Violin maker fiddles around

By Diane Gale staff writer

Steve Veresh describes the thrill as "chills running up and down your spine and your skin crawls."

That's how it feels when someone plays one of the 19 string instruments he has made.

The retired Ford Motor Co. clay modeler jokes that when he opens a case and takes out one of his beautifully handcrafted pieces, "people expect you to play." So he obliges them with songs like, "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star."

"Once I play they never ask

WHEN VERESH WAS a boy he took a few lessons in violin at the prodding of his father who played in a gypsy band downriver.

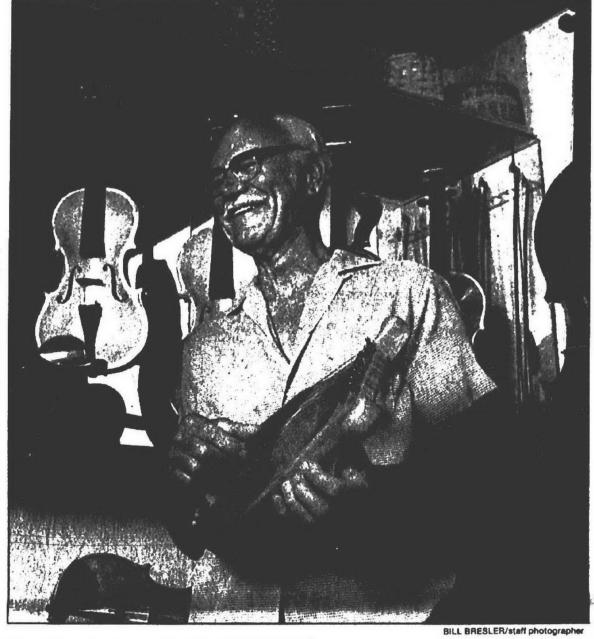

"I tried real hard to play and took lessons for a few years. But it didn't work. I played well enough to amuse or amaze myself."

As a member of the Arizona Violin Maker's International, Veresh has won several instrument competition awards.

He amazed 80-friends and family members last Sunday during a recital at the Mayflower Hotel featuring the Lafayette String Quartet playing only instructionts Veresh has crafted.

Library board will ask for tax increase

By Doug Funke staff writer

The issue has been focused.

The Plymouth District Library Board will request a tax increase this fall from 80 cents to $1.20 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation (half of market value) to pay for expanded hours and more books at Dunning-Hough.

The difference would amount to $20 a year on a house with a market value of $100,000. The tax increase would net the library additional revenue of about $237,000 annually - assuming no change in the tax base. The library is now closed on Fridays and Sundays. It has about 53,600 books.

Voters in the township and city of Plymouth will decide the issue Nov. 3. A simple majority will rule. Majorities aren't needed in each com-

A SURVEY of library services last May determined that patrons wanted the facility to be open Fridays and Sundays and a larger col-lection of titles, said Pat Thomas, li-brary director.

"If they really want the library open seven days a week and more books, they will support it. If not, we'll continue running it the way it is," said Carol Davis, president of the library board.

Cuts won't be made if the measure fails, she said.

The tax proposal was based on a five-year plan prepared by Thomas. It calls for buying 1,000 books annually in addition to regular replacements and keeping doors open 12 more hours per week, Davis said.

"I HOPE the community will support us in this. What we want to do is bring our library services to what communities around us are doing." (This past winter Canton Library added Sunday hours after residents voted additional tax support.)

"We don't want people to pay taxes that aren't necessary.'

Circulation is up 37 percent over ne past three years, Thomas said. he suggested a selling strategy.

"We said, 'Gee, only $20 per year on a $100,000 home, that's equivalent to buying one hard cover book like "Closing of the American Mind." You can put it and a lot of other volumes in the library and have it available seven days a week.'

Asbestos removal costing $200,000

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

It is costing Plymouth-Canton Community Schools about $200,000 to remove asbestos from Central Middle School - money the district probably won't recoup despite its participation in a federal class action lawsuit. Asbestos was sprayed on ceilings when Central was built in 1920. In recent years, asbestos - formerly used as a fire retardant and to insulate pipes and boilers - has been identified as a carcinogen. Still unresolved is a lawsuit filed in Pennsylvania in 1983 on behalf of all public school districts in the country. Named in the property damage lawsuit are manufacturers, processors and distributors of asbestos products.

Viewing asbestos removal at Central is like watching a spaceage movie. Workers are clothed in customized suits and breathe through specialized apparatus. Rooms are sealed off with tape, and entry is through a tunnel.

with the suit at this point," said Ray Hoedel, Plymouth-Canton associate superintendent for finance Even if the schools are successful, "damages would be so insignificant in terms of dollars that it wouldn't amount to much anyway."

Just property damages - not punitive or exemplary damages are being sought, said Richard Kroopnick, an attorney for the dis-

Most of the district's 19 school buildings have asbestos in their boiler rooms. That material is wrapped, however, and three inspections have shown it to pose no danger, said Hoedel.

Plymouth-Canton schools have sought federal grant money for asbestos removal but "in reviewing these potential grants, Plymouth-Canton is not eligible," said Hoedel.

Money for asbestos removal at Central was made available through a $13 million bond issue approved by voters last year. In all, $1.6 million is being spent to renovate Central Middle School.

Video games?

School football programs joining electronic age

staff writer

Football coaches in the Plymouth-Canton school district are hoping the expenditure of $6,548 will buy a few victories for their teams this

That's what it is costing Plymouth-Canton teams to join the video age.

The money - raised through car washes, candy sales and donations - was paid to Thalner Electronic Labs Inc. of Ann Arbor, the same firm that furnishes video equipment to the University of Michigan's Bo Schembechler and Co.

Because video is more cost-effective than 16millimeter film, "We'll be able to do video now at all levels -- junior varsity, freshman and varsity," said Plymouth Salem coach Tom Moshimer.

AFTER BUYING a camera, projection unit and two VCRs, "all it will cost is $5 a tape as opposed to $200 for one game film," he said.

A district committee that looked at U-M's package is convinced that it "significantly improves team performance. It is specifically designed for recording and editing the movements of individual players.

"We will use it extensively in practice. A picture is worth a thousand words," said Moshimer. "If a player sees what he's doing, it's a heck of a lot easier to correct. Instead of just talking about it, they can visualize what he's doing wrong whereas if you just tell them, they might not believe you.'

While a lot of coaches are using video, most don't use it for practice, he added.

Buying video equipment will cost about as much as it does to buy a three-year supply of game film, Moshimer said.

'The decision to go to video was made because of cost, and advancements made in video technology," said Moshimer. "You get more for your

THE VIDEO equipment will be "right up there with the best of them" - of industrial quality with color capability and almost as much clarity as a regular television screen, Moshimer said.

Plymouth-Canton basketball and track teams already use video. Because their practices and events can be shot up close and indoors, less expensive equipment can be used.

Included in the football video price tag is training and a warranty - training for camera people and coaches, and a warranty on equipment (not team improvement, unfortunately).

A candy sale at Plymouth Salem the first two weeks of school should help raise the last of the needed $6,548, said Moshimer. The equipment should arrive by Aug. 1.

"It'll pay for itself real quick as far as benefits to players and coaches," said Moshimer. "We'll be able to duplicate tapes for players who want to buy them, and to split them into offensive and defensive portions for our own use as coaches."

James Garber of 35th District Court in Plymouth has played a minor role in the on-going drama relating to the July 9 slaying of three Inkster police officers.

Because it was his turn for weekend arraignment rotation in outcounty court, Garber last Saturday formally arraigned a 69-year-old woman and two of her sons on a charge of killing the officers.

"It just happened to be my day in the barrel," Garber said.

District judges in Wayne County work a Saturday, Sunday or holiday on a rotating basis to charge and set bond for defendants processed for crimes after normal court business

Garber said he generally sits in out-county court three or four times

While this case will be memorable, he said, arraignments are fairly simple and straightforward.

Essentially what my job is is to inform them what their rights are . . . then set bond. Under the circumstances I was aware of . . . they weren't entitled to bond and so I remanded them to jail." Garber who flew to Reno, Nev., for a judicial conference the day after the arraignment, said the shooting incident was still big news in the national media. Garber said he expects the defendants will be able to get a fair trial in Wayne County in spite of the publicity surrounding the case.

"I think, clearly, by the time this gets to trial, you'll find 12 jurors who will be able to decide fairly," he

The defendants next face a preliminary exam in which the prosecu-tion must prove to a judge that a crime was committed and probable cause that the accused committed the crime.

That is expected to take place in 22nd District Court, Inkster.

A trial, itself, would take place in Detroit Recorders Court — or elsewhere in Michigan if the defendants obtain a change in vente.

$145,000 award is a record

A $145,000 jury award last week was the largest monetary award ever given in 35th District Judge John MacDonald's courtroom.

The award was surprising to some because the case was remanded to district court after a Wayne Circuit Court mediation team deemed the claim was not worth more than $10,000. Wayne Circuit Court handles only cases valued at $10,000 or more.

"To me, it was a gross miscarriage of justice," said Fred W. Gerow, the defendant's attorney.

At 960,000 square feet, it is Canton's largest structure.

The distribution operation and related offices will continue to operate at the Canton location.

Only the central regional offices - in some 20,000 square feet in the complex - will be discontinued Feb. 1, 1988. However, that space will be used for other K mart purposes, said Robert Stevenson, vice president of government and public relations.

STEVENSON SAID the nation's second largest retailer will try to "replace" the 140 some workers who now work out of the central regional office in other K mart locations.

"Duties will change and will continue to change and people will have to be re-educated," Stevenson said. The scanners give K mart the ability to "know what's selling and to act on that information" to make merchandising decisions.

"We can be buying merchandise more at the headquarters than at the stores," Stevenson said. "We won't need as many regional offices."

By the end of the year, about 700 K mart stores nationally will have the check-out scanner system installed, Stevenson said. The scanners

CURRENTLY THERE are six regional offices in the country.

This one seemed more appropriate to close because the others are more geographically located," Stevenson said. "There are no plans to close any other regional office."

75 traffic tickets issued to cruisers

Cruising-related tickets last weekend in downtown Plymouth numbered about 75 - not including parking violations - according to Paul Sincock, assistant to the city manager

That was up 10 from the previous weekend's total that included the Fourth of July, but down from the nearly 100 tickets issued June 26-28 and June 19-21.

State expects Alzheimer's cases to triple

Early diagnosis gives people the time to select the proper doctor and nursing care facility as well as to make the other difficult decisions that need to be made, said Marjorie Fuller, director of education and training for the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association, Southfield.

By Wayne Peal staff writer

An explosion in the number of Alzheimer's disease patients is expected in Michigan in the 1990s and beyond, according to a recent state task force report.

And local specialists agree more should be done to treat victims of Alzheimer's disease and similar debilitating brain disorders.

"I'm really excited about some of the task force's recommendations There's just not enough being done right now," said Marjorie Fuller, education and training director for the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association, Southfield.

THE NUMBER of statewide patients is expected to grow steadily. task force members said. The figure should reach 118,000 by 1990 and triple to 379,000 by 2030, according to task force projections.

"The problems presented by dementing diseases are great and will increase in years to come as people over age 65 constitute a greater percentage of the Michigan population," the report concluded. However, much can be done to improve the situation for both affected persons and their families.

Task force recommendations in-· Establish long term-care insurance policies.

"I've had a man call me literally with a noose around his neck because he thought his own death benefits would provide better care for his wife, who was affected with Alzheimer's Disease," Fuller said. "I don't think people are aware of the amount of depression in care givers

· Organizing a network of diagnostic centers

This sounds like a good recommendation because Alzheimer's disease is especially difficult to diagnose," said Randy Block, a health specialist at Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency "The only way Alzheimer's disease can be identified is by eliminating everything else. It's not like heart disease where a test or two can tell you if you have it or not" (See related article for a discussion on Alzheimer's and other related disorders

· Subsidizing autopsies and requiring of Alzheimer's on death certificates, while creating an information clearing house to determine whether the disease is inherited

"Though there are strong indicators whether a patient has Alzheimer's disease it's the autopsy that gives the final proof." Fuller

OTHER RECOMMENDATIONS

· Rewriting respite care laws to allow more patients to be cared for at day care centers. Amending legal guardian laws to allow care givers to make decisions for patients. · Allowing the Medicaid system to reimburse children or other adult guardians who take care of patients. Governmental officials believe the state would be required to pay for any new services it orders

"I think the Headlee Amendment clearly indicates the state would have to pay." Deputy Wayne County Executive Michael Duggan said We certainly wouldn't volunteer for anything this year

Wayne County is currently grappling with the state over $60 million in health care debts. Neither Wayne nor Oakland counties directly administer Alzheimer's disease programs. "Our programs wouldn't exclude anyone with Alzheimer's disease but they're not specially geared to them, either," Dr. Donald Lawrenchuk, medical director of the Wayne County Health Department, said. Added Frank Rembisz, director of the Wayne County Office on Aging: The only thing the county does is to try to find space in our adult day care program for people who have loved ones with Alzheimer's and who lack the financial resources to place them elsewhere" Four people currently receive care through the county program, he added In Oakland County, Alzheimer's disease care "hasn't really been an issue." according to Dr. Carolyn Bird, chief of medical services.

A local power company, however. has begun assisting social service agencies in identifying potential Alzheimer's disease patients

We tell our field workers to be on the lookout for possible signs, especially with regard to older residents." Consumers Power spokesman Ronald Lockhart said. "Things like unkempt lawns, or piled-up newspapers could be a sign.

The company's one-month-old Caregiver" program has already made 40 referrals to the Oakland and Western Wayne offices on aging.

Alzheimer's disease is a progressive, incurable brain disorder devastating for its victims and their

But not every senior citizen is doomed to suffer Alzheimer's dis-

"It is not a normal part of the aging process at all," said Marjorie Fuller, director of education and Araining for the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association,

Nor do symptoms automatically indicate the disease is present.

THE OVERWHELMING majority of senior Americans are lucid and will stay that way, health profession-

Nonetheless, one in 11 Americans over age 65 is afflicted with Alzheimer's disease, according to ADRDA statistics. Over 2.5 million adults are affected nationwide. An estimated 60,000 live in the tri-county area.

Though Alzheimer's disease victims suffer forgetfulness and disorientation, at least a dozen other disorders - some treatable - can produce the same symptoms.

"Confusion itself isn't necessarily a signal of Alzheimer's disease," said Randy Block, a health specialist with Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency "It could just as easily be a sign of overmedication or a hormonal imbalance."

If that's the case, the patient is

Other related diseases include pernicious anemia, depression, alcohol or drug abuse, brain tumors, chronic meningitis, severe head injuries, or a variety of other illnesses including multi-infarct dementia, Creutzfeldt-Jakob disease, Pick's disease or Parkinson's disease.

EARLY DIAGNOSIS is encour-

"I stress this to people," Fuller said. "Many related disorders are treatable. And even if it turns out to be Alzheimer's disease, early diagnosis gives people the time to select the proper doctor and nursing care facility as well as to make the other difficult decisions that need to be made.

Potential patients should be examined by family doctors, referred to psychological or neurological specialists then referred to a social service agency, Fuller said.

Alzheimer's disease results in more than 100,000 deaths a year, placing fourth behind heart disease, cancer and strokes as an adult killer, according to ADRDA statistics. But it can be a lingering death.

"Some patients die within a year. others can live as long as 20 years, Fuller said.

While most victims are over 65, health officials say the disease also strikes those in their 40s and 50s.

Medical science has yet to determine the cause of Alzheimer's disease though researchers believe it could be cause by a virus, changes in the body's immune system, reduction in new protein in the brain, damage to the brain's transmission system, environmental factors, genetics or a combination of these factors. In its initial stage, Alzheimer's disease produces forgetfulness and disorientation, as well as feelings of depression and terror. Judgment is affected, as is the ability to handle routine household tasks. Victims often appear sluggish; spontaneous behavior and self-initiative diminishes.

In its second stage, these symptoms intensify and can be accompanied by wandering, muscle twitches and seizures. Sleep can be interrupted by agitation and restlessness. Victims often lose the ability to think abstractly or define sensory percep-

In its final stage, victims lose the ability to recognize their loved ones, or themselves in a mirror and are disoriented and entirely dependent upon others. Vicitms may also lose their ability to speak, become emaciated and develop the need to touch everything and put objects into their mouths. Victims also lose the ability to control bodily functions.

Treasurers unite, stop budget crisis

staff writer

A united effort by county treasurers apparently headed off a $5 billion financial crisis for Michigan communities.

County treasurers succeeded in keeping alive a program that made delinquent taxes a "no loss" proposition for municipal governments.

The program, which involved use of tax-free notes, had been suspended in late March while the Internal Revenue Service investigated its tax exempt status under the new federal tax code.

"It was tax-exempt under the old tax law, but its status was questioned under the Tax Reform Act of 1986," said Wayne County Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz, president of the Michigan Association of County Treasurers.

Though the program, delinquent taxes are turned over to county treasurers for collection each March 1. Treasurers, in turn, issue general obligation limited tax notes. Revenue from note sales is given to the communities, overcoming their losses. Delinquent taxes, when collected, are used to retire the notes.

"The program is unique to Michigan," Wojtowicz said.

The IRS ruled the notes could continue to be issued tax-free until Sept.

"There would have been a $5 billion cash flow crisis in Michigan without that ruling," Wojtowicz said. Without that ruling Wojtowicz said treasurers will negotiate for an extension for 1988-89. Congressional approval would be necessary to carry the program further, he added.

"We're grateful the IRS gave us the window it did, but ultimately, there's going to have to be a change in the tax law," he said.

Dial-a-ride fares neighbors on cable are still up in air

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

The fate of the Nankin Transit Commission - and the fares it will charge local residents for its dial-aride service if it remains in business are still up in the air following a public hearing on the proposed fare increase Tuesday afternoon.

The hearing at Westland's Friendship Center drew about 300 senior citizens and disabled residents from five area communities served by the Commission board members from Westland, Garden City, Canton Township and Wayne were there and officials from the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority attended as well.

The NTC also serves Inkster.

The transit group is proposing to double its one-way fares from 75 cents to $1.50 beginning Aug. 1 because of cutbacks in federal and state funding.

A final decision on the increase will be made "in about a week or so," Charles Hunter, NTC executive director, said Tuesday.

The latest blow for the mini-bus service came this spring when SEM-TA, which provided 88 percent of NTC's $856,300 budget in 1987, announced it was cutting its 1988 contribution by nearly $200,000.

HUNTER said last month that even if the fare increase is approved, NTC service will grind to a halt in March unless an alternate source of money can be found.

"During the next eight months the commission will study and review all possible methods to continue the small bus service," Hunter said before the hearing began.

Many residents who spoke at the hearing said they didn't mind a fare increase if that would keep the service going, but that doubling the fare was asking too much.

"I sometimes go three different places in one day," said Evelyn David, a resident of Garden City's Garden Tower apartment complex. "Nine dollars is just too much to pay for bus transportation.'

Others echoed statements by commission board members that SEM-TA spends too much money in Detroit and not enough in the suburbs.

But Jim Aho, an executive assistant with SEMTA, said that while that concern was understandable, it wasn't a realistic one.

WE ARE a regional transportation authority that includes the city of Detroit," Aho said. "While we do our best to provide transportation to senior citizens in the suburbs, we also have thousands of seniors in the city to look after as well."

If the fare increase is approved, the NTC has promised to continue running its 12 mini buses on their current routes until March.

The system serves 425 riders daily and provides transportation for about 750,000 riders since it was introduced in 1976.

By Sue Mason staff writer

Businessman Ron Emery of Canton knows he could refurbish a battleship or destroyer, but he just can't find one to fit in his service center. Emery has been making a name for himself over the last few years working with unusual and often times large vehicles. He started his business three years ago and mostly through word of mouth it has gone "from zero to a half million dollar business.' Emery, 49, credits his success to his trust in God, and his strong religious background is reflected in how he treats his customers.

"We get repeat business because we think we take exceptionally good care of our customers," he explained.

"Sometimes we hold on to a vehicle longer than we should, but we want it to go out right and have the customer happy.

"My theory is that if you do one bad job, you lose five customers."

Located on Beechwood, north Ford and west of Venoy, the center not only handles auto repairs, but travel trailers, motor homes, semitractors and trailers and construction equipment.

And it is doing the unusual that Emery is getting a good business reputation.

In 1985 he restored eight Domino Pizza three-wheeled cars, one of which is now on display in a museum in Auburn, Ind., and two starting gates for the Ladbroke Detroit Race Course, Livonia.

LAST YEAR his crew of 11 men worked on fire trucks for Detroit Metropolitan Airport and the city of Westland as well as cranes so large that the booms, which could reach 100 feet from the cab, had to be removed before they could be put in the garage for repairs.

Emery believes that it's the center's sandblasting facilities that attracts the unusual. But it also might be because of his philosophy that it's "a challenge."

'We've got the feeling that if anything comes through the door, we can fix it," Emery said. "We run the business with high standards and

Since opening the business, Emery has added a 50- by 60-foot addition specifically to handle tractor-trailers and heavy equipment. It has, he said, increased business.

The shop is currently installing roll-up doors of Spartan trailers. The first trailer took a month to revamp,

Pro-choice ballot drive begins

Pro-choice advocates are on the offensive in Michigan

For the first time since the Hyde Amendment cut off federal abortion money, those who favor legal abortions will go beyond defending the law of the land and take the initiative to reverse the recent ban by the state legislature against Medicaid abortions for poor women

"Michigan is going to be a bell weather state against the attempt to ban abortion for poor women and everyone," said Marian McCracken, a Farmington resident and leader of the Oakland County National Organization for Women (NOW).

On Monday, the People's Campaign for Choice, part of a 41-organization coalition for repeal of the ban on state-paid abortions for poor women, launched a drive to collect the valid 119,829 signatures necessary to place the issue on the ballot in what state representative earlier called "round one" of the fight.

NOW (National Organization for Women) will have a kick-off at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Southfield Civic

"This will be the first time prochoice forces have initiated a referendum since the Hyde Amendement," said McCracken. "We always worked to defend the law (since abortion was declared the law of the land) and now will fight to defeat an ing "We will tell people who can legally sign, answer questions and go after 200,000 signatures, our goal."

Citing Michigan as a progressive, labor state, she predicted that support will be forthcoming from all over the state and the country as

"I believe the Right to Life people are in trouble," she said. "People may not want to pay for welfare abortions, but they feel differently when a daughter or elderly aunt is raped.

But that doesn't change what Right to Life was able to accomplish in its petition drive, according to its president Barbara Listing. If prochoice petitions place the issue on the ballot, "both sides will be engaged in a gigantic battle to educate the public," she said.

Listing added that public polls show opposition to abortion if tax dollars are used to pay for it, but McCracken sees other changes on "A new dimension has been added with concern over AIDS. The Surgeon General, Dr. Koop, is saying now that mothers and babies would die if AIDS is present and abortion should be performed in such cases."

McCRACKEN also believes that the coalition of groups taking a prochoice stand is already beginning to reach out to others. "We have the support of a pro-choice governor and many legislators. Others have been amazed at how organized we are. 'The state of Michigan will see a lot of networking. We know each ANNETTA MILLER, member of the State Board of Education from Huntington Woods, said "it's in the best interest of all of us that the petition drive will put the right to have an abortion and have it paid for before the voters.

"The fervor of those in opposition is distressing. A vital part of this country's freedom is that we can have our own faith and our own beliefs. I'm surprised that the Right to Life people haven't recognized that this is about religion. That is what it is all about Right to Life's Listing called that comment "religion baiting, something we have not seen for a long time." She said that her group is nonprofit and non-sectarian, "concerned about the biological issue of when' life starts.

"We've never seen this as a religious issue; they're attempting to raise a bias.

have approved 17 bans on abortion spending, usually by adding a line in the annual budget limiting the expenditure to $1 Gov James J Blanchard, a Democrat, and his predecessor William Milliken, Republican, vetoed each of the abortion spending bans. Anti-abortion forces were never able to get enough votes to override those vetos

The new law bans tax-paid abortions for the poor unless a life is in danger, and was accomplished when the Right to Life forces launched a petition drive, which proved to be a successful strategy

Should the petition drive by the pro-choice coalition succeed, voters will decide if state paid abortions are appropriate in a 1988 election Meanwhile, if enough signatures are gathered, the law that now bans abortions for poor women on Medicaid would be automatically suspend-

In 1986, 18,600 Medicaid abortions were paid for in Michigan at a cost of $5 8 million. Statistics on the number of state paid abortions for government employees and their families are not available. These were not limited by the new law

TO DELAY REFLAGGING -The House adopted, 222 for and 184 against, an amendment to the Coast Guard authorization bill (above) delaying until Sept. 30 the start of American reflagging of Kuwaiti oil tankers in the Persian Gulf.

This was only symbolic because the legislation stood no chance of becoming law before July 16, the date by which President Reagan wants to begin the policy.

By contrast, the amendment to outlaw the plan (see previous vote) had teeth because it prohibited the Coast Guard from issuing American flag certificates to the tankers during a 16-month period beginning June 1, 1987.

Limit AIDS testing: medical school dean

AIDS testing should only be required for people who donate blood or body organs, the dean of the University of Michigan School of Public

"The costs and risks of mandatory screening programs greatly outweigh the probably benefits in all contexts except blood and organ do-nation," Dr. June Osboru said.

Public education is the most effective weapon in fighting the spread of AIDS. National and local programs should advise how the disease is transmitted and how it can be avoided, Osborn said.

State legislators have proposed testing marriage license applicants, prison inmates and pregnant women, among others.

Osborn, however, said screening programs would be expensive and couldn't guarantee results.

Clean water money sought

The Areawide Water Quality Board is calling for reinstatement of funding for three programs so that local governments can inspect hazardous wastes handling and storage

AWQB, a 27-member body, is the regional forum for resolving water quality problems under the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments water quality management

Funding for the Groundwater Compliance program, the Act 64 inspection program, and Non Point Source Planning grants have been reduced or eliminated under the current state budget.

"AWQB joins with other environmental organizations and concerned citizens in calling upon the state of Michigan to fund these programs,' said James Murray, AWQB chairperson and Washtenaw County Drain Commissioner.

LAST MARCH, AWQB and the East Michigan Environmental Action Council issued a report, "Michigan's Environmental Protection System: Assessment and Recommendation for Change."

The report found that there is insufficient inspection and monitoring resulting in a serious lack of compliance with environmental and natural resources protection laws, according to Murray.

"Reductions or eliminations of funding for current inspection programs would only compound inadvertent discharges such as spills, or chemical tank failures, as well as illegal discharges such as dumping," Murray said.

The report found that while Michigan's laws are generally good, there are serious environmental problems due to lack of inspection and monitoring.

The Groundwater Compliance program involves Michigan's local health departments in the inspection of chemical handling and storage practices by businesses. The program generally has resulted in voluntary compliance by the inspected facilities once problems have been

THE INSPECTION program under Act 64 allows certified local government staff members to conduct inspections of small quantity hazardous waste generators. In 1986, 600 facilities were inspected in southeastern Michigan by local agency staff funded by this special state line item appropriation.
"Both programs are important for Michigan because they provide cost effective inspections," Murray said. 'Many times these inspections are not provided by the state or federal agencies because there are staffing shortages or higher priorities.

"We believe it is vital that these inspections continue because they identify potentially serious pollution problems while they can be correct-

AWQB also supports the Non Point Source Water Quality grants that have been recommended for elimination in the budget. These grants provide funding for the development of a watershed strategy for non point pollution.

Non point pollution is a heavy contributor of toxic substances and a major cause of water quality problems in Michigan. "All three of these programs will help to fill the gaping hole in Michigan's natural resources protection program and will allow local governments to be active partners in efforts to improve water quality,"

Murray said. We urge the state of Michigan to reinstate this funding.

The costs for screening programs are enormous and recurring, for no single 'snap shot' will remain valid for long if the virus continues to spread through public ignorance," Osborn said in a recent appearance before the U.S. House subcommittee on health and the environment.

Many AIDS victims may deliberately avoid testing, Osborn warned.

"Risk of public disclosure is so frightening that persons whose behavior puts them at risk have avoided being tested. . . if any uncertainty about confidentiality exists," she

Premarital screening would be relatively inexpensive, Osborn said, but wouldn't produce desired results. The persons whose behavior puts them at highest risk are among the least marriage-prone group I can think of." she said.

AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome) is a fatal virus which destroys the body's immune system leaving victims vulnerable to deadly multiple sex partners and intravenous drug users run the highest risk of infection, though health officials say risk decreases for those who practice safe sex and avoid used hypodermic needles

Infection among prison inmates hasn't been a problem, Osborn said, adding she believed disclosure of test results could adversely affect their living conditions.

AIDS testing shouldn't be mandatory for pregnant women, Osborn said, because there is only a 50/50 chance an infected woman would pass the disease to her child.

"The temptation to establish mandatory screening programs in selected populations seems to be almost as epidemic as is the virus of AIDS," Osborn said. "in evaluating such proposals it is wise to keep an eye on what we are trying to accomplish we are all interested in aborting the epidemic at the earliest moment and by the most effective means."

Regional solution THINCHER failed; what now?

Emory Daniels editor / 459-2700 Susan Rosiek assistant managing editor

HE FLOODING that occurs almost with each summer storm is evidence that the storm drainage system in western Wayne County is not adequate to drain

That statement is so obvious it is almost superfluous.

Yet there is no hope that drainage systems will be made adequate anytime

Plans for SuperSewer and Son of SuperSewer included construction of storm drains as well as building a sanitary system from north to south. But plans don't prevent flooding - sewers

After two decades, the Canton, Plymouth, Northville area still is left without adequate sanitary sewers to accommodate growth and without adequate storm drains to accommodate storms.

The finger of blame could be pointed at the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources or the Wayne County Department of Public Services. Take your pick; it doesn't matter.

The sadder fact is that none of these can be relied upon to extend a helping hand to solve either the storm drainage or sanitary sewer problems Canton and Plymouth townships face. In fact, all can be relied upon to serve as stumbling blocks to finding a solution.

The EPA, DNR and Wayne County DPS are so absorbed by the Super-Sewer/Son of SuperSewer/Grandson of SuperSewer cycle that they are blinded to any other solution.

THE DNR AND Wayne County DPW in particular stubbornly stood by in a see-no, speak-no, hear-no evil stance and refused to compromise so an equitable distribution of cost could be reached on Son of SuperSewer.

The goal no longer became solving sanitary sewer and storm drainage problems. Instead we saw a power play between agencies on who knew best and who had the ultimate authority to decide what would be done, who would pay and how much. The plug was pulled and the baby drowned.

Plymouth, Canton and Northville townships are possessed with this twisted idea that problems faced by local will accomplish the same end.

residents are the proper concern for local government. The townships were faced with the state threatening curbs, if not outright moratoriums on growth, and continued flooding of basements.

Instead of waiting for Grandson of SuperSewer, which is on the state and county's agenda, the three townships sought a local solution. This amounts to heresy because sewers are considered the proper domain of state and county governments, not townships who are supposed to be captive clients of Big

Anyhow, the townships negotiated an agreement with the Ypsilanti sewer authority which promises to provide a longtime sewer solution. Instead of pushing this venture, the state seems bent on refusing to give its blessing with hopes that the agreement will not come

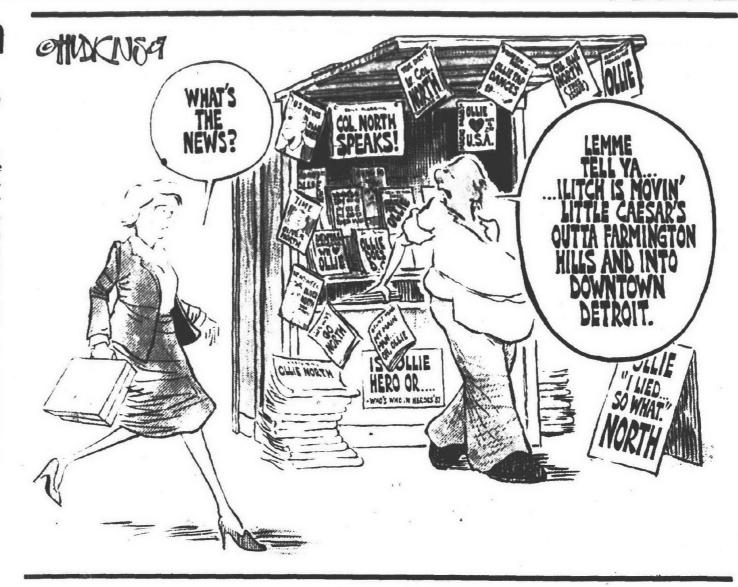

WE UNDERSTAND the state and county would prefer a regional solution. Storm run-off and human waste disposal are not confined by geography.

But the DNR exists to protect the environment of the state and, given the history of SuperSewer, should be more aggressive in advancing the liaison with Ypsilanti which could clean up three heavily-populated communities in western Wayne.

We have not experienced three "acts of God" in two weeks. We have experienced infra-structure stress from the non-acts of man. The DNR and Wayne County DPS needs to abandoned its political stance and commit itself to flood prevention and environmental protec-

The total solution, if one exists, probably never will be implemented. The DNR should push to implement the agreement with Ypsilanti to take care of Canton, Plymouth and Northville area and then group other municipalities into consortiums to achieve a string of local solutions.

Let's do it a small step at a time; not in one giant leap. Once that string of local links is completed the desired regional chain will be achieved. It truly would take an act of God to build SuperSewer, but man can design a series of local solutions which put together

This one I found in a downtown Lansing shop one lucky day when the Legislature shut down early. It's a 1985 print job by Avery Color Studios of Au Train. You've seen Avery cards, placemats and books in all the northern Michigan tourist spots on your own vacation.

SCHOOLCRAFT IS a giant in Michigan history whose name is borne by a Wayne County mile road, the community college, a village in Kalamazoo County and an entire Upper Peninsula

A New York state native, he came west when the family glass business turned sour (darned imports).

A scientist and scholar, Schoolcraft landed a job with Territorial Gov. Lewis Cass chronicling the 1820 canoe expedition of the Great Lakes. That's good reading, too, if you can find it.

Schoolcraft married a half-Indian woman and spent some years at the Sault as the government's Indian agent. Unlike those who considered redskins as shrieking heathen savages, Schoolcraft respected the people and collected their literature

LONGFELLOW wrote his poetic version with Schoolcraft's approval, and the new edition's introduction tells us:

Tim Richard

"Some reviewers, including Edgar Allen Poe, then suffering a particularly vitriolic jealous streak, leveled charges. of plagiarism against Longfellow. They accused him of stealing Hiawatha's plot and poetic measure from the ancient Finnish epic, 'The Kalevala.'" Schoolcraft helped exonerate the poet.

THE POETIC version by Longfellow made some changes from Schoolcraft's original.

The poet uses the Iroquois name Hiawatha rather than the Chippewa name Manabozho. Nokomis, the grandmother from outer space, plays a bigger role in the rewrite. The poet makes Hiawatha a humanoid; in Schoolcraft's original he's a manito - more like Prometheus than Geronimo.

Well, that's the volume I'm planning to take along to the land where the pines say "minne-wawa," the waters say "mudway-aushka," and Wawa the wild goose flies across the sky.

Oh, I'll spend plenty of hours in pursuit of Maskenozha the pike, Sahwa the yellow perch and Ugudwash the sunfish.

If my clownish elkhound doesn't tangle with Kagh the porcupine and disrupt things, I plan to spend hours on the shore of Gitchee Gumee (no need to translate that one) with my book, listening to Kayoshk the seagull, and maybe even spotting Keneu the eagle in

Woman's death proves that AIDS is threat to all

OLLIE NORTH AND his peculiar brand of soap opera drama have dominated the front pages across the nation, pushing into oblivion the countless stories about AIDS. That's a mistake. AIDS is far too serious a threat to be brushed off with vesterday's headlines

It's easy for middle- and upper-class America to cluck softly at the latest horror story, nod at the latest statistical projection and then brush off the danger because, after all, we don't do drugs with needles and we don't do homosexu-

And it's true that the large portion of confirmed AIDS cases can be traced to intravenous drug users who share needles and to gay men, particularly those practicing unsafe sex with multiple partners.

But if you draw some sense of security from that, you are whistling in the

A FEW WEEKS ago, Rochester Eccentric reporter Bill Kole wrote a sensitive but still frig cening story of a Rochester Hills woman who died a year after learning she had AIDS. At 52, she was described as a gracious person, a devoted mother and a lover of the arts.

She also had a routine blood transfusion in Houston four years ago that is thought to have contained the deadly vi-

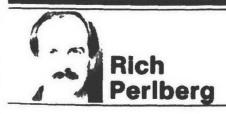

Her family had to watch her die. "Her temperature would be normal," said a brother. "Then it would rise to 105 in a half-hour, and she'd hallucinate." It wasn't easy, but the family faced the fatal prognosis from the start. "We learned to live with it," said the brother.

The ordeal was not made easier by the family's efforts to conceal the woman's disease. They feared ignorance and rumors. The woman's daughter said she was afraid that people would shun her if they knew her mother had AIDS.

Equally difficult was the cost. This year alone the family spent $20,000 caring for her. It could have been higher. Round-the-clock nursing care at home would have cost $950 a day. The family instead hired one nurse and traded shifts with her.

THESE STORIES will become more frequent, especially if we take an ostrich approach.

There is some hope that education works. A poll reported on Cable News Network last weekend showed 75 percent of gay men in Illinois are changing their sexual lifestyles because of AIDS.

Closer to home, the Southfield schools are among those who realize that lives are on the line. The district has adopted a kindergarten-through-twelfth-grade sex education program specifically designed to teach students about the threat of AIDS.

It's too easy for people to line up on idealogical sides. If some promote testing, others say it's gay-bashing. If some promote compassion, others blame the disease on perverse lifestyles. Neither position does very much to help the 52-year-old woman from Rochester Hills. So let's listen to her fami-

Parking tax tolerable of the property of the parking tax tolerable of tax tolerable but ban curbside toll

THIS PROPOSITION isn't listed on any odds board at Las Vegas. If it were, you could get a big price on whether any member of your city government recognizes the name Carl C. Magee or knows which municipal toy he invented. Today happens to be the 52nd anniversary of its public unveiling.

Now, I'm not one who dotes on keeping an audience in suspense so I'll tell you right off who he was and what he Carl C. Magee was an honorable Oklahoma City newspaperman, but he couldn't leave well enough alone. After joining the chamber of commerce traffic committee, he invented what many of us consider the most contemptuous device ever known to American motorists - the parking meter.

His first one was installed July 16, 1935, on the south curb in the 100 block in restricting all-day parking, especialof Park Avenue in Oklahoma City. The ly by employees or owners of business then mayor, George Shirk, recalled some years later, "I thought it was really weird that you could rent out space on the streets."

ACROSS THE NATION, popularity among mid-Depression, financially strapped municipalities spread like wildfire.

Despite protests that citizens should not be charged for parking on streets for which their tax dollars already had paid, legality of the meter was upheld by the courts and they became a way of life.

"This is where parking taxes began," said the curator of the Oklahoma City museum where that first meter is gathering dust.

The wail of a wounded caribou would sound like a love ballad compared to the reaction of motorists as those taxes mounted over the years to millions of dollars of revenue for towns and cities to nickels, dimes and quarters.

But if you get around much, you know that in recent years the number of curb meters has dwindled as growth of malls on the outskirts, offering free parking and one-stop shopping, perhaps under cover, has exploded.

My suspicion that the pendulum inconfirmed a few days ago by a spokes-man of the Michigan Municipal League, pants headquartered in Ann Arbor, who commented, "Most places are doing away with them at the curbs, smaller cities in particular. It is a direct result of mall expansion."

Since the advent of the automobile, provision of adequate parking space has been a headache in every traditional downtown business district. The parking meter became the prime tool for establishing brief time limits, and it did help establishments.

FOR SOME STRANGE mental quirk, I have no objection to paying for offstreet parking, perhaps pushing a coin into a slot that automatically results in the gate going up and allowing me to pass. But I agree with Mayor Shirk. when he said renting space on the streets was "really weird."

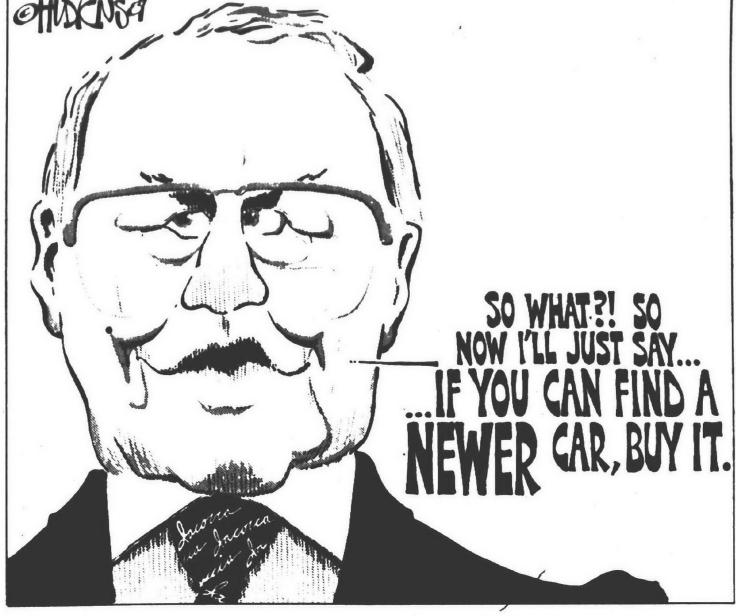

What a pleasure it is to find a town where the meters on the curb have been replaced by signs announcing free time limits, maybe even two hours or more.

"We must use every effort to work with the business community and citizens to provide a satisfactory and fair plan which will not deter business for the merchants, a plan that will bring the greatest number of shoppers into our community," one of the reigning municipal executives told me.

"Yet, no matter what system, what as the original charge of pennies went rates, or what enforcement is provided, the results will be a number of critical merchants and a kick in the pants from annoyed citizens.

"It has been learned from experience that there is no across-the-board solution to this problem, but failure is inevitable by trying to please everyone."

Better that, I told him, than having no deed is swinging in that direction was downtown business at all, and what's wrong with an occasional kick in the

Those attending Weaver's noontime performance enjoyed listening to the music. Margaret Ferry of Plymouth recalled listening to a

More recently, Ferry took a trip to Australia and heard the bagpipes played in Sydney.

We seem to catch them wherever they are," she said with a smile. Canton resident Aino Osterberg also took that trip to Australia about one year ago and heard the bagpipes played.

"There was a great deal more volume there because there were so many bagpipes," she said.

Both local women enjoy the summer performances in Kellogg

"This is very nice during the day," Osterberg said.

Students spin magical yarns

The Dunning-Hough Library in Plymouth wasn't the quietest spot to be found during a recent afternoon.

Children participating in this year's summer reading program at the library gathered Tuesday, July 7, for "Liars and Tall Tales Contest."

The children participating in the program told tall tales; each storyteller helped keep the audience entertained during the hour-long

The slightly embellished tales featured such characters as a dog who not only eats pizza, but also is able to call on the telephone to order a pizza. The first place winner, Bill Chapin, sang a portion of his tall tale about a logger.

Other winners were: Gabe Burnstein, second; John Kreger, third; and Becky Bain, fourth. The winners of the "Liars and Tall Tales Contest" received books.

The Tuesday, July 7, session also featured a Michigan products pro-gram, in which children sampled foods from Michigan. The summer program, designed for readers ages 6 to 14, has a sesquicentennial theme said Mary Lou Curtin, a Dunning-Hough librarian. "We thought the children would like a chance to tell their own tall tales.

In addition to Curtin, judges for the contest were librarian Joan Healy and the Plymouth/Canton Observer's Julie Brown. Judging was based on the conteht and originality of each tall tale and on its presentation. The judges were impressed with the talent displayed during the "Liars and Tall Tales Contest."

"They were outstanding, they were marvelous," Curtin said. "This is going to be a hard act to beat next year. They were great.'

BROOKSIDE SCHOOL

Cranbrook Educational Community

"Many schools work for some children. Brookside's philosophy works well for more children than any independent school I know." Brookside faculty member

Throughout its 65-year history, the cornerstone of the school has been a warm atmosphere created by an outstanding faculty dedicated to the education of young children. With a balanced emphasis on intellectual, creative, physical and social development, students work and play in an unparalleled setting.

We myste you to visit Brookside, explore the 300-acre campus of Cranbrook Educational Community and meet with our admissions dean.

Picnic in the park

Among those playing cards at the picnic are(clockwise from upper left): Jim Thompson, Francis Wall, Erma Thompson and Alice Wall.

Seniors savor summer

HE PLYMOUTH Township Seniors gathered last week for good food, good fun and good companionship.
The seniors met Wednesday, July

8, for a picnic lunch at Plymouth Township Park. Approximately 50 people showed up for the picnic

'That's what we had planned for," said Sparky Kallunki, one of the seniors. Playing cards was among the day's activities.

"This is such a beautiful spot," Kallunki said of the park. "You couldn't ask for a nicer place." The Plymouth Township Seniors also held a picnic at the park last sum-

A sing-along was part of the day's fun. Josephine Volpe played the accordion "and led the rest of us in singing," said Helen Krupa, president of the Plymouth Township Sen-

Wednesday's weather was ideal for the picnic. The seniors gathered in a shelter at the park, so they were prepared for rain, just in case.

This year, it was just too hot to go out," Krupa said of the day's extremely warm weather. "You have to watch for sunstroke. We're not as young as we used to be.'

A somewhat-cool breeze in the shelter at the park made the day a more pleasant one.

"That breeze is wonderful here," Krupa said.

Local auxiliary represented

A group of 14 local women represented the Ladies Auxiliary of the Mayflower-Lt. Gamble Post No. 6695 at the annual Veterans of Foreign Wars convention, held June 25-28 in Kalamazoo.

Among those attending from the local auxiliary were: Caroline Van-Gorder, president; Lorraine Nelson, senior vice president; and Marion Hoffman, junior vice president.

The 312 auxiliaries in Michigan are divided into eight groups (based on membership) to compete for awards in a number of categories. From each of the eight groups, one auxiliary president is chosen each year to be an all-state president for the year.

VanGorder was named all-state president for group seven. That group is made up of auxiliaries with a membership of 201 to 300.

VanGorder also brought home seven plaques and 40 citations of merit for having achieved specified goals in various projects.

The local auxiliary recently celebrated its 40th anniversary with a dinner-dance. Veneta Hornbeck was chairwoman for the event.

He was involved in operations that sufficiently serious for the United States Justice Department to bar

moral perspectives

THE CLIMATE of mutual underhis election aroused among his peostanding and respect that has been But Mr. Waldheim was not interdeveloping between the leaders of the Catholic community and leaders ested in repentance. He sought, instead, international legitimacy, and that was partially achieved by his visit to the Vatican. By granting that visit, the pope participated in an act of historical injustice.

Spokesmen for the Vatican were surprised by the intense and immediate outcry from the Jewish commu-

These spokesmen have pointed to statements which the pope made in recent months in Germany and in Poland in which he condemned "inhuman racism," and he reiterated deepest horror for the extermination camps in which millions of Jews, together with so many other victims, were sacrificed. While we do not disregard the importance of these statements, we are deeply aggrieved that the Vatican did not recognize the pain and anguish the Waldheim audience would evoke from Jews and non-Jews.

IN A LETTER that was sent by Jewish leaders to Vatican leader Cardinal Willebrands, the last paragraph stated: "We do not know what will be the consequences for our continued dialogue in which sincere efforts have been expended on both sides for over 20 years. You are surely aware that the Vatican's failure to establish full and formal diplomatic relations with the State of Israel and also to come to face the realities of the extermination of the Jewish people in Christian lands, is considered in the Jewish community as a great injustice. Only a truly meaningful and momentous gesture toward the Jewish people by the Vatican might help to advance Catholic-Jewish relations." The Jewish community is deeply respectful of the person and the office of the pope. He is a revered spokesman for moral universal values. Therefore, every visit that he provides, every statement that he makes, must be measured not in political dimensions or terms of expediency which are appropriate for presidents and heads of state. His acts are to be measured in moral terms The visit of Mr. Waldheim tarnishes the moral luster of the Vatican. It is important also to note that there are voices within the Catholic Church that do understand and recognize the deep wound that the Waldheim affair has caused. The National Conference of Catholic Bishops in the United States endorsed the call of American Jews for substantive talks with the Vatican. Archbishop John May of St. Louis declared: "I am aware of the sensitivity of this and related issues for the Jewish community in the United States and throughout the world. I see the wisdom of considering further dialogue at an appropriate level with a representative international Jewish Agency.

Furnace pilot light should be off now

Is it still recommended to turn off the furnace pilot light during sum-

Yes. As a conservation suggestion, it is still recommended that the gas to pilots on furnaces be turned off during the summer.

In addition to conserving gas and saving money on your summer gas bill, turning off the furnace pilot will help reduce the load on your cooling equipment.

Newer appliances have a pilot position marked on the main control valve. In many furnaces, there is a separate gas valve in the tubing that feeds the pilot, and this can be

I'm having a battle with ants in this hot weather. How can I get rid of them for good?

Most types of ants are a nuisance, but cause no real damage EXCEPT for the carpenter ant - the large black one. They burrow into wood to build their nests and can cause structural damage to a building if not taken care of. Once ants are found in the home, the only sure way to get rid of them completely is by killing the queen ant. This is the only ant in the nest mains in the nest throughout the summer. The queen ant can be destroyed by using ant baits that have been developed for just this purpose.

An ant bait contains a poison food substance that will attract ants. Certain types of ants are attracted to different kinds of food - either sweets, grease or protein foods. The forager ant will take the poisoned food back to the nest for the queen ant to eat and it eventually kills her.

Keeping the house clean of any attractions that ants feed on, such as crumbs or dirty dishes will help prevent ants in the first place. Destroying vegetation growing next to the house will prevent ants from climbing into the house from their nests outdoors.

ECO-TIP: The Cooperative Extension Service has several bulletins available on household pest control. To get copies of them, simply call your county cooperative service listed under county government in the yellow pages.

The Consumer Mailbag answers your questions. Address mail to The Consumer Mailbag. Concern Detroit, 1025 Shelby, Detroit, 48226.

Interest rates on Adjustable Rate Mortgages are the lowest ever at Standard Federal.

15-Year ARM

30-Year ARM

Before you buy or refinance your home, consider the advantages of our Adjustable Rate Mortgage (ARM).

Many of our ARM loan customers have saved a lot of money in mortgage interest costs over the past few years. And, at present interest rates, borrowers are finding our ARM loans to be an even better bargain. The first-year interest rate on our 15-year ARM is now only 7.25% compared to much higher rates on fixedrate loans. What's more, with the 2% annual and 6% lifetime interest rate caps that we have placed on our ARM loans, you'll pay less interest and have greater principal reduction over at least the first four years of your loan.

The lower initial interest rates on our ARM loans result in lower initial monthly payments. And, the lower monthly payments mean that it will be easier for you to qualify for the loan that you need to buy or refinance your home.

So, come to any Standard Federal branch office and learn more about our ARM loans. We'll help you find the loan that is just right for you.

*All annual percentage rates are calculated based on a 2% loan discount fee, a loan amount of $50,000 00, a 20% down payment, and monthly principal and interest payments of $456.43 for the 15-year loan and $349.61 for the 30-year loan. These estimated annual percentage rates are subject to increase or decrease on an annual basis after the loan is closed based on the formula set forth in the loan contract

Time to put your fiscal house in order

By Marilyn Fitchett staff writer

These days there are almost as many publications touting fiscal fitness as there are physical fitness.

But unlike the couch potato who, in most cases, only has to become more active to become more fit, people interested in fiscal fitness find the path more complicated. As a reader service, Daniel H. Boyce and Alan J. Ferrara, in cooperation with Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, are offering a chance for readers to have their financial situation analyzed by professional planners.

Boyce, a certified financial planner, is chairman of the board of the Metropolitan Detroit Society of the Institute for Certified Financial Planning. Ferrara is a partner with the law firm of Couzens, Lansky & Roeder in Southfield and president of the International Association for Financial Planning. Both organizations are non-profit orgnaizations whose aim is to promote the knowledge of financial planning.

Through their respective organizations. Boyce and Ferrara have assembled a team of specialists to make recommendations to help

'There is no standard plan or investment for a particular person anymore. There is a lot of flexibility in planning."

- Alan J. Ferrara

readers attain their financial goals. From requests sent to them, Boyce and Ferrara each month will prepare for publication in the Observer & Eccentric a case study profiling the financial strengths and weaknesses of an area family. (See the profile on this page.)

BOYCE AND Ferrara addressed the need for financial planning and the lack of emphasis placed on it by many people.

"People will often spend more time planning a two-week vacation than they plan spending their entire financial lives," Boyce said. "From a priority standpoint, it's more important to take a few hours to assess your situation and make some plans

The financial field in general has a high intimidation factor," Ferrara said. "But if people do their homework and bring it down to the basics, it's really not as complicated as they might be concerned about. So they shouldn't just throw up their hands and say 'I'll never understand it so I just won't do anything."

Boyce agreed. There's no question that the financial world in the last dozen years has become more complex. But many of the basics that people always needed to be aware of are still in place: the need for adequate insurance, adequate savings, emergency funds, need for a will - those kinds of things," Boyce said. They also commented on the development of the financial planning

"From a traditional standpoint, when a person had a financial question they had a number of specialists they could go to. They perhaps had a banker who said put all your money in banks or a stock broker who said put it all in stocks or an insurance agent who said put it all in insurance," Boyce said.

examine the financial condition of Tom and Joyce Smythe, ages 42 and 40. They have an 11-year-old daughter and own their own home in Farmington.

Joyce recently returned to work full time, raising the family income from $45,200 to $60,300. They have a $42,000 mortgage, $4,835 in credit card debt and upcoming college

"Please tell us how to make the best use of this new income," the Smythes asked the panel of financial advisers. "Can we realistically hope to meet our goals?"

A windfall inheritance of $40,000 received from Joyce's late mother is currently sitting in a bank certificate. "Should we leave it in the bank or invest it in stocks, bonds or real

THE SMYTHES are not overly familiar with various investment alternatives, but they want the money to grow for future needs. Joyce is adamant that the inheritance be used for important, long-term goals.

"My parents worked hard for their savings," she explained, "and I'm not going to use the money to pay off bills or to buy luxuries.'

Some important long-term goals include college education for their daughter and building a fund for their retirement. Tom's pensions will provide only one-third of the $3,000 per month they would like to have at retirement. Fortunately, they have at least 20 years of em-ployment income ahead of them to build this fund.

Other nearer-term goals are to reduce their charge card balances and replace Joyce's car, which is seven years old and becoming unreliable. They also enjoy camping and would like to purchase a motor home within two years.

They are relatively conservative in their attitudes about investments. Both agree that they have little interest in becoming experts in the financial field; they would prefer to spend their time on other activities. But they are willing to spend the necessary time to bring their financial situation under control. They understand the value of planning.

Average monthly expenses are estimated $2,500. This includes a house payment of $628, a car payment of $280, and a stock savings contribution of 3 percent of Tom's income. Anticipating Joyce's income, they splurged on new furniture, which Joyce claims to be long overdue. But it left them with a $5,000 credit card debt they are just beginning to reduce. The Smythes bought their home four years ago for $61,000. They owe $42,000 on their original 30-year mortgage and have seen a nice increase in the value of the house to $85,000.

NEITHER TOM nor Joyce currently have valid wills and neither have executed a valid revocable trust. Their life insurance picture is good, with both having group coverage at work and a substantial amount of additional term insurance. Their health insurance coverArriving at the bottom line

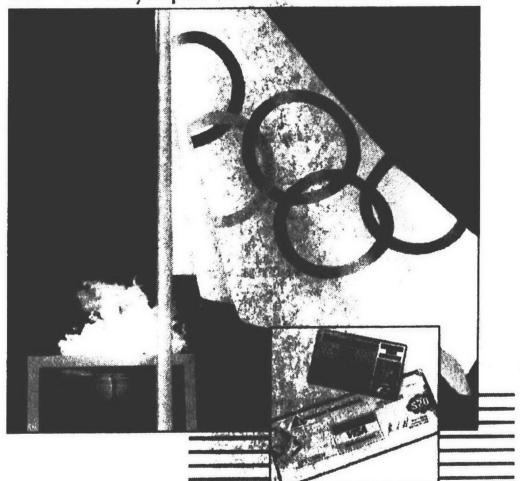

Financial strengths

- · Own their own home with $51,000 in equity
- · Recent increase in income with wife now
- · Systematic savings of $170 per month in employer stock savings plan
- Husband has pension plan at work · Adequate health coverage through employ-
- Adequate life insurance coverage
- Time on their side: at least 20 potential earning years
- Recent inheritance: nest egg of $40,000

Financial weaknesses

- · Lack of long-term disability insurance
- No will
- Excessive credit card debt over $4.800
- No education fund for daughter
- Irregular retirement planning
- · Lack of spending controls, no tracking of monthly expenses

everyone? There is something for everyone. At the same time, one's asset picutre would limit the flexibility of planning," Ferrara said. "Obviously there are many people who are just making it from paycheck to pay-check. Although if they sat down and thought about their goals from the standpoint of planning, that in itself would be important." Boyce cautioned that professional planners generally do not see themselves as debt counselors.

READERS INTERESTED in having their financial condition reviewed can write the Center for Financial Planning, Dept. 100, 877 S.

642-4000 by July 30.

They will be mailed a five-page questionnaire seeking complete financial information such as income, assets, insurance, financial goals, retirement, estate planning and risk philosophy (conservative to high risk). A minimum of one hour will be needed to complete the questionnaire.

The information will be dealt with in confidence. Boyce and Ferrara have assured that readers' names will not be released. They will also receive the booklet, "Consumer Guide to Financial Independence." issued by the Foundation for Financial Planning.

Those interested only in the booklet can request it. Those not selected as subjects for the published profile will be sent the addresses of the national offices of both the Institute of Certified Financial Planners and the International Association for Financial Planning. Both offices offer a referral service of planners in the area who meet the respective organizations' qualifications.

But even those who are not selected may be able to learn from the profiles.

"The basic idea (of the profiles) is to highlight the strengths and waeknesses (of a particular family). Hopefully the readership will be able to apply the advice to their own lives as well. We're focusing more on the strategies and the techniques as opposed to specific product selelction,"

"We're looking at determining what types of investments might be beneficial given their situation. And I would be discussing various planning opportunities to maximize protection of assets," Ferrara said.

age is extensive. Tom's employer provides family Blue Cross/Blue Shield and major medical with a generous $1 million maximum annual limit. In addition they have dental and limited vision insurance cover-

Tom has a short-term, employerpaid disability policy, which provides 60 percent of his salary for up to six months after an accident or illness. But neither he nor Joyce have long-term coverage. Their auto and homeowners policies are comprehensive and complete.

Dan Boyce, certified financial planner at the Center for Financial Planning in Birmingham, has several suggestions for the Smythes. First, he suggests plugging two gaps in their basic financial picture: the lack of long-term disability coverage and the absence of wills.

"What would they live on if Tom was unable to work for an extended period? They could become impoverished almost overnight. Or what would happen to their daughter and their estate in the case of a joint death? The state laws in Michigan are inflexible when no will is in place," Boyce said.

Boyce and certified financial planner Marilyn Gunther of Gunther & Associates, Birmingham, both advise that they take advantage of the opportunities provided by their current financial situation. The inheritance can give them a head start on their most important goals, their daughter's education fund and a retirement nest egg.

BOTH SUGGESTED putting $10,000 into a Uniform Gifts to Minors Act account in their daughter's name.

"A solid growth mutual fund would provide good, long-term growth potential over the next six to seven years, and it would keep her taxable income under the $500 limit imposed by the new Tax Reform Act for tax-free income to children under age 14." Boyce said.

"A modest 14 percent rate of return in a quality growth fund would provide $25,000 in seven years, and the capital gains would be taxed at their daughter's lower tax rates,'

Gunther added.

Both advisers recommended adding $5,000 to their cash reserves. In Gunther's experience, this security buffer often gives families who have lived from paycheck to paycheck the confidence to plan ahead more effectively.

The remaining $25,000 should be invested in a diversified retirement portfolio. Boyce recommends $15,000 in conservative stocks or mutual funds and $10,000 into the real estate area. A real estate partnership in the retirement home area provides a particularly attractive opportunity for growth and income at this time, or buying a single family rental house is another good alternative if the Smythes have the time and inclination to manage the property, Boyce believes.

GUNTHER PREFERS putting two-thirds in quality growth and income mutual funds, with the remaining third directed into convertible

Joyce's additional income should be used to eliminate the credit card balances within one year, purchase the new car and add to their monthly retirement savings.

The mobile home is an expensive item," Boyce said. "It may need to be put on hold at this time so that more important priorities can be accomplished."

The Smythes are at a crossroads in their financial lives. They have the opportunity to take actions that will ensuse their future financial security. They realize the need to plan for their future, and they have that precious commodity - time - on their side, if they start now.

"Carpe diem" - seize the opportunity - is the strong recommendation of the panel. They urge the Smythes to move ahead by writing wills, purchasing long-term disability coverage, investing the inheritance in a diversified portfolio, taking the time to track their expenditures, and raising their monthly savings earmarked for retirement.

HE ORPHAN of old London, Oliver Twist, will be played by a girl the first weekend of the musical's run and by a boy the next weekend, in the Oakland Community College Summer Arts Program presentation of Charles Dickens' famous story.

In the updated OCC production, Dickens' boy orphans turn out to be mostly girls, and Katie Bortell of Plymouth plays Oliver. Mark Bergasse of Oak Park plays the lead the second weekend of the run.

"We thought of calling the play Olivette," jokes director David Pulice when he explains there are 17 girls in the cast and only three boys.

"Oliver!" will be performed Friday, Aug. 14, to Saturday, Aug. 22. The show is one of several productions by and for youth which will brighten the entertainment scene this summer in the Detroit area.

Students participating in "Oliver!" are part of the Summer Day Camp and Arts Program on the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills. The program will culminate in Summer Festival Days Sunday-Saturday, Aug. 16-22.

FESTIVAL DAYS, a new event this year, will include mime, magic shows and dance recitals by students, as well as exhibits and sales of students' ceramics and art from dawn to dusk Saturday, Aug. 15.

THE YOUTH Summer Arts Program, directed by Jamie Mason, is going strong in its third year. Students may sign up for one or both of two three-week sessions, and they may select one class, two classes or an all-day program of four classes that include dance, acting, photography, stagecraft, pottery, language, clowning and mime, computers, painting and drawing, science fiction, and karate.

Director Mason says 200 students are currently enrolled and he anticipates several hundred more students will take part in the second session which runs Monday, July 27, to Friday, Aug. 14.

The program uses OCC's ample, air-conditioned classrooms and the Smith Theatre during the summer months when college enrollment is down. Mason says the camp was designed to lay the foundation for a stronger arts program at OCC by exposing young students early to the campus and its programs.

Mason played serious basketball before taking up a career in theater education, and he uses sports metaphors to describe the OCC arts program. He compares the summer arts program to a sports camp or farm where performers go to refine their skills by working with professionals. They develop self-confidence and learn to work as a team.

"THE SAME KIND of things work In basketball and in the arts. If the cast makes a good team effort up on the stage, the results are better. It's important to get away from pettiness and competition and learn to work together," he says.

Those students enrolled in theater classes during both sessions will work with professioanls to polish their singing, dancing and acting skills in preparation for the production of "Oliver!" Annette Bergasse, dance teacher and choreographer for the show, says the chance to work with professionals does positive things for kids who come to the pro-

They come acting childish like normal kids but "when they hear a professional get up and sing a song on stage, it blows them away. It's inspiring for them to be in the presence of professionals. They rise to the occasion and want to be professional too.'

Of dancing, she says it's not only good for fitness, but it improves students' discipline and ability to focus.

"Oliver!" will be directed by David Pulice, artistic director of the Michigan Light Opera Company. He also directed a Birmingham Theatre production of "Oliver!"

Will-O-Way Apprentice Theatre, longtime trade school for the theater, has closed its doors.

But Celia Merrill Turner, artistic director, said although the theater no longer will hold classes and present productions at 2253 Cole in Birmingham, she hopes to restart somewhere else in the fall.

'We had expected to get greater audiences," she said, explaining why the theater couldn't recoup from hard times. "We were getting great reviews. We just couldn't afford the lease."

Turner said Will-O-Way was being charged $1,500 a month for rent. "We could have afforded $1,000. We had been making $1,000 a month.'

Usually, Will-O-Way offers classes year-round, but this summer there will be no sessions for young people or adults. Turner, however, is teaching privately this season. The Pontiac resident may be reached by calling the Will-O-Way phone number, 644-4418.

"I don't want anyone to feel we are out of business," she cautioned. 'I'm taking a small sabbatical this summer." She insists she has not retired. "I feel I have five or 10 more years."

TURNER SAID she is looking for a location along Woodward Avenue, between Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills. "I'm trying to find some kind of building that could be a writeoff for some corpo-

Turner and her brother, William Way Merrill, started Will-O-Way Playhouse, a summer theater, in 1940, in an apple storage building on the family property at Long Lake Road in Bloomfield Township Later, Will-O-Way became a trade school of the theater, pre-senting productions by Will-O-Way Repertory Theatre. Gradually the property was divided up and sold, and the theater was without a home. In summer 1985, Will-O-Way moved to the property on Cole Street, north of Lincoln Street and east of South Eton Road. The opening of the new season was delayed until New Year's Eve while the theater struggled to convert the building for its

During its stay on Cole Street, Will-O-Way presented a variety of modern plays, including the Michigan premiere of the offbeat drama/comedy "Joe Egg." "It brought a surprisingly good crowd," Turner said. The theater also worked with schools and social service agencies in presenting plays and programs on drug abuse and rehabilitation.

French picnic baskets packed

staff writer

Six Detroit-area caterers and shops are each preparing a French picnic basket for two for "Vive Detroit!"a salute to Detroit's heritage Saturday, July 25, at Historic Fort Wayne in Detroit.

Harriet Berg, project coordinator for the festival, said the caterers include Sebastian's of Troy; the Merchant of Vino of Southfield and Birmingham; Jerie's Boulangerie (a bakery) in Detroit's Cultural Center. Cost Plus wine shop in Detroit's Historic Eastern Market, R.L. Hirt, a cheese company, also in the Eastern Market; and Sara's Catering of Grosse Pointe.

Because no alcoholic beverages are permitted at Fort Wayne, alternatives to wines may be served. Berg said that Ed Jonna of the Merchant of Vino recommends French picnic-basket food be accompanied by Evian water, Perrier water, sparkling cider or Oranjina (an now made in Canada).

"Cost Plus also mentioned Michigan sparkling ciders in different fruit flavors," Berg said.

Matthew Prentice, proprietor of Sebastian's, said contents of the basket he is preparing include an appet-izer, rillete of duck (spreadable pate) and light garlic pumpernickel toast rounds; an entree of chicken stuffed with lobster and aparagus, sliced, with bearnaise sauce; housemade croissants and brioche; and, for dessert, assorted cheese and individual Linzer tarts made with fresh rasp-

WCZY RADIO personality Dick Purtan, a Detroit history buff, is master of ceremonies for "Vive Detroit!" Purtan will give away a French picnic basket each day Mon-day-Friday, July 20-24, to listeners who correctly answer questions in a Detroit history trivia contest.

The winners also receive two tickets to Fort Wayne. Regular admission to the fort is $1 for adults, 50 cents for seniors and children 12 and Berg said that during the festival her dance troupe, the Mme. Cadillac Dancers, will do authentic dances of the French settlers in Detroit. Performers will teach these dances from 11 a.m. to noon and will be part of the Entertainment of the French Colonial Period 3:30-5:30 p.m.

"I went to France and Montreal," said Berg, explaining how she learned the authentic French dances.

Quebec. I studied with historical dance reconstructors."

She said her troupe has been performing the dances all over the state. of Michigan since 1982.

French picnic baskets are also being prepared by the caterers for the Dick Purtans and for the couple reenacting roles of Marie-Theresee Guyon Cadillac and Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac at the festival. The Sesquicentennial Tribute to Detroit's: 286th birthday begins at 9:30 a.m. and continues to 5:30 p.m. Other features of the day are an authentic 18th Century encampment, bannermaking and the Campeau Militia! leading a parade. A picnic area is: available at the festival. For more information, call 297-9360.

Psychic reads at lunchtime

staff writer

Psychic readings by Belva add a fascinating facet to lunchtime at Maxwell's restaurant at the Holiday Inn Farmington Hills. Belva King said she "had these feelings as a child" and also that her mother and grandmother had talent." She has been doing readings since the age of 23.

The late psychic, Jacqui, featured Belva on her radio show and also referred her to people and groups who wanted readings. "I've done a lot of organizational parties," she said.

At Maxwell's, a corner booth provides privacy for the 15-minute readings (at $10, by appointment). Belva combines astrology with her psychic ability, asking for your birthdate and giving a description of your personality traits. Then, her flashes are predictions in every area of your life - job, romance, money, vacation, family and friends.

She'll come up with first names and tell you how those people will affect your future. If you ask about other people, she'll use their birthdate to tell you about them.

THE GENIAL, soft-spoken psychic isn't at a loss for words as she gathers insights. Whether the future holds what Belva says it will, only time will tell, but she was close on

The Holiday Inn Farmington Hills is undergoing a lot of changes. Maxwell's restaurant and lounge has already been remodeled and features an attractive, airy decor. In the restaurant are sandblasted glass partitions by artist Janet Kelman, who designed them to complement the pattern of Chinese plates on the wall

New chef at Maxwell's is Nelson Cummings, who spent five years at the Fox and Hounds in Bloomfield Hills. Cummings has been working on a entirely new menu, which he plans to change each season. "For the summer menu, we will add more seafood, a different pasta appraoch - I have used pasta as an accompaniment as well as main entree with fresh herbs, and add more

Buyers can speed up mortgage processing

Home buyers can reduce the loan processing time - and help ensure their loan is secured at the interest rate originally quoted - by assuming a more active role in providing financial information to the mort-

According to real estate finance advisers at Schweitzer Real Estate/ Better Homes and Gardens, home buyers often are caught in a waitand-see game.

They agree to buy a home at an interest rate for a specified period, usually between 45 and 60 days, then sit back and hope.

They hope that the lender's thmeconsuming methods of gathering information don't put them in a situation many borrowers faced this spring when a 9 percent lock-in went past deadline while rates had risen to 11 percent.

"THE FIRST things that a borrower needs to take care of are the ones that every lending instution expects," Paul R. Schweitzer, president of the real estate company,

Be ready to supply:

Social Security numbers, specified records of employment history including salaries; expenses pertaining to your current monthly housing expenses; information and details about your current assets, including account numbers; and any real estate that is owned.

Also, all information about liabilities including to whom the debt is owed, account numbers, balances and payments.

"But take the initiative yourself. Don't assume it will be done," Schweitzer said. "A good accounting of the details on this information can save a lot of time when time is critiwriting a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise— is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

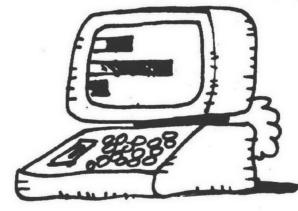

2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.

4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!

5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.

HOW TO DO A LITTLE BUSINESS ON YOUR OWN

Holding a galage sale is a fun way to do a little business on your own . . . but it takes a bit of planning.

Like you'll want to decide what to sell and how much to charge for each item ... and then you'll need price tags so other people will know what you're charging.

And you'll have to be able to make change for all your customers . . . so that means you should have lots of one dollar bills and an assortment of coins.

Then you'll want to advertise your sale to attract that crowd. You can do it with a sign or signs in your neighborhood . . . but you'll want a bigger crowd than that . . . so you'll run an ad in Classified which tells the time and place of your sale to a host of potential buyers.

Have fun with your little business adventure!

Pick up your free Garage Sale folder in our office when you place your ad! (Contains two signs, two arrows, a handy ledger, 14 tips for a successful sale and nine tips for a successful ad)

Stars trek to a triumph

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Beam me up, Scottie. Tell Sulu to set course for our next uncharted galaxy. Our mission here is accomplished.

It took a special two-hour episode instead of our normal 60-minute TV time slot to set this world straight. But in those two hours Monday, the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League all-stars demonstrated a remarkable proficiency to be "enterprising."

And they certainly absorbed the oft-stated intent of our five-year mission. They boldly went where no Livonia Collegiate all-star team had gone before - not in the 10year history of the Adray All-Star Game - and defeated their counterparts from the Detroit Adray League 4-0 at Tiger Stadium.

It was a crafty display of timely hitting, to be sure, but the key element in the long-sought victory was pitching. Five hurlers piloted the Livonia stars flawlessly, throttling the Adray team on three hits and a single walk while striking out

THE ADRAY PITCHERS weren't nearly as efficient. Their five-man mound crew had a turbulent ride, surrendering only five hits but walking eight and striking out just one.

"Did our pitching come through for us?" asked Livonia coach John Moraitis rhetorically. "It was amazing. The last inning was the only time (Adray threatened)."

Adray's threat consisted of an error on shortstop Brian Smolinski's throw, which allowed leadoff hitter Gus Johnson to reach base safely. After Mickey Smerek's grounder forced Johnson at second, Ron Pezzoni beat out an infield hit

baseball

to put runners at first and second with one down.

Livonia pitcher Kelly Ingersoll phasered that threat, however, getting John Terris on a pop-out to Smolinski and - after a wild pitch advanced the runners to second and third - fanning Ken Berezin-

Adray mounted just one other mild offensive. Pezzoni - who had two of his team's three hits and its only walk - lined a double off the left field fence leading off the fourth. Pezzoni did steal third with two out before Livonia pitcher Tom Liss got Greg D'Alexander to

THAT WAS IT for Adray. Five times - including four of the last five innings - it was three up, three down for the team that had never lost this game.

"I thought Livonia's pitching did a good job," said Adray coach Bob Atkins, who used to coach in the Livonia circuit. "I've been in the other dugout so I know what it's like (to lose).

"Let's just say the game is much more important to David than it is to Goliath.'

Atkins' "Goliaths" were not only weaponless against Livonia's "Davids," but they bordered on suicidal. Dave Gardella started for Adray and faced the minimum six batters. Keith Dutkiewicz reached base in the second but was thrown out trying to steal.

Randy Marshall took over in the third for Adray and also was nearperfect, walking just one batter in two innings. It wasn't until the third Adray pitcher, righthander Ken West, took the mound that Livonia came to life.

Walks ignited a two-run Livonia rally against West in the fifth. Kevin Ritter drew a base on balls to start the inning. Dutkiewicz then slashed a double to left-center that Adray center-fielder Chris Carden dived for and missed

WITH RUNNERS on second and third, Mike Rudin (from North Farmington) lined a single down the left field line to score two runs. West was touched for another single and a walk in the inning, but Steve Merriman hit into a double play and Bob Czapla grounded out.

Lefthander Don Lindsey replaced West in the sixth, but he

All-star game lacks luster of past years

MORE LIVELY BALL? You couldn't convince me Monday morning at Tiger Stadium.

In fact, things appeared to be a bit dead around the old ballyard.

There were no lines of fans buying tickets at the corner of Michigan and Trumbull, even though it was All-Star break and the Tigers were coming home from west coast trip only five games behind the Yankees.

The action inside the stadium was slowed by the shaggy grass, which apparently hadn't been mowed in awhile.

On this day some of the top college players around the metro area gathered to play in the annual Adray All-Star Game. It's a dream come true for many and a chance to show the scouts what they're made of.

But there was little energy displayed by these sandlotters, especially by the Detroit Adray League All-Stars, made up of players from the first-place Adray Appliance team, third-place Adray Photo and fifth place LaDuke Roofing.

FOR THE FIRST TIME in 10 years, the Livonia Collegiate All-Stars beat their supposedly stronger counterparts from Detroit, 4-0.

Ironically, the LCBL has dwindled to four teams this year and amateur sandlot fans have not been raving about the caliber of play this summer at the league's home base, Ford Field in Livonia.

But on this day, and remember, it's only an exhibition game, Livonia was the better league. But the final result still surprised me.

After watching Detroit muster only three hits in nine innings against five LCBL pitchers, you have to start wondering if sandlot baseball around the metro area is on the decline.

Having attended several of these all-star affairs over the years, I've usually discovered at least four or five dangerous hitters in the Detroit lineup with pro potential. And usually you'll find a pitcher that's tough to handle.

NOT THIS year. And these guys are using aluminum bats and throwing in the high 80s?

The feared Detroit sandlot teams, which spawned the likes of Willie Horton, Ted Simmons and Bill Freehan, appear to be falling by the wayside.

Scouts will tell you that a few players from Monday's game will eventually be drafted by pro teams, but their job of finding a gem is getting tougher each year.

The scouts will tell you it comes down to numbers in this country. Fewer and fewer kids are playing baseball, opening the door for more Puerto Ricans and Dominicans in the big leagues.

Among the factors leading to the dwindling numbers:

 Too many diversions. "Kids just don't play," said one scout. You used to have five or six buddies go out to a sandlot field and practice on their own. They don't play nowadays unless it's orga-

· Youth programs aren't the way they used to be.

 So much interest in soccer. • Television and junk food. "It shows on a lot of these kids.'

THE SCOUTS will tell you they haven't lowered their standards

Shane Smith of the Canton Elks held Newton Furniture to one hit through four innings as he and Derek Darkowski combined to pace the Elks' victory.

Elks keep win streak intact

Shane Smith and Derek Darkowski combined on a two-hit shutout Tuesday as the Canton Elks blanked Newton Furniture 5-0 for their 14th victory in 15 outings in the Redford Adray-Connie Mack League.

Smith pitched the first four innings, struck out three and walked one. Darkowski worked the final three, recording six strikeouts while walking two.

Todd Kenyon was 1-for-3 with two RBI. Vince Fox drove in one run with a double and Steve Johnson and Chris Sisler also had RBI.

On Saturday, the Elks broke a 2-2 tie with three runs in the top of the seventh inning and defeated Ypsilanti II by a 5-3 margin.

Victory makes Wolverines MSHL's only unbeaten team

The Wildcats pulled into a tie for first place in the Eagle Conference of the Midwest Summer Hockey League by knocking off the previously-unbeaten Lakers Sunday. The Wildcats accomplished their victory in surprisingly easy fashion, shutting out the high-scoring Lakers for the final two periods en route to a 5-1 outcome. The Lakers' setback leaves the Wolverines as the league's only unbeaten team. The Wolverines edged the Falcons 5-4 Sunday to run their record to 3-0 in the Bakes Conference.

In other action, the Broncos whipped the winless Huskies 9-0 Sunday. On Monday, the Spartans outskated the Bulldogs 9-6, and the Falcons downed the Huskies 10-5.

The Eagle Conference standings as of Monday are as follows: 1. Lakers and Wildcats, 3-1; 3. Spartans, 2-2; 4. Bulldogs, 0-4. In the Bakes Conference: 1. Wolverines, 3-0; 2. Broncos, 2-1; 3. Falcons, 2-2; 4. Huskies, 0-4.

hockey

Nickerson, for the Wildcats, and Mark Hernandez, for the Lakers, scored first-period goals, but it was all Wildcats after that as they scored the last four goals.

Nickerson added another score, and Brian Rennell also had two goals and one assist. John Smith assisted on three goals, and Craig Mooney turned in an outstanding effort in goal.

BRONCOS 9, HUSKIES 0: The Broncos clung to a 1-0 lead before blowing the game open with a fivegoal second period.

The game became a rout when the winners added four goals in the finale, including both of Andrew Roy's tallies.

Leif Gustafson also scored two goals, Roy added three assists and Link Bissert and Paul Mitter had WILDCATS 5, LAKERS 1: Chris one goal and two assists apiece.

Bill Tecos and Dave Cergunl split the goaltending duties and shared the shutout for the Broncos.

WOLVERINES 5, FALCONS 4: The Wolverines stretched their lead to 5-1 early in the third period and held on as the Falcons rallied to make it close.

Mike Krygier scored both of his goals during the Falcons' lategame surge.

Scott Wolter paced the Wolverines, who led 4-1 after two periods, with two goals and an assist, and Danny Lemieux chalked up two assists.

SPARTANS 9, BULLDOGS 6: Aaron Pietila had a five-goal, oneassist game for the Bulldogs, but even an effort of that kind was not enough to overcome the Spartans. Pietila scored three of four second-period goals as the Bulldogs, who played with only eight skaters and two goalies, chopped the Spartans' lead to 5-4. However, the sports shorts Master Angler patch an honor received a Master Angler patch from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for catching a fish that meets the minimum requirements for recognition. But I'd sure be proud to sew one on my lucky fishing jack-

The DNR created the Master Angler program in 1973 to recognize anglers who catch above average Michigan fish in Michigan waters. So far nearly 5,000 anglers have been recognized by the DNR in 47 of 49 Michigan fish species categories.

Any angler who catches a fish that meets the minimum entry weight is eligible for a patch. Anglers who catch a state record fish or whose fish finishes in the top five of the year for each species of fish also receive a Master Angler certificate.

TO QUALIFY for Master Angler ecognition the fish must be caught in Michigan waters by legal sports fishing methods. The fish must be weighed on inspected scales, such as grocery store and meat market scales, and the weighing process must be witnessed by at least two other people and verified in writing. The date of the scale inspection and the inspector should also be noted as well as the location of the scale and the location and date of the catch.

A close-up, side-view picture of the fish should accompany the entry form for identification purposes, un-less the fish has been identified by a DNR fisheries biologist.

Entries should be mailed to the DNR Fisheries Division, Box 30028, Lansing 48909. Forms are also available at DNR District and Regional

The fish should also be kept frozen for two weeks past the entry in case further identification is needed.

MINIMUM ENTRY weights vary from species to species. A lake stur-geon, for example, must weigh at least 70 pounds for recognition while mooneye, pumpkinseed sunfish and green sunfish need only weigh 12 ounces for recognition.

Many state records barely exceed the minimum entry weights. The pumpkinseed must weigh 12 ounces for entry while the state record is weigh 3 pounds for entry and the state record is 3 pounds, 6 ounces.

On the other hand, channel catfish must weigh eight pounds for recogni-tion while the state record is 47 pounds, 8 ounces. Likewise the Great Lakes muskie must weigh 20 pounds while the state record is 62 pounds, 8

The DNR has established a new category of hybrid sunfish this year with a minimum entry weight of 12 ounces. The new hybrid sunfish is described as any sunfish which has crossbred (hybridized) with another species of sunfish.

Michigan sunfish that will hybri-dize include bluegill, pumpkinseed, rock bass, warmouth bass and the longear, orange spotted, green and redear sunfish

That was it for the offense. Livonia bunched all five of its hits and four walks into a pair of two-run innings. Liss, who pitched the third and four frames, was credited with the win. West was the loser.

MARK COBURN (from Plymouth Canton) started for Livonia and allowed a walk and a single in two innings. Liss gave up Pezzoni's double in his two-inning stint, then Tom Cotter (from North Farmington) and Kevin Grossman each hurled two perfect innings. Ingersoll shielded the victory with a scoreless ninth.

First baseman Chris Sisler of Canton is on the receiving end of an attempt to catch Ypsilanti's Mickey Smerek off first base. Sisler also was on the winning side.

winners responded with a four-goal finale to preserve their advantage.

Pat Moran gave the Spartans a 6-4 lead to start the third period, but Pietila tallied twice to knot the score. Then Dan Lambert scored the game-winning goal as he put the Spartans in front to stay.

Scott Reale scored three Spartan goals, Lambert and Moran two each. Lambert also had an assist.

Jay Cuva scored the Bulldogs' other goal and set up Pietila on three of the latter's scoring plays.

FALCONS 10, HUSKIES 5: Mike Linenberg pumped in three goals and Mike Freeman two as the Falcons cruised to an easy victory.

The winners jumped to a 4-2 lead in the first period and extended it to 7-4 at the end of two. Dennis Ryan was credited with three assists and Linenberg one.

For the Huskies, Sean Skinner also produced a hat trick, the second time he has accomplished the feat.

Waquoit wins easily in Michigan Mile

staff writer

Waquoit did something the Boston Celtics couldn't do this year - win on the road.

Owned and trained by the Federico family of Dorchester, Mass., the 4-year-old colt won the 39th running of the Michigan Mile, the state's richest thoroughbred race, by a record 7½ lengths Saturday at Ladbroke DRC. He won the 1½-mile race in an unoffical time of 1:50.

Waquoit, ridden by Kentucky Derby and Preakness winning jockey Chris McCarron, gradually pulled away from the field to beat Purple Mountain, who finished runner-up for the second straight year, and Red Attack, who nosed out prerace favorite Skip Trial for third.

The 11-race card drew 13,402 fans and attracted the seventh largest handle in the track's histo-

It was the fourth straight win for Waquoit this year and his 15th in his last 21 starts. His last victory occurred at the Massachusetts Handicap, but this victory was probably the most gratifying for 69-year-old trainer Guido Federico, a distant cousin of owner Joe Federico.

"IT SURPRISED ME me in the fashion he won because there was a bunch of nice horses in this field," said Guido, a native of Sulmona, Italy. "He really surprised me. After shipping him down here and putting him in a strange racetrack I figured it would bother him. But I rested my horse all winter and perhaps my horse was a lot fresher. This is a healthy animal. He's strong with a lot of

After grabbing the Michigan Mile winner's share of $166,500, Waquoit's career earnings have vaulted over $500,000.

And immediately after the race, thoroughbred experts were calling Waquoit "the best handicap horse in the country.

The trainer, Federico, is now talking about upgrading his colt. 'We started out at Grade III and now we've won at Grade II," Guido said. "Now I think he's ready for Grade I."

WAQUOIT'S NEXT STOP may be July 25th at Belmont Park in New York for the Brooklyn Han-

McCarron, who rode Alysheba to victories in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness this season, was making his second ride on Waquoit after the colt's regular rider, Jorge Vargas, broke his arm in an automobile accident prior to the June 20 Massachusetts Handicap: McCarron made a special trip from California to ride the 4-year-old.

"Wherever he (Waquoit) runs I hope to be there," the jockey said. "I was tickled to get the mount. I just let him run and let him break when he wanted to.

Going to post in the eight position, just inside the highly touted Skip Trail, Waquoit moved up quickly behind early leader Purple Mountain and then gradually worked his way around the track

McCARRON ALSO won the seventh race, the $20.000-added Livonia Stakes, aboard Never Com-

In the other big race, the eighth, One By Bandy, trained by ex-Detroit Lion Bob Miller, captured the $40,000-added Queen Bee Stakes. One By Bandy, ridden by R.J. Campbell, won despite 10-1

Waquoit paid $5.80 to win, $3.60 to place and $2.80 to show, but more importantly, showed thathe could triumph outside his home base of Suffolk Downs - which, by the way, does not have a par-

Erica Zonder was determined not to repeat the heartbreak she experienced two years ago in the Great Lakes Junior Masters Golf Tournament

Competing then in the girls 14-15 division, the Farmington Hills golfer was tied for the lead with two holes remaining in the 54-hole tournament. She fell out of contention at the end and wound up in third place.

Zonder satisfied her deep desire to counter the memory of that 1985 finish when she won the Junior Masters 16-17 championship June 8 at Meadowbrook Country Club

"That had been gnawing at me for two years, that I choked the first time," she said "This was one I really wanted to win. It had been bugging me for two years.

ON THE first day of the three-day tournament, Zonder shot an 80 to take a two-stroke lead over Ann Arbor's Sarah Steifel. She carded an 84 the next day; however, Steifel's score ballooned to 89 and her two-day total to 171, seven strokes behind Zonder.

Jennifer Mieras of Kentwood moved into second place with a second-day 83, but Zonder still enjoyed a six-stroke advantage, 164-170, over her closest challenger entering the last day of competition

I was a little worried after the first day." she said, "but I was pretty confident going into the final round. I was pretty sure I was going to Zonder's victory was made sweeter by the fact she was recently runner-up to Steifel in the Optimist Junior World district tournament in East Lansing Steifel shot 84 to capture the 18-hole contest, while Zonder came in with 86.

IN THE OPTIMIST meet, only the winner qualifies for the Junior World Championships in San Diego, but Zonder nonetheless had her moment in the sun during the Junior

"That made me feel a lot better than last year." said Zonder, who was sixth in the 16-17 division in

In the first quarter of 1987, the Michigan Tourism Index accelerated sharply registering 141 versus 129 in the final quarter of 1986, according to David Littman, Manufacturers Rank economist.

Here's how various factors scored compared with a year earlier:

• Air traffic - up 35 percent. Mackinac Bridge crossings —

- up 18 percent. Lodging occupancy — up 6 per-
- Vehicular traffic up 5 percent.

Other indicators of tourism published by Michigan State University's Travel, Tourism and Recreation Resource Center - suggest strong improvement during the first quarter. These include healthy gains in highway traffic counts and state park overnight stays.

Underpinning the strength in the Michigan Tourism Index are several factors, Littman said:

Precipitation levels were relatively low during the first quarter of 1987, compared with the prior year. Solid employment and income gains have continued for four consecutive years in the Michigan. Activity related to Michigan's observance of its Sesquicentennial may be emerging.

Airline discount fares have improved air passenger traffic and related activity.

And the late stages of business cycle expansions typically experience the most vigorous phase of spending on travel, tourism, and con-

Cranbrook art

Sleek lines, sensitive approach dominate works

By Manon Meligaard special writer

The Cranbrook Academy of Art's graduate summer show is commendable in all nine departments: architecture, ceramics, design, fiber, metalsmithing, painting, photography, printmaking and sculpture.

There is diversity and sensitivity rather than fussy flamboyance — especially in the architecture and design departments.

For example, Jim Hill's two furniture pieces in wood have an elegant, but simple Scandinavian quality, complemented by four prints in the same mode by Scott Townsend, and mounted directly above them.

There is even a certain severity in the two pieces designed specifically for the museum: architect Todd Rhoade's contruction of open and closed shapes of steel and glass plate which spreads along a portion of the gallery walls; and sculptor Dean Ruck's "X" shaped structure in white wood, which is 17 foot high and built into a portal adjoining two galleries.

Three examples of sleek, simplistic design are Paul Montgomery's high-tech, curving digital camera, Tim Miller's dehumidifier, and a futuristic telephone by Van-Hong Tsai.

THE ARCHITECTURAL elements in Lisa Bernfield's unusual jewelry of precious metals and stones highlights the shoulder as both ornamental background and conversation piece. Lisa Norton's "Relic," in polished galvanized steel is charming bird/animal fantasy with the look of indented, beaten silver.

Providing originality and contrast in the fiber department are "Korean Dancers," a poem of delicately flowing draperies by Kyung Sook Koo and Emiko Nakano's sinister "Guardian," a 10 foot high, heavily woven figure on wood that more closely resembles one of those "abominable snowmen" that climbers in the Himalayas claim to have seen, than the benign being the title suggests.

There are several fine prints including Brian Shannon's black and white intaglio diptych of water towers; Carol Lee Conchar's charcoal montage of disjointed parts of the body, and another black and white two-part charcoal print by Carole Kim, where one side depicts a female face figuratively, and a nightmarishly distorted version of perhaps the same face on the other.

Kazauki Sugi's large, untitled stoneware piece of a crumbling hand probing into an even more disintegrated skull is powerful and apocalyptic, with broken shards of the Kazauki Sugi's untitled stoneware hand, above, is powerful and apocalyptic. Below, Jim Hill's two furniture pieces are sleek in line and design; on the wall behind are four prints with the same approach, by Scott Townsend.

skull lying on the ground

In the same vein is Bennett Schwartz's stoneware graveyeard, composed of cemetery crosses, missiles and a skeleton. Christine Racke's photomontage, "Body Reconstruction" with its theme of the female condition, is thoughtfully constructed.

In the area of painting, R. Tim Miller's large oil on paper is an impressive view of mountains and hills — possibly a Mexican landscape. Paul Killer's "garden of Eden-like" woodcut has an idyllic, untamed background. In the foreground

"Adam" is quietly cutting the throat of what seems to be a boar, while "Eve" stands passively by. Despite the outward tranquility of the background, the untroubled expressions of the two nudes, and even the seeming acquiescence of the boar, there is something "quietly" unnerving about this scene.

Accompanying the graduate show is the excellent "Cranbrook Metalwork Collection," featuring 33 objects and 17 drawings, with works in gold, silver, brass and iron by such artists as Frank Koralewsky, Arthur Nevill Kirk, Harry Bertoia, Brent L.

Kingston and Chunghi Choo. This exhibition is the art of metalworking at its very best — and should not be missed

Both exhibitions will be on show at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum through Sept. 20. The museum, at 500 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, is open 1-5 p.m. Tuesday-Sunday.

Dean Ruck's 17-foot high "X" wood sculpture is built into the doorway between two galleries. At left is Brent L. Kington's mild steel, polychromed sculpure from the lcarus Series.

Record number of entries in church's show

"Celebrate Life," the seventh annual juried show at Congregational Church of Birmingham, opening Saturday and continuing through Sunday, July 26, drew a record number of entries from the Tri-County.

Ken Gross, executive director of the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association, reported to the committee that he was amazed at the number. The shows are carefully planned to coincide with the show of flowers in the church's gardens. This time the myriad varieties hybrid daylilies are at the peak of their beauty. The church, 1000 Cranbrook Road, is at the corner of Cranbrook and Woodward, Bloomfield Hills. It is in a picturesque setting of landscaped grounds and gardens. Show hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily and noon to 4 p.m. Sunday. Opening reception is 4-6 p.m. Sunday.

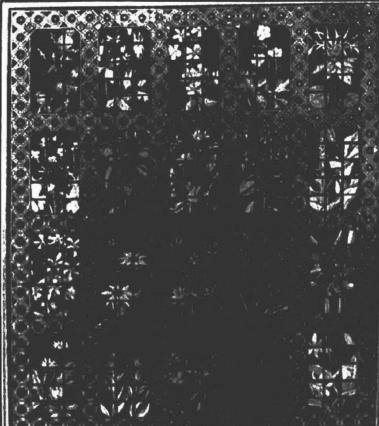

Gross, some of whose comments on the winning entries are included below, said that in general when viewing art, he is influenced by technical competency, the use of a medium to express what that medium can uniquely do and the projection of a mood.

Audrey DiMarco of Livonia won third prize of $100 for her acrylic on canvas titled, "Carnival." The juror remarked that it has the quality of free-form painting and "the design and layering are almost sculptural."

"Mosaic III" by Ann B. Loveland of Orchard Lake, a mixed media work, won the second prize of $200. Juror Ken Gross commented that this work deals in extreme opposites — the soft, gentle floral forms and the structured dissecting, geometric, graphic patterns saying the combination "helps the viewer understand better the natural

"Suspicion," a charcoal and pastel by Christine Welch of Birmingham, received the $400 first prize. The juror said he liked "the wonderful, fresh immediacy which communicates on many levels and merges into other elements."

"A Touch of Glass," produced and directed by Sue Marx and Pamela Conn of Sue Marx Films Inc. was selected as a finalist in the American Film Festival.

This festival, the largest and most prestigious educational film festival, is held in New York each June. Hundreds of films are submitted in a variety of categories, and approximately onethird of the entries are selected as finalists to be screened at the festival.

"A Touch of Glass," a 14-minute film, was nominated for a 1986 Emmy. It was filmed at Center for Creative Studies in Detroit and at Habatat Gallery in Lathrup Village and was funded by Michigan Council for the Arts.

It has been aired on public television and is available nationally through libraries and educational institutions.

Introducing 1-hour home mortgage loan approvals.

The ins and outs of getting a home mortgage loan approved do not have to take weeks. Or days. Or even hours.

Because we at First Federal of Michigan. the people who approve more mortgage loans than anyone else in Michigan, can approve them faster.

In just one hour. Subject to appraisal and your qualifications, of course.

We offer a variety of plans to meet your needs. And the timing couldn't be better.

So why wait? Call 1-800-342-5336 between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. weekdays.

We'll set up an appointment at your convenience and advise you what to bring along to expedite your loan approval.

When it comes to home mortgage loans, it pays to think First.

EXTREMELY HIGH INCOME POTENTIAL.

Incomes over $200,000 annually are reality right now in single family, residential homes.

YOU ARE YOUR OWN BOSS.

Your work schedule and work load are all your own. Take afternoons off to meet the children after school. There is no 9-5 schedule.

YOU ARE A VITAL PART OF THE LARGEST INDUSTRY IN THE UNITED STATES.

70% of most families net worth is tied into the property they own. You have the unique opportunity to help buyers and sellers with the most important and most expensive item they ever buy.

REAL ESTATE IS AN EASY ENTRY PROFESSION.

Usually only one course and one state exam are needed to enter the industry; whereas, some careers take years of formal schooling. You have a chance to easily enter this profession and start quickly.

WE OFFER GREAT TRAINING.

Whether it's the pre-license course, intensive marketing course, or advanced courses, Real Estate One offers the best training in the state of Michigan.

AND EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITIES FOR ADVANCEMENT.

Most of our managers and divisional presidents were recruited from the ranks of our sales associates.

IT'S THE BEST INDUSTRY IN THE UNITED STATES.

You will be part of a profession that everyone cares about, everyone talks about, and everyone is interested in knowing about. Every American adult either owns property or probably wants to. Most people cannot and will not do it without your help. The contracts, the negotiations, the details, the large amounts of money involved, all make it a fun and exciting profession in which people need and want your services.

Call the office nearest you for a confidential interview.
