Cheer club

The holiday season is here and so is the Plymouth Canton Observer Cheer Club. In fact we're opening the club a week or so early this year because the need is always greater during tough times.

Please join us by bringing donations of new toys and canned or boxed food to our office at 794 S Main in Plymouth during business hours.

The items will be collected until Friday Dec 13 when we will turn them over to the good folks at the Salvation Army. They'll distribute the items to needy people in Plymouth Canton and Northville.

When you bring your donations by our office we'll ask you to leave your name and hometown. That's because we like to print donor names in the paper while the Cheer Club drive is on.

Of course you may remain anonymous if you prefer.

Happy Holidays! Please keep our Cheer Club in mind.

City readies for pair of court fights

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

A discrimination lawsuit and efforts to collect millions of dollars in back taxes will be at the top of discussion by Plymouth city commissioners during an executive session scheduled for Monday night.

The city is involved in court battles with Broe Rehabilitation

Services of Farmington Hills over three homes on Farmer Street that house patients with closed-head injuries, claiming they are businesses being run in a residential neighborhood.

And, after 20 years, the city appears closer to winning its lawsuit against A&E Holdings for back taxes totaling more than $3 million.

Both issues are materializing in upcoming weeks as the city plans for court dates on both fronts. City commissioners and their attorneys will not discuss the cases, calling them "pending litigation."

Wendell Flynn, the owner of A&E Holdings, must decide by Wednesday if he will appeal last month's ruling by Wayne County Circuit Judge Edward Thomas, who concluded the city does indeed own the property off Mill Street.

Former city manager Dave Rich secured the deed from the state for $300 in December 1999. Since then, the city has been in court attempting to collect the back taxes, which haven't been paid for 20 years, or have final custody of the property, which then could be sold to developers.

In what City Manager Paul Sincock called "an early eviction notice," the city earlier this month sent notice to Flynn it plans on evicting BMC Corp from the premises. If Flynn doesn't appeal the court ruling by Wednesday, city officials will be back in court the next week.

Kids learn from 1st drama workshop

BY TONY BRUSCATO

Courtney Sigworth wants someday to become a theater director because "I want to meet a lot of famous people and tell all my friends."

Sigworth, a 12-year-old West Middle School student from Plymouth, moved a bit closer to her dream after participating in the middle school Drama Day workshop put on by Canton High School drama teacher Shannon Henry.

"It was really fun, and helped me a lot," said Sigworth. "I'm thinking about performing in high school."

And that, said Henry, is a major reason she held the first-ever workshop at the Canton Little Theater.

"The workshop was an opportunity to develop more interest from middle school students in drama so when they get to high school they already know about it and will participate," she said. It also is a community outreach to introduce the kids to the high school park. It's large, and sometimes as freshmen they feel overwhelmed.

"There isn't a lot of extracurricular activity for students in the middle schools, and theater is a proven means of expression," said

Kettle campaign kicks off, but Salvation Army still needs help

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

It's the biggest time of year for the Plymouth Salvation Army, and they kicked it off in style Thursday.

The West Middle School choir and a brass band featuring a former local officer were the highlights as the Salvation Army jump-started the 2002 Red Kettle Campaign with a ceremony in front of the army's headquarters on Main Street.

"It's an exciting time of year for us," said Maj. Steve Hull, the local Salvation Army commander. "It's important for our service to the community because of the variety of activities at Christmas."

The army's goal is to collect $121,000 between now and the end of the drive Christmas Eve.

The band came from the Salvation Army's Southfield headquarters and featured Maj. Dallas Raby, who held Hull's job in Plymouth 25 years ago. Seventh graders from West Middle School then sang Christmas carols before the group adjourned to lunch.

After that, the real work starts, with the Army trying to coordinate volunteers for the kettle locations in Plymouth, Canton, Northville and Belleville.

Volunteers are still very much needed, with as many as 50 additional volunteers still required, said Kelly Zmudczynski, who is coordinating the Red Kettle.

Plymouth Township planners amend ARC limit

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

Officials at New Liberty Bank may have been headed back to the drawing board before the Plymouth Township Planning Commission saved them the trouble Wednesday night.

The commission voted unanimously to amend its zoning ordinance for the Ann Arbor Road Corridor to allow commissioners to grant height variances up to 38 feet, a move that may have saved the New Liberty Bank project in the township.

The city's planning commission took similar action Thursday. The amendments still must pass the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees and the Plymouth City Commission.

The ordinance currently only allows for buildings to hit 30 feet at the center of the roof in the corridor. When New Liberty, which is moving from its Main Street location and constructing a new building on Ann Arbor Road, got the final drawings on its project, bank officials found the building was going to be 38 feet high.

Rather than force the bank to resubmit the plan as a Planned Unit Development or go back to the drawing board, the commission voted to amend the ordinance.

"We've been working on this Ann Arbor Road Corridor zoning for 12 years," commissioner Kay Arnold said. "It's a living document, just like our master plan. As we see things that come in that fit, we can amend our ordinance. It's evolving to something better every time a new development comes in."

The amendment means bank officials will be able to

'We've been working on this Ann Arbor Road Corridor zoning for 12 years. It's a living document, just like our master plan. As we see things that come in that fit, we can amend our ordinance. It's evolving to something better every time a new development comes in.'

Kay Arnold
Plymouth Township planning commissioner

carry out the project without major changes. According to Bill Graham, the bank's chief financial officer, original projections had the new building about three feet higher than the ordinance allowed. When fire safety apparatus was figured in, the height grew a little taller.

The planning commission was initially considering simply extending the maximum height to 38 feet, instead, it amended the ordinance to allow commissioners to grant variances on a case-by-case basis.

"I don't know what we would have done," Graham said. "The building had a steeper-pitch roof than it currently is shown to have. The architects brought the roof-line down in order to conform to what the ordinance was calling for."

The highest point in the ceiling of the new building's lobby is currently 11-feet-6 inches, and it drops to an average height of 10 feet, according to Graham. When a building is too high, he said, one of the ways to conform is to shrink the space between floors.

"That means you'd have a very low interior ceiling height," Graham said. "At that point, the building is functional, but it doesn't give you much room to play aesthetically."

According to Arnold, commissioners wanted to make sure the project wouldn't have a negative impact on residents in the area. There are other buildings — a three-story office complex further east and the impending condo project on the old Sunshine Honda property — that already exceed the limit. Arnold said the township can expect more such developments.

"Every item that comes before us we deal with as an individual case as to where it's located, what it's going to look like and what are the advantages and disadvantages," Arnold said. "This amendment gives us the flexibility to do that."

Graham said excavation probably won't start until perhaps March. Bank officials hope to have the project completed by November 2003.

"The architects and builders suggested waiting because the building is all masonry," Graham said. "When you get into January and February, not much is going to happen because it's the worst part of the winter. Everyone thinks we're better off to put construction time off so you don't have to contend with winter conditions and the expense that goes with it."

Rotary honors top cops, firefighter

For the third year in a row, the Plymouth Rotary Club honored local law enforcement and fire officials during award ceremonies Friday afternoon.

The Plymouth Community Fire Department Fireman of the Year is Donald Hahn, the Plymouth Police Officer of the Year, Chris Lahtinen, and the Plymouth Township Officer of the Year is the team of Steven Cheston and his canine partner, Hogan.

Hahn has been the fire department's lead fire investigator the past 20 years. In his introduction of Hahn, Fire Chief Larry Groth said, "Many fires that have occurred over the years would have been written off as unknown to cause and origin. However, because of his dedication to this field, our fires are thoroughly investigated to cause and origin. These investigations, in certain cases, have led to determine the conclusion to be arson."

"He has proven himself to be a leader in the fire service," added Groth. "Even after 23 years, he still continues to engage in all training aspects of his job. This allows him to be on top of all the latest technology."

Hahn said he was surprised at receiving the Rotary award.

"It was very unexpected," he said. "The most rewarding aspect is serving the people of this community to make it a better place to live safely, and putting away some of the criminals in the area."

Plymouth Police Chief Wayne Carroll said Lahtinen has become known by his peers as 'bloodhound' for his work in fighting narcotic violations.

Over 77 percent of our narcotics violations have been initiated by this officer," said

Carroll. "But, it's not the sheer number of arrests that make such an impact in our community, rather, the stories behind those incidents that make you realize what differences can come about."

Lahtinen said it's the challenge that motivates him in fighting drugs in the Plymouth community.

"I enjoy sneaking around and catching people in the act," said Lahtinen, who has been a Plymouth police officer for just under two years. "I've really enjoyed my time here. Plymouth is a great community in which to work."

Cheston has been a Plymouth Township police officer since 1991, and became the community's first canine handler in 1999. Since then he's teamed with his canine partner, Hogan, and the pair have recorded nearly 500 canine incidents, such as vehicle searches, narcotics searches and other types of criminal activity.

"Steve and Hogan have apprehended burglary suspects and car thieves and located evidence from crimes that have helped solve open cases," said township Police Chief Tom Tidderington. "They have seized a total of $18,179 related to narcotics activities."

Rotary Club member John Folino, who chaired the ceremony, said the awards are a small way of thanking all public officials.

"There's been a collective change in the attitude people have towards law enforcement officers, firefighters and emergency personnel since 9/11," he said. "Maybe we were taking them for granted, and maybe the mood has changed to more of appreciation and respect."

Committee starts with charter review

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

Nearly two years after the Plymouth city commission authorized a Charter Review Committee, the nine-member group met for the first time Wednesday night to consider changes in the city charter.

"There are things that have evolved through the course of time that are no longer relevant, and the city commission would like you to do some corrective work on the charter," City Manager Paul Sincock told the committee.

The members will review the charter and recommend any changes to the city commission. City commissioners must have a three-fifths vote, or 5-2, on each of the recommendations before any can be put before the voters for approval.

It's the first time in 11 years a committee has been formed to critique the charter, making certain the city's constitution conforms with any new federal and state laws.

"Under state law, there are certain provisions in the city charter that have to be there, and other provisions are discretionary," said committee member, and former city commissioner, Sean Fitzgerald.

"Perhaps it might be useful to delineate the work of this committee along those lines, and start out with those subject matters that required by state law to be in the charter." Input from the city administration will be critical to this process because you are the ones who live with it and work with it every day," he told Sincock.

Bob Mundt suggested to his colleagues they consider a review of the boundaries of the city. A few chuckled, until Mundt told them "one of the boundaries is the railroad tracks, and that's undefined. If the railroad tracks get moved, then the city boundaries get moved, according to this."

"There's also things in this charter that are totally obsolete and we shouldn't spend any time on them at all," he said.

Mike Holmes suggested the city revise the charter to make it a fluid document that can easily be modified.

"As a matter of principle, we might consider having a living and breathing document that doesn't lock into today, in either terminology or structure, and provides flexibility to be changed, or adapt to changing circumstances," he said.

Jim Potter proposed using e-mail as a way of receiving input from city residents on possible changes in the city charter. "People have opinions, it's just a matter of being able to receive them," he said.

In its first decision, the committee decided not to name a chairperson, but instead have each member take the lead on a rotating basis.

"Chairpersons are not allowed to make motions, and they are supposed to be the last person to talk, so this may be best," said committee member Don Morgan. "This is a group that is equal in scope, range and dictatorial powers."

In 1991, the city commission appointed a charter committee, which made several recommendations to the city commission. It resulted in ballot questions being put forth to the voters.

The committee was disbanded after completing its work. And, that's what will happen to this Charter Review Committee after it completes its task.

The city charter came under attack in the 2001 city commission race, as some candidates suggested changing the process of electing the mayor.

The Charter Review Committee will hold its meetings on the third Wednesday of each month, beginning at 7 p.m. The committee will resume its schedule in January at City Hall. All meetings are open to the public.

Board paves way for Bosch abatement

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

The Robert Bosch Corp., one of the world's largest automotive suppliers, wants to build a new research and development site in Plymouth Township, and is going to need a tax abatement to do it.

On Tuesday, the Plymouth Township board took the first step in making that happen by approving the area where Bosch will build, at Haggerty and 5 Mile, as an Industrial Development District. Bosch's automotive headquarters is located in Farmington Hills.

The move clears the way for Bosch to purchase the property from its current owners, MAV Development Company, and build its new facility on some 75 acres in the area.

The request, made by MAV in an Oct. 16 letter, will allow Bosch to apply for an industrial facilities exemption certificate, once negotiations for the purchase of the property are completed. The township board will hear the request for the exemption at a public hearing set for Dec. 17.

According to township officials, MAV Development had planned an office complex with space for several leases on about 60 acres, which would have left an addition 15 acres in the area available for another developer.

Instead, if the agreement between Bosch and MAV works out, Bosch will develop the entire parcel, which will actually make it less dense, according to Supervisor Steve Mann.

"I think it's a lot more residential-friendly than the first proposal was," said Mann. "It's still going to be a large development, but it's a lot more residential-friendly."

According to Becky McDonald, Bosch's director of communications, the automotive supplier will use the development for research, development, applications engineering, sales and administrative offices. She couldn't say how many jobs that would bring to Plymouth Township.

"We have more employees in Farmington Hills than we have space for in the building we own in Farmington Hills," McDonald said. "We haven't made a decision on which division or functions would move, so I couldn't speculate on how many jobs there will be. We're doing a lot of analytical work right now."

Bosch's chances of getting the tax abatement they're looking for would seem to be pretty good. The Plymouth Township board as a general rule is favorable to such exemptions. In this case, even Clerk Marilyn Massengill, who generally votes against abatements on principle, said she might be able to support this one.

"It's a lot less dense than what was being proposed there," Massengill said.

FBI, state police probe McNamara files, aides

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

A search of Wayne County Executive offices Friday morning extended to Livonia where authorities intercepted Edward McNamara's deputy en route to work.

Authorities showed up at the Gary Street home of Mary Zuckerman around 7:30 a.m. An FBI agent and a Michigan State Police investigator wanted to question Zuckerman, who declined to answer queries until she had an attorney present.

The sweep shifted to Detroit where about 15-20 FBI agents and Michigan State Police investigators seized a number of files while executing a search warrant at the Wayne County building and at McNamara's campaign headquarters in Greektown. At this point in time, we don't know the basis for this investigation," McNamara said during a press conference Friday morning. "We hope this is not politically motivated."

No arrest warrants or indictments are pending, noted McNamara, who is retiring at the end of the year after 16 years as county executive.

Subpoenas were served to McNamara's executive secretary, Jan Porter, former office manager, Lisa Moore, and executive assistant, Darlene Nero, to appear before a grand jury.

The FBI cordoned off the county building's third floor during its investigation, an unnamed source said. However, McNamara's office wasn't one of those searched, reports said during the visit, but a county spokeswoman didn't know the subject of documents seized.

"They have been gathering files all day," said June West, McNamara's spokeswoman.

"We've been cooperating fully."

Some sources in the county executives office speculated the investigation is a slow response to state Senate hearings on the awarding of Metropolitan Airport contracts. Another county executive source suggested the probe is possibly related to Attorney General Jennifer Granholm's report on airport contracts, which she turned over to the state police.

"The wheels of justice turn slowly," the person said. West disputed reports that called Friday's action a raid. "This was definitely not a raid," she said.

Wires down

Michalina Katona, a Plymouth Township resident who works at the Bistro 550 in Westchester Square, looks at the damage a fallen light pole may have caused to her car along with Plymouth Community Firefighter Chuck Mann in the parking lot behind the shopping center on Forest Ave. in downtown Plymouth Friday afternoon. Another motorist accidentally backed into the light pole, which fell in the parking lot, bringing the live electrical wire to rest atop several cars in the lot. Firefighters waited for several hours for DTE energy crews to clean up the mess. No one was injured and only a small amount of damage occurred, fire officials said.

"I need as many as I can get," Zmudczynski said. "We're pretty low."

Hot spots include places such as Target stores and grocery stores. The corps is also having trouble staffing its Belleville bell locations, where the Salvation Army is trying its kettle drive for the third year, Zmudczynski said.

"We're very, very new out there. We're providing services there, in Van Buren Township and in Sumpter Township, but we're having trouble getting people to ring out there. It's a very big concern."

The biggest problem, Zmudczynski said, is simple

Ashley Jorgensen of Canton 11 applies eyeliner during a stage makeup session

Mariel Collins of Canton 13 laughs during an improvisational comedy acting session as part of Middle School Drama Day at the Plymouth Canton Educational Park Saturday Nov. 9. Middle School students from throughout the district had an opportunity to learn about improv acting, stage fighting and stage makeup in the all-day workshop hosted by drama teacher Shannon Henry and the Park Players.

Henry By exploring another character or culture they learn a lot about themselves.

Henry's class gave students an insight into acting, including voice and movement improvisation, theatrical makeup, technical theater, which includes lighting and set design, as well as stage combat.

Stage combat is important, said Henry. Actors need to learn the safety techniques of fighting on stage, which sounds easy, but in reality can be hard.

At the end of the daylong workshop, students were able to show the best of what they learned.

The stage combat was really fun, and my girlfriend and I got to fight on stage, said Sigworth. All the others thought we were really fighting and that was cool.

Henry said the workshop also provided students with an opportunity to learn to work together.

It was a diverse group of kids, and they respected that diversity. It helps develop camaraderie, she said.

The workshop cost $25 per student, with the profit going to a fund to raise money for renovations at the Al DuBois Little Theater at Canton High School.

It's going to cost about $200,000 for improvements such as lighting, sound and curtains, said Henry. We made about $800 from the workshop.

But we've got a long way to go. Thus far, we've raised about

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS AND PREGNANCY
 What drugs used in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis are safe in pregnancy? Since women in the child-bearing years are at the greatest risk for developing rheumatoid arthritis, this question of drug safety has received serious attention from the medical community.

The following represent current understanding by physicians as to what rheumatologist medications are safe during pregnancy and which are not.

A woman in the last 3 months of the pregnancy should not take any arthritis drug in the class called the NSAIDs (nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs). This group includes most naproxen, celecoxib, rofecoxib, etanercept. The reason is that these medications cause an early closure of a blood vessel called the ductus arteriosus which connects the fetal pulmonary artery to the aorta. Keep this connection open until the end of neonatal respiration.

Using pain relievers during pregnancy is safe before the second trimester. The patient must avoid the drug Plaquenil, which is so acceptable but physicians must avoid use of these doses.

Other drugs used to treat rheumatoid arthritis are not recommended. These medications include Methotrexate, Aza, Enbrel, and Remicade. Drugs such as Azulfidine or immunaran may be used but with caution.

Fortunately, pregnancy often brings on a remission in the arthritis and allows you to avoid making difficult or risky decisions.

seeking permission to have the Wayne County sheriff's department evict Flynn and his company. Sincock said the eviction could be stalled if Flynn appeals the property decision by Thomas.

City Finance Director Mark Christiansen said A&E Holdings failed to pay taxes in all but two years from 1979 to 2000. The total tax bill is approximately $1.2 million, but interest and penalties have pushed the debt past $3 million. The City of Plymouth is expecting to keep about $350,000. Plymouth-Canton Schools, Wayne County and other taxing authorities would divide the remainder.

Meanwhile, a Dec. 18 hearing in U.S. District Court in Detroit was scheduled Friday to address the federal lawsuit filed by Broe Rehabilitation Services against the city, which claims housing discrimination against the disabled.

The city's building department ticketed three homes on Farmer Street, owned by Timothy Broe, for conducting businesses in a residential neighborhood.

However, the Farmington Hills company said it provides interdisciplinary services to the traumatically brain-injured, and patients live at the homes owned and operated by Broe Rehabilitation Services.

In the federal lawsuit, Broe is seeking a temporary restraining order or a preliminary injunction, claiming "that unless the court orders a preliminary injunction, handicapped residents will suffer further deprivation of their rights to be free from discrimination based upon handicap and/or disability."

On the same day as the federal lawsuit, the two sides are expected in 35th District Court in Plymouth concerning the tickets. That hearing could be postponed, pending a ruling by Judge Robert Cleland in federal court.

Lynn Gill, interim president of the Old Village Homeowners Association, said her group will do everything possible to help the city.

They (Broe) had threatened before they would go to federal court. I guess it's just as well, she said. "I think part of their strategy is to wear us down, but we're in it for the long haul."

COURTESY PLYMOUTH CANTON COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

Plymouth Canton Community Schools Interim Superintendent Jim Ryan congratulates Hoben Elementary Learning Specialist Colleen Mohacs as former principal Joyce Deren applauds. Hoben received a 2002 Golden Apple award from the state in recognition of improved performance on the fourth and fifth grade Michigan Educational Assessment Program tests. The staff and faculty celebrated Thursday morning with a brief presentation by Ryan and breakfast in the school's cafeteria.

Elementary wins state's Golden Apple

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

Fourth grade teacher Catherine Winowiecki said the selection of Hoben Elementary as a recipient of a 2002 Golden Apple award was a defining moment in her 31 years of teaching.

It was very emotional for me and I was deeply touched, said Winowiecki, who has taught at Hoben the past 15 years. "It's the most precious thing in the world to teach children and know that you affect their lives everyday."

The staff at Hoben will be awarded a 2002 Golden Apple award next month by the State of Michigan in recognition of improved performance on the fourth and fifth-grade Michigan Educational Assessment Program tests.

Hoben is the first school in the Plymouth Canton district ever to receive the honor and is only one of 127 Michigan schools this year to be given recognition. The award is presented to schools that improve MEAP scores by a total of 60 points in math, reading, writing and science over a three-year period.

We have a very dedicated staff and this was a team effort, said Winowiecki. This is something we will always treasure. I hope it motivates our parents, children and staff to keep working hard.

The Golden Apple award includes a $10,000 stipend which can be used for any school improvements that upgrade the quality of education for students, such as books, computers, technology and building enhancements.

Previous Golden Apple awards came with $50,000, however, state budget cuts reduced the amount.

It's just such an honor to have someone outside our school community recognize what we're doing, said Joyce Deren, who was Hoben principal for 11 years before retiring last summer.

The Hoben staff gathered Thursday morning before the start of the celebration

Our goal has always been continuous improvement, and we still are on that road because there's still work to be done," she said.

But, it's nice to stop a moment, take a breath and celebrate."

Deren said she and her staff developed specific goals to improve MEAP scores of the fourth and fifth graders.

As a staff, we had a very definite plan about what we needed to do in terms of reading and writing, she said. "We looked at what we needed to teach and at what students had to do to meet state standards."

The whole thing about the MEAP is how do you take students who are in the very lowest area and bring their scores up, added Deren. They need intensive help.

Hoben Principal Liz Vartaman Gibbs said one of her goals is to continue the upward trend in MEAP scores.

The Golden Apple award and trophy will be given to Hoben Elementary during ceremonies Dec. 12.

Skaters flock to county's Concrete Jungle

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Westland's long-awaited skate park, Concrete Jungle, opened Saturday amid much fanfare from skateboarders, parents and city leaders, who praised the community's newest venture in youth recreation.

Eddie Domka, 13, became one of 230 skateboarders and in-line skaters to sign up to use the 17,000-square-foot facility, built next to the Bailey Recreation Center off of Ford Road.

"I thought it was awesome," said Domka, a Stevenson Middle School eighth grader who visited the skate park with friend Jacob Freeman, also 13. "It was my first time ever going to a skate park, and I was really excited to go."

Domka got his first skateboard last Christmas, but, like many of the sport's fans, he hasn't had a facility close to home that he could use.

That all changed Saturday as Mayor Sandra Cicirelli and other city leaders unveiled the $370,000 skate park, paid for with a Wayne County recreation grant and money from donors.

The ceremony capped a nearly three-year effort and drew a crowd estimated by Westland Parks and Recreation Director Robert Kosowski at 350 people.

"I didn't know what to expect," Kosowski said, "but it was packed."

Concrete Jungle got its name from a 6-year-old Westland boy, Travis Moran, who beat out more than 100 youngsters that entered a name-the-park contest. He will receive free admission for a year.

Accomplished skateboarders showed off their skills during Saturday's ceremony, impressing upstarts as well as adults who don't ever plan to try the sport.

"It's totally amazing what they can do on those skateboards," Kosowski said.

Skateboarders have complimented Concrete Jungle's design, saying they believe the park will be a popular destination for youngsters, particularly during the summer when school isn't in session.

Here are a few tips for skaters:

TOM HAWLEY | OBSERVER

Joshua Robertson of Plymouth, with Simplicity Board Sports of Canton and Day Kare Skateboard Company, flies off the fly box at the new Westland skate park grand opening Saturday outside the Bailey Center.

■ Concrete Jungle will be open every day, weather permitting. For now, hours will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends and noon to 5 p.m. weekdays.

■ Park users younger than 18 will have to bring a parent or guardian to sign waiver forms during their first visit. Skaters may opt to take the paper work home, but they will have to get it notarized.

■ Admission is $3 for Wayne County youth younger than 18 and $5 for their counterparts from outside the county.

Wayne County adults will pay $5, non-resident adults, $7. All fees, including monthly and yearly passes, will be revisited during spring budget talks.

■ Skate safety attire is required. For those who don't have them, helmets may be rented at the Bailey Center for $3 each. Elbow pads may be rented for $1, as may knee pads.

Road rage hearing delayed

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A retired Detroit police officer will have to wait to learn whether she will stand trial amid accusations she caused a road rage incident by waving her revolver at a Westland man as he drove along Ann Arbor Trail with his three daughters.

Phyllis Rochelle Tower's court hearing, scheduled for Thursday morning, has been delayed until Dec. 5 as defense attorney Christopher Drouillard continues to depict her as wrongly accused.

Tower, 51, could face up to four years in prison, if convicted of felonious assault for an Oct. 26 incident involving a 42-year-old man who was driving west on Ann Arbor Trail near Middlebelt.

The Westland man told police that a woman in a Chevy Lumina trailed him too closely, yelled obscenities at him, blew her car horn and waved a revolver out of her window after he was slow in driving off from a green traffic light.

He was with his three daughters, ages 9 to 16, and he told police he warned the girls to crouch down amid fears they could be hurt.

But Drouillard maintained that Tower, a Canton resident, acted in self-defense after a man much larger than she was got out of his truck and walked back toward her car. She had a permit to carry a gun.

"It gives rise to a self-defense claim, if he was out of his car walking toward her," Drouillard said. "She pulled the gun because she was in fear for her life. She was in fear of being assaulted."

The male driver initially told authorities that he got out of his truck, but then changed his story and maintained that he didn't, according to police reports. Either way, police said, he shouldn't have been threatened with a .357-caliber revolver.

Tower was arrested a short time after the incident in Canton, but she was freed on a $10,000 personal bond after she was arraigned Oct. 28 in front of Westland District Judge C. Charles Bokos.

Did you know trucks take longer to stop?

When a truck driver hits the brakes at 55 mph, it takes more than the length of a football field for the rig to come to a stop. Don't pull in front of a truck, then slow or stop quickly to make a turn or exit. Allow the truck driver time and distance to brake.

Top cops honored for auto theft busts through HEAT

BY LEANNE ROGERS
STAFF WRITER

Three officers from the Western Wayne Auto Theft Unit were recently honored as 2001 investigators of the year by Help Eliminate Auto Theft.

Based in Livonia, HEAT operates a tip line to gather information about vehicle thefts. The information is passed on to the appropriate law enforcement agency. WWATU is a regional investigation unit drawing officers from local departments and the Michigan State Police, which supervises the unit.

In an investigation that began in May 2001, Detective Larry Fortier executed a Bureau of Automotive Regulation inspection at Auto Tech Collision, 10501 W. Eight Mile in Detroit.

After vehicles and records showed a possible pattern of insurance fraud, Fortier followed up and eventually obtained felony warrants on two employees for receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 and insurance fraud.

Over the next year, Fortier executed six separate search warrants and seized five vehicles as part of his investigation. A Detroit Police officer assigned to auto theft unit, Fortier also seized more than $183,000 in accounts held by Auto Tech owner Art Danou.

"During this time, Detective Fortier spent countless hours pouring over numerous boxes of records associated with Auto Tech and meeting with Wayne County Assistant Prosecutor Rod Hassinger, who eventually authorized charges on the owner of Auto Tech," said Michigan State Police Lt. William Darnell, who heads the auto theft team.

The result was a 56-count warrant on Danou and Auto Tech Collision for operating a continuing criminal enterprise, a 20-year felony, obtaining money under false pretenses and conspiracy to commit insurance fraud.

In May 2002, Danou pled guilty to operating a criminal enterprise agreeing to pay the Western Wayne Auto Theft Team $100,000, $50,000 to the prosecutor's office, and to reimburse several insurance companies $100,000 for insurance frauds that were committed.

According to the prosecutor's office, this was the largest payment made to an auto theft team/prosecutor's office in Wayne County. In addition, Danou agreed to give up his collision shop and agreed to not have anything to do with the auto repair business for five years.

"It is my opinion that without Detective Fortier's hard work and persistence, this case would have never come to a successful conclusion," said Darnell, who also credited Hassinger's time and auto theft law expertise with greatly enhancing efforts to prosecute the case.

Detectives Robert Greene of the Van Buren Police Department and Carl Arnett of the Belleville Police Department were honored for their efforts investigating a case involving several people who had burned a 1999 Chevy S-10 pick-up in Van Buren Township in October 2001.

The suspects filed claims with AAA and were paid off for the truck. After several weeks of investigation, the officers received a consent for a search at the address in Van Buren Township. Using a backhoe, officers found the truck in parts buried in the backyard.

Arnett interviewed several of the suspects and four gave statements implicating themselves and a fifth person. Warrants were obtained charging five people on a total of 12 counts of insurance fraud, receiving and concealing stolen property over $1,000 and filing a false police report.

Four of the defendants have pled guilty, with the charges against the fifth person still pending.

Darnell praised the efforts of Arnett and Greene, who returned to duties at the Van Buren Police Department before the case concluded but continued to lend his expertise.

"The other case (Auto Tech) is much bigger, but it's really two different kinds of cases, like comparing apples and oranges," said Darnell. "They did a nice job from a case that was so old. They had to track down these people."

This case developed through information that came through the HEAT tip line, Darnell said.

"For HEAT, the fact is nothing is ever too small — one truck being burned or a large continuing criminal enterprise," said Darnell. "HEAT is willing to take the call about the little ones that add up."

Information about vehicle crimes and related insurance fraud can be submitted to the HEAT tip line at 800-242-HEAT.

Helpful hints for travelers

Confirm flight schedules first: Passengers should check with their airline reservation centers on the web or through their airline toll free phone lines to confirm flight schedules. Airline "800" numbers and website links are available on the airport's website at www.metroairport.com

Arrive early: New security procedures may cause delays at the airline ticket counters and passenger screening checkpoints. Plan on arriving at DTW at least two to three hours before scheduled departure times. This should allow ample time for parking, check-in and passenger screening.

Tune to 920 AM: Motorists within three to four miles of DTW can tune their radio dials to 920 AM for general airport information.

Parking Tips: Airport management is recommending that travelers call the airport's 24-hour parking hotline (800-642-1978) to determine parking status. The hotline is staffed round-the-clock by parking employees with up-to-the-minute parking information at the airport.

There is plenty of parking available at Detroit Metro Airport! Economy parking, with shuttle service, is still available in the airport's red and green lots at the north end of the airport, and travelers are reminded that website coupons for long-term parking in the airport's Big Blue Deck are still available by visiting www.metroairport.com. Valet parking is still available at the McNamara Terminal parking garage, as are long-term and short-term parking.

Strict curbside greeting procedures: Due to new federal regulations, motorists are not allowed to idle at terminal curbsides. Terminal curbsides are open, but are reserved for active loading and unloading of passengers only. Unattended vehicles at the curbsides are prohibited, and may be ticketed and towed.

Curbside check-IN: Curbside check-in is operating for most airline carriers.

Passenger screening checkpoints: Passengers may experience long lines at the security checkpoints due to enhanced screening procedures. These lines vary according to the time of day. However, airport management is still advising passengers to allow extra time, 2 hours for domestic flights and 3 hours for international flights. Only passengers with boarding passes will be allowed through the airline passenger screening checkpoints.

Luggage: Luggage ID tags should be filled out, both on the inside and outside of bags, before arrival to the airport. Passengers are allowed one carry-on bag, plus a purse or briefcase. Remember to pack valuables such as jewelry, cameras, medication, passports, and money in carry-on luggage.

Meeters & Greeters: Since only ticketed passengers are permitted beyond passenger screening checkpoints, meeters and greeters are encouraged to identify a meeting place beforehand with their party. A suggested meeting place is the airline luggage claim areas.

Passengers can expect big changes at Metro Airport

BY JOHN HALL
CORRESPONDENT

Thanksgiving holiday travelers should expect to see a lot of new looks this year at Detroit Metropolitan Airport (DTW) — both from a security and aesthetic point of view. Travelers should still expect the usual crush of people and flights but they should also be prepared for some big changes, which may make it necessary to leave even earlier than usual.

"One of the biggest misconceptions about holiday travel at the airport is parking," said DTW spokesman Brian Lassaline. "We have plenty of parking available at Metro Airport especially around the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays, because of a decline in business travel at these times. In addition, this year we have a beautiful new 11,500-space parking structure adjacent to our new McNamara Terminal, which provides travelers with even more parking options."

"Travelers can also park in the airport's red and green economy lots at the north end of the airport, or take advantage of the airport's website coupon program (www.metroairport.com) for a great parking value in the airport's Big Blue Deck across from the L. C. Smith Terminal." Shuttle buses pick up on the first and third levels of the Big Blue Deck every 15 minutes for trips to all of Metro Airport's terminals.

"The Wednesday before (Nov. 27) and the Sunday after Thanksgiving (Dec. 1) are typically two of the busiest travel days of the year at Detroit Metro Airport," said Lester Robinson, director of airports. "Since this is the first Thanksgiving holiday that our new McNamara Terminal/Northwest WorldGateway has been open, many passengers will notice quite an improvement in their travel experience, from past seasons."

DTW will also have several programs

Thanksgiving will be the first time many travelers will be using the new McNamara Terminal at Metro Airport. The terminal features an overhead monorail and moving sidewalks.

to help boost travelers' holiday spirit, and make traveling through the airport this holiday season more convenient and enjoyable, including a special appearance by the Radio City Rockettes on Wednesday, Nov. 27. The Rockettes will be promoting their "Christmas Spectacular" at the Fox Theatre by passing out candy canes and entertaining

NEW SCREENING PROCEDURES

Effective Tuesday, Nov. 19, the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) began requiring all travelers flying out of DTW to obtain their boarding passes prior to entering the passenger screening checkpoints.

E-ticket receipts, itineraries and vouchers will no longer allow access through the screening checkpoints. In addition, passengers 18 years of age or older must show a valid government issued photo ID when passing through the checkpoints.

For e-ticket holders, boarding passes can be obtained from the airline ticket counters, sky-cap curbside check-in booths, or any of the e-ticket kiosks throughout the airport by certain airlines, or passengers should check with their airline as to how to obtain a boarding pass.

The new procedures are part of a TSA pilot program being tested at DTW as well as Los Angeles and San Bernardino airports to make aircraft boarding quicker and more convenient. The TSA expects to implement these new procedures soon at all U.S. airports.

"We are happy to work with the TSA in any way we can," said Robinson. "These procedures, while new to some, should make the passenger boarding process much smoother and more convenient for our travelers."

THE BIG CHANGES

Since last Thanksgiving, the look of DTW has changed dramatically with the addition of the Edward H. McNamara Terminal in late February 2002. Below are some of the highlighted changes.

According to DTW spokesperson Mike Conway, the new terminal has dramatically improved the convenience, efficiency and travel experience for passengers flying Metro Airport's hub carrier, Northwest Airlines. Passengers traveling through the new terminal are treated to an aesthetically pleasing terminal with high ceilings, natural light and over 100 ticket counter positions and 90 e-ticket machines.

Directly across from the new McNamara Terminal is the 11,500-space parking structure, which nearly doubled the amount of available parking for Metro's travelers. The new garage features long-term, short-term, and valet parking options and connects to the new McNamara Terminal via a climate-controlled pedestrian bridge.

John Dingell Drive, formerly referred to as the airport's South Access Road, provides airport travelers with access to the airport off of Eureka Road and I-275 to the airport's south. Access to the airport is now available from I-94 and Merriman, to the north, or from I-275 and Eureka to the south.

"Because pleasure travelers around this time of year tend to be picked up and dropped off at the airport, our terminal curbsides are what tend to become congested," added Lassaline. "Travelers are reminded that the curbsides are reserved for active loading and unloading only — and this will be strictly enforced by airport police. We recommend that friends and family picking up travelers, park in one of the airport's nearby short term lots and meet their party at a predesignated location, such as the airline baggage claim areas."

TURKEY SALAD WITH CRANBERRY FETA DRESSING

- 1 head red leaf lettuce
- 12-16 slices cooked turkey
- 1/2 cup Ocean Spray® Craisins® Original Sweetened Dried Cranberries
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1 cup whole berry cranberry sauce
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 cup crumbled feta cheese
- 1/2 cup oil

Line 4 salad plates with lettuce. Arrange 3 or 4 slices of turkey on plates. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons each of sweetened dried cranberries and pecans. Set aside. Put cranberry sauce, vinegar, sugar and half of the feta cheese in a blender. Blend for a few seconds on high speed. Remove the cap in the center of the blender lid, place lid back on blender. With the blender running, slowly add oil through the hole in the lid. Stir in remaining feta cheese. Serve salad with dressing drizzled on top or on the side. Makes 4 salads.

'Tis the season to bake cookies

BY LANA MINI
STAFF WRITER

Dolores Padgett and her crew at Baker's Rack in Plymouth are laying out cookie cutters, stocking up on chocolate, and getting out the red and green sprinkles in anticipation of cookie orders that will start pouring in after Thanksgiving.

"During Thanksgiving people want pies," she said. "At Christmas, we sell a lot of cookies."

Mary Denning is also preparing for the holiday cookie rush at Mary Denning's Pastry Shoppe in Westland. Even though many cookies aren't too difficult to make at home — like chocolate chip or thumbprint — many people are just too busy to bake.

"People have bought cookies from me for their cookie exchange," Denning said with a laugh. "They don't tell anyone that they were purchased — our cookies are baked fresh with homemade dough."

Good cookies can still be made quickly.

Gadgets like the cookie press will shape sugar cookie dough easily. Denning says simple recipes like butter cookies that have limited ingredients are difficult to run.

"A good basic butter cookie is easy. And once you master the recipe, it can be built on."

The most common cookie error is over-mixing, Denning said.

Cream and butter are the cookie "cement" that is creamed first. Eggs give the lightness, and the dry ingredients are the "brick," she said.

"There is a reason why we mix things in the order listed by the recipe. Some ingredients need only a little bit of mixing. If not, the cookies will not be right."

Over-mixing can add too much air to dense doughs like chocolate chip and ruin the consistency, said Jeff Pavlik, owner of Farmington Bakery in Farmington. Over-whipping can cause the dough to spread to thin or thick, he said.

Chocolate Cookie Bears were developed for kids who are learning their way around the kitchen. Of course, a grown-up should supervise in the baking task but even young kids can handle the decorating process.

ond big error is over-baking. Cookies bake on the sheet for at least one minute after they are removed from the oven," Denning said.

Her baking tip — always use real butter for the best flavor. Keeping butter at room temperature is also crucial, said Pavlik. Heating cold butter in a microwave is not a good idea because it results in uneven dough texture.

TEDIOUS COOKIES ARE POPULAR

The most popular types of cookies are also the most tedious to bake, Pavlik said. For example, cutout cookies are time-consuming because the dough is constantly being rolled and rerolled. Farmington Bakery sells many hand-cut holiday cookies to customers looking to save time, he said.

Gingerbread cookies are tedious to bake and therefore are big-sellers for Pavlik. For families who like to decorate gingerbread cookies, Farmington Bakery also sells them undecorated.

The popularity of the cookie flavor depends on the age group, said Denning, who lives in Garden City and is the advanced pastry instructor at Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn.

"The most popular are definitely shortbread and sugar cutouts," Padgett said. "Candy canes, Santa faces and wreath shapes — we'll sell more than 90 dozen of them."

At Denning's shop, children almost always choose cookies with either frosting, M&M's or sprinkles. Those toppings can be added to a simple butter cookie. Adults, she said, request old-fashioned comfort cookies — chocolate chip, gingerbread, macaroon, oatmeal and peanut butter.

Just last week, Denning took an order for chocolate chip cookies that will be sent to an American serviceman in Kuwait who is missing Christmas in Michigan this year.

For holiday parties, she recommends heavier fruit cookies, such as cherry nut, date or orange walnut Russian tea cakes topped with confectioner's sugar can add a touch of elegance to cookie platters, Denning said.

Bar cookies are the easiest to make at home for those who still want home-baked treats, Pavlik said.

"Mix the dough, put it in a greased baking dish and bake all at once," Pavlik said. "It's a lot easier than working egg whites for meringue cookies or preparing gingerbread dough."

FAMILY EVENTS

Parents and children can work together to decorate a gingerbread cookie house with frosting, candy and other sugary treats. 1-3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 1, or 6:30-8:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2 at Denning's shop, 8306 N. Wayne Road, Westland. The cost is $30. Call (734) 261-3680 for information. Reservations recommended. "The kids love it because they can take home their creation," she said. "Food brings people together and isn't that what the holidays are about?"

Main in Northville is offering a holiday cookie baking class 7-9 p.m. Monday, Dec. 2. Participants will learn to make cuccidati, an Italian fig cookie that goes nicely with espresso, raspberry-linzer

Choose zinfandel for your Thanksgiving feast

Thanksgiving, like the Fourth of July, is uniquely American. We give thanks for all the blessings bestowed on those of us who are privileged to call ourselves Americans.

As one of few varieties grown almost exclusively in the United States, zinfandel is now recognized as a great American tradition. Call it a taste of Americana in its own right. As such, zinfandel is a great wine for Thanksgiving. Those we've recommended in the Wine Picks that follow have the balance and richness to stand up to the big tastes of foods in a traditional Thanksgiving feast.

Focus on Wine

Yet, over the years, Thanksgiving foods have evolved into a complex collection of aromas, flavors and textures that reflect the multicultural diversity of America. Because zinfandel is rich, but not too rich, and also complemented by a spicy character, it stands up well to ethnic foods.

ZINFANDEL'S ROOTS

Although it is one of California's oldest grape varieties, zinfandel is not a native species. We know that early zinfandel plantings flourished in the soils and climate of locations such as Sonoma County, Calif., where the first wave of European emigrants planted it. The gold rush era saw it flourish in California's Amador foothills, and this continues today.

For many years, zinfandel's exact origin was up for academic debate. Its roots were traced to southern Italy and eastern Europe. DNA testing in the early 1990s indicated that it was a cousin of the primitive grape. Further research led scientists to Croatia, where renowned grapevine geneticist Carole Meredith, Ph.D., from the University of California-Davis, discovered a close relationship between zinfandel and the plavac mali grape, which is native to the Dalmatian Coast.

WINE

Determined to discover the true origin of zinfandel, Meredith continued her search. On Dec 18, 2001, through DNA profiling, she concluded that the grape crljenak kastelanski, indigenous to Croatia, and zinfandel are the same grape. Meredith suspects, however, that although crljenak kastelanski has been grown in Croatia for hundreds of years, it may have originally come from Greece or Albania.

ZIN IN CALIFORNIA

More than 32,000 acres of zinfandel vines are now planted in California wine regions. It ranks second only to cabernet sauvignon in red wine popularity.

Some plantings are 50-100 years old, and generally wines with greater concentration and complexity are crafted from these old and gnarled vines.

When a winery bottles a zinfandel from ancient vines, the label usually indicates this. Examples are Martini Gnarly Vine, Seghesio Old Vine, Kunde Century Vines, Rodney Strong Knotty Vines and Dry Creek Heritage Clone.

Independent of its origins or where it is grown in California, zinfandel's intrinsic deep color, zesty bramble bush berry, cherry and blackberry fruit with complex, spicy characters and great structure make it an ideal choice for the Thanksgiving feast.

Potatoes play savory role in holiday feast side dishes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The centerpiece of the family Thanksgiving feast is most often the legendary turkey. Almost as important on most tables, however, are the beloved side dishes we look forward to as much as the main event. Potatoes are a favorite choice to play this essential supporting role, sometimes in classic mashed form, sometimes in tasty alternative guise.

Some of those alternatives are very easy to make. Here are two recipes for festive potato dishes from home cooks who have had plenty of experience, as wives of leaders in the Idaho potato industry

GARLIC POTATOES

- 3 medium (6 to 8 ounces each) potatoes well scrubbed
- Cooking spray
- Pepper to taste
- 1/2 stick butter (1/4 cup)
- 1 medium onion, chopped (about 3/4 cup)
- 1 teaspoon garlic salt

Preheat oven to 400° F. Spray a loaf pan or small casserole with cooking spray. Slice potatoes, with skins on, into pan or dish. Season with pepper.

In a small saucepan, over medium heat, saute butter with chopped onion and garlic salt for 5 minutes, or until onions are soft. Pour onion mixture over the potatoes.

Cover pan with foil and bake for 35 to 40 minutes. Or, place pan on a medium-hot grill for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Chorus gives voice to patriotic songs on CD

Ready for a break from Muzak holiday tunes?

The Ford Motor Company Chorus may have just what you need.

It's called Liberty - a collection of patriotic songs and American standards that guarantee to move you to march, sing or get a little misty-eyed. "We had it in our files and we sang it last summer for the Canton Liberty Fest. I almost broke down. It just grabs you. Liberty," said chorus member Tom Morgan of Livonia. "This is a perfect (patriotic tribute) to put on the CD player. It's very heart-touching if you are an American and you love your country."

Narration weaves together patriotic songs such as The Star-Spangled Banner, Yankee Doodle, You're a Grand Old Flag, America, The Beautiful and My Country 'Tis of Thee. Several military tunes, including Caissons Go Rolling Along and When Johnny Comes Marching Home, salute the armed forces. The group also sings familiar American folk songs, including I've Been Workin' On the Railroad and O Susanna.

"It's a live concert and you can tell when you listen to it," Morgan described the CD, which was recorded at St. Michael Church, Livonia. "You might even hear a sneeze or cough in the background."

He said the live performance adds excitement to the CD recording and that listeners may feel moved to sing along with the familiar music.

"There's probably no song there that hasn't been heard before," he said.

The Liberty CD also gave students from several high school choirs a chance to record.

"We sent letters out to choral directors across the state, asking for their five best students," Morgan said. "We took kids from 13 high schools and they recorded a song called 50 States in Rhyme. Students came from as far away as Houghton Lake High and as near as Garden City and Plymouth Salem high schools.

The chorus has toured throughout Michigan, singing songs from the CD, which was released in July.

"We recently went to Crosswell, north of Port Huron, where we were asked to do a patriotic concert. We do travel."

The 70-member chorus, made up of Ford employees or their close relatives, also has toured abroad. The group sang a Mass at St. Peter Basilica in Rome five years ago. Other trips took the singers to Germany, France and Austria.

"The chorus actually started out as a recreational group for employees at Ford in the 1940s," Morgan said. "We are like family."

The group rehearses Monday nights at Ford's world headquarters in Dearborn. Ford employees and their families may join without an audition.

"We also have The Tempos which is an audition group. It's about 20 people and we do a lot harder music than the chorus. We sing at smaller parties."

Listen to the full chorus will sing holiday music at its annual Christmas concert, 3 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15, at Ford Community and Performing Arts Center, Dearborn.

Focus on Photography

Monte Nagler

'Wander' on your vacation to find great photography subjects

Every so often when planning your travels, try to include a "wandering" trip. I do them often and they sure pay off with rewarding photographs.

What do I mean by a "wandering" trip? It's one where there is no set itinerary, no set plans, just getting there and wandering or hanging loose during the journey. Sometimes it's not even knowing where you might be from day to day or where you might be spending the evening. Sound exciting? You bet! And your photographs will be all the better.

Whether it's a local photography trip for a few days or an extended vacation overseas, wandering is an exciting way to go. Often, it's the way of seeing and photographing real people and real places.

On a trip to Hawaii, I decided to wander for a few days. I was on the island of Oahu and wanted to see what out-of-the-way places awaited me and my camera. I had no itinerary, just a few days to roam. I drove all around the island finding many photographic opportunities from sensational coastal shots to lush gardens and interesting tropical vegetation.

One of my favorite stops is shown in the picture here. It's called the Byodoin Temple and is a magical place to photograph. I literally stumbled onto this wealth of picture possibilities. I felt I had suddenly been "beamed" to the Orient. Careful composition and exposure produced one of my most memorable pictures of the trip.

You'll be amazed at what you'll encounter on a wandering trip. You'll have a great time and will be proud of your photographs.

These books make perfect holiday gifts for children

BY VICKI DIAZ
CORRESPONDENT

Next time you face the holiday rush, why not take this column along? It's a list of six titles guaranteed to gladden the hearts of young readers on The Day Each book is easy to find and easy to wrap. Also important: No assembly and not a single battery required.

■ Henry Hikes to Fitchburg, by D B Johnson (Houghton Mifflin, $15 00, ages 5-9)

Selected by the New York Times as one of the year's 10 Best Illustrated Books, this charming adventure introduces kids to the likes of Henry David Thoreau, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Nathaniel Hawthorne, and Bronson Alcott, although not one of them makes an actual appearance. In the book, the bearish title character and an ursine friend make a deal as they plan a visit to Fitchburg. Henry will walk, they decide, but his friend will work until he's earned enough to buy a train ticket to the city, then they'll see who gets there first. The tale is supposedly based on a real occurrence in Thoreau's life. Endnotes feature fun facts on the famous Americans, and the blocky, colorful illustrations are sure to entertain and amuse.

■ I Walk at Night, by Lois Duncan, illustrated by Steve Johnson and Lou Fancher (Viking, $15 99, ages 5-9)

Another selection on the aforementioned New York Times list, I Walk at Night packs special appeal for feline fans of all ages. In it, a sleek calico tells us her nighttime tale ("when your eyelids close/I tread on silken toes./Drawn by sweet memories/of caves and jungle trees"). The midnight-blue and dreamy-green illustrations perfectly complement the gentle, evocative verse.

■ The Boy Who Ran to the Woods, by Jim Harrison, illustrated by Tom Pohrt (Atlantic Monthly Press, $18 95, ages 8-up)

Written by a noted Michigan author and illustrated by an Ann Arbor artist, this enthralling story about childhood tragedy is set in Michigan's north woods. Jimmy, a high-strung seven-year-old (his family calls him a "wild child"), loses an eye in an accident and eventually finds himself through the articulate lessons of nature. Harrison has authored several novellas, six novels, seven poetry collections, plus much noted non-fiction, and this brief tale ranks among his most eloquent work. Pohrt's carefully detailed, woody palette features white pines, herons, loons, turtles, ravens, and other wild life, and captures the mood throughout.

■ Because of Winn-Dixie, by Kate DiCamillo (Candlewick Press, $15 99, ages 9-12)

In this Newbery Medal chapter book, readers meet ten-year-old India Opal Buloni and her scruffy canine companion, Winn-Dixie (named after the supermarket where Opal first encounters him). DiCamillo writes a highly engaging, coming-of-age story about a girl who yearns for the mother who has walked out on her and her father years earlier. She also yearns for new friends, since she and her dad have just moved to the little town of Naomi, Florida, and she knows not a soul there. Because of Winn-Dixie comes to life through its colorful, endearing characters, its mossy Florida backdrop, and some delightful touches of humor. Opal's father is a preacher and the novel definitely contains food for thought, but it is never, ever preachy.

■ The Doll People, by Ann M Martin and Laura Godwin, illustrated by Brian Selznick (Hyperion, $15 99, ages 8-12)

In this imaginative and often-comical mystery novel, Annabelle is a "living doll"

who's been around for a century, even though she'll never be more than eight years old. She dwells in a Victorian dollhouse with the rest of her porcelain family, doing pretty much the same old thing every day, until a new and "modern" family—the Funcrafts—take up residence in their sparkly, pink plastic abode nearby. Annabelle quickly makes fast friends with neighbor Tiffany, and the two soon embark on many adventures together. Most of these adventures involve a search for Annabelle's Auntie Sarah Doll, gone missing more than forty years earlier. Some of the most amusing parts of the story occur when human characters intervene in the dolls' lives. At one point (thanks to the little girl who plays with them), toy chickens, cows, and horses pay a rather disruptive visit to the Dolls' Victorian parlor. At other times, Doll family members are stuffed unceremoniously into an open icebox, the kitchen sink is abandoned on the starway, and the Funcrafts' swimming pool is filled with grape soda, making for an icky, sticky patio. Selznick's black-and-white artwork doubles the pleasure of this enchanting read.

■ The Legend of the Teddy Bear, by Frank Murphy, illustrated by Gysbert van Frankenhuyzen (Sleeping Bear Press, $16 95, ages 5-10)

From Michigan's Sleeping Bear Press comes this endearing tale centering on President Theodore Roosevelt and the young bear he allegedly refused to shoot while out hunting one day in 1902.

The resultant publicity apparently inspired a New York couple to create the first teddy bears. The rest, as they say, is history. As told on these pages, it's a delectable story, deliciously illustrated. Accompanied by a warm-and-fuzzy teddy bear, it could make the absolutely perfect gift.

SOUND BITES

A Love Supreme (Deluxe Edition) (Impulse, $29 98) by John Coltrane

John Coltrane's passionate four-part suite, A Love Supreme, is a deeply personal statement of religious devotion that has become one of the essential jazz recordings.

The 1964 session finds Coltrane's classic quartet — with pianist McCoy Tyner, bassist Jimmy Garrison and drummer Elvin Jones — at their peak, mixing swing like structures, modal playing, polyrhythms and a freer approach to improvisation.

Coltrane's tenor saxophone solos range from contemplative to exuberant.

This two-disc deluxe edition offers something for both the Coltrane initiate and devotee. The first disc is a newly remastered version of the original LP that eliminates some audio flaws found on previous digital versions. The second disc includes the only live performance of the full suite — a concert at the 1965 Antibes jazz festival in France — that was previously available only on bootleg, non-U.S. releases. The 45-minute performance — 15 minutes longer than the recorded version — allows for extended solos by Coltrane and Garrison in the Pursuance section.

The rest of the disc comprises alternate takes from the original recording session, most notably two previously unreleased sextet versions of the opening movement. Acknowledgement — with tenor saxophonist Archie Shepp and bassist Art Davis added — on which Coltrane's celebrated chanted passage is replaced by a tenor sax dialogue.

Messiah as you've never heard it before! In the past, one composer's revision of another composer's music was considered a form of tribute rather than grounds for litigation. Some 40 years after Handel's original premiered in Dublin, Mozart revised the great oratorio, adding more wind instruments to the orchestra and reworking some of the solos. Messiah has been performed annually at UMS since the Choral Union's founding in 1879, and this beloved Ann Arbor tradition kicks off a week of holiday concerts.
Presented with the generous support of Carl and Isabelle Brewer

A Master's Degree...By Choice, Not Necessity...Just FOR YOU!

You took the classes you had to take to earn your Bachelor's degree and start you on your career. Now you have reached the point at which you can take the classes you want to take, for the joy of learning, for the excitement of intellectual discovery. That's another kind of educational experience, and that's the point of the Master of Arts in Liberal Studies degree program offered at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Make no mistake, it will be challenging, but our students say that it is also a thoroughly enriching and rewarding experience. The interdisciplinary courses will develop your critical thinking skills and intellectual flexibility, and you will become more knowledgeable about yourself as well. The program offers focused tracks as well as the opportunity to develop your own individualized track, and all required courses are offered during the evening to accommodate those with busy schedules.

Plan a shopping vacation during the holiday season

BY MARY QUINLEY
CORRESPONDENT

'Tis the season for shopping. It's also a fabulous excuse for a holiday getaway via car, train or plane.

To help jump-start your plans with your favorite shopping partner, here's a sampling of holiday packages. Let the shopping begin!

CHICAGO

The Windy City invites you and yours to Chicago, an annual family-friendly celebration with a medley of holiday markets, ethnic fests, parades and indoor/outdoor cultural activities.

"The holiday season is really a magnificent time to visit Chicago and to take advantage of great shopping opportunities," said Dorothy Coyle, director of the Chicago Office of Tourism.

The city offers many choices and values from the downtown shopping on Magnificent Mile and State Street to the shopping in neighborhoods and museum gift shops, Coyle said.

One of the more unique shopping possibilities is Christkindlmarkt, a replica of an authentic German marketplace. It features more than 50 European vendors selling an array of handmade items from wooden ornaments and toys to German food. The market will be open from Nov. 28 through Dec. 23.

The 'Chicago for the Holidays' option from Dec. 6-8 includes a visit from Nordstrom and FAO Schwarz personal shoppers and tickets to a theater performance. Cost is $380 for a single and $460 for a double at the Fitzpatrick Chicago Hotel.

Need more info? Call the Chicago Office of Tourism toll-free (877) CHICAGO or visit the Web at www.877chicago.com.

GREAT LAKES CROSSING

Check out the 'Shop, Sleep and Shop Again' deal at Great Lakes Crossing in Auburn Hills.

Make it a girlfriend getaway and stay at a hotel or take that special someone and stay at a bed-and-breakfast," said Jennifer Clarke, tourism marketing specialist.

Packages begin at $107 per room. Included are accommodations, taxes, breakfast, a $25 dining voucher per room good at participating restaurants, tote bag and a Visitor Savings Card with discount coupons.

Be sure to ask for a "swipe card" from the hotel/bed-and-breakfast or pick up one at a local Big Boy restaurant or a Pistons home game. Bring it to the shopping center for your chance to win a $100,000 Great Lakes Crossing gift certificate.

The shops provide tremendous values on high-quality merchandise for a whole lot less, said Clarke.

You'll find a Neiman Marcus Clearance Center, Burlington Coat Factory, Off 5th Saks Fifth Avenue Outlet, Bass Pro Shops Outdoor World, multiple restaurant choices, theaters, a children's play area and lots more.

Great Lakes Crossing is at 4000 Baldwin Road in Auburn Hills. For information, call toll-free (877) SHOP-GLC or check the Web at www.shopgreatlakescrossing.com.

TORONTO

"Toronto is a shopper's paradise, especially with the U.S. exchange rate," said Ellen Flowers, media relations officer, Tourism Toronto.

Hotel prices start as low as $59 U.S. per night. Together In TORONTO packages include transportation options such as VIA Rail.

The possibilities for shopaholics are endless. Do you prefer an indoor mall? Then meander through the Eaton Centre that is located in the core of the city and houses more than 300 stores.

If fun-and-funky boutiques, second-hand stores or high-end shops pique your interest, check out the neighborhoods.

"In the Nutcracker Neighborhood there are lots of small cozy specialty shops, including a shop which has the most extensive Christmas decoration collection I have ever seen," said Flowers.

Canton's Brianna Wolcott looks for an outlet under Novi's Laura Longo

Canton corrals district crown

BY C.J. RISAK
STAFF WRITER

Here's nothing new. Offense gets headlines, defense gets championships.

Heard that a few times, haven't ya? Still, it gets ignored quite a bit, unless the team you're interested in happens to be coached by someone like Bob Blohm.

'Frenetic' comes closest to describing Blohm's demeanor during a game. He never relaxes, even if his team is winning handily.

Lake in Friday's Class A district final against Novi. Canton's defense smothered the Wildcats, limiting them to 5-of-20 floor shooting in the first half (25 percent) and 4-of-33 in the second (12 percent).

Which is why the Chiefs won easily, 60-29 in a game played at Salem HS.

Canton, now 21-2 overall, advances to the Northville regional where it will play Rochester (17-6 overall), which defeated Auburn Hills Avondale 39-36 Friday. Game time is 7 p.m. Monday Novi finishes at 10-12.

The winner of that regional semifinal plays the winner of the Birmingham Marian-West Bloomfield game in the regional final at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

So was Friday's district final, which lacked any semblance of drama, a surprise? In the teams' first meeting in their season-openers, it wasn't until the fourth quarter that Canton asserted itself. So something far different than a blowout was anticipated Friday.

"I did too," replied Blohm, asked if he thought it would be closer. "I was just happy to win, survive and go on."

But we got off to a good start. (Kristen) Lake and (Katie) Cezat were playing well inside and our perimeter players got the ball to them.

It helped that while Novi struggled with its shooting, Canton was hot. The Chiefs hit 14-of-27 from the floor in the first half (51.9 percent) "and most of them were in-close shots," Blohm noted. Indeed, despite some early foul trouble, Lake had eight first-half points and Cezat scored five.

"I thought we played solid today," the Canton coach added. "Our defense was solid, our rebounding was solid."

The Novi players who concerned Blohm were Alison Greulich, Angie Schmitt and Laura Longo. Only Greulich supplied any offense, scoring 16 points. No one else for the Wildcats had more than three.

"We did a nice job on them," Blohm said. "I really like their team. But we just got our defense going and didn't give them many shots, no easy shots."

Which was the difference. Canton never did trail in the game, leading 10-3 midway through the first quarter, 15-7 after one and 31-14 by halftime.

In their first meeting, it was Canton that construct-

Defense is the key as Agape edges PCA for district title

That's the way the state tournament is. The longer you're in it, the tougher it gets.

On Thursday, both Canton Agape Christian and Plymouth Christian Academy breezed through their Class D district semifinals, Agape walloping Redford St. Agatha and PCA ripping Redford Bishop Borgess (see related story).

Their reward: a game the next night against each other. While their semifinals had been offensive-oriented, defense ruled the final, and in the end it was Agape that was a bit better, winning 35-24 Friday at Detroit.

The Wolverines, now 21-2, advance to the Class D regional hosted by Chelsea against the Litchfield-Camden Frontier winner. Game time is 5:30 p.m. Monday. PCA finishes at 8-15.

"It was heavy on defense, heavy on effort," was Agape coach Chuck Henry's description of Friday's district final. "And it was light on shooting percentage. But the defenses were the main reason for the poor shooting."

The Wolverines had shredded St. Agatha for 77 points on Thursday, 38 in the first half, but against PCA they could manage only 19 first-half points. In a good-news, bad-news situation, that was the bad, the good was that the Eagles were even less effective, scoring just 11 in the first two quarters against Agape.

"They fought so hard," said Henry. "We had to fight for everything we got. I was pleased with our defense. Both teams played a lot of defense."

Ramsay keys Whalers' streak

Ryan Ramsay continued his hot play, and that has been instrumental in fueling the Plymouth Whalers, who collected their fourth-straight victory Friday, defeating Sault Ste. Marie 5-4 in an Ontario Hockey League game at Plymouth's Compuware Arena.

Ramsay scored the Whalers' first two goals in the game and added a third to complete the hat trick near the end of the second period. He also had an assist in the game.

Ramsay has six goals in Plymouth's four-game win streak, which has pushed their record to 15-6-2-1 overall, second in the OHL's West Division. His first two goals, scored in the opening period, both came on the power play. James Wisniewski (from Canton) assisted on both, with Cole Jarrett and Karl Stewart also getting assists.

The Greyhounds battled back to knot it at 2-all in the second period on goals by Bill Krelove and Jeff Doyle before the Whalers again asserted themselves. Chad LaRose recaptured the lead for Plymouth, scoring with 4:35 left in the second (assisted by Mike Letizia), Ramsay scored shorthanded with 5:2 left in the period (from Jarrett) to make it 4-2.

Stewart's third-period, power-play goal increased the Whaler lead to 5-2 (from Ramsay and Jarrett). A late flurry by the Greyhounds, with goals coming from Trevor Daley and Brad Staubitz, narrowed the gap but couldn't change the outcome.

Paul Drew made 21 saves in goal for the Whalers. Adam Munro had 20 stops for Sault Ste. Marie.

On Thursday, Drew turned away 24 shots to lead the Ocelots squeak by rival Mott, 74-70

BY RICHARD L. SHOOK
CORRESPONDENT

Imagine Michigan playing Ohio State in football three times a season.

Now you have an idea of the feeling between Schoolcraft and Mott Community College in men's basketball.

No question it's on a far smaller scale, but that doesn't downsize the intensity when the two junior college powers clash - even if the game doesn't count in the Eastern Conference standings.

There was emotion aplenty Thursday night when the Ocelots entertained the Bears in an early season non-conference meeting of the Michigan Junior College Athletic Association powers.

Schoolcraft won each half by two points and wound up taking a 74-70 decision.

"Whenever you can beat Mott, you'll take it," coach Carlos Briggs of the Ocelots (5-0) said. "And conversely, whenever they can beat us, they'll take it. This time we got the win. They could just as easily have won."

The two will meet again during the regularly season and possibly again during the post-season playoffs.

And every meeting will be just like Thursday's - intense, defense so fierce you can't tell whose sweat is on whose body and each player looking for every tiny edge on offense.

And despite the intensity - just like when Ohio State plays Michigan - the participants have an enormous amount of respect for one another.

"That was a great college basketball game for early November," Coach Steve Schmidt of Mott (2-3) said. "I think the kids on each team appreciate this kind of opportunity to play."

"We didn't have to schedule this game, but we wanted to. It's a good game for early in the season."

"Both teams have a lot of Detroit kids and Detroit kids make us both good coaches."

The Bears were minus their key returning point guard, Darrell Evans, out with a severe ankle sprain.

"That's one thing I worried about," Briggs said. "With one of their best players out, Mott really had nothing to lose. Steve does a great job of coaching them and they made a lot of changes in their defense to slow the game down and give his team a chance to win. We made a couple of key plays down the stretch."

Mott picked up Schoolcraft's guard at three-quarters court much of the game, forcing the Ocelots to take their time getting the ball across mid-court. The Bears worked some turnovers out of that defense while the Ocelots got a bundle with quick hands and positioning in the passing lanes.

Schoolcraft was on top most of the way and took a 56-49 lead with 10:45 left. But Mott chipped away and tied the score, 63-63, with 6:04 left on a baseliner by Dominique Crawford.

The teams exchanged leads and Mott was up, 70-68, on a short shot by Jay Youngblood with 1:47 left.

Marcus Bennett tied the score with a baseline layup at 1:19. Torvornis Baker got a steal that led to a fast break layup by Wayne Memorial's Gary Johnson and a five-second call with 31 seconds left.

Schoolcraft the ball one more time as Mott was able to get one shot off after taking its 70-68 lead.

Two free throws closed out the scoring.

"We got our opportunities and that's all you can ask for," Schmidt said. "We're a little bit undersized, but we rely on our quickness and it enables us to do some things we wouldn't otherwise be able to do."

For early in the year it was a good game," said Briggs, whose team is ranked No. 6 in the NJCAA Division I preseason poll. "They're good and they're only going to get better."

"Our defense is one thing we've focused on. You know you're going to have guys who can put the ball in the basket. The key is getting the best group on the floor that plays together."

The Ocelots got balanced scoring, putting four players between 15 and 17 points. Dion Sherrell had the 17 and Baker scored 16, while Johnson and Ronald Dorsey scored 15 each.

Baker in particular was a force, blocking shots and snaring rebounds on one end of the floor while cleaning up missed shots on the other.

Youngblood was the game's leading scorer with 18 points for Mott. Crawford and guard Kris Krzyminski each added 13.

Schoolcraft won the free throw battle, making 17-of-22 while Mott went 8-for-12 from the line.

The Ocelots shot 42 percent (26-of-62) and had 11 multi-shot possessions. The Bears had nine multi-shot possessions and made 27-of-59 shots (46 percent).

"It's a great rivalry," Schmidt said.

"You're looking at two of the top programs in junior college basketball in the country. We can compete with anybody in the country."

There's no question they compete with each other. It looked like "War on the Floor."

Mercer ends SC's championship bid

Ocelots fall in semifinal, 1-0

The Schoolcraft College men's soccer team was one game away from making it to the national championship game.

Unfortunately, the Ocelots gave up one costly goal and they fell to Mercer County CC (N.J.), 1-0, in the semifinals of the National Junior College Athletic Association Division I tournament Friday at Tyler JC (Tex.).

Anthony Tuesta scored the game-winner in the 32nd minute of play. Mercer goalkeeper Brad Lowyns earned the shutout.

Schoolcraft finishes 16-7 overall, while No. 2 Mercer improves to 17-1 on its way to Sunday's championship final against Yavapai (Ariz.), a 3-0 winner over Iowa Central in the other semifinal.

The Ocelots played a solid game, and if not for one breakdown on defense, they might have been headed for the championship.

"We were as good as them," Schoolcraft assistant coach Jozsef Kurta said. "We outplayed them in the second half, we just couldn't finish."

The Vikings scored in the first half after defenseman Zoran Goljic was hurt trying to make a slide tackle.

"He took some cleats to his

shin and started to bleed," Kurta said. "After he came off the field, we couldn't handle the pressure. Goljic coming out really hurt us."

The best the Ocelots can finish is third. They will play Iowa Central, 11 a.m. Sunday.

"We talked to the coach of Mercer after the game," Kurta said, "and we both agreed that this game was essentially the national championship game."

"We represented Schoolcraft very well. We had a great season. It was good experience for us. We improved a great deal since last year."

SCHOOLCRAFT 2, LOUISBURG (N.C.) 1 Ryan Montague scored the game-winning goal in the second overtime as the No. 9 ranked Ocelots turned back No. 3 Louisburg (N.C.) in the opener on Thursday.

Zoran Goljic assisted on the game winner as Schoolcraft improved to 16-6.

Schoolcraft midfielder Leonardo Moya making an individual run scored 18 minutes into the opening half to give the Ocelots a 1-0 lead.

Louisburg forward Joe Searle tied the game at 11:16 minutes later.

"We were more creative, more disciplined and were well organized," said Schoolcraft assistant coach Jozsef Kurta. "We definitely had more chances. Tony Ventura had a free kick that hit the post."

It was a different game for us. They (Louisburg) came with their cleats up tacking, but we didn't react to the refs. They were given a red card.

Schoolcraft goalkeeper Eric Sicilia (Livonia Churchill) spent nearly five minutes on the bench in the second half after going down with an injury. He was replaced by Dickson Mann III, but shook off the injury and re-entered the match.

Louisburg fell to 14-2-1 on the year.

Returnees will keep Salem in title hunt

BY CHAD MACK
STAFF WRITER

Last season the Salem boys hockey team tied for the Western Lakes Activities Association title with Livonia Churchill. This year coach Fred Feiler's goal is to get to that same level of excellence and surpass it, if possible.

"We'll try to duplicate what we did last year," said Feiler whose team also won 21 games and the Lakes division title. "We've got 12 guys returning."

Returning captains Mark Nagel and David Gill are ready to lead the team again this year. They will be joined by junior Andy Thackaberry, who will be a captain for the first time. Thackaberry is playing in his third season for Feiler.

"He's been our best defenseman the last two years," Feiler said. "He's a leader in the classroom and a three-sport letterman."

Last year, Thackaberry led the team in plus/minus with plus-48, he played in every game and logged 30 points. He also lettered in golf and baseball.

Joining the team for the first time are Craigen Bauldry, Brandon DeMars, Adam Gilikin, Jeff Harris, Ryan Jones, Ray Kraft, John Mauer, Rob Quigly and Cameron Schambre.

DeMars, a sophomore, will be the team's starting goaltender.

He plays the puck well, Feiler said. He gets involved with the play and communicates real well. He steps in and takes charge."

Other returnees include Mike Barr, Shane Brest, Aaron Cheesman, Eric Culps, Davis Gill, Sean Leaym, John Schultz, Brandon Wilcox and Bryan Young.

In his fourth season as the head coach, Feiler has compiled a record of 32-36-10. This season has lots of promise for the Rocks, but its not without its obstacles.

"We're working hard on defense," Feiler said. "We scored a lot of goals last year, but we also gave up a lot. Overall, I think our defense is better than it has been. The future back there looks pretty good."

Farmington left the Lakes Division and the WLAA for the Oakland Athletic Association. That meant that Churchill had to come over from the Western Division, so there won't be a repeat of last year.

Hockey has only been a varsity sport at Salem for three years. In that time there have been a few players that have played every season, but it is also important that each new class contributes to the growth of the sport.

"Mike Mauer is one of the few guys that has been there from the start," Feiler said. "This is the first year that we, don't have a freshman on the team."

Nagel led the league in scoring last year with 37 goals and 40 assists.

In his first game this season he tallied a hat trick and an assist.

Salem outscored its opponents by an average score of 6:77 to 3:58.

The Rocks power play was extremely effective last year scoring 30 percent of the time. The offense looks to be on track again this year.

"After playing together a couple of days things started to click," Feiler said.

"We want to be contending when it's all said and done. We want to be there with the Stevensons and the Churchills."

Crusaders get a win in Region VIII opener

Madonna University opened its run toward the NAIA Tournament with a narrow 30-23, 25-30, 31-29, 30-25 volleyball victory over Taylor (Ind.) University Friday in a Region VIII semifinal at Indiana Wesleyan in Marion, Ind.

The win put the Lady Crusaders, 42-3 overall, into Saturday's final opposite Indiana Wesleyan, with a berth in the NAIA Tournament at stake.

A strong attack was again the difference for Madonna. Shelley Stanton collected 23 kills (51.4 kill percentage), two service aces, 21 digs and three solo blocks to pace the Crusaders. She led the team in kills, digs and solo blocks. Natalja Timna had 12 kills and two blocks for Madonna, with Laura Lesko and Tera Morrill (Westland/Livonia Franklin) adding 11 kills apiece.

Morrill, who had a 34.6 kill percentage, also had two aces, 15 digs and three blocks, while Lesko (36.4) finished with two aces and six blocks.

Natahe Sayre was equally effective at her setter position, with four kills (600), 53 set assists, 12 digs and three solo blocks. Amanda Suder (Salem HS) contributed 19 digs.

ed a second-half comeback that beat Novi. The Wildcats, however, would not be able to emulate that.

They opened the third quarter by missing their first 14 shots from the floor. By the time Rachel Kozma scored their only basket of the third, with 26 left, the gap had widened to 25.

Game over. "We were hoping to stay close," said Novi coach Dennis Cichonski. "We felt if we could keep it less than a double-digit deficit, we could be within range."

"We had a few good-looking shots. Some didn't fall, and we got called on some violations. We couldn't get anything going."

Cichonski did credit Canton's defense for his team's problems. "They do a lot to disrupt what you do, and they do a good job of it."

The Chiefs' inside game did most of the damage. It didn't help that Longo, Novi's best inside threat, logged four fouls in the first 4:11 of the second half - after surviving the first half without a foul. She scored two points in the game.

Lake led Canton with 17 points. Cezat added 15 and Briana Wolcott netted eight. The Chiefs' free-throw shooting remained excellent. They converted 22-of-30 (73.3 percent). Novi was 9-of-23 (39.1 percent).

It seems the pieces are coming together for Canton. This week's pre-Thanksgiving Day games could be something special for the Chiefs.

Ladywood 'clocks' Southfield on buzzer-beater Icers seek improvement

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Time stood still for the final 2.9 seconds as far as the Southfield High girls basketball team was concerned.

But when it was time to hoist the Class A district basketball trophy, Livonia Ladywood was doing the celebrating following a confusing and controversial finish as the host Blazers came away with a 43-42 victory thanks to Amy Jacovetti's rebound basket as the horn sounded.

The injured riddled Blazers, who captured their seventh district crown in eight years, live to play another day. Top-ranked and unbeaten Detroit King, the Public School League champion, awaits the 18-5 Blazers in the regional semifinal, 7:30 p.m. Monday at Ladywood.

Game officials T.J. Lieckfelt and Bill Baumgart would not comment afterwards after drawing the ire of Southfield interim coach Raphael Peterson, his players and Blue Jay fans.

With 6.7 seconds left in regulation, Southfield guard Jazmin Williamson hit her first free throw to give the Jays a 41-40 lead. The senior missed the second foul shot attempt and a mad scramble ensued resulting in a jump ball.

The possession arrow gave Ladywood the ball out-of-bounds, 10 feet short of the mid-court line, with only 2.9 left.

Stephanie Day's inbound pass was then deflected into the air by Southfield guard Kandace Evans. The ball hit the floor, but squirted back out-of-bounds off Evans' hands.

The clock did not move. Given the ball in the same spot, Day spotted Lauren Hesano cutting toward the basket in the frontcourt. The senior guard gathered the pass, took two dribbles and launched a desperation 35-foot shot from the right wing as time expired.

The ball never hit the rim, but caromed perfectly to Jacovetti, who was in the right place at the right time, putting the rebound home before the buzzer sounded.

Ironically, it was Jacovetti's only two points of the game. We had no timeouts left, we wanted Lauren to catch it and shoot it, or drive it to the basket. Ladywood coach Andrea Gorski said "Give Amy credit, she didn't hang around behind the three-point line, she got down on the weak-side board. It was good for her to follow the shot."

After the frenzied finish, Peterson, the Southfield coach, walked to the scorer's table and wrote down three names — Lieckfelt, Baumgart and clock operator John Hesano.

It's unbelievable, it's ridiculous to work that hard and have the game taken away," said Peterson, who has been filling in for suspended coach Ben Kelso. The clock operator told me the official didn't put his hand up (to start the clock on the first inbounds pass).

And the last basket shouldn't have counted. She (Hesano) takes two dribbles, puts up a shot and another shot goes up — all in three seconds?

"Why don't they have three refs in the district (tourney) is amazing. Ladywood played well, but they didn't outplay us."

The Blazers jumped out to an 11-1 in the first quarter, but lost junior point-guard Amber Willoughby to a hyperextended knee with 3:14 left in the first quarter. (Another Ladywood starter, Ruth Sventickas, played despite a swollen knee.)

Southfield, hitting only 1-of-11 first period shots, trailed 11-3 but quickly took advantage of Willoughby's absence by going to a full-court press in the second quarter.

Evans, the senior guard who led Southfield with 14 points, sparked a second-quarter comeback as the Jays outscored Ladywood, 17-7.

Evans' three-pointer at the halftime buzzer gave the Jays a 20-18 advantage.

Southfield then opened up a 27-19 third quarter advantage, but Ladywood clawed back to within two, 30-28, despite Kineta Taylor's short bank shot inside the key as time expired.

The Blue Jays seemed to take command of the tightly contested struggle with 1:05 left on a hoop by Jaria Atkins followed by a free throw by Evans with 44.4 remaining to put Southfield ahead 38-34.

But 6-foot-2 junior center Bethany Jury scored on a rebound, was fouled and converted the free throw to close the gap to 38-37 with 32.4 to go.

The teams then traded turnovers before Williamson, who made several clutch plays down the stretch, nailed a pair of free throws with 30.4 remaining to push the margin back up to 40-37.

Hesano, who had a team-high 11 points along with Jury, came down and connected on a clutch three pointer with 14.3 to play, knotting the count at 40-40.

That setting the stage for the controversial final 2.9 seconds. Gorski, who spoke with Lieckfelt and Baumgart afterwards, was given an explanation

Before even playing a single game, Canton boys hockey coach Dan Abraham already has some tough decisions to make.

Sophomore Tony Hylko, junior Chris Garrett and senior Charles Kemp will all get a crack between the pipes.

"Our goaltending is strong. We have three good goalies that can play," Abraham said. "That is a good kind of problem."

The team may not have lived up to expectations last season, which means this year it has something to prove.

"I've got an excellent senior class," Abraham said. "I like the balance that we have."

When it comes to line changes, Abraham is a different type of coach that likes to stray away from the typical styles.

"I don't call lines one, two or three," Abraham said about the differences. "I'm not a touchy-feely type of guy. It's just something I don't do."

Abraham believes one of the keys to the resurgence of the Chiefs will be the agility of his skaters, but he also realizes that everything is still in the beginning stages. "We have good team speed," Abraham said. "I think that offensively we are quicker. Overall, every skater is quick. Any of our lines can score at any given time."

This year's team features 10 returning players as well as 10 newcomers. Returning are Brett Baker, Greg Kubert, Matt Oliver, Mitch Wolfe, Kyle Tollison and Kemp.

Matt Gabriel, last year's most improved player, is also back, along with Dave Commiskey, Ryan McKendry and Dave Bak.

Commiskey is one of two players that will have played all four years for the Chiefs.

"McKendry is a heck of a hockey player with good hands that can make his way to the net," Abraham said. "Bak is a great defenseman with a rocket shot and Kubert has the ability to move the puck up ice all by himself."

New to the team this year are Hylko, Casey Skrypek, Brandon Wright, Aaron Amin, Bryan Wioncek, Reece McCabe, Garrett Hyman, Mike Stewart, Mike French and Garrett

Breast Cancer-

What difference can having four options make?

me

With a family history of breast cancer, I knew the importance of early detection. Henry Ford was able to offer me four unique types of breast cancer detection options. My doctor and I were able to choose the best method for me. And thanks to the screening we were able to treat cancer in its earliest stages.

For more information about breast cancer screening call 1-888-734-JFCC (5322) or go online to HenryFord.com/cancer

Procedures include:

SENTINEL NODE BIOPSY
one lymph node is tested to see if others need to be removed

DUCTAL LAVAGE
tests cells collected from the milk ducts where cancer first forms

MAMMARY DUCTOSCOPY
uses a scope to look inside the milk ducts for abnormalities

CORE BIOPSY
a biopsy needle is used to remove tiny tissue samples from the breast

Talented Chiefs had 'nice' year

BY C J RISAK
STAFF WRITER

Some teams are good, and the reason they're good is their nastiness. Other teams are good because of their talent and the aloofness that goes with it.

Canton's golf team was good this season, as good as almost any team in the area. But they weren't nasty and they weren't unapproachable.

"This is the nicest group of kids I've had to coach," said their coach, Tom Alles. So was this his best team ever?

"As far as coaching enjoyability, yes," Alles answered.

It's one thing to be nice, but to be both nice and talented — in this age of in-your-face trash-talking — that seems rare. The Chiefs had both.

In the very tough Western Lakes Activities Association, they boasted the overall medalist in Ryan McKendry. However, Canton was fourth in the final standings, behind Walled Lake Central, Walled Lake Western and Northville.

The Chiefs got some revenge at the Division I regional at Oak Pointe, outdueling Redford Catholic Central to finish first by two strokes. It was Canton's second-straight regional title.

On a horrible day weather wise at the state final, the Chiefs came within a single stroke of qualifying for the final round. McKendry did the same, missing the cut by one.

"Those seniors did that," said Alles, whose efforts earned him

Observer coach of the year honors. "They really wanted it. They did that. It's quite an accomplishment."

CC's efforts cannot be ignored, either. The Shamrocks qualified for state by placing second at the regional, then reached the final round at the state tournament, where they finished seventh.

In the Catholic League, CC placed second to Pontiac Notre Dame Prep after winning the Central Division dual-meet season.

FIRST TEAM
 Ryan McKendry, Canton. McKendry was a major reason Canton made its second straight trip to the state tournament. A senior co-captain, McKendry was the WAAA medalist at Hudson Mills with an even par 71 which put him on the all-conference team. At the regional, he shot 77 at Oak Pointe. He was also on the all-tournament team at the Brighton Invitational. For the season, he had a 379 stroke average for nine holes and 75.8 for 18. He practices so much, said Canton coach Tom Alles. Ryan works on all facets of his game all the time. He has no weaknesses, he's good at everything.

He was very dedicated. Tristan Lester, Redford CC. Lester has been one of the best golfers in the area over the past four years, making all Catholic as a sophomore and junior and repeats on the All-Observerland team this year. Lester who signed with Michigan State was all state as a sophomore, shot a 77 at the Division I regional and 75.79 at the state meet, putting him in 11th place overall.

Lester averaged 37 for nine holes this year and 77.2 for 18 hole tournaments. He was the team's co-Most Valuable Player with Adam Hogue and was the only underclassman to represent Michigan on the Delaware Cup this summer.

We'll miss him, said CC coach Bill Hayes. He's a three-year starter and has been a very solid player in our program.

Adam Hogue, Redford CC. A freshman on the all-area team? When you pay like Hogue, you better believe it. In addition to being the team's co-MVP, Hogue led the way at the Division I regional with a 73, shot 76 to finish fifth at the Catholic League Championships had an 18-hole average of 76.3 and a nine-hole average of 36.3.

Hogue also shot 81 and 85 at the Division I state meet.

His 18-hole numbers are outstanding especially when you throw in the 81 and 85, said Hayes. He's just a freshman, but I seriously put him up against anyone in the state. You're going to hear a lot from this young man over the next three years.

Dru Girard, Liv Stevenson. The senior shot a 75 at the Division I regional at Oak Pointe just missing the cut for the state finals by one shot. He averaged 39.1 for nine holes.

At the WAAA meet, Girard fired a 78 to earn All-Division honors.

He shot a season low 2 under 33 at the Links of Novi. Dru was steady all year long. Stevenson coach John Wagner said, "I didn't have him at the beginning of the season (throat surgery) and I thought we'd finish 5-5. But with him we finished 7-3."

He's a real scrapper, a clam, cool-headed kid and the kind of leader we needed.

Scott Oliver, Canton. A senior team co-captain, he earned all-division honors at the WAAA Tournament with an 80. At the state regional at Oak Pointe, his 74 would have qualified him as an individual if the team hadn't qualified for state.

For nine holes, Oliver averaged 40.2 strokes for 18 holes, his average was 80.4. He shot an 84 at the state final. His second best 18-hole score was 78 at the Brighton Invitational.

He's just overall a very good player, said Alles. He's like Ryan (McKendry). Scott played a lot of golf, he practiced a lot. He putts well, he has a good short game. He's just a good overall golfer.

Chris Sidor, Thurston. Sidor has been the most consistent Eagle over the past three years. The junior was named the team's MVP for the third straight year, as well as being an All-Mega Blue selection over that same period.

He was medalist in eight of the Eagles' 12 dual meets, helping the team to an 10-2 record and earned a 39 for a nine-hole average and shot a 79 at the Division 2 regional at Huron Meadows.

He's been a good player for us and very steady, said Thurston coach Emil Majeski of his team's co-captain. He's been a very consistent player for us.

SECOND TEAM
 Jimmy Burns, Redford CC. Burns didn't have the flash of Lester or Hogue, but was a very solid player for the Shamrocks. He averaged 38 for nine holes and shot a 74 at the Division I regional, trailing Hogue for medalist honors by a shot.

He also shot a 71 this year at the Detroit Golf Club and an 80 at the Catholic League championships. His 82.80 at the state meet placed him third on his team.

Both Jimmy and Chris Elason played well all year long, said Hayes. Jimmy was very consistent and had an outstanding year.

Chris Elason, Redford CC. Elason and Burns put up identical numbers this year, averaging 38 for nine holes. Elason was medalist four times during the year and made the All-Catholic team with a 77 at the league meet.

He also shot a 76 on the first day of the state meet and while he followed that up with an 85, still had the second lowest score on the squad for the tourney.

He was another player who was very consistent for us this year, said Hayes. Both Jimmy and Chris will be back next year and both will be our captains next season.

Steve Paul, Canton. A four-year team member, Paul, a senior, shot 74 at the Oak Pointe regional, which would have qualified him for the state final as an individual. He shot 80 at the WAAA Tournament to earn all-division honors and at the state final, he shot an 81.

His nine-hole average was 43 and his 18-hole average was 82.

He did work hard, said Alles. All the seniors did. (Steve) worked hard on his short game to improve. He can hit the ball a long way and he can hit his irons well. He worked on his putting and his chipping to improve. That was the big difference in his game.

Matt Courtright, Liv Stevenson. The senior averaged a team best 38.9 for nine holes with a low of 38. He shot a 77 at the Huron Valley Invitational to place third at Prestwick Village and took a fifth at the Pinckney Invitational with a 74.

At the Western Wayne Invitational at Huron Meadows, Courtright carded a 74, two strokes off the pace.

Matt has more talent than he knows, Wagner said. He has golf shots that are unbelievable.

Bobby Clark, Wayne Memorial. The senior and team captain played three straight years. He averaged 41.4 in match play and shot a 72 to take medalist honors at the Western Wayne Invitational.

He also finished in the top 10 in the WAAA tournament, earning All-Division with a 78.

In dual meets, he was medalist four times and co-medalist on three other occasions.

Bobby's a throwback to the 1950s. Wayne coach Dennis Chall said. He's a hard working kid and a really honest guy. He was a very good ball striker and he improved every year.

Joe Pomorski, Salem. Pomorski was one of three seniors on a relatively inexperienced Salem team and he stepped up to help the Rocks to a respectable season.

Pomorski was medalist for the Rocks twice at 18-hole tournaments at Grosse Ile and at Adrian. At the WAAA Tournament, he shot a 75 to earn all-conference honors and at the state regional, he had an 81. His average for the season, 39.8 strokes for nine holes, 78.8 for 18.

Perhaps his biggest nine-hole effort came in Salem's dual meet match with cross-campus rival Canton, which the Rocks won. Pomorski shot a 39.

He was our most consistent performer all year long, said Salem coach Rick Wilson.

GYMNASTICS

Helping develop children's physical, mental skills

BY PAM FLEMING
CORRESPONDENT

When people think of gymnastics, most have images of Olympic athletes flying through the air. But gymnastics can be competitive or noncompetitive. The noncompetitive form of the sport has become very popular.

Peggy Stevens of Ms. Peggy's Kids Fitness Center at 34029 Schoolcraft in Livonia, like many gymnastics centers in the area, offers noncompetitive, educational gymnastics for children as soon as they're able to walk.

This type of program is exactly what many parents and children are looking for instead of team programs, she said.

"Noncompetitive educational gymnastics helps improve coordination, increases body awareness, and sharpens intellectual and listening skills. Children learn to use their body for fitness development and more importantly, it builds self-confidence and self-esteem."

Stevens started her gymnastics program in 1995 at Farmington and Eight Mile roads and just recently moved to her new location in Livonia.

"I have no teams. Our programs are just for fun and fitness. My philosophy is educational. For example, with our preschool children, they learn about colors and numbers. Successful development of motor skills plays a great part in developing a young child's brain."

Her classes start for children who are walking to age three. She has a class for parents with children age one-six who want to bring both children to one class.

The center holds a beginning class for children ages three-six as well as an advanced beginners class. It also offers an advanced class for children ages 6-14 and a class for boys only, age 6 and older.

The center's mission statement is to help make fitness fun and create a lifetime desire to be healthy. Stevens had 400 students at her previous shop and has 300 at the Livonia location.

Cheerleaders come in to practice at the center, as well as a lot of dancers. Classes are 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 4:30-8:30 p.m. Wednesdays, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursdays and 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 2-6 p.m. Saturdays. The center also schedules birthday parties on Fridays and Saturdays.

Kids can run and jump, walk on the balance beam and moon walk mountain. They can tumble, swing on bars and ropes. "I thought that there was a need for this, and there are kids who just want to do gymnastics for fun. Kids love being active, even if they are a little overweight."

Mary Jo Keller, director of the Children's Center at Schoolcraft College and an adjunct faculty member, was Stevens' mentor when Stevens was a student at Schoolcraft.

"She brings her own equipment and comes to the center every Monday to help the preschoolers and kindergartners," Keller said. "She's very good with the kids and very positive."

She helps them create good health practices for the future and learn to listen to their bodies.

PARENTS LIKE PROGRAM

Rita Grima of Livonia said her daughter, Marianne, a fourth grader at St. Michael's Elementary in Livonia has been participating at Ms. Peggy's for five years. Her other daughters, Stephanie and Jennifer, have been part-time instructors at the center in the past. "She's become more self-confident. She was very timid when she first started and did not like being in groups. Ms. Peggy's has a gymfest every year in June where the students perform an individual routine on all the apparatuses. You can just see these kids just glow after they've done these events. They're so proud. Peggy asked Marianne to come for the whole week of gymfest because she'd improved so much," she said.

Grima said Marianne tried competitive gymnastics for one summer because Stevens thought she might like a more-structured format. "She really didn't like it. It was too rigid. Instead of encouraging her, they were making her fearful. She lost her confidence. The whole environment was different. She wasn't having fun, so she went back to Ms. Peggy's two years ago. Now she loves going to gymnastics again," Grima said.

Pam Duhr of Farmington Hills said her 12-year-old daughter, Sara, a seventh grader at East Middle School in Farmington Hills, has been going to Ms. Peggy's since she was 5.

"Sara was Ms. Peggy's second student. She absolutely loves the place and the person. We won a session at another gym that offered competitive gymnastics during a silent auction at her school a few years ago. But she didn't like it because it was too structured and not very encouraging. Ms. Peggy celebrates every little step that they make. She lets the child set the pace. Peggy encourages and nurtures. She wants them to enjoy what they're doing."

Oakwood doctor offers a holistic approach to menopause

The first thing women should understand about menopause is that it is not a disease. Medically, it is a change in a female's hormonal status when she stops ovulating and menstruating.

Menopausal symptoms such as irregularities in menstruation, atrophic vaginitis (difficulty urinating and painful intercourse) and hot flashes can start for a woman in her 30s. It is important that a woman entering menopause gains a better understanding of her risk of heart disease, osteoporosis and breast cancer, which increase after menopause.

Taking a holistic approach is more than just treating specific menopausal symptoms. It's about improving a woman's overall physical health. First, I evaluate a patient's risk factors for coronary artery disease, osteoporosis and breast cancer. I then try to decrease any risk factors or modify them using approprate conventional medical approaches, such as determining if the patient should take aspirin or needs cholesterol-lowering medication.

If the patient prefers alternative methods, I explain which options are best for her, their effectiveness and safety. For some patients, I may consider herbal remedies using phytoestrogenic herbs such as black cohosh, anise seeds, fennel or sage for a short period of time to relieve symptoms like hot flashes. However, herbal remedies are not for everyone. No one should try them without consulting a doctor.

At the Oakwood Complementary and Alternative Medicine Center, we also practice ayurvedic medicine, an ancient branch of holistic medicine commonly used in India and Indonesia. The goal of ayurvedic medicine is to maintain overall good health through knowledge, life-style changes, appropriate dietary intervention (wherein food is used as medicine), exercises (yoga) and herbal remedies if indicated.

DIET AND EXERCISE

The best way to successfully manage menopause requires a combination of knowledge, a healthy diet and appropriate exercise. I strongly recommend a diet rich in fruits and vegetables as a dietary source of vitamins, minerals and antioxidants.

All units include first-floor master, some loft

Joan Downing, who grew up in Redford, and Stephen Vaghca of Mar Med Group, have teamed to develop, design and build 24 attached condominiums in that community

The residences, clustered in six buildings on a three-acre infill site, are on the north side of Schoolcraft (I-96 service drive) between Telegraph and Beech Daly "Redford is an established neighborhood," Downing said "It's rare that land like this becomes available to do anything I think Redford is an extremely close-knit, family neighborhood"

The township has developed a reputation for providing excellent services, she added, which includes many parks, a municipal-owned golf course and an ice arena "These condos were designed by our firm under the owner's (Downing) direction to meet many palettes tastes," Vaghca said "There's a sense of openness, modernness

"We're out to make the transition (move) as easy as possible The word that comes to mind pretty much is turnkey," he said

"I personally think they're getting a lot for the money," Downing said

"There is a lot of value for what people are spending, no doubt about it," Vaghca added.

Ashley Park's access to I-96, the Southfield Freeway and all directions from there also is a major selling point, Downing and Vaghca agree

Two floor plans are now available

A ranch (end units) of 1,340 square feet with two bedrooms and two baths carries a base price of $179,900 in phase one

A story-and-a-half of 1,600 square feet with two bedrooms, 2-1/2 baths and loft has a base price of $181,900, 1,778 square feet with three bedrooms, 2-1/2 baths and

Ashley Park a small attached condominium community, is under construction in Redford smaller loft, $188,900

All homes at Ashley Park will include at base price two-car garage, first-floor laundry, air conditioning, basement, range and dishwasher, deck, plus vinyl, ceramic and carpet floor coverings Landscaping is provided

Vinyl siding is the primary exterior material About half of the inquiries so far have come from empty-nesters or near empty-nesters and half from singles, Downing said The split also is about 50/50 between folks already living in Redford and surrounding communities

Ashley Park is serviced by city water, sewers and is within the South Redford school boundaries

The property tax rate is $39.23 per $1,000 of state taxable value, half of sales price for new construction That means the owners of a $182,000 home there would pay about $3,570 the first year

The monthly association fee is projected at $155 All utilities will be metered to individual units Pets are allowed

Janice and Gordon Weathers ordered a story-and-a-half

"I've been looking in that area for years," Janice said "I thought it (condo) was a great idea You don't have to do maintenance and you have new construction

"I have a large room and the master on the first floor and I can send my guests upstairs, she said I'm excited about it I like the concept

Ranch provides comfort at both ends of spectrum

If you're looking for an ideal starter or retirement home, the Russel (406-71), a ranch of 1,486 square feet, might just fit the bill.

It has a contemporary look about it with a side-entry, two-car garage. The outside has a combination of wood and stucco. A covered porch protects the entry.

Inside, a large closet is next to the front door.

The master is on the right side. It has windows facing the front yard and a rear door that opens onto a deck. The suite contains a corner, walk-in closet and two-sink vanity. The tub and toilet are tucked behind a pocket door.

A large great room is at the back center of the plan. A fireplace and a door to the deck are in the right corner.

The kitchen/dining room is to the left. An eating bar across the counter backs to the dining area and is ideal for quick meals on the run.

The second bedroom/guest room is next to the kitchen. This has a long wall closet with a window overlooking the back yard. A linen closet is just outside the door, a full bath adjacent. The utility room extends out into the garage and contains the washer/dryer as well as a folding counter. A door from the utility opens into the garage and provides access to the workshop.

For a study plan including scaled floor plans, elevations, sections and an artist rendering, send $19.95 to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Road E, Cottage Grove, OR 97424. 2003 GMC Sierra Denali provides a good first impression

Advertising Feature CAReport

BY ANNE FRACASSA
AVANTI NEWS FEATURES

If you've ever tried to turn a full-size truck around in a drive-through fast food restaurant parking lot, you know it can be quite the experience.

Not with the 2003 GMC Sierra Denali outfitted with QuadraSteer, that number is reduced by 10 feet. Incredible engineering.

Exclusive to General Motors and standard equipment on the Sierra Denali, QuadraSteer is exactly what it sounds like. All four wheels turn. Call it an engineering wonder.

The electromechanical QuadraSteer system turns the rear wheels (up to 12 degrees) in relation to the front wheels for low-speed handling and high-speed stability and control. There you have it. The turning diameter is reduced by up to 21 percent and when you're going at a good clip, will reduce vehicle motion for more control during a lane change or more demanding driving conditions.

I loved it. You do get more control and a better feel in handling and stability. Turning is really a breeze. You can almost back out of a driveway and almost hug the curb on the way out. Incredible stuff here.

The Sierra has been redesigned this year -- especially on the inside. You'll find the instrument panel and IP cluster totally different and much more logical and easier to read and understand.

In the center of the speedometer, there's a driver information center that tells you just about everything you need to know about the functions of the vehicle -- 27 to be exact, which is double from last year's model.

The instrumentation's graphics are really cool, too. There's a black background, soothing blue backlighting and stark white pointers that just about jump out at you. Really pleasing to the eye.

Front seats are bucket seats, so you'll get the center console. It's all one piece, flowing from the IP back and includes a storage bin, rear power outlet and controls for heating and cooling for the rear passengers.

The heating and cooling up front are individual

2003 GMC SIERRA DENALI | Vehicle class: Full-size Truck; Power: 5.4-liter V8; Mileage: 16 city/ 20 highway; Where built: Pontiac, MI; Oshawa, Ontario, Canada, and Fort Wayne, IN; Price as tested $45,320

ized so your passenger can adjust exactly how hot or cold they want to be without bothering your likes or dislikes.

On the steering wheel, which is leather, you'll find controls for stereo, trip calculations, and a way to program and personalize nine vehicle functions for up to two drivers. On the inside rearview mirror, you can access OnStar with the tip of your finger. The mirror's bottom also tells you the status of the passenger air bag.

The front seating is extremely comfortable. The seat belts are integrated right into the seat, providing added comfort and pleasantly easy access.

There are a host of trim levels of Sierra. They include a regular cab short box, and the Denali extended cab short box. Then you have to choose between the 1500 and 2500 series and whether you want two-wheel or four-wheel drive. The trim levels are SL, SLE and SLT.

Talk about the engine choices. 4.3-liter V6, 4.8-liter V8, 5.3-liter V8 and 6.0-liter V8. All those can be mated to two types of 5-speed manuals or three types of 4-speed automatic transmissions.

The Denali also had the XM Satellite radio system. I told you about this great system last week. You've got a choice of more than 100 coast-to-coast digital channels, most of which are commercial-free. There's everything from CNN to Disney to choose from. The sound system is crystal clear, too.

You can also choose a Bose audio system with six speakers and tuned specifically to the cab's unique acoustic environment. The system automatically increases or decreases volume for road or wind noise.

An option on all Sierras is a Panasonic DVD passenger entertainment system. The seven-inch flip-down screen is integrated in the headliner and can play DVDs or CDs. Best of all, there are wireless headphones for those rear passengers.

Finally, the outside of the Sierra is much more bold and looks quite commanding on the road. It's new grille is cleaner and gives it an aggressive look. The curves all the way around are cleaner and the vehicle just looks beautiful.

Although I only had the Sierra Denali four days, it managed to impress me. I think it may impress you, too.
