Schools eye selling Central Middle site

staff writer

The school administration is study ing the option of either closing Central Middle School and selling it or spending up to $5 million in major renovations.

If Central Middle, the old Plymouth High School at Main and Church, is sold the district would build a new middle school at one of two sites in Canton Township.

A new middle school would be smaller than Central and would cost an estimated $125,000 less a year to oper-

Central (built in 1917) is about 180,000 square feet, said Raymond Hoedel, associate superintendent for business, while a new middle school would be built at only 100,000 square

The administration also is studying building a K-6 or K-8 school someplace in Canton to make up for a loss of some 12 classrooms as a result of planned renovations of Hulsing, Eriksson and Field elementaries (built in 1976).

The Hulsing, Field and Eriksson changes would convert these elementaries from "open space" buildings to more traditional structures as requestchanges will result in a loss of about four classrooms per building.

The above recommendations are the highlights of changes being considered by the bond steering committee which is working on a bond issue proposal to put before voters.

Present plans call for appointment of a citizens advisory committee this spring, final recommendations on a bond program to the school board in October, and a special election in January or February.

Hoedel informed the school board of ome of the bond issue highlights at Monday night's regular meeting. He also pointed out that the district's debt retirement millage will increase by about three-tenths of a mill (30 cents per $1,000 state equalized valuation or SEV) this coming year because of declines in SEV.

This is the first time in recent years the debt levy will increase, said Superintendent John M. Hoben. During past years of rising SEV the debt retirement evy has been declining a bit each year.

THE BOND STEERING Committee has determined that it will cost $1.5

To make desired changes at Central, Hoedel added, will cost $5 million or more. A new middle school could be built for about $7 million and would cost about $125,000 less a year to oper-

The district owns two sites in Canton suitable for a middle school and so would not have to buy property, said

Almost since the three elementaries were built, parents have complained of the noise levels at Field, Eriksson and Hulsing. The bond committee is considering changing these buildings into more traditonal structures but must find a way to replace the 12 classrooms which would be lost.

The bond steering committee also is considering building additional classrooms onto Gallimore Elementary

Hoedel is asking the school board to discuss the alternatives the steering committee is looking at and then appoint a citizens committee in May. The citizens committee would then report back to the school board with its recommendations in August or September

County left in the dust

Townships prevail in lawsuit on roads

staff writer

The dust has settled over a dirt road maintenance lawsuit and the townships of Plymouth and Canton appear to have come out on top.

The Michigan Court of Appeals re leased its decision this month on a Wayne Circuit Court ruling that Wayne County is responsible for providing a dust palliative program for gravel roads in townships

"The township attorney views this as an absolute victory in this matter," said Brian James, Plymouth Township

The lawsuit was initiated following a Wayne County Road Commission decision in 1981 that the dust prevention program would be discontinued for gravel roads within township jurisdic-

PRIOR TO THE 1981 decision, the road commission paid for and provided chloride spraying on township roads.

Since then the road commission duties have been taken over by Wayne County, which supports a "no spraying"

This matter came before the township board as a result of two different actions," James said.

'One, the administration received numerous complaints from citizens regarding dust emanating from local gravel or dirt roads.

Two, the township was cited by the Wayne County Department of Health for violations of existing air pollution standards," he said.

'The board authorized the township attorney to proceed with litigation to resolve the issues raised by the unilaterial action of the road commission in terminating its dust palliative pro-

JOINING WITH Plymouth and Canton townships in the lawsuit were the townships of Van Buren, Huron, Redford, Brownstown and Sumpter. James and Canton Township Attorney C. Gerald Hemming argued the

The lawsuit came before the Wayne County Circuit Court in 1983. The circuit court ruled, and the appellate court upheld that: · Townships have no obligation to maintain the local county roads within their jurisdiction.

· Wayne County has a broad general duty to keep all county roads in reasonable repair so they are safe and convenient for public travel.

• Dust palliative application is maintenance

• That county roads in Wayne County townships were not reasonably safe and convenient for travel in 1982 without a dust program.

"The court struck that portion of the circuit court order which required the road commission to continue the former dust program in the same level and frequency and on the same roads as it existed prior to Dec. 15, 1981," James said.

The appeals court favored allowing the county discretion in determining what sort of dust program is most effective, he said.

"The court further remanded the case to the circuit court for further proceedings not inconsistent with its opinion.

James said the original circuit court order is enforceable through a show

Graper says cops offer deferrals, not concessions

By Gary M. Cates staff writer

Negotiations between the Plymouth Police Officers Association (PPOA) and city administration are under way

The two sides reportedly are discussing ways to cut police department costs and save jobs following Plymouth Township's decision to terminate a $467,000 a year contract for shared services. The township plans to start its own department

The city has agreed to cut other departmental budgets if the union offers the 20-member force, according to City leave areas. Manager Henry Graper

The City Commission has approved matching any union concessions dollarfor-dollar, Graper said Tuesday

The union has sent Graper a list of proposed concessions totaling more than $100,000 Union president Mike Gardner couldn't be reached for comment Tuesday

The list reportedly includes a oneyear wage freeze, reductions in overtime and training costs, and changes in wage concessions to avoid layoffs in the compensation time and holiday

In exchange, the city would have to guarantee wage increases for two years following the wage freeze, guarantee no layoffs, improve relations between the officers and city manager. and agree to implement a reconfiguration plan to mutual satisfaction.

What they really have offered is deferrals. It doesn't match what we were looking for," Graper said.

What they have offered would result in an awful lot of unfunded liabili-

THE TWO sides sat down at the bargaining table this month after a Blue Ribbon Committee reported its findings on city finances and ways to trim the budget.

Graper earlier said some $400,000 must be found to insure no layoffs in the police department. The Blue Ribbon Committee suggested some $110,000 in savings.

Police Consultant Rod Bartell recently recommended a department reconfiguration plan which would help in reducing the operational costs, while preserving morale and manpower. Graper said earlier that the combined savings of the reconfiguration plan and Blue Ribbon Committee were nearing the point where all the officer's jobs could be saved. He was optimistic concessions from the union would ensure no layoffs.

One area of savings, suggested by the Blue Ribbon Committee, apparently isn't being considered. The group noted that an additional $55,000 a year could be saved by hiring a police chief from within the department to fill the vacant top seat. Graper said Tuesday the field of candidates has been narrowed to two both from outside the department. A decision on the new chief is expected later this month, he said.

That decision is expected to coincide with a City Commission decision on Bartell's reconfiguration plan.

All Plymouth-Canton Community Schools preschool programs could be located in Tanger Elementary beginning next fall if the school board agrees to a recommendation made by the district's housing committee.

The recommendations are very tentative at this point, said Superintendent Dr. John M. Hoben, who shared the advice with the school board Monday night for discussion purposes.

The suggestion was one of a series made by the school district's housing committee which also is recommend-

The committee is suggesting that the PLUS program and Head Start be moved from Central Middle School to Tanger, and that the Infant and Preschool Special Education Program (IP-SEP) be moved from Farrand Elementary to Tanger.

If that were done, Tanger would retain its K-2 classes and its Bekindergarten program while grades 3-6 would be moved to Farrand.

Hoben said the grade 3-6 shift involves the children of parents who ing some shifting of school populations, were unhappy last year when their primarily at the upper elementary children were transferred to Tanger as $16,244, said Hoben, some $5,044 for a result of the closing of Starkweather Elementary.

> TANGER IS on Five Mile while Farrand is in Lake Pointe subdivision.

The housing committee also is re commending that some 103 sixth graders at Hulsing be moved to Central Middle School next fall and that about 100 students from Fellows Creek near Ford and Sheldon be moved from Farrand to Hulsing. The latter move is an attempt to give some stability to students living in Fellows Creek. The changes will cost an estimated changes at Central Middle and $11,200 for carpeting at Tanger Elementary.

The shifts would bring the district a bit closer to its long-range goal of seeking grade configurations of K-5 at the elementary level, 6-8 middle, and 9-12 at the high school level.

The shifts also would help balance enrollments between Farrand and Tanger elementaries and better stabilize both attendance areas, said Hoben. He added that the committee feels the parking area at Tanger will be adequate for the preschool programs.

In Pishman's view, organised labor is the friend of MIW, with corporations, Republicans and insurance carriers being the common enemies.

"In legislative battles, companies come up with the 'horror stories,' as if everybody came through with bixarre cases," said Fishman, citing the case of the worker who fell off a company roof retrieving a Frisbee during a lunchtime game and collected workers comp

OU'VE NOTICED you haven't been feeling as peppy as normal, but you've been putting off doing anything about it. You don't have the time, it'll cost too much, and it's probably nothing serious allyway.

Project: Health-O-Rama is here to help.

Offering free health screenings and health information at more than 70 locations in the tri-county area, Project: Health-O-Rama is expected to serve more than 51,000 people during its three-week operation in southeastern Michigan. (A list of Project: Health-O-Rama sites and dates in the county accompanies this article.)

AT PROJECT: Health-O-Rama 1985, 7,000 trained volunteers from 500 community agencies will offer a variety of health screening tests. A demonstration and training session for volunteers on screening methods took place Thursday at the Southfield Civic Center.

Volunteers will be conducting counseling, referral and follow-ups, including health hazard appraisals, blood pressure tests and vision tests free to anyone older than 18. A 21-test blood panel, to detect such conditions as diabetes, liver disease and kidney disease, will be available for a $7 charge, and selected sites will offer kits to detect colon-rectal cancer for a $2 charge.

Each site will be supervised by one non-medical chairperson and one medical chairperson. Forty physicians, 50 dentists and students from 30 allied health and nursing schools have donated their time to conduct the various screenings.

BILL HARSEN, project director, said, "The basic idea of health screenings is to provide individuals with the opportunity to assess their health status" and to promote the process of maintaining good health.

"Health screenings are not meant to take the place of a hands-on examination by a physician," Harsen said.

Project promoters said the health acreening tests are valued at $100-$150; the blood panel test alone would cost $60-$80 if performed by a private physician, Harsen said.

Most test results are provided at the site and all results are confidential. The results from the blood panel test are mailed to the client within a couple of weeks, Harsen said.

Where abnormalities are detected from any of the screenings, the client is advised to seek a physician's help.

PROJECT: Health-O-Rama, in its current form, got its start in 1960 when WXYZ-TV and Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan joined the United Health Organization and the Women for the United Foundation as sponsors, Harsen said. WXYZ provides publicity, BCBS provides funding and the two non-profit organizations organize the entire project operation and recruit volunteers to conduct the screenings.

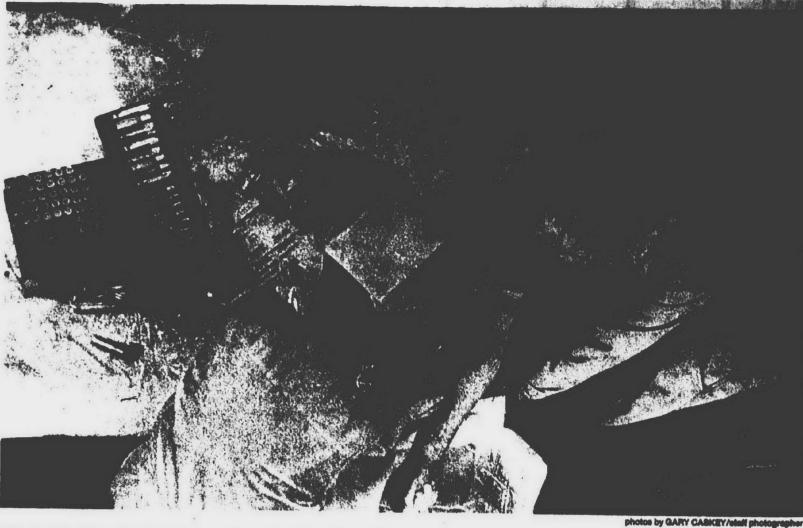

The program continues to grow, said Harsen, who has been involved with health-o-ramas since 1968 when the United Health Organization and Women for the United Foundation first joined forces on the project,

"The response has been phenomenal," he said. "It's been a great deal more than I ever expected."

Each Project: Health-O-Rama requires five months of advance planning and five months of follow-up reporting, Harsen said. A staff of seven will sort through 50,000-60,000 forms after this year's event, he said. Eight thousand cases were followed last year to determine if abnormalities were diagnosed and treated; the number is expected to reach 9,000 this year, he said.

WITH MORE and more emphasis on education and preventive medicine, Harsen said, organized efforts such as Project: Health-O-Rama are "on the leading edge of medical practice for the individual."

Harsen cites increased support and participation by members of the medical community as an indication that health practices to prevent disease, and screening tests to detect problems at an early stage, are the method of choice for community- and economy-minded practitioners.

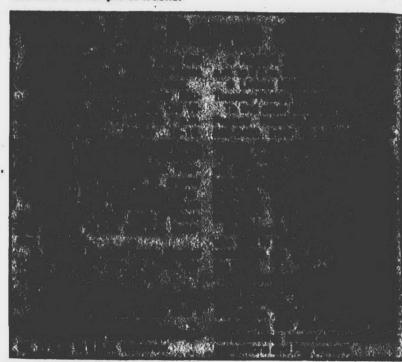

Mike Leshkevich, a Southfield city employee, has blood drawn for the blood panel test which screens for such conditions as disbetes, liver disease and kidney disease. He will receive the test results in the mail in a couple of weeks.

Volunteers mill around the Southfield Civic Center at a recent training session in preparation for Project: Health-O-Rama.

Center Stage owner to resolve problems

By Diane Gale

John Sassak, who is seeking a liquor license transfer for Canton's Center Stage, has two weeks to explain how he will manage rowdy patrons and parking problems.

The Canton Township Board of Trustees postponed voting on the license transfer at its meeting Tuesday after listening to complaints about Center Stage cited by Lotz Road homeowners Village

Squire Apartment residents.

The board asked Sassak to prepare a letter explaining how he will manage the business located at Ford Road and I-275.

"When you have a business of that nature, you're so going to eliminate all the problems," Padget sid. "The point is we want to know if he will be able to manage the establishment so that the problems are minimized."

Sassak has been selling liquor at the entertainment spot, with a 1,200 seating capacity, through a temporary purchase agreement. He became the sole owner in Jan, 1984 when the group of investors filed for bankruptcy. Sassak loaned the original investors money to build the 19,000 square-foot structure.

MILDRED RASH, resident manager at Village Squire, says the complex was forced to hire a security guard to deter Center Stage patrons from jamming the parking lot at the complex.

John Urda, a Lotz Road resident, told the board that during a Halloween party at Center Stage, 15 cars were parked on his lawn.

"I can't sit on my porch in the summer, because people from your (Sassak's) establishment are using my drainage ditch as a urinal," Urda said. "It's a no-win situation with Center Stage, because I can see where kids have to go someplace, but after you close your doors the kids drag race and play loud music in their cars."

Another Lotz Road resident said her front yard is often littered with beer bottles and "garbage" left by Center Stage patrons.

White Castle and Hardee's also have contacted the township administration about incidents caused by Center Stage patrons. White Castle has even changed its steadfast policy of remaining open 24 hours daily. The Canton Township White Castle now closes at various times to adjust to when Center tage events are expected to let out, according to a White Castle spokesman.

FOR ABOUT A YEAR, Center Stage has geared its business toward a younger crowd. It was previously known as a night club and for booking nationally famous entertainers.

Now Sassak opens his doors on Friday and Saturday evenings to teen-agers 13 to 19 who belong to the Metro Westside Teen Club, which claims about 4,000 card-holding members. Sassak developed the teen club concept as an effort to weed out patrons who were known to be rowdy.

"When we started the teen club, we signed them up and if anybody caused any trouble, we tore up their card and they wouldn't be able to come here again," Sassak said.

again," Sassak said.
"We intend to make it a night club again, because we can't make money on teens. We're talking about a facility worth millions of dollars, and we're turning it over to a group of kids. We're taking them off the street and giving them a place to go," he said.

He said a maximum of about 800 people are in the building at any one time. Sassak, owner of the Urban Cowboy in Westland, told the board there is adequate parking for about 1,000 people.

IF THE LICENSE is transferred, and a night club theme is restored, the teen club gimmick will be retained one night a week, Sassak said.

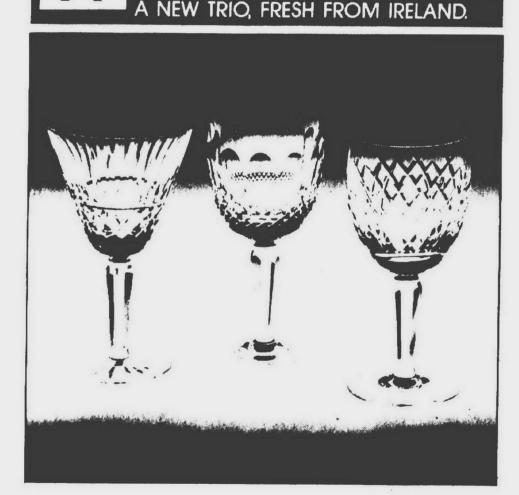

"I don't want the facility to become vacant, but I want to have management in there," Padget said. "I want to know how you are going to manage it, and how you are going to control the situation."

Sassak told the crowd that he believed the building was unfortunately located near an apartment complex and a residential area. "But, I'm stuck with it," he said. "That building was built five or six years ago, and that's the time that these things should have been discussed."

Trustee Stephen Larson pointed out that even if the board denies the liquor license transfer, the teen club still will be a viable means of entertainment, and the existing problems cited by neighbors could remain.

Fisher to stand trial for wife's duct-tape murder

staff writer

Charles Pisher, charged with murdering his wife in a staged attack in their Cauton Township home, was freed after posting 10 percent or $25,000 of a $350,000 bond set Tuesday after he was bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court by 35th District Judge James Garber.

Fisher, 44, covered his face with his hand and rocked his head as Garber ruled there was enough evidence to bind Fisher over for trial on first degree murder charges for the asphyxia-tion death of Ella Marie Mercado-Fisher, 31, on July 15.

Garber's ruling came at the end of a live-day-long preliminary examination to determine if there was evidence to support a charge against Fisher.

Garber characterized the case as being predominately based on circum- volved photographs of the crime scene, stantial evidence. "But, sometimes circumstantial evidence is more important," he said.

The hearing included testimony from several witnesses including a woman who answered a Detroit Free Press companion advertisement placed by the defendant less than one month after his wife died.

TIMOTHY KENNY, Wayne County prosecutor, charged that Fisher had one of the oldest motives - killing for jealousy."

Daniel Burress, Fisher's attorney, said the charges should be dropped, be-cause police conducted a poor investigation. He said the prosecutor needed to present information about unidentifled fingerprints lifted at the home the morning of the attack.

said. A Michigan State Police officer took photographs at the home, but a problem with the camera arose.

Kenny pointed to inconsistencies in Pisher's actions after his wife died. The victim's father Manuel Mercado testifled that Pisher wrote a letter to him shortly after his wife's death saying he was so distraught that he spent most of his time looking at her pictures and reading letters.

This is a misrepresentation . . when we know that he placed an ad looking for a woman," Kenny said.

PISHER PLACED an advertisement Aug. 14 in the Detroit Free Press "Companion Corner" requesting responses from a white, Hispanic or Oriental woman who would be a "friend, wife or possible lover." He described himself in the ad as having a "beautiful marriage background . . . as being very lonely, honest and anxious to es-tablish a wonderful" relationship.

Margnerite Mary Oross, who lives in the Detroit area, answered the ad. She saw Fisher several times a week until September. Judge Garber restricted Kenny from pressing Oross for details about their relationship. However, Kenny said at the conclusion of his argument that Oross and Fisher had become engaged, but the relationship had been broken off.

Mercado also testified that Fisher called him twice the day before the attack pleading for aid in stopping Mer-cado-Fisher from visiting her cousin Javier Hurtato in Germany, because he feared they were having an affair. Fisher cancelled his wife's reservations to Germany July 16, according to Jud-ith Carkeek, of Plymouth Travel Conmitants.

Fisher told Caston police Detective William Keppen that he was home from 3 p.m. July 14 until after the attack at about 12:10 a.m. July 15, Kenny

This contradicts testimony from a neighbor who said she saw Pisher in his red pickup truck with two other men about 8 p.m. Fisher said the burglars stole the truck and about $400 in cash. The truck was recovered a couple of days after the attack near the Ambassador Bridge in Detroit.

kitchen, He said he awake found himself on his be with his andkles and wrists bound and his head wrapped in duct tape. Pinher said he freed himself and found Mercado-Fisher in the living room, bound the with duct tape seating her face. She died July 26 in St. Joseph's Mercy Rospital from complications caused by lack of oxygen.

We have a situation here where the defendant claims to be a victim of a burglary, robbery and assault," Kee said. "Injuries to the deceased were invious, but the defendant has no injuries.

The defendant told police he tried to give his wife mouth to mouth resuscitation, but yet the firemen who responded to the scene said they walked into a darkened room, and the victim was laying face down on the carpet," Keeny said. "The deceased was in a deep coma, so it's unrealistic that the victim rolled over on her face. (It's more likely that) the victim was lying on ter face the whole time."

Kenny also questioned why valuable items, like a computer system and camera equipment, were left by the in-

Burress said Fisher deserved a bond. because his client voluntarily returned from the Virgin Islands after he learned of a warrant for his arrest. Fisher, who worked as a teacher at Ross University on St. Kitts, waived an extradition hearing, which "would have cost the government a lot of money,"

Trustee Nancy Quinn commented that the proposal requires maximum study and discussion as it will result in major changes in attendance boundaries and in staff assignments.

In 1985 the district must generate $2.22 million in its debt retirement fund to make payments on existing proval in October of an additional 1.75 1.74 mills against a total taxbase of some $986 million in SEV.

Based on a 1.5-percent projected in-crease for 1986, Hoedel said the district would need to levy 2.05 mills for debt payments of almost $2.24 million. The total taxbase is expected to hit the $1billion mark in '86.

Debt retirement funds are kept in separate accounts from the general operating budget and by state law must be generated by a debt millage which must be totally separate from operating millage.

Sparks' switch helps save Blanchard veto

By Tim Richard staff writer

If Right to Life wants to end statefunded abortions in Michgan, it will have to compromise with Rep. Gordon Sparks, R-Troy.

Last month Sparks supported a bill to halt Medicald abortions, but switched Tuesday and voted to uphold Gov. James J. Blanchard's veto of the

"I'd want the compromise in place before we voted again," Sparks said after the House members cast 72 votes in favor of overriding the veto - two votes short of the required two-thirds

There were 32 votes against override with six members not voting.

IT WAS A stunning setback for the anti-abortion Right to Life of Michigan, which sought to cut $6.2 million from the state social services budget by banning Medicaid funding of an estimated 19,000 abortions for welfare recipients.

House Bill 4007 had passed the lower chamber by a 77-34 vote on Feb. 5. Sparks voted for it but; with a handful of other members, also supported several amendments designed to soften the effects of the ban.

"Rep. Joe Young's amendment emed to have the most support," Sparks said. Young, D-Detroit, sought to take the $6.2 million saved on Medicaid abortions and use it for "alternatives to abortion" such as school programs, counseling for pregnant women, adoption programs, family plan-ning prenatal and postnatal care.

The Young amendment was defeated 51-52. Several similar amendments lost by even wider margins.

tions." His random telephone survey of 220 residents was done two months ago, he said.

Gruse said the districts are different, with his southern district having a higher unemployment rate, more bluecollar workers and more Catholics than Sparks' district, which includes the greater Rochester area.

Sparks said a survey commission by "a variety of groups" showed his district was $5-percent "pro-choice" and evenly split on Medicald-funded input from the pro-choice people. Be-fore, I heard mostly from pro-life peo-ple, said Sparks, a second-term House

The IRA Flexible-Term Certificate

Annual Percentage Rate

Effective Annual Yield

You don't need a lot of money to get the tax-deferred, tax-deductible benefits of an individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Michigan National.

All you need is $500 for the IRA Flexible-Term Certificate ... an IRA investment that earns a fixed rate of interest for the term of the certificate, and lets you choose a maturity of 2 months to 10 years (or any number of months in between). And because your interest will compound monthly, you'll earn an effective annual yield that's higher than almost any other IRA at any other financial institution.

Call or visit the Michigan National office nearest you today for more information on IRAs and the IRA Flexible-Term Certificate.

Michigan National Bank-West Metro

Federal Reserve regulations require a substantial peneity for withdrawal or transfer prior to maturity unless age 56 ½ years or older, or permanently disabled or deceased.

Police pact didn't reflect actual costs

HE BLUE RIBBON Committee, appointed to review city finances at the request of the Plymouth Police Officers Association (PPOA), has completed its work.

The panel was asked to determine where all the money went from a shared services contract with Plymouth Town-

William Robinson, mayor pro tem and committee chairman, said not all the contract money went directly to the police department but was put into the general fund. Thus, it is impossible to trace.

But the figures from financial sheets, attached to the committee's report, provide a better answer.

What happened to the contract money is the same thing that has happened with residents' property tax dollars - the city has spent it on providing services at a frozen or cut level, and increased spending on special events, recreation and community promotion.

The committee compiled information on city budgets (general fund) for the fiscal years between 1979-80 and 1984-85.

FIRST, A look at the police department to verify all the contract money didn't go into police expenditures.

In fiscal '79-80, public safety spending represented 28 percent of the general fund budget, fluctuating to a high of 30 percent in fiscal '83-84. That's a total increase of less than 2 percent over the six year peri-

Considering that in '79-80 the city didn't provide any police service to the township, it's hard to believe the contract costs were a true reflection of expenses. A closer look at the police budgets bears out that

Gary M. Cates

The city provided a partial year of service to the township when the contract was initiated in fiscal '80-81.

The first full year of service was fiscal '81-82 when total police costs rose 25 percent to $846,109. The township paid $354,846 to the city, up 242 percent.

Looking at the '84-85 budget, the actual cost to the city of running the police department increased only 5 percent from the first full year of service, but the township's payments increased 23 percent in the same period.

One must wonder about the sharp difference between actual cost increases and township payment increases.

NOW CONSIDER the general fund for the same period.

In fiscal '80-81, the city's general fund spent $3.3 million. In '84-85, general spending seems to be up 38 percent.

But several things happened in '81-82 that skew the figures.

First, certain DPW funds were rolled into the general fund. Brought in under the DPW were several activities, including street lighting, weed control and special events, according to Gordon Limburg, city finance director.

Consequently, general fund expenditures for the DPW went up some $135,000. That's a lot of street lighting, weed control, or maybe special events. (Wasn't that the first year of the balloon festival?)

Second, the same thing happened with the recreation budget — the Cultural Center was rolled in Recreation expenses went up $450,000.

Third, the $113,450 parking fund was brought into the general fund during that first full year of police service to the Fourth, the cemetery fund, $55,833, was rolled into the general fund.

Thus, to get a better feel for the growth in the general fund during the life of the police contract with the township, you must compare '84-85 to '81-82, not to '80-81. The general fund growth drops to less than 1 percent over a four-year period.

ONCE YOU start comparing apples with apples, you find a shift going on in the city's general fund. Several areas are receiving smaller appropriations:

• The 35th Distict Court, decreased by some 60 percent. Because court ticket and fine revenues increased, the city's contribution could be reduced.

• The fire department, decreased by some 11 percent — due to a reduction in fulltime personnel and elimination of first-response to rescue runs by the fire department.

• The city manager's office, down 25 percent.

• The building department, down 22 percent.

Areas receiving increased funding in-

• City attorney and legal, up some 189 percent. In one year, '83-84, this item jumped more than 200 percent, mostly due to two lawsuit settlements of some $50,000 each.

· City Commission, which jumped some 165 percent in '83-84. The increase went for "community promotion projects." Those included special events and the costs associated with moving a veterinary hospital to make way for a medical

• General fund contributions to specialized funds, up some 30 percent. These included payments to such funds as general obligation debts, library, streets, and water and sewer fund.

• DPW, up another 19 percent since rolling all its activities into the general fund. The continued increases make one wonder why the city still "donates" DPW worker's straight time for special events.

• The Cultural Center, up some 5 percent since rolling it into the general fund.

WORK IS under way for the '85-86 budget. It appears the general fund may have to subsidize the Downtown Development Authority (DDA).

The DDA is responsible for paying the debt on the new Central Parking Lot deck and the tax increment financing plan, used to generate revenues, apparently is falling short.

Instead of asking residents to consider a millage increase to fund the police dapartment, the City Commission should ack if residents are willing to continue footing the bill for special events and facilities which benefit the downtown area.

At Holy Trinity, they share the green

"TOP OF the mornin' to you."

Come Sunday this will be the favorite greeting and the clans will be gathering down at Holy Trinity Church, 1050 Porter, in Detroit's Corktown area.

But somehow it won't seem the same. The big chief - Father Clement Kern will be missing, and St. Patrick's Day without his smiling face isn't quite the

He passed away during the past year, but he left behind a myriad of fond memories. And the Stroller never will forget his first appearance to take part in what they called The Sharing of the Green.

Father Kern will not be the only one sadly missed. It won't seem the same without Tommy Long, proprietor of the thirst-quenching parlor on Fort Street, being around to gather up a goodly group to pay homage to the man who is given credit for chasing all the snakes out of

THAT'S HOW The Stroller became part of the gathering and took a part in the celebration of St. Patrick's Day, even though he was a Pennsylvania Dutchman. It all happened very swiftly.

He had given little thought to St. Patrick's Day when he departed his office downtown and headed for lunch. Suddenly Tommy Long grabbed him and said, "Come on, you Dutchman, we'll make an Irishman out of you today."

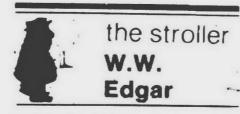

With that we headed for Holy Trinity. Once there, amid a bit of laughter, The Stoller was ushered down the main aisle and given a seat with the nuns.

It was a great gathering and the service was in keeping with the celebration. Once that was over we headed for Father Kern's apartment and had a nice, friendly

THAT WAS the finish of the preliminaries. The group then moved to Long's and the celebration moved into high gear.

From early in the afternoon until dusk, there were all sorts of Irish songs sung. Tommy's brother, who had a fine tenor voice, was in the center of the celebration. Starting with "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," he went through the entire list of Irish ballads - "Where the River Shannon Flows" and "Galway Bay" right down to the closing number, "Mother Macree." The group left with the humming of "Irish

That was The Stroller's baptism to a real St. Patrick's Day celebration and the day will seem sort of empty to him this year when the old timers have long since

HOLY TRINITY isn't the same either.

The old building is showing wear and tear and was damaged by fire a few weeks ago. There is much work to be done and many of the younger group are taking it on their hands to rebuild the church and what was Father Kern's residence. Gov. Jim Blanchard was in Bloomfield

Hills, at the home of Phil and Denise Di-Mambro, this week to kick off a $650,000 benefit for restoration for the historic church. The benefit collected $200 per

On March 27, Stan Arnold, secretarytreasurer of the Building and Construction Trades labor council, will have a retirement dinner-dance. He will donate the proceeds to Holy Trinity's restoration.

On March 30, an 8 p.m. benefit dance with Panchito and his orchestra at the Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak will benefit the fund.

While Holy Trinity has been known as the beginning point of a fun day for the Irish and near-Irish, it also houses a free medical clinic, counseling service, community outreach program and free community legal service for those who can't afford it.

It's an old tradition, dating back to the 1840s when the pastor, Father Maring Kundig, also served as the first Wayne County poor commissioner.

So, this year, more than ever, they'll be celebrating the Sharing of the Green instead of the Wearing of the Green. Who knows? Maybe the old-time clay pipes will be available again.

'You want to get slapped?' THE WAR between the sexes is no laughing matter for thousands of women in the metropolitan area who are victims of spouse abuse. Fear is their constant companion. Sometimes, it haunts their every move. One such woman moved 15 times in one year. Her husband found her every time, said First Step's acting director Judy

Their husbands tell them, 'If you leave, I'll find you. I'll kill you, and I'll kill us

"And those women believe it."

McDonald.

ONE RADIO personality apparently doesn't take the problem seriously. That's evident from a remark J.P. McCarthy made during his March 4 broadcast.

McCarthy was reading the results of a survey that asked women whom they would rather go home with. The choices were a cigar-chomping macho man (McCarthy suggested Lee Iacocca as an example) or a talkative type such as TV talk-show host Phil Donahue. Those responding to the survey, according to McCarthy, chose the macho man.

Nothing wrong with that. But then McCarthy introduced the next record by Frank Sinatra and used Old Blue Eyes as an example of the strong type. Then McCarthy asked his listeners "You want to get slapped around a little?"

SLAPPING AROUND women isn't macho. It's a sick "power game." But dangerous as well are the attitudes that keep women in those situations

Women may end up staying because they think there is nowhere to go economically, and their religious counselors tell them to submit or to work harder," explained McDonald. "If they hear enough that they are dumb and stupid, they begin to believe it.

"Attitudes are changing, but there is still the pervading view that a man's home is his castle, that what he does in his own home is his own business.

"In reality, it affects us all." First Step, which serves abused spouses in western Wayne County and downriver communities, has opened its doors to 5,600 asking for help since 1979. That's the "tip of the iceberg," according to McDonald.

PONTIAC'S HAVEN, which celebrates its 10th anniversary in April, has sheltered 2,741 people since 1982, more than half of them children. It also has logged 15,172 phone calls since 1982.

What will help is "exploding the myths" about spouse abuse, said Debi Cain, Haven's executive director.

"The stereotype is that abusers aren't professionals and aren't well-educated. That's not true," Cain said.

Cain thinks that stereotype has prevented women from seeking help because they "believe it is abnormal to be in that situation. Society says (abusers) aren't nice lawyers and well-to-do professionals who live in the suburbs.

"Awareness will explode those myths."

DANGER SIGNS, according to McDonald, include how a spouse treats animals, how he handles frustrations in traffic or loses at a ballgame, whether he believes that women are born to serve men and whether you are afraid to ask him a question.

"If he hits you once, odds are that he'll hit you again with increasing frequency and severity," she added.

Certainly McCarthy's flip remark wasn't an invitation to abusers, but it was an insult to his female listeners. With it, he made himself "loser for the day."

While an apology is in order, McCarthy could perform a real service by cracking the secret war between the sexes.

Hockey parent other community people, I learned that when it comes to hockey Plymouth fans

To the editor:
On Feb. 26 the Plymouth Otlers hockey team met the Cobras of Bloomfield Hills on the ice at the Plymouth Cultural Center. These 9- and 10-yearold "Squirts" displayed their skating skills, competing admirably.

The enjoyment of watching the sporting event was significantly diminished by the crude and obnoxious behavior of too many of the Plymouth partisans. These obnoxious fans shouted epithets and obscenities at the referee and booed and stomped to demonstrate their obvious displeasure.

One fan spent his time pounding on the safety glass panels at the west end of the arena. Another cheered "kill" to her player. Is this ancient Rome in modern Plymouth?

Their vulgar display embarrassed me and others I'm certain. This was definitely not a place to bring my family I felt sorry for the rational parents of both teams and for the young participants who were exposed to this inexcusable display.

Geake chided on prison try

My letter published Feb. 7, 1985, in this very newspaper was not one of idle soothsaying. The destiny of the 5 Mile and Sheldon lands is being shaped by a politico whom the citizens of the Plymouth-Northville area have no electoral

The Feb. 12, 1985, Detroit Free Press quoted Coleman Young as saying that the DeHoCo site was the "best bet for immediate prison cells." He continued remarking that 1,000 to 1,500 felons are walking the streets of Detroit and are responsible for an estimated 25 percent of the crime there.

As a solution Mayor Young offered:
"A proposed prison for the City of Detroit — and I feel Detroit must come up with a prison site, just as Plymouth, Michigan, must come up with a prison site . . " Hold it!

Why the hell Hizzoner says we must come up with a site escapes me. We already have the Phoenix Correctional Facility (originally supposed to be a temporary facility) with 300 beds, and the Scott Correctional Facility, 550 beds, currently under construction.

Mayor Young is facing vociferoius opposition from citizens and legislators representing the area he has proposed as a prison site in Detroit. He assume he doesn't have to risk any political reprisals out here, so he sticks us with his hot potato. And, the denizen of Detroit casually suggests even more Plymouth Township property be committed to housing .. the Plymouth State Home, located in that same area . . could accommodate up to 1,300 prisoners. That is owned by the state. That is empty. That could be made ready to receive prisoners in three months."

(Detroit Free Press, Feb. 12, 1985). The latest is that Detroit has agreed to sell the DeHoCo land to the state for $6.7 million. Plans are to house 750 inmates there beginning in June.

I have arrived at the impression that I have arrived at the impression that there is overwhelming opposition to burdening our area with yet another correctional facility; especially on such valuable property. I acknowledge the need for prison space, but I firmly be-lieve we've met our obligation in the Phosnix and Scott facilities. Phoenix and Scott facilities.

Sadly, the opposition is wasted unless voiced. We need to move quickly and

Mistake to cut special events

I recently read two articles, one appearing in the Crier ("City may run out on charity races") and the other in the Plymouth Observer ("Township lets air out of festival balloom").

I find it very disconcerting that these local events which contribute to Plymouth's uniqueness are quickly being eliminated — the charity races due to police manpower shortages and the balloon festival due to costs incurred by the township. In both cases, the city and the township came up with reasons why they cannot do it rather than trying to find a way to maintain these events.

Many of the people of this area and certainly the people who visit here and participate in these events do not differentiate between city and township but view "Plymouth" as a total entity.

Cancellation and non-support of local events by the city and township reflect poorty on the total community and diminish our uniqueness.

minish our uniqueness.

Local lass to join St. Patrick's Parade

By Dennie Coffman staff writer

A talented colleen from Plymouth will be part of the St. Patrick's Day Parade in downtown Detroit Sunday.

Kathleen Marie Lawrenz, 18, the daughter of Thomas and Patricia Lawrenz of Plymouth, will be one of three Maid of Erin Pageant winners who will join the parade.

Lawrenz, a senior at Ladywood High School, Livonia, was chosen second runner-up in the pageant, behind Maureen Teresa Staunton, 17, of Dearborn, and Maid of Erin Bridget Ann McCarville, 17, of Ortonville.

Lawrenz, dressed in a formal gown. was interviewed by a panel of judges in early March Lawrenz, Staunton and McCarville were selected from a field of 17 Maid of Erin contestants.

Lawrenz, who plans to minor in music at Xavier University in the fall. sang "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling" and "Four Green Fields" during the Maid of Erin competition.

"This is actually the first pageant I've entered," said Lawrenz. "I've learned so much. I want to go to Ireland someday and visit my relatives.

We help prevent it from happening at all.

Right now, thousands of Michigan children are suffering from child abuse And many social agencies help these children by easing their physical and mental pain after

That's necessary

But even more necessary is stopping child abuse before it occurs

That's where the Children's Trust Fund comes in We are an independent, non-profit organization established in 1982 to fund local community programs across the state programs that work to get at the roots of child abuse and help prevent it

Examples of programs we help support include

 Educational programs that teach children and ado lescents how to protect themselves from child abuse Counseling centers that help parents and others with children in their care to understand and adapt to children's needs

 Programs that provide safe supervision for children in private day care centers

We must continue to expand this work, but as an independent non-profit organization we rely only on voluntary contributions

And we need help

Special legislation allows the Children's Trust Fund to collect donations through the Michigan State Income Tax Form. This makes it easy for you to contribute a small amount when you do your taxes. We urge you to remember the children at tax season

Or, send your donation now to The Children's Trust Fund for the prevention of child abuse. PO Box 30026, Lansing, Michigan 48909

My question is: just what did those well-wishing card-playing buddles mean. In fact, one might wonder whether they are buddles at all. Or do I have it all mixed up? Are buddies and friends two different things?

Suposedly friends want what is best for us. I thought that is what buddies are for also. But maybe it doesn't work that way. Maybe buddies are to affirm us in what we do no matter what it is or what its effects are on us or anyone else. If that is the case then spare us It would seem that what these buddies had in mind was the Jack beat the rap or at least get off easy. But if Jack is put back on the road with his bottle, is that good luck for him or anyone else unfortunate enough to be driving in the

we can presume that one out of 10 cars coming at us on a given night is being piloted by someone under the influence of alcohol. That not only frightens me, it makes me downright angry. What right does anyone running on alcohol have to point a couple thousand pounds of metal at me or whomever else might be driving down the street? Most of us wouldn't like it if we put it in those terms. But we cannot have it both

We cannot be against this kind of Russian roulette on the road and at the same time hope that our buddles are allowed to point their driving machines at whomever they chose because they are only out for a good time and mean no harm. Victims are no less victim-ined because the person who plowed into them didn't mean it.

Having it both ways seems to be an accepted way of life. Joking about the person who tips one too many on some regular basis is accepted as family fare on television programs. Street drugs are no laughing matter but abuse of alcohol is fair game for comic material.

PERHAPS THE FINGER needs to be pointed not only at the person abusing the boose but at those of us who decry the abuse on the one hand and attended the funeral of the buddy to continue to give such abuse acceptabildoing. Destrictive behavior is no exce tion to such a rule regardless of the in-tentions of the enablers. This is where we can oftenecause the disasters we read about and deplore. We think in terms of friendship as of behavior that is destructive to the very person we claim to love.

Friendship often demands the difficult and one of those difficulties is putting up with the conflict we might cause by confronting what is destructive in the friend. The easier route is not only unworthy of friendship, it makes for bad buddles and it puts so-called well-wisher at as much hisme as the driver of that miscuided weblick.

Most people find it easier to continue a given behavior if they are supported, enabled or encouraged in what they are attended the runeral of the buddy to whom they wished the good luck — or of someone who fell victim to someone else's buddy. I know it best when I look at the child in the wheelchair whose father had buddies.

Perfectionism ineffective

Perfectionism not only does not guarantee success, it may impede creativity and productivity.

According to Dr. David Burns, the discouragement, depression, anxiety and pressure that often plague perfectionists can impede their creativity and productivity Burns is the director of the Institute for Cognitive and Behavioral Therapies at the Pennsylvania Medical Center. "You may find that you do some of your most outstanding work when you aim for good, solid performance rather than one stress-producing masterpiece," he said.

Burns said that compulsive perfectionists characteristically tend to think in terms of all or nothing and refuse to believe there's anything to be learned from past failures. This belief can be overcome by doing the following:

· List the things you do right each day. If you focus on the positives in your life you will consequently feel better about yourself.

• Ask yourself if the "all-or-nothing" approach makes sense. "How many things in the world can be broken down into all-or-nothing categories? Is your favorite movie star perfectly beautiful? Do you know of anyone who is totally calm and confident all of the time? Everything can be improved if you look at it critically enough - every person, every idea, every work of art, every experience," Burns said. Learn to recognize all-or-nothing thinking as a self-defeating exercise that doesn't fit reality.

· Learn from your mistakes. "Never give up your right to be wrong because then you will lose the ability to learn new things and move forward with your life.

Beware! A season's madness is upon us

People say I'm afflicted. They say that all year round, but they insist that it's particularly acute this month. They claim I glower like Charles Manson. They say they get tired of me screaming "Sports, Der Fuerher sprechen. Sieg Heil!" into the phone I've got good reason to rant and rave and behave like a madman. 'Tis the season, after all. But March Madness extends beyond the confining lines of a basketball court. Lots of things make me mad. I have to admit that basketball is a major catalyst, and yet it isn't the only thing that gets me howling at the moon For instance

· I can't stand watching a good team just fold up, like Southfield did last Friday. Oh, the Jays did play some good basketball, maybe 2 quarters' worth. But that could never be enough against North Farmington, which turned in a solid 31/2 quarters of hoop and really deserved to win.

It's a downright shame, but a decade from now those Southfield seniors will still wonder if the outcome might have been different if they had played a full 32 minutes.

· March weather burns my butt. One day I dress for spring and it snows. The next I'm equipped for an arctic blizzard and it's bright and sunny. It's a tease, tempting me with the promise of the baseball season and summer, then disappointing me with games that are snowed

· High school sports seasons bug me. Why are all the winter sports scheduled to finish within a 2-week period? Basketball tournaments are in full swing, while wrestling and swimming just concluded. Gymnastics and volleyball will end their seasons this week.

Can't somebody adjust the seasons a bit and spread these tournaments out? That way everybody would get a little more much-deserved recognition. The way it is now, outstanding performances like those of Birmingham Groves' Scott Christie and North Farmington's Brian Goins, who each set Class A state swim records, are virtually lost amid the flood of state finals.

· And all the high school championships are at the same time as the NCAA basketball tournament, too Makes it tough to set priorities.

· It upsets me knowing that only 4 high schools will finish the season with a win - that somehow seems unfair

 It hurts seeing outstanding, gifted athletes who turn in the performance of their life, breat the state record, but finish second. It's too true no one remembers who comes in second

 It hurts to see outstanding, gifted athletes mired on otherwise nondescript teams - John McIntyre of Redford Catholic Central, Darren Munson of Bloomfield Hills Lahser and Dennis Bushart of Redford Union

 It hurts not to see these outstanding, gifted athletes as many times as I'd like

· Seniors make me mad. No more stories every week on Farmington Harrison's John Miller scoring 6 touchdowns or Brother Rice's BJ Armstrong cranking up and scoring 55

· Fat officials make me livid Black-andwhite striped shirts stretched over pot bellies command no respect. Don't run well, either

• Coaches who always have an excuse are a pain. Just because us media-types keep bugging them for a reason why their team lost by 40

• I get down when coaches blame us for their team's performance attention, Bernie Holowicki of Redford Catholic Central Fellow sports editor Brad Ernons said CC should have no trouble winning its district. The Shamrocks lost in the first round

Well, we had to pick somebody, didn't we? I wonder what would have happened if we picked

• I'll tell you what would happen. The players parents and everyone remotely connected with the school over the past 50 years would call and blame us, so we'd still be shouldering the

• I get enraged with telephones Mostly when they're ringing Especially when 3 or 4 are ringing at once

• I simmer like Mount St. Helens when there are 3 great basketball games on TV at the same time and I'm stuck at work retyping bowling

· I hate seeing lousy crowds at great games

· I hate seeing great crowds at lousy games

• I get very suspicious when the NCAA championship basketball game is slated for April

Fool's Day What's that, some kind of sick joke?

Chris Jeannotte, a sophomore at Plymouth Canton and a Class I gymnasts out of the Farmington Gymnastics Center, has his sight set on the 1988 Olympics.

Against all odds

Male gymnast struggles for some recognition, respect

By Chris McCosky staff writer

HE DAYS of incessant teasing are all but over for Chris Jeannotte. Oh, sure, every once in awhile a football player will bounce him against a locker and call him a sissy. But Jeannotte doesn't let that bother him anymore.

"I used to get teased a lot," said the affable Plymouth Canton sophomore. "I used to come home from school real burnmed out. I didn't want anyone to know that I was a gymnast. But then I realized, 'Hey, I am a gymnast and I'm happy that I am."

Chris Jeannotte is indeed a gymnast and a very talented one. He is one of only three Class I male gymnasts in Michigan and he expects to reach the highest plateau, the Elite Class, by the time he's a senior in high school.

He competes out of the Farmington Gymnastics Center for coach Kevin Watson.

"Chris is a real good kid," said Watson, a former Schoolcraft College standout and a highly respected coach. "He works hard and he does what I tell him with pretty good enthuslasm. He gets grumpy sometimes, but that's just when he's tired.

"RIGHT NOW, I would say Chris is in the top 10 in this region (of the country), if not then in the top 15 for sure.

Jeannote still has a long way to go in gymnastics, but, considering the obstacles he's faced, the fact that he has come this far is remarkable.

It all began for Jeannotte back in 1976. He watched Nadia Comaneci during the summer Olympics and fell in love with the sport.

"I started flipping all over the house," Jeannotte

He incurred his first obstacle almost immediately. It was his parents.

It was his parents.
"I'll have to be honest, we weren't very supportive of him at first," said Deloris Jeannotte. really felt Chris's love for gymnastics would just fade out. When it didn't, we tried to discourage him saying there wasn't much future in gymnastics. But he was so determined. We saw how dedicated he was. Then we thought, 'Well, maybe he does have

But that realization came very slowly to both his family and classmates.

Almost on a whim, Jeannotte decided to try out as a diver on the Canton swim team his freehman

"I had three goals when I went out for diving. I wanted to get my varsity letter, I wanted to beat Andy Flower (the third best diver in the state this year) once and I wanted get the freshman diving record," said Jeannotte.

HE ACHIEVED all three - a tribute to his natural athletic ability. But his unexpected diving prowess created another obstacle. Diving interfered with his gymnastics training and Jeannotte quit the swim team after his freshman sea-

"We really wanted him to continue in diving," said Deloris Jeannotte. "We were very disappointed when he quit because he had done so well his first

His classmates gave him a hard time about quitting the team, as well. They jeered him and called him a sissy.

"He's really had to fight all the way," said Deloris. "The kids at Canton, well, they didn't think It was a sissy sport, but they thought it was mainly for girls. It's really not. It takes an awful lot of Chris's brother, John, had been a highly publicized, standout wrestler at Plymouth Salem, graduating in 1984. The contrast is obvious, and difficult for Chris to deal with.

"I GUESS I have always been a little jealous of John," Chris said. "He's always gotten so much attention. This is my first interview. But, I can see it coming around now. As I get older and stronger, and I improve, the recognition will come."

With all that conflict going, Jeannotte was also battling to find a club to train with. He had tried a couple of club's in Garden City. For two years, he trained out of the Go-Fer Club.

"I hated it there," Jeannotte said. "I'd come home crying every night. It was miserable."

Hartnett sparks

The faces changed, but the result was the same. First, Erich Hartnett canned 3 straight jumpers to stake Orchard Lake St. Mary's to a 6-9 lead in its National Little College Athletic Association (NLCAA) tournament opener with West Coast Christian Tuesday in Norfolk, Neb.

Then Steve Kopicki matched Hartnett's feat, pumping in the first 3 baskets of the second half to double St. Mary's halftime lead and propel the Eagles to a 66-56 victory

THE WIN lifted the Eagles to 14-15 for the season and put them into last night's tournament quarterfinals against the winner of the Elizabeth Seton College (of Yonkers, NY) and Platte (Neb.) College

"Everybody executed well," said OLSM coach Tim Domke "We kept the ball in (Hartnett's and Kopicki's) hands, and they were hot. That's what we had to do, especially with (Mike) Cozad and (Rod) Scharboneau out Cozad did not make the trip when it was diagnosed last week that he had mononucleosis. Scharboneau is sidelined with broken fingers.

Hartnett, a Plymouth Salem grad, and Kopicki made up for the lack of shooters by scoring 20 points apiece Kopicki's 3 baskets to start the second half allowed St. Mary's to increase its lead to 36-24 The 6-foot-6 junior forward also dominated under the boards, grabbing 14 rebounds to lead St. Mary's to a 39-30 edge

We outrebounded them, and that was a major factor," said Domke "They were much bigger than ANOTHER FACTOR in the Eagle win was their deadeye free-throw shooting. St. Mary's hit 14 of 16 from the line, including 14 straight in the final minutes as West Coast Christian fouled in an attempt to catch up. Kopicki was 5-for-5 in the stretch.

West Coast Christian pulled to within 4 points with 8 minutes left in the game, but never got any

"Bobby Wade ran our offense really well in the second half," said Domke. After West Coast Christian closed to within 4, Wade guided St. Mary's to a pair of fast-break baskets that put the Eagles back in control. Their free throw shooting kept them in command.

Wade and Gary Pedersen chipped in 8 points apiece, as St. Mary's hit 60 percent of its floor

Jim Hill and Dave Smith netted 12 points aplece for West Coast Christian.

Canton stages baseball clinic

The first session of the Plymouth Canton Chiefs Baseball Clinic, sponsored by the Canton Parents Baseball Club, is slated for this weekend at Canton

For $15, players can learn the fundamentals of the game from two of the state's winningest and most respected high school coaches: Fred Crissey and Dave Racer.

The first session runs over two days: 6-10 p.m. Friday (March 15) and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday. A second session will run Friday and Saturday, March 29-30, same time schedule as the first ses-

Crissey (who has amassed a 220-68 record at Canton and produced eight all-staters) and Racer, along with conditioning coach Mark LaPointe, will teach the fundamentals of sliding, hitting, fielding, throwing, pitching, catching, infield play and outfield play

The facilities at Canton are equipped with a pitching machine, batting cage and hitting tees.

Youngsters 9 years of age and older are eligible to participate

For more information, call any of the following people after 6 pm. Tom Kenyon 453-5667, Gary Lyle 455-3444 or Matt Kocik 455-6122.

Jeannotte earns some respect

Then he discovered Farmington and Watson: The two combined to provide a light at the end of the tunnel for Jeannotte.

"He's helped me so much, it's incredible," Jeannotte said of Watson. "If I have problems at home, he listens to me and encourages me.

His family has come around, also. "His dedication to gymnastics is so strong, so intense, it's like everything else is second to him," said Deloris. "To see him stick to this and work so hard at it, well we're very proud. We admire him and I think his classmates admire him now, too."

JEANNOTTE'S GOAL is to perform in the 1988 summer Olympics along with his girlfriend, Barrie Muzbeck, the premier high school gymnast in the state and considered a top candidate to make the U.S. Women's team in 1988.

Jeannotte's coach isn't about to make any brash predictions about his gymnasts, but he won't rule out Jeannotte's chances.

"I think that everybody I work with has talent," Watson said. "Chris definitely is talented. But when you start talking about making an Olympic team, then its like a crap-shoot, it's like playing cards I think he could make it, but it depends on so many

Still, Jeannotte's achieved a level that only two others in this state have and he's only a high school aophomore

Sometimes the final achievement, be it an Olympic medal or just scoring a 50 all-around at a state USGF meet, isn't as significant as the little victories one gathers along the way

Meets set for club gymnasts

While the Michigan State High School Gymnastics meet will get most of the attention this weekend, club gymnasts will continue to compete in relative obscurity.

Ah, but come this summer, the spotlight will shine on the clubs

This weekend, the Farmington Gymnastics Center team will compete in the prestigious Great Lakes Invitational in Avon Lake. Ohio. It's one of several United States Gymnastics Federation-sanctioned meets that lead up to the state, regional and national USGF meets this summer - meets that have much to say about who makes the United States Olympic teams.

The Farmington team, coached by Kevin Watson, has also been invited to the National Boys Invitational in Pennsylvania, April 16-19. The Farmington Gymnastics Center team features two of the three Class I gymnasts in the state, Chris Jeannotte and Todd Olson, both Plymouth Canton students.

Barrie Muzbeck, the top girls high school gym nast in the state and a leading contender to make the 1988 U.S. Olympic team, also competes with Farmington.

The Farmington Gymnastics Center will host the four-team, Mid-American Team Classic Saturday, March 30. The meet will feature two teams from Illinois and another from Wisconsin.

Just how good is Michigan State's hockey team?

Good enough to turn the Central Col-legiate Hockey Association (CCHA) tournament into a laugher last weekend at Joe Louis Arena.

Normally the tournament is a tough, two-day test that has unraveled the best teams. Last year's top seed, Bowling Green, lost in the semis to Western Michigan before going on to win the NCAA championship. The tournament was no such problem for the Spartans. They outscored their opponents 13-1 and were so dominant that every member of the all-tourney team wore green-

MSU clobbered Ohio State 8-0 in Friday's semis, then ripped Lake Superior State 5-1 in Saturday's finals in front of a CCHA-record crowd of 20,067.

Ohio State came into the tournament after upsetting Western, a feat that Spartan coach Ron Mason said made them dangerous.

AND LAKE SUPERIOR? MSU junior winger Mike Donnelly, a Livonia native, described them as "by far, the second-best team in the league."

But as good as the Lakers were, they were no match for MSU.

"I can accept losing to Michigan State," said Lake Superior coach Frank Anzalone after Saturday's final. They're a great hockey team, and they're still a couple of players better than us. We might as well get that straight right now."

What makes MSU so great? That's a question easily answered after witnessing Saturday's reneway: talent and Co-captains Dan McFall and Don McGween were all-tournament choices on defense, matching their place on the All-CCHA team amounced last week. But, as McSween, a sophomore from Plymouth and a Redford Cathelic Contral grad, put it:

"Really, they could have picked any

McSWEEN AND Donnelly are two players who would star on any other team. McSween, together with McFall, anchored a defense so overpowering that goalle Norm Foster was selected as the tournament MVP — and he's

"It wasn't just our goalie and de-fensemen," said McSween, "but our for-wards back-checking. It was the whole team. When we do those things, the of-fense takes care of itself."

McSween's ability as a defender was strong enough to earn him All-CCHA honors despite an off-season in scoring. As a freshman he had 10 goals and 26 assists. Those totals fell to 2 goals and 20 assists this year.

"It was a sophomore slump, I guess," said McSween. "I was getting some good chances.

"But a lot of it deals with our forwards being so dominant. I don't have to score. Our forwards control their zone so much I just don't get that many

HE ADMITTED his status as a team captain, even though he's just a sophe-more, also "had a little something to do" with his also

"As a captain, I approached the year a little bit differently," he said. "I did have a lot of offensive things go through my mind, but as the coaches said, 'Keep the reins on.'

"I got really frustrated early in the year. I scored early in the year, then went 12 games or so without a goal. Then I decided not to worry about it anymore and to just concentrate on defense. We had enough people who could

One was Donnelly, who enjoyed his best season ever as a Spartan. Against Lake Superior Saturday, he set up 2 first-period goals, then scored himself in the third.

On MSU's second goal, Donnelly outscrapped a Laker defenseman in the corner and took the puck in behind the Lake Superior net. From there he cen-tered it to a waiting McFall, who buried it past goalie Randy Exelby.

Nine minutes later, Donnelly started Jeff Parker on a two-on-one break that Parker capped with MSU's third goal of the period.

DONNELLY NOTCHED the Spartans' fifth goal, converting a pass from Gord Flegel right in front of the Laker net with 6:32 left in the second period.

It was his 26th goal of the season.
"My stats have improved," he said.
"They're better than any year since I've been here, so I'm happy. I'm very

"We wanted to get on the bee quick, we wanted to take it out on the as quick as we could." The 3 first-period goals, the first 2 which were accord in a 28-second spe

WHICH LEFT just 1 goal for the Spartans: the NCAA title. Should the Spartans get past the opening round, which they will host next week, they would make their third appearance at Joe Louis this season. They won the Count Labor Invitational Tournament. Great Lakes Invitational Tothere in December, and it will be the site of the NCAA semifinals and finals.

"Munn East," Donnelly said, using the nickname MSU hockey fans have bestowed on Joe Louis. Munn Arena is where the Spartans play their home games in East Lansing.

"We have 1 goal left, and that's it," said Donnelly. "Each year, we get a little farther and a little farther. Last year we made it to the final 4. This year we plan to go all the way.

McSween agrees. "We can't look past (our first-round opponent). Last year we made the final 4, but came up a lit-tle short. Bowling Green seemed to be a team of destiny.

"This year I think we will be."

"I haven't seen three of the teams, but heard on what I've seen, Freeland should be the favorite.

At Saturday's John Gloss Regional, Horowitz stole most of the thunder as she railied from a second-place all-around showing at the Metro Subur-ban Activities Association meet. Horowitz finished second to Roches-

North's Goins gets state title

W. Chris McCosky staff writer

The goal of every high school swimmer is to win a state champion-ship. The desire to win a state championship causes these otherwise well-adjusted young men to do bizarre things: like get up at 4 a.m. to swim before school and then sky until 6 or 7 p.m. swimming after school.

Yet, while these swimmers are punishing themselves in pursuit of this goal, it is universally known that only a small handful, 17 to be exact counting relay teams, can actually win a state championship.

That's what makes Brian Goins' accomplishment so special.

The North Farmington senior accomplished this goal, this state championship, not once but twice. Not only that, but he's earned All-American status and owns the state Class A record.

"Brian is a very tough competitor, said North Farmington swim coach Pat Duthie. "Tve never been associated with anyone as mentally tough as Brian

AS A JUNIOR, Goins won the 100yard butterfly at the state meet in 81.43. That earned him All-American

Last Saturday at the state Class A meet at Eastern Michigan University, Goins bettered the existing state record twice. He swam a 50.79 in his prelimiaary heat (which will stand as the state record), then swam a 51.11 in the championship heat, winning the race by .66 seconds.

So, he owns the two fastest times in the 100 butterfly, he's almost assured of gaining All-American status again - what else? Well, he finished third in . the state in the 200 freestyle with a 1:42.94 and anchored North's fifthplace 400 freestyle relay team (3:14.49).

That's not all. We think Brian would have had a good chance of being state champion in the backstroke, too, if we let him swim it," Duthle said.

He's not joking. The backstroke championship was won by Ann Arbor Huron's John Maxwell in 54.40. Goins time prior to the state meet was $6.9.

"We figured the backstroke was too close to the freestyle relay," Duthie said explaining why Goins didn't swim backstroke. "Plus, we wanted to demonstrate his capabilities at a 200-yard distance for college purposes. I think most people are aware of what he can do in the backstroke."

Duthie expects Goins to be an out-standing collegiate swimmer and said that numerous Division I schools were after him.

"I BELIEVE he's still got an awful lot to work with," Duthie said. "He's not close to being done improving. He can get a lot better."

That seems unbelieveable, but then not many swimmers are able to win back-to-back state championships ei-

Goins' efforts helped North gain 43 points and place 11th in the state.

There were several other sterling performances turned in by Observerland swimmers at Saturday's state Redford Catholic Central sophomore John Kovach scored in two events. He placed second in the 100 backstroke (54.44) and fifth in the 200 individual medley (1:58.83).

Observerland divers were most impressive. Plymouth Canton junior Andy Flower amassed 420,40 points to notch third place, while Redford Union's Matt Ford scored 399.10 for fourth.

LIVONIA STEVENSON'S 200 medley relay team placed seventh (1:41.46) and its 400 freestyle relay team placed ninth (3:16.09). Kevin Everhart took sixth in the backstroke (55.54) and 10th in the 50 free (22:07) for the Spartans.

Livonia Churchill's Eric Hutchison placed fifth in the 100 breaststroke with a 1:00 53.

Farmington Harrison's Kirk Raddatz placed 11th in the 500 freestyle

Ann Arbor Pioneer won the state Class A meet with 131 points. East Kentwood was runner-up with 93. In Class B. Redford Thurston's Mark Pratt was a state champion in the

Guidelines for opening an IRA are clearcut

By Sid Mittra special writer

Part II

Here are some of the rules that apply to IRA investment.

Who May Invest. Anyone under age 70% with earned income (salary, wages, tips, professional fees, self-employment earnings) may invest. The non-working spouse of someone with earned income also may have an IRA. For the first time, this year recipients of alimony can make IRA contributions even if they have no earned income.

The Limits. you can contribute up to $2,000 a year as long as you earn that much or more; those who earned less can put in no more than they earned. A one-income married couple with earned income of $2,250 or more can put that much into two IRAs, splitting the money any way they like as long as neither account gets more than $2,000. Two-income couples may deposit a to-

There is no need to put in the maximum. You may open an IRA with as little as $1. Don't deposit more than the maximum; excess contributions are penalized with a 6-percent penalty not tax deductible - for every year the surplus stays in the account.

The Deadline. The 1984 IRA must be invested by April 15, 1985. Until this year, taxpayers who were granted extensions of the filing deadline could also postpone their IRA contributions.

The Allowable Investments. Certificates of deposit, stocks, bonds, options, futures, government securities, mutual funds (including money-market funds, limited partnerships, annuities, real estate) — all are allowed. The only investments off limits are life insurance and collectibles, such art, antiques, gold and diamonds.

Moving Your Investments. There are two ways to switch trustees: transfers and rollovers. As long as the money moves directly from institution to institution, it can be shifted as often as you want. But if it moves from one trustee to you to another trustee (a rollover), there are two strings attached: each IRA account you have may be rolled over only once a year, and you must, to Liquidating IRA Investments. Congress intended IRAs to pay for retirement, so money taken out before age 59 % is hit with a 10-percent penalty in addition to any income tax owed on the sum. The only people who escape this fine are IRA holders who have become permanently disabled.

IRA withdrawals must begin by age 70% and must meet certain minimums based on life expectancy. For instance, a 70-year old man is expected to live 12 more years and thus must withdraw 1/avoid penalties, put the money in its 12th of his IRA that year,1/11th the new place within 60 days. rear, life expertancy can be recalculated each year. A man of 75, for example, is expected to live to 84 rather than 82 projected when he was 75. So the annual withdrawal minimum is reduced to accoramodate the added

Ceila dancers keep Irish culture alive

ONDON-BORN MARY O'Hora can remember driving to Detroit from Windsor of a Friday evening to hear Irish music at the Gaelic League near Tiger Stadium. Wistfully, she and husband Anthony, a transplanted Irishman, would gaze through the window at the closed-off stage area where Kitty Heinzman's Adult Ceili Dancers swirled, swung and swayed the night away, perfecting jigs, reels and hornpipes.

"I remember looking in and thinking. 'It would be so nice to join them. It looks like so much fun," said O'Hora. "One night I was standing in the doorway watching, and one of the dancers invited us in." Anthony was introduced to a onetime neighbor from County Mayo instructor Kitty Heinzman.

Ever since, the O'Horas have been avid dancers, performing for senior citizens, at ethnic festivals, competitions, and benefits with the international "Irish Aerobics" lovers Livonia's Kitty Heinzman organized eight years ago.

Heinzman, nee Catherine Moran. rightfully renamed the Friday night lessons. She works up an athlete's sweat moving among sets of dancers and shouting above Bob Paige's or Brian Bonner's live accordion music for hours at a time.

the tri-county area and Canada.

"It's a good chance to work off the stress of the week with people you don't work with — it's complete escape," said dancer Lynne Reid, a Scottish-Canadian, during a break.
"Sometimes it kills you for the Agreed dancer Susan Shaw: "Sometimes you wake up (the next morning) with sore feet."

While Heinzman would be the last to differ with her students, she's driven to dance for other reasons as

"Irish history — that thing is burning in me," said Heinzman, who left Ireland in 1958 at age 16.

"The old people told us, 'Don't forget where you came from.' You do have good times, but you can make a place richer," she said.

HAND IN HAND with her flery determination to keep Irish culture alive goes the "message that the Irish and English can get along." added Heinzman, who works with an English musician.

Heinzman's 30-plus Ceili dancers are fluidly moving proof of that premise. Irish, English, Italian, German and American dancers, of all abilities and social strata, get along gracefully - on and off the stage.

"We're an apolitical group," said Reid, whose husband Mick also dances. "You can't ignore the politi-cal situation (in Northern Ireland); you can't ignore reality - but I think this is a thing that (transcends) it. The emphasis here is on enjoying the music and the people - not on

"We're like an extended family," she added

"The men and women fought side by side," said Heinzman. "You see the dancers separate, as they fought individually. The swing represents the struggle. Arches represent the enemy breaking through, only to be repulsed by another group, ready to defend their city."

The age-old "Sweets of May" symbolised Iriah faith. "Tapping on the knees and the clapping of hands brought to mind the ringing of church bells," said Heinzman. "The forming of couples and the arches represented the coming and going from church.

While the dancers value their heritage, there are lighter sides to their endeavor. Ian Duffey, 10, enjoys watching his parents Frank and Nona dance. But he step dances as well "so that I'm not just sitting there watching people in amazement," he said.

His elders contend it's not that tough. Irish dancing, they say, requires only the ability to count to seven, two feet and a sense of hu-want me carned in a light bulb factory at age 15 was enough to pay for a heliday in Marnellic, France, and to convince Kitty her curiosity would send her off in the footstops of older relatives.

In Detroit in 1968, Heinsman found the opportunities and freedoms she had coveted in Ireland. But unlike other emigres, she didn't want her ethnicity stirred into a melting pot.

"We, in my opinion, are the last group of immigrants, It's ware difficult to set in the Ireland.

"We, in my opinion, are the last group of immigrants. It's very difficult to got in the U.S. now. And we feel we have a story to tell," said Heinsman, whose children Scott, 23, John, 20, and Elizabeth, 18, learned to excel in step dancing and play Irish

"Much of our history and folklore wasn't written down. It was passed on by word of mouth by story-tellers in the villages," said Heinsman, a full-time unit clerk at Detroit's Mount Carmel Mercy Hospi-

"I can remember my uncle and father sitting by an open fire, and my father making a whistle with a poker. We'd move the table a little bit and have a heck of a great time," said Heinzman, who would suggest the same furniture rearrangement should her "kids start boogeying" too close to their heir-looms — a handsome collection of Belleek china.

"We're raising our kids in our culture — if we don't pass on our music and dance, how can you expect Americans to carry it on?" she asked.

To that end, the Kitty Heinsman Adult Ceill Dancers was formed eight years ago. The group practices weekly and often performs at community events. Students describe their teacher as "very energetic," "a super lady with a love for her heritage and the people she works with," "a lot of fun," "very dedicated" and "worth the 140-mile round trip" to Detroit.

Heinsman would dismiss as "bogwater" the contention that any of her dancers are prima donnas. 'We're all hams at heart," said the woman whose large blue eyes seem to temporarily transport one to the Emerald Isle.

Orient Express: Elegance by rail returns

By Joy Schaleben Lewie special writer

NCE PATRONIZED by spies, smugglers, courtesans, assorted and fancied prima donnas, kings and king-makers, the world's most celebrated train pulls into the prettiest railway station in Paris, the Gare d'Austerlitz.

It is the Orient Express - a glorious time machine of glittering blue and gold cars with interiors designed for an era when "it was better to travel than

Its Paris boarders join passengers from London: Destination - Venice via Dijon, Zurich, Innsbruck, Bolzano and Verona. It's 10:30 p.m. In 20 hours they'll be in Santa Lucia station, a few steps from Venice's Grand Canal.

Imagine yourself in Paris, ready to board for a fabled journey. You wait while a New York gallery owner strolls through the special gate at the Gare d'Austerlitz marked "Venice Simplon-Orient Express." She wears a long, pearl-studded, straight blue gown, fur stole and a feathered head-band.

CABIN STEWARDS, impeccably dressed in blue uniforms with shining brass buttons and gold-braid trim, escort passengers to their cabins. We are told the second seating for dinner will begin on departure, London passengers having already dined in their rail-ferry-rail leg of the elegant Express's storied itinerary.

Of course, the passengers aren't to feel rushed. After all, they're about to embark on a leisurely, luxurious trip on a train immortalized in novels and film, glamorized and sensationalized by the press. The Orient Express did not acquire the title "Train of Kings and King of Trains" by chance; it earned it.

On board, you feel the excitement of anticipation. This is the train of Agatha Christie's "Murder on the Orient Express," Ian Fleming's "From Russia With Love," Graham Greene's "Stambul Train.

"I love trains, and I love nostaligia," said Andrew Bass, co-owner of the Cardinal Shoe Corp. in Lawrence, Mass. "My wife and I enjoy stepping back in

By the 1920s, the Orient Express had become a complex network of trains with numerous routes spanning Europe to the east. But the most famous route and the one which most people think of as The Orient Express ran from Paris to Istanbul. It was known as the "Simplon-Orient Express," named for a 12mile rail tunnel through the Alps, linking Switzerland and Italy.

WORLD WAR II shattered international commerce and brought hard times for the Orient Express. Many of its elegant cars were sabotaged, stolen suit, would appear the next day looking or just simply disappeared. While you're dining, a cabin steward makes your bed,/turning down the corblanket into a tight triangle and fluffs your huge pillow. He also switches on a night light, giving your cabin a cozy glow that highlights its polished woodwork and exquisite marquetry panels.

In the morning, your steward awakens you (whatever time you desire) carrying a tray of just-baked croissants and brioche, butter, jam and a pot of good French coffee, plus a copy of the International Herald Tribune.

TAKE SLEEPING car No. 3309. It was built in 1926 in Belgium.

No. 3309 remembers some dramatic events, including apparently vanishing from the civilized world for nearly a week. That occurred during a February 1929 blizzard which paralyzed communications throughout Europe. The Orient Express, ignoring perilous weather warnings, continued toward Istanbul from Budapest.

Alarmingly, its 20 passengers found themselves marooned in western Turkey, their King of Trains stuck in a mountainous snowdrift, higher than its smokestack. After two days, the valiant staff dug a tunnel through the snow and trekked to a nearby hamlet, where they bartered gold for chickens, goats and firewood. They returned, after scaring off hungry wolves, with enough food for their freezing, starving passengers until rescuers arrived.

Tales of the old Orient Express are numerous, of course, and no doubt lure many of today's passengers to pay the price and board the train which once hosted hundreds of celebrities, among them Sarah Bernhardt, Herbert Hoover, Queen Elizabeth, Toscanini, Isadora Duncan, Harry Houdini and Ed-

"IT'S A caravan of romance, a leisurely, elegant dream into the past," sighed Rosemarie Mayer Martin, who grew up in Stuttgart and now lives in Augusta, Ga.

Although nostalgia certainly is a big draw for many Orient Express passengers, others readily admit they're on the train "for the pure fun of it."

Whether the train takes the Simplon or Arlberg route or whether you board in London, Paris or Venice, the schedule is arranged so that the awesome Alpine beauty is seen in daylight.

Travel aboard the Venice Simplon-Orient Express can be arranged as a total London-Venice-London round trip or in segments, for example, from Paris to Venice only. Fares range from $250 to $350 per person between London and Paris to $720 per person between Paris and Venice

THE TRAIN runs from mid-March to mid-November. It leaves London on Thursdays and Sundays and from Venice on Wednesdays and Saturdays. After each one-way trip, the entire train is polished, inside and outside.

Meals are included in your ticket. On the Paris-Venice route, you get dinner, continental breakfast, lunch and afternoon tea or coffee with pastries. Wine, cocktails and other beverages are ex-

Dining is an experience. Tables for two or four are elegantly set with crystal and silver, service is superb. Chefs are French; waiters, Italian.

"Le diner" may begin with steamed fish fillets in puff pastry served with butter sauce, followed by roast rack of lamb with tarragon and coriander sauce, and braised lettuce and tomato Dessert begins with a selection of cheeses. Your sweet may be a delicate chocolate cake.

After dining and during the day. many passengers relax in the plush STATES COLOR

The walls and furniture are made of creamy and frosting-like in color and texture. A silver chandeller hangs above the table in the center of the room, regally surveying it. Silver sconces are in place along the walls like knights at attention.

A GOOD SHARE of the credit for recreating this royal atmosphere can go to Plymouth resident Bob West. He rewired the room to accommodate the grand old fixtures and reinstalled them

Each sconce in the main area of the room has three lights, is 21 inches tall and projects 121/2 inches from the wall. WEST, AN electrician, spent some dark wood, while the ceiling looks 60 hours working on the chandelier alone. He made a drawing of the fixture before taking it apart. your ceiling looks like? Or have you ever had your dog look down at you? Even though this was the beginning of five years of physical pain, I count it as my greatest blessing. Why? Because as I lay stationary on the floor for two and three weeks at a time a very close relationship developed between my boys, my wife and I In my many months of onagain, off-again recuperation, I learned to appreciate my family. So much so that it is my goal to be the best husband and father, who happens to be an artist, and not visa

NO AMOUNT of success could offset my failure as a husband or a father. So it is no wonder that the word "apprecitation" means so much to me. My favorite definition of it is, "to increase in value." As I was literally down at my children's level it was relatively easy to enter into their little world and appreciate it. The bond that was formed between my boys and I is stronger than I could have ever imagined I remember how the 3-year-old's diaper would crinkle as he would nestle close to me on the floor as we watched Bozo the Clown. The oldest would giggle as I pretended not to see him cheat at Chutes and Ladd-

As time passed it was with little regret that I turned down hunting and fishing trips, bowling and nights out with the guys in lieu of my new appreciation for my family.

There is so much around us that we can appreciate. And how sweet is that feeling if we still are able to enjoy the things we appreciate. If we are sighted, for example, the view is excellent if we appreciate our vision. I am thankful that I can visually drink in color and shape and textures. Those less sighted or totally without sight appreciate sound and tactile response certainly much more than I. Perhaps the joy of living isn't possessing much, rather it is the appreciation of what is possessed.

As an artist you either have or should develop an appreciation for your total environment Color surrounds you at every minute of your day What a refreshing break it may be if you as, a secretary, stop typing for a minute just to look at the plant on your desk Now study the coolness of the deep greens rich with life and enjoy the many shades and tinta of color in the blossoms. I promise that you will from that instant gain an appreciation for your, perhaps, often ignored plant. Chrome, wet or polished surfaces do little to distort images and light but merely bounce back at you whatever is reflected.

I COULD spend my days illustrating the many textures of animals. I love the segmented and polished armor of insects. I wonder how the fragile wings of a moth or butterfly can hold aloft such a bulky body. I am fascinated with the brutish bead and duliness of the eyes of a rhinoceros. The leather texture of a dog's nose, the iridescent layers of a fish's scales, a horse's silken hair, the waxy finish on a bird's feathers and on and on. All things functional and likewise to me beautiful, why? Because I appreciate them and also greatly appreciated. After all it is the shape or form of an object or creature that supports the color and texture. Of course most of the things we draw or paint are a combination of many different shapes or forms. The greater appreciation of the individual shapes leads to a greater awareness of the total object.

It is this awareness of the many shapes that make some subjects easier to draw than others. Some of my students love cars and they can whip out a beautiful rendering in two lessons. The reason is that their interest spurned an awareness and appreciation for the many smooth lines in automotive rendering. Yet those same students may struggle over some drawing of an animal. And after the struggle that particular animal will always be appreciated for its color, texture and form.

So if appreciation means "to increase in value" how rich you can become as an artist and as a person. Bathe your eyes with color, enjoy the complexity or smoothness of texture, and study to find the many shapes of whatever it is you intend to draw. If you do this you will find that your time on this earth is well spent and the beauty that surrounds you will be greatly appreciated.

What's hot?

Sporting colorful classics, that's what!

AT'S HOT? Classic, refined sportswear, but done up in the distinctive style of 1985

Because today's active men and women demand comfort and movement in everything that they wear, this season's sportive fashions are not only cut for comfort they are totally body conscious Women's wear is figure flattering and feminine, designed with a tip of the hat to the past but cut with a wonderful sense of being totally modern Men's wear is not only easy and casual, it exudes a sense of confidence that permits him to complement the mood with unstructured, carefree contours, which like hers travel the gamut of color from the palest natural shades

WHAT'S HOT? Skirt lengths that run the gamut, from super short to below midealf Pencil thin or relaxed as they haven't been in years, some of the best designs we've seen for the woman on the move are best complemented by power color hose and matching

WHAT'S HOT? Prints in all scales, from tiny garden party florals to bold, wild tropical designs. What's newest? Wearing mismatched prints in pairs

WHAT'S HOT? The oversized men's the "high society" cardigan

Another busy couple, personality photographer Linda Solomon and attorney husband Barry, savor their moments of relaxation wearing sophisticated leisure wear. Her Anne Klein sportsweater, $350, pant, $200, and his Polo sweatshirt, $82.50, Perry Ellis vest, $65, and pant, $65, are all from Bonwit Teller.

Carol Bankston of Mount Clemens is a member of the Lakeside Team Board who knows that confidence comes from successful pairing of comfort and design. Her Breckenridge big shirt jacket and pant in natural and black stripes are from Alvin's Lakeside store.

As a public relations specialist, Camille Shey of Birmingham understands presenting an attractive package. Her cavalry twill jacket by Martinique, $80, print shirt by In Wear, $50, white big shirt, also by Martinique, $60, and grey, pleated skirt, $64, are from Mark Keller, Birmingham. Jewelry by Twipgs includes dimple earrings, $20, bracelet, $35, jelly bean necklace, $65. Shoes by Kenneth Cole, Birmingham.

Lakeside Mall marketing director Marilyn Palliaer was among the first to notice the season's big news — the oversize shirt and long, pleated linen skirt. She makes her selections from the Calvin Klein separates collection. Linen jacket, $310, skirt, $200. Hudson's.

Fashion coordinator Cheryl Hall (left) is all for the renaissance of prints, interpreted in supple silk by Flora Kung, $150, while Lisa Wendrick finds St. Gillian's frankly retro silk prints, $186, as colorful as a spring garden. Each completes her pollshed appearance with the season's newest pale shades in hosiery and colorful head treatments. Saks Fifth Avenue, Fairlane.

INALLY, THIS is the season when we truly do have a revival of choices that are fun and sensible all at the same time.

After studying the collections which are beginning to arrive at area stores and fashion boutiques we have chosen to focus our attention on three major trends in the Spring '85 Fashion supplement — the print explosion, the big shirt influence and the use of power-bright colors.

A PRINT renaissance has long been overdue. We believe that the statement that prints are personal and differ from personality to personality is absolutely true. And what a variety there is to choose from this season: from traditional wallpaper print florals as seen in the Ralph Lauren collection to neon graffiti crazy prints as seen in the Willi Wear collection. In between are many with a '50s retro look, plus madras, small geometric prints, dots, and textured prints. We think some of the best are the bold tropical florals and primitive batiks.

THEN, WE will-look into the influence of the big shirt, with some of the best that we have seen patterned after men's pajamawear. The oversized shirt is everywhere, from shirt dresses and shirt jackets to big, unconstructed box short jackets and the important duster coat. Even cropped cardigan jackets and the vests will be worn over longer shirts Sweaters are "stretched" and cropped for wear over skinny skirts and leggings

COLOR IS being applied lavishly this season to add razzmatazz to collections of classic jackets. sweaters and trousers. For fun, neon brights will give Halley's Comet a real run for its money in terms of being spectacular. Choose orange, pimento, lime, slicker yellow, fuschia, cobalt blue or jade green, either in accessories or a major piece such as a shirt or sweater, and you've accomplished your spring '85 look. Totally whimsical carioca brights (remember Carmen Miranda?) make the season more exciting and will provide humorous accents to any wardrobe.

ASY SEPARATES designed along architectural lines prove that success dressing doesn't have to be superstructured. However, the very fact that they are so easy and natural calls for confidence to avoid a contrived look.

Long, pleated skirts, long, knit tubes or loose-fitting pants provide the foundations for the distinctive outfits of spring '85. On'top you will see long jackets, blazers, pullovers, cardigans and bathrobe, or duster, coats.

Clout-carrying extras will add new impact to the spring classics. Accessorize your looks with good leather bags, wooden or ivory bangles with matching earrings, leather belts with lvory buc-

A special thank you

ACH SPRING and fall, when the Eccentric prepares a fashion supplemient, the edi-tors, writers and photographers pause in the planning to reflect upon the experiences each has had while working on these sections The spring supplement is a project that opens with discussions about what we at approximately the same time everyone else is talking about Christmas and holiday festivities. The fall supplement is born at about the same time that the world is cooling itself same off with a leisurely swim in the pool Still, between the two distinctly different seasons there are a number of gratifyilng similarities. The one that comes quickest to mind is bow helpful, accommodating and kind the people are with whom we work, whether they are the volunteer models, the hairdressers and makeup artists who think will be the hot looks for spring share their talents and time to make us look marvelous, or ... well, let me tell you about several people and places without whom the section you are now looking at wouldn't be the MEETING everyone's criteria was the Bingham Woods development, an elegant complex of homes whose interiors mirror the bright, sophisticated aura that this season's clothes epitomize Situated on the banks of the Franklin River at 13 Mile and Telegraph in Birmingham, these stylish dwellings are described by their builders, Robertson Brothers Co., as leisure condominium living for the 80s lifestyle. To us, the tasteful interiors created by Perlmutter-Freiwald of Franklin provided an endless variety of settings against which we could show off the models to perfection. The fact that there are four distinctly different moods in decor and architecture served as inspiration for hair stylists Robert and Louie Peruski and Ron Solomon of Robert and Charles Salon of West Bloomfield, and makeup artists Trish Lewis and Monica Katz of Classique Cosmetics, at Rob-ert and Charles Salon and Ondine's of Southfield. The combined welcome from Paul Robertson Jr. and Bill Demetriou of Robertson Brothers and their staff at Bingham Woods and the supportive, creative and encouraging ministrations of our stylists established a happy and relaxed mood that is evident in the smiling faces that are pictured throughout the supplement.

THE PRODUCT that has been achieved was vastly enhanced through the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. William Markley of Bloomfield Hills, who opened their beautiful home to the Eccentric while photographer David Frank captured the cover photograph of model Lisa Wendrick wearing Nightworks' white ribbon-trimmed, oversize top, two-piece dress, $138, provided by Crowley's.

Carolee Markley also proved a curious and interested listener when makeup artist Trish Lewis dispensed tips on coping with winter-tired skin and makeup, some of which are in-cluded in the supplement, as are the Peruski brothers' suggestions for refreshing hairstyles.

To each of these "special editors" the Eccentric wishes to express a sincere thank you. The spring fashion supplement serves as a tribute to their caring, friendly assistance.
