Judge's race should be hottest Tuesday

Selecting a new district judge will be the most important local race Plymouth residents will decide Tuesday.

Voters will be choosing between Robert Greenstein of Canton and John MacDonald of Northville Township to replace the retiring Dunbar Davis in the 35th District which includes the cities and townships Plymouth, Northville and Canton.

Both are attorneys. MacDonald is current supervisor of Northville Township while Greenstein is a former supervisor of Canton Township. Greenstein is a former police chief for Canton and MacDonald a former school board attorney for Wayne-Westland.

The pair ran one-two in the August primary when eight candidates were in the field. A close race between the two is expected Tuesday.

ANOTHER LOCAL race of some interest is for Wayne County Commission in the 10th District which includes Livonia, Plymouth and Northville.

Incumbent Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, is being challenged by Laura Toy, D-Livonia. Dumas is a veteran member of the county board while Toy is a member of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

For U.S. Congress, Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, is the incumbent in the 2nd District which includes Livonia, Plymouth and Northville in western Wayne County. Pursell is being challenged by Mike McCauley, D-Salem Township, a social studies teacher at Plymouth Canton High.

In a congressional race of interest in the neighboring 15th District, Canton voters will be choosing between incumbent William D. Ford, D-Taylor, and avowed white supremacist Gerald Carlson, a Republican from Wayne.

For the Michigan House of Representatives in the 36th District, which includes Northville, Plymouth and half of Canton, incumbent Democrat Carl Levin and Republican Jack Lousma, R-Plymouth, squares off against Lucian Cayce, a Democrat from Plymouth.

This will be Law's first bid for reelection and will provide him with a test of how many Democratic voters there are in Canton and how well he can fare against a Democrat. When first elected, Law faced Democrat William Joyner who as a county commissioner drew bi-partisan support until losing favor with the UAW.

RESIDENTS ALSO will be casting votes in the presidential race between Reagan and Mondale and for U.S. Senate between incumbent Democrat Carl Levin and Republican Jack Lousma.

A sample ballot listing all the decisions Plymouth and Plymouth Township voters will make tomorrow may be found on Page 3A of today's edition.

Other races of interest include the Michigan Supreme Court contests pitting Thomas Giles Kavanagh against Dorothy Comstock Riley, Patricia J. Boyle against Robert Griffin, former U.S. Senator, and James A. Hathaway against James H. Brickley, former Lt. Governor under Gov. William Milliken.

Residents also will be joining Michigan voters in deciding the outcome of three ballot proposals — A, B, C. Of most interest has been Proposal C, the so-called Voter's Choice.

Voter turnout is expected to be heavy in the city and township as the presidential race will be drawing out voters who normally don't participate in local elections. The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Anyone standing in line at 8 p.m. will be allowed to vote.

How to get vote results

The Observer Newspapers once again will be operating its Election Hotline to give out local vote results.

The news staffs of Canton and Plymouth Observer Newspapers will be collecting election results for Canton Township local offices, the 35th District Court, the 10th and 11th districts of the Wayne County Commission, the 36th and 37th districts of the Michigan House, and the 2nd and 15th districts of U.S. Congress. (Complete congressional results aren't expected to be known Tuesday night, however.)

Canton and Plymouth residents may call 459-2700 beginning at 9 p.m. until 11:30 p.m.

Because of the volume of calls anticipated, only the names of winners or losers will be reported and not vote totals or results of individual precincts. Complete election coverage will be reported in Thursday's Observer.

While some early returns are expected most results will not be known before 10 p.m. Callers are encouraged to keep trying for local vote results.

Election results also will be telecast on Omnicon Channel 8 at 9-9:30 p.m. and from 10 p.m. to midnight.

Police probe panther puzzle

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

One of the two phantom panthers sighted in southeastern Michigan may be in Plymouth Township.

Police and U.S. Fish and Wildlife officials believe the animal was encountered by a township woman and her dog last week.

"We received a report of a strange animal in the western portion of the township," said Don Burger, a Fish and Wildlife special agent.

"There's no cause for alarm but parents should be aware of the fact that the leopard may be in the area," Burger said.

Although earlier reports of sightings referred to the animals as panthers, Burger said they are black leopards.

The first sighting was reported in late May in Manchester, while the other cat was first reported in July in Wixom.

Burger, who has seen the Manchester cat twice, said it is a smaller female. The Wixom cat is believed to be a 140-pound male.

After being sighted in Wixom, the male also has been spotted in Northville Township. Burger believes the male now has moved into Plymouth Township, based on the incident in a field west of Ridge Road and north of M-14.

"The report involves a woman who heard it and the reaction of her dog," Burger said.

"The actions of the dog lead us to believe that the animal is not indigenous to the area. The dog's actions are very similar to the behavior of other dogs who saw the panther and the owner also saw the animal," he said.

"We have some unusual tracks and are trying to determine what they are," said Carl Berry, township police chief.

BLACK LEOPARDS are known to travel a range of 40 to 60 miles in hunting for food.

"It could just be passing through this area, but there's a good possibility it will stay — there doesn't appear to be any reason for it to move," Burger said.

"Once it establishes itself in an area, more bonafide sightings start coming in," he said.

Phoenix to rise at Dunn Steel; EDC offers financing

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Negotiations are under way for the purchase of the vacant Dunn Steel building at 300 Dunn Street.

The Plymouth Economic Development Corp. (EDC) approved a resolution of inducement Tuesday night for Phoenix Metals.

Phoenix, a newly formed company, has been offered up to $5 million in EDC financing, according to City Manager Henry Graper.

"The EDC approved a resolution of inducement not to exceed $5 million, of which only a portion can go toward the purchase of the building from Dunn Steel," Graper said.

The remainder of the EDC financing will be used for modernization and renovation of the facility, he said.

EDCs are allowed by federal law to sell tax-exempt bonds to provide financing for industrial projects. The law is designed to assist county and municipal governments in stimulating economic growth.

Phoenix Metals plans to produce powdered metals out of shavings collected from tool and die shops. The process would involve stripping the oils from the shavings and then grinding them into powder, Graper said.

Because Phoenix is a new company, Graper anticipates more than 30 jobs will be created if the company can move into the Dunn Steel building.

"We're happy because we'd like to see a stable use of Dunn Steel," he said.

Phoenix's next move is to negotiate a price on the building, while the EDC will arrange for the bond sale.

Dunn Steel was a division of Townsend, which is a subsidiary of Textron Inc. The steel company made automobile and steering suspension parts in Plymouth before moving to Spencer, Tenn., in May 1982.

Since its move to Spencer, Dunn has been placed under a different division and changed names.

At one point after Dunn moved there was a tenant in the building but it currently is vacant.

City won't 'take a bath' on Bathey

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Nobody insults the City of Plymouth and get's away with it — at least if they owe the city back taxes.

"Our city attorney has requested authorization to collect outstanding administrative fees from Bathey Manufacturing in accordance with the Federal Bankruptcy Act," said City Manager Henry Graper.

"Bathey has made no move in trying to pay their bills, and in fact, has insulted the City of Plymouth by giving us one check which was bad and uncollectable and a second check which was not signed," Graper said. City Commissioners are expected to approve the attorney's request to enter the bankruptcy proceedings at tonight's regular meeting.

Bathey, 100 S. Mill, filed for reorganization under federal bankruptcy guidelines last year. The company owes the city since it filed for reorganization a total of $124,884 for taxes and water charges.

Several attempts at contacting a company spokesman were unsuccessful Friday.

"WHAT WAS owed the city before they filed for reorganization is not wiped out. In case they're successful and begin to make money they can pay off those debts or a portion of those debts," City Attorney Charles Lowe said.

"Right now we're not after what was owed before they filed for reorganization, just what they owe since they filed because they are suppose to stay current on those debts," Lowe said.

"The bankruptcy court has control over them right now and we will ask that they pay the bills," he said.

ACCORDING TO City Treasurer Ken Way, the company owes some $24,600 in water and sewer charges, due since February 1984.

Outstanding property tax bills since the reorganization filing include:

• The 1983 personal property tax (due Dec. 1, 1983) of $15,639. Now added to this is a 12 percent penalty of $1,876, for a total of $17,516.

• The 1984 summer personal property tax (due July 1, 1984) of $22,189. Now added to this is a 4 percent penalty of $887, for a total of $23,076.

• The 1984 Summer Real Property Tax of $57,363, plus a 4 percent penalty of $2,295 for a total of $59,658.

According to Lowe, the bankruptcy court gives priority to payment to administrative costs — which include water and sewer charges, and property taxes.

Tonight's City Commission meeting starts at 7:30 in the second floor auditorium at City Hall, the corner of Main and Church. The meeting before the regular commission meeting, open to the public, starts at 7 p.m. in the city manager's conference room on the first floor.

Piecing panther puzzle

If someone encounters the animal, Burger said they should leave the area immediately and notify Plymouth police at 453-8600.

"I think all large feline carnivore have the potential to be dangerous. So far neither cat has attacked anyone, but you don't know what might happen if they are trapped or wounded," Burger said.

The black leopard runs between 40 and 50 mph, and is like "greased lightning," he said.

"It's really the ultimate cat — the cat's cat — in terms of hunting ability and smarts," he said.

THE FEDERAL government is coordinating all police efforts in trying to locate the animal.

"The cat's an endangered species and our involvement is to guard it or trap it," Burger said.

A variety of traps have been set in Wixom and Northville to catch the animal, as well as using "heat seeking devices" to track it when it enters a wooded area.

Although the animals aren't native to Michigan, Burger said they easily will adapt to the colder climate. He believes the two Michigan cats were turned loose by someone or escaped from a research facility.

Although under rare circumstances a black leopard can be purchased legally, officials said they can be purchased illegally.

"Someone probably purchased this cat unlawfully when it was little and when it got too big or started eating too much, they let it go," he said.

"It's interesting to note that never in the history of the United States has a black cat been captured or killed, and the sightings have been from Maine to California.

"In spite of that, I think we'll get one or the other of the cats," Burger said.

Plymouth Township enlisted the help of the WXYZ-TV helicopter Halloween night to watch for the animal, according to Berry.

Veterans prepare for ceremonies

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

"It will be a day of memories for us down at the VFW Hall and we'll be spending the afternoon joshing each other about which branch of service played the most important role in World War II."

These were the words of Post Commander Don VanLandingham when he told of the plans to celebrate Veterans Day.

"Sure," he said, "we will have a program in Kellogg Park in the morning at 11 o'clock with firing squad and all the military color we possess. Then it will be back to the hall for lunch and the rest of the day. But it will be most interesting."

No mention was made of Armistice Day — Nov. 11, 1918, that was the forerunner of Veterans Day.

"I don't think we have anyone around today who can remember that day," he explained. "You see I was only 10 years old at the time."

So no one will be talking about General Pershing and how he earned the name of "Black Jack" and the part he played in World War I. Nor will they be relating the work of General George Patton.

BUT, ACCORDING to Commander VanLandingham, it will be fine afternoon in keeping with the tone of Veterans Day.

"I don't remember much of Armistice Day," the post commander went on, "but I do recall that as a 10-year-old I watched the street cars move up and down Mack Avenue as part of a celebration in Detroit. And I wasn't in combat service in World War II. But we do have a lot of members here who served with distinction. And you'll hear about their feats when the comparisons start during what always is a most interesting afternoon."

As plans stand now, the veterans will gather in Kellogg Park in time for the services at 11 a.m. With them will be the rifle squad and the color guard. The services will be short, but serious, in memory of those who served their country and those who gave their lives in the battles across the waters.

Following the service there will be a luncheon put on by the VFW Mayflower-Lt. Gamble Post 6695. Then the remainder of the day will be spent matching memories of the battles over the seas and the part VFW members played in them.

As for Armistice Day, it will be remembered and there may be some who saw the welcome Gen. Black Jack Pershing received on his return to the States. "But none of us are old enough to have fought in any of the battles he won," VanLandingham said.

"But the veterans will spend the afternoon remembering the day and times they spent in service, and it should be a great one in that they are happy to celebrate in peace."

"Every now and then someone comes along who really cares."

If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebrae slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

WHEN YOU ACHE AND NOTHING SHOWS

You may experience aching in your joints, which lasts for days. You feel fatigued, and can't move with the ease with which you are accustomed. Yet when the doctor examines you, he leaves you with the impression that "everything is alright." Later the ache may leave, only to return again.

Your discontent is compounded because there is no swelling or redness to explain your pain.

Rheumatologists believe that you have incurred an insult to your body that has resulted in arthritis. That no joint swelling is present shows that you body is winning the fight. That you ache indicates that the irritation remains.

In such cases rheumatologists are reluctant to use drugs that may interfere with your body's partially successful response. Experience has shown that such aches rarely lead to a crippling arthritis, in time the body will return to its former state. Thus the doctor sees that it is his role to provide reassurance and recommend conservative measures.

Church built addition in 1916

(Part 18)

There was great excitement in Plymouth on March 30, 1916, when the high school, directly in front of the Presbyterian Church, burned to the ground.

The fire started in the school's boiler room, like that of the church 20 years later. The school fire spread to the adjacent Methodist Church which also was destroyed.

During the remainder of 1916 and part of 1917, school classes were conducted at several locations throughout the village including the basement at the Presbyterian Church, and the carriage house of church member Kate Penniman Allen.

During the month of the school fire, Presbyterian trustees awarded a contract in the amount of $5,400 to J.H. Patterson to build an addition to the church. Improvements included Sunday School classrooms, a dining room, wider openings into the church and the installation of french doors.

Soon after, an organ was installed in the church, and Amos Stevens donated a walnut pulpit made from trees cut on his property.

THREE PROPERTY exchanges involving the church took place from the spring of 1915 to the fall of 1916, when the population of Plymouth was 2,500.

In April 1915, Harry E. Newhouse conveyed part of Lot 193, as referred to previously. In March 1916, the church conveyed to the village Lot 191, except part lying east of the "red line," and part of the public park south of Lot 191 and north of the red line. In October, the church conveyed to Huron Farms the north 40 feet of Lot 193 except the west 20 feet.

The dark shadow of World War I cast itself on church minutes in 1917 and 1918. On Sept. 11, 1917, the trustees gave free use of the dining room for a banquet for "soldier's send-off day."

On July 11, 1918, the Rev. K.P. Miller, who had succeeded the Rev. B.F. Farber in 1917, received a postcard from the Navy Rifle Range, Camp Logan, Zio City, Ill., in-past and present

forming him that church member George A. Gottschalk had been received into camp that day.

The camp chaplain who sent the card added a postscript: "If you know what a letter means to a Jackie, you would write, write, write." A "Jackie" was a Jack Tar or sailor. It is not known how many letters to member Gottschalk this card inspired, but it may have reinforced an idea in the mind of Rev. Miller. A month later, Miller resigned his pastorate and entered the service as a military chaplain.

Miller was followed at the Plymouth Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Luther Moore Bicknell, a native of Parkerville, Kan. Like Miller, Bicknell had attended Princeton Theological Seminary from which he graduated in 1913. He had been minister at Mount Holly, N.J., before arriving in Plymouth.

AT THE CONGREGATIONAL meeting on Jan. 17, 1919, the church adopted articles of incorporation under Act 265 of Public Acts of 1909.

The name of the new corporation was "The First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth." Its board of trustees included W.R. Shaw, C.H. Bennett, F.D. Schrader, H.S. Shattuck, M.G. Hill, J.W. Henderson and D.G. Brown. Fred Schrader was elected chairman of the board.

The articles of incorporation, notarized on Jan. 13, 1919, by John E. Wilcox, justice of the peace, specified that the duty of the board of trustees was to superintend the financial affairs of the church and to take charge of all church property.

Presbyterians were included among church items in the May 2, 1919 issue of the Plymouth Mail. The topic of the Rev. L.M. Bicknell's talk at a 7 p.m. vesper service was to be "The Antagonism of Indifference." Church member C.G. Draper, local jeweler and optometrist, had some new novels in stock, including Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Amazing Interlude," Zane Grey's "Desert of Wheat," and Edgar Rice Burroughs' "Tarzan." Draper was the maternal grandfather of today's church member Dr. James Carney.

Another item in the paper reported that "Humane Sunday was celebrated in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday. Dr. Bryant gave a special sermonette to children on kindness to animals. Sunday School was given over to a special program. 'Cortez,' Mrs. Bennett's parrot, was present and added his voice to the celebration. The whole program was a special tribute to animals. Kindness is a lesson all can well learn for it forms character and adds much joy to the life of man and creature." Mrs. Bennett was the wife of Charles H. Bennett who was to become president of the Daisy Manufacturing Co. the following year.

The Rev. Bicknell had his salary raised to $1,800 a year in September 1919. Three months later he had to resign his position due to ill health. Among his later churches was Central Church in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Members of the church session in 1919-20 were A.D. Stevens, W.J. Burrows, J.R. Rauch, O.H. Loomis, Calvin Whipple and R.M. Gardner. The budget for 1920 was set at $5,000.

The thrill of his 1st vote

In a few more days, folks from coast to coast will go to the polls to cast their ballots for the presidency of the United States, and The Stroller can't help but wonder if they will have the same sort of thrill they will recall the rest of their lives.

Well does The Stroller remember his first vote cast for the presidency, and it is a day that has lived with him throughout the years.

In those days, there were three benchmarks which folks considered when deciding whether one was a man. The first came when he switched from "bloomers" (knickers) to long trousers. The second came when he celebrated his 21st birthday, and the third was when he cast his first vote for a president.

THE SWITCH to long trousers was quite a thrill, and he came close to having them ripped off. At the time, he had a job at the town's dance hall, and the dancers almost mobbed him in an effort to rid him of the change in attire. He survived, but with a great impression on his life.

The second major thrill came when he reached the age of 21. On that morning, Mother shoved a gold watch in his trousers and said, "Now you are a man, my son."

That moment caused a great chill to go up his back for The Stroller had been promised a watch when he graduated from high school. But Dad never lived to see that day. So Mother substituted for him. You can imagine the thrill that came with that gift.

A SHORT TIME later came election day, and he was about to cast his first vote for the presidency. It was another big day, and Mother made it all the more important because she insisted that she take him to the polls to help celebrate.

We arrived on time, and the folks in the voting room rose to greet us and welcome us to the booth.

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

"This is my boy," Mother said, "and how proud his father would be if he were here with us."

So into the booth the young voter went and started to mark the lists in front of him. It wasn't strange because he had looked forward to the big day.

And he was proud to tell folks afterward that he had helped pick the man who would sit in the Oval Office of the White House and feel the thrill of knowing he had had an official part in the result.

THE THRILL was tainted a bit later when the man he had voted for, Warren G.

Harding, was found to have misused some of his authority. Harding died before finishing his term.

This sickened him for a time, but it didn't remove the thrill he had in his first trip to the polls.

As he watched young voters studying the sample ballot this week, he couldn't help wondering if they would be getting the thrill he enjoyed more than a half-century ago — the thrill of casting their first ballot to choose who would call the White House home for four years.

This should be a big day in any voter's life, and the memory of it will last a lifetime.

Busy day for Owens

American runner Jesse Owens is probably best remembered for his success during the Olympics in Hitler's Germany in 1936.

However, Owens racked up some remarkable, less heralded records in his life. He's the only athlete to have his name entered in the record book six times in one day. He broke world records for a variety of 100-yard and 220-yard runs on May 25, 1935.

Remember family or friends with Special Occasion, Get Well or Memorial cards.

Plymouth Observer Livonia Observer The Northville Record

"Dumas was a strong proponent of county reform. She supported and campaigned for the new charter. She understands government and knows the necessity of maintaining a check and balance between the executive and legislative branches. . . . What Toy advocates, Dumas has done."

"Dumas merits another term on the county board. . . . Our choice is incumbent Mary Dumas, a Republican. . . . She is a knowledgeable and hard-working commissioner for residents of this area."

"Do you want a commissioner who is a strong advocate for western Wayne County — Do you want a commissioner who puts most of her efforts into bringing about a better form of government. . . ? In either case, we think the choice this year has to be to return incumbent Republican Mary Dumas to office."

The People and Leaders of Your Community agree Mary E. Dumas has done an outstanding job as Wayne County Commissioner and is the Best Choice for Responsible County Government.

SOME PEOPLE RETIRE WITH MORE THAN JUST A GOLD WATCH.

You work hard all your life and what do you get? Well, depending on where you work, you could get cancer. Asbestos has been proven to cause cancer. Certain toxic chemicals like formaldehyde and freon are being investigated. If you've worked with radioactive particles or even worked near them, your risk is greater. And even if you've worked nowhere hazardous, it wouldn't hurt to get a checkup. Because the incidence of cancer after the age of 45 to 50 increases rapidly.

Over the next several years the American Cancer Society will be conducting more research into certain lifestyles and exposures which could increase cancer mortality.

So know the risks. Don't smoke. Watch what you eat and drink. Look for the warning signs of cancer. And retire not only with a gold ticker. But a healthy one, also.

CARAMEL APPLES

It wouldn't be autumn without 'em

When the night air adds a crispness and the scents of fall return, farm stands and supermarket produce sections abound with fresh, juicy apples, peaking in flavor. For many, the advent of the apple season triggers fond memories of a tart, juicy apple tucked inside some chewy caramel.

Not too many years ago, making caramel apples from fruit picked in the family orchard was an annual ritual looked forward to by everyone—grandparents, parents, aunts, uncles and children of all ages. After the fruit was hand-picked, the bushels were culled for the best apples while the kids unwrapped the caramels. Melting, stirring, dipping and cooling followed. Finally, it was time for munching and crunching.

Although times have changed today, family orchards are few and far between—making caramel apples is still an activity family, friends and especially the kids will find fun. Whether you begin in the orchard or at the produce department in your favorite supermarket, now is a good time to celebrate the caramel apple season.

Possibilities for homemade caramel apples are nearly limitless. Recipes can range from the old-fashioned, traditional favorite to these new variations just developed by the Kraft Kitchens: chocolate fudge, peanut butter, cinnamon, and laced with liqueur. But before you plunge right in, here are a few hints for choosing and preparing your caramel apples.

When picking the apple of your eye, you may be confused by the numerous varieties available. One rule of thumb is that tart and tender apples are the best for caramel apple making. The tartness complements the rich, sweet flavor of the caramel, while the tenderness makes it easier to take a big bite.

Two common apple varieties, McIntosh and Jonathans, are among the Kraft Kitchens' favorites for caramel apple making. First grown in Ontario, Canada, around 1800, the McIntosh is now widely produced in many areas throughout the country. Jonathans are a native American variety best known for their brilliant red color, excellent flavor and fragrance. Other popular choices for caramel apple making are Delicious apples, red or yellow.

When selecting your apples for caramel apple making, remember that bigger is not always better. Medium-sized apples, which are about 2-1/2 inches in diameter, are the best for dipping. Another guide to follow is that there are about 3 medium apples per pound.

The famous proverb, "Beauty is more than skin deep," also applies to apples. Choose apples with a smooth skin and without any soft spots which will turn into brown bruises inside the apple. Once you've picked the apples and brought them home, handle them with care so you don't create any bruises yourself.

Before you actually begin preparations it's important to wash and dry the apples in a mild soap solution to remove their natural waxy coating. This process cannot be skipped or when you begin dipping, the caramel will slide off the apple.

Now you're ready to begin! Assemble the everyday kitchen utensils you will need: heavy 1-1/2-quart saucepan, spatula, wooden spoon, wax paper, and cookie sheet.

HOMEMADE CARAMEL APPLES

- 1 14-oz. bag caramels
- 2 tablespoons water
- 4 or 5 medium size apples
- Wooden sticks

- 1) Unwrap caramels.
- 2) Place caramels and water in heavy 1-1/2-quart saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring frequently until caramels are melted and sauce is smooth.
- 3) Place sheet of wax paper on cookie sheet.
- 4) Lightly grease wax paper with margarine.
- 5) Wash and dry apples.
- 6) Insert a wooden stick into stem end of each apple. During autumn, wooden sticks are included in bags of Kraft caramels which are specially marked.

- 3) Holding stick, dip apples, one at a time, into hot caramel sauce, tilting sauce pan and turning until well coated.
- 4) Scrape off extra sauce from bottom of apple with spatula.

- Place apples on greased wax paper.
- 4) Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

To Microwave:

- Place unwrapped caramels in a small, deep, glass bowl.
- Add water.
- Microwave on high for 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue with Step 2 as directed.
- If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.

CHOCOLATE FUDGE APPLES

Just one taste of this rich and creamy coating will confirm why chocolate sauce has long been renowned as a flavorful dipper for fruit.

- 1 14-oz. bag chocolate fudgies

- 1 tablespoon milk
- 4 or 5 medium size apples
- Wooden sticks
- Chocolate shots

Melt fudgies with milk in heavy 1-1/2-quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until smooth. Wash and dry apples, insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot fudge sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples; dip in chocolate shots. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

Variation: Mocha: Dissolve 2 teaspoons instant coffee granules in 1 tablespoon hot water. Substitute for milk. Continue as directed above.

To Microwave: Microwave chocolate fudgies and milk in small, deep, glass bowl on High 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

PEANUT BUTTER CARAMEL APPLES

Two of America's favorite flavors—peanut butter and caramel—unite to provide this tempting apple wrap. Chopped peanuts add extra crunch!

- 1 14-oz. bag caramels
- 2 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
- 2 tablespoons water
- 4 or 5 medium size apples
- Wooden sticks
- Chopped peanuts

Melt caramels, peanut butter and water in heavy 1-1/2-quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until smooth. Wash and dry apples; insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Dip in nuts. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

To Microwave: Microwave caramels, peanut butter and water in small, deep, glass bowl on High for 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, stirring after each minute or until sauce is smooth. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

CINNAMON CARAMEL APPLES

Just as cinnamon enhances the flavor of apples in pies, cobblers and applesauce, cinnamon candies add spark to caramel apples.

- 1/4 cup cinnamon candies
- 3 tablespoons water
- 1 14-oz. bag caramels
- 4 or 5 medium size apples
- Wooden sticks

Melt cinnamon candies with 1 tablespoon water in heavy 1-1/2-quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until melted. Add remaining water and caramels, stirring frequently until smooth. Stir in few drops red food coloring. Wash and dry apples; insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot cinnamon caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel mixture to soften.

To Microwave: Microwave cinnamon candies and 1 tablespoon water in small, deep, glass bowl on High 2 minutes; stir. Add caramels and 2 tablespoons water. Microwave on High 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

SPIKED CARAMEL APPLES

Caramel apples, spiked with a liqueur of almost any flavor, are a new way for adults to enjoy this seasonal favorite. Experiment with your favorite liqueur or try these suggestions from the Kraft Kitchens.

- 1 14-oz. bag caramels
- 2 tablespoons orange or almond flavor liqueur
- 4 or 5 medium size apples
- Wooden sticks

Melt caramels with liqueur in heavy 1-1/2-quart saucepan over low heat, stirring frequently until smooth. Wash and dry apples; insert stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apples. Place on greased wax paper. Store in refrigerator. Let stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow caramel to soften.

To Microwave: Microwave caramels and liqueur in small, deep, glass bowl on High 2-1/2 to 3-1/2 minutes, or until sauce is smooth, stirring after each minute. Continue as directed above. (If caramel sauce is too thin, let stand about 2 minutes before dipping apples.)

Delicious on a stick, these adult treats are even easier to eat when cut into bite-size wedges. Just remove the sticks and slice into eight pieces. Serve with ice cream, if desired.

HINTS FOR A PERFECT CARAMEL APPLE

- Wash and dry the apples before dipping to remove their natural waxy coating and ensure that the caramel will stick.
- If the apples are extra juicy, be sure to dry them again after inserting the sticks.

- When preparing the caramel or fudge based sauce, be sure to measure the liquid exactly with a measuring spoon.
- Sweet treats may scorch easily. When melting caramels be sure to use a heavy saucepan over low heat.
- Once the caramels begin to melt, stir them gently with a wooden spoon to prevent - scorching and air bubbles from forming.

- Allow about 20 minutes to melt caramels in a heavy 1-1/2-quart saucepan on a conventional range top.
- Tilt the pan to evenly coat the apples. If necessary, spoon on the caramel sauce to completely cover the last apple.
- After dipping each apple the excess caramel

- should be scraped off the bottom with a spatula before setting on the wax paper.
- Be sure to store your apples in the refrigerator to prevent the caramel from slipping off.
- After storing caramel apples in the refrigerator let them stand at room temperature 15 minutes before serving to allow the caramel to soften.

Marinated steak can spice up tailgate picnic

Tailgate picnics have become football season classics, combining good food, friends and pregame enthusiasm. To plan a winning stadium-side celebration or backyard pregame party, here are some tips:

- Plan menus with easy-to-serve recipes that can be prepared ahead. Add zest to beef sandwiches by marinating steaks in a spicy herb sauce for up to 24 hours before serving. Cover the marinade mixture securely with plastic wrap to retain flavor.

- Broil steak and thinly slice (just before departing for the picnic site). Package meat in plastic wrap and place in an insulated thermal container.

- Bring along a creative array of fresh fruits and cheeses or try a winning combination of favorites. Core and cut a pear in half, dipping in lemon juice to prevent browning. Fill the pear cavity with soft Brie cheese; sprinkle with chopped pecans. Pears can be wrapped individually in plastic wrap and fastened with ribbons of team colors. These pears can be prepared ahead, wrapped as described, and frozen.

- Clean and slice crisp vegetables, wrapping in plastic wrap and neatly tucking into a picnic basket. Take along a simple dip to complete the course.

- Transport hot soups, stews and sauces in vacuum containers. Hot foods such as casseroles will stay warm in thermal units or cardboard boxes lined with newspaper for insulation. Keep foods cold in an insulated ice chest.

- Roll individual sets of silver or plasticware in plastic wrap or colorful napkins. Place in a basket on a picnic table extended from station-wagon tailgate or a van. Additional napkins can cushion glasses or jars of mustard and jams for travel.

- Consider packaging individual meals in colorful lunch boxes or small shopping bags. Wrap sandwiches, fruits, cheeses and desserts in individual servings with plastic wrap. Include utensils and napkins in the portable picnic pack.

- Line picnic baskets and boxes with plastic wrap to protect from spills and to make clean up easy. Don't forget to pack garbage bags and damp cloths wrapped in plastic wrap for clean up.

To help plan creative tailgate picnics, the makers of Saran Wrap have prepared the following recipe suggestions.

MARINATED SIRLOIN STEAK SANDWICHES

Steak Marinade:
 1/4 cup olive oil
 1/4 red wine vinegar
 2 tbsp. soy sauce
 1 tsp. minced fresh ginger root
 1 clove garlic, sliced
 2 green onions, chopped

1 sirloin steak, 1 1/2 inches thick, approximately 3 lbs., marinated overnight Whisk together oil, red wine vinegar and soy sauce. Stir in ginger, garlic and onions. Place meat into marinade, turning several times. Cover with plastic wrap, place in refrigerator for 6 hours or up to 24 hours.

 Broiling instructions:

Place marinated steak on broiler pan 5 inches from heat source. Broil 8 minutes in each side. Let stand 5 minutes. Slice very thin for sandwiches.

Assemble on pita or pumpernickel bread, or hard rolls, with Bleu Cheese Spread for added zest. Sandwiches can be topped with sliced onion rings, tomato and avocado slices. Wrap sandwiches individually.

BLEU CHEESE SPREAD

3 oz. cream cheese
 1 tbsp. bleu cheese

1/4 tsp. hot sauce

Soften the cream cheese, stir in bleu cheese and hot sauce. Mix to spreading consistency. Makes about 1/4 cup.

PEARS WITH BRIE

4 Bartlett pears, halved and cored
 Lemon juice
 4 oz. Brie, room temperature
 Chopped pecans

Cut pears in half, lengthwise, and core. Dip cut edges in lemon juice to prevent browning. Fill cavity with soft Brie; sprinkle with pecans. Wrap halves individually. Chill until ready to pack in picnic lunch. Makes 8 one-half-pear servings.

Greg Melikov

At last, a recipe just especially for chicken thighs

Herbert Hoover wasn't completely wrong — he was just ahead of his time. Today, there are almost two cars in every garage and, without qualification, a chicken in every pot.

Chicken is served in 96 percent of U.S. households. Nearly 70 percent of American families eat the bird or parts thereof at least once a week. That adds up to about 50 pounds per person each year.

The most popular parts of the chicken appear to be the breast and drumsticks. I believe I have more recipes for chicken breasts than Carter used to have liver pills. Since I'm a kid at heart, I still love drumsticks.

Chicken wings have become more popular although I can't understand why — all that work for so little meat.

My wife has joined the I-love-them-barbecued-with-hot-sauce crowd, but I prefer to remain in the wings.

Even the chicken's back and neck come in for special mention. The back favors soups while the neck is used in gravy.

Alas, the poor thigh is left out in the cold. When's the last time you tried a recipe with that portion of the chicken's anatomy?

I hadn't thought about chicken thighs until I found a bargain in the supermarket.

When I found them selling for about the same price as wings and less than drumsticks, I didn't need the sky to fall on me. That's why I'm making a clean breast of it to you.

TACO CHICKEN THIGHS

1 egg
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 tsp. garlic salt
 1 1/4 cups finely crushed taco-flavored tortilla chips

1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 1/2 cup cooking oil
 12 chicken thighs, rinsed and pat dry

In shallow bowl, slightly beat egg with fork, beat in milk and stir in salt.

In another larger bowl, combine tortilla chips and cheese. In large skillet, heat oil. Dip chicken in milk mixture and dredge in chips-cheese mixture.

Fry chicken in two batches on medium heat 30 minutes each, turning only once or twice, until golden brown and drain on paper toweling. Serves 6.

Don't let kitchen traffic jams spoil your day

A school day signals the start of morning rush hour in many households. The kitchen is often the scene of family traffic jams as household members prepare on-the-run breakfasts and hastily pack bag lunches.

To put an end to some of the morning confusion and to help provide more creative, nutritious take-along lunches, here are some suggestions:

- Create a bag lunch menu that allows you to shop and plan ahead for supplies.
- Keep utensils, countertops and cutting boards clean.
- Spread butter, margarine or mayonnaise right up to the edges on both slices of bread to prevent sandwich fillings from seeping through and jellies and jams from "weeping."
- Spread bread slices or hamburger buns out and, using an ice cream scoop, fill sandwiches assembly line fashion.
- Stack several sandwiches together and cut all at once.
- Cut sandwiches for youngsters in small, fun shapes — hamburger buns into pie-wedge quarters or bread into diagonal strips.
- For dieters, put sandwich filling into a scooped-out tomato or roll up in a lettuce leaf. Seal into a sandwich bag.

- Use salad dressings such as thousand island or creamy garlic to make excellent spreads for meat sandwiches.
- Keep foods hot by boiling soups and stews or chili, then pouring into vacuum containers.
- Keep foods cold by packing into lunch bags or boxes along with a chilled can of juice, frozen sandwich or cookies. Frozen items will thaw in time for lunch.
- Pack fragile items such as potato chips, pretzels or cookies with a cushion or air before sealing bag.
- Pack separate bags of sandwich garnishes such as lettuce, tomato and green pepper slices, and celery sticks. Salad greens stay especially crisp if first wrapped in a damp paper towel.
- Pack a sandwich bag with crisp raw vegetables and another with a delicious dip as an afternoon snack.
- Pack a mixture of sunflower seeds, raisins and nuts to keep energy level high at the work place or during breaks.
- Pack a creative mixture of cheeses in one bag and a variety of crackers and breads in another.

- Save money by purchasing large containers of chips, cookies and other snack items. Portion-pack them in sandwich bags and seal tightly to preserve freshness.

Following are some ideas for creative take-along lunches.

BANANA QUICK BREAD SANDWICH WITH PEANUT BUTTER-BACON FILLING

Filling:
1 loaf Banana Quick Bread (recipe below)
1 tbsp. peanut butter per sandwich
1 slice crumbled bacon per sandwich

Mix 1 slice crumbled bacon with 1 tablespoon peanut butter for each sandwich. Slice bread into ½-inch slices and spread with filling. Assemble finished sandwich and store in individual sandwich bags.

BANANA QUICK BREAD

1 ½ cup flour
1 ½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. baking soda
¾ tsp. salt

¾ cup sugar
½ cup shortening
2 eggs
2 tbsp. milk
1 cup mashed ripe bananas (2-3 medium)
½ cup chopped nuts

Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees. Mix together the flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Set aside.

Using an electric mixer, cream sugar and shortening until light, scraping sides of bowl often. Add eggs, one at a time, and the milk, beating until smooth after each addition. Fold in nuts. Pour batter into a lightly greased 8x4x2-inch loaf pan. Bake for 60-65 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove from pan; cool.

CHICKEN SALAD SANDWICH IN HARD ROLL

Dressing:
½ cup sour cream
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tbsp. pickle juice
2 dashes hot pepper sauce
½ tsp. salt

Filling:
3 cups cubed cooked chicken

½ cup chopped celery
½ cup sliced green onions
2 tbsp. chopped gherkins
6 hard rolls

Combine ingredients for dressing. Add chicken, celery, onions and pickles. Slice top off hard roll, hollow out and fill with chicken salad mixture. Replace top. Store individually in sandwich bags. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Offer this dessert for a delicious, light change

"Ambrosia," in the food sense, generally refers to a compote of oranges, coconut and pineapple.

According to the dictionary, "ambrosia" can be anything with especially delicious flavor or fragrance. The word originated in days of mythology, when ambrosia meant "food of the gods" and was thought to impart immortality. Hence, an "ambrosial offering" has come to be something magnificent, supremely good or simply divine.

This delicious dessert could refer to any of those definitions, except for the immortality claim. Della Robbia Ambrosia is a refrigerator dessert molded in a springform pan lined with ladyfingers. The filling is a creamy combination of canned vanilla pudding, gelatin and fruits.

This refreshing, light dessert is the perfect grand finale to a company meal.

DELLA ROBBIA AMBROSIA

1 pkg. (3-oz.) orange-pineapple gelatin
1 can (11 oz.) Mandarin oranges
1 can (17 ½ oz.) vanilla pudding
1 can (8 ½ oz.) crushed pineapple
1 carton (8 oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed
1 ½-2 pkg. ladyfingers
Toasted coconut

Drain Mandarin oranges; reserve liquid. Add water to make 1 cup. Heat juice/water to boiling, then add gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Cool and refrigerate just until the thickness of unbeaten egg white. Blend in pudding until smooth. Add drained Mandarin oranges (save a few for garnish) and undrained pineapple. Gently fold in whipped topping.

This tostada is meal by itself

Tonight give your family a treat with a taste of sunny Mexico. This colorful chicken tostada is a nutritious "meal-on-a-tortilla."

Spread refried beans on a tortilla, top with chicken and crunchy ripe olives from California. Then heap grated cheese, lettuce, tomatoes and avocado slices on top with a generous dollop of sour cream. Garnish with green onion and sliced ripe olives. Serve with green or red chili salsa and — ole.

RIPE OLIVE N' CHICKEN TOSTADAS

1 (1 ½ oz.) pkg. taco seasoning mix
1 cup water
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 ½ cups sliced California ripe olives
6 flour tortillas
1 (20 ½ oz.) can refried beans
1 cup grated cheddar or Jack cheese
3 cups shredded lettuce
2 tomatoes, chopped
½ cup dairy sour cream
2 tbsp. sliced green onions
1 avocado, peeled and sliced
Oil

In saucepan, combine taco mix with water; stir until dissolved. Simmer 5 minutes. Add cooked chicken and 1 cup ripe olives; simmer 5 minutes. Add cooked chicken and 1 cup ripe olives; simmer another 2 or 3 minutes, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, in medium skillet, fry tortillas in oil until crisp and golden brown on both sides; drain on paper towels. Heat refried beans in small saucepan. Place each crisp tortilla on individual plate. Spread beans over tortilla. Then spoon chicken-olive mixture over beans. Top with cheese, lettuce and tomatoes. For a final touch, add sour cream, onions and ¼ cup ripe olives. Arrange avocado slices around base. Serve with taco sauce or green chili salsa, if desired. Serves 6.

Line bottom and sides of 9-inch springform pan with ladyfingers. Pile gelatin mixture into mold. Chill for several hours until firm. Before serving, garnish with reserved orange sections and toasted coconut. To serve, remove sides of pan and slice into slim wedges. Yield 12-14 servings.

THEY'RE PLANNING an 80th birthday party for Winnie "Piker" Folsom in North Little Rock, Ark. The celebration will be 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11 in the fellowship hall of Levy Methodist Church.

Invitations to her friends specified no gifts, but a birthday card could be sent to Winnie Folsom, 7 Stanwood Leap, N. Little Rock, Ark. 72118. A $1 bill "for our dollar tree" was suggested.

Winnie and her husband, the late Ernie Folsom, lived at 460 Adams St., Plymouth, for 30 years before they retired to Arkansas. They were members of First United Church of Plymouth and Winnie still is a member of the local Eastern Star.

BEV SCHMITT, who is in charge of the archives at the Plymouth Historical Museum, had a suggestion in the Plymouth Historical Society's November newsletter:

"Some cold and dreary winter day, when you wish you had something fun to do, come into the Museum Archives. Look through some of our old scrapbooks. You'll be surprised at what people used to put in scrapbooks.

"Spend some time looking at old newspapers on our reader. Did you know that we have all the old Plymouth Mail (forerunner of the Plymouth Observer) on microfilm? Or look through boxes of pictures. Maybe you could help us identify someone in one of these pictures.

"We just had some old pictures given to us and among them is a picture of the people who worked at the Ford Plant in 1939. Is there anyone out there who might be able to tell us who they are?"

The museum is open 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday.

TIM ALONZO of Canton Township sings the part of Max Detweiler in the Celebrants' production of "The Sound of Music."

More than 100 people auditioned for parts in the musical.

Thirty-eight singers, dancers and actors, ranging in age from 5 to 66, are in the cast. They will be backed by a 30-piece orchestra and 30 members of the Ypsilanti Community Chorus.

The Celebrants is a non-denominational theater group sponsored by Holy Trinity Chapel on Eastern Michigan University campus, Ypsilanti.

The show opened this past weekend in the old Ypsilanti High School, 210 W. Cross Street. Additional performances are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Nov. 9, 11, 16, 17 and 18. Admission is $5 for adults and $4 for students, senior citizens and children under 12. Group rates are available by calling 668-4000.

Can you believe "Sound of Music" opened for the first time 25 years ago on Nov. 16?

THE THURSDAY afternoon party bridge players at the Plymouth Cultural Center will have their annual harvest luncheon this week. They are expecting about 60 regulars and guests for the boilitful buffet.

Van serves seniors' transportation needs

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Senior residents of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township don't have to be homebound, even if they don't have a ready means of transportation, thanks to the area's Senior Van program.

Any person 62 and older qualifies for door-to-door service, which can be arranged with a phone call to the city's housing office, 455-3670.

The van program, originally begun to transport seniors to the Tonquish Creek Manor Center for hot meals, has been expanded to include service to doctors' and dentists' offices, supermarkets, department stores and beauty shops.

The van also makes regularly scheduled trips to the local K mart store. But seniors can go anywhere they want, within the city and the township. An exception to the rule is Oakwood Hospital, just outside the area, which provides services for many Plymouth residents.

According to Sharon Thomas, housing director for the city, the new high-domed van has been carrying about 450 people a month and logging 1,350 miles.

"The main function was to pick up people for the hot lunch program and bring them home," said Thomas. "But the city provided the van with a radio, so that now it can be sent to pick up people while it is on the road."

Seniors are charged 25 cents each way, a considerable savings over the cost of a cab and less than it would cost for gasoline if the person drove himself.

Van driver Helen Range picks up residents at their homes and often helps them into the van.

"She is very patient," said Thomas. "She is our best public relations."

Thomas said housing is the city's main concern for seniors, with transportation second.

Van stops at Tonquish Creek Manor to pick up residents for shopping or an appointment.

Senior citizens may use van for a shopping trip to K mart or downtown Plymouth stores. Only out-of-town service is to Oakwood Hospital Center in Canton.

Richard Ingersoll just took a big step.

Because Richard was diagnosed at age one as having cerebral palsy, some people thought he might never take a step at all. Or even speak.

But your gift to the United Foundation helps make it possible for Richard to receive the therapy and counseling he needs at the Detroit Institute for Children. The result is that Richard has not only begun to walk by himself. He's also learning to make himself understood.

Now we'd like you to take a step, too.

Thousands of individuals in communities all over Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties need your support: the blind, the abused, the retarded, the unemployed. People with alcohol and drug dependency problems. And many others who depend on the 130 Torch Drive supported agencies for help.

Oak Park artist is VAAL show winner

One of the area's noteworthy art exhibits opened in the Livonia City Hall this week and will continue through Friday, Nov. 16.

The juried show features the art works of area artists and is sponsored by the Visual Arts Association of Livonia (VAAL).

Judging the event was Ed Fraga, promising Detroit artist whose one-person exhibit was on display recently at the Feigenson Gallery, Detroit, and the Detroit Focus Gallery. A graduate of Wayne State University, he is with the Education Department of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

An oil, "Purpose" by Oak Park artist Marilyn Zeldes, was chosen best of show. "Pensive," by Marge Stock of Farmington, received a first place in the oils. "Woman in Blue," by Detroit artist Pat Cronyn, was selected for a first-place award in the acrylics division.

LIVONIA WATERCOLORIST Barbara Stewart is on an artistic roll. After winning a first in the recent State Fair competition — the first time she entered the fair competition — she added to her laurels by taking a first for "For Jennifer" in the VAAL competition.

Redford artist Ann Keeton took a first for "Soup for Lunch" in the mixed-media competition. A first place in the graphics competition went to Thelma Pugh. In the photography division, Dean Weger of Novi took a first place with "White Chair."

The exhibit is open to the public Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Livonia City Hall lobby. Co-sponsors with VAAL are the Livonia Arts Commission and the Livonia Cultural League.

Rocks finish year with win

Forget the 3-6 record. Forget that this has been the worst football season at Plymouth Salem since 1967. Forget it.

The man has won his 100th football game.

Tom Moshimer, the man who brought the wishbone and winning football to Plymouth Salem, reached the century mark against his old buddy Harvey Heitman and Redford Union Friday night, taking a 35-22 decision.

And it was fitting that the vehicle that brought Moshimer many of his wins, the running game, brought him his 100th victory.

The Rocks used a delicate blend of off tackle runs and sweeps to offset Redford Union's massive defensive line.

Kevin Riley had a big day. He carried the ball 26 times and gained 180 yards. Brian Tiller chipped in with 66 yards in nine carries.

Riley gave the Rocks a swift 14-0 lead with touchdown runs of 24 and 20 yards in the first quarter. Both were inside runs.

Don Angel, who has shattered all rushing records at RU, kept the Panthers in contention. He scored three touchdowns on runs of 71, 21 and 69 yards. He also ran in a two-point conversion and caught a pass for another two-pointer.

RU gained 332 total yards on the night, 284 of those yards were gained on the ground by Angel. Angel has gained 1,408 yards this season, breaking Brian Macek's 1976 record of 1,260.

Leading 14-6 after a quarter, Salem scored two more before the half. Quarterback Steve Sobditch, scored from the 1 and Tiller from the 16 on an option pitch.

Angel scored in the third quarter to make it 28-14.

Then Tiller, Mr. Outside, ran around right end for 14 yards and the clinching score.

Mark Dixon was a perfect five for five on extra point tries.

The Rocks' wishbone amassed 403 total yards.

It's was a nice way to wrap up a frustrating season for the Rocks.

PLY. CANTON 15, BELLEVILLE 8: Speaking of nice ways to wrap up frustrating seasons... how about by winning two straight.

football

The Chiefs, really, were facing disaster coming into their season finale. Dennis Harvey, Rod Boyd, Mike Johnson and Scott Campbell — three running backs and a linebacker — were all out of the lineup.

Coach Rich Barr had to make some rash adjustments. He started Tony Aiken at quarterback. Dave Knapp, who had been the Chiefs' quarterback all season, got the start at halfback.

Ironically, it was Aiken who had the big day carrying the ball. The talented junior got the Chiefs on the board first with a 69-yard run.

Canton botched the snap on the extra point try, but kicker Dave Liuzzo scooped up the ball and ran it into the end zone for two points. It was going to be the Chiefs' night.

The Chiefs scored again in the first quarter on a 55-yard run by Matt Flower.

It was all the scoring the Chiefs would do. It was all they would need.

Belleville's lone score came on a 54-yard run by Bill Armstrong in the third quarter.

Canton's defense, led by Jeff Rummel, Dan Olsewski, Dwayne Bennett and Steve Boyd, kept the clamps tight on the Belleville offense.

"This could have been a much better year for us," said Barr. "A few badly-timed fumbles cost us. There were three games that I felt we definitely should have won that we lost. But, that's the way it goes. I'll say this, the kids never quit. They hung in there all year under a lot of adversity."

And the future looks bright. Aiken, who will be the Chiefs' No. 1 quarterback next year, ran for 92 of Canton's 180 total yards against Belleville. He also intercepted a pass.

"We've got a good start for next year," Barr said. "We've got a lot of players coming back and our junior varsity team went 7-2."

The Chiefs end their season with a 4-5 record.

Rocks 'D'-stroy Bentley

By Brad Emons
staff writer

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Kendra Hostynski (32) muscles off a pass despite being badgered by a pair of Bulldogs, Kelly Kowalski and Michelle Schneider (on floor), Thursday night.

It was not your typical Plymouth Salem-Livonia Bentley girls basketball battle. It was more like two teams headed in opposite directions.

With the Western Lakes Conference playoffs and state tournament coming up, Salem appears to be the team peaking after pouncing the slumping Bulldogs Thursday night, 50-31.

Even though Salem clinched the Lakes Division crown last week, many in the crowd expected to see another classic confrontation.

It never materialized. Bentley, which lost for the fourth straight time, was limited to a meager seven field goals by Salem's choking man-to-man defense.

"As far as this point and time of the season, the defense was sensational," said Salem coach Fred Thomann, whose team is 15-2 overall. "I thought it was a good team defensive effort."

"WE'RE RIGHT about where we want to be as far as the league (playoffs) and district championships are concerned. The mental hardness and toughness are there right now."

The Rocks also appear to be on track offensively, especially Dena Head.

The 5-foot-10 freshman led all scorers with 19 points. She netted six of her points in the second quarter as Salem opened up a 17-5 halftime lead. In the third quarter, Head notched nine points on a series of nifty drives to the hoop, giving the Rocks a commanding 31-15 advantage.

"Dena's no longer a freshman — now she's playing as a sophomore," Thomann said. "She plays with the confidence that she can score."

"But one of the neat things is that her teammates recognize when she's open."

The Rocks, thanks to the ball handling of Reggie Rojas, Fran Whitaker and Mary Beth West, had little trouble with Bentley's full-court press.

MEANWHILE, the team on the other side of the floor was searching for answers.

"I think the problem is that we played in a couple of tough losses and their self-confidence has gone kaput," said Bentley coach Tom Lang, whose team is 9-8 overall. "We're struggling offensively because we're not doing the things we're supposed to do. They all want to do what's right, but they're forcing up bad shots and not keeping their heads."

Senior point-guard Lonnie Payne was Bentley's only offensive threat.

girls basketball

She finished with 18 points, 12 coming from free throw line.

"I was a little surprised because I thought they (Bentley) would score a little more," Thomann said. "Maybe the one player (Marianne Bragiel) not being there hurt. They may have missed her ability to rebound."

Bragiel, the Bulldogs' center, has been out three consecutive games with the flu, according to Lang.

"We can't use that as an excuse," said the Bentley coach. "We had opportunities to score, but did not do it."

"WE WORKED very hard yesterday (in practice), but the result was not good. Something good has to happen in the next game (Tuesday at home versus Trenton). I'm as frustrated as the girls. If we could get it back together, we could go for a league title."

That's where Salem appears headed, but Thomann remains cautious.

"We're getting ready to make a run," he said. "But we're only as good as the next game."

PLY. CANTON 47, HARRISON 17: The Chiefs survived a frigid first quarter Thursday on their way to handing Farmington Harrison its 16th straight loss of the season and its 38th straight since 1983.

While Canton was hitting just three of its 14 first-quarter shots, Harrison could put up no more than two points.

The Chiefs proceeded to run away from the Hawks with a 16-4 spurt in the second quarter.

The surge was led by reserve Penny Piggott. Piggott came off the bench to score eight of her game-high 10 points in the second quarter. Beth Frigge, who scored eight on the night, added six in the second quarter.

Kathy Ross scored eight also for Canton while Lori Schauder pulled down 13 rebounds.

Jennifer Hughes and Michelle Wise each scored five for the Hawks.

The Chiefs, who have been one of the better teams in the Western Lakes the last three weeks, will open the Western Lakes league tournament against Livonia Bentley Thursday.

The Chiefs finished second in the Western Division behind Walled Lake Western with a 7-6 mark. They are 9-7 overall.

Give Troy Athens 'A' for title

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Chris Bologna of Troy Athens (left) goes for the ball against Livonia Stevenson's John Drouillard during Saturday's Class A state boys soccer championship at Flint's Atwood Stadium. Athens won its second consecutive title, third in the last four years, with a 3-2 victory over the previously unbeaten Spartans. The total attendance for the Class A, B-C and D championship games was 2,401, a record. Okemos won the Class B-C crown and Allen Park Inter-City Baptist took the 'D' title.

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Bus No. 22 was a sign of good tidings as far as Tim Storch was concerned.

When the Troy Athens boys soccer coach stepped off the bus in front of Flint's Atwood Stadium, he predicted his team would get their 22nd victory of the season in the most important game of the year — the state Class A championship.

History repeated itself Saturday as the Red Hawks retained their title with a come-from-behind, 3-2 win over No. 1-ranked and previously unbeaten Livonia Stevenson.

"All year its been an uphill battle," Storch said. "We lost eight starters and everybody was bad-mouthing us. They picked us to finish third in our league before the season started."

"You don't bad-mouth the state champs."

STORCH and his title-hungry team felt they had been slighted by one of Detroit's major daily newspapers during the past week, despite the fact the Red Hawks had won two of the previous three state titles, both against Stevenson, and had carved a 78-6-3 record over the past four years.

"We likened ourselves to Rodney Dangerfield," said the Athens coach. "We wanted some respect."

The astroturf field was definitely dangerous in the early going for Athens as Stevenson bolted to an early 2-0 lead.

The Spartans' Jim Carney headed in a shot past Athens goalie Nick DiCosmo on a beautifully timed sideline throw-in from Chris Gembis.

It was less than six minutes later when Stevenson's John Gelmsis notched his 35th goal of the season, a 30-yard boot into the left-hand corner.

But Athens regrouped with 17:47 to play in the half when Mark Noffert added a shot past Stevenson goalie Dan Millner off an indirect touch from Tony Alati.

THE RED HAWKS then knotted the count at 2 just four minutes later when sophomore Bill Smarsty poked the ball into the net on a pass from George Hagen.

The momentum gradually began to swing in Athens' favor as the second half unraveled.

With 17:20 left in the game, sweeper back Jamie Stewart saved a ball from going out of bounds in front of the Athens bench, sent a gorgeous long pass to Noffert, who crossed the ball to Hagen for what proved to be the game-winning goal.

"To be two goals down and come back was really something," said Storch. "You've got to withstand the first 20 to 25 minutes against Stevenson."

"I was definitely concerned when it was 2-0, but I was happy it was 2-2 at the half."

Stevenson coach Pete Scerri, meanwhile, felt his team let one get away. The Spartans outshot Athens, 31-16.

"We just couldn't make it," said the Stevenson coach. "The only trouble we have year-in and year-out is with them (Athens) and (Livonia) Churchill."

"They were beating us in the air (to the ball), and we kept the ball in the air. I don't know why. Our fullbacks weren't one step ahead."

"MAYBE WE were more fit," said Storch. "That's why we were able to beat them to the ball. We were hungry. I knew we wouldn't give it up with 20 minutes to play."

Stevenson pressured the Red Hawks in the closing minutes, but simply had too little, too late.

"I'll tell you we win with dignity and lose with honor," said Scerri, whose team finished with a 20-1-1 record. "I like the class this team has — the way they played and behaved. We dominated, but we just came up empty. What counts is the final whistle."

Athens coach Tim Storch lets the fans know who is No. 1 after his team beat Livonia Stevenson for the championship.

With several underclassmen in the starting lineup, Storch believes the Red Hawks "will always be a team to be reckoned with."

"This is definitely the most pleasing win of all," he said. "I'm keyed up." Athens' final record was 22-2-1.

Elliott's double win paces Salem victory

Gilligan wins a pair as Canton wins easy

The Plymouth Salem girls swim team continues to mow down its Western Lakes opponents in convincing fashion.

Northville was the latest victim of the Rocks. On Thursday, the Rocks handed the Mustangs a 119-56 loss.

Cindy Elliott led the way for the Rocks with victories in both the 200-yard individual medley (2:28.8) and the 100 breaststroke (1:16.6).

The Rocks pulled off a clean sweep of the 500 freestyle. Tracy Meszaros won the event (5:45.9) topping teammates Karen Dalpe (5:55.9) and Shannon Murphy (6:16.4).

Divers Tiffany Fisher (155.05) and Buffy Bailey (133.35) went 1-2.

Salem also captured both relays: Theresa Shaffer, Sue Bonnett, Murphy and Laura Shaffer went 2:09.7 in the 200 medley relay. Kristal Taylor, Meszaros, Dalpe and Laura Shaffer went 3:58.2 in the 400 freestyle relay.

Other individual winners for the Rocks were: Laura Shaffer in the 50 free (27.8), Erin Boughton in the 100 free (1:02.5), and Theresa Shaffer in the 100 backstroke (1:12.8).

Bonnett grabbed a second place in the 100 breaststroke (1:17.5) and Heather Bunch took second in the 100 free (1:04.3).

swimming

The win improves Salem's dual meet record to 10-3.

PLYMOUTH CANTON got a pair of firsts from Margaret Gilligan Thursday en route to a 102-67 win against Farmington.

Gilligan captured both the 200 yd (2:28.0) and the 100 freestyle (1:00.8).

Other winners for the Chiefs were: Kelly Kirk in the 200 free (2:28.8), Lynn Massey in the 50 free (26.6), Ginnie Johnson in the 500 free (5:47.9) and Kelly Murphy in the 100 breaststroke (1:21.1).

Michelle Stackpole, Sue Schendel, Johnson and Massey combined on a 2:06.9 to win the 200 medley relay. Gilligan, Julie Fisher, Johnson and Massey went 4:17.2 to get the 400 free relay.

Farmington got a first place from the area's premier diver, Katie MacIntosh (241.40), Jenny Zuhorski (1:12.3 in the 100 butterfly) and Carolyn Smith (1:11.2 in the 100 backstroke) get the other two firsts for the Falcons.

Farmington is 3-7 on the season. Canton is 6-2-1.

SALEM VOLLEYBALL

Betty Smith, the new varsity volleyball coach at Plymouth Salem High School, has scheduled an organizational meeting at 3:15 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 8, in room 2304 in the upper balcony at Salem.

The meeting is for any Salem girl (grades 9-12) interested in trying out for the team. Tryouts will begin Nov. 12.

Call Smith at 397-8312 after 6 p.m. for more information.

SOCCER TRYOUTS

The Canton Soccer Club has scheduled tryouts for boys under 17 Bonanza team (boys with a 1968 birth date) at 1 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11, at the Canton Recreation Complex.

In addition, the Canton Soccer Club is also holding tryouts for girls under 12 to play in the spring of 1985 — these tryouts will be 1-4 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 11, at the Canton Recreation Complex as well. For more information on the boys, call coach Roscoe Nash, 453-1815. For more information on the girls, call Roscoe Nash Jr. at 459-0578.

S'craft in playoff

Van Dimitriou hinted at it two weeks before the end of the season. The Schoolcraft College soccer coach's hunch proved accurate — his men's team will meet Eastern Conference rival Macomb CC for the right to represent the area at the NJCAA regional tournament.

Macomb finished the year with a 6-2 record, while Schoolcraft was 4-3-1, with a loss and a tie coming against Lakeland CC. But it was ruled last week that Lakeland had used an ineligible player, giving Schoolcraft victories in those games and matching Macomb's 6-2 mark.

The two teams, which split their two-game series during the regular season, will battle for the Eastern Conference championship at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Oakland University. The winner will advance to the NJCAA regionals.

ATTENTION SOCCER PLAYERS!

Diners migrate across the river

Of the many migratory events around here, such as Canada geese, Kirtland's warblers, various ducks, robins and more, none is more spectacular than the early evening crossing of the Detroit River to Windsor for those people seeking unusual dining experiences. The phenomenon, usually a week-end affair, has been going on for years and seems to be increasing in popularity.

The near-collapse of the Canadian dollar has encouraged this, of course, but no more than the excellent and varied cuisine to be found there.

There is a catch, however. Drinking wine in Canada is not one of life's greatest joys. The government has adopted a protectionist attitude toward its local viniculture and imposed taxes that drive the prices well beyond what we can get wines for in the United States.

This is true for European wines, while California wines are so taxed as to be almost wholly unavailable. Very poor imported fare costs high dollars at many restaurants, and a third growth is much more, often in the $30-40 range. So, traditionally one goes to Canada to eat, but not to drink well.

WELL, HAPPILY, not entirely. Things are looking up lately.

Recent forays into Canada have enabled me to discover two wineries, both from the Niagara-on-the-Lake area, that seem to be producing excellent wines, both from hybrid grapes but also from vinifera as well. I know nothing about these wineries except their products and the things told me by knowledgeable Canadians.

I strongly endorse what I have drunk and would try anything, within reason, they put in the bottle. Of the two, Inniskillin seems to have the better local reputation, and my contacts with the winery (wholly in the Stratford area) have been favorable, especially a 1980 gamay noir.

But by far the best bottle I have had is by the other winery, Chateau de Charmes. That was its 1982 chardonnay, a most attractive issue for which I paid $18 in Windsor (translate that to less than $14 American). Steely and wine

crisp (one does not look for fat, ripe grapes of any kind in Canada), it had delicious chardonnay character with only a hint of wood. A delightful find!

And now back to Windsor dining. Everyone who goes there, it would seem, has a favorite or two restaurants to recommend. My most recent "discovery" is Chez Vins, only a couple of blocks from the tunnel at 26 Chatham Street. Host and proprietor Mike Plunkett and his wife Karen preside over a modest storefront property that can seat no more than 50 comfortably.

STYLISH AND elegant the decor is not, but it is certainly adequate, dominated as it is by a central bar. Chez Vins offers a diverse wine list, among other potables. My Chateau de Charmes was not on the list but was readily secured from Mike's private collection when he noted wine interest.

The standard menu contains some eight to 10 items in the $8-$13 range, and the chalkboard specials are somewhat higher. The West Coast salmon (board special) was excellent, and the standard spinach-chicken was most memorable. Good bread and a salad of little distinction preceded the entree.

This column has strayed from wine to food as it rarely does, but the cause is a good one for those who like the feel of Windsor. Before I quote the price of a Beefeater martini, I shall close it.

Deborah Shelton and Craig Wasson become involved in a murder mystery in "Body Double."

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Macabre it is, but suspenseful it's not

Brian DePalma has a long road to go before he achieves the dramatic intensity characteristic of Hitchcock's best efforts in the macabre. If "Body Double" is any indication, he's having a bad trip and getting there was definitely not half the fun.

The basic plot idea is OK, an upbeat, updated version of the old switch-the-performer, set-up-the-witness routine, but its potential is never achieved. The bottom line is two hours of hokum interspersed with occasional fleshy sequences, one gross and gory murder and, when the audience is too bored to care, some closing excitement spoiled by nonsensical treatment.

"Body Double" never really has a chance when you consider that the hero, Jake Scully (Craig Wasson), is a B (minus) movie actor playing vampire roles, with claustrophobia no less! Makes it tough in the coffin, Bela.

Sent home early because he clutched in the coffin at a photographically crucial moment, Jake finds live-in girlfriend Carol (Barbara Crampton) in bed with we-never-learn-whom.

HIM WE DON'T even see (probably just as well) and the brief shot of Carol moaning in what is later described as "glowing" or "lustrous" makes one long for the grainy old black-and-white stag movies — at least something happened and there was a reason for feeling unclear, something "Body Double" does not provide.

Nothing much happens after Carol glows as Jake wanders through the maudlin byways of the rejected lover and unemployed actor for 30 or 40 minutes of filmtime.

To Jake's rescue, not the audience's, comes Sam (Gregg Henry) a "muy sympatico" actor. Henceforth we'll be suspicious of helpful strangers. Sam is house-sitting in a place you wouldn't believe.

As an extra, added attraction, Sam has to go on the road and leaves Jake in charge of this incredible spaceship-like modular home straight from Alpha Centauri — or southern California. The place is large enough to accommodate Jake's claustrophobia and features a high-powered telescope so Jake becomes a Peeping Jake to watch a wealthy young beauty, Gloria (Deborah Shelton), masturbate. For a while this keeps Jake off the streets.

But not for long. Someone else is watching Gloria, an evil-looking Indian with stainless steel teeth. Although this is supposed to be at the heart of the mystery, it's mostly confusing and the mystery, once solved, is simple-minded.

WELL, ENOUGH of the plot. I don't want to tell the whole thing and be accused of ruining the story — besides DePalma, who co-authored the screenplay and wrote the story, did that some time ago.

Somewhere deep in the recesses of his mind, DePalma seems bound and determined to abuse women: Angie Dickenson in "Dressed to Kill," Sissy Spacek in "Carrie." "Body Double" is a good example of that twisted objective.

Recently DePalma was quoted to the effect that sex is terrifying. Apparently he's out to punish women for being the other party to his own psychological difficulties.

Not only does this trashy epic demean women, it's boring too.
