EXTRA MILER: At its last meeting, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education presented the "Extra Miler" award to learning specialist Kio Phillippi. In making the presentation, board secretary David Artley described her as "a teacher extraordinaire." Phillippi, who presently teaches at Hulsing Elementary, has taught at Allen, Eriksson, Isbister and Starkweather elementary and at Our Lady of Good Counsel. Artley said she is "one of the few teachers to receive the Arts Council award every year since its inception. She knows herself and knows what she stands for." He called her a "shining testimonial of educational excellence."

OLYMPIANS: Plymouth-Canton had three participants in the Wayne County Special Olympics held Friday at Wayne Civic Arena. They are Jennifer Tamas, Julie Abraham, and Tony Witt. All three entered in the preliminary and freestyle skating events. The three skaters also are traveling to Sugar Loaf in the Traverse City area Feb. 4-7 to participate in the State Winter Special Olympics. Their coach, Kathy Donnelly, will accompany them. For a report on the county Special Olympics, see Page 3A of today's edition.

SCULPTURE BIDDING: If you saw an ice sculpture at the ice festival you'd like to take home with you — you can. Passage-Gayde American Legion Post 391 of Plymouth will accept bids on your ice sculpture through tomorrow. Minimum bid is $2 per sculpture. The winning bidders will be notified by phone between Wednesday and Friday, Jan. 22-24. Sculptures should be picked up from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 25, or from noon to 4 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 26, at The Gathering. All proceeds will go toward Special Olympics and increased scholarships at Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton high schools. If you need information, call the Legion's Ice-Line at 453-9494.

NEW CPAs: The following residents are now Certified Public Accountants (just in time for tax season) after completing the examination administered by the Michigan State Board of Accountancy: Douglas G. Bohrer of Brentwood, Plymouth Township, and Clayton L. Galarneau Jr. of Plymouth.

Theft, vandalism show sharp rise

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Crime increased 25 percent in Plymouth Township and 19 percent in the City of Plymouth last year, according to figures provided by local police.

The statistics include robbery, burglary, auto theft, criminal sexual conduct, arson and all categories of assault, larceny and malicious destruction of property.

Larceny and vandalism accounted for the bulk of the increase in both the township and city.

LAST YEAR, in the township:

• 642 larcenies were reported compared to 458 in 1984. Larceny is theft without force to person or property.

• 362 reports of vandalism were filed compared to 228 the previous year.

• 67 assaults — felony, misdemeanor and simple — were reported compared to 85 in 1984.

In the city last year:

• 341 larcenies were reported compared to 255 in 1984.

• 157 reports of vandalism were filed compared to 130 last year.

• 57 assaults were reported compared to 45 in 1984.

Reported auto thefts increased from 27 to 28 in the city, but fell from 93 to 84 in the township.

Reported burglaries dropped in the township — from 181 in 1984 to 153 last year — and the city — from 187 to 178.

The number of reported robberies, arsons and sexual attacks was relatively small in both the city and township each of the last two years.

"PROPERTY CRIME is the number-one problem in Plymouth. Violent crime doesn't seem to be too much of a problem," Myers said.

He declined to speculate on reasons for increases and decreases within individual categories of crime without analysis of long-term trends and community demographics.

"There are so many variables involved to account for one reason," Myers said. "One could argue that MDOP is more a crime people do for kicks or just a general lack of respect for property."

Larceny, he added, has been attributed to such diverse causes as need during bad economic times to supporting a drug habit.

"With a lack of statistical information, I don't want to get into why it happens," Myers said.

Plymouth Township Police Chief Carl Berry echoed similar sentiments.

"We have crime, obviously, but we don't have serious assaultive crimes," he said.

Berry said many larcenies involved radar detectors from cars and vandalism was boosted by a couple of car-window shooting sprees during the year. Plymouth police were much busier in traffic enforcement activities last year than in 1984, Myers said.

In 1985, officers issued 410 tickets for misdemeanors ranging from reckless driving to no insurance, 1,458 violations for other moving violations and 2,440 parking tickets within the city limits.

COMPARABLE figures for 1984 were 163, 878 and 26, respectively.

Myers attributed the stepped-up enforcement effort in great part to the ability of Plymouth officers to patrol exclusively within the city limits after Plymouth Township established its own police department last July.

Also, a parking meter enforcement officer working out of the treasurer's office was previously responsible for monitoring parking violations, freeing officers for other duties.

"I'm really pleased about increased traffic enforcement," Myers said. "I hope we can keep up the pace."

Township police also were active in traffic enforcement. Berry said his officers handed out 6,018 tickets for moving and parking violations during a six-month period last July through December.

"People in the township wanted neighborhood patrol and traffic enforcement," Berry said of a 1984 survey. "We're providing service the people wanted."

Both Berry and Myers agree it isn't valid to compare crime statistics for communities that differ in so many areas as the city and township. Also, both conceded that statistics are based only on reported crime.

Emission stations claim most cars pass first test

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Vehicle emissions testing has been going smoothly, according to local testing centers, with few complaints even among those motorists whose cars fail the tests.

Auto exhaust testing (AET) began in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties Jan. 1 as a requirement for purchasing license plates or tabs. Testing programs now are in operation in more than half the states.

Plymouth and Canton residents can select from 11 auto repair shops, tire stores, new and used car dealers, and gasoline stations for their tests.

At the AET station, a probe is placed inside the vehicle's tail pipe while the engine is idling.

The probe is connected to an analyzer that measures the amount of pollution-causing emissions in the exhaust.

THE ANALYZER gives an immediate computer printout of the test results.

If the vehicle passes the test, the owner will be given two copies of a certificate of compliance — one for his records and the other to be turned into the secretary of state when license plates need to be renewed.

If a vehicle is fully warmed up, the test should require about 15 minutes, according to the Auto Exhaust Testing Division of the Bureau of Regulation, Michigan Department of State.

But Tina Pyzik, a sales representative for Belle Tire, 433 W. Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township, advised motorists to allow about a half-hour for the testing.

"We've been surprised at the number of last-minute people who come in and then are surprised when they fail," said Pyzik.

"There have been no problems because the machines are accurate and government controlled. But what is really surprising is that our mechanics have told me that the older cars seem to do better than the newer ones.

"The 1982, 1983 and 1984 cars sometimes have trouble, while the older cars pass with flying colors."

SHE ESTIMATED that Belle Tire handles about 10 auto tests a day.

Pyzik said that, despite an avalanche of publicity, there still are some residents who don't know they need the test to get their plates.

"We have tried, by putting up signs way back last fall," she said.

The maximum amount an owner can be charged is $10. But Belle Tire has been offering a coupon special on emissions testing — $5.95.

At Belle, no appointment is necessary. "It's first-come, first-served," said Pyzik.

The pass-fail ratio is about 50-50 at Belle. But other testing stations have indicated the ratio is closer to 75-80 percent passing.

Mel's Auto Clinic, 46460 Ford in Canton, reported that 75-80 percent pass the test. The clinic handles 10-15 tests a day.

Diamond Auto Sales, 1250 S. Main, Plymouth, reported that roughly 75 percent pass.

If a motorist is unable to get his vehicle inspected or repaired before his license plate expires, he can buy a 14-day permit that extends the plate expiration at any secretary of state office.

BUT FAILURE of the emission test is not the end of the world.

"Don't panic," advises a pamphlet published by the Bureau of Regulation. "Often a simple repair such as adjusting the ignition timing or replacing the air filter is all that's needed. You do not have to have your vehicle repaired at the same place you had it tested."

On the other hand, you can have it repaired at the test site if repairs are offered there.

There is a $63 limit on the amount that needs to be spent for repairs.

Vehicles that do not have to be tested include those sold as new in the last 12 months; those more than nine years old; diesel or electric-powered vehicles; vehicles with a gross vehicle weight of 8,500 pounds or more, motorcycles and mopeds; and vehicles owned by people receiving Medicaid or general assistance.

OTHER PLYMOUTH and Canton test stations with analyzers are as follows:

- Ford and Haggerty Shell, 5640 Haggerty, Canton.
- Evenson's Shell Service, 1490 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth.
- Bob Jeannotte Pontiac, 14949 Sheldon, Plymouth.
- Lou LaRiche Chevrolet, 40875 Plymouth Road, Plymouth.
- Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury, 40601 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth.
- March Tire Co., 767 S. Main, Plymouth.
- Precision Tune, 725 W. Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth.
- Blackwell Ford, 41001 Plymouth Road, Plymouth Township.

Crime can be curbed—police

By Doug Funke
staff writer

The best weapon in the crime prevention arsenal, police agree, is something money can't buy.

Your time.

"Citizen involvement, probably more than anything else, is going to curb crime," said Carl Berry, Plymouth Township police chief. "Police departments can't curb crime themselves. They have to have citizens involved."

"The burden is definitely on the citizen," said Plymouth Police Chief Richard Myers. "I think any police department which wants to take credit for making a significant dent alone is misleading."

Specific precautions can be taken to decrease the odds of being victimized, but all the advice in the world won't mean a thing unless you're moved to action.

Call police immediately if something seems suspicious or out of place. Don't ruminate. Don't telephone a relative or friend to discuss the possibility that something is remiss. Call the police, now.

"PEOPLE STILL wait a long time to call police after something happens," Myers said. "You can have the most sophisticated call implementing system in the world, but if a person doesn't call police immediately, it doesn't matter."

Berry said his years of law enforcement experience have taught him that intuition usually hits the mark. "Rarely is a citizen wrong, especially in their own neighborhoods."

But you have to call immediately.

Police have high regard for active neighborhood watch programs where persons are trained how to look out for each other. Township (453-3869) and city (453-8600) police will help organize such programs. Just call for an appointment.

Both police agencies will conduct free home and business security inspections. That service, too, is only a phone call away.

It costs very little money, also, to lower your odds of becoming a crime victim. Simple things can and do make a difference.

"I used to work nights and you'd be amazed at the number of people who leave their garage door up. That's an open invitation," said Officer Robert Scoggins of the Plymouth police.

"LIGHTS TEND to be a great crime prevention tool," he added.

When the weather gets nicer, consider taking walks through the neighborhood. That provides the opportunity to observe what belongs where and the chance for some exercise. Spend some time on the front porch.

Get to know the children in the neighborhood for their protection and yours. Police sometimes find that kids are responsible for vandalism and burglaries right in their neighborhoods.

Put things away. Don't leave your bike on the front lawn overnight. Get the car in the garage, if at all possible, or at least in the driveway. Lock it.

Disguise or remove radar detectors when you leave the car. Better yet, get rid of the detectors. They're a high theft item and not really necessary if you intend to obey traffic laws.

Don't leave valuables or large amounts of money around the house. If you do, at least don't put them under a mattress or in a dresser drawer. Consider renting a safety deposit box. The annual fee is usually tax deductible.

Trusted prisoner drives off in truck

A Detroit man who escaped from the Western Wayne Correctional Facility (WWCF) in Plymouth Township last Thursday afternoon was one of only a handful of inmates there who was trusted with a minimum security classification, the warden said.

Elmer L. Tankersley, 24, was discovered missing shortly after 1 p.m. when he failed to return a small dump truck to the prison garage after plowing snow near the administrative offices.

As of Friday afternoon, Tankersley still was at large, said Detective Sgt. Robert Silva of the Michigan State Police. The truck was subsequently recovered at I-96 and I-275.

"He was outside of the secured area of the facility when he took off," said Emmett Baylor Jr., WWCF warden. "He was removing snow. He's been doing this for several weeks. I don't know why he picked this time to run."

Tankersley had been serving time for armed robbery and was soon due to appear before the parole board, Baylor said.

"I DON'T understand it," the warden continued. "He was given that type of classification (minimum security), he was trusted and it looks good for the parole board. With parole, he could have been out of here in April, maybe March."

"His nose was clean to the point where he was entrusted with an institutional driver's license and trusted to drive an institutional vehicle," Baylor said.

"I think it was spontaneous," the warden said. "He had no idea he was going to be given the truck for work that day."

Baylor said police agencies near relatives of Tankersley have been notified of his flight because escapees often return to familiar stopping grounds.

Tankersley is described as white, 6-foot-9, 160 pounds, with brown hair, brown eyes and tattoos on his right hand and arm. He was wearing blue prison clothing when last seen at WWCF.

Tankersley isn't believed to be armed or dangerous, Baylor said.

Of the 400 prisoners at WWCF, only about 10 have minimum security status, the warden said.

SLIPPED DISC

Of all the conditions which involve the spine, the so-called "slipped disc" is probably the most misunderstood. Typically it is the vertebrae rather than the disc which has actually slipped. When this happens, a spinal nerve opening between two adjacent vertebrae can close up, and cause acute pain, numbness, and even loss of function of that part of the body served by the involved nerve.

Special athletes go for the gold

"Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt."
—Special Olympics motto

Some of the 300 mentally impaired athletes walked away with medals in the last week's Wayne County Special Olympics winter games at the Wayne Community Center. But as the organization promises, "No time is too slow; no distance too small to earn a handshake, a hug or a pat on the back."

And there was plenty of congratulating going on last Friday in the Wayne Community Center, according to Richard Clark, public relations chairman for Wayne County Special Olympics.

Mentally impaired athletes from throughout western Wayne County and downriver gathered to take part in the winter games. Events included speed and figure skating, snowshoe races, broom ball (similar to hockey and played with brooms), cross country skiing and snow sculpturing. Downhill skiing and tobogganing were canceled because of the warm temperatures.

ATHLETES ranging in age from 8 to 50 took part in the events. Civitans are primary sponsors of Wayne County Special Olympics. Civitan clubs from Wayne-Westland, Livonia, Plymouth-Canton, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights and Southgate provided volunteers for last Friday's games. They were joined last week by volunteers from the Wayne and Garden City Kiwanis Clubs. Judy Reynolds of Dearborn Public Schools coordinated the winter games which draws athletes from area group homes and associations for retarded citizens and school special education programs.

Clark, a member and former past-president of the board of directors of Michigan Special Olympics, said the events give mentally impaired athletes an opportunity to learn about winning, losing and competing. Clark believes the chance to socialize with others is "as important, if not more important, than the sporting events."

An attorney and a member of the Wayne Civitans, Clark called the Special Olympics his hobby.

"It's just an awful lot of fun to see the smiles and enjoy the hand shakes and hugs. No matter how cold it gets out there putting on and taking off snowshoes, it's all worthwhile," said Clark.

Upcoming events sponsored by Wayne County Special Olympics include:

• Feb. 1 basketball tournament at Thurston High School in Redford Township.

• March 7-8 bowling tournament at the Superbowl in Canton Township.

• April 19 gymnastics, walking and weightlifting competition at Wayne Memorial High School.

• April 25 track, field and swimming at Wayne Memorial.

Michigan Special Olympics provides year-round training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic sports. The program aims to give mentally impaired athletes confidence through success-oriented experiences in sports.

Pigeon plan reflects values

To the editor:
I have followed with interest your articles concerning the intention of the City of Plymouth to poison some of its pigeon population.
As a preface I wish to state that I personally know several of the leaders involved and have high regard for each. This decision is not unique, nor does it reflect an evil intent. As you pointed out in an earlier article, a poisoning program was conducted a couple of years ago on the Plymouth Canton High School site. This action is all too ordinary, accepted and routine.

The point that I wish to make is that the manner in which we deal with this community problem makes a distinct statement concerning our moral values. Specifically, the value that we place on life itself and upon the sensitivities of that minority within our community who are repulsed by this action.
Paul Sincock is quoted in the Observer (Jan. 16, 1986) as stating that the program will be low profile. "It will happen, we'll have it cleaned up and that's that." This statement apparently also was expressed during the Commission meetings during which the program was discussed.

I find the above to be a very interesting statement. Does it reflect the belief that should the citizens be confronted with the reality of the killing program that they would be repulsed and demand its termination. Is the intent to discourage the development of a meaningful opposition? To manipulate once more public opinion?
Killing is killing, whether done secretly or out in the open. Perhaps, it would be healthy for this program to be conducted during the busy hours of the day in order that we can all be forced to confront the result of our actions. With no attempt to be dramatic, I simply note the interesting paraphrase to the gas chambers of Nazi Germany. Where does one draw the line concerning the use of power over those beings under our control. The issue here is not a few birds but rather the statement that we make about the moral base of this community.

Nor is the argument persuasive that very few people have voiced opposition regarding this action. The proponent of this position misses the fundamental essence of our social system. We recognize that every one of us is a "minority" most of the time. It is the minority view that represents the heart and soul of our political system. We have such high regard for the rights of the minority that we have incorporated those rights into our governmental systems, both state and national. It is enough that a few people realize pleasure from these pigeons.

I suggest that those with the power at this moment in time exercise that power with due regard to the sensitivities of those opposed to the Commission's proposed action.
The issue to be confronted is not the killing of some birds, though this life is very precious, but rather the manner in which we as a human community resolve the perceived problem. Is our image to be that of a loving, caring community? Is this such a decision that speaks more concerning our moral values than all the words spoken in our churches and published in your paper?

There is not a situation of great public peril presented by this pigeon problem. I suggest that the program be indefinitely delayed, that a sincere effort be made to involve a truly representative committee from both the city and the township to re-examine the alleged problem and, if confirmed to genuinely exist, to seek a more appropriate resolution than extermination by poison.

SPEAKING OF the ice festival (a.k.a. Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular) . . . the Botsford Inn in Farmington Hills this year is celebrating its 150th anniversary. John Anhut, the innkeeper, is a longtime friend of Ralph Lorenz of the Mayflower Hotel. And so to congratulate Anhut on Botsford's sesquicentennial year, the Lorenz family commissioned Chicago ice sculptor James Nadeau to carve a stagecoach and coachman as a gift. The sculpture was finished and awaiting guests for a major party that evening at the Botsford which once was a stagecoach stop between Detroit and Lansing. Nadeau, of course, was in Plymouth for the ice festival and took a few hours off for the gift to the Botsford Inn.

TV TRAINING: The program department of Omnicom Cablevision will be offering its Port-A-Pack and Editing Workshop to residents of Plymouth, Canton, Northville and Belleville. The workshop will cover how to operate a portable video camera, composition of shots, basic producing skills, and editing. Participants will be required to produce a 2-5 minute vignette. Classes will meet one night per week for six weeks. The first classes will be 6:30-8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 19, or 7-9 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 20. There is a $10 fee which will be refunded if you attend all six classes and finish the class project. Advance registration is required; class size is limited. To sign up call Maria Holmes at 459-7335.

TOY RECORD: For the past seven years now Mel Bobcean of Mel's Golden Razor in Plymouth has spearheaded a toy collection for needy children at Christmas time. This year a record was reached with 5,000 toys being turned in to Mel's. Mel thanks all those who donated toys and Cloverdale Dairy which donated all the boxes the toys were packed in. "Your generosity won't be forgotten by me or the kids we help."

Plymouth Theatre Guild marks 40th year

Effie Kuisel, a charter member of the Plymouth Theatre Guild, recalls the time the Guild presented "Mr. Barry's Etchings," directed by William Merrill. A women member of the cast had a miscarriage and couldn't appear on the opening night.

Merrill explained the situation to the audience, then read the part from the script. The understanding audience readily accepted the substitution. Later, Effie heard a young girl who had been in the audience say: "I like best the little man who walk-d around reading from the book."

On the following night the part was played by the late Ruth Barney who made a quick study of the part and did an excellent job. That was in 1954, eight years after the Guild was formed.

In 1986, the Plymouth Theatre Guild marks the 40th anniversary of its existence. Effie, the only one of the original group who still is a member, recalls how it started.

Ralph Johnson, who was director of the city recreation department, announced that all who were interested in starting a theater group should meet in the small gym of the high school (now Central Middle School). That was in February 1946.

"I went to the meeting along with Maude Laurie, Dorothy Fisher, Stewart Dodge, Marvin Terry, Emily Mosher, Charlotte Winterhalter, Sherry Gaffield, Rose and Edgar Brown, Adele Miller, C.V. Sparks, and Doris Buzard."

During the remainder of 1946 and through the following year the group organized, made plans and discussed theater. Dues were $3 a year. Meetings were held in the Veterans' Memorial Building on Main Street, later moving to the high school. A nine-member board, including five officers, were elected.

The first president, elected in 1948, was the Rev. Alex Miller of the Episcopal Church whom Effie remembers was delightful to work with. Miller was followed as president by Adele Miller who served three terms. Effie, who became recording secretary, was president of the Guild in 1952 and again in 1963.

Effie acted in the first play, presented to an audience of Guild members only. Directed by Maude Laury, it was staged on October 1948, at the auditorium in the school. A one-acter called "The Group Photograph," it was Effie's first acting experience since high school when she appeared in plays in her native Wisconsin.

The Kuisels moved to Plymouth in 1936. Effie's husband, Harold, now retired, worked for the Bell system for 43 years. Effie worked for the telephone company and later for National Bank of Detroit. The Kuisels have four children — Mary, Harold, Jeanne and Mary.

past and present

Sam Hudson

THE GUILD'S SECOND play, "The Last Refuge," directed by Doris Lewis, was presented on January 1949. It, too, was given to an audience of members and relatives.

The Guild's first presentation to the public was a one-act play called "Love in a Cupboard." Directed by G.A. Miller it was preceded by two humorous readings by Effie Kuisel.

During the first few years of its existence the Theatre Guild received some financial support from the state.

A record was kept of the number of hours each member spent rehearsing, acting, and doing other theatrical work for which they were paid from state funds. Effie recalls that the total per month amounted to no more than $115, but it helped to buy scripts, costumes and other needed equipment.

The Guild's first presentation of a three-act play, "John Loves Mary" in March 1950, was directed by the late Lynton Ball, a well-known local photographer. It marked the beginning of an association between the Guild and the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth which was to continue through 1957.

William Merrill, the Kiwanis Club netted $1,300 toward its building fund.

Kiwanis had been looking for a way to raise funds for a Girl Scout cabin it planned to build on Plymouth Road, opposite the Burrough's plant. The Guild needed an organization to back it and promote ticket sales. An agreement was reached by which the Kiwanis Club did the advertising, sold tickets and provided some of its members to act in plays. For this it received all of the profits except 25 cents a ticket which went to the Guild.

The arrangement benefitted both organizations. For the next eight seasons the Guild was able to present some of its most successful productions, and Kiwanis was able to raise a substantial sum toward the cost of building the Girl Scout cabin.

In 1953, for example, when the Guild staged "January Thaw," directed by

The cabin, completed in 1954, was used not only by the Girl Scout but also by crippled children of the Wayne Out County Chapter. The Kiwanis Club considered it to be one of its most worthy projects but the building was lost to the community when it was destroyed by fire in the summer of 1967.

William Merrill, from the Will-O-Way Playhouse in Birmingham, was one of two paid directors the Guild has had. (The other was Larry Johnson who directed "My Sister Eileen" in 1958). The Guild credits Merrill for much of its early success. From 1951 to 1957 he directed 11 of the group's presentations and his wife, Martha directed another.

Among the plays Merrill directed were "Dial M for Murder" (1955) and "Here Comes Mr. Jordan" (1957). (To be continued).

Characters tickle funny bone with wit

Any time you are not feeling well it might be well to follow The Stroller's custom and take a walk down Memory Lane and visit again with the folks who gave you a laugh when you were growing up.

Any time The Stroller yearns for a laugh to brighten the day he takes a stroll with the hope that he can run into Davey Eck who always was good for a laugh.

Then he recalls the day a funeral procession was passing our little lunch room. Then a chap walked up to Davey and asked, "Who is dead?"

Without any hesitation Davey answered, "The man in the first car."

And all of us within a range had a good laugh.

the stroller

W.W. Edgar

Along about the same time the Brydeen Horse Shoe Co., our town's only industry, was adding a large piece to the main building.

When he saw it, Davey walked into the lunch counter and told my mother, "They are beginning to start to commence to enlarging the Horse Shoe bigger."

You can't best that for redundancy.

THEN THERE WAS another chap who always was good for a laugh.

He was "Shorty" Moran, the little white-haired president of The Detroit Baseball Federation that held its meetings in a band hall on Detroit's east side. We never missed a meeting.

One evening when the group was in an argument, Shorty arose, banged the gravel and said: "We will have no more of this further ado. It is just a question of do you want it or don't you?" Then the meeting adjourned.

On another occasion he visited the sports department of the morning paper to seek a story in the Sunday paper for his championship baseball game.

He talked for a moment or two. Then for emphasis, he pounded his fist on the desk and said, "It will be stupendous. It might be colossal, in fact it might be mediocre."

Then came Sunday and it rained. Shorty was hurt by the weather.

ANOTHER CHAP The Stroller always likes to meet on Memory Lane is Dutch Harris, a boy from the farm who was learning the machinist trade in the cement company where The Stroller also was an apprentice.

He was sent with The Stroller as a helper. He was sent into a large tube to measure it for we were assigned to make a lid for it.

When he asked how wide it was he called back, "Two feet, a hammer handle and chip."

That answer lived with him until his machinist days were done.

So you see there are many laughs along the way.

Teen-aged jet pilot outwits the enemy in absurd adventure

Not since "Bomba Meets the Ape Woman" has such a ridiculous picture graced the local screens. But "Iron Eagle" (PG-13) takes the cake, trying to do for the U.S. image in Libyan affairs what "Rambo" did for our Vietnam tragedy.

But "Iron Eagle" is so simple-minded that it comes across like "Ozzie and Harriet Meet Colonel Qaddafi." Who knows? Perhaps audiences are ready for teen-rock-gunslinger movies when the gun's an F-16 jet fighter.

This is going to be a bitter pill so you might as well swallow fast: Col. Ted Masters, USAF (Tim Thomerson), is on a reconnaissance flight over an unnamed Middle-Eastern country that bears every resemblance to Libya.

Now it all depends on your point of view whether his mission was routine or provocative but it certainly is reminiscent of the U.S. challenge to Libya over the Gulf of Sidra a few years ago. That one turned out well for our side, unlike the current scene.

MASTERS is engaged in a dogfight by MiGs and after destroying several is himself hit. We leave the colonel hanging as the plot development gets sloppy, cutting back to the base where his family is fooling around in stereotypical sit-com banalities.

Number one son, among the hackneyed Masters' tribe, is fearless Doug (Jason Gedrick), who is preparing to follow in his father's airwaves. Somehow that involves hassling with local bullies in a showdown race between Doug and Chief Bully Knotcher (Michael Bowen). Doug's in a single-engine Cessna and Knotcher's on a Honda. Honest, motorbike-airplane races are all the thing.

If you believe all this, the rest is quite simple. We now learn that Masters ejected and was captured. Remember? He was dog-fighting the Libyan Air Force and got hit. The Libyans stage a political show trial and condemn him to death, the U.S. Air Force is prohibited from rescuing him and the State Department "negotiates."

Doug convinces retired Col. Chappy Sinclair (Louis Gossett Jr.) to help his dad. With the aid of his club, the Eagles, Doug promises Chappy he can furnish two heavily armed F-16s, an approved flight plan and in-air refueling. Don't even ask how a high-school kid learns to fly an F-16.

Ridiculous, you say? Don't be silly. Doug's friends and fellow Eagles are all "base-brats," Air Force dependents, computer whizzes and fast-talkers who easily gain access to classified codes, computer terminals, sidewinder missile stocks and flight authorizations.

THE DIALOGUE is top-notch all the way, at least the parts that can be heard. After rescuing his dad and shooting down several MiGs, Doug beams, through the beat of his Walkman, as Col. Masters exclaims, "Way to fly, Doug." The line is delivered with all the strength and fervor of a melted marshmallow.

A word about the acting: "stilted." The film is supposed to make us feel good about ourselves even though Libya is not punished for sponsoring terrorism. It is a difficult task when the actors have so little significance as human beings. Why a fine actor like Gossett participated defies explanation. He manages to survive with the minimum of embarrassment, never looking quite as foolish and unidimensional as the rest of the cast.

They claim authentic Air Force F-16s were used for the aerial sequences (where'd the MiGs come from?) and there is some nice, albeit overdone, aerial footage. But "Iron Eagle" devotes too much of its 110 minutes to dogfights visually represented by little specks zipping about the blue, intercut with radar screens that look like video arcade rejects. Boring as well as confusing.

"Rambo" is successful because it explains away our loss in Vietnam and blames some faceless, gutless bureaucrats. It also makes it look like we won. "Iron Eagle" possesses no such virtues. It is adolescent to the point of disbelief and even the most chauvinistic of us will be hard-pressed to think we're winning this one.

Melora Harlan as Doug's girlfriend, Kate, congratulates him on winning a motorcycle/airplane race.

Sebastiani jug wine is 'best'

It is always hazardous, and usually somewhat pretentious, to declare a product "the best" of its kind. It is tempting to do so with products like automobiles, stereo equipment, word processors, i.e., things that command brand loyalty.

But it is usually foolish to do so; nothing is so much better than its competition or the other products would not survive the competition of our rigorous marketplace.

And so it is with wineries and their products. There simply is no "best" one. In California and elsewhere in the United States, there are not even any classification systems as in France. There are fine wineries, some average ones and some are downright lousy.

In the face of all this, I am prepared to counter my own wisdom and nominate one winery as the best producer of a line of jug wines today. That is the Sebastiani Vineyards, makers of the 1.5-liter line of wines marketed under the name August Sebastiani.

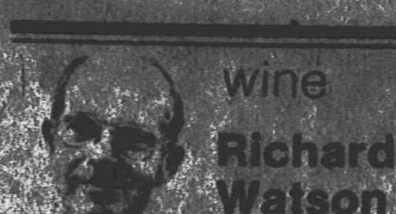

These are called "Country" wines, a throwback to the philosophical origins of the owners, and should be distinguished from their regular line of issues, now under the name of Samuel Sebastiani, sold in standard bottles and costing considerably more per unit. The first issues of these jug wines carried a 1980 vintage date and were an attempt to deplete the glut of wines Sebastiani had in its warehouse at the time. It was a bold move. Sebastiani was the first to consistently market varietal wines in jugs at modest prices.

THE ACT provided the winery with a means of emptying the vats (some fine old red wines have been included in some of the cuvees), it helped Sebastiani's cash flow, and it allowed you to drink a decent and predictable wine without ruining your wallet. The wines have sold remarkably well.

The parent winery acknowledged that it used a great deal of older wines in its red blends, wines that today do not meet the image it wishes to project. Quantities were recalled from warehouses a few years back and blended in with newer wines to produce the stuff we get today.

Although it has not said so directly, to my knowledge, this is probably the reason why the reds in this series are not vintage-dated. The white wines are, but that is a whole different viticultural matter. Presumably, when the older red wines are used up they, too, will carry dates, a sign that the older wines are no longer being used in the blends.

wine

The reds include a Pinot Noir that sometimes tends to be a bit sappy; a fruity, fresh Zinfandel and a Cabernet Sauvignon that carries some real complexity.

The wines are priced around $6 a big bottle and can be found in nearly any party store, fine wine shop and many of the supermarkets in the area. Further, they seem to be often on "special" sale, bringing the cost down another dollar. Fine value; dependable.

BUT IT WOULD not be fair to the California jug-wine market to neglect the efforts of three other producers, all of whom produce excellent bottles in about the same price range. They are, however, more restricted in their offerings, each confining itself to generic names.

Again, their hallmark is consistency of product from year to year. That is enough to expect from wines in this price category, but it is most important.

There are those wineries who abound with their inconsistency: Almaden (and Le Franc), Paul Mas, E. Glenock, Naville and Colony among them.

Quality is assured as well from Fetzer (Premium Red and White), the Christian Brothers (Premium Red, White and Rose) and Parnacci (Vintage Red and White). All are sound and are recommended for their purpose. Their scope, however, is limited.

Sebastiani's only competition in white wines is from Gallo, now vintage dating its varietals and making wines that are never less than good.

Uneven musical opens Will-O-Way

Performances of the Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre production of the musical "Once Upon a Mattress" continue at 8:30 p.m. Fridays-Saturdays and 4:30 p.m. Sundays through Feb. 1 at the theater in Birmingham. For ticket information call the box office at 644-4418.

Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre christened its new building in Birmingham with the musical comedy "Once Upon a Mattress," a mixed production saved by three crackerjack performances. Eileen Weiss is unequivocally wonderful as the bumpkin princess who proves her refinement when a "plea" under 20 mattresses discombobulates her royal sleep.

Francine Hachem as the loud-mouth queen mother and Marie Seafone as the wistful lady-in-waiting turn in excellent performances in this Broadway hit that Carol Burnett brought to TV many seasons ago.

Last spring Will-O-Way moved from the little theater on Long Lake Road that has been its home since the 1940s. The decor of the old place could be described as struggling-artist threadbare. The aura of Will-O-Way hasn't changed at the new location. The struggling-artist ambience remains, and the Will-O-Way Theatre and School for the Performing Arts still runs on heart and augments its skimpy budget with donations and grants.

At the Birmingham address, 2353 Cole Street, not far from the Birmingham Ice Arena, the decor offers no frills beyond the necessities of a stage, a curtain, and seats for the audience. The Will-O-Way staff and players make up for the scruffiness around the edges with their obvious enthusiasm.

THROUGH THE years now-great players like George C. Scott and Lilly Tomlin, plus a host of other known and still-struggling performers, have played the Will-O-Way stage on their way to the big time.

Director Celia Merrill Turner reminisces, "Will-O-Way began in Bloomfield in an old apple storage building. Now we're in a converted warehouse in Birmingham." Some things don't change.

"Mattress" is the first production at Will-O-Way's new location. Behind its opening lies a complicated story of postponements, something like playing a board game and landing on more than a fair share of spots that say "go back three spaces."

It took many months to bring the renovations up to the exacting standards of the Birmingham building inspector and the fire marshal. During those months "Mattress," scheduled to open in June, was postponed several times, forcing changes in the cast, as players returned to college or work.

Cathie Breidenbach

The reshuffling of the cast exacts its toll on the production. Some of the supporting players seem to walk through their scenes looking like new recruits. In fact, several aspects of the production have a last-minute feel to them.

THE MEDIEVAL costumes by Helen King are very good, but many haven't been altered to fit the players wearing them, and the crudely constructed set lacks polish, even taking into account Will-O-Way's obvious shoestring budget.

Enough about the scruffy edges of "Mattress." At the heart of the play is Eileen Weiss who could almost single-handedly carry the show with her Carol-Burnett-style comic mastery. She uses every detail to advantage, down to the least little burp and hiccup, and her rubber face is howlingly funny.

SPORTS SNACKS ...FOR WHEN GUESTS 'POP-IN'

AS EVERY ARMCHAIR sports enthusiast knows, one of the most important parts of getting ready to watch a football game on television is making sure the right kind of snack is on hand.

It has to be easy to reach, without taking your eyes off the screen; it has to go down quickly (in case last-minute cheers are called for before a play); and, of course, it has to be delicious.

Two snack foods that have successfully stood up to the test for many football seasons are popcorn and peanuts. These all-American taste treats are perennial favorites, no matter what the sport or season.

ALTHOUGH PURISTS may prefer their popcorn just lightly salted and their peanuts plain, both foods actually are quite versatile. Today, popcorn is used in fudge bars, salads and even ice cream sandwiches.

Peanuts are no slouch in the snack department either. Peanut-lovers are putting their favorite food into everything from granola bars to peanut-and-dried fruit trail mixes.

The next time sports fans pop in to watch a game on your television, why not surprise them with some new popcorn-and-peanut dishes of your own?

Parmesan Popcorn and Peanuts offers a spicy combination of popcorn and peanuts cooked in peanut oil and then baked with a sprinkling of garlic salt and Parmesan cheese. It's the perfect accompaniment for most any football beverage.

POPCORN LOVERS with a sweet tooth may want to try the mouth-puckering cherry Fruit-Flavored Popcorn. It's simple to prepare and gives even veteran popcorn eaters a new popcorn-eating experience.

Traditionalists will reach for the combination Caramel Popcorn and Peanuts recipe. This is a classic favorite that re-earns its reputation each time a fresh bowl is served.

The peanuts used in the dishes have to be just right, too. The Virginia-type peanuts on this page are popular with the sports crowd because of their large size and superior peanut flavor.

Try them out in the Peanut Granola recipe. This yummy and good-for-you snack can be served with milk as a cereal, be used as a topping for yogurt or just be eaten plain.

Score points with your hungry football fans with these popcorn-and-peanut snacks: (left to right) Spicy "Parmesan Popcorn and Peanuts," classic "Caramel Popcorn and Peanuts," and—the latest trend in the annals of popcorn-eating—cherry, "Fruit-Flavored Popcorn."

PARMESAN POPCORN AND PEANUTS

- 2 tablespoons peanut oil
- 1 pound roasted shelled Virginia type peanuts
- 3 quarts popped Pop Corn
- 3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Heat peanut oil in a 15 1/2" x 10 1/2" x 1" baking pan in a 350 degree oven for about 5 minutes. Remove from oven; add peanuts and stir until coated with oil. Return to oven for 5 minutes. Remove from oven, add popped popcorn; sprinkle with garlic salt and Parmesan cheese; stir to coat popcorn and peanuts. Return to oven for 5 minutes. Makes about 3 quarts.

FRUIT-FLAVORED POPCORN

- 3 quarts popped Pop Corn
- 1 package fruit-flavored unsweetened soft drink mix (makes 1 quart)
- 1 cup sugar
- 3/4 cup water

Keep popped corn warm in a 250 degree oven. Combine sugar, soft drink mix and water in a heavy saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil and cook to soft-crack stage (270 degrees on candy thermometer). Remove popcorn from oven. Pour syrup in a steady stream over popped corn; toss to mix thoroughly. Return to oven for 10 minutes. Cool and store in an airtight container. Makes about 3 quarts.

CARAMEL POPCORN AND PEANUTS

- 5 quarts popped Pop Corn
- 2 cups roasted shelled Virginia type peanuts
- 1 cup butter or margarine (1/2 pound)
- 2 cups light brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/2 cup light corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda

Place popped corn and peanuts in a large shallow 18" x 12" x 2" baking pan; keep warm in a 250 degree oven. Meanwhile, combine butter, brown sugar, corn syrup and salt in a heavy 2-quart saucepan; cook and stir until sugar dissolves. Bring to a boil and cook to firm ball stage (248 degrees on candy thermometer). Remove from heat and stir in baking soda. Remove popped corn and peanuts from oven; immediately pour a steady stream of syrup over popped corn and peanuts. Mix well. Return to oven for 45 minutes, stirring every 15 minutes. Cool and store in an airtight container. Makes about 5 quarts.

PEANUT GRANOLA

- 1/3 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 3 tablespoons honey
- 2 cups quick oats, uncooked
- 2/3 cup shredded coconut
- 3/4 cup chopped roasted shelled Virginia type peanuts
- 1/3 cup wheat germ

In a small container, stir together margarine and honey. Set aside. In a large bowl, toss together oats, coconut, peanuts and wheat germ. Pour butter-honey mixture over oats mixture and mix well. Spread mixture into a well-greased 9" x 13" baking pan. Bake in a preheated 325 degree oven for 20 minutes. Cool and store in airtight containers. Makes 1 quart.

POPCORN PIZZAZZ

The good news about popcorn is it's good for you and non-fattening. Popcorn contains protein and vitamin B<sub>1</sub>. Plain popcorn, hot-air popped, has only 25 calories a cup. But if you like your popcorn with a topping, don't despair. Here are three fast, easy, and low calorie spice-and-salt seasonings that will put punch—and not pounds—into popcorn:

ONION-DILL SALT

- 1/4 cup coarse salt
- 2 teaspoons dried onion flakes
- 2 teaspoons dried dillweed
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder

Process all ingredients in blender at high speed until mixture is very fine in texture, 30 to 45 seconds. Makes about 1/4 cup. Store in shaker.

HERBED SALT

- 1/4 cup coarse salt
- 1 teaspoon dried basil leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon dried tarragon leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon dried chives
- 1/4 teaspoon oregano leaves

Process all ingredients in blender at high speed until mixture is very fine in texture, 30 to 45 seconds. Makes about 1/4 cup. Store in shaker.

SESAME SALT

- 2 tablespoons coarse salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground turmeric
- 2 tablespoons toasted sesame seeds

Process all ingredients in blender at high speed until mixture is very fine in texture, 30 to 45 seconds. Makes about 1/4 cup. Store in shaker.

HOME-COOKED PEANUTS

Now that raw peanuts are available in the produce sections of grocery stores, more and more people are roasting their own peanuts at home. Peanuts can be roasted in the oven, microwave oven, or in a skillet. The finished product can be seasoned with salt, Parmesan cheese, chili powder, or whatever suits your taste buds. Follow these simple directions for roasting:

ROASTING

Conventional Oven Roasting ("Parching")

Place raw peanuts, in-shell or shelled, one layer deep in a shallow baking pan. Roast in a 350 degree oven—15 to 20 minutes for shelled and 20 to 25 minutes for in-shell peanuts. Remove from heat immediately, as peanuts continue to cook as they cool.

Microwave Oven Roasting

2 cups raw shelled peanuts
Place peanuts in a 10" x 6" glass or similar microwave container. Dot with butter or margarine. Microwave on high for 2 minutes. Stop. Stir peanuts. Continue to microwave 2 minutes at a time followed by stirring until peanuts have been microwaved 10 minutes for light roast; 12 minutes for medium roast. Remove from microwave. (Caution: Peanuts continue to cook as they cool. Cooking time may vary with ovens.)

Oil Roasting (French Frying)

Stew is super for game fans

Super Bowl Sunday is a day for football, food and fun with friends. Gridiron party fare takes many forms, but restless armchair quarterbacks tend to favor casual foods that are easy to eat in front of the television.

Experienced hosts who would rather share the excitement on the screen than spend the first half in the kitchen will plan for foods that can be prepared in advance, stowed in the refrigerator and reheated as halftime approaches.

A hearty stew is sure to score with the fans and the cook, as well, and if it boasts lively Tex-Mex flavors, it will rate as many cheers as the winning touchdown.

Super Bowl Chili-Chicken Stew combines bite-size pieces of boned and skinned chicken breast with pinto beans, vegetables and seasonings for a light yet satisfying stew-like variation of Texas' favorite food, chili.

SUPER BOWL CHILI-CHICKEN STEW

Whole chicken breasts, split, boned and skinned
 1 cup chopped onion
 1 medium green pepper, chopped
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 2 Tbsp. vegetable oil
 2 cans (14 1/2 oz. each) stewed tomatoes
 1 can (15 1/2 oz.) pinto beans, drained
 1/2 to 3/4 cup picante sauce, as desired
 1 tsp. chili powder
 1 tsp. ground cumin
 1/2 tsp. salt
 Optional toppings: shredded Cheddar cheese, green onion slices, diced avocado, sour cream.

Cut chicken into 1-inch pieces. Cook chicken, onion, green pepper, and garlic in oil in Dutch oven until chicken loses its pink color. Add remaining ingredients; simmer 20 minutes. Ladle into bowls; top with cheese, onion, avocado, sour cream and additional picante sauce, as desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings, about 9 cups of stew.

Super Bowl Chili-Chicken Stew is a perfect help-yourself meal for football fans.

TEX-MEX HALFTIME STEW

2 lbs. boneless stew meat, cut into 1-inch pieces
 2 Tbsp. vegetable oil
 1 10 1/2 oz. can condensed beef broth
 1 cup hot water
 1 cup picante sauce
 1 medium onion, cut into 1/2-inch wedges
 1/4 cup chopped parsley
 1 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. ground cumin
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 1 16 oz. can tomatoes
 3 medium carrots, cut into 1-inch pieces
 2 ears fresh or thawed frozen corn, cut into 1-inch pieces
 2 medium zucchini (about 1 lb.) cut into 1-inch pieces
 1/2 cup cold water
 2 Tbsp. flour

In large Dutch oven, brown meat, half at a time, in hot oil. Return all meat to Dutch oven. Add broth, hot water, picante sauce, onion, parsley, salt, cumin and garlic. Bring to a boil; reduce heat. Cover and simmer 1 hour or until meat is tender. Drain and coarsely chop tomatoes, reserving juice; add tomatoes and juice to Dutch oven with carrots, corn and zucchini. Cover and simmer 25 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Gradually add cold water to flour, mixing until smooth. Gradually stir into stew. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute or until thickened. Makes 8 servings, about 10 cups of stew.

Suburban Life

Ellie Graham editor/459-2700

Monday, January 20, 1986 O&E

(P.08)

Jeff Wolf, an instructor at Macomb County Community College, ties up barricades to keep spectators from the sun-and-heat weakened Statue of Liberty. Forty-five degree temperatures melted many of the works at the Plymouth ice show Friday.

Ice show a delight, but parking was tight

By W.W. Edger
staff writer

The gatherings on the streets around Kellogg Park and in the restaurants throughout Plymouth are said to be the largest in history.

There has been no official traffic count, but those in the know claim it is the biggest traffic jam in their memory and the reason is the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular which drew spectators from all sections of Michigan and other states in the Midwest.

"I have lived here 28 years," Paul Sincock, assistant to the city manager said, "and I never saw anything to beat it. The streets and sidewalks are crowded and the intersections provide a traffic problem because it is difficult to make turns at an intersection."

"While the city takes no official traffic count," Sincock added, "the officials in the police department estimated the crowd at about 350,000 over the first weekend." Sincock estimated the total numbers for the entire festival over both weekends and on weekdays would reach 500,000.

The ice festival also resulted in the streets and the parking lots being jammed with buses from several Midwest states and from the greater metropolitan Detroit area.

One of the drivers, from East Detroit, said that he had been driving to Plymouth for special events in recent years, but this was the heaviest he ever had been in.

What was true with traffic on the streets also was true with the pedestrians in the restaurants and other places to dine.

The Mayflower Hotel, which was the stopping place for all the bus tours, was filled to capacity during the luncheon hours and, for one of the few times, the lobby was filled and the seats were reserved on call.

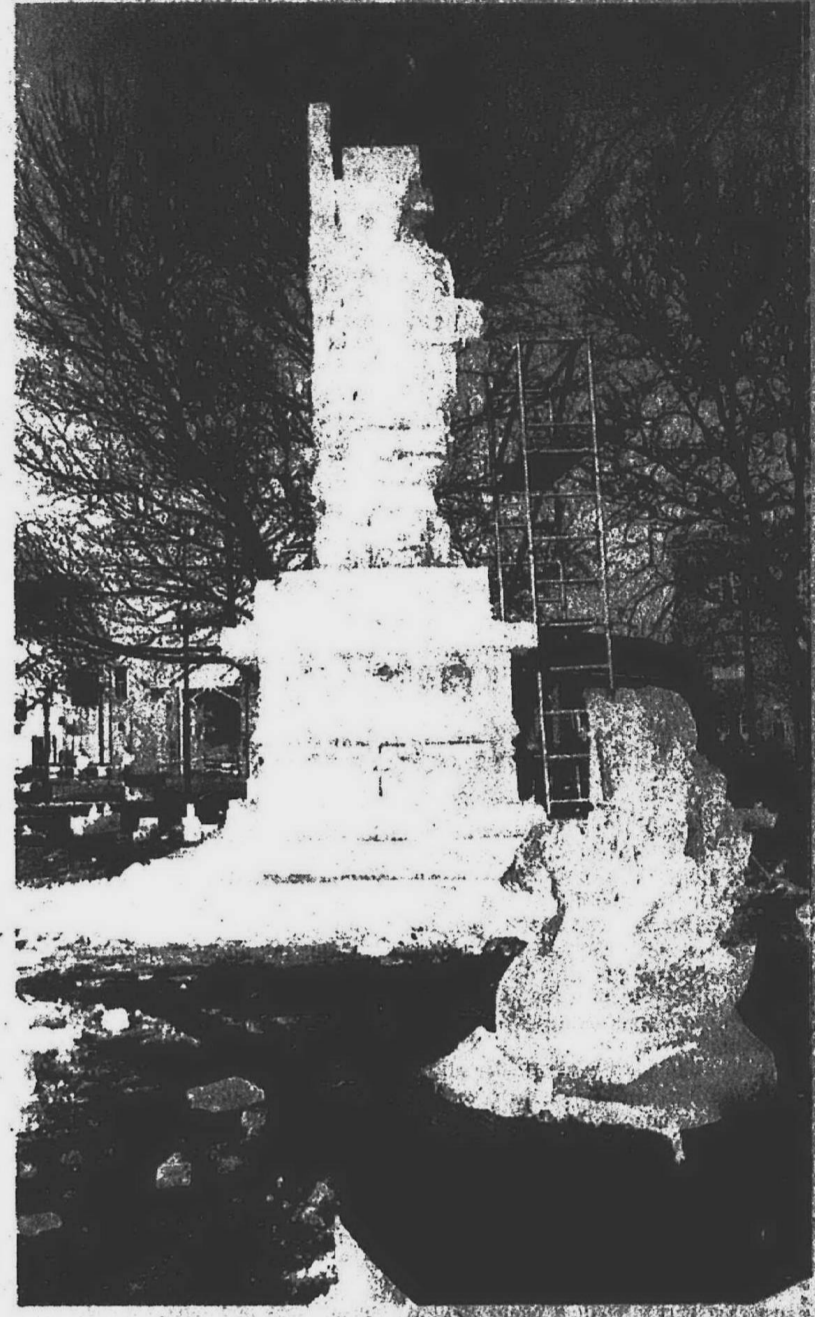

One lady from East Detroit, waiting in the Mayflower lobby for her call to a table, remarked: "I have done a lot of bus traveling, but I never have been in a jam like this one."

"I thought the ice festival was the most amazing I ever saw, and I would come again. But I don't like this jamming up in a restaurant or hotel dining room at lunch time."

Many of the motorists, who were lucky enough to find a place for their cars in the parking lot, were having trouble getting out to start the homeward journey.

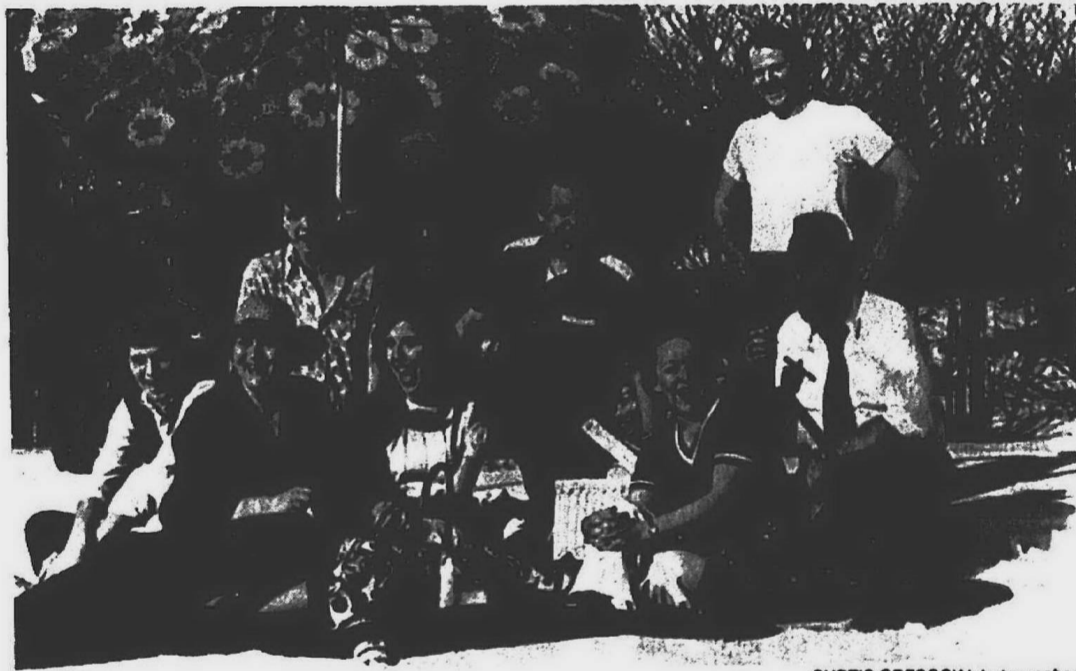

Meatime people who were not present for the show over the weekend are still coming into town to see what remains of the carvings.

The City of Plymouth has had some large event such as the Fall Festival and chicken barbecue, along with the band concerts in the park in the evenings. But even the oldest residents claimed they never saw any gathering as at this year's ice festival.

Not even Lee Iacocca could save this Statue of Liberty. What was to be the crowning achievement of the Plymouth Ice Sculpture Spectacular gave way to 45-degree weather Friday. It was designed by Macomb County Community College students.

Civitan's raise funds for handicapped youth

The Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club has made Steven Geary's day.

The Civitans provided the handicapped Gaylord youth with $500, which was deposited in the bank. Then the Civitans went out and sold about half of the tickets for a drawing, the proceeds of which went toward the purchase of an electronic communication machine for Geary.

Geary has had cerebral palsy all his life and has been learning to use the speech machine with the help of his mother, Joan Jozwiak.

"He has never had a machine that is so easy to use," said Becky Dornoff, a friend. She said the machine has a speech synthesizer and a memory, both of which work through a computer. The machine has a trigger that hooks around Geary's head. A beam of light tells him what to say.

The drawing, cannister distributions, a summer dance and the efforts of service clubs including the Civitans, contributed to the purchase price of $3,700 for the machine.

"But we still need more funds," said Gene Sund of the Plymouth-Canton Civitans. "We'd like to provide a wheelchair and another $500."

Sund said Geary's mother has multiple sclerosis, so the boy may have to be placed in the care of guardians.

Dornoff, a Plymouth resident, is interested in taking Geary into her home.

The Civitans expect to raise $15,000 for various projects involving special education and group homes in Plymouth, Canton and Northville.

"It's amazing what methods and materials they now have for teaching the handicapped," said Sund.

PATIENCE: THE UNRECOGNIZED THERAPY

Current treatment for arthritis includes heat, rest, aspirin and other anti-inflammatory drugs, joint injection, and in rheumatoid arthritis, the use of special drugs such as gold. No textbook or report on treatment makes reference to the therapeutic role of patience.

Arthritis develops over months or years. There is not a drug yet developed that can reverse, in days or weeks, the accumulated injury to joints. Therefore, there will be a period of unknown duration in which you are given new treatment and yet still live with old pain.

During this time, you will need a large and long-lasting dose of patience: a willingness to wait, despite continuing pain and limitation, to give the therapy time to act.

There is no clear cut way to determine when patience should give way to action. Usually, the physician's recommendation to change treatment is a judgement arising from past experience rather than a conclusion based on x-ray or blood study results. This decision also requires agreement between you and your doctor that present therapy, after a reasonable trial, has not provided satisfactory improvement.

Hale's 18, defense pace Salem's rout

By Chris McCosky

basketball

Basketball, when played correctly, looks like an easy game to the casual observer. But when certain elements of a team go bad, something as simple as putting a little ball into a basket can become a monumental chore.

Ask North Farmington. The Raiders did many things correctly at Plymouth Salem Friday night. They played a pesky pressing defense which forced 24 Salem turnovers. They played aggressively and they rebounded fairly well against the taller Salem team.

But they lost, 59-44. "Basketball is different than a lot of other sports," said North coach Tom Negoshian. "The intensity and concentration has to be there all the time. You can underline 'all the time'."

Clearly, North Farmington's concentration wasn't with them all the time Friday night — especially not in the third quarter.

NORTH OUTSCORED Salem 10-2 at the close of the first half and went into halftime down a point, 26-25. But much of North's intensity stayed in the locker room.

The Raiders missed their first 11 shots of the third quarter and went 14 possessions without a point. Rick Anderson's basket with 1:28 left was North's first and last of the quarter.

"How many turnovers did we force that quarter?" asked Negoshian. Eight. "How many layups did we miss?" Five.

Indeed, North's full court press gave the Rocks fits in the third quarter. But the team failed to convert the turnovers into baskets.

And yet, until Salem's Tony Moore scored five straight points in the final 20 seconds of the quarter, North was still in contention. The Raiders pulled within six points halfway through the final quarter, but the Rocks outscored North 17-8 down the stretch, converting 11 of 12 free throws.

CREDIT AN outstanding defensive game by Salem for much of North's offensive woes. The Rock man-to-man kept North's top guns, Anderson and Paul Wahrman, away from the basket most of the night.

"The defense was definitely the key," said Salem coach Bob Brodie, whose team had lost two in a row prior to Friday night. "What'd they get, one basket in the third quarter? That's pretty good work."

Brodie credited the hustle of Moore, Mike Hale and Keith Smith with keeping Anderson under wraps. Anderson scored a game-high 20 points, but they were extremely hard-earned. He hit 6-of-20 shots from the field and 8-of-8 from the free throw line.

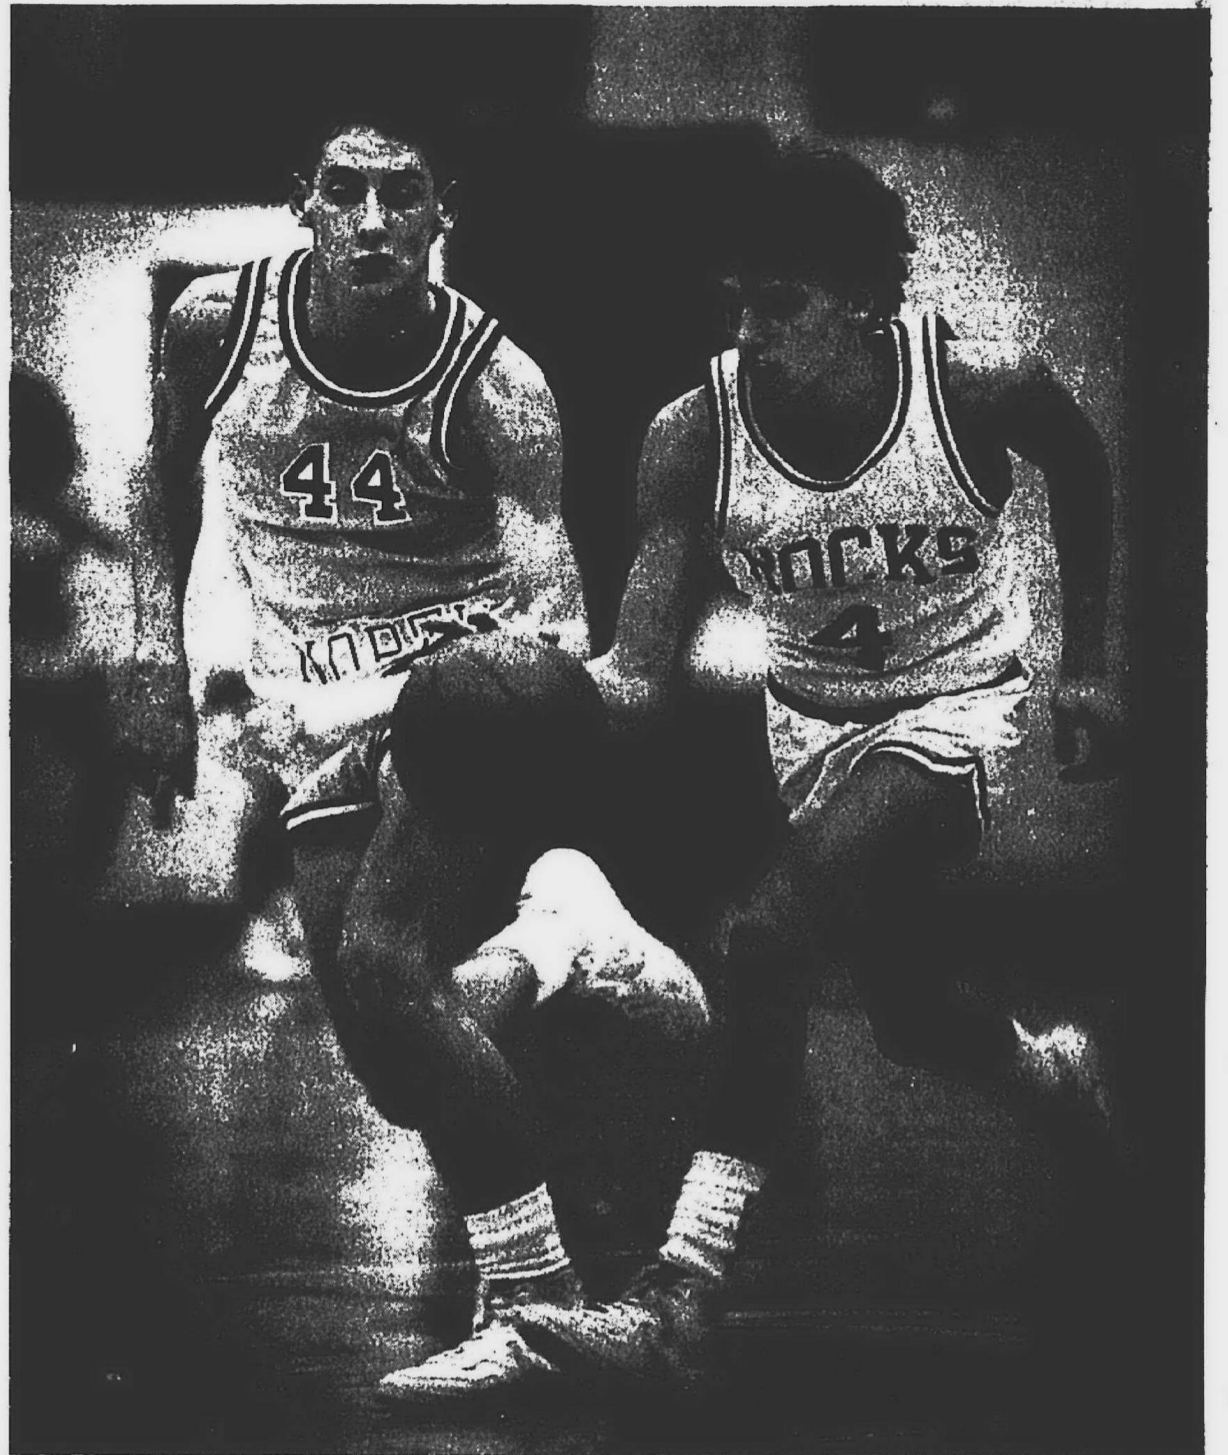

Hale, a junior, offset Anderson's scoring with an 18-point performance. He was a force on the boards, especially at the offensive end. Four of his baskets came off offensive rebounds.

Salem also got strong games from guards Paul Makara (11 points) and Bryan Kearis (10).

MIKE RUDIN turned in a good game for the Raiders. He scored nine points, but more importantly, he made eight steals.

"Whew," said Brodie. "I was kind of wondering if we would come back. But I knew our players had it in them to bounce back. They came ready to play."

Salem is now 5-1 in the Western Lakes, 6-2 on the season. North is 2-4 in the league, 4-4 overall.

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Bryan Kearis (No. 4), being chased by North's Paul Wahrman, scored 10 points in Salem's win Friday night.

Hawks blast Chiefs

As usual, Farmington Harrison's boys' basketball team got great offensive performances from Ken George, Will Lund, Rod Sarceovich and Scott Bissell in extending its unbeaten streak to eight games Friday with a 68-48 win over visiting Plymouth Canton.

But Hawk coach Mike Teachman figured he got performances of equal worth from Mark Rosen and J.T. Quarles — who combined to score one point.

"From top to bottom, this was a team game," said Teachman. "We got production off the bench and we needed it, because we had some key people get into foul trouble in the third quarter."

It was a pivotal point of the game. Harrison led 33-25 at the half, but Sarceovich, who scored 15 in the first two quarters, and Bissell both picked up their third personal fouls in the third period.

Against a hot Canton team — the Chiefs had won three straight coming into Friday's contest — it looked like trouble. Not so, however. With Rosen and Quarles contributing valuable minutes off the bench, Harrison not only maintained its lead over Canton, but strengthened it with a 16-7 burst.

George, who collected 17 points and nine assists, triggered the Hawks third-quarter surge with three three-point plays.

Lund contributed 17 points and 19 rebounds, Sarceovich finished with 15 points and Bissell added 14. The victory boosted Harrison to 6-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA).

Canton, which dipped to 3-6 overall and 2-4 in the WLAA, was led by Joel Mies with 12 points. Free throws — or lack thereof — hurt the Chiefs. Harrison hit 24 of 34, while Canton took just 15, connecting on eight.

FARMINGTON 64, STEVENSON 63: Kyle Mutz shredded the Livonia Stevenson defense for 24 points, but it was Jerry Potter's steal and Tony Racka's free throw with nine seconds left that won it for the Falcons.

The visiting Spartans (2-5 overall, 1-4 in the WLAA) trailed by five at the half (38-33) but made up the deficit with a 13-8 third quarter. Stevenson surrendered 19 points to Mutz and eight to Craig Petersmark in the first half, but clamped down on both in the second.

Farmington (6-3 overall, 4-2 in the WLAA) got 14 points from Bruce Kratt and 13 from Racka. Chip Finneran paced Stevenson with 17 points, with Dan Palmisano scoring 15 and Rich Gregor 12.

PLY. CHRIST. 69, FARM. LUTH. NW 43: Plymouth Christian broke out fast and utilized a balanced scoring attack to stay well ahead of Farmington Lutheran Northwest Friday at Pioneer Middle School in Plymouth.

Five Eagles scored eight or more points. Pat McCarthy's 19 points topped Plymouth, with Rod Winkle pitching in with 12 and Jim McCarthy, Andy Stephens and Dave Cadaret scoring eight apiece. Stephens also nabbed 12 rebounds.

Mike Tropp pumped in 17 points for Northwest, with Rob Maton and Andy Lewis adding eight each.

Plymouth Christian led 22-8 after one quarter and 43-20 at the half in extending its unbeaten record to 7-0, 6-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference (MIAC). Northwest fell to 0-5 in the MIAC and 0-6 overall.

football

Two Redford Catholic Central football standouts, Ken Wandzel and Nick Varajon, have made verbal commitments to Michigan State and Toledo, respectively.

The two will each sign national letter-of-intents on Wednesday, Feb. 12, the first day high school seniors can accept a scholarship under guidelines set by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA).

Wandzel, a wide receiver and defensive back, made visits to MSU and Cincinnati. The 6-foot-4, 210-pound stand-out was named to the All-Observer squad and was honored on various metro area and all-state squads.

"I think Michigan State is more interested in Ken for defense, but I'm sure they'll give him a look at wide receiver," said CC coach Tom Mach.

Varajon, the Shamrocks' 6-1, 230-pound All-Catholic and All-Area nose guard, will join his brother Mike, a fifth-year senior defensive back, on the Toledo squad.

"Nick could have gone to a bigger school, but he had his mind made up last month," Mach said. "He's their No. 1 recruit."

ANOTHER CC STANDOUT, consensus All-State tackle Dan Nash, will visit four schools including Notre Dame, Stanford, Rice and Michigan.

A 3.94 student, Nash is looking for an engineering curriculum.

Three other CC players, Kevin Tulley, John Forsythe and Mike Valvona, are being recruited by Mid-American Conference schools, according to Mach.

"This should be a very good year for our seniors," Mach said. "We have a lot of kids we're sending out to play."

Meanwhile, All-State running back

Tony Boles of Westland John Glenn apparently has narrowed his choices down to Michigan and Michigan State.

According to Glenn coach Chuck Gordon, Boles has made visits to U-M, MSU and Tennessee, and will visit two more schools, including Iowa.

"I think he'll stay in the state," said Gordon.

Glenn tackle Don Croft will visit a pair of Mid-American schools before making a decision.

FARMINGTON HARRISON'S All-State receiver, Brian Smolinski, is reportedly leaning toward Michigan State, but will also make visits to Ohio State and Penn State.

Harrison coach John Herrington said that although Smolinski has an open mind, he is leaning toward MSU because he'll get an opportunity to play baseball. Smolinski was an All-Area shortstop a year ago.

Farmington's All-Area tackle Craig Petersmark is leaning toward Eastern Michigan, but is talking to several Mid-American and Great Lakes Conference teams, according to former Falcon coach Don Kuick.

Two Redford Bishop Borgess All-Area players, Mike Stewart and Ed Dreslinski, are both talking to Division I schools, but are undecided at the present time, according to school athletic director Ralph Owen.

Lady Ocelots pummel OCC

By C.J. Riskak
staff writer

After three Eastern Conference games, it's become clear that Schoolcraft College women's basketball coach Ed Kavanaugh has instilled his team with a valuable asset:

Give no quarter, never let up, show no mercy.

Oakland Community College was the victim Wednesday. The Lady Ocelots were ruthless against visiting OCC, building a lead of 22 points in the first half and extending it to as many as 30 in the second to win in a runaway, 77-52.

Like the two conference victims before them, the Raiders simply could not match Schoolcraft's quickness, speed and perimeter shooting. Sue Lubbe's basket with 15:43 to play in the first half put the Ocelots up 10-2; another Lubbe field goal capped a 12-4 run and put Schoolcraft ahead 22-6 with 11:25 left.

THE OCELOT bulge blossomed to 22 (38-16) on a Colleen McKay bucket with 1:43 left in the first half, which ended with Schoolcraft in command 40-20.

"We played a good game," said Kavanaugh, whose team is now 12-4 and alone atop the conference at 3-0. "We've been playing that way all year. We don't have any real big, dominant girls. They know whatever they get they'll have to earn."

The Lady Ocelots earned everything they got Wednesday. Their pressure defense forced 20 OCC turnovers — in the first half. The Raiders, with just seven players, never solved Schoolcraft's defense well enough to score consistently.

Schoolcraft sports

The deficit grew to 66-36 with 6:12 left in the game.

FOUR OCELOTS reached double figures in scoring: Lubbe (21), Kim Chandler (16), Tracy Ladouceur (14) and McKay (10).

OCC got 16 points from Heidi Erlandson and 10 from Cindy Gorsline.

"We've won every conference game by 20 points," said Kavanaugh. "Our (lack of) height hasn't been a factor. If we can force them to play a full-court game, we can beat them."

On Saturday, Jan. 11, Schoolcraft blew out Highland Park on its home court, 75-53, with a 41-23 second-half onslaught. Chandler's 33 points paced the Lady Ocelots, with Lubbe getting 16 and Ladouceur 15.

"We're in real good physical condition," Kavanaugh said. "Down the stretch, we've been able to beat teams because of our conditioning."

"This is the best team I've had here," the third-year coach added.

So far, no other conference team has come close to matching Schoolcraft's excellence.

Ain't no joke

Farmington grid coach Kuick leaves post

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

And they thought he was kidding. Farmington High School football coach Don Kuick told the school's administration that he'd resign if certain requests weren't met. "I told them I wanted what all the other schools gave," said the outspoken 35-year veteran coach, the last three at Farmington. "I wanted a sixth-hour phys ed class for weight training and conditioning. I had it when I started, then they took it away." Kuick said he'd quit if he wasn't given the class. The administration said, according to Kuick, "Hogwash." So Don Kuick has resigned as head football coach at Farmington High.

"IT JUST got to me," he said. "It's just too hard to compete at this level, especially in our league. I don't know who set up the schedule, but whoever it was didn't do us any favors." There were other factors that drove Kuick out. None of Kuick's assistant coaches worked in the high school building. "That's a difficult situation," he said. "And our assistants couldn't get sixth-hour free to get to practice on time. I was handling the practices alone for the first half-hour." Kuick, after 35 years, admitted to growing "too old for this stuff." "I just got tired," he said. "It's such a long season. It starting getting to me along the sidelines — that never happened before."

Kuick was also miffed at the school's feeder programs. "Our lower programs just stink to high heavens," he said. "The way it is, if the kid has a choice, he goes to Farmington Harrison. We're losing two and three kids a year to Harrison or Catholic Central. And really all it is is a lack of personal drive by the administration." KUICK SAID that the little league football programs in the Farmington area are taking the players away from the middle school program. The little league football program recently increased its weight requirement allowing more middle school-age students to play. Said Farmington athletic director Ron Holland: "The weight thing has nothing to do with it. One year the kids play with us (middle schools) and the next they play with them (little league). It varies from year to year depending on the type of program we have to offer. Three years ago all the kids played little league. Then we got some good coaches at the middle schools and the kids came back. We're working with the little league programs now to try and eliminate some of the conflict that exists." In the end, though, it was the aggravating non-football incidents that broke Kuick's spirit. A group of students — several were members of the football program — vandalized the equipment storage room and concession stand alongside the football field. This occurred during the latter part of last football season. "These were some of my first stringers, and I had to kick them off my team," he said. "And four JV kids were involved. I looked at that and said, 'I just don't need this stuff anymore.'" KUICK DID a credible job in his three years at Farmington. He took a losing program to a Western Lakes Division title and a 6-3 record in his second season at the helm. In his three seasons Farmington compiled a 12-15 record, 10-8 the last two years. "I'm proud of my record and the accomplishments of the kids," Kuick said. "Helping send a kid like Craig Petersmark on to a school — although I can't take all the credit — those are the kinds of things you look back on. It's the coaching of the kids, showing them what it takes to win and how to take defeat that's important. I think I helped turn the program around. It's on the right track now. They know what it's like to win." Holland said that he would be interviewing coaching candidates this week. He wouldn't say whether the candidates were inside or outside the district. Kuick offered a recommendation: "I'd like to see them give it to Dave Catherman," he said. "I told them (the administration), 'How long does a guy have to be an assistant before he gets his chance?' He knows a lot about the game, and he's great with the kids. He helped get a lot of kids out for the team this year." Kuick said he may get back into coaching at the middle school level. But, for now, "I just want to enjoy my summers."

Salem grapplers pummel Falcons

Farmington is considered by most area coaches as a pretty decent wrestling team. The difference between pretty decent and outstanding was demonstrated Thursday night. Plymouth Salem, ranked No. 2 in Observerland, pummeled Farmington 57-12 in a Western Lakes dual meet. Farmington won just two matches: Darrell Tharnish pinned Bryan Wheble at 145 pounds and Dan Parilo stuck Chuck Graczyk at 198. The rest of the meet belonged to the Rocks. Todd Bourlier (98), Tim Ott (119), Dave Dameron (126), Kirk Rentz (138) and Chris Rye (155) all won on pins for Salem. Dennis Dameron (112) and Kevin Freeman (132) won on technical falls — decisions with 15 or more points separating the two wrestlers. Then there were what Salem coach Ron Krueger called "pleasant surprises." Jamie Woohuk decisioned Farmington's John Augustin 2-1 at 185. Augustin had defeated Woohuk earlier in the season. At heavyweight, Salem's Richard Johnson surprised Bill Critcher, 3-0. Critcher is considered one of the best heavyweights in the area. "We're coming on," Krueger surmised. The Rocks are 6-0 on the season and face a tall task on Tuesday. The Rocks will play host to a powerful double-dual meet. Entering the fray are state Class A powers Hazel Park and Temperance-Bedford, along with area power Westland John Glenn. Wrestling will begin at 6:30 p.m. FARMINGTON HARRISON won five of the eight bouts against Livonia Churchill Thursday but lost the match 42-25. The Hawks were void in five weight classes, giving Churchill 30 points. Ted Pursinaki (98), Cliff Alcantara (105), Bruce Heinzman (112), Brad Gerard (145) and Pat McFadden (185) won their matches for the Hawks. Harrison is 1-6. Churchill is 9-1, 5-1 in the Western Lakes. NORTH FARMINGTON lost to Walled Lake Central on Thursday, 54-12. Gary Evangelista (112) and Tom Enright (132) scored pins for North (1-5). Five of the teams' starting wrestlers were out with the flu.

Salem beats N'ville in pool

With six firsts and six seconds, the Plymouth Salem swim team had enough power to overtake Northville 105-67 in the Western Lakes dual meet Thursday. Kevin Zarow won the 50-yard freestyle (23.2) and placed second in the 100 free (51.3). He also swam a leg of Salem's winning 400 freestyle relay team, joining Rick Cummings, Tony Atwell and Jeff Anderson on a 3:30.3. Other winners for the Rocks were Anderson in the 200 freestyle (1:54.2), Bob Longridge in diving (211.2), Paul South in the 500 free (5:22.5) and Geoff Taylor in the 100 breaststroke (1:09.7). Cummings placed second in the 200 individual medley (2:13.0), Kevin Tunich was second in diving (163.5), Atwell second in the 100 butterfly (58.3) and Don Harwood second in the 100 backstroke (1:00.3). Salem placed second in the 200 medley relay (1:51.0). For Northville, Doug Buell won both the 200 IM (2:10.6) and the 100 butterfly (56.0). Salem is 9-1.

CC's Holowicki wins No. 500

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Bernie Holowicki isn't going to stop at 500 wins. He's just going to keep on going.

The Redford Catholic Central basketball coach reached the milestone Friday night as his young team whipped visiting Harper Woods Notre Dame, 72-53.

"It's special because I can still look up in the stands and see my wife (Barbara) and my daughter (Beth)," said the CC coach, who has amassed 265 of those wins at CC. "My daughter asked me if she could shine my shoes before I went to the game. And my boys (he has five children) talked a lot about it."

"If I can still help youngsters and still be enthusiastic, and it's fun for me and for them, I'll keep coaching."

The win came at the expense of one of Holowicki's former pupils, Notre Dame coach Bob Shoemaker, who played for Holowicki back in the '50s at Detroit St. Hedwig.

"Bernie's greatest skill is that his kids play so relaxed with the basketball — they're so comfortable on the floor," Shoemaker said. "He's a great offensive coach and he gets his kids to like basketball."

basketball

"He's a lot like Dean Smith at North Carolina. His greatest attribute is his way of dealing with kids."

WITH THE GAME well in hand during the final two minutes of play, CC students unfurled a long banner offering their congratulations. The crowd gradually stood and gave the longtime coach a nice applause.

But like Holowicki, he shifted the post-game talk away from himself and more toward his team, which is 7-2 overall and 4-0 in the Central Division.

"We're still switching and searching," Holowicki said. "But we're much better defensively and our press is better."

"But we're still weak on the defensive boards. We've got to get tougher. But we're taking better shots and they're starting to believe in themselves."

Holowicki, who started three sophomores and one junior, had six players score in double figures — Lance Vaccarelli (14), Anthony Arrington (12), Paul Tavaha (11), Brian Dugas (11), Greg King (10) and Sean McClorey (10).

THE SHAMROCKS, behind Dugas' eight points, jumped out to a 20-12 first quarter lead. Notre Dame trimmed the deficit to four early in third period on a basket by Sam Ciaramitaro, but CC scored 13 of the next 17 points and gradually pulled away in the final quarter for the win.

"We're not good in a lot of areas," Shoemaker said. "I'm really surprised we stay with teams for 2½ quarters. We don't shoot well, pass well, rebound well or play good defense — otherwise we're a great team."

"But seriously, the kids are working hard. But it's going to have to take place in the off-season."

Guards Williams Sayles and Andy Booth scored 16 and 14, respectively, in a losing cause.

CC's next date, meanwhile, is Tuesday at home against Warren DeLaSalle in a battle for first place. And Holowicki knows victory No. 501 will not come easy.

"We've got to come up with an excellent game," he said. "It's a big test, but we can't put all our marbles into all of that. And I think the kids understand."

Understanding has been a two-way street for Holowicki and his players. It's gone on for over 30 years.

OCC men exhaust depleted Ocelots

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

Exam time for basketball players lasts for months. It starts with the first conference game and doesn't end until a champion is crowned.

So far this season, Oakland Community College's team deserves all A's.

The Raiders, ranked 18th in the NJCAA, remained unbeaten through 11 games with a 65-57 triumph at Schoolcraft College Wednesday. The win was OCC's fourth-straight in the Eastern Conference.

"It was our second road win," coach Tom McPhillips said, "and the league race is going to come down to who wins on the road."

WHILE OCC has passed its early-season tests with flying colors, Schoolcraft has fared miserably, losing four straight conference games. The Ocelots started the season with 12 wins in 14 games. They are now 12-7.

Exams of a different kind have caused the Ocelot demise: Three starters and the team's top substitute were lost just prior to the start of the conference season to academic woes.

"Talent-wise, we're short at a couple of positions," Schoolcraft coach Rocky Watkins said. "We have new people who just don't know how to close out a game."

Lost to grades were starting point guard Clarence Jones and forward Bradley Turner, sometime starting forward Frank Jones, and top sub Mike White.

Clarence Jones was irreplaceable," said Watkins. "With Brad Turner, they were our Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside."

Jones' absence was, once again, painfully noticeable against OCC. The game was tight until late in the second half. Schoolcraft trailed 55-50 with 5:36 left when OCC's Willie Jones was assessed a technical foul for hanging on the rim on a dunk. Harold Martin hit the free throw, and the Ocelots were within four and had the ball.

DESMOND STEELE, replacing Clarence Jones at point guard, brought the ball upcourt, picked up his dribble, then inexplicably started dribbling again. The violation was called immediately. OCC scored the next four points (with the Ocelots contributing two more turnovers) and Schoolcraft was never closer than six the rest of the way.

"It's very frustrating," Watkins admitted. "If we did the things I said at halftime that we had to do to win, we would have been successful."

Despite several silly mistakes — the Ocelots committed 18 second-half turnovers, six in the final 5:29 — they could not be faulted for lack of effort. They battled OCC evenly, but in the end the Raiders' experience and inside strength, combined with Schoolcraft's lack of same, was overpowering.

Center Pat Gardner scored six points in a row for the Raiders in a 1:24 span, the last coming with 2:17 left and boosting OCC to a 63-53 advantage.

"We were trying to get the ball in there," McPhillips said. "Pat's been our leading scorer all year."

GARDNER FINISHED with 18 points, while Jones pumped in 21, again doing the bulk of his damage inside against overmatched opposition.

Gary Holt scored 10 and Rod Thompson finished with eight.

Martin had an exceptional night for Schoolcraft. He scored the Ocelots' first seven points and had nine in the first half, including a driving basket in the final second that pulled them to within 30-29 at the half. Martin finished with 18 points, five steals and four assists.

Martin's jumper to start the second half gave Schoolcraft the lead, and Derrick Kearney's steal and layup put the Ocelots up 38-35 with 17:31 to go.

OCC awoke after that behind Gardner, Jones and Holt. Holt's bucket with 14:42 left gave the Raiders a 45-44 lead and started an 8-0 run that kept them ahead the rest of the game. In the final 17:09, Gardner netted 12 of his points, Jones had six and Holt contributed four.

THE ONLY other player to score in double figures for Schoolcraft was Les English with 10 points. Kearney and Steele had eight apiece, and Don Edwards nabbed 13 rebounds.

Canton gymnasts place 2nd

Plymouth Canton, competing without its top all-around scorer, placed second in a three-way gymnastics meet Wednesday.

With sophomore Darcy Gignac on the sidelines with an illness, Canton mustered a season-high 114.75 points. Hartland amassed 123.50 and Haslett 107.20. Holly, Ladywood and Howell also had gymnasts competing in the meet.

The Chiefs (1-2) got a good all-around effort from Mary Jo Charron. She scored a 7.25 on vault, 7.3 on uneven parallel bars, 7.55 on balance beam and 7.55 on floor exercise.

Maureen McLean was the team's high scorer on vault (7.85) and floor (7.6). Brenda Perry chipped in with a 7.5 on vault and a 7.3 on floor. Carol Horvath scored a 7.65 on beam.
