Democrats lie low in township races

By Emory Daniels staff writer

Not a single Democrat has filed for an office in Plymouth Township this

Of the 16 candidates filing for township offices by the end of the day Tuesday, all are Republicans.

For two offices, there will not be any opposition in the August primary. Supervisor Maurice Breen is running unopposed for re-election while two candidates - Eugene Hood and Francis Radwick - are unopposed for the two constable positions on the ballot.

THE MOST INTERESTING race developing is for the township treasurer's job vacated by the retirement of Joe Mary Brooks, heir apparent for the post as deputy treasurer to West, is being challenged by Trustee Barbara Lynch, a proven campaigner.

Tossing his hat into the treasurer's race also is Ray Maycock, a CPA who ton and Andrew Pruner filed for reis active in community affairs and is a election.

Memories of 'friendliness' stay as 2 postmen retire

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

When Lew Robinson cleared his desk at the Plymouth Post Office and ended 37 years of employment on June 1, he carried with him an unusual memory into retirement.

Recalling the one day he will remember above all others, he said that one morning as he went about his route in Lake Pointe Village he rescued an elderly woman from her burning home.

STANDING NEARBY Was Bill Bauman, another postal worker who will retire later this month, who also had some fond memories of his daily coverage of the route along Ann Arbor Road and Haggerty.

"I was stunned when I came to the burning house," Robinson re-called, "and I immediately thought of the elderly woman.

Thinking that she was caught in it, I raced into the house, braving the smoke and flames. But I couldn't find her. I thought the worst had happened - that she was engulfed in flames. But as I made my way to the exit, I saw her body. She was laying on the side porch. And we managed to save her. It was a moment I never will forget." That was one of the big moments of his career, but he earned several honors for his service. He is the lone mail carrier in the office who has covered the same route for his 37 years of delivering the daily mail.

For his faithful service and his driving skill he was awarded a plaque. His clear record in traffic is unique in the Plymouth office.

Robinson is looking forward to an unusual retirement. He plans to spend the winters in Florida and the summer back home in Plymouth.

BAUMAN ALSO is looking forward to relief from the monotonous task of delivering the daily mail. Born and raised in Plymouth, Bauman is a graduate of Plymouth High School and is the father of three. Though he will be absent from the office, Mrs. Bauman, another veteran in the postal service, will remain on the job.

"I don't plan a Florida visit," Bauman said, "but I am anxious to get into the garden. I always liked that and my wife will keep me busy with 'honey do' tasks.

"I have no single incident as a memory, but I always will appreciate the friendliness that was shown me in all my years on the Ann Arbor Road route. Times and faces have changed, but not the friendliness."

At Monday night's school board workshop, a committee got the goahead to recommend revisions in the attendance policy and present them to the board sometime in July. "There's some need for change" of

The "pilot" policy has been changed only slightly since it went into effect three years ago.

Township seeks state aid to buy 17 acres for park or we can turn it down. We're not

staff writer

Plymouth Township last week made a last-minute application for state funds to help buy 17 acres of vacant school-owned land next to Plymouth Township Park.

Four members of the Township Board of Trustees voted Thursday to fund half the cost of buying the acreage, which lies on the northwest corner of Ann Arbor Trail east of Beck Road. The Plymouth-Canton school district is asking $165,000 for the wooded acreage, purchased for a future school site but now lying unused. In a grant application due in Lansing second half of the cost. Money from state oil and mineral leases contribute to the fund, which is administered through the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The township also is considering using Federal Revenue Sharing Funds to pay the township's $82,500 share of the cost. If that should happen, and if the trust fund should come through, the township could conceivably get the land for very little or nothing.
"THE TIMING was right to apply for the state funding," said Township Supervisor Maurice Breen.

"We seemed to qualify under the guidelines. Whether we buy the land depends on the land grant. If we can't get it this year, maybe we can next year. "If we get the grant, we can go 50-50, locked into anything." Notices for the meeting at noon Thursday were hastily put up in township hall late Wednesday afternoon. Breen, Township Clerk Esther Hulsing and trustees Barbara Lynch and Andrew Pruner all attended the meeting and voted for the funding. Treasurer Joseph West, trustees Lee Fidge and Smith Horton were absent. Breen said the posting of the notices fell within the 18-hour limit required by law. He said the meeting was sched uled at the last minute because of a d lay in getting the grant proposal to-gether. The grant had to be in Lansing. Friday.

Businesses pay for parking

By Marie Chestney staff writer

All that stands between a new city office building and an addition to a florist shop in Plymouth are 13 parking

City code requires the proposed office building at 575 S. Main to have 26 parking spaces; the land only has space for 19.

The same code requires the proposed addition to Helde's Florist, 995 W. Ann Arbor Tr'ail, to be able to serve six more parked cars, something it doesn't have the space to do.

The city's way of getting around the lack of required parking spaces at the two locations is to give the owners of the two buildings something called "parking credits." This is done through the city's special assessment roll pro-

The first of two public hearings required to get the credits for the two sites was held Monday. The final one is coming up in about three weeks.

Once the red tape is out of the way, the two owners will be able to get their projects moving by paying special as-sessments to the city for the spaces

"I ONCE spent an hour trying to ex-lain 'parking creditn' to the IRS," said ity Manager Henry Graper. "It wasn't easy, but it goes something like this. The code might say you need eight spaces, but you only have space for six. But if you're within 300 feet of a municipal parking lot, the city will give you credits. You pay the city for spaces customers use in that lot. The money goes into a parking fund and the city uses it to buy more city parking."

Some of the cost of the city's Central Parking Lot deck is being offset by monies from parking credits.

Customers of the planned Main Street office building, owned by North-ville's Bauss-Ruehr Building Co., can rk at the Weidman Parking Lot, next to the Mayflower Hotel. If the assessment is OK'd by the City

Customers of the planned addition to Heide's can park at the city's municipal parking lot near Harvey and Ann Arbor Trail. Also if passed by the commission, owner Norman Ruehr will have to pay the city $14,648 for his six spaces. (Two credits already have been paid for). This assessment also runs for 10 years.

By billing the parking credits as a special assessment, the debt becomes a lien on the property if left unpaid when the property is sold, the owner dies, or in case of bankruptcy.

Sheriff, prosecutor unopposed in race

staff writer

The deadline for filing for county political office passed Tuesday without serious challenge to two top Wayne County office holders who were appointed to their jobs.

Prosecutor John O'Hair, appointed last September to succeed the resigned William Cahalan, will have a free ride in both the Democratic primary and Nov. 7 general election. No one - Republican or Democrat - is running against him.

Sheriff Robert A. Ficano, the Livonia attorney who won an appointment early in 1983 after a bitter, four-months court battle, in opposed by one political unknown in the Democratic primary and a Republican unknown in the general election.

FICANO WAS deputy county clerk when he was appointed sheriff by a panel of county officholders, including his then boss, Clerk James Killeen, to succeed William Lucas as sheriff.

Lucas, who was elected county executive in 1982, had sought to appoint his undersheriff, Loren Pittman, to succeed him. Instead, the courts gave the nod to Ficano.

The 31-year-old sheriff then proceeded to make himself as visible as possible, launching cooperative law enforcement programs with police chiefs, reinstituting the marine patrol, making as many speeches as possible, cultivating black ministers. It paid off.

His Democratic primary opponent will be Thaddeus J. Opalinski of Livonia. His Republican opponent Nov. 6 will be Robert L. Slaughter of Dearborn. Neither has a lengthy political O'Hair, who in six months as prosecutor held more news conferences than Cahalan did in six years, won an absolutely free ride with no opponents

IN CONTRAST, veteran Democratic officeholders all found themselves with long lists of opponents.

Clerk Killeen, who got the office by appointment a decade ago, found himself with three Democratic primary opponents - all with Polish surnames. They are Thaddeus J.Zamboroski of Livonia, James F. Malinowski of Taylor and Robert A. Zwolak, city clerk of Hamtramck. Winner will face Republican Henry Lauve of Grosse Pointe Woods in November.

Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz, appointed to the office four years ago, has three primary opponents - Joseph Patrick Walsh of Dearborn Heights, James A. Gallagher of Deroit and Joseph Gulvezan of Harper Woods.

Register of Deeds Forest E. Youngblood, appointed to succeed his father in the mid-1970s, will face Leonard J. Sesko of Detroit in the pimary. Seeking the Republican nomination are Law rence G. Schweiger, a frequent political candidate from Livonia, and Walter J. Pauloweit of Dearborn.

Drain Commissioner Charles N. Youngblood will face a string of seven opponents, including George Hart, a former county commissioner and former state senator from Dearborn. In 1980 Hart, then a mid-term senator. unsuccessfully sought the Democratic nomination for county treasurer. Unopposed for the Republican nomination is Roland W. Arnold of Southgate.

11 candidates grapple with school issues

To help inform voters on candidates in Monday's election for the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education, the Observer Newspaper sent out a questionnaire on issues to all candidates.

The candidates responding were Glenn Schroeder, Dean Swartzwelter, Nancy Quinn, Les Walker, Karen Murphy, Daniel O'Day, Chester Liana, Harvey Failor, Carol Bollman, and Richard Sumpter. Liana submitted biographical material but did not answer any questions, explaining he has been a resident for only 16 months and is not familiar with the school issues.

Two persons will be elected to fouryear terms on the school board. Schroeder is the only incumbent running as Flossie Tonda has decided against seeking re-election.

Trustees not up for election this year include Tom Yack, Elaine Kirchgatter and David Artley of Canton, and Roland Thomas and E.J. McClendon of Plymouth. The election will be held Monday, June 11, with the polls open at 7 a.m. and closing at 8 p.m.

The questions asked by the Observer and the answers of the candidates fol-

QUESTION: Are you in favor of the school board's request for 1.74 additional operating mills? Why or why not? How should the new revenue be spent if the proposal is approved? (maximum 150-word answer).

Bollman: "Yes, I am in favor of the milage. Unfortunately it is not likely that any new programs can be started. The new money will only cover the continuing expenses the district now incurrs. I don't think the residents realize the kinds of maintenance costs we are faced with. We have to put a new roof on the Salem H.S. These kinds of costs are big ticket items. The parents at Hulsing, Erickson and Field want changes made in the housing of these students, architectual changes to the building. Many board members agree with the parents, but this is an expensive venture."

Walker: "I feel the additional millage is needed to sustain the program in our District at this time and therefore support it. There hasn't been a millage increase in five years and inflation increases make it necessary. The Board and Central Administration have carried out a well-organized and sincere effort in recent years to thoroughly review budget vs. costs with the objective of preserving Program by making cuts when needed on a carefully prioritized basis. My principle criticism is that concern with the human element is usually ignored in the mechanical decision process. The new revenue will be largely committed to maintain present funding without incurring an unmanageable deficit going into the 85/86 year. If we are fortunate enough to realize a higher-than-projected fund balance next year, I would look to increasing block grants, reducing class sizes and restoring funding cut from the Art and Athletic pro-

Sumpter: "I can not support the 1.74 millage increase. The board has stated there is enough surplus funds in the 83/ 84 budget to balance the 84/85 budget. There are too many uncertain variables regarding school financing and costs. 1. Undetermined levels of state funding. 2. Propety values. 3. Enrolment. 4. A definate request for a millage renewal of 8 mills expiring in January 1985. Because of item number 4 any increase in taxes should not even be concidered untill 1985. Should the millage pass I would like to have safety bussing reinstitued and coaches salaries par with other districts." Murphy: "Based on all the informa-tion I've been able to gather, I believe an increase is neccessary at this particular point and time. There hasn't been a mileage increase in five years and costs have continued to rise steadily. I would like to see as much money as possible directed to the classroom and to improving the quality of the education we are giving to students. I feel it is important to look for and eliminate waste in the school system. Waste should not be tolerated, and not perpequantity's hard earned money."

Quinn: "Yes, I am in favor of the request for 1.74 additional operating mills. Our district has not had a miliage increase in five years. Conserva-tive money management has allowed us this breather. Now, however, the limit has been reached. Additional money is necessary to maintain our programs. We must not allow any cuts to be made! Particularily important are the core areas; English (reading), Social Science, Math, Science, Computer Literacy. A steady erosion of quality education cannot be permitted! Our childrens' minds are our most precious resource! They are the leaders of the

I would focus monetary support directly into the classroom where our children would receive the most benefit. In addition, I would like to see some of the support areas strengthened - to be judged on an individual basis. We must strive for qualtiy and excellence in education, making our good schools

Failor: "Yes. It appears to be a fair request. I understand that the approval this request will not add anything new into the budget, but permit all existing programs to continue. The current board has indicated that failure to pass this millage will necessitate cuts to be determined. Declining enrollments, new technology and increased costs for utilities and services have a profound impact upon budgetary Schroeder: "I am in favor of the 1.74 millage increase sought by the school board in the June election. The incremental millage is necessary if the district is to maintain the programs currently in place. Without the millage increase the district could make it thru the 1984-85 school year with the fund equity balance at approximately zero. The district however, would be 3.0 million short for the 1985-86 school year which would require approximately 3.0 mills to cover the shortfall or major reductions in staff personnel. Over the past few years the district has been skimping on the replacement of equipment in the schools, buses and major rehabilitation programs such as roofs. If the millage fails further cuts must be made in these areas which will ultimately lead to major deterioration in the buildings and equipment of the Swartzwelter: "It is very disappointing that the Board has not rele more information about how the addi tional mills would be spent if approved, or what would not be provided if rejected. The people do not have a clear set of alternatives to guide them in their decision. The recently approved five percent employe contract for 1985-86 makes it clear the additional revenue will be required to cover District labor costs in 1985-1986. In addition, some restorations in athletics and other areas may be possible if the request is approved. For the overall support of education in the District, and to avoid further reductions in the District, I support the Board's ballot request.'

O'Day: "I am not in favor of the schools 1.74 mil increase. The schools. like any other business, tend to waste money. I believe that a budget reorganization would solve any existing budget problem. If fact, when the board was asked how the new revenue would be used, they didn't know! They did, though, spend the next 25 minutes agreeing that the increase was needed. I believe the voters will turn down the QUESTION: Did the school board last fall negotiate too much, too little, or just the right amount of increase for employees? Why? How would you evalnate the administration's handling of the labor dispute? (Maximum 100

Sumpter: "The board negotiated too little. I don't believe they entered into negotiations with an open mind, but rather dictated the contract results. This caused continuing staff disharmo-

Schroeder: "The school board offer last year was reasonable based on the rate of inflation and what the district could afford. The administration handled the dispute in a very satisfactory manner. The dispute did not arise as a result of any action taken by the board or the administration but the teachers decision to withold their services even though they had a valid contract with a no strike clause. The community was no strike clause. The community was apprised of the situation thru the newspapers and parents received letters from the administration advising them of the districts position on the matter."

O'Day: "Although I can't claim any expertise in this matter, I would say that the board did not negotiate records."

should have been getting the kids back into classes. The administration did a terrible job handling the strike. They should have been working with the students best interests in mind, and they Swartzwelter: "The average annual increase for the two years of the contract is about 4.5 percent - the going rate of inflation in Michigan. Considering the financial position of the District, and that the contract was ratified by employes, it is probably a reasonable settlement for both the District and employes. The negotiations last fall obviously were not handled well because an employe walkout occurred. The negotiation process failed. All negotiation strategy sessions between Administration and the Board were secret, and the public could not attend. Information from the sessions was limited. I cannot, therefore, indicate if the specific role Administration took was self-initiated or Board-initiated. The jointly-shared role was inadequate, however, because the walkout oc-

Failor: "I don't believe too much was negotiated last fall for employees. If the budget could have handled it, probably a larger increase might have been in order. I am not epposed to paying good wages if and when quality service is forthcoming. There are also legal aspects in labor negotiations which necessitates boards of education to respond as dictated by the law and the Murphy: "I feel the increase negotiated was fair and realistic given the current finacial situation of the district. Adminstration's handling of the situation was poor. The walting, and lack of communication all contributed to making an already bad situation Quinn: "Last falls' strike was the result of a complete breakdown in communication between all parties involved. All must share the blame. The contracts that were finally negotiated (3 percent and 6 percent raises) were realistic and appropriate considering the economic situation of the local and state finances. The teachers/administrators willingness to negotiate a one year extention (of 5 percent) without third party involvement shows real progress toward cooperation through effective communication. We need to build a strong bond of trust between every party concerned so that we can concentrate on our goal of quality education for our children."

Walker: "The negotiated increase last Fall was a fair amount. When all the emotion subsided, both sides probably concurred. In fact, the one-year ex-tension to the teacher's agreement indi-cates both sides felt comfortable with the settlement. However, it ignored some financial issues that could have been easily settled, such as the aides request for Blue Cross-Blue Shield coverage for eight aides, leaving those people feeling short-changed. I would evaluate the Administration/Board handling of the labor dispute as unnecessarily combative and short-sighted. It was directed more from vindictiveness than from a sincere interest in reaching a mutually agreeable settle-

Bollman: "Its easy to be a Monday morning quarterback. To say yesterday I would have. . . No one can change yesterday. Their does seem to be a communication problem between the administration and the employees. not only teachers I think some of our ancillary service personnell are often being overlooked."

QUESTION: As a board member, what would you ask be done as a result of the cancellation of the Student Artfest and resignation of Fred Thomann? Are these isolated incidents or are they indicative of a larger problem? (75 word Murphy: "I hope the Student Artfest can be a reality next year and in the years to come. The Artfest is good for the community and all those involved. It allows the community to see some of the positive things that are happening

I'm sure there are other contributing factors in these occurances, which should be looked into and examined more closely, rather than ignored."

Quinn: "The resignation of Fred Thomann and other coaches, and cancellation of the student Artfest are visible signs of a much deeper problem. Mon-ey is the reason given. I believe that is only partially true. The strike, coupled with a lack of trust and committment to these programs is the real cause. As a Board member, I would listen/discuss the situations. Hopefully, these people and programs could be reinsti-

Walker: "While funding reductions are involved, I really don't believe they represent the basic issue or the primary concerns of the coaches and Art teachers. These incidents are not isolated, but the result of an ever increasing gap in communication between the employees and the Board/Administra-

As a Board member, I would work with the coaches and Art teachers to get a full understanding of the real, problems, be they morale or financial, and take action to resolve them."

O'Day: "I believe the two protests are isolated incidents, but should be taken seriously. The board believes that there is no money to give the programs in question, when actually, there is. Reorganizing the budget would avoid such protests."

Sumpter: "An open meeting with all extra corricular staff employees to determine what is the problem. Once the problem is identified, take actions to improve the extra curricular program for our children."

Bollman: "I don't think our crediability as an educational agency should be determined by who coaches our athletic teams. The artfest was a community-district wide activity and I hope we can reinstate this kind of interest in our schools. Again I think the communication between the administration and the employees need fence mending.'

Failor: "I believe the incidents are reactions to the events which have occurred during the past few years in labor relations. It would appear that these incidents are manifestations of a larger problem. I think there needs to be an indepth effort made to improve the trust factor and to improve communications among all who are affected by decisions made by the board of education. Respected citizens might join in an effort to research the issues and make recommendations to overcome the problems."

Swartzwelter: "Try to improve come munications between the affected groups and Administration and the Board. I do not believe in taking actions that could further isolate these groups into more adversarial positions. Only the affected people could respond as to whether these actions were taken at random or part of an overall plan. There is, however, a messge that we all should recognize: many groups feel isolated and left out of the mainstream of Administration and Board support."

Schroeder: "The Art, Music and Physical Education programs at the elementary level in our distirct are superior to any district in Wayne County. The teachers lack support for the Stu-dent Artfest based on the boards funding of these programs is ridiculous. Mr. Thomann's resignation is regretable as he is a fine man and an excellent coach; The board is committed to a good athletic program at the secondary level but unfortunately cannot demonstrate this commitment with monies.'

Schools to tighten absence policy

What precipitated the policy review was the fact that "kids now know they have essentially five times they can skip and up to eight times they can skip (before there are severe consequences)," Egli said

"When you give that parameter maybe that's more than you need. (The consensus is) how much do we want to coddle students, and at what point do we want adolescents to take responsibility for their own behavior?

"(Teacher Pat) Barry has talked to the kids who were skipping at times, and asked, 'Do you have a job?' If they said yes, he'd ask whether they skipped their job," said Egli.

"They'd say, 'No, they'd fire us.' You have to have consequences - then people will respond to that knowledge."

A Summer Employment and Training Program will provide 200 summer jobs for disadvantaged youth ages 18-

Also planned is a massive Targeted Jobs Tax Credit program to recruit summer employment opportunities for young people in southeast Michigan. The program allows employers to get tax credits for hiring youth.

THE SUMMER Employment and Training Program will run eight weeks beginning June 18 and ending Aug. 10.
Funded through the federal Job Partnership Training Act, it seeks out youth who are residents of Wayne County excluding Detroit and 16 downriver communities which have their

The young people must be unemployed and qualify as economically disadvantaged under federal guide-

"We will work with these young peo-ple on developing the work habits all employers are seeking," said Wayne County Executive William Lucas. He said the idea is to improve their future employability in the job market.

Participants will be assigned to Wayne County offices and agencies in a variety of jobs. Each will work at least a 32-hour week at the wage of $4.17 per Information on the Summer Youth and Training Program is available from Gail Holben at 467-1576.

INFORMATION is being mailed out to 65,000 employers in the region seeking their active participation in the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit program.

The program allows employers to take advantage of an 85 percent tax credit for 16- and 17-year-olds hired for the summer. Also available is a 50 percent tax credit for 18-21-year-olds.

Under the program, an employer may hire young people for any 90-day period (or less) between May 1 and Sept. 15. The credit will apply toward the first $3,000 in earning

By hiring a 16-year-old at the mini-mum wage of $3.35 per hour, the em-ployer gets a $2.85 per hour tax credit. The actual out-of-pocket expense to the employer is 50 cents per hour.

"I BELIEVE that once businesses become aware of this program, they will take advantage of the tax credits," said Lucas.

"The business gets a tax break, the youngsters get jobs, and the community benefits because additional payroll can change hands as many as seven times, translating into more goods and services and still more jobs."

The effort is being co-sponsored by the Private Industry Councils of Wayne County, Oakland County, City of De-troit, Downriver/Monroe, greater Pon-tiac area, Livingston/Washtenaw, Ma-comb/St. Clair and the Thumb area. Also participating are the local public schools, intermediate school districts, Michigan Department of Social Services, Michigan Employment Security Commission offices and local area chambers of commerce.

Job Corps signups MESC accepting

Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) offices across the state will take applications for the Michigan Youth Corps program for two weeks now through Friday, June 15.

MESC Director S. Martin Taylor said 102 MESC locations throughout Michigan will be the only sites where young persons can apply for the Youth Corps. "Although the state Legislature has GM's NEW 'FREE DENTAL PLAN COULD COST YOU PLENTY.

A new dental plan you'll be offered at work appears to cover almost everything for practically nothing. But don't be fooled. You don't get something for nothing. While it will cut health care costs for your employer, it will cost you plenty — In terms of quality, convenience, personal service and freedom to choose your own dentist.

NO FREEDOM OF CHOICE

Only certain dentists will participate in this type of plan. If you elect such coverage from your employer - and your personal and preferred dentist is not associated with a capitation plan - you will have to drop your present dentist and you will be assigned to a new location for dental services.

INCONVENIENT TREATMENT LOCATIONS There is no guarantee that your newly assigned dentist will be convenient to your home or place of employment — meaning wasted time getting to and from treatment centers.

LOSS OF PERSONAL SERVICE

Subscribers under this new plan will place an added burden on participating dentists — who must also continue treating their long established patients. Capitation patients will be competing for limited appointment time. If you were the dentist, who would get priority?

REDUCED DENTAL CARE QUALITY Under this capitation plan, participating dentists receive a minimal monthly fixed fee to meet your dental needs, regardless of how extensive they may be. The cost of your dental service beyond the most basic level will likely come out of your dentist's own pocket. After all, he could be using the time to treat a regular patient paying regular rates. While most dentists are truly conscientious professionals, the potential exists for delaying treatment and employing quicker, temporary, less expensive techniques for capitation patients—and probably with no apportunity to discuss the treatment approach, as you would with a dentiet of your own choice.

For more information about how capitation plans may affect the quality of your dental acare, ask your personal denties a opinion. Of write the Michigan Dental Association.

Voters' choice issues 'red alert

Insuing a "red alert," the anti-tax group calling itself Voters Choice '84 is asking for 100,000 more petition signatures by July 8 to put its proposal on the Nov. 6 ballot.

"I believe it will be on the ballot and ass," said Richard Headlee, one of five spokespersons for the multi-parti-san group. Headles of Farmington Hills is president of Alexander Hamilton Insurance Co. and was the 1982 Republican candidate for governor.

Gwen Dempsey-Daigle, vice president of North American Real Estate in Waterford, said in a news conference the group needs 304,000 valid signa-tures and has an estimated 268,000 val-

It is seeking more than the required minimum because of the chances 20 percent will be discarded as invalid.

IF APPROVED by voters, the Voters Choice initiative would amend the state constitution to:

• Require all increases in tax rates or bases to be approved by voters.

• Roll back last year's income tax increase to the previous LS percent ef-fective 96 days after the election. The provision also would apply to gandine and cigarette tax increases approved by the Michigan Legislature since the end of 1981.

· Require a four-fifths vote by local legislative bodies to increase any fee, license or permit. (Thus, a building permit fee increase would require votes of six members of a seven-person city council; a tuition increase would require six votes of a seven-person com-munity college board and seven votes on an eight-member board of a fouryear college.) .

• Limit the Detroit non-resident income tax to 0.5 percent. (Detroit voters in 1982 raised the rate to 1.5 percent, half the 3 percent resident rate.)

HEADLEE, WHOSE recorded voice narrates a 15-minute slide show, said the proposal would "reduce state tax revenues by approximately $946 million and reduce local income taxes by about $40 million in Detroit and Highland Park.

Voters do have choices on Monday school ballot

N MONDAY, residents of Canton and Plymouth will go to the polls to elect two persons to four-year terms on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education and to decide the fate of a request for a 1.74-mill property tax increase for operations.

A number of sound candidates are available in the field of 11. Whatever the outcome, the needs of students, parents, employees and taxpayers will be well represented.

Some candidates, however, are better than others. The Observer Newspapers has examined the background of all candidates and explored how they react to issues facing the district. Some we have watched at the League of Women Voters candidates forum; others we have watched over the years.

The Observer finds at least four good candidates who, if elected, would do a commendable job. Voters, though, may choose only two. So we recommend the candidates we believed are best qualified.

THE FOUR who stand out are incumbent Glenn Schroeder and challengers Dean Swartzwelter, Nancy Quinn and Les

Schroeder is a known quantity with a proven record on the board. He has made valuable contributions during his tenure, particulary in advising the administration on financial reporting to the board and on tracking the performance of the food service company hired by the board. He has become a team member in decision-making and does his homework.

But at times Schroeder has been too exuberant in expressing his opinion on issues. He has, at times, become too argumentative with members of the audience and at other times has continued to argue his position with fellow trustees after it is clear a consensus already had been reached abrupt in dealing with the public and has been abrasive when tolerance and patience would have served him better. As board chairman, he has exhibited much better human relations skills, but the Observer believes the 1984 crop of candidates is strong enough that voters would be better served looking elsewhere.

The clearest choice we see is Les Walker, an articulate person with a bright, analytical mind and a background of involvement in the school district. For five years, Walker has been in the audience at most meetings of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education. He knows the basis for decisions made to date. He also has an established record of involvement with the schools.

WALKER SERVED as chairman of the board's 12x12x12 Legislative Action Committee and as chairman of the subsequent Board Citizen Legislative Committee. He also has been involved in parent advisory committees and the PTO.

A resident of Plymouth for 13 years, Walker does not hedge on the issues but offers specific ideas on how to improve how to build on what is good, how to enrich a quality program, and how to take corrective action in areas where mistakes have been made.

The Observer endorses the candidacy of Les Walker and recommends him to our

THE CHOICE between Quinn and Swartzwelter is not so easy.

Both also have been regular attendees at school board meetings. Both are wellinformed about the problems and challenges facing the district. Both have involved themselves in volunteer work for the district.

And both have run for the school board in the past and have gained from that experience. Both Swartzwelter and Quinn deserve a chance to serve on the school board, but it is impossible to endorse both.

Belt has been tightened

Swartzwelter ran for the school board in 1979 and served on the 12x12x12 finance committee in 1982. He is knowledgeable about the housing needs of the district as well as its financial possibilities and limitations. He is a clear advocate for quality instructional program; no one can question his desire to work for excellence in the curriculum.

QUINN MOVED to the community more than 13 years ago and has a broad record of involvement as a volunteer. She is a former teacher, a former PTO president and member of the Plymouth-Canton PTO Council. She has served as a member of the AAUW and Plymouth Community Arts Council and has been active in the Quinn demonstrated as a candidate last year and this year her grasp of the issues facing the district. She also is bright, articulate and dedicated. Between Quinn and Swartzwelter, there are many shared qualities and experiences that make it tough to make a choice.

In deciding whom to endorse, the Observer looks at the present school board and notes that with the departure of Flossie Tonda, only one woman (Elaine Kirchgatter) remains. Therefore, given the desire to have the woman's perspective better represented on the school board, the Observer endorses the candidacy of Nancy

The board has gained better balance in recent years between male and female members, Canton and Plymouth residents, educators and business-oriented candidates, younger and older candidates. It would be a shame for that balance to tip, through the fault of no one, to one female and six males.

State senator urges 'yes' vote on Plymouth-Canton millage request

To the editor:

Educational excellence is a critical need for all citizens and for the future economic and cultural growth of our community and great state. Everyone has an important stake in making this action

On Monday, June 11, the voters of the Plymouth-Canton school district have the opportunity to cast their votes in a special school millage election intended to provide an additional 1.74 mills for operating revenue for two years. The 1.74-mill package provides 4.5 percent of the Plymouth-Canton public schools' operating budget.

Increased operating costs and inflation have made it extremely difficult to continue the same depth of programs. The new request is a very realistic and necessary funding proposal.

Traditionally, the Plymouth-Canton public schools have done a commendable job to improve learning, strengthen curriculum standards and deliver educational services not just to our children but to adults, handicapped people and senior citizens. The high standards of education

• More than 60 percent of Plymouth-Canton students attending college. • More than 10 percent of the students receiving scholarships and honors for outstanding achievement. • Students achieving well above state and national averages on standarized

• The feeling of being well prepared to compete effectively in college and university work.

If the millage proposal is not approved by the voters I am afraid it could be a devastating blow to the operation of the schools. The only alternative would be to cut the budget and eliminate programs such as: special education, adult and community education, preschool education, and an overall decline in vital student ser-

The voters in the Plymouth-Canton Community have been very responsive in the past in providing students with a quality education, and we must continue working together to develop the minds of a great resource - our youth! Please vote yes on Monday, June 11.

Now it's time for taxpayers to look at facts it doesn't need and, when it does, voters usually are wise enough to turn down the request. Often, governments ask for more money than is needed but voters nix the proposal, to the detriment of those who rely on government. For the past five school years, Plymouth-Canton Community Schools have not asked voters for more money — not be-cause the money wasn't needed but because the school board was realistic about the economy and knew that a community with large numbers of unemployed taxpayers simply could not afford to pay more, in spite of need.

But now it's time to take a look at the miliage request with each one of us decid-ing whether we can afford in 1984 meetang a responsibility that we clearly couldn't handle the past few years.

THE PLYMOUTH-CANTON Board of

THE PLYMOUTH-CANTON Board of Education is asking for a tax increase of 1.74 mills or $1.74 per $1,000 state equalization (SEV) for seven years.

Put in terms we can understand, the request, (if approved by voters) will cost ($2.20 a year for the owner of a house valued at $80,000, $40.80 more a year for the owner of an about a vote of the people (allocated by the country) has remained fixed at $8,000, $40.80 more a year for the owner of a house valued at $10.000, or an additional $104.00 at year of the owner of a house valued at $10.000. The late effect is that the tax levy has declined by 5 percent over the past five years.

The late effect is that the tax levy has declined by 5 percent over the past five years.

OF COURSE, the tax rate is only one-half of the late requalities of the pleture is the late in the late of the late of the pleture is the late of the late o the past five years have accepted wage freezes and salary increases that did not keep up with inflation, thereby reducing the purchasing power and lifestyle of each employee. It is fair to ask for that kind of sacrifice when times are tough. Employees have acted responsibly; now taxpayers must act equally responsibly.

ACTUALLY, the increase, if approved, doesn't even mean that residents will pay an increase of one-half percent from the last time a tax increase was requested.

Not only has the district not increased its tax rate for five years but the rate actually has lowered by one-third to half a mill each year. In 1979-80 the total school levy was 38.98 mills compared to the 37 mils levied in 1983-84 - a decline of 1.98 mills. Thus residents can approve the request Monday and still end up with a total tax levy of a quarter of a mill less than

The change has occurred because of reduction in the debt levy, which happens as the district pays off its debt and as the property in the district rises in value. For

Plymouth ordered a complete re-evaluation of residential properties. The result was that a majority of homeowners received a decrease in SEV, which resulted in less money paid in school property

This year, for example, total SEV in the district declined by $37 million or 3.7 percent - at the same time the tax rate dropped by half a mil. The year before, the tax base increased by a modest 4.2 percent while the rate dropped by half a mill (most of the SEV increase was new growth). For the coming year, SEV is estimated to increase by about 1.2 percent almost all new growth. Thus the vast majority of homeowners will not pay more in taxes because of increased SEV.

The days of run-away inflationary increases in SEV are over. For that reason, residents can approve the request for 1.74 mills without fear of a double-whammy caused by increases in property value as well as a possible increase in the tax rate.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICT has done a good job getting through the recession without calling upon taxpayers for help.
We should recognize that effort now by voting for the money that is needed to maintain programs.

The board has not "given away the store" to employees. The past two contracts call for modest, reasonable increases. Let's recognize the effort made by unions in being responsive and vote for the money that now is needed.

For 1984-85, expenses are expected to exceed a note by $1.4 million. Without exceed income by $1.4 million. Without the 1.74 mills, about $1 million in cuts will have to be made, on top of cuts made in vector years. THE ARTS COUNCIL received the blessing of the city of Plymouth for its latest project at the Monday evening commission

Janet Campbell, Plymouth Community Arts Council president, described the proposal in a letter to the city manager. Week in, week out, PCAC members have a bird's eye view of Kellogg Park from their Main Street office. With this in mind, you can see how the idea Janet wrote: "The Plymouth Community Arts Council would like to provide a small (probably not more than three) group of musicians to simply provide music in the park in the summer to add enjoyment to those people who work in Plymouth and "brown bag" their lunches in Kellogg Park. We thought it would make a pleasant summer experience even more enjoyable. We are working with the musicians' union, as well as some volunteers, to accomplish this mission. It is difficult to nail down all off the dates this far in advance, so may we say just Wednesdays or Thursdays in July and August? We will have some more definitive dates before July and August, but don't have them in time for this application.

"We do not expect folding chairs etc. The groups would play and people could sit on benches, or on the ground, and enjoy. Numbers are hard to judge as no one ever has done anything like this before. We have no idea if this will catch on or if you will be petitioned to 'get the noise out of Kellogg Park while I'm trying to eat my lunch in peace.' The first year is always the hardest.

"Thank you for your cooperation and do join us for a musical, brown bag lunch this summer.'

So, we're looking forward to music with lunch at least one day a week this summer. Paula Joyner is chairing the music-for-brownbaggers venture

CORRECTION: The date for the high school drama department alumni banquet is Friday, June 22 - not June 12.

Gloria Logan, head of the drama department at the Centennial Educational Park, said Cheryl Smith, class of '71, is coming from West Virginia for the banquet. Linda Dwyer is coming from New York City. Dennis Cockrum sent his regrets because he's in a show in Chicago. Charlie Burr can't make it because he's involved in a play. Gloria says they'll be missed, but she's always happy to hear that her former students, now professional actors, are working.

The banquet will be at the Mayflower Meeting House. Call Gloria, 451-6243, for ticket information or reservations.

Gloria will be teaching at Eastern Michigan University this summer. "It's a special two-week course in theater for talented and gifted high school students," she said. It will be a busy two weeks for she plans to produce a play as well as conduct concentrated theater classes.

She said the classes for the talented and gifted are offered at several universities in the state. "Eastern Michigan has theater and computers; Marquette has math," she explained.

A year ago now, the Plymouth Park Players were on their way to Austria to appear in the international drama festival at Villach.

Art Silletti, an old hand at making props for AAUW children's plays, made four palm trees. Isn't this exciting? Aren't you getting excited? Of what else do I speak but the irrepressible, the undefinable, the indescribable Canton Country Festival

This is it, folks! This Sunday marks the beginning of our weeklong get-to-gether, the Canton Country Festival, led off by the magnificent parade. Don't get me wrong, I know more work goes into this than for a sit-down dinner for 80 people. But the difference is the whole thing is done for friends, and it's done by friends. It's true that the organizational part is in need of assistance as the same group of dedicated. exhausted citizens very ably head it each year. However, the number of people who enter the parade and join the lineup each year is something to

This year promises to be no different, with the possible exception of it being even bigger and better than the last one. If you ask me, that's what makes a township a community. So for this coming week I shall refer to this not as Canton Township, but the Canton Community.

PLYMOUTH, that means you, too. For years you have nursed and inspired us. Now we have blossomed into a terrific neighbor (even though we may still need to borrow a cup of sugar now and then). So don't hold back now. Get on over to your neighboring community and join in the fun as Canton presents the Country Festival and Pa-

IF YOU WEREN'T there, you really missed out.

Unless you were one of the passersby that got a quick peek as the big stage coach and Weber Wagon arrived at the Canton Historical Museum for a brief stay here. Bart Berg, president of the Historical Society, is proud to present to Canton the visit of a beautiful replica of a stagecoach dating back somewhere in the late 1800s.

This type of coach was used, so they say, on a run from Kansas to the great West. The coach, along with what they call a Weber Wagon, (I call it a buckboard, because I watched a lot Rov Rogers movies as a kid) came in Sunday, around 2 p.m. If you had been there, your family could have climbed on board and experienced the "bounce"

of a wagon seat. If you missed it, they will be on display at the Canton Historical Museum on Canton Center Road all summer and fall. And better yet, you can catch at least a glimpse of them in the Canton Country Festival Parade on Sunday.

They'll prance proudly through our community loaded, I'm sure, with country-type citizens, all celebrating the Sesquicentennial in appropriate garb. Zipping along right with them will be Roy and Tillie Schultz's covered wagon, pictured on the front of this paper not too long ago.

As a matter of fact, it was their daughter, Luane, and her husband, Steve Eldred, who made the weekend trip up to Department of the Interior in Munising to pick up the stagecoach and the (Roy Rogers type) buckboard.

Talk about timing. We saw transportation take a little trip through time, from horse to wagon, to stage-coach, to today's truck.

Normally, Jim would be out working on some of the 1,000 or so acres of land that he and a friend farm each year. However, the wet weather gave him one last opportunity to enjoy an easy stroll on Apples before the planting season gets into full swing.

Don't forget to get over there and get a peek at the visiting beauties, along with the growing exhibit of farm implements the Historical Society is building. The rate the collection is growing, I think we are going to need a larger building - a larger corral for our outdoor collection. Although I'm no expert, my dad always told me to put the tools away. How about a little roof tiful Country Village going there, let's not let it rot away.

Our street names and the style of our homes, speak to years gone by, and this is a historical museum, not an art museum. How about an architecturally correct storage area? After all, this is our Sesquicentennial year.

Called the F. Edward Hebert School of Medicine of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS), it is operated by the Department of Defense in Bethesda, Md., to train physicians for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The tuition-free school exists because the armed forces need physicians to take care of active and retired service members and their families. The school is unique because it is the only medical school that combines the traditional basic and clinical science curriculum with military medicine. The object of the USUHS School of Medicine is to create a cadre of military medical officers who are as comfortable in military field hospitals as they are in major military medical centers.

Applicants to the program must have attained a baccalaureate degree as of June 30 of the year of planned matriculation, and should have solid background in science and mathematics. For more information about the nation's military medical school and the AQUA program, contact either your member of Congress, or Director, AQUA Program, Uniformed Services University School of Medicine, 4301 Jones Bridge Road, Bethesda, Md.

Mountain man revives art of storytelling

The old art of storytelling was re-gived last week at Allen Elementary School. Joe McHugh came from the hills of West Virginia to enthrall students with old ghost stories from the Appalachian area and some funny moder tales as well.

.. He wove his presentation together with tunes on his dulcimer or his fiddle and songs that he invited the young sters to join in the singing.

The children loved the scary stories. especially the old Indian ghost story. It jivolved a wicked old hag with a clenched fist. Her hand was always closed and although they tried time after time, no one could rid them of her evil presence. Finally, a wise old man shot her in the hand, and that was the end of her. He was the only one who knew the reason for her clenched fist. She carried her heart in her hand.

THE STORYTELLER came to Allen through a grant from the Plymouth Community Arts Council. Teachers Terri Kolakowshi and Ronald Myers had applied for the grant as a teaching aid. While he was here, he conducted an in-service session for teachers and Imched with arts council members.

On the way to Metro Airport after his visit, McHugh told Myers how much he had enjoyed the warmth and hospitality of the community. He also expressed his thoughts on storytelling.

He said storytelling is an art form — that today's children have so many distractions it has become a lost art. He compared the storyteller to an artist who uses words for paint on a canvas of McHugh sat through the evenings, listening to the oldtimers tell the old tales. He started to collect stories and he, too, became a storyteller.

Myer said educators claim speaking before others is one of the most difficult experiences for the average person. The storyteller's visit was a lesson in listening and talking.

Storyteller Joe McHugh keeps the rapt attention of his young audience at Alien Elementary School.

Pastor combines drama with ministry

special writer

'It might seem like going to church when entering the 1850 Quaker meet-inghouse Trinity House Theatre uses for its performances.

But there won't be any sermon. The pastor here is a playwright. He is also the one singing "Hold on to What You Got" during the opening number of his play "Gravity" - the theater's latest production.

A pastor-turned-playwright singing at the back of an 1850 Quaker church with a soft rock band, orchestrated to accompany the play he wrote?

Welcome to the world of Paul Pat-

"The ministry and drama are not incompatible," said Patton, an associate pastor at Trinity Baptist Church on Middlebelt Road in Livonia.

"Theater rekindles a sense of common direction in people. It provides people with six to eight weeks to complete a project, and the benefits of seeing that completion. We are all one

TRINITY HOUSE and Trinity Church are the same in name, but not in body. They are located 15 miles Trinity House, on the northwest corner of I-275 and Six Mile, is used exclusively as a theater. A stage is located where the altar used to be.

Patton never planned on combining theater with his ministry. He began writing in 1979 when a friend of his asked him to critique a play he had

"I read his play," Patton said. "I didn't like what he wrote, however, so he asked me to rewrite the play."

The result was "Gravity," a play about a lonely young woman seeking fulfillment from a wizard. Unable to find happiness on her own, she becomes d with the idea that the wizard will take away her troubles. When he suddenly disappears without warning. Jenny is forced to deal honestly with Her loneliness is a familiar theme of

"Why is it people seek short-term enjoyment, but avoid the larger questions bout life?" Patton asked.

But the seriousness of the question does not imply a solemn drama. "Gravity" is actually humorous. The wizard uses flashpots, speaks in poetic riddles, and confuses Jenny with his bizarre be-

Throughout the play, a live band provides a rich sound at the back of the church, and at one point the wizard zaps away their power.

ANOTHER of Patton's plays, "A Meeting in Kansas," concerns an abolitionist church in 1858.

Imagine sitting in a Quaker church and watching a drama about two "Bible-totin' " slave owners who want to join the congregation. Members of the cast are seated throughout the audience, dressed in period costumes.

The play begins with the minister asking the audience to sing "Amazing Grace." Hymnals are placed on the seats. We are transported to Kansas, and the conflict begins.

It hasn't been easy to balance artistic integrity with Christian responsibility in writing for this special stage, Patton said. Christian art often creates a barrier, and the audience has to be re-won every time, he said.

"When it comes to writing for a church," Patton said, "writers are tyrannized by evangelical utility. Art becomes propaganda - a minnow to catch bass. Real artists are driven away. Patton said many people call to order tickets, then cancel them when learning the performance is church related. He blames this on the predictability of Christian plays that provide a neat ending.

"It is not my intention in writing to manipulate an audience or tell them what to think," Patton said. "Art should not be used to pound truths into people's heads."

He added, "Plays have to be able to stand on their own without a nice cliche that insults the audience by telling them what to get out of it. If you tell the punch line, or meaning, it becomes predictable and easy to dismiss."

TRINITY HOUSE is able to do a lot with so little. Each person contributes his or her own talent. Randy Stegmeyer, who usually directs the plays at Trinity, portrays the wizard in the revival of "Gravity." Some members do the staging or lighting.

Jan Krist sang throughout the performance of "Gravity," and Patton's friend Kenneth Gailbrath has written the score for past productions.

Since all the plays are written by Patton, the theater group repeats the plays in its repertoire. The theater's season runs from September to June.

Mathias of Trinity Church, who asked Patton to do theater full time. Since then, Patton has written seven plays.

"It doesn't have to be theater," Patton said. "It could be a construction project. But I've found theater especially effective because everyone is interdependent. If one person fails to show up, it lets everyone down."

And the consequence of his effort has been a refreshing sense of community for those involved.

"People no longer have a common sense of purpose — no developing sense of mission. I see this as a major problem in churches. Some churches use verblage to discuss the lack of communication among people, but we've found a way to strengthen bonds."

With the provocative forum Patton has created, set in an old-fashioned church complete with a graveyard be-hind it, it is easy to see how the warmth of this troupe affects a wider and wider slated for nun

Sister Gloria Kelly, an Adrian Do-minican sister at St. Bernardine of Siena Parish in Westland, is celebrating her 40th anniversary as a nun.

A celebration commemorating her anniversary will begin at 7 p.m. Friday at St. Bernardine's. Pastor Richard McGarry will be the main celebrant. A reception in the parish hall will follow the liturgy.

The parish celebration will take place at masses on Saturday and at a special Mass at noon, Sunday. An informal reception will be held after every Mass this week-world production and world market.

Yet there are those who say that we are still that most provincial people on earth. Perhaps this is understandable. Most of us have spoken only one language and have experienced only one culture. Our physical isolation has been a blessing and at the same time a cause of our narrow vision. There remains a narrow view which suggests that we would have "eyes only for our own."

INSTEAD WE need to realize that we are part of one world and we are responsible for one world. This family on earth is not unlike the family most of us know. We are each responsible for enriching and maintaining the values which make a family function. What children, teems, parents and grandparents do or do not do affects the family experience. Failor: "My qualifications and experiences; I am a listener who hears and understands; I believe in fairness and equity; I support quality educational opportunities for our youth and life long learning opportunities for all citizens, utilizing the philosophy that all who are affected by a decision should have an opportunity to be heard."

Murphy: "I feel I can offer a different insight that nobody currently on the board can offer. Being more recently out of school that allows me to be more in touch with what's going on in our schools, from a very important level, that of a student."

Quinn: "Both my children attend our schools. Active volunteer 9 years; room mother-PTO President-Board Committee. Both my college degrees are in education - K-12 certification. Former teacher; have subbed in every building in district. Currently a homemaker, allowing flexibility to assume Trustee responsibilities. Have attended Board meetings regularily for 3 years."

Sumpter: "I am a conservitive with 20 years of management experience. I also beleive you can not have a quality education system with out a good harmonious staff. The combination of conservatism and a desire for a good happy staff, for quality education, would make me a good school board mem-

QUESTION: Were you in favor of the recall of the school board as proposed earlier this year? Why or why not? (50

Quinn: "I don't feel recall movements serve any good purpose. I was not in favor nor supported this movement. Precious time is lost. We need to concentrate on working together, not fighting each other. Perhaps more people will take the time to investigate issues and candidates and then vote."

Swartzwelter: "This approach is not an effective method to bring about change. One runs the risk of 'throwing out the baby with the bath water.' Individual recalls are more effective than massive recalls. Also, if more people took an active interest in regular board elections, the need for potential recalls is reduced."

Sumpter: "In the heat of the moment YES I was in favor of the recall, however, I now believe the answer to improving our school board is citizen participation at board meetings on a regular basis, not just at contract time."

Bollman: "No. You can not recall the entire operating body of any agency and expect that organization to continue to function. The board would then be only puppets - because of lack of knowledge on how a district operates."

Fallor: "The information I received appeared to support such action. I would hope it would never be necessary. I don't believe a whole board ever deliberately conducts itself which should bring about such drastic action. However, this does provide protection to the citizens for improper conduct of elected officials."

O'Day: "Actually, I can't really say whether I was in favor of the recall or not. Although I can't agree with the board's handling of certain key issues, recalling the whole board seems quite ridiculous."

Walker: "I hated to see a Board recall because of the resulting disruption. However, I considered supporting it because the Board is so out of touch with the public and can only be replaced slowly by election. It also was encouraging to see citizens interested enough to get involved and pursue it. (It sure beats public apathy.)"

Schroeder: "I am not in favor of the recall process to remove public officials from office on the basis of their vote on a single issue. The recall process should be reserved for removal due to malfeasance.'

Murphy: "The people who started the recall, believed that the current board was not serving them, or their best interests. The recall bid was their way of showing their displeasure. The people of the community have a right and responsibility to moniter the people they elect to serve them."

QUESTION: What do you believe is the best use for Starkweather Elementary School? (50 word maximum).

Schroder: "The board is presently reviewing the potential uses for the Starkweather School. One alternative that is receiving strong consideration is a daytime adult education center. This will provide the opportunity for many adults in the community to attain a high school diploma or other skills marketable in the job arena."

Bollman: "Very few viable suggestions have been offered. The adult education or Continuing Education program seems to be the most useful at this time. Until someone offers to purchase the facility the district still has to provide certain maintenance - so we might as well try to have a self supporting program in that building."

Quinn: "I would support the Community Education proposal. The first year is a foundation. Thereafter, the program will not only pay for itself, but will contribute greatly to the general hance other programs while expanding hope that as an adult education faculity and adding services to our community it can generated income for the disty."

Walker: "The Continuing Education Department proposal to use Starkweather as an Adult Day School seems the best use, since it has a revenue producing potential. However, I would want a more thorough analysis of the revenue potential before proceeding. Meeting the payback schedule is essential, if this proposal is chosen."

Swartzwelter: "I support the use of Starkweather Elementary School as an adult education center. It provides a needed service in the commulity, and it also prmvides additional income to the District as long as the District stays in formula for state funding."

Murphy: "I am sorry Starkweather

trict, instead of being a finacial bur den.

Failor: "I support the use of the buidling for community education and any other specialty educational programs which are identified as needed for citizens for the district." O'Day: "I believe that the best use for Starkweather Elementary School is as an elementary school. The facility doesn't have the parking to be an adult education complex, and therefore cannot easily be changed to anything other than a lower grade school."

Sumpter: "I have stated Starkweather should be sold. This year is not the time to establish a full day time continduty with the armed forces and attend medical school at the same time if you qualify for admission to the nation's only military medical school.

Called the F. Edward Hebert School of Medicine of the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USUHS), it is operated by the Department of Defense in Bethesda, Md., to train physicians for the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The tuition-free school exists because the armed forces need physicians to take care of active and retired service members and their families. The school is unique because it is the only medical school that combines the traditional basic and clinical science curried ulum with military medicine. The object of the USUHS School of Medicine is to create a cadre of military medicalofficers who are as comfortable in mil." itary field hospitals as they are in ma-; jor military medical centers.

Before leaving for a trip to Europe, Tuttle filed as a Republican candidate for county commissioner from the 10th District, which includes Plymouth and Livonia.

In her absence government watchers are asking each other:

Is Tuttle serious about running against five-term Republican incumbent Mary Dumas?

Will Tuttle resign as treasurer to make the campaign run? Will she resign if elected commissioner, or will she attempt to hang on to both jobs, each of which is considered either fulltime or "nearly" fulltime?

Can she legally hold two such elective positions?

These questions and others may be answered once Tuttle returns.

Until then, however, there are any number of people who remain wondering about the treasurer's intentions. The number includes:

• Dumas, a Livonia resident and commissioner for the last 11 years, who has hired an attorney to determine if there is a legal prohibition against holding the two jobs.

• The Livonia Republican party chairman who said he heard about the Tuttle candidacy second-hand.

• Bill Dembiec, chairman of Tuttle's campaign for 1983 re-election as treasurer, who said Tuttle spoke about the county commissioner's job two months ago. Dembiec said, however, that it was the last time he spoke to her and he is now waiting to hear from her.

Voters will select candidates for the office of county commissioner in the partisan primary election Aug. 7. The Republican nominee and the Democratic nominee will face each other in the November general election. The 10th district includes Livonia, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville and Northville Township.

THE JOB of city treasurer is considered fulltime by government experts. It presently pays $34,200 a year and provides for expenses and use of a city

The job of county commissioner pays $27,000 and provides for expenses. There has been some argument in recent years over whether the job is considered part-time or fulltime. Incumbent Dumas said it is "nearly" a full-

Tuttle's filing seemingly pits her against Dumas for the Republican nomination. Dumas has proven to be a strong vote-getter and has run for reelection without challenge in some years. The 10th District is generally considered Republican territory.

Tuttle is fresh from a November '83 non-partisan re-election victory which saw her get more votes than any other Livonia elected official.

The only announced Democratic candidate for the job is Laura Toy, a Schoolcraft College trustee and Livonia

Toy said she would quit her elective job as Schoolcraft trustee if she were elected commissioner.

DUMAS CHALLENGED Tuttle's ability to remain city treasurer and be a county commissioner.

"We do not believe she can adequately perform both jobs when one of which was designed by the compensation commission of Livonia as a fulltime job and commissioner is nearly a fulltime

At this point, Dumas said she can not say if there is a legal conflict in holding both positions. Dumas said she has hired a former Livonia assistant city attorney to research the issue.

She said she has a "moral" com-plaint with Tuttle's candidacy. "Our commission meetings are almost all held during the day-time except for a few special ones," she said. "So, which one are you going to fully complete? If you're not there when we're having a meeting, how are you suppose to vote?"

State law prohibits some elected officials from serving in two elected positions simultaneously. But, James O'Sullivari an assistant state attorney general who specializes in "incompatabili-ty questions," could not say immediately if a city treasurer and county commissioner is one of those combinations.

"I haven't found anything on point yet," he said.

DEMBIEC said that when he last spoke to Tuttle she told him she was serious about seeking the county job and wanted to keep the treasurer's job

"I knew she was serious about it and I knew she wanted to keep both jobs but the whys . . . it would be hear-

Based on county elections record, Tuttle has not filed a new committee list of officers for a campaign for the Wayne County Commission race, which means her last committee of record, the Committee to Elect Elaine Tuttle treasurer of the city of Livonia, is continued for the new race. Dembiec said he plans to remain as her committee president.

"We haven't worked out the details yet," he said. "I was waiting to hear

Dan Piercecchi, chairman of the Wayne 2nd Republican Club, could not shed much light on her intentions.

"In general people notify the party if they file for office but she didn't choose to," he said, stressing, however, that it is merely a gratious gesture and not a required one.

"I don't know if she can keep both jobs but I did get it second-hand that she has a legal opinion which says she

ON THE OTHER HAND, Democratic candidate Toy, who has not spoken to Tuttle about the race, said she has heard from at least 20 people that Tuttle plans to withdraw.

one knows what's going on," Toy said.
"This is what's so mysterious about the whole thing — no one even knows why she filed. It's going to be a fun race. What the heck."

Toy also speculated that Tuttle could have filed for the county office to "block" other Republican candidates from filing rather than out of a serious interest to seek election.

Toy said she could not hold both the job of Schoolcraft trustee and the job oc county commissioner because "the obligation to either office would be much too heavy. Secondly, it isn't legal to do that. We at the college do have county funds supporting it."

Not much spent on gifted

Many people are under the miscon-ception that large amounts of money are being spent for gifted education.

On the contrary. The 1979 federal budget provided "more than $1,000 for each learning disabled American child each learning disabled American child versus only $2.42 per gifted and talent-ed child."(Lipper, 1979)

Last spring in gifted education circles there was a flurry of activity as state legislation was introduced to more than double the funding for gifted education. The expectation wasn't fully realized, but there was a substantial in-

At the local level we are hopeful that our highly successful Magnet Program can be maintained for those children ently involved as they become 7th and 8th graders. The actual cost is unclear, but conservatively it involves a need for some start up resource materials and possibly one additional teach-

Here again, the figure might seem large when compared to a weekly gro-cery bill, or even a husband's yearly salary. However, by comparison, in the district budget there is an item, under miscellaneous, that allows for 81/2 unassigned teachers.

Clearly the cost of gifted education at the federal, state and district levels is so small that it cannot be a factor in approving the program.

Coin firsts

Two important firsts are happening. The United States government, for the first time in 50 years, will issue a gold coin and the U.S. Mint will strike the first Olympic Commemorative coinage ever issued by our country.

The silver and gold coins are being sold to support America's present and future Olyumpic teams and to help stage the 1984 Olympic, Summer Games in Los Angeles. You can buy a set of three coins — the 1983 silver dol-lars and 1984 $10 gold coin, the two silver coins, a single silver dollar or one gold coin.

To order coins, you can write to the United States Mint, Olympic Coin Program, PO Box 6766, San Francisco, Calif. 94101, or call 1-800-231-1984.

CC-Rice tennis fates spin a wicked yarn

O AWAY for a few days and look what

Sure, a guy might expect a few surprises after a vacation. Like not being able to find his desk ("What do you mean it's been cleaned out?") or forgetting how to tpye.

But this - it's down right bizarre. I left two weeks ago today and returned Monday. In that space of time: Troy's girls soccer team was ousted from the state tournament by Harper Woods Regina; Neither Plymouth Canton's or Plymouth Salem's baseball teams — both state finalists in the past two years - made it as far as the district

· Livonia Churchill actually failed to win its league title in boys track for the first time in a dozen years - Salem unseated the Chargers;

 Livonia Stevenson's unbeatable softball and girls soccer teams both proved beatable, the softball team sidelined by Livonia Franklin, which it no-hit earlier in the season, and the defending state champ soccer team losing in the finals to Northville, which it trounced 6-0 in league play.

Add to that a merging of the Western Lakes Activities Association and three Northwest Suburban League teams and you can understand why I might feel like I just returned from a fiveyear mission on the Starship Enterprise instead of a 10-day trip to Phoenix.

AND YET, if these events served to make me feel somewhat unsteady upon my return to routine workaday life, the first call I handled renewed my faith in human nature relative to the world of

Which means I'm very shaky indeed. That first call concerned the Class A state tennis tournament, which host-team Midland Dow won. Redford Catholic Central was second, Birmingham Brother Rice tied for third.

Those three teams were the main characters in a drama that had more twists and turns than an Agatha Christie novel.

The result of this tournament subplot had major consequences. It made Dow the state champ and CC the runner-up and, in an odd way, gave Brother Rice a measure of vengeance.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENED.

The situation: Rice co-captain James McNulty is ocked in a struggle with Dow's Mark Rampy in a fourth singles semifinal match. Each player has won a set and McNulty leads 5-4 in the final. McNulty is serving, trailing Rampy 30-40, and he jouble-faults.

Game goes to Rampy, right? Not exactly Officials incorrectly award the point to McNulty, naking it a deuce game. McNulty wins the next wo points, taking the game and the match with a 6-I final-set victory.

Hold on there, says Rampy's father, who points out the mistake. The Dow coach lodges a protest and, sure enough, all parties agree it was a blunder. The question now is what to do about it. Wouldn't you know it - there's a hotline in Minneapolis for just such occasions, a USTA-sponsored association that rules on tennis rules.

Its decision: Award the game to Rampy, tying the match at 5-5, and tack the two points McNulty served after the blunder onto the score of the next game. That means Rampy is still alive and serving,

The set eventually goes 16 games before Rampy wins 9-7 to advance to the finals.

SO WHERE DOES CC figure in all of this? The Shamrocks had a player pitted in the finals against Rampy. Robert Martin lost 7-6, 6-1. Considering Dow won the state title by a mere two points, Rampy's presence - and eventual victory - in the finals made a difference in who would reign as state champion.

'We would have had a better chance against the Rice kid," said CC coach Frank Garlicki. "Rob has beaten him already this year."

But McNulty, who according to Garlicki went from elation when it appeared he had won to deflation when he learned the victory was still in doubt, fell despite a strong effort. Yet, with his defeat, Rice got an odd measure of revenge against

After all, the Warriors had won five straight Catholic League titles until CC emerged this season. First the Shamrocks nipped Rice in a dual meet, then edged the Warriors in the state regionals. In the Catholic League championships, CC rolled over Rice.

Now, McNulty's loss cost CC a state title. NONE OF WHICH bothered Garlicki, who was happier than I was when I found my desk. For the first time in its history, CC had individual state champions (in second and third doubles) and with only two seniors on the team the future looks bright.

"It wasn't an intentional mistake," said the chipper Garlicki. "It was just a bad break." Probably just as well. It would have been unfortunate to win a state title backing in on such a Anyway, Garlicki put the whole matter in proper perspective. The Shamrocks lost two dual meets this season, both by 5-2 scores to Class B powerhouse Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook. "As a matter of fact, Cranbrook beat Dow this year 6-1," Garlicki pointed out. Which simply means the best tennis team in the state won't be found among the Class A squads. The title rests with Cranbrook, the Class B champ for the past five years.

And in this period of sports oddity and uncertainty, Cranbrook's year-in, year-out superiority provides welcome stability.

Erich Hartnett, Plymouth Salem's flashy point guard bound for Concordia College next fall, didn't see too much court time Tuesday in an AAU contest. He still managed six points and three assists in the game.

O&E players lift AAU team

By Chris McCosky staff writer

If you like your basketball one-onone and run-and-gun, the warm-up ballgame to Tuesday night's eighth annual International Basketball Classic at Schoolcraft College was your kind of hoops.

The warm-up game pitted the Metro AAU junior mens team, made up of players from suburban Detroit, against the Detroit AAU team, made up of players from the inner city.

The Observer & Eccentric area was well represented in the contest, with Phil Graczyk (Livonia Bentley), Mar-io Grazulis (John Glenn), and Erich Hartnett (Plymouth Salem) on the Metro team, and Rich Goldberg (Detroit Country Day) on the Detroit

The game preceded the featured attraction, the Michigan AAU team — a team of the state's best high school players chosen by the Michigan AAU
Committee headed by Schoolcraft College coach Rocky Watkins — against the Ontario Provincial men's team of Canada. (See related story)
THE WARM-UP game was a fast-paced affair that left the players, and the 100 or so fans, exhausted.

The Metro team, paced by the rap-id-fire scoring abilities of Andre and Bryan Bond from Willow Run, held off Detroit, 121-116.

Metro led 60-54 at half. Detroit, led by Detroit Western standout Richard Hunter, who scored a game-high 22 points, roared ahead of Metro 63-60 at the start of the second half.

Michigan rips Ontario in featured AAU event

By Rich Swenson staff writer

The Michigan AAU junior men's basketball team unloaded its guns in Tuesday's slam-jam, 128-97 tuneup win over a small, but scrappy Ontario team in the International Classic at Schoolcraft College.

But Michigan coach Rocky Watkins hopes his players can still pull the trigger this weeken when the team travels to Boston to compete in the prestigious Boston Shootsuit. prestigious Boston Shootout.

"It's supposed to have the strongest field in the history of the tourna-ment," Watkins said. "We're really looking forward to some great competition. We think we've improved as a team, and we hope to prove we belong among some great teams." The Michigan team had some problems early with a tough Ontario team, paced by Canada's "Mr. Basketball," Mario Tarantino. The 6-foot-3 sharpshooter scored 16 of his 24 points in first half as the Canadians trailed by only four points, 42-38, with six minutes left.

BUT MICHIGAN outscored Canada

24-5 in the remaining six minutes to take a 66-43 edge at the break.

Johnson 8th in state

It was a very small contingent of CEP track and field competitors that participated in the state meet last Saturday in Jackson.

But, they didn't return empty-handed.

Dawn Johnson, Plymouth Salem's four-event standout, brought home an eighth-place medal in the long jump. She jumped her season's best, 16-1114, to win the place and a point. SHE QUALIFIED for state meet by taking a second in the regional meet.

The rest of the Salem contingent wasn't as for-Salem's Erich Hartnett didn't place in the high jump. His best was 6-3. The Rock's 400-meter relay team ran its best time of the season, 44.2 - just .1 of a second off the school record - but, that wasn't good enough for a placo. The relay-team members were, Brian Neuhardt, Jeff Arnold, Marc Tindall and Craig Morton.

CC netters 2nd in state

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Saturday was Redford Catholic Central tennis team's brighest hour. And with just one more break, it could have been even brighter.

The Shamrocks, who had "never had a player go beyond the quarterfinals" at the state meet according to coach Frank Garlicki, crowned two individual champions, had two others reach their flight finals and had a fifth get as far as the semifinals to finish second in the Class A tournament at Midland

"I was real happy," said Garlicki. "I had us figured at just about where we finished. I thought a break here or there would have won it for us."

Despite their stellar play, CC fell just short. Midland Dow's 24 points was tops, with the Shamrocks finishing with 22. Birmingham Brother Rice and Ann Arbor Huron followed with 17 points apiece, with Portage Northern (16), Traverse City (13), East Lansing (12), and Birmingham Seaholm and Berkley (11 each) next.

CC'S SECOND and third doubles teams made Shamrock history with their respective state championships. Tom Flack and Jeff Huston whipped Midland Dow's Jon Hop and John Nielsen 7-5, 7-6 to seize the second doubles crown.

PAUL WEBER Plymouth Salem Tennis

MIKE MINTON Plymouth Canton Tennis

TWICE A MONTH, one Salem and one Canton athlete will be saluted for their efforts. Athletes will be selected by the coaching staffs of their respective schools. For the "Winning Deal" on a new or used car or truck, see Dick Scott Bulck or Dick Scott Dodge.

A PLYMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL FLASHBACK

Lisa Russell's talented touch around the net helped Plymouth Canton close out its girls' soccer season in winning fashion with a 4-0 blanking of Farmington Harrison Friday, May 27, 1983 at Canton.

Russell netted all four goals for the Chiefs, bringing her season total to 12. Lori Engel assisted on two of Russell's tallies and Kim Reeves assisted on another.

Pat Phillips stopped six Harrison shots to record her third shutout. Canton fired 16 shots at the Harrison goal. The victory gave the Chiefs a 5-7-2 final season record.

Runnin' for Rocks

More than 700 runners flocked to the Plymouth Cultural Center Sunday to take part in the Rocks Run II (see photo below). The event, which raises much-needed funds for the Plymouth Salem track and cross country programs, was a huge success according to organizers Gary Balconi, Tom Williams and Tom Truesdale. Rocks Run II featured three runs — a fun run, a 5K and a 15K. Canton High grad Ralph DiCosty (top left) won the mens 5K and Ann Arbor's Jeannie Dodge (top right) was the first woman to cross the 5K finish line.

700-plus take part in 2nd Rocks Run

Ah, nothing like a little success to make your day.

Success was what the Rocks Run II event was all about last Sunday - and it left organizers Tom Williams, Tom Truesdale and Gary Balconi all smiles.

"It was really a good day," beamed Williams. "Super day." More than 700 runners took part in the second annual Plymouth Salem track and cross country fund-raiser, running in either a one-mile fun run, 5K or 15K runs. The goal set was 800, but nobody was hanging their heads about being 100 shy.

"The turnout was just fantastic," Balconi said. "And the feedback we received from the participants was all positive. Tom Williams and Tommy Truesdale deserve a ton of credit. They really did a nice job."

Williams said the event will clear between $2,000 and $2,200 for the Salem programs.

Adding a nice touch to the event was Ralph DiCosty's first-place finish in the men's 5K. Nice because DiCosty is a Canton resident and graduate of Canton High School. DiCosty ran the course in 17:15.

Ann Arbor's Jeannie Dodge won the women's 5K in 20:24.

Larry Olszewski won the 15K in 50:38. Patricia Roselli was the first woman to cross the 15K finish line in Air Conditioning Check-up $3950

It's on to Clovis, N.M., and the National Junior Olympic girls basketball tournament for Ed Kavanaugh's Metro AAU team - and they can thank Char Govan for the trip.

Govan, a 5-foot-10 Livonia Ladywood junior, put on an incredible performance - similar to the one she displayed rallying the Blazers to a state title last November - leading the Metro squad to an unexpected 88-82 victory against the Michigan team in the 18 and under AAU state championship game Sunday at Schoolcraft Community College.

nipresent - she was all over the place. She scored, she rebounded, she made steals, forced turnovers, and nearly every loose ball seemed to wind up in her clutches.

In a game of stars, Govan shined brightest. She acored 32 points to lead

HER PERFORMANCE takes on added significance when you consider who she and her Metro teammates were playing.

"We don't match up against them at all," Kavanaugh said prior to Sunday's contest. "We have good players. But, the talent on that side is just awe-

The teams traded hoops until it was 73-70, then the Bond brothers, along with Oak Park's Mike Thornton and Kalamazoo Loy Norrix's Malcolm Devould, began to light the place up.

In a five-minute stretch, Metro outscored Detroit 24-8. In that span, the Bonds scored 12 and assisted on several other baskets. The Detroiters never got back into the game after Andre Bond, heading for Kentucky State, scored 17 points on the day. Bryan, who has yet to choose a school, added 12. Thornton's 21 points paced the Metro attack.

OF THE O&E players, Graczyk led the way with 18. Two came on a spectacular coast-to-coast drive, capped by 360-degree spinning layup. Grazulis tossed in six points and hauled down several key rebounds.

Hartnett, who has played exceptionally well throughout the AAU trials, wasn't given a lot of court time by coach Jack Grennan. Still, the Concordia College-bound point guard tossed in six points and had three as-

Goldberg, another player not seeing too much playing time, registered 10 points for the Detroit team.

Other scorers netting double figures for the Metro squad were, Mike Mellon (Ypsilanti), 12; Dwight Garrett (Lapeer East), 14; and the game's MVP, Devould, tossed in 11.

For Detroit: Ricky Clark (Denby), 16; Reggie Smith (Aquinas), 16; Lynn Hardy (Cooley), 15; Cliff Peterson (Denby), 13; and Rodney Heard (Cody), 10.

of players from outstate areas including Flint, Saginaw and Benton Harbor. The players: Tonya Edwards, who led Flint Northwestern to a Class A state title last year, Yvonne Thompson from Saginaw Carlton; Marva Fuller, 6-4 all-stater from Holly; and Lisa Harvey, all-stater from Benton Harbor. Mi Basketball of Michigan, Michelle Kruty, was suposed to play on the team. She didn't show.

This Michigan team blew by a good Brick City Bombers team in the semifinals Saturday, 92-78. They were heavily favored to be the team to advance to Clovis. But, Kavanaugh again proved that good "team" basketball can overcome a group of talented individuals.

We knew we had to control the tempo. We couldn't run with them," Kavanaugh said. "We anticipated a lot of individual play from them. What we wanted to do was move our defense out to stop the ball before they could get

airis basketball

To do that, Kavanaugh had his team deploy a menacing half-court trap de-fense. The defense confused Michigan for the first 10 miuntes of the first half and gave them fits down the stretch.

METRO JUMPED ahead 19-11 after 10 minutes. After a timeout, however, Michigan began to get the ball inside. They rattled off seven unanswered points to get back in the game.

With the score tied 22-22, 6:58 left in the half, Kavanaugh knew he was facing a crisis point. Michigan appeared poised to run his team out of the gym.

Kavanaugh countered by sending in his Farmington Connection - namely, Rhonda Lancaster and Alyse Fortune from Farmington High, and Sarah Bas-ford and Beverly White from Farming-ton Hills Mercy.

The move sparked Metro. Fortune hit a jumper, Banford drained another, then Lancaster hit two streight, one on a pretty feed from Banford — boom, Metro is up by six again.
"Those kids really did a job for us,"

Kavanaugh said.

Toward the end of the half, however, Michigan began to dominate the offensive boards, getting two and three shots each time down the court. The result: Michigan carried a 40-36 lead into the

"TOWARD THE END of the half, I felt we lost some of our intensity," Kavanaugh said. "I felt we may have got a little tired. We seemed to get our sec-ond wind in the second half."

It was Govan who breathed the life into the Metro team in the second half. She scored the first six Metro points, trading hoops with Michigan's Thomp-

With Michigan up $4,48, Govan began to take charge. She rattled off seven more unanswered points. After an other clutch hoop by Lancaster, Metrol was up $7.68.

In the next seven minutes the score was tied nine times and the lead changed hands six times — it was that kind of game. A flat-but white-knucking kler.

With Metro up 78-78 on a couple of Emily Wagner — another Ladywood star — hoops, Govan made a pair of plays that leed the win. She tied up Alyana Milige under the Metro hasket with 4:50 left. Despite giving up about four inches in height, Govan won the, tip, slapping it to Wagner who missed the layup. But, guess who followed up the play and scored on the rebound — you got it Govan. you got it, Govan.

A Lisa Harvey basket brought Michigan back within two with 2:56 left. Harvey led her team with 17 points -; playing a brilliant game.

NOW is the time to prepare. The pressure is on to score as high as possible to get the job. The first step toward a postal service career is getting your name onto the "Register of Eligibles," which is accomplished by passing this Exam. To be one of the first hired, you need to get one of the higher scores! And to be hired at all during the next three years, you will need to score at fewar 95%?

4-HOUR WORKSHOP

Score 95-100% or Your Tuition is Refunded!

It is possible to get a very high score with adequate preparation. From years of experience and discussions with our Advisory Board (consisting of former postmasters, training managers and examiners), we know that it takes exactly four hours to teach you everything you need to know to score 95% or better — which is what you'll need to get a job. Achievement Center workshops are conducted by instructional teams of two or more (depending upon the size of the workshop); not by one person alone as in other workshops. This enables us to reach out and give help where Peoplets derived from this course extend far beyond the postal exam. The skills and attitudes will help in every area of future learning and test-taking. We have helped thousands of people successfully prepare for the Postal Exams. But don't take our word for it, take our guarantee! Come to the workshop. If you don't feel, at the end of the course, that it will help you achieve a score of 95% or better, don't pay for the workshop! Furthermore, if your score its less than 95% on the official exam after using our techniques, we will immediately refund

The second half was all Michigan as the team staged a fast-break clinic. A simple blink of the eye and you were sure to miss a bucket or two.

Parker and game MVP Chuck King (Lapeer East) shared team scoring honors with 20 points each.

Center Tony Holifield (Oak Park) poured in 18 and Glynn Blackwell (Highland Park) came off the bench to score 15

"Depth-wise, we just wore them down," Watkins said. "Our bench really made the difference."

CAN YOU IMAGINE a Michigan starting five without Demetreus Gore in the lineup? Watkins had Michigan's Mr. Basketball on the bench at the start because he missed some practices on account of graduation commitments. It showed in his game as he managed just eight points while seeing limited action.

"He understood why he wasn't starting," Watkins said. "He couldn't make some practices and he didn't think he should be playing in front of those that had practiced."

Other Michigan players in double figures included Archie Tullos (Saginaw Buena Vista), who pitched in 14, CANADA GUARD Andy Thrasher also had a fine game, pumping in 24 points. Gary Nolan added 14.

Watkins has just a couple of days to prepare his team for the Shootout, which includes top-ranked teams from New York, Chicago, New Jersey, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington, D.C. But he thinks his team will be ready.

Tax shelters are many and varied

By Sid Mittra special writer

The Internal Revenue Service now imposes tough new penalties on investors in programs that offer inflated write-offs. Still, for taxpayers in the 40percent bracket or above, it is worth the effort to seek out the shelters where tax deductions and cash returns combine into a sound investment.

Some of the types of publicly registered limited partnerships include:

REAL ESTATE: Limited partners get write-offs for depreciation, interest and other expenses, in addition to rental income. Deductions can equal 70 percent of your investment over the first four years or so of the program when expenses run high and rents are just starting to come in.

Rentals from a good shelter should pay you an average of 5 percent or so annually before taxes. At the end of the program - which can range from 5-15 years - these sponsors sell the properties and distribute the proceeds.

Each investor's after-tax share might equal twice what he originaly put into the shelter, assuming respectable long-term gains. For an investor in the 50-percent bracket, the tax savings, income and capital gains could add up to a 25-percent average annualized return.

OIL AND GAS: Oil and gas deals use investors' money to lease drilling equipment and land. There are three kinds of oil and gas drilling partnerships: Highly speculative exploratory ones that search for oil and new oil fields, relatively safe developmental ones that drill for known reserves, and partnerships that do both.

These shelters usually last for 15 years. They give you most for your deductions in the first year or two and income after that.

These shelters thrive on several tax benefits: deductions for so-called "intangible drilling costs," or expenses incurred in developing a well; "depletion deductions" to offset the theoretical exhaustion of capital from a producing well, and tax credits on purchases of equipment.

EQUIPMENT LEASING: These shelters allow investors to buy and lease equipment to businesses, taking depreciation and interest deductions and investment tax credits.

Congress has since reduced the tax incentives for many individual investors, but such shelters can still be attractive.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT: These offer chiefly large investors handsome returns on their money. The benefits are simple: rapid write-offs of potentially massive costs and potentially huge capital gains if the products succeed in the marketplace.

A CAVEAT: In general, it is wise to avoid any program promising first-year-deductions of two or more times your investment. Such deductions are often based on depreciation of assets whose value has been exaggerated.

High-multiple shelters practically beg for an audit, and inflated deductions would not only be disallowed, but you would owe penalties of 11 percent compounded daily on your back taxes, plus up to 30 percent of the amount by which the IRS said your shelter inflated values.

UMMER'S ON THE WAY, and the outdoor concert season has begun.

Throughout the metropolitan area, from suburbs to downtown Detroit, jazz and pop concerts are stirring appreciative audiences. Singles and other jazz-band fans espe-cially like the P'Jazz series, which opened its 13th season Wednesday, at Detroit's Hotel Pontchartrain and Summer Nights, which opened its third season Friday at the Troy Hilton

Cocktails and charcoal-grilled snacks are served up at both locations, along with the music.

The Meadow Brook Music Festival goes into its 21st season, with a Friday Variety Series and a Saturday Variety Series of big-name entertainment by vocalists and musicians. (The classical series opens the season Thursday, June 21.)

Early arrivals can picnic on the lawn before the concert begins. During the concert, there's the comfort and assurance, plus good sight and sound, provided by pavilion seats. Lawn seats offer relaxation in a romantic setting, at bargain prices.

CONCERT CHOIR

The Goldberg Concert Choir will perform at 11 a.m. Saturday, June 9, in the Central Court at Westland Center. The choir's appearance is in conjunction with the International Freedom Festival. Participating in the choir are 20 youngsters, age 9-13, from Goldberg Elementary, Hutchins and McMichaels Middle Schools. The musical repertoire consists of 117 memorized selections in the style of spirituals, contemporary, classic and novelty melodies.

SPOTLIGHT PLAYERS

"A Company of Wayward Saints" will be presented at 8 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays, June 8-9 and 15-16, at the John Glenn Auditorium, 36105 Marquette west of Wayne Road in Westland. Tickets are $4 for adults, $3 for students under 18 and senior citizens over 62. The production includes slapstick comedy, mime, juggling, acrobatics and acting, plus audience participation. For ticket information, call 595-6117 or 729-6453.

PIANO RECITAL

A spring piano recital will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday, June 10, in the Liberal Arts Building Theater at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Students from the Schoolcraft Honors Program, all advanced young pianists who have accumulated many honors this past year, will perform and be recognized for their accomplishments, following the recital. Performing will be Walter Burge, Mike Fallon, Soo Mee and Soo Jin Kwon of Plymouth; David Perample and Brad Buszard of Livonia; Betty and Susan Choi of Bloomfield Hills; Matthew and Sherri Hopeman of West Bloomfield, and Julie Burnacki of Dearborn Heights. The recital is open to the public without charge.

CLASSICAL GUITAR

Matthew Mischacoff has been appointed adjunct instructor in classical guitar, beginning in the 1984 fall se-mester in the Music Department at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. Private lessons from Mischacoff will be part of the program planned around Music 135. A limited number of high school juniors and seniors will be admitted to the program. Music 135 meets 1-2 p.m. Thursdays for 16 weeks beginning Aug. 23. For further

Vickers humanizes 'Peter Grimes' role

Is Jon vickers Peter Grimes Jon Vickers? So intermeshed is the famous Canadian tenor's characterization of Beniamin Britten's hapless fisherman, that after 17 years of portraying the nart. Vickers is virtually inseparable from Peter Grimes. This is ironic since Britten preferred to have the part sung by a lighter voice than a heldentenor.

In the opening night performance of Met Britten's intention was to Week. Vickers' performance was matchless. His every move, every motion gave his pitiful character sympathy and understanding.

It was the final scene that brought the meaning of the opera to light. Grimes had been accused of murdering his apprentice on a fishing trip. A second child had died and Grimes had gone mad.

evoke empathy for his Grimes. Up to that point in the opera, feelings were with the townspeople who accused Grimes of murder.

Perhaps it is the original character of George Crabbe that looms out of Montagu Slater's libretto that makes us believe Grimes is guilty. Britten softened that personality in Grimes and made the evidence circumstantial. make the townspeople the antagonizer and Grimes the innocent victim though this idea never really comes off, a major weakness in the opera

"-30-" (1959), 1 tonight on Ch. 50. Originally 96 minutes. TV time slot: 120 minutes.

Here's the campiest newspaper film ever made and one of the truest, too, in that it fairly representatively depicts the daily goings-on - some of them humdrum, some sensational - at a major daily.

That's not to say "-30-" is a realistic film, but the "feel" of the newspaper office is right.

Co-stars Jack Webb and William Conrad bite off every line of dialogue and chew them roundly before spitting them out; David Nelson, Joe Flynn, Louise Lorimer and Whitney Blake all have moments to shine, and the musical score is pretty funny, too. Webb also directed.

"Sands of Iwo Jima" (1949), 1 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 2. Originally 110 minutes. TV time slot: 120

Quick quiz: Name the movies in which John Wayne gets killed. Quick answer: "The Fighting Seabees," 'Wake of the Red Witch," "The Alamo," "The Shootist" and, sad to report, "Sands of Iwo Jima" (along with, admittedly, possibly one or two others).

Like "-30-," "Sands of Iwo Jima? revolves around larger-than-life. characters in rather banal situations but it, too, captures the essence of its story matter. In this case, World War II. Wayne, Forrest Tucker, Richard Jaeckel, John Agar and Julie Bishop co-star in the rousing film featuring vintage battle scenes. Alan Dwan directs Rating: $3.10.

"Ballad of Cable Hogue" (1970), 11:45 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 7. Originally 121 minutes. TV time slot: 140 minutes

Jason Robards plays an unlikely hero in this offbeat film by director Sam Peckinpah, who sets aside the blood and guts for a change and instead composes a rather pastorale cantata of the old West. Stella Stevens, David Warner, Slim Pickens and Strother Martin co-star. Rating: $3.

"The Flim Flam Man" (1967), 8 p.m. Wednesday on Ch. 50. Originally 115 minutes. TV time slot: 120 minutes.

This time it's George C. Scott inan unlikely role as a traveling conman whose protege's inherent honesty results in splashes of merri-ment. Michael Sarrazin plays the apprentice, and fetching Sue Lyon co-stars with veteran character actors Harry Morgan, Jack Albertson, Slim Pickens, Alice Ghostley and Albert Salmi.

Cast, conductor, make long opera worthwhile

One of the highlights of opera week was Wagner's "Die Valkure," the second part of the monumental four-opera cycle "The Ring." The length of Wagner's operas is well known. That was the reason that Thursday's performance was scheduled for 7 p.m. rather than the usual 8 p.m. While perceptions of the length are sometimes exaggerated - none of his operas lasts as long as 7-10 hours - the last curtain on this occasion came down around midnight, making it a challenge for those in the audience who had to rise early next morning for their daily chores.

FORTUNATELY, WAGNER'S inspiration and that of the cast and the conductor made most of these hours wofthwhile

The principal singers were most impressive. One change that seemed to be most welcome by the audience was the substitution of Hildegarde Behrens for Ester Kovacs in the role of Brunnhilde.

There is no intent to detract from the qualifications of the replaced singer or to compare her to her replacement. But Behrens' voice quality was excellent. She soared effortlessly into the high notes in her battle cry at the beginning of the second act. She was expressive in her tender dialogues with Wotan, her operatic father.

SIMON ESTES, who played the role of Wotan, projected convincingly through his rich baritone voice the image of the troubled, helpless, yet impassioned god.

Jon Vickers in the role of Siegmund gave such a powerful performance, one tends to lament that Wagner has kept Call 421-6990 Forty years ago the Allies landed at Normandy Province in France and the long battle to bring the world back to sanity took a turn for the better. Today the countryside that the Allied forces traveled across in the quest for freedom is peaceful and serene. Freedom Road follows the soldiers' footsteps between Paris and Normandy through picturesque French villages and cities.

Beyond Normandy

France 40 years after D- Day

By Iris Jones special writer

It may have been the Longest Day but it was only the First Day. It is important to remember that as we commemorate the 40th anniversary of D-Day this week.

The invasion of Europe had just begun when Allied forces landed on the five invasion beaches of Normandy June 6, 1944; the American forces at Omaha and Utah beaches; the Canadian, British and other Commonwealth forces at Gold, Juno and Sword beaches.

It was mid-September, more than three months later, before the ancient province of Normandy was completely liberated, and almost a year of long days before the liberation forces reached Maury Kiburg's home in Amsterdam in May of 1945.

Maury was tour manager, problem solver and friend to a group of journalists who went on an escorted tour of France this spring with Maupintour, an American tour company based in Kansas.

This is the first of a series of articles on that tour, which took us from Paris through Chartres, Giverny a tour guide's voice talking about museums and historic houses, while the morning life of Paris goes by the wide clear windows of the bus. Parisians are walking, driving and busing to work between the beautiful old stone buildings, with their carved doorways, red awnings and wrought iron balconies. We are on the Champs Elyses with

We are on the Champs Elyses with all the familiar names around us: the Lido, Fouquets, the Arc de Triomphe. Roads are busy but surprisingly few people are on the sidewalk from 8:30 in the morning.

There is a sudden explosion of woods, once the grounds of an aristocrat's estate, and then the Avenue de Paris leads in a wide passageway of trees toward Versailles. All the roads of Paris once led to Versailles.

There are parking lots, construction crews and apartments in Versailles now, but the royal buildings of the French kings still dominate the town.

THE WHEAT fields that lead beyond Versailles to Chartres are green with spring, a light mist blending them with the dark forests and the stone farmhouses that grow out of the land.

Pilgrims used to walk to Chartres from Paris. As they walked through the golden ocean of ripe wheat they saw those twin towers rising above the plains.

The highway that divides the wheat fields is called Freedom Road; this is the route the Allied forces took on their way through France. It is the commemorative road signs, seen everywhere in France, that impress me 40 years after World War II.

The Rue de Liberation follows the

The Rue de Liberation follows the soldiers' footsteps from Normandy through the villages of France. In Loue, near Le Mans, the Rue Colonel Donaldson marks the square where one of Patton's men fell in battle. The Rue du II November, 1918, reminds us that all this had happened before.

Tomorrow we visit Rouen, where Joan of Arc was burned at the cross in 1431 and then we go on to Omaha Beach.

Wednesday: World War II Revisited

This year the spotlight is on Normandy, but the memories have no national borders. As our tour bus drives through the Norman farmlands toward Omaha Beach, our guide Maury Kiburg, a Hollander, tells us about the long year of waiting for the Allies to liberate the Netherlands.

Maury is a gray-haired man now, but he was 12 years old when he delivered mail to the Dutch anderground during World War II. His brothers were eight and 10 years older than he was. One hid in the country after the Nazi occupation began. The other died years later as a result of the war.

When the Hollanders heard about the Normandy landings, they were prepared to be liberated immediately, but it was a long cold winter and spring before their liberation in May 1945. The Dutch workers went on strike to help the Allied effort, stopping all transport.

In retaliation, the Germans withheld food. "There was no electricity and very little food that winter," Maury said. "It was one of the harshest winters in history."

watching out the window for the familiar names of the Normandy Beaches, marked on the brochure that each of us holds in his hand.

CAEN IS a prosperous city now as we pass it on the highway, but 90 percent of it was destroyed and 3,000 of its citizens died before it fell to the Canadian forces on July 9, 1944. In the previous two weeks, 22,000 of the British Second Army were killed or wounded.

As we follow the coast, we see blockhouses dimly outlined above the distant

The sea is misty and there seem to be 100 ships at sea near Arromanches-les-Bains. They are rusted hulls towed across the channel 40 years ago and sunk there to make a landing place for supply ships. They mesmerize me as Maury talks about D-Day.

"On the morning of June 6 the sea was black with ships. The Germans thought it was a mirage, a reflection. When they saw the first ships it was too late. There were warships out there, wave after wave.

The highway here is called Avenue Admiral Mountbatten. From a viewing platform, its guard rails inset with markers, we identify the beaches. This is Gold Beach. The British, Canadian and other Commonwealth forces landed here and at Juno and Sword beaches to the right.

The town of Arromanches is downhill to the left, and beyond that, Omaha Beach. It stretches in a great curve of sand to a promontory, where the Second Ranger Battalion scaled the impossible cliffs of Pointe du Hoc. Beyond, out of sight, is Utah Beach.

WE VISIT the museum at Arromanches, one of many invasion museums on the Calvados coast, and peer out through the slits of the German batteries at Pointe du Hoc, but the France and Europe. The reminder of American loss is etill evident at the complery for American soldlers above. Omaha Beach in Normandy.

Cemetery, one of so many Allied cemeteries on this coast.

They stand in the Norman silence, small marble crosses white against the green, green grass above Omaha Beach. The cemetery has a settled look now, 40 years after D-Day, the American flag flying high above the intersection of two long paths.

One path leads from the war memorial to the chapel. The other leads from the entrance building to the clifftop above the beach. On a sunny day, people follow the path down the hillside to the beach below. Omaha Beach.

There are bikinis on Omaha Beach in the summertime now, as there should be. It's one of the most glorious beaches in Europe. I think about that as we drive on to Bayeux and Queen Matilda's tapestry, a 19-inch-high, 231-footlong depiction of the Battle of Hastings in 1066. Those Norman soldiers set out from these same beaches 918 years ago on their way to invade England.

Angelle Agabashian paints her designs on sweatshirts. She also paints on silk and other fabrics. The artist hopes to attract the attention of noted clothes designers with her artistry.

Art to wear Designer creates patterns for silks and sweatshirts

staff writer

If Angelle Agabashian's dreams come true, someday her artworks will be found in many closets or bureau

The young Livonia resident knows her work is nothing to hide away. Agabashian, you see, wants to be a designer. She paints her delicate patterns not on a canvas propped on an easel, but on a variety of fabrics ranging from gentle China silks to cotton sweatshirts.

"All this might get me somewhere," Agabashian said with a smile, gesturing in her basement. For now, that is where she does her work. But she is looking for a larger studio near school.

Agabashian will be one of the local artists participating in the first Art on the Pointe display, scheduled for June 17 and 18 at the Edsel and Eleanor Ford House in Grosse Pointe Shores.

Artists Barbara Gibson of Livonia Dorothy Denner of Canton and Patricia DiFalco of Plymouth also will be taking part in the exhibit. Gibson works with ceramics, Denner with stained glass and DiFalco with country crafts.

AGABASHIAN is studying fabric design at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit. She hopes to continue pursuing the subject in Florence, Italy, New York or Chicago.

"I'm more interested in the design aspect of it," Agabashian said. "I'm trying to learn more about that.

"I would like to get into some more clothing. Clothes are something that you associate with every day. I can apply that to different things. I hope that I can become diverse to fill those

"That's what I'd like to do," Aga-

IN THE meantime, Agabashian keeps busy painting vests and other garments, using stencils and dyes. She recently illustrated the book "A Crack in the Armor," a collection of poetry by a friend, Robert Asa Phillips.

"It comes and goes," Agabashian said. "Sometimes there's not much to do, sometimes there's too much to do."

But her real interest is painting on silks. She uses white, handsewn silks that are the size of a scarf, or larger. The larger pieces may be cut and sewn into different garments, or left uncut and displayed as a banner.

"I draw a lot from nature," Agabashian said. "I like flowers."

AGABASHIAN uses a hot wax method to put some designs on silk. She draws the patterns with a stylus-like tool that holds the hot wax. When the cloth is dyed, the area under the wax is left the original color. The artist alternately draws with the stylus and dyes the cloth to obtain a particular design.

Larger patterns are painted onto the silk with brushes of various widths.

Agabashian, now in her third year at college, has been interested in fabrics for about three years. She always had an attraction to art in general.

Agabashian's fabrics have been displayed at school and at area fairs. She has approached, or is planning to approach, different stores about carrying her painted garments.

"They can be hand or machine washed," the artist said. "As they're

There we were at a funeral home my family and friends all seated and reminiscing of the loved one who had passed on.

Then I had a wonderful thought: Instead of everyone looking at the body and judging the technical skills of the mortician, why not be a little more creative? I turned to my wife and said, "When I die, I want to be cremated and have the ashes placed in a hole in the earth and then plant a tree in that hole. New life, rebirth . . . symbolism . you know, meaning and stuff like that."

Soon, even the whispers ceased, and those within ear shot of my idea began to smile. From all around I heard smart aleck comments like "Sure Dave, but what kind of tree? Crabap-

Critics, critics. Everywhere there are critics. Do we need them? Are they helpful or are they a hinderance?

First of all, there are two sides to the word criticize. The positive side is "to make a sound and careful judgment." The negative side is "to find fault

WE AS artists need the sound and determine whether we are rightly expressing our emotion. What we don't need is to have someone constantly finding fault with our every stroke of the pen or brush. The last few articles I have written is never to be confused with "touchiness," but because artists are naturally more sensitive, they are likewise more easily bruised emotionally. Often, an artist is so moved by an object or emotion that he makes a visual expression of it. This act of visual expression or representation, in effect, leaves the artist with some exposed nerve endings. Healthy criticism from family and friends can guide the artist to better expression. The art teacher can increase technical ability for even better

FRUSTRATION USUALLY comes from two sources. First is when expression and technical ability do not coincide. This is an inner turmoil that can perhaps be shared with those who have speech difficulty. Their thought and emotion is clear, but their delivery is halting and broken. For the artist, the thought and emotion are clear, but the execution or visual representation is not representive of what he wanted to

The second form of frustration is when the artist's emotion and ability to coincide to produce a valid representation of his expression, only to find negative criticism. Negative criticism is usually a result of poor understanding, but it still hurts when it is directed at you. But, usually, friends and family are very supportive and offer positive criticism to their local artist.

Having seen so many art students over the weeks, months and years, I am beginning to see a correlation between positive support and successful art. But there is a likewise depressing correlation between negative criticism and
