford, England, in 1978.

IN HIS acceptance speech, Legg stressed: "It is vitally important that we continue to elect Republicans in the 2nd District and assure that President Reagan is re-elected in 1984. Now is the time for us to recoup, build on our strengths, eliminate our weaknesses, and get down to electing more Republicans."

Legg also urged delegates to accommodate all philosophical wings of the party. "I understand that we will have our differences of opinion over issues during the next two years. That is healthy, so long as we allow each other the opportunity to speak, and to be heard."

Lowell plans family night

A full range of activities have been planned for family night at Lowell Middle School Tuesday, March 8.

Activities will begin at 6:30 p.m. and run until 8 p.m.

Also during that time period a game room will be set up in the teachers' dining room where board games can be played.

PRINCIPAL Gary Faber will be available 6:30-7 p.m. to talk informally about the school.

A "shootathon" will take place in the boys' gym with each boy or girl having three minutes to shoot as many baskets as they can. This is an Easter Seal activity.

A film entitled "Off the Wall" will be shown 6:40-7 p.m. The film demonstrates the sport of racketball with players ranging from young athletes to professionals.

A volleyball net will be set up for play in the girls' gym during the evening.

Another activity will be Canton Police Officer Bob VanLith speaking and then answering questions about home security measures at 7 p.m.

Dave Pinters from Delta Software Co. will demonstrate uses of Lowell's Apple II microcomputer at 7:30 p.m.

The evening will be rounded out with a film of cardiologist marathoner George Sheehab describing the right kind of exercise to help individuals complete their lives. The film is entitled "Coping with Life... on the Run."

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria. Admission is free.

2 earn math honors

Two students at the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP) have been named as award winners in the 28th annual Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition.

They are: Mike McClennen, senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McClennen of Sheldon, Plymouth; and Jin Soo Kim, junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Young Kim of Oaktree Court, Canton.

The two were named winners by the Michigan Section of the Mathematical Association of America by placing in the top 100 out of 21,000 high school students participating in the competition.

These students will be honored at an awards program to be held Saturday at Alma College.

The program will feature presentations by Dr. A.R. Calderbank of Bell Laboratories on "How to Reuse a 'Right-Once' Memory" and by Dr. Lee Whitt of Daniel Wagner Assoc. on "The Standup Conic."

College scholarships will be awarded to about 50 of the winners at the awards banquet. The scholarships are supported, in part, by Burroughs Corporation, Michigan Bell, the Kuhlman Corporation, and the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics.

Free classes offered to community's senior citizens

You can never grow too old for school. That's why the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools offer community education for senior citizens.

More than 200 senior citizens from the Plymouth-Canton area enrolled in the free courses this year. The courses can be taken toward completion of a high school diploma or just for the fun of learning.

"Everyone 62 and older is invited to take the courses," said Larry Masteller, community education director.

the courses, the state aid pays for the tuition costs, Masteller said.

The majority of the 15 senior citizen courses are offered during the day at locations throughout the community.

Classes are offered at the Plymouth Cultural Center, senior citizen housing complexes and the Centennial Education Park.

The pictures on this page are from the American folk art course offered at the Royal Holiday Mobile Home Park in Canton.

The course is an arts and crafts seminar with some history as well as construction, Masteller said.

OTHER COURSES include studies in government, the Bible as literature, physical fitness, film and literature, painting, square dancing and geography.

Each of the courses run for 38 weeks and are offered at several locations. Seniors interested in more information should contact the community education office at 453-3100.

"It's one of the things we do to help the community," Masteller said.

Ammonia spill

A Cloverdale Farms Dairy employee, John Schonberger, 19, of Salem Township received minor "cold burns" on his arm Monday morning as the result of an ammonia leak at the dairy. Three city of Plymouth Fire Department units responded to a call at the dairy about 10:30 a.m. Monday. "Apparently there was an employee changing a valve on the ammonia tank, and there was a faulty valve which blew," firefighter Douglas Eldridge said. The dairy was evacuated, and firefighters entered using breathing apparatus. They remained on the scene for 1.5 hours and left exhaust fans to help clear water spray to reduce the vapors. Ammonia isn't very flammable, but the fumes were a danger to persons nearby.

Chamber eyes yacht race

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

If you were one of the thousands who enjoyed the recent ice sculpture exhibitions in Kellogg Park, there is another treat in store for you.

The treat will be a yacht race following the old Tonquish Creek as it winds through the downtown area. The race, sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, will take place Sunday, Aug. 20.

Under plans now in the works, downtown store employees on that day will be wearing yachting attire. It wouldn't even be surprising to see the Tonquish Creek Yacht Club revived for the day.

The yacht race is one of what is hoped to be a "calendar" of monthly events in Plymouth planned by the chamber for the rest of the year.

As the racers follow the course of the creek through the downtown business district, there should be plenty of excitement. There might even be a few, purely imaginary yachts sailing on the creek that day.

Another chamber event planned is a citywide garage sale. Residents who have plans to hold a garage sale can register for the city's sale and get a newspaper listing to boot. This, too, could be a gigantic event.

The chamber is also considering a summer concert, featuring some nationally known artists. The concert would be held in either the Plymouth

Salem High School auditorium or Plymouth Township Park.

"This is still in the planning stage," said Tom Bohlander, chamber president. "But it would be something really big for the summer."

The chamber also plans to hold, once more, its popular balloon and apple festivals. The apple festival is held in conjunction with the fall festival.

There will be a treasure hunt at the fall festival this year, adding to the fun and excitement. The hunt is scheduled for the Sunday following Labor Day.

The following is a list of events planned by the chamber for the rest of the year:

- March 17— midnight madness sale
- May 1 — Old Village spring sale

- May 8 — spring art fair
 - June 15 — world's greatest garage sale
 - July 10 — balloon festival inflation sale
 - July 17 — dearie days
 - July 30 — sidewalk sale
 - Aug. 20 — yacht race
 - Sept. 8 — fall festival, treasure hunt, apple festival
 - Nov. 27 — Old Village Christmas walk
- Bohlander said the events were being planned as a way to attract people to Plymouth and thus help business. It was estimated that more than 60,000 persons visited the ice sculptures in Kellogg Park and even more than that number are expected to turn out for most of the planned summer events.

Dual school taxes

Mrs. Hulsing is doing clerical work. I'm doing clerical work," Breen said.

"I don't see school administrators doing clerical work to save money, and I'm not about to do more clerical work to save them money for this tax collection.

"Somewhere down the line, you can't keep picking up for the educational system," he said.

Because the township refused to collect Plymouth-Canton school taxes, it also denied similar requests from the Wayne County Intermediate School District and Schoolcraft College.

The schools have an April 1 deadline to decide how the taxes will be collected.

The city of Plymouth has expressed an interest in collecting the taxes. A collection fee is being negotiated.

Senior group picks leaders

Walter N. Fletcher has been elected president of the Plymouth Community Council on Aging Board of Directors.

At the same meeting, the board elected Niles Beagrand as vice president, Gordon Arthur as treasurer, and Raymond Kimble as secretary.

At its regular monthly meeting the Council on Aging membership also elected four new members to its board of directors: John Perry, Robert Siscock, Beagrand, and Kimble.

Fletcher was appointed to another term by the board to fill a vacancy.

The Plymouth Community Council on Aging is a non-profit organization which helps inform and assist senior citizens in the city of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Pursell named to budget group

U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, has been appointed to the special Congressional Task Force on the Budget Process.

Pursell, whose 2nd District includes Livonia and Plymouth, was named to the task force by House Republican Leader Bob Michel.

The panel will seek to end the problems which have prevented timely and orderly passage of the federal budget over the past several years, Michel said.

INSURANCE INFO WITH LARRY FISHER
 PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE CO. 569-2222

Q. How often should I meet with my life insurance agent?
 A. An annual review of your life insurance program is normally sufficient. However, there are many circumstances which usually demand immediate attention. Some of these include marriage, childbirth, buying a home or starting a business. These changes can result in additional insurance requirements, and waiting for your next review may cause you to be underinsured.
 During your annual review you will want to be updated on the current values in your contract such as face amount, cash value, dividends and guaranteed options, so your agent and you can structure your insurance program to your greatest advantage.
 Questions can be sent to Larry Fisher, P.O. Box 9106, Livonia, Mich. 48151

Urge help for nuclear freeze

To the editor:
In November 63.9 percent of city of Plymouth voters, 62.8 percent of Plymouth Township voters, and 59.3 percent of Canton voters cast "Yes" ballots for Proposal E — the call for a bilateral, verifiable, and immediate freeze in the testing, production, and deployment of nuclear weapons.

On March 7 and 8, more than two busloads of southeast Michigan citizens will join hundreds of others from all over the country in Washington, D.C. to lobby our representatives.

House Joint Resolution No. 2, the freeze proposal, was introduced on the first day of this new Congress and it now has 175 co-sponsors, including 10 of the Michigan delegation.

In our area, U.S. Rep. William Ford is a co-sponsor. Rep. Carl Pursell voted for the same proposal last August but has not yet become a co-sponsor for HJR 2.

This issue is crucial, for unless we accomplish a freeze soon it will be difficult to stop the placement of Pershing II and cruise missiles in Europe, set to begin in December.

These weapons would be very destabilizing. The Pershing II's are both fast and accurate — they could hit Soviet targets in four to six minutes from some of the proposed bases, and the Soviets have said that if we place them in Western Europe they will be forced to go to a "launch on warning" system. That is just what it sounds like. If their radar picked up signals of incoming missiles, the retaliatory strike would be launched automatically, with no human involvement.

We have had false alarms that took longer than six minutes to discover, but with intercontinental missiles taking 30 minutes, the time was there to verify warnings. Certainly there is no reason to believe Soviet radar is less susceptible to error than our's.

How long can we live with such a dangerous "balance of terror?"

I urge readers who wish to send visible support for a freeze to Washington to sign a proxy ballot or write a letter for us to take along. You need not be a voter — young people need to make their voices heard too — after all, it is their future we are gambling with, and the stakes are terribly high.

I have proxy forms available. Anyone wishing to sign one, or to write a letter, may call me at 455-2149.

Chorus sang with orchestra

To the editor:
I note with sadness the passing of Dave Mather, member of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra when it was formed in 1946. He held the position of first clarinet and provided solid support during the early, tenuous years of the orchestra.

For more than 35 years as player, patron and listener, he was a loyal and generous patron of the symphony, and I wish here to express my sincere thanks. He was a true friend and gentleman.

ANOTHER ITEM relative to the history of the Plymouth Symphony has been in the news with the report of the Great Choral Festival recently held in Plymouth. It was stated that the composed concert by the Plymouth Community Chorus and the Symphony as part of the festival represented the first time these organizations had ever appeared together.

Actually, the Plymouth Community Chorus, under the direction of Fred Nelson, was organized the same year as the Symphony and for many years appeared with it regularly. During my tenure with the Orchestra (1951-79) I count occasions when these two groups collaborated.

I mention this not so much in the interest of accuracy as to insure that the efforts of Mr. Nelson and other early members of the Plymouth Community Chorus are not forgotten.

Objects to raise

To the editor:
After having read the front page story of the Canton Observer's Thursday edition (Feb. 10), I have to wonder what is going on down at Canton Township Hall.

The supervisor is on Cable TV every week with his "Canton Tax Forum" telling residents that we will "freeze wages," and he "recommends no pay raises." These quotes are from his tax forum that airs on Omni Cable 8.

If you haven't figured out what I'm talking about, well, here it is — the township board gave Mike Gorman a 19 percent . . . that's right, a 19 percent . . . raise. In this day when our supervisor is telling us that we will be in financial trouble next year, he votes for a 19 percent raise for our finance director (and, oh yes, he also gets the use of a township car. How about that?).

I work for Ford Motor Co. and I took a pay freeze, but our township board doesn't care. They think that we taxpayers will get the money from somewhere.

Just a little background on how this raise came about. The township board had on the agenda, as item No. 4, non-union personnel compensation. When it came time for this item it was tabled. This means that no action was taken on it.

The board went through the rest of the agenda, and when it got to future agenda items, John Flodin moved that the board reopen the agenda for something important that couldn't wait. This new item turned out to be the job offer that Mike Gorman had from his hometown of Westland.

If this was the case why wasn't his salary discussed under item No.4? Some of the board members told me that they knew about the offer as early as a week before the meeting, while other members knew about it the Friday before the board meeting. What the board did smacks of "smoke-filled back room politics." This issue was decided in about 10 minutes. I have not seen one person given a raise by the board this quickly in the six months that I have been watching them.

With this raise the finance director becomes the highest paid employee in the township. He is even paid more than the supervisor. The supervisor has only voted "yes" to one other employee raise.

I think that I have a solution that will solve the pay raise shortage that we will be in next year. The rest of the township employees will like to renegotiate their contracts, as they have been held to 7-8 percent raises. We will remember when the supervisor was elected he pledged to give back part of his salary but he couldn't. Well now he can. The legislature has passed, and it is law, Public Act No. 382 of 1982, Section 6(6) which will allow him to give back part of his salary, as I see it. Maybe he will give back the generous raise that he voted to Gorman who doesn't even live in Canton.

Any township resident who thinks that this latest action by the board is out of line should come down to the next meeting of the board at 7 p.m. on the first, second and fourth Tuesdays of the month. The citizens forum is open to you to air your feelings.

This board is very concerned about setting precedents; a couple of weeks ago it wouldn't pay one employee $105 for work she did, but now it sets a precedent by giving the largest raise to any employee in the township.

I am told that Gorman is indispensable to the township. I say that no one is indispensable. There are probably people out of work who are qualified to do his job at the salary he was making.

I think in view of the economic times that we are all going through the board owes the taxpayers an explanation.

What do you think?

Baby Doe is victim

To the editor:
The surrogate parenthood issue of the Lansing Baby Doe case is not the only problem to impact the parents in their ability to make correct decisions in the best interests of the child.

To be sure, the parents have been subject to confusion arising from the absence of policy which has not yet caught up with advances in scientific technology.

As a result, Baby Doe has been regarded as a property in a contract dispute.

But worse, it is now reported that Baby Doe is further victimized by a physician's advice that the infant be outcast to an institution without promise to family nurture or community life.

One can sympathize with parents whose instincts are challenged by contract advice given them by attorneys and "medical" advice rendered by an unimpaired health care practitioner.

The narrow application of both professions in this case has served to insult and jeopardize the dignity of life to which the child should be entitled.

Fortunately, there are systems in place which hold the child's dignity of life to be paramount and which have rallied to support the parents from this consideration.

The nature of Baby Doe's condition has not been publicly confirmed. But, unlike the unenlightened physician who advised institutionalization, we are aware that the parents now are being informed of programs and services available to help children with developmental disabilities maximize their potential as worthwhile and valued human beings.

The community mental health agency serving the Lansing area has invited the Baby Doe family to avail itself of direct programs for the child and counseling and other support services for the family as well.

Additionally, Michigan's progressive education code establishes equal educational opportunity for all children — including handicapped children with functional or physical deficits and limitations. Under the law, such school opportunities — including infant stimulation programs — are available to handicapped children in Michigan from birth to age 26.

Family support services also are available for parents of children with special needs from the area groups such as the Greater Lansing Association for Retarded Citizens.

The point is that children born with suspected or apparent functional deficits can best benefit from opportunities to maximize their potential for growth and development through a normalized educational and family life experience in the community.

The validity of that principle has been proved by educators, behavioral scientists, psychologists and other helping professionals — and demonstrated by developmentally disabled persons themselves.

It is certainly proved daily in my household by our son, Michael, who is a constant source of new experience and joy in our lives.

'Bible Call' offers inspirational message

A series of five-minute tape-recorded messages on a variety of Bible subjects is being offered by the Plymouth Church of Christ as part of a public service religious information library the church is sponsoring.

Approximately 400 tapes are divided under the following categories: personal, salvation, Bible study, worship, especially for young people, the church, family life, Christian evidences, science and religion, morality, eternity, general interest and especially for children.

A COMPLETE listing of the tapes available will be printed in a brochure being mailed to area homes this week.

Copies of the brochure can be requested by calling 459-9100 or 459-9105. In the meantime, you may call 459-9100 and ask for tape 163 which is a list of subjects available on Bible Call.

To hear any of the messages, call 459-9100 and ask the tape librarian to play the tape desired. Bible Call will be staffed Monday-Friday.

Dramas at Holy Trinity

A series of Lenten dramas are being presented at 8 p.m. Wednesdays during Lent at Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, 39020 Five Mile Road, Livonia.

Following the format of a trial, the series is entitled, "The People vs. Jesus of Nazareth."

Each week a different witness is on the "stand." The series opened with Pontius Pilate, played by Kenneth Nelson. Other witnesses are Barabbas, played by Bernie Hethan; James, by Robert Sallow; Herod, by Richard Swan; and John, by Robert Hoernschmeyer.

GARY SCHELLHASE, an attorney and member of Holy Trinity, takes the role of the prosecuting attorney, while the pastors of the parish, Robert Seltz and James Spilos, are the defense attorneys.

"There is only one problem," said Schellhase. "I'm afraid I'm going to get tired of losing all these court skirmishes."

Each service includes hymn singing, scripture and a brief liturgy.

"The participants will sing in sign language to the accompaniment of music," she said. "There will also be a voice interpretation for the hearing audience."

The performers will do songs, poems and a skit. The skit features deaf people protesting at a TV station over the neglect by media of deaf people. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for senior citizens and students.

Coordinators will be Marjorie Smith, director of Christian Education at Ward; Judy Anderson, oncology nurse; and Donna McKinley, pharmacist.

Even a 'good' war can't bring peace

The Good War. I had always known it as W.W. II. To be sure, there were other phrases used to describe this war, but W.W. II always seemed the most concise.

It was not the first, and it was world-wide. The haunting possibility for a third one was never openly discussed. We believe this one was the war to end all wars. A good war? That takes some gymnastic exercise of mind and memory.

Theodore White used the phrase in a recent magazine article. Elsewhere he called 1945 the Year of Victory (fair enough), and listed a number of effects derived from that victory. A peaceful nation, quickly mobilized, could police the world.

Good always triumphs over evil, and Right Makes Might. The United States had assumed a responsibility for the entire world. American learning had played a key role to victory, and the Bill of Rights opened college doors to a whole new body of students.

THEOLOGAINS HAD never used the phrase "Good War" for W.W.II. Not because they might have disagreed with moral perspectives

Rev. Lloyd Buss

Theodore White, but because they were preoccupied with "just war." A "just war" is the moralist denomination for a conflict that a nation cannot suffer losing.

Just war has to do with just intentions (defeat Hitler), just means (using the Geneva Convention) and due proportions (a reasonable determination that the good to be achieved outweighs the evils involved in waging it). Is a just war good? Is that the way to treat the issue?

Theodore White has written that American is about dreams and ideas and not about interests. Ideas that include equality and liberty before the law, and the notion of limitless abundance flowing from America's power.

But recent months and years have turned the dreams and ideas into parodies.

We have found the Great Society wanting and the expense of bankrolling the world beyond our means.

DOES THE FAILURE of our dreams and ideas mean that we are now going to protect our interests? Will we now call evil anything and everything that challenges our public order and safety? Will we reach out to destroy what threatens our public order and safety?

Nuclear weapons and nuclear warfare have changed forever the conduct of nations and the use of war as a means to effect peace. Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger said recently that nuclear war is not winnable, but "we certainly are planning not to be defeated."

THEODORE White said only that W.W. II was the "Good War." He did not suggest that the conflicts between nations today would be equally good if Right Made Might, if good triumphed over evil, and the peaceful nations could police the world.

Perhaps he remembered Hyman G. Rickover's observations that "the lesson of history is this: When a war starts every nation will ultimately use whatever weapon has been available. That is the lesson learned time and again — that's due to the imperfections of human beings."

I remember being taught as a schoolboy during W.W.II (the Good War) that the only good Japanese and Germans were the dead ones. Considering the accumulated power contained in nuclear weapons around the world today, and the purpose for which they were built, the experience of our enemies in the Good War might be but a prelude to the experience of the world today. Will that be Good?

The time is ripe to reform Detroit water board

MY PURPOSE is not to put Charles Beckham, on leave as director of the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department, and his boss, Mayor Coleman Young, on trial in print with leaks from federal prosecutors. Let the dailies do that.

My purpose is to renew thinking about regional governance for the DWSD — a utility which serves one-third of the state of Michigan, somewhere around 100 communities, but is entirely governed by one city and may hire residents of only one city.

Regionalism is hardly my idea. At least a couple of governor's commissions have recommended it. We don't allow one city to run our regional transportation authority, our regional planning agency, our regional metroparks system . . . Why, then, should one city politically control the water and sewerage utility?

Tim Richard

THE PEDESTRIAN answer is that Detroit "owns" the water plant, the sewage treatment plant and the administrative structure.

Not so. Those physical facilities are paid for almost entirely from federal grants, state grants and the user fees have been charged in our growing monthly water bills. In other words, the "Detroit" system belongs to suburbia, too.

The current problems arose when the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency filed suit against the city for being the single biggest polluter of Lake Erie. Detroit agreed in 1977 to upgrade the plant. Upgrading meant raising big chunks of capital, from the rest of us, and hiring lots of new technical people to operate the equipment.

You may recall the horror stories — equipment breakdowns, scarcity of skilled help (translation: they didn't want to live in Detroit as the price of getting a job), hiring of expensive consultants, and cronyism (or worse) in the sludge-hauling contract.

A better system is needed — one in which customer communities can select their proportionate members of the water board, one in which customer communities have a voice in the rates, one in which residents of customer communities may bid for jobs in the system. It will take major changes in state laws.

MUCH FIRE has been directed at Mayor Young. Some should be redirected at John Feikens, the federal district judge overseeing the DWSD pollution case.

Feikens decided to set up a super-administrator of the system and selected Young. It was like hiring a fox to guard the chicken coop.

Young is good at a) persuading Detroiters to give him more money, b) prying money out of commuters, c) horsetrading with Lansing to get more money and d) pleading for more money from Washington.

Young is not strong on a service-oriented administration or running sewage treatment plants. It's doubtful he knows the difference between BOD and BO.

Clean water is too important a resource to be left to the tender mercies of one federal judge and one poorly run city. We need a regional system.

people's podium

(The following guest column was submitted for People's Podium by James E. Birhmer of Canton Township. Readers wishing to share their opinions may submit their views, 600 words or less, to the Observer, 461 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.)

IN REFERENCE to Emory Daniels' opinion in the Thursday, Feb. 10, issue of the Observer, Daniels appears to be the pot calling the kettle black. He decries the use of deceptive manipulation of statistics by politicians and then uses deceptive statistics himself to defend his points.

Daniels criticizes a local representative who supports a 36 percent increase in state gasoline taxes (from 11 to 15 cents a gallon over time) but criticizes him for his opposition to Governor Blanchard's proposed 38 percent increase in state income tax.

Daniels states: "What difference is there between an income tax increase from 4.6 to 6.35 percent and a gasoline tax hike from 11 to 15 cents? Numerically very little."

Well, there is a world of difference.

• First, the state income tax is currently a percentage of taxable income which means it is more or less inflation protected (i.e., as prices and wages rise due to inflation, state income taxes rise likewise).

Gasoline taxes are not a percentage. As prices and wages rise, periodic increases are required in gasoline taxes in order to keep pace with inflation.

• Second, a 38 percent increase in state income tax will affect the average Michigan worker much harder than a 4 cent a gallon increase in state gas tax.

• Third, because of recently enacted federal gas taxes, the state will be more or less eligible for 4 cents from the federal government for every $1 raised by the state (limited to highway and mass transit expenditures). For the most part, increasing state income taxes do not increase federal revenue to the state (aside from our added federal income tax deduction).

• Fourth, gasoline taxes are essentially user taxes. Raising them provides incentives for lower gasoline consumption. (Ultimately, this usually has a beneficial effect by reducing road maintenance costs through lighter cars, reduced driving and car pooling).

INCOME TAXES achieve the opposite. They encourage taxpayers (i.e., the people paying the bills) to move to other states with lower tax burdens and drive up labor costs. (Michigan already is rated the worst state for business environment among the 48 contiguous states).

Daniels criticizes Sen. Robert Geake for calling Gov. Blanchard's proposal a 38 percent increase, implying that the increase from 4.6 to 6.35 percent of taxable income is much more clearer and less exaggerated. If your family's taxable income is $21,700, your state income taxes will increase from $1,000 to $1,380 (a 38 percent increase).

By Daniels rationale I could argue that an increase in the price of a large loaf of bread from $1 to $1.38 should not be considered a 38 percent increase but maybe only a 0.1 percent increase (since ones spending for bread might go from 0.24 percent of income to 0.33 percent — assuming one loaf per week and a $21,700 annual income).

Finally, the author conveys the impression that the Republicans seem to be the worst offenders (mentioning Richard Nixon and Bill Milliken). How about Lyndon Johnson and Jim Blanchard (I could have sworn both these guys were Democrats).

Blanchard has stated the need for a permanent tax increase (that will bring in additional revenues well above the current shortfall when business conditions improve. Even if conditions stay the same, the added revenues will allow the spending reductions proposed by the governor to be restored next year).

After conducting a poll with a leading question, the governor implies that he has 66 percent of the public support for his tax and spending proposals.

Rather than cite your statistics I'm sure the letters written by your readers give you a very clear understanding on the public reception towards more taxes.

Blanchard would have everybody believe that state spending has been cut to the bone when in fact most state employees are among the highest (if not the highest) paid state employees in the country.

So as not to be too harsh, I'm glad Daniels shares Senator Geake's opposition to the governor's tax increase.

Taming the weeds

More tales of a pioneer

THE CRISP yellow pages of history tell the story of the many surprises the '49ers encountered in their invasion of the West in search of gold.

They were not the only ones who got surprised on a venture that took them from the crowded neighborhoods of the city to the wide-open spaces in search of room and fresh air.

The Stroller and his lady now enjoy many a laugh as to what happened after our friends talked us, in 1938, into purchasing two acres of an abandoned farm a bit south of Six Mile Road. The acres were in a wooded area and looked very attractive. But there was a hitch.

The acres had not been cultivated in years, and the weeds were more than three feet high.

"WHAT CAN we do about them?" we asked our friend. He smiled and said, "Dig up $100 and don't ask any questions." Luckily, we had it and left for home in a state of wonderment. A week later came the surprise.

When we visited to watch our home being built, our friend took us for a walk back to the acres. There was a sight for sore eyes.

The weeds had been cut, the ground plowed and furrowed, and 100 fruit trees planted, along with 500 feet of grapes along the lot line.

"Now you can raise fruit and possibly make a living," our friend smiled.

"Next," he said, "you will have to arrange for a windbreak so the gusts won't blow the fruit from the trees."

We thought he was talking about a canvas curtain. Instead he arranged for a row of Chinese elm trees that grew faster than the fruit trees. Today they are more than 20 feet tall.

NEXT CAME one of the farmers from the area.

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

"Planning to cify the place?" he asked.

When we told him we were just going to live there and try to make it nice, he countered, "You'll never have a lawn with all those trees. You'll have to take half of them out." And he kindly marked them.

Down came 18 young trees, making possible a lawn the full extent of the area between the gravel road and our new home.

As the fruit trees grew, so again did the weeds. A neighboring farmer graciously came over and plowed again. After several seasons, he came to the back door and informed us with a sigh that he couldn't do it any more.

"The place looks like hell," he said, "because I can't get close enough to the trees."

"Just let the weeds come, but cut them often," he advised, "and it won't be long until you have nice grass all the way to the end of the acreage."

AND THAT IS exactly what happened.

Now The Stroller and the lady of our home can look out the kitchen window and see lawn for more than 600 feet, and more than 100 feet from the front window to the road.

Talk about surprises and thrills — we had them in pioneering in the wide-open spaces of abandoned farms in what is now the city of Livonia.

It sure was fun — and educational.

Car folks still 'want it all now'

A YEAR OR two ago, a popular magazine devoted to the joys of sybaritic living carried an ad for a book called "I Want It All Now."

The sardonic title recognized that there is ingrained in this country an idea that many of us feel our economy can be expected to provide us an ever-expanding array of goods and services and whatever else it takes to enjoy life. A 30-year era of prosperity following World War II accustomed us to bloated expectations.

At the same time, governments and our biggest corporations acted as if there were indeed a cornucopia of wealth.

The results have been disastrous.

THE MAINSTAY of our economy, the auto industry, provides only one, if possibly the best, example.

A few years ago, the auto companies agreed to contracts with the UAW that provided dizzying wage scales, fringe benefits and time-off packages. It set off a wave of increases in other industries.

The companies bought immediate union peace and kept stockholders happy — but at a long-range cost everyone is now paying and will continue to pay.

Car unions wanted it all. Car companies wanted it all. OPEC wanted it all. Oil prices escalated. Inflation was fueled by a callous and often duplicitous government wanting to finance war and peace, guns and butter. Escalating labor costs of steel and cars contributed to higher car prices and economic decline. Much of the nation was weaned away from American cars.

Today General Motors is still making money. But Ford, Chrysler and American Motors face shaky futures. A report quotes GM chairman Roger Smith that only Japan's willingness to limit imports last year saved Chrysler and Ford from going out of business.

The Japanese have agreed to limit car importation for one more year. But what happens after that?

American car companies pay more than $20 an hour for the wages and benefits of an auto assembler. A Japanese car company pays $10. The average American car now costs more than $10,000, and the average non-automobile manufacturing industry worker is being paid less than $10 an hour. The average worker can no longer afford the average American car.

A SPIRIT of working together for a common goal and shared sacrifice would enable the car companies to meet current problems and plan for a better future.

But there is little evidence of such commitment. Most workers, long accustomed to ever-higher plateaus of wages and enjoyment of life's goods, are unwilling to make real sacrifice.

In two "concessions" last year, UAW members voted to forego some days off and pay increases that would have accrued in the next year and to defer cost of living increases. The wage reduction amounted to about 3 percent. The vote in the last concession was only 52 percent in favor.

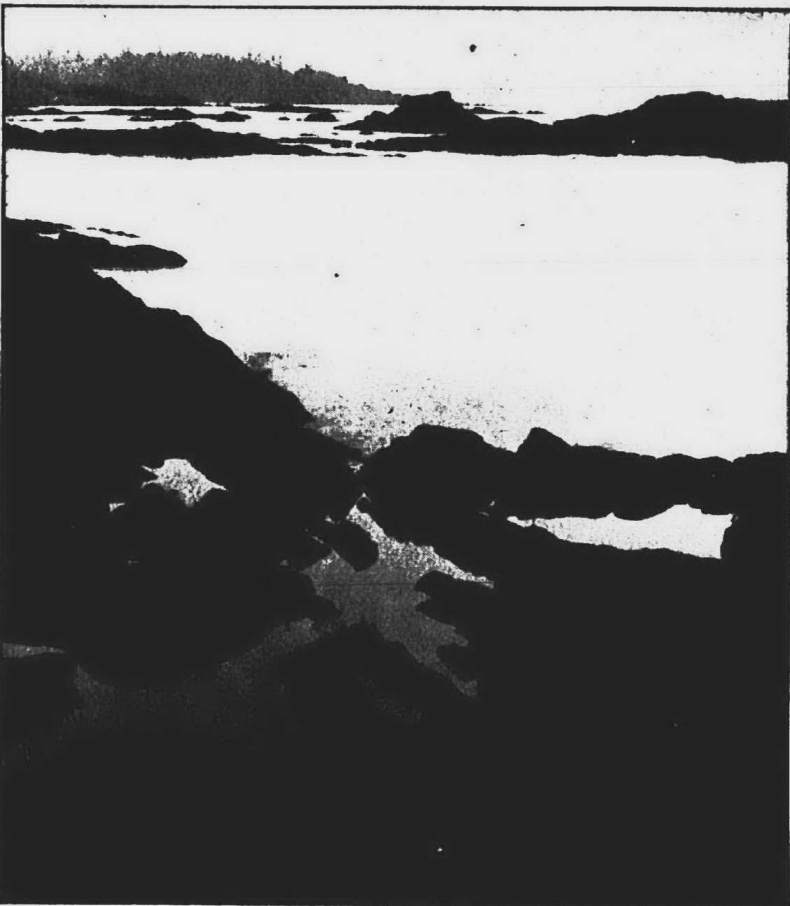

At Budd Co. recently, UAW members overwhelmingly rejected a concession package the company said was necessary to keep plants from closing in the Detroit area. "We can't concede any more," said one worker. "We're only making about $12 an hour now."

In fact, older union members are frequently willing to see younger workers laid off rather than give up any gains they think are their due. There are indications union members regard any concession as temporary — to be endured only as long as it takes to bring back the era of prosperity.

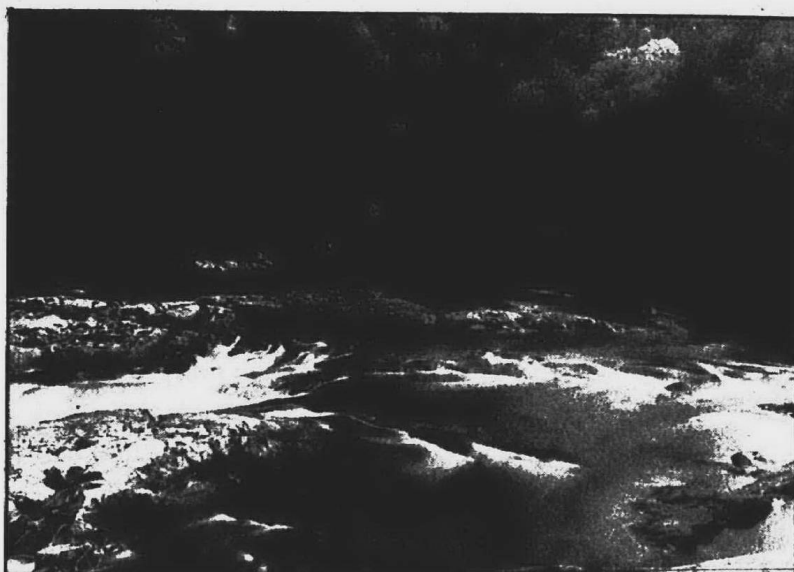

We have reached the point where we will have to think in different terms about what we can expect from the economy and develop a spirit of working together for common goals. If not, we are heading for even more economic sorrows.

A bright day with contrasts shows deep shadows and bright highlights, as in this picture which Nagler shot in Lake Superior Provincial Park, Ontario.

An overcast day produces a soft, moody picture, lacking in contrast but evoking an almost romantic feeling. Nagler found this scene on Ontario's Chippewa River during the fall color change.

Contrast: drama or misty romance

"Contrast" can be defined as the range of tonal values in a scene. As a photographer, you need some knowledge of the subject. It will help you get better pictures.

On a bright, sunny day, tones can be found from very black to very bright. On the other hand, a misty or overcast day will produce softer tones, often resembling pastels in color prints, or soft greys in black and white.

You might say high contrast days will produce bold, dramatic shots while low contrast days will result in soft, sometimes romantic pictures.

Use of contrast can be effective in expressing yourself through your photography and can have a considerable effect in the success or failure of your shot.

YOUR EYES see differently than film. Human eyes can see details in bright highlight while at the same time pick out texture in the deepest shadows.

We would expect to see the same details in our photographs, but unfortunately, film is more restricting and can't "see" the same way we can. It's tonal range is much more limiting. Therefore, some tones are always lost in a photograph.

But usually, loss of detail in the darkest and lightest parts of a photograph goes unnoticed as long as middle tones appear acceptable to our eyes.

ARE YOU AT the mercy of the lighting conditions? Do you have to accept whatever contrast may be registered on your film? Not necessarily.

You do have some control over contrast if you shoot black and white film and do your own developing. If the original scene is too narrow in its tones and you desire more contrast in your finished print, simply overdevelop the film to expand the contrast range.

Just the opposite, if you took some shots on a high contrast day and want reduced contrast in your print, then you must underdevelop the negatives. Of course, the black and white printer also has the flexibility of paper grades to increase or decrease contrast.

If you send your film away for developing and printing, be prepared to accept the contrasts that the processing lab thinks are correct.

With color film, over or underdeveloping will not affect contrast as the entire developing procedure is designed to give average contrast.

FILM SPEED also affects contrast. The slower the film (lower ASA number), the more contrast it will produce.

For example, Kodak Panatomic X film (ASA 32) will result in negatives with more contrast than Tri-X (ASA 400). Likewise with color film, the slower emulsions will give somewhat more contrast than higher speed films.

Going to extremes, use of Kodak Kodalith film will result in prints of contrast so great that all middle tones are eliminated and you're left with a photograph akin to a pen and ink drawing.

So get out of the shadows and into the highlights with a better understanding of contrast and how it can help you to improve your photograph.

Lucas names 4 to SEMCOG

Wayne County Executive William Lucas has appointed four commissioners to serve as delegates to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

The commissioners are William G. Suzore of Allen Park, John C. Hertel of Harper Woods, Milton Mack of Wayne and Arthur M. Carter of Detroit. All are Democrats.

Lucas also named five county administrators as alternate delegates: Jamil Akhtar of Plymouth Township, David A. How to sell to feds

A seminar aimed at helping persons learn how to do business with the federal government will be offered from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. March 24-25 at Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

The seminar is entitled "Government Proposal: The Key That Unlocks the Federal Vault."

Fee is $175, including lunch. The seminar will be conducted in the Liberal Arts Building Conference Center. Registration information is available from the college at 591-6400, ext. 409.

According to instructor Hugh H. Hodgins, the federal government is the largest buyer of goods and services in the economy. Although it is an attractive market place, the government's size and complexity have led to a multitude of rules and constraints which seem too complicated and difficult to penetrate, Hodgins said.

The "proposal" is the businessman's door into the government contract world, according to Hodgins. It is the single most important document in the highly competitive environment of government contracting.

MADONNA College in Livonia has awarded its first athletic scholarship. Recipient of the scholarship was Joy Gornick, daughter of Dick and Kathy Gornick of Plymouth Township. In selecting a winner of the history-making award, athletic ability, sportsmanship, high morality and academic qualifications were considered.

Joy was a member of the Madonna basketball team, played on the volleyball team, and is now getting ready for the softball season. She is a sophomore at Madonna in the nursing program and has an all-A scholastic average. She attended the University of Michigan for her freshman year.

She played basketball as a student at West Junior High School, Plymouth Salem High School and in the local Community League.

Madonna does not belong to a league but played 14 scheduled basketball games with independent and league schools.

"Most league teams have four to six open days so they work us into their schedules," said Marrilee Hoag of the Madonna athletic department. She said her team plays two-year and four-year colleges. Last fall they competed with Schoolcraft, Henry Ford, U-M Dearborn, Mercy, Marygrove, Concordia in Ann Arbor, and St. Clair College in Windsor, Ontario.

THE CURTAIN rises at 8:30 this evening for opening night of the comedy, "Morning's at Seven," at Meadow Brook Theater on the campus of Oakland University near Rochester.

Actor John Roberts of Plymouth has the role of David, the intellectual snob. Gary Merrill played the part in the Broadway production of "Morning's at Seven."

This will be John's first appearance at Meadow Brook since "Arsenic and Old Lace" in 1981. He says he is happy to be back.

Actors from five states are in the cast of the play which has been described as a work of great wit and wisdom with a touch of lunacy. Playwright Paul Osborn pays tribute to a small-town American family in the early 1920s. The plot's two major developments involve the outcome of Homer Bolton's 12-year romance with Myrtle Brown and the question of where a tart-tongued spinster will go after living for 40 years with her sister and brother-in-law.

John says it is very funny and good family entertainment.

He is taking time out from rehearsals to be guest speaker at a career day at Mead's Mill Middle School in Northville. John will tell the students what it means to be an actor.

"Morning's at Seven" will run through March 20. For ticket information, call 377-3300.

JUDY GIDEAU and Charles Swithers had high scores at last Thursday's party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Sue Wyels and Ruth Kepler were winners Feb. 10.

Margaret Swarz says they have had good turnouts with new players making up for the regulars who are vacationing in the south.

MEMBERS OF the Lake Point Village branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will have their salad luncheon Saturday, March 26 in the cafeteria of Plymouth Canton High School.

If the term "salad luncheon" smacks of a light snack for dieters, this is a misconception. The garden clubbers put on a spread such as you have never imagined, unless you have been there. This will be the club's 15th annual salad luncheon. They do not advertise the event because everyone is scrambling for tickets. They are available only from members of the club.

Arlene Pasley and Jean Pink are co-chairing the luncheon. Mary Ellen Gibbons is heading the arts and crafts committee.

The doors will open at 11 a.m. to give guests time to look over the arts and crafts displays. Lunch will be served from noon to 1 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by the "Young Pioneers" of the Oakland University Show Ensemble. Admission is $6 and tickets will be purchased in advance.

A STRANGE February, with residents reporting crocuses in bloom and birds singing their springtime tunes.

Spring cleaning?

Sharron Davy (left), Lynn Lyon and Patsy Rollins are amassing an amazing number of treasures for the Plymouth Symphony League's annual "Whale of a Sale" slated for Friday, March 25 in the Plymouth Grange Hall. The league would love to take discards off the hands of residents who are in a spring-cleaning mood. It will pick them up in exchange for a tax deduction. No article is too small or too large. Call Sharron Davy, 453-3079, for information or pick-up.

Psychologist relates self-esteem/IQ

Psychologist David E. Klimek believes a child is much more than his IQ. He will present the other half of the equation at the March meeting of the Plymouth-Canton Association for the Academically Talented. The association has invited all parents in the community to attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, March 9, in Pioneer Middle School cafeteria.

Klimek, a clinical psychologist from Ann Arbor, has been a frequent guest on numerous radio and television shows around the country. His topics have included marriage, family, child rearing, human bonding and intimacy, the gifted/talented and creative child, and the process of emotional security.

He maintains a full-time practice, teaches, lectures, and has written three books dealing with the process of successful living.

"IQ IS ONLY HALF of the Equation" will be Klimek's topic. He supports the controversial concept that IQ scores can be raised and lowered partly as a result of a child's self-image; that intelligence can be developed and nurtured.

He sees an integral relationship between a person's self-esteem and his IQ

He believes it falls to the parents to increase a child's self-esteem.

"Parents should listen non-judgmentally, share ideas, show children how to keep trying in spite of mistakes and help them to set realistic standards," said Klimek.

He said children need a place to know it is safe to be who they really are. Parents can make the home that place where a child is permitted his own individuality and accorded dignity and respect. A child's self-esteem gains as he is valued for what and who he is, and not what the parent would like him to be.

KLIMEK HAS served as provost of the Wilson Center for Education and Psychiatry in Minnesota, director of the Cook Institute of Psychotherapy in Minnesota, and as clinical director of the Sioux Trails Mental Health Center in Minnesota. These administrative posts followed three years of college teaching at Mankato State University and Antioch College.

An extensive question-and-answer period will follow Klimek's talk.

Pioneer Middle School is at 46081 W. Ann Arbor Road.

BPW Helps women learn job skills

Funds are available to women who need further education or training to return to the job market. The Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club has a scholarship program to assist displaced homemakers, part-time wage earners or single heads of household.

The scholarships are allocated in varying amounts. Money may be used for tuition, books and supplies, transportation, child care and other necessary areas of financial need. Applicants should lack job skills needed to provide adequate support and should lack full-time work experience.

Women wishing more information or application forms should call 420-2092 from 6-8 p.m. All applications and interviews will be confidential. The requirement that an applicant not receive other educational assistance funds may be waived in extraordinary cases.

Funding for the scholarships is provided through club activities such as an annual fashion show, a Plymouth Fall Festival booth and cookbook sales.

Applicants also can receive information about financial assistance from the national BPW Foundation.

Reye's Syndrome program available to community

The American Legion Passage-Gayde Post of Plymouth has timed its Reye's Syndrome Awareness program to the most dangerous season of the year - the influenza season.

Groups in the community have been taking advantage of the program offered by the Legion. The St. Kenneth Catholic Church Mothers' Club and the Tanger Elementary School PTO have sponsored showings of the 35-minute video tape provided by the Legion. Galimore Elementary School PTO members will see the tape this evening.

Flyers explaining the warning symptoms of the lethal children's disease are available to groups and individuals by calling Bill Nicholas, 453-1938, or at the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce office and the Plymouth Observer office, 461 S. Main.

Organizations can schedule a showing of the video tape interview with a Reye's Syndrome survivor by calling Nicholas.

THE DISEASE is recognized as one of the top 10 killers among children's diseases.

It affects predominantly the liver, brain and central nervous system simultaneously. Unless successfully treated, death can follow within three to four days in a previously healthy child. The mortality rate in recent years is approximately 50 percent. The age of those affected ranges from a few months up to 18 years.

Physicians do not know what causes Reye's Syndrome but they do know that it is associated with any viral disorder. The disease does not appear to be contagious and affects both sexes equally. It occurs throughout the year but frequency is higher during the winter flu season.

A child may be recovering from the first illness and almost ready to go back to school when the symptoms of Reye's Syndrome appear. Parents should watch for extreme tiredness, recurrent vomiting, listlessness, dilated pupils, combativeness, convulsions and coma. Sudden recurrent vomiting is almost always the first sign.

Nothing can be done for the child at home and parents are advised that it is better to be overcautious in a situation where suspicions are aroused. They should take the child to the nearest emergency room if their physician is unavailable.

Troop 1534 celebrates

Plymouth Boy Scout troop 1534 marked its 50th anniversary with a dinner and court of honor at Plymouth's First United Presbyterian Church. Among the guests was Wesley Rathburn (left), charter member of the troop, who spent time visiting with the troop's present scoutmaster, Gene Buchan. Dick Rice of Plymouth (below, left), a member of the district committee, reminisces with Frank Beach of Rochester. Beach was scoutmaster in 1955-56.

Students at Churchill High School of Livonia put on a superb rendition of the "Sound of Music" this past weekend. Hank Naasko of Canton is the musical and choral director at Churchill. The quality coming from the stage was equal to performances given in major theaters throughout the country.

Many family-loved songs have come from this Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, and the orchestra did justice to every one of them.

Hank, with his wife Sandy, working with the costumes, added a special touch to the show by encouraging their three daughters to join in on the gala event. Daughter Sarah was Brigitta, and their youngest daughter, Rachel, stole the show many times as the littlest of the Von Trapp children. Daughter Heidi was program hostess. Last year, she had an important role in their production of "Oklahoma." It is quite a talented family, but their talents do not stop with on-stage entertainment.

The production staff, friends and neighbors, joined Sandy, Hank and girls in their home for an afterglow after the Saturday evening performance. The 70 guests enjoyed a few of the famous Naasko punches as well as several delicious hors d'oeuvres.

It was a totally enjoyable evening.

ple units hopefully will come to light within the present school year.

MIKE GOVIN of the Canton recreation department is looking for a few good men and women to come to the aid of the leisure services offered to our community. The volunteers will help organize subcommittees expanding to the video services.

Jack Falvo, Steve Kozusko and Sue Wrenbeck are working toward additional resident involvement on equipment available to us by Omnicon. If you can do a little commentary service or have a few ideas on how to promote the fine programs we presently have, please give the recreation department a call.

They are just in the planning stages, so get in on the ground floor of this exciting concept adding a new dimension to our viewing pleasure.

THE FRIENDS of the Canton Library are working diligently on the upcoming used book sale, planned for April 22-24. All hard cover, paper back and Harlequin-type books are being accepted. Only the very newest text books can be used.

The donations are accepted at the Canton Library, where they are stored for a short time. In past years, James Gillig opened the door for extended storage, but this space will no longer be available.

The Friends of the Library are looking for a free, dry place to store the books now and after the book sale.

As in many other service organizations, they encourage new members. The advantage of becoming a member at this time is the opportunity to preview all of the exciting books before the public sale. The general rule for the sale is all hard-cover books are 50 cents, paper backs sell for 25 cents and the romantic Harlequin-type books are priced at 15 cents.

John Schwartz loans his truck to transport the bound treasures, and it is deeply appreciated. If you are interested in helping with publicity, or if your talent is in lettering for posters, your time will benefit the fine Canton Library.

Canton Library canvas, vinyl-lined book bags will be on sale during the yearly book sale.

As if members of the Friends of the Library do not have enough to do, they are compiling an hors d'oeuvre cook book. The special treat you save for your most important company now can be shared with the rest of us who are always searching for exciting recipes.

You may mail your recipes or drop them off on your next trip to the library. For more information, the folks to contact are Glenna Johnson, Carol Moranty, Carol Dugan, Jean Morse or Candy Gulkewicz.

THE COMPUTER club of Eriksson School had a skating party recently. The staff promised to support the club, and this was an incentive for many students to attend the fund-raiser. Bill Lutz was the surprise guest appearing at 7 p.m. as the reincarnated Erik the Frog. Bill is the school principal.

The proceeds will be used to buy additional micro computer components as well as educational software for the five in-school computers. Plans for additional purchases of printers and Ap-

North to freedom

DeLores Eva Render and Allen T. Sheffield are two young slaves who flee a South Carolina plantation and run north to freedom in Auran Harrie's "Steal Away Home," opening Thursday, March 3, at Wayne State University Theatre in Detroit. Performances are at 8 p.m. Thursday-Sunday, March 3-8, and 10-13. Matinees are at 2 p.m. Saturday, March 5 and 12, at General Lectures Hall, 5045 Anthony Wayne Drive. For ticket information call 577-2960.

"The Producers" (1968), 7:30 p.m. Friday in Room 144 of Madonna College's Science Lecture Hall, phone 591-5000, $1. Running time 98 minutes.

Mel Brooks needs limitations. His best films — "The Producers" and "Twelve Chairs" — are his first films, pictures in which the novice director is restrained by plot and comedy-genre stylings. When Brooks cuts loose, as he does, for instance, in "Blazing Saddles" or the more recent "History of the World, Part One," his films lose focus, reach too far for cheap laughs and generally disappoint. The pairing of Gene Wilder and Zero Mostel in "The Producers" helps further that film's comic value, as well.

Rating: $2.85.

"American Gigolo" (1980), 9 p.m. Monday on Ch. 7. Originally 117 minutes.

Director/screenwriter Paul Schrader's "American Gigolo" is at its best early on, when rock group Blondie pounds out the music that accompanies playboy Richard Gere as he prepares for, and goes about, his Rodeo Drive mating rituals. One loses interest, however, when the plot gets twisted around a murder-rap, court case and miscarriage of justice. Lauren Hutton, Hector Elizondo and a terribly miscast Nina Van Pallandt co-star.

Rating: $2.

"Taxi Driver" (1976), 8 p.m. Tuesday on Ch. 50. Originally 113 minutes.

Paul Schrader also wrote "Taxi Driver," which makes for an interesting comparison. What do Beverly Hills Rodeo Drive and New York's 42nd Street have in common? In Schrader's eyes it's an artificiality — a personality-altering force that drives inhabitants to become pimps, prostitutes and beautiful people, but never themselves. The neon signs of Broadway are as superficial as the haut couture stylings of Beverly Hills. Robert DeNiro, Jodie Foster and Sybill Shepherd star; the film is directed by Martin Scorsese.

Rating: $3.25.

"Footsteps in the Dark" (1941), 1 Tuesday night on Ch. 50. Originally 96 minutes.

Errol Flynn as a gentlemanly amateur sleuth in the casting twist that gets this comedy-mystery off the ground. Flynn has rarely appeared so urbane — boyishly disillusioned and worldly wise yes, but rarely so schooled and mature. Brenda Marshall, Ralph Bellamy and Alan Hale also star in this fast-paced, Lloyd Bacon film.

Young girl charms in musical at Botsford

The lovely voice matches the fine acting skills of Jody Marie in Nancy Gurwin's production of "The Fantasticks."

Dinner-theater performances of "The Fantasticks," presented by Nancy Gurwin Productions, continue Thursdays and Sundays through March at the Botsford Inn Coach House, 28000 Grand River at Eight Mile, Farmington Hills. Dinner is at 7 p.m., show at 8:30 p.m. Price per person is $18.95 for dinner and show. For reservations, call 474-4800.

By Cathie Broidenbach
special writer

Jody Marie is luminous as the girl in "The Fantasticks" at the Botsford Inn dinner theater. She glows with wide-eyed innocence and gives Nancy Gurwin's laudable production the glitter that comes only from discovering a star that promises to rise.

Casting a musical is trickier than casting a play, because so many good singers can't really act and many competent actresses can't sing. Jody Marie can really sing. Her voice is full and winning, and she's delightful as the girl in love with love.

"The Fantasticks" by Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt has been around for years and is billed as America's longest-running play. It enjoys successful revivals because it tells an old story with style and because it has memorable music. The mellow tune "Try to Remember" begins and ends "The Fantasticks."

The play unravels a girl-next-door love story and shows how reality tempers dewey-eyed romanticism. There's compassion in the narrator's tale, some corny laughs mixed with highbrow literary humor and the marvelous music. "The Fantasticks" comments with wit on the problems between parents and their children, and it takes gentle aim at callow romanticism.

DAVE BOKAS is an apt choice for El Gallo, the romantic bandit. He's tall and square-jawed with TV-show-host good looks and a pleasant baritone.

Tom Ferretti carries off well the role of a young man in love. Fran Loud and Dennis Murphy, who play the fathers, sing and dance their way into our affections. If their vaudeville cane duet lacks synchronized precision, they win over the audience with their idiosyncrasies.

Dike Dwelley is masterful as the threadbare, dotty old thespian, and Dennis George, as the man who dies, snares his share of laughs with his gymnastic overacting. Deborah De Ceko Sekerak plays the mute mime with graceful simplicity.

Edgar A. Guest directs the musical with an eye for detail. He uses minimal props, like orange and yellow pom-poms for fire and the traditional confetti snow and pieces of colored paper for leaves, to maximum effect. Less becomes more and a delight to the imagination.

At moments we may wish El Gallo would linger over the poetry in the lines or exaggerate his swashbuckling style, but overall the compact staging and pacing by Guest suits well the intimate after-dinner setting. The small orchestra, only two excellent musicians — David Wilson on piano and Krista Grix on harp — also adds to the intimacy.

THE BOTSFORD Inn serves an attractive buffet dinner before the play. The menu includes a beef and a seafood entree, a fruit and a potato dish, salad, vegetables, rolls and dessert.

On a recent evening, the seafood entree was red snapper that was moist and not overcooked. A vegetable medley was cooked to crisp perfection. It was a tasty, filling meal, though not gourmet dining.

Dave Bokas suits the role of the heartthrob, El Gallo.

Dinner theater guests sit eight to a table, an ideal arrangement for parties and family groups and for bringing together strangers who share a table for the evening.

Detroit Symphony says thank you to city

As a grand finale to the Marathon '83 fundraising campaign, Detroit Symphony Orchestra and Music Advisor Gary Bertini will present a "Thank You, Detroit" concert at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Ford Auditorium.

Prior to the concert, a Music Fair will be held on the Promenade level of the Westin Hotel in the Renaissance Center starting at noon.

The fair, open to all "Thank You Detroit" concert ticket holders, will feature jazz, chamber, Dixieland, brass and other musical entertainment.

Tickets for this concert are $50 for patrons, $10, $8 and $5. The patron tickets include an invitation to a special "Marathon Wine-Down" afterglow to be held at the RenCen Riverfront Ballroom immediately following the concert.

Maestro Bertini and the musicians are donating their services for this performance. The program will include the Overture to Berlioz's opera, "Benvenuto Cellini," Suite No. 1 from Bizet's "Carmen," Symphonic Dances from Bernstein's "West Side Story" and Tchaikovsky's "1812 Overture."

This weekend, Bertini and the orchestra will give three performances of Mahler's Symphony No. 3 in D minor. They will be at 8 p.m. this evening, 10:45 a.m. Friday and 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Guest soloist will be Jocelyne Taillon, French mezzo soprano in her first appearance with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra along with the women of the Kenneth Jewell Chorus and the boys and girls choirs of Christ Church, Grosse Pointe.

Auditorium filled

Once again — Bertini demonstrates musical versatility

By Avigdor Zoromp
special writer

Following weeks of concerts with many empty seats, Ford Auditorium was filled for the most recent Detroit Symphony Orchestra (DSO) performance.

It would be nice to believe this large turnout was primarily due to the return of Maestro Gary Bertini, music advisor of the DSO. If, however, this wasn't the reason, then it should have been.

Bertini, who has proved to be a versatile conductor in the past, again demonstrated his wide range of specialties. The latest program, however, wasn't universally endorsed by die-hard classical purists — and I have my own reserervations about the program as a whole. It isn't that the items lacked in merit individually, but their cumulative effect didn't provide the expected feeling of climactic, profound conclusion.

THE PROGRAM consisted of Mozart's Symphony No. 29, the Concerto No. 2 for Violin and Orchestra in D Major by Prokofiev, the symphonic suite "Printemps" by Debussy and Symphonic Dances from "West Side Story" by Bernstein. Cho-Liang Lin, a young Chinese-born violinist, was the soloist in the Prokofiev composition.

The Mozart symphony was the only work on the program that was traditional in the classical sense. By coincidence, this work was performed in town not long ago — by the visiting Scottish Chamber Ensemble at Orchestra Hall.

But this composition is generally not overplayed, and the proximity of these performances wasn't a drawback. In this performance, Bertini demonstrated again his great attention to detail and his keen perception of the musical style.

The Prokofiev Concerto written between 1913 and 1917, is indeed an impressive composition for the violin. It is less popular than his second violin concerto, but it does possess the stylistic elements that were so unique to Prokofiev.

It requires a great deal of maturity to penetrate it, a task that Lin accomplished admirably. In addition to his technical skill, his lyric phrases were encompassing. The final movement, which is untraditionally slow, left a very profound and somber effect on the audience.

THE SECOND PART of the program was perhaps the more controversial. The Debussy selection, first written in 1887 when the composer was 25, contains many romantic elements, which Debussy discarded in his later style.

But the impressionistic elements are clearly evident in this charming composition, and our own spring-like winter might have enhanced the mood for this work.

While the performance was technically sound there was somewhat of a lack of spontaneity on the part of the orchestra, possibly due to the fact that it isn't a very familiar score.

review

Opinions differ about the suitability of Bernstein's "West Side Story" in a regular classical series. The music is certainly not as profound as some more traditional masterpieces, but one can't deny its entertainment value.

It is frequently pointed out that many classical works were written for entertainment, but this merely tends to prove that audiences at that time might have had a more refined taste. Be that as it may, watching Bertini dancing and prancing on the podium beats watching the movies.

A FEW YEARS back I might have expressed an unqualified objection to the inclusion of this music in a classical concert series. Today I tend to feel more flexible about it, especially due to the fact that it has an appeal to present audiences, a factor that cannot be totally ignored. But it is hoped such pieces will be presented on an occasional basis only, and won't prove to be a permanent trend.

Our audience will have a chance to demonstrate its sophistication by filling the Ford Auditorium for this week's program. The scheduled composition is the Symphony No. 3 by Mahler. Given Bertini's past performances of Mahler's symphonies, this event deserves to be sold out.

Modern composers take note — Mozart was only kidding

By Avigdor Zoromp
special writer

The Renaissance Concert series, which has been providing us with a rich menu of chamber music events, presented yet another rewarding program at Orchestra Hall recently. The program consisted of an assortment of selections, mostly from the Baroque era.

The opening work, Handel's Concerto Grosso Op. 6 No. 4 in A Minor is a reasonably familiar sounding piece, in spite of its cryptic designation.

It is one of 12 such concerti that Handel wrote in a period of about six weeks, a rate of speed from which music critics could greatly benefit. This doesn't diminish from the beauty of the piece, which the players aptly captured and reproduced.

THIS WAS followed by two works for solo and strings — the Concerto for Horn by Forster and the Concerto for Oboe in C Major, RV 452 by Vivaldi. Both of these compositions are little known, but have some well-written themes.

Christoph Forster (1696-1745) was a German Baroque composer, who is almost forgotten today. His music contains many of Bach's stylistic elements, even though, naturally, it doesn't reach Bach's height.

review

His horn concerto is rather demanding for the instrument. Eugene Wade, principal horn player in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, played the solo part. His performance, subdued in nature, was very colorful and expressive. Occasionally the technical difficulties caught up with him, resulting in some flawed notes, especially in the third movement. But this didn't diminish from the general high quality of the performance.

VIVALDI'S Concerto for Oboe is one of several that he wrote for this instrument. Two of these are in C Major, the RV 452, which was played on this occasion, and the RV 446. The former is a short, compact piece.

Donald Baker, principal oboe with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, played this work in such an elegant way that the sound transcended its simple structure.

The most profound selection on this program, and possibly the most profound music ever written, was the Art of the Fugue by Bach. Only the first and last fugues were performed. This last fugue, which features the famous Bach theme, is considered to be Bach's last composition and is unfinished.

While no musical instruments were specified, the work is frequently performed on the organ, which seems to yield the most satisfying results.

I have found most other arrangements rather unsatisfactory, but this turned out to be one of the few exceptions. The structure was presented very clearly and was stylistically authentic.

The tempo was exactly right, and the phrasing correct. One thing that could have improved it was more reinforcement of the lower strings.

UNLIKE SOME other performances, there was no slowing down of the tempo towards the unfinished conclusion. Such an abrupt ending, indeed, is the only way to emphasize the dramatic context of the piece, that is, the notion that Bach kept on composing until his last breath.

Cool, calm— thanks to hypnotism

Second of a two-part series. Ane Mihailovich will never forget it. The Detroit Express soccer player really believes his team was hypnotized by Jerry Cassell into winning the American Soccer League championship last season.

"It was a regular-season game against Georgia (June 27 at the Pontiac Silverdome) — a very important game for us so that we could stay in first place," recalled Mihailovich, a native Yugoslavian who lives in Canton Township.

"I met him (Cassell) at my brother's night club. So, I talked to the coach and the other players, so we invited him (to talk to the team before the Georgia Generals game). He came over with all of his equipment. He had all of us — except for a couple players who didn't believe in it — in a room and sat us down.

"He (talks) well and it was really fun with all of his knowledge. He uses tapes like a waterfall, the ocean waves and sounds of the birds. And, while he played the tapes in the background he talked to us — kind of put you to sleep and make you think very hard. Actually, what he really did was calm your nerves down and make you forget about the game.

"HE MADE YOU think that you are capable of doing it (winning the game) . . . that you are not a loser. I felt it right away. I felt great after he talked, and I felt like I had a lot more energy. His whole talk lasted about 15-20 minutes before the game and most of the players really felt great.

"As a professional I'd always get a little shaky before a big game and I couldn't sleep the night before," said Mihailovich. "But, after he talked to us and before the (Georgia Generals) game started I was calm and cool, and I didn't have the shakiness I had before."

For the record, the Express won that game 4-2. The Express went on to win 13 of their next 17 regular-season games (with two ties) and finished in first place in the ASL with a 19-5-4 record.

Detroit started the playoffs Sept. 7 against that same Georgia Generals team. The Express won the two-of-three match up, including a 1-0 victory in the deciding game as Mihailovich scored the game-winning goal with just eight seconds left in the game.

"I thought about the way (Cassell) was talking to us earlier and it gave me a lot of self-confidence," said Mihailovich. "He relaxed me and it was just super for me."

In the championship series against Oklahoma City, the Express won the ASL title by taking the best-of-three series. They defeated Oklahoma City, 4-1, before a record Silverdome crowd of 33,762.

CASSELL, 41 YEARS OLD, is a hypnotist specializing these days in sports therapy. His basic objective is to allow athletes to reach their maximum potential through intense concentration and relaxation.

Cassell works on the premise that all athletes have an x-amount of fundamental ability. He says athletes do not always reach their potential because they simply have a poor concentration level.

Once he has "programmed" an athlete or a group of athletes, they are able to recall that power of concentration at most any time during their careers. This is what he calls a state of self-hypnosis.

A former Farmington High School state-champion wrestler, Cassell recalled his brief association with the Express last summer.

"Most of the Express players were very enthusiastic about (being hypnotized)," said Cassell. "I went down to the Silverdome into the Lions locker room — that was the only place (the players) had to sit and I worked under very adverse conditions.

"The athletes sat at their lockers while the trainers were walking in and out. The team (Georgia) next door was knocking on the wall because they could hear me speaking and they knew what was going on. They were trying to disturb and distract us.

"The soccer players still responded very, very well," Cassell said. "I hypnotized them to relax — that they became machines and machines never get tired. Their endurance increased. I had them actually visualizing and sensing where their teammates were on the field without actually looking at them."

Cassell has worked with every type of athlete — high school, college and professional.

CASSELL WANTED to hypnotize professional boxer Thomas Hearns before his championship bout with "Sugar" Ray Leonard. He said he would also like to do something this year with the Detroit Tigers — either as a team or on an individual basis.

A Central Michigan University graduate, Cassell became involved with hypnosis in 1971 while working in the adult and community education department of the Brighton School System.

A couple of his more recent projects were working with the Central Michigan University track and cross country teams and the Eastern Michigan University wrestling team.

"He knocked himself out for us and worked with our entire team on concentration and relaxation," said CMU coach Don Sazima. "Jerry taught our athletes how to (concentrate and relax.) He spent the first part of his time (at CMU) by getting them (the athletes) to understand their minds.

"I call it deep concentration . . . (Cassell) calls it self-hypnosis," he said. "What I call deep concentration is getting within yourself and shutting out all stresses and concentrating on the job you have to get done now."

Canton's Todd Bartlett (on top) wrestled his way to a second-place finish at the state district tournament Saturday.

Rocks roll to district title

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Plymouth Salem got points in spots it didn't expect to and Plymouth Canton did better than it ever had before last Saturday in the state district wrestling tournament at Ann Arbor Huron.

Nineteen teams competed and by day's end it was Salem that was perched atop the pack with 130 points. Milford was second at 107, with Milford Lakeland third (92), Walled Lake Western fourth (91), Walled Lake Central fifth (76½) and Canton, Ypsilanti and Belleville tied for sixth (69½).

Team standings, however, had no bearing on who would advance to the regionals. The top four wrestlers in each weight class qualified for the regional tournament Saturday at Trenton.

INCLUDED IN THAT tourney will be qualifiers from the tough Temperance-Bedford district, won by Detroit Catholic Central.

"I would say the team that wins our regional will win the state meet," predicted Salem coach Ron Krueger. Salem, with six qualifiers, and Canton, with five, could both have several competitors at the state meet March 5-6 at East Lansing High School.

"I figured if we had a good day, we'd get four through (to regionals)," said Canton coach Dan Chrenko. "And if we had a really excellent day, we'd get six through. We got five in, so we fell somewhere in between.

"Still, we never had more than three before."

Krueger gave non-qualifiers credit for his team's district title.

"A lot of kids won matches early and that helped us win," said Krueger, singling out Bob Hurst (132-pound weight class) and Paul Michelini (126), who combined to contribute 10 points.

IT ALSO DIDN'T hurt that the Rocks' John Beaudoin kept his match record perfect at 42-0 by winning the 138 division. The senior co-captain and defending state titlist at 132 pinned North Farmington's Eric Collier in 3:56 of the championship match to claim the title.

Champ's trail

Treacherous trek to title; Salem, Canton take a shot

By C.J. Risak staff writer

It's tournament test time. And only the best will survive.

The Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) first-ever basketball tourney starts tomorrow at four Lakes Division schools with equal doses of excitement, anticipation and reservation.

Plymouth Salem is a heavy favorite to make it to the WLAA finals because the Rocks won a coin flip with Livonia Stevenson Monday for the top seed in the Lakes Division. That assures Salem, 12-1 in league play, of the homecourt advantage throughout the tournament and a much easier draw.

Stevenson also went 12-1 in the WLAA but, because of the coin flip defeat, it is doubtful the Spartans will host a game after the first round.

Salem opens with Farmington Harrison (3-10), with the winner advancing to face Northville (8-5) or Farmington (5-8). Stevenson, meanwhile, hosts Plymouth Canton (7-6) in the opening round. The winner plays either Churchill (9-4) or Walled Lake Central (5-8).

"THE TWO FAVORITES in the tournament are Salem and Stevenson," said Dave Van Wagoner, Plymouth Canton's coach.

"Player for player, Stevenson is probably the best team in the league," the Chief coach said about Canton's first-round opponent.

Fred Thomann Salem No. 1 seed

The game will be another rematch of relatives. Stevenson mentor George Van Wagoner is the Canton coach's uncle.

"I like to see him win," George Van Wagoner said, adding quickly, "but not against us."

Churchill, which travels to Central, has not been playing well in recent weeks and that concerns coach Don Albertson.

"It's been hard to get my guys up during the last two weeks because we had already clinched our division (title)," Albertson said. "A lot of basketball is mental and I let them relax too much."

There will be no time for relaxing now. As Salem coach Fred Thomann described it, "You have to play your game, say 'Thank you,' and move on."

Here's a preview of three of the four WLAA tournament games and which teams can be expected to move onward.

Salem speeds by Stevenson; Chiefs cruise

Plymouth Salem extended its unbeaten Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) mark to six straight by disposing of Livonia Stevenson Thursday, 74-53, at Stevenson.

The victory insured the Rocks of the favorites' role when they host the WLAA conference championship meet Wednesday and Friday, March 2 and 4.

Erik Kleinsmith claimed two of six individual firsts for Salem by winning both the 200-yard (1:53.9) and 500-yard (5:09.3) freestyle events.

Kurt Hein triumphed twice for Stevenson, capturing the 50 free (23.5) and 100 butterfly (56.4).

Other winners for Salem were Tim Harwood in the 200 individual medley (2:10.1), Todd Riedel in the diving (204.2 points), Scott Anderson in the 100 free (51.8) and Ashley Long in the 100 breaststroke (1:05.9). Anderson, Kleinsmith, Mark Roehrig and Mike Harwood combined to win the 400 free relay (3:34.1).

FOR STEVENSON, joining Hein in the winners' circle were Kevin Everhart in the 100 backstroke (58.8) and Everhart, Hein, Mark Jubberville and Greg Deska in the 200 medley relay (1:46.1).

In addition to seven firsts, the Rocks also managed seven seconds, allowing them to claim a one-two sweep in four events. Seconds went to Anderson in the 200 free (1:56.0), Roehrig in the 200 IM (2:10.9) and 100 fly (59.3), Bob Bowling in the 50 free (24.0), Greg Wolff in the 500 free (5:23.3) and Tim Harwood in the 100 back (59.5).

Mike and Tim Harwood, Long and Bowling narrowly missed a first in the 200 medley relay (1:46.2).

Salem is now 10-2 overall. Thursday, the Rocks host Farmington Harrison at 7 p.m. in their final WLAA dual meet.

CANTON 74 NORTHVILLE 54

Plymouth Canton set up a showdown swim meet with Livonia Churchill today by beating Northville last Thursday at Northville.

At stake tonight at Churchill's pool will be the league's Western Division crown. The meet will begin at 7 p.m.

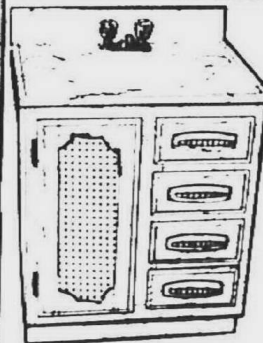

"I was counting on the meet being a lot closer than it was," said Canton coach Hooker Wellman after the Chiefs clobbered Northville. "We were

Carnes leads Dynamos to win

Neil Carnes had a week to remember. The Plymouth skater was voted Most Valuable Player in the Quebec International Pee Wee (12-year-olds) hockey tournament.

Carnes, Jimmy Cummins and Canton's Joe Murray figured in the scoring and goalie John Mauri turned back 17 shots as the Michigan Dynamos defeated North Shore of suburban Montreal, 3-1, for the International Cup title before 15,000 fans at the Quebec Coliseum.

The International Cup, one of five divisions in the Pee Wee event, drew eight of the top teams from North America.

The Michigan Dynamos, based out of the U-M Dearborn rink, won four times in tournament play and three exhibition games.

In the tournament opener, the Dynamos defeated North Shore, 4-1.

Carnes and Murray each had a hat trick and Mauri posted the shutout as the Dynamos defeated the Boston (Mass.) Braves, 6-0, in a quarterfinal match.

In the semifinals, Michigan ousted Beauport (Que.), 3-1, while North Shore eliminated the Toronto (Ont.) Marlies, 2-0.

The Dynamos will now focus on the state playoffs, meeting Compuware of Bloomfield Hills in a best two-of-three series. The opening game begins at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Melvindale Ice Arena.

Schoolcraft's Briggs voted league MVP

Carlos Briggs, Schoolcraft College's hot-shooting guard, was honored as the Michigan Community College Athletic Association (MCCA) Eastern Conference's Most Valuable Player by a vote of the league's coaches.

Briggs topped the conference in scoring with a 31.1 average. His selection as MVP coincided with the coaches' selection of the All-Conference team.

Joining Briggs as first-team members were Jerry Burk, a Redford Union graduate now playing at Henry Ford CC, James Ross of Highland Park CC, Scott Steady of Delta CC and Will Wheat of Flint Mott CC.

Schoolcraft's George Merriweather was selected to the All-Conference second team and Bill Keyes, a Livonia Stevenson grad, earned a spot on the third team.

In addition, Ocelot coach Quinton "Rocky" Watkins shared Eastern Conference Coach of the Year honors with Flint Mott coach Robert Sipple.

All three Schoolcraft players will be eligible to compete and Watkins will serve as coach in the MCCA East-West All-Star game Saturday at Delta before the state championship game. Should Schoolcraft advance to the state finals, their places on the rosters will be filled by others.

SATURDAY, SCHOOLCRAFT was victimized by a team it had beaten by 39 points earlier in the season, losing at Flint Jordan College, 95-91.

Poor shooting cost the Ocelots. Briggs led Schoolcraft with 31 points and 11 rebounds. Keyes added 21 points and 10 rebounds, Tom Niergarth had 10 points and Merriweather netted 13 points, dished out 11 assists and made six steals.

Schoolcraft connected on just 42 percent of its field goal attempts as its record dipped to 22-7 overall.

lined by Western's Bob Rich in the semis, 5-3. Tim Collins (126) took a fourth, losing to Dave Millitello of Western, 6-4, in the semis. Janiga (138) was the Chiefs' other qualifier.

CHRENKO ESTIMATED that, after examining the regional brackets, Heaton and Bartlett had the best chance of advancing to the state meet among the Chiefs (top four in the regionals qualify).

"That's our main goal now — to go to the state meet," Chrenko said, adding that the Chiefs have never had more than one state qualifier in a given year.

For Salem, Krueger figured that anywhere from one to all six of his wrestlers could advance. "We'd need some breaks," he admitted, but added the brackets for his wrestlers looked favorable.

Salem, Canton enjoy mat successes

Beaudoin also pinned Lakeland's Leno Gerometta in 3:24 and South Lyon's Rich Lancaster in 5:36. He defeated Canton's Larry Janiga in the semifinals, 13-1. Janiga eventually lost to Byron David of Milford in the third-place match, 5-3.

John Woochuk also emerged with a district championship, capturing the 155 division for Salem with a pin of Doug Dechson of Farmington Harrison in 5:20.

Woochuk, 27-3-1 for the season, surged through his weight class with little difficulty. He pinned Belleville's Darrell Elder in 3:25 and Ann Arbor Pioneer's Mark Wood in 2:42, and beat Bryan Barnett of South Lyon, 11-2, in the semis.

Kevin Van Otten (heavyweight) finished third by belting Bob Petties of Ann Arbor Pioneer, 10-2. In the semis, Van Otten, now 26-8, was pinned by Milford's Chris Sobbe in 3:20.

TWO CANTON wrestlers advanced to the finals before bowing. Todd Bartlett (112) pinned Northville's Dennis Nacheau in 3:37 and walloped Farmington's Darrel Thornish, 14-0, to reach the semis.

Bartlett then disposed of Rolf Henriksson of Western, 6-2, before being edged by John Andrews of Central, 3-2, in the finals.

Marty Heaton (145) had equal success in three straight matches, running up a 21-0 triumph over Huron's Tris Horten and pinning Mike Leavitt of Northville in 1:28.

In the semis, Heaton bested Belleville's Jim Campbell, 6-3, but in the finals Lakeland's Justin Spewock nailed Heaton in 3:31.

Tom Frigge (132) of Canton took third by whipping Lakeland's Mark Tyler, 12-6. Frigge was side-

Salem, Canton aim at title

John Merner's basket, 43-42.

"That game got us together," said Albertson. "After that, we began to believe that we could come back and win."

Albertson doesn't expect a much easier time tomorrow.

"It's a real difficult place to win," he said. "It's hard to communicate there because of the noise."

Central is a fiery team with a top-notch guard in Dean Terpstra. Clark Bock provides inside strength.

For Churchill, the offensive game plan will remain basically the same: get the ball inside to 6-8 center John Merner, which will open up the outside lanes for shooters Craig Hunter, John Gryzbek and Pat Riley.

Defensive pressure enabled the Chargers to storm back last time against Central, and Albertson may try and use it again.

"It bothered them before," he said.

Friday, 7:45 p.m.

"Well, we've got to play them sooner or later," said Canton's Dave Van Wagoner. "If we want to win our league championship, we're going to have to beat them sometime."

"Them" refers to Stevenson. The Spartans beat Canton soundly, 62-41, at Canton Jan. 14 behind 6-7 forward Tom Domako's 24 points. It's that size that most concerns Dave Van Wagoner.

"I think he's the best player in the league," Dave Van Wagoner said of Domako. "Without a doubt."

"We have to control the tempo and stop Domako. We're capable of beating any team in our league. We're confident."

Canton has won seven of its last nine, proving it may be able to beat just about any WLLAA squad. But Stevenson is not just any team.

The Spartans have lost just twice all season. Domako and 6-5 sophomore center Bob Sluka give Stevenson the advantage on the boards. Canton counters with 6-3 Pat Murphy, 6-2 Ron Rienas and 6-0 Jim Schlicker on the front line.

"We're just going to try and play our game," said Stevenson's George Van Wagoner. "Certainly we should try and go inside.

"Canton works very, very hard. I don't think you can point to any one man (to stop offensively). They can all give them a spurt."

"The way we match up, if we play our game, we should do all right."

Two players injured and lost to Canton — guards Mark Bennett and Gary Thomas — should see action against Stevenson.

The Chiefs will need them, if they entertain hopes of a continued hot streak.

HARRISON at SALEM
Friday, 7:45 p.m.

If Harrison happened to beat Salem, almost anyone who knew anything about basketball would call it an upset. But not Fred Thomann.

"Harrison has got the potential for the upset," said Thomann. "But I'm of the mind that, when you get into tournament play, there are no upsets. If you win, you deserve it."

If Harrison wins, it certainly will deserve it. The two teams met in Salem's season opener Dec. 10 at Harrison and the Rocks waltzed to a 65-41 victory.

surprised. The kids swam really well and recorded some of their best times."

Wellman's premeet calculations had Northville winning the 200 IM and 50 and 100 freestyles. Instead, Canton captured all three as well as six other freests.

GLENN PLAGENS was responsible for most of the surprising, posting his best times in winning the 50 (24.3) and 100 (53.5) freestyles. John Simone and Joe McBratnie also won two events each for Canton.

Simone took the 200 (1:51.6) and 500 (5:09.7) freestyles, while McBratnie won the 100 breast (1:04.7) and unexpectedly triumphed in the 200 IM (2:13.9). Both were personal bests for McBratnie.

BOB LEWELLING'S victory in the 100 backstroke also marked another best effort (1:02.6). Canton won both relays, with Lewelling, Jim Luce, Matt Krawzak and Plagens taking the 200 medley (1:50.1) and Jim Casler, Krawzak, John Ahrens and Simone winning the 400 free (3:39.1).

Hypnotism: A path to confidence

Sazima said the self-hypnosis project has worked on his track and cross country teams. Mihailovich says it has worked with the Express. Jerry Isley echoed similar statements about Eastern's wrestling team.

Cassell said he will be sending out brochures to the area's high school coaches for possible "programming." Self-hypnosis could become a revolutionary tool in sports conditioning.

"Ever since he did (hypnotized) me, I haven't been nervous or up-tight," said Mihailovich. "I let other people worry about how they're going to stop me. I don't waste my energy on them anymore. I can sleep eight hours straight now before a big game."

"It helps me in my personal life and my family life too," he said. "I was really a nervous-type person. Now I'm just as cool and calm as it comes — I couldn't believe it myself."

Area pool league gets under way

The Busch Pool League, the first-ever attempt to organize the sport of pool on a nationwide basis, is now forming in western Wayne County. The league begins on Wednesday, Feb. 23, and continues for 10 weeks.

Sponsored by Busch beer and Central Distributors of Beer, local competition is played at several area bars and taverns. At the end of the season, the top team emerging from playoff competition will advance to the regional championship in Grand Rapids May 7 and 8.

Potential players are registered and participate in Busch Pool League division nationwide, with matches held in local pool halls and taverns on coin-operated tables. Six-, eight-, 10-, and 12-team divisions are established, with five-man team champions from each division advancing to city and regional competition. Top-finishing teams from regional tournaments will move on to the Busch Pool League National Championships.

Vacation in Israel?

'Hot-spot' image belies safe reality

RAFI BAERI of the Israel Government Tourist Office was in town this week, promoting the idea of travel to Israel. Israel is a hard product to sell to tourists these days because Americans see Israeli tanks rolling across their television screens nightly. Most people don't associate tanks with vacations.

I have often said that local politics don't affect the tourist much. I have found this to be true in Northern Ireland, Poland, Haiti and Israel. But the image of a country affects tourism a lot. Travelers say "why should I go to a place that has political trouble when there are so many other places that don't?" That's a pretty hard question to answer.

1982 was shaping up to be one of Israel's best tourist years when the tanks started rolling in Lebanon. For the last four months of the year, tourism plummeted, so the number of tourists for 1982 turned out to be the same number as in 1981. On a world scale that is still considered success, since most of the tourist areas of the world have suffered during the last two or three years.

Our images of Israel are often based on our own ignorance of the world, which gives rise to myths. There is the Myth of Geography and Culture that makes us see the entire Middle East as one culture instead of a myriad of cultures.

The Israeli government surveyed millions of Americans in 1981, for example, and learned that most of us believe that Israel borders countries like Iran or the desert kingdom of Saudi Arabia, and that we get our images by associating Israel with our perceptions about these countries.

What are those perceptions? Desert sands, oil fields, inclean marketplaces, unwashed nomads riding camels, primitive surroundings, foreign languages and customs. The Iran hostage situation was in the news in 1981, so the survey unearthed another set of perceptions associated with the Mideast: ferocious crowds yelling anti-American sentiments, governments that took hostages and threw people in jail without trials.

THERE ISN'T room here to discuss what is missing in that Mideast picture: centuries-old culture, glorious art traditions, a highly cultured and educated upper class, an unbeatable sense of hospitality. Nor is this the place to discuss the pros and cons of Israeli politics.

My point here is that, culturally, Israel is not so much a Mideast country as it is a Mediterranean country in a Mideast setting. The Jewish population that settled Israel is half Ashkenazic (from central and eastern Europe) and half Sephardic (from the eastern Mediterranean and the Mideast), but the major cultural influence is European.

Hebrew is the official language, but you will find English spoken all over the country. You will also find contemporary life in contemporary architectural settings, which brings us to another image: Israel as Holy Land.

It is true that you will find Jewish, Arabic and Christian religious and historical sites around every bend of road in this tiny country, but you'll also find discos, fine dining rooms, high-rise hotels, glass office buildings and other reminders of 20th century Western society.

Israelis go south in the winter, just like we do, only their destination is the Red Sea resort of Eilat, 1982 was shaping up to be one of Israel's best tourist years when the tanks started rolling in Lebanon. For the last four months of the year, tourism plummeted, so the number of tourists for 1982 turned out to be the same number as in 1981.

where they are guaranteed hot, dry, relaxing weather and a clean sea for swimming and deep-sea diving.

The Mediterranean resorts are around Tel Aviv and Haifa: Nahariya, Acri, Caesarea, Natanya, Herzalia and Ashkelon. What do they do there? Eat, drink, dance, sleep, swim, stretch out in the sun, the same things people do in any warm weather resort.

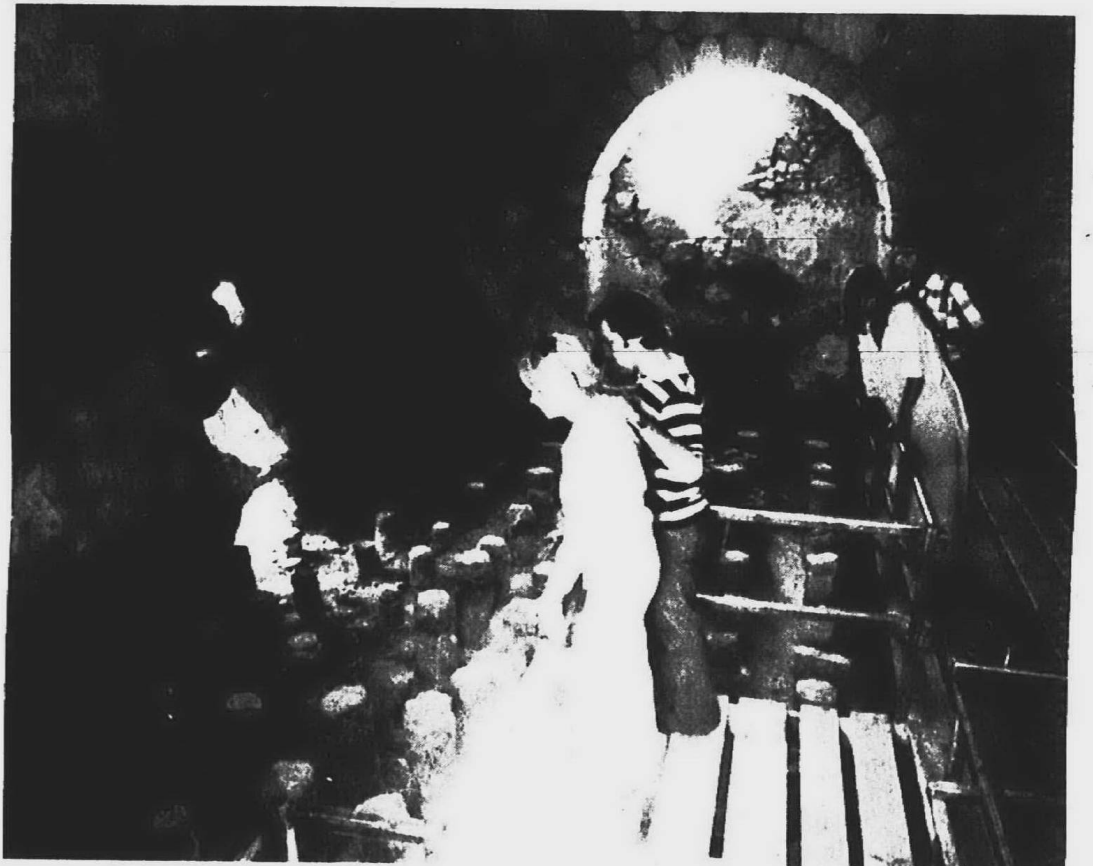

The difference is that in Israel a day trip will take you to any part of the country, except perhaps Eilat. From Herzalia it is 40 minutes to Jerusalem, 1 1/2 to Galilee, a hour to Bethlehem. The resort accommodations are first-class but not as deluxe as you would find on Paradise Island, Nassau, or on Miami Beach, Fla.

In winter, Israelis often visit the Kibbutz Inns, moderately priced hotels on the kibbutzim scattered throughout the country but concentrated in the north. What I like about Israel is that you don't have to choose between play and touring. In Galilee, for example, you can visit a kibbutz, the Mount of Beatitudes, a contemporary spa and take a boat out of Tiberias all in one day.

Images. The most important image concerns safety. Rafi Baeri said that many people don't realize that hostilities in Lebanon are not taking place anywhere near Israeli tourist sites, and that it is perfectly safe to travel in Israel. "We've had 10 million visitors in the last 10 years, and only six tourists who were hurt in any way by our political turmoil, none of them fatally." As I said before, politics doesn't usually affect the tourist, but the image it creates on our television screen hurts tourism a lot.

The Basilica of the Nativity in Bethlehem is one of the many holy sites tourists flock to see in Israel. Built in the 4th century by Queen Helena, the mother of the Emperor Constantine, the basilica is erected over the traditional site of the birth of Jesus.

This excavated bathhouse is located in the ruins of the ancient fortress Masada, site of a last stand by Jewish defenders against Roman forces in 73 A.D. To the left in the bathhouse are the stilt on which a tile floor rested. Burning coals were placed around the stilt to heat the floor.

U.P. wrapped in its normal snowy blanket

Bob Helvig, executive manager of the Upper Peninsula Travel and Recreational Association (UPTRA), is eager for you to know that the U.P. now has its normal winter ration of snow, in spite of the almost-green grass around Detroit.

"Things looked good here in November and then they got warm," Bob said. "Christmas week was a disaster for people who love snow. Since then, our snow-load has been normal, but it's hard to get down-staters to believe that when it is so bare of snow in the south."

When you are selling lodging, you can't stockpile it as you can when you're selling cars. The U.P. has a worse recession than we do and would be very happy to see more of you north of the Mackinac Bridge. UPTRA has a ski report updated every week, so call the state's toll-free line for information: 1-800-292-5404.

REPUBLIC AIRLINES is also making news in the Upper Peninsula. They are in the final stages of pulling their air services out of the U.P. Some northerners charge that they are flying at odd and inconvenient hours already, which will allow them to prove to the government that nobody wants to take those flights. You can fly to California in four hours, but it takes six hours to go from Iron Mountain to Lansing. Simmons Airlines may fill in the gap eventually. Another airline, Green Mountain Airline out of Green Bay, Wis., is exploring routes into the U.P., but they don't have any planes there yet.
