Rotarian takes role in Myanmar relief

those reasons.

BY TONY BRUSCATO
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Plymouth resident Patrick Olson is one of two Americans on a specially trained, four-person team scheduled to leave Wednesday from East Midlands, England, to help with relief efforts in cyclone-ravaged Myanmar.

Olson — a Plymouth A.M. Rotary Club member — is part of a response team from ShelterBox, a grass-roots disaster relief organization supported by Rotary clubs throughout the world. The organization was one of the first outside relief organizations to be allowed in the country, where last week's cyclone killed an estimated 100,000 people and left more than one million homeless.

"I have a mixture of feelings, but we have a very focused mission and we're For more on this story, go to www.hometownlife.com going to hit the ground and execute that mission," Olson said in a telephone interview Wednesday morning, just hours before departing for Myanmar with 55 tons of relief supplies. "We'll make every effort to ensure they get where they are supposed to go and the end-users benefit by them."

According to Rotary International in Evanston, Ill., the team will arrive with 1,000 ShelterBox containers that include tents, blankets, multi-fueled stoves, water purification kits, tools and other necessities. Each container is equipped to help a family of 10 survive for six months. The team will support ShelterBox volunteers from England who have been in Yangon, Myanmar, for a week distributing an initial shipment of 644 ShelterBox containers.

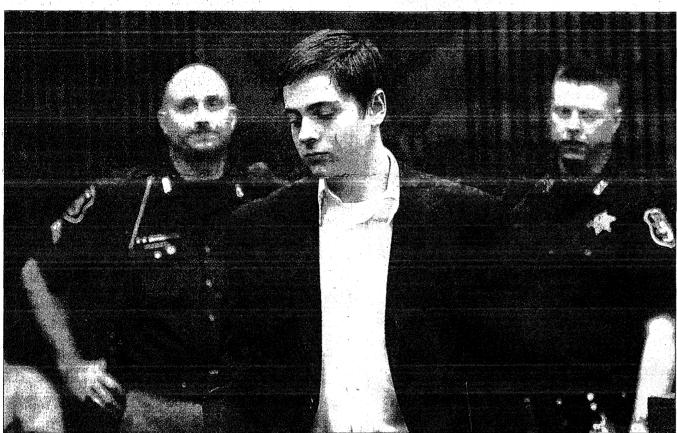

"My interest in ShelterBox grew from their business model," Olson said. "They've been involved in dozens of deployments in 44 countries, and very often they are the first people on the ground, sometimes in advance of the local authorities. They aren't a governmental, religious or political organization, simply a very focused and effective relief organization ... I wanted to be part of that for

"There may be some risk, but they are mitigated by good training and experience," he added. "I'll be joining a team already on the ground that has developed some good relationships in Myanmar. I wouldn't consider it dangerous, but a critical situation to get supplies to people who need them as quickly as possible."

Olson, 47, said he expects to be deployed in Myanmar for at least two weeks.

Jean Pierre Orlewicz enters the courtroom for his sentencing. he was sentenced to life without parole on the first-degree and felony murder charges, plus 50 months to 10 years for mutilating a body.

Calling his actions "evil" and expressing gratitude for the jury that convicted him, Wayne Circuit Court Judge Annette Berry did the only thing she could do under Michigan law following Jean Pierre Orlewicz's conviction last month.

She sent him to prison for the rest

Berry on Monday sentenced Orlewicz, the 18-year-old from Plymouth Township, to life sentences without possibility of parole on the first-degree and felony murder counts on which a jury last month convicted Orlewicz in the stabbing, beheading and dismemberment of 26-year-old Daniel Sorensen of River Rouge.

And, while Orlewicz stood silently before her, speaking only to answer questions, Berry had plenty to say.
"It's still hard for the court to fathom why someone would do something as heinous and evil as what you have done," Berry told Orlewicz. "There is a difference between mental illness and evil ...
your actions are tantamount to evil.

"I'm grateful the jury convicted you," she added. "I'm grateful you are going away for the rest of your life. I believe you would have killed again."

Orlewicz repeatedly stabbed Sorensen in his grandfather's Canton garage Nov. 7, then burned his fingertips with a blow-torch in an effort to hide the identity. He then beheaded Sorensen and dumped his body in a Northville Township field, setting it on fire. He then dumped Sorensen's head in the Rouge River.

Orlewicz claimed self-defense, but a

Hopefuls beat the clock to get on election ballot

Voters are going to need a scorecard to tell the players when they're trying to decide for whom to vote in the Plymouth Township election.

Fourteen potential candidates for the seven seats on the Plymouth Township board beat the 4 p.m. Tuesday deadline to file. That number includes six people - with one Democrat - running for supervisor.

Five candidates - notably missing among them incumbent Charles Curmi - filed for the four trustee seats. Township treasurer Ron Edwards will run unopposed, and there's a two-person race to replace clerk Marilyn Massengill.

That doesn't mean, though, Massengill's name won't be on the ballot. She's one of the five Republicans who filed in the supervisor's race. However, she

ArtFeast to feature dozens of artists including a dog BY TONY BRUSCATO OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Among the dozens of artists being displayed at this weekend's ArtFeast in downtown Plymouth will be one that only goes by her first name - Annie - who is Plymouth photographer Jill Andra Young's 13-year-old Basenji dog.

"We put newspaper on the floor and then a large piece of water color paper, watercolor paints and cheese treats," said Young. "We then entice Annie with a cheese treat to walk across the paper, and as she dances across the paper a painting is created. The result are beautiful abstract paintings." Young will have Annie's paintings on display in

photography studio during ArtFeast, which runs Friday from 6-9 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council, ArtFeast is a gallery walk at the PCAC and 26 Plymouth businesses, with artists including glassblowers, potters, chalk artists, balloon twisters and musicians - at each location. On Friday night, patrons can board a trolley from Michigan Made on Ann Arbor Trail and make the circle to Greko Printing & Imaging, The Glassworks, the PCAC. Those who attend the event can obtain a passport and have it stamped in at least 12 locations to be eligible to win a piece of art.

Nearly 700 people passed through Showcase Plymouth, the annual networking opportunity for nearly 80 exhibitors, at The Inn at St. John's Monday.

'We had a record number of vendors and a huge turnout," said Wes Graff, executive director of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, which hosts the event. "It's great to see the community coming together.

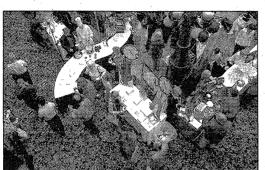

"Hopefully, people will use a lot of the businesses they see and support the local economy," he said. "We're hoping to generate a lot of activity." Paul Mix, the assistant manager of Jet's Pizza at Five Mile and Haggerty roads, said Showcase Plymouth always helps his business. "Last year after the event, we had a huge increase in sales," said Mix, who was handing out samples of cheese, pepperoni and barbecue chicken pizzas. "It seems to get the word out that we're out here.' Joe Gentilcore celebrated his 75th birthday jury didn't buy it and, after some 12 hours of deliberation, found him guilty on all counts April 16. Orlewicz's attorney, James

Thomas, said he'll appeal. 'We have issues (to appeal)," Thomas said. "We had a position in this case it was self-defense. We still think that." Sorensen's parents, James and Kimberly Sorensen of Westland, never believed that defense, and nothing has happened to change their mind. Orlewicz's former co-defendant, Alexander Letkemann of Westland, described the crime in horrific detail during the trial, after having pleaded guilty to seconddegree murder in the case.

Letkemann is serving a sentence of 20-30 years. The Sorensens have forgiven him his role and, at his sentencing last month, praised Letkemann's decision to "accept responsibility" for his actions. They had no such kind words Monday for Orlewicz.

"Even a person who takes a life in self-defense will express horror and remorse," James Sorensen said. "There has been no remorse, no sorrow ... only the arrogance of not wanting to be punished for his actions. When he was caught (Orlewicz) took the ultimate act of cowardice and refused to take accountability.'

James Sorensen said he'd heard "the pundits" on television saying 18 years old is too young an age to send someone away for the rest of their lives.

"I disagree," Sorensen said. "The heinous nature of this crime shows Mr. Orlewicz should never be allowed to live among us again." Still, Kimberly Sorensen admitted she can't conjure up any hatred for Orlewicz.

"(Orlewicz) threw everything away when he decided my son's life was not of any value," she said. "The lives he has affected, the pain and terror he brought upon my son ... I look at this young man and I can't bring myself to hate him.

"I hate what he did," she added. "This has altered our lives for the remainder of our days."

has until the Friday deadline to withdraw, a decision she said she hasn't quite made.

"Right at this moment, nothing's in stone," Massengill said. "By Friday I will either withdraw or I will go for it and I will go for it 100 percent. I didn't want to cut it off at this point and not be secure in the decision I was making, I decided to go ahead and submit the petitions, think about it a little more and make up my mind by Friday.'

Other supervisor candidates include the lone Democrat, Mike Watts (he of Plymouth Ice Festival fame), and incumbent supervisor Richard Reaume, Plymouth-Canton school board member Dianne Gonzalez, and former trustees K.C. Mueller and Abe Munfakh.

Munfakh will have to make a decision on which office to seek; he filed petitions for the supervisor's race and for the Republican nomination to run against incumbent State Rep. Marc Corriveau. the Northville Democrat who holds the 20th House District seat. Munfakh, who was out of town Tuesday, said he'll decide by Friday which petition to drop.

In the 20th House race, Corriveau is the only Democrat. Jerry Vorva will battle Munfakh (if he stays in) for the Republican nod.

The clerk's race will feature deputy clerk Joe Bridgman, appointed by Massengill in March 2003, against Mary Ann Prchlik.

Production company still seeks Plymouth foothold

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Craig Hane is a patient man. That's why he isn't panicking just because his pet project, Plymouth production company Barefoot Productions, has struggled to establish itself. having had to cancel a couple of shows since its 2006 debut. Hane and the bevy of volunteers on whom he counts to keep Barefoot running have simply plugged along, slowly getting the foothold Hane hoped to grab in his hometown. It isn't quite the Jeff Daniels theater, Purple Rose in Chelsea, but Hane believes it'll get there — eventually.

"I know it takes time to get established, and I have the patience to get there," said Hane, a Farmington Hills native who has lived in Plymouth three years. "I've got people who think, 'We need to be the Purple Rose,' but they've been around 17 years. I know it takes time."

Despite the fact Barefoot had to cancel shows in December and February, Hane is encouraged by early returns on his latest production, Agatha Christie's Black Coffee.

Barefoot Productions was set to present Stephen King's 'Misery' in October 2007, but cancelled the show.

which opened last weekend in the company's new home, the old Walker-Buzenberg furniture store on Main Street near the railroad tracks.

Black Coffee, Barefoot's first production to stretch into two weekends, opened with a solid showing, and better crowds are expected when it ends its run Friday-Sunday. That's not bad, considering the last production to actually hit the stage, Stephen King's Misery in October, played to a total of 41 people over three shows (including just nine for its opening).

"Black Coffee is so important to us because it's a chance to say, 'We are here, and we're not going anywhere," Hane said. 'It's not make or break, but it's important to let people know we're still here.'

There have been some changes. Barefoot started on a shoestring budget, funded entirely by its ticket sales, with a meager $500 budget for its first show in October 2006. Budgets for other productions have ranged from $700 to $1,300, which is "still not a lot," according to Hane.

But the company recently gained nonprofit 501(c)3 status, meaning it can take advantage of donations, sponsorships and patronage. Questions of support were eased a little by a recent fundraiser at Ernesto's, which hosted a silent auction and winetasting to benefit Barefoot. According to Hane, only 100 tickets were printed, and 88 of those sold.

"I thought it would be mostly family and friends (attending), but it wasn't," Hane said. "I was overwhelmed by all the people coming in."

Barefoot has overcome other hurdles. For instance, actors had been rehearsing in the upper level at the Book Cellar & Cafe in downtown Plymouth, but showed up one night only to find the store had closed. The company scrambled to find a new rehearsal space, and were gratified when Lotus Arts Gallery owner Walt Menard offered a vacant space next to his gallery, free of charge.

They've also found a new home for their productions in the Walker-Buzenberg building. Like Menard, owners offered its use at no charge (Barefoot has to reimburse owners for utilities). Having its own venue has advantages over its previous site at the Plymouth Historical Museum.

"We couldn't leave our sets up at the museum, but with our own little building, we can do that," Hane said. "Our sets can be bigger. We designed a set (for Black Coffee) it took us a month to build.

Actors in Barefoot are volunteers, but Hane tries to push them at professional levels. He holds open auditions for his productions, though he does "pre-cast" some roles with actors with whose work he's familiar.

"I'm trying to raise the bar on community theater," Hane said. "I'm trying to keep Barefoot a professional company with amateur volunteers. It's a little stricter, but the product will be better for it."

There is support for Barefoot from other artists. Barbara Bloom, president of the Spotlight Players (formerly the Plymouth Theater Guild), which holds four productions a year at the Village Theater at Cherry Hill in Canton, said when Barefoot opened there is room for more live theater in the Plymouth and Canton communities.

"I'd like to see one on every corner," Bloom said. "I think Plymouth is a viable area for something like that."

Hane still believes it's true. He said he's had offers to move Barefoot to Northville and Canton, but has eschewed them in favor of building the company's reputation in Plymouth.

"My goal is to find a space within walking distance of (Kellogg Park)," Hane said. "I want people to be able to come downtown for dinner, then come to take in our show. I'm not frustrated. I staged my first show in 1980, so I'm not in a rush."

School board closes out year of budget, hiring decisions

It was a pretty busy year for the Plymouth-Canton Schools Board of Education, with budget problems, the loss of their popular superintendent and a variety of other issues with which to deal.

The district opened the year in the aftermath of two failed bond proposals, faced with making some personnel and budget cuts. That's nothing new; the board has cut some $12 million from its budget over the last five

But the board also started the year knowing it had to replace retiring Superintendent Dr. Jim Ryan, the popular face of the district. The board hired a search firm to handle the process.

As a result, the board found their man: Craig Fiegel, voting unanimously to hire the superintendent of Evergreen Park (Ill.) Elementary School District 124.

More recently, the board is dealing with another $3 million in cuts to the budget.

Here's a look at the seven board members making all these decisions:

Judy Mardigian

■ Residence: Plymouth Township* Family: Married to husband Si Nahra for 25 years. We have a son Charlie junior at MSU and daughter Sandy, who is a senior at Salem High School. She will be attending Albion College this fall.

■ Education: B.A. social science from Michigan State University. Postgraduate

Mardigian

Michigan firm specializing in Administrative Overpayment and Dependent

Eligibility Audits since 1986.

■ When were you first elected? I joined the board in 1998 through an appointment to fill the seat vacated by Jack Farrow. I have been elected three times since. I am currently board president and the most senior board member.

■ What originally made you want

I developed an interest in PCCS when my children first entered the school district. I was an involved parent, co-chairing the Class Size Action Partnership for several years. I also served on the district's Citizen's Finance and Long Range Planning Committees prior to running for the board.

I decided to run again because of my desire to see that the children of our district to get the best education possible. Given our state's economic climate, state funding for public schools has not been keeping pace with inflation. It takes experience and creative minds to make sure that cuts stay as far away from the class room as possible. I have found school board to be one of the most rewarding experiences of my life.

■ What are the big issues your board faces?

Two: 1) Continue to raise academic achievement for all students. We have made tremendous progress, but need to focus on achievement with all students, especially those with special needs or students that are struggling. Our new state graduation requirements for the class of 2011 will stretch our students to attain higher levels of achievement.

While this is a very good thing, it will require extra instruction for many students.

2) Attaining a balanced budget. Years of inequitable funding from the state, and funding that has not kept up with the rate of inflation, has made our district's finances very challenging. We made $12 million in cuts over the past five years and expect to cut another $3 million in 2008-2009. With solid leadership from our administrative team and board, we may possible attain or come very close to a balanced budget next year.

■ Where were you on moving the election?

I was in favor of moving to oddyear elections and holding them with Schoolcraft College because it saved the district money (a twothirds reduction over 2007 election

November elections have a tendency to be very full ballots. My concern (shared by the Michigan Clerks Association) is that School Board elections would be placed at the bottom of the ballot, and many people would not make their way to the end of the ballot. We also expect the legislators to act on this issue

What did you think was the most important attribute for the new superintendent to have, and why do you think Craig Fiegel has

I believe a superintendent needs to have a strong knowledge and demonstrated competency in key areas of school operations such as curriculum /instruction, finance, housing and construction and community relations.

Some superintendents stand apart from others because of their personal qualities such as honesty and integrity. Dr. Fiegel certainly has a strong background in the key areas, but more importantly, he is very well regarded and respected by those that have worked with and been served by him.

■ What do you like to do in your spare time?

I love spending time with my family. I also love cooking, gardening and outings with my friends. ■ What's the last good movie you

Bonneville. Not many people saw it. Wonderful movie about friendship and promises kept, starring Jessica Lange, Joan Allen and Kathy Bates. It was a hoot! If you had the power to change one thing, what would it be?

Right now, improve the economy, everywhere, but especially in Michigan. Michigan offers a wonderful quality of life but needs to be rejuvenated through economic diversification and promotion of tourism, our "North Coast." It breaks my heart to see so many of our children grow up and have to move away from their families in order to get a job. So many families are struggling in this economy as evidenced by jobless rates, foreclosures and lack of health care. We can and should be doing better here

■ If you could sit down for a onehour conversation with one person,

My mom, Louise Mardigian. I lost her too early in life and would love to sit down with her at her kitchen table, over a cup of coffee and talk for hours. She was someone really special.

Tom Wysocki

■ Residence: Plymouth ■ Family: Wife Edie, son Joe Wysocki, daughter Erin (Mike)

■ Education: BS, ChE, Wayne

■ When were you first elected? What originally made you want to run?

State University,

I had been very active with the Plymouth Canton Wysocki Band Boosters since 1996. In 2000 and 2001 I had been going to School Board meetings to lobby for additional funding for the band programs. I also served on the Educational Specifications Committee for the new high school (now Plymouth High School). I was interested in expanding these interests to a district level and thought if Roland Thomas was not running for re-election, there would be a good chance of getting elected. I learned a lot in my first term and thought I could be more effective in a second

■ What are the big issues your board faces?

Funding is the main one and it impacts almost all the rest.

■ Where were you on moving the election?

I was not in favor of moving the election. My position was to keep the annual elections to give voters more opportunities to vote. Your vote counts and you should use it as much as you can. I am in favor of driving the municipalities, who now run the elections, to bring down the cost of elections.

■ What did you think was the most important attribute for the new superintendent to have, and why do you think Craig Fiegel has

Dr. Fiegel demonstrated a very collaborative style in his interviews and in his interpersonal relationships. The emotions of the people I met in his current district confirmed that this is the person we need for Plymouth-Canton. He will invest himself in our district and it should pay huge dividends.

■ What do you like to do in your

I like to recreationally read but it will be in bursts, completing one or two books and then taking maybe several months before I latch unto another book. I read the newspapers every day and technical information related to my profession and school board matters nearly every day. I also do some writing, publishing newsletters to a select group of people and I've written a book, not published, on water chemistry for fossil fueled power plants. I also like to golf and used to play softball. I enjoy listening to Broadway show tunes and I do watch dvr'd American Idol shows. I've downloaded Brooke White to my iPod. I like to fish but only from a little row boat on a nice calm, clear day. I always enjoy watching the Tigers play, no matter how good or bad they are at the time and I really enjoy swimming in Lake Michigan. Last but not least, I love to spend dered what had been discussed. ■ What are the big issues your board faces? The biggest issue is maintaining academic excellence in an era of declining funding.

■ Where were you on moving the election?

I wanted to change the election date to odd year May in order to save $75,000 annually for the district. I think it is a good interim step and I suspect the state may step in and change this before we have another election.

■ What did you think was the most important attribute for the new superintendent to have, and why do you think Craig Fiegel has it?

To me it was most important to have someone with a strong financial background to help us with our budget issues. What do you like to do in your spare time?

I love to spend time with my family and I love running. We did the Turkey Trot in downtown Detroit in 2007 as a family. It was a great moment. A cold one, but really fun. ■ What's the last good movie you

I would wish that as a society we held all children to the light and appreciated them with the same fierceness that people feel toward athletic events and superstars. It would make for a better world.

■ If you could sit down for a onehour conversation with one person, who would it be?

In a perfect world, someone inspirational like Maya Angelou or Oprah Winfrey. But in reality, with our schedules as hectic as they are, one quiet, quality hour with my husband while we are both fresh and awake would be great!!

■ What originally made you want to run? My work is global, not local. I looked for a way to volunteer my time that would allow me to become more in touch with my community. This position has enabled me to do that.  $\blacksquare$  What are the big issues your board faces? Financial issues are the biggest. We have a good handle on how to maintain and increase student achievement. We have made great strides in that area. However, the lack of sufficient state funding makes all district activities (which benefit our students)

difficult to maintain. ■ Where were you on moving the election? I began my 2007 Observer editorial by stating that I know politics play a part in school board elections and activities. However, I don't believe that political parties (Democratic or Republican) should be involved, since board members don't run attached to a party. Even year November elections would incent political parties to become involved in School Board elections as they could successfully fund candidates who would then be indebted to those parties. I am glad we found a solution that saves the district 2/3 of the election costs, yet still maintains the credibility of the elections and continues to allow local citizens to run successfully without big time funding. What's the most important attribute you want the new superintendent to have? Someone who is a good listener and is not afraid to make difficult decisions.

MESP represents a smart and flexible gift for graduates

igh school seniors will be graduating soon and taking the first step into adulthood. Many will continue to pursue their education. Whether it is through a trade school or a university, one thing is for sure — the cost of an education continues to rise. So instead of a gift card or cash, an alternative gift may be a contribution into a 529 Plan on behalf of the graduate.

A 529 is an investment plan for post-high school education. It allows you to invest money that grows tax free. When money is withdrawn from the plan there are no tax consequences as long as it is used for qualified education

Rick Bloom

Although,
most people believe that a qualified education expense

is basically

room, board.

tuition, books

529 Plan can only be used for college, that is not the case. Many business trade, technical and vocational schools also qualify for 529 money.

Unfortunately, not all 529 Plans are the same and therefore it is important to contribute to the right plan. I recommend the Michigan Education Savings Plan (MESP, www. misaves.com). One of the main reasons is MESP's flexibility. A student can use money within the MESP for basically any public or private institution in the country. In fact, there are numerous foreign institutions that also qualify. In addition, monies can also be used for grad school and for continuing education. Some 529 Plans are

AFFORDABLE GIFT

the MESP.

One of the great things about MESP is it takes only limited in their scope, but not a $25 minimum to establish a plan. Therefore, it's a gift that's affordable to all. I recommend a group of families and friends get together and pool their money and contribute into one MESP plan for the graduate.

In all 529 Plans, there are established portfolios for you to choose from. There is a very conservative option (guaranteed option), a more aggressive option (the 100 percent equity option) and also a variety of other investment selections.

One of the beauties of the MESP is it is a very low cost investment (one of the lowest cost plans in the country) and has no commissions. My philosophy has always been that you should not pay fees when you don't have to.

We all know how important it is for someone to continue their education past high school. We are in a global economy and we are competing for jobs all around the world. The only way for individuals to be able to compete in this global economy is with a good post-high school education and that is exactly what you can help contribute to by considering the gift of an education this graduation season.

Another subtle benefit to a 529 Plan is it shows the graduate how important an education is and the priority you are placing on it.

I cannot think of a better investment for the high school graduate than in continuing to pursue their education. The Michigan Education Savings Plan is an investment vehicle that definitely deserves your consideration.

Bowling benefit to raise money for scholarships

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Trish Geick and her husband Paul are looking forward to Bowling for Brian, their annual benefit in honor of their 18-year-old son who died July 3, 2005, eight days after a heart transplant. So far the Canton couple has been able to help four students pursue their dream of going to college with proceeds raised at the event. The third annual day of fun takes place Sunday, May 18, at Oaklane Bowling Alley in Westland.

Last year the Geicks raised $4,000 for scholarships that went to Megan Luther (Eastern Michigan University) and Kelsie Michalsen (Western Michigan University) through the Educational Excellence Foundation, a nonprofit organization that supports educational programs in Plymouth-Canton Community Schools including special education.

Proceeds from the first Bowling for Brian in May 2006 went to Sorin Oprican (Schoolcraft College).

"It's a nice way to remember our son," said Trish Geick. "Our son was born in the spring. We do it in May because he would be in college right now and all the college kids are home and can come.

"Each year the response gets bet-

In addition to bowling three games, participants have a chance to win door prizes, take part in a raffle or bid on silent auction items, each valued at over $100.

Brian liked bowling.

"Brian had strokes when he was little and had a right side deficit but could bowl. He took an independent study right before he died, bowling," said Geick."

Police officers deserve thanks

Any given day or week of the year is set aside to recognize a person, place or thing. Some observances are little known, like National Revise Your Work Schedule Month and National Fairy Godmother Week. Others are more recognizable, such as National Hamburger Month and Teacher Appreciation Week.

Hidden in these many observances is one that's important, but doesn't get the recognition it rightly deserves National Police Week. This is the week and today (May 15) is the day that was set aside by President John F. Kennedy in 1962 to honor police officers who serve and those who have lost their lives in the line of duty.

Police officers play an essential role in safeguarding our rights and freedoms by protecting us against violence and disorder, deception and oppression. There are plenty of hazards. In fact, a police officer dies in the line of duty every 57 hours in this country.

Thankfully, neither Plymouth nor Plymouth Township lost an officer in 2007. That cannot be said for other communities. According to preliminary statistics from the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund and Concerns of Police Survivors, 186 officers were killed nationwide in 2007. Outside of 2001, when 239 officers died - 72 in the 9/11 terrorist attacks - 2007 is the deadliest year for American law enforcement since 1989.

The number of officers killed by gunfire and in trafficrelated incidents reached a record high of 81. Sixty-nine officers were shot and killed, including a shooting that killed three Odessa, Texas, police officers.

Police work isn't a glamorous job, and it takes a special kind of person to be able to deal with the good, the bad and the ugly in a community. The job is fraught with hazards and sacrifices the police officers encounter on a

We may not always agree with what our police officers do — we doubt there is anyone who is in agreement with they ticket they've gotten — but we need to acknowledge that they do provide a vital public service. We can walk down our streets, live in our houses and shop at our neighborhood stores in relative peace and tranquility because of them. And if that peace and tranquility is disrupted, they are there to set things right.

We ask residents to join us in applauding the work of our Plymouth and Plymouth Township police officers and to pray they will continue to be safe from harm. It is not an easy job, someone has to do it, and we think we have the best people doing that job here in the Plymouth community.

Big effort needed to keep spring rites safe

Thousands of area teens in the coming weeks will participate in the traditional rites of passage of prom and graduation.

Spring is a time of celebration, and our young people have every right to enjoy themselves at prom and graduation parties. These events mark the last time many of them will be together, before they head off into the scary world of adulthood.

As parents, the best gift we can give our graduates and their friends is a safe and healthy environment for the celebrations. All too often, parents either look the other way when alcohol is present at these parties or, in the worstcase scenario, actually furnish booze for the bash.

These graduates may look like full-grown adults on the outside, but many times they have not reached a level of maturity to deal with alcohol use. It is not enough to simply remind our teens that underage drinking is against the law and send them on their way.

Parents need to have frank discussions about the consequences of using alcohol and, worse, drinking and driving. For underclassmen, being caught in possession can bring school suspension and a quick end to a high school sports career. It can also lead to problems when applying for col-

Parents need to ask questions when their son or daughter heads off to prom or a graduation party. Will the party have adult supervision? Is drinking permitted in the home? Is there an after-party scheduled and, if so, where?

Most important, parents can help their teens avoid potentially dangerous situations by assuring them that if they find themselves in trouble, they can call for a ride home with no questions asked and no attached lecture.

If a teen feels they will be punished for drinking, or being at a party where alcohol is being served, they are less likely to reach out to a parent for help. Knowing ahead of time they will be supported will go a long way toward ensuring your teen makes the right decision and makes that critical phone call.

Spring is a time for new beginnings. Teens and their parents need to work together to guard against a tragic ending.

Still good kids

This is just a note to let you know there are still good — really good — teenagers

Yesterday, while I was very busy taking care of my 91-year-old mother, who has dementia, I received a phone call from my grandson, Tyler Randazzo, saying he forgot to take his medication that a.m., and wold I please go to his house, find it, and bring it to him. I did and, joking, said, "You owe me a grass cutting job."

When I returned home 13 hours later from taking mother shopping, to lunch and a hair appointment, Tyler had taken a special bus to my house and already had fixed my lawn mower (it wouldn't start) and was cutting the grass.

I was surprised, to say the least. Next, there was a "free" bike sitting on my neighbor's yard. He took it, cleaned it up, walked it to the gas station and put air in the tires. I thought he did this so he could have something to ride at my house. No! He did this to give it to a man in his neighborhood who had recently had an accident involving his bike, and he has no money for a new one.

What a thoughtful, unselfish act from a boy 13 years old. Tyler Randazzo is a great kid!

Raising our children

We, the community, must take responsibility for how we raise our children. The death of Daniel Sorensen was a tragic loss for the family and the community. Is this the tip of the iceberg? We need to think, plan and act to prevent this from occurring again.

Where do our children learn or fail to learn that life has no value or that money has power over us? Where do our children learn we can talk about killing someone and be desensitized to it? Where is the reality and the virtual reality getting mixed up?

When do the children stand up and tell someone something is wrong?

Our children are exposed to violence in computer games, movies, TV shows. The Space Odyssey 2001 has arrived, the character of the computer is in our home, schools, and in hand-held toys. Our children are exposed to this mentality 24/7.

How can the community get control

Parents cannot do it alone. We can teach it, but media makes fools of parents (i.e., The Simpsons). We can show good examples, but the computer age has got their attention.

We can teach moral standards in the home, and at our place of worship, but not in school. The media is ruled by

There is no accountability for moral values. Swearing and harassment in songs, on the media and in school should stop.

We need to stand up for what we believe in. We all have a soul, a purpose, a unique character and talents. How can we teach the value each one of us has, if it is whipped as a religious belief and discarded?

mean remove moral standards from our life. America was founded on Christian moral values. Prayer was acceptable and encouraged. Has anyone been harmed by prayer?

George Washington in his farewell address said it best: "Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

We need to pay attention to who we vote into any office. We need leadership with moral character and back bone. We need a long range plan. Do not be quiet any more. Invite the children to take charge of this problem. They are living this reality, or virtual reality.

Foolish and short-sighted

So big deal; or score a point for the severely multiple-impaired programs who won't see their classrooms burgeon

Are parents supposed to bow down and thank the Wayne RESA and Mark Francis, director of special education, for bowing to strong grassroots advocacy and media attention on the most limited population of students in special education while larger populations like emotionally impaired and speech and language are thrown under the yellow school bus?

The Wayne RESA plan, if approved by Superintendent Flanagan, will still rob students emotionally impaired (18 students instead of 10), hearing impaired (as many as 28 instead of seven), visually impaired (as many as 32 instead of seven) and receiving speech and language services (75 per teacher instead of 60) of a meaningful education.

The Michigan legislature and Gov. Granholm better ratchet up the Wayne juvenile justice system, homeless shelters and food banks for the dramatic increase in illiterate, unemployable and noncontributing young adults. The Michigan Humane Society has higher standards for its feline residents than Wayne and Michigan have for its cross-categorical students warehoused in these emotionally-impaired classrooms for the hopeless.

Ask teachers staffing emotionally impaired classrooms about over-riding the state rule (R 340.1741) that allows no more than 10 students and exploding it to 18 students that include kids with pediatric bipolar disorder, AD/HD, autistic spectrum disorders, oppositional defiant disorder, schizophrenia, Tourette's syndrome, learning disabilities and emotional and behavioral issues severe enough to dump them in these jail-like warehouses where academics, reading instruction and literacy are nowhere to be found and teachers are a one-stop shop warden, social worker, psychologist and even surrogate parent - that is until the kids are suspended, expelled or end up in the Wayne County Juvenile Authority or Children's Village.

The Wayne RESA plan and Michigan Special Education Administrative Rule R 340.1832e (ISD plan alternate rule) are Separation of Church and State did not a call to action for all parents, stakeholders and legislators in Michigan. Oakland, Macomb, Livingston and many other ISDs already have these disturbing plans in place. Wayne RESA is not the first and won't be the last.

Special education is in a free-for-all in Michigan and no one is paying attention. Does anyone worry about the fact that 26 percent of Michigan's 250,000 students with disabilities are dropping out of school and that 35 percent of these students are in Wayne County? It is long overdue that Gov. Granholm and our legislature care about meaningful quality of life and turning every possible child into a future taxpayer in a state imploding in its own foolishness and shortsightedness.

Oliver North is hero

This is concerning columnist Kurt and you know who ("Rev. Wright and Col. North sure know how to play to an audience," May 1). I could dig up comparisons between Kuban and Michael Moore, but what would that prove. Wouldn't that be divisive? The colonel served in Vietnam honorably and was a leader of men with a very low casualty rate. What the heck, you wouldn't be interested in that or the many times he has gone to Iraq at great risk to himself.

I get tired of picking up a paper and reading all that's wrong. Why can't the press report and let me make my own judgment? The column about this benefit should have been about how these brave men received Col. North, and then tell one of their stories. Just saying I support the troops isn't enough, but it gets Kuban off the hook. About the facts he left out — the British intelligence thought Iraq had weapons of mass destruction. Bill Clinton threatened to bomb Iraq over the imagined weapons and John Kerry and almost every official that voted to go.

This is not about Kuban. It is about the truth that the club he belongs (the press) seems to worry more about circulation. Col. North also belongs to a club — the U.S. Marines. Talk to one sometime. Now that's a story to write about.

more knowledgeable. The Internet, and computers in general, have become such a force in our lives you're going to get left behind in a lot of areas if you don't at least give yourself a fleeting knowledge.

As our company continued its emphasis on the Internet - you can get daily updates on local news, sports and even the weather now (shameless plug alert!) at www.home-

Our management thinks two things: 1) We're smart enough to figure out how to accomplish this Web stuff; and 2) we should have a forum on our Web site. Silly management.

The site features a whole bunch of new, well, features. If you're a frustrated movie or music critic, you can write your own reviews. You can recommend stories to other readers, participate in discussion forums and upload your own stories, photos and videos.

You can also start your own blog if you want (I can get my 10-year-old to explain it to you, if necessary).

Since we are all about "news you can use," community groups such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions or the scads of other service groups will be able to post information from their newsletters and such on our Web site, increasing their reach by thousands of viewers a day. # Legislative spine, smarts needed to address budget and tax mess ou might say the new Michigan Business Tax was born under a cloud and with an unnecessary "birth defect" that now has the state's business community up in arms. So how did we get here?

Phil Power

First, a quick recap: Last year, faced with a billion-dollar deficit and threat of a state government shutdown, the Legislature passed and Gov. Jennifer Granholm signed a new Michigan Business Tax.

The tax won widespread praise — at first. But weeks later, the deficit-fighting Legislature tacked on an incomprehensible, inexplicable and unenforceable tax on a bizarre assortment of services, such as fortune-tellers and baby-shoe bronzers.

The business community rose in wrath. What it most worried about was that once there was a tax on any services, there soon might be a tax on all services. So at the last minute, thanks to Chamber of Commerce pressure, the service tax was repealed.

To make up the lost revenue, a 20-percent surcharge was then hastily tacked on top of the Michigan Business Tax, which took effect Jan. 1. Now tax bills are finally going out, and there's lots of howling going on — much of it legitimate. Some businesses are bitterly complaining their tax bills are double or triple what they used to be under the old Single Business Tax.

How did this train wreck happen? A few days ago, I received a lengthy e-mail from a lawmaker (who wishes to remain anonymous) who offers some valuable insights. Bottom line: "The service tax was the direct result of the brinksmanship of the GOP leadership in negotiations and (the) lack of GOP members (in) responding to the requests of their traditional supporters in the business community."

That's pretty stunning — and here's my attempt to put this all into context. Leading up to the critical votes, both the Michigan and Detroit chambers of commerce tried hard to persuade legislators to pass an income tax increase big enough to cover the entire deficit. Why? Simple — to avoid additional business

The House of Representative figured it out. There, Speaker Andy Dillon and other leaders tried repeatedly to pass a 4.7-percent income tax that would have resolved the budget crisis without resorting to the service tax.

But neither Sen. Majority Leader Mike Bishop nor House Minority Leader Craig DeRoche was willing to step forward. They urged their members to hold back and let the Democrats take the political hit for a vote for more taxes. At one point, it looked as though there were as many as 10 Republican representatives ready to vote for an adequate income tax hike, but DeRoche wouldn't

That was too bad for all concerned. In the end, the attempt to construct only one difficult vote for legislators — an income tax increase sufficient to resolve the budget crisis - failed. Instead, it left lawmakers with three tough votes: One for a smaller increase in the income tax: one for a service tax (that was repealed before it took effect); and one for a 20-percent surcharge on the new business

Since no lawmaker wants to cast difficult and risky votes, it's hard to see how forcing three tough votes was better than one. But that was the political "new math" calculus in Lansing at the time. And it produced a bitter

My legislative source concludes, "The brinkmanship game of the leaders led to a much worse result for the state. ... Republicans need to know that the negotiation and political games led to higher taxes and more revenue to grow state government. Pretty high price."

High, indeed. At the end of the day, everybody wound up worse off. Lawmakers, both Republicans and Democrats, had to make three tough tax votes when one would have sufficed.

Businesses are now struggling with a 20percent surcharge on the new MBT. And the state still faces chronic structural budget deficits — deficits the present tax structure make virtually inevitable.

And the anti-tax fringe, namely the folks who are now trying to recall Speaker of the House Dillon, D-Redford, got a new lease on life. Remember, they started out by going after any lawmaker who supported any tax increase, whether Republican or Democrat. Once they discovered there was limited support for recalls, they dropped all the other efforts and went after only Dillon.

The bottom line: Basing a policy for governing on political expediency turned out to be the worst possible outcome. Worst, not only for legislators who are now regarded as nincompoops by their constituents and the news media, but also for the state as a whole.

This sorry tale illustrates all too well one of the worst aspects of our dysfunctional political system, namely a wholesale preference by both parties for scoring political points instead of concentrating on rational, longterm government for the state.

If we're going to dig ourselves out of the jam we're in, this has got to stop. And we all need to find ways to express that — and to get the word to those we elect and pay to represent

The countless pre-dawn workouts in chlorinated pools, the impeccable work ethic, the numerous sacrifices and the millions of muscle-building strokes she's churned out to reach the pinnacle in the world of amateur swimming are paying off big-time for Canton's Allison Schmitt.

And anyone who knows the talented, yet humble, 18-year-old phenom isn't a bit surprised.

Schmitt, who graduated from Canton High School in January so that she could devote the ensuing months to train for a berth on the 2008 U.S. Olympic swimming team, was named the 2008 Michigan High School Female Athlete of the Year Monday in a lavish ceremony held at the Detroit Athletic Club in downtown Detroit.

Schmitt was honored along with three other athletes — Holt's Mitch Zajac, Michigan State University hockey player Jeff Lerg and University of Michigan hurdler Tiffany Ofili and retired University of Michigan football coach Lloyd Carr during the annual Dodge National Athletic Awards banquet, which benefits the March of Dimes.

The winning criteria was based on athletic achievement, academics and involvement in the community.

One of just six female high school athletes to be nominated out of the thousands that competed during the past eight months, Schmitt found out she won the award in an Academy Awardstype announcement in the packed DAC banquet room.

"I was honored just to be nominated for the award," Schmitt said Tuesday afternoon during a small gap between a pair of two-hour training sessions. "To actually win it, well, I don't really know how to describe how I feel other than privileged.

"I know I've worked very hard the past couple of years, so I guess this is the result of the hard work.'

Last year, Schmitt defied the odds and qualified for the 2008 Olympic Trials that are set for late June in Omaha, Neb. In the fall, she was a twotime state champion at the Division 1 state meet, touching first in the 200and 500-yard freestyle events. She was a two-time state champ as a junior as

Lady Warriors dominate on 'Senior Night'

Despite a chill in the air, the Plymouth-Canton-Salem girls lacrosse team turned in a firedup performance against North Farmington-Harrison Friday night on "Senior Night."

The Lady Warriors cruised to a 12-3 victory to improve their record to

"I can't say enough about how happy I was with the team's performance in this game," said PCS coach Dave Medley. "I saw a lot of hard work come together and that's what I've been preaching — to play as a

"The underclassmen recognized this was a game where you honor the graduating class, and you make sure your seniors can look back on this game with warm, positive memories."

Fittingly, seniors dominated the scoresheet for the winners as Kate Spangler led the way with four goals. Seniors Morgan Franke, Jessica Murray, Stephanie Matusiak, Laura Hahn, Amy Coleman and Sarah Pursell also found the back of the net.

Non-seniors Chelsea Olson and Lauryn Ebersole also scored for the Lady Warriors.

The game's most memorable play unfolded in the second half when PCS net-minder Nicol Rottell made a save, then carried the ball the length of the field and fired a shot into the High Flyers' net.

The goal was waved off, though, because in lacrosse you can't use the goalie stick to shoot on goal," explained Medley. "Nicol and I had set the play up where she was supposed to pass it off 15 yards up-field, but I think she just got carried away in the excitement. This was just one example of the energy level on the field Friday night."

Salem tunes out Central thanks to Posler's arm, 3 HRs

Chiefs are streaking. See Page B4.

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Three words described the Salem baseball team's offensive performance Monday afternoon against visiting Walled Lake Central: BAM! BAM! BAM!

It would only take one word, however, to describe the stuff Salem junior pitcher Joe Posler threw at the Vikings: nasty.

The Rocks launched three home runs and Posler tossed a two-hitter as Salem cruised to a 6-1 triumph to solidify its place atop the WLAA Lakes Division standings. With the win, Salem improved to 15-8 overall and 7-2 in the Lakes while the defending champion Vikings dropped to 2-7.

After yielding a home run to the second batter of the game - Central right-fielder Cody Husak — Posler gave up just one more hit — a second-inning single to Jack Kennedy. He struck out four and walked two to improve

"It was a pretty typical performance by Joe," said Salem coach Dale Rumberger. "He always comes in under 90 pitches and he had 88 today. The only thing uncharacteristic about Joe today was that he had two walks.

"Joe has good command of his pitches and he can locate all of them. He even used his fourth pitch today — a knuckle ball more than he normally does. It's like having a second off-speed pitch. The batter is usually on his front foot and they either pop it up or beat it into the ground."

The Rocks' power surge was provided by junior home run hitters Drew Grabowski, whose solo shot over the Mans Lumber sign in left center knotted the game at 1-all in the second; Kyle Powell, whose two-run dinger in the third dinged the top of the scoreboard in right center before finding a resting place in the nearby woods; and Sam Ott, whose solo blast in the fifth found the woods beyond the right-field fence on the fly.

Salem added two insurance markers in the sixth on Heath Parling's RBI single and an Ott sacrifice fly that scored Justin Horger.

Although he missed most of the first month of the season with an injury, Grabowski has already rocked two home runs and is third on the team in RBI.

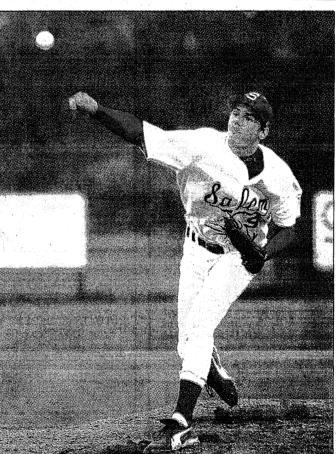

"It's nice to have Drew back," said Rumberger. "He's only been back about 10 days, but he's hitting .500 and giving us a lot of power.

"Kyle's been having some good swings in batting practice lately, so I had a hunch he was going to do something today. And Sam is Sam — he's dangerous every time he steps up to the plate."

Rumberger was equally impressed by his team's defense, which turned three double plays.

In the top of the fourth, the Rocks committed their only two errors of the day, yet Posler still only faced three batters as lead-off hitter Matt Johnson was

Mustangs are thoroughbreds at WLAA tourney

Northville lapped the rest of the field at Saturday's Western Lakes Activities Association girls tennis tournament, which was hosted by Plymouth.

The Mustangs placed first in six of the eight flights to finish with 30 points - twice as many as runner-up Livonia Stevenson. Walled Lake Central was third with 14 points, Salem (12) was fourth while Livonia Churchill rounded out the top five with 11 points.

Livonia Stevenson's Lindsay Hofstetter captured the No. 1 singles crown by defeating Northville's Haley Johnston in a three-set thriller: 6-3, 4-6,

The only other non-Northville titleist was Walled Lake Northern's No. 4 singles player Audrey Topp, who routed Northville's Jessica Yu, 6-1, 6-0.

The Spartans earned second-place points from No. 2 singles player Laura Sims, who was ousted in the title match. 6-7, 7-5, 6-1, by the Mustangs' Joann Weber; and No. 3 singles player Paige McNamara, who lost to Northville's Ursula Cauffiel, 6-2, 6-0.

Salem failed to advance anyone into the finals, but the Rocks received semi-final efforts from singles players Tracy Lytle (No. 1), Linda Ling (No. 4); and the doubles duos of Rachel Norman-Ariel Rojo (No. 1); and Jaclyn Hoover-Alex Lamb (No. 4).

"I had projected us for 14 points, but our No. 2 doubles didn't advance like I thought TENNIS

they would," said Salem coach

Lin Ware A pair of Churchill doubles teams placed second: Laura Vella and Nicki Fata at No. 2; and Cortney Bennett and Danielle Vasko at No. 3.

Plymouth's Jessica Bracey advanced to the semi-final round at No. 4 singles for Plymouth while the No. 4 doubles tandem of Vicki Chen and Megan Leung did likewise for Canton.

Canton LAX team thumps Howell

Canton's boys lacrosse team improved to 10-5 Monday night with a 14-3 triumph over Howell.

"I was very happy with the game," said Canton coach Kevin Riley. "It gave us a good chance to rotate players and tune up for Thursday's game against Plymouth."

Tonight's cross-campus clash between the Chiefs and the Wildcats is set to commence at 7 p.m. at the PCEP junior varsity stadium.

Matt Rodgers paced the win over the Highlanders with four goals.

Scott Wisniewski and Joey Underwood both registered a hat-trick, Jason Avedesian added two goals while Dakota Dark-Bird and Mark Barath both netted single doubled off first after Ott made a running catch and fired the ball on a rope to first baseman Chris Kordick.

The next batter — Eric Glanz- reached on a fielding miscue, but he was thrown out trying to steal second by Rock catcher David Loos.

"I was pleased with the way we played defensively," Rumberger said. "Although we made a couple of errors, we didn't compound them by making multiple errors.

"Last year, we'd make a mistake, then we'd make another and another. This year, we'll have an occasional bad throw or a guy will kick one, but the next guy will make a play."

Amazingly, Salem's 10 hits came from 10 different players. Posler was the only Rock to reach three times. He singled in the second, was hit by a pitch in the third and walked in the fifth.

T.J. Thewes took the loss for the Vikings, yielding four runs on six hits in five innings. Thewes walked three and struck out two.

Derek Mitchell pitched the sixth for Central.

Tidwell-led Chiefs register five straight victories

The WLAA Western Division standings may not indicate it, but the hottest team around is Canton, which has reeled off a five-game winning streak since falling to Northville on May 6.

Canton is now 15-8 overall and 3-6 in the division.

During the hot streak, the Chiefs have relied on key contributions from seniors Will Tidwell, Ben Vaughn, Matt Barylski, Ryan Neu, Miké Madias and Mike Flis; and underclassmen like freshmen Seth Tschetter; sophomores Kevin Delapaz, Alex Dixon and Cody Blakita; and juniors Dan Stoney, Dane Staples, Nick Tomilenko and Zane Birchler.

On Tuesday, one day after a Vaughn-led triumph over Wayne Memorial, the Chiefs edged Churchill, 9-7, thanks to a strong mound effort from Delapaz, who worked 4.1 innings to improve to 5-0.

On Saturday at Kalamazoo Central, Canton broomed a pair from the host Maroon Giants, 17-12 and 7-4.

Delapaz improved his mound record to a perfect 4-0 and he got plenty of offensive support from the hot hitting of Vaughn (2-for-4, four RBI) and Tidwell (2-for-3, four RBI, three runs).

Bill Cunningham-Rhodes ripped four hits for KC.

In the nightcap, the Chiefs received strong pitching from flame-throwing southpaw Dixon and hard-throwing reliever Staples; and timely hitting from Stoney and Neu on the way to the three-run

Dixon baffled the hosts all afternoon, yielding just one hit and one earned run in 4.1 innings while Staples picked up the win when he helped extinguish a one-out, basesloaded jam in the fifth.

Stoney and Neu both went 2-for-3. Neu's two-run single in the sixth with the game knotted at 3-all proved to be the difference-maker.

Dan Warwick had a double Giants.

SALEM 6, NORTHVILLE 4: On Tuesday at Salem, the Rocks knocked off the No. 2-ranked team in Division 1 behind the mound work of two seldom-used pitchers and clutch hitting from a couple of main-

Junior Heath Parling earned the victory — his first of the season – after shutting down the Mustangs' potent offense over the final 3.2 innings.

Parling relieved Justin Bashi, who pitched well other than in Northville's three-run third.

Parling and Bashi held the Mustangs to just four hits while the Rocks knocked out seven of their own.

Junior Dave Hales picked up a save when he retired the last batter in the seventh with two runners on board.

PREP BASEBALL

"It's nice to play well against a team that has been beating up on everybody," said Salem. coach Dale Rumberger. "I told the boys before the game that if it was a close game late, I thought we could win because they're not accustomed to being in tight games."

Senior southpaw Demarii Saunderson took the loss for the Mustangs. Trailing 4-3, the Rocks plated three runs in the fifth thanks to RBI hits from Posler, Grabowski and Chris Kordick.

Posler went 2-for-3 with two runs and three RBI while Grabowski contributed two hits and an RBI.

PLYMOUTH 9. JOHN GLENN 1: On Tuesday at Glenn, the Wildcats exploded for seven runs over the first three innings and were never threatened thereafter thanks to solid pitching from Cliff Buttermore, Matt Skubik and Stephen Ostrowski, who scattered five hits. Buttermore earned the win after yielding no runs and two hits over the first 2.2 frames.

Pacing the Wildcats' 11-hit attack were Skubik (3-for-4, RBI), Nadratowski (1-for-1, two RBI) and David Harvey (2-for-3, run).

Both teams committed two errors a piece. W.L. WESTERN 8, PLYMOUTH

7: On Monday at Western, the host Warriors overcame a 7-5 deficit with three runs in the fourth inning then hung on for the key Western Division victory. Plymouth outhit the Warriors, 10-6, but committed three errors.

Wildcat starting pitcher Brad Lineberry suffered the loss after yielding seven runs in three innings. Luke Merandi was solid in relief for the 'Cats, giving up just one run over the final three Ronnie Goble was the hitting star for Plymouth, going 2-for-3 with a two-run home run. Michael Rose (2-for-3, RBI) and Garrett Rebain (2for-3, RBI) also had big games at the plate for Plymouth. One of Rebain's hits was a triple.

CANTON AGAPE 15, FRANKLIN ROAD 0: On Tuesday in Novi, the Wolverines mercied their hosts in four innings, scoring four runs in the first, three in both the second and third, and five in the fourth. The winners banged out 15 hits while their starting pitcher, Brandon Pierson, crafted a one-hitter, striking out five while issuing just one walk. The Walker brothers

- Ethan and Daniel - spearheaded the Wolverines' offensive attack, combining to go 5-for-7 with four RBI and three runs.

The victory improved Agape's record to 8-4 overall and 5-3 in the MIAC Red. The Wolverines have now won seven consecutive games.

CANTON AGAPE 6, CALVARY CHRISTIAN 2: On Monday at Griffin Park in Canton, senior pitcher Ty Majeski hurled a complete-game gem, yielding just five hits while striking out six. Aaron Graham suffered the mound loss for CC.

The offensive stars for the winners were Jared Miller (2-for-3, two doubles), Kevin Reith (two runs, five steals) and Josiah Wyatt (1-for-3, RBI). Agape banged out seven

Wildcats split

Plymouth split a doubleheader with state-ranked West Bloomfield Saturday, dropping the opener 5-3 before battling back to seize the nightcap,

The split left the Wildcats with a 14-8 record.

Plymouth erased a 3-0 deficit with three runs in the bottom of the second, but the Lakers tallied singled runs in the third and fourth innings to pull out the win.

Senior Drew Pyles earned the mound win for the visitors, limiting the 'Cats to five hits while striking out eight in a complete-game effort. Sophomore righty Matt Priebe took the loss for Plymouth after giving up five runs in five innings. Kyle Sanders shut down the Lakers over the final two frames

The Wildcats' hitting highlights came from players toward the bottom of their order. No. 8 hitter Travis Mewton was 1-for-3 with two RBI and a run, while No. 9 hitter Kyle Traver was 2-for-3 with an RBI.

Senior Dan Nadratowski (six innings) and junior Matt Skubik (one inning) combined to pitch a four-hitter in Game 2 as the Wildcats scored single runs in the sixth and seventh innings to overcome a late 3-2 deficit. Skubik earned the win with a perfect seventh. Nadratowski gave up just three.

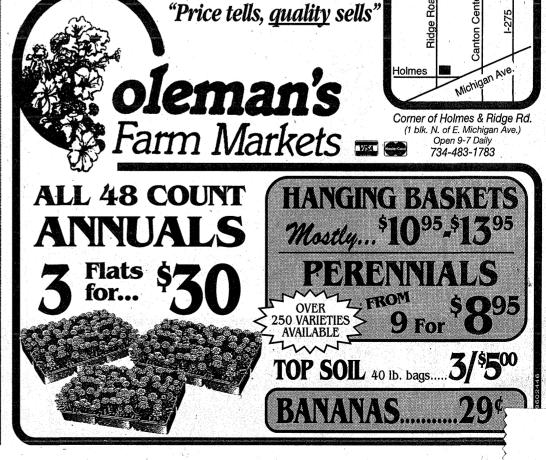

The Wildcats' six-hit attack was led by Priebe, who went 3for-4 with an RBI. Traver was 2-for-3 with a run scored.

"I thought our pitchers did an outstanding job against a good hitting Laker squad," said Plymouth coach Chuck Adams. "In the opener, it was nice to see Matt Priebe get back into the rotation after a long absence from the hill. After a rocky first, Matt settled down and gave us some quality innings.

"Dan Nadratowski turned in a gutsy six innings of work in the nightcap when we needed a lift. He deserves strong praise for his performance.

"Overall, it was a great Saturday for high school baseball and a hard-fought split with a quality non-conference opponent."

Canton's Miranda Rysdorp (3), pictured sliding into third base during a game earlier this season, had a big day at the plate in the Chiefs' 6-0 victory over Livonia Churchill on Tuesday.

Canton ace proves to be 'Payne' in the standings for Churchill

Judging by Tuesday's performance against Livonia Churchill Tuesday afternoon, Canton senior pitcher Hilary

Payne is back to her old self. Payne, who missed close to a month earlier this spring with an injury, struck out 12 and gave up just two hits in the Chiefs' 6-0 victory over the Chargers.

Churchill's Paula Guzik recorded the only two hits off Payne.

The Chiefs, who improved to 14-11 overall, exploded for three first-inning runs to give Payne all the support she would need.

Canton's eight-hit attack was sparked by Amy Dunleavy, who contributed three hits and two runs. Miranda Rysdorp also shined, ripping two hits, including a triple, and scoring a pair of runs.

Churchill slipped to 11-15 runs in each of the other four frames. Glenn's lone runs came in the fourth.

Plymouth outhit the visitors, 14-6, and did not commit an error. The Rockets had just one fielding miscue.

Senior Ally Ciotti notched the win on the mound for the Wildcats, striking out nine and walking just one in a complete-game effort.

Offensively, the 'Cats were paced by Jill Brennan (3-for-3, two runs), Erin Rodes (2-for-2, two runs, RBI) and Amy Bondy (2-for-3, double, RBI).

NORTHVILLE 6, SALEM 0: On Tuesday at Northville, the Rocks' bats were stymied by senior hurler Allison Holmes, who pitched a four-hitter, striking out four without issuing a walk.

Freshman Heidi Schmidt suffered the loss, giving up six hits — four in the first inning and seven walks.

Two players accounted for all of the Salem hits - Emily Pitcole and Briana Lee, who both ripped a pair of safeties. "We have not been hitting the ball well all week," Salem coach Bonnie Southerland. "We're making good contact, but we're just not finding the gaps.

"I thought Heidi did a great job out there today, facing the No. 1 team in the league.

If the Rocks post a victory over John Glenn this afternoon, they will face a rematch with the Mustangs for the conference championship on May 21.

So we have a week to get the bats on track, but I think we will," said Southerland. "Today, we got a feel of what we need to do to be competitive next week. Northville is a very good team and it has very good hitters — power hitters. If we can shut that down and lay off the rise ball, we'll be all

W.L. CENTRAL 2, SALEM 0: On Monday at Central, the Vikings Lauren Hardy pitched a five-hitter against the Rocks.

Salem freshman Briana Lee deserved better than an "L" as she vielded just six hits and two walks while striking out

Heidi Schmidt sparkled at the plate for the Rocks, lacing a triple and two singles.

Kelli Janiczek and Mary Cox

also contributed singles. "We were just flat coming off the weekend," said Salem coach Bonnie Southerland.

Central was charged up Emily Scarpace led the Vikings' hitting attack with a double and a triple.

Late dramatics give Wildcat kickers clutch win over WLW

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

If Monday night's Plymouth-Walled Lake Western girls soccer game had been an advancedplacement drama class, the Wildcats would have earned an A-plus.

The Wildcats won 2-1 when Kelly Dobbs scored off an assist from Mckenzie Hengesh with just 1:20 left in the contest.

Megan Quinlan gave Plymouth a 1-0 edge at the 30-minute mark of the first half when she found the back of the net. The 'Cats maintained their one-goal advantage until the 15-minute mark of the second half when the Warriors scored.

Freshman Marissa Williams earned the win between the pipes for Plymouth.

On Saturday, Plymouth defeated Saline, 2-0, thanks to a pair of goals from Dobbs and outstanding play in net from Williams.

CANTON 8. WAYNE MEMORIAL 0: On Monday, the Chiefs mercied the Zebras as seven different players scored. Kayla Carmody was the lone Chief to score twice.

Single-goal scorers were Lisa Pierce, Megan Staub, Melanie Pickert, Laura Daniels and Tracy Rymph. Rachel Kain and Alyssa Cottrell notched assists for the winners.

Senior net-minder Bre Bellovary recorded the shutout for Canton.

out of the season.

"Overall, I thought we played very well," said Salem coach Joe Nora. "We were able to keep pressure on them the whole game. Our defenders played great and we were able to carry the majority of possession in the midfield.

"We created nine or 10 quality chances on goal with shots off the goal posts, cross bar, or missing just wide of the target. It's nice to see that we are creating chances, but most days we finish a few of them."

The Rocks welcomed back with open arms mainstays Katie Shull and Lauren Booth, both of whom had missed a considerable amount of time with injuries.

"It was great to see Katie and Lauren out there again," said Nora. "Both girls have worked hard to get back and they played very well.

"We have dealt with injuries all season and our team has risen to the challenge every time, but it's refreshing to have everyone healthy and ready to go.'

The draw left Salem with a 6-6-4 overall record and 4-4-I mark in the division.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The County of Wayne will hold a public hearing on an application for the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley (NHV/RV) sanitary sewer system to the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality for the funding assistance through the State Revolving Fund (SRF). The County is proposing improvements to the NHV/RV interceptor system. The Public Hearing is being held for the purpose of receiving comments from interested persons.

The hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m. on June 10, 2008 at the Maplewood Community Center, 31735 Maplewood, Garden City, Michigan 48135-1709.

The proposed project consists of short term corrective action plan improvements that will reduce infiltration and inflow into the interceptor system and correct structural deficiencies visually identified during sewer televising. Improvements include rehabilitation of portions of the interceptors, overflow regulator structures and upgrades to the manhole structures.

If the SRF application is successful, the County plans to begin construction of the above noted improvements in 2009. Sanitary sewer service for customers will be unaffected by the proposed improvements. Construction activities will be localized to the subject facilities, with little or no impact to

Short commute, carpools appeal as gas prices rise

BY JULIE BROWN O&E STAFF WRITER

As gas prices climb, people are grateful for short commutes.

"I'm within 10 minutes of work," said Phyllis Redfern of Canton, a clerk in the Canton Township clerk's office. "It's wonderful not to have to drive some of the distances I have before. I'm very fortunate with my commute."

Redfern sympathizes with those who have longer commutes.

"You know it's got to be eating into their budget," she said.

Ron Loiselle of Plymouth's also grateful for his short commute. "Oh. yeah, I should walk. It's 1.1 miles," said Loiselle, an accountant/stockbroker who's also mayor pro tem for the city of Plymouth.

"I made the choice to try to live close to work," said Loiselle, who's less sympathetic when it comes to long-distance commuters. He's lived close to work some 30 years and finds it hard to believe "people would waste that much time in a car."

In fact, he has a 15-yearold car with 104,000 miles on it. "I get stressed when I have to drive to Canton anymore," he said with a laugh. "I'm spoiled by living in Plymouth."

The Southeast Michigan Council of Governments is seeing the impact of commuting and rising gas prices, too. It has a RideShare program, information on which is available at semcog.org/RideShare.aspx.

"That's where they can fill out an application," said Iris Steinberg, senior communications specialist for SEMCOG. "They will be matched up with other individuals who live near them and work near them."

RideShare is a free carpool and vanpool matching service that links commuters traveling into or within Southeast Michigan for work. RideShare has assisted more than 100,000 Detroit carpoolers and vanpoolers with their requests. There are currently more than 3,000 in the database, Steinberg said.

"We have had a small increase, nothing too significant yet. We have seen increased numbers," as gas prices climb, Steinberg said.

Recent census data shows that more than 200,000 people in metro Detroit currently share the ride to and from work on a regular basis. According to SEMCOG, carpoolers and vanpoolers:

- Save money on fuel and other vehicle operating
- Experience less stress associated with traffic
- Have a more predictable and productive com-
- Help reduce traffic congestion
- Improve air quality Enjoy the social and safety aspects of commuting with others.

"It is nice to have that additional option,' Steinberg said of Ride Share, offered since 1980. She noted not all have access to SMART or Detroit Department of Transportation buses.

Steinberg, a Grosse Pointe Park resident, takes the bus to work daily at SEMCOG offices in downtown Detroit.

"That was part of what we were looking for when we were choosing a home," Steinberg said. "It makes it very nice."

She and colleagues have noted increased ridership of SMART and DDOT buses recently. "I had to wait for the next one," Steinberg said of a recent trip. "I know people are changing their behavior because of the high gas prices. People definitely are concerned and looking for options."

She takes a book for her commutes, and also catches up on work and phone calls. Steinberg's taken the bus for seven years "and never had a problem, feel very comfortable." It takes about 20 minutes to get downtown; there's a small vehicle fleet at work if she needs to attend a meeting, and the People Mover helps

Steinberg get around downtown Detroit. Steinberg points with pride to SEMCOG's Guaranteed Ride Home, which reimburses taxi fare for RideShare participants who get sick while at work and need to leave or must put in longer hours. You can use that up to six times a year after completing the the SEMCOG Web site. "We just need the receipt from the taxi," Steinberg said. "It's a very nice program."

RideShare arrangements on Colleague Delores Muller, a developer in the information technology department at SEMCOG, said the average commute in Southeast Michigan was 26 minutes in 2000. It had gone up three minutes from 1990. which could be caused by increased traffic.

"I take the bus," Livonia resident Muller said. "I've been taking the SMART bus for six years now." She drives to a park and ride site in Redford. Buses arrive every 25-30 minutes, less frequently than when Livonia was a part of SMART.

"People can save a lot of money by taking the bus," Muller said, noting she saves at least $4,000 a year on parking, wear and tear on the car and gas. She puts gas in her car's tank once a month.

"I wish I knew about it earlier." Muller said of the bus service. "The closer you live to work, the less you're going to be spending on your commute. It's more common sense than anything."

She looked at Livonia as a place to settle and start a family. "I can't really think of a better place. I can commute to Ann Arbor or Detroit in 25 minutes."

She uses her time on the bus for work for continuing education classes. "I also network with other IT professionals," Muller said.

A RideShare carpool requires two riders who work similar time schedules. A vanpool requires six or more riders. SEMCOG's free online matching software matches you with commuters who also live near you, and who have similar routes and work schedules.

SEMCOG hasn't really studied if rising gas prices are making more distant real estate in outlying areas less attractive. "We really don't have any local information on that, nothing we have been able to verify," Steinberg said. noting SEMCOG includes Oakland, St. Clair, Monroe, Wayne and Washtenaw counties. National reports indicate such a trend in commuting and real estate.

Livingston, Macomb,

Home prices across distant suburbs continue to fall deeper than city housing values, which sometimes even climb in cities like Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, New York, Miami, Boston, and Washington, D.C., especially near public transit. Drawn by cheap outer land and strong home prices, developers miscalculated and "overreached," but have finally seen faraway projects as "just bad ideas to begin with" and shifted gears, an assessment confirmed by Smart Growth America Communications Director David Goldberg (www.smartgrowth.org)

In the 1990s, his hometown, Atlanta, "was recognized as the fastest-spreading human settlement, probably in the history of the world," he recalled, but over the past two years construction in the countryside dropped by 70 percent, without any slowdown in the city, according to the Smart Growth America Web site.

The same goes for other big cities, including Baltimore and Philadelphia.

The city of Plymouth has made walkability a priority in recent years, said Loiselle, the mayor pro tem. That includes checking on the status of sidewalks in the city, and making sure they're wheelchair accessible and have curb cuts that can also be used by bicyclists.

SEMCOG staffers are excited about expanded options in mass transit, including an Ann Arbor to Detroit rail line using existing train tracks. "I think that's very promising,"

Steinberg said. Carmine Palombo, director of transportation planning for SEMCOG, said the train tracks from Ann Arbor to Detroit are owned by three freight railroads. 'We've been working with them to identify the additional infrastructure that would be needed," the Livonia resident said. The goal is to have no negative impact on freight use while allowing additional passenger use.

The aim is for the railroads' analysis to be done

Ask lawyer about delinquency statements

Q. A member of our association is suing the homeowners association for defamation after it distributed its meeting minutes. At the homeowner association board meeting, the board members discussed the homeowner's failure to pay dues for a period of time. The association attorney had unsuccessfully tried several times to reach the homeowner. The board secretary recorded those facts in the meeting minutes and recorded the board's decision to foreclose on the homeowner's unit because the homeowner was not willing to work out a negotiated settlement for the outstanding dues. The minutes were mailed to all association members. The homeowner's name and unit were not published. Does the association have any liability?

similar to those facts, a court held that in order for it to consider the meeting minutes defamatory, the statements must be false and intended to harm the homeowner's reputation and lower him in the community's estimation. In the case involved, because the court decided that the statements were "substantially true." there was no defamation. "Substantially true" means that although the statements were not literally true on every detail, they were true for the most part. I would not, however, rely on this type of decision, given the delicate nature of the law of defamation and you are best to consult with your attorney before publishing any statement concerning delinquencies.

Q. There has often been a debate about the value of a condo vs. a co-op for marketability. Do you have any comments on that?

A. Generally speaking, condos are deemed to be more valuable than coops. There was an interesting study done in New York City for the period of 1984 to 2002. The result, according to the authors, was that "the typical" condo unit is worth about 8.8 percent more than the "typical" cooperative unit, although they admit that one market segment exhibited the opposite effect on value. In cooperatives that prohibited buyers from financing the purchase of units, the condominium premium disappears and turns into a 25.4 percent cooperative premium. One explanation is the greater potential of a cooperative to allow unit owners to engage in forms of social exclusion. Two other explanations, particularly relevant for the buildings occupied by less affluent residents, are (1) relatively high transaction costs associated with converting from a cooperative form to a condominium form can consume a substantial part of the condominium premium; and (2) costs of collective decision making (collective action problems) can be insurmountable, particularly in urban communities with a heterogeneous population. Thus the authors concluded that it may be a long time before condominiums, despite their apparent economic advantages, replace cooperatives as the dominant common interest homeownership form in New York City. This, of course, may not be relevant in other areas.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharben vour pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Beginne

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

FIND THESE WORDS IN THE PUZZLE BELOW.

CHRYSLER'S GAS-PRICE INCENTIVE MAY END UP A WINNER

Advertising Feature

CAReport

By Dale Buss

Chrysler executives feared that their new gasprice rebate program would nick the company's already-shaky green credentials. But they also hoped that the Let's Refuel America price-protection plan would create a buzz among consumers – and maybe even an uptick in Chrysler's dismal sales.

Just over a week since the incentive's unveiling, it's become clear that their fears were well-founded: Environmentalists are inflamed by Chrysler's decision to offer to indemnify buyers of most of its vehicles against gas prices above $2.99 for the next three years. They're flaying Chrysler as a technologically backward cadre of ecologically callous opportunists.

But just as quickly, signs have emerged that Chrysler's hopes might have been well-founded too. For one thing, the program already has an imitator in Suzuki. And more important, early readings of consumers indicate that the offer of relief from soaring gasoline prices single-handedly has raised their esteem for the company and the likelihood that they would consider purchasing a Dodge, Jeep or Chrysler vehicle.

Among 913 "new-vehicle intenders" in a national survey conducted within 36 hours of Chrysler's announcement by CNW Marketing Research, 11 percent were aware of the offer. "That's not bad for a single day," notes Art Spinella, president of the Bandon, Ore.-based company that specializes in auto-market consumer research.

What's more, of the intenders who knew about the program already and didn't have a Chrysler product on their shopping lists, 16 percent said they now would consider a Chrysler product. And of the CNW respondents who did have a Chrysler vehicle on their list of possible purchases, about one-quarter said they would likely buy or lease the vehicle somewhat sooner than they had intended.

A New Imperative

Though preliminary, these are soundings from an American public that is expressing unprecedented

The Chrysler "Let's Refuel America" gas card.

PT Cruiser is one of the vehicles covered by Chrysler's new gasprice guarantee incentive.

levels of concern - for some, near desperation about gasoline prices that are rising so high and so fast that they have outstripped the ability of any existing paradigm to forecast the ultimate effects.

A much more telling indicator is how fuel-price worries have prompted the most sudden and significant segment shift in U.S. automotive history, as consumers since the beginning of the year have flocked to small cars and crossovers and away from traditional SUVs and pickup trucks.

Gasoline prices nationally are averaging about 71 cents a gallon higher than they did two years ago, according to Edmunds.com analysis. And there is constant news-media attention to the new crude-oil price records being set almost daily in commodities

Chrysler's own recent online poll, of members of its new Customer Advisory Board, confirmed the public's extreme focus on gasoline prices: 76 percent of respondents were "very concerned" or "extremely concerned" about fuel prices. And 83 percent said that fuel prices would affect their summer vacation plans.

Going Green

And consumers are more and more concerned about Chrysler becoming more environmentally oriented. Recently, the company polled members of its Customer Advisory Board asking them whether they believe it's more important for a vehicle to be perceived as green or for the auto company behind the product to be considered environmentally

So it's hardly surprising that Chrysler got singed immediately after announcing its new incentive offer. The Union of Concerned Scientists charged that Chrysler is "using this cynical deal to distract consumers from the fact that its cars get poor gas mileage."

But with gas prices and public worries having ratcheted much higher than they were two and three years ago, more Americans may simply be opportunistic about blunting fuel costs than before.

"Buying a Jeep, of all vehicles, may seem like an irrational response to this concern, but risk-averse consumers are attracted to guarantees that protect them from the consequences of outcomes they fear the most," says Richard Devine, chair of the marketing department at Central Michigan University.

Indeed, Spinella said that Chrysler's announcement "seems to have resonated, which is probably all they cared about anyway. It moved the needle. And salespeople in Chrysler showrooms will be able to use it in talking with anyone who comes in, and so for a month or two it will probably help them with some deals."

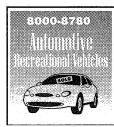

Given Chrysler's dire straits, what are a few barbed arrows from environmentalists who already heap criticism on the company anyway? "I don't think they looked at what the green movement was going to say," says David Cole, chairman of the Center for Automotive Research, in Ann Arbor, Mich. "They recognized they had to move some cars and trucks. And everyone else is kind of waiting and seeing what happens."

Beware of budget-priced GPS navigation systems

Question: I'm in the market for a GPS. Any recommendations?

Answer: Don't skimp. By that I mean stick with a well-known brand like Garmin or TomTom. I recently tested a new budget-priced model from littleknown V7 (v7-world.com), and the results were not good.

Tech Savvy

Looking at the features alone, there's much to like about

the V7 NAV740: the

thin design, 4.3-inch roster for a $299.99 GPS, though I wish V7 could have managed a Bluetooth speakerphone and/or real-time traffic updates as well.

Still, I liked the easy-to-navigate onscreen menus and transparent control buttons overlaid onto the maps.

But ultimately, any GPS must be judged by its navigation prowess, and that's where the NAV740 stumbled. It repeatedly messed up when I neared my destination, telling me half a mile too soon that I'd arrived or instructing me to keep going when I'd already passed

Furthermore, real-time navigation was always a little off: The NAV740 would tell me to make a turn a few seconds after I'd already passed the street.

Suspecting a bad unit, V7 replaced my NAV740, but unfortunately the replacement exhibited the same prob-

For another $30 or so, you can pick up a Garmin Nuvi 660 from various online stores. It's been on the market nearly two years, but who cares? It offers hands-free calling, traffic alerts, and an FM transmitter. Plus, it navigates like a champ — I was sad to see my demo unit go.

Question: How can I listen to my music collection when I'm at work? The boss frowns on iPods.

Answer: As long as your workplace doesn't block or prohibit streamingmedia Web sites, you've got several options.

The first is MP3tunes (mp3tunes. com), which stores a copy of your music library online so you can listen to it on any PC.

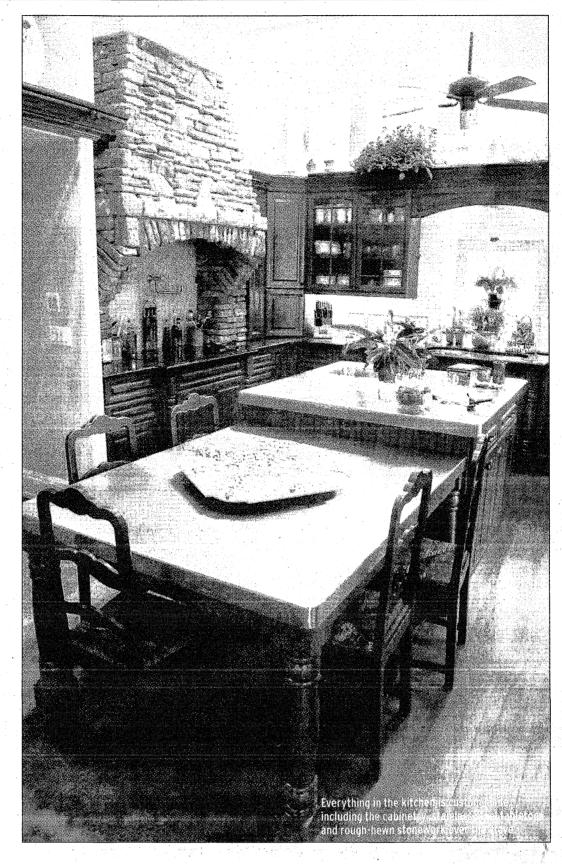

You get a whopping 25 gigabytes (GB) of storage free of charge; if you need more, a 50GB premium account will run you $39.95 annually.

MP3tunes' simple LockerSync utility (available for Windows, Mac, and even Linux systems) syncs your song collection with your online "locker," where you can play it via your work PC's Web browser (and even some smartphones).

The only catch is that it can take days, or even weeks, of uploading to copy your library to MP3tunes' servers, depending on the size of the collection.

Once it's done, however, subsequent syncs will go much faster. And as an added bonus, MP3tunes doubles as an online backup of your music-you can easily download it back to your PC if necessary.

Manorwood brings nature home during annual tour

BY WENSDY VON BUSKIRK

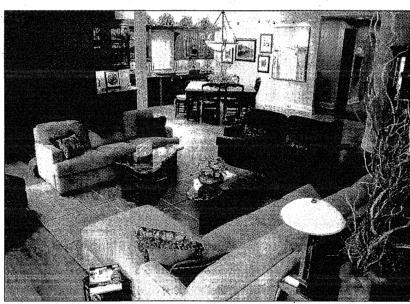

When Ronnie Wilner built "Manorwood," he was determined to bring the outdoors in.

The home, one of six featured on Temple Israel Sisterhood's 15th Anniversary House Tour, backs up to Manor Park in Birmingham and revels in its wild surroundings.

Wilner and his wife, Nancy Fishman, used repetitive natural elements — like Brazilian cherry wood and honed limestone - along with skylights, screened porches and handcrafted detail to invite nature into their midst.

Visitors to the new house on Shepherdbush are greeted by a stone porch adorned with loveseats made from twigs. The custom alder wood front door, which includes a speakeasy window, opens to a limestone garden walk-

Along one side of the path, an indoor pond filled with plantings features a stone wall rising up to the cathedral ceiling. On the right, a door opens to Wilner's award-winning two-story library. The path leads guests to the spacious living room, dining room and kitchen, which blend together in an open floor plan with a view of the woods.

"Because this property is on a 12-acre nature preserve we wanted most of the living space in the back of the house," Fishman said.

ceilings do NOT have to be painted white. Many paint purists will argue that by

by saying that not using white on the ceiling you will make your room look smaller. This just isn't true.

If you think of your ceiling as another wall in the room, your ideas about this will drastically change. I agree that lighter colors reflect light and darker colors absorb light; however, I do not think that we always want our rooms to look cavernous. There are many shades close to white, but will not look as stark next to your wall color.

Keep in mind, that by painting your ceilings white, you are adding another color to the room. If you do not have white elsewhere in the room, that white ceiling will stand out and become an undesirable focal

In many newer homes, it is not uncommon to have ceilings soaring 15-20 feet. The challenge is to make these rooms feel homey. The ceilings in these rooms can actually be painted darker than the wall color to add warmth.

Another point for consideration is the crown molding. Many people prefer to have their crown moldings painted white. If you paint your ceilings and your crown molding white, you are making all that architectural detail disappear. A better approach is to paint the ceiling a couple shades lighter than the wall color and then you can keep the moldings white. When you do this, you will be amazed at how your crown moldings will be highlighted.

Do not be afraid to go bolder with ceiling color in certain rooms. For example, when a room has a detail like a tray ceiling, this is the ideal place to experiment with an exciting color. Pick an accent color from the room décor and paint the inside of the tray ceiling with it. Maybe the color is brick red or navy blue, but the interesting architecture is now highlighted with drama and color.

Have some fun with paint color. It is one of the least expensive things we can do to change and update our homes.

Sipping and sampling helps scholarships

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK O & E STAFF WRITER

Nearly 300 lovers of wines and fine foods enjoyed some of the tastes of more than 60 Great Lakes wineries and local restaurants on Thursday at the annual Great Lakes Great Wines Walk Around Wine Tasting, a fund-raiser for student scholarships, at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington

The annual event raises between $10,000 and $15,000 annually for scholarships for students in the school's Culinary Studies Institute and to finance travel for the institute's competition teams.

Darlene Levinson, instructor and one of the event's organizers, called the event, now in its 13th year, "one of the best" in terms of attendance. "We had more wines and more people," Levinson said.

The event helps students attain scholarships for their studies. "A lot of them could not even go to school if they did not get financial aid," Levinson said. "We have more than an associate's degree (in culinary arts), it's an extended program that requires them to attend school longer."

Wines and foods from some of Detroit's finest restaurants, country clubs and other eateries graced small plates, ranging from Stuffed Tortellini in Porcini Mushroom butter sauce from chef Joseph Beato at Via Nove to Tribute restaurant's Scalloped Seviche from chef Richard Travis.

The wines were sampled and scored earlier that day by a group of 21 judges. Tony Lawrence of Philadelphia has judged wines for 20 years and enjoys the local flavors of the Great Lakes region. "These events help bring us back to the regional wines," Lawrence said.

"Manorwood," completed in 2006, backs up to Manor Park, a 12-acre nature preserve in Birmingham.

Everywhere you look, customized features evoke the feeling of the great outdoors.

In the dining room, tree limbs snake across beautiful leaded glass cabinets crafted by Wilner, a glass artist with a workshop in the basement. At its center is a table crafted from wood reclaimed from a ship that sunk in Lake Superior more than 100 years ago.

The bright and airy living room is adorned with overstuffed couches and tables made from a slab of granite split in half. There's nothing stodgy about this space. In fact, Fishman designed one of the tables at tea height to encourage snacking, and the other at coffee height - perfect for putting up your feet.

In the kitchen, natural stonework encases the stove, and an island is topped with stainless steel made by U-M artisans. A door to the back porch is surrounded by ment.

The master suite includes a walk-in closet, and another screened porch where the couple enjoys wine at sunset. Gas fireplaces lend warmth at the foot of the bed, as well as in front of the deluxe tub in the master bath.

"Ronnie thought of absolutely everything, everything," Fishman said.

As owner of Ronald Roy Wilner Architectural Design and Moonlight Homes, Wilner has made his career out of building wondrous living spaces for others. Since he and his wife finished Manorwood in 2006, they have experienced firsthand his company's slogan "Life's a holiday in a Moonlight Home."

'Your house should feel like you never want to leave," Wilner said.

Wilner and Fishman plan to fill their home with flowers to welcome guests on the tour, and volunteers will be on hand to explain the couple's artwork and design details.

The docents will be trained on the subtleties of all six homes on the tour, which range from a modest three bedroom bungalow in Royal Oak owned by a furniture artist to the eclectic Franklin abode of late designer Brian Killian.

According to Beverly

Homeowner and architect Ronald Wilner

Wolgin, co-chair of the Temple Israel Home Tour, each house has a unique story to tell.

"I just love seeing how other people live. I always get lots of ideas seeing what people do with their art and decor," Wolgin said. "The houses are not chosen by size. They represent a variety of lifestyles and interesting design expressions."

feel fortunate and thankful to have the privilege of flying. I don't like to freak out when

At my job, I'm not happy when someone yells at me over rules I didn't create. When traveling, I extend the same courtesy to airport work-

So, I will vent.

We know airlines are suffering and costs will rise, but the hidden fees make me feel like a chump. If Northwest Airlines wants to charge me $410 for a ticket from Detroit to Los Angeles, then just do it. Don't charge $350 for a ticket and then throw in extra optional fees later for choices that only make flights bearable. Here's what happened:

Lately, the only nonstop, direct flights from Detroit to Los Angeles is on Spirit and Northwest. Spirit's return flight is a red-eye - too tiring.

A month ago I bought a DTW to LAX ticket for under $367 on

Two weeks before my departure I went to Northwest's Web site to assign my seats. Nothing was available to me. Seven days later, still no available seats to choose from even though I had already paid for a ticket.

Twenty-four hours before departure and suddenly two seats were available - row 42, the very last row on the plane! Seats B and E - the middle seats!

I took seat B. Ugh! I decided to try for a better seat a few hours before my flight. Suddenly there were more

For an additional $30, I could have an aisle seat in row 25.

Thirty dollars more to sit in the Mexico recently, I watched second half of the plane? I bought it. Sucker.

I'm nice when I travel, but my weak spot is when it's time to de-board. I don't say anything, but cringe inside when people mess around unnecessarily in the aisles. I hate waiting, I hate when seemingly intelligent folks don't understand the system.

If I'm in row 26 and you're in row 27, you don't get to take cuts in front of me to get off the plane. I don't take cuts in front of you inline at the movie theater, flying isn't any different. Just like when we're driving in road construction, there's a system and things flow when we're all courteous. So, being in last row of a plane frus-trates this passenger. Now to my return flight. I tried to assign my seat a few days before my flight. Nothing.

Less than 24 hours, a similar situation: only the last row was available - seat B. How ironic.

But ... for $30 more, I could have row 24. This time I refused.

Should I have flown Spirit? They have a few flight attendants who tell sarcastic jokes and make flying fun. Even if I'm traveling on business, I'll take fun, please.

Then again, the McNamara terminal in Detroit is so pleasant. Get a massage or even a pedicure or just stroll the airy atmosphere. Have sushi, fresh dark green salads or healthy hummous. Life is good in the Northwest McNamara terminal.

Over in the soon-to-be-defunct old Smith Terminal (the new one opens this fall; celebrate!) where

Speaking of meltdowns ...

On my way from back from (once again) seemingly sane people have meltdowns when they were told that their large bottles of vanilla/tequila/ shampoo purchased at airport duty-free shops could not be carried on the plane.

The passengers begged for an explanation on why stores sold them these items without informing them of the restrictions. Where is the communication between airport stores and security?

All these people already went through security. They were returning from other countries and on a layover. They were now dealing with international security for those of us changing planes. They had to ditch their newly items - which meant going to a new line and risk missing their connecting flights.

those who are looking to take liquids out of the country - but not into the United States.

The Transportation Security Administration recently unveiled tamper-evident bags for the transportation of duty-free liquids, purchased post-TSA security, on flights departing the United States for international destinations.

Tamper-evident bags are for passengers departing the United States who have purchased duty-free liquids in the secure area of U.S. airports. Tamper-evident bags will not be accepted in the United States at security checkpoints. So, you can buy a bottle of perfume at duty-free store in U.S. airports, and put it in the tamper free bag for Aunt Rosie in Italy. But you can't buy that perfume in a duty-free shop and bring carry it on the plane for your aunt in Canton. You still have to check it.

If you want a more immediate solution, check out Orb (orb.com). This excellent service streams music (as well as photos, videos, and even TV) straight from your PC. All you do is install and configure the Orb client software (it's Windows-only, alas), then leave your home PC run-

Head to mycast.orb.com on your work system (or, for that matter, your iPhone, Palm Centro, Sony Playstation 3, or just about any other browserequipped device) and presto: There's your music library, ready for listening.

In my tests, Orb worked beautifully, if a little slowly. And you can't beat the price: It's free.

The wines from this region are improving, he said.

"You're seeing a change in style and the quality of wines," Lawrence said. "They aren't made by the seat of the pants. These wineries are doing more research to improve the wines. They go to University of California Davis (known for its enology program) and they're bringing back more expertise and knowledge. The technology is better now and they know what grapes to plant. They've learned through the years that certain varietals work well with different soils.

Anne Buechel of Rochester Hills attended OCC's event for the second consecutive year. "It gives you a real flavor of the small samplings of regional wines," Buechel said. "It's all local, too, like Steve's & Rocky's restaurant, which has great food and where I bring a lot of clients. OCC's culinary school's food was great, too."

Buechel enjoyed Chef Steve Allen's Chicken Cordon Bleu, while OCC chef instructors Kevin Enright and Doug Ganhs and students served up duck confit and grilled duck breast, Louisiana Voodoo Shrimp and Carolina Pulled Pork Sandwich.

Buechel enjoyed the wines, too. "What I see here I can go to the store and buy, supporting our local vineyards. It's good for the local economy."

Stiletto Strategies

Miss Meghan and her mother, Ann Cleary of Farmington, at the Melting Pot

America's Shoe Expert helps ease fear of heights

BY WENSDY VON BUSKIRK 0 & E STAFF WRITER

TROY — With the premiere of Sex and the City: The Movie hitting theatres May 30, the style spotlight is sure to shine on stilettos. And according to fashion forecasts, heels will rise to ever-towering heights this Fall.

But as much as some gals want to be 'in,' the thought of donning these spiky and sometimes painful shoes is enough. to freak them out.

"America's Shoe Expert" Meghan Cleary recently came to the rescue of Metro Detroit stiletto-phobes.

The Farmington native prescribed some of her famous 'shoe therapy' to members of Fashion Group International-Detroit during a recent talk at The Melting Pot in Troy.

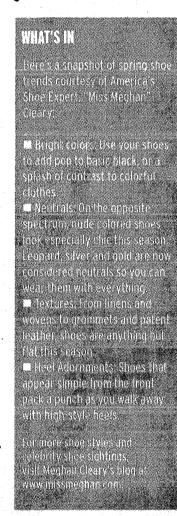

Here are some of Miss Meghan's "Stiletto Strategies":

SHOP SMART

When purchasing high heels, look beyond color to construction. Take your finger and place it vertically up the heel, noting where it meets the base of the shoe. The closer it hits to the center of your heel, the better.

"You want the heel to support you, not just raise you," she said.

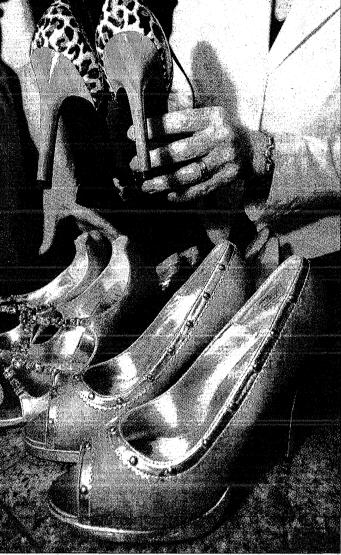

Also note the 'breast' of the shoe — the sweep that connects the heel to the sole. "I hate saying this, but you want more breast," Cleary quipped.

FIND YOUR SWEET SPOT

Today's heels are higher than ever before. Back in grandma's day, heels averaged just two inches tall. Today, three inches and above is the norm.

"Christian Louboutin really pioneered that 5-inch heel that the celebrities wear, and we all want to look like them," Cleary said. "But they're just getting in and out of a limo. We have to walk around like normal people."

Spring shoe samples, courtesy of Miss Meghan's HSN show "Shoe Therapy," demonstrate why some women need her 'Stiletto Strategies.'

Look for shoes that fit, at a height that's comfortable for you, she said.

"I have a pair of Sergio Rossi's that are 45-minute shoes. Beyond that, my toes turn white. That's it," she said.

BREAK THEM IN

After you buy a pair of stilettos, spend time getting them ready to wear. "Do not get up the next morning and put those shoes on for work. Do not do this," Cleary said. "At five o'clock you'll be in so much pain you'll want to kill someone."

Instead, test the shoes for an hour and monitor your comfort level. Anywhere you feel the slightest pain, apply moleskin foam, Foot Petals or Dr. Scholl's For Her.

"Think of it like tailoring a suit," she said. "I want you fully padded before you go out into the world in these things."

If the shoes are genuine leather, spritz them with water and wear them until they dry so they can mold to your feet.

TAKE A ROAD TEST

Walking in stilettos is a lot like doing Pilates, Cleary said, because it requires balance that comes straight from your core. Take your time, close vour eves and focus on vour center of gravity - not your legs and feet — as you move through the room.

"Stiletto girls have flat stomachs," Cleary said. "Think about a different way of being in the shoe. That's part of the beauty of stilettos. It's a whole different mindset."

Fashion Show helps women and children

ROCHESTER — Despite tough economic times, Pontiac's Grace Centers of Hope raised a record-setting $175,000 at its 10th Annual "Women Helping Women" Luncheon and Fashion Show, held May 3 at the Royal Park Hotel in Rochester.

The money will help support homeless and abused women and children who currently reside at GCH.

Women Helping Women" is GCH's largest fund-raising event of the year. Through the generosity of its Presenting Sponsor, The Chrysler Foundation, as well as many other sponsors (English Gardens, Volkswagen, Save on Everything, Compuware, Northwest Airlines and the Ford Motor Company Fund) it was the most successful fashion show ever.

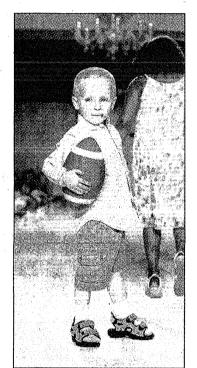

Doris Biscoe, Ruth Spencer and Teresa Tomeo acted as emcees, and one of GCH's graduates, Joy Geiger-Agee, shared her testimony with the sold-out crowd of more than 630 people.

Hometown soap opera star nominated for Emmy

Livonia native Nicole Forester has been nominated for a Daytime Emmy. Forester, who stars as Cassie Layne Winslow on "Guiding Light," is up for Outstanding Lead Actress in a Drama

Forester, formerly known as Nicole Schmidt, began acting when she was 15 years old, at the Creative and Performing Arts High School at Churchill High School in Livonia. After graduating from Stevenson High School in 1990, she moved to Hollywood to pursue acting as a career.

She landed parts in many television commercials and popular series, including a recurring role on and a Half Men," "Star Trek: Enterprise," and "Will & Grace."

She also played the lead in the movie "Vampires Anonymous," and has worked in theatre.

In 2006, she took over the role of long-established character Cassie Lynne Winslow on "Guiding Light" and moved to New York City.

In the lead actress category, Forester faces Maura West as Carly Tenney on "As the World Turns," Michelle Stafford as Phyllis Summers Abbott on "The Young and the Restless," Jeanne Cooper as Katherine Chancellor on "The Young and the Restless" and "Guiding Light" co-star Crystal Chappell as Olivia Spencer.

The Daytime Emmy Awards will be from Hollywood's Kodak Theatre.

Two years since it opened on Broadway, The Color Purple brings the love to Detroit. Earning 11 Tony Awards, including Best Musical, the show is based on Alice Walker's classic novel, and later a touching film by Steven Spielberg, both by the same name.

The story and struggle of Celie comes to life on the Fox Theater stage this month.

Along with the production's first national tour comes 9-year-old singing phenom Diamond White, of Southfield. With the full support of her mother Deborah White, who's been touring with her daughter from the start, Diamond portrays several roles in the cast.

She's young Nettie, playing a hand-clapping game with her sister Celie in the show's opening scene. She also portrays Mister's daughter and Sofia's daughter. She performs in a scene featuring the song Miss Celie's Pants and in the picnic scene at the close of the show.

Flight of the Conchords gets familiar with Ann Arbor

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA
O&E STAFF WRITER

New Zealand-bred digi-folk comedy duo the Flight of the Conchords found itself on a first-name basis with Ann Arbor Saturday night as Jemaine Clement and Bret McKenzie performed to a packed house at the Michigan Theater. The show, one of only 15 scheduled around the country, sold out at light speed — less than five minutes - thanks to the loyal following of their cleverly-crafted HBO series of the same name. The fictionalized portrayal places this real-life Kiwi duo in New York City with the support of an inexperienced manager named Murray (Rhys Darby), and a single, obsessed fan named Mel (Kristen Schaal).

Comedian Arj Barker, best known to FOTC series fans as Pawn Shop Owner Dave, warmed up the crowd with a bit of improv, as the anticipation bubbled up to a palpable level. Flight of the Conchords took to the minimalist stage — perching on a pair of high-backed stools. They plugged in their guitars and slid right into the "binary solo" and C-3PO imitations as only the self-described ro-bros can during the set-starter, The Distant Future. Trading up instruments for the occasional inclusion of a digital horn or a purposefully awkward keytar solo, those simpleton antics have made the duo famous. They pummelled through two hours of music and droll banter, feeding off a ravenously vocal crowd.

Addressing fans with a bit of "professional talking" early on, Clement coyly asked "Can we call you Ann?" It seemed a reasonable flirtation as they strummed into The Most Beautiful Girl in the Room, a song that includes the observation "You could be a part-time model."

With his signature wide-eyed stare and his head cocked to one side, McKenzie hit most of the high notes and kicked out his beatbox skills on the band's singular hip hop venture — Hiphopopotamus vs. Rhymenoceros. The song appears on the band's eponymous full-length on Subpop Records. At one point, he made a memorable leap into the orchestra pit, causing the crowd to wonder whether he actually fell.

Clement's stone-faced seriousness and booming baritone proved the perfect companion. He uttered lines like "You can't break my heart. It's liquid. It melted when I met you," in Not Crying.

Judging by the roar of applause, the soulful and silly Business Time has to be the duo's bona fide hit. A love song detailing the rather predictable, mundane habits of a couple, appeared on the full-length as well as the EP, The Distant Future. Still the audience cooed repeatedly for Bowie, which features both performers mimicking the rock icon's voice "in space." It appeared in one of two encores. For Clement and McKenzie, who joined forces in 1998 as students in Wellington, New Zealand, these simple fish-out-of-water comedy stylings and a fascination with pop culture (revealed in references to Beyonce, Boys II Men, and of course the Lord of the Rings Trilogy) blend into pure brilliance.

While awaiting the second season of the HBO show, fans and newcomers alike can catch reruns of the first season as Flight of the Conchords is currently airing at 11 p.m. on Fridays.

Gear up, drive-in for summer movies at Compuware

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA

0&E STAFF WRITER

Teased hair and friends hiding in the trunk are out, but the drive-in movie is back in metro Detroit.

The Detroit area once housed some 35 drive-in movie theaters — many with single screens that opened in the late 1940s or mid-1950s. But there is hardly a sign of those demolished symbols of summertime past. Only the longtime last-one-standing Ford-Wyoming Theatre in Dearborn still shows movies regularly.

But the city and suburbs are working to revive the open air cinema tradition. Movie-goers can catch Movies in the Moonlight in downtown Rochester starting in July. Detroit's Campus Martius Park will kick off its annual Comcast Summer Film series at 8 p.m. Saturday, June 14.

And the first to offer starry night cinema will be Plymouth's Compuware Arena Drive-In, which offers sneak peek movie weekends Friday-Saturday, May 16-17 and again in time for Memorial Day weekend Friday-Sunday from May 23-25. Compuware's three outdoor screens, each offering double-features, will stay open daily from June 13 to Sept. 7.

Mike Henry, arena manager, said this will be the sixth year since the drive-in concept came to Compuware. It was initiated by a third party but the arena staff has kept the drive-in alive. "It was such a unique tradition for families," said Henry.

He said the theater shows first-run, new-releases. Though this summer's lineup is not yet determined, opening and Memorial weekends will feature The Chronicles of Narnia: Prince Caspian. Family-oriented films tend to do the best, Henry said, adding that animated pictures are sure to be a success. Last year Disney's Ratatouille drew large crowds as did the blockbuster action flick, Transformers.

Gates open at 7:30 p.m. and movies begin at dusk — which during the summer tends to be around 9:15 p.m. or 9:30 p.m. Movie-goers can tune in the sound through an FM radio dial. The second film of the double-feature starts just five minutes after the first film ends.

"Friday and Saturday are our busiest nights," said Henry. To handle the crowds a staff of 10 work as ticket-takers, projectionists and assist with parking cars.

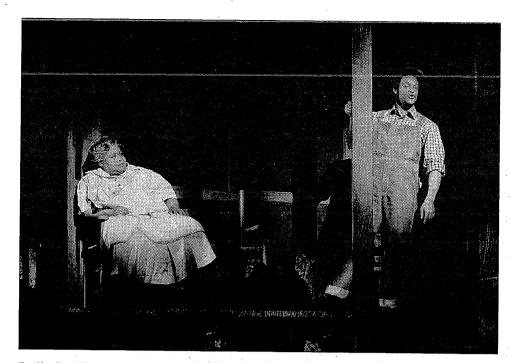

"Every year the word gets out there more and there's more excitement," said Henry.

Tickets cost $9 for movie-goers 13 and older, and $7 for children ages 4-12. Children 3 and under are admitted free. Students with a current ID are admitted for $7 Sunday through Thursday. For more information, visit www.compuwarearena.com or dial the hotline at (734) 927-3284.

For the first time on national tour, 'The Color Purple' heads to Detroit this month.

whether she's got "the Energizer Bunny inside of her."

Diamond showed a knack for singing at just 9 months old. Her mother heard her singing along to TV's Barney and Friends, a tiny voice just belting out She'll Be Coming Round the Mountain.

"Nobody in our family sings," said White. "She's a blessing."

By age 2 Diamond volunteered to sing

the Star Spangled Banner "in front of the whole school," as she said. And, according to her mother, mouths dropped open.

In 2006 the young aspiring performer signed with Southfield's One Source Talent Agency — a move that led to Diamond's New York City audition for the role in The Color Purple. White said she didn't even know they needed to bring sheet music, rather than the usual CD, for Diamond's audition.

But her daughter sang a cap ell a and later borrowed sheet music to Amazing Grace, and managed to wow the casting professionals. They got the call on the drive back to Michigan and, White said, "we just screamed and hollered and rolled the windows down.'

Since then, Diamond said, she's performed the show in Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Baltimore and Tempe, Ariz. She's excited, to say the least, about her homecoming performances which runs May 20 through June 1 in Detroit.

'It's gonna be so amazing," she said, calling May 7 from the tour in Baltimore. "It's the first time my family will see me on stage.'

Diamond said she's looking forward to seeing her brothers Dewaun, 31, Bud, 25 and sister Angel, 28. She's been on tour for the past year and three months, and misses her bedroom.

"I know the whole story," she said of the show. "It's like the cast is my second family. They treat me with respect."

In The Color Purple, sisters Celie and Nettie are torn apart when Celie is married off to an abusive farmer named Mister. Mister's son Harpo turns his home into a juke joint, drawing Mister's longtime mistress and sultry singer Suge Avery into town. But Suge arrives in poor health and it's Celie who must care for her. The two form an unexpected bond that allows Celie to find the strength to go out on her own. She starts her own business and returns to the house where she grew up. It's a saga spanning decades and following the ebb and flow of love and life.

"I think the show is amazing," said Diamond. "I love the show 100 percent."

It's heady subject matter for a 9year-old, but Diamond said her favorite moment is set to the song I'm Here at the end of the show, because as she said, "everyone sings together."

While on tour, Diamond is keeping up with her studies thanks to a tutor who travels with her. The tour is set to continue through 2010. The younger actors, like Diamond, can stay with the production as long as they don't out-grow the role or their costumes. But she's already set on a career in entertainment. "I want to do film and have my own TV show," she said. For now she's excited to perform at the Fox Theatre. As a pre-schooler Diamond saw a Sesame Street production starring Elmo at the theater. "Now I can go behind the stage," she said.

Oprah Winfrey and Scott Sanders produced the smash musical, which will be directed as it was on Broadway by Gary Griffin. It features a libretto by Pulitzer Prize-winner Marsha Norman and the memorable score ranging from blues and jazz to gospel and pop. Twenty-nine songs strong, the score was developed by composers and lyricists Brenda Russell, Stephen Bray and Detroit native Allee

'The Color Purple,' based on Alice Walker's novel, tugs at the heartstrings.

It feels like home at Hilton Road Cafe

BY WENSDY VON BUSKIRKO&E STAFF WRITER

At Hilton Road Cafe, customers are treated like family.

As owner Effie Lambrous and her staff cook up comfort food and greet customers by name, they make everyone feel at home in this intimate little diner.

The lifelong Ferndale resident took over Hilton Road Cafe in January, after a long career in the restaurant business. She and her husband, Sotirios, formerly owned The Heights Coney Island, located right down the street. At that time, Hilton Road Cafe was called Millie's.

After selling The Heights, Lambrous managed restaurants for other people until she decided to go back in business for herself. She went trolling the Internet for restaurants for sale.

"All of a sudden this cute little place popped up," she said. "Mind you when Millie was here, back in the '80s, we were competition. How ironic me buying Millie's place, right?"

Hilton Road Cafe isn't eye-catching from the outside but inside it's a cozy little gem, living up to its claim as "Ferndale's Best Kept Secret."

3150 Hilton Rd., Ferndale, (248) 548-0008

Hours: 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. 7 days a week

Menu: Breakfast and Lunch. Omelets range from $4.95-$6.95. Skillets, $5.45-$6.35. Salads, $4.25-$6.25. Sandwiches, pitas, wraps and reubens, $3.50-$6.75.

Details: 25 seats, Visa and MasterCard accepted, no smoking.

The menu surprises with fresh ingredients and unique menu selections that go beyond typical diner fare.

Breakfast choices include omelets, burritos, granola parfaits, oatmeals, blueberry pancakes and biscuits with sausage gravy.

Most notable are the Skillets — satisfying mounds of home fried potatoes heaped with choice ingredients and topped with two eggs cooked just how you like 'em.

"People come from all over for the Skillets," Lambrous said.

For lunch, offerings include grilled sandwiches, deli sandwiches and wraps (the Triple Grilled Cheese is a favorite), along with salads ranging from Chicken Poppy Seed to classic Greek, something Lambrous recently added to reflect her heritage.

A Mediterranean influence can also be found in Hilton Road Cafe's daily specials, like Greek Burgers, Salmon Salads topped with feta cheese, and Shish Kebobbies skewers stacked with bite-sized lamb.

 Lambrous' husband — who works as a chef at Maple Lanes Golf Course — stops by each morning to make the soups, while Effie and her cook, Kris McLaughlin, share dessert duty, concocting to-die-for bumpy cake, carrot cake, Boston creme cake, baklava and rice pudding.

The homestyle food reflects the family atmosphere of Hilton Road Cafe.

Lambrous' daughter Fatoula often ties on an apron and helps out, while locals like Johnny Miller regularly stop by for Effie's home cooking.

"She's like a second mom to me," Miller said.

Lambrous and waitress Barb McDonough greet every person that walks in, and conversations often cross the dining room as everyone gets involved.

"I use a little trick to remember everyone's name," Lambrous said. "I love to cook, I love to serve people. We appreciate the customers so much."

The Michigan Restaurant Association is seeking charity and civic minded restaurateurs to enter the 2008 Restaurant Neighbor Award. Each year, the National Restaurant Association and American Express award $5,000 each to four restaurants — one small business, one mid-size/large business, one national chain and one Humanitarian of the Year — through the Restaurant Neighbor Award, an awards program that recognizes outstanding community service efforts among our nation's 945,000 restaurants.

The MRA will choose winners to compete for the national award. In addition to the grand prize of $5,000, national winners receive an all-expenses-paid trip to Washington, DC where they will receive the award. To apply for the award or to nominate a restaurateur who is actively involved in his or her community, contact the MRA at (800) 968-9668 or apply online at www.restaurant. org/community.

'Church' member visits Magic Bag

Celebrated guitarist Marty Willson-Piper, formerly of The Church, comes to the Magic Bag in Ferndale with The Electric Mood Maidens at 8 p.m., tonight (Thursday, May 15). His career has led him through membership in influential bands such as The Church, All About Eve and The Saints and then to a solo career. He's written songs with or for Grace Slick, Susannah Hoffs, Linda Perry, Charlie Sexton and Aimee Mann and worked on albums with Roger McGuinn, Jules Shear, Brix Smith, David Gedge and Rob Dickinson. Tickets are $15. Visit www.themagicbag.com.

Seldom Blue-bag-it for a picnic lunch

If you work in downtown Detroit or are looking to spend a fun afternoon in "The D," here's an outdoor suggestion:

Seldom Blues, the jazz restaurant and supper club, is offering a "Blue Bag" deal, a daily lunch special available for $6.99, Monday through Friday throughout the spring and summer.

Get the bagged lunch and go have a picnic at Campus Martius park. Or, enjoy the lunch on Seldom's patio.

Forget the brown bag, this one celebrates, of course, the blues and it's only available as a takeout or on the patio.

The Blue Bag special includes the choice of one of three different sandwiches created daily by chef Jerry Nottage, plus traditional picnic fare such as chips, cookies and a soft drink.

Lunch is served from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

In specific locations, Seldom Blues delivers for free with orders of 10 or more.

The restaurant is located in Tower 400 of the Renaissance Center, home of General Motors World headquarters.

To place an order or for more information call (313) 567-7301.

School of Rock performs Beatles songs

More than 50 students aged 7-18 from the Rochester branch of the Paul Green School of Rock Music are having their test this weekend: a rock concert.

This isn't a high school choir. This is rock 'n' roll.

At the Crofoot in Pontiac, students who sing and play drums, bass, guitar and keyboards will perform concerts at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, May 17 and 18 dedicated to The Beatles.

"What these kids have accomplished in the past four months since we've opened the doors is simply astounding," said Music Director and long-time Detroit rocker Eugene Strobe. At the Rochester school, and 40 other franchises around the country, students learn classic rock with focus on performance.

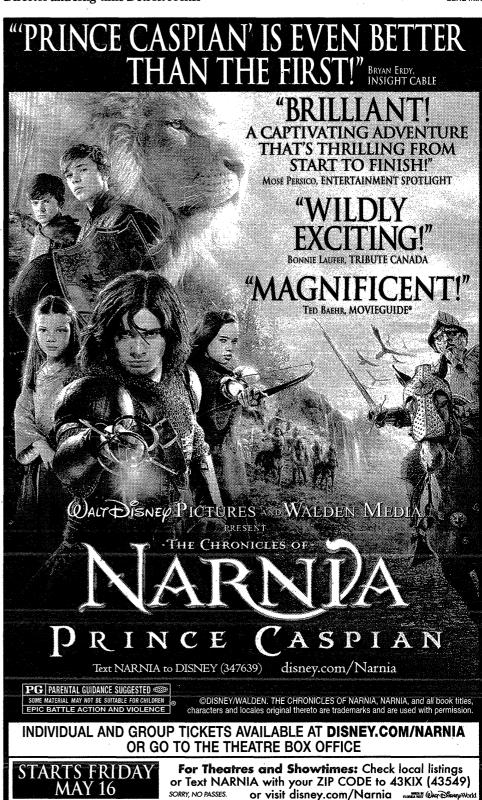

Later this summer the bands will perform shows honoring AC/DC, The Stones, Bob Seger and some southern rockers.

The Paul Green School of Rock Music was the inspiration for the Jack Black hit comedy, School of Rock.

The Crofoot is located at 1 South Saginaw, Pontiac. Tickets are $10.

Emile Hirsche and Christina Ricci are Speed Racer and Trixie in the big-screen take on the classic anime TV show, 'Speed Racer.'

'Speed Racer' rolls into theaters

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA

O&E STAFF WRITER

From the primary colors and yellow checkered opening credits to the Grand Prix finale of Speed Racer, creators Andy and Larry Wachowski welcome viewers into an imagination-fueled existence where race cars meld uncanny stunts with the magic of martial arts. The Wachowskis, known for the ground-breaking Matrix series, dubbed this stunning new sight Car-Fu and from the start it's easy to see why. Based on the anime TV series of the same name by Tatsuo Yoshida, the film blends live actors and action with ground-breaking effects.
From childhood, our hero Speed Racer

(Into the Wild's Emile Hirsche) does little more than daydream of his future as a top race car driver. Though he loses his idol and older brother Rex Racer to a treacherous course far too soon, Speed grows to value his family above all else — including Mom and Pops Racer (Susan Sarandon and John Goodman) and mischievous little brother Spritle whose constant sidekick is a chimpanzee named Chim Chim.

The Wachowskis managed to wow the crowd with a candy color scheme that spreads from the characters' own costumes to the swirling sight of rollercoaster-like race tracks.

Speed Racer is very much a film about the importance and support of ones' family. "Racing's in our blood," said Speed, "but for Pops it isn't just a sport, it's a religion.' Throughout its multi-layered plot, Speed battles to hold onto the memory of his long lost brother, and fights against tempting offers to race for a major corporation — the stealthy dangerous Royalton Industries. A tour of the larger-than-life company evokes images of Willy Wonka's own Chocolate Factory. Speed learns the business isn't as pure as it seems and if he's going to protect his family's independent company Racer Motors - he'll have to survive the most deadly cross country course and take the trophy fair and square in the ultimate championship race, the Grand Prix. It takes teamwork — as Speed joins forces with the mysterious Racer X (Lost's Matthew Fox in a controlled, strong monotone). Rounding out the cast is Christina Ricci as Speed's Girlfriend Friday, Trixie. Even she takes to the wheel to help out the cause, her severe jet-black bobbed hair and candy pink lips proving she's tough enough for the task.

The cars aren't the only speeding element in the film. The Wachowski Brothers take the theme of the re-envisioned cartoon to the extreme.

Scenes wipe instantly across the screen, from one to the next with a fixed close up on characters. Flashbacks flicker against the background as Speed recalls an influential moment in his past. It's all done with an eye on light speed.

Though the film zips along, its overlyindulgent 129 minutes will surely test the patience of viewers, especially the youngest variety. The PG-rating proves suitable though there are a few violent moments and dramatic disasters on disconnected race tracks. While Speed Racer would've benefitted by a more judicious editing job, it's a fantastic ride - part anime video game and part heartfelt family story.

DIA celebrates one of its own

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA
O&E STAFF WRITER

The Detroit Institute of Arts looks back at the legacy left by Curator Sam Wagstaff in a film and gallery talk titled Black White & Gray: A Celebration of Sam Wagstaff, next week at the museum.

A pivotal figure in the late-20th century contemporary art scene, Wagstaff was an avid photography collector and visionary curator. He served as curator of contemporary art at the DIA from 1969 to 1971 and inspired Detroit's Cass Corridor movement.

"During his brief tenure he had a huge impact on Detroit and throughout his career he influenced the contemporary art scene," said Rebecca R. Hart, associate curator of the James Pearson Duffy Department of Contemporary Art at the DIA. "While he was here he mounted an exhibition called Other Ideas (1969). About this show he commented, 'All art is an attempt to make the viewer take a fresh look at everything, including himself."

"Wagstaff had a keen eye and great intelligence, which was honed through training with Richard Offner at New York University Institute of Fine Arts. His curiosity drew people to him. He inspired confidence because he trusted himself.

"The DIA collection is especially strong in work from the minimalist and pop movements because of Sam's leadership. He was an early champion of minimalism. The DIA's monumental Tony Smith Gracehoper, commissioned under Wagstaff, is an example of the courage and foresight of this curator. Never shy about opportunities he was responsible for the core of the DIA's pop art collection including our iconic Andy Warhol Self Portrait, works by Claes Oldenburg, Roy Lichtenstein, and Robert Rauschenberg.

Wagstaff died of AIDS in 1987, but Filmmaker James Crump captured intimate recollections about him from friends and colleagues in his documentary film. The event will also serve as the Michigan premier of the film Black, White + Gray: A Portrait of Sam Wagstaff and Robert Mapplethorpe. Hart said: "When the DIA learned that Black, White + Gray was on the drawing table we immediately took an interest in the project because Sam Wagstaff had been such an important influence on contemporary art."

A '70s styled cocktail reception and strolling supper begins at 5:30 p.m. in the Kresge Court, followed by the film screening at 7:30 p.m. At 8:30 p.m. there will be a panel discussion led by Mark Rosenthal, DIA adjunct curator of Contemporary Art. He'll be joined by those who knew and worked with Wagstaff, including artist Richard Tuttle, curator and writer Gordon Baldwin, and Ferndale Gallery Owner Susanne Hilberry, who worked as Wagstaff's assistant curator.
