SOUR NOTE: The mail has not been kind to the Plymouth Symphony in its 40th year. Earlier the Symphony mailed out 25-30,000 copies of its season's brochure outlining the year's concert information plus information about how to become a sponsor and how to buy family memberships. For some reason, the brochures were not delivered in Plymouth Township and many city residents also did not receive one. Result: Those loyalists depending upon the mail for information on how to order family memberships were unable to do so, and the family memberships are way down. Because the list was smaller than past years, the decision was made not to print the list of family members in the first program at last Sunday's 40th Anniversary Concert. That's the explanation of why the list wasn't published. But the Symphony still is tight in its budget as a result and a number of Plymouth families want to buy memberships but haven't yet done so. The easiest way of remedying the situation is to call 451-2112.

This year the Symphony has a new sponsors category, which has created some interest. There are people who want to support the Symphony but are unable to attend the concerts. There also are people who enjoy the Symphony's performances but are unable to attend for financial reasons. The match has been made as patrons now can "sponsor" the attendance of those who want to but can't attend by buying them season tickets. For information on this program, call 451-2112.

HAUNTED HOUSE: A Halloween treat from the Wayne County Commission is enabling the Plymouth Jaycees to continue its annual Haunted House, in cooperation with Northville Jaycees, despite a threatened interruption. The past six years the Jaycees used a cottage at the old Child Development Center for its Haunted House but were displaced this year by the development of the Jerome P. Cavanagh Senior Village housing project. The county commission came to the rescue by allowing the Jaycees to lease for $1 a nearby abandoned dairy barn. For information on the Haunted House hours, see Page 3A of today's edition.

Crossing guards reap wage hike

The 15 crossing guards in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools can expect to see a little more green in their pay envelopes retroactive to the beginning of the school year courtesy of the Board of Education. The school board last week also approved a pay increase effective Nov. 4 for substitute cafeteria workers, custodians, educational aides and secretaries as they are called for spot duty. Increases range from 5 to 15 percent. Beginning crossing guards will earn $4.81 per hour, up from $4.58; those in the second year of service to $5.25 per hour from $5; and those with two or more years experience to $5.84 per hour from $5.56. The new rates represent a 5 percent increase. Substitute cafeteria workers, who were paid at an hourly rate of $3.35 per hour, will make $3.85, an increase of 15 percent. Substitute secretaries were boosted to $4 per hour from $3.51, a 14-percent hike. Substitute educational aides go to $3.75 per hour from $3.35, a 12-percent increase, and substitute custodians to $4.90 per hour from $4.60, up 6.5 percent. SUBSTITUTE crossing guards, $4.32 per hour, substitute security guards, $4.86, and substitute mechanics, $5, get no increase. Substitute teachers also will continue to be paid at a daily rate of $43. Neither the crossing guards nor any of those substitutes are represented by unions. "We try to establish what is fair, just and competitive; they're not negotiating," said Norm Kee, assistant superintendent for employee relations. "A lot depends on supply and demand. It's not something that has to occur every year." Pay rates were adjusted after surveying what's offered at neighboring school districts, said Walt Bartnick, administrative assistant for labor relations. "We felt for many rates we were behind the times." None of the substitutes is paid at the same rate as regular workers when filling in. "A regular employee who comes to work every day has more work obligations than a substitute," Bartnick said. Beginning with the 1986-87 school year, administrators recommend that substitute wage rates be adjusted to reflect percentage increases granted to regular employees, Bartnick said.

APPLICATIONS for substitute work are available at the Board of Education office at 454 Harvey just south of Ann Arbor Trail. "I guess we can always use substitute custodians, cafeteria workers and crossing guards," Bartnick said. Appropriate training will be provided, he added. High school co-op students who work for the school district also will receive a pay raise beginning Nov. 4. First-year students will earn $3.35 per hour, up from $3.10, while second-year students will earn $3.60, up from $3.40.

Plymouth-Canton band to host state competition

By Doug Funke
staff writer

James R. Griffith would just love to see the CEP athletic stadium filled with supporters Saturday when his Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Marching Band tries to defend its Michigan Competing Band Director Association (MCBDA) state championship. However, he knows it probably won't happen. The stadium likely will be filled, though, thanks to family, friends and supporters of the other 33 competing bands from around the state and Windsor. Griffith says he's resigned to the realities of the situation. "We have one of the top high school bands in the country here," Griffith said. "It's difficult to get a local following. You have the community chorus, symphony, the Fisher Theatre. We're not the only act in town. I think that's just a fact of life." Another fact of life — perhaps not so commonly known — is the quality of Plymouth-Canton's marching band. LAST YEAR, the band was judged best in the state. Earlier this month, the 175-member band, comprised of students from Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools plus the district's five middle schools, placed first among 10 bands in its class at the Tropicana Music Bowl in Cincinnati. Griffith concedes that it won't be easy to repeat as state champion. "The Detroit Tigers found that out this year," he said. "We've been finding it difficult. We've been working hard. It's going to be close." Don't get the idea, though, that the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park band has thrown in the towel. "The kids work hard, of course, and they have good instruction," Griffith said. "We practice 3:15-4:45 p.m. every day. Sometimes we have extended rehearsal." "Everybody depends on everybody else. I guess there's not room for stardom." During competition, a panel of judges rates each band on sound, style, individual marching, overall form, continuity, creativity, overall appearance and audience appeal. Each band has 15 minutes to make an impression. THE PCEP BAND'S show is titled "All That Jazz." It includes the Perry Mason theme, "Mission Impossible," "First Circle" and selections from the Broadway show "All That Jazz." "Our show is very creative," Griffith said. "We're quite unique in what we do on the field. We use a lot of electronics and amplification that doesn't take away from the wind instruments." The PCEP band uses electric and bass guitars, synthesizers and marimbas. "All of those things are not normally seen with marching bands," Griffith said. Four student field commanders —

David Anason, Jane Lindamood, Rhonda Sherman and Susan LeBeau — coordinate movements on the field. Nearly a dozen professional assistants work with the percussion section, color guard and general marching. The state competition will begin at 7:45 a.m. Saturday with opening ceremonies. The smaller bands, those in Flight III, will compete 8-11:15 a.m. PCEP, competing with the largest bands in Flight I, will perform at 1:45 p.m. Westland John Glenn, also among the eight Flight I bands, will perform at 11:45 a.m. The 14 medium-sized bands will play 2:30-6:15 p.m. The four best finishers in each flight will return for the finals 7-10:30 p.m. TICKETS may be purchased in advance at $4.50 from Sideways at 505 Forest and the Trading Post, 1009 Ann Arbor Road. Tickets will be available at the gate Saturday for $6. One admission is good for all day. Food will be available. The CEP stadium is located at Joy and Canton Center roads. The PCEP band bested six bands from Ohio, two from West Virginia and one from Kentucky in the finals of the Tropicana Music Bowl. Plymouth-Canton won awards for outstanding drum major, outstanding musical unit, color guard, and outstanding percussion section. This past weekend the band competed in its final invitational tournament in Durand.

Firefighters celebrate on 2 accounts

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Plymouth's eight firefighters have negotiated a 6 percent pay increase after working the past two years under a wage freeze. The three captains will earn $30,552 per year, the five firefighters $27,661. The raises are retroactive to July 1. They had been making $28,823 and $26,095, respectively. The City Commission has approved the increase. It was bargained as part of a re-opener clause of a three-year labor agreement which expires next July. All eight firefighters belong to the Plymouth Firefighters Association (PFA). "We ratified it, but it was by no means unanimous," said Tom Lenaghan, vice president of the PFA. "We asked for more . . . but that was the final offer the city made." According to Lenaghan, the increase puts Plymouth firefighters in about the middle of a scale in comparison with other departments in western Wayne County. "We're not doing bad." Wages will be one of the biggest concerns of his union when bargaining reconvenes next spring, Lenaghan speculated. "But anything the city brings in could take precedence over wages," he added. "Any changes, historically, are imposed by the city." IN A RELATED matter, City Manager Henry Graper said he intends to appeal a Michigan Employment Relations Commission (MERC) ruling that the city committed an unfair labor practice when replacing ambulance service provided by the fire department with a private firm last year. A MERC panel ruled that the city didn't bargain the issue in good faith and ordered rescission of the contract with the private firm until the city and PFA bargain the issue in good faith. An administrative law judge earlier had ruled that the two sides had bargained in good faith. "We will appeal on the grounds MERC didn't follow procedure or law," Graper said. "We don't feel we negotiated in bad faith. We negotiated in good faith. We negotiated four different times. I don't want to be on the losing end of an unfair labor practice." Ronald G. Acho, the city's labor lawyer, echoes those sentiments. "We want the record to be clear," he said of an appeal to the state Court of Appeals. THE ISSUE of who supplies ambulance service has since become moot, Lenaghan said. The city subsequently decided on a joint emergency response, with firefighters being the initial respondents and the private firm offering transportation to a hospital, if necessary. "I do not see a problem with the service," Acho said. Lenaghan said he doesn't believe the union will pursue the ambulance service issue now or in negotiations next spring. "From our standpoint, we're a community service," he said. "Any time we can upgrade a service at no cost, that's it. To take it further at the expense possibly of interrupting or disrupting service . . . the end doesn't justify the means."

He runs to relieve stress after surgery

By Alvia Lewis
staff writer

Michael Horton

When Michael Horton ran in the Free Press Marathon this year, he was 19 minutes short of his three-hour goal. But goals, even when they fall short, are what keep him going. Such is the philosophy of this 32-year-old Plymouth man who in November 1983 had a tumor removed from the eighth cranial nerve in his right ear. The seven-hour surgery, a "chance," as Horton refers to it, could have resulted in the loss of chewing ability and the paralysis of facial nerves. "But it didn't and I am very fortunate," Horton said. "I lead pretty much a normal life, and although I don't have any hearing in my right ear, that's the least of my worries since I didn't have any hearing for three years anyway." BUT THERE were other problems and, according to Horton, the most difficult part of dealing with the tumor (or acoustic neuroma, as it is called) was the "mental stress," which followed the operation. Accordingly, the answer was found in running — a natural solution as Horton was a distance runner at Plymouth High School for three years. "I was running prior to the surgery," said Horton, who recalled that it was his sister, Kathy, who got him started in a local five-mile race. "After the surgery, I just started again, kind of a therapy," said Horton, who was up and running again by March 1984 after a month's recovery. The decision to run in the 1984 Free Press Marathon was one of "desire," something Horton felt he "personally" had to do. And although it took him 3 hours 55 minutes to complete the course, Horton vowed he would return in 1985, and with a three-hour time limit as well. "I set my goal for around three hours," Horton said. "I was a little shy, but 3 hours and 19 minutes isn't bad." WHEN HORTON isn't running in a marathon, he's running around the community, usually six days a week for a total of 50 miles. He believes it is important for people to participate in their own area of fitness, whatever that might be. "It's a good release, allows the mind to relax, gives a person time to ponder the things that have happened to them." And in between running for competition and running for fun, Horton spends time with wife Robin and two children, Erin, 5, and Matthew, 3. Horton said they were his biggest supporters before, during and after the surgery. Horton said he comes from a family of five children, and that his mother's favorite saying has rubbed off: "Whatever it is that you decide to do, do it the best that you can." And so he does at work, as the general manager of Federal Fluid Power, at home, as husband and as father, and on the road, as runner. Horton said he'll be off and running in the 1986 marathon, but this time with a goal of "just under three hours."

Horrors! History repeats itself at area haunted houses

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Late October: Cold winds blow dead leaves from the trees. Thick, leaden clouds hurtle through the sky, angrily dragging night behind them. There is winter in the air.

And evil.
Feel it? It's always been there this time of year — brooding, foreboding evil, thick as a morning fog on a lake. Summer becoming winter, life becoming death; and evil lurking as they merge on these cold, creaky, howling nights.

Late October: the eerie time. We feel it. Our ancestors felt it. The spirit world feels it.

It has always been. It may always be. From Scotland to Michigan, the eerie winds have blown chilly fear into men's and women's hearts.

Halloween: a saintly name undone by evil. It's not the saints who occupy us Oct. 31; it's satanic things — ghosts, goblins, the dead come back to life, devils hiding from the light, witches and things that go bump in the night.

HALLOWEEN CAN be traced back to the Druids in Ireland and Scotland about 200 B.C. Big on rituals, rites, blood sacrifices and magic, the Druids had festivals for two major gods, a son god and a god of the dead, whose festival was Nov. 1, the beginning of the Celtic new year.

By the ninth century A.D., the Christian church, as it did with many pagan holidays, expropriated the day of the dead and turned it into the day of the saints, All Saints Day. The night before All Saints Day became All-Hallows (as in "hallowed be Thy name") Eve, or Halloween.

Yet, the pagan aspects prevail. How many priests go door to door Oct. 31? And how many ghosts and goblins? So many, another night was needed, and Oct. 30 became Devil's Night.

In Europe during medieval times and later, elves, fairies and witches, who often took the shape of cats, came around the last night in October. Bonfires were lit to keep the spirits away. Which spirits? Those of all the dead in purgatory, who returned to their earthly homes one night a year. The current residents would depart, leaving the lights on and food out for their temporary guests.

But the feel of evil wasn't confined to Europe. It was universal.

Indian tribes in Mexico made human sacrifices to appease the corn gods and keep the souls of the dead from returning in November. In Cambodia, the great festival of the dead took place at the end of a two-month period known as Phratrot, roughly Nov. 1. Indians in Ecuador thought it prudent to kill 100 children at harvest time. In Egypt, ghosts swarmed about during the festival of Osiris.

SACRIFICES ARE no longer necessary to keep the spirits and goblins at bay. Throughout the Observer area, concerned citizens such as the Jaycees and Masons have joined forces to round up the scary, bump-in-the-night things and banish them to various haunted houses.

Think you're tough? Think you're able to laugh in the face of evil? Think ghosts and goblins are figments of someone else's imagination? Then, boy, or girl, do we have some scary news for you. If fear is your aim, target in on these places for a Halloween to remember.

REDFORD — The Redford Jaycees have locked their ghosts up in a haunted castle at Claude Allison Park on Beech Daly between Six and Seven Mile roads. Frightful apparitions may be seen through Oct. 30, 7-10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 7-11 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Admission is $1.50; for group rates call Karen Walker at 538-1567.

CANTON and WESTLAND — Spook hunters can find them, if they dare, through Oct. 30 on the south side of Ford Road just east of I-275. Admission is $2, with group rates available by calling 397-2035. Sunday, the 27th, they'll have some helpful spirits in attendance at Friendly Monster Day, with all proceeds going to the Burns Institute in Ann Arbor. Hours are 7-10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 7-11 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Sponsored by the Canton and Westland Jaycees.

WAYNE and WESTLAND — Westland is such a scary place, two locations were needed to house the evil spirits. The Wayne-Westland YMCA is sponsoring its fourth annual haunted house, at 827 S. Wayne Road through Oct. 30. Admission is $1 for children, $2 for adults, with discount rates available for groups of 20 or more. Hours are 7:30-11 Sunday through Thursday, 7:30-midnight Friday and Saturday. For the strong of stomach, there will be a snack wagon on the premises, with pop, hot dogs and goblins, oops, gobs, of other snacks. Call 928-6997 or 721-7044 for information.

Wayne is scary, too, with one haunted place not nearly sufficient. Members of the Wayne County 4-H club are operating a horrific Haunted Barn at 5454 Venoy. Inside is a maze with just one way out, and the usual parade of unusual monsters and spooks. Admission to the barn is $1. Hours are 6-10 p.m., with the barn open Oct. 25, 26, 27 and 30.

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Jaycees have their house of horror at the northwest corner of Ford and Middlebelt, between K mart and Garden City Auto Parts. Spokeswoman Marsha Olsen said this year there are several surprises in store for visitors, but she was too scared to talk about them. Admission is $1.50 for those 11 and over, $1 for those 10 and under. Hours are 6-10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 6-11 p.m. Friday, and 5-11 p.m. Saturday and Sunday through Oct. 30.

LIVONIA — The Livonia Jaycees and Masons operate the Black Castle of Horror through Oct. 30 at the Wonderland Center at Plymouth and Middlebelt roads. The $1.50 admission charge goes to buy Christmas presents for needy tots. Hours of terror are 7-10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday, 7-11 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

PLYMOUTH and NORTHVILLE — The Jaycees have their ghosts in Northville Township on Five Mile, three-quarters of a mile west of Sheldon. Hauntings are through Oct. 31, 7:30-10 Sunday through Thursday and 7:30-11:30 Friday and Saturday. Admission is $2.50 for adults, $1 for kids 12 and under.

DEVIL'S NIGHT RENDEZVOUS — For the particularly strong of spirit and heart, the University of Michigan-Dearborn's department of environmental studies is conducting a free, 90-minute tour of the woods adjoining the Henry Ford Fair Lane estate.

Guides will relate various Halloween legends and their origins. Topics of conversation will include the moon, bats, wolves and witches. For information, call 593-5277 weekdays from 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Unfortunately, Halloween isn't all fun, games and good-natured scary times. True evil lurks then, too, in the form of sick pranksters handing out such things as poisoned candy and apples with pins.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department will scan candy for razors, pins and other nasty stuff 6-9 p.m. Halloween night at the Westland Attention Center at 28550 Ann Arbor Trail.

It's not all bad news, though. In the proper spirit of the season, there will also be a haunted house and refreshments. Call 422-7070 for details.

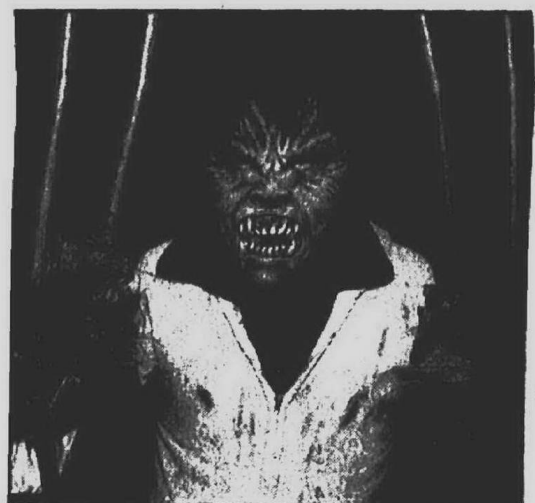

Police will be available at all area departments to check candy for curious or suspicious parents. Police in Westland and Redford will have metal detectors at their stations.

Parents in Plymouth and Canton can bring their children to either of the two McDonald's in Canton, on 44900 Ford Road and 40241 Michigan, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Halloween.

Police will be there, in cooperation with the Kiwanis, to scan candy with detectors.

This is a sample of the scary creatures lurking in the haunted houses staged by area Jaycees.

● CHAMBER ANNUAL MEETING

Monday, Oct. 28 — Bill Bonds, WXYZ-TV anchorman, will be the guest speaker at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce's 33d Annual Dinner in the Mayflower Meeting House. The charge is $25 per person. For information and reservations, call the Chamber at 453-1540.

● EARLY BIRD AEROBICS

Monday, Oct. 28 — The Plymouth Community Family YMCA will offer Early Bird Aerobic Fitness classes from 8:15 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Salvation Army gym on Main just south of Ann Arbor Road. Exercises will include limbering, warmups, and a cool down with spot reducing exercises. For information, including cost, call the YMCA at 453-2904.

● PRESCHOOL TUMBLING

Monday, Oct. 28 — Registrations are being taken for preschool tumbling offered by the Plymouth Community Family YMCA from Oct. 28 to Dec. 14. YMCA members may call 453-2904 to register; non-members must come to the YMCA office at 248 S. Union to register.

Which is more dangerous: living with cataracts or having them removed?

Why do many people who are quite sensible put off having cataract surgery? Why are they willing to give up many of life's greatest pleasures and even risk blindness when normal vision is within reach. It's primarily because they're afraid and that's because they've been misinformed. At Livonia Cataract Center we have performed thousands of cataract removals and lens implantations. We can assure our patients that they have everything to gain and little to fear from cataract surgery. With today's advanced procedures, cataract surgery takes only a short time and patients usually go home the same day. There is little discomfort before or after surgery, and free transportation will gladly be provided to and from the operation if you need it. Livonia Cataract Center would welcome the opportunity to give you an unhurried step-by-step description of what you will experience. Call us at 522-0805. We can remove the fear and help you return to good vision.

Mother's love energizes

By W.W. Edgar
staff writer

There is nothing so heart warming as a mother's love.

And the latest example is that shown by Ila Marsee whose daughter, Judy Langer, has been sick for months and finally outstayed her days in St. Joseph Hospital.

Knowing that her daughter was not fit to remain at her own home in Canton, Mrs. Marsee brought her to her home on Penniman Avenue in Plymouth and tends to her every hour of every day.

Mrs. Langer is covered by Blue Cross/Blue Shield but is allowed only so many days in the hospital. That limit was reached after a stay in the Mayo Clinic and then in St. Joseph.

Faced with no coverage for hospitalization anymore things looked dark. Then her mother brought her home to care for her.

The daughter has been ill for 14 years. Now she has been suffering from kidney trouble and is in need of help constantly.

AS AN example, she requires attention with syringes 38 times a day and Mrs. Marsee is there each time.

"These times come from one o'clock in the afternoon until one o'clock in the morning. The most difficult time is in the morning when she has been given 11.

"But she needs the help, and I want to be with her. She has suffered plenty and what little I can do to comfort her I'll do."

For her daughter's care Mrs. Marsee always has been helped. She is a member of a Tuesday-morning Bible study class at Ward Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

When that day came, and she felt she would have to miss, a neighbor came in and spelled her. "That was payment enough for me, and I did my duty in both cases."

It surely is a case of a mother's love at work on Penniman Avenue in the heart of downtown Plymouth.

Police learn about break-in, arrest 2

A 17-year-old Plymouth woman arrested early Friday behind The Wayside on Main was later charged in 35th District Court with disorderly conduct.

Tonya Jean Monteith was released on $100 personal bond following arraignment on the misdemeanor before Judge John MacDonald. MacDonald entered a not guilty plea for Monteith and scheduled a pre-trial hearing for Nov. 22.

Officer Jerry Vorva reported that he encountered Monteith and a 15-year-old juvenile behind The Wayside at about 1:10 a.m. Friday. Vorva indicated that after questioning the pair, he found a purse with Monteith's ID, several sweaters and another purse outside The Wayside.

Monteith then directed Vorva to Armbruster Bootery, he reported, where a large window had been smashed. The proprietor later said that $500 had been taken from a cash register.

The 15-year-old, who will be referred to juvenile authorities, had several hundred dollars in his pocket, Vorva reported. He was turned over to his mother.

Monteith also indicated that a third person, a teen whom she couldn't fully identify, was involved, Vorva reported.

Poorhouse opened in 1832

A social consciousness found expression as the earliest publicly support institution for the indigent in Wayne County, the Poorhouse, opened in Detroit in 1832.

A few years later, it was moved to Nankin Township, and still later, was affectionately dubbed "Eloise." It later became the site of the Wayne County General Hospital.

Pumpkin Carving Contest 4-5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 31, at the Plymouth Cultural Center. Young people in grades K-6 should come with their pumpkins already carved and costumes on to be ready for judging. Ciders and doughnuts will be served.

'50s SOCK HOP: The '50s Sock Hop fund-raiser for the Plymouth Community Fund-United Way will begin at 8 p.m. at the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, 6700 Napier Road, Plymouth Township. Sponsored by Digital Equipment Corp., all funds raised from the Sock Hop will benefit the Community Fund. The $10 tax deductible donation includes food, prizes, contests and dancing. For tickets, call Sue Bell at Digital at 344-2318 or the Plymouth Community Fund at 453-6879.

ROUGE FUTURE: "2005: The Next 20 Years in the Rouge Basin" is the topic for a panel discussion Thursday at the meeting of the Rouge River Watershed Council at 9 a.m. in Canton Township Hall, Canton Center Road at Proctor. The panel will discuss a Rouge Basin Remedial Action Plan and allow time for questions-answers.

REWARD: A no-questions asked reward of $500 is being offered for the return of a Muramatsu flute. The flute belonged to Kristen Van Buhler, a senior at Plymouth Centennial Educational Park (CEP). Anyone with information is urged to call 421-4820 during working hours Monday through Friday.

Michigan National is helping smart people, like Shari Rarick Gysel.

Shari Rarick Gysel did a smart thing.

With help from Michigan National, she is building a new dance studio to replace the one destroyed by fire. Soon, Shari will be back in business, passing along her love of dance — just as she's been doing for the past twenty years.

Shari first danced when she was four — sent to classes as part of a program to improve her health. So, after years of dancing, there was no question in her mind that she'd find a way to continue.

At Michigan National, we think it's smart to help people like Shari. Smart for business. Smart for the communities we serve.

We grow by helping the businesses in our communities grow. And it's people like Shari Rarick Gysel, of Battle Creek, who give us that opportunity.

At Michigan National, we're not just committed to good banking, we're committed to people.

New era begins in history of area's library

On Sept. 10 of this year Plymouth City and Township voters went to the polls to elect a Plymouth District Library Board of Trustees. The event marked the beginning of a new era in the history of the local public library.

A full history of the library appeared in my column on April 14, 1983. In brief, the library began in 1920 when the Wayne County system of libraries asked Mrs. Zehra Palmer Griffin to establish a book station at her home on Canton Center Road. The Griffin farmhouse was one of only five libraries then operating in Wayne County.

In 1923, the Women's Club of Plymouth spearheaded a movement to establish a public library within the village limits. That library opened in June 1923, in Roy Parrott's real estate building on the east side of Main Street. In 1924, Mrs. Griffin became librarian of the new library which became the Plymouth branch of the Wayne County Library System.

In 1945, when Ada Murray was librarian, the library was located in the old Roe residence on Main Street which the library board leased. Two years later, Mrs. Bessie Dunning and her daughter, Margaret, purchased the Roe property and presented it to the city for library use. It became known as the Dunning Branch of the Wayne County Library.

An addition was built in 1953 at a cost of $45,000. Later, with a substantial sum of money provided by the Ed Hough and Mary Kimble Hough Foundation, a larger addition was made and the library became known as the Dunning-Hough Library. The addition was dedicated in March 1958.

CANTON, WHICH had been part of the Plymouth Library District, built its own library and split off in the fall of 1980.

At the time, Canton had been contributing almost 40 per cent of the cost of operating the Plymouth library.

On July 1, 1981, after being part of the Wayne County Library System for 61 years, the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township officials decided to pull away from the Wayne County System.

Although the library had been supported entirely from local funds, the money had been channeled through Wayne County administrators. Plymouth officials felt those administrators were too far away to be fully responsive to local needs.

From 1981 to the present the library has been governed by the Plymouth Community Library Commission composed of city and township residents appointed by officials of those governments. This commission is a policy-making body, but has no control of money, hence little power. Its members, not being elected, had to represent the views of those who appointed them. Technically, that commission is still in charge until the contract between the township and the city expires in December of this year.

TWO-THIRDS OF the users of the library live in Plymouth Township.

But the township has been paying only one-half the cost of running the library in accordance with an agreement reached with the city in 1981. The city wanted it that way, preferring to keep control of the building which it owns.

Recently the township announced that, due to budget problems, it would not continue to contribute to the support of the library.

Which brings us to the election to be held Nov. 5 when city and township voters will be asked to grant the newly-created Plymouth District Board eight-tenths of a mill for use in operating the library.

If that millage vote fails, and Plymouth Township officials adhere to their past and present

decision not to contribute to the support of the library, library users of this area may be in big trouble.

When the most recent addition to the library building was opened in December 1984, it doubled the square footage of the ground floor, which went from 6,000 to 12,000 square feet. The addition was paid for by $200,000 obtained from a bond issue floated by the city with the understanding that the township would pay half of the indebtedness. Presumably the township will continue to honor that obligation unless the new library board decides it can take it over.

Lessons learned in the hospital

IT IS AMAZING at times the things a fellow learns while strolling along life's highway. And, often, he learns them in the most unexpected places.

For example, through a queer moment in life, The Stroller found himself in the hospital the other day.

It was a rather odd place to be, but he was there and when he asked what was wrong, the doctor and the nurses explained that because he was getting older his heart was tiring. As a result it wasn't strong enough to push the liquid out of his lungs.

To relieve any fear the doctor said, even though The Stroller was in intensive care, it would be just a matter of time until the liquid would be removed.

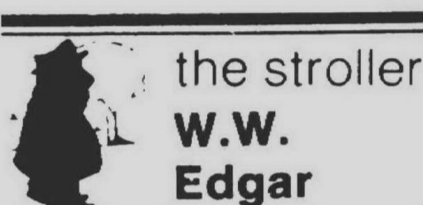

That was a fine thing to learn — even though he was in the room for those in so-called poor shape. But from then on, it was a lesson.

THE DOCTOR, a kind fellow, had me playing a game with my condition.

Each time the medical personnel took my pulse, heart beat or blood pressure, they showed me the figures. It became a very interesting game.

Each time someone came into the room he or she asked, with a smile, "How many points are you going to pick up today?" And little by little, enough points were picked up so that all danger was removed.

With that change The Stroller was taken from intensive care to a regular room with a great view of the countryside.

the stroller
W.W. Edgar

The grades kept getting better and the doctor passed the word that the stay in the hospital would be short.

Day after day, from 4 o'clock in the morning until darkness fell in the evening we looked at the instrument and made note of the increase in points.

The Stroller had been in the hospital before, but never to play games and count the numbers in heart beats, blood pressure and the like.

Meantime the food was good, the nurses were friendly, the doctors were co-operative and hospital officials were pleasant visitors.

So, all in all, The Stroller learned some important things about his body and its reaction to unruhing years.

IT WAS a lesson greater than he ever learned in school. And he enjoyed it even though it was advancing years that brought on the trouble.

Once before advancing years brought on a queer twist. It so happened the eye lashes on his lower lid curled and scratched his eye ball.

The doctor explained, "when a fellow gets old, oftimes the muscles on your lower lid softens, the lid curls and the lashes scratch. So, we're going to do a bit of surgery. We'll cut the lower lid, tighten the muscle and the lid no longer will curl."

And that is exactly what happened — just another unusual lesson you learn as the years come rolling along.

County government

The county as a unit of government developed from the English County or shire.

It was designed to provide governmental control over large areas with relatively sparse populations. In the United States, it often acts as an extension of the state government.

Traditionally, counties provide for enforcement of state laws, for maintaining roads, keeping records of land sold and supervision of elections.

Through the years, county government has expanded into health and welfare, libraries, parks, education and a myriad of other areas of responsibility.

The scope of county influence grew as needed, and supported by constitution or by statute.

ARTHRITIS OF THE WRIST

The wrist consists of eight small bones. The ability to move the wrist up, down, and in a circular motion comes from the freedom of these eight bones to move easily against each other. However, this mobility is not without its price: the possibility of arthritis.

Because the thumb makes the widest variety of finger movements, it is subject to the most strain. This stress may be passed through the thumb to the two wrist bones that connect the thumb with the forearm. As a result of this vulnerability, the wrist bones at this site are prone to arthritis. When it occurs, there is pain at the thumb side of the wrist and an inability to grasp small objects such as screwdrivers, pencils, shavers or toilet seats. This arthritis, though it exists in one place, can be a threat both to continuing employment and dignified self-care.

Usually, treatment with aspirin and ice/heat will control pain and inflammation and permit the hand to engage in unimpeded movement. If this treatment fails, surgery can be undertaken to remove the involved wrist bone and replace it with a plastic component.

In almost every case, having wrist arthritis does not mean that you have a condition that must only be endured. Rather, like many types of arthritis, if not cured, it can be treated and helped.

Teacher shares view on witch

To the editor:
As a high school teacher and citizen of Canton I'd like to comment on the Gundella controversy ("Trouble is brewing over witch's lecture," Observer, 10-17-85, Page 1A).

At first, I admit, I was unhappy with Gundella coming to the high school to speak (and being at Halloween time made it almost embarrassing), but gradually I've come to the opinion that she should be allowed to come and speak.

My objection to Gundella was not based on religion but on the fact that I felt I didn't need any more obstacles in my efforts to teach students that a rational approach to life was worthwhile.

Students just love Stephen King, Steven Spielberg, astrology, fortunetelling and all manner of mystical nonsense. Their lives are replete with a daily commercial consumption of the stuff and they unblinkingly go about their business without the least bit of worry about it.

The interesting paradox here is the fallacy that public schools are somehow neutral in all this: that we "objectively" present all sides of issues and students exercise their own freedom of choice from the smorgasboard of possibilities and that certain public watchdogs make sure we don't stray from this path. Not true. We are biased toward and charged with delivering a "secular" education.

A secular education is one that reflects our secular nation and its principles: We have an official dogma of rationalism that says we will not let our kids learn things in public school that will hurt them, but at the same time this dogma says we must teach them to recognize bad things on their own.

We want kids to trust facts and respect knowledge. We want kids to learn how to participate in producing useful knowledge themselves that they and other people can use to survive and make our country and world a better place. We are biased toward having truth based on reality — not truth based on an invisible realm that only a chosen few have access to (the typical circumstance of the Middle Ages).

Yes, I worry about the student consumption of mysticism; but the fact is mysticism is something we can study about, but mysticism is not something we can or want to teach. Religion is something we can study about too, but religion is something we cannot teach. Equally valid is the study of murder, and monstrously invalid is the teaching of murder.

I now want my American literature students to hear what Gundella has to say. I'm anxious to see how they interpret her information especially after they have studied Arthur Miller's "The Crucible" in class (a drama based on the facts of the Salem witch trials of 1692, and written by Arthur Miller to teach us what can happen to societies that base their organization on "chosen ones" and mystical knowledge).

I'm afraid that Reverend Gentry and perhaps Pastor Pals have misunderstood the nature of public schools. More than once I've felt that their agenda is not neutrality or secular education for Plymouth-Canton schools but rather their own agenda of "truth."

Yes, I want Gundella to come to the schools. I realize I must compete with her and that by keeping my students away from her I will not be able to teach them how to protect themselves from such irrational information.

LOW BACK PAIN

If back pains are a way of life for you, the reasons can be varied and complex. Some may be pathological, but very often the cause is muscles which are either over or under-exercised which are producing spinal distortion. Vertebrae slip into abnormal positions, resulting in "pinched" and irritated nerves, which cause pain and even loss of function of the affected body part. Poor posture, or even emotional tension, can be the root cause.

|----------------------------|---|
| 1 pound ground beef | 2 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar |
| 1/2 cup chopped onion | 2 tablespoons prepared mustard |
| 1 clove garlic, minced | 2 teaspoons chili powder |
| 1 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce | 8 hamburger buns, split |
| | American cheese slices |

In large saucepan or skillet, brown meat; drain. Add onion and garlic; cook until tender. Stir in pumpkin, tomato sauce, sugar, mustard, chili powder and salt. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; simmer 10 minutes. For each sandwich, cover bottom half of bun with meat mixture. Top with cheese cut-outs to make pumpkin face. Broil until cheese begins to melt. Top with top half of bun. Yields 8 servings.

PUMPKIN PARTY PUNCH

- | | |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 46 ounces apple juice or cider | 1 quart vanilla ice cream |
| 1 can (30 oz.) pumpkin pie mix | 1 quart lemon lime soda, chilled |

Combine apple juice and pumpkin pie mix; mix well. Chill. Just before serving, combine pumpkin mixture and ice cream in punch bowl; stir until smooth. Gently stir in soda. Yields 4-1/4 quarts.

PEANUTTY PUMPKIN SPREAD

- | | |
|------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| 1/2 cup solid pack pumpkin | 2 tablespoons chopped peanuts |
| 1/2 cup peanut butter | Celery stick brushes |
| 2 tablespoons honey | Carrot sticks |
| 1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon | Apple slices |

Combine pumpkin, peanut butter, honey and cinnamon; mix well. Chill. Before serving, top with nuts. Serve with vegetable and fruit dippers. Yields 1 cup.

|----------------------------------|------------------------------|
| 2 cups firmly packed brown sugar | 1 teaspoon baking soda |
| 1 cup solid pack pumpkin | 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar |
| 1/2 cup butter or margarine | 2 cups dry roasted peanuts |
| 1/2 cup light corn syrup | 4 quarts popped popcorn |
| 1 teaspoon salt | |

Preheat oven to 250°F. Combine sugar, pumpkin, butter and corn syrup in medium saucepan; bring to boil, stirring constantly. Continue boiling 15 minutes over medium-low heat, stirring frequently. Remove from heat; add salt, soda and cream of tartar, stirring until well-blended and foamy. Stir in peanuts. Pour over popcorn; toss until well-coated. Spread on two greased cookie sheets. Bake 50 to 60 minutes or until golden brown, stirring every 15 minutes. Remove immediately from cookie sheets. Spread on foil, breaking popcorn into pieces. Cool. Coating will harden on cooling. Yields 3 quarts.

- | | |
|---------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Cake: | |
| 1/2 cup shortening | 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon |
| 1-1/4 cups sugar | 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg |
| 2 eggs | 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger |
| 2-1/4 cups flour | 1 cup solid pack pumpkin |
| 2 teaspoons baking powder | 1/2 cup milk |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1 ice cream cone |
| 1/2 teaspoon baking soda | |

Preheat oven to 350°F. Beat shortening and sugar until fluffy; blend in eggs. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, baking soda and spices. Add dry ingredients alternately with combined pumpkin and milk, mixing well after each addition. Spoon into two greased and floured 6-cup fluted tube pans. Bake 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool 10 minutes; remove from pans. Cool completely on wire racks. Trim, if desired. Invert one cake on serving plate; frost with orange frosting. Place second cake bottom end down, on top; frost. Make pumpkin face decoration on cake with green frosting. Top with ice cream cone for stem.

- | | |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| Frosting: | |
| 9 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened | 6-3/4 cups sifted powdered sugar |
| 1-1/2 tablespoons vanilla extract | 1/2 cup orange juice |
| 1-1/2 teaspoons grated orange peel | Red, yellow and green food coloring |
| Dash of salt | |

Cream butter; blend in vanilla, orange peel and salt. Add sugar alternately with juice, beating until fluffy. To 1/2 cup frosting, add green food coloring to desired shade of green. To remaining frosting, add red and yellow food coloring to desired shade of orange.

Variation: Prepare cake as directed except spoon into two greased and floured 9-inch layer pans. Bake 30 minutes or until cake tests done. Fill and frost with orange frosting. Decorate with green frosting.

|---|---|
| 2 cups flour | 1 cup granulated sugar |
| 1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked | 1 egg, slightly beaten |
| 1 teaspoon baking soda | 1 teaspoon vanilla extract |
| 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon | 1 cup solid pack pumpkin |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt | 1 cup semi-sweet real chocolate morsels |
| 1 cup butter or margarine, softened | Assorted icings or peanut butter |
| 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar | Assorted candies, raisins or nuts |

Preheat oven to 350°F. Combine flour, oats, baking soda, cinnamon and salt; set aside. Cream butter; gradually add sugars, beating until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla; mix. Alternate additions of dry ingredients and pumpkin, mixing well after each addition. Stir in morsels. For each cookie, drop 1/4 cup dough onto lightly greased cookie sheet; spread into pumpkin shape, using a thin metal spatula. Add a bit more dough to form stem. Bake 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from cookie sheets; cool on racks. Decorate, using icing, peanut butter assorted candies, raisins and nuts. Yields 19 to 20 large cookies.

Pickling — a delicious way to preserve food

Many techniques have been devised to preserve food for future use, but pickling is perhaps one of the most time-honored home cooking traditions.

The technique of preserving certain foods in brine (water, salt, vinegar and spices), sealing it airtight in bottles and boiling it, dates back to the days of Napoleon when this technique was devised as a way to preserve food for the French troops doing battle.

Realizing that a large percentage of his soldiers were dying of starvation, due to food spoilage, Napoleon offered a prize of 12,000 francs (the equivalent of $250,000 today) to the man who could develop a safe, effective way to preserve food.

A French confectioner by the name of Appert won the prize and, ironically enough, had no idea how or why his discovery of sealing food airtight inside of bottles and boiling them worked.

Louis Pasteur explained the theory many years later: microorganisms spoil food and can only be destroyed by heat sterilization. Appert's monumental discovery is what is known today as "the boiling water bath."

This form of sterilization is necessary for high acid foods such as pickles, relishes and tomatoes, as well as jams, preserves and fruits, which contain a high concentration of sugar.

So, as you might have guessed, pickling does require preparation, and there are a few fast rules that can help in this process.

Stock up on essential ingredients such as vinegar, herbs, spices and salt. Table salt should not be used for making pickles or relishes, because iodized salt has a tendency to turn pickles black and cloud the brine. Pickling salt, or kosher or dairy salt, is your best bet.

Pick fruits and vegetables just before pickling. Once picked they lose color, flavor and vitamins, so process them as soon as possible!

Make sure that you have the correct preserving jars with closures, and seal each individual jar as soon as it has been filled.

Pickling foods is a great way to preserve the freshness of summer vegetables for holiday parties and celebrations. Jean Anderson, author of "Jean Anderson's Green Thumb Preserving Guide" (Quill), suggests turning those end-of-the-season green tomatoes that will never ripen properly into pickles or piccalilli.

Pickled fruits and vegetables are also great for barbecues and country-style meals.

Preserving these foods is a creative, inexpensive way to enjoy a cornucopia of fresh fruits and vegetables. The recipes for Piccalilli and Pickled Apricots or Peaches are taken from "Jean Anderson's Green Thumb Preserving Guide."

The recipe for Dill Pickles is featured in "Dell: 101 New York-Style Dell Dishes from Chopped Liver to Cheesecake" (Crown), by Sue Kretzman.

PICCALILLI

(Makes 3 to 4 pints)

2 quarts coarsely chopped, cored but unpeeled hard green tomatoes (you will need about 1 1/2 dozen smallish tomatoes)

- 1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped sweet green peppers
- 1 cup coarsely chopped yellow onion
- 1 1/2 cups coarsely chopped and seeded but unpeeled firm cucumber
- 1/2 cup pickling salt
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 cups white vinegar
- 1 Tbsp. mustard seeds
- 7 Tbsp. mixed pickling spices, tied in cheesecloth

Place tomatoes, sweet peppers, onion and cucumber in a large bowl, sprinkle with pickling salt and toss to mix. Cover and let stand overnight. Next day drain, then rinse vegetables in a large, fine sieve, pressing out as much liquid as possible. Place sugar, vinegar, mustard seeds and spice bag in a large heavy kettle and set uncovered over moderate heat. Bring to a boil, stirring until sugar dissolves, then boil uncovered for about 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, wash and rinse four 1-pint preserving jars and their closures; keep jars and closures immersed in separate kettles of simmering water until needed.

Stir drained vegetables into kettle and bring just to boiling. Ladle hot relish into hot jars, filling to within an inch of the tops. Run a thin blade spatula or knife around inside edges of jars to free air bubbles; wipe jar rims and seal jars. Process for 10 minutes in boiling water bath (212 degrees F.).

Remove jars from water bath, complete seals if necessary and cool completely. Check seals, label jars and store on a cool, dark, dry shelf.

PICKLED APRICOTS OR PEACHES

(Makes 6 to 8 pints)

- 6 pounds small firm-ripe apricots or peaches
- 1 gallon cold water mixed with 1 tsp. ascorbic acid and 1 tsp. citric acid (acidulated water)
- 2 cups white vinegar
- 1 cup cider vinegar
- 3 cups water
- 4 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 cinnamon sticks, each broken in several pieces
- 3 blades of mace
- 1 thin strip of orange or lemon rind (the colored part of the rind only)
- Whole cloves (you will need 2 cloves for each apricot or peach)

Blanch the apricots or peaches, about 2 pounds at a time, in boiling water for 30 seconds. Plunge in ice water to quick-chill, then slip off the skins, letting the peeled whole fruit fall directly into the cold acidulated water (this is to keep them from turning brown).

Place white and cider vinegars, water and sugar in a very large enamel or stainless steel kettle. Tie the cinnamon, mace and orange or lemon rind loosely in several thicknesses of cheesecloth and drop into kettle.

Set kettle, uncovered, over moderate heat and bring slowly to a boil. Working with 4 to 6 apricots or peaches at a time, lift from acidulated water, stud each with 2 cloves, then simmer uncovered for 5 minutes in the boiling syrup. Lift apricots or peaches to a large mixing bowl with a slotted spoon. Continue studding the apricots or peaches, simmering them, and transferring them to the bowl. When all have been cooked, bring the syrup to a full boil, return the peaches or apricots to the kettle and remove from the heat at once. Cover and let stand overnight at room temperature.

In the morning, wash and rinse eight 1-pint preserving jars and their closures; keep jars and closures immersed in separate kettles of simmering water until you are ready to use them.

Using a slotted spoon, lift apricots or peaches from syrup and place in a large mixing bowl. Set kettle of syrup over moderate heat and bring slowly to a boil; remove spice bag.

Pack the apricots or peaches as snugly and attractively as possible into hot preserving jars, filling to within 1/4 inch of the tops. Pour enough boiling pickling syrup in each jar to cover fruit, at the same time leaving 1/4 inch head space. Run a thin-blade spatula or table knife around inside edges of jars to release air bubbles. Wipe jar rims and seal jars.

Process jars for 15 minutes in a boiling water bath (212 degrees F.). Remove from water bath and complete seals if necessary. Cool completely, check seals, then label and store on a cool, dark, dry shelf. Let the apricots or peaches "season" for about one month before serving.

DILL PICKLES

(Makes 25)

- 3/4 cup kosher salt
- 25 small kirbies (unwaxed pickling cucumbers)
- 15 whole garlic cloves, unpeeled and lightly crushed
- 1 generous bunch fresh dill
- 3 bay leaves
- 1 tsp coriander seeds
- 1 dill seeds
- 1 tsp whole black peppercorns
- 1 tsp mustard seeds

Add the salt to 1 gallon of water and bring to a boil. Let cool thoroughly.

Choose a clean widemouthed crock, large enough to hold the cucumbers, with room for the brine to cover them by 2 inches. Wash and scrub the cucumbers very well. They must be firm and unblemished. Put the cucumbers, garlic, and dill in the crock. Add the spices.

Pour the thoroughly cooled brine over the cucumbers in the crock. The brine should cover the

Bag history is tale of 'kraft'

It's a tale worth checking out — the story of grocery bags and how American ingenuity helped develop a top quality product.

Then: Before 1883, bags used to carry groceries were cut and glued by hand. In 1883, an American named Charlie Stillwell patented a machine that could produce bags with pleated sides — gussets — and a flat square bottom.

The birth of the modern grocery sack occurred in 1910 when manufacturers began making bags with a new kind of paper, called kraft, the German word for strength. The advent of the American supermarket in 1930 led to the increased use of the kraft sack. It was ideal for carrying the wide variety of food and household items available, as well as being economical and convenient.

Now: According to a leading paper producer, close to 30,000 supermarkets buy about 25 billion grocery sacks annually, enough to circle the earth almost 27 times. Today's grocery sack is called the S.O.S. — Self Opening Sack — which refers to the fact that the sack can open to its full shape with just a flick of the wrist.

Grocery sacks are the single largest market for kraft paper, using 2 million tons annually. The standard 176-barrel-size kraft grocery sack can hold up to 40 pounds of groceries.

cucumbers by 2 inches. Place a clean plate on the cucumbers and set a weight on it to keep the cucumbers submerged. (A coffee mug filled almost to the top with water makes a perfect weight). The cucumbers must remain completely submerged in the brine. Drape a double-thick veil of cheesecloth over the crock, to keep the dust out. Place in a cool corner of the kitchen.

Check the crock every day and skim off any foam or scum. As the days pass, the winy, picky, spicy smell wafting from the crock will drive all resident pickle lovers into a state of frenzy. Be patient. In approximately 4 days (it depends on the temperature of your kitchen) the pickles will be half sour.

Fish one out with tongs and cut into it to see. If you like half sour, take some out and put them in a clean jar. Pour in enough of the brine to cover them. Put in some of the dill branches and garlic as well. Cover tightly and refrigerate. (They will continue to pickle, but much more slowly.) Reweigh the remaining pickles. Check every day. In approximately 10 days they will be completely sour. As they reach the point that satisfies various members of your household, pull them out, put them in jars with brine, dill, and garlic, and refrigerate.

Duck carving winging its way to fine arts status

By Julie Nelson
special writer

HUNTERS USED to carve duck decoys for one reason: to lure waterfowl within shooting range.

But duck carvers competing in the 1985 North American Waterfowl Carving Championship in Livonia aim at a different target these days.

The carvers, who competed recently at the Holiday Day Holldome, strive for artistic recognition.

"I consider duck carving an art because it's the oldest art form native to North America. The first decoys were made 1,000 years ago by the Indians," said Len Carnagli, a past president of the Waterfowl Association and a champion carver.

The original tule reed decoys were found in Lovelocks Caves in Nevada. Indians tied real feathers to marsh grass and laid in ambush, waiting for birds to approach. Sometimes Indians dyed the feathers to resemble other fowl too.

PEOPLE DIDN'T start carving wooden ducks until the 1800s.

"This is the only art form that originated in the States," commented Bob Sakuta, a duck carver from Livonia who won the 1983 "Best of Show" award. "They didn't do this in Europe. We started it."

Randy Tull agreed. Tull traveled from Wisconsin to show his birds. He won a blue ribbon for his decorative decoy. "It's a true piece of American culture. And actually, it's two forms of art in one — both a sculpture and a painting."

But being original to America and beneficial to hunters does not qualify a decoy as an art object. But what has evolved during the last 40 years, however, is an artistic renaissance for carvers.

Hunters no longer use hand-carved ducks as decoys because it requires too much time to make them. They buy plastic or rubber birds instead. Carvers, therefore, now use their skills in competition, or — as the case is now — for the sake of carving itself.

'This is the only art form that originated in the states. They didn't do this in Europe. We started it.'

— Bob Sakuta
Livonia duck carver

GONE ARE THE days when a decoy was one-sided, flat shaped and only resembled a duck. Carvers experiment with wood, sculpting the ducks in active poses.

The result is a spectacular display of mallard, bufflehead drakes, canvasback hens and green-winged teal. The ducks' tailfeathers curl and necks stretch. Some of the birds are depicted cleaning themselves with their bills in their wings.

The development of wood carving has had another curious effect. Women carvers are becoming more prominent as the focus shifts from hunting to artistry.

"I'm a one of the woman carvers. I won a third with a mallard hen floater today, competing with the guys. There aren't too many of us, but we keep trying," said Wisconsin resident Gloria Gorzalski.

JUDGES CLASSIFY the decoys into three species: decorative, decorative decoy floater, and service decoy.

The decorative class includes more than wooden ducks. At the Livonia competition, sparrows, swallows, cardinals and chickadees, owls and orioles swamped the exhibition. A giant white swan won a blue ribbon in the decorative class — its natural beauty marred by a bump on its orange beak.

Service decoys tend to be smoother and less refined than the decorative floaters. Service decoys are for hunting; the others are for the mantel.

Judges choose these decoys that capture the live species most accurately. Every detail from color to webbed feet is considered.

The wood-carving show is 40 years old, started by Downriver outdoor enthusiast Hy Dahlka of Gibraltar.

"Hy was a hunter and he didn't carve decoys, but he was interested in them," said Michael Rector, D.V.M. who operates Levan Road Veterinary Hospital in Livonia. "He's the one who got the whole thing going 40 years ago. It was just a little get-together — a competition among friends and it expanded over the year. It really expanded."

AND IT REALLY has. Carvers flocked to Livonia from as far away as Maine and Texas in making the circuit of exhibitions across the country.

Just as some art collectors will travel anywhere in search of a Picasso, duck carving enthusiasts will do the same for a well-turned-out peafowl.

In this show, service decoys were auctioned to a crowd sitting in bleachers.

The auctioneer shouted above everyone with a crisp, staccato tenor. He moved easily, holding a duck in one hand, pointing at bidders with the other.

"We have $290. Do I hear $300 for this nice bird? The judges said it was real nice. Look at this ribbon. If you're in it for $290, it's worth $300 for sure. Ten dollars doesn't make a dime's worth of difference on a bird like this," he coaxed.

Big name carvers like Tan Brunet, Larry Barth or Pat Godin get as high as $3,000 for their work. Sometimes more.

AN ENTIRE CAJUN contingent from Galliana, La. came to the show. As you would expect, in that marshy bayou country, duck carving is an art.

Among them was 21-year-old Jet Brunet, current world champion. He's been carving for 12 years. He learned the art at his father's knee, so to speak. His dad was a five-time world champion.

"I feel that this competition and the duck carving in general is gradually turning more toward an art form. That's what I'm striving for. But when it comes to judging, this is not too easily accepted," he said.

Judges, he felt, still seem to favor birds that are more conventional, patterned after traditional wood ducks.

Brunet experiments a lot. He never uses a pattern when he begins a sculpture. He does unconventional things with wings, for instance.

"If I don't open the wing," he said, "then the judges will have nothing to pick on. But as soon as I lift the wing and open it up, I'm really setting myself up for criticism."

"But you know, you gotta take risks. You have to take a chance. Sometime you don't win, but a lot of people appreciate it and they'll recognize you for it — for trying something new."

Expert workmanship makes this Canada goose replica hard to distinguish from the real bird.

Ford donates tree

John Blackwell, owner of Blackwell Ford on Plymouth Road in Plymouth, has contributed $3,750 to the city for Main Street beautification as an example of Ford's "Detroit Pride" program reaching out to encompass projects throughout the metropolitan area. The Main Street Beautification is part of a long-term project to make the downtown area more attractive. Blackwell's funds will allow the city to purchase and plant 12 eight-foot maples at 300-foot intervals with appropriate planters between City Hall and Old Village. The particular tree above was planted earlier by Dick Motow (left), landscape contractor, and Andy Jastrabek. Earlier Blackwell Ford made a contribution to Plymouth Township to improve the ball diamonds at the township park. Paul Sincok, assistant city manager, said the tree donation was a catalyst for an entire beautification program with long-term impact.

BACK PAIN

Back Problems and Chiropractic

Three quarters of all Americans have some sort of back problems at one time or another during their life.

DO YOU SUFFER WITH BACK PROBLEMS? If you do, if you have tried other means to rid yourself of the pain and failed, try chiropractic.

Dr. Mashike is a spinal specialist. He has devoted all of his training and background to the spine. He is certified by the National Board of Chiropractic Examiners. He has been certified by the American Disability Evaluation Research Institute and has qualified for membership in the National Association of Disability Evaluating Physicians. DR. MASHIKE HAS HELPED THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE JUST LIKE YOU, people who had given up, people who were told there was no hope, people who had suffered alot and spent alot.

At Dr. Mashike's office, you receive the very best of care and personal individual attention. Dr. Mashike would appreciate the opportunity to care for you.

"I Achieved the Impossible"

I found out about Chiropractic through a very dear friend of mine. She was a patient of Dr. Mashike's. I suffered with backaches for many years. I was hospitalized, put in traction, but nothing helped. My friend had had gotten good results and she told me I should go.

This problem certainly interfered with my daily routine. I felt useless. I was afraid to bend or anything. I never thought I was going to make it to the doctors office. I was so discouraged.

Dr. Mashike told me he found some vertebrae out of alignment that were pinching nerves in my low back. Well in about three weeks I began noticing improvement.

I noticed many changes in my health. I am no longer depressed. I am able to go for long walks. I now do exercises when I wake up. I feel like a new person.

I have written this testimonial from my own experience with the hope that I will help others, so not to suffer needlessly, when you can seek chiropractic help.

Mary Casha

I regret very much that I didn't take my wife to see Dr. Mashike sooner. All that needless suffering could have been avoided.

I was so pleased with Mary's results that I had Dr. Mashike examine my spine for a circulation problem. I also had a bad back but nothing like Mary's.

After three months I feel much better and I feel the circulation is normal. Mary and I thank Dr. Mashike very much.

Tidball Family Health Improved

We first started with chiropractic care because of severe headaches I was having. My husband had pain between the shoulder blades which was a constant nag.

Myself, I lived on aspirin (12-16 per day) for a long time without help until friends told us we should have chiropractic care.

My husband and I progressed and in about a month we noticed a lot of improvement. I felt better in general, I also felt good because I wasn't taking any drugs, no side effects, sleepiness or a buzzy feeling that I got from the drugs.

Our children also have their spines checked. We want them to grow up without health problems. We definitely recommend chiropractic, it's the way to go.

An Overall Improvement

I found out about chiropractic through a friend who was a patient of Dr. Mashike's. I was on vacation when I injured my lower back. By the time we got home, I could hardly walk and it was painful to sit or bend in any way.

I didn't think I would ever be better. On my first visit I was in so much pain I could hardly lay on Dr. Mashike's adjusting table. It took several adjustments before I noticed a difference, but now I'm so much better. After 4 weeks I noticed an overall improvement not only with my low back, but with my total health, I can even rest better.

I'm not completely better but thank God I feel much better. Dr. Mashike has helped me a lot. I am so glad I came to see him.

Richard Barr quits as Canton's football coach after six losing seasons: "Not winning had something to do with it, too."

Barr resigns at Canton

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Richard Barr won his first game as head football coach at Plymouth Canton back in 1980. Sadly, that achievement may have been the pinnacle of his tenure at Canton.

The embattled Barr will resign his post following this his sixth year.

"This is it for me," Barr said last week. "With the new job, I just can't do both and justify all the things that I have to do."

Barr was named Canton's building manager by athletic director Paul Cummings at the beginning of the 1985-86 school year. The job is akin to that of an assistant athletic director.

"It was understood when I accepted that position that I would try to both coach and run the building this season, then make an evaluation afterward," Barr said.

"Not winning had something to do with it (the decision to resign), too," he added.

NOT WINNING: Going into last Saturday's clash with Northville, Barr's Canton teams had won 12 games and lost 39. The Chiefs have never finished at or above .500.

"No, I don't feel I've done a bad job,"

Barr said. "The people I work for and with know that we've done a lot of good things. Obviously, the won-loss thing is not what anyone wanted. But people think we go out every Friday just to lose. We try to do everything there is possible to win. We don't do anything differently than anybody else. It's just sometimes you don't have the material to do the things you'd like to do."

Barr, more than any recent football coach in Observerland, has been the target of constant criticism from the community. This newspaper has been deluged with letters, most unsigned, filled with angry criticism of Barr. The complaints have come from parents, boosters, former, and even current, players.

Two years ago, two members of Barr's coaching staff resigned in mid-season citing differences with Barr's coaching philosophy.

Barr got into trouble with both the community and the school district last season for passing out cigars to his players following a victory.

BARR, REMARKABLY, has remained calm in the face of the criticism.

"People in the stands have their opinions. Other coaches have their opinions. Kids have their opinions. As a head coach, you know you are going to take the flak. It's part of the job, comes with the territory.

"The losing is hard to take, for everyone. That's the reason you get the flak. The flak is hard to take sometimes, but you adjust to it. No one knows what it's like to be a head coach unless you've done it. It's easy to call the plays from the stands."

He's even retained his sense of humor.

"I'll tell you what, if anything my players have learned to deal with adversity."

Deep down, though, Barr admits the losing hurts him.

"I'm very disappointed," he said. "My goal was to turn this program around and get it over .500. I've had six years to do it and it hasn't happened. Everyone has a reason why it hasn't happened, be it true or false. People have the right to believe what they want. But we know why we do certain things. We know why certain plays are called and others aren't."

BARR CAME to the Plymouth-Canton district in 1964. In 1970 and 1971 he coached football at the middle school level. He then became Tom Moshimer's assistant at Salem in 1972.

"I've enjoyed coaching," he said. "No regrets, no regrets. I'm proud of what we've done. It's tough to lose, but through it we've always stressed and maintained a positive attitude. Losing is not the end of the world, and we've tried to teach that to our kids. All our kids have survived."

Barr also made it clear that nobody forced him to resign from coaching.

"Nobody ever told me that I had to resign," he said. "Paul Cummings told me last year, 'If you feel pressure it's because you're putting it on yourself. The administration and my superiors never made me feel I had to quit. It was strictly my decision — and that decision will probably make a lot of people happy.'"

A committee will be formed to select a new coach after this season. Barr and Cummings will be among the members of that committee.

"I'm not bitter at all," Barr said. "Whoever gets the job, I wish them all the luck in the world."

"Who knows, maybe after I'm out of coaching for a while I'll miss it and want to get back into it somewhere," he said.

Meanwhile, the best way to end his Canton coaching career, he said, would be with a victory. Canton plays rival Salem on the final day of the season.

Morgan, Morell trigger Chiefs to rout

Plymouth Canton faced a good soccer team Friday. Really.

The score certainly didn't indicate it. The Chiefs scored in the first 30 seconds of the game and never let up, streaking to a 7-0 victory over visiting West Bloomfield in a state regional tournament game.

The win boosted Canton into the regional semifinals. The Chiefs will battle Livonia Stevenson at 7 p.m. Monday at Canton.

"They're a good team, they've got some good people," said Canton coach Mike Morgan of West Bloomfield. "We just stopped them."

Effective strategy, particularly when it works so well. The Chiefs fired 18 shots at the Laker goal while allowing only four to reach their goalkeeper, Brian Gavigan.

STEVE MORELL got Canton started with a goal in the game's early moments. It was the first of two for Morell, raising his season's total to 27. Todd Nichols assisted.

Scott Morgan made it 2-0 at 4:30 and 3-0 at the 10-minute mark. Pat Frederick assisted on Morgan's first score; his second came off his corner kick, deflecting in off a West Bloomfield defender. Morgan completed a hat trick 21 minutes into the second half, with Morell assisting.

Before the first half was over, however, Morell scored again, Jeff Tutor assisting, making it 4-0 at the half. Nichols, from Brian Whitley, Morgan and Dave Dahlberg, from Kurt Ewing, accounted for the Chiefs second-half scores.

"We controlled it from the beginning," said Morgan. "We've got everybody back, everyone's healthy. We're starting to put everything together."

"The bench is strong, all the pieces are beginning to fit."

ONE PLAYER Morgan was particularly happy to have back was Gavigan. He missed 11 games with an injury, and Dan Douglas, a natural midfielder, subbed for him.

"The kids play with more confidence with him (Gavigan) back there," admitted Morgan.

The victory improved the Chiefs' record to 14-5-1.

On Thursday, Morell and Morgan teamed up for three second-half goals as Canton subdued Livonia Franklin 3-0 at Franklin.

Morell scored all three Chief goals, with Morgan assisting on each. Canton outshot Franklin, 20-11. Goalie Dean Barbario earned the shutout.

PLYMOUTH SALEM sophomore Dennis Reynolds came off the bench to score a pair of goals in the Rocks 3-0 shutout of Farmington Thursday at Salem.

Reynolds' first goal came 19 minutes into the game and less than five minutes after he had been inserted into the lineup. Randy Balconi assisted.

Thirteen minutes into the second half, Reynolds struck again, this time with an assist from Dave Dameron. Dameron got the final Salem goal at the 72-minute mark, Ebon Nash assisting.

Goalkeeper Joe Knoeri earned his second shutout for the Rocks. Knoeri got plenty of help from Andy Orr, who was filling in for sweepback Eldon Nash (out with the flu).

Salem is 10-5-4 overall and 7-3-4 in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA). Farmington fell to 5-6-3 in the WLAA.

Thomann will coach OCC's men's team

By C.J. Rieak
staff writer

One program's loss has become another's gain.

Fred Thomann, who coaches Plymouth Salem's girls basketball team and who directed the Salem boys for 12 seasons, has accepted an assistant coach's position for Oakland Community College's men's team.

OCC men's coach Tom McPhillips confirmed Thursday that Thomann would be his assistant.

"Tom and I have been friends for 20 years," said Thomann. "He was at Alpena (Community College) recruiting my Willow Run kids."

Thomann began his coaching career at Willow Run before coming to Salem in 1972. He built the Salem boys basketball program into a suburban powerhouse.

After the 1983-84 season, Thomann resigned because of differences with the school district regarding cutbacks in the sports programs. He retained his girls coaching position.

McPHILLIPS APPROACHED Thomann last spring about the assistant's position. The 1984-85 season marked McPhillips' return as OCC's coach after a three-year layoff.

"Tom coached last spring but wasn't too happy with it," said Thomann. "He asked me then about the assistant's job. I applied for the athletic director's job here but when I didn't get it, I thought I might as well do something with my time."

"I've never coached at that level, with that type of player. It's just something I always wanted to do, work with older players, so I thought I'd try it and see if I like it."

Thomann's impact on OCC's team will be delayed because of his "commitment to (Salem's girls) team. I can't do it on a regular basis until the girls season is over."

"That's one thing I made very clear to them. I don't want to jeopardize that."

In early practice sessions with OCC, Thomann said he'd been working on defense. If McPhillips and Thomann are in agreement on defensive philosophies, then the Raiders will be playing a lot of man-to-man in the season ahead.

Fred Thomann has accepted a position as an assistant basketball coach with Oakland Community College's men's team.

Salem shot down by Rockets

Inclement weather didn't seem to bother Westland John Glenn Friday night.

The Rockets overcame a sloppy, rain-soaked field and Plymouth Salem Friday night to keep their record unblemished through seven games, routing the Rocks 34-8 at Glenn Friday.

Glenn advances to the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) championship game. The Lakes Division champion Rockets will host Farmington Harrison, winner of the WLAA's Western Division, Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Salem dipped to 2-5 with the defeat. The Rocks fell behind quickly to the potent attack of the Rockets and aided their own demise by coughing up the ball.

"Salem had a couple of fumbles that stopped their drives," said Glenn coach Chuck Gordon, "and that set up scores for us."

THE ROCKETS took advantage of Salem's generosity by scoring 24 unanswered points in the first half. Rick Hassen grabbed a 9-yard scoring pass from quarterback Steve Irwin in the opening quarter and Tony Svaluto booted the first of four straight extra points for a 7-0 lead.

Tony Boles sprinted 53 yards for the second Rocket touchdown and a 14-0 lead in the second quarter. Svaluto booted a 23-yard field goal to make it 17-0, and Paul Beasley then plunged a yard to increase Glenn's advantage to 24-0.

The Rockets upped their lead to 31-0 on Irwin's 1-yard sneak in the third quarter. Svaluto's second field goal of the night, from 20 yards out, capped the Rocket scoring early in the fourth period.

Salem's only TD came late in the game on Paul Makara's 8-yard dash. Makara added a two-point conversion run to make it 34-8.

NORVILLE 11, CANTON 8 Plymouth Canton failed to get its offense untracked Friday night. The result was the Chiefs seventh-straight loss, including five in a row in the WLAA, at Canton.

Northville (4-5, 3-2 in the WLAA) built a 6-0 halftime lead on two Jack Sylvester field goals. Sylvester's first football

three-pointer came in the first quarter from 30 yards out. He added a 26-yarder in the second period.

Phil Pendelton accounted for the Mustangs only touchdown in the third quarter, streaking 80 yards for the score. Pendelton was Northville's top offensive weapon, gaining 153 yards rushing on 28 carries.

Canton got on the board in the third quarter when Sylvester, trying to punt from his own end zone, was sacked by Steve Boyd.

The Chiefs narrowed the gap further with their only scoring drive of the game, a 63-yarder capped by Steve Jenyk's 7-yard run in the fourth quarter. A two-point conversion attempt failed, and Canton could not strike again.

Northville humbled the Chiefs in offensive statistics. The Mustangs gained 243 yards, while limiting Canton to 42. Jenyk completed one of eight passes for 10 yards, and Jay Goebel topped the rushers with 29 yards on six carries.

Chris Hill gets nowhere Friday night against a tough John Glenn defense. The Rockets routed the Rocks, 34-8.

Canton races to Western Division title

Guess who won the Western Division boys cross country title in the Western Lakes?

No, not Livonia Churchill. Not Northville. Not Walled Lake Western.

For the first time, Plymouth Canton will be able to place some cross country hardware into its trophy case.

The Chiefs secured its title Thursday with a dramatic 25-30 win against Northville. Both teams entered the meet unbeaten in the division.

Canton's triumph takes on greater emphasis when you consider the adversity the team has faced this season. For starters, its No. 1 runner, Keith Rosol, went down with mononucleosis early in the year. Another top runner, Doug Rich, was lost to injury.

"Honestly, at the beginning I thought our team would be OK," said coach Jim Hayes. "Then we had some injuries. But, it always seemed that somebody would pick us up. That was the delightful thing, someone was always running better."

JAY SWIECKI, a sophomore, came out of virtually nowhere to become the cross country

Chiefs' top runner. He placed first Thursday (time).

Scott Moore, a former Canton football player, has been another pleasant surprise. He placed third (time) Thursday.

Dean Juergens, a junior returning letterman from last season, placed fourth against Northville (time).

Clinching the victory for Canton were Dan Houdek (time) and Al Byrnes (time) who placed eighth and ninth respectively.

"I'd like to tell you that it's been the coaching," Hayes said jokingly. "But, really, the kids have done a superb job."

Canton (5-0 in the division, 5-2 overall) will go after the complete Western Lakes title Tuesday in the WLAAs league meet.

18:06; 6. Doug Vergeri (PS), 18:14; 7. Jeff Chola (JG), 18:18; 8. Kyle Szukaitis (JG), 18:41; 9. Chip Whittaker (PS), 18:50; 10. Sam Hassah (JG), 18:57.

Dual meet records: Salem, 5-3.

Salem bounces back from loss with a win over W.L. Central Championship teams must possess many different qualities: talent, chemistry and desire, just to name a few.

But the quality most overlooked in championship teams is resilience — the ability to bounce back from adversity.

Plymouth Salem bounced back after Tuesday's disheartening 25-24 loss to Plymouth Canton with a much-needed, 38-34 win against Walled Lake Central Thursday.

WESTERN LAKES GIRLS BASKETBALL STANDINGS
LAKES DIVISION
Plymouth Salem	9-1

Central came into the game trailing Salem in the Western Lakes Lakes Division by only a game.

"We had a real good game tonight," Salem coach Fred Thomann said.

Despite the closeness of the score, Salem was in control. The Rocks had built a 10-point lead with five minutes remaining. Central scored the last six points of the game.

"It was a hard-played game," Thomann said. "They are very big, very physical. We led the whole game but never really dominated — they are just too good."

Dena Head led a parade of Salem scorers with 10 points. Kristen Hostynski scored six and Laura Clifford five.

Pam Fitzgerald led Central (7-3 in the league) with 10.

Salem is 9-1 in the league, 10-3 overall.

Each played their neighboring rival Tuesday (Canton at Salem, Western at Central), and both had little left for Thursday night's game.

"It was just a struggle," said a tired-sounding Canton coach, Rob Neu.

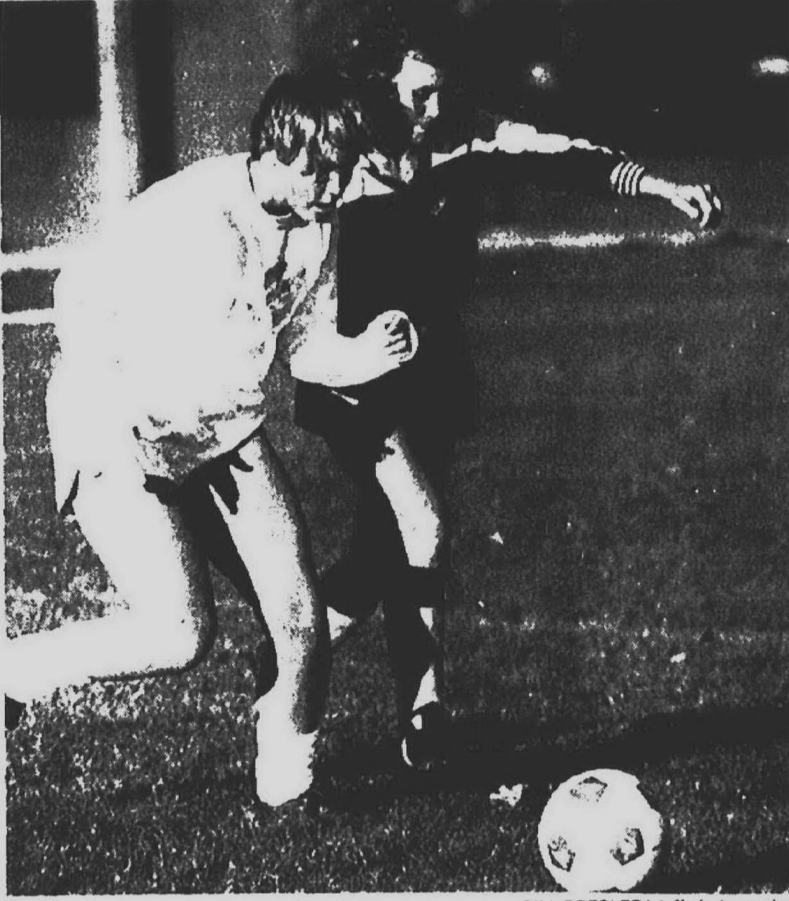

Beth Frigge keyed Canton's win with several key defensive plays and seven points. The diminutive point guard pulled off eight steals for the night.

Laura Darby also scored seven for the Chiefs.

Canton led by a point at the half and by two after three quarters.

"We really need some down time right now," Neu said. "We're tired."

The Chiefs (9-1 in the league, 12-1 overall) will face an improving Farmington team Tuesday and Western Division foe Churchill Thursday.

Julie Kusza (right) battles OU's Janet Widina for possession of the ball during Wednesday's contest. Schoolcraft won easily, 7-0.

Improvement shows as S'craft stops OU

Using Oakland University as a gauge, Schoolcraft College's women's soccer team has taken giant strides toward developing into a community college team to be reckoned with.

Not that the Ocelots were ever poor, but according to coach Ed Dudek, since their first meeting with OU's club team Sept. 18, they have made significant improvement.

"I was worried about this game," Dudek said after Schoolcraft demolished OU 7-0 Wednesday. "We were injured. We had 15 players, but quite a few of them weren't 100 percent."

The win boosted the Ocelots record to 5-3-4, with a trip to the Ohio State University Tournament on tap this weekend. The eight-team tournament is divided into two four-team pools, with the top two teams in pool play advancing to Sunday's semifinal and final rounds.

Schoolcraft opens against OSU Friday, then plays Marietta and Marysville. Miami (of Ohio), which tied the Ocelots 1-1 Oct. 6, figures to reach the finals, Dudek said. Miami beat Schoolcraft in last year's tournament championship game.

AT LEAST Denise Piwko was. The forward from Fraser continued her torrid scoring pace with four goals, raising her season total to 18.

Piwko scored the first two Ocelot goals, helping them to a 4-0 halftime lead. Angie Butterfield and Julie Nowka also notched first-half goals.

Piwko scored twice more in the second half, sandwiched around a goal by Kerry Lanaghan. Sue Bartram (from Farmington) and Wendy Propp each had three assists.

"The first time we faced (OU)," said Dudek, "it was kind of a back-and-forth

Chiefs, Rocks splash Walled Lake foes

The Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem swim teams had little trouble against their Walled Lake rivals Thursday night.

The Chiefs (3-2) won all 11 events in a 121-47 victory over Walled Lake Western at Canton. Ditto for the Rocks, who swept every first in a 117-55 triumph at Walled Lake Central.

For Canton, sophomore Danielle Dickinson won a pair of events: the 50-yard freestyle (28.2) and the 500 free (6:26.4). She also anchored the winning 200 medley relay, teaming with Jean McLanaghan, Julie Cox and Amy Schmitz on a 2:05.5.

Other firsts were logged by Sue Schendel in the 200 free (2:27.3), Michelle Stackpoole in the 200 individual medley (2:37.6), Kellie Daily won the diving (182.7 points), Schmitz won the 100 butterfly (1:11.8), McLanaghan won the 100 free (1:01.1), Lynn Massey won the 100 backstroke (1:11.1) and Cox took the 100 breaststroke (1:10.9).

STACKPOOLE, Shannon Beeding, Jackie Wojcik and Massey went 4:36.5 to take the 400 freestyle relay.

Salem's individual firsts were recorded by Karen Dalpe in the 200 free (2:20.6); Stacy Anderson in the 200 IM (2:35.31); Kristal Taylor in the 50 free (26.5); Tina Aquino in the diving; Shannon Murphy in the 100 fly (1:04.0); Tracy Meszaros in the 100 free (58.3); Laura Shaffer in the 500 free (5:38.7); Debbie Kelley in the 100 back (1:15.0); and Kirsten Laderach in the 100 breast (1:25.2).

Eagles tumble in overtime

Plymouth Christian made a miracle comeback to force overtime, but luck ran out on the Eagles after that as they lost to Southfield Christian 44-40 in overtime Friday at Pioneer Middle School.

Southfield Christian led by three with three seconds left and Plymouth's Jill Skrubellos at the free throw line. Skrubellos made the first foul shot but intentionally missed the second. A jump ball was called in the battle for the rebound and the ball went over to the Eagles.

Skrubellos received the inbounds pass and got the ball to Becky LeBar, who hit at the buzzer to force OT.

Southfield Christian then asserted control, however, with Shawn Shelnut netting six of her 17 points in the extra period. Southfield scored the first four points of the extra period and Plymouth could not catch up.

LeBar finished with a season-high 23 points for Plymouth Christian (5-5).

Last Tuesday, the Eagles used 14 points by Kim Seiferth and 11 by LeBar to defeat Pontiac Oakland Christian 38-30.

● PUNT, PASS, KICK CHAMPS

Canton was well represented in the Metro-Detroit Area Punt, Pass and Kick finals last week.

Of the six local champions, Canton grabbed four first places and one second place.

Eric Stoecklein (8-year-old), Tom Baker (10), Jake Baker (12) and Scott Janack (13) each finished first. For the Baker brothers, it was their second regional championship.

Chris Wilson, 9, placed second.

● STEELERS TAKE 2 OF 3 FROM NORTHVILLE-NOVI

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers Junior league football contingent posted wins at the varsity and freshmen levels last weekend against the Northville- Novi Colts and a heartbreaking loss at the JV level.

The freshmen (4-0-1) knocked off the Colts 20-13. Patrick Vesnaugh scored first on a 2-yard run. Jason Krueger then scored on a 27-yard run. Ray Alvarado capped the scoring with a stirring 55-yard run. Vesnaugh added a pair of extra points.

The junior varsity Steelers (4-1) fell 14-13. The Steelers scored first on a 20-yard TD pass from Jonathan Brand to Rudy Cervantes.

The varsity Steelers (4-1) rolled up a 34-22 win Sunday. Rob Kowalski scored on TD runs of 20 and 25 yards; Chris Decker scored on a 20-yard triple reverse play; Steve Burlison ran one in from the 4; Scott Swartzwelder scored on a 40-yard run; Joe Nora kicked a two-point conversion and Swartzwelder and Bryan Dobbs added conversions.

The Steelers will host Romulus Sunday in their annual homecoming games beginning at 1 p.m. at Central Middle School.

● COED VOLLEYBALL

The Canton and Plymouth parks and recreation departments will co-sponsor a coed volleyball league at West Middle School on Friday evenings beginning Nov. 15.

The league will be limited to eight teams and entry fee is $120 per team plus $15 for players living outside the Plymouth-Canton School District.

Registration for returning teams is Oct. 14-18 and for new teams Oct. 21-Nov. 1.

Call 397-1000 or 455-6620 for more information.

● BONANZA SOCCER — 1971

Plymouth, Canton and Northville-area boys born in 1971 interested in trying out for the Plymouth Soccer Club Bonanza-level team for the spring of 1986 should call Don Nippa at 459-6774, or Jack Welchans, 453-8098 by Friday, Nov. 1.

Another werewolf film: You've seen it all before

Corey Haim is Marty Coslaw, a handicapped 13-year-old who tracks a werewolf from his wheelchair-motorcycle in "Silver Bullet."

IF YOU REALLY like werewolves, "Silver Bullet" will fill your moon, but this just-OK Stephen King story is no great shakes.

In the moviemakers' minds all small-town America is quaint and picturesque. Tarker's Mills is no exception.

There, crippled since birth, 13-year-old Marty Coslaw (Corey Haim) is confined to a wheelchair. His disablement is an obvious burden to his family, although small-town America (in the movies) has no financial problems. It just is inconvenient to care for a crippled kid.

Marty's parents, Nan (Robin Groves) and Bob (Leon Russom) are properly bland. Mother Nan fusses over her son while Father Bob seems vaguely disinterested as well as annoyed at the inconvenience. Primarily, Bob is vague.

It's not necessarily their acting, however, for Stephen King's scenario doesn't provide much character, even for the best of actors. The action is there, albeit cliched, but it is uninspired and not the terror-laden excitement upon which King built his reputation.

THE ONLY FAMILY members with any personality are Marty, Sister Jane (Megan Follows) and Uncle Red (Gary Busey). Uncle Red is a beefy, good-natured drinking sort who regularly gets divorced, and other things. Uncle Red turns out a pretty nifty motorized wheelchair/motorcycle contraption for Marty.

The best character development and acting come when Sister Jane and Marty conflict over the natural difficulties of adolescence compounded by Marty's disability. At that difficult age in the maturation process it's not easy to love a favored, crippled younger brother. As any teen-age girl will testify, younger brothers can be a pain.

Their relationship, as well as their interaction with Uncle Red, provides some decent moments, but the rest of the film is a conventional werewolf-plagues-the-good-town story with rather cliched characters.

the movies

Dan Greenberg

The good sheriff, Joe Haller (Terry O'Quinn), is doing his best but it isn't good enough and, naturally, one of the town's malcontents stirs up the lynch mob, which storms the swamps looking for the werewolf — much to their dismay and destruction.

It is pretty obvious from the start who the werewolf is, and that character's rationale for murder is about as weak as they come. There never is any explanation as to why that character became a werewolf. Does it just happen? Are they everywhere? Does even the Shadow know?

FROM THIS PLOT description, you should have no difficulty figuring how it all turns out. The obvious cliches fill "Silver Bullet," but those who enjoy werewolf movies and a pretty heavy dose of violent murders will appreciate this one.

Carlo Rambaldi, who has won Oscars for his work on "E.T.," "Alien" and "King Kong" expended considerable effort in creating werewolves for "Silver Bullet." His work is quite effective, again, if you like that sort of thing, even when the production is leaden and uninspired.

Director Daniel Atlas is making his directorial debut with "Silver Bullet." Atlas noted, "Truthfully, I'm not quite clear on the exact details of how I was chosen to direct this film."

To which all but the most devoted fan will add, "Or why."

Dining out

The 1985 Edition of Michigan Living Editor Len Barnes' new dining guide lists recommended restaurants throughout metropolitan Detroit, as well as other parts of Michigan and neighboring Canada's Windsor area. Among communities in the northern suburbs included under special headings are Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Farmington Hills, the Rochester area, Southfield, Troy and West Bloomfield. Western suburbs named include Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Redford and Westland.

"Dining Out in Metro Detroit... and More" is the new edition of the booklet last published in 1979, with Barnes' selections and observations on the dining scene, which he has covered for Michigan Living for nearly 40 years. Published by AAA Michigan, the guide is available by mail only, for $2, to AAA Michigan members, $2.95 to non-members. To order, send a check to: Michigan Living, 1 Auto Club Drive, Dearborn 48126.

Houlihan's here

Houlihan's Restaurant, with a casual atmosphere and diverse menu, opens to the public Thursday, Oct. 31, at Somerset Mall in Troy. The restaurant is in the free-standing, newly remodeled building that originally housed the Magic Pan and most recently a Mexican restaurant, Nopalitos. Besides appetizers, steak, fresh fish and other selections, there will be a special light menu of food and drink, with calorie counts given for the edibles. A Sunday Brunch Buffet is another regular feature. Seating is provided for 140 patrons in the dining area, 65 in the lounge. Houlihan's first restaurant opened in Kansas City in 1972.

Chef honored

Jeff Heinzman, executive chef at the McKinley Inn in Romeo, has been named Chef of the Year for 1985 by the Chef's 200 Social Club. Honored as recipient of the Loyalty Award is Bill Harman, chef consultant for the L.J. Minor Corp. Both honorees will receive their rewards Monday, Oct. 21, at Gino's Surf in Mount Clemens. WXYZ-TV's "Friday Feast" star, Jack McCarthy, will be master of ceremonies. For tickets at $30 per person, contact Gordon Bowman of Livonia, club president, at 455-4726, or Ross Bucci at 956-2916.

Cajun feasting

Jack McCarthy's Restaurant in Keego Harbor, which has been offering Cajun food ever since the restaurant opened last November, will present a Cajun dinner Thursday, Oct. 24, at Santa Hall, 1995 Cass Lake Road, Keego Harbor. McCarthy is bringing in a Cajun cook, Jane Bearb, from New Iberia, La. Bearb will work with McCarthy's Restaurant Chef Gordon Bowman to offer authentic Cajun dishes. Tickets at $25 per person are available by calling 682-5522.

Western suburbs named include Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, Redford and Westland.
