Tax relief approved for office project

Property tax relief was granted Tuesday night for a $6-million office complex project on Plymouth Township's north side.

The township board approved 12 years of 50-percent property tax abatement for the Plymouth Place Associates project at 41600 Plymouth Road, across from the Hillside Inn.

The tax relief was granted under Public Act 255 of 1978, following the required public hearing to discuss the project.

Construction is expected to start in mid-1983 with completion by late 1984, according to Erick Carne, a partner in the project.

The facility will consist of two three-story wings, linked by an atrium lobby. Each wing will have about 12,500 square feet per floor, for a total of 75,000 usable square feet.

The developers plan to incorporate a solar hot water system and a "high level" of insulation to reduce operating costs, Carne said.

The Plymouth community setting is conducive to a major office complex, Carne told township officials.

"Unfortunately the Plymouth community doesn't have any major office buildings," he said. "Building Plymouth's first will not be easy. It will have to have economic benefits for the tenants and investors.

"DUE TO CURRENT economic and market conditions, the facility must be able to meet very competitive rates. Current interest rates and construction costs would normally cause postponement of this project, but the support of local government will help this project to move forward."

Carne believes his office building can compete with similar complexes in Southfield for several reasons — including the attractiveness of the area, easy access to expressways and people available for employment.

"There are thousands of capable women who may want to re-enter the working world on a full-time or part-time basis," he said.

The project is expected to result in some 250 construction jobs, some 220 office jobs once the project is completed; and some 250 jobs are expected to be retained as a result of the project, according to Carne.

The project has been in the planning stages for three years. Some land clearing has started in anticipation of the township's tax relief approval, Carne said.

Judge tells why fines lower than in the past

By M.B. Dillon Ward and Gary M. Cates staff writers

Editor's Note: This is the first of a two-part series on fines and bonds set in 35th District Court, and their effect on the court.

Relatively low fines and bonds set by 35th District Court judges have been the subject of recent criticism by local police officials. Dwindling court revenues and recent incidents involving defendants skipping bond have fueled the controversy.

Judge Dunbar Davis said that in today's economy, many defendants are "hardship cases" and unable to pay customary fines and bonds.

"If it appears to be a hardship case — a woman on welfare or a man who's unemployed — very often I'll cut it (the fine) down. I'm real easy on bonds, except for cases involving felonious assault and physical violence," Davis said.

However, Davis believes the 35th District Court fines and bonds are set on a par with other district courts in the metropolitan area.

"So much depends on what a person (judge) thinks is serious and what a person doesn't think is serious," said Davis.

"I am vehemently opposed to rape and invariably set a high bond for rape. For shoplifting I don't set a bond. To me, shoplifting is peanuts."

Other judges have their own idiosyncrasies, he added.

There are judges who set bond for shoplifters, and Ann Arbor still has its $5 fine (for marijuana possession), Davis said.

Recently, Davis ordered three young men charged with break-in and entering to stay at home as a condition of their personal bond. The men missed a Feb. 28 court examination because they were arrested for 25 home burglaries while in northern Ontario.

"I was torn between setting a bond they couldn't make, and sending them to the county jail, or doing what I did. I was very reluctant to send them to the county jail, so I set a conditional bond," Davis said.

"I still think it was a good idea. The county jail is just like the Detroit House of Correction — homosexual acts are very prevalent. The young males are the ones they're looking for. That just goes against my grain."

The conditional bond was set with the approval of the Plymouth Police Department, Davis said. Although Davis' decision upset some police officials, none would comment for the record.

"It's improper for the police department to disagree with the judge on bonds," said Police Chief Carl Berry.

Berry believes some 35th District Court bonds are set "too low as well as too high."

Police officers tend to equate the severity of the offense with the amounts of fines and bonds, said Canton Township Lt. Larry Stewart.

"There have been times I've disagreed with judges, not only in 35th

District Court but in circuit court, when a judge permitted bonding — and the guy was out in a few hours — while the victim was still hospitalized.

That feels to me to be an injustice.

"Police officers look for justice in bonding — we're looking for the court to be punitive — but we shouldn't be looking for justice," Stewart said.

"The purpose of bonds is to ensure appearance in court."

Only one of 25 defendants fail to reappear in court after they are released on bond, Davis said.

The high cost of housing a defendant in the county jail is "another reason for not sending a person down needlessly," he added.

"You can put a person up cheaper at the Hilton, wine them and dine them, and it's still cheaper than the county jail."

Taxpayers pay $100 a day to house each county jail prisoner, Davis said.

Davis and fellow 35th District Court Judge James Garber attend monthly judicial meetings, where fines and bonds often are compared.

"We watch what we're doing so that there's not a big variation," Davis said.

In contrast with fines set in other Detroit-area district courts, "We're in the middle on drunk driving, a little harder on shoplifting, and we're harder than some on marijuana offenses."

It's unfair to compare suburban district courts with their northern Michigan counterparts, which are much stricter, added Davis.

"A hundred miles north of Detroit, they really lower the boom on those drunk drivers. If the prosecutors, don't the courts will."

Foes speak out

Schools explain need for summer tax collections

By M.B. Dillon Ward staff writer

The prospect of a summer tax collection puts a gleam in the eyes of Plymouth-Canton school officials. They consider it the best way to erase the red ink that they foresee in the district's 1983-84 budget year.

But the proposed September tax collection upset Canton Township Trustee Robert Padgett and members of the Canton Republican Club, who heard a financial presentation Thursday by school board Trustee Roland Thomas at the Canton Historical Museum.

The district faces an $875,000 loss due to the $25 million decrease in the evaluation of property in the district, as well as delayed state aid payments. Together they spell a $2.2 million deficit for the coming school fiscal year.

School officials say a summer tax collection wouldn't represent a tax increase. Property owners simply would pay one-half of their school taxes in the summer instead of at year's end. The move would alleviate borrowing problems and correct the negative cash flow the district experiences from July through December, said Thomas.

School districts receive most of their tax revenue in the first three months of the year, but incur expenses year-round. As a result, many districts must borrow money to operate the district through the end of the year.

Plymouth-Canton schools borrowed almost $17 million — about 40 percent of the budget — and paid in excess of $1.3 million in interest for the 1982-83 school year.

The twice-yearly taxation was made possible by a new law passed by the state legislature last December. The Canton Township Board, approached by the district to collect the taxes, recently voted against the proposal. The majority of the board was opposed to the summer tax collection, and therefore voted against becoming a participant, Padgett said.

According to the law, the county must collect school taxes if the township refuses.

Plymouth officials have agreed to do the collection. Plymouth Township agreed, but named such a high figure that the district opted to turn to several local banks.

Padgett maintains the proposal does amount to a tax increase, and that the problem is simply one of accounting.

"My dander always gets up when I'm told something short of the truth — if the district's funds were budgeted properly, there would be money left to pay expenses at the end of the year," he said.

Taxes paid in the summer instead of at year's end deprive property owners of interest they could earn on invested funds, said Padgett.

"I feel Canton Township ought to collect the taxes, because it should be done as efficiently as possible. But I don't care how you look at it, it really is an increase because you have my money sooner," he told Thomas.

"That's not true," said Thomas of Padgett's budgeting premise. "It's never worked that way because back in 1859 when public schools were duly established, the fiscal year was set up to begin in July and end in June."

THE VAN BUREN school district, projecting a $380,000 deficit, also is pursuing summer tax collection, and was also turned down by the Canton Township. The Wayne-Westland school district two years ago had collected summer taxes but has returned to once-a-year collection.

"We're in dire trouble. We have an extremely difficult problem with cash flow," said Elvin F. Peets, Van Buren school superintendent.

"The only thing to do is take advantage of the new law so that we can reduce the funds we borrow in order to operate."

Bart Berg, president of the Canton

Historical Society, asked whether the district couldn't alleviate its borrowing problem if it "got out of the real estate business."

School Superintendent John Hoben admitted the 15 or 16 parcels owned by the district subtract from the tax rolls, but said, "We can't get out of them what we put into them."

The $500,000 the district owns in real estate could bring $300,000 on this market, estimated Hoben.

This should have been thought of when the market was respectable," said Berg.

"Something we did that we'll never get proper credit for is enacting the Extended School Year (ESY) which for a 10-year period kept us from overbuilding. Unlike Livonia, Dearborn Heights and other districts, Plymouth-Canton is without empty schools in the wake of declining enrollment," he said.

License denial peeves owner

By Ariene Funke staff writer

Businessman George Odish will appeal the state Liquor Control Commission's denial of his request for a package liquor license.

Odish wants to build a party store on Sheldon Road south of Gallimore Elementary School. His plan is opposed by local parents, township and school officials.

The Liquor Control Commission (LCC) last week denied the license request, citing "unfavorable" recommendations from officials and residents.

Another reason given for the denial, according to the LCC memo, is that Odish "has not shown the existence of an adequate physical plant or plans for an adequate physical plant" appropriate for the proposed store.

Earlier, an LCC investigator had recommended approval, saying the proposed store met with all licensing requirements.

"WE FILED an appeal to the LCC Monday," said Odish's attorney, Norman Farhat of Southfield. "There will be a hearing in 30 days."

At issue is an SDD (Special Designated Distributor) license — which allows sale of liquor, beer and wine for take-out.

According to Farhat, the proposed 7,500-square-foot store is intended primarily as a convenience store, selling food, deli items and other convenience goods, as well as the liquor.

"It's going to be like a small neighborhood grocery store," Farhat said.

BUT NEIGHBORS, township officials and school board trustees say the store is too close to Gallimore Elementary School, on Sheldon south of Joy. Under state guidelines, local officials can inform the state of their opposition, but the LCC has licensing authority.

The land parcel in question is south-east of Gallimore Elementary School and north of Cranberry Drive.

State law requires at least 500 feet between any liquor store and a church or school. The LCC investigator measured the distance from the nearest corner of the school to the proposed site, determining the distance exceeded 500 feet.

Since there is no building now, investigators will measure the distance again if construction is completed at the site, said Pat Patterson, of the LCC licensing and enforcement division.

"This meets with all zoning and LCC requirements," Farhat said. "With just a flat denial, that doesn't do justice to the community and the applicant."

Several parents from the nearby Forest Trails subdivision expressed fears about children crossing Sheldon Center, a proposed road expected to be constructed by 1985. One resident said there are sufficient party stores nearby, and another isn't necessary. Kathy Gray, a resident, said she was worried about older, high school students hanging around the store, littering the area with glass and bothering younger kids.

An Odish supporter, Bill Campbell of Dearborn Heights, said the neighbors and officials are "condemning" the store before it has even been built.

"These people (officials) have to fall to your (homeowners) pressures," Campbell said. "We're not even giving the fellow a chance. That's his livelihood."

Women learning to cope with cancer

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Each week, a small group of women gather at a health club in Westland. They enjoy a refreshing swim and mild exercises made easier by the buoyant water. Later, they will talk about their hopes and fears, their plans for the future.

They will cheer each other up, offer encouragement to newcomers and chart out social events.

These women have one thing in common: Each has lost one or both breasts to cancer. They are members of a program called Encore, sponsored by the YWCA.

Locally, Encore groups meet at the YWCA in Redford, and at the Forum Health Spa in Westland.

"Friends say they're sorry, but they don't know how we feel," said Eleanor Nicholls of Livonia, who had surgery for breast cancer three years ago.

"Some people can't get that word 'cancer' out," she added. "We had two deaths last year and one this year (in the group). It happens."

SHARON MORRIS of Westland is the heart and driving force behind the group that meets each Thursday morning at the Forum. She's a warm and assertive woman who had a mastectomy in 1977 at the age of 40.

Today, volunteering with Encore and developing ways to help people are top priorities for Morris. Last year, she was voted Woman of the Year at the YWCA annual meeting, and she received an honorary tribute signed by several state legislators.

Morris said her bout with cancer made her stronger and enhanced her marriage.

"I turned my misfortune (cancer) into a plus for me," Morris said. "Every woman wonders what her husband's reaction is going to be. How is he going to feel sexually? I think it has made us a lot closer. He (my husband) took care of me — he had to dress my wounds."

DURING A recent Encore session in Westland, a dozen women gathered for a brief swim and round-robin discussion.

"The exercises are to keep the arm and shoulder from stiffening," Morris said. "Your body is buoyant in the water, and you can move much more freely."

The Encore membership roster lists names from most of the western suburbs. There are no geographical limitations. The only requirement for membership is breast surgery.

During a recent Westland session, a newcomer came from St. Clair Shores for some badly-needed moral support. There are no Encore groups in her area.

Newcomer Peggy received encouragement from June Jarvis of Inkster, who tells her not to worry about crying.

"You are making room inside to talk," Jarvis said. "You are grieving. You lost something."

Margaret Hill of Westland was feeling ill from chemotherapy, which she must undergo for two more months.

"It seems like the last part is the roughest," said Hill, who smiles easily.

THE GROUP has "adopted" Geri Soelz of Livonia. Although Soelz has not had cancer, her late sister battled the disease for several years before dying of other health problems.

In addition, Soelz — like most of the post-cancer patients — wears a prosthesis. Her right breast was badly burned when she was a child, and she didn't develop normally. Soelz sells a line of prostheses and lingerie for post-mastectomy patients.

Women may enroll in Encore the third week following surgery with a physician's permission.

But as far as Morris is concerned, the sooner the better. She would like every post-mastectomy patient to feel the encouragement and strengthening of muscles.

"It's a wonderful group," Morris said.

"Friends say they're sorry, but they don't know how we feel. Some people can't get the word 'cancer' out. We had two deaths last year and one this year with our group. It happens."

She now helps others after winning own battle

By Arlene Funke
staff writer

Betty Hurd of Canton has kept the vow she made just before undergoing surgery for breast cancer three years ago.

"It was a promise I made to God that if I came out OK, I would help others," Hurd said.

Hurd, now 42, has kept her promise by becoming one of dozens of Reach to Recovery volunteers in western Wayne County.

The Reach to Recovery program, sponsored by the American Cancer Society, is one of several local projects to help women boost their strength after a mastectomy — surgery to remove one or both breasts because of cancer.

VOLUNTEERS COME from Livonia, Westland, Plymouth, Canton and other neighboring communities. They visit mastectomy patients at Oakwood, St. Mary, Metropolitan West, Garden City and other local hospitals.

The visitors bring a packet of information about help available through the American Cancer Society. They share their time and experiences with patients whose emotions cover a wide range.

And the volunteers demonstrate exercises intended to keep the patient's arm and shoulder muscles from stiffening on the side where surgery was performed. Those stretching rituals give the program its name — Reach to Recovery.

"I joined (Reach to Recovery) as soon as they would let me," Hurd said. "I think most volunteers get more out of this than they give."

ACCORDING TO American Cancer Society figures, breast cancer strikes 109,000 American women each year. One in 11 women is likely to get breast cancer during her lifetime.

Breast cancer kills almost 36,000 women each year, and it is the major cancer killer of women.

Leone Keenan of Westland is the woman who sends the Reach to Recovery volunteers on their calls. She tries to match volunteer with patient according to age, similarity of surgery and, whenever possible, by breast size.

Each patient reacts differently. The similarities enhance rapport between the women, Keenan said.

"Some cry," said Keenan, 57, a former security guard and clerk at J.L. Hudson Co. in Westland. "Some are angry, and others say they are grateful to be alive."

"I had cancer at the age of 44," Keenan added. "It's good psychologically to be able to say, 'It has been 13 years for me.'"

WITH PERMISSION of the woman's physician, the Reach to Recovery volunteer will demonstrate the exercises, which consist of stretching the arm up and out, throwing and squeezing a small ball to strengthen muscles, and making a circle with a rope.

Treatment and recovery are different for each woman, Keenan said. For some, the surgery will be sufficient. Others may require chemotherapy, radiation or other treatment.

Contrary to recommendations of health experts, Hurd didn't regularly examine her own breasts for evidence of lumps. She discovered a lump in her left breast while drying off after a shower.

"I kept touching that lump," she said. "I wanted it out of there. I kept wishing, hoping it would go away."

Hurd sought immediate medical attention. Following surgery, she underwent a year of chemotherapy.

Hurd subsequently had reconstructive surgery and wears no prosthesis (artificial breast). Hurd's surgeon reopened the incision from her mastectomy and inserted a silicone implant under the skin.

TODAY, HURD says she doesn't worry about a recurrence of cancer. She enjoys her volunteer work with Reach to Recovery. She likes bowling and making decorative objects from wood.

A positive mental attitude is important, according to Hurd, who is called upon to discuss her reconstructive surgery with other post-cancer patients.

"Basically, most people would say, 'Would you have it done again?'" Hurd said. "I would answer 'yes' in a flash."

Hurd also has discussed her cancer with her 11-year-old daughter.

"It's a matter-of-fact thing," Hurd said. "It can happen to anyone."

"I did all my crying before surgery," Hurd added. "I didn't shed any tears because I lost a breast. Now I practice (self-examination) and I preach it too."

Women are eligible to become Reach to Recovery volunteers one year after their cancer treatment is completed, Keenan said.

Most of the volunteers are between the ages of 45-65, and both young and elderly post-mastectomy volunteers are needed, Keenan said. Each hospital visit takes about an hour.

To find out about becoming a volunteer, call 557-5353.

Groups for mastectomy patients

Support groups are available to help mastectomy patients cope with their illness and recover more quickly.

The American Cancer Society (ACS), with local offices in Garden City and Southfield, has sample displays of prostheses (artificial breasts) which women can examine by appointment. There also is a list of locations where the prostheses can be purchased.

The prostheses may be viewed the first and third Wednesday of each month at the western Wayne County branch of the ACS at 6227 N. Inkster Road in Garden City. Phone 425-6830 for an appointment.

Prostheses are displayed the second and fourth Wednesday at the ACS main office at 29500 Southfield Road, Southfield. Phone 557-5353.

women who have had surgery for breast cancer, will be held May 11 at Roma's of Livonia, Schoolcraft west of Inkster Road.

This all-day program, sponsored by the Cancer Society, will include speakers, luncheon, and a fashion show using post-mastectomy women as models.

For information, call the ACS.

Reach to Recovery, also sponsored by the Cancer Society, is looking for volunteers among women who are at least one year past treatment for breast cancer.

Volunteers visit new mastectomy patients. Call the Southfield branch of ACS for information.

OTHER PROGRAMS through the Cancer Society include seminars and monthly programs on coping with cancer.

"I Can Cope" seminars are offered each spring and fall at Ward Evangelical Presbyterian Church in Livonia. These sessions for eight weeks are for cancer patients and their families.

Focus on Living is a self-help group for cancer patients which meets monthly at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. Medical personnel are moderators.

The YMCA sponsors a program called Encore, a weekly self-help group for women who have had breast-cancer surgery. The program includes swimming, light exercise, group discussions, and social and fund-raising events.

Two Encore groups meet Thursdays. One meets at 9 a.m. at the Forum Health Spa, Ford Road at Wildwood in Westland, and the other at 1 p.m. at the YMCA on Grand River west of Beechdale in Redford. Both groups charge $2 per session.

McNamara brothers find retail success in Plymouth

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

Two brothers who, since their youth, have had a burning desire to be independent, own their own business and be successful in the world of commerce, have reached their goal in the Plymouth Community.

They are Mike and Kevin McNamara, sons of Ed Mc Namara, the mayor of Livonia for the past 12 years.

Kevin has taken over Bill's Market that has been a landmark for years, and Mike, always a seafood lover, is the owner of the Fish Market that was in the rear of the market.

As they head toward success they are joining two other brother combinations of recent times, who made a success of their business activities in Plymouth.

They are the West brothers Earl and Joe, who once handled farm and lawn equipment on Main Street, about where the Meeting House now stands, and later owned the Mercury auto dealership on Forest Avenue where Westchester Square now is located.

THE OTHER combination is the Jabara brothers — Kal and Jim — who made a success of the tank business on Joy for years and then sold it to venture uptown in new activities. Kal is the owner of the Wild Wings Gallery on Ann Arbor Trail and deals in paintings while Jim is one of the owners of Forest Mall and Westchester Square.

"Mike has been a fish lover all of his life," Kevin said in explaining how the duo came together. "So, when I saw an ad in the paper that the fish market was for sale, I quickly told him. And that was it. He came out here and purchased it in April 1980."

It seemed only fair play then to tell his brother, Kevin, when Mike learned that Milt Orr, owner of Bill's Market, had the business up for sale.

The very next day Kevin went out to Plymouth and made the deal that brought the brothers together in business.

"I always wanted to be independent," Kevin said, with a smile, "and all the time I worked for United Parcel Service, I kept dreaming that something like this would happen. So here we are."

Since taking over, the brothers have done a fine job of refurbishing the place. First, the fish market was moved from behind the regular market and given a place on Starkweather. Then the Market itself was redesigned and granted a liquor permit.

"WE STILL aren't finished," Kevin said. "We will have an awning to cover the front, and then we plan to extend the market all the way to the rear and take the room once devoted to fish."

Both brothers agree that they have been well received in the entire area and especially by those in Old Village.

"Business is better than we anticipated when we came out here, and we hope to reciprocate by offering the public the best in all the lines we carry."

As an example, the seafood is delivered each day from the Boston area, especially the oysters and lobsters.

This is another brother combination eager to follow in the paths of the Wests and Jabaras.

clarification

Incorrect information was given out at the Plymouth City Commission meeting March 21 concerning rates charged by Omnicom Cablevision.

For the satellite tier service, Omnicom charges $6.95 a month for charter customers, $7.95 a month for regular customers and $8.95 a month for customers in remote areas of Plymouth Township.

The cost for the option of getting only the remote control device will be $3.50 per month. This charge will be dropped for any customer who gets the remote control device and later signs up for the satellite tier.

The City Commission had been expecting a representative from Omnicom at its March 21 meeting but no one showed up.

ARTHRITIS AND YOUR DIET

Can what you eat prevent or help treat your arthritis? The answer is NO!

In the past, gout was associated with excess in food and alcohol. Today, for a few people, such is still the case. However, with modern treatment, most people with gout can eat an ordinary diet without concern. If you are susceptible to gout, excessive alcohol can set off an attack, but drinking moderately is desirable for a number of reasons. Gout aside, there is no other arthritis that is influenced by a special diet.

It is necessary to eat reasonably to provide the calcium needed for bone growth and remodeling and the vitamin C required in order to insure a foundation of strong surrounding tissue. Overeating isn't advisable for those who have back pain as the excess weight interferes with the ability to stand and walk properly.

You may have heard of the 'Arthritis Cookbook' or of a low fat diet that is said to prevent rheumatoid arthritis. Such dietary regimens have no scientific basis and are not approved by rheumatologists. What is common sense for good nutrition holds true for arthritis. The best arthritis diet is any diet that provides you with sufficient protein and the appropriate calories to meet your needs, and with enough calcium and vitamins to permit your bones to remain strong. Dr. Weiss welcomes questions. Please address your inquiries to his office.

Talks begin with firefighters' union

Contract negotiations are under way between the city of Plymouth and the firefighters' union, the International Association of Fire Fighters Local 1811.

The two sides have sat down at the bargaining table twice, and the talks appear to be progressing, according to City Manager Henry Graper.

"The firefighters have been very responsive to our negotiating team, which Ron Acho is heading up for us," Graper said.

(Wage concession talks between the city and the police union recently were called off due to Acho's presence at the table.)

"The firefighters have given us some of their concerns about the contract, and we've discussed some of the things we'd like to look at," Graper said.

"I think they realize we need to save some money somewhere."
The first two meetings were held to discuss the ground rules and preliminary information, according to Capt. Bob Degan, union president.

"Hopefully we will get into the nitty-gritty pretty soon," Degan said.

Both sides refused further comment about the negotiations due to an agreement to refrain from press releases until negotiations are completed.

The contract talks come at the same time the city is looking into the possibilities of setting up a department of public safety — a combined police and fire department.

Last week the mayor appointed a blue ribbon committee to study the public safety concept. A fire union representative was included on the committee.

The firefighters' three-year contract expires July 1. There are nine members in the firefighter's bargaining unit.

The next negotiation session is scheduled for Wednesday, Graper said.

Hann shares vision for DPW property

Picture, if you can, an art center and a small theater in the now abandoned Wayne County DPW yard building at the intersection of Wilcox Road and Hines Park Drive.

That's the vision that Pat Hann, the driving force in the Old Village activities, had recently, and she is now in the mood to seek the necessary help to make it possible.

"I have spoken with members of the Plymouth Community Arts Council and the Theater Guild," she said of her vision, "and I am hoping they will be interested in making it possible."

She has been one person in Old Village who has been the visionary force that has brought about many changes and made the area one of the features of the entire Plymouth Community.

"I have been thinking for a long time," she said, "about the needs of Old Village. Then the Wilcox Yard building became available, and then came the idea of the arts center and the theater."

THE ENTIRE area around the abandoned building is just ideal for an entertainment center for the Village, she said.

"A little theater would be ideal, and the arts center would fit into the spirit of Old Village. Then the children could be close to Hines Park for their activities."

As she spoke the vision came back very plainly and she pointed to the setting — the closeness of Wilcox Lake that could be used, the possibility of band concerts on the grounds and small boats out on the lake. With that, she envisioned a large pond for the children and even the older folks.

"Just look at the area. Up on the hill, on Wilcox Road, is Harold Guenther's home — one of the real historic sites in the Village and the old time windmill that was brought down here from up state, to set off the entire surroundings."

"The area, if the building is renovated, has everything to give The Village a recreation center and another attraction that stands it apart in this area of the country."

Over the years she has seen a lot of her visions realized. So the thought of a theater and art center could become a reality.

Project PLUS picked for honors

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' Project PLUS (Pupils Learning Useful Skills) has been selected for a special honor by Wayne County Intermediate School District.

The project has been selected to be included in the Local Promising Program Bank. The announcement was made by Dr. Karen Urbschat, curriculum resource services consultant for the intermediate school district.

PLUS is a program for 3- and 4-year-olds and their parents. The program is financed by Chapter I and Head Start federal funds.

The purpose is to provide help for children who can profit from working on skills which will help them to learn, and to instruct parents in specific activities which will help with their child's development.

The program is open to students and their parents who live within the Chapter I attendance areas of Gallimore, Starkweather, Eriksson, or Field elementary schools.

Children are selected based on screening tests which indicate which children will benefit from special help with readiness.

The children are assigned to either a school-based or a home-based part of the PLUS program. Those attending the school-based session meet once a week at Central Middle School. During this time the parent meets with a teacher in an adjoining room and learns things which may be helpful to the child. Parents also act as volunteer aides in the classroom.

The child is taught at Central, then the parent continues to work at home in directing the child's educational activities.

Children in the home-based part of the program attend a pre-school program three times a month in various neighborhood homes. Sessions at these programs are led by volunteer mothers and supervised by a coordinating teacher.

The children and their parents also attend a session at school on a twice-monthly basis. The total program has about 150 children involved.

'Full speed ahead' for Lucas

By Carol Azizian
staff writer

Wayne County Executive William Lucas is moving "full speed ahead" with his efforts to streamline county government.

"I will start the appointment process and begin eliminating waste and duplication in county government," Lucas said as the County Commission met to approve his reorganization plan.

The county executive today is expected to appoint three persons to the Civil Service Commission. Last week, he named Fred Todd, former controller of Ingham County, as his chief financial officer.

THE COMMISSION, in a 14-1 vote, Thursday gave Lucas the go-ahead to implement a plan which calls for eliminating several boards and commissions, including the powerful Road Commission, and phasing out Wayne County Hospital.

The board's action represents the first major victory for the county executive since he took office in January.

"This is an historic occasion," said a delighted Lucas, who called a press conference even before the vote was taken. "I commend the board for its prompt action."

"This kind of cooperation means we

William Lucas
'historic occasion'

this step has been taken. We've cleared the decks for the other business of the county."

Lucas submitted the reorganization plan to the board on Jan. 1, the day after he took office, and asked for approval within 90 days. The board last month refused to accept the plan until Lucas came up with a breakdown of the savings and costs.

He provided that information last week, satisfying the demands of all but one county commissioner.

COMMISSIONER Joseph Jurkiewicz, D-Taylor, who cast the only dissenting vote, questioned the validity of those figures.

"We still have no idea what that plan is going to cost us," Jurkiewicz said. "The budget figures they (Lucas' staff) gave us don't reflect the real costs for putting this plan in action. I think it's going to cost much more than what they've projected."

"They (Lucas' staff) are playing a game with the thing," Jurkiewicz added. "But we're going to be responsible for it."

Three other suburban commissioners — Kay Beard, Richard Manning and Mary Dumas — also expressed reservations about the plan. They were concerned that families of veterans would no longer receive burial allowances because the plan calls for eliminating the Soldier's Relief Commission, which provides that service.

Lucas' staff assured commissioners that the services would be continued. However, they said, eliminating the six-member commission would save the county a considerable amount in administrative costs.

THE REORGANIZATION plan, drafted by a 38-member panel composed of business and community leaders, also will:

- Slash the number of county departments from 22 to six. The six "super departments," headed by a director reporting directly to Lucas, include: human resources, legal, information processing, management and budget, public services, and health and community services.

- Wipe out almost all county boards and commissions, including the public works board, board of health, retirement systems board, planning commission, and the board of county institutions. They would be either replaced by advisory boards with no administrative authority or placed under control of various departments.

- Set up a cash management committee to make long-range financial plans, improve investment earnings and keep track of funds.

BPW loss threatens citizen input - Suzore

The chairman of the Wayne County Commission says citizen representation would be sacrificed if the county executive is allowed to abolish the Public Works Board.

Wayne County Executive Williams Lucas is seeking state enabling legislation that would give him the authority to sell bonds and allow for the dismantling of the Public Works Board.

Commission Chairman William Suzore, D-Lincoln Park, said the enabling bill would strip away citizen representation by placing control of public service contracts and future sewer rates solely in the hands of County Executive William Lucas.

"This would eliminate local input or review of future user rates," Suzore said.

ADDED LIVONIA Mayor Edward McNamara: "It would put the sewer system under the same dictatorial control as the (Detroit) water system is now, and I don't think anyone here is happy with the consistent water rate increases."

But both Suzore and McNamara, along with representatives from more than half of the suburban cities and townships, agreed to support the bill if it is amended.

The amendment they called for would provide a legislative review process and public hearings.

Suzore said he met with local officials last week at the Detroit Press Club to clear the air over suspicions that commissioners were trying to hinder Lucas' reorganization program.

LUCAS ABOLISHED the Public Works Board in mid-January and named his own director to supervise the operation.

But Lucas' action meant there would be no agency with authority to sell bonds necessary to finance the $300-million "super sewer" project.

Senate Dems 'put it together' on income tax hike

By Tim Richard
Staff writer

In the end, there was no compromise. On the kind of straight party-line votes that Michigan hadn't seen for years, the state Legislature last week passed a personal income tax increase close to the levels asked by Gov. James Blanchard.

"We put it together in there," said Sen. Philip O. Mastin, D-Pontiac, as he emerged from a Democratic caucus prior to the vote. "We sounded out a few of their guys to see what they can go for." Mastin said there were no party-to-party negotiations.

"We're going to gamble the Democrats don't have 20 votes," said Sen. Richard Fessler, R-Union Lake, the minority whip. "Then we'll try to amend it."

MASTIN WAS exactly right, and the GOP gamble lost. Senate Democrats picked up the one Republican vote they needed, and Blanchard's tax proposal became law.

The key vote came Thursday evening when 19 Democrats and Republican Harry DeMaso of Battle Creek provided a 20-18 state Senate majority over 17 Republicans and one Democrat — Gilbert DiNello of East Detroit. The majority passed two bills to raise the income tax rate to 6.35 percent from the current 4.6 percent.

Friday, the House concurred in the Senate version on a 58-50 vote. All 58 yes votes were Democrats. The 47 Republicans were joined by three Democrats in opposition. Abstaining were two Democrats, including Rep. Edward Mahalak of Romulus.

A 1.5 percent increase in the operating rate and a 0.25 increase for debt retirement will be retroactive to Jan. 1. The operating rate will be adjusted downward as unemployment falls but cannot be adjusted upward if joblessness worsens.

The Legislature rejected bipartisan attempts to place a sales tax increase on the ballot. Legislators didn't even discuss on the floor such proposals as lowering property tax assessments and reducing the single business tax.

THE DISPLAY of old-fashioned party discipline came a week after Senate GOP Leader John Engler of Mt. Pleasant held out the olive branch of possible compromise. Engler announced a majority of his caucus would support a tax increase if Democrats would agree to modifications.

"I agreed with the majority of the Republican caucus," said Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville. "We said that no income tax should be considered that doesn't have 1) a definite termination date and 2) some provision for business climate improvement."

"The Democrats didn't seem receptive to either. Blanchard is setting as his highest priority a tax that will last four years. Republicans also don't want to fund any budget we haven't seen, and we haven't seen his budget," said Geake.

Blanchard appealed to Republican senators to vote in favor of the bill finally approved. He said, "it is a lasting solution to our state's fiscal problems."

A major part of the GOP strategy was Geake's proposed bill to ease the burden of the single business tax on small firms to the tune of $175 million. The third-term senator credited the Livonia Chamber of Commerce for the ideas.

Geake's bill called for removing workers' comp insurance premiums and unemployment comp taxes from the SBT base, allowing 100 percent of research and development expenses to be subtracted from the SBT obligation, and making a 1984 break for small firms retroactive to the first of 1983.

UNLIKE THE House battle of March 2 which was over quickly, the Senate vote was delayed by closed caucuses and small meetings.

DiNello, the maverick Democrat, spent much time closeted with Sen. Patrick McCollough, D-Dearborn, on compromise amendments. McCollough, describing himself as "a conservative who doesn't want to see my state besmirched by bankruptcy," finally voted with his party.

There were other unsuccessful maneuvers to make the tax bite more palatable.

Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Southfield, joined Sen. John Kelly, D-Detroit, in proposing a public vote on raising the sales tax to 6 percent from 4 percent. Faxon sought to use the sales tax revenue to provide state aid to the growing list of "out-of-formula" school districts, arguing that 20 percent of sales tax revenue comes from non-residents of Michigan. DiNello said his constituents in town meetings clearly favored a sales tax increase. Kelly sought a 1983 election on the proposed constitutional amendment.

Sen. Edgar Fredricks, R-Holland, offerred an amendment to raise the portion of the state budget going to K-12 education from the current 14 percent to 16 percent in 1985 and then upwards to 20 percent after 1988. It was defeated on a 16-16 party line vote.

Fredricks also sought to require that property assessments be pared to 40 percent of true market value instead of the current 50 percent. His proposal was declared out of order by the presiding chairman, Sen. Joseph Conroy, D-Flint, who was upheld in a 17-17 vote.

THE LEGISLATURE'S action received predictable reviews.

Michigan Education Association President Keith Geiger released a survey by Nordhaus Research Inc. of Farmington Hills indicating 56 percent of Michiganders favor increased funding for K-12 schools and 41 percent favor more for universities, too. MEA is the parent organization of most local teachers' unions.

Using the letterhead of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co., Richard Headlee denounced the measure as yielding too much state revenue and "handicapping the economic recovery of Michigan families and businesses."

Easter Brings A Breath Of Spring

Spring arrives when Easter Sunday falls, no matter what the date. There's the promise of azaleas, tulips, lilies and daffodils as flowers begin to blossom and their scent fills the air.

Countries celebrate Easter with varied customs — many with song, dance and the exchange of gifts. Americans add a touch of finery to their costumes by wearing something new, while children join in the classic Easter Egg Hunt and spend a happy hour searching for brilliantly-dyed eggs.

The Easter feast is a joyous and light-hearted one. Traditionally, great roasts of lamb and fowl, absent during Lent, were prepared for a meal as elaborate as means allowed. Sometimes the feast began as soon as the church bell struck midnight on Holy Saturday, when parishioners brought food to the church to be blessed.

For this year's holiday meal, Leg of Lamb with Grapefruit Marinade makes a spectacular presentation. New Zealand Spring lamb, nurtured on mother's milk and green pasture grasses in that benevolent climate, then flash-frozen at the peak of tenderness, is readily available. After thawing, the lamb rests overnight in a sparkling marinade composed of Florida grapefruit juice blended with olive oil and seasoned with rosemary, thyme and garlic. The marinade is used to baste the meat while roasting and makes a piquant sauce to be served at the table. Grapefruit juice works its magic on the succulent lamb, enhancing its delicate flavor and adding a zesty citrus quality.

Orange Sherbet Mold can be served as an accompaniment to the roast, or as a dessert. Its exuberant flavor comes from freshly-squeezed orange juice, the fruit picked just a few days earlier in the Florida groves. Sweetened with honey and blended with orange ice, the mold is topped with orange sections bursting with juice. Orange Sherbet Mold offers a complete change to taste and texture and complements the robust flavor of the roast lamb.

A perfectly brewed pot of tea completes the holiday feast. Tea has been the symbol of hospitality since earliest recorded time. It has been traditionally offered to strangers to signify good will and shared with friends on social occasions. A good quality tea guarantees full aroma and flavor and the clean, gentle taste can be enjoyed throughout the meal. It gives a gentle lift without a let-down afterwards. To make tea, fresh, cold water brought to a rolling boil should be added to an already warmed pot. Use one tea bag or one teaspoon of tea per cup of water and brew it for three to five minutes.

A delectable lamb roast, zesty citrus mold, garden vegetable and refreshing pot of tea plus a terrific dessert add up to a dinner as festive as the holiday itself. And, it allows time for the chat to march in the Easter parade.

Grapefruit Marinade Lamb

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 1 frozen leg of lamb(about 5 pounds), thawed | 2 teaspoons dried leaf thyme, crumbled |
| 3 cups grapefruit juice                          | 3 cloves garlic, minced                |
| 1/2 cup olive oil                                | 1 tablespoon flour                     |
| 2 teaspoons dried rosemary, crumbled             | Salt and pepper                        |

With sharp knife, remove "fell" and fat from lamb. In medium bowl combine grapefruit juice, olive oil, rosemary, thyme and garlic; mix well. Place lamb in heavy plastic bag just large enough to hold lamb comfortably. Pour marinade over lamb. Press air out of bag. Seal bag. Turn bag to coat lamb with marinade. Refrigerate overnight. To cook, place lamb, meaty-side-up on rack in roasting pan. Roast in a 325° F. oven, 1 hour 45 minutes or until meat thermometer registers 140° F. for rare, 160° F. for medium, 170° F. for well-done. Baste with marinade every 30 minutes during roasting. Remove meat to serving platter. Allow to "rest" 10 minutes before serving. Add flour to roasting pan. Stir over medium heat one minute. Gradually stir in remaining 1 to 1 1/4 cups grapefruit marinade. Cook until thickened. Gravy may be thinned if necessary with water or grapefruit juice. Season to taste. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Carving Lamb Legs

- Place roast flat side down on carving board with shank (narrow end) to your right. From left to right slice down to bone, then make horizontal cut along bone to free slices.
- Remove slices from roast.
- Slice butt (wide end) in toward bone.
- Lift roast and turn over.
- Replace roast on carving board.
- Carve balance of roast down to bone, then make horizontal cut along bone to free slices.
- Trim remaining meat off bone.

Tea Tips

- Pre-heat your teapot by rinsing it out with hot water. This keeps the tea hot during brewing.
- Always use freshly drawn water. Water that has been standing and reheated gives tea a flat taste.
- Don't judge the strength of tea by color. Some teas brew light, some dark. Brew by the clock.
- If you like weak tea, add a little hot water to your tea after the full brewing period.
- Stir tea before pouring to make sure it's uniformly strong.
- Serve tea with milk (not cream) to let the true flavor of the tea come through. Or with lemon to to point up its flavor.

Orange Sherbet Mold

First gelatine layer:

- |                                  |                                 |
|----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 envelope unflavored gelatine   | 2 tablespoons honey             |
| 1 3/4 cups orange juice, divided | 2 oranges, peeled and sectioned |

In medium saucepan sprinkle gelatine over 3/4 cup cold orange juice; let stand 1 minute. Stir over low heat until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in remaining 1 cup cold orange juice and honey. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Meanwhile, arrange orange sections on bottom of a 6-cup mold, reserving 8 sections to garnish serving plate. Pour gelatine mixture into mold. Chill until firm.

Sherbet layer:

- |                                  |                       |
|----------------------------------|-----------------------|
| 2 envelopes unflavored gelatine  | 1 pint orange sherbet |
| 1 3/4 cups orange juice, divided |                       |

In medium saucepan sprinkle gelatine over 1 cup cold orange juice; let stand 1 minute. Stir over low heat until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in remaining 3/4 cup cold orange juice and sherbet. Stir until sherbet dissolves. Chill mixture until consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Pour over firm gelatine mixture in mold. Chill 6 to 8 hours, until firm. Unmold. Garnish plate with reserved orange sections. YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Table Talk

- A beautifully set table and decorated food platters make ordinary food taste like ambrosia. Decorations call for more imagination than money. Some suggestions:
- Glazed orange slices cover a ham roast, keeping it moist and adding flavor.
  - If your china is patterned, pick up small plates in solid complementary colors for contrast.
  - Make fruit and vegetable flowers. Use a sharp knife to carve and toothpicks to hold the pattern. Don't be shy...nature rarely makes a perfect daisy.
  - Fruit shells hold sauces, vegetables, stuffings and desserts. Orange ice in an orange shell with raspberry jam is spectacular.

Herbs are making a comeback

You could sniff it in the air, read it in tea leaves, watch it growing from window boxes across the country — the sweet smell of the herbal renaissance.

Within the last decade, herbs, a staple of colonial America, have turned up in more kitchens, cosmetics and commercial products. Supermarkets are making more room for them on their shelves. Industrial chemists are discovering unsuspected natural resources in many of the common ones. The nation's largest tea company has added a line of herbal teas. Herbs have become at least a billion-dollar-a-year business.

"People who didn't know anything about plants are growing herbs in their back yards. It's all part of the trend back to natural things," said Holly Shimizu, curator of the National Herb Garden, which opened in the nation's capital just three years ago and grows about 1,000 herbs.

By the pinch or bunch, herbs can kill pain, repel insects, flavor foods, fragrance the air, fight cancer, condition hair, cause hallucinations, freshen breath, dye cloth, substitute for salt, soothe tired eyes and symbolize love.

A weedy herb known as the gopher purge plant because it naturally repels the rodents has earned a new name: gasoline plant. It yields a milky latex containing hydrocarbons that can be refined into substitutes for crude oil and gasoline. The wild joboba is now the source of a waxy oil used in everything from motor lubricants to shampoos and soaps.

JUST WHAT are herbs? Thousands of plants from the rose to the garlic, depending on definition. The most all-encompassing definition — any useful plant — would take in thousands of species.

The dictionary calls herbs plants that die down after a growing season and don't develop persistent woody tissue. But many herbalists expand that, claiming that traditionally an herb is any plant valued for its flavoring, aromatic and medicinal qualities or coloring properties.

"Considered individually, every herb has its own biography, its distinctive characteristics, cultivation needs — and partisans," wrote Lonelle Aikman in an article on herbs in the March National Geographic magazine.

People probably come in contact with herbs most by mouth, tasting them every day in the foods they eat. Herbs season everything from haute cuisine to stews. The culinary arts that distinguish one nation's cuisine from another's are based largely on the wise use of herbs.

Americans' favorites are French tarragon, basil, thyme and dill, according to Shimizu. To White House chef Henry Haller, thyme is the "queen of herbs."

Basil, beloved of Italian cooks and called "herbe royale" in France, was handled warily by European herbalists of the Middle Ages, who feared it as a scorpion breeder. Ordinary parsley, which the Romans believed would keep them sober, is known today to be a source of iron and vitamins A, C and E. Combinations of winter and summer savory, cumin, coriander, sesame and mustard seeds have become tasty substitutes for people on salt-free diets.

Rosemary, the evergreen symbol of never-fading love, is regarded by herbalists as invigorating and helpful in easing painful joints when used in warm-water baths.

Slow cooker is old friend

The Crock-Pot is one of my oldest cooking aids. I believe I received it as a gift, and I know it has outlived a coffee-maker, two toasters and quite a few pots and pans.

However, it is my wife who uses the stoneware slow cooker the most. I call it her kitchen stand-in.

Her favorite Crock-Pot vegetable is spinach. She loves it creamed and I have prepared several variations, including a casserole that features cottage and American cheeses.

Anita also is crazy about black-eyed peas. Following a friend's advice, she made a batch, Southern style, that cooked overnight.

She just soaked the beans several hours and put them on low heat before retiring. They cooked about 12 hours.

When discussing bean recipes, one pet peeve comes to mind. Many recipes call for one pound, but I'm unable to find 16-oz. packages on supermarket shelves.

Beans come in 12-ounce packages; they come in 14-ounce packages.

"How do we figure out one pound?" Anita asked before tackling the black-eyed peas.

"Easy," I said, pouring a 12-ounce package into a two-cup measuring cup. "If 12 ounces of black-eyed peas equal two cups, then one pound must equal 2 2/3 cups."

"How did you do that?" she asked. "Old math."

Ours is a simple and natural approach. What you put into your body is what your system reacts to. It's one thing to feel bad, but it's another to feel worse just trying to get better! That's why Alia Health Products has developed a superior line of all-natural remedies that work with your body, instead of against it.

How do Alia Health Products Work?
Alia Health Products work in two ways. One is a preventive. Two is a remedy. "MEMORIES light the corners of my mind, misty water colored memories of the way we were."

Marching like tiny soldiers the 15 little girls climbed and climbed up steps to the top balcony to watch a long awaited event.

Dressed from head to toe in brown shoes, socks, uniforms, and beanie hats, towed in hand by moms, Brownie Troop 6554 arrived at Detroit's annual Ice Capades.

Sitting in the last row didn't seem to bother anyone. Maybe sitting way up in the balcony was sort of like sitting in the back of the bus. We felt bigger.

Brownie leaders never let on the real reasons for sitting in the back was that tickets were cheaper. No one even questioned or asked for snacks from the concession stands. Flashlight pendants and carmel corn were simply taboo.

Who needed that, we all brought our own stash. Moms poured Kool-Aid and each of us had an assortment of candy and gum, Cracker Jacks, peanuts and, of course, Girl Scout cookies.

The best part came with the fantasy — a spectacular illusion of lighting and costumes making the skaters look like they were gliding on ice.

Little did we know the hours and years of training required by members of the Ice Capades. We all dreamed that someday one of us would be entertaining audiences and traveling all over the world with the Ice Capades.

1983 ICE CAPADES has changed considerably since the days with troop 6554. Olympia Stadium no longer houses the Ice Capades. Instead the Joe Louis Arena of the Detroit Riverfront has taken over.

Pizza is now sold replacing candy, and vendors no longer sell their goods in the stands during the performance.

Seats sell for $9, $8, $7, but most families are sitting in the $9 seats. The Smurfs have replaced the Disney characters of a different generation.

Clowns no longer throw imitation buckets of water at the audience. Magicians skate in beautiful costumes delighting children with clever tricks.

Stories are told and leave audiences on edge to find out the ending until after the intermission.

World champion skaters Randy Gardner and Tai Babylonia are today's hero and heroine. Gliding across the ice in perfect precision they make skating seem so easy. America still remembers how they were "cheated" out of the gold medal at the last Olympics.

Twenty years has passed, but Brownies still remain in the last row of the Joe Louis Arena. Mothers are passing out Kool-Aid, and the little girls are still dreaming of becoming champion figure skaters.

As the show begins, the lights are dimmed, music begins and the fantasy starts with over 30 Ice-Cadettes.

Maybe someday

Miss Michigan United opens new doors

By Loraine McClish
staff writer

Carleen Lindsay, winner of last year's Miss Michigan United Beauty Pageant and now a resident of Farmington Hills, will turn over her crown to the new title holder June 22 when the 1983 pageant is staged in Canton's Center Stage.

Entries are being accepted now from women who are single, 17-29 years old, residents of Michigan and who want to pursue careers in modeling or show business.

"Our winner will receive a $2,500 fur coat, a diamond necklace and a vacation," said Cynthia Guenther, who produces directs and coordinates the pageant.

"But most of the contestants — the ones serious about getting into some kind of show business — think of the exposure, the modeling school scholarships, the portfolio of photographs, the auditions, as most important because those are the prizes that may be the stepping stone to their careers.

"We push hard to open those doors for them," she said.

She backs up her statement and proves her track record by reciting a long list of former entrants who are now seen regularly in TV commercials, traveling with the auto shows or are connected with high fashion modeling agencies in Chicago or New York.

The most recent notable addition to that list is the name of Dee Dee Russell who won the beauty pageant several years ago when she was a resident of Southfield. Now married and a resident of Birmingham, Russell-Jacobsen will be taking a screen test this month to play opposite Walter Matthau in a movie called "Tugging at Both Ends."

"ALL OF THOSE successes are cues for me," Guenther said. "That's what this pageant is all about. There is no talent involved. This is a beauty pageant."

Entry forms will be mailed on request by calling the pageant headquarters, 271-8783. Deadline for entry is June 2.

The first 35 contestants who enter the Miss Michigan United Beauty Pageant will be involved with this spring's March of Dimes major fundraiser. The pageant, working in conjunction with John Robert Powers Model and Talent Agency and School, is an active participant in the charity event.

"There will also be a prepagement party for the first 35 contestants who enter. We've got a few prizes lined up just for the fun of it with a drawing where we'll be giving away a weekend vacation at a Michigan chalet, a dozen 8 x 10 photos and the use of a car for a month from Buff Whelan Chevrolet.

"Other parties for all contestants are shaping up that will run right up to pageant time," Guenther said.

"This is mostly for the judges to meet the girls, but I always have a lot of talent scouts and fashion photographers at those parties.

"I don't guarantee anything," she said. "My job is to give exposure, then it's up to the girl to go for it."

Lynda Carter of "Wonder Woman," TV personality Marji Wallace and Guenther, who spends her away-from-pageant-duties time traveling with the Ford Auto Show, all were former winners of the pageant.

"But I always stress you do not have to be a winner to win," Guenther said.

"The 25 finalists in the competition are automatic winners of an audition for the Ford Motor auto shows. That's opening a door that many of them would never have gotten pushed for them otherwise," she said

Professional women

The Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club held its annual guest night Monday, March 21. Sarah Goddard Power, University of Michigan Board regent, was the featured speaker.

Goddard, who sits on the advisory board of Michigan PEER (Project on Equal Educational Rights), spoke on issues of concern to women and the effects of the Reagan administration on those issues.

Music was provided by the Plymouth Brass. Members included Keith Burton, tuba; John Davidson, trumpet; Stuart Delaney, French horn; Jerry Moyer, trombone; and Bill Steele, trumpet.

Students jump rope for heart

Jumping rope, considered as child's play, was the driving force for hundreds of local middle school students who jumped to raise money for the Michigan Heart Association.

"Jump Rope for Heart," is a community service project developed by the Physical Education and Public Information Committee of the Michigan Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance to promote the benefits of physical education.

Three Plymouth Canton middle schools, Pioneer, East and West, were involved. Doris Pipkins, East Middle School coordinator for the program, said East students earned $4,000 last year for the Heart Association.

STUDENTS jumped for two minutes during a three-hour period as part of a six-member team. Individual students or teams secured pledges from sponsors and will collect funds after the event.

Rick Wilson, West Middle School coordinator, said the first year $2,000 was earned. Last year a total of $3,000 was earned at West and this year is $5,580.80 was pledged.

Pipkins said that 170 students were involved in the activity, and East Middle school was shooting for $5,000.

Each participating student received a free jump rope. According to Pipkin, for every dollar earned, a student received a point. Incentives for students participation this year were prizes that included gym bags, warm-up suits, wind breakers and athletic equipment.

Pipkins said she hoped that the kids would do this for fun and because it is for a good cause. Last year the awards given were to the top six people.

LYNN Sandmann, Pioneer Middle school coordinator, said that over 100 students participated in this year's event and up to $2000 may be awarded to the Michigan Heart Association.

"We stress, in physical education, that taking care of the heart is where fitness begins," Sandmann said. She said that statistics show that the number one cause of death in the United States is heart disease.

The Michigan Heart Association, the only voluntary health agency dedicated to conquering heart disease and stroke netted $226,00 last year.

Cole Porter in spotlight

Memories are something the Friends for the Development of Greenmead know a lot about.

The group spends all its time and energies trying to keep them alive by funding restoration work at the historical complex at Greenmead, the 100-acre site of the city of Livonia owns at the corner of Eight Mile and Newburgh roads.

Through a series of gala benefits, the Friends have raised $18,000 for restoration in the village that will have as its main focal point the re-created hamlet of Newburgh that once existed at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Newburgh roads.

The Friends' current target is the Newburgh Methodist Church. Restoration of the stately landmark is scheduled to be completed later this year.

In the past, the Friends' fund-raisers have been a combination of a fashion show and dinner at various locations.

This year the Friends have chosen to forego fashions and substitute nostalgia in the form of a snappy Broadway-style revue.

There will still be dinner — but it will be done in combination with a light-hearted, breezy musical, "An Evening with Cole Porter," performed by the Detroit Repertory Theatre.

The dinner show will be held April 30 at the Livonia Holiday Inn-West on Six Mile at I-696 expressway.

Tax deductible tickets will be priced at $27.50 per person. Reservations are being handled by Shirley Dodge at 464-6159; Pat Mies, 422-0944; or Kay Taylor, 464-9698.

How to keep trim and fit

Trimming up for spring once a week could be enough to keep students motivated, according to Lark Samouelian.

General beginning and advanced classes are offered at the Plymouth Hilton, Monday through Thursday evenings and include one hour of exercise and one hour of swimming, sauna and whirl pool.

Coed trim-and-tone exercise classes for advanced students are 7-9 p.m. Mondays and for beginners 8-10 p.m., Tuesday and Wednesday classes for general to advanced students are 7-9 p.m. Thursday classes for advanced students are from 7-9 p.m. and 8-10 p.m. for beginners.

Beginners, Samouelian said, are those individuals who are just learning how to exercise while general students usually are those who have a basic knowledge of exercise and have been in the program before. People who exercise everyday would belong to the advanced group.

"Every exercise tones every part of the body. The total effect is that one could lose 2-4 inches in 10-12 weeks and 10 pounds, Samouelian said.

Over 200 people belong to Samouelian's coed and trim-and-tone exercise program which has run since January.

Those interested in participating in exercise may register now by calling Samouelian at 455-2317. Fees are $250 per evening or $25 for one evening a week for 10 weeks.

Samouelian admits her reasons for beginning and continuing the exercise program. "I'm doing this because I have to exercise myself. My life is very stressful as a mother, wife and career woman. This helps me keep mentally fit and helps me deal with today's pressures."

Antique show is set for Crisler

The Michigan Antique Show and Sale featuring Michigan paintings and rare Pilgrim furniture will be held April 8-10 at Crisler Arena in Ann Arbor.

In its ninth year, the three-day show presents 65 exhibitors from 20 states showing 18th and early 19th century antiques, both country and high style.

Peter Eaton, a New England dealer who specializes in early Pilgrim furniture, said interest in early American furniture has been increasing in the last three to four years. "Some very strong collectors are developing in Michigan, Wisconsin and the Midwest."

Anthony Werneke, a collector from New York, explains his interest in country furniture. "I like furniture from New England and Pennsylvania of cherry and maple, made by skilled rural cabinetmakers."

In addition to furniture, paintings and portraits will be displayed by Buzz Griffith.

Pottery, porcelain, printed and engraved materials relating to the exploration, history and discovery of America will be exhibited. Arader's maps, glass, medical and scientific instruments will also be on display.

Shows April 8 and 9 are from 11 a.m. until 9 p.m., and April 10 from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $3.50. The University of Michigan Crisler Arena is located at Main Street and Stadium Boulevard, one mile north of I-94 at the Saline Road exit.

Speech contest winners announced

Local winners have been announced for the girls' speech contest sponsored by the Plymouth Optimists earlier this month in the First United Methodist Church. The topic for the contest was "Serve With Pride."

Optimist International first sponsored the oratorical contest in 1928. Developed as an activity that would foster self-improvement of the contestants, the oratorical contest has gained wide acceptance by Optimist clubs across the United States and Canada.

Participants were from the public and private middle schools in Plymouth-Canton. First place went to Deveny Deck from Central Middle School. Second place was awarded to Robin Iler from Lowell Middle School and third place went to Debbie Graham from Plymouth Christian Academy.

Medallions inscribed by Bluford Jewelers of Plymouth were given to the winners. Deveny Deck from Central Middle School will represent this area at the district finals.

All first-place district winners will receive a scholarship of $700. Scholarships must be used within 12 years of their effective date.

William Baugartner, an instructor in electronics and Optimistic club member, chaired this year's event.

Three judges officiated, Tom Healy, a Plymouth attorney; Les Mayes, an instructor of speech at Schoolcraft College; and Ann Sullivan, a member of the Oral Majority group of Plymouth Toastmasters.

The Optimist Club, a local service organization is involved with several community projects. For example, the Optimist Club offers scholarships, works at the Plymouth Center for Human Development and sponsors the pet show for the Fall Festival in Plymouth.

A miniature slant-lid desk on bracket base. An unusual form in original condition, the interior contains nine compartments. New England pine piece from about 1730-50.

HEADACHES AND YOUR TEETH

So, you've had headaches for most of your adult life. You've even taken them for granted and even assumed that they are a part of your normal life. Don't feel alone. Adults go on for years and years experiencing headaches on a routine basis feeling that because they are so routine, they must be normal. Often, these headache victims have seen physicians who may have diagnosed their symptoms as being caused by stress and treat it with pain medication or tranquilizers.

Well, it's possible that your headaches may be due an improper bite. Possibly, the place you should be for treatment is your dentist's office. These headaches are often muscle strain headaches and if the improper bite (called a malocclusion) is properly treated then the muscles of the jaw can then relax. You may be able to look forward to normal days without headaches in your future.

State's Audubon Library moved to SC in 1979

(Part XLVI)

In July 1979, by act of the Michigan Legislature, the number of trustees on the Schoolcraft College board was reduced from eight to seven.

There had been seven on the first board in 1961. The number had risen to eight when Northville joined the college district in 1963.

Prior to the decision by the Legislature, the Schoolcraft board had lobbied at Lansing for a board of nine. Its aim was to give more opportunity for representation by the less populated school districts. But the Legislature chose to go back to seven, principally because that is the size of other community college boards in the state.

past and present

The June 1979 trustee election was both partisan and close. Nancie Blatt of Livonia was re-elected to six-year term. Michael Burley, a Northville school administrator who lives in Canton Township, won the other six-year term. Richard Hayward of Livonia, an incumbent (by appointment), won a two-year term.

As in preceding years, the race was non-partisan in name only. Democrats and Republicans lined up behind their favorite candidates. Blatt won handily, but Burley and Hayward squeaked by on slight margins. First returns showed that Burley beat Livonia attorney Robert Ficano by a scant 27 votes, and Hayward defeated Thomas S. Moore of Northville by only one vote of the more than 8,000 cast.

A recount was requested. In July, the Wayne County Board of Canvassers confirmed the elections of Burley and Hayward, indicating that Burley had actually won by 26 votes and Hayward by three.

THE COLLEGE'S BUDGET for fiscal 1979-80, which began July 1, was $12.8 million. The property tax levy, including a sum for debt retirement, was $2.06 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

In September, even after all of the millage defeats, the board of trustees found sufficient money to go ahead with the long-planned expansion of the college's culinary arts facility. However, the $1.5-million addition had to be scaled down to one-story from the two-story plan which had been on the boards for years.

The local share of the money ($638,000) was from an 11-year-old bond issue. The money had been invested while the board lobbied for state funding which now seemed assured. The expansion was expected to allow the college to double the number of culinary arts students it trained.

In October 1979 Tim Richard, editorial page editor of the Observer Newspapers, whose excellent coverage for many years has provided readers with much insight into Schoolcraft College activities, put into words the views of others in the district about the reluctance of voters to approve funds to finance a fine arts building and auditorium on the college campus.

"We're getting only part of the value of a college — classroom instruction — and shortchanging ourselves in the arts," he wrote. Regretting that the voters had said no to anything but teaching facilities, Richard reminded his readers of the cultural advantages Wayne State University provided the Detroit area with its Hillberry classic and Bonstelle theaters, and the University of Michigan provided the Ann Arbor area with its Hill Auditorium, its Power Center for the Performing Arts, and its Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, all open to the public.

IN OCTOBER it was announced that the Michigan Audubon Society's official reference library had been moved to Schoolcraft College.

Located in the biology department, the collection, which had been at Central Michigan University, includes periodicals dating to the early 1900s and many books covering a large range of natural history and conservation studies.

The library is open to society members, educators, students and others on a contact basis. The agreement bringing the collection to Schoolcraft provided for it to be at the college for at least five years.

A new director of labor relations to succeed the late John F. Graves was appointed during the same month. Michael Petrack, selected from a field of 59 candidates, had been director of personnel for the city of Southfield. He holds bachelor of arts and master of labor and industrial relations degrees from Michigan State University.

The Schoolcraft College Foundation elected a new president in November. Livonia attorney Robert Thompson succeeded Leroy Bennett as head of the non-profit organization established to raise endowment funds and accept private donations or deferred giving for the objects and purposes of the college.

At year end, Dr. Nelson Grote's salary was raised from $49,500 to $53,000. Board chairman Harry Greenleaf said the raise was comparable to what persons in the administrators bargaining unit had obtained previously.

Grand Lady remembered

Scenes which live on forever

When a fellow has the good fortune to travel for years along life's highway there are many scenes, even though there is just an instant look, that will live with him forever.

This was brought to The Stroller's attention the other evening when he was asked which scene he saw on his many journeys he remembered best of all.

Well, what a question that was, but it didn't take long to furnish what to his listeners was a most surprising answer.

To hold their attention The Stroller started listing the places he had been and what he remembered about each spot. There was the sight of the fishing boats coming in on Long Island Sound years ago when the members of the finny tribe were dumped on the dock and sold for a penny a pound.

There was his first sight of the breaking waves up the New England Coast, the Corn Palace in Mitchell, South Dakota, where the entire exterior of the building was done in corn cobs.

There was the arrival of the banana boats on the docks at New Orleans, the

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

first sight of the muddy Mississippi and the pictured rocks in the Upper Peninsula.

With them The Stroller listed the great sight of the River Thames in London, England, where he stood outside of the Westminster Abbey and looked across at Big Ben and the parliament building. With that came the memory of the ride down through the black forest in Germany.

WHAT ABOUT your trip to Hawaii, he was asked. And the question brought back memories of the emotional departure from Honolulu when the travelers tossed their leis into the water while the Hawaiians strummed "Farewell to Thee."

And on the way to the Pacific islands there was the stop at Mt. Rushmore. Here The Stroller sat in awe of those faces carved in the rock of the mountains.

But as these scenes came rolling back there was one that stood out among the others. And it lasted only a few moments.

It was the sight of the Statue of Liberty in the New York harbor late at night.

It so happened The Stroller was in New Jersey and his plane reservation was at the Kennedy airport in New York. On inquiry he was told his only hope to make his return flight was to take the helicopter.

He did. And when we were high in the air — in utter darkness on a Saturday night, over the speaker came the word, "You folks can get a good look at the Statue of Liberty on the left as we pass in a few moments."

It seems almost like a flash when he sped on and the pilot turned his spotlight on the statue. There she was — the grand lady holding her light as a sign of welcome to the folks from the old country who were coming to live in America.

IN THAT INKY darkness this Grand Old Lady looked better than ever before. The Stroller had seen her from a boat in the harbor and on distance from shore.

As he looked out the window of the helicopter. The Stroller developed a huge lump in his throat. And even now, after all these years, that sight of the Statue of Liberty on a dark night, high in the air stands out as the most memorable of all he had seen along the way.

To the editor:

As recent employees of Canton township's treasurer's department, we wish to express our concern about certain occurrences in the township building pertaining to our recent employment there.

Our jobs were terminated as of March 16, 1983, despite only a few weeks of work left from the current tax season. We were hired on as full-time temporaries, and, as our 120 days were over, we were terminated, in spite of our employer, Maria Sterlini's steadfast requests for the clerical union to extend our time of stay. Illogical and ignorant as it seems, the clerical union found her request "unsuitable," and this Ms. Sterlini was forced to hire new employees to finish our work, of which they had no prior knowledge or experience.

We find all of this very difficult to comprehend, as all of us were "excellent" workers and "very personable" women, as publicly stated by supervisor James Poole at the March 8, 1983 board meeting. Incongruously, it was also at that meeting that Mr. Poole flatly refused Ms. Sterlini's request for a five percent, or seventeen cent an hour raise for us, stating it was unfeasible at the time. We suppose it must have seemed difficult to raise the minimum wage of six female tax aides after you've just given a six thousand dollar raise to the male director of finance the previous month.

Ms. Sterlini went out of her way to extend our time of stay and obtain a raise for us, all to no avail. Her repeated attempts at communicating with the supervisor and the clerical union failed. No one, it would seem, tried to co-operate with her, or really cared regarding the best interests of her department. How logical or intelligent is it for a union to terminate six tax aides, two or three weeks before their work is completed, thereby forcing the employer to hire completely new people to finish the job?

If this all seems to smack of petty and spiteful internal power struggles in the township building, you're getting the picture.

As non-union employees, from the very first day of work, we were ignored or given the "cold shoulder"; sarcastic and snide remarks were made within earshot, and all of us were generally show hostility for the entire length of our stay from union employees in every other department in the building. No one in township offices, except Maria Sterlini, the directors of the planning department, and the police department made us feel welcome or seemed genuinely please that we were working there.

We ourselves all got along extremely well together and with Ms. Sterlini, who was extremely well together and with Ms. Sterlini, who was extremely considerate, compassionate, and kind to us our entire stay. We all had an excellent rapport with her and a nicer "boss" couldn't be found anywhere, or for that matter, a nicer person.

As for some members of the other township offices, they should be heartily ashamed of themselves and how unkindly they treated us. It only reflected badly on themselves. They did their best to humiliate and alienate us, but they did not succeed.

We feel she has been unjustly and maliciously maligned and humiliated in the local papers and at township board meetings add nauseam. It's about time she was applauded for all the money she has brought to this township regarding her wise investing of taxes and other township revenues.

Here's to an exceptionally intelligent, courageous, warm, and wonderful woman named Maria Sterlini whom we have grown to love and admire very much. Our praise is well-deserved.

Reject pay hikes — Law

The Legislature will have another chance to reject pay increases for the state's top officials if a bill recently introduced becomes law.

State Rep. Gerald H. Law, R-Plymouth, has co-sponsored legislation extending the date by which the Legislature can reject the pay recommendations of the State Officers Compensation Commission (SOCC).

Under provisions of the bill, the Michigan House and Senate would have until June 21 to overturn the scheduled 1984 pay increase for lawmakers, the governor, and Supreme Court justices. The Feb. 1 deadline for rejection provided in the present law passed without the House taking up the issue.

"I think it is inappropriate for legislators to accept a pay increase at the very time they are talking about increasing the people's tax bill," said Law, whose 36th District includes Canton.

"The two issues are, in my opinion, in conflict. We simply can't expect the citizens of this state to dig into their pockets if part of their sacrifice goes right back into our's."

"When the House took no action on the pay raise, I decided the issue should not drop. The only way we can prevent this pay increase from going into effect is to change the deadline. This bill may never come to a vote, but the people deserve accountability from their elected representatives. I believe this is an important first step."

THE SALARY increase are a small part of the state's total budget, said Law, but rejecting them would signal the state's determination to cut costs.

"With so many hundreds of thousands of men and women out of work, I think it is unfeeling to seek our own rewards. A pay increase at this time would be a serious blow to the fragile confidence people have in state government."

Upon recommendation of the SOCC, the present $31,000 salary for lawmakers would increase to $33,200 in 1984, the governor's pay would rise from $70,000 to $78,000, the lieutenant governor from $50,000 to $53,000, and the justices from $69,000 to $74,000.

Payne captures 1st Golden Gloves title

Craig Payne national champ

By Brad Emons staff writer

"We did it!" exclaimed coach Paul Soucy late Saturday night after Livonia's Craig Payne captured his first National Golden Gloves super-heavy-weight crown in Albuquerque, N.M.

Payne, 21, a runner-up the past year in the U.S. Amateur and Golden Gloves championships, won the title by beating 16-year-old Mike Tyson of New York in a decision.

"It was one of Craig's toughest fights ever — brutal," Soucy said. "This kid (Tyson) is an up-and-comer."

In Friday's semifinals, Payne turned back Nathaniel Fitch of Hawaii, while Tyson upset defending champ Warren Thompson of Baltimore, Md.

Payne's victory also gave Michigan the team title. Three other Detroit-area fighters won crowns. "Craig was looking like the old Craig here," Soucy said. "But we're going to have to get him even tougher. He'll be going to Cuba next week as part of the U.S. boxing team."

The Livonia boxer bounced back after a pair of sluggish performances last month in Europe. Although he was practicing at the Olympic Training Camp in Colorado Springs, his weight ballooned near 230 pounds.

He then returned home and has been training under Soucy and Dick Quilton at the Livonia Boxing Club.

Payne advanced through the ranks with two wins last Tuesday night, decisioning A.B. Lamb of Texas and forcing Derwin Harris of Grand Rapids out of contention with a dislocated shoulder. The next night Payne won his quarterfinal berth with a decision over Wes Smith of Tennessee.

Follow the bouncing ball. Sounds simple, doesn't it? But you've got to know what to do with it when you reach it.

Those are the basic ingredients in volleyball. It becomes far more complex, of course. Teamwork, striking power and leaping ability are some of the key ingredients every volleyball contingent needs to succeed.

In the Observer area this past season, there were several teams that had the right combinations in abundant doses. And the players who helped their teams attain such lofty status are those who have been chosen by the area's coaches to the 1983 All-Area Girls' Volleyball Team.

The coaches selected two nine-member teams. It was not an easy selection process. Several of the girls honored will continue playing volleyball in the years ahead, recipients of college scholarships.

Here are the players the coaches voted to honor.

FIRST TEAM

Julie Burton, Redford Bishop Borgess — An All-Catholic League selection, Burton, a senior, was a solid all-around performer at both the net and in the back row. This is Burton's third year on the All-Area squad.

Borgess coach Jerry Abraham called Burton "a very intelligent hitter/blocker and an excellent back-row player." The Spartan co-captain also excels in the classroom — she carries a 3.8 GPA and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Johna Gambotto, Redford Bishop Borgess — Gambotto shared both co-captain duties and all-around volleyball ability with Burton on a Borgess team that ran up a 51-6 record, including a Catholic League championship.

Gambotto, a senior who has a 3.4 GPA, was a "powerful left side hitter/blocker," Abraham said. Her ability earned her a spot on the All-Catholic League team. She will continue to play volleyball next season at Central Michigan University.

Kim Halkey, Livonia Franklin — The senior co-captain was an All-Area pick and was a member of the All-Northwest Suburban League's (NSL) second team last year. Hard work paid off for Halkey; she was a first team All-NSL choice this season.

An excellent setter, digger and passer, Halkey was a 93 percent server, including 45 aces.

Dhana Ponnors, Livonia Stevenson — What Ponnors contributed to Stevenson's program is best described by coach Lee Cagle: "She led our team with her enthusiasm, consistent play and desire to win. Her outstanding setting and defense will be a standard for all future Spartans."

Ponnors, a senior, was the team Most Valuable Player and a two-time All-NSL choice.

Amy Livsey, Redford Union — Livsey filled the middle hitter position for RU and reaped All-Area and All-NSL honors in each of the past two seasons. The 5-foot-8 senior co-captain was "very quick and aggressive, effectively mixed hard hits with tips to keep the defense off balance," according to coach Jim Gibbons.

Livsey compiled 85 aces during the season. Next year, she will play at Eastern Michigan University.

Julie Barden, Redford Union — Barden, a senior, was on the All-League and All-NSL second teams a year ago. She made the jump to first team in both this season.

A 5-3 senior setter, Barden was called an "excellent server and setter, cool under pressure," by Gibbons. Barden called the offense for the Panthers.

Patricia Wang, Livonia Bentley — Wang contributed to Bentley's success by providing "a stable force on the court both offensively and defensively," according to Bulldog coach Dana Hardwidge.

Wang, a senior hitter, was an All-Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) selection and was named to the All-Tournament team at the Schoolcraft Invitational. She was Bentley's MVP for the season.

Susan Trembath, Livonia Churchill — Trembath's quick feet and excellent hands made her a natural for the setter's position. Her aggressiveness in getting to the ball helped her take full advantage of her talents.

A senior co-captain, Trembath played middle back on defense, which Charger coach Michael Hughes called "the most important spot for an aggressive player." Her serving was superb — she served six or more points in five contests this season. Trembath was an All-WLAA pick.

Teri Evans, Livonia Churchill — The senior middle hitter "hits smart down the line and moves with great intelligence on offense," according to Hughes.

An All-WLAA Western Division choice, Evans was a tough server who collected six or more points in nine games for the Chargers this season.

SECOND TEAM

Jacque Merrifield, Plymouth Salem — The 5-foot-7 senior was the Rocks' most consistent hitter and was a team leader for coach Jeannie Martin.

Merrifield was named to the Western Lakes All-Conference team.

She is best known for her talents on the basketball court where she reaped a berth in the coaches' All-Star game this June. Recently was recognized as an honorable mention All-American in USA Today.

Beth Wesman, Livonia Churchill — Wesman, a senior, filled two roles for the Chargers this season. Her normal position was as an outside hitter, but she had "excellent hands," according to Hughes, which led to some duty as a second setter when the team needed it.

An aggressive defender, Wesman "played superbly down the stretch in the struggle for the league championship," Hughes said, a battle Churchill won with an 8-0 mark. Wesman was at All-WLAA Western Division pick.

Carolyn Smith, Livonia Franklin — Despite her sophomore status, Smith showed "tremendous quickness and agility and was a hard worker," in the opinion of coach John Miltz.

Smith was a 92 percent server. She piled up 39 aces and 101 kills en route to All-NSL honors.

Angela Porter, Livonia Bentley — Porter was "an asset offensively because of her mobility, setting ability and great court sense," coach Hardwidge said.

Voted Bentley's Most Improved Player, Porter, a senior setter, showed steady improvement throughout the season and developed into a controlling force on the court, according to her coach.

Denise Wright, Plymouth Canton — An All-WLAA selection, Wright excelled as a setter for the Chiefs.

"Her strengths are that she is very aggressive, she's a good hustler, and she made excellent placement on her sets," said Canton coach Rick Solarz, who called the senior the team's best player.

Kellie Szabo, Redford Union — The 5-9 junior's hitting prowess made her a second-team All-NSL pick this season.

A "good athlete," Szabo developed into an "excellent hitter and served tough in key situations all year," coach Gibbons said.

Linda Loeffler, Livonia Stevenson — Loeffler's "hard work during the pre-season paid off for the Spartans," coach Cagle said.

An All-WLAA Lakes Division choice, Loeffler provided strong all-around play.

A setter, Loeffler is the player Cagle plans to build the team around next season.

Megan McCarthy, Redford Bishop Borgess — McCarthy joined teammates Burton and Gambotto as a first-team All-Catholic selection. A senior setter, McCarthy was the team quarterback.

"She is a fine leader and a great floor general," coach Abraham said. McCarthy is also a National Honor Society member with a 3.8 GPA.

Cindy Isenegger, Redford Thurston

— Isenegger was Thurston's MVP this season and was twice named to the All-NSL second squad.

A "very aggressive player," according to coach Chris Wandyg, Isenegger "will hustle for any ball. She's smart and will try and catch the other team off guard," Wandyg said, adding "She does not give up."

New Titan cage coach plans to build within

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Dewayne Jones, the highly successful Oakland University coach who recently quit that school to take over the troubled women's basketball program at the University of Detroit, is a man of principle.

He won't borrow from Peter to pay Paul, or, in this case, take players from the talented bunch he coached at Oakland as a quick fix for a U-D team that went 7-20 last season and is returning 12 of 13 players.

One might expect Jones to bring along a player or two from Oakland — after all, coaches going from junior colleges to four-year schools or from Division II to Division I often take their stars with them. The players already know the coaching system, and it helps limit recruiting pressures.

But Jones, who coached the Lady Pioneers to a 23-4 season and a spot in the Division II playoffs, won't go that route.

"NO, I HAVEN'T encouraged any of the Oakland players to transfer over," said Jones from his U-D office. "It's not my way to take players from one situation to another."

people in sports

"It's best they stay at Oakland. . . I wouldn't do that; I wouldn't put Oakland in a position of taking their team away."

"And I wouldn't put the onus on us, have the stigma with our players here at Detroit. I'm not going to bring some players in here who have played for me for two years. That wouldn't make for a good situation."

Which means he is going to have to rebuild U-D through recruiting, though at this late date, many of the top high school seniors have already been wooed and won by other universities.

"It's been really hectic," said Jones of his first week with the Lady Titans. "We gotta schedule and recruit, that's the main thing."

"Our scheduling and recruiting is of the utmost importance. And in the meantime, you've got to meet with the players, become familiar with the university, you know, procedures and things."

JONES, WHO HAS been coaching women for five of the eight years he's been a coach, admits it might be nice to coach the men in Division I some day, but he isn't using the U-D women's program as a stepping stone.

"I don't look to leave here and go coach men's Division I or go coach men's Division II or anything like that. I just want to make the most of the job while I'm here."

"I don't have my eyes set on anything beyond that. My job right now is to get the program here back to what it was."

In many ways, coaching women is more rewarding than coaching men, Jones said.

"To me, they're more willing to take instructions, take directions. You can ask them to do things, and they'll go ahead and do it, and you don't have to give them 55 reasons why."

"And they'll execute as well as they can, (though) you can do more with the guys as far as technical things on the floor."

BESIDES RECRUITING and scheduling, Jones is finagling as much of a budget and as many scholarships as he can from Brad Kinsman, the U-D athletic director.

COLLEGE NOTES

Bishop Borgess graduate Greg Brake compiled a 2-0 pitching record during Western Michigan University's 13-game spring baseball swing Feb. 25 to March 6 in Lakeland, Fla.

The junior left-hander achieved wins over Eastern Michigan (18-2) and 1982 NCAA Division II champion Florida Southern (6-3). He allowed only two earned runs in 18 innings, making three appearances.

Lisa Buchholz of Redford Township and Cindy Williams of Westland are vying for starting berths in the outfield and second base, respectively, for the Ferris State College softball squad.

Last year, the Bulldogs rode 16-game winning streak all the way to NCAA Division II National Softball Championships, where they finished seventh.

Bonanza, lady pros gain national respect

Detroit-area bowlers are making a name for themselves on the national tournament circuit.

Last week the two youngest stars in the ladies' major league, Aleta Rzepecki and Cheryl Daniels, walked off with a sizable portion of the prize money in the Pro Ladies first tournament of the year at Fort Pierce, Fla., while Johnny Ruggerio's Bonanza team, bowled its way to third place in the American Bowling Congress spectacle at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Rzepecki made it to the television finals of the ladies' event but lost a heartbreaker in their first match when her 194 count was not good enough. She finished sixth and took home $1,000. Meanwhile Cheryl Daniels landed 20th place in the qualifying and earned $625.

Ruggerio's, battling for first place in the men's all-star leagues, rolled a 3109 count, five pins out of second place in the ABC. Keeping company with the Bonanza team in the top 10 standings is the Goebel team of the all-star league. It is in sixth place with 3064.

HERE'S SOMETHING NEW: There were so many 700 series in the Wonderland Classic that not all of them were reported.

"We had 14 of them" Bill Bashara said, "but reporting the two leaders will be sufficient. They were Jack Bohn with a 277 in 748 and Fred Ringrose with a 258 middle game in 742."

This was not a record pin spilling as the sharp shooters posted 16 series above the barrier-breaking 700 several weeks ago.

On the ladies' side, Donna Harrin paced in St. Michaels group with a 232 in 613, and Betty Hoerner had 624 in the senior house loop.

In the pocket by W.W. Edgar

WESTLAND BOWL only one 700 was posted during the week as the sharpshooters let down. The lone barrier breaker was rolled by Jim Bowman in the tri-city league with 235 in 657.

WOODLAND LANES Lynn Vail, bowling in the Great Scott league, stole the show when she converted the "impossible" 4-6-7-10. Scoring honors for the week went to Mike Rose with a 290 in 741 in the men's trio league. The high single was a 277 in 666 by Tim Henry.

MERRI-BOWL Frank Zaidel had an odd series but wound up with 686 to lead the men's league. He opened with 241, dropped to 179 and closed with 256. Pat Lynd was next with 656 and Frank Ringrose landed third with 650.

SUPER BOWL Scott Kraft went on the honor with a 704 that included a 267 game. Sandy Harms went 170 pins over his average with a 278 game in a 653 series.

GARDEN LANES Ed Margalski topped the scorers in the St. Vinus loop with a 257 in 685 and beat Cecil Towne by 19 pins

PLAZA LANES Dave Kauppi continued his high scoring in the business and industrial league with a 668, made possible by a 249 middle game. Tom Wood opened with 245 and took second place with 649.

Pee Wee icers win marathon title game

Playing another day was well worth the time for a group of Pee Wee (ages 12-15) girls from Livonia.

That's because a state hockey title was on the line and Livonia came out the victor Tuesday night for the third straight year with a 2-1 victory over Royal Oak at the Lincoln Park Arena.

Livonia now advances to the national tournament April 8-10 in Taylor.

The two teams battled to a 1-1 tie through three overtime periods on Sunday before play was suspended, forcing Michigan Amateur Hockey Association (MAHA) officials to replay the entire game on Tuesday.

Elaine Woodcock, a defenseman, scored an unassisted goal for Livonia in the first period. Teammate Renee DeLuis then scored what proved to be the game-winner in the second period as Elizabeth Hedwick and Vicki Renfer draw assists. ROYAL OAK closed the gap with a power-play goal in the final period, but Livonia net-minder Nancy Huffman was able to hold off the opposition the rest of the way. She allowed only three goals the entire tournament.

The state champs, coached by Paul Dugan and Bill Schumaker, opened tournament action March 19 with a 5-0 win over Lincoln Park followed by a 4-1 triumph over Royal Oak.

Livonia then routed Garden City, 5-0, in the semifinal. Other members of the state championship team include Nicole Aloe, Kim Godfrey, Dana Dinkins, Anna Quenneville, Carey Aitkens, Joanne Schumaker, Tracey Henderson, Marcie Walker and Dana Dugan.

The team won the Inter-City Girls crown with a 22-3-4 record.

Arctic Window cagers seal off Bench Pub

Plymouth men's basketball champ Arctic Window Replacement clinched the district parks and recreation title on March 23 with a 90-76 win over a Livonia squad.

Arctic Window Replacement took on Livonia champ Bench Pub in district playoff action in Plymouth's Central Middle School gym.

The Plymouth team jumped out in front with a 12-0 first-quarter lead before the Bench Pub squad connected with two points of its own. Arctic's Marty Peck then let loose with a six-point scoring spree to widen the gap.

Arctic players saw their lead cut to six points in the second quarter as Bench Pub's Tom Marsh hit for 10 points.

With 3:28 left in the period Bob Mason connected on a pair of foul shots to put Arctic up by eight points. Before the buzzer, Mason hit a field goal and two more from the free throw line, to end the half with Arctic leading 44-28.

RAY MANDLE Kicked off the second half with a bucket for Arctic. His brother Rob followed with three more baskets.

Firestone Pro-Am berth up for grabs

On April 2 an area adult league bowler will win a berth in the 1983 Firestone Pro-Am Tournament.

For the past two weeks bowlers have been vying for a chance to play in the tournament. But at the same time, they've been helping the Boys' and Girls' Clubs of Metro Detroit.

This year the Professional Bowlers' Association (PBA) donated one of its two guaranteed positions in the tournament, to help Boys' and Girls' Clubs raise funds.

PBA regional representative Bob Strampe and Chuck and Skip Walby of Walby Enterprises in Troy then set up a charity bowling tournament. The tourney was held at seven metro Detroit Walby locations, March 14-27. Each entry netted $1 for the Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

TOP MEN and women bowlers from each location will now compete in the roll-off April 2.

The eventual winner will receive an entry in the Firestone Pro-Am tournament April 19, travel and lodging expenses, a PBA commemorative and gift certificate and two tickets to the Firestone Tournament of Champions.

For more information on the roll-off, contact Keith Bankowitz at 894-8500.

Joubert does in Southfield

Jays fail to pass Detroit Judge-ment

By Tom Boer
staff writer

It was a tale of two players — Detroit Southwestern's Antoine Joubert and Southfield's Joey Walton.

Joubert, otherwise known as The Judge and Michigan's Mr. Basketball, played yet another superb game to lead the Detroiters to an 81-57 victory over Southfield in the state Class A high school cage semifinal showdown Friday at Michigan State University.

When Joubert left the court with about three minutes left to play and 44 points (six shy of a tournament record) to his credit, a big chunk of the capacity crowd of 10,004 drifted toward the Jenison Fieldhouse exits. The great Antoine was the man they came to see.

The 6-foot-5 senior superstar dazzled the big crowd, hitting the long-range jumpers and showing some amazing moves inside. He was 17 of 30 from the field and 10 of 13 from the free-throw line.

By contrast, Walton, the Blue Jays' 5-foot-11 guard who averaged 18.6 points in six state tournament games, never touched the basketball.

Walton spent the afternoon on Southfield's bench, a pair of crutches nearby. His ailment: a badly sprained ankle suffered near the end of Southfield's quarterfinal victory over Sterling Heights Stevenson last Wednesday.

Without Walton's scoring punch and defense, Southfield was at a big disadvantage against Southwestern, the champions of the Detroit Public School League.

"I want you to understand I'm not making excuses," said Southfield coach Greg Sliwka, his voice husky at the post-game press conference, "but I'd really like to see what we could have done against this team with Joey in there."

"Poor kid. He went through three hours of physical therapy, and he cried when he couldn't play. And he was in real pain. Joey doesn't play around. He can take a lot of hurts, but not something like that."

ACTUALLY, SOUTHFIELD got an early boost from Walton's replacement, 6-3 senior Ray Kelsner, and streaked to a 16-12 lead after the opening quarter. Kelsner, the brother of former MSU and Piston star Greg Kelsner, scored six points in the first quarter and 14 in the second on his way to a team-high 22.

That second quarter turned into a shootout between Kelsner and Joubert, who caught fire and tossed in 15 points to stake Southwestern to a 39-32 halftime lead.

In the third quarter, Kelsner quieted down, but not Joubert. The Prospector superstar, who is headed for the University of Michigan, continued the shooting clinic with 17 more points.

The winners led, 65-44, after three quarters.

"Southwestern took us out of our game in the second half," Sliwka said. "It's hard playing catchup with a team like that, especially when one of your best people isn't playing."

But Joubert showed he can do more than just score. He hauled down seven rebounds, dished out four assists and came up with three steals.

"It was a typical Antoine Joubert game," said Southwestern coach Perry Watson. "His percentage or points I don't know. But you have to look at the intensity and the leadership. Those are the things you can't measure."

"Those are the things we needed, and those are the things he gave us."

During the early going, the task of guarding Joubert fell to senior Michael McCaskill, who is a good bet for all-state status after the season he's had.

"He (Joubert) played the best I've ever seen," Sliwka said, "simply because of the respect I have for Michael."

THE ONLY OTHER Prospector to score in double figures was substitute Chauncey Scott. The 6-3 junior had 11 points. Jamie Davis, a starting guard, contributed eight points, and 6-7 forward Clarence Jones had six.

Watson credited another sub, sophomore Sam Sillmon, with providing the defense that held the sometimes-explosive McCaskill to 15 points. "He (Sill-mon) is one heck of a defensive player," Watson said.

Southwestern shot 55.2 percent from the floor, hitting on 32 of 58. From the line, the Prospectors made 17 of 24. Southfield hit on 22 of 58 field goal attempts for 37.9 percent. The Jays were 13 of 21 from the line.

For Southfield, whose season ends at 24-3, it was the second-straight trip to the Class A semifinals — and the second-straight disappointment. Last season, Flint Central, the eventual Class A champion, knocked out the Jays on a 35-foot basket by Mark Harris at the buzzer.

The only two teams to beat Southfield during the regular season were Lansing Eastern in the second game and top-rated Saginaw back on Feb. 8. Through Friday, the only team to beat Southwestern was PSL-rival Detroit Kettering.

Flint Central, the two-time defending Class A state champion, was still alive in the tournament as of Friday, having beaten a good Kettering team, 57-56, in the other semifinal game at MSU.

Central was to have played Southwestern in the Class A final Saturday at the University of Michigan's Crisler Arena.

Asked for a prediction Friday, Sliwka answered: "Who could beat that team with Antoine on it? If anyone can, I want to be there to see it."

West Bloomfield Marathon set

Volunteers are needed to staff the West Bloomfield Half-Marathon, slated for 12:30 p.m. Sunday, April 17.

The success of the half-marathon depends on more than 100 volunteers who direct runners along the route, provide water at six aid stations and help out at registration and the finish line, according to Miriam Kaptur of West Bloomfield Parks and Recreation.

The race is co-sponsored this year by parks and recreation and Henry Ford Hospital's West Bloomfield Center.

Registered volunteers receive a free T-shirt and will be treated to an after-race dinner by Buddy's Pizza of Farmington Hills.

Anyone interested in volunteering should call Kaptur at 334-5660.

ENTRY FORMS for the race are available from West Bloomfield Parks and Recreation, 3325 Middlebelt. Deadline is 5 p.m. Wednesday, April 13.

Entry fee is $8 for individuals and $4 for teams vying for the Hospital Team Cup — open to teams from any hospital whose members meet eligibility requirements.

The race features five age divisions for men and women and is sanctioned for the first time by The Athletics Congress (TAC). All entrants receive T-shirts. Custom key chains go to the first 750 finishers.

The half-marathon, which starts and ends at West Bloomfield High School, is scheduled two weeks later this year in hopes of avoiding the 35 mph winds and 30-degree temperatures which characterized last year's race.

"We hope to find some runners entering as an alternative to the Boston Marathon, which will be running the following day," said race director Craig Monahan.

Last year's West Bloomfield Half Marathon drew 539 finishers from many parts of Michigan, as well as Ontario and Ohio. Dennis Kurtis of Livonia took top honors with a time of 1:12:13. Cynthia Poly of Keego Harbor led the women's division in 1:27:34.

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. A peace officer may, without a warrant, arrest a person when the peace officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person was, at the time of an accident, the driver of a vehicle involved in the accident and was operating the vehicle upon a public highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, in the City while in violation of this subsection or of Subsection (2).

(2) A person, whether licensed or not, whose blood contains 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol, shall not operate a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, within the City.

(3) The owner of a vehicle or a person in charge or in control of a vehicle shall not authorize or knowingly permit the vehicle to be operated upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of motor vehicles, within the City by a person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance.

(4) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person who is convicted of a violation of Subsection (1), (2), or (3) is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or a fine of not less than $100.00, nor more than $500.00, or both, together with costs of the prosecution. As part of the sentence for a violation of Subsection (1) or (2), the court shall order the Secretary of State to suspend the Operator's or Chauffeur's License of the person for a period of not less than six months nor more than two years. The court may order the Secretary of State to issue to the person a restricted license permitting the person during all or a specified portion of the period of suspension to drive only to and from the person's residence and work location, in the course of the person's employment or occupation; to and from an alcohol or drug education program or treatment program as ordered by the court; to and from the person's residence and an educational institution at which the person is enrolled as a student; or pursuant to a combination of these restrictions.

The court shall not order the Secretary of State to issue a restricted Chauffeur's License which would permit a person to operate a truck or truck tractor, including a trailer which hauls hazardous material.

The court shall not order the Secretary of State to issue a restricted license unless the person states under oath and the court finds that the person is unable to take public transportation to and from his or her work location, place of alcohol or drug education or treatment, or educational institution, and does not have any family members or others able to provide transportation. The court order and license shall indicate the person's work location and the approved route or routes and permitted times of travel. For purposes of this subsection, "work location" includes, as applicable, either or both of the following:

- (i) The specific place or places of employment.
- (ii) The territory or territories regularly visited by the person in pursuance of the person's occupation.

(5) A person who violates Subsection (1) or (2), a local ordinance, or a law of this State, substantially corresponding to Subsection (1) or (2) within seven years of a prior conviction may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both. As part of the sentence, the court shall order the Secretary of State to revoke the Operator's or Chauffeur's License of the person. For purposes of this section, "prior conviction" means a conviction under Subsection (1) or (2), a local ordinance, or a law of this State, substantially corresponding to Subsection (1) or (2), or a law of another State, substantially corresponding to Subsection (1) or (2).

(6) As part of the sentence for a violation of Subsection (1) or (2), the court may order the person to perform service to the community, as designated by the court, without compensation, for a period not to exceed 12 days. The person shall reimburse the State or appropriate local unit of government for the cost of insurance incurred by the State or local unit of government as a result of the person's activities under this subsection.

(7) Before imposing sentence for a violation of Subsection (1) or (2), the court shall order the person to undergo screening and assessment by a person or agency designated by the Office of Substance Abuse Services, to determine whether the person is likely to benefit from rehabilitative services, including alcohol or drug education and alcohol or drug treatment programs. As part of the sentence, the court may order the person to participate in and successfully complete one or more appropriate rehabilitative programs. The person shall pay for the costs of the screening, assessment, and rehabilitative services.

(8) Before accepting a plea of guilty under this section, the court shall advise the accused of the statutory consequences possible as a result of a plea of guilty in respect to suspension or revocation of an Operator's or Chauffeur's License, the penalty imposed for violation of this section, and the limitation on the right of appeal.

(9) The Operator's or Chauffeur's License of a person found guilty of violating Subsection (1) or (2) shall be surrendered to the court in which the person was convicted, and the court shall immediately forward the surrendered license and an Abstract of Conviction to the Secretary of State. The Abstract of Conviction shall indicate the sentence imposed. Upon receipt of, and pursuant to the Abstract of Conviction, the Secretary of State shall suspend or revoke the person's license, and, if ordered by the court and the person is otherwise eligible for a license, issue to the person a restricted license stating the limited driving privileges indicated on the Abstract. If the license is not forwarded to the Secretary of State, an explanation of the reason why the license is absent shall be attached. If the conviction is appealed to Circuit Court, that Court may, ex parte, order the Secretary of State to rescind the suspension, revocation, or restricted license issued pursuant to this section.

Section 5.15a This section is amended to read as follows:

Motor Vehicles: Driving Under Influence of Intoxicating Liquor; Test, Evidence.

(1) The amount of alcohol or presence of a controlled substance or both in the driver's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the person's blood, urine, or breath shall be admissible into evidence in a criminal prosecution for any of the following:

(a) A violation of Section 5.15(1), (2), or (3), or 5.15b.

(2) If a test is given, the results of the test shall be available to the person charged or the person's attorney upon written request to the prosecution, with a copy of the request filed with the court. The prosecution shall furnish the report at least two days before the day of the trial, and the results shall be offered as evidence by the prosecution in a criminal proceeding. Failure to fully comply with the request shall bar the admission of the results into evidence by the prosecution.

(3) Except in a prosecution relating solely to a violation of Section 5.15(2) the amount of alcohol in the driver's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the person's blood, urine, or breath shall give rise to the following presumptions:

(a) If there was at the time 0.7% or less by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(b) If there was at the time in excess of 0.07%, but less than 0.10% by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant's ability to operate a vehicle was impaired within the provisions of Section 5.15b due to the consumption of intoxicating liquor.

(c) If there was at the time 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(4) A sample or specimen of urine or breath shall be taken and collected in a reasonable manner. Only a licensed physician, or a licensed nurse or medical technician under the direction of a licensed physician and qualified to withdraw blood acting in a medical environment, at the request of a peace officer, may withdraw blood for the purpose of determining the amount of alcohol or presence of a controlled substance or both in the person's blood, as provided in this act. Liability for a crime or civil damages predicated on the act of withdrawing blood and related procedures shall not attach to a qualified person who withdraws blood or assists in the withdrawal in accordance with this act unless the withdrawal is performed in a negligent manner.

(5) The tests shall be administered at the request of a peace officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person has committed a crime described in Subsection (1). A person who takes a chemical test administered at the request of a peace officer, as provided in this section, shall be given a reasonable opportunity to have a person of his or her own choosing administer one of the chemical tests described in this section within a reasonable time after his or her detention, and the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant. If the person charged is administered a chemical test by a person of his or her own choosing, the person charged shall be responsible for obtaining a chemical analysis of the test sample. The person charged shall be informed that he or she has the right to demand that a person of his or her own choosing administer one of the tests provided for in Subsection (1), that the results of the test shall be admissible and shall be considered with other competent evidence in determining the innocence or guilt of the defendant, and that the person charged shall be responsible for obtaining a chemical analysis of the test sample.

(6) The person charged shall be advised that if the person refuses the request of a peace officer to take a test described in this section, a test shall not be given without a court order. The person charged shall also be advised that the person's refusal of the request of a peace officer to take a test described in this section shall result in the suspension of his or her Operator's or Chauffeur's License or operating privilege, and in the addition of six points to his or her driver record.

(7) This section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question of whether or not the person was impaired by or under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a controlled substance, or a combination of intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, or whether the person had a blood alcohol content of 0.10% or more by weight of alcohol.

(8) If a jury instruction regarding a defendant's refusal to submit to a chemical test under this section is requested by the prosecution or the defendant, the jury instruction shall be given as follows:

"Evidence was admitted in this case which, if believed by the jury, could prove that the defendant had exercised his or her right to refuse a chemical test. You are instructed that such a refusal is within the statutory rights of the defendant and is not evidence of his guilt. You are not to consider such a refusal in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant."

Section 5.15b. This section is amended to read as follows:

Impaired Driving.

(1) A person shall not operate a vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles, within the City when, due to the consumption of an intoxicating liquor, a controlled substance, or a combination of an intoxicating liquor and a controlled substance, the person has visibly impaired his or her ability to operate the vehicle. If a person is charged with violating Section 5.15(1) or (2), a finding of guilty is permissible under this section.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person convicted of a violation of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or a fine of not more than $300.00, or both, together with costs of the prosecution. As part of the sentence, the court shall order the Secretary of State to suspend the Operator's or Chauffeur's License of the person for a period of not less than 90 days nor more than one year.

The court may order the Secretary of State to issue to the person a restricted license permitting the person during all or a specified portion of the period of suspension to drive only to and from the person's residence and work location; in the course of the person's employment or occupation; to and from an alcohol or drug education program or treatment program as ordered by the court; to and from the person's residence and an educational institution at which the person is enrolled as a student; or pursuant to a combination of these restrictions.

The court shall not order the Secretary of State to issue a Restricted Chauffeur's License which would permit a person to operate a truck or truck tractor, including a trailer which hauls hazardous material. The court shall not order the Secretary of State to issue a restricted license unless the person states under oath and the court finds that the person is unable to take public transportation to and from his or her work location, place of alcohol or drug education or treatment, or educational institution, and does not have any family members or others able to provide transportation. The court order and license shall indicate the person's work location and the approved route or routes and permitted times of travel. For purposes of this subsection,

"work location" includes, as applicable, either or both of the following:

- (i) The specific place or places of employment.
- (ii) The territory or territories regularly visited by the person in pursuance of the person's occupation.

(3) A person who violates this section, a local ordinance, or a law of this State, substantially corresponding to this section within seven years of a prior conviction may be sentenced to imprisonment for not more than 90 days, or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both. As part of the sentence, the court shall order the Secretary of State to suspend the Operator's or Chauffeur's License of the person for a period of not less than six months nor more than 18 months. The court may order the Secretary of State to issue to the person a restricted license as provided in Subsection (2), except that a restricted license shall not be issued during the first 60 days of the suspension period. For purposes of this section, "prior conviction" means a conviction under this section, Section 5.15(1) or (2), a local ordinance, or a law of this State, substantially corresponding to this section or Section 5.15(1) or (2), or a law of another state substantially corresponding to this section or Section 5.15(1) or (2).

(4) As part of the sentence for a violation of this section, the court may order the person to perform service to the community, as designated by the court, without compensation, for a period not to exceed 12 days. The person shall reimburse the State or appropriate local unit of government for the cost of insurance incurred by the State or local unit of government as a result of the person's activities under this subsection.

(5) Before imposing sentence for a violation of this section, the court shall order the person to undergo screening and assessment by a person or agency designated by the Office of Substance Abuse Services, to determine whether the person is likely to benefit from rehabilitative services, including alcohol or drug education and alcohol or drug treatment programs. As part of the sentence, the court may order the person to participate in and successfully complete one or more appropriate rehabilitative programs. The person shall pay for the costs of the screening, assessment, and rehabilitative services.

(6) Before accepting a plea of guilty under this section, the court shall advise the accused of the statutory consequences possible as a result of a plea of guilty in respect to suspension or revocation of an Operator's or Chauffeur's License, the penalty imposed for violation of this section, and the limitation on the right of appeal.

(7) The Operator's or Chauffeur's License of a person found guilty of violating this section shall be surrendered to the court in which the person was convicted.

The court shall immediately forward the surrendered license and an Abstract of Conviction to the Secretary of State. The Abstract of Conviction shall indicate the sentence imposed. Upon receipt of and pursuant to the Abstract of Conviction, the Secretary of State shall suspend or revoke the person's license and, if ordered by the court and the person is otherwise eligible for a license, issue to the person a restricted license stating the limited driving privileges indicated on the Abstract. If the license is not forwarded to the Secretary of State, an explanation of the reason why the license is absent shall be attached. If the conviction is appealed to Circuit Court, that court may, ex parte, order the Secretary of State to rescind the suspension, revocation, or restricted license issued pursuant to this section.

All proceedings pending and all rights and liabilities existing, acquired, or incurred at the time this amendatory act takes effect are saved and may be consummated according to the law in force when they are commenced. This amendatory act shall not be construed to affect any prosecution pending or initiated before the effective date of this amendatory act, or initiated after the effective date of this amendatory act for an offense committed before that effective date.

Section 5.15c This section is amended to read as follows:

Implied Consent; Blood Sample from Killed Driver.

(1) A person who operates a vehicle upon a public highway or other place open to the general public including an area designated for the parking of vehicles in the City is considered to have given consent to chemical tests of his or her blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the amount of alcohol, or presence of a controlled substance, or both, in his or her blood if the person is arrested for a violation of Section 5.15(1) or (2) or 5.15b.

(2) A person who is afflicted with hemophilia, diabetes, or a condition requiring the use of an anticoagulant under the direction of a physician shall not be considered to have given consent to the withdrawal of blood.

(3) The tests shall be administered as provided in Section 5.15a

Section 5.15d. This section is amended to read as follows:

Right to Refuse Chemical Test.

If a person refuses the request of a peace officer to submit to a chemical test offered pursuant to Section 5.15a, a test shall not be given without a court order. A written report shall be forwarded to the Secretary of State by the peace officer. The report shall state that the officer had reasonable grounds to believe that the person had committed a crime described in Section 5.15c(1), and that the person had refused to submit to the test upon the request of the peace officer and had been advised of the consequences of the refusal. The form of the report shall be prescribed and furnished by the Secretary of State.

Section 5.15f. Suspend or Revoke; Hearing

This section is deleted.

Section 5.15h. This section is added and reads as follows:

Preliminary Chemical Breath Analysis.

(1) A peace officer who has reasonable cause to believe that a person was operating a vehicle upon a public highway or other place open to the general public, including an area designated for the parking of vehicles in the City, and that the person by the consumption of intoxicating liquor may have affected his or her ability to operate a vehicle, may require the person to submit to a preliminary chemical breath analysis.

(2) A peace officer may arrest a person based in whole or in part upon the results of a preliminary chemical breath analysis.

(3) The results of a preliminary chemical breath analysis shall be admissible in a criminal prosecution for a crime enumerated in Section 5.15a(1) or in an administrative hearing under MCLA 257.625f, solely to assist the court or hearing officer in determining a challenge to the validity of an arrest. This subsection does not limit the introduction of other competent evidence offered to establish the validity of an arrest.

(4) A person who submits to a preliminary chemical breath analysis shall remain subject to the requirements of Sections 5.15a, 5.15c, 5.15d of this ordinance and MCLA 257.625e, MCLA 257.625f for the purposes of chemical tests described in those sections.

(5) A person who refuses to submit to a preliminary chemical breath analysis upon a lawful request by a peace officer is responsible for a civil infraction.

(6) Section 5.15g shall apply to a preliminary chemical breath analysis.

Section 2. Severability. The various parts, sections and clauses of this ordinance are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of the ordinance shall not be affected thereby.
