Property, according to state law, must be assessed for tax purposes at one half of fair market value. Assessments are based on home sales studies.

Assessments were expected to increase about five percent on the great majority of houses in the township. No general residential increase was expected in the city.

Appointments aren't needed, as petitioners will be heard on a first-come, first-served basis in the township hall meeting room.

THE CITY board of review will hear petitions from noon to 6 p.m. March 4 and 3-9 p.m. March 5 in the commission meeting room. Petitioners are being asked to make an appointment mailed to township property owners through the treasurer's office (453-

Petitioners may speak for themselves or have an agent address the board. Appeals also may be submitted by mail. Forms are available at the assessing department at Township Hall and the treasurer's office at City Hall.

Boards of review - comprised of taxpaying residents - hear cases in panels of at least three persons. They can reduce assessments, but petitioners have been advised to bring evidence to support their claims.

Evidence could be an examination of a property by a professional appraiser, sales contract of a transaction if the property was recently purchased, or an analysis of sales within well-defined neighborhoods.

TRANSACTIONS must be examined in context, she added. Sales to family members or as a result of divorce don't always reflect fair market value.

The only other basis for appeal other than a mistake is financial hardship. Again, documentation is required. Income tax returns are good source documents.

"I will prepare myself to be busy. I expect to be busy," Paschke said.

Don't expect an immediate decision from the board of review. Notification will be made by mail, probably by the end of March.

At that time, information will be included for further appeal to the state tax tribunal should petitioners be dissatisfied with local rulings.

Glenn Shaw Jr., president of Wayne County Appraisal, said he believes he has good enough sales data so that few adjustments will be necessary on township appeals.

Still, he doesn't discourage appeals if petitioners believe they have a case.

There may be errors. There may be justification for appeal. Our role is not to raise or lower assessments. Ours is to get it right," Shaw said.

Police played over a loudspeaker taped messages from family members living in Texas in trying to lure a rape suspect out of his room Wednesday at the Holiday Inn, 30375 Plymouth.

Police began an eight-hour stakeout of the motel at 8:25 a.m. Wednesday when police spotted in the parking lot a car matching one used by a man earlier that morning in connection with the rape of a Canton Township woman.

Surveillance of the room began immediately. Duren said identification of the man in the room was delayed because the room was rented in Bokemeyer's name while the car in the

Two men robbed a 23-year-old Canton man by stopping his car on Palmer near Lilley and demanding his money.

County park money forced out of co

By Teri Banas staff writer

A major battle to reinstate a sizable chunk of the Wayne County parks budget was won last week.

In a rarely used maneuver, the County Commission forced a $500,000 appropriation to the parks budget out of the Ways and Means Committee. The committee had previously tabled it.

"It's my understanding and fear that the delay is an attempt to kill this item," said commissioneer Curt Boller, D-Brownstown, who urged that his "discharge" motion be adopted.

BY AN 8-5 vote, the action ensures that the appropriation will get full consideration at the commission's next meeting on March 6.

If the supplemental bill is adopted, the parks budget would be restored to its approximately $2.5 million 1985 level

"If it gets through, we'll have a similar level of operation to last year," Reickel said, in an interview.

"If it doesn't, we will either run out of money at the end of August, or we will have to reduce the level of service trick and Clarence Young in opposing and lay off personnel." Without the $500,000, Reickel said, his department will have to lay off 27 percent of all personnel, eliminate 100 percent of seasonal personnel, do less grass cutting and maintenance, and pick up less trash.

The recreation division and activities days, in which Hines Parkway is closed to motor vehicles, would be eliminated.

Reickel deplored the up-and-down trend of the Wayne County parks budget, renewing his call for guaranteed parks funding through a dedicated millage.

THE VOTE on the discharge split commissioners almost down traditional Detroit vs. suburban lines. Supporting Boller's maneuver were Kay Beard, D-Inkster, Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, Milton Mack, D-Wayne, Richard Manning, D-Redford Township, David Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, and William Suzore, D-Allen Park, plus Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit.

Chairman John Hertel, D-Harper Woods, joined Detroiters Freddie Burton Jr., Jackie Currie, Bernard Kilpa-

the move. Commissioner Sam Turner of Detroit abstained.

SAID KILPATRICK: "We like parks like everybody else. But this is absurd. We don't have $500,000 to pay for the parks."

Hertel complained that the move "flies in the face of the committee system" and argued that it should only be taken as "a last resort. I don't think that we've reached that point."

Boller, however, countered that the budget year, which began last Dec. 1, is soon entering its second quarter and that unless the money is restored there could be layoffs.

All this comes at a time when at least two county parks - Warren Valley Golf Course in Dearborn Heights and Elizabeth Park in Trenton - are being eyed for a possible take-over by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA), as the 15th and 16th metroparks.

Hertel, who also serves as HCMA's board chairman, favors the idea, saying the county can no longer afford them.

Concerns expressed on prisoners cleaning Rouge

By W.W. Edgar staff writer

It was with mixed emotions that residents heard the announcement by the Rouge River Basin Committee that the river was to be cleaned by prisoners.

Residents have been waiting for several years for official notice that the river was to be cleaned. But the announcement that the work was to be done by prisoners, sentenced to short terms, brought forth a myriad of questions chief of which was who would guard the prisoners while on the job.

Other questions were raised by some residents who live along Wilcox Lake in Plymouth.

"I live within 75 feet of the river," said Dunbar Davis, retired 35th District Judge. "And I don't want prisoners around my home unless there is some sort of supervision. We, at least, are entitled to hear that." And he added that some of his neighbors in the community felt the same way. "We had them attempt to repair some of the buildings out at DeHoCo and the job they did was far from satisfactory. So what could they do in a job the size and importance of cleaning the Rouge?" said Davis.

Another resident, who lives close to Wilcox Lake, asked how the prisoners could work in the water and do a complete job. And he asked where the money was coming from. When told $90,000 had been set aside, he asked why the work wasn't given to the unemployed in the area.

One of the chief questions about the use of prisoners came from Richard Myers, chief of police in the city of Plymouth. "I would like to know where these prisoners are coming from and how they will be supervised before I could get behind such a move as cleaning the Rouge. It is such a big job."

Others who spoke up at the lunch table talked of plans several years ago vide some of the funds via tax monles. But the Rouge River Committee promises the river will be cleaned - if it takes 20 years.

Scoggins said he's often surprised by what he sees on patrol.

"A lot of people are negligent in securing their property," he said. "You'll see bicycles left on the street, garage doors open, they don't secure vehicles in the driveway. It's the easy opportunity crime."

Berry suggests that homeowners pay special attention to locks around their property. "Most locks on doors are just slip kinds you can open very easily. They should use dead bolts."

County park money forced loose By Teri Banas

staff writer

A major battle to reinstate a sizable chunk of the Wayne County parks budget was won last week

In a rarely used maneuver, the County Commission forced a $500,000 appropriation to the parks budget out of the Ways and Means Committee. The committee had previously tabled it.

"It's my understanding and fear that the delay is an attempt to kill this item," said commissioneer Curt Boller, D-Brownstown, who urged that his "discharge" motion be adopted.

BY AN 8-5 vote, the action ensures that the appropriation will get full consideration at the commission's next meeting on March 6.

If the supplemental bill is adopted, the parks budget would be restored to its approximately $2.5 million 1985 level.

"If it gets through, we'll have a similar level of operation to last year," Reickel said, in an interview.

"If it doesn't, we will either run out of money at the end of August, or we will have to reduce the level of service and lay off personnel."

Without the $500,000, Reickel said, his department will have to lay off 27 percent of all personnel, eliminate 100 percent of seasonal personnel, do less grass cutting and maintenance, and pick up less

The recreation division and activities days, in which Hines Parkway is closed to motor ve would be eliminated.

Reickel deplored the up-and-down trend of the Wayne County parks budget, renewing his call for guaranteed parks funding through a dedicated millage.

THE VOTE on the discharge split commissioners almost down traditional Detroit vs. suburban lines. Supporting Boller's maneuver were Kay Beard, D-Inkster, Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, Milton Mack, D-Wayne, Richard Manning, D-Redford Township, David Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, and William Suzore, D-Allen Park, plus Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit.

Chairman John Hertel, D-Harper Woods, joined Detroiters Freddie Burton .Jr., Jackie Currie, Bernard Kilpatrick and Clarence Young in opposing the move. Commissioner Sam Turner of Detroit abstained.

SAID KILPATRICK: "We like parks like everybody else. But this is absurd. We don't have $500,000 to pay for the parks."

Hertel complained that the move "flies in the face of the committee system" and argued that it should only be taken as "a last resort. I don't think that we've reached that point."

Boller, however, countered that the budget year, which began last Dec. 1, is soon entering its second quarter and that unless the money is restored there could be layoffs.

All this comes at a time when at least two county parks — Warren Valley Golf Course in Dearborn Heights and Elizabeth Park in Trenton — are being eyed for a possible take-over by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority (HCMA), as the 15th and 16th metroparks.

Hertel, who also serves as HCMA's board chairman, favors the idea, saying the county can no longer afford them.

IN ANOTHER development, County Executive William Lucas announced 35 unemployed workers have been given winter jobs in county parks.

"We have used Private Industry Corporation workers in the parks before, but only in the summertime," he said."

"Now, for the first time, we have supervised toboggan runs for the convenience of our citizens, and disadvantagaed workes are gaining valuable work experience.'

They are assigned to Middlebelt Hill in Westland, Cass Benton Woods in Northville, Warren Valley Golf Course in Dearborn Heights and Elizabeth Park in Trenton.

ander, February 24, 1988 O&B

An attempt by cousty commission ers to push a chirter amendmen eliminating the drain commissioner office fizzled last week. Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne, withdrew a resolution he had prepared asking full support from the 15-member County Commission. The resolution, which would put the question before voters, apparently failed to muster eight votes. Mack co-authored the resolution along with Chairman John Hertel, D-Harper Woods. It was supported by Mary Dumas, R-Livonia, and Arthur Carter, D-Detroit. Dumas waged a similar but unsuccessful campaign several years ago.

"WE OUGHT to be able to move on it in two weeks," Mack said.

He withdrew the propsal-Thursday because of a procedural problem. "The item was misplaced on the agenda. It was under immediate concerns. I hadn't intended to have it voted on.

"It my intention that the resolution be referred to the Public Services Committee (which he chairs) to hold public hearings on it throughout western Wayne County. "We didn't have the votes (Thurs-day). I'm sure after hearings are held we'll have the votes. I still intend to pursue it."

COMMISSION sources said the issue is stalemated until further investigation is made into allegations that Drain Commissioner Charles Youngblood mishandled funds. No formal members. "I yeant to know what the facts before we put something on the lot," said Commissioner Sam Tur lot," said Commissioner Sam Turner D-Detroit. "It may still be eliminated but we have to have the facts." Turner said he has written a resolu-tion directing the county auditor gen-eral to investigate Youngblood's fi-nancial records with a report forth-coming within two months.

coming within two months.

BUT DUMAS, for one, says that's re lundant.

They've done a tremendou amount of research on it already," she said.,

Besides the recently released probe by Ernst & Whinney, a national ac-counting firm, there have been inter-nal county inquiries by the commis-sion's legislative research staff and auditor general Lester Robinson.

Among allegations are failure to keep financial records for up to six years, suspect assessments nearly five times average costs of similar. projects elsewhere and violations of, state-required bidding procedures.

In the case of the Ernst & Whinney report. Youngblood refused to cooper-ate by turning over all record re-quests, Mack and Hertel said.

OTHER COMMISSIONERS, however, said they simply weren't ready to take action on the issue.

Auto insurance bill clears house

A hill to end rate controls over auto Gov. James J. Blanchard promised, "I will sign this version."

The bill amends the Essential Insurance Act of 1979. Effective in April, it ends a system whereby auto insurance rates in the suburbs are tied to Detroit's rates.

The bill would limit rates only in Detroit, capping annual increases at 4 percent above the rate of inflation. It also sets up a fund to combat auto theft, one of the causes of soaring costs in the metro area.

THE HOUSE Thursday gave the bill insurance has cleared the state Legisla- 69-26 approval. While most Republiture with strong suburban support, and cans supported it, Democrats were badly split.

In the Observer & Eccentric area, only Democrats Maxine Berman of Southfield and William Keith of Garden City were opposed.

Berman said she distrusted insurance companies, fearing the bill would open the door for them to raise suburban rates to cover losses in Detroit.

Also voting in the minority were House Speaker Gary Owen of Ypsilanti and Majority Floor Leader Lewis Dodak of Flint.

Oakland representatives supporting it were Republicans W.V. Brotherton of Farmington, Mat Dunaskiss of Lake Orion, Gregory Gruse of Madison Heights, David Honigman of West Bloomfield, Judith Miller of Birmingham and Gordon Sparks of Troy.

Western Wayne supporters included Lyn Bankes, R-Livonia; Justine Barns, D-Westland; John Bennett, D-Redford; James Kosteva, D-Canton; and Gerald Law, R-Plymouth.

SIGNIFICANT support came from Rep. Matt McNeeley, D-Detroit, who chairs the House Insurance Committee and is rarely friendly to insurance companies. McNeeley and Senate Commerce Chairman Richard Poshumus, R-Lowell, put together the compromise.

McNeeley was the only Detroiter to support it.

Insurance companies were unable immediately to say how much rates might be affected up or down, but they did promise more competition.

The Essential Insurance Act, by tying rates from one territory to another, had the effect of breaking the state into two markets - metro Detroit and the rest of the state.

Colonial Kiwanis club formed here in 1967

(Part 3)

The Kiwanis Club of Plymouth began ar association with the Plymouth Theatre Guild in 1950 that was to last for the next seven years. The club teamed up with the Guild to present a series of plays to raise money for the Girl Scout Cabin Kiwanians were building.

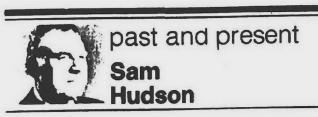

Kiwanians sold tickets and appeared in some of the Guild's plays. The first of them, "John Loves Mary," staged in March 1950, was directed by local photographer Lynton Ball. Three years later when Dean Saxton was president of the club, the Theatre Guild's production of "January Thaw" in the high school auditorium netted the Cabin fund $1.300.

tion in the 1953 issue of the Kiwanis Magazine. During that year many Kiwanians and their wives assisted in entertaining crippled children at the cabin.

Final payment on the note at the bank was completed in 1954 when Edwin Campbell was president and the Girl Scout Cabin was paid in full. It was turned over to the Girl Scouts for full management with title still held by the club. In the following year, the cabin was again used in the summer by crippled children under the guidance of Kiwanian Les Taylor and wife Herma.

In 1956, when Dr. Fred Foust was president, the club donated $500 to the high school band uniform fund. In that year the club was proud to have Ernest Henry named lieutenant governor of the district. He was the fourth Plym-

HAROLD FISCHER was president in 1958 when Kiwanis sponsored the second of a series of Town Hall meetings in the junior high building.

The club also sent a member as an official representative to the Plymouth Area Development Association, an organization made up of leading citizens of the township and city to discuss questions concerning both areas of government. Fischer, who served on the school board for a number of years, was the first board chairman at Schoolcraft College in the fall of 1961.

Improvements still were being made to the Girl Scout Cabin in 1959 when William Sempliner was president. Membership had reached 88. The club still had four living charter members on its roster. After meeting at the Hotel Mayflower for 30 years, the club changed its meeting place in 1961 when John Wallace was president. The new location was Lofy's Arbor-Lil Restaurant, then on Ann Arbor Road in the Willoughby building that was destroyed by fire in the fall of 1971. The club now is back at the hotel.

In 1962, when Neil Davidson was president, the club grew to 100 members. The following year, when Walter Gemperline presided, membership increased to 104, making Plymouth the 15th largest Kiwanis Club in the district

In that year, Kiwanis established the Key Club at Plymouth High. The Key Club, which began with 30 members, in a Kiwanis-sponsored boys' service organization for high school students. During the year the Kiwanis Club's outstanding record of community service earned top award in the Silver Section of the Michigan District.

In 1964, when Gerald Fitch was president, two scholarships were given to Schoolcraft College, one for a boy, the other for a girl. The club's 40th anniversary was observed in 1965 when Marvin Terry, owner of Terry's Bakery, was president. In 1966, when James Lyons headed the club, Kiwanians formed a non-profit Michigan corporation, the Plymouth Kiwanis Foundation, to receive tax-free donations of funds to be used for community and charitable purposes.

A SECOND KIWANIS Club was started in Plymouth in May 1967. Its first president was James Jabara, owner of a number of business buildings in Plymouth.

Tim Yoe, a charter member of the new group, says the move was not a split between the evening and noon clubs but merely a recognition that some prospective Kiwanians were more likely to attend a noon meeting th n one at night.

Called Colonial Kiwanis Club, the group meets at the Hotel Mayflower on Thursdays at noon. Both clubs support the Kiwanis Foundation of Michigan and cooperate with each other on civic projects. One of the major projects of both groups is to provide recreational and educational opportunities for hospitalized children.

Both clubs also participated in providing the picnic shelter for Plymouth Township Park and work together to maintain Point Park at the junction of Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail.

Colonial Kiwanis also participates with the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth and the Plymouth Rotary Club in ringing bells for the Salvation Army during the Christmas season. The Colonial Club, which has 62 members, is headed this year by Dr. Greogory Ferman.

Seeds of spring arrive early

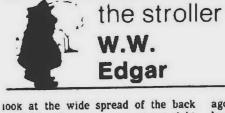

It couldn't have happened at a better time. During the night almost a foot of snow fell and blocked The Stroller's criveway.

That was bad enough. But just as he cussed the "gift" from Mother Nature he walked a few feet to the mailbox and would you believe it, there was a pair of spring flower catalogues. He took one look across the yard at the sunken garden and he no longer saw the snow.

IN HIS MIND came a view of the summer months when the new evergreens would be in front of the little white house with the green shutters. Along with them would be a bed of very colorful flowers, and over the sunken garden the wild ferns more beautiful than ever.

Along the front walk the flowers he had been told to plant for color filled the bill. It was a great sight to see the setting and the flowers he had been advised to plant. With that, the foot of snow was for-yard. The big evergreens were a sight to see. Their green limbs were covered with snow and the color combination set off the entire garden and how it would look during the summer months. The tomato bushes set the pace. They were early plants and each limb was filled with the delacacies. Next came the garden onions, cucumbers and a bit of lettuce. Just one look (despite the snow) assured the Stroller that he would have a nice summer with his favorite gifts from the garden.

THE NEXT BIG thing that caught his eye was the long line of evergreens the full length of the lot line. They had been placed there years ago to serve as a border. They went beyond that. They now were a dozen feet tall and provided a better border than one could have purchased. The one thing that was missing was his favorite white bench. Here he sat for many hours just looking at the home and garden that festooned the two acres of property that was bought some years ago. Here was a place to live in comfort when it came time to enjoy old age and feel contented with the choices we made on the day when we decided to build a home in the coun-

It was a great feeling this morning. And as he enjoyed it, he got another surprise. The young lad who lives next door came over and with one pull of the cord the snow blower started. That was a real thrill for it means that the driveway, with a rather dangerous curve, would be cleared. It was. Now the day was complete.

The snow that bothered him was removed from the driveway. His thoughts were on the coming summer when he would be spending time in the garden with his flowers and vegetables. He figured Mother Nature would have a way of evening things after dumping a foot

Bryan Brown is Rollie, shown with creation Rosebud, in "F/X," an intriguing film drama centering around special effects.

10A#(R-8A)

Is it real or fake? Audience has fun with art of illusion

"F/X" (R) is a polished, pleasurable adventure film. It's all quite predictable but done with sufficient style so that even the obligatory car chases have a fresh approach.

"F/X" is the marginal filmstrip notation for special effects which -- as we all know from watching TV specials promoting movies - is the art of making the impossible, the dangerous and the expensive look easy and real on the screen.

In the particular world "F/X" creates, Rollie Tyler (Bryan Brown) is the most accomplished special effects designer in town. His trusted assistant, Andy (Martha Gehman), is a cute blonde but not his girl. Although Gehman's acting is limited to small shrieks of pleasure as various special effects unfold, she does manage to pitch smoke bombs right on cue.

Rollie's girl, Ellen (Diane Venora), is a film actress who is attractive, competent and mainly around as a foil for Rollie who gets involved with assassinations and intrigue in the "real" world where blood and guts aren't make believe.

ROLLIE IS approached by Lipton (Cliff DeYoung), who works for Col. Mason (Mason Adams) of the Justice Department's Witness Protection Program. They offer Rollie $30,000 (tax free) to stage a fake assassination of Nicholas DeFranco (Jerry Orbach), a Mafia chieftain who has agreed to testify. The only way Mason can protect DeFranco is by convincing the Mafia that DeFranco is dead.

Of course, things are never that simple in movies of intrigue, and we enjoy discovering the plots within the plots and all the twists and turns of the story. While none of it is very complicated, the story is told well, the special effects are compelling and the acting is convincing.

The question of special effects and the difference between illusion and reality in the movies is highlighted by "F/X's" basic concept. Everyone knows in gangster or slasher movies they're not really killing, maiming and mutilating. A well-done film never gives its audience time to consider that all those impossible, gory, exciting events are faked

The entire enterprise in "F/X" is a lot more fun because the audience is never quite certain whether the illusion is meant to be an apparition or whether we are supposed to believe it is real.

The film is properly rated "R" for its violence, even though a lot of it is intended as fake. The car chases, which I usually find childishly silly as they celebrate destructive tendencies and everybody's infantile desire to challenge authority by speeding, are done with a good deal more style than usual. They are clever rather than a simple display of force and speed.

"F/X" IS HELPED along by some nifty acting. Bryan Brown won't win an Oscar but he certainly is pleasantly convincing as an average kind of guy whose special-effects talent gets him through some pretty tough scrapes.

Even Mason Adams' performance is a pleasure, with his urbane manner this time convincingly masking his villainy. He is best remembered as the managing editor on the "Lou Grant" television series. Adams' resonant baritone will always ring in my memories, for his commercial for an unpleasantly named jam.

But most of all, in the acting department, "F/X" features Brian Dennehy as Lt. Leo McCarthy, a rougish cop who originally brought DeFranco in. He's upset, however, because the department has shunted him aside on the case. Dennehy, who has been turning in excellent supporting roles lately ("Cocoon," "Twice in a Lifetime" and "Silverado") is probably the only 280-pound actor who looks 320.

In "F/X" it works just right, as the maverick throwing his weight around (literally and figuratively) in a rough and gruff style. The film is worth watching for Dennehy's performance alone, but there's a lot more entertainment as well. I'll bet everybody enjoys "F/X."

My apologies for last week's error in referring to Sally Field in "Murphy's Romance" as "the Widow Moriarty." She was a divorcee.

Brighten Winter Meals with FRESH TOMATOES

There's something quite special about a sauce made with rich red, fresh tomatoes in the wintertime. And it's a sauce that tastes every bit as spectacular as it looks.

Florida tomatoes are in good supply from November through May. Because they arrive in the store at the pale pink stage (if they were riper when shipped they would be mush upon arrival), you usually need to finish ripening them at home. Place them in a fruit bowl or on the kitchen counter, stem side up. Do not refrigerate. Botanically tomatoes are a fruit, like bananas, and should not be refrigerated until fully ripe (and preferably, not at all). Today's winter tomatoes come from new varieties that have been bred for better flavor and texture but they must be allowed to become red and yield gently to the touch.

Now, with your tomatoes at their best, let's start cooking. That fine fresh sauce for pasta (photo, foreground) is made with chopped tomatoes, zucchini and carrot strips, and spiced with onion, garlic and basil. At the upper right are baked tomatoes filled with a garlicky, bread-and-oregano stuffing brightened with orange peel. This makes a nice accompaniment to chicken or fish, or to scrambled eggs for brunch. Green beans with a warm tomato butter are at the top. This butter will keep, refrigerated, for several days and can also be served over cooked eggplant, potatoes, cauliflower and zucchini and is delicious to spread when chilled on crusty bread or biscuits.

Tomatoes are a fine nutritional buy. They're high in vitamin C, plus vitamin A and potassium and they contribute some B vitamins, iron and phosphorous. A medium-sized tomato weighs in at only 35 calories, contains no cholesterol, and only 10 mg of sodium.

Soup is chock-full of veggies

On a chilly winter day, there's nothing quite so comforting as a steaming bowl of homemade soup. Creamy Chicken-Vegetable Soup, chock-full of vegetables and simmered to perfection, is one of those soul-satisfying foods that is sure to please.

Making soup can be a creative act of improvisation. Almost any poultry, meat or meaty bones can serve as a starter, and any mix of favorite vegetables can add variety, color and pleasing texture. The flexibility of homemade soup preparation makes it a real favorite with innovative cooks who enjoy trying new flavors and combinations.

An easy base for a variety of interesting soups can be made by gently simmering a broiler-fryer chicken in broth. When the chicken is tender, remove bones and skin and chop the meat. Add an assortment of colorful cut-up vegetables to the broth, simmer until tender, then stir in the meat to make a robust soup that's a mealtime mainstay. Single out your soup as something special by adding mayonnaise-type salad dressing for a lively flavor boost.

Watch appetites spring to life when Creamy Chicken-Vegetable Soup is simmering on the stove. The favorite flavors of chicken, broth and vegetables merge and mellow with the addition of salad dressing, the key to the soup's creamy, rich texture, as well. Ideal for winter days, it needs only a crusty loaf of bread to complete the meal and bring the family flocking to the table.

CREAMY CHICKEN-VEGETABLE SOUP

1 21/2 to 3-lb. broiler-fryer, cut up 2 13%-oz. cans chicken broth 1/2 cup chopped celery with leaves 1/2 cup chopped onion 1 bay leaf 2 cups cubed potatoes 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen peas 1 cup cubed turnip 1 cup carrot slices 1/4 cup chopped parsley 1/1 tsp. pepper 1/2 cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing

In Dutch oven combine chicken, broth, celery, onions, and bay leaf. Bring to boil; reduce heat. Cover; simmer 45 minutes. Remove chicken from broth; cool. Remove meat from bones; discard bones. Chop meat; reserve. Remove bay leaf. Add vegetables and pepper to broth. Bring to boil; reduce heat. Cover; simmer 15 to 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Stir in chicken and salad dressing; heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. Makes 8 1-cup servings.

Creamy chicken-vegetable soup is a robust winter warmer that's just right for today's lighter style of eating.

nusual first course: Tuna Mousse

The reviews were good for my chocolate mouss more hot than cold, you might say. One person said she preferred that the texture be closer to pudding than cream. You can't please .hem all

THE HOT tuna mousse was a different story. I planned it as an unusual first course at a special dinner for five.

It didn't start out very promising. I broke the first egg yolk and some got in the white. That's a no-no because it inhibits beating whites to stiff peaks. Cold beaters will help, too.

I started again and reeled off four perfect separations. All went well. I used a deep-dish pie plate because I don't own any molds. Maybe when I get fancy .

When the mousse was a rich brown on top, I placed it on the counter and let it cool several minutes. Then I ran a rubber spatula around the mousse, covered it with a dinner plate, inverted and the results unmolded rather easily.

Honorees represent community

By Julie Brown staff writer

Both Maria Holmes and Sally Bailey were proud to be chosen as Young Career Women this year.

"I feel it's an honor to be selected by your peers," said Holmes, an Ypsilanti resident. "It gives you more visibility in the community. It just lets them know that young women are advancing in all tacets of life."

Holmes and Bailey were named as Young Career Women by the Business and Professional Woman's Club of Plymouth. They will represent the Plymouth B.P.W. at the District 9 B.P.W. meeting in April.

Judging was based on the candidates' career achievements and on the ability to project an image reflecting the role of women in today's society. "I was honored to represent the club and women of America," said Bailey, a Plymouth resident. She works as head nurse, labor and delivery, for St. Jo-seph Mercy Hospital/Catherine McAuley Health Center, Ann Arbor. Holmes is a programming executive producer for Omnicom of Michigan in Canton.

BOTH WOMEN find a great deal of satisfaction in their work.

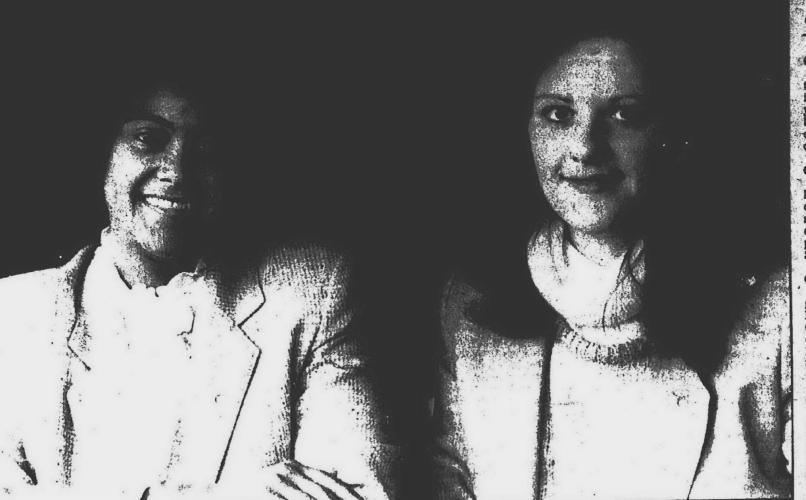

"It's an exciting job, it's something different every day," Holmes said of her work at Omnicom. She enjoys getting out into the area and meeting a variety of people.

"Primarily, I produce local pro-grams." Holmes helps to coordinate ideas for programs and to come up with formats to present those programs.

Her work at Omnicom involves directing, editing, teaching community workshops and scheduling of programs. She also coordinates Omnicom's ac-tivities for such events as the Fall Festival.

"I seem to get involved with a lot of the special events type of things," Holmes said. She is involved in the Plymouth Salvation Army's "Baskets Filled With Love" food drive/telethon.

Slopes offer thrills

Last week was school vacation time for Plymouth-Canton youngsters. Some took the opportunity to get in some sledding time on the slopes at area parks.

"It's great," said Jeff King, 13, who was out sledding last Friday at the Plymouth Township Park. "It's a little slow, because it's ice right now."

Jeff, an eighth grader at West Middle School, was not looking forward to returning to the classroom this week.

"I wish we had next week off. I don't want to go back."

Ron Wheaton, 10, agreed that the sledding at the park was a lot of fun.

"There's a jump here and there's not many peo-ple here today," said Ron, a fourth grader at Gallimore Elementary School.

Jenny Archbold, a 7year-old second grader at Isbister Elementary School, also cited the jump as a big part of the fun, as did 10-year-old Tarick Carver. "It's kind of a chal-

Cold requires caution

Traditionally, winter is a time to stay warm by the hearth. But for an increasing number of Ameri-cans winter has instead become a season of outdoor cans whiter has instead become a season of outdoor sports such as Alpine and cross-country skiing. Many people, however, are not conditioned to the physical stress of outdoor activities, and are una-ware of the potential dangers of being outdoors in cold weather. When winter sports enthusiasts fail to take certain precautions, the result can be accidental hypothermia.

Hypothermia is a drop in body temperature. It is a potentially fatal condition, and the cause of death in most cases of hypothermia is heart failure.

A large group of Americans, especially the elderly and those with heart disease, are at special risk. As people get older the efficiency of their bodies' thermostats frequently decreases. Elderly people can actually begin to suffer the effects of hypothermia without knowing they are in danger.

People with coronary heart disease frequently suffer attacks of chest pain called "angina pectoris" when they are outside in a snowstorm. Some studies suggest that harsh winter weather may in-crease a person's risk of heart attack due to overexertion.

At lower temperatures your heart tolerates less exertion because your body reacts to cold by con-stricting the small arteries. This natural repsonse reduces loss of body heat by keeping more of your warm, filood in the major arteries, and away from the skin surface.

The net effect of this blood-flow restriction is to convert your skin from a radiator that dissipates heat, into a blanket that conserves it. But when this occurs, your heart must work harder to pump blood through the narrowed arteries. The entra load on the heart decreases its capacity to respond to ex-ercise. The small arteries around your heart con-strict too, reducing the supply of oxygen-containing blood to your heart muscle.

Gran

The American Heart Association recommends you help your heart. When you are outdoors in cold weather avoid sudden exertion, like lifting a heavy shovel full of snow. Remember that in cold tem-peratures, even just walking through heavy wet snow or snow drifts can strain your heart. High winds, snow, rain, and cold temperatures are all factors that can steal your body heat. Wind is especially important because it removes the layer of air your body has heated around you. At 30 degrees Fahrenheit in a 20-mile-per-hour wind, the cooling effect is equivalent to calm air at four degrees.

Proper clothing is vital to keeping you warm. It is best to layer your clothing — this allows air to become trapped between the layers, and the trapped air serves as a sort of insulation.

Also, wear a hat or head scarf. Much of the body's heat can be lost through the head. And ears are especially susceptible to frostbite. Keep your hands and feet warm too. Because hands and feet have more surface area in comparison to their total mass, they tend to lose heat rapidly. Don't drink alcoholic beverages before going out-side or while out in the cold. The initial sensation of warmth from alcohol results from expansion of blood vessels in the skin. This causes needed heat to be drawn away from the body's vital organs.

Most important, have enough sense to come in out of the cold.

Tony Atwell has been one of Plymouth Salem's top point producers this season. He'll lead the Rock contingent into battle in the Western Lakes conference meet this week.

Salem tankers look to gun down Spartans

By Chris McCosky staff writer

Livonia Stevenson is 12-1 in dual swim meets and champion of the Western Lakes Activities Association's Lakes Division, the most grueling of the two WLAA divisions.

The team is ranked No. 1 in Observerland and is the league's defending champion.

So it's settled: Stevenson will win the Western Lakes conference meet, which takes place Wednesday through Friday at Plymouth Salem. Hold on a minute.

Like last year, the Spartans are going to have to swim their best to repeat as champions - perhaps even better than their best.

There are two things that stand in the way of Stevenson's bid for a second league crown: Plymouth Salem and a wealth of talented individual swimmers throughout the league.

"CHUCK OLSON (Salem coach) has enough depth on his team to win the league meet," said Stevenson coach Doug Buckler. "We have had some key injuries and a boy drop out of our program. We've done well in the dual meets because of our front-line

Eagles tipped in showdown

Fouls and Fed - a costly combination for Plymouth Christian's basketball team.

The Eagles could have wrapped up the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference title with a victory at Pontiac Oakland Christian Friday. But fouls - three Plymouth Christian starters fouled out - and Fed - as in Oakland Christian's Charles Fed combined in the Eagles' 73-63 defeat.

The loss didn't ruin Plymouth Christian's championship hopes. The Eagles are 12-2 in the MIAC and 15-2 overall. Oakland Christian is 11-2 in the MIAC and 14-4 overall, with a game remaining at Southfield Christian Tuesday. Plymouth can do no worse than tie for the MIAC title.

"We didn't play badly," said Plym-outh coach Jeff Cook. "But we didn't play as well as we have in the past. We were up six in the third quarter, but we missed three layups, then we blew a couple of shots inside, and the next thing you know we're trying to catch up." The Eagles had a 31-25 lead at the half, but Oakland Christian knotted it land Christian.

at 45-all after three quarters. Oakland Christian lost by 10 - 65-55 - on Plymouth's court Jan. 24. Fed scored just 10 points in that game.

(P.C)1C

THE 6-FOOT-2 LEAPER had more than that in the fourth quarter alone. Fed finished with 26 points, 12 in the pivotal final period, and he grabbed 25 rebounds. Oakland Christian outscored Plymouth 28-18 over the final eight minutes.

With five minutes left, Pat McCarthy, the Eagles' leading scorer, fouled out. Jim McCarthy followed his brother to the bench with five personals two minutes later. In between, starter Steve Windle drew his fifth foul.

Still, Plymouth Christian had two chances to pull to within three with just over a minute left. But Dave Caderat missed the front end in a one-and-one free throw chance, and after an Oakland Christian miss, the Eagles threw the ball away.

Pat McCarthy's 18 points led Plymouth. Jim McCarthy had 17 and Andy Stephens scored 12. John Stickney came off the bench to bag 19 for Oak-

The Spartans have three swimmers out of action (Jeff Murphy, Doug Coderre and Chris Morasky) and several others who are getting back into the water after injuries or illnesses (Greg Jubenville, Jeff Albert and Steve Taormina).

But the Spartans also have some of the fastest swimmers in Observerland waters: D.J. Ward, Joe Saunders, Roger Coderre, Taormina and Albert.

"Livonia Stevenson ought to win it," said Olson. "But we have a shot. I'll tell you what, though, if we don't swim well North Farmington and Northville could pass us."

NORTH FARMINGTON is a team that has both Olson and Buckler worried. The Raiders had won 12 Northwest Suburban League swim titles in the last 13 years prior to joining the WLAA this year. They have four front-line swimmers that could amass some serious points.

Mike Turney will be among the leaders in the 200-yard freestyle (1:47.0) and the 500 freestyle (4:49.9) - he owns the area's fastest time in both events. Craig Burland will score in the 200 free (1:52.2) and 100 free (50.8). Dan Mannisto and Mike Buatti will score in the 50 and 100 freestyle events.

And the four of them team up to form the area's best 400 freestyle relay team (3:21.0).

Still, Raider coach Pat Duthie isn't expecting his team to win the meet.

"No, we don't have the numbers to overtake Stevenson," he said. "It might be a real interesting meet. though. Stevenson has the faster kids but Salem has an awful lot of depth. To be completely honest, I think we could finish anywhere from third to fifth."

Salem and Stevenson have a lot more to worry about than North Farmington and each other. Virtually every team in the league has strong individual swimmers.

Darnell primes for Premier test

By Brad Emona staff writer

Livonia boxer Steve Darnell got a taste of the military life without being drafted, spending the past 24 days at a training camp near Fayetteville, N.C.

"No McDonald's, two meals a day, the nearest phone was 10 miles away and no girls," said Darnell, an 11-0-1 middleweight who will step into the ring Tuesday night against Cincinnati's Jeff McCall in scheduled eight-rounder at the Premier Center in Sterling Heights.

"I was crying the blues," he said. "But it was good for me and everything worked out well."

Darnell, a 158-pounder, said he arrived back home in best condition of his life and is ready to face three quality opponents in span of four weeks.

I ran four miles daily - 10 on Saturday - and did some sparring," he said. "It was worse than boot camp in the Army, but it got me in shape. It can do nothing but help." Darnell, the No. 3-ranked middleweight in the state, is facing a fighter in McCall who sports a 15-2 record, including 11 knockouts.

"HE (McCALL) is an excellent boxer," Darnell said. "He's in excellent shape and can slip a lot of punches. He's also dangerous with the right hand.

"It's a risky fight for me because I want everything to go smoothly."

If Darnell gets by his next opponent -in good shape, he'll be on the Hagler-Mugabi undercard Monday, March 10, at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas. (Detroit's Tommy Hearns is also on the card). Then, he'll take to the ring again a week later (March 17) in a Los Angeles, Calif., card featuring Detroit middleweight Lindell Holmes, the state's top-ranked middleweight.

"I can't get any cuts or get banged up (against McCall)," Darnell said. "I have to beat him convincingly and travel from there."

Madio Corradi, a Bloomfield Hills businessman, arranged for Darnell'a boot camp training and was instrument tal in booking his next three fights.

"HE (CORRADI) has backed me to a "T." said the Livonia boxer. "He pays

Salem shoots off Rockets to take 2nd place in Lakes

Any basketball fan knows what a lift a thunderous slam dunk can provide. That's just what happened Friday at Plymouth Salem.

Only it was in reverse, with Westland John Glenn's Tony Boles providing the honors for Plymouth Salem.

Less than a minute remained when Boles stole the ball and set sail for the Rocks' basket. A field goal would cut the Salem lead to 58-57; a dunk would give the Rockets a much-needed boost.

Only one problem: Boles' attempted slam rattled off the rim and into Bryan Kearis' hands

The Rockets were forced to foul, Kearis hit a pair to make it 60-55, and Glenn could not catch up. Steve Hawley's basket at the buzzer pulled Glenn to within one, but couldn't change the outcome.

Unlike their first encounter at Glenn Jan. 24, in which the Rockets pulled away to an easy 77-55 victory, this game was close all the way. Glenn led 16-15 after one quarter, but Salem held a 34-33 halftime edge and a 48-45 advantage after three periods. Salem's biggest lead - eight points - was in the third quarter.

"At Glenn," Salem coach Bob Brodie said, "we had people without much experience playing. At the free throw line, they outscored us 20-1. Tonight, we tried to control the ball a bit more, we wanted to take care of the ball. We didn't want them to get into their pace.

The win raised Salem's record to 10-9 overall, with a final Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) mark of 9-7. Glenn is 14-5 overall and finished first in the WLAA's Lakes Division at 13-3

Salem got 17 points from Kearis and 15 points and 12 rebounds from Mike Hale. The Rocks also got a solid defensive performance from Paul Makara, who hawked Glenn's Hawley throughout the game. Hawley still got a gamehigh 23 points, but Brodie thought Makara made the junior guard work for all of them.

Andy Grazulis added 15 points for the Rockets, who will play at Farmington Harrison for the WLAA title Friday. Salem travels to Northville Friday N'VILLE 43, CANTON 41: Northville had everything going its way - until the final quarter. That's when Plymouth Canton mounted a furious rally that left it just short of victory Friday at Northville.

The Chiefs (9-7 in the WLAA, 10-9 overall) trailed 11-6 after one quarter, 26-19 at the half and 36-25 after three periods. They outpointed the Mustangs (12-4 in the WLAA, 13-6 overall) 16-7 in the last quarter to close to within two. Joel Mies' 16 points was best for Canton. Don Norton had 10 for North-

Farmington settles score with North

By Chris McCosky staff writer

In terms of its effect on the Western Lakes standings, Thursday's basketball game between North Farmington and Farmington was virtually meaningless. But the way the two teams went at each other, you might have thought lives were at stake.

"It's a rivalry," said Farmington coach Rich Roy, whose team came out on top 56-48. "They whipped us so bad at their place (earlier in the season), I think the kids were looking to get even.

Elbows were thrown, bodies were banged and floor burns were incurred. But the final analysis was simple: Farmington made the key shots and North didn't.

"We shot much better than we did last time," Roy said. "We shot terrible over at their place. Our shot selection was smarter tonight."

THE FALCONS made 20 of 45 shots from the floor, including a toasty five of eight in the final quarter. They made good on 18 of 23 free throws.

North, contrastingly, hit 15 of 41 shots from the perimeter, eight for 12 from the line. "I don't think intensity was a problem," North coach Tom Negoshian said. "We just missed the buckets down the stretch. We didn't take bad shots, we just couldn't get them to drop."

One Raider who got his shots to drop was senior Rick Anderson. With Eastern Michigan University's head basketball coach Ben Braun and his coaching staff in attendance, Anderson hit 11 of 19 shots and finished with 22 points. He also pulled in an impressive 16 rebounds.

Paul Wahrman played a strong game as well for the Raiders knocking down 18 points.

THOSE EFFORTS were offset by Farmington's inside-outside duo of Bruce Kratt and Kyle Mutz. Mutz (Mr. Inside) finished with 22 points. He also made a spectacular block of an Anderson shot in the fourth quarter. Kratt (Mr. Outside) scored 21. He also played a hustling floor game, badgering North at the defensive end and on the glass.

Kratt got the Falcons off to a 19-12 lead with nine first-quarter points. Farmington maintained the seven-point lead at half (27-20), despite hitting just one field goal in the second quarter.

"I thought that against Northville Tuesday, we were terrible on the offensive glass," Roy said. "Tonight we were just the opposite. Kyle and Craig (Petersmark) did an outstanding job for us, particulalry early on."

North got within a point early in the third quarter, 29-28, and trailed by four going into the fourth, 40-36. But five points by Mutz and a pair of bombs from the top of the key by Tony Racka and Farmington led 49-40 with 3:59 left

The Raiders could only get as close as five points the rest of the way, although they had two opportunities to pull within three.

"They got us to play panicky all through the game," Negoshian said. We like to run and gun when we want to, but we weren't able to control the tempo. We knew Farmington would be tough in their own gym. They were up for us - give them credit."

North is now 8-8 in the Western Lakes, 10-8 overall. Farmington improves to 7-9 in the league, 9-10 over-
