Exploding enrollment swells count

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

Plymouth-Canton school buildings are bulging at the seams, and early enrollment projections indicate the state's seventh-largest public school district is still growing

The initial numbers presented to the Board of Education Tuesday night show the district could enroll 517 more students in the 2004-05 school year than the official enrollment figure given to the State of Michigan last September

"We're over capacity at every building in the district except Hulsing Elementary,' said Superintendent Jim Ryan

'That means we're using music and art rooms to teach in, and large staff rooms approved by the state for special education"

The early numbers show Plymouth-Canton Schools with 17.802 students, its highest ever That's a 252-student increase at the high school level, a jump of 225 students in the elementary grades and 40 more in the middle schools

While the administration expects the numbers to decrease by as many as 150 students by the time the official enrollment count is due to the state next month, school officials believe the final numbers will still show a hefty increase

'There's a 1,200-student increase projected in the district over the next five years," said Ryan "If we could land 400 or more this year, we think we'll get to that in three years"

Each student enrolled in the district at the time of the official count translates into $7,025 in state foundation grant money to the district

Dodson Elementary, which has only been open three years, is projected to have the highest elementary population with 687 students, an increase of 26 from last year

At least five of the 15 elementary schools will have a population over 600 students, with all but one located in Canton Bentley is projected to have 648 students, Field, 644, and Tonda, 608 Bird Elementary in Plymouth Township is projected at 648 students

Tonda joins Allen and Hoben schools as the only three elementaries expected to show a decrease in student count

The district has thus far hired

20 new teachers, nearly half for the elementary grades, to keep student counts at the boardmandated 26 students for kındergarten through second grade, 27 in the third grade, 28 in fourth and 29 in fifth The number of split classes at the elementary level has been decreased from 19 last year to only two this year

"Bird has a split because there's absolutely no classrooms left," said Ryan "They're using every conceivable space We're adding a second portable there'

Arts groups hold breath over fate of state funding

STAFF WRITER

Plymouth and Canton arts people are keeping a close watch on Lansing as the state budget talks begin again this week

ArtServe, a Michigan arts advocacy group, has issued "alerts" this summer warning that the proposed $11 8 million in state grants for arts and culture may be eliminated or cut drastically Lawmakers were to begin meeting Aug 25 after a short August break to finalize a $39 billion budget for fiscal year 2004-05, which begins Oct 1

The signing of the increase in casıno taxes a few days ago by Gov Jennifer Granholm may still not be enough, and an excise or entertainment tax on event ticket sales has even been discussed

Late cash boost brightens city's financial picture

BY TONY BRUSCATO

The short-term financial outlook for the City of Plymouth is a bit brighter, but the long-term picture continues to be bleak

Finance Director Mark Christiansen said as the books are being closed on the 2003-04 fiscal year, the city has rebounded financially, gaining more than $575,000 in all funds, an increase of approximately 20 percent over the prior year

'All funds are projected to be in the black, including the recreation fund, which ended the prior year with a $109,000 deficit," said Christiansen 'Most of the operating funds show, increases in reserves over the past year According to Christiansen, the general fund expenditures for fiscal 2003 04 were $6.4 million, which is almost $400 000 lower than the previous fiscal year At the same time, revenues were up approximately $340,000

The net result, according to Christiansen, is the general fund balance for the fiscal year which ended June 30 will jump from $108,000 to more than $266,000

Christiansen said the main reason for the big increase comes from the loss of about a halfdozen employees throughout the year As for the increase in the general fund reserve,

Christiansen isn't getting too excited "That's not exactly a lot of money in a $6 4 mil-

hon budget," he said "It's still tight in the general fund, and I still don't have any big answers for next year's problem, yet, and I don't see any improvement in state shared revenues

In original projections given the city commission nearly two years ago, Christiansen contemplated the 2004-05 budget deficit to be $1 47 milhon However, since the city erased a $1 16 milhon deficit last year, he's revised that to around $600,000

"That's going to be monumental to come up with," he said

Commissioner Ron Loiselle said it's a Catch 22 situation "The increased fund balance makes me a bit more comfortable, but it's a long way from what we have to cut out of the budget,' he said "The deficits will be ongoing for the next four or five years, so there will be plenty to cut

"Have we figured it out? No,' added Loiselle "Are we working on it? Yes'

Greene said groups like hers have to "send a message to Lansing almost daily

"Hopefully they bear in mind that the cultural health of our local community is important It helps the economy because it is a business impetus, too If someone sees a show here or goes to the symphony then they go to dinner It's putting money into the local economy," Greene said

We have diversified our funding sources because we don't want to be at the mercy of the whim of state legislators Having said that, it is really difficult to go to companies, businesses and foundations and not be able to show them some level of support They look to the state for validation of our legitimacy"

She said any cut would be tough to handle but "we can absorb small cuts like 5 percent"

Jennifer Tobin, performing arts coordinator with Canton Leisure Services, said that while almost everywhere "it is a sad time for the arts," Canton has been fortunate in finding millions in private funding for its Cherry Hill Village Theater, set for a grand opening Sept 11

"The (budget cuts) are so devastating to those organizations that count on the money The have to cut staff, and that means cutting programming So many organizations need some help from the state just to keep their doors open," Tobin said

The theater has no grant applications pending to Lansing but 'we expect to apply in the future

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, which begins its 59th season in October, is also afraid of the budget woes Two years ago, the PSO got $24,000 from the state, last year it was cut to $16,000

These cuts hurt us," Angela Han, PSO's executive director,

"We apply for funding every year and they are our largest most consistent supporter To lose the grant would be very hard for us

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday August 26 2004

Han said she has been urging symphony board members and the four dozen or so Symphony League members to e-mail their legislators using the ArtServe Web site

"We don't have a lobbyists Another reason the arts and culture grants are important is they help us raise money from other sources The state arts council respects what we do and that let's us tell others we are supported by the state That (state status) is very important to us

Symphony League members come from both Plymouth and Canton

The PSO organization is starting Orchestra Canton this fall with different musicians but the same conductor (Nan Washburn) The series of shows will be held at the CHV Theater and is aimed at families, Han said

Michigan ArtServe's newsletter editor George Orban's latest alert said there has been no clear signal on the HAL (History, Arts and Libraries) budget for next year

"This is the opportune time to remind your legislators of the importance of the arts and culture to your life, family, community and schools If we wait until budget agreements have been reached, it's too late to influence the process," he wrote

According to the Michigan Humanities Council Web site, elimination of state funding for arts and culture could also jeopardize hundreds of thousands of dollars of funding to the state from the National Endowment for the Arts, which requires minimum state matching funding and a viable state arts agency

Granholm this spring proposed about $48 million for HAL in monies from the state's general fund, arts and cultural affairs account for the $11 8 million of that amount

Lawmakers talk of $1 billion shortfall for fiscal year 2004-05, the casino tax increase should bring in about $50 million

BUSINESS GRANT

The Michigan Economic Development Corporation, through its Manufacturing Competitiveness Program, has awarded funds to job training programs at Wayne State University and Monroe Community College More than $186,000 of this grant money will be used to train employees and create jobs at four Plymouth Township manufacturers

Plymouth businesses receiving the grants include E&E Manufacturing, First Technology Safety Systems, Johnson Controls, Inc , and Metaldyne

This is a great example of MEDC doing exactly what it was designed to do - retain and create jobs," said state Rep John Stewart, (R-Plymouth Township) "In this everchanging global economy Michigan needs to do everything possible to foster a business climate that encourages job growth and maintains our competitive edge in relation to other states and countries We are accomplishing that goal'

Contractors work to replace the brick pavers along Main Street bordering Kellogg Park. It was part of the Downtown Development Authority's capital improvement project

Park getting new brick pavers

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

New brick pavers along the western edge of Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth should be in place by the end of the week

It's part of a $17,000 Downtown Development Authority capital improvement project to upgrade the look on the Main Street side of the park

'Those pavers not only were old looking, but weren t level, said Bob Anderson, DDA dırector

Over time, some of the pavers in the park and other parts of the downtown streetscape became settled Installing new pavers and the leveling of others throughout the downtown area has been a priority of the DDA board" Anderson said the paver project throughout downtown will continue through this fall and again next year, and is being contracted by Mark J Baldwin & Associates of Plymouth

'They were old pavers from the 1960s that were not level and several were broken said Baldwin

"They didn't match up with the pavers in other parts of the streetscape

"If everything goes as planned, the work will be done before Friday's concert in the park," he said

There are 88 granite plaques with the names of those who donated money for the brick pavers in 1967, to celebrate Plymouth's centennial Those are being put back with the new brick pavers in Kellogg

City Manager Paul Sincock said the pavers that were removed will be used for other beautification projects throughout the city

JCI leads way in diabetes walk

For the fifth consecutive year, Johnson Controls is helping raise funds and awareness for the American Diabetes Association's America's Walk for Diabetes

Johnson Controls, headquartered in Plymouth Township, has set a statewide goal this year of 92 teams and 800 walkers for a number of sites across Michigan Southeast Michigan teams are from the Automotive Group of Johnson Controls in Plymouth, the company's joint venture with Bridgewater Interiors, and the Controls Division of Johnson Controls in Auburn Hills

The company also will match up to $1,000 - up to a total of $50,000 — for every Johnson Controls team that raises at least $1,000 Keith Wandell. president of the Automotive Group of Johnson Controls, is America's Walk for Diabetes corporate chair He is working with ADA staff in recruiting corporations, small businesses and other organizations to participate in the event

America's Walk for Diabetes will be held Sept 26 and is the American Diabetes Association's signature walk fund-raising event More than 3,500 people are expected to participate at four sites in southeast Michigan Kensington, Stony Creek and Willow metroparks and Belle Isle in Detroit Walkers are encouraged to get pledges from friends, family, co-workers and businesses

Funds raised from the event will be used toward the ADAs outreach initiatives, patient and professional programs, research programs and the American Diabetes Association's Camp Midicha The ADA's Camp Midicha is the only residential summer camp in Michigan designed for, and dedicated to, children with diabetes

The American Diabetes Association still is seeking team captains and people to participate in America's Walk for Diabetes

Sharuk Hıramanek, a quality director in advance quality

For the fifth consecutive year, Johnson Controls employees will help raise funds and awareness for the American Diabetes Association's America's Walk for Diabetes, set for Sept 26 engineering at Johnson Controls, says that over the past four years he has recruited 20-25 Johnson Controls employees to volunteer as team captains for America's Walk for Diabetes

Hıramanek became involved with the American Diabetes Association after he was diagnosed four years ago with type 2 diabetes He has since served on America's Walk for Diabetes committees

'We want people to enjoy working, but at the same time, enjoy their life outside of work,' he said Hopefully, after they retire they will have a long lifespan to enjoy their grandkıds

Diabetes is a disease in which the body does not produce or properly use insulin, a hormone needed to convert sugar, starches and other food into energy The cause of diabetes continues to be a mystery, although both genetics and environmental factors such as obesity and lack of exercise appear to play roles

There are 18 2 million people in the United States, or 6 3% of the population, who have diabetes. While an estimated 13 million have been diagnosed with diabetes, unfortunately, 5 2 million people (or nearly one-third) are unaware that they have the disease More than 800,000 Michigan residents are expected to have diabetes by next

Diabetes can lead to heart disease, blindness, kidney failure and amputations

Hıramanek, who has spent 19 years with Johnson Controls and will walk this year at Kensington Metropark, said it also makes good business sense for companies like Johnson Controls to work with the American Diabetes Association

Medical costs are rising for companies," said Hiramanek, of Ann Arbor 'If the workforce is not healthy, there are additional costs to the company and those costs keep going up

'It's important that we, as the employees of the company, do everything to keep ourselves fit so we can keep medical costs down for ourselves and the company'

Battle over marriage amendment far from over

BY JENNA KLOECKNER STAFF WRITER

Although a ballot proposal to the state Constitution banning same-sex marriage was not certified by the Board of State Canvassers, opponents plan to continue their campaign while proponents head to court

'It's a promising step," said Sean Kosofsky, director of policy at the Triangle Foundation in Detroit, an organization serving the gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgender and allied communities "But we are still going to run our campaign like its going to be on the ballot"

Composed of two Democrats and two Republicans, the board was split along party lines at a meeting Monday in approving the petition submitted by Citizens for the Protection of Marriage, which gathered 482,590 signatures to get the amendment on the ballot The group needed only 318,000

Siding with opponents, who assert the amendment will eliminate domestic partnership benefits for same-sex and heterosexual couples that are offered at state universities and by some government and private employers, Democratic canvassers Doyle O'Connor and Dorothy Jones voted against the language

Kosofsky said they voted no because they think the amendment is poorly written and is about more than marriage

"Were glad that the Board of Canvassers sees the initiative for what it is, Kosofsky said 'A gross reversal of civil rights that goes way beyond marriage"

Proponents beg to differ We'll win because we have the signatures, said Marlene Elwell, chairwoman for the Citizens for the Protection of Marriage

Outraged over the whole situation, Elwell said Republican canvassers Eric Pelton and Katherine DeGrow voted yes because that's their job and the Democratic canvassers clearly overstepped their role The Democratic canvassers made a raw, political decision that disenfranchises Michigan voters, she added

"Their role is to merely say yes or no to the signatures," she said

Bob Igrison, Oakland County coordinator for the group, said the decision by the two dissenting voters was a political decision, not one following the law

"We believe that the Michigan Court of Appeals when they view this issue will overturn the partisan politics of the two dissenting voters as there was no statutory reason for them to not vote in favor of the amendment being on the ballot," he said

Pickup time dangerous for children

Between 3 and 6 p m - pickup time at most schools and day-care centers – is the most dangerous time of the day for children under 13 years of age, according to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety That's when the most children are killed by motor vehicles

Drop-off time - between 6 and 9 a m - accounts for 11 percent of child motor vehicle deaths

Taken together, the time periods when children are either coming from or going to school or daycare account for more than one-third of all child vehicle deaths As the school year begins, AAA's annual "School's Open" campaign reminds motorists to use caution in school zones and residential areas, where pedestrians, bicyclists and motor vehicles. including school buses, operate during drop-off and pick-up

Motor vehicles remain the number one cause of death for children ages 2-14, savs Richard J Miller, AAA Michigan Community Safety Services manager Loading and unloading children from school buses and passenger cars requires careful attention and deliberate action?

During 2002, the last year for which data is available, 88 children under age 16 lost their lives in traffic crashes in Michigan, and 9,269 were injured Restraint use in Michigan is lowest for children ages 11-15 (74 3 percent)

In its "School's Open" campaign, AAA emphasizes that driving carefully begins with focusing in basic traffic safety practices, such as the proper use of seat belts, child safety seats and booster seats

"It's vitally important that all children age 12 and under be properly restrained in the back seat,' said Miller "Caregivers often don't realize they need to alter the type of safety seats as children grow, which means that booster seats are underutilized or used incorrectly Typically, children between the ages of four and eight are candidates for booster seats"

Miller urges motorists to follow these safety tips Slow down in or near school and residential areas ■ Drive with your headlights on - even during the day - so children and others can see

■ Look for clues such as school safety patrols, adult crossing guards, bicycles and playgrounds, that indicate children may be in the area

■ Scan ahead between parked cars and other objects for signs that children could dart into the road

■ Practice extra caution in bad weather

Always stop for school buses that are loading or unloading students when red lights are flashing (unless you are driving in the opposite direction on a divided highway

When using a booster seat, always use the shoulder harness Don't tuck it behind the child's back Make sure the lap belt fits low and tight across the lap/upper thigh area and the shoulder belt fits snug crossing the chest and shoulder to avoid check serugai lanimobda

For Isbister first-grade teacher Joann Kokoszka, who has taught split classes during her 25 years as an educator, the news of fewer splits is good

"It is so incredibly difficult to manage the curriculum demands we have now in math and language arts in one grade level, and then when you throw in a second grade level there's just not enough of you as a teacher to do your best," Kokoszka said

While the enrollment numbers are getting higher, board members continue to concentrate on class size

"I'm very proud we're able to stay at 26 students in K-2," said Trustee Richard Ham-Kucharski "In other districts we've seen reports of K-2 going up to 28, 29 and even 30'

Board President Mark Slavens said, "Unless the state gives us more money, I don t think it will be so rosy next year"

The district is hopeful the Sept 28 bond issue, which includes $15 million to construct a new elementary school in southwest Canton, will help alleviate some of the need for more classroom space

Among the middle schools, Discovery in Canton is the largest with an expected enrollment of 912, followed by West at 850 East is expected to show a decline of nearly 70 students

The high school park is expected to be the largest it's ever been, with more than

Pump station problem caused pressure drop

BY BRAD KADRICH STAFF WRITER

Residents on the western side of Plymouth Township this week may have wondered why water pressure suddenly dropped

The answer A pump station problem along a major water line break in Ypsilanti, according to officials at the Detroit Water & Sewerage Department

While Tom Hollis, the township's Public Works Manager, said the township's water system "never experienced a major full water pressure loss," there may have been isolated areas with full water pressure

That's why township officials issued a "boil water advisory for the area of the township west of Beck Road and to any residents or businesses who experienced complete loss of water The advisory lasted roughly 24 hours

The Detroit Water & Sewerage Department tested the water in the distribution system Tuesday and found no sign of contamination

Anyone with concerns about the water can call Hollis, (734) 453-8131, Ext 21

Prosecutors appeal ruling granting Islam new trial

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

A Plymouth man who is serving life in prison for the murder and dismemberment of his estranged wife is scheduled to have a new trial this winter

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Patrıcıa Fresard has set Nov 8 for the retrial of Azizul Islam, convicted for the Dec 1999 killing of Tracy Islam, and then mutilating her body and dumping parts in Dearborn and northern Ohio

However, Islam's hope for an acquittal, or sentence other than life in prison, could be thwarted by the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office

Fresard ruled earlier this month Islam deserved a new trial after Sandra Anderson, handler of a death investigation dog used in the case. admitted she planted a hacksaw blade with her blood on it for the dog to find during a search of Islam's Roe Street home While the blade wasn't introduced as evidence in the trial, Fresard ruled the fact Anderson was an expert witness for the prosecution and the saw blade mentioned was cause enough to throw out the October 2000 conviction

The Prosecutor's Office has petitioned the Court of Appeals in an effort to overturn Fresard's decision

We've filed the application to the Court of Appeals, and requested relief by Sept 3," said Assistant Prosecutor Jason Williams "We also filed a-motion for a stay of the trial proceedings with the application If the court grants our application, then it will probably grant the stay

We want the stay because of the amount of time and resources that will be spent for retrial, including making arrangements for witnesses who live in England," said Wıllıams

Tracy Islam's sister and a male friend were flown from England to testify in the first trial

The defense, headed by attorney Michael Schwartz, has 21 days to answer the appeal filed by prosecutors

The appellate court will have a number of options It could grant the application for appeal, which then would require the defense and prosecution to file additional briefs and oral arguments in front of a panel of judges The Court of Appeals could deny the application, allowing for the second trial to continue

Or, the appellate court could enter an order to overturn Fresard's decision for a new

Islam is currently incarcerated at the Ryan Correctional Facility in Detroit, serving a mandatory life sentence

Fall Festival set to shine again

Mark Baldwin and the folks who run the annual Plymouth Fall Festival could probably teach a class on how to do it smoothly

The festival, set for Sept 10-12 in downtown Plymouth, again appears to be running smoothly The folks who run it are getting pretty adept at making adjustments - for instance, deciding this year to expand the festival through more of the downtown area in an effort to ease traffic and pedestrian burdens

A couple of years ago, against some fairly stiff objection, the festival featured a beer tent for the first time Fears of drunken patrons causing trouble downtown never materialized, and the tent is now a popular stop

Last year, when the city commission decided to force the festival to pay for services it had heretofore provided in kind, Baldwin and his group came up with the idea of a 5K Fun Run to boost revenue It worked like a charm

Part of the success of the festival has to be attributed to the continued support and participation of civic groups the Rotarians, Kiwanians, the Optimist Club, Lions, et al who turn out every year with successful fund-raisers like the chicken barbecue, the pancake breakfast, the pet show, etc

Plymouth is home to a lot of successful events – Art in the Park, the Plymouth International Ice Sculpture Spectacular, Chili Fest - because there are quality people in this community who care about its image

Now it's Fall Festival's time to shine and, based on past performance, there's no reason to doubt it will do just that

Youth serves well

We've supported City Commissioner Michele Potters idea for a Youth Advisory Commission right from the start, and nothing the group has done yet has forced us to change our minds

We like their latest endeavor a lot The commission will sponsor a straw poll during Plymouth Fall Festival to determine who Plymouth favors as a presidential candidate

For a small fee, voters will be able to cast a ballot for their favorite candidate, the results of which will be published following the festival Each voter gets a 2004 presidential candidate souvenir

The event does a couple of things Its most tangible benefit is to raise money for the commission which wants to fund events such as a potential Battle of the Bands in the future Secondarily but maybe even more important ly, it gets our young people thinking about politics always a beneficial result

The youth commission is made up of a group of young people who want to make a difference in their communi-

School start means new challenges for parents

Don't fret, moms and dads, your children know you love them, really they do Don't let their complaints about the start up of school this week throw you

You aren't being mean to send them How could they even think it, what with $80 gym shoes, a closet full of new clothes and those backpacks Let see, will it be the Bratz girls or Spiderman they'll favor this year? And they'll cost how much?

It's been a rough summer, admit it

So now it's the fourth week of August Phew You all made it and school is back in session. The clothes are washed and folded, the school supplies checked against the list sent home from school You can take a break

But wait, did you check the size of that insurance bill for your high schooler who's driving to school for the first time? Better do some comparison shopping

Uh, oh, the kindergartner is clinging to your legs, unsure about a big kids' school experience. And the middle schooler is hoping you'll drive the team for ice cream after soccer practice, which is the same night as the PTO meeting

But, if you live in our hometowns, at least you'll know that where your kids are going, they're bound to get a good education The recent state school report cards are evidence of that

At the end of the day, there may be a kiss, there may be a hug Settling in for the night, you'll be thinking over the day's events when you hear it loud and clear

The sound of silence

Police failure

As both a law-abiding citizen and as a friend of Robert VanBuren, I feel not only compelled but obligated to express my extreme outrage and disgust in regard to the way (the Plymouth Township police) department and officers handled the incident which took place July 23

I knew Robert and know that he was not even close to this "large violent mental, drugged man you claim him to be He was 5-foot-10, 170 pounds! He was a very decent, genuine friendly, laid back guy whose generous nature wasn t even capa ble of that which you claim Your propa ganda offends me greatly

As a law enforcement agency, paid by taxpayers and the state you are entrusted and empowered by the community to serve and protect its citizens not to kill them in cold blood. In your own Mission Statement to profess The mission of the Township Police of Plymouth is to provide community service dedicated to protecting human rights through personal and professional excellence To promote a sense of safety and protect life!

With the unwarranted death of Robert VanBuren, not only have you failed miserably here, but you have violated your own mission statement, vision and bylaws The law does not provide or enable you to shoot a man dead for resisting arrest

If, in order to justify his shooting, you imply that this unarmed man weighing 170 pounds left your two armed and trained officers "fighting for their lives after they beat him with nightsticks and Taser guns, then you highly underestimate the cognitive reasoning of your pub-

If your officers who are trained in the art of restraining and subduing an unarmed suspect could do nothing but resort to shooting this man in the heart (without calling for any backup), then I'm completely dumbfounded by their stupidity and lack of duty

I am deeply affected by the loss of Robbie and feel greatly for his family You bear the responsibility for this injustice! You were entrusted to do the job you are empowered to do You failed Robert, his family and the entire community miserably The action of your officers is irreversible Robert is forever dead

Los Angeles Politicians, be counted

Running for public office has become a smoke and mirrors enterprise The goal is to fool the people Finding truth within the political miasma is a challenge The best source for the facts is the old reliable newspaper Yes, editors and reporters may have a tinge of bias, as we all do Nevertheless, by reading a variety of newspaper articles and columns it is possible to come closer to reality Another good source is the Web There are many good sites ranging throughout the political spectrum Some are obviously intended to pitch a particular agenda and therefore should be viewed with a jaundiced eye from the candidates (www.votesmart org) This national volunteer organization sends a lengthy multiple choice list (16 issues this year) to all state and federal candidates running in the November elections Candidates are asked to check off those items that they support from within the 16 issues Issues may be omitted completely Somehow Vote Smart is able to get many thousands of volunteers to do the drudge work Thanks to their effort, citizens have a means of determining what to expect from those selected to serve the people

Prior to the 2002 elections, state and federal office seekers were asked by Votc Smart to indicate their choice of items covering 11 issues The results were disappointing Notable was the lack of response from most Michigan's aspirants Gov Jennifer Granholm US Rep Thaddeus McCotter and state Sen Laura Toy ignored repeated requests. Most will be pleased to know that state Rep John Pastor did respond At least he was willing to stand up and be counted Hopefully, in the future, all will take the honorable approach to truly reveal "their message to the voters Now is a good time for them to start an honest dialog by completing the current Vote Smart query

Independent thinkers

Thank you for Hugh Gallagher's Perspective of Aug 15 I was beginning to think the Observer was becoming a mouthpiece of the right-wing extremists There are still many thinking and independent Americans out here

Ed McCarthy

Demanding balanced coverage

My wife and I had originally decided to cancel our subscription to the Observer for two reasons First, after having two kids who did a terrific job delivering the paper, our subsequent two delivery people were terrible to put it mildly One barely got the paper on the front porch The one after that left it in the right-ofway between the sidewalk and the street Fortunately, the delivery person we have now is doing a very good job getting the paper on the porch and delivering early

The second reason is your blatant bashing of President Bush and other Republicans Newspapers are supposed to provide unbiased coverage of news and restrict opinion to the Op/Ed pages However, just look at some of your socalled reporting of events leading up to and including the Democratic Convention for examples I understand attention should focus on the convention I have no problem with that But bashing the president with sheer opinion of the third-rate reporters and framing it as news is pathetic at best

Because the delivery problem has been solved at the moment, you have received a reprieve from our cancellation until the end of the Republican National Convention If you do not provide the same coverage as you did the Democratic Convention, you can expect our cancellation to follow shortly I do appreciate, however, your editorial staff, usually quite left-wing, printing as many letters from all political leanings condemning the writer who believed - and clearly stated so — that only left-wing writers should have their letters printed, and conservative writers' letters are not covered under the First Amendment

My wife and I do not expect the Observer to become a conservative paper - and would be bothered if it did - but would like a more concerted effort at providing more balanced coverage representing all sides of the issues

Don't deny us our rights

Why is it then when someone wants to ban an assault weapon they mention the Ak 47 and Uzi? Normally these weapons are fully automatic (like a small machine gun) We have outlawed them since, I

On the other hand, if they are referring to a semi-automatic" rifle version (each pull of the trigger shoots one bullet) then they should know that any deer hunter here, in the state of Michigan, is using a much more powerful weapon than an AK-47 or Uzi Our deer rifles are much more powerful than these supposed assault weapons they mentions

They are also right when they say, 'GUNS DON'T KĬLL PEOPLE KĬĹL" Until we become a more friendly civilized society, we will have people killed But, remember, they are being killed by other people Finally, we recently passed a law here in Michigan that a citizen can get a permit to carry a concealed weapon Many people said it would be like the "wild west" with all these persons carrying guns on them Well, the people of Michigan voted and said that yes we can carry guns if we choose to Oh, and by the way, we now have thousands of people with (CCW) permits to carry a concealed weapon and there's been no massacre, in

Criminals are criminals and we need to find ways to weed them out, but please don't deny the vast majority of honest law-abiding citizens their rights

A checklist for adapting to state's new economy

eople look at the world in fundamentally different ways. The British philosopher Isaiah Berlin once famously wrote, "The fox knows many things, but the hedgehog knows one big thing"

I couldn't get that line out of my head as I looked at last week's economic news Michigan's unemployment rate for July went up three-tenths of a percent, which means another 15,000 people are out of work, cut mostly from manufacturing jobs Our jobless rate, 6 8 percent, is well above the national rate of 5 5 This is another slice of bad news in a dismal long-term trend. We have lost 21 percent of our economic backbone — manufacturing jobs — since 2000

These losses are the result of many things, as the fox knows full well. They include enormously increased productivity in manufacturing, which means that lots of companies can make lots more things using lots less labor, and 'offshoring,' which means shifting work to places like China where labor is much cheaper Significant overcapacity in the US automobile industry is another factor, so are rigid labor contracts that make assembly labor a fixed cost and result in terrible cost pressure on the supply chain The one big thing that the hedgehog knows is simply this Those manufacturing jobs are never coming back They re over, done with Sure, we'll retain some auto assembly plants, if only because their labor contracts prevent the auto companies from shutting them down

And there will be a substantial residue of auto-

And there will be a substantial residue of autorelated high-tech jobs in flexible manufacturing, engineering, research and development. But the mass production of motor vehicles that placed. Michigan at the head of the industrial revolution nearly a century ago is a phenomenon that has been tailing off for decades.

So, says the hedgehog, what are we going to

So, says the hedgehog, 'what are we going to do about that?"

I m afraid most of the foxes in Lansing are still running around, chasing their tails, spinning economic data, proposing short-term fixes and generally misunderstanding the radical changes that are now sweeping through the Michigan economy As a result they are proposing remedies that are wholly inadequate to the scope of the problem (Better buggy whips wouldn't have saved the horsecart industry in 1915 either)

Heres a hedgehogs checkoff list of the big things that must be addressed if Michigan is to adapt and take advantage of the economic changes now under way a built-in structural budget deficit of more than $1 billion each year Legislative yapping about cutting spending here and there is nothing more than nibbling at the margins. We must either radically downsize state spending or find ways to get enough revenue to sustain state services

Fix the tax system The Single Business Tax is complicated, out-of-date and hurts our ability to compete when national companies consider locations in Michigan The state sales tax is levied on goods, not services, although the service sector of the economy is the one that's going to grow in the future

Fix the demography The experts are right Demography is history Too many highly educated young people are leaving Michigan for other places like Chicago and San Francisco We need to find better ways to recruit members of the 'creative class," the folks who will invent new products and manage new businesses

■ Fix the universities State appropriations for the 15 public universities have fallen nearly by a quarter in the past three years. But everybody knows that our universities are our greatest source of brainpower, research inventions and business leaders. Moreover, graduates of our universities — whether from instate or out-of-state — disproportionately stay in Michigan Tolerating a slow demise of our best universities is outrageous, and will cost us mightily in the long run

■ Fix the schools Most schools are improving, but too many inner-city kids who don't drop out still get a terrible education. We can't develop a highly skilled labor force when 20 percent of school-leavers are illiterate and lack simple math skills.

Fix health care Health care costs add up to $12,000 per car manufactured in Michigan They bulk up the cost of hiring a worker by as much as $7,000 per year A national solution is years away, but surely we can take small steps in Michigan

■ Fix the culture In some places, the community culture still holds that a high school diploma is all that you need to get a good-paying job Elsewhere, too many folks are addicted to the idea that working for some large company is the route to security

Compare this to the mentality in Silicon Valley, and you'll see how far we have to go

If we re going to address the hedgehog's one big thing, we need to focus our attention on a few basics. Let the foxes fiddle around with the little stuff Listening, Gov Jennifer Granholm? Listening, members of the Legislature? Listening, Michigan citizens?

We all better be

Special election will be a challenge in school district that's on the grow

Ithough school doesn t begin until Monday, much work has been done over the summer to prepare for the return of our students, and we're ready to start another successful school year

This new school year holds much promise and many challenges. As you saw in our most recent Celebrating Success publication, our students and staff members have had great success on the local, state and national level. This is due to the great partnership that exists between our students, parents and teachers.

I have said since I arrived, the communities that comprise the Plymouth-Canton Community District offer a great quality of life and we work hard to be an important part of that success

The biggest challenge we face this year is our special election scheduled for Sept 28 On this ballot we have two proposals. The first proposal is a request to renew the 18-mill non-homestead millage. This is a tax on business and it was last renewed in 1995. Those 18 mills provide $29 million.

in revenue, or 22 percent of our operating budget. It is easy to see the importance of these funds to our operations

The second proposal is a bond issue of $109 million Last November, members of our Bond Steering Committee (made up of community members, parents, staff and administrators) presented their report to the Board of Education

It was from this report the board unantmously agreed to place an issue with $94 million in identified needs and $15 million for the construction of a new elementary school in southwest Canton on the ballot The approval of this bond issue proposal will upgrade every building built before 2000 and protect these investments for the next five to 10 years. A new elementary school will help address our present overcrowding situation and future growth.

tion and future growth

What will it cost? The renewal of the 18mill non-homestead millage will cost our homeowners nothing The $109 million bond issue will cost a homeowner with a house valued at $234,000 approximately $47 per year Asking our taxpayers to raise their taxes is not an easy thing to do That is why the Bond Steering Committee worked so hard on its recommendations, and why the board took such a thoughtful approach in making its decision on what would be on the ballot

We want every move we make as a school district to positively affect our students, be a good investment for the communities that comprise the district and protect, if not raise, the values of the homes in the school district

Our track record is very good to date, as we opened the last three schools built (Discovery Middle School, Dodson Elementary School and Plymouth High School) on time and under budget You can expect the same performance from us if this bond issue passes

The Plymouth-Canton Community School District is highly regarded in our region and across the state. We have our own set of high expectations that we want to meet to provide a great education for our students at the best value to the taxpayers. We are aware of your high expectations for us. It all comes together to provide a great quality of life.

I am lucky to be a part of it and proud to be the superintendent of the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Welcome back to the 2004-05 school year

Effects of Proposal A

I found Mr Powers editorial, Flaws in Proposal A' (Aug 12), to be quite interesting It's a shame that real estate agents have fewer houses to sell because most of us are remodeling our homes rather than moving

However, let's take a closer look at the results of our actions

In my neighborhood I think there has been a lower turnover in home sales since Proposal A. When we moved in 18 years ago there were mostly three-bedroom, $1\frac{1}{2}$ -bath houses Now almost every house has been expanded and families stay longer in their homes Along with that, the property values in our neighborhood have gone way up — It seems to me that the taxes collected in our upgraded neighborhood today are at least equal to, if not greater, than the taxes would be in an unimproved more transient setting

Higher property values mean higher school taxes, larger real estate commissions and more stable neighborhoods. I wonder what Detroit would look like today, if Proposal A was 50 years old

Passing the crown

Miss Redford stays true to mission boosting literacy

BY DIANE GALE ANDREASSI CORRESPONDENT

Brooke Brennan will relin quish her crown as Miss Redford Township/Wayne County this weekend with her attention focused on others instead of herself

As Miss Redford Township/Wayne County Brennan championed causes that promote the importance of reading In fact, she's asking people who attend this year's pageant to bring books, new or used, at any reading level to be distributed free of charge in low-income areas

The pageant is from 4 6 p m Saturday, Aug 28, at Churchill High School in Livonia This year, the event has changed names and for the first time in 13 years will be called, Miss Wayne County Scholarship Pageant

Brennan, a Brooklyn, Mich resident, plans to donate the books she collects to the Red Wagon Literacy Project, which is sponsored by the Wayne-Westland Community School District The books are distributed in the Norwayne neighborhood in Westland

I wanted to get the community and my friends and family involved to show them what I ve been doing," Brennan said 'I thought the book drive would be a good thing to do, especially as I was giving up my title during the pageant

Make a Wish Foundation in Livonia has donated a red wagon for Brennan to collect the books during the pageant

Every summer, Red Wagon volunteers ring a cow bell and push a wagon filled with books and magazines for people of all ages to take

"I hope this takes-off and I can help them out with what they're doing," Brennan said

'Seeing the little kids' faces when they get the books they're so excited to see us

Fifty percent of children who have illiterate parents will also be illiterate, she said adding that the cycle needs to be broken

"It's important to attack it at both ends — the adults and children," Brennan said

Last summer, while Brennan was swinging the bell and passing out books she became hooked-on the program She also volunteered to read at various elementary schools in the Wayne-Westland School District In fact, every Friday during March, which is National Reading Month, she read to students at Jefferson-Barns Elementary in Westland

As Miss Redford Township/Wayne County, Brennan also was invited to community events, like the Redford Township firefighters open house, modeling in the Redford Suburban League fashion festival and programs at Our Lady of Loretto in Redford

Once Brennan won the local pageant she became eligible to compete in the Miss Michigan Scholarship pageant, which was held in June She finished in the top 10 among 30 contestants and won a talent award

STILL COMPETING

The winner of the Miss Michigan annually goes on to the Miss America pageant Brennan, 23, still has her eye on that goal even though the age limit is 24

'I was very pleased with my first trip to Miss Michigan," Brennan adds Looking back I've seen how much I ve grown and how much I ve changed I'm thrilled with how I did with Miss Michigan and I'm excited about going back'

Brennan said the pageants have given her confidence and interview skills that she can use for future jobs

This year she plans to compete in the Miss Spirit of the State in Mio and the Miss Washtenaw County

If she wins the local pageant she can go on again to the Miss Michigan

'She's been a wonder to work with for the past year,' explains Sheila Sigro, Miss Wayne County Scholarship Pageant executive director

'She's very sweet and 1s every director's dream," Sigro said

"If you ask her to do something you know it will be done Shes very opened minded and shes very mature If you send her to an appearance you won't have a thing to worry about Id love to keep Brooke, but I know whoever wins will fill her

Miss Wayne County Scholarship Pageant is also holding a fund-raiser for the dance group in Churchill's CAPA (Creative and Performing Arts) program Half the money collected from ticket sales will go to the dance

Tickets are $15 and the public is invited to attend

History in the making

Friday will be a night of firsts for Wildcat gridders

Like a racehorse that has been locked in the starting gate for more than two years, the Plymouth football team is chomping at the bit to run

Head coach Jay Blaylock is confident his team will eventually be a thoroughbred, he's just not sure how long it's going to take for the young and inexperienced Wildcats to hit their stride

The gate will open on Plymouth's inaugural varsity football season at 7 p m Friday when it travels to Livonia Churchill to battle the Chargers

'I stressed to the kids that because of our lack of varsity experience, we aren't going to have the luxury to be able to make a lot of mistakes and still be successful,' Blaylock said

"There's no doubt that one of this teams strengths is its work ethic The kids work hard year-round in the weight room, and it shows

Our biggest weakness, though, is going to be our inexperience Not having any seniors this year is going to make it tough

'I haven't set any goals as far as saying I want to win 'x number of games," Blaylock added "Our JV team was undefeated last year, so we have a good group of players coming up"

The Wildcats will run a veer offense out of multiple formations Directing the show will be quarterback Brent Jones, a 5-foot-10, 175-pound junior who can run and throw equally well "Brent is a great athlete who has the ability to make key decisions at full speed," Blaylock said "He worked tremendously hard during the off-season and he has a lot of skills Running backs Anthony Green (5-9, 180) and Jeff

Harrison (5 8, 163) will line up behind Jones Combined the two possess an electric mix of power and speed according to their coach Anthony is the strongest kid on our team thanks to all the time he has spent in our weight room, Blaylock said And Jeff isn t real big but he's slippery and he'll run people over when he has to Backing up Green and Harrison will be Nathan sholston (5-8, 163), one of just three sophomores of the varsity

The targets of Jones aerials will be tight ends Josh PLEASE SEE WILDCATS, B2

CC goes unbeaten at Balconi

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

Saturday's ninth annual Balconi Soccer Invitational was unlike the previous eight, but for all the wrong reasons

The tournament's format had to be altered early last week after Troy Athens and Rochester dropped out due to unspecified reasons Because of the last-minute changes, the tournament was changed to a round-robin event instead of the bracketed format that is usually used

Redford Catholic Central earned the best record at 2-0-1 Salem and Canton battled to a 1-1 tie Saturday afternoon, leaving both teams' record at 0-1-2

Everything worked out OK considering the main thing all the teams wanted out of this was to get three good games in," Salem coach Ed McCarthy said "There were a lot of close games, which was good to see

McCarthy said his team's performance gave him plenty of things to try to fix in practice this week

'We have a lot of work to do," he said "We saved our best performance for Canton They usually bring out the best in us"

The Rocks dropped their opener to CC, 2-1 Senior forward Dave Hall put Salem up 1-0 in the game's first minute, but the home team couldn t find the net the rest of the game

Rocks open season with OT road win

BY TIM SMITH STAFF WRITER

It wasn't exactly a stellar opening night for the offenses of both host West Bloomfield and Plymouth Salem Tuesday

But the visiting Rocks showed plenty of defensive tenacity and overall resiliency in earning a 33-30 overtime victory in the non-league girls basketball contest

West Bloomfield also played hard, but coach Larry Moore lamented rushed and errant shots, both from around the perimeter and inside the paint. The Lakers rolled out to a 23-13 halftime lead, but managed just seven points the rest of the night including a four-minute overtime session

"We had 23 at halftime and ended up with 30 for the game, with overtime," Moore said "So that tells you what kind of shooting we had

"And it wasn't like we weren't getting any shots In the meantime, Salem discovered enough of an offense to chip away the deficit"

GIRLS BASKETBALL

For coach Fred Thomann's team, Alyssa Guerin led with 15 points while Kathryn Wheatley connected on some key buckets en route to a nine-point outing

"It was outstanding to come into their gym and open up the season with a victory, because they're a really good team," Thomann said "And to come from 10 down, that says it all for these guys They really dug in

In the fourth, the Rocks took a 27-26 lead with 3 35 left on a right-corner basket by Wheatley But after a late free throw by Guerin upped Salem's lead to two, the Lakers tied the game at 28-28 with 27 seconds left on two free throws by junior forward Randall Hurst (14 points)

West Bloomfield missed a shot at the buzzer that would have won the game Wheatley made an important play to get the OT stanza off on the right foot for the Rocks She stole the ball, drove the length of the court and was fouled trying to convert She made two subsequent free throws to give Salem a lead it would not relinquish

It turned out to be the winning shot as the Lakers continually couldn't find the bottom of the bucket

'We had thè shots and we beat ourselves," Moore said 'We just couldn't convert" He did give Salem credit, however 'They came out after we had them down

10 at the half and they fought back' According to Thomann, team defense and rebounding were essential ingredients to the victory He singled out frontcourt player Teresa Coppellie (three points) for getting some timely rebounds

But he noted that Guerin "really stepped up, Wheatley played a superb game and Ellen Canale's leadership out there was outstanding"

West Bloomfield will host Detroit Cody at 7 p m Tuesday The next game for Salem ıs 5 p m Thursday against Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, at Ann Arbor Huron

Emons' grid picks scare away the competition here's my new competi-tion?

The perennial champion prep football prognosticator apparently got bored whipping up on his two challengers

First, Plymouth-Canton Sports Editor C J Risak hightailed it to St Pete, Fla. and last reported was sleeping through Hurricane Charley Then, another bombshell last week

Redford-Garden City Sports Editor Paul Beaudry plans a move to "Sweet Alabama," Birmingham to be exact He gave his two-week notice, but he can't even answer the bell He's been KO'd for this weekend's openers after going in for emergency appendectomy surgery Sunday at St Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor

Paul is fine, but he's out for at least a week, so hopefully he can e-mail or call in his picks

Ed Wright, C J's current fillin, is a concern, but only for a week because Tim Smith, formerly the Southfield-West Bloomfield Sports Editor, takes over this Monday in Plymouth-Canton (Word from Oakland County is that Smith is a lousy prognosticator)

But obviously a guy named Wright is never Wrong, so I may be catching a break for the 2004 season when it comes to better competition

Defending, not scoring, will be biggest test for Salem

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

Depositing the ball into the opponents' net should not be an issue this season for the defending Western Lakes Activities Association champion Salem boys soccer team

Preventing their opponents from scoring could be a problem though for the Rocks, whose starting line-up was depleted by the graduation of All-State goal-keeper Tom Huls and five key defenders

"Our attack should be as good as last year," said coach Ed McCarthy "My biggest concern is defending"

Along with Huls, the Rocks, who finished 12-4-6 in 2003, lost key defensive standouts Chris Conlisk (third-team All-State), Matt Adsit, Steve Cox, Eric Vanston and Mike Newton to graduation

Sophomore Brian Field will be counted on to fill the large shoes of the departed Huls

"Brian was the goalie for our junior-varsity team, which had a good season last year," McCarthy said "He ll see the majority of the time in net for us So far, he's done a nice job"

Senior Andy Psilis will backup Field, McCarthy said The Rocks' top offensive returner will be senior forward

Thiago Harris A tri-captain, Harris tallied nine goals and five assists during his junior season Salem forward David Hall, also a captain, brings impressive credentials into his senior campaign Hall scored eight goals and dished out four assists last season "I expect David to be a leader on and off the field for us this year," McCarthy said The third tri-captain will be senior mid-fielder Sean

Williams, who booted in three goals in 2003

Two juniors – Joe Halewicz and Jake Bennett – return as starters for the Rocks

Other key returners include senior mid-fielders Brad Zonca, Ross Heidenreich and Manny Palazzolo and senior defender Steve Zelmanski

Junior first-year players Alex Lumley, Brett Windecker and Steve Gallagher are expected to log plenty of minutes as well Juniors Ryan Rowe, Mark O'Neall and Josh Hulett, and freshman Brooks Belhart will provide the Rocks with plenty of depth.

Despite his team's defending-champion title, McCarthy said another team should be considered the favorite to win team to beat this year," said

Usually, it's safe to say a team that finished 12-5-4 the previous year would like to pick up where it left off last year

That's not necessarily the case for the Canton boys soccer team, which rolled early in 2003 before fading in the final week

The Chiefs breezed through their Western Lakes Activities Association regular-season schedule, finishing 9-0-1 However, they lost, 2-1, to Salem in the conference finals, and dropped a disappointing decision to Ann Arbor Huron in the Division 1 district opener

Heading into the district tournament, the Chiefs were ranked fourth in the state in Division I

"Ann Arbor Huron is the one team that had our number last year," said second-year Canton coach George Tomasso "We only lost five times, but Huron beat us twice When we drew them for the districts, I had a bad feeling"

With 10 players returning from last year's team, Tomasso has a solid nucleus in place to try to wipe out memories of last season's dismal finish

"I think we're going to have a tough, competitive team this season," said Tomasso, whose team opened its schedule Saturday at the Balconi Invitational Soccer Tournament held at the PCEP soccer field "Like every year, our goal this year is to win the state championship I like to set our goals high."

The Chiefs will be led this season by senior co-captain Brad Marsh, a mid-fielder who chalked up nine goals and four assists last season

"Brad is a good all-around player who seems to get better every time he touches the ball," Tomasso said

Returning in goal is senior Steven Mischung, a secondteam All-State selection who had a paitry 0 53 goals-against average in 2003

"Steven has a tremendous amount of experience playing goal," Tomasso said "In addition to playing for us, hes played for some of the top club teams in the area"

last year, will give Mischung stiff competition for the starting goal-keeper spot

'I'm very satisfied with our depth at the goal-keeper position," Tomasso said

Senior co-captain Jason Houdek, a mid-fielder, and senior forward Adam Pitt, should team with Marsh to give Canton an explosive offensive punch

"Jason started last year and is a great play-maker," Tomasso said Defensively, the Chiefs will rely on semiors Curtis Rose, Andy Cortellini, Jeff Morency and Matt Priebe to help its talented goalies keep the ball out of the net.

'My senior defenders excelled as juniors, so I'm expecting the best year yet out of them," Tomasso said

Tomasso predicted Northville, Livonia Stevenson and Salem will be the teams to beat in the WLAA

"Plymouth will be tough, too, even though it's their first year at the varsity level," Tomasso said

Plymouth

Wildcat coach Jeffrey Neschich is cautiously optimistic heading into his team's first full varsity season
Plymouth finished "around 500" last season, according to Neschich, who was an assistant coach at Canton for 10 years and head coach at Redford Thurston for five years before coming to Plymouth in 2002

"With no seniors, we have a tough road ahead of us, but the kids have been working extremely hard and they are driven to have a successful season," Neschich said

The Wildcats' offensive surge will be led by juniors Sean Dillon and Jim Wilbur 'Sean is a great kid who puts out 110 percent effort every time he plays," Neschich said 'Jim is steady and a hard worker, too Hes great at winning 50-50 balls

Sophomore Andrew Coet will also play a major role in the Wildcats attack this year, according to Neschich

Plymouth's corps of defenders will be paced by Juniors David Lewandowski and Jordan Payne, and sophomore
Steven Shaeffler

Robert Lovelace and Nick Siekirk will serve as the Wildcats goalies this season

"They're both good goalies, so we have a lot of depth at that position," Neschich noted Neschich hasn't set any preseason goals for his troops

"We're going to take it one game at a time,' he said "I'm happy with where we're at right now, but we still have a lot of work to do"

Canton looking for another good season

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

Since last fall, graduation has tore through the Canton gırls tennıs team's roster lıke a 100-mph serve

But thanks to a dedicated off-season conditioning program, coach Barb Lehman thinks the Chiefs can possibly return to the form that led to an 8-2-1 mark in 2003

'We lost nine varsity players to graduation, so it's going to be tough to match last season's record," Lehman said "But the girls have been putting in a 120 percent effort, so the level of play we've been getting has been very good'

Among the senior stars graduated from last year's ultrasuccessful squad are no 1 singles player Hitoni Shinoda and four-year varsity player Beth

TENNIS PREVIEW

Treadwell

Stepping in at no 1 singles for Shinoda will be Chelsea Darouie, a senior co-captain

"Chelsea was an excellent doubles player last year, but she has worked hard and made a major move into singles," Lehman said "She has put a lot of effort into improving her game, and it shows'

Starting the year at no 2 singles is sophomore Emily Hoernschemeyer, who excelled for the Chiefs' junior-varsity unit in 2003

Emily has made great strides in her game since last year," Lehman said

The rest of the line-up is still unsettled, Lehman admitted Freshman Ashley Madau is tentatively set to start the year at no 3 singles, while senior co-captain Natalie Slupek, and senior Laura McKendry will battle for the right to play no 4 singles

Other candidates for the no 4 singles spot and the four doubles teams are seniors Jennifer Martin, Sheela Ramesh, Heidi Phillips, Liz Schauert, Lauren Reed and Danı Rınehardt, and junior Katıe Bedard

"We have a lot of depth, so we should be strong in doubles no matter who plays four singles for us

Lehman predicted Salem and Walled Lake Central will be two of the teams to beat in the Western Lakes Activities Association this season

The Chiefs open their regular-season schedule Wednesday, Sept 1, against Walled Lake Western

Salem

There is strength in numbers, which is one reason why the Salem girls tennis team should be feared this season

"We had 80 girls sign-up to play originally," said coach Lin Ware "It's down to 51 now, but that's still a lot We currently have 16 girls on the varsity squad and 14 of those are returners, so we have plenty of experience

The Rocks rolled last year, finishing 8-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association

"We had a good season, but we didn't play very well at the conference meet," Ware said "Our main goal this year is to win the conference, but with Northville and Livonia Stevenson in there, it's going to be difficult

"If we improve on our overall record from last year and do better at the league meet, I'll consider that a successful sea-

Ware knows her top singles player well, it's her daughter, Alex, a sophomore who compiled an impressive 7-4 league record in 2003

"Alex has been playing since she was very young," Lin Ware said "She has a good all-around game' Other potential singles players include senior Maranon Swasey, junior Maureen Bohr, senior Sarah Jose, senior Katie Gırskıs and freshman Tracy Lytle Besides Ware, Swasey is the only other returning singles player She went 8-3 last season 'Maureen and Sarah played number-one doubles together for us last year, and they did a nice job," Ware said "Tracy is only a freshman, but she's a club player so she's played a lot of tennis If she doesn't play singles, she'll be in the line-up somewhere" The doubles line-up is still unsettled, but one thing is certain Seniors Erica Shy and Michelle Cilia will make up one of the duos Erica and Michelle work well together," Ware said "They had a good year last year and they won the match against Canton for us"

The rest of the varsity roster includes seniors Stacey Ward, Teresa Purugganan and Amy Yu, juniors Shailee Patel and Laura Burton, sophomores Shodha Narasımham and Kate McKinley, and freshman Dana Anderson

The Rocks open their 2004 schedule Saturday, Aug 28 at the Temperance-Bedford Invitational

One five-letter word continued to resurface Tuesday night as Belleville coach Bob LaPointe described his 2004 football team

"We're very, very young," LaPointe said "We're so young, that many of our positions still aren't set We're going to have a young defense Several juniors will be starting and possibly three or four sophomores"

The Tigers, who finished 5-4 last season (fourth in the Mega Red Conference) may be young, but they're not void of talent, especially on the offen-

CLEMIS is a thirty year old confederation of autonomous Police Prosecutor Offices and District Courts It now has 80 Police agencies, District Courts and 60 Fire Agencies as part of its membership CLEMIS provides multi-agency, multi-county records management with a CAD interface It includes a multi jurisdictional case management investigative tracking system. The system automatically loads patrol car information and is compatible with ArcView/ GIS mapping systems WHY CHANGE TO CLEMIS? HTE system deficiencies - Crime analysis module unable to accommodate operational needs - Mapping module unable to operate adequately - Automatic Vehicle Locator failed to operate - Minimal problem solving ability from technical staff -Product development continually lacking - Continued increase in annual maintenance and support costs - Not concentrated in Public Safety applications It has a Shared database with over 80 police departments and Monetary savings CONCLUSION CLEMIS participation would provide the Department of Public Safety with A well demonstrated operational system The ability to share and have access to a large criminal justice database. The benefit of a large reduction in annual budget costs Greater access to grant money for future projects Item 2: Update on Miscellaneous Items Supervisor Yack updated Board on upcoming study sessions, awards and staff development days Motion to adjourn by Bennett, seconded by Burdziak at 8 10 PM Motion carried Respectfully Submitted Terry G. Agape starts year with hot shooting

There was no air condition ing in the Britton-Macon gymnasium Tuesday night for Canton Agape Christian Academy's season opener against the host Tories

But the gym's temperature still wasn t as hot as the shooting touch of the Wolverines, who torched the Tories, 53-28

Improved shot selection was the key component in a 23-1 Agape run that broke open a close game late in the third quar ter The Wolvernes outscored B M 19-1 in the final quarter

'We settled for better shots during the big run," said Agape assistant coach Dan Watkins "We were rushing things a little in the first half Once we settled down, we were fine'

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday August 26 2004

Led by A J Kreps' 17 points, four Wolverines finished in 1 double-digit scoring Lindsay Gant and Brianna Chrenko both chipped in with 12 and Danielle Henry added 10

Kreps and Chrenko dominated in the rebounding department for the winners, Watkıns saıd

Earlier this week, Agape announced that former coach Chuck Henry is taking over the reins of the team Watkins will become the junior-varsity coach Henry is also head coach of the Madonna men's basketball Belleville 57, John Glenn 28:

Forward Ericka Brewer scored 14 points and guard Taylor Manley added 10 Tuesday as Belleville opened its girls basketball season with a convincing 57-28 victory over host Westland John Glenn

The Tigers led 21-11 at halftime and 37-23 after three quarters before making it a rout with a 20-5 fourth-quar-

'The fourth quarter they couldn't miss," Glenn coach Mike Schuette said of the Tigers 'The first half both teams were cold, but they were able to score on some fastbreak situations"

With returning junior center Jennifer Swartz, the team's top rebounder, sidelined with a broken knuckle, Glenn was less than full strength

Guard Heather Lindon led the Rockets in scoring with eight points Diane Hawkins added seven

Belleville looking to rebound in '04

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

With all five starters returning from last season's 6 14 team, Belleville girls basketball coach Kevin Edwards is expecting the Tigers to make a U-turn in the Mega Red standings this year

"We had four seniors who didn't come back from last year's team, but the girls we do have want to play basketball, and that's what's important," said Edwards "We don't have a big team, but we do have a lot of quickness and speed, so we should be competitive"

Running the point in Edwards' three-guard set will be senior Tia Lewis The 5BASKETBALL PREVIEW foot-2 point guard averaged 6 points a game in 2003 and was near the top of the team's assists chart

She started when she was a freshman, then she hurt her ACL during her sophomore year," Edwards said 'She came back last year strong Tia sees the court well and is a good outside shooter

Joining Lewis in the backcourt are sophomore Taylor Manley (5-5) and senior Renee Feng (5-6) Manley started as a freshman last year and responded with an 11-pointsper-game scoring average

Semors Erica Brewer (5-9) and Cindy McGoldrick (5-11) will protect the paint for the Tigers Brewer suffered a serious hand injury with eight games left last year, but managed to average 8 points per contest before get hurt McGoldrick didn t score much, but pulled down 10 boards per game

Sophomore Danica Holmes (5-5) should be the first player off the Tigers bench A starter last season, she scored an average of 8 points a game in 2003

Senior Qeytia Martin (5-7), sophomores Hıllary Ivan (5-6) and Jasmine Peterson (5-7), along with freshman Courtney Holland (6-0) will provide Edwards with four more options coming off the Belleville bench

Things are looking up for the Plymouth Christian girls basketball team with the addition of sophomore point guard Joi Jennings and her father. Harvey, the Eagles' new coach

Right after Michael died, all Joi did was play basketball said her father, Harvey Jennings, who is also her coach at PCA Her mother and I were concerned because it seemed like it was the only thing she wanted to do When we talked to our family's grief therapist about it she said playing basketball was the way Joi was dealing with her gricf and that it was actually healthy

Jois dedication to basketball has paid huge dividends on the court Two years ago, as a member of the Michigan Monarchs and North Oakland Wolfpack AAU travel basketball teams, the then 13-yearold point guard was one of the states leaders in scoring, steals and assists in her age group

Last fall, she was the only freshman to make Flint Powers' varsity girls basketball team

When Harvey Jennings received a job transfer earlier this year, he enrolled his daughter at PCA He was hired as the team's head coach in

"We're thrilled to have coach Jennings and Joi at Plymouth Christian,' PCA athletic director Doug Taylor said 'We strive to be well-balanced here in academics, athletics and with the students' spiritual growth, and that balance was something that appealed to the Jennings family

Joi has a great work ethic She loves to practice and you can tell she has a passion for the game And coach Jennings is one of the most energetic and motivated people I ve ever met, plus hes a man of integri ty He has a great enthusiasm for the game and it really shows

Harvey Jennings said Jois new teammates had no idea of her abilities prior to the teams first practice Aug 9 But it did nttike long for the rest of the Eagles to realize they had a tal ented new point guard

It was similar to when a fast swimmer transfers to a new school and no one has any idea how good he is, Harvey Jennings said Then when the new kid hits the water and starts swimming, the other kids go Whoa! After about 15 minutes of practice, they knew Joi was a player

Michael Jennings won't be sitting in the stands Friday night when PCA opens its season at home against Taylor Baptist Park, but he will have a forceful impact on his sister's

'Michael's memory inspires me every time I step onto the basketball court, Joi Jennings said Hes always in my heart and I know that whenever I play, hes watching me

Michael Jennings good dribbler, great brother, and incredible motivator

Kelly and Jason went to the Canton Home Expo and learned about solar heat panels from Joe and Donna Napolitano, owners of Mechanical Energy Systems, as they had an information booth there to your pet's overall health nometimes we get messages and just ignore them

For instance, if the fat on your back gets stuck in a workout machine, you might need to tweak your exercise regimen

If the only communication your sweetheart has with you involves a restraining order, the relationship may be in trouble

If your neighbors pass around a petition that mentions you by name, it might be time to re-evaluate your place in the community Medicine has signs as well

Surely if you have chest pains, you would know to call a physician, and get checked out to avoid progression of problems

In veterinary medicine, we face an extra step When an anımal feels sıck, the owner has to notice the problem before reacting

People often mention negligence when they see a prolonged condition, but that's not always the case Usually owners miss early signs by simply not knowing what to look for, possibly even thinking the problems simply represent growing old

Many times I ve explained to an owner whose pet looks like a skeleton with skin that the situation isn't normal aging Problems rarely happen overnight, but creep up on the owner, exposing themselves only just before the visit

Fire engine medicine can work This involves treating diseases when they happen, responding to emergencies with a fervor

Waiting for a problem to happen increases the damage and long term effects Any fireman will tell you the easiest fire to stop is one that has yet to start

Routine health checks can help to avoid fire engine medi cine In human medicine, seniors routinely have blood work done to monitor their health, before any sign of trouble Most vets also recommend routine blood monitoring, especially for older patients Finding something early can really make a difference

For an owner, knowing the early signs that mean trouble can also help to mp problems in the bud Some signs send up a red flag to medical people, telling them something big could be going on

The biggest red flag would be PU/PD, or Polyuria/Polydipsia In English, this means urmating a lot and drinking a lot

When I mention this problem, people tend to think diabetes Yes, diabetes could be the culprit, but PU/PD could also mean kidney failure, liver failure, Cushing's disease, thyroid disease, Addison's disease, and many more

The problem with PU/PD is not that it is a component of a lot of diseases, but the ones it does occur with are some of the

If your dog tired quickly during play obesity could be the problem but heart disease can t be ruled out Again, this is important Your peace of mind is important If a lump scares you, call_ to get it checked out

Running routine blood work with the yearly vaccines to check body function makes tremendous sense, as does calling when a condition or behavior change concerns you

The best rule of thumb if you don't know whether or not to call, it means you should It's better to overreact 1,000 times than miss one significant problem And that's a message you shouldn t ignore about piracy I also think the money movie studios are spending on lawsuits could be better spent treating customers fairly

Put a second copy of the movie into the case, for instance I'll gladly pay an extra buck for it (far more than it would cost to produce, I assure you)

Or let me mail in a scratched disc for a replacement I'd pay a few bucks for that option, too Just don't force me to pony up another $20 because my toddler trashed the Finding Nemo

(Don t tell me to be more careful, either Anyone who has kids knows it's impossible to protect your possessions)

Until Hollywood comes to its senses, there's a perfect home-brew solution already avaılable

It's called DVD Shrink (www dvdshrink org), and it enables you to copy DVDs right on your computer (much like the aforementioned 321 Studios programs)

All you need is a DVD burner

Actually, DVD Shrink is what's called a "rıpper," meaning it extracts the movie from the disc and copies it to your hard drive From there you use one of many available DVD-burning programs to make your backup

In fact, if you have Nero 6 Ultra Edition (www nero com) installed, DVD Shrink will handle the copy process from start to fin-1sh (I wrote about Nero in a previous column - it's one of my favorite disc-authoring programs)

Now for the interesting part Most DVD burners support only single-layer blank

Most commercial movies come on double-layer discs Thus, it's not likely your blank DVD will have room for the entire movie

But DVD Shrink can either strip away some of the extraneous extras like special

There's more to roofing than shingles

BY DAVID BRADLEY FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

Mention roofing to homeowners and their thoughts usually turn to shingles Talk roofing with Brian Chambers of Owens Corning (www.owenscorning.com) and you hear about a trio of elements that go into creating a roof with a long life Shingles are icing on the cake, but what's underneath is important, too

Chambers considers a roof to be he sum of its parts freeflowing ventilation, protective underlayment and good shingles In other words, a roof is a system of equally critical com-

"Shingles are important, but so are the other two elements if a roof is to do what it's supposed to, and that's protect the home and look good," said Chambers, the company's vice president of residential roofıng

Ventilation is the key to a roof's survival

Moisture and excessive heat milling about in an attic stunt roof life faster than nearly any other factor

Trapped heat and humidity create a breeding ground for mold, contribute to deterioration of a roof substructure and can "cook shingles from the inside out

Ridge vents placed at the crown of a roof are a new escape route for heat and humidity, augmenting the familiar square "box" vents typically seen about midway up

Proper ventilation draws external air up through soffit slits beneath the eaves and out through the vents Chambers says the goal is to achieve a "balanced air flow" where attic temperatures and moisture content are identical to outside

It s a mistake to think attic air should be warm and therefore part of the home insulation process

Good insulation is the thermal barrier that traps heat in hving areas, not up in your attıc," said Chambers

Felt sub-layers beneath shingles have been supplemented by saturated asphalt "ice and water shields"

This adhesive-backed sheeting provides superior protection, especially when laid in valleys and eaves, against invasive rainwater and ice dams that can cause leaks or lead to rotting of roof timbers

(Ice dams form when heated air escapes through the roof and melts snow The melted snow refreezes in a series of layers - all the more reason to keep attic temperatures to a minimum)

SHINGLE STYLES

And now for the crowning touch - the all-important shin-

Consumers see a plethora of new shingle styles

Premium shingles referred to as 'architectural' or laminates have boomed, from 10 percent of the market 10 years ago to more than 50 percent

These two-ply varieties are replacing three-tab shingles among homeowners who want more color options or the look of slate or shake shingles without the high cost

There's even a super-laminate category of ultra-heavy shingles with limited lifetime warranties (Warranties of 20-50 years are common on even basic shingles)

It's little wonder that homeowners want more shingle color and style choices A roof accounts for as much as onethird of the visible exterior of the house. A good-looking roof has curb appeal, contributing to the house's resale value

Chambers says the days are gone when homeowners could simply nail on new shingles and climb back down their lad ders He says his company leans toward a network of installation professionals who understand a roof in its entire

"The pros understand every thing about a roof and how specifications differ from home to home That's their job

He also points to safety issues Few homeowners are accustomed to working on pitched roofs that could be 30 feet or higher

SIGNS

The big question is knowing when it's time to say good-bye to your old roof

Chambers lists telltale signs of roof deterioration homeowners can readily spot ■ Buckled, cracked, warped or split shingles This applies to both asphalt and wood shake shingles Excessive granule loss

Some loss is normal but watch for large accumulations in your gutters ■ Blistered shingles

■ In the attic, look for signs of leaks or water spots on ply wood or particleboard

■ Attic timbers may show signs of mold, rot or insect decay caused by excessive moisture

"Consumers know about routine maintenance practices with their car, such as chang ing oil every 3,000 miles, said Chambers

"Their roof is no different They need to get in the routine of checking the condition of their roof on at least a seasonal

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Kelly Kleinsorge keeps an eye on the sunshine and makes adjustments on the flow of warm water to the swimming pool at her home in Canton. The vertical pipes lead up to the solar collectors, mounted on the roof of the home collectors made of a copolymer material are created in black panels, which are then installed on the roof of the home in sizes of 8, 10 or 12 feet When the sun hits them, heat is generated Water passes through tubes inside the solar collector panels Water heats 3-5º F with each pass through the collector, before it goes into the pool

A bypass is created of the old water system Materials cost about $7,500 and installation ıs about $750, Napolitano

Napolitano figures the payback is 2 1/2 to 3 years for a homeowner who traditionally pays $300 a month for five months each year to heat the pool, starting in May through September

'They're concerned about the high (natural) gas prices, but they want to utilize their pools," Napolitano said And I think they want to be environmentally-friendly, but it is mostly the savings

Heating your pool has a very fast payback and you can save 20-30 percent, Rowe said "That's an aftertax return,' she said "It doesn't make economic sense to heat a pool with natural gas

Homeowners can reap paybacks on other improvements Using solar energy for hot water heating is another application, which reduces the need for heat by 60-80 per-

Space heating is another use The south-facing windows need transmissity (or the percentage of sun's rays that go through it to heat the home) Homeowners also can use solar collector panels outside to heat the air before it enters the furnace

Solar attic fans also help Many homes are underventilated, Napolitano said

'When homes don't get adequate attic ventilation, you have shingles that curl, the room (under the attıc) will get hot, and in the winter you'll have condensation The heat from the roof will melt the snow and then it will freeze forming

ice dams," she said

The attic fan spins from the electricity generated by the solar panel

'The brighter the sun is, the fan then will spin faster," Napolitano said, which will cool the attic Fans run about

Photovoltaics produce electricity from the sun, while solar cookers even boıl water for you

While solar is exciting technology, Rowe said homeowners should look at energy efficiency They need to look at Energy Star appliances,' she said

Energy Star is a government-backed program helping businesses and individuals protect the environment through 'superior energy efficiency," according to the Energy Star Web site Visit www energystar gov for information Another Web site is www urbanoptions org/Renew ableEnergy

Rowe is also teaching an online class at Oakland Community College called Energy Management, AET 2400 (Alternative Energy Technology)

Pools: Sunlight heats collector panels which contain small tubes through which water is pumped and heated

Hot water heating: Instead of cold water from a city line drawn into a hot water heater the water is warmed on the roof and stored in a hot water

Wall panels: Used to warm outside air before it feeds the furnace Suns rays hit the plate creating heat then air flowing behind the absorber plate is heated and a blower fan sends that that heated air into the furnace Panels help the most on sunny days in early spring and early fall Skylights: A 10 mch tubular skylight tube will brighten 150 square feet. fer the effects of recreation deprivation We tend to veto taking trips because of limited vacation days at work, insufficient monetary resources, or difficulty finding child care Using a weekend or an extended weekend getaway may be the perfect solution You can plan to miss no workdays or perhaps take one or two vacation days A shorter trip will keep your expenses low Child care options would be expanded because you could hire a college student, ask a relative, work out a babysitting trade with a friend who has children close to the same age as your children, or any combination of these options Whatever you decide to try, planning is the vehicle to/make things happen The journey of a thousand miles begins with one step You have to aggressively pursue setting aside time for trips if it is ever going to happen

Don't limit your ideas Get creative Consider a trip just for the girls or that fishing getaway just of the guys A get away does not have to be limited to a trip with your spouse

Be open to spur of the moment trips when a deeply discounted airfare is published to one of your dream destina tions But even spur of the moment trips take planning You will be able to pull it off if you leave room in your plans for that impulsive trip

Keep your passport updated

You can restore stained redwood walls

BY JAMES AND MORRIS CAREY FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

Muriel asks, "The rough-textured, unfinished, stained redwood walls in our family room are blemished with scratches, paint stains and other marks incurred during the past 20 years How can I improve them?"

The goal here is to restore the appearance of the redwood wall without destroying the rough texture that adds to its natural beauty

First, be aware that the job will create some dust

You will want to remove the contents of the room and use heavy plastic to seal off any openings to adjoining rooms

Start with a light wire-brushing of the entire surface, followed by a thorough vacuum ing This will remove the exist ing paint splatters, scratches and other unsightly blemishes If you are pleased with the current color apply a fresh coat of stain at this point

If you want to make the wall lighter, the next step would be to apply a wood bleach to the surface

Once the wood is bleached, a new coat of stain can be applied

We suggest an oil based stain, which will penetrate deep into the wood and restore its natural luster

Finally since its an interior finish, a coat of a polyurethane or varnish will fully seal the new surface

You probably will want to use a satin finish to complement that new rich stain

Keep swimwear on hand at all times of the year Make a list of desired destinations or types of destinations Plan financially as if you have a specific vacation in mind Search the newspapers and the Internet for discounts and bargains Whether you prepare for months or you go on the fly, planning is required

You could prepare financial ly by opening a special bank account for your getaway weekends Deposit money given to you as a gift or set up a plan to save money from your household budget Additional money for the account could be earned through a garage sale, temporary extra job, or by making and selling crafts This account will allow you the freedom to getaway anytime you choose because you will always have

You do not need to limit your getaway to out-of-town travel only Plan a weekend rendezvous at a local hotel Many hotels offer special discounted weekend rates Use the time to visit places in your city that you have never experienced because of your busy schedule You may get lucky and find some coupon discounts on restaurants and attractions

My husband and I have enjoyed several 24-hour getaways We check into a nearby hotel and have dinner at a new restaurant or eat at one of our favorites

We spend the remaining time enjoying things such as the pool, spa, a buffet breakfast, shopping, golf, or sightseeing It is amazing what you can do in 24 hours when you leave your home routine behind

If you have children, another option is to make arrange ments for them to spend the night elsewhere You can use your home as your weekend getaway

Ignore that knock on the front door, and let the answer ing machine take all the calls Do not clean, do laundry, or make the bed Remember this is your hotel room

Visit a travel agent and see what is available for an extended weekend Go somewhere you have never been before Make sure you book a nonstop flight to save on travel time Rent a car so you have the freedom to explore and take in the flavor of the community

Find out ahead of time what is available in restaurants and attractions so you can plan your schedule making maxi-

A shopping weekend with friends is fun and relaxing You can share the expense of the hotel and you will only be buying meals for one Make a plan that includes spending some money on shopping so you are not limited to just windowshopping

Pamper yourself and make some purchases just for you, not your family

Take time to do your nails and experiment with a new hairdo

Make a wish list of places you would like to visit and things you would like to do I had a wish list that included learning how to ski

My husband and I talked with some people that had been skiing We purchased the necessary clothing and rented ski equipment at our destination We researched what was available at the ski resorts in

Colorado, carefully choosing a good location for beginners We choose a departure date and booked a four-day ski trip

Make the decision today to plan a getaway weekend and write it on your calendar Begin your planning immediately by deciding where you will go and how much money you want to spend You can start with a camping trip a short distance from home or fly to an island resort. The important thing is to schedule time away from your routine to relax and do something different

Fiberglass easily improves entry door appearance

BY JAMES AND MORRIS CAREY FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

One of the easiest and most visual home improvements you can make to the exterior of your home is replacing the entry door system

An enhanced entryway can add as much as $24,000 to a home's perceived value - about five times the cost of the entry system There are few other upgrades to a home that deliver this kind of return

Busy homeowners want the beauty of real wood but not the maintenance

Until now, we have been of the opinion that there was no good alternative to wood However, our opinion has changed

Fiberglass has arrived, and when stained, it is literally impossible to tell one from a real wood door

What this means is that with fiberglass you can expect the beauty of elegantly finished wood, coupled with the low maintenance associated with fiberglass done quickly!

Heck, boats went over to fiberglass several decades ago We can't figure out what took the door industry so long

ADVANTAGES

■ Low maintenance -Fiberglass doors require minimal maintenance No buckling and cracking to worry about

■ Style - Fiberglass can be molded with real wood graining and extremely intricate detail

Far more detail than we ever imagined possible

■ Durability – Fiberglass doors don't warp, split, shrink or swell as wood doors tend to do They also don't dent, rust or corrode like steel doors Fiberglass doors can withstand the wide temperature ranges found throughout the United States The door systems meet Housing and Urban Development codes, and many have been tested to meet Florida building codes (one of the country's toughest building codes when it comes to hurri-

■ Energy efficiency – Fiberglass doors offer five times the insulation of wood, and since they don't warp or shrink, they virtually eliminate air infiltration problems This helps maintain an energy-effi cient envelope for the home, stabilizing the interior temperatures and decreasing energy

■ Security - Fiberglass door systems are more resistant to forced entry than wood doors, and offer an adjustable security strike plate that withstands 450 pounds of force

■ Water penetration - In wet climates, a wood door can rot, fiberglass won t

STAINING

The most cool thing about fiberglass is that a staining system for fiberglass has finally been developed that really works The finished product is not only incredible to look at, it also is extremely simple to

We watched a lady apply

rag and then finish it by wiping with a dry paintbrush

We simply couldn't believe how easy the process appeared

Most interesting is that all of the materials needed for this particular process are available in a box for about $40

And, if you stain the door and then decide you don't like the color, all you have to do is wipe the door clean with a rag soaked in mineral spirits No sanding, no dangerous paint or stain removers and no lifted wood grain

Wipe the fiberglass with stain to a fiberglass door with a mineral spirits and you end up with a perfectly clean, unfinished surface ready for whatev er color you choose

Yes, it is important to seal the stain just as you would seal the stain on a wood door And no, you can't easily wipe the stain away once the door has been sealed With this process the clear seal is water base, and as you may already know, a waterbase finish is the most peoplefriendly type Simply brush on the clear seal and mount the door

By the way, when you go out to buy a door, you need to remember that an entryway is an entire system of components, not just the door slab ıtself

If you - or your contractor don't install high-quality hinges, sill plates, weatherstripping and locking systems, your door won t perform as you expect And that's all there is to it

It's Easy To Criticize...

comments. In teaching situations or during on-the job training constructive criticism is usually necessary to instruct and help a person develop a trade or vocation. However, correcting someone, even in a kind or skillful manner, can be very challenging, since we are never sure how the individual may react. Many friendships and families have been destroyed because someone has been overly critical of another person's words or actions. Knowing when we should offer our comments can also be difficult, and we should be fairly certain that our comments are truthful and necessary. It often seems so easy to criticize others because we mistakenly believe that we are without fault or are such experts on most everything. The Bible tells us that we look at the speck in our brother's eye but we pay no attention to the log in our own (Luke 6 41) Faultfinding and being overly critical of others especially behind their backs are wrong and can become habit forming. However, kind words are good for the soul and help to build a person up

The way of a fool is right in his own eyes, but a wise man listens to advice. RSV Proverbs 12 15

Spruce-up may hinge on new doors

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday August 26 2004

BY JAMES AND MORRIS/CAREY FOR AP WEEKLY FEATURES

A fresh coat of paint on the walls can go a long way to spruce up a room's interior And paint can be used to emphasize architectural details such as doors, trim and baseboard

But using paint to bring out such details can sometimes be like trying to turn a sow's ear ınto a sılk purse

If your home has "builder's basic" flush interior doors, simple casings and uninspirıng baseboard, you may want to replace these items with more artistic ones

Doing so will give your room fresh color plus new decorative elements that will add to the home's value and appeal You can go one step further by installing new decorative door hardware

An interior door assembly consists of the door, the jamb (the frame that the hinges attach to), and the casings (the trim that conceals the gap between the jamb and the wall)

INFORMATION

The first step in the replacement process is to decide which elements you want to keep, if any, and which you want to replace

If you are happy with the casings but want to replace the door, you need a 'matchup" door - no frame, no casing Such doors are available at home supply centers and door companies

When heading out to buy a door, take along the following information the door's measurements (width, height, thickness), which way the door swings, the location and size of the holes for the hard ware (the diameter of the bore and the measurement to its center from the doors strike edge and from the doors top edge), and the quantity, size, style and finish of the hinges and their exact location

Doors sold by home centers are usually 'raw" and require you to make openings for the hardware and hinges

To do so you will need a whole saw, a spade bit, sharp wood chisels, and a router and mortise bit The goal is to duplicate the old door so the new one will fit into the open-

An out-of-square opening may require some combination of adjusting the jamb, leveling the floor and shaving the new door

If you buy from a door company, it can do the boring, mortising and hinge installation for you

Some door companies want to see the old door to help configure an exact matchup not a bad idea Then all you have to do is slip the new door into the opening, line up the hinges and install the hinge

Once it's up, all that's left is painting the door and installing the hardware

REPLACING CASING

You might be happy with your door but want to replace the casing There are typically six pieces of casing, three on each side of the door - a head (top) and two legs, one on each side of the jamb

To remove the casing, use a sharp razor knife to score the joint between the casing and the jamb and the joint between the casing and the wall Pry the casing off using a flat bar and hammer A small block of wood placed behind the bar will help protect the wall Clip or remove any remaining nails

Install the new casing head piece first, then the legs, using four-penny finish nails to attach it to the jamb Use a nail set to recess the nail head for putty Caulk the joints where the casing meets the jamb and where it meets the wall, then paint

Casing is available precut with mitered ends or in random lengths that can be cut with a miter saw

NEW DOOR

But you might want to go all the way and replace the entire door-jamb-casing assembly with a new pre-hung door

Begin by removing the door hardware so it won't be damaged in case you want to reuse it Next, remove the casings as described earlier Use care when removing each of the elements so you don't damage any finishes

Once the casings have been removed from both sides of the door, use a reciprocating saw with a metal cutting blade to cut through the nails that fasten the door jamb to the framed opening

Remove the door and jamb from the opening, then close the door and tack it shut by driving a finish nail through the strike side of the jamb into the edge of the door near the top and bottom of the jamb This will keep the door and jamb as one piece, making it easier to transport

Pre-hung doors can be bought at a home center or door company

In either case, the supplier will need all the information discussed earlier regarding matchup doors, as well as the thickness of the jamb and whether you will be painting or staining the new door

Installing a pre-hung door is an art Your best bet might be to call in a pro

However, if you are up for the challenge, bone up on the subject and practice beforehand using one of your old

STAFF WRITER Mary Denning calls it comfort food

Kellı Lewton thinks it's a great way to capture the seasonal produce of berries in the summertime

Great Port houses like Warre's, Graham's, Fonseca and Dow's have long dominated the Portuguese wine trade Ports are classified as bottle aged or wood aged Bottle-aged Ports carry a vintage date and are delicious with Stilton cheese or a blackberry crisp (recipe follows)

Remove from freezer and place on stove top with burner turned to "high Count quickly to 15 Remove from heat and slide big metal spatula between pan bottom and crust Lift up and place cake on serving platter (This method of separation of cake from pan bottom is a great cheesecake trick.)

Presentation Because you baked the cake at such low heat it shouldn't crack on top. If top is smooth, brush top with 2 tablespoons apple jelly, melted Make tiny circles to resemble a daisy with six raspberries

Make leaves around flowers with tiny mint leaves flowers" described above, or make a ring around top with fresh raspberries, or take the path of least resistance and top with a fresh flower If you have time to dip a sharp knife in hot water before each slice - great, but if it is served at a self serve buffet - with due respect to your family and friends - they will demolish it, says author Sylvia Lee The easy solution is for you to slice the cake into pie shaped slices when cake is frozen Leave slices touching each other Then decorate by putting a fresh rasp berry on each slice and serve when it is defrosted Serves eight-ten * If you don't have a food processor, do this put cake in a plastic zip bag, pull all air out, close bag, and roll over bag with a rolling pin Keep back and forth motion until crumbs are small size

 You can easily substitute with 20-30 blueberries and make a Blueberry Cheesecake

is her first cookbook Denning's mother actually enjoyed baking cakes, not pies, Denning said "Yellow cake with chocolate frosting for my birthday,' Denning said 'That's what I had'

Denning said her aunt, Peggy Puuri, of Utica, was Denning's mentor in the baking world Mary Denning's Cake Shoppe in Westland has been going strong for 12 years at its Wayne Road location

What makes a good dessert? 'Good ingredients," Denning said "When you bake, it's not like being a cook And being a cook isn't like being a baker"

That means not guessing at the amounts When you bake, you absolutely have to measure flour, sugar and the other ingredients, Denning said

You have to be accurate," Denning said "You're more like a chemist You have to be exact People who like to cook, usually don't like to bake and people who bake usually don't like to cook'

Baking is more artistic with the decorating

'When it's done, you have to present it Ice it and decorate it,' Denning said "(Baking) is really a passion'

Desserts are never really out of season

Desserts take on the produce of late summer into autumn, with apples, cranberries, blueberries, raspberries and pump-

"That's really when the fruit is available," Denning said (Blueberries and raspberries are available earlier in the summer, but it is appropriate to use them in the fall, too, Denning said, as they are still readily available)

Pumpkin pie is popular in September, Denning said "It just makes them think of fall," she said "Apples are in their prime, too, and you can get a good product" Of course, Thanksgiving pies feature apple and pumpkin

At Christmas, "everyone wants cookies," Denning said She laughs when she thinks about instructions from women who participate in a cookie exchange She remem bers them telling her Don t make em perfect,' so they can pass them off as their own

In January, most customers want low-fat, low-carb items, in cheesecake, muffins and brownies Chocolate returns just in time for Valentine's Dav

Chocolate continues into the spring with bumpy cakes, the luscious buttercream and chocolate cakes after Feb 1

Apple-cranberry pie tastes delicious any time of year

"People pretty much give up their diets by then," Denning

Cakes are popular for Easter and St Patrick's Day, too, and then is the standard for graduations and weddings Fresh fruit tortes are popular in the summer and all year round, Denning said "Cheesecake is good all year round

Denning also had a few piebaking tips

"The key to good pie crust is good ingredients," she said You need cold water and be sure you don't overmix it The biggest problem is people overmix it" That toughens the

Another common problem is overbaking cakes Follow the directions and don t overbake it, and don't try to hurry the cake with a higher tempera ture, Denning said If its too hot there will be a big bump in it and it will look like a turtle If it isn't warm enqugh, you'll have a big dip in it," Denning said "Sometimes people think they can bake it faster by turning the temperature up You can't hurry it '

The cake should be sealed with cellophane wrap and covered it when it is warm "That keeps it moist," Denning said

Taking advantage of the sweet freshness of fruit can give home cooks a chance to really taste summer, according to Kellı Lewton, owner of Aunt Olive's Good Food 2 Go in Birmingham and 2 Unique Caterers and Event Planners in Bloomfield Hılls

"Michigan wild blueberries, raspberries and cherries make excellent desserts, as do peaches in cobblers, and pies, Lewton said "Berries are great with chocolate ganache and lemon curd" She creates a Very Berry Fantasy with blueberries, blackberries, raspberries and strawberries

Fresh orchard peaches can be mixed for a simple cobbler filling with brown and white sugars, vanilla and ginger

I like texture and I like fruit Fresh fruit is at its best, and it's not refined Lewton said "But you re getting a little sugar and having a little fun with it'

Desserts are colorful, crisp, clean and fragrant," Lewton said Lewton points out that sour cherries from the Traverse City area make up about 75 percent of the country's sour cherry crop, and the sweet cherries comprise about one fifth of the nation's supply

Here are a few baking rules from Sylvia Lee

The speeds of mixing are slow, medium, and fast There's nothing fancy here, a standard four-quart mixer or even a hand-held electric mixer will work

When adding ingredients, follow these recipes in chronological order You will use fewer utensils and make less of a mess

No matter what time or temperature the recipe indicates, you must check for doneness because all ovens metal skewer or wooden toothpick into the cake When you pull it straight out, if no wet crumbs stick, the cake is done (This method does not apply to cheese cakes) All extracts - vanilla, almond and others - should be pure, with no imitation anything Pure is best and leaves no aftertaste

When beating, mixing and stirring, always stop a few times to scrape the sides and bottom of bowl with your rubber spatula utes in 350º oven or in toaster oven Toasting enhances the Rotate pans once in oven

When using nuts, toast them for about two-four min-during baking time Whip whites and whipping cream until peaks form that do not fall down, then stop

When recipe calls for butter, use sweet unsalted butter Always use large eggs Oven should always be pre-

Fruit sweetens up desserts wine

Les Roques from the Loupiac appellation within the greater Sauternes region

Both the 2000 and 2001 vintages of Chateau Les Roques are available at $14/375mL, making it possible to try both vintages with any apple, peach, pear or apricot dessert

"Fifty years is the average vine age," said Chateau Les Roques owner Alam Fertal "Soils are clay and limestone, formed from oyster fossils In France, we believe that both vine age and the soil are the important elements leading to the characteristics of a particular wine"

If you want to pull out all the stops with a dessert pairing, then the 1999 Chateau Les Roques Cuvee Frantz

($42/750mL) is the way to go Cory Barrett, the new executive pastry chef at Tribute restaurant in Farmington Hills, serves it with a sweet corn creme brulee (recipe follows), garnished with approot confit and hazelnut sable that heightens the fruit nectar characters

To simplify yet imitate Barnett's plate garnishes, dot the serving plate with high-quality apricot jam and purchase premium crumbly hazelnut cookies from a gourmet pastry shop

Compared to a Port, lower alcohol and delicacy are the outstanding features of late harvest wines that create matches with more delicate desserts such as a fresh fruit tart, dessert pizza (recipe follows) or a classic Creme Brulée

Classic late harvest wines from Germany are the 2002 Dr Fischer Ockfener Bockstein

Eiswein ($52/375mL) or the stellar value 2002 P J Valckenberg Madonna Eiswein ($27/750mL) Inniskillin, a Canadian winery, is highly touted for its 2002 Riesling Ice Wine ($78/375mL) as is Jackson-Triggs for 2002 Vidal Ice Wine ($20/187mL), a nice size at a dinner for two

At only 12 percent alcohol, the 2003 King Estate Pinot Gris Vin Glace from Washington state ($18/375mL), with marked peach, apricot, honey and passion fruit characters will work well in this late harvest category

From Michigan, 2002 Peninsula Cellars Riesling Ice Wine ($60/750mL), a gold medal winner at the 2004 Michigan State Fair Wine & Spirits Competition, is another excellent late harvest choice

To make a superb match, a dessert wine must always be sweeter than the dessert

For a dessert wine, pour 3 to 4ounces only per person Too much of a good thing can ruin the impression you're trying to make at the end of a wellplanned meal

Keep the dessert simple If you don't have time to make a dessert, buy top-quality Italian biscotti at a gourmet market Serve biscotti along with ripe peaches or apricots and a sauternes For a vintage Port, purchase some high-quality Stilton, cut fresh from the main wheel if possible and serve it with walnuts

A dish of freshly-cut fruit including crisp apples will pair simply and nicely with a late harvest riesling

ichigan wines have ımproved

That's our assessment after judging the state's wines and spirits at the 2004 Michigan State Fair Wine & Spirits Competition last month

We've been judges for most of the 27 years of the competition After a few years off, we returned to find, more so than in the past, that other judges are also aware that Michigan wines compete on the international wine scene

Gone were remarks such as, "Wow, who made this gewurztrammer in Michigan?" And this cabernet franc or chardonnay in Michigan? 'In Michigan" is no longer in the question

Only wines and spirits produced from Michigan grapes and other fruits are eligible in the competition Thirty of the State's 40 wineries entered about 300 wines and spirits - a record number of entries

In its first year of operation, Sandhill Crane Vineyards, located near Jackson, won two Gold Medals and four medals total out of five wines entered

Maximize your health with green tea

(NAPS) – Green tea is emerging as among the most important botanical supplements around

One of the oldest health remedies known to science, its beneficial effects were documented thousands of years ago in traditional Chinese medicine In fact, population studies indicate that green tea con sumption in eastern Asia has been responsible for multiple health benefits, including anticarreer effects, weight control and the promotion of cardio vascular health

In Japan green tea is used as a government-approved disease preventive It has been accepted by the Japanese government as playing a specific role in preventing cancer The power of green tea is shown in many recent sciolitific articles that describe benefits on body functions such as immunity, cardiovascular function, brain function, even weight control

The literature points to the ability of certain components of green tea to improve blood cholesterol levels

There are a number of ingredients in green tea that have stimulatory or relaxing effects on the body For example, the substance L-theanine has an interesting and potential 'calming effect" on the body and it has been well applied in the management of unpleasant symptoms associated with menopause

To help bring these benefits to more Americans, Dr Stephen Holt, has created a supplement which offers all the good things in green tea The liquid concentrate of green tea in his Green Tea Max™ is organically grown and standardized It contains powerful antioxidants called polyphenols

No bargains for time share condos

A number of years ago, your column mentioned the fact that a number of hotels in New York were being converted to time share residences. Do you have any update on the condominiumtime share market in Manhattan?

As you may know, for many years, co-ops were the norm in New York However, there has been a tremendous change in the establishment of new condominiums and in particular, time share hotel rooms which are like studios located in prime locations and, like everything else, are very expensive per square foot One time share hotel I recently visited is at the base of Central Park and has approximately 700 square feet as amenities such as an extensive health club, extensive security and valet service Many of the hotels are considering conversions to time share hotel units where you purchase a number of weeks. sometimes a half of year for a considerable cost in relation to the total cost of the unit if it were sold as a complete fee However, the cost of apartments and condominiums in New York has, as might be expected, gone out of sight particularly after 9/11 and there are not any bargains to speak of You are best advised to consult with a Realtor and community association attorney

One of the members of our association has built a deck that Architectural Control Committee's requirements. The president of our board says it is only a small violation and it is no big deal but it is a problem for the association Do you think we would be entitled to court relief?

Assuming that the deck was not constructed in conformity to the standards set forth by your association, the courts have indicated that it is "a well understood proposition that a breach of a covenant, no matter how de minimis the damage is, can be subject of enforcement" In short, if the language of your documents is clear and the breach is clear, then it is not a question of damage or the extent of the violation as the courts have indicated that the mere circumstance of the breach of the covenant "affords sufficient ground for the Court to interfere by injunction'

Buy a second home for pleasure or an investment

BY KEELY SCHRAMM STAFF WRITER

A home away from home paradise found – your very own lake or riverfront hideaway As summer comes to a close, many people are thinking about buying a second home It could be for pleasure or an investment

"It's been a buyer's market this year because of the economy, said Donna Jepsen of Century 21 Ace Realty in Oscoda "The interest rates are down, it's an excellent time to buy If you're looking for bargains and are ready to move you could probably find them in September and October"

Oscoda is an attractive area for vacationers – two beautiful ınland lakes, Cedar and Van Ettan, Lake Huron and the AuSable River - less than four hours away

"It's beautiful up here,' said Katy Ross, a Realtor with RE/MAX Rectory Realty in Boyne City I grew up in the Detroit area and we always had a cabin Up North

Ross sees an influx of buyers in the beginning of the summer and an upswing in the fall She's a strong believer in purchasing property you can enjoy on vacation and rent out as an investment

So is Beverly Schmittdiel, a Realtor with Real Estate One ın Rochester 'Look ın an area that's not seasonal, but a yearround package because that s where you ll make more money You can use the money from rent to help pay your mortgage and taxes

People buy second homes for other reasons too One of Schmittdiel's clients is looking for a rental property to supplement her retirement income

Off-campus housing can be expensive, and is also a good investment "People buy property for their kids to live in while they're going to college and continue renting it after they graduate,' said Schmittdiel "There are many people doing that'

Lots of people are buying second homes, for vacation, as an investment, or both According to research con-

Existing woodlands are accented with lush flower beds at The Shores at Mackinaw, a community of 72 vacation condominium homes on the shores of Lake Huron ducted by the National Association of Realtors, the median age of second-home buyers is 47 compared with 32 for first-time buyers

Most second homes are used as vacation properties, but that's changing The number of second homes purchased as investment properties grew from 20 percent in 1999 to 37 percent in 2002

Vacation home owners estimate the value of their property to be 18 percent higher than investment homeowners estimate their property to be worth Data collected by the NAR suggests that this could reflect the desire for more amenities in vacation homes

than in investment properties Buying a two-family house is a good way for young couples and families to build equity Live in one flat and rent out the other Most second homes purchased as investment prop erties are in metro areas and are often the primary residence of renter households

If you re in the market for a second home, do your homework The mortgages are difmally have to put 10 percent down Research the tax laws, and be prepared You'll pay a higher tax on a second home

After a relaxing vacation a cabin in the woods might seem like a good idea, but make sure you buy something that has resale value, recommends Schmittdiel Become familiar with city codes and laws regulating rental property

"You can't write off the interest on a second home, but you can get an equity loan on your primary residence and write off that interest," said Jepsen "Lakefront property is getting expensive and scarce It's a good investment, the rates go up every year '

Cathy Doig, sales director at The Shores at Mackinaw, a new community of 72 vacation condominium homes on the shores of Lake Huron, says 40 percent of the buyers are from Oakland County

'They're looking for a property they can vacation in now, get rental income from when they're not using it, and use as a summer home when they retire," she said "Anyone who buys a second home should view it as an investment About 50 percent of our residents participate in the rental pro-

The Shores at Mackinaw offers an on-site property management service that coordinates all rental aspects including scheduling reservations, housekeeping and maintenance services Management fees equal 35 percent of rental revenues Typical weekly rental rates start at $455 for winter and can reach $2,200 during the peak summer season

Location is important too "You want to choose a unique location and see what's happening in the greater area around the property," said Doig "Think through who is going to use the home What family members will be visiting? Do you have the amount of space you ll need? Also, what is the proximity to your home? Is there easy access?"

From Troy, the Shores at Mackınaw ıs only a 3½-hour drive on I-75, if you don't stop 'Lots of people come for the weekend," said Doig Mackinac Island is a 15-minute ferry ride away, Mackinaw City is a mile away, and skiing at Nub's Nob and Boyne Highlands are only 25 minutes away

Take action early to stop foreclosure

ome time ago, I told an inquiring reader the steps he must take to avoid foreclosure on his home He did not like - or perhaps would not hear the truth about his situation and he took no action to help himself Recently, he and his distraught wife watched as the sheriff had their furniture and possessions removed from what used to be their home After missing over a year of mortgage payments, their home had a new owner

Foreclosure is ugly, but rarely necessary Homeowners usually know it's coming, and they have many months during which they can take corrective action

The foreclosure process begins after borrowers get very far behind on their monthly mortgage payments Lenders usually try to work things out with the borrowers, but if the borrower remains noncompliant or unresponsive, the lender forecloses to regain the home's title to minimize its losses

The foreclosure process takes many months and there are several points along the way at which borrowers may break the chain of events Here are a few that come straight from my heart

If it looks like your next mortgage payment may be a full 30 days late, contact your creditors, banker, and mortgage lender for help ımmediately If you are already late on your recent mortgage payments, do not give up Your credit scores will have dropped, and you will not get favorable mortgage terms, but you may still be able to save your home with a refinance

If it's very late in the foreclosure process, but vou still retain title to your home, certain real estate investors may purchase your home to lease it back to you until you can get back on your financial feet Usually, you agree to buy your home back from the investor within a couple years This is an expensive way to go, but it can help you save your home

Do not he to yourself Do not be too proud Early intervention is your key to success, and your options become more limited and more expensive the longer you wait

Tips for buying second or luxury home

(NAPSI) - If you've been planning - or even just dreaming - of buying a luxury home or second home, there could be good news for you There are real estate professionals who specialize in fine homes and estates and who can recognize the unique sense of style and taste that a luxury home can represent

These professionals understand that luxury home buyers are looking for a home reminiscent of their own signature style - and know how to help their customers get the homes they want One recommendation is to get pre-approved for a mortgage This process can often be done in under an hour and it accomplishes two important goals

1 It will tell you how much house you can afford and what your monthly payments would be

2 It tells the seller that you can afford to buy their home

By definition, a pre-approved buyer generally has an approved mortgage subject to an appraisal of the property Many times, a buyer can use this pre-approved status as leverage during the negotiation

There are many terms you should know when looking for a mortgage for your high-end home Some options include super jumbo, a really big loan, an Interest Only ARM which lets you pay interest only for the first several years of the loan If you're self-employed you may want to consider a SELPH loan, which provides the convenience of reduced documentation

Another tip is to make sure to look at all aspects of the property when comparing homes Questions to ask include

Is the property tax approximately the

Are both houses renovated to the same degree?

■ Do they both have the same number of bedrooms and bathrooms?

■ Are both houses located on the same or similar streets?

■ Does either house have any encumbrances?

Once you find the home you like, you may need to make an offer for the house This can be a trying time since both parties have very different goals It may be better to have a third party, such as a real estate professional, negotiate the offer If you do have any personal interaction with the homeowner, don't give out any information about your move, your current housing status, financial status or your feelings about their property, positive or nega-

growth was easing investors fears that inflation will suddenly worsen and make their bond holdings worth less

"Mortgage rates eased even further in response to a setback in economic growth during June and possibly July," said Frank Nothaft, chief economist at Freddie Mac "However, we believe the slowdown to be temporary and we expect growth to pick up in the Farm could house retirement community

(AP) - The 140-acre farm where New Hampshire statesman Daniel Webster grew up could be the site of a retire ment housing community

Elmer Pease II of PD Associates Real Estate Consultants in Auburn signed a purchase and sales agreement for the property in the fall and expects to bring his initial building plans to city planners next month

'I've been in this business for 25 years, and I think this is a sterling opportunity," Pease said It will create a nice tax base for the town, provide housing that is needed in New Hampshire, and there will be no children added into the school system

But to the family that has farmed the Webster grounds since 1960 the idea is a bad one They worry about losing the land s history

'To see somebody come in and walk all over that for the almighty dollar isn't right, said Daniel Fife, who lives across the street with his father, Clarence 'We are here for only a short lifetime As soon as they start putting houses on it, it will never be the same'

Clarence Fife, 75, briefly owned the land before he sold it to the current owner, Sisters of the Holy Cross, in 1960 with the agreement that he could farm it for the next 33 years

That lease expired in 2000, and while the Fifes don't have an official arrangement to farm the land, their livelihood does depend on the alfalfa they harvest there

Daniel Webster moved to the property with his family as a child and commuted by train from the farm to his Boston law office Webster's home and a small family cemetery still remain on the grounds

In the late 1870s, the property became the New Hampshire Orphan's Home, and it remained so until the 1950s The walls in the dormitories and dining halls still hold the carvings of the orphans, and Daniel Fife finds their marbles when he s working the fields

The Fifes would like to preserve the property but can t afford the $12 million asking price They also haven t been able to generate interest from many of the conservation and preservation groups they've contacted

Pease is the latest in a line of developers who have looked at the property since Sisters of the Holy Cross put it up for sale in 2000

The land came to Pease's attention several months ago when a business associate suggested he look at it for the sort of retirement communities he had been building in southern New Hampshire Pease said he intends to refurbish the brick and wood buildings on the property, including Webster's house, which have fallen into disrepair He will market them to business or health professionals who serve the older population

Pease said he d preserve much of the open space near the front of the property, which is along Route 3, and situate clusters of retirement homes along the river in the back.

'In a lot of my projects, we have kept as much open space as we can," he said

Retirement communities key to living well

(NUI) - Today, growing older doesn't necessarily mean slowing down your life In fact, just the opposite is true, as thousands of seniors have already discovered how to enjoy their 'golden years" with vigor and style

Not content with sitting in front of the television, today's senior citizens are swimming with dolphins, learning a new art form and even plunging from a plane in their first sky-

What is the key to their happiness and well-being? According to a recent study, it could be living in a retirement community

According to a University of Michigan study, people who live in retirement communities are more satisfied with their daily lives and are more likely to be happy than their contemporaries who remain in their own homes

Residents of these communi ties also are more likely to say their health is better today than it was two years ago, the study concluded

Many retirement communities not only give seniors a place to share common interests, but also provide unique opportunities to try new hobbies and experiences

For instance, the Fountains communities, located in 13 states at 19 locations, plan activities and excursions for their residents On a recent excursion to Key Largo, Fountains residents age 78 to

98 swam in natural lagoons with six Atlantic bottlenose dolphins

Creative expression also is encouraged at the Fountains, home to hundreds of artists both professional and amateur Each year, the company produces an annual calendar featuring the work of its resident artists

Communities such as the Fountains also offer various styles of retirement living to meet different needs and

For seniors who want to maintain or enhance their independent lifestyle, the Fountains' Town Center neighborhoods offer apartments, cottages, cabanas, casitas, bungalows, suites or condos Amenities include dining venues, fitness centers, salons, lounges, movie theaters, bank branches, convenience stores and wellness clin-

For seniors who want to live independently with some assistance and supervision, the Fountains provides ready access to services, gentle encouragement and motivation from the community s 24hour staff Medicare-certified nursing care for those recuperating or rehabilitating from illness is also available at many locations

2004 Hyundai Elantra: it's a great car

Advertising Feature

Anne Fracassa

By Anne Fracassa Avanti NewsFeatures

The 2004 Hyundai Elantra is one of the best vehicles at the best price gracing American roads today Hovering just under the $15,000 price tag, this is a passenger vehicle that not only gets great mileage but is functional as a family car

Driven this week was the Elantra GT, which is the sportier model that has a host of options that make it worth every penny you'll pay There are three models to choose from the Elantra GLS, Elantra GT four-door and the Elantra GT five-door

European styling is the key here, with the Elantra looking more like a foreign car than an Americanbred one The new design is more refined, making this Elantra look more expensive than it really is

There's a new hood, front fenders, bumper, headlamp assembly and a revised grille that features horizontal bars I think it looks sporty as well

Slipping inside the front driver's seat, you'll notice new instrumentation and a new center console There are pronounced heating and cooling controls as well as new controls for the door locks

Hyundaı has added a 12-volt power source to the front instrumentation Leather seating surfaces are standard, as well as power door locks, power windows, power mirrors, cruise control, tachometer, trip computer, keyless remote entry, variable intermittent wipers, rear window defroster and wiper, tilt steering column and floor mats

Like I said, value

The 2 0-liter dual overhead cam 16-valve engine features continuously variable valve timing for better control of engine emissions. The engine is more than adequate for a vehicle of this size I never had

2004 Hyundai Elantra GT, Vehicle type: Compact Sedan, Power: 2.0-liter 16 valve engine. Mileage: 27 mpg city/34 mpg highway. Where built: Korea. Price at tested: $15,587

a problem getting it going on the freeway or around

Standard is a five-speed manual transmission Unless you do a lot of freeway driving, opt for the automatic for a little more comfort But if you're a control freak and need that power over your vehicle, but all means take that five-speed manual and have a lot of fun with it It's not only responsive, but can provide a little bit of excitement if that's what you

By the way, the engine is rated at 138 horses More than enough to power a vehicle of this size

This Elantra is a little bit larger than its previous model, offering a little more headroom and more rear seat leg and hip room It's also 2 3-inches longer in its wheelbase than the previous model

I was duly impressed with the quiet ride and comfort it provided Usually in smaller vehicles, you'll find you'll feel every imperfection in the road surface -- and there are so many on Michigan roads -that at times, the ride can be downright uncomfortable I never felt that way in the Elantra

The driver's seat is adjustable and is larger and more comfortable that last generation The front seat belts are adjustable, too, which really helps those of us who are tall

I found all controls and knobs to be easy to under stand, easy to operate and a joy to play with Side airbags are standard, as are driver and passenger front air bags, of course

There are child safety door locks, child seat anchor system and automatic locking retractors and an energy-absorbing steering column for your safety I never mention this, but I just have to in

Hyundai's case All vehicles Hyundai sells in the US come with bumper-to-bumper coverage for five years or 60,000 miles and power train coverage for 10 years or 100,000 miles one of the best in the automotive business There's also 24-hour roadside assistance at no extra charge for five full years, no matter how much mileage is on your vehicle Not

I've recommended Hyundaı vehicles to two indi viduals -- a good friend and a cousin -- and both of them have been pleased as punch to own one Maybe you should go take a look and see if you ll be pleased as well
