ARTISTS HONORED: Three Plymouth Salem High Scho art students were honored in the recent art competition of high schools in Wayne and Oakland counties.
Topher Crowder, Greg Hinkeman, and Dave Norgrove all submitted art portfolios with eight pieces each. The work ranged from pencil and ink drawings to car designs to commercial illustrations. These three students now will have their work sent to New York City for national competition.

COMMENTS ON CHALLENGER: U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, offered the following comments Tuesday following the explosion of the Space Shuttle Challenger:

"It goes almost without saying that today's tragic accident has saddened us all. The fiery destruction of Challenger leaves us stunned. My thoughts and prayers are with the families and friends of these seven men and women who were aboard the space shuttle.

"It was just a few months ago that I co-sponsored a resolution, the Young Astronaut Program Medal Act. The shuttle flight that exploded was chosen by the program as their flight. The Young Astronauts paid to have 247 teachers and Christa McAuliffe's whole science class flown to the Kennedy Space Center to watch today's launch.

"To me, recalling that resolution because the fact that tragedles such as happened today louch many lives, in many different ways." As a former teacher, and a member of the appropriations subcommittee dealing with education, I was keenly aware of the educational importance of this . flight. It is sad and unfortunate that it ended the way it did."

The Young Astronaut Program is a national educational program for elementary and junior high students to promote the study of science, math, and technological subjects. The Young Astronaut Council is selling medals as a fund-raiser for the program in the schools.

Township employees get pay h non-union, non-contract Thirty Plymouth Township employees will receive at least a 5-percent pay hike for 1986.

Eleven of those 30 - including Supervisor Maurice Breen, Police Chief Carl Berry, Fire Chief Larry Groth, Planning Director James Anulewicz and Public Works Superintendent Tom Hollis - will receive a larger increase due to additional job responsibilities or meritorious performance.

Andrew Pruner absent, unanimously approved the pay hikes last week.

Annual payroll costs would rise about $50,500 as a result of the increases, Breen projected.

The 1986 raises follow a 5-percent bonus awarded all 30 employees last December in lieu of a pay increase for 1985. A similar 5 percent bonus awarded for service in 1984 was also paid last

Who made what in '85?

You might expect that Supervisor who earned the most from township Maurice Breen, who is responsible for day to day operations of Plymouth Township government, would have earned more money than any other municipal employee last year.

School land sale delayed

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education last Monday tabled a request from Richard Scott of Dick Scott Buick to buy a parcel 31 by 231 feet on the southern boundary of the East Middle School property line.

The industrial sites are selling for $50,000 an acre, the appraiser said. Because the middle school site is 0.212 acre, its value was appraised at $10,600. Scott has offered $12,500.

The site is zoned single-family residential. Scott would need to obtain industrial zoning and move the boundary COMMERCIAL property in the Plymouth area sells for considerably more than industrial property. A 106 by 330 feet commercial parcel was the value of the property at $10,600, sold to Dick Scott Buick for $196,000,

Governor sets upbeat pace in keynote

By Tim Richard staff writer

Continue. Together. Upbeat.

Three words sum up Gov. James J. Blanchard's state of the state message, in which he praised by name five suburban area lawmakers for bipartisan cooperation.

"I intend to recognize your contributions to Michigan's comeback, regardless of party." the chief executive said at the end of his 70-minute address. His kudos went to Sens. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, William Faust, D-Westland, and R. Robert Geake, R-Northville; and Reps. William Keith, D-Garden City, and James Kosteva, D-Canton.

Blanchard used the word "continue" 10 times, along with such phrases as "remain diligent" and "more of the REPUBLICANS quickly noted there were only two new initiatives in the Democratic governor's address, though they generally liked its business-oriented tone. Blanchard proposed:

• A guaranteed college tuition program. Parents would invest a certain sum annually, which the state would invest but not tax. Parents would be guaranteed their children could afford college tuition at public colleges.

"This will not be a giveaway program or require additional state expenditures," Blanchard said.

· A system of drunk driver check lanes. The governor will implement this by executive order.

"THAT WILL NOT have a lot of support from legislators," said state Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth. In fact, another lawmaker has a bill to prohibit check lanes, Law said.

But the plan was applauded by Lee D. Landes, Livonia's "First Citizen" of 1986 for his work as state coordinator for Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

"Michigan will be joining 35 other states that already use such check lanes as an efficient and effective deterrent to drinking and then driving."

Landes said check lanes would be operated "in the wee small hours, primarily on secondary roads where computerized statewide data indicate the highest rates of death and serious injury occur."

Blanchard departed from his 25-page text to make the check lane announcement. He underscored it with a story of how his college roommate at Michigan State was killed by a drunk driver going the wrong way without headlights on an I-96 freeway ramp.

"IT WAS MY 29th state of the state address," beamed Sen. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, "and it was the longest and best."

DeMaso was the only Republican in the Legislature to vote for the 1983 personal income tax increase, which Blanchard insisted restored the state to solvency and saved the schools. And the veteran lawmaker was praised (along

Observer & Eccentric area lawmakers winning the governor's acclaim were:

• Sens. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, and William Faust, D-Westland — for work on "the series of bipartisan workers compensation reforms that are causing substantial savings to be seen. In 1978 workers compensation rates were 33 percent above the national average . By 1984 these rates had fallen to 6 with one Democrat) for helping close percent below the national average. • Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, and two outstate Democrats for work on a wage reporting law. "This law will enable (social services) caseworkers to check whether public assistance recipients genuinely qualify for benefits. The potential cost savings are immense."

• Reps. William Keith, D-Garden City, and James Kosteva, D-Canton, along with four others from both parties - increasing state support in K-12 education funding for the past three

"Our efforts have relieved pressure on local taxpayers by the equivalent of six mills (of property taxes) statewide," Blanchard said.

"Our students are rewarding us with continuing increases in test scores such as those recorded on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.' ALMOST HALF of the message was devoted to celebrating the state's economic record of the three years

Blanchard has been governor. Except for "more of the same," Blanchard offered no new economic programs. He advised sticking to the Michigan Strategy." This means targeting specific industries — high technology in the suburbs, forest products in the Upper Peninsula, agriculture and tourism statewide for advertising and investment atten-

It also means targeting greater pro-portions of the $5.99 billion state budget for education and research. Said Republican Rep. David Honig-man of West Bloomfield: "He's co-opted all the Republican issues."

But the Democratic side of the ais plauded when Blanchard eyeballed e Republicans and said that keeping johigan competitive in world mat-ts stopped short of paying Korean-val wages.

Deed-swap deal to boost sidewalk

staff writer

Pedestrians will be the winners in a proposed deal between Canton and Plymouth-Canton Community Schools.

Canton Township is expected to offer the Plymouth-Canton school district $25,000 - to be earmarked for a sidewalk fund - in exchange for the deed on Cherry Hill School.

The deal is spurred by a $99,500 grant to Canton Township for renovation of the more than 100-year-old as the Cherry Hill Historical District.

AFTER THE rehabilitation, the school will be used by citizen groups and township-sponsored organizations as a township meeting hall.

There's a hitch, though, as Canton won't be able to use the grant unless the district gives or leases the school to the township.

School officials have committed to promoting the renovation.

We are willing to take any mean-school building at Cherry Hill and ingful ideas with Canton Township," Ridge in a one-mile radius referred to said Raymond Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business.

Roland Thomas, school board president, said: "We want to cooperate with the folks in Canton and if there's any way to work it out we will be willing. In order of importance the sidewalks

e East side of Canton Center Road

the district wants are:

South side of Joy between Canton

· Along Sheldon starting at Joy extending toward Gallimore School.

"Our number-one reason for requesting sidewalks is that it will add safety for the children, or anyone, because rather than walking on the shoulders of these main roads they will be walking on sidewalks," Hoedel said.

Reducing busing trips is another motive for building sidewalks, Hoedel said. However, the three sidewalks in Canton probably won't affect the bus routes, he added.

CANTON TRUSTRE Loren Be who has met with School Supering ent John Hoben, is drafting the proal calling for the swap. The proposal will need approval from both boards.

Bennett is opting for a $25,000 payment as opposed to committing to pay-ing for specific sidewalks to limit the township's future liability.

"If the township commits to putting in certain sidewalks we could wind up paying an unknown liability. I have to know it will cost X amount of dollars. If we say we will do certain sidewalks

"We are delighted they go and certainly we don't want their way," said Dick Egil, school community relations director.

Earthquake shakes, rattles, surprises residents

There wasn't a whole lotta shakin' goin' on Friday, but enough to start phones at police and fire stations and newspaper offices ringing and people all over wondering what was happen-

What was termed a moderate earthquake hit at 11:47 a.m., with its epicenter some 30 miles northeast of Cleveland, according to Russ Needham, a geophysicist at the National Earthquake Center in Colorado. Needham said the quake measured 5.0 on the open-ended Reichter scale and was reported felt as far away as Toronto.

The National Weather Service at Metro Airport received calls from "all over southeastern Michigan," a representative said.

Calls came pouring into the Observer offices, Canton Township Hall and area police departments.

BARBARA ADKINS, Canton Township hall receptionist, said about 30 people called asking if she knew what happened.

"One lady called and she had just moved here from Texas and she asked if this was going to happen all the time," Adkins said.

"I have a neighbor next door who came over - it scared the death out of her," said Wallace Cory of London Court near Warren and Lilley in Canton. "My whole house just shook, and the stove rattled. My neighbor said her shower doors were rattling so hard she thought they were going to fall right Canton officer John Sherwin, who was working the front desk, said at least 80 residents called. No damage was reported early Friday afternoon.

"A picture fell off the wall," said Carol Brandt of Plymouth Township. "Nic-nacs fell off the wall. I ran from window to window. The windows shook.

The bedroom mirrow shook. I thought it was going to break."

Brandt said at first she thought it was her automatic washer which is on ground level. Her home is on a hill on N. Territorial in Walnut Creek subdivi-

Ted Sandel of Canton said his experience last week was similar to one he had in St. Louis years ago.

"My whole house was on a surf board. It was wobbling," he said. "I felt, gee, the wind must really be blowing, but there wasn't any wind."

Carol Dugan, who lives in Plymouth Township, said she experienced an unusual phenomenon about an hour before the tremors hit.

"I heard a noise like ice or snow falling from the house. Then I heard it again," she said. "It was just real strange. It wasn't a usual sound."

PAT VAGORSKI of Canton had no doubt that something unusual was oc-

"My cabinet in the living room was banging against the wall. I thought, what is that dog doing?" It turns out it wasn't the dog.

Penny Foley, who lives on Mayflower in the city of Plymouth, said her bed moved and windows rattled. She said she thought a plane had flown by.

Archie Bunch of Plymouth, who once lived in California, said the dishes in his house rattled and he knew right away it was a tremor because he had felt them before out West.

DAVE COOK, a geophysicist at Michigan State University, said the area of Ohio where the earthquake occurred has been active seismologically since the early 1700s.

"The earthquakes aren't big - at least they haven't been yet," said Cook, who is working on a doctorate at MSU.

'There haven't been many but the area does have a history. It really wasn't surprising, but why it occurred, we don't know.

"Upper New York State and along the St. Lawrence Seaway are more sesmologically active and the area coming down the St. Lawrence Seaway. Most probably the reason for this quake has something to do with the St. Lawrence Seaway."

Workers at the GM Warehousing and Distributing Division, on Schoolcraft near Levan in Livonia, reported feeling motion in the building.

Employees in Livonia City Hall, Five Mile and Farmington roads, felt the building shake.

In Redford Township, police received about 200 calls from wondering residents in some 20 minutes. Sgt. Ronald Harding called his wife in Canton and learned that dishes rattled in their house when the tremor struck.

Phones began ringing off the hook in the Westland Police station seconds after the quake subsided, with people asking what had happened. One caller said the tremor caused waves in her waterbed. It wasn't known if the bed was the waveless type.

The entire police station shook. Countertops moved back and forth, desks swayed and workers felt their chairs shake under them. Some employees didn't feel the quake.

The Westland Fire Department's central station received about two dozen calls. Department employees didn't Reporters Marybeth Dillon, feel a thing. A secretary's brother called from Houston to tell her Michigan had had an earthquake.

Cable basic rates to

By Doug Funke staff writer

Plymouth Township cable-TV subscribers will see a 40 cents per month increase for basic service beginning March 1. Rates will jump to $8.75 from $8.35 At the same time, several hundred subscribers of premium channels HBO, Cinemax and The Movie Channel can expect those rafes to jump from $8.95 to $10.95 monthly.

'Our costs have increased dramatically," said Rick Collman, general manager of Omnicom Cablevision, which services the township. "Our

All township subscribers who buy one premium channel will pay $10.95 for the service starting March 1. The premium rate had been boosted from $7.95 to $10.95 last year for new customers but only to $8.95 for existing subscribers. "Now I'm catching them up," Collman said.

Basic service last year was increased to $8.35 from $7.95. Basic consists of local public access channels, Detroit commercial stations and satellite programming like WTBS, ESPN and Nickelodeon.

SUBSCRIBERS of package arrangerates haven't kept anywhere near the ments - usually basic service plus at least two premium channels - can expect a flat increase of $1 per month, Collman said. About 40 percent of the township's 3,200 customers are package subscribers.

Collman said he expects relatively few cancellations as a result of the rate

"A basic service rate increase of 5 percent, that's really minor," he said. "$10.95 is still probably the national average for that premium service. We're in the ball park."

Township subscribers also can look for increases next year, especially on the basic rate, when cable TV rates become totally deregulated. A significant increase in basic rates would seem to loom if Omnicon follows through with plans to develop a common rate structure in all of the communities it services. The basic rate for Canton customers is now $10.45 and for city of Plymouth customers, $9.95.

"I would anticipate an '87 increase in Plymouth Township higher than other communities because of that," Collman said. "I don't want to scare our customers but that's reality."

Increased viewing options will accompany a basic service rate increase March 1. Two new channels will debut on that date - Discovery, a scienceoriented program, and Home Shopping Network, a video store-offering discount merchandise.

Water hike passed

Plymouth Township residents apparently will get away with a small increase in their quarterly water and sewer bills starting July 1.

The township board last week deciding to pass along to individual consumers a wholesale increase of six cents per 1,000 gallons of water used as proposed by the Detroit Water and Sewage Department. The increase would amount to about $8 per year for the average household, according to Tom Hollis, superintendent of the public works department.

Hollis said the increase would be the first to show up on local water bills since 1983. "We've been able to offset those income," he said. Declining sewage sand gallons.

treatment rates from Detroit also have helped the township hold the line, he added.

Wholesale water from Detroit represents only a portion of water and sewer bills that show up at individual homes. Other components are a local add-on charge to maintain the township's water system, plus wholesale and add-on sewer charges.

THE AVERAGE quarterly residential water and sewer bill in the township is now about $55.

Hollis told the township board that an apparent error in elevation calculations by Detroit may enable the township to get its wholsesale increase rewholesale increases with investment duced from six to five cents per thou-

"I would like your permission," he reported, "to engage our financial and engineering experts to tear into the information even further. We should look at every bit of information with the premise that we may find something that could lower or negate the proposed rate before it is finalized."

Wholesale water rates are based on 11 variables which include average daily use, peak use, distance from treatment plants and elevations, said William Carney, financial manager for the Detroit Water and Sewage Dept.

Trustee Abe Munfakh urged his colleagues to maintain current rates until all factors could be reviewed locally and appeals presented to Detroit.

Supervisor Maurice Breen said that analysis was unlikely before Detroit conducts a public hearing on rate recommendations next month.

HOLLIS CONCEDED that he found no major errors in a cursory review of information provided by Detroit that would make a major impact on the wholesale rate.

"Unless somebody makes a discovery of a big error, it's going to happen," said Trustee James Irvine of the increase. "We know when it's going to happen and I think we have to react accordingly."

Detroit indicated the need for a water increase due to an increase in operating costs, particularly electricity, Hollis reported.

Plymouth Township administrators have recommended spending $20,000 of federal revenue sharing money this year to establish a jobs referral and training bureau for residents.

The program, outlined by Paul Chamberlain of Growth Works and Supervisor Maurice Breen, would try to match job seekers with available employment opportunities.
"We would solicit information about jobs that are available as well as colect information on current residents looking for work or wanting to upgrade their position, both adults and youth,"

Breen told the township board that he asked Chamberlain to develop a jobs

A JOBS bureau would create an immediate pool of job applicants for businesses that receive local property tax breaks on the condition they make employment available to township residents, Breen added.

No fees would be charged to employers who participate in the program, Chamberlain said. "The advantage of a bureau of this nature is it enables us to identify residents going from job to job and don't

State Senate Republicans are painting a picture of Democrat James Blanchard as a "good news" governor who's afraid to take stands on tough state issues.

"Michigan simply has to be able to compete." Senate Majority Leader John Engler of Mt. Pleasant said repeatedly Monday in a Southfield speech.

Blanchard focuses on the good news of the past three years. Republicans talk specifically on the future." Engler, 37. told the American Society for Public Administration, a group of academ-ASPA billed Engler's remarks as a loyal opposition" response to Blanchard's state of the state address today.

The Michigan Legislature's top oppo-sition leader said Michigan will remain in a weak position to weather another national economic blizzard until it makes itself more competitive in a number of markets.

ENGLER POINTED to four markets where he said Republicans have taken initiatives to make the state more competitive while Blanchard has held back: • Business - In the Finance Committee. Senate Republicans propose a tax credit for small business with low profits similar to the homestead property tax rebate program. Some 40,000 small firms would get a rebate of up to $1.200 where property taxes exceed 2 percent of profits.

Engler renewed GOP proposals to cut operating costs for business by lowering workers compensation and unemployment compensation taxes, and by setting up low-regulation "en-terprise zones" in cities such as Detroit and Benton Harbor.

• People — "We've exported human resources," said Engler, pointing to the state's loss of 450,000 people, or 5 percent of its population, in recent years. He said Republicans want to boost state funding of colleges "to make them the most advanced and also fordable in the country," to hold young people. The GOR also wants to eliminate school operating property taxes for senior citizens to discourge their moving to low-tax states.

• Tourism — A $12 billion industry could be even bigger if it were promoted by a state Department of Tourism, as proposed by Sen. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek.

Theatre Guild's dream: a building of its own

Among the plays it produced during the past 40 years, the Plymouth Theatre Guild staged two musicals and a drama at the old Penniman-Allen Theatre. One of the musicals, "No, No, A Million Times No," directed by Kingsley Page, was presented in 1966.

The theater, built by Kate Penniman Allen in 1918, stood on Penniman Avenue opposite the post office for 50 years. It was destroyed by fire on a frigid day in January 1968. I was passing at the time of the fire and still can visualize the tons of ice that festooned the front of the theater as water from firefighter's hoses froze on contact with the brick front. The building never was replaced; the spot now is a parking

The Theatre Guild went into low gear at about the time of the fire. Says Effie Kuisel, who has been a member since the organization was formed 40

"During 1968 and again in 1969-70, we were at low ebb and didn't produce any plays. Sometimes there were only five or six of us at meetings (once I was the only one present). We just simply rested. In the fall of 1971, we held tryouts for "Never Too Late" — have been going great ever since!"

THE GUILD'S reactivation was due scenic standpoint, was "The Tea House to the efforts of Effie Kuisel, Richard Brown, Clemie Cyburt, and Kay and Andy Hruska.

Hruska was president of the Guild for three years beginning in 1971. Kuisel, Brown and Cyburt, along with Robin Galick, Patricia La Framboise and C.V. Sparks are life members of the Guild.

A number of Guild members have led the organization for more than one term. Adele Miller was president for five years in the 1950s. Jake Rumpf was president for four years in the 1960s and 1970s. Jerry French served three terms in the 1970s; Andy Hruska three in the 1970s; Robin Galick, Patricia La Framboise and Joseph Marsh each served twice in the 1980s. Effie Kuisel was president of the Guild in 1952 and again in 1963. The current president is Sue Ellen Suchyta.

Joe Marsh of Northville, and a past president of the Guild, recalls the year the Guild presented "See How They Run" directed by Jake Rumpf. At one point the plot called for members of the cast to go in and out of doors and windows. During the melee, one member threw her knee out and fainted. The stage manager, who had never acted, promptly took over the role.

Effie Kuisel remembers that the most difficult play to present, from the of the August Moon" directed by Hal Young and produced by Dorothy Smith in November, 1957. The same was true of "The Crucible" presented in 1960.

ALTHOUGH MOST OF the Guild's plays have been staged in the auditorium of the old high school (now Central Middle School), a one-act play, "The Botanist," written and directed by Jack Wilcox, was presented in the Presbyterian Church in March 1956.

Among the most colorful actors or popular favorites who have appeared in Guild plays over the years, in addition to Effie Kuisel, are Jack Wilcox, C.V. Sparks, Russ Wallace, Tom Hinks and the late John Roberts.

Roberts, who became a professional actor after he retired from General Motors, appeared on TV in "The Little House on the Prairie." He also was in the Karl Malden film, "Word of Honor," part of which was filmed in Plymouth a few years ago.

and professional football takes over in the minds of the fans. When Michigan can attract more spectable gatherings each Sunday in the Silverdome. But there is no question that football has taken the play away from baseball. This was proven in the pre-game festivities of the Super Bowl game when even the president of the United States took part in a nationally televised interview recalling the days when he played the role of George Gipp at Notre Dame in the movies. No president ever has gone any fur-ed to the medical support fund for a local resident.

When the Guild produced "Fantastics" in 1982, it gave a benefit performance for the Plymouth-Canton Civitans who used the proceeds to purchase two Saturday matinees for the mentally and physically handicapped, and for senior citizens.

The Guild has federal IRS status as an educational institution which enables donors to deduct from their taxes any contributions made to the organization. In 1984, the State of Michigan granted the Guild exemption from state sales tax.

 One of the Guild's dreams has been to have its own building. This inspired a ie Cyburt and Effie Kuisel, were donat- news item in 1957 which read:

"There must be a large building somewhere in the city limits of Plymouth waiting to be given to the Guild for a permanent headquarters. Remember, at income tax time, any such gift would be deductible."

It is 30 years since that item appeared. Since then, although no building has materialized, the Guild has acquired 250 theater seats that are in storage waiting for a home.

Effie Kuisel who has acted, directed, handled makeup, sold tickets, served on the refreshment committee and done many other jobs in the Plymouth Theatre Guild during the past 40 years, say the Guild still is waiting for an an-

Is football our pasttime?

Now that the Super Bowl football game has been written into history with the help of six hours on national television the question arises - has football replaced baseball as the national pasttime?

than 100,000 to the stadium each week there is no question about the leading interest. And even the Lions draw re-ther than throwing out the first ball in a baseball season. In Michigan even the governor takes part. So it now becomes real question - is football or baseball the national pasttime?

THERE IS NO question that baseball is taken up by the children at a much earlier age than they take to football.

They get baseball in the playing fields at their schools, compete in school rivalry, have large playing fields, and have coaching staffs to help the young players along.

Nothing like this happens in the lower grades but the youngsters make up their own games. So, it all depends on the weather.

There is no question that baseball holds a high place in the fans minds during the summer. But come fall, unless the Tigers are in the running for the pennant, the fans spirits turn to football. And herein Michigan plays a leading part.

The Wolverines have attracted more than 100,000 each weekend for the past five seasons and no other school is even close. So football becomes No. One when the fall comes along. But it must give way to baseball in the spring. This only helps to raise the question as to which is the national sport.

Canada has its hockey, England had its tennis and other countries have track and field and soccer. But the United States still is not linked with any one - not week after week all

When all these things are considered the question is not answered. Is it baseball or football for the national pasttime? If one is to judge by the showings on the television screen football, with the president taking part in the pregame ceremonies, is forcing baseball toward the sidelines.

> "From the time I was 2 years old," he said, while standing in the backroom of his business place on Starkweather in Old Village, "I became interested in changing furniture and fixing those pieces that broke from wearing. Now I am in business with a national clientele. What a pleasant feeling that is."

Asked how complete a job he can do, Camp answered, "I can repair any of the broken furniture. I can build my own pieces and, in fact, I just love bringing an old piece back to life again. And now that I am transferring the business to the main street in a city that is growing like Plymouth, I am just as pleased as can be.

The booklet he designed is being sent to all parts of the country. And what is more he is getting results - like the piece he was handling from California.

"I am at the point now where I have a shop for repair work and a staff of two good helpers. That's making the most of a hobby."

REACTIVE ARTHRITIS

This winter has brought with it an intense and long lasting influenza. In turn, the influenza is responsible for physicians seeing an increase in the number of patients with reactive arthritis.

This arthritis follows a bacterial or viral infection, but the joint pain and swelling is not due to spread of infection into the joints. What happens in a reactive arthritis is that the individual's immune system makes antibodies that react to more than the invading virus or bacteria. For unknown reasons, these antibodies also act against the cells that line joints; pain and swelling ensue and the individual may believe that he or she is developing rheumatoid arthritis.

Reactive arthritis generally occurs one to two weeks after the infection clears, and the joints involved become inflammed overnight or over several days. In contrast, rheumatold arthritis does not follow an infection, and usually takes weeks to months to make itself known.

Unlike rheumatoid arthritis, reactive arthritis is self limiting, that is, will clear itself of the body in time. Physicians use anti-inflammatory medication in treating reactive arthritis to decrease point pain and accelerate the healing period.

Of all the conditions which involve the spine, the so-called "slipped disc" is probably the most misunder-stood. Typically it is the vertebrae rather than the disc which has actually slipped. When this happens, a spinal nerve opening between two adjacent vertebrae can close up, and cause acute pain, numbness, and even loss of function of that part of the body served by the ebrants exchange small gifts, such as "chops" marble pieces engraved with the recipient's name - and the red stainp pads that go with them. Chops have been used since ancient times to emboss and sign various messages or

The holiday food is always prepared with great care to reflect harmony and balance in color, texture, and flavor. As the new Year of the Tiger approaches, why not get into the spirit and plan a Chinese New Year feast to celebrate the occasion on February 9?

Over the centuries, Chinese cooking styles have developed by region, each with a distinctive character, using native ingredients. The dishes that follow are all in the "classic," or Mandarin style -- a blend of the very best regional ingredients and dishes. Each features food products that are available in every American market.

To begin the feast, roasted, seasoned "Mongolian" almond hors d'oeuvres make delicious pre dinner nibbling. Just spicy enough to whet the appetite, they can be made ahead and stored loosely in a plastic container or bag. Crunchy and tantalizing, they're seasoned with bottled teriyaki marinade and sauce - a perfect blend of naturally brewed soy sauce, wine, sugar, and select herbs and spices - all ready-to use. A te aspoon of brown sugar and a few drops of hot pepper sauce intensify the flavor in this recipe.

Almonds are said to have originated in ancient China and have long been prominent in many Mandarin dishes. Over one-half of the world's almond supplies now come from California. These crunchy, versatile nuts are available in a wide variety of cuts and sizes as well as whole for both cooking and snacking.

Crispy Lite Spareribs also make tasty appe tizers, or may be served as part of the main meal Bite size pieces of pork spareribs are succulent and tender when steamed, then marinated in a blend of low sodium lite sov sauce, dry sherry, and garlic. Soy sauce is an indispensible ingredient in many Oriental dishes. It adds that unmistakably rich flavor, so typical of Chinese food. Low sodium lite is the same quality, naturally brewed soy sauce that has seasoned dishes around the world for centuries. but with 40" less salt. Its deep, reddish-brown color and distinctive flavor enhancing qualities remain because the salt is extracted after the brewing process

After the ribs marinate, they're broiled to the right degree of crispness. Serve them hot with Mandarin Peach Sauce, a tangy-sweet puree of plump, juice California cling peaches in juice or extra light syrup. The puree is seasoned with more teriyaki sauce and a dash of fennel, pepper, cloves, and garlic. The sauce is perfection for dipping velvety smooth and thick

Be sure to prepare two batches of this unique condiment because it's also essential to Mock Mu Shu Pork, a classic favorite. Serve our ver sion of this egg and meat dish with a generous spread of Mandarin Peach Sauce on a warmed tortilla, roll it up and enjoy out of hand.

To cool the palate, try Mandarin Chicken Salad topped with the rich, nutty flavor of toasted slivered almonds Crisp, fresh bean sprouts and shredded carrot are added to tender chicken breast and dressed with a taste-tingling miniture of vinegar, soy sauce and sugar soy sauce, traditionally brewed from wheat and soybeans, has a delicate flavor balance and aromatic quality not found in non-brewed versions. With fragrant cilantro in this salad, there is a harmonious flavor blend light and fresh tasting

Coral and Jade Stir-Fry is as colorful as its name suggests - a classic shrimp and vegetable. stir fry with California canned cling peach slices. Heating actually enhances the characteristic peach flavor and aroma while the plump, juicy slices retain their shape and color as they're

"I will need your culinary skills and critique to make this Pineapple-Orange Glazed Chicken a winner. The difficulty is this: One of the ingredients is no longer on the market, namely, frozen concentrated pineapple-orange juice. I would like a substitute or equivalent ingredients.'

While I'm not too fond of glazes, I still jumped on the challange the weekend after I received the request. I recall the glazed duck I almost prepared two years ago - it burned. I usually only glaze han, but I was game.

The only ingredient I had to buy was an eightounce can of crushed pineapple. I used some orange juice from the carton that I drink daily. I reduced the amount of water in Claire-Marie's recipe, but

Today's pork is lean nutrition

Today's pork offers a new look that may become one of your favorites for healthful meals. The hog of today is 50 percent leaner than it was 30 years ago. Many pork cuts offer a low-fat, low-calorie source of nutrients. A three-ounce serving of lean pork - rich in iron, zinc and B-vitamins - contains only 198 calories.

the view Ellie

Graham ONE OF THE last acts

required before leaving the O&E is an exit interview with the head of personnel. Most of the questions seem more appropriate for a retiring Rouge foundry worker. But there was one that drew enthusiastic response: What do you like about your job?

My immediate reaction was "The community and the people."

This is a community of doers. They have their dreams, too, but they roll up their sleeves and get to work to make them come true. There's a lot of pride and faith involved in the process.

GREATEST fringe benefit of this job is the people you meet. There's also the pleasure of watching organizations and projects grow and flourish.

An Artrain visit grew into the Plymouth Community Arts Council, an organization that has added immeasurably to the quality of life in the community, education in the schools.

The art rental gallery opened in These projects started with people like Joanne Hulce, Wilma Newton, Elise Murphy, Joyce Foust, Margie Moon, Esther Hulsing and Gae McCord. All were volunteers who could have made their mark on Madison Avenue with their brainstorming and promotional

The Symphony League expanded and its financial commitment to the orchestra increased to proportions that astounded early members.

NAMES FIRST noted as members of Newcomers appeared on the roster of board members of established organizations. They brought new enthusiasm and energy to the community.

Fund-raisers were devised that added to the social life of the community, made more people part of the action.

Among those who devoted their time and talents to planning and carrying out amazingly successful projects were Therese Gall, Elaine Kirchgatter, Dee Schulte, Dottie Magee, Kathe Allison, Doris Chatterley, Carol Davis, Teri John, Kathy Graves, Judy Morgan, Sue McElroy, Janet Campbell, Clara Camp, Nan Cooper and Susan

Schrader. Jan Carney, Joan Claeys, Janet Brass, Judy Lewis, Elizabeth Gribble, Connie Heidt, Nancy

Johnson and many more. WATCHING the Plymouth Community Chorus blossom into a superlative singing group and the pride of the community has been one of the pleasures. It flourished under the direction of Mike Gross and it was a joy working with Maryann Kivell, chorus member and public relations person for the

One thing I'm going to miss is seeing Janet Repp working on a senior (high school) party. She was very active member of the Symphony League. Two daughters later, she is busy with Plymouth Co-op Nursery matters. NOW I'M BEGINNING to think I could write a book. There are so many people involved in making this a better place to live, I keep thinking of more and more names. We can't forget all the years Fran Lang served as president of the Plymouth Symphony Society Board of Directors. Like the present president, K.C, Mueller, Fran had an amazing energy. After a full day of involvement with symphony concerts and such, she would have a crowd back to her house for sitdown dinner.

Oldest of all the service clubs in town, the Woman's Club of Plymouth has increased its scholarship program and introduced the scholarship ball.

The garden clubs have planted andimproved the landscapes of the urban and rural areas. An expanded population has been responsible for chartering new clubs and each has made visible contributions to its neighborhood or, like Apple Run, its public buildings, both inside and out.

BOTH THE CANTON and

Plymouth historical societies now have museums of which they can be proud. Again, volunteers have played a part in bringing these about.

I'll miss all of you — hearing about Hanna Stasen's trips; calling Bill and Evelyn Edgar for bird information. And I'll miss working theme. Doug and with Emory, Bill, Diane, Doug and Eddie. It has been a pleasure.

from the University of Michigan. The first concert selection will be "Academic Festival Overture, Opus 80," by Brahms.

The composer conferred the music upon the University of Breslau in 1879, after the university gave him the de-gree of doctor of philosophy. Brahms conducted the first performance of the overture at Breslau in 1881. He described the work as a "very boisterous potpourri of student songs.

The overture uses four student songs but is probably best described as a tribute to the comradeship and zest for liv-ing that characterized the old German universities.

"Pelleas et Melisande, opus 80" was composed by Faure, a pupil of Saint-Saens and teacher of Ravel. Faure was known for his ability to create music with great intimacy and subtlety.

FAURE WAS a teacher and organist.

Although he influenced French music, his work was not generally recognized until the last decade of his life.

He was commissioned to write "Pelleas et Melisande" as incidental music for the atmospheric, moody drama by Maurice Masterlinck. It was performed with the play for the first time in the Prince of Wales Theater in Shostakovich's "Symphony No. 5" caused a mild controversy over the conservatism of its musical technique.

Shostakovich was severely criticized by the Russian newspaper, Pravda, before the composition. Musicians have speculated on whether his change in style was an extension of a trend in his theater music, or was a result of the criticism.

The most remarkable aspect of the symphony is the depth of its emotional meaning. The music speaks for itself in purely abstract terms, with stunning originality and musical tensions that

For nearly a hundred years, the Statue of Liberty has stood on the edge of the New World, America's most powerful symbol of freedom and hope. Today the ravages of almost a century of weather and pollution have left their marks. Corrosion has eaten away at the iron framework. New holes continue to appear in the copper sheets that form the exterior.

Less than a mile away, on Ellis Island where the ancestors of nearly half of all Americans first stepped onto American soil, the Great Hall of the Immigration Center is a hollow ruin. Rooms are vandalized, passageways overgrown with vegetation, walls crumbling in decay.

Inspiring plans have been developed to restore the Statue and to create at Ellis Island a living monument to the ethnic diversity of this country of immigrants. But unless restoration is begun now, ceremonies marking the hundredth anniversaries of these two landmarks in America's heritage could be held in commemoration of national treasures that no longer exist. Sections of the statue have already been declared unsafe and closed to visitors. The 230 million dollars needed to carry out the work is needed now.

All of the money must come from private donations; the federal government is not raising the funds. This is consistent with the origins of the Statue. The French people themselves paid for its creation. And thousands of American school children contributed to its construction and to the pedestal.

The Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Centennial Commission appointed by President Reagan is asking every American business, every American citizen to join in raising these funds. The torch of liberty is everyone's to cherish. Could we hold up our heads as Americans if we allowed the time to come when she can no longer hold up hers?

One hundred years ago school children gave their pennies to put her up. Your dollars can keep her from falling down.

Skid is over for Salem cagers

One streak is over. And Plymouth Salem basketball coach Bob Brodie can only hope another one is just be-

Why not? The Rocks ended a twogame slide Friday with a 55-48 homecourt win over Walled Lake Central with accurate free-throw shooting, good work against the press and improved defense inside.

"It was a big skid," admitted a re-lieved Brodie. His injury- and illnessplagued Rocks had lost five of six coming into Friday's game.

And Central played like it planned on extending the trend. Working the ball inside to center Daran Edmonds, the Vikings had a 26-25 halftime lead. Edmonds had 13 points in the first two periods, including nine in the second quarter.

BUT BRODIE adjusted his defense in the second half and limited Edmonds to five points. Dave Collins came off the bench to cover Edmonds and supply a needed defensive boost.

Salem grabbed the lead by the end of the third quarter, outscoring Central 14-11 in the period for a 39-37 edge. The Vikings tried to pressure Salem in the final quarter, but the strategy backfired.

"A couple of times we got some easy baskets off their pressure (in the fourth quarter)," said Brodie. "Then we pressed them and they rushed their shots. We were scoring easy baskets at one end and they weren't getting anything at all at the other."

Paul Makara, Brian Kearis and Mike Hale spearheaded the Salem assault. Hale tallied 18 points, with Kearis adding 16 and Makara 10. Edmonds' 18 points was best for the Vik-

The Rocks outshot Central at the free-throw line, hitting 17 of 22 (four of six in the final quarter) to 12 of 23, and it made a difference.

Salem improved to 7-6 overall and 6-4 in the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA). Central dipped to 6-6 overall and 4-6 in the WLAA.

41: Plymouth Canton never trailed in this one, dominating from the opening tip in running its record to 6-7 overall 6-2 since Christmas - and 5-5 in the WLAA Friday at Walled Lake

The Chiefs bolted to a 17-7 lead by the end of the first quarter and upped that to 30-16 by the half in avenging an earlier three-point loss suffered against Western (3-7 in the WLAA, 4-9 overall).

"We played real good defense tonight," said Canton coach Tom Niemi. We flustered their guards into a ton of turnovers

The Warriors turned it over 21 times to nine for the Chiefs. Everyone played for Canton, with Joel Mies getting 18 points (12 in the first half) and five rebounds.

Roger Trice had 14 points and six rebounds and Dan Olszewski and Tyrone Reeves notched seven points apiece. Canton outboarded Western PLY. CHRIST. 56, ZION CHRIST. 35: The Eagles did everything right Friday at Troy Zion Christian in keeping their record perfect after 11 games, including an 8-0 mark in the Michigan Independent Athletic Association (MIAA).

Pat McCarthy turned in a strong two-way performance, scoring 17 down on Walled Lake Central center Daran Ed-clamps on Chuck Middleton, who scored 10. Rod Windle also pitched in defensively, holding Tim Middleton to seven points.

Plymouth Christian led 23-14 at the half and 39-22 after three quarters. Turnovers aided the Eagle cause substantially: Troy Zion was guilty of 27 miscues, which led to 23 Plymouth Christian points.

Joining McCarthy in double figures was Andy Stephens, who had 17 points and 17 rebounds, and Jim McCarthy with 10 points. Troy Zion (5-4 in the MIAA and 6-7 overall) got 14 points from John Lathers.

JOHN GLENN 65, FARMING-TON 59: Free throws spelled the difference Friday at Farmington. Westland John Glenn hit 15 of 22 while points and putting the defensive Farmington had just seven attempts,

"It kind of disappointed me, that we didn't get to the free-throw line," said Farmington coach Rich Roy, whose team fell to 6-7 overall and 4-6 in the WLAA. "And it was at our place, too."

The homecourt advantage didn't help the Falcons, particularly in the third quarter when Glenn went from a one-point halftime lead (33-32) to a seven-point bulge after three quarters (50-43). Farmington pulled to within a pair in the fourth quarter, but could forge no closer.

Farmington got 20 points from Tony Racka, 11 from Kyle Mutz and 10 from Bruce Kratt. Steve Hawley scored 18, Gerry Diete-Spiff 16 and Tony Boles 11 for John Glenn (9-4 overall, 8-2 in the WLAA).

CC 75, BROTHER RICE 36: Redford Catholic Central wasted no time with visiting Birmingham Brother Rice Friday, blitzing the Warriors with a 27-10 first quarter and catapulting to a 45-15 halftime lead.

Lance Vaccarelli hit all five of his first-quarter shots, scoring 10 points in the period to establish the pace. Sean McClorey added six in the peri-

The win raised CC's record to 10-3. overall and 7-1 in the Catholic League's Central Division. Rice fell to 3-9 overall and 1-7 in the division.

CEP tankers dusted in divisional showdowns

Thursday night's Western Lakes swim showdown fizzled out.

Host Plymouth Salem, missing three frontline swimmers (Jeff Anderson, Don Harwood and Kevin Zarow), was simply no match for Livonia Stevenson, losing 98-73.

The Spartans, now 8-1 overall in dual meets, won nine of 11 events.

Sophomore Joe Saunders led the way with victories in the 100-yard butterfly (59.4) and 100 backstroke (59.4). He also 200 medley relay in 1:46.01.

D.J. Ward and Jeff Albert also captured two individual events each for Ward swept the 50 and 100 freestyles with clockings of 22.6 and 49.9, respectively. Albert, meanwhile, took the 200 and 500 freestyles with times of 1:52.1 and 5:04.5, respectively.

Other Stevenson winners included teamed up with Kevin Neff, Steve Taormina in the 200 individual medley Taormina and Jamie York to win the (2:09.4) and Dave Adzema in the 100 breaststroke (1:08.4).

> Salem only firsts were recorded by Bob Longridge in diving (224.85 points) and the 400 freestyle relay team of Tony Atwell, Jamie Dunn, Rick Cummings and Phil Bocketti (3:28.2). The Rocks are 5-3 in dual meets and will travel Tuesday to Brighton.

Stevenson returns to the pool Tuesday at Northville before facing Westland John Glenn Thursday at home.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL, sparked by sophomore Jim Peterson's school 1:54.3. Peterson was also second in the record performance in the 500 freestyle, drowned Western Lakes foe Plymouth Canton, 106-66.

"I was worried about being flat after being tied by Northville (last week), but we came back strong," said Churchill coach Manse Tian.

Peterson shattered his own record by six seconds in the 500, posting a 5:12.2 clocking. He also teamed up with Paul

Tepatti, Jon Schaber and Geoff Hutchison to win the 200 medley relay in 200 freestyle at 1:59.5.

Mark Papierski also had a big night, winning the 200 IM (2:07.9) and 100 backstroke (59.3). Hutchison, meanwhile, garnered firsts in the 200 freestyle (1:58.0) and 100 freestyle (52.9).

Farmington names grid coach

By Chris McCosky staff writer

It was the final home game for the 1985 Farmington football team. Few knew at that time that it was also Don Kuick's final home game as coach of the Falcons.

One of those who had a hunch, though, was Dave Catherman.

Although he served as the Farmington junior varsity coach, Cathrman rarely, if ever, watched the games from the sidelines. But there he was, on a picturesque autumn afternoon, stalking the sidelines, shouting words of instruction and encouragement to the players.

"I just wanted to see what was happening," said Catherman, who has coached track and football at Farmington High since 1962. "Don was already talking about having some troubles. He was getting discouraged. I just wanted to get a taste; to step back and see if I still had a love for the game."

He did. Last Tuesday, Catherman was named head football coach at Farmington.

"WHEN THE change became evident, a lot of the kids asked me if I was interested (in coaching)," Catherman said. "They gave me a lot of encouragement. I decided that the atmosphere around the school wasn't as bad as people were saying. The foundation is good. Don did a great job here.'

Catherman is no stranger to the Falcon football program. He coached the JV program in 1969, then became a varsity assistant under coaches Hal Beardsley and Richard Roy for the next 11 years.

Catherman was interviewed for head coaching post in 1983, the year Kuick was hired. He spent the 1983 and 1984 seasons coaching at Warner Middle

"I basically just wanted to step back and get out of the way a little bit," he said. "Don asked me to coach the JV this year.

He led the Falcon JV to a 5-4 season

But Catherman has made his name as a track coach. He has been involved with the perennially powerful Falcon track program for 24 years, the head boys coach the last eight. His teams have won Western Lakes Lakes Division crowns the last three

"I inherited a traditionally great program (from Jerry Young), one that I'm very proud of. We've never had a losing record. In fact, I've never had a losing record in anything, and I don't plan on chang-

Catherman said he would continue to coach

CATHERMAN HELD an organizational team meeting for the football team Wednesday, and some 100 prospective players showed up.

"I laid out some things for them," he said. "I wanted them to know that they will have personal contact from me and that I wanted input from them. I told them I wanted to get the parents involved; that I wanted to get a commitment from the school. I want to improve the out-of-school opportunities for these kids. I want to work on getting a weight room. I wanted to let them know that we will be more organized in our preparation for the

One of the areas Catherman is most anxious to improve is the program's image - one he perceives as somewhat negative.

"I'm a Farmington product (class of 1958), and I've never really lost my loyalty to the school," he said. "I hope to continue to improve our image. We have to eliminate the negative press and build up the character of the kids. We have to get them to take pride in both their school and the program."

CATHERMAN IS currently putting his staff together. He has already named Forrest Geary as his varsity assistant. Geary held that role under Kuick. "The rest of the staff is completely up in the air right now," he said. "It's a nice opportunity to step forward for real class people who want to teach

Borgess AD retires after 39 years

Ralph Owen - the man who created the threeball, two-strike rule in high school baseball - is retiring as athletic director of Redford Bishop Borgess High School, effective June 15.

The 63-year-old Owen informed Borgess principal Dr. Donald Bradley of his decision last week. "Thirty-nine years is a long time, and I decided it's about time," said Owen, who has spent the past

14 years at Borgess. "I was losing my enthusiasm, but I guess that comes with age. "I thought about coming back one more year and go for 40 years because that sounded good. But now the job has become work for me, and for Bishop Borgess' sake, I thought a change is needed. They need a younger man." Owen's retirement leaves two key positions open at Borgess. Bradley is also searching for a head football coach. Gary Cook, the Spartans' mentor for the past seven years, resigned in December.

"WE WANT to get the best quality man that comes across the door in both respects," Bradley said. "It may put us back in hiring a coach. Both positions are an intregal and important part of the Owen went from French Lick to Indiana Central College where he played on a basketball team in 1940-41 that won 39 straight game and was ranked ninth in the nation.

PUBLIC NOTICE PUBLIC HEARINGS ON PROPOSED NEW RULES

FOR PUPIL TRANSPORTATION The State Board of Education will hold public hearings on proposed new administrative rules to govern the operation of State Aid for Transportation of School Children, sections 9 and 72, P.A. 94 of 1979, as amended by P.A. 110 of 1985 (MCL 388.1609 and 388.1672).

The public hearings will provide an opportunity to review and react to the proposed new rules which will govern the funding of school pupil transportation. Effective July 1, 1986, State Aid for Transportation of School Children will change from a reimbursement formula to a funding formula affecting both regular transportation and special education transportation, because of changes enacted by the Legislature in the 1985-86 Michigan School Aid Act.

Copies of the proposed administrative rules are available for public review at the office of School Management Services, Ottawa Street Office Building-South, fourth floor, Lansing, and at the hearings.

Comments may be be made at the hearings verbally or in writing. Written comments may also be submitted to the State Board of Education, School Management Services, P.O. Box 30008, Lansing, MI 48909 by March 31, 1986, Attention: Philip O'Leary.

Another wave of academic woes leveled Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team, costing the already-shorthanded Ocelots a shot at an upset Wednesday at Henry Ford Community College.

SC lost 60-59 as HFCC hit three free throws in the waning seconds to build a three-point lead, then hung on. The Ocelots, who dipped to 13-10 overall and 1-7 in the Eastern Conference, played HFCC evenly throughout the game, never trailing by more than three points.

But SC failed to score on three consecutive possessions in the final minute, with Dave Carravallah, Don Edwards and Harold Martin missing shots that allowed HFCC (17-4 overall, 5-3 in the Eastern Conference) to escape.

Two hours before the opening tip, SC athletic director Marv Gans suspended three players for failing to file their academic plans with the Learning Assistance Center. The plans were required by Jan.

SUSPENDED WERE starting guard Desmond Steele and reserves Zollie Stephens and Jeff VakSchoolcraft sports ratsis. They will be reinstated, according to Ocelot coach Rocky Watkins, when they have fulfilled their academic requirements.

The Ocelots could have used their help against HFCC. With three starters and a top substitute lost because of poor grades earlier this month, they were already lacking depth. Then starters Derrick Kearney and Ron Leach were hit by ailments. Kearney had the flu and Leach underwent minor ear surgery.

Both played against HFCC, but neither was 100 percent. Kearney was held to eight points, although he also had five rebounds, four assists and four steals. Leach got nine points, hitting four of five from the field.

"It's like a pox has fallen on this team," said Watkins. "But I will say one thing — these guys are not quitters. They saw all these things happening to them and they still came out and played hard."

A SHORT talk delivered to the Ocelots by SC dean of instruction Louis Reibling prior to the HFCC game may have had much to do with the inspired play, Watkins felt. "He's serious. He means business," said Watkins of Reibling. "I think that lit a fire under them."

SC led at the half, 30-29. The Ocelots had the biggest lead of the game, pulling in front by six midway through the opening half, but HFCC quickly caught up and the lead was never greater than three the rest of the way.

Edwards excelled for SC, bagging 18 points, 11 rebounds, five blocked shots, two assists and a steal. But he was the only Ocelot to reach double figures in scoring.

Carl Strong paced HFCC with 20 points. Mustafa Hamid had 18 points and 10 rebounds.

On Jan. 25, SC connected for three more baskets than Delta CC and still lost by 20. DCC pasted the visiting Ocelots 96-76 with some deadly shooting from the free throw line.

DCC hit 39 of 42 foul shots. SC was 13 of 20 from the stripe. Kearney put together a rare triple-dou-ble, with 25 points, 13 rebounds and 11 assists.

Schoolcraft College's women's basketball team continues to make the most of the tools it possesses: quickness, depth, speed and sharp perimeter shoot-

Which is why the Lady Ocelots continue to win. Their latest victim was Henry Ford Community College, which SC disposed of quickly and efficiently Wednesday by a final score of 98-65. Visiting HFCC never had much of a chance, falling behind 18-4 before the game was five minutes The Lady Ocelots built a 20-point bulge and never allowed HFCC to intrude upon it, leading 55-31 at the half.

Four SC players reached double figures in scoring and six scored eight or more points. Kim Chandler's 24 points and 12 rebounds topped the list. Aimee Frye scored a career-high 20 points, including 14 in the first half. Lori Abbas had 13, Tracey Ladouceur 10 (and seven rebounds), Sheri Wolfe nine and Sue Lubbe eight.

Kelly Bemiss, a Plymouth Salem grad, paced HFCC with 20 points. Debbie Dieringer had 17.

AT DELTA CC Jan. 25, SC didn't have quite as easy a road to travel, but the destination was the same: a 79-66 victory.

The Lady Ocelots led 43-37 at the half and led by at least eight after the intermission. Lubbe's 23 points was best for SC, with Ladouceur adding 20 and Colleen McKay 14. Lubbe and Ladouceur each nabbed 11 rebounds.

Kim Klein poured in 28 for DCC, with Connie White pitching in 19.

The two wins kept SC unbeaten in Eastern Conference play (7-0) and boosted its overall record to 16-4. SC's final home game of the season is against Highland Park at 6 p.m. Wednesday. The squad plays its final four conference games on the road.

volleyball coach Ron Shortt, there were no winners in Wednesday night's match with Plymouth Canton.

The scoreboard read that Harrison won 13-13, 15-11. Shortt wasn't buying it.

"It was ridiculous," Shortt said. "We've been playing just below the level of the teams we play. Luckily we came out on top Wednesday." Canton could feel a bit better about things, even though it lost the match.

"We've been playing a lot better lately," said senior team captain Diana Knickerbocker. "We just haven't got around to winning yet."

Knickerbocker played a strong game in the back row to help Canton stay close. Hitter Laura Darby and setter Kelly Moeller also teamed up to control the net on occasion.

Canton is 0-7 in the Western Lakes, 1-9 overall.

Jennifer Hughes and Diana Raddatz played well all around for the Hawks.

"Jenny has been playing real good all season, and Diana has been coming on strong," Shortt said. "But the others have been on and off. You can't win with two players."

Harrison is 2-5 in the conference, 10-9 overall.

NORTH FARMINGTON snuck by Plymouth Salem Wednesday, 15-12, 15-7, in another Western Lakes match. The Rocks wasted a sterling performance by hitter Leanne Becker. Becker was successful on 19 spikes in two games; 11 of them were aces.

"We played just good enough — to lose," Salem coach Betty Smith said. "In our first match we lost to Walled Lake Western; they played well and we played well, but not well enough to win. Same thing Wednesday. If, on North, particularly in the second game.

Salem is 3-4 in the Western Lakes, 3-9 overall. North is 2-5 in the league, 9-9 overall. LIVONIA STEVENSON made easy work of Farmington Wednesday, winning 15-2, 15-4.

"It was just a matter of serving and letting Farmington try and get it back," said Stevenson coach Lee

Watch Out! Kid On The Move!

This is one of our many "Kids On The Move"--moving on down the street to deliver our hometown paper.

Our kids juggle busy school and leisure schedules to make sure you get your local paper on time. They budget their earnings to buy things they need and want. We hope they're courteous and friendly as well.

Someday, they'll be "Adults On The Move" and will use their newspaper carrier experience out in the real world.

If you want to be a "Kid on the Move", call our Circulation Department to get yourself an Observer or Eccentric carrier route.

Critics are okay if they agree with you, but otherwise they have a pretty bad name.

It's no wonder, considering the shabby material that passes for film criticism in national magazines. In fact, you gotta wonder if they screen the movies they review.

People magazine recently (Jan. 20) made a half dozen errors of fact in its review of James Garner's new film and panned the marvelous "The Trip to Bountiful" (PG) without even getting the plot straight, all on the same page.

In a marvelous performance, acting at its very best, Geraldine Page captivates audiences as Carrie Watts, an elderly woman living in 1947 Houston with her son and daughter-inlaw. All Carrie now wants from life is to return to Bountiful, the small town where she grew up and lived most of her life.

Her daughter-in-law, Carlin Glynn, is a consummate bitch who won't hear of the trip. She won't do anything for her mother-in-law - in fact, for anyone except herself. Selfish is a mild description. Excellent is the word for Glynn's rendition.

THE WEAK SON (John Heard), just getting back on his feet after illness and job loss, won't take momma home either. He can't face down his wife nor can he face up to his own difficult memories of his childhood on the old homestead in Bountiful.

The entire film turns on those problems and those relationships.

People magazine doesn't understand people and merely notes the kids' implausible claim of poverty as the reason for not taking Carrie back to Bountiful. The richi lies in its interpersonal relationships (and excellent acting), with money only a peripheral matter. Well, Mother Carrie is a woman of great inner strength so she "runs away" to Bountiful. It's not easy because neither train nor bus go there anymore — there's nothing there. Her-bus ride to Harrison, the nearest stop, is an engaging adventure.

Geraldine Page's characterization of this woman of valor is indeed compelling. She is alternately weak and vacillating, strong and determined, a very appealing human being.

The film is theatrical in the sense of being staged and shot in limited spaces with the camera generally representing the best seat in the house before which the action is played out chronologically. That is unlike the more typical film technatural mobility in time and space

Page's acting is appropriately the-atrical and her every mance and in-flection touches the audience's emo-tional regard for this kindly old wom-am harassed by her daughter-in-law and "unsupported" by her son.

ON THE BUS TRIP, Carrie Watts befriends, and is befriended by, a young woman (Rebecca DeMornay) traveling to live with her parents while her soldier-husband is overseas.

Looking like a pristine Leslie Caron, DeMornay projects a sweet, loving character in rich counterpoint to Carrie's shrewish daughter-in-law. DeMornay demonstrates her acting ability, appearing as far from her "Risky Business" hooker role as one

Simon's 'Brighton Beach Memoirs' is warm, witty

Performances of Neil Simon's "Brighton Beach Memoirs," directed by Martin Herzer, continue through Sunday, Feb. 23, at the Birmingham Theatre. For ticket information, call the box office at 644-

The soft sepia tones of the open set perfectly establish the mood for "Brighton Beach Memoirs," Neil Simon's warm and touching comedy of family life. The current production at. the Birmingham Theatre is an excellent rendition of Simon's finest play.

This autobiographical work is the most moving in Simon's large canon of hits. Laughter is still in generous supply, but the sharp one-liners that mark Simon's usual witty repartee have been softened with a gentle depth of feeling.

"Brighton Beach" is narrated by 15year-old Eugene Jerome (Mitchell Whitfield), growing up in Brooklyn in 1937. While his parents must deal with the harsh realities of the Depression and the strain of sheltering three impoverished relatives, Eugene, newly obsessed with female anatomy, lusts after his cousin Nora and dreams of playing for the Yankees.

Eugene wins the audience immediately by confiding his innermost thoughts directly to it. As a budding writer, Eugene delights in commenting on his family's behavior. His mother, Kate (Barbara Caruso), for instance, does wondrous and incomprehensible things like whispering the names of dread diseases so God shouldn't hear her, admonishing Eugene to "write quietly" and knowing instinctively when Eugene has secreted a forbidden cookie in his pocket or at dinner hidden his much-disdained liver under the mashed WHITFIELD IS totally captivating as Eugene, His speech conveys just the right mix of Broklyn-Jewish intonations and self-deprecating irony. "If only I was Italian," he laments. "All the best Yankees are Italian . . . My mother makes spaghetti with ketchup. What chance do I have?"

As Jack, the family patriarch, Victor Raider-Wexler is the epitome of a wise and loving father. While a bit brusque on the surface, he is full of good advice and tenderly fosters independent thinking. Raider-Wexler's expressive face and underlying gentleness are perfect.

Caruso ably shows the strain Kate is under as she juggles the problems of her children, husband, sister and nieces - all in her charge. In the play's quieter moments though, her voice never quite softens enough, nor is she eth-nic enough to be fully believable, Mary Boucher is excellent as Kate's younger sister Blanche, struggling to find herself after six years of widowhood and lifelong dependency on others. Her kind, understanding heart reaches out to her rebellious teen-age daughter, her alcoholic neighbor, and even to the sister who has just told her

Under director Martin Herzer, the comic timing is flawless and the tempo never lags. Lighting, sets, and cos-their roles.

Allyson Rice plays Blanche's petu-lant daughter, Nora, longing to become a Broadway dancer instead of finishing high school. Care Phillips is Nora's bookish younger sister, pampered and lazy because of a heart murnur. Jo-seph Fuqua is Stanley, the older brother Eugene adores. All are fine in their roles.

tumes are top-notch.

There's a universal appeal to "Brighton Beach Memoirs" that allows each viewer to recognize a piece of his own family, his own adolescence.

wine

Richard Watson

Temperature affects flavor

One of the recurring issues in the world of wines is that of the temperature at which wines should be served. It is a matter of more than esoteric importance. Temperature at service influences greatly the attributes of flavors and should not be considered a mere affectation.

The old rule about chilling white wines before being served and having red wines at room temperature is essentially too simplistic. After all, how cold is "chilling," what is the temperature of a "room?" Are all white wines to be treated equally; all reds?

There is no mnemonic that I know for what is to follow. Rather, I offer a principle to be understood and accepted that will carry you through most circumstances. Followed, it will help avoid some of the gross situations one sometimes encounters. (It does not cover the abomination of putting ice in wine nor does it speak to the relative merits of "warmer coolers," but nothing much will.)

The principle obtains for table wines only. A different one will be offered for sparkling wines later. Stated, I hope, as simply as possible, it says that the fruitier, fresher, apparently sweeter the wine the more it should be chilled; the more complex, dry, earthy the wine the warmer it should be.

THE RATIONALE behind this is that coolness cuts, neutralizes the fruit of a Chenin Blanc, a Riesling, a Beaujolais. Cool appies taste better than warm ones, too. Fruit drinks are usually chilled, coolers cooled. Sweeter wines have a cloying quality that needs cutting, and this can be accommodated by chilling.

Big robust wines want their flavors brought out by being served considerably warmer. The heat from a person's hands around a glass helps aromas to develop. Heating naturally (not in a microwave as a couple of restaurants are know to do when a chilled red wine is rejected at the table) enhances flavors. So, with big wines like Cabernet, Hermitage or most Chardonnays (White Burgundy), the "room temperature" applies.

Note that one red so far is to be chilled, one white

A Mardi Gras celebration on Tuesday, Feb. 11,

"Fat Tuesday," will be held at Jack McCarthy's Restaurant in Keego Harbor. McCarthy, a Louisiana native, will offer a multicourse dinner on the traditional eve of Lent. Crawfish, redfish, shrimp and oysters will be among the seafood served at the feast combining Cajun food and dishes of old New Orleans. There will be two seatings, at 6:30 and 8 p.m., for dinner priced at $30 per person. For reservations, call 682-5522.

The fifth annual Cajun-Creole Dinner will be given at 7 p.m. Monday-Tuesday, Feb. 24-25, at the Lark in West Bloomfield. Duck with Cajun sausage file gumbo as well as fresh crawfish etunffee with dirty rice and red beans will be among the many courses. Oysters Rockefeller with be "the original with watercress rather than the ersatz version with spinach," said owner Jim Lark, Doug Jacobs and the Red Garter Band will play Dixieland music.

Dinner is $60 per person excluding beverage, tax or gratuity. For reservations, call $44-4466.

table talk

Mardi Gras

Cajun-Creole

From all I can gather, the idea of room temperature as proper for the serving of red wines goes back some generations to England, great consumers always of Bordeaux wines. These were times before central heating and having a room at 70 degrees was impossible; 60-65 was more the norm. The wines came from the cellar well cooled and were allowed to warm to that level we now deem appropriate.

Table wines to be served very cold: Chenin Blanc (Vouvray), Rielsling, most Italian whites, Colombard and all rose and blush wines. Somewhat warmer (out of refrigerator a half hour before serving): Sauvignon (Fume) Blanc, Beaujolais, lighter Italian reds, Chardonnays from Macon and Chablis and some young Zinfandels.

Room temperature wines: Bordeaux, Burgundy, Sirah (Hermitage), Rioja, Chardonnay, big Italian reds and all Ports.

THE PRINCIPLE covering the service of sparkling wines is somewhat different. The idea here is not to combat fruitiness (there should be none) nor tent of sparkling wine presentation is to chill it thoroughly (again, not iced) to help enhance the natural cleanness, crispness, delicacy of the wine.

Sparkling wines have only hints of flavor and aroma; the drier the better, allowing only a subtle suggestion of fruit. The grapes for sparkling wine are harvested before sugars and fruit mature as they would with table wine to assure a crispness; chilling keeps it that way. Warm sparkling wine tends to feel flabby on the palate. :

And warm sparkling wine bubbles violently and dissipates quickly, a most pragmatic reason to keep it very cold.

The next time the waiter brings a Chardonnay to your table encased in an ice bucket remove it at once. And tell him why. It sometimes seems as though the people who serve wine in restaurants know the least about proper service. Told in an unembarrasing manner most will appreciate your attempt at education. Then he or she will do a better job with me the next time I visit that place.
