Recount set in township clerk's race

BY BRAD KADRICH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Voters and candidates wondering who officially won the clerk's race in Plymouth Township will have to wait a couple of more weeks to find out.

Representatives of the Wayne County Board of Canvassers will be in Plymouth Township Friday, Sept. 5, to conduct a manual recount in the clerk's race between Deputy Clerk Joe Bridgman and political newcomer Mary Ann Prchlik. The recount starts at 8:30 a.m.; the certification meeting is set for 2 p.m.

Bridgman was announced as the

Bridgman

Prchlik winner following the Aug. 5 primary, beating Prchlik by 150 votes (1,920 to 1,770) in balloting tabulated that

Three days later, Prchlik signed a letter that was delivered to township Clerk Marilyn Massengill, seeking the recount.

"I welcome (the recount)," Massengill said. "I'm confident our results are correct, but most of all I want to make sure everything is right."

In the letter, Prchlik alleged three instances of "mistakes or fraud" she claims took place during the counting of the ballots:

■ Arithmetical, computational and like errors affecting the final tabulation of votes, including, but not limited to, errors in recording votes for candidates in certain precincts and errors in transferring vote totals from machines to poll books.

■ Errors in determining spoiled ballots, which errors may have had the effect of excluding votes for candidates which should have been counted and excluding votes which should not have been counted; and

■ Other errors or tampering which did cause the official tally of votes to inaccurately state the actual tally of Prchlik took great care to point out she's not accusing anyone of malfeasance, but she suspects there were equipment or human errors.

"When I had a chance to look over the results, I believe errors could have been made, either human handling errors or in the machine processing, Prchlik said. "There were some odd things in the results."

Massengill said some 500 absentee ballots were spoiled, largely by voters who unknowingly split their ticket between Republican and Democrat races, a no-no in Michigan primary

The only other problem, she said, came when the battery on a memory card in one precinct failed, forcing those votes to be recounted.

Teenager sentenced in mob attack

BY BRAD KADRICH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Andy Kauffman's family watched with mixed emotions Tuesday as Deonte Williams, the 17-year-old Mount Clemens teen who pleaded guilty to throwing the rock that started the mob scene that put Kauffman in the hospital with a brain injury, was sentenced to 19-38 months in jail in Macomb County Circuit Court.

While the family was happy to see some justice in the case, they were struck by the irony of Williams having a set sentence while Kauffman, 30, of Plymouth still has a long way to go in his recovery.

"Like (Kauffman's wife) Angela said in court, Deonte Williams has a set date when his sentence will end; Andy doesn't," said Paula Weber, Kauffman's mother-in-law. "That's the hard part. But the positive side is the people were caught, and now they're in the court system.'

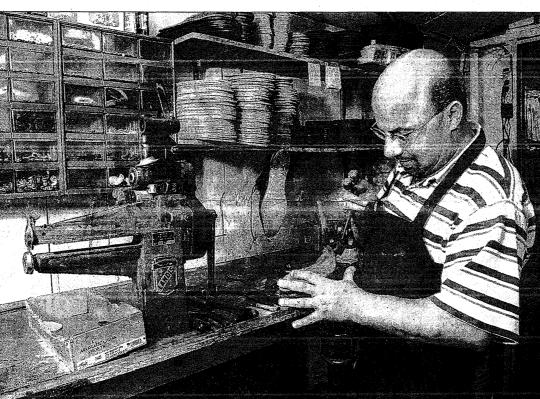

Williams, who pleaded guilty to inciting a riot and assault with a dangerous weapon and had two misdemeanors — malicious destruction of property and assault - dismissed. also must pay $31,380 in restitution for damage to a vehicle and the victim's injuries and rehabilitation costs.

Three other teens charged in the attack go to trial next week. Steven Lincoln, 18, and Jemall Davidson, 16, both of Clinton Township and charged with being leaders in the attack, stand trial Sept. 3, as does Armon Boyd, 18, who is charged with inciting a riot and assault to do great bodily harm.

Meanwhile, Weber said Kauffman is improving in some areas while still struggling in others.

"He's still in recovery mode, but he has made progress in some areas, and he looks good," Weber said. "His memory, his ability to process information and ability to make decisions are areas where doctors want to see him make more progress.'

Arts council, PSO partner of for practice of

BY TONY BRUSCATO OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

With state and federal funding becoming harder to obtain, local arts groups are being challenged to become more creative raising money to remain viable.

The Plymouth Community Arts Council and Plymouth-Canton Symphony Society have done just that, forming a collaboration that will allow the Plymouth Symphony to rehearse at the home of the PCAC during this year's concert series.

"There's no way we cannot do this," said Deb Madonna of Plymouth Township, the president of the PCAC board. "Granting organizations are saying 'you better spend wisely' and collaboration is the way to go, sharing resources and cutting spending.

"We've got a great facility here and it's dark lot of times," she said. "It's an easy fit for us because both of us are in the same (financial) boat."

Beth Stewart, the executive director of the Plymouth Symphony, said the orchestra will begin practicing at the PCAC in October, after a year of rehearsals at the Christian Science building on Ann Arbor Trail.

"We think it's a really great collaboration and a way to help each other, that's what arts organizations need to be doing now," Stewart said. "And, once you start collaborating, the ideas start to flow and you start thinking about other things you can do together.

The Youth Orchestra will rehearse there, too, and we'll have enough storage space so we won't have to keep transporting our equipment," she said.

The Plymouth Symphony has scheduled six concerts at Ward Presbyterian Church in Northville Township, two at the Penn Theatre in Plymouth and three Orchestra Canton concerts at the Village Theater at Cherry Hill in Canton Township.

Madonna said the additional money will help replace some of the lost funding.

"It brings a steady flow of income for us to help pay for the building," said Madonna. "It's not reasonable for us to pay for the building with programming, and the quality of what we offer will be untouched."

Symphony conductor Nan Washburn said the musicians are familiar with the PCAC accommodations and like the idea they'll have a home with storage space.

"We rehearsed there once last year and the musicians really liked it," said Washburn. "The doors open wide enough for our instruments. there's ample parking and the space is beautiful. It's very exciting because it's an arts space and we'll come in and do our own form of art

- music," she said.

Lotsa Helping Hands

Officials have announced Lotsa Helping Hands, a network of volunteers through Plymouth First United Methodist Church. Plymouth First United Methodist Church, located at 45201 North Territorial in Plymouth. is providing a matching service, through LHH, of community needs and volunteers. Having volunteers available to deliver meals, run errands to pharmacy & grocery stores, drive a person to chemo or doctor's office, or offering a simple act of kindness is worth more than words can say. Other non-medical services include, but are not limited to, helping children with their homework, providing daily check-in for homebound recipients, assisting new moms with childcare for older children, prayer requests and English as a second language (free) starting in October (first 20 applicants). LLH is serving Plymouth City residents at this time and plan to expand to Plymouth Township and Canton within the next few months. Anyone needing the service or knowing someone who needs it - or businesses wishing to sponsor - can e-mail helping-hands@ comcast.net

Former trustee named Republican chair

Abe Munfakh of Plymouth Township briefly considered a run for Plymouth Township Supervisor before withdrawing from the Aug. 5 Republican primary.

Now, Munfakh, a former township trustee, will be helping decide whom Republicans will support in a variety of races after being elected chairman of the 11th District Republican Committee.

The election came at a special meeting of the executive committee held July 29.

The Eleventh District Congressional Committee is elected by the Republicans within the Eleventh District of Michigan, which covers communities in western Wayne and north Oakland Counties. The district is represented in Congress by U.S. Rep. Thaddeus McCotter (R-Livonia). Munfakh will guide the efforts of the committee as they approach the 2008 election. Coordination will be made between the District Committee, the Michigan Republican Party and the campaigns of various members, including the campaign of John McCain in Michigan. Munfakh also was elected as Alternate Delegate to the Republican National Convention from Michigan's 11th District. Delegates at the convention, which meets next week in Minneapolis-St Paul, Minn., is expected to nominate McCain, a senator from Arizona, as the Republican candidate for president.

First Step's 30th

First Step, the Western Wayne County Project on Domestic and Sexual Violence, gathers later this month to celebrate its 30th anniversary by recognizing 30 "outstanding leaders."

The 30th-anniversary tribute and fund-raiser, set for 6-9 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18, at the Traditions Clubhouse, 1315 Waterside in Canton, will celebrate 30 years helping women and families overcome violence. The event will include a strolling dinner, silent auction and entertainment.

Keynote speaker is Carolyn Clifford of WXYZ-TV, who will be among those honored is outstanding community leaders in a special awards presentation at 7 p.m.

Anyone interested in attending may contact Theresa Bizoe at (734) 416-1111 or tbizoefs@gmail.com for more information or to purchase tickets. Tickets are available for $100 per person or $150 per couple.

First Step's mission is to reduce the incidence of domestic and sexual violence and to provide services to individuals affected by these crimes. The ultimate goal of First Step is the prevention of violence through education, advocacy and appropriate intervention.

Toddler drowns in pool accident

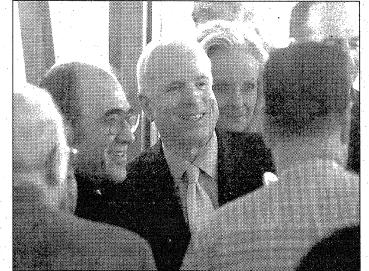

A 3-year-old girl drowned over the weekend when she fell into the community pool in the Rolling Oaks Subdivision along N. Territorial in Plymouth Township.

Plymouth Community Fire Department Acting Chief Mark Wendel said firefighters responded to a call shortly before 5 p.m. Saturday. When they arrived, CPR had already been started on the little girl by bystanders.

Firefighters took over the CPR and transported the girl to St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia, where her care was turned over to emergency room Wendel said the girl - whose name he would not release under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPPA) - was in full cardiac arrest when firefighters got her to St. Mary Mercy.

Twisted Scripture?

Man sues publisher for Bible translations he says discriminate against gays

BY TIFFANY I PARKS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Bradley Fowler says the biggest misconception about his lawsuit against the world's largest Bible publisher is that he has a problem with the Word of God.

The 39-year-old Canton man says his issue isn't with God's Word but those who have twisted the Scriptures.

"This is the Holy Bible. What we have been taught doesn't coincide with what was written," said Fowler, who has a $60 million lawsuit against Zondervan, a Grand Rapidsbased publisher. The case was filed with the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

In the suit, Fowler, who is gay, claims he began experiencing mental anguish and medical problems in 2007 when he came across several Zondervan-published Bibles that used the term "homosexual" in certain Scriptures, particularly 1 Corinthians 6:9.

"When I realized what they had done. I was so furious that I couldn't sleep for at least two days," he said, noting he feels the term was added to push an agenda. "This is a sacred book and the Scriptures say that no one is to add or take away (from the Word)."

Various translations have used various terms over the years to describe one particular group who will not inherit the kingdom of God, such as "sodomites," "practicing homosexuals," "abusers of themselves with mankind," and "men who practice homosexuality."

Zondervan officials, who recently filed a motion to dismiss Fowler's suit, say that Fowler is going after the wrong party.

"It has come down to taking issue with the way a word was translated (but) we did not translate these Bibles, we only published them," said Zondervan spokeswoman Tara Powers said teams of evangelical scholars are responsible for the translations.

"It is a laborious and intensive process," she said. "They want it to be accurate.'

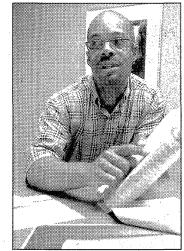

In its motion to dismiss Zondervan officials called Fowler's claims "patently been told that I was wrong because it was in the Bible,' he said. "But God never said it was wrong, it was people that put that in there. The Bible has been changed so many times it's ridiculous."

Nonetheless, Fowler's claims have been discussed on tens of thousands of Web sites and blogs and many have denounced the author's lawsuit calling it a stunt to bolster his writing career and solid proof that the world is in its "last days."

Fowler's criminal past, which includes a manslaughter conviction in 1986, has also been raised as a measure of his credibility.

While admitting his past faults, including a destructive childhood that he says was triggered by molestation from a male family member, Fowler says he is emotionally drained and would not have placed himself in a position to be the "laughingstock of the country" if he didn't believe in his cause.

"My faith says that I'm right," he said. "Nothing in my body tells me that I'm wrong. To the public, it seems that I made it this far alone but my God has directed my path."

year, Warra, 47, has owned the shop for 18 years. He's the business' second owner, but Pete Mucci, the original owner, still has close ties to his namesake.

"He is the best man you can meet," Warra said of the former owner. Mucci now lives in Florida for part of the year, but comes back to Plymouth from April through the New Year. And when he's in town, he can still be found at his old stomping ground. He and Warra frequently chat about the business, and compare today's prices to the way they were back in the early days. "He tells me all kinds of old stories," Warra said.

And Warra isn't the only one who appreciates the history behind his little shoe repair shop. Novi resident Jeanne Swanson is a weekly visitor to Pete's. As her family business. E & E Manufacturing, is also in Plymouth, it's important to her to support locally owned merchants.

"Between my father and I, we've been coming to Pete's for almost 10 years," she said. "He does an absolutely fabulous job. He has rescued shoes that I thought were beyond repair." That includes a pair of 12-yearold Chanel boots that Warra has resoled three times. "They look almost brand new," she

According to Warra, the secret to keeping a shoe and leather repair shop running after 59 years is to abide by two principles.

First, believe in your product. Warra said that though many people do buy cheap, disposable shoes, they pay the price. "You buy cheap shoes and they are bad for your back and for your feet," he said. Nice shoes may cost you more, he added, but they will last longer and make your entire body feel better when wearing them. Plus, when they get a little run down, a specialist like Warra can fix them right up.

Second, Warra believes in the art of customer service.

"I spend time talking to them," he said of his clients, "sometimes an hour. I get to know them and they know me. We take care of them, and we do whatever extras they need to make them happy.'

And Swanson agrees. "He's wonderful with customers," she said. "He bends over backwards for you."

Fifty-nine years of such quality service and goods seems like a long time, but no one need worry about Pete's closing its doors any time soon. Warra just signed another 10year lease, and plans on doing business even after he retires his cobbler's tools.

"I'm here 'til I'm 60," he said. "But the store won't go, believe me. Even if I go, I will still be running the store. You sit home, you get bored."

For more information, call Warra at (734) 453-7779, or stop in at 322 S. Main St. in downtown Plymouth, Remember – Pete's doesn't face Main Street, so go through the alley between UBS and 336 Main and take a right to find it!

Bankruptcy can help give individuals a fresh start received a letter from a couple in severe financial condition. They maxed out their charge cards. They worked with a credit counselor, who got their payments lowered. They called the charge card company, which lowered the interest on their debt.

Despite all that, they were still in all sorts of financial dif-bankruptcy. It was the only way to relieve them of their Money Matters financial crisis. I believed they could continue to maintain their payments. Recently, I received a letter from a reader who disagreed with my conclusion. The basic premise of the letter was that people get themselves into financial difficulty and they should get themselves

The letter writer believed bankruptcy was immoral and something that, if up to him, would not be available. He asked me to address the issue. I appreciate different opinions and I learn by listening to others. That being said, I stand by my original recommendation. I do not think bankruptcy is immoral.

We live in a great country, which recognizes that people make mistakes and sometimes need a fresh start. That is what bankruptcy is meant to do. It is not meant to reward, but rather an opportunity to learn and to get a fresh start. Many people believe there are no consequences to bankruptcy. Not true. There are substantial consequences for anyone who files for bankruptcy. Not only is your credit situation hurt, but filing for bankruptcy can also impact your ability to obtain a job. In addition, there is the psychological aspect that people go through when they file for bankruptcy.

There is another issue that rarely gets discussed, but I believe should be raised. Many personal bankruptcies are because of charge cards. There is no doubt that many people are irresponsible with charge cards and that leads to problems. However, it is important to recognize that charge card companies — in many situations — are charging exorbitant amounts of interest. One reason they charge high interest rates is to cover losses caused by bankruptcies.

The charge card companies, in effect, are charging individuals an insurance premium to insure themselves from losses due to bankruptcy. You could argue this premium is no different than any other type people pay to cover themselves in the case of a loss.

I do not believe bankruptcy should be a first choice if you run into financial difficulties. One should explore a variety of options to determine which suits the situation. However, after exploring options, if bankruptcy is the best option, so be it.

An individual who follows the law and selects bankruptcy should not be stigmatized. Northwest Airlines, Kmart and thousands of companies that have filed for bankruptcy don't believe they cheated their creditors or their shareholders. Companies use bankruptcy laws for their best interest.

I have no problem recommending that we as individuals also take advantage of the law where appropriate.

That does not mean bankruptcy is always the best solution, because it is not. However, it is one solution that individuals facing severe financial difficulty should explore and use where appropriate.

College students need to prevent fires very year, college and university students experience ■a growing number of firerelated emergencies. There are several causes for these fires, but most are due to a general lack of knowledge about fire safety and prevention. Fire safety must be a part of their lives. College-age students may feel invincible at this age, but they aren't. Most of our children will take responsibility for their own safety if we only show them how to do it. There is a strong link between alcohol and fire deaths. In more than 50 percent of adult fire fatalities, victims were under the influence of alcohol at the time of the fire. Alcohol abuse often impairs judgment and hampers evacuation efforts. Cooking is the leading cause of fire injuries on college campuses, closely followed by careless smoking and arson. Many factors contribute to the problem of dormitory housing fires.

■ Improper use of 911 notifica- level of housing facilities. tion systems delays emergency response. ■ Student apathy is prevalent. Many are unaware that fire is a risk or threat in the environment. ■ Evacuation efforts are hindered since fire alarms are often ignored. ■ Building evacuations are delayed due to lack of preparation and preplanning. ■ Vandalized and improperly maintained smoke alarms and fire alarm systems inhibit early detection of fires.

■ Misuse of cooking appliances, overloade d electrical circuits and extension cords increase the risk of fires.

If your child is going away to college this year, give them information on how to take responsibility for their own safety. Sit down with them and explain to them the following key points:

■ Provide students with a program for fire safety and prevention.

■ Teach students how to properly notify the fire department using the 911 system.

■ Install smoke alarms in every dormitory room and every

■ Maintain and regularly test smoke alarms and fire alarm systems. Replace smoke alarm batteries every semester. ■ Regularly inspect rooms and buildings for fire hazards. ■ Inspect exit doors and windows and make sure they are working properly. ■ Create and update detailed floor plans of buildings, and make them available to emergency personnel, resident advisors and students.

■ Conduct fire drills and practice escape routes and evacuation plans. Urge students to take each alarm seriously. ■ Do not overload electrical outlets and make sure extension cords are used properly. ■ Learn to properly use and maintain heating and cooking appliances. The steps that everyone can take to protect themselves and their children are fairly simple ones. Since your student may never have had to take responsibility for their own safety before, prepare them before they head out the door for college.

OUR VIEWS

Schmitt is our true hometown Olympian A couple of years ago, during the Winter Olympics in Turin, Italy, figure skaters Tanith Belbin and Ben Agosto helped put Canton on the map with their silver medalwinning performance in ice dancing.

Canton responded with a grand celebration for the two heroes. But Belbin was born in Ontario, Canada, and Agosto was born in Chicago, and neither of them were reared here. They just happened to train at Canton's Arctic Ice arena (something they no longer do).

Allison Schmitt, on

the other hand, is a true hometown hero. The 2008 Canton High graduate was raised in the Canton community and began swimming here when she was just 6 years old. A little over a week ago, Schmitt stood near the top of the swimming world in Beijing, China. The 18-year-old was part of the U.S. women's 4 x 200 freestyle relay team that won a bronze medal. The fact that the team didn't earn a gold didn't faze Schmitt one bit. She was just thrilled to be able to compete on such a stage.

"When we were standing on the podium for the medal ceremony, I couldn't stop smiling. It was like a dream come true," Schmitt said. "I still don't really believe it all. It was so cool just to be able to participate in the Olympics. To get a medal, too, was very special."

Schmitt's Olympic experience included meeting the president of the United States and many of America's top athletes, including her teammate Michael Phelps, as well as basketball stars LeBron James and Kobe Bryant. It was truly a dream-like week for Schmitt.

However, she said everything paled in comparison to winning an Olympic medal. It was the culmination of countless hours of training and hard work, which only Schmitt, her parents (Gail and Ralph Schmitt) and her coaches can truly appreciate.

Tonight, Schmitt will be honored at halftime of the Canton-Brighton high school football game at the PCEP junior varsity field. It will be a fitting and well-deserved honor considering the legacy she has left at Canton High. She has set a new standard for all swimmers in the district to look up to.

Fortunately, this is not the end of the story for Schmitt. In addition to swimming for the University of Georgia Bulldogs beginning this fall, she has already said she would like to compete in the 2012 Olympics in London, England. We can't wait.

Congratulations, Allison, and thanks for being such inspiration.

It's your job, parents, to teach life's most important lessons

With school starting Sept. 2, parents may think they're off the hook for a while.

Not so fast.

Parents are their children's first and most influential teachers. Parents may get a break from taking care of them from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. when school is in session, but their children don't stop learning when the last school bell of the day rings.

Children learn by example. And the lessons their parents teach are among the most important.

Parents who want their children to succeed in school — and in life — will set a good example. This includes accepting responsibility for their own actions, doing the right thing even when "everyone else" is doing the wrong thing, and following through on their commit-

Parents can't simply tell their children, "Do as I say, not as I do." They have to live what they teach, or their children will see through their hypocrisy.

A good education is necessary. Today, youngsters need a high school diploma and a college degree or some kind of specialized job training to be financially independent.

But character development is even more essential. A degree from a prestigious university may land a grad a job, but being an honest employee who treats co-workers and managers with respect will help him to keep it. Parents can't depend on teachers to teach morals - they have enough to do teaching them academics.

Besides it's parents' responsibility to teach their children about responsibility, honesty and the other important lessons of life.

Thanks to Farrand

As the new school year begins and both our children are now in middle school, we can't help looking back on the experiences we had at Farrand Elementary.

Our family would like to extend our deepest heartfelt thanks to the teachers and staff at Farrand. Over and over again we were impressed with their professionalism, their skill, their kindness, and their sincere interest in our children's well-being.

We were lucky enough to participate in the multi-age program, and we would like to extend a special thank you to Ann Hagen and Isabelle Sand — two remarkable teachers. We will miss you, the community of volunteers, and all the staff at Farrand.

Good luck on the new school year, and thank you for all you do for our children. You have made a lasting difference in our lives.

Restrict dangerous chemicals

Right now the Michigan legislature is considering the restriction of two dangerous chemicals: lindane a treatment for lice on children; and deca-BDE a flame retardant in mattresses, furniture, computers and televisions. As a Christian, I am deeply concerned about the health effects of these chemicals on children's health and all God's creation.

Lindane has been banned by 50 countries and the state of California. It is no longer used by the U.S. military, or on our livestock. Children who have been improperly exposed to lindane have suffered neurological damage afterwards. There are safer alternatives already in use; and lindane is a last resort when used in a doctor's office.

Deca-BDE is a flame retardant found in furniture, electronics, mattresses and textiles. The flame retardant releases into the air and water and can move up the food chain from fish to humans to babies. Scientific studies have found that American women have the highest concentration of flame retardants in their breast milk. Relatively high levels of deca-BDE have been found in fish from the Great Lakes. Animal studies have linked deca-BDE to thyroid and liver diseases and developmental delays. Safer flame retardants exist on the market, and should be used in place of deca-BDE.

In the gospel of Matthew 18:2-4, Jesus says, "Unless you turn and become like children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven." Children are dear to God, and we must ensure that they are able to grow without concern for toxic trespass of their bodily temples. We are also taught that God made the Earth and said it was good (Genesis 1:18). God put us on the Earth to care for Creation (Genesis 2:15).

Record matters most

Should John McCain choose Joe Lieberman, a Democrat turned Independent and even possibly our nation's first official Republicrat, as his running mate, it would have nothing to do with selecting an "unpredictable outsider" or even bipartisanship.

It would only reflect disingenuous politics at America's worst and most unforgiving. John McCain and Joe Lieberman are friends — no question about it. However they share the same "yes" vote on only one issue and that is the Iraq war. On all economic, health care and education issues, legislation and voting records, they sit on absolute opposite sides of the aisle. Joe Lieberman is a staunch advocate for the middle class, affordable health care, pro-choice and in support of stem cell research, mental health parity (The Wellstone Act), the uninsured children's health care bill and expanding, mandating and funding the No Child Left Behind. Yes, Joe Lieberman and John McCain are the very best of friends and share a passionate while misguided political ideology about the war in Iraq and both international and national security measures - but that is where their shared political beliefs, passions and votes stop. Democrats, Independents and moderate Republicans are going to vote against John McCain based upon his voting record on issues critical to themselves and our nation. If you are against affordable health care, health care for uninsured children, mental nearth parity, strong and accountable public education, a viable middle class, pro-choice and rational and educated decisions on how and where we secure America's safety in America and around the world then John McCain is going to be your candidate for president. Putting a vice presidential candidate on the ticket that will vote against the president on 98 percent of all legislation while somewhat comical, will not secure more votes for Mr. McCain on Nov. 4. So, put your hand over John McCain, Joe Lieberman and Barack Obama's names and compare their voting records in Congress. And then ask yourself how John McCain could ever select Joe Lieberman as his running mate or how Joe Lieberman could ever accept. In an Obama presidency, Congress and President Obama will know that on 98 percent of all legislation they can count on Sen. Joe Lieberman, Democrat, Independent, Republicrat and close friend of Sen. John McCain.

ishes. Unfortunately, political conventions are not the best venues for discovering what the candidates and parties are all about.

In a conversation last week with U.S. Rep. Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, he said congressional candidates who hold too closely to doctrinaire party positions would be the ones in danger of losing their seats this November.

But you can go on YouTube and watch a McCotter presentation on the House floor in which he drags out all the old and dreary labels for the Democrats. He attempts to "humorously" present a primer on speaking Democratic and then proceeds to equate Democrats with socialists, appeasers, big taxers, big spenders, anti-business. You know the drill. (But no, he isn't in danger of losing his seat.)

In our conversation, he said the American public is just as angry at Democratic-controlled Congress as they are at the sitting Republican president. He cites polls showing that this is the most unpopular Congress ever. But the fact is that the Democrats have only had control of Congress for two years, after 12 years of Republican control of the House. Many of the Democratic legislative initiatives have met with presidential vetoes or shortfalls in the Senate. The Senate is really an almost even split, with many conservative Democrats (and the lone wolf Joe Lieberman) giving the Republicans a majority on defense issues. It's hard to believe that the public could possibly equally blame the new Democratic majority in Congress with the president and his policies over the past eight years for the many messes the country is in.

But recent polls on the presidential race suggest a very close election.

Why?

Real income is down. Foreclosures have reached historic highs. Thousands of American workers have found themselves out of work or underemployed. Many young college graduates have found it impossible to find a job in their field and difficult to find any job at all. The stock market has been in a long skid, plunging the value of 401(k)s and making a comfortable retirement a dim prospect, even as many companies are trying to force workers toward retirement. (And we won't even mention disastrous environmental policies, no leadership on escalating health care costs and a war in Iraq that is costing us billions and short-circuited the hunt for bin Sen. John McCain has prided himself as a "maverick" and his personal history, his ability over time to work with Democrats and his folksy demeanor are all appealing qualities. It is interesting that voters in the Republican primaries chose the candidate who was least 'doctrinaire" about Republican positions. But to seal the deal, McCain has moved back toward those doctrinaire positions. He could have, and may yet offer an alternative conservative vision, but time to make his case is running out. Despite that, recent national polls show him and Sen. Barack Obama in a dead heat.

State polls from last week do show Obama pulling ahead in Michigan, the state that was the first to feel the full impact of a fast shifting global economy and an inadequate federal response. For far too long, many Michigan voters have been conned into voting against their own economic best interests.

Obama offers an opportunity to break that bad habit.

Obama is not a doctrinaire Democrat, much to the distress of some in that party. He does have serious economic ideas that borrow from across the political and academic spectrum, from Reagan to Clinton, from Friedman to Galbraith. His ideas are nuanced, pragmatic, based on free market principles.

But already the pundits are upset that the Obama campaign is pulling its punches, in its so-far tepid ads and at the convention. What are they waiting for, when Republicans have been girding themselves for the political lashing eight years of Bush "leadership" deserves.

Are we incapable of actually considering the real ideas of these candidates? Do we make all our decisions on which campaign can be more negative, more snarky, more mislead-

Too bad, here in southeast Michigan, we need ideas not sound bites.

Wonders of wizardry come alive as passion for Potter prospers n the last couple of weeks, Russia has invaded Georgia, Barack Obama has chosen Joe Biden (vay! by the way) as his running mate, George Bush suddenly thinks it's a good idea to get out of Iraq (how 28 percent of the country thinks this guy is doing a good job is beyond me) and Plymouth-

Canton graduate Allison Schmitt won a medal at the 2008 Summer Olympics.

What most of you probably missed was the item that most affected me personally: The release of Harry Potter and the Half-Blood Prince has been delayed from Nov. 21 to some time in July. That's NEXT July. July 2009.

ELEVEN months from now. Now, that may not mean much to you, but to a Muggle-born wizard wannabe, it's disappointing news, indeed.

A few months ago, it would have meant nothing to me. A few months ago, I'd never read a word of J.K. Rowling's multi-gozilliondollar series, never watched a single second of any of the first five Harry Potter movies. Now, I'm so addicted my 18-year-old, Marc, isn't sure he can live with me any more (a difficult position for him, since this is all his fault).

I've covered the last couple of releases of Harry Potter books, without really having much interest in the actual writings. I have my passions (my knowledge of M*A*S*H is unparalleled, for instance), but I still found the devotion of Potter fans willing to wait hours until the midnight release of both Goblet of Fire and Order of the Phoenix surprising.

I remember talking to one young girl at the release of Goblet of Fire, the fourth book in the series, who had read the first three (I hadn't read any of them). She had waited with her dad in line for several hours at the Little Book Shoppe on the Park in downtown Plymouth. At the same event were several young people in costume — Hermione Granger, Professor Dumbledore and the Boy Who Lived himself, Harry Potter. I was more amused than impressed. I was such a tremendous git back then.

None of it really meant anything to me until about three months ago, when I ran out of reading material at home. Marcus and my 11-year-old Robert, both urged me to finally give the Potter franchise a try and convinced me to try again to read Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone. I had tried it once before and found it thoroughly uninteresting.

But that's the interesting thing about our fancies, about our passions: We don't always know they're our passions, at first.

I gave Sorcerer's Stone another chance, and I haven't read anything but Harry Potter since. Rather than childish fantasy I found well-written lessons about life, about overcoming differences and adversity, with a few spells thrown in. What the Potter books really are are a seven-part coming-of-age story, sometimes breathtakingly told in a style that allows Rowling to really bring Potter and his cronies to life.

I've now read all seven books and watched three of the first four movies (I opened the DVD of Chamber of Secrets, borrowed from my Little Ones, only to find a Fairly Oddparents cartoon disc in it). I know who the Weasleys are, and I know what Quidditch is. I know what Death Eaters did, and I know why you'd drink Polyjuice Potion (I'd explain it all to you, but they only give me about 19 column inches here; Potter-maniacs - Pothead, Marc calls me - know what I'm

I stopped in the middle of writing this column to take two Harry Potter quizzes online, dragging my son into one of them and prompting him to tell me, "You've got to be stopped."

Salem nets '08 Balconi soccer title

For previews on local prep soccer teams, see Page B3.

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The heat was relentless during Saturday's Gary Balconi Soccer Tournament on the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park campus.

Just not quite as relentless as Salem's soccer team.

The Rocks opened their 2008 campaign in sizzling fashion by outlasting many of the top teams in southeastern Michigan on the way to a 3-0 record and the Balconi title.

"It was a fantastic day for us," noted Salem coach Ed McCarthy, whose squad knocked off U of D Jesuit, 5-1, in the championship match. "Our team's fitness level was the key reason we were so successful on a very hot day. All the conditioning the kids did over the summer paid

Junior John Krutty's goal off an assist from Scott O'Connor was the difference in Salem's tournament-opening 1-0 triumph over Dexter. Junior goalkeeper Sasa Miskovic was flawless between the pipes for the winners.

Junior Lachlan Savage accounted for both goals in Salem's 2-0 Game 2 victory over Novi Catholic Central. Savage was assisted by Alex Tramel and Mohammad Pourmandi.

Josh Pascarella was the brightest star among many in the lopsided title-clinching win over Jesuit. The senior tallied a pair of goals while Sam Savage, Matt Woster and Tramel each recorded one net-finder.

Plymouth went 1-2 Saturday, defeating Dexter, 1-0, before falling to CC, 1-0, and Ann Arbor Huron, 5-2.

Danny Jasewicz netted the only goal in the victory over the Dreadnaughts after securing a pass from Nick Russ.

Jasewicz and Russ both found the back of the net in the setback to the River Rats. Last Thursday, the Wildcats opened the season with a 1-0 triumph at Walled Lake Northern. Jasewicz scored the lone goal while Kyle Brindza and Josh Hill each played a half in the shutout of the

Knights. CANTON 2, NOVI 2: On Monday at Novi, the Chiefs earned a draw against the Wildcats thanks to goals from Yusef Bazzy and Joey Krizanek. Mitchell Reinhart, Jon Allen and Brandon Burt contributed assists while Nick Turnbull played solid in goal.

PCA 1, LUTHERAN WESTLAND 0: On Tuesday, the Eagles improved to 4-0 as senior keeper Brent Zinn stopped 21 shots and Blair Robinson deposited the gamewinner with approximately eight minutes left in regulation. Spencer Wiard assisted Robinson, who headed the ball over the Warriors' keeper's grasp.

"We knew it was going to be a tight game," said PCA coach Larry Machonga. "At halftime, my co-coach, Evan Baker, predicted one goal would win it and he was right on."

The shutout was Zinn's third of the Canton's football team won't push any scales to the brink of collapse this fall, but the Chiefs will certainly light up some stop watches.

As a result of a much-needed infusion of speed, scoreboards may be lighting up as well for coach Tim Baechler's squad, which will be banking on quicktwitch muscles to return to prominence following last year's 5-4 campaign.

"We're not real big, but our overall team quickness is much improved since last year," said Baechler, who led Canton to seven straight post-season berths prior to last year's near-miss effort. "This team proved during the off-season that they're very committed to the program and I like the chemistry.'

The Chiefs return just six starters — four on defense and two on offense — but their roster was replenished with several players who led last year's junior varsity and freshmen units to a combined record of 17-1.

Engineering the team's bruising fullhouse, tight-T offense will be quarterback Kevin Delapaz, a 6-foot, 180-pound lefty who has earned the rare distinction of being named a captain in his junior season.

"He's a very calm and cool kid," said Baechler. "So far, he's shown us that he can make the plays and he doesn't get rattled."

The Chiefs will also employ a spread offense on occasion, Baechler revealed.

Canton's starting running back trio enters the 2008 campaign with hardly any varsity experience. but more than enough wheels to compensate.

Halfbacks Kiere Daniels, a 5-10, 175-pound senior, and Rohn Gaudi, a 5-9, 155-pound junior, will flank junior fullback Adam Payter, a 5-7, 160-pound speed-burner.

"They're not big, but they're quick and shifty," said Baechler. "They're all play-makers."

Plymouth Township man primed for first triathlon

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Like millions of Americans, Bill Skubik will be going for a swim this Labor Day weekend.

What makes Skubik's water-based activity so unique is that he'll be swimming 2.4 miles in 68-degree salt water that's expected to be a little choppy.

And when his extended dip in the Plymouth Sound is over Sunday morning, he'll barely have time to dry off before jumping on his ultra-light bicycle and pedaling 112 miles through the eastern Massachusetts countryside.

To top his day off, the 46-year-old Plymouth Township Realtor will lace on his running shoes and complete a 26.2-mile

No, Skubik's not crazy — he's a budding triathlete who is eagerly anticipating his first full-fledged triathlon - a grueling 140-mileplus athletic test that truly separates the men from the *iron*men.

"About a year ago I was talking to a guy who works out at the same place I do and he told me he had just finished a full triathlon," Skubik said, explaining why he has chosen labor over leisure this coming holiday weekend. "I thought to myself, 'He's 43 (years old) and he did it, so maybe I can do it, too.' I've

Holes in one

Several local golfers registered aces on area courses recently:

Joey Verkerke, 9, of Plymouth, aced the 78-yard eighth hole on the Strategic Fox layout at Fox Hills on Aug. 6. He used a driver. Verkerke recorded a nine-hole score of 43.

■ Brendan McCann, 11, of Plymouth, aced the eighth hole at Strategic Fox on Aug. 12 using a driver. He fired a nine-hole round of 34.

■ Nate Brocci, 14, of Plymouth, notched a hole in one on hole No. 12 of the Strategic Fox, using a five iron. He shot a nine-hole round of 26.

■ Joyce Davis of Plymouth aced the 127-yard third hole at Timber Trace Golf Course in Pinckney using a nine wood.

Local bikers

Several Canton residents are primed to ride in the 38th annual Dick Allen Lansing to Mackinaw (DALMAC) bicycle tour that runs Wednesday through Sunday.

Christopher Gavalier will ride his first DALMAC while Mark Bourcier, Jeff Deneen, Brandon Rogers and Carolyn Rothwell are all tour veterans. This year's event will be Deneen's sixth. Founded in 1971 by former State Sen. Dick Allen, DALMAC offers riders a choice of five routes that will end in either Mackinaw City or DeTour Village.

This year's routes range in distance from 303 to 414 miles.

More than 2,000 riders are expected to participate in the 2008 tour.

For more information, visit the DALMAC Web site at www.biketcba.org.

Plymouth Township resident Bill Skubik is prepared to compete in his first fullfledged triathlon Saturday in Plymouth, Mass. The 46year-old Realtor has completed 10 marathons.

Steelers tame Cougars in season opener

JUNIOR FOOTBALL REPORT

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers got their season off to a rousing start Sunday when they swept the host Garden City Cougars. The Steelers' varsity squad ousted the Cougars, 27-14, as Joshua Mayberry scored a touchdown behind strong blocking from Jalen Bryant, who also scored. Kyle Topper added three extra-point Defensively, the victors were paced by Lowell Wade, who forced a fumble, and Justin Broughman, who scored on a fumble recovery.

The Steelers' JV contingent trampled the Cougars, 32-12, thanks in part to Anthony Convertino, who threw a TD pass along with providing strong leadership.

Also shining for the winners were Trenton Shelby, who scored three of the team's five TD's, and Nick Poet, who pounced on a fumble. Kevin Justice, Phillip Avramoski and Hussein Shahine excelled defensively for P-C.

The freshmen routed the Cougars, 34-6, as Aaron Brazelton rushed for a pair of touchdowns. Chris Bryant got things going when he ran back the opening kick-off for a TD. Nathan Gozdor excelled on the offensive line. Defensively, Joey Ahearn, Ben Phillips and Matthew Poet played well. The junior freshmen shined on both sides of the ball. Offensively, Rashawn Allen, Nicholas Polydoras and Ryan Young each scored twice while Lou Baechler (four solo tackles), Aaron Gabarino and Evan Good led the defensive effort.

Lions split with Bulldogs

The Canton Lions' varsity squad opened the 2008 campaign with an impressive 45-22 victory over the Brighton Bulldogs Saturday afternoon.

The Lions' offensive output was led by Malcolm Hollingsworth's three touchdowns. Jordan Ciciotti, Scott Gring and Nathan Emminger added a touchdown each. The offensive line play of Danny Stropes and Luke Denzer was great all day.

The defensive line play of Cody Sirls, Alex Smith, Travis McCall and Evan Lee stuffed the Bulldogs' offense. Brandon Lee and Jamarl Eiland added interceptions while Kyle Durham played a solid all-around game.

The Lions open their home schedule on Sept. 7th at Central Middle School against the Redford Rangers.

The Lions' JV squad fell to the Bulldogs, 20-0. Several Lions sparkled on the defensive side of the ball, including Daniel Jipping, Kenny Arnold, Andrew Hunt, Mike San Millian and Daniel Kilgore.

The Lions' freshmen squad dropped a 25-0 decision to a tough Bulldog contingent.

The Lions' defense kept them in the game until the end of the third quarter with strong play from Justin Burgos, Jason Arnold, Jackob Wickens, Jackson Austin and William Bode, who blocked an early punt.

The Lions' offense had a tough time moving the ball against a stingy defense, but were led by quarterback Evan Voyles and the line play of Shaw Lyall and Spence Canton's Jordan Kielty (7) and Shelby Anthony (4), pictured in action last year, helped lead the Chiefs to a runner-up finish in Saturday's South Lyon Invitational.

Kielty's kills propel Chief spikers to runner-up finish

Canton's volleyball team struck gold at Saturday's season-opening South Lyon Invitational.

The Chiefs advanced all the way to the Gold Bracket championship game before falling to 2006 Division 1 state champion North Branch, 25-14, 25-21.

Canton, which went 4-0 in pool play before spiking the host Lions in the semis, was led by senior setter Kacy Moran (97 assists, 36 digs, seven aces) and junior Jordan Kielty, who racked up 61 kills, seven blocks and 38 digs.

"I have five returning players (Moran, Kielty and seniors Gina Waite, Janelle Burdiss and Shelby Anthony) who really held things together on the court for us," said Canton coach Jen Barnes. "We had a freshman — Kristen Muir — who really stepped up her play and was a huge asset for us going opposite Kielty.

"Janelle, who's usually on our right side, had to play middle for us this weekend and she had great net play and may be seeing more time in the middle this season. I think our defense is what is going to keep us competitive. We still have a lot of offensive work to do. Although Kacy and Jordan look great together, we need more offensive options when we play the bigger teams."

The Chiefs breezed through pool play by sweeping Howell (25-14, 25-23), Dexter (25-17, 25-19), Brighton (25-20, 25-12) and Wayne Memorial (25-13, 25-8). They then outlasted South Lyon in a threeset thriller 25-23, 14-25 and 15-8

Anthony contributed 45 digs and six aces while Waite chipped in with 45 digs and six aces. Muir notched 25 kills, 30 digs and eight aces, and Burdiss registered six Opposing forwards may have a hard time "Cope"ing when they take the field against Salem this season.

That's because the Rocks' defense will be as hard to penetrate as a rock wall thanks to the presence of returning senior defenders Kevin Cope, Jace Bearden, Matt Calupina and Garrett Rogers and All-State net-minder Sasa Miskovic, who's only a junior.

"We're going to have a strong back line led by Kevin Cope," said Salem coach Ed McCarthy. "And Sasa (pronounced Sa-sha) is in my estimation one of the top three or four goalies in the state."

McCarthy had high praise for Cope, who has verbally committed to play collegiately at Michigan State University.

"Kevin possesses a great combination of size and speed," said McCarthy. "He's also a tough and aggressive player."

Junior Zach Basanese will provide defensive depth for the Rocks. Senior Josh Pascarella will pace the Rocks at the other end of the pitch. Pascarella led the team in scoring as a junior despite the fact he doesn't possess blazing speed.

"Josh is a very crafty finisher," said McCarthy.
"He's very hard to stop one-v-one and he comes back to the ball very well, which helps us possess the ball longer."

Joining Pascarella up front will be Sal Savage and Alex Tramel.

The Rocks' corps of mid-fielders is deep and talented led by senior Jeremy Stoychoff. Other key mids include senior Alex Covert, junior John Krutty, junior Lachlan Savage, senior Matt Woster, senior captain Dan Radosevich, junior Scott O'Connor and junior Evan Antich.

Will Allen will back up Miskovic between the pipes.
The Rocks return 18 letter winners from their 2007 team that went 7-6-10.

"With all of our experience, I expect us to compete for a league championship this season," McCarthy asserted. "We're in a very tough division, though, with Stevenson, Novi and Northville, so it will be the ultimate test."

PLYMOUTH

Head coach Jeff Neschich will be looking to replace the school's best player ever — Colin Rolfe — who graduated in June and is now playing for the University of Louisville.

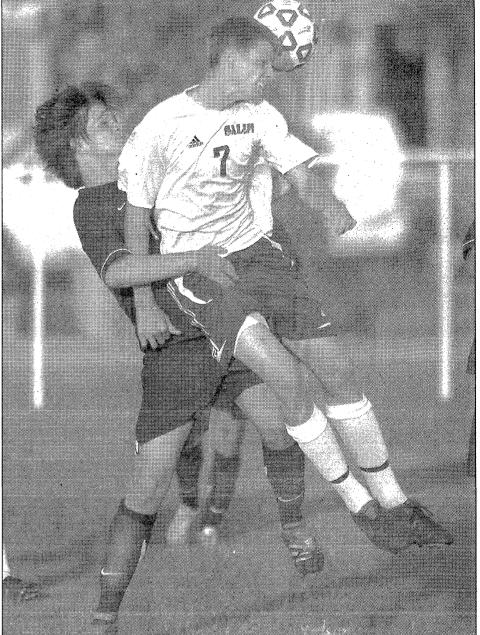

Also gone from last year's 9-7-5 squad are twins Trevor and Tyler Floyd, who contributed in many ways.

"I think we're going to be OK," said Neschich.
"Obviously, we have some holes to fill, but the kids are working hard to make up for the losses we had to graduation.

"Our strength is probably going to be our defense, where we return three of four starters." The player expected to pick up most of the scoring slack in Rolfe's wake is forward Danny Jasewicz, who was second on the team in goals scored last season. The talented junior has already netted three goals in the Wildcats' first four games.

"Danny's a very strong, physical player," said Neschich. "He has good, all-around skills." Other key forwards include seniors Kyle Anderson and Bradley Finnegan.

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Salem senior defender Jace Bearden (7), pictured in a game last season, combines with fellow senior Kevin Cope to give the Rocks a formidable one-two punch along the back line.

PREP SOCCER PREVIEW

Providing strong depth in the mid-field for the Wildcats will be sophomore Ian Griffiths, sophomore Steve Jahn, senior Zach Neville, senior Chris Shackleford, junior Joey Klonowski, junior Dan Conklin and junior Harold Blohm. The Wildcats' goal-keeping duties will be shared — at least early on in the season — by junior Josh Hill and sophomore Kyle Brindza, who is also a place-kicker on the Plymouth football team. Making their jobs easier will be a deep and talented defensive corps that includes seniors Evan Yoder, T.J. Madigan and Austin Kacznowski; and juniors Vin Nuygen, Joey Bockstanz and Sam Maccani.

PCA

The Eagles closed out 2007 with a bang and came within a shootout goal of capturing a Division 4 District title.

Division 4 District title.

They return five key seniors this year who have led them to an early 4–0 start, including a title-clinching effort at last week's Macomb Crusader Cup tournament.

Leading the way is senior goalie Brent Zinn, a four-year starter who is being recruited by several Division 2 colleges.

"Brent's a highly skilled player who, if given the chance, could be a high-scoring forward," said PCA co-coach Larry Machonga. "He's very athletic and has great instincts for the game. If he's not first team All-State this year, I'll be surprised."

The Eagles' mid-field is explosive thanks to the skills of senior Andy Bartes, freshman Alex Chapman, junior Blair Robinson and senior Caleb Middleton. Machonga's son, Jordan, a junior, heads a dangerous forward contingent that also includes sophomore Travis DeKruyter and senior Spencer Wiard.

Fly like an Eagle

The Plymouth Christian Academy boys soccer team opened its 2008 campaign in high style Saturday when it claimed first place in the Macomb Crusader Cup tournament. The Eagles were led by senior goalkeeper Brent Zinn, who recorded two shutouts, and junior forward Jordan Machonga, who registered a tournament-leading five goals. running on an elliptical, along with some weight lifting," Skubik said. "At night, I might go biking or running. On the mornings I don't swim, I'll bike for two or three hours."

Surprisingly, the toughest of the three legs of the race for Skubik is the one that allows him to sit down.

"I have the most room for improvement with the biking," he said, smiling. "I've heard the course has some rolling hills to it, which I don't mind. For me, the wind is more of a negative."

The other two legs are less worrisome for Skubik due to his extensive long-distance running resume and a wellthought-out aquatic training regimen.

"Back in January, I started swimming 20 minutes a day, three days a week," he said. "I added five minutes every time I worked out every week. By the end of March, I was up to one hour and 30 minutes per workout, which is about the length of time I'll be in the water during the triathlon."

Realistic expectations

Skubik said he has no idea who will win his age division on Sunday, but he's pretty sure who won't.

"I don't think I'll be anywhere near the (awards) podium when it's over," he said, chuckling. "I'd like to do well for myself, but since this is my first one, just finishing is my ultimate goal.

"When I completed a halftriathlon earlier this summer, I finished in just over seven hours. Well, the guys who placed in my age group did it in about five hours and 20 minutes, so they had time to finish the event, eat a meal and were on their way before I crossed the finish line."

What advice would Skubik pass on to anyone who may want to follow in his ironman footsteps? "Take it slow and build on it," he said. "Like I did for swimming - add five minutes a week. It doesn't seem like much, but it adds up. You can do it for running and biking,

SC spikers surge to red-hot start

Schoolcraft College opened the 2008 women's volleyball season with a near-perfect weekend showing at Delta College as the Lady Ocelots romped to 3-0 victories in all four conference matches - defeating Alpena and Delta two matches each.

On Friday, Schoolcraft defeated the Lumberjacks 25-13, 25-15 and 25-5 before hammering the host Pioneers in similar fashion -25-11, 25-13, 25-8.

"We only committed 12 unforced errors in this match," said Schoolcraft head coach Richard Lamb about Friday's triumph over Delta. "We were able to see what all the players bring to the table.' Lamb saw the Lady Ocelots basically repeat Friday's strong performance on Saturday. Schoolcraft (4-0) romped to a 25-7, 25-13, 25-11 victory over Alpena and wrapped up the weekend with a 25-8, 25-19, 25-13 win over Delta.

"Delta really brought their A-game during the second set," noted Lamb. "At one point, we were down by four.

"Our team maintained their calm and we were able to run the last six points for the win." Canton's Virginia Butler (Westland John Glenn) sparked Schoolcraft's offense with a total of 40 kills over the four matches.

Freshman defensive specialist Jordan Kerr (Livonia Churchill) opened her college career in style. She totaled 42 defensive digs.

Registering 69 assists was freshman setter Brittany Denter while freshman outside hitter Kaitlyn Litteral chipped in with 10 blocks.

"Overall it was a good start," Lamb said. "We still have a lot of work to do, but this team is highly competitive and have a strong desire to improve on areas that need it.

"I am impressed with their composure and maturity at this point in the season.'

Stevenson at Howell; John Glenn at Pinckney; Mott at Wayne; Brighton at Plymouth; and Lakeland at Canton. And don't forget to allow yourselves that extra 30 minutes for rush-hour traffic.

But once division play starts in Week No. 3, travel will be reduced considerably.

THURSDAY'S GAMES (ALL 7 P.M. STARTS UNLESS NOTED)

LUTH. WESTLAND (5-4, 4-3) at D.H. ANNAPOLIS (6-4, 4-2), 4:30 p.m.: Annapolis is coming off a playoff season, while the Warriors, with only four seniors on their roster, find themselves in a major rebuilding mode: PICKS: Emons (Annapolis); Wright (Annapolis); Smith (Annapolis).

Det. University Prep (2-6) at Liv. Clarenceville (1-8, 1-6): The Trojans hope to rebound from their worst season in 10 years with the addition of Detroit Cody transfer Domingue Jones and Indiana University recruit Jeremy Gainer. PICKS: Emons (C'ville); Wright (C'ville); Smith

Liv. Churchill (7-3, 4-1) at Hartland (3-6, 2-5): This is where the KVC and the WLAA lock horns for the first time. Churchill's backfield duo of Jeff Ricketts and Matt Kowalis is potent. Hartland, meanwhile, is expected to be much improved after several close losses last year. PICKS: Emons (Churchill); Wright (Churchill); Smith (Hartland).

Liv. Franklin (7-5, 3-2) at Liv. Stevenson (13-1, 5-0): Didn't these two teams play just a couple of weeks ago? The last meeting, a state playoff quarterfinal, went to the Spartans, 10-7. Should be another good matchup of backfields with Austin White and Wade Stahl of Stevenson against Franklin's David Fortin and newcomer Mike Baumgardner. This could be the best game of the night. PICKS: Emons (Stevenson); Wright (Stevenson); Smith (Stevenson).

Waterford Mott (7-3, 7-1) at Westland Glenn (5-4, 3-2): Mott made the playoffs last year out of the OAA-Blue, while Glenn is under new leadership with Tim Hardin. Where's Keshawn Martin when you need him? PICKS: Emons (Glenn); Wright (Glenn); Smith (Mott).

Wayne (4-5, 2-3) at Waterford Kettering (4-5, 4-4): Have these teams ever met? Kettering also comes out of the OAA-Blue, while the Zebras will implement their spread option attack under the guidance of rookie coach Kevin Weber, the KLAA's youngest. PICKS: Emons (Wayne);

Wright (Kettering): Smith (Wayne).

Brighton (3-6, 3-4) vs. Canton (5-4, 3-2) at P-CEP Varsity Stadium: The Chiefs didn't make the state playoffs for the first time in eight years and that's motivation enough. Brighton has also had some lean times of late. Cliff Kiefer takes over as the Bulldogs' head coach for Bill Murray, who guided the immortal Drew Henson (now of Detroit Lions fame). PICKS: Emons (Canton); Wright (Canton); Smith (Canton).

Salem (1-8, 1-4) vs. Plymouth (6-4, 2-3) at P-CEP: The Rocks are hungry to turn their program around, but must do it against the neighboring Wildcats, a playoff team which defeated Salem twice last year, 31-14 and 55-6. PICKS: Emons (Plymouth): Wright (Plymouth); Smith (Plymouth).

Garden City (2-7, 1-5) at Taylor Kennedy (4-5, 3-3): The Cougars are dropping down to the Mega-Blue, while Kennedy remains in the Mega-White. Kennedy took last year's season opener, 21-0. PICKS: Emons (Kennedy): Wright (Kennedy); Smith (Kennedy).

Redford Union (5-4, 3-3) at D.H. Crestwood (5-4, 5-1): Both teams fell one win short of making the playoffs a year ago. RU remains in the Mega-White, while Crestwood is a member of the Mega-Gold. PICKS: Emons (RU): Wright (RU); Smith (RU).

Red. Thurston (3-6, 2-4) at Croswell-Lexington (3-6, 3-4): The Eagles, members of the Mega-Gold, make a long road trip on opening night against the Pioneers, members of the Blue Water Conference. PICKS: Emons (Thurston); Wright (Thurston); Smith (Thurston) FRIDAY'S GAME

Det. Allen Academy (0-0) at Redford Covenant (8-3, 4-1), 4:30 p.m.: The Spartans, led by Indiana recruit Jamonne Chester, went two rounds into the Division 8 playoffs a year ago, while Allen Academy is just getting its feet wet. PICKS: Emons (Covenant); Wright (Covenant); Smith (Covenant).

Seniors Dave Wilcox (5-11, 185) and Nick Sweda (5-11, 180) should also get their share of carries along with junior Brett Phillips (5-7, 145), who will back up Payter at fullback.

Senior left tackle Justin Sneddon (5-9, 210) will anchor an offensive line that is jelling more with every snap of every practice, Baechler said. Sneddon, the lone returning starter, will be joined by senior center Kyle Dunleavy (5-10, 210), junior left guard Chris Hilton (5-9, 210) and junior right tackle Carter Staffeld, the largest of the group at 6-2, 265. The starting right guard position was still up for grabs as of last Thursday. "They're showing a lot of promise," said Baechler. "They're still learning how to block the way we want them to, but they're making progress every day." Senior Todd Turfe (6-2, 210) and junior Dakota Dark-Bird (6-3, 225) will provide Delapaz with big, reliable targets from the tight end position.

When the offense spreads out, senior Satish Subramanian (5-11, 155), senior Marlan Glenn (5-11, 170) and junior Arron

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Canton football coach Tim Baechler has compiled an 82-29 record in 10 years as the Chiefs' mentor.

Boudreaux (6-0, 170) will check into the huddle as wide-outs.

Senior Jeff Sanctorum (5-11, 150) will serve as the team's reserve quarterback.

Unlike the 2006 Canton team that advanced to the semifinal round of the Division 1 state playoffs, this year's defensive line is not populated by hulking giants. The largest of the four players who have earned D-line time are seniors Pat Madish and Jason Hu, who tips the scales at 210 pounds a piece. Seniors Rob Moores and Matt Sauter are 190 and 185, respectively, but they possess a degree of quickness that few offensive linemen will be able to match.

"Our defensive line is small, but fast," Baechler confirmed. "In fact, I think three of our defensive linemen are faster than our linebackers.'

Among those slotted for line-backing duties are Dark-Bird, junior Alex Dixon (5-11, 200), senior Mike Clemens (6-3, 190), returning starter Bryan Gerst, a 5-11, 205pound senior, Sneddon and Jordan Brooks, a 5-9, 200pound junior.

The Chiefs' secondary will be led by Sweda and senior Dave Wilcox (5-11, 185), both of whom started last season.

Among the players in the mix for starting cornerback slots are senior Donnie Barlow (6-1, 185), and sophomores Josh Nolan (5-8, 150) and Davion Stackhouse (5-10, 175).

Senior Dan Stoney (6-2, 200) will handle the placekicking duties.

The Chiefs open tonight at home against Brighton. The 7 p.m. game will be played at the PCEP junior varsity stadium, which is located just south of Plymouth High School.

Foreign buyers drawn by some U.S. properties

OSE STAFF WRITER

International real estate purchases in the U.S. continue to be a significant share of business for many Realtors, according to the 2008 National Association of Realtors Profile of International Home Buying Activity.

Nanci J. Rands, associate broker with SKBK Sotheby's International Realty in Birmingham, noted the impact is less in metro Detroit.

"The effect that it has on the Detroit market is fairly minimal," said Rands, a past president of the Metropolitan Consolidated Association of Realtors, covering Oakland and Macomb counties. "There's a very small effect in metro Detroit."

The new research indicates that international buying activity in the U.S. is widespread. NAR estimates that between 150,000 and 190,000 homes were sold to foreign nationals from May 2007 to May 2008. Recent foreign buyers purchased properties in every state and the District of Columbia. The most popular states where international buyers purchased homes are Florida, California and Texas. Arizona, New York, Washington and Nevada were also popular.

Rands noted that Sun Belt states like Florida are more popular with foreign buyers, as are New York and Washington, D.C., which are financial/governmental capi-

"We don't have either of those," she said. Metro Detroit does have people here for business: "Some of them are automotive-related," she said. Others predominate in financial services and health care in southeast Michigan.

Some foreign buyers plan to retire in the U.S., Rands said, so buying makes more sense than renting.

"Other currencies around the world are strong right now against the dollar which makes our real estate market a real value," including for Canadians, Rands said.

'We do have an abundant inventory," she added of home supply. Interest rates here are low, and many believe the local economy will rebound.

Foreign buyers often pay cash, she noted. In Michigan, there's a bit of the foreign buyer "resort effect" in areas like Traverse City and Petoskev, as well as further south in Michigan along the dunes in communities like St. Joseph.

"We've seen this for a long, long time," Rands said of foreign buyers. "The effect is growing now because these currencies are so much stron-

Is foreign investment good? "It's a much-needed benefit to our housing market," said Michael Whitty, adjunct professor in the College of Business Administration at the University of Detroit Mercy. "It has kept the value of property up.

Buying in the tri-county area is beneficial to the housing in the region and it is helpful to the state economy," added Whitty, noting our area was settled by foreigners from its origins. To say otherwise, he believes, is "outright racism and stupidity. Let's be charitable and chalk it up to confusion and stupidity," the professor said.

"As the most trusted resource for real estate information, Realtor have long understood what this latest research confirms - the U.S. housing industry truly has no boundaries," said NAR President Richard F. Gaylord, a broker with RE/MAX Real Estate Specialists in Long Beach, Calif.

The typical international buyer purchased a singlefamily vacation home costing $297,400. Four in 10 paid for their U.S. property with cash, compared with 7 percent for all domestic buyers. The typical international owner stayed at his or her U.S. property for 2.6 months during the year, according to the NAR findings.

Foreign exchange rates have helped make U.S. homes more affordable for international buyers. The euro, for example, has strengthened 24 percent vs. the U.S. dollar over the past two years. Home prices are also now more affordable in places such as Florida and Arizona, contributing to those states' popularity among foreign buyers.

"Many international buyers recognize that real estate is an excellent investment and are drawn today by abundant inventory, low interest rates and a softer dollar. These conditions allow them to own their own a piece of the American dream," Gaylord

International buyers are distinct from domestic buyers. International buyers tend to purchase more expensive properties, which cost an average of 36 percent more than the typical domestic buyer's home purchase. In fact, more than 14 percent of properties sold to international buyers sold in excess of $750,000. Foreign buyers also show a greater preference for condos and townhouses compared to domestic buyers.

People from North America, Europe and Asia accounted for more than 85 percent of recent foreign home buying transactions. The top six countries of origin for foreign homebuyers, in rank order, were Canada, the United Kingdom, Mexico, China, India and Germany. This year, Canada replaced Mexico as the country with the largest share of foreign buyers in the U.S. The percentage of Canadian buvers doubled from last year, from 11 percent to 23.5 percent.

Locally, Rands noted that foreign buyers often feel their investments are safer in the U.S. "There's a real feeling this could be a safe haven, she said, citing Florida and difficulties in South and Central America.

Of the Realtors surveyed, 26 percent served international clients in the past ear and about half of those clients ended up purchasing a home. The primary reasons some lients did not eventually buy a house were home price concerns, immigration laws, and property

Realtors who have sold homes to international clients reported that their transactions with these clients accounted for about 16 percent of their entire business. For about 8 percent of Realtors who work with foreign buyers, more than half of their transactions were international sales.

The 2008 presidential race has included debate on the U.S. economy and its housing market; Rands noted that the president of our country has less impact on the economy than voters often think. "The president is not the controller of the economy," she UDM's Whitty's just back from California, where he taught this summer at the University of San Francisco. "That's a very different housing market from Michigan," he said. Losses aren't extensive on the West Coast, said Whitty of the "extremes of the U.S. housing market."

Whitty noted the Bangladeshi community settling in Hamtramck where homes are affordable, as the Polish-Americans who used to live there move to Macomb County or other areas.

New immigrants keep the U.S. labor market healthy, Whitty added, and their kids will "probably be part of our employment pool of the future." Such workers often are disciplined and work hard, said Whitty, who earned a Ph.D. on the history of the United Auto Workers from Syracuse University in New York state.

The 2008 NAR Profile of International Home Buying Activity is based on responses from approximately 4,000 Realtors who serve foreign buyers. It describes international home buying activity in the U.S. over the 12-month period from May 2007 to May 2008 and updates information from the 2007 survey. The full report is available from NAR's Research Division or at www.realtor. org/research/research/reportsintl.

if the bylaws prohibit the display of signs, that would include political signs and you are best advised to enforce that uniformly and vigorously, especially because of the upcoming election season.

Q: I am wondering what the status of the real estate is in San Francisco, and Marin County? Do you have any information?

A: Upon a recent visit, it appears that while the market in San Francisco has slowed down, it is still appreciating in value and there is much development, both commercial and residential, in the Bay area of San Francisco. As to Marin County, it continues to appreciate at a significant pace although not as great as was the case before. The "dot.com" bust has not, apparently, affected Marin County, as has been the case in several other areas of Southern California.

The companies have agreed that financial terms of the transaction will not be disclosed. The transaction was funded solely with private equity from a local investor.

According to Lombardo president Anthony Lombardo, "We are pleased to have entered into this agreement with a company as dedicated to its customers as Centex. We are eager to build out homes that maintain the integrity Centex has established and look forward to expanding our footprint in the Detroit market. In the coming years, the Michigan market will provide rich opportunity for growth and expansion to companies like ours positioned on the upside of this current downturn. Locally owned and family run builders like us are well-suited to grow during the slowdown. To begin with, our sales pace is continuing to show strength in response to the unmatched affordability and the creative solutions we offer to a wide range of buyer profiles.

"As such, we are looking for even more acquisition opportunities while we continue to recruit the top talent in the industry, leaders who share our passion for growing the business."

With oversight from Centex, Lombardo will complete construction for Centex's customers with homes on order or in progress. Additionally, to preserve consistent architectural integrity, Centex has licensed to Lombardo the right to build the same house plans that Centex offered in these neighborhoods. This transaction substantially completes Centex's previously announced exit from the Detroit area as part of its overall strategy to concentrate resources in core competitive markets. Centex will continue to provide uninterrupted warranty support for its customers in the Detroit area. According to Crain's Detroit Business' List of Largest Homebuilders. Lombardo Homes was ranked third by 2007 permits issued in Southeast Michigan. The company led all other builders in Macomb County and was the only builder in the top three that is privately owned and operated. Builder Magazine reported that Lombardo Homes was the 145th largest builder in the nation with 301 closings last year.

Currently the majority of Lombardo's development activity is concentrated in Macomb County. The acquisition will position the company to expand its horizons to include Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw Counties with a total of 26 communities under active development. Lombardo Homes' COO Sebastian Lombardo emphasized that his family is "dedicated to growing in Michigan" and is "absolutely committed to customer service."

In 2005, Lombardo earned top honors for customer satisfaction among all homebuilders in Southeast Michigan from J.D. Power and Associates. The company was named 2007 Developer of the Year by the Southeast Michigan Building Industry Association (BIA). Last year Lombardo participated in ABC-TV's Extreme Makeover: Home Edition to benefit the Gillian family.

"For Lombardo Homes. and other homebuilders who can excite buyers with creative and affordable solutions, the future does indeed look bright. We are gearing up to offer a new three-bedroom home starting at less than $90.000. With values like that in 26 quality neighborhoods, we feel that we have created an ideal blueprint for growth," said Sebastian Lombardo.

Condo operation

Meisner & Associates will present "Introduction to Successful Condominium Operation," a four-week course, 7-9 p.m. Oct. 7, 14, 21 and 28 at the Bingham Farms office, 30200 Telegraph, Suite 467. The course is for those interested in serving on a board of directors of a condo, co-op or community association, as well as developers and managing agents who are assisting these boards.

All attendees will receive a copy of attorney Robert Meisner's booklet, "Condominium Operation: Getting Started and Staying on the Right Track."

Advance registration is required. For registration information, call (800) 470-4433 or e-mail bmeisner@meisner-associates.com. Checks should be payable to Meisner & Associates, P.C. Cost is $95 per person, with $85 each for additional attendees from the same association.

Homebuying

There's a free Homebuying Seminar 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 3, at 40600 Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth. Buying your first home is probably the most exhilarating material experience you can have. It's where you hang your hat, where you rest your head; it's a source of security, an investment in your financial futures. More importantly, a home becomes part of the psyche that houses your most powerful memories. Some of the topics covered will include: criteria for your home search, loan applications, how much home can you afford, advantages of a Buyer's Agreement, and nine great reasons to buy a home. Call Heidi Anderson to reserve your seat at (734) 673-9265.

■ Building Industry

Association of Southeastern Michigan and Bank of America will sponsor a Fall Parade of Homes event running through Sept. 14. Parade of Homes features readyto-move-in homes as well as under construction and pre-construction homes throughout southeastern Michigan.

Fall Parade of Homes, the 14th annual fall exhibition of new model homes located across southeastern Michigan, opened on Aug. 15 and runs through Sept. 14. Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) and Bank of America Mortgage are the sponsors of this public event.

The Parade of Homes offers buyers an opportunity to visit the area's finest model homes, including condominiums and single-family homes, affordable housing and estate-sized homes. Visitors to the homes will have an opportunity to see firsthand the latest trends in energy efficiency and green building, architecture, interior design, amenities and materials. The 37 model homes range in base price from $95,900 to $1,999,900.

Architects and building industry experts will judge the homes and award winners in several categories prior to the event opening. The judges will make their decisions based on the innovative use of space and design, aesthetic appeal of the home and value for the A Parade of Homes magazine containing renderings, features and location maps is available at select CVS/pharmacy locations and at all model homes. Parade of Homes will also be featured at BIA's Fall Remodeling & Design Expo, Oct. 10-12, at the Rock Financial Showplace in Novi.

TOYOTA IS STILL THE STANDARD IN THE U.S. MARKET

Advertising Feature

CAReport

By Dale Buss

For leaders, employees, suppliers and fans of the Detroit Big Three, one of the few silver linings in the market's recent travails has been one that few people would admit seeing: the troubles of Toyota Motor Corp.

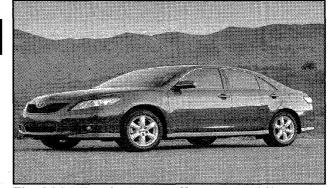

For the last generation, both globally and in the U.S. market in particular, Toyota and its products have been seen as the industry's gold standard across a broad range of criteria: product-cycle alacrity, manufacturing quality and innovation, technology leadership - even in areas such as marketing where Toyota, truthfully, hasn't been that outstanding. The fact that Toyota has been chasing

General Motors over the last two years for the title of the world's largest automakers - a distinction that it appears Toyota finally will grab this year – has created even a larger rooting interest against Toyota in these parts. So lately, as Toyota has demonstrated its own difficulties in adjusting to the severe shift toward smaller and more fuel-efficient vehicles in the U.S. market since last spring, about the only thing that Big Three executives have been able to say in their favor is: "See Toyota is having the same problems!"

And indeed, Toyota has been frustrated, like its Big Three rivals, by great consumer migration away from its largest vehicles, including its Tundra pickup truck. But at the same time, Toyota has been temporarily overtaken by huge demand for its Prius hybrid, which has outstripped available supply in the U.S. for several months now.

So Toyota did something that it, arguably, does better than any other auto manufacturer in the world: adapted on the fly. The company already has pulled the trigger on a series of high-risk changes in its U.S. production strategy that will drastically cut output of Tundra, allow Toyota to begin building Prius in the U.S. for the first time by 2010, and jiggering with production of its Highlander crossover and staple Camry sedan. In the meantime, of course, Toyota just keeps putting out vehicles that remain the pinnacle of most segments that they occupy.

Take the Lexus RX 350 crossover, for example. The introduction of the Lexus RX series was perfectly timed to meet affluent consumers' emerging desire for SUVs that were easy to drive in suburbia and furnished to luxury sedan standards. The first of the luxury crossover SUVs, the RX 300 quickly became the brand's best-selling vehicle. It won over shoppers with its easygoing personality, upscale cabin, virtually silent powertrain and outstanding build quality. Now badged as the RX 350, this midsize crossover is nearing the end of its second generation but remains a strong competitor in its class. Rivals surpass the 2008 Lexus RX 350 in the handling department, but for buyers seeking comfort and serenity in large helpings, it easily

And in its latest version, the 2008 model, the Lexus RX 350 still tops all of the Johnny-comelatelies in the crossover segment. It offers not only tremendous driving dynamics but also that patented ride quality, exceptional fit and finish, and ample day-to-day utility. Its high-trade cabin furnishings and user-friendly high-tech features top out the RX 350's appealing profile.

interior touches characterize the 2008 Lexus RX 350.

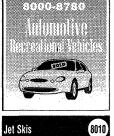

A new grille design and chrome exterior door handles distinguish the 2008 Lexus RX 350 from last year's model. In addition, there's a new graphite-finish 18-inch wheel design on the options list, and in models with a gray interior, you'll find black bird's eye maple trim. Similarly, although much earlier, the Toyota Camry established the industry standard for mid-sized, mainstream sedans. It took over the title of America's best-selling car several years ago from Ford Taurus and has hung onto that claim proudly ever since, keeping Honda Accord – and certainly any offering from the Big Three at bay during that time.

Nowadays, the 2009 Camry is continuing the model's domination. It is Toyota-pleasant to drive and plenty spacious enough for four people on a long road trip. Plus it has a powerful and fuel-efficient V6 engine, top crash-test scores and a high resale value. Its biggest drawback is a few inconsistencies in fit and finish and a few instances of low-grade plastics in the interior. In an indication of the confidence that both buyers and Toyota have in this car, the company made no major changes in the 2009 model from

But like the company as a whole, that is one of the most comforting things about Camry: the consistency of its offering. Like corporate computer buyers of a previous era who knew their boss would never yell at the them if they just chose IBM, American car buyers have come to understand that it's hard to screw up if you're buying or leasing a Camry.

etro Detroiters who aren't heading out of town this Labor Day weekend will feel the area transform once again into a mecca of music, art, car culture and culinary feasts. For the second year, the Detroit Metro Convention & Visitors Bureau hopes to entice area visitors, residents and stay-cationers alike with its fully-energized 3 Days in the "Labor Day Weekend is the perfect time for metro Detroiters and visitors to truly experience The D," according to Larry Alexander, DMCVB president. "We anticipate this year's 3 Days in The D to be bigger and better than last year.

"With all the new activities at each event, of this Labor Day Weekend in The D. And Detroit is an accessible, affordable alternative as a Midwestern big city vacation destina-

Beginning Friday, Aug. 29 and stretching from the Detroit River to the northern suburbs, the sounds of jazz, the rev of engines and the area's most exciting art festival will converge, making that traditional at-home barbecue sound completely tame by comparison. The three signature events of 3 Days in The D include Pontiac's enormous party, Arts Beats & Eats, Aug. 29-Sept. 1;

The ever-expanding Detroit International Jazz Festival, Aug. 29-Sept. 1, and the Detroit Belle Isle Grand Prix, Aug. 29-31.

But family-friendly fare extends beyond those annual favorites to include the ongoing Michigan State Fair, now through Sept. 1, Romeo's 77th annual Michigan Peach Festival, Aug. 28-Sept. 1, and the Michigan Renaissance Festival, now through Sept. 28

FILTER has compiled some of the mustsee events related to 3 Days in the D in this Thursday's edition - and for more information, see www.3daysinthed.com.

IN BRIEF

AFTER JAZZ JAM FEST

DETROIT — Jazz Cafe at Music Hall will be the hot spot to be — and play — after the lights go down at The Detroit Jazz Fest. Musicians are encouraged to bop on over to 350 Madison Ave., Detroit for The After Jazz Fest Jam Sessions, Aug. 29-31, and join fellow Jazz Fest performers as well as other local musicians for an inspired late night of impromptu creativity. Each night will have a designated ringleader — Friday, R.J. Spangler; Saturday, Carl Cafagna; and Sunday, Patrick Prouty. All genres and non-musicians are welcome. Sets start at 10 p.m. Admission is $5. Call (313) 887-8532 or visit jazzcafe@ musichall.org and myspace.com/jazzcafedetroit.

Arts Beats & Eats going strong 11 years on

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA O&E STAFF WRITER

For one weekend every summer the tastes, sounds and culture of Oakland County converge for a street festival unlike any other in downtown Pontiac. And from Aug. 29 to Sept. 1, Arts Beats & Eats festival will move steadfastly into its second decade - with an eye on greening the event, garnering fans based on Guitar Hero licks, and even ushering its patrons straight into the blogosphere.

For the first time, AB&E will feature The Blogin Cafe. Organizers are touting it as the largest outdoor multimedia station for bloggers contributing to one blog at the same time

Please see ARTS, D7

More than $1 million in artwork is sold each year during Arts Beats & Eats, set for Labor Day weekend in Pontiac.

ARTS

The HealthPlus Art Fair brings together artists in all forms of media - from digital to drawing, jewelry to metal, painting to sculpture - for an art gallery atmosphere in the middle of downtown Pontiac.

BEATS

The sounds of this year's festival include local and national acts on six stages, as follows: FRIDAY, AUG. 29 MILLION DOLLAR MADNESS STAGE:

5 p.m. Harmonica Shaw 6 p.m. Monkey Jacket 7 p.m. The Hard Lessons 8:30 p.m. Blues Traveler 10 p.m. Rusted Root Neil LaBute directs Samuel L. Jackson on the set of "Lakeview Thriller" opening Sept. 19.

Former Detroiter Neil LaBute puts his human touch on a thriller film

BY LANA MINI 0&E STAFF WRITER

Few directors can make a film-goer feel uncomfortable like Neil LaBute can.

In his films, LaBute taps into intimacy in such an honest way that when you watch a couple arguing about their relationship, you begin to feel ner-

LaBute creates that same discomfort when he deals with the issue of race in his newest film Lakeview Thriller starring Samuel L. Jackson, Kerry Washington and Patrick Wilson.

(Look for a review of the film in the next issue). LaBute was born in Wayne, Mich. and lived here several years with his blue-collar parents before moving to Spokane, Wash. in the '70s. His father, he said, had issues with race and that impacted how he dealt with this film.

"In a backward way there's a Detroit connection. My father had certain views ... he was a blue collar man, a truck driver ... union man," LaBute said at the Townsend Hotel in Birmingham last week while visiting metro Detroit to promote the film. "He was not a monster but he had issues ... like a lot of people he didn't trust people who were different."

In Lakeview Terrace, the racist is Samuel L. Jackson's character Abel; a cop who doesn't like the interracial relationship of his newly married, new neighbors. All hell breaks loose when Abel decides to harass them.

"I don't call it reverse racism (in the film)," LaBute said. "Racism is racism." Terrace is a thriller, a first for LaBute. He

Who: Neil LaBute - writer director Home: Born in Wayne, Mich., currently living in L.A. Past films: "Wicker Man" with Nicolas Cage and Ellen Burstyn; "Possession" with Gwyneth Paltrow, Aaron Eckhart and Jeremy Northam; "Your Friends & Neighbors" with Aaron Eckhart, Nastassia Kinski,

Current project: "Lakeview Terrace" starring Samuel L. Jackson, Kerry Washington and Patrick Wilson. The plot: A young couple (Wilson and Washington) moves into their California dream home when Abel, their racist neighbor - (Jackson) begins to terrorize them because he disapproves their interracial relationship. The couple has no where to turn because Abel is a respected cop. These persistent intrusions into their lives turn tragic when the couple fights wouldn't have been interested in it if the producers just wanted explosions and car chases. Producer (and actor) Will Smith came to him to add human

"It was obvious that the producers wanted a different kind of a thriller otherwise they wouldn't have come to me," LaBute said. "It's not like anyone could say 'hey we love all your past thrillers' because there are none."

Power Center

In the chilly English surroundings of Cambridge on the cusp of the First World War, the English mathematician GH Hardy unexpectedly receives a letter filled with mathematical theorems from a young Indian visionary, Srinivasa Ramanujan, whose idiosyncratic and creative approach to mathematics ultimately led to some of the most complex and beautiful mathematical patterns of all time.

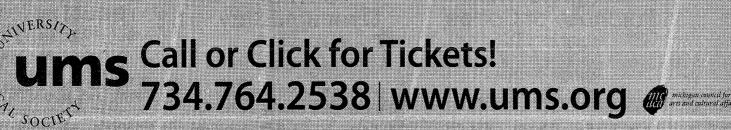

Complicite's innovative, multimedia approach frames past, present, and future simultaneously, with the Hardy/ Ramanujan collaboration serving not only as a central aspect of the narrative, but also as a window into a larger world of ideas: about the awesomeness of infinity and its relationship to human mortality, about the beauty of science and our quest for meaning and knowledge, about who we are and how we connect to one another — and ultimately about what is permanent and what disappears forever.

Looking for special places for ice cream? Try these...

Summer's quickly coming to an end, giving you the perfect excuse to stop by a local ice cream parlor to beat the heat. Here's a look at some staff favorites to help you indulge in the best the area has to offer:

Wensdy's picks:

BIRMINGHAM STAPLES

Growing up in Birmingham, it was always a treat to walk with my parents to Dairy Deluxe, on Woodward at 14 Mile, for a chocolate and vanilla swirl cone or hot fudge sundae. Even Puppy, our dog, got a cup. As a teen, I'd 'borrow' money from Gramps and ride my bike up with friends. If we were feeling extra daring, we'd cross Woodward and head up toward Maple for the Dairy Mat's grape slushes. Mmmm.

CUSTARD TIME

My husband has a soft spot for custard, and can't pass Ritter's Frozen Custard on Eight Mile Road in Livonia without a stop. In the summer, there are plenty of picnic tables set up to accommodate cravings. Jeff always orders a large vanilla cone so he can enjoy his custard in its pure form.

DESTINATION NORTHVILLE When we're not in the mood for 'squeezed' ice cream, we take our son to Rebecca's in downtown Northville. The restaurant and ice cream parlor caters to kids with a Nemo aquarium, toy bins, a working train, and of course, ice cream. Superman flavor is a favorite for tots, but Rebecca's puts me in the mood for an old-fashioned milkshake. If you're going to make a special trip to Northville for ice cream, you can't forget Guernsey's, which makes its own ice cream. Expect to wait in line for your Moose Tracks here — the place is always packed.

Stephanie says:

MILKSHAKES AT THE MALL

It takes a pretty great amount of willpower to pass up the Haagen Dazs stand at Somerset Collection North.

Tucked right into the third floor food court there's generally some sort of gathering around those heavenly gallons of iced cream and in my weaker moments I'm among them ready to order up a good old fashioned creamy strawberry milkshake. Made with real cream and milk, this is the best indulgence.

BATTER UP IN BIRMINGHAM

Coldstone Creamery has earned something of a cult-like following thanks to its original flavors — like decadent Cake Batter or spicy Cinnamon — and the endless choices of mix-ins, folded right into the good stuff on an icy slab. I'm a sucker for the Birthday Cake remix — with its colorful sprinkles and fudgy brownies. Locations seem to be everywhere from downtowns in Royal Oak and Birmingham to Livonia, Farmington, Plymouth, Canton, Rochester Hills, Bloomfield Hills and

FIRST NAME IN ICE CREAM

Whether you're in Royal Oak or passing through, Ray's Ice Cream is a destination for anyone with a sweet tooth. From its old fashioned soda fountain to 50 years of cutting edge flavors — like this month's features from Mackinac Island Fudge to Guinness — it just doesn't feel like a lazy summer day unless you're enjoying a melty ice cream cone and sitting outside the parlor on Coolidge, between 13 and 14 Mile roads. Some area restaurants, like Royal Oak's Town Tavern, uses Ray's ice cream in its dessert offerings.

Lana suggests:

ICE CREAM ALTERNATIVES There's something for every member of the family at Baskin Robbins and the possibilities seem endless and ever-changing. My aunt, who is diabetic, loves the sugar-free, non-fat Caramel Turtle. I don't eat dairy and opt for sugar cones with a double-scoop serving of Lime Daiquiri Ice Labrador Jake Cross licks down ice cream at Dairy Dans in Westland. The roadside stand offers ice cream topped with dog treats.

(with real lime) and the Lemon Ice with real lemon zest. If you need low-fat, find flavors here. And, if you want something gooey, try a waffle bowl with chocolate/butterscotch and hot fudge toppings with ice cream flavors like the seasonal Baseball Nut with vanilla ice cream, cashews and a black raspberry ribbon. Locations seemingly everywhere.

Scout out Adam Shirley Designs

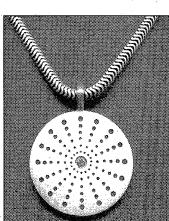

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA 0&E STAFF WRITER

Chances are you've never seen anything quite like Adam Shirley's jewelry designs. And that will be obvious for visitors to his booth during this weekend's Arts Beats & Eats festival in downtown Pontiac.

Shirley, a West Bloomfield native and Hamtramck resident, has been present at every AB&E festival since it began 11 years ago and has garnered plenty of new fans and clients from it. "It's not just an art fair," said Shirley. "It's Arts Beats & Eats. It's a different environment. There are people from all over."

His substantial, strong rings — found in anything from platinum to rose gold to silver — are shaped in rounded triangles or "finger-fit shape" as he calls it. The shape mimics the natural curvature of a finger rather than forming a perfect circle, and it's part of his trademark. It holds the ring securely in place, keeping the stone from slipping left or right, and is "way more comfortable" to wear, the artist noted.

Another trademark of Shirley's inspired designs involves the way he encases gemstones within the setting rather than placing them atop traditional prongs. The stone is visible from the top and bottom, touching the wearer's finger, and he sometimes cuts peek-a-boo circles into the sides of the setting to show off more sparkle.

Coming from a background that blends jewelry-making and a more industrial take on metal working, Adam Shirley's pieces show a modern flair.

Regardless of whether he's crafting a pair of earrings, necklace, broach, bracelet or ring, his clients are assured it's a one-of-a-kind piece.

Shirley traces his interest in crafting jewelry back to childhood. By the age of 14 he served as an apprentice at the former Weinstein's Jewelry in West Bloomfield, where he learned the tradition of molding metals. While a student at Groves High School, under the guidance of his teacher George Landino, Shirley was encouraged to explore jewelry-making and design, and to pursue it as a career.

He attended the College for Creative Studies in Detroit
— the school where he now teaches. Shirley considers the city of Detroit and its environs to be a major influence in his style, which embodies a sort of modern industrial appeal.

While he's worked for traditional jewelers and even designed eyeglasses in the past, Shirley's focus lies squarely on his own artistic style. He works side-by-side with his clients to create a personalized piece they'll keep forever. He's a jewelry artist, not a jeweler, he'll tell you.

A significant amount of his business surrounds wedding and engagement rings. Shirley said he enjoys knowing that his rings are the sort of pieces his clientele will have and wear for a lifetime.

And his style is recognizable. It's best not to walk into Adam Shirley Designs in Birmingham with a photograph of a traditional ornate ring. Though he has the skills to recreate it, that's just not what Shirley does

His work is best known for its minimalist design with clean lines, and pieces are crafted to be worn without showing signs of wear. Shirley said his favorite material to work in is platinum, for its rare status, density and the way it lends itself to setting. His pieces are split to about 60 percent women's jewelry and 40 percent men's and among his most treasured are the modular rings which come with three pieces and can be interchanged to alter the overall effect.

Look for them — and his interesting mix of metals like 18 carat white gold and 14 carat rose gold — at Arts Beats & Eats, Aug. 29 to Sept. 1. Though Shirley may sell some pieces on site, most of his business deals in custom-made one-of-a-kind jewelry. For more information, call (248) 901-1710 or visit by appointment his store at 124 S. Old Woodward Ave. in Birmingham.

ARTS

- at www.blogincafe.com. Visitors are encouraged to contribute on laptops and Web cams to join the cyberdiscussion on arts, culture, food, music, the environment and more. Patrons who try their hand at blogging will earn a $1 food ticket redeemable at the festival. More than a penny for their thoughts, Event Producer and Co-founder Jon Witz said they'll give patrons "a dollar food ticket for their thoughts."

"It's going to be a cool experience," he said.

It's part of an overall effort to improve quality of the festival — an event that already draws more than a million people over four days.

Attendees this year will surely to notice the festival's extensive efforts to go green, a concept dubbed ITC Greenways. "We started our environmental efforts by suggesting an alternate way to get to the festival," said Witz. From a partnership with SMART buses to a bicycle corral, there will be prizes for those who choose alternate transportation. All AB&E vendors have been required to use biodegradable cups, plates and silverware. And a significant effort, including help by festival volunteers, will encourage responsible waste removal and recycling throughout the grounds.

"So many people are trying to go green," said Witz. "We are trying to take a look at everything we do and transform our behavior. And hopefully our efforts will subconsciously or consciously help people think about their habits, too."

Fans of the interactive rock n' roll video game Guitar Hero won't want to miss the Metro Detroit Guitar Hero Championships at this year's event. Ages 6 and up will be divided into age groups and compete for prizes at The Crofoot, in the heart of the festival.

Other visitors might want to try the scratch and win lottery game Million Dollar Madness, where concert-goers have a shot at becoming millionaires. The Chrysler Freedom Fest will this year offer free breakfast, parking, carnival rides and more to U.S. service men, women and their families. And visitors can experience The Great Lakes Sensations exhibit — highlighting some of Michigan's most revered traveler attractions.

But the mainstays of the AB&E festival won't be short-changed in light of its new additions.

The HealthPlus Juried Art Festival, Witz said, has "ranked in the top 20 art festivals in the country — as high as number 7 — for the last few years. That's something the region should be proud of." The art fair sells more than $1 million in original works over the course of the weekend.

The "Beats" portion of the event, Witz added, features "the best free musical lineup of the summer," with headliners like Puddle of Mud, Chaka Khan, Blues Traveler and Boney James. When it comes to the "Eats," Witz said those vendors who actively seek out patrons or share flyers do manage to call attention to their establishments — and these are local restaurants rather than "carnival carts," he said.

For Witz, the most rewarding aspect of the annual event goes beyond its entertainment, culture and menu to the melting pot of people that it draws. "Our motto has always been 'something for everyone," he said.

Of the events that fit under the 3 Days in the D umbrella, this one seems to draw the largest local contingent, said Witz. With high gas prices and tightening family budgets, he said: "We are such a great solution to come out and not spend too much money, not travel too far for a full entertainment package with no admission."
