Honoring military

When terrorists attacked the United States on Sept. 11, 2001, President George W. Bush committed the country to tracking down those people who make up the axis of evil including Saddam Hussein.

Sixteen months later, the U.S. military is gearing up for war. Enlisted men and women both on active duty and in the reserves are being sent to the Middle East in a military buildup not seen since the Persian Gulf War more than a decade ago.

The mood of the country is mixed as Americans debate whether to give Hussein more time to come clean on his weapons of mass destruction or go in now and finish what was started Jan. 16, 1991.

Whether the hawks or doves win their cases, the Observer wants to honor our local men and women who are serving in the military both in active duty and in the reserves.

Family members can send photographs of their loved ones along with their name, rank and biographical information to Brad Kadrich, 794 S. Main, Plymouth, MI 48170. Be sure to include your name and telephone number in case we have questions.

We will publish the photos on an ongoing basis to recognize their commitment to this country and that of their families who are waiting and wondering about war with Iraq.

If you have questions, call Brad Kadrich (Plymouth) or Doug Johnson (Canton) at (734) 459-2700 or e-mail Kadrich at bkadrich@oe.homecomm.net.

Broadcasting

WSDP 88.1 FM hosts a broadcast symposium with Sarah Norat Phillips, president and general manager of WDWB-TV 20 in Detroit, at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 20.

Norat Phillips was named president and general manager of WB 20 in May 1998, a year after joining the station as station manager and becoming the first female of color to head a major television station in Detroit. Prior to that, she worked at WKBW in Buffalo, N.Y.

The symposium was created to give students an opportunity to meet and learn from the top broadcasters in the state, according to WSDP officials. The symposium takes place at the Career Center in Salem High School. Space is limited, so students interested in attending should contact Bill Keith, WSDP station manager, (734) 416-7732.

Developer to meet with city

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

A Chicago-based real estate developer will meet with city officials Monday night to outline plans for the former Daisy Air Rifle factory on Union Street, near downtown Plymouth.

City commissioners and the planning commission will hold a joint session to discuss the future of the seven-acre site with Joseph Freed & Associates from Wheeling, Ill., which has a purchase agreement with Plymouth businessman Jim McKeon for the property. No purchase price has been disclosed.

"The plans call for lofts inside the old Daisy building, with the rest condominiums," said McKeon. "It will be architecture with an old-town flavor."

The total project, according to concept plans given to city officials, calls for a total of 163 units. The designs will be presented at 7 p.m. at the Cultural Center.

"They're anxious to get started, but they wanted to meet with the commission before making a final decision on a proposal," McKeon said. "If all goes well, they hope to get a lot done this construction season."

The developers met with Mayor Bill Graham and city commissioners Michele Potter and Stella Greene last Monday to give a sneak peek of the venture.

"They've put a lot of thought and work into reflecting the texture and tenor of our community," said Greene. "I'm very excited the thrust is residential, versus commercial or office."

Graham said he liked the initial plans, but would like to see some alterations in the final project. "I would probably like to see a little less density, which means there's a lack of green space," said

Age drives district's bus plan

BY TONY BRUSCATO

Faced with an aging bus fleet consistently threatened with red tags by state inspectors, the Plymouth-Canton school board is considering a plan to purchase new school buses to safely transport 9,100 students a day.

"In June 2002, we were inspected by the state and received an excellent score of only two red tags," said Melvin Latnie, director of transportation. "Less than three months later, the state inspector returned. When he finished his inspection, we received nine red tags. Needless to say, the message was received loud and clear."

The Board of Education could approve a plan, as early as the Feb. 18 meeting, which would immedi-

JCI, Salem agree on Napier site plans

Johnson Controls' timetable for building a research campus in Salem Township at Napier and Ann Arbor roads is about 12 to 18 months behind schedule.

The automotive supplier would have liked to have started construction work last fall.

But it wasn't until last week that the final signature – that of JCI automotive systems president Rande Somma – went on the 50-page development agreement.

Now all systems are go and the next two key steps are getting utilities and presenting a preliminary site plan to the township, according to JCI spokesman Bill Dawson.

JCI cleared the biggest hurdle in December when the Salem board voted 6-0 to allow JCI to build on the 367-acre site. In May, JCI had won planning commission rezoning approval by a 4-2 vote.

It was a very thorough process on the part of the township (Salem). We are obviously pleased with the results, and are committed to developing the property correctly," Dawson said. "It is definitely going to take awhile because there are many utility and infrastructure issues."

A main building, a "center of excellence," and a fitness/wellness center are planned initially. As much as 100 acres will remain as open space.

Plymouth Township Supervisor Steve Mann was among those the least happy about JCI leaving its current Plymouth location on Halyard Drive. Nevertheless, there has been cooperation among

DAR GOOD CITIZENS

The Sarah Ann Cochrane DAR Chapter of Plymouth-Northville has announced its 2003 Good Citizen Awards.

Michael Bakun of Franklin High School was chosen as the chapter's Good Citizen.

Individual high school winners included Cindy Lynn Rotramel of Canton High School, Emily Bohr, Salem High School, Jaclyn Rioux, Ladywood High School, Lisa Noel, Huron Valley High School, and Meagan Edwards, Churchill High School.

The idea behind the contest, according to chapter officials, is to locate the very best of our dependable leaders and patriots among our senior high school students.

The contest consisted of two parts: answers to a series of questions asking students to describe their high school activities, community service, extracurricular activities and future plans, and a 500-word essay.

The students will be honored at the Good Citizens Awards Reception Feb. 17 at St. John's Episcopal Church in Plymouth.

Guest speaker at the reception will be local author Virginia Bailey Parker, who will talk about "The Writing Life." For more information, call Shiril Hering, (734) 455-5525.

RE/MAX SCHOLARSHIP

RE/MAX of Southeastern Michigan is offering a $25,000 college scholarship program for high school seniors in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties. Deadline for applications is March 31.

The program — $1,000 to each of 25 recipients — was established to mark the beginning of a year-long celebration of RE/MAX's 25th anniversary. RE/MAX introduced the American Dream' sponsorship program to recognize the interests and ongoing pursuits of local students.

"We established the American Dream scholarship in part to acknowledge that this is a special year for our company," said Jeanette Schneider, vice president and co-regional director of RE/MAX of Southeastern Michigan. "Of equal importance, we believe in the value of education as a means for today's youth to become tomorrow's community and business leaders."

To apply, students must provide a short essay on what the American Dream' means to them and the role that higher education plays in helping to achieve that dream. Essays and supporting materials will be judged on content, originality and creativity.

For more information about the program, or to obtain an entry form, contact Jeanette Schneider, (248) 644-6420, check on-line at www.manyhouses.com or visit any local RE/MAX office.

CHORUS SCHOLARSHIPS

The Plymouth Community Chorus, as part of its music education program, is offering three scholarships to students pursuing an education in the vocal field of performing arts.

One $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to a graduating high school senior, and two $500 scholarships will be awarded to students in sixth through 11th grades. The scholarships will be awarded at the chorus' May 4 performance of Broadway Legends.

The scholarships are intended to assist in the pursuit of studies in the field of vocal music, an applied vocational career in the field of vocal music, academic study of voice, or the study of voice for the purpose of organized recreational or community singing.

Applications must be postmarked by April 3, and can be obtained by calling Sherrie Northway, (313) 533-4795 or by writing to Plymouth Community Chorus, P.O. Box 70017, Plymouth, MI 48170.

RADIO AUCTION

The annual WSDP 88.1-FM radio auction, proceeds from which benefit the student-run radio station for Plymouth-Canton schools, takes place

Saturday, May 10.

Listeners will be able to bid on items donated by area businesses during the auction, which takes place from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. New items will be available every half hour. Money raised from the auction will be used for equipment upgrades and to fund three scholarships the station offers annually to graduates.

Beginning in April, station supporters can keep track of new donated items by checking www.881theescape.com, the station's Web site. Listeners from around the world will be able to listen to the auction via the World Wide Web.

"We were excited to receive calls from Chicago, North Carolina and the Netherlands during last year's auction," said station manager Bill Keith. "I'm hoping for even greater response from our alumni and out-of-town friends this year."

Station volunteers will be contacting businesses for donations through the end of April. Businesses interested in donating items can call the station, (734) 416-7732.

O&E names new circulation director

LeeAnn Mitchell has been named director of circulation at the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. She replaces Ron Shamma who was named publisher/general manager of the Mirror Newspapers in Royal Oak.

A native of Brooklyn, Iowa, Mitchell brings more than 20 years of marketing and circulation experience at newspapers throughout the country.

"I'm prepared and eager to take on the challenges in the O&E market," said Mitchell, adding that customer service is among her top priorities.

Mitchell most recently worked at DFW Community Newspapers in Dallas, Texas, as the circulation director for a daily newspaper and 14 weekly publications.

"Her years of experience in circulation and marketing will be instrumental in helping the O&E meet the changing demands of the market," said Peter Neill, vice president and general manager of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

LeeAnn's expertise and level of professionalism in circulation and customer service will benefit both readers and advertisers, added Neill.

Mitchell's expertise includes weekly and daily newspapers.

At Pioneer Press, a group of 48 weekly newspapers in suburban Chicago, Mitchell worked in a variety of managerial and executive positions including promotion manager, marketing services manager, a general manager, advertising manager and group publisher. She was promoted to corporate circulation sales director where she coordinated sales activities for the Chicago Sun-Times and other Hollinger holdings in the Chicago area.

Mitchell joined the European and Pacific Stars and Stripes, where she was the advertising and marketing director and helped set up the newspaper's first U.S. based sales office in Washington, D.C. She played an integral part in the consolidation of the two newspapers.

At Montgomery Newspapers in suburban Philadelphia, Mitchell was the marketing and circulation director where among other duties she administered the annual Baby & Toddler Expo which was attended by thousands of parents in a five-state region.

Mitchell began her career in circulation with Gannett's Idaho Statesman. She has worked for the Boulder (CO) Daily Camera, USA Today's Denver market, and the Longmont (CO) Times Call, and the Santa Barbara (CA) News-Press.

A graduate of the University of Arizona, Mitchell holds a bachelor of science degree in public administration.

Jeweler finds Plymouth location a gem

Family moves long-time business from Michigan to Mayflower

BY BRAD KADRICH
STAFF WRITER

When Teri and Matt Allen noticed that much of their clientele was moving westward, they figured their jewelry business, Dearborn Jewelers, ought to do the same.

That's why the long-time Dearborn store closed its doors last month, and the Allens set up shop in the Mayflower Centre, opening Jan. 15, just in time for the Plymouth International Ice Sculpture Spectacular.

After nearly 30 years at their Michigan Avenue location, the Allens picked up and moved the store lock, stock and diamonds to its downtown Plymouth location to take advantage of Plymouth's small-town charm.

Plymouth has to be the most charming place we've experienced," said Teri Allen, who lives with her husband, Matt, in Plymouth "(Kellogg Park) is the heart of the area, and the chamber and the local businesses know it and use it. It's the kind of community spirit that America was founded on."

Dearborn Jewelers was founded by Teri's father, Nick Pavlich, more than 50 years ago in a tiny shop on Monroe in Dearborn. The shop at the time had one showcase and a watchmaker's bench.

Pavlich had apprenticed under a master watchmaker, and that craft soon became his specialty. Though he's semi-retired, Pavlich still makes his way into the shop occasionally to ply his trade.

He loves to work with watches," Matt Allen said of Pavlich. "He learned how to do it in the Navy."

The original shop soon outgrew its modest beginnings and moved to its first location on Michigan Avenue. Growth

Dearborn Jewelers owner Teri Allen, right, helps Lorraine Boore of Livonia with the engagement ring Boore originally bought from Allens' father Nick Pavlich, the founder of the store.

Teri and Matt Allen, residents of Plymouth brought their business, Dearborn Jewelers, to Plymouth from its former Michigan Avenue location in Dearborn.

continued, and Pavlich moved to another Michigan Avenue location in 1965, where the shop stayed until moving to Plymouth last month.

The move, according to Teri Allen, was necessitated by the migration of the store's clientele, and by a sagging retail base along Michigan Avenue. While restaurants continue to thrive in that area, she said, retail shops are becoming less prominent.

We lost so much retail along Michigan Avenue, and what has replaced them is restaurants, Teri Allen said. "You can find great places to eat, but nowhere to shop."

The store has been a family business from the start, with Pavlich's children all finding a niche. Teri's brother, Nick Jr., is the creative jewelry craftsman," Teri said. Brother Bill has earned the nickname, "The Watch Guru."

Teri's niche is, essentially, buying the stones and running the business. She's traveled the world on buying trips, including such places as South America and South Africa. She's taken courses through the Gemological Institute of America, and the store is a member of the American Gem Society.

Teri has an eye for quality like no one else," said her husband Matt, whose niche is selling. Every piece you see in the store had to get past Teri first.

The family isn't worried about moving to Plymouth, which already lists a half-dozen jewelers among its Chamber of Commerce members.

"When Dad started in Dearborn, there were five jewelers on the same block, said Nick Pavlich, Jr. "Before we moved, we were the last one."

The Allens said there's plenty of room for one more jeweler in Plymouth, because each has its own specialty.

I know there are other jewelers in town, and I think they all have their own niche," Teri Allen said. "What we offer is different. There's definitely room for us here."

Dearborn Jewelers will have a variety of offers during its grand opening celebration Feb. 11-15. More information on Dearborn Jewelers is available at the store's Web site www.dearbornjewelers.com or by calling (734) 737-9525.

Students, Republicans react to Granholm's 1st State of the State

BY TONY BRUSCATO
STAFF WRITER

As part of her State of the State address Wednesday night, Gov. Jennifer Granholm called for school districts to volunteer to make 40 hours of community service a requirement for graduation from high school.

"We want to raise young people who embrace service to others as a way of life," said Granholm, a Democrat from Northville.

At Plymouth-Canton Educational Park, students who take Close Up, generally in their sophomore year, are required to perform community service to pass the class.

"If it was 40 hours of whatever you choose, I think it would be a good idea," said Ellen Fritz, 15, of Plymouth, who watched the speech. "I don't think it should be narrowed just toward education. Tutoring was only part of my 20 hours, the rest was helping homeless shelters."

Ryan Harrison, 17, also from Plymouth, doesn't agree with the 40-hour requirement, but believes getting students started in the right direction is a good idea.

"I'm not sure about 40 hours, but maybe something like maybe five or 10 hours," said Harrison. "I had to do 10 hours for U.S. History, but after the 10 hours I did a lot more because I liked it, so I just kept going back."

"You could be home watching TV or playing video games, but instead you're doing something worthwhile," he said. "It's the satisfaction of helping someone."

Granholm's 55-minute

speech also called for the state to set up a corridor to encourage industries to that deal in auto, life sciences and homeland security technology to locate in the state, inspire foundations to pay for early childhood education, streamline state government by announcing a 4-percent budget cut, and appointing a state surgeon general to address AIDS, teen pregnancy and senior prescription drug issues.

Some Republicans, including the 7th Senate District's Bruce Patterson (R-Canton Township), believe Granholm's address included many of the same ideas proposed by the majority party in years past.

"She sounded like a Republican governor," said Patterson. "Creating a technical tri-corridor, auto fuel cells, life sciences and a prescription drug compact."

"The governor has been in office five weeks, and there are large challenges, he said. "Her attempt to reach out to Republican leadership is very positive. She realizes the work must be bi-partisan. I give her high marks."

Plymouth-Canton Schools Superintendent Jim Ryan was disappointed Granholm didn't address the education budget.

"I kept hoping to hear if our foundation grant was going up or would be cut," he said.

There have been mixed signals. During her campaign she said education would be held harmless, and now the reality of cuts. "If she's going to take some money away, we need to know that now."

ACCIDENT

Plymouth Township
According to township Police Chief Tom Tiderrington, Susalla was headed westbound on Halyard and pulled into the intersection at around 5:30 p.m. Susalla apparently didn't see the dump truck coming northbound on Ridge and pulled out in front of it, Tiderrington said.
Susalla, 27, was a star left-handed pitcher at Catholic Central in the early 1990s. He went on to pitch at the University of Detroit Mercy on a partial scholarship and had taught mathematics at Franklin since 1999. He coached junior varsity baseball, junior varsity girls basketball and freshman boys basketball.
"He loved teaching at Franklin," said Susalla's widow, Kelly, of Clinton, near Saline. "He loved teaching math and teaching baseball to students who wanted to learn from him."

ROLE MODEL

Franklin Principal Daniel Willenborg said Susalla was a "very enthusiastic, passionate coach and teacher" and a "terrific role model."

"It's a tremendous loss for the school," Willenborg said. Susalla's parents, Mary Jo and Michael, live in Redford. Mary Jo Susalla said her son was likely in the area of the crash for a meeting with a sponsor for a summer youth team he was starting in order to improve the baseball program at Franklin.

"He was very gung-ho and excited about that," said Franklin varsity coach Paul Newitt. "He was very passionate and wanted the kids to excel because of his love of the game of baseball." Susalla also ran the team's conditioning and agility program, Newitt said.

"As a coach he took a hard-nosed approach," he said, "but once he left the practice field he had compassion for the kids. He put his arm around them. He tried to make a difference."

"He was a great kid to coach. The consummate team player, very unselfish," said his Catholic Central coach, John Salter.

TOP TEACHER

Susalla had a special way of teaching, his mother said. "He just found a way of making it interesting for students to learn," she said.

Police continue to investigate the accident. Alcohol did not appear to be a factor, police said. In addition to his wife and parents, Susalla is survived by a sister, Carolyn, grandparents Harold and Betty Susalla, his parents-in-law, Cindy and Robert VanderMarliere, a sister-in-law, Catlyn, and many other relatives.

Visitation began Saturday and will continue from noon to 9 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 9, at the Harry J. Will Funeral Home, 37000 Six Mile, Livonia.

A funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. Monday, Feb. 10, at Brightmoor Christian Church, 40800 W. 13 Mile, Novi. Buryal will be at Parkview Memorial Cemetery.

Franklin will also have some type of memorial, Willenborg said. Students were not at the high school Friday and will return on Tuesday, and Willenborg said counselors will be available. Students in Susalla's classes, and students he coached, were asked to come in Friday to talk about Susalla's death, and many turned out, he said.

"There's just been rivers of tears," he said.

Staff Writers Brad Kadrich and Brad Emons contributed to this report.

Salem, JCI and Plymouth Township to lessen the impact of the project on residents across the street in Country Club Village, he said.

"We started with very little leverage. They are another township and are in another county," Mann said. "But there has been a very cooperative effort. We have corresponded many times and we have met with Fred Roper (Salem supervisor) and Lunda Hamilton (treasurer). I think we have helped make JCI aesthetically pleasing for the residents of Country Club Village. We have successfully argued with them (JCI) to change the road systems."

Mann said they fought for better buffer or setback areas along Napier with better landscaping and a small berm. "We think there are many protections in place," he said.

John Hasluck, president of one of several Country Club Village subdivision associations, said Salem has been receptive to their concerns.

"Our main concern is that we live in a rural setting and we want to keep it that way," Hasluck said. "We did get a lot of things we wanted, but not all."

Early on, JCI wanted more entrances off Napier. Now one small entrance for service vehicles is planned. The main entrance will be off Godfredson, and the state is helping with a grant to widen that road near the JCI main entrance, put turning lanes on Ann Arbor Road, and pave Joy from the driving range over to Godfredson.

Hasluck said there have been at least verbal assurances that the wellness center will not have an access road off Napier.

Hasluck said there are many things "we our keeping our eye on" as the site plan process begins.

"We of course are worried about the waste water treatment plant. We don't want Salem to solve their (lack of) sewer problem with this plant. The water that is treated will eventually come into the Village's pond," Hasluck said.

JCI is building its own sewage plant and the operation will initially handle 250,000 gallons a day. Eventually, processing a million gallons a day is envisioned. The JCI workforce is limited by the agreement to 5,000 people in the decades ahead, but JCI officials say initially it will be much less.

than that. Fresh water will come from hookup with existing Detroit water service at Napier and Ann Arbor Road. That hookup has been the subject of an ethics debate before the entire Plymouth Township Board about one of its trustees, Abe Munfakh. Munfakh's firm will help Salem get a water hookup, he apologized last week for attending a meeting a year ago with Salem where the issue was first discussed.

"The property is an awkward spot where the corners of four townships meet (Canton, Plymouth, Salem and Superior)," Hasluck said. "The temptation is to put something there that isn't right. JCI has the room and enough property to do things right. They want to be good neighbors. I hope we all end up on the same page."

Another major auto supplier, Visteon, is also building nearby, in western Wayne County just south of Canton Township. They are constructing several buildings that could house as many as 4,000 employees at a site just off of I-275 and Ecorse Road. Generally, the two giant corporations do not compete in the marketplace.

The 50 page Salem JCI agreement including attachments and a detailed letter from Steve Mann can be read online at the Salem Township Web site: salem.mi.org/JohnsonControls. (Fortune 500 rank 111 in 2002) is based in Milwaukee but its automotive interiors group is headquartered in Plymouth.

ately replace 23 buses, and forge an annual replacement program with money from the general fund to begin in the 2007-08 school year

"Our fleet is very old, and becoming increasingly more difficult and expensive to keep on the road," Latnie said "If we don't invest on the front end by buying new buses now, we'll have to pay on the back end with repair costs that typically triple after the seventh year"

The transportation department has one bus with nearly 275,000 miles on it, and two others with approximately 220,000 Most of those needing replacement have 150,000 miles and more, and some have body rust concerns

"Some of the buses have poor heat, and you need that in the winter," said bus driver Marika Besco, who was driving a special education bus that had racked up 174,000 miles "And, it's a really rough ride We could use some new buses"

Mike Sprecher of Canton, a relief driver, was excited to hear of the plan for new buses as he was getting his assignment at the bus yard on Mill Street

"Some of the older buses do need to be replaced the controls aren't as smooth as the newer ones," he said "Transportation of our kids is very important They're the future of America"

The administrative plan calls for spending $130,000 in 1998 bond money to purchase two buses, along with $1.4 million from the 1999 bond for an additional 21 vehicles

District officials are hoping a future bond issue, which could come as early as September, will earmark $3.7 million for 31 more buses The plan is to then use $770,000 in general fund money, currently being spent annually for an energy bond, to purchase buses on a yearly basis beginning in the 2007-08 school year

"It's nice to finally have a draft of a bus replacement plan," said board Treasurer

Judy Mardigian "When a bus inspector says we're going to take buses out of your fleet because they're too old, I think that becomes a high priority"

Latnie is hopeful the board will approve the replacement program soon in order to thwart any bad news from another state inspection, which is expected this summer

"It will take six-nine months before we take delivery on our new units, if we ordered them today," he said "If we don't address our aging fleet, the state inspector could temporarily shut us down by failing an ordinate amount of buses when he returns"

DAISY

Graham "I think there could also be some potential traffic issues By and large, they're listening to the community"

McKeon had said about a quarter of the 230,000-square-foot Daisy building would be used for housing, with the remainder torn down to make way for condominiums

Mike Conter, the Michigan representative for Joseph Freed

& Associates, said, "We know we're going to save some of the older parts of the building We'll look at the structural integrity and what makes sense to preserve"

The units are expected to sell in the price range of $280,000 to $300,000

Last year, the city commission designated the Daisy site a brownfield area, defined as abandoned, undeveloped or underused properties because of environmental contamination

The Daisy property, which originally housed a foundry and a railroad depot, reportedly contains some areas with significant soil contamination, including lead concentrations, but reportedly not toxic

Under the brownfield designation, the developer must pay the cleanup costs However, the builder can be reimbursed by the Brownfield Authority, which uses increases in tax revenues from the site to pay back developers for expenses related to the cleanup

Veterinarians team up to treat serious illnesses in family pets

BY JACK GLADDEN
STAFF WRITER

When Joyce Obradovich decided to become a veterinarian, she was working as a microbiologist at Yale University's medical school.

"I got interested in cancer research," she said. "Then I turned around and went to vet school and became interested in veterinary cancer medicine."

While she was studying that at Colorado State University, her own dog was diagnosed with cancer.

"He was treated for lymphoma and he lived for 3½ years with chemotherapy," she said. "That's what made me realize that dogs can be treated without the serious side effects that people have to the treatment and they can have a good quality of life."

Thousands of miles away, in Munich, Germany, Michael Wolf was just graduating from vet school when he suffered a serious back injury.

"That's what got me interested in neurology and neurosurgery," he said. "After I graduated, I came to the University of Georgia and worked with a neurologist there for some time. I trained for two years in Berne, Switzerland, and then for three years in Davis, Calif., at the vet school there."

Now Obradovich and Wolf share a suite in a professional park at 8560 Canton Center Road in Canton, where she operates the Animal Cancer & Imaging Center and he runs the Animal Neurological Center.

Both specialists are rare breeds, so to speak. Obradovich said there are about 125 animal oncologists worldwide and only two in Michigan. "And the other one doesn't have radiation facilities," she said.

Therein lies the secret to the success of their operation.

"We're way more high-tech than Michigan State," said Mark Batchelor, hospital administrator for the clinic and, coincidentally, husband of Obradovich. "MSU sends us about 15 percent of our business."

The Canton clinic is the second branch for Animal Cancer & Imaging. She has another facility in Rochester Hills which is bursting at the seams with clients. But the Canton location is even more high-tech than that one.

In addition to six examination rooms, there's a surgery suite where Wolf performs brain and spine surgery on his patients.

They have an X-ray room, an ultrasound, a CT scan and a radiation therapy machine. The CT and radiation equipment are reconditioned units from human hospitals, since such devices are not made just for veterinary use.

DOUG JOHNSON | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Dr. Joyce Obradovich holds a patient in the CT scan room of the clinic while Dr. Michael Wolf assists. Unlike humans, the animals are sedated before being put through the scanner.

Even though the two machines are "used," at a cost of $150,000 each it's clear that having a pet treated for cancer or neurological problems is not going to be inexpensive. And indeed it's not.

According to Batchelor, an initial consultation is $85, a CT scan is $1,200 and a complete radiation treatment is $3,000.

He said about a third of the overall business is radiation. "We have to see them every working day for three weeks," he said. Between the two facilities right now we probably see 20 a day. People come from all over the state from all over this part of the country and Canada.

Batchelor said the largest volume of business is for chemotherapy treatments, and that's not cheap either. Last week a woman brought her dog in for a first chemotherapy treatment.

"We did an ultrasound and X-rays, and now we're going to do chemotherapy," Obradovich said. "Her charges for today are $940."

She said she didn't want to scare people away with the charges, but all of the equipment and medication is extremely expensive.

Since they operate on a 100-percent referral basis from other veterinarians, Obradovich said most people are aware before they come to the clinic that they're in for some heavy costs.

"With the cancer treatment," she said, "people will often say, 'Why treat cancer in animals?' Over 50 percent of the ones we treat are cured. We concentrate on treating patients that have a good chance of a cure or at least a meaningful pain-free remission."

And she pointed out that cancer is the leading natural cause of death in pets.

Both Wolf and Obradovich said most of their patients are just ordinary people who love their animals — and there are lots of them. Wolf said he saw about 1,200 cases last year and Obradovich said between the Rochester Hills and Canton locations, she saw 8,000 appointments and that included 2,000 new cancer patients.

And the pets are as special to them as they are to their owners.

"Every pet is really important to us," Wolf said. "Every pet has a particular personality. Those who stay here for a longer period of time and who require a lot of post-operative care and support, those are the cases you grow very close to. If they get better over time, that's the most rewarding kind of experience you can have."

For Obradovich, there's another aspect to the story.

"While I was a resident at Colorado State University, they developed a technique of doing a special surgery on a dog with a bone tumor," she said. "They were able to preserve the limb instead of amputating. And because of that work, they ended up doing that procedure on children. Those are the things that are most meaningful."

FALLS FROM ARTHRITIS

Arthritis can be the cause for a fall. Usually the joint involved is the knee, the cause is osteoarthritis, and the immediate event is a sudden move such as you would undertake if you wanted to cross the street as the light turned from green to yellow.

Arthritis of the knee can cause your leg to buckle when stepping up a curb, out of a car, or down a step. In these circumstances, you are suddenly placing a large load onto one leg. The knee gives way not from pain but as a way to avoid it; the leg just doesn't accept the strain.

Falls that occur while you are walking on level ground, and that come on with no warning and are not accompanied by pain in the hip, knee, or ankle before the fall, are not due to arthritis. The source of such accidents often are the hear. What has happened is that you have experienced a transient change in the rhythm of your heart. The effect was to temporarily decrease the flow of blood to the brain which caused you to experience a short fainting spell. The episode can be extremely brief and leave you without the sense that you lost consciousness.

Often after the fall you will have knee or ankle pain. In such an instance the arthritis results from the injury rather than being its cause. Do not be surprised when after listening to your experience and examining you, your doctor does not order further x-rays. Instead he may arrange for you to wear a heart monitor to obtain a 24-hour record of the rate and rhythm of your heart.

Detroit Metro gets top ratings on site

Detroit Metropolitan County Airport (DTW) has received more international recognition, becoming the only U.S. airport to finish among the top five in a survey conducted by the Netherlands-based web site www.TravelQuality.com.

Over 21,000 travelers and visitors to the web site voted in a number of categories including "Best Airport." The top five airports were Amsterdam, Istanbul, Dubai, Detroit and Hong Kong. The voting occurred over a six-month period ending Nov. 30, 2002.

This recognition comes on the heels of a J.D. Power & Associates customer satisfaction survey ranking DTW tied for second among U.S. airports in the 30 million passenger-plus category.

"We are gratified to be recognized in this manner," said Wayne County Authority CEO

Lester Robinson. "The addition of our sixth runway, a new access road, convenient parking, the new 97-gate McNamara Terminal/Northwest World Gateway and a focus on customer service has catapulted Detroit Metro from nobody's favorite airport to one of the very best. This represents a lot of teamwork among employees of the airlines and airport authority as well as tenants and vendors."

"Now is not the time to slow down," said Robinson. "Plans for demolition, renovation and reconstruction of the older terminal areas are being developed to continue to maintain and improve upon customer satisfaction."

For survey results visit www.travelquality.com. For information of Detroit Metro, visit www.metroairport.com.

SEMCOG brochure looks at industrial/tech parks

Southeast Michigan is home to 438 industrial/research/hi-tech parks covering more than 34,000 acres of land, according to Industrial/Research/Hi-Tech Parks in Southeast Michigan, recently published by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. The report is the last in the Major Economic Activity Map series, following the first three publications, Foreign Investment in Southeast Michigan, Medical Facilities in Southeast Michigan and Shopping Centers in Southeast Michigan.

The report pinpoints the locations of industrial/research/hi-tech parks as well as several proposed locations on a map of the seven-county, Southeast Michigan region.

The report identifies some key data relating to industrial/research/hi-tech parks.

■ Most (174) of the parks were built in the 1980s, 11 (4,590 acres) are currently proposed.

■ The most common size of a park is between 26 and 50 acres, 127 are in this category.

■ Oakland County has the largest number of parks (135) on 7,687 acres.

■ Wayne County has the most acres of land (8,618) in parks (125).

■ Livonia has the most parks of any community in Southeast Michigan (27).

■ The Greenwood Energy Center Industrial Park in Greenwood Township (St. Clair County) is the largest park in Southeast Michigan (3,600 acres).

The brochure is available in PDF on the SEMCOG Web site - www.semcog.org. All of the reports in the Major Economic Activity Maps series are available by contacting SEMCOG Information Services, (313)961-4266.

Rouge benefit dinner set

An elegant five-course dinner featuring wild game and hand-rolled cigars will be the highlight of a March 4 fund-raising event to support the educational programs of Friends of the Rouge, a non-profit environmental organization.

The event will also include a silent auction featuring sports memorabilia, wildlife art and local treasures. Tickets are $125 each and can be purchased by calling (313)792-9900 or by going to the Friends of the Rouge web site at www.therouge.org and following the instructions at the Current Events icon. The deadline for purchasing tickets is Feb. 26.

The dinner will be held at Merwether's Restaurant in Southfield and will be prepared by executive chef Matthew Barkach. Merwether's, a Chuck Muer restaurant, is at 25485 Telegraph Road, just north of 10 Mile Road. Smokers Only of Allen Park and CAO will provide cigars.

Non-smoking rooms will be available.

New UM president inaugurated March 27

Mary Sue Coleman will be inaugurated as the 13th president of the University of Michigan in ceremonies to take place on March 27 in the Crisler Arena on the University campus.

The academic procession will begin at 9:45 a.m. and the installation will occur at 10 a.m.

"President Coleman's inauguration will be open to the entire campus community," said Chacona Johnson, inauguration chairwoman. "We have chosen to hold the ceremony in the Crisler Arena expressly in order to make it possible to invite everyone - faculty, students and staff - to attend this historic moment in the life of the University."

An academic symposium is scheduled to follow the inaugural ceremony 2:30-4 p.m. in the Power Center.

Inauguration day activities will conclude with a campus-wide reception 4:30-6:30 p.m. in the President's House, 815 South University Ave. All are invited.

The inauguration ceremony is open to all. Seating is open, tickets are not required.

Mary Sue Coleman became the 13th president of the University of Michigan on July 1, 2002.

Formerly president of the University of Iowa (1995-2002), Coleman was elected to the National Academy of Sciences' Institute of Medicine in 1997, and is a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. She co-chairs the Institute of Medicine's Committee on the Consequences of Uninsurance.

She serves on the Association of American Universities executive committee, the American Council on Education board of directors, the National Collegiate Athletic Association board of directors, and the Knights Commission on Intercollegiate Athletics. She has been appointed to the boards of the Michigan Economic Development Corporation and the Michigan Life Science Corridor.

Coleman has served as provost and vice president for academic affairs (1993-95) at the University of New Mexico and as vice chancellor for graduate studies and research (1992-93) and associate provost and dean of research (1990-92) at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She served 19 years as a member of the biochemistry faculty and as Cancer Center administrator at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, where her research focused on the immune system and malignancies.

At the University of Michigan, she holds appointments as professor of biological chemistry at the U-M Medical School and professor of chemistry in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

Coleman earned her bachelor's degree in chemistry from Grinnell College and her doctorate in biochemistry from the University of North Carolina. She did postdoctoral work at North Carolina and at the University of Texas at Austin.

Side dish

Black history

The Canned Food Alliance is saluting African American traditions in the kitchen. According to the sixth annual report on The Buying Power of Black America, African Americans spend more money annually on select canned goods than other Americans. A popular dish in African American kitchens is Hoppin' John Salad. Here's the recipe.

HOPPIN' JOHN

1/2 pound bacon, sliced into small bits, cooked and well-drained
1 pound Andouille sausage cut into 1/2 inch slices, cooked and well-drained (or substitute with hot Cajun sausage, or mild Polish sausage)
2 cups chopped onions
2 cups chopped red & green bell pepper
1 cup chopped celery
3 cloves minced garlic
1 pound black eyed peas
1 1/2 cups uncooked brown or white rice
2 quarts and 2 cups stock or water (add more if needed)
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons black pepper (more if you like it hot)
3 teaspoons paprika
2 teaspoons granulated garlic
1 teaspoon basil
1 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon savory
1 teaspoon parsley
3 bay leaves
Cook and drain the meats. Mix all the spices into one bowl. In a Dutch oven add two tablespoons of bacon grease or vegetable oil. Add the onion, pepper, celery, garlic, black eyed peas and half of the spice mixture and fry for about 10 minutes. Stir and scrape the bottom of the pot frequently.
Add the meats, the rest of the spice mixture and two quarts of stock or water. Cover and simmer over low heat for one hour or until peas are done.
Add the rice and two cups stock or water and simmer for 20-30 minutes. Should not be watery. Serve with greens or cornbread.

New store in Town

Trader Joe's relies on customers who are seeking adventure in their food choices

BY LANA MINI
STAFF WRITER

You mean you haven't been there yet?" Those words echo among new customers at Trader Joe's in Farmington Hills and Royal Oak. Those words were muttered to Sylvia Stefanovich by a friend before she became a self-proclaimed "loyal customer" of Trader Joe's in Royal Oak. Now she's passing that statement on to friends. "It's amazing how everyone's talking about it," Stefanovich said. "It's such a fun store. I want to go there every day and I'm the kind of person who hates grocery shopping, and it's cheap." On her first visit to the store she took notice of the intentionally wide aisles, cedar walls and organic foods. Talk on the streets about Trader Joe's began quietly when it opened in November, but word-of-mouth seems to be getting louder. And that's just what officials from the 40-year-old California-based company expected. "We rely on word-of-mouth for our success," said Diane O'Connor, Trader Joe's spokeswoman. Rich Millis, captain leader of the Farmington Hills location, said what makes Trader Joe's different is its smaller size and that management doesn't expect that customers shop there exclusively. "Our store is for people who like to experiment with food," Millis said. "Most people think shopping is a burden and the fact that they cannot get everything they want

She doesn't intend it to be her primary grocery store. "I'll go to more than one store for

One of the biggest misconceptions about depression is that people who have it don't function well. In truth, even highly successful people unknowingly struggle with it. The University of Michigan Depression Center can help even if you're not sure you need help. And it's the only multidisciplinary program of its kind in the country, so you can be sure you're starting in the right place. To learn more about depression and to take an online depression screening, visit www.med.umich.edu/depression/screen.htm. Try dishes with heart this Valentine's Day

BY LANA MINI
STAFF WRITER

Valentine's Day isn't just for lovers - it's a day to share warm feelings with loved ones. Here are some Feb. 14 ideas that aren't cliché.

Have lunch 1 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14, at The Vineyard Cafe and Catering, 32418 Northwestern Highway, Farmington Hills, reservations encouraged, but not required.

Elvis will arrive in a limousine and serenade the crowd with love songs. Guests will receive Maggie's decadent Double Dipped Strawberry Chocolate Roses along with nonalcoholic champagne. Anyone named "Elvis" or born on Feb. 14 will receive a dozen strawberry chocolate roses.

A portion of proceeds from lunch sales will go toward Children's Hospital of Michigan.

Pink Sorbet placed in the center of a real rose, Parmesan Braided Hearts, Pink Coconut Custard hearts with Rose Petals, and nonedible heart-shaped rose soap are among the heartfelt creations you'll find in the book. Here's a recipe to try.

RED BEET AND RED CHARD RISOTTO

- 2 bunches (about 15) small fresh beets
- 6 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- 1/2 chopped onion
- 2 ounces pancetta, chopped
- 4 to 5 cups chicken or vegetable stock
- 1 pound ruby red chard, washed and julienneed
- 3 cups arborio or carnaroli rice
- 1 cup dry white wine at room temperature
- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste

Preheat oven to 400°F. Lightly oil a medium casserole. In a large saucepan bring three cups of salted water to a boil. Select six of the smallest and prettiest baby beets for garnish and set aside. Trim the roots and stems from the remaining beets and scrub well and quarter lengthwise.

Drop the quartered beets into the water and cook 8 to 12 minutes until tender when pierced with a fork. Drain, reserving the water and remove the beet skins. Place beets in the prepared casserole dish with two tablespoons olive oil added. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Roast in oven for 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Set aside.

Strain the reserved beet cooking water and combine it with the stock in a large saucepan over medium heat. Bring to simmer.

In another large, heavy saucepan over medium heat, heat the remaining four tablespoons of olive oil. Add onion and pancetta and cook five minutes until onion is golden brown. Add the chard and cook four to five minutes until soft. With a slotted spoon, remove the chard mix and set aside. In the same pan, add rice and stir three to four minutes until grain is coated and rice is translucent. Add wine and stir until it's completely absorbed.

Begin to add the simmering beet stock, one half cup at a time and stir frequently to prevent sticking. Wait until the stock is nearly absorbed but never dry on top before adding the next one-half cup. Reserve about one-quarter cup to add at the end. Stir 18 to 20 minutes.

When rice is tender, but still firm, turn off heat and stir in the quartered beets, chard, butter and the remaining stock. Season with salt and pepper and garnish with reserved whole beets. Serve immediately on plate. Spoon rice mix into a heart shape and place a beet with stems onto top to mimic the human heart. Serves 6.

good food," Winkelman said as she shopped with her daughter Amy, who wanted organic almond cookies. Her interesting find for the day was a one-pound box of freshly frozen, vacuum-packed gnocchi for $1.79. "It's a good price, I'm willing to give it a try," she said.

Trader Joe's in Farmington Hills is just yards away from Trader Joe's "Captain" manager Rich Millis has opened Trader Joe's stores on the West Coast and in Michigan.

unknown producers has allowed the market to offer customers a wide variety of bargains, many in the $5 range.

Though not stunners, most wines are perfectly fine for everyday drinking.

Millis said Trader Joe's sells products at low prices for several reasons. The company carries the same items at all its nationwide stores, special orders aren't considered, large-quantity purchases gives negotiating power to the company, and the company says it makes its purchases in cash.

Also, the majority of store items are sold on the TJ's private label.

FUN THEME

The Farmington Hills store has a lake theme. Wooden paddles mark the numbers of each register and a wall mural is titled "Lake TJ's Farmington Hills." The Royal Oak store also has a nautical theme and Motown music memorabilia. Employees sport Hawaiian shirts and make a point to approach customers with offers of assistance.

"We get about 15 new items in each week, so there's always new things being added," Millis said.

Eccentric Managing Editor Joe Bauman contributed to this story.

WHERE TO SHOP

■ Farmington Hills - 31221 W 14 Mile Road at Northwestern Highway (248) 737-4609

■ Royal Oak - 27880

Woodward Ave. Royal Oak. Both stores open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

BACKGROUND

■ There are nearly 200 Trader Joe's nationwide in 19 states.

■ The company began in California in 1958 as a chain of convenience stores called Pronto Markets.

■ Joe Coulombe doubled the floor space of his stores in 1967 and began offering harder-to-find boutique items at competitive costs. He renamed them "Trader Joe's" and installed cedar plank walls to create a nautical theme.

Store managers were renamed Captain and assistant managers First Mate. The idea of a fun store caught on.

■ One of Trader Joe's slogans is "If customers don't like it, they can bring it back - no questions asked."

■ TJ brand items specialize in organic, kosher, vegetarian, soy foods, meats and decadent products like coconut ice cream in a real coconut shell.

vegetarian meatballs, and cranberry stuffed chicken breast. It contracts with many companies that make products under the Trader Joe's label. All TJ's labels have minimally processed ingredients.

Whole Foods. The Royal Oak location is across the street from Westborn Market. Both stores carry produce. Millis said the store philosophy is not about competition.

"We're in the same market as Whole Foods, but we aren't out to put anyone out of business," he said. "We sincerely believe there's enough business for both."

The attitude at Whole Foods Market, however, was different.

"Whole Foods considers Trader Joe's a competitor and we take that competition seriously because we do share the same customers," said Susan Bellinson, marketing director of Whole Foods stores in Michigan. Another Trader Joe's strong point is the offering of value-priced wine. Combining private labels with relatively

WHAT IS IT?

What is Trader Joe's? It might be easier to explain what it is not.

■ It's not a regular grocery store although it sells snacks, frozen dinners, meats, fruits, vegetables, desserts, pet food, wine and beer, shampoos and soaps made with natural ingredients.

■ It's not a discount store even though its prices are competitive with nearby grocers. For example, frozen strawberries are $1.69 per pound, four ounces of Blue Hills smoked tuna $3.99, pine nuts less than $9 per pound and one gram of saffron is just $2.99. Artichoke and three cheese ravioli with olives is

$2.99 and four and a half pounds of creamy dark chocolate $7.99.

■ It's also not a health food store even though much of the food is organic with a large but not exclusive vegetarian and vegan selection.

■ And it's not a gourmet market even though it carries Arabica coffee beans and 80 cheeses from the U.S., France, Switzerland, Norway and Italy. It also carries a large selection of flash frozen salmon, snow crab ravioli and Australian free range beef and buffalo burgers.

■ It's not marketed as a beer and wine store even though it carries both. Trader Joe's is a mix of the above rolled into one.

Bubbles and superb reds for Valentine's Day

Pinot noir's freshness and vibrancy is exceptional in a top-of-the-line Brut Rose champagne Strawberry and red currant aromas layer in with cherry notes Long aging on the yeast adds depth to mid-palate flavors and assures a wine that finishes creamy and supple It makes you say, "yum!"

That's the single word we used to describe the newly released 1996 Moët & Chandon Rose ($60) when we tasted it It is a perfect Valentine's Day pour

Harvest 1996 in the champagne region is considered one of the very best in the last few years Georges Blanck, chef de cave for Moët & Chandon, said it has "exceptional maturity and amazing freshness" Translation perfect balance between fruit and acidity These are the prime factors needed to make a heavenly match between the Moët & Chandon Rose and food

If you don't plan on eating at a restaurant to celebrate Valentine's Day, but opt to cook a special meal, here are some hints from Moët & Chandon The exotic flavors and spice of the 1996 Moët & Chandon Rose marry well with dishes using black truffles, wild mushrooms, lemon, soy sauce, mint and mild spices Create a perfect match with smoked salmon, crab cakes, lamb, smoked ham and flavorful cheeses such as munster, havart or mature gouda

For a bubbly more reminiscent of a Blanc de Blancs, we suggest the 1996 Moët & Chandon Brut Imperial ($50) Although this wine is 50 percent pinot noir, it had less skin contact than the Rose, which alters the impression

Try it with tuna sushi, caviar, oysters, scallops, crab, grilled or pan-sauteed John Dory, sturgeon or foie gras It's delightful with French Vacherin cheese, Parmesan or Gorgonzola, walnuts or almonds Match it with dishes where herbs and condiments such as mint, citrus vinegar, sesame, ginger or tarragon are ingredients

To pull out all the stops, choose the always magical Dom Perignon champagne The 1995 has a wide variation in price in this market. We've seen it in fine wine shops from as low as $115 to a high of $140 At Costco, it's $90!

If you prefer sweeter bubbles, then you'll like the Moët & Chandon Imperial Nectar Rose ($48)

Fruity dessert always in season

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A layered strudel is a traditional German dessert favorite This stacked version is easy to make, especially if you use the fresh phyllo that's increasingly available in supermarkets refrigerated sections

BAVARIAN APPLE STRUDEL

- 1/2 cup golden raisins
- 1/4 cup rum
- 3/4 cup granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon finely grated lemon rind
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 5 Golden Delicious apples peeled cored and thinly sliced
- 14 sheets fresh or thawed frozen phyllo
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter melted
- 1 cup creme fraiche or sour cream
- Confectioners sugar
- Combine raisins and rum, set aside 10 minutes or longer

Heat oven to 400° F Butter a 9-inch-square baking pan Combine granulated sugar, lemon rind and cinnamon, set aside

Place phyllo sheets between two sheets of waxed paper, then cover with damp towel to prevent drying out Remove one sheet of phyllo and brush completely with butter, repeat with 3 more sheets, layering them into a stack of 4

Press phyllo stack into bottom of pan, folding to fit, onto it place half of prepared apples, topped with half of raisin mixture and granulated sugar mixture, spread half the creme fraiche on top Stack another 4 sheets of phyllo on top of fruit layer, buttering and folding each as before Top with remaining apples, raisins, sugar mixture and creme fraiche Stack another 4 sheets of buttered, folded phyllo on top

To give the top of the strudel a ruffled effect, butter and stack 2 more sheets of phyllo, cut them into 1 1/2-inch-wide strips Gently crumple each strip and place them randomly on top of strudel

Bake strudel on bottom shelf of oven 25 to 30 minutes or until browned and bubbly (If top begins to brown too much, cover loosely with aluminum foil)

Cool strudel, sprinkle with confectioners sugar before serving Makes 6 servings

Kasha is an easy alternative ingredient with nutty flavor

AP - Kasha (roasted buckwheat kernels) is an ingredient worth remembering when you are looking for nutritional variety in recipes.

Its name comes from its longtime use in dishes traditional to Eastern Europe and Russia. It has good-quality plant protein, and though it looks and tastes like a grain, with a nutty flavor, it comes from a fruit, from the buckwheat plant - so it can be eaten by people with a sensitivity or allergy to gluten who need wheat-free diets.

Kasha is available at supermarkets, sometimes in sections for ethnic foods, or among kosher products.

These easy microwave recipes include a salad and a savory vegetarian pilaf.

- 1/2 cup pitted sliced black olives (such as Kalamata)
- 1/2 cup crumbled feta cheese (about 2 ounces)
- 1/2 teaspoon minced garlic
- 1/4 cup prepared no fat Italian salad dressing

Place kasha in a 2 quart microwavable dish

Toast in microwave on high for 2 minutes. Stir in 2 cups boiling water and salt.

Cover loosely with plastic wrap or waxed paper. Microwave on high until liquid is absorbed, about 9 minutes, let stand 2 minutes.

Uncover, fluff gently with a fork and cool to just warm.

Add cucumber, tomatoes, olives, feta cheese, garlic and salad dressing, toss. Serve at room temperature over lettuce leaves, if desired.

Makes 4 servings (about 4 1/2 cups)

Note: If you use granulated kasha, coat with 1 beaten egg before microwaving. Nutrition information per serving: 123 cal, 5 g pro, 14 g carbo, 6 g fat, 17 mg chol, 797 mg sodium, 2 g fiber.

BY DANA JACOBI
CORRESPONDENT

If you have tried to achieve "Five-a-Day," you know that eating two servings of fruit, the minimum recommendation, is easy, but fitting in the vegetables can be the hard part.

For the fruit, slice a banana over your cereal at breakfast, snack on fruit salad after lunch, and you have done it.

For the vegetables, measure out a half-cup of cooked broccoli and a cup of green salad, and see how modest this three-serving goal is for vegetables.

Still, few Americans manage to consume more than one and a half servings of vegetables every day.

So how can eating the recommended three servings become easy?

For starters, I always double that cup of salad, because one cup of leafy greens is a puny serving.

Though I like the European way of serving salad after the main course, I have it first, both at home and when eating out, because when I am hungry, it seems to disappear easily.

When I know I do not have time to cut up vegetables, I cheat by buying them at a salad bar, already cut up. It not only saves time, but lets me buy just a portion or two, which means I will not find yellowing or yucky vegetables in the corners of the refrigerator a week later.

If I have ten minutes to chop up some stuff, I make mug soup.

For this, I cut broccoli into florets, or peel and dice a butternut squash, and put it in a pot with a diced onion and some cummin for the broccoli, or cinnamon and ginger for the squash.

Add three cups of water and cook, covered, until everything is soft, about 20 minutes.

Puree it and you will have a sippable soup. A big mugful, equaling two servings of veggies, goes down in a blink.

When there is more time to cook, ratatouille and other vegetable stews are my favorites.

They taste so good that eating a cup and a half, your three servings of vegetables, is a treat.

I also love interesting salads. I call this one Winter Tabbouleh because it includes little broccoli florets and an apple.

Besides adding wintery flavor, they make this salad substantial enough to be a light meal.

AMERICAN INSTITUTE FOR CANCER RESEARCH

Winter Tabbouleh is substantial enough to be a light meal.

WINTER TABBOULEH

- 3/4 cup medium bulgur
- 2 1/2 cups boiling water
- 2 1/2 cups small broccoli florets
- 2 large plum tomatoes seeded and chopped
- 1 small Granny Smith apple peeled and finely chopped
- 5 scallions white and green parts thinly sliced
- 1/2 cup chopped mint
- 1 tablespoon extra virgin olive oil
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice or to taste
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste

Set aside for 30 minutes. Line sieve with a double layer of cheesecloth or paper towels. Pour bulgur into the sieve and drain well. Using paper towels and your hands, squeeze bulgur to extract as much excess moisture as possible. Return bulgur to the bowl.

Cook broccoli in boiling water for 1 minute. Transfer broccoli to a colander and run ice cold water over it to stop cooking and set its color. Drain well and add to the bowl of bulgur.

Add tomatoes, apple, scallions, mint and oil. Using a fork, toss until well combined. Season to taste with lemon juice, salt and pepper. This salad keeps 1 to 2 days if covered in the refrigerator. Makes about 8 servings.

Per serving: 82 calories, 2 g total fat (less than 1 g saturated fat), 15 g carbohydrate, 2 g protein, 4 g dietary fiber, 11 mg sodium.

Spaghetti Chicken is a one-pot dish that you cook once, for two meals

In a hurry? Cook once, serve twice

BY DANA JACOBI
CORRESPONDENT

SPAGHETTI CHICKEN WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE

- 1 split skinless chicken breast with ribs (2 halves)
- 4 skinless chicken thighs
- 1 tsp extra virgin olive oil
- 1 medium onion chopped
- 1 garlic clove minced
- 1/4 lb crimini or white mushrooms thickly sliced
- 1 can (28 oz) diced tomatoes
- 1 tsp dried oregano
- 1/2 tsp dried basil
- Pinch of red pepper flakes (optional)
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
- 1/2 lb spaghetti or linguini
- 1/4 cup freshly grated Parmigiano Reggiano (Parmesan) cheese (1 oz)

Spaghetti Chicken sounds like a four-year-old confiding the name of his or her favorite dish. Still I came up with this creation in the days when sharing the rent and grocery bills with a roommate was a necessity. It remains a favorite comfort food that's both convenient and economical, features we all still prize.

Convenience first. Spaghetti Chicken is a one-pot dish that you cook once, for two meals. Well, maybe it is a three-pot dish, if you include the skillet for making the chicken, a pot for boiling the spaghetti and a saucepan for the soup that uses the leftover chicken. As for the economic virtues, the key ingredient is not only inexpensive, it lets you use about one and a half pounds of meat to feed four people, twice.

As comfort food, pasta topped with savory, homemade sauce, mushrooms and freshly cooked chicken rates high at my house. I usually use the leftover white meat in soup, most often combined with vegetables and beans or rice, or both — another comfort food.

Healthy eating is another virtue of this dish. Spaghetti Chicken provides lean protein for two meals, plus one to two servings of vegetables, along with a grain, the first time around. If you like, increase the amount of vegetables the second time around (I have added frozen green peas, leftover fresh corn sliced off the cob, sliced zucchini, chopped spinach, even canned beans to this dish.)

Requiring relatively little time in the kitchen, this dish works equally well with whole wheat or the regular, semolina type of pasta. Sometimes I use rice instead, either white or brown, or spoon the chicken and sauce over polenta.

Coat a large, non-stick skillet with cooking spray. Set pan over medium-high heat. Brown chicken lightly, about eight minutes, turning pieces occasionally, so it colors on all sides. Transfer chicken to a plate. Heat oil in the pan. Sauté onions and garlic until translucent, about four minutes. Add mushrooms. Sauté until they release liquid, about four minutes. Add tomatoes with their liquid, oregano, basil, and pepper flakes, if using. Season with salt and pepper. Return chicken to skillet. Simmer until chicken is white at the bone, about 40 minutes, turning it after 25 minutes.

Transfer chicken pieces to plate. When they are cool enough to handle, pull all the meat from the bones. There will be about eight ounces of white meat and six of dark meat. Set aside the dark meat for Chicken Spaghetti. Cover the rest, and refrigerate, to use another time. Cook pasta according to package directions. Divide it among four bowls. If necessary, reheat sauce in the skillet. When hot, add reserved shredded chicken. Spoon sauce over pasta. Sprinkle with cheese and serve.

Spartans take down Salem in hockey war

BY BRAD MONASTIERE
STAFF WRITER

Good things came in twos — twice — for Livonia Stevenson's hockey team

On two occasions, the Spartans scored two goals within a minute of each other, and it turned out to be enough to earn a 4-2 win over Plymouth Salem in a Western Lakes Activities Association game Friday night at the Plymouth Cultural Center

The win gives Stevenson the Lakes Division championship, and improves its record to 12-7-1 overall and 4-1-1 within the division The Rocks fall to 16-3-1 and 3-2-1 with the loss

The game was fast-paced, hard hitting, and — mostly in the second and third periods — chippy on both sides The teams were whistled for a combined nine penalties in the last 6:03 of the second period, and Salem was called for eight penalties in the third period alone, which played a big factor in the outcome, according to coach Fred Feiler

"I don't care who you are, it's almost impossible to survive when you get called for that many penalties in one period," he said after the game "We spent so much energy trying to kill penalties, it took away from our ability to win"

The Spartans, who played with a lot of hustle and energy throughout the game, used a quick-strike offense to grab the lead early and late in the game

Senior forward Justin Dunn made a pair of beautiful moves and scored off a backhand just 2:28 into the game to give the Spartans an early 1-0 lead

Just 34 seconds later, senior Brian Shekell swept in a

Hoskins pours in 23 to lead Salem to win over Spartans

Strong play in the second and third quarters carried Plymouth Salem (11-5, 3-3) to a WLA-Lakes Division triumph over host Livonia Stevenson (11-5, 2-4)

David Hoskins, a 6-foot-4 senior guard, led the Rocks with 23 points and 12 rebounds Junior forward Brad Clark contributed nine points, while Brian Bradley and Stevland Davis added seven apiece.

BASKETBALL

Stevenson led 16-15 after one period, but Salem roared back with a 15-6 run in the second quarter and an 18-11 run in the third quarter

"We played solid on both ends of the floor," Salem coach Bob Brodie said "I don't know if it was our defense, but Stevenson did not shoot well

"We got a lot of support from our bench All nine players are playing well right now"

Seniors Brady Crosby and Brandon Chtwood each scored 12 for the Spartans, who were 18-of-25 from the foul line (72 percent) Salem was 11-of-18 (61 percent)

Salem loses close net battle with Walled Lake Central

Although it was a loss, Salem's volleyball match at Walled Lake Central did provide some benefits.

The Rocks did manage to top the Vikings in the first game, 16-14, before falling in the next two, 15-8, 15-8. The defeat left Salem with an 18-7 record overall, 4-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Rocks coach Tom Teeters wasn't all that happy with the first game, even though Salem won it. "We were up 11-5, 12-6, 13-8 and 14-10," he noted. Blocking was a key factor for us in that first game. Alyssa Boroway had three blocks and Nicole Genrich had two.

Amanda Bradley served the final two points of the game. After that, however, Salem's mistakes began to take their toll.

VOLLEYBALL

"Too many errors, ball-handling mistakes, said Teeters. But we learned a lot. We're going to make quite a few changes."

Among them are shuffling the hitting positions and trying to get the full benefit from the teams' strengths.

"Our setting is strong with Jordan (Falcusan), we've got to take advantage of that. And we've got to improve defensively. That can change in substitutions."

Ellen Canale led the Rocks with 12 kills in the match. Bradley had 10 and Lauren Price nine. Falcusan finished with 24 set assists.

"They're a little better than us," said Teeters of Central. "They're not overly talented, but they're stronger in a few positions."

"We've just got to get away from our high error rate, especially at key times."

Salem has just three conference matches left, all against Western Division foes, so whatever tinkering Teeters has planned better work quickly.

AGAPE TOPS CALVARY CHRISTIAN

After a sluggish start, Canton Agape Christian got rolling and defeated Ypsilanti Calvary Christian 15-11, 15-9 Thursday at Discovery Middle School.

The win boosted the Wolvernines' record to 12-7 overall.

"We started out a bit slow, then picked it up," said Agape coach

Gretchen Sexton — a description which could apply to the Wolvernines' start to the season (they were 6-6 at one point).

"We changed up our lineup a bit, from a 4-2 to a 5-1 with Emily (Tong) setting," Sexton explained. "That got us going."

Tong finished with 20 set assists. The player she set to the most was Lisa Ther, who responded by collecting 12 kills. A.J. Creps had four kills.

The previous Saturday (Feb. 1), Agape finished third at the Harper Woods Lutheran East Invitational. Playing 20-point rally scoring matches, the Wolvernines beat Center Line in their pool-play opener in the tiebreaker (total points scored), 15-20, 20-8.

They followed that with a 20-10,

20-11 win over Ecorse and a 20-14, 20-12 triumph over Trinity Catholic. They lost their last match in pool play to the host Eagles, 20-4, 20-13.

Agape's second-place finish in their pool put them in the tournament semifinals against Adrian Lenawee Christian, but the Wolvernines were no match for the Cougars, who won 20-11, 20-12. Lenawee eventually beat Lutheran East in the tournament final.

Agape met Warren Zoe Christian in the consolation final and won, 20-12, 20-12. Ther led the Agape attack with 42 kills, she also had nine digs and four aces in the tournament. Tong finished with 55 set assists, and Amy Henry had 10 service aces and eight digs. Creps had nine kills and four aces.

Ocelots number-crunch OCC, 107-62

Here's some key numbers from Wednesday's Oakland CC-at-Schoolcraft College men's basketball game.

Eighty-three and 66-52 and 20-20 and 8-50 and 30-18 and 25.

So what does all that add up to? A 107-62 victory for Schoolcraft College, ranked fourth in the NJCAA Division I with a 22-1 overall record.

The numbers also provide the difference between first place in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association's Eastern Conference — which SC is with a 9-0 record — and ninth place (out of 10 teams), which is where OCC is with a 2-8 mark (4-19 overall).

Now for those numbers. The first set is the number of shots taken by each team, SC getting off 83 to just 66 for the Raiders. That helps one understand why the score at halftime — reflected in the second set of numbers, 52-20 — was so lopsided in SC's favor. Then there's that third set of figures — the number of baskets by SC (20) and OCC (8) in the first half.

The last two sets of numbers are just as telling. The Ocelots had a 50-30 edge in rebounding, and they committed 18 turnovers to 25 by the Raiders.

If more is needed numerically, try these on: 24, 22, 20, 14 and 12. Those are the points produced by SC's top five scorers in the game. Tomvris Baker scored 24 (to go with 11 rebounds and four steals), Marcus Bennett netted 22 (with six assists and two steals), James Homes finished with 20 (and three steals), Andre Scott got 14 (and seven rebounds) and Ronald Dorsey scored 12 (with nine boards and three steals).

OCC was paced by Kyle Lawrence with 20 points, six assists and six steals, Romel Murray with 18 points, and Craig Myree with 10 points, seven rebounds and three steals.

SC plays a key game at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Flint Mott CC, second in the conference at 7-2 (16-7 overall).

Schoolcraft's Andre Scott (23) makes a move along baseline against Oakland Community College's Romel Murray.

Schoolcraft College guard Jazmyne Forster (10) moves ball upcourt with Oakland CC's Dana Millard in pursuit

Schoolcraft women escape with overtime win over OCC

The first time these two women's basketball teams met, Oakland CC got the better of Schoolcraft College and beat the Lady Ocelots on a last-second shot.

In Wednesday's rematch at SC, the outcome could not be decided in regulation time. The overtime session featured just three baskets, two by OCC and one of those a three-pointer. And yet it was the Ocelots who emerged with an 86-82 victory, and they did it by reversing a trend they had followed through the first 40 minutes.

The win was a big one for SC, improving its overall record to 15-7 and tying the Ocelots for second in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association's Eastern Conference with OCC, both at 8-2. The Lady Raiders are 17-6 overall. Flint Mott CC leads the conference at 8-1 (14-7 overall).

SC beat OCC at the free-throw line after converting just 12-of-25 from the stripe during regulation (48 percent), the Ocelots knocked down 9-of-11 in OT (81.8 percent). OCC was 17-of-20 at the line for the game (85 percent).

Pam Wingate was the key offensive figure for SC, converting 15-of-18 from the floor (83 percent) and scoring a game-high 32 points. Wingate also had six rebounds, three blocked shots and three steals.

Crystal Pittman added 18 points, eight boards and three assists, and Mia Henderson finished with 11 points and seven rebounds. Tara Charles had eight points and five assists.

The Lady Raiders were led by Ashlee Larsen with 15 points, Meagon Thornsberry with 14 points, 12 rebounds and five assists, Tiffany Burt with 14 points, 12 boards and three steals, and Dana Millard with 14 points, five assists and four steals. Larissa Taylor and Lea Anttila added nine points apiece.

The game was close throughout, OCC leading 37-35 at the half, with 18 lead changes and 13 tied scores. However, the Raiders were plagued by foul problems, Thornsberry, Burt, Taylor and Jillyn Stork all fouled out. No SC player had more than three fouls.

Madonna 68, Siena Heights 53: Balanced scoring and strong work on the boards were key factors in Madonna University's lopsided win over Siena Heights Wednesday at Madonna.

The win gave Madonna a 7-17 overall record, 5-4 in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference. The Saints are 6-21 overall, 2-7 in the WHAC.

Five players reached double figures in scoring for the Crusaders, who led 41-31 at halftime. Sarah Thomson was a major contributor, coming off the bench to make 6-of-7 floor shots and score a team-high 13 points in just 15:44 of playing time. Jackie Pingston, Lonann Tschirhart and Courtney Rehbine each netted 11 points, Tschirhart adding seven assists and two steals and Pingston getting three steals, and Lindsay Simmon had 10 points, seven rebounds and three steals.

Siena Heights got 17 points apiece from Nicole Coffey and Megan Wachtmann. Madonna had a 39-23 rebounding advantage, including a 21-10 edge on the offensive glass.

outscored Southfield 15-5. "When we got the lead, they couldn't play zone on us and we were able to stretch the lead," said PCA coach Doug Taylor. In the second half, we did a great job of boxing out, and we held them to one shot most of the time."

Senior center Ben Pew led the way for PCA with 23 points and 11 rebounds. Senior forward Clay Welton also played well, scoring 15 with eight boards and five assists. Dan Carty added 12 points and eight rebounds, while Lew Tripp played tough inside with six blocks and five rebounds, all in the second half.

PCA is now 6-8 overall and 3-5 in the Michigan Interscholastic Athletic Conference.

Shamrocks fry Rice

Redford Catholic Central earned a win and got a bonus on Friday night as the Shamrocks beat Birmingham Brother Rice as well as clinching second place in the Catholic League's Central Division.

CC's triumph over the Warriors gave the Shamrocks a 5-3 mark in the division and, coupled with Warren De La Salle's win over Harper Woods Notre Dame, means they'll be the second seed when the Catholic League playoffs start next Sunday at Calhan Hall.

But Waterstradt returned in the fourth quarter to score eight of his 21 points as the Shamrocks (8-6 overall) pulled away. He also had 16 rebounds while Dave Herberholz had 22 points with five 3 pointers, and Jim Cash kicked in with 16 points and 10 rebounds.

Brad Brinkman led Rice (5-11-0-8 Central) with 12 points while Kyle Hoover had 10.

Agape edges Calvary

Matt Ratchiff didn't score a lot of points Thursday at Ypsilanti Calvary Christian, but his last basket was a big one.

Ratchiff scored at the buzzer to lift the Wolverines to a dramatic 48-47 win over the Eagles. Agape improves to 11-5 with the win, Calvary Christian is 12-4.

The Wolverines overcame a three point deficit after one quarter to take a 23-16 lead at halftime. Entering the fourth quarter, their lead had grown to nine, 37-28.

Charlie Henry led Agape with 21 points. Jordan Napier added seven points and 10 rebounds. Matt Young topped the Eagles with 18 points.

Trojans win by 4

It was pretty, but Livonia Clarenceville (11-4, 6-1) pulled out a Metro Conference victory Friday at Harper Woods Lutheran East (3-10, 1-6) despite making just 7-of-22 free throws.

Glenn Garrant, a 6-7 senior, led the Trojans with 16 points. Pete Shaw, a 6-4 senior, added 10. Josh Silvernaal and Jason Robinson each contributed eight.

East, which threw up a 2-1-2 zone to stymie the Trojans, got 16 from Robert Carlisle.

CC icers hold off Trenton, 3-1

BY PAUL BEAUDRY
STAFF WRITER

Playing tough teams during the regular season can only help once the state playoffs start later this month.

And if that philosophy proves true, Catholic Central can look to Wednesday's game at Trenton as one of the reasons it is a favorite to win its fifth-straight state crown.

The Shamrocks jumped out early, then weathered Trenton opportunities and a barrage of second-period penalties to hold on a beat the host Trojans, 3-1. "It was a very good game," said CC co-coach Todd Johnson. "Games like this are why we try to play a tough schedule down the stretch. We handled our one-goal lead well in the third period."

CC jumped out to a 2-0 first-period lead on a goal by Brandon Naurato (from Eric Giosa and Travis Hamway) eight minutes into the game, then Hamway scored on a power-play (from Naurato and Andrew Eggert) four minutes later.

But Trenton went after CC in the second period, peppering them with shots and playing off CC mistakes. However, the Trojans (11-2-5) only nipped CC for one goal from Derek Cranford to tighten the game at 2-1.

"Trenton did a good job of weathering the storm at 2-0 because if we got the third goal, it would have hurt them," said Johnson. "In the second period we took some penalties we shouldn't have and had some calls go against us we weren't too thrilled with. Our penalty killing held us in the game."

CC held Trenton to a couple of scoring chances in the third period, and Giosa scored an empty-net goal from Naurato and Eggert with a second left to end the scoring.

Andrew Godoshian won his first start in goal for CC and stopped 25 of 26 shots, while Ben Trosian made 23 saves for Trenton.

On Friday, the Shamrocks played another tough team - Gates Mills (O) Gilmour Academy - and for the third time this season outside Michigan, went down to defeat.

Gilmour scored two times in the third period to stop CC, 4-3, and drop the Shamrocks to 15-3 overall. "We didn't play with the same intensity as we did with Trenton," said Johnson. "They scored every time we made a mistake."

Naurato opened the scoring on a power-play goal from Giosa and Eggert four minutes into the second period, but Gilmour scored the next two to take the lead.

Reimhardt scored the equalizer with 30 seconds left in the second period from Coldren and Eggert, but Gilmour came back with two more in the third period.

Reimhardt cut the lead to 4-3 with 1:43 left in the game from Coldren and Nathan Perkovich, but could come no closer. The Shamrocks did outshoot Gilmour, 31-18, with CC goalie Jimmy Blanchard making 14 saves.

third rebound shot to double the lead to 2-0. Salem goaltender Brandon DeMars made two big saves in traffic, each with long rebounds. He was unable to save the third rebound shot.

Stevenson put another 1-2 punch together to win the game in the third period. Junior forward Stu Miller banked in a shot from a deep angle in the corner for the game-winning tally with 8:15 left in the third period.

Twenty-nine seconds later, Jared Gaudet broke up the right side and snuck in a backhand shot that bounced around before sliding past the goal line to put the Spartans up two.

Stevenson coach Mike Humitz said his team responded to the chippy second-period play very well in the third period.

"We've been stressing discipline all year along, and not letting our emotions get the best of us," he said. "I told the guys they could either suck it up or lose the game. They spent the rest of the intermission talking among themselves, and I'm proud of the way they responded."

Salem captain Mark Nagel banged in a rebound shot to close the game to 2-1 with 6:23 left in the first period. Senior Jeff Harris tied the game at 2-2 with a power-play goal with 5:18 left in the second period.

The Spartans didn't have territorial control of the game through the first two periods, though they were the more physically aggressive of the two teams.

Twenty penalties were called in the final two periods, including a pair of 10-minute misconducts called on the Rocks.

Humitz said the win and division title is a big feather in the team's cap, especially with districts looming just a couple weeks away.

"Salem is a skilled team," Humitz said. "Our plan was just to make safe plays and limit their quality scoring chances, which we did."

Stevenson has a tough test Tuesday, taking on Grosse Pointe North.

Rocks double up Pioneer

Wednesday, Salem tightened up defensively in the third period to pull out a non-league win.

After falling behind Ann Arbor Pioneer 2-1, the Rocks rallied for three straight goals to pull out a 4-2 win in Ann Arbor.

Bryan Young scored the second and fourth goals of the game for Salem, while Nagel popped in the game-winner, early in the third period.

Eric Culps opened the scoring for Salem just 26 seconds into the contest. The Rocks also held a 23-21 shot advantage in the game. Nagel added a pair of assists to lead the team.

Madonna to expand sports programs by two next year

BY C J RISAK
STAFF WRITER

For the first time in five years, Madonna University's athletic department is expanding

The school will add men's tennis and men's golf for the 2003-04 school year, bringing its total to nine intercollegiate sports — five for men, four for women

"This has been in the planning stages since the first of the year, Madonna Athletic Director Bryan Rizzo said "We wanted to add sports I'm excited about it I think that golf and tennis can thrive here at Madonna and in the community"

The last sport added to Madonna's list was women's soccer in 1998 That team excelled quickly, reaching the NAIA finals in 2001

The reason tennis and golf were chosen had much to do with cost Rosters for both teams are small, which should keep expenses low Rizzo added there will be limited scholarship help, "like all of our sports"

And although both are men's sports teams, they should not be affected by Title IX "because the number of athletes we're adding is low"

Other sports were considered "I wanted to add cross country," Rizzo said, "but this seemed a better fit"

The reason The Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference, which Madonna belongs to, will lose Tri-State University after this school year and Spring Arbor in 2004 That will take the WHAC down to six schools, the minimum needed for a conference to receive an automatic berth in NIAA tournaments

"It was a main impetus, to help the health of the conference," Rizzo said

At present, Siena Heights, Cornerstone and Aquinas have men's tennis and golf teams It's hoped Indiana Tech and Concordia will add them in the not-too-distant future

It is also hoped other schools will join the WHAC Those under consideration at present are Rochester College, University of Michigan-Dearborn and Davenport College (located in Grand Rapids)

Both of Madonna's new sports will play in the spring, golf will also play in the fall, when the WHAC holds its season Where the teams will play is still in the works, but the golf team will likely call St. John's in Plymouth Township its home course

The tennis team will probably practice at the Farmington Tennis Club, while matches could be at the Livonia YMCA

The search for coaches for both teams is in progress Anyone interested in the positions, and any interested golfers or tennis players, should contact Rizzo at (734) 432-5604, by email at brizzo@madonna.edu, or by mail at 36600 Schoolcraft Road, Livonia, MI 48150

RUGBY TRAINING

The search is on for high school boys (grades 9-12) interested in learning rugby football and participating in the Michigan Youth Rugby Association's spring season.

Rugby is a rugged contact sport enjoyed around the world. The Michigan Youth Rugby Association plays against clubs from Brighton, Berkley, Howell, Dearborn, Livonia and Northville.

The team has a "no cuts" policy. Everyone who practices will play. No experience is necessary.

The sport of rugby football features 15 players to a side with limited substitution, no blocking or padding, which makes it safer, and continuous play, like ice hockey, basketball and soccer.

It is a sport in which fitness, brains and brawn come together. Everyone is a ball handler, scorer and defender. There are no playbooks, players make on-the-field decisions.

Winter (indoor) training will be 5:30-7 p.m. every Monday evening beginning Jan. 27 at the University of Michigan Coliseum (located on the corner of Fifth & Hill streets), with the possibility of additional sessions being scheduled.

For more information, call (734) 761-1988 or e-mail magnette@umich.edu.

NORTHVILLE RUN

The Galyans Northville Solstice Run will be held Saturday, June 21. The event is designed to promote healthy lifestyles and fitness while providing amenities and entertainment within the Northville community.

For more information, please call the Northville Parks and Recreation Department at (248) 449-9941 or race director Alan Whitehead at (248) 420-1376.

PLAYERS WANTED

The Motor City Volleyball Club is seeking players to fill teams at 12-, 13- and 14-and-under levels for the upcoming spring season.

All teams are pay to play. For more information, call Larry or Amber Wyatt at (734) 522-1680 or e-mail MCVC@aol.com.

SOFTBALL OPENINGS

The Thunderbirds Softball Incorporated (TSI) Girls Fast Pitch Softball has player openings for the 2003 season.

HIGH VELOCITY CAMPS

A series of soccer camps for players of all ages are offered at the High Velocity Indoor Soccer facility, under the instruction of former pro player and college coach Andrew Crawford, a Livonia resident.

■ Small Stars is for 3-4 year-olds, just starting out. The class encourages parent participation and works on the basics: dribbling, passing and receiving, and shooting.

■ Kicks with Kids, for 4-5 and 6-7 year-olds, will teach the basics plus the proper techniques for turning with the ball and volleys.

■ Skill Acceleration Camp is for 8-9, 10-11, and 12-15 year-olds. This clinic focuses on one-on-one moves to beat an opponent, combination passing and volleys.

■ Striker Camp participants will work on shooting drills, including volleys, side-volleys and creating space with and without the ball. Striker camp is available for 9-12 year olds.

■ Goalkeeper Camp teaches advanced goalkeeping techniques to 9-12 year olds and includes shot-stopping and ball distribution, and is intended to increase skills and develop technical awareness.

■ The Women's Clinic concentrates on the basic skills of soccer, building a strong foundation of dribbling, passing and receiving, and shooting. This program is designed for the beginning to intermediate player.

All the above clinics begin with instruction and end with a scrimmage. Individual and team training is also available.

Heart on a platter

The staff at St Joseph Mercy Women's Health Services has an alternative to the usual Valentine's Day gifts.

Dietitians will offer a special hands-on cooking class for those who want to prepare an elegant dinner for their special Valentine. The class will be held noon to 5:30 p.m. Wednesday Feb. 12 at the Ellen Thompson Women's Health Center on the campus of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, 5301 E. Huron River Drive, Ann Arbor.

Participants will learn how to prepare Crostini with Wild Mushroom Duxelle and classic French Onion Soup. Cost is $20. Each participant will receive a special gift. Registration required. Call (734) 712-5800.

Breast cancer

Beaumont Hospital's Sharing & Caring program will present its fifth annual Life After Breast Cancer Symposium: Quality of Life Issues for Breast Cancer Survivors, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, March 1 at The Community House, 380 S. Bates, Birmingham. The symposium features national and local speakers.

Dr. Joyce O. Shaughnessy of Baylor University in Dallas will discuss "Understanding and Combating Chemobrain." She currently leads several clinical trials on high-dose chemotherapy. Dr. Susan L. Hendrix of Wayne State University will present "Hot Flashes: Origins and Management." Hendrix is WSU's lead researcher of the National Institutes of Health sponsored Women's Health Initiative.

Additional sessions will be offered on sexuality and intimacy including psychologist Bruce Hillenbrand of the Beaumont Cancer Center and nutrition and complementary medicine including nurse Veronica Decker, director of Oncology Support Services at Beaumont.

A donation of $25 per person includes morning refreshments, lunch and educational materials. Call (800) 633-7377 for ticket information. Seating is limited. Please respond by Feb. 15.

tremor sufferers

BY KATHLEEN O'DONOHUE
CORRESPONDENT

When Frank Gudan was in fourth grade, he first noticed his hands trembling uncontrollably. Teachers complained of his poor penmanship, and when his parents sought medical help, the doctor had no answers. Finally, when the 64-year-old West Bloomfield resident was 30, he received the diagnosis of essential tremor.

While it is the most common neurological disorder, affecting 10 million Americans, most people — including some physicians — know nothing about it. It is called "essential" because it is not related to any other disease process or disorder. It is a hereditary condition that involves the upper extremities, most typically beginning with the hands. It may remain stable or progress, usually affecting in descending order the arms, head, neck and voice.

Dr. Fred Junn, Henry Ford Hospital neurosurgeon and director of movement disorder surgery, has seen many cases of essential tremor (ET).

"The patient usually has great difficulty doing anything that involves finger movement," he said.

Though many other diseases, some medications, and drug and alcohol withdrawal can cause tremors, ET is distinguishable because it is an action or intention tremor.

"When you want to do something, as you approach your final target, the tremor becomes more evident. And at rest when relaxed, you have no tremor," said Junn, who explained that in Parkinson's disease, for example, a person will tremor at rest.

While treatments are available for ET, it is chronic and not curable. Medications are used to control the tremors, and surgery is also an option. Some commonly used medications are Inderal, Mysoline, or Klomipen.

Junn believes surgery is a reasonable decision when a person's job is compromised, or when tremors seriously interfere with feeding, writing, buttoning one's clothes and fine movement. Yet, the decision is up to the patient.

"They don't die from tremor," Junn said, "but with surgery, they could die from hemorrhage."

Other risks from surgery include

'I am now able to eat or drink in public, write a letter by hand, use scissors. My social life was greatly curtailed (before surgery). I couldn't do all the things people take for granted. When you have ET, you think you're weird. Almost every person diagnosed with ET thinks they're the only one.'

damage to the structures around the surgical area in the brain's thalamus, which could lead to memory problems, numbness, stroke-like symptoms or weakness.

There are two surgical procedures for ET. One is a thalamotomy, during which a lesion is made in the thalamus, the large structure at the base of the brain that is responsible for transmission of sensory impulses to the cerebral cortex and is involved in control of movement.

Shari Finsilver of West Bloomfield has been all smiles since having brain surgery for essential tremor, a debilitating movement disorder. Finsilver's symptoms have been greatly reduced.

Junn calls thalamotomy "a one-shot deal."

The other procedure is called Deep Brain Stimulation, or DBS. During DBS, electrodes are implanted into the thalamus and a device is installed under the skin. Electrical leads are hooked up to a pulse generator, and the thalamus is continuously stimulated. Similar to a cardiac pacemaker, the device requires new batteries every three to five years.

NEW LIFE

After suffering from tremors since she was 11 years old, Shari Finsilver, now 52, had DBS surgery in 1999 by Junn and said it changed her life.

"I am now able to eat or drink in public, write a letter by hand, use scissors. My social life was greatly curtailed (before surgery). I couldn't do all the things people take for granted," Finsilver said. "When you have ET, you think you're weird. Almost every person diagnosed with ET thinks they're the only one."

While the tremor can be mild, it can get to a point of severity that completely disables the sufferer. Many become housebound and are afraid to go out.

Finsilver tried many therapies to help with her tremor before considering surgery, including acupuncture, homeopathy, chiropractic, hypnotherapy, exercise, diet, and regression therapy. While she has incorporated some of these into her lifestyle, none helped with the tremors to any significant degree.

Prior to surgery, Finsilver became an expert at hiding her tremors and feared two likely future events: walking her

Goodbye to cigarettes ... a heartfelt effort for Valentine's Day

BY SANDRA DALKA-PRYSBY
CORRESPONDENT

On Valentine's Day, I'm going to give those I love the best gift ever. At the same time, I'm going to do something wonderful for myself and my heart.

I'm giving up smoking cigarettes and my 23-year-old son, Andrew Prysby, is joining me in this challenge. We've both decided that we can't have "fitness forever" with lungs filled with smoke. So Feb. 14 is D (Desist)-Day.

I've given up smoking many times during my 34 years as a smoker. (This is my son's first serious attempt.) One time, however, proved to be the most successful effort. I was smoke-free for almost three years. What was so amazing about this was that at the time I didn't want to end this bad habit. A friend dragged me to a group hypnosis session at The Community House in Birmingham because she needed support. I walked out of this meeting and discarded my cigarettes. (She did, too.)

Stupidly, I started smoking again to relieve stress and to have a tool to help with weight loss. Smoking didn't work for either. I continued to be stressed and to gain weight. Now, it's back to the same hypnotist, Jim Hoke of Mind Design Inc. in Troy. He worked for me years ago. He would, I was certain, work for me again and for my son.

I don't do the work,' says the energetic and enthusiastic Hoke, a hypnotist for more than 30 years. "I'm just the coach who is given access to the mind. I help you choose the attitudes, habits and behavior that are best for your life now."

THE MIND IS A COMPUTER

He compares the mind to a computer. His role is to "update the main frame and reprogram the subconscious mind to change a person's emotional attitude about smoking or eating for those desiring to lose weight."

His other self-improvement services include stress/anxiety control, success motivation and phobia elimination.

Hoke, who has hypnotized hundreds of groups of smokers for the American Lung Association nationally (with a success rate of 70 percent, according to the ALA), says "the rational part of your mind shouts 'quit' while the emotional part screams out for the physical and psychological lift of a cigarette. To convert yourself to a nonsmoker, you must get the emotional part of your mind to agree with your intellectual desire to quit. This is how hypnosis helps."

He explains that becoming a nonsmoker is not an easy task because smokers equate this habit to oral, physical and manual gratification. "It's fun. It symbolizes relaxation and reduced tension."

During his hypnotic sessions, he reprograms the brain to focus on the positive aspects of being a nonsmoker and the reality — which most smokers know — of the damage caused, especially to the health, by

■ Freedom from Smoking is an eight-week program with a facilitator to handle such related issues as stress management and weight control. This American Lung Association (Southfield) program is held when eight or more individuals register. Cost is $100. Call (248) 784-2012 for information.

■ Nix Nicotine! offers new techniques to quit smoking and support from others who desire to become nonsmokers. Offered by DMC Huron Valley Sinai Hospital (Commerce). For information, call (888) 362-2500.

■ "Smoke Stoppers" is a one-on-one counseling program offered by St. Joseph Mercy Health Stop (Ann Arbor). Introductory session is free. Program costs $165. For information or to arrange a start date, call (734) 827-3768.

■ Smoking Cessation combines the power of hypnotic conditioning with behavior modification techniques. The first 45 minutes is free orientation, remaining session, $59. Two sessions are scheduled for February: Providence Hospital (Southfield) 10 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 15; Providence Mission Health Medical Center (Livonia), 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 19. Call (877) 345-5500 to register.

■ Smoking Intervention Program (SIP) is a telephone-based program that uses a stepped-care approach to smoke cessation from assessment to placement in the appropriate intervention. A service of Henry Ford Health System. SIP is covered by HAP insurance or at a cost of $150. For information, call (888) 427-7587.

■ Stop Smoking is a three-session program which covers such topics as physical and psychological dependence, medications used in smoke cessation and managing the side effects of quitting. Offered by William Beaumont Hospital (Royal Oak), the next session is from 6:30-8:30 p.m., beginning Monday, March 3. Cost is $25. For information or to register, call (800) 633-7377.

daughter down the aisle when she married, and caring for grandchildren. She has mastered both because of DBS.

SUPPORT GROUP

In April 2000, empowered with information and a successful outcome, Finsilver began a support group to help educate and assist those with ET and other disorders that result in tremors. One of her group's goals is to help others feel they are not alone.

"People really change by coming to the group and meeting others who know what you're going through," said Finsilver. Finsilver's father also had ET, and of her two children, a son and daughter, her son has a mild case of ET in his hands. There is a definite genetic link although spontaneous cases also occur. If a parent has ET, there is a 50 percent chance of each child inheriting ET. Typically, ET begins in ones 20s or 50s, although it can occur at any age. While experts believe it to be rare in children, Finsilver has met many people in her group who had ET as children.

TREATABLE CONDITION

Dr. Peter LeWitt, of Royal

Oak's Beaumont Hospital, is a neurologist who specializes in movement disorders, which include Parkinson's disease and tremors. LeWitt calls ET a very treatable condition and believes that inexpensive medication used on a regular basis does a good job of controlling the tremor.

LeWitt said ET is often overlooked, and a family practitioner may not even be familiar with it. Also, it may be passed off as benign and disregarded even if it is recognized.

"Some patients are burdened when the doctor doesn't tell them what it is, and (patients) suspect they have multiple sclerosis or Parkinson's disease. Or, their physician says they have a mild case of Parkinson's and are told not to worry about it, which they will do when they learn what Parkinson's is about, and yet they don't have it," said LeWitt.

Though not anxiety-related, LeWitt said often sufferers are pegged as nervous, anxious people, or even alcoholics.

It affects men and women equally, and strikes all races. The older one is at onset, the more likely there will not be an identified family trait of ET. While everyone experiences some tremor, with ET there is an exaggerated amount.

During his seven years at Beaumont, LeWitt said there have been more than 200 cases of DBS surgery. "It is quite miraculous," he said. "It's the end of tremor for most people long after they've given up hope."

In his private practice in Southfield, LeWitt is currently doing clinical research on new medication approaches for tremor, and he says Beaumont is one of the leading centers for treatment of bad tremors.

Finsilver sits on the board of the International Essential Tremor Foundation, and LeWitt is on the medical advisory board, and both recommend contacting this organization for information.

For those with ET and other tremor disorders, Finsilver offers, "Just come to the support group one time and you can get enough information to be able to cope on a daily basis."

She also emphasized the importance of proper diagnosis by a movement disorders specialist such as Junn or LeWitt.

Frank Gudan has learned numerous coping skills for dealing with his ET. When he visits a restaurant for example, he tells the waitress he has a tremor and asks her to fill his coffee cup only two-thirds full, so he can better handle it. He exercises to keep his muscles strong and maintains a positive outlook on life.

"I don't hide my tremor, people notice it," Gudan said. "I believe in admitting it, and you don't need to make a big deal with it. Enjoy life."

cigarette smoking.

While hypnosis is one way to succeed at smoke cessation, Loren Colwell became a recent nonsmoker through the Breathe-Free Stop Smoking Program, offered by Arthur Weaver, M.D., of Better Living Seminars in Plymouth.

"I've tried many times and many different ways to give up smoking, including costly laser treatments in Windsor," says the 52-year-old Wayne resident. "Although nothing worked in the long run, I never gave up trying to find a way to become a nonsmoker. I now believe I have succeeded in getting rid of this bad habit forever."

He explains that stress, due to a closed-head injury he received in a 1989 automobile accident, is what had, in the past, caused him to return to smoking.

Colwell participated in the Breathe-Free program, which is held a total of seven days over three weeks, in January in Livonia. It's been almost a month without cigarettes for this up-to-three-packs-a-day former smoker.

PERSONAL CONCERN

"I was most impressed by the personal concern shown by Dr. Weaver," says Colwell, who had smoked for 44 years. "This concern, combined with a comprehensive program with lots of information, has enabled me to become a nonsmoker. Also, I learned through the program better ways (than cigarettes) to handle stress."

According to Colwell, unlike other smoke-ending programs he has tried, which were so impersonal, Dr. Weaver really cares about the people in his program. Because of this, I don't want to disappoint him or myself so this time I plan to succeed being a life-long nonsmoker."

The Breathe-Free program

worked for Landa Woodall, 51, of Westland. She became smoke-free five years ago and now offers support to others involved in the program. "I smoked up to 2 1/2 packs a day for 30 years, but because of the support of Dr. Weaver and others, I discarded my cigarettes. Imagine a doctor giving you his phone number and permission to call him whenever you're having a rough time."

A substitute teacher at Livonia High School, Woodall says it saddens her to see others start to smoke, especially teens. "Nobody thinks that they'll get hooked on cigarettes. And those who begin to smoke don't realize how hard it is to give up this habit. But you do get hooked and it's hard to stop, which is something that everyone eventually discovers they have to do."

The next Breathe-Free Stop Smoking Program sessions will be offered Feb. 20, 24-28 and March 3 at Canton High School. Call (734) 416-2937 to register. It will also be held March 21, 24-28 and 31 at the new Novi Middle School. Call (248) 449-1206 to register. For program details, call (313) 531-2179 or (248) 349-5683.

COPING WITH NICOTINE WITHDRAWAL

■ Have a survival kit handy. Include items that will help you keep your mouth occupied such as low-calorie snacks, fruits and vegetables, sugar-free gum and drinking straws or toothpicks to chew on. Also include such things as knitting, crossword puzzles or other things of interest that will keep your hands busy.

■ Drink lots of water. Water will help flush the nicotine out of your system. Also it fills you up so you're less tempted to eat.

■ Learn relaxation techniques such as deep breathing, progressive muscle relaxation and visualization.

■ Exercise daily. A regular daily exercise program will not only relieve stress, but it will burn calories and keep the weight down.

■ Stay away from situations and those who make you want to smoke. It is especially important for the first two weeks to stay away from friends and others who smoke. Tell them of your challenge and invite them to join you. Also stay away from or change those places and situations where you formerly smoked (i.e. when dining, ask for a table in the nonsmoking section).

■ Stay away from "triggers." If you are used to having a cigarette with your coffee (caffeine beverages) or with alcoholic drinks, replace these triggers with water or juice.

■ Keep busy with nonsmoking activities. Go for a walk. Go to the movies. Go to the library to read or use the computer. Take a long bath or shower. Do something that will take your mind off of smoking.

■ Be kind to yourself. Sometimes new ex-smokers report feeling depressed. Pamper yourself and know that this feeling is usually only temporary.

■ Get enough sleep. This will keep your energy up and help with those "down" feelings.

■ Have a support person to turn to when you're having a difficult time.

■ Renew your resolve daily. Remind yourself of what you are achieving and why. Reward yourself with positive feelings about yourself.

Editor writes about his 'Driven City'

Hamtramck The Driven City part of the Making of America Series by Greg Kowalski (Arcadia Publishing Augusta Maine July 2002 $24.99)

BY KEELY KALESKI
STAFF WRITER

Surrounded by Detroit's inner city, Hamtramck's gritty yet refined, home to artists and poets, factory workers, professionals, and immigrants. It's a hip place to live, and property values are increasing.

Hamtramck's prospering while other Rust Belt cities gasp for air. It's "The Driven City," one of Greg Kowalski's favorite topics, and the subject of his newly published book.

"People have a real affection for Hamtramck," said Kowalski who was born there, and continues to make the city his home.

"I don't care where you go, Hamtramck is still home. We have former residents everywhere. I get e-mail from all over the country every day from former Hamtramckians."

His day job is editor of the Birmingham Eccentric, his hobby is collecting Hamtramck memorabilia and working to preserve the city's history. Since 1998 he's served as chairman of the Hamtramck Historical Commission.

"We constantly look around for material. When the commission was formed we had nothing, the city had thrown out its history, or neglected it," said Kowalski adding he's even gone through Dumpsters looking for information.

Founded as a township in 1798, pieces of Hamtramck were slowly annexed by Detroit until the area, that once reached from the Detroit River north to Eight Mile Road, west to Woodward Avenue and east to the Grosse Pointes, was only 2.2 square miles big. Its population, fueled by the opening of Dodge Main in 1910, swelled from 2,559 people to 56,000 by 1930. It's now about 23,000.

Greg Kowalski, author and editor of the Birmingham Eccentric, shows off his newly published book at Urban Break coffeehouse in Hamtramck.

Kowalski chose automotive metaphors to take readers for a spin around his hometown. After all, he says, the car industry is what built Hamtramck.

Reading each chapter is like turning the corner of a street you'll want to investigate. Historic and current photos, some of them taken by Kowalski, offer a glimpse of the city today, and yesterday when round steak was 16 cents a pound and eggs sold for 25 cents a dozen at Val Magielski's Victory Market on Conant.

Kowalski doesn't recite Hamtramck's history, he interprets it, and tells a story. The Communist Party was headquartered in Hamtramck for many years, and most labor histories of Detroit include something about the city.

Educational reforms introduced by superintendent Maurice Keyworth in 1923 - special education, involving parents in their child's education, adult education, and medical services - were adopted by schools across the country.

During Prohibition you could get a drink in Hamtramck, and the Purple Gang sometimes visited. Political corruption was not uncommon, and local politics are still pretty intense.

The city is still known for its clubs, and has always had a thriving downtown business district.

But some things are changing.

Once predominantly Polish, Hamtramck has attracted new immigrants from Bosnia, Yemen, Albania, and India which are helping Maple sugaring is an annual rite of spring, and four Metroparks will be tapping trees and collecting sap to make syrup.

Michigan is one of the top 10 producers of maple syrup. Learn about the rich history of maple sugaring at these Metroparks.

■ Maple Sugaring: A Journey to the Sugar Bush - 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and noon, Saturday and Sunday, March 1-2, 8-9, 15-16, 22-23. Take a short hike at the Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter with an interpreter to see how to tap trees, collect sap and boil it to make real maple syrup.

The all-you-can-eat pancakes and sausage, with real maple syrup, will be served at the Activity Center 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on days tours are offered.

Fee $5 per person with breakfast, $2 without breakfast. Reservations required, call (734) 426-8211 or (800) 477-3191.

■ Maple's Sweet Story - noon to 3 p.m. weekends, March 1-30 at Kensington Metropark Farm Learning Center near Milford/Brighton. Visit the sugar bush to see how maple trees are tapped and the sap is collected, then stop by the sugar shack and watch the sap boiled down into maple syrup.

Visit a Native American sugaring camp to see how Native Americans collected sap and made syrup. Michigan maple

Win a trip at Westin Hotel grand opening

The new 400-room, 11 floor, Westin Detroit Metropolitan Airport will celebrate its grand opening with a gala benefit to honor the Ronald McDonald Houses of Detroit and Ann Arbor at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, February 20.

The benefit will take place in the hotel's Lundbergh Ballroom and will feature dinner, music and dancing. Tickets are $175 per person and include complimentary valet parking.

Guests to the Westin grand opening will have an opportunity to win round-trip coach class tickets for two to any destination Northwest serves in Europe, courtesy of Northwest Airlines, and a seven-day stay at a Westin Hotel.

Additional prizes include overnight accommodations at the Westin Detroit Metropolitan Airport and dining at DEMA.

One lucky guest will win the signature Westin Heavenly Bed — the same bed that is featured in every Westin guestroom around the world.

Oraoxygen, the first airport-based oxygen wellness spa of its kind in the world, will provide a $300 gift certificate for services and merchandise at its Detroit Metropolitan Airport spa for the grand opening prize drawing. Paula Tutman, WDIV-TV reporter, a long time Ronald McDonald House supporter, will emcee the event.

The mission of the Ronald McDonald House is to serve families of sick children with a home away-from-home. Only minutes away from a hospital room, families can nurture and support their children undergoing specialized medical treatment.

More than 1,000 parents and family members stay at the Ronald McDonald Houses every year, paying only $10 a night for private room accommodations. No one is turned down for lack of funds.

Annually, both Houses must raise funds to support their operating budgets from corporate and private donations, and special events.

The Westin Detroit Metropolitan Airport opened in December 2002 and is located adjacent to the Edward H. McNamara / Northwest

WorldGateway Terminal.

The Westin is Detroit's newest luxury hotel and features 28 meeting rooms, a state-of-the-art fitness center with an in-door pool, business center and gift shop and DEMA, an upscale restaurant and bar.

The eight-floor atrium includes a reflecting pool and bamboo trees that create a serene setting for hurried travelers and guests. For Westin grand opening tickets, call the Ronald McDonald House of Detroit at (313) 745-5909. To learn more about the Ronald McDonald Houses of Detroit and Ann Arbor, log on to their Web sites at www.rmhdet.org and www.rmh-annarbor.org.

CHURCH DISCUSSION GROUP

The Book Discussion Group of All Saints' Episcopal Church will discuss The Red Tent, a novel by Anita Diamont, at 7 p.m. on Monday, Feb. 17, at the church, 171 W. Pike, corner of Williams, in Pontiac.

Diamont is a journalist and the author of five books on contemporary Jewish life. The Red Tent is a fictional account by Jacob's daughter Dinah of her life and those of the patriarch's four wives. One reviewer described it as a modern midrash — a series of interpretations of biblical events. Another said it is what the Bible might have been had it been written by God's daughters rather than sons.

The Book Discussion Group meets at All Saints' the third Monday of each month, September through May, except December. The moderator is Lisa Uchno, a lay member of the church. The group is open to the public. For a list of 2003 book titles and meeting dates, call the church at (248) 334-4571. Visit the church's Web site at <http://www.allsaintspon-tiac.org/> on the Internet.

BOOK SIGNING

Rafe Martin, an expert on Native American literature, myths and legends, will sign his new book, The World Before This One, from 4-5:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 13 at The Book Beat, 26010 Greenfield, Oak Park.

Written in the style of a novel, this collection of 14 Seneca tales is presented through the retelling of one central story into which all the others are woven. Martin offers sources for the tales along with an introductory note by Seneca Elder Peter Jemison.

Martin authored nearly 20 books and received three American Library Association Notable Book Awards, Four Parent's Choice Gold Awards, two Anne Izard Storyteller's Choice Awards, an American Folklore Society Aesop's Accolade Award and several American Bookseller "Pick of the Lists" honors.

For more information call Book Beat at (248) 968-1190 or visit Martin's Web site www.rafamartin.com.

VALENTINE DAY LECTURE

Eve Ensler, author of the award-winning The Vagina Monologues, will talk about her work at 3 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14 in 1800 Chemistry Building, 930 North University, on the University of Michigan central campus. The talk is free and open to the public.

Ensler's new play, Necessary Targets, is in production through March 9 at Performance Network, 120 Huron in Ann Arbor.

The theater will hold a reception for Ensler at 5:30 p.m., followed by the performance at 8 p.m. on Valentine's Day, Friday, Feb. 14. Tickets for the play are $27.50 on Friday and Saturday and $22.50 on Thursday and Sunday. (734) 663-0631 for tickets.

VALENTINE READINGS

"What's So Funny Bout Peace, Love & Understanding: A Valentine's Reading," features Kalamazoo poet Elizabeth Kerlikowske, New Orleans poet Ernest Lewis III, with Detroit poets Liberty RO Daniels and Wardell Montgomery, Jr. at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 12 at The Scarab Club, 217 East Farnsworth, at John R. Free admission and parking. (313) 831-1250.

Zoo sponsors 'Wild at Heart'

Spend the evening on Valentine's Day with butterflies and cocktails at the Detroit Zoo's second annual "Wild at Heart" fund-raiser.

The four-hour benefit, starting at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 14 in the zoo's Wildlife Interpretive Gallery, is geared to young professionals. Advance tickets are $45 for zoo members and $50 for non-members and include hors d'oeuvres, desserts and two drinks. Admission at the door is $55. Call (248) 541-5717. Blackman and Arnold, a jazz guitar duo, DJ Jim Stone of Sound Circle Collective and DJ Short Round will entertain. Guests will be allowed into the zoo's tropical butterfly garden and will preview the art exhibit, Bats in My World.

The zoo is located at 10 Mile (I-696 service drive) and Woodward in Royal Oak.

Organize your photographs in archival binders, albums

How many times have you tried searching for a box of slides or set of prints from that special occasion years ago only to be stymied as to where you last put them?

Do you have boxes of loose slides and drawers full of loose prints that are totally disorganized?

You're not alone. A great many photographers regard the filing and storage of negatives, slides and prints as a disheartening task to be avoided.

Imagine how convenient it would be to have an organized filing system, to have your prints and negatives orderly, neat and available at a finger's touch. It's easier than you might think.

Cardboard boxes, throughout the years, will emit discernible amounts of gases and peroxides that will tarnish the silver in films and prints causing fading and loss of picture detail.

The same is true for brown paper envelopes often used to hold prints and negatives. Glue in the seams of many envelopes can cause discoloration if they get too close to the emulsion of a picture. Even rubber bands wrapped around a roll of negatives or stack of prints contain certain compounds that can cause damage. Here is some advice on how to avoid these dangers and assure the safety of a photographer's most valuable possessions — his or her pictures.

NEGATIVES Care in preserving your prints must naturally begin with your negatives. This is easily done by storing them in transparent polyethylene holders which in turn can be stored in vinyl binders. Larger negatives can be placed in polyethylene sleeves and housed in small steel cabinets.

Polyethylene will resist moisture and will not decay or grow misty with age. Furthermore, contact sheets can be made of the negatives without having to remove them from the holders.

PRINTS Sunlight fades and bleaches some color prints. So be sure to use or request papers with archival properties. This way, they will last for many years without fading and will give you prints of superior quality.

When mounting your prints, be sure to use acid-free rag board.

Acids in regular mounting boards will eventually cause discoloration to not just the board but to your print, too.

When buying a photo album, make sure the pages are made of an acid-free material.

Finally, never hang photographs (or any artwork) where direct sunlight will strike them.

SLIDES The biggest enemy to color slides is moisture. In an atmosphere of more than 60 percent humidity, fungus can form on your slides and damage them.

Storage methods for slides should therefore provide for circulating air.

Most slide trays and metal slide storage boxes are specifically manufactured to permit air circulation and thus reduce moisture. Preserving your photographic memories is easy. A few simple measures will ensure that they'll be around to enjoy for a long time to come.

Monte Nagler is a fine art photographer based in Farmington Hills. You can leave a message for him at (734) 953 2047.

This photograph of Bond Falls in Michigan's Upper Peninsula proudly hangs in Monte Nagler's home. Monte took great care in the printing and mounting so that everything would meet archival standards.

Bank on the Outer Banks for beachcombing

BY NORMA AND WENDY SCHONWETTER
CORRESPONDENTS

If you thought you had to go to Florida to enjoy 70-degree days at the beach in February, or endure the mugginess and crowds of Boston in summer to get a good dose of early American history, think again! The Outer Banks of North Carolina offers 130 miles of unspoiled coastline and 30,000 acres of surf and sand to enjoy every thinkable beach-related activity, and is the site of some of America's most fascinating events. The Outer Banks are a chain of barrier islands on the Atlantic Seaboard, 90 miles south of Norfolk, Virginia (a one and a half-hour drive from the airport).

The best times to visit are May through June or September through November, when the temperatures are in the 70's and the crowds are gone. There are plentiful options for lodging, from chain motels and hotels, to zillions of beach houses available for rent. We stayed in an air-conditioned seven-bedroom beach house, each with its own bathroom, and housekeeping service. The enormous kitchen had all the usual appliances, dishes, and cookware. From the veranda we enjoyed a school of dolphins playfully swimming close to shore. This is quite a common phenomenon when the ocean is fairly calm. Conversely, the sandy beach is best for collecting shells after a storm or rough seas.

For outdoor lovers, there's kayaking (on the sound and salt marshes), windsurfing, kite-flying, hang gliding, parasailing, wildlife refuges, nature trails, bird watching, fishing galore from a boat or pier, surfing, swimming, snorkeling, and just building sandcastles.

If you are up for a trek through soft, fine sand, check out the tallest sand dune on the East Coast at Jockey Ridge. If you make it to the top you'll be treated to spectacular views of the Roanoke Sound and the Atlantic Ocean on opposite sides of the narrow stretch of land. Or take it easy and watch hang gliders, kite flying and the spectacular sunsets at this 414-acre park.

If you have a love of lighthouses, there are four in close proximity. The Cape Hatteras Lighthouse, at 208 feet, is the tallest in the United States with its black and white spirals and red base. Its light can be seen for 20 miles. In 1999 the lighthouse was moved a half-mile away to protect it from the pounding waves of the Atlantic. Weather permitting, visitors can climb the 286 steps to the top. The other three lighthouses along the Outer Banks are at Bodie Island, Ocracoke and Currituck Beach. Searching for shipwrecks? More than 2000 ships sank off the coast as they attempted passage through the treacherous waters, giving rise to the nickname, 'Graveyard of the Atlantic.' When the tide is low the remains of submerged sailing ships can be seen.

If you like a little history with your sand, you'll discover Orville and Wilbur Wright made man's first successful powered air flight from the dunes at Kitty Hawk on December 17, 1903. The historic flights of that day are detailed at the Wright Brothers National Memorial. A 60-foot monument stands atop Kill Devil Hill as a tribute to the first flight. Don't miss the replica of the original plane in the engaging visitor's center.

If you like a little mystery with your history, visit Roanoke Island. More than 400 years ago England sent a group of men, women and children, across the sea, to establish the first English settlement at Fort Raleigh in the 'New World.' The first English child, Virginia Dare, was born shortly after they arrived. No one knows what became of those settlers, who disappeared without a trace three years after their arrival.

Virginia Dare and the other colonists would become known as 'The Lost Colony.' The oldest outdoor drama in the nation, aptly titled 'The Lost Colony', debuted in 1937, and tells the tale of Sir Walter Raleigh and his colonists. It is retold each summer in the theater at the Fort Raleigh Historic Site.

Would you like to live some of Outer Banks' history? The Roanoke Adventure Museum, located in Roanoke Island Festival Park, is chock-full of interactive exhibits that make learning fun.

Also on Roanoke Island is the North Carolina Aquarium with displays of marine animal and plant life unique to the area.

Children love to touch the skatefish, rays, crabs, sea stars, and other invertebrates. The main attraction is the 285,000-gallon ocean tank, which houses the remains of the recreated USS Monitor shipwreck.

If you're lip-smacking has been making the fish in the exhibits nervous, it's time to head out for fresh seafood: crab, lobster, clams, tuna, mahi-mahi, grouper, oysters, shrimp, flounder, scallops are easy to find at local restaurants.

Get adventurous and try a southern style breakfast, with grits or the raw and steam bar for half-shell delight, or enjoy a local favorite of crabcakes, steamed crabs or soft-shell crabs at this "crab capital."

Now that you've stimulated your mind and satiated your tastebuds, go back to your beach house, snuggle up and listen to the waves.

Check the Outer Banks Web site (www.outerbanks.org) for loads of information about the area or call 877-298-4373.

Homes of all kinds found at Golfside Village

The models are up and open in the single-family detached condominium phase of Golfside Village in Westland

Uniland offers four floor plans and 25 building sites, Steuer & Canvasser six plans and 30 sites, many bordering Inkster Valley Golf Course at Palmer and Henry Ruff roads

"There's bound to be a home that fits anyone's lifestyle with this many choices and at this price point," David Steuer said

His homes range in price from $179,900 for a raised ranch of 1,280 square feet with three bedrooms and two bathrooms to $214,900 for a story-and-a-half of 1,800 square feet with three or four bedrooms and three baths

Uniland's homes start at $195,900 for a colonial of 1,643 square feet with three bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths and rise to $209,900 for a colonial of 1,988 square feet, also with three bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths

"We're providing affordable luxury quality but we also offer options to accessorize to buyers' priorities," Rex Rosenhaus of Uniland said

Both builders include at base price in all plans two-car garage, basement (or lower level in the case of raised ranch), range and dishwasher in the kitchen, vinyl and carpet floor coverings and lawn installed

Air conditioning and fireplaces are upgrades for both. Brick and vinyl siding are primary exterior materials

The nearby golf course owned and operated by Wayne County, access to Wayne-Westland public schools and the many municipal services offered by the city of Westland are big draws, the two builders agree

"Over 50 percent of the property is adjacent to the golf course," Rosenhaus said

"If you're a golfer, great, it's right in your backyard and you can fantasize about it," Steuer added. "If not, it's great to look over at beautiful landscape you don't have to pay for"

Detached condos at Golfside Village now are available on premium lots abutting Inkster Valley Golf Course

"The city of Westland has an excellent parks and recreation department," Rosenhaus said. "You've got a library facility, excellent fire and police department"

"We think the area is strong central to everything," Steuer continued. "You've got I-94, I-275. To get to the airport is easy, places of employment easy"

"Westland Mall is nearby with everything you could want," he added. "And if you have a historical sense, downtown Wayne is nearby"

Steuer also mentioned "extensive landscaping," including ponds and fountains, on the Golfside Village site itself

Steuer's model is a unique mid-level master of 1,870 square feet with many volume ceilings

The home showcases a living room, dining area, family room and kitchen/nook with island. The laundry is off the kitchen, the half bath near the front door

The master with cathedral ceiling, separate tub and shower, two-sink vanity and walk-in closet is about seven steps up from the main entertaining area of the home. A loft is adjacent to the mid-level master

Several steps higher on the upper level are two bedrooms and a full bath

Base price is $209,900, the model, as is, in the low $240,000s

Uniland's model, a colonial of 1,988 square feet, also contains many volume ceilings

The main living area features a living room, dining area and family room with a pass-through wall between the family room and kitchen

The laundry and half bath are near the garage entrance

All three bedrooms are up. The master has a separate tub and shower, a pair of walk-in closets and dual-sink vanity. A second full bath services the secondary bedrooms

Base price is $209,900, the model, as is, about $242,000

Several steps higher on the upper level are two bedrooms and a full bath

Base price is $209,900, the model, as is, in the low $240,000s

Uniland's model, a colonial of 1,988 square feet, also contains many volume ceilings

The main living area features a living room, dining area and family room with a pass-through wall between the family room and kitchen

Sprawl policies should consider quality of life

We have been reading and hearing about "Smart Growth," and likely will be hearing a great deal more. Smart Growth is a policy platform of the Surface Transportation Policy Project, a coalition of approximately 250 organizations around the country. Since land use and transportation go together like coffee and cream, it focuses on elements of both, strongly advocating for 'choice,' which in this context means the 'choice' of mass transit.

It also advocates a policy of fix it and maintain it first, which means they are against funding for new roads or new housing developments. There are strong proponents for improved air quality in this group as they believe building more roads causes more driving, which, in turn, causes more air pollution.

Although most Smart Growth proponents are Republican, and most Washington based Republicans say hands off when it concerns governmental controls on private enterprise, suburban Republicans support the concept of Smart Growth. They want developers to build projects with higher densities, which means cramming the highest number of homes on the smallest amount of land possible. Hence, an eager march toward condominium and site condominium developments. Condominiums are easy enough to identify, but site condominiums appear identical to single-family housing units.

What's not so apparent in site condominium developments is that the land on which the units are placed, and the surrounding land, is owned in common, which affects property rights and maintenance responsibilities. The rationale for this rearrangement of land ownership leads one to the rallying mantra of Smart Growth, preservation of open space. This philosophy is being carried to the regional and state level in Michigan and could result in money being allocated exclusively to high density areas.

Smart Growth strategies are being pursued in at least 38 states, and many counties, cities, and towns.

With judicial application, Smart Growth has the potential to encourage sensible growth. But it also has the potential to adversely affect quality of life.

For example, Portland, Ore., has been held up as a model of Smart Growth, but ranked number one in traffic congestion from 1982-2000. There is also concern about zoning ordinances regulating land use, and policies which prevent the building of new roads, sewers, utility lines, etc. beyond certain areas.

Rob Atkinson is one of the loudest voices of the Progressive Policy Institute, a "New Democrat" organization, which offers another alternative to Smart Growth. He writes that, "What motivates the STPP and its fellow travelers (Smart Growth advocates) is an anti-mus toward the kind of lifestyle most Americans have chosen. They think it is wrong for Americans to try to win their patch of suburbia. A better way to live, according to these social engineers, is in an apartment complex above a Metro stop. In short, while they claim they are anti-sprawl, they actually are anti-car, anti-suburbs and anti-growth."

Just as Smart Growth advocates aspire to "choice," PPI also shares this aspiration. However, PPI states that "choice" means the choice to be able to get to and from work in a reasonable amount of time, the "choice" to live in single family housing unit, and "choice" to allow growth to meet the demands of population expansion in a responsible, reasonable manner.

PPI espouses "The Quality of Life Agenda." I would like to call it the "Much Smarter Growth" alternative. They consider the need for new roads, and reasonable expansion, in addition to maintaining what exists. The quality of life agenda addresses sprawl, urban blight, the disappearance of open spaces, clogged roads and pollution, overcrowded and under performing schools, an acute shortage of affordable traditional housing units, and the ever increasing time spent commuting between work, home and school. It is clear this group doesn't ignore the problems sprawl creates, but suggests comprehensive, multifaceted solutions meant to create a balance between individual interest and the public interest.

Mary Ann Bernardi is a Troy resident.

Seal a crack on fountain

BY MORRIS AND JAMES CAREY
FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

We have a crack forming on our cement fountain. It does show both inside and outside the bowl. It doesn't leak yet. How can I seal it before we spring a leak?

First, drain the water from the fountain. Use an old chisel along with a wire brush to remove any loose material along the length of the crack.

Wash with a mild detergent and rinse with fresh water. Once the concrete has dried, inject the crack at the inside of the fountain with epoxy filler. No action should be necessary at the exterior unless you wish to conceal the crack. If that is the case, clean the outside as suggested above, and caulk with a latex caulk. Use a damp sponge to wipe away the excess caulking.

Adding coziness to vaulted rooms

FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

To create drama and excitement, many great rooms and other gathering areas feature volume ceilings, which often soar as high as two stories.

The effect is impressive, but all that open space can leave the room feeling cold and even uninhabitable. It's enough to make some people run for cover to the nearest cozy nook.

Since, in most cases, these dramatic rooms aren't just for show, but rather are the home's main living areas, it's wise to give them some homey, livable touches.

Consider incorporating built-in shelves or cabinetry. Besides boosting a home's resale value, not to mention storage space, built-ins offer just the right amount of warmth a soaring great room needs.

Fixture and cabinetry companies offer a wide variety of styles and colors, and many are willing to customize them to your liking.

A shelving arrangement can form a quaint niche that's just the right size for an overstuffed sofa and a piece of artwork.

Accessorize to brighten winter days

BY CAROL MCGARVEY
FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

The Scandinavians have the right idea.

In a land darkened by winter, they revere white for its ability to reflect and enhance the waning sunlight. You can do the same in your home.

Snuggle in, and make the most of it. Few things are more serene than frosty windows and softly falling snow. Instead of fighting it or grousing about it, make the most of it.

Use filmy sheers to keep the light coming in, even on gray days. Use creamy white upholstered pieces in a cozy seating arrangement. Make sure there is texture in the fabric or in the nearby accessories to warm up the scene.

Here are a variety of other suggestions to warm up your surroundings in a chilly season.

■ Don't over-neutralize when you go with a neutral color scheme, such as a white-on-white look.

First, use not just one color but many shades of the same color. Second, emphasize surface textures, shapes, and dimension. Last, use a few dark contrasts to give the neutral colors a solid footing.

■ With short days and long nights, you'll have the perfect opportunity for illuminating your home with candles and lighting, giving a close-to-the-fire ambiance.

■ Even if you have a small entry, add a sense of welcome with candlelight, a mirror or a fresh posy to delight family or guests as they come in from the cold.

■ To warm up windows, add a cozy look by adding a plate rail for display. Also, add tab curtains that have been lined for warmth. When spring comes, remove the curtains and change the items on the plate rail to fit the new season.

■ Use paints and wallpapers with a classic, no-color look that can adapt to seasonal changes. Basic whites with small amounts of black or other neutrals, such as in a subtle stripe, work well for cozying up a winter look, but also for a fresh spring and summer look.

■ Warm up the look of your home with accessories that tell stories. Pieces from the past help add a warm glow to your central gathering spot.

■ Build yourself a "nest" for sleeping or reading. Provide a good light, books for perusing, and comforters and throws for keeping warm.

■ Make the most of your bathroom, and turn it into a home spa. Light votive candles, add some aromatherapy, and indulge by pretending you're in the snowy woods.

■ When you entertain - or just for a simple family meal - add candlelight. It raises the room's emotional temperature in an easy, relaxed way.

Ranch plan blends spacious common living elements

The Riverbelle is an 1,884-square-foot ranch with a large covered porch. The dormer over the entry not only bathes with natural light, but also adds eye appeal from the street.

Two garage bays and a deep recreational vehicle port also draw accolades.

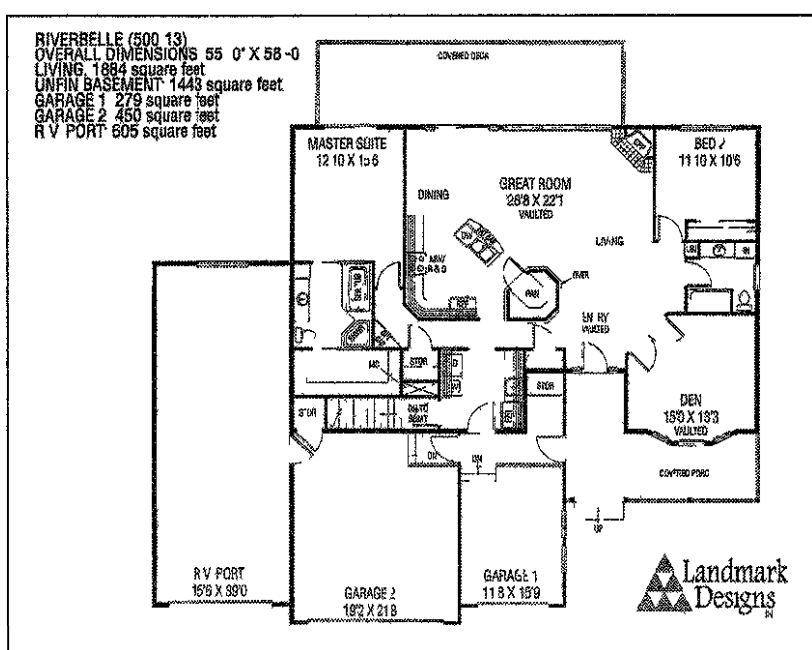

The vaulted entry is only the beginning of a large, spacious area which blends the living, dining and great room together. The only separation here is a circular-shaped, walk-in pantry.

The kitchen contains an island with dishwasher, sinks and eating bar. A gas fireplace is in the corner, three large windows across the back of the home. Sliding doors open to a covered back yard deck.

A den with vaulted ceiling and bay window is to the right of the front door. It's behind French doors and could be used as a guest room, if needed.

A full bath is adjacent to the den. Beyond that is a bedroom with a long wall closet and large window overlooking the back yard.

The master suite takes up the entire left side of the home. It, too, has sliding doors opening to the covered rear deck. The master features a spa tub and separate shower, plus a walk-in closet behind pocket doors.

The nearby laundry has a sink and room for a freezer in addition to the appliances. Doors to the various garage bays also are in this space, as well as the steps to an unfinished basement.

For a study plan, including scaled floor plans, elevations, sections and an artist rendering, send $24.95 to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Road E, Cottage Grove, OR 97424. Specify plan name (Riverbelle) and number (500 13). A catalog featuring hundreds of home plans is available for $12.95 or save by ordering both for $29.95. For faster processing, call (800) 562-1151 or www.landmarkdesigns.com.

Kia Sorento 4X4 LX: Great Choice!

Advertising Feature

CA Report

Anne Fracassa

BY ANNE FRACASSA
AVANTI NEWS FEATURES

If you live in a snow belt state, or even if you want the versatility and safety of a four-wheel drive vehicle, this 2003 Kia Sorento 4x4 LX is for you

The LX model is not the top-of-the-line, stacked-to-the-max Sorento, by the way. Its shift-on-the-fly is a top performer, getting me out of a 6-inch base of snow I encountered in a flash. In two-wheel drive, I spun and spun. Turned the knob for four-wheel-drive and I was on my way in a second.

And you know what I liked the most? Its price. The Sorento LX costs $22,995 out the door, including anti-lock brakes, alloy wheels and a roof rack. Everything else comes standard at the base price of $21,300. I call that a value for your bucks.

Sales of Kias are skyrocketing. Almost 19,000 were sold last month, generally a slow sales month for automakers. The Sorento has also amassed a host of awards in the past few months, mostly touting its value.

Powered by a standard 3.5 liter dual overhead cam 24-valve V-6 engine, the Sorento is rated at 192 horsepower. The engine is mated to an electronically controlled four-speed automatic transmission with over-drive.

It gets you where you have to go without a lot of effort. Unfortunately, you can hear engine noise and the road noise is especially annoying. The suspension needs a little more tuning as well. Last complaint: The center instrumentation needs to be a little clearer and the stereo buttons are too little and hard to figure out at first.

There are two trim levels on the Sorento, EX and LX. Like I said, the EX is stacked-to-the-max with options and only has a handful of options to choose from.

The LX model is equipped very, very well. Standard features include air conditioning, power windows, door locks, heated mirrors, cruise control, eight-speed CD sound system, full overhead console, map lights, garage door opener pocket and eight-way adjustable driver's seat.

2003 Kia Sorento. Vehicle class: Special purpose vehicle. Power: 3.5-liter dual overhead cam V-6 engine. Mileage: 15 city/18 highway. Where built: Korea. Price as tested: $22,955.

In the rear, there's a 60/40 split flip-and-fold rear seat. There are also four 12-volt outlets strategically placed throughout the cabin to accommodate everything from Gameboy to a television to a computer.

Safety issues are addressed well with dual front airbags, front and rear side-curtain airbags, front pretensioners and three-point belts and headrests for all five seating positions.

Allowing even more versatility, you've got a rear cargo cover, cargo tie-down hooks and plenty of nooks and crannies for storage. There's a full-size spare tire, too.

What I found real convenient, especially when driving in the snow - because of the salt spray in the rear - is the rear window, which is a lift gate with a flip-up glass. It also features a defroster, wiper and washer system that was really effective with just a couple of sprays and wipes. You don't have to waste a half-gallon of fluid to get it clean.

Now, take all that and upgrade it to the top-of-the-line EX model. With that, you'll get alloy wheels, two-tone body cladding, power sunroof, fog lights, the HomeLink programmable remote system, a Delphi premium AM/FM/CD/cassette stereo with steering wheel mounted controls, remote keyless entry system and a system that measures outside temperature and features a compass, altimeter and barometer.

You can also opt for the luxury package on the EX, which will give you chrome trim, a 280-watt stereo, climate control, automatic headlights, leather-wrapped steering wheel and leather seating surfaces. So, a fully loaded with everything but the kitchen sink on a Sorento will cost you about $27,000. By the way, the Sorento LX 4x2 is priced at just $19,900 - pretty good value.

I rarely mention warranty programs, but Kia is something to look at. Kias have a 10-year, 100,000-mile limited powertrain warranty, a five-year or 60,000-mile limited basic warranty and a five-year or 100,000-mile anti-perforation warranty. Finally, there's a five-year, unlimited mileage roadside assistance program.

Value. That's what I found in the Kia Sorento. I think you will too. Write Anne Fracassa at avanti1054@aol.com
