Condos receive site plan approval

By Dennis Coffman staff writer

The Plymouth Planning Commission Wednesday approved a proposed 44unit condominium complex to be built on the Wilcox property in downtown Plymouth.

The development was given the goahead by a vote of 6-2, with commissioners Gregory Green and David Opple opposed.

Commissioners viewed a site plan for the development to be built on a two-acre parcel bounded by Elizabeth, Roe, Ann Arbor Trail and Union.

Each of the units would sell for an average price of $175,000 to $200,000. The total construction cost would be $8-10 million, with a possible groundbreaking this spring.

The next step for the consortium that is developing the property - Plymouth resident Jack Wilcox, William "Buzz" Ray, attorney Angelo Plakas, Jim Boyce and Dick Scott — is to receive approval from the Plymouth City Commission.

PLYMOUTH CITY Engineer Ken West said the Wilcox proposal will be placed on the City Commission agenda for its Jan. 20 meeting.

"What was approved Wednesday was the proposed plan for the whole development - the whole concept," said West

Approval came following a public hearing that lasted from 7:30-8:30 p.m. The planning commission discussed the proposal and the comments from the audience until about 9 p.m., when it voted.

There was a capacity crowd in the commission chambers during the public hearing; about 75 people were evenly divided for and against the Wilcox property site plan.

I've lived in Plymouth all my life and have worked toward this moment when I could put together a project in which I could take pride," said Wilcox. "It's more than a building. It's an image I have tried hard to accomplish.

"I've had more propositions than the village floozie. Some have had promise and others were ridiculous. I wanted the project to be worthy of the site."

PROJECT ARCHITECT James

Meneghini fielded questions from the audience.

He explained that the condos would have an entrance on Union; there would be 72 parking spaces under the building and additional parking at the surface level at Elizabeth for guests; the ground floor would have garden walls of brick; and mature landscaping.

"We wanted the building to have a 'grand manor' and park-like feel," said Meneghini.

The condo living units would be about 1,400 to 1,500 square feet, with two bedrooms and two bathrooms and "ample storage, a large kitchen and living room," according to Meneghini. The six-story building would have two elevators and copper-clad roofs on the stair towers, pitched roofs overall.

All upper floors would have balconies. The exterior materials would be brick with some stone

'We wanted to make this an extremely secure building," said Meneghini. He said the developers had been working with the fire department to improve the access along Ann Arbor Trail and to install a fire hydrant on Elizabeth.

A storm sewer line also needs to be relocated, Meneghini said, but he was working with city engineers on the problem.

"The development is contingent upon working with the city," he said. "We agree to come back to keep the planning commission updated."

Project divides residents

Predictably, not all the residents are enthusiastic about the proposed development for the site of the Wilcox House at the apex of Kellogg Park.

The audience of 75 attending the planning commission public hearing Wedneday night were about evenly divided on the project.

"I'm very concerned. The sketches look appealing, but they are unable to show how much traffic there is now and how much traffic there will be," said Ellen Curtis.

"The sketch does not show the entire area, such as the Arbor Health Building. The health building is a service to the community but the building looks out of place for the piece of property it is on. I have no objections to condos, but we must consider the overall picture.

She said the project was too high for the land and, with the ice festival and fall festival, the area would be congested

Hike in water rate proposed

By Doug Funke staff writer

Wholesale water charges to Canton would increase 19 percent and to Plymouth Township 9 percent if rates proposed by the Detroit Water and Sewage Department are adopted by the Board of Water Commissioners and the Detroit City Council.

Wholesale water rates in the City of Plymouth would drop 6 percent.

Canton, now charged $3.45 per 1,000 cubic feet of water, would pay $4.11 under Detroit's new rate proposal.

Wholesale water rates for Plymouth Township would rise from $5.33 to $5.81 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Plymouth city wholesale rates would fall from $4.81 to $4.52 per 1,000 cubic feet.

The water board has scheduled a public hearing on the rate proposal Wednesday, Jan. 15. The Detroit City Council is expected to hold a hearing in February. New rates are expected to take effect in July.

Wholesale water charges from Detroit to individual communities represent less than half of the typical household water and sewer bill in Plymouth Township, Canton and Plymouth. The City of Detroit and Wayne County charge for maintenance of sewage treatment plants and connecting sewer lines, respectively. Suburban governmental units also charge for maintenance of local water and sewer systems.

shouldn't anticipate a decrease in their water bills even though the wholesale price of water from Detroit may be Limburg said he wouldn't be surprised if the City Commission were to raise the local portion of the water bill to offset the decrease from Detroit.

"Labor rates are higher and we should build up a reserve," he said. "Our system is very old. We've had a number of bad line breaks the last eight to 10 years."

THE WHOLESALE water rate just gets the product to the city limits, Limburg added.

Tom Hollis, Plymouth Township DPW superintendent, said township officials are studying the possibility of raising local water and sewer rates.

John Spencer, finance director in Canton, said officials there also are expected to take a close look at their local systems.

"We operate the water department on a break-even basis plus depreciation, which is basically replacing the system and doing repairs," Spencer said "At some point you have to replace a water line."

'city of homes' going to be the city of towers and traffic jams? It's like fitting a size 10 dress on a 200-pound person. It does not fit very well," said Curtis

GREG DONOVAN, the owner of an office building and a land developer, said people are seeking high-end-priced housing.

"The Wilcox land, now zoned commercial, would attract two or three times the amount of traffic (if developed commercial). This condo is less problematic than commercial would be. It represents a new wave of attractive building. I look forward to seeing buildings like this. They maintain an image of a good place to live," said Donovan.

Jane Living defended the Arbor Health Building. "It never looked better. I have not seen any accidents BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Increases are possible in some of those areas

Currently, water and sewer charges from all sources per 1,000 cubic feet total $22.47 in the city of Plymouth, $18.56 in Canton and $13.77 in Plymouth Township.

The City of Plymouth and Canton include bond debt retirement costs for their local systems in the water bills. Plymouth Township funds its construction costs through a separate townshipwide tax.

Gordon Limburg, finance director in Plymouth, said consumers in that city

Plymouth Township, Canton and Plymouth are fortunate in that Detroit has recommended a slight decrease in basic sewage rates from $4.29 to $4.26 per 1,000 cubic feet.

However, the Wayne County Public Works Dept., which manages major connector sewer lines between suburban communities and Detroit, hasn't determined what its future add-on will

"I wouldn't want to speculate, but hopefully it would be about the same," said John Hubert, finance director for the public works department.

County add-on sewage charges this year are 48 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

THE COUNTY won't consider rate increases until after rates proposed by the Detroit Water and Sewage Department are ultimately determined and

Township construction booms in '85

> Development, which has increased steadily in Plymouth Township the past several years, took off in 1985. Singlefamily housing and industrial building starts spearheaded the rally.

A total of 2,213 building and mechanical permits representing $33.9 million in construction activity in all classes residential, industrial and commercial were issued compared to 1,537 permits for $15.7 million in 1984.

Those figures include all work new starts as well as renovations, improvements and demolitions.

Last year, permits were issued for 172 new houses with an aggregate value of $15 million and for 19 new industrial factories valued at $10.3 million.

In 1984, permits were issued for 95 new houses and four industrial facilities with aggregate values of $7.6 and $1.2 million, respectively.

Planning Director James Anulewicz, who provided the figures, attributed the growth spurt to favorable interest rates and the township's position relative to a good transportation network.

"THROUGH HISTORY, we've organized ourselves around various means of transportation," Anulewicz said. 'First it was rivers, then it was railroads. Now you're going to find expressways are the lifeblood of the nation.

With property at two interchanges (in the industrial corridor off M-14), ties into the expressway system, within 20 minutes or less from a major metropolitan airport, located almost halfway between Detroit and Ann Arbor and another hour away from another university, Michigan State, it's just ideal," he said of the township's attractiveness.

More and more developers are beginning to discover Plymouth Township, Anulewicz said, and they now have money with favorable interest rates to transform plans into buildings.

"We're probably seeing as much interest in this community than we've ever had," he said. "You probably had a well-kept secret here and the secret is getting known."

Development is a double-edged sword It increases a community's property

taxbase which, in turn, results in more revenue

THE TOWNSHIP would realize just more than $91,000 in property tax this year if all $33.9 million of construction begun or completed in 1985 were on the tax rolls.

However, it sometimes takes a couple of years for projects, once they're egun, to reach the rolls.

Increased development also results in revenues through permit fees. The township last year realized $263,000 in revenue from permit and inspection fees compared to $150,500 in 1984 and $67,000 in 1981 when development totaled only $5.9 million.

A prestige factor also comes into play when new subdivisions, office buildings and industrial parks arise. Over time, a community's reputation develops with development.

The other edge of the sword can cut deeply, Anulewicz said. Unbridled growth during good times can negatively impact on the aesthetics of a community which attracted individuals and business in the first place.

In bad times, allowing what wouldn't be tolerated during good times just to spur development, could come back to haunt.

"There probably is a point you could probably grow too fast," Anulewicz said. "I don't think this community is anywhere near that point.

"I THINK you have to be sensitive to the site plan review process . . . so that amenities are retained. I think the key to the '80s is to understand the system, encourage growth and do it in a way you don't forget the principles of sound planning.

"Communities, which pursic growth for growth sake, I think, will suffer in the future," Anulewicz said.

While residential and industrial development increased significantly last year, commercial development decreased - at least in terms of value of projects, Anulewicz said.

Permits were pulled for four commercial projects valued at $2.9 million in 1984 compared to three projects valued at $713,000 last year.

Two of the larger commercial projects launched in '84 were an office complex consisting of several buildings on Ann Arbor Road between I-275 and Haggerty and the PMC retail center at Ann Arbor Road and Mill.

Anulewicz said he expects development to continue at last year's rate through 1986 with perhaps a slight increase.

"Development usually goes in a four-or five-year cycle. It hits bottom, begins to come up, peaks and starts to go down. Because interest rates have fluctuated (much lower now), we are dealing with a different market and past history may not hold true.

"If it does, we are three quarters of the way to peak. We haven't peaked yet," Anulewicz said.

there. It's better than a gas station. The traffic is not as bad as you think. In Plymouth, you can walk to everything. I like to walk downtown and not be tied to a car. The Wilcox home has deteriorated. I would like to see the home fixed up but that is not going to happen.

Cathy Murphy said, "It's a fine building, but should be put someplace else. Plymouth is a colonial-type town. The new building does not fit. It would damage the image of our town. Plymouth has been unique. We can find sixstory condos in Romulus, Inkster or Birmingham. Preventing having a Burger King is not a reason to have this here. I would like to see the existing Wilcox building improved."

Roland Armstrong said he was "very impressed" with the proposed development. "I've been a neighbor of Jack's and never thought he would do it. It outweighs the problems."

Jan Jepson spoke in opposition to the development. "My concern is that, in an architectural sense, it doesn't fit in our community. I cannot doubt Wil-cox's sincerity. I like to think of Plymouth as a colonial, small town. This is not small. This would be the tallest building in town. It would be very large and detract from Kellogg Park and detract from the integrity of the area, the low buildings.

"We have an opportunity to look at this development and see if it is taking us in the direction of Birmingham, Southfield or Lafayette Park. I don't want to live in condo city. I want single-family homes, not be assaulted with a massive condo that clashes," said Jepson.

A MAN IN the audience said the Mayflower Hotel "was not a small building, either." Another said he would have had a "different image" of Plymouth when he first moved in, had the Wilcox condos been there then.

Gerald Zabatini asked, "Do you plan to take down the Wilcox House and move it, or just destroy it?"

Meneghini said the developers were willing to give the house, which was built in 1901, to whomever would move it off the site. "That is the preferable option," he said.

Planning Commission Chairman William Leonard said the house did not meet the criteria for an historical building.

"I have donated the house to the city several times," said Wilcox.

David Pugh, a former Plymouth mayor, said the city had looked at the piece of land several times. "I congratulate Jack," said Pugh.

"The development says 'stop' to encroaching businesses. It provides a buffer, protects the residential area behind it. As a former mayor, I had problems with kids hanging out in the park. But the 44 new families would be a plus to the area. The condos might not solve the problem, but the additional people in the streets would be a good influence on the problem of the park," said Pugh. "I supported the Arbor Health Building. It vastly improved that corner." Pugh said the development would add to the city's tax base. "It would relieve the general fund, relieve taxpayers.'

John Thomas said he found "nothing objectionable" about the proposed development. "I'm pleased with it. We should encourage high-density, though not commercial, use. Mike Clark said, "It's a beautiful building but I'm concerned with traffic and parking. West pointed out that two spaces per unit were required. That would be 88 spaces while the developers plan to provide 96 spaces.

A man in the audience said Plymouth was a "diverse" community and not a "colonial" community. A woman said the condo "looks nice but not in that spot.'

Condo site plan gets approval

WEST SAID the site is zoned B2, central business district, but the developers had applied for a Planned Unit Development (PUD) designation of RM2.

This multifamily residential building is a good transition to the area's single-family homes," said West. "The city is working with the architect. We recommend approval."

Commissioner Ronald Loiselle moved for approval of the development and site plan. David Schaff supported the motion.

Commissioner Sue Anne Eberline called the project "an asset."

"I'm jealous I did not get the job. I commend the architect. He has fitted it in rather well," said Schaff, who is an architect in Plymouth.

He said Kellogg Park with the Wilcox condos could work, if New York City with its Central Park together with high rises can work. "This project would put a stop to commercial development."

Opple said he "had a problem" with the "scale" of the building. "Can't it be cut down to a four-story building?" "We need this number of stories to support the cost," said Meneghini. "We could have put on two more stories and still be within legal limits. But we felt it would be pushing it. It is essentially balanced: as low as it can go economically and as high as it can go aesthetically.

The condominum site plan calls for a building 70 feet high. West said the Village Green apartments in the area are 40 feet high and the Mayflower Hotel is 46 feet high.

THE FIREFIGHTING ladder can reach a height of 100 feet.

Green said he had "some discomfort" with the eight-foot privacy wall around the building. Meneghini said a wall was necessary to insure the privacy of the groundlevel residents but he could work with the city to explore the possibility of ironwork or a structure that fell within residential standards.

"I'm afraid that if we pass something so vague as this we won't have the powers to change it," said Green.

Meneghini said he would work with the city administration to keep the project within city standards.

the county's public works department completes an audit of its sewage system, he said.

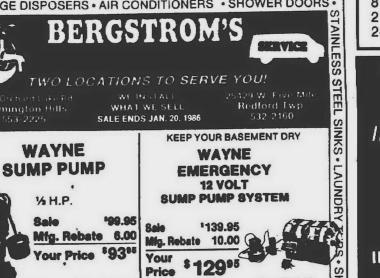

Wholesale water rates are based on 11 variables which include average daily use, peak use, distance from treatment plants and elevations of the system, said William Carney, financial manager for the Detroit Water and Sewerage Dept.

County Young "publicans" will meet beginning 7 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 16, at O'Sheehan's Bar in Northville. The Young Republicans are a group of men and women between the ages of 18 and 40 who share a common social and political interest - and you don't have to be Irish. If you are young, like good conversation and want to have an affect on the community, members are extending invitations to join the group Jan. 16. For more information, call 455-2413.

LEADING ROTARY: The Rotary Club of Plymouth, founded in 1924, has announced its officers for 1986: Donald Morgan, president; Gerald Farrell, vice president; Charles Olson, secretary; John F. Vos III, treasurer. Morgan, born in Detroit, attended Ohio Wesleyan and Case-Western Reserve universities and earned his law degree in 1965 from University of Michigan. With law degree in hand he joined the firm now known as Kerr, Russell & Webber where he is one of the senior partners. He and wife Judy moved to Plymouth in 1967. He is a past Plymouth Township Attorney, is a ruling elder of the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth, chairman of the Wayne County 2nd District Republican Party, and twice elected a member of the State Bar of Michigan Representative Assembly. His two children, Wendy and Donny, attend Green Hills School in Ann Arbor and West Middle School in Plymouth respectively.

Schools named after outstanding educators

During the decade from 1966 to 1976 Plymouth-Canton Community Schools 'named schools in honor of eight local residents.

BA(P)

They were: Nancy Tanger, Gertrude Fiegel, Russell Isbister, Dorothy Miller, Ruth Eriksson, Mildred Field, and the Hulsings, Kenneth and Esther. This was in continuance of a policy, established in 1949, of naming elementary schools after outstanding teachers, administrators or board members.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL No. 7 on Five Mile Road was named in honor of Nancy E. Tanger.

The board vote in August 1966 cited her long, distinguished record of service both as a teacher and as an elementary school principal in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools. Mrs. Tanger, who retired in June 1961, had served the system for 34 years. Tanger school opened in 1967.

Mrs. Tanger began to teach here in 1927. She taught 6th grade at the old Central School, and was principal at Starkweather, Central and Bird schools. She was principal in the 1950s when Bird School instituted an outdoor camping program which was conducted annually until 1980.

Elementary School No. 8 on Joy Road was named in honor of Gertrude K. Fiegel in October 1967. Miss Fiegel had taught in the school system for 36 years. It was her annual practice to take her government and history classes to New York where they attended sessions of the United Nations. Flegel School was completed in October 1968.

PIONEER MIDDLE School was the name given to Middle School No. 3 in April 1968.

The name was chosen because it was the first school building planned specifically for the middle school philosophy. The school was dedicated in May 1969. At a board meeting in April 1968, on a motion made by Jack Moehle and seconded by JoAnn Hulce, the board named the school property at the corner of Canton Center and Joy Roads -Plymouth Community Centennial Educational Park." (More in a future column about Educational Park, and how the two high schools built there happened to be called Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton.) It was in April 1968 that Elementary School No. 9 on Canton Center Road was named in honor of Russell L. Isbister. Isbister was the highly respected superintendent of the Plymouth-Canton school system from 1951 to 1967.

Among the founders of Schoolcraft College, Isbister also was a prime mover in the establishment of Plymouth Educational Park. He was president of the Michigan Association of School Administrators and of the Wayne County School Administrators Association. He died in 1968 at age 60.

INCREASING POPULATION in Canton caused the board to built the next four elementary schools in Canton Township, where Gallimore School had opened in 1956 and Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools opened in 1970 and 1972.

Elementary School No. 10 on Hanford in Canton Township was named in honor of Dorothy Miller on May 11, 1970. Miss Miller taught first grade at the Bird School beginning in the early 1950s. Miller School was dedicated in May 1973.

Kenneth and Esther Hulsing, both of whom had served on the school board, were honored when Elementary School No. 11 on Fleet Street in Canton was named after them in July 1972.

Kenneth L. Hulsing, who was an engineering executive at General Motors, served on the board for six years (1947-1953) and was its president part of that time. Mrs. Hulsing, who has been Clerk of Plymouth Township since 1978, was a member of the school board for 18 years (1954-72) and its president for six years.

Ruth Eriksson, who came here in 1929, retired in April 1971. Elementary School No. 12 on Haggerty in Canton was named after her in January 1976. Miss Eriksson taught 6th grade at old Central School and was later principal of Smith Elementary School. She died in October 1979. Mildred E. Field, who had taught 40 years in this community and others when she retired as principal of Starkweather School in February 1972,

A new mailbox would do just fine.

Hello Santa:

Hoping that you are rested after that long and tiring trip down here because I want to tell you that I need your help. I am in trouble.

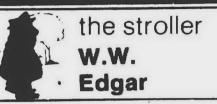

I need a new mail box.

My old one was ruined during the Christmas holidays by folks, some of whom claimed they were your agents, stuffing all manner of things into the box that had served me so well. Finally, it broke down. It not only pried itself loose from the official platform it was on, but the entire thing collapsed.

And nothing gets a fellow more upset than to try to take his mail out of the box and have it slip out of his hands and into the snow. Many were the mornings when trying to dig the mail out of the snow I used all sorts off profanity. I know that is wrong. But it was some sort of relief. Now Christmas has come and gone and I still don't know if I get all the mail or greeting cards sent by friends.

So you see, Santa, I need a new box. And need it badly.

Will you please look around to see if you have one that would solve my problems during your next trip. You see, it has gotten to be a habit with folks who just come along and stuff the box with all the manner of things. Even the merchants now have taken the trouble to send their advertising along with the mail. And what trouble that can be.

ONE COLD morning I really became disturbed. One of the large merchant stores had a magazine-type publicity prepared, especially for the mail boxes. That was fine except that my mail box had 14 copies and they pushed most of the other envelopes out to the edge, and then into the ground.

That was bad enough. But then came the weekend when the papers are stuck was the next to be honored. Elementary School No. 13 on Haggerty in Canton was named after her in January 1976.

BY 1976, six of the Plymouth-Canton district's schools had been located in the City of Plymouth - that is Allen, Bird, Smith, Starkweather, Central Middle and East Middle.

Six were located in Plymouth Township — Farrand, Fiegel, Isbister, Tanger, Pioneer and West Middle.

Seven were placed in Canton Township - Eriksson, Field, Gallimore, Hulsing, Miller, Plymouth Canton High School and Plymouth Salem High As each of the new schools opened there was the inevitable shifting of students from one school to another. At the March 1976 meeting one concerned parent asked board members to consider the psychological effect on children who might already have had three changes of school. The result is restlessness, the parent declared, asking for more consistency in education.

It was a sign of the times. With an increasingly mobile society, school boards throughout the country were, no doubt, having to cope with similar problems.

he messages and that was trouble again.

So please will you look around your premises up there and see if you can find a large box suitable to hold a lot of mail. I need it so badly.

I won't need the post to hold it. The weight of the mail this year didn't forge it down. I can use it again. But please get me a large one.

It may seem early to be writing you a letter asking for a special gift in your bag when you don't visit til next December. But Santa, I want to be on time and give you a chance to look around.

I don't care what shape the box is in - round or otherwise. But please bring me a new box. It isn't fair to spoil a fellow's Christmas by making him pick up his mail out of the snow or have messages from friends blurred to the point where they can't be read. That isnot fair to both parties.

You always have been good in the past. So, please see what you can do this time

We need a good substantial mail box.

into the mail box. This week, the paper weighed three pounds and was in two sections. In trying to get it out of the box the sections separated and I spent the next few minutes pawing in the snow. I was not alone in complaining for the next week the paper came in two sections. And would you believe it, one of the big sections was stuck in the mail box on Saturday.

That could have been some relief had it not been Christmas season. But with that amount of material in the mail box. there is little room for greeting cards. "Relax with food! Relax in the kitchen! You're not performing neurosurgery, are you? If your souffle falls, the universe won't spin off its axis," advises Chef Steven Mark Weiss.

"Culinary silliness" is the trademark of this author, food consultant and chef, who mixes his metaphors with a razorsharp sense of humor to make a serious point: preparing and eating food can be delirious fun for the at-home chef.

"It's time," says the Arizonabased food expert, "to get back to the basics. For close to two decades, Americans have toyed with mousses, radicchio salads and pimiento garnishes to achieve culinary sophistication."

"We've explored the cuisines of the world and have been exposed to good food. We want the best of everything. But now there's a gourmet backlash, and the elaborate showiness is coming to an end." predicts Steve. "Today." he notes, "the height of sophistication is not worrying about how complicated food is but simply enjoying it. Food is one of the most pleasurable activities of everyday life. It's a source of comfort and joy," says Steve.

This Culinary Institute of America graduate has come to the rescue of gourmet-weary cooks with a number of fun and frivolous desserts. So, put on an "I Love Lucy" face and a pair of overalls and get down to a little silliness.

dessert — for grown-ups and for kids," according to Steve. It's one of those quick and easy culinary "giggles" that the whole family can enjoy. This eye-catching treat features a cookie dough crust spread with a mixture of instant pudding and whipped topping. Half of the pizza is topped with fresh fruit for Mom or Dad; the other half, with tempting morsels like chocolate chips, nuts and miniature marshmallows for kids.

Another dessert that takes the wrinkle out of a fretted brow is a ready-made croissant filled with instant pudding and coated with a delicious homemade glaze. If that doesn't tickle your fancy, Chocolate-Dipped Frozen Sandwiches certainly will. One version will please kids' palates with a chocolate flavor pudding and peanut butter filling, while the minty variation provides a more sophisticated taste. Once the cookie sandwiches are frozen, dip them in an easy chocolate sauce, then sprinkle them with nuts. Put them back into the freezer for an anytime snack or dessert.

"We all grew up on peanut butter and jelly sandwiches," laughs Steve. So he created this nostalgic dessert version which he calls Pudding-Jelly Cake-Wiches. You'll find them even more yummy than the children's lunchbox standby.

Take Pudding Pizza."Pudding Pizza?" you ask. "Why not?" counters Steve. "It's a colorful and highly imaginative Pudding Pizza is Chef Steven Mark Weiss's idea of culinary silliness.

Pudding Pizza

- 1 package (17 oz.) refrigerated sugar cookie dough
- 1 package (4-serving size) vanilla or French
- vanilla flavor instant pudding and pie filling 1-1/4 cups cold milk
 - 1 cup thawed frozen whipped topping
 - 2 cups (about) fresh fruit (sliced strawberries, halved seedless green grapes, blueberries)*
 - 2 tablespoons (about) melted currant jelly

*Or use 1/2 cup miniature marshmallows, 1/4 cup chopped pecans and 1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate flavored chips; omit jelly.

Cut cookie dough into 1–4-inch slices. Place on ungreased 12-inch pizza pan and press evenly on bottom and sides. Bake at 350° for 15 minutes or until golden brown. Cool; then chill.

Prepare pudding mix as directed on package for pudding, reducing milk to 1-1/4 cups. Let stand 5 minutes; then fold in whipped topping. Shortly before serving, spread pudding mixture evenly over crust. Arrange fruits on top and brush lightly with jelly. Chill. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

For Two-Way Pudding Pizza, arrange fruits on half and sprinkle marshmallows, nuts and chips on other half.

Note: Before arranging cookie slices, pizza pan may be sprayed with non-stick oil to prevent sticking.

Chocolate-Dipped Frozen Sandwiches

- 1 cup cold milk
- 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
- I package (4-serving size) vanilla or chocolate flavor instant pudding and pie filling
- I cup thawed frozen whipped topping
- 24 large plain cookies (chocolate wafers or graham crackers)
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
- 1/3 cup milk
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup finely chopped walnuts

Add milk gradually to peanut butter in deep narrowbottom bowl, blending until smooth. Add pudding mix. Beat slowly at lowest speed of electric mixer until well blended, about 2 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes. Fold in whipped topping. Spread filling 1/2 inch thick on 12 of the cookies. Top with remaining cookies, pressing lightly and smoothing edges with spatula. Freeze until firm, about 3 hours.

Meanwhile, heat chocolate with milk in saucepan over low heat, stirring until chocolate is melted. Add sugar and stir until completely dissolved. Remove from heat. Add vanilla. Cool; then chill. Dip frozen sandwiches about halfway into chocolate mixture; then sprinkle generously with nuts. Store in freezer. Makes 2 dozen.

Minty Frozen Sandwiches: Prepare Chocolate-Dipped Frozen Sandwiches as directed, substituting pistachio flavor instant pudding and pie filling for vanilla flavor and adding 1/4 teaspoon peppermint extract.

Mocha Mousse Croissants

- 1 tablespoon instant quality coffee
- 1-1/4 cups cold milk
 - 1 package (4-serving size) chocolate flavor instant pudding and pie filling
 - 1 cup thawed frozen whipped topping
 - 6 frozen croissants, thawed

Dissolve instant coffee in milk. Add pudding mix and prepare as directed on package. Fold in whipped topping and chill. Shortly before serving, split croissants horizontally and heat on ungreased baking sheet at 325° for about 10 minutes. Cool and fill with pudding mixture, allowing about 1/3 cup for each. Garnish with additional whipped topping and chocolate curls, if desired. Store any leftovers in refrigerator. Makes 6 servings.

For almond topping, combine 2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine, 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar and 1 tablespoon light cream or half and half. Stir in 1/2 cup slivered almonds. Prepare Mocha Mousse Croissants as directed, spreading nut mixture evenly over tops of croissants before heating.

Pudding-Jelly Cake-Wiches

- 1-1/4 cups cold milk
- 1/2 cup peanut butter
- 1 package (4-serving size) vanilla or butterscotch flavor instant pudding and pie filling
- 1 pound cake
- 1/2 cup currant or strawberry jelly

Gradually blend milk into peanut butter in deep narrow-bottom bowl. Add, pudding mix and beat as directed on package. Chill. Shortly before serving, cut pound cake into 16 slices. For each cakewich, spread one side of 2 cake slices thinly with jelly and fill with 1/4 cup pudding mixture. Chill; cut into halves diagonally. Makes 8 servings.

Chef Steve Weiss recommends a little culinary silliness to cure the seriousness that afflicts so many cooks. "Serve one of these light-hearted desserts," he advises, "and your next meal will be a lot more fun."

What this means is that a majority of Americans who enjoy eating pizza have finally been officially recognized. Who 'invented' pizza?

While early history indicates the Greeks and Etruscans each created a dough crust similar to pizza - and even topped or stuffed the dough with various ingredients - it is certainly the Italians with which pizza is most closely identified. (Today, Americans eat more pizza than the Italians.) The first pizzeria in the United States appeared in New York City in 1905. However, the food didn't really come into its own here until after World War II. American GIs, serving in Europe, discovered the joys of pizza and brought it back with them upon returning to the states.

SOME OF the early popularity of pizza is attributed to three celebrities: Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Jackie Gleason.

Sinatra and Gleason became such fans of pizza early on that they heralded the food whenever possible. (Gleason often mentioned pizza on his TV shows.)

One of Martin's most popular songs, "That's Amore," included the line, "When the moon hits your eye like a big pizza pie, that's amore.'

Thanks to the song and the efforts of the three celebrities, pizza sales

WHO SERVES up more pizza each week in restaurants than anyone else? This honor goes to Pizza Hut which has more than 4,800 restaurants in all 50 states and 32 foreign countries.

Pizza Hut'is the nation's largest user of mozzarella cheese. What's more, these restaurants use more than 200 million pounds of flour, 190 million pounds of tomatoes, and 20 million pounds of soybean oil each year. (And, it takes about 9.700 hogs and almost 1,900 cattle daily to supply the pork and beef needs of the chain.)

The term "Saturday night special" might well refer to pizza. More pizza is consumed in America on Saturday night than any other night of the week.

WHAT ARE America's favorite pizza toppings?

The number one pizza topping is pepperoni. Pork and beef rank second and third respectively.

As far as the most unpopular topping, that choice seems universal - it's anchovies

Ole Burritos — party perfect

Cooking time: 2 hours 45 minutes

What do all the following foods have in common, besides being Mexican dishes: tacos, tostadas, enchiladas, chimichangas, burritos and chile rellenos? They all make party-perfect entrees for your next informal gathering.

A burrito, or meat-filled flour tortilla sandwich, is an excellent example of a tasty and unique Mexican entree. It is prepared with a shredded pork filling which may require an un-familiar cooking technique. However, the results are worth the extra time and effort Shredded is a popular Mexican cooking method for meat. It's really quite easy to prepare pork for shredding. First, braise a boneless pork roast, such as the shoulder blade (Boston) roast, with onion and garlic. When the pork is tender, remove it from the cooking utensil and place the cooked roast on a clean cutting board. Using two forks, separate the meat into thin strips. Then the shredded pork is cooked with additional seasonings such as tomato sauce, chopped green chilies, vinegar, chili powder, oregano and cumin.

Burritos lend themselves to parties because the guests can assemble them at the table. The basic pork filling is wrapped in warm flour tortillas. Guests can add any combination of toppings. A few suggestions include shredded lettuce, grated radishes, salsa and sour cream.

PARTY PORK BURRITO

Preparation time: 45 minutes

3 lb. boneless pork shoulder blade (Boston) roast 1 large onion, quartered 2 cloves garlic, cut in half 1 tsp. salt Water 1 can (16 oz.) tomato sauce 1 can (4 oz.) chopped green chilles 2 Tbsp. white vinegar

1 Tbsp. chili powder 2 tsp. dried oregano leaves 1 tsp. ground cumin Large flour tortillas, warmed

Toppings: shredded lettuce, grated radishes, salsa, sour cream, if desired.

Cut pork shoulder roast into 3 to 4 pieces. Place pork, onion, garlic and salt in Dutch oven. Add 1/2 inch water to pan; cover tightly and cook slowly 2 hours or until pork is tender. Let cool slightly in juices. Meanwhile combine tomato sauce, chilies, vinegar, chili powder, oregano and cumin in large saucepan. Cook slowly 10 minutes. Remove pork from pan and discard juices. Shred pork with two forks. Combine shredded pork with sauce and heat 4 to 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Spoon 1/2 cup of pork filling into center of each tortilla. Add toppings, if desired. Fold bottom side of tortilla over filling. Fold each side of tortilla toward center over filling overlapping each side to form pocket. Repeat with remaining ingredients. Serve immediately. Yield: 8 to 9 burritos.

Family and friends can serve themselves with Party Pork Burritos topped with shredded lettuce, grated radianes and salsa.

School⁰is real Mickey Mouse to Plymouth college student

By Dennis Coffman staff writer

Gillian Lyon of Plymouth has been taking some Mickey Mouse courses with some Goofy people while attending Central Michigan University.

Lyon, 19, the daughter of Ken and Lynn Lyon, did her studying in Walt Disney World, Orlando, Fla., from Sept. 15 to Jan. 4, as part of the college's work-study program.

She worked in the Coral Isle restaurant in the Polynesian Village, a resort area where tourists stay while visiting Disney World and Epcot Center.

Lyon, who is majoring in hotel-res-taurant management at CMU, worked as a bartender (mixologist), hostess, cashier and stock girl.

"I like to work with people," she said. "The idea sounded interesting, so I took off one semester. I received 10 college credits."

SHE WAS paid a small salary and lived in Snow White Village, a mobile home park. She was transported by van to and from the restaurant. The lodging and transportation expenses were deducted from her pay.

"There were people from all over working there," said Lyon. "Some of the Europeans work a year at Epcot. I was meeting people from all over the country.

"It's not that much money, but it was a great experience," said Lyon. "There was one other girl from CMU."

Lyon was interviewed by Disney World college relations representatives on the CMU campus.

"There are 20,000 employees at Disney World. College students are needed to fill the empty spaces," said Lyon. "This benefits them as well as us." One of the important fringe benefits of working at Disney World is the chance to go on all the rides and visit the displays and be entertained for free, as a "casual temporary," as Lyon was called.

SHE ALSO received discounts of 20 percent on purchases and ate at the restaurant for free.

She was trained by the Disney staff. They taught us how to smile and approach the guests. The customers were called guests. We were called cast members. Our uniform was a costume. It was like playing a part. The whole atmosphere is one of entertaining people," said Lyon.

"There's so much to learn about Disney World. They're building a movie studio and the Floridian Hotel and there are housing projects.

Christmas is the really busy season, but then it slows down considerably," said Lyon.

Most of the guests were friendly, she said, but like all public contact jobs, "some of them can get on your nerves." Her costume consisted of a long dress graced by large, bright-colored flowers.

"I was only an hour from the beach. I went on a one-day cruise and went sky-diving," she said. "I wanted to try to get into the Christmas Parade.

"Epcot is neat, with all the different countries," she said.

"I had been there before, two or three times."

SHE SAID she is losing her tan and getting readjusted to Michigan weather, which was in the balmy 30s on Friday.

"The Florida weather was great until the beginning of December, and then it got really cold. My blood has thinned out so much," she said.

Lyon is glad to be back at college, where she is a member of Sigma Kappa Sorority, so she can finish work toward her bachelor's degree in hotel-restaurant management. "I want to concentrate on the hotel aspect and take some languages," she said.

Lyon, who has put herself through college by working, maintains a 3.0 grade point average. She got interested in management and dealing with the public while she was working at the Cozy Cafe in Plymouth.

"I think I'd like to go back to Disney Word for a week or so," she said. "But first I have to get through college."

"IT'S ALSO intended to protect from further injuries," said Tai. "We want to make it possible for these people to continue to participate in activities. We want to show what contributes to back problems."

Contributing causes of backaches are physical labor performed in the wrong manner, the wrong kind of shoes or clothing, bad posture and overexertion.

"There are a lot of absentees in the workplace due to back problems," said Tai. "A lot of companies, and their insurers, are sending employees to take classes such as this."

Janet Luce, executive director of the Plymouth Community YMCA, said the back exercise class is one of the new courses added to its expanding "Health Enhancement" area.

Booklet offers tips on insomnia

The Food and Drug Administration is offering a free reprint called "Insom-nia" to help those who have a hard time falling to sleep.

To receive a copy, write to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 564L, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

According to the FDA, millions of Americans buy over-the-counter and prescription drugs to help restore normal sleep habits. But increasing public-ity about the widespread and haphazard use of sleep aids has heightened interest in alternative approaches.

TO TREAT insomnia:

First, have a complete physical exam to rule out all possible medical problems. If there is no physical connection or cause for your sleeplessness, examine your lifestyle for clues. Could it be that you often overuse caffeine or other stimulants? Nicotine is a stimulant, so heavy smoking could be a cause

Do you have irregular times for going to bed and getting up, or do you take daytime naps? Do you avoid ex-ercise? Do you tend to overuse alcohol? Another factor that would make insomnia worse is the fear that you won't be able to sle

Baylor's Briggs balks at suspension

1986 Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

By Brad Emons staff writer

Baylor University star guard Carlos Briggs claims he was a scapegoat and said he was dismissed from the basketball squad last week without proper justification by first-year coach Gene Iba.

Briggs. who led the nation in scoring two years ago at Schoolcraft College in Livonia. was kicked off the team prior to practice Jan. 7 along with fellow senior co-captain B.J. Mitchell.

Friday morning, Iba declined to give the Observer a reason for the dismissal, stating: "It stays as an internal matter, and it will not be discussed."

The Waco (Texas) Herald-Tribune, however, reported last week that Iba dismissed the pair "for disciplinary reasons." A wire service report went on to say that Briggs and Mitchell were removed from the squad for missing practices.

But sources in and around the Baylor basketball program say that Briggs and Mitchell were excused from the practices. On Dec. 26, Briggs — a Detroit Benedictine High School product — along with six other Baylor players, were suspended for various periods of time by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), stemming from alleged recruiting violations last year.

BRIGGS AND MITCHELL were serving nine-game suspensions by the NCAA and would not have been able to play until Saturday, Feb. 1, in a Southwest Conference game against Texas A&M. (Eight regular season games remain after that date.)

Two other players, sophomore center Darryl Middleton (the team's leading scorer) and Eric Johnson, younger brother of former Baylor All-American and Detroit Piston Vinnie Johnson, have been suspended for the year pending an appeal that was scheduled Saturday before an NCAA review panel in New Orleans. The two allegedly accepted free plane tickets home. (Three other Baylor players have since been reinstated.)

Briggs, who averaged 12 points per game this year and finished second last year in the Southwest Conference in scoring (20.4 points per game), said he can't understand why he and Mitchell were dismissed.

"Coach Iba said that since we were suspended anyway, that practice was optional until Sunday (Jan. 5)," Briggs said. "There wasn't any practice that Sunday. So then we came back on Monday. B.J. (Mitchell) and I didn't practice; we just stood and watched.

"COACH IBA CALLED us into his office before practice on Tuesday and said we were missing nine games anyway and the season is pretty much lost, so why don't you quit. B.J. and I told him we weren't going to tell the public that.

"Coach Iba said: 'Then we're going to have to terminate you both from the squad.' He said we didn't show enough support to the team."

At Baylor's Dec. 30 home game against Texas-San Antonio, Briggs was asked by Iba to sit in the stands instead of on the bench because it "'wouldn't look good to the NCAA'" Briggs said look good to the NCAA,' Briggs said. On Jan. 8, Briggs and Mitchell met with University President Dr. Herbert Reynolds and athletic director Bill Menefee to discuss the matter.

"They told us there was nothing they could do and that it was coach Iba's decision, but they said our scholarships were still good and that we could finish school," Briggs said.

Prior to the season, Briggs was suspended three days from practice by Iba for lack of intensity.

The Waco Herald-Tribune reported that Briggs and Iba got into an agrument, which Briggs and other Baylor players said never took place. Briggs, however, returned to the team and came off the bench to score 14 points in leading the Bears to a season-opening win at Oral Roberts. A fifth-year senior, Briggs regained his starting job by the fourth-game, but played only three minutes in an 84-61 loss to Vanderbilt.

At the Drake Classic Dec. 13-14, Briggs was named to the All-Tournament team, scoring a total of 35 points.

BUT A WEEK LATER in the Tennessee Volunteer Classic, Briggs played 18 minutes, scoring eight points in a loss to UNC-Wilmington. The next night he did not play at all in a fourpoint win over Furman.

After the Furman game, Iba was quoted as saying, "He (Briggs) hasn't had a good practice in three weeks."

One Baylor player, who asked not to be identified, said that when Briggs came back after his initial three-day suspension, "He was like a new man.

"Carlos busted his butt in practice, and I don't know why the coaches kept bugging him," said the Baylor player. "And he (Iba) told us (the seven suspended players) that we didn't have to come back to practice until Sunday (Jan. 5). They just keep messing with Mitchell said of Iba, "He had it in for Carlos and me.

"He (Iba) is not always telling truth," Mitchell said. "He's just trying to cover himself."

Promoters may have billed it as the battle for the basement in the Western Lakes Western Division.

When it was over, though, the game clearly showed a pair of teams heading in opposite directions.

Plymouth Canton, with a potent combination of scrappy defense and opportunistic offense, pummeled winless Livonia Franklin Friday night, 65-33.

It was Canton's second impressive outing in a row (the Chiefs tipped John Glenn Tuesday) after losing its first five games of the season.

"We played good basketball earlier in the year but we couldn't hit our shots," said Canton coach Tom Niemi. "We practiced hard on our shooting and now the kids are putting it up with more confidence. The Christmas break really helped."

"Our defense has been strong all year," Niemi said. "It was just that our offense didn't finish the plays. We're getting much better play out of our post players now. We're rotating them, keeping them fresh — I think that helps."

Roger Trice played a strong game for the Chiefs scoring 12 points and pulling down six rebounds.

Falcons stop Salem in OT

Farmington High scored its biggest basketball win in years Friday night, a 67-63 overtime win over Plymouth Salem in a key Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) encounter.

The win tightened up the Lakes Division race in the WLAA. Salem leads with a 4-1 record, while Farmington increased its mark to 3-2.

Steve Howell, grabbing a missed shot by teammate Tony Racka, sent the game into overtime with a fall-away jumper at the buzzer.

The Falcons then scored the first four points of overtime on a field goal by Howell followed by a pair of Bruce Kratt free throws and never looked back.

Kratt, a senior guard, led the Falcons and all scorers with 23 points. Kyle Mutz and Howell finished 19 and 12, respectively.

Junior center Mike Hale led Salem with 19 points and 14 rebounds. Four other Rocks scored in double figures — Tom D'Angelo (11), Paul Makara (10) and Bryan Kearis (10).

"We played man-to-man almost the entire game," said Farmington coach Rich Roy. "But what won the game for us was free throw shooting."

The Falcons hit 17 of 26 free throws, while Salem made 9 of 20.

"We had a chance to lock up the game at the end of regulation, but we missed some key free throws," said Salem coach Bob Brodie, whose team committed 20 turnovers. "But Farmington came out hungry and didn't quit for four quarters. They were stubborn and we couldn't put them away." Both teams are now 5-2 overall.

PLY. CHRISTIAN 60, LIGGETT 42: Plymouth Christian (5-0) remained unbeaten Friday with a easy win over Grosse Pointe University-Liggett.

The Eagles broke the game open with a 29-11 surge in the final period.

Pat McCarthy paced the winners with a game-high 23 points. Rob Windle added 15 points, six steals and seven rebounds. Meanwhile, Jim McCarthy added 11 rebounds.

Liggett was led by Keith Haggarty, who pumped in 15. Kevin Darby added 14.

Huff out, Rocks tumble at Harrison; Chiefs fall

By Chris McCosky staff writer

:N

It's true: What goes around, comes around.

Last year, during the Farmington Harrison-Plymouth Salem gymnastics meet, fortune smiled on the Rocks. Harrison's top gymnast, Lauri Runk, was injured and Salem won by one point.

Fortune smiled on Harrison this year. Salem's top gymnast, Jackie Huff, was injured (broken foot) and Harrison won by 1.40 points - 119.85-118.45 Wednesday night.

"I really felt had for Jackie," said Harrison coach Linda Perkins. "I know how she feels; I remember when Lauri got hurt last year. But, it's the nature of the sport, I guess. Salem still had the power to win even without Jackie. They could have done it."

Harrison pulled ahead early in meet taking a 32.1-27.75 advantage after vault. But Salem kept chipping away.

"I thought we were in big trouble going into the floor exercise," Perkins said. "I knew we'd be giving up three points. We didn't have the depth on the floor."

Tana Burningham made sure Harrison held onto its lead. The sophomore turned in a first-place 8.4 performance to clinch the victory.

Burningham also placed first in the vault (8.65) and uneven parallel bars (8.5). She took second on the balance beam (8.45).

Tracy Solomon also had a productive night for the Hawks. She placed second on vault (8.35), second on bars (7.8), tied for second on floor (8.25) and fifth on beam (7.45).

Jody Solomon scored all-around for the Hawks, as well. She placed in a tie for fourth on vault (7.6), fourth on bars (7.35), third on beam (8.2) and tied for fifth on floor (7.25).

For Salem, Beth Rafail won beam with an impressive 8.65. She took third on vault (7.8), fifth on bars (6.85) and fourth on floor (8.0).

Becky Talbot also contributed mightily. She tied for fourth on vault with Jody Solomon and teammate Sue Lally (7.6), third on bars (7.5), fourth on beam (7.95) and tied for second with Tracy Solomon on floor (8.25).

Harrison is now 3-0 on the season Salem is 1-1.

PLYMOUTH CANTON had the misfortune of opening its season against the area's best team, North Farmington, Wednesday night. Final score: North 124.4, Canton 113.6.

But Canton coach John Cunningham wasn't discouraged.

"I refer to us as an iceberg team: you can barely see how good we are," the successful coach said. "We're real young. We're basically a sophomore team. But my sophomores are good. Come see us at the end of the year. You'll be impressed."

For now, though, let the praise go the North. Led by Eileen Murtaugh and Lucine Toroyan, the Raiders appear poised to tackle its minth straight Western Lakes title.

Each of the two All-Area performers won two events. Murtaugh won the vault (8.65) and floor exercise (8.65). Toroyan won the bars (7.8) and beam (8.2).

Murtaugh also placed second on bars (7.7) and second on beam (7.9). Toroyan placed third on vault (8.0) and second on floor (8.4).

, Kara Karhu, another All-Area standout, placed second on vault (8.45), fourth on bars (7.3), tied for third on beam (7.65) and third on floor (8.35).

Canton, saddled with a rash of injuries, was paced by sophomore Darcy Gignac. She placed fifth on vault (7.85), third on bars (7.5), tied for third with Karhu on beam (7.65) and fourth on floor (7.85).

North is 2-1 on the season.

FARMINGTON won't put Wednesday's season-opening meet against Walled Lake Western in its highlight film, but it'll take it.

"It's just great to say we're undefeated," said Falcon coach Mary Beth Schornhorst.

The Falcons beat Western 94.3-92.85. Freshman Jackie Daly led the way. She won on vault (8.6), beam (7.7) and floor (7.8), and placed second on bars (8.8).

Pam Goodhue placed third on vault (6.45), third on bars (5.85) and fourth on floor (6.55).

Michelle Wiesmeth placed third on floor (6.9). Jennifer Cunningham took fifth on bars (4.95) and Laura DeAngelis placed fourth on beam (5.15).

Canton track coaches resign

By Chris McCosky staff writer

2C(P.C)

Bob Richardson and Mike Spitz, girls and boys track and field coaches at Plymouth Canton High School, have resigned.

Spitz had been coaching at Canton since 1976, Richardson since 1979.

"It was just time for a change," said Richardson, who guided the Chief girls to a second-place finish in the Western Lakes last year and earned Observerland Coach of the Year honors.

"My child is 8 months old now, and I'm enjoying this so much I can't see coming home at 6 p.m. every night and being gone every Saturday. I want to take a break for a while. I hope to get back into coaching some day."

Spitz's case is different. He has taken a new job with the People's Community Hospital Authority which will presumably conflict with track practices and meets.

"I STILL want to stay as involved with the team as I can," he said. "I just don't know what all will be involved with my new job. I know for certain that I won't be the head coach. But I would like to keep working with the team in some way.

Both Richardson and Spitz have made relative successes out of their programs.

Richardson came to Canton in 1979 after a five-year coaching stint at Kal-amazoo's Paw Paw High School. After a fair season in 1979, Canton went through a three-year rebuilding phase - the team won just four dual meets during that stretch. From 1983 through last year, the team posted winning records. Canton was 12-6 the past two seasons.

"We got progressively better," he said. "The goal I always had was to get a lot of kids out for the team and keep them involved."

The team roster listed 50 or more athletes in each of the last three years. Richardson also helped coach football and basketball at Canton.

SPITZ CAME to Canton in 1976 as the varsity cross country coach. He took over the track job in 1977. Like Richardson, Spitz's teams struggled in the early years, then improved steadily each year. His teams have posted winning records since the first three sea-SONS

"I've really enjoyed coaching," Rich-ardson said. "I'll miss it, don't think I won't.'

Athletic Director Paul Cummings has advertised the job openings outside the Centennial Educational Park Community School District.

Coaches sought

There are a host of coaching vacancies at both Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem high schools, according to athletic director Paul Cummings.

Plymouth Canton is in need of a varsity boys track coach and a varsity girls track coach.

The school also needs an assistant softball coach and five assistant football coaches. Plymouth Salem is seeking four assistant football coaches. Men and women interested in any of the positions should contact Cummings at Canton High School, 8415 Canton Center Road, Canton 48187.

Rocks keep hex on Chiefs in pool

In an age where unpredictability is chic and inconsistency runs rampant, it's comforting to know there is such a thing as certainty. It is certain, for example, that the Plymouth Salem boys swim team will beat Plymouth Canton. It happened Thursday night. Salem outpointed its neighbors 107-64.

The Rocks have never lost to the Chiefs.

"We take a lot of pride in that," said Salem coach Chuck Olson.

Olson tossed 40 different swimmers at the Chiefs and came away with nine firsts in the 11 events.

KEVIN ZAROW was the top point producer for Salem. He won both the 50-yard freestyle (23.3) and the 100 freestyle (51.9). He also anchored the victorious 200 medley relay, teaming with Don Harwood, Rick Cummings and Tony Atwell on a 1:48.0. Other Salem winners were Jeff Anderson in the 200 freestyle (1:56.7), Jeff Taylor in the 200 individual medley (2:18.6), Atwell in the 100 butterfly (58.2), Harwood in the 100 backstroke (1:01.2) and Gary Gackenbach in the 100 breaststroke (1:10.7).

Salem (1-1) also captured the 400 free relay with Atwell, Phil Bocketti, Mike Gibbons and Cummings swimming a 3:36.2.

Canton got a first from standout diver Andy Flower, who amassed 252.2 points, and Steve Schwinn in the 500 free (5:22.9).

CEP spikers off to slow start

North Farmington got its Western Lakes season started on a strong note Wednesday, besting Plymouth Canton 15-8, 15-2.

"Fundamentally, we were so strong," said North coach Sandy Lubieniecki. "We passed with a 98 percent efficiency and that's pretty good this early. We're coming along."

The Raiders controlled the match with strong serves. Diana Ritchei was a perfect 20-for-20 from the service corner. She nailed the first 12 serves for points in game two.

Nancy Cothran was a plus in every phase of the game for the Raiders, especially along the front row. Sandy Spahn also had a productive match at the net.

Lubieniecki said she was pleasantly surprised with the play of her two talented sophomores, Suzi Butcher and Stephanie Knapp. "They hit the ball extremely well," she said.

The Raiders are 3-1. Canton is 0-1.

PLYMOUTH SALEM coach Betty Smith has noticed that her team has developed a very disturbing habit.

"Typical Salem volleyball," the second-year coach said after Walled Lake Western beat her team in a tight two-setter, 15-12, 16-14. "At the end of a game we just sit there and let the other team catch up and win. Getting that last point has been tough.

The Rocks saw the second game slip away after taking a 14-13 lead.

Lisa Madis, setting and back row play, was the standout player for Salem (1-2). Leanne Becker, Kelli Theard, Maggie Meissner and Denice Tackett also contributed.

LIVONIA STEVENSON, for all the doubters, appears again to be the dominant team in Observerland. Check this out:

lot better than I thought they would be. I should have known better. I think that by the end of this season they will be a better team than they were last year.'

coach Ron Shortt after his team - predicted to be among the area's best - lost in two sets to Stevenson Wednesday.

Led by the power hitting of junior Kristine Bailey and sophomore Sue Zatorski, Stevenson bopped Harrison 15-7, 15-11.

"They scramble so well," Shortt said of the Spartans. "We could not put the ball down against them. We played some awfully long points and they won just about every one. That can get demoralizing after a while.

"And when they set up and get the ball to Kristine - she can really pound the ball. She is an awfully good player. I thought Lisa Bokovoy (former Spartan standout) was about the best I'd seen, but I think Kristine is better right now than Lisa was in her junior year."

Ex-Schoolcraft star Briggs cries foul over suspension

Mitchell said he was suspended by the NCAA for getting a ride to and from school last year by then assistant coach Larry Hargett. Mitchell was also penalized because a Baylor coach made too many recruiting visits to his home. Briggs said he was suspended for accepting plane fare home.

THE NCAA INVESTIGATIONS started last February when the University launched an in-house probe into alleged recruiting violations. In wake of the allegations, coach Jim Haller was fired.

Iba was immediately hired after spending eight years at Houston Baptist, where he built a 128-96 record that included three straight 20-win seasons and one NCAA bid. He came to Baylor stressing discipline, tough defense and ball control. Iba is the nephew of former Oklahoma A&M and legendary U.S. Olympic basketball star Hank Iba.

players told him that missing practices wasn't the real reason for Briggs' and Mitchell's dismissal.

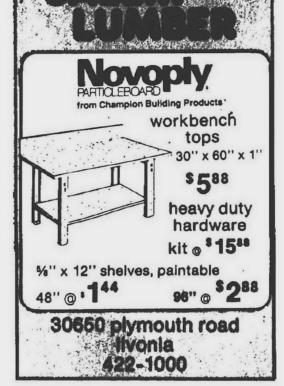

"That's a lie, and the players all know it," said the former high school coach. "Iba is a new guy and I think he just wanted to get rid of the seniors and keep his own kids. Carlos is well-spoken and streetwise. He's the type who won't accept the party line. He posed as a threat.

"(He) Iba seems to have the Napoleon complex. He tends to sound like an egomaniac who is impressed with his family background. He could build a winning team in the future, but he won't have any happy players.

"But he's legitimate in his beliefs whether it's productive or not. And the school officials are supportive about them staying and getting a degree."

New Yorker Rock Eisenberg, Eric Johnson's for mer coach at John Jay High, flew into Waco last week on behalf of Vinnie Johnson to discuss the NCAA suspensions with Iba and Baylor athletic officials.

"I went down there to let them know that these kids shouldn't be penalized for something that hap-pened last year," he said. "I'm concerned about Eric and all of them for that matter.

Eisenberg said he has spoken with attorneys in New York on Johnson's behalf.

"We've looked into the possibility of a preliminary injunction order (to get the players reinstated) or an irreparable harm suit," Eisenberg said.

Eisenberg added the Briggs-Mitchell affair is tragic. He attended a practice session and met several Baylor players during his two-day stay. The Briggs, who hoped to have impressed NBA scouts with a good senior season, said he is uncertain about his future. His mother, Betty, living in Detroit, has urged him to continue his schooling.

"Basketball was his life, and they ruined his career," she said. "But I hope he stays down there and finishes up."

Mrs. Briggs said that she has never received a call from Iba about her son's dismissal.

"He (Iba) called me once when Carlos was suspended before the season, and I met him briefly in the lobby of the hotel (Dec. 21 at the Tennessee tournament) - that's it," she said. "I haven't heard from him since.

Dennis Quald is Davidge, a space pilot marconed on a planet with a non-human Drac, in "Enemy Mine."

'Enemy Mine' pits earthman vs. Drac for wild adventure

It was probably inevitable: The movies have featured 50-foot apes, dinosaurs of every sort, rockets, disembodied spirits, ghosts in the closet and bats in the belfry, to say nothing of vampires all over the place.

Now, here comes "My Friend, the Iguana," only it's called "Ene-my Mine" (PG-13) and it's a pretty entertaining space opera with our hero, Davidge (Dennis Quaid), the heroic fighter pilot crashinglanding on the barren, inhospitable planet, Fyrine IV.

Space opera may be the wrong term, although that's how the film opens. It soon concentrates on the plight of two enemy fighter pilots who shot each other down and are now marooned on a hostile planet.

Davidge the Earthling must survive not only the alien planet but his enemy, Jeriba Shigan (Louis Gossett Jr.), the Drac from, where else, Dracon EARTHLINGS AND Dracons, in this scheme of things, have been fighting each other endlessly for control of space, with draconian measures, no doubt.

Jeriba faces the same problems Davidge does: an antagonistic enemy and an alien planet. Their biggest problem, however, is hatred of one another and what it does to them.

The film's main charm is that relationship, as Davidge and Jeriba become brothers. What makes it all so difficult - besides of course, that their star systems are sworn enemies - is the fact that Davidge is an earthling (one of our kind) and Jeriba is a reptilian Reptilian Dracs are some sort of asexual hermaphrodites (sorry, I flunked biology), and after considerable time and strain, Jeriba dies in the Draconian equivalent of childbirth.

By this time, he and Davidge have become fast friends. There's nothing like survival in the wilderness to teach a little humility. Even iguanas can be humble. The best parts of the film are the very small, closed scenes as their relationship develops.

NATURALLY, WE NEED a few monsters and storms to force them together and those are acceptably well-done, but the relationship between the two is what's really worthwhile to see.

Gossett's reptilian makeup, which took two or three hours a day to put on, includes some effective latex masks.

The chauvinism in the film is pretty thick. Those of us who like the Hollywood product are used to that, however. When two enemies begin to cooperate, out of necessity they have to learn each other's language. If you want to be fair, why didn't the Earthling learn Draconian first? After all, with sub-titles Draconians can learn English, and it wouldn't have been too long before the script segued into English. The project gets awfully hokey at the end when Jeriba's offspring is captured and enslaved by renegade miners led by the vicious Stubbs (Brion James), who has a mining ship working Fyrine IV. These miners routinely enslave Dracs for their work force. How is never explained. If all those Dracs were flying around in fancy rockets, Stubbs must have been pretty tough. I suppose he could have raided some colony. In any event, Lou Gossett is black, even though it doesn't show under the iguana makeup, so the equation is quickly made that Stubbs (white) is enslaving Dracs (blacks) and the good white, Davidge, will save them from slavery. I suppose it's OK, but it is a bit much. Still and all, it's technically well done. Although some of the scenery looks like painted back-drops, it does have the proper "alien," surrealistic quality, and the closing fight scenes, though conventional, are fine.

Ticklish business What's new in comedy shows

By Kathleen Moran staff writer

That comedy can be a fickle business hasn't discouraged two optimists from banking on laughs in the New Year.

Mark Ridley, a stalwart who is in his seventh year in the comedy biz, opened in his "sixth and last" location a few months ago on the Woodward corridor. The Comedy Castle is now settled into the former site of the Spaghetti Company, on Woodward at Catalpa (111/2 Mile)

And on Friday, the Comedy Crossing opened downstairs in the Red Cedars restaurant, on the northwest corner of Telegraph and Nine Mile in Southfield.

While both are after customers who want a refreshing evening of humor, the Castle and Crossing are offering different ways to it. Billed as a "new concept in comedy spots," the Comedy Crossing presents two familiar funnymen - Bob Posch and Ron Coden alternating throughout the year. The "comic of the month" appears Fridays and Saturdays, with shows scheduled at 8 and 11 p.m.

The Comedy Castle, on the other hand, continues bringing in a new maior entertainer each week from Tuesday through Saturday, as well as re-taining its Monday amateur night.

RIDLEY, WHO has pioneered the comedy business in this area, thinks there's room for both types of shows in this market. "Both Ron and Bob have a loyal following," he said. "They're going for a little different crowd, a more established crowd.

"I like to keep it fresh," Ridley said of his constantly changing schedule. "These are people that you see on TV - the 'Tonight Show,' 'Late Night With David Letterman' . .

Ridley said he has entertainers booked through September. Tom Sharp, who has appeared on "TV's Bloopers and Practical Jokes," opened the New Year, followed the next week by Marty Pollio. This week it's Paul Kelly, then Paula Toundstone who has been on "Saturday Night Live" and Marty Kohen who was a regular on "Solid Gold.'

Posch and Coden have worked the Detroit market since the early 1960s and have loyal fans who Jack Freed, owner of the Red Cedars, expects will follow them to the Cedars. Posch opened the show Friday and will perform until Feb. 1. Then Coden takes the stage from Feb. 7 until March 1. Occasionally, the two may surprise the audience with a joint show.

Freed caught the comedy fever from Ridley, after working together one year while the Comedy Castle was lo-cated in the Cedars. "Mark runs a great show," he said. After Ridley bought his own restaurant, Freed decided he'd like to try comedy too - but from a different standpoint.

HE BELIEVES his setting is ideal for a comedy show (seating for 175 in a half-circle) and the entertainers are the best in the Detroit market. "They are the only two we considered," he said. "Only if they would come into it, and come into it wholeheartedly with their names on the marquee, would we have done it.'

"I think Bob and Ron have been tested by time," he added. "They have been appearing in the area for a long time and have become more effective as time has gone by. And their material is always changing."

Posch likes the idea that only drinks are being served during the show, food is reserved for the upstairs restaurant. Ridley has found that works best, too. He has a dining room which seats 92, apart from the showroom which seats 300 and a bar area which seats 140. The restaurant also is open for lunch.

After the Comedy Crossing format settles in, Freed said he may try an amateur night. For Ridley, that's a regular Monday night attraction, one he calls "the good, the bad and the ugly."

The talented amateurs are invited back as opening acts. "I like to think of

Hecker Pass is worth visiting

Tired of winter plodding on? If so, you might consider a journey to California to romp in the sun and vineyards at this time of year. It is now remarkably free of tourist clutter, winemakers are free to talk with you and, above all, there is no snow.

There is a remarkable region for you to visit, for two reasons. The first is that during the summer it is so hot in the area no one should go there. The second is that it represents, even today, a picture of the California wine scene that existed two decades and more ago and is essentially no more except here: uncluttered by visitors, a bit primitive and wholly unspoiled by the glamor that has overtaken the industry in the last several years.

This is the Hecker Pass region, a veteran area of country wine activity. Located along Highway 152 between Gilroy and Watsonville (two towns designed to destroy immediately the mystique of California), it is on an easy alternate route to the usual one traveled between San Francisco and the Monterey Penninsula.

Donald's, all the civilities) and you pick up 152 to the west. Into the land of the prickly pear and the Hecker Pass wineries.

This is essentially Italian wine country, the land of rough and ready Zinfandel and curious blends to produce "Burgundy" wines. Most of the original founders of this region were of Italian descent, those that went south from San Francisco rather than north to Sonoma nearly a century ago. First along the route is the A. Conrotto Winery, which until recently sold only "Burgundy" in huge bottles and by the case out the back door. I recall paving $5 fo our liters a few s value. However, the winery now acknowledges the tourist trade, even has a sign in front and is open at predictable hours. Next is Live Oaks, off a dirt path encumbered with goats, chickens and other barnyard essences. The tasting room (open at 8 a.m) is at best rustic. But these are genial people. You will be genuinely welcomed. The winery's literature calls this "a picturesque spot."

Next is Summerhill Vineyards (formerly the Bertero Winery, to you old-timers) located in a quite modern facility, the only poor wine producers in the area. Avoid.

GO ON to the Thomas Kruse Winery, the "non-Italian eccentric" of the region. Always experimenting (sparkling White Zinfandel more than a decade ago and maker of a Thompson Seedless wine), Kruse has made some fine wines at times. Then there are others not so fine.

The final two wineries, Fortino and Hecker Pass, are family-related, the latter a spin-off from the former some 10 years ago. Both produce very respectable red wines and are proud of their traditions as country wine producers, deservedly so.

The trick is to stay on Highway 101 when leaving San Francisco, ignoring the obvious big-city high-way, 17. Continue below San Jose, go through Coyote (another geographical beauty) and you will see the products of more truck farm operations than you thought possible.
