Condominiums will replace old Moore farm

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

The Plymouth City Commission has unanimously approved the first reading of a resolution that would provide for the development of the last farmland within the city limits.

The commission Tuesday night approved the rezoning of the Clarence Moore Farm, covering 4½ acres north of Burroughs, east of Main, west of Harding and south of Wing Street.

Developer Jim Jabara of Plymouth presented a description of the use to which the property would be put, in keeping with the new zoning of RM1 (multi-family) from R1 (single-family). Jabara said he intended to build 35 two-bedroom units on about three acres of the plot, just west of Tonquish Creek.

There would be eight building units, consisting of two two-story and two ranch-level condominiums, selling for $110,000 to $125,000.

Jabara made his presentation to the full commission, seven members, and a packed commission meeting room, including about 50 residents who mainly protested the rezoning.

Objections were voiced about the possible increased traffic on Kellogg Street, "noise and confusion," and drainage. One resident expressed concern about having children in an area where many senior citizens lived.

Nancy Watkins, the owner of the former George Hudson property on Burroughs Street, asked, "Is the land able to support high density housing?"

PLYMOUTH CITY Manager Henry Graper said,

"Under the single-family residential zoning, they could probably construct as many single-family homes as they are doing under the multifamily zoning. This zoning is a total consideration of the highest and best use of the land without hurting the surrounding units."

Under the RM1 zoning, the developer could build up to 80 units on the property. The rezoning was previously approved by the city's planning consultants, Villcan-Leman and Associates.

But when the proposed rezoning was brought before the Plymouth Planning Commission Aug. 14, only six of nine commissioners were present. The vote was 3-3 which resulted in the rezoning being denied.

The City Commission agreed with Jabara that because only six of nine planning commissioners had voted on the rezoning it ought to have another chance.

Dennis Bila, newly seated commissioner, had been on the planning commission when the Moore property vote was taken but was not present for the vote.

"There has been only one case similar to this in three years," he said. "I feel that if the planning commission could have taken decisive action, the vote before the City Commission would not be necessary."

Plymouth Mayor David Pugh, who lives on Roosevelt, said: "I am a neighbor of the farm property. As a legal, non-conforming use, the farm was a nice neighbor. But we knew the time would come when it would be developed. The time has come."

THE FARM has included a grass-covered field, a barn, cattle fencing and animal shed amid homes and apartments.

The planning commission minutes described the parcel as having intense commercial and mid-rise multiple family use to the west and multiple family to the north.

In the middle of all this Moore, until his recent death, raised sheep and did some farming. He will go down in history as the last farmer in Plymouth.

Jabara and a partner, forming the Moore Property Development Co., purchased the land and sought the rezoning.

Jabara said the Old English-style buildings would blend into the surrounding housing. He said he expected construction to begin next spring.

The City Commission must grant a second approval of the rezoning, after a second reading at the next meeting on Sept. 16. If the rezoning is approved, the developer then must return to the planning commission for site plan approval.

2 race chiefs, only 1 teepee

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Michigan Racing Commissioner William Ballenger and Michigan Racing Commissioner William Cahalan Tuesday defied the laws of physics, if not politics, by proving that two objects can occupy the same space.

Ballenger has been occupying the Plymouth office of the commissioner since being appointed in the fall of 1982 to replace Frederick Van Tiem, who died before his four-year term of office expired. Ballenger believed, apparently, that his appointment by then-Gov. William Milliken, a Republican, meant serving a full four-year term of his own.

But Gov. James Blanchard, a Democrat, thought otherwise when, last Monday, he appointed Cahalan, a former Wayne County prosecutor and a Democrat, to the $44,900-a-year job.

Ballenger promptly filed a lawsuit in the Michigan Court of Appeals to keep his job through 1988, the amount of time that would remain if he were appointed to a four-year term.

But Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley ruled in November 1984 that Ballenger's term was to expire Dec. 31, 1984. Tuesday Kelley, a Democrat, filed motions asking the Michigan Supreme Court to exercise its discretion and come out with an immediate decision on who is the real racing commissioner.

Kelley wants a court order ousting Ballenger from his Plymouth office.

But as of Wednesday, Ballenger was in Plymouth.

CAHALAN, who took the oath of office last week, was in Lansing, also in his office at the Department of Agriculture.

The racing commissioner, whom he may be, is part of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and has several offices: at Lansing, Plymouth and even one at the Detroit Race Course.

Cahalan apparently tried to avoid a face-to-face encounter with Ballenger Tuesday by going to Lansing, where he also would be able to follow the progress of the various pending lawsuits.

Tom Scott, deputy press secretary for Blanchard, said Tuesday that he expected a decision by the Supreme Court "in a few days."

Ballenger could simply be taken off the payroll. Ballenger was to receive a paycheck Thursday but, according to Scott and Ballenger, the check would cover a pay period before Ballenger was replaced.

Ballenger was unruffled as he sat Tuesday in his office on Main Street in the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth.

"I'm here, Cahalan isn't," said Ballenger. "I'm not leaving until I hear from the Supreme Court. Cahalan is in a mild panic at this point. He had to go on the offensive."

Ballenger said the latest action filed Tuesday by Kelley in the Michigan Court of Appeals, could either slow

Rotary to join Lions

Plymouth Rotary will be joining the Plymouth Lions Fish Fry at noon tomorrow in a move of inter-club cooperation.

Actually this is the second year in a row that Plymouth Rotarians have supported the Lions Club of Plymouth by being among the first fish customers on Friday. The Rotarians will hold their regular Friday noon meeting under The Gathering instead of in the Meeting House and will be served orange roughly by the Lions as their meal tomorrow. The fish fry also will be open to the public during that time period. The Observer incorrectly reported the times of the fish fry in its Fall Festival Section this week. The Lions' meal will be served to the public from 11:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. for $4.25 per person.

The earlier time has been selected in an attempt to increase sales of the fund-raiser and to cut losses in case of rain.

Auxiliary to help at city biathalon

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

The Plymouth City Commission Tuesday approved a request from the parks and recreation department to permit a running and cycling race to be held Saturday, Oct. 19.

The Plymouth-Northville Biathlon will begin at 9:15 a.m. in Northville and end at 11 a.m. at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The biathlon will include a three-mile run and a 12-mile bicycle race.

Members of the new Plymouth Police Auxiliary Service and PACT members will provide crowd and traffic control for the event.

The nine auxiliaries were sworn in Tuesday and will be on duty for this weekend's Fall Festival. Most already serve the city as dispatchers or volunteer firefighters.

"The police auxiliary has been talked about for a long time," said Robert Scoggins, auxiliary coordinator. "They are really fine people who will not be paid but will assist when a sworn (regular) officer is not needed."

The auxiliary will get its first test during the Plymouth Fall Festival, which begins today.

Plymouth Police Chief Richard Myers said, "They'll be an asset to our service-oriented approach. Some of them are paid dispatchers who care enough to give a piece of their time."

Myers thanked the bargaining unit of the Plymouth Police Officers Association (PFOA) — the union for the Plymouth police officers — for its cooperation in setting up the auxiliary.

Myers also issued commendations to three employees of the police department for exceptional service recently involving a suicide attempt.

Receiving commendations were Lt. Dan Carpenter, patrol officer Mel Meek and dispatcher Margaret Anstros.

Also during the meeting, the commission accepted a petition from Maple Street residents complaining of speeding motorists and seeking a stop sign; approved the setting of a public hearing for Oct. 7 for an Industrial Facilities Exemption Certificate for Classic Containers; and gave special recognition to John Hendry, whose Plymouth convalescent center was listed as one of the best in the nation by Good Housekeeping Magazine.

Because of the Plymouth Fall Festival, Omnicom local origination programming has been cancelled for Channels 8 and 15 except for live coverage of the festival.

Maria Holmes, executive producer for Omnicom, announces Omnicom will be going live for 27 hours over the four-day event. That is an increase of 10 hours over last year's coverage of the Plymouth Fall Festival.

"Last year we had planned to cover 21½ hours but due to the weather on Sunday we were only able to cablecast 17 hours of the festivities," she said. The schedule this year will be from 4:30 to 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 5, from 4:30 to 10 p.m. Friday, from noon to 10 p.m. Saturday, and from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

"We are pleased to be able to expand our coverage of this major event in Plymouth for 1985. We plan to cover as much of the Fall Festival activities as possible."

The Omnicom van will be located in the same area as last year, near the bandshell to cover the stage performances. In addition, Omnicom production people will be circulating around the Festival to videotape activities.

The format will be much the same as last year with the hosts introducing the main events on stage and then during the stage breaks interviewing performers, Fall Festival staff persons and residents. Suzanne Skubick of Omnicom will co-host along with J.P. McCarthy, Sandy Preblich and Patrick McLaughlin. Skubick and her co-hosts will be joined by residents such as Mary Childs, Sarah Delmore, Al Matthews, Sue McEroy, Doug Kerr and Mike Gross to name a few.

Holmes added that the Fall Festival Board has been cooperative in helping Omnicom plan its 1985 coverage.

Campers meet, eat and shoot

THEY CAME from Ohio, Ontario and communities in western Wayne County — including Livonia, Plymouth, Canton, Garden City, Westland and Redford — to take part in the sixth annual MuzzleLoaders Rendezvous held over Labor Day weekend at the Western Wayne County Conservation Association grounds in Plymouth Township.

Primitive sites were used along with "thematically accurate" camping gear for the 1600 to 1840 period at the club campgrounds on Napier between North Territorial and Five Mile.

Shooting matches were the featured attractions, but the rendezvous also included trading, a sewing event, frying pan throw, log sawing, tomahawk and knife throw, flapjack throw, and egg toss.

The shooting contests included a novelty shoot, blanket shoot, trade gun match and pistol match.

There was a sandpile for children, a tug-o-war and tests of "skill and luck." The rendezvous also included Sunday breakfast and evening campfires.

Campers arrived at 6 p.m. Thursday. The rendezvous concluded at 6 p.m. Monday.

Canton resident Leonard Darnell cleans and loads his muzzleloader. Most participants built their own rifles. Many are works of art, with fine inlaid scrollwork on the stock.

down the high court's final decision or speed it up.

KELLEY HAS sought to speed it up, because if Ballenger remains in office, the racing dates drawn up by Ballenger would stick.

Ballenger submitted a list of dates, tilted in favor of Northville Downs and against Hazel Park Raceway, both vying for harness revenues, even before the closing date for applications had been reached.

Ballenger, in a Friday (Aug. 30) telecast of "Off the Record," again spoke out against James Karoub, a race track lobbyist.

In an earlier interview with The Observer, Ballenger claimed that Karoub represented the owners of Hazel Park — Herbert Tyner and Bernard Hartman.

Hartman and Tyner are the former owners of the Detroit Race Course, Livonia, until they were forced by Ballenger, acting under a state legislative mandate, to sell DRC to Ladbroke Racing Corp., a British firm.

Ballenger said Hartman and Tyner would rather have Cahalan in the racing commissioner's post instead of Ballenger.

But Scott, speaking for Blanchard, said, "The governor's decision was based on the fact that Cahalan is an absolutely outstanding man for the job. Scott claimed there was no pre-arrangement between Karoub and Blanchard to appoint Cahalan, however."

"I crossed them up, in that I've given Northville Downs its dates," said Ballenger. "I think the decision to appoint Cahalan was made before I announced the racing dates. I think Cahalan's appointment was announced more quickly because of my announcement of dates. I think there is a very good reason to believe there is an improper motive to the decision."

However, it's not inconceivable that both Ballenger and Cahalan are gearing up for runs at elected statewide offices.

No matter who eventually occupies the racing commissioner's office in Plymouth, it appears both are off and running for media exposure to be used at a later date.

Ridership up 5% SEMTA says

The number of passengers carried by SEMTA buses in July increased 5 percent from July 1984 as the economy improved, according to Albert Martin, acting general manager of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

"The principal reason for the upward trend appears to be the improved economic climate, especially in downtown Detroit," Martin said.

"There is $345 million worth of new development taking place along the People Mover route, and this increased activity is bringing more people into the Central Business District."

Preliminary figures show more 615,000 riders used SEMTA buses during the month, compared with 586,000 in July a year ago. For the first 30 weeks of 1985, SEMTA carried 4.7 million passengers, up 2.4 percent from the like period of 1984.

"We lost riders when we cut service and raised fares in 1983, but we are getting them back," Martin said. "It is also possible that the increasingly high cost of auto ownership and operation is a factor."

Cousin of common perch becoming most popular fish

By Lem Meese
staff writer

The walleye, that nocturnal big cousin of the common yellow perch, isn't the greatest fighter on the line, but to hear anglers talk, it's the most popular "warmwater" fish.

With greater frequency, walleyes have been showing up in 1984 and '85 fishing reports from the state Department of Natural Resources. That's because 120,000 robust, healthy specimens were planted in southeastern Michigan waters last year.

The walleye is bigger than the perch — legal size is 13 inches in most waters — and meatier. Fileted, they have a firm white flesh that's the best of any freshwater fish except, maybe, the trout.

A PREDATOR, the walleye forages at the bottom in cold water, preferably at dawn, dusk and night. If there's a current, so much the better.

They'll hit both artificial lures and natural baits. A favorite method is drifting with a nightcrawler on a simple spinner-hook, a "crawler harness" or one of the commercial walleye lures such as the Erie Dearie.

Last fall DNR planted several metropolitan area waters with walleyes, including: Clinton River near Yates Dam, 51,000; Salt River, 4,500; Loon Lake, 11,000; Oakland Lake, 14,500; Kent Lake, 12,000; Maceday Lake, 11,000; White Lake, 12,000; and Heron Lake, 3,000.

Loon, Oakland, Deer, Maceday and White lakes were expected to yield keeper walleyes this year. I've pulled one or two out of Kent Lake, but they were pretty small.

This week's fishing report reports walleyes are still hitting in many favorite spots despite the heat of August. The Detroit River is yielding a few; fair to good catches are coming out of Lake St. Clair in the area of Metropolitan Beach and the Selfridge Air National Guard Base. Catches are rated good in the St. Clair River.

OTHER SPECIES are providing action, too.

Perch are hitting still in the St. Clair Flats area.

Trout Lake in the Bald Mountain Recreation Area is yielding good catches of black bass. Try big lures. Lakeville and Kent lakes are yielding good catches of crappies. In Kent, try minnows where there is a current, such as near bridges.

Bluegill are hitting in deeper waters all over Oakland County's inland lakes. At this time of year, crickets are the best bait, if you can find 'em.

ENTRIES CLOSE Sept. 11 for the all-breed obedience trial of the Sportsmen's Dog Training Club of Detroit.

The show runs from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28, in the Community Arts Building of the Michigan State Fairgrounds, Woodward south of Eight Mile, Detroit.

For a premium list, call Mira Gilbert in Troy at 643,7283.

She tells us that all regular classes will be present — Novice A and B, Open A and B, and Utility A and B — plus a Graduate Novice class with a limit of 56 dogs. There are also many breed prizes. Prizes range up to $200.

Mail entries to: Superintendent, Moss/Bow/Foley, PO Box 9999, Madison Heights 48071.

Commenting on Hiroshima bomb

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

For someone who doesn't visit any of the gambling establishments, or play the Michigan Lottery, Howard Lawrence has taken a big gamble and is winning.

Lawrence, a resident of the City of Wayne, spends his days as a truck driver. But several years ago he decided on a big gamble to help his wife raise their two children.

He purchased the front section of the former McLaren grain mill on Main Street at the C&O tracks in Plymouth and gambled on making a success of a restaurant in the midst of a nest of eating establishments.

Now Lawrence is certain that it was a good gamble. Business is a bit better than expected, even in August which supposedly is one of the slower months of the year.

DISREGARDING THE old equipment from the grain mill, he has retained the beams and pillars and has the old scales around the three sections of dining rooms.

Then he employed Stanley Forbush as manager and chef. Forbush had spent six years with the Denny's string of restaurants around the country and brought much of his knowledge in food to help with Lawrence's gamble.

One of his specialties, and one of the favorite dishes of the customers, is stuffed cabbage.

"Of course we have all lines of food — steaks, chops, roasts and special soups. But the cabbage tops them all," says Lawrence.

When he thinks of it, he likes the thought that the Grain Mill Crossing is a success, even though it is in the midst of a number of other restaurants.

For instance, the Plymouth Landing and Bode's are right across the street. Nearby are Hardee's at Mill and Main, the Big Apple at Starkweather and Main, and a Taco Plaza in between. Within a few blocks are Mary's by City Hall, the McNamara brothers with fresh fish and Shelley's Chicken Manor.

"We don't care too much about them," said Forbush, "We have built up our own customers and the list seems to be growing each week."

Aside from the special food, the interior, which once served as J.D. McLaren's office, is now divided into four sections and each has its own fine points.

"It was a gamble for Mr. Lawrence to take," said the chef, "but it has proven a success in spite of the large ring of competition."

Inactive voter lists plague local clerks

By Teri Banas
staff writer

Dearborn's longtime city clerk Duane Wyndendorf got a lot of laughs in an otherwise dry evening when he told a state Senate panel in Livonia, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

Wyndendorf, with a dozen other city and township clerks from metropolitan Detroit, testified before the Senate Committee on Local Government on a collection of bills designed to reform Michigan's system of voter registration and election procedures.

The clerks discussed a variety of topics such as registering voters by postcard, eliminating inactive voter lists, allowing voter registration along with driver's license renewals, and registering on election day.

ACCORDING TO a committee staff member, clerks across Michigan generally support eliminating files of "inactive" voters — persons who have failed to vote in 5-10 years.

There's so much movement in and out of some rural communities that inactive voter files are larger than active files.

Besides last Thursday's meeting in Livonia, the committee traveled to Portage, Grand Rapids, Traverse City and Saginaw.

Wyndendorf received the only applause of the night when he told Sen. Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, who was sitting in for committee chair Sen. Harmon Cropsey, R-Decatur, "I don't think our problem is registration. It's getting people out to vote."

EXPECTED to get attention in the upcoming legislative session are no less than four House and Senate bills that are:

• Senate Bill 349: Intended to curb voter fraud, it would require that if a voter is unable to return an absentee ballot, then only a family member or person living with the voter be allowed to return it in his/her place. It's sponsored by Sen. Pat McCollough, D-Deerborn.

• Senate Bill 403: Twice vetoed by Gov. James J. Blanchard last year, the measure has been reintroduced and would eliminate the five-year inactive voter file. It also would set standards for deputy registrants and allow for registration across governmental jurisdictions. The chief sponsor is Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville.

• House Bill 4654: This bill would allow the selection of jury members from lists of licensed drivers. Presently only voter lists are used in Michigan. Sponsored by Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, it is intended to make available for jury selection larger numbers of minorities and youths, many of whom aren't found on voter lists.

Supporters argue that many adults don't register to vote because they fear being selected for jury duty. The measure has cleared the House and is before the Senate.

• House Bill 4552: This measure makes many proposals, but chiefly asks that the close of voter registration be moved from 30 days to 20 days before an election. Other provisions include eliminating inactive voter registration files and establishing a single five-year active file and providing for cross-district registration.

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP Clerk Esther Hulsing, credited for bringing the issue in SB 403 to Geake, was among many who support the elimination of the inactive voter file.

"Our society is just too mobile to carry these people five, six years," she said.

Plymouth Township counts some 3,000 inactive voters compared to 14,394 active ones. While the amount is "really not a lot," she said, "that's still 3,000 more we have to thumb through."

REDFORD TOWNSHIP Clerk Joan Riley said she "wished" the Legislature would eliminate the five-year inactive voter rolls, as well.

After checking with her elections clerk who has handled those rolls for 11 years, she learned that "only two inactive voters ever came in to vote in those 11 years."

"I don't think you're going to be denying anyone the right to vote (by eliminating the inactive rolls)," she said.

Southfield Clerk Patrick Flannery agreed the inactive lists serve "no useful purpose. If you haven't voted in 10 years and walk into a polling place, we must just let you vote. It's a sham."

WYNDENDORF from Dearborn said he opposed mail-in registration because of the high printing and mailing costs associated with sending out applications.

"The costs are very high," he said. "That's why I'm opposed to it. We're trying to pay back Ford Motor Co. $10 million, so money isn't that free."

Riley also bemoaned the high cost of paperwork associated with running elections.

"The amount of money involved with postage alone would blow your mind," she said. "We were lucky in April (during a township police and fire millage election) because that was right before the postage rates went up."

HANDLING ABSENTEE ballots was of concern to several clerks.

Clerk Sharon Tischler of Southfield Township, which includes the villages of Bingham Farms, Beverly Hills and Franklin, said she's seeing growing use of absentee ballots as members of her communities are getting older and spending part of their time in second homes in Arizona and Florida.

Of 11,000 registered voters in the last election held there, 2,200 voted by absentee ballot — and "we're climbing," she said. "I'm looking at alternative ways to handle that."

PERHAPS the most heated response came to an issue not planned to be part of last week's discussion. Introduced just last week by Rep. Nick Claramituro, D-Roseville, a member of the House Elections Committee, is a three-bill package to eliminate entirely the voter registration process.

"I was at that meeting when that was introduced," said Flannery, "and there was no response because everyone was in a state of shock. Voter registration is being loosened and loosened to the point where there's practically nothing left."

Wyndendorf complained that the "voter registration process is becoming more liberal; it's opening it up to fraud. Being an elected official, I can't afford having that reflected back on me."

Accounting seminar Sept. 10

An Oakland University job-opportunity seminar on the Accounting Assistant program will be Tuesday, Sept. 10. A story in last week's editions contained a typographical error on the date.

The seminar will run from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. on the OU campus, east of I-75 at exit 79. To make a reservation, call OU's Division of Continuing Education at 370-3120 weekdays between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.

County special ed tax to help local schools

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Oakland County is almost a victim of its own success in serving young people with physical, mental and emotional impairments.

"Special education in Oakland started in the '50s, long before it was mandated by law," said William G. Keane, superintendent of the Oakland Intermediate School District.

Keane, joined by many local educators, is seeking voter approval Oct. 7 of a proposal to boost the special education property tax 0.75 mills. Current rate is one mill.

The increase amounts to 75 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation. For example, the owner of a house worth $80,000 on the market and assessed for $40,000 would pay $30 more a year.

THE BIG question Keane must answer to the public is: Why are special education costs rising faster than revenues in a county known for its tax base growth? Keane has a set of answers.

On the revenue side, there is the Headlee "cap." A 1978 amendment to the state constitution limits property tax revenue growth to the rate of inflation.

Moreover, some cities are setting up TIFAs (tax increment financing authorities) to "capture" all new property taxes in defined downtown areas. That means the growth can't go to education and the county.

The state cut educational spending four times during the recession years of 1980 and '81.

ON THE COST side, Keane said special ed needs are spurred by:

• Modern medicine — Many impaired children used to die at birth or early childhood. Modern medicine is saving them. They require special education, which has grown from 10 percent of the total education budget in 1976 to 14 percent currently.

• Autism — The most difficult kind of impairment to treat is autism. It's also the most expensive kind of schooling there is — $30,000 per student, as much as a private Ivy League college. As more is learned about emotional impairments, more and more children are being reclassified as autistic. Keane places the growth at 1 1/2 classrooms a year.

• Deinstitutionalization — As the state reduces the number of youngsters placed in institutions, much of the burden of training them is shifted out of the state budget and onto county-local special education budgets.

• Rights — State law mandates special education for those diagnosed as needing it until the age of 26. If the special education fund is short, then general education funds must be diverted. "Many poorer districts have taken money out of general education for special ed."

• Oakland — Many parents with impaired youngsters move to Oakland because "Oakland has a reputation for quality special ed programs. People come here." Thus, the population of those needing special ed grows faster than the general student population.

ONE OF KEANE'S selling points is that general K-12 education will benefit by higher special education millage. Districts which divert general funds to subsidize special ed would no longer have to do so.

Currently the Oakland Intermediate School District — commonly known as "Oakland Schools," though it is really a service agency for local districts — levies one mill for special ed. Voters approved a half-mill in 1984 and another half-mill in 1985. (A 1981 request was defeated.)

Special ed services are delivered two ways: • Some 2,000 attend so-called "Center Programs" funded by the intermediate district and operated under contract by local districts.

• Another 18,000 attend special education classes in their home districts. In fact, many are "mainstreamed" — they attend regular classes supplemented by special assistance, as needed. "Oakland does more mainstreaming than any program in the country," Keane said.

IT'S THE second area of costs which Oakland Schools isn't covering — and where local districts have to dip into their budgets to cover.

The new tax levy, if approved Oct. 7, would be collected next year and yield $11 million on top of the current $15 million.

Combined with other revenue of $9 million (mostly state aid), special ed in Oakland would have $35 million in funds.

The new tax would not only pay for "program growth" in Center Programs but would help underwrite local districts' costs, at least until 1993.

The campaign is a low-profile one, aimed at education groups and newspapers.

Co-chairing it are Bernard Travnikar, who directs a special ed program run by the Lamphere District in Madison Heights, and Anna-Marie Christenson, Troy Board of Education member.

Special ed terminology

Here is a glossary of special education jargon and the number of classrooms in each program:

- TMI — trainable mentally impaired, 64.
- Pre-voc — vocational programs, 22.
- POHI — physical or other handicapped, 27.
- Autistic — an emotional handicap; 80 percent also are retarded, 11.
- SEI — severe emotional impairment, 2.

- SMI — severely mentally impaired, 27.
 - HI — hearing impaired, 29.
 - SXI — severely multiply impaired, 14.
 - VI — visually impaired, 4.
- Altogether, the 15 Center Programs have 200 special education classrooms.

Westland's senior citizens protest 'shared-housing' plan

By Debbie Sherman
staff writer

Westland senior citizens are protesting a Reagan administration "shared housing" proposal. The plan has prompted some senior citizens, who live in publicly assisted housing, to write to their legislators in protest.

One section of the proposal by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) permits those people living in subsidized housing to share facilities and requires people living in one-bedroom apartments to move into an efficiency.

The elderly residents of Greenwood Villa, who live in subsidized housing, are angry and worried.

"Our residents are upset because of the lack of information," said Judith Tosolan, apartment manager. "It really scared them, but they're getting actively involved by writing to our representatives. I want to keep them informed, but not scare them."

"The issue was misrepresented," said Margaret Milner, HUD policy analyst of the Department of Housing. "It was thought to be more stringent than it actually is. We thought there was enough concern about it to eliminate it. But it is based on mutual consent."

MILNER SAID the proposal will be revised, and she anticipates the elimination of the provision requiring a person to move from an apartment to an efficiency.

"There was a lot of interest in shared housing, but regulation didn't permit it, which is the purpose of this proposal," she said. Final revision of the proposal is expected to be published in the Federal Register by the end of this month, she added.

Roy Groetsky, president of the senior citizen association of Greenwood Villa, said he read about the proposal and included it in the newsletter he writes for the building residents. He said he wanted to get them to do something about it.

"They're all shook up. They don't want to share their apartment with someone else. We wrote letters to Levin, Riegle and Ford, but we haven't heard from them yet," Groetsky said.

"IT WOULD BE a disaster to share an apartment with a total stranger," said one resident who asked not to be identified. "I feel we've paid our dues to society, we shouldn't even be asked to consider it. We should be able to enjoy our privacy in what years we have left."

That reaction was typical, according to Jim Chmelik, director of Housing for the National Council of Senior Citizens.

"There is sufficient ambiguity in the provisions to cause a number of problems," Chmelik said of the proposal. "HUD got so much of a negative reaction from it, they don't know what to do with it."

Chmelik said that even after the proposal is revised, he is concerned that those who agree to share housing will be given priority in housing.

The elderly population is increasing faster than any other group, he said.

"One possible result of the regulation is that we spend less money for elderly housing and house more people. How do we do it? We shove more people into a cardboard box," Chmelik said.

Hazel Park gets 168 racing dates

State Racing Commissioner William S. Ballenger has allocated dates for pari-mutuel horse racing in 1986 to Hazel Park and several out-state race tracks.

Ballenger is in a legal battle with Gov. James Blanchard and Attorney General Frank J. Kelley over the length of his term. But the racing chief said he acted on Saturday, Aug. 31, a date on which everyone agreed he was still commissioner.

HIS RACING allocations include:

- Hazel Park — 168 harness racing dates, April 14 to Oct. 25.
- Jackson Trotting Association's spring meet — 49 dates between April 17 and June 22 and 52 dates for the fall meet between Aug. 27 and Oct. 25.
- Saginaw Valley Downs — 73 dates between June 1 and Aug. 24.
- Jackson-at-Northville Downs meet — 52 dates between Oct. 27 and Dec. 31.

• Mt. Pleasant Meadows — 67 dates of Quarter Horse, Appaloosa and Arabian racing between May 17 and Oct. 26.

Ballenger also said he reaffirmed his earlier allocation of dates to Northville Downs, a harness track, and to Ladbroke DRC and Mt. Pleasant Meadows for thoroughbred racing.

THE RACING commissioner said his most recent action did not necessarily complete the date allocation process.

Still on file are applications for standardbred racing from: the Genesee County Racing Association, the possible builder of a harness track near Swartz Creek; the Allegan, Kalamazoo and Ionia county fairs; Mottville Downs, another potential harness facility; and an as-yet-unnamed and unlicensed potential harness track near Niles.

Zoo renovation job to Greenfield

Greenfield Construction Co. of Livonia was lowest of five bidders for $11.9 million in renovations at the Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak.

The renovations were made necessary by the construction of the adjoining I-696 (Reuther) freeway, state Transportation Director James Pitz said. The federal government will pay 90 percent of the cost and the state 10 percent.

Greenfield's bid was approved by the state Transportation Commission recently. Final approval is up to the state Administrative Board.

Work is scheduled to begin in October and be completed in spring of 1987. The work includes:

- A new three-level parking garage for 600 cars.
- A relocated entrance along Woodward Avenue.
- A 12-foot-high noise wall along the freeway at 10 Mile Road.
- A new security and administration building.

There also will be new concession stands, restrooms, ticket booths, platform for the zoo train, pedestrian bridge, storm and sanitary sewers.

Vocational rehab program gets accreditation

By Debbie Sherman
staff writer

Project Advance, Wayne-Westland Community School's vocational rehabilitation program, has been awarded a three-year accreditation by the National Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities.

The board of education accepted the accreditation at the Aug. 25 meeting. The program was initiated in 1979, providing employment training and other services to eligible residents of western Wayne County.

"The overall goal here is for these people to integrate with the community. For some of them, competitive employment is not a realistic goal, but we work around the barriers and work with their strengths," said director Kay Lyons.

CLIENTS ARE referred by mental health agencies, schools, insurance agencies, Michigan Rehabilitation Services, the Department of Social Services and by the Veterans Administration.

Many of the clients were formerly institutionalized, Lyons said. However, most were competitively employed at one time. They are mentally, emotionally or developmentally disabled, she said.

Project Advance helps clients develop positive work skills, self-help skills, independent-living skills and employability skills.

The project currently provides services in three areas: vocational evaluation, work adjustment and activity services.

Wayne-Westland School District

The district serves southeast Canton.

The vocational evaluation lab provides assessment on a weekly basis.

"We push them to get out into the community and be productive, whether that means making money or not. It doesn't matter that much whether it's volunteer work, part-time or whatever, as long as they're doing something that puts them on a schedule simulating a work schedule," said John Stokes, vocational counselor. "That's how you measure success for the disabled population."

AFTER CLIENTS are evaluated, they often are referred to outside agencies that have the facilities to accommodate clients' needs, Stokes said. Some of these training centers include League Goodwill, Jewish Vocational Service and Community Workshop in Detroit.

"Some of the clients do well on all of the tests and may even be college bound. Maybe they don't know what to do with their lives in terms of a career. Some of them end up at a community college in career exploration," Stokes said.

The evaluation process helps document the work patterns of the clients before making referrals.

"I look for all the things an employer would look for, how they interact with co-workers, tardiness, punctuality and task completion. If I'm going to recommend anyone for a work program, they have to be low risk," he said.

The overall goal of the work adjustment program is to help clients develop job-seeking and job-retention abilities. Typical problems are interviewing, telephone skills, resume writing and job sources. Upon completion of the course, the client's progress is reviewed and a report is submitted to a referral agency.

Work activity services help clients develop individual objectives for educational, pre-vocational, and daily-living and leisure-time activities.

"We are an alternative to having them stay home," said teacher's aid, Eileen Reside. "Just getting them into the class and getting them to show up, follow directions and realize there are rules and regulations is making progress."

OCC beginning Weekend College

For the first time this fall, Oakland Community College will sponsor a Weekend College program for students unable to attend classes during the week.

It will be offered at the Highland Lakes Campus, 7350 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake. Classes will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 7, and offer three or four credits.

"The program is ideal for people who just find it is impossible to combine class with their responsibilities during the week," said Ruth Grass, coordinator of the Weekend College.

Fall courses will cover "Principles of Business," English, psychology, "Keyboarding," "Office Management," first aid and "Introduction to Film."

Prospective students may register at any OCC campus through Friday. Standard OCC admission requirements and tuitions apply.

State economic index still rising

The Michigan economy, as measured by the Michigan Business Activity Index (MBAI), picked up nine points in July, after a drop of five points in June, according to Manufacturers Bank.

But the bank's staff economist warned that imports are gaining a larger share of the domestic auto market — a "worrisome" trend.

The unusually large swings were due primarily to changes in auto and truck production and car-buying behavior. The index stands at 138, 6 percent ahead of the July 1984 level.

AFTER AN unseasonably slow June, auto and truck production increased in July. Sales within Michigan fell sharply in June but rebounded in July. The lack of special dealer incentives in June and July may have hurt sales for that period, but increased use of cut-rate financing and settlement of the auto hauling strike should stimulate sales in August and September.

Manufacturers Bank staff economist Patrick L. Anderson said he is concerned about the domestic manufacturers' recent loss of market share:

"Imports gained 29.5 percent of the auto market in July, far ahead of last year's 26.9-percent share. Through July 1985, imports earned 24.3 percent of U.S. market vs. 22.6 percent in the same months of 1984. As the Michigan economy remains dependent on the auto industry, this trend is quite worrisome.

"For the auto companies to prosper, they must compete successfully against the imports and the open market. The new cut-rate financing offers should help them win back some of the market share they've lost over the past several months," Anderson said.

economics department of Manufacturers Bank. It is seasonally adjusted, corrected for inflation and expressed on an index basis with a 1967 equal 100 base.

In July, auto and truck production, auto sales and energy consumption increased. Steel production decreased, and labor-market indicators changed little.

St. Mary tells about expansion

St. Mary Hospital has announced plans for a $20-million expansion and renovation of the facility on Five Mile and Levan roads.

The project consists of a 78,039-square-foot addition, the renovation of 77,270 square feet within the present facility and construction of a 60,000-square-foot medical services building.

The hospital, operated by the Felician Sisters, opened in December 1959 with 185 beds. St. Mary also operates a clinic at Six Mile and Merriman roads.

Construction is scheduled to begin next month and be completed by July 1987. The architectural/engineering firm of Daverman Associates Inc. of Grand Rapids is designing the project. The final decision on a contractor for the project hadn't been made as of Tuesday.

A groundbreaking service is scheduled at 1 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 12 in the south parking lot at Five Mile and Levan. The Rev. Moses G. Anderson, auxiliary bishop of the Archdiocese of Detroit, will preside.

Highlights of the project include:
 • A new special care unit with high-tech equipment. The unit will service cardiac patients and other major surgery and trauma/accident cases.

• Relocation of departments to allow patients to use a variety of clinical services without leaving a specific area of the building. The concept provides "one-stop" convenience for patients requiring laboratory examination, X-ray and other diagnostic services.

• Additional diagnostic and surgery services will be organized along a convenient out-patient "loop" to include radiology, cardiovascular and respiratory therapy, hemodialysis and nuclear medicine.

• A new computerized patient information system will provide almost immediate updating of patient information.

• The new 60,000-square-foot medical office building will provide offices, community education classes and a coffee shop.

• Social services and alcoholism therapy will be moved from temporary facilities into renovated space on the ground floor of the main building.

• The fifth floor will be renovated to allow relocation of the mental health units and a new psychiatric day care program. Three related programs will be located nearby to allow sharing of staff and activity space.

The expansion/renovation project will add 10 beds to the hospital bringing it to a total of 304 beds.

"St. Mary Hospital prides itself on providing quality care in a cost-efficient manner and our expansion/renovation project is another enhancement of that goal," said Sister Mary Modesta, president.

"We believe that the patient comes first, and our new state-of-the-art technology and expansion of our critical care units will attest to that philosophy," she added.

Hospital officials said donations are being solicited to help pay for equipment purchases for the new addition. Costs are expected to be $339,000, with an additional $144,300 for special care equipment.

State economic index still rising

The Michigan economy, as measured by the Michigan Business Activity Index (MBAI), picked up nine points in July, after a drop of five points in June, according to Manufacturers Bank.

But the bank's staff economist warned that imports are gaining a larger share of the domestic auto market — a "worrisome" trend.

The unusually large swings were due primarily to changes in auto and truck production and car-buying behavior. The index stands at 138, 6 percent ahead of the July 1984 level.

THE MBAI is compiled monthly from 11 different measures of Michigan economic activity by the economics department of Manufacturers Bank. It is seasonally adjusted, corrected for inflation and expressed on an index basis with a 1967 equal 100 base.

In July, auto and truck production, auto sales and energy consumption increased. Steel production decreased, and labor-market indicators changed little.

Sound Off to learn about civil rights

Attorney Sidney Kraizman will speak on civil rights for the hearing impaired at the next meeting of Sound Off, a non-profit organization in Oakland County. The meeting starts at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 17, at 108 Fifth (east of Main) in Royal Oak.

Kraizman, whose daughter is hearing impaired, will answer questions from the audience.

Sound Off Director Gail Kinsel said the group plans to meet monthly, usually the third Tuesday. Membership is $15 a year.

"A hearing impaired person often feels very alone and tends to remove himself from society," said Kinsel. "We hope to reach out to the hearing impaired person, the family and friends."

Future events will include a visit to a cider mill, a talk by a physician and a December holiday dinner.

OU instructors' strike takes students by surprise

By Teri Banes
staff writer

Eric Goldberg, a junior transfer student from Oakland Community College, wants to be a chiropractor some day. He attended his first class at Oakland University Tuesday morning only to hear his anatomy professor announce she was "on strike" and wouldn't be teaching class that day.

He went home to wash his car. "She sounded like she didn't want to talk about it too much," said Goldberg, a Southfield resident. "She told us where to start in the book and then she left. Her attitude was -- I hope class is not too far off."

Goldberg, like 11,900 other students scheduled or expected to attend Oakland University this semester, saw classes on the Rochester Hills campus interrupted this week by the first faculty strike in nine years.

WHILE PICKET lines went up at five campus entrances Tuesday morning, students began arriving to learn for themselves just which of their classes would be held.

Varinder Virdi, a junior electrical engineering student from Sterling Heights, said he first learned of the dispute between the university and its 330-member professors union the night before and was "quite upset" about it. Arriving Tuesday afternoon to pay bills and pick up books, he asked why a settlement wasn't reached before the school start.

"They had all summer to negotiate a contract. I don't understand why they had to spring this at the last minute," Virdi said.

Like more than a dozen returning students interviewed by this newspaper, Virdi was concerned over how the strike would affect the semester's schedule.

A FRESHMAN from Waterford Township, Jodi Prahl, spent her first day as a college student Tuesday in disappointment. Prahl had looked forward to attending a theater class, one of two she had scheduled that day, but learned it wouldn't be held.

"The instructor said he wasn't a member of the union because he doesn't teach six credits but that he didn't want to be considered a scab," said Prahl, as she waited to use a telephone to call her father from the Oakland Center, the main campus' student union.

Although she lives only 10 minutes by car from the campus, Prahl said she sympathized with those students attending the mostly commuter college who drove long distances that day, only to learn their classes were canceled. Roughly 90 percent of the students commute; on-campus students live in six dormitories.

INSIDE THE Oakland Center early this week, student movement was slow. A returning student observed that crowds just weren't the same on this first day of class.

Some mingled, stopping to trade information about the strike, while others passed the time, playing video games and watching afternoon soap operas in a sitting room equipped with a big screen television set.

One of those catching up on ABC-TV's "One Life to Live" was Lauren Pasman, a senior communications major, from Farmington Hills.

She was waiting to attend a 3 p.m. marketing class, which she said she needed to graduate this term.

"This is my last semester, and I don't need this aggravation," she said. "My theory is that if they (instructors) weren't well paid, they wouldn't be teaching. It's not fair that my education, my future is jeopardized by what they're doing."

"It took me three semesters to get into the first marketing class I needed, and this is the second one. Of all times for this to happen," Pasman continued. "It's the first day of class and I'm watching soap operas. I mean it's a real good start."

IN RESPONSE to the early-morning strike, the administration set up a telephone line inside the Oakland Center to advise students to attend class.

Jack Wilson, assistant vice president for student affairs, said it was unlikely they would have much information to offer students until at least Thursday, however, while administrators busily compiled lists of classes being taught.

He said they planned to staff the phone line (370-2000) from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily.

"We opened seven phone lines starting at 7:05 a.m.," he said from the make-shift phone center in the Oakland Center. "And we didn't have one stop ringing until 9:15 a.m. Of course, there are heavier spurts starting 25 minutes before the class starts."

High drama off the football field

SOME OF the greatest dramas won't be found on the American stage. They'll be found in the dressing rooms of college football players as they get ready to step out on the field to defend the rating of their alma maters.

During the recent negotiations to avert a baseball strike in the major leagues, it was ruled that the television showing of a game and its every play were real entertainment and should be classified as such.

True. But the drama of the dressing rooms never is pictured, and the TV organizations would do well to arrange, if they could, for the pre-game drama off the playing field.

Over the years that he strolled along the athletic stadia of the land, many were the times when the drama of the dressing room was even greater than one would find on a stage.

THE FIRST time The Stroller ever suffered the agony of a lump in his throat at a football game came when he was just finding his way in the sports world.

It was the day of the big game back home when Lehigh University was playing Lafayette, and he was permitted in the Lehigh dressing room before the game.

Lehigh was coached by Tom Keady, a New England Irishman, and his brother Jim was in the Lehigh backfield. When the players dressed, they were told to sit in a large ring on the floor. Jim looked at the few spectators and winked, as if to say that he wouldn't get any of the barbs thrown at him.

Instead, coach Tom kept his brother for the last. Then he ordered him up. When Jim got to his feet, brother Tom placed his hand on Jim's shoulder and said, "Your name is Keady, I believe. Well, I am your brother Tom. And up home this afternoon, your mother is waiting to hear what her boys are doing in the big game."

"Is it going to be good news? Or is it going to be bad?"

Staring Jim in the eye, the coach said, "It better

be good. If it isn't, you stay out here, and I'll see that you get a decent burial."

NEVER HAD The Stroller heard anything like that, and he never has forgotten it.

With that speech finished, "Bosey" Reiter, the athletic director with the rich voice, asked the players to rise, and he recited the old poem "Only The Game Fish Swim Upstream."

The players were off to battle.

Lehigh didn't win. But there wasn't an inch of ground gained around Jim Keady's section of the gridiron. The pre-game drama had produced results.

YEARS LATER, when The Stroller covered the University of Detroit games, he well remembers how old "Dad" Butler used to give the players the last word.

As they were headed for the playing field, he always stopped them and said, in a very dramatic voice, "Only The Game Fish Swim Upstream." The U-D team went 22 games without a loss, a record that stood until the school abandoned the game.

Down in South Bend, Ind., Notre Dame coach Knute Rockne used one closing sentence to send the team out on the field. He would raise his hand and say, "If you keep the other team from scoring, you can't lose. And if every man does his job, we can score on every offensive play."

Rockne's pre-game strategy produced great teams.

THERE WILL be drama in Michigan Stadium when the Wolverines entertain Notre Dame for the opening game. And you can bet there will be plenty of drama in each dressing room. And the ghosts of Fielding H. Yost and Rockne will be there in the respective teams' dressing rooms.

Talk about drama. It can't be beaten.

And there will be such moments in every college football stadium in the land. None of it will appear on the TV screens in your home. The cameras will show every play of the game -- even some you'll miss while sitting in the stands. But they won't show the dramatic moments in the dressing rooms as the players are given their final instructions.

New district gets our vote

THIS TUESDAY, Sept. 10, residents of the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township will go to the polls in a special election to decide whether a library district should be established to operate the Dunning-Hough Library for the Plymouth community.

The plan makes sense and deserves voter support.

The library presently is owned and operated by the city, and always has been. In recent years, Plymouth Township government entered into a contractual arrangement to receive services and pay its share for those services. Before that, payments were made on a more informal basis.

As with the contract for shared police services, there have been some disagreements between the two governmental units as to what a fair charge would be for library services and how to determine the accuracy of whatever method was used.

Just as the police department did, the library at times has become caught between political and philosophical differences between city and township. To gain independence, and to gain some freedom from political bickering, a library district has been proposed.

THE LIBRARY DISTRICT would be operated by the full-time professional staff which now runs Dunning-Hough.

The main difference is that the library staff will answer to the Library Board instead of to the city administration and City Commission.

The Library Board will be elected by city and township residents, so board members must be responsive to the public's needs if they wish to be re-elected.

Funding still will come from the governmental units, but the budget will be drawn up by and the request for funds will come from the Library Board.

Once the district is established, a decision will be made whether to seek voter approval for a library millage or to continue getting appropriations of funds from each governmental unit.

Establishment of the library district does not automatically change the way the library is financed. Neither will formation automatically create a library millage. A separate election must be held for a library property tax millage, if voters decide to go that route.

Right now the city has earmarked one mill of its general fund property tax for library operation. The township pays its contracted charge from general fund revenues but has chosen not to earmark millage for the library.

In the future, as now, the charge for each governmental unit will be pro-rated based on population and library usage.

Under the present arrangement, the Plymouth Library Board is made up only of city residents. The township has input only through its appointees to the Community Library Advisory Commission. The elected board under the district plan will give township residents representation for the first time. Once the district is established, both the city's library board and the advisory commission will be dissolved.

BY AN AGREEMENT reached before setting up the special election, the district board will continue to provide service at the Dunning-Hough Library.

The Plymouth Observer long has supported joining services between the city and township — for public safety, recreation, library, courts and building inspectors to name a few.

We endorse the proposal for the library district because it formalizes an arrangement which has been in place for years plus provides representation for township residents.

The Observer believes a library district will serve the best interests of city and township residents and urge our readers to vote "Yes" Tuesday.

Residents also will elect nine members to the new Library Board in Tuesday's election. Because only 10 residents have filed for the nine seats, the Observer will not endorse candidates for the board.

We do urge all residents to vote "Yes" to establish the library district and to elect nine members to the new board.

Most of all, be sure to vote. A decision on how best to provide library services should not be made by only 5-10 percent of the registered voters. If that's going to be the case, we might as well leave control in the hands of the politicians. Let your voice be heard Tuesday.

Plymouth Observer

TV comets for president?

WHO KEEPS coming up with the idea of pushing some famous person or other for national office?

I suspect a plot. Someone in West Bloomfield, or Dearborn, or Detroit, or someplace around here keeps coming up with the idea that Lee Iacocca should run for president. Someone in Georgia is trying to convince Georgia football coach Vince Dooley that he should run for the U.S. Senate. Someone has just about convinced TV evangelist Pat Robertson that he should be president.

Who is trying to convince political and governmental neophytes that they should be leading the country?

Perhaps it is the public figures themselves. Maybe they have caught the fever, becoming so impressed with what they have done in the present jobs that they must take on new messianic duties that will enable them to share their talents with the nation, maybe even the world.

IT MUST be the opposite of burn-out. Burn-out occurs when people are so intensely tied to their jobs and have so little opportunity for meaningful expression and acceptance, that they must give up. Those whose careers are burning so brightly that they must give up their present pursuits to find infinitely more challenging and rewarding pursuits suffer from a different malady. Call it comet-out.

Lawyers lose by default

GEORGE GOOGASIAN and James Tuck knew they were in for a bad time before the state Senate Judiciary Committee hearing in Pontiac last week.

The audience was packed with several hundred medical practitioners and hospital officials. They were sore about rising malpractice claims, the battering they were taking from lawyers, soaring liability insurance premiums and the threat to their livelihoods.

Googasian of Bloomfield Hills is president of the Oakland County Bar Association. Tuck is president of the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association. They were representing the legal industry, and they led with their jugulars.

That's a dangerous thing to do when the other guy knows how to use a scalpel.

IN THE tri-county area, there were 200 medical malpractice claims in 1970. By 1980 that number had risen to 1,200. Last year there were 2,200 such claims.

Were Googasian and Tuck going to defend the proposition that medical doctors are 11 times as incompetent last year as they were in 1970?

No. They never addressed the question.

One insurance company specializing in medical malpractice said the number of claims it handled jumped from 10 per 100 doctors in 1975 to 25 per 100 last year.

Those who want to comet out from their present plateaus of excellence into a new strata are usually encouraged by well-meaning friends and peers and often by fawning toadies who can think of no better way to flatter the big man's ego.

But those who want to encourage Iacocca for President bumper stickers seem to be in earnest. Even U.S. Sen. Don Riegle proclaims that Lee is his man.

I can see where people might get the idea that Iacocca would be a great president despite the fact that he has no governmental experience whatsoever — other than berating Washingtonians for not keeping a lid on Japanese imports and negotiating with Congress for a loan to save the old Chrysler Corp.

LEE IS, after all, a good TV pitchman and America loves a good TV pitchman. How else do you explain Johnny Carson's 20-plus-year reign as nighttime emcee and Ronald Reagan's six years as the greatest teleprompter reader this country has ever seen? In fact, Lee's strongest political points have been his TV commercials and his bestselling book. The book would never have sold as many copies as it has, however, if it hadn't been for his fame as point man for the New Chrysler Corp.

Iacocca, no doubt, would be great in selling the public the idea of reducing the deficit. I can see him now, strutting around on a big map of the U.S.A. saying to the camera, "If you can find a better country, go live there."

MAYBE THOSE people running around trying to convince the Iacoccas and Dooleys and Robertsons that they should run for office know something. Ever since TV became a factor in political races, there has been a tendency to elect the best TV performer.

Kennedy beat Nixon because of the TV debates. Johnson's TV ads were better than Goldwater's. Nixon edged Humphrey because the Hump was too long-winded and joyful on news programs. Nixon was ahead of McGovern because everyone was better on TV than McGovern, even Mrs. McGovern. Reagan beat Carter because he was a better TV performer and he didn't have Day 1 through Day 386 of the hostage crisis to deal with.

In the last election, Fritz didn't find his TV personality until it was too late.

TUCK RESPONDED with an off-the-wall attack on insurance company reserves. It was as if, living in a legal cocoon, he had never heard the insurance industry has been losing billions the last few years.

In fact, Tuck played right into the hands of an insurance executive who said that in Michigan it's incorrect to compare the premiums paid in one year with the claims paid that year. The reason: In Michigan, medical malpractice claims can be filed as long as 20 years after an alleged incident.

The insurance exec argued for an effective statute of limitations on malpractice claims.

Googasian and Tuck had no reply.

EVEN JUDICIARY Committee Chairman Alan Cropsey, himself a lawyer, was appalled at Tuck's failure to offer any constructive solution, let alone any comments on the complaints of the medical, hospital and insurance people.

Sen. Gilbert DiNello of East Detroit made the most sense when he suggested that a couple of law schools ought to be shut down because Michigan has too many lawyers filing too many unmeritorious lawsuits.

Judgment for the medical people, by intellectual default.

Competition For metro union chiefs, it's key to economic life

UNION LEADERS did a fair amount of breast beating in Monday's Labor Day parade over the plight of their movement. Actually, they fail to comprehend how much trouble they're in and how to get out.

Unions in the 1950s represented 33 percent of the work force; today, only 19 percent, according to Harvard economist James Medoff.

Unions in the '50s used to win 75 percent of the representation elections; today, less than 50 percent. Unions used to obtain first contracts in 85 percent of the places where they were certified; now, 65 percent.

THE LABOR DAY oratory was traditional and unimaginative: Replace the evil Reagan with militant political activity; get a friendlier NLRB, and so on.

Two things have changed in the last 30 years. One is that capital is in short supply. The other is that there is a surplus of labor.

Entrepreneurs, the people who allocate capital, don't have to sit around and take abuse from militant labor leaders and politicians any more. They can go to other states — even other nations — and be welcomed and honored.

One major reason southeastern Michigan was out of the running for the GM Saturn plant as soon as the race started was this region's militant propensity to generate workers comp injury claims. Our major area generates four times the number of claims per 1,000 workers that California County, one of the finalists, does.

BUSINESSMEN HAVE found other ways to elude the grip of militant labor leaders. They buy company cars from outside sources and use them for business and pleasure.

militant plants. "Out-sourcing" it's called.

One in every five American workers today is employed part time, according to the University of Michigan's Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations. Not only do employers get better productivity by using part-timers during peak business hours, but they save on health insurance, pensions and other fringe costs.

And then we have the continued trends toward automation and robotics. Machines are expensive, but when the cost of hiring a worker gets too high per unit of production, the machine gets the job.

GOVERNMENT LEADERS, too, are finding ways to bypass militant unions.

Wayne County Executive William Lucas won a major victory over AFSCME, the public employees union, when he leased the county-run, union-dominated hospital in Westland to a private firm in 1984.

The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments has done much research on how small school districts can provide specialized services through private contractors. Leaders of the Michigan Education Association may deplore the idea — but who elected them?

WORKERS IN other states are competing for this region's jobs.

Workers in private companies are competing for this region's industrial jobs and governmental jobs.

Part-timers, with a low inclination to join a militant union, are competing for work performed by full-timers with a strong inclination to vote for a union.

In a nutshell, organized labor in southeastern Michigan should think less about the word "militant" and more about the word "competitiveness."

Capital is scarce and labor is abundant. In such an economy, competitiveness is the key to labor survival.

High drama found off the football field

SOME OF the greatest dramas won't be found on the American stage. They'll be found in the dressing rooms of college football players as they get ready to step out on the field to defend the rating of their alma maters.

During the recent negotiations to avert a baseball strike in the major leagues, it was ruled that the television showing of a game and its every play were real entertainment and should be classified as such.

True. But the drama of the dressing rooms never is pictured, and the TV organizations would do well to arrange, if they could, for the pre-game drama off the playing field.

Over the years that he strolled along the athletic stadia of the land, many were the times when the drama of the dressing room was even greater than one would find on a stage.

THE FIRST time The Stroller ever suffered the agony of a lump in his throat at a football game came when he was just finding his way in the sports world.

It was the day of the big game back home when Lehigh University was playing Lafayette, and he was permitted in the Lehigh dressing room before the game.

Lehigh was coached by Tom Keady, a New England Irishman, and his brother Jim was in the Lehigh backfield. When the players dressed, they were told to sit in a large ring on the floor. Jim looked at the few spectators and winked, as if to say that he wouldn't get any of the barbs thrown at him.

Instead, coach Tom kept his brother for the last. Then he ordered him up. When Jim got to his feet, brother Tom placed his hand on Jim's shoulder and said, "Your name is Keady, I believe. Well, I am your brother Tom. And up home this afternoon, your mother is waiting to hear what her boys are doing in the big game."

"Is it going to be good news? Or is it going to be bad?"

Staring Jim in the eye, the coach said, "It better be good. If it isn't, you stay out here, and I'll see that you get a decent burial."

NEVER HAD The Stroller heard anything like that, and he never has forgotten it.

With that speech finished, "Bosey" Reiter, the athletic director with the rich voice, asked the players to rise, and he recited the old poem "Only The Game Fish Swim Upstream."

The players were off to battle.

Lehigh didn't win. But there wasn't an inch of ground gained around Jim Keady's section of the gridiron. The pre-game drama had produced results.

YEARS LATER, when The Stroller covered the University of Detroit games, he well remembers how old "Dad" Butler used to give the players the last word.

As they were headed for the playing field, he always stopped them and said, in a very dramatic voice, "Only The Game Fish Swim Upstream." The U-D team went 22 games without a loss, a record that stood until the school abandoned the game.

Down in South Bend, Ind., Notre Dame coach Knute Rockne used one closing sentence to send the team out on the field. He would raise his hand and say, "If you keep the other team from scoring, you can't lose. And if every man does his job, we can score on every offensive play."

Rockne's pre-game strategy produced great teams.

THERE WILL be drama in Michigan Stadium when the Wolverines entertain Notre Dame for the opening game. And you can bet there will be plenty of drama in each dressing room. And the ghosts of Fielding H. Yost and Rockne will be there in the respective teams' dressing rooms.

Talk about drama. It can't be beaten. And there will be such moments in every college football stadium in the land. None of it will appear on the TV screens in your home. The cameras will show every play of the game — even some you'll miss while sitting in the stands. But they won't show the dramatic moments in the dressing rooms as the players are given their final instructions.

Economic index up

In July, the Detroit Area Business Activity Index once again moved forward three points to a level of 135 from 132 in June, according to Manufacturers Bank.

At 135, business activity in the local economy, after discounting inflation, is 35 percent greater than in the base year 1967.

For the first seven months of 1985, business is 10 percent ahead of 1984, said staff economist Patrick Anderson.

Between June and July, auto and truck production increased and auto sales remained strong. As partial offsets, electric power sales and steel output declined. July's activity level exceeds the average of the prior quarter and suggests continuing strength in the metro area economy.

The Detroit Area Business Activity Index is a monthly index of private business activity. It is comprised of eight different economic statistics and calculated on a seasonally adjusted, inflation-corrected basis by the economics department of Manufacturers Bank.

"Kathy's family needed hope."

A young mother with a serious illness. Her family in crisis. They came to Harper Hospital and found new hope. They learned that Harper is a university-based research and teaching hospital. A place where scientists work alongside physicians, transforming discovery into treatment. They found that Harper concentrates on the tough adult cases in cancer, heart disease and serious vision disorders.

Patients like Kathy come to Harper Hospital at the Medical Center with confidence. They come because Harper is a major participant, together with the Sloan-Kettering Institute in New York and the M.D. Anderson Tumor Institute in Houston, in America's network of only twenty Comprehensive Cancer Centers. Patients know that if the diagnosis is cancer, there is no better place to be than Harper Hospital. And they come with confidence because the Kresge Eye Institute is at Harper Hospital. This important Medical Center resource is devoted exclusively to the problems of vision. And through its research and clinical work, the Kresge Eye Institute gives new hope to millions with impaired vision throughout the world.

Harper is hope for heart patients, too. Its large scale, nationally recognized program brings together research, teaching, surgery and medicine. More open heart surgeries are performed each year at Harper than are performed at any other hospital in Michigan. But of more significance is the growing number of heart patients Harper is able to treat successfully each year without surgery.

For Kathy and her family. For you and your family. Harper Hospital is Science. Research. Hope and Healing.

Shops cater to eclectic tastes

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

If one word could be used to describe shopping in downtown Plymouth, that word probably would be "eclectic."

A drive through the downtown area can be deceiving, because many of the diverse shops are tucked away in mini-malls, a maze of shoppers' delights.

Though there is some overlapping, most are specialty shops that center on a single theme.

Walk along Forest Avenue from Wing Street before 9 a.m. and you'll be overpowered by the smell of bread baking at the Baker's Rack in the laid-back Westchester Place Shops.

The bakery sells meats and cheeses, but it's impossible to resist the custard-filled Napoleons, the chocolate chip custard-filled cannolis, the banana squares, the French-style cheesecake (regular or marble), the Swiss chocolate and rum truffles, homemade butter cookies, cinnamon bread, toffee nut bars, fudge brownies and especially the San Francisco sourdough bread baked fresh daily.

If you are looking for a gift and you can't find it in Plymouth, then you probably can't find it — period.

From stuffed ducks to brass spittoons, from fabric wall hangings to fossilized fish, Plymouth is fast becoming a place to go for a gift for the hard-to-please "person who has everything."

THOUGH FOREST Avenue, Penniman Avenue and Ann Arbor Trail have dozens of interesting shops. Certainly four of the more unusual would have to include "The Collectors' Shop," "Wild Wings," "Land & Sea" and "Healthways."

The Collectors' Shop sells 360-million-year-old Moroccan Ammonites and 58-million-year-old fish fossils from the Green River Formation in Wyoming — and that's hard to beat.

The shop stocks antique Chinese silver that's a mere 100-250 years old, as well. "We have lots of one-of-a-kind items," said Jill Wilson, who operates the store for William Micol, the owner. It has been located in the Forest Place Mall for about three years. The store itself is one-of-a-kind.

"Micol began the store because he loved minerals and fossils," said Wilson. "Some people visit it as a kind of a museum. Others know about us from all over the world. They drag other people in, saying 'You must see this shop.'"

The collectors' items include turquoise, silver, butterflies and gemstones. "We feature beautiful, unusual art from the earth," said Wilson. "We have pyrite, malachite from Brazil. Some people buy minerals, others buy fossils. 'We have begun to sell Chokin art from Japan, from Samurai armor, an unusual, traditionally oriental art form.'"

Wilson loves the Plymouth location. "It has a sense of community. People are out walking. Plymouth is very special. There's a sense of security," she said.

WILD WINGS specializes in wildlife art and artifacts. The top floor of the store has a wildlife art gallery. Below, the motif is obviously duck. There are stuffed ducks, carved ducks, duck mobiles, duck buttons, duck pins and duck books.

"The store isn't just for the hunter. It's nature," said Patricia Mosher, the store manager. "We all like nature and this is a beautiful store to be around."

Wild Wings holds gallery shows of wildlife artists and taxidermists. On Sept. 8, artist Jim Foote and taxidermist designer Frank Newmyer will show their work from 12-5 p.m. during the final day of the Plymouth Fall Festival.

Mosher said the many special events, such as the Fall Festival (Balloon Festival, Ice Carving Show) draw people to Plymouth and shoppers to Wild Wings. To capture some of the special event business, the store remains open seven days a week.

The price range is wide, from under $5, to $7,000 per item.

The mounted duck, "Drake Pintail," by Newmyer, costs $650. More affordable, but also unique, are the tiny duck or bird pins for about $20.

The store also has an unusual collection of duck stamp prints. These are enlargements of the postage-stamp-size stickers placed on hunter's licenses.

Wild Wings, 975 W. Ann Arbor Trail, has been at the same location for five years. Owner Kal Jabara also has a Grosse Pointe Farms store. There are 21 Wild Wings in the United States.

"We like Plymouth," said Mosher. "It's a very dynamic city. The chamber of commerce and the city work hand in hand. There's always something going on. There's a cooperative effort; people support their city. That's important."

While at Wild Wings, check out the fancy, oversized, beautifully decorated rural mailboxes located on the second floor.

Around the corner from Wild Wings, Land & Seas at 19 Forest Place is a gift store with a nautical theme. A few of its items include bulb horns, brass telescopes, brass spittoons, model ships, ship's wheels, barometers, sailing ship potholders, towels and sweatshirts, serving trays, cups, candleholders and pillows. There are dishes, ceiling hangings, aprons, carpet mats and wall fixtures, all with sailing motif.

UPSTAIRS is a gallery of — you guessed it — sailing prints. "Business has been really good, consistent," said Ronnie Cambra, who was minding the store for owner Mary Higgins.

Land & Seas has been in Plymouth for four years. There are four others in Michigan, the newest in Detroit's Trapper's Alley, and one in Tampa, Fla. The owners are planning to franchise the operation.

On Ann Arbor Trail, the Healthways store features Tofutti, the dessert derivative of tofu.

Healthways offers visitors free samples of the frozen dessert, which has half the calories of ice cream and no cholesterol and comes in flavors, such as "wildberry."

"It's a high source of protein," said Jean Bruny, a store employee. "It started in California before we got it," she said.

The store currently is selling "macrobiotic" foods. "They're a way of life as well of eating," said Bruny. "They are supposed to provide an anti-cancer diet."

Healthways also sells amino acids, non-alcoholic wines, tennis elbow athletic lotion and liniment, Joe Weider's body-building food. The store also has many well-stocked shelves of vitamins.

HEALTHWAYS features a weekly analysis by an iridologist: "Learn what your eyes say about your health."

Healthways, which has been located in Plymouth for more than six years and can be found only in Plymouth, offers vegetarian cooking classes. "It's been a great location," said Bruny. "It's very central."

In Forest Place Mall, "Bed 'n Stead" offers a fine collection of small cloth dolls for sale, in addition to cloth wall hangings, scented soaps and candles.

The specialty store also sells pin cushions, unusual hot pads, colonial-style bonnets, crocheted dollies, quilts and large selection of refrigerator magnets. "We've getting our Christmas arrivals now," said Gail Norback, a store employee.

The specialization doesn't end there. Downtown Plymouth also has a store that sells only fabric wall hangings (Fabric Accents), cooking utensils and coffees (Cook's Pleasures), country-style sofas, tables, wall fixtures and dried flowers (The Saltbox), model kits (Plymouth Hobby), bridal gowns (Lina's Bridal and Imports), cheese and wine (Cheese and Wine Barn), leathers (Hands on Leathers), books (Plymouth Book World) and children's gifts (The Rainbow Shop).

Probably one of the best selections of greeting cards can be found at Hugh Jarvis Gifts, on Ann Arbor Trail.

Jarvis also owns the Wayside, a few doors away. Wayside specializes in lamp shades and lamp repair and English imports.

"We love downtown Plymouth. The people are super. There's always something going on," said Sue Scott, the manager of Jarvis and Wayside.

From candy to lingerie (Sonny J's) to quiet dining (The Cory Cafe, Butterflies Bistro), Plymouth is a good place to look.

Optimist pet show Saturday morning

The Plymouth Optimist Club will present a pet show during the Plymouth Fall Festival Saturday.

The show will begin with dogs at 9 a.m., then proceed to unusual pets at 10 a.m. and conclude with cats at 11 a.m., in front of the Penn Theatre.

Categories include dogs — smallest, biggest, longest tail, longest ears, most spots, best dressed, best looking, unusual — biggest, most colorful, best dressed, most unusual; and cats — smallest, biggest, longest hair, best dressed, best looking. The judges are Bill Strahan, Kaaryn-Falardeau and Connie Dristy. Carolyn Tkacs is chairman.

The annual pet show is open to any child under the age of 16. All animals are required to have been vaccinated.

Antiquers' delight

The Plymouth Symphony League Antique Mart at the Plymouth Cultural Center on Farmer Street is a major attraction for collectors during the Fall Festival. The show opens at noon Friday, Saturday and Sunday and runs until 5 p.m. the first two days with a 9 p.m. closing on Sunday. Twenty dealers traditionally save their finest antique furniture, jewelry, accessories, paintings and primitives for the show.

Mary and Jake Dingeldey begin second 25

Last week I promised to tell you how you can help a lady in distress. Some of you may recognize that phrase as one referring to the all-American drive to restore our Statue of Liberty. I'm sure many of you have heard about ways to donate to the restoration fund. However, you may not have gotten around to participating.

Well, I've got an offer you can't refuse... or won't want to. Not only will you be contributing to a fund that means so much to all Americans, but do you think you could handle a grand prize of a 1986 Ford Aerostar Van? It's American-made, naturally, and donated by Ford Motor Co.

How's that for an attention-getter? The contest is called, appropriately enough, "Help a Lady in Distress." It is sponsored by Air Transport Local 521 American Airlines Employees, with all proceeds going to the restoration of the "Lady." All prizes are donated and ticket sales are being handled by the employees, so we are talking about all the proceeds going directly to the restoration fund.

You say you don't need a van right now? Tell me you don't need this, the first prize, which is transportation for two via AA to any domestic city or Hawaii? Now, should you not win either the grand or first prize, would you settle for second? That's an RCA video recorder donated by Adray Appliance. Now am I talking about prizes you can relate to? All this, and tickets are just $2 each or 3 for $5.

I'LL BE HONEST, folks. I plan to win. However, should I not, I would love to see one of you win. Of course, I will expect you to take me with you if you win the trip. There is no need to run into an AA office to get your tickets, that would be too inconvenient. You see, they are providing a special P.O. Box just for mail-ins! You must include your name, address and phone number and they will acknowledge receipt of your entry. The address is Statue of Liberty Restoration, P.O. Box 42452, Detroit 48242. Deadline is Sept. 30. There you have it — the perfect way to show support for our "Lady."

THIS CONTEST holds a special place in my heart.

It was through American Airlines that I was able to see the Lady firsthand, as I worked for AA for nine years. I truly miss the people, the flying, the action, the flying, the excitement, the flying, the pace, the flying, the smell of the engines, the flying, and let's not forget... the flying.

For a long time after my job function was transferred to Cincinnati, I couldn't go near the airport without tears. But I am ready to return to the skies, and if I must resort to winning trips, by golly I'll do it.

But you can always try if you want to. Just remember, you win, you take me! Again, only $2 each, or 3 for $5, and what a reward for the winner. Good luck.

I OWE A big apology to some Cantonites.

I received the information about their 25th anniversary celebration and promptly lost it. But guess what I ran across making my semi-annual, quarterly, bicentennial, periodic, official desk clutter cleanup? You've got it!

So here it is, a tad on the belated side, but none the less sincere: a big happy 25th anniversary to Mary and Jake Dingeldey.

The name may be familiar to you. Allow me to list a few of the possible reasons for this.

Jake is the son of our former Canton supervisor, Phil Dingeldey. As a matter of fact, Supervisor Dingeldey served longer than any other supervisor for Canton. His last term ran from 1965 to 1974.

But that is not where the Dingeldey clan stopped. Jake is superintendent of our D.P.W. Mary, though married into the Dingeldey family, carries on the community spirit. She was running for township trustee when she was stricken with leukemia. Victorious in her battle with this disease, she became the person for whom the Western Wayne County Children's Leukemia foundation was formed and continues to support the annual blood drives sponsored by this group here in Canton each year. Mary then took on the enormous task of chairing the Sesquicentennial Committee.

She continues to be involved in Canton, especially the seniors of Canton for whom she holds a special place in her heart. And you may remember her 12th hour campaign for the position of Clerk for Canton Township. This was at the request of the Democratic Committee after our tragic loss of Canton's long-time clerk, John Flodin, just prior to the election date.

So there you have it, a very brief and embarrassingly incomplete summary. The Dingeldeys' active community life, in some ways, accounts for the rather large 25th wedding anniversary party thrown for these two who have served so many and continue to care so much for Canton and her residents.

The party was a surprise created by the devious minds of their offspring, their friends and various family members scattered here and there. The entire thing was kept secret until Mary's mother, Marie Zeiber, her sister, Dottie Norlander, and fiancé Doug Fouk; along with Mary's godson, Danny, all came strolling in the door. Not so amazing, you say, and probably not reason for alarm in most homes. However, these people all live in Minnesota. Not much chance they were on a casual shopping trip to Meijers.

Thus began a wonderful day for Jake and Mary, not one they are likely to forget. A good beginning on what they describe as the next 25. All in all, about 80 friends, neighbors and relatives showed up to wish this couple congratulations and dine on the famous barbecued chicken you're likely to find at summer gatherings at the Dingeldeys'. This chicken is prepared much like that at the Canton Country Festival, over a large brick grill, slow and easy with loads of cooks turning it.

The work load was shared evenly among the gang. Carol, the youngest daughter, handmade the invitations. Theresa, the eldest, and a friend prepared the huge cake. Most of the cleanup was handled by the boys, Doug and Jimmy. Monique Zurek, Doug's friend, and Cheryl Jahoda, Jimmy's fiancé, pitched in at every turn as they always do. Nobody misses a turn at the Dingeldey house.

Never ones to let an opportunity for some fun go by, the kids had a huge 24-by-30 picture painted in caricature from the Dingeldeys' wedding picture. It's things like this that make parents want to repeal the child labor laws. Since Carol, the youngest, has graduated from high school, I suppose it's a little late for that to help now. On the more glamorous side, they received loads of silver and the best afternoon ever.

Many of us never know just how our lives have affected others. How fortunate Mary and Jake are to have had this occasion to remind them how many people count them as close and good friends. The tribute was well-deserved. These two smiling folks have touched so many, being there when they are needed. Knowing full well how precious every minute of life is, they don't use each moment for their own comfort. They find useful ways to share their time with individuals, and in deep community involvement and service. This is a couple going for all the gusto life has to offer, and sharing it with others.

Congratulations and thanks, Mary and Jake and your wonderful family, P.M.A. gang, now and forever.

NOTE: P.M.A. is Positive Mental Attitude, which is what held Mary together during her bout with leukemia.

Sweet Adelines present free concert

The Midwest Harmony Chapter of the Sweet Adelines will present a free concert 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 13, in the auditorium of the Livonia City Hall, Civic Center Drive and Five Mile Road.

"Midwest Harmony recently moved from Westland to Livonia, and this is our way of saying to the community, 'We're here to entertain you,'" said Sally Ettinger of Livonia, chorus choreographer and section leader.

Midwest Harmony sings four-part close harmony, barbershop style, a distinctly American musical form. Some songs have dance movements integrated into the performance.

The free concert is family entertainment. The group is directed by Dixie Dahlke, award-winning Sweet Adeline singer and director.

Following the concert, Midwest Harmony is holding a guest night Wednesday, Sept. 18, for all women in western Wayne County. It will allow them to visit and see what barbershop singing for women is all about.

In addition to providing the enjoyment of singing in close harmony, membership in Midwest Harmony offers companionship, challenge and personal growth, according to Linda Lupo of Canton, president.

Crystal Classic is one of the Sweet Adeline quartets that will perform at the Midwest Harmony free concert Friday, Sept. 13, in Livonia. Claudia Swisher of Canton (left), Shirley Heatlie of Westland, Linda Lupo of Canton and Carol Fox of Brighton.

Kidman-LeBlanc

Lizabeth Leigh LeBlanc and Ian Kidman exchanged marriage vows July 13 in St. Mary Magdalen Chapel, Camarillo, Calif. with the Rev. James Aquilano officiating. The bride is the daughter of former Plymouth resident, Virginia LeBlanc of Port Hueneme, Calif., and the late Norman LeBlanc. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kidman of Camarillo.

The bride's ivory taffeta gown was trimmed with Alencon lace and simulated pearls. Her cathedral train had Shiffl embroidery and she wore a fingertip veil. She carried a mother of pearl prayer book with two white roses and a cymbidium orchid, the prayer book carried by her mother on her wedding day. Her attendants were Cheri Millard, Jan Guszynski, Barbara Ratliff, Terry Turpin, Sara Kidman and Erin Fox as flower girl. The maid of honor and flower girl wore dusty rose taffeta dresses and the bridesmaids wore dusty pink.

The bridegroom's attendants were Roy Rodriguez, Phil Suarez, Jon Long, Dave Kidman, Tom Kegolis and ring bearer, Dusty Lacroix.

After a wedding reception at Westlake Inn, Westlake, Calif., the couple went on a Caribbean cruise. They are living in Oxnard, Calif.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Plymouth Canton High School. She attended Ventura College and is employed at Mervyn's Department Store. Her husband graduated from Camarillo High School in 1977. He attended Moor Park College and is employed by Power-One Inc. as senior designer.

FrameWorks to feature P. Buckley Moss works

The FrameWorks of Plymouth will feature the works of nationally known artist P. Buckley Moss from Sept. 24 through Oct. 19.

Moss is known for her paintings of the Mennonite people of the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. Her style and subject matter have made her one of the most widely collected artists painting today.

The show will include the works of Moss, with original works, and more than 200 offset lithographs.

There will be a reception for the artist Tuesday, Sept. 24, from noon to 2:30 p.m. and 6-9 p.m. at The FrameWorks, 833 Penniman. Moss will inscribe pieces purchased Sept. 24.

In addition to original watercolors, silkscreens and offset reproductions, there will be collector plates and figurines at The FrameWorks.

Tetanus shots save lives

Getting that tetanus booster shot - even with its temporary soreness - is much easier on you than getting lockjaw and much less painful.

Spores which cause tetanus are everywhere. Even a tiny wound can become infected. Usually, though, it is in deep wounds where the infections get started.

Among the symptoms of tetanus are aching jaw, face and neck muscles combined with difficulty in swallowing and opening the mouth. In its advanced stages, painful, violent spasms of the jaw muscles occur, which is why tetanus is often called "lockjaw."

Those who survive it face a long recovery period. Even they should still have tetanus shots, because having the disease does not insure immunity.

Most small children in Michigan get tetanus toxoid as part of a combination immunization injection given routinely during early school years. However, by mid-teens and later, the number of people who have active protection against tetanus drops rapidly. This is serious because tetanus is one of the few infections that still has a high death rate. Even when death does not occur, the course of the infection is terribly painful.

So, it just makes good sense to be sure your whole family is protected against tetanus through periodic immunization as recommended by your physician.

AAA Michigan's fifth annual "Zero-Proof Mix-Off" competition for creating non-alcoholic holiday drinks will be open not only to professional bartenders this year but to the general public as well. Anyone age 18 and over may enter, submitting recipes for drinks to be served during the Christmas-New Year's holiday season. First prize is a $1,000 trip for two to Florida, second prize is $250 cash, third prize is $150, fourth prize $100. Contest deadline is Monday, Sept. 16. Entries may be submitted to: AAA Michigan, Great Pretenders Guide, Public Relations Dept., 1 Auto Club Drive, Dearborn, MI 48126.

Twirler tops at fair

Elizabeth McFarland, the daughter of Dale and Fay McFarland of Plymouth, won four trophies during baton-twirling competition Aug. 24 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

McFarland, 13, a student at East Middle School, was awarded trophies for her performance in military strut, two basic struts and solo twirling.

She has been a baton twirler for six years and has accumulated more than 50 trophies and 60 medals in competition in Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo and Ohio.

McFarland, who hopes to win a national championship, is coached by Debbie Gray of Livonia and prefers double-baton routines, rather than single-baton routines.

This Samaritan aids others with counseling

By Loraine McClish
staff writer

Local ministers who may not have the time to provide long-term counseling to parishioners may soon be able to refer them to an independent pastoral counseling center.

February 1986 is the target date for opening Samaritan Counseling Center of Southeast Oakland County. It will be based in Knox House on Farmington Road, adjacent to First Presbyterian Church of Farmington.

The pastoral counseling center is independently incorporated and affiliated with Samaritan Institute of Denver, Colo., which acts as parent to 53 centers across the country.

The local board of directors is made up of 22 persons representing 12 churches in Farmington Hills, West Bloomfield and Livonia.

Kenneth Glide, who has been active in the yearlong planning sessions to get the center under way, described the services to be offered as "an extension of the ministry to people who face stress."

LARRY AUSTIN, assistant minister at First Presbyterian, said the proposal was readily accepted by so many of the local clergy because "the administrative business of running a church simply does not allow the time to give the sometimes lengthy counseling that might be needed by those who come to their minister seeking help."

Jim Laurie, a Samaritan Institute representative acting as resource person, said the Samaritan centers have grown since their beginnings in Elkhart, Ind., in 1972 because "people in stress feel comfortable asking for help in a pastoral setting. They trust their church. Our statistics show that 57 percent of the population turn to their priest or their minister first when they are in trouble."

According to Samaritan Institute guidelines, $50,000 must be raised to open the center's doors here. A grant from the (William) Angell Foundation together with contributions from some of the affiliated churches and individuals has launched the fund drive.

"Now we're looking for contributors: foundations, groups, companies, individuals," Glide said. "Our budget for the second year will be $30,000, if we continue to follow the pattern other Samaritan centers have followed and we have done that so far. By the beginning of our third year we should be self-supporting."

THE initial planning is done, the need for such a center here is established and a board of directors each of whom holds multiple degrees has been named.

A nationwide search has been started to hire the center's executive director.

Fees for clients, also according to Samaritan guidelines, "will be less than any government agency," Glide said, "and the budget will also accommodate persons who can't afford to pay that."

One of the first jobs for local Samaritan's initial task force was to establish a need for such a center here. The affiliated churches all participated.

"The best example I can cite on the need came from the Dearborn Pastoral Counseling Center, a conglomerate of four churches in Dearborn. This is not connected with Samaritan, but it is worked on the same principle. It serviced 584 clients in one year and those clients came from as far away as Ann Arbor and Toledo," Glide said.

The Rev. Larry Austin

Kenneth Glide

The Rev. James Laurie

LAURIE EMPHASIZED that Samaritan centers are not crisis centers. They are non-denominational and clients are counseled within their own belief system and "nobody is going to be converted from one religion to another."

"We're not out to change anybody's mind," he said. "We use their belief to help them think through and solve their problem themselves, which is the basic tenet of counseling."

Samaritan centers use the holistic approach of healing the mind, body and spirit, which in Laurie's words "is getting rid of the stress that caused the ulcers to get rid of the ulcers."

THE LOCAL churches brought together to bring about Samaritan Counseling Center of Southeast Oakland County are Church of Our Savior, Covenant Baptist, Faith Covenant, First Presbyterian of Farmington, Nardin Park United Methodist, North Farmington Baptist, Orchard United Methodist, Newburg United Methodist, St. Colman, Trinity Episcopal and West Bloomfield Methodist.

Persons who wish to make a donation to the new center, or those who have questions are invited to call Austin at First Presbyterian Church of Farmington, 474-5170.

Margaret Hess to teach Bible class

The community Bible class taught by Margaret Hess will begin its fall session Tuesday at Ward Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

The class will meet Tuesdays throughout the school year. Twenty-five small groups will meet for discussion 9:30-9:55 a.m. Hess then will teach in the sanctuary 10-11 a.m.

The class is made up of men and women from 23 different denominations and church groups.

This year they will be studying the life of Christ using a course written by Hess, who draws upon her experience as a mother and grandmother to show how the Bible can help solve the everyday problems of living. She is the wife of Ward's pastor, Dr. Bartlett L. Hess.

Hess started teaching the class 26 years ago in the basement of a home, before Ward had a building. Before that she taught classes in the Detroit and Chicago areas. She has written seven books and is listed in Marquis' "Who's Who of American Women."

Joan Bass of Northville will serve as the new coordinator for the class. Study material for the first half of the year will be available at 9:10 a.m. Tuesday for $1. Participants also may sign up for a small group at that time.

Three nurseries will be provided for infants, toddlers and preschoolers.

Child abuse can be emotional too

CHILD ABUSE is not a recent invention. A look at morning talk shows or news headlines leaves one with a notion that this tragedy is a new phenomenon, another by-product of a bad age.

Columbus may have discovered America, but he did not invent it. Headline writers and some social workers may have discovered child abuse, but unfortunately it has been around for a very long time. Most child abusers themselves were once the victims of child abuse and not just recently.

Sometimes it has been, and continues to be, in the form of physical violence. Sometimes it is in the form of sexual exploitation. And that is always violent regardless of the form it takes. Scabs and broken bones inflicted on children by adults quickly draw our anger.

BUT THERE is another, more subtle brutality inflicted on children that does not seem to provoke much wrath at all. Nor is there ever any jail time hanging over the heads of these abusers.

This may be learned, emotional abuse. While this kind of abuse does not moral perspectives

provoke the same level of anger, it nonetheless leaves scars that far outlast the black and blue marks.
Whether the abuse in question is physical or emotional, child abusers all have one thing in common. They have a need or a want (usually perceived as one and the same), and they are willing to do anything to have it met, even harm a child.
But the emotional scars often fail to see that they are shining at all. In fact, they would be quick to condemn anybody who would harm a child, even while sweeping all over their own.

There are many who abhor the effect of divorce on children. No one can argue the pain, but more than that, not is not the divorce itself that brings parent. It may be the need to make a last-ditch effort to stop the spouse from leaving. Custody battles, however often are used here. Or if the break already is well on its way, the anger often is misdirected to the most available and least-threatening target. Again, once the child.

Adults may make mistakes in their marriages or even their marriage choices. At times divorce is inevitable. But none of this can justify the kind of child abuse that often results in the first attempt to meet one's need or want.

Broken children and damaged psyches are brutal products of emotional abuse. But so are some marriages. Let us hope that no child is ever abandoned.

ONE APPROACH is to have the child be the message carrier between two adults who have not learned to talk with one another. "Go tell your mother..." or "What does your father..." What does it feel like to be a child in such a bind?
Or which side is a child supposed to take when told how terrible his or her other parent is? The child is the victim of course. In the Maison a pawn in ongoing feud?

THE DAVE HARDING rule really hit home this week. Despite a court injunction which will allow basketball player Yvette Maison to play tonight against Temperance-Bedford, officials of the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) still contend she must sit out a semester under their interpretation of transfer rules.

Last year Maison was a sophomore starting guard for Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher. Tonight Maison will be playing guard for Farmington Hills Mercy.

Maison switched schools when her family moved from St. Clair Shores to Union Lake. The commute for her from Union Lake to Mercy, located at 11 Mile and Middlebelt roads, was significantly closer than the commute from Union Lake to Harper Woods.

The MHSAA, the governing body of prep sports in Michigan for 700 public and private schools, says Maison has not left the Gallagher "service area" and thus must sit out the fall girls basketball campaign.

If Maison had been a public school student, transferring from the St. Clair Shores district to the West Bloomfield district (where she now resides), she'd be eligible.

MANY BELIEVE that MHSAA Executive Director Vern Norris, in his interpretation of Maison's case, is playing hardball.

With unlimited boundaries for private schools, many public school coaches, administrators and athletic directors feel they have unfair advantage when it comes to competition.

Norris contends that Union Lake could be a "service area" for Gallagher even though no Union Lake students travel 46 miles to attend Gallagher.

It's true, however, that some of the Catholic League's most powerful athletic schools — Redford Catholic Central, Birmingham Brother Rice and Warren DeLaSalle — draw students from as many as three different counties.

When Hartland was beset by millage problems, several prominent athletes wound up at CC. Hartland is nearly 40 miles northwest of CC, not much different as Union Lake to Harper Woods.

CATHOLIC SCHOOL officials steadfastly refuse to set up "service areas," fearing that may cause the collapse of some their schools. But in other major metropolitan areas, archdioceses have set boundary areas.

The Maison transfer seems harmless and unprecocious. But she is just a pawn in the latest battle between public and private schools.

Public school officials around the state rarely question or challenge an MHSAA rules interpretation. Most public schools are limited by district boundaries, a notable exception being Detroit, which has open enrollment in 17 of its 22 high schools.

The MHSAA is a Catch-22 set-up. The Executive Staff (Norris and Co.) hand picks 19 members from around the state to serve on the Representative Council. The council, in turn, appoints Norris to run the association.

The Maison case is unusual because Mercy High School officials, particularly new athletic director Ellen Sekerak, gave their full support to Maison's parents, who filed the court injunction.

There was a time when the MHSAA had no transfer rules at all. A historical case that comes to mind is the Dave Harding affair.

In the 1970-71 school year, Dave Harding was a strapping 6-foot-3, 200-pound Jack Armstrong-type who made All-League in football and basketball at Redford Thurston.

AS A JUNIOR, Harding continued to excel in football at Thurston despite a lackluster season by the team.

The Monday after the football season ended, Harding switched to Detroit Catholic Central and soon was running around in basketball shorts with the state's No. 1-ranked team.

Thurston supporters screamed bloody murder over the transfer, charging that Harding was lured away. Once a proud football school, Thurston hasn't been the same since.

Harding said that by going to CC, he would get more exposure playing in a better league and would have a better chance of attracting a football scholarship.

Harding finished out his career at CC and landed a scholarship to Michigan, where he became a third-string tight end.

THE STIR caused by Harding's transfer sent a message to the MHSAA, which began work on a policy regarding transfers, ultimately leading to new rules.

Unless private and public schools begin to see eye-to-eye on the boundary issue, there's only one other solution — separate state tournaments. I know that wouldn't sit well with the private schools, who generally pride themselves on all-around excellence.

But separate tournaments are not unusual. It's a fact of life in states like Wisconsin, Texas and New Jersey.

Anyhow, don't you think it's ridiculous for Clarenceville to be competing in the same class as Dearborn Divine Child? Or Ladywood against Avondale?

If schools don't play by the same set of rules, the competition will forever be lopsided. Public and private schools, together with the MHSAA, have to come to some sort of compromise, or more Maison cases will continue to confront us.

GO-FER GYMNASTICS

Amanda Uherek, formerly of Canton, began her gymnastics career at the Go-Fer Gym Club two years ago. She is now a member of Bela Karoly's national elite team in Houston, Texas.

Petite elite

At age 9 gymnast is among nation's best

By Chris McCoosky

From the Westland Go-Fer Gymnastics Club's Novice team to Bela Karoly's National Elite Team in less than two years.

Amanda Uherek's gymnastics climb has been, to say the least, meteoric.

It began in January 1983 when Robert and Linda Uherek of Canton Township enrolled their 7-year-old daughter, Amanda, in the Go-Fer Gymnastics Club.

"When she started, we saw this tiny, thin gutsy girl — extremely competitive," said Ron Westerman, who along with his wife, Cindy, run the Go-Fer gym. "We felt all along she was special. She had a lot going for her."

The Westermans were in no small way responsible for Uherek's rapid development.

"THE NOVICE program we developed was really a pet project of ours," Westerman said. "It was our idea that the younger kids in the program should get more out of gymnastics than just the activity. It should be more like a real sport."

"As a coach, it's easy to get wrapped up in your high-level kids and lose interest in the low-level kids. We looked at our younger kids as the future of our team."

Thus, the Go-Fer Novice program, for kids ages 5 through 8, teaches every phase of gymnastics and stressed competition.

"Our first group of novice kids really shocked the state," Westerman said. "People couldn't believe how competitive and talented they were at such a young age."

Such a talent was Amanda. She earned a spot on the Go-Fer Novice A Team in 1984 and won the all-around championship at the Hartland Invitational that year.

people in sports

SHE ALSO became the youngest United States Gymnastics Federation performer in the state to qualify for the state sectional meet.

This summer, 15 gymnasts from Michigan attended Bela Karoly's summer camp in Houston. Karoly, you may know, coached Nadia Comaneci and Mary Lou Retton in addition to coaching the U.S. Olympic Team in 1984.

After seeing Uherek, Karoly selected her for his Olympic Hopes Team, a group of the nation's top junior gymnasts.

Two weeks later, Uherek was put on Karoly's Elite Team with the likes of Mary Lou Retton and other Olympic gymnasts.

"For a 9-year-old to be on his Elite Team is a tremendous honor," Westerman said. "We're obviously very proud and honored ourselves."

It's been a grueling change of events for the Uherek family — moreso for Robert and Linda than Amanda. The family had to leave their Canton home of 10 years and relocate in Houston. Robert owns a business in Michigan and must commute.

"I MISS Canton," were Linda Uherek's first words when reached by telephone in Houston. "I really liked it up there. But this is a once-in-a-lifetime shot for a gymnast. It's just something we had to do for Amanda."

Amanda, she said, was adjusting well to her new environment. She is attending third grade in the Houston public school district and attends 2 1/2 hours of gymnastics classes weekly.

Shamrocks win Bay Village Cup

The Plymouth Shamrocks, an 11th hour addition to the prestigious Bay Village Challenge Cup Soccer Tournament near Cleveland, swept five straight matches to capture the title in the under-16 girls division Labor Day weekend.

"We weren't even going to be in the tournament, then some team dropped out at the last second," said coach John Stabnick. "It was a great experience for the girls. In addition to the championship, we won the Sportsmanship Award. The whole community seemed to adopt our team. They came out and cheered for us."

The goaltending of Karen Phillippi, a Plymouth Salem sophomore, helped the Shamrocks through the first three rounds. She shut out, in succession, Kitchner, Ontario, 3-0, Bay Village, 2-0 and Mentor, Ohio, 9-0.

IN THE semifinal match, the Shamrocks defeated Cambridge, Ontario, 2-1 in double overtime. Shannon Meath got the game-winning goal.

Jody Smalec gave the Shamrocks the championship with her penalty-kick goal in the second OT of the title game — a 3-2 win over Windsor. "I was hoping just to get through three games," said Stabnick. "No way did I think we could win it all."

The Shamrocks are: Rachel Thiet, Julie Stabnick, Tricia Carney, Karen Phillippi, Miki Easton, Shannon Donnelly, Teri King, Kathleen McNamara, Ellen Schnackel, Jody Smalec, Brook LaBine, Lisa Hall, Andre Overs, Shannon Meath, Renee Rice and Kristi Tanner.

Crusaders notch another

Katy Andreae powered the offense while a host of players combined on a stingy defensive effort that enabled the Livonia Crusaders under 19 girls soccer team to capture the Bay Challenge Cup last weekend in Bay Village, Ohio.

The victory was the fourth in six tournaments this summer for the Crusaders, coached by Dave Lusier and a descendant of his earlier FLIP Rowdies squad. The Crusaders are 23-4-2 for the summer.

Andreae, from Birmingham Seaholm, pumped in seven goals despite missing the championship contest of the four-game tournament with a twisted ankle.

The defense sparkled throughout the tourney, allowing just two goals. Doreen Beagle, a Livonia Stevenson grad now at Schoolcraft College, led the effort from her goalkeeper's position.

BACKS JULIE MEYERS (Livonia Churchill), Leigh Clancy (Farmington Hills Mercy), Kelly Davis (Churchill) and Michelle Gauthier (Plainwell) were exceptional, particularly in the Crusaders' 5-1 victory over the Warren Rowdies in Monday's championship game.

Kim Paterson (Stevenson) and Janice Kosman (Plainwell) each scored twice in the tournament final and Colleen Churchill (Churchill) had one goal.

In Sunday's semifinal, the Crusaders blanked Waterloo (Ont.) 3-0, with Andreae, Kosman and Meyers accounting for the scoring.

The Livonia-based team reached the tourney's final rounds by pounding Elmira (Ont.) 7-1 Saturday evening. Andreae notched three goals, but it was the halfbacks who dominated action.

Laura Alcalá (Livonia Franklin) had a goal and fellow halfbacks Lori Hauber (Brighton), Elaine Montambean (Mercy), Dorene Dudek (Churchill), Jackie Berbaum (Brighton) and Maura Bradley and Sue Gilmer (both from Plainwell) kept applying pressure offensively.

In Saturday morning's tournament opener, the Crusaders shutout host Bay Village 3-0, with Andreae and Churchill spearheading the offense and Meyers leading the defense.

Mercy transfer gets court date, will play

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

It is almost assured that Yvette Maison will be in uniform tonight when the Farmington Hills Mercy basketball team travels to Temperance-Bedford for the season opener.

How long she will stay in uniform, and whether or not the Mercy team will be punished for allowing her to wear the uniform, remains to be seen. Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick Ziem Thursday granted an injunction in a court order brought by the Maison family against a ruling of the Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) — the court has agreed to hear the Maison case.

With the court injunction, Mercy officials believe Maison is eligible to play without fear of penalty until the court action is resolved.

"There is a slim chance that we could forfeit the games," said Mercy athletic director Ellen Sekerak. "If the courts felt that the court action was frivolous, that we were just buying time so she could play, then they could bring penalty against us. But, the courts obviously believe there is a case or they wouldn't have granted the injunction.

"We are not here to buy time."

HERE'S WHAT the case is all about. The Maisons moved from St. Clair Shores to Union Lake this spring. Yvette Maison transferred from Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher High School, where she was the starting guard on the girls basketball team, to girls basketball

Mercy. The MHSAA considers the Catholic League one school district. And, in the MHSAA rule book it states that if an athlete transfers to another school within the same district or service area, that student must attend the new school one full semester before becoming eligible for athletics.

Thus, it was ruled that Maison must sit out one full semester (until January) before becoming eligible for athletics. That meant she would miss the entire 1985 basketball season.

The Maison family, and Mercy High School officials, fought the ruling.

The family sought a court ruling on the case. Judge Ziem granted an injunction and the court will hear the case Sept. 25.

"I will take my appeal before the MHSAA's executive board Sept. 23," Sekerak said.

Sekerak plans to bring before the MHSAA an affidavit, signed by Gallagher officials, stating the school doesn't service Union Lake.

SEKERAK, AND the Maison family, believe Yvette is eligible because they moved out of Gallagher's service area. The MHSAA executive board could rule Maison eligible as a result of the Sept. 23 appeal. If not, they would be in court Sept. 25.

Meanwhile, Maison will have played five games for the Marlins. Those five games could be forfeited according to MHSAA rules.

"Sure, we could look bad if we forfeited those games," Sekerak said. "But the state's penalty rule says games 'may' be forfeited, records 'may' be turned back. We think our case is strong enough that that won't happen. We believe in this. We think Yvette should be allowed to play."

Eagle cagers have new coach, hopes for 1985

Debbie Van Hoose, a three-year starter, is gone. Kim Allen, a three-year starter, is gone. Jeff Cook, the energetic coach, is gone. It's a brand new game at Plymouth Christian Academy.

Taking over the Eagles' girls basketball program is Mark Brandel, who will inherit a young and relatively diminutive team.

Still, Brandel is optimistic.

"I FORESEE an enjoyable season with the talent and potential this team has," he said.

One starter returns from last year's 4-13 squad: Kim Siefert, a 5-7 senior forward. Brandel is also high on senior guard Becky LeBarr and sophomore forward Jill Skrubellos.

"It'll be a tough race for us because of a couple of strong teams (in the Michigan Independent Athletic Association)," Brandel said. "But, we will give a number of teams a challenge."

Coaches, call in sports results

It's fall phone-in time again.

This is the time of year when we remind all Observerland coaches to please phone in the results of their meet, match or game. It's the only way to ensure complete coverage of all sports.

In the fall we service the following sports: football, girls basketball, boys and girls cross country, soccer, girls swimming, golf and girls tennis.

The sports nightline phone numbers (effective after 5:30 p.m.) are 591-2312 and 591-2305.

The best times to call are Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights. Results of Monday and Tuesday events will appear in Thursday editions and must be phoned in by 11 p.m. Tuesday.

Results of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday events will appear in Monday editions and must be phoned in by 11 p.m. Friday.

We will make every effort to get Saturday afternoon football games into the Monday edition. So football coaches, phone in the Saturday results immediately following the game.

Spartans kick North in pants

Good teams rarely forget near-upsets.

Livonia Stevenson opened the season last year with hard-fought 2-0 win against North Farmington.

On Tuesday, Stevenson coasted in its opener with visiting North, 7-0.

"We dominated," surmised Stevenson coach Pete Scerri.

Indeed, The Spartans outshot North 24-2.

Steve Karfis scored a pair of goals for the Spartans, the defending champions of the Western Lakes. Also scoring were Lars Richters, Ray Barnes, Christian Amborg, Dave Henretty and Pete Galea.

"We kind of got off on a bad foot," said North coach Cathy Cole. "Our outstanding goalkeeper Dennis McCarthy cut his fingers, and he's out for a week."

"We made some mistakes defensively and Stevenson took advantage of them, like good teams will."

Stevenson goalies Dan Millner and Jeff Bencik combined for the shutout.

"I'll tell you this," said Cole. "We'll cut the goal margin down the second time we play them."

CHURCHILL 1, LAHSE 0: Livonia Churchill keeper Karl Early Jr. (a Bentley product) was the star of this closely contested battle, Tuesday at home.

"He was very good," said Charger coach John Neff. "He made three or four real good saves. It was a dead even game. Either team could have won."

The reason Churchill won was Steve Michaelian's goal 10 minutes into the final half.

Churchill used 21 players in the contest — giving everyone a shot in the season opener.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL 10, BORGESS 0: Redford CC had a pleasant season opener at Mason Field in Detroit.

The win not only kicked off the 1985 campaign for the Shamrocks, but it provided a nice entry into the Catholic League race and a convincing triumph over a crosstown rival (Redford Bishop Borgess).

John Rehm provided the spark for CC's potent offensive attack.

CEP runners high on 1985

The boys and girls cross country seasons begin next week and the Centennial Educational Park teams hope to improve on last year's finishes.

The Plymouth Salem girls team, coached by Tom Truesdale, qualified for the state meet for the first time in the school's history. But, the Rocks will look to better their third-place finish in the Western Lakes.

The Salem boys team, also coached by Truesdale, failed to win a dual meet in the league and placed fifth at the Western Lakes meet.

Scott Steiner, the Rocks' best runner a year ago, has returned as assistant coach.

On the Canton side, coach Jim Hayes is looking to field two competitive units. The boys team returns seven solid runners and the girls, who finished the year with just one runner in 1984, have six runners out this year.

The Rocks and Chiefs will open the season Sept. 10 at home in a three-way meet with Ypsilanti.

Here is a composite look the four units:

PLYMOUTH SALEM GIRLS SQUAD

Graduation losses: Denise Durrer and Amy Miyazaki.

Coach's outlook for '85: "I am hoping for no less than the type of season we had last year. We should again qualify for the state."

PLYMOUTH CANTON GIRLS SQUAD

Coach's outlook for '85: "They will have races this year and that's really the important thing. The girls will be OK."

PLYMOUTH SALEM BOYS SQUAD

Coach's outlook for '85: "We don't have any real stars on this team and I know a couple of teams in the league do. But, I'm hoping we have enough people near enough to take some meets by bunch-running."

PLYMOUTH CANTON BOYS SQUAD

1984 finish: 2-7, seventh in Western Lakes.

Graduation loss: Bob Tellier.

Coach's outlook for '85: "We are going to be competitive with everybody we race this year."

Schoolcraft men open season with a double victory

Schoolcraft College's mens soccer team warmed up for Friday's featured match against Michigan State University by besting DuPage College 3-2 Sunday and Eastern Michigan University 4-2 Wednesday, Aug. 28.

The games provided coach Van Dimitriou with just what he wanted for his Ocelot team: playing time under game conditions, a chance to evaluate abilities and momentum gathered from two victories going into Friday's game.

"There's no question our players are looking forward to playing in front of a hometown crowd against some of their former teammates," said Dimitriou of Friday's MSU game.

THE MSU contest will be under the lights at Livonia Stevenson, starting at 7 p.m. There will be a $2 admission fee, with proceeds benefitting both the Schoolcraft and Stevenson athletic funds.

"It's not going to be an easy ballgame," Dimitriou said. "It will be a hard-fought game. Defense is (MSU's) forte, definitely."

Dimitriou had a chance to see many of the Spartan players this summer. They were members of the Lansing Arsenal under-19 squad that won its division at the Wolverine Soccer Tournament at Schoolcraft in July.

Against DuPage, the Ocelots overcame a sluggish first half to score three straight goals in the second. John Gelmist, from Stevenson, headed in the first on a crossing pass from Matt Pace (Kent County, England).

Randy Johnson, a Plymouth Salem grad who transferred from Florida Southern, assisted on the next two Schoolcraft scores. A perfectly placed corner kick to halfback Rob Costanza (Stevenson) resulted in an easy head-in goal. Pace then fired a bullet past the DuPage goalie after a pass from Johnson.

DUPAGE SCORED twice in the waning minutes to make the score close. Sam Matovski (Livonia Churchill) started in goal, splitting time with Jeff Vkratsis (Livonia Clarenceville) and Jeff Guido (Garden City).

"We dominated in the first half but couldn't finish the play," said Dimitriou. "We lacked intensity. In the second half, we made a couple of adjustments. We sent players through on a more direct attack. The whole team got more involved in the offense, we were more aggressive."

"One area I'd like to see us get a little stronger is on defense. We need to work a little more together."

Half of the EMU contest was played under game conditions and half was a controlled scrimmage. Pace pumped in two goals and Gelmist got one in the first half to stake the Ocelots to a 3-0 lead. Joe Mase (Livonia Bentley) netted Schoolcraft a goal in the second half.

Again, Dimitriou split time among goalkeepers Matovski, Vkratsis and Guido.

Amanda Uherek: In Elite Class at age 9

"Her day goes from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m., but she loves it," Linda said.

Amanda is being groomed for the 1992 Olympic games.

"She'll only be 12 in 1988 and that's the minimum age for competition," Linda said. "She is the youngest member of the Elite Team. She'll compete as a Class II gymnast this year."

The relationship between Amanda and Karoly is cordial, Linda said.

"He's a great man," she said. "It's a myth about him being so hard to get along with. He's very nice and he's strict. When you work hard for him, he's very affectionate. He gets upset when he thinks you aren't working as hard as you should."

From Go-Fer Novice to Karoly Elite — Amanda Uherek's meteor continues strong. As for Linda Uherek, the hope is the meteor burns at least through 1992.

"It's going to be a hectic life for the next seven years."

Labor Day Open finale becomes an ugly event

By Brad Emons staff writer

You didn't have to be at Flushing Meadows Monday afternoon to get a taste of John McEnroe.

The Schoolcraft Labor Day Tennis Open had its own version of McFiltchy and McNasty in the men's singles final, as Rochester native Hal Jolley defeated West Bloomfield native Ed Nagel for the $200 first prize, 7-6, 3-6, 6-4.

It wasn't the kind of match where you'd take your wife and kids along, as tournament director Joe Brennan had his hands full under sunny, blue (language) skies.

The fireworks began in the third set.

Jolley launched two consecutive missiles squarely at his competitor after Nagel played an apparent out-ball, then asking the linesman to reverse the call.

Brennan, acting as referee, over-ruled the linesman and awarded the point to Jolley. He then issued a misconduct warning to Jolley and then penalized Nagel one point for swearing.

Nagel then went into a fit of rage, demanding that the tourney director toss Jolley out for smashing two balls at him in light of Brennan's earlier disqualification of Kane Hunter for similar misconduct in a quarterfinal match against Mark Carrick.

JOLLEY AND NAGEL then waged their own battle, nearly coming to blows twice, once during the final changeover and then after the match.

When the fireworks subsided, Jolley left the scene with the first-place trophy under his arm, escorted by a Labrador retriever.

Nagel, meanwhile, grudgingly accepted the second-place trophy and $50 runner-up check. He then stormed out to the parking lot and vowed he'd never be back.

Ranked among the top 10 nationally in the U.S. Tennis Association (USTA) Boys 18's, Nagel spent the past two years playing at Pepperdine University in Malibu, Calif.

Nagel performed most of the season at No. 3 singles for Pepperdine before being dropped to the No. 4 spot by coach Allen Fox just prior to the NCAA tournament, held last May in Athens, Ga.

Unhappy with his role on the team and his surroundings, Nagel has opted to transfer to the University of Michigan, where he'll have two years of eligibility remaining after sitting out this season under NCAA rules.

IRONICALLY, Jolley and Nagel teamed up to win the $100 first-place doubles check, beating Mark Pinchoff, another West Bloomfield native, and Jeff Stassen, 6-4, 6-1. That was probably the last title you'll see Nagel and Jolley win together.

Almost lost in all the commotion was the women's singles final, where Denise Sherwood captured the $100 first-place check, besting Barb Burzinski in straight sets.

Brennan, who chose not to comment on the men's final, reported there were no incidents in the women's final.

Kick-off classics

Experts tested early with season openers

By Brad Emons and Chris McCosky staff writers

Let's briefly review the 1984 football season. Farmington Harrison made the Class A playoffs and Emons won the grid prognosticators race, going 81-31 to McCosky's distant (?) 80-32.

Let's briefly preview the 1985 football season. Is Farmington Harrison going to continue its stranglehold on Observerland football? And is this McCosky's year to beat Emons?

The first few weeks of the season will tell, especially with a series of non-league games to kick things off. Let's have a go at it again. Remember, no point spreads (we urge you to report all gamblers to the MHSAA).

FRIDAY GAMES

TRENTON at PLYMOUTH SALEM, 7:30 p.m. — Old Suburban Eight rivals meet again. If you listen to Trenton coach Jack Castignola, he'll tell you his team is down. Don't believe that.

This game pits two outstanding football traditions and two outstanding coaches (Castignola and Tom Moshimer). Pick — Trenton gets two votes.

WAYNE MEMORIAL at GARDEN CITY, 7:30 p.m. — Garden City, under first-year coach Bob Lusk, has a lot of question marks. Wayne, under first-year coach Chuck Howton, has more. Could be a close one. Pick — Garden City unveils some new talent, both agree.

LIVONIA STEVENSON at REDFORD UNION, 7:30 p.m. (Kraft Field) — Both teams lost a number of starters to graduation, but that usually favors Stevenson in first game conditions, especially when you have a guy like Jack Reardon, the area's second winningest coach. Also remember that Jim Gibbons is coaching his first varsity game at RU. Pick — Stevenson goes 1-0, it's unanimous.

STERLING HEIGHTS at LIVONIA CHURCHILL, 7:30 p.m. — The Observer's scouting report on Sterling Heights is vague. Now if it was Sterling Heights Stevenson, then Churchill would be in trouble. The Chargers got some much needed help with the closing of city rival Bentley. Pick — Emons likes Sterling Heights, while McCosky favors Churchill.

BELLEVILLE at WESTLAND JOHN GLENN, 7:30 p.m. — Belleville is no pushover, but Glenn is primed and ready for a banner season.

All eyes are on Glenn runner Tony Boles, but watch out for the arm of quarterback Steve Irwin. Pick — Glenn is off and rolling (2).

REDFORD ST. MARY'S at CLARENCEVILLE, 7:30 p.m. — St. Mary's barely got a team off the ground last year. Clarenceville, meanwhile, will always show up and give you a battle as long as veteran coach Ralph Weddle is on the scene. Pick — C'ville succeeds, both concur.

SATURDAY GAMES

WEST BLOOMFIELD at FARMINGTON HARRISON, 1 p.m. — West Bloomfield coach Dominic Livedoti smells an upset, but his Lakers have never beaten the Hawks. It's a new look Harrison team. Pick — Harrison looks good again to McCosky and Emons.

FARMINGTON at SOUTHFIELD, 2 p.m. — Last year the Falcons gave All-State running back Torin Dorn a battering in a 14-13 victory. Farmington is bigger and stronger this year, but so is Dorn. Could be a barnburner. Pick — McCosky likes the Falcons, while Emons takes the Jays.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN vs. DEARBORN FORDSON, 1 p.m. (at old Bentley) — The Patriots hope to keep last year's state Class A runners-up loose with a wide-open passing attack. Past games have been wars. This will not be quite the same. Pick — A down Fordson team has enough to win, both agree.

PLYMOUTH CANTON at NORTH FARMING-

TON, 1 p.m. — Can the Chiefs catch North scab-back Marc Brown? Canton lost Bentley off its schedule and picked up a powerful Raider team. What a deal. Pick — North, no doubt about it, say both.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL vs. ST. JOSEPH, 5:30 p.m. (at Silverdome) — Don't expect the roof to collapse on the Shamrocks this time after losing to Traverse City two straight years in their opener. No real scouting report on the team from the west side of the state, other than it had a great quarterback last year. But he's at Michigan now. Pick — CC happy days are here again, the experts agree.

BISHOP BORGESS at DEARBORN EDEL FORD, 2 p.m. — An intriguing match-up between a perennial Suburban League force and a Catholic League Central Division member. The Spartans have a huge defensive line, led by 6-2, 245-pound tackle Ed Dreslinski. Pick — McCosky drives an Edsel, but Emons stays with Borgess.

GIBALTAR CARLSON at REDFORD THURSTON, 1 p.m. — What can you say about Thurston except better luck this year? The Eagles lost to Carlson last season, one of nine lopsided defeats. Pick — Carlson finds the endangered Eagles to their liking, both agree.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA vs. DETROIT SERVICE, 7:30 p.m. (at Kraft Field) — The Aggies are sky high for 1985 with the return of several prominent seniors. Quarterback is Agatha's key. Tom Trujillo gets the call. Pick — Agatha is off and rolling, both say.

Tip-Off tourney pits Ladywood against Salem

Four of the state's top girls basketball teams, including two from Observerland, square off tonight in the annual Great Lakes Tip-Off Tournament at the University of Michigan-Dearborn Fieldhouse.

Defending Tip-Off champion Livonia Ladywood, a Class B state finalist last season, takes on Class A quarterfinalist Plymouth Salem in the 8 p.m. game.

The consolation and championship games are slated for 6 and 8 p.m. Saturday. Tickets, available at the door, are $2 for adults and $1 for students (per double-header).

Ladywood got an early jump on the rest of the Tip-Off teams, winning its season opener Friday at Traverse City, 54-24.

The Blazers, plagued by early foul trouble, led 25-18 at the half and then broke things open with a 12-4 spurt in the third quarter, followed by a 17-2 scoring spread in the final period.

SENIOR CENTER Debbie Lapinski led the winners with 18 points and nine rebounds. Senior guard Jenny Nadeau added 14 points on 7-of-11 field goal shooting. Seniors Cathy Schram and Sue Laliberte added 10 and eight points, respectively. Laliberte, a 6-foot forward, also grabbed eight rebounds.

Salem favored but challengers are many

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Some things remain constant when it comes to girls basketball in Observerland.

The 12-team, newly expanded Western Lakes circuit has a familiar favorite again - Plymouth Salem.

Livonia Ladywood is a strong contender again in the Catholic League, but whether the Blazers contend for another state Class B title is anyone's guess.

With 6-foot-3 All-State center Val Hall gone at Walled Lake Western and the closing of Livonia Bentley, Salem is the clear-cut favorite to win the title, mainly because of the return of freshman standout Dena Head and the area's winningest coach, Fred Thomann.

Ladywood was decimated by the loss of four starters, including Michigan's Miss Basketball Emily Wagner and sidekick Char Govan, a consensus All-Stater.

But the Blazers boast a huge front-line again and have four players with considerable varsity experience, including one of the top centers in the area, 6-foot Sue Laliberte. Remember the name Katie McNulty, too, a 6-1 sophomore.

Stevenson, Livonia Clarenceville, Redford Union, Redford Thurston, Redford Bishop Borgess, Redford St. Agatha and possibly Wayne Memorial.

These first-year coach will have their hands full: Jack Grenan, Clarenceville; Mary Reitzel, Wayne; and Mike Schuette, Thurston.

Their jobs could be may harder or easier if their respective leagues adopt the three-point shot.

WESTERN LAKES

Livonia Churchill

- Head coach: Roger Springsteen, third season.
- Last year's overall record: 6-15.
- Notable losses to graduation: Eight players including point guard Sheri McIntyre and post player Terri Schmitt.
- Leading returnees: Senior Jacki Wozniak, 6-foot post player; Junior Tracy Greenwald, 5-9 All-Western Division forward; Junior Nancy Call, 5-4 guard.
- Promising newcomers: Bentley transfers Amy Weber, 5-7 senior guard (starter); Liz Monroe, 5-8 junior forward (starter); and Julie Scroggs, 5-7 junior guard.
- Springsteen's '85 outlook: "We will be improved at every position. Our overall team depth will be improved. We should be more competitive than last year."
- "We would like to play a fast-tempo type of game to make use of good team quickness."

Livonia Franklin

more; Sue Balcoff, 5-4 Junior; Denise Vnco, 5-9 Junior; Crystal Foeter, 5-4 Junior; Kristen Cloo, 5-9 sophomore.

Henry's '85 outlook: "The team has worked hard during the off-season to improve their skills, but they have very little experience. Their defense has greatly improved. The degree of improvement will be the major factor in determining how successful we are against the more experienced teams."

Westland John Glenn

- Head coach: George Sommerman, 10th season.
- Last year's overall record: 18-3.
- Titles won: Northwest Suburban League champion (8-2).
- Notable losses to graduation: Julie Puoc, second-team All-Area guard (assist leader); Michele McCullen, third-team All-Area forward (leading rebounder); Cheryl Dodder, guard-forward (starter).

Leading returnees: Junior forward Jenny Olson, 6-foot forward (team's top scorer); Stacy Graham, 6-0 Junior center (starter); Diana Sommerman, 5-11 senior forward (starter as sophomore, injured last year); Mitzi Reddy, 5-5 senior point guard; Carol Hall, 5-7 senior forward; Vicki Bennett, 5-9 senior forward.

Promising newcomers: Theresa Tames, 5-10 Junior guard; Ruth Sommerman, 5-5 Junior guard; Lynn Morey, 5-10 Junior center/forward; Kristi and Karen Czechliol, senior guards; Erios Diets-Spitt, Junior forward; Robin Stoolwell, senior guard.

Sommerman's '85 outlook: "Graduation left a few holes, but we feel we can make up for the losses. Diana Sommerman will give us good strength inside. We think we have a very strong bench and a very good team attitude. We should be very tough for everyone (in the new league). It's going to be a new experience for the Rockets. We hope to do our very best and finish the season with a winning record in the league. We'll have to do some different things on defense and run more on offense. We should be more effective with our press."

CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Redford Bishop Borgess

- Head coach: Mike Reamer, second season.
- Last year's overall record: 0-17.
- Notable losses to graduation: Laura Skubik (starter).

- Promising newcomers: Katy Foley, sophomore guard; Tanisha Stokes, 5-10 freshman center; Mariam Carr, freshman forward.
- Reamer's '85 outlook: "We should be better than last year and win a couple of games. We hope to win a league (Central Division) game. We're two or three years away from contention. We have a good freshman class. We just hope to keep all the kids out."

Livonia Ladywood

- Head coach: Ed Keenanough, 10th season.
- Last year's overall record: 24-3.
- Titles won: Catholic League A-B playoffs, Operation-Friendship (City) title, Class B district and regional title; state Class B runner-up.
- Notable losses to graduation: guard Emily Wagner (Miss Basketball), forward Char Govan

(first team All-Area), guard Trish White (starter), Tracy Ladoconer (starter) and Becky Potnyewsk.

Promising newcomers: Monica Gall, 5-7 Junior forward; Katie McNulty, 6-1 sophomore center; Nicole Erwid, 5-4 Junior guard; Ann Marie Thomas, 5-4 sophomore guard.

Keenanough's '85 outlook: "We've had a good summer and we hope it continues this fall. A lot could depend on the bench. Our league (Central Division) is balanced. It could go to any number of teams. We'll play basically the same as the other teams."

Redford St. Agatha

- Head coach: Jim Murphy, ninth season.
- Last year's overall record: 4-12.
- Notable losses: Julie Belleville (graduation), Sue Reich (injury), Meyshila Bender (transferred), Lisa Mook (transferred).
- Leading returnees: Maryann Klok, 5-7 Junior forward (15 points per game); Janet Sypniewski, 5-8 Junior center (9 ppg); Laura Picano, 5-foot Junior guard.
- Murphy's '85 outlook: "We'll be very young, small and slow. We'll need a lot of help from Janet Sypniewski and Laura Picano. We'll work very hard - running, pressing all over the court."

Labor Day Open finale becomes an ugly event

By Brad Emons
staff writer

You didn't have to be at Flushing Meadows Monday afternoon to get a taste of John McEnroe.

The Schoolcraft Labor Day Tennis Open had its own version of McFillythy and McNasty in the men's singles final, as Rochester native Hal Jolley defeated West Bloomfield native Ed Nagel for the $200 first prize, 7-6, 3-6, 6-4.

It wasn't the kind of match where you'd take your wife and kids along, as tournament director Joe Brennan had his hands full under sunny, blue (language) skies.

The fireworks began in the third set.

Jolley launched two consecutive missiles squarely at his competitor after Nagel played an apparent out-ball, then asking the linesman to reverse the call.

Brennan, acting as referee, overruled the linesman and awarded the point to Jolley. He then issued a misconduct warning to Jolley and then penalized Nagel one point for swearing.

Nagel then went into a fit of rage, demanding that the tournament director toss Jolley out for smashing two balls at him in light of Brennan's earlier disqualification of Kane Hunter for similar misconduct in a quarterfinal match against Mark Carrick.

JOLLEY AND NAGEL, then waged their own battle, nearly coming to blows twice, once during the final changeover and then after the match.

When the fireworks subsided, Jolley left the scene with the first-place trophy under his arm, escorted by a Labrador retriever.

Nagel, meanwhile, grudgingly accepted the second-place trophy and $50 runner-up check. He then stormed out to the parking lot and vowed he'd never be back.

Ranked among the top 10 nationally in the U.S. Tennis Association (USTA) Boys 18's, Nagel spent the past two years playing at Pepperdine University in Malibu, Calif.

Nagel performed most of the season at No. 3 singles for Pepperdine before being dropped to the No. 4 spot by coach Allen Fox just prior to the NCAA tournament, held last May in Athens, Ga.

Unhappy with his role on the team and his surroundings, Nagel has opted to transfer to the University of Michigan, where he'll have two years of eligibility remaining after sitting out this season under NCAA rules.

IRONICALLY, Jolley and Nagel teamed up to win the $100 first-place doubles check, beating Mark Pinchoff, another West Bloomfield native, and Jeff Stassen, 6-4, 6-1. That was probably the last title you'll see Nagel and Jolley win together.

Almost lost in all the commotion was the women's singles final, where Denise Sherwood captured the $100 first-place check, besting Barb Burzinski in straight sets.

Brennan, who chose not to comment on the men's final, reported there were no incidents in the women's final.

Tip-Off tourney pits Ladywood against Salem

Four of the state's top girls basketball teams, including two from Observerland, square off tonight in the annual Great Lakes Tip-Off Tournament at the University of Michigan-Dearborn Fieldhouse.

Defending Tip-Off champion Livonia Ladywood, a Class B state finalist last season, takes on Class A quarterfinalist Plymouth Salem in the 8 p.m. game.

The first game, starting at 6 p.m., features Class C power Detroit DePorres against perennial Class B power Dearborn Divine Child.

The consolation and championship games are slated for 6 and 8 p.m. Saturday. Tickets, available at the door, are $2 for adults and $1 for students (per double-header).

Ladywood got an early jump on the rest of the Tip-Off teams, winning its season opener Friday at Traverse City, 54-24.

The Blazers, plagued by early foul trouble, led 25-18 at the half and then broke things open with a 12-4 spurt in the third quarter, followed by a 17-2 scoring spread in the final period.

SENIOR CENTER Debbie Lapinski led the winners with 18 points and nine rebounds. Senior guard Jenny Nadeau added 14 points on 7-of-11 field goal shooting. Seniors Cathy Schram and Sue Laliberte added 10 and eight points, respectively. Laliberte, a 6-foot forward, also grabbed eight rebounds.

Kick-off classics

Experts tested early with season openers

By Brad Emons
and Chris McCosky
staff writers

Let's briefly review the 1984 football season. Farmington Harrison made the Class A playoffs and Emons won the grid prognosticators race, going 81-31 to McCosky's distant (?) 80-32.

Let's briefly preview the 1985 football season. Is Farmington Harrison going to continue its stranglehold on Observerland football? And is this McCosky's year to beat Emons?

The first few weeks of the season will tell, especially with a series of non-league games to kick things off. Let's have a go at it again. Remember, no point spreads (we urge you to report all gamblers to the MHSAA).

FRIDAY GAMES

TRENTON at PLYMOUTH SALEM, 7:30 p.m. — Old Suburban Eight rivals meet again. If you listen to Trenton coach Jack Castignola, he'll tell you his team is down. Don't believe that.

This game pits two outstanding football traditions and two outstanding coaches (Castignola and Tom Moshimer). Pick — Trenton gets two votes.

WAYNE MEMORIAL at GARDEN CITY, 7:30 p.m. — Garden City, under first-year coach Bob Lusk, has a lot of question marks. Wayne, under first-year coach Chuck Howton, has more. Could be a close one. Pick — Garden City unveils some new talent, both agree.

LIVONIA STEVENSON at REDFORD UNION, 7:30 p.m. (Kraft Field) — Both teams lost a number of starters to graduation, but that usually favors Stevenson in first game conditions, especially when you have a guy like Jack Reardon, the area's second winningest coach. Also remember that Jim Gibbons is coaching his first varsity game at RU. Pick — Stevenson goes 1-0, it's unanimous.

STERLING HEIGHTS at LIVONIA CHURCHILL, 7:30 p.m. — The Observer's scouting report on Sterling Heights is vague. Now if it was Sterling Heights Stevenson, then Churchill would be in trouble. The Chargers got some much needed help with the closing of city rival Bentley. Pick — Emons likes Sterling Heights, while McCosky favors Churchill.

BELLEVILLE at WESTLAND JOHN GLENN, 7:30 p.m. — Belleville is no pushover, but Glenn is primed and ready for a banner season.

All eyes are on Glenn runner Tony Boles, but watch out for the arm of quarterback Steve Irwin. Pick — Glenn is off and rolling (2).

REDFORD ST. MARY'S at CLARENCEVILLE, 7:30 p.m. — St. Mary's barely got a team off the ground last year. Clarenceville, meanwhile, will always show up and give you a battle as long as veteran coach Ralph Weddle is on the scene. Pick — C'ville succeeds, both concur.

SATURDAY GAMES

WEST BLOOMFIELD at FARMINGTON HARRISON, 1 p.m. — West Bloomfield coach Dominic Livedoti smells an upset, but his Lakers have never beaten the Hawks. It's a new look Harrison team. Pick — Harrison looks good again to McCosky and Emons.

FARMINGTON at SOUTHFIELD, 2 p.m. — Last year the Falcons gave All-State running back Torin Dorn a battering in a 14-13 victory. Farmington is bigger and stronger this year, but so is Dorn. Could be a barnburner. Pick — McCosky likes the Falcons, while Emons takes the Jays.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN vs. DEARBORN FORDSON, 1 p.m. (at old Bentley) — The Patriots hope to keep last year's state Class A runners-up loose with a wide-open passing attack. Past games have been wars. This will not be quite the same. Pick — A down Fordson team has enough to win, both agree.

PLYMOUTH CANTON at NORTH FARMING-

TON, 1 p.m. — Can the Chiefs catch North scab-back Marc Brown? Canton lost Bentley off its schedule and picked up a powerful Raider team. What a deal. Pick — North, no doubt about it, say both.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL vs. ST. JOSEPH, 5:30 p.m. (at Silverdome) — Don't expect the roof to collapse on the Shamrocks this time after losing to Traverse City two straight years in their opener. No real scouting report on the team from the west side of the state, other than it had a great quarterback last year. But he's at Michigan now. Pick — CC happy days are here again, the experts agree.

BISHOP BORGESS at DEARBORN EDSSEL FORD, 2 p.m. — An intriguing match-up between a perennial Suburban League force and a Catholic League Central Division member. The Spartans have a huge defensive line, led by 6-2, 245-pound tackle Ed Dreslinski. Pick — McCosky drives an Edsel, but Emons stays with Borgess.

GIBLARTAR CARLSON at REDFORD THURSTON, 1 p.m. — What can you say about Thurston except better luck this year? The Eagles lost to Carlson last season, one of nine lopsided defeats. Pick — Carlson finds the endangered Eagles to their liking, both agree.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA vs. DETROIT SERVICE, 7:30 p.m. (at Kraft Field) — The Aggies are sky high for 1985 with the return of several prominent seniors. Quarterback is Agatha's key. Tom Trujillo gets the call. Pick — Agatha is off and rolling, both say.

Salem favored but challengers are many

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Some things remain constant when it comes to girls basketball in Observ-land.

The 12-team, newly expanded Western Lakes circuit has a familiar favorite again — Plymouth Salem.

Livonia Ladywood is a strong contender again in the Catholic League, but whether the Blazers contend for another state Class B title is anyone's guess.

With 6-foot-3 All-State center Val Hall gone at Walled Lake Western and the closing of Livonia Bentley, Salem is the clear-cut favorite to win the title, mainly because of the return of freshman standout Dena Head and the area's winningest coach, Fred Thomann.

Ladywood was decimated by the loss of four starters, including Michigan's Miss Basketball Emily Wagner and sidekick Char Govan, a consensus All-Stater.

But the Blazers boast a huge frontline again and have four players with considerable varsity experience, including one of the top centers in the area, 6-foot Sue Laliberte. Remember the name Katie McNulty, too, a 6-1 sophomore.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN, 18-3 last year, should make things interesting in the Western Lakes. The Rockets boast a talented frontline which includes 6-1 junior center Stacy Graham, 6-0 junior Jenny Okon and 5-11 senior Diana Sommerman. Glenn's big question mark is at guard.

Another young team that could have made things interesting in the Western Lakes was Garden City, a school left out when the Western Lakes realigned to 12 teams last spring.

The Cougars, who return three starters to go along with a 16-1 JV group, should win the new Northwest Suburban League (NSL) handily.

Another team to watch in the Western Lakes is Livonia Churchill, which returns three starters and picked up two starters from Bentley.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN, which enjoyed a Cinderella season last year, going 17-5, may find a way to give Churchill a challenge in the Western Division of the Western Lakes.

The Patriots, who managed to gain a piece of the NSL championship last year with Glenn, boast one of the area's top guards in senior Tracy Lectka. She is one of two starters back on a team that could be the smallest in the area.

As far as the rest of Observ-land area goes, it's rebuilding for Livonia

Stevenson, Livonia Clarenceville, Redford Union, Redford Thurston, Redford Bishop Borgess, Redford St. Agatha and possibly Wayne Memorial.

These first-year coach will have their hands full: Jack Grenan, Clarenceville; Mary Reitzel, Wayne; and Mike Schutte, Thurston.

Their jobs could be may harder or easier if their respective leagues adopt the three-point shot.

• Sommerman's '85 outlook: "Graduation left a few holes, but we feel we can make up for the losses. Diana Sommerman will give us good strength inside. We think we have a very strong bench and a very good team attitude.

"We should be very tough for everyone (in the new league). It's going to be a new experience for the Rockets. We hope to do our very best and finish the season with a winning record in the league.

"We'll have to do some different things on defense and run more on offense. We should be more effective with our press."

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want. Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day, until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

Best of all, ordering Amitol is simple, fast, and reliable! Simply call Dyna Labs Toll Free: (1-800-441-5454) Ext. 911, and order with your credit card. If you don't have a credit card Dyna Labs will also accept C.O.D. orders right over the phone! All orders are shipped immediately by UPS, which means no delay and no orders lost in the mail!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Operators are standing by and will be glad to take your order. You can order 24 hrs. a day, 7 days a week! Please don't wait to call. You really do deserve to be thin!

Era ends:

Clarence Baker once again sells his Baker's Keyboard Lounge

Last week's Montreux Detroit Jazz Festival, No. 6 in the series, may have been a historic one. The rumor that's been about for a couple of weeks, that Clarence Baker has sold the famed 51-year-old jazz nightclub, Baker's Keyboard Lounge, was confirmed by Baker during the festival.

After a set by a trio led by the extraordinary bassist Ron Carter, at the club as part of the jazz festival, Baker said the club was indeed sold. "Thanksgiving weekend will be my last time here," he said.

Which may mean that Mike Tarrow, new owner of Baker's, one of the co-owners of the Rhinoceros restaurant in the warehouse district, may change the entertainment policy. Even if he doesn't, Clarence Baker's leaving the club will mark an end to the era that has lasted since 1935 when his father started the jazz club.

Baker has been rehearsing this move for years and has helped us all to prepare for it by selling it twice before — but each time buying it back. This time is apparently for real. And what will Baker do? Retire to Florida?

"Naw, I couldn't live there," he said. "There's lots of things here I can do." Obviously, Baker, who's in his 70s, will be involved in music in some way. He's negotiated with New Center One over the last year to operate a jazz club in that new New Center building and, that having apparently fallen through, he's talking about opening a club in the northern suburbs. As well as continuing to produce concerts for best-selling guitarist Earl Klugh.

You can be sure, though, that whatever music project Clarence Baker is part of in the future will have something to do with jazz and it will be first-rate.

THE SUMMER HAS swung in metro Detroit, with the Montreux Detroit Jazz Festival ended. P'Jazz done for the year and most other series saying goodbye to the summer. There's only one more concert for New Center Swings.

As a finale to New Center Swings season two, the concert series has planned sort of a block party Thursday, Sept. 12. The New Center Area Council will block off Second Avenue south of W. Grand Boulevard and feature three bands to wrap up what has been a highly successful summer of music.

Starting at 8:30 p.m. that day, the Alexander Zonjic band will be featured in a one-hour set, followed by Steve King and the Dittiles and the Sun Messengers.

For more information about this concert, call 873-0183. And next year at New Center Swings? Look for a bigger, better summer concert season.

STILL AT THE New Center. The Graystone International Jazz Museum will bring in Thad Jones and the Count Basie Orchestra at an afternoon dance party at the New Center One Grand Atrium on Sunday, Sept. 15, from 4 to 8 p.m.

The dance with former Detroiters Thad Jones, who's now the leader and director of the Count Basie Orchestra, is a fund-raising event for the Graystone International Jazz Museum. The museum at 716 Lothrop adjacent to the Fisher Building in the New Center area, is raising funds to present Detroit jazz musicians at its "Jazz in the Afternoon" series this fall.

The museum also plans an exhibit of photographs, artifacts, a video and reference library on jazz.

Tickets for the dance are priced at $25 per person, and information about the dance and tickets may be obtained by calling 871-0234.

DAVE WELCOME, a 43-year old teacher at Bloomfield Hills' Lahser High School, has been writing songs and playing the guitar for 20 years. Finally, the Bloomfield Hills resident has achieved a long-time goal of recording an album.

"It's a dream I've always had," said the leader of the High Point Band, "and I felt if it was going to get done it had to be now."

Taking the bull by the horns, Welcome put together his own money to record a pop album called "Your Song." The title comes from the first song on side one, a love song to his wife, Sue. Welcome also wrote five other tunes on the album.

"I remember when I bought my first guitar more than 30 years ago," said Welcome, a defensive coordinator for the Lahser varsity football team. "I started making up tunes and I found that the words just came along. They would come into mind and I would write them down."

"Your Song" on the Amken Records label, is available from Marty's Record Store in Birmingham and Sam's Jams in Ferndale.

Jazz flutist Alexander Zonjic and his band will play at the season's final New Center Swings concert Thursday, Sept. 12, in Detroit's New Center. He will be on the first part of the program, shared with Steve King and the Dittiles and the Sun Messengers.

Film 'Mikey and Nicky' to get first Detroit showing

"Mikey and Nicky" will be shown by Detroit Film Theatre at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday-Saturday at the Detroit Institute of Arts auditorium.

Director Elaine May's 1978 comic psychodrama is being given its Detroit debut. The film stars John Cassavetes and Peter Falk in a study of two small-time gangsters worked over by guilt, retribution and paranoia on a single night.

second runs Tom Panzenhagen

"The Compleat Beatles" (1984), 1 Sunday night on Ch. 4. Originally 101 minutes. TV time slot: 120 minutes.

This Beatles biography may be thorough but it's hardly complete. First the bad news: The documentary does not include interviews with the Beatles themselves. No doubt the lads from Liverpool — Paul McCartney, Ringo Starr and George Harrison (John Lennon was murdered in 1980) — didn't want to be bothered, so perhaps the producers shouldn't be taken to task for that. They supplement the film with comments from friends, associates and assorted hangers-on, but these second-hand testimonies become tedious after a while. And the many speculations about matters ranging from the Beatles' inspirations to their breakup begs an authoritative voice.

Secondly, there's not enough footage of Beatles concerts. A rare clip of them performing at the Cavern Club in Liverpool, circa 1960, for instance, is cut short. Ed Sullivan is seen introducing them to an American television audience in 1964, but footage of their appearance on his program is missing. We hear parts of several Beatles' songs set against visual collages of their careers, but clips of actual performances, which would have enhanced their biography, are not to be found.

Now for the good news: There is enough vintage film footage and classic old photographs of the Beatles — a.k.a. the Quarry Men, Johnny and the Moon-dogs, and the Silver Beatles — to entrance even the casual Beatles buff. Pictures and clips dating from the mid-1950s meld with longtime Beatles musical producer George Martin's running commentary of their formation and early trials and tribulations.

Original Beatles Stuart Sutcliffe and Peter Best are fondly remembered and the band's early days in Liverpool and Hamburg, Germany, are documented. Beatle trivia — their first recording was a rock version of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean" — finds its place, and interviews with the Beatles taped 20 years ago are well interspersed.

Their careers and lifestyles are detailed right through the 1960s, and the many factors leading to their breakup are neatly presented.

Sure, it would be nice to see the Beatles together again, and this film makes one lament the fact that their time together was relatively short. Since a reunion's quite impossible now, though, "The Compleat Beatles" may be the next best thing.

Rating: $3.45.

"That's Entertainment II" (1976), 1 Wednesday night on Ch. 50. Originally 133 minutes. TV time slot: 144 minutes.

What's "That's Entertainment II" got that the original "That's Entertainment" didn't have. More comedy, for one thing; drama, and plenty of music. While the first issue was an all-singing, all-dancing review of MGM productions, "II" also offers clips of such great performers as Jack Benny, the Marx Brothers and Laurel and Hardy, Greta Garbo and John Barrymore, and, of course, Judy Garland, Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy et al. Gene Kelly and Fred Astaire introduce the acts.

Rating: $3.25.

'Murder at the Grand' tops Michigan events

"Murder at the Grand" and other exciting things to do in Michigan.

If you like to lose yourself in a mystery or detective story, you can indulge your fantasies on an island in Michigan. For three days beginning Oct. 25, you can be the Nick or Nora Charles of your dreams. You can participate in a real live whodunnit and live to tell the tale. Complete with murders, murderers, red-herring and blind alleys, clues and confrontations, "Murder at the Grand" is a weekend on Mackinac Island planned especially for mystery buffs and amateur sleuths.

Following a script authored by Karen and Bill Palmer, New York mystery writers, the adventures begin with a ferry ride across the Straits of Mackinac. They continue as your boat is met by a mysterious coachman who transports you by horse and buggy back to 1941.

Detective/vacationers are urged to wear 1940s clothing as they try to solve a murder or two committed during a fictitious 20th-year reunion of the Mackinac Island High School, Class of 1921. Guests will search for clues, interview suspects and take part in the bizarre, final solution.

KAREN AND BILL PALMER, designers of the murderous weekend, will be on hand to direct the activities. They are members of the Mystery Writers of America and Private Eye Writers of America and have appeared with other professional mystery writers who bring their skills to the quest.

In addition to the business of the murders, guests will view classic mystery films, dine in the famous Grand Hotel dining room and dance at a Gala Ball, all designed to fit the 1941 time frame. The cost of the weekend, which runs from Friday, Oct. 25, to Monday, Oct. 28, is $375 per person, double occupancy, and $150 single supplement.

For more information about the weekend package tour "Murder At The Grand," call your travel agent or the organizers, ATS Travel 543-7955.

Hark and Hazzah — The Renaissance Festival is Here Again.

If you go out to the Michigan Renaissance Festival at Columbiere Center, Clarkston some weekend in September, the King may force you to grovel at his feet. That's right, grovel. No matter who you are. And the Queen — she won't be much better. Likely you'll have to lie on the ground and cover your eyes when she appears. Be careful — that wench in rags and the dark rouge chasing her may try to kidnap you.

This riotous behavior is all part of the pomp and pageantry of the sixth annual festival. You'll need to take your suspension of disbelief and your comfortable shoes with you when you go to. And go you must. Go and buy a roasted turkey leg, wave it threateningly. Fill your tankard with cider or mead. Watch the King's jousts and the common puppet shows. Revel in the revelry as jesters and jugglers, royal lords and ladies, and minstrels act out their roles in this fall celebration of English Renaissance times.

In the wooded setting, scores of merchants and craftspeople create leather goods, weavings, carved wooden sculptures, make baskets or musical instruments and jewelry for sale. As you browse in the lanes, you'll be entertained by strolling actors, musicians and acrobats.

Open every weekend in September from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., rain or shine, the fair is set at the Columbiere Center, Clarkston. Take I-75 to Exit 93 (Dixie Highway/Waterford), one block south to Big Lake Road. Tickets are $6.75 (adults) and $2.50 (children 5-12) in advance at Ticket World and AAA or $7.75 and $3.30 at the gate. All music, theater and equestrian events are included. Parking is free. For more information, call 313-645-9640.

Junk reefs give shelter to fish

By Sarah E. Raper
National Geographic Society

When Bill Donaldson, a former mayor of Pontiac, retired to Stuart, Fla., he had no idea that he would become king of an underwater hill of junk beloved by local fishermen.

But there it is, the Bill Donaldson Reef, named after one of the leaders in artificial reef development by residents of the southern Florida community of 9,500.

Hundreds of toilets, bathtubs, and wash-bowls, 75,000 concrete-weighted tires, 100 dumpsters, two school-bus bodies, 200-foot ship, a 188-foot sand dredge, and nine steel work barges — all this debris has hit the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean to form three artificial reefs, the Donaldson and two others, since the Stuart Sailfish Club and Bill Donaldson set out to improve local fishing in the 1970s.

Stuart's residents are among hundreds of individuals and local groups all along the U.S. coasts who are sinking both dollars and debris into improving fish habitat. They're putting all kinds of discarded objects on ocean floors to create reefs for fish where nature neglected to put them.

Ninety percent of the ocean floor around the United States is a sand and mud wasteland with little plant growth. The artificial reefs provide growing surfaces for plants and animals that fish eat.

A properly constructed artificial reef increases an area's fish population over time. In theory, it initially drains neighboring natural reefs of some fish, but it also provides new shelter from predators and new food that reduces competition on the natural reefs. Within two years, both the natural and artificial reefs become crowded with fish.

WHAT SOUNDS GOOD in theory looks good in practice, according to studies conducted by the National Marine Fisheries Service, a federal agency. A 1971-74 test at Murrell's Inlet, S.C., showed that catches over a tire-and-vessel artificial reef equaled those over nearby natural rock reefs.

Impressive test results at sea don't always please on-shore environmentalists. But Richard Stone of the Fisheries Service says he's received very little criticism since he began developing artificial reefs in the 1960s.

"People don't object to enhancing areas if they can be shown that it's not going to be detrimental to something that's already there," Stone says. "What they would object to is to just dispose of material — ocean dumping under the guise of ocean reefs — or if they thought you were picking things off that had some toxic byproducts or putting something down outside live-bottom areas or coral reefs."

Just about anything that can be sunk will help build a reef, Stone says, but some materials are more durable than others. Thin metal objects such as car bodies and refrigerators deteriorate rapidly and move around too much if they're not weighted properly. But many other metal scraps, including cleaned-out ships and collapsed oil rigs, have made successful reefs, he says.

The most effective fish condominiums, according to a test conducted by a marine consulting firm, are fiberglass-reinforced plastic units. These units can be adjusted to fit various ocean-bottom terrains and to reach different heights depending on the type of fish desired. Some highly sought fish often are found on taller structures.

The durable plastic units can be transported more easily than old ships or weighted tires. Unfortunately, they are now available only from Japanese manufacturers in very limited quantities.

THE JAPANESE, world leaders in reef development, have used these units successfully for seven years. The Japanese reef program, unlike the grass-roots efforts in the United States, is centrally planned and subsidized.

In the United States the majority of reefs are for recreational fishing, but in Japan reef development is carried out by and for commercial fishermen. Another difference between the two countries' policies is legal — here the ocean is open to any U.S. fisherman, but Japan recognizes ocean ownership rights, and the builder of a reef there holds the exclusive rights to fish it.

Stone says he doubts U.S. government participation will ever equal that of the Japanese government, but he hopes state governments will become more involved.

"I'd like to see the states become leaders in building reefs," he says. "I'd like to see them become more sophisticated, develop siting plans and have the money to do it right."

But state funds for reef construction have been undependable in the past. Because of this undependability, Stone says, many reefs in the United States have been financed by local sports fishing and diving clubs, often through imaginative fund-raisers such as Bill Donaldson.

In Stuart, for example, residents raised money to tow and sink an old barge by selling 10,000 shares of stock in the barge at $1 a share. Contributors received certificates that said "We Cared and We Shared." Others paid $100 each to have their names painted on enormous gas tanks before they were sunk.

U.S. industry also has supported reef development. Oil and gas companies have made the largest corporate contributions in the form of abandoned oil rigs.

Federal involvement now is limited to the Army Corps of Engineers' issuance of permits for new reefs. Stone is working with agencies and individuals to develop national guidelines that would improve the process.

Stone says he isn't worried about overbuilding. With proper planning, he says, there's little chance of cluttering the vast ocean floor in the next 50 years.

SOME OF THE GREATEST THINGS IN AMERICA

In Ansel Adams' eyes, America's wilderness is its most precious national treasure. Through photography, he immortalized the unspoiled beauty of Mt. McKinley for all to see. Some things never change. NEVER CHANGE.

But one great American tradition has changed—U.S. Savings Bonds. Now Savings Bonds pay higher variable interest rates like money market accounts. That's the kind of change anyone can appreciate.

Just hold Savings Bonds for five years and you get the new variable interest rates. Plus, you get a guaranteed return. That means you can earn a lot more, but never less than 7½%.

SOME DO.

But some of the best things about Bonds haven't changed. The interest earned is still exempt from state and local income taxes. Still cost as little as $25. And can be purchased at almost any financial institution. Or easier yet, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Like the wilderness, they're another part of our proud heritage.

For the current interest rate and more information, U.S. SAVINGS BONDS call toll-free 1-800-US-Bonds. Paying Better Than Ever Variable rates apply to Bonds purchased on and after 11/1/82 and held at least 5 years. Bonds purchased before 11/1/82 earn variable rates when held beyond 10/31/87. Bonds held less than 5 years earn lower interest.

HOW TO DO A LITTLE BUSINESS ON YOUR OWN... Holding a garage sale is a fun way to do a little business on your own... but it takes a bit of planning. Like you'll want to decide what to sell and how much to charge for each item... and then you'll need price tags so other people will know what you're charging. And you'll have to be able to make change for all your customers... so that means you should have lots of one dollar bills and an assortment of coins. Then you'll want to advertise your sale to attract that crowd. You can do it with a sign or signs in your neighborhood... but you'll want a bigger crowd than that... so you'll run an ad in Classified which tells the time and place of your sale to a host of potential buyers. Have fun with your little business adventure

Lifestyle clues hidden in folds of silk kimonos

By Corinne Abatt
staff writer

In historical Japan, the kimono did more than cover the body. It was an expression of art, a statement of philosophy and a symbol of status and lifestyle.

Americans don't expect that much from a wardrobe — at the least, functional, at the most, decorative — the reverse being true for the more vain among us.

Jake Costello, a 1972 Seaholm High graduate, came into Birmingham last week from his home in Kyoto, Japan, with a cache of antique kimonos which will be on display at Halsted Gallery Sept. 10-21.

With him was Mikako Adachi, who spent a lot of time folding the silk robes after he spread them out to show the intricate painting, embroidery and dye techniques which make them so engaging.

Costello had just finished his freshman year at Western Michigan University when he went on a university-sponsored trip to China and Japan.

"That trip," he said, "stimulated my interest in the East."

After taking Asian studies at University of Michigan in the general degree program, he went into the Peace Corps, stationed in the Philippines.

Now he lives in Kyoto and works as a copywriter for a Japanese company doing business in southeast Asia.

Kyoto, he said, is one of the few places where some of the beautiful antique Japanese kimonos can still be found — provided you know where to look.

"We scoured the countryside," said Costello, explaining that the ones he brought with him are 80-100 years old.

Several rare ones are made of thread from banana leaves, tie-dyed and woven into patterns.

These robes, which take from six months to a year to make, come from Okinawa.

Another type, furisode, Costello described as, "A coming out kimono. A young woman makes her debut in society in this. She wouldn't wear it after she married."

The kimonos in the show are done in a variety of decorative processes from rice paste resist and ikat to painting and embroidery.

The more art work, the more valuable the garment. Costello pointed out that on several the more elaborate art is on the inside — to fool the tax collector into believing the wearer was only of moderate means.

Costello pointed out that on several the more elaborate art is on the inside — to fool the tax collector into believing the wearer was only of moderate means.

At the opening on Tuesday, Sept. 10, Costello will perform on the shakubachi, a bamboo flute. Price range is $150 to 1,000.

Halsted Gallery, 560 N. Woodward, Birmingham, is open 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday.

Detroit Chamber Winds, opening its fourth season Friday, Sept. 20 at the performing arts theater on OCC's Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Hills, is now a solid part of the musical activity of the metropolitan area.

The other concerts are: Christmas Brass Concert, Saturday, Nov. 30 at Christ Church Grosse Pointe and Sunday, Dec. 8, Christ Church Cranbrook; Brass Music of Five Centuries, Friday, Feb. 14, Christ Church Cranbrook; "Octoot!", Orchard Ridge campus, Farmington Hills, Friday, March 7; and Ruth Laredo, pianist, and the ensemble, Friday, April 25 at Orchestra Hall.

In addition to the five concerts on the local program, the group will make its New York debut at Carnegie Hall recital hall on Sunday, Oct. 20. The Sept. 20 concert is a preview of that with selections by Mozart, Strauss, Beethoven and Dvorak.

Since almost all of the 20 members of the ensemble are Detroit Symphony Orchestra musicians, this dovetails with the symphony orchestra's concert in New York City Friday, Oct. 18.

The ensemble, with a hard-working board of trustees headed by Teryl L. Minasian and an equally energetic group of musician/administrators, has a number of corporate sponsors and individual contributors.

FOR INSTANCE, Stroh Brewery is sponsoring the Carnegie Hall concert. Seidman and Seidman, a Troy CPA firm, is sponsoring three of the regular concerts and DP Corporate Services of Livonia is co-sponsoring a fourth.

The Orchestra Hall concert marks the first time the ensemble has brought in a big-name artist for a program. The selections for the program with Laredo are the Mozart Quintet in E-Flat Major, K452 and the Beethoven Quintet Op. 16.

Two of the ensemble members, Victoria King, bassoon, and Maury Okun, trombone, described the organization, from both the business and artistic point of view, as democratic.

Okun, for instance, brought up in this area (Southfield Lathrup High graduate) is responsible for development, which among other things includes fund raising.

"I hate to admit it," he said, "but, I really enjoy it a lot," saying that growing up in this area and having a lot of connections helps.

JOHN Snow, oboe, one of the founders of Detroit Chamber Winds, who recently left to become first chair with the Rochester (N.Y.) Philharmonic Orchestra, said, "What's great about the group is that the musicians are constantly willing to help."

Victoria King, bassoon, said, "The musicians all want to see it continue. As an artistic outlet, it's one of the more musically gratifying that they do. The rehearsals are run like a democracy."

Okun nodded in accord and said of conductor H. Robert Reynolds, chairman of the conducting department, University of Michigan: "It takes a unique kind of conductor to handle that. We have that 'leave-your-ego-behind' conductor — and that kind isn't easy to find. It works fine, and we're all still friends."

But now with a budget more than 15 times what it was three years ago and plans for a major tour next summer, the ensemble members and the board see the need for a part-time business manager.

They also see their Carnegie Hall debut as a big step toward a more expansive future.

"One reason for the New York concert is to get New York manager types to listen to us," said Okun explaining that an East Coast agent would be a big help and adding, "we're also going to invite recording company representatives to hear us."

Instead of taking quiet leisurely vacations like the rest of the world, the ensemble members use the free time for Detroit Woodwinds business.

Season tickets for the five-concert season are $32 each, students and seniors, $27. Mail ticket orders to Detroit Chamber Winds, Box 1588, Royal Oak, 48068-1588. For information, call 544-3508.

Oboist John Snow (left), bassoonist Victoria King, and trombonist Maury Okun have been part of the Detroit Chamber Winds since it was founded almost four years ago. Snow has since left to become principal oboist with the Rochester display until Monday, Sept. 16, at the Royal Oak YMCA on 11 Mile, two blocks east of Woodward. The next stop will be at Winchester Mall, Rochester and Avon roads, Rochester Hills, Sept. 17-30. The final stop on the tour, Oct. 1-14, will be at Manufacturer's Bank, Auburn at Crooks, Rochester.

Philharmonic Orchestra but said he will be in the audience for the group's Carnegie Hall debut on Sunday, Oct. 20. King and Okun, members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, both grew up in the metropolitan Detroit area.

Tripod steadies the camera

A good tripod is a valuable piece of equipment that every photographer should own. Without one, many photographic opportunities will be lost, and many exciting shots missed.

What to look for in purchasing a tripod? First — quality. You've got a good camera. Get a good tripod to match. Buy one that will support a little more weight than it is intended to hold. An extra strong tripod will lessen the chance of a blurred shot.

Most tripods are constructed of light metals such as aluminum. There are fine because they are lightweight and fold easily for storage. When not fully extended, keep the thinnest, lowest legs retracted for greater stability. To increase sturdiness, always place one of the legs pointed forward under the lens.

Two kinds of tripod heads are available. The most common has separate handles for panning and tilting. A second kind contains a single screw that unlocks a ball joint to permit turns and tilts in any direction. Which is best for you is a matter of personal preference.

When should you use your tripod? Using a tripod will always produce a sharper picture, so here's a general rule to follow. Use your tripod when the shutter speed is slower than the reciprocal of the focal length of the lens.

Monte Nagler

For example, the nearest shutter speed to your normal 50mm lens is 1/60 second. This means that you can hand hold your camera at speeds of 1/60 or faster. But if lighting conditions demand a speed of 1/30 or slower, better get out your tripod.

When using your 200mm lens, it's OK to shoot at 1/250 second but with any slower speed, get out that tripod.

When else will a tripod come in handy? Night shots. Beautiful photographs are obtained after dark not only of street scenes but also of floodlit buildings and monuments.

Another use of tripods is in shooting photographs that intentionally show motion. It's common to "freeze" flowing water in a stream with a fast shutter speed, but what if that same stream was shot with full two second exposure on a tripod?

You'll get a totally different result with the water appearing as a soft blur, giving a feeling of movement and mood to your photographs. Try it sometime. Of course, you'll require a very small aperture and perhaps filtration in order to get the slow shutter speed you'll need.

One other reminder. A cable release goes hand-in-hand with a tripod. Use one every time you take a shot with your tripod.

What if you're out shooting and the situation arises where you should use a tripod but you've left it home?

You can improvise by tucking your elbows in, spreading your feet apart and bracing yourself against a wall or tree. Or set your camera on a fence or car hood and use the self-timer.

Better yet, keep your tripod handy at all times. Keep it ready to be steady.

Party-goers will also have a chance to preview the Artists Market's new fall art exhibit.

To make reservations for the party, call 962-0337. Harmonie Park is one block southwest of Madison and Grand River, Detroit.

State gives in, playoffs expand

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Arbitration, alteration and computation proved a winning combination for the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association in its efforts to make changes in the state playoff system.

And even though victory was achieved, the triumph did not come easily. The Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) relented, adding eight teams in each class (A, B, C and D), two per region, and an extra game to the prep season.

The MHSAA representative council vote favoring expansion was by a narrow 10-9 margin at its May meeting. An amendment attached to the proposal, to evaluate the expanded playoffs after the season and decide whether to keep it or go back to the eight-team-per-class formula used since 1975, does not instill optimism for the future.

STILL, THE COACHES' association was pleased to push this much through. It's been an uphill battle from the start, and future conflicts are inevitable before the war is decided.

Last year, the coaches proposed expanding the playoffs to 32 teams per class, quadrupling the current number. That would have necessitated adding two games to the schedule for teams reaching the finals.

Timing was the MHSAA's greatest objection to the coaches' plan. One or two weeks would have to be added to the schedule (depending on which option was selected), pushing football into basketball season.

The MHSAA rejected the proposal, forcing the coaches to regroup and arbitrate a new plan. They altered their proposal by slashing the number of playoff participants in half and resubmitted it this year.

TWO FACTORS helped the coaches get approval: a survey that showed 68.8 percent of the 713 MHSAA-member schools favored expansion; and a quirk in this year's football season that allows for an extra weekend. The extra playoff game can be added without changing the prep season.

The qualifying teams will still be chosen by computer points (awarded for victories and difficulty of schedule), with the state divided into four regions in each class.

The reason the coaches lobbied for expansion was, simply, to eliminate injustices within the present system. Teams with outstanding records — including some that have gone undefeated — have been sidelined during the playoffs by a lack of computer points.

More teams, the coaches argued, would be a step toward eliminating the problem.

PLAYOFF EXPANSION was not the coaches' only victory at the MHSAA's meeting. A proposal by Jerry Cvengros of Escanaba to provide "the best possible playing surface for semifinal games by using artificial surfaces where possible, in addition to the best available natural fields," was adopted.

The decision comes a year late for Farmington Harrison, a fleet-footed team that had its speed negated by the quagmire of Pontiac's Wisner Stadium during last year's Class A semifinal.

The MHSAA council adopted the proposal even though it meant competing schools may have to travel greater distances to reach the semifinal site.

Both changes in the playoff format should prove beneficial. But the coaches' association still must develop a formula for the 1986 season.

And once developed, the association must successfully lobby for its approval by the MHSAA's council. That task is never easy.

The MHSAA's regional format

The Michigan High School Athletic Association agreed to expand the football playoff system to include 64 teams, 16 in each of the four enrollment classes.

The top 16 teams will still be determined by a computer point system which ranks teams according to their win-loss records and those of their opponents.

Here is how the regions break down in Class A:

WLAA: A brand new challenge

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

IN ITS FIRST three seasons, the football game in the Western Lakes Activities Association has been, "Who can beat Farmington Harrison?" Nobody ever did.

But, my, how things have changed. The Western Lakes is no longer a 10-team conference. It is now, thanks to the additions of North Farmington, Westland John Glenn and Livonia Franklin, and the deletion of Livonia Bentley, a 12-team league.

This is not to say Farmington Harrison can't win it all again — but, it's going to be mighty tough.

Consider first the new Lakes Division alignment. North Farmington was 8-1 last year and the Northwest Suburban League's final champion. John Glenn was 6-3 last year.

ADD THOSE two traditional powers to last year's Lakes Division champ Farmington (6-3), Livonia Stevenson (7-2), Walled Lake Central (4-5) and Plymouth Salem (2-7) and you have what Stevenson coach Jack Reardon unabashedly calls the "toughest division in the state."

Glenn, North, Farmington, Central and Salem, according to pre-season scouting reports, are all improved teams.

The Western Division is no slouch either. Harrison (11-1) has lost a ton of blue-chip talent but will again field a competitive squad. Northville (7-2) is the team most are picking to win the division.

Livonia Churchill (2-7), with an influx of talent from now-closed Livonia Bentley, looks to be greatly improved. Plymouth Canton (4-5), Livonia Franklin (3-6) and Walled Lake Western (2-7) could also challenge.

The season's eighth week will feature the Western Lakes title game, as well as position crossover games throughout the league (second place Lakes vs. second place Western, etc.).

But with the division races as intense as they promise to be, the championship game might be anti-climactic.

Here's a quick pre-season glance at the Observerland teams in the Western Lakes:

JOHN GLENN: Coach Chuck Gordon, in addition to playing in the awesome Lakes Division, will have the headache that accompanies being the pre-season favorite to win the division.

The reason his Rockets will wear the "favorites" label is Tony Boles. Boles, despite an injury in the middle of last season, gained 1,012 yards and scored 12 TDs. He is the best back in the area this year, without argument.

Adding to Boles' effectiveness is a wall of 200-pound linemen that will help clear his path: Paul Pomorski (220), Rick McCurdy (205), Don Croft (205) and Matt Bennett (231).

"Because of the new league, it's really hard for me to size up the season," Gordon said. "We will be playing so many new people. We're going to be good, but how good, I just can't say right now."

NORTH FARMINGTON: North Farmington and John Glenn have staged some serious battles over the years for supremacy in the old Northwest Suburban League. Looks as if the battle will continue in the Western Lakes.

Jim O'Leary's Raiders put together a banner season last year and look to be even better this year.

North will field one of the strongest teams in the area. Six players can bench-press in excess of 300 pounds. Among the bigger, stronger Raiders are two-way tackle Wes Pringle (6-4, 240), center Derek Critchley (6-0, 190), Brian Haack (6-0, 195) and Steve Brown (only 155 pounds but bench-presses 320 pounds).

Marc Brown proved to be a dangerous back last year. He will be running with fullback Steve Goss. North's Chris Cristman and Mike Rudin are players with game-breaking potential.

"We have as good a team as we had last year," O'Leary said. "Two things have to happen, though. We have to find a quarterback and we're going to have to get some leadership from our seniors."

Seniors Corky D'Ascenzo and Todd Shepard are battling for the quarterback spot.

FARMINGTON: The Falcons earned a reputation last season for being a rough, bruising ballclub. They also found out how to win, something that had eluded Falcon teams in the past.

Coach Don Kulick hopes for a repeat of 1984, and he has the talent to do it.

"We're big and strong again and we have good depth in the backfield," he said. "My concerns are that the quarterback holds up and whether the kids can learn to handle the defense."

"This is the cream division in the whole state so it's tough to predict how we'll do."

Farmington has a blue-chip lineman in senior Craig Petermark. He's big (6-3, 225) and mobile and he likes to hit. Others up front for the Falcons are Jim Laird (a strong 175), Dan Parillo (215), John Augustin (200), John Purdon (240), Andy Boden (6-3, 197) and Bill Critcher (295).

Joe Bob Wenson should provide an experienced hand at quarterback. He shared time there the past two seasons. Kulick is high on backs Eric Green, a speedy junior, John Buchanan, Darrell Therrish and Ed Sukdzina.

Bruce Kratt returns to handle the kicking chores as well as play split end.

PLYMOUTH SALEM: "Oh, we're going to be a better team. Cripe, we couldn't be any worse," said veteran

Out with the old, in with the new

DO YOU KIND of get the feeling an era has ended in Observerland football?

Not only were numerous standout players lost to graduation last year — players that had been stars for two and three seasons — but the leagues have been realigned.

What's Livonia Churchill's offense going to look like without John Stoitsiadis at the helm? Geez, it seems like only yesterday I learned how to spell S-t-o-i-t-s-i-a-d-i-s. (It was just yesterday.)

There will be no No. 44 rumbling on the Farmington Harrison gridiron. John Miller is at Michigan State. Has this area spawned a better football player than John Miller?

There will be no Donny Angel at Redford Union, no Harvey Heitman either. No Dave Mize at Churchill. No Brian Hood or Scott Knoll or Eric Engel at North Farmington. There will be no Fred Owens at Borgess, no Ron Wandzel at Catholic Central. No Rob McCamant at Clarenceville.

There's no Chad Darke at Livonia Bentley. There's no Livonia Bentley, for crying out loud.

THERE'S NO Northwest Suburban League anymore. Oh, there is a league called the Northwest Suburban League, but without Livonia Franklin, North and John Glenn, it's just not the same.

The NSL is now Garden City, Redford Union, Woodhaven, Dearborn and Edsel Ford — and there will be no league title in football this year because of scheduling conflicts.

Redford Thurston has joined the Tri-River League.

While I feel more than a little sadness at the passing of the era, I am encouraged about what lies ahead.

The new Western Lakes, for example, is a powerhouse league — especially in its Lakes Division. John Glenn, North Farmington, Farmington, Walled Lake Central, Plymouth Salem and Livonia Stevenson (not necessarily but maybe in that order) all in one division — mercy.

The Western Division race could be equally fascinating with Harrison and Northville, perhaps even Livonia Churchill and Plymouth Canton, grinding it out.

ADDING TO the excitement of these title chases is the rebirth of some of Observerland's oldest and most fierce rivalries. Plymouth Salem will again take on old Suburban 8 foe Trenton. The Salem-Plymouth Canton skirmish remains in tact also. Farmington Harrison and North Farmington will renew an old feud. Livonia Franklin will be battling two of its neighbors this year, Livonia Stevenson and Livonia Churchill.

Bishop Borgess, in addition to its annual neighborhood flings with Redford Union and Redford Catholic Central, will duel Divine Child this year. The old Wayne-John Glenn clash is again on the schedule for 1985.

Toughest schedule? Glenn may have it with the likes of Pontiac Central, Farmington, North and Wayne on tap. Garden City has loaded up with Wayne, Warren Woods Tower, Bishop Gallagher and Jackson Lumen-Christi. Franklin also has a mean nine weeks ahead with Fordson, Harrison, Northville and Monroe.

OBSERVERLAND'S BEST team? I keep hearing that it's John Glenn. The Rockets have the best back in the area in Tony Boles. He gained more than 1,000 yards last year and was clocked at 4.2 in the 40-yard dash at the University of Michigan this summer — the fastest time ever recorded at the U-M camp.

Also, Glenn has seven players 200 pounds or more.

But I don't trust John Glenn. They remind me of the Montreal Expos — always picked to contend, always loaded with talent, but never quite able to finish the job.

This is certainly not a knock on coach Chuck Gordon. But something always seems to trip John Glenn football teams — usually it's Livonia Franklin. Two years ago it was Franklin. Last year it was Franklin, Garden City, North and injuries.

With their schedule, they can ill afford a slip-up this year.

Still, it would be difficult at this stage of the campaign to find a better team than John Glenn. Especially since the Rockets don't play Franklin this year.

If Glenn does trip, look for North or Farmington to have their leg out.

HARRISON AND Northville are going to have a war in the Western Division of the Western Lakes. The team that loses that race will be the team that didn't beat Livonia Churchill.

Garden City could field one of the area's better teams. Sadly, they will play primarily out of the area, and their achievements may go unnoticed. Pay attention to the Cougars.

And while most are pinning the Catholic League title on DeLaSalle, don't count out Catholic Central just yet. Tom Mach's crew has been unusually quiet the past two seasons. A Shamrock explosion is overdue.

Observerland's best linemen (an inclusive list): 1. Craig Petersmark, Farmington; 2. Dan Nash, Catholic Central; 3. Wes Pringle (North Farmington); 4. Paul Pomorski, John Glenn; 5. Joe Conway, Livonia Stevenson.

One last thought: Maybe now that the state playoffs have been expanded to 64 teams, a Livonia, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City or Redford team will finally get in. Or, better yet, maybe all three Farmington schools will make it. Fun to dream, isn't it?

See you at the stadium this fall.

CC: Catholic league sleeper?

By Marty Budner
staff writer

There's no doubt the Central Division of the Catholic League is one of the Michigan High School Athletic Association's top football circuits. It consistently courts blue-chip talent and competitive intensity.

Central Division fans forever insist balance from top to bottom is what makes the competition so tough. It's unusual when any one of the six division teams is picked as a prohibitive favorite to win the title.

Normally, it's take your pick of the 'Big 3' — Birmingham Brother Rice, Detroit Catholic Central or Warren De La Salle — and beware of upstarts like Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher and Notre Dame and Redford Bishop Borgess.

This year, though, is different.

In a pre-season poll, the division's coaches not-so-surprisingly selected defending champ De La Salle as the team to beat. Oh, there were mutterings about Catholic Central as a dark horse, but, without hesitation, the Pilots were unanimously picked as favorites for the prestigious 1985 division championship.

"De La Salle is everybody's favorite," CC's veteran coach Tom Mach said.

Says Gallagher coach George Sahadi: "It's a vicious league. . . you see improvements by teams like us which make it tougher. But, De La Salle has to be favored."

DE LA SALLE: Ray Barr, who took over this fall for John Maranto, is somewhat agast people think so highly of De La Salle considering this is his first year as coach.

But the bottom line is this: Barr was an assistant under Maranto — who left over the winter for the head coaching job at Massillon High School in Ohio — for 11 years, plus the Pilots return a tremendous crop of senior players from last year's 5-0 Central Division championship team, which was 8-1 overall. The Pilots are led by a surefire All-State candidate Alen Jefferson, a powerful and speedy running back.

"I've never been a head coach before so I really don't know how we can be ranked No. 1 (in some pre-season newspaper poll)," Barr said. "Whatever recognition we've already won is by what John and the kids have done in the past."

The only blemish on De La Salle's otherwise perfect season last year was a loss to Dearborn Divine Child in the Catholic League championship game. It not only prevented a perfect season, but a trip to the post-season Class A playoffs as well.

Jefferson, who will have college scouts drooling the way they did last year for Farmington Harrison's John Miller, is the main weapon in the Pilots' offense. A Class A 100-yard dash track champion this past spring, Jefferson (6-2, 210 pounds) scored 16 touchdowns and gained 965 yards last fall.

"What makes him so good is his speed and size. He has that rare ability to run fast despite being a large fellow," Barr said. "Plus, he likes contact. He's not a skater out there who avoids contact."

Senior Eric Ford, whom Barr said will be nationally recruited like Jefferson, will be the De La Salle's other running back. Junior Terry Cummins and senior Mike Narduzzi are challenging for the quarterback slot.

All-league tackle Rich Gurdak (6-4, 250), tight end Rich Casper (6-1, 205), Pat Schluter (6-1, 190), Pat Kuchrak (5-11, 215) and Mark Vanipsterium (6-1, 230) are the team's other standouts.

"We're prepared for the season, but we haven't won anything yet," Barr said.

BROTHER RICE. The superstars are gone. That's not to say Brother Rice will be lacking talent or bodies this fall. Rice, 4-1 in the league and 8-1 overall last season, always has plenty of both.

But, the fact remains, blue-chippers like Mike Farr (UCLA), Bob Kula (Michigan State) and Mike Lodiha (UCLA) will not wear the orange of brown of Rice in 1985.

"Over the last two years we've lost a lot of talent," Rice coach Al Fracassa said. "You enjoy being with those kind of kids and you enjoy winning with them."

"But, we have a lot of fresh kids this season. I kind of like this situation because they're hungry," he said. "You have to try to win no matter who you have."

Junior running back Bill Fitzpatrick played a lot although he didn't start every game last fall. Junior running back Tom Giroux, linebacker Joe Laurencelle and senior wide receiver Chris Plunkett also will see plenty of action. Jim Schram returns as the Rice punter.

Chris Sullivan finally will get the opportunity to start at quarterback after patiently waiting along the sidelines the last couple years. "He's a great leader and he throws the ball well," Fracassa said. "He just needs some game experience."

"We're not very big, but the kids are really together and that's an intangible nobody knows about," he said. "This is a different type of team than we've had in the past. We'll try and keep the tradition going."

CATHOLIC CENTRAL: Catholic Central (3-2, 6-3) was the team mentioned by most coaches as the division's "dark horse."

Why?
The Shamrocks not only have 10 starters returning, but they enjoy tremendous size and experience on both the offensive and defensive lines. Tackle Dan Nash (6-4, 235), who will be one of the league's top recruits among linemen, Mark Lopez (6-1, 225) and Ken Wandzel (6-3½, 185) are a few of those massive Shamrocks.

Junior Tim Lafferty, who played full-time last year, returns as the starting halfback. The other running back slots will be filled by senior Jeff Schwartz and junior Chris Kassa.

CC's top defensive players are captains Nick Varajon (nose guard) and Paul Linenberg (end), Pat Nolan (safety), Mike Redding (tackle) and Jeff Brand (strong safety).

"We have linemen with good size, they're smart and they hit well," Mach said. "But, the key is defense."

"In our league we see everything and we'll have to be versatile enough to cover it all," he said. "Our ability to pick up the different (offensive formations) will be a key to our season."

BISHOP GALLAGHER: Just to prove the Central Division's depth, Gallagher had four losses last year — three of which came in overtime. The Lancers (2-3, 5-4) could have been 8-1 with a few breaks.

At any rate, coach Sahadi has 11 returning starters. Gallagher's top player is senior halfback Danny Vargo (6-2, 185), whose dad was an All-American football player for the University of Detroit. "He's a great defensive player — probably one of the best in the league," Sahadi said. "He'll probably be an underrated ballplayer this year, but he's being recruited heavily."

Seniors Joe Stavale (quarterback), Paul Sahadi (receiver), Tom Tomasello (tight end) and Jim Spence (guard) will be other key offensive players.

Sahadi believes defense will be Gallagher's strength. Vargo, Stavale, Tim Kamego and Al Shaheen combine to form a secondary with seven years experience. Seniors Matt Brosky (linebacker), Mike Widgren (end) and Tom Gorence (tackle) should be other defensive standouts.

"We'll be good offensively, but the key to our season will be the defense," Sahadi said. "We have eight players returning on defense, including our entire secondary. We held Jefferson to only 47 yards last year. That was the best in the league."

BISHOP BORGESS: Bishop Borgess got off to a terrific start last year, winning four of its first five games. Unfortunately, the Spartans lost all four of their remaining games and finished with a 4-5 record.

Things may be even tougher this year as Borgess plays non-league games against defending Catholic League champion Dearborn Divine Child, Dearborn Edsel Ford and neighborhood rival Redford Union, plus its regular diet of De La Salle, Catholic Central, et al.

"We do have a heck of a schedule," Borgess coach Gary Cook said. "But it's a challenge and the kids are excited about it."

Cook feels good about his massive defensive line, which he figures will keep the Spartans in most of their games.

Ed Dreslinski (6-2, 225), a division all-star, has been a two-year, two-way starter who will anchor the defensive front. Senior Jason Drakeford (6-0, 250) and junior Maurice Cumming (5-10, 213) are other linemen.

Offensively, senior Mike Ritchie will play quarterback and senior Mike Stewart will be switched from fullback — where he gained nearly 750 yards last year — to the tailback slot.

"We've gotten away from throwing the ball the last couple years," Cook said. "We used to throw the ball a lot more and we hope to get back to that this year."

"We're young, but I think we can be in the race. We think we have a lot of talent," he said.

NOTRE DAME: Second-year Notre Dame coach Bob LaPoint believes his team will have more stamina this year than it had last fall during an 8-5 league and 2-7 overall season.

"Almost all of our players go both ways, but we're a lot stronger," he said. "We should hold up a little better than we did last year."

Senior quarterback Steve Zaharias, who played off and on last year but started both games the Irish won (against Riverview Gabriel Richard and U-D High), will direct the offense. Running backs Frank Dickerson and Don Wortham and tackle Eric Summers are other key offensive players.

Seniors Paul Siebert and Craig Killough will anchor the defense.

"We have real good speed in our backfield," LaPoint said. "All of them — other than the quarterback — have 4.6 speed or better. Our problem is we don't have enough depth."

Seaholm eyes 4th SMA crown

By Neal Haldane
staff writer

Birmingham Seaholm, a state playoff qualifier last season, should have a battle on its hands this fall as the Maples attempt to capture a fourth straight Southeastern Michigan Association football title.

Coaches agree that the SMA will be more balanced and competitive this year with three to five teams having legitimate shots at the title.

Besides Seaholm, which remains a favorite, Southfield gains the most respect from opposing coaches.

But strong challenges will come from Troy, Royal Oak Kimball and Ferndale.

The remaining schools — Andover, Berkley and Hazel Park — could spring an upset or two along the way.

"I don't know who is not going to be tough," said Southfield coach Cal Fletcher. "I don't think there will be a breather on the schedule. "It's going to be a real slugfest."

SEAHOLM: Winners of 26 straight SMA contests, Seaholm returns to defend its title with all-star linebacker Marc Spencer (6-foot-6, 235 pounds). He is listed in the top 50 players in Street and Smith's high school report and is in the top 25 in a USA Today poll, according to coach Chuck Skinner.

But it's the offense which has the most experience. Fullback Walter Hill (6-0, 195), who rushed for 725 yards and scored 10 touchdowns last season, is ready for his third year running the ball. His offensive line with Spencer at tackle, Scott Keough (6-1, 200) at center, Mike Kautz (5-11, 210) at guard and Scott Jaden (6-2, 215) at tight end, should open some holes. But rookie quarterback George Zeigler (5-10, 170) is a question mark.

"I don't know if we'll have the passing attack we had before, but we're going to try," Skinner said. "Defense is the most important thing, and that's where we're least experienced. But we'd like to make league history by winning our fourth title in a row."

SOUTHFIELD: Torin Dorn.

That's all Fletcher had to say when asked about his team's strengths.

"With him, we can score from anywhere on the field," he said.

Tailback Dorn (6-1, 190) scored 11 touchdowns and ran for 1,161 yards during the Blue Jays 4-5 season last year.

Of course, Dorn will have plenty of help on the offense with the return of seven other starters. Tackle Don Walker (6-4, 245), center Eric Wills (6-0, 202), guard Clarence Rose (6-0, 195), split end Rod Hurst (5-2, 185), quarterback J. Jewett (5-7, 185), fullback Mark Vaughn (5-10, 185) and flanker Ray Hopson (5-11, 200) will anchor the offense.

Lack of defensive depth may cause some problems for the Blue Jays. Returning defensive starters include Rose at end, Hopson and Jeff Cotten (6-0, 195) at inside linebacker and Dorn at safety.

"We're going to have to get ready fast," Fletcher said. "Seaholm is our first league game and second game overall."

TROY: The second-place Coits, 7-2 overall last year, look to move up one more notch this season.

And the key to that may rest on the toes of senior punter Kurt Schram (6, 176) and junior place-kicker Scott Kania.

"We've always had excellent specialties and this year could develop into the best," coach Jeff Keller said.

The offensive backfield also is solid as running backs John Spinosi (5-8, 160) and John Szymanski (5-8, 155) and fullback Jim Milewski (5-9, 191) return for their senior seasons along with guards Tim Fairman (6-0, 195) and Shane Pfannes (5-11, 180).

But inexperience in both the offensive and defensive lines could pose problems.

"It really depends on how our young kids come along," Keller said. "We're starting an all junior offensive line with the exception of one or two players."

ANDOVER: While Seaholm, Southfield and Troy place the emphasis on offense, the Barons look to their defense to move them up from a seventh-place (4-5) finish last season.

"We have excellent athletes in the defensive secondary and line positions," said coach Frank Buford.

Key returns include defensive end Nathan Dix (6-4, 230), outside linebacker Jamie Little (6-0, 190), cornerbacks Mark Miller (6-0, 175) and Mark Allen (5-11, 165) along with free safety Jason Waldman (5-11, 165).

Offensively, quarterback Bob Hawkins (5-10, 155), an "Oakland County Doug Flutie kind of player,"

Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "But the problem is, the rest of our league is tougher, too."

Such is the plight of the Rocks this season.

Salem has adopted "Back alive in '85" as their theme this season and, indeed, there's reason to suspect the Rocks will quite lively.

Paul Makara is a dangerous young man with the football. He's fast and strong. Moshimer will use him at either half back or quarterback this season.

Brian Johnson has the tools to become a major college prospect. He's 6-4, 230 with extremely good hands and good speed. He will play defensive and offensive end for the Rocks and maybe some fullback.

John Storm and Chris Hill are also getting a shot at the quarterback job.

The biggest question mark for Salem is a young core of linemen. Seniors Bill Juchartz and Jamie Woodchuck will be counted on for leadership. Sophomores John Swisher, Adam Aldrin and Dave Friglerio may also win starting jobs.

"The success of our team will depend on how fast our young people come around," Moshimer said.

LIVONIA STEVENSON: On paper, you want to say that it could be a long season for Jack Reardon's team. The Spartans graduated 19 starters and have a very small-size team returning.

But to count a Jack Reardon football team out in August is foolish. The veteran has managed to win 115 games in his 29 seasons, not always with All-American talent.

The top returnee for Stevenson will be 230-pound tackle Joe Conway. He'll anchor the line with Dan Cosgrove (175), John Skuka (170) and Paul Dober (6-4, 215).

It appears that David Rosochacki, a senior, will handle the quarterback chores. Brother Don Rosochacki will start at fullback.

Other key Spartans are likely to be Greg Burrell, Paul Miller and Frank Williams.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN: By his own admission, Armand Vigna's Patriots are hurting. Especially on the line where they are both small and inexperienced.

But, Franklin has the potential to be somewhat explosive offensively. They were the winningest team at the EMU summer football camp for quarterbacks, receivers and defensive backs.

Quarterback Dave Drabicki, if given time, will pick opposing secondaries apart with his strong arm.

Brad Norrid, Chris Parenti, Mark Kerpet and Craig Duganos are the most experienced returnees. Others include Bob Sonikowski, Chuck Roth, Tony Volletti and Jeff Kroll.

OTHERS: Of the non-Observers teams, Northville looks to be the best. With a 7-2 record last year, with the majority of the starters returning, and one of the area's best JV teams moving up a notch, the Mustangs look formidable in the Western Division.

Walled Lake Central, as always, will field a large, aggressive football unit. The question marks will be in the skill positions.

Walled Lake Western, by all accounts, could be in for a long season. They are young and small, a bad combination in the tough Western Lakes.

linemen aren't real big, we don't have much experience — but we've been in this position before and won."

LIVONIA CHURCHILL: Last year, Herb Osterland was concerned that only 30-some kids showed up for football practice. This year, 65 showed up.

The reason for the population explosion is the merging of more than 20 ex-Bentley kids.

"Numbers wise, we're getting real good vibes. The kids are very coachable. The linemen aren't huge, but we have depth," Osterland said. "Our concerns are at the skill positions. We've lost John Stottsias (quarterback) so we won't have the same type of offense."

Key returnees from Churchill are Bob Pensari, Mike Thompson, Kirk Stacherski, Andy Oliver and Tim Day. Key players coming in from Bentley are Joe Payne, Ken Percin, Jim Maddox and Tracy Scott.

Osterland is also high on a pair of junior running backs: Jim Naif and Keith McGorkis.

PLYMOUTH CANTON: With the nucleus of a varsity team that went 4-5 and a junior varsity team that went 7-2, the Chiefs have the ingredients of a successful football team — yes, one that could not only finish at .500 or better for the first time in the school's history, but one that might even give chase for the division title.

The Chiefs could be successful if, as coach Dick Barr said, "we eliminate crucial mistakes. We made too many mistakes at crucial times last year."

Tony Alkan lends his three years of varsity experience to the quarterback spot. He can run effectively, throw effectively and he's strong. He also plays a solid defensive back.

Other key Chiefs are John McKinmy, Kirk Bennett, Dan Olszewski, Rich McConnell, Glen Godfrey, Steve Boyd, Darrin Brege, Troy McCall and Dan Haarala.

"We will be tested early," Barr said. "We'll find out quick what kind of football team we have."

WESTERN DIVISION

FARMINGTON HARRISON: Nineteen starters are gone including two-time All-American John Miller, quarterback Vince Enright and all-state linemen Dave Delekte and George Saracovich.

"I really can't judge this team, yet," said Harrison coach John Harrington. "There've been some surprises, but last year we had our best team ever. It's hard to compare the two."

Returning is all-state receiver Brian Smolinak who caught 55 passes last year — he is a legitimate game-breaker. Scott Bissell, a starter last season, is also back.

A key for the Hawks will be the development of back Mark Mecklenborg. His physical stature and raw talent are impressive.

Another key will be the development of quarterback Mike Mack. As the third-string quarterback last year, Mack saw more playing time than most third-stringers, but not nearly enough to be considered experienced.

Seniors Todd Manlike and Rod Saracovich, both starters last year, are being counted on to supply leadership.

"Sure we can win it," Harrington said. "In fact, I'm planning on us winning it. But, it's a different team. Our

Garden City puts pride on line

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Two Observers area football teams will be playing for pride this season.

Garden City and Redford Union, the only two remnants of the Northwest Suburban League, will play as independents in 1985. That comes after Livonia Franklin, Westland John Glenn and North Farmington left for the 12-team, two-division Western Lakes circuit.

Also leaving the NSL is Redford Thurston, which will play in the Tri-River League.

The NSL now consists of Garden City, RU, Dearborn, Dearborn Edsel Ford and Woodhaven. But because of schedule problems, no league football champion will be declared.

"When we play Garden City it will be for the league championship," cracked new RU coach Jim Gibbons. "No, wait a minute. We play Woodhaven, too."

What are the prospects for these two area teams and the others outside the Western Lakes?

Here is a fall preview of the remaining area schools.

GARDEN CITY

First-year coach Bob Lusk hopes to carry on the winning ways established last season by Dean Shipman, who guided the Cougars to a 7-2 overall record and a second place finish in the NSL.

Lusk, a defensive coordinator last season, lost 18 starters to graduation.

The only returning starters include senior outside linebacker Steve Kokowicz and center-tackle Pat Giese.

Spot starters returning include Terry Bonner (quarterback), Ron Shaw (flanker), Jim Baker (linebacker), Jay Shoemaker (tackle) and Jose Jimenez (tackle).

Lusk has several top prospects including, 6-foot-2, 300-pound tackle Ed Miller, a senior.

"This is basically a rebuilding year after a good '84 season," said Lusk. "We're short on running backs with experience."

REDFORD THURSTON

Second-year coach Ron Powell enters a new league (the Tri-River) with cautious optimism.

Last year's 0-9 squad took their lumps, but the Eagles return 80 percent of its regulars.

"Guys like Brian Wojkowski, Jeff Frelich and Mike Shipp will be hard to replace," said Powell. "But we have eight of 11 starters back that went both ways (offense and defense)."

"Our biggest asset will be our offensive backfield."

The returnees include junior quarterback Kevin O'Connor and running backs Ron Rousseau, Kevin Dattillo and Chris McFarland. Wide receivers Dave Dietrich and Bill Chalmers also return.

"We have decent size and a lot coming back next year," Powell said. "But the line has to prove themselves."

Powell believes coaching is a big factor to obtain victories this fall.

Added to his staff was former Dearborn Heights Riverside head coach Steve Radomski, and his assistant, offensive coordinator Vaskin Badlow, a Dearborn Heights judge.

REDFORD UNION

New coach Jim Gibbons inherits a 3-6 club from Harvey Heitman.

The Panthers, 3-6 a year ago, lost 16 starters, including running back Don Angel, who gained 1,401 yards en route to All-Area honors.

Five senior starters return including linebacker Bob Kamen, linebacker-guard Mario Picano (5-11, 210), tackle Jerry Manus (5-10, 255), wide receiver-defensive back Ed Mogielski and halfback-defensive back Marc Buchan.

"We'd like to be above .500," Gibbons said. "We need experience in winning. If we get some games under our belts and we play well, we could be tough to handle."

Gibbons is going to stress the kicking game, long a sore spot at RU. He also hopes to mold a strong, aggressive defense.

WAYNE MEMORIAL

Yet another new coach in the area is Chuck Howton at Wayne Memorial, who takes over for Floyd Carter, who spent the past 13 years as the Zebras' head coach.

"We've made a lot of changes offensively," Howton said. "We're going to run our fullbacks, halfbacks and wingbacks."

Expected to carry the ball is senior fullback Kwan Hearn (6-1, 195) and tailbacks Darren Tatum and Joe Gossett.

Not tall in stature, but big in heart is quarterback Doug Quartuccio. His primary target will be tight end George Lumpkin.

Other returnees include Dave Florn (center-defensive end), Mike Cooney (guard-linebacker), Dave Ursem (nose guard), Wayne Roberts (tight end-strong safety) and Ed Jordan (defensive back).

Also expected to contribute area senior tackles Harold Nunley (6-2, 235) and Mike Cardin (6-0, 240).

With a positive attitude and continued support of the administration, Howton believes Wayne can turn around last year's dismal 2-7 season.

But the Wolverine A League is no picnic with the likes of perennial Class A power Dearborn Fordson and always tough Monroe.

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE

Veteran coach Ralph Weddle lost 13 starters, including running backs Rob McCamant and Andy Lauderback.

Returning from a 4-5 squad include tailback Mike Forfinaki, quarterback Tom Garbacz, and captains Tim Wisdom (guard-linebacker), Matt Martin (end) and Steve Buell (power back). Sophomore center Bob Lynn also returns along with guard-linebacker Sean McElheran.

"If we get everybody out, we'll be a decent team," said Weddle, now in his 19th season. "But if we don't, we'll be struggling."

Weddle said that Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook is the team to beat in the seven-team Metro Conference.

"Cranbrook is the favorite with everybody else having a shot," Weddle said. "Everybody lost a couple of key people."

jillo, who takes over for the graduated D.C. Minor, is the key.

"I hate to put the pressure on him, but he's got to come through," Goddard said. "If he comes through, we can be a helluva football team."

Goddard said that this team can be as good as the 1983 team, led by Mike Skiver (Eastern Michigan) and Joe Churches (Central Michigan), who led Agatha to a 7-2 record.

"We have a lot back," Goddard said. "We need a couple of offensive linemen, but I told them they can be a good team."

But Goddard cautioned that Agatha will play one of its toughest schedules in years.

Athens aims for 1st Metro title

By Jim Hughes staff writer

Football coaches in the Metro Suburban Activities Association annually talk about parity among the league rivals, and the words are well-founded. Since the turn of the decade, six of the eight member teams have claimed league titles.

West Bloomfield and Rochester, beginning their third year in the MSAA, won Greater Oakland Activities League crowns in 1981 and 1982, respectively. Rochester also captured the MSAA title during its inaugural season in the league.

In the past five seasons, five different teams have had a piece of the Metro Suburban title: Birmingham Groves and Lathrup (tied in 1980), Royal Oak Dondero (1981), Bloomfield Hills Lahser (1982), Rochester (1983) and Lathrup (1984).

That leaves Troy Athens and Rochester Adams to make a mark in the 80s, and both are hoping to add their school's name to the football trophy.

ATHENS: The Red Hawks, 4-3 in the league last year and 5-4 overall, came closest to winning a league championship in 1981 when they posted an 8-1 record. Only a 21-20 loss to Dondero thwarted the effort.

The Red Hawks' title drive will be sparked by 12 returning starters from last year's team.

Offensively, senior ball carriers Kendall Kowalski (5-foot-11, 183 pounds), Tony Knight (5-8, 195) and Jeff Cavazoz (5-10, 200) return and join senior quarterback Joe Ermiger (6-0, 180) to form an experienced backfield. Also returning at skill positions are senior wide receivers Dave Tooley (6-0, 193), and Tom Loftus (5-8, 152).

Returning starters on the interior line are tackles J.R. Lutali (5-11, 238) and Scott Creaman (6-0, 233). Creaman is moved to tackle from the center slot. Guards John Shaffer (5-10, 190) and Vaughn Droblich (5-11, 213) also return.

Defensively, Tooley and Kowalski join Scott Sweezy (6-1, 168) in the secondary, with Cavazoz at linebacker, Lutali at nose guard and Shawn Mallory (6-0, 183) at an end.

"Our secondary will be a strong suit, and, we have a senior offensive line, which really makes a difference," Athens coach John Walker said. "Our short passing game looks real good. I think we'll be a ball-control team as opposed to being explosive."

"I think we have a good chance in the league," he added. "We could be one of four considered to challenge. I'm happy we have so many people returning. That makes a difference early in the season."

ADAMS: After posting a 2-16 record the past two years, the Highlanders are looking to move up in the standings under second-year head coach Jack Runchey. Adams, with seven returning starters and a year working with the Highlanders under Runchey's belt, could be a team to challenge this year.

The senior returning cast includes running back/linebacker Tom Mullinax (5-11, 195), wide receiver/defensive back Clay Martin (6-2, 185), running back/linebacker Todd Helzer (5-11, 195), defensive linemen Craig Wecorek (5-11, 215) and Mike Brown (5-11, 175), defensive back Tim Stuart (6-1, 180) and offensive and defensive tackle Doug Daugherty (6-5, 228).

With senior Tim Taylor (6-2, 250) and junior Don Scott (6-5, 238) vying for offensive line spots, the Highlanders will have plenty of beef along the interior.

The biggest question mark early in the Highlanders' camp was the quarterback slot, where Runchey is casting a close watch over a trio of candidates.

"Our strength is going to have to be defense and the offensive line," Runchey said. "We have to be strong there to be effective. I'm pleased with the team's improvement in agility, physical strength and attitude. We started work the Monday after our last game last season."

GROVES: The Falcons have been perfect-season spoilers the past two years, as they felled bids from Rochester (1983) and Lathrup (1984) for 9-0 marks. This year, Groves would like to be the hunted rather than the hunter.

Veteran head coach Bill Rankin enters his 14th year in charge of the Falcons, and he welcomes the return of seven starters from a 5-4 team that tied Rochester for second place (5-2) in the league.

Offensively, returning starters include senior quarterback Bill Bushnell (6-1, 185) and running backs Pete Jackson (5-10, 185) and Eric Meckley (5-6, 160). Aidan Lyaght (6-5, 210) returns at tackle.

Defensively, the returnees include end Steve Crane (6-0, 200), linebacker Matt Reed (6-1, 190) and back Sean Sexton (6-1, 160).

"It looks like we'll have a strong running game with the return of our backfield," Rankin said. "We need a lot of work on the offensive and defensive lines. Those players returning certainly are our strength, but we don't have too many back. We just don't have the depth."

Rankin will have a tough time finding depth as just 28 players reported for varsity workouts.

LATHRUP: The Chargers averaged nearly 24 points a game last season, and allowed just 8.4 during their 8-1 season. With a pair of skilled players returning, plus a promising senior tailback, Lathrup again will be a threat to put points on the scoreboard.

Annually, the Chargers field gifted athletes at the skill positions, and this year, they're led by returning starting quarterback John Lee (6-0, 175). He is joined by running back Chris Davis (5-9, 185). The only other returning starter from the league championship team is tackle Mike Zollinger (6-1, 230). Davis also returns at the line-backer slot.

Additions at the skill positions is senior halfback Ike Lipey (6-0, 180) and junior wide receiver Eric Stokes (5-11, 155).

"The skill positions are our strength," Lathrup coach Bob Martin said. "We have one senior on the line, the rest are juniors. All our players are about 5-11, 160. We don't have anyone over 200 pounds."

"We have five pretty good starters, but we've got to find some depth. I've brought up three sophomores to fill out the squad, and there's a possibility of adding a couple more."

If Lathrup is to repeat, it will have to avoid injuries since depth already is a concern to Martin.

"We have to stay healthy," he said. "John Lee is our best safety, but I don't know if we can afford to use him defensively. If we can stay healthy, we could contend again, and maybe surprise some people."

ROCHESTER: The two common ingredients which have characterized Falcon football in the past should be evident in Rochester's 1985 edition: speed and a strong aerial attack.

Second-year head coach Mike Van Dam returns just six starters from last year's 5-4 team, but overall team speed and a quarterback who fits in the mold of his predecessors, should keep Rochester competitive.

Senior Chris Koestz, a 6-10, 175-pound quarterback, will try to live up to the Falcon tradition of success through the air.

"He's a good quarterback," Van Dam said. "He doesn't have the size some of the others had, but once he gets his confidence, I think he'll be a good one."

Offensively, Rochester returns seniors Jamie Rumble (6-0, 205) at tackle, Alex Nagy (5-9, 190) at guard and Mike Hottigan (6-0, 165) and Chris Jacobs (5-8, 160) as wide receivers.

Senior linebacker Steve Beewick (5-11, 195) and senior safety Nate Childers (6-1, 175) are the lone defensive returning starters.

WEST BLOOMFIELD: The Lakers, after two years in the bottom half of the Metro Suburban class, are looking to crack the top four this season. A young West Bloomfield team will be tested early as it opens the season against perennial power Farmington Harrison, then meets Athens in the league opener.

Return starters from a team which was 2-7 last year are senior tight ends Mark Kowalsky (6-1, 175), Brian Starr (6-0, 175), tackles Evan Vlaemink (6-2, 210) and Jeff Yankus (6-3, 230) and guard Todd McKullan (5-11, 170).

Defensively, senior back Joe Schank (5-9, 155) and linebacker Pat Baglen (6-1, 180) are the only returning starters.

Schank and Dan Shrewsbury, a 6-0, 165-pound junior, most likely will share the quarterback duties for the Lakers. Pat Lamb, a 5-10 190-pound senior, has been moved from defensive back to offensive guard, and John Hella, a 6-0, 176-pound senior, will return to center where he started four games last season.

DONDERO: The Oaks were winless in league play last year, and only three players return from the starting line-up — none of which are on the offensive unit.
