Study to examine water at city landfill

By Doug Funke staff writer

A hydrogeological study at the Salem Township Landfill should determine whether groundwater is contaminated and whether the city of Plymouth, as owner, is responsible for cleanup.

The City Commission Monday gave permission for the state Department of Natural Resources to go on the 40-acre landfill at Five Mile and Chubb to do the study. The Clean Michigan Fund will pick up the tab.

he's confident the study will absolve the city of any liability. He said he's unaware of any toxic waste at the landfill or contamination of wells in the area

'The evidence we have so far is we aren't contaminating the ground water. We've done some preliminary soil boring there that indicates there is no groundwater under the landfill.

The city constructed a clay dike to carry groundwater around the landfill in the 1960s, West said. "In 1981 we took soil borings and City Engineer Kenneth West said we found no groundwater, which

ing its function."

THE CITY dumped at the site for only three or four years, most recently, according to West's information, in 1968. Industrial waste and residential garbage have been dumped there, he said.

The DNR study, West said, should "reduce fear in a lot of people's minds in Salem Township and the city of Plymouth.

The DNR has had its eye on the Salem Township Landfill since the 1970s, said Matt Frisch, a DNR geologist. "It ranked high on a scale would indicate the dike is perform- when we ranked potential of landfills (for contamination) around the state that had no geological survey done "At least there's no problem now with surface water but we want to find out if there's a problem with groundwater. Our purpose is to determine direction groundwater is flowing and if . . . the water coming out of the landfill is more contaminated than going in."

Soil composition also will be examined. Several wells will be drilled near the landfill. Preliminary results are expected six weeks after the wells have been dug.

The physical work - soil borings and well digging, up for competitive bid - is expected to cost $20,000-30,000.

EVEN IF contamination is found in the area, the finger won't necessarily be pointed to Plymouth because another small, private landfill is nearby, Frisch said.

However, if contamination is present and responsibility can be determined, the state will require clean up, said John Shauver of the DNR.

"What we do is give them notice, share the problem. We're going to lay all our cards on the table. If they're willing to work cooperatively with the state, that's all she wrote."

If not, the state will do the work, then sue to recover the costs.

Most situations don't reach that point, though, Shauver said.

"From my perspective, only about 10 percent of cases come here for litigation. I see no reason to believe the city of Plymouth won't do what it's required to do. If anything.

Base goes up for park clock

Work crews on Main Street next to Kellogg Park aren't building another fountain, a large planter or a landing pad for an alien spaceship.

They're constructing a base for a a gift from the Harold clock Guenther family in memory of their son, Peter.

A four-faced clock, about 15 feet high, will be placed on a 21/2-foot base. Westminster chimes eventually will be added to tone on the quarter hour.

"It should be up sometime within the next two weeks," said City Manager Henry Graper.

The clock will be shipped to Plym- town can use its talents.

Flagpole height dispute ended by compromise

By Doug Funke staff writer

The flagpole controversy involving a local businessman and Plymouth Township is over.

A compromise has been reached, which allows Gerard Loiselle to erect a flagpole 52 feet high in front of his business, Jerry's Bicycles, on Ann Arbor Road.

Loiselle, claiming nothing in the township code addresses heights of flagpoles, had wanted to erect a pole 70 feet high.

The township, maintaining flagpoles are considered structures according to ordinance, wanted to limit the pole to 35 feet.

The compromise was reached last week. A trial had been scheduled for December. The issue has dragged on for more than three years. Loiselle said he hopes to have his guess it's fair."

The settlement reflects only Loiselle's circumstances.

A similar dispute could conceivably arise if someone else in the township gets the notion to erect a flagpole higher than 35 feet.

There is no specific mention in township ordinances about the height of flagpoles, Loiselle said. And it's a good thing, too, he added.

"I do not think any government should set heights how high a flag can be flown."

Supervisor Maurice Breen said he believes that a court would affirm that a flagpole is a structure if the matter were to go to trial. Structure heights are spelled out locally.

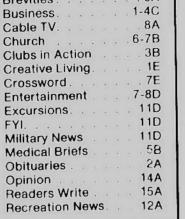

'We're comfortable with the fact that it's a structure," Breen said. "Given all the circumstances of the case, we would prefer to have 45 feet we offered. We both gave. I pole up and Old Glory Hying within a month.

"By the mere fact we've been in litigation over three years now, if we continued the lawsuit, we'd be in another three to five years," Loiselle said. "I figured I wanted a flag more now

"I feel I'm proud to be an American. I'm happy I am an American."

LOISELLE, 65, is a naturalized citizen of the United States. He said he needed a 70-foot pole to display an unusually large flag. Now, he concedes, he'll have to scale down the flag size.

Breen said he suspects that the township board will take steps to more clearly define the issue of flagpole heights in the future.

FLAGPOLES in front of houses in the township are limited to 35 feet. A permit must be obtained from the building department before a pole can be erected.

Planning Director James Anulewicz has said that noise created by large flags waving in the breeze and the potential distraction of motorists a safety factor - are reasons to limit flagpole heights.

Unusual experiences punctuate historian's life

Samuel Hudson

Well known as a local historian. Samuel Hudson of Plymouth has published at least four books on Plymouth and area history

Hudson's first venture was a pictorial history of the Plymouth community followed by a hardcover history of the community, "Plymouth: A Microcosm of the Midwest," followed in 1984 by a history of Schoolcraft College with his latest publication being a history of the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

His volume, "Reaching Out A History of Schoolcraft College," chronicles the story of the college from its pre-founding in the late 1950s until the beginning of the college's third decade in 1983.

Proceeds from the sale of the Plymouth pictorial history benefit the Plymouth Historical Museum while sales of the community college history benefit the Schoolcraft Foundation. The hardcover history of Plymouth won an Award of Merit in 1980 from the Historical Society of Michigan.

FOR HUDSON, local history is an avocation that he pursues year-round, also as weekly contributor of a local history column ("Plymouth Past and Present") for the Plymouth Observer.

Much of his work is drawn from personal interviews conducted with the actual people who made history relying on the techniques of the oral historians whose evidence is recorded on tape rather than on dusty documents. Hudson also, however, examines primary sources such as municipal minutes and deeds.

Born in Salford, England, the Hudson family moved to Pennsylvania when Hudson was 2 years old. He worked eight hours a night in a New York Central Railroad round house all the way through high school.

While attending night school at New York University (where he earned a degree in marketing) he worked as assistant manager of the complaint department at Saks-Fifth Avenue in New York City.

After graduation, Hudson worked in advertising positions for a division of Allied Chemical in New York, Balfour-Guthrie in Seattle, and for Western Electric in New York.

During World War II Hudson served as intelligence officer with Gen. George Patton's 3rd Army and was wounded in combat in Alsace-Lorraine. After spending four months in a hospital in England, Hudson was reassigned as commander of a German Prisoner of War Camp at Newbury, England. He left the armed forces with the rank of captain.

Hudson and wife, Jesse, now a retired art teacher from Plymouth Salem High School, moved to Plymouth in 1953 and for the next 17 years Hudson worked as advertising manager for Evans Products Co. in Plymouth Township. He also managed Frank Hedge, a public relations firm in Detroit, for seven years.

HUDSON EARNED a master's degree in English literature in 1964 from Eastern Michigan University and earned a doctorate in English literature in 1972 from Wayne State University.

At one time, Hudson was an instructor of English literature at Schoolcraft Community College although he is better known for his role in helping establish the college. In 1960 he served on the Citizens' Survey Committee which helped established the college and served as a member of the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees from 1964-69.

A member of the Rotary Club of Plymouth since 1953, he served as club president in 1960-61 which was the year Rotary first held its chicken barbecue in Kellogg Park and called it the "Fall Festival."

Also active in the Plymouth Historical Society, Hudson was instrumental in helping the Plymouth Kiwanis Club establish the Plymouth Hall of Fame - a permanent display in the Plymouth Cultural Center.

He also has served as vice president of the Plymouth Symphony Society, as president of the Plymouth Community Fund, as chairman of the Plymouth Town Hall Committee 1959-60, on the board of Junior Achievement in Plymouth, and as president of the board of trustees of the Presbyterian Church in Plymouth.

Interest in literature and history, and wife Jessie's love for art, had led the Hudsons to a number of trips aboard. They have frequently visited Britain, southern France, and Scotland where Jessie was born and where Sam enjoys the challenge of playing golf at St. Andrew's. The Hudsons also enjoy travelling to Oregon to visit son Bruce who is now a professor of chemistry at the University of 'Iregon.

A few years after retiring, the Hudsons moved from their longtime residence in the township to a home in the city of Plymouth where they often can be seen going for their morning walks. Besides enjoying long walks, Hudson also is an avid golfer.

A gifted public speaker on both literature and history, Hudson's most recent public address was a tribute to local retired industrialist Frank Arlen before the Rotary Club of Plymouth.

Teen volunteers, older adults going through program

Tabatha Linderwell of Canton is among five area teen volunteers who spent this past summer working three or four hours one day a week with the Older Adult Program and in the pharmacy at Mercywood Hospital

"I like meeting new people," says Linderwell, 17, a senior at Plymouth Salem High School. "I think a lot more people should try it.'

The patients loved the program, says Tom Bissonnette, clinical nurse manager with the Older Adult Program. "They eagerly anticipated the teens' visits They knew which day which teen came even better than I did.'

TEEN VOLUNTEERS visited with older adults, played cards or checkers, or helped get them involved in program or activities.

If Occupational Therapy was offering a special craft activity, the teens helped out.

At dinnertime, the teen volunteer sat down to dinner with the patients, making sure they had everything they wanted and providing dinner conversation.

If a patient wanted to take a walk, a teen might go along to keep him company

"The teen volunteers were very willing to dive right in and help wherever needed," added Bissonnette. "They were energetic and eager to help

FOR LINDERWELL, volunteering at Mercywood was a way of exploring future career possibilities.

Although she is not sure exactly what kind of health career she'll pursue, Linderwell enjoyed her experience at Mercywood.

"I really love it. I feel like I made a difference - that maybe each time I made one person feel better."

Mercywood teen volunteers were five of 75 who participated in the Catherine McAuley Health Center summer teer. volunteer program this year, donating a total of 1,838 hours.

Sign up for the fall program is under way. Information sessions will be 7-8 p.m. Tuesday and 10-11 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 25, in the education center at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital on Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor.

Volunteers work at St Joseph Mercy Hospital, the new Mercywood Health Building, Huron Oaks Chemical Dependency Treatment Facility, Reichert Health Building, Maple Health Building and the Arbor Health Building in Plymouth.

Son of Super Sewer nears judgment day By Teri Banas

staff writer

The so-called son of Super Sewer, a plan to improve sewer capacity to western Wayne and Oakland counties, may never see its first birthday.

A deadlock in releasing local funding in at least one of the western Wayne County communities - Canton Township - is jeopardizing federal money that would pay for 55 percent of the project, proponents sav.

A new Nov. 1 deadline approaches for all 16 communities involved to sign agreements in the $110 million project. Unless all agree, the federal government will turn over already allocated funds to other projects, according to government officials.

SO FAR, three communities -Novi, Northville and Wixom - have agreed to join. In this area, action is expected later this month in Garden City, Westland, Livonia, Redford Township, Plymouth and Plymouth Township

The latest community to refuse to sign the agreement, Canton Township, last week announced its allocated cost-share of $17 million was "unfair."

Officials eye regional incinerator plant

Landfill costs spur discussion

By Teri Banas staff writer

Western Wayne County officials, faced with a hefty 72 percent sum-mer rate hike from trash haulers, say the time may be ripe for discussing construction of a multi-community incinerator.

The idea of a regional incinerator already has been suggested privately by some mayors and supervisors -Including Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara, Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper and Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen, as an answer to skyrocketing landfill prices.

GRAPER SAID he planned to discuss the issue with Plymouth Townborn Heights.

The authority, one of a handful operating in southeastern Michigan. was closed in recent years when it was ordered to install new EPA-required pollution controls. Voters in those communities approved a mil-lage request last year and the incinerator is expected to reopen in 1987. Breen in Plymouth Township said this week the issue of a multi-com-munity incinerator authority like that of Central Wayne has been informally discussed at the 17-member out-county conference.

Breen and Canton Township Supervisor James Poole recently saw a presentation on the subject by a pri-vate national firm, Recovered Waste Industries, at a Wayne County Township Supervisors' meeting.

"WE FOUND that it's very expensive, but feasible," Breen said. "The technology is here. They said they can meet any EPA requirement."

He said an authority made up of Northville, Northville Township, the city of Plymouth and Plymouth and Canton townships would probably be

> Recent increases in landfill fees do suggest that other alternatives will be needed in the future, according to Wayne County Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne, a represent-ative to the county's Solid Waste Implementation Committee. Any coun-tywide disposal plans would need the committee's approval. Mack said the new county implementation committee, designed to give local communities clout in dealing with incoming landfill operators, has established a process that makes it increasingly difficult to approve new landfill sitings.

Of the Central Wayne incinerator, he said those participating communities have an assured disposal site that is "safe, secure and relatively low cost."

According to Gronevelt, whatever happens next will take "political leadership. It's a very lengthly pro-cess. We're not at the crisis point yet, but we're fast approaching it."

There was an unusual feature at last week's groundbreaking ceremony for Mititoyo Precision Measuring Instruments in Plymouth Township Industrial Park, Five Mile at Sheldon. Steve Yamamoto, the chairman of the board of Mititoyo, is a Buddhist and bestowed a Buddhist blessing upon the venture, at Thursday's ceremony. The company, the largest manufacturer of precision instruments in the world, is locating its first U.S. plant in the R.A. DeMattia industrial park where it has a warehouse to serve as a distribution center. The plant, which will contain 25,000 square feet, represents an investment of $2 million and will create some 100 jobs. Construction will take about six months. The Buddhist blessing is customary on all new projects of Mititoyo.

Flu season approaches County health department offers vaccine

Senior citizens and people with mation. certain chronic conditions are urged to get influenza immunizations available through the Wayne County Health Department.

Dr. Donald Lawrenchuk, medical director of the Wayne County Health Department, said those with chronic underlying disorders of the cardiovascular, pulmonary and or renal system, as well as those with diabetes, severe anemia and/or people with impaired immune functions are at increased risk from flu.

'The typical influenza season runs from November to April, but the maximum protection provided by the vaccine occurs when it is given early before the influenza season starts," said Lawrenchuk.

In addition, the Health Department will offer a trivalent (three virus) split virus vaccine for individuals within the high-risk categories.

The shots are available for a $2 donation. The fee is waived for the poor

The following health department locations will provide influenza vaccine while supplies last.

Lawrenchuk said health officials who monitor influenza activity throughout the world have discovered a type A/Taiwan/1/86 (H1N1) strain that has caused outbreaks in Asia during spring and summer months

This newly emerged strain, however, is similar to a strain that was present in the 1950s, so persons under the age of 35 years with the previously listed chronic conditions should consider obtaining this vaccination as well. This single virus vaccine may not be available from the manufacturer until later in the year," Lawrenchuk said:

The 1986-1987 trivalent influenza vaccine has been developed to protect against strains of A/Chile/1/83 (H1N1), A/Mississippi/1/85 (H3N2), and B/Ann Arbor/1/86. The monovalent influenza vaccine will contain the A/Taiwan/1/86 strain.

Bus leader appointed

The Wayne-Westland School District's newest transportation supervisor is Georgia Leece, whose promotion was confirmed by the school board Monday night.

The action, which confirms the recommendation of Superintendent Dennis O'Neill, fills the vacancy created last month when Gloria Leonhardt was promoted to director of the department, replacing Lloyd Barber, who retired.

Leece has been a bus driver in the district for 20 years, beginning in 1964. In 1984 she was appointed to the position of transportation leader, the highest union position in the department.

With her promotion, the leader's position will remain vacant, according to O'Neill. That position was cut from the budget to save money, he told the board.

Leece attended Schoolcraft and Henry Ford Community Colleges after becoming transportation leader. Although she didn't receive her associate's degree, she did take computer classes, which proved useful in her work with the Wayne County Intermediate School District this summer on computerizing the district's bus schedule, he added.

"Mrs. Leece . . . works well with the bus drivers, understands the public relations aspects of the job with parents and students and has a thorough understanding of the scheduling," O'Neill said.

Leece's promotion carries a salary of $29,468 a year.

Local doctor saw Chernobyl after

By Jackie Klein staff writer

The April 26 disaster at the nuclear reactor in Chernobyl proves that neither the United States nor the Soviet Union can provide reasonable medical responses to the catastrophe of nuclear war.

That's the assessment of Dr. Felix Rogers, a Detroit-area cardiologist and an active member of Physicians for Social Responsibility (PSR).

Rogers was part of a group of phy-sicians invited to the USSR by Soviet doctors in June to gain an under-standing of the health consequences of the Chernobyl disaster.

Rogers is speaking at 8 p.m. today in the Southfield Public Library at a meeting sponsored by the metropolitan Detroit chapter of Women's Action for Nuclear Disarmament (WAND.)

"THE NUCLEAR accident at Chernobyl, which would be tiny in comparison to a nuclear weapons explosion, was met with a heroic response from the Russian government and health workers," Rogers said in an interview Monday.

"Unfortunately, such response came relatively late, involved a very high cost for civilian inhabitants of the community and leaves many important medical, social and ecological questions unanswered.

"The most important question is have we learned enough from the lesson of Chernobyl to influence poli-time when this country and Russia were engaging in atmospheric nucleradioactivity, he said.

THE PSR WAS successful in tablishing an atmospheric testing ban treaty, after which the organization became inactive.

"In the early 1980s, our govern-ment talked about waging nuclear war," Rogers said. "The PSR looked critically at the possibility of a limited nuclear war and the ability of people to survive it. The organization was revitalized."

Rogers has a personal reason for becoming involved in anti-nuclear activities. In 1981 his brother, Dr. Joseph Rogers, was in an automobile accident and suffered burns over 70 percent of his body.

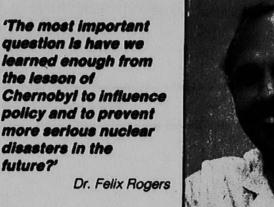

For several months, he was in intensive care at the Ann Arbor burn center and was unable to practice medicine for two years.

"MY BROTHER nearly died and is still disfigured," he said. "In the meantime, the government was making plans to deploy weapons which would kill individuals but wouldn't destroy buildings.

"Burn injuries are serious consequences of nuclear war. Because of my brother, I had a real, personal, emotional and intellectual interest in preventing nuclear disasters."

Rogers in 1980 joined the newly organized International Physicians for Prevention of Nuclear War, founded as an international confederacy of national chapters of PSR

Rogers in 1985 flew to Budapest for a meeting of the organization, radiation victims were taken.

Dr. Angelina Guskova, hospital di-rector, met with PSR members for a briefing on June 5.

"The disastrous accident at the nuclear reactor in Chernobyl occurred at 1:23 a.m. April 26," Rogers said. "Dr. Guskova was notified of this two hours later.

"Four hours were required to mo-bilize a team of physicians who left immediately for Chernobyl and met with 1,000 people at the site of the accident."

It was believed that 299 people had to be hospitalized because of traumatic injury or evidence of radiation exposure based on skin burns, en the next day.

IT WAS DETERMINED that 210 patients suffered acute radiation sickness and 51 were deemed most seriously ill, Rogers said. Among them were two physicians who had been exposed to radiation. Most of the patients were between 25 and 30 years old. Eighty-nine were released from the hospital within three days.

"Several problems were addressed ,by the medical team," Rogers said. "The first involved attempts to determine which patients had received so much radiation that their bone marrow would never recover "In this category were 40 patients, and bone marrow transplants were recommended for 20. Some 13 pa-tients had transplants using marrow donors or fetal liver. Five survived. Others died from infection and intestinal damage.

"Patients with thermal and radiation burns couldn't be decontaminated by surface cleaning. Others who had received a dosage of greater than 1,200 rads didn't survive."

WHEN THE PSR team visited the hospital on the 39th day after the accident, 121 patients remained. Twenty-three patients were dead and the death toll was expected to rise. The evacuation of 100,000 civil-ians from the 30-kilometer radius of the Chernobyl reactor began 36 hours after the accident. No information was given about the method chosen to decontaminate these people, their possessions or buses, Rogers said.

Because 300 beds had to be made available at Hospital No.6 within hours, this put a strain on medical facilities in Moscow, Rogers said. The team of health care workers came from western Russia.

"These physicians admit to a com-plete inability to handle any larger accident than that which occurred,"

Deposit law needed now

WHOEVER THOUGHT up the Ed and Frank routine for Bartle & James wine cooler drinks was an advertising and public relations genius. These two likeable old duffers have made drinking wine coolers more than respectable.

It's almost like the product is a good old-fashioned thirst quencher enjoyed by ladies and gentlemen who normally drink mid-afternoon hot tea or lemonade out on the veranda.

The reality is that wine coolers are mostly drunk by the 18-25 age group, which is the population group most mobile and most likely to drink their thirst quenchers or high producers in their cars and outdoors.

This is also the age group most likely to consider a public park or a roadway the best possible place to immediately it used to be. Before the deposit law on beer and pop bottles, the midnight marauders were wont to leave scores of empty beer bottles scattered about, many of them smashed. Then came the Michigan deposit law affecting beer and pop bottles.

Within a few days, the marauders stopped leaving their empties behind. The state law that ensured deposits necessary then to have a petition cam-beginning in 1989.

Why is the Legislature compromising at all? It appears that one reason is because the Beer and Wine Wholesalers Association is so kind to lawmakers.

We now have two versions of deposit bills. The House version is tied to a bill that allows wine cooler manufacturers to establish exclusive distributorship territories. What does that have to do with the public's interest? There is also a Senate version, which is not tied to any special interest legislation. Both, thankfully, call for a 10-cent deposit.

The public showed its support for deposit laws generally when it voted 2-1 in '76 for a statewide deposit requirement on beer and wine bottles. It was on beer and pop bottles was the best paign and a public vote because the

Concept not a plan

LET'S PUT this debate between Gov. James Blanchard and Senate Republicans over the tuition investment plan in perspective.

Blanchard's 1986 State of the State message dwelled on his substantial economic program of the last three years. There were only two new ideas, both designed to appeal to middle-class suburbanites whose votes he needs for reelection.

One was drunk-driver check lanes. A court promptly - and properly - declared it unconstitutional

The other was a state trust fund in which parents would invest money to guarantee their kids' college tuition years down the road.

Blanchard is touring the state to make it a campaign issue. Otherwise, Republicans will keep harping on his 38 percent you-know-what.

AS A NEWSMAN serving the middleclass suburbs, I went after the story from the start - or tried to.

For months, answers were scarce. Not until May or June did the administration come up with any details.

Meanwhile, Senate Republicans put a staffer to work - Dr. Gary Wolfram, an economist on leave from the University of Michigan-Dearborn. I had a few conversations with him. He is extremely bright, and he raised lots and lots of excellent questions.

Senate Majority Leader John Engler, the most prolific idea man among state Republicans, summed it up: "Republiean senators do support the concept of the 'BEST' plan. But if it is to be the best tuition plan possible, there are many questions that must be answered.'

AMONG THE GOP questions:

Will the contracts be tax-exempt under federal law? There was a big question about this prior to the federal tax code revision; there may be even bigger questions now.

How many advance tuition contracts

will be sold?

If the demand for the contracts exceeds the amount available, how will the contracts be allocated?

What are enrollment projections for the various universities?

What assumptions have been made regarding instructional costs?

How will ownership of advance tuition contracts affect federal and state scholarship eligibility?

How will the trust decide who will be able to sell their contracts when a child does not attend college in Michigan and who cannot?

KNOWING BLANCHARD, I would say he's 1,000 percent dedicated to helping kids get to college. But what he is offering is an alluring concept, not a plan. It's not ready for adoption.

There are other fair questions: What business does state government have getting into the investment business?

What about the greater costs of college - room, board, books, computer fees, lab fees?

Wouldn't parents be better off with a private investment plan so their kids could attend any college, public or private, in any state or foreign country, and cover all costs? Or if the kid decides he wants to go into business for himself instead of to college, couldn't parents use the fund to give him/her a truck or a cash register?

Finally, wouldn't state government do everyone a bigger favor if it concentrated on knocking $1 billion out of the "social services" budget and pumping it into colleges, so that the kids of 2004 wouldn't have to worry about inflated tuition rates?

discard any object that has lost its utility value.

ANY DAY of the week, I can go to the public park at the end of my road and stuff a couple of large garbage bags full of discarded flip-top cigarette boxes, hamburger wrappers, Celo-tex food boxes from a variety of fast-food joints and Taco stands, facial tissues, plastic shopping bags, combs, lipstick dispensers and, invariably, wine cooler bottles, many broken.

Bad as it might seem, it is better than state legislation of the past 10 years, in my humble opinion.

Because of the success of the deposit law, I can't for the life of me understand why the state Legislature is having any trouble at all passing a bill that would call for a 10-cent deposit on wine cooler bottles.

THE ISSUE has been bouncing back and forth in the House and Senate. At one point leading legislators announced a "compromise," which called for a five-cent deposit on wine cooler bottles could drink to that.

Legislature back then avoided dealing with the issue.

The wisdom of the law has been proved. It's time for our legislators to go one step further with the recently introduced wine cooler bottles and to stop shilly-shallying around toasting each other on an endless round of lobbyistsupported cocktail parties. It's time to pass a no-nonsense deposit law on wine cooler bottles that takes effect in a reasonable time period.

Ed and Frank, being reasonable guys,

Solve not waste in haste

EVERYONE agrees we need a better way of disposing of solid waste, but the general feeling is don't do it in my backyard.

Just like prisons, we agree they're needed, but put landfills, incinerators and recycling centers in someone else's town or neighborhood, not in ours.

As William Shakespeare once said, 'There's the rub.'

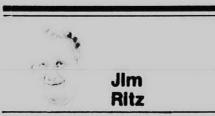

The state Natural Resources Commission is trying to come up with workable solid and hazardous waste plans under new state and federal laws, one it can sell to local communities and to local residents.

Consider the fact that everything humans come in contact with eventually turns into waste, and that matter never disappears, it just changes from one form into another.

Consider these statistics: Each and every person in the state creates an average of 25 pounds of garbage a week, about 1,300 pounds a year. The average family of four produces over 21/2 tons of solid waste a year, and the state, on a collective basis, produces 26,000 tons a day, or 91/2 million tons a year.

AND REMEMBER, we're talking about waste that you throw into garbage cans or bags.

We've got to do something with the garbage, and the easiest, and least costly way has been traditionally to bury it in landfills. Now our landfills have become so full that we're running out of sites and they're creating a big pollution problem, particularly with groundwater contamination. We can no longer bury our heads in the sand about burying our waste in the ground. It's one of the biggest problems, perhaps the foremost problem, facing people in Michigan and in this area.

That's the reason why new federal and state laws were enacted to tighten up on waste disposal and why the Naturai Resources Commission is holding media days around the state to try to promote greater public understanding of the dimension of the solid waste disposal problems.

But we've got to look at alternatives like recycling, incineration and conversion plans, converting waste to energy. It's going to cost, but consider the huge, mounting costs of existing solid waste disposal and it's enough to at least inspire a fair-minded, reasonable person to at least give some objective thought to the waste disposal plans now being bandied around.

THE EXPERTS, including natural resources commissioner Dave Olson, aren't saying that landfills can be done away with, just that they're being depleted and extremely costly, and that they need to be better designed and regulated to ensure that the pollution problem is controlled on site.

New countywide solid waste disposal plans are being developed under the new state and federal guidelines. Wayne County is expected to unveil its plan within the next 30 days.

Regional coordination of solid waste disposal is certainly needed, but the grass roots part of the effort needs to go into the neighborhoods to develop public awareness and support. A good example of some of the more progressive efforts can be found downriver in Gibraltar where the Downriver Recycling Center's curbside pickup kicked off Saturday.

The program is aimed at separating recyclable materials at the source, the waste generator.

More than 1,500 bright blue WE RE-CYCLE bins were dropped off at every home in the community. The $5 bin holds recyclables such as newspapers, bottles and cans, which can be carried to curbside in the handy 10-gallon container on regular trash pickup days. A compartmentalized trailer operated by the Downriver Center will pick up recy- . cables from the containers.

The problem demands grass-roots efforts like this. We can no longer afford the luxury of just dumping the problem in someone else's backyard. The problem is in ours as well as theirs.

Kirks discourse on the mission of education THE MAN oft referred to as "the American Cicero" did come home.

Yes, scholar and author Russell Kirk, who holds a thermometer-long list of degrees, came back for the 50th anniversary of his Plymouth High School graduation, chauffered by his enchanting and vocal wife, 22 years his junior, the former Annette Yvonne Cecille Courtemanche.

When my bride and I brunched with them on the Sunday the Kirks were in our midst, Bob Wisler's ears must have burned.

It was Wisler, one of the better trained, more observant newspapermen of my ken, who wrote the editorial which had run three days earlier throughout the Observer & Eccentric empire headed, "Awareness: first step to improved education."

"Ohh, great," enthused Annette as she read it. "Awareness is No. 1."

"That's a very good piece," praised her husband, author of 25 books plus countless essays and articles, winner of the Ingersoll Foundation's 1984 humanities prize, co-founder with William F. Buckley Jr. of National Review, and credited by President Ronald Reagan as having helped renew "a generation's in-terest and knowledge of the underpinnings and intellectual infrastructure of the conseration revival in our nation."

Annette's credential aren't too shabby either.

Redstone designs hospital

The new $9.7 million hospital addition at the state Prison of Southern Michigan in Jackson, designed by Louis G. Redstone Associates, Inc. of Livonia will be dedicated Friday by state government and corrections officials. The facility is named after Duane L. Waters, a family physician from Manistique, who has been a state corrections commisisoner since 1964. The 94-bed hospital project was brought in under budget. In 1984 the Redstone firm was selected as an honor award recipient by the Construction Specifications Institute for the prison project. "Designing an institutional facility that doesn't look like an institutional facility was our goal," said Carmine Petrilli, director of design at Redstone.

Freeway travelers aid rest area maintenance

A toll-free telephone number is helping the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) do a better job of maintaining the 78 rest areas along Michigan's 1,800-mile freeway system.

Callers are reporting everything from abandoned cars to lack of restroom supplies to threatening situations where police help is requested. Decals bearing the number 1-800-654-8787 have been posted since May 1 in lobbies, telphone booths and on restroom mirrors at roadside rest areas, including all 11 welcome centers on major state highways.

The toll-free number is hooked to a message center that logs calls and makes a daily report to MDOT, which then follows up each reported problem.

"Most calls are productive," said Robert A. Welke, MDOT's assistant deputy director for highway operations. "They identify a weakness in our system - maybe there's a plumbing malfunction, or lights are burned out or there's broken glass in the parking lot. The calls are referred quickly to an MDOT maintenance crew.

Since the Department's first threemonth operational report, Welke said, there has been some healthy competition among the state's nine district maintenance crews.

"Every crew wants its rest areas to look the best," he said.

The Department had a total of 721 calls in three months, about twice as many calls per day on the weekends as on the weekdays. About half the callers were male, but two-thirds of callers reporting a "dirty" rest area were female.

Message center employees have been instructed to relay all personal safety concerns directly to the appropriate police agency.

Welke said the new toll-free number has helped the Department identify where it needs to spend money.

Daydreaming and laughter can also aid in relaxation, according to Gina Frankhart, recreational therapist at Mercywood Hospital in Ann Arbor. Often, adults lose the ability to daydream that they had as youngsters.

"As we became adults, our daydreams became more worries," she told those attending a Monday afternoon program at the Catherine McAuley Health Center's Arbor Health Building in Plymouth.

DURING THE program, those attending participated in a relaxation exercise. Under Frankhart's guidance, they tensed and then relaxed the different muscle groups. That was combined with deep breathing and with imagery - imagining themselves on a beach, listening to the waves.

It's best to practice some form of relaxation technique every day, Frankhart told those at the Monday

"The hardest thing about relaxation is making yourself do it." The more relaxation techniques are used, however, the easier they become, she said.

"It's a chance to give yourself a break in the day.'

A number of tapes are available designed to help people relax, Fran-khart said. Local classes in relaxation techniques are also available.

Any number of events can cause stress, according to Frankhart. She defined stress as the physical, psychological and chemical changes that occur anytime a body undergoes change - whether pleasant or unpleasant.

The physical changes that accompany stressful situations include such things as rapid heartbeat and breathing, pupil dilation and in-, creased perspiration.

The chemical changes that accompany ongoing stress can cause permanent damage to the body, she told those at the program.

Cardiovascular disease, the numcancer, arthrit.s, respiratory diseases, gastrointestinal diseases and migraine headaches, are also linked to stress.

Fitness also is a factor in handling stress. Those who don't exercise will find that their muscles atrophy. They are thus less able to deal with disease and with stressful situations.

Regular exercise can help people deal with stress in a positive way, according to Frankhart. There's also no such thing as being "too old to exercise." she said.

It's also important to become aware of stress and how stressful situations affect the body, Frankhart said. Getting involved in a relaxing activity can help people deal with stress.

The Rev. Alex Brunett, pastor of St. Aidan Catholic Church in Livonia, shows the model of a new church building that is expected to be completed by late next year. The tower in the center of the building will be 115 feet tall. Below it, on the roof, is the glass ceiling of the structure's atrium.

Parish to build new church

staff writer

T. AIDAN Catholic Church in Livonia has been a church without a real church building.

That should change by Thanksgiving 1987, when an ambitious, $1.6million building project is expected to be completed.

The project will give the parish its own church building for the first time, according to the Rev. Alex Brunett, the church's pastor. The congregation has been worshipping in a building originally built as a school.

Designed by architect Rex D. Reittenbach of Saginaw, the new building will be 21,000 square feet in size and be built just north of the present St. Aidan building, at Six Mile and Farmington roads. The building will include a worship area for up to 900 people, small chapel, fellowship area and administrative offices. But its most spectacular features will be a 115-foot-tall tower, topped by a cross, and a glass-roofed atrium area that will link the various rooms in the church.

THE GROWTH of the congregation, both in size and in programming, has made the new building necessary, Brunett said.

"When I came here in 1974 there were 300 families in this parish community," Brunett said. "Now we have over 1,000.'

The congregation's current building just isn't big enough any more, Brunett said. On Sundays, for instance, the worship area can't accommodate all the parishoners. The overflow sits in the next room and watches the ceremony through windows in the wall.

The new building also will give St. Aidan a greater capacity to handle the various programs it is involved in. Those include various ecumenical programs that Brunett handles as ecumenical officer for the Archdiocese of Detroit.

'We had a Jewish-Christian meeting here last year, but the facility was too small, and we had to turn a lot of people away," he said.

THE GROUNDBREAKING for the new building will be after the 11:30 a.m. Mass Sunday, Oct. 19. Brunett said he expects the actual construction work will begin in the spring

Brunett said the whole parish, through various committees, had a say in the design of the building.

The structure, along with an additional parking lot, will be built in an area that is now part open field, part woods. Reittenbach said care will be taken to spare as many trees as possible.

"We're going to take advantage of the woodline, take advantage of the natural environment," he said.

A ring of earth berms will surround the building.

The building's worship area will have a ceiling that's 45 feet high in the center. The high ceiling, reminiscent of some of the large, old churches of Detroit, will give the area good acoustics, Reittenbach said.

The building's office area will give Brunett an area in which to do counseling and other of his duties, freeing the rectory to be just a residence.

With St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church right next door and Ward Presbyterian just across Six Mile Road, St. Aidan forms quite a "churchy" neighborhood. But Brunett said his parish isn't trying to upstage anyone with the new structure.

"We feel we're quite compatible with everyone else, and we are part of their neighborhood family."

Through the ages, specific parcels of land have been assigned special regard and respect in remembrance of important events of life. In the midst of his flight from his brother's wrath, Jacob dreams of God's presence in the midst of the desert wasteland and erects an altar "because God is in this place and I knew it not" (Genesis 28:16). THERE COULD be no misunder- die on the Lewis and Clark expedition in 1804.

It is not the land itself that is hallowed, but the deeds of valor and sacrifices of life there given that mark those places of earth with our regard amd devotion.

Abraham Lincoln warned us that "in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract." That is why we are to COMMIT NO NUISANCE. We want that place to reflect our values of life and love.

But why must we wait until others have died in acts of supreme sacrifice before we admonish each other to COMMIT NO NUISANCE in this place or any other place? The Judeo-Christian tradition has always placed life above land - people above place.

If we were to COMMIT NO NUI-SANCE to one another, then there would be little need for us to erect memorials in devotion and respect to valor and sacrifice of life. All of life would reflect this meaning, the meaning first given to it by God in creation.

COMMIT NO NUISANCE . . . certainly, but not only in this place. Always and ever never against another

Children's Village to hold rally

Lita Duncanson of Farmington and Elizabeth Lee of Novi are in the forefront of the volunteers planning a series October events for the Redford campus of the Methodist Children's Home Society, Children's Village.

The schedule begins with the traditional Fall Rally when representatives from United Methodist Churches across the state will gather at the village Thursday, Oct. 2, for tours and programs.

The public is invited to attend Open House 2-4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 12, for guided tours of the village, 26645 Six Mile, which will leave the Chapel Building frequently between those of Children's Friends, has scheduled at 3 p.m.

The open house is given in honor of David L. Ball Jr., who will retire at the end of this year after serving as executive director of the organization for 19 years.

Ball has been involved in the care and treatment of disadvantaged and disturbed children since he graduated from Washington University with a master's degree in social work. Before coming to Michigan he served as executive director for two other private children's agencies, including 10 years at Methodist Children's Home in Missouri.

Last year funds raised by the League of Children's Friends were used to relocate the 2,500-volume Children's Village Library. New book shelves and carpeting were installed, tables and chairs were purchased. And to house a donated collection of 50 dolls, a lighted display case was made.

Duncanson calls the new room a 'reading for pleasure library." The resource is supervised by Joyce Thomas, director of religious education, who is assisted in that job by volunteers.

Recreational and cultural offcampus treats also are provided by the league funds.

Robert C. Junhke, a Farmington resident, is president of Methodist Children's Home Society.

Residents of Farmington and Farmington Hills who are volunteers, working in one capacity or another toward the October events, are Clare Carvell, Virginia Doerr, Lorene Juhnke, Grace Duncanson and Don and Jeanne Dittmar.

Show features folk art, country crafts

Developing major metro projects

This is part of a series on the Yamasaki and Associates. commercial development of real estate in metropolitan Detroit.

The wings are staggered creating an asymmetrical arrangement with a five-to-two bay relationship facing each other across a central landscaped space.

In addition, the building has bay windows affording the 16 corner offices multiple views. They are a welcome deviation from many of metro-Detroit's boring commercial facades, yet a design motif popular in sonifies the clarity of commercial Chicago

WILSHIRE PLAZA NORTH has a similar formal arrangement. A central building is flanked by two pavilion-like structures at 45-degree angles. The central structure contains a three-story atrium rotunda lobby, matter of upgrading the street preswhich projects outward to become a portico-like entrance flanked by double columns

The horizontal treatment of the windows is interspersed with vertical counterpoints of double windows that create a visual cadence.

In contrast, 1111 Long Lake Road is a rectangular, three-story building with lofty columns that are connected on the third floor by arches.

"This is an important development to us, because it was one of the last projects Minoru Yamasaki worked on personally before his death earlier this year." said Alan Kiriluk, presA question to ponder, regarding these premier office buildings in Troy, is why Yamasaki was chosen as the design firm?

Douglas Winkworth, vice president in charge of development, said, "They are a tremendously well-re-Kirco Realty and Development spected firm. They thoroughly study a building in terms of construction well, they are experts in pre-cast material.

The sidewalk surface will be enhanced by a variegated motif. Canopies will mark the entryways. The pilasters will be reclad in a rich stone veneer restoring them to their original likeness. Awnings will be placed over the display windows resurrecting their retail identity. The original marble, wood and brass of the building's interior lobbies will he restored.

Set fee eases pressure

HEN HOLIDAYS, birthdays or special occasions approach, many artists are asked to draw pictures. Being asked to draw or paint a picture is truly a compliment, but to many a commission brings anxiety-filled moments. The word anxiety means being fearful about the outcome. For many artists, the request for their abilities comes unexpected and usually they are unprepared mentally to handle the request. If we could hear the inner thoughts of many artists when talent and both are directed towards the request of asked to draw a picture, it might go something like this

INTERESTED PERSON: Hi, I've seen some of your drawings and I was wondering if you would consider doing a pet portrait of my schnauzerpooh?

FLUSTERED ARTIST: (Thinking) Oh, no! I mean, sure! Wait a minute, do I charge? Sure, I charge. What does he think I am How much? $10 No, $15 $10 . I wonder if I'm blushing . . Help!

With a little mental preparation, you will be able to handle the situation with no anxiety and in a friendly, professional way.

First of all, there are those who feel that asking you to draw their whatever is a compliment and they have no intention of payment. Imagine this noticed how well you wash your car and I thought I would let you wash my new one for free.

Well, you wouldn't consider that request very long, so why be upset by such a peron's request of your talents

REMEMBER, a laborer gets paid for what he will do and an artist gets paid for what he can do. You wouldn't wash his car for free simply because you can wash cars well and certainly you wouldn't do art work for free simply because you are asked another person, than payment is certainly expect-

But what if it is for Aunt Peggy or sister Sue? How can you charge them? Of course, only you know who you can charge and from whom you would not consider payment. But relatives cannot all be "freebies" or you might be painting the rest of their lives and most of yours

THERE IS A WAY to handle the request for your talents with strangers, friends and even some relatives

Setting a minimum fee is what I recommend. What your minimum fee is, however, is up to you.

I recommend $25 to $50 to begin with. Believe me, there is nothing worse than begrudging the person you are drawing for. The flattery of being commissioned fades fast as the hours pass, everytype of person approaching you and saying, "I've one is in bed, and your eye bags are beginning to swell

After several twilight hours that nice guy who commissioned you becomes a ripoff artist and you become the artist he rupped off.

A minimum fee will help relieve the pressure of negotiations. So get all that money business out of the way before you even pick up a pencil. You will be surprised at how expressive and creative a clear mind can be and the money is nice too!

Business' use of bank funds defended Although entitled to a closed hearing, Stoddard sought By Tim Richard

staff writer

"There was always a mixture of business and pleasure," said Edwin B. Jones, a retired Michigan National Bank official as he defended the conduct of his former boss, Stanford C. Stoddard.

Even at the wedding of Stoddard's daughter, Betsy, 'business was discussed," Jones testified Tuesday in a federal hearing into Stoddard's alleged misuse of bank funds.

Stoddard, 55, board chairman of Michigan National Corp. from 1972 until he was forced to quit in 1984, has a career at stake. The Comptroller of the Currency, which regulates national banks, wants to fine Stoddard $500,000 and bar him for life from banking - a business he would like to get back into.

THE FEDERAL agency last week completed a month of prosecution testimony aimed at proving he misallocated more than $150,000 of bank and holding company money

Specifically, comptroller charges the money was misused on Stoddard's homes in Birmingham and elsewhere, weddings for members of his family and facilities for Mormon churches across Michigan.

The scene is makeshift quarters on the second floor of the federal building in Ann Arbor. The white-haired man with the "judge" label on his desk is Thomas Jones, an administrative law judge from Grand Rapids who usually hears Social Security cases.

a public hearing and is conducting an aggressive de-

Edwin Jones, a Mormon like Stoddard, was a key witness in that defense. Now a Utah resident, Jones said he started with the bank as a trainee in 1957 and rose through the ranks to become president from 1984 until his retirement in 1985

"A GOOD investment" was how Jones described the so-called "missionary apartment" in a Michigan National building at 14 Mile and Crooks roads in Oakland County

He said Mormon missionaries were given use of the apartment, and they would "superintend the property at night" without pay.

Their services were valuable because lights could go out, a fire could start or the air conditioning could go off, Jones said.

Asked by defense attorney Richard M. Roberts about entertainment Stoddard conducted in his Birmingham home, Jones said it was "business-oriented" and involved "bank-related people.

For his own part, Jones said, "I seldom go anywhere without people asking me business questions

In the "family spirit" that existed at the bank, Jones said, employees could use bank trucks to move, and snowplowing was performed for "certain officers and directors.

BUT WHEN comptroller attorney Ellen Broadman

The comptroller's case is that Stanford C. Stoddard circumvented normal procedures in using Michigan National Bank property and personnel for personal and Mormon projects.

asked Jones whether he charged off his own entertainment to the bank as business expenses, the former president answered, "I did not have the type of guests at my place that Mr. Stoddard did at his."

It was the kind of answer Broadman wanted. The comptroller's case is that Stoddard circumvented normal procedures in using bank property and personnel for personal and Mormon projects.

For example, Jones said the holding corporation's buildings and properties division "in some cases" reported to him as president and at other times to chairman Stoddard. "He made his own arrangements," Jones said.

Broadman asked if Jones thought Stoddard ought not to use the buildings and properties division to make contributions to Mormon church renovation projects.

"I thought that was better - not that his way was wrong," Jones replied, noting that the Mormon headquarters in Utah often matched private gifts to local churches.

"In many cases it turned out I was wrong and he was right," Jones added.

Broadman produced papers showing Jones reimbursed the bank $135 for a truck he borrowed for personal use, basing the amount on rental agency rates.

DEFENSE ATTORNEY Roberts had two outstate Mormon church officials testify that members did most of the work on church renovation projects and that Stoddard supplied only materials and used equipment.

"The bank delivered surplus materials to the church pews, (used) carpeting from bank offices, a used office desk," said Richard Sirjen, former vice president of the Crystal Falls branch of the Mormon church.

Church members did the cleanup, wiring, patching and repair of the heting system, Sirjen said. "Members did it all," said Robert C. Newman as he described a renovation project at the Ludington branch of the Mormon church where he was president for 12 years

Seger predicts moderate Defense meets charges head on economic growth in '87

By Bill Parker

staff writer

There seems to be an unusual amount of uncertainty clouding the short-run economic outlook. But the general consensus forecast is for continued moderate economic growth with low inflation, according to Dr. Martha R. Seger, chairwoman of the Federal Reserve Board Research and Statistics Committee.

In addressing the Planning Forum of Detroit at Oakland Hills Country Club last week, Seger, a former Oakland University professor, said she was cautiously optimistic about the U.S. economy for the next year or so.

Despite a substantial decline in interest rates, the economy has remained sluggish. A major factor holding down economic growth has been the growing international trade deficit. Because of the overvalued dollar and more rapid growth in the United States than by most of our trading partners, a large share of the demand for consumer durable goods has been met by imports, according to Seger. But the 30 percent reduction in the value of the dollar since its peak last year, together with the slowdown in U.S. growth, should theoretically turn the U.S. trade position around. So far there is little evidence of such an improvement.

· Gifts to churches made by Stoddard were "charitable contributions.

• The buildings and properties division of Michigan National did work for other officers and directors besides Stoddard

• "You do conduct business" at weddings (a reference to charges that bank money was used to pay for Attorney Richard M. Roberts Tuesday unveiled his Stoddard family weddings). "It's a matter of style. The entertainment was business-oriented."

• The "missionaries apartment" was a business decision to furnish guard service to a bank property.

• Comptroller made a "bad faith" deal with the bank when one of its officials, Karen Wilson, told the Michigan National board on July 18, 1984, the government would drop its investigation if Stoddard would resign as chairman. Stoddard quit next the day, but the government continued to go after him.

The good news on inflation and

"In fact, we are all turning a little blue holding our breath waiting for this to occur," Seger said.

THE STRENGTH of the dollar does have some positive aspects. It helps keep U.S. inflation at a rate lower than we've experienced since the mid-'60s, and with the additional help of declining oil prices, inflation has dropped even lower this year.

Despite this, many observers warn this year or next.

Seger disagrees.

"I think inflation will remain subdued. My optimism is based on evaluation of the economic fundamentals. Commodity prices, for example, have declined on balance for about two years. And these price declines have not yet been fully reflected at the consumer level. More- and furniture.

BUT SEGER is cautious and explained that there is the possibility of the economy taking a drop.

There are a few areas of strength in the economy, but they are offset by areas of weakness.

"The primary risk is not that the economy will overheat a rekindle inflation, but that the weak sectors will somehow overwhelm the pockets of strength, tipping the economy of a sharp increase in inflation late into a recession," said Seger. "But with the right policy choices we can avoid such an outcome and keep the economic expansion alive for the rest of this year and next."

Seger is also optimistic about the long-run outlook for the housing industry. A healthy housing industry signals increased spending in consumer products such as appliances

'That doesn't imply that the U.S. auto industry will have an easy time According to Seger, the decline in of things," Seger said. "Even with consumer price index between Janu- price increases on foreign cars, their sales have remained very strong. U.S. companies may very well have to insure the fifth consecutive year to rely on incentive financing deals of consumer inflation at or below 4 and price restraint to keep their share of the world market."

> In evaluating the short-run economic outlook. Seger said there were still some old problems hanging around such as debt burdens, which hamper the economic prospects of developing nations, the competitiveness of U.S. industry in the world market and the associated danger of rising protectionism. She said at last check there were more than 300 bills in Congress offering protection to someone

Also, farm sections will most likely remain depressed with spillover effects damaging banks, businesses and communities in rural America.

"Taking all of these factors into consideration, I expect the economic expansion to continue at a moderate rate and inflation to remain subdued over the next year," Seger said.

Businesses told to expect state government help

Consider taking long-term gains this year

Judging from the number of inquiries I have received in recent weeks, it appears that many of you are asking the following question: "When should I take my large gains?'

To be sure, there are no stock answers to this question. It depends not only on the type of security you hold but also on how the value of this security might appreciate in the future.

ent strategies were applied to two investors

John Jones revealed to me that he had been desirous of selling his ABC stock for some time now but did not in evaluating sales of stock to realize know exactly why or when.

SINCE HIS stock appeared appropriately valued, and since capital gain taxes would never be lower for him than today, I advised him to sell his stock and reinvest in investments designed for higher cash flow.

In contrast, Betty Jones was advised to hold on to her stock, even though next year capital gains tax rates will be repealed. The reason is Here is an example of how differ- that her stock was not only grossly undervalued, but since it was in the drugs sector, her stock was expected to benefit from tax reform large gain positions at this time:

Here are some factors to consider

• The tax today is a known fact. Beginning next year, taxation will vary, depending on what deductions you retain or lose. Only an analysis of the bottom line tax using complete calculation will give an accurate answer

• Alternative minimum tax (beginning in 1987 referred to as the IMT) must be calculated and compared to regular tax.

• Tax rates are lower for longterm capital gains in 1986 than either in 1987 or 1988 for top bracket individuals.

 Installment sales for long-term capital gain property make no sense after 1987 because tax rates or capital gains will be taxed at the 28-percent tax bracket.

 Selling and re-establishing a higher cost basis for a given stock can be an interesting strategy, but you might consider as an alterntive redeploying your money in stocks with higher yields. This strategy is attractive because income tax rates are scheduled to decline in 1987.

To recapitulate, the topic of whether to sell your stock now is a ing any move.

Treasurer removes ban on state money for EDC

State Treasurer Robert A. Bowman said he is lifting the moratorium on allocations for local economic development bond financings.

The new limitations of federal tax reform that affect economic development bonds involve the reduction in the annual state cap on the volume of bonds that can be issued and the inclusion of additional types of bonds under that cap. record peaks by 1990.

I bought Kinder-Care Learning Centers in 1983 at $13 a share, adjusted for the stock splits. It is supposed to be one of the best growth companies in the country according to my broker. It is still selling at about the same price I paid for it.

What do you see as the future for Kinder-Care?

Kinder-Care has had a reputation for being an outstanding growth company, and its record has been excellent.

Since you bought stock in the company in 1983, revenues have grown from $128 million a year to what looks like will be well over $200 million in 1986. The earnings per share have grown from 35 cents in 1983 to an estimated 75 cents for 1986. That's an excellent record

In spite of that record, the price at which the shares sell has gone nowhere. Analysts familiar with the company believe this is because investors are skeptical that earnings will continue to move ahead under the new tax laws.

They also believe there is not the same growth potential in some of the company's recent acquisitions that there was in the basic business.

Historically, Kinder-Care has sold at an average high price-earnings ratio over the past five years of 33 and at an average low P/E of 17. Currently it is selling near the average low of 17

That is not unusual. Whenever a company that has been selling at an unusually high P/E runs into trouble, it tends to drop down to the low

Also the company has been expanding into the life insurance and financial services area, where profi-tability is usually less than it has been in its basic business.

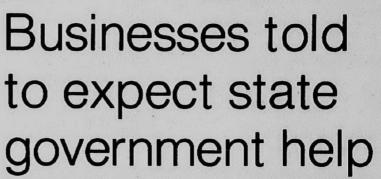

Company management, however, believes it will be able to offer special products from these businesses to its customers in the Kinder-Care section and thus build extra profitability into these acquisitions.

Whether it will be successful in doing this or not, only time will tell.

On the record, it would appear the company's management knows how to make Kinder-Care grow. In spite of the specters raised by some analysts, I'd bet on management's record and look for continued growth.

Russell's appearance in Southfield last week was sponsored by the Michigan Technology Council. It was the first in a series of seminars sponsored by the MTC, aimed at boosting communication between Michigan firms and state government to encourage modernization.

'Our job is to think through programs in the public and private sectors that can turn manufacturing around," said Russell, adding that businesspeople have a right "to expect the government to be a factor in creating solutions."

HE OUTLINED help offered through Innovation and Technology Services' four sub-divisions: the Technology Transfer Network, Office of New Enterprise Services, Technology Deployment Service and Auto in Michigan-Auto Industry Research Section:

 The Technology Transfer Network, at six state locations including Wayne State University, offers faculty and research assistance to solve problems.

During August, auto sales, steel output and the average deposit vol-

Through August, the Detroit-area economy is running nearly 1 percent ahead of 1985, measured net of inflation. However, unless car sales continue to respond favorably to vigorous financing incentives, it will be difficult for the Detroit Area Business Activity Index to match the

K mart will diversify

K mart Corp., the world's secondlargest retailer, announced a series of programs to continue over the next five years, the extensive upgrading of K mart stores and the company's diversification into the other retailing businesses.

At a presentation to financial analysts, K mart's new management team outlined a plan to capitalize on growth opportunities in general merchandise retailing and capital expenditures between 1986 and 1990, including the addition of 150 new K mart stores in the United States. and more than 800 speciality retail stores in the United States and Canada, creating more than 50,000 jobs.

"We fully anticipate a continuing improvement in K mart's approximately 4-percent share of the massmerchandise market," said Joseph E. Antonini, president and chief operating officer.

"The ongoing refurbishment and reallocation of space in existing K marts and of new stores will be directed to making selling space more productive," Antonini said. This will be accomplished through a readjustment of the merchandise mix, including the development of new "power departments," continued momentum in apparel marketing, and further continuance of expense control and containment programs.

In its merchandise mix, K mart will continue to place emphasis on hard goods, including offering a wider selection of different priced products within a category.

"AMONG OUR best-selling new products are Oriental-design area rugs, autofocus 35mm cameras and 14-karat gold jewelry," said Larry M. Parkin, executive vice president, U.S. K mart stores. "Our goal is to broaden our assortments, particulary in the higher price points of merchandise. Another major thrust in K mart's merchandising program is the development of fast-growing power departments such as the Home Care Center, the Kitchen Korner, garden supplies and soft goods for the home.

"The real growth ahead for K mart is selling higher-ticket, better-quality merchandise at K mart discount prices while continuing to emphasize lower-priced items," Parkin said.

K mart's strategy also calls for continued growth in its increasingly successful apparel business.

"K mart stores did almost $6 billion in volume in family apparel last year, placing us in the top five retailers in this country," said Glenn B. Smith, K mart Corp. vice president, and president and chief executive officer of K mart Apparel Corp. "And consumer research shows that over the last three years, K mart apparel has received consistently higher ratings for quality, styling, selection and fit.'

TO TAKE advantage of this momentum, K mart plans over the next five years to allocate an additional 4,000 square feet to apparel in some 800 full-size stores in metropolitan markets.

In support of its merchandising program, K mart is installing a systemwide $500 million retail-automation program which will enable the company to better track consumer buying patterns, replensih store stocks more efficiently and improve customer service. K mart estimates that its point-of-sale and store scanner register systems can reduce customer checkout time by at least 25 percent, and help reduce selling, general and administrative expenses by a minimum of 1.5 percent over the next five years.

Specialty Retailing

K mart Corp. will continue to explore other retailing businesses, according to Antonini, "We will be willing to try new experiments to test whether there exist unique targeted opportunities to increase our share of the consumer's retail dol-lar," he said. "Our goal of having at least 18 percnt of our sales and profits coming from these businesses by the end of this decade is still very conservative."

Livonia's Steggles steals O&E crown

By C.J. Risak staff writer

As golf tournaments go, this one had more twists and turns than a ride on a roller coaster. About as many ups and downs, too.

The 1986 edition of the Observer & Eccentric-Whispering Willows Men's Golf tournament finally did crown a winner. But it took 19 holes of golf on Sunday before Mike Steggles of Livonia could claim his triumph.

Steggles out-dueled Doug Cumming of Farmington Hills on the first playoff hole, the par-five 475-yard first hole at Whispering Willows. Steggles drilled his second shot 240 vards with a four-wood, just off the green 20 feet from the cup. His chip from the rough was perfect, stopping 18 inches from the cup.

STEGGLES TAPPED in for a birdie, giving him the victory over Cumming, who lined his second shot a two-iron - into the trap left of the green. His chip left him 18 feet from the cup, and his putt for birdie trickled just wide.

'I knew I had to make it." Cumming said of his failed putt. "I just pulled it. I thought it would break a little.

It didn't, and Steggles had his first O&E win.

"I just wanted to get it near the green," said the 1970 graduate of Livonia Stevenson of his second shot. 'It was a yard off the fringe. It wasn't a bad lie, it was a good lie actually. That was my first birdie there (in the tournament)."

Steggles' best previous finish in the O&E tournament was second in 1970. "Since then I haven't done diddly," he said.

HE DID ENOUGH Saturday and Sunday. Steggles fired a 71 in the first round, trailing leader Bill Curtis of Farmington Hills by four strokes. But Curtis played himself out of contention with a triple-bogey seven on his final hole of the tournament, finishing with a 77 that included a 41 over the back nine.

Steggles seemingly had the tour nament in hand after dropping to one-under after birdying No. 16 Sunday. But he struggled to the finish, bogeying the par-three 17th and the par-four 18th.

That created an opening for Cumming, who finished the shotgunstarted tourney on the toughest hole of the course - No. 2, a 403-yard par-four. Cumming drove his tee shot perfectly to the bend of the dogleg. But his second shot, an eight iron, carried over the green.

A chip rolled 11 feet past the cup. but Cumming sank the clutch par putt to match Steggles at 143.

69 Saturday, but a 42 over the front nine Sunday killed his chances. He finished at 148. Gary Cauzillo of Redford shot a first-round 70 and was even-par after 13 holes Sunday. But he bogeyed the next two and pars at 16, 17 and 18 weren't enough. He tied Curtis for third at 144.

It was a sweet victory for Steggles, and a well-deserved one. He's played Whispering Willows since the course opened, getting in his first rounds as a member of the Stevenson golf team.

This is the first time I've won anything," he said, "And to beat this guy (Cumming), one of the best amateur golfers in the state, really makes it special."

Steggles seemed out of the running after carding three bogeys in his first six holes Sunday to balloon to three-over for the tournament. But he bounced back, birdying the 135yard, par-three seventh.

Steggles followed that with an eagle-two at the par-four, 374-yard eighth. He used a nine iron to sink his 120-yard shot.

'I've never had a hole-in-one before, and this is the closest I've ever come," he said. "It was great. I told myself, 'You're back in it now, let's get going.

The eagle was a thrill for Steggles, and it proved to be only the first of the day

STEGGLES AND Cumming split the first ($150) and second ($100) place gift certificates. Colin Campbell of Farmington Hills claimed low net honors

In first flight, Ed Donahue of Southfield won top prize with a 75/ -149, four strokes better than Livonia resident Rick Wheeler's 153. The low net prize went to Steve Zielinski of Livonia

Second-flight champion was John Smith of Canton with an 81/87-168, a single shot ahead of Paul Krumel of Livonia. Rich Hall of Farmington Hills won the low net prize

The third-flight championship was undecided. Jim Dryer and Mark Donakowski, both of Redford, each finished at 183. A playoff was sched-

Observerland's No. 1 girls basketball team was hitting on all cylinders Tuesday night

Plymouth Salem, flashing both its stingy defense and explosive offense, dusted Western Lakes foe Walled Lake Western 67-23.

"We tried to set the defense into a full court situation and they didn't handle it very well. As the game went on we forced a number of turnovers," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We scored at the basket, from the perimeter and some open court layups. Everything went pretty well for us tonight. They are not a bad basketball team."

Four Rocks players led the assault. Dena Head scored 19 points and pulled down 11 rebounds. Jessica Handley scored 12 points. Kristen Hostynski had 12 points and four assists. Jill Estey had 10 points and four assists.

Spartans retain WLAA Relay title

By Chris McCosky staff writer

The annual Western Lakes conference girls swim relay meet has always provided an accurate reading of how the season will unfold.

If that holds true again, this is what will happen this season:

• Livonia Stevenson will again win the conference.

• North Farmington will push the Spartans every step of the way. • Livonia Churchill, Plymouth

Salem, Plymouth Canton, North-Farmington and Westland ville. John Glenn will finish in a pack between second and eighth place. • The Western Lakes will again be among the most competitive swim leagues in Michigan.

Livonia Stevenson edged North Farmington 263-232 to win its fourth consecutive Western Lakes Relays title Saturday at Plymouth Salem.

The Spartans won five of 10 events.

"I'M GOING out on a limb here and predicting that Stevenson will win our conference this season," joked Salem swim coach Chuck Olson. "You don't have to be a real genius to figure that out. But after that, North Farmington moves ahead of the rest of us based on their performance Saturday."

North won one event, placed in the top four in eight events and fifth in the other.

Livonia Churchill won two events. Northville and John Glenn each set meet records and Salem placed in the top six in every event.

'I'll tell you, we placed fourth and I was really, really pleased with our swims," Olson said. "I'm just glad to be considered in that group: both the ones ahead of us and those immediately behind us."

To put the meet's competitiveness into perspective, five teams bettered the existing meet record in the 200-yard breaststroke relay. Northville's Erica Nelson, Julie Hilfinger, Michelle Stephenson and Debbie Buell now hold the mark with a 2:16.8. But Stevenson (2:19.8), Canton (2:20.5), North (2:20.6) and Salem (2:23.5) all bested the old mark of 2 25.3 set last year by Stevenson.

JOHN GLENN broke their own meet diving record. Jamie Koester and Dawn Marlette scored 381.65 points. They scored 354.65 last vear.

Stevenson set a record in the 200 butterfly relay. Sheila Taormina, Dawn Gurney. Lisa Campos and Maureen Sudek finished in 1:57.1, bettering North's 1985 mark of 1 58.3

Other Stevenson firsts were recorded in the 400 medley relay (Nicole Hempelman, Amy Harrison, Taormina and Sudek, in 4:20.2); 400 freestyle relay (Ann Bollinger, Robin Greschaw, Nancy Detmer and Michele McKenzie, 3:55.7); 200 backstroke (Jodi Mathison, Dana Carlan, Gina Bennett and Bollinger, 2:06.5), crescendo relay (Bennett, Lisa Dotzenroth Hempelman and McKenzie, 5:05.3).

Churchill won both the 200 medley relay (Kendra James, Angie Neville, Audra Martin and Carol Baker, in 1.58.2) and the 200 freestyle relay (Beth Marcy, Cathy Ankenbrandt, Stacev Tomaszewski and Kim Patrals, in 1:50.6).

Racing a boat with a beginning water skier in tow, giving novices ski lessons from atop the experts' hill, playing poker with someone who's never played - those are fun games. Challenging? No. Sadistic? Per-haps. Fun? Definitely.

Golf could not qualify. The happiness quotient is far too low.

Think about it. Even Lions' fans will be happy six or seven times out of 16 games this season, following each victory. Golfers would settle for that percentage - say, seven out of 16.

HOW MANY of the 202 golfers who teed off in the Observer & Eccentric-Whispering Willows Men's Golf Tournament last weekend do you figure were pleased with their results?

Maybe a dozen. And that's not just guys who took home gift certificates. Some of the prize winners surely weren't happy.

Example: So, John Van Vleck, three-time O&E champ, how did you shoot? Answer: "Ehhhh," accompanied by a shrug. Mediocre is the translation. Nunzio Marino, O&E winner in 1984, how'd you do? Answer: "I had 40 putts yesterday

(Saturday). That was half my score." NO. THEY were hardly ecstatic. Neither one played that poorly, but once a golfer wins he gets greedy. He figures he should be in the running every year. That thinking is misguided. It's based on logic, which has nothing in common with golf. A guy examines C.J. Risak

I've practiced more this year. I'm the same golfer, these are the same clubs, that's the same course. Consequently. I should do at least as well." Wrong. He finishes 28 strokes behind, scratches his head and starts talking to himself, asking, "What went amiss?' That's what breeds unhappiness.

One guy's inexcusably pathetic 160 for a 36-hole tournament is another's lifetime goal.

Ask Bill Curtis if he was happy with the chain of events in the O&E. Curtis was unbeatable in Saturday's round. He stroked smoothly and putted precisely, recording a 67, two shots better than Bob Urbats.

THROUGH 12 HOLES on Sunday,

Curtis was still four-under-par. He bogeved 13. He bogeved 15. He bogeyed 16. His lead was gone. He was one-under for the tournament. But wait - the worst was yet to come.

Curtis hit his third shot at the last hole onto the beach. He lined up his shot from the bunker, carefully eyeing the pin 60 feet away, perched at the far edge of the green. To win, he'd have to lob it close. He knew that.

So what happened? "I tried to chip it right up there and I hit it onto Newburgh Road," said Curtis.

That's not exaggeration. Curtis' shot flew over the fence, costing him a stroke. His second try from the trap still left him 40 feet of green to negotiate, which he accomplished in monstrous triple-bogey seven. Curtis finished two-over par at 144. And that was a stroke behind the leaders. "That's the game of golf," Curtis added afterward, grinding his teeth.

A SAD TALE, to be sure. If it were the only one of its kind it would deserve a generous dose of sympathetic pats on the back. But it wasn't.

Gary Cauzillo had some kind of tournament, although his blatant descriptiveness might have led one to believe otherwise. Let's just say that by the 13th hole Sunday, Cauzillo was unquotable - at least for ε family newspaper.

He had good cause for such eloquence. Cauzillo shot 70 on Saturday. third-best score of the day. But it. could have been better; one of those 70 strokes never touched the ball. Wedged in under a pine tree, Cauzil lo swung - and whiffed.

"They all count, but the real (bleep) was it was still under that: (bleep) pine tree," he said in one of his more printable moments.

CAUZILLO SEEMED out of the running after back-to-back bogeys: on 14 and 15 Sunday. He parred 16. 17 and 18, however, and finished the day with a 74 and a two-day total of you got it - 144, one stroke from. qualifying for the playoff.

Doug Cumming made the playoff but after losing to Mike Steggles he didn't look very happy, either. Sure. Steggles was happy because he won. yet you know he must've been wondering what was up after a round that included an eagle, four birdies and seven bogeys - the last two coming at 17 and 18, forcing the playoff.

That's the way golf is. It's funny. Golfers laugh at their game, but it's a humorless laugh, prompted by golf's hair-tugging frustrations.

More on the Mercy Hoops Classic

HE TITLE "Classic" was no exaggeration; never is when we're talking about the annual Mercy Hoops Classic.

Mercy and Sarnia St. Patrick's gave a full-house crowd quite a treat Saturday night. As we reported in Monday's editions, Mercy won the championship game 50-48 when Yvette Maison sank a pair of free throws with no time showing on the clock.

The game was fraught with high drama from tipoff to Maison's free throws.

St. Patrick's is a colorful team. The Canadians, Ontario's Provincial champs last season, play in excess of 50 games per year. They played five games last week, all against Michigan opponents.

St. Pat's plays the game at a breakneck pace and dares, baits opponents into playing at their tempo. And they play the game fundamentally well: They shoot well, pass well, run and catch well and defend well.

It's obvious the team draws its character from its coach. Bob Delaney rules his team with an effective blend of venom and humor. He carries on a running conversation with his players throughout the game. "Shoot the ball, Claudine. Will you please just shoot the ball?" "Maureen. Maureen! MAUREEEEN! Heather, will you get your sister over here?" Finally Maureen Sperc acknowledged the call. "Who did you think I was talking to?" "Oh, nice pass. Why don't you just throw it down the darn hall."

He has a cutting wit. Yet he keeps everything in perspective. For example, instead of staying in Farmington Hills Thursday through Saturday - which other out-of-state teams have done in the past - Delaney drove his team back and forth both days. ("They have to go to school on Friday," he said.)

COMING INTO Saturday's championship game, he knew the focus of the large crowd would be on hometeam Mercy. He wanted to divert some of that toward his team. His attention-getting method was unorthodox, but effective.

His team warmed up and went through pregame introductions wearing their typical green sweat pants. But before the tipoff, they stripped off the sweats and took the Mercy bench was not. At one point in the game, a St. Pat's player fell in the open court. Mercy coach Larry Baker, louder than he perhaps intended, said, "She must have tripped on her plaid."

In fact, there was an intriguing cat-and-mouse game going on be-tween the two benches. Delaney scouted Mercy Thursday night and saw a team that pressed and trapped and ran throughout the game. He spent extra time with his team Saturday afternoon working on press

Mercy deployed its press on just four occasions. In the second quar-ter, Mercy pressed for three St. Pat's possessions. Maria Dietz made two steals (and scored two baskets) and Maison made a steal on the third. With 1:18 left in the game Mercy trailed by a point. The press was activated again. Margaret DeMattia made the steal this time. She wound up getting fouled and scoring the of the tempo," said Baker of his nonpressing strategy. "We learned a lesson watching them play Waterford Kettering (on Thursday). This is a team that loves to run. If we would have pressed and ran, we would been playing right into their hands."

IT'S AMAZING how different players react to pressure situations. Specifically, DeMattia and Maison. Both players responded positively under the pressure, but both approached the situation from opposite directions.

DeMattia looked as if she wanted to be left alone to collect her thoughts. Her eyes were glued to the floor. It was hard to tell if she was nervous or simply concentrating. To be sure, she was taking the matter seriously.

Some football notes . . .

I suppose a few people saw me exchanging high-fives with my buddy Chris Krolicki after a Farmington Harrison touchdown Saturday in the 29-6 win against Farmington.

I don't want anyone thinking I'm partial to the Hawks. I'm not. But that particular touchdown was scored by Dave Krolicki, Chris' brother. Sure, Chris and I got excited when he scored. Sure, Dave's name and picture got in the paper. You see, the Krolickis are relatives on my wife's side of the family. You didn't want me to deprive 12-yearold Chris a familial high-five, or Dave his due recognition, did you? I have to face these people at Christmas time.

There may be sole high-fiving going on along the Plymouth Canton sidelines this year, too. Another Krolicki, Jeff, is a starter for the Chiefs.

AND SPEAKING of the Chiefs, these rascals are 2-0. Go figure.

The temptation is to give new coach Bob Khoenle the key to the township and erect a statue in his nonor.

Without taking anything away from him - certainly his positive attitude and fresh outlook have helped significantly - let's remember that the players on this year's Canton varsity are the same players that dominated the Western Lakes junior varsity circuit two years ago. Khoenle didn't exactly inherit a fallow field - regardless of Canton's varsity tradition.

Many Canton football players, past and present, have experienced winning football on junior varsity and other younger levels. For whatever reason, that winning edge never carried over to the varsity. This year, that seems to have changed.

Credit Khoenle for that if you like. But give the players equal praise. It's my opinion that some of those guys (guys like Tony Boucher, Steve Genyk, Roger Trice, Brian Gothard and Todd Wood) just said: "That's it. We're not losing anymore."

It would be fun to see them maintain that determination throughout the season. It would spice up the typically dull Western Lakes Western Division.

Title quests

League supremacy on line this weekend

By Chris McCosky and Brad Emons staff writers

HE WESTERN LAKES CONFERENCE football schedule begins in earnest this weekend with several key divisional match-ups highlighting the card. The Western Division battle between Livonia Franklin and Farmington Harrison could the biggest. Many coaches believe that the winner of this game could well wind up as the Division champ. Unless upstart Plymouth Canton or Livonia Churchill have something to say.

Last year, Franklin went into the game 0-2, but upset the Hawks in a defensive battle, 9-7. Harrison, however, went on to win the division title.

The Patriots are 0-2 again, but have yielded only two touchdowns. Their defense, however, will be tested by a strong Harrison offense, led by senior quarterback Mark Murray.

Last week, your expert prognosticator Chris McCosky picked 10 of 13 games correctly, raising his season record to 22-6. Falling one game behind after a 9-4 week was Brad Emons, now 21-7.

grid predictions

Let's roll the dice once again.

FRIDAY'S GAMES (All games at 7:30 p.m.)

REDFORD UNION at DEARBORN EDSEL FORD (3:30 p.m.): This Northwest Suburban League open-er pits two teams at 1-1.

er plis two teams at 1-1. RU, stymied last week by Redford Bishop Borgess, 13-7 (in overtime), struggled with its passing attack. Edsel, meanwhile, is coming off a 19-6 loss to Pontiac Northern. The T-Birds beat Borgess in OT during Week No. 1, 22-14. Picks — Edsel Ford gets two votes

NORTHVILLE at LIVONIA CHURCHILL: Northville (0-2) must pick up the pieces after a 23-3 pounding from Westland John Glenn. The unbeaten Chargers need to generate more offense than they did in last week's narrow 7-6 win over Plymouth Salem. Picks — Emons takes Northville in an upset, but McCosky hangs with Churchill.

PLYMOUTH CANTON at WALLED LAKE WESTERN: Can it be real? Canton 2-0? The Chiefs showed last week they could mount an offense to go along with their always stingy defense. Western (0-2) can't decide whether talented junior Mike Hall belongs at quarterback or running back. Picks — McCosky says Chiefs are for real, but Emons still has his doubts

WALLED LAKE CENTRAL at PLYMOUTH SA-LEM: Salem 0-2? The Rocks came on strong last week in the fourth quarter against Churchill, but it wasn't enough. Injuries have taken their toll on the Rocks. Central (1-1), meanwhile, could still be reeling from its loss to Canton. Picks — Salem breaks the ice, both agree.

GARDEN CITY at WOODHAVEN: Another Northwest Suburban League opener pits a pair of 1-1 teams. Woodhaven is coming off a 14-7 loss to Riverview Gabriel Richard, while GC rebounded behind the passing of Todd Freier and Brad Armstrong, who alternated in last week's win over Warren Woods Tower Picks - McCosky takes GC, but Emons likes the home field advantage for the Warriors.

WAYNE MEMORIAL at LINCOLN PARK: The Zebras fooled both so-called experts last week, blanking Ann Arbor Huron for their second straight win, 21-0. Look for Lewis Davis to become a bigger part of the offense this week to relieve the pressure from tailback Darren Tatum. Lincoin Park (1-1) is coming off a 21-7 win over Monroe. Picks - Wayne wins again.

Aggie gridders blanked, 21-0

A fumble on the first play set the tone Saturday night as state-ranked Traverse City St. Francis blanked visiting Redford St. Agatha in a non-league football game, 21-0. "As bad as we played, our defense gave up only two touchdowns," said Agatha coach John Goddard, whose team is 1-1 overall. "I thought we played well in the first half, but we had no intensity in the second half. I thought we could have played harder

A botched kickoff return, putting the ball at the Agatha 1-yard line to open the game, resulted in a St. Francis touchdown when Todd McManus recovered a fumble in the end zone (on the first play from scrimmage).

'That just took the juice right out of us," said the Agatha coach. "You can't play a team like that and make mistakes and hope to be a team like that

"St. Francis has a real solid pro-seniors. It's a good Class C football 'team.' The Gladiators' Vince Greenman, who rushed for 82 yards on the night, added an 11-yard TD run in the second quarter and a 17-yard TD run in the second half to finish the scoring.

St. Francis rolled up 240 yards on the ground to Agatha's 97. The Gladiators outgained the Aggies in total offense, 271-153.

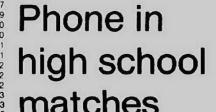

Kevin Foulks was Agatha's leading rusher, gaining 64 yards in 18 carries.

Top defensive standouts for the Aggies included Matt Schick, a safety who made one interception, and cornerback Tim Sullivan.

MELVINDALE 21, THURSTON 0: On Friday, the host Cardinals (2-0) got a sterling effort from quarterback Jeff Hess.

He threw touchdown strikes of 26 and 16 yards to receiver Tom Lengyel. Hess also added 74 yards rushing on 18 carries. Thurston was held without a first down and the Melvindale defense held the Ea-

Kobane's the name

Churchill golfer makes a believer out of coach

By Bill Parker staff writer

6D(P,C)

Golf can be a very humbling game

Despite hours and hours of practice most avid (and honest) golfers will admit some weakness in their game

Many times that soft spot can be the difference between a good day and a bad day on the course. Be it chipping out of a bunker, finding the fairway off the tee or reading the green on a putt, one little flaw can turn a potential birdie into a probable bogey.

According to Livonia Churchill varsity golf coach Roger Strong, however, his ace in the hole, Dean Kobane, dosen't have a weak spot in his game.

"Dean plays all parts of the game very, very well," said Strong. "He doesn't really have a weakness. He hits the ball very long. He hits it very straight. He putts very, very well and he chips well. For his age he is the most advanced golfer I've ever seen.

And Strong has seen a lot of high school age golfers in his seven-year sint as the head coach at Churchill One reason Kobane is so advanced is the fact that he takes the game seriously throughout the year - not just during the high school season.

stance, the Churchill senior placed second overall in the five-state regional swing of the World Series of Junior Golf Tour. Kobane missed the championship by a mere 5.5 points, finishing the tour with a total of 319.5. He placed first in the Michigan and Wisconson stops on the tour.

Nobane also placed in the top 20 in the National Insurance Youth Classic in Springfield, Ohio against most of the top junior golfers in the nation

On the high school circuit Kobane's accomplishments are equally impressive.

Kobane shot a 76 (par-70) to qualify for the varsity squad as a freshman, a rare accomplishment for someone with freshman status. As a sophomore he shot a 73 to capture first place at the regional tournament. Last year Kobane earned allstate Class A honors with a second place finish at the state meet.

"He's just a very exceptional golfer," Strong said. "Even though he was very good last year I think he's even better this year.'

With Kobane returning to lead the Charger linkers through the 1986 campaign, it's no doubt the optimism is running high at Churchill.

"This is the most outstanding group I've ever had," said Strong. They're all gentlemen and all easy to work with. We have a lot of boys this OVER THE SUMMER, for in- year that are playing competitive cult to repeat our tournament record golf throughout the season. In the past I've had a lot of boys who only played high school golf."

CHURCHILL ENDED the 1985 regular season with a 4-5 dual meet record. But when the tournaments started the Chargers rose to the occasion. They placed second at the Midwest Invitational at Hilltop, a tournament hosted by the Chargers. They won the 12-team Western Lakes Athletic Association tournament. They finished second in the regional tournament and captured second place honors at the Class A state meet.

"Throughout the season last year our team scores weren't really that bad but the other teams seemed to beat us by a few strokes," said Strong. "As we got near the end of the season though the guys sort of turned things around and played real well like I knew they could."

Everyone returns from last year's squad, but due to a broken hand Bill Dorough, honorable mention allstate in '85, will miss the entire sea-

"The loss of Bill will make it diffiof last year," said Strong. "It's definitely going to weaken our team. He was one of our stronger players."

The Chargers still return some pretty good depth including senior Kurt Goetzek, an all-division selection last year; senior Steve Dixon, also all-division last year; and senior Drew Placzek. Other varsity lettermen returning are juniors Jeff Peterson, Brian Harrick and Steve Anton

"Drew Placzek has shown some real good improvement," said Strong. "The other kids are shooting some pretty steady golf but not what I know they're capable of. Hopefully as the season goes on they're going to be shooting better and better scores."

The WLAA should be pretty competitive, according to Strong, with stiff competition coming from Northville, Walled Lake Western, Walled Lake Central and Plymouth Salem.

"My major goal is to do better at our dual meets. We want to have a better winning record," said Strong. "In tournaments our goal is always to finish high. Of course we shoot for first but if we can't get first we want to do well."

Weather slows partridge hunters

By Bill Parker staff writer

Wet, rainy weather kept many hunters out of the woods for the Sept. 15 opening of ruffed grouse (partridge) season. But the fearless few who braved the elements met with good results.

"The only drawback on opening day was the weather," said John Ur bain, forest gamebird specialist with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources. "The hunters that stayed in the woods were drenched, but generally they had very good flush rates. About eight birds an hour.'

A healthy crop of dogwood, thornapple and cherries is providing the grouse with a very good supply of fall food. In turn, this abundance of feed will lead to a strong, healthy crop of birds.

As in the past the best hunting will be throughout the heartlands of Region II. Hunters looking for a hot spot should consider thickets and dense cover in Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego, Montmorency and Grand Traverse counties. Kalkaska Crawford, Wexford and Missaukee counties should also offer strong harvests this year.

"THESE AREAS have produced pretty good flush rates in tha past few years and are expected to be plentiful again this fall," said Urbain.

The birds are currently in the "fall shuffle," which means young birds are beginning to stray from the parents and seek new territory. Urbain suggests hunters work stream borders and field edges. Aspen thickets, with pole-size trees two-four inches in diameter and up to 20-feet high, should also produce good flushes.

"We anticipate that we'll have an above average season," said Urbain "We should be in the good to very good range. We can't really call it excellent hunting but it should be a very good season. We look for this trend to continue over the next few years."

Urbain added that woodcock success has been spotty but attributes that to the wet weather. Ordinarily woodcock stay in the lowlands where there is moist soil. Due to all the rain, however, they seem to be spread out a little thinner than usual.

 Due to high winds on the lakes which made boat fishing almost impossible - and excessive amounts of rain, salmon activity was slow over the past week. As the water levels on the streams recede, however. action is expected to pick up and peak runs for kings are anticipated within a week.

TANCY GURWIN Productions has been known for dinner theater in the Detroit area, and Gurwin is again starring in the musical "Funny Girl," but there's not a meal in sight.

The playbill reads "Jewish Com-munity Center with Michael Goodman presents 'Funny Girl' starring Nancy Gurwin and Rob Patteri." The "with" means Goodman, a Southfield resident, has volunteered his time to help put on the produc-tions at the JCC.

tress," "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Guys and Dolls."

Goodman first met Gurwin when she was cast in the role of Adelaine in a production of "Guys and Dolls" at the original Aaron DeRoy Theatre, when the Jewish Community Center was in Detroit.

AFTER THAT, he worked with her on "Two Nights with Nancy" at the center, "I Do! I Do" with Phil Marcus Esser at the Botsford Inn in Farmington Hills and subsequent dinner theater productions.

Goodman, who had been active in theater at the old JCC, said he produced his first show there at the time "Fiddler on the Roof" first came out. "The JCC had done dramas and comedies but steered clear of musicals. They were afraid it wouldn't come out right. I said, 'I will produce "Fiddler.'"

"The first three nights were sold out. Then there was a bomb scare and the performances were canceled." The show went on later, however. "We came out with a profit," Goodman said.

The old DeRoy Theatre had 500 auditorium seats and was a real theater, he said. The present DeRoy Theatre, called a studio theater, seats 250 on chairs.

"I was spoiled," he said, explaining why he at first declined when the JCC's executive director asked him to bring some shows to the present

GOODMAN, WHO works in the machinery business, said he spent his leisure hours for the last 10 years or so just sitting at home in front of the television set. He had a desire to become busy again in the theater and decided to work with the JCC.

"At that time, Nancy was up to here with dinner theater," Goodman said. "She wanted to be more stabilized." He also said he was somewhat disenchanted with dinner theater, finding that one bad meal can ruin a good show.

Last week, just before the first weekend run of "Funny Girl" at the JCC, Goodman said three complete houses had been sold, with a few seats left for the other five shows.

She said, 'Funny Girl,' 'Diary of Anne Frank' and 'Fiddler on the Roof.

The play, "The Diary of Anne Frank," will be the second show this season. Third is the musical "Any-thing Goes," which has been substi-tuted for "Piddler" because the Birmingham Theatre is doing that show during its 1986-87 season.

WHEN ORGANIZNG the new venture, Goodman said Gurwin told him, "I want to do 'Funny Girl' I've done it in dinner theater."

"Not only can you not afford to pay these people, we want to open it to the public," is another thing Good-man told Gurwin.

Open auditions were held for all roles, and the performers include such veterans of community theater as Irene Jordan, playing Fannny Brice's mother, and Dike Dwelley, in the role of Flo Ziegfeld. Goodman said producer Gurwin is Nancy Gurwin Productions has staged a boisterous, lively rendering of "Funny Girl", the rousing musical developed on snippets of the private and public life of the Yiddish, female comedian, Fanny Brice.

This production is courageously scaled into the elongated, at times embarrassingly unmanageable, Aaron DeRoy Theatre at the Jewish Community Center, West Bloomfield.

"Funny Girl" depicts the stormy, indomitable Fanny Brice, who forcefully commands her destiny as she rises from obscurity into stardom, playing the lead in various Flo Zieg-feld's "Follies," during the early dec-ades of this century. Ziegfeld be-came the pace-setter for the full-blown musical form, cramme stagewise with beautiful showgirls.

With music by Julie Styne, lyrics by Bob Merrill and book by Isobel Lennart, "Funny Girl" becomes an entertaining, in-depth play co engaging music and dance, w vealing the pathos of Fanny's to ing relationship with her hush Nick Arnstein.

AMERICANS LOVE to say that everyone in Europe speaks English, but this is a North American fantasy. There is always someone along the way who speaks a few words, but a wise traveler must always be prepared to wander to and fro, with time to be lost on the way to a wonderful destination.

I took the Metro, marked with a big M on the street and on maps mounted on all the main squares of Paris. Ask anyone sipping coffee or wine under the famous red canopies of the brasseries of Paris and they will say: "straight ahead," "first left" or "to the right" and you can take your choice.

I was so busy admiring the subways that I got off one stop too late, came back and immediately got lost again looking for a bank to cash my travelers checks. There are lots of banks, but I am stingy enough to want the best rate, which you only get from a large bank, and stupid enough to forget that most banks close from noon to 2 p.m. for lunch.

I ran out of time and ended up at a "Change" office of the Society General and paid 39 francs commission on my $240 in travelers checks, which hurts.

Having lost my reputation on travelers checks, I began getting lost looking for the Musee Picasso and by the time I found it, asking along the way "Ou est Musee Picasso?" and getting replies such as "straight "turn left" and "first right," ahead.' I was exhausted and I hadn't seen even one museum, let along two. I did the sensible thing; I changed course and stopped for lunch. There is always a tiny restaurant like this one "just around the corner" so I went around the corner and there it was: Restaurant Pantagruell, a single stone-walled room seen through the glass window, every table busy lunch.

The side streets of Paris are teeming with many restaurants like the Panhagruell.

Every European restaurant has a menu posted outside the door, so I chose before I went in - Salade de comfit du Canard - a salad with pieces of hot duck in it, a dish I had tried before in Bordeaux. The best buy in these places is the "menu of the day," a fixed-price meal, but I with French men and women eating didn't want that much food.

BIGINAL

The salad was good. The quarterliter of white wine bolstered my soul. The tiny cup of French coffee put starch back in my spine. I enjoyed a conversation with French tourists at the next table, she spoke a few words of English and I a little French. Now I am ready for the Musee Picasso. I will never make it to the Pompideau.

Area Vietnam-era and disabled veterans should be aware of recent changes affecting the Veterans' Readjustment Appointments pro-gram. Financial planning: worthy investment

T ALL USED to be so simple. The typical breadwinner earned his money, bought a home, and tucked the rest into passbook savings. He borrowed for his children's education and he depended upon his employer and Social Security for retirement.

Today, despite both spouses working, many households are losing out to inflation, high interest rates, and unfathomable tax laws. Financial products proliferate the landscape and the cost of college education is rising as fast as the medical bills. Worse, retirement looms as a financial nightmare instead of the dream years

In short, saving and investing one's money has become more challenging than earning it.

To meet this fiscal challenge and our uncertain economic times, more and more people, most of them middleincome, are turning to the services of a financial planner. A financial planner is sort of a fiscal coach who analyzes your financial circumstances and develops a sophisticated game plan --a series of objective strategies and specific recommendations designed to help you achieve your short-range needs and long-range goals.

"IT IS ALWAYS beneficial to any family to have an outside, disinterested third-party advisor on financial matters," says Hubert L. Harris, executive director of the International As. sociation for Financial Planning (IAFP), based in Atlanta. "The financial planner is an objective generalist. rather than someone sellng you a product." If you do need specific advice for a single area such as stocks or finding a tax shelter, then pick the appropriate specialist. If you need an overview, a big picture, then you need a financial planner do for you? Alexandra Armstrong, CFP, president of the International Association for Financial Planning, says that any planner, whether he or she works independently or as part of a team for a large financial services organization should begin by taking a 'financial snapshot" of your estate.

What exactly will a trained planner

Through personal interviewing and a lengthly questionnaire, the planner examines your assets, liabilities, sources of income, real estate, net worth, cash flow, investments, family status. tax bracket - anything that will affect your financial future. Be candid in your response to the entire plan is based on your answers.

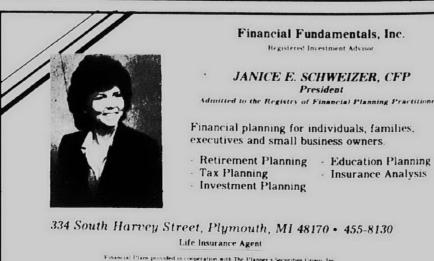

Next, the planner indentifies the career and financial goals you have. How do you want the family estate preserved? Does money need to be put aside for education? Retirement? A trip around the world? to what degree are you willing to take financial risks to achieve these goals?

WITH THESE GOALS in mind. the planner then analyzes the data to determine if there is too much or too little insurance, if there are tax-saving strategies and shelters that have been overlooked, if you should open an IRA or a Keogh plan, or what are the best alternatives for investment.

In preparing a confidential, comprehensive, long-term plan, the planner must take into account projected changes in the inflation rate and interest rates, changes in the tax laws and new investment opportunities. a financial planner, says Armstrong, always relates each piece to the big picture.

While qualified financial planners are generalists by training, most are more knowledgeable in some areas than others. Like a good coach, a planner should be willing and able to

By Steven M. Zimberg special writer

HROUGHOUT THE PAST few decades, there have been major tax changes nearly every year.

Well, it's about that time again. This year's revision promotes a very interesting twist. It successfully utilizes scare tactics on the tax-paying consumer.

The initial result being the consumer is now more willing to pay his fair share, especially if that share of taxes is reduced.

Interestingly enough, many of the major objectives have already been reached.

For example, as a result of the government's closer scrutiny of the subject "tax shelters," the term has rapidly evolved into tax advantaged investments, then investments with tax benefits, then to investments with economics, and now, strong cash-flow investments.

Since very few tax-subsidized investments currently offered through brokers generate strong cash flow in the early years, decisions to invest in light of the new tax rules have caused the once record high levels of tax subsidized investments to come to a critical standstill

SO IS THIS new law for better or for worse? The answer, I believe, is not simply the few thousand in taxes each taxpayer will save or lose. Rather, the benefit will be based upon how the total economy is affected.

For starters, we have seen that as a result of tax law uncertainty during the past six months, new real estate construction has actually come to a halt; a major cause of our present stagnant economy

With the decreased tax benefits and other governmental subsidies afforded to investors, there is less incentive for investors to absorb the extra risks associated with new real estate construction

Even if investors will be in a lower tax bracket and have more discretionary funds available to invest, they will seek investments which will generate more income and less tax benefits. Unfortunately, the early years of a new development will not generate the cash flow necessary to make it economically viable.

SINCE THERE WILL be less new developments, existing developments will command additional value. As a result, rental income will naturally increase, especially with tenants having more money at their disposal. Personally, I am strongly recommending that my clients participate in existing, income-producing real estate and not new construction.

Simply lowering taxes would further erode productivity by discouraging savings and investment. Without incentives to take securities like bonds, instead of riskier equity type investments having generally lower cash flow.

Likewise, with the main consumer shelter being the interest deduction for home mortgages, it would be a disaster if the average consumer couple refinanced their number one nest egg to the hilt just for the tax incentive. just for the deduction.

By next summer, when the tax-pay ing consumer has paid in all taxes and extra cash flow becomes available, they will spend their new money, which in turn, will stimulate our economy. This is great because with more spending is more income, and thus, more taxes.

This reduces the government deficit, and on and on. However, what concerns me most, is whether our economy can weather the effects of economic stagnation in the meanwhile.

Set goals before investing in stocks

Before you decide to join the ranks of the bulls or the bears, says the Michigan Association of CPAs, be sure you have a clear financial goal for the future. You should also understand stock market works may help. Wall Street is a narrow passage that cuts through New York City's financial district in Lower Manhattan. "The Street" is a nickname which obscures the presence of other stock markets which are scattered around the nation. The New York Stock Exchange and the American Stock Exchange are the

IN ADDITION, THERE are regional exchanges in Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles and Cincinnati. Finally, the National Association of Securities Dealer Automated Quotation System functions as an electronic auction place instantly available to plugged-in terminals. Investors purchase shares of companies on these markets and the companies translate investor money into plants and expanded operations.

Can you make money in the market? Yes. Studies show that small investors, freed from the constraints on institutional money managers who must make conservative stock picks, often outperform those institutional money managers.

Stock analysts say that the most common error made by small investors stems from a failure to set firm goals when they purchase stock. Before picking a stock, it is important to know what you want from it. Generally, you pay more for a blue chip stock - that is a stock of a larger company with a prolonged record of steady growth

But it is a less risky investment. and, because of that, its dividends, are unlikely to spurt ahead. Clue chips can provide a steady income from dividends, but remember, income tax will be due on all but the first $100 of these earnings

On the other hand, you may be looking for a more speculative stock on the chance that it will advance in price. The key is setting a goal, the price at which you would take your profit without getting greedy. In this type of investing, it's critical to understand how capital gains and losses would affect your taxes.

WHEN YOU KNOW what your goals are, you have a clearer idea of the type of stock to buy. Now, focus on picking the stock likely to achieve those objectives. If some hard information persuades you that an industry is expanding, you may want to look into other companies in that same indus-

One way to compare companies is by looking at their price/earnings ratios. The "P/E," which is listed in most newspapers with stock tables, tells you the price of a share of stock divided by earnings per share. For example, a stock selling for $50 a share a earning $5 per share is said to a P/E of 10. Stocks with lower P/Es generate higher long-term results. For research, write the company for its annual report which tells you something about its financial statements, write the America Institute of CPAs, 1211 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10036, for the booklet, "What Else Can Financial Statements Tell You?"

Credit cards add cash to your paycheck . . .

LLIONS OF Americans about a third of the population - are adding to their collections of Visas and MasterCards.

It's not a difficult thing to do in a society where plastic is as pervasive as fast food and TV.

The average cardholder has 7.2 credit cards, including bank cards, traveland-entertainment cards, gasoline cards and department store cards, according to Spencer Nilson, publisher of the Tilson Report, a newsletter about the credit card industry.

If, for some reason, a consumer wanted to limit himself to one credit card, a bank credit card such as Visa or MasterCard would be the best choice, according to an article in Money magazine. Both of these cards are accepted at nearly 4 million establishments worldwide.

HOWEVER, NOT all bank cards are equal. Some cost more per year to use than others, because of higher annual fees and higher interest rates. Each bank, savings and loan or credit union that issues a bank card decides what the annual fee will be, how much interest must be paid on unpaid balances and how high the credit limit will be. So the consumer would be wise to shop around for the best

SOME BANK CARD issuers also offer special programs. One such program gives a cardholder points that entitle him to discounts on merchandise ranging from luggage to TV sets. But in searching for a credit card. it's best to base a decision on the annual fee, annual interest and the credit

Some of the most useful cards, next to bank cards, are travel-and-entertainment cards, such as American Express, Carte Blanche or Diners Club. According to the Money article, these cards ordinarily are honored in enclaves - including high-priced restaurants and retailers - where a bank card is considered too declasse to be accepted. Such cards also are useful because they have no spending limit.

But there is a catch - all charges on travel-and-entertainment plates must be paid in full each month.

A bank credit card and an entertain ment card will enable a consumer to pay with plastic just about anywhere credit cards are accepted. If he does a lot of driving, however, he also should carry one or two gasoline credit cards, according to the article.

Choose gasoline cards based on which companies' stations are most prevalent in the area. There are no annual fees for gasoline cards. Some companies allow cardholders to stretch out payments on charges for expensive items like tires or major maintenance. Finance charges are similar to bankcard rates.

If a consumer tries to keep the number of credit cards to a minimum, the final card that may be considered a necessity is one from a national retailer such as Sears, Montgomery Ward or I.C. Penney

That way a bank-card credit line won't be tied up with a major purchase such as a refrigerator. In general there is no annual fee for a retail card. Finance charges range up to about 22 percent.

When making a credit-card transaction, be alert. Watch that the card isn't being used to imprint more than one transaction slip. Make certain that the card is returned to you and that the card returned is your own.

Practice fiscal fitness

If you answered "yes" to all the questions, you're in topnotch fiscal shape. If you answered "no" to a few or all of them, you're not alone.

It's easy to put off or ignore annual financial checkups when there's no crisis forcing action to be taken. Most of us would rather deal with life on a day. to-day basis rather than coping with the unknown future.

Yet, if you haven't taken the time or trouble to examine the fiscal shape you're in, you probably need a financial physical and a financial fitness program for a number of reasons. You could die too soon, creating a need for insurance or live too long, creating a need for supplementary income. If you die or become disabled, you'll need a plan for estate distribution or income. If you have children, you'll need to decide how to finance their education. Regardless of your situation, you need to get ahead financially to increase your net worth.

It's not enough to just develop a plan. You have to monitor it continuously to make sure it's achieving your objectives. That's where an annual fiscal physical is crucial.

How bonds can affect financial planning

HOULD YOU invest in corporate bonds or municipal bonds? Before you decide, says the Michigan Association of CPAs, you should understand how this kind of investment will affect your tax and total financial situation.

A bond is an I.O.U. from a corporation or municipality. Bonds are issued to raise capital to build plants, buy machinery and maintain a business. If you lend your money to a corporation by buying its bonds, the corporation promises to pay you back with inter-

Typically bonds are sold in $1,000 units. So, if you buy a $1,000 bond, and it pays a 10 percent annual interest, you receive $100 a year until the bond matures. Interest is usually paid out twice a year. At maturity, you receive the $1,000 original investment - also called the face value.

BONDS PROVIDE a relatively secure return on your investment. However, inflation and changes in interest rates can make your investment less attractive. Here's how: After investing in a $1,000 bond that pays 10 percent interest, the interest rates on other investments may rise. If new bonds are issued at a 15 percent interest rate -$150 a year - your $100 return is no longer as attractive, and the value of your bond decreases if you want to sell

Conversely, your bond may become more valuable if interest rates fall be low the 10 percent rate of return. The bond you paid $1,000 for will be worth more on this "secondary" market where bonds are traded - when interest rates decline.

The interplay between interest rates and bond prices is measured by the bond's current yield. To find the current yield, divide a bond's annual interest rate by its current price. For example, take a bond issued at $1,000 and paying 15 percent interest. Say interest rates rise, making the bond's 15 percent rate less attractive and forcing down the price of the bond should you want to sell it.

Then, if the bond's price slips to $950 on the secondary market, you would compute the current yield by dividing the annual $150 interest payment by the current market value of $950. In this case, the current yield would be 15.8 percent. As you can see. when prevailing interest rates rise, the current yields on existing bonds also rise

THE RATE OF RETURN on a bond is not the only factor to consider when you are looking for the right bond to buy. Bonds are rated by independent financial services, such as Standard and Poor's and Moody's. The rating indicates the bond issuer's capacity to pay investors interest and repay the principal when the bond matures. Generally, the higher rated bonds pay less in interest because the risk of default is lower. You will find that a bond rated AAA offers a yield two or three percentage points lower than those rated BBB, because AAA is less risky.

One type of bond, which has been issued with increasing frequency in recent years, is the municipal bond. These bonds are issued by state and local governments or their agencies not corporations. Interest on municipal bonds is exempt from state and local income taxes in the areas in which they are issued. Because these bonds are tax-exempt, a municipality can offer an interest rate that is lower than that of a corporate bond.

The lower interest rate may be offset by receiving interest income that is tax-free. Your effective yield depends on your tax bracket. If you are in the 44 percent tax bracket, the vield on a 10 percent tax-exempt in vestment is equivalent to a taxable yield of 17.86 percent. A rule of thumb is that those in the 40 percent or higher tax bracket should be able to benefit by investing in a municipal bond rather than a corporate bond.

Consult your tax adviser before making this sort of tax-advantaged investment

Retirement is one of the areas normally addressed in every financial plan. However, by the 40s and 50s, your retirement plan should be formalized. While changes may occur and revisions made, you will have a definite goal to work toward. The following steps should be taken to begin planning for financial security at retire-

1. Review your pension plan. Obtain income estimates under the various retirement options. Are your pension benefits "portable," when will you be vested and how will that affect your

2. Obtain estimates from Social Security for all family members. The Social Security Administration offers a summary of past earnings and a bene-

3. Analyze your current expenses and prepare estimates at your anticipated retirement age. Some items normally decrease (clothing, education) while others normally increase (vacation, utilities). These vary from family to family, but this piece of data is important since your plan must be constructed around your desired lifestyle. 4. After estimating your income and expenses, consider inflation and project its effect. Select a reasonable level for inflation using current 3-4 percent and past 10-12 percent as a basis. Monthly expenses today of $2,000 would equal $6,414 in 20 years at 6 percent inflation

5. What is the role of your savings and investment assets? Will they be needed initially or at a future point in retirement to generate income? What real rate of return are your assets earning and how will that affect your retirement security? Are they currently accumulating and building wealth or being depleted by taxes and inflation?

6. Taxes will undoubtedly be present even in retirement. Project your retirement income and estimate the effect of taxes, both federal and state, on it. Remember that Social Security is also taxed at certain income levels. Consider distributions from your retirement plans and attempt to minimize taxes on them.

7. Other issues in retirement planning include transferring assets to your heirs and survivors without depletion by estate and inheritance taxes. Legal counsel should be consulted to have proper documents prepared to achieve this end. Planning for your survivors is imperative. Prepare income and expense projections for this situation and determine if their needs will be met. If you died tomorrow, would the family lifestyle decline?

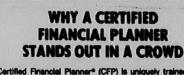

Building a comprehensive financial plan for retirement requires a team of advisers central to which are an attorney, a certified public accountant and a certified financial planner. Do you have a "patchwork" of advisers or is there coordination among them? Retirement planning requires long term strategies, not short term solutions. Will you be part of the "affluent" older population that is projected in some studies? Taking steps in your 30s, 40s and 50s can help make a future that is the best it can possibly be!

Windfall takes special planning

OMEDAY YOU'RE going to win the lottery or a big court case. You're going to inherit a huge chunk of money or have some other windfall. Then what?

Then you'll have to manage your money, because even if you "make it big," the odds are still against your keeping it. Here's why:

If you win $1 million in the lottery, you will be given $50,000 per year for 20 years (that's very different from getting $1 million in a lump sum), and Uncle Sam will probably take half, right off the top.

No problem. That still leaves you with $25,000 per year for 20 years, right? Wrong. Inflation will cut your purchasing power over time and your lottery checks in future years will be much less in today's dollars. Surprised?

This being the case, what might you do to keep your money?

1. Diversify your investments in savings accounts, government bonds, corporate bonds, stock, mutual funds, real estate, oil and gas, equipment leasing, investment annuities, hard assets, and so on - on the solid premise that risks in some areas can be offset by relative safety factors in others.

2. Keep a "contingency" fund in money market or savings accounts where you can get to it in a hurry (three to six months' salary is the standard rule of thumb)

3. Be sensible. Don't try to reduce taxes "at all costs." That could be a mistake. Watch out for sensational deals that offer huge write-offs. Look at the investment aspects first, then judge the merits of the tax savings. Remember, you want to keep your money

4. Plan for inflation. Let's assume it's 4 percent for the next few years. If your investments give you a satisfactory income today, they will have to double in value (or in rate of retune) to give you the same standard of living in eight years. Anything less, and it's "riches to rags.

5. Finally, remember that a windfall will leave you with a priceless advantage: a chunk of capital to invest now, that can start growing for you now. Don't spend it without a well-designed plan

If you are are looking for solid, professional financial planning advice, it is becoming in-creasingly difficult to distinguish the profes-sionals from the rest of the crowd calling them-selves financial planners. One sure way to find a professional is to look for the Certified Finan-cial Planner^{eq} (CFP^x) designation which stands for a high level of excellence in financial plan-ning
