Voters decide school millage Tuesday

Plymouth-Canton residents will vote Tuesday on increasing their property tax by 1.74 mills for school operations for seven years.

The 1.74 mills or $1.74 per $1,000 state equalized valuation (SEV) for the first year will produce added income of about $1.7 million and will prevent the district from facing a deficit of $1.6 million in fiscal 1985-86.

Plymouth-Canton Schools Associate Superintendent Ray Hoedel estimates the deficit would increase to $3.9 million in 1986-87 without the millage increase.

Superintendent John M. Hoben said, however, that the district must balance its budget, therefore cuts of $5.5 million would be required over the next two fiscal years without the millage increase.

Voters should go to regular school district election precincts Tuesday, not the municipal voting precincts. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Anyone standing in line at 8 p.m. will be allowed to vote.

The school district has not increased its millage in the past five years.

THE REQUEST for 1.74 mills was voted down last June, but the turnout was low and the margin of defeat small, so the school board decided to try again this month hoping for a larger turnout and clearer mandate from voters.

If approved, the 1.74 mills would cost the owner of a home valued at $60,000 an additional $52.20 a year, for an $80,000 house an added $69.60 a year, and for a $100,000 house an additional $87 the first year.

If the millage is approved, says Hoedel, Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' taxes still would be 23 percent less than Wayne Westland Community Schools, 9.4 percent less than Northville Public Schools, 6.9 percent less than Ypsilanti Public Schools and about the same as Livonia Public Schools.

In a comparison of money spent on each pupil, Hoedel points to the following districts: Grosse Pointe, $5,015 per pupil; Southfield, $4,627 per pupil; Bloomfield Hills, $4,445; Plymouth-Canton, $2,629; Rosecommon, $2,511; and Sturgis, $2,481.

SCHOOL BOARD members said the 1.74 mills, if approved, would be used to keep Transportation services, library service Talented and Gifted program, elementary physical education, art and music, athletic programs at the high schools, a full student day at the elementary, middle and high schools; and, or to improve good staffing ratios at all levels, Alternative Education Program, educational aides.

Necessary teaching supplies, textbooks and library books, counseling services at the secondary level, remedial programs in math and reading, the present level of Special Education ser-VICES, vocational education programs at the high schools, support for crossing guards, support for music programs and for districtwide text purchases.

"Because school districts must, by law, operate with a balanced budget," Hoben said, "cuts to balance the budget would need to be made" if the millage fails.

"While it is difficult to specify the exact cuts which would be required, personnel, supplies, athletics and maintenance would be among the areas which would be considered if cuts were necessary."

Administrators expect that defeat of the millage would result, among other things, in increased class sizes at some buildings and reduction of special education services to the minimum level of legal requirements.

In its campaign, school trustees and administrators are addressing the fact that 70 percent of the families in Plymouth-Canton don't have children in school. The literature points out that:

"Good schools help maintain or increase property values for all citizens. The best proof of this is to look at districts where there is little support for schools. In such districts property values generally are declining. Many people have moved to Plymouth-Canton because of the school system here. In general, quality in schools makes for quality in a community."

Hoedel estimates that with the millage increase the fund balance at the end of the current fiscal year will be $2.7 million, then $1.9 million next fiscal year, and $1.5 million the following. Without the increase, the current fund balance of $1.9 million would drop to $977,000 the end of the current fiscal year and then be wiped out next year forcing $1.6 million in cuts.

The district now levies 35.26 mills for operations.

Snafu leads to color-coded ballots

Some voters — those who registered between Sept. 5 and 24 — will get special treatment when they cast their votes on the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools' proposed additional millage Tuesday.

Unlike others, they'll receive beige-colored ballots. Local election officials are taking the action because of a Sept. 19 snafu in the Michigan House of Representatives. House Speaker Gary M. Owen adjourned the legislative session that day for the election recess before Senate-approved House Bill 5475 was voted on. The bill would have certified voters who registered during the month prior to the Oct. 2 special election. Normally, voters must register 30 days before elections.

Because the Legislature routinely has approved such bills in the past, officials are confident late registrants will be certified retroactively when the House reconvenes Nov. 13.

In the event "there is a challenge to voters who registered after Sept. 5," however, the district is using colored ballots.

"We are electing the option to permit everyone who registered to vote, but providing the option for separating the ballots if such separation is mandated after the election," said Richard Egli, community relations director for the district.

Voters using the special ballots will retain anonymity, Egli added.

Speaker Owen adjourned the legislative session after essential business had been taken care of, according to a spokeswoman from his office.

Owen was made aware, however, that the action created problems for districts staging special elections and sent a "letter of intent" to Dr. Phillip Runkel, state superintendent of public schools.

"The letter voiced the Speaker's intention to do everything possible to assure (H.B. 5475's) passage," the spokeswoman said.

Districts have been advised by their attorneys to go ahead and carry out their elections. The House did not adjourn prematurely as some are claiming, she added.

Egli said voters with questions may call the Supervisor of the Election at 451-6401.

A-Team given second wind for Breathalyzer road patrol

By Diane Frea
staff writer

The A-Team is alive and well and working in Canton Township and Plymouth.

No, you won't see Mr. T of television fame patrolling the streets, but drinking drivers best beware.

The A-Team, otherwise known as the Alcohol Enforcement Team, has had its federal funding renewed for another year, and so will continue to cruise the streets during peak drunk driving hours.

Since the program's beginning in November 1983, drunk driving arrests in Plymouth have increased while alcohol-related accidents have dropped, according to Plymouth Traffic Officer Robert Henry.

For example, operating under the influence of liquor (O.U.I.L.) citations have more than doubled, from a combined total (city and township) of 92 in 1982 to 186 this far in 1984, he said.

A big part of the increase is due to the A-Team saturation patrol on targeted roads. The original federal grant provided A-Team officers with portable Breathalizers and paid for some 600 hours of patrol time — of which the Plymouth department worked 223.

Targeted roads are selected because of their comparatively high number of previous drunk driving arrests, according to Canton Acting Sgt. Roger Pearsall.

Plymouth and Canton Township police officers work in tandem patrolling the targeted areas from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m., primarily on Friday and Saturday nights.

Officer Henry, who is regional coordinator for Canton, Plymouth, Northville and Northville Township, said the renewal of $400,000 in federal grant money will be divided among the 36 participating communities within Wayne County.

Sewer money slips by county

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Chances of stopping the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) from spending grant money sought by Wayne County for the North Huron Valley Rouge Valley wastewater system (Son of Supersewer) are gone.

The money will be gone by Monday, said Richard Hinshon, director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, (DNR's) community assistance division.

As of late Friday afternoon, Wayne County had yet to file a lawsuit to stop EPA from sending the money to other communities on the state's priority list for grants.

The county had intended to file suit today in Wayne County Circuit Court, according to Mike Conway, a spokesman for the Wayne County Executive's Office.

AS OF YESTERDAY, however, all of the money intended for Son of Supersewer has been sent to the other Michigan communities receiving EPA grants, according to the DNR's Hinshon.

DNR serves as an agent for EPA grants in Michigan by setting the priority list for funding and processing grant applications.

EPA announced last month that Son of Supersewer wouldn't receive funding in 1984 and that other projects on the priority list would be funded, with the $21 million reserved for the first phase of the $120 million sewer project.

Some of the other communities already have received the money, and I expect the EPA to work over the week end to finish it up for the others," Hinshon said Friday.

Starting today, the beginning of a new fiscal year, all EPA contributions by law drop to a maximum of 55 percent rather than the 75 percent available in earlier fiscal years.

WAYNE COUNTY officials hoped to obtain a court order prohibiting EPA from spending the Son of Supersewer money until a judge could rule on the decision to bypass funding for 1984.

EPA claims planning for the sewer project is incomplete. It cited engineering flaws which still allow for pollution of the Rouge River.

County officials argue that the DNR, acting as an agent of the EPA, dictated the design of the system.

Without 75 percent federal funding, many believe the long sought project will not be built because the cost to local communities will surpass financial abilities.

The project is aimed at correcting pollution problems with the existing Rouge Valley wastewater system and increasing sewerage capacity for all of the 17 participant communities. These include Plymouth Township, Canton, Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Redford.

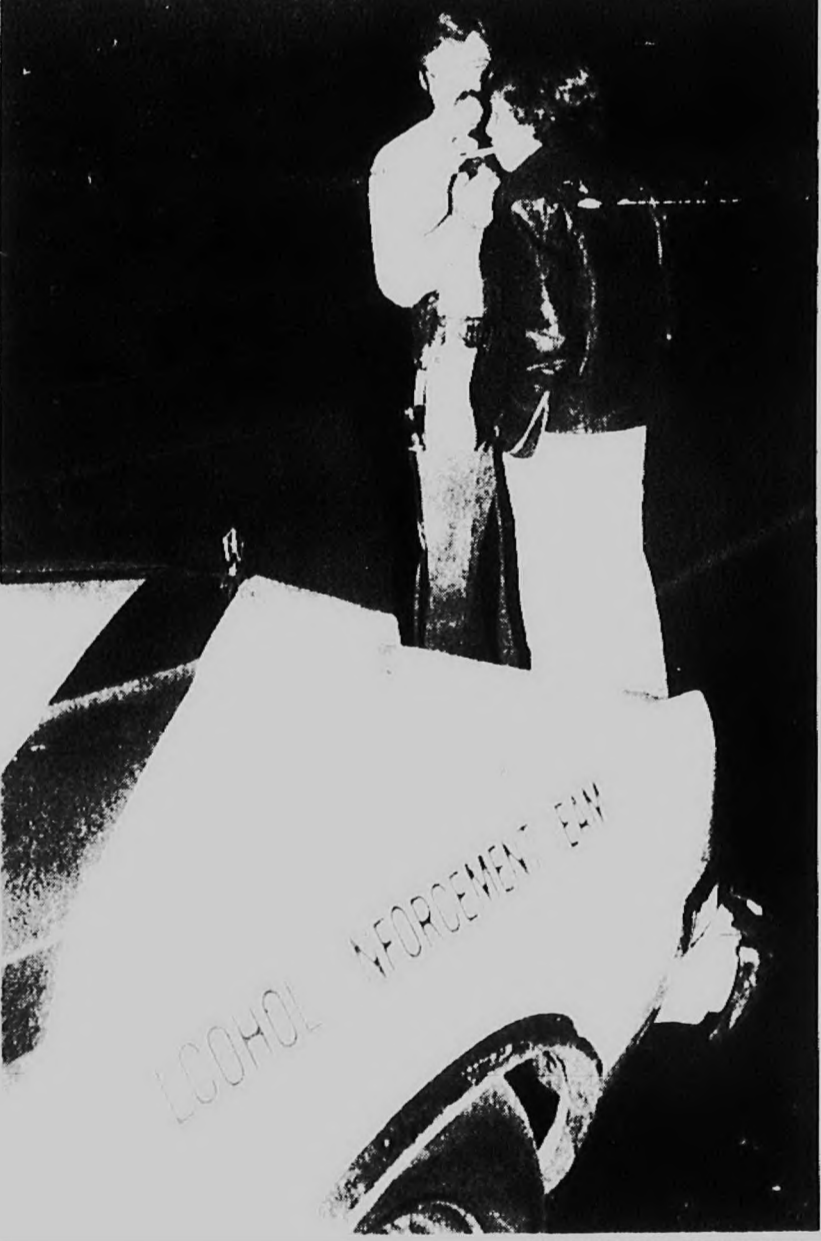

An earlier attempt was made by Plymouth and Canton townships to stop EPA from spending the grant money. But the townships backed off their attempts to seek a court injunction because the county is the grant applicant.

COUNTY EXECUTIVE William Lucas announced he would file a lawsuit in U.S. District Court after the EPA refused funding. County officials said they were aware of the need for a timely filing but failed to prepare the necessary paperwork before today.

Hinshon said the county's only hope of stopping the money from being spent is to seek injunctions against the successful grant recipients, Hinshon said.

Lucas' office was uncertain whether it would take such action, Conway said. County officials believe there is a question as to whether the money is actually gone.

Conway didn't offer an explanation as to why the lawsuit will be filed in circuit court rather than federal court, as earlier announced.

Plymouth Police Officer Wayne Carroll stops a motorist while on routine A-Team patrol. The driver, who was pulled over on Canton Center Road at Geddes, passed the alcohol test of the portable breath tester, finding no evidence of alcohol in his bloodstream.

A cop to smoke out fire bugs?

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

City commissioners may appoint Plymouth's first arson investigator at tonight's meeting.

The Commission will be asked to adopt a resolution making Acting Fire Chief Al Matthews a sworn arson investigator with police powers.

"I would like to appoint an arson investigator to deal with some items which are not normally dealt with by our fire department," said City Manager Henry Graper.

Matthews recently completed police training and holds state certification as a police officer. If appointed, he will be sworn in as a member of the police department.

He will hold both positions, acting chief and arson investigator," Graper said.

This is one of the very few times that we have the opportunity to appoint someone of the caliber of Al Matthews to a position such as this."

Matthews started his police training when the city was considering combining its police and fire departments into a public safety department, Graper said.

"We thought we were going to go public safety and the idea was to train Al and then have him spearhead the fire department in cross training."

"Now I don't know if that talent (police certification) will be used other than as an arson investigator," he said.

"If we were pursuing public safety, we would have had him out on the street in a patrol car, learning the grass roots of the department."

AS ARSON investigator, Matthews will use his police powers to investigate suspicious fires, as well as to arrest persons responsible for deliberately setting fires.

Matthews already is involved with the Force Five arson team. Force Five draws on the expertise of police and fire representatives from five communities (Northville, Plymouth and the townships of Plymouth, Canton and Northville) to investigate suspicious fires.

Because of his unique training in fire and police procedures, Graper said Matthews would be able to perform tasks usually requiring both fire and police personnel.

The position of arson investigator will be assigned to the fire department's supervision, except when investigating a fire — at which time the position falls under the supervision of the police department. The arson investigator will be empowered to carry a firearm, but will work in civilian clothes.

OTHER ITEMS being considered at tonight's Commission meeting include:

- Several purchases for the police department: a computer, logging recorder system and emergency message repeater.
- A request from the Church of the Nazarene to hold a demonstration against the sale of pornographic literature.
- The awarding of the contract for the Cultural Center's video game operation.

The Commission meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the second floor auditorium at City Hall, the corner of Main and Church.

Bakery outlets costs less dough

By Sandra Armbruster and Diane Gale staff writers

A large public outcry accompanied the skyrocketing price of gasoline when it topped $1 a gallon. Less noisy, but still having a similar impact on the consumer pocket, was the rising cost of baked goods.

Like gasoline, a loaf of bread tops $1 a pound for many brands, but discount outlets for bakeries and distributors now offer a reasonable alternative to alert shoppers.

"Weight Watchers bread normally sells for $1.07 a loaf, but we sell four loaves for $1. That's a very big savings," said Cassie Cassar, manager of Farmland Distributors Inc.

THE BAKERY distributor, on Newburgh at Ford Road in Westland, was the original discount outlet in the area, according to Cassar. She said it opened in about 1967 under a different name and now is a privately owned business.

"People think (discount outlets) are a gold mine. They open and close," she said, admitting that the growing number of such outlets has slowed their business.

"A couple years ago, we couldn't serve all our customers. People would shop as they stood in line at the cashier, but it's still pretty good," Cassar added.

Most of the products sold in the thrift shop from a variety of bakeries is fresh, however, the shop also stocks day old items at savings of more than 50 percent. Additional 10 percent discounts are offered senior citizens on Mondays through Wednesdays. Church groups who phone orders in advance also receive additional discounts.

Because the distributor receives direct shipments from bakeries and routes the products to supermarkets, it can offer those discounts. But being a distributor offers another advantage, according to Cassar.

"If you go to a company store, you only find their product," she said.

FOR AWREY Bakeries, a thrift shop isn't just a way to unload goods no one else wants.

"The concept of thrift stores started as a place to sell surplus and a little day-old goods, but it's gone so well that we even set up a 'hot shop' in the thrift store where you can buy goods that aren't sold anywhere else," said Tom Awrey, retail sales manager.

Because Awrey Bakeries Inc., 12301 Farmington north of Plymouth in Livonia, is next door to the thrift shop, baked goods sold don't have to include shipping charges or supermarket rental fees.

For those whose taste includes natural products, the Brownberry Natural Bread Thrift Store, 31221

Five Mile, offers a discount since it buys wholesale. Senior citizens receive a special discount everyday, and Tuesdays are bargain days for everyone.

"They're not day-old products, like most people think," said Lisa Furguson, assistant manager. "Our idea is to give customers fresh products at the store, but at a reduced price."

ONE OF THE newer discount outlets is Entenmann's Bakery Inc., 13280 Newburgh in Livonia.

"The reason it's called a thrift store is that the product sold is a nonsalable product in the grocery store. It's returned from the grocery store," explained Jack Klausung of the marketing division.

The store codes products in terms of how long they will be fresh.

"The resale store is for day-old products, which means if it is a three-day fresh item, on the fourth day it would be in the store," he said.

Offering a variety of fresh and day-old products is the Koeplinger Thrift Store, 6547 Wayne Road in Westland.

The store carries a variety of baked goods from such makers as Sanders, Keeblers and Voortman's, in addition to Koeplinger's.

Only Koeplinger's products are discounted, according to Donna Michalak. Others are offered at supermarket prices or below. Senior citizens receive a 10 percent discount on Tuesdays.

At 19, Michalak may be one of the youngest store managers. She took over the operation last April, after having worked for Koeplinger's as a co-op student at John Glenn High School. Michalak graduated in 1983.

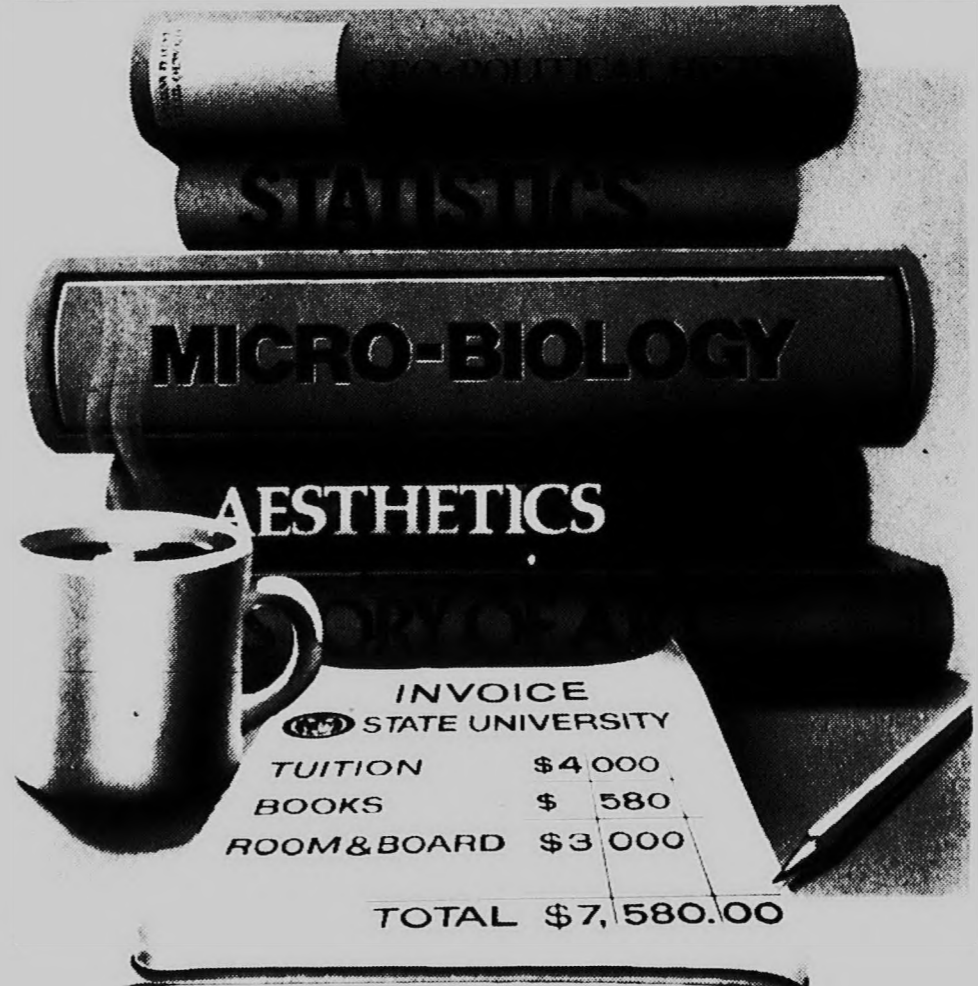

Donna Michalak, 19, took over last April as manager of Koeplinger's Thrift Store in Westland. The store stocks baked goods from a variety of area bakeries.

City will consider breaking up DPW parcel

City commissioners are expected tonight to accept an offer to purchase one acre of Department of Public Works DPW yard property.

The acre is part of a 3 1/2-acre parcel being sold by the city to raise funds for the ongoing DPW yard renovation. Proceeds from the sale will go towards the construction of an office center for the DPW.

The three-phase renovation project was started two years ago and is nearing completion of the first phase, according to City Manager Henry Graper.

The first phase included the construction of a trash compactor, rebuilding the vehicle fueling area and the construction of some roads inside the yard located at the end of Arthur Street.

The second phase calls for construction of the office building, while the third phase calls for building a garage.

The project is planned to consolidate space at the yard, making the 3 1/2 acres available for sale.

We have received a good faith check from Mattioli Cement Co. for the purchase of one acre of property at the DPW yard. The price of the property is $35,000 per acre, Graper said.

AN EARLIER plan to sell the entire 3 1/2 acres to a development group fell through.

That plan called for an investment group to build an indoor soccer facility which would be donated to the city once it was paid off.

The group lost its option on the property when plans for Economic Development Corporation (EDC) financing didn't work out. EDC regulations prohibit financing recreational facilities.

We would like to find one company to come in and buy the entire parcel and come in and build a factory, but you're not going to see that, Graper said. I believe we can price it out.

Graper is asking the Commission to authorize the mayor to sign a purchase agreement with Mattioli Cement.

The funds which will be received from the sale will go into an account until enough is accumulated to build the new administration building for the DPW, he said.

This building will be necessary as we fill up the other land, because the present building sits on two acres of property which will be sold next.

Although there are no firm commitments, Graper said a potential buyer has expressed an interest in the remaining excess land.

If a buyer doesn't come through soon, the city manager said he may advertise or list the land.

We haven't advertised or went with a real estate. I'm sure if we did that the property would sell very quickly — it's a really nice piece of land," he said. The Commission will act on the Mattioli offer at tonight's meeting which starts at 7:30 p.m. in the second-floor auditorium at City Hall at the corner of Main and Church.

Frog-jumping contest coming to Old Village

The Great Frog Jumping Contest will be Sunday, Oct. 14, in Old Village.

The contest will begin at 3 p.m. in the parking lot of Heidi's East.

The first 21 children with frogs in line at 3 p.m. will be eligible to participate in the contest.

Three races of seven frogs each will determine the first-, second- and third-place winners. First prize is $10, second prize $5 and third prize is $3.

All of this feverish frog activity is only part of the Old Village Apple Festival.

Besides entering the contest, children may dunk for apples and paint pumpkins.

There activities are in addition to the regular fare of cider, doughnuts, apples, crafts, antiques and several varieties of baked goodies featuring apples.

Also featured will be James Flint with Caliope, Banbury Cross carriage rides, balloon busts, sales and special presentations throughout the Village.

The Apple Festival begins at 1 p.m. Sunday and continues until 6 p.m.

Some 5,000 people are expected to attend the festival which celebrates fall and the apple season.

Schools earn energy honor

Plymouth-Canton school administrators will travel to Washington, D.C. next week to accept a national honor for the district's energy-saving efforts.

Ray Hoedel, associate superintendent, and Dan Minghine, director of building and grounds, will accept the national award in Washington, D.C. on Oct. 1.

Plymouth-Canton Community Schools have won competitive state and national awards for energy innovation. The awards are the result of an Energy Management Incentive Program started by the district in 1981.

LAST MONTH Gov. Blanchard announced that Plymouth-Canton had won the state award. At that time the governor said:

This competition is a nationwide effort to encourage the sharing of energy-saving accomplishments or technologies. The National Awards Program will provide important visibility for innovative solutions to our energy needs.

Each of the 10 Michigan projects chosen by the Energy Administration by the Department of Commerce, added Blanchard, is to be congratulated for energy conservation efforts and for the sharing of information about their newly developed technologies.

Earning the state award qualified the school district to compete in the National Awards Program for Energy Innovation, sponsored by the U.S. Department of Energy as part of its Technology Transfer 80s program.

THE ENERGY management program, which won the state and national awards includes guidelines in the area of heating, cooling, lighting and transportation.

The program is unusual because school employees and students can directly see the results of energy savings in the buildings, explains Hoedel, and in return have a chance to receive a portion of those savings back in their buildings for classroom and building needs.

Under the incentive plan, the district has energy savings of $101,950 the first incentive year and $47,678 the second incentive year.

Our energy conservation committee brought this together by brainstorming ways to save energy and make that savings mean something to the people involved," said Hoedel.

We really didn't expect to win any awards with this program, but we are pleased to be honored and to share our ideas with him.

Minghine added, "Our people made extra efforts to shut off lights and shut down unneeded heat. But, in addition to maintenance personnel, it was made successful with the cooperation of students, teachers, cafeteria workers, secretaries, aides and administrators — everybody in the building working together."

Entries in the competition were received from every area of the state and nation. Proposals spanned a range of energy innovations from general energy management programs to specific energy-saving inventions.

Winning projects were chosen based on their transferability, innovation, effect on people, economic impact, job creation potential, outreach in education and multiplier effect.

A-Team will keep working

The grant money pays for the overtime wages for officers who volunteer for the special patrol. Henry said the renewed funding also will enable the purchase of one new portable breath tester for each community.

The Wayne County program is the first attempt at implementing the Alcohol Enforcement Team on a countywide basis, and on any given weekend there are 40 cars out there," Henry said.

"ALL ACCIDENTS are down considerably," Henry said. "This is not just a sporadic thing."

Likewise, Plymouth Police Chief Ralph White praised the program and is happy to see the funding renewed.

"I think it's obvious it's been a deterrent," White said.

Besides providing patrol, the program serves as a training exercise by making officers more aware of what to watch for," he said.

The officers learn the signals to look for are not necessarily restricted to weaving between lanes or someone almost sleeping behind a wheel. They learn there are other signs to look for to indicate a driver has been drinking.

Lt. Larry Stewart of the Canton Police Department said there has been only one alcohol-related fatality in his township this year. That, and the higher number of arrests are measures of the A-Team's effectiveness, he said.

Sgt. David Kocsis of the Garden City Police Department, the agency through which the grant was filed and the countywide statistics compiled, said there was a 75 percent increase in the number of drunk driving arrests in the program's first nine months compared to the same time the previous year.

DR. WEISS

BACK PAIN - THE DOCTOR'S DILEMMA
Most back pain is secondary to muscle or ligament strain and not readily reversed by medication.

The doctor's dilemma occurs because you come to the physician with hopes of obtaining a cure, or at least, substantial relief. In many cases the doctor can neither end the pain nor decrease your distress.

Then what is the reason to seek medical attention? In most cases of back pain, going to the doctor serves the purpose of providing peace of mind. While a doctor cannot tell you why you have your back pain, he or she can tell you what is not the cause.

With modern methods of examination, x-ray studies and laboratory evaluation, the physician can say with great accuracy that the problem is not a tumor, cancer, infection, or some form of illness that is potentially crippling or life threatening.

Thus it is not fair to return from an office visit and tell friends that you went to the doctor and "he didn't know what I had." At least medical assessment is able to establish what you don't have. This information will give you peace of mind, a form of relief second only to stopping the back pain itself.

"It's for you."

Auto manufacturing becoming a global industry

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

For the first time since Henry Ford started to put the world on wheels, the manufacture of automobiles has become a world industry.

This is the opinion of Lou LaRiche, the Chevrolet and Suburban dealer in Plymouth who recently was named president of the Detroit Auto Dealers Association.

Lou makes no pretense of being a fortune teller. Rather, he is a shrewd businessman who takes a wise look into the future and what he sees is most interesting.

Seated at his desk on Plymouth Road the other afternoon, he said that the days when the United States dominated the market are gone and now we must meet the competition of the other nations around the globe.

"Just take a look at it," he said. "General Motors, Ford and Chrysler have stock in the Japanese auto firms. And with stock in them, they'll do business with them — especially in the smaller cars and for a sound reason."

"IN THE JAPANESE shops the men on the line receive $2 dollars an hour compared to six or seven times that amount over here. So, it is only natural that cars can be built much cheaper over there."

"Now, what I see, is that the small cars can be built over here, but with parts that are manufactured in places like Japan and Italy."

"Along with difference in labor costs the picture becomes plainer now that Korea is in the market by building cars and its labor rate is even smaller than Japan."

"So, we can't compete over there with difference in costs. So we will be purchasing the parts from abroad and building the cars here."

While this picture seemed one-sided, LaRiche pointed out that the United States always will have the edge in the larger cars. "But even there, our three top manufacturers, are downsizing what we always called the big cars. The days of the luxurious big car may be doomed a bit, but we will always have a big car. It is the little ones that hurt us when, because of labor costs, we have to import them."

HE INTIMATED that even Chrysler is looking into the Korean market and it is likely that, to stay in competition, it will have parts built in Korea. LaRiche is not a Johnny-come-lately in the automobile business. He has been active at the dealer level for the past 20 years and, ironically, he started with the small foreign car — the Volkswagen in Findlay, Ohio, in 1964.

Attracted by the rapidly growing Detroit suburbs, he purchased the Chevrolet dealership in Plymouth from Ernie Allison in 1970.

He moved the dealership to Plymouth Road and built it into one of the largest dealerships in the Midwest.

Now that he is president of the dealers association, he is looking forward to what he called a solid worldwide industry.

"With those countries abroad able to build cars cheaper and with help that, oftentimes, is more concerned with doing a good job, we will have a more balanced industry."

Earlobe crease sign of problem

D ID YOU know that? A diagonal earlobe crease may sometimes identify heart attack patients or persons with hidden heart disease. Researchers speculate that a loss of the elastic substance around the earlobe's blood vessels may contribute to the crease, similar to the loss of elasticity that characterizes hardening of the heart's arteries.

Scuba diving has one of the highest death rates of any sport — similar to the risk of sky diving and professional car racing. The activity places a considerable strain on the heart, much more so than regular swimming.

Smokers of the new "low tar/low nicotine" cigarettes are kidding themselves. Researchers have shown that these smokers compensate by taking more puffs and inhaling more deeply.

Not all blood cholesterol is bad. There is actually a "good" form of cholesterol called HDL or high density lipoprotein cholesterol. HDL helps to prevent the accumulation of cholesterol deposits in the walls of blood vessels, protecting against heart disease.

The greatest number of injuries occur in morning runners, a recent study revealed, perhaps because muscle and related tissues are better stretched later in the day. Running after work, the study concluded, also relieves tension and may be best for losing weight, since it decreases appetite for several hours.

Senators ask how canoe can run bus

"I never heard of a canoe moving a bus," said a poker-faced state Sen. Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, during a State Capitol debate last week.

"I never heard of a bike moving a bus. I never heard of a horse moving a bus, though it might be possible," said Pollack, a former community college instructor, her mouth tight in mock seriousness.

IT WAS OPEN season in the Michigan Senate on lawyers and their legal language as the upper chamber debated a bill on bus operators' liability insurance. And senators who are former educators were having the most fun with the legal jargon.

"This speaks to 'transportation to or from a point,'" chimed in Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, a private school headmaster. "Transportation is moving people, by definition. 'To or from a point' is redundant." Here is the exact language of the bill which amused them:

"A bus operated by a canoe or other watercraft, bicycle, or horse livery used only to transport passengers to or from a destination point" is exempt from requirements for personal protection liability insurance.

ACTUALLY, THE bill applies to buses operated by liveries which rent out canoes, bicycles or horses — not to buses operated by canoes, bicycles or horses.

Once the language question was cleared up, at the expense of the lawyers' dignity, amused senators sent the bill on for third reading.

"Third reading"? That's legislators' talk for placing the bill on the calendar for final passage next time.

Library books to be shown

A display of new library books and materials will be shown Thursday, Oct. 11, in Plymouth Salem High School library.

The display is being sponsored by Metro Media, an organization representing educators and librarians in regions 16 and 20 of the Michigan Association for Media in Education.

The display will be 3:30-7 p.m. There will be punch and cookies, a two-hour browsing period, and dinner, which will include a brief business meeting.

The dinner, compliments of Follett's Library Book Co., is limited to the first 200 reservations. Reservations must be made by calling 451-6282 by Monday, Oct. 8.

Fred Miller of Follett Library Book Co. will bring in hundreds of new library books for grades kindergarten through 12 for review. During the last hour of display, 5-6 p.m., display books may be sold.

Doris Taylor of Cook's Books will display some 750 new titles including a new young readers series and a new line of computer books. Follett's new line of computer software also will be available for a hands-on demonstration.

Anyone from the public who has an interest is welcome to attend the displays, or come for dinner by making a reservation. The Follett demonstration on the latest in computer software will be right after dinner at 6:30 p.m.

Duggan to head prison site study

Monday, October 1, 1984 O&E

(P.17A)

If people want to put more criminals in prison, there will have to be more prisons — and people must stop crying, "anyplace but my community," according to Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

With that, Lucas last week announced he had appointed Wayne Circuit Judge Patrick Duggan of Livonia to head a 30-member commission looking for solutions to the prison problem.

"Community leaders must develop grass roots support for the solution," Lucas said as he set up the Commission to Study Prison Needs.

Lucas asked the group to:

- Determine the economic impact of crime on the area.
- Evaluate having correctional facilities in various communities.
- Establish site considerations.

Among the bad effects of overcrowded and inadequate prisons, Lucas said, are escapes and "early release into the community of criminals who have not been rehabilitated."

Detroit House of Correction (Dehoco); Northville Township of a proposed state prison.

Yet state prison facilities are needed, Dumas said, because "the state cuts 90 days off prisoners' sentences if the prisons are overcrowded. So the circuit judges place short-term prisoners in Dehoco, where they are assured of serving at least a year, but the county has to pay for it."

Thriving turkey industry now falling to pieces

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

After playing the role of "The Turkey Man" for the Plymouth community for the past 40 years Loyd Sharland, now living in retirement, is amazed at the great changes that have taken place in the turkey business since he left it.

Sitting in the living room of his home on North Territorial Road in Plymouth, with his wife who also has retired from the trying tasks of slaughtering and taking care of the birds for their customers, he recounted the changes and fact that the turkey no longer is a bird just sought after on Thanksgiving Day and some of the other holidays in the year.

"It no longer is a one or two day business during the year," he said as he looked out of the window to the feeding ground for the 800 birds his son will have for the coming holiday.

"We used to buy the birds when they were chicks and then raise them, which was quite a trick. We had to have them nice and plump by the time the holiday came around. And oftentimes it was quite a job.

"BUT THINGS are different now," he went on. "Some wise businessmen figured that if the turkey was in demand for the holidays it should be sought for other days of the year, too."

"So, they decided to cut up the bird and sell it by special pieces in the markets. That's why you can go into the market today and buy different pieces of the bird, done up in special bags. There you'll find legs, wings, breasts, and all other segments of the bird and it is quite a change from the days we knew when all you bought was the whole bird."

With that he picked a paper that carried the news that the Bill Mar Foods, Co. near New Zealand, Mich., had lost by fire its largest plant — a plant that handled an average of 25,000 birds daily.

"Just imagine that," Sharland went on. "when we were at our peak out here we handled at most 4,000 birds a year. Now they cut up and handle 25,000 in a day. So, you can see the vast changes that have come about. It sure isn't like the old days."

SPEAKING of the old days, Sharland has lived through vast changes. He has seen and helped with the passing of the bronze (dark-feathered) turkey as it gave way to the white bird.

This change came about because Mother Nature gave the white bird a larger breast (and more white meat) than the bronze bird. So, it took over the market.

And now, in the past 10 years, there has been the other big change — the marketing of the bird by pieces instead of the entire body.

While he didn't say so — and neither did his wife who still is nursing a damaged leg and no longer can help with the dressing of the birds — he intimated the vastly greater number of dollars that can be made today compared to the sums that the old-fashioned method brought.

And, as they at there, looking far off to the pens where their son will have about 800 turkeys this year, they were doing some mental arithmetic in dollars and cents. And the difference became quite large since they started the turkey business for the Plymouth community four decades ago.

But, like the old saying, you can take the boy out of the country but you can't take the country out of the boy, the one-time "Turkey Man" is going to get back into action this year by helping his son get rid of the 800 birds that will keep the name "Sharlands" in the turkey business.

Gaffield opened studio here 35 years ago

(Part 2)

Davis B. Hillmer took many photos of Plymouth in times past. He was the son of Louis Hillmer, president of the village in the early 1900s, and the brother of Karl Starkweather.

Among Hillmer photos are the two of the Alter Motor Car plant on page 28 of my pictorial history of Plymouth. A well-known commercial photographer for 50 years (1922-1972), Hillmer had a studio on Second Avenue in Detroit. Among his longtime clients was the J.L. Hudson department store.

In the 1940s, the L.L. Ball studio was upstairs at the corner of Main and Penniman Avenue where the First Federal of Michigan building now is located. Ball, who started in Northville had studios in both communities. Later, he moved his Plymouth studio to the Bennett House (no relation of Charley). It was a white frame structure near Saxton's Garden Center on Ann Arbor Trail.

Among many shots taken by Ball is the masquerade photo on page 21 of my book. After Ball died in 1947, Mrs. Ball worked for a time for John Gaffield.

ABOUT THE TIME L.L. Ball died, Bob Gray opened a studio in the Penniman-Allen building, the one that burned during the theatre fire in 1968.

Gray later was located for 12 years over Huston's Hardware, also on Penniman Avenue. His last location was on Harvey Street opposite the Central Parking Lot.

Gray, who came here from Ohio in 1947, did mostly portrait work and weddings. He was succeeded at the Harvey Street location by Bob Woodring who operated there for about a year.

In 1979, Carol Sartor and Sheri Charon from downriver, opened a photographic studio at 292 S. Main which they call Creative Images. Their work mostly is in portraits of people.

When I arrived in town in 1952, as director of advertising and public relations at Evans Products Co., I began to channel some of the firm's photographic business through John Gaffield, now the dean of professional photographers in the community. He recently observed his 35th year serving the Plymouth-Canton area.

Sam Hudson

GAFFIELD STARTED taking pictures with an old Argus while still in high school on Howard City, Mich.

His interest in photography was strengthened during World War II when he was operations officer of a U.S. Air Force squadron in India and Burma. Finding no place to have his photos developed, he set up his own darkroom and began to turn out prints in his spare time.

Before the war, Gaffield got a liberal arts degree from Michigan State and studied journalism at Ferris Institute. As a boy he had some newspaper experience, working as a printer's devil for the Howard City Record at $2 a week.

In 1939, after he finished college, he got a job as a writer at the Plymouth Mail. The publisher was Elton Eaton, a Michigan State Representative, and the business manager was his son, Sterling Eaton.

Gaffield did all of the writing for the paper, as well as the solicitation and writing of advertisements. Later, when Sterling Eaton started a weekly, The Livonian, at the request of Livonia Township officials, John did the writing for that paper in addition to his Plymouth chores. Eventually, he was named editor and manager of The Livonian with offices in Plymouth.

Then came the stint in the Air Force where he learned to be a pilot and spent much of the time in India and Burma. Returning to Plymouth as a captain in 1945, he became advertising manager of the Mail. When he needed photos for use in the ads he was preparing, the Mail had to buy them.

"One day, Sterling came in, dropped a Speed Graphic on my desk, and said from now on you take all the pix. I set up a darkroom in my home to develop the prints. Soon I was taking photos of products as part of my advertising job."

GAFFIELD LEFT the Mail and began his own photographic business in the old Ball Studio on Ann Arbor Trail in 1949.

In 1959, he bought the brick building across he street "at the point of the park" and moved his studio there.

The building, which he bought from Harold Enterline, was built by Enterline in 1946. The first commercial building to go up to the park" and moved his studio there.

The building, which he bought from Harold Enterline, was built by Enterline in 1946. The first commercial building to go up in Plymouth after World War II, it was built on the site of the A.A. Shafer Iron Foundry which operated in Plymouth from before 1860 to about 1916.

Gaffield married Charlotte McLean of Detroit in 1943 while home on military leave. They met in Detroit before the war when he walked into a Detroit office to peddle advertising space and fell in love with the firm's captivating receptionist. John and Sherry have three children: Christopher, an executive vice-president of Stone and Simons Advertising Agency; Craig, a professional photographer; and Carol, a commercial artist.

John Gaffield has been a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club since 1952. He is a former member of Rotary's Board of Directors and a past president of the Plymouth Rotary Foundation. In the 1950s he was a board member of the Plymouth Community Fund.

He has served on the board of the Professional Photographers of Michigan and holds a "Certified Photography" rating from that organization. A number of his portraits and pictures have received professional awards.

Years ago, Gaffield did a lot of commercial work for firms like Daisy and Evans Products Company but today his business mostly is in adult portraiture and family groups. He also does instant color passport photos, restorations, high school seniors, and custom framing.

Recalling baseball heroes of the past

In a few more days, we will be entering into what the sports world knows as baseball's Fall Classic and it will be interesting to know where the heroes of the championship series came from as few of them are home grown.

For instance, the best-known and best-remembered of the Detroit Tigers is Ty Cobb and he was a native of the fruitbelt in Georgia. In fact, he often is referred to as the Georgia Peach.

And Babe Ruth, a hero to the youngsters around the baseball world, came out of a boys home in Baltimore to become the Home Run King of all time.

And that's the interesting part of looking at these players who are crowned the heroes of the classic. You will find very few that are home-grown.

THE MOST FAMOUS of this group is Charlie Gehring whom many consider the best second baseman of all time. Charlie, now a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, came off the

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

sandlots in Fowlerville, Mich., and he played most of his games as a youth on the Fowlerville Fair Grounds that you could see from the bus window when traveling to Lansing.

And on the other extreme we have Hank Greenberg, another Tiger hero who came off the sidewalks of New York to gain a place in baseball's Hall of Fame.

One of the most fascinating cases is that of Jimmy "Double X" Foxx, first baseman of the famed Philadelphia Athletics. Born in Easton, Md., he walked to Shibe Park in Philadelphia and begged a chance with the Athletics.

He got it and from there went on to greatness.

The Pennsylvania coal regions have supplied many of the baseball heroes. Fortunately, the Tigers had two of them as managers.

It was from the coal regions that Bucky Harris came to make a name for himself as a second baseman. He is a former manager of the Tigers and still is rated as one of the best second basemen. Another coal mine product was Steve O'Neil, a catcher who managed the Tigers in the 1945 World Series. A good steady player he always has been rated with the best.

AL KALINE, another Tiger Hall of Famer, served his apprenticeship in baseball on the sandlots of Baltimore where he still is a favorite.

"Dizzy" Trout, who cut quite a caper in the American League in the '30s and '40s, was a native of Sand Cut, Ind. Meanwhile Lou Gehrig is a native of New York City.

Bill Freehan, one of the Tigers great catchers, came off the University of Michigan campus to earn a place in the majors. And that's where Dick Wakefield got his start.

Harry Heilmann, another famous Tiger who is a Hall of Famer best known as the player who won the American League batting championship four times — three of them on alternate years in the 1920s.

So, if you go down the list you'll find many surprises and very few of the stars will be natives of the cities in which they rose to greatness in what is commonly referred to as the national pastime.

Opinions are to be shared

Opinions and ideas are most fertile when shared with others. That's why the Plymouth Observer encourages its readers to share their views with others by making use of the From Our Readers column.

While the Observer expresses its opinions on the editorial page, we always leave space open for our readers to express their ideas.

Submitting a letter to the editor for publication is rather easy. We ask that letters be typewritten or printed legibly, 300 words or less, signed, and include the address of the sender.

Names will be withheld only for the best of reasons and the decision to do so will be made by the editor.

Letters may be mailed or hand-delivered to our news office at 489 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

Observer sports ... national award winner

Suburban Newspapers of America:

Observer Sports ... more than just scores!
Our sports sections recently gained national recognition when the Observer won a national newspaper contest sponsored by the Suburban Newspapers of America. Roy Gault, journalism professor at Oregon State University, judged the Observer as the nation's best weekly sports sections among the entries received. This is just one example of our commitment to quality and excellence for our local readers.

"The volume and diversity of local amateur events/stories was by far the best of the entries. The writing is generally good, and the comprehensive (statistics) is a nice, newsy touch."

Fall Brunch

CORNUCOPIA

RAISIN-WALNUT CRESCENTS

- 2 cups Bisquick baking mix
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 tablespoon granulated sugar
- 3 tablespoons margarine, softened
- 1/4 cup packed brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons raisins
- 2 tablespoons chopped walnuts
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 tablespoon water
- Glaze (below)

Heat oven to 425°. Mix baking mix, 1/2 cup cold water and the granulated sugar until soft dough forms; beat vigorously 30 seconds. Gently smooth dough into ball on surface well floured with baking mix. Knead 10 times. Roll or pat dough into 12-inch circle; spread with margarine. Mix brown sugar, raisins and walnuts; sprinkle over margarine. Cut into 12 wedges. Roll up, beginning at rounded edges. Place crescents, with points underneath, on ungreased cookie sheet; curve slightly. Mix egg yolk and 1 tablespoon water; brush over crescents. Bake until golden brown, 10 to 12 minutes; cool slightly. Prepare Glaze; drizzle over crescents. 12 crescents.

Glaze

- 1 tablespoon margarine
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 to 3 teaspoons water

Heat margarine over medium heat until delicate brown. Mix margarine and remaining ingredients until smooth and of desired consistency.

CREPE CUPS LORRAINE

- Crepes (see recipe at right)
- 2 cups (8 ounces) shredded natural Swiss cheese
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1 cup half-and-half
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 2 eggs
- 8 slices bacon, crisply cooked and crumbled

Prepare Crepes. Heat oven to 350°. Grease 12 medium muffin cups, 2-1/2x1-1/4 inches. Toss cheese with flour. Mix half-and-half, salt, pepper and eggs; stir into cheese mixture. Stir in bacon. Fit crepes in muffin cups; fill each with 2 tablespoons cheese mixture. Bake 30 minutes. 6 servings.

"Come for brunch." It's the best way to entertain friends in a relaxing manner.

With the advent of fall's cooler weather, you can choose a brunch menu to take advantage of delicious baking ideas plus the season's plentiful fruits.

Guests will delight in classic quiche baked in crepe-lined muffin cups. They taste as good as they look. Simple chicken salad wrapped in biscuit dough is another main-dish idea. Top it with a smooth cheesy sauce just before serving.

Fresh-baked fruit and nut crescents add a sweet touch. For a burst of color 'round the buffet table, enjoy a fruit salad complemented with cream cheese topping laced with lemon.

Brunch — you and your guests are going to love it.

Crepes: Lightly grease 6- or 7-inch skillet; heat until hot. Beat 1 cup Bisquick baking mix, 3/4 cup milk and 2 eggs with hand beater until smooth. For each crepe, pour 2 tablespoons batter into skillet; rotate skillet until batter covers bottom. Cook until golden brown. Gently loosen edge with metal spatula; turn and cook other side until golden brown. Stack crepes, placing waxed paper between each.

Do-ahead Tip: Prepare Crepes. Stack 6 cooled crepes between waxed paper. Wrap in aluminum foil and refrigerate up to 2 days.

CHICKEN SALAD TWIST WITH GOLDEN SAUCE

- 2 cups cut-up cooked chicken
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced celery
- 1/2 cup toasted slivered almonds
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups Bisquick baking mix
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 tablespoon water
- Golden Sauce (below)

Heat oven to 425°. Mix chicken, celery, almonds, mayonnaise, lemon juice, onion and salt; reserve. Mix baking mix and 1/2 cup cold water until soft dough forms; beat vigorously 20 strokes. Gently smooth dough into ball on surface floured with baking mix. Knead 5 times. Roll dough into rectangle, 14x11 inches; place on ungreased cookie sheet. Spoon chicken mixture lengthwise down center of rectangle. Make cuts, 2-1/2 inches long, at 1-inch intervals on 14-inch sides of rectangle. Fold strips over filling. Mix egg yolk and 1 tablespoon water; brush over dough. Bake until light brown, 15 to 20 minutes. Prepare Golden Sauce; serve with twist. 6 servings.

Golden Sauce

- 1/2 pound pasteurized process cheese spread, cubed
- 1/4 cup milk

Combine process cheese spread and milk in saucepan; stir over low heat until smooth.

FRUIT SALAD SUPREME

- 1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1/2 cup powdered sugar
- 4 cups apple slices
- 3 cups honeydew melon chunks
- 3 cups seedless green grapes
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans

Mix cream cheese, milk, lemon peel and lemon juice. Beat whipping cream and powdered sugar in chilled small bowl until stiff. Fold cream cheese mixture into whipped cream mixture. Mix 1/2 cup of the cream cheese mixture and the apple slices. Layer melon, apple mixture and grapes in 3-quart bowl. Top with remaining cream cheese mixture; sprinkle with pecans. 12 servings.

Warm up for fall with these Tex-Mex fire and ice eggs

Clever cooks have found that a few eggs and a little imagination can go a long way toward creating easy-to-prepare main dishes that are perfect for any meal of the day. When old familiar egg recipes are spruced up with San Antonio style, they take on new family-pleasing taste appeal.

In Mexico picante means hot and spicy. In San Antonio it refers to a spicy blend of garden-fresh flavors found in a popular sauce with authentic Mexican taste. A standby for eggs prepared any style, picante sauce makes a lively flavor difference in standard egg recipes when substituted for all or part of the liquid or used as a topping. For instant Huevos Rancheros, a Southwestern menu favorite, simply pour picante sauce into the skillet in which you've fried or poached eggs to warm it though before spooning on top.

Fire and Ice Eggs combines eggs with bacon, cheese and rice in a satisfying casserole that's a snap to fix. The "fire" of picante sauce and the "ice" of dairy sour cream provide the palate-pleasing contrast so typical of Tex-Mex specialties. Bake until the eggs are as done as you like them, and serve San Antonio style, with additional picante sauce.

Whether you call it quiche, egg and cheese pie or custard tart, this popular dish is "easier than pie" to prepare and ideal for brunch, lunch or supper. Picante Quiche quickly combines cheese, eggs, half and half and picante sauce to bake without fuss in a convenient frozen pie crust. As the hearty-flavored quiche bakes, an easy topping of picante sauce and fresh tomato is simmered for spooning over individual servings. A favorite of those who love assertive flavors but can do without excessive calories, picante sauce provides only 6 calories per tablespoon with no fat, cholesterol, preservatives or additives.

For additional recipes and serving suggestions using Pace Picante Sauce, Pace Foods Inc. has created a set of 10 colorful, durable recipe cards, available free. To request your copy send your name, address and zip code to: Free Pace Recipe Cards, P.O. Box NBS169, El Paso, Texas 79977. Quantity requests from schools, clubs and other organizations will be honored.

FIRE AND ICE EGGS

- 5 strips bacon, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 3 cups hot cooked rice
- 1 1/2 cups (6 oz.) shredded Colby, Cheddar or Monterey Jack cheese
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/4 cup picante sauce
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 5 eggs

Cook bacon until crisp; drain well. Combine rice, 1 cup of the cheese, sour cream, Picante Sauce and salt; mix well. Spoon into 8-inch square baking dish. Make 5 deep indentations with the back of a spoon in the rice mixture. Drop an egg into each indentation. Arrange bacon around eggs and sprinkle with remaining 1/2 cup cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes or until eggs are cooked to desired doneness. Serve with additional Picante Sauce. Makes 5 servings.

PICANTE QUICHE

- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 2 tbsp. flour
- 1 cup picante sauce
- 1/2 cup half-and-half
- 1/2 cup chopped red or green pepper
- 4 strips bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 3 eggs, beaten
- Dash salt and pepper
- 1 9-inch frozen pie shell
- 1 small tomato, chopped

Toss cheese with flour in large bowl. Add 1/2 cup of the Picante Sauce, half-and-half, red pepper, bacon, eggs, salt and pepper; mix well. Pour into pie shell. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes or until set. Remove from oven; let stand 10 minutes. While quiche stands, heat remaining Picante Sauce with tomato in small saucepan. Serve sauce over quiche. Makes 6 servings.

Add dash to campfire meals with dehydrated onion and garlic

The aromas of sauteeing onion and garlic invariably prompt people to call out "What wonderful things are you cooking?"

The news today is you can keep those compliments coming without peeling, waste, muss or fuss. What saves the day — and the cook — is onion and garlic in their dehydrated forms, either instant minced, or powdered, or garlic and onion salts. And when you're cooking at the beach, mountains or on a picnic outing, these spices have the added virtue of being compact and light to carry.

In our first recipe (so easy) the catch-of-the-day is coated with cornmeal mixed with onion and garlic powders and sauteed quickly. For vegetable go-alongs, shake onion and garlic powders over sliced fresh tomatoes, or sprinkle on corn-on-the-cob.

An easy fish stew in an Italian accent can be made by heating a can of tomatoes with onion and garlic powders, oregano and crushed red pepper (tote the spices in tightly twisted plastic bags if you like). Simmer until thickened, add fish chunks and get your plates ready.

CAMPFIRE FISH

- 1 cup cornmeal
- 2 tsp. onion powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. garlic powder
- 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper
- 2 lbs. fish fillets (1/2-inch thick)
- 4 tbsp. vegetable oil

Combine cornmeal, onion powder, salt, garlic powder and black pepper. Coat both sides of fish with cornmeal mixture, shaking off excess. In a large skillet heat 2 tablespoons of the oil until hot. Add 2 of the fish fillets. Fry until browned and fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 3 minutes on each side. Remove from skillet. Repeat with remaining fish.

CAMPFIRE FISH STEW

- 1 can (16 oz.) whole tomatoes, broken up
- 1 tsp. onion powder
- 1/2 tsp. oregano leaves, crushed
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. garlic powder
- 1/4 tsp. crushed red pepper
- 1 lb. fish fillets, cut into 1-inch pieces

In a large skillet place tomatoes, onion powder, oregano, salt, garlic powder and crushed red pepper. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer uncovered until mixture is slightly thickened, about 4 minutes. Add fish. Simmer uncovered until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 4 minutes. Serve over slices of toasted Italian bread, if desired.

We want to take stroke out of the executive suite.

Having a stroke isn't something you plan. But the fact is more than 1,800,000 Americans alive today have had a stroke. Stroke can be prevented by limiting your risk factors and seeing your physician if you have any of the following warning signs:

- Sudden temporary weakness or numbness of the face, arm or leg on one side of the body.
- Temporary loss of speech, or trouble in speaking or understanding speech.
- Temporary dimness or loss of vision, particularly in one eye.
- Unexplained dizziness, unsteadiness or sudden falls.

Schaw-Zajac

Kathy Christine Zajac and Robert Allan Schaw exchanged marriage vows Aug. 16 in First Methodist Church, Big Rapids. The Rev. Richard E. Johns officiated. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Zajac of Acushnet, Mass., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Schaw of Brookside Drive, Plymouth.

The bride's gown had a chapel-length train of lace and ribbon and a lace bodice with ribbon trim and pearls. Her waltz-length veil was trimmed with matching lace. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers centered with a blue rose. Carol Welch, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Donna Schaw, Maureen Amaral, Pauline Wasek and Yvonne Robichaud wore mint green A-line gowns and carried spring bouquets.

Brian Zugel was best man and ushers were Jeff Claeys, Andy Wagner, Jogn Grotz and Dennis Stockwell.

The wedding reception was at the Osceola Inn and the couple motored to the East coast. They will live in the Greater Boston area. Both are August graduates of Ferris State College where they received bachelor of science degrees in printing management. The bridegroom graduated from Plymouth Salem High School in 1981 and his bride from Fairhaven High School, Mass. in 1980.

HALLOWEEN candy is on the shelves, reminding shoppers to stock up for trick or treaters.

A telephone call from one of our residents brought the reminder that all children cannot eat candy. Last year, her daughter came home after making her Halloween rounds, dumped out the contents of her bag, and cried. It was the 10-year-old's first Halloween as a diagnosed diabetic.

Her mother said there are many diabetic children out there. And she mentioned alternatives to the usual made-for-the-season, miniature chocolate bars.

She suggested balloons, stickers, pretzel sticks, corn chips, peanuts, fast food coupons or pennies. She also said she had seen felt tip pens in packages of 36 for just $2.

Any of those suggestions could be a welcome choice for most youngsters — diabetic or not.

THE YOUNG People's Concert Sunday, Oct. 7, at Plymouth Salem High School auditorium will feature not only the No-Elephant Circus, but some wonderful music by the Plymouth Symphony.

Maestro Johan van der Merwe will conduct the orchestra for "Dance of the Comedians" from Smetana's "The Bartered Bride"; "Entrance of Gladiators" by Fucik; "Carnival Overture" by Dvorak; and "Dance of the Troubadours" by Rimsky-Korsakov.

Trombonist Scott McElroy, guest soloist, will perform "Danny Boy" and "Blue Bells of Scotland."

The Sonata group of the Plymouth Symphony League has special thank-yous for the Plymouth Rotary Foundation, the Plymouth and Canton K mart stores, Realtor Robert Bake, and the Angel contributors, for making the concert possible.

Admission is $2.50 and tickets may be purchased at Beitner's Jewelry in Plymouth or Book Break in Canton Township. There will be performances at 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday.

ARTISTS and craftsmen interested in acquiring booth space at area craft shows, take note.

The Canton Jaycee Women and Men will host their sixth annual craft fair Saturday, Nov. 17, in Plymouth Canton High School. Deadline for applying for space is Thursday, Oct. 25. Rental fee is $18. For more information, call 981-2224 or 459-3004, after 6 p.m.

The Plymouth chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma is planning a craft fair to benefit scholarships for students at Plymouth Canton and Salem high schools. Artisans and crafters are needed for the Saturday, Nov. 10, fair in Plymouth Canton High School. Applications may be requested by calling 451-6545 between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. or by writing to Kay Koch, 8315 Clarendon, Canton, Mich. 48187.

Plymouth Newcomers and Ex-Newcomers who wish to sell their handmade crafts at the November Craft-a-Fair should call 453-4388 or 459-2897 to reserve a table.

VENETA HORNBACK and Juliette Gosch plan to meet Glenneta Vogelsang of St. Louis, Mo., national president of Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. Veneta is president of the Mayflower-Lt. Gamble V.F.W. Ladies Auxiliary and Juliette is a member.

The national president will be honored at a reception in the Village Tavern Banquet Hall at Boyne Mountain during her official visit to Michigan. As top officer of the 685,750-member organization, Vogelsang will make 51 appearances throughout the United States, Panama, Manila, Korea, Japan and Germany.

LOCAL SWEET Adelines are rehearsing for their "Run for the Roses" shows 3:30 and 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 13, in Plymouth Salem High School auditorium.

On stage will be Sharon Himebaugh, Maryann MacMurray and Pat Sullivan of Plymouth, and Pat Daubenmier, Lynn D'Orto, Joyce Fleisher, Teri Furr, Betty Koch, Linda Lupo, Bekki Ponte, Claudia Swisher, Kris Tandon and Pam Woods of Canton Township.

All are members of the Midwest Harmony chapter, Sweet Adelines. Matinee tickets at $8 will be available at the door. Evening tickets are $10. Call Jeanne Dittberner, 728-0395, for information.

Arts council announces, fall crafts workshops

Have a yen to learn a new craft — basketry, stenciling or making pierced lampshades? The Plymouth Community Arts Council has lined up expert teachers for its fall classes and workshops.

Beth Kohmescher is conducting two lampshade workshops. Each of her students will make a pierced lampshade in one, 2½-hour session. They will provide their own X-acto knife, a package of No. 11 blades, and a sheet of glass (about 8½ x 11 inches) with taped edges. Workshops are scheduled for 10 a.m.

to 12:30 p.m. and 7-9:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 25. Registration fee is $6 and kit is $2.50.

Theresa Ohno will teach a five-week series in basket making. A two-hour class will be offered both afternoons and evenings beginning Wednesday, Oct. 17 and running through Nov. 14. Hours will be 1-3 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Fee for the full course is $15.

MARILYN KATH'S stenciling workshop will have two, two-hour sessions. Participants will make a table runner and a bell-pull. Morning workshop will be 10 a.m. until noon Thursdays, Nov. 1 and 8. Evening workshop will be 7-9 p.m. Tuesdays, Nov. 6 and 13.

An X-acto knife, package of No. 11 blades, a pencil and a ruler are required equipment. Workshop fee is $8 and kit is $5.

Grace Kabel will give a five-hour basket workshop 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 17. Each member of her class will learn how to make an oblong basket. Fee is $8 and kit is $9. Materials needed for the workshop are a dishpan, towel, pencil, ruler, scissors, spring-type clothespins, and either an awl, ice pick or knitting needle.

Samples of the crafts made in the classes are on display at the arts council office, 332 S. Main Street.

For more information or to register for a class, call the PCAC, 455-8922, 9 a.m. to noon, Monday-Friday.

Punched lampshades are used to complement a decorating theme.

Co-op nursery has openings

Plymouth Children's Cooperative Nursery has a few openings for 4-year-olds in the Tuesday and Thursday afternoon classes.

Mystery plant

Guss Stoyanoff wishes someone would identify the plants in his front yard. The seeds, planted in the spring, came from Macedonia. They grew strong and tall, almost like Jack's beanstalk. The strong center stock, almost beet-red in color, is about two inches in diameter at the base. It grew to a height of more than eight feet, then the long, dark-red "things" began to grow down from the crest. Stoyanoff compares them to long braids of hair. Botanists may see the plant on the corner of Aspen, and Parkview in Plymouth Township.

Oktoberfest — just like an evening in Munich

Members of the German-American Club of Plymouth are getting out their dirndls and lederhosen for a celebration.

Their annual Oktoberfest party in the Plymouth Cultural Center begins at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 6. Residents of all ethnic backgrounds flock to the local counterpart of the great Bavarian festival. Participants dance and sing to the traditional German music of The Melodias. Imported German beer and wine is available for the occasion as well as big soft pretzels, knockwurst and sauerkraut, German potato salad, cake and, at the end of the evening, those special open-faced sandwiches.

Admission is $4 and advance reservations are advised by calling 420-0857 or 453-5839. There may be some tickets available at the door.

THE CLUB marks its 10th anniversary this year with a double celebration. Sixty members will be at Schoolcraft College's Waterman Center Friday evening for the Gourmet Club Oktoberfest. The German-American Club of Plymouth will be recognized during a full-course dinner prepared by Schoolcraft's inimitable culinary arts department.

Bob Fitzner recalls the first mention of the possibility of a German-American club early in 1974. During a conversation with Ken Garner at the Cultural Center, the talk drifted to possible new uses for the center. Festivals, dances and dinners were suggested and "How about a German Club?"

FITZNER checked with Welcome Wagon for names and began calling some German families. Six couples met in the center's lounge to discuss an organization for German people, their descendants or anyone interested in preserving and enjoying German culture.

The idea was accepted and in April 1974 an organizational meeting was held. Officers were elected, bylaws adopted and the German-American Club of Plymouth was off and running.

Club goals were to preserve and promote German culture, to provide assistance in scholarship funding, to provide a platform for social and cultural exchanges in programmed monthly meetings and to sponsor public events such as German festivals throughout the year.

THE CLUB grew under the guidance of presidents Tim Schelling, Fitzner, Gus Oesterle, Chuck Ploughman and Roger Feller.

Maria Mulzer is now president. Serving with her are Fritz Sanders, vice president; Edith Scherer, secretary; Mary Ann Sudhoff, treasurer; and Dean Deppert and Karl Ehrenfeld, auditors.

Elected officers meet as a board of directors one week before the regular membership meeting on the third Thursday of each month. The board handles club business and schedules all events.

Membership meetings are mostly social gatherings topped off with good kuchen and coffee.

Scholarships have been awarded each year to outstanding German language students in area high schools.

CHRISTMAS is celebrated German-style with a family party.

There are potluck dinners, a summer picnic, wine and cheese evenings. Special speakers and films are scheduled. The club plans trips to the theater, other clubs and festivals.

The scholarship award night is one of the highlights of the year.

Two festivals each year are open to the public and fill the Plymouth Cultural Center auditorium. Before Lent, there is Fasching, a German festival with costumes, and in the fall, there is the Oktoberfest.

Not all the members of the club are German, nor is German heritage a requirement for membership. Members come from Plymouth, Canton, Northville, Livonia and surrounding communities.

Ten years ago, when the club was organized, Bob Fitzner could not speak a word of German. Ten years later and after several trips to Germany, he speaks the language fluently.

During the Oktoberfest celebration, all nationalities enjoy the singing, dancing and eating. Speaking German is not a prerequisite for joining the fun.

Falcons throw Rocks for loop

By Rich Swenson
staff writer

Are the Farmington Falcons for real?

Who would've thought the Falcons would have a legitimate shot at capturing the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Lakes Division crown this season?

They made firm believers of Plymouth Salem Friday night, coming up with a convincing 23-16 win over the Rocks.

The visiting Falcons dominated the game both offensively and defensively, and head coach Don Kuick couldn't have been happier with the result.

"IT WAS A whale of a game — we came to play," said Kuick, whose team won its third game in four outings. "The kids really played well tonight. We controlled the game in the second half."

Now in his second season as head coach, Kuick believes the Falcons have finally turned their program around.

"I don't think we've won three games in a season in the last seven years," he said. "The league title is up for grabs. If we continue to play well, we can win it."

The Falcons used a ball control offense, amassing 253 yards on the ground while rushing the ball 62 times. They compiled 16 first downs in the game, while holding Salem to just five.

Junior tailback Jim Laird was the workhorse, carrying the ball 22 times for 66 yards. Senior Dave Cunningham rushed for 62 yards on 12 carries, including a touchdown and Bruce Kelsey added 64 yards on 13 carries. He scored the Falcons' final touchdown.

"Our running game was good and our blocking was great," Kuick said. "We've had a few problems with our passing game, but we threw for a TD tonight."

THE FALCONS jumped out to a 9-0 lead, taking advantage of several Rock turnovers.

Salem quarterback Steve Sobditch fumbled on the Rocks' opening possession, recovered by the Farmington's Craig Petersmark at the 34-yard line. The Falcons drive stalled at the 7-yard line, but placekicker Bruce Kratt connected on a 23-yard field goal to give the Falcons a 3-0 lead.

Farmington struck again after another Rock turnover — an interception of a Sobditch pass by cornerback Joe Bob Wenson that gave the Falcons the ball at the Salem 49-yard line. Farmington moved the ball deep into Rock territory. Then, on third and one, quarterback Chris Green hit receiver Ab Hazen with a 14-yard scoring strike to make it 9-0.

Kratt missed the conversion when he collided with one of the linesman while making his attempt.

The Rocks came back late in the half to make it close. Sobditch was replaced by junior quarterback John Storm, who hit four straight passes to give Salem its only sustained drive of the day.

AFTER CONNECTING with split end Brian Tiller for a 40-yard gain, he unloaded a 19-yard scoring strike to Steve Brodzik, who made a circus catch at the 5 and carried it into the end zone.

Placekicker Mark Dixon took a pitch from Sobditch on the fake extra point attempt and dashed into the end zone untouched, making it 9-8 at the half.

But Farmington came out storming in the second half, scoring on its first two possessions — a 4-yard run by Cunningham and 1-yard plunge by Kelsey to make it 23-8.

"At halftime, I thought we were going to win it," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "We had the momentum, but we gave the ball up on our first drive in the second half and they came down and scored."

Salem made a last ditch effort to catch the Falcons late in the game on Brian Tiller's brilliant 50-yard punt return for a touchdown. The Rocks made the two-point conversion to pull within seven points.

But Salem's onside kick on the ensuing kickoff fell harmlessly into the hands of Farmington's Dave Bottrill.

FOR SALEM, the game was a comedy, or tragedy, of errors. The Rocks committed six turnovers, including four fumbles and two interceptions. And they managed just 22 net yards on the ground.

"You can't turn the ball over that many times and generate any offense," Moshimer said. "It puts too much pressure on the defense."

"The defense played well at first, but were worn out at the end. It was discouraging. Our offense wasn't mentally ready — there was no execution."

The Rocks, now 0-2 in the WLAA and 1-3 overall, had to play the game without star split end Craig Morton, who hurt his shoulder in last week's disappointing loss to Livonia Bentley.

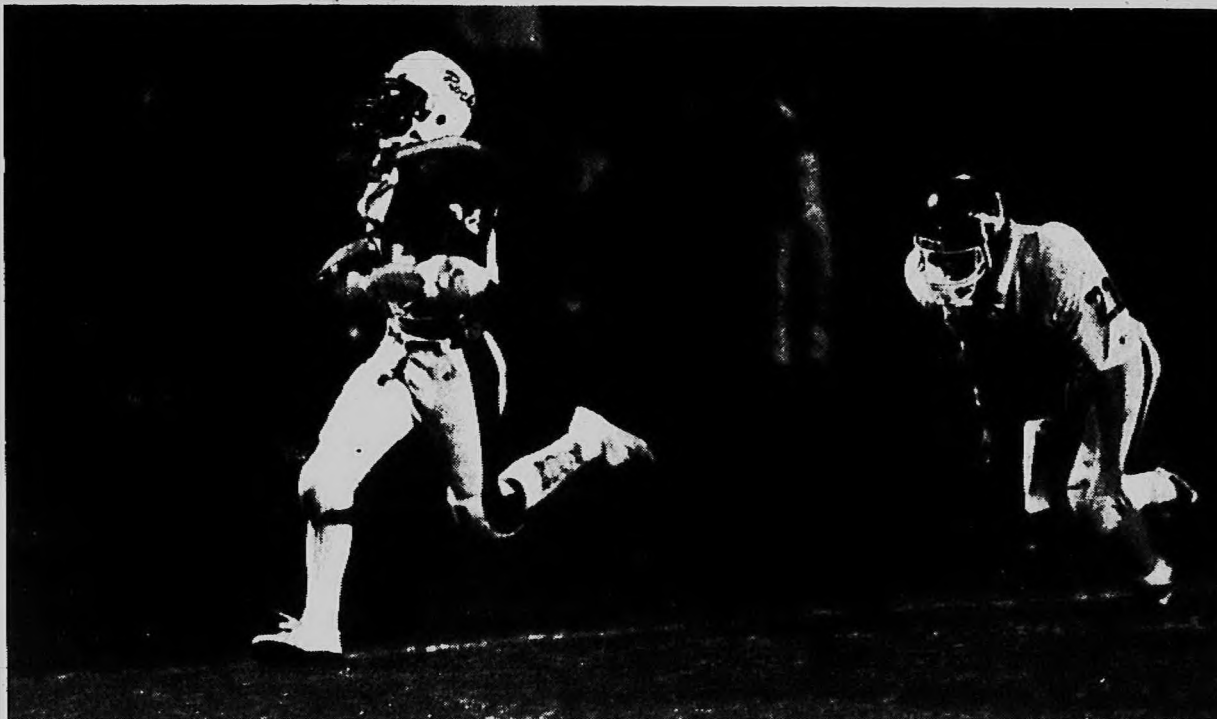

But Moshimer was pleased with the play of Storm, who did a fine job in relief of Sobditch. The 5-foot-11 junior hit on 7 of 15 passes for 129 yards and one touchdown.

"I WAS PROUD of Storm," Moshimer said. "He came in under a difficult situation. He hasn't practiced much. He came in cold and did a heckuva job."

Sobditch may have lost his starting quarterback position to Storm, but he played an outstanding game on defense. He made two touchdown-saving interceptions in the end zone that kept the Rocks in the game in the second half.

For Salem, things don't get any easier. The Rocks meet Stevenson (1-1, 3-1) next week.

"We'll just have to get tougher," Moshimer said.

Chiefs blow lead, game

For the third week in a row, the Plymouth Canton football team snatched defeat out of near-certain victory.

The Chiefs wasted two 14-point leads in Friday night's 24-21 loss to Northville.

David Knapp scored on runs of 35 and 2 yards to put Canton up 14-0 at the half.

Northville made it 14-7 in the third, but Canton answered with an 80-yard kickoff return by Matt Flower to make it 21-7.

football

Undefeated Northville, scored 17 points in the final quarter to bury Canton.

The winning field goal came with three minutes remaining.

"Who knows?" said Canton coach

Rich Barr when asked about his team's failure to hang onto leads. The Chiefs blew a 28-15 third quarter lead last week against Livonia Churchill. "We keep giving up the big plays."

The Chiefs also keep coughing up the football at inopportune times. Like in the fourth quarter Friday. They were up 21-7 and were threatening the Northville goal line again. But, they fumbled it away at the Mustang 20. Northville is 4-0, Canton 1-3.

Canton discovers zone-buster in time to top Dearborn, 39-28

For awhile Thursday night it appeared as if Dearborn's sagging zone defense would smother the Plymouth Canton girls basketball team.

After one quarter the score read Dearborn 6, Canton 3. It was an ugly quarter.

Canton's wife-husband coaching team, Phyllis and John Mulroy, asked the appropriate question between quarters: "Who you gonna call?"

"Zone-buster!"

The zone-buster Thursday night proved to be Laura Darby. Darby scored eight points in the second quarter to lead a 15-4 Chief uprising and eventually to a 39-28 victory at Dearborn.

girls basketball

"WE FINALLY solved their zone," said John Mulroy of Dearborn's 1-2-2 defense. "We switched to a different zone offense in the second quarter and did a serious job on the boards. It was our best board game all season."

Darby, who finished with 10 points, also grabbed 10 rebounds. Diana Knickerbocker had seven points and six rebounds.

Well, if Darby was Bill Murray (the ghost, er, zone-buster), then Kathy Ross must have been Dan Aykroyd (the mastermind of the operation). It was Ross, the point guard, who was able to draw Dearborn's zone out higher which freed Darby inside.

It was a big win for Canton. They missed an opportunity Tuesday night to share first place in the Western Division when they lost to Farmington. The victory Thursday helped avoid a huge depression.

It also upped Canton's record to 3-3 (2-2 in the Western Lakes) — and considering five of those six games were played on the road, the Chiefs have to feel good about their start.

VanHoose paces 1st Eagle win

Debbie Van Hoose was on the loose Friday night.

The senior forward scored 12 of her game-high 14 points in the opening quarter to give Plymouth Christian a 37-32 girls basketball win over Grosse Pointe University-Liggett in a game played at Pioneer Middle School.

The Eagles jumped out to a 15-5 first quarter lead and then held on for the victory.

"We played man-to-defense, full court most of the first half," explained Plymouth Christian coach Jeff Cook. "Debbie got most of her points from steals. Then she got in foul trouble."

Guard Kim Allen, who did a fine job of penetrating the Knights defense, added 11 points for the winners.

"Both Debbie and Kim played real well," said Cook. "And Val Andres (6 points) got a key bucket for us when the game was tied in the fourth quarter."

Sue Cleek and Samantha DeSmet tallied 14 and 12, respectively, in a losing cause.

Christian travels Tuesday to Detroit Bethesda before coming home Friday to face Lutheran Northwest at Pioneer.

Rock girls remain undefeated, Salem boys fall to Farmington

The Plymouth Salem girls cross country team advanced its undefeated record in Western Lakes dual meets to 3-0 by beating an improving Farmington contingent 25-30, Thursday at Cass Benton.

Denise Durrer, the All-Area runner who transferred to Salem from Redford Union, led the way for the Rocks with her first-place 20:52.

Farmington's Nicole Jelley (21:08) placed second. Anna Quenneville and Diana Wickham tied for third (21:56) and Lisa Mickey took eighth (23:22). It was the best performance of the season for Farmington despite the loss.

Salem got a third from Amy Miyazaki (21:28), a sixth from Brenda Boyd (22:12) and a seventh from Erica Bashor (23:01).

The win puts Salem in the drivers

cross country

seat in the Western Lakes Lakes Division.

"I don't really know what Walled Lake has and Stevenson will give us a fight," said Salem coach Tom Truesdale. "We look good in our division. On the other side, Northville and Walled Lake Western will be tough opponents."

Salem is 3-1 overall, Farmington now 2-4.

THE FARMINGTON boys cross country team, ranked No. 2 in Observerland and No. 9 in the state coaches poll, won its sixth straight dual meet of the season at the Rocks' expense Thursday, 15-48.

The Falcons won it in typical fashion, they took the first six places, all six finishing within 38 seconds of each other.

"Farmington," said Tom Truesdale, "is just awesome this year. That's really all you can say."

Chris Inch took first with a 16:29 clocking. Al Stebbins was second (16:40). Bruce Kratt (16:59), Bryan Lawton (17:02), Dave Dunneback (17:03) and Bruce Kerr (17:07) followed them home.

Salem (3-2), minus its best two runners, Scott Steiner and Tony Atwell who are out with injuries, got a seventh from Eric Pederson (17:40). Rick Routson took eighth (17:55) and John Keros ninth (17:59).

Salem survives late rally

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Plymouth Salem girls basketball coach Fred Thomann knew Thursday night's game with Livonia Stevenson wasn't going to be easy.

The host Rocks, who posted their biggest win of the season Tuesday against state-ranked Walled Lake Western, made the right plays down the stretch to hold off the upset-minded Spartans 47-43.

"The hardest thing is coming back and playing after a win like that," said Thomann, whose team is 7-1 overall. "I thought we had Stevenson put away at half, but they came back and played as fine and as good a game as I've ever seen them play."

The Rocks held a commanding 27-15 lead at the half thanks to Reggie Rojas's jumper at the buzzer. But Stevenson, using a zone trap, cut the deficit to eight at the end of three quarters and led once, 38-37, on Lisa Bokovoy's layup with 5:17 to play in the final period.

The Spartans also tied it at 43-all with 1:03 to go on Joan Frysinger's hoop.

BUT THE ROCKS answered back as Kendra Hostynski scored the go-ahead hoop with 42 seconds remaining to break the deadlock. Stevenson then coughed up the ball on the transition and Salem regained possession. Fran Whittaker then connected on two free throws with only 12 seconds remaining to put the game away.

"We were looking for the drive (to the basket) or the 'baby-J' (jump shot)," Thomann explained. "We didn't want to hold it at the end of the game."

Mary Beth Weast scored 12 first-half points and finished with 16 points to lead the Rocks. Whittaker, who played a fine all-around floor game, added 14.

The loss, a bitter one, dropped Stevenson to 5-2 overall.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Salem senior Fran Whittaker put on a solid performance in Thursday night's victory against Livonia Stevenson. She scored 14 points.

"They took it hard," said the Spartans' second-year coach Wayne Henry. "To get better, we have to make the inside shots. And we have to believe in ourselves a little more. We have to come in with the confidence that we can pull an upset."

"SOME OF our practices have lacked intensity. Maybe this will help."

Stevenson utilized its tall frontline in the second half by throwing lob passes inside to Frysinger.

The 6-foot-1 senior enjoyed a banner night on the boards. She finished with 22 points to lead all scorers.

The 6-1 Bokovoy, who helped trigger the Spartans' second-half charge, contributed 13 points.

"At times we handled their pressure well and at other times we didn't," Thomann said. "Our players didn't make mistakes (on the lob passes). They just can't get up there. Stevenson is good at going over the top."

The difference may have been poise.

Salem showed a little more savvy in the final minutes of play. Stevenson, meanwhile, was hit by a costly technical foul, two missed layups and two turnovers.

"We haven't peaked, but nobody has," Henry said. "The teams we're playing have all been to summer camps. Three of our starters didn't play at any camp. We haven't caught up."

Maybe the Spartans will have caught up in time for the rematch — Tuesday, Oct. 23, at Stevenson.

Ocelot kickers topple Michigan

Sue Ferguson is big, strong and talented. By herself, she can physically wear down a team.

Ask any member of University of Michigan's soccer team. Ferguson, a Farmington native, made believers of the Wolverines Wednesday by scoring all four of Schoolcraft College's goals in a 4-1 triumph at Schoolcraft.

"She had a very good game — again," said Schoolcraft coach Ed Dudek of his star striker.

To say the Ocelot offense relies on Ferguson, or even that it is built around her, would not do her justice. Ferguson is the Schoolcraft offense.

Note: The team has scored 14 goals in five games (three wins, a loss and a tie); Ferguson has scored 11 of them. She has assisted on the other three.

rine end of the field. By the second half, the Ocelots — and Ferguson — started to capitalize.

"It was the first game we actually had some depth out there," said Dudek of his squad, which was beset by injuries early in the season. "In the second half we just totally exhausted them."

FERGUSON SAPPED any momentum Michigan might have carried into the second half quickly, scoring seven minutes after intermission. She added two others before retiring for the day. Lori Engle, from Plymouth Canton, picked up three assists and Mary Taylor, from Southfield, and Amy McCauley, from Sterling Heights, added single assists.

The improved injury report brightened Dudek's outlook before what may be the most important weekend of the season (prior to the NJCAA tournament). The Ocelots travel to New York for games against Monroe Community College in Rochester Saturday and Alfred State College in Alfred Sunday.

Monroe is one of the top-rated teams in the NJCAA.

Junior hoops signup

The Plymouth-Canton Junior Basketball Association (PCJBA), a successful youth basketball program for boys and girls grades 3-12, has scheduled two registration dates:

- 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 29.
- 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday Oct. 6.

The registration, for all boys and girls living in the Plymouth-Canton School District, or living in Canton Township, will take place at the Canton High School Phase III gymnasium.

The PCJBA divides itself into three leagues for girls and five leagues for boys.

The girls leagues are: C League (3rd, 4th and 5th graders), B League (6th and 7th) and AA League (grades 8-12).

THE BOYS leagues are: C League (3rd and 4th), B League (5th and 6th), A' League (7th and 8th), AA League (9th and 10th) and AAA League (11th and 12th).

The registration fees are: $25 for girls and boys C and B leagues, $25 for girls AA and boys A, and $30 for boys AA and AAA leagues. The fees will not exceed $75 for families registering simultaneously.

Interested players, accompanied by a parent, should bring the registration fee to one of the registration dates.

All PCJBA players are put on a team. No one is cut. Tryouts are held to ensure balanced teams. Every player will play at least a quarter of each game and not more than three quarters.

Also, the PCJBA needs referees. Young people interested in officiating the games should register at the above times. You don't have to be a member of a school basketball team to referee.

Adult coaches are also needed and should inquire at the registration periods.

Chief tankers blast Bentley

There were a couple of interesting motivating factors working for the Plymouth Canton swim team in its 100-69 win against Livonia Bentley Thursday.

First of all, the Chiefs had lost their season opener in frustrating manner to rival Plymouth Salem last week. The Chiefs took nine of 11 firsts in that meet.

Second, coach Hooker Wellman gave his Chiefs a little history lesson.

"I reminded them that this is the last year we will be swimming Bentley," Wellman said. Bentley High School is closing after this school year. "Last year was the first time we had ever beaten them. I wanted to let them know this was their last shot at them."

The pumped up Chiefs blew the Bulldogs out of the water. They took eight firsts and six seconds.

Ginnie Johnson and Lynn Massey led the assault with two firsts apiece.

Johnson, a state-class performer, won the 200-yard individual medley (2:24.24) and the 100 butterfly (1:03.88).

Massey won the 50 freestyle (26.59) and the 100 free (57.57).

Johnson and Massey also swam the last two legs of Canton's winning 200 medley relay. They teamed with Kelly Kirk and Margaret Gilligan on a 2:01.98 clocking.

Canton also got firsts from Michelle Stackpole (1:10.34 in the 100 backstroke) and Sue Schendel (1:22.08 in the 100 breaststroke).

The Chiefs' Kelly Daily (173.10) and Megan McGow (162.60) went 1-2 in the diving competition.

Ann Schlapfer won both the 200 free

swimming

(2:03.54) and the 500 free (5:30.90) for Bentley.

Afterwards, Wellman praised the Bulldog program. "They have been a powerful swim team throughout the years. Coach Keith Wright is an outstanding coach and person. You know, his swimmers were given an option of transferring to another school before this season. But, most of them have stayed. He's really done a good job."

PLYMOUTH SALEM had an easy time Thursday disposing of Walled Lake Central 125-47.

The Rocks won 10 of 11 events and there were no double winners.

Theresa Shaffer won the 200 free (2:22.4), Karen Dalpe won the 200 IM (2:38.1) and Ellen Foley won the 50 free (29.5).

Other winners were: Cory Silver, diving (points unknown); Kristal Taylor, 100 butterfly (1:09.7); Laura Shaffer, 100 free (58.0); Erin Boughton, 500 free (6:12.7); and Lindsay Olson, 100 breaststroke (1:21.1).

Olson, Cindy Elliott, Shannon Murphy and Taylor won the 200 medley relay in 2:06.8. Laura Shaffer, Sue Bennett, Jennifer Barr and Dalpe won the 400 free relay in 4:12.2.

This is Central's first full year of swim competition.

Salem is 2-0 in the Western Lakes, 3-1 overall.

● RECORD-SETTER

Géralyn Repasky started the school year at Bowling Green the same way she ended the summer in Livonia.

Repasky, after finishing runner-up three times in the Observer & Eccentric women's golf tournament, shot a 79 and won it Aug. 22. At the time, the Livonian said, "This is the best I've played in a year and a half. This is the first time I've broken 80 in a year and a half."

It didn't take her long to break 80 again. A sophomore at Bowling Green, Repasky shattered the school record by firing rounds of 76, 74 and 77 for a 227 and a third-place finish overall at the Michigan State Fall Invitational last weekend.

Her play helped Bowling Green place fourth in the 13-team event. Indiana was first, followed by Michigan State and Illinois State. Repasky finished three strokes behind medalist Sara DeKraay of Indiana (224).

● BRONCO SCORER

Western Michigan was unbeaten after five soccer games, with junior forward Jim Berry contributing three goals and two assists.

The Broncos (4-0-1) ripped Spring Arbor 6-1 Sept. 21, with Berry, a Livonia Stevenson grad, notching two goals

● FIRST GOAL

Keith Reynolds, a junior from Plymouth, scored his first collegiate goal for Central Michigan in a 5-1 victory over Albion recently.

Reynolds' goal came late in the first half and gave the Chippewas a 3-0 lead. The CMU win was its second in five games.

● SCORING DEMON

Steve Tracy has been putting some points on the board for Michigan Tech this football season.

The Livonia Churchill grad, now a junior, caught two passes for 34 yards, including a 12-yard touchdown reception, and booted three extra points in Tech's 41-14 win over St. Norbert Sept. 16.

The next week, Tracy caught one pass for nine yards and kicked six PATs to help the Huskies rout Lake-Land 56-3. Another Tracy, freshman Bob, Steve's younger brother, carried the ball three times for nine yards and caught a pass for 16 yards.

● TITANS TERRIFIC

Freshman Ken Dubois continued to sparkle for University of Detroit's cross-country team, pacing the Titans with a school record-breaking performance at the Western Ontario Invitational last Saturday (Sept. 22).

Dubois, from Livonia Stevenson, finished 18th overall in 28:29. That clocking was 27 seconds faster than Dan Ryan's former school record, set last year.

Sophomore Tom Zakrzewski, a Redford Catholic Central alum, placed third among Titan runners and 45th overall (29:32). U-D was seventh among 15 teams.

The U-D women did not fare as well, placing 13th out of 16 teams. Louise Shaheen, formerly of Redford Bishop Borgess, placed 77th overall (17:33) and third among the Titans.

● PASSING FANCY

Mike Gatt, a Livonia native and a Redford Catholic Central grad, continues to impress as Hillsdale's quarterback. Through three games, the junior has completed 40 of 65 passes (62 percent) for 486 yards and six TDs. He has thrown just one interception.

Falcon linksters roll

The Farmington golf team won its eighth dual match in nine tries Wednesday beating Northville 200-219 at Godwin Glen.

Mark Bailey had the low round, a 1-over par 36. Dave Casaroll and Gordie

Wright shot 40s for Farmington, Keith Atkinson 41 and Tom Waling and Karl Borbi carded 43s.

The Falcons are 6-1 in the Western Lakes.

Spartans power past Canton, 2-1

The final score was 2-1, but according to all accounts, the match wasn't that close.

No. 1-ranked (both in Observerland and state coaches soccer polls) Livonia Stevenson knocked off Plymouth Canton in a Western Lakes confrontation Thursday.

"We just couldn't put it in there (the net)," said Stevenson coach Pete Scerri. "The kids are feeling the pressure. We had plenty of chances in the second half but just couldn't score."

The play was in the Canton zone most of the match. Stevenson scored twice in the first half, goals by Joe Novak and Chris Wiegel.

Canton got its lone goal from Brad Neville in the second half. After Neville's goal, however, the Chiefs were hard-pressed to advance the ball past midfield.

That's not a knock on Canton's team, rather, it is a tribute to Stevenson's overall strength — they aren't 10-0 for nothing.

Canton's record is now 6-2. It was the Chiefs' first loss in the Western Lakes.

NORTHVILLE 3, PLY. SALEM 1: Salem coach Ken Johnson described it

this way: "We ran into a buzzsaw last night."

Pretty apt description. Northville, as a result of an embarrassing 3-3 tie with Livonia Franklin last week, came out with fire in its eyes Thursday night.

The Mustangs scored twice in the first four minutes of the match.

"Northville came out so fast in the first half I couldn't believe it," Johnson said.

The Rocks settled down and began carrying the play in the second half. But, by that time it was 3-0.

Dave Dameron scored the lone Salem goal on an assist from Kevin Sultana. It was his fifth goal in three games.

Joe Knoeri, Salem goalie, played a strong game. He saved 25 of the 28 shots that came at him. Salem retaliated 21 shots on the Northville goal, most in the second half.

Salem, ranked No. 4 in Observerland, is now 7-2. They had been ranked No. 7 in the state coaches poll. Northville is now 5-2-1.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS FROM FRIENDS TO FRIENDS. I'm perfectly fine. I can drive with my eyes closed. There's nothing wrong with me. Are you joking—I feel great. What am I—a wimp? I'm in great shape to drive. You're not serious are you? What's a couple of beers? Nobody drives my car but me. I've never felt better. I can drink with the best of them. But I only had a few. So I had a couple. I can drive rings around anybody. I can drive my own car, thank you. I'm not drunk. I drive better when I'm like this. Who says I can't drink drive? I can hold my booze. I know I'm doing. I always drive like this. Trust me. What's a few drinks to me. I'm driving with my eyes closed with me. I can drink.

Howard E. Rollins Jr. stars as Capt. Richard Davenport, an Army officer investigating the murder of a black sergeant at a southern U.S. Army base during World War II, in "A Soldier's Story," directed by Norman Jewison.

the movies
Dan Greenberg

'Soldier's Story' is most authentic

This "Soldier's Story" may not be a pleasant one, but it has the ring of truth to it. Most important, it is a story that needs to be told: the story of what the pressures of white America have done to black Americans and what black Americans do to each other. "A Soldier's Story" is the tale of Capt. Davenport's (Howard E. Rollins Jr.) investigation into the murder of Sgt. Waters (Adolph Caesar). The time is 1944 when the United States Army was still segregated and black American soldiers, even ones like Waters who had served overseas combat roles in World War I, were largely confined to custodial duties. Waters' unit is stationed in Arkansas and suspicion of guilt falls on two white officers when his body is discovered. Washington sends Davenport, an attorney and one of the first black officers, to investigate the murder. What follows is an engrossing hour-and-a-half as Davenport threads his way through the troubled waters of southern politics-of-accommodation to the ugly truths of prejudice and segregation.

PRODUCED AND DIRECTED by Norman Jewison, and based on the original stage production by the Negro Ensemble Company which played the Fisher Theater recently, "A Soldier's Story" is an extremely well-mounted production that captures the bittersweet essence of black American survival in the South, in the Army, and in each others' way. "A Soldier's Story" is not only about white America's pressure on black America. The real impact of the film lies in its frank approach to the many sub-groups within the black community and their various attitudes about how best to face the white world. Thus "A Soldier's Story" affords a free-wheeling discussion of class inter-relationships within the black community. In addition to Charles Fuller's thoughtful scenario based on his stage play, the film looks authentic. It was photographed by Russell Boyd with a soft, nostalgic quality.

THE VISUAL MOOD of the film is appropriate for a historical film that stresses the intellectual and emotional rather than the action modes. In the few action sequences, the lighting and filtration shift to suitably harsh qualities. The production was designed by Walter Scott Herndon, who represents the look of the times: the barren barracks, the dry, dusty southern roads and the cluttered, smokey aura of the soldiers' bar where Big Mary (Patti LaBelle) puffs out the whiskey and the blues. As a matter of fact, the trip to the movies is worth it just for those sequences and for the singing of Larry Riley as C.J. Memphis. Riley's singing, solo and with LaBelle, captures the blues idiom and the film's emotion. LaBelle evokes memories of Bessie Smith and the black southern tradition of survival.

CERTAINLY THE acting and the direction of those actors, is crucial to a thoughtful film with limited action in the conventional sense. This time out is no exception. Davenport's investigation leads to testimony by Waters' men, testimony given in flashbacks that gradually characterize a tortured man, a portrait drawn by meaningful comments from his closest associates. That the film works well is a testimony to the emotional power generated by the confrontations between Waters and his men and to the strength of feelings projected by Davenport as he deals with the base commandant, Col. Nivens (Trey Wilson), with the various white officers and with the black soldiers. One touching vignette of inter-racial relationships, handled with sensitivity, comes when the colonel's wife, Ida (Patricia Brandkamp), brings the colonel's breakfast while Davenport is visiting. Her obvious discomfort at the presence in her home of a black officer is muted by her sense of good manners. She doesn't offer the captain coffee, as is her duty as a good hostess and southern lady, but she does offer to have someone get some for him — a small but subtle and significant difference.

Adolph Caesar stars as crusty Sgt. Waters in "A Soldier's Story," written by Charles Fuller and based on an award-winning play. It opens at area theaters next week.

what's at the movies

ALL OF ME (PG). Carl Reiner's latest, greatest comedy, with Steve Martin and Lily Tomlin.

ANOTHER COUNTRY (Unrated). Adapted from British stage hit about politics and homosexuality in an English boys school.

BODY ROCK (PG-13). The flash, style and excitement of today's pop culture, with hunk Lorenzo Lamas.

THE BOSTONIANS (Unrated). The story of a 19th century love triangle between two women and a man. One of the women is a militant suffragette, the young man a struggling attorney. The other woman is a gifted but naive orator who would be used for the cause by one lover, and loved by the other for herself. Stars Vanessa Redgrave, Madeleine Potter and Christopher Reeve.

CAREFUL, HE MIGHT HEAR YOU (PG). Australian film exploring the bitter struggle between two sisters to gain possession of young boy whose mother died in childbirth.

C.H.U.D. (R). That's an acronym for Canabalistic Humanoid Underground Dwellers. Need we say more?

THE EVIL THAT MEN DO (R). Charles Bronson in story of man's vengeance when the system fails.

EXTERMINATOR 2 (R). Sounds like a terrible film of revenge with a cast of unknowns.

GHOSTBUSTERS (PG). Billy Murray, Dan Aykroyd and Harold Ramis as parapsychology research students trying to rid New York of menacing ghosts.

GREMLINS (PG). Technically well-done story of exotic pet whose offspring turn mean. Hoyt Axton, Zach Galligan and Phoebe Cates in a Spielberg film too gross for the under-12 set.

IMPULSE (R). Romantic thriller about peaceful farming community whose residents suddenly are unable to restrain their most secret passions.

IRRECONCILABLE DIFFERENCES (PG). Drew Barrymore, Shelley Long and Ryan O'Neal in engaging story of family problems.

PURPLE RAIN (R). Another rock music film with family problems mixed in. Features Prince and Apollonia Koterou.

REVENGE OF THE NERDS (R). Tasteless, colorless college comedy.

TIGHTROPE (R). Clint Eastwood as homicide inspector searching for psychotic killer. Good but dirty detective thriller with Genevieve Bujold and Clint's daughter Alison.

UNDER THE VOLCANO (R). Brilliant but nightmarish film about alcoholic (Albert Finney), his wife (Jacqueline Bisset) and half-brother (Anthony Andrews).

UNTIL SEPTEMBER (R). A young American woman (Karen Allen) falls in love with married Frenchman (Thierry Lhermitte). Set in Paris.

THE WOMAN IN RED (PG-13). A pleasant summer comedy about a middle-aged man and his sexual fantasies. Gene Wilder, Gilda Radner, Joseph Bologna star in film written and directed by Wilder.

Country show set

Tickets are on sale for the Marlboro Country Music Concert, to be presented Saturday, Oct. 27, at Joe Louis Arena in Detroit. Tickets at $10 and $12 may be purchased at the Joe Louis Arena box office and at all Ticket World outlets including all Hudson's locations. For further ticket information, phone 567-6000. The concert will star Ronnie Milsap, Merle Haggard, Ricky Skaggs and Lee Greenwood. A video show and an elaborate, Broadway-style stage will be part of the production. The special effects are by Fullerton and Knight, who have worked on many shows including the Jacksons' Victory Tour. A local country band or performer will open the show. The act will be selected in a series of talent competitions at Detroit-area country nightspots in October. Beside opening the show, the act will get $5,000.
