Evelyn and Carl Groschke enjoyed playing instrumental music So much so, they regularly invited friends and neighbors into their Plymouth home to play the classical sounds of Beethoven Mozart, Tcharkovsky and the like

Along about the same time 1945 -Paul Wagner, director of the school district music program had thoughts of organizing his own orchestra

The two groups = numbering about a dozen people - recognized their common goal and joined together, forming the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra, playing together for the first time on April 20, 1947

In the good ol days we played in the gym of Plymouth High School (now Central Middle School) on a stage, with the audience on seats down the middle and on the bleachers said William Hulsker 67 who for 43 years has played second bassoon for the PSO 'We had really good turnouts and filled up that gym The people seemed "to enjoy it"

In nice weather, the orchestra per formed on the school lawn at Church and Main, with the audience sitting on folding chairs and plankets, not much different than the current concerts held in Kellogg Park

ACT replaces MEAP as pupil assessment

BY TONY BRUSCATO STAFF WRITER

Beginning with the Class of 2008, all Michigan 11th graders will be required to take the American College Test (ACT) and a work skills assessment exam in place of the high school MEAP tests

The switch to the nationally recognized college entrance examination implements a key recommendation of the Cherry Commission on Higher Education and Economic Growth, which Gov Jennifer Granholm has charged to find ways to double the number of college graduates in Michigan

To compete in a global economy, our students must continue their education beyond high school,' said Granholm To make this expectation a reality, we must give students the tools they need to succeed, including the opportunity to take a college entrance exam'

The Michigan Merit Exam will be administered during a two-day period each spring The first day will have students taking the ACT, with a second day devoted to WorkKeys a work skills assessment program, with additional assessment tests in English language arts, math science and social studies

Mike Bender, director of secondary education for Plymouth Canton Schools believes using the Michigan Merit Exam, which includes the ACT, will streamline the student assessment process

Being able to use the Michigan Merit Exam for more than one purpose is a plus said Bender It will be used as a students college entrance exam as well as for the state exam We will also be able to use it to meet Adequate Yearly Progress standards

The new assessments still need approval from the US

"It's a whole different world right now. The orchestra is now a paid professional orchestra ... when it began it relied on volunteerism for musicians themselves. In the 1950s or so, the orchestra had a large membership of dedicated volunteer musicians ... that has shifted as we demand more of the musicians."

When the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra decided to commission a musical selection to highlight the 60th Anniversary Celebration and Concert Oct 8, it wasn't difficult to come up with a theme.

"Every time we have a Plymouth Symphony meeting at the office, some-one is always late because of a train, said Linda Alvarado Plymouth Symphony Society board member "It's something everyone can relate to

And with that thought, the PSO commissioned Ann Arbor composer Kristin Kuster to compose a piece illustrating remembered Hulsker, who at the time was a student at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. "Of course," when gas only cost a quarter a gallon, it paid for my gas and maybe a burger. As the PSO prepares for its 60th Diamond Jubilee season which kicks off next month? much has changed. The orchestra plays with about 75 members at any given concert, m front of an audience pumbering between 600-800 people at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Plymouth Township: And, many of the musicians are members of the American Federation of Musicians, earning union scale of about $50 for rehearsals and $78 for performances. The budget is now big business, with the PSO operating on nearly $466,000.

The state is expected to pick up the tab for all the tests, as well as a one re test for each student Currently, high school students pay $70 to take the college entrance examination on a Saturday

For the past several years, Plymouth-Canton sopho mores have been taking the 10th-grade version of the ACT And for the first time Tuesday, ninth-graders were given a pre-ACT test

"We ll give the results to the ninth grade teachers, who will interpret them and help those individual students who need help," said Cyndi Burnstein, Salem High School English teacher We should be able to track the students and curriculum over time and make necessary improvements

The students will benefit from the exploratory tests, which will make them more prepared for the ACT in their junior year, she said

Featuring a modern-day composer at PSO concerts isn t new for music director and conductor Nan Washburn In fact its become a staple

'We put an emphasis on featuring the music of living composers which is different than some of the other orchestras,' Washburn said I'm thrilled to be doing brand new pieces this year, and people are starting to take notice

I love the older work and we do a great amount of those but many symphony orchestras have the reputation of being gramming that can attract larger audiences, and reach out to people we haven t reached in the past," said Hulsker 'Were not only playing new music, but getting to meet the composers

For the last eight years, the PSO has been reaching thirdand fourth-grade students in Plymouth-Canton Schools as part of its Classical Music Outreach program, as well as contributing to educational experiences in Wayne-Westland and several private schools, including Our Lady of Good Counsel

The program supplements and enhances the school music programs, integrates music into science, language and arts curriculums, and performs for students, giving them the experience of hearing a live performance by the PSO

There is also a youth orchestra and middle school program administered by the orchestra

'The Michigan Council for the Arts and Cultural Affairs recognize our programs as being remarkable, said Linda Alvarado, Plymouth Symphony Society board member "Every time they evaluate us or give us a grant, they rank us very high and are amazed at what we do

As the Diamond Jubilee celebration kicks off, Alvarado, cochair of the events, believes the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra is poised for its next 60 years

To know for 60 years people have kept the torch alive, making sure this institution remains viable in the community and a good cultural experience for everyone, is fantastic," said Alvarado "People around here really know how much the arts contribute to successful and enjoyable living, and they are attracted to this area for those very reasons' historical museums instead of a living art form, she said "Now its becoming what I envision, symphonic concerts as an adventure for all the audience

And, for Kuster, the progressive thinking of conductors like Washburn helps young composers like herself

Kuster plans to be at the Oct 8 concert to hear the PSO play her composition

'The adrenaline boost comes at the rehearsals where the orchestra makes the music comes alive. Kuster said The performance is using on the cake'

Plymouth High School teacher Dennis Ross is due back in court Friday to face a preliminary hearing after his arraignment on one felony count of driving under the influence

It's the third offense for Ross in 10 years, which makes it a felony, according to Canton Police Sgt Rick Pomorski The charge stems from an accident Ross had in May, when he hit a parking curb in the high school parking lot.

No one was injured, but the parking curb was cracked, and there was damage to Ross's car, Pomorski said The incident was witnessed by campus security, who reported it to Canton's school resource officer

Ross was arrested, then released pending the outcome of toxicology tests Those results came back late last

When Sandy Stoecklein was age 8, her mom had a bad stroke

She was bed-ridden for a long time, recalled the Westland resident That illness prompted

Stoecklein, 58, to pursue a career as a registered nurse She graduated from the Presbyterian University Hospital nursing school in Pittsburgh, Pa, where she received excellent training

She considered dropping out of nurses training when her mother died, but her instruc tors encouraged her to stick with it She did and now works as a nurse at the Burger Center for Students With Autism Annex at the Cambridge Center in Garden City

'Oh, I love it,' she said "I just love the kids and I know they give me more than I could possibly give them To me, its been just a heartwarming experience to work for these kids

I do feel blessed to work there'

Burger serves students from preschool up to age 26 She started with Burger, a Garden City Schools based program serving students throughout Wayne County, in 1999 She had worked for Wayne County almost 15 years, including as head of the obstetrics gynecol ogy clinic as well as more than seven years for the state of Michigan in health screening

Stoecklein and husband Joe - who have three grown children and four grandchildren – were transferred to Michigan in 1970 through his work with Ford Motor Co, "so we've been in Michigan ever since

At Burger, she gives medication approved by physicians and parents, helps with seizures and asthma and gives first aid Shes on the behavior management team to help with aggression issues

Its a really rewarding job, said Stoecklein of starting with a child who can t talk who later calls her Nurse Sandy She also works with parents at Burger helping them as they raise their children

In her free time, Stoeckleins an active member of Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton Shes been involved with the antiracism team and has assisted needy people through Fort Street Presbyterian Church efforts in Detroit, collecting clothing from Garden City schools

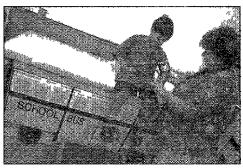

She enjoys Bible study, activities with her grandchildren and going to com munity theater pro ductions in Dearborn with her husband

Joe likes NASCAR and has gotten her interested, shes even attended races Stoecklein also likes scrapbooking, but noted shes falling behind in those efforts Her professionalism draws praise from colleagues in the Garden City schools, including

Connor's younger brother, 9month-old Calvin, was tested for the same defect, and the tests were negative But when he was an infant, a duct in his heart started to close

"He had stopped eating and he was sleeping a lot, and if it hadnt been for the fact that I was already suspicious, I never would have known that something was really, really wrong, Leonard said

She rushed him to the hospital and was told he was in heart failure

He has a condition known as atrial septal defect, or ASD, and will have to have surgery when hes 4 years old, but the condition is correctable, his mother said

Leonard, a pediatric nurse practitioner, understands all the medical implications of her children's heart disorders What she doesn't know is When is it OK to let your child ride on a roller coaster and do you tell your cardiologist if you do?

In the Leonard family's case the answer 1s Yes Connor was allowed to ride the coaster and no they didn't divulge that to his cardiologist

In order to help other parents find those kinds of answers, the helped found a support group Hearts of Hope of Southeast Michigan

Trisha Leonard and sons Connor, 4, and Calvin, 9 months, who both suffer from heart defects

In just a couple of months, the group has grown from four members to the 200 people that showed up at their summer picnic last week

One of Connor's "heart buddies in the support group is not doing well, and his heart is giving out, but most of the members of the group offer hope

'It's just really helpful to see other kids that are making it," Leonard said "Mostly, the group helps because sometimes you need to vent and sometimes you need to cry, but it always helps to know that someone else 1s out there, going through exactly what you're going through'

yearn for small town life

hen the dust finally settles on the con-troversial Wonderland Village development in Livonia, we can begin taking a look at the fundamental question - what kind of communities do we want

Several residents of the Middlebelt and Plymouth Road area told city leaders that the development proposed by Bob Schostak doesn't 'fit" in their neighborhood The plan calls for a super Wal-Mart, a large Target, a third large store and a collection of small "village' stores It would replace an indoor shopping center, a slightly smaller Target and a closed Kmart (on an adjacent site that is still to be developed)

The objections to the proposed site development are not without merit, but it is hard to see how this development significantly changes the commercial area near these neighborhoods We have a variety of com munity styles in our area.

Hugh Gallagher

Plymouth, Northville and Farmington have traditional town centers all developed in the 1800s and early 1900s with modest residential areas developed at the same time and within walking distance of the town When they were first built, they served farm communities and the commercial district supplied the necessities - a grocery, a drugstore, a clothier, a hardware store, a doctor or two, a dentist, a lawyer, a funeral home, a blacksmith/stable (later a gas station/garage), a restaurant and tavern Farmers came in on a Saturday to stock up and meet with neighbors During the week, the townspeople could walk wherever they needed to go When people got an itching for the big city, there was an interurban to take them to Detroit In the city they could go to Hudson's and gawk at the window displays and buy some special piece of clothing or appliances, see a vaudeville show or a movie, catch a ballgame at Bennett Park (later Briggs Stadium), hear live music at a nightclub, see masterpieces at the DIA or do research at the library

Over time the gaps between the city and those towns began to fill After World War II, a housing explosion took off Builders began throwing up subdivisions with bigger houses, bigger lots, often no sidewalks and little concern about walking into 'town" because "town" didn't exist. The quaint town squares were replaced by strip malls along the main drags and subregional shopping centers with national brand stores You needed an automobile to get where you had to go

One community blended into another For many, Livonia was the ideal suburb The subdivisions were attractive, the yards were large and green Unlike other 'bedroom" communities, Livonia created a strong economic base An industrial park was created between Schoolcraft and Plymouth Road Livonia was strategically connected by freeways and the railroad The major through roads were wide and perfect for commercial strip development When people began moving from west side Detroit and Dearborn, Livonia was often the first choice

But we are beginning to see a nostalgia for a way of life that most suburban residents have never lived The town has been making a comeback People are beginning to see that there is something to be said for a town center where people can gather at a coffeehouse or walk the baby past store windows or walk to the library, the doctor, the dentist, the drugstore in a place that's pleasant and

We've watched the revival of Royal Oak as a model for creating an urban version of the town

But, of course, those pleasant towns have gone through a transition Plymouth, Northville and Farmington are not the primary shopping areas for their communities They provide specialty shops and entertainment restaurants rather than the necessities For those, people go to the outer edges of the community, to big box stores or to a closed mail

The Royal Oaks, Ann Arbors and Birminghams have become entertainment venues rather than primary shopping places

Now some of those around Plymouth and Middlebelt would like something "more like a town' They'd like someplace they can walk around and greet their neighbors, though that's never been a part of the Livonia experience

In the long run, Livonia has to consider what it wants to be and what it can be Unfortunately, city planning often takes a back seat to private development (property rights, you know) And sometimes, places like Livonia, Canton and Westland just grow too quickly, trying to meet a demand for housing that runs faster than careful city planning can handle

But it's never too late to take another look, invite the community to talk about what they want and discuss the best ways to achieve it

Some suburban residents Banned Books Week good time to visit your library

recently reread Catcher in the Rye by J D Salinger a high school English class favorite that was still a good read, 30 years later The story of Holden Caulfield's adolescent angst remains a perennial target of those who seek to ban books, the impetus for Banned Book Week, observed Sept 24 to Oct 1 this year

The American Library Association Office for Intellectual Freedom received a total of 547 challenges last year A challenge is defined as a formal, written complaint, filed with a library or school requesting that materials be removed because of content or appropriateness According to Judith F Krug, director of that office, the number of challenges reflects only incidents reported

The ALA Web site quotes its president, Carol Brey-Casiano, as concerned about removal of books like Bless Me Ultima, by Rudolfo Anaya from schools Not every book is right for every person, but providing a wide range of reading choices is vital for learning, exploration and imagination The abilities to read, speak, think and express ourselves freely are core American values

Anayas award-winning book was banned from the curriculum in Norwood High School, Colo, for offensive language Young adult novelist Chris Crutchers books also have come under fire, including in Michigan

Concerns about banning are found among local librarians as well 'Banned Books Week is to really let people know how important freedom of expression is," said Cathy Lichtman teen services librarian at the Plymouth District Library "I think we re fortunate to have access to information'

In addition to the ALA, sponsors are the American Booksellers Association, American Booksellers Foundation for Free Expression, American Society of Journalists and Authors, Association of American Publishers and National Association of College Stores

Lichtman hasn t seen big issues with book banning, but has had objections to materials in the library 'We deal with those on a case by case basis One group or another finds them uncomfortable

She noted the presence of classics, such as Catcher in the Rye, and added such books help students develop critical thinking skills and their place in the world 'I think it's absolutely important to be exposed to different ideas

At the William P Faust Public Library of Westland, reference librarian Bridget Sturdy has seen a few concerns raised about graphic novels and other young adult materials, which the staff takes seriously

"I think it's very important to bring to people's attention there still are so many books people are trying to keep off the shelves They don't really realize some parents would like to talk to their chil dren about these ideas, Sturdy said

Shes found books can help young people cope with body changes, and realize they're not alone in what they re going through

The Canton Public Library also has had several challenges, said Jean Tabor, director, and has a procedure to handle those 'We take each challenge very seriously"

Materials are rarely withdrawn, she said, although they have been moved to another area in the library She and colleagues urge parents to monitor what their children are reading and viewing "They re really the ones who should be in charge," Tabor said "We have a diverse community of wide varying tastes

Three of the 10 books on the ALA "Ten Most Challenged Books of 2004' were cited for homosexual themes – the highest number in a decade Sexual content and offensive language remain the most frequent reasons for seeking removal of books from schools and public libraries

The books, in order of most frequently chal-lenged, are

■ The Chocolate War by Robert Cormer for sex ual content, offensive language, religious view-point, being unsuited to age group and violence ■ Fallen Angels by Walter Dean Myers, for racism, offensive language and violence

Arming America The Origins of a National Gun Culture by Michael A. Bellesiles, for inaccura cy and political viewpoint

Captain Underpants series by Dav Pilkey, for offensive language and modeling bad behavior

The Perks of Being a Wallflower by Stephen Chbosky, for homosexuality, sexual content and offensive language

What My Mother Doesn't Know by Sonya Sones, for sexual content and offensive language ■ In the Night Kitchen by Maurice Sendak, for nudity and offensive language ■ King & King by Linda de Haan and Stern

Nyland, for homosexuality

■ I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings by Maya Angelou, for racism, homosexuality, sexual content, offensive language and unsuited to age group

■ Of Mice and Men by John Steinbeck, for racism, offensive language and violence

Off the list this year, but on for several years past, are the Alice series of books by Phyllis Reynolds Naylor, Go Ask Alice by Anonymous, It's Perfectly Normal by Robie Harris and The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn by Mark Twain

Certainly parents have the right to know what their children, especially young children, are reading At the same time, its important not to impose those decisions on others - or to discourage young people from reading in the first place Books, even or especially banned ones, open new worlds to readers of all ages

New group warns about cost of illegal immigration

BY ALEX LUNDBERG STAFF WRITER

The Michigan Citizens for Immigration Reform wants something made clear when they discuss the issue of illegal immigration The word illegal

The group, just a month old, was the guest of the North Oakland Republican Club at an informational meeting at the Deer Lake Athletic Club in Clarkston Thursday night. A crowd of about 60 came to the meeting to talk with them and the president of a national immigration reform group to discuss the situation

' MCFIR got its start after Farmington Hills resident Herbert Sherbin wrote a letter to the Farmington Observer bemoaning the effect illegal immigration was having on Michigan The effect he mentioned specifically was generated in California

f

"The 2000 census gave California three more representatives in Congress and because there are only 435 members, Michigan, Indiana and Mississippi lost representatives," he said "The census counted illegals It's a perversion of representative democracy"

Of course, there's a lot of inertia against true immigration reform Perhaps one of the greatest sources of that inertia is the low cost of produce which is subsidized by illegal immigrant pickers working below the minimum wage MCFIR Co-Founder Peg Robichaud of Canton said prices can be higher if there are people earning money at a legal wage

'You can afford $5 for lettuce if you re working,' she said "If you re not, you can t afford it for $1"

What the low wage/low cost argument misses, she said, is

Dan Stine, national president of the Federation for American Immigration Reform and the evening's featured speaker, has been active in immigration issues since 1982

"There's a growing national consensus that it's time for reform," he said "25 years ago I was talking in the woods Today, people are starting to wake up'

He said the issue is central to national security and at the heart of terrorist attacks in this country

'In 1986, President Reagan signed an amnesty that started a massive abuse of asylum laws There were supposed to be employment sanctions and deportation sanctions but by 1990 no one cared," he said That allowed the World Trade Center bombing and, later, 9-11"

He said immigration is the most important issue facing the country, affecting public education, crime, environmental protections, congestion and labor equity He said both political parties have failed the nation and there were powerful interests perpetuating the problem

'Illegal immigration is lining a lot of pockets From Fannie Mae to Wells Fargo, they re looking at illegals as the next housing market, Stine said They're privatizing the profits while they're commonizing the costs"

MCFIR Co-Founder Edith Simmons of Southfield said the organization wants to use political pressure to get Washington to start dealing with the issue seriously

We're going to bombard rep resentatives in Washington about the problem, she said We re going to demand they do their duty to protect the country's borders We want workable laws that don't include amnesty' They would also like to see an end of families using anchor babies - children of illegals born in the US creat ing de facto citizenship for parents - chain migration of entire families and the free issuing of worker visas

McCotter supports using 'God' in the Pledge

US Rep Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, introduced a resolution Wednesday reaffirming Congress support for the Pledge of Allegiance, in response to a San Francisco federal judge striking down the recitation of the Pledge by California school children McCotter said the ruling by Judge Lawrence Karlton contradicts the clear implication of the holdings in various Supreme Court cases and the spirit of numerous other Supreme Court cases in which the court has stated the voluntary recitation of the Pledge is consistent with the First Amendment the hidden costs illegal immigration imposes on the nation as a whole Consumers might pay less for fruits and vegetables, but that savings is negated by the costs to hospitals and the education system which must deal with the immigrants every day

Bills aim to give local government flexibility

Following a series of hearings held across the state earlier this year, the Michigan Senate Republican leadership will be introducing legislation intended to give local officials more flexibility in managing their resources, announced

"We have traveled all around the state holding hearings and everywhere we went we heard ways the Legislature could make things more efficient for local governments," said Sen L'aura Toy, R-Livonia 'The legislation we're working on will help simplify the administrative processes and relieve some of the obstacles that local units of government face"

The Government Flexibility package will give local government more authority and control of services in their units of government The legislation is designed to remove cumbersome red tape and help to streamline the operation of local governments

As chair of the Senate Committee on Local, Urban and State Affairs, Toy held four hearings throughout the state The committee heard testimony from more than 40 local officials

• According to Toy, legislation planned for introduction this fall will Give local governments more flexibility in the administration of local tax laws by removing roadblocks that inhibit tax collection,

Remove requirements for city tax roll printing when the information is available on a computer database,

■ Promote pooled investment programs so local governments can combine investments with county funds to obtain the best possible rate of return.

Support pooled insurance programs allowing any two or more municipalities to form a group self-insurance pool,

Authorize the Michigan Department of Transportation to permit the use of trunkline rights of way in downtown areas for things such as sidewalk displays and cafes, and

Allow local governments to use revenue collected on delinquent property taxes on other government services

"Having served on the Livonia City Council and as city treasurer, I have faith that local governments know best how to run their communities," Toy said "We need to do everything in our power to help them do their jobs more effectively so they can serve their residents to the best of their ability This much needed legislation will result in a more efficient delivery of services and savings for taxpayers

The Senate Local, Urban and State Affairs Committee remains open to receiving more information and ideas in the future, but previous efforts canvassing the state have proven that reforms are needed now

Stevenson freshman sinks Rocks' title hopes

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

He's too young to drive, but Livonia Stevenson freshman Adrian Fylonenko was instrumental in steering the Spartans into the Western Lakes Activities Association's Lakes Division fast lane Wednesday night

The 14-year-old Fylonenko drilled a low, turf-skimming shot past Salem goal-keeper Brian Field with 37 26 left in the game to break a scoreless tie and lead Stevenson to a 3-0 home victory over the Rocks

The win improved the No 1-ranked Spartans to 9-0 overall and 1-0 in the division Salem shpped to 7-3-1 and 3-1, respectively

As Field fished the ball out of the net.

PREP SOCCER

Fylonenko sprinted in the direction of the Stevenson fans, holding out the "Spartans" that was printed on his jersey It was Fylonenko's third game since getting promoted from the junior-varsity squad, and his first career varsity start

"I had to go to the crowd and show them some Spartan spirit," Fylonenko said, describing his post-goal theatrics "I was kind of tense at the beginning of the game because I was playing with the big guys On the goal, I got the ball around the 35 (yard line), pushed it up a little, then took the shot When I saw it hit the inside of the net, I was pretty excited'

Scoring the first goal was huge for his team, Stevenson coach Lars Richters said

"It was very important," Richters said "(Salem coach) Ed McCarthy is a fantastic coach and I know that if they had taken the lead, it would have been difficult to play from behind

"Adrian was doing well at the juniorvarsity level and we knew he was the type of player who would help the varsity at some point He proved it tonight His goal was a purely individual play I'm just happy he had the courage to take that shot

The freshman's goal seemed to energize the Spartans, who doubled their lead less than two minutes later when junior mid-fielder Luke Knochel won possession of the ball 25 yards from the net and ripped a missile past Field to make it 2-0 Chris Mulcahy was credited with an assist on the goal

Stevenson nearly made it 3-0 at the 27-minute mark, but Mulcahy's shot hit the cross-bar and bounced harmlessly away

"On Adrian's goal, we had an opportunity to clear the ball, but he knocked it down and made a good decision to shoot it right away," McCarthy said "He struck it well and surprised us That goal seemed to set the tone for the entire second half Goals are extremely hard to come by in soccer and we were not able to rebound "

The Chiefs responded, rallying from a 14-9 half-time hole to a 33-28 victory over their cross-campus rivals The victory improved Canton's record to 5-2 overall and 1-0 in the Western Lakes Activities Association Salem dropped to 4-2 and 0-1, respectively

"We weren't pushing the ball in the first half like we needed to do against Salem," Samulski said "Salem plays great half-court defense, so I wanted our girls to get out on the break before Salem could set up their defense About half-way through the third quarter we finally started running' With its running game in high gear, the Chiefs turned a 24-20 deficit into a 29-24 lead during the opening 4 30 minutes of the fourth quarter Four different players contributed points during the run, including junior forward Ja'nee Morton, whose lay-up with 4 45 left gave the Chiefs their first lead of the contest, 26-24 Canton never trailed again "Brian is always talking about effort, effort, effort," said Canton point guard Becci Houdek, whose 10 points paced a balanced Chief scoring attack "We didn't play with enough intensity in the first half We were playing kind of lazy

Back on track: Chiefs bury Wayne, 55-6 QB Little returns

BY ED WRIGHT STAFF WRITER

Wayne Memorial's football team got bulldozed Friday night by Canton in one of the more physical games of hide-andseek you'll ever see

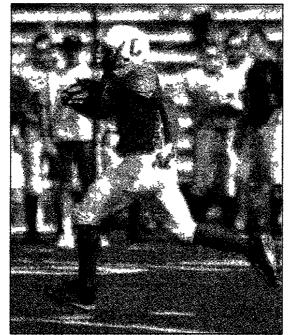

The Zebras' football-seeking defense was baffled most of the night by the Chiefs' powerful hide-the-ball offense, which led to Canton's 55-6 homecoming night victory

Even when the Wayne defenders knew Canton running back Deshon McClendon had the ball, they had a hard time bringing him to the artificial turf as the junior churned out 134 yards on just seven carries and three TD's

The win, which improved Canton to 3-2 overall and 1-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Western Division, marked the return of Chief three-year starting quarterback Shawn Little, who had missed the previous three games - two of them losses - with a ruptured esophagus Little played only the first half due to the lopsided score, completing 3-of-5 five passes for 25 yards and a touchdown He also rushed for 36 yards on two carries

"Little hides the ball so well, it's very difficult for the defense to tell who has it," said Wayne coach Craig Hnatuk, whose team dropped to 1-4 (0-3) "When we couldn't see the ball, we started playing a guessing game, and we lost To stop their offense, you have to be very disciplined and read the guards and the tight ends

Salem surprises John Glenn, 34-7 CHIEFS

BY RICHARD L SHOOK CORRESPONDENT

Plymouth Salem took a page right out of Westland John Glenn's book - the one that says run, run, run

The Rocks took the football and ran it right down the Rockets' throat Friday night for a one-sided 34-7 victory in the Western Lakes Activities Association game

'We did what we thought we could do all year long," Salem coach Bob Cummings said after his team used three timeconsuming scoring drives to sew up the game "We did what we've done a lot in practice We've expected to see it all year long, but we haven t seen it all year long on a consistent basis We just didn t run it on the field

Quarterback Kevin Bradley ran the ball 24 times for 116 vards and four touchdowns, while running back Mo Saaidi had 23 carries for 96 vards Bradley also threw seven times, completing four for 92 yards including a 23-yard scoring strike to Matt Kenison

Salem (2-3, 1-2) set the tone when it took the game's opening kickoff and drove 75 yards in 14 clock-eating plays, with Bradley following his center over for a 1-yard TD run The drive took 7 16 off the clock

Glenn, trailing 21-7 at the half, took the second half kickoff and made one first down before punting The Rocks proceeded to steamroll their way down the field, a 16-play, 80-yard drive that ended with Bradleys 4yard scoring run and a 28-7 lead The drive took the rest of the third quarter with the touchdown coming on the first play of the final period

The game-sealer came when Salem held John Glenn (3-2, 2-2) to three plays, got the ball back with 10 13 to play and drove 72 yards in 13 plays Bradley scored on a 7 yard run and the game was over

In the first half, the Rocks followed their game-opening drive for a touchdown by blocking a Rockets punt Bradley hit Kenison with a 23 yard scoring pass and a 14-0 lead Bradley scored on another 1-yard run to make it 21-0 with 3 39 left in the half Glenn then mounted its lone sustained drive of the game, 65 yards in seven plays with Brandon Pratt running two yards to score with 29 seconds left in the half

'Our offensive line did a great job," Cummings said "We didn't want them to touch the ball after watching that drive they had at the end of the first half That scared me

The long Salem drive at the start of the second half was like looking into a crystal ball for

Glenn It could see the end coming

Pratt gained 52 yards with 13 runs, but overall Glenn was able to net just 52 yards rush ing on 17 carries

Salem gained 244 yards on the ground, running the ball 58 times

We ve had a hard time moving the ball all season,' Glenn coach Todd DeLuca said We made some changes last week, now we ll take a look and see if the changes can help us at all "We need to have a push at the point of attack on a more consistent basis On both sides of the ball, we couldn't stop them

We get things right once in a while. Cummings said 'But it's far in between for us

"When you're not disciplined, which we weren t tonight, this is what happens," Hnatuk said, looking up toward the scoreboard 'With Lattle in there, Canton crushed Pioneer, which crushed Saline the next week, so that tells you how good of a football team they are when they're healthy Their offensive line comes off the ball extremely well, too'

Canton's offensive numbers were healthy in the first half before most of the starters were pulled The Chiefs grinded out 285 yards in the opening 24 minutes, 260 of which came on the ground The Zebras managed just 96 total yards in the first half, which ended with the Chiefs firmly in control, 41 0 In the end, Canton outgained Wayne, 355-215

The large homecoming crowd barely had time to settle into their seats before Canton's Matt Sweda took a Little hand-off on the game's fourth play and sprinted 53 yards to paydirt The first of Colin O'Shaunessy's five extra points made it 7 0

McClendon capped a pair of three-play scoring drives with touchdown runs of 26 and 29 yards to cushion the Chiefs lead to 21-0 with 3 55 left in the first quarter The final points of the first half came on Little's twoyard hook-up with Andy Rossow 📜 less than two minutes into the second quarter, a 60-yard jaunt by McClendon with 5 50 left and sophomore Dalton Walser's rational sources and sources two-yard run

Walser set up his TD three plays earlier when he zigged and  $^{16}$ zagged 49 yards on a punt return, taking the ball to the Wayne 11

The lone blemish for Canton in the first half came on a botched extra-point attempt following the final TD

The Chiefs second-half scores came on Bill Turner's 52-yard fumble return and Devin Murphy's 34-yard run with 4 07 to play Junior Blaine Paden drilled the final two extra points Wayne's lone touchdown came with 7 43 to play when back-up quarterback David Freeman turned a broken play into a 48-yard scoring run

The Zebras were hampered by  $\widetilde{}$ , the loss of running back Blaine Simmons, who suffered a broken ankle on Wayne's gameopening drive

'I think that was a pretty big let-down for the rest of the team when Blaine got hurt," Hnatuk said

Among the players who turned in jarring tackles for the Chiefs' defense were Matt Sweda, Jeff Piper, Chris Hasse and Rossow

BIG SHOES TO FILL

Although Canton's back-up quarterback, senior Corey Nicoloff, played commendably during Little's three-game absence, it's hard to fill the shoes of someone who has won 21 of 23 games under center since hitting the varsity scene in 2003

Wayne head coach Craig Hnatuk said he wasn t sur prised to see Little sprint onto the field for the Chiefs opening drive Friday night

Nor was he disappointed If we were going to pull off an upset tonight, Hnatuk said, I wanted it to be with him in there If we were going to win, I wanted Canton to be at their best Their offense picks it up a beat with Little in there '

Canton guarterback Shawn Little pictured above during a 2004 game returned to action Friday night after missing three games with a ruptured esophagus threw up, there was blood in it, Little said 'I went to bed, then I woke up about 5 a m and the same thing was happening, so my parents rushed me into the emergency room

The doctors said that I threw up so hard that my esophagus ruptured (The esophagus 1s the tube through which food passes from the pharynx to the stomach ) They knocked me out, sprayed some medicine (on the injury) and did surgery It was definitely the scariest thing I ve ever been through

CHIEF CONCERN

While recuperating at home Little found it difficult to get his mind off football

I borrowed the tape of the Walled Lake Central game and watched it he said, referring to the first game he missed during his stellar high school career said "Without them, I wouldnt have had the strength to get back as soon as I did

Although he feels a whole lot better than he did two weeks ago, Little 15 still not completely back to his pretrauma form

I ve only had a couple of days to run and get back in shape, so I m only about 90 percent right now, he said "But considering everything I ve been through, I feel pretty good

As he walked off the field and toward the locker room Friday night, Little smiled After what hed been through the past three weeks who could blame him?

Senior forward Kim Olech was the catalyst for the win, scoring a career-high 21 points and pulling down 10 rebounds Junior guard Val Klemmer also had a career-best night, adding 11 points, while senior forward Jeanine Moise contributed nine points and 12 boards

The victory improved the Wildcats' record to 5-2 overall The Vikings slipped to 3-4

"Jeanine played in the high post for us tonight and she did a good job moving the ball when they sagged on her," said Plymouth coach Richelle

Reilly She also did a good job holding their top player (Brittany Burkhardt) to only six points

Val had a good overall game, too She hit a couple of big three's for us

The game was tied 17-17 at the half before the visiting Wildcats jumped to a 30-25 lead after three quarters Plymouth outscored Central, 18-9, over the final eight minutes

Daughter should stay at school

My 6-year-old has just begun first grade She loved kindergarten, but has had a difficult time getting used to going to school all day. She tells her teacher that she has a stomach ache and has tried to come home every day for the past week The first three times this happened, I went to get her, but she felt fine once we were home After that, I refused to go to get her. Now, I feel guilty and worry. What should I do? Lisa, Plymouth

The transition from a half day kindergarten to a full-day first grade is challenging for most children In the first week or two of the new school year, the children are getting used to being away from home and their loved ones for so long It sounds like your daughter is experiencing this type of separation anxiety Once she is home, her separation is ended and so is the anxiety This solves the problem for her, but creates a new one for you

You have done the right thing by making her stay at school As difficult as this is, it is the only way for her to develop comfort and security in the school environment When she learns that she has to stay in school all day, she will begin to think about coming home less This will allow her to become familiar with her teacher, her classmates and the length of the day As a result, her anxiety will fade In the meantime, reassure her that you love her and that she is safe at school You can also read the book The Kissing Hand by Audrey Penn with her This is a wonderful book that deals with this exact subject If the anxiety persists ask the teacher and school staff for some help

Symphony begins season in new hall

> BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER

A contagious excitement swept through the rehearsal room on Monday night The Livonia Symphony Orchestra has a new home and with that comes a new sound

Over the years legendary musi cians such as Harry James blew some of their best concerts as part of the jazz series in the Louis Schmidt Auditorium at Clarenceville High School in Livonia Jim Poe expects nothing less of the Livonia

Above, second violin Lisa Cotter is a resident of Canton Top, the many faces of conductor Volodymyr Sheshiuk as he puts the Livonia Symphony Orchestra through its paces at a recent rehearsal

I am the mother of an 8-year-old son Because it is just the two of us, we spend lots of time together and are very close Sometimes I feel that we are too close. We argue all the time and he tries to tell me what to do He does not sleep in his own bed What can I do to fix this situation?

Ashley, Redford

The behaviors you report indicate that your son does not recognize you as an authority figure The line between the roles of parent and child has been blurred to the point that there is no distinction Your son seems to see himself as your peer and will not submit to your rules or position You may be having some difficulties in this area as well It is essential that you reestablish the lines between the two of you You are the parent, not his playmate Do not argue with him or allow him to be the boss This only confuses the matter more You set the rules and he follows them He can have some input, but the final say must be yours

To be effective, you must select appropriate consequences and employ them with firmness and consistency If a rule is broken, a consequence must follow You will have succeeded in establishing your authority and reinforcing your comfort with the parental role After you have remained consistent for a period of time, your son will begin to recognize your authority and respect the limits that you have set If, after all your efforts, you are still uncertain, you may find it helpful to enroll in a parenting class such as Love and Logic

Symphony Orchestra which opens its 2005-2006 season Saturday, Oct 1

The Farmington Hills bassoon player along with conductor Volodymyr Shesiuk and a revamped music committee selected a long list of classical, light-classical, Broadway, and pop hits

Concert No 1 roars into the new hall with fanfares and overtures from Shostakovich, Wagner, Brahms, Rossini, Dukas, Beethoven, and Copland In the meantime, the orchestra continues to practice at its former venue in Churchill High School in Livonia

Clarenceville High School is located on Middlebelt, south of Eight Mile

'EXCITED'

"I m excited to show off the orchestra in a different way,' said Poe, who's been a member of the LSO since 1991 "We redid the music committee to involve more musicians It's important to choose what's pleasing and enjoyable for the audience and what we like to play If you get these two together, it will be a successful season

'We chose a different theme for the opener It shows off the orchestra There's the fanfare of the beginning of the season, the excitement of the first season in our new home The acoustics are great You can hear each other better, play better

Shesiuk hopes the new hall will be 'a magical music box' for the orchestra which has struggled in recent years He recently visited Clarencevilles auditorium to determine how to arrange the orchestra for the fullest sound

Doctors step into spotlight for Circle of Hope Gala

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER

Dr Susan Lininger's a little nervous about parading down a runway in front of colleagues The Birmingham anesthesiologist realizes one wrong step and she could fall, but she volunteered anyway This year, the Circle of Hope Gala raises money for cardiac services at St Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia where she works

The wory jacket, trimmed in tweed and topped with a glass bead necklace, is dressier than the scrubs she usually wears so she's especially looking forward to the gala including the fashion show Friday, Oct 14, at the Laurel Manor Special Event Center in Livonia

The Doncaster outfit is one of two she selected to model

There's always a chance you can trip, but it sounded like a good cause and a fun night for people," said Lininger, a Birmingham resident who's modeling with her partner Dr Khalil Dirani "I don t get dressed up that often It makes it fun to get dressed up for a while

Dr Sanjeev Vaishampayan not only thinks the evening will be an exciting

Dr Susan Lininger tries on some clothes with a little help from Doncaster wardrobe consultant Pam Szmadzinski as she gets ready to model for the crowd at the upcoming Circle of Hope Gala for St Mary Mercy Hospital's cardiac services experience, he's flattered to be chosen suites to open in November 2006 at to model the men's outfits from Manno the hospital Clothing and Tailoring of Dearborn As 'It's near and dear to my heart, said a cardiologist, he has a vested interest

Vaishampayan, director of noninvasive cardiac services Dr Roy Misirliyan, his partner at Michigan Heart in the hospitals Marion Pavilion, is also modeling 'We have several new services in the last three years In January, we started offering primary angioplasty for patients suffering acute heart attacks, and electrophysiology services to manage irregular heart rhythms by implanting defibrillators in patients

'I'm proud the hospital has always striven to be at the forefront of technological advances Additionally we're upgrading all equipment I'm especially pleased the hospital is redoing all cardiology services with new state of the art equipment'

Sherri Fletcher hopes to raise $200,000 to $250,000 for the effort as well as to celebrate the hospital's 45 years of providing medical care to Livonia and the surrounding communities As usual the director of fund development has spent months planning the evening for 800 guests with a committee chaired by Laura Kloiber The festivities for the 13th annual event kick off when doors open at 6 p m with hors d oeuvres and a 7 p m gourmet dinner The fashion show and dancing to music by the Livonia-based band Rare Blend follows

Teens can learn from Katrina

y contacts as a former academic include a list serve operated by a professor at Southern Illinois University (www HEDIR org) One professor who has donated her expertise to Katrina survivors in Dallas is Dr Shari Julian who teaches social science forensic classes, victimology and ethics, and gender study courses at the University of Texas, Arlungton She has a doctorate in public administration and a postdoctorate in chnical counseling, master's in marriage and the family, and is a diplomat and fellow in forensic expertise

Teens approaching voting age need to be thinking about how they would govern our country Julian's reflections below will help this thinking

"There are so many words that come to mind As a scholar, I am thinking Diaspora, social displacement, systemic disruption, mass trauma, pandemic and unbelievable chaos As a clinician, I am looking at something that we have never been trained to handle in this country - a level of victimization and its resultant psychosocial ripples that mandate a whole new field of clinical practice - mass victimology Katrina kicked the top off of a racist and social termite's nest that has been growing beneath the ground since Reconstruction These were deeply religious people who have lost God and for that matter, faith and hope Hope has been replaced by magical thinking that augurs a second and more terrible level of social disruption and anger not far down the road

"Over and over, I kept hearing a framing of self that puzzled me until I realized that this is how it must have been for blacks after Reconstruction Over and over, people said, 'everyone has been so wonderful, thank vou, thank you' When I said, 'there is no need to thank us, you are our fellow citizens and we want to help you -American to American,' there would be a long pause as if the idea of being the same never struck them before them For that matter, there is no system because all the safeguards and preparations that we thought were in place aren't there I have been begging anyone who would listen over the past two years for a program in mass victimology to prepare for the next tragedy after 9/11 Now it is here and the lack of organization, science, and preparation are going to result in terrible consequences for us as a nation

"Imagine sending people who have been assimilated into the most stable demographic population in America into cities and towns all over the US who are as unprepared as the victims to understand their sense of dislocation and their support needs The lower Gulf states have a language, a history, a social dynamic, a faith, a societal structure, and a ritual system unlike any other in America These people have lived in and been acculturated to this system for generations When the dust settles and the mud dries, we are going to see all over America, a nation that will lose patience with the needs of a foreign refugee population Abandoned once again, the fury and the trauma that have been momentarily quieted by the outpouring of empathy and support post-crisis, will arise larger and more terrible than we have been equipped as a nation to handle

"The people that survived this tragedy and the people who help them all know one truth The help and the love and the care that has been extended to them have been on a citizen-to-citizen basis The churches, doctors, therapists, and ordinary citizens who are giving all they can in time and resources are managing to Band-aid at the most elementary level - neighbor to neighbor

The government has failed We are more vulnerable now

'Katrina kicked the top off of a racist and social termite's nest that has been growing beneath the ground since Reconstruction.'

Dr Shari Julian Victimology and ethics instructor that before 9/11 because faith in the system is gone No systemcan sustain itself as a viable entity when the citizenry are the walking wounded Victms implode a system from within and expose its decay This is the beginning of the end unless we can get a drastic change of philosophy and restore the government to a system 'by the people for the people' Right now nobody down here believes we have that"

MUSIC TO THEIR EARS

Tom Bjorklund had to pull a few tricks out of his hat since taking on the job of president for the Livonia Symphony Society, the orchestra's fundraising organization A Save Our Symphony drive to raise money proved successful This year, they should have no problem meeting the budget of more than $100,000 thanks to donations which include $15,000 from the Livonia Town Hall lecture series

"I'm excited about the move," said Bjorklund "To a certain extent it's going to expand our base because Clarenceville schools draws students from Farmington, Farmington Hills and Livonia We're opening up areas geographically of people who are interested in our music We've signed a one-year agreement with Clarenceville We'll reassess at the end of that time but we re confident it's going to work very well

Lack of sleep adds pounds

Dan from Trenton has been hearing that healthy sleep patterns help promote weight loss and e-mails asking for more information. Dan, for the last two decades Americans have been getting less and less sleep Research now shows that lack of sleep is making the nation fatter and that those getting the least amount of sleep have the highest body mass index Interrupted sleep activities activate the body's appetite control centers, making you more likely to grab a late-night snack In addition, sleep deprivation is also closely related to a decrease in physical and mental performance

Here are some suggestions on how to avoid the pound-adding perils of not getting enough sleep Take a 20-minute nap or take time to exercise in the late afternoon Try to hit the sack at the same time every night to help establish healthy sleep patterns You should definitely see a sleep disorder specialist if the problem persists

In this case, not getting 40 winks could land you with 40 extra pounds of unwanted fat!

Jill from Oak Park is eating a diet rich in simple carbohydrates She e-mails asking for the health pros and cons to this.

Jill, simple-carb diets can open up some complex problems when it comes to proper diet and nutrition The body loves to use carbs as fuel instead of fat, but eating a meal rich in simple carbs can trigger a high output of insulin in the body High insulin levels are linked to a laundry list of serious health problems such as high blood pressure, increased abdominal fat, clotting problems and even hardening of the arteries Research shows that postmenopausal women, eating a diet focusing on simple carbs, could have an increased risk of heart disease over time The best strategy is to take in a diet rich in fruits, vegetables, whole grains and lean meat Fish, healthy oils, and non-dairy fats are also a big plus It's a solution to one of the most complex weight loss problems1 E mail Peter at www.peternielsen.com Catch Peter daily on WDIV NBC 4 & WWJ News Radio 950 Contact him at Peter Nielsen's Personal Training Club in West Bloomfield or Nielsen's Town Center Health Club in Southfield

Planning ahead

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN STAFF WRITER

Don t sell the house Attorney Mark Accettura says that's the biggest mistake people make when trying to pay for long term nursing home care

"The biggest mistake is not knowing they can do something,' said Samuel Hurwitz, Accettura's partner at their Elderly Law Institute of Michigan practice in Farmington Hills

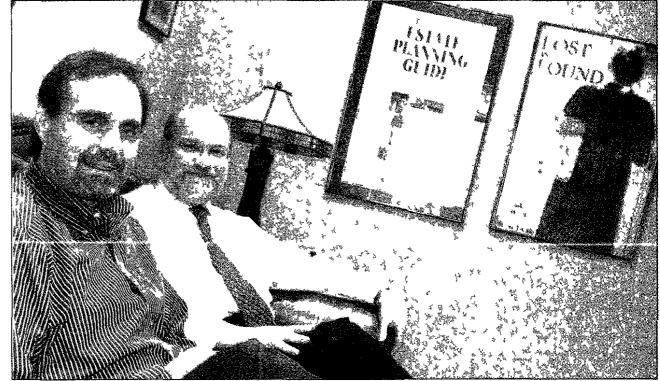

"Planning ahead is important with the cost of long-term care and lack of resources available If you have heart disease, Medicare pays for care If you have Alzheimer's the average cost of nursing home care is $64,000 a year"

Both attorneys agree planning is key to eliminating financial worries for the patient and spouse Their new book, Medicaid and Long Term Care in Michigan Getting Good Care Without Going Broke (Collinwood Press, 2005), answers questions about qualifying for Medicaid, the government program that pays for long-term nursing care 'The house is exempt The state

doesn t come back after the death of a person to claim the house," said Accettura

EXEMPTIONS

The principal residence, no matter the value, and an automobile are exempt from the $2,000 countable assets limit The book lists detailed information on exempt assets on page 67 along with information on a ladybird deed The deed allows the patient to be treated as the owner of the property under the law for such purposes as deductions for income tax If the owner goes into a nursing home, the principal residence is exempt from Medicaid After death, the property passes to the named successors

Accettura and Hurwitz cover all of this information in addition to explaining the difference between general, Medicaid and health care durable powers of attorney While it took Accettura only three months to write the book, they relied on years of experience in estate planning, trust and estate administration and Medicaid planning to write about guardianship and conservatorship, independent living, gifting, annuities, and the fact that the cost of long-term care is the responsibility of the patient after Medicare benefits are exhausted, if they were eligible in the first place Individuals must pay privately until exhausting assets to be eligible for Medicaid

'UNDERSIANDABLE'

'I tried to write in terms understandable to the general public,' said Accettura, the tax attorney who put the words on paper after interviewing sources such as the Area Agency on Aging He and Hurwitz work as a team

'I'm the communicator Sam is the idea guy and researcher We both made an equal contribution"

There are plenty of good-natured exchanges between the two until they begin discussing long-term care During 50 years of collective practice, they've observed their estate planning clients aging and in need of advise on navigating the long-term care delivery system

There's lots of myths and misun-

Walk is making strides against breast cancer

Eating a low fat diet is known to help the heart, but now theres evidence it may also have a positive effect on certain types of breast cancer In a new study reported at the American Society for Clinical Oncology annual meeting, researchers found that women who had been treated for breast cancer who then followed a low fat diet reduced their risk of breast cancer returning For the study, lead researcher Dr Rowan Chlebowskı of the Los Angeles Biomedical Research Institute at Harbor-UCLA Medical Center and his colleagues recruited approximately 2,500 postmenopausal women (ages 48-79) who were treated for early-stage breast cancer with surgery and standard follow up care (such as radiation, tamox-Ifen, or chemotherapy) They then randomly assigned 975 women in this group to eat a low-fat diet of about 33 grams of fat daily

Cancer walk 9 30 a m Saturday, Oct 8, at Bell'e Isle in Detroit Making Strides Against

No particular brand of diet was assigned or advocated, the only requirement was for it to be low in fat intake

The remaining 1,462 women followed their normal diet with only brief counseling about getting adequate nutrition On average, these women consume 51 grams of fat daily The diet did not significantly lower the risk of recurrence in women with ER-positive tumors

Women and men across metro Detroit will continue Making Strides Against Breast Cancer by raising additional funds to support new research, as well as advocacy, education and services for breast cancer survivors during the American Cancer Society's 8th annual Making Strides Against Breast

Breast Cancer 1s the American Cancer Society's rallying cry to raise awareness and dollars to fight breast cancer since 1993 In that time, nearly 2 5 million walkers have raised more than $160 million through Making Strides

Registration for the 3 5 mile noncompetitive walk begins at 7 30 a m

Anyone interested in participating in the walk as a walker or a volunteer, is encouraged to contact the American Cancer Society at (248) 557-5353 Donations may also be made online at www.acsevents.org/strides/mi/ detroit derstandings,' said Accettura But Hurwitz adds once again that there is help to plan for the inevitable

There are available solutions to the problem of paying for long term care that are perfectly legal and don't involve fraud or hiding assets,' said Hurwitz, who's also a certified public accountant with a certificate in financial planning The ideal client is one with limited resources Those with $1 million of assets or more can private pay The other people are likely to outlive their assets

Its no different than doing income tax or estate planning,' said Accettura "You work within the rules

As attorneys, Accettura and Hurwitz ease the worries of clients about obtaining good long-term care while not going broke Typically, it is the children who come to them for help on paying for long-term care

'Statistically the oldest daughter does the planning I had one come in this morning, said Accettura 'I tell them plan early Get advice Dont try to go it alone The problem with the sandwich generation is they're trying to raise their kids They don't have time to care for their parents or become an expert in nursing homes The parent will be better off if you do get help

NURSING HOME SEARCH

Accettura and Hurwitz recommend outside geriatric care managers to find the appropriate facility while advising clients how to pay for a nursing home

'When choosing a nursing home, you want to find one that's not only private pay, but one that accepts Medicaid and private pay,' said Accettura That way when you run out of money you'll already be there 'The information in the book is hard to come by because everybody has a vested interest in telling you part of the story The nursing home, hospital have an agenda The biggest mistake is not planning early

'People are typically a wreck when they come in. They may have had a parent living with them four to five months in their home or have fallen and gone to the hospital. A man may have Alzheimer's and wanders all night and the wife suffers a lot of stress."

Trucking: Drivers enjoy stability, independence, opportunity Industry is in need of professional truck drivers

(NAPSI) - While many industries are experiencing layoffs, the trucking industry is dealing with a shortage of drivers Over the next few years, trucking companies will need to hire 100,000 new drivers across the United States This comes on the heels of an upswing in the economy as manufacturers ramp up production of goods for consumption domestically and abroad

To attract and retain drivers, some trucking companies are offering free training, increased wages and competitive benefits New drivers at trucking companies such as Schneider National, North Americas largest truckload carrier, typically earn $30,500 to $40,500 in their first year Experienced drivers earn $43,500 to $55,500 per year

There are many other factors that make truck driving an attractive career Regional and dedicated opportunities enable drivers to enjoy more time at home on a daily or weekly basis, new tools increase comfort while on the road and others make it easy to stay in touch with family and friends via the Internet In addition, truck driving is a stable career that is virtually immune to many of the issues plaguing the American work force, including outsourcing and loss of jobs due to technology improvements Other benefits include the variety of work and the opportunity to work independently outside an office or factory environment

BECOMING A TRUCK DRIVER

The best way to begin a career as a professional driver is by enrolling in a training program Programs are available in most parts of the country and some trucking companies, such as Schneider National, offer company-paid training as well as meals, lodging and transportation to training centers

"The driver training program prepared me for what I needed to know about becoming a professional truck driver and, most importantly, safety," said Mike Neph, a driver who began training with Schneider National earlier this year Neph is now driving on his own, enjoying the freedom of the open road and earning a great living "I spent the last 10 years in an office working with computers Now that I'm out here on my own, I know I'll never go back to that Farmington Hills, MI - Imports, such as Honda, Toyota, and Nissan have enjoyed excellent resale values over the years. They have lared for belier than domestics. But the there eventually comes a time when This has resulted in drastically the pendulum swings too far, and the distorted, record-low prices in the today, that time has come

Because for about the same price the current Kelley Blue Book suggests you pay for a base model, out-of-warranty 2003 Toyota Corolla : with 40-50,000 miles, you can purchase either a 2005 Malibu Maxx or Pontiac Grand Am for thousands less Both with remaining factory warranty, and loaded with options such as air conditioning, power windows, locks, tilt-steering, remote keys tobs, AM/FM w/CD, and much, much more, The Malibu sold new for $23,265, the Grand Am for $23,650 and the Civic, about $17,988 What's wrong with this picture?

With the sales of domestic cars sluggish, manufacturers have been forced to put more and more of their production in national rental fleets And whenever a car goes into service, one must come out So these rentals are being turned around at a much faster pace than in days past. So there is a temporary 'glut" of these rental 'program vehicles

To complicate matters even further, manufacturers are currently offering huge rebates on their new vehicles - A move which has had a direct, negative impact on the values returning from rental service over 1,000 GM program vehicles Just $11,980 buys a 2005 Malibu Maxx, $11,205 gets you a 2005 Grand Am, and a mere $12 225 gets you a 2005 Century Or fool your friends and steal a Cadillac DeVille that originally listed for $45,620 for just $22,340 This is a small sampling of the unbelievable bargains that abound today in the pre-owned, program car marketplace Bob Saks Buick also stocks a wide array of other 2005 GM program vehicles at a fraction of their "sticker" price

Eventually, the market will adjust The manufacturers cannot afford to keep losing new car business to used car buyers, as is happening today Unfortunately, it takes several months for factories to adjust production to sales rates

Without a doubt, today's true used car bargains are to be found in the domestic lines Before you spring for that used import that you ? might currently think is the best buy, it's worth your time to go and see how much car your dollar will buy at the giant Bob Saks Buick used car superstore in Farmington Hills - For domestic car lines

Today, on of Michigan's largest retailer of used vehicles, the giant Bob Saks Buick superstore in Farmington Hills tells us that prices have never been lower Saks has taken full advantage of the weak domestic market and today stocks

you're in for a very pleasant surprise

The Bob Saks Buick used car Superstore is located at 35300 Grand River Avenue at Drake in Farmington Hills Their used car department may be contacted directly at 888-353-8492

Rivers Edge debuts as Canton's latest development

Despite the states lagging economy, the residential building boom in Canton Township shows little sign of cooling off with last week's opening of the first phase of Rivers Edge at Cherry Hill Village

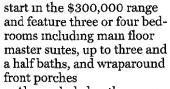

The collection of brick-clad, single family homes and classical, duet-style condominiums is being developed as a partnership between Auburn Hillsbased Mocern Companies and

Sterling Heights based Palazzolo Brothers Located south of Cherry Hill, just west of Ridge Road in Wayne County's fastest growing community, the first phase of Rivers Edge offers a variety of ranch, one-and-a-half story and colonial single family plans, ranging from nearly 1,900 square feet to more than 3,000 square feet Single-family home models

Georgetown-style condominiums feature floor plans with a main floor master suite large lofts and private patios

Also included in the price is a Kenmore appliance package and complete landscaping with sod and sprinkler system

Spacious two-level condominiums starting at more than $240 000 offer more than 2,300 square feet and include full basements and attached two-car garages

'Given its wide selection of distinctive homes, meticulous construction quality and prime location in one of southeast Michigan's most preferred communities, Rivers Edge emerges as a truly remarkable value for a range of discerning buyers, said Sam Palazzolo

The development encom passes 338 acres along the lower Rouge River with wind ing streets, sidewalks, parks and natural preservation areas Home sites back to wooded

Single family homes in Rivers Edge feature brick exteriors and a variet, of design options including this colonial-style floor plan

areas or fully-landscaped common space

Phase I features 74 singlefamily homes and 30 condominiums Three new models are decorated by Troy's Designer Interiors by Mary Olk, to provide prospective homebuyers with a sense of the opportunities available

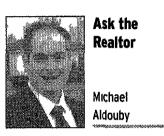

For more information on Rivers Edge, contact the community sales center at (734) 495-0145 or visit www palazzolobrothers com

Pricing your house to get the most money when it's time to sell

I would like to ask for my house significantly more money than its market value in the hope that I will have more room to negotiate What do you think?

That 1s a dangerous strate gy, especially in our slower market There are a lot of homes for sale and sometimes they are taking awhile to sell Some of the problems that could occur if you overprice your house are

You are helping to sell your neighbors house If buy ers see similar houses and your house is priced significantly more than the other homes, then what you are really doing is helping to sell the other homes If you were the buyer why would you pay significantly more for a similar house if you didn't have to?

Buyers may be looking at a certain price range If you move your house out of their price range chances are they aren t even going to see your home Its almost like you are looking for clothing at a certain size in a clothing rack in a retail store, and someone takes out a piece of clothing and puts that garment in another rack with a different size You most likely will never look at the rack that isn't your size

■ The longer your house 1s on the market, the more the market value goes down Buyers perceive that there is something wrong with the house, and that you now have more urgency to sell your home It's similar to selling bread Bread that is made the same day may sell for $2, the second day, two days later, its value may be $1 50, and a few days later it may be worth only $1 Houses too get stale and the longer they are on the market, the less they are worth in the eyes of buyers

There is a lot of competition out there Its very critical now to price your house or condo within the market range Otherwise you will, most likely, have a house that will take a very long time to get sold and usually time is against you, especially now as we start heading into the winter months

The way your house should be priced should be based mainly on three things The prices of similar houses that recently sold, the prices of comparable houses that are on the market today and looking at similar houses that expired, in other words those houses that are no longer on the market This data will let you know what not to do

This Valdez is no shipwreck

Share The Road Michigan

Did you know trucks have large blind spots?

Avoid driving behind or beside a truck for long periods of time, because the driver may not be able to see you Remember, if you can't see the driver's face in the truck's side mirrors, chances are he or she can't see you

Be courteous. Be smart. Be safe.

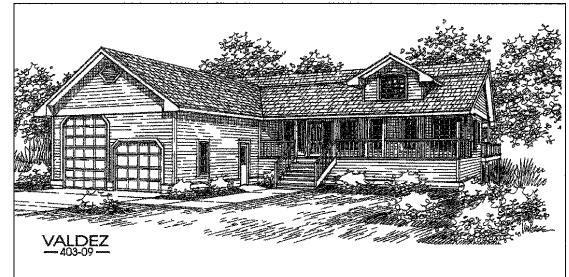

This material was developed through a project funded by the Michigan Truck Safety Commission

The do-it-yourself person in your household will surely appreciate the advantages offered by the Valdez (403-09) floor design Over 900 square feet of garage space, including a built-in workbench, provides enough room for a complete shop set-up There are many other features incorporated into the two levels of the 2,902 square foot Valdez that will please the entire family

A huge covered front porch is a welcome sight to visitors It will soon become a favorite spot to sit and relax on warm summer evenings Step inside the vaulted entry and the openness of the main floor becomes evident The vaulted family/living room, kept cozy by a well-situated fireplace, is the primary gathering place on this level

This is the spot where you will want to put your feet up after dinner and catch the news on television If the weather is agreeable, open the sliding glass door and set a lounge chair on the wraparound wooden deck The walk-through kitchen has been thoughtfully arranged, with the spacious breakfast nook on one side and the formal dining room on the opposite This configuration permits the cook in the house to serve a multi-course meal or quick snack with ease Kitchen features include an island cook top, garden window, double ovens and handy walk-in pantry

The isolated master suite provides complete privacy in an attractive atmosphere Plenty of windows give you a great view, and the whole room brightens when you pull back the drapes In addition to a large sleeping area, the amenities here include a walk-in closet and private bathroom with twin basins and spatub

The basement level begins with an enormous activity room There is enough space here for a pool or Ping Pong table, big screen television, a couple of couches, etc There is also a corner hobby room with direct access to the garage

There are two separate storage areas One an ample walkin closet, and the other a goodsized room that can be easily converted for use as a home office Completing the floor plan on this level are a second bedroom and full bathroom

Avantı NewsFeatures Editor Anne Fracassa is on temporary medical leave and is in the hospital Send get-well wishes via the Internet to afracassa@aol com or send cards and letters to her at 29106 Palomino, Warren, MI 48093-3505 This week's column is written by Dave Menard of the Avanti staff

The 2005 Mercedes-Benz C320 provides me with an interesting dilemma The C320 comes with a host of standard features, is powerful and fun to drive, and looks great in my driveway On the other hand, its one main drawback, to me anyway, is that it's not easy to get in and out of for tall drivers Once I'm in the car, it's great, but it's not the kind of car I'd buy for running errands around town, the constant getting in and out wears me out I had considered the idea that I'm just getting old (as my daughter nods in agreement), but since that can't possibly be true, it must be the car On the off-chance that it might, indeed, be my problem, let's take a look at the many things to like about the C320 Sport Coupe, and we'll start with about the C320 Sport Coupe, and we li start with the way it looks in your driveway The 2005 version of the Sport Coupe has been given staggeredwidth wheels, redesigned clear headlamps, new tail lamps and a redesigned grille It's a more aggressive look, yet you can tell it's a Mercedes A sunroof pack is a $1390 option

The C320 Sport Coupe is fun to drive It's powered by a 90-degree 3 2-liter 215 hp V6 with a 229 lb -ft of torque @ 3,000-4600 rpm With a curb weight of 3250 lbs , it doesn't take much to move

2005 Mercedes-Benz C320 Sport Coupe. Vehicle class: Compact. EPA:17/24. Base price: $28,250. Price as tested: $30,780

it, and move it this engine does It's mated with a standard six-speed manual transmission (a five-speed automatic with Touch Shift is available), and can go 0-60 in 6 8 seconds It's cool going through the gears (the gear throws are 20 percent shorter than 2004) and the low-end torque gets you up to speed quickly

The C320 gives a sporty ride at low speeds, while cruising comfortably at highway speeds. The front suspension combines two separate lower links with a strut, coil springs, twin-tube gas shocks and a stabilizer bar. In the rear, the suspension is an independent five-arm multi-link with coil springs, gas-charged shocks and stabilizer bar. The rackand pinion steering system allows for sharp handling and easy maneuvering.

Stopping the car is not a problem, the four-wheel ABS brake system stops the car quickly and smoothly

Inside, the C320 Sport Coupe features plenty of room up front, although it is tight in the rear The 10-way manually adjustable seats give good support and getting a good driving position is easy The rear seats are spilt fold down seats for more cargo room The standard audio system is an AM/FM/Weatherband/single-CD system, and it sounds great. A six-disc-changer is optional, as is sounds great A six-disc-changer is optional, as is SIRIUS satellite radio service The $679 price tag for the satellite radio option does include 14 months of service (normally $12 95 a month)

The 2005 Mercedes-Benz C320 Sport Coupe starts at about $28,000 Add the sunroof package and the six-CD changer system and you're looking at about $30,000 Looks, performance, features – there's a lot to like about the C320 Sport Coupe Getting in and out it just isn't one of them Then again, my daughter might be right – maybe I'm just getting old Nah

Biolage Bonanza

Hairco's Tiffany Hairdresser of the Year Awards are sure to inspire you to take better care of your tresses To help you, Hairco is offering one lucky PINK reader a hair care treatment package from Biolage Transform dry hair with Biolage's Cera-Repair Hydra Treatment Kit The kit includes a series of five intensive ceramide treatments with aloe and vitamin E and a daily hydrating shampoo Follow it up with Ultra-Hydrating Balm, designed to nourish thick, coarse hair and tame frizz with a blend of lemongrass and wheat germ. The total value of the package is $42 85, courtesy of Hairco, inspiring beauty in Michigan's leading salons To win, simply e-mail pink@gannett com and include your name, address, age and your favorite haircare tip by Oct 7 The winner will be announced in the Oct 23 Pink Issue

BigLove T-shirt winners

Six PINK readers won BigLove Detroit T-shirts in a PINK contest BigLove Detroit was founded to spread some love to a city that often gets a bad wrap. The company makes edgy T-shirts that celebrate Detroit's blue collar roots with slogans like, "Machine Shop Fabulous," "Sheet Metal Fetish" and the signature "BigLove Detroit "

Here's what our winners had to say

Jules DeWard, 36, of Royal Oak "I love Detroit because the city breathes in and out the bygone stories of my ancestors, my eyes-open-wide childhood, and continues to carry me through its rhythm when I visit today"

Nicole Kasper, 22, of Livonia "I love Detroit because it is the home of the Pistonsill"

Sheila Bashiri, 48, Detroit

"Detroiters are friendly and when you walk down the streets of Detroit, the people you pass smile and say "Hil""

Mary Beth Conger, 43, Livonia

"I LOVE Detroit, because there is ALWAYS something to do sports, theater, music, arts, eats and the casinos something for everyone, young and old!

Marcia Johnson, 45, Southfield "I love Detroit because of its cultural centers, summer festivals, and its sports tradition

Julia Smith, 13, Birmingham. "I absolutely love the D because of it's individuality and character in it's major influence to the music industry

So long, summer

>1th such a busy summer that has kept right on going to our first official day of fall this past Thursday, I almost forgot to switch my nailpolish from my festive coral summer shades to fall's must-have dark plum tonest

In this past month alone, we have launched with ladies like Kate Richard at her Ladies Who Launch Incubator, sashayed in our party frocks at Detroit s top fashion source with celeb makeup artist, Scott Barnes, at this years Fash Bash, champagne toasted the premiere of Giorgio Arman Cosmetics (see pages 6-7 for more details) and the Armani Collection boutique at Saks Fifth Avenue, took in the top 10 Must-Haves at Parisian's Trend Seminar, and partied with the fashionista's at Marshall Field's Fashion Week.

We gave a $500 value DIOR gift basket to Kim and Brittney Hicks of Detroit, who attended our PINK Attitude by DIOR beauty events at 12 Oaks and Oakland Mall, Marshall Field's, and awarded 6 BigLove Detroit tees to lucky readers who told us how much they adore our fair city (see what they had to say in the sidebar on this page) PINK even passed along cool Benefit Speed Brow wands and High Brow pencils to reader Linda Kartes of Birmingham, who bagged 'brilliant benefits' by telling us to apply white vinegar to bare nails before polishing to make the polish last longer We can't believe it. but it really does

We had so much fun giving goodies away, that we'd like to do it again this month!

Check out the Biolage Bonanza Box on this page for details on how you can win

The biggest event, however, was the long-awaited arrival of PINK's Editor's son. Verick Scott came out bouncing Aug 18 and 18 growing strong - as he should like his name suggests Verick is an old German name meaning "protective ruler" and he is living up to that name by keeping Mommy on permanent waitress duty servin' up the milk' Yes, Verick is an unusual name as we have seen to be the new millennium trend - would you expect anything less from a fashionista?

Well, even though we miss our founding PINK Editor and newly tiara'ed Mommy around our PINK carpeted office, we know she is loving her new role as sassy, classy Mom and hope to make her proud taking care of her first baby, PINK.

KELLY'S.KLICKS

What's Haute for Fall What's in shoes and apparel) Totally

What's in this fall and where can I buy some key pieces?

Fall 2005 is all

about Bohemian romance, oversized everything, decadent elegance and full-on layering You'll notice five key trends this season and, luckily for us, they're all very pretty and all very wearable, available in every price range

Lush Velvets

What's more decadent than velvet? Exactly This season, velvet is popping up everywhere and you can get it in larger doses (think velvet bags, pants and blazers) or smaller doses (think velvet bows and trims on bags, haute? The velvet bags by Jana Feifer, $220 at janafeifer.com Looking for the Haute-for-Less version? Oldnavy.com has more than a handful of velvet bags, all less than $10, and aboutattitude.com has a Melie Bianco bag for $29 that's a great cross between the turquoise Jana Feifer and the lush Martine Sitbon, which high rollers can score for $450 at aloharag.com

Romantic Ruffles and Lace

Billowy blouses look anything but little girlish, and add the perfect twist of Victorian femininity to fall's more structured lines Where to score a beautiful blouse? Anthropologie.com carries a great selection The Country Estate Tieback by Blush by James Coviello is a gorgeous option ($148), combining silk, lace, ruffles and satin Head to rampage com and forever21.com for less costly alternatives

Cozy Cableknits and Crochet

Sweater dresses are back and cozier than ever, with cool cableknit patterns and crochet details Find fab ones at freepeople.com and urbanoutfitters.com But sweaters aren't the only things sporting cableknits this season The season's hottest IT bags are, too The Margaret Nicole oversized cableknit Bangle Bag ($200) sports another fall trend (huge, oversized, big and slouchy) and is a sweet addition to any wardrobe, available at margaretnicole.com Looking for a super luxe version? Valentino's cashmere flap bag is available for

$1,050 at bergdorfgoodman.com

Mesmerizing Metallics

Flashy sequins were all the rage the past few seasons and sparkle and shine are still holding out strong, just in a more subdued way Get your dose with a metallic handbag, belt or rawkin

Exotic Must-Have Skin Care

Last summer, a 25-year-old line of beauty products called Propoline by Apivita finally landed on our shores all the way from dreamy Greece I tried one product, then another, then another and now I am officially obsessed with every exotic treatment in the line Like my Rock & Republic jeans, big gold hoops and under eye concealer, I simply cannot live without a single ounce of this organic, nature-inspired line that insures jaw-dropping results from lusciously textured, sweetly scented and brightly packaged products There is something for everyone with mother-helpers like baby baths, the Multi-Mam Massage Cream to keep stretch marks at bay to hair-grow helpers for men and women' The face masks, the shampoos and conditioners, the body lotions they are all effectively divine

The cool thing is that many of the products come 'express" in single use packets — the perfect way to sample and take them on the road Be sure to get the Mask for Dry, Colored Hair and Split Ends and the Express Deep Face Scrub with Ohve — two of my favorites Oh, and all of the shower gels, shampoos and conditioners OK, I didn't care for the Dream Skin Night Care Cream- but that's it' Find your new addiction at Beauty First stores or at the Bath and Body Works at Somerset

Armani Cosmetics graces Saks Somerset

By k 🗱 Fashion & Beauty Editor

It is common for the grand design fashion houses to extend their finely honed brands to style every aspect of our lives, not only how we dress

Think Chanel and her fragrances and handbags, Versace and her dinnerware and crystal, Dior with his sunglasses and jewelry

It seems every fashion house has made a mark in all things style So why did it take Giorgio Armani so long to venture into the world of cosmetics when he has been doing readyto-wear for 30 years and fragrances since 1982?

One word Perfection

Armani is a well-known perfectionist that tailors like an architect with the eye of a panther, which means he can just as easily turn textures like the finest Italian gabardine or a bolt of buttery silk charmeuse into the most-coveted, sexy red carpet gown as well as a polished, yet easy work ensemble

He has a sixth sense that views a woman how she wishes to be seen and is able to translate that vision into discreetly sexy, gorgeously refined, modern, yet timeless clothing that is somehow a natural extension of a woman s body

Armani has now taken this simple, yet sophisticated approach and applied it to his Giorgio Armani Cosmetics collection, which made it's Michigan debut this month at Saks Fifth Avenue Somerset

How does all this talk of perfection, refined sensuality and divine textures relate to makeup?

Exactly that way The collection con-

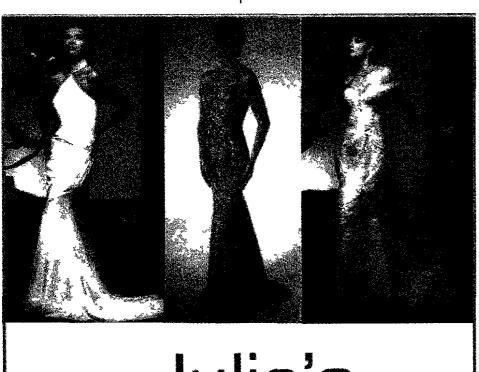

GET OFF THE DIET PILL sists of foundations that melt into your skin without a trace, but somehow leave you looking as if you just have perfect skin naturally, the color is full without ever looking garish, the wear is long and effortless

The new Armanı Cosmetics 'counter' is not really a counter at all, but more a modern experience of the senses with it's 'Face Designers instead of Beauty Advisors, vanity-like Chat Stations' with hydraulic leather chairs instead of stool-like seating alongside a glass countercase, and flat panel TVs pulsating with visuals to both inspire and soothe the psyche

Even the experience of smelling the four Prive scents — Armani s latest luxury fragrances including his very own signature scent — is offered through a laboratory-like olfacom technology 'bar, which expels puffs of dry air for each scent through individual tubes

This cosmetics 'counter' makes it easy to feel like James Bond's latest vixen

(which would probably be Michelle Pfeiffer, who is one of Mr Armani's more noted celeb clients), an uber-chic European socialite, and everyone's best friend all in one space

The biggest must-have within the line are the Fluid Sheers It would be a mistake to leave without a bottle in at least one shade These delicate liquids blend into foundation or highlight over cheek and collar bones in a way that will keep the other gals guessing what you did last night A few pumps of this silky, illuminating potion will put the glow in your day even if you think you don't have one

And, like all the packaging of the Armani Cosmetics collection, it will look elegantly modern on your vanity

Do also, pick-up a few eye pencils The shades are decadently rich and extremely wearable They are the first I ve found that actually keep their intensity in the place where I intended and not smudged elsewhere or disappeared altogether — just in time for more of fall's smoky eyes

With top-notch national artists like Tim Quinn — who has created looks for everyone from Julia Roberts, SJP, Mrs Affleck and Lucy Lui— to colors and textures that ooze modern aesthetic refinement and natural wear, you may just find yourself collecting the chic matte black tubes, pencils and compacts of Armani Cosmetics faster than you ll be intoxicated by a perfect vodka martini shaken not stirred

Go On, Spoil Me

Anything called 'Spoil Me', I'll try at least once Especially if it is packaged in a spray can that looks like it should be sold with batteries To further the innuendo, this product

IS meant to, ahem, be played with Honestly, you get different and always amazing results by usingTIGI BedHead Spoil Me in different ways — so indulge yourself and experiment

I most like to spray it all over nearly completely blowdried hair Then I turn on my ionic dryer agene and just keep combing my r air around — flipping the parts from side to side and the layers in different directions The results are gorgeously smooth, yet volumized with your layered sections looking as if sexy Jonathan Antin himself coiffed you in his Beverly Hills chair for hours It is truly incredible how the style holds with zero stickiness, making your mane look like it actually grew right out of the pages of Elle

Spoil Me is like a lightweight mousse, styling gel, smoother, texturizer and shineenhancing hair spray all in one

BOCCI SALON & SPA * STERLING HEIGHTS

Feminine hair color is dependent on textured layers, relying on varied lengths to showcase low and high lights. I recommend selecting a palette of least two complementary shades, but no more than five, to achieve the rich tones we see in this season's softer blonde, redhead and brunettes

Time to put the flat iron away Styling this season is about volume The best way to add volume is to use Bed Head's Superstar Thickening Blowdry Lotion or Headbanger Way-Out Wax, applying evenly to your layers and styling with a round brush directly from the root

A good hairstylist needs to communicate with you on the same level I encourage you to say what you feel without worry If she is good, she will listen You'll end up with a style that fits your lifestyle, not a shining example of her

Number Six Salon * Farmington Hills

There is no such thing as a "bad hair day" anymore The best cut is one that gives you variation in styling everyday Embrace that your hair SHOULD look a little different every day

Fringe is always in and this season we will be seeing it all Blunt fringe that frame beautiful faces and a sweeping fringe from seasons past. The Bohemian feel in fashion carries through to hair with no fringe at all Hair is parted center or just slightly off center and over-textured curl is the trend for the 2006 season Fused colors result in beautiful shade variations so that you can't tell where one color starts and another ends No more chunks or symmetrically placed highlights Instead, I love to add a crescent of highlights to the sweeping side of the hair and possibly an accent of the same highlight behind the opposite ear for something unexpected. Copper-brown is my favorite base color this fall. Its' rich vibrant color is perfect to cover that dull summer hair.

The key to good at-home styling is product, and proper distribution of that product 1 recommend Curls Rock Amplifier and Tigi's Curl Rock line to achieve that textured curl look for this season A blow-dryer diffuser, using soft air and heat pushes wave and adds movement to hair with little or no wave pattern resulting in defined texture 1 finish all styling by spraying Bed Heads' Headrush for shine 1t's weightless and when blown in shows off varying textures, letting light bounce off the hair for ultimate luster

The right stylist is one that is consistent in duplicating styles When choosing a stylist, make sure they are actively involved in on-going education so they can recommend the latest trends

Five wardrobe commandments

As the anchor of Bergdorf Goodman's personal shopping service, Betty Halbreich is indeed a saleswoman But she wants her chents to be smart shoppers and will even discourage a purchase that doesn't quite fit -- whether on their bodies or in their lives That's what keeps them coming back, she says

In her book Secrets of a Fashion Therapist What You Can Learn Behind the Dressing Room Door, she offers the five commandments of building a basic wardrobe

Don't try to buy it all in a lunch hour

■ No matter how "m' a certain weird color is this season, don't buy an expensive suit that shade and expect no one to notice when you wear it three times a week.

Shoes, a handbag and accessories are a vital part of even the most basic wardrobe

There's a difference between investment dressing and breaking the bank. Don't buy anything that will accumulate interest on your credit card for years before you will be able to pay it off

Buy the best you can reasonably afford Think quality If you can afford either a really good wool sweater or a poorly made cashmere one, get the wool

Scrapping your summer leftovers fter a whirlyind summer of sun, with the cool fan brush provided The kr

fter a whirlwind summer of sun, sunscreen, chlorine, bug spray, sweat, campfire smoke and cocktail sippin' it's safe to say your look could use a little pampering From newly visible sun-spots, to flaky dry skin, fine lines and moisture-zapped locks, take some time to rejuvenate your complexion and hair to keep glowing right on into the autumn months

Step #1 is to blast away damaged surface layers of skin with Lancome's

Resurface Peel kit ($145 at Parisian) It is effective and just intense enough to get major results without leaving you more red in the face than when you started Sweep the Prep Towlettes over you face and then the Renewing Peel is applied with the cool fan brush provided The kit even comes with Soothing Clothes to remove the peel and a post Comforting Cream to keep you balanced and protected. Use this glycolic acid with Physio-Peel Enhancer twice a week for four weeks and lose the skin damage Summer 2005 left you lamenting

📓 By k

Next, add a product that will even out any discoloration or sunspots that developed over the lazy days of summer The Lancome Peel will certainly help to lighten them, but products like SkinCeuticals Phyto Corrective Gel ($45 at Beauty First stores) which boasts anti-inflammatory, calming and soothing properties in addition to its plant extracts that help minimize discoloration, will target the problem with more dramatic results For tough spots, DDF makes Intensive Holistic Lightener

Corrector Swabs ($42 at Sephora) that combine six ingredients to power out spots with a hygienic, one-time use swab applicator

Keep your newfound autumn glow going with Neutrogena's Healthy Skin Visibly Even Foaming Cleanser ($6 99 at drugstores) This rich, creamy lathering cleanser will keep the refined texture the Resurface Peel gave and the sunspot free evenness DDF and SkinCeuticals blessed you with Use it nightly to maintain a smooth, brighter, more radiant complexion The only caveat is that it is not so good at removing eye make-up, so pick up Laura Mercier's Eye Makeup Remover ($18 at Ruby's Balm)

To get locks back to their pre-August glossy glory, try the new Kerastase Reflection pink line The collection is specifically formulated for revive parched hair and give it a no comparison to Charlie, sheen that dry hair products alone cannot achieve Pick-up the Reflection Chroma Reflect Masque ($60 at Liquid Salon) and dazzle the heck out of morning traffic.

BY SAMANTHA CRITCHELL W AP FASHION WRITER

1ane von Furstenberg spent three decades making the case that women can be sexy, strong and successful

Life as an "It girl," mother and fashion force made her the living proof The material evidence? A 1976 issue of Newsweek, which featured the then-29year-old designer on the cover after she sold 5 million wrap dresses in her first four years in business

Recently, the Council of Fashion Designers of America handed von Furstenberg a lifetime achievement award She wore a long, black wrap gown with a lace camisole peeking out to accept the trophy at a black-tie gala

The award was for more than the wrap dress and her commercial success, according to CFDA

Executive Director Peter Arnold "Here is somebody who truly has had a lifetime contribution in the world in fashion," he says "She's central to our industry, she was a huge starter out of the gate, went through tough times and is back in a big way She's a sign of longevity and true talent, and she's a fashion icon at the same time, a mover and shaker, and always willing to nurture new talent"

Von Furstenberg says she's honored, of course, to be recognized by people she considers both competitors and colleagues, but the award isn't the crowning jewel for her She loves her work and plans to be at it for years to come There's stores to be opened in Los Angeles and Hong Kong this year and another in Tokyo in 2006 More importantly, there is a new generation of women out there for her to counsel

"I want the message for everyone to be _ for everyone to pass on _ don't be afraid of your strength Enjoy your strength," von Furstenberg savs

Her most successful styles have been the ones that embrace the complexity of modern women who, like herself, want to be able to both move and shake, conversely, she says she'd never try to design menswear because she wouldn't fully understand the customer

Von Furstenberg doesn't even give fashion advice to her husband of almost four years, media mogul Barry Diller, although "I make fun of him if I don't like it,' she says with a laugh

When Diane von Furstenberg first emerged on the New York fashion scene in 1972 she was married to Prince Egon von Furstenberg, a European royal and an up-and-coming designer himself. But it was Diane who became the household name because she tapped into a need among women of that era who wanted to an up-and-coming designer himself But it was Diane who became the household name because she tapped into a need among women of that era who wanted to flaunt their feminine side along with their newfound independence

There had been socialite designers before _ Lucille who was also Lady Duff Gordon and Elsa Schiaparelli _ but von Furstenberg blended 'Warholian celebrity, exotic beauty and business savvy," says Harold Koda, curator in charge of the Costume Institute at the Metropolitan Museum of Art

"At a time when a number of others were working in jersey, von Furstenberg merged a kind of Old World, haute bourgeois propriety, with a distinctly un-American sense of the female form Her dresses were definitely not Puritanical, nor were they explicitly sexualized," Koda describes

Von Furstenberg walked away from her business, though, in the 1980s after it got too big with licenses and ancillary products She also was divorced

She spent the next few years shuttling between Paris, where she founded a publishing house, and her rural Connecticut estate where she was raising her son and daughter It's the place she still calls 'home,' since it's where her family gathers for holidays, it's where she keeps her most prized possession _ her books _ and it's where she gardens

Family is very important to von Furstenberg and her office 1s filled with snapshots, many taken with the little Contax camera that she always has in her bag (She has tried several digital cameras but always goes back to film)

Her late mother Lıly was a survivor of the Nazi concentration camps and "fear " and "impossible" were two words the woman dıdn't know, recalls von Furstenberg "A lot of my character comes from her"

In the 1990s, von Furstenberg got the itch to get back into fashion She also thought the marketplace needed the same spirit, the same message and, quite frankly, the same dress silhouette that was her trademark "I saw young girls of my daughter's generation buying my dresses in vintage shops The dresses were young and hip so I started again with the essences that I had started with," she says

"Even though I'm a grandmother now, Diane von Furstenberg 1s a young brand It's for the woman I wanted to be, that I became and that I still am"

Her clothes are purposely positioned to be in luxury stores but at a more affordable price point than many of the other designer labels She says she likes to peek into her boutiques _ the one in Manhattan is at the ground level of her studio _ to see who is shopping there

However, she does not enjoy shopping for herself Her wardrobe is almost entirely Diane von Furstenberg dresses, save some coats, sweaters and Juicy Couture pajama-style pants

From her upcoming fall collection, dubbed "Winter Palace" and inspired by heroines of Russian literature, von Furstenberg's favorite pieces are the jacquard knit suits, prints inspired by the handicrafts of Uzbekistan and the "revolutionary wrap," an updated version of the dress with short sleeves, pockets and epaulets

Would there ever be a von Furstenberg collection without a wrap dress?

"No, I don't think so"

She adds "I didn't think the dress would be a social phenomenon, but it didn't happen just once, it happened twice I think it offers a freedom, an easiness and a way of showing your body in a flattering way that women just respond to "
