2 acres of city land sought for local indoor soccer arena

Plans are being made to develop an indoor soccer arena in the city of Plymouth.

A local partnership, Plymouth Towne Club, has made a proposal to the city commission to buy two acres of city property adjacent to the DPW yard and invest some $800,000 in an indoor soccer facility.

The commission is being asked to approve the sale of the city-owned land and to set a public hearing on granting tax abatement of 50 percent for 12 years.

Attorney John Thomas, one of the partners, is spokesman for the developers in communications with the city.

Thomas has submitted a bid to buy the two acres alongside the DPW yard for $70,000, which was the asking price the city set when it decided to sell the land as part of its DPW renovation project. That portion of the site has not been used by the DPW, and the city administration hopes to use the $70,000 to help cover the cost of the DPW yard improvements.

EARLIER THE city anticipated its lots might be purchased by someone interested in developing the lots for light industrial use.

Thomas estimates that some $774,750 will be spent to build the indoor soccer facility, plus another $70,000 on site improvement.

Present plans call for construction of a 27,000-square-foot building and for the installation of astroturf and fiberglass hockey-type boards. "The basic building will feature a large open area for the soccer program," states Thomas. "This area could easily be converted into a warehouse or factory by removing the astroturf and hockey boards" should the demand for soccer facilities fall.

"The easy access of the site from the M-14 freeway and the easy link with I-275 and I-96 provide the needed access to all areas on the west side. There is one other facility in operation on the west side and it is located in the city of Farmington Hills (near Holiday Inn, Grand River and 10 Mile area)."

Thomas said Plymouth Towne Club has checked with nearby municipal recreation departments which have expressed a need and interest for an indoor soccer arena, and will help with the program start-up.

The developers hope to have site plans approved in July with construction beginning shortly afterwards. Construction would be finished toward the end of the year.

Thomas estimates about 15 construction jobs would be created and another 10 permanent jobs will result from the project.

Tax hike vote set for tonight

To help avert deficit

A "hybrid" tax increase of almost one mill might be approved tonight when the Plymouth City Commission adopts its 1984-85 budget.

The commission is expected to approve a property tax rate increase of 0.92 mills or 92 cents per $1,000 state equalized valuation (SEV). The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in commission chambers, upstairs of City Hall at Church and Main Streets.

"The proposed increase is a hybrid, a combination of two of the tax increase options we gave to the committee," said City Manager Henry Graper. Five options were outlined to the commission in study sessions and a public hearing held in April.

THE COMMISSION is being asked to approve a total city budget of $7.5 million for the fiscal year running July 1, 1984, through June 30, 1985. The budget reflects a $215,000 short-term, one-year deficit, part of which would be erased through the millage increase.

Additional funds needed to close the deficit would come from general fund monies and federal revenue sharing funds.

Graper said the shortfall stemmed from three sources. One source is the $127,500 the city had to pay for two lawsuits. The second is the $52,000 in revenues the city lost when it stopped levying a 1 percent tax collection fee.

The third money loss stems from the $35,000 the city paid to buy back bonds sold to fund the Central Parking Lot deck.

The city's current tax levy is 17.25 mills or $17.25 per $1,000 of SEV. Because the city is under its charter limit, the commission can increase the millage rate without a vote of the people.

THE RESOLUTION before the Commission tonight asks for a 18.17 millage rate.

The proposed millage is broken down as follows: 12.81 mills for general fund expenses; 2.13 mills for refuse disposal; 1.76 mill for debt retirement; 1 mill for the Dunning-Hough Library; and 0.45 for legal expenses.

The budget shows $4.59 million slotted for general fund expenses; $234,710 for the street fund; $199,760 for federal revenue sharing fund; $52,360 for general debt service fund; $106,735 for debt retirement fund; $1.2 million for water and sewer system; $324,675 library fund; $534,965 for equipment fund; and $76,855 for special assessment fund.

Graper originally gave the commission five options to consider in erasing the deficit. One was an outright 1.5-mill increase, which would have erased the whole deficit. Another, needing no tax hike, juggled money from various city and federal funds.

Options three through five called for millage hikes of 0.6, 0.4 and 0.47 respectively.

Graper said he gave the commission a number of options because he realized they would have a tough time voting for the full 1.5 mills.

Teachers cancel school art show

Art Work made this year by students in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools will not be displayed this June in the annual "Artfest" held in Kellogg Park.

Due to recent budgetary and program cutbacks in art programs in the district, art teachers have decided not to participate in the art show this year, said Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction.

"I'm not completely surprised; I know the teachers are unhappy about conditions," Homes said. "But we were hopeful we could hold this year's event and then do a hard analysis next year."

Homes said the cancellation was brought on by funding reductions and changes in the district's K-12 art program, changes that possibly might have reduced the quality of the exhibit.

"Everything is not well with the art program in the district," he said. "There has been some reduction in money spent on instruction, materials and supplies. These reductions have come at a time when material costs have gone up."

THE FIRST ARTFEST was held in 1981 and its popularity has increased each year.

Between 6,000-8,000 viewers visited the show, on Saturdays, last year. On display are paintings, jewelry, wood-working, costumes and stitched goods, group dances and vocal groups.

Homes said he received a letter from 17 of the district's 21 art teachers saying they would not participate in a program this year. An April meeting with the teachers showed they would not change their minds, he added.

Although the Artfest involves a lot of extra work on the teachers' part, Homes said he believed they would have once again done the extra work if they had felt they were adequately supported by the school district.

"The teachers did an awful lot on their own, getting things to the park, setting up booths, staying five-six hours at the park," he said. "The work may have been a concern, but it is overshadowed by concerns over support and funding."

In the last few years, the art program has lost both staff and students, he said.

One art teacher, who asked not to be identified, said the art staff made the decision last September not to hold the art fair when program cuts were first announced.

"Most of the teachers have let the students take their art, work home throughout the year — they don't have the work to display," she said.

Film shows firefighter's spirit

Cancer victim meets death with courage, class

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

In the first filming session with Traverse City Senior High School students, Bob Caloia laughed and horsed around a lot, answered questions quickly and calmly and acted like the ham at heart that he was.

In the second filming session with the students, Caloia, his body bloated by the effects of chemotherapy and the ravages of cancer, occasionally cried. He sometimes sat in painful silence, his mind trying to sift through the questions being asked. He took long pauses between thoughts, sweat beading on his forehead. When the tense session ended, he looked emotionally whipped, his buoyant spirit drained.

There was a third session planned for the movie, meant to show that people with cancer can laugh and love as well as cry and suffer. As in the previous two sessions, Caloia was to be the star.

But the former Plymouth Township firefighter never filmed the session. He died hours before the scheduled filming in a Traverse City Hospital.

WHAT THE students would have asked Caloia in that final session, how young minds would have reacted to being in the same room with a man beckoned by death, will never be known. What the 1970 Plymouth High School graduate, in his dying hours, would have told young, searching minds will never be known.

What is known, and what comes through powerfully in the two sessions that were filmed, is that a person with cancer can face death with class.

The film shows that a person with cancer, in spite of daily emotional highs and lows, bodily deteriorations and awful fears, is first and foremost a thinking, feeling, talking, loving person. Only secondarily is that person a victim of cancer.

That message is the legacy left behind on film by Caloia, a man who began his bout with cancer with a thick crop of hair and a bushy beard and ended it six months later 50 pounds thinner and nearly bald.

The film, "Cancer Confrontation: A High School Experience," will be shown at 1, 6 and 8 p.m. Monday, May 14, at the Plymouth V.F.W. Hall, 1426 S. Mill just north of Ann Arbor Road.

A $1 fee will pay for the cost of the hall rental, with money left over going to "Cancer with Some Life," the Traverse City-based organization which produced and helped finance the film.

"We want to say thanks to the community for its help and to let people see what their money went for," said Plymouth resident and sister-in-law Linda Caloia. After Caloia died in January, some $6,000 was raised both here and in Traverse City to help pay the cost of finishing the film.

After its Plymouth premiere, the film will be made available to schools and community organizations across the country. The film was made primarily to show cancer patients, their families and young people that life doesn't stop when a person gets cancer, that people still can have control over their lives and that human spirits can rise over and over again. The film offers both information and hope.

CALOIA became a hero to students twice in his life.

The first time was when, as a township firefighter, he gave first aid, CPR and fire career talks to school children in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

The second time was when, as a 32-year-old man with cancer, he began a dialogue with sociology students in Traverse City. It was a hero's role chosen for him by Connie Newell, a Traverse City chemotherapy nurse and head of the organization "Cancer with Some Life."

Newell wanted to make a film about cancer and was looking for the right star. She wanted someone who was upbeat and self-confident, someone with courage and a sense of humor. She wanted someone not afraid to talk about changing emotions, not afraid to have others see a changing, deteriorating body.

Fate — and cancer — brought Newell and Caloia together.

In 1980, the eight-year firefighter veteran and his wife, Beverly, had moved to Traverse City. He took jobs as a hospital orderly and as a chimney sweep. All went well until July 1982 when Caloia thought he had a stomach ulcer. His ulcer turned out to be stomach cancer and in August 1983 he had his stomach removed. Cancer eventually took over his spleen and bone marrow.

After his operation, Caloia was determined to get out of bed and get on with his life. Newell saw his determination, his sense of humor, his positive attitude and knew she had found her star.

"I WANTED to do something creative with death, rather than letting it be a downer," Caloia is quoted as saying in previous newspaper articles.

Maynes makes state house bid

Robert L. Maynes has launched his campaign for the Republican nomination for the state house from the 35th District.

The district includes most of Livonia and four precincts in Plymouth Township. The 35th District is presently represented by Jack Kirksey, a Republican, who is not seeking re-election.

A 26-year resident of Livonia, Maynes is a chartered life insurance underwriter and is the owner of F.W. Staman Insurance Agency in Novi.

Although he served as an elected precinct delegate from Livonia, this is Maynes' first run for political office.

In a prepared statement announcing his candidacy, Maynes said that "state government is too highly dominated by professional and long-term politicians who have lost touch with the realities of community and grass roots concerns."

Maynes believes his 29 years of business and community experience will bring a fresh and practical approach to the business of state government.

"Government must live within its means just as you and I do in our everyday life. Michigan needs a new set of priorities that includes less tax, a restructured welfare system, taking the penalties against business out of the Single Business Tax and the Workers Compensation Program," said Maynes.

"We can then attract and keep the jobs that Michigan once had."

ALSO OF major concern to Maynes is financing of education.

"State government once budgeted 52 percent of its funds for education. Today, we are down to 28 percent. Communities like Livonia and 130 other districts receive virtually nothing from the state in support of schools. Our young people are being shortchanged and that's a crime," stated Maynes.

Maynes also believes Michigan's insurance laws penalize not only business, but workers and family members as well.

"The No Fault Insurance Law as enacted by the Legislature places an unjust burden on the citizens of the 35th District and other communities similar to those in the 35th District. We are paying more premiums than needed to settle our claims equitably," stated Maynes.

Maynes believes his experience in business will help him in addressing the many problems built into state government by "the so-called political pros."

A long-time resident of Livonia, Maynes has been active in Livonia's Dollars for Scholars, a Little League coach, PTA and Livonia Board of Councillors. He also has been active in the Friends of the Livonia Public Library, Lia Gardens Civic Association and is a charter member of the Bentley Dad's Club. He has served as chairman of the Economic Development Corp. of Wixom, past-president of the Novi Chamber of Commerce and past-president of the Novi Rotary Club.

Maynes has served as treasurer of the Livonia Republican Club and has been a delegate to several GOP state and county conventions.

A graduate of Mackenzie High School in Detroit, Maynes attended the America College of Life Underwriters in Bryn Mahr, Pa. He was previously employed as superintendent of agencies for Republic National Life Insurance Co. and was an agent manager for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Rep. Law files for re-election

State Rep. Gerald H. Law, R-Plymouth, announced today he will seek a second term in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Law, a former Plymouth Township Trustee, represents the 36th District which includes the cities of Plymouth and Northville, Northville Township, and parts of Canton and Plymouth townships and the city of Novi.

Law served four years on the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees before being elected to the Michigan House in 1982 when the 36th District was created by re-districting.

He currently serves as vice chairman of the House Committee on City Government, and is a member of the committees on state affairs, insurance, and urban affairs.

"Because in the past two years the legislature has gone too far in raising taxes and increasing spending," said Law. "Important issues such as economic development and program evaluation have been forgotten."

"I think we have to restore more balanced tax and budgetary policies so we can get back to work addressing the very areas that will provide new jobs, put Michigan back on a competitive basis with other states, and guarantee that state government is run efficiently."

Before running for office, Law, 39, worked for the Ford Motor Co. and was involved in a number of community activities. He is a member of the chamber of commerce, Kiwanis, Trailwood Homeowners Association, and Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church.

Law earned his master's degree in business administration from University of Detroit, and he is a graduate of Wayne State University Law School.

His wife Chris and two daughters live in Plymouth Township.

PAINFUL HEEL.

QUESTION: I like to run as often as possible; everyday if I can. Lately, I haven't been able to because of a nagging bruise on my heel. I lay off and the pain goes away, but it comes back every time I start to run again. Why won't it heal?

ANSWER: Given enough time and rest, a simple bruise should heal. What you may actually have is a HEEL SPUR. This is a calcification caused by constant pressure placed on the heel of your foot. A podiatrist can examine your foot to detect its presence and provide treatment to correct it. The doctor may also prescribe orthotics to rebalance your feet, take pressure off your heels and reduce the chance of reinjury. A professionally designed orthotic should help get you back on the right track.

A house en route to its new home

Friday was far from ordinary for Barb and Jason Christner. The Cantonites saw their home assume a new address.

Roads were closed at 10 a.m. Friday so that J.D. Porter House Movers could transport the house from its former Ford Road site south on Lilley to Cherry Hill, west to Canton Center, and south on Godden Road. Weather delayed the move several times, and the threat of rain nearly postponed it again. Detroit Edison will not rewrite utility lines in the rain.

Barb Christner said what she once thought was going to be cost-effective was becoming an expensive project, thanks to delays, vandalism and utility costs. The Wayne County Road Commission charges $1,000 bond for lifting traffic signals at intersections — and if workers spend eight hours at it, the money is not refunded.

"For what it's going to cost, I could have bought a home in Roscoe Hill," joked Christner.

Ruth Porter, of the house moving company, said she was surprised at the cooperation offered by Canton police. Usually one or two officers show up, and "if there's a call, they leave. There are seven cops out here today," she said.

J.D. Porter guides driver Al Edeton onto Ford Road. The house, owned by Canton's Barb Christner, was moved Friday.

Utility workers lift wires out of the way or cut them to make room for the Christner house to pass underneath.

Homeowner Barb Christner and son Jason witness a spectacle as their house moves onto Ford Road at 10 a.m. to begin its journey.

Justice commands respect without robes

By Margaret Neubacher
staff writer

Although she was without her black robe and away from her accustomed seat on Michigan's Supreme Court, her presence commanded the students' respect.

Dressed in neat black suit, Patricia Boyle, spoke to a crowded room of Plymouth-Canton High School students last week in honor of Law Day.

The newest high court justice was appointed by Democratic Gov. James J. Blanchard last year after a flap in which the court majority deposed Dorothy Comstock Riley, the appointee of former Gov. William G. Milliken, a Republican.

Justice Boyle faces the voters in November in an effort to win the remainder of the eight-year term. The court ticket is nonpartisan.

She held the students' attention recounting highlights of her 20-year law career, and left many in the audience moved by what might be described as a passionate faith in America's legal system.

"THE FIRST and most remarkable aspect of our legal system is the U.S. Constitution," Boyle said, "and unfortunately surveys show many Americans don't understand the protection it guarantees us."

Boyle cited the jury system as the second most-important component of the legal system. "Any reasonable lawyer would agree that juries almost always reach the right result."

To illustrate, Boyle told of a case she heard when she sat as a federal court judge.

"The case was brought by the widow of a man who was killed when a plane clipped the wings of his glider, causing him to crash. The woman was suing the airport where the accident occurred.

"After the widow took the stand and told her story, there was hardly a dry eye in the courtroom. Not only had this woman lost her husband, she had just been laid off work, and her daughter, who had just been accepted at Yale, had to turn them down because because she wouldn't be able to afford the tuition given the sudden turn of events.

"THE JURY deliberated and decided not to award the woman any money. It was a hard decision for anyone that had heard the widow's plight, but they did not think the accident was the airport's fault. I thought they were right.

"What's remarkable is that a jury can do right by the law, despite emotions and personal opinions that might cloud its judgment of the issues in a case.

"When I heard trials, I was always impressed with how juries would identify the crucial issues in a case, and base their decisions on those facts. They were invariably the same issues that I or other experienced attorneys would have seen as important from the start."

BOYLE STARTED college as an education major.

Upon graduation from Detroit's Cooley High School in 1955, she enrolled at the University of Michigan to become what most coeds in her day aspired to — a teacher.

"I hated the college of education," recalled Boyle, the first person in her family to attend college.

Determined to earn a degree, Boyle switched to a program that combined the senior year of baccalaureate studies with the first year of law school.

"I must tell you what a fantasy it was for me to even think about being a lawyer. It would be like you're watching your favorite television star and thinking someday you'd be a star, too," she said.

Boyle interrupted her education to marry in June of 1957 and later transferred to Wayne State University where she entered law school in 1959.

"I GRADUATED first in my law class, and was the last to get a job," Boyle told the students. "I pounded the pavement looking for work and was told either 'We don't hire women,' or 'You'll have to meet our spouses so they know you're not a threat to them.'"

Boyle said it was by accident that she finally landed a job. U.S. District Judge Thaddeus Machrowicz, whose clerk was sick, called her looking for a replacement. She got the job.

Next she was appointed assistant United States attorney. In 1968 she joined the staff of the Wayne County prosecutor and was later appointed chief appellate attorney. During that time she had a rare opportunity to bring a case before the United States Supreme Court.

In 1976, she was appointed to Detroit Recorder's Court, which handles the city's criminal cases.

TWO YEARS later, President Jimmy Carter appointed Judge Boyle to the federal bench, a prestigious lifetime appointment.

Last year Judge Boyle gave up her tenure to serve on Michigan's Supreme Court, when Gov. Blanchard asked her to fill a vacancy.

"Everyone centers on the question, why would I give up the security of the federal appointment? I hope I won't come to regret these words, but the security was not all that important. If you have a good reputation as a lawyer, you can always make a living."

Judge Boyle presently is campaigning for re-election to the state high court. She frankly told the students that campaigning is hard work, and takes her away from her work as a justice, yet she is learning a lot by meeting and talking to people.

"More than anything I enjoy the public service aspect of law the most," she says.

Cancer film ready

"If the movie helps one person get out of the hospital or hang on another day, then the whole project would be worthwhile."

The two classroom film sessions followed.

Students asked questions — about a cancer patient's sex life, about what it's like to face death, about why he didn't just throw in the towel — and Caloia candidly answered every one. He became their hero, a living role model of someone who refused to give up, someone who chose to fight on.

"Most of the questions had to do with death, probably because that's what I longed like," Caloia was quoted as saying.

Caloia admitted to them he sometimes was angry, he sometimes cried, he sometimes was consumed by thoughts of the dreaded disease. He admitted how tough it was for a 210-pounder to accept a shrinking body. He confessed he wasn't anyone special and that he didn't see himself as being courageous at all.

And he confided to them that he and his wife had never been closer.

WHAT THE students came to see was a man learning a new philosophy, a man appreciating each new day and every sunset.

Gone were his plans for next week. It was today that counted, and it was a brand new way of thinking for many of them.

When the second film session was postponed because of his poor health, the students learned how uncertain are the days of a man facing death.

After the second film session ended, Caloia was sent to Ann Arbor's University Hospital. Unable to offer much help, the hospital sent him back to Traverse City to live out his final days.

But before that day came, Caloia planned on starring in the third, final segment.

The final session was filmed without him. In it, the students are told of Caloia's death. And, in the discussion which follows, the students give their own meaning to their friend's life — and death.

"The only complaint I have about the movie is that Bob died," said his sister-in-law, Linda. "In the film, there is no happy ending."

Graduation plans are announced

The 1984 Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem High Schools are completing plans for graduation activities.

Both schools will combine for the senior prom from 8 p.m. to midnight on Friday, June 1, in the Hubbard Ballroom of the Hyatt Regency Hotel at Fairlane Shopping Center in Dearborn. Tickets are $26 per couple for Salem students and $25 per couple for Canton High students.

The price of prom tickets includes hors d'oeuvres, entertainment, music by WNIC, and a prom photographer. Tickets will be available during fourth hour in the Canton lobby or Salem Upper Auditorium or in the general office.

THE SENIOR HONORS Assembly for Plymouth Canton High will begin at 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 29, in the cafeteria of Canton High.

The assembly will be for awards and a recognition ceremony arranged by the honors committee, guidance department, and faculty. Parents of students to be honored will be notified about a week in advance.

Individual churches in Plymouth-Canton will be asked to hold a recognition Sunday, in lieu of traditional baccalaureate services, on June 10 to honor graduating seniors of both schools.

Canton High's graduation will begin at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 13, at the football stadium of the Centennial Educational Park (CEP). Plans are being made to video-tape the ceremony so in case of bad weather it can be simultaneously televised to about 1,000 people in the Salem auditorium. The entire proceedings may be re-broadcast on June 13 on Cable Channel 11.

Rehearsal for Canton High graduates will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday, June 13. Each senior will be issued a total of 10 tickets. In case of bad weather and the ceremony is moved into the Salem gym, only four tickets will be honored.

Salem's graduation ceremonies will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday, June 14, at the CEP Football Stadium. If weather is bad, ceremonies will be moved into the Salem gym. Each senior will be issued 10 tickets with only five honored if ceremonies are moved inside.

Rehearsal will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Thursday, June 14, at the football stadium.

THE SENIOR PARTY for Salem seniors will begin immediately after commencement exercises. No one will be permitted to enter after 11 p.m.

The party, which has the theme of "Putting On The Ritz," is being planned by parent of Salem seniors. Anyone interested in helping should contact Sharon Davy at 453-3079 or Pat Medrick at 455-7287.

The charge for the party is $8 per student in advance or $10 at the door. Tickets will be on sale June 4-8 during fourth hour in the lower and upper common areas, and may be purchased during graduation rehearsal.

Canton High's senior party will begin after commencement exercises in the cafeteria of Canton High School. Tickets are $8 in advance or $10 after May 15. The party is planned by parents of Canton graduates.

The last day of schools for seniors only, from both schools, is Friday, June 8.

Presbyterians went 'Old School' in 1838

(Part 7)

The split between Old and New School Presbyterians in 1838 reflected differences between two groups of settlers.

One was comprised of descendants of the English and Scottish Presbyterians whom James I had resettled in Northern Ireland. They are sometimes called the "Scotch-Irish."

Making up the other were descendants of early New England settlers. The former considered theology a finished structure to be protected against innovation. The latter placed less emphasis on fixed theology and authoritarian church government.

ALTHOUGH MOST OF the Presbyterian churches in Michigan went New School, Plymouth and a few others decided to go Old School.

"In 1838, after the decision of the General Assembly," wrote Dr. Harold Fredsell, "the Presbytery of Detroit became a part of the New School General Assembly. However, the following churches withdrew and were Old School: Northville, South Lyon, Plymouth, Oakland and Clarkston to become members of the Michigan Presbytery of the Old School."

By 1841, Plymouth was one of only three churches within the boundaries of the Presbytery of Detroit who were members of the Michigan Presbytery of the Old School. The others were Northville and East Nankin.

Dr. Fredsell, who was minister at the Northville Presbyterian Church in 1941-44 and again from 1946 to 1954, expressed surprise that Northville joined the Old School Presbytery "considering that Northville was settled by New York state people who were liberal in their views and close to the New School position."

Plymouth also was settled by people from New York or New England. From their names they appear to be of English rather than Scottish descent.

Fredsell thought Northville went Old School because a piece of property had been donated to the church with a provision that the congregation support the Old School. The answer to why Plymouth went Old School is buried in the past, but the church organ controversy to be covered later indicates that some members of the local congregation held strong Old School views as late as 1864.

Although records of the Presbyterian Historical Society in Philadelphia show that the Plymouth church was a member of the Presbytery of Michigan, Old School Assembly, from 1838 to 1870, no mention of it is made in the minutes of either the church Session or the board of trustees. This may be an indication that the schism was not considered of great importance at the rascals level.

past and present

The Rev. Enoch Bouton was pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian Church from May 1839 to May 1840, the year Mendelssohn wrote the music for "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing." A complete list of the ministers who have served the church from 1833 to the present day will be given later.

Bylaws, written by L.W. Purdy, were approved by the Society in 1839. To be signed by every member of the congregation, they stipulated that those who signed agreed to pay $2 each year toward a fund for contingent expenses. The church's annual report to the Presbytery for the period April 1, 1841, to April 1, 1842, showed a total of 41 communicant members. They contributed $6.32 to foreign missions. Four were baptized, two died and one was dismissed.

The Rev. J.A. Clayton served the Plymouth Church from May 1840 to the end of 1845, the year James Russell Lowell penned the words for the hymn beginning "Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide."

Clayton's was the longest pastorate up to that time. He came back again in January 1851 and served through 1852. While he was pastor here in 1840, he organized the East Nankin Presbyterian Church (Old School), which now is the Garden City Church.

SEVERAL DISCIPLINARY cases were brought before the Session during Clayton's pastorates.

The influence of Calvin and Knox is apparent in the handling of a number of them. Calvin, the father of Presbyterianism, had taught that God was the supreme civil ruler, that laws were to be interpreted by ecclesiastical authorities, and that every member of the state was to be under the discipline of the church.

While the theocratic system practiced by Calvin in Switzerland was not adopted by the 13 colonies, its influence still was strong among the early settlers.

A reading of the Session minutes of the early years at this church indicates that the elders were not backward in putting into practice many of the teachings of Calvin. They exercised strong moral control over church members, were unambiguous in what they demanded of members of the congregation, and were quite ready to withdraw the privileges of membership from those who violated Christian ethics — benevolence, purity, humility, unworldliness, and obedience to authority. (To be continued).

Friendship: a writer's cherished reward

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

One of the most cherished rewards a fellow gets for writing these semi-weekly columns is the knowledge that he is making friends among the readers — and often in far away places.

Only recently The Stroller received a letter from a woman in California who told him that she once lived across the street from his grandmother back in the Dutch country of Pennsylvania.

She explained that her brother in Flint had read a piece about him and had sent it to her sister in Massachusetts and she, in turn, sent it to her sister on the west coast.

This was pleasing. But one of the latest friends was a woman in Westland who helped him out of a jam when he admitted he couldn't provide the recipe for the sweet and sour dressing Mother used when serving dandelion greens at this time of the year.

You see Mother never wrote down her recipes, so it was difficult to answer the reader's request for it.

Then into the breach came a Mrs. Williams who phoned and said she had the recipe and would provide. What a break, and what a favor from an unseen friend. In the mail within a few days came the recipe which The Stroller is now pleased to furnish readers who desire it.

Here it is:
Young dandelion greens (washed and picked over)

Roll in cloth and pat dry (set in warm place)
1/4 cup cream
2 tbsps. of butter or bacon fat.
2 eggs
1 tbsps. salt

1 tbsps. sugar
1 tbsps. of vinegar (not mustard)
Black pepper

Put in salad bowl and set in warm place. Cut bacon in small pieces and fry until crisp. (drain on paper towels).

Melt butter and add cream (low heat). Beat eggs, add salt, pepper, sugar and vinegar. Add to butter and cream mixture, cook until thick. Pour over greens and mix well.

Then, for good measure Mrs. Williams sent the recipe for shoo-fly pie — one of The Stroller's favorites. And this is good to try for something different.

For the crumb part:
1/4 cup of shortening
1 1/2 cup of flour
1 cup brown sugar

Work the above ingredients together.

For the liquid part:
1/4 tbsps. baking soda
1/4 tbsps. nutmeg and cinnamon
1/4 cup of salt
1/4 cup molasses
1/4 cup hot water

Mix well together, add hot water in to an unbaked shell. Combine the crumbs and liquid in alternate layers with crumb mixture on bottom and top.

Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Turn oven down to 350 for 20 minutes.

Then enjoy this famous Pennsylvania Dutch treat.

Thank you so much Mrs. Williams, a friend in need is a friend indeed.

Allergy special on TV tonight

A special program on allergies and asthma will be telecast tonight by Omnicon Television in cooperation with Lifetime Satellite Network. "Asthma/Allergy Update '84" will air tonight on Channel 5. First featured will be a live call-in show at 8:30 p.m. with a Canton allergist and a Plymouth pharmacist. Following the local program, Lifetime Network picks up the programming at 7 p.m. also on Channel 5, with a four-hour live production in cooperation with four professional associations on allergies and asthma. The Lifetime Information will allow viewers to call a toll-free number (1-800-428-LIFE) and talk to a team of medical experts about specific questions on allergies and asthma. The local segment of the 4 1/2-hour special will feature host Susanna Skubick and guests Dr. David Seaman, a Canton adult and pediatric allergist; Dale Knab, Plymouth pharmacist with Wilton's Pharmacy, and Dr. Malik Mirza, a pediatric allergist from Farmington. The program idea was initiated by Seaman, says Skubick. Seaman said he first learned about the Satellite Network program through the Michigan Allergy Society. "I contacted Omnicon and they offered to clear the air time and help produce a local show." Last December the Lifetime network, then known as Cable Health Network, presented a four-hour information on Heart Disease, also telecast by Omnicon and preceded by a local half-hour call-in show. Skubick said Omnicon hopes to do more local tie-in shows with Lifetime in the future. "As long as we can find local physicians to help us answer our viewers questions about the particular subject matter we will continue to participate."

Stop the MX appeal is made

To the editor:
The Defense Authorization bill will be voted on soon, probably the second or third week of May. We already have the capability of totally destroying not only the Soviet Union but the entire world several times over. It is imperative that we cease spending billions (badly needed in constructive areas) on dangerous, destabilizing and increasing grotesque weapons of genocide and suicide. This is the last chance to lobby our representatives. Carl Pursell, in particular, needs to hear from concerned constituents for he has switched from opposition to support of the MX system. There are three important amendments to the Defense Authorization bill. One calls for selecting production funds for the MX; another would delete funds for binary nerve gas weapons; and the third calls for a bilateral (U.S., U.S.S.R.) moratorium on the testing of anti-satellite weapons (such testing would violate the ABM treaty we signed in 1972). I hope concerned residents will call Rep. Pursell (465-8830 or, in Washington, 202-334-3121) and urge him to vote for all three of these amendments. If security is truly what we desire, we must seek an end to the arms race.

ACTIVE LIFESTYLES

America—it's a country on the move. From the executive who totes a gym bag to work and runs the racquetball court at lunch, to picnickers who pack a meal and bicycle to a special destination—today's lifestyles reveal a new awareness of physical fitness and health.

Our eating habits are on the move, too. Food patterns have been influenced by the nation's interest in a more active lifestyle. Consumers are eating more whole-grain products, fresh fruits and vegetables, and are looking for foods that accommodate their busy schedules.

Featured here is a selection of recipes that fits right into today's lifestyles. They're the kinds of foods that can travel with you for eating on-the-go, or that can be enjoyed at home. In addition, each recipe makes the most of nourishing ingredients and is highlighted with the moist, naturally sweet flavor and juicy texture of Golden Delicious apples.

For early morning exercisers or avid snackers, tote along Whole-Wheat Apple Muffins or Golden Apple Granola. Both are made with whole-wheat flour, crunchy chopped nuts and fragrant spices, and are laced with sweet Golden Delicious apples. Pack these wholesome treats in plastic bags and eat them on-the-go or serve them at home with cold milk. They're excellent for satisfying a hungry morning or any time appetite.

Picnickers will love Golden Apple Chicken Sandwiches and Apple Calico Bean Salad. Tender cooked chicken and crunchy Golden Delicious apples are highlighted with toasted almonds and spicy curry powder in the sandwich filling. Enjoy this mixture between two slices of bread or served, as-is, on lettuce leaves.

For Apple Calico Bean Salad, simply combine three varieties of beans with juicy Golden Delicious apples, celery and a vinaigrette dressing; marinate and serve.

And for those who want a quick-to-prepare, lean entree, there's Golden Apple Stuffed Fillets. Delicate whitefish fillets are stuffed with a sweet, savory filling of shredded Golden Delicious apples and carrots, complemented with a medley of seasonings—parsley, lemon juice, ginger and white wine. Prepare this entree in the microwave or in a conventional oven.

Golden Delicious apples from Washington State are ideal for a fresh, healthful snack any time of the day. They're low in sodium, contain important vitamins and minerals and provide fiber to the diet. And, one medium-sized apple contains approximately 80 calories.

GOLDEN APPLE GRANOLA

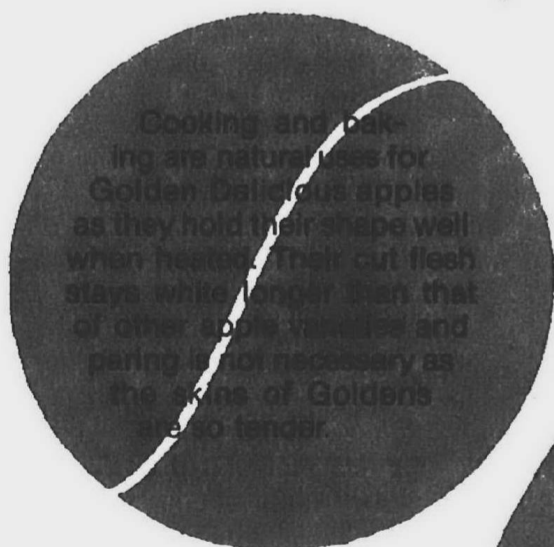

- 4 cups old-fashioned rolled oats
- 3 cups chopped Golden Delicious apples
- 3/4 cup whole-wheat flour
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup apple juice
- 1/2 cup chopped dates
- 1/4 cup oil
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine oats, apples, flour, walnuts, brown sugar, cinnamon and salt; mix well. Heat apple juice; add dates and let stand 15 minutes or until softened. Mash and blend well; slowly beat in oil and vanilla. Pour mixture over dry ingredients; stir to moisten evenly. Crumble in thin layer on greased large baking sheet. Bake at 350°F, 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 250°F; bake 1 hour. Stir; bake 1-1/2 to 2 hours longer or until mixture is dry. Stir every 45 minutes. Makes 6 to 7 cups.

WHOLE WHEAT APPLE MUFFINS

- 1 cup each flour and whole-wheat flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon ground allspice
- 1 cup lowfat milk
- 1/4 cup oil
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup finely chopped Golden Delicious apple
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts (optional)

Combine flours, sugar, baking powder, salt and allspice. Add milk, oil and egg; stir only until ingredients are blended. Fold in apples and nuts. Fill 12 greased muffin cups almost full. Bake at 400°F, about 30 minutes or until wooden pick inserted near center comes out clean. Makes 12 muffins.

QUICK AND SIMPLE SERVING IDEAS

Serve slices or wedges of Golden Delicious apples with assorted cheeses for a continental-style snack or appetizer.

Serve slices of crisp Golden Delicious apples with a refreshing yogurt dip for a light dessert.

Add chopped Golden Delicious apples to butter and spread on whole-wheat toast for breakfast or a snack.

Dice, chop or slice Golden Delicious apples with tuna, turkey, chicken, potato, tossed green salad.

Add Golden Delicious apple slices to stir-fried fish or beef and heat thoroughly.

SELECTION: Choose Golden Delicious apples with thin skin. Apples will range in color, depending on maturity from light green to creamy yellow. Light green apples have a slightly tart flavor and creamy yellow fruit will have a sweeter flavor.

STORAGE: Store apples in a plastic bag in the refrigerator. Apples ripen 10 times faster at room temperature and five times faster at 40°F than at 32°F.

GOLDEN APPLE CHICKEN SANDWICHES

(Not Pictured)

- 1 cup chopped Golden Delicious apple
- 1 cup diced cooked chicken
- Mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons each minced parsley and toasted almond slices
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1/8 teaspoon curry powder
- 12 slices whole grain wheat bread
- 6 lettuce leaves

Combine apple, chicken, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, parsley, almonds, lemon juice and curry powder. Spread bread slices with small amount of mayonnaise. Spread 1/3 cup filling on each of 6 slices. Top each with lettuce leaf and bread slice. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Salad Variation: One-half cup filling for Golden Apple Chicken Sandwiches can be served on lettuce leaves as a salad. Makes 6 servings.

APPLE CALICO BEAN SALAD

(Not Pictured)

- 1 can (16 oz.) each red kidney beans and garbanzo beans, drained
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen cut green beans, thawed and drained
- 1-1/2 cups diced Golden Delicious apples
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons minced green onion
- Vinaigrette

Combine all ingredients. Marinate at least 4 hours. Stir several times while marinating. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Vinaigrette: Combine 1/4 cup each oil and white vinegar, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Makes 1/2 cup.

DINNER MENU

- Golden Apple Stuffed Fillets
- Essed Spanish Salad With Vinaigrette Dressing
- White Pilaf
- Garlic Bread

GOLDEN APPLE STUFFED FILLET

(Not Pictured)
(Microwave Method)

- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1 cup each shredded Golden Delicious apple and carrot
- 1/4 cup chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice
- 1/4 teaspoon each salt and ground ginger
- 1/8 teaspoon thyme, crushed
- 1 pound sole, cod or other white fish fillets
- 1/4 cup dry white wine
- Salt and pepper

Sauté onion in oil until tender. Add remaining ingredients except fish fillets, wine, salt and pepper. Spread mixture evenly over length of fillets; carefully roll up. Place seam side down in oiled microwave-proof dish. Pour wine over rolled fillets; season to taste with salt and pepper. Cover with waxed paper, microwave at MEDIUM 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Turn once halfway through cooking time. Makes about 3 servings.

Conventional Method: Prepare and roll up fillets as above; measure thickness. Bake at 450°F, allowing about 10 minutes cooking time per inch of thickness, measured at its thickest part after stuffing or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Bake once or twice during cooking.

Times may change, but hash is still the choice for thrifty, quick, easy

One of the first columns I produced five years ago was about hash, recalling fond memories of college days when thrifty, quick and easy were the main considerations.

I still prepare hash, but I must admit that the occasion only arises when I wish to dispose of leftovers, such as a chunk of chuck roast and several potatoes.

Thrifty, quick and easy still count, as in skillet hash, but you can make the dish from scratch a variety of ways, as in a casserole, when you lack leftovers.

SKILLET HASH
2 cups chopped cooked beef
2 cups chopped cooked potatoes
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tsp. chopped parsley
Salt and black pepper
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup water

Combine beef, potatoes, onion, parsley and salt and pepper to taste in medium bowl. Melt shortening in large skillet over medium heat, spread out hash and brown 12 to 15 minutes, turning frequently with spatula. Stir in water, reduce heat to low, cover and cook 10 minutes. Serves 3-4.

CASSEROLE HASH
1 lb. ground beef
3 large onions, sliced
1 large green pepper, chopped
1 celery rib, chopped
1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes

1/2 cup uncooked long-grain rice
2 tsp. chili powder
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. black pepper

Preheat oven at 350 degrees. In large skillet, lightly brown beef, drain most grease, stir in onions, green pepper and celery and cook until onions are limp. Stir in remaining ingredients, spoon hash into ungreased 2-quart casserole, cover and bake 1 hour. Serves 4-6.

Ham main attraction for special meal

Any time you need a special main dish, brighten your table with colorful Orange and Cherry Glazed Ham. Serve your ham with other favorite spring foods — fresh asparagus and strawberries accompanied by a lemon custard filled jelly-roll.

One of the advantages to cooking a large ham is the variety of easy and economical follow-up meals it can provide. Treat your family to a unique lunch or snack with Ham-Filled Rye Buns. These are home-made rye buns which you fill with a seasoned mixture of ham, sauerkraut, and shredded Swiss cheese.

Give the buns a nice golden brown color by brushing with an egg white and water mixture before baking. Be sure to make a small cross in the top of each bun, to allow steam to escape while baking.

ORANGE AND CHERRY GLAZED HAM

5 to 7-lb. shank half smoked ham
3/4 cup cherry preserves
1 tsp. fresh orange juice
1 tsp. grated orange peel

Place ham, fat side up, on rack in an open roasting pan. Insert roast meat thermometer so bulb is centered in the thickest part. Be careful that bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325°) until the meat thermometer registers 130° to 140° for "fully cooked" half ham (18 to 24 minutes per pound); 160° for a "cook-before-eating" half ham (22 to 25 minutes per pound.) Meanwhile melt cherry preserves in small saucepan over medium heat. Strain cherries from syrup; reserve syrup. Coarsely chop cherries. Combine cherries, syrup, orange juice and grated orange peel. Brush glaze over ham during last 20 minutes of cooking time.

HAM-FILLED BUNS

2 cups coarsely chopped cooked ham (about 12 oz.)
Rye Dough*
1 can (8 oz.) sauerkraut, well-drained
1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
2 tsp. Dijon-style mustard
1/4 tsp. caraway seed
1 egg white
1 tsp. water

Prepare Rye Dough. Combine ham, sauerkraut, cheese, mustard and caraway seed in medium bowl. Place dough on lightly floured surface; cut into 8 equal pieces. Roll each piece into 6-inch circle. Place 1/4 cup ham mixture in center of each circle. Bring edges together over filling and pinch to seal. Place, pinched sides down, on a greased baking sheet. Combine egg white and water; brush over tops of buns. Cut a small cross in top of each bun. Bake in a hot oven (400°) 15 to 17 minutes. Yield: 8 ham-filled rye buns.

*RYE DOUGH

1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup warm water (105° to 115°)
1 pkg. (1/4 oz.) dry yeast
2 tsp. oil
1 tsp. molasses
1 tsp. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 to 2 cups bohemian style rye and wheat flour
1 tsp. cocoa

Scald milk; cool to 105° to 115°. Dissolve yeast in water; stir in milk, oil, molasses, sugar and salt. Combine 1 cup flour and cocoa; add to yeast mixture, beating until smooth. Gradually stir in remaining flour to form soft, but not sticky, dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface and knead until dough is smooth and elastic, 5 to 7 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning greased side up. Cover and let rise in warm place until double, about 1 hour.

Budding young authors bloom at conference

By Marie McGee
staff writer

THE PRIDE OF authorship came early for area elementary school writers who attended the annual Conference for Young Authors at the University of Michigan-Dearborn last week.

Organized by UM-D education professor Jane Romatowski, the conference is the ninth such event, which alternates between high school and elementary school students. This year, some 300 students participated from a record number of schools — more than 70 — primarily in Wayne County.

A lot of creative work takes place before the youngsters, who are chosen by their schools, are ready to read the books they have written and illustrated for the morning-long conference. Each school is limited to four participants.

IT IS AN exciting challenge for the youngsters in more ways than one, Romatowski noted. In only a few instances were any of the children assigned to a classroom with others from their schools. Even the teacher was a stranger.

Not only did the budding authors get a chance to read their final product in classes with children from other schools, but they were encouraged by the teacher to critique each others stories and poems.

A creative writing session allowed them to explode "like the blossoms on an apple tree with excitement," commented one of the teachers.

Livonian Larry Harmon, a fifth grade teacher at Howard Elementary School in Dearborn, took part in the conference as he has each year it has been offered for grade schoolers.

Because some children are shy at first, the teachers used a warmup activity to get the students used to being there. Midway through the morning, the classes took a juice break, allowing the youngsters to get further acquainted.

THE CREATIVE activities varied in each room. Harmon, for instance, dropped a duffel bag filled with used shoes and boots on a table. After examining such human qualities as the miles the shoes have traveled or the places they have been worn, each student then wrote about one of them.

A new feature this year was a storytelling presentation at the conclusion of the conference. Participating were four student winners of the U-M-D Division of Education's new Ruth Sawyer Storytelling award.

Kimberly Lazarz, a fifth grader at Bulman Elementary School in Redford Township, seems to be listening to the dockelider shoe she had to write a story about in the creative writing portion of the Young Author's Conference. Her assignment was to write a sole-searching biography from the point of the view of the shoe.

Joni Quenneville, UM-D student from Plymouth, was one of the storytellers. Her story was "Miska the Kvetch" — Yiddish for complainer.

Lynn Biberdorf of Plymouth Christian Academy slips off her shoes and gets comfy for the creative writing portion of the conference in which squiggly lines were drawn into an object and a story written about the result.

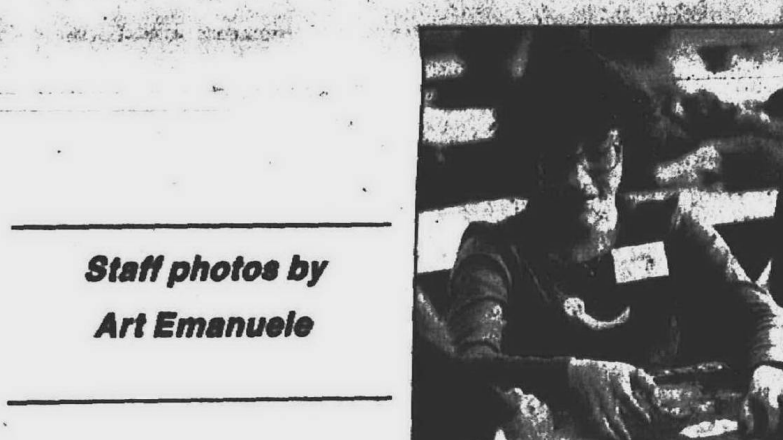

Karl Ko of the Plymouth Christian Academy listens to instructor Marilyn Baumkel.

midway through the conference. Melnick of Livonia has won several awards for creative writing, including a book of poems "Good Friday Goodness."

Marcie Hannevall has her story folder in hand, ready to recite.

Dearborn teacher Larry Harmon of Livonia and Lisa Rigg, a sixth grader at St. Peter's Lutheran Day School, Plymouth, listen to someone's class presentation. Lisa's story was titled "What Can a Moose do for Me," and told why she wants to visit our neighbor to the north. Harmon has participated in every conference that has been offered elementary students.

MISSING: 175 classmates of the Plymouth Salem High School Class of 1974.

The committee planning the 10-year class reunion is searching for addresses or telephone numbers of the grads so they can invite them to the party.

The reunion will be Saturday, June 16, at Livonia Holiday Inn West. They will gather at 6 p.m., dinner will be served at 7:30 and dancing will follow. Reminiscing probably will go on all evening.

Committee members are Kathy Maxwell Hutchings, Diane Fischer Mandt, Heidi Jackson, Debbie Gottschalk Bence and Lisa Nicol Kelly. They are compiling a booklet, "We Adore '74," with an update of class members' activities during the past 10 years. The invitations have a request for information.

Parents, relatives, neighbors of a 1974 graduate are asked to call Lisa Kelly, 397-0538, if they can help locate a classmate.

There were more than 800 students in the class. It wasn't until the next year that Plymouth Canton High School had its first graduating ceremony. In fact, members of the Salem Class of 1974 refer to themselves as Plymouth High School grads.

Cost of the reunion party is $25 per person. Those classmates who can't make it to the party but would like to have a copy of "We Adore '74" can make arrangements to purchase one and have it mailed.

When you think of it, not many places could accommodate a class reunion of that size.

CONGRATULATIONS to Dick Chellevold, general chairman, and Don Watkins co-chairman for planning another fantastic stamp show. All the members of the West Suburban Stamp Club should share the glory. You can't plan an event of that size and caliber unless everyone pitches in to help.

DID YOU EAT all your Girl Scout cookies? I just borrowed editor Emory Daniel's computer to find the grand total of the number of boxes of cookies sold by the Scouts and Brownies in the Plymouth-Canton community.

Would you believe we consumed 215,376 boxes of cookies? Don't believe me, here are the figures. I'll give you the name of the cookie chairman, number of troops in her area, and the total boxes sold: Pat Mackiewicz, 16 troops, 31,924 boxes; Doris Prosyk, 17 troops, 26,784 boxes; Shirley Auchincloss, 19 troops, 31,692; Marcia Porterfield, 18 troops, 23,712 boxes; and Ruby Monk, 21 troops, 29,076 boxes.

PUTTING ON THE RITZ will be the theme of senior party at Plymouth Salem High School. It will be after graduation Thursday, June 14. Party will begin at 9:30 p.m. at the school and continue until 4 the next morning.

Parents of the graduating seniors are planning the party and they would welcome assistance from all the parents. Please call Judy Sturdy, 420-0470, or Jody Trame, 459-1427, if you can help in any way.

THE PLYMOUTH Grange in cooperation with the Plymouth fall Festival Board will be selling flats of marigolds again this year. Merchants, homeowners, apartment dwellers and city itself plant thousands of marigolds each spring. It is the official fall festival flower and they are at their blooming best from September right on until the first big freeze. The Grange has been working with the festival board on the marigold project for three or four years. This year they will have the flats at Grange Hall on Union Street from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, May 18 and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, May 19. That Saturday will be opening day of the Farmers Market in The Gathering on Penniman Avenue across from Kollogg Park.

"If you do not know your marigolds, I gleaned some information from Louise Tritton of the Grange. She is an expert. She says their marigolds range in color from yellow, orange and bronze to mahogany. They do not sell any of the tall French marigolds.

Their tallest are the Moonshots (yellow) or the Apollo (orange) which grow to a height of 16 inches. The Honeycomb and Bonita Mix are in the eight-to-12-inch size. Louise said these are small compact plants in various colors, mixed bicolors and multicolors. The Petite grow up to six inches.

Thomann quits boys cage job

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Fred Thomann, who has guided Plymouth Salem boys basketball teams to a 227-49 record over the past 12 seasons, resigned Friday. He will remain as coach of the girls basketball and girls track teams at Salem.

Thomann said he quit because the school board and administration have failed to make a commitment to the system's athletic programs.

His resignation stems from growing concern by many coaches in the system about what they term lack of support for the athletic program from school district administrators.

On Feb. 6, a panel of coaches went before the Plymouth-Canton Community School's board of education and, in a detailed presentation, asked the board for a commitment to the athletic department.

The coaches told the board that without a commitment two things would happen: the immensely successful athletic programs at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools would crumble and many highly respected, successful coaches would quit.

Two months later, with no sign of a commitment from the board, Thomann submitted his letter of resignation.

"AT THIS point in time, it's just too difficult for me to continue to coach in this program, based on the lack of commitment on the part of the board of education and central administration of this district," Thomann said.

Thomann cited three examples of the

'I don't have a bitter taste in my mouth or anything like that. I'm just at a point where I choose not to coach under the existing circumstances.'

— Fred Thomann
ex-Salem coach

district's lack of commitment — they were the same three examples cited on Feb. 6:

• There has been no move to restore middle school interscholastic athletic programs.

• There has been insufficient increases in the total athletic budget. Thomann and the other coaches wanted the athletic budget to reflect 1 percent of the district's total budget. The board gave the athletic department a 15 percent increase, according to the district's assistant superintendent for business Raymond Hoedel — an increase which raised the athletic budget from $183,471 to $212,103. This is well under the 1 percent requested.

• Thomann rates this a "very distant third" in terms of his own priorities, but, he felt he was underpaid for his duties as coach.

"I SAID AT the time (Feb. 6) that there were some coaches that wouldn't continue to coach under the present circumstances," Thomann said. "I had to then make my own decision as to whether or not I could work in the present environment."

Thomann said he has been thinking about resigning for a long time. During Easter vacation, Thomann was asked about resigning.

"It's been on my mind for a long time. I don't see the board of education or the central administration making any moves to correct the inadequacies in the athletic program," he said. "I guess maybe it's time to start phasing myself out of this coaching thing."

Thomann had to postpone his decision for two weeks because Salem principal Bill Brown was on vacation.

Tuesday, Thomann and Brown met. Brown asked Thomann to hold off for two days. On Thursday, Brown came back to Thomann and told him that it didn't appear that any changes were going to be made.

"At that point it was up to me, whether or not I wanted to continue on," Thomann said.

Thomann made it clear that he was not bitter about the situation and harbored no ill feelings.

"I don't have a bitter taste in my mouth or anything like that," he said. "I'm just at a point where I choose not to coach under the existing circumstances. I don't want to make a big to-do over this."

SUPERINTENDENT of Schools Dr. John Hoben said: "I understand Fred's position. But, I also understand the position of the rest of the district. It's a tremendous loss, no question. I have nothing but the deepest respect for him as a person and a coach and a leader. He's done a great job for this district. I wish he would reconsider, but Fred has his own life to live."

Hoben said the school board had done all it could to supplement the athletic budget.

Thomann is recognized as one of the state's best high school coaches.

He never had a losing season at Salem, despite some lean years in terms of talent. Under Thomann, Salem won nine conference titles, seven district titles and one regional title.

Bob Brodie, Salem's junior varsity coach, would be Thomann's successor, if Thomann had his way.

"I feel Bob Brodie is the most likely candidate," Thomann said. "He's done a real nice job with the younger kids. The only other person I'd say would be Bob Blohm (Thomann's assistant). But, I don't think Bob is inclined to take it at this point."

Thomann will continue teaching at Salem. He said he has no plans to look for a job at another district.

"This has not been a spontaneous, spur of the moment, type of decision," he said. "I've sat down and given this thing some real hard concentration and thought. I just feel, at this point in time, this is the right thing for me to do."

Borgess wins Observer Relay title

Story of the day: Everybody trying to catch the Borgess runners. In this case, the event was the 110-meter high hurdles, and the runners were trying to catch Borgess' Chuck Gregory (second from

It was a fitting conclusion to a most exciting track and field meet.

Bishop Borgess' Fred Owens, the man who had earlier set an Observerland Relays record with a swift 10.6 in the 100-meter dash and anchored two other first-place relays, brought home the baton before anyone else in the final event, the 1,600-meter relay.

As Owens crossed the finish line, Borgess began celebrating its first-ever Observerland Relays championship.

Borgess won nine of the 16 events, set three records and tied another capturing 109 points in the 14th annual running of the relays, which took place Saturday at Livonia Churchill.

Churchill placed second with 84 points and Plymouth Salem finished a somewhat surprising third with 61 points. Farmington, missing two key performers, placed fourth (43) and Catholic Central (41) placed fifth.

"WINNING THIS MEET has been a goal of ours for a long time," said Spartan coach Gene Grewe. "This is a very strong team, but we've had strong teams in the past and haven't been able to win this. It's really terrific for the kids that we won. I know they really wanted it."

For a while, though, it looked like the heavily favored Spartans would again come up short at Observerland.

Churchill, thanks to the strong arm of Dave Mize, got off well in the field events and grabbed a quick lead. Mize had the best tosses in both the shot put (52-5 1/4) and in the discus (159-11).

Churchill took first in the discus and pole vault, second in the shot put and third in the long jump to bolt ahead. The Chargers maintained that lead until the 12th event.

"I really felt good about our chances going into the final four events," Grewe said. "I knew we had a good chance of scoring a lot of points as long as we didn't drop the baton."

They didn't drop the baton, but they did drop Churchill out of contention. The Spartans took first in each of the last four events.

WITH THE MEET being held on Churchill's all-weather track for the first time (the 13 previous relays were held on Redford Union's cinder track), times were bound to improve — and they did.

Borgess set a long jump record with a combined jump of 62-6 1/4, breaking the old mark of 62-4 set in 1980 by Farmington. Borgess also established a new 800-meter relay mark going 1:30.7. The old mark was 1:30.8 (converted from 1:31.3) set in 1975 by Redford Union.

Owens' 10.6 in the 100 dash shattered the old mark of 11.2 held by four runners. The Spartans also tied the 400 relay record with a 44.0.

Despite his team's second-place finish, Churchill coach Fred Price was ecstatic.

"Second isn't the best, but it's an achievement and as big a victory as some we've won," said Price, whose teams have won the relays six times. "We had no disappointments. I told them, 'Let's make them (Borgess) win it.' Borgess ran up to its potential and Gene (Grewe) is to be commended."

Plymouth Salem coach Gary Balconi was another happy coach after the meet.

"What do you have to say about the underdogs?" he wanted to know. His team wasn't expected to be a factor in the meet, but wound up earning points in all but one event.

"EVERYONE RAN their best times," Balconi said. "What else can you ask of them? I'm very pleased with our performance. Next to Borgess, we had the best sprint team here."

Besides the team excitement, the most produced moments of individual brilliance. Owens was superb in all four of his events, blowing by everyone. Dave Homann and Jeff Felts gave the Garden City faithful something to cheer about. Felts high jumped 6-6 and bested Churchill's Mike Meehan on fewer misses. Homann took the 1,600 run in a swift 4:24.2.

Livonia Stevenson, despite being seriously out-manned, gutted out a sixth-place finish. Ken Dubois anchored two first-place relays for Stevenson, the distance medley and the 3,200 relay. Farmington's Brian Loeber went 12-6 to win the pole vault — perhaps the lone Falcon bright spot.

But when it was all said and done, and the final score was tallied, the relays belonged to Bishop Borgess.

Mike White was one tired Salem runner. He and the rest of the Rock's sprint team had a busy day Saturday.

Ruggiero leads Mercy

They call Livonia Ladywood the Blazers, but it was the Farmington Hills Our Lady of Mercy girls soccer team that was red-hot Thursday night.

The Marlins doused the Blazers 3-0 in a key Catholic League match. It was Mercy's fifth win in a row.

Annette Ruggiero kept on her torrid goal-scoring pace, netting two goals for the Marlins. After being shut out in her first two games, Ruggiero has scored 10 goals in the last six games.

Amy DeMattia scored the other Marlin goal and also shared the shutout honors with Betsy Eads. Each played a half in goal.

Mercy coach Gene Fogel credited defensemen Margaret DeMattia, Leigh Clancy, Amy Stock and Kathy Clement for keeping the Blazers away from the Mercy net.

Mercy (6-2) faces a busy week. Today, the Marlins travel to Bishop Gallagher. Tuesday they host Bishop Borgess. Thursday they travel to Bishop Foley, then on Saturday the Marlins travel to Farmington High in a prerogative match.

FARMINGTON got a goal by Katie MacIntosh and led 1-0 after a half.

This against mighty Livonia Churchill, who, because Stevenson lost to Plymouth Canton, is likely to become the state's No. 1 team. It seemed almost too good to be true.

It was Churchill eventually wore down the Falcons and scored three second-half goals to end all upset hopes.

"I feel the girls are starting to mature. They're getting better with every match," said coach Ed Bartram. "It's good experience. Now I've got to keep them being content with just staying close. Staying close is not winning."

Churchill coach Ed Dudek applauded the efforts of Falcon defender Sue Bartram and goalie Pam Faulkner.

"Both played outstanding," Dudek said.

Churchill outshot Farmington 32-7. Farmington is now 2-7-1 on the year, Churchill 10-0-1.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 16, 1984, at 7:00 o'clock p.m. DST at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1984 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.084 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 1.77 mills be levied in 1984 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1984 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated five percent (5%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by the Board of Trustees.

No drum roll is needed. Forget the fireworks. Can all the hype.

The female version of the Mangan Meet needs no dramatic build-up.

"This is the best chance we've had to win since I've been here, and it's my fifth year," said Plymouth Canton girls track coach Bob Richardson.

No, Canton's girls have not had much success against cross-yard rival Plymouth Salem in this annual event. Tuesday, the Chiefs just may reverse that trend.

Both teams won their respective dual meets Thursday. Salem edged Livonia Churchill 87 1/2-60 1/4, nailing down the victory at CEP with a win in the final event, the mile relay. Canton rolled at Northville 81-47, winning 11 of 16 events.

SALEM IS 1-1 in dual meets; Canton is unbeaten in three. The Rocks' win over Churchill was strongly supported by its winning three of four relays; Canton overcame a four-victory performance by Northville superstar Cindy Panowicz by sweeping all four relays.

So it should surprise no one that both Richardson and Salem coach Fred Thomann think the relays may be the turning point in the Mangan Meet.

"I think it's going to be a lot closer this year," said Thomann. "If one team wins the relays, they'll get a lot of points the other team can't get back easily."

"It's going to be a dogfight, that's for sure."

RICHARDSON FIGURED his Chiefs "are going to have to have their best times and best efforts" to top Salem.

"If they sweep the relays, or take three of four, or even split, it'll hurt us," he added.

The two squads have reversed their roles somewhat this season. Last year, Salem had the experience and Canton the youth. The Rocks have lost some of that to graduation, while the Chiefs have gained.

"This team is young but really starting to come on," said Thomann. "We're just starting to find events for our runners. We're a long way from being a really good track and field team, but we're getting closer."

Avoiding what Thomann termed "the big (point) swing — 8-1 or 9-0" in any one event is something both coaches want to do.

The field events start at 6 p.m. at CEP. Track events follow at 7 p.m. There will be an admission charge of $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children. All proceeds go to support the Canton and Salem track programs.

AGAINST NORTHVILLE, Canton's Kim Bennett won twice but the best news for the Chiefs was the return of senior Ruthann Trout from an early season hip injury. It was Trout's first appearance and she made it a successful one by winning the 880-yard run (2:42.6).

Bennett's victories came in the 100 (12.5) and 220 (28.4). The Chiefs also captured top honors in three of four field events: Lori Schauder in the shot put (28-6), Hollie Ivey in the discus (87-5 1/4) and Carolyn Nagy in the high jump (4-10). Jodi Bernd finished first in the two mile run as well (13:41.7).

Jan Alvarado, Hope Buchan, Tory Barger and Marie Jarosz broke the Canton school record in the two mile relay, which had been set earlier this season, with a clocking of 11:19.9. The former mark was 11:29.5.

Lisa Wood, Schauder, Pat Brennan and Bennett combined to win the 440 relay (33.5); Wood, Schauder, Nagy and Bennett teamed for first in the 880 relay (1:56.7); and Wood, Jennifer Gansler, Cheri Remer and Nagy raced to a triumph in the mile relay (4:39.5).

SALEM LED Churchill by two points going into the mile relay, and Mary Zorney, Mary Beth West, Kelly Bemiss and Dawn Johnson ensured the win by taking first in 4:30.66. Churchill's foursome finished a distant second in 4:38.0.

Amy Johnson, Nancy Smith, Bemiss and Johnson combined for a victory in the 440-yard relay for the Rocks (53.9) and Smith, West, Bemiss and Dawn Johnson were best in the 880 relay (1:54.23).

Salem winners in the field events were: West in the discus (92-8); Amy Johnson in the high jump (4-10); and Bemiss in the long jump (14-9 1/4).

On the track, the Rocks got first-place finishes from West in the 220 (27.83); Zorney in the 440 (1:06.0); Karen Marciniak in the 110 hurdles (17.84); and Kristin Hostynski in the 330 hurdles (53.55).

Salem's Mary Beth West (foreground) is set to take the baton from teammate Nancy Smith in the 880-yard relay. The Rock team won the race in 1:54.23.

Chargers nip Rocks in final event

By C.J. Risak

Less than one second was all that separated Plymouth Salem's boys' track team from victory and defeat Thursday.

Unfortunately for the Rocks, Livonia Churchill was a bit faster in the meet's deciding event, and that earned the Chargers a 71-66 dual meet victory at Churchill.

The two teams were deadlocked going into the final race, the 1,600-meter relay. Churchill's foursome of Pete Mills, Paul Schwartz, Ernie Healy and Larry Blais outran the Rock quartet, finishing first in 3:37.1. Salem crossed the line in 3:38.0.

The loss dimmed the outstanding performances turned in by junior Mike White and freshman Brian Newhart. White captured three individual firsts while Newhart won two events himself and led off Salem's victorious 400 relay team.

WHITE'S WINS came in the long jump (20-7/4) and the 110 (15.8) and 300 (40.2) hurdles. Newhart doubled in the 100 (11.3) and 200 (23.1) and combined with Jeff Arnold, Marc Tindall and Craig Morton to take the 400 relay (45.0).

But the Rocks managed just one other first. Brian Waldron, Arnold, Rob Schoenberger and Karl Gansler raced to victory in the 800 relay (1:36.0).

Salem now must prepare for the annual battle against rival Plymouth Canton in the Mangan Meet Tuesday evening. The Rocks are the favorites but Salem coach Gary Balconi thinks Canton could make it interesting.

"Canton has a better-balanced team than in the past," said the Rock coach. "They're good in the field events, they have some good sprinters and some good distance people."

The Mangan Meet field events begin at 6 p.m., with the track events following at 7 p.m. Admission cost is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children. All proceeds go to support both schools' track programs.

Salem girls win 5th straight game while Canton 9 can't buy a victory

The Plymouth Salem softball team, gearing up for its showdown double-header at Livonia Stevenson a week from today, won a pair of Western Lakes conference games last week.

The Rocks clobbered Northville 35-3 on Wednesday, and came from behind to defeat Livonia Bentley, 18-10 on Friday.

Salem banged out 13 hits and received 29 walks en route to the rout. The Rocks batted around in every inning but the fourth.

Denise Tackett had three hits for the Rocks and knocked in six runs. Leslie Plichta had two hits and four RBI, Terri Lesniak had a pair of hits and three RBI and Cindy Runge had two hits and two RBI.

Sue Carlson was the winning pitcher, going the first four innings, giving up two runs on five hits. Tackett finished up.

Four Rock errors in the third inning enabled the Bulldogs to score six runs and take an 8-2 lead.

"It was kind of strange," said Salem coach Rob Willette. "We hadn't made many errors all year and then all of a sudden we make four in one inning. But, the girls didn't panic at all."

Indeed they didn't. They scored one in the third, two in the fourth and then exploded for 13 in the fifth.

Runge knocked in four runs in the 13-run fifth with a pair of triples. Other hitting stars for the Rocks were Debbie Glomski (2-for-3, three RBI), Plichta (2-for-2, one RBI), Tackett (a two-run triple) and Patty Maslac (a two-run single).

Carlson scattered nine hits and struck out three to pick up her fifth win of the season.

Salem is 5-0 on the year and ranked No. 3 in Observerland. But, Willette isn't about to let his club get cocky.

"I told the girls that if they make seven errors against Stevenson (like they did against Bentley), they won't even be in the ball game," he said.

PLYMOUTH CANTON continues to struggle. The Chiefs' losing streak is now at four after losing to Livonia Stevenson, 14-0, on Wednesday and to Farmington Harrison, 7-6, on Friday.

Laura Darby got the only hit given up by Stevenson's ace Lisa Bokovoy. Bokovoy struck out 11.

Darby also made three outstanding defensive plays at third base for the Chiefs.

Against Harrison, the Chiefs carried a 6-3 lead into the last inning. But, Nancy Dye, who had kept the Hawks at bay through six innings, suddenly lost her control. She walked three in the seventh, setting up a two-run double by Colette Cashin that pulled Harrison within one.

The Hawks scored the tying and winning runs when Karen Sklar's outfield fly was dropped.

Darby and Lou Ann Hamblin each had a pair of hits for the Chiefs. Darby knocked in two runs.

The Chiefs are 0-4.

Chief kickers stun Spartans

Plymouth Canton shocked defending state champion Livonia Stevenson with a pair of breakaway goals in a 2-1 home field triumph Wednesday.

Stevenson scored the game's first goal on Julie Kusza's penalty kick five minutes into the opening half, but Canton shut down the high-powered Spartan offense the rest of the way.

Kendra Whitely provided the Chiefs with all the offense it needed, scoring both goals, and Pat Phillips provided stalwart goalkeeping.

On Friday, Stevenson rebounded with a 4-0 victory at home over North Farmington.

"We're back on track," said Stevenson coach Norene Divens.

Mary Kay Hussey and Leasa Kliz each poked in two goals to lift the Spartans to the win. Doreen Beagle was hardly tested in goal, stopping the only three shots on net to record the shutout.

"We played a lot better tonight than Wednesday," said Divens. "We couldn't get into the game. We were hurting physically from the Bentley game Tuesday night.

"We played horribly. We couldn't do anything right."

Stevenson, now 8-1, opens its title defense tonight at home with a pre-district qualifying game against Detroit Northern. Game time is 7 p.m.

NORTHVILLE 2, CHURCHILL 1: Lisa Cahill punched in the game-winning goal on a breakaway 10 minutes into the second half Friday as visiting Northville ambushed Livonia Churchill. The score was knotted at 1-1 at the half. Julie Myers notched Churchill's goal and Cheryl Spanan netted one for the Mustangs.

"We had great chances but we couldn't put the ball in the net," said Churchill coach Ed Dudek. "The pressure was on us because we were undefeated. Now maybe we'll be able to loosen up and play our game."

Churchill is now 10-1-1 while Northville is 9-3.

CHURCHILL 3, FARMINGTON 1: The Chargers had a tough time Wednesday, despite outshooting the Falcons 30-7.

Kim Montgomery scored what proved to be the winning goal 10 minutes into the second half. Jennifer Huegel and Jennifer Flowers scored the other Churchill goals.

BORGESS 4, BISHOP FOLEY 3: Rene Ponto did it all last week, scoring three goals and making the stops on defense in the final five minutes of play. (Dana Pederson scored the other Borgess goal).

Borgess, now 3-3 overall, also got solid goaltending from Anita Emmett.

FRANKLIN 5, HARRISON 3: The Patriots raced out to a 3-1 halftime lead and never looked back, picking up their second win of the season last week.

Heather Colvin scored twice for the winners. Mary Schulz, Linda McCaul and Lori Cancilla had the other Patriot goals.

Crissey throws out book, Bennett blanks Spartans

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

There's a thing in baseball known as "the book." It's kind of a mythical how-to-manage-a-baseball-team manual.

The book says things like, with a man on and nobody out in a tie ball game, you have your next hitter bunt that man to second. The book also says you don't try to bunt with two strikes on you.

Plymouth Canton baseball coach Fred Crissey has memorized every line of that mythical book, but to see him manage against Livonia Stevenson Wednesday you'd have thought he contracted amnesia.

"Oh, no question, I went against the book," Crissey said.

The veteran coach, who has more than 200 victories in his career at Canton, must have known what he was doing. Book or no book, his team beat Stevenson, 4-0.

CANTON'S MARK Bennett pitched another flawless seven innings for his third win of the season. He and Spartan hurler Rick Rozman matched out for out, strike out for strike out through five innings. Rozman had a no-hitter going and Bennett had given up just one hit.

Then came the top of the sixth and Crissey decided to throw away the book.

Bennett led off with a walk. Next up was designated hitter Jeff Olson. The book calls for Olson to bunt. Crissey called time out and pulled his slugger aside.

"He got two strikes on him. I just told him I had a feeling he was going to stroke one," Crissey said.

After fouling off three tough Rozman pitches, Olson ripped an opposite-field shot that split the gap between the left and center fielders. Olson was on second and Bennett at third with no outs.

Tim Collins, the next Canton hitter, hit a fly to right deep enough to score Bennett for what proved to be the winning run.

baseball

The game may have easily stayed at 1-0, except for a two-run throwing error by Rozman.

AFTER COLLINS' fly, Jim Dillon laid down a perfect bunt. Rozman fired to third trying to get Olson, but the tag was high. First and third, one out, Dillon stole second. Then pinch-hitter Jeff Wittner, with a two-strike count, popped a bunt in the air. Rozman caught the ball in the air and fired to third to double up Olson. His throw tailed away from third baseman Mike LaFrance and both runners scored.

"He made a throw to third in the first inning and I noticed he side-armed the ball," Crissey said. "I told the kids that he was bound to throw it away like that."

But, Crissey had nothing but praise for Rozman, who fanned nine Chiefs and allowed just three hits.

"He was the toughest pitcher we had faced all year," Crissey said. "He really did a fine job."

Bennett was better. Masterful best describes the senior's performance. His stats tell part of the story: seven innings, one hit, three walks and 10 strikeouts.

Bennett kept the Stevenson hitters off stride with an assortment of pitches. In the third, he fanned the side using at least four different pitches. He threw the fastball to set up his curve and dipping split-fingered fastball. On top of that, he threw in a devastating change-up. It was no contest.

ABOUT THE only Spartan hitter that looked good against Bennett was big Dan Gilmartin. Gilmartin had the lone hit and also hit a shot to left-center that Canton's Sean Goulet ran down.

Star scholar

Mark Bennett, Plymouth Canton's first-ever All-State basketball player, was one of 15 players selected to the Class A Academic All-State team by the Basketball Coaches Association of Michigan. Bennett's 3.8 grade point average and honorable mention on All-State teams qualified him for the honor. He will be awarded a certificate of merit at the high school All-Star game June 16 at Western Michigan University.

Salem-Northville war continues and Mustangs come out ahead

The chemistry between Plymouth Salem and Northville high schools is, to say the least, explosive.

Last March, the teams met in the district basketball championship at Plymouth Canton and the game was more physical than many football games. The bumping and bruising climaxed in a brief scuffle between Salem's Rick Berberet and Northville's Steve Schrader — two very large young men.

The two teams, and the two individuals, squared off in round two last Wednesday. This time, the contest was baseball.

Northville won the game 6-1, and according to many witnesses, the Mustangs had the edge in the bench-clearing brawl that occurred in the third inning.

Ahead 5-0, Northville tried to pull off a double-steal. Schrader, the runner on third, got trapped in a run down between home and third. Berberet tagged Schrader out, perhaps a bit more aggressively than usual. The two went at it at home plate and the benches emptied.

IT WAS not a good day for Berberet. He had uncharacteristic control problems, walking six in his three innings of work.

"Rick was behind everybody," said coach John Gravin. "He did not pitch well at all."

Not only did he suffer his first defeat of the season, but Berberet also lost the fight with Schrader.

It was a bizarre outing all the way for Salem. They hit the ball hard, but could manage just one run. And defensively, an area of strength all year for the Rocks, they made several mistakes.

"We had seven line shots caught by their outfield," Gravin said. "We made one physical error and there were some plays that should have been made. If we had made the plays it would have been a fantastic game. Northville is a fine club — the best club I've seen offensively."

The Mustangs are 6-0 in Western Lakes play, and with Canton for the league lead.

Darryl Brown's two-out home-lead single in the fourth scored Salem's only run. Brown and Mike Cindrich paced the Rocks' line-all attack with two apiece.

Salem stranded seven runners on the bases. Dan Knapp relieved Berberet in the fourth and pitched well the rest of the way, giving up a run in the seventh.

THE ROCKS came back strong on Friday, beating Livonia Bentley, 7-5.

Two three-run innings enabled Darryl Brees to pick up his second win of the year.

Mike Cindrich's two-run homer and Scott An-der's RBI double put Salem ahead 3-0 after one.

Salem scored three more in the fifth on a pair of walks, a sacrifice and a two-run single by Jim Lynch who scored on Tim Robinson's double.

Errors enabled Bentley to stay close. Four Rock errors led to four Bentley runs. Of the five Bentley runs, only two were earned.

Chris Mowers' double in the sixth scored Cindrich for Salem's seventh run.

Anderson and Lynch had two hits apiece to pace the Rocks. Salem was also aided by seven walks.

The Rocks, ranked No. 3 in Observerland, are now 7-2 on the season, 4-1 in the league.

The Bounty sails, in stylish remake

The British seem intent on remaking all the popular classics. "Tarzan" premiered in March and now "The Bounty" is sailing again in a very classy film.

Circumnavigating the globe, as Captain Bligh tried, is a long trip, as is this beautifully mounted 190-minute movie. Photography, scenery including authentic 18th century sites, costuming, acting — in fact the entire production, with the exception of the pounding, ostentatious score by Vangelis and the uneven direction by Roger Donaldson — is well worth the price of admission.

The fine cast projects a series of compositional and dramatic vignettes of 18th century England in all its glory, including exposing some of the seamy undersides. Fletcher Christian (Mel Gibson) and Captain Bligh (Anthony Hopkins) are the protagonists, with excellent support from Sir Laurence Olivier as Admiral Hood and Edward Fox as Captain Greetham.

The conflict between refined surfaces and what's underneath provides the tension that motivates this production but an indecisiveness on Director Donaldson's part leaves the audience uncertain about which characters are the heroes and which the villains.

THAT UNCERTAINTY detracts from our viewing pleasure because in the end of "The Bounty" it is hard to tell whether or not we like some, one or all of the characters. It's not so much a matter of characters having redeeming qualities as it is a matter of the director waffling in the flow of the story and the emphasis placed on individual development and change.

The strong British sense of duty and tradition enabled a relatively small group of people to dominate the world for several centuries. "Don't go native!" was one aspect of that sense of duty, an injunction which saved English colonials from being swallowed up by the huge native populations they controlled.

"Going native" provides the disruptive force aboard "The Bounty" but the film is much more about the British psyche and the motivations of power. Neither the British nor power look too good when all is said and done.

"The Bounty" is a familiar story of two friends on a tainted voyage that destroys them both. Pride and avarice are the ill winds that propel the Bounty.

The British Admiralty commissions the Bounty to sail to Tahiti and bring back a cargo of breadfruit trees to provide inexpensive food for West Indian slaves. With that greed motivating the voyage, and Captain Bligh's pride in his search for career advancement by circumnavigating the globe via stormy Cape Horn, this voyage is doomed. When Fletcher Christian, the first officer, becomes enamored of the Tahitian Princess Mauatua (Tevaite Vernet), the end is in sight.

THE FILM IS historically authentic and apparently no expense was spared — native villages in Tahiti, a $250,000 set for the Dutch East Indies Colony where Bligh finally lands, and a four-million-dollar replica of the original Bounty were built — but however close to historical events, the consistent dramatic force and intensity needed to make all that money worthwhile is lacking.

The film's pulse is irregular. The storm-tossed attempt to round Cape Horn (it was almost too noisy and hard to follow), the confrontations between Bligh and Christian that turn friendship to enmity, and the mutiny itself are intense, well-acted sequences but they are intercut with languid scenes that diminish the overall impact and make it hard for us to see any difference between the good and bad guys.

Perhaps this determined thrust at psychological authenticity ("there's a little bit of good and bad in everyone") to go with the historical authenticity is the film's greatest fault. It's pleasurable two-hours-plus of visual delights leaves us wondering who's right after all.

Christian and Tahitian native girl Mauatua, played by Tevaite Vernet, are lovers in "The Bounty."
