New planner to aid development

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

The Plymouth Township board approved hiring a township planner at its Tuesday night meeting.

James Anulewicz

Acting on the recommendation of Supervisor Maurice Breen, the board voted unanimously to authorize the employement of James Anulewicz.

Breen told the board Anulewicz offered his services at the same time chief building inspector Joe Attard resigned his administrative duties. Attard will stay on as an inspector.

In the past Anulewicz, a Plymouth Township resident, worked as a consultant with the township board and planning commission on a contract basis with Norman L. Dietrich Associates.

As township planner he will continue his work with the planning commission, as well as taking over the administrative responsibilities of the building department.

"This move fits the purposes of the township," Breen said. "Mr. Anulewicz has administrative abilities, as well as knowledge of the township ordinances"

THE NEWLY created position carries an annual salary of $31,600. The planner also will have access to a township car, and will be allowed to continue his consulting work on the side — as long as it doesn't conflict with his township position.

Wage re-opener discussions between the Plymouth Police Officers Association and the city apparently are going smoother than years past.

"We reached some agreements at informal discussions on a number of matters," Graper said Monday.

The police union is entering the final year of a three-year contract which includes a wage re-opener for the third year. Past discussions have been marred by unfair labor practice charges as well as bickering back and forth.

The two sides are scheduled to sit down formally next month, but Graper said he wasn't sure they need to meet — in view of the informal discussions. The city manager won't disclose the details of the recent agreements with the officers until they are finalized. Unlon president Mike Gardner refuses to comment to the Observer. GRAPER EARLIER said the city would seek wage concessions from the union. But recent union comments about the department's financing seemed to indicate wage concessions wouldn't be given by the police union without a battle.

Another targeted area likely will be the starting wage for the department. Graper said Monday the police force was three men short.

A command officer and patrol officer currently are out on medical leave and likely will be out for some time. A second patrol position is vacant due to a firing

Because of the need to hire, the department is expected to lower its starting wage — possibly something the union will be able to trade for wage concessions.

NOT INVOLVED in the union discussions is the pending appointment of a police chief. Graper said Monday that the city is accepting applications and has advertised in three municipal magazines for a chief.

Student loss hits stores

Parents may have been glad to see children going back to school Tuesday, but for Plymouth area businesses it was an entirely different story.

Many businesses specializing in fast foods and entertainment for school-age children are sorry to see their best customers back in the classroom. Carol Laing, owner of the Dairy King on S. Main,

Carol Laing, owner of the Dairy King on S. Main, said she closes her store from October to March, not only because of the seasonal nature of the product — frozen custard — but also because kids are not around to buy it.

"We lose a lot of our business, especially in the daytime. But we also lose some at night, because students can't stay out late."

But Jan Olson, manager of the Skatin' Station in Canton Township, says back-to-school means back to business

"Kids returning to school affects us for the good," sald Olson. "They're all done with swimming and other outdoor activities. We expect to have a HARDEE'S FAST food restaurant on Plymouth Road in Plymouth has a somewhat different problem when students return to school.

"We're losing a lot of our crew," said Sanda Banda, assistant manager. "It's a little hard to find workers. We hire more adults. When school opens, we look for people at least 18."

Wendy's on Ford Road in Canton does its best business during the spring and summer, according to Wayne Wittman, manager of the fast-food opera

Wittman has plenty of help in the summer, but when students return in the fall he has to start looking.

"We're losing quite a few workers," said Wittman. "But we try to make up for it with college students."

Back-to-school time is not all bad for the operators of Chris's Coney Island, either. The Plymouth Township eatery on Ann Arbor Road wins and loses customers in the fall.

But the township is looking for a way to make the tax write-off of water bills less attractive, financially.

The township board has set the gears in motion for tacking on administrative costs to delinquent bills.

An increasing number of delinquent accounts triggered Tuesday night's call for an administrative fee. "The number is increasing at an alarming rate," said Tony Hollis, township DPW supervisor.

"People are finding out that they can get away with letting them (the bills) go onto their property taxes and then writing them (the water and sewer costs) off on their income taxes. They only get caught if they are audited,"

THE FEDERAL government allows homeowners to deduct property taxes from total gross income. Water and sewer bills not paid through September are added to the homeowner's property

However, Internal Revenue Service guidelines require that the delinquent water and sewer portion of the property tax bill be subtracted from any income tax deductions.

Apparently some residents take the risk of being caught to gain the extra deduction. Simply delaying payment to earn interest by investing the money doesn't pay. The township charges a 10 percent penalty on all delinquent acceptable.

Jumpin' the track

A railroad car weighing 36 tons left the tracks of the C&O Railroad, as the train was eastbound at Holbrook, Plymouth, at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Railroad investigators are unsure of the cause of the derailment, which apparently began as the train rounded a bend in the tracks between Farmer and Holbrook streets. The wayward car, which was used to transport motor fuel but was empty, carved furrows in the wood roadbeds at two crossings in the Old Village area of the city.

Principal chosen

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education appointed Patricia Moore the new principal of Central Middle School Monday at its regular meeting.

Moore replaces Gregory Owens, who resigned.

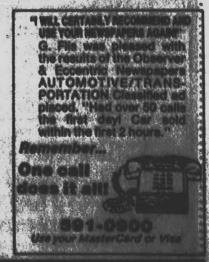

The board also appointed Sharon Strean assistant director of community education. She replaces David Dursum, who also resigned. Trustees cast their votes for Ronald B. Withers, a member of the Livonia. Board of Education, to serve a three-year term in the "Group VI position" on the Michigan Association of School Boards (MASB) Board of Directors.

Judith Wilcox of Mona Shores and Karen Wilkinson of Northville also got the nod for three-year terms.

Dems ready for 'tough, hard race'

WAS GERALDINE Ferraro's birthday. So the Michigan Democratic Convention sang the vice presidential candidate a rousing "Happy Birthday" — hopefully loud enough for her to hear on the campaign trail in Alabama.

But the weekend party really was for U.S. Sen. Carl Levin, who is running for re-election this fall.

Meeting Saturday and Sunday in Cobo Hall to approve a platform and nominate candidates to education boards and the Michigan Supreme Court, 2,500 Democrats were urged to get out the Mondale-Ferraro vote.

'The Republicans think they're on a roll," said Detroit Mayor Coleman Young.

"Let's roll 'em back and out."

BENEATH THE pep rally spirit, though, was deep concern for the future of Michigan's junior senator. Delegates were bombarded with pleas on behalf of Levin, who has opposed administration policies. Democrats are not going to take lightly former astronaut Jack Lousma's challenge to Levin.

"Levin is dead center in the gun sights of the Republicans. Make no mistake about it - the Senate race is going to be a tough hard race right down to the last day," said U.S. Sen. Donald W. Riegle Jr.

"If we don't win, we lose one of the best senators this country has. And the person in his place cancels out my vote. So you lose two senators."

"Do not take this great senator for granted. Carl Levin is the watchdog of wasteful spending," said Gov. James Blanchard, one of several top Democrats who spoke on Levin's behalf.

"He is an outstanding fighter for Michigan. We can not afford to lose

THROUGHOUT THE weekend, Democrats took potshots at the recent Republican Party National Convention. Speakers deplored the conservative nature of the Republican platform, contrasting it to the ideas of Walter Mondale and Geraldine Ferraro.

Democrats were eagerly buying this button made in Hadley. Another popular one reads: "Jane Wyman Was RIGHT."

"The Republican Party is on its last leg and because of that, we are going to do very, very well this fall," state party chairman Rick Wiener said. "It's their kook right wing platform against our

A lifelong Democrat, Kavanaugh won office as an independent in 1976 when the party dropped him because he supported two Republican colleagues for re-election.

The weekend's only real controversy grew out of the University of Michigan and Michigan State University board races. Two longtime regents fell by the wayside after campaigns were waged against them.

Detroit reflected conflicts abroad

After Cadillac's departure in 1710, Fort Ponchartrain, or Detroit, as the little hamlet on the river was beginning to be called, underwent two decades of mismanagement (See Tonguish Tales story in the Observer, August 9). Inefficient and sometimes corrupt officials overcharged the poor "habitants" and trade declined. A large number of Detroiters left the area to return to Montreal and Quebec, and others settled at places in the East. Some of Detroit's troubles were precipitated by traumatic events abroad. For a better understanding of the situation, let us briefly explore the historic background of these events. Let us examine the spirit from which was spun the cocoon of Detroit's unique life.

The glorious "Sun King," Louis XIV, had just about exhausted the French treasury by 1710 and the country was on the verge of bankruptcy. They had no funds to rescue Detroit. In fact, want and famine haunted the motherland while the King, surrounded by his court of sycophants, remained remote from the needs of the common people. Incessant war on land and sea had shortchanged commerce at home, and starvation, high taxes, and death stalked the land. The lonely little outpost at Detroit was not a prime concern of the troubled court at Versailles.

What brought about these unfor-tunate conditions? I shall endeavor to make a precis of these events that we may gain perspective on this distant Between 1485 and 1789 the years of peace in Europe were outnumbered by many more years of war. Most of these struggles were formented by despotic rulers seeking power and pelf. The people were the pawns in this international power play.

AFTER THE Thirty Years War, a slaughter which was supposed to have ended with the Treaty of Westphalia in 1648, much of central Europe had been laid waste. Few conflicts since the dawn of history ever had caused such human misery. Reliable estimates indicate that one third of the receive in Contents and cate that one-third of the people in Germany and Bohemia, at that time the heart of central Europe, lost their

Helen Gilbert

The war was followed by famine, disease, plagues, bands of brutal soldiers, and destruction of homes and property. Armies of both sides pillaged and tortured, ravished and slaughtered, in such a way that whole regions were converted into wastelands. An example is the province of Saxony. It conservatively has been estimated that at least one-third of Saxony went out of cultivation at this time. Packs of wolves roamed the streets of the once prosperous little villages. The poor souls who survived the slaughter were in such misery that they longed to escape to the new world. They would risk the hazards of the sea in shabby little boats to start over again with the German families in American.

This 30-year struggle between the Bourbons and the Hapsburgs did not end the rivalry. Shortly after the makeshift peace it resumed when Louis XIV attacked the lowlands of Belgium and the Netherlands. The cost of Louis' determination to enlarge the French borders - to build extravagantly at Versailles and to maintain a burgeoning menage including Mme Maintenon and her entourage — was paid in the blood and loyal service of the French people. While the very best wine was poured at Versailles, the French peasant was eating bread made of acorns and common roots. King Louis put up a great front to the world, and half the kings of Europe were building palaces and copying the "Sun King's" style, while many of the oppressed people of France were impoverished and starving. Perhaps there was among these tax-oppress people sensitive souls who heard in the distance the rumbles of the French Revolution, and who imagined a land independent and free.

IT IS time to return to the little village on the strait in Mishigum where the "habitants" are waging their own struggle for survival. A thousand or more Black Fox Indians in war canoes have pulled up outside of the gates of Fort Ponchartrain and they are clamoring to get in. They are here because Cadillac invited them, and they are very upset when they find that he has gone off to be commandant at Louisi-

For more than five years the Foxes of Wisconsin had ignored Cadillac's invitation to place themselves under his "protection." Proud Algonquin, allied by language and probably by blood with the Sauk, the Mascouten, and the Kickapoo, followed the Algonquin ancestral pattern of travel from the Atlantic to Montreal and then on to Michigan Territory. They, like the Huron and the others, fled the violence of the warlike Iroquois. For a long time they lived in Michigan as neighbors of the Sauk who camped along Saukinaw (Saginaw) Bay. Most of them moved on the Wisconsin in the early 1600s and in the 1670s we find their tribal headquarters in the Wolf River Valley of Wisconsin.

Jesuit priests who labored among them at that time met with little success. These dark-skinned people were devoted to their own ancient faith. They called themselves the Meskwahkihaki, and Henry Schoolcraft, who studied them at an early date, called them the Mechecaukis, meaning the "Red Earth" people. The French called them Outagamies or Renards. Whatever they were called, they were a distinct tribe, unique in many marvelous ways. They were just emerging from their Stone-Age culture and were in no hurry to abandon their ancient beliefs and time-tried ways. They had an integrity all their own, but the white man was to change all that.

Breen said the township already was paying $25,000 a year in consulting fees for planning work. By hiring Anulewicz, Breen hopes to cut down on the consulting costs, but noted some work still may be sent out. Treasurer Joseph West, commenting on the motion to authorize Anulewicz's employment, said the move was quite sudden.

"I've just heard rumors about it," he said, noting the board only received the information that night.

"Rumors are prolific in this town and this township — that's why I brought it to the board tonight,"

"It's not something he (Anulewicz) takes lightly and it's not something I take lightly.

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS are concerned about the practice because of the potential cut in the water and sewer system's cash flow. The system depends on interest revenues to offset maintenance and operational costs.

"It's not a tremendous drain on cash flow right now, but it is three times what it was in 1982," Supervisor Maurice Breen said.

According to Breen, the township only adds delinquent accounts over $100 onto the tax rolls. Already this year some delinquent accounts are approaching the $1,000 level, he said.

"We'll eventually collect the money on the (property) taxes. It's just a question of how the board wants to go."

"Other communities have added a $50 cost to put it on the tax roll. It picks up what you lose on the interest," Breen said.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE fee idea is better than turning off water to delinquent users, according to the supervisor.

"By turning off the water, you run into some liability problems." The board agreed unanimously with Breen and directed the administration to develop the cost figure and return it for final ap-

OU has 25th anniversary

By Kathy Parrish

Twenty-five years ago, Michigan State University Oakland opened with 579 freshman students and 24 faculty members.

This fall, Oakland University marks its silver anniversary with nearly 12,000 students enrolled in classes taught by more than 400.

That's cause to celebrate. And the Avon Township college intends to do just that during September, October and November.

"We're very proud of this university and going to show our pride in a series of events starting this fall," OU president Joseph Champagne said during a luncheon to announce the plans.

"Celebrating a Quarter Century of Access to Excellence" includes a number of events scheduled for Sept. 14 to Nov. 20. The silver anniversary officially begins Sunday, Sept. 23, with an open house. Planned for the day are more than 100 activities ranging from a concert with fireworks to building tours, lectures, a kite flying contest, art show and an ox roast.

An important part of the celebration will be the Meadow Brook Seminars Revisited. Commemorating the first Meadow Brook Seminars, which were held in 1958 to map out an academic plan for the university, the educational programs start Sept. 24.

OPEN TO the public, the Monday and Tuesday lectures will feature scholars and citizens interested in education.

. "A lot of the celebration will be fun and games and I think that's very important," said the general chairman George T. Matthews, OU history professor.

"But also very important is what I call the academic armiture."

One of those who helped open the institution in 1959, Matthews said the original Meadow Brook Seminars "tried to establish an intellectual tone and sophisticated style."

While not intended to "replicate the past," the new series will explore issues which will affect the university in the future.

Built around the theme "Humane Values in a Technological Civilization — the University's Role," nine seminars are planned.

Each major academic component of OU has been asked to sponsor a seminar or conference keyed to the general theme.

Upcoming events include:

Thursday, Sept. 13 — a welcome back picnic sponsored by the Campus Ministry; Friday, Sept. 14 —

United States Marine Band in concert; Saturday, Sept. 15 — Rochester Apple Amble Run; Sunday

United States Marine Band in concert; Saturday, Sept. 15 — Rochester Apple Amble Run; Sunday, Sept. 16 — Commencement Exercises featuring Gov. James Blanchard and a Recognition Reception and Dinner featuring 25-year faculty and staff; Tuesday, Sept. 18 — Anniversary Day; Friday, Sept. 21 — Hot Air Balloon Festival; Sunday, Sept. 23 — Anniversary Open House.

The Monday and Tuesday Meadow Brook Seminars Revisited are scheduled for:

Sept. 24 and 25 — "Humanity and Technology — The Challenge of Compatibility in the Modern University;" Oct. 1 and 2 — "The Arts and Sciences — An Ancient and Lively Tradition;" Oct. 8 and 9 — "The Public University: How Best to Serve;" Oct. 15, 16 and 17 — "Excellence, Equity and Economy in Education;" Oct. 22 and 23 — "Research and Scholarships — Keys to Institutional Excellence;" Oct. 29 and 30 — "Humanity and Technology — The Challenge for Management Education;" Nov. 7, 8 and 9 — "Health Care Interdependence in a Changing World;" Nov. 12 and 13 — "The Technological University of the Future;" Nov. 19 and 20 — "What Have We Learned; What Should We Do?"

Madonna program approved by Bar

Approval of the Legal Assistant Program at Madonna College was recently granted at the American Bar Association's annual meeting.

A visition committee spent three days at the Livonia college during February and March to meet faculty, visit classes and survey library resources.

The Madonna legal assistant curriculum offers an associate degree, a bachelor's degree or a post-degree certificate. A legal assistant's duties include researching and analyzing laws, investigating facts of a case, and drafting documents under supervision of an attorney. A legal assistant can also interview clients, obtain releases for personal information and assist in preparation of cases.

Alcoholism talk set

A videotaped lecture by Russell Smith, M.D., on "What is Alcoholism" will be featured at Brighton Hospital's next Community Education Program.

During the 6 p.m. Sept. 4 program, the hospital's medical director will discuss physiological, psychological and social aspects of the disease of alcoholism. Following the film, a trained counselor will explain what help is available for both the alcoholic and his or her family.

For more information, contact the hospital at 227-1211. Brighton Hospital is located on East Grand River at Kensington Rd., just off the I-96 freeway.

Exec Lucas snubbed again at Democratic convention

By Kathy Parrish staff writer

Almost all Michigan's leading Democratic officeholders were on hand for the state convention. And most made it across the stage at one time or another.

Meanwhile, Wayne County Executive William Lucas watched from the back of Cobo Hall's Riverfront Ballroom.

A lifelong Democrat, Lucas wasn't on the roster — which included other notables such as Mayor Coleman Young, Wayne Sheriff Robert Ficano, Secretary of State Richard Austin and Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. Lucas has been similarly snubbed at other Democratic gatherings in

But the county executive was on the agenda in a few district caucuses because of an attempt by the 15th District to censure him for conduct unbefitting a party mem-

"My view is that the Democrats are going to have a tough fight - and all of us should have a role to play," Lucas said, adding he is "past the point of being emotionally involved, hurt by it."

"This is a grown-up world and the Democratic power structure doesn't include the county executive.

"But what little the party asks me to do I will continue to do."

A RESOLUTION CENSURING Lucas was presented during Aug. 18 Democratic district conventions to members of the 15th District. The district takes in western Wayne County and a third of Washtenaw

The resolution took Lucas to task for "conduct and actions detrimental to the interests of the Michigan Democratic Party and its members."

Chairman Tom Anderson of the 15th District said there was an attempt to "disuade" the four of five people who were behind the

"We were fearful that it might cause a split in the party ranks and didn't want to create a breach. So we tried to talk them out of it," the former state legislator explained. At the insistance of the authors, the resolution was presented to the state par-ty's platform committee. Anderson said he told the committee he hoped "it wouldn't create a problem at the convention." While Anderson believes the proposal then disappeared, Lucas' staff members were told it was talked about during some convention caucus meetings.

"That's how we found out about it. We were told it was voted down in one of the districts and brought up in other caucuses," said Bill Johnson, Lucas' press secretary. Lucas said several delegates mentioned it to him during last weekend's convention. "People said it was being circulated and that it was being resisted," the executive

BEHIND THE RESOLUTION is concern by Wayne County Democrats that Lucas is not making enough job appointments from their ranks.

"His (Lucas's) first consideration is competence. And I agree," explained Anderson, a Southgate resident. "But if there are competent people in both parties, his loyalty should be with the Democrats."

Anderson said there also is objection to the executive's proposed closing of Wayne County General Hospital in Westland. The facility has been leased to Southwest Detroit Hospital Corp. Other concerns apparently are Lucas's reliance on staffer Dennis Nystrom, an Oakland County attorney active in Republican politics and the executive's recent appearance at an event honoring President Ronald

"All these things contributed to the resolution. The primary concern is that Lucas is creating problems with Dems throughout the city and suburbs. The thought is that he's ignoring his supporters."

Anderson, who has talked with Lucas about the concerns, said it did not surprise him that the executive wasn't up on the con-

"I think it would been a little rift if he had been up there. Some people would have felt it was a slap in the face," the district chairman speculated.

LUCAS ALSO was not surprised that he was not up at the podium. "Politics is a grown-up person's game, and the people who are leaders decided Wayne County executive is not a very important job," he

"I don't agree with them. I feel what I've done here a party would be proud of. They are the kinds of accomplishments I think any political party would embrace with Lucas said there have been Democratic objections to his fiscal moves like the plan to close the hospital.

"I took a debt-ridden county and made it fiscally responsible," he said.

"I resent those people who seem to abrogate the position of fiscal integrity and give those qualities to Republicans. If you use taxpayers' money wisely you benefit your constituents and Democratic Party has always been the party of the people.

"Those are Democratic principles."

TO THE CHARGES which brought about the resolution, Lucas said Nystrom is the only "known" Republican in his administration. "The main criteria is competence and the majority of the people in this county are Democrats, and I have appointed Democrats," he explained.

"Maybe they aren't people who went to San Francisco for the convention. But no one has to show a card to work in this off-

The executive said he attended the Reagan party because he was invited and went out of politeness and because it might help his constituents if he attended.

"I was brought up in an era of respect for authority. It would be bad manners not to attend," said Lucas. "It would be violating my own personal code of conduct, which is to have good manners and respect."

Suburbs win first round in landfill battle

The first round in the battle over a landfill proposed for Huron Township near Metropolitan Airport is over.

The victors are the communities surrounding the site and Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack, (D-Wayne). The Lyon Development Company, owner of the 110-acre site located at I-275 and Sibley Road, is the an-

During a special meeting on Aug. 20 held at the request of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, members of the solid waste management committee added a Mack-sponsored amendment to the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, members of the solid waste management committee added a Mack-sponsored amendment to the Wayne County Solid Waste Management Plan. The amendment gives the local host community -Huron Township — power to formally accept or reject the proposed Lyon landfill. The resolution passed by a 7-2

Visibly elated over the vote, Milton Mack, also a member of the solid waste management committee, declared that if his resolution had failed, the fate of the controversial landfill would have been left up to the non-elected solid waste management committee. "We can't delegate such responsibility to non-elected people," said Mack.

James Collier, the attorney representing the Lyon Development Company, was outraged by the amendment and vowed the company would go to court over the issue. "The vote today said the committee is taking the site out of the plan," said Collier.

The attorney believes that the vote went unfairly against the company because the Wayne County Board of Commissioners did not want to risk possible defeat of the Solid Waste Management Plan by western Wayne County communities.

"It's a classic rural versus urban conflict," said Collier. Referring to the population and land use density of Wayne County, Collier said, "Western Wayne County is the only place you can put a landfill. The fight has just begun," said the attorney.

Before the adoption of the Mack amendment, the committee had made a special exception of the Lyon landfill proposal while waiting for a Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) ruling on the site. The committee determined that the Lyon site could be included in the plan as an amendment upon an affirmative vote of the solid waste management committee, even after the plan was finally approved by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The usual procedure for amending the plan requires approval of either the host community or a two-thirds majority of the communities of Wayne County and the Wayne County Commission.

Jim Rogers, representing the Southeastern Michigan Council of Government (SEMCOG) on the solid waste management committee agreed with commissioner Mack that leaving the Lyon landfill provision in the plan would have taken the power of decision away from the local community.

Rogers, who voted for the amendment, said: "If we don't resolve the site issue it puts the plan in jeopardy."

Also speaking in favor of the Mack amendment, committee member James Kosteva, currently Democratic nominee for state representative in the 37th House District, indicated that public hearings held over the past year gave overwhelming evidence that the public did not want the Lyon landfill.

'The site unnerves local communities, and they feel they have no power or control," said Kosteva. He added, "To have the facility in the plan pluts a dark cloud over the plan."

The amendment becomes one of the final changes added to the Wayne County waste plan as it moves toward approval by the Wayne County Com-

Work on the waste management plan began back in April, 1979, when the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, under a mandate from the state, resolved to develop a solid waste management plan.

'Western Wayne County is the only place you can put a landfill. The fight has just begun.'

-attorney James Collier

The goal was to ensure proper management of non-hazardous trash generated and disposed of in Wayne County during the next 20 years.

The Wayne County Planning Commission, along with the departments of health and public works, were designated to develop a plan.

The commissioners also appointed a solid waste management planning committee to assist in the development of the plan. That committee is composed of representatives from the solid waste industry, local and county governments, SEMCOG, environmental groups and the public.

The state law requires approval by two-thirds (29) of the communities be? fore the plan can be sent to DNR chief Ron Skoog for final approval.

_andfill plan loses out in Lansing

The proposal had bi-partisan support. No one really opposed the idea. Yet the plan to put on the November ballot a $350 million bond program to fund alternatives to landfills died in a special legislative committee Friday due to unresolved financial issues. Now Michigan voters will have to wait until 1986 before seeing the bond issue at the polls.

Most parties familiar with this state's waste disposal problems were keenly disappointed by the turn of events. Southgate resident Tom Anderson, a 30-year-veteran of the Michigan political arena and a member of the state Natural Resources Commission, talked about the bond issue in a recent conversation.

THE BONDING bill was important to the solid waste management strategy developed by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), according to

The prime purpose of the bonds was to channel funds for grants and loans to finance landfill alternatives such as recycling, waste reduction and waste-toenergy facilities - incineration of garbage to produce heat, steam and electricity. By using alternatives, the DNR projected it could reduce the state's need for landfill space by 70 percent.

WILL WAYNE and Oakland counties be hurt by the lack of solid waste bonding funds? Some projects may be scaled down, but Anderson predicts the effects won't be felt in the near term. Both counties are in decent shape for the near term with adequate landfill

Ease up gradually when you're beat

An unpleasant end product of strenuous exercise is fatigue - sometimes even exhaustion.

Although it may seem paradoxical, light exercise actually reduces fatigue better than passive resting.

Most people still believe "passive rest" will hasten their recovery from vigorous exercise. Research suggests, however, that an "active rest" when you're feeling fatigued will revitalize you faster than remaining motionless.

In the early 1900s, scientists discovered that after fatigue was produced in a subject's arm by strenuous exercise, the arm recovered faster if the other arm or the legs continued exercising, rather than resting.

Several years later it was shown that when the post-exercise activity was "moderately" intense, the fatigued muscles recovered faster. But when the activity was "too" intense, recovery was delayed.

PHYSIOLOGISTS recently have demonstrated that rhythmic physical activity immediately after exercise helps to remove and utilize the waste products of exercise metabolism specifically a body chemical called lactic acid.

This appears particularly important because high levels of lactic acid cause muscular fatigue. Thus, if your blood circulation remains increased, removal of lactic acid is enhanced, and your recovery is facilitated.

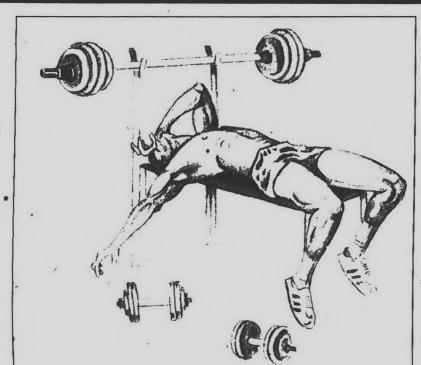

These findings provide a physiologic basis for the recommendation that you walk or jog intermittently between vigorous exercise bouts rather than sit or

In summary, rhythmical movement of low-to-moderate intensity seems to have a beneficial effect on the recovery from exercise-induced fatigue.

Law enforcement people like the idea. Defense attorneys don't.

The idea is to give "victims" of crime some input into all stages of criminal proceedings against defendants — including advice to the sentenc-

Of all the 68 recommendations from a presidential task force discussed recently at Sheriff Johannes Spreen's professional conference on "The Needs of Victims and Witnesses," the proposal to give crime victims more input into the lengthy law enforcement process got the most persistent amount of attention.

accordance with provisions established after its March, 1981, North Central accreditation visit, Schoolcraft College officials have put together a 230 page progress report addressing concerns raised by the visitation team three years ago.

in presenting the report to the board of trustees at its meeting Wednesday, Lattis Reibling, Schoolcraft's dean of instruction, told the board that in order to address the concerns raised by the North Central team, staff members working on the progress report needed to "put down their findings in a formalized fashion."

Noting that the report contained "a lot of documentation," Reibling said the committee working on the report was "told by North Central to list concerns and what the college has done

Concerned for public's safety

the editor:

As a resident of the city of Plymouth, Thave some great concerns regarding the actions of City Manager Henry Graper and the city commission.

Within the last year, the city fire desartment has lost two men and its ambulance. One firefighter was laid off and Chief Hall has retired. The two-year-old city ambulance was sold and we now have an "outside" ambulance service.

As if these actions were not serious enough, it appears that Graper and the city commission are now intent on taking actions which can only impede a wery fine, professional police department. If Plymouth Township does not renew its contract with the Plymouth police department, there is the very real possibility of lay-offs within the department and requests for contract concessions.

It is my belief that any city, anywhere, has a moral obligation to provide its residents with two basic services, fire and police protection. Prior to Graper's arrival as city manager, Plymouth had outstanding fire and police departments. Since Graper's arrival, these two basic units have had their ability to protect the residents of Plymouth greatly reduced.

While new businesses and/buildings rise in the city, the ability of the city's fire and police departments to protect these establishments and the citizens who frequent them diminishes.

Beginning in February, 1981, the 20man Plymouth police department took on the added duty of servicing Plymouth Township. This increased their responsibility to 18 square miles, a significant change from the original 2½ square miles encompassing the city of Plymouth.

The city manager and city commission have yet to answer the questions posed to them by Michael Gardner, President of the Plymouth Police Officers Association, at the Commission meeting of July 16, 1984.

Perhaps the commission and city manager will find the time to afford all the citizens of the city of Plymouth answers to the concerns expressed in this letter.

To the editor:

I would like to compliment Ron Prigee and his talented crew of teens who put together the cable television program, "Youth View." This is a weekly half-hour program coordinated by the teens at Lutheran Church of the Risen. Christ. Prigee is the director.

Recently, St. John Neumann's of Canton sponsored the First Annual Interdenominational Olympics with the "Youth View" crew filming the entire event. I was totally impressed and delighted with the results. The presentation was inclusive, funny and very cleverly edited. I certainly did not expect music and a Howard Cossell imitation to go along with the coverage.

The shots of our new assistant pastor, Fr. Tom Belczak, going down (numerous times) in the dunk tank were nothing short of classic. We plan to use this film for the promotion of a second Olympics next year.

Again, my thanks to Ron Prigee and the talented "Youth View" group of teens.

Merchants help class

To the editor:

Mrs. Huston's 5th grade class at Field School would like to thank all the local merchants for helping us with our campaign to help save the Statue of Liberty.

Their generous contributions made it possible for us to have a (contest) at school. With the monies that we made from our (contest) and other donations, we were able to raise $756.60 for the Statue of Liberty.

We want to thank all of the students, parents, and friends at Field School who helped to make our campaign such a great success.

Didn't like the story in paper

To the editor:
In regards to the Aug. 23 issue of the Livonia Observer, I wish to voice my complaint about such an uncouth article printed on impotence.

In the past, your reporters have written poor articles but this was disgusting to the highest degree.

My two young sons asked why I tore and ripped the page and discarded it. Their ages are 13 and 11 — much too young to understand and accept the information. These same children are brothers of two who also read an article in January 1979 that caused them psychological adjustment to the death of their father.

May I ask, where is the paper reaching — future leaders of our city? Not, by all means, through such articles printed in a local paper that children and adults read.

My decision is to cancel my paper and choose to buy one at my personal decision only. The carriers are mostly young boys and girls who probably are unaware of your poor articles pub-

Help end use of leghold traps

To the editor:

The campaign to end the use of the barbaric steel jaw leghold trap has been long and hard. Congressional hearings are scheduled before the subcommittee on health and the environment approval of HR-1797, which would prohibit interstate and foreign commerce in these cruel traps and the fur of animals caught in them.

You can help obtain approval of HR-1797. Write to: Henry A. Waxman, chairman Subcommittee on Health and the Environment, House Office Bldg., Washington, D.C., 20515.

Mr. Waxman is a co-sponsor of the legislation. He needs your support and encouragement.

In addition, write to your own representative urging him to vote for the bill and co-sponsor it if he or she has not already done so. Also, write to your senators, asking them to co-sponsor Sen. Charles Mathias', D-Md., bill S-2389 in the Senate.

Fifty-nine countries have already prohibited the use of the steel jaw strap. More than % of the American public is opposed to the continued use of the steel jaw trap, as demonstrated by a scientific survey conducted by the Yale School of Forestry and Environmental Studies.

It's time Congress listened to the voice of the American public rather than the steel jaw trap lobbyists.Together, we can end the use of this terrible implement. This is a fight that must

Difficult traffic is a headache

To the edito

In Canton on the stretch of Ford Road between Lilley and Sheldon there is a growing problem of extremely fast and heavy traffic. We have lived three years in the town house complex which has only one exit onto Ford Road. Let me tell you, there is much difficulty in getting out, particularly heading toward Westland.

The steady stream of cars seldom stops long enough to allow a car to exit. Even going toward K-Mart at Sheldon necessitates a wait. When we do make it out, the cars behind us close the gap swiftly, pressing us to speed up. Very nerve wracking indeed.

We've witnessed impatient neighbors moving out when there wasn't sufficient time, and a line of cars forced to stop for him. Also, cars have gathered behind one waiting to turn into his home when he didn't pull close enough to the yellow line. Eventually, you can expect an accident, perhaps even a number of cars piling into the one ahead of him. This is a hazardous space for traffic.

Since there is no sign of work to widen this road, what is to be done? Would lowering of the speed limit help? A stop light would be ideal. Placed at the entrance of the townhouses because the other two residential areas along Ford have other side streets available. Investigation and analysis would be prudent.

When the new cinema is constructed, what will happen with the horde of cars attracted? Even if the cinema widens the short stretch of pavement adjacent on Ford we can but sit back and wait for the inevitable smashing of veering and crowded cars.

Bus drivers unsung heroes

o the editor

For six years I worked with a group of employees in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District that need to receive recognition for a job well done. These employees safely and efficiently transport over 13,000 students to and from school each day.

They tolerate all kinds of behavior from students, abuse from some parents and drive under some of the worse weather conditions possible. Perhaps every parent in this district should ride a school bus for just one day to see for themselves what must be tolerated by these employees.

Perhaps the parents of this district should listen on the bus radio during one of our winter storms to see how carefully and wisely these drivers anticipate the road conditions and deliver the students home.

The parents of this school district should also hear for themselves the care and concern the drivers give to the youngsters who are lost, sick or afraid because their parents are not at the bus stop as they promised.

It is true that buses are occasionally late due to road conditions, breakdowns, etc., but if the public was aware of the enormous task of setting up transportation for this many students perhaps they would be more tolerant of these minor inconveniences.

Many in this school district expect door-to-door service for their youngsters, are angry because their children walk 20 feet further to the bus stop than their neighbors' children, are outraged that they cannot sit in their kitchen and see the bus stop, etc., etc.

Every possible accomodation is considered for all students when transportation services are set up for the school year, but certain guidelines and legilities must be ablded by. The school district is in the business of teaching, not transporting.

Be greatful your children are transported safely and with a great deal, of care and concern by the drivers.

Among this group of transportation association employees are a group of monitors. These women ride the special education vans and give their students extra care far and above what is expected of them. They are kind and thoughtful of these youngsters during the ride to and from school. To me they are exceptional.

I am glad I had the opportunity to see first hand just what a fine job these employees do for this community and for our most cherished possessions, our children.

Blow your horn

Do you know how to blow your own horn?

You'd better if you are a boater with a vessel longer than 16 feet. Federal regulations require owners of such boats to carry a horn or whistle audible for at least a half mile, and the skipper must know and use the proper signals for passing overtaking another boat.

To brush up on your nautical knowhow, the Coast Guard Auxiliary offers public courses in boat handling and seamanship.

The top 10 bass lakes

special writer

To catch a trophy bass, an angler first must choose a top lake.

Tom Huggler, a writer for Michigan Out-of-Doors, has pinpointed Michigan's 10 top bass fishmg lakes for the Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Trying to determine the best lakes in the state, however, is like trying to douse a barn fire with a garden hose. To illustrate the problem, according to Huggler, 31 of the biggest largemouths caught in Michigan in the last five years have come from 29 different locations.

The 25 heaviest smallmouths taken during the same time were caught in 22 different lakes.

Huggler's ground rules for choosing spots including selecting lakes with a big population of bass 12 inches or longer - in other words, a chance to nail a real lunker - and public access.

He also considered inland lakes that are generally underfished, yet large enough handle extra anglers and small enough to accommodate small

Here's a summation of his findings.

IN THE UPPER Peninsula, which is gifted with several outstanding smallmouth lakes, Huggler found the Sylvania Tract's Deer Island Lake in Gogebic County the best.

Test nettings by the DNR turned up 112 smallmouths that avergaed 14.7 inches. Access is by canoe or light cartopper.

For largemouth bass in the U.P., Huggler likes Twin Lake in Schoolcraft County, Bass Lake in Marquette County, Big and Little Bass in Schoolcraft County, and Ottawa and Fortune lakes in Iron

In northern lower Michigan, according to Hug-gler, smallmouth anglers would have to hunt hard to beat Green Lake near Interlochen in Grand Traverse County

Fife Lake in Kalkaska and Grand Traverse counties is best for largemouths in northwestern Michigap, with goodly numbers of 12- to 16-inch fish growing faster than the state average.

For smallmouths in northeast lower Michigan, try Long Lake in Alpena and Presque Isle counties,

For the best largemouths in the same area he gives the nod to Presque Isle County's Tomahawk

Creek Flooding - not to be confused with Tomahawk Lakes a few miles east. Gull Lake is best for smallmouth bass in southwestern Michigan, Huggler maintains, and the best largemouth fishing nod goes to Mono Lake in Last but not least, Cass Lake in Oakland County is recommended for smallmouths, and Belleville Lake in Wayne County is the pick for largemouths in southeastern Michigan.

THE DNR'S LATEST fishing report calls for fair to good panfish, bass and pike in Stoney Creek Lake, excellent walleye fishing in the gravel pits along the St. Clair River in Marine City, but only spotty walleye fishing in Lake St. Clair.

Elsewhere, the walleye fishing is reported slow in the Detroit River but white bass fishing is fair there, while nice panfish are being taken from Belleville Lake.

Happy angling.

OCC to build greenhouse for energy

Oakland Community College has broken ground for its new solar greenhouse demonstration project on the Auburn Hills Campus at 2900 Featherstone Road, Auburn Hills.

The greenhouse will help to heat and cool the classroom building to which it is attached. But its main function will be as a laboratory for teaching such operations as heat monitoring, energy output and food production.

THE GREENHOUSE will be one of 10 energyrelated community information projects which OCC will undertake this fall, according to faculty ember Debra Rowe. Greenhouse construction will be funded by the state.

Other features will be a solar attic, adaptable for ome or commercial use; a groundwater heat

"Michigan is among the nation's six leading states in the application of solar energy techniques," said Rowe. "Existing technology can have a substantial impract on the state, both in terms of exceptive development and in contact. omic development and in savings to the aver-

Sports world's good for a share of laughs

OLD SATCHEL PAIGE, the legendary Negro pitcher who remained on the mound until he was past 70, often handed down this advice to the younger genera-

"Don't look back - you might see somebody chasing you."

But sometimes it is fun to look back and recall some of the laughs you had along

One of these moments came recently when the city of Detroit agreed to have a Joe Louis monument constructed near the Joe Louis Arena on the river front.

Two Joe Louis stories always immediately bring a smile to the Stroller's face.

The first story begins after Joe's initial fight in New York, when he knocked out Primo Carnera

No sooner had the referee finished the count than the radio folks jumped in to the ring and stuck a microphone in front of the Brown Bomber's face and started asking him questions.

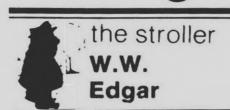

As they did, the late John Roxborough, who was Joe's manager, put his hand to his head and said, "My gad, that's the one thing we forgot to teach him — I hope he doesn't say anything that would get him in trouble.

On the way home from the fight, Roxborough singled out The Stroller and said: "I'll give you a job. Write a speech for Joe.

discover Michigan by Bill Stockwell

DID YOU KNOW that among Michigan's innumerable lakes many have been given the names of animals, birds and fish? Among these are Bald Eagle, Bass, Big Bass, Bear, Big Bear, Beaver, Big Wolf, Great Bear, Hawk, Perch, Pickerel, Pigeon, Turtle, Wolf, Big Wolf, Whitefish, Deer and Duck.

DID YOU KNOW that the purchase of an automobile was a comparatively painless transaction back in the early part of the century? Henry Ford, for example, produced a quarter of a million Model T Fords and sold them at a retail price of $490. He considered this too high a price, so by 1916 he produced a half million Fords and sold them for $360 apiece.

But remember, it can't be too long."

That was an unusual request, but a few days later while sitting at his desk, The Stroller was "doodling" and then a very short speech came to mind.

Finally he scribbled on a note pad: "Just another lucky night."

Calling Roxborough to tell him the speech was ready, he was invited to the office. When he got there he asked Roxborough: "Is four words too long?"

Then he repeated them and that was the Brown Bomber's speech after every fight, except the night he was knocked out by Max Schmeling.

The second humorous moment that happened along the Louis trail came in Chicago the night he fought "Kingfish" Levinsky, the roly-poly southsider

As expected Joe had little trouble with him and knocked him down in the second round. As the Kingfish sat on the lower strand of the ropes, he called to the referee, "Don't let him hit me anymore."

It was the queerest ending to a ring battle The Stroller ever had seen.

Finally, another funny incident comes to mind, when, in the 1934 world series the Tigers met the St. Louis Cardinals. In the sixth game Dizzy Dean, the great hurler, was hit on the head by the ball while running toward second base. A great hush fell when he was taken from the field to the

The sports world was anxious as Dean was expected to pitch the final game.

As it neared edition deadline time at the Free Press, a hurried call was made to Ford Hospital, where it was reported that Dean's head wasn't hurt.

In the news room where the series was being handled, the headline writer, in a hurry, carelessly wrote "Dean's Head Shows Nothing" and that's what appeared in the paper

Dean always claimed it was the worst insult he ever received.

Incidently, he pitched the final and blanked the Tigers.

It sure is fun to look back 'Sister Mary' play should get showing

YOU GOTTA feel sorry for Harry Nederlander. Seems Harry wants to put on a play, entertain some folks and make a few bucks in the offing.

Well, by all civilized standards, the Birmingham Theater owner should be able to put on his play and anyone who chooses to should be able to go and see it. But life seldom is that simple.

A group calling itself the Catholic League for Religious Rights wants to sit down and have a chat with Nederlander about this yet to be scheduled production. Entitled "Sister Mary Ignatius Explains it All for You," the play focuses on a Roman Catholic nun and four of her students

THE LEAGUE has labeled the play "anti-Catholic," whatever that means. A spokesman for the area's Roman Catholic archdiocese waxes even more harshly, saying the play is "virulently anti-Catho-

You get the idea these folks aren't interested in seeing the play. And that's fine with me. But wait. They don't want me, you or anybody else to see it, either. That's not so fine.

Nederlander has agreed to view the play beforehand, sit down and talk with the group and see what other public outcry is forthcoming.

But cancelling the play would be a sad day for all of us.

AFTER ALL, we've got something in this country that makes it stand apart from the rest - the chance for new and diverse ideas to be discussed and displayed.

18's the intellectual equivalent of the opposable thumb — the evolutionary step which broke the barrier between us and the rest of the animal world.

Unlike sheep, we are able to think, make our own decisions, develop likes and dislikes and to have a faith in whatever it is we believe. And the only way we can maintain and nurture this shred of civilized conduct is by continually encouraging different ideas.

True, we sometimes may be displeased with what we hear or see. But that never hurt a soul.

The way to oppose something is to show a different side — your enlighted view. But than, you do have to have an alternative with which to enlighten.

BUT NEVER censorship.

Nederlander should take the example of the Rochester school board which faced a similar problem. A group of culturebashing idealogues recently attempted to stop the school district from teaching humanism and globalism.

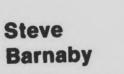

The board, to its credit, held its ground and voted to adopt the social studies curriculum in spite of the opposition's claim the curriculum undermined the "traditional Judeo-Christian ethics.'

But Harry is in a real bind. When you've got an entire church organization, the largest Christian sect in the western world banging at your door, you've got troubles.
That's why, he needs the support of those

That's why, he needs the support of those who believe in a free and open intellectual society. He needs to hear from you.

Oh, for all I know the play may be junk. But that's for the theater-goers to decide after they get a chance to see the play. For those who don't wish to see the play, stay home. You're free in this country to do that.

Go ahead Harry, raise the curtain on that halv.

At one point in the state convention there was an attempt by delegates of the 15th District (which includes part of Livonia, Westland and Garden City) to censure Lucas for real and imagined sins against Democratic principles.

Eventually the measure was given proper burial.

THE MANUEVERING that goes on concerning Lucas is interesting. Demo-cratic leaders, including the most powerful labor leaders in the state, have been wringing their hands about Lucas since he took office in January 1983. Generally, they don't like Lucas' tactics for paring the county budget — forcing concessions on employees, eliminating jobs, turning over Wayne County Hospital to a private

HEALTH COSTS DA

So we're talking megabucks when it comes to health care.

Many agencies are trying to do something about those costs. By turning down requests like the new Oakland County hospitals, the state health department is looking at the supply side. Doctors are required to treat patients more efficiently when there are fewer hospital beds. At an approximate cost of $1,000 per day at a hospital, keeping patients out of hospitals significantly reduces costs.

Others are looking at the demand side. In the 1970s Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs) were started. By paying a flat fee for services provided, doctors are rewarded for keeping patients healthy (and out of hospitals).

A relatively new concept called Preferred Provider Organizations (PPOs) has been started in the past few years. In this system health care purchasers contract with low-cost providers. PPO patients can choose from a variety of health care providers, something not available in HMOs. That selection is usually influenced by variations in the patient's out-of-pocket

OBSERVER SECCENTRIC PAPERS.

WHAT DOES the future hold in health care? Only a fool would say for sure.But more than 1,000 professionals surveyed by the American College of Hospital Administrators predicted the following:

·Hospitals' traditional share of total health expenditures will decrease, as will hospital admissions and patient length of ·Health Maintenance Oganizations and Preferred Provider Organizations will increase fivefold during the next 10 years.

 Because of financial problems many small hospitals will affiliate with larger hospitals to become multiservice centers. More than 40 per cent of nongovernmental hospitals will be owned, leased or controlled by multihospital systems by 1995;

·Patients will increase their level of financial participation and lower their expectations regarding health care.

Yes, times are a changing when it comes to health care.

in Wayne county government. This is not unusual since labor leaders have had a lock on running Wayne County government as far back as most can remember.

LUCAS politely ignored the labor leaders. His chief of staff, Dennis Nystrom who is No. 1 on every Democratic hit list - is less polite. He tells just about everyone who tries to put pressure on him or Lucas to take a leap. Nystrom, according to his critics, is arrogant and obnoxious. Even worse, he is also an Oakland county resident and a longtime Republican who advised Republican Richard Headlee in the last election. He also controls most of the switches in the new Wayne County gov-

There is some suspicion among the Dem bigwigs that Nystrom will lead Lucas into the Republican party, even though Lucas has steadfastly denied that he has even contemplated switching parties.

There is a Democratic dilemma. How far can the power brokers go in pressuring Lucas? The pols would like Lucas to change. He has the aces in the form of public approval and newspaper approval of the way he has conducted his office.

They would like to turn the populace against him. Little chance of that. One attempt to start a recall campaign against him got exactly nowhere.

THE POOBAHS see Lucas' history of being elected to Wayne County offices with relative ease and they wonder if he can pull votes outside of the county. They suspect he has tremendous potential for drawing votes and they tiptoe around trying to squelch him by snubbing him.

In less than two years, he has done a remarkable job of starting to turn Wayne County government around. In the process he has captured a ton of publicity. A recent poll shows that if Lucas were a Republican candidate for governor he would do well, according to one of Lucas' aides.

Republican Party leaders are at the point where they are starting to think seriously about running against Gov. Blanchard in 1986. Who's available? Well, there's Dick Headlee who could have won last time but talked the voters out of electing him. Former state Supreme Court justice Tom Brennan would like to be the candidate as would Senate majority leader John Engler. Dan Murphy, the Oakland County executive, looks like a

But who among them has the image of a winner among the public and proven votegetting ability? After his disastrous first year in office, Blanchard is gaining strength and would do very well against any likely GOP candidate.

You can see why there is speculation about Lucas as a Republican candidate.

PLYMOUTH High School Class of 1939 will have its 45-year reunion Saturday, Sept. 8, during Plymouth Fall Festival. The party at the Plymouth Elks Club will begin with an "attitude adjustment hour." Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. Annabelle Brown Gotts of Northville will give the invocation and Jack Ross of Drayton Plains will be master of ceremonies.

Both serve on the reunion planning committee which has been meeting for months. Jack was class president. Ida Nairn of Plymouth is general chairman of the committee. Working with her are Bettie Knowles McPhail of Farmington Hills, class vice president; Don Van Atta, Plymouth; Joyce Shoemaker Patrick, Plymouth; June Bakewell Hudson, Plymouth; and Gerald "Bud" Krumm.

So far, they have heard from 50 grads who plan to attend. There were 139 classmates in the class of '39, and 25 of them are dead. Ida has been updating biographies in the class book from the 40th reunion. five years ago. She's had responses from people all over the world.

SOME OF THEM, like Don Mielbeck, sent their regrets. Don, a former Kaiser Motor Co. employee, now lives in Singapore. His business territory includes Australia and eastern Asia.

Veronica Marti Cole wrote from her home in Koniz, Switzerland, that she couldn't make the reunion. She is retired and remains a loyal Tiger fan, keeping track of the scores and standings in the International Herald Tribune.

For Arlene Soth Nasworthy, it will be her first class reunion. She and her husband, who was a minister, lived in Alaska for many years. She now is a Florida resident.
The former Rose Niedospal is coming from Los Angeles for her first class reunion in 45 years and a nephew's wedding. Ida said, "Her married name is Carter and her husband always called her Susie. She was maitre d' at the Hollywood Palladium for 28 years and now everyone refers to her as Sue Carter.'

Jack and Isabelle (Nairn) Hovey are coming from Eugene, Ore. Jack graduated from PHS in 1939 and Isabelle in 1940.

The committee is collecting special mementos of the reunion for the guests. Among them are commemorative coffee mugs. Bud Gould has been named an honorary member of the class for providing the mugs.

Anyone wishing more information about the party may call Ida, 453-1228, evenings.

WHETHER IT'S a parade in Marine City, Mich., or a parade in the nation's capital, the corps makes a hit with spectators and especially photographers who line the parade route.

The summer tour, that included performances in Philadelphia, Washington and Old Fort Henry in Kingston, Ontario, was a major project. Transportation, lodging and meals for the corps members, parents, band director and coaches must be planned in advance. Drums, fifes, flags, uniforms and sleeping bags require transporation space. Calvin Mason, who has two children in the corps, kept a journal of the trip:

"Met at K mart lot, cool, left at 6:10 a.m. Good day to travel. Down 275 to 75 through Toledo and east on the turnpike. Bag lunch at rest area. Made good time the first few hours. Everyone likes the mountains and the tunnels. Arrive at Harrisburg Barracks, nice place to stay. Beds stock G.I. Girls put the salad bar on picnic tables by the lake. Salad and sandwiches and cheesecake, wow! Kids go to rehearsal, men go to bocci ball on the lawn near the barracks. The red team won. The use of thermography in medicine has sparked some heated debate among members of the medical and legal professions.

Medical thermography is a technique for measuring the amount of heat emitted by the body. Certain temperature differences are interpreted as signs of soft-tissue injuries or other problems. It was the subject of an Observer and

Eccentric Newspapers story recently. Proponents of the infrared technique say it is a means of diagnosing softtissue injuries and sensory nerve irritation without using needles or radiation. They say the technique is being used extensively by pain clinics to treat patients and in court to prove individuals' subjective complaints of pain.

BUT OPPONENTS of thermography say it is an unreliable technique that is not generally accepted by the medical profession.

They said that the doctors who do use it usually are involved in compensation medicine, trying to prove or disprove someone's injury or disability claim. Thermographic photos, with their multi-colored views of the interior temperatures of the human body, make impressive-looking pictures in court, but can be deceiving, they said.

'What they'd like to be able to say is that it is objective evidence of abnormality, and it is not," said Dr. Myron LaBan, director of the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak and Troy.

"The interpretation is subject to enough variables that you can't really say it's a definite test of abnormality,"

"I don't know of any radiologists of quality in the Detroit area who uses thermography," said Dr. Phillip Perkins, director of the radiology department at Providence Hospital in Southfield. "Most feel it is quackery."

Thermograms at this point are not considered reliable in the medical community as a whole," attorney Tom Trenta of Avon Township said. "It certainly doesn't seem to be in the hospitals, nor does it seem to be used by the good orthopedic surgeons or neurologists.

"If this device is so great and so currently is in the process of viewing Larky and proponents of thermography said those who oppose the tech-nique have not worked with it enough to have the knowledge needed to understand it. "There are even doctors today who question the reliability of X-rays and CAT Scans," he said. "The beauty of it is that maybe thermograms are another step closer to objectively identifying sensory nerve root irritation.

One of those giving a deposition was radiologist Dr. Charles Wexler of Encino, Calif., a leading American thermographer. Wexler has said that in his studies he has found thermography to have a diagnostic accuracy of 93 percent, compared with 82 percent for electromyelography.

NONE OF the critics dispute that thermograms give a heat picture of the body. They question how reliably the heat differences can be interpreted.

LaBan, for instance, said he has, using hypnosis, caused patients to change their body temperature — and the same technique could be used to distort a thermogram. But proponents of the technique said well-trained thermographers take proper precautions, including taking a series of thermograms of the area of the body under study, to make sure that the image is valid. The American College of Radiology, in a policy statement adopted in September, said thermography of the breast is "still an experimental proce-

150 Auction a first for community

How about the exciting 150 Auction coming up? I hope that it turns out even half as good as it sounds.

For any of you who may not have heard, the Canton Sesquicentennial 150 Committee is about to have a local auction cable cast into your home by Omnicom. The committee is working day and night to make this as successful as possible. Filled with advice from the PBS channel in Lansing, and with all the inside tips on how to run a small but productive operation, the committee is well on its way to success. They already have built huge boards for the bids, have scheduled all the necessary technical staff, and are in the process of scheduling celebrities to be the auctioneers.

Just talk with anyone on the staff and the excitment is contagious.

THE BIGGEST problem now is getting donations of items or services to auction off.

Each donation must have a minimum value of $25 and, naturally, all are tax deductible. Donors also will receive free publicity each time their item is mentioned during the auction.

That's not where the fun stops. Here in Canton when we do it, we do it right. Each board will have a sponsor, determinded by donations. For example, Big Red Q print shop on Main Street, Plymouth, is doing all the printing for the auction and will have its name on one of the boards.

Actually, there will be six boards, lettered C,A,N,T,O and N. The last N in Canton is known as the "Big" board. This is where you'll find those larger items, hopefully all valued at more than $500. But as donations come in, if necessary, the minimum could be lowered. However, for the sake of our fund drive, I hope we get some very nice donations.

Does anybody have a brand new car they would like to donate? Think of the nice tax write-off. Remember, this is NOT to raise funds for Omnicom. This is for the Canton 150 fund, which was the name given to the non-profit fund organized for the Sesquicentennial. If we made any money, the fund was to be distributed to a designated group of non-profit operations in Canton. It was titled H.E.R., which stands for Historical, Educational, and Recreational.

Omnicom is spending money on the auction and should be commended for the incredible task it has undertaken by graciously sponsoring the auction. Suzanne Skubick, director of programming, is spending an enormous amount of time and effort to produce such an extravaganza.

I'M SURE YOU could think of something to donate that hasn't come to mind yet. For instance, any group or organization could donate a dinner cooked, or just served, in the bidder's home by the members of your group. It could be a simple spaghetti dinner with each member making her speciality. Or for a larger group, the bidder could invite a designated number of friends and your group provide a potluck din-

How about a group of school teachers offering free tutoring for a designated subject and amount of time? How about a youth group donating a fall yard clean-up? I'm sure many people would love to get out of that chore. And Jaycees, don't tell me you can't do something for anybody as a group — perhaps wash the windows on a private home some Saturday?

If you do that, the Lions Club, Rotary, Kiwanis all will donate something. If you start thinking about it, this could be loads of unexpected fun thinking of things someone else can do.

THE ROMAN Forum has donated meals, and Canton's very own J.P. McCarthy, host of Single Touch on Oment flights.

To add to community participation, volunteers will be needed to take bids, run items to the pick-up point, work the pick-up desk, etc. This will take all the cooperation and community spirit we've got from every aspect of our

Remember, all the funds raised are going right back into our community for the betterment of the whole community. All merchants, businesses and so on should remember they will receive ample publicity for their company as well as the usual tax benefit.

MAY I ADD a note of appreciation to the Chambers of Commerce of our neighbors in Plymouth and Northville. Both have been most gracious and cooperative in our effort. So it's up to the business community to get the ball rolling, as well as the service groups and social clubs. Then it's up to us to complete the job by watching Sept. 28 and 29 when the fun begins.

Remember, the donations will come from local merchants, places you know and trust. If you own a business, even a one-man operation, give the Auction Committee a call at 459-7331 and ask for Suzanne Skubick or Cathy Handyside. They'll be happy to help you think of something you can donate. Let's have fun. Everyone join in.

canton Newcomers are pleased to announce they are coming back with renewed vim and vigor. President Charlene Immonen is excited and looking forward to a full year of gathering Cantonites and sharing talents.

The year begins at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 3, at Faith Community Church, 46001 Warren (west of Canton Center). A year's schedule has been planned and each month I'll pass on as much information about the up-coming events as possible.

One great thing about the Newcomers is you don't have to be one to join the Newcomers. That's right, everybody is welcome, and they'd love to have you.

The first meeting is strictly to get acquainted. The old members welcome back friends and look for new faces. The club hopes to get several smaller groups growing from the larger one, such as bowling leagues, card groups, sewing, knitting, whatever the members want, but always retaining the central interest of the Newcomers organiztion as a whole.

The first meeting will be hors d'oeuvres and playing games like bingo. Although the events are taking shape now, suggestions and recommendations from new members are always welcomed and appreciated. If you have any questions, call Charlene Immonen, 981-3844, or Cathleeen Mei, 981-1697.

Perhaps while Canton is celebrating its 150th birthday, some of the charter residents could give the group a try and bring some of Canton's older charm to our Newcomers Club. Have a great year, Newcomers — both the old and new.

Thermography quackery?

tion Institute in the Detroit Medical Center. Rottenberg said he has found thermography to be a good diagnostic technique to help patients — when used correctly.

"I certainly don't think people can make much sense out of them (thermograms) from merely looking at the images, which a radiologist can do with X-rays," he said.

"To meaningfully interpret them, they have to be coordinated with other aspects of the patient's history such as a physical exam or other diagnostic tests," added Rottenberg, who was not one of those giving depositions in the lawsuit.

Rottenberg stressed that he would not perform surgery based solely on a thermogram.

But he said he considered the test an effective way to detect sensory nerve irritation which an EMG cannot pick up. And the technique is a helpful initial screening device for people who do not want to be unnecessarily pricked with needles or bathed in radiation.

Rottenberg said the reason groups such as the radiologists are opposed to the procedure could be that they have not worked with it — and it also stands to reduce the use of EMGs and other tests the radiologists use.

"For one thing, it may cut into their revenue," Rottenberg said. "People are not wild about the idea of getting a lot of radiation and X-ray exposure."

Trenta said one of the depositions he gathered is from someone familiar with the technique, a thermographer, Dr. Leo Mahoney, associate professor at St. Mary's Hospital at the University of Toronto.

MAHONEY did a study in which a mixture of people with back problems and without problems were thermogramed, Trenta said. Of the "normal" patients, more than 50 percent had abnormal back thermograms and more than 64 percent had abnormal leg thermograms, Mahoney said. On the other hand, some of the patients with confirmed problems had normal thermo-

But thermographers have challenged the methods Mahoney has used in conducting the tests, Larky said.

Canton Girl Scout patch on Discovery

Members of Girl Scout Brownie Troop 326 in Canton Township have a personal interest in the flight of the Discovery space shuttle. The 6- and 7-year-olds in Verna George's troop have six special patches on board, bearing the message "Girl Scouts wish for peace around the world."

The idea for the patch was conceived in the spring. At that time, the Challenger launch was scheduled for June 20. If the troop could persuade NASA to take the patches along, they would be back in time for the July conference in New York of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts

Two of the six patches that had circled planet Earth would be presented to the chief of the world association and the president of Girl Scouts USA at the world conference. One would go to U.S. Sen. Carl Levin, D. Mich, who had helped in contacting NASA. Verna George and Troop 326, the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, and Pat Levos, council president, would have the other three. Copies of the patches would be presented to each of the 450 delegates from more than 100 nations represented at the world conference.

'AMONG MY Brownies' wishes for the future is the hope that there will always be peace and no wars. We feel this patch making a trip around the world in our own space shuttle would add significance in the presentation to the conference,' George wrote in her initial letter to NASA. The patches were accepted as part of the Challenger cargo, but the take-off was postponed and, finally, called off. George talked to a lieutenant at the Washington NASA office on Tuesday. He assured her that the patches were aboard the Discovery and take-off was scheduled for 8:35 a.m. Wednesday. At press-time the shot had been rescheduled for Thurs-

History on parade

Newburg United Methodist Church celebrated its 150th anniversary with a parade from the church on Ann Arbor Road in Livonia to the site of the original structure, now in the historical village at Greenmead in Livonia. Robert Jenkins of Westland (far right) pedaled his way there on this vintage bike. Dawn Tullen (right) led the parade on horseback while a motorcade featuring a horse and buggy and antique autos brought up the rear.

Closure brings relief. Neither nostalgia or utopia are real, but our area

I even accompanied Jenny to a nearby jewelry store where a licensed nurse methodically punctured her tender, little lobes. Of course, I couldn't bring myself to actually watch. I stood some 18 feet away from the point of this hideous procedure with my eyes shut tight, fists clenched.

Corps has busy summer

"Old Fort Henry in Kingston, ominous enough in the bright sunlight, was somber under dark clouds as the corps came over the drawbridge and down the escarpment to the courtyard.

"The high stone walls and massive artillery made the fife and drum corps look a piece of the past. The corps assumed the familiar concert crescent at the west end of the fort. With fifes playing '1776,' the formation broke into parade lineup and moved past the rows of seated spectators and old brass Napoleon field guns. For the better part of half an hour, the corps performed in its superb close-order drill excellent arrangements of tunes that harken back to our own revolutionary times.

"With this, the final appearance of the corps, only the drive to Plymouth remained. There had been the fun times, and memories of such moving experiences as our visit to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the rows of crosses at Arlington, and the names etched in the Vietnam Wall. Perhaps the most shaking sight of all was the reflection of the corps, looking back at us from among the names."

MEMBERS OF THE corps are 12 to 18 years old. They come from Canton, Plymouth, Northville, Livonia and Gartice year 'round in Plymouth Salem High School. The corps is one of Plymouth's leading ambassadors, throughout the state, the country and in Canada.

The corps did not rest on its laurels after the Washington tour. They came home Sunday and on Wednesday took part in the Bluewater Festival at Port Huron. July activities continued with a short parade and concert at Dearie Days in Plymouth's Old Village, performances at the Michigan International Speedway and the Polish Festival in Bronson. September will be a relatively slow month with appearances at the Hamtramck Polish Festival, the Kalamazoo Wine Festival and the Clinton Fall Festival.

TRAVELING with another person of the same sex is similar in some ways to traveling with a spouse. In some ways its better. You don't have any of the power struggles that sometimes occur between husband and wife: he always drives whether she likes it or not; she is expected to pack and to wash the clothes on the road.

That independence may also be considered a disadvantage, especially by someone who is used to being looked after on the road. It means that you are responsible for yourself.

How do you pick a compatible travel com-

"What matters is the kind of traveler you are and how you get along otherwise," Jean said. "If you are friends with similar interests and you get along well in everyday life, you will probably get along on the road. The important thing is to plan ahead, be willing to separate when your interests aren't the same and talk out honestly any problems that come up along the way."

PLANNING ahead means talking about the kind of vacation you both want, what level of luxury you will travel at, how you will handle the money and any special needs you can think room or even choosing between the smoking and non-smoking section of a plane.

How important is privacy to you? If you really need to be alone at the end of a day, tell your friend in advance that you want and are willing to pay for a separate room. That could be a problem if your travel companion expects to save money by sharing a room.

You can't anticipate everything in advance. Some things must be learned along the way. That's why its a good idea to make your first trip together a short one. Driving through Italy, or climbing the Himalayas, is hardly the time to learn that you don't get along.

"I like to travel with a friend because it cuts hotel and gas costs in half and gives you two views of what you see." Pete said. "It's nice to have somebody to discuss your experiences

"You have to be tolerant and willing to comfish, picky self. I told Charlie to shut up once and then I couldn't stand the silence.

"He's interested in history, and I'm most interested in photography, so I go with him to a historical site and he goes with me down some long country road to get a picture.'

 THERE IS one rule that applies to traveling couples as much as to any traveler. Know what pleases you and plan a trip accordingly. If you love museums and concerts you want lots of time in cities. If your mate prefers poking around villages, staying in country homes and problem.

quite happy with the idea of traveling together.
One thing they didn't know in advance was that they would be driving a car with a stick shift. Eleanor was comfortable driving it; Doris wasn't. Eleanor drove the whole way by mutual consent.

There are several ways of handling the finances, but again you must find a mutually agreeable system. Pete and Charlie used a credit card whenever possible, and divided the costs after they got home. Otherwise, Pete

Think carefully. For more than 160 of the world's countries, there is only one right answer. Only in a handful of places are two answers correct. Bolivia, for example. La Paz, 12,000 feet up in the Andes, is its better-known capital city, the highest in the world. But it is often not the five-letter capital of Bolivia that creators of crossword puzzles are seeking. That's Sucre, the country's legal capital and seat of the Supreme Court.

ON WORLD maps, a star, the cartographer's symbol for capital, appears beside the names of both cities. La Paz, which is more accessible, over-took Sucre as the commercial and financial center after Bolivia achieved independence, and it has en the country's de facto capital since the late

But as the original capital, Sucre has maintained its status. "It's rooted in the foundation of Bolivia. For historical and patriotic reasons, Sucre will keep its position," a government official explained.

South Africa has not just two capitals but three.

South Africa has had all three capitals since 1910. The two former Boer republics and the principal British colony each had wanted its capital chosen capital of the new union. The compromise: Keep all three, each with a specific function.

Dual capitals have sometimes been the means of settling disputes when rival cities or territories have developed into nations. When Libya was creat-ed in 1952, Tripoli and Banghazi were designated capitals co-capitals. The seat of government switched back and forth between the two cities every two years until Tripoli eventually emerged as the sole capital.

Who decides where a capital should be? Countries usually choose their own. But Israel's choice, Jerusalem, is not recognized by the United Nations, the United States, or numerous other Western pow-ers. The embassies of all countries except Costa Rica and El Salvador are located in Tel Aviv.

Money may change color to foil counterfeiters multi-color look, perhaps by 1985. A University of Michigan researcher has found that, unlike the Susan B. Anthony coin and the $2 bill, the American public is ready to accept new currency for a good cause: foiling copy machine counterfeiters.

With the development of advanced color copying machines, paper money is becoming increasingly vulnerable to counterfeiting, said Claude R. Martin Jr., professor of marketing at the University of Michigan.

Martin directed a project for the Federal Reserve Board to test public reaction to the proposed currency change. The research indicates that most people would welcome a new look for their money if they were convinced the change was necessary.

"THE CONCERN is that if you stay with the present currency, given its color simplicity, counterfeiting will increase." he said.

Martin recommends keeping the design of the bills the same, replacing the white spaces in the face of the bills with a multi-hued color scheme and retaining the black-and-white center portraits and scrollwork along the edges. Colors would vary by denomination and would be more difficult to produce than the current green, black and white.

The U-M professor also favors use of a seal or a hologram (a laser beam picture that appears three-dimensional when shifted), along with less conspicuous changes, such as using metal threads that could be detected by government money-sorting machines, or watermarks visible in a strong light.

COMBINING A seal and a metal thread would serve as double protection: The seal would be difficult to duplicate, indicating that it was printed by the U.S. government, while the builtin thread would allow the government to determine if bills were genuine.

Over the past three years, Martin interviewed 1,788 people in 46 cities nationwide to assess their reactions to the proposed changes.

Most people opposed "radical" changes that used "garish" colors, but favored colors that were "more symbolic of the strength of the country," he said. Most also wanted to be able to detect counterfeiting at a glance.

"If somebody gives you a $5 bill, you don't want to hold it up to the light to see if it's real. That could destroy the trust between you."

THE IMPORTANT thing is for people to keep trusting their currency system, Martin said.

We've proven in this research that the average person on the street cannot detect a counterfeit and, in fact, doesn't know what their money looks like. With these changes, the public will have a reasonable chance of detecting a counterfeit note.

Also, just making the money more difficult to duplicate should retain the public's confidence that the money was printed by the U.S. government, even if they seldom closely inspect their bills.

The government has not decided on the appearance of the new bills, but whatever change is made "must be a complex answer to a potentially complex problem," Martin said.

HE CONCEDED that not everybody will like the change

"There obviously is going to be some resistance. Some people are going to read into this some sinister plot. I think the goal of the communication strategy is to make sure that the American pub lic is exposed to, and hopefully under-stands, the reason for change."

Martin doesn't know how much the changes would increase costs at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, he said. Estimates range from 15 to 50 percent, depending on the types of alterations, he said.

"Cost is not of paramount concern. What is of concern is 'If you did not do anything, what would you have?' The general impression is that you would have chaos.

The changes in the currency are aimed at preventing what the government sees as a threat to the economic stability of the country - the increase of counterfeiting, especially by amateurs, he said.

The United States is one of the few countries that does not regularly alter its currency. The most recent change was the elimination of the silver certificate in 1964. Before that, the currency was changed in 1933 when citizens could no longer exchange their paper money for gold. Britain, on the other hand, routinely alters its money to prevent counterfeiting.

Last October, the U.S. Treasury asked him for help in marketing the Olympic coins. Martin recommended a slogan of "invest in the future" in an effort to appeal to families, rather than the slogan of "support your Olympic team," which he found appealed mainly to corporations.

Sandhill cranes, illuminated by a setting sun already highlighting fall colors, are an unforgettable sight. A good place to spot them is the Audubon Society's Haehnle Sanctuary west of Ann Arbor in the Waterloo State Recreation Area.

Young birds are ready to fly south

By Tlmothy Nowicki special writer

Summer's end is drawing near, and the season's crop of young birds has begun to flock together already. Along with the adults, young birds are getting ready to fly south for the winter.

Migration to southern climes is an annual event that has been continuing for thousands of years. Most of our summer residents only come north to nest and raise young. Once that is complete, they fly to Florida, Louisiana, or even South America.

Birds from northern Canada will join our Michigan migrants as they start their long southern journey. Many song birds - warblers, starrows, thrushes and blackbirds will follow landmarks such as the G eat Lakes, using them like we use a road map.

SEVERAL PLACES along the way serve as gathering places where the birds congregate before proceeding. Pt. Pelee in southern Ontario is one.

A large variety of birds will concentrate at the point walting for suitable weather in which to cross Lake Erie.

Another favorite place of mine in fall is the Michigan Audubon Society Haehnle Sanctuary west of Ann Arbor. This is where the large sandhill crane from northern Canada congregates during October.

At this large marsh near the Waterloo Recreation Area, sandhill cranes, who feed in the surrounding farmlands, begin to fly into the marsh just before Sandhill cranes stand five feet tall and have a wingspan of more than six feet. They fly with their necks extended straight forward (herons, egrets, and bitterns fly with their neck in an "S" shape) in large line formations.

THE ONLY observation point of the sanctuary is strategically located on a hill, so you can see the birds as they land in the depressed marsh to the east.

About 4 p.m. on an average day in October, the birds begin arriving in flocks of five to 150. They approach the marsh from all directions - some will even fly directly overhead.

They approach low enough so you can see the red patch on their forehead and the gray color of the body feathers.

Often times though, you will hear the esonant chorde call of the birds as they communicate with each other before you see them.

ALTHOUGH THE birds are large and you can see them very easily with the naked eye, bring a pair of binoculars so you can see some of the other species of wildlife in the marsh. Several species of ducks and geese can be seen feeding in the open marsh water. White-tailed deer are often seen on the edges of the marsh, too.

If you would like information on the location of the sanctuary, contact the Detroit Audubon Society at 545-2929.

Back to reality and fall sports

ON'T GET me wrong. I like summertime. It's kind of like a mental health break for us sports types. It's much more relaxed around here in the summer months. We don't have much cause to work until 4 a.m. like we Summertime affords us the chance to get home, tackle those long-overdue repairs on the house, get reaquainted with the wife - you know, that type of thing.

But, come Sept. 1, the summertime lull is about driving me nuts. I'm fresh out of nifty summertime feature stories, OK? I'm sick of cutting the lawn, washing windows and fixing up the "baby's room." And if that's not bad enough, the wife is getting sick of me, too. I mean when she starts asking, "Hey, don't you have to cover a football game this weekend?" you know she's reached her husbandtolerance level.

THANK GOD FOR FALL SPORTS! I'm anxious and I'm ready. Bring on the Rocks. Bring on the Chiefs. Heck, bring on ol' Plymouth Christian, too. I'm pumped

GO AHEAD. Tom Moshimer, tell me how bad your team is going to be this year. Come on, Fred Thomann, tell me how your team will struggle early and then get stronger and stronger down the stretch. I'm ready for you guys.

I'm even ready for the readers, especially the letter writers among you. I'm ready for:

"Dear Mr. McCloskey: I know you love the Rocks and hate Canton, but your latest article is absurd. How could you possibly give the headline to Salem. Even though Salem won and we lost, I think our boys tried harder and deserved top billing. I hate your blue and white guts. Love, Red and White from Canton."

"Dear Mr. McConeky: I know you love the Chiefs and hate the Rocks, but as an ardent Salem booster I must protest your lack of coverage of our team. Even though we've been on the front page, with pictures, the last seven straight editions, I think last Monday's front-page article on the state championship Chiefs was over done. There was only a brief mention of our winless season. I hate your red and white guts. Love, blue-blood in

KEEP THOSE cards and letters coming - I love them, seriously. But let's set a few ground rules for 1984 letter writing. First of all, the name is McCosky. Write it down 100 times and don't forget it. Second, I hate both the Rocks and the Chiefs. My favorite color is kelly green. So when you read my articles, you'll understand that I'm writing about Canton and Salem with equal amounts of venom.

Yes, I'm kidding. What'd you think? But, all seriousness aside, I am looking forward to fall. Here's a few reasons why:

• CEP football. Where else would I want to be on Friday nights than huddled up in that spacious press box atop the CEP field. What a peaceful setting it is. On one side of the press box you've got the coaches yelling and screaming on every play. On the other side you've got the young guys helping out with stats. On bad weather nights they usually let all their young pals in - it's great fun. In the middle somewhere are the reporters, trying desparately to see the field through the thick beams that surround the press box windows. I sure hope Paul Sincock is back to do the announcing this year - a truly great guy.

BEFORE I GET off football, I want to publically thank whoever was responsible for reinstating freshman football in the district. That move should keep the coaches here and keep the program competitive. Now if you can do the same for the other programs, especially basketball, we'll be · Girls hoops. There's a couple of reasons why I'm looking forward to the basketball season. I just thoroughly enjoy watching Fred Thomann-coached basketball teams play. They play the game the way it should be played.

Also, I think I'm going to start a pool. I'm taking bets on the day Canton coach Phyllis Mulroy delivers her baby. The closest to the day wins. She's due sometime before the district tourney.

I'm going to miss Bob Blohm. I hope he at least comes to watch the games. I'll miss talking to him and getting his insights into the games and area teams. Methinks Fred Thomann will miss some of

• OTHER SPORTS. I'll miss Tom Williams. He was one of the few coaches who always called in his scores. And he really appreciated it when his teams got mentioned in the paper — regardless if it was two paragraphs or 25 inches.

But the legacy of cross country excellence at Salem that he helped build will live on. New coach Tom Truesdale has a pair of fine teams.

I'm especially looking forward to the soccer season. I don't usually get that excited over soccer, but this year's Canton-Salem battle should be an all-out war. I won't miss any of their matches this

No, sir, I can't wait. It's time to put the shorts and sleeveless shirts away and get out the sweaters and cords - nevermind the 90-degree temperatures. The fall season is here. But before I put on my official cap of objectivity. I want to wish Salem, Canton and Christian the best of luck this season. And like my buddy Sting used to say, "I'll be watching you."

Salem, Canton boast strong soccer teams

EN JOHNSON has been coaching soccer a long time. One would think he'd be pretty much set in his ways.

Not so. The Plymouth Salem coach learned some new tricks this year and his team could be much improved as a

Johnson began a pen-pal type friendship with the soccer coach at Florida Southern University. Johnson's son, Randy, is playing soccer at the univer-

"He sent Randy a copy of the team's drills and I couldn't believe it," said Johnson. "So tough, so demanding, I figured they just expected the players to get as far as they could, you know. But, they expected them to do them

The drills were too tough for high school level so Johnson took the same regimented workout schedule and tapered it down to fit his team.

Johnson said the workouts have made a significant impact on his team.

"WE'RE IN much better condition," he said. "It's amazing how they are able to increase the number of drills they are able to do. They have more strength, more stamina, they're passing the ball better, they are quicker to the ball — do I sound excited?"

Indeed. And with good reason. He may field one of his most productive units ever this season

"We lost a lot of good players, four to be exact. But, I think we're better team oriented. We lost our prima donnas you could say. We don't have any superstars on this team. These players just want to work hard and get down to it." Senior co-captains Steve Moran and

The goalie spot, a major problem for the Rocks last year, has been shored up-nicely by Orchard Lake St. Mary trans-

"He's quick as a cat," Johnson said.

THERE'S AN intense battle in prog-ress for the three forward spots. In the running are seniors Kevin Sultana and Ken Julian and juniors Dave Dameron, Mike Tanner and Ebon Nash. Johnson is also blessed with a good deal of depth. At midfield for example

"I feel real good about this team," Johnson said. "I don't want to make a big noise about it, but I do feel good."

There will be something missing at Schoolcraft College men's soccer games this fall, and new coach Van Dimitriou knows it.

"I think you'll find a calmer sideline," Dimitriou said.

That's because Larry Christoff won't be there. The fiery Christoff coached the Ocelots for 10 years, guiding them to the NJCAA national tournament twice, and a regional title last year.

He retired after last season to devote time to a family business and Dimitriou, Christoff's assistant for five years, stepped in. And, although the coach has changed, not much else will "Certainly it is (a challenge)," Dimitriou said. "There's a lot more responsibility. But if you're not ready to accept that responsibility, you shouldn't be here in the first place.

Dimitriou is ready, and it seems his team will be, too.

For starters, Schoolcraft has a solid nucleus of returning players, a rarity at a two-year school. Seven sophomores with playing experience are back, led by Manny Murua, a Redford Temple Christian graduate who was one of the team's highest scorers a year

Other sophomores returning from last year's team are Hashim Aldabal, a midfielder from United Emirates who now lives in Northville; Mike Madis, a Plymouth native who was a substitute a year ago; Danny Laurie, a right wing and halfback from Livonia Stevenson; Greg Makila, a left fullback from Livonia Franklin; and Henry Klimes, a left wing and halfback from Farmington

ONE POSITION Dimitriou feels has improved immensely is goal, where Brian O'Shea returns. A sophomore, O'Shea played at Schoolcraft two years ago but had to sit out last year because of poor grades. "He'll be a major factor," on the season, Dimitriou said.

So will be three freshmen, all of whom Dimitriou expects big things from. Jeff Neschich, from Plymouth Salem, will play halfback; Ab Yaffai, from Livonia Bently, is slated for fullback; and Tim McFarland, from Plymouth Canton, should start at sweeper-

If there is a single element threaded through Brad Cochran's athletic career, it's controversy.

It started when he decided to switch high schools, transferring from Royal Oak Dondero to Birmingham Brother Rice. It followed him to University of Michigan, where two years ago Cochran quit the football team and plotted another transfer.

Like a shadow on a bright, sunny day, controversy always seems to be right on Cochran's heels. This year, the 6-foot-3, 219-pound junior cornerback is determined to sever the relationship

"That's all behind me," Cochran said as swarms of reporters flocked around the Wolverines' preseason All-America choice during Michigan's recent football media day. "I don't even think about it any-

THE TURNABOUT has been astounding. Two years ago, Cochran quit after a conflict with coaches concerning playing time. He was set to transfer to Colorado and play for the man who recruited him for U-M, former defensive coach Bill McCartney. McCartney later left Michigan to become Colorado's head coach.

McCartney convinced Cochran to remain at Michigan. And now it's the Wolverines who are benefitting from Cochran's ultimate decision to stick with them.

Cochran started all 12 games for Michigan last year, and by season's end emerged as U-M's best defensive player. He intercepted five passes, four in the last three games; he made 16 tackles in the last three contests; he was awarded the team's top defensive honors in four games; and he was second on the squad in tackles with 64, despite playing cornerback.

Indeed, Cochran saved his best for last. After intercepting two passes in a 24-21 victory over Ohio State, Cochran was Michigan's top vote-getter in football

Most Valuable Performer balloting in a 9-7 loss to Auburn in the Sugar Bowl. He intercepted a pass, recovered a fumble and made eight stops against

THAT KIND of play earned Cochran a summons to Michigan coach Bo Schembechler's office early

"He told me he got a call from Playboy magazine, and that I was on their All-America team," said Cochran. "It was a surprise to me. I really don't have goals like that for myself. I want to play as well as possible, and what happens, happens.

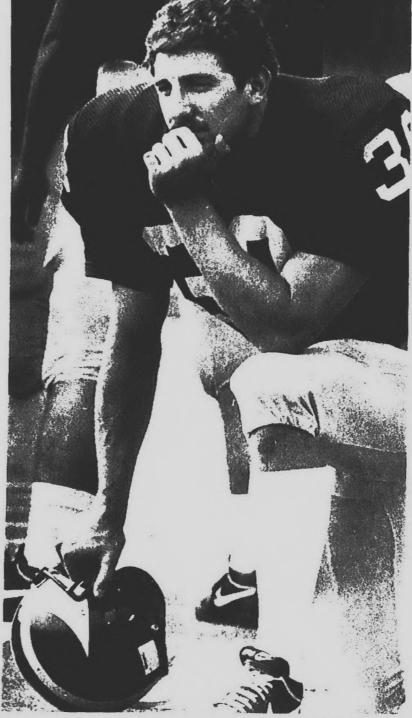

At any rate, Cochran doesn't put much stock in such preseason conjecture. "It doesn't mean a thing on the practice field," he said about his early selection as an All-American. "When you're going through double (practice) days, you never even think about it."

WHAT COCHRAN forsees in the upcoming season is a challenge to help rebuild a secondary that lost two starters to graduation. Junior Tony Gant returns at free safety, with junior Dieter Heren and sophomore Garland Rivers slated as early favorites for the other starting slots.

"I want to help the young guys out, take a little more responsibility than last year," said Cochran.

'Last year I was the young guy." Cochran played only his senior season at Brother Rice, helping the Warriors to the 1980 Class A state championship. His move ignited recruiting accusations and eventually resulted in vows from public school coaches that they never would schedule a regular season game against a Catholic school. His stay at Michigan was nearly as short and controversial. But times change, and with them viewpoints. Along his path from castoff to defensive anchor and All-American, Cochran settled in at

Salem spirits soar, Canton needs bodies

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Talk about your stark contrasts. Check out the differences in the cross country porgrams at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton.

Plymouth Salem, under new head coach Tom Truesdale, expects to have between 50 and 60 kids out for the boys and girls teams this fall. Right now, there are 40 kids out.

Plymouth Canton, under coach Jim Hayes, has exactly 25 boys and three girls. He expects some more once school starts, but his numbers won't come close to Salem's.

More bodies doesn't always translate into good teams. Only the first five runners score in a cross country meet. But, the more you have to choose from. haturally, the better your chances are to succeed.

Why is Salem able to get so many people out? Hard to tell. One reason has to be the efforts of former coach cause of a growing disenchantment with what he felt was the school district administration's lack of support for the athletic programs.

But, before he resigned, Williams built a strong cross country team at Sa-lem. He made it fun for the runners. He was able to instill into his runners a sense of pride in being a part of the cross country team. That pride matured into a tradition of cross country excellence. The tradition remains at Salem.

Canton coach Jim Hayes looked to be on the verge of establishing a similar tradition last year. He had a talented boys team, but was done in by injuries. Things seem to have gone downhill for him this year.

Here's what the two teams will look

PLYMOUTH SALEM

Truesdale has a pair of potential champions on his hands.

cross country

The girls team may have the best shot. Senior Amy Miyazaki, her injuries apparently behind her, is set to lead the pack. Junior's Trish Donnelly, Laurie Swierb, Erica Bashor and Heidi Dupret should also be frontrunners.

Junior Cris Trapani and sophomores Brenda Boyd and Lisa Mickey have shown a good deal of promise, as well.

"Our goal is to have five girls finish within one or two minutes of each other - like from the upper 19 minutes to 21 and a half," Truesdale said.

A five-some of seniors is expected to guide the Rock men this season. Scott Steiner, Bill Morely, John Keros and Eric Pederson are all experienced runners. Juniors Tony Atwell and Steve Estey, along with senior Rick Routson and freshman Bill Atwell will also be pushing the frontrunners.

dale said: "The kids miss him, no question. He had a special rapport with them. He worked so long with them.

"But, I think they've accepted his decision and the reasons for his decision. They knew where he was coming from. I think they know that he will always be there cheering them on."

PLYMOUTH CANTON

Hayes has 25 boys out for the team right now, and it's far too soon for him to determine who will do what.

"The problem is getting kids to run in the summertime," he said. "If they run in June and July, we would be in good shape right now. As it is, we're doing August work right now."

Hayes thinks that seniors Bob Tellier and Alex Williams, along with juniors Keith Rosol and Doug Rich, could be the Chief frontrunners. Senior captains Jim White and Ken Chance will also be up there, he said.

Under the category of promising newcomers, Hayes lists seniors Dave Barger and Mark Anderson, plus juniors Bill Boyd, Chris Hayosh, Adam Kocik and Paul Trout.

On the girls side, seniors Kelly Murphy, Carolyn Nagy and Debbie Redfern are the only ones out at present. Any Canton student, grades 9-12, interested in running cross country should contact

Canton CC coach

Jim Hayes.
"I think we'll still be competitive," Hayes said. "The dual season is basically training for the league and regional meets anyway.

Canton will open its season Tuesday, Sept. 11, at Ypsilanti. Salem's first meet will be Thursday, Sept. 6, at home, against North Farmington.

do the same this fall with the boys. "This is a talented, young team with broad base of experience," he said. "I think that we are seeing the results of a good recreational youth soccer program and a strong Select League (Bonanza). Most of these players have been competing for seven or eight years under some good coaches." The Chiefs were 9-7 last year and made a strong run in the state tournament. They were ousted in the quarterfinals. Tom Wright, an All-Observer, all-state player, has graduated, but a strong nucleus returns.

BRYAN WHITELEY, a junior midfielder, and Tim Mueller, a senior forward, are the Chiefs' co-captains.

Juniors Brad Neville and Jim Casler join Whiteley to give the Chiefs a powerful trio of mid-fielders.

The defense will be anchored by senior Pat McGow and juniors Rob Opatrny and Matt Moran. Sophomore Scott Morgan should also help out on defense.

Goaltending could be a question mark for the Chiefs. Two sophomores are currently in the running for the job Brian Gavigan and Mark Fisher.

"This (the Western Lakes) is probably the toughest league in the state," Morgan said. "And we hope to be able to hold our own against the exceptional competition we will face.

"If we can minimize our injuries, we hope to get through this two and three game a week schedule with a better record than last year."

Canton will open its season Wednes-day, Sept. 5, at Livonia Franklin.

What won't happen in '84

NOTHER SEASON of high school sports is here. Ho hum. Nothing out of the ordinary will happen this year, except maybe:

EAST LANSING, Sept. 5 - Vern Norris, Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) director, declares all sports shall be equal. Drastic measures are planned. . . .

BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 7 — Trixie Downfield, nicknamed "TD" by her teammates, races for four touchdowns as Birmingham Seaholm routs Bloomfield Hills Lahser, 34-

The Knights male players are forced to play in galoshes as part of the new MHSAA ruling requiring handicaps for males.

REDFORD, Sept. 15 - Redford Catholic Central forfeits its third-straight girls basketball game after referees spot the team, which averages 6-foot-5 without wigs, exiting from the boys locker room.

Officials at the all-male school remain upset with the new MHSAA rule requiring all schools to field girls teams "or drop from MHSAA.

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 28 - A man, armed with a half-dozen record albums and a banner with the words "Give me TV coverage or give me death!" emblazoned on it, locks the Livonia Franklin football team in the Garden City visitors locker room.

Claiming to be an ARM (Another Ridiculous Move) member and a Redford Thurston graduate, the unidentified male asks for negotiations to keep the Northwest Suburban League intact "or else."

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 - A landmark agreement is reached with the Soviet Union to allow a "cultural trade" with the United States. Five Soviet women embark immediately to start a one-year student exchange program. They will attend Birmingham Brother Rice, which in turn will send five of its students - and 500 pairs of Levis - to

FARMINGTON, Oct. 20 - Despite protests of "My kid's playin' down there," 40 sets of parents are ejected from the Farmington Harrison football game. "We have no choice," explains one athletic official. "Only 15 sets of parents were at the last girls basketball game. MHSAA rules are clear: 'The same number of parents must attend both girls and boys events."

BIRMINGHAM, Oct. 25 — Birmingham Brother Rice wins its third straight girls basketball game 80-22 behind the play of its Russian quintuplets, the Hooplova sisters. When the identical 6-foot-6 sisters are asked where they developed their basketball abilities, they chant in unison: "We love Huey GARDEN CITY, Nov. 1 — With nonstop Michael Jackson music blaring from the gym, ear-plugged police maintain their vig-il as the Livonia Franklin football team hostage crisis enters its 34th day. When asked if Franklin will meet the demands of the terrorist and reconsider its decision to drop out of the Northwest Suburban League, a Franklin official replies, "What's the Northwest Suburban League?'

PLYMOUTH, Nov. 8 - Fred Thomann steps down as Plymouth Salem girls basketball coach and signs a three-year, $1 million contract to coach Birmingham Brother Rice's newly formed girls team.

Asked about the loss of their prestigious coach, a Salem official says, "Well, it was a bit more money than we wanted to pay."

The Hooplova sisters, when informed of the coaching change, chant in unison, "We love Huev Lewis!"

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 10 - The 43rd day of the Patriots in Captivity reaches a critical stage when one of the hostages breaks free and dances out of the locker room, wearing dark glasses and one sequined white glove.

The unnamed hostage is rushed to Northville State Hospital, where an official says, 'The damage is severe. He keeps pounding his head against the wall and singing, 'Beat ROCHESTER, Nov. 13 — Citing irrevo-cable differences, Rochester, Rochester Adams, Troy and Troy Athens sever all ties with the MHSAA.

In Troy, concerned parents start a fundraising drive aimed at resolving the prob-lems. Their motto: "Lets go to Lansing and mash those clowns in the mouth!"

GARDEN CITY, Nov. 28 - After 61 days, the Patriots in Captivity are freed by a police officer dressed like Michael Jackson. "I snuck in there and, sure enough, it caused a panic," says the disheveled officer. "They took one look at me and went crazy. They tried to set my hair on fire.'

Even the ARM radical who forced his hostages to listen to Michael Jackson ale burns continuously for two months is taken in by the disguise. "He was leading the charge," says the shaken officer, hair still smoldering.

Asked how Rice would have fared without the Russians, a Warrior fan answers, "What Russians?"

Term life insurance can help manage risk

nd Mari Kulikowski special writers

Life insurance is the best-known orm of insurance. Others include disability, casualty/property, and health Insurance. In this article, we will cover the basics of term life insurance. Other forms of insurance will be covered in subsequent articles.

Role of Life Insurance

Life insurance performs two major 1. to replace the earning power of the family's breadwinner 2. to provide liquidity for an estate and thus guard against its loss in value my the forced sale of estate assets to meet the family's current cash needs. Life insurance is concerned with the economic value of a human life, which can be measured. Its value is derived from the policyholder's earning ability and the financial dependence of others on his income. Life insurance rests this

How Much Life Insurance?

In determining how much life insurance a person should own, there are two basic approaches:

1. The human life value approach

2. The needs approach.

The human life value approach involves replacing a policyholder's earning power with life insurance. The most important part of his earning power is the amount devoted to the support of his dependents.

A second approach is to determine how much cash the family will need day-to-day if the breadwinner dies. While the needs or financial objectives will vary, certain categories can be established that will be applicable to all life insurance: term providing pure protection and term with a cash value, combining protection with an investment feature. Term insurance can be level term or deposit term (a large payment at the beginning of the policy's life, then smaller payments year-

Level term means the face amount of the policy remains level for the term of time chosen. The most common periods are 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 and 30 years,

FOR EXAMPLE, if you chose a 10year level term, the insurance company adds up the annual renewable term rates for 10 years, divides the total by 10 and charges you the same rates for 10 years. You would be overpaying in the early years and underpaying in the Deposit term is a level-term policy, usually for 8-, 10-, 12-, 15- or 20-year periods, where you make a premium deposit at the beginning. This deposit, which you would lose if you let the policy lapse, is evidence to the company of your intent to retain your policy for the specified period of time.

A commonly used policy is 10 years in duration. It usually may be renewed

(at a higher premium) and convertible (to cash-value life) at your option without evidence of insurability.

IF YOU outlive the policy, the company will return your premium deposit doubled or more and tax free.

In the event of your death, some companies will return the premium de-posit to the beneficiary, while others will pay the maturity value as an additional death benefit. The maturity value is the amount to which it would have grown if you had lived until the policy had expired.

At the end of the term, you will have various options if you still need life insurance. You may renew the same policy. Or you could change the type of policy or the length of the policy or the amount of the policy. Since premiums for insurance policies are based on a mortality table, as you grow older, your rate will increase.

Broker chose well on your terms

today's investor

I wanted to invest in stock back in 1980. I went into a broker's office and told him I was not a real conservative person, yet I was not a wild speculator

I told him I wanted to make my first investment in a stock that was reasonably steady, and yet would have a pretty good chance of doubling in a few

He suggested that I buy shares in W.R. Grace & Co. He said it was a well managed and diversified company and would do well for me. I paid $59 a share for the stock and bought 200 shares.

I have been disappointed because the price of the stock has come down below $40. The company has been good to me with dividends. Dividends have gone up every year and are now 40 cents a year higher than when I bought. Do you see any prospect that this stock will return to the price that i paid

It looks to me like your broker did a pretty good job suggesting a stock for

Thomas E. O'Hara of the National Association of Investors Corp. ou to fit the description you gave him. I think I might have suggested that with a $12,000 first-time investment, you would have been better off in three different stocks, especially since you were making your purchase after a sharp rise in stock prices.

But I would suggest you read the excellent annual report that Grace puts out and also read the quarterly information. Grace does a first-class job of explaining the various businesses it is in, in those publications, and this should help you understand the company better and feel more comfortable with it.

ALMOST HALF of Grace's business is in chemicals but its chemical business ranges from catalysts for petroleum refiners to fertilizers. A large part of the chemicals enjoy a steady and growing demand, but the fertilizer part of the business swings in broad cycles. It is generally felt that the fertilizer cycle is now in an upward trend.

At the upward end of the cycle, the fertilizer business is very profitable and can add substantially to Grace's

Part of Grace's chemical business is affected by activity in oil drilling and refining, and that business has been slow. Grace also has a substantial operation in coal.

ITS CONSUMER businesses cover restaurants, retail stores of several varieties and home-improvement stores. Generally, these various businesses have grown at a good rate and been profitable.

In good years, Grace has earned 17-18 percent on invested capital. Since you bought the stock, the company has seen a sizeable recession in the energy and agricultural industries, yet has managed to stay profitable and in-crease its dividend.

As the business recovery spreads to those parts of its business that were hurt the most, profits should resume their previous upward trend, and should give you the price movement you are looking for.

THE COMPANY has started a new policy of selling an interest to the public of some of its consumer units. The first step was the sale of 3-million shares of its El Torito Restaurants.

This is an interesting way of raising more capital and possibly getting a higher value placed on some of its assets and, of course, on its stock.

Terry Dye, his son Terry Anthony and the other three dancers have only been performing together since December. But when Murphy's movie comes out this December, expect to see them in a slapstick chase scene that was shot on location near Tiger Stadi-

"Three cop cars chase a semi, the semi runs a red light and hits a fruit truck, and thousands of watermelons all splattered all over," said Terry Dye, describing the sequence in which they appeared.

The scene, shot in two takes and taking six and a half hours to shoot, only required the guys to perform their usual street dancing, and then react to the

The Jump Street Dancers has been appearing the last two months at Fanny's in the Troy Hilton, where the group continues through September.

The dancers also do shows at bar mitzvahs, country clubs and weddings, in metro Detroit and traveling outstate and to Canada

Dye said there's a possibility his dancers will perform in another movie, four or five months from now, with Goldie Hawn.

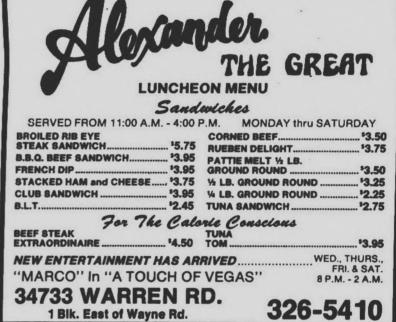

Father and son are Terry Dye and 15-year-old Terry Anthony of Commerce. Terry, who is the leader of the group, works in West Bloomfield. Terry Anthony goes to school in Walled Lake.

John Davidson is looking forward to appearing soon in a 90-minute pilot for a TV movie in which he plays a playboy cop involved in major sting operations. He figures, "The detective would give me an edge.

But in the meantime, the dimpled singing star is once again playing the role of Curly in the musical classic "Oklahoma!" through Saturday at the Meadow Brook Music Festival.

Davidson first starred in "Oklaho, ma!" in 1966 on Broadway. He received the Theater World award for outstanding newcomer.

"My voice has matured. I'm singing it better now," he acknowledged. "I'm in my vocal prime."

He said that although "Oklahoma!" is a 40-year-old show, the cast is playing it like a fresh show, with strong scenes between the bad guys and sensual loves scenes between Curley and his girlfriend, Laurey.

second runs

Tom Panzenhagen

"The Thrill of it All" (1963), 3 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 50. Originally 108 minutes. TV time slot: 120 minutes.

It's couples week.

Doris Day and James Garner co-star in this sharp-witted spoof of TV commercials and ad executives, written by Carl Reiner and directed by Norman Jewison. Day's delightful, Garner does his best Rock Hudson impression, and the supporting cast - Edward Andrews, Reginald Owen, Arlene Francis and Reiner - is superb. But the fine script really makes this movie sail. Rating: $3.10.

"Sunburn" (1979), 9 p.m. Saturday on Ch. 2. Originally 94 minutes. TV time slot: 120 minutes.

Farrah Fawcett and Charles Grodin are a delightfully offbeat couple in "Sunburn." Actually, she's a mannequin, he's offbeat as a private eye in a role you might expect to be better suited for a more machismo leading man. His foibles and their unlikely relationship is half the fun. Unfortunately, that's all the fun there is. The plot's too complicated for its own good and co-stars Art Carney, Joan Collins, Alejandro Rey, William Daniels, John Hillerman, Eleanor Parker and Keenan Wynn are wasted. Rating: $2.60.

"Houseboat" (1958), 4 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 110 minutes. TV time slot: 120 minutes.

Cary Grant and Sophia Loren are surprisingly bad for each other in this tepid comedy/romance of a bachelor father and his sexy housekeeper. Grant was 54 and Loren 24 at the time, which has a lot to do with it. Yet Grant was still in his cinematic prime with seven movies - including "North by Northwest" - to follow before early retirement. At any rate, his heart's not in this one. Martha Hyer, Harry Guardino and Murray Hamilton co-star. Rating: $2.40.

"The Out of Towners" (1971), 1 p.m. Monday on Ch. 50. Originally 97 minutes. TV time slot: 120 minutes.

If you don't love New York, you might like "The Out of Towners," which stars Jack Lemmon and Sandy Dennis as midwesterners awash in a sea of Big Apple misfortunes. Neil Simon's script borders on the excessive, but Lemmon and Dennis bring it back to earth every time. Their byplay and shared sufferings anchor the film, and Dennis, who's often been guilty of whining too much, is at her best here. Anne Meara, Billy Dee Williams and Sandy Baron co-star.

Rating: $2.90.

New True Laser-Cut "Flavor Chamber" Filter Shatters (Low Tar = Low Taste) Theory!

Only True Has It. The New Laser-Cut "Flavor Chamber" Filter. A remarkable filtration discovery that delivers a flavor-rich tobacco experience at only 5 mg. tar.

Test True Against Your Higher Tar Brand. One taste and you'll discover low tar doesn't mean low taste anymore. In fact, New True's fuller, richer flavor delivers a taste satisfaction we believe challenges cigarettes containing twice as much tar. Yet True is still only 5 mg. tar!

Longer Lasting Smoking Enjoyment. What smoker wouldn't like a cigarette that lasted longer? That's another New True bonus. True's quality tobacco blend is packed with extra tobacco so vou can enjov each cigarette longer. Noticeably longer.

New Breakthrough True. Why not test it against the only taste that counts? Yours!

It tastes too good to be True.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Regular: 4 mg. "tar", 0.5 mg. nicotine; Menthol: 5 mg. 'tar", 0.5 mg. nicotine, av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Romantic harpsichord gets new life

By Mary Klemic

Gentle, tinkling tones hang in the room like a chandelier as the young woman seated at the harpsichord moves her hands over the keyboard.

It could be a scene out of a romantic movie or novel set 200, 300 or 400 years ago. But this time it's taking place in a cheery, contemporary house in Canton on a recent summer morning. The artist is resident Michelle Graveline.

The harpsichord, the predecessor to the piano, has seen revived interest in the 20th century, according to Grave-

"It's getting to be more popular now, there's kind of a revival in it," she said. "It used to be THE keyboard instrument in the 18th century."

GRAVELINE, organist and choir director at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in Livonia for the past two years, has been featured as a harpsichord soloist at several music festivals this summer, including events at Grosse Pointe, Mich., and Mt. Gretna, Pa. Her harpsichord has delighted listeners at St. Andrew's as well.

"They loved it because it's different," she said.

The tone and the music written for the instrument are what Graveline likes about the harpsichord, she said. She became interested in the instrument two years ago while working on her doctorate at the University of

"It's very appealing music," Grave-

THE HARPSICHORD resembles a piano at first glance, but a closer look shows it is a somewhat different instru-

The piano has 88 black and white keys on its keyboard. When a key is pressed down, a felt-tipped hammer strikes a string, making the music. The harpsichord has arrangements of two or more keyboards, each with 63 keys. When a key on a harpsichord is pressed down, a lever moves a "jack" that plucks a string. Graveline's jacks are capped with plastic, but in the 1600s and 1700s they featured turkey quills.

Colors of the keys on a harpsichord are the reverse of those on a piano. That is, what would be white keys on a piano are black on a harpsichord, and what would be black keys on a piano are white on a harpsichord.

"The keys are a little shorter, not quite as wide as piano keys," said Graveline, who also plays piano and or-

THERE ARE no pedals on a harpsichord. On a piano, the pedals allow the strings to vibrate, holding the note for a longer time.

"The touch is different from an organ or a piano," Graveline said. "You can feel the (tension) of the quill just before it plucks the string."

Michelle Graveline performs on a harpsichord, a predecessor to the piano that is finding a new audience because of its unique sound.

'It's getting to be more popular now, there's kind of a revival in it. It used to be THE keyboard instrument in the 18th century.'

- Michelle Graveline

Graveline's $7,000 harpsichord looks like a baby grand piano and is almost the length of one wall in her living room, but she has played one that could be loaded into the back of a small car.

The nearest firms that make harpsichords are located in Ann Arbor and Grand Rapids, Graveline said, Harpsichord kits, with prices that start at less than $1,000, are available. Some of the instruments feature designs and paintings on them. Graveline's has a little golden angel inside, under the steel GRAVELINE TRIES to tune her harpsichord every two days or so because she plays it often, she said.

'You have to be careful with humidity," Graveline said. "They should get better with age. If they fall apart, they were built with unseasoned wood.

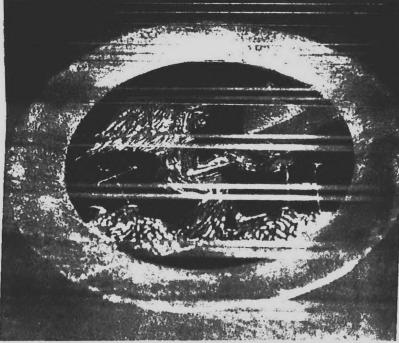

Anyone interested in learning to play the harpsichord should contact a local college or university, which usually have a harpsichordist in its music department, Graveline recommended.

"It's like any other instrument, you get as good as the amount of practice,"

DEVELOPED IN the late 1300s, the harpsichord flourished from the 16th to 18th centuries. Baroque composers, including Johann Sebastian Bach, wrote music especially for the instrument before it gave way to the piano during the time of Mozart and Beethoven.

But not all of the music written for the harpsichord dates from hundreds of years ago. An international conference last year at U-M on women and music featured harpsichord music written in the 20th century, Graveline said.

"Baroque keyboard music was written for the harpsichord or organ," she said. "But once you hear it on a harpsi-

Sculpturing may offer pleasant surprises

By David Messing special writer

Life is full of surprises. Just when you think you've got the game figured out someone changes the rules. I've always wanted to have two white doves and since there is a pet shop right next to the Art Store, I didn't have to go far to find a pair. About a week after the birds "cooed" their way into our home, Adam wanted to know when are they going to have babies. So I told him just the "birds" part of the "birds and the bees" story.

Adam came bounding into the kitchen one day, smiling ear to ear, and said "those boy birds laid two eggs." Needless to say, I was very surprised to see eggs in the cage of two guaranteed male doves, and somewhat worried that I had lost some credibility with Adam, at least about the "birds" part of the "birds and bees" story.

IF YOU try sculpture, you too may be very surprised to find that you can create a three dimensional image. So, try it; you'll like it.

Last week I ended by asking you to make an armature and build up the mass of the shape with plastic foam. Then begin pressing oil base clay over the foam. I also mentioned to avoid details, first build up the basic shapes and to think of this stage as three dimensional sketching. I will for my example use a head study. Any massive simple shape (void of thin extensions) will, however, do if you prefer something other than a head study.

I imagine there are many approaches to details. I think it is most important to remember that under details are many subtle shapes. For example in the lower lip there are two ball shapes connected by slow curving flat planes and upon all of this are the detailed wrinkles of the lip. Where the pink of the lips meet the skin of the upper and lower lip there is yet another shape. This shape is usually a ridge that is smooth and rims a depression above and below the lip.

This depression below moves again out to form the bulge of the chin, and so on and so on. Many shapes, many depressions, many bulges and finally many details. I would probably cut into the head shape to form a flat basic shape of the mouth. Then I would add the ball shapes and then blend them gently into the flat planes. Once the subtle swells and depressions of the lips are convincing or lifelike I would cut into them the wrinkles of the lips. I would then smooth these wrinkles with my finger so that they looked natural. As in drawing I recommend you develop all the features at the same time, not overdeveloping any one feature while another is not even begun.

Let's say you are struggling with the eyes. The most common problem with the eyes is that students do not set them deep enough into the skull, this creates a flat "drawn" look which is very two dimensional.

If this is a problem cut out of the head a large hole big enough to represent the eye socket. Then roll a ball of clay to form the eye ball and place it in the socket. Then lay flat eye lid shapes over the eyeball and add the soft tissue over and under the eye. You see this way you are actually constructing the eyeball and it's many surrounding shapes. This technique is how I do most of my sculpturing. I make the shape, add the shape then blend it in with the body of the whole shape.

THIS TECHNIQUE is also useful

Patience is important in forming the details of mouths and eyes in sculpture.

in repairs. What if you sculptured all the facial features beautifully but were not pleased with their alignment with each other. What you should do is carefully cut off the features in question and simply realign them on the head. The most non-professional thing you can do is scratch a zillion lines all over the head and call it hair. Just like any other feature you build the main shape of the total hairdo. Then develop the locks of the hair and then here and there you can suggest the lines of hair. Just remember you look at someones hair you rarily see lines of individual hairs. More rightly you see hair shapes and locks

Mistakes and trouble await you as you attempt to move from two dimensional drawing and painting to three dimensional sculpturing. But as I mentioned last week you must be patient with yourself and not give

If Rod Serling were alive he would say "you are about to enter a new dimension." And if, in fact, frustration makes you feel libe you are in the twilight some, they bring in your sculpture and I will-help you back into the real world, Next speek I will show you how to make a m and cast your piece in cera or plaster.
