Blue ribbon group named to study public safety

A Blue Ribbon Committee was appointed Monday night to study whether a public safety department makes sense for the city of Plymouth. The committee has been asked to report back within six months with a recommendation.

A public safety department is one in which officers are trained to function as combined police officers and firefighters.

Public safety departments are now in operation in the city of Farmington and Oak Park, among other municipalities, and once was in use in the city of Plymouth under Ken Fisher.

The study group consists of six residents, the fire chief, police chief and union representatives for the police and firefighters.

Those appointed include: Carl Berry, police chief; Roy Hall, fire chief; Mike

Gardner, police union representative; Bob Degan, firefighters union representative and residents David Fisher, Don Supanic, Mike Pollard, Dorothy Frid and Jim O'Day.

Fisher is a ceramics engineer and supervisor for Ford Motor Co., Morse is manager of a savings and loan branch in Novi, Supanic works in the budget analysis department of Ford Motor Co. and O'Day is an assistant director of an automotive safety center at the University of Michigan.

POLLARD is an attorney with offices in Plymouth, and Frid is a resident who owns rental properties in town and who has been attending most City Commission meetings for the past couple of years.

Mayor Bud Martin said the committee's task is to explore the concept of public safety and make a recommendation to the commission on whether the idea is economical and efficient.

Martin explained that the topic is very often discussed at conferences of municipal officials as a way to trim budgets during hard economic times. The topic came up so often, added the mayor, that he asked City Manager Henry Graper to help come up with a way the idea could be studied.

Because the idea traditionally is opposed by municipal unions, especially firefighters, the mayor said it was important to involve both unions in the discussions from the very beginning.

The first meeting will be Monday, March 28, in city hall. All meetings will be open to the public.

Graper added that the city will provide a secretary to the committee, take minutes and provide any data or advice from experts which might be needed.

Township tables cable option bid

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Action on Omnicom's request to raise cable rates for remote control converters was postponed Tuesday night by the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees.

The board postponed action because Omnicom failed to provide the board with rate comparison information before the meeting.

Subscribers to Omnicom's optional satellite service receive a remote control converter free. Omnicom wants to establish a rate for basic service subscribers who want the remote control but don't want the satellite service.

Traditionally, cable rate increases are submitted to the board for approval. However, company officials claim rate increases for the remote control devices don't require board approval.

"I'M INCLINED TO agree with your company's interpretation (of the township cable ordinance)," said Trustee Lee Fidge.

Fidge compared the remote-control increase to a recent price increase in sections of the township Omnicom wasn't required to offer service. In those areas, Omnicom offered basic service for $8.95 instead of $7.95, without a change in the cable ordinance.

Trustee Barbara Lynch, also chairwoman of the township cable task force, said the rate increase would require a change in the cable ordinance.

"I'm not certain we're asking for a change in the franchise ordinance," said Peter Newell, an Omnicom official.

Omnicom is only required to prove that the rate increase is "reasonable," Newell said.

"IF THAT IS the case, then you obviously have the prerogative to change the rates if you wish," Lynch said.

Omnicom provided the board Tuesday night with one copy of price information that indicates the proposed rate increase for remote control converters is "reasonable."

However, the information Omnicom provided wasn't what the board had asked for earlier, Lynch said.

Supervisor Maurice Breen had asked Omnicom to compare prices for remote control converters in communities served by other cable companies.

"It would be very hard to get that information," Seeley said.

And, even if Omnicom could provide the comparisons, the information would be a comparison of "apples to oranges," she said.

Cable television rates are based on the capital costs of a cable system, Newell said.

"IT'S NOT JUST a matter of what entertainment channels you get," he said. Because of that, rate comparisons wouldn't be fair.

"That's still what Mr. Breen (who wasn't at Tuesday night's meeting) asked for, isn't it?" Lynch said.

"We're not suppose to make a decision tonight. This is just suppose to be informational," she said.

The board couldn't approve the rate increase according to Omnicom's timetable anyway, Lynch said. "There wasn't enough time to get an ordinance amendment."

Trustee Smith Horton agreed that action couldn't be taken Tuesday night.

"SINCE I ONLY got the information tonight, I can't make a decision tonight," Horton said.

Monday night, the Plymouth City Commission approved a charge of $3.50 a month for the remote control device, but added an amendment that a customer who rents the device and later decides to add the satellite service will be charged only $1 more, not $4.50 more. Presently, users pay $4.50 a month for the satellite tier and converter.

City Manager Henry Graper said any time Omnicom raises a charge to customers, it must receive approval of the city. Graper based his statement on the franchise agreement between the cable company and the city. No one from Omnicom was present at Monday night's commission meeting.

In Michigan it is legal to turn left onto a one-way street from a two-way street when the traffic signal is red if the driver has made a complete stop, checked for on-coming traffic, and yielded to all pedestrians.

Within the next few weeks the city of Plymouth will be erecting signs at the intersection of S. Main and Penningman Avenue informing motorists that both left and right hand turns on a red light will be allowed after a complete stop is made.

Police Chief Carl Berry stresses, however, that those drivers turning on red must yield to pedestrian traffic crossing at the intersection.

AT THE PRESENT time Penningman Avenue is a one-way street proceeding eastbound and westbound from S. Main. By state law both left and right turns on a red light at this intersection are legal after a complete stop and yielding to pedestrians.

Berry said it is hoped that these measures will help to alleviate the congestion of traffic which now exists at that corner.

Fred and Ruth Hebel of Plymouth Township have been having problems in recent years with dogs attacking their lambs. Hebel, a school teacher, wraps up the remains of the latest victim while his wife (in the background) talks of recent problems. The remaining sheep in the flock is shown at right.

Lambs are targets

Sheep growers plagued by dogs

By Gary M. Cates

Ruth and Fred Hebel won't need shepherds to watch their flocks by night if Plymouth police can put an end to their "lamb-rustling" problem.

Plymouth officers were authorized Monday to shoot any dog found preying on the Hebels' sheep. This authorization includes their neighbor's two pit bulls, said police chief Carl Berry.

Since 1979, the Hebels, who live on a 200-acre farm at 49000 N. Territorial, have lost 26 lambs, worth about $2,350. The lambs apparently have been killed by dogs.

"This type of thing falls into the same category as cattle rustling," Berry said.

The latest attack took place Friday. A newborn lamb was killed and partially eaten by a dog.

The Hebels said the black dog which killed the lamb belongs to their next-door neighbor, Jean Cole.

Cole denied her dog was responsible for the killings.

"How did he know my dog did it?" she asked. "He's a very gentle dog. He wanders over there every once in a while, but our dog has not been eating his sheep."

Many dogs roam the neighborhood, Cole said. She said another dog may have killed the lambs and her dog simply picked up the remains.

"It's their word against mine," she said.

Mrs. Hebel claimed she saw one of Cole's dogs eat the head off their newborn lamb Friday.

"The big black dog was just sort of plodding along with something in his mouth. I was hoping it wasn't a lamb. I caught up with the dog, which by then was on the corner of our neighbor's property, and saw that it was a lamb," she said.

"It was a just-born lamb — the lamb was still wet, the cord was still wet. It's just too much to go through to have them ripped up."

Hebel, a Livonia school teacher, has owned the farm for 10 years and raises the sheep for food and for pets.

He also has chickens and some cattle.

He said the dog responsible for the killings does it "for sport" rather than hunger. He said he has sutured some of the lambs, only to have them die shortly after being attacked.

In 1979, the Hebels' said they lost one calf and nine lambs, worth $756. Because they believed their animals were killed by stray dogs, they asked the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to reimburse them for the loss.

County lawyers ruled the county was responsible for the loss under a section of Michigan's 1973 dog law. But the Hebels said they never received any money.

To keep dogs out, Hebel said he put up a fence along one side of his property. "There's a path right around the fence where the dogs walk," he said.

"We were hoping from the beginning it wasn't our neighbor's dogs," Mrs. Hebel said. "We have school and church youth groups out here and I'm getting scared to have them out."

After Friday's attack, the Hebels called the Plymouth police.

"The police told me they couldn't shoot the dog, but we could shoot it," she said. "But I can't shoot a dog."

Cole received a citation Monday because her dogs are not licensed, said Steve Rapson, township ordinance officer.

Under the township dog ordinance, all dogs must be on a leash or kept in a confined area, he said.

"If the Hebels can prove (which) dog killed the lambs, they can collect damages from the owner," he said.

The Hebels said they have unsuccessfully asked Cole to repay them for the lost livestock. Cole said she is unsure if she will pay the couple for the lamb killed Friday.

"We're probably going to have to take them to court," Hebel said. "We've lived with it for four years."

"I've hesitated and resisted because we didn't want to cause problems with the neighbors. I told her I'd shoot the dogs when they're on the property. She said you can't — I'll sue."

Plymouth digging out of spring

It was too good to be true — the price was finally paid for a winter without a major snowstorm.

The first day of spring brought seven inches of snow to the Plymouth-Canton area, putting a damper on daily routines Monday.

Road crews from the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) and the Plymouth Department of Public Works (DPW) started work in the early hours Monday morning. Most major surface streets were cleared by noon.

The WCRC used some 700 tons of salt, about $14,000 worth, to clear roads west of Telegraph and north of I-94, according to Earl Ollila, WCRC road maintenance engineer.

The Plymouth DPW used 20 tons of salt, about $400 worth, and 83 man-hours to clear Plymouth's streets and parking areas, according to Ken Vogras, DPW supervisor.

"This was nothing, just little flurries as far as I'm concerned," Vogras said.

Plymouth's residential streets were cleared of snow by 3 p.m. Monday, he said.

The WCRC planned to finish the primary road system early Tuesday morning, but a fresh 1/4 inch of snow postponed that completion.

"We were out salting like it was a new storm. We still haven't gotten in to plow and grade local roads yet," Ollila said.

"We go through this every storm.

Winter maintenance is an awful expense," he said.

THE SNOW and slippery roads caused at least eight traffic accidents on Plymouth roads, according to Robert Henry, Plymouth traffic officer.

Plymouth Township fire fighters responded Monday afternoon to one accident on eastbound M-14, north of Sheldon.

The firefighters transported a woman involved in the accident to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia for possible chest injuries, according to Fire Chief Larry Groth.

In another accident, Plymouth firefighters administered aid to a man who got his finger caught in a snow blower, according to Capt. Al Matthews.

The Canton Police Department reported its roads remained free of snow-related accidents Monday. Likewise, the Canton Fire Department didn't receive any snow-related calls.

Plymouth-Canton public school students got an unexpected day off thanks to the snow.

Superintendent Dr. John Hoben decided to close school due to the weather forecast.

"They were calling for another three to five inches of snow along with blowing and drifting," Hoben said.

"We probably could have gotten the kids in, but if what was predicted to happen later in the day came true, we couldn't have got the kids back home without risking their safety," he said.

Ex-resident heads drug rehab center

John W. Ribar, a native of Plymouth, has been named executive director of the Washington House, an alcohol and drug detoxification and rehabilitation center in Fort Wayne.

The center serves nine counties in northeastern Indiana. Ribar replaces Theodore Klees, who resigned to serve as pastor of a Lutheran church in Marco Island, Fla.

Ribar, who earned a Ph.D. from the University of Michigan, has been in the Fort Wayne area for more than 20 years.

Ribar came to Fort Wayne in 1962 as a member of the faculty of Concordia Senior College, where he was associate professor of Hebrew until 1976.

From 1965 to 1968 he had served as pastor of St. Thomas Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor and spent a year in Jerusalem as an Albright Fellow at the American Schools of Oriental Research.

For the past three years he has been a chaplain with the Lutheran Association for Institutional Ministries in Fort Wayne and before that served as pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church of Fort Wayne, 1976-80.

Ribar has broad experience in the social service fields, including: work with Fellowship of Lutheran Divorced, Parnell Park Nursing Home, Lutheran Hospital, Allen County Jail, Parkview Hospital Alcoholism Unit, Lawton Nursing Home, V.A. Medical Center Alcoholism Stabilization Unit, Fort Wayne Urban Work Release, Salvation Army Adult Rehabilitation Center, Allen County Alcohol Countermeasures Program, Mental Health Center Problem Drinkers Clinic, and the Washington House Detoxification Center, of which he was serving as chaplain before being named executive director.

He earned a bachelor's degree from Northwestern College in Watertown, Wis., is a graduate of the Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary in Mequon, Wis., earned a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin in Hebrew studies, and a master of divinity from Concordia Seminary, Springfield, Ill. His Ph.D. from the U-M was in Eastern languages and literatures.

His other specialized training includes clinical pastor education, alcoholic counselor in service, and certification in alcohol and drug abuse counseling.

Ribar has written numerous publications including a booklet published last year, "Alcoholism and Sobriety: A Beginner's Guide to Recovery."

Volunteers are the "glue" keeping sports together

By Pat Waurzyniak
staff writer

Coaching from the corner of a basketball court sometimes nets sports volunteers Charlie Brown and Russ Maxwell a Rodney Dangerfield complex from Plymouth Salem High coach Fred Thomann.

That can't keep them and others like Steve Evans, however, from donating their time to help out the prep sports they consider a central part of life.

"I keep telling Thomann, I'll bring my shoes so he can put me in the game," said Brown, a white-haired volunteer at the Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high school contests. "I'm still waiting."

"We do a lot of coaching from the corner here," Brown admitted during a district basketball game at Salem High, "but nobody pays any attention to us."

Describing their near-obsession with high school sports, Maxwell said staying involved in the prep sports scene is a labor of love.

Those two former athletes and parents of student-athletes are just a few of the sports helpers that grease the athletic department's wheels. Without them, the department would experience another budget pang in the human resources department.

GUYS LIKE Evans, Brown, Maxwell and baseball groundskeeper Bill Runge chip in to make the load a bit easier in an economically plagued era for sports.

"Over the 35 years I've been here, when you start naming names, it would be quite a list," said Fred Sandmann, athletic director of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. "Without the help we get from boosters, volunteers, parents and the kids, we would have a hard time operating on our budget."

Sandmann said the district's athletic budget, which experienced a $100,000 slash two years ago during budget-cutting measures, is somewhat smaller than typical programs. The department operates on 4 percent of the total district revenues, getting $134,000 from the school board to operate 40 boys' and girls' varsity teams.

Most schools are closer to running their sports departments on about 9 percent of the total district budget, he said, citing the national average. Plymouth-Canton Community Schools makes up the difference through fund-raising efforts by parents and the nearly 1,000 student-athletes that participate in the sports program.

Central to the volunteers' motives in helping out are the benefits derived from being around the high school students.

"I really enjoy the kids," Evans, a father of four Salem cheerleaders, said. "They're the greatest."

EVANS' 10-year involvement with sports has been mainly with the cheerleading squad of which his daughter Michele, a junior, is a member this year. After her graduation, Evans says he'll probably just help out at home games unless there's a really big game coming up.

"You're only as good as the company you keep — and the company's pretty good around here," Maxwell, a Plymouth High School grad, said of Plymouth- and Canton-area athletes. "We'd like to see more spectators come out."

"I don't understand it," Brown said of some students' apparent non-involvement. "Geez, when I was back in high school, they used to close the town up. Maybe I'm all weather, but I think it's caused by television. Me, I wouldn't go across the street to see a professional game — they don't pay me so why should I pay to see them?"

Tales from the Tonquish

Conflict divides tribe at installation of its chief

There was a hint of snow in the air on that December day in 1819, as though the winds of winter were about to begin again. But the sun shone brightly on Plymouth Mound, warming the crowd of almost 200.

Many in the crowd came from long distances to witness the installation of the successor to the late lamented Chief Tonquish. When the sun signalled high noon on Tonquish Plain, an insistent drum beat began, and the murmuring crowd quickly became silent and watchful.

When the drum sounded, the tribe's old Shaman (medicine man) strode forth to conduct the ritual ceremony. The Shaman was garbed in a magnificent, old-style robe of painted skins with an elaborate, beaded girdle and a heavily ornamented neckpiece. His head was crowned with a beautiful, golden cap decorated with eagle feathers. His wrinkled old face was covered with the mask of the Metal, symbolizing his chieftom in the mystical order of Indian medicine men. Among the Potawatomi and others, including the Ojibwa and the Huron, this order was widely respected. It was known as the Mediwiwin.

crowd saw their Shaman move energetically and without pause to the center of their concentric circles where he faced the altar.

The watchers observed that a small fire of no great consequence was slumbering in the altar's firepot. Without any special prayer, or any recognition of the crowd, or any statement of his purpose or of the purpose for which they were assembled, the Shaman simply faced the altar.

Then slowly and somewhat majestically he raised his right hand toward high heaven as though he would invoke the blessing of their gods upon the fire. He then passed his left hand over the firepot and instantly a large and powerful flame burst forth. The crowd, enchanted by this evidence of the Shaman's "magic," erupted with loud appreciative cheers.

"Huzza! Huzza! Huzza! Wa hoo! Wa hoo!" and so forth. Their enthusiasm seemed boundless. With their approval still ringing in his ears, the old Shaman moved quickly to tap Telonga on the shoulder. He directed Telonga to accompany him in a processional around the altar.

Together Telong, or Tonga as he was commonly called, and the Shaman with his right hand on Tonga's left shoulder, walked slowly about the altar. As they walked a drum beat in the distance sounded very softly while the Shaman kept in a constant whispered contact with Tonga. The tone was confidential, and the soft voice was not audible to even the first row of the circles. While the Shaman was instructing Tonga, the young chief seemed to be respectful and obedient. In fact, his young supporters in the crowd were amazed at the conformity Tonga displayed, and some were worried for fear he had been entrapped by the mysticism of the old guard.

What the Shaman said was probably the usual ritual for the installation of an important chief. This ceremony had been handed down for hundreds of years. The exact knowledge of its content is a closely guarded secret and in many generations — perhaps a thousand years — not once has its basic content ever become public knowledge.

had circled the altar three times, they returned to the fire which had died down somewhat but still was a visible blaze.

Taking Tonga's right hand in his, the Shaman passed it over the fire and once again an enormous flame, larger than the first, burst forth to astound the assemblage. Then, following whispered instructions, Tonga raised his right hand toward the sky to indicate the source of his new power.

This gesture was greeted with a few polite "Huzza's" but, for the most part, a respectful silence fell upon the crowd. They were awaiting the Shaman's good words which would comfort them and give them hope. While they waited, several "peace" pipes were passed around the circles. Braves and squaws alike were taking big drafts from the familiar pipe.

With the handsome, young Chief Tonga standing respectfully by his side, the Shaman's powerful voice filled the amphitheatre with the confident, hopeful tones the crowd had long respected and admired. The Shaman was eloquent and fervent in his praise of the many favors the Great Spirit had granted his children in the past.

He told them to remember that once the Great Spirit had given them a vast land stretching from sun to sun. From the "frozen sea of the North to the warm waters of the South — this land is our land," he asserted.

"Today we will feast on the bounty of this generous land. Although it would seem that in recent years we have fallen from favor with the Great Spirit, I will promise you that our time will come yet again," he continued, "the paleface will disappear, and we will reclaim our heritage. Today the returning favor of the Great Spirit has brought us a brave and bright new chief who will guide us to the promised land."

This ominous statement seemed to startle Tonga, and he pulled away from the Shaman. It was evident that the only "promised land" Tonga wanted was Plymouth Mound. Noting this the Shaman hurriedly finished his speech with, "Here is Telonga. I name him your new chief."

INSTANTLY THE CROWD burst forth into prolonged cheering. They were about to begin a dance in celebration of Tonga's election when the Shaman, red-faced and angry, commanded them to be quiet.

Making his voice heard above the noisy throng, he said: "I bring you yet another blessing. Today I bring you boundless new hunting grounds. In the far, far west beyond the troubled waters of the paleface there is a vast land of plenty. The Great Spirit will not allow the paleface to enter there. We have been promised this land in the West. I believe that promise, and I have come to walk with you there."

Suddenly the Shaman stumbled and Telonga broke his fall and let him rest gently on the old stones of the altar.

Then in his own right, Telonga addressed the crowd with: "My beloved brothers, I would walk with you here. For I say to you, the paleface does not own this land, nor is it our's to give. It is our land and their land. It belongs to the Great Spirit who does not divide, who is always the same, whose bounty knows no limits.

"The sun that shines on us now, shines on all. The birds that sing, the corn that grows, is the same for all. The grass is not greener in the West, nor is the corn richer, nor the deer larger. We have it right here. We must make our peace with the paleface, and we must teach him to respect our treaty rights."

(Tales From Tonquish in a future column will tell the story of the Potawatomi migration to the west, and of the fate of Tonga's tribe (the Tonquish) and of the Polkogens (Topenabee's people) who remained in Michigan.)

Plymouth area sprouting greens for golfers

By W.W. Edger
staff writer

The Plymouth community will become the capital of southeastern Michigan this summer for public course golfers.

"We can't help being recognized as the real hotbed when you consider all the things that are happening to provide play for the public," John Jawor, pro at Hilltop in Plymouth Township, said recently during a lull in the signing of leagues for the summer.

"We not only have added nine holes to make Hilltop an 18-hole layout, but the mission course at St. John Seminary, where I will be a consultant, is adding nine holes to make an 18-hole layout. And that will be a big help."

As he spoke with optimism of the coming season, he listed the courses and number of holes and came up with the surprising total of close to 200 holes in the surrounding area. Among the nearby courses are:

- Hilltop Glenn, 18 holes.
- Fox Hills, Salem, adding nine to make a 27-hole layout.
- Fellows Creek, Canton, 18 holes.
- Brae-Burn, Plymouth, 18 holes.

- Salem Hills, 18 holes.
- Godwin Glen, South Lyon, adding nine to make 27 holes.
- Pebble Creek, South Lyon, nine holes.
- Dun Rovin, Plymouth, 18 holes.
- Idyl Wyle, Livonia, 18 holes.
- Brooklane, Northville, nine holes.
- Whispering Willows, Livonia, 18 holes.

With the economy the way it is Jawor predicted more people will be remaining at home during the vacation months, which may result in one of the busiest summers he's had for a long time.

One of the signs that his optimism is well-founded is that more than 700 golfers are listed at Hilltop for the various leagues which play until dark.

Another thing he pointed out is that the golf cart has made the game more popular, especially for the older players. "Sure, they don't get the exercise of walking the course, but the enjoyment they get boosts their morale, and more and more of the elderly (both men and women) will play during the season."

"Here at Hilltop play will be more enjoyable. We planted 283 trees last year and 210 more this year just for safety and direction. With that our new nine hole area is improving every day with this mild weather, and play should improve too."

Among the things planned at Hilltop will be the long driving contest which will be part of a national tournament with $10,000 going to the winner. Jawor, who is one of four brothers who are golf pros, has been around golf since age 6. He said that serving as consultant at the mission course will not hinder his work at Hilltop — a course owned by Plymouth Township.

"We will need all the courses we can get to take care of the new players because the game has become so popular, and helping at the mission will just give us some of the additions we need."

All ages grace city's ice arena

By W.W. Edger
staff writer

Ice skating continues to be a popular activity amongst the young in Plymouth.

Inside the Plymouth Cultural Center the other day, with mothers watching attentively, was a group of young skaters enjoying the artificial ice.

None of the skaters were more than 5 years old and they were skating with the ease and grace of many of their elders.

The 5-year-olds using the ice the other afternoon are only a small segment of the skaters who frequent the Cultural Center often, including those who prefer figure skating.

Paul Sincock, one of the center's officials, listed the many users of the ice.

First, he said, is the year-round program which includes an extensive summer figure skating school. Then comes the summer hockey league with teams from Garden City and Redford.

This is followed by an extensive hockey league winter schedule arranged by the Plymouth-Canton Junior Hockey Association.

And a Plymouth Figure Skating Club also has been formed.

DURING THE past year another unusual group has been organized — an over-30 hockey league limited to players who are 30 or older.

In addition, the city also rents the ice for special on occasion.

The idea for the Cultural Center came back in 1987 when the city was planning a centennial celebration. At the time the late Jim Houk was sitting in the mayor's chair. At one of the City Commission meetings, Houk arose and suggested that he would like to see a permanent memorial to honor the city's 100th birthday. And he appointed a committee to work on the project.

This started a flood of suggestions. Finally, after several months of suggestions, it was decided to build an indoor ice rink which would also have meeting rooms and would become a cultural center.

The plan was a compromise because an earlier mention of an ice rink had been set aside. But the addition of rooms, the small auditorium and other meeting rooms, made the plan suitable and it was approved.

In 1972 the center was dedicated and among those at the ceremonies was the late Mrs. Jack Adams, wife of the general manager of the Detroit Red Wings.

The arena proved popular from the start and now is the only ice rink in the area which remains open through the entire year, except for a week in spring to change the ice and dry the floor.

City to begin spraying elms

The city of Plymouth Public Works Department will begin its spring spraying of all city elm trees Monday.

Homeowners are asked, if possible, to keep their vehicles off the streets for at least a two-week period.

The DPW will be spraying from 4 a.m. to about 9 a.m. each weekday until finished. The department won't have a set schedule for which days it will be in particular areas as the work must be done on a calm morning, said Kenneth Vogras, director of the DPW.

Morrison a survivor

Famous Men's marks 30th year

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

There is a good reason for the broad smile Bernie Morrison is wearing these days at the Famous Men's Wear on Ann Arbor Trail. This is the 30th anniversary of his coming to Plymouth and the smile gets broader when he says that his move out here was a good guess back in 1953.

"I had been brought up in the men's cloth business," he said, "as my father owned a shop at Fort and Clark Street in Detroit. And I have been in it all my life."

"But it was the move to Plymouth that really was the smartest move I ever have made. Despite the fact that during my 30 years here I have seen more than a dozen business places close shop, I just kept on going."

On his way to Plymouth Morrison made two stops. The first of these was shortly after he finished school and took a position as a clerk in the once popular Sam's Cut Rate in downtown Detroit.

THEN ONE afternoon he took an auto ride out to the country and wound up in Northville. It was a ride that changed his life.

"I never saw so many people in such a small town in my life, and I didn't find out until later that the Northville race track was open and most of the people were headed for the races.

"I was fascinated by the people on the streets and I made another trip to start my own business career right there."

All the time he visited Plymouth and grew to like the city more and more every time he came here.

"I finally made up mind that was the place for me to establish my business on a bigger scale. At the time I opened in a little shop that is now the Rainbow Shop. I wasn't there very long until the Plymouth Men's store across the street went out of business and I took over. It was a great move. I have been successful and happy ever since."

As he spoke of the Plymouth men's store going out of business he listed the firms that have since passed on, the latest being Terry's Bakery.

Asked to name the places he quickly counted them and started with the Plymouth store he bought out. Then he added A&P. Stop and Shop, Petersen's Drug Store, Norman's, Bonnie Discount, Prennan's Children's Toys, Kades, Cecil Sharrard, Graj'm's Ladies Store, D&C, on the corner of Main, and Kresge's that gave way to Plymouth Furniture on Main.

His only rival for longevity is the Beier Jewelry Store that moved from Main in 1955.

In his younger days Morrison was an athlete and played baseball and tennis at Northwestern High School in Detroit and later at Western High School.

He no longer makes an attempt at baseball, but is an ardent tennis player. A member of the Franklin Club in Southfield he plays several times a week.

Students and former adult students of community education have been registering for job placement at the community education office in Room 130 of Plymouth Canton High School, Canton Center Road just south of Joy.

Sharon Streen, job placement specialist, has been screening adult applicants.

"I know that our adult students, who are 18 and older, are highly motivated and can offer any employer excellent qualifications and work habits," said Streen.

"We can save area business people time and money because of our careful screening and referral process. By using our services, businesses also are supporting residents who are seeking to improve their lives with jobs and education."

Anyone with job needs may contact Streen at 459-1180.

Lucas names top financial officer

Wayne County Executive William Lucas has recruited the former controller and chief administrative officer of Ingham County to serve as Wayne County's new chief financial officer.

Lucas, in his first major appointment since taking office in January, named Fred Todd, a 34-year-old native Detroit with financial expertise in both government and business, for the $62,500-a-year post.

"Fred Todd brings to Wayne County an impressive record of fiscal accomplishment, integrity and responsibility," Lucas said Wednesday.

"I conducted an extensive, nationwide search for the right person to fill this position, and I'm convinced he's the individual who will successfully form the new fiscal policy as we move to eliminate Wayne County's ($130 million) debt."

Todd, whose management skills helped Ingham County end the 1982 year with a $6.8 million budget surplus, comes to Wayne County with a host of credentials in both the public and private sector.

He is the former finance director and treasurer of Novi and assistant finance director of Madison Heights.

Todd also has served as corporate staff auditor of Gulf & Western Corp., operations review analyst for Freuhauf Corp. in New York, and control auditor for Citron Oil Co. in Romulus.

A former adjunct instructor at Wayne State University and Madonna College, he also has taught at Oakland Community College and Walsh College.

Todd holds a bachelor of science degree in accounting from the Detroit College of Business and a master's degree in business administration from Indiana Northern University. He is currently completing course work toward a master's degree in public administration at the University of Michigan.

Lucas has moved slowly to appoint his top staff. The only other new face on his staff is former state Sen. David Plawecki, the executive's liaison to the County Commission.

At Birmingham Temple

Residents aid Las Vegas night

When the Birmingham Temple opens its doors Saturday for its annual Las Vegas night there'll be a group of gamblers waiting with skills honed by the real Las Vegas. For the past three years, volunteers have developed a list of businesses who donate everything from televisions and radios to weekend vacations and dinners at restaurants.

Among the committee members working on the event are Sandra McClennen and Marilyn Rowens, both of Plymouth. The committee has been successful enough at getting attractive prizes that word of the bargains has spread throughout the area, causing organizers to become concerned.

"We see a lot of the same faces every year, and some of them are very intent on winning," said Harold Fried, head of the Temple group staging the event.

"When we first started holding these things, they were a lot like friendly penny ante poker games. Now we seem to be drawing real gamblers, people who have been to Las Vegas and know the ropes."

Fried said his main worry is with his croupiers — the volunteers who deal the black jack cards, spin the roulette wheel, and handle the craps table.

Some of the gamblers are so good they overwhelm our staff," he said. "So we give our people training in the basic rules of the game, but when the big money starts to fall, even though it's only chips, the less-experienced dealers kind of panic."

"Sure we're still making money, but we have to work hard to earn it," Fried added. "Not all of the volunteers have experience doing the real thing, and the press of serious gamblers can be a little tough on us."

Las Vegas night will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday at the temple, which is located at 28611 W. 12 Mile in Farmington Hills. Admission is $5 per person.

Cancer is often curable. The fear of cancer is often fatal.

If you're afraid of cancer, you're not alone. But some people are so afraid that they won't go to the doctor when they suspect something's wrong. They're afraid the doctor might find something. This kind of fear can prevent them from discovering cancer in the early stages when it is most often curable. These people run the risk of letting cancer scare them to death.

Criminal victims suffer again in justice system

First of three parts.
By Carol Azizian
staff writer

"Sarah Ann Bailey, an 87-year-old woman, was robbed 10 times in a year. During the last burglary, the assailants set fire to her home.

"Police found her sitting in the middle of her burned-out home, her body folded in a prenatal position. She was rocking herself on the floor.

"I asked her, 'Is there something I can do to help?' She said nothing. I crawled across the floor on my hands and knees. I said, 'Please help me to help you.'

"Sarah Ann Bailey looked at me and said, 'Yes you can help me. You can kill me because I can't live in this world full of pain and suffering any more.' Sarah Ann was a victim of casual burglary."

THE RIGHTS OF crime victims have been largely ignored by legislators, the criminal justice system and people, said Marlene A. Young, executive director of the National Association for Victim Assistance in Washington, D.C.

Even though 35 out of every 1,000 Americans are victims of violent crime, many states fail to provide adequate protection and compensation for victims either through legislation or services, she said.

Young spoke at a recent conference on "Victims and Inmates Rights" at Mercy College, Detroit. The program — which drew 40 attorneys, parents of crime victims and students — was sponsored by the American Jewish Committee in Detroit.

"I believe that victims in this country have no rights yet," said Young, a crime victim who helped found the national organization 10 years ago.

"CRIME VICTIMS SUFFER physical, financial and emotional injuries," she said. Not only are they victimized by their assailants, they're also victimized by the criminal justice system.

"They face injustices such as postponements and court delays. They may not receive information about case status and may never know when a case comes to trial."

Although the crime problem is pervasive, legislators are only just beginning to address the rights of victims, Young said.

Some states have drafted a "Bill of Rights" for crime victims. Others provide some money for victims services.

In addition, Congress last year passed the Omnibus Victim Witness Protection Act, which guarantees fair standards for victims throughout the federal justice system.

But these are small steps on the road to addressing a big problem, Young said.

Crime victims are still denied these basic rights in most states:

- Protection against harassment and intimidation. Fewer than 10 states (Michigan is not one of them) provide this protection through legislation. Even in states such as Wisconsin, which has a "Bill of Rights" for victims, the laws are not always enforced.

- Courts may issue restraining orders, which are intended to prevent the accused from harassing a victim. But in many cases, they are not enforced.

- Compensation and restitution. Compensation is available only in 37 states. In Michigan, the State Victims Crime Compensation Board could be eliminated as a result of Gov. James Blanchard's proposed budget cuts.

That decision is being reconsidered by Phillip Jourdan, director of management and budget, according to Mike Fullwood, the board's claims administrator. Prosecutors and residents across the state sent letters to Blanchard protesting the cuts, he said.

The board, with a 1982-83 budget of $2.2 million, gave money to nearly 900 victims last year. It pays medical expenses not covered by health insurance, Medicaid or Medicare and wages lost on the job for up to two weeks.

Restitution applies to only 3 percent of all crime victims in the country, Young said. Most criminals are not arrested or convicted on the charges. In California, a new compensation method has brought in $107 million for the state, Young said.

The method requires criminals to pay $50 upon conviction. In Michigan, however, restitution won't produce much money because most criminals can't afford to pay, Fullwood said.

- Information about a case. Less than 20 percent of all legal jurisdictions in the country notify victims about the progress of a case.

- In a few Michigan counties, such as Kalamazoo, victim's advocates are hired by the prosecuting attorney's office to give a step-by-step account of major cases. Victim/witness notification services, however, are provided in Wayne, Washtenaw, Ingham and Kent counties as well as Kalamazoo.

- Right to counsel. Less than 5 percent of all jurisdictions urge the victim to participate actively in the criminal justice process from the time charges are pressed to sentencing. Attorneys fail to ask victims if they agree with the charges, the plea bargain or the final determination.

Victims are not vindictive, Young said. They simply want to know about their case. But when they are continually denied that right, they may take extreme measures.

For example, a group called Parents of Murdered Children, comprised of 26 New York couples, became angry when the prosecutor refused to try 25 of the cases because he said there wasn't sufficient evidence.

In the 26th case, the parents took their story to the newspapers. The media "managed to force the prosecutor to prosecute," and the accused was convicted of second-degree murder, Young said.

Introducing INVEST

It used to be that the Wall Street way of investing was the only way of investing. But not anymore.

Now there's INVEST. The unique, new investment service that takes a totally different approach to investing. From the way we make our investment recommendations to how we work with you.

Sound advice based on facts.

At INVEST, we don't believe in hunches... just the facts. Because we want to recommend only solid investment opportunities.

To accomplish this, we base all of our investment recommendations on a highly selective performance rating system. A system that draws from Value Line and other proven research sources. A system designed for maximum long-term growth with a minimum of risk.

Our job is to help you select the right stocks, bonds and mutual funds. Not to distribute securities for corporations. So we don't have a vested interest in any particular stocks or bonds influencing our recommendations.

Representatives with your best interests in mind.

Each INVEST Representative is skilled in helping you with your investment needs. From analyzing your financial profile to handling special transactions that your account might require.

They'll also follow your portfolio and keep you informed on important market changes that may affect your investments.

INVEST Representatives are on salary instead of commissions. So you know when they make recommendations they have your best interests in mind.

Full-service Centers to help you.

INVEST is an independent service of ISFA Corporation designed to help you invest wisely and conveniently.

To do this, we've located our INVEST Centers at the same place you probably visit frequently for other financial transactions. First Federal of Michigan.

Each Center is private, and fully equipped to give you every kind of stock market information. From the Dow Jones average to an in-depth stock analysis.

So check the list below for the INVEST Center nearest you and take advantage of the new kind of Wall Street at First Federal of Michigan.

Surgical supply facility is nearing completion

Michael Jones

Construction continues on the new facility for White & White Surgical Supply, in Metro-West Industrial Park in Plymouth Township.

The new facility is expected to be completed in early April at the four-acre site at Five Mile and Sheldon.

The 30,000-square-foot facility will serve as regional offices and a distribution center for the Grand Rapids-based firm which distributes surgical supplies and pharmaceuticals.

The project, which is expected to create at least 25 jobs, has been engineered and constructed by the R.A. DeMattia Co. of Farmington Hills.

WINS AWARD

Gerri Wireman of Canton has been inducted into the Automobile Club of Michigan President's Club for outstanding 1982 sales performance.

Wireman is a sales representative in the Auto Club's Plymouth office on Ann Arbor Road at Sheldon. She is among the top 20 percent of the Auto Club's sales force recently inducted as charter members of the President's Club for sales of membership, life, auto and homeowners insurance.

NEW AIR CONTROLLER

Michael Jones of Plymouth has completed a 15-week course of study in air traffic control procedures and problems at the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Academy in Oklahoma City.

Prior to this training, Jones passed a stringent entrance exam under civil service requirements to establish eligibility to become an air traffic controller.

The academy is the principle source of technical training for the FAA. It trains those specialists who man the air traffic control centers around the nation, the airport control towers and the flight service stations used by corporate and private aircraft.

Training also is given in electronics for FAA engineers and technicians who install and maintain the specialized electronic equipment used by the FAA.

Jones will report to the Amarillo Air Traffic Control Tower at Amarillo, Texas, to continue working toward journeyman classification.

NEW MANAGER HERE

Thomas J. Mulcahey has been named the Automobile Club of Michigan's Plymouth manager.

Mulcahey, who served previously as the Auto Club manager in East Dearborn, joined the Auto Club in 1954 as an adjuster trainee. His experience includes 14 years as an adjuster and bodily injury specialist.

He was named Farmington assistant manager in 1975, Monroe manager in 1980, and East Dearborn manager later that year.

Mulcahey attended University of Detroit and the Detroit Institute of Technology. He is a past vice president of Auto Club's Toastmasters International Club, is a former secretary of the Michigan Adjusters Association and is a member of the Knights of Columbus in Livonia.

Pease Paint offers prize for best logo

Terry and Molly Bixler, new owners of Pease Paint and Wallpaper in Plymouth, are sponsoring a contest to design a masthead for their store's newsletter.

The contest will feature three categories — high school, college, and open (architects, artists, etc.) — with a $50 gift certificate awarded to the winner of each category.

The grand prize winner selected from these finalists will be awarded an additional $50 gift certificate.

The contest will run through May 1. Prizes will be given at a reception for all contestants at Pease Paint on May 8. The reception will be held in conjunction with the spring arts festival in Kellogg Park.

Judging the entries will be: Bud Martin, Plymouth mayor; Sylvia Stetz, Plymouth-Canton Board of Education;

Tom Bohlander, president of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce; Sue McElroy of the Plymouth Follies; and Erick Carne, architect.

All entries should be delivered to Pease Paint and Wallpaper, 570 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

When designing the masthead, Bixler said, contestants should consider the following: Pease Paint has been a part of Plymouth for 33 years; Pease and Plymouth are growing together; the store supplies paint, wallpaper and art supplies; the Plymouth logo is a large oak tree.

Entries should be 3 1/2 inches long and 8 1/2 inches wide mounted on 8 1/2 by 11-inch colored paper. Designs should be in black and white.

For more information, call either one of the Bixlers at 453-5100.

Molly and Terry Bixler urge young artists to enter the contest to pick a logo for the newsletter to be published by Pease Paint.

AN IMPORTANT FREE SEMINAR: 50 WAYS TO MAKE YOUR IRA WORK HARDER.

Many people believe there are only a few ways the money they set aside in an IRA can go to work for them. Ways that generally lock these funds into one set investment, or a fixed rate of return. Not so.

At this seminar, you'll learn how your IRA assets can be invested in zero coupon bonds, for example, or stocks, Mutual funds. Covered call options—in more than 50 different ways!

And, equally important, how Merrill Lynch enables you to switch from one investment to another, anytime your goals change or new opportunities arise.

No other financial institution offers you more investment alternatives for your IRA. More ways for your money to grow.

You'll also learn why no other brokerage firm serves so many Retirement Plans Clients today. And how a professional Merrill Lynch Account Executive can help you achieve your retirement objectives.

This timely seminar is free. But reservations are important. To make yours, call or mail the coupon today.

Steelhead season will be early, productive

By Lem Mesco
outdoors writer

Despite this week's snow, spring is early this year, and steelhead anglers should be testing their gear.

A hefty 20 percent of the 1.7 million fish planted in 1980 and '81 will run upstream this spring as 5- to 12-pound fighters, state fisheries biologists say. They were three to seven inches when planted.

On such western Michigan streams as the St. Joseph River, action on these lake-run rainbows should peak in early to mid-April. The St. Joe, which received heavy plantings, will see plenty of activity from Lake Michigan to the dam at Berrien Springs. Other large runs are expected on the Grand,

Jordan and Boyne rivers.

On eastern Michigan streams, prime time will be from mid- to late April. Lake Huron's most consistent areas are expected to be the Cheboygan River up to the dam and the East Branch of the Au Gres River.

Early April also marks the start of pier fishing on Saginaw Bay at Caseville in the Thumb, and runs will peak at month's end, according to the Auto Club. Lake Huron harbor fishing also should be good on the Pinnebog River at Port Crescent State Park near Port Austin and at Port Sanilac and Lexington.

A few steelhead have shown up in the Huron River near Flat Rock on the Wayne-Macomb boundary.

Read your DNR regulations carefully because parts of some streams are open only to fly fishing. Some streams are open all year, others beginning April 1 and still others on April 30, when the general trout season begins.

The state Department of Public Health advises that steelhead from Lakes Michigan and Huron should not be eaten by children, pregnant women, nursing mothers or those expecting to bear children. Others should limit themselves to one steelhead meal per week.

We have spotted some anglers testing their luck from inland lake shores in recent days, but they are unlikely to hook much until the water temperature reaches 40 degrees.

SEVERAL AREA dogs won best of breed ribbons and points at the recent Detroit Kennel Club show in Cobo Hall. Animals and their owners:

Bull mastiff — Barbara Brant of Livonia.
Shih tzu — Dollis J. Musselman of Canton Township.

Irish water spaniel — Joan Hanawalt of Westland.

Best in show was a Norwich terrier owned by David Powers and Ed Flesch of Fyimar, Calif.

HURON-CLINTON METROPARKS has these nature programs this weekend:

"Sounds of Spring," a family nature walk, 10 a.m. Sunday, nature center of Kensington Metropark west of New Hudson. Naturalist Mark Szabo will identify sounds of birds, frogs and toads in this 1½-hour program. To register: 685-1561.

"What's Up?" at 2 p.m. Sunday, nature center of Kensington. Mark Szabo will lead a 1½-hour walk to explore early flowers and greenery.

"Spring Pond Study," 2 p.m. Sunday, nature center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock. Naturalist Bob Wittersheim will lead a safari with microscopes to seek such nearly invisible critters as cyclops, daphnia, seed shrimp, volvox, planaria and hydra. To register: 697-9181.

Metroparks nature programs are free, but it helps their planning if you call in advance to register. Vehicle admission to any park is $2 for the day or $7 for the annual permit.

THE SIERRA CLUB, Detroit group, will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 7, in Northwest Unitarian Church, 23925 Northwestern Highway service drive between Nine and 10 Mile, Southfield.

Speaker will be Bonnie Anderson, executive director of the East Michigan Environmental Action Council, whose topic will be "Citizen Involvement: Hope for the Environment, Resolving Environmental Disputes."

Arms 'reduction' amendment dropped from freeze

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call voters March 10-17.

HOUSE

FREEZE: The House rejected, 209 for and 215 against, a pro-administration amendment to make the nuclear freeze resolution (HJR 13) more acceptable to conservatives and others who fear it is weighted in favor of the Soviet Union. The freeze measure awaits final action in April.

Suburban congressmen split along party lines, Republicans backing the pro-Reagan amendment, Democrats opposing it.

Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and William Bloomfield, R-Birmingham.

Voting no: Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit, William Ford, D-Taylor, and Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

The amendment at hand sought to change the wording of the resolution to call for a "freeze and/or reductions." Sponsor Mark Siljander, R-Mich., said "this freeze would lock us into non-mutually assured destruction. This is ridiculous."

While the resolution lacks direct legislative impact, both sides call it a powerful statement which could influence defense votes in Congress, world opinion, and U.S. and Soviet attitudes during arms control talks.

It urges both superpowers to immediately freeze nuclear arsenals under "mutual and verifiable" procedures. An important but subordinate goal of the resolution intentionally described by freeze authors in fuzzy language is reducing arsenals.

The apparently lower priority given reductions upset some lawmakers. They argued the Soviets have nuclear superiority and, therefore, a freeze would tie the United States into a position of weakness, tempting the Soviets to seek a conquest.

roll call report

Freeze advocates countered that, even if the Soviets are ahead, the question is academic because they say each superpower has enough weaponry to destroy the other many times over.

Opposing the Siljander amendment, Edward Markey, D-Mass., asked, "Are we going to let the Atomic Age return us to the Stone Age? Or are we going to seize our destiny and work toward world peace?"

Members voting yes wanted arms reduction to be a top priority of the nuclear freeze resolution.

CHALLENGE: By a vote of 226 for and 195 against, the House adopted an amendment to HJR 13 (see above) that was supported by freeze backers and opposed by the Reagan administration.

The effect of the vote was to defang a pending amendment that would have gutted the nuclear freeze resolution by stating that nothing in it could prevent the United States from "modernizing" its nuclear deterrent while the freeze was in effect.

Members voting yes wanted to prevent the nuclear freeze resolution from being gutted. Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, Ford and Levin.

Voting no: Broomfield.
Sponsor Clement Zablocki, D-Wis., said, "This is the time to move in the direction of disarmament by negotiation. This may be the last time we have this opportunity."

Opponent Henry Hyde, R-Ill., said, "The greatest challenge is not just to prevent the occurrence of nuclear war — we can do that today, just disarm, just lay down our arms and get on our knees and face East."

SENATE
ARMY VS. EPA: By a vote of 45 for and 51 against, the Senate rejected an amendment to the jobs bill (see above) to cut $209.7 million from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineering and Bureau of Reclamation outlay and add $200 million to the Environmental Protection Agency's sewer construction program.

Michigan's Sens. Carl Levin and Donald Riegle, both Democrats, voted yes, preferring to attack unemployment through high EPA spending.

Supporters argued EPA spending would be spread throughout the country and create jobs immediately. They said spending by the Army Corps and Reclamation Bureau, by contrast, would prolong existing jobs and further fill the pork barrel in the South and West.

Here are at least 10 opportunities for service

FOUR POSITIONS are up for grabs on the Plymouth City Commission.

And, of the four city commission spots to be filled in the November 1983 election, at least one will be taken by a newcomer to city politics.

The city charter provides that a city commissioner cannot serve for more than two successive terms. Incumbent Mark Wehmeyer had served a two-year term, was re-elected to a four-year term and so is prevented by charter from running this year.

That means at least one of the four commissioners elected in November will be a non-incumbent. Of course, there may be more than one newcomer as an incumbent always can be defeated at the polls. And it still is unknown whether the three incumbents will be seeking another term.

So there is opportunity for Plymouth residents interested in civic service to the community.

RESIDENTS WHO think they might want to serve on the commission should pick up nominating petitions from the city clerk's office.

Picking up petitions does not commit you to running for office. Take them around the neighborhood and get the required number of signatures. That will give you a chance to talk with people about the city — its problems and its assets — and how you, as a commissioner, might fit in.

The nominating petitions must be turned in to the city clerk no later than 4 p.m. Tuesday, June 14. The deadline to ask that your name be removed from the ballot is 4 p.m. Friday, June 17.

If eight or fewer residents file for city commission there will not be a primary election in August, and the final decision will be made by voters Nov. 8. If nine or more candidates file, a runoff will be held in August so voters can nominate the eight candidates for the final election in November.

Candidates who are up for election in 1983 are Mayor Eldon "Bud" Martin, Karl Gansler III and Ron Loiselle. Commissioners who are not up for election are David Pugh, Jack Kenyon and William Robinson.

WHILE CONSIDERING whether you will try for the office, an important factor to think about is the balance of the commission and if you can add something different.

An immediate problem, for instance, is that the seven-member commission is an all-male cast, and the presence of one or more women would certainly add a necessary dimension.

Another area in which balance is lacking is in variety of occupations. Of the seven commissioners, four are employed by Ford Motor Co. and three are businessmen in town. Nothing wrong with either calling, but a broader mix would make for a stronger commission.

The departure of Wehmeyer from the commission also marks the departure of a commissioner clearly identified as watchdog for the homeowner. Of course, all commissioners will declare they are watchful of the best interests of homeowners and want to protect the residential neighborhoods of the city. But Wehmeyer filled that role in a more direct, and much more outspoken, fashion than the other six.

The November election also will result in the election of six residents to the Library Board. People wanting to serve on the board must also circulate nominating petitions and place their names on the ballot.

So if you are interested in serving the community on either the City Commission or Library Board, stop by city hall (at Church and Main) and pick up a set of nominating petitions. If nothing else, you will meet some neighbors you haven't seen all winter.

Super sewer, Detroit water issues linked

NOW IS the time to regionalize the Water and Sewerage Department, which serves 100 southeastern Michigan communities but is politically controlled only by the city of Detroit.

One set of reasons is very clear: The vast trouble Detroit has had operating the sewage treatment plant, the funny ways the plant improvements are financed and the legal clouds over former department chief Charles Beckham, Mayor Coleman Young and sludge-hauling contractor Darralyn Bowers.

But another important set of reasons emerges from the obscurity of state and regional bureaucracy. The Detroit-controlled Water and Sewerage Department is trying its darndest to mutilate a project near and dear to suburban politicians' hearts. That project is known as "super sewer."

LET'S PUT THIS into a legislative context.

For years, suburban legislators and politicians have been advocating regionalizing the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department. Those names are familiar: state Rep. John Bennett, D-Redford; Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara; Oakland County Drain Commissioner George Kuhn; state Sen. Rick Fessler, R-Union Lake; and now state Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville.

If a regional system of governance is to be achieved, many more important Democratic politicians will have to get into the act.

The group that could tilt the balance of power seems to be the downriver Democratic legislators and Wayne County Executive William Lucas, a Democrat.

LUCAS HAS THROWN his support behind super sewer, the nickname of the Huron Valley Wastewater project.

In its grandest outline, it would consist of a wastewater treatment plant in Brownstown Township on Lake Erie and a long sewer interceptor (line) parallel to I-275 and reaching to the lakes and hills of western Oakland County.

The state Department of Natural Resources is recommending construction of the treatment plant and interceptors to such downriver towns as Flat Rock and Trenton. But DNR isn't at all sure that places like Canton, Plymouth Township, Northville, Novi and Commerce ought to tie into that treatment plant.

I quote from a recent letter from William D. Marks, acting chief of the surface water quality division of DNR, to Duane Egeland, acting director of the Wayne County public works department:

"In recognition of the complex social and institutional issues which are still being addressed, we propose to defer formal certification of the plan at this time."

IN PLAIN ENGLISH, the bureaucratic jargon about "complex social and institutional issues" means Mayor Young and the Detroit Water and Sewerage Department.

DWSD is represented on such sexless sounding but important bodies as the Regional Clearinghouse Review Committee (RC2) and the Areawide Water Quality Board (AWQB). Through those committees, the Detroit forces have been fighting super sewer tooth and nail. They want that wastewater to flow to the Detroit treatment plant, where it will pay Detroit rates and provide jobs for Detroiters only.

County Executive Lucas, a black Detroit native, has played the game of appearing not to threaten black Detroiters Young. Sorry, but game time is over. On the super sewer issue, Young is Lucas' sworn enemy.

From a point of view of sound public policy, there is no reason why Detroit alone should rule and run a water and sewerage system that serves 100 communities and which 100 communities more than pay for.

That system should be under regional governance. It will take state legislation to accomplish such a reform. Lucas and the downriver Democrats ought to get on the bandwagon.

Tough laws will help drunk driver

WERE YOUR parents abstainers, rare, light, moderate, heavy or very heavy drinkers?

Pause a moment and give it some thought. That question was posed to adults in Tecumseh recently by public health researchers at the University of Michigan. The results were surprising.

People questioned tended to follow their parents' drinking habits — except for those at the extremes. Researchers determined that children broke away from parents' drinking styles at the extremes because of the stress caused.

"Children of abstainers were at odds with the community norm. Children of very heavy drinkers appear to have been responding to the stress of alcohol-caused problems within the family," said researcher Ernest Hamburg of U-M.

MY RESPONSE TO the question at the beginning of this column, at least in the case of one parent, would be "very heavy." I don't pretend to be an expert, but my personal experience upholds the findings in Tecumseh. I remember well the stress involved in growing up in a family where one adult was a heavy drinker.

Conventional wisdom at that time was that the children in my family would become problem drinkers as adults. I remember many discussions about the "x" factor — a believed hereditary ingredient that heavy drinking parents passed on to their children.

A job for butchers?

Carving the fat from beef, government

ON A RECENT tour of the Hygrade Co., producer of the popular Ball Park Franks, our group was standing in the rear of the Livonia building as big portions of meat were being delivered. As they came in, one worker, with a large knife in his hand, lifted the portion high and carved large strips of fat from the carcass.

It was an unusual sight, but more unusual was the remark of one tourist who said, "That's the fellow we should hire to cut the fat out of our government budgets."

There was a smile for an instant. Then Perry Richwine, a Plymouth attorney, spoke up: "He would have an easy job, for there sure is a lot of fat that could be cut out."

"Where would you start?" someone asked, and The Stroller waited patiently for Perry's answer.

"IS THERE ANY good reason why we have two U.S. senators?" he answered, "And each of them with a large office staff?"

"And is there any reason why we have 18 Michigan men in the U.S. Congress, and each of them with staffs of up to more than 20?"

These figures were a bit shocking to some of the

Nick Sharkey

At least in my family, the "x" factor proved a myth. Of the five children, none of us turned out to be a heavy drinker. As adults, all drink more soft than hard drinks. All would be classified as light drinkers.

THIS DISCUSSION OF alcoholism is relevant because on Wednesday, police in Michigan will begin enforcing tougher drunk driving laws. Basically, these new laws will make it much harder on those who choose to drink and drive.

For example, police officers will now have a right to administer roadside breath tests to suspected drunk drivers who are stopped for any offense. Previously, all offenders had to be taken to headquarters for blood-alcohol tests.

Also, a person with a 0.1 per cent or greater of blood alcohol content is guilty of drunkenness. Until now, a blood alcohol content of 0.1 per cent was not taken as absolute proof of drunkenness.

Those who refuse to take a blood test will have six points added to their driver's license record, and their licenses will be suspended for six months.

Several other similar laws will take effect Wednesday. Obviously, there are benefits in the new law to potential victims. In a nation where an estimated 26,000 persons are killed every year because of drunk driving, tougher laws can only help.

MANY NEWSPAPER COLUMNS have already been devoted to the advantages of the new laws to the victim. May I suggest another benefit?

As someone who lived with a heavy drinker, I know the critical element in change is for the drinker to recognize the problem. That person often must hit bottom before he can deal with his drinking.

Unfortunately, well-meaning family, friends and even law enforcement officials protect the drinker. Sometimes the drinker will not admit to a problem until it is too late, and someone has been killed.

Because of the new laws, more problem drinkers will have their licenses suspended and maybe will end up in jail. As hard as it may be for loved ones to accept, that's good for the drinker. Only through such a dramatic event will a cure begin.

Take it from someone who would have given a "very heavy" answer to the question about parents' drinking habits in the Tecumseh study. The new tougher drunk-driving laws have many benefits for the driver.

leaders, and it started a discussion of the entire governmental picture as the new franks went up a ceiling-high contraption to be packed.

By the time we had finished the tour, the visitors had dug a lot deeper into the fat in the federal government. They started right at home to list the number of lawmakers who are paid nifty salaries to govern the populace.

Here is a partial list of the findings: There are usually seven members of city councils, township boards, school boards and community college boards.

Then there are 15 members on the Wayne County Commission. This is a reduction from the 27 we had before the charter, but the survivors are trying to expand their staffs.

THE NEXT STEP was the Michigan Legislature, where more laws are written. And they listed a group of House and Senate members, each representing a small portion of the state.

When the legislature was mentioned, our legal friend, Perry Richwine, interrupted to advise the group that there was a time when that body of 12 dozen met only three weeks out of a year and were paid $3 a day.

"Michigan got along quite well on that set-up," he said, "and there is no reason why it couldn't get along on the same plan today."

"Looking for fat in the budget, you don't have to go very far. I understand that more than 4,000 bills were offered in the legislature last year. Those people up there just seem to race each other to see who can offer the most to make a showing when election time comes."

He smiled as the group broke up. But he brought out the point that, from the city and township boards to the U.S. Congress, we are over-governed.

And as he said, "If you are looking for fat in the budget, you don't have to hire a butcher to find it. There is plenty out there."

Long lens, long exposure require steady camera

Be rigid in your camera's support, not in your photographic thinking. Be flexible enough to become camera "steady." By so doing, your pictures will be greatly improved.

Keeping your camera steady is critical to produce pictures that are sharp and clear. And the longer the exposure and the greater the focal length of the lens, the more important rigidity becomes.

THE BEST method of keeping your camera steady is by using a sturdy tripod.

With a tripod, shutter speed is not a critical factor, enabling you to concentrate on the aperture to obtain the depth of field you want.

If you don't have a tripod handy and there is nothing else to support the camera but yourself, some knowledge about how to correctly hold the camera and steady yourself will come in handy.

First, cup your camera in the palm of your left hand, using your thumb and forefinger to operate the focusing ring. Your right hand steadies the camera, and your forefinger trips the shutter.

Dig your elbows firmly into your rib cage to steady your upper body. Place your feet slightly wider than shoulder width. Take a deep breath, hold it and squeeze the shutter release.

UNDER NORMAL circumstances, it is unwise to hand-hold your camera at any shutter speed slower than the reciprocal of the focal length of the lens.

For example, you can hand hold your 50 mm. lens at 1/60 second or faster. But with a 200 mm. telephoto, you had better use a shutter speed of at least 1/250 second if you're going to hand-hold your camera.

But if low light dictates hand holding at slower shutter speeds, try leaning against a tree or wall to gain added rigidity. This way, you'll make yourself into a human tripod.

Another method of steadying your camera is a miniature table top tripod, which is easily stowed in a camera bag and conveniently used on a car hood, table or even on the ground.

A monopod is a tripod with one leg. It's inexpensive, easily transported, lightweight, and can furnish adequate support at shutter speeds over 1/8 second.

Water lily and ferns, even in the soft light of the University of Michigan botanical gardens, appear crisp and sharp because Monte Nagler used a sturdy tripod for support.

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

Correct: Elbows braced against his sides, Monte Nagler cradles the camera solidly in his left hand and squeeze-e-e-ezes the shutter release.

Wrong: You'll get blurred pictures if you jerk the shutter release, flap your elbows in the breeze and fail to brace the camera solidly.

A Report on our Care & Share Program

THANK YOU, GM PEOPLE

You have a right to be proud. General Motors employees and retirees and their families have shown how much they care by how much they have shared. Despite hard times in our industry, you have dipped deep into your own resources to help others.

Our Care & Share food-donation program is over now. But it was such a huge success that the food will go on being distributed for weeks to come. The figures are impressive. You donated 4 million cans of food and contributed another $1.3 million in cash. General Motors has contributed $3.3 million to match your cash contribution, dollar for dollar, and 50 cents for each can you gave. This adds up to some $4.6 million to purchase additional food. In all, your generosity will be sending the equivalent of 13 million cans of food to the hungry across America. You have provided, literally, 10 million meals to those in need.

A few days ago, I received a letter from President Reagan praising all of you "for your excellent example of concern and responsibility." The United Way of America has called Care & Share "the largest and most comprehensive food-donation program ever conducted by private enterprise," noting that it reflects well on the compassion of General Motors and its employees.

I can only add my thanks and express my pride in GM people, past and present. As I wrote to all of you earlier, you are the best in the world.

Steelhead season will be early, productive

By Lem Mesee
outdoors writer

Despite this week's snow, spring is early this year, and steelhead anglers should be testing their gear.

A hefty 20 percent of the 1.7 million fish planted in 1980 and '81 will run upstream this spring as 5- to 12-pound fighters, state fisheries biologists say. They were three to seven inches when planted.

On such western Michigan streams as the St. Joseph River, action on these lake-run rainbows should peak in early to mid-April. The St. Joe, which received heavy plantings, will see plenty of activity from Lake Michigan to the dam at Berrien Springs. Other large runs are expected on the Grand, Jordan and Boyne rivers.

On eastern Michigan streams, prime time will be from mid- to late April. Lake Huron's most consistent areas are expected to be the Cheboygan River up to the dam and the East Branch of the Au Gres River.

Early April also marks the start of pier fishing on Saginaw Bay at Caseville in the Thumb, and runs will peak at month's end, according to the Auto Club. Lake Huron harbor fishing also should be good on the Pinnebog River at Port Crescent State Park near Port Austin and at Port Sanilac and Lexington.

A few steelhead have shown up in the Huron River near Flat Rock on the Wayne-Macomb boundary.

Read your DNR regulations carefully because parts of some streams are open only to fly fishing. Some streams are open all year, others beginning April 1 and still others on April 30, when the general trout season begins.

The state Department of Public Health advises that steelhead from Lakes Michigan and Huron should not be eaten by children, pregnant women, nursing mothers or those expecting to bear children. Others should limit themselves to one steelhead meal per week.

We have spotted some anglers testing their luck from inland lake shores in recent days, but they are unlikely to hook much until the water temperature reaches 40 degrees.

CEP students present 'Annie Get Your Gun'

Plymouth Salem High School will present the life story of Annie Oakley, in the musical "Annie Get Your Gun", March 24-27. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The original Broadway cast starred Ethel Merman and opened on in 1946. The musical was composed by Irving Berlin.

Among the songs are, "No Business Like Show Business," "Doin' What Comes Naturally," "Can't Get a Man With a Gun," and "I've Got the Sun and the Mornin'".

Julie Sparling has the title role of Annie and Todd Chatman portrays Annie's love, Frank Butler.

Annie's sisters and brothers are played by Becky Angell, Scott Swartzinski, Robin Fielman, and Jennifer Hunter.

Reserved seating is a first for Plymouth Salem as tickets will be sold each night for 125 seats in rows 2-7 in the center of the auditorium.

Reserved seats are $5, and all tickets can be obtained by calling Gloria Logan at 453-3100, Ext. 243.

Annie and Frank (at right) are played by Julie Sparling and Todd Chatman. The bad girls and Frank (below) are played by: (from bottom left clockwise) Anne-Marie Roberts, Todd Chatman, Lisa Rohde, Debbie Schnoes, and Kelly Miller.

Julie Sparling plays the lead role of Annie in this year's production of "Annie, Get Your Gun."

Many Canton residents shared 'a bit o' the blarney'

While New Yorkers stewed in the bitter political froth of this year's St. Patrick's Day parade in the Big Apple, it was just good, old-fashioned fun in Canton. The Irish holiday in our community extended well beyond the official March 17 date as many residents invited their neighbors and friends in for a bit o' the blarney.

Mike and Bobbie Ryan hosted a party on Thursday night. Their guests, surrounded by shamrocks in the Ryan home, feasted on Irish hero sandwiches — and no one spoiled the fun by arguing about who the Irish hero was. A custom cake added a sweet touch to the evening, but the center of attention seemed to be the keg of beer and the bowl of emerald punch where the guests washed down all that good food.

As the evening gathered momentum, Hank Naasko took the lead and soon had everyone gathered around the punch bowl singing Irish ballads.

Guests at the Ryans' party included: Jan and Darrell Braun, Susan and Doug Ganote, Jim and Shannon Monroe, Mary and Sherm Moore, Hank and Sandy Naasko, Bea and Ray Shibley, Bill and Diane Soules, Bob and Kathy Spencer, Carol and Bob Shaw, Helen and Mike Wesner, Sally Belding, Don Rigo, Art Lawrence, and Steve Bamrick.

When the party broke up around 1:30 a.m., everyone at the Ryans' agreed on at least two things: Bill Soules, dressed as a bar of Irish Spring soap, sported the most outrageous costume; and the party was so successful, they left their party hats behind in anticipation of next year's celebration.

BUD AND MARY Ellen Magaldi threw their St. Patrick's party on Friday night. Their guests brought a wild assortment of hors d'oeuvres and green desserts, including a grasshopper pie. (No, Virginia, no real grasshoppers!) They danced to taped Irish music.

But as the night wore on, the Americanization of St. Patrick's party was apparent as one group entertained the rest with down-home country and western dancing. Before the last guests departed at 3:30 a.m., Mary Ellen treated everyone to her corned beef sandwiches, cole slaw and Irish bread.

Guests at the Magaldis' party were: Liz Hein, Donna Barnum, Art Lawrence, Helen Wesner, John Stroh, Judy and Dominic Cirinio, Suelli and Dan Baker, Jan and Darrell Braun, Jim and Shannon Monroe, and Pat and Frank Meade, all of Canton; Fern and Terrell Edgar of Plymouth; Barbara and Vic DeBono of Northville; Roy Everets of Milford; Al and Mark Gerstenberger of Farmington; Colleen and Ray Campau of St. Claire Shores; Gilda and Greg Arceri of Dearborn Heights; and Stephanie and Jim McBain of Dearborn.

All the guests at the Magaldis' party wore green, including a few women who showed up with small shamrocks painted on their faces by their husbands. All the green was deepened by everyone's envy at Stephanie McBain's dark tan — a souvenir from her recent month in California. A spinoff from the Magaldis' party is already planned for this Friday evening, the country and western dancers will do their thing again at the Satellite bar. And I'm sure they all have their calendars marked for March 17, 1984, as well.

THEY RYANS and the Magaldis were just two Canton families who were busy last weekend. I'm sure there were many other St. Patrick's parties, and friends getting together for cards, and families flying kites, and Girl Scouts selling cookies, and people doing a million other things that bring us together as a community. The point is, we want to know about what you're doing.

When you're planning something special — or even something ordinary — give me a call so your neighbors can read about it in this column. Canton is our home, and, like all homes, it's enriched by what we share. So share your fun, your projects and your concerns with your neighbors through Canton Chatter.

In a couple of weeks my family and I will observe the third anniversary of our move to Canton from St. Louis, Mo. In those three years, I've been continually amazed by the variety of interesting, active and decent people in our community. That's a discovery worth making. So, if you keep me informed, we all can keep making that discovery together.

Give me a call.

New Morning plans big spring auction

Everything from handmade quilts to computer classes and systems software management will go on the block Sunday at New Morning School's annual auction.

The spring auction is a major fundraiser for the school on Haggerty in Plymouth Township. Guests can view the sale items before the sitdown luncheon at 1 p.m. in the Holiday on W. Six Mile at I-275. They also can peruse the catalogues for the many services donated for the event.

Guests may bid on a case of Bailey's Irish Cream, tools, fertilizer, rose bushes, flashlights, stained glass suncatchers, one-dozen golf balls, purses, a pinball machine, dish garden, record racks and pure chocolate.

TWO LANDSTAT satellite photographs — one natural color and one infrared — have been donated. They show the Detroit-Windsor area.

A matted and framed Will Slocum print will be auctioned.

In the food category there will be pizza from Little Caesar's, a half gallon of ice cream from Friendly's, special items from some of the Fours Season's eateries, special occasion cakes from Canton Bakery and Cakes by U, and four chicken dinners from Famous Recipe Chicken.

Teens selected to serve on 1983 fashion panel

Three teen-agers from the community are among 26 students selected to serve on the 1983 Fashion Panel at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi. The panel was selected from more than 300 applicants, ages 16 to 20.

Panelists are Brian Cox, 12th grader at Gabriel Richard High School in Ann Arbor and son of Charles and Virginia Cox of Plymouth; Sherri Juhasz, 11th grader at Plymouth Canton High School, daughter of Steve and Sylvia Juhasz of Canton Township; and Amy Emerson, 11th grader at Plymouth Canton High School, daughter of R.J. and Joan Emerson of Plymouth.

They will serve on the panel until September, attending workshops on poise, polish and grooming, fashion forecasts and career directions in retailing and modeling.

They will have an opportunity to participate in fashion shows, in-store seminars, and in restaurant and window modeling.

In selecting the panelists, evaluation was based on personal interviews and runway presentations. A panel of fashion and retail experts judged applicants on gracefulness, projection of personality, enthusiasm, style and self-confidence.

Residents join arts-craft fair

Holy Innocents Academy will sponsor the Fifth Annual Demonstrating Arts and Crafts Fair from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

Calico to reverse-glass paintings will be on display by Canton and Plymouth residents. According to Fran Palmatier, organizer and founder of the event, six Plymouth artists will participate. Roberta Baraszu will display needlecrafts, Trish DiFalco — applique wall decor, John and June Toth — woodworking cabinets with etched and stained glass, Gretchen Telek — calico, and Gene Rice — oils on wood and reverse-glass paintings.

Canton artists featured in Springfest 5 include Donna Yourman — pottery, Becky Sultana — wood, Kari Dhaliwal — hand-painted sweat shirts, Doris White — whimsical driftwood, Molly Pemberton — hand-carved wood.

A total of 110 exhibits will be on display including pottery, tinsmith, glass paintings and applique wall decor.

Refreshments, lunches and snacks will be served. The kitchen will be open for the day.

Admission is $1.
Holy Innocent Academy is located at 23601 Ann Arbor Trail, just east of Telegraph in Dearborn Heights.

Several of the depression glass pieces on display at Greenmead.

Depression-era glass is featured at exhibit

Private collectors and members of the Livonia Historical Commission will highlight the spring opening of Hill House Museum at Greenmead with a variety of displays, including depression-era glass, hand-woven embroidered pieces and various needlelaces.

The Depression Glass Club of Livonia has brought together a collection of depression-era toilet articles for display.

Opening the special series of exhibits will be the Northville Spring Chapter of the Michigan and World Organizations of China Painters.

Antique hand-painted china from the collection of George Leykauf and his niece Emma Beguhn will be featured. The china will be shown from the blank pieces through the various firings to the finished piece.

The museums regular visiting hours are 2-4 p.m. Wednesdays and Saturdays. Tours may be arranged by appointment by calling the Historical Commission Office at Greenmead, 477-7375. A recorder is available for the public's convenience.

Admission is $1 for adults; 25 cents for youths, 10-18; under 10 and school tours are free.

Xi Delta Eta hits milestone

Xi Delta Eta, the local chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, is celebrating 13 years in the Plymouth community.

Officially, Beta Sigma Phi's birthday on March 16 will commemorate service stressing life, learning and friendship.

The local branch of the international sorority was established March 16, 1970. The Plymouth chapter has 13 members.

Xi Delta Eta, in keeping with the ideals of the sorority, has undertaken several community projects. During the Plymouth Fall Festival the sorority sponsors a crafts area in conjunction with O&D Bush Jewelers.

A portion of the proceeds earned at the craft booth then are given to the festival board.

The sorority also has adopted two girls at Our Lady of Providence Center as "little sisters."

Each spring an educational grant is awarded to one or two graduating seniors at Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools.

Xi Delta Eta supports the Livonia Historical Society by participating in the annual Greenmead Historical Site festival.

Scholarships are offered

The Panhellenic Association is looking for scholarship applicants. Three awards amounting to $100 each will be granted in May.

Applications will be accepted until April 15. Winners will be announced sometime in May.

At state meeting

Plymouth Jaycettes receive honors

The Plymouth Jaycettes at a recent quarterly state meeting were honored by the Michigan Jaycettes for their outstanding community involvement within the Plymouth community.

The volunteer service award was given to the Plymouth Jaycettes for their involvement with the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. It also received the Michigan Jaycettes first-place award for their Rape Awareness Clinic.

In addition, Plymouth Jaycettes were recognized for Christmas card sales and given the Reyes Syndrome Certificate of appreciation.

The Christmas Cheer project entitled the organization to a certificate of appreciation for its Burns Awareness Project.

Jacque Schumacher, community development vice president of the U.S. Jaycettes, recently announced that the Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary is one of the outstanding chapters in the United States, for its Community Development Programming.

To receive this recognition, a local chapter was required to participate in an educational or fund-raising project for a least three of the U.S. Jaycette programs.

PLYMOUTH JAYCEE Auxiliary programs were Christmas Cheer, Cystic Fibrosis, Kiss Your Baby Week, Rape Awareness Clinic, and others.

Several programs are endorsed by the national organization of Jaycettes under Community Development.

Included in these are St. Jude Children's Hospital, Center for Neurological Diseases, Rocky Mountain Multiple Sclerosis Center, Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, March of Dimes, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Muscular Dystrophy Association, and Institutional Programs and Governmental Affairs.

Young women between the ages of 18 and 36 may join the Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary. Jaycettes are dedicated to personal development, leadership, training and community services.

Michigan and Plymouth Jaycee Auxiliary are a part of the U.S. Jaycettes. Over 50,000 women in more than 3,000 communities across the nation make up the membership.

Plymouth Jaycettes are currently looking for women to become involved. For further information contact Cindy Ellison, president, at 459-8659.

Museum reaches Shaker heights

The early 19th century lives on in Lebanon, Ohio

IRIS JONES

Lebanon's the Golden Lamb inn once played host to such luminaries as Charles Dickens, Mark Twain, Ulysses S. Grant, William Henry Harrison and Henry Clay.

LEBANON, OHIO — If you are a tourist, you will probably see everything in Lebanon, Ohio, from the point of view of the Golden Lamb. You may turn right down Broadway to the Warren County Museum or the Glendower house, or you may drive southeast to Fort Ancient, but sooner or later you come home to the Golden Lamb.

Except home was never like this. At home, you are seldom greeted by a roaring fire and a bowl of mulled wine. At home, you don't dine amid Shaker treasures and watch the morning television news from a four-poster bed in a room full of antiques.

Generations of innkeepers at the Golden Lamb have watched American history unfold since the early 19th century. Guests have arrived on horseback, in carriages, in turn-of-the-century automobiles. The 10 bedrooms are named after famous guests: Mark Twain, Charles Dickens, William Henry Harrison, Ulysses S. Grant, Henry Clay.

The inn, and surrounding area, make an interesting overnight or weekend stop for people who love old village streets, antiques, Indian lore, and good food and drink in an historic setting. You'll find it halfway between Dayton and Cincinnati by taking U.S. 42 seven miles east of Interstate 75.

The Golden Lamb doesn't serve breakfast, so you will probably have your bacon and eggs across the street in the Village Ice Cream Shop, a bright room full of wrought-iron chairs and small round tables. The cafe is a cooperative built and staffed by local people.

Inn manager Jack Reynolds, or his assistant Fred Compton, may be there. If a glass bowl of jelly beans appears mysteriously on your table, you can be sure that retired funeral director Bill Walker has been there. Jelly beans are his trademark.

Victoria Visintainer, "director and jack-of-all-trades" is probably already at work 200 yards away in the Warren County Historical Museum, and you can be sure that caretaker Bill Cheeseman has polished the old furniture down the street at the Glendower State Memorial.

There's a long story about how the Warren County Historical Society bought, renovated and gave their best antiques to Glendower before turning the house over to the Ohio Historical Society; the local people didn't like what the state was doing to the house, so they started again with the present Warren County Historical Museum.

From the tourist's point of view, that may be a blessing. You can see all the grand old stuff in the Greek Revival setting at Glendower and a wonderful Shaker Collection at the in-town museum. Vicky will tell you that the street of shops was an idea copied from Greenfield Village, but you won't find Shaker pieces like this in many places.

The Shakers settled a few miles out of town in Union Village, and when they moved on they left all their hand-made furniture behind. Robert Jones, once owner of the Golden Lamb, bought up most of it, which is why the inn is full of Shaker treasures and Jones' name is on the museum collection.

A century or two is a long time to most of us, but the Indian mounds at nearby Fort Ancient date back at least 1,000 years before Christopher Columbus, which gives you another perspective on history.

Highway 350 winds sleepily down through forested hills to the Little Miami Valley, and uphill again to the state park where three and a half miles of mounded earth, 4 to 23 feet high, wind like a fence around a hilltop site.

The Fort Ancient Museum shows how the Hopewell Indians built these mounds for ceremonial purposes, and how a later Indian civilization built a village at the bottom of the hill. The museum is open daily except Mondays, March through November, but you can drive past the earthworks anytime during daylight hours.

It shouldn't have surprised me that Bill Cheeseman was there too. He is a walking part of Warren County history: He once worked at the King Powder Co., where King's Island now stands, a few miles south of Lebanon; Nowadays he takes loving care of the county's history and its antiques.

IRIS JONES

Antiquing is a popular sport in Waynesville, north of town, where you'll find at least two dozen antique shops and two antique malls. The very best antique shop in the area is Creekwood, in the town of Montgomery, Ohio, but you'll find several other shops on highways 22 and 23 between Lebanon and Montgomery.

This is also good farm-market country, mainly apples, but the Black Barn truck farm is famous for its pick-them-yourself strawberries. There are other things to do, of course, but eventually you come home to the Golden Lamb.

It is 10:30 on a Thursday night in March as I write this. From the red wing chair in the corner of the lobby I can see the first forsythia of the season glowing between the painted bench and the hand-stenciled wallpaper. They are closing up for the night after several frantic hours of serving five dining rooms full of people.

Lights still glow on a few diners in the lobby dining room, and beyond in the Black Horse Tavern, but very few people are going upstairs to the rooms now and the gift shop in the basement is closed.

They have a full house here on weekends, and often midweek during the summer, but it's easy to get rooms off-season and you can often be lucky in-season. The rooms cost $48 a night for two.

If you eat in the dining room, you'd better plan to go on a diet first.

For information, contact the Golden Lamb at 27 S. Broadway, or the Warren County Convention and Visitors' Bureau, 15 E. Mulberry Street, both in Lebanon, Ohio 45036.

School offers 2 unique British tours

Two unusual tours of Britain are being offered this summer by Cranbrook Institute of Science and Cranbrook P.M., both part of the Cranbrook Educational Community in Bloomfield Hills.

Dennis Wint, director of the Institute of Science, will lead a tour of Scotland, focused on natural history and archaeology June 24 through July 10.

The tour offered by Cranbrook P.M. is also to Britain, but it is a cultural study tour called, Britain, Legacy of Treasures. It will be held June 13-23, a date chosen so that interested parties can go on both trips if desired.

For the Institute of Science tour, Flights by British Airways are to and from Prestwick International Airport in Glasgow, Scotland.

A maximum of 20 people will spend one week, June 26 through July 2, at the Aigas Field Center near Inverness. Sir John Lister-Kay, British writer, who lectured at Cranbrook last fall, will host the group in his Victorian castle.

Accommodations will be in cabins (heated, carpeted, and with private baths) on the castle grounds. Meals will be in the castle itself.

The second week, July 2-9 will be spent at the Orkney Field Center in Stromness, in the Orkney Islands. Participants will live in local village homes. That week includes tours of a 900-year-old castle, archaeological sites and a nearby seabird colony.

The trip costs $2,350 per person, including air transportation, all ground transportation, accommodations, all but two meals, and a $150 tax-deductible contribution to Cranbrook. The air ticket, which is regular economy fare, can be used to travel before or after the tour dates to allow participants to include other destinations if they so wish.

Call Wint at the Institute for reservations or more information: 645-4360. A deposit of $200 will hold your reservation until May 16.

The focus of the Cranbrook P.M. tour is the country manor house, considered by P.M. program director Margot Snyder to be a "repository of British heritage." It includes three nights at Brickwell, a country inn in Surrey, visits to Knole House, Penshurst Place, Longleat House, Stourhead, Mompesson House and various castles and cathedrals.

The highlight of the tour will be a visit to Cranbrook, Kent, birthplace of George Booth, founder of Cranbrook Educational Community.

"George Booth brought all the components of this campus from Cranbrook, Kent," Snyder said. "That includes the school, the art, the church and the estate. He was too modest to name it after himself, so he named it after his birthplace."

The tour will also visit Sissinghurst Gardens and Compton Wynates, the building from which Meadow Brook Hall was modeled. It costs $1,849 including air and land costs, accommodations and meals, as well as a $200 tax-deductible contribution to Cranbrook.

For information, contact Cranbrook P.M. at 645-3635. You also may attend the last of several lectures on the subject April 1 when the group gathers to hear Charles Lines of the British National Trust Advisory Committee talk about "The Glory of the Garden."

Atlantis rises

A giant water-theme park called Atlantis is now under construction in Hollywood, Fla., at a cost of $18.5 million. The park will feature an 11-acre lake and more than a mile of water slides, chutes and tubes.

Three Michigan festivals make the 'Top 100' listing

Three Michigan festivals have been designated among the "Top 100" festivals in North America.

The Tulip Time Festival in Holland, the Bavarian Festival in Frankenmuth and Christmas at Dearborn's Greenfield Village have been so honored, according to the American Bus Association and the Michigan Travel Bureau.

The final selections were made by an independent committee of motor-coach operators and travel authorities in North America.

"Michigan is indeed honored to have three festivals designated in the 'Top 100' when you consider 50 states and 10 Canadian provinces were competing for this recognition," said Jack Wilson, director of the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

than three events recognized, Wilson said he feels other Michigan festivals and events soon will be recognized in this prestigious awards program.

"The motor-coach charter and tour groups in Michigan generate in excess of $420 million annually," Wilson said. "All sectors of the state and local economy stand to profit, including hotels and motels, restaurants, stores and shops — the entire range of tourist and tourist-related businesses." At the same time, he said, first-time visitors will return later to enjoy other attractions and festivals in the state.

Christmas in Greenfield Village is held throughout December. The 1983 Tulip Time Festival is scheduled May 11-14. The Bavarian Festival will be June 12-18.

3 choirs join for 'Seven Last Words'

For the fourth year in a row, an unusual ecumenical choir will gather to present a concert stemming from a special friendship.

Theodore Dubois' "The Seven Last Words of Christ" will be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday, March 27, by the combined choirs of St. Olaf Evangelical Lutheran Church in Detroit, and two Livonia churches, Mt. Hope Congregational Church and St. Matthew United Methodist Church, where the event will held.

This sharing of choirs is a major work began through the friendship of Neale Stahl and Barbara Erickson. Stahl teaches vocal music in several of the Livonia public schools. Erickson has been the accompanist for several of Stahl's concerts. Now, both are church choir directors in Livonia churches.

They worked so well together in the public school performances they decided to collaborate now that they are choir directors, the two friends explained.

ANOTHER REASON for the joint venture is that none of the individual choirs could sing a such a work alone, Stahl said. Their first joint venture was the Dubois work, said Erickson, who is directing the concert. They have also sung two other major works, "The Messiah" and Stainer's "Crucifixion."

The organist will be Jim Bachelor of St. Olaf's. The soloists are Janet Way, soprano from St. Olaf's; David Gladstone, tenor from Newburg United Methodist Church in Livonia; and bartone Stahl from Mt. Hope church in Livonia.

Anyone may attend the performance St. Matthew's is at 30900 Six Mile, between Middlebelt and Merriman.

Church people need a good sense of humor

Church people shudder when their denomination is attacked. A fight brews between Sister Mansour and Archbishop Szoka and people in that church are reacting to the public debate. United Methodists are reacting to an attack upon National Council of Church programs misrepresented by the Reader's Digest Magazine and the Detroit News.

It is often difficult for religious people to deal with conflict. We are apt to become defensive, or attack in return. Most of these recent issues reflect the church's involvement in the needs of the world. Some will say it would be safer if "religion would stick to religion."

Yet the debate over these issues is a healthy sign that religion is again in the marketplace.

When church people are tempted to become defensive the best choice to take is to turn to humor. I attended a church dinner the other night. The minister joked that those who read the Detroit News would have to go to the back of the dinner line. The Detroit News had just made allegations against his denomination.

moral perspectives
Rev. David Strong

THE ALLEGATIONS suggest something good. The churches involved are willing to risk as they meet human needs. In a polarized and revolutionary world risking meeting human need will plunge a church into potentially compromising situations. When such situations are distorted by the press and television, humor is the best response.

Rev. John Ferris, minister of Rice Memorial United Methodist Church in Redford, has replied with a humorous rendition of the parable of the Good Samaritan as it might be rewritten by the Reader's Digest.

A man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves who stripped him and beat him half dead. A priest and a Levite passed by without giving him assistance. But a certain Samaritan saw him and said to him:

"I see that you're in a bad way and I'd like to help, but before I do, I need to ask you a few questions - first of all, are you now or have you ever been a member of any party or organization which seeks to overthrow the government of Samaria by force?"

"SECOND, DO YOU support any government which is hostile to Samaria? Third, do you approve of Samaria's economic policies in developing nations? Fourth, have you made any statements critical of the Samaritan way of life or ever criticized Samaria as a flawed nation?"

"Fifth, are you a 'romantic naive person' who believes that social and economic justice is of equal importance to the freedom we Samaritans enjoy? Sixth, before I give you any food or medical supplies, I need to have you sign an affidavit that you won't use them to benefit anyone who is unfriendly to Samaria."

By this time the man died for lack of care. The Samaritan continues on his journey thinking, "Oh, well, at least I know that my money won't go to any questionable causes."

It is well established that humor can heal persons. This humor makes a point which it is well for us to consider.

The gospel according to Blackwood

The Blackwood Brothers will be presented in a concert 7:30 p.m. Thursday, March 31, at Plymouth Christian Academy, 43065 Joy, Canton Township. The event is open to the public. There is no admission. Newest member of the Christian music group is Rick Price of Garden City (second from left). At the left is Jimmie Blackwood, with Ken Turner standing next to him. Seated at the right is Cecil Blackwood.

The Shrine Circus continues daily through Sunday at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit.

The unseen opponents. It's what makes swimming such a difficult sport. A swimmer is in an environment that dulls or nullifies the senses. Vision is limited, hearing is distorted, and all that can be smelled or tasted is chlorinated water.

What a swimmer can feel — the water itself — is something he can neither clearly see nor grasp. It is one of the opponents.

The object in swimming is to see how fast a person can be propelled through this denser-than-air substance. Beating the competitor in the next lane is one of the swimmer's goals.

But beating the clock is just as important.

THOSE ARE THE unseen opponents — the water and the clock.

Success is judged by the ticks of a clock, but timing is important in another sense.

For swimmers, best, or peak, performances should come at the important meets at the end of the season.

For several swimmers in the Observer coverage area, season-end tapering paid off in big drops in times and better performances. Those are the athletes who were selected by local coaches to the Observer's All-Area 1982-83 Swim Team.

The coaches selected the top swimmers in eight individual events and the two top relays. They also chose the area's best diver and picked four swimmers to at-large berths for outstanding performances in several events.

Here is this year's edition of the Observer's All-Area swim squad.

Mark Kolon, Redford Catholic Central, 200-yard individual medley — It seemed fitting that Kolon was chosen in an event in which he displayed his ability to swim all four strokes.

During the season, Kolon, a sophomore, qualified for the state meet in three events:

the 200 IM, the 500 freestyle and the 100 backstroke. He won the Catholic League 200 IM (2:04.4) and 100 back (58.66) titles.

At state meet, Kolon placed ninth in the 500 free (4:48.76) and 13th in the 200 IM (2:02.42). He was among the top eight in the area in five of eight swimming events: the IM, back, 200 and 500 freestyles and 100 butterfly.

Ashley Long, Plymouth Salem, 100-yard breaststroke — Long had a tremendous drop in time as the season wound down. In mid-February, his time in the 100 breast was 1:05.9, third best in the area. At the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) meet, Long captured first in the event with a clocking of 1:03.03, a 2½ second drop.

The Salem senior didn't let up, churning to a 1:01.77 at the state meet. An abundance of fast breaststrokers in the state this year meant Long's time, which would have

NCAA tourney trip earns big Gold Star

You haven't experienced March Madness until you've been to an NCAA basketball tournament.

I had the privilege and the pleasure last weekend, joining a cast of characters that would rival the "Still the Beaver" group. Some came as far away as Illinois and Washington D.C. for the annual ritual of spring.

The destination was Louisville's Freedom Hall, a mammoth structure that can house any convention group or concert imaginable.

The card for the Midwest Regional was entertaining — Georgetown, Memphis State, Iowa and Missouri. There was also a couple of lesser knowns — Alcorn State and Utah State.

The trip started in Plymouth at the residence of the tournament toastmaster, better known as "Delph" or "Hagler."

Our vehicle of transportation, a cross between a van and a motor home, was primed and ready to go at 7 sharp Friday morning.

The man responsible for getting us there was a guy called "Digger," a cross between a Teamster truck driver and Digger Phelps.

DIGGER'S son tagged along as well as Whitey, Sprout and the Whale. They were joined by four others and myself as we headed down I-75 to Louisville.

A table was set in place as a big Euchre game unfurled.

There were some minor disputes along the way. Digger's son accused Whale of giving signals to Sprout.

Meanwhile, a guy named Norm Cash, sitting up front, was setting up some betting pools for when we got to the arena. And nobody dared to sleep because Whale always had a prank up his sleeve.

But everybody was united on where to stop for lunch. It had to be Gold Star Chili in Middletown, Ohio.

Whale ordered all newcomers to get the Five-Way, a combination of noodles, onions, chili, cheese and beans.

Of course, I tried the Five-Way and ordered a Cheese Coney on the side. That held me over for the rest of the seven-hour trip.

"It doesn't get any better than this," said Sprout.

OUR TOASTMASTER, Delph, greeted us at the Executive Inn. It was only two blocks away from the Exposition and State Fairgrounds (Freedom Hall).

The rooms were lavish and the prices were cheap. The food was fine. Both Iowa and Memphis State had set up quarters.

The place was crawling with Iowans. Guys like Olson, Stokes and Carfino were their Gods.

We got to Freedom Hall in plenty of time for the Friday night double-header. Our seats were in the end zone, but it didn't matter. We moved around a lot and found better vantage points.

Louisville fans, anticipating that their Cardinals would be playing at home, bought up all the tickets — 16,000 to be exact. And when the NCAA shipped their team to the Evansville regional, everybody was in a foul mood.

Dana Kirk, the Memphis State coach, was even booed during a tele-

Late rally ends CC hopes for state title

What looked so promising at one time suddenly turned sour in the final minutes as Redford Catholic Central was ousted last night by Detroit Kettering, 60-55, in a Class A quarterfinal basketball battle before 4,188 fans at U-D's Calihan Hall.

The Pioneers, Public School League (PSL) runners-up, trailed most of the game until midway through the fourth quarter when point guard Terry Payne scored an easy layup after a CC turnover to make it 52-50.

Kettering clung to a one-point lead until reserve Maurice Bunting hit two free throws with 1:30 left for a 56-53 advantage.

The Shamrocks turned the ball over 11 seconds later and Kettering capitalized with 1:02 remaining on a basket by Murray, who tipped in his own miss. The Pioneers (22-3) then rode out the clock, advancing to Friday's semifinal game at Jenison Fieldhouse.

"WE LOST our poise and discipline, and I thought it would be the other way around," said CC coach Bernie Holowicki, whose team bowed out with a 21-4 record. "We played a good game for 28 to 29 minutes, and then we died in the last three minutes."

State quality: Observer's best swimmers

placed him among the top 10 a year ago, was only good for 15th this season. Long also excelled in the 200 IM, placing third in the WLAA championships.

Kurt Hein, Livonia Stevenson, 100-yard butterfly — Hein was "a real joy to coach," according to Spartan coach Doug Buckler. And with good reason. Hein was the fastest 50-yard freestyler in the area (22.4), winning the event at the WLAA championship meet, and was the top 100 butterfly (54.7), finishing second in the WLAA.

At state meet, Hein swam the 100 fly and was part of the 200 medley relay team. A junior, Hein has already been designated as one of the Stevenson captains next year.

John Simone, Plymouth Canton, 100-yard freestyle — Simone not only excelled in the water but in his leadership outside of it. The senior star was elected captain three straight seasons.

Simone was efficient at all strokes but he was at his best in the freestyle events. He placed second in the 100 and third in the 200 at the WLAA meet and was also listed in the top eight in the area in the 500 free, the 100 breast and the 200 IM. He swam both the 100 and 200 freestyles at the state meet and was voted Most Valuable Swimmer by his teammates.

Dennis Keller, Livonia Franklin, 50-yard freestyle — Keller saved his best time for when it counted most — at the Northwest Suburban League (NSL) meet.

Keller had the fastest time in the preliminaries at 23.26. In the finals, the Franklin swimmer held off the challenge of Westland John Glenn's Mark Winfrey to take the title (22.930 to 23.020).

He also had a best time of 50.2 in the 100 free.

Kevin Everhart, Livonia Stevenson, 100-yard backstroke — Everhart served as a captain this year despite his sophomore status, because he was "the hardest worker on the team," according to coach Buckler.

Everhart won the WLAA crown in the 100 back (57.5) and qualified for the state meet. He also led off the Stevenson 200 medley relay team which won at the WLAA meet and qualified for state. Everhart was listed among the Observer's top eight in the 200 IM and 50 free as well as the back.

His role as captain has already been assured for another year.

Erik Kleinsmith, Plymouth Salem, 200-yard freestyle — A key swimmer on Salem's drive to the WLAA championship, Kleinsmith finished second in the 200 and 500 freestyles at the league meet and earned All-Conference in both.

Kleinsmith's best in the 200 free was 1:48.9. He also had a 5:00.2 in the 500 free. Both were among the top clockings in the area.

Todd Riedel, Plymouth Salem, diving — Riedel earned Salem's Most Improved Swimmer award for this season, and with good reason. The senior, a four-time letterwinner, captured the WLAA diving championship and qualified for the state meet.

Riedel's total of 228.3 points during a dual meet was his high for the season.

Tom Hankins, Redford Catholic Central, 500-yard freestyle — Hankins captained the Shamrocks' Catholic League champions this season and finished in the top six in both the 200 and 500 freestyles at the conference meet. During his four years at CC, Hankins lettered four times and earned All-Catholic honors twice.

In each of the past two seasons, Hankins qualified for the state meet in the 500 free. His best clocking this year was 4:58.40. Distance is his specialty; he is ranked fourth in the 1,650 (16:51.32) and fifth in the 1,000 (10:09.39) freestyle events in the state. Upon graduation, Hankins will attend Virginia Military Institute on a swim scholarship.

Scott Sargent, Livonia Bentley, at-large — Sargent was truly a swimmer of versatility and talent. The Bulldog junior qualified for the state meet in four events: the 50 (22.9), 100 (49.8) and 200 (1:53.2) freestyles and the 100 fly (55.5).

Quite an achievement for someone who has been swimming competitively for only three years. Sargent was third in the 100 free and fourth in the 50 free at the WLAA title meet. It is hardly surprising that Bentley coach Dave Giandiletti is "looking forward to next year" with Sargent returning.

Matt Mair, Redford Catholic Central, at-large — Mair excelled in the distance freestyle events. He placed second for CC in the 200 (1:53.598) and 500 (4:59.583) freestyles at the Catholic League meet, finishing second to Birmingham Brother Rice's Robert Papp each time.

Both were his best times of the season.

Pat Garvey, Livonia Franklin, at-large — For Garvey, it was a season of accomplishment and heartbreak. He was rated among the top 10 in the Observer coverage area in both the 200 (1:54.4) and 500 (5:02.4) freestyles.

His best time in the 500 came at the perfect time: during the NSL championship meet. Garvey lowered his time more than eight seconds to win the event. However, someone whom officials ruled was associated with the Franklin team leapt into the water to congratulate Garvey before the race was over, a violation of the rules which caused Garvey's disqualification.

Chris Leslie, Redford Catholic Central, at-large — A sophomore, Leslie's goal at the start of the season was to break a minute in the 100 fly. He did that and more, winning the event in the Catholic League meet in 56.969. His best time of 55.9 earned him a trip to the state meet.

Leslie also placed second in the 50 free at the league meet (23.0) and, at state, he jumped from 30th to 20th in the 100 fly with a season best of 55.14.

Tim Harwood, Long, Mark Roehrig and Bob Bowling, Plymouth Salem, 200-yard medley relay — The Rock foursome had a season-best of 1:42.50, which earned them a 12th at the state meet and established a new team record.

Harwood, a senior, was 15th in the state in the back and second in the WLAA meet in the both the back and 200 IM. He holds the Salem team record for the 200 IM (2:04.3) and had a season-best of 57.44 in the 100 back.

Roehrig, a senior, was among the area's top swimmers in the 100 fly (57.8), finishing fourth in the WLAA championships. Roehrig served as co-captain with Harwood for the WLAA champion Rocks.

Bowling was Salem's best sprint freestyler, with a best time of 23.0 in the 50 and a 50.5 in the 100. A junior, Bowling was third in the 50 and fourth in the 100 at the WLAA meet.

Kleinsmith, Bowling, Harwood and Scott Anderson, Plymouth Salem, 400-yard freestyle relay — This Salem quartet also shattered the school record and placed 12th at the state meet with a time of 3:18.06, three seconds faster than their previous best this season.

Anderson, a junior, was among the best in the Observer area in the 100 (50.5) and 200 (1:51.0) freestyles. He was fifth in both events at the WLAA meet.

A trip to NCAAs

vision interview during halftime of the second game. It wasn't his fault they were in Evansville, but the Card fans let him know who was boss. Both schools play in the Metro Conference.

Louisville fans were paying scalpers in Evansville $250 per ticket to watch their beloved Cards.

Meanwhile, tickets at Freedom Hall were easy to come by.

Georgetown, Utah State and Alcorn all had small followings.

But the Hawkeyes seemed to have everybody in attendance.

"We're going to fight, fight, fight for Iowa," chanted the troops.

NATURALLY, I always root for the underdog. Alcorn put up a fight, but Ewing was too tough. Utah State didn't have a player above 6-foot-7, but they gave the bigger Hawkeyes all they could handle.

A freshman named Grant, a lefty, played like a senior for the Aggies. He was above and over the rim all night long.

On Saturday, the crew killed some time by playing basketball outside at a nearby local high school. Lunch at Gold Star followed. Later that evening, the crew headed for a delicious cuisine at Cliff Hagen's, owned by the former University of Kentucky great and current athletic director. Steaks were the main attraction.

After a trip to Phoenix Hill, a popular nightspot of rock-and-roll and country-and-western, the group returned to the lobby and were greeted by more Hawkeyes and Memphis State Tigers.

Whale thought I was going to get in a fight when I told a Tiger fan that the Big East Conference, which includes the Georgetown Hoyas, was the best in the nation. He then said Dick Vitale was full of baloney and that really struck a raw nerve. I later told him I was for Memphis anyway and he became my friend.

"I think it's great you came all the way from Detroit to see this," he said.

SOMEBODY THEN ASKED what and the heck a Hoya was. A Tiger fan came over and pulled out a card which explained where the name of the rock originated. He had gotten it from a Georgetown cheerleader.

On Sunday afternoon, the crew found better seats and cheered for Memphis State, mainly because of their Pom-Pon squad, the national champs.

While they stole the show during halftime and timeouts, Keith Lee, a skinny 6-10 forward with long arms and processed hair, was putting on his own production on the floor, leading his team to victory.

The second game was all Iowa and their fans appreciated the performance even more.

"If their was a puddle in the way and Lute Olson (the Iowa coach) had to cross the street, somebody would lay their coat down," said one Iowa native.

During halftime of the Missouri-Iowa game, I spotted former Michigan great Rudy Tomjanovich smoking a cigarette in the concourse. He's scouting for the Houston Rockets now.

DIGGER, our steady man at the wheel, was ready for the long trip back.

It rained steadily as we pulled onto I-85 around 6 p.m. and headed through southern Indiana, passing by my old alma mater along the way.

Whale, Digger junior, J.S. and Sprout, meanwhile, started another marathon euchre game under a high stakes format.

The game started at about 6:30 p.m. and didn't end until 2 a.m. There were some anxious moments when Sprout and Whale had to pay up after being beaten soundly.

"You guys don't have to get so serious," chided Whale. "This was just a friendly game."

By that time we had already hit the blizzard around Fort Wayne and crawled home at about 35 MPH the rest of the way.

Through it all, Digger remained cool and calm. He battled the ice on the windshield and the hard-charging diesel trucks roaring carelessly to the side on the slick interstate.

WE ROLLED into Plymouth somewhat tired around 5 a.m., but spirits were still high. Our toastmaster, who traveled with another group on I-75 through Ohio, made it back about 2:30 a.m.

I caught some sleep and headed into the office at 2 p.m. Monday. Driving back I reflected on my March Madness experience. It was a blast.

I'd do it again. How does next year in Milwaukee sound?

Kettering comeback sidelines CC

Kettering outscored CC 21-8 in the final quarter, missing just two shots. The Shamrocks, meanwhile, got away from their normal attack and it cost them.

"They (Kettering) are talented and good," added Holowicki. "That's a man's team. We went flat and died, but they caused it, too."

Bunting, who did not start, came off the bench to score 16 points. Derrick Kearney added 15, Murray contributed 13 and Payne had 10.

"CC was just great in the first half and we were just running around," said

Kettering coach Arnold Nevels, who saw his team trail 33-25 at intermission. "Then we started rebounding and playing defense the way we can."

SOPHOMORE GUARD John McIntyre and 6-6 senior center Mike Maleske each scored 21 points in a losing cause. Senior point-guard Stan Heath contributed six points, six steals and four assists.

McIntyre and Maleske were primarily CC's offensive attack in the second half.

But the 6-2 McIntyre went scoreless in the final quarter. Most of the credit goes to Payne, the smallest man on the floor, who flagged the slick CC stand-out all over the floor.

"Kettering didn't seem to tire at all," Holowicki said. "They wanted to wear down 'Mac,' not only No. 4 (Payne), but No. 24 (Kearney), too."

"We took some questionable shots in the fourth quarter, but we played hard. We have no excuses, no alibis. We lost to a good team."

CC played inspired basketball in the first quarter, jumping out to a 18-15 advantage. The Shamrocks, who confused Kettering with their match-up zone defense, continued the assault in the second quarter with a 15-10 surge.

McIntyre, who delighted the crowd with his passing and long-range shooting, connected on a 13-foot baseline shot as time expired to end the first half.

KETTERING made just nine of 33 shots during the first 16 minutes, but rallied by hitting 15 of 25 in the final two quarters. CC, meanwhile, was 13 of 20 at the half, but finished under 50 percent for the game with a nine for 26 performance in the second half.

The Pioneers also enjoyed a 30-24 advantage on the boards with Murray grabbing 12 and 6-5 Robert Godbolt adding nine. Maleske hauled down 12 to lead CC.

● FROSH FOR TRACK

Any ninth-graders who will attend Plymouth Canton next year are eligible to tryout for the Chiefs' varsity track team this season.

Practices are at 2:30 p.m. at the Canton track. Those interested should contact coach Mike Spitz or assistant coach Hooker Wellman at the Canton athletic office or meet them at the track before practice. For more information, call the Canton athletic office at 453-3100.

● JUNIOR BASEBALL

There's still time to register for the Plymouth Canton Junior Baseball League (PCJBL).

Final registration is Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. for all boys and girls at the Canton Township Hall, 1150 Canton Center Road.

Participants must be at least seven and no more than 17 years of age on or before July 31. Proof of age is required.

Registration fees are: boys 7-8 and girls 7-10, $19; boys 9-12 and girls 11-13, $23; boys 13-17 and girls 14-17, $25.

A family rate of $60 is also available. Prices include a Tiger ticket, which is the PCJBL's only fund-raiser of the year.

Managers, coaches and administrators are also needed. Anyone interested in umpiring must register with the league Saturday.

● SOFTBALL SIGN-UPS

Any individuals or teams interested in competing in combined Plymouth and Canton softball leagues — either co-ed or men's over 30 — should contact the Plymouth or Canton parks and recreation departments as soon as possible.

Tenative plans are for a 10-game schedule with a $50 entry fee per team. If there is enough interest, organizational meetings will be held.

For further information, contact either the Plymouth (455-6620) or Canton (397-1000) P&R departments.

● KOUFAX TRYOUTS

Salem Koufax tryouts, for youths 13-14 years old, will be at 1 p.m. March 26-27 and April 2-3 at Central Middle School. For more information, please call Bob Goleniak at 981-4127.

● FLY FISHING COURSE

The Plymouth Parks and Recreation department will sponsor a Fly Fishing course for beginners 7:30 p.m. April 6 at the Cultural Center, 525 Farmer.

Topics of the class include fly tying, casting, rod building, stream entomology, materials selection and where to fish in Michigan and in North America. Course instructor will be Bill Semion, associate editor of the Auto Club of Michigan's Michigan Living magazine and a member of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association.

Fee for the course is $25 for Plymouth residents and $27.50 for non-residents. Participants without materials should plan on spending an additional $25 to $50.

For further information, call 455-6620.

● GUN SAFETY CLASSES

The Western Wayne County Conservation Association (WWCCA) will sponsor a pair of classes aimed at firearms safety.

The first is a Home Firearms Responsibility Class, a four-day National Rifle Association course intended to teach safe storage and handling of firearms. The class will be from 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, April 12, and Thursdays, April 14 and 21, at the WWCCA building, located at 6700 Napier in Plymouth.

On Saturday, April 23, the class will meet at a shooting range at 9:30 a.m. Cost for the four-day session is $2.

The WWCCA will also host a DNR Hunter's Safety course from 7-9 p.m. May 10, 12, 17 and 19. On May 21, the class will meet at 9 a.m. for a test, field trip and a session at the shooting range. All young hunters, from 12-16 years old, must attend the entire course to get a hunting license.

Cost for the Hunter's Safety course is $3. For information on either class, contact the WWCCA at 453-9843.

● BASKETS FOR MDA

The Detroit Pistons and 7-Eleven Food Stores have joined forces to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). "Buy one ticket, get one free" coupons are available at 7-Eleven stores for the Piston game Wednesday, April 6. The coupons are good on all $10, $9 and $7 seats.

For each ticket sold, the Pistons will donate $1 to MDA. Coupons are good only on tickets purchased at the Pontiac Silverdome or ordered through the mail from Detroit Pistons Tickets, Silverdome Box Office, 1200 Featherstone, Pontiac 48057.

For more information, contact 7-Eleven Food Stores at 774-2711.

THE SCOTT'S DIFFERENCE™

We'll beat anybody at beating crabgrass.

Right now, last year's crabgrass seeds are lurking under your lawn, just waiting to turn into this year's crabgrass. But not if you use Turf Builder Plus Halts® crabgrass preventer and fertilizer. It lays down a protective barrier of the toughest crabgrass preventer there is, to stop those seeds before they start. And our smaller, more uniform particles cover your lawn completely. All of this means that Turf Builder Plus Halts can give you better crabgrass prevention than anybody else can.

There's more. Turf Builder Plus Halts feeds your lawn, too. Because every particle contains Turf Builder® fertilizer—the fertilizer engineered just for lawns.

No wonder Scotts® guarantees your satisfaction absolutely. This spring get the Scotts difference—and get it for less, with this refund offer.

DRC opens thoroughbred slate

The gate will open Friday on Michigan's 1983 thoroughbred racing season with a special 10-race program at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia.

The feature program starts at 1:30 p.m.

Thoroughbred racing will campaign for 92 days with the schedule calling for action Tuesdays through Sundays (except Easter).

Following last year's schedule, week-day racing will start at 2:30 p.m., featuring nine races.

Saturday and holiday racing will start at 1:30 p.m. with 10 races on the docket. The Sunday evening 10-race cards begin at 6 p.m.

DRC has adopted a new wagering format for the 1983 season. There will now be perfecta and trifecta betting on all races along with win, place and show wagering.

The Daily Double again will be featured on the first two races.

THOSE BETTING perfecta must select the first two horses across the finish line in the proper order to cash a winning ticket. In the trifecta, fans must pick horses correctly across the wire in the first three slots. The Daily Double requires the bettor to pick the winning horses in the first and second race.

Veteran racing secretary E.J. (Bud) Sears said that already 800 horses are on the DRC grounds.

"Thanks to the great weather we have enjoyed in Michigan during the winter, the horses which have wintered here have had more than ample time to prepare for a long season," Sears said.

Sears has put together a stakes program, starting with the $15,000 Inaugural Handicap for older horses on the first Saturday of the meeting.

The $150,000-added Michigan Mile, which attracts many of the nation's top horses, will be run Saturday, June 18.

The DOT provides public bus transportation to the track, at I-96 and Middlebelt. Parking is available for 10,000 cars.

IN A RELATED move, state Racing Commissioner William Ballenger recently announced that he appointed Sheila Gaudreau and Robert Clark as state stewards for the DRC thoroughbred race meeting.

Gaudreau becomes the first woman ever selected state steward in the 50-year history of Michigan racing. It is believed she is also the only woman thoroughbred steward at a pari-mutuel track in the U.S.

Gaudreau, 52, of El Monte, Cal., and Clark, 51, of Hazel Park, have already started their new duties.

Taking a leave of absence from her duties at Santa Anita Park, Gaudreau has extensive experience in thoroughbred racing. The Canadian-born Gaudreau has owned, trained and raced horses in California and Canada, and has worked as a patrol judge, pacing judge and clerk at southern California tracks since 1963. She has a bachelor of arts degree from the University of British Columbia.

CLARK has served in various official positions in Michigan since 1969.

He left his job as assistant race secretary at Tampa Bay Downs to accept Ballenger's appointment.

Clark, an Army veteran who served in the Korean War, is a Michigan native. He was born and raised in Hazel Park where he currently lives with his wife Mary, and his three children, Brian, Mary Kathleen and Ann Marie.

All-Star shake-up coming?

A general shakeup in the standings of the Women's city tournament at Yorba Linda Lanes is forecast for this weekend when the top teams in the ladies all-star league make a bid for the titles.

Rose Marsh, secretary of the DWBA is prepared for what she calls the biggest weekend assault on the pins they have had in several years.

The present leaders include Kathy Haislip's team with a 2,732 count, Kathy and Cheryl Daniels, the doubles leaders with 1,236 and Cheryl in the all-events with 1,823.

members during the week as high scoring continued in most establishments.

Merri-Bowl had two of them when Joe Dallacqua had a 248 middle game in 705 and Jim Stockton had games of 243 and 268 in a 715 series.

At Westland Bowl, Bob Shonce closed with 257 for 734 in the classic followed by Bob Goike, Jr. who closed with 246 for 713.

Bel-Aire Lanes added two members to its list as Larry Franz had the double honor of inserting a perfect game in a 756 count and Chuck Casse was right behind with 745.

252 and closed with 248 for 704 and Rod LaRue, bowling in the senior citizens loop, closed with 253 for 703.

AT PLAZA LANES, the closest match of the season was bowled in the pinbusters league when Brad Coyda posted a 695 to beat Jim Mitchell by a single pin. The match wasn't decided until the final ball. Ray Bajar went 100 pins over his average in the business and industrial league with a 266 count in a 622 series. And Sharron Fletcher topped the women's breakfast loop with a 249 in 658.

ASIDE FROM the two 700 bowlers

In the pocket by W.W. Edgar during the week, Carol Topic stole the show for the women with a 249 in 688.

AT WOODLAND LANES, Debby Lanse paced the bowlerettes with a 603 and she is a 156-average bowler.

AT GARDEN LANES, Ed Moler had one of his best nights and paced the St. Linus league with 664. This was 55 pins better than Randy Race.

In another good performance, Rose Aprahanian showed the way in the individual doubles at Merri-Bowl with a 620.

Schoolcraft gymnasts 4th in N.Y.

By Ken Voyles special writer

CC took first with 217.05. Farmingdale was second at 194.40 and Los Angeles Valley was third at 177.70.

Schoolcraft failed to advance any gymnasts to the individual finals, which comprised the top eight gymnasts in six different events after preliminary competition on Friday. But SC captain Bruce Schafer of Ionia set a school record for best all-around score with a 41.4. The previous mark of 40.6 was set by Kevin Watson when Schoolcraft competed as a team in the 1975 nationals.

SCHAFFER also set a team record on the high bar with a 7.9, besting the mark of 7.35 set by teammate Karl Schneider earlier this season.

Schneider, also from Ionia, turned in the second best Ocelot score on the high bars at 6.4. Arnold Gonzales of Taylor Truman was next at 5.1 followed by Chris Headrick of Redford Thurston, 5.3, and Scott Carlson of Plymouth Salem, 4.0.

On the parallel bars, Schneider was the best Ocelot at 7.2 to gain 11th place overall, while Schafer and Gonzales posted scores of 5.7 and 5.0, respectively.

Joe DeDomenico of Livonia Franklin turned in SC's second best score on vault with an 8.1, behind Schafer's 8.5. Carlson and Brian Stout of Ionia both scored 7.8.

Schafer paced the Ocelots on still rings with a 6.3. Gonzales and Headrick followed at 5.8 and 4.2, respectively.

In floor exercise, Schafer led with a 7.5. Schneider and Headrick scored 6.5 and 5.0, respectively. DeDomenico, meanwhile, did not compete after injuring his shoulder during the warm-up.

SCHOOLCRAFT'S poorest showing occurred on the pommel horse where Gonzales could only muster up a team best of 5.6.

"We definitely got strong as the meet progressed," said Dr. Cecil Woodruff, the Schoolcraft coach.

Lawyer entertains out of the courtroom

By Karen Hermes Smith
staff writer

SOME LAWYERS ARE real entertainers when they address the judge and jury in the courtroom.

Mark Kandel could do likewise. But he saves his jokes, ventriloquism, mentalism and magic tricks for trade shows, conventions, parties and other get-togethers.

The West Bloomfield resident, who grew up in Southfield, is a general practice attorney with an entertainment business on the side. He is member of International Brotherhood of Magicians.

"What both do is keep me sharp," he said, adding that both require problem-solving skills. In law, he finds solutions to his clients' legal problems; in entertaining, he looks for ways to create new effects like making an elephant appear.

Kandel started in show biz long before law. He was fascinated by magic and ventriloquism as a child. He loved Mark Wilson's Saturday morning television show, "Magic Land of Ala-Ka-Zam," featuring ventriloquist Shari Lewis and her puppet, Lamb Chop.

"Latter on in my teens, . . . I got interested in seances and ghosts. As I studied more, I developed a fascination for ESP-type things, and I began to specialize in mentalism (which involves telepathy and precognition)."

KANDEL, NOW 27, performed his first show at a house party when he was 13. He got the job by putting mimeographed "business cards" inside the newspapers he delivered along his route.

"After that, it was all word of mouth."

In the early 1970s, while still a student at Southfield High School, he appeared on WXYZ-TV's "Super Circus," a Saturday morning program with Bob Hynes as ring master/host.

In 1980, Kandel won in both adult ventriloquy and originality for his skit with "Baby Duckie" at a competition in Colon, Mich., the magic capital of the world. "Baby Duckie" is Kandel's handheld puppet whose "easy, devastatingly cute and precocious" personality he developed while going to law school.

He bills his shows, scheduled through the Seymour Schwartz Agency in Southfield, as "ESF" (extra-sensory fun). His promotional materials read, "Prediction: You will be amazed."

He combines all of his talents in his shows — magic, ventriloquy, mentalism and comedy and will tailor them for specific audiences or guests of honor. His shows are geared for all ages; he develops most of his tricks.

"What I try to achieve more than anything else is entertainment."

One of Kandel's telepathic tricks involves naming, without seeing them, the words in a classified ad randomly selected from a page torn from a newspaper.

KANDEL WAS graduated from Wayne State University's law school in 1980. He was always interested in law — "advocating the rights of the underdog, arguing, analyzing" — and "At the time, it seemed to be a far more secure field" than radio, television and film, which he majored in as an undergraduate.

Occasionally, Kandel will perform magic tricks for his client's children when they come with their parents to his office. While he's never tried it, magic could also be useful in demonstrating to jurors that what a witness thought he saw may not be what he actually did see, he said.

And, once in a while Kandel can sense when a person is lying to him.

But, magic and mentalism have no real place in his law practice or the courtroom, Kandel said.

ESP is so limited, he said. "There's too much going on (in a court case). You're not dealing with simple symbols" (such as the five he uses in performing his telepathic tricks.)

Kandel is attracted to magic and mentalism because he likes being able to do things that appear impossible, he said.

"There's no doubt it's an ego boost. (And) I do like to see the people have a good time — I like to watch the reactions."

"G-Men" (1935), 1 p.m. Friday on Ch. 50. Originally 85 minutes.

James Cagney made his mark in gangster films of the early '30s — "The Public Enemy" and "Mayor of Hell" among them. By the mid-'30s, however, gangsterism in films was under attack by the Hays office and other censorship societies, so Warners turned Cagney into a law-abiding citizen. In "G-Men," Cagney plays a hoodlum who goes straight to track down underworld offenders. Robert Armstrong, Lloyd Nolan and Ann Dvorak also star.
Rating: $3.05.

"Bound for Glory" (1976), 1 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 147 minutes.

Fair	$2
Good	$3
Excellent	$4

Cinematographer Haskell Wexler popularized the "steady-cam" technique that allows the camera mobility while keeping the picture steady in "Bound for Glory" and won an Academy Award for his efforts. However, the film's beautiful photography contradicts the picture's focus on musician Woody Guthrie's awakening to the evils of American society during the Great Depression. Still, David Carradine gives a fine performance as the folk singer and, though diminished by the cinematography, the film's theme emerges strong and clear.

Rating: $3.

"Dive Bomber" (1941), in two parts at 1 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday on Ch. 50. Originally 133 minutes.

Errol Flynn is at his watchable best in unpredictable roles. Here he's a scientist trying to prevent blackouts in fighter pilots. Of course the script allows Flynn his moments of swashbuckling by placing him in the cockpit of some of the test planes. After all, you couldn't ask Errol to send up a kid in a crate like that. Keep in mind, too, that Flynn was denied (or, some say, avoided) entry into the military during World War II. Maybe it's hindsight, but Flynn seems more intense than usual in his war-era films, and "Dive Bomber" is no exception.

Rating: $2.80.

"Your Past Is Showing" (1958), 1 Wednesday night on Ch. 50. Originally 92 minutes.

Peter Sellers and Terry-Thomas lead the cast of this humorous import from the heyday of British comedy films. The plot has something to do with community reaction to an avant-garde magazine, but of more interest are the brilliant characterizations created by the cast, many of whom you'll recognize from other period imports such as "The Man in the White Suit" and "I'm All Right, Jack."
Rating: $2.95.

45 college writers to attend conference

College students interested in being writers may apply for a four-day scholarship to Cranbrook Writers Conference, Aug. 11-14.

Each year 45 students from Michigan colleges and universities spend time at the Cranbrook Educational complex working with established writers and others in the publications field.

The conference began in 1969 as a special project of the literature committee of the Michigan Council for the Arts. The following year, Cranbrook Writers' Guild was formed.

According to Joan Rosen, professor of English at Oakland University and in her third year as conference director, this year's roster of writers in residence will be: William Stafford, author of 17 books of poetry and winner of the National Book Award and other honors; Alice McDermott, author of "A Bigamist's Daughter," recently published by Random House; and Jackie Johnson, fiction editor, Redbook Magazine.

McDermott has also established a reputation for her short stories which have appeared in "Mademoiselle," "Redbook," "Ms," and "Seventeen." She is presently guest lecturer in writing at the University of New Hampshire and a story analyst for Walt Disney Productions.

Applications are available in English and journalism departments at Michigan colleges and universities. There is no age restriction. Any college student may apply.

Jazz concerts feature stars

Tickets are on sale for two concerts under the auspices of Eclipse Jazz.

The only Michigan appearance of fusion band Weather Report will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 30, at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

Tickets are $9.50, $8.50 and $7.50 reserved. Tickets are on sale at the Michigan Union Ticket Office and all CTC outlets. For more information call 763-6922.

A tribute to American composer Duke Ellington will be presented, starting percussionist J.C. Heard and his Orchestra, at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 2, in the Michigan Union Ballroom, 530 S. State St., Ann Arbor.

Three sets will be played. Tickets at $8.50 general admission, $5 for students are available at the Michigan Union Ticket Office, Schoolkid's Records, PJ's Records and all CTC outlets.

Theater slates open houses

Registration is open for spring term acting classes at Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, 775 W. Long Lake Road near Telegraph, Bloomfield Township. Open houses have been planned for April 2 2-6 p.m. for both adults and children and April 4 8-10 p.m. for adults. These informal sessions allow prospective students an opportunity to meet the school's director, Cella Merrill Turner, and to discuss possible classes with her.

Courses begin April 9 and continue through June 26 for children and teens. Adult classes start April 10 and also continue through June 26. Most scheduling for children and youth is on Saturdays. Adult courses are Sunday-Tuesday evenings.

Areas of study range from classic and contemporary scene studies to diction and dialects, psychology of performing, stage movement, singing and dancing.

NEW FOR SPRING is an adult and teen class in puppetry and construction 7:30-8:30 p.m. Mondays. Newest offering for teens are an Introduction to Shakespeare 2-3 p.m. Saturdays and a Contemporary Scene Studies class featuring avant-garde playwrights, 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Saturdays. A sampling of courses for younger students, aged

8-13, includes Theatre Games and Psychology of Performing, with special emphasis on the play "Alice in Wonderland."

The first four days of spring term, April 9-12, feature sample classes, where prospective students may attend and decide if they wish to enroll in the program. Students may sign up for a single class or register in a state-certified program. Credit will be given for study with outside singing and dancing teachers when working toward an "Actor, Singer, Dancer" junior or senior certificate.

All students enrolled in scene studies perform before an audience at the close of the term. This spring each scene study class will feature a specific author whom students will concentrate on, such as William Inge, Tennessee Williams or George Bernard Shaw.

All students, especially teens, will be encouraged to audition for the repertory company's two upcoming plays, "The Apple Tree" and "Pippin."

Will-O-Way is a non-profit trade school licensed by the Michigan State Board of Education since 1948. Activities of both the apprentice and repertory theater are supported in part by the Michigan Council for the Arts. For a spring class schedule or information, call 644-4418.

Barbara Barringer is Laura Warwick and Peter Brandon is Michael Starkwelder in Agatha Christie's "The Unexpected Guest" at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre.

Meadow Brook does thriller

Agatha Christie's thriller "The Unexpected Guest" will open a four-week run at 8:30 tonight at Meadow Brook Theatre on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

Opening week performances continue at 8:30 p.m. Friday, 2 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Performances will be presented the following three weeks, through April 17, at 8:30 p.m. Tuesdays-Fridays, 6 and 9:30 p.m. Saturdays, 6:30 p.m. Sundays and 2 p.m. Wednesdays.

Group reservations may be arranged by calling 377-3316. Individual tickets may be reserved by calling the box office at 377-3300.

Artistic Director Terence Kilburn has staged this play by the author of "Witness for the Prosecution," "Ten Little Indians" and other whodunits.

BARBARA BARRINGER will be seen as the murdered man's wife; Peter Brandon will appear as the unexpected stranger. Barringer has performed at Meadow Brook in "Night Must Fall," "Thieves Carnival" and "Don Juan in Hell." Brandon, who returns from Beverly Hills, Calif., has been at Meadow Brook in "The Crucible," "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" and "Our Town."

He spent most of last year in "Medea" at the Kennedy Center and on Broadway. Others in the cast, who may all be suspects, are Phillip Locker, Naomi Hatfield, Richard Blumenfeld, Mary Pat Gleason, Tom Mahard, George Gitto and Thom Hanelline.

In "The Unexpected Guest," there is no question at the beginning who killed a mean fellow named Richard Warwick in the living room of his country house on a foggy midnight.

Warwick's wife immediately says she did it. She tells this to the unexpected guest of the title.

"The Unexpected Guest" will feature a single set by Peter W. Hicks, lighting by Dan Jaffe and costumes by Mary Lynn Crum. The production's stage manager is Thomas Spense.

Auditions underway for musical theater

Will-O-Way Repertory Theatre will hold auditions for "The Apple Tree" at 7:30 tonight and Wednesday in the theater at 775 W. Long Lake Road between Telegraph and Lahser in Bloomfield Township.

Actors should bring their resumes. Four principal roles will be cast. These are the Snake, who should be a good singer and dancer; Adam; the King, and the Princess. The play also calls for teen-agers who can sing and dance to the beat of rock 'n' roll. Adult opera singers also are needed.

"The Apple Tree" consists of three one-act musicals including "The Diary of Adam and Eve," told in a humorous style; "The Lady and the Tiger," dealing with the fickleness of love in a rock 'n' roll kingdom, and "Passionella," the story of a chimney sweep who turns into a glamorous movie star.

BASED ON stories by Mark Twain, Frank R. Stockton and Jules Feiffer, the play also features the music and lyrics of Jerry Bock and Sheldon Harnick.

The Will-O-Way production opens April 15 and runs for 14 performances Friday-Saturday nights through May 28. For additional information, call 644-4418.

Nancy Dussault opens April 8 in the Birmingham Thetroduction of "I'm Getting My Act Together and Taking It on the Road."

Musical comedy stars actress Nancy Dussault

Nancy Dussault, star of TV's sitcom "Too Close for Comfort," will star in the musical comedy "I'm Getting My Act Together and Taking It on the Road," April 8 to June 5 at the Birmingham Theatre.

The show written by Gretchen Cryer features the music of Nancy Ford. It ran for more than two years in New York and played to Standing-Room-Only audiences throughout the world, from Paris to Tokyo.

Dussault's long career on the musical stage includes a starring role in the Broadway production "Side by Side by Sondheim." On television, she also has been a co-host on ABC-TV's "Good Morning America." She performed in a nightclub act with Karen Morrow in New York and Los Angeles.

"I'm Getting My Act Together and Taking It on the Road" concludes the Birmingham Theatre's '82-'83 subscription season. Performances are at 8 p.m. Tuesdays-Thursdays, 7 p.m. Sundays, 8 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays, and 2 p.m. Sundays and Wednesdays. Ticket prices are $12-$19. For information call the box office at 644-3533.

Winetasters group picks chardonnays

At a recent gathering of the Winetasters, 40 people sampled some of the finest chardonnays from California. The group tasted five wines from Chateau Montelena and five from Chateau St. Jean, two of the most consistently successful producers of this wine over the past decade.

The wines chosen were selected on the basis of anticipated quality and local availability. Because those can be bought — although at fairly considerable cost — at most quality-oriented retail outlets, it seemed appropriate to report the results here.

So, if your thoughts are wandering toward acquiring a few $15-$30-a-bottle chardonnays, perhaps these results will be of help to you. Listed is the name of the wine, the vintage, appellation, local price, 1-9 score scale and rank.

Chateau Montelena, 1980, California, $19, 6.7, 1.5; Chateau St. Jean, 1980, Belle Terre, $22, 6.7, 1.5; Chateau St. Jean, 1979, Belle Terre, $18, 6.5, 3; Chateau Montelena, 1979, Napa, $26, 6.3, 5; Chateau St. Jean, 1979, Robert Young, $26, 6.3, 5; Chateau St. Jean, 1980, Sonoma, $15.50, 6.3, 5; Chateau St. Jean, 1979, Gauer, $22, 6.1, 7; Chateau Montelena, 1979, California, $19, 5.9, 8; Chateau Montelena, 1977, Napa, $23, 5.6, 9; and Chateau Montelena, 1978, Napa, $30, 5.2, 10.

ON A RELATIVE scale, the 1980 Chateau Montelena must be considered a best buy, at least from this rather exotic sample. It was an extremely warm, genteel, very classy wine with a lovely balance of acid, wood and fruit.

Interestingly, I did not especially enjoy the '80 Belle Terre. It seemed to have an odd presence, a bit of an off-taste. But, clearly, I was in the minority on this.

The interesting thing about the whole tasting, however, was the overall excellence of the wines. While it can be agreed that, at these prices, they should be special, that does not always follow. We have all drunk a great many $15-$18 chardonnays of most inferior workmanship. But not so here. All possessed lovely fruit and none had lost its flavor through over-oaking. All had good acidity and were well constructed.

Additionally, the internal consistency showed for each vineyard. The St. Jean's tended toward opulence and a bit of butterfat. The Montelena's were leaner and deeper and had a bit more complexity.

All in all, an evening to say these two wineries really know how to handle the chardonnay grapes, as they have consistently done over the last decade.

For further information on the Winetasters, drop me a note at the Observer & Eccentric offices, 1225 Bowers, P.O. Box 503, Birmingham 48008.

Work sends listeners to the Land of Nod

By Avigdor Zaromp
special writer

Last week, Jerzy Semkow conducted his third and last program of the season with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. The performance I attended took place at Orchestra Hall on Friday and consisted of a single work — the Symphony No. 8 by Bruckner.

During his three-week visit here, Semkow proved to be an exceptionally gifted conductor and was warmly received by musicians and audiences alike.

His last program proved to be no exception in terms of quality of performance. Concerning the quality of the composition, however, the opinions are far from unanimous.

In the past couple of seasons, single-work programs normally consisted of symphonies by Mahler. There are some similarities between the two composers in terms of the quantity of their output. Both wrote long symphonies, and both have tempted fate by trying to write more than nine, which seems to be a magic number.

MAHLER HAD A 10th unfinished symphony. In Bruckner's case, his ninth symphony is unfinished, and, in addition, he had one symphony published posthumously, designated as Symphony No. 0. Symphonies of both composers are massively orchestrated, but this is where the similarity ends.

At the end of a Mahler symphony, like his Symphony No. 3 performed in this series a few weeks ago, one may feel like having reached the stars. With Bruckner symphonies in general, and his No. 8 in particular, many feel as if they were getting absolutely nowhere.

To be sure, there are many Bruckner fans who would vehemently disagree with that opinion. But this was one of the few occasions in which I have found the task of staying awake increasingly challenging. One method of avoiding from dozing off was to chuckle at the many faces of the audience who were less successful. Many others with drooping eyes, shuffled out in the middle of the performance.

All this isn't said to diminish the efforts of Maestro Semkow and the orchestra, which was augmented with extra brass and four harps.

SEMKOW WAS VERY impressive in eliciting a rich and colorful sound, with convincing crescendos and sonorous fanfares by the brass. One could hardly imagine a more expressive and tender slow movement, even though it makes one wonder whether Bruckner hadn't inadvertently failed to put an end to it.

The final movement was presented in as much forward-moving fashion as possible under the circumstances.
