Price tag set for DeHoCo

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Provided things go as planned, Plymouth Township could be welcoming at least 500 new residents before summer — state felons.

Michigan's Department of Management and Budget (DMB) announced last week that a purchase agreement had been negotiated for 123 acres at the Detroit House of Corrections (DeHoCo) on Five Mile west of Sheldon. "We have arrived at a figure of $6.29 million, which does not include the fixtures and personal property. The price is based on appraisals," said Herb DeYoung, DMB deputy director.

Fixtures and personal property at the complex are tagged at another $473,800 but DeYoung said all the fixtures and personal property may not be bought.

"The agreement with Detroit provides that we will assume the employees that are out there," he said.

DETROIT OWNS the complex and surrounding 1,100 acres, stretching from Plymouth Township into Northville Township. The targeted 123 acres are on the Plymouth Township side of Five Mile.

Detroit is in the process of closing DeHoCo and has been transferring the inmates, serving sentences of less than one year, to the new Wayne County Jail in downtown Detroit.

"We are prepared to go to the Joint Capital Outlay Committee with the agreement this Thursday," DeYoung said.

"The money for the operation is already in the budget and the dollars already are appropriated for the purchase," he said.

"We will be moving in there as soon as possible. It all depends on how fast we get the new fence up. We can have it up 45 to 60 days after the bill passes.

"We hope to have inmates out there before the summer," he said.

DMB OFFICIALS estimate the DeHoCo operational costs at $43.50 a day per inmate, and want to put 750 prisoners into the facility.

However, amendments to a supplemental appropriations bill, introduced last week by Sen Robert Geake, R-Northville, call for a 500-prisoner cap at DeHoCo.

Geake and Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth Township, developed a number of amendments to the supplemental bill designed to cap the number of prisoners for the Plymouth-Northville area, while calling for a moratorium on additional institutions.

DeYoung said the operational costs would be the same whether there are 500 or 750 prisoners at DeHoCo. Some question his figures because the operational costs for a new regional prison are pegged at close to $47 a day per inmate.

Geake's amendments were approved 9-2 by the Senate Appropriations Committee last week. Voting against the amendments were two Democratic Detroit senators, Jackie Vaughn and David Holmes Jr. Neither Vaughn nor Holmes could be contacted for comment Friday.

"The vote on the amendments represented bipartisan support for our concerns except for Detroit, which was expected," Geake said.

Besides limiting DeHoCo to 500 prisoners, the amendment calls for caps of 550 prisoners at the Scott Correctional Facility being built across Five Mile on the Northville Township side, and a cap of 311 prisoners at the existing Phoenix Correctional Facility next to the Scott site.

Also, by line-iteming money for inmate housing, Law said they were able to keep correctional officials from using old Wayne County buildings in Westland from being used as prisons.

The only other item Geake and Law wanted was tie-bar legislation which would change the state's correctional code to reflect the prisoner caps.

"Appropriations is short term — you're only talking about money for a short period. I want to change the law so that the prisoner caps are in it," Law said.

Macomb and Canada, also compete — and are likely to show why March 17 at parties and pubs. Livonia's Kitty Heinzman and her students (who include Italian attorneys, custodians, computer programmers, priests and Howell "housefraus") say their pursuit is an enjoyable way to keep Irish culture alive. What's more, they say, all a prospective dancer needs are "two legs, preferably with feet." See Thursday's entertainment section for stories on St. Patrick's Day doings, the dancers and their Irish-born instructor.

Companies decide to go west . . . Metro West

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Business is booming at the Metro West Industrial Park in Plymouth Township, and that makes Robert DeMattia very happy.

DeMattia, a Farmington Hills-based developer, owns the park and has been working frantically of late to meet the demand for light industrial land.

"I have land in Avon and Van Buren townships which I am developing, but the hottest area for me right now is Plymouth Township," he said Friday.

And when you're hot, you're hot. Last month DeMattia came before the Plymouth Township Board for plat approval for the second phase of his industrial park at Sheldon and Five Mile roads. Plat approval is a routine request unless, as in DeMattia's case, the roads and utilities aren't in.

DeMattia was faced with a May 1 deadline for selling property to an overseas firm. It required putting up large amounts of bonds to insure the road and utility work is completed.

"If we didn't put them here, then they would go to another state. We had to move fast," he said. "It was here or Chicago."

"We approached the different authorities and they all bent over backwards to help us. We were able to accomplish in two or three months what usually takes a year or more."

So, without the roads or utilities even started, DeMattia received his plat approval. Township Clerk Esther Hulsing even stopped in the middle of the meeting to sign the document.

"It was teamwork," DeMattia said. "You talk about the Say Yes to Michigan campaign. This is what can make Michigan great."

With the fast plat approval, the developer successfully landed the overseas firm. He wouldn't release the name or details, saying only it's "a ma-

'I have land in Avon and Van Buren townships which I am developing, but the hottest area for me right now is Plymouth Township.'

Robert DeMattia, developer

for firm which deals in high-tech prototypes and will hire enough people to get into the hundreds."

TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR Maurice Breen, who monitored the progress of the plat project via long-distance phone while on vacation, lauds the accomplishment as an example of what is needed to develop.

"You can't create development, but you can create an environment for development," Breen said.

"As a government, we have to present an attitude that says 'we want your business.' We grease the skids for development, rather than throwing up roadblocks," he said.

But this venture is only one example. DeMattia says he doesn't have enough land at Metro West to meet all the demands. Using an expandable pointer, he points to a color-coded map of the park marking the sites where business will start building this spring.

"I only have one lot left in Phase I of the park, and we're already selling Phase II," he said.

He points to a large lot and says another overseas firm has bought that parcel. Again the name and details can't be released. "I'm sworn to secrecy. I just can't tell you right now, but you'll be the first to know," he says with a smile.

Phase II, with some 59 lots, has only 11 left unsold. Land balancing work is starting for Phase III.

"In the spring we will start construction on 10 to 15 buildings out there," he said while placing an architect's rendering up next to the map.

Some of the businesses, such as Clips and Clamps, Bracon and U.S. Tool, he can name. Others simply are "sold." DeMattia promises "a major news conference is in the works."

Claiming his estimate is conservative, he says some 500 jobs will be created with the businesses coming this spring. Most are involved in high-tech manufacturing.

"THIS LAND is close to the automotive centers in Detroit and close to research facilities in Ann Arbor — it really is prime land, it's at a perfect crossroads," he said.

"We have easy access to the expressways, and this is one of the few parks that has full utilities on it. And, besides that, the community also is a super place to live."

Within five years, DeMattia hopes to have the park completely built. He said marketing efforts are under way throughout the United States, as well as around the world.

"It's a tremendous effort. We're bringing jobs to the area without giving away the whole farm either," he said.

Breen shares the enthusiasm for the booming industrial park.

"This contributes to the economic longevity of the area. It also reduces the tax load on residents, without putting an increased load on services," he said.

Besides the increased revenues from property taxes, Breen said there is a tremendous spinoff from the development. He points to the increased revenues from payroll taxes and sales taxes as a result of the increased money pumped into surrounding commercial and retail shops.

"An increase in manufacturing jobs, opposed to retail, have a tremendous impact on the local economy," he said.

Both men said the industrial park is a spiral, both for development and economic impact. And once that spiral starts, as it appears to be doing at Metro West, it just keeps going.

"People want to go with the winners," DeMattia said.

Balloon festival may fly after all

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

The Mayflower Hotel Hot Air Balloon Festival may rise from the depths of despair and cancellation.

Since announcing the event would not be held, organizers Scott Lorenz and Gordon Boring have been meeting with Plymouth Township and City of Plymouth officials in an attempt to work out differences.

"I think things look favorable at this point. We're still in the process of discussing things however," said Plymouth Township Clerk Esther Hulsing.

"We had a meeting this morning and it's still up in the air, nothing's been firmly decided," Lorenz said Friday. "To speculate at this point one way or the other, I don't know. I don't know what way we're going to go; we're still right in the middle of it.

"It's a complicated deal. It's just not something you can handle in a meeting for a half hour, but the township is interested in doing it and we're interested in doing it," he said.

THE BALLOON festival, which attracted some 40 pilots last year, usually is held in July at the Plymouth Township Park on Ann Arbor Road.

The event draws more than 100,000 spectators and features hot air balloon races and precision flying events.

At a township board meeting last month, Lorenz said he would no longer sponsor the festival because of comments made by board members. The board questioned how involved it should be with an event sponsored by a private, for-profit corporation.

Those questions came at a January meeting when Lorenz and Boring asked to reserve the park. At that meeting, Lorenz said he preferred to work things out in private, rather than at a public meeting.

AT ISSUE was an outstanding bill for more than $5,000 for last year's festival. The bill included costs for shuttle-bus transportation to the township park as well as for damage at the site.

Because of the large number of spectators, school buses were used to shuttle visitors from the Ford Sheldon Road Plant parking lot.

At the February meeting, Lorenz said he never agreed to pay for the buses and the small amount for sod should be the township's contribution to the event. He said sponsoring the event is a costly venture and requires community support.

CONSEQUENTLY, the board took no action to extend a July 5-7 reservation for the park.

Instead, Hulsing called for a committee to meet with Lorenz and Boring to try and salvage the event. Besides Hulsing, those meeting with the organizers include trustees Abe Munfakh and Smith Horton, Township Police Chief Carl Berry, Township Planner Jim Anselwicz and City Manager Henry Graper.

"What we wanted to do is thrash out the details and then bring it back to the board, which is what we are doing," Hulsing said Friday.

Father says Fisher thought wife planned affair

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Former Canton resident Dr. Charles Fisher, charged with murdering his wife, feared she was having an affair with her cousin, and that their marriage would end if she visited the cousin as she had planned, according to testimony given by Manuel Mercado, the victim's father.

Mercado testified in 35th District Court last week in the continuing preliminary examination on the first degree murder charge. He said that Fisher pleaded with him to intercede two times the day before Ella Marie Mercado-Fisher was bound with rope and her face was wrapped with duct tape on July 15. She died five days later from complications caused from lack of oxygen.

Mercado-Fisher kept a journal in which she "predicts in a psychic manner what would happen," Mercado said.

The journal was presented in court by Timothy Kenny, Wayne County prosecutor, but it was not entered as evidence. Defense attorney Daniel Burreas said it could be considered hearsay because Mercado-Fisher couldn't verify the document.

IN A surprise move, Burreas declined to cross-examine Mercado, even though earlier in the hearing he said he expected to question him at length.

"This is a preliminary exam, and it's a time for the prosecutor to show cause to prosecute," Burreas said. "It's not time for me to try my case. He (Mercado) is a person who has just lost his daughter."

Mercado-Fisher planned to go to Germany July 17 to visit her cousin, Javier Hurtado.

"He (Fisher) told me to stop my daughter from going to Germany," Mercado said. "He told me that they had a romantic relationship — my daughter Ella Marie and Javier Hurtado. He (Fisher) mentioned the fact that he (Hurtado) was a bad influence on my daughter, because he was either a socialist or a communist."

Hurtado sent Mercado-Fisher books relating to politics from Central America, Mercado said. The victim's father said he promised Fisher he would call his daughter the next day (May 15) and try to convince her not to go to Germany.

"I supported him as a son-in-law," Mercado said. "I wanted him to be within the family. And, I supported him on an emotional basis in regards to my daughter. He said this would be the end of the marriage if she went."

FISHER CALLED Mercado at his Maryland home again at 3 p.m. July 15 to ask him not to tell Mercado-Fisher about the first telephone call, because if she found out "she will leave me," Mercado recalled.

Mercado also read a letter from his son-in-law dated September 1983: "I resent him (Hurtado) in Ella Marie's life, and that he's trying to contaminate her mind and body." Along with the letter to his in-laws Fisher enclosed a card from Hurtado to Mercado-Fisher, "... because," wrote Fisher, "I just want you to see I'm not lying. From now on I will provide you with proof. I am sick of being doubted by Ella Marie when she has done these things."

The letter from Hurtado written in broken English included: "I got used to receiving your letters and by now I am missing it... I think under the shower

I remember you..." Fisher's letter continued: "How sick that cousin would have a relationship like this. I was afraid it would happen as it has happened more and more."

Mercado said outside the courtroom that he believed his daughter "could have been infatuated with her cousin."

"But Javier already had a girlfriend when Ella Marie was to go (to Germany) in July," Mercado said. "He wrote her and said he and his girlfriend would show her the sights, but Mr. Fisher construed this in a different way."

FISHER TOLD his father-in-law

Mercado-Fisher was having affairs on at least three other occasions, Mercado said.

Mercado-Fisher, who was living with Fisher in the Virgin Islands in July 1983, visited Bolivia with Mercado that year to visit her father's relatives, Mercado said. Fisher opposed the trip that was to last about five weeks. About a week after Mercado and his daughter arrived in Bolivia, Fisher called inquiring about his wife.

"Fisher said, 'Where's Ella Marie? I've been calling her all day,' and I said, 'She went out with her cousin Javier," Mercado said.

Mercado-Fisher ended the vacation after two weeks.

Mercado testified that the day after the attack Fisher called his father-in-law again and said "you won't believe this, but Ella Marie and I were attacked and robbed last night," Mercado said.

"I told him, 'Charles, I don't believe anything you are saying,'" Mercado said. "Your story is full of holes, and if the police believe what you are saying they are fools."

DeHoCo land sold to state

"I'm going to give the tie-bar legislation a shot on the House side," he said. "I may try it on the floor or in a committee — who knows, you may get lucky."

The tie-bar legislation also would call for a repeal of the DeHoCo enabling acts, which Law said are unneeded because Detroit is no longer using the facility.

THE SUPPLEMENTAL bill will be voted on by the full Senate sometime this week and then passed to the House.

"We don't expect much to happen to the supplemental, bill on the Senate floor, so our amendments should stay intact," Geake said. "At least it will go through the Senate in our favor."

In the House the amendments might get changed but both local lawmakers are optimistic — due to the bipartisan support they received in the Senate.

Also, because another of the amendments called for the state to buy DeHoCo rather than lease it, Law expects DMB people to ask for the purchase to be included in the current supplemental bill.

"Most likely they will include the purchase price and conditions with the amendment since they have negotiated an agreement with Detroit."

Back Talk... Headache Cause May be Pinched Nerve

According to a report issued by the N.Y. Journal of Medicine, the cause of headaches in over 90% of 2,000 patients studied was a mechanical irritation of the nerves that exist between the bones of the neck. The report states that "direct injury to the neck may be caused by a blow or fall that could easily irritate delicate spinal nerves."

American Weekly Magazine informed readers: "Headaches strike 18,000,000 Americans on a regular basis... each day some 21 tons of aspirin are consumed in the attempt to gain relief."

Modern chiropractic treatment seeks to eliminate this irritation of spinal nerves and produce effective relief of neck tension and headaches.

Honduran orphan finds road to family, happiness, success

By M.B. Dillon Ward
staff writer

Don't be surprised if someday, film crews descend upon Centennial Educational Park to make a movie about a certain senior.

The opening scene probably would transport you to spring 1967. At 18 months old, an orphan with golden skin and deep brown, saucer-like eyes had stolen the heart of college student Bobbi McIvor. The Michigan State University freshman was working in an orphanage in Honduras, Central America, completing a Spanish project.

Before his young, poverty-stricken mother died, Marco Antonio was found tied to a bedpost in a tiny, bare home. Lucia Calix, blinded from malnutrition, had no other way to mind her only child, who himself was legally blind. Marco Antonio's father died tragically, but little else is known about him.

SISTER MARIA Rosa, a nurse, later discovered the toddler in Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, in a hospital where she worked. A foundling whose own long-ago wanderings fortunately had led her to a convent where she was educated, Sister Maria "hid him and fed him because she knew no one could pay for his care," according to old newspaper accounts.

While caring for the little boy, the sister's "major inheritance — the bitter memory of a childhood spent facing poverty, abuse, fear, hunger, and hopelessness" impelled her to follow her dream of starting an orphanage.

With grants and donations from businesses, she established "The City of Children." Marco Antonio was given her surname, "de la Rosa," and was the first of hundreds of Hispanic waifs to find a home with Sister Maria.

"I don't remember it, but from what I understand, a student who was working there (Bobbi McIvor) saw I had an eyesight problem," said an 18-year-old Honduran at Plymouth Canton High School Friday. "She took me out of the orphanage, and just took me home with her to Ann Arbor. She took me without knowing the consequences."

McIvor, then a minor, somehow flung a passport and visa for Marco Antonio, and left Honduras. Her hope was to have the youngster examined and treated at a University of Michigan vision clinic and to find a family to adopt him.

THE TRIP to Michigan was uneventful, with one exception. At hostels en route, Marco Antonio contentedly slept in bottom dresser drawers. But McIvor — now Mrs. Bobbi Ryder and director of southwest Michigan's migrant and Rural Community Health Association — confronted difficulty with U.S. Customs officials.

"(Bringing him into the country) was illegal, of course. I remember asking Bobbi what she did. She said she cried," said Cantor's Ruth Davis, who with her husband Bruce adopted Marco in 1968. "Someone (in customs) might have gotten into trouble afterwards."

The pair didn't fare as well at the University of Michigan. Marco, called Anthony Marco by his American parents, was diagnosed with nearsightedness and a non-treatable muscle disorder called congenital myotonia. Possibly the result of his mother's malnutrition, Anthony's eye muscles vibrate when they shouldn't.

His vision is correctable to 20/80. If he holds written material close to his eyes, he can read. Anthony relies heavily on his peripheral vision. With optical devices, he can drive.

Despite his limited sight, Davis excels in his commercial art classes.

"Tony has some kind of a real unique, innate design sense," remarked Richard Saunders, who teaches vocational design at CEP.

"He has to work eight inches away (from what he is drawing), yet he can put something together as a whole. You wouldn't think he'd be able to do it. His work is as good or better than most in class." Davis is partially color-blind as well. But with Saunders' help, he's been able to satisfactorily blend paints.

"I've learned to accept my limitations," said Tony, who recently received an Elks Club Gold Key $3,000 scholarship. "When I first came here (CEP) there were things I wanted to do, like playing football or baseball. But I eventually got over it."

Tony found things he could do.

He has run track, wrestled, reported for the school newspaper, bused tables at Big Boy's, and volunteered as a "hugger" at the Special Olympics for the handicapped. He currently mans a crisis line for Growth Works in Plymouth, an agency that helps people deal with substance abuse, family trouble, depression and other problems.

A CAREER in hotel and restaurant management appeals to Anthony, who hopes to attend Central Michigan University this fall.

"I think I would enjoy the interaction with people. I am interested in management" and travel, said Davis. Hooking up with the Hilton hotels or the Holiday Inn possibly will enable him to "work in different locations in the United States, maybe somewhere in the Sun Belt area, and then maybe out of the country — to France and England. Hawaii would be a nice place" to end up in, added Davis.

Anthony — the brother of Mark, Holly and Tala Davis — stays in touch with, and sometimes sends drawings to, Honduran relatives, Bobbi Ryder, and Sister Maria, who admonishes him on orphanage stationery to "keep practicing your Spanish, my sweet boy."

Fog Gall, Davis' teacher consultant, and Anthony's aunt have seen the young man make great strides.

Anthony has gone from being rather delinquent and misbehaving about his impairment to someone "who's honest about what he can and cannot do," said Gall. "At first, he tended to isolate himself in class. Now he talks with lots of students. He doesn't have anything to hide anymore."

"I still haven't figured out how he does it," she said. "Anthony's mother, a teacher at Plymouth, said, 'What he's done is remarkable.' She added, 'and his handwriting makes his art even more remarkable.'"

This photograph of "Tony," aged 13 or 14 months, and Sr. Maria Rosa taken at her orphanage in Honduras appeared on a billboard in the Central American country in the late 1960s.

Tony Davis was happy to hear doctors say his vision problem won't be inherited should he become a father.

This charcoal drawing of a Ford Lynx is the work of Tony Davis, legally blind at birth.

Rick Smith

Anthony's artistic talent still surprises his friends, family and teachers.

Teacher Richard Saunders has spent many hours working with his gifted, and "sometimes stubborn," art student, Anthony Davis. Before teaching Davis, Saunders said he was told "Tony is special," and "to and behold it was true," says Saunders, who teaches advertising layout, hand lettering, keylining, cartooning, fashion, silk screen, advertising illustration and airbrushing.

Order Advance Tickets for THE PRECIOUS LEGACY Judaic Treasures from The Czechoslovak State Collections The Detroit Institute of Arts March 13 - May 5, 1985

The Detroit Institute of Arts is the exclusive Midwestern site of The Precious Legacy, a collection of artwork rescued from the Nazis at the end of the war. This landmark exhibition presents the work of distinguished scholars from Czechoslovakia and the United States. The vitality and creativity of Czech Jewish life is celebrated in objects reflecting a religious and cultural heritage that extends back to the Middle Ages and represents virtually every medium of folk and fine arts. The treasures have become what their owners wanted them to be: links in a chain of continuity, beauty and faith. So long as we treasure these things, the people who loved them can never be extinct.

The Precious Legacy is organized by the Smithsonian Institution Traveling Exhibition Service (SITES), in cooperation with Project Judaica, the Ministry of Culture of the Czech Socialist Republic, the Federal Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Czechoslovak Socialist Republic, the National Committee of the Capital of Prague, and the State Jewish Museum in Prague. The national corporate sponsor of the exhibition is Philip Morris Incorporated.

ARTHRITIS OF THE THUMB
When you think of arthritis of the hands, probably you think of gnarled and mis-shapen fingers. There is another type of arthritis of the hands which is prevalent but not well known: arthritis of the thumb. This arthritis begins at the base of the thumb where the wrist ends and the hand begins, in anatomy this area is called the first carpal-metacarpal joint.
The thumb is vulnerable to arthritis because of its constant activity in twisting, bending, grasping and pulling. All of these motions start at the base of the thumb, and over a lifetime the accumulated strain on this joint is considerable.
Initially, pain in this joint occurs when you twist the thumb, later the pain is constant. Eventually it becomes penetrating and constant, and even holding a light object such as newspaper, brings on discomfort.
The first approach to treatment is injection, this therapy may work for months. Next, medication such as aspirin is in order, if these therapies fail, then surgery is in order. The carpal bone is removed, and replaced by a elastic component.
The success of this step-wise therapy illustrates the fallacy of the old saying that "arthritis is something you have to live with."

Season of frustration ends quickly

'This was the first group of seniors that didn't play freshman basketball . . . When we got into game situations, the kids didn't react instinctively. They had to think about it. And that told a tale.'

— Bob Brodie
Salem coach

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

No, it was not a banner year for CEP basketball.

After the magic of 1984 — Plymouth Canton winning the Western Lakes championship and Plymouth Salem making its patented run in the state tournament — this past season was indeed a letdown.

"We thought we would be over .500," said Canton coach Dave VanWagoner. "We were coming off a championship season and we had a good number of kids coming back — I felt the 1984 atmosphere would carry over."

"But, a lot of things caught up with us: our lack of height and our inability to shoot the ball (37 percent as a team). The kids played hard all year. There was no quit in them. We beat the teams we were supposed to beat. But we never could seem to beat the teams at our level or better. We didn't pull any upsets. I guess if there's disappointment, that's where it's at."

PLYMOUTH SALEM'S problems were more complex. The team had better talent than its 13-9 record indicates. And, at times, the Rocks played as good or better than the best teams in the area.

But something was missing. An intangible. It would perhaps be cruel, if not false, to say the Rocks lacked heart this season, especially after their true-grit performance against Wayne Memorial Wednesday night. Yet something along that line appeared to be lacking.

Maybe individual on-the-floor leadership was missing. This is not an indictment of any Salem player. Not everyone is instilled with the qualities of such former Rock leaders as Scott Jurek, Jeff Arnold, Matt Etienne, Brian Wolcott or Rich Hewlett.

Mike White is a flashy player with outstanding abilities — in fact, he has as much pure basketball talent as any player to come through the Salem system. But Mike White is what coach Bob Brodie terms a "support player". LeSean Haygood, another extremely talented Rock, would also be termed a support player — both good solid players, but not floor-leaders.

"Yes, I agree. You have to have that hard-nosed kid that's going to be willing to step in and take the charge, who's willing to get after the loose ball, who's willing to establish himself inside. We didn't have that type of kid this year," Brodie said.

THERE WAS another factor involved in the down CEP season, a factor that plagued both Salem and Canton.

"Look at our season," Brodie said. "We were very inconsistent. We were up and down all year. A lot of it had to do with experience. We had good players, but inexperienced players."

"This was the first group of seniors that didn't play freshman basketball. This is the first crew at both Salem and Canton that didn't have four years experience. When we got into game situations, the kids didn't react instinctively. They had to think about it. And that told a tale."

Both teams improved throughout the season, thus, both coaches are optimistic about the future.

"I think we're going to have a nice team at Canton next year," VanWagoner said. "We have Joel Mies (who averaged 11 points and 6 assists a game this year) coming back and some other promising juniors. I'm quite enthusiastic about it."

Said Brodie: "We had a strong junior varsity team and we've got some big kids coming up. The freshman program is back now, too. But again, the question mark is experience. I'm looking forward to a promising season, but who's going to be the person to take charge on the court?"

MIKE HALE, Bryan Waldron, Paul Makara, Bryan Kearis and Tom D'Angelo, players who saw significant time on the varsity floor this season, will no doubt apply for the job next year.

For the Chiefs, Mies, Danny Young and Dan Olaszewski will provide the nucleus for next season. Still, the nagging need at Canton will be size.

There was no magic on the park hoop scene this year. But, cheer up, the outlook for next year is positive and that's more than can be said for many Observerland basketball programs.

Home-boy comes home

Thornbladh fearful for CEP athletic future

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

HE LOOKS better now than he did during his playing days. In fact, he looks like he should still be playing.

"I'm lighter now than during my playing days."

Bob Thornbladh was back in town Thursday night. He visited one of his old stomps, the Box Bar, speaking at a banquet for the Plymouth Mens Over-40 Halfcourt Basketball League.

"I've gotten tossed out of this place a few times," said the former Plymouth High School (class of 1970) all-state football star.

The wit, the charm, the handsomely studious face, the short-but-solid build — it's all still in place for Thornbladh. He is an extremely happy man of 32, living with his wife, the former Christine DeCorty, and three children in Ann Arbor.

UPON HIS graduation from the University of Michigan, where he starred for three years on Bo Schembechler's football team, Thornbladh played one season of professional football with the Kansas City Chiefs. He then returned as a grad assistant with Schembechler's program.

"I started out kind of on the bottom, you know, getting Bo his coffee," Thornbladh said. "I still get his coffee when he asks me."

Schembechler doesn't ask Thornbladh to get him coffee anymore. He sends him out after football players. As an assistant coach in charge of receivers the past six years, Thornbladh has been a major recruiter for the Wolverines. Recruiting primarily on the east coast and in Chicago, Thornbladh has brought such talent to Michigan as Jamie Morris, Bob Perryman, Butch Woolfolk and the Mallory brothers.

Bob Thornbladh is in love with the University of Michigan, Bo Schem-

'I hear you're not paying the coaches enough money. I also hear that you're cutting out seventh, eighth and ninth grade athletic programs. You people can't let this happen. This really upsets me.'

— Bob Thornbladh
former Plymouth High star

bechler and the Wolverine football program, as well he should be. He is a solid Ann Arbor citizen.

But there remains a special place in his heart for the Plymouth-Canton community.

"I WAS born in Cleveland and I came here in the eighth grade," Thornbladh said between bites of the first of two Box Bar steak sandwiches he would consume. "But, I'll always consider Plymouth my home town. I have nothing but wonderful memories of this town. Everyone here has been so supportive of me."

"I'm still very close to Tom Moshimer," Thornbladh said of his Plymouth High football coach. "When I played for him, I always thought he was an outstanding coach and a great man. But now, after I've traveled across the country and I've seen so many other coaches, I'm positive he's a great coach. I have documentation of that fact, now."

In fact, Thornbladh cherishes the relationship he had with the entire athletic department at Plymouth High.

"Part of the reason I've been successful, is because of my experiences with Moshimer and John Sandmann and Paul Cummings and Wayne Sparkman. They've had just a profound influence on me."

BECAUSE OF his concern and love for his hometown and its athletic program, Thornbladh was more than a little troubled by some of the recent news he'd heard about the state of the high school athletic program.

"I hear you're not paying the coaches enough money," he said to the 40-plus members of the Plymouth Halfcourt League, a group made up mostly of community leaders such as Don Massey, John VanWagoner and numerous teachers.

"I also hear that you're cutting out seventh-, eighth- and ninth-grade athletic programs. You people can't let this happen. This really upsets me."

"I know what a profound impact athletics had on my life. I remember the tremendous support I got from you when I was growing up here. Without support, the athletic program will die. And you cannot tell me that there are not enough resources in this town to keep these programs alive. You can't tell me that with the tax base this district has that you people can't afford athletics."

"This town does not have to allow this to happen. And you guys are all convicted if you let it happen."

Thornbladh told the group that he has witnessed communities, particularly in Chicago, which couldn't afford to support high school athletics. It wasn't pretty, he said, and he told the group they have to do everything in their power to keep the the Plymouth-Canton program on top.

THORNBLADH, AS IS his style, left the group laughing with an assortment of stories ranging from Bo Schembechler anecdotes and tales of Wolverine football, to some fascinating tales of some of his Plymouth High buddies.

But, the theme of his talk was crystal clear: "Please, do everything you can to preserve the standard of excellence in Plymouth-Canton athletics."

Judging from the warm applause and the proud smiles on the faces of the audience, it was good to have young Bob Thornbladh back in town.

All-Area matmen

Dennis Dameron and his brother Dave are among the 13 best wrestlers in Observerland. The two Plymouth Salem standouts and the rest of the squad are featured on page A-7.

Earning their stripes

Trio of Zebras bolster Observer mat team

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

LIVONIA BENTLEY High School is slated to close its doors after this season. That's a tough break for wrestling coach Bill Riddle who has kept the program together at Bentley for the last four years.

But Riddle and his team didn't go out with a whimper. Bentley, a team that won just three dual meets last season and finished sixth at the Western Lakes meet, had enough individual power to place seventh at last weekend's state Class A meet.

It was a triumphant conclusion to what has traditionally been a lackluster wrestling program at Bentley. For that effort, and because he has molded several outstanding individual wrestlers especially in the last two seasons, Bill Riddle has been chosen Observerland Wrestling Coach of the Year for 1985.

He headlines a solid group of All-Area matmen selected by Observerland wrestling coaches. The All-Area team has a new look this year. It should be mentioned, Wayne Memorial has been added to Observerland coverage and, as you'll see, the Zebras have made a definite impact on the wrestling team.

FIRST TEAM

Jim Malone, heavyweight, Canton: The 290-pound senior is making a repeat All-Area appearance. He has been the area's dominant big man the past two years, scoring a 37-12-1 record this year. He took fourth in the regional tournament and went on to win two matches at the state meet. Malone was a clutch dual-meet performer for Plymouth Canton, coming through five times to secure victories by winning his match.

Dennis Dameron, 96 pounds, Salem: To finish with a 34-8 record is a super accomplishment for any wrestler. But, when you are just a sophomore the feat takes on added significance. Dameron, obviously, has a bright future in this sport. He was both the Western Lakes and district champion and he placed second at regionals. He went on to place in the top eight in the state. In two years at Plymouth Salem, he's compiled a 52-27 mark.

Salem Yaffal, 185, Bentley: There was nothing fluke about this junior's 42-3 record last year. When you pin everyone you face at a state district meet, you're for real. He was also the runner-up at both the regional and the state meet, losing both times to Bedford's Doug Harper, a two-time state champ and a young man who hasn't lost in 102 straight matches. Yaffal pinned 30 of his 42 foes last year and has a 100-15 career record.

Jason Wiebeck, 112, Catholic Central: Another talented sophomore illuminates the Observerland mats. Wiebeck compiled a 43-9 record and championships in both the Catholic League and district. He won one match before bowing out of state competition. He has amassed some impressive accomplishments in a short time: two Catholic League titles, three AAU national titles and three AAU state titles.

Dave Dameron, 119, Salem: This multi-talented junior will rewrite Ron Krueger's voluminous record books at Plymouth Salem before he's through. He was 43-4 last year placing first at the following invitationals: John Glenn, Wayne, Salem, North Farmington, Monroe and Mount Clemens. He won the Western Lakes, the district, placed second in the regional and fifth in the state. He scored 366 team points this season with 21 pins. He's also a superb soccer player at Salem and maintains a 2.0 grade point average. He's a keeper.

Dan Gibson, 126, John Glenn: His only loss of the season came in the state final, a heartbreaking 4-3 setback to Warren Lincoln's Sam Amina. He finished 31-1, placing first in the Northwest Suburban League, the districts and the regional. The senior is a three-time NSL champ, two-time district and regional champion. He placed third in the state last year and has compiled a 99-10 career record.

Ed Fowler, 132, Wayne: En route to his 47-6 record this year, Fowler won a district championship, a regional championship and placed fifth in the state meet. He's been a solid performer for the Zebras the past two seasons.

Tim Mitchell, 138, Wayne: Mitchell was a state runner-up this year and compiled a 45-10 record. He was denied a state title by Mount Pleasant's Pat Boyd who pinned Mitchell with just two seconds left in the match. Mitchell placed third at the district and second in the regional.

Dave Shareef, 148, Wayne: Shareef won 40 of his 49 matches for coach John Wood this season. He placed second at both the district and regional tournaments. He won one match at state but didn't gain a place.

Scott Lucas, 158, John Glenn: This talented senior was the victim of some bad luck this season, though he did compile an impressive 25-6 record. He was disqualified from the district tournament on a most controversial slam ruling, thus knocking him out of contention for the state meet. Still, there's no taking away his two NSL titles and his 87-19 career record.

Ab Hasez, 167, Farmington: Talk about an outstanding high school wrestling career. This senior will graduate with a 114-34 record. He was 39-3 this season, winning the Western Lakes, district and regional crowns. He lost the state championship to Brighton's Mike Baker on a close 7-4 decision in the finals. Thirty-five of Hasez's wins were via pins.

Mark Zenas, 188, Bentley: Zenas came as close as any to a state title this year, losing by a point (7-6) to Bedford's Jeff Kaminski in the final. Still, the bright and personable senior amassed a fine 41-7 record (both losses to Kaminski) and won Western Lakes and district titles. His career record — speaking of fine — was 121-34. He notched 26 pins and 18 superior decisions this year.

Dan Parillo, 196, Farmington: This junior broke his hand while competing in the regional meet and lost by a close decision — that's the type of competitor we're dealing with here. He amassed a 33-6 record winning Western Lakes and district titles. He was also a national AAU champion last year. As his coach Barry Walsh said: "Watch out for him next year."

Plymouth Christian dumped by Inter-city

Plymouth Christian saw a successful basketball season come to rapid and unsuccessful end Thursday night, losing to the state's No. 2-ranked team in Class D, Inter-City Baptist, 92-48, in the Class D district tournament at Taylor Baptist Park.

"We played with them in the first quarter," said Eagle coach Jeff Cook, whose team trailed by 7 after a quarter. "That was a real boost."

Pat McCarthy led Plymouth Christian with 13 points. Brad Soucie led all scorers for Inter-City (17-3) with 22.

The Eagles end their year with a 13-8 record.

Wayne's Pollis Robertson led his team past Northville Friday in the finals of the Plymouth Salem district basketball tournament.

Wayne captures Salem district

By Brad Emene staff writer

Check Henry says the pressure is off his Wayne High basketball team.

His players achieved their fourth and final goal of the season Friday night, wearing down Northville to win the Class A district title at Plymouth Salem, 43-40.

The Zebras, sporting a 21-1 record, face Public School League (PSL) champion Detroit Southwestern (20-2) in a first-round regional game Wednesday night at Eastern Michigan University's Bowen Fieldhouse. (Game time is 6:30 p.m.)

"This is sweet," said Henry, who won his first district title ever as Wayne's coach. "We wanted to win our Christmas tournament, league title, city title and district title. We've achieved every goal we set."

"In the hearts of a lot of people, because of the way we lost to Ann Arbor Huron (77-55), nobody gives us a chance against Southwestern."

"I feel the pressure is on them. We'll play loose, play our hearts out and let the chips fall where they may."

AFTER ESCAPING Wednesday's double-overtime triumph over Plymouth Salem, a more relaxed Wayne team carried out its business against Northville.

The Mustangs put up a fight, but were simply no match for the determined Zebras.

"We fought them as hard as we could for 2 1/2 quarters," said Northville coach Omar Harrison, whose team finished 10-12 overall. "Then we made physical and mental mistakes. We just wore down. I thought we did an excellent job at handling their pressure and overall I'm pleased. But we don't have the strength coming off the bench."

Wayne, using as many as 10 players, exerted full-court pressure all night. Northville trailed 15-10 after one quarter and 33-23 at the half.

The Mustangs then pulled within six at the outset of the second half, 33-26, on John Storm's 3-point play, but never got any closer.

Wayne made things happen defensively, sparked by reserve guard David Reynolds, who had 8 points and 6 steals for the game.

"HE'S OUR best defensive player in understanding our scheme of things," Henry said. "You saw him strip the ball a number of times. Defense is his specialty."

Wayne's two main weapons offensively, 6-foot-6 Pollis Robertson and 6-2 forward Howard Flowers, shot a combined 14 of 24 from the field.

The Wisconsin-bound Robertson had 16 points and 4 blocked shots. It was his cradle-style slam dunk with 5:49 left in the game that gave the Zebras an insurmountable 53-32 lead.

Flowers, meanwhile, hit his first 4 shots to get Wayne off and rolling. He finished with 14 points.

Northville's beefy front-line of 6-6 John Storm and 6-4 Greg Wendel, made things difficult at times for Wayne.

Storm finished with 14, while Wendel and Don Norton each had 9.

"On offense we wanted to get ball to Pollis," Henry said. "But they were squeezing him, so we had to get the ball in the corner to Howard."

"They did a nice job in their zone."

THE TELLING STATISTIC for Northville was 21 offensive rebounds and only 4 field goal conversions.

"We did miss a lot inside," Harrison said. "I think that was the difference in the game."

This is Wayne's most successful season ever. A win Wednesday would be icing on the cake.

COUNTRY IRISH CHARM

Create the fresh charm of an Irish country cottage with delectable foods geared to that most Irish of holidays, St. Patrick's Day.

Building scene upon scene, feature a selection of tantalizing foods with a touch of the Irish. Shown here is a menu serving six that is based on foods that grow green naturally. All are harvested from the abundant fields of California, and all are in season right now.

St. Patrick's Buffet Salad takes a gentle cue from the traditional holiday fare. New potatoes, marinated in a sprightly vinaigrette dressing, are combined with tender slivers of California artichokes, and served up with crisp wedges of California iceberg lettuce. Rolls of thinly sliced corned beef complete this attractive main-dish salad.

A fragrant bread is the ideal accompaniment to the salad and California Pistachio Bread Twist is an especially appealing choice. A yeast dough rich with egg, this bread has a filling of California pistachios which add pleasant crunch, distinctive nutty flavor and holiday-festive color.

Kiwifruit Gelato puts the final polish on this classically simple holiday menu. Best of all, it is totally prepared in advance.

Each of the foods in this California-grown green foursome — artichokes, iceberg lettuce, pistachios and kiwifruit — are "naturals" for menu usage throughout the spring months. Care in selection and preparation will help insure success with any recipe.

All sizes of artichokes in the marketplace are mature and ready to use whole, stuffed, halved, or sliced, as in the St. Patrick's Buffet Salad. Look for artichokes that are heavy for their size. Occasionally the artichokes in the marketplace will have bronze-tipped petals. These artichokes have been "winter-kissed" by frost which enhances their mellow flavor.

California iceberg lettuce adds crisp flavor to salads and sandwiches all-year long. Select heads that have a springy "give" for mild, sweet flavor. To core iceberg lettuce, whack the core against the edge of the counter, then simply twist the core out. Or, cut out core with a stainless steel knife. Wash and thoroughly drain the head of lettuce and place in a plastic bag or crisper in the refrigerator for storage.

California pistachios are available year-round and are marketed in natural or red dyed shells, salted or unsalted. The shells of quality pistachios are large and slightly split at one end, making them easy to open and remove the nut meat.

Select kiwifruit that yield slightly to gentle pressure. Firm kiwifruit will ripen if left at room temperature a few days. California kiwifruit, which are in season October into May, are high in vitamin C and are a delicious addition to salads and desserts.

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 1/2 pounds small boiling potatoes | 1 2 cup frozen peas, thawed and drained |
| Salt | 2 tablespoons minced parsley |
| Water | 12 1/2 oz. each thin sliced cooked corned beef |
| Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing | 6 California iceberg lettuce wedges |
| 2 California artichokes, sliced and cooked* | |

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water to cover, simmer about 25 minutes or until tender. Drain, cool slightly. Cut into 1/4-inch slices. Pour half of Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing over warm potatoes, refrigerate until cold. Gently combine artichoke slices, peas, parsley and potatoes. Roll up corned beef slices. Arrange on platter with potato mixture and lettuce wedges. Pass remaining Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Mustard Vinaigrette Dressing: Combine 1/2 cup oil, 1/3 cup white wine vinegar, 2 teaspoons Dijon mustard, 3/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon each pepper and sugar, mix well. Makes about 3/4 cup.

To Prepare Artichokes: Bend back outer petals of artichoke until they snap off easily near base. Edible portion of petal should remain on artichoke heart. Continue to snap off and discard thick petals until central core of pale green petals is reached. Cut off top 2 inches of artichoke, discard. Cut off stem, reserve. Trim off outer dark green layer from artichoke bottom and stem, rub all surfaces with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Quarter artichokes lengthwise. Remove small prickly-tipped petals and fuzzy centers, rub again with lemon. Cut artichoke and stem into thin lengthwise slices. Add 2 tablespoons water and dash salt, cook covered, over medium heat about 5 minutes, or until water has evaporated and artichokes are tender.

CALIFORNIA PISTACHIO BREAD TWIST

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 4 cup finely chopped, shelled natural California pistachios | 1/4 teaspoon medium-grind pepper |
| 1 4 cup butter, softened | 1 package (16 oz.) golden wheat yeast bread |
| 1 tablespoon each finely chopped shallots, chopped parsley and lemon juice | 1 egg, beaten |
| 1 2 teaspoon basil, crushed | 1 tablespoon water |

Combine all ingredients except bread mix, egg and water; mix well. Prepare bread mix according to package directions. After first rising, punch down dough and divide into 3 equal portions. Roll each into 12x3-inch strips. Spread pistachio mixture down center the length of dough leaving about 1/2-inch border around edges. Pinch edges together along the length of dough to form 3 "ropes." Place on greased baking sheet; braid "ropes." Tuck ends under. Let rise, covered, as package directs. Combine egg and water, and brush on braid. Bake at 350 F 30 to 40 minutes or until bread sounds hollow when tapped. Makes 1 loaf.

- | | |
|---------------|---|
| 2 3 cup sugar | 4 to 6 California kiwifruit, pared and halved |
| 1 cup water | 1 4 cup brandy |

Combine sugar and water. Bring to boil over high heat; boil 5 minutes. Cool. Process kiwifruit in food processor or blender to equal 1-1/2 cups. Add sugar syrup and brandy to pulp. Pour into 8-inch square baking pan; freeze about 3 hours or until mixture begins to harden. Turn partially frozen mixture into chilled mixer bowl; beat until smooth, light and airy. Freeze about 2 hours longer or until firm enough to scoop. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

If your salute to the Irish is an appetizer party, California's green harvest of artichokes, kiwifruit, pistachios and iceberg lettuce are equally at home. Here's a tangy spread spiked with green bits of pistachios, skewers of tender shrimp and emerald-hued kiwifruit, savory chicken wrapped in crisp iceberg lettuce and whole artichokes to serve with Green Garden Dip. Top of the evening to you!

LETTUCE-WRAPPED CHICKEN

- | | |
|-------------------------------|--|
| 3 4 cup julienne sliced leek | 1 8 teaspoon thyme crushed |
| 1 2 cup sliced mushrooms | Dash pepper |
| 1 small clove garlic, minced | 1 tablespoon cornstarch |
| 1 tablespoon oil | 1 tablespoon water |
| 1 cup shredded cooked chicken | 1 tablespoon chopped parsley |
| 1 2 cup diced tomato | 15 to 18 large California iceberg lettuce leaves |
| 2 tablespoons dry sherry | |
| 1 4 teaspoon salt | |

Saute leek, mushrooms and garlic in oil until barely tender. Add chicken, tomato, sherry and seasonings; heat thoroughly. Dissolve cornstarch in water; add to chicken mixture with parsley. Cook and stir until thickened. Serve chicken mixture with large lettuce leaves. Each appetizer is prepared at the table by wrapping about 2 tablespoons chicken mixture in each lettuce leaf. Makes about 16 appetizers.

SKEWERED KIWIFRUIT AND SHRIMP

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1 pound (about 32) raw medium shrimp | 3 lemon slices |
| 2 cups water | 2 sprigs parsley |
| 1 cup dry white wine | 10 peppercorns |
| 1 teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce | 2 teaspoons salt |
| 4 large cloves garlic, crushed | 1 large bay leaf |
| | 4 California kiwifruit, pared |

Shell shrimp; reserve shells. Bring reserved shells and all ingredients except shrimp and kiwifruit to boil; simmer 15 minutes. Add shrimp; boil 1-1/2 to 2 minutes or until shrimp are barely cooked. Remove shrimp from liquid. Strain and reserve liquid; cool to room temperature. Return shrimp to cooled stock; refrigerate about 2 hours or until served. Cut each kiwifruit into 16 chunks. Skewer 1 chunk kiwifruit, 1 shrimp and another chunk kiwifruit on each skewer. Makes about 32 appetizers. Recipe can be halved.

Combine all ingredients except artichokes; mix well. Remove and reserve outer petals of artichokes. Discard small inner petals and fuzzy centers. Cut bottoms into bite-sized pieces and arrange in center of serving plate, ring with reserved outer petals. Serve with mayonnaise-sour cream mixture. Makes about 1-1/3 cups dip.

To Cook Artichokes: Pull off lower, outer petals of artichokes; snip off tips of remaining petals. Cut off top third of artichokes; discard. Cut stems to 1 inch or less. Stand prepared artichokes in pot with 3 inches of boiling salted water. If desired, oil, lemon juice and seasonings can be added to cooking water. Cover and boil gently, about 30 minutes or until petal near center pulls out easily. Drain.

Lighten up St. Pat's Day dinner

St. Patrick's Day. A day given to honor the Irish patron saint, St. Patrick. In America, it's a day all Irish men and women remember their Irish heritage with parades, parties, and their favorite Irish foods, including corned beef and Irish soda bread.

You need not be Irish to enjoy traditional Irish fare. In "the old country," pickled or smoked meats were a favorite for Sunday dinners and other special occasions. That's probably part of the reason corned beef has come to be associated with St. Pat's Day. Corned beef is made by pickling, or curing beef cuts such as brisket or the round in a salt brine. The corned beef brisket, which comes from the beef's breast section, is the most popular cut.

When planning this year's St. Pat's Day dinner, take a healthy and light approach to the traditional meal. Serve Corned Beef Brisket with Herbed Vegetables. Select a 2 1/2- to 3 1/2-pound boneless corned beef brisket. Plan on getting around three, three-ounce servings per pound of corned beef after cooking. Tender and juicy corned beef is prepared by slowly simmering in liquid.

One of the best ways to prepare vegetables is by steaming. Steamed vegetables are more flavorful and their color is brighter. Since the vegetables are cooked over a small amount of water, rather than immersed in it, fewer nutrients are lost.

To prepare Herbed Vegetables, steam baby carrots, green beans and pearl onions for about 10 to 15 minutes, or until tender crisp. Flavor the vegetables with an herb mixture of mustard and thyme and tarragon leaves, which have been cooked in butter to release their flavors.

This meat and vegetable combination also provides a good sampling of many nutrients needed every day to maintain a healthy, balanced diet. For example, it contains 45 percent of a person's daily protein needs and 66 percent of his or her requirements for vitamin A. Yet a single serving of the corned beef and vegetables contains just 368 calories.

Round out this "light" corned beef dinner with the traditional Irish soda bread and a refreshing lime sherbet.

CORNED BEEF BRISKET WITH HERBED VEGETABLES
Preparation time: 30 minutes
Cooking time: 2 hours 45 minutes to 3 hours 45 minutes
2 1/2 to 3 1/2-lb. corned beef brisket
Water
1/4 lb. baby carrots

1/2 lb. fresh green beans
16 pearl onions
2 tbsp. butter
1/4 tsp. dried thyme leaves
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/4 tsp. dried tarragon leaves

Place corned beef brisket in Dutch oven; add water to cover. Cover tightly and simmer 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 hours or until meat is tender. Meanwhile steam carrots, green beans and onions 10 to 15 minutes or until tender-crisp. Melt butter in small saucepan; add thyme, mustard and tarragon and drizzle over vegetables. Carve brisket diagonally across the grain into thin slices and serve with vegetables.

Irish coffee will top off dinner nicely

"Five minute" cooks — with more taste than time — find frozen whipped topping, made with real cream, just their style. Creamy, rich, and ready when it's needed, frozen whipped topping adds that special touch to desserts and festive drinks. Described here are traditional Irish Coffee and a lemon-sparkled Foamy Hot Dessert Sauce. Both are elegant, easy, and ready in less than five minutes.

FOAMY HOT DESSERT SAUCE
1 cup thawed whipped topping
1/4 tsp. grated lemon rind

Heat whipped topping over low heat, stirring just until melted. Blend in lemon rind. Serve immediately over cake or gingerbread.
1/4 cup

Variation: Substitute 1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind for lemon rind.

IRISH COFFEE
2 cups hot coffee
2 tsp. sugar
1/4 cup whisky
Whipped topping, thawed

Combine coffee, sugar and whisky, top with whipped topping. 2 servings.

'Thin' skin is first line of defense

Even if you're on the skinny side, your skin is your body's largest organ.

The average human epidermis measures about 19 square feet and weighs more than 7 pounds. Your skin is a fortress which protects you against invading bacteria and viruses. It can do this because the outer layer is really made up of dead cells which don't become infected easily.

Below the top cells, which you slough off and replace by the millions each day, lie highly specialized cells which produce a substance called melanin. If you're a pale face, it's because you have less melanin, or pigment, in your skin than someone with a swarthier complexion.

A portion of your skin no bigger than a postage stamp contains four yards of nerves and 25 nerve endings. In all, you have millions of these nerve endings fanning through your skin, or dermis, each specially constructed to deliver only one type of message — heat or cold, pain or pressure.

INSULATING AND lubricating your skin are vital oil glands deep in the dermis. For some, these glands don't do as good a job as their person would prefer.

Consumer studies show that 11 out of 12 skin problems relate to dryness. This problem is expected to increase over the next few decades because of physiological and environmental factors — the population is aging and skin becomes drier as people get older.

Here's a final fact about your skin you may be glad to know: you're actually "skinnier" in some places than in others.

BACK PAIN

Back Problems and Chiropractic

Three quarters of all Americans have some sort of back problems at one time or another during their life.

DO YOU SUFFER WITH BACK PROBLEMS? If you do, if you have tried other means to rid yourself of the pain and failed, try chiropractic.

Dr. Mashike is a spinal specialist. He has devoted all of his training and background to the spine. He is certified by the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He has been certified by the American Disability Evaluation Research Institute and has qualified for membership in the National Association of Disability Evaluating Physicians. DR. MASHIKE HAS HELPED THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE JUST LIKE YOU, people who had given up, people who were told there was no hope, people who had suffered alot and spent alot.

At Dr. Mashike's office, you receive the very best of care and personal individual attention. Dr. Mashike would appreciate the opportunity to care for you.

"I Achieved the Impossible"

I found out about Chiropractic through a very dear friend of mine. She was a patient of Dr. Mashike's.

I suffered with backaches for many years. I was hospitalized, put in traction, but nothing helped. My friend had had gotten good results and she told me I should go.

This problem certainly interfered with my daily routine. I felt useless. I was afraid to bend or anything. I never thought I was going to make it to the doctors office. I was so discouraged.

Dr. Mashike told me he found some vertebrae out of alignment that were pinching nerves in my low back. Well in about three weeks I began noticing improvement.

I noticed many changes in my health. I am no longer depressed. I am able to go for long walks. I now do exercises when I wake up. I feel like a new person.

I have written this testimonial from my own experience with the hope that I will help others, so not to suffer needlessly, when you can seek chiropractic help.

Mary Casha

I regret very much that I didn't take my wife to see Dr. Mashike sooner. All that needless suffering could have been avoided.

I was so pleased with Mary's results that I had Dr. Mashike examine my spine for a circulation problem. I also had a bad back but nothing like Mary's.

After three months I feel much better and I feel the circulation is normal.

Mary and I thank Dr. Mashike very much.

Tidball Family Health Improved

We first started with chiropractic care because of severe headaches I was having. My husband had pain between the shoulder blades which was a constant nag.

Myself, I lived on aspirin (12-16 per day) for a long time without help until friends told us we should have chiropractic care.

My husband and I progressed and in about a month we noticed a lot of improvement. I felt better in general. I also felt good because I wasn't taking any drugs, no side effects, sleepiness or a buzzy feeling that I got from the drugs.

Our children also have their spines checked. We want them to grow up without health problems. We definitely recommend chiropractic, it's the way to go.

Pastor & Mrs. Tidball & Family

An Overall Improvement

I found out about chiropractic through a friend who was a patient of Dr. Mashike's. I was on vacation when I injured my lower back. By the time we got home, I could hardly walk and it was painful to sit or bend in any way.

I didn't think I would ever be better. On my first visit I was in so much pain I could hardly lay on Dr. Mashike's adjusting table. It took several adjustments before I noticed a difference, but now I'm so much better. After 4 weeks I noticed an overall improvement not only with my low back, but with my total health. I can even rest better.

I'm not completely better but thank God I feel much better. Dr. Mashike has helped me a lot. I am so glad I came to see him.

Captain Chris Baldry (Alan Bates) remembers his first love, Margaret (Glenda Jackson) in "Return of the Soldier."

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Homecoming is told exquisitely in English 'Return of the Soldier'

"Return of the Soldier" is a classy British film playing the Maple 3 in Bloomfield Township these days, and well worth your time.

For all their misanthropic attitudes toward the non-English, as "Passage to India" vividly demonstrates, the British have a certain way with expression, particularly theatrical and filmic eloquence.

It's well known that in times past, the British upper classes had a very poor attitude toward those beneath them in the social order. The issue of class is a major one in this film.

"Return of the Soldier" is a fine example of what the British do so well, masking the turmoil of heart and soul with surface elegance.

Based on the Rebecca West novel, the story tells of Captain Chris Baldry (Alan Bates) coming back from the front during World War I. Shell-shocked, he suffers amnesia. Though he returns to his charming country home and wife Kitty (Julie Christie), he does not recognize her. The last 20 years are blank.

HE DOES RECOGNIZE the servants, all old family retainers and admirably British (especially the butler). He also remembers his cousin, Jenny (Ann-Margaret), and his first love, Margaret (Glenda Jackson), who is of the lower classes and, therefore, deserving of Kitty's contempt. All these remnants of life 20 or more years ago, he remembers.

Enough of the plot line because a great deal of the film's attraction flows from the tension of discovery.

On the surface the film is polished, sophisticated, quite stunning to view — the best British tradition and everybody has a terribly stiff upper lip. Beneath that reserve, the psychodynamics of class and personal conflict are boiling.

The film's smooth exterior derives from magnificent settings and the photographic processes utilized to create soft, warm, visually pleasing, nostalgic images so appropriate to the past.

The acting and directing of "Return of the Soldier" are at the heart of the film's success, projecting the proper balance of jagged, psychological interiors contrasted with the exteriors.

The entire company, every bit part, each supporting role, has just the right impact on the superb performances of the four principals. Apparently Ann-Margaret wants to be known as a good actress and not just another pretty face.

SHE'S A BEAUTIFUL woman and a very accomplished actress in her pivotal role expressing a number of levels of love for her cousin and his wife. There's an added dimension to the film's tension as she portrays a beloved relative caught between the passion of an unrecognized wife and an ill husband.

Kitty Baldry matures, her understanding of the Captain's illness growing, and Julie Christie makes the role work, with the subtlest glances and gradual movement from pretentious upper-class woman to loving, accepting wife.

Alan Bates and Glenda Jackson give bravura performances as well. It is the dynamic quality — properly restrained, of course — of their roles, along with those of Ann-Margaret and Julie Christie, that make "Return of the Soldier" such a fine romance.

Skater mimics Cindy Lauper

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

Posing as Cindy Lauper, with green hair yet, will be one of the appearances Pam Parker of Franklin makes during the Ice Capades when the show "Hooray for Ice" comes to town next week.

During the production number "Chiller," "I skate as Cindy Lauper," the young performer said by phone from Philadelphia. "I wear sort of a poodle skirt. I'm in green polka dots, with lots of jewelry."

Parker said the show will return to Pittsburgh before coming to Detroit, where it will open Tuesday at Joe Louis Arena downtown. Ice Capades will stay until Sunday, March 17.

A line skater with the show, she was asked if it was difficult to perform the precision routines. In other words, is it tough to be a member of "A Chorus Line" on ice?

PARKER REPORTS no problems there. The rough part is, "Coming from amateur status you've got to learn how to work with everybody. There are a lot of different personalities to adjust to, but you learn to adapt."

During 1981-82, she was awarded Gold Medals in local, state and the Ohio, Indiana and Michigan Tri-State competitions. Parker joined Ice Capades in August 1983, mainly because it offers "an opportunity to travel all over the United States and Canada. Actually, I just decided to try out for the fun of it."

She said two other Detroit-area skaters are in the show, Judy Gatlin of Rochester and another skater from Lapeer. The three get together to talk about home. "We know all the skaters (in the show) from the Midwest," Parker said.

This year's Ice Capades theme is a "Salute to Show Business," through a variety of production numbers. Parker appears in a European number, wearing a Spanish costume, to the music of Ravel's "Bolero." She also is a "flyer," lifted off the ice, during a skate waltz. Other numbers where she performs as one of the Ice Capettes are the opening, a show-business number, a kiddie number called "Snorks," and the precision-number finale.

DAUGHTER OF Marie and Ronald Parker of Franklin, she said, "My whole family used to skate." She has one brother and three sisters — two in college and two in high school. Parker graduated from Groves High School in 1981 and taught at an ice rink at the Berkley Figure Skating Club for a year following high school.

She's filling out college applications now, but of her work with Ice Capades she said, "The experience is great."

Pam Parker of Franklin is an Ice Capette with Ice Capades, coming to Joe Louis Arena.

HEALTH TESTING SITES
MARCH 13 - APRIL 4.

Again this year, PROJECT HEALTH-O-RAMA gives you free health tests at over 90 locations throughout seven counties — tests that would otherwise cost you up to $150.00 dollars. For just $7.00 dollars you can get an important blood panel of tests that would have cost you up to $80.00 dollars.

It's your best health bargain around, and thanks to the efforts of over 7,000 volunteers, more people than ever now have this life-saving chance to discover and treat health conditions before they become medical problems.

For the locations nearest you and special tests available at selected sites, call the PROJECT: HEALTH-O-RAMA HOTLINE, 569-0400, Monday through Friday, 10 AM - 3 PM.

Only specially selected sites will test for conditions such as heart, kidney, or liver disease, cancer, diabetes, glaucoma, sickle cell and others.
