Wording OK'd for July 29 millage vote

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Township starts 'informational' campaign

Work is under way for Plymouth Township's upcoming millage authorization vote.

Trustees last week voted on ballot wording for the July 29 election and are preparing an informational drive aimed at gaining voter acceptance of the four-mill tax proposal.

"The exercise in all of this is to get whatever goes on the ballot to be easily understood," Township Attorney Brian James told the board. James was assigned the task of writing the ballot language.

"No other agency will review the wording — the burden is here," he said.

The proposal asks for authorization to levy up to four mills for municipal services, in addition to the current special one mill voted for fire and the amount levied for debt retirement.

Township Supervisor Maurice Breen announced a June 17 public forum to discuss the millage vote. He also said

Trustee Abe Munfakh will serve as chairman of a ballot committee "working toward gathering literature." "The public forum will be for those interested in gathering information," Breen said. The session will start at 7:30 p.m. in the meeting room at Township Hall, the corner of Mill and Ann Arbor Road. The "de facto" committee being headed by Munfakh will be registered as a ballot committee and has garnered the support of the firefighters union, Breen said Friday.

SUCH COMMITTEES have been formed during past millage questions and is needed now, the supervisor said.

"There's a lot of misinformation out there. Apparently there are people with allegiances to the City of Plymouth that have axes to grind with the township."

The majority of the misinformation, according to Breen, is related to the police issue.

Plymouth Township is in the process of terminating a $467,000-a-year contract with Plymouth. The township plans to have its own department in place by July 1.

A township committee recommended terminating the shared agreement because of communication/management problems and a belief they could provide their own service at a lower cost.

Breen said the shared service contract would have increased to $800,000-a-year had it been continued. City officials agree the cost would have gone up but not to $800,000.

The initial start-up costs, some $600,000, can't be looked at when comparing the township department to the contract, Breen said. The $600,000 for equipment and facilities will come from the budget surplus and/or federal revenue sharing.

"Those are a one-time expense," he said.

The operational costs, about $300,000 for July-December 1985 and then $705,000 for 1986, are below what Breen believes the city would charge.

The current "misnomer," Breen said, is that the township is going for increased millage because of the police department.

A review of past township budgets show a fluctuation in the percentage going to law enforcement.

In 1980, before the Plymouth contract, law enforcement spending represented 12 percent of the total budget. In 1981, the first year with Plymouth, it went to 15 percent. Subsequent years with Plymouth were: 19 percent in 1982, 18 percent in 1983 and 14 percent in 1984.

The projection for 1985, which includes a half-year with Plymouth and half-year with their own force, is 16 percent. The projection for 1986, the first full year with their own force, is 16 percent.

"If people are going to nickel and dime me, then there are some things that should be pointed out about the police budget," Breen said.

The law enforcement cost estimates include the salary for a computer employee who will be working township-wide, he said.

Also, the entire cost of combined dispatch operations is in the police budget. The new dispatch will serve police, fire and DPW.

"And beyond that, you have to keep in mind that we are putting more police officers on the road than we got with the city," he said.

"SOME PEOPLE believe we are asking for a four-mill add on to what we had before, when all we are doing is authorizing up to a five-mill maximum," Breen said.

"It's difficult for people to understand because we've never operated this way in the township before — authorizing the full charter limit. We've always had special voted millages in the past.

"The idea this time is to lump it all together and not come back every five years for special voted millages," Breen said.

In the past, the township's millage rate was 3.5 — one for general operation, one for fire and 1.5 for police. If the current millage request is defeated, the township would have two mills to work with as the 1.5 mills for police have expired.

If approved, the township could levy

DeHoCo bills clear Senate

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Lawmakers fighting to restrict state prison activities in Plymouth and Northville townships believe they have cleared their last hurdle.

But before they celebrate the bittersweet victory, a couple "technical" moves and the governor's signature are needed.

Two Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) bills — one authorizing state purchase of the prison compound and the other capping prisoner levels and institutions in the townships — cleared the state Senate last week in a 30-1 vote.

However, the moratorium bill authored by Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth Township, has been recalled by the Senate for a minor correction. The bill then will go to the House for concurrence.

Sen. Nick Smith, R-Addison, successfully amended the moratorium bill on the Senate floor Tuesday to exclude a clause which would have repealed the House of Correction enabling act, passed in the 1800s.

Smith, the lone no vote on the bill, has agreed to withdraw his amendment when the bill comes back to the Senate for reconsideration, Law said Friday.

Law said the reconsideration is a "technical" move and doesn't anticipate any problems. Likewise, Law and Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, don't expect any amendments or problems during the House concurrence vote.

"I'm satisfied," Geake said last week. "I think we made the best of a terrible situation."

ALTHOUGH THE lawmakers and township officials didn't want DeHoCo to be sold to the state for prison purposes, the moratorium move is seen as a victory.

"It's really a unique statute," Law said Friday. "There's no other place in the state with a moratorium and prisoner caps — some people are jealous about that."

"We're glad to have it in writing rather than a verbal agreement, we've never had that before," he said.

The moratorium bill prohibits the state from locating additional prison facilities in Plymouth or Northville townships. The state is limited to three facilities on Five Mile Road, between Beck and Ridge Roads — DeHoCo on the south side, and the Phoenix and Scott facilities on the north side.

The state also is limited to 311 prisoners at Phoenix, 550 at Scott and 650 temporary at DeHoCo. By Jan. 1, 1987 the DeHoCo population must drop to 500 permanent.

"It wasn't just the state we had to deal with," Law said. "It basically was two large governmental entities against two small townships."

Getting the moratorium meant fighting Detroit, Detroit's full-time lobbyist, the governor, the departments of corrections and management and budget, and the Democrat-controlled House, Geake said.

"After eight months of fighting, I'm getting a little tired of the issue," said Law.

Likewise, officials from the two townships were glad to hear the bill passed the Senate.

"We're happy that we finally got our moratorium but I'd be a heck of a lot happier if the spirit of Detroit and its cooperation would have matched all those releases and comments coming out of the mayor's office," said Maurice Breen, Plymouth Township Supervisor.

"I think Rep. Law should be commended for coordinating all the efforts up there and Sen. Geake for getting the bills through," Breen said.

"And I think the governor should be commended for recognizing the negative impact of clustering all those types of institutions on the community. He helped us with Detroit," he said.

GOV. JAMES Blanchard is expected to sign both bills as soon as they hit his desk. Once he signs them the state can close the deal for 123 acres of the 1,100-acre DeHoCo site.

Geake said state inmates could be placed in DeHoCo as early as the end of June.

School board agrees to establish Tanger as first preschool center

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education unanimously agreed Tuesday to establish a preschool center at Tanger Elementary.

The board also voted to switch enrollment so that elementary students attend the school closest to their homes, and to realign grade levels so kindergartners through fifth graders attend elementary school, sixth through eighth graders attend middle school, and ninth through 12th graders attend high school.

Sixth graders currently are enrolled in elementary schools, and ninth-graders in middle schools.

Trustee E.J. McClendon called the preschool action precedent-setting, as the district has never before operated such a center.

Currently, Honeytree students are bused to Tanger Elementary, even though Fiegel is closer. Under the new plan, effective next year, they'll attend Fiegel.

Grade realignment isn't likely to be completed until 1989 or 1990 when the student population at Centennial Educational Park (CEP) is expected to decrease, officials say.

The board also agreed to transfer from Tanger to Allen students who live on Ann Arbor Trail, Riverside, Spicer, Firwood, Waverly, River Oaks, General Drive, Eastside, Lindsay, Hines Court and Michol near Allen.

The shifting of students into middle and high schools is likely to be done at a rate of one grade per year.

"There is not a lot of space available in the district, so any movement requires some movement in other areas," said David Rodwell, housing committee chairman and district administrative assistant for data processing.

Parents of the approximately 58 Tanger and Allen students to be affected will receive letters detailing the changes, said Dick Egl, district community relations director.

Trustees postponed adoption of other housing committee recommendations, citing a need to see whether students with school-age brothers and sisters might be adversely affected by frequent transfers. The issue is being researched, and board members are expected to vote on the items next week.

The board's motion ensured that "those students moved by this resolution will remain in the school to which they are moved as nearly permanently as possible."

"We recognize it may not be possible to have them enrolled in particular schools permanently," added McClendon.

The board delayed action on the following recommendations for 1986-87:

- Assign students in kindergarten and first grade at Honeytree to Fiegel. In successive years — possibly at the rate of one grade per year — move Honeytree students to Fiegel as space allows.
- Move students who live at Stoneybrook apartments from Tanger to Allen.

- Transfer students who live in the Fellows Creek apartments from Farrand to Hulsing. Sixth graders who live in Fellows Creek will attend West Middle School.
- Move students at Tanger in grades one through six to Farrand.
- Move Hulsing sixth graders to Central Middle School.

- Move the Chapter I PLUS program and the Headstart program from Central Middle to Tanger.
- Move the special education program, IPSEP, from Farrand to Tanger.

The board also postponed action on the 1985-86 recommendation to retain current attendance areas for grades one through six at Tanger.

IN OTHER ACTION, assistant superintendent for business Ray Hoedel announced that for the first time in 33 years the district has not had to borrow money to continue operating through the summer.

Hoedel, speaking for the absent Dr. John Hoben, superintendent, credits summer tax collections instituted three years ago for the improved financial status.

As recently as 1982, Plymouth-Canton schools borrowed $16.5 million, he said.

Persons interested in learning more about district finances are invited to attend the public hearing on the budget at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 11, at the board office, 454 S. Harvey in Plymouth.

9 honored for writing

Nine students were honored Monday night for their excellence in writing. The students were honored at a reception Monday night before the Plymouth-Canton Board Education meeting. They are winners of the Delta Kappa Gamma and Little Professor on the Park "Celebrate Our Schools" essay contest. In the kindergarten through third-grade group, Cara Stillings from Allen, C.J. Willard from Eriksen and Keri Mandeville from Hulsing wrote winning essays entitled "I Like School." In grades four-six Beth Brock from Hulsing, Nicole Philliben from Smith and Julie Prince from Smith were winners for their essays entitled "My School Is A Special Place." Winners for grades seven-nine, using the title "School Is Important," were Hedi Neuroth from Pioneer Middle, Soo Mee Kwon from West Middle and Norma Phillips from West Middle School. Purpose of the contest is to recognize excellence in education in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Some 500 students from 13 schools prepared essays which were judged on content, grammar, usage, organization and spelling. Winners received gift certificates from Little Professor on the Park.

Seven acres of land near the Greenfield Village entrance were cleared to make a home for the birthplace of Harvey Firestone, founder of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. The Edison Institute's first working farm will let visitors experience what was like to live on a late 19th century Ohio sheep farm.

Greenfield Village finally gets a farm

By Kathy Parrish
staff writer

MONTHS OF RESEARCH convinced Greenfield Village historians the 1828 Harvey Firestone birthplace was completely remodeled in 1882.

They were very relieved to discover a small note tucked under the plaster of their new acquisition.

Apparently put there by the 14-year-old future tire magnate, it was signed "Harvey Firestone, 1882."

"It was really a delight to find that note. It told us we made the right decision," said Blake Hayes, conservator-historical structures.

OPENED MAY 25, the Firestone Farm is Greenfield Village's first major acquisition since the 1740-1750 Salt Box House was completed in 1978.

It is the largest addition since Henry Ford was busy acquiring birthplaces. At $1.25 million, it matches the English Cotswold Cottage as most expensive.

But even more important is its significance as the only working farm in the complex of 100 structures.

"Really, the American story starts with the farm and evolves to the factory, town and city," Edison Institute President Harold K. Skramstad Jr. said.

"This allows us to tell stories we haven't been able to tell before with effectiveness."

MOVED FROM Columbiana, Ohio, near Youngstown to seven acres just west of the village entrance, its main feature is the two-story brick farmhouse where the founder of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. grew up. After he made his fortune, Harvey

Firestone entertained friends such as Henry Ford and Thomas Edison in the summer.

The house's interior was simply redone in 1882, but rather than reconstruct the house as it was in the 1800s, researchers decided to preserve the later, remodeled version.

"IT WAS VERY well preserved a 1882 pattern," Hayes said. His crew uncovered the well-kept set that the house had been updated. The building also underwent many changes in the 1900s when it eventually became a dairy farmhouse.

"And there was also a strong desire to interpret the 1882 period as a young farm. Most museums have pig farms."

Curators admit the house's design may surprise some visitors. The wall carries four colors - all meticulously analyzed so they could be reproduced exactly. The outside on the red brick building is green, brown and yellow.

"The colors and wallpaper will surprise people, but there was so much good evidence. There's a tendency to assume all houses had green shutters and white trim."

RESTORED THROUGH a $2 million grant from Firestone Foundation of Akron, Ohio, the farm is more than another famous person's birthplace.

Instead, it's a working sheep farm complete with a large Pennsylvania Dutch bank barn, pump house, chicken house, and fields full of crops and orchard.

A half dozen Greenfield Village buildings were moved so that there would be growing space for oats and corn. Grazing on the farm are several kinds of animals, including the Vermont Merino sheep whose wool and lambs the family relied on for income.

Interpreters wearing clothes of the 1880s actually run the farm. Using period farm equipment and household utensils, they will help visitors understand late 1800s agriculture.

LEAD INTERPRETER is Steve Eastman, a New Hampshire resident who came here in January from a small living history farm called Norlands.

While planning to develop some educational programs about the farm, Eastman said his main goal is to "interpret the whole process to people."

"I've always felt it's important to interpret history to people in a living way."

Livonia resident James Johnson, who was lead interpreter at the Saltbox and Edison homes before joining the farm crew, also enjoys "living history."

"Just being able to show this to people," he said. "It's great fun."

TO BE DEDICATED June 29, the Firestone Farm is expected to attract visitors from all over the world.

That's one reason the Firestone Foundation wanted it moved from its original location - where 75 to 100 people visited it a year.

Skramstad sees the completed project as the end result of "two people looking for a partnership and finding it."

"The American story begins with the farm, but Greenfield Village was lacking one. Firestone had a farm, but not an audience."

"It's a natural fit for the Firestone Farm to be at Greenfield Village."

who came to Dearborn from New Hampshire in January.

Rising behind the farmhouse is the Pennsylvania German Bank Barn, which is 100 feet long and 50 feet wide.

Details like this door latch are being carefully restored.

Staff photos by Bill Bresler

During several months of studying and dismantling, Edison Institute historians learned as much as possible about the Firestone house. Each piece in the house was gently moved and reassembled in Dearborn with the help of careful numbering.

9 honored for writing

Nine students were honored Monday night for their excellence in writing.

The students were honored at a reception Monday night before the Plymouth-Canton Board Education meeting.

They are winners of the Delta Kappa Gamma and Little Professor on the Park "Celebrate Our Schools" essay contest.

In the kindergarten through third-grade group, Cara Stillings from Allen, C.J. Willard from Eriksen and Keri Mandeville from Hulsing wrote winning essays entitled "I Like School."

In grades four-six Beth Brock from Hulsing, Nicole Philliben from Smith and Julie Prince from

Smith were winners for their essays entitled "My School Is A Special Place."

Winners for grades seven-nine, using the title "School Is Important," were Hedi Neuroth from Pioneer Middle, Soo Mee Kwon from West Middle and Norma Phillips from West Middle School.

Purpose of the contest is to recognize excellence in education in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Some 500 students from 13 schools prepared essays which were judged on content, grammar, usage, organization and spelling.

Winners received gift certificates from Little Professor on the Park.

Seven acres of land near the Greenfield Village Dutch Colonial house, cleared to make a home for the institute's first working farm will let visitors experience what it was like to live on a late 19th century farm.

Working the farm while presenting "living history" to Greenfield Village visitors are Livonia resident James Johnson (left) and Steve Eastman, who came to Dearborn from New Hampshire in January.

Rising behind the farmhouse is the Pennsylvania German Bank Barn, which is 100 feet long and 50 feet wide.

Details like this door latch are being carefully restored.

near Youngstown to seven acres just west of the village entrance, its main feature is the two-story brick farmhouse where the founder of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. grew up. After he made his fortune, Harvey Dutch Colonial house, and fields full of crops and an orchard.

A half dozen Greenfield Village buildings were moved so that there would be growing space for oatshay farm, but the original farmhouse was missing one. Firestone had a farm, but not an audience.

"It's a natural fit for the Firestone Farm to be at Greenfield Village."

During several months of studying and dismantling, Edison Institute historians learned as much as possible about the Firestone house. Each piece in the house was gently moved and reassembled in Dearborn with the help of careful numbering.

Seven acres of land near the Greenfield Village entrance were cleared to make a home for the birthplace of Harvey Firestone, founder of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. The Edison Institute's first working farm will let visitors experience what it was like to live on a late 19th century Ohio sheep farm.

Greenfield Village finally gets a farm

By Kathy Parrish
staff writer

MONTHS OF RESEARCH convinced Greenfield Village historians the 1828 Harvey Firestone birthplace was completely remodeled in 1882.

They were very relieved to discover a small note tucked under the plaster of their new acquisition.

Apparently put there by the 14-year-old future tire magnate, it was signed "Harvey Firestone, 1882."

"It was really a delight to find that note. It told us we made the right decision," said Blake Hayes, conservator-historical structures.

OPENED MAY 25, the Firestone Farm is Greenfield Village's first major acquisition since the 1740-1750 Salt Box House was completed in 1978.

It is the largest addition since Henry Ford was busily acquiring birthplaces. At $1.25 million, it matches the English Cotswold Cottage as most expensive.

But even more important is its significance as the only working farm in the complex of 100 structures.

"Really, the American story starts with the farm and evolves to the factory, town and city," Edison Institute President Harold K. Skramstad Jr. said.

"This allows us to tell stories we haven't been able to tell before with effectiveness."

MOVED FROM Columbiana, Ohio, near Youngstown to seven acres just west of the village entrance, its main feature is the two-story brick farmhouse where the founder of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. grew up. After he made his fortune, Harvey

Firestone entertained friends such as Henry Ford and Thomas Edison there in the summer.

The house's interior was completely redone in 1882, but rather than reconstruct the house as it was in the early 1800s, researchers decided to preserve the later, remodeled version.

"IT WAS VERY well preserved in its 1882 pattern," Hayes said. Hayes's crew uncovered the well-kept secret that the house had been updated. The building also underwent many changes in the 1900s when it eventually became a dairy farmhouse.

"And there was also a strong desire to interpret the 1882 period as a working farm. Most museums have pioneer farms."

Curators admit the house's decorating may surprise some visitors. One wall carries four colors - all microscopically analyzed so they could be reproduced exactly. The outside trim on the red brick building is green, brown and yellow.

"The colors and wallpaper will surprise people, but there was so much good evidence. There's a tendency to assume all houses had green shutters and white trim."

RESTORED THROUGH a $2 million grant from Firestone Foundation of Akron, Ohio, the farm is more than just another famous person's birthplace.

Instead, it's a working sheep farm complete with a large Pennsylvania Dutch bank barn, pump house, chicken house, and fields full of crops and an orchard.

A half dozen Greenfield Village buildings were moved so that there would be growing space for oats, hay and corn. Grazing on the farm are several kinds of animals, including the Vermont Merino sheep whose wool and lambs the family relied on for income.

Interpreters wearing clothes of the 1880s actually run the farm. Using period farm equipment and household utensils, they will help visitors understand late 1800s agriculture.

LEAD INTERPRETER is Steve Eastman, a New Hampshire resident who came here in January from a small living history farm called Norlands.

While planning to develop some educational programs about the farm, Eastman said his main goal is to "interpret the whole process to people."

"I've always felt it's important to interpret history to people in a living way."

Livonia resident James Johnson, who was lead interpreter at the Saltbox and Edison homes before joining the farm crew, also enjoys "living history." "Just being able to show this to people," he said. "It's great fun."

TO BE DEDICATED June 29, the Firestone Farm is expected to attract visitors from all over the world.

That's one reason the Firestone Foundation wanted it moved from its original location - where 75 to 100 people visited it a year.

Skramstad sees the completed project as the end result of "two people looking for a partnership and finding it."

"The American story begins with the farm, but Greenfield Village was lacking one. Firestone had a farm, but not an audience."

who came to Dearborn from New Hampshire in January.

Rising behind the farmhouse is the Pennsylvania German Bank Barn, which is 100 feet long and 50 feet wide.

Details like this door latch are being carefully restored.

During several months of studying and dismantling, Edison Institute historians learned as much as possible about the Firestone house. Each piece in the house was gently removed and reassembled in Dearborn with the help of careful numbering.

Plymouth police win in excessive force case

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

A U.S. District Court jury last week ruled in favor of four Plymouth police officers accused of using excessive force during an arrest.

The lawsuit was filed against the Plymouth Police Department and officers Ronald Thomas Zedan, Wayne Carroll, Ronald Kaminski and Joseph Kahanec, following the 1982 arrest of Plymouth resident Tony Henry.

The city was dismissed from the lawsuit before the case was given to the seven-member jury, according to attorney Bernard McClorey, who represented the department and officers.

Henry charged that the officers used unreasonable force in effecting his arrest, and in doing so violated his constitutional rights. As a result of the arrest, Henry alleges to have suffered permanent damage to his wrist.

The case originally went to the Wayne County Circuit Court in November 1983 and was turned over to the federal court because of the constitutional question.

Following two weeks of testimony before federal Judge George LaPlata, the jury returned its verdict Thursday, absolving the officers. The decision was made during two days of deliberation.

"I think it was a correct result," McClorey said Friday. "The police only used what force was necessary to bring Mr. Henry into custody."

Attorneys for Henry, Donna Grant and Mark Swanson, wouldn't say whether the decision will be appealed.

HENRY WAS arrested in the early morning hours of Nov. 12, 1982 after being involved in a traffic accident on Postiff near General Drive.

Police responded to the accident and, according to McClorey, believed that Henry had been drinking. The officers called for a wrecker to tow his car.

When the tow truck arrived, the officers alleged that Henry became violent and was placed under arrest. Force was used in bringing Henry into custody.

He was charged with two counts of disorderly person — using loud and obscene language and resisting arrest — and operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (OUIL).

Henry later pleaded guilty to one count of disorderly conduct (using loud and obscene language) while the other disorderly conduct charge (resisting arrest) and OUIL were dropped in 35th District Court.

Grant said that Henry admitted to "using vulgar" language with the tow truck driver. She said Henry was upset and got into an argument with the driver because he was moving and all his belongings were in the car.

Henry denies the officers' claim that he resisted arrest and that he took a swing at one of them.

According to Henry, the officers twisted his wrist while handcuffing his arms behind his back, causing permanent injury. He also said the officers hit him, causing a bloody nose, black eye and bruises around his ribs, as well as choking him.

"THE QUESTION here is whether the force used by the police was reasonable," Grant said.

"There were no weapons involved, no escape and he never became violent. Tony admitted becoming angry with the tow truck driver but there never was any violence directed at the police — violent was a word that was not proven," she said.

"The suit was filed for violation of his rights. There was damage to his left wrist which required surgical treatment."

Grant said the emergency room report also indicated the black eye, bruises and injuries to his throat.

McClorey said the officers followed state law in effecting the arrest, which is why the city was dropped — because the officers hadn't followed a policy or procedure which was unconstitutional.

"Mr. Henry claimed there was injury to his wrist because of handcuffing. We were able to dispel that by the testimony of his own doctor, who said the injury was not a result of handcuffing," McClorey said.

But Grant and Swanson differ with McClorey's comment.

"Mr. Henry did not have his wrist hurt in a minor traffic accident," Swanson said.

"The doctors were very clear that this type of injury occurred through a twisting motion of the wrist — twisting beyond the capability of the wrist," he said.

"The jury's decision was a very general verdict and in no way contradicted Mr. Henry's claim about what happened."

"The jury just felt this wasn't extreme enough or unreasonable enough to warrant liability against the police officers," Swanson said.

The injury, according to Grant, has diminished Henry's ability to perform the manual work he is accustomed to doing.

BECAUSE OF that, Henry was seeking between $75,000 and $480,000 in compensatory damages for work loss, as well as unspecified punitive damages and medical costs.

McClorey said the figure of $3 million was "banded about at one point." Grant denied the claim.

"The question of a settlement out of court just never came up," McClorey said.

"We have the integrity of the police officers at stake and that's very important to us."

"The officers were accused in court by the plaintiff of doing things which the jury found they did not do. The officers involved had good professional integrity, and it's not just a question of dollar and cents," he said.

"I believe the jury was impressed with the professional qualifications and integrity of the officers. A good part of the testimony centered on the qualifications and training of the officers involved," he said.

Grant and Swanson didn't believe the jury's decision was based on the officers' qualifications.

"There was not one shred of expert testimony that the police department used reasonable force," Swanson said. "The jury just wasn't convinced that Mr. Henry hadn't done anything to provoke the officers' action."

"The jury was dealing with a difficult issue," Grant said. "It's very difficult for any attorney to sue a police department and police officers."

McCLOREY, WHO tried the case on behalf of Plymouth's self-insurance municipal risk management authority, said the city will file a motion to recover its legal costs from Henry.

McClorey's law firm handles insurance cases for the more than 100 Michigan communities which are members of the risk management authority.

"We have under consideration asking the judge to review the case in regard to taxpayer's costs. We will file a motion to that effect, probably within the next 30 days."

McClorey said they will seek the costs for the same reason they wouldn't offer an out-of-court settlement.

"We are of the opinion that paying nuisance settlements just encourages more frivolous lawsuits to be filed. When a case doesn't have merit, we won't have a settlement."

"As far as the people who are members of the risk management authority, and their charge to be aggressive in these type of cases, I think it sends the message that police in cities have been the targets of too many nuisance lawsuits."

"Consequently, we want to make it unrewarding for them to file," McClorey said.

Likewise, Plymouth Police Chief Richard Myers believes the Henry case sends a message.

"It is refreshing when we get a case that comes down this way. It gives the message that when police officers do their job properly they can't get challenged on it."

"It shows that we're doing something right and that's very gratifying. I'm glad we tried the case rather than settling it out of court," Myers said.

Helping improve baseball fields

To the editor:

Thank you, Jack and Bob Koers of Plymouth Equipment Construction Inc.

Too often we forget to take a moment and thank those people who go out of their way to help as Bob and Jack did when they donated the use of their heavy equipment to the Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball League in order to improve the condition of our baseball fields.

Their kind and generous help is truly appreciated by all of the players, parents, coaches and managers of the PCJBL. Thanks to you both, the fields are something that the Plymouth-Canton community can be proud of.

Prison bills set

Corrections officials are anxious to move into the facility as soon as possible. The state's correction system is more than 700 inmates over capacity and the DeHoCo beds will help relieve the overcrowding.

The purchase and renovation of the compound is expected to cost the state $20 million, according to Law.

"They are going to convert everything to single cells and demolish the huts. We're interested in getting DeHoCo cleaned up — the place is a mess," Law said.

"It's a real plus for the area having DeHoCo cleaned up and the security increased, in addition to the moratorium."

In the meantime, the balance of the DeHoCo land — which was the focus of an earlier battle — has been rezoned to light industrial, Breen said.

Before the moratorium bill passed the House, Detroit representatives added a clause which would have allowed the city to do whatever it wanted with the balance of the land.

Geake successfully modified that clause in the Senate Appropriations Committee to allow Detroit freedom as long as it didn't build a prison and met local zoning restrictions.

WHIPLASH

Whiplash injuries can result from a sudden backward and forward whipping movement of the neck, caused by an auto collision, a fall, a powerful slap on the back, or even a violent sneeze. The ligaments and muscles controlling the spinal segments are stretched or sprained allowing the vertebrae to slip into abnormal positions. Nerves are then "pinched" or irritated, giving rise to headaches, nausea, dizziness and other pain.

Adult education grads honored

Some 43 persons received their high school diplomas recently through Plymouth-Canton Community Education.

The ceremony, held in the auditorium at Plymouth Salem High School, also saw 82 persons receive the General Education Development (GED) certificate (indicating they had passed a test to prove the equivalency of a high school education) and 72 medical assistants, 13 dental assistants, 7 medical assistants and 5 home health care aides recognized.

Speaker for the evening was Robert Stone, a former dropout who is a manager at Ford Motor Company. He explained to the group how everyone who takes community education courses and graduates is a winner.

Besides the graduation ceremonies, special presentations were made for outstanding service to community education. Those receiving the special presentations were: Joan Petroske, Oakwood Hospital; Sheldon H. Applefield, D.D.S.; Jim Davidson, CPR instructor; Crystal Forbush, CPR instructor; Dick Hill, CPR instructor; and Laurane Forster, volunteer.

The first scholarship from the American Association of University Women (AAUW) went to Phyllis Counts who will be going on to college, thanks in part to the scholarship. The award was presented by A.A.U.W. president Nancy Vernon. A reception was held in the Salem cafeteria following the graduation ceremonies.

Those who received diplomas were: Donna Altoonian, Thomas Beville, Selda Bowling, Cathy Brewer, Patricia Carey, Phyllis Counts, Brenda Cranford, William Curry, Sandra DeLamelleure, Evelyn Dinweiddie, Valerie Francis, Tim Greech, Annette Haaraala, Adam Harrison, Roselyn Jean Hendley, Kristine Hill, Diane Hodges, Donna Hurst, Linda Irvin, Robert Keller, Kevin Kowalski, Suzanne Laperna, and Curtis Laub.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Saturday, Sunday, June 8-9 — The Plymouth Community Family YMCA will hold its fifth annual Spring Tennis Tournament from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the tennis courts of Plymouth Canton High on Canton Center Road just south of Joy. Wednesday, June 5, is the deadline to register. Fees are $8 for singles events and $8 per team per doubles event. Each player must furnish a new can of U.S.T.A.-approved balls. Matches are two of three sets with a 12-point tie-breaker at 6 all. Trophies given to winners and runners-up in each category with eight or more participants. Tennis pro Joe Brennan will coordinate. All USTA rules will apply. Phone the YMCA at 453-2904 or stop by its office at 248 Union, Plymouth, to obtain an entry blank.

CAR WASH

Saturday, June 15 — Divine Savior Youth Group will be having a car wash from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the church parking lot at 39375 Joy Road, east of I-275 in Westland. The cost will be a donation to go towards supporting youth group activities.

CABBAGE PATCH CONTEST

Saturday, June 15 — A contest to choose the Canton Cabbage Patch Kid of 1985 will be held 2-3 p.m. at the Canton Country Festival at the entertainment tent, Canton Center Road and Proctor. All entrants must be pre-registered and the deadline to register is Saturday, June 8. Application forms may be picked up and returned to Canton Public Library or Lorraine's Dolls in Old Village, Plymouth. There will be two divisions, fashion and talent.

for your information

NEED A JOB?

Are you 55 years or older and need a job? The Wayne County Office on Aging's employment program has a variety of positions available for persons age 55 and older, of low income, and residents of western Wayne County. For more information, call 467-3453 or 467-3454.

MACHINIST TRAINING

Focus:HOPE Machinist Training Institute is looking for laid-off workers, with little hope of being recalled, to train as skilled machinists. More than 100 openings are immediately available for those with mechanical aptitude, math and reading skills, and motivation. The institute has openings for Wayne County residents living outside of Detroit who are unemployed or have low family income. The training involves a 33-week course in precision machining which includes shop theory, shop math, blueprint reading, inspection processes, set-up and operation of lathes, mills and grinders. The free training is sponsored and funded by Focus:HOPE, City of Detroit, and the Governor's Office of Job Training. For information call 883-7440.

FREE READING CLASSES

Do you know someone who cannot read this newspaper? Adult non-readers and those reading below eighth grade level are eligible for free reading classes. Each person will be interviewed, evaluated and placed into an individualized program which meets their personal needs. English-as-a-second-language adults interested in improving English reading skills are welcome. This is a non-credit course made possible by special federal funds.

Summers classes will be from 9 a.m. to noon Mondays and Wednesdays in July. Fall classes will begin Sept. 16. The classes will be held at the Starkweather Center, 550 N. Holbrook, Plymouth. To register or for information call Plymouth-Canton Community Education offices at 451-6555 or 451-6660.

The Head Start and the PLUS pre-school programs of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools both are accepting registrations for the 1985-86 school year now through June.

Plymouth-Canton Head Start is recruiting 3- and 4-year-olds at the center at Central Middle School, 650 Church, Plymouth. The program features classes and activities for parents and children. Eligible children must be age 3 or 4 before Dec. 1, 1985, live in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools district, and meet income criteria. For information or to register call 451-6656.

Applications now are being taken for the free PLUS Pre-School Program. PLUS is a joint parent-child program funded by the federal government under Chapter I. It is located at Central Middle School, 650 Church, Plymouth. Eligible children must be age 4 by Dec. 1, 1985, and live in the attendance areas of Field, Gallimore, Tanger and Farrand elementary schools, according to Mary Fritz, director. To register or for information call 451-6656.

U-M Branch in Plymouth considered in 1840s

(Part 6)

As indicated in a previous column, school boards in the early years voted on the books to be used in the public school.

In 1857, when Ebenezer J. Penniman tried to veto the use of Webster's Dictionary, the incident may have brought to the minds of his contemporaries an earlier veto by Penniman which involved an effort by residents to establish a branch of the University of Michigan in Plymouth.

The original plan for the university, formulated in 1837 when the state adopted the Rev. John D. Pierce's proposals for a state educational system, called for the university to have branches in a number of Michigan communities.

Nine such branches were actually established — in Pontiac, Monroe, Kalamazoo, Detroit, Niles, White Pigeon, Tecumseh, Romeo and Ann Arbor.

The late Ken Harrison used to maintain that efforts were made to have a branch established here but E.J. Penniman, who was supervisor of Plymouth Township from 1842 to 1844 and again in 1850, torpedoed the idea, saying that "he didn't want a bunch of college kids cluttering up the town."

The story may be apocryphal, but it illustrates the influence of the man who was the town's leading banker, an owner of extensive properties in the village, and, up to that time, the only man from Plymouth who had ever been elected to the U.S. Congress.

BOOKS APPROVED by the board for use in the Plymouth school included Bryant's poetry and song book, acquired in 1872 for $4.80.

In 1889, with the teachers present, the board decided to adopt Harper's New Readers in the district for a term of five years. In 1897, the board adopted Milne's Arithmetic. All of the schoolbooks had to be paid for by the children who used them. In 1898, a board member made an effort to have the school board provide free textbooks to the children but his motion was defeated.

In 1900, Hewitt's Civil Government book was adopted in place of Croker's, and Houston's Physical Geography replaced a similar book by Davis. In the same year, in an unusual loosening of the reins, the board left to the teachers the matter of selecting a textbook in English for the 10th grade.

In 1904, the board appointed two of its members to act as a committee to determine the form of writing to be used in the school. The two members were Paul Voorhies, who later became Michigan's attorney general, and Ella Chaffee, preceptress of the high school for 15 years.

A list of the courses for which the board had to select books during the year 1855 appears in the school board minutes. Although it does not include Latin or any modern foreign languages, the range of subjects is amazing.

They included spelling, reading, mental arithmetic, practical arithmetic, physical geography, elementary grammar, advanced grammar, orthography, writing, elementary physiology, advanced physiology, history, composition, rhetoric, political economy, algebra, geometry, surveying, trigonometry, natural philosophy, chemistry, botany, natural history, astronomy, geology, meteorology, intellectual philosophy, music and bookkeeping.

Bear in mind that this was for one school house and for students up to the eighth grade, the first high school class did not graduate until 1881. And there was not a single so-called "Mickey Mouse" course on the entire list.

A SCHOOL DISTRICT library, open to the public, was apparently established prior to 1858.

In that year, the Union School board minutes indicate that 1,775 volumes had been distributed by the library during the year. Each year the board voted a sum of money to pay a local resident to keep the library in his or her home.

In 1866, T.W. Dodge took the job for $25 a year. In 1879, S. Johnson took the library for $30 a year. The library was supported by tax money and overdue book fines. In 1868, a tax of $45 was levied for the library fund. In 1899, library fines totalled $18.

The volumes to be placed in the library were chosen by the board of education. In 1879, the board delegated to T.C. Sherwood, local banker and superintendent of the Methodist Sunday School, the job of selecting the books. It was customary for individuals and associations to donate books to the library. In 1919, for example, the Women's Literary Club (today's Woman's Club) presented the library with 50 books. In 1923, Charles Pitcher presented a set of the Harvard Classics.

By 1907, according to Margaret W. Ableson, who wrote a short, unpublished history of the local schools up to that time, the school library was open to the public 3:30-5:30 p.m. every Friday during the school year.

On July 8, 1918, the library came into $7,080 as a result of a bequest from Harrison A. Nichols who died several years before. Thereafter, the library fund is referred to in the school minutes as the Nichols Trust Fund.

Sometime prior to 1931, a library was established at the Starkweather School. On June 10, 1931, the school minutes indicate the board had decided not to keep that library open in the summer as had been done in the past. It was another casualty of the Great Depression of the 1930s.

What to do about 'caged' Tiger?

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

Should Denny McLain, the Tigers record-holding pitcher, be voted a place in the Baseball Hall of Fame and where will the champion Tigers finish in the present race?

These two questions were discussed aplenty during the Memorial Day holiday and neither decided to everyone's satisfaction.

It was agreed that the present Tigers were not the same team which won the World Series last fall and it was learned that the so-called "smart money" was placing them no better than third place when the curtain falls.

With McLain it was different. There were many who argued that a pitcher with his record of 31 victories in 1968 should have his plaque placed in Cooperstown, N.Y., with the rest of the outstanding baseball players as the record of 32 victories should always be a goal for the younger generation.

There were others who thought that his plaque never should be placed there as he is serving a long prison term for his connection with the drug traffic and is far from an idol the younger set should honor.

It is a good argument but there were many who figured his present prison term should be forgotten and let the present generation look upon him as one of the best baseball pitchers of all time.

This sounded good, but it didn't have many followers.

How could you honor a man who is now serving a 23-year sentence in prison with no chance of parole for at least eight years?

IT WOULD seem rather odd to pay tribute to a fellow with that sort of record — a fellow who didn't honor his wife and children enough to live the right kind of life?

The folks who offered this view agree that if he had been voted into the Hall of Fame before his dealing in drugs, it would have been OK and that his plaque would not now be removed.

However the records showed that he was on the ballot for two years and wasn't voted in. He can be on the ballot for eight years, but there is little chance that he will overcome the feeling toward him in his later years when the jury found him guilty and the judge years with no chance for parole for eight years.

— a woman — sentenced him to 23

It was a horrible ending to what could have been a great career. But Denny, at best, wasn't an idol. Even with the Tigers he was a playboy and always was in some sort of jam that got him into trouble.

There was the day he tossed buckets of water over the baseball writers in the in the lockerroom and then laughed at them.

This was childish. But it was McLain. Finally, Jimmy Campbell, then the Tigers general manager, who is a patient fellow in his dealings, traded McLain to Washington just to get rid of him.

That was considered punishment and it is doubtful now if Denny ever will be honored in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

According to the two previous votes, he couldn't make it and there is little chance that opinion will change while he still is serving his prison sentence.

The punishment should always fit the crime.

Opinions are to be shared

Opinions and ideas are most fertile when shared with others.

That's why the Plymouth Observer encourages its readers to share their views with others by making use of the "from Our Readers" column.

Submitting a letter to the editor for publication is rather easy. We ask that letters be typewritten or printed legibly, 300 words or less, signed, and include the address of the sender.

Names will be withheld only for the best of reasons and the decision to do so will be made by the editor.

Letters may be mailed or hand-delivered to our news office at 489 S. Main, Plymouth 48170.

Candidates vie for Schoolcraft board

Voters in the Schoolcraft College District will elect two trustees for full six-year terms in the June 10 election. Three candidates are running.

The district includes the kindergarten-12th grade districts of Clarenceville, Livonia, Garden City, Northville and Plymouth-Canton, plus a small portion of Novi.

Candidates are: Michael W. Burley, a Northville teacher who lives in Canton Township; Hussein S. Karzun, a Ford engineer who lives in Livonia; and Sharon L. Sarris, a General Motors communications manager who lives in Livonia. Burley has served six years on the Schoolcraft board; Sarris, three.

The non-partisan League of Women Voters asked the candidates for 50 words of biographical information and answers to four questions:

1. Why do you want to be elected (re-elected) to the Schoolcraft Community College Board of Trustees?

2. What do you believe is a realistic approach to providing a solid financial base for Schoolcraft College?

3. Do you believe the role of Schoolcraft College is changing? If so, how?

4. If elected (re-elected), how would you maximize cooperative ventures between local school districts and Schoolcraft College as a means of benefitting students at both levels?

Answers are in the candidates' own words.

MICHAEL W. BURLEY, B.Sc. in industrial management, M.A. in educational leadership, S.A. in educational leadership, candidate for Ph.D. in administration and supervision. Twenty years in the education business, 11 years as a central office administrator, six years as a board of trustees member, past president of an adult education corporation. Taught in Garden City, Livonia and Northville. Resident of Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Michael W. Burley

1. During the past six years while on the board, many things were accomplished: a more reasonable process of negotiating was implemented, a stronger marketing effort was instituted, and a much larger Garden City Center was acquired. There is more to be done. That is why I want to be re-elected.

2. The board uses a realistic formula of one-third support from each of the following: state, tuition and local taxes. However, if the state's share drops, there is a shift in the burden to tuition or local taxes. This will cause an increase in tuition or a request for millage.

3. The role of Schoolcraft is changing. In the next six years, there will be more emphasis on retraining and industry-based instructional programs. The number of high school students is declining, yet the number of people between 30 and 35 years of age who need training and retraining is increasing.

4. To maximize cooperation, it is time for members of the Schoolcraft board to visit local boards. In addition, a liaison person needs to be identified between boards, and time should be scheduled on board agendas to make members aware of services at both levels.

HUSSEIN S. KARZUN, I have been a resident of Wayne County for 19 years, eight in Livonia. I am married and have one daughter, 16, who attends Stevenson High School. My wife is a volunteer counselor with the Livonia Youth Assistance Program. I have a bachelor's degree in engineering from the University of Miami, Fla., and a master's degree in business administration from Wayne State University.

1. I would like Schoolcraft College to offer programs which prepare students of all ages for the changing jobs market. As a member of the board of trustees, I believe my technical education and experience will be well suited for this goal.

2. Three programs, financed by local businesses and/or individuals, will provide added income: co-ops, grants and job training courses. These could be achieved by increasing community interest and support and providing broad-based and balanced programs to students of all ages.

3. Yes. Schoolcraft is located in a district of high-mobility residents. To meet the needs of these residents, Schoolcraft must offer: improved higher education, upgraded skills and improved physical conditions.

4. Schoolcraft College programs should be open for more high school students with advanced skills to be able to obtain college credits and save these students time and money in their pursuit of a four-year college program. Schoolcraft must coordinate and sponsor educational, cultural, athletic and recreational programs for high schools in the district.

SHARON L. SARRIS, Manager of employee communication, Chevrolet-Pontiac-GM of Canada Group, General Motors. M.A., University of Michigan. Appointed to board in 1982, elected to a two-year term in 1983. Currently treasurer and delegate to the Michigan Community College Association. Selected for national "Leaders of the '80s" program. Co-chair, Southeast Michigan Women's Political Caucus. Member, League of Women Voters, Friends of the Library.

Sharon L. Sarris

1. I have been an effective and responsible trustee during the last three years. But there are challenges that face the college in the near future. My broad experience and background in education and business will be extremely helpful as the college responds to these challenges.

2. The college must consider all options: potential for increased state funding, additional millage, lease/sale of surplus college land, increased tuition, increased contributions to Schoolcraft Foundation are possibilities. We will be deciding in the near future on some different approaches we will need to take.

3. Yes, because its mission is to respond to the needs of the community. Schoolcraft will take on greater responsibility for occupational training and retraining and perhaps "remedial" post-secondary education. It will offer new courses for new occupations and generally find other ways to distinguish itself from other colleges.

4. Expand programs for K-12 gifted and talented; work with districts to determine mutual roles in community and continuing education; develop retraining programs for reassigned K-12 teachers; share other resources where appropriate. I am committed to expanding these and other cooperative ventures.

Three suburbanites, O&E honored

Three area residents and the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers were among those honored today at the sixth annual awards luncheon sponsored by the Awareness Communication Team for the Developmentally Disabled.

Tied for group home of the year were two Plymouth residences — Plymouth Opportunity House and Lexington Home.

The 12 Observer & Eccentric Newspapers received the overall news media award for eight 1984 editorials concerning group homes.

"OVER THE years, reporters from the Observer & Eccentric newspapers have visited many group homes, talked with residents of the homes, as well as neighbors," the nomination said. "They have painted a consistent picture of what community placement means for a person who is developmentally retarded."

The award was given for editorials in the Redford and Plymouth Observers, March 1, 1984; Farmington Observer, March 8, 1984; Southfield Eccentric, Aug. 23, 1984; and Garden City Observer, Nov. 1, 1984.

Also cited were columns by former Managing Editor Nick Sharkey, March 29, 1984; Catherine Trainor, June 28, 1984; and Robert Wisler, Nov. 29, 1984. Trainor and Wisler are members of the copy desk staff.

Representing the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers at the ceremony was Garden City editor Leonard Poger, a repeat winner.

Awards for community news media also went to Susan Watson of the Detroit Free Press and Joe Dzenowagis of WXON-TV.

THE JOHN FURTAW Inspiration Award went to David Stow of Plymouth.

The honor is given to a developmentally disabled person who has made a significant contribution to the community.

Stow is a voting member of the Alhambras, a Catholic men's service organization. He also does volunteer work with the Knights of Columbus. Ray Schulz of Livonia and Teresa Smith of Westland received certificates of merit in the John Furtaw inspiration category. They were cited for their community contributions and for being models for other developmentally disabled persons.

RECEIVING other ACT/DD awards were:

• Group home of the year — Plymouth Opportunity House operated by Community Opportunity Centers and administered by Gary Wheeler; Lexington Home operated by New Worlds, Inc. and administered by Richard Snyder.

• Statewide awareness leader of the year — C. Patrick Babcock, director of Michigan Department of Mental Health.

• Local awareness leader of the year — Collin W. Wahls, supervisor of Springfield Township.

• Neighbor of the year — Rockwood residents Daniel and Edna King and their three children, Dawn, Donald and Jason.

Also honored at the luncheon, in Southfield Hilton were Alfred Bartolino, Sterling Heights; John Hellhake, Drayton Plains; Yvonne Vandenberg, Oak Park; and Bernice Watt, New Baltimore.

GUEST SPEAKER at the awards luncheon in Southfield Hilton was John Sanford, director of the Office of Recipient Rights for the Department of Mental Health.

Madonna studies computer usage

Madonna College has received $4,800 from the Education Foundation of the Data Processing Management Association, Park Ridge, Ill. The money will enable the Livonia school to undertake a one-year project to determine competencies required by workers to use the computer as a creative tool in the business world today.

Under the direction of Diane Louvar, coordinator of computer information systems, about 100 business professionals will be polled to determine what is necessary for using the computer.

DOWN ON THE STRAWBERRY FARM

Just when you thought strawberries from the local farm were an early summer treat, they have now become a staple for you to enjoy in your kitchen. At the very heart of our American culinary heritage, these berries are the most plentiful and versatile fruit in the "U-Pick" state. They're just what you need for a family treat.

Herald the short-but-sweet season this year with a new version of everybody's favorite cream cheese strawberry pie. Topped with a cloud of whipped topping and crowned with plump fresh strawberries, the pie is layered with a blend of whipped topping and cream cheese, and a "berry-red" strawberry pureed fruit mixture. It's an easy do-ahead dessert... with whipped topping and strawberries added just before serving.

To ensure that the berries stay firm and fresh, strawberries were recommended that you wash and dry them as close to serving time as possible. They should be stored in a plastic bag in the refrigerator. Strawberries are very perishable and need to be handled gently. So whether you select the berries at your local supermarket or pick them yourself at a nearby "U-Pick" farm, it's always a good idea to take them straight home. Store immediately in the refrigerator in shallow containers to prevent crushing.

When soft, reserve less firm berries to puree or to chop for use in quick breads such as muffins or fresh and easy strawberry loaf. Whipped topping adds a light touch to the basic baking powder batter... and blended with cream cheese makes a great spread for the bread.

Served icy cold... topped right from its freezer container... whipped topping with real cream is the scrumptious finishing touch to fresh baked (served warm if you like) orange shortcake, filled with sliced sugared berries.

Like all shortcake recipes, this one traces its culinary beginnings to 17th century colonists who prepared the first version of America's ideal dessert with fresh berries gathered from fields planted by Indians.

FRESH STRAWBERRY PIE

- |  |  |
|--|--|
| 2 pts. strawberries                      | 2 tablespoons sugar  |
| 1 3-oz. pkg. strawberry flavored gelatin | 1 8-oz. container (3 cups) whipped topping with real cream, thawed |
| 1 cup boiling water                      | Pastry for 9-inch pie, baked                                       |
| 1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened      |  |

Place 1 pint strawberries in blender container. Cover, process on high speed until well blended. Dissolve gelatin in water, add pureed strawberries. Chill until thickened but not set.

Combine cream cheese and sugar, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Fold in 1-1/2 cups whipped topping, spread onto bottom of crust. Pour gelatin mixture over whipped topping mixture; chill several hours or until set. Top with remaining whipped topping and strawberries.

ORANGE-BERRY SHORTCAKES

- |                               |   |
|-------------------------------|---|
| 2 cups flour                  | 1 12-oz. container (4-1/2 cups) whipped topping with real cream, thawed |
| 1 tablespoon sugar            |   |
| 1 tablespoon baking powder    | 2 pts. strawberries, sliced   |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt             | 2 tablespoons orange juice  |
| 1 egg, beaten                 | 2 tablespoons sugar   |
| 1/2 cup milk                  |   |
| 1/2 cup margarine, melted     |   |
| 1 teaspoon grated orange rind |   |

Combine dry ingredients. Add combined egg, milk, margarine, rind and 1 cup whipped topping, mixing just until moistened. Drop 1/4 cup batter, 3 inches apart, onto greased cookie sheet. Bake at 450° 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from cookie sheet immediately, cool. Split.

Combine strawberries, juice and sugar, let stand 10 minutes. For each serving, cover bottom half of shortcake with strawberry mixture and whipped topping. Top with second half of shortcake, additional strawberry mixture and whipped topping.

STRAWBERRY BREAD

- |                            |   |
|----------------------------|---|
| 1 cup chopped strawberries | 2 eggs  |
| 3/4 cup sugar              | 2 cups thawed whipped topping with real cream |
| 2 cups flour               |   |
| 2 teaspoons baking powder  | 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened           |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt          | 1 tablespoon milk                             |
| 1/2 cup margarine, melted  |   |

Combine strawberries and 1/4 cup sugar. Combine remaining sugar, flour, baking powder and salt. Add combined margarine, eggs and strawberry mixture, mixing just until moistened. Fold in 1-1/2 cups whipped topping. Pour into greased 9x5-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350° 1 hour or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 5 minutes, remove from pan. Cool.

Combine cream cheese and milk, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Fold in remaining whipped topping. Spread onto cooled bread slices.

HOW TO PICK STRAWBERRIES

- Strawberry picking at nearby "U-Pick" strawberry farms is easy and it's fun! For information about the farm nearest you, call your local U.S. Government Agricultural County Extension Agent.
- To be sure you get the pick-of-the-crop, strawberry growers recommend that you arrive at the farm early in the day when you can pick the fruit, still cool with morning dew.
- Large or small, every red berry is ripe, luscious and ready-to-eat. So pick all the red ones you can find in your assigned row.
- Green berries will not ripen after picking.
- Look under the leaves of each strawberry plant to find the berries; pinch or pull stem from plant. Be sure to leave stem on each berry.
- Protect berries from sunlight... and don't leave them in a hot car.

Whether you drink or eat them, luscious strawberries are great

The luscious red strawberries soon to be ready for picking will be ideal for many things, including jams and drinks. Yes, drinks.

You've been tasting the winter berries for the past few months in shortcakes, pies, parfaits, puddings and even breakfast muffins. But, now is the time to raise your glass to fresh strawberries pureed for delectable drinking. You can have drinks that are low-calorie, some extra nourishing for a sustaining breakfast and some satisfying snacks.

But don't forget to save some, or a lot, of those fresh berries to make into jams. And don't fret about cooking in the June heat, several of these jam recipes require no cooking at all.

STRAWBERRY MORNING DRINK

- 1 pint strawberries
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup orange juice
- 2 eggs

Hull and slice strawberries (makes about 2 cups). Place in the container of an electric blender along with milk, orange juice and eggs. Blend until smooth stopping occasionally to scrape down the sides. Pour into glasses garnished with orange slices, if desired.

YIELD: 4 portions (about 5 cups)

STRAWBERRY PINEAPPLE SHAKE

- 1 pint strawberries
- 1 can (20 ounces) pineapple chunks
- 1 cup milk, divided

Reserve 4 strawberries and 4 pineapple chunks for garnish. Hull remaining strawberries and slice (makes about 1 1/2 cups). Drain pineapple. Place half of the strawberries and pineapple chunks in the container of an electric blender; add 1/2 cup of the milk. Blend until smooth stopping blender occasionally to scrape down the sides. Pour into 2 tall glasses. Repeat. Place a strawberry and a pineapple chunk on each of 4 bamboo skewers. Use to garnish drinks.

YIELD: 4 portions (about 5 cups)

FRESH STRAWBERRY SODA

- 1 pint strawberries
- 1/2 cup coconut cream
- 1/2 cup light rum
- 2 1/2 cups crushed ice

Reserve 4 strawberries for garnish; set aside. Hull and slice remaining strawberries (makes about 1 1/2 cups). Place in the container of an electric blender. Blend until smooth, stopping occasionally to scrape down the sides of containers. Add coconut cream, rum and crushed ice; blend until smooth. Pour into tall glasses. Garnish each glass with a reserved strawberry, cut to resemble a fan, if desired.

YIELD: 4 portions

THIS RECIPE for Strawberry Jam is a breeze to make because you don't have to cook it! It's one of the easy no-cook freezer jams that you can store for 6 months in reusable plastic containers.

This jam is made with the added help of liquid fruit pectin that is conveniently pre-measured in foil pouches. Pectin is the natural ingredient in fruit that helps assure the jam will set and also helps capture fruit flavor and color. Since natural fruit pectin decreases as fruit ripens — and you'll want to use only the ripest, tastiest strawberries — you need to give nature a helping hand to create a full-flavored jam.

STRAWBERRY JAM (uncooked)

- 1 3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
- 4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
- 2 tsp lemon juice
- 1 pouch liquid fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 quart strawberries. Measure 1 3/4 cups into large bowl or pan.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4 1/2 cups or about 5 (8 fluid ounce) containers.

STRAWBERRY JAM (cooked)

- 2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
- 4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 box powdered fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 quart strawberries. Measure 2 cups into large bowl or pan.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4 3/4 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Note: Any one of the following may be added to berries before adding sugar:

- 1/4 cup dry white vermouth or sherry wine
- 1 tsp finely chopped crystallized ginger
- 1 tsp grated lemon, lime or orange rind
- 1/2 cup slivered almonds, chopped pecans, sunflower seeds or pine nuts (toasted, if desired)
- 2 tbsp orange liqueur
- 2 tsp almond extract

- ### STRAWBERRY-APRICOT JAM
- 2 cups prepared fruit (about 1/4 cup dried apricots and 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries)
  - 4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
  - 3/4 cup water
  - 1 box powdered fruit pectin

Place about 1/4 cup dried apricots in a bowl; add water to cover and let stand about 4 hours. Drain and finely chop or grind. Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 quart strawberries. Measure 2 cups into large bowl or pan. Add apricots.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 5 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

STRAWBERRY ORANGE MARMALADE

- 2 3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries, 2 medium oranges and 3/4 cup water)
- 5 1/2 cups (2 lb. 6 oz.) sugar
- 2 tsp lemon juice
- 1 pouch liquid fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries; measure 1 cup. Section 2 medium oranges, reserving peel; dice the sections and measure 1 cup. Peel off and discard about half the white membrane from orange peel; slice very thin with sharp knife or scissors. Place slivered peel and 3/4 cup water in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil; reduce heat, cover and simmer 15 minutes. Combine peel with liquid, the orange sections and strawberries in large bowl or pan.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 5 1/2 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

STRAWBERRY JAM

- 1 3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe strawberries)
- 1/2 tsp lime rind, grated
- 4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
- 2 tsp lime juice
- 1 pouch liquid fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 quart strawberries. Measure 1 3/4 cups into large bowl or pan. Add lime rind.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lime juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4 1/2 cups or about 5 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

STRAWBERRY-PEACH JAM

- 1 3/4 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries and 3/4 lb. fully ripe peaches)
- 1 tsp ascorbic acid crystals (optional)
- 4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
- 2 tsp lemon juice
- 1 pouch liquid fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries. Measure 1 cup into large bowl or pan. Peel, pit and finely chop or grind about 3/4 pound peaches. Measure 3/4 cup and add to strawberries; add ascorbic acid.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Add lemon juice to fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4 3/4 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

Note: Addition of ascorbic acid helps maintain color and flavor of fruit; purchase at local drug-store.

STRAWBERRY-RHUBARB JAM

- 2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 pt. fully ripe strawberries and 1 lb. red-stalked rhubarb)
- 4 cups (1 3/4 lb.) sugar
- 3/4 cup water
- 1 box powdered fruit pectin

Stem and thoroughly crush, one layer at a time, about 1 pint strawberries. Measure 1 cup into large bowl or pan. Cut about 1 pound rhubarb into 2-inch pieces and finely grind. Measure 1 cup; add to strawberries.

Thoroughly mix sugar into fruit; let stand 10 minutes. Mix water and fruit pectin in small saucepan. Bring to a full boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Stir into fruit. Continue stirring 3 minutes. (A few sugar crystals will remain.) Ladle quickly into scalded containers, filling to within 1/2 inch of tops. Cover at once with tight lids. Let stand at room temperature 24 hours; then store in freezer. Small amounts may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to 3 weeks. Makes about 4 3/4 cups or about 6 (8 fl. oz.) containers.

BRUCE GERISH, 1977 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School, will be guest speaker at WSDP-FM annual banquet 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 5, in Plymouth Salem cafeteria.

Bruce is a morning radio personality on WNIC-FM's "Harper & Company" and a popular Detroit-area nightclub performer. Before going to WNIC, he worked with Dick Purton on WCZY-FM. He is best known for his impressions of famous Detroit sports personalities, especially Al Kaline, George Kell and Mel Farr.

Bruce began his broadcasting career at WSDP-FM, the radio station owned by the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

"It's a pleasure to have a former WSDP staffer become successful in the Detroit radio market and return to share his experiences with our current student staff. Bruce is a special person and talent, who has always had the ability to entertain," said Andrew Melin, WSDP station manager.

The station will award its first scholarship at the banquet.

IF YOU SPOT a familiar figure strolling around town, taking in the sights or consuming an ice cream cone, your first reaction may be, "No, it couldn't be, but it sure looks like him."

You were right. It is Jeffrey Bruce.

He's been in temporary residence in Plymouth while studying his lines for the Birmingham Theater production of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum." Jeffrey has the role of Pseudilus, the part Zero Mostel made famous in the Broadway production of the Stephan Sondheim musical.

The Birmingham Theater will present two summer productions and is leading off with "Forum." Jeffrey's local fans are hoping for a special theater party in July to see him perform.

He'll be on Kelly & Company Tuesday, June 25.

Born and raised on Long Island, N.Y., the former makeup artist to the stars, is already a fan of Plymouth, Mich. He was checking out Plymouth Historical Museum hours, hoping to get in sometime over the weekend.

THREE LOCAL residents have been inducted into Sigma Theta Tau, the national honor society of nursing. They are among the 49 new members of Eastern Michigan University's Eta Rho chapter of the honor society, inducted at an annual ceremony at Holiday Inn East in Ann Arbor.

Nancy Palmer and Vicki Petrosky of Canton Township, and Suzanne Wallace of Plymouth are the new inductees.

Membership in the prestigious society is by invitation only. Undergraduate and graduate students, faculty and professional nurses, who have demonstrated superior scholastic, leadership and nursing achievements may be invited to join. The organization encourages and sponsors research, promotes the development of nursing leadership and supports the development of nurse scholars.

Vicki is an EMU senior, Suzanne, a junior, and Nancy was selected from the community.

MIDWEST Harmony chapter, Sweet Adelines Inc. has named Stella Denomie of Westland its "Sweet Adeline of the Year." Pat Daubenmeir of Canton was runner-up for the honor.

Selection is based on contributions in time, talent and energy in support of the chapter's musical and administrative activities for the 1984-85 season.

MARY ELLEN Kenyon, with 5,590 points, had high score at Thursday's party bridge games at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Judy Guideau came in second with 5,470. There were nine full tables in play.

It was Mary Ellen's first time out with the group since she and Bob returned from Texas, where they spent the winter.

She said, "We had a lot of rain, but we didn't have to shovel it."

Off they go on the 50-yard dash.

Sixth-grader Stephanie Smith competes in the waddle ball event.

Competition is friendly at elementary field day

June is here and the end/beginning is in sight for more than 16,000 students in the Plymouth-Canton schools. School days dwindle down and the wonder of summer vacation stretches ahead.

For elementary school children, the end of the 1984-85 school year is marked with special days — field days, special assemblies. Wrap-up events at Nellie Bird School last week included two field days and an operetta. The kindergarten presented a musical "Hansel and Gretel." Grades 1-3 had their field day Tuesday and grades 4-6 had theirs on Wednesday.

Each of the young athletes will receive a certificate of participation and ribbons will be presented to those who placed in the events. The presentations will be made at a special assembly along with awards for attendance, citizenship and other deserving accomplishments.

Principal Sam Beressi said the annual events are a culmination of the skills learned in phys ed classes during the school year.

"It's a fun day and the students enjoy themselves. They display good sportsmanship, competing and cheering each other on," he said.

The Bird Parent Teacher Organization adds a final happy note with Popsicle treats for everyone.

Cameon-Martz

Mr. and Mrs. William Cameon of Dearborn announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Ann, to Gary Philip Martz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martz of Beck Road, Plymouth. The bride-elect is a 1979 graduate of Edsel Ford High School. She attends Henry Ford Community College and is employed by AAA Michigan. Her fiancé graduated from Livonia Franklin High School in 1978 and is employed at St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

They plan a September wedding in St. Martha Church.

Green-Field

Dianne Elaine Green of Westland and Lance Michael Field of Plymouth plan an August wedding at St. Michael Catholic Church in Livonia. She is the daughter of Elmer and Margaret Green of Westland. He is the son of Mary Field of Plymouth. The bride-to-be graduated from Livonia Churchill High School in 1979 and from the Livonia Career Center in 1980. She is employed by Metropolitan Associates in Pediatrics in Livonia. Her fiancé is a 1979 graduate of Plymouth Salem High School and a 1984 graduate of the National Institute of Technology. He is a production supervisor with Circuits DMA of Livonia.

Bernardo-Nelles

Marcia Lynn Nelles and Thomas Michael Bernardo exchanged marriage vows June 1 in Calvary Baptist Church, Canton Township. The Revs. Jerry K. Day and David A. Hay officiated. The couple's parents are David and Janet Nelles of Devon Lane, Canton, and Thomas and Nancy Bernardo of Columbus, Ind.

The bride's white Victorian-style gown had a lacy ruffled train. She carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses, daisies, mums, ivy and matching lace. Her attendants were Susan Nelles, Debbie Miyazaki, Linda Grosan and Marla Zancofsky. They wore royal blue taffeta dresses with a sweetheart neckline and carried wicker baskets with blue flowers on a satin ribbon. The bridegroom's attendants were Mark Bernardo, Steve Adriansen, Dennis Grube and Jay Firebaugh.

After a wedding reception in the narthex of the church, the couple traveled to San Diego and Los Angeles.

The bride graduated from Grace College, Winona Lake, Ind., with an associate degree in nursing. She plans to work in an Akron hospital. Her husband graduated from Grace Seminary in Winona Lake and will be on the staff of an Akron church as youth pastor. They will live in Akron.

CARDIAC FITNESS OPEN HOUSE

An open house will be held from noon to 3 p.m. Thursday, June 6, for the new Cardiac Rehabilitation Program at the Arbor Health Building, Ann Arbor Trail at Harvey in Plymouth.

The program is designed to help those with heart problems or with a high potential for such problems improve their cardiovascular fitness under close medical supervision. A physician's referral is required to participate in the program. Visitors will be able to see the hydraulic exercise equipment.

DIABETIC SUPPORT

A Diabetic Support Group will begin meeting 7-8 p.m. the third Monday of each month at Oakwood Hospital Canton Center at Warren and Canton Center roads in Canton.

EMERGENCY SERVICE TALK

Catherine McAuley Health Center is sponsoring a discussion on emergency service from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Monday, June 10, at the Arbor Health Building, Ann Arbor Trail at Harvey in Plymouth.

Greg Beauchemin from Community Ambulance and Kay Corbett from the Minor Emergency Service Department of Arbor Health Building will discuss how to use these services, how paramedics are trained, what equipment is in an ambulance, and what emergency services are available at Arbor Health Building.

BLOOD PRESSURE CHECKS

Free blood-pressure checks are offered by members of the Volunteer Guild of Oakwood Hospital Canton Center 6-8 p.m. each Tuesday in the main lobby of the hospital at Warren and Canton Center Roads in Canton.

PROGRAM ON STROKES

A free program on health habits which can lead to the prevention of strokes will be presented by Catherine McAuley Health Center from 1:30-2:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 11, at Royal Holiday Mobile Home Park, 39500 Warren, Canton. The program will be presented by health professionals from the emergency department at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor. The program will focus on recognizing the symptoms of a stroke, prevention techniques and diagnostic procedures.

PROGRAM ON BACK

"The Back School" will be presented at 7 p.m. Tuesday, June 11, by Catherine McAuley Health Center in the Education Center. The program is for people who have lower back pain and would like to learn simple techniques for relieving the pain and reducing the chances of injury in the future. The class is open to anyone, but participants must receive a referral from a physician. For information, call 572-3675.

CPR CLASS

CPR Heart Saver classes are taught the second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. in Oakwood Hospital Canton Center, Warren at Canton Center Road. This course covers one-person CPR on an adult, and what to do for a person with an obstructed airway.

ANOREXIA OR BULIMIA

A support group for persons with anorexia or bulimia is being organized at the Plymouth-Canton Mental Health Service, a unit of the Catherine McAuley Health Center and Mercywood Hospital at the Arbor Health Building, 990 W. Ann Arbor Trail at Harvey in Plymouth. Call Bob Hall at 459-6580. Evening sessions, limited space for about 6-8 members, minimum fee, and convenient parking.

STROKE PREVENTION

Catherine McAuley Health Center will present a free program on the prevention of strokes from 10:15 to 11 a.m. Wednesday, June 12, at Tonquish Creek Manor, 1160 Sheridan, Plymouth. The program will be presented by health care professionals from the emergency department of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. The program will be on recognizing the symptoms of a stroke, prevention and diagnosis procedures.

CRISIS COUNSELING

If you want help in solving a problem, are looking for a referral, or need information about drugs or alcohol, counselors at Turning Point Counseling and Crisis Intervention Center can help you. Counselors are available 6:30-10:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Other hours are available by appointment. Phone 455-4900.

Turning Point is a non-profit community service of Growth Works Inc. which offers crisis intervention and counseling.

COUNSELING & SELF-ESTEEM

Individual counseling and support groups are available on an ongoing basis to deal with lifestyle changes, depression, low self-confidence, assertiveness, divorce, job changes, and general anxiety. Persons can work with these issues individually or in groups. Major insurance coverages are accepted. Counseling and groups are run by an experienced and state-licensed social worker. Call Plymouth-Canton Mental Health Services at 459-6580 before 5 p.m. and ask for Sandy Prochazka.

HOME HEALTH AIDE

Prompted by an increasing need in the community for home health care services, the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross is offering a new course titled Home Health Aide.

The course will train individuals in the skills needed for employment as a home health aide with an agency specializing in home health care. The first class will begin June 24. The 80-hour course will require four hours of class participation five days a week for four weeks. The course fee is $125 per person. For information or to register, phone 494-2875 or 494-2876.

'TELE-CARE'

Senior citizens in Plymouth-Canton may participate in a "Tele-Care" program in which telephone contact is made daily with senior citizens to check on their well-being. For more information, Canton residents may call 397-1000, Ext. 278, and Plymouth residents may call 455-3840, Ext. 37, or 453-2671 at Plymouth Township Hall.

A support group for men and women who have suffered a heart attack will be held once a month at Oakwood Hospital's Canton Center, 7300 Canton Center Road. The group will meet 7-9 p.m. the third Thursday of each month. There will be a $2 fee per session.

Group members will have the opportunity to meet with others who have had an experience similar to their own, and who are facing the lifestyle changes necessary after a heart attack. For further information, call 459-7030.

OAKWOOD VOLUNTEER GUILD

The Volunteer Guild at Oakwood Hospital Canton Center continues to offer free blood pressure checks 6-8 p.m. Tuesdays at the hospital, 7300 Canton Center Road at Warren.

ANOREXIA AND BULIMIA

An anorexia and bulimia support group meets 7:30-9:30 p.m. each Monday in Classroom 8 of the Education Center, St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. The purpose is to offer support, encouragement and information to both supporters and sufferers of anorexia and bulimia.

MALE SELF-HELP GROUP

Recovery of Male Potency is an educational self-help group to provide information and support for men who are candidates for, or already have, penile implants. The group is being coordinated by nurse Cindy Meredith of Plymouth, patient education instructor, and meets at 7:30 p.m. the first Wednesday of each month at the Grace Hospital branch, 18700 Meyers, Detroit. The group believes many men are experiencing physical impotency, but do not know where to turn for help. The sessions are free and open to all candidates, men with implants and their partners.

RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Adult Red Cross volunteers are needed at St. Mary Hospital, Levan and Five Mile, Livonia. Day and evening hours are available for anyone interested in helping hospital personnel and patients. For information, call the Red Cross at 422-2787.

HANDICAPPERS' HANDBOOK

The Metropolitan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, an organization serving the disabled for 47 years, has just completed the third printing of its Handicappers' Handbook. The 53-page booklet serves the disabled by providing information on where to go and who to contact on such diverse topics as government aid, camps, employment, orthopedic shoes, and many others. The free handbook can be obtained by contacting: Metropolitan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 1127 Whittier, Grosse Pointe Park 48230. Phone: 881-4278.

Auxiliary installs board

Newly-elected officers of Mayflower-Lt. Gamble Auxiliary 6695 Veterans of Foreign Wars were installed recently. Alice Fisher, a past president of the auxiliary, was installing officer.

Myrtle Hurson is the new president. Serving with her are Caroline VanGorder, senior vice president; Lorraine Nelson, junior vice president; Eileen Williams, treasurer; Veneta Hornbeck, secretary; Grace Burley, chaplain; Ruth Salisbury, conductress; Joan Pankow, guard; Edna Statezni, Mildred Drake and Geraldine Townsend, trustees, and Evelyn Stewart, patriotic instructor.

A light buffet was served to more than 100 members and guests after the installation ceremonies.

Doggedly factual

Here are some interesting facts about humans' favorite companion, the dog:

- The Tahitian bear dog is the rarest breed of dog, with only five known examples surviving. The dogs were formerly used for hunting big game by the Tahitian Indians of western Canada.

- The Yorkshire terrier, the Chihuahua and the toy poodle are the smallest breeds of dog. Miniature versions have been known to weigh less than 16 ounces in adulthood.

Arthritis Today

Joseph J. Weiss, M.D. Rheumatology

20317 Farmington Road Livonia, Michigan 48152 Phone: 478-7860

WHEN IS SURGERY NEEDED?

Probably you are aware of the development, over the last ten years, of practical artificial joints, particularly for the hip, knee and hand. You may have wondered why there isn't more use of these replacement joints for people with arthritis who don't respond to medicine?

One of the reasons is that joint replacement surgery can fail. At times, the artificial joint doesn't stay in place and can't take the stress the body puts upon it. The result for the patient is more pain and less mobility after surgery than before it was undertaken. Another problem is infection at the site of the surgery. This complication may necessitate removal of the artificial joint, an obviously undesirable result.

Because of these surgical hazards, your doctor likely will want to treat you medically for as long as possible. Surgery is indicated when joint use becomes too limited to be practical, or limb pain becomes too great to bear.

Chevy Chase is I.M. Fletcher, an investigative reporter working undercover, who gets an offer to commit murder, in "Fletch."

the movies

Dan Greenberg

Chevy Chase keeps the laughs coming as spy-guy Fletch

"Fletch" is a sketch but only when Chevy Chase is on screen. His appearance, manner and delivery make the film fun. That's about all to be said for it, however.

I.M. "Fletch" Fletcher (Chase) is a smart-aleck, wisecracking, investigative reporter. As "Fletch" opens, he's undercover, on the beach, tracking a big drug story.

Alan Stanwyck (Tim Matheson), wealthy airline executive, spots Fletch on the beach as a bum and offers him $1,000 to listen to a proposition. Stanwyck claims he's dying of cancer, suicide will cancel his insurance policies and his only solution is to be murdered.

Stanwyck offers Fletch $50,000 to do the job. Well, now, that old come-on is just that, an old one. The entire plot is hackneyed — crooked police chief, murky background for strange business deals, harried, hard-nosed editor, cute gal in research, and so on.

FLETCH WINDS HIS WAY through the maze of relationships, which comprise this story of deceit and deception, with characteristic charm. Chase's flow of sharp, satiric remarks and his inventive impersonations to gain information are humorous and entertaining. But one actor can't carry the entire production.

Aside from Chase, everybody else is just there. Each time Chase leaves the screen, the pace falters and the film goes leaden, weighted down by the heavies (in several senses of the term).

Police Chief Karlin (Joe Don Baker), his beefy detectives (Tony Longo and James Avery), and Fat Sam (George Wendt), the chief's chief drug dealer on the beach, all have no sparkle, grace or real villainy.

Other sub-plots and potentially comic sequences also falter. There is great opportunity for a running gag with Fletch charging excessive luncheons to Mr. Underhill (William Traylor), at the club and over-tipping the waiter (Rick Garcia). But the comic potential is limited to Underhill's hammering on the door, the waiter saying, "Thank you," and Chase's wisecracks.

Stanwyck's parents, Velma and Marvin (Penny Santon and Robert Sorelli), play stereotyped country bumpkins in one dimension — dull. They are easy pushovers for the clever Fletch and surrender an important clue with no real effort on Fletch's part.

AT THIS POINT, the ease with which Fletch extricates himself from impossible situations, or the ease with which he learns key facts, is no longer funny.

Similarly, with the romantic interest, Gail Stanwyck (Dana Wheeler-Nicholson), wife of Alan, the executive. She's very attractive, a competent actress, but just another foil for Fletch's comments and action.

The film's unrealized potential and unfinished quality is typified two-thirds of the way through when Fletch lights a cigarette while prowling an empty house looking for clues. It is an inappropriate moment for a cigarette and a jarring inconsistency. Why does he take up the habit so late in the game?

The unrealized comic potentials and the comedy-suspense mix result in an unbalanced production with faltering pace. Chase is a comic, and a very good one at that. As Fletch he tries to combine his comedy with the suspense and fast-action investigation characteristic of Bogart films. Bogart had a similar sardonic view, with the clipped, sarcastic remarks that Chase delivers so well.

But Bogart was action with a sardonic view and Chase is comedy. The two don't mix well because you're never sure whether it's going to be a pie or a bullet in the face.

Nonetheless, Chase is fun to watch and his lines are laughs, so you won't be totally disappointed with "Fletch."

Dana Wheeler-Nicholson is Gail Stanwyck, wife of the man who hires Fletch to kill him.

Greatness inspired barbecued ribs

Alexander the Great, the Westland restaurant that has been in business for some eight years, is being remodeled, in anticipation of a new shopping center going in nearby.

Walter Stevanovich, co-owner of the restaurant with his son-in-law, Tom Tomovski, said Alexander the Great at 34733 Warren, a half-block east of Wayne Road, is putting in new windows, new ceiling and new shrubbery.

"We want to upgrade the place," he said. "Right now, we have seating for 130. We want to increase to another 50 seats and expect to be done by October."

The menu at Alexander the Great features "Great BBQ." A whole slab of barbecued ribs is $10.95, a half slab is $8.25. Stevanovich said the restaurant buys and serves 3,000 pounds of ribs each week. "By the end of the year, we plan to increase to 5,000 pounds."

ASKED WHAT is the secret of great ribs, he replied, "The secret is in the sauce. That's a house secret. If I told you what's in it, it wouldn't be a secret. We make it from scratch."

Stevanovich, who was born in Yugoslavia, said he first learned how to barbecue "from my grandfather, when I was a child, in the old country." His grandfather came to the United States and had a barbecue place in St. Louis in the early 1900s. Stevanovich lived in Canada, where he had a restaurant called the Cozy Corner for a couple of years in Quebec, before coming to Detroit. He owned a bakery in Detroit, the Oakwood, and then Bartz's in Dearborn, before opening his present restaurant.

He named his restaurant after Alexander the Great because, "My nationality is Macedonian, and Alexander the Great was the king of the Macedonians, 400 years before Christ."

Besides ribs and barbecued chicken, the restaurant offers a wide selection of entrees, including steak, beef-kabob, liver, spaghetti and seafood. A Macedonian salad is on the menu.

LUNCHEON OFFERINGS, on a separate portion of the menu, include a variety of sandwiches, and entrees such as veal parmigiana and icelandic cod filets.

Beer, wine and cocktails are served.

Comedian Bob Springfield has been entertaining at Alexander the Great's since October. His show begins at 9 p.m. Starting in mid-June, he also will perform Wednesdays-Thursdays.

Stevanovich's two sons, Dan and Mickey, both cook in the restaurant and his daughter, Pauline Tomovski, is hostess and waitress and handles the payroll.

Alexander the Great is open at 11 a.m. for lunch and stays open till 2 a.m., seven days a week.

Harrison bursts Canton's 'A' bubble

By Tom Panzenhagen
staff writer

You gotta have heart, and Farmington Harrison had plenty as they swept past North Farmington and Plymouth Canton to claim the Class A district baseball title.

The Hawks — 15-10 on the season — stormed by North Farmington, 11-1, in the semifinals Saturday morning, then toughed out a 6-3 win over Plymouth Canton in the championship game that afternoon. They now advance to the regionals June 8 at Plymouth Canton against Livonia Stevenson.

Pitcher Mike Inch, 7-2, won both games for Harrison, hurling three innings and allowing one run on one hit in the opener, then going the distance in game two, giving up three runs and scattering eight hits.

"I was ready to pull him (Inch) probably five times," Harrison coach John Herrington said. "But he has so much heart that I had to go with him."

HERRINGTON also credited the Warriors' hearty defense. "They played real well, and that play in the third may have turned the game around," he said.

With one out in the third inning and Canton's Chris Sisler on first, Inch struck out second baseman Tom Kenyon, and Warrior catcher Mike Colovos cut down Sisler trying to steal second.

In the opening inning, Harrison first baseman Vince Enright and third baseman Dan Murray turned diving stops on hard grounders into put-outs that kept leadoff hitter Sisler from scoring.

And in the fifth inning — with two out, the bases loaded and the Warriors up 6-3 — Murray robbed Kenyon of extra bases with a leaping grab of a line drive that was headed into the left field corner.

The Chiefs weren't discouraged, though, and again loaded the bases in the seventh inning before Inch ended the drama by getting Jeff Lyle to pop out to second baseman Ken George for the final out of the game.

FOR CANTON — 23-6 overall — it was a heartbreaking and anticlimactic defeat following their heart-stopping, come-from-behind win in the semifinal matchup against host Walled Lake Western.

Western's Dan Gabriele — considered a top pro pitching prospect — and the Chiefs' Mark Coburn hooked up in a pitchers' duel that saw Coburn ahead in stats but Canton trailing 3-1 going into the seventh inning.

To that point, Coburn had allowed two hits while striking out eight. Fastballer Gabriele had yielded six hits and struck out 10.

In the seventh, Gabriele retired the first two Canton batters, then walked Kenyon, Mark Stevens (who had homered in the sixth) and Dwayne Bennett, loading the bases for Pete Mormon.

The count on Mormon went to 2-and-2 before the slender first baseman drilled a low hard one on one hop to the fence in left-center field, scoring all three base runners for a 4-3 Canton lead.

Coburn would have gotten the side in order in the bottom of the seventh but, with two outs, he flubbed a tapper back to mound, allowing Western's number nine hitter, Dave O'Kragly, to reach first.

It turned out most appropriately, though, because the last out of the game belonged to hitting hero Mormon, who pulled in a soft liner off the bat of Western's Danny Atwell to wrap up the win.

"YOU COULDN'T ask for more in a comeback," Canton coach Fred Crissey said. "We battled back — that was the difference in the game. And we stopped striking out after the first three innings."

Gabriele finished the game with 11 strike outs — only four of which came after the third inning.

Crissey said Mormon had the hit sign in the seventh, even though Gabriele had walked the last three batters. "I couldn't hold him (Mormon) in a situation like that. I felt he might come in with a pitch."

Mormon said: "I was nervous but confident that I could make contact if I swung at strikes and laid off the balls." He called the game winner his biggest hit of the year.

Western coach Chuck Apap said, "There's no doubt he (Gabriele) got tired at the end, but I don't want to take anything away from the Canton kids. Sometimes that last out is hard to get. We needed one more and we couldn't get it."

JOHN LENDERS started the championship game for Canton, but his selection of off-speed, sidearm and three-quarters pitches proved no mystery to Harrison hitters.

Brian Smolinski — who batted 430 during the regular season but struck out three times in game one — led off with a double on a towering fly ball that the left fielder misjudged.

He scored when John Miller lashed a hanging curve ball over the center fielder's head for a triple. Miller rode home when cleanup man Mike Colovos sent a change-up over the left field fence, making it 3-0 Harrison.

Later in the first, Inch singled and went to second on a wild pitch, then scored on Shawn Brennan's pop double into shallow right-center field.

Those were all the runs Harrison eventually needed, but they picked up two more on a Smolinski home run off Lenders in the fourth, making it 6-3 Harrison.

Canton scored its three runs in the fourth on three walks, a fielder's choice where everyone was safe and key singles by Bennett and Tony Aiken. They came close to breaking the game open until Harrison third baseman Murray took the hit away from Kenyon.

MIKE CLARK pitched exceptionally well in relief of Lenders, allowing no runs after coming in with bases loaded and no one out in the fifth inning and setting down the side in order in the sixth.

Crissey said he doesn't regret not going to Clark earlier.

"I wouldn't have done anything differently at all. John (Lenders) was 4-0 for us at the end of the year and did an outstanding job, and he deserved to be in there."

"We may have shot our wad emotionally in the first game. It was difficult for us to get back into the second game. I think we tended to lay back just a bit," Crissey said.

Herrington wouldn't predict how Harrison may fare in the regionals but said, "Anything can happen in the state tourney, but we can't expect Inch to win it all for us. The key will be whether we can come up with a second pitcher along the way."

Losing pitcher John Lenders (above left) was removed from the game after giving up six runs to eventual Class A winner Harrison. ### Salem star sets a pair of WLAA records

By Brad Emons
staff writer

It didn't take long for the Livonia Churchill boys track get back into the winners circle.

The Chargers, who relinquished their stranglehold on league track titles last year to Plymouth Salem, regained first place at the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) meet, Wednesday at home.

It was Churchill's second crown in three years since the WLAA was formed. It was also the Chargers' 13th league title in 14 years, dating back to the old Western Six circuit.

Churchill took a big lead in the field events and then held off Farmington in the 10-school event, 118-116. Defending champion Salem was a distant third with 82 points (see statistics).

"The kids remember that last year was our first loss in 12 conference meets," said Churchill coach Fred Price. "They had a score to settle and our 21 seniors wanted to leave on top."

Five league records were shattered, including two by Salem's Mike White. He won the long jump with a leap of 22 feet, 8 1/4 inches and later captured the 300-meter low hurdles with a record time of 38.3. He might have set a new WLAA mark in the 110 highs, but tripped and did not place.

CHURCHILL, meanwhile, piled up its share of firsts to go along with depth.

Dave Mize defended both of his titles in the shot put (51-3) and the discus (163-3). His toss in the discus established a new WLAA record.

Teammate Mike Meehan, meanwhile, topped his own record by three inches in the high jump, leaping 6-6.

Other Churchill winners included Doug Plachta in the 1,600 run (4:28.0) and Gordon Babcock in the 110 hurdles (15.4). The Chargers also got a big boost when its 800 relay team of Babcock, Eric Williams, Dave Gluth and Ernie Healy took first with season team best of 1:32.7. Churchill was also second in the 3,200 and 1,600 relays.

"For us to win the 800 relay with Farmington and Salem having better times going in was a plus," Price said. "And we got another big boost in the 3,200 relay."

"Nobody had bad performances. I think the kids were keyed for the meet and they were well rested. I gave them four days off and told them to work a couple of times on their own. Evidently they did that or rest was the key. We were mentally sharp and we ran from the heart."

FARMINGTON, which lost a close dual to Churchill earlier in the season, captured four first places.

Recording individual firsts for the Falcons were Nathan Case, 100 dash, 11.7; Mike Forge, 400 dash, 51.5; and Chris Inch, 3,200 run, 9:45.7. Farmington's 1,600 relay team of Forge, Dave Cunningham, Mike Kramer and Al Stebbins finished first with a time of 3:28.6.

In addition to White's pair of firsts, Salem's Craig Morton took the 200 dash in 23.0.

Plymouth Canton, a surprising fourth in the team standings with 55 points, received a strong showing from its 400 relay squad of Tom Bowie, Matt Flower, Pat McGow and James Ratliff, who crossed the line first in 44.6.

Livonia Bentley, fifth in the team standings with 47 points, rode the strong middle distance running of Mike McCormick. The senior standout set a league record in the 800 run, edging Farmington's Al Stebbins by a one-tenth of a second with a time of 1:55.7.

McCORMICK also anchored the Bulldogs to a first place finish in the 3,200 relay, teaming up with Todd Walker, Gregg Brown and Jim Maddox for a time of 8:17.0.

In the pole vault, Farmington Harrison's John Waak cleared an Observer-land best at 13-4.

Rich Piwko of Plymouth Salem makes an attempt in the pole vault during Wednesday's Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) boys track meet.

Chief challenge falls short

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Most expected the Western Lakes Activities Association girls track and field meet Wednesday to boil down to a Plymouth Canton-Plymouth Salem duel. After all, Canton won the Western Division and Salem the Lakes Division during the WLAA dual meet season.

And, in fact, Canton and Salem had quite a battle at the league meet Wednesday — but the battle ended up being for second place.

Walled Lake Western, a mild surprise, won the meet scoring 80 points. Canton and Northville (a major surprise) pulled in second with 76 points each. Salem took fourth with 71.

"We gave it a good shot," said Canton coach Bob Richardson. "The races were close. We were nipped at the string a couple of times."

WESTERN SCORED in all but three events, winning the 100-meter dash, 400 relay and the 200 dash. Michelle Jablonski figured in 30 of the 80 points winning the 100 (12.89), the 200 (29.93) and anchoring the 400 relay (51.8).

Northville was paced by Cindy Panowicz who captured the 100 intermediate hurdles (15.0), 300 low hurdles (44.03, tying her own league mark) and anchored the 800 relay (1:46.1 a league record). Karen Stinson won the 400 (1:00.7).

Canton scored points in all but five events and established three school records and a meet record. Angie Miller,

girls track

Marie Jarosz, Rachel Mann and Karen Boluch went 9:59.4 in the 3,200 relay, bettering Farmington Harrison's league mark of 10:02.0 set last year.

Miller, a freshman, won the high jump with a 5-0.

Canton, as Richardson said, was indeed nipped at the wire:

- In the mile, Salem's Denise Durrer crossed first with a 5:22.8. Churchill's Karen Kantor and Canton's Jarosz then crossed at 5:24.1 — Kantor's lunge earned second place.

- In the 200, Kim Bennett finished .07 behind Jablonski.

- In the 800 relay, Canton missed second place by 1.

- In the 1,600 relay, Canton lost to Northville at the string by .01.

"WHEN YOU come that close, and you were favored coming in, it's a bit disappointing," Richardson said. "But, there's been a lot more satisfaction than disappointment this season."

Durrer was a double winner for Salem. The talented senior won the 800 run (2:22.8) as well as the 1,600. Heidi Dupret placed second in the 800 (2:26.0).

Karen Marciniak earned Salem 10 first-place points with a 112-4½ toss in the discus. Kristen Hostynski placed second in the 100 hurdles (16.2) and third in the 300 hurdles (48.9). Other winners in the meet were: Karen Kantor, Livonia Churchill, in the

3,200 (12:12.8); Amy Rozman, Livonia Stevenson, in the long jump (15-10); Ann Lilja, Walled Lake Central, in the shot put (34-1½).

Arm-weary Wolves beaten

By C.J. Riesak
staff writer

Injuries have ruined many a fine baseball team's seasons, but seldom has a single injury caused as much damage as one did to the University of Michigan this season.

The Wolverines were the pride of the Big Ten, ranked as high as fourth in the nation. But star hurler Scott Karmieniecki went out with a sore arm, and with him went Michigan's post-season hopes.

Losing a top pitcher is devastating enough, but the timing couldn't have been worse for the Wolverines. Karmieniecki went out at the beginning of May, just prior to the Big Ten and NCAA tournaments. And in tournament play, where a team often must play four or five games in a three-day stretch, pitching depth is vital.

MICHIGAN WAS ousted from the Big Ten tournament but earned an at-large berth to the NCAAs. Asked to fill

college ports

Karmieniecki's role wreshman Mike Ignasiak, an Orchard Lake St. Mary's graduate.

Ignasiak started Mgan's regional opener May 24 against team New Orleans, a game the Verines lost 12-10 in 13 innings. It w, heartbreaking defeat; an eight-run in the ninth inning that tied the st was wasted.

Ignasiak was out de game by that time. He hurled threst 6 2/3 innings and gave up all 10 s, but only five were earned.

Michigan's forts turned sour when New Orleansred six runs in the sixth, five unead. New Orleans had the bases loadwith two out and only one run in wisecond baseman C.J. Beshke bootedground ball. That opened the gates foe Orleans.

IT PROVED to in omen of things to come. The Wolves were faced with the task of winning four straight games. They beat West Virginia 9-2, New Orleans 11-6 and Mississippi State 14-6, but fell one win shy of qualifying for the college World Series when they lost to Mississippi State in the finals 19-8. Michigan finished with a 55-10 mark, the most wins in school history.

A staff of tired arms was the Wolverines downfall. Ignasiak came back on one day of rest to earn a victory in Michigan's win over Mississippi State. The righthander tossed the final seven innings in relief, allowing one run, four hits and eight walks.

Ignasiak finished the season with a 9-2 record, including two complete-game shutouts and four saves. His 3.43 earned run average was best among regular pitchers, and his performance earned him the Geoff Zahn Award as the Wolverines best pitcher.

BESHKE, A SENIOR team co-captain and a Birmingham Seaholm graduate, enjoyed a spectacular season but a mediocre tournament. He had two hits and drove in a run in Michigan's win over New Orleans and had a hit, scored two runs and collected the game-winning RBI against Mississippi State.

But for the tournament, Beshke went four-for-20 and committed three errors after making just three all season. He finished the season with a .361 average and 13 doubles, three triples and seven homers, 40 runs scored and 43 RBI.

A trio of other Wolverines with local ties aided Michigan's cause. Greg Everson became the team's stopper out of the bullpen, setting a team record for appearances in a season with 24. The Livonia Bentley graduate went 2-4 with a team-leading six saves and a 4.69 ERA.

A junior transfer from Michigan-DeARBORN, Everson pitched 1 2/3 innings in the Wolverines win over Mississippi State, surrendering two hits, two walks and an earned run. He also allowed two earned runs in Michigan's season-ending loss to Mississippi State.

PAUL WENSON, a sophomore from Farmington, pitched 1 2/3 innings in the Wolverines win over New Orleans and 1/2 of an inning in the loss to Mississippi State. He did not allow a run and finished the season with a 2-0 record in 22 2/3 innings with 20 strikeouts and a 6.34 ERA.

Karl Zimmerman, a junior and a Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook alumnus, had five hits in 16 trips and two RBI during the tournament, including a solo home run in the loss to Mississippi State. Zimmerman, who played the outfield most of the season, finished with a .287 average with six doubles, three triples, four homers and 19 RBI for the season.

Paul Kasper, another Orchard Lake St. Mary's grad, hurt his arm while pitching against University of Detroit April 10 and never returned. Too bad — Kasper, a sophomore, was designated to be the Wolverines long reliever. When he went out, he was 2-0 and had not given up an earned run in 12 innings.

Pitching like that is what Michigan sorely needed last weekend.

Observer champ is top Publix tourney qualifier

Geralyn Repasky earned medalist honors, firing a one-over-par 73 at the regional qualifying tournament for the USGA Women's Publix Amateur event, scheduled for June 19-23 in Flanders, N.J.

Repasky's score was best among 90 golfers at the qualifying tournament at Falkwood Shores in Howell. The top eight qualified for the national tourney.

Repasky, the defending Observerland's women's titlist, has finished her sophomore year at Bowling Green State, where she was voted the Most Valuable Performer on the women's golf team.

RU rips North in finale

Redford Union closed out its North-west Suburban League (NSL) baseball schedule Wednesday with a 10-7 victory over visiting North Farmington.

The Panthers, who claimed third place with the win, used three different pitchers with Pat Miller getting credit for the victory.

Miller, who relieved Dennis Mattison, retired eight of the final nine batters he faced.

Mattison gave up three runs in two innings of work. Starter Jeff Stroble gave up four in the first inning as the Raiders jumped out to a 4-0 lead.

RU got a run back in the second and then exploded for eight runs off North starter and loser Bob Chwalk in the third.

Dennis Bushart led the RU offensive attack with two hits and two RBI. Kevin Moore, Bill McCraith and Tony Leo also added two hits each.

Catcher Mike Rudin collected two hits for North, which finished league play at 4-6. The Raiders are 12-10 overall.

RU increased its record to 5-5 and 15-8.

PLYMOUTH SALEM HIGH SCHOOL

1985 LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Chief challenge falls short

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Most expected the Western Lakes Activities Association girls track and field meet Wednesday to boil down to a Plymouth Canton-Plymouth Salem duel. After all, Canton won the Western Division and Salem the Lakes Division during the WLA dual meet season.

And, in fact, Canton and Salem had quite a battle at the league meet Wednesday — but the battle ended up being for second place.

Walled Lake Western, a mild surprise, won the meet scoring 80 points. Canton and Northville (a major surprise) pulled in second with 76 points each. Salem took fourth with 71.

"We gave it a good shot," said Canton coach Bob Richardson. "The races were close. We were nipped at the string a couple of times."

WESTERN SCORED in all but three events, winning the 100-meter dash, 400 relay and the 200 dash. Michelle Jablonski figured in 30 of the 80 points winning the 100 (12.89), the 200 (29.93) and anchoring the 400 relay (51.8).

Northville was paced by Cindy Panowicz who captured the 100 intermediate hurdles (15.0), 300 low hurdles (44.03, tying her own league mark) and anchored the 800 relay (1:46.1 a league record). Karen Stinson won the 400 (1:00.7).

Canton scored points in all but five events and established three school records and a meet record. Angie Miller,

girls track

Marie Jarosz, Rachel Mann and Karen Boluch went 9:59.4 in the 3,200 relay, bettering Farmington Harrison's league mark of 10:02.0 set last year.

Miller, a freshman, won the high jump with a 5-0.

Canton, as Richardson said, was indeed nipped at the wire:

● In the mile, Salem's Denise Durrer crossed first with a 5:22.8. Churchill's Karen Kantor and Canton's Jarosz then crossed at 5:24.1 — Kantor's lunge earned second place.

● In the 200, Kim Bennett finished .07 behind Jablonski.

● In the 800 relay, Canton missed second place by .1.

● In the 1,600 relay, Canton lost to Northville at the string by .01.

"WHEN YOU come that close, and you were favored coming in, it's a bit disappointing," Richardson said. "But, there's been a lot more satisfaction than disappointment this season."

Durrer was a double winner for Salem. The talented senior won the 800 run (2:22.8) as well as the 1,600. Heidi Dupret placed second in the 800 (2:26.0).

Karen Marciniak earned Salem 10 first-place points with a 112-4½ toss in the discus. Kristen Hostynski placed second in the 100 hurdles (16.2) and third in the 300 hurdles (48.9). Other winners in the meet were, Karen Kantor, Livonia Churchill, in the

3,200 (12:12.8); Amy Rozman, Livonia Stevenson, in the long jump (15-10); Ann Lilja, Walled Lake Central, in the shot put (34-1½).

Arm-weary Wolves beaten

By C.J. Rieak
staff writer

Injuries have ruined many a fine baseball team's seasons, but seldom has a single injury caused as much damage as one did to the University of Michigan this season.

The Wolverines were the pride of the Big Ten, ranked as high as fourth in the nation. But star hurler Scott Kamieniecki went down with a sore arm, and with him went Michigan's post-season hopes.

Losing a top pitcher is devastating enough, but the timing couldn't have been worse for the Wolverines. Kamieniecki went out at the beginning of May, just prior to the Big Ten and NCAA tournaments. And in tournament play, where a team often must play four or five games in a three-day stretch, pitching depth is vital.

MICHIGAN WAS ousted from the Big Ten tournament but earned an at-large berth to the NCAAs. Asked to fill

college sports

Kamieniecki's role was freshman Mike Ignasiak, an Orchard Lake St. Mary's graduate.

Ignasiak started Michigan's regional opener May 24 against host team New Orleans, a game the Wolverines lost 12-10 in 13 innings. It was a heartbreaking defeat; an eight-run rally in the ninth inning that tied the score was wasted.

Ignasiak was out of the game by that time. He hurled the first 6 2/3 innings and gave up all 10 runs, but only five were earned.

Michigan's fortunes turned sour when New Orleans scored six runs in the sixth, five unearned. New Orleans had the bases loaded with two out and only one run in when second baseman C.J. Beshke booted a ground ball. That opened the gates for New Orleans.

IT PROVED to be an omen of things to come. The Wolverines were faced with the task of winning four straight games. They beat West Virginia 9-2, New Orleans 11-6 and Mississippi State 14-6, but fell one win shy of qualifying for the college World Series when they lost to Mississippi State in the finals 19-8. Michigan finished with a 55-10 mark, the most wins in school history.

A staff of tired arms was the Wolverines downfall. Ignasiak came back on one day of rest to earn a victory in Michigan's win over Mississippi State. The righthander tossed the final seven innings in relief, allowing one run, four hits and eight walks.

Ignasiak finished the season with a 9-2 record, including two complete-game shutouts and four saves. His 3.43 earned run average was best among regular pitchers, and his performance earned him the Geoff Zahn Award as the Wolverines' best pitcher.

BESHKE, A SENIOR team co-captain and a Birmingham Seaholm graduate, enjoyed a spectacular season but a mediocre tournament. He had two hits and drove in a run in Michigan's win over New Orleans and had a hit, scored two runs and collected the game-winning RBI against Mississippi State.

But for the tournament, Beshke went four-for-20 and committed three errors after making just three all season. He finished the season with a .361 average and 13 doubles, three triples and seven homers, 40 runs scored and 43 RBI.

A trio of other Wolverines with local ties aided Michigan's cause. Greg Everson became the team's stopper out of the bullpen, setting a team record for appearances in a season with 24. The Livonia Bentley graduate went 2-4 with a team-leading six saves and a 4.69 ERA.

A junior transfer from Michigan-Dearborn, Everson pitched 1 1/3 innings in the Wolverines' win over Mississippi State, surrendering two hits, two walks and an earned run. He also allowed two earned runs in Michigan's season-ending loss to Mississippi State.

PAUL WENSON, a sophomore from Farmington, pitched 1 1/3 innings in the Wolverines' win over New Orleans and 1/2 of an inning in the loss to Mississippi State. He did not allow a run and finished the season with a 2-0 record in 22 2/3 innings with 20 strikeouts and a 6.34 ERA.

Karl Zimmerman, a junior and a Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook alumnus, had five hits in 16 trips and two RBI during the tournament, including a solo home run in the loss to Mississippi State. Zimmerman, who played the outfield most of the season, finished with a .287 average with six doubles, three triples, four homers and 19 RBI for the season.

Paul Kasper, another Orchard Lake St. Mary's grad, hurt his arm while pitching against University of Detroit April 10 and never returned. Too bad — Kasper, a sophomore, was designated to be the Wolverines' long reliever. When he went out, he was 2-0 and had not given up an earned run in 12 innings.

Pitching like that is what Michigan sorely needed last weekend.

RU rips North in finale

Redford Union closed out its Northwest Suburban League (NSL) baseball schedule Wednesday with a 10-7 victory over visiting North Farmington.

Wyandotte Roosevelt, who claimed third place win, used three different pitchers to get the job done. Pat Miller got the win, relieving Dennis Mattiello in the eighth and ninth innings.

Starter Jeff Stroble gave up three runs in two innings in the first inning as the Redford Union offense exploded for eight runs off starter and loser Bob Chwalik.

Shurtz led the RU offense with two hits and two runs. Bill McCraith and so added two hits each. Mike Rudin collected two hits, which finished league play. The Raiders are 12-10.

Redford Union improved its record to 5-5 and Wayne Memorial dropped its final Wolverine A Conference game of the season Thursday, falling to visiting Wyandotte Roosevelt.

The loss left Wayne with a 6-6 conference slate. The Zebras entered weekend action at 10-13 overall.

The Bears used the seven-hit pitching of Darryl Gilevich, who went the distance to pick up the win. He also helped himself with the bat, contributing three hits and two RBI.

Dave Linton, who worked 6 2/3 innings before giving way to Eric Shirley, took the loss.

Chris Kaske and Tim Stone each collected two hits in a losing cause. Cameron Mitchell scored twice.

WAYNE 6, TRENTON 4: On Wednesday, the Zebras traveled downriver and escaped with a two-run Wolverine A triumph at Trenton.

Senior John Bain, who gave up two runs in five innings before leaving with a bad back, picked up the victory. He was relieved Shirley.

1985 LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

Chief challenge falls short

By Chris McCoaky
staff writer

Most expected the Western Lakes Activities Association girls track and field meet Wednesday to boil down to a Plymouth-Canton-Plymouth Salem duel. After all, Canton won the Western Division and Salem the Lakes Division during the WLA dual meet season.

And, in fact, Canton and Salem had quite a battle at the league meet Wednesday — but the battle ended up being for second place.

Walled Lake Western, a mild surprise, won the meet scoring 80 points. Canton and Northville (a major surprise) pulled in second with 76 points each. Salem took fourth with 71.

"We gave it a good shot," said Canton coach Bob Richardson. "The races were close. We were nipped at the string a couple of times."

WESTERN SCORED in all but three events, winning the 100-meter dash, 400 relay and the 200 dash. Michelle Jablonski figured in 30 of the 80 points winning the 100 (12.89), the 200 (29.93) and anchoring the 400 relay (51.8).

Northville was paced by Cindy Panowicz who captured the 100 intermediate hurdles (15.0), 300 low hurdles (44.03, tying her own league mark) and anchored the 800 relay (1:46.1 a league record). Karen Stinson won the 400 (1:00.7).

Canton scored points in all but five events and established three school records and a meet record. Angie Miller,

girls track

Marie Jarosz, Rachel Mann and Karen Boluch went 9:59.4 in the 3,200 relay, bettering Farmington Harrison's league mark of 10:02.0 set last year.

Miller, a freshman, won the high jump with a 5-0.

Canton, as Richardson said, was indeed nipped at the wire:

- In the mile, Salem's Denise Durrer crossed first with a 5:22.8. Churchill's Karen Kantor and Canton's Jarosz then crossed at 5:24.1 — Kantor's lunge earned second place.

- In the 200, Kim Bennett finished .07 behind Jablonski.

- In the 800 relay, Canton missed second place by .1.

- In the 1,600 relay, Canton lost to Northville at the string by .01.

"WHEN YOU come that close, and you were favored coming in, it's a bit disappointing," Richardson said. "But, there's been a lot more satisfaction than disappointment this season."

Durrer was a double winner for Salem. The talented senior won the 800 run (2:22.8) as well as the 1,600. Heidi Dupret placed second in the 800 (2:26.0).

Karen Marciniak earned Salem 10 first-place points with a 112-4½ toss in the discus. Kristen Hostynski placed second in the 100 hurdles (16.2) and third in the 300 hurdles (48.9).

Other winners in the meet were, Karen Kantor, Livonia Churchill, in the 3,200 (12:12.8); Amy Rozman, Livonia Stevenson, in the long jump (15-10); Ann Lilja, Walled Lake Central, in the shot put (34-1½).

Arm-weary Wolves beaten

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Injuries have ruined many a fine baseball team's seasons, but seldom has a single injury caused as much damage as one did to the University of Michigan this season.

The Wolverines were the pride of the Big Ten, ranked as high as fourth in the nation. But star hurler Scott Kamieniecki went down with a sore arm, and with him went Michigan's post-season hopes.

Losing a top pitcher is devastating enough, but the timing couldn't have been worse for the Wolverines. Kamieniecki went out at the beginning of May, just prior to the Big Ten and NCAA tournaments. And in tournament play, where a team often must play four or five games in a three-day stretch, pitching depth is vital.

MICHIGAN WAS ousted from the Big Ten tournament but earned an at-large berth to the NCAAs. Asked to fill

college sports

Kamieniecki's role was freshman Mike Ignasiak, an Orchard Lake St. Mary's graduate.

Ignasiak started Michigan's regional opener May 24 against host team New Orleans, a game the Wolverines lost 12-10 in 13 innings. It was a heartbreaking defeat, an eight-run rally in the ninth inning that tied the score was wasted.

Ignasiak was out of the game by that time. He hurled the first 6 2/3 innings and gave up all 10 runs, but only five were earned.

Michigan's fortunes turned sour when New Orleans scored six runs in the sixth, five unearned. New Orleans had the bases loaded with two out and only one run in when second baseman C.J. Beshke booted a ground ball. That opened the gates for New Orleans.

IT PROVED to be an omen of things to come. The Wolverines were faced with the task of winning four straight games. They beat West Virginia 9-2, New Orleans 11-6 and Mississippi State 14-6, but fell one win shy of qualifying for the college World Series when they lost to Mississippi State in the finals 19-8. Michigan finished with a 55-10 mark, the most wins in school history.

A staff of tired arms was the Wolverines downfall. Ignasiak came back on one day of rest to earn a victory in Michigan's win over Mississippi State. The righthander tossed the final seven innings in relief, allowing one run, four hits and eight walks.

Ignasiak finished the season with a 9-2 record, including two complete-game shutouts and four saves. His 3.43 earned run average was best among regular pitchers, and his performance earned him the Geoff Zahn Award as the Wolverines' best pitcher.

BESHKE, A SENIOR team co-captain and a Birmingham Seaholm graduate, enjoyed a spectacular season but a mediocre tournament. He had two hits and drove in a run in Michigan's win over New Orleans and had a hit, scored two runs and collected the game-winning RBI against Mississippi State.

But for the tournament, Beshke went four-for-20 and committed three errors after making just three all season. He finished the season with a .361 average and 13 doubles, three triples and seven homers, 40 runs scored and 43 RBI.

A trio of other Wolverines with local ties aided Michigan's cause. Greg Everson became the team's stopper out of the bullpen, setting a team record for appearances in a season with 24. The Livonia Bentley graduate went 2-4 with a team-leading six saves and a 4.69 ERA.

A junior transfer from Michigan-Dearborn, Everson pitched 1 1/2 innings in the Wolverines win over Mississippi State, surrendering two hits, two walks and an earned run. He also allowed two earned runs in Michigan's season-ending loss to Mississippi State.

PAUL WENSON, a sophomore from Farmington, pitched 1 1/2 innings in the Wolverines win over New Orleans and 1/2 of an inning in the loss to Mississippi State. He did not allow a run and finished the season with a 2-0 record in 22 1/2 innings with 20 strikeouts and a 6.34 ERA.

Karl Zimmerman, a junior and a Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook alumnus, had five hits in 16 trips and two RBI during the tournament, including a solo home run in the loss to Mississippi State. Zimmerman, who played the outfield most of the season, finished with a .287 average with six doubles, three triples, four homers and 19 RBI for the season.

Paul Kasper, another Orchard Lake St. Mary's grad, hurt his arm while pitching against University of Detroit April 10 and never returned. Too bad — Kasper, a sophomore, was designated to be the Wolverines' long reliever. When he went out, he was 2-0 and had not given up an earned run in 12 innings.

Pitching like that is what Michigan sorely needed last weekend.

Observer champ is top Publinx tourney qualifier

Geralyn Repasky earned medalist honors, firing a one-over-par 73 at the regional qualifying tournament for the USGA Women's Publinx Amateur event, scheduled for June 19-23 in Flanders, N.J.

Repasky's score was best among 90 golfers at the qualifying tournament at Falkwood Shores in Howell. The top eight qualified for the national tourney.

Repasky, the defending Observerland's women's titlist, has finished her sophomore year at Bowling Green State, where she was voted the Most Valuable Performer on the women's golf team.

WMGA RESULTS

Ducky McEwen of Bloomfield Hills fired a 40 over the final nine holes Wednesday, but fell one stroke shy of low gross honors in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association weekly tournament.

golf

McEwen carded a 48-40 for an 88. Karin Flood of Detroit shot 43-44/87 to take first in the championship flight. Jan Bowerman of Southfield tied for best low net (77) in the championship flight.

In first flight, Jane Todd of Plymouth shot a 45-47/92 to take top low gross honors.

In second flight, Gloria Foster of Bloomfield Hills had a 49-52/101 for the second best low gross total, while Jean Eliand, also of Bloomfield Hills, tied for best low net (79).

In third flight, Troy's Marion Marten was one of four golfers to tie for second in low gross with a 57-53/110.

RU rips North in finale

Redford Union closed out its Northwest Suburban League (NSL) baseball schedule Wednesday with a 10-7 victory over visiting North Farmington.

The Panthers, who claimed third place with the win, used three different pitchers with Pat Miller getting credit for the victory.

Miller, who relieved Dennis Mattison, retired eight of the final nine batters he faced.

Mattison gave up three runs in two innings of work. Starter Jeff Strobbe gave up four in the first inning as the Raiders jumped out to a 4-0 lead.

RU got a run back in the second and then exploded for eight runs off North starter and loser Bob Chwalk in the third.

Dennis Bushart led the RU offensive attack with two hits and two RBI. Kevin Moore, Bill McCraith and Tony Leo also added two hits each.

Catcher Mike Rudin collected two hits for North, which finished league play at 4-6. The Raiders are 12-10 overall.

RU increased its record to 5-5 and 15-8.

WYANDOTTE 6, WAYNE 3: Wayne Memorial dropped its final Wolverine A Conference game of the season Thursday, falling to visiting Wyandotte Roosevelt.

The loss left Wayne with a 6-6 conference slate. The Zebras entered weekend action at 10-13 overall.

The Bears used the seven-hit pitching of Darryl Gilevich, who went the distance to pick up the win. He also helped himself with the bat, contributing three hits and two RBI.

Dave Linton, who worked 6 2/3 innings before giving way to Eric Shirley, took the loss.

Chris Kaske and Tim Stone each collected two hits in a losing cause. Cameron Mitchell scored twice.

WAYNE 6, TRENTON 4: On Wednesday, the Zebras traveled downriver and escaped with a two-run Wolverine A triumph at Trenton.

Senior John Bain, who gave up two runs in five innings before leaving with a bad back, picked up the victory. He was relieved Shirley.
