Kenyon will resign from city commission job

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Ralph Kenyon, a six-year member of the Plymouth City Commission, will resign in order to serve on the Plymouth District Library Board of Trustees.

Kenyon was among nine persons elected to the board in a special election held last Tuesday.

Kenyon's term of office expires Nov. 5, when an election will be held for his seat and three other vacant seats on the Commission.

Tonight, Kenyon will attend his last meeting as a commissioner. The Commission must decide whether to appoint someone to replace him, or it can continue to conduct business with the seat vacant until the Nov. 5 election.

A special election to replace Kenyon is not required. Dennis Bila recently was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mary Ellen Kercher.

Kenyon, 60, has been a Plymouth resident for 37 years — 1930-1960 and for the last seven years.

He is chairman of the Plymouth Economic Development Corporation, which encourages new industry in the city and facilitates the granting of tax abatement for those that decide to locate here.

point someone to replace him, or it can continue to conduct business with the seat vacant until the Nov. 5 election. A special election to replace Kenyon is not required. Dennis Bila recently was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Mary Ellen Kercher.

Kenyon, an engineering and public administration graduate of the University of Michigan and an employee of Ford Motor Co., said he ran for the Plymouth Library District board seat because "I like to participate."

He said he regretted leaving the Commission, however. "It's been a very inspirational body to work with," he said.

The Plymouth Library District will oversee the operation of the Dunning-Hough Library in the City of Plymouth.

It replaces a former library board, consisting of six city residents. By contrast, the new nine-member board has five city and four Plymouth Township residents.

Before the library district was established, the former library board was required to seek funds separately, from the city and the township. It is expected that the new board will call for a communitywide library district millage election, so that the library can provide its own money through taxation.

In response, the township would eliminate its contribution of $146,000 to the library and the city would eliminate its one-mill levy for the library.

Kenyon said he was "leaning toward" a millage election for the Plymouth Library District.

Such a millage election would be held Nov. 5, the same day voters would choose four city commissioners.

CANDIDATES in the November race will be William Robinson, Robert Kroeger, Jean Morrow, Anthony Anason, Donald Keller, William Bingley, Robert Jones and Karl Gansler.

Robinson now serves as mayor pro tem on the seven-member City Commission. Kenyon cannot seek re-election to the Commission because the city charter limits commissioners to two consecutive terms.

City Attorney Chuck Lowe also has ruled that the job of library trustee would be incompatible with that of city commissioner, resulting in Kenyon's immediate resignation from the Commission.

Much of the success of the Plymouth Library District will depend on obtaining the passage of millage in the city and township. But in case the millage request fails, an interlocal agreement dictates how funding without millage would be handled.

Tom Ranta of Canton will take part in the Flying Pilgrims Model Airplane Club of Plymouth "Fall Fly" to be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28-29, in Canton. Ranta is shown with a P-51 Mustang and, in the background, a Corsair and a Japanese Zero with floats.

Mini-airplane buffs to soar at area meet

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Appearances could be deceiving when the Flying Pilgrims Model Airplane Club presents its "Fall Fly for Fun Phase Out" in Canton Sept. 28, 29.

At first glance, the miniature airplanes are sure to fool passers-by. The small craft are realistic in every detail, except size, but their size is much larger than the typical model airplane.

Wingspans range from about seven feet to 12 feet and the planes usually weigh about 25 pounds.

The radio-controlled aircraft that mimic Japanese Zeros, Russian MIGs and American Eagles will look like the real thing when they take off and land at the small Canton airfield on Lilley Road north of Van Born Road.

Western Wayne County residents are welcome to attend the show, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

PILOTS ON the ground will conduct takeoffs on a real cement runway, 22 feet by 140 feet, and on a grass runway, 150 feet by 400 feet.

When the planes become airborne, the pilot will pull in the landing gear. Then, while the plane is in the air, he'll control the direction of flight by manipulating the plane's ailerons.

Landing will look like the real thing, too, as landing gear pops out and the plane glides to a stop on the runway.

The Flying Pilgrims are Chapter 31 of the International Miniature Aircraft Association, Inc., which will use the $5 airplane landing fee for entries and the $1 car parking fee for guests to maintain the miniature airstrip.

"There will be flight demonstrations by 20 IMAA members who build the big planes," said Don Kehoe of Canton, who is president of the local chapter.

"They'll be coming from Plymouth, Canton, Livonia, Farmington, Rochester, Northville, Lansing, Battle Creek, Cleveland and the thumb area of Michigan," he said.

"This is not a contest," Kehoe said. "It'll be a demonstration. We'll sell hot dogs and pop as part of our fundraising."

THE NOT-SO-MINIATURE miniature aircraft operate on chainsaw engines that carry the balsa, spruce, plywood or Styrofoam planes to speeds of up to 125 miles per hour.

But the miniatures are cheaper to operate than conventional, much smaller, model airplanes.

"With their 16-32-ounce tanks with regular gasoline that costs $1.15 a gallon, they can stay up 15 minutes to a half hour. But model airplane fuel costs $8 or $9 a gallon," said Kehoe.

So realistic are the miniature planes, that one of them was used in the film, "The Right Stuff." It was a B-29 that ran on four 3.2-horsepower engines and represented a real B-29 when filmed in a studio mockup.

The Flying Pilgrims imitate just about every era, including WWI and WWII fighters such as Warbirds, to Clip Wing Cubs, Corsairs and Cessnas.

"All of the planes are built from scratch," said Kehoe, "although plans are sent away for."

THE BUILDERS of miniature planes apparently can get just about any kind of design they want by sending away for the plans — including a Russian MIG and the old biplanes.

One of the more unusual miniatures is a Japanese WWII fighter, or Zero, that can be made to take off from, and land on, water.

The owners typically spend $300 to $1,000 on their planes, depending on equipment. A retractable landing gear alone costs $250-300. Engines cost $150 to $500.

There were 40 planes and 25 pilots in last year's show. Kehoe expects about the same turnout this year.

The jets will travel at speeds of 120-125 miles per hour, while the propeller-driven craft generally will hit speeds of about 65 miles per hour.

The largest of the planes will be one-quarter scale, the smallest one-sixth scale.

The Flying Pilgrims lease the Canton airstrip for $1 a year, according to Kehoe. Members pay dues of $30 a year, plus a $50 initiation fee for newcomers.

Student's life affected by loss of her flute

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Kristen Van Buhler equates the loss of her flute last week to the death of a friend or amputation of a limb.

"I feel like someone took off my arm," Kristen, 17, said. "I felt like I lost somebody. A lot of your personal life evolves around playing your music."

Last Tuesday, Buhler, a senior at Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP), left the Muramatsu flute locked in her car at Plymouth Salem High parking lot on Joy Road west of Canton Center Road. It was one of the few times, her mother Kathy said, she ever left the flute out of her sight.

When Kristy returned about an hour later, the car was locked but the instrument — concealed in a soft leather case covering a hard container — was missing. A contact microphone valued at $150, which was provided by the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park Boosters Club, also was gone.

KRISTEN AND KATHY, Canton residents, desperately want the flute back, and are offering a $250, "no-questions-asked" reward for its return. Anyone with information is requested to call 525-1776.

Kristen's emotional attachment to the instrument is admittedly magnified but, she said, her life has centered around playing the flute. Even her plans for the future depend on the instrument. Kristen has been practicing for seven years and plans to attend college for a master's degree in performance.

"Then I hope to work with a symphony, and maybe once I get myself established as a musician, I can do some solo work, too," said Kristen, who plans to teach flute "to get myself through college."

Her commitment to the flute has been enhanced by the highly acclaimed PCEP music department.

"When we lived in Alpena and we were having problems with the school system, I asked people where they would move if they had a child who wanted to study flute in college, and they said the Plymouth-Canton schools," Kathy said. They moved in 1984, and Kathy landed a position in public relations for the Detroit Symphony.

Everytime musicians play a "special concert" a bond between the musician and instrument is strengthened, Kathy said.

"It's like a cowboy making notches in his belt everytime they killed someone. Musicians have notches on their instrument. They look at the instrument and think back about the concerts they've played."

Kristen, who is first chair flutist with the PCEP band, said she is mystified about what happened.

Kathy has two theories: Either someone mistakenly thought the flute was a purse and stole it, or someone is playing a prank.

"I think someone took it not knowing what it was, or it is a practical joke because they knew how much it meant to Kristy," Kathy said. "I have no interest in prosecuting, even though they have caused us a lot of personal problems."

"Unless the person is a musician, it wouldn't be of any use to them," Kathy said. "If it shows up anywhere people will know."

Kathy and Kristen, a member of the PCEP marching band, filed a Canton Township police report, and left the instrument's serial number with stores and pawn shops.

Kristen is paying for the flute — bought from her teacher, Ervin Monroe, a Detroit Symphony principal flutist — by folding music sheets for 1,200 hours.

Township money woes top agenda

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Budgets and taxes in the township and rezoning of farmland in the city are the main issues to be considered when the Plymouth City Commission and the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees meet this week.

The commission meets at 7:30 p.m. today in Plymouth City Hall. The township board meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in Plymouth Township Hall.

On the agenda for the township meeting is a proposed 1986 balanced budget, as submitted by Township Supervisor Maurice Breen.

The new budget reflects belt-tightening measures in response to a millage defeat in July. The defeated millage proposal would have permitted the township to levy up to four mills. The millage proposal went down, 1,636 to 688.

As a result, the board must deal with a projected budget shortfall in 1986. Breen said he will trim costs in all departments.

WITHOUT AN increased millage levy, the township must operate on two mills or $3 for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation (SEV).

The board has targeted Nov. 5 as the date for a possible millage election. The newly formed Plymouth Library District also is expected to seek millage on that date. The city, too, has an election Nov. 5 to fill four commissioners' vacancies.

In addition, the township must seek millage renewal for the police and fire departments.

Also on the township agenda is the final plat approval request for the Metro West Industrial Park Subdivision Three, at Five Mile and Sheldon; reports from the building, fire, police, supervisor's and water and sewage departments; and the transfer of a liquor license for the Pilgrim Party Store, 895 Ann Arbor Road.

THE PLYMOUTH City Commission will give a second reading to the rezoning of the Moore Farm property, located at the south end of Kellogg and Deer, from single family residential to multi-family, two-story residential.

A first reading of the rezoning was approved by the commission, to allow a developer to build condominiums on the farm site. If the rezoning receives approval at the second reading, a site plan must be submitted to the Plymouth Planning Commission.

The city commission also will hear a request from the March of Dimes to conduct its annual solicitation and march Jan. 15-31, 1986.

It will consider authorizing the purchase of a mini-van for the city engineering department and a mid-size station wagon for the assistant to the city manager.

District sets 6 half days for teacher training

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education has set aside six half days for training of personnel.

The days are Oct. 22, Oct. 29, March 5, March 12, April 24 and May 1.

On these days, all elementary schools will close at the end of their morning sessions. Middle schools will close at the end of the third hour. High school students will be excused at the end of the third hour (10:26 a.m.).

The schedule permits bused students to be taken home on their regular routes and allows older students to be home early if they are needed to care for younger brothers or sisters.

Morning kindergarten will meet Oct. 22, March 5 and April 24, with no afternoon kindergarten on those dates.

Afternoon kindergarten will meet in the mornings of Oct. 29, March 12 and May 1, with no morning kindergarten on those dates.

The school district will work with local recreation departments and local businesses to provide a variety of alternative activities for students on the in-service afternoons.

THE SCHEDULE of in-services will provide opportunity for upgrading the job-related skills of all district personnel, including secretarial and clerical staff, food service staff, teachers, custodial and maintenance employees.

"The upgrading of skills for our staff is vitally important if we are to continue to do the best job we can of educating our young people. We recognize that we could do this by taking teachers out of class and having substitutes fill in for them," said Dr. John M.

Hoben, superintendent of schools.

"While substitutes do an excellent job of working with students, research and experience show that contact with the regular teacher is important to the continuity and consistency of the learning process.

"As we reviewed the records of last year, we realized many teachers were being taken from the classroom to participate in important in-service training activities. This change will permit more of the training to be done during non-classroom time. It will also permit us to work with more staff members at one time in addressing common areas of need," added Hoben.

BOARD PRESIDENT Roland Thomas said: "This is a commitment which this Board of Education is making to staff development. It is a recognition of our need to continually update and upgrade staff as we work to maintain educational excellence in our district.

"The value of setting aside time for staff development has long been recognized by industry. In making this commitment, the board is recognizing the value of maintaining a well-trained, up-to-date staff."

Activities planned for the first staff development session, Oct. 22, include meetings in areas such as reading, writing, science, vocational education, talented and gifted, student behavior, music, physical education, art and special education.

Three of the six sessions will focus on specific school improvement efforts at each building level.

Stay out of dining room

How well do American keep house? Here are some facts and figures that may surprise you:

- The best estimate of the average time now being spent on housework in the average American household is between 10 and 15 hours a week, according to recent studies.
- The average number of weekly washloads in the typical American household is six.

- Ninety-eight percent of Americans report they sweep and vacuum the house at least once every two weeks. Ninety-two percent dust and 91 percent wash the floors at least once every two weeks.
- The bathroom, a high traffic area, is one of the most difficult rooms to clean, Americans report. There are 15 million bathrooms in the U.S. — bathrooms that are cleaned, on the average, more than four times per week.

- Of all the rooms in the typical American home, the dining room gets the least housekeeping attention, studies show.

Weather forecasts from his house to your's

By Joanne Maliszewski
staff writer

"The rumble of thunder ... there it is. Well the thunderstorms right now are running into the Detroit area. Two-and-a-half inches of rain reported in Genesee County. You can look for this rain just to float over the Detroit area in the next few hours. Right now we have 76 degrees downtown. If you haven't looked out of the window, take your umbrella. From the WXYT Weather Service, I'm Rob Kress."

Think of the number of times during the day you've heard the well-known weather forecaster while driving to and from work. If it sounds like he's doing the weather from right there in the studio next to the radio newscaster, think again.

While you're listening to the radio and fighting traffic on the Lodge, Jeffries or Ford freeways, Kress is keeping you abreast of the day's weather from the backyard and family room of his Farmington Hills home.

It's not exactly a secret that the WXYT Weather Center is in a beautiful suburban setting complete with a swimming pool. In nice weather Kress does his radio forecasts from his backyard deck. The microphone is plugged into his "jam box" positioned on a table shaded by a large umbrella.

He considers it more realistic. "We're not trying to fool the listeners," said Kress, sitting within arm's reach of the microphone, weather computer and amplifier in a corner of his family room.

"I CAN SIT here and see the clouds and the sun. If I'm looking out and it's bad, 10,000 other people out there listening to the radio must think the same thing."

How many times, Kress asks, have radio weather forecasters declared beautiful, sunny weather when beyond their windowless walls it's pouring rain.

By doing his forecasts at home he's able to keep pace with changing weather conditions just by looking out the window. He can look in one direction and see dark clouds over Novi or look in another and see sun over Detroit. That's why there's an occasional roar of thunder or the sound of a jet in the background of his forecasts.

And the mornings when you hear the newscaster chuckle as Kress says he can see the rain on radar — they're not talking sophisticated equipment. Kress is referring to the raindrops on the back of Radar, one of his golden retrievers. Thunder, the younger of the two dogs, can be relied on to provide a few barks while Kress is broadcasting.

The quality of the forecasts — some recorded, others live — is so keen that it seems as though he's in a sound studio at the radio station on 10 Mile in Southfield.

THAT'S BECAUSE Kress has his own little makeshift studio in his family room. His microphone, complete with headset, is hooked up to AT&T lines which carry his forecasts into the studio and onto the radio.

"They used to call me and say, 'stand by, you're going on in 2-3 minutes.' Now I listen to the radio announcers and follow with the clock. It sounds like I'm right in the radio studio," said Kress.

What really enables Kress to do his forecasts at home is his IBM computer. It's similar to the one he uses in the television studios but a little less sophisticated.

"What you need to do radio is the source of information. And what I have is a little computer that gets the information and brings it right to me."

When he gets up in the morning Kress taps into the National Weather Service computers in Oklahoma. On his computer's screen is a description of the day's weather in Michigan as well as temperatures and even weather warnings.

"WITH THIS computer I have absolutely the most advanced weather system. I can tell you what the weather is on the oil rigs in the Gulf of Mexico."

Looking out the window, though, gives him the best idea of what Detroit area motorists are facing in the morning. But Kress also makes calls to state police posts, for example, to find out what the weather is like in other communities.

During snowstorms he'll hop into a truck equipped for radio transmitters and drive down the Lodge so he can get the clearest, most realistic picture of what's happening. He thinks motorists are appreciative, knowing he's sharing their anger and concern while muddling along a frozen freeway.

Looking out the windows or sitting on the backyard deck is in keeping with Kress' broadcast style — simple and realistic.

"Weather is so incredibly important to the people who live here. People want to get outdoors. They want to know they can go to Traverse City and that the weather will be okay. You have to almost tell them what to expect. So he avoids using the standard meteorological terms many forecasters let roll off their tongue. The terms, Kress said, just don't make sense to most people.

Rob Kress' dog, Thunder, attempts to get in on his owner's weather act.

JERRY ZOLYNSKY/staff photographer

THE BEST EXAMPLES of confusing lingo are the terms, "partly cloudy" and "partly sunny," Kress said. Instead, he prefers announcing that there's a "mixture" of clouds and sun simply because when you look up in the sky that's exactly what it looks like.

At 9 a.m. he's finished with the radio broadcasting portion of his day. By 11 a.m. he's showered, dressed in suit and tie and off to finish the day on TV.

The Channel 7 television weather forecaster began broadcasting for WXYT about 1 1/2 years ago.

"I did it for a year on WNIC about

2 1/2 years ago. But I decided I was tired of getting up at 5:30 a.m. and driving down to the studio."

Now that he can do his broadcasts from home, getting up at 6 a.m. isn't so bad. He can put on his blue jeans and T-shirt, get a cup of coffee, light up a cigarette and he's ready for work. And he never has to leave his wife, Carolyn, or the comforts of home.

KRESS IS ON the air anywhere from seven to 14 times during the station's 6-9 a.m. morning drive hours. His forecasts for the rest of the day are taped.

Those he also does from his home between the live broadcasts. One by one, he goes through his 11 30-second spots.

Minutes after completing the series of taped forecasts he gets a call. It's the station. There's absolutely nothing on the tape. Do it again, he's asked.

Police 'prudent' in pursuit that ended in death

By Diane Gale
Staff writer

An investigation by the Canton Township Police Department found an officer was acting "prudently" last month while pursuing a Garden City youth who died of injuries from a crash.

The Canton Police Department concluded the officer followed departmental procedures during the pursuit that ended when Jaimes Griffin, 14, crashed into a tree in Plymouth Township and later died.

"(The officer) didn't violate any of our policies," said Canton Police Lt. Larry Stewart, who served as acting chief during the investigation. "He handled it prudently and with care."

GRIFFIN ALLEGEDLY ran several red lights during the two-mile chase.

The officer was about three-eighths of a mile behind the youth when the officer lost sight of the vehicle at a hill on Haggerty near Hines Drive. When the officer approached, he found the van had collided with a tree at the top of the hill on Plymouth and Haggerty roads.

A Plymouth Township officer witnessed part of the pursuit and was interviewed by Canton during the investigation, Stewart said.

"From the information that we had, and it has never been disputed, is that the Canton Township officer did all the appropriate things," said Carl Berry, Plymouth Township police chief.

Statements made by the Plymouth Township and Canton officers support each other and are further confirmed by evidence at the scene of the crash, Berry said. No charges will be filed by Plymouth Township against the Canton officer.

"This kind of situation would have an impact on anyone, regardless of whether they show it externally," Stewart said. The Canton officer involved in the pursuit had previously been scheduled to take the following three days off.

JOHN SANTOMAURO, Canton police chief, said he will institute a policy requiring officers to have psychiatric evaluations when involved in serious injuries or deaths.

Santomauro, who began his duties Thursday, formerly was the public safety director in Pittsfield Township. He initiated a similar policy in the community south of Ann Arbor.

The policy is to promote counseling and treatment for officers subjected to traumatic incidents that could impair their state of mind, Santomauro said. Currently, psychiatrists and psychologists are made available to Canton officers, but a visit is optional.

Mandating consultations is considered a way to sidestep officers' potential embarrassment about fellow workers knowing the officer sought help.

"Our forthcoming policy is that we are not singling people out by who they are," Santomauro said. "It's a policy that will cover everyone in the organization."

"We are very sensitized toward the victim any time there is a death, regardless of the circumstances. But police administrators have had a tendency not to pay much attention to what type of problems that type of situation has to the personnel."

"In this business, we are concerned about the well being of our employees, and we have to make sure that when our police go back to work they are ready to go back to work."

A favorable report from the psychiatrist will be required before an officer would be allowed to report for work, he added.

The officer's family, who sometimes need help in dealing with the problem stemming from the traumatic situation, also would be offered psychological help.

"I, as an administrator, do not want to assume the responsibility of evaluating the situation and saying the person is or is not affected by the incident," Santomauro said. "I rather have an expert doctor in the field tell me that the officer is or is not all right."

Groundbreaking keeps 25-year-old promise

By W.W. Edgar
Staff writer

A promise made a little more than 25 years ago was renewed last Thursday when ground was broken for a $20 million addition to St. Mary Hospital.

When the hospital was built after more than 10 years of waiting and working, Sister Mary Columbine, then the president of the board, vowed before the gathering on that cold morning that the hospital was being built for the care of the patients and that they always would come first.

This promise was kept through the years as two additions were made to the original building. And now the third portion, which will not include any extra beds, is being built.

As the ground was broken Sister Mary Modesta, the present president of the board, said the new section on the south side of the building would be for the benefit of the patients.

"St. Mary Hospital prides itself on providing quality care in a cost-efficient manner and our expansion and renovation project is another enhancement of that goal."

"We believe that the patient comes first and our state of the art technology and expansion of our critical care units will attest to that philosophy."

THE NEW ADDITION will provide one-step service and central admitting, with diagnostic testing located nearby.

The program for the ground breaking was conducted by the Most Rev. Moses G. Anderson, Auxiliary Bishop of the West Region, Archdiocese of Detroit.

The new building will help make St. Mary one of the leading hospitals in the state. And there were many in the gathering at the exercises who recalled the first promise and indicated it was well kept.

In the group were some who recalled the work and patience that went into the original building. Among them was Sister Columbine, now confined to a wheelchair, who made the promise.

Many memories were exchanged by the group that had a part in the building of the hospital.

AFTER THE Livonia Chamber of Commerce called on the sisters and explained that the new city needed a hospital, the sisters went to work. Exchanges were made to their home body, then to the Vatican and later to the bishop, and meanwhile the money from the government was held up.

Finally word came that the original money was now available and Sister Columbine and the late Sister Calasthensia headed the final group that got the building started.

Ten long years were required before the building was complete. Since that day of dedication two additions have been made and now the medical services building will be added.

West earns study grant

Marian West, library media specialist at Plymouth Salem High School, received a competitive grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, to participate in a recent six-week summer seminar at Princeton University.

The seminar topic was "Technology and the Human Experience."

The group of 15 high school teachers, from several discipline areas, examined in depth four examples of technological development over the past 700 years and the effect upon human society.

Starting with the Gothic cathedral and moving to the 19th-century factory, the group examined the Model T Ford and development of the computer.

The group also had opportunities for field trips to places such as Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill, N.J., and the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D.C.

The teachers worked with the computer system at the university and used prototype labs being established for the Princeton student body.

Each participant prepared a research proposal. West has been interested in architectural history and proposed a visual unit on the industrial design work of Detroit architect Albert Kahn.

 Your excellent coverage of our senior citizen parties was extremely beneficial to the Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club.
 The article generated several inquiries from potential members and growth in membership is needed for us to expand our activities. Exposure of this kind is invaluable as our club is not well known in the community.

Unhappy with police response

To the editor:
 (An open letter to Lt. Larry Stewart, acting police chief, Canton Police Department). Lt. Stewart:
 On the July 29 I called you to complain about the slow response that I received from the police, when I called them in regards to a breaking and entering of my neighbor's house. You told me that you would look into it and get back to me with information. As of today I have not heard a word from you.
 To refresh your memory I called in the information to your dispatcher on July 26 at 10:40 p.m. informing him that my neighbor, who was on vacation, had his house broken into. The dispatcher told me he could not have a car there until after 11 p.m. but could not give me a reason.

 I waited until 11:40 p.m. before a policeman arrived. I was told by one of the officers who arrived on the scene that the call was dispatched about 5 minutes before they arrived. The officers who arrived at the scene were the night shift and the call was put in during the afternoon shift.
 If this is the type of response a citizen gets from the acting chief, no wonder the policemen respond slowly.

Ethnic emphasis a big drawback in mystery

As a murder mystery, "Compromising Positions" is rather pedestrian even though it does have some slick moments commenting on contemporary suburban manners and mores. But the film fails by equating decadent suburban conduct with ethnic shortcomings.

Judith Singer (Susan Sarandon) is a discontented Long Island housewife who needs "fulfillment" and wants to resume her career as an investigative reporter.

Conveniently, her dentist, Dr. Bruce Fleckstein (Joe Mantegna), is murdered under mysterious circumstances. He had lived life to its suburban fullest as an all-around sleazeball who, as Judith discovers, had regular Tuesday and Thursday trysts with his patients, the very best ladies in the neighborhood. Boy, are there a lot of suspects.

Dr. Bruce took pictures during his illicit sexual liaisons and was linked to a Mafia pornography ring.

Judith's inquiries get her house trashed by someone (we never learn whom) who doesn't like nosy ladies. She also incurs the wrath of her husband, Bob (Edward Herrmann), a hardworking attorney who naively believes a modern woman is going to appreciate the role of wife and mother. He doesn't think she should mess in other people's business, which leads to some fairly effective discussion about the role of contemporary, educated, suburban women.

JUDITH ALSO GETS entangled with Homicide Lt. David Suarez (Raul Julia of "Kiss of the Spider Woman"), whose anger at her interference in police matters soon turns to love. He should have stayed home and kissed the Spider Woman. But that sort of essentially simple-minded, unresolved plot complication is typical of the film.

A good mystery weaves many threads into one tapestry but "Compromising Positions" leaves many strands dangling. The butler didn't do it but the resolution is so trite that one almost wishes he had. Then, at least, we'd have an explanation of all the red herrings.

"Compromising Positions" does make some entertaining statements about hi-jinks on Long Island, as the very straight Judith discovers that her friends and neighbors all have a motive for Dr. Bruce's demise.

The one exception, and the best role in the film, is Judith's raspy-voiced, free-loving, artist friend, Nancy Miller (Judith Ivey). She may be where it's at these days but that doesn't speak well for the moral life.

As for the stereotypical component, it seems to me that when someone tells an ethnic joke it's usually OK, if it's his own race. In this case, however, I'm willing to make an exception. Certainly, Isaacs, who adapted her novel for the screen, has an unpleasant view of her own people. That's her problem, but it becomes all our problems when the media projects adverse stereotypes for their own sake.

THERE IS ABSOLUTELY no reason that Dr. Fleckstein has to be Jewish, or any other ethnic derivation for that matter. Whatever limited humor or social commentary the film has to make is a function of human foibles, not of a specific group.

One needs to deal kindly and humorously with social characteristics in satire in order to win an audience's attention and regard. Only then will they be swayed.

"Goodbye, Columbus" (which has become a generic term for certain ethnic celebrations) is neither offensive nor embarrassing. Although some do not appreciate its satire, it does have warm regard and positive humor for those it needles.

Not so "Compromising Positions," whose acerbic quality taints whatever message it may have to offer. It certainly is offensive — and not a very good murder mystery either.

Susan Sarandon is a former reporter, now a suburban housewife, who becomes involved in an investigation when her dentist is murdered.

Tasting panel picks best

"This is the Bruce Springsteen concert of the wine world," claimed Dr. Lawrence Wolf, art enthusiast and wine connoisseur.

"This" was the Great Wine Shootout, held recently at Glen Oaks Golf Course in Farmington Hills. It was a special event, one designed to enable wine drinkers to express formally their wine preferences.

The set-up was interesting. Fifteen of the major wine distributors in the area were invited to nominate four of their wines in this competitive tasting. A participating testing panel of nearly 400 people (more than 150 had to be turned away) assembled to evaluate the wines and vote their preferences.

The wines were separated into two categories, reds and whites. The whites included blush and sparkling wines. Entries came from California, France, Spain, Germany, Michigan, Italy, Australia and Rumania. Each patron was allowed three votes per category.

OF THE 59 wines entered (one distributor submitted only three), no one person was able to sample them all, of course (or, it is hoped). However, in the evening, nearly a case of each wine was consumed; the average was close to a bottle per person.

As a tribute to the dignity and seriousness of the occasion, the tasters conducted themselves well in the face of all this temptation. These were serious wine people.

The results were interesting. Most people expected the very prestigious 1980 Mondavi Cabernet Sauvignon Reserve to easily win red category. It showed very well among the 17 reds entered, taking a strong second place. It was a lovely wine.

But it was beaten, and beaten soundly, by a newcomer to California wines, Groth Vineyards and Winery of Napa, with its 1982 Cabernet Sauvignon.

It, too, was a fine entry and was full of warm, earthy flavors. Actually, this showing was no fluke; the Groth winemaker is Nils Venge, longtime winemaker at Villa Mt. Eden next door, a veteran of many an impressive release.

The competition showed that suburbanites don't "drink labels." The evening had a bit of the David and Goliath aura about it.

Third-place finish was a tie between two other highly esteemed cabernets, the 1980 Sebastiani Reserve and the 1981 Beaulieu from Rutherford. The only non-cabernet winner of the evening in the category was the 1981 Caymus Zinfandel, a truly remarkable wine of wine

deep fruit and complexity. This earned an honorable mention.

VOTING AMONG the white wines was much tighter, as was to be expected with 42 entries. The surprising (again) winner was the 1983 Chateau Grand Traverse Riesling (late harvest), only Michigan wine entered in the event (sadly, there was no Zug Island offered or the results might have been different).

It is an extremely well-made wine, one that deserved a better showing than it got in the recent Michigan State Fair competition. I am sure it won this fairly. There's little regional loyalty around here.

Second place was awarded to the Beringer 1982 Barrel Fermented Chardonnay, an intense, complex and very serious wine.

Third-place honors went to one of the least expensive wines of the evening, the subject of this column last week. That was the Round Hill "house" chardonnay. It is remarkable for a $4.50 bottle of wine to best the $12-$16 bottles, especially because it is not the kind of big, intense wine that usually does best in competitive tastings when judges' taste buds tend to dull early.

Two honorable mentions were awarded in the white wine category. They were the 1983 chardonnay from Simi and the 1982 chardonnay from Newton.

In all, it was a most eventful and surprising evening, certainly showing a strong case for cabernets and chardonnays from California. One should expect no less. That is what the California wine industry is all about as it shows its world muscle.

Even though "the Boss" wasn't there (our U-M son reveals these inside names to me), it was the kind of night he would have enjoyed himself (maybe).

However, in the evening, nearly a case of each wine was consumed; the average was close to a bottle per person.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA — An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body"

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss! Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers
 Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

Best of all, ordering Amitol is simple, fast, and reliable! Simply call Dyna Labs Toll Free: (1-800-441-5454) Ext. 911, and order with your credit card. If you don't have a credit card Dyna Labs will also accept C.O.D. orders right over the phone! All orders are shipped immediately by UPS, which means no delay and no orders lost in the mail!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95—60 day supply. Operator are standing by and will be glad to take your order. You can order 24 hrs. a day, 7 days a week! Please don't wait to call. You really do deserve to be thin!

Central grade school criticized by PTA in 1930s

(Part 21)

When we revere the good old days we tend to forget that they were just as full of problems as those of today. An example in point is the situation which confronted a Plymouth School Board more than 50 years ago.

On Nov. 18, 1931, a committee of the Parent-Teacher's Association of the Central Grade School appeared before the board to complain about conditions at the school.

Present at the meeting, in addition to the committee, were board president James Gallimore and members Claude Buzzard, Herald Hamill, Russell Roe and Charles H. Bennett. Also in attendance were Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith and the school engineer.

They listened as PTA committee members Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, Mrs. John Olsaver and Mrs. Charles Carmichael deplored the lack of fire escapes at the school, the absence of fire drills and the lamentable condition of the toilets and lavatories.

The ladies were told that fire escapes were not necessary because the building, constructed in 1917 after the previous one burned, was fire-proof. But, said the ladies, the width of the stairways and doors was not sufficient to allow for the emptying of the building quickly unless the children were trained by means of fire drills.

THE WOMEN also complained that there was no hot water in any of the lavatories in the grade school building.

"This is very discouraging to cleanliness," read their statement, "especially during cold weather when small hands are apt to be chapped. Then, too, the boys have no place to wash their hands at all, except a stream of cold water at a slop sink where the scrub water for an entire floor is emptied. The condition of these sinks is such that they do not aid in teaching the growing boy habits of cleanliness."

The committee cited the new Starkweather School, built at the north end of town in 1927, as an example of good lavatory facilities, and said there was no reason why the pupils in both schools should not have the same understanding of the requirements of personal cleanliness.

"Through active cooperation between teachers and parents at Central School," they declared, "much could be accomplished to remedy this situation."

The statement to the board went on to say that "if the superintendent has been willing to let the matter ride as uncorrectable, he has not done his duty to the school nor to the parents. Mere accomplishment of prescribed routine does not complete the teacher's obligation. Such an attitude is justified in the higher schools of learning, but not in the grade schools where children do not have the necessary responsibility. If our present authorities have gotten so out of touch with the situation," the letter concluded, "then the active cooperation of the parents and teachers is emphatically called for."

PRESIDENT GALLIMORE, Secretary Buzzard, Superintendent Smith

and the engineer responded.

Smith said that the school was conducting at least one fire drill per month. At the drill the children were instructed to go to the rear of the playground to be clear of the buildings and entrances. He said the fire marshal had expressed satisfaction with the manner in which the fire drills were conducted.

The committee countered that fire drills should be held weekly during the first part of the school year so that the children could be reaccustomed to rapid removal from the building.

In addition, the ladies said, it was their understanding that instead of going to the rear of the building, the children were congregating between the buildings, a dangerous situation due to the location of the school boilers and the blocking of the entrances.

"Should there be a fire, the firemen would be greatly hampered if the entrance to the grade school were blocked by children."

Gallimore, who impressed the ladies with his sympathy for the aims of the PTA, suggested that he and the PTA committee watch an actual fire drill and it was agreed that a surprise drill be scheduled for a future date.

AS TO THE toilets and lavatories, the committee was told that when the grade school was built it was put up as cheaply and quickly as possible, for which reason no hot water had been provided.

Furthermore, said the board, since it was working that Depression year on a 16-percent reduction in the budget, hot water in the lavatories would have to be a thing of the future.

Wash basins had once been part of the school equipment, explained the school engineer, but several times in the third-floor lavatory the boys had pulled the basin from the wall, and at other times they had stopped the draft with towel paper and then turned on the water. After this had been done two or three times the basins were removed.

Ventilation in the grade school also was discussed. The school engineer explained that when the ventilating system was installed a check valve controlling the heat in the air chamber had been put in upside down. This faulty setting of the valve had made it impossible to control the heat of the air used in ventilating the school. He said he was looking forward to cold weather to see whether the changing of the valve would solve the problem.

In submitting their report to the PTA, the committee ladies concluded: "If the pupils in this school have so lost contact with discipline that wash basins must be removed in order to protect property then it is time the teachers met with parents to devise some means of bringing these children back to a more reasonable state of respect for property and right conduct."

As Finley Peter Dunne put it: "The past always looks better than it was. It's only pleasant because it isn't here."

Many sports records are relative

During the past few weeks Pete Rose's name has been splashed over the nation's newspapers, magazines and books. But when his name is printed in the sports record books it will be with an asterisk.

There is no denying that he made more base hits than Ty Cobb, but he made them under much more favorable conditions.

One never must forget Ty Cobb, who was known for years as the Georgia Peach when he played for the Tigers. He collected his 4,191 hits under much more difficult conditions than Pete Rose.

When Cobb was collecting his hits it was with what we call now a "dead" ball. It was difficult to hit it very far. More than that, the playing field was natural grass and grounders were easier to handle.

Today, with the lively ball, it takes a peculiar bounce on the artificial turf and many go by the infielders when they should be stopped.

This is not to take anything away from Pete Rose. He piled up more hits than Cobb — but under much different conditions and for that reason there should be an asterisk with his name in the record books. It would be only fair. He should get credit for what he did. But there should be a reminder of the circumstances of his time in the game.

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

CONDITIONS NOW are similar as they were when Babe Ruth's home run record was broken.

Ruth collected his 60 home runs with a more or less "dead" ball. And his successor, Roger Maris, got his 61st — and many before it — with a "lively" ball. Maris, of course, played a longer season than Ruth did when each had their record-setting years. That's the reason there is an asterisk behind Maris' name in the record books.

Without an attempt to take anything away from Maris, his name is seldom mentioned these days. But Babe Ruth will never be forgotten.

Possibly the same will happen with Pete Rose. His name may be hard to recall in a few years. But they never will forget Ty Cobb.

IT IS THE SAME with other sports.

Few folks recall that Knute Rockne didn't come to Notre Dame as a football player. He was sought because he could pole vault 10 feet. That was quite something in those days.

At present the top vaulters go twice that high. But they do it with a fiberglass pole — not a bamboo stick. The change made a big difference.

Fortunately, Rockne went out for football and, along with Gus Dorais, one-time coach of the University of Detroit, they put the forward pass in football.

The same is true with Jesse Owens, one of the greatest track men who ever lived. Some of his records have been broken (he set three of them in one afternoon at the University of Michigan). His name will live on forever when track athletes are discussed.

The name of Jack Dempsey never will be forgotten when the fight game is discussed. He was one of a kind in the fight game and he deserved it.

It will be the same with Ty Cobb. He always will be remembered. We may not be able to say the same for Pete Rose.

Know how to prevent fires

You can make every week fire prevention week, although the official one is the second week in October. Now is always an excellent time for a serious home security check.

- Fireplaces should be completely screened.
- Don't go to bed expecting a fire to "burn out."
- Don't leave candles burning unattended.
- Install a heat and smoke alarm in the immediate vicinity of all rooms and on each floor of the house, including the basement.

• Don't smoke in bed! Cigarettes cause close to one-third of all multiple deaths from home fires.

Here are some fire escape procedures:

- Always sleep with the bedroom or hall door closed. Closed doors can keep flames out long enough for you to escape through a window.

State jobless rate at 10.2 pct.

Michigan's unemployment rate for August declined by more than half a percent to 10.2 percent from July's rate of 10.9 percent.

Richard Simmons Jr., director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said the number of workers without jobs dropped by 19,000 in August to 445,000, compared with 464,000 in July.

A year ago, August 1984, Michigan's seasonally adjusted jobless rate was 10.9 percent with 477,000 out of work.

NON-MANUFACTURING industries reported employment gains during August, Simmons said.

Construction, service industries and retail trade all showed improvement during the month. Government employment was down while the number of jobs in the auto industry remained basically unchanged.

Michigan's labor force increased by 74,000 in August, climbing to 4,342,000. Simmons reported that a large number of women entered the labor force in August and most apparently found jobs. Total employment also rose, growing by 93,000 to 3,897,000.

MICHIGAN'S economy has remained fairly stable over the past several months, Simmons. Except for July's jobless rate of 10.9 percent, unemployment in the state has been in the low 10 percent range since April. Michigan's unadjusted August unemployment rate also declined, dropping to 9.7 percent in August. It was the second time this year that the rate has fallen below 10 percent.

Nationally, August's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for the civilian labor force declined to 7.0 percent from 7.3 percent in July. There were 8,127,000 unemployed workers during the month, 324,000 fewer than in July.

WHEN KNEE PAIN ISN'T CAUSED BY ARTHRITIS
In my last column, I discussed the fact that knee pain isn't necessarily due to arthritis. Such pain may result from "internal derangement of the knee," that is, from injury to specialized structures such as the menisci and cruciate ligaments.
Physicians consider these causes when examination of the knee shows that the joint has no excess fluid, but is unstable when rotated under gentle stress. Another clue is an x-ray of the knee that shows, despite your pain, that the bones have their usual contours, and that the joint space is not narrowed.
Arthroscopy is the method of choice for diagnosing internal derangement. In arthroscopy, the physician, using a scope inserted into the knee joint, is able to see the meniscus and ligaments and assess their integrity.
If arthroscopy uncovers damage to these structures, and repair is not possible at that time, then surgery at a later date is the treatment of choice. In contrast to arthritis, internal derangement of the knee rarely will respond to management by medications and injection.

Which is more dangerous: living with cataracts or having them removed?
Why do many people who are quite sensible put off having cataract surgery? Why are they willing to give up many of life's greatest pleasures and even risk blindness when normal vision is within reach. It's primarily because they're afraid and that's because they've been misinformed.
At Livonia Cataract Center we have performed thousands of cataract removals and lens implantations. We can assure our patients that they have everything to gain and little to fear from cataract surgery.
With today's advanced procedures, cataract surgery takes only a short time and patients usually go home the same day. There is little discomfort before or after surgery, and free transportation will gladly be provided to and from the operation if you need it.
Livonia Cataract Center would welcome the opportunity to give you an unhurried step-by-step description of what you will experience. Call us at 522-0805. We can remove the fear and help you return to good vision.

MOTHER KNOWS BEST: HEALTHY SANDWICHES

Mother knows best, as the saying goes. And that goes for the food you eat, too!

The title, "Mom", carries lots of responsibilities, from bandaging scraped knees, mending hurt feelings and driving the neighborhood car pool, to providing nutritious meals that appeal to all appetites. Not the least of these duties is the planning of healthy lunches — 365 days a year, year in and year out.

Mothers of celebrities share these same responsibilities, including the lunch-time challenge. Moms of such famous people as Pat Boone, Scott Baio, Heidi Bohay and Bruce Weitz, took their roles as keepers of the daily lunch seriously. And just look at the results! The success of these stars might just prove the old adage, "You are what you eat." Or, better yet, you are what mom puts on the table!

Savvy moms know that lunch should provide a third of the day's nutrient quota. That means the midday meal should be as well balanced as breakfast or dinner. Sandwiches, the mainstay of most lunches, are an easy way to combine several wholesome foods into one tasty, convenient package. The bread is good for you, especially mixed-grain bread, with its natural, whole grain goodness. Part of the CEREAL/BREAD food group, bread provides generous amounts of important nutrients, including complex carbohydrates, B-vitamins, protein, iron, phosphorus and calcium, as well as dietary fiber.

Choose fillings and spreads from the other major food groups: FRUITS; VEGETABLES; MEAT/POULTRY/FISH/LEGUMES/NUTS; DAIRY PRODUCTS; and OILS/FATS/MARGARINES.

Sandwiches can be plain or fancy, dainty or hearty, toasted or not. It all depends on the creator's imagination. What's more, sandwiches can be put together quickly, either ahead of time or at the last minute. They require few utensils, involve very little mess and they are easily transportable.

The following tips will help make your sandwiches worthy of celebrity status:

Wrap sandwiches securely in plastic wrap, sandwich bags or waxed paper to keep them fresh and moist. If you pack sandwiches in plastic bags, be sure to gently press out all the air before closing the bag.

When combining sandwich filling ingredients, consider looks as well as taste and texture. Chopped radishes or green pepper add a bright note to the filling. Or, alternate deep green romaine leaves with iceberg lettuce.

Sandwiches made with mixed-grain bread freeze well. Here are some fillings and ingredients that can be frozen: Cooked beef, pork or other meats, chicken, ham or fish; sliced or shredded cheese; peanut butter, nuts and applesauce. DO NOT freeze fresh fruits or vegetables. They become watery and lose their crispness when thawed.

Use fresh, clean and properly refrigerated and cooked foods. Meat, poultry and other protein foods that have been cooked, for example, should be cooked well done, quickly cooled and then refrigerated.

Cut sandwiches with a serrated or electric knife. For variety, cut sandwiches into different shapes (thin strips, triangles or rectangles), instead of just halves.

The healthy sandwiches featured here are from the new recipe packet, Behind Every Famous Person Is A Healthy Sandwich. These recipes are favorites of Margaret Boone (mother of Pat Boone), Rose Baio (mother of Scott Baio), Arlene Bohay (mother of Heidi Bohay) and Sybil Rubel (mother of Bruce Weitz) and were popular with their celebrity children. To receive your packet of healthy recipes of celebrity mothers, along with sandwich-making tips and nutrition information, send your name, address and 50 cents for postage and handling to: Roman Meal Company, Dept. Star 1, P.O. Box 11126, Tacoma, WA 98411-0126.

Food in flower pots to star at Matthaei lunch/lectures

Flower pot luncheons will be served to those attending a series of lectures that are being sponsored by the Herb Study Group for the benefit of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens.

Each lecture will be accompanied by a luncheon that will complement the speaker's subject.

The lecture-luncheons begin at 11 a.m. and will be held in the auditorium of the Matthaei Botanical Gardens, 1800 N. Dixboro, Ann Arbor.

The cost of the fund-raiser luncheons is $17.50 each. For more information and reservations, call the Gardens at 763-7060 or 763-7061 or Sandy Hicks at 769-9414.

The first lecture, "Early American Plants and Gardens," on Tuesday, Sept. 24, by Fred McCourt, a plantsman from Norfolk, Conn., will be followed by a luncheon featuring authentic colonial foods served in small flower pots nestled in a large flower pot.

As unique as the containers that they are being served in, the foods chosen for this luncheon will include a lovage pottage, potted colonial herb cheese, potted dill-ham mousse, thirde colonial bread baked in the form of a flower pot, vegetable confetti salad with caraway vinaigrette, and assorted dessert treats such as slack-oven kisses, printed ginger cakes and orange suckets.

A colonial lemon gingerade will be served as a beverage.

The luncheon accompanying the second lecture-demonstration, "Flower Arranging with a Flair," by Sheila Macqueen (one of Britain's most distinguished flower arrangers and designers), on Tuesday, Oct. 8, will feature foods using flowers in their recipes.

To complement this lecture, the flower pot luncheon will offer delicacies such as edible chrysanthemum soup, safflower bread, nasturtium leaf butter, potted nasturtium blossom cheese, saffron chicken, salade aux fleurs, rose-petal macaroons, orange blossom basil snaps, candied flowers such as violets, lavender, borage, roses, and a delightful rose-petal punch.

The luncheon accompanying the third lecture, "Colonial Decorating for the Holidays," by Libby Hodges Oliver (floral supervisor at colonial Williamsburg) on Thursday, Nov. 14 will feature authentic colonial Williamsburg foods and will include pea soup, corn bread, potted herb butter, potted salmon, vegetable salamagundy, cider cake, pumpkin squares and syllabub.

All the flower pots at each event can be taken home as mementos of the luncheons.

Taste new apples at Plymouth orchard

Do you prefer the Johnny or the Mac? Have you ever wondered what varieties of fruit trees would be the best choice for your home orchard?

Many new apple varieties are recommended because they combine disease resistance with dwarfed size and other desirable growing characteristics.

The problem is that you may not have had the opportunity to taste these new apples which means you probably won't plant them.

Now you have the perfect opportunity to sample several new and long-favored apple varieties. The Apple Tasting and Fruit Variety Showcase will be held on Thursday at Plymouth Orchards.

Co-sponsored by several Southeast Michigan Cooperative Extension offices and Hilltop Fruit Nursery, the informal meeting will run 6-9 p.m. You can come at anytime, however, as a formal program is not planned.

Specialists will be on hand to answer questions on selecting not only apples but also other tree fruits such as pears, plums, peaches, apricots, cherries and nectarines.

Plymouth Orchard is at 10685 Warren Road, Plymouth. For more detailed directions, call the Washtenaw Cooperative Extension Service at 973-9510.

To get to Plymouth Orchards, take M-14 to exit 15 which is Gotfredson Road. (M-14 can be reached from either US-23 or I-275.) Take Gotfredson Road south and follow the Plymouth Orchard signs to the orchard.

2 quick desserts that are nutritious

Whipping up a home-made dessert is probably the last thing that working women — and some working men, too — want to contemplate when they get home. Even if the dessert is for tomorrow or later in the week, the idea of spending additional hours in the kitchen can put off just about anyone.

However, tasty desserts that also are nutrition-filled can be easy to prepare in a short time. Two examples are Peanutty Brownies and Sour Cream 'N' Nut Cupcakes, delectable edibles made with unsalted nuts. They are loaded with protein, carbohydrates and vitamins and have the added nutritional advantage of being practically sodium free.

What's more, these simple treats can double as health snacks. They're perfect for between-meal noshing, offering taste and nutrition.

PEANUTTY BROWNIES

Makes 25 squares

- 4 (1 ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 2 cups sugar
- 4 eggs, slightly beaten
- 2 tsp. vanilla extract
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 cups chopped unsalted cocktail peanuts

In medium saucepan, melt chocolate and margarine over low heat. Remove from heat; thoroughly mix in sugar. Stir in eggs. Beat in vanilla and flour. Stir in one cup chopped peanuts. Spread batter in greased 9-inch square pan. Sprinkle remaining chopped peanuts over top of batter.

Bake 325 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. Cool in pan or wire rack. Cut into squares to serve.

SOUR CREAM 'N' NUT CUPCAKES

Makes 1 1/2 dozen

- 1 cup dry roasted unsalted peanuts, coarsely chopped
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 Tbsp. grated orange peel
- 1 1/4 cups cake flour
- 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. baking soda
- 1/2 cup margarine
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 tsp. vanilla extract

In small bowl, combine dry roasted unsalted peanuts, 1/4 cup sugar and orange peel; set aside.

Sift together cake flour, baking powder and baking soda. In large bowl, with electric mixer at medium speed, cream margarine and remaining 1/4 cup sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mix together sour cream and vanilla. Alternately add the sour cream mixture and dry ingredients to the cream mixture, beating well after each addition. Spoon batter into paper-lined (2 1/2 inch) muffin pan cups, 2/3 full. Spoon a tablespoonful of peanut mixture on top of each, lightly pressing into batter.

Bake at 350 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes or until done. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks.

Hand-picked stigmas raise saffron's price

The American Spice Trade Association reports that one of its most frequently asked questions is, "Why is saffron so expensive?"

Here's why: In order to produce one pound of saffron it takes a harvest of about 75,000 individual flowers (Crocus sativus).

From these flowers small reddish stigmas must be picked by hand. There are only three saffron stigmas in each flower. About 225,000 of these hand-plucked strands make up a pound.

One major source of true saffron is Spain. So-called Mexican "saffron" is actually safflower petals which resemble saffron threads but offer little more than a yellow tint, with none of the saffron flavor.

Another spice which gives a saffron coloring effect is turmeric. Again, however, no saffron flavor.

True saffron is essential in many classic dishes from Paella and Arroz Con Pollo to Bouillabaisse to sweet breads and cakes of England and Scandinavia.

And while this is our costliest spice, a very little goes a very long way, so its proper use is not prohibitive.

Update casserole with phyllo leaves

Tired of the same old standard casseroles? They're a great American dinner tradition and an easy way to stretch the family's food dollar. But sometimes a casserole can seem so "ordinary." To give a classic casserole an up-to-date approach, prepare a Spanish "picadillo" baked in trend-setting Greek phyllo leaves.

This unusual and unique flavor and ingredient combination is a welcome addition to family meals. "Picadillo" is a highly seasoned, ground or shredded beef dish. It can be prepared either as a main dish casserole, as in Beef Picadillo en Phyllo, or used as a filling for tortillas. Raisins, nuts, onions, tomatoes and spices are typical additions to this dish.

Ground beef is the main ingredient of this tasty Spanish-flavored casserole. The beef is packaged and sold according to its fat content — from 70 percent lean to as high as 90 percent lean. The leanness of the meat you choose will depend on personal preference and price.

The Greek phyllo leaves are used in this recipe for two reasons. First, they act as a casing for the seasoned beef mixture. Second, they add a decorative accent to the finished dish. These surprisingly thin sheets of pastry can be found in the frozen food section of your supermarket.

To prepare this recipe, line the bottom and sides of the casserole dish with five layers of phyllo leaves. Brush each layer with butter to give the pastry its characteristic rich and flaky texture. After filling the casserole with the beef mixture, decorate the edge of the baking dish with one-inch wide strips of phyllo.

BEEF PICADILLO EN PHYLLO

Preparation time: 30 to 40 minutes

Cooking time: 50 minutes

- 1 medium green pepper, chopped
- 1/2 cup butter, divided

- 3/4 cup raisins
- 1 Tbsp. capers, drained
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 6 sheets (approximately 6 oz.) phyllo leaves, divided
- 1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives

Cook onion and green pepper in 2 Tbsp. butter in large frying pan over medium heat 5 minutes. Stir in ground beef and garlic and cook until browned. Pour off drippings. Add tomato sauce, raisins, capers, salt and cinnamon and cook slowly 15 minutes. Stir in olives; reserve. Meanwhile melt remaining butter. Lightly butter bottom and sides of 11 1/2 by 7 1/2-inch baking dish. Fold one sheet of phyllo crosswise to fit bottom and sides of baking dish; brush lightly with butter. Repeat with 4 additional phyllo leaves, lightly brushing each with butter. Spoon beef mixture into baking dish. Cut one sheet of phyllo into strips about 1 inch wide; place strips in layers around outer edge of baking dish, lightly brushing each with butter until all used. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 25 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes before serving, 6 servings.

SYMPHONY League bridge groups are being formed for the upcoming season.

Interested bridge players should call Elaine Kirchgatter, 453-8054. Singles, partners, mixed doubles as well as substitutes may sign up. Foursomes play in each others' homes and cash prizes are awarded to winners at the end of the season.

Net proceeds go to support the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Betty Karam was singles winner last season. Sally Rowland and Carol Davis and Betty Matthews and Joyce Kelly won the daytime ladies doubles. Winners of the nighttime mixed doubles were the husband and wife teams of Al and Martha Bentley, Dale and Alice Hathaway, William and Florence Van Glahn and Manhar and Sarla Namdini.

The Symphony Bridge has been a fund-raiser for more than 25 years. I called Harriet Randall, whose brainchild it was, to find out exactly when it started. She figured it was 26 or 27 years ago.

Harriet had seen the list of women's names — the ones who had signed up to serve refreshments to the orchestra at rehearsal breaks. She thought it should be a good starter group for a round robin bridge. She mentioned it to Wayne Dunlap who suggested she talk to Jo Hulce. Jo thought it was a good idea.

Harriet invited all the women on the list to lunch at the Mayflower. She presented her plan and they were enthusiastic. That was the beginning.

Their friends joined and friends of friends joined. The Symphony Bridge was off and running. For several years, it was the symphony's largest fund-raiser.

And it still contributes to the social life of those involved, and to the symphony coffer.

DAN O'DAY of Plymouth has begun a one-year tour with Cast C of the international, educational and cultural program, Up With People.

Dan, 20, is the son of Jim and Bert O'Day and a graduate of Plymouth Salem High School. By next June, Cast C will have traveled 32,000 miles. This will include an extensive tour of the northwestern United States and the western Canadian provinces as well as the spring months in Finland, Sweden and Denmark.

Cast C will perform with three other casts as the official halftime entertainment of Super Bowl XX in the Louisiana Super Dome, Jan. 26.

Dan spent six weeks in Tucson, Ariz. working under a demanding schedule of seminars, workshops and rehearsals in preparation for the year ahead. In the schedule were a variety of speakers from education, business and international affairs. Among these were Tom Sullivan, singer-composer; Don Weiss, NFL executive director; and Eduard Malayan, first secretary of bilateral and cultural affairs with the Soviet Embassy in Washington.

Hours were spent in the rehearsal of Up With People's new production, "Beat of Future," which will be seen live by more than 3 million people by the year's end.

Selected from more than 10,000 applicants, Dan is one of 650 young people from 24 countries and 40 states participating in Up With People's unusual program.

Up With People is an Arizona-based, non-profit organization with the purpose of encouraging understanding among people of all nations.

50-year high school reunion 1 of the best

Alva Elzerman came from Massachusetts for the reunion. He and his wife, Yvonne (Hearn) Elzerman, spend their winters in Florida.

Photos by Rick Smith

Classmates from the Plymouth High School Class of 1935 gathered at the Plymouth Elks Club for their 50-year reunion.

There were 48 PHS grads and their spouses — 81 in all — at the Saturday evening dinner.

They had traveled thousands of miles to the reunion. Thelma Lunsford Ellwanger came from Mexico. Edith Donnelly Erke came from California and Alva and Yvonne (Hearn) Elzerman from Massachusetts. Carol and Elmer Welland came from Florida by way of Alaska. Fred and Evelyn Johnson, Ruth and Ed Wingard, and Bill and Evelyn Highfield also came from their Florida homes.

Guests of honor were Irene Waldorf, a new teacher when they graduated, and Grace Burley, the mother of one of their classmates.

They have had reunions every five years, and they said this was one of the best yet.

THEY WERE A prosperous-looking group as they reminisced and dined on chicken Gordon bleu and standing rib roast.

Times weren't all that prosperous when they graduated back in '35. But they were happy times. A trip to the Palace of Sweets on Penniman Avenue with just a penny in your pocket bought a treat.

There was the soda fountain at Dodge Drugs. And who could ask for more than a trip to the Walled Lake Casino to dance to the music of one of the big name bands.

Fifty cents worth of gas would take you any place you wanted to go.

The Detroit Tigers won the World Series. James Braddock was the heavyweight champion of the world.

Academy Awards went to Victor McLaglen in "The Informer," Bette Davis in "Dangerous," and to MGM for "Mutiny on the Bounty."

Two other events occurred in 1935 that probably didn't interest the new grads too much at the time. Both were to play an important part in most of their lives.

In May of that year, Adolf Hitler rejected the Versailles Treaty and ordered conscription. In August, Social Security came into being.

Eileen (Archer) Williams, one of the reunion planners, and husband shared on joy the party.

Apple-tasting open house is Thursday

By Elinor Graham
staff writer

Apple lovers and apple growers are invited to a fruit-tasting open house hosted by Dave and Mary Emmett of Plymouth Orchards. Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service and Hilltop Orchards and Nursery of Hartford, Mich. are sponsors of the open house 6-9 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 19 at the orchards, 10685 Warren Road, west of Napier.

Hilltop Orchards and Nursery is the top fruit tree grower in Michigan and one of the top three in the United States. Their trees are grown in every state in the U.S.A. and overseas. They have a research division in New Zealand where they are developing the new Gala.

At present, there are 12 variants of the Gala ranging from a yellow apple with a red blush to a red apple with a yellow blush. Visitors to the open house in the Emmett's cider barn may have an opportunity to sample the Gala.

MARY EMMETT said the open house is for people who have a fruit tree in their back yard, contemplate planting a few fruit trees, as well as commercial growers.

It is designed for public interest and questions will be answered in an informal setting.

More than 100 varieties of fruit will be on display — peaches, plums, pears — as well as 35 or more varieties of apples.

This will be the first showing of its kind in southeast Michigan. Growers usually travel to Hartford to see and taste the new varieties.

New apples and fruit strains are recommended because they combine dwarf size and disease resistance. The open house offers an opportunity to sample and view the fruit and talk to experts on how to raise them.

THE EMMETTS are contemplating an early winter.

"Everything is moved up this year. Our Macs (Macintosh) are finished and usually they are just starting now. They pollinated two weeks early because of 80-degree temperatures in April," said Mary.

She said their first cider has been unusually good because of the early season.

With the end of the Macintosh, they will be using Paula Reds and Jonathons for cider making.

According to John Castle of the extension service, some wonderful new apples have been developed. He recommends the Mitsu, a hybrid of the Japanese Indo and the golden delicious, as combining flavor and firmness without the tough skin of the delicious. He said the Granny Smith, developed in New Zealand, now grows well in the Pacific Northwest states and the Empire is an excellent new apple.

Castle said even he was amazed at bounty and variety of Michigan's fruit-growing capabilities when he discovered 40 different kinds of plums are grown in the state.

If you still believe in me, save me.

For nearly a hundred years, the Statue of Liberty has stood on the edge of the New World, America's most powerful symbol of freedom and hope. Today the ravages of almost a century of weather and pollution have left their marks. Corrosion has eaten away at the iron framework. New holes continue to appear in the copper sheets that form the exterior.

Less than a mile away, on Ellis Island where the ancestors of nearly half of all Americans first stepped onto American soil, the Great Hall of the Immigration Center is a hollow ruin. Rooms are vandalized, passageways overgrown with vegetation, walls crumbling in decay.

Inspiring plans have been developed to restore the Statue and to create at Ellis Island a living monument to the ethnic diversity of this country of immigrants. But unless restoration is begun now, ceremonies marking the hundredth anniversary of these two landmarks in America's heritage could be held in commemoration of national treasures that no longer exist. Sections of the statue have already been declared unsafe and closed to visitors. The 230 million dollars needed to carry out the work is needed now.

All of the money must come from private donations; the federal government is not raising the funds. This is consistent with the origins of the Statue. The French people themselves paid for its creation. And thousands of American school children contributed to its construction and to the pedestal.

The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Centennial Commission appointed by President Reagan is asking every American business, every American citizen to join in raising these funds. The torch of liberty is everyone's to cherish. Could we hold up our heads as Americans if we allowed the time to come when she can no longer hold up hers?

One hundred years ago school children gave their pennies to put her up. Your dollars can keep her from falling down.

Inoffensive Chiefs fall in showdown

By Brad Emons
staff writer

When it comes to boys soccer in Observerland, Livonia Stevenson is still the team to beat.

It may take awhile before the area's No. 1 team is determined, but for the time being, Stevenson deserves to be near the top after clipping Plymouth Canton Thursday night 2-0.

Previously unbeaten Canton came into the game as the area's top-rated team, but left a bit bewildered.

"I think Canton's the best team we've played," said Stevenson coach Pete Scerri, whose team is 4-0-1 overall. "Whose number one? I think it's Churchill, I guess." (See related story.)

Stevenson, state Class A finalists three consecutive years, can't be overlooked, even with the loss of several key players to graduation.

"When the kids listen and work hard, we expect results," Scerri said. "I think tonight they believed in me, and they believed in themselves."

STEVENSON CARRIED the play most of the first half and scored at the 38:53 mark when Swedish exchange student Christian Amborg booted home a goal from Jim Kimble off an indirect free kick.

Canton came out for the second half fired up and put the pressure on Stevenson, but the Chiefs' were denied twice at point-blank range.

Bryan Whiteley was beaten to the ball on one occasion by a sliding Stevenson goalie Dan Millner. Steve Rudelic then missed high to the right with an empty net in front of him.

"We were trying to avoid the middle and keep the ball outside," said Canton coach Mike Morgan. "But Stevenson beat us to the middle and beat us to the ball. We weren't reacting, and we weren't making things happen."

AFTER CANTON'S initial thrust in the second half was turned back, Stevenson scored an insurance goal at the 59-minute mark when Lars Richters drilled home a corner kick from John Mikkelsen, whose shot sailed through the goalmouth untouched.

"We got deflated when we didn't score right away," Morgan said. "For 20 minutes (of the second half) we played, then we let down."

"We have a talented team, but we could have placed ourselves in the game more. I'm disappointed, but I'm glad we have a second chance at them (Oct. 19 at Canton)."

A second chance may be more difficult if the young Spartans, boasting seven freshmen, continue to develop.

"If we can capitalize when the opportunities come, we'll win," Scerri said. "When we tied Salem (1-1 last Tuesday), it was just the breaks. The ball didn't want to go in."

"I think Canton sparked them up a little. Our players have a little tradition, and they like to keep that up."

MORGAN ALSO REALIZES the Spartans are still a team to be reckoned with.

"Stevenson has depth and they have talent," he said simply.

Much of the talent was on the defensive end Thursday night as Rob Opatrny stood out for the Chiefs and Steve Karfis and D.J. Ward for Stevenson.

Stevenson held the edge in shots on goal, 14-11.

Rocks make bid for No. 1

Ken Johnson wiped his brow and let out a huge sigh of relief Thursday night.

His Plymouth Salem soccer team withstood a furious second-half Livonia Churchill rally and escaped with a 5-4 win in an important Western Lakes match.

"We were up 5-2 at 60 minutes (20 minutes left to play), and then I started to substitute," Johnson said. "I might have started too soon."

Churchill ripped off a pair of goals in a span of five minutes and then buzzed the Canton goal until the game ended.

But thanks to the goaltending of Joe Knoerl and the rugged defensive play of Doug Faure and Mike Ulaszek, Churchill never attained the tying goal.

The Salem win, coupled with losses by Plymouth Canton (2-0 to Livonia Stevenson) and Catholic Central (2-1 to Brother Rice), puts the Observerland soccer rankings in an upheaval. Canton began the week No. 1, Churchill was

No. 2 and Stevenson No. 3. Salem and CC rounded out the top five.

Johnson isn't surprised by his team's early success.

"I knew we'd be good because these kids have all paid their dues," he said. "Many of the players didn't see much time last year. But, they played together in Bonanza League this spring and have really stepped up their game."

Mike Tanner and Mike Zaretti scored in the first half for Salem, while Brad Mase and Brian Thomas tallied for the Chargers.

Ted Hanosh scored five minutes into the half to put the Rocks ahead. He added another three minutes later.

Ebon Nash's goal at the 60-minute mark proved to be the game-winner for Salem (2-0-1).

Tim Jackson and Khaled Zeidan scored late for Churchill (3-1).

"We haven't given up five goals in a long time," said Churchill coach John Neff. "That perturbs me more than the loss."

Canton goalie Brian Gavigan and fullback Rob Opatrny (No. 23) go airborne to block this Stevenson shot. Despite the excellent defense, the Chiefs fell to Stevenson 2-0 Thursday.

Luckless in Livonia: Rocks fall in OT

Moshimer fumes at 'hometown' refs

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

One team cheered its intestinal fortitude. The other team went home wondering just what it had to do to win a football game in Livonia.

Livonia Churchill, by virtue of a 20-yard Jim Naif field goal in the first overtime possession, defeated Plymouth Salem 23-20 Friday night in front of a large and loud crowd at Churchill.

"It's like coach (Pete) Kornlen said the other day, you have to be able to beat the brand name teams to be a contender in this league," said Churchill head coach Herb Osterland. "We had to win this game, we had to."

While the cheers abounded along the Churchill sidelines, Salem coach Tom Moshimer was fuming.

"I've never said anything like this publicly before, but I feel we got hosed good tonight," Moshimer said. "That was a home-town officiating job if I ever saw one."

MOSHIMER AND the Salem coaching staff fumed at officials' calls (or lack of calls against Churchill) all night. But the call that busted Moshimer's restraint happened on the very last play of the game.

After Naif put Churchill ahead with his field goal, Salem's Brian Storm, on a fourth down play from the 6-yard line, attempted a 23-yard field goal to force a second overtime series.

"I thought the kick was good," Moshimer said. "The guy (official) behind the post put his hand up like it was good. It's just like what happened to us at Bentley last year." The officials ruled Storm's kick wide to the left and for the second time in two years, Salem came out of Livonia an overtime loser.

"I'm not saying that all the calls they made against us were wrong. I'm saying that they wouldn't make any calls against Churchill, and they were happening right in front of them," Moshimer said.

"But still, and I told the kids this, the calls didn't cost us this game. The first half did. That was about the most undisciplined half of football I've ever seen."

AFTER SALEM broke ahead 7-0 on Brian Tiller's stirring 54-yard run, the Rocks' offense fell to pieces in the first half. The Rocks committed three fumbles, tossed an interception and were slapped with 75 yards in penalties.

Churchill, meanwhile, looked to have matters in complete control for the better part of three quarters.

Churchill's offense gave away the ball five times, four on interceptions and once on a fumble. But, thanks to a strong defensive showing and Salem's mistakes, the Chargers were able to move the ball.

After a short Salem punt, Churchill drove 24 yards in six plays, scoring on Jim Naif's 2-yard run. Naif, the workhorse of the Churchill offense gained 93 yards in 29 carries.

Joe Payne put Churchill on top with the defensive play of the game. With Salem buried deep in its own zone, Payne busted through the line, batted away an attempted pitch out and pounced on the loose pigskin in the end zone for a TD.

Payne was superb both offensively and defensively. He caught a pass, made six unassisted tackles and blocked an extra point on Salem's final TD that forced the overtime.

CHURCHILL WENT ahead 20-7 in the third quarter on Naif's second 2-yard TD run. The score was set up by a 37-yard pass from John Irvine to Andy Oliver which occurred one play after a 29-yard Irvine-to-Oliver TD pass was nullified by a holding penalty.

Salem, though, bounced back. Paul Makara replaced John Storm at quarterback in the third quarter and began moving Moshimer's vaunted wishbone attack down field.

Rob Adams carried the ball three times for 58 yards in one series. His 41-yard run set up his 13-yard TD. Adams gained 85 yards on just seven carries on the night.

On the very next series, Salem's Joe Jouppi recovered a Churchill fumble at midfield.

Again, Makara moved the ball down field: 18 yards by Adams, 13 by Jerry Sumner and 22 by Makara. On fourth and goal from the 1, after the Churchill defense stopped the Rocks three times inside the 2, Sumner nudged it in to make it a 20-20 game.

Team	Q1	Q2	Q3	Q4	OT
Churchill	0	7	13	20	20
Salem	0	7	7	14	14

Payne, though, saved the day with his block of Storm's extra point try.

"Our intensity picked up when our backs were against the wall," said Osterland, who's team is now 2-0. "That's the mark of good football team. We didn't cave in when things got tough."

For all its mistakes (four Salem turnovers and five Churchill turnovers, four on interceptions), penalties and controversy, the Rocks and Chargers put on quite a show.

Chiefs wilt in final quarter, 28-7

Something had to give by the time the fourth quarter of Plymouth Canton's football contest with Walled Lake Central rolled around. Unfortunately, it was the Chiefs.

Central broke away with three final-period touchdowns to crush Canton 28-7 at Centennial Educational Park.

The Chiefs (0-3) struck first when Joel Goebel raced 11 yards for a touchdown in the opening quarter.

Dave Liuzzo's placement made it 7-0. The Vikings tied it on the first of Tom Farr's two TDs. Quarterback Joe Gregart hurled an 18-yard scoring strike to Farr in the second quarter and Paul Pruitt added the extra point to knot it at 7-all.

THE SCORE remained tied until the fourth quarter, when Farr plunged one yard to put Central on top. On Canton's ensuing drive, Jason Merics picked off quarterback Tony Boucher's pass and streaked 26 yards to the end zone to increase the Vikings' lead to 21-0.

Tom Murtha capped the scoring for Central with a 3-yard run, the finishing touch on a 37-yard drive after a fake punt by Canton failed.

The Chiefs were limited to 116 total yards, 70 rushing and 46 passing.

Boucher completed five of 15 passes for 46 yards, with one interception. Goebel led the Canton rushers with 42 yards on 12 carries.

Central had 232 yards total offense, with Gregart connecting on five of 11 passes for 127 yards. He was intercepted once, by Canton's Todd Wood in the second quarter. Farr topped the Viking rushers, gaining 40 yards on 11 attempts.

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Rick Cummings nabbed one of four Salem pass interceptions against Churchill Friday night but in the end it was the Rocks who got picked off, 28-20 in overtime.

Chiefs unbeaten, Rocks win 1st

Plymouth Canton was missing one of its wheels Thursday night but still managed to roll smoothly past Walled Lake Western 46-22 in its Western Lakes conference opener.

Diana Knickerbocker missed the game with a sprained ankle, but junior Vicky Ferko came off the bench and filled the void nicely. She led all scorers with 14 points.

"We played hard and smart," said Canton coach Rob Neu. "Defensively, we played very smart. We made it difficult for them to get their shots." After a sluggish first quarter, the Chiefs (3-0) began clicking offensively and carried a 24-8 lead into halftime.

"Offensively, we were impatient at the start," said Neu. "Bad shot selection. Then we settled down and took good shots. We were knocking down the 15-footers."

Laura Darby scored nine, Penny Piggott eight girls basketball and Tory Barger seven for Canton. Beth Frigge ran the show, dishing out eight assists. Michelle Edwards scored six to lead winless Western.

SALEM 50, W.L. CENTRAL 46: Plymouth Salem's first win of the season didn't come easily Thursday.

Walled Lake Central withstood several Rock flurries and managed to pull within two in the final quarter.

But Dena Head and Kristen Hostynski took charge late to secure the win for Salem. Head scored 10 of her game-high 18 points in the final quarter while Hostynski pumped in five of her 10 in the last eight minutes.

"It really was tough for us," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We were up and down. We tried to get it done the best we could. We're working through the early part of the season playing a lot of different combinations and trying to make sure our best lineup gets seen."

Laura Clifford hit six consecutive free throws in the second quarter to put Salem ahead 28-20 at half.

Central (1-1), led by Allison Marszalek (12 points) and Amy Freeman (11), never let Salem pull away in the second half.

Salem (1-2) got a boost defensively and on the boards from Keri McBride.

"We had spurts, like in the second quarter and in the middle of the fourth, where we were very good," Thomann said.

Remember When
A 9.75%^(APR) Auto Loan
Had People Dancing
In The Streets?

Ten years ago, the only thing hotter than disco was a low auto loan rate. So today, First of America reintroduces the 9.75% variable interest rate auto loan. Loans that are good for any new make or model car or light truck. With whatever options or special features you choose. Loans that are available at First of America offices all over Metro Detroit. And at our new Pontiac locations (formerly Community National Bank of Pontiac). Call your nearest First of America bank to find out how to get a 9.75% variable interest rate auto loan.* Who knows? It might be another ten years before an auto loan like this dances into your life.

*Rates may vary outside the Metropolitan Detroit area. Offer not available at all First of America banks. Annual Percentage Rate subject to change after loan closing. Members FDIC.

Late registration is $12, but it will only cost you $9 if you register before Wednesday (see coupon).

provided following the races. A random drawing will also be held for dinner certificates and sports equipment.
The run is planned as an annual event. For more information, call 591-6400, Ext. 480.

● MARATHON TRAINING RUN

graph) in Dearborn Heights.
There is no entry fee for the first 1,000 participants who make reservations.

There will be refreshments, games, balloons and music at Warrendale Picnic Area following three run.

Rock harriers sweep Chiefs

All's well that's Atwell.
At least for Plymouth Salem's boys cross-country team.

The Rocks' brother team of Tony and Bill Atwell came across the finish line together Tuesday night finishing the Cass Benton course in 17:22 to lead the Rocks past rival Plymouth Canton 28-30.

Jay Swiecki placed third for Canton (17:38), but Salem's Eric Pahl (17:51) crossed the finish line 01 ahead of Canton's Dean Juergens to secure fourth place and the victory.

Scott Moore (17:57) and Al Byrnes (18:04) rounded out the scorers for the meet.

The Rocks are 1-1 on the season while the Chiefs fall to 0-2.

SALEM ALSO captured the girls race, but in a rather dubious manner.

Canton, because of injuries and ineligibilities, had only three runners available for the meet and had to be disqualified.

But, those three Chiefs finished 1-2-3: Marie Jarosz (21:26), Rachel Mann (21:34) and Jenny Kincer (21:44).

"If they had a full team, we would have been hard-pressed to beat them," said Salem coach Tom Truesdale.

But, it goes in the books as a win by default for Salem.

Trish Donnelly (22:01), Chris Trapani (23:04), Shannon Donnelly (23:18) and Sue Nyquist (23:43) finished out the scoring for Salem (1-1).

SOME OF THE GREATEST THINGS IN AMERICA NEVER CHANGE.

SOME DO.

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS
Paying Better Than Ever

Variable rates apply to Bonds purchased on and after 11/1/82 and held to term. Bonds purchased before 11/1/82 earn variable rates when held beyond 10/31/87. Bonds held less than five years earn lower interest.
Public service of the publication.

U.S. Savings Bonds.

Now Paying 9.49%.

In the 1800's, baseball was a child's sandlot game. Then came the curve ball, the slide, the crowds and the legends—like Babe Ruth. Baseball had become our national pastime.

Some things never change.
But one great American tradition has changed—U.S. Savings Bonds. Now Savings Bonds pay higher variable interest rates like money market accounts. Currently, Bonds are paying 9.49%.

Just hold Savings Bonds for five years and you get the new variable interest rates. Plus, you get a guaranteed return. That means you can earn a lot more, but never less than 7.5%.

You can purchase Bonds at almost any financial institution, or easier yet, through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Buy U.S. Savings Bonds. Like baseball, they're another part of our proud heritage. For more information, call toll-free 1-800-US-BONDS.
