JOINS PEACE CORPS:

Jeffrey Claeys, son of Joan and John Claeys of Plymouth, has been accepted into the Peace Corps. He left for Botswana in Africa in November 1985 after completing orientation sessions in the United States. A graduate of Michigan State University, where he earned a degree in geology, Claeys will teach agricultural classes in Botswana.

RECOGNIZING

SCHOLARS: Adistra Corporation of Plymouth recently announced the recipients of its Scholarship Recognition Awards Program. The awards are given to: Julie Hayden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayden of Canton, attending Michigan State University; Timothy Butzow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Butzow of Plymouth, attending MSU; Lisa Lukas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lucas of Westland, attending Lawrence Institute of Technology; and Reid Harpster from South Lyon, a sales representative for Adistra Corp., attending Schoolcraft College. The scholarship program was initiated in 1984 to assist Adistra employees and their relatives in pursuit of academic and other special educational programs.

OF MICE & MEN: The best-laid plans of mice and men sometimes don't make it. Such as the plans of the American Legion to auction off ice sculptures. Unfortunately, between the announcement and any opportunity to bid, the sculptures melted. The Legion thanks those who bid on the ice sculptures, even though the weather didn't cooperate. The post also thanks the Ice Spectacular Committee and the city for allowing it to try for the project again.

ELECTED: Ken Dividock, Century 21 Hartford in Plymouth, and Douglas Courtney, Century 21 Gold House in Plymouth, have been elected to three-year terms as directors of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors and its multiple listing arm, Metro MLS. Elected 1986 vice president of the two organizations was Jerome Delaney of Weir, Manuel, Snyder & Ranke, Plymouth.

LEGION RALLY: Attending the 1986 American Legion Membership Rally recently in St. Helen, Mich., were about 250 Legionnaires including these officers from Passage-Gayde Post 391 of the American Legion in Plymouth: John Censer, commander; Tom Cullen, finance officer; and Bill Nicholas, adjutant. Pupil realignment to begin next fall

By Doug Funke
staff writer

A new student housing plan to take effect during the 1986-87 school year puts all Plymouth-Canton sixth-graders into middle schools and some ninth-graders now in middle schools into high schools at Centennial Education Park (CEP).

School administrators project that ultimately all elementary schools will house kindergarten through fifth grade, the middle schools grades six through eight, and the high schools grades nine through 12.

Ninth-graders will be transferred from the district's five middle schools to either Plymouth Canton or Plymouth Salem high schools over a three-year period if enrollment projections hold true and space is available.

Ninth-graders from Central and East middle schools are expected to make the move next year, from Lowell during the 1987-88 school year, and from West and Pioneer during the 1988-89 school year.

"ONE OF the things we have been aiming to do is return to the former grade structure we had (K-5, 6-8, 9-12)," said Dr. Michael Homes, assistant superintendent for instruction. "Educationally, we think it has a lot more benefits to students."

"It opens options to sixth-graders in middle schools — band and orchestra class, industrial arts. They'll have access to labs we don't have in elementary schools. For ninth-graders, it will open up significantly greater course opportunities."

Bus schedules and some teacher assignments will change as the plan evolves.

"We are planning to stagger middle school starting times so the three middle schools with ninth grades (Lowell, West and Pioneer) will start earlier and dismiss earlier," Homes said. "It will give students who desire to do so the opportunity to take part in extra-curricular activities at the high schools."

Provisions of the labor agreement with the Plymouth Canton Education Association (PCEA) will be followed with any teacher reassignments.

"We're not sure how many or precisely what areas, but with an additional 600 students at the high schools, we'll have a transition from middle schools to the high schools and a transition of some from the elementary to middle schools," Homes said.

"IT MAY BE we'll be looking for new teachers," he added.

Feud over safety at prison wanes

By Doug Funke
staff writer

It appears that Plymouth Township and the state Corrections Department are posturing to kiss and make up.

The two are trying to resolve differences over security at the Western Wayne Correctional Facility (WWCF) by talking things out rather than battling in a courtroom.

The township's lawyer, C. Brian James, said both sides have tentatively agreed that a lawsuit filed by the township will be dropped, but a discovery process to determine whether WWCF complies with safety and security standards will continue.

"The object is not to work on an adversary basis, but to get all the facts," James said. "If they can demonstrate they are in compliance with the state statutes that apply to the Western Wayne Facility — type of prisoners, number of prisoners, training of . . . personnel — we won't bring the lawsuit back."

LOUIS PORTER, a lawyer in the state attorney general's office, said he expects the situation to be resolved outside of court.

"We had a long and very direct discussion with the township officials and we started to understand what information they were looking for," Porter said. "There is no problem getting the information they seek at this juncture."

Porter said he's concerned that certain information which the township may request doesn't fall into the hands of prisoners who he claims are very aware of provisions of the Freedom of Information Act.

James said he expects the discovery process to take at least six weeks.

The township filed suit in Wayne Circuit Court last fall asking that only inmates who committed less serious crimes be housed at WCCF until it was proven that the prison met medium-security standards.

TWO DIFFERENT escape incidents prompted the lawsuit.

The state attorney general's office then petitioned the U.S. District Court in Detroit to take jurisdiction of the case because the township had raised constitutional points in its complaint.

WWCF, classified as a medium-security prison, currently has about 450 inmates.

James said he believes the mere filing of the lawsuit has resulted in a better working relationship between WWCF administrators and local police and government officials.

"I think as long as we continue the discovery process, building repairs needed at the prison will be accomplished," he said. "The lawsuit causes them to pay closer attention than they would otherwise."

Porter said he has doubts about that claim.

Bills issued for runs to hospital

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Your wife's breathing seems shallow. The baby goes into convulsions. Your husband experiences chest pains.

Quickly, you think, get help. Call the fire department for an ambulance. Assistance arrives, the victim is rushed to the hospital and the medical emergency comes to a successful conclusion.

That doesn't mean that the episode is over. Someone will have to pay for the ambulance transport to the hospital and that someone is you, your insurance company or both.

Maybe once upon a time local government provided ambulance transportation at no charge to taxpayers as part of general public services.

Not anymore — at least in Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

In fact, Plymouth city firefighters won't even transport unless the private ambulance company that services the city, Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS), isn't available.

BUT ABOUT the bills. CEMS and Plymouth Township report that they don't exactly collect everything that's due.

"In this business, we always write 20 percent off to bad debt," said Pete Rogers, marketing and training coordinator for CEMS.

CEMS charges a basic transportation fee of $85 plus $3 per mile.

If CEMS paramedics perform any advanced life support services such as administering medication or an electrocardiogram, an additional charge of $60 is assessed.

"To some it may seem excessively high priced for the cost of an ambulance," Rogers said. "But understanding the level of care you're receiving with advanced life support may be able to clarify any questions whether it's worth it."

So why don't people pay? Rogers suspects much of it reflects collection problems of any service-oriented businesses where service is provided now and payment requests follow.

"People don't like to pay their bills."

SUPERVISOR Maurice Breen estimates a 90 percent collection rate for township transports.

Bills are sent directly to the individuals who receive the service.

"We reference our costs, I think, from what we could recover from insurance," said Breen.

The township, which started billing in the late '70s, charges a base fee of $70 for residents and $105 for non-residents plus $1.50 per mile.

"There's a whole big difference in charges, as I understand between CEMS and us," Breen said. "Our costs are attuned to what insurers will reimburse."

While Breen points out the difference in charges, Rogers emphasizes the difference in service.

CEMS ambulances are staffed by paramedics, while township rescue vehicles are staffed by firefighters trained in first aid and advanced first aid.

"We are able to suggest to patients and their families what the problem is and we have special equipment to enable us to do that," Rogers said.

Both the township and CEMS bill only for hospital transports. No transport, no bill.

The township will transport anywhere within a 17 mile radius. CEMS will take you wherever you want to go.

Saints are often shown in icons in glorified poses, such as riding in chariots of fire, ascending into heaven or conquering evil.

Religious artifacts on display

Colorful religious images or figures called icons are on display at Madonna College in Livonia through Monday, Feb. 3.

An icon is meant to be "a window into heaven," said Sister M. Angeline Filippiak, chairman of the Art Department at Madonna. It doesn't serve as a portrait, but shows the subject's inner spirit in a way that a person viewing the icon feels reverence toward the subject.

Icons in Madonna's display were loaned from Sacred Heart Byzantine Catholic Church in Livonia, Nativity of the Virgin Mary Greek Orthodox Church in Plymouth, Holy Cross Orthodox Church in Farmington Hills, All Saints Russian Orthodox Cathedral in Detroit, St. John's Ukrainian Church in Detroit, Saints Peter and Paul Orthodox Church in Detroit, and the collections of the Rev. Thomas Chelmsar of Livonia, Lula Simakas of Dearborn and Jerome and Christyna Kozak of Hamtramck.

JESUS CHRIST is said to have made the first icon, when he pressed a cloth to his face on the day he died and imprinted his image on it. Saint Luke painted Christ's mother and the apostles, tradition says.

Icons flourished in the Byzantine Empire and in eastern Europe. The strong Byzantine influence caused the icons to be rendered in a formalized style, which brought across the holy essence of the subject.

The icons at Madonna depict Christ, his mother, Mary, and Peter, Paul, John the Baptist and Thomas, among other saints.

Most of the icons are paintings, but shrines, mosaics and bronze works are included.

The exhibit gallery is on the second floor of the library building on campus. Madonna College is at Schoolcraft and Livonia.

Resident makes life much easier for voters

By Dennis Coffman
staff writer

Some keen observation has resulted in a Canton resident obtaining a United States patent that should save boaters and fisherman a lot of aggravation.

Thomas Briggs said he used to watch boaters at Belleville Lake, struggling to launch their craft at the water's edge and then trying to load the boats back into trailers.

"I saw them get hurt," said Briggs. "One even broke a leg. He slipped and down he went. That was it for the summer for him. I thought, 'There has got to be a better way.'"

There was. About a year ago, Briggs applied for a U.S. patent, titled "Float Means for Connecting the Winch Line of a Boat Trailer to a Boat."

On Nov. 19, 1985, the U.S. Patent Office issued him Patent Number 4,553,897.

IF THE FLOAT is ever marketed, it could save a lot of bruised shins, reduce the collective blood pressures of boaters and clear the air of a lot of profanity.

Boats generally are trailered up to a lake, then the trailer is backed down a ramp into the water, into a position where the boat can float, then the boat is released.

The connection between the boat and trailer is a line connected to a winch on the trailer. The line carries a hook that engages the front of the boat.

To retrieve the boat, the owner usually walks down the trailer, which is often slippery because its lower end is in the water, until he can connect the winch line to the boat. He then uses the winch to draw the boat onto the trailer.

THERE ARE drawbacks to the method because the user often doesn't know whether the lower, submerged end of the trailer is sufficiently deep in the water to accommodate the boat.

Also, the task of connecting the winch line to the boat can be a dangerous one because the user has to wade in the water as he walks along the trailer.

Briggs' invention assists the boat user in connecting the winch line to the boat, without having to wade into the water, and it also helps him position the lower end of the trailer in the water as he backs the trailer down the ramp.

With Briggs' invention, the boat trailer has a winch at its forward end and a rod with a float at its rear end. The rod is mounted pivotally so that, when the trailer is backed into the water, the float causes the rod to move from a horizontal position to an upright (vertical) position.

THE FLOAT is adjustable along the length of the rod.

By viewing the rod as he backs the trailer down the ramp during the boat launching, the boat user can determine, when the rod is in the vertical position, that the rear end of the trailer is deep enough for release of the boat.

The float device also makes it easier to reload the boat on the trailer.

When the boater has finished his outing, he returns to the launch area and winches the boat safely onto the trailer without having to wade in the water and without walking on the empty trailer, which is usually wet and slippery and half under water.

BRIGGS' PATENT shows three claims of originality. But getting the patent took time and cost money.

"We tried it on two different types of boats to see that it functioned OK," said Briggs. "It's just a plastic float that's simple and functional."

But to get his patent, Briggs had to obtain the services of a patent attorney and had to pay fees to the government. The whole process cost him $1,800.

Before the patent could even be considered it had to undergo a primary search to be certain there was not already a patent for the device.

Briggs could make money if he finds a company to mass produce the patented float.

The 44-year-old welder, employed at the Ford River Rouge plant, worked out the idea in his garage.

He plans to enroll for display at the upcoming Inventor's Exhibition in New York City.

Canton Chamber meets

The Canton Chamber of Commerce had its annual meeting last week to install officers and enjoy a social night amongst members. Speaker Ann D'arcy (left) spoke on the basic temperament types human personalities have and how knowledge of those types can be applied in life and business. Other entertainment at the annual meeting included the Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Swing Ensemble (below), directed by Laura Wiener. Shown in the picture at the bottom of the page are Frank McMurray selling a 50-50 ticket to Vicki Hiller of Master Lighting. Officers sworn in included: Tim Ford, president; Michael Shaft, first vice president; Jack Falvo, second vice president; and Sarah Berry, secretary.

A pigeon alternative?

Julie Catterall (left) and Amy Wilken last week did more than complain about Plymouth's plan to poison pigeons which have been roosting in a downtown parking structure (Central Parking Lot) and nearby buildings. The sisters said they saved 10 birds by snaring them with a fishing net, placing them in cages and moving them to a home in the city. Those pigeons most likely will be released on land owned by the Humane Society in Ann Arbor, Catterall said. Future forays were likely, she added. Although baiting of pigeons has already begun, poisoned feed hasn't yet been laid, said Paul Sincoc, assistant to the city manager. "We are looking at alternatives," he added.

Bills submitted following ambulance transports

Last year, CEMS received 402 emergency calls in the city and logged 231 transports, Rogers said. Township firefighters responded to 732 medical emergencies in 1985 and transported to hospitals 90-95 percent of the time, said Fire Chief Larry Groth.

ACCORDING TO current policy, a call for medical assistance in the city will result in the dispatch of a city rescue vehicle and firefighters to supply first aid and CEMS paramedics for advanced life support and transport if necessary.

"It's a very good system we have now," said Al Matthews, acting fire chief in the city. "The only time we transport to the hospital is if CEMS isn't available." That happened about a half dozen times all of last year, he added.

Apparently, not many persons wonder or complain about why they're billed for hospital transports.

"I'm sure people feel it's better than raising their taxes," said Henry Graper, Plymouth city manager. "I don't consider ambulance service to be the same as fire service."

"We were not interested in charging residents for services for which they were paying taxes on but we wanted to recover from their insurance," Breen said. "The only thing we weren't doing by not charging before was subsidizing insurance companies."

"You and I know when looking at police and fire services, it's not being paid out of property taxes," he added.

"WE PUT information together to make it easy for them to turn it over to their insurance," Breen said. "We have a provision that anyone who can't afford to pay we waive the charge and we do."

The township considers bills for senior citizens to be fully paid by whatever is received from Medicare, he said.

Matthews said lack of manpower (seven full-time firefighters) and CEMS' ability to provide advanced life support services prompted the city to get out of the ambulance transport business a couple of years ago.

"Liability factors were so heavy it was unbelievable," Graper said.

Rogers said CEMS also has provisions to help persons pay their bills.

"Our policy is to submit all bills to insurance providers," he said. "We also have a policy for any elderly patients who don't have insurance but private pay, we discount services."

"We will try to reconcile outstanding balances as best as possible," Rogers said. "We try to do the best we can with bad debt. If we have to pursue the consumer to the point we have to take them to court, we will."

Emergency hospital transports were provided without charge by local municipalities at one-time, but not today.

Prof says sell Michigan to state's residents first

Michael Bernacchi, a University of Detroit marketing professor, said the state Commerce Department's $3.4 million advertising campaign to sell Michigan is all well and good, but Michigan needs to be sold on its own product first.

"If Michiganders, and particularly Detroiters, continue to give out negative vibes about themselves, we will not do a good job of attracting business to the state," Bernacchi said.

Last October, Bernacchi and his marketing classes conducted a statewide survey on the attitudes of Detroiters, suburbanites and outstaters toward the city of Detroit. Although attitudes had improved since 10 years ago, the city was still perceived as having serious unresolved problems, such as safety on the streets.

On another gut issue — school quality — only 28.3 percent of city residents, 16.5 percent of suburban residents and 21.2 percent of outstaters answered affirmatively when asked, "Do you think of Detroit as a city with a good school system?"

"Until we take a hard look at the gut issues and do something about them, we are putting the cart before the horse in putting so much money into a statewide campaign," Bernacchi said.

Student reassignments to begin

Administrators have been hoping to get back to a K-5, 6-8, 9-12 building alignment since they had to begin juggling students five or six years ago due to overcrowding at the CEP, Homes said.

"Realistically, we've been looking real hard at this opportunity the last 18 months or so."

Homes said it's too early to determine community reaction to the new housing plan.

"I met with the school council, parent representatives from each school, this (Thursday) morning and I think the general feeling was a very receptive one. Certainly they have questions about details and we're moving toward solutions."

Richard Egli, administrative assistant for community relations, said he anticipates acceptance of the plan as it's publicized.

"I think it's being received very well and part of the reason is it's logical, timely, affordable and flexible," Egli said. "It makes sound educational sense as well and that's probably the most important."

Currently, six of the district's 12 elementary schools house grades K-6 and six elementaries house K-5. Four middle schools house grades 6-9 and one, Central, houses 7-9. Each of the two high schools houses grades 10-12.

COMING IN BETWEEN APPOINTMENTS

Arthritis has unexpected flares. It is possible to walk out of the doctor's office feeling fine, and wake up the next morning unable to move.

Surprisingly, patients will often wait until their next scheduled appointment, a month to six weeks away, to have their flare treated. "I felt I must have done something wrong and had to live with it."

There is no reason to feel guilty; the pain is not a punishment for crimes committed against your joints. Therefore, physicians do not consider it proper to have you live with the pain until it has heaped its fury upon you.

Also keep in mind that while therapy to cure arthritis is lacking, there is a great deal that physicians can do to stop a flare. Possible treatment includes: injecting joints, changing medicines or their dosages, initiating physical therapy, and providing short term leave-of-absence from work. These measures usually bring sufficient relief to permit sleep and the resumption of usual activities.

Finally, treatment early in a flare generally helps stop its momentum and makes early resolution possible.

If you hurt with arthritis, no matter how soon after your last appointment, contact your doctor. You may be surprised at the extent to which he or she can help.

Recalling the year the mouse stole the show

(Part II)

C.V. Sparks, a life member of the Plymouth Theatre Guild, was its treasurer for 14 years. Sparky, who appeared in a number of Guild plays beginning in the early 1950s, says his favorite was "My Three Angels" in which he had the leading role. It was directed by William Merrill in 1954.

Sparks remembers an amusing incident that occurred during the performance of one play in which he was cast. It was staged in the auditorium of what is now Central Middle School.

"There was a hole the size of a quarter in the floor at the end of the stage. Apparently some of the school children ate their lunch there and a few crumbs remained. While the play was in progress, a mouse crept out of the hole and began to eat the crumbs. When the audience applauded we thought it was for us but it was for the mouse."

WILLIAM MERRILL of the Will-O-Way Playhouse directed 11 plays for the Guild.

Kingsley Page directed five in the 1950s, Hal Young directed four, and Jack Wilcox three in the 1950s. Jake Pumpf directed four, and Bob Wall three in the 1960s. Andy Hruska directed four in the 1970s.

As indicated earlier, the city of Plymouth's Recreation Department sponsored the Guild during its first few years. Then in 1951 the Plymouth Adult Education and Recreation Commission was formed and the Plymouth Board of Education took over from the city the full responsibility of administering and financing it.

The office of the director, by this time Herbert E. Woolweaver, was moved from city hall to the high school. The new commission, composed of representatives from all sections of the school district, received funds from the school district. It was this commission that now became the sponsor, among other activities, of the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

During the same year, the Guild became one of the first theatrical groups in the state to join the Community Theatre Association of Michigan. Members of the Guild began to attend state conventions. Through this activity they began to learn what other guilds were doing. By this means, and through the public casting call requirement of the Community Theatre Association, the Plymouth Theatre Guild began to attract actors from other communities.

SOON JOINING Plymouth residents in plays presented on Plymouth were participants from Northville, Canton, Wayne, Redford, Livonia and Dearborn.

When the Community Theatre Association held its 1960 convention it was in Plymouth and the local theatre guild was its host.

Beginning in 1955, the Guild began presenting three shows a season. In the fall of 1957, it became a non-profit Michigan corporation. That was the year Effie Kuisel, one of the Guild's charter members, was cast in a play put on at Will-O-Way.

Also in the late 1950s, the Guild became active in the summer, entering floats in the July Fourth parade. All of its floats won awards, including three first places.

Membership in the Guild during the 1958-9 season reached an all-time high of 265. Of these about 99 were active. In 1959, "The Tea House of the August Moon," directed by Hal and Loretta Young, drew an attendance of 1,100.

The Guild's efforts to accumulate equipment and costumes suffered two setbacks both due to fire. The first occurring in the old Bartlett School House on Canton Center Road north of Ford in Canton. The school was no longer being used for education for the Guild got board permission to use part of it as a workshop.

past and present
Sam Hudson

The fire, which began on Dec. 21, 1960, in an addition of the building damaged the school house and destroyed much of the Guild's equipment and costumes. The building was re-born.

Oysters make hit 'at Lenten suppers

Down in the Pennsylvania Dutch country where The Stroller was born and raised, the folks have an unusual way of celebrating the Lenten season. They stress food through the medium of church suppers.

In our little town, the churches years ago got together and fostered a string of suppers — each week one of the churches would take over. Then in turn until the summer months came along, each church played host to the entire community. And few of us ever went hungry.

With this program there was one special day. It was the day before Good Friday and was known as "Fasnacht" day. In our memory of this day it was always "Doughnut Day."

The person who was last down to the breakfast table was the doughnut for the day, and even the grown-ups were stored and the Guild was able to use it for a few more years.

After the school board decided it needed Bartlett School for its own storage purposes, the Guild was given permission to use a barn on school property on Canton Center Road where Centennial Educational Park (CEP) was later established.

In the late 1960s, as part of the site preparation for the two new Plymouth-

Canton high schools, the barn was burned. Whoever applied the torch apparently was unaware that the Theatre Guild's stores were still in the building.

WHEN THE Plymouth Rotary Club moved its chicken barbecue to Kellogg Park in the fall of 1960 and begin to call it "The Fall Festival," the Plymouth Theatre Guild was among the arts organizations invited by Rotary to participate.

In that year, the Guild performed a one-act play in the park. It was called "The Mad Hatter's Tea Party." In the fall of 1963, again as a part of the Fall Festival, the Guild put on a skit called "When The Lamp Went Out." It was repeated during the following year.

Taking advantage of the opportunity to raise funds which the Fall Festival presented, the Guild began to sell refreshments through a large theatrical "happy" mask and had a make-up booth for children. The Guild also acquired a cotton candy machine and a popcorn wagon and began to sell cotton candy, popcorn and pop during the Fall Festival and other community events.

The Guild has also tried its hand at producing children's shows. In October 1962 William Mandt of the Guild wrote and directed a children's play, "The Fisherman and His Wife," which was presented with the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women (AAUW). Tickets sold for 35 cents.

Other children's shows produced by the Guild included "Once Upon a Time" in 1973. The favorite children's show presented by the Guild is said to be "Jack and the Beanstalk."

serious in this designation.

THE INTERESTING thing about these church suppers was the way the events were separated and became known.

For instance, the Presbyterian church usually opened the series with an oyster supper. They served oysters in every known style. This was always one of the main suppers and the women were kept busy frying oysters for hours.

Catholic church handled the German supper and what food they served.

THERE WAS never any real competition, the town folk attended all suppers.

So far as The Stroller was concerned, he enjoyed the oyster suppers above all the others. It was there that he learned to shuck oysters, and he spent hours opening these so-called pearls of the sea. He ate them by the dozen, and his mother supervised the frying. And we were kept busy until closing time.

Mother was the leader as a cook who knew how to fry oysters, and one year she added deviled clams — a great dish for a church — and our oyster supper finally took the lead as the most popular in town.

Breakfasts for Breakfast Skippers

What's your excuse? Despite the fact that most nutritionists tout breakfast as the most important meal of the day, most of us have our own individual reason for skipping breakfast or for consuming foods that are inadequate substitutes for a well-rounded meal.

"I haven't got enough time to make it and/or eat it." "I can't afford the calories." "I don't like bland breakfast foods." "Breakfast is a boring routine." All these excuses and more have been used as our rationale for letting our bodies run on an insufficient fuel supply for the morning's activities.

Honestly, though, all these justifications are simply a pretext for the truth—we haven't given breakfast priority over other things in our lives such as wanting more sleep time or kidding ourselves into thinking that skipping breakfast is a sensible way to diet. Each of the recipes here is designed to shatter at least one breakfast skipper alibi. So, why not face the facts, realign your priorities and bring the benefits of breakfast back into your life?

SUNRISE NOG

1 serving

When seconds count, you can get protein, vitamins and minerals you need to start the day by simply tossing ingredients into a blender. Substitute 2% or skim milk for whole if you're also counting calories. A slice of whole-wheat or rye toast or a bran muffin would round out the menu with minimum fuss.

- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1 small banana, peeled and chunked
- Halved orange slice, optional
- Mint leaves, optional

Place all ingredients except orange slice and mint leaves in 5-cup blender container or mixing bowl. Cover and blend or beat at medium speed until smooth, about 30 seconds. Pour into 12-ounce glass. Garnish with orange slice and mint leaves, if desired. Serve immediately.

MAKE-AHEAD FRENCH TOAST

6 servings

Start your day the easy way by popping breakfast out of your toaster! It's simple and sensible to prepare homemade French toast whenever it's convenient for you. Then, freeze for later reheating in your toaster or oven. Mix and match topping/s to suit your taste and nutritional needs.

- 12 eggs
- 1/2 cup milk
- 12 slices whole-grain or enriched bread
- Butter, optional
- Topping/s

Beat together eggs and milk until well blended. Pour half of the egg mixture into 13x9x2-inch baking pan. Place 6 of the bread slices in the egg mixture. Turn slices and let stand until egg mixture is absorbed. Place on heavily buttered baking sheet. Repeat with remaining egg mixture and bread slices.

Bake in preheated 500°F. oven 6 minutes. Turn slices. Spread with butter, if desired. Continue baking until golden brown, about 3 to 4 minutes more. Serve immediately with preferred topping/s or freeze for later use.

To freeze: Cool toast slices on wire rack. Return to baking sheet/s. Freeze in single layer for 1 to 2 hours. Wrap in individual-serving portions or stack slices and wrap. Return to freezer. Store up to 1 month.

To serve frozen toast: Reheat single servings in toaster or place unwrapped slices on ungreased baking sheet/s and bake in preheated 375°F. oven until hot, 8 to 10 minutes.

Savory Topping/s Possibilities
Thinly sliced beef, ham or luncheon meat
Canned meat spread, salmon, tuna or smoked fish
Thinly sliced cheese, cream cheese or cheese spread
Baked beans or chili

Peanut butter

Sweet Topping/s Possibilities

EGGS JOSÉ

1 serving

If you're a marmota (sleepyhead) who doesn't care for traditionally bland breakfast dishes, wake up your taste buds with the snap of Mexican cuisine, pizzazz of Italian flavors or dash of delicatessen delights! This steam-basted method of frying eggs cuts both cooking time and calories, but, if you prefer, you can substitute scrambled eggs by using either more butter or a nonstick pan and vegetable spray-on. Or, allow a bit more time to poach the eggs for fat-free cooking.

- Butter
- 2 eggs
- 2 tablespoons (0.5 oz.) shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 2 teaspoons water
- 2 tablespoons bottled taco sauce
- 2 small OR 1 large flour tortilla/s
- Parsley sprigs, optional

Over medium heat, heat just enough butter to grease skillet until hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Break and slip eggs into skillet. Top each egg with 1 tablespoon of the cheese. Add water. Cover skillet tightly to hold in steam. Reduce heat to low and cook to desired doneness. Spread sauce on tortilla/s. Top with eggs. Garnish with parsley, if desired.

VARIATIONS:

Eggs Giuseppe: Substitute mozzarella cheese for the Monterey Jack cheese, pizza sauce for the taco sauce and toasted Italian bread slices or English muffin halves for the tortillas.

Eggs Joseph: Eliminate cheese and sauce. Substitute toasted bagel halves for the tortilla/s. Spread bagel halves with whipped cream cheese with smoked salmon or whipped cream cheese with chives. Dollop eggs with additional cream cheese, if desired.

To microwave eggs: Break and slip 1 egg into each of 2 greased 10-ounce custard cups. Gently pierce yolks with wooden pick. Sprinkle with cheese. Cover with plastic wrap. Cook on 50% power just until eggs are almost desired doneness, about 2 to 3 minutes. Let stand, covered, until desired doneness, about 30 seconds to 1 minute.

EASY, ELEGANT EGG BAKE

2 servings

Posh and pretty, this weekend special is as simple as 1,2,3. Pop prepared patty shells into the oven, break in some eggs and dollop with a quick-to-fix topping. Voilà, a breakfast or brunch entree to savor while you sip your favorite juice!

- 4 frozen patty shells
- 4 eggs
- 1/4 cup (2 oz.) dairy sour cream
- 1 can (2 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1/4 teaspoon dill weed
- Dash salt
- Dill sprigs, optional

Begin to bake patty shells according to package directions. After 20 minutes, remove from oven. Reduce temperature to 375°F. Carefully remove centers of tops and soft pastry underneath. Set aside.* Break and slip an egg into each shell. Continue baking until egg whites are almost set, about 14 to 15 minutes. Meanwhile, blend together sour cream, mushrooms and seasonings. Remove shells from oven. Spoon 2 tablespoons of the sour cream mixture over each egg.

Continue baking until hot, about 3 minutes. Garnish with dill sprigs, if desired.

*Bake tops alongside filled shells and serve as lids or accompaniments, if desired.

BREAKFAST IN A BOWL

1 serving

This hot and hearty meal-in-one combines all Four Basic Food Groups. Choose your favorite cereal grain—oats, wheat, corn or rice—to provide needed fiber. Get a good start on your day's calcium intake by cooking in milk. Toss in convenient, already diced dried fruits, a concentrated form of vitamins and minerals. And, top it all off with the high-quality protein of an egg for good nutrition in a jiffy!

- 1 serving ready-to-cook cereal (regular, quick-cooking or instant)

Milk

- 1/4 cup packaged diced mixed dried fruit bits

1 egg

Maple-flavored syrup, honey or brown sugar, optional

Using regular or quick-cooking cereal: Cook cereal according to package directions substituting milk for water. Stir in fruit bits or reserve for garnish. Reduce heat to very low. Break and slip egg into cereal. Cover and continue cooking until egg is desired doneness, about 5 to 7 minutes. Ladle into serving bowl. Serve with syrup, if desired.

Using instant cereal: Cook cereal according to package directions substituting milk for water. Stir in fruit bits or reserve for garnish. Immediately break and slip egg into cereal. With fork, stir until thoroughly blended.

TAKE-ALONG BREAKFAST SPECIAL

2 servings

Breakfast doesn't have to be...well, breakfast. After dinner tonight or while dinner's cooking, stir together the few ingredients needed for this savory egg salad and refrigerate. Tomorrow morning spread on your choice of toasted breadstuff, broil or not as you prefer, wrap and rrrrrun!

- 4 hard-cooked eggs,* chopped
- 1/4 cup (1 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
- 1-1/2 tablespoons bottled bacon-and-tomato-flavored French dressing
- 2 to 4 toasted waffles, English muffin halves or bread slices
- Thin tomato wedges, optional
- Parsley sprigs, optional

In small bowl, stir together eggs, cheese and dressing. Cover and chill to blend flavors. Spread 1/2 of the mixture on each of 2 waffles. In oven or toaster oven, broil 6 inches from heat until warm, about 3 minutes, if desired. Top with additional waffles, if desired. Garnish with tomato wedges and parsley, if desired.

*To hard-cook, put eggs in single layer in saucepan. Add enough tap water to come at least 1 inch above eggs. Cover and quickly bring just to boiling. Turn off heat. If necessary, remove from burner to prevent further boiling. Let eggs stand, covered, in the hot water 15 to 17 minutes for large eggs. (Adjust time up or down by about 3 minutes for each size larger or smaller.) Immediately run cold water over eggs or put them in ice water until completely cooled. To remove shell, crackle it by tapping gently all over. Roll egg between hands to loosen shell, then peel, starting at large end. Hold egg under running cold water or dip in bowl of water to help ease off shell.

Salad heats up cold-weather meals

Warming, satisfying, nourishing

Serving your family a salad on cold-weather days may seem inconsistent with the season. But a main-dish salad, like Warm Herb and Beef Salad, makes a satisfying and nourishing winter meal.

Besides the nutritional benefits of a main-dish salad, it's quick and easy to prepare. Start by cutting partially frozen beef flank steak into thin pieces.

Stir-fry these bite-size pieces very quickly in a small amount of oil. This popular Oriental cooking method provides tender and juicy beef, enhances the fresh flavors and beautiful colors of the vegetables and helps retain the nutrients in the finished dish.

For a distinctive flavor to the warm salad, prepare a hot dressing of red wine vinegar, garlic, basil, sugar, salt and pepper. Fresh basil provides the best flavor, but dried basil leaves may be used when fresh is not available. One-half cup loosely packed fresh basil leaves, chopped, may be substituted for the dried basil leaves.

Heat the dressing with the stir-fried beef. Then spoon the whole mixture over lettuce leaves and serve immediately with crusty bread and sliced cheeses.

WARM HERB AND BEEF SALAD

Preparation time: 15 minutes
Cooking time: 10 minutes

- 1 beef flank steak, 1 to 1 1/2 lbs.
- 1/4 cup red wine vinegar
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tsp. dried basil leaves
- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 6 cups torn mixed greens (Boston lettuce and spinach)
- 1 Tbsp. olive oil
- 1 medium onion, cut into thin wedges
- 1 medium red pepper, cut into strips

Cut beef flank steak lengthwise into 3 strips. Slice across the grain into thin pieces. Combine vinegar, garlic, basil, sugar, salt and pepper; reserve. Place mixed greens in salad bowl or on platter. Stir-fry beef (1/2 at a time) in hot oil in non-stick frying pan. Remove with slotted spoon. Add onion and red pepper to pan and stir-fry 2 to 3 minutes or until tender crisp. Return beef to pan with reserved dressing and heat through. Spoon beef mixture and hot dressing over mixed greens. Toss and serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

It doesn't take long to make a nutritious main-dish salad when you stir-fry flank steak strips for Warm Herb and Beef Salad.

Know your meat thermometers

Two types of meat thermometers are available — a standard meat thermometer and a rapid-response thermometer.

A standard meat thermometer is placed in large meat cuts during the entire cooking period. The rapid-response thermometer, which may also be called "quick recovery" or "instant-read," will give an instant internal temperature reading whenever it is inserted. However, some thermometers cannot be used in an oven. Check the instructions on the package when you purchase the thermometer.

The most important criteria for selecting a meat thermometer are accuracy, ease of use, quality and design.

Accuracy can be tested by holding a thermometer in boiling water until the indicator stops moving. The thermometer should register 212 degrees F.

Thermometers should also be easy to insert and read. White faces with black numbers are the best, and the easiest to read when in a vertical position.

No victims, villains in realistic story

Gene Hackman is Harry, a Seattle steelworker who builds a new life for himself with Audrey, a barmaid played by Ann-Margret, after he realizes he has been unfulfilled in his marriage.

"Twice in a Lifetime" (R) is a little movie whose every minor detail is so well drawn that the final product is a major motion picture that should please everyone.

Contrary to the conventional wisdom that success at the box office only comes to teeny-bopper, rock or sci-fi epics, "Twice in a Lifetime" is none of those but shows every indication of being a major hit.

While the story is about middle-age and divorce, it so effectively touches every generation affected by domestic tragedy that all will be warmed by its humanism.

Harry Mackenzie (Gene Hackman) is a cheerful steelworker, best characterized by his exterior pretense. When told he's looking good, he responds, "I've started drinking again."

INSIDE, HOWEVER, discontent brews and Harry, a pretty sensitive guy, is somehow unfulfilled. His long-term marriage to Kate (Ellen Burstyn) has a momentum of its own but no longer any substance.

That's not to say there's nothing left. Their three children, Jerry (Darrell Larson), Sunny (Amy Madigan) and Helen (Ally Sheedy) are important, as is Sunny's husband, Keith (Stephen Lang), and their children, Joanne (Rachel Street) and Chris (Kevin Bleyer).

To director Bud Yorkin's credit, this family is so well portrayed that you will wish they lived on your block. Of course, Colin Welland's script, Nick McLean's photography and superb acting by the entire cast help things along tremendously well.

Despite all this, Harry is restless. At the local bar, where his friends stage his gala 50th birthday party, Harry meets the new barmaid, Audrey (Ann Margret), and falls in love. Kate had stayed home, knowing she would feel out of place while Harry was drinking with his friends.

Harry's affair with Audrey wreaks havoc with his marriage and with his family. In particular, Sunny is distraught because shaking the foundations of family make her question her own shaky marriage. Keith, her husband, is an unemployed steelworker and that, as you all well know, can rock any marriage. Sunny needs stability in her parent's life for her own sanity.

The film is structured around three marriages — the oldest, Harry and Kate's, is breaking up; Sunny and Keith's is struggling to survive, while Helen's is just beginning. With the grandchildren, the generational spread, as well as the three stages of marriage, blend into one carefully crafted family. Everyone will find a place in this do-

the movies
Dan Greenberg

Everyone will find a place in this domestic tragedy, but it is tragedy that ennobles.

mestic tragedy. But it is tragedy that ennobles.

BEYOND THAT structure, the story plays in such well-balanced and counterbalanced ways that there are no victors and no victims, just human beings blighted by family problems.

Harry's best friend, Nick (Brian Dennehy), faces him down on the terrible way Harry is treating Kate because of Audrey. Harry's abusive response works dramatically because he's not leaning on a little guy. Dennehy weighs in around 280. It takes strength, character if you will, or at least great personal conviction, to fight with a big guy. Harry's love for Audrey, however you may feel about what he's doing to his marriage, gives him strength. Burstyn's Kate surpasses all of the stunningly evocative and realistic performances. Her growth and survival, in spite of Harry's desertion, is a marvelous representation of the very best of the human spirit.

Burstyn's Kate develops from dependency and injury to strength and beauty. One usually associates flowering with youth, but Kate blooms in her middle age with the delicate nuances of Burstyn's acting skill at every turn.

"Twice in a Lifetime" is a film that projects so well every aspect of domestic tragedy that all will emphasize and find joy in its affirmation of humanity in the face of tragedy.

'Catch Me If You Can' has mystery, suspense

Performances of "Catch Me If You Can," presented by the Troy Players, continue at 8 p.m. Friday-Saturday, Jan. 24-25, and Friday, Jan. 31, at the Troy Community Center. For ticket information, call 879-1285 anytime.

By Helen Zucker
special writer

The Troy Players production of Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert's "Catch Me If You Can" caught me by surprise. I had never heard of Weinstock, Gilbert, or the play, and I am glad to have caught up with this clever writing team and its wonderfully complicated mystery.

"Catch Me If You Can" has everything a good suspense play should have: an unsolved murder, lots of suspects, rumbling thunder in the Catskill mountains, strange poisons, guns, a terrific set by Linda Brick, an enormous moose head, and a smashing surprise ending.

Timothy Mohan is absolutely believable as clean-cut Daniel Corban, the frantic newlywed whose wife appears to be missing.

Mohan scatters advertising phrases, credit cards and quick-witted thinking with equal aplomb.

Phillip D. Martin is especially good as Inspector Levine, a "rural cop." Martin not only manages to look like Peter Falk, his New York accent is sheer Falk. Martin's pleasure in playing Levine adds to the delight of listening to him, especially since the good inspector has most of the good lines.

PHILOMENA SOMERS, as Elizabeth Corbin, turns in the most-polished performance. Somers is good to look at, and a joy to listen to. George Hotz is wonderfully funny as Sidney's Sandwich Shop. Hotz looks like the uncle everyone wants to eat brunch with, especially since this uncle brings the brunch — and brunch includes Sidney's special coffee and Sidney's own ketchup.

Jim Tolpos and Linda Pacella as Everett and Mrs. Parker, a swinging couple who pop in to add to the confusion, are deft and flashy. David Kery is a bit stiff as Father Kelleher, but since Kery isn't really a Father at all, it's easy to forgive this slight unevenness.

Director Stephen Kiersey does a good job getting his characters to interact, but it wouldn't hurt if the pace was a bit quicker. Everyone in this play seems to drive a yellow Mustang with Michigan plates, and the play is at its best when it zips along like a fast car — and for the most part, it does.

Kudos to the cast and crew.

Martin not only manages to look like Peter Falk, his New York accent is sheer Falk.

Stargazers Traveling to South America

AMATEUR astronomers think Halley's Comet is just "out of this world." A few are even traveling out of the country to have a better look at it. Bryan Shumaker of West Bloomfield is leading an expedition of 15 explorers April 1-12 to Chile, Bolivia and Peru.

"It will be a once in a lifetime opportunity to see the comet rising over Machu Picchu, a lost city of the Inca Indians," Shumaker said.

He's headed for South America because it's the ideal spot for viewing the celestial wonder.

Halley's appears roughly every 76 years and is considered a vast storehouse of information about the solar system. It's believed to be composed of gases and ices existing at the birth of the sun and nine planets.

SIR EDMOND Halley, an inventor, mathematician and engineer, was the first to conclude that apparitions of the comet in 76-year intervals were the reappearance of the same object. He also determined that the orbits were in cigar-shaped ellipses.

"The fascination with Halley's is that it's like a big clock keeping beat to human life," explained Ray Bullock, coordinator of astronomy at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

Bullock has organized an exhibit and weekend planetarium shows at the science museum.

"All comets are believed to be composed of gases and ices existing when the solar system was formed. "Since they spend most of their time in deep space, they stay frozen.

"If we can analyze them, we can get an idea of what the solar system was like."

Shumaker has scanned the skies for Halley's through the telescope he constructed and placed on his property. But, because of the poor weather conditions, all he could see was a "fuzzy ball."

Astronomy is his avocation. His vocation is urologist at Henry Ford Hospital.

THE SELF-TAUGHT amateur has published articles in Astronomy, Sky and Telescope and Popular Science magazines. He's also been appointed adjunct assistant professor of physics at Oakland University, Rochester Hills.

"I'm not a hard scientist concerned about astrophysics," he admits. "I enjoy the beauty and the mystique of astronomy."

Shumaker discusses his observations with other members of the Warren Astronomical Society, which meets at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills.

Another member, Robert Lennox of Troy, can't afford a trip to South America. He teamed up with a few of his friends and built a small observatory on private property.

"We made our first observations in September. And, we saw it the last couple of nights, but it still isn't very impressive. It's just a light gray smudge against a black background."

In contrast, Lennox recalls that Comet West, which appeared in 1976, was much more spectacular.

"It was a white/blue comet on a reddish sky — bright enough to shine through twilight."

In fact, stargazers won't be able to see a magnificent show of Halley's Comet until 2,136 — 150 years from now.

"That's when the comet will be four times closer to the earth (only eight million miles away) and take up a third of the sky as it (blazes) across," noted Mike Best of Plymouth, founder of the Astronomy Club of Livonia. He also teaches astronomy classes at Schoolcraft College.

Best, who calls himself the "poor man's Carl Sagan," recently gave a slide presentation about Halley's at the Lloyd A. Stage Outdoor Education Center in Troy.

When he viewed the "faint star" through his telescope, he noticed a "tiny pink, yellow and green flickering light."

"My heart didn't stand still," he joked.

Best would love to travel to South America to get a glimpse of the comet.

"I canceled my trip to Lima, Peru because it has the same safety level as Beirut, Lebanon," he said with a laugh.

HALLEY'S COMET

Mike Best of Plymouth, Michigan, the poor man's Carl Sagan, presenting slides about Halley's Comet.

Spotting Halley's in heavens

Things are looking up for skywatchers. If you're a true Halley's Comet follower, then you know that the celestial wonder is lost in the sun's glare until late February.

But, that gives true devotees time to head south, preferably to Florida or South America, where the comet will be directly overhead during March and April.

If you can't afford the trip, then take photographs somewhere near a clear horizon. The Lake Huron shore is a great spot. Buy a single lens reflex camera, put it on a tripod and open the lens to its widest aperture, turn the focus to infinity and shoot.

But don't expect much. Amateur astronomers who have a clear shot of the horizon will see a fuzzy spot and a long tail.

"It won't be visually spectacular," notes Mike Best of Plymouth, founder of the Astronomy Club of Livonia. "This is the worst apparition in 2,000 years."

FROM LATE February to April 5, the comet is best seen as morning twilight begins, about one and half hours before sunrise. Halley's reaches its greatest brilliance from April 6-13, but unfortunately it's too low to be seen well from the northern United States.

As Halley's speeds toward its closest approach to earth in March, it will have a close encounter with five space probes — two launched by Japan, two by the Soviet Union and one by the 11 nations of the European Space Agency.

That's when the comet passes through earth's orbital plane, the same level in which the spacecraft travel.

Sakigake (Pioneer) and Suisei (Comet) — Japan's probes — will take a look at solar wind and the hydrogen cloud around the comet. The Soviet Union's Vega 1 and Vega 2 will examine the dust motes and charged gases around the comet's nucleus.

Glottos will come the closest — within 500 miles of the nucleus — and shoot thousands of photographs.

"I WONDER IF THAT SWELL PIECE OF TAIL IS GOING TO STOP AT MY HOUSE?"

Doomsday disaster?

FLASHBACK. It's approaching May 19, 1910. Your worst comet phobia may soon be realized. Will the earth's journey through Halley's tail signal doomsday disaster?

Should you cash in your life insurance, withdraw your savings from the bank, and fly to the French Riviera to attend the latest celestial costume party?

Imagine sipping a Halley's Highball, a Nucleus Brandy Cocktail, Vin while chatting with the creme de la creme of Paris. Ooh. La. La.

A bit too expensive for your tastes? Stay home and follow this pseudo-medical advice: Swallow anti-comet pills. Don a gas mask, wear protective clothing and carry a comet protecting umbrella to walk down Main Street.

If you truly need to get away before the fateful day, write a check for a voyage to the moon, payable to your local Comety (as in this must be a bad joke) Travel Agency.

ABSURD, you say? Well, my dear incredulous reader, these were real decisions facing many folks who frantically awaited Weltuntergang — the end of the world.

When scientists sighted Moreau's Comet in 1910, they analyzed the chemical composition of its tail and discovered the presence of cyanogen gas. They also calculated that the earth would pass through Halley's tail in 1910. The combination of cyanogen and hydrogen produces prussic acid — a single drop of which could kill a person.

Scientists warned the public there was no imminent danger. "You talk of impending disaster? No talk of nonsense," Professor Henry W. Wilson of the Harvard astronomical laboratory asserted in one newspaper article.

Astronomers explained that the comet's tail is really an absolute vacuum. Consequently, its impact would be negligible.

"If you took a section of the comet's tail the size of Mechanics Building, and then took out of that section all the gas and all the solid matter it contained and fed it to a young baby, it wouldn't hurt the baby," the Boston American reported.

Despite scientists' claims, an unformed public remained panic-stricken.

"Thousands of Negroes flocked into Memphis, Tenn.," said one press report. "They claim to have been told by a 'prophet' that Halley's comet will destroy the earth at noon today."

Kentucky farmers refused to plant crops and insisted on conducting all-night revival services to "get right with God."

"The Rev. Abraham Lincoln Johnson, a Negro, is holding meetings on the streets of Philadelphia," West. "Many people are being misled by the prophet's claims."

Other reports of hysteria were heard from the mountains of the West. "The people of the hills are being misled by the prophet's claims," said one newspaper.

"I remember things were done of everything was going to happen," said Earl Lewis of Birmingham, on the other hand, who was fascinated with Halley's Comet that he didn't pay any attention to the predictions.

"I think it was all exaggeration on the part of the media," took protest to a Baptist church and never heard anybody mention the end of the world."

As an inquisitive 12-year-old, Lewis would pass up at the city above him and saw this great, big comet in the light with a tail. He thought it didn't need fireworks.

Cartoons and background information were taken from "Halley's Comet, Memories of 1910" written by Roberts Eiler and Stuart Scheidter and published by Abbeville Press, Abbeville, New York. Information available at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Tongues of fire in the sky have a long and storied history

Throughout history, comets seemed to appear suddenly and unpredictably, blazing across the skies with their sabre-shaped tails. Early man viewed the awesome apparition as a stranger invading the skies, a heavenly weapon forged by gods and as a harbinger of disasters, pestilence, wars, droughts, earthquakes and floods.

Although scientists have dispelled most of the myths, some of them remain. The following facts, illustrated with drawings, are included in an exhibit at the Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills:

- The Chinese were the first to sight and record the appearance of comets in 613 B.C. They also were the first to chronicle Halley's coming in 240 B.C. The Chinese thought the fiery darts were celestial brooms sweeping evil from heavenly floors, then dumping the disasters on earth.

- Roman Emperor Marius' leadership was being questioned and his government faced great opposition when he saw the comet in 86 B.C. Believing the comet was a warning from the gods that his political enemies would act against him, Marius ordered the massacre of Rome's leading aristocrats.

- Jewish historian Flavius Josephus described Halley's A.D. 66 return as a "sword hanging in the sky" four years prior to the fall of Jerusalem.

- The comet was blamed for the great Chinese plague that spread throughout the world killing more than 400,000 people in Italy alone.

- Attila the Hun's armies ravaged much of Europe and seemed invincible until the summer of A.D. 451. As Halley's hung in the northern sky, Roman general Flavius Aetius defeated Hun's army at the Battle of Chalons.

- When Halley blazed by in A.D. 1066, William the Conqueror of Normandy considered the comet a favorable sign to invade England. Harold, the Saxon king of England, viewed it as an omen of disaster. William defeated Harold at the Battle of Hastings and appointed himself the first Norman king of England.

- "Scimitar" (blade) shaped Halley's hovered over Damascus in A.D. 1145 at the beginning of the second Great Crusade to the Holy Land. Apparently, the two European kings leading the Christian forces feared the star and became mistrustful of each other. This paranoia eventually led to their defeat by the Muslims.

- Genghis Khan believed the comet was a sign from the great beyond and intensified his reign of terror during the conquest of Asia in 1222.

- Renaissance painter Giotto di Bondone was so impressed with the shooting star that he portrayed it as the Star of Bethlehem in his famous work "Adoration of the Magi" in 1301. (Halley's nearest appearance to the birth of Christ was in 11 B.C.)

- The comet signaled in 1456 when Belgrade fell into the hands of attacking Turkish armies. Pope Calixtus III summoned the kings of Europe to raise a Holy Army and save Christendom from the Moslems. He ordered noon prayers and excommunicated the comet as an instrument of the devil.

- Halley's appearance in 1531 was blamed for disasters by Inca chiefs and high priests, who began sacrificing small children to pacify the sun god.

- Although the spectre first showed up in 1835, it was visible into the spring of 1836 during the Battle of the Alamo. Some have suggested that the comet's presence prompted Mexicans to mount the attack and Texans to defend the fort courageously.

- Mark Twain was born during Halley's 1835 visit and he died just before the comet returned in 1910.

- The earth's passage through Halley's tail (containing poisonous gases) in 1910 triggered suicides, burglaries and even drove ministers to flee to Mexico with church funds. People sealed their windows with everything from rags to concrete. Con-men became wealthy from the sale of comet-pills, elixirs, gas masks and other paraphernalia. An Oklahoma sheriff stopped local townspeople from sacrificing a virgin. And, the Chicago Cubs won the World Series.

John Glenn routs Rocks

By C.J. Riack
staff writer

The showdown was a no-show. Showdown was supposed to be what would happen when Plymouth Salem visited Westland John Glenn Friday. The two teams were tied for first atop the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Lakes Division at 5-2, and both had 6-4 overall records going into the game. A battle royale loomed.

But by the middle of the second quarter, after the Rockets had shot past the Rocks with a 12-2 run to assume a 31-19 lead, it was apparent this showdown would fizzle.

It did. Glenn's 10-point halftime lead grew to 15 after three quarters and kept ballooning until a final of 77-55.

AS BAD AS the final margin was, there was little Salem coach Bob Brodie could be upset about regarding the Rocks' performance. After all, this was the second game with three starters out. Tom D'Angelo has been ill, Tony Moore broke his ankle and Jeff Justice hurt a knee.

The bench was getting thin. Against Glenn, Brodie started Keith Smith, a sophomore recently summoned from the junior varsity.

Smith played well, considering the circumstances, scoring eight points. But Salem, now 6-5 (5-3 in the division), just didn't have the personnel to harness the red-hot Rockets.

"We couldn't stop them," Brodie said bluntly. "We tried a little zone (defense), we tried a little man, we tried a little pressure. Nothing seemed to work."

"They are on a roll, and they're playing well together."

That assessment couldn't be more accurate. Glenn led 19-17 after one quarter, but it was obvious what kind of game Salem would have to play to win. The Rockets made just three turnovers and hit nine of 16 floor shots. Salem was eight of 21 from the field and made two miscues.

SEVEN SECOND-QUARTER Rock turnovers fed Glenn's rally. Andy Grazulis had the biggest appetite, dishing up eight of his 18 points in the period. Steve Hawley was nearly as voracious, accounting for six Rocket points in their 12-2 run that didn't end until Paul Makara hit a jumper with 2:44 left.

By that time, Glenn was up a dozen and headed for a 35-25 halftime buge. Grazulis had 12 points by intermission, Hawley had eight and Tony Boles six. The Rocks' only answer was Makara, who had 10 at the half and finished with 20 points.

The second half consisted of valiant efforts by Salem to stop the Glenn steamroller. For short periods the Rocks did, but it often was no more than trading baskets with the run-and-gun Rockets.

Salem's scoring came in spurts, and in between Glenn just kept winging. The Rockets finished the third quarter with a 10-2 streak, pushing them to a 54-39 lead. They scored nine straight midway through the fourth quarter, then ended the game by getting the final six points.

AT THE EYE of the onslaught was Hawley. He had eight of Glenn's points in the third-quarter surge, and seven of the nine in the middle of the final period, after Salem pulled to within 60-51 with 4:53 left. The junior sharpshooting guard finished with a game-high 26. Boles added 16.

Mike Hale was the only other Rock to reach double figures in scoring with 11. That, too, served as proof of the effectiveness of Glenn's zone defense. The Rockets suffocated Salem's inside game.

All things considered, it was an awesome Rocket display. And yet, coach Gordie Davis wasn't so sure.

"We came down a notch from Tuesday's game," he said. He was serious, too. Glenn's 85-53 win over Northville was even more convincing, Davis felt.

"If we can just keep getting a little bit better every game," said Davis, whose team is now 7-4 overall and alone atop the Lakes Division at 6-2. "We're getting our confidence. All we have to do is get a little better each time out."

Should the Rockets get much better, they'll be a whole lot better than their WLAA rivals.

Salem's Ted Hanosh (No. 12) goes to the basket the Rocks to take sole possession of first place around Glenn's Jerry Diets-Spiff. Glenn walloped in the Lakes Division.

Ocelots survive Alpena

What's the mark of a good basketball team? Not just the number of victories it accumulates. A good team sometimes can play poorly and still win.

Such was the case with Schoolcraft College's womens squad last week. The Lady Ocelots had a terrible outing against Alpena Community College Wednesday, but the end result was the same as their previous four Eastern Conference encounters: a win.

But this was the closest game in league play yet. SC won 67-54 at home against a team figured to be among the worst in the conference. The Lady Ocelots had ACC (1-4 in the league) on the ropes several times in the second half after building a 32-23 edge at the intermission.

THE SPREAD swayed between six and 12 points throughout the second half, with SC never assuming control the way it should have.

"We were playing a bottom team and we let up," SC assistant coach Jack Grenan said. "Most everything we did was half-speed. We were sluggish, both offensively and defensively."

The Lady Ocelots, 5-0 in the conference, had five players reach double figures in scoring, but leading scorer Kim Chandler fouled out with 14 minutes left after scoring just 10 points. Chandler, a sophomore forward, is third in SC's four-state region in scoring with a 21-points-per-game average.

Sue Lubbe's 13 points topped SC, with Colleen McKay getting 12, Tracy Ladouceur 11 and Aimee Frye 10. Lubbe and Ladouceur each nabbed six rebounds.

Vicki Willis netted 14 points for Alpena CC.

THE LETHARGY exhibited by SC on Wednesday was not of epidemic proportions. By Thursday, the Lady Ocelots were cured of their overconfidence, and it showed in a 96-68 thumping of the visiting Siena Heights junior varsity team.

"We turned it around," Grenan said. "We got back on track. The Alpena game brought us back down to earth. We got back to our work ethic."

SC also got back to playing intense pressure defense. The first half, Grenan said, "was probably the best half we've played all year." It showed, as the Lady Ocelots sprinted to a 49-28 lead by halftime.

They continued to pour it on in the second half, never letting up — another quality common to their season's successes. Again, five Lady Ocelots reached double figures in scoring, although the numbers were more impressive: Chandler (25 points), Ladouceur (15), Lubbe (14), Lori Abbas (13) and Sheri Wolfe (11).

Chandler was top rebounder with 12. Ladouceur had 11 and Lubbe nine.

SC improved its record to 15-4 overall. A 6 p.m. home game against Henry Ford CC is on tap Wednesday.

Rocks spiked

Perennial Western Lakes volleyball champs Livonia Stevenson gave Plymouth Salem a little lesson Wednesday night.

The Spartans dusted the Rocks 15-7, 15-5 for their fourth win in five matches.

Stevenson dominated in virtually every phase of the game — blocking, hitting, serving, passing and digging.

"We're having our problems on service reception," said Salem coach Betty Smith. "We're not moving and we're not talking."

Despite the loss, Salem got strong play from Karen Marciniak, especially in the back row.

The Rocks are 2-3 in the Western Lakes, 2-5 overall.

1st quarter snooze costly to Chiefs

By Chris McCosky
staff writer

Sometimes it's not how you finish a basketball game that matters, it's how you begin it.

Plymouth Canton finished with a flurry against visiting Northville Friday night, outscoring the Mustangs 10-3 in the final 1:30.

But the Chiefs began the game with a thud, and lost it 62-58.

Eagles blitz Oakland

Plymouth Christian's basketball team is starting to make people take notice.

Coach Jeff Cook may be wondering what took everyone so long.

The Eagles posted their ninth consecutive win without a loss this season Friday, beating Oakland Christian 85-55 at Pioneer Middle School.

The mighty McCarthy brothers did a large share of the damage against Oakland. Jim and Pat each scored 17 points. Pat McCarthy grabbed 14 rebounds, dished out six assists and made five steals. Jim McCarthy pulled down 16 rebounds.

Rod Windle, the senior leader of the

"We didn't execute in the first quarter at all," said Canton coach Tom Niemi. "We just couldn't finish the plays. We weren't aggressive either offensively or defensively. You can't get that far behind and expect to win."

Canton connected on just two of 10 shots in the first quarter and committed 10 turnovers. Northville led 16-4.

"We did show a lot of team character by coming back," Niemi said.

team, added 17 points of his own and Andy Stephens chipped in nine.

"OAKLAND WAS a pretty good team," Cook said. "But in the first half, we forced them to turn the ball over 53 percent of the time and we were putting it in the hoop."

Plymouth Christian also hit 23 of 37 free throws to Oakland's 17 of 23, which helped it maintain its advantage throughout the contest.

Kevin Ogle scored 16 for Oakland and Todd Rightler added 15.

The Eagles are 7-0 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Association, 9-0 overall.

"Even at the end of the game we had an opportunity to win it."

BEHIND THE tenacious defensive play of Tyrone Reeves, Roger Trice and Joel Mies, Canton fought back into contention — not once, but several times.

In the second quarter, Canton pulled to within a point, 20-19. Northville, though, surged back ahead 28-21 before the end of the half.

The Chiefs fell behind 44-33 after three quarters. They got within four points twice in the final quarter.

Each time Canton made a run, Northville's Don Norton was there to stop it. Norton shot a phenomenal 10 of 12 from the floor and a perfect two for two from the free throw line — 22 points to lead all scorers. His two misses came on short-range jumpers. Most of his makes came from long range, with a hand or two in his face.

Included among Norton's heroics were two three-point plays in the final quarter that kept the Chiefs at bay.

HE WAS the hottest of a white-hot Northville team. While Canton was struggling to hit 40 percent of its shots (27 for 68), Northville knocked them down with a 53-percent efficiency (26 for 49).

Most galling to the Chiefs was that, for the most part, they were getting high percentage shots.

"We were shooting quality shots," Niemi said. "We worked to get the ball inside and just couldn't convert. In a game this close, those things are crucial."

"But one of the things that we've tried to instill is that the game is not over until it's over. I think we demonstrated that tonight."

Niemi will get no argument from Northville.

After Norton's first fourth-quarter three-point play, Canton trailed by 11, 50-39, with just under four minutes left to play.

Dan Olszewski answered that with five straight points and Canton was back in the game.

JEFF LYLE and Reeves hit back-to-back buckets to pull the Chiefs within four with 2:16 left.

Norton's second three-point play stopped that run.

Time ran out on the Chiefs in the midst of their 10-3 spurt in the final 1:30.

The loss only partially dims some superb efforts by the Chiefs:

- Mies scored 16 points and made four steals.

- Olszewski scored 15 points and pulled down eight rebounds to lead the team.

- Trice scored 11 points and made three steals.

- Reeves dished out seven assists, made three steals and forced numerous other turnovers (Northville made 26 on the night).

- Kirk Morrison scored 15 as a supplement to Norton's big night for the Mustangs.

"Everybody hates to lose," Niemi said. "I certainly hope this doesn't curtail our momentum. These are young kids so it's hard to predict. But I don't think so. We know we have to fight as hard as we did tonight in every game."

"We have to do a lot of things other teams don't because of our size. We have to pay a price for everything we get. We didn't pay that price in the first half tonight and we wound up short."

The Chiefs fall to 3-5 in the Western Lakes, 4-7 overall. Northville is 6-2 in the conference, 7-3 overall.

Canton, Salem stay in chase for division titles

The Plymouth Canton swim team kept its Western Lakes Western Division hopes afloat Thursday with a 125-47 triumph against Walled Lake Western.

The Chiefs (4-3) won every event. Highlighting the win was a Canton pool record performance by diver Andy Flower. Flower scored 294.95 points, topping his own mark set last year.

Another record was set by an all-freshman 200-yard medley relay team. Scott Swartzwelder, Jeff Homan, Mark Levesque and Mike Helmstadter combined to set a Canton freshman record with a 1:56.5.

Helmstadter, Levesque and Swartzwelder teamed with Jeff

Schwinn to win the 400 freestyle relay in 3:54.2.

Individual winners were: Mike Lustig in the 200 free (2:05.2), Tom Dickinson in the 200 individual medley (2:23.1), Frank Wisniewski in the 50 free (24.6), Dean Roberts in the 100 butterfly (1:02.2), Swartzwelder in the 100 free (56.72), Tom Hone in the 500 free (5:47.2), Don Kliest in the 100 backstroke (1:07.6) and Homan in the 100 breaststroke (1:13.6).

The Chiefs have a showdown Thursday against Western Division co-leader Livonia Churchill. Churchill and Northville share the division lead. The two swam to an 86-86 tie Thursday.

swimming

PLYMOUTH SALEM scored a 97-73 victory against Walled Lake Central Thursday.

John Kim won both the 50 freestyle (24.6) and the 100 free (54.9) to pace the Rocks.

Brian Barbee took the 200 free (2:00.8), Tom Johnson the 500 free (5:37.7) and Geoff Taylor the 100 breaststroke (1:11.7).

Shawn Fitzgerald, Mike Hill, Fred Seidelman and Scott Fitzgerald teamed to win the 400 freestyle relay in 3:47.8. The Rocks are 5-1 on the season.

OBSERVERLAND'S No. 1- and No. 4-ranked boys swim teams took after each other in a Western Lakes dual meet Thursday.

Top-ranked Livonia Stevenson defeated North Farmington 109-61 in a meet that was closer than the score indicates.

The Spartans won eight of the 11 events, but most races were close.

D.J. Ward and Joe Saunders won two events each for Stevenson. Ward won the 50-yard freestyle (22.7) and the 100 freestyle (50.2). Saunders took both the 100 butterfly (54.7) and the 100 backstroke (57.5).

Mike Turney countered with a pair of firsts for the Raiders. He won the 200 individual medley (2:02.7) and the 500 free (4:31.7).

In one of the meet's best races, Stevenson's Jeff Albert edged Craig Burland in the 200 freestyle. Albert swam a 1:51.6.

Stevenson's other firsts were procured by Chuck Morningstar in diving (209.65) and Steve Taormina in the 100 breaststroke (1:05.7). The Spartans won the 200 medley relay with Jeff Murphy, Taormina, Saunders and Bill Soper, teaming on a 1:48.9.

North Farmington possesses the area's premier 400 freestyle relay team. Mike Buatti, Burland, Turney and Dan Mannisto captured first with a swift 3:31.2.

Stevenson is 6-1 this season and will travel to Plymouth Salem next Thursday to meet for the Western Lakes Division title.

Gipper's Ghost

Rice grad pens another page in ND folklore

By Jim Hughes
staff writer

Before Lou Holtz gets too carried away with plans for turning around the football program at the University of Notre Dame, he may want to consult with Brother Rice graduate Robert Quakenbush.

It seems Quakenbush, a Notre Dame alumnus, has the formula needed to put the fight back in the Irish. But there's a problem. The approval has to come from above. It must come from the Being who, according to bumper stickers, is given the credit for making Notre Dame No. 1.

Quakenbush (pronounced QUAKE-en-bush), a 1972 graduate of Brother Rice, penned a fictitious novel entitled, "The Gipper's Ghost" (O'Connor Publishing Co., $4.95). In a word, the book is cute. It tells of factual history of football in South Bend, Ind., a hypothetical present and a fictitious future, with plenty of help from God Himself.

TIRED OF A 22-game losing streak, God sends the legendary Knute Rockne back to the campus, along with an outstanding running back named George Gipp. It's time, God feels, to win a bunch for the Gipper.

"The Gipper's Ghost" is fast-reading and fictional, but its contents bring back fond memories to Notre Dame grads and even the "Subway Alumni." People such as Frank Leahy, Grantland Rice, the Four Horsemen and, of course, Rockne and Gipp, come back to life in the 120-page softcover book.

"I thought it would be fun to write something like this," said Quakenbush, 32, now president of his own public relations firm in Chicago. "A couple of years ago, I was sitting in the Notre Dame stands during a game, after we had lost two or three in a row. It was raining, and we were kidding around in the stands. A fellow a couple of rows behind me said, 'You know what the problem is? God is mad at us.'"

"Then I said, 'It could be worse, we could have lost them all.' Between those two statements I wondered, what if we lost them all? Then God would have to intervene," he added with a laugh.

"The Gipper's Ghost" is available from author Robert Quakenbush. Send $6 per copy to Robert Quakenbush, 1344 N. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill. 60610.

In Quakenbush's fiction, God intervenes after a season-opening 45-7 loss to the University of Michigan. Gipper, who ironically assumes the name of Dutch Reagan (as in Ronald Reagan in the movie, "Knute Rockne, All-American"), and Rockne, who assumes the role of a priest and team chaplain, Father Woulfe (but his friends call him Father Rock), enter the scene. After a 14-14 tie against Michigan State University, the Irish turn it around.

"I DON'T KNOW if it was out of loyalty or what," Quakenbush said, "but a Michigan team does not lose to Notre Dame (in the book)."

There's also some loyalty to Brother Rice. The Notre Dame quarterback, Hart Collins, is named after two former Fighting Irish players who lived in Birmingham — Leon Hart, the 1949 Heisman Trophy winner whose sons attended Rice, and Greg Collins, a college All-American and former Rice all-star.

He also mentions Brother Rice High — where the fictional Hart Collins prepped — and football coach Al Fracassa. "If Notre Dame ever considers hiring another high school football coach, I hope they remember Mr. Fracassa's address," Quakenbush said.

Quakenbush, who spent 16 years in Bloomfield Township and Beverly Hills, always had an urge to write. Although he majored in business administration at Notre Dame, he wrote for the college newspaper and was sports editor of the Notre Dame and Brother Rice yearbooks.

The Notre Dame fiction was a hobby. "I've always enjoyed writing in one capacity or another," he said. "I pursued this as a hobby. I went home (after a Notre Dame game) and wrote three chapters and showed it to some of my friends. They all liked it, so I thought it would be fun.

"I KEPT working on it as a hobby. I worked on it off and on for about nine months. It went to the printer in August of last year."

One could probably get through the book in a short sitting. Although the storyline is unreal, the setting is not. For Notre Dame grads or fans who've been part of the campus on game day, many of the passages "wake up the echoes" from memory banks:

"On campus, various student groups commenced setting up outdoor grills, yellow sawhorses and blue tablecloths at choice locations along the busiest walkways. Sales of hot dogs, hamburgers, bratwurst and soda pop were brisk. A favorite stop was the Knights of Columbus concession, renowned for its steak sandwiches.

"The most popular place of all was the Hammes Notre Dame Bookstore. The first floor was alive with two colors — gold and blue. The merchandise sparkled; the staff . . . T-shirts, caps, jackets, pennants, collectors' plates, coffee mugs and various carried the words, Notre Dame, or bore the famous leprechaun, with his upraised fists, or the familiar 'ND' monogram."

Anyone who recalls the thrill of seeing the Golden Dome for the first time, or had end zone seats across from "Touchdown Jesus," may catch themselves waxing nostalgic while flipping through the pages.

"When I wrote the book, I talked to my friends and put together all the fond memories of Notre Dame. It helped us recall life at Notre Dame. It's more than a story about football. It's almost a story on how much fun it was to attend Notre Dame."

IRONICALLY, THE storyline is quite similar to one in David E. Hubler's fiction, "You Gotta Believe." In that book, a football player comes from nowhere to rescue a foundering professional football team from New York. The player? Guy O'Downey. His initials? G.O.D.

"I've never heard of that one," Quakenbush said, "but some people have compared it to 'Damn Yankees.' In that one, the help came from the devil. In mine, the help comes from an entirely different direction."

Notre Dame fans will be glad to know that in Quakenbush's book, football returns to the glory days of yesteryear when winning games were as frequent as prayer sessions at the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes.

Haygood's basket boosts OCC to win

Work on the boards often goes unnoticed, but for Oakland Community College's men's basketball team Wednesday it made the difference.

Twice in the final 37 seconds the Raiders made key plays on the boards to edge Henry Ford CC 61-60 at HFCC. The win kept OCC on top of the Eastern Conference standings at 5-1 and pushed its overall record to 12-1.

LeSean Haygood, a Plymouth Salem graduate, scored the winning basket for the Raiders, working the offensive boards to tip in a missed shot with 37 seconds left.

HFCC missed on its attempt to regain the lead, and Darrell Darling grabbed the rebound for OCC and was fouled. Darling missed the first of his one-and-one free throws, but too little time remained for HFCC to get off another shot.

Balanced scoring highlighted the Raider triumph. Willie Jones and Pat Gardner each notched 12 points and Darling and Haygood scored 10 each. Rod Thompson added nine and Gary Holt eight.

OCC, which trailed by six at the half, was plagued by poor free throw shooting. The Raiders made just nine of 19 and missed their first seven attempts.

Carl Strong was high scorer for HFCC with 20 points.

OCC, ranked 18th in the NJCAA, hosts Macomb CC at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Salem's matmen stalk Western Lakes prize

Plymouth Salem keeps its powerful express rolling toward the Western Lakes wrestling championship.

The Rocks took it to a young and flu-ridden North Farmington team Thursday night 67-3.

North's lone victory came at 185 pounds where Zaim Cunmulaj tipped Lem Yeung 12-11.

Fred Calma (105), Dennis Dameron (112), Dave Dameron (126), Kirk Rentz (138), Chris Rye (155) and Jamie Woochuk (198) all won on pins for Salem. -- Bryan Wheble took a thrilling 5-4 decision from North's Paul Cook at 145. Tim Ott (119) and Kevin Freeman (132) won on decisions, as well.

Todd Boulter (98), Rod Golovoy (167) and Richard Johnson (heavyweight) all won on voids.

Salem is 7-0 in the conference, 7-2 on the season. North is 1-5.

FARMINGTON won its first Western Lakes dual meet of the season Thursday besting Livonia Ste-

wrestling

vension 44-20.

The Falcons outscored the Spartans 18-0 in the final three events to secure the victory.

John Augustin (15-6 on the season at 185) and Dan Parilo (20-0 and ranked No. 5 in the state at 198) scored quick pins and heavyweight Bill Critcher (16-5) won on a void.

T.J. Armstrong (112) and Steve Lee (119) won on pins for the Falcons while Mark Pallo (126), Bob Woodbeck (132), Darrell Tharnish (145) and Bill Lindbert (155) won on decisions.

The Falcons are 6-3 on the season, 1-3 in the league.

Rock gymnasts find the groove

Plymouth Salem put together its best team gymnastics performance of the season Thursday night in a 125.35-88.35 win at Walled Lake Central.

A 34.2 team score on floor exercise keyed the win. Beth Rafail scored 9.05 and Becky Talbot 9.0 on the event to place 1-2 Jackie Huff, still hampered by a chipped bone in her ankle, took third with an 8.6.

Rafail amassed a superb 33.9 all-around score. In addition to floor exercise, she won vault (8.85) and balance beam (8.6). She placed second on uneven parallel bars (7.4).

Talbot scored 32.1 all-around. She won bars with a 7.95, placed second on vault (8.05) and third on beam (7.15).

Freshman Dana Holda placed third on vault (8.0) and tied teammate Amy Pastori for third on bars (6.95). Sue Lally placed fourth on vault (7.75) and Jennie Syria placed fourth on beam (7.1).

The Rocks are 3-2 on the season.

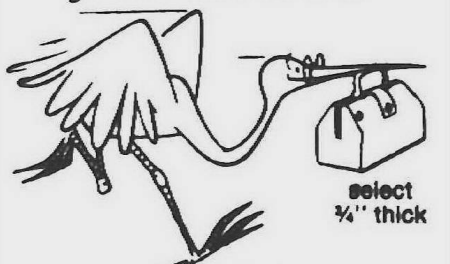

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN topped Walled Lake Western 117.95-95.25 Wednesday to improve its record to 5-2.

Debbie Tomasko won three of the four events. She took vault (8.65), beam (8.05) and floor exercise (9.05). She was second on bars (7.5).

Angie Temelko placed second on floor (8.85) and third on beam (7.7).

Susie Gibson took thirds on bars (6.8) and floor (8.0). Julie Fitch (7.55) and Lori Spears (7.4) placed third and fourth on vault.

SLIPPED DISC

Of all the conditions which involve the spine, the so-called "slipped disc" is probably the most misunderstood. Typically it is the vertebrae rather than the disc which has actually slipped. When this happens, a spinal nerve opening between two adjacent vertebrae can close up, and cause acute pain, numbness, and even loss of function of that part of the body served by the involved nerve.
