Saturn uses Compari's restaurant as video backdrop

BY TONY BRUSCATO OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

When Saturn.com redesigns its Web site early next year showing off Saturn's 2009 vehicle lineup, Compari's restaurant on Main Street will be prominent in the background.

Main Street between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman was closed for six hours Tuesday morning as a film crew created a short vignette about the 2009 Saturn Aura in front of Compari's.

"When our Web site opens it will be like a neighborhood," said Susan Walton, digital and customer, relationship and management manger for Saturn. "It's about customers and owners engaged in their communi-

"It's a beautiful background and the city is always very cooperative," said Strader about police and Municipal Services Department crews. "We're promoting the stylish new look of the Aura and the cafe

(Compari's) represents something upscale, which plays to our demographics."

Frank Yaquinto, owner of Compari's, said his restaurant has been used for the cover of a Detroit Auto Show magazine, a brochure for the Ford Explorer and a Ford commercial.

"We got calls all the time about seeing us on TV," said Yaquinto, referring to the commercial. "The companies like the (outside) design, the patio and the setting in Plymouth. I think it's a plus for the establishment and the City Manager Paul Sincock isn't surprised the production company called about a week ago to set up the video shoot.

Republican presidential candidate Sen. John McCain has canceled a planned campaign rally in Plymouth next week.

No reason has been given by the Republican Party except to say the McCain rally on Wednesday, Oct. 8, was canceled and may be

On Tuesday afternoon, campaign officials announced McCain would give an hourlong speech at 2 p.m., preceded by speeches from local politicians and business leaders. The Plymouth-Canton school district had also been contacted about having a band play at Plymouth City Manager

Paul Sincock met with preliminary advance people Tuesday about the event, and was expected to meet with the Secret Service later this week. Sincock confirmed in an e-mail the visit was off.

A campaign official said the rally was canceled Tuesday night.

City's next police chief could be insider

BY TONY BRUSCATO OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The Plymouth City Commission believes it may have found a police chief to succeed Wayne Carroll, who announced last month he'll retire effective Jan. 16.

And they didn't have to look very far. In a study session held Monday with consultant Terry McGinn of Career

Directions in Ann Arbor, many of the commissioners expressed a desire to hire from within and continue the continuity in the department developed by Carroll. Several openly suggested Al Cox, a detective lieutenant who has been on the force for nearly 11 years. No decision has been made yet.

"(Cox) understands how this department runs, he's got the support of the patrol and command officers and I think he understands how the city works ... more than someone from the outside," said Mayor Phil Pursell. "I've always been a proponent of promoting from within because of the understanding of the structure."

Cox, who has expressed interest in the position, said he has concerns about leaving the protection of the union to

Chili fest goes green

BY TONY BRUSCATO OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The Great Lakes Regional Chili Cook-Off and Motorcycle Bike Show on Sunday will be going green. However, it has nothing to do with the green chili and salsa competitions.

"We've started a recycling program for the chili cooks, said organizer Annette Horn. "Because they utilize so many cans and bottles while cooking, they've got a lot of trash to recycle."

Horn said those attending the six-hour event can also

"As the event grows, the number of plastic spoons we use is incredible," said Horn, who said last year's count was about 30,000. "As attendees get their tickets to taste the chili, they'll be given a spoon and asked to re-use it as much as they can."

Staples of the Chili Cook-Off — from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. — include competition from cooks in the red, green and salsa competition, with winners in each category advancing to the 2009 World Championship chili cook-off next fall. There will also be a restaurant challenge, with a dozen restaurants vving for "Best Chili in Plymouth."

A Chili Ride will begin at MotorCity Harley Davidson in Farmington Hills and end up at the chili cook-off in Kellogg Park. There will also be a bike show with 17 different bike categories.

The net proceeds from the event will be given to the Western Wayne County Habitat for Humanity and the Plymouth Lions Club.

Sunday's Great Lakes Regional Chili Cook-Off also includes a 'Hottest Dog in the Coolest City' costume contest, with judging in Kellogg Park at 2 p.m.

As a way to raise more money for the groups, Horn said they'll be asking motorcycle riders for a parking donation.

"The bikers will be asked to give a donation toward the event, with all the money collected to be split between the Lions and Habitat for Humanity," said Horn. "Last year we had 6,000 bikes in town, so we're hoping they will be generous.'

The Plymouth A.M. Rotary Club is also asking bikers to donate a children's book for the group's book drive, some of which will be donated to the Plymouth-Canton Schools Tanger Center for special needs children.

Information on the cook-off can be found at www.greatlakeschili.com.

Rummage sale

The Plymouth Community Arts Council is having a rummage sale 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 18, at the Joanne Winkleman Hulce Center for the Performing Arts, 774 N. Sheldon in Plymouth.

Drop-off of donated items will be 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, Oct. 17. The center is looking for art, equipment, books and gently used coats/jackets and household items. The PCAC is a 501(c)3 so all donated items are tax deductible.

All proceeds from the sale will go to programming at the PCAC. Unsold items will be donated to the AM Rotary Literacy Project and other local organizations.

Volunteers are needed to sort on Friday and work the Rummage Sale Saturday. If you are interested e-mail volunteer@plymoutharts.com

For more information, call (734) 416-4278.

Bikes, books and chili

The Rotary Club of Plymouth A.M., in partnership with the Huron Township Rotary Club, is holding a Harley-Davidson Bike Rally, raffle and charitable event. First prize is a 2008 Harley-Davidson 105th Anniversary Super Classic Motorcycle and custom trailer; second prize is $2,000 and third prize is $1,000.

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, October 2, 2008

Raffle tickets will be sold by the Rotary Club of Plymouth A.M. during Sunday's Chili Cook-off and can be purchased at the Club's Booth (on the west side of Kellogg Park) between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Tickets sell for $5, or five tickets for $20. Drawing will be held at the Huron Township Applefest in New Boston at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Winner need not be present at drawing.

Proceeds from the ticket sales will help support Rotary's charitable efforts in local and international communities.

In conjunction with the Harley Raffle, the Rotary Club of Plymouth A.M. is seeking donations of new and gently-used books for preschool through sixth grade for its Book Hounds Literacy Program. These books will be donated to Tanger School in Plymouth and Sampson-Webber School in Detroit. Books can be dropped off at the Rotary Club's Booth during the Chili Cook-off.

a position that is served at the will of the commissioners.

"There are a lot of security issues, but the job itself would be great," said Cox, 39, who is married and has two young children. "It's something I would consider.

"Wayne has trained me, mentored me and he lets me do aspects of his job," added Cox.
"I've been able to be friends with these guys, but also be their boss. I think so far it's worked out pretty good."

Sgt. Joe Kahanec, one of the veteran officers ment, said Cox is respected by everyone on the 15-man force. "If you're looking to in the depart-

promote from within, there's only one candidate, it's Al," said Kahanec.

"I'm sure there are qualified people who can come in and do a terrific job, but the track record in the past hasn't been good as far as going outside." McGinn cautioned commissioners about limiting their search for a new police chief. "He (Cox) hasn't had as long a time to rehearse for the position as I think would be ideal," McGinn said. "He's also had one mentor ... and there's the possibility of having a second one before he has that role (as chief)."

Commissioner Stella Greene said the next chief has to understand the needs of the community with regard to community policing.

'Understanding the texture of our community and how our residents and businesses perceive the policing responsibility in this community," said Greene. "It's hard to imagine someone could come from the outside and understand that dynamic." McGinn said he's confident those kind of outside candidates can be found, telling commissioners he's interviewed several job candidates for other government entities that could fit the bill for Plymouth.

Marchers best Novi to capture invitational

BY DIANE HANSON

Saturday was a great day for gridiron action as 13 high school marching bands competed at the Trenton Invitational.

The 170-member Plymouth-Canton Educational Park Marching Band captured the Flight I championship trophy along with one of the caption awards for Best Music and the highest score, 71.5, of all competing bands.

Flight I second place and a caption for Best General Effect went to Novi with a score of 70.9 and Milford took third and a caption for Best Marching with a score of 68.8.

But high scores and trophies were not solely what Martin Montoya, director of bands at P-CEP, was anticipating from his band's performance of their show, "Kaleidoscope."

"It was a solid performance out there and I make sure they know that," he said. "At the same time, one of the things we always stress is that if it's not the best they can do, it's not a complete success."

Immediately after their exit from the field, he urged his performers not to settle for just "good enough."

"We don't want to do only as well as we did last week or even perform as well as we did yesterday," Montoya explained. "We are always competing against ourselves and we always want to be sure we are taking it to the next level - never settling."

Canton senior clarinetist Ryan Zaluzec, recognized the lessthan-personal-best performance of his band, but also knows how they will get beyond it.

"I just think we didn't perform at the highest level we could have performed at," he said. "It was good, it just wasn't at that next level What we need to do is just forget about the mistakes. They're in the past, we can't change them and we need to look forward toward the future. Only then can we rise up above our previous performances."

Caroline Williams, a Plymouth junior and one of the three drum majors, was pleased her band was performing later in the evening just as the first hints of dusk were beginning to cross the sky.

"It's a lot more exciting performing later into the night," she said. "Our motto is to play for the moon Every week we strive to reach for the moon and stars. It started in 1990 and 18 years later, we're still carrying it on."

Salem senior tuba player Laura Kirby is looking forward to the new additions coming to their still incomplete show.

"I'm really excited to see where we're going from here," she said. So is Montoya, who said there will be many additions to come over the next two weeks, resulting in a fairly complete show in time for the Bands of America Regional Championships at Eastern Michigan University's Rynearson Stadium Oct. 11.

School district reopens Bird, West overpasses

BY TONY BRUSCATO OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The overpasses students use to cross Sheldon and North Territorial roads to get to and from Bird Elementary and West Middle School have been reopened.

The three entrances to the overpasses were barricaded Sept. 12 by school officials after cracks were found in the concrete foundations. However, plans have been put in place to correct the problems and allow children to safely use the overpasses.

We took the necessary precautions and found there were long-lasting repairs that needed to take place, and we've worked with our structural engineers to come up with temporary supports that can stay in place while repairs are being made," said Ken Jacobs, deputy superintendent. "We examined all the piers at the different locations, and the two piers that had visible cracks and deterioration are going to be replaced. The rest of the piers will remain in place with some other maintenance repairs done to them."

Jacobs emphasized the overpasses are safe for children to use.

Jacobs said the district is still evaluating a similar overpass at Fiegel Elementary, which crosses Joy Road.

"I don't expect that to be a similar situation," Jacobs said. "We may look at different maintenance approaches at the end of the school year."

Plymouth pours out its support of cancer walkers

BY TONY BRUSCATO OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

With the Kellogg Park fountain spraying pink-colored water into the air as a backdrop, hundreds of people - some waving signs and sporting pink hair — lined up along Penniman Avenue and Main Street Saturday to cheer Breast Cancer 3-Day Walk participants.

Unlike last year when the walk traveled through Plymouth, the city hosted an official cheer station at the intersection which had to be expanded along Main Street to Central Middle School because so many people turned out.

This is so overwhelming," said Tiffany Benedict of Clarkston, 37, who had tears in her eyes. "I can't believe all the people. It's very emotional."

In an e-mail to the City of Plymouth, Christy Hoben of Ypsilanti Township said she was overwhelmed.

"This is my fourth walk and I have never experienced such an outpouring of love and support as we received while walking through your beautiful city," said Hoben. "Walking downtown is a scene I will never, ever forget - we felt like rock stars!"

In fact, Plymouth received standing ovations from thousands of walkers at camp Saturday night in Livonia and again at closing ceremonies Sunday at The Henry Ford in Dearborn.

"Plymouth was everybody's hero," said Dan Dwyer of Plymouth, who participated in his second walk. "It was very humbling. I've never been more proud of my home-

Kate Hondorp, a Tonda Elementary teacher who walked with Dwyer, said she felt more emotional hardship than physical pain during the 60-mile trek.

"So many people rooting you on, I couldn't make it through (Plymouth) without crying," Hondorp said. "Some of my students painted their hair pink, the Girl Scout troop made signs.

"People cheering you on would look into your eyes and say 'thank you' and you know there's a story (involving cancer) behind that person," she said. "The walk wasn't hard compared to someone battling breast cancer, but to see more than one viewpoint of the situation. The issue, however, is not what commentators and pundits may say, but rather what you and I should be doing.

It is important to remember that a crisis should not be the only time to review a portfolio. You can't put your portfolio in automatic pilot and forget about it. We live in a dynamic world and we must change with the times. Portfolios are something that, like a yard, requires regular maintenance.

STAY CALM

For investors who have maintained diversified portfolios and who have established a portfolio based upon an asset allocation strategy, my advice is do nothing. Most asset allocation strategies do take into consideration that down markets occur and they can be painful. However, the strategy of staying diversified and spreading risk into different asset classes protects an investor in difficult markets.

For the investor who does not have an overall strategy and whose portfolio is a hodge-podge as opposed to a coordinated game plan, take advantage of the present market conditions to restructure. Your portfolio needs to be based upon a strategy that matches your goal. Randomly picking mutual funds or stocks is a bad way to handle a port-

Then there's the investor whose view is, "I'm tired of the losses. I'm just going to liquidate all my investments and put the money in cash." This strategy offers shortterm comfort but inevitably will cause long-term pain. Investing in items such as CDs, money markets and government bonds are important investments for a portfolio. However, just like 100 percent of your money should not be in stocks, 100 percent of your money should not be in fixed income investments.

The reason people liquidate their portfolios to move into cash, is they think the portfolio will be risk-free. It would be nice if some of these investments were risk-free, but they are not. Risk is more than your money going up and down in value, it is also not keeping up with the increased cost of living and taxes. Those selling out of the market today may get some short-term satisfaction, however, they are assuming a substantial risk that their money will not keep pace with the increased cost of living.

NO ONE ANSWER

There is no one answer how investors should handle the present crisis. The key to handling any type of financial crisis is to look at your individual situation and use that as your

There is, however, one thing that applies to everyone, patience. When people rush, they generally make the wrong financial decision. We all need to take a step back and let some of the dust settle. Sometimes the best course of action is to do nothing.

Although every crisis has its own personality, a common thread is fear. Investors who let fear dominate their investment decisions ultimately fail to achieve the returns they desire. If you must make a move during these volatile times, be careful and thoughtful and make sure you don't let your short-term comfort cost you long-term security.

Plakas is best choice for district court

When voters go to the polls on Nov. 4 and vote to replace retiring 35th District Court Judge John MacDonald, they'll have to choose between two strong candidates.

Jim Plakas and Joe Barone were the top two votegetters during the August primary election, and now face each other for the six-year term, which pays $139,272. Voters can select only one candidate. We believe that candidate should be Jim Plakas.

Plakas seems to have been training for this particular job most of his career. He's been a prosecutor, a city attorney and a defense attorney. He's handled all manner of cases in a variety of court-

He comes from an experienced legal background, has a sound judicial temperament and has the backing of many judges. His list of endorsements includes MacDonald, who has served with distinction; Judge Robert Brzezinski of Livonia's 16th District Court; and Judge C. Charles Bokos of Westland's 18th District Court, three of the most respected district court jurists in the area.

We admit to a little concern about his political backing because, after a contentious campaign two years ago, the 35th District Court could use a little less politics. Plakas will also need to swallow any animosity remaining from his loss to Chief Judge Ron Lowe in that election, and function as part of the team led by Lowe. But Plakas is a young, hard-charging, community-minded attorney with a young family, and we believe he will turn out to be a good judge.

Joe Barone, who has tried more cases in the 35th of the two, is heavily involved in the community. He also has the backing of 35th District Court Judge Mike Gerou, as well as all four former candidates who ran and lost in the August primary election (Martha Snow, Cam Miller, Jim Malinowski and Art Butler). He has built a thriving law practice in downtown Plymouth, and share's many of the attributes that make Plakas an attractive candidate.

However, we believe Plakas' breadth of experience and his passion for the job make him the better choice of the two. We recommend Jim Plakas for 35th District Court judge.

New energy package is a good first step

Two weeks ago, the Michigan Legislature passed a compromise energy package that won the support of Michigan environmental groups and the state's two largest energy companies, Consumers Energy and DTE

It is not perfect legislation and has raised objections. Energy brokers are concerned about returning the big energy companies to a regulated monopoly, with 90 percent of the state's energy consumers. They argue that energy choice hasn't been given a fair trial. Others complain that the energy companies can make rate changes without prior approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission. Some argue that Michigan should be moving more aggressively on alternative energy.

And no one is happy that residential energy bills will be going up. The new legislation shifts some of the burden from industrial and commercial enterprises to residential customers, who have been subsidized by business customers.

But rates would have gone up anyway. The legislation moves Michigan into a better competitive position with other states and finally makes an effort to set a renewable portfolio standard (RPS) and create an energy-efficiency program.

Consumers and DTE wanted customer stability so they could seek loans to build new power plants to replace dated, inefficient plants, coal and nuclear. Environmentalists wanted the RPS and efficiency programs to make the state less dependent on coal-fueled electrical power plants. Under this legislation, they all get something.

The energy companies must supply 10 percent of the energy they generate from renewable sources (solar, wind, biomass, etc.) by 2015. Energy efficiency programs require a 1-percent annual reduction in electricity demand by 2012. These steps could ultimately lower energy costs in addition to creating cleaner and more efficient energy.

Think twice about McCain

As president of a small company in Livonia, I'm facing the same pressures that challenge so many businesses in Michigan. While government can't resolve all of the issues we face, it can, for better or worse, affect the climate in which we compete. Accordingly, I have a strong stake in whom we elect as our next president.

We're faced with two candidates who both show good character, and are easily smarter than the current occupant of the White House. A major difference between them is experience, and it's on this that I'm going to base my choice. McCain has much more experience, and much of it scares me.

McCain was part of the deregulation mob that did away with the Glass-Steagall Act in 1999, directly leading to the financial instability and credit crunch our citizens and businesses are now facing.

He was part of the coalition of congressmen that repeatedly squashed any attempt at meaningful health care reform, instead backing a giveaway to the pharmaceutical industry that was thinly disguised as "consumer choice." These choices left our country's businesses at a competitive disadvantage, while leaving many of our citizens without health care.

John McCain was a vocal and consistent supporter of the choice to invade Iraq. This unwarranted war has flushed billions of our tax dollars down the toilet, led to the death of thousands of our citizens and hundreds of thousands of Iraqis, and contributed to the deterioration of our standing and influence on the national stage.

He has repeatedly supported tax breaks for the wealthy in general, and big oil in particular, further contributing to a debt that our offspring will be burdened with for generations. In addition to being a morally indefensible abuse of our descendants, this government need for loans adds to the credit woes so painfully obvious at the current time.

In short, rather than being an asset in his drive for the presidency, I think McCain's experience indicates that he is clearly a bad choice.

In my hiring decisions, I've often had a choice between an experienced job candidate and a fresh face that shows great promise. When the experience shows a good track record, that often wins out. In this case, I have to go with the fresh face, and I hope that you will join me in voting for Barack Obama in November.

Neither party offers answers

An one-eyed man is king in a blind kingdom, and this turgid election year serves up a pair of one-eyed jacks, one a Republican-lite, the other a typical lib.

Great, a choice between dumb and dumber, or between death by firing squad or hanging. Most nations of the world have multi-tiered party systems, but in America, Big Money squeezes out third parties. The nation's Titanic ship of state lists to port beneath burdens of home foreclosures, unemployment, gasoline prices, trade imbalances and an inadequate health-care system which neglects the poor - plus, new threatsfrom Iran and Russia. No surprise that America isn't mentioned in the Bible's Revelation — probably because it won't exist in the future. Meanwhile, Congress fiddles while Rome burns, mired in gridlock — and neither party ever has a filibuster-proof Senate majority.

Neither party offers the nation what's needed — a complete overhaul of the corrupted system (it doesn't serve these career politicians' power-obsessed self-interests). The two-party system is controlled by special interests, lobbyists and big business. The government has mutated into a monster which doesn't serve the people. A nation of myopic, witless couch spuds have surrendered their power and rights. The cancer has metastasized and requires radical amputation — pure revolution to wipe the table clean, something along the lines of the French model, replete with the public square guillotine.

The GOP and Dems use hot-button issues to snooker votes from dupes whom they exploit solely for their own advancement. The GOP champions pro-life issues while doing little to outlaw abortion, while the Dems pretend to be fighting for "the little guy" while failing miserably in the "war on poverty" - and neither party has abolished the infernal IRS mbryonic stem cell research has the power to bring hope to the sick in Michigan where there has been none, and healing to people in horrible suffering.

Stem cell Proposal 2 would advance medicine, grow economy

It holds the promise of new treatments and cures for a long list of devastating diseases: cancer, heart disease, diabetes, stroke, Alzheimer's, ALS, Parkinson's disease, spinalcord injuries, to name just a few.

It offers physicians a gateway into a new understanding of basic human biology and a fantastic array of new techniques to bring better health care to their patients. And it can provide a major economic stimulus to Michigan's lagging economy. A conservative estimate says that it would add 8,000 new jobs and $490 million to payrolls throughout the state. Yet Michigan physicians who want to use this powerful new tool face serious jail time

- simply for wanting to help their patients. That's what Proposal 2 on the Nov. 4 Michigan ballot wants to change. It will finally unshackle our best doctors and our best scientists to pursue the most promising opportunities for advancing the cause of medicine. Proposal 2 would allow Michigan physicians and scientists the freedom to pursue cures through embryonic stem cell research, just like doctors in 45 other states.

Who could possibly be against bringing new hope and healing into the world?

The answer is simple: People who want to impose their own narrow values on others, who have decided their lack of compassion and understanding should stand in the way of suffering patients finding comfort and care.

We have already seen that the opponents of Proposal 2 will not let the truth stand in their way. It's science against cynicism. They have lots of money; they have created a small cottage industry of deception - a dissembling line. And they will use it shamelessly to distort the truth and buy votes.

Let's start with their lies:

Taxes: Proposal 2 does not ask for one penny of tax dollars. In fact, by providing economic stimulus, it will save each one of us in Michigan money.

Cloning: Proposal 2 specifically outlaws it. Unregulated science: Embryonic stem cell research is already strictly regulated at the federal level. Proposal 2 adds another layer of ethical safeguards. Embryos can only come from fertility clinics, when they can no longer be used for reproduction and when the donors offer their consent.

Embryos for sale: Proposal 2 specifically prohibits it. Researchers can only use frozen embryos languishing in fertility clinics that would be otherwise discarded. By law, there can be no payment.

Forget the hype: the science of embryonic stems cells is very simple. Fertility clinics create embryos in test tubes, far more than can ever be implanted in female donors. Remaining, unneeded embryos are frozen for storage. Eventually they are tossed out.

Embryos are tiny things, the size of the period at the end of this sentence. They contain 150 or so cells, including the embryonic stem cells. They could not survive on their own. But their stem cells have immense power and immense potential to save lives, because of their innate ability to produce every other type of cell in the human body.

Think of the opportunities that affords medical scientists. They can take embryonic stem cells and use them to grow endless amounts of tissue in a test tube, which can be put to work repairing or replacing damaged and dead cells in their patients. For instance, medical scientists could grow spinal tissue that can help the injured walk again. Or they could grow pancreatic cells as a source of insulin so that a child with Type 1 diabetes no longer has to endure injections every day.

Physicians can also model diseases — that is, they can develop cells that have a certain disease, such as cancer or diabetes — and then test countless possible medications to identify ones that are effective treatments or cures, in far shorter time than the methods they have now. That speeds up the time for getting lifesaving treatments to desperately ill people.

So the question comes down to this: Whom do you believe? Doctors and scientists who are desperately trying to save lives and who pray every night to have the power to create cures for their patients? Or people who care more for their own narrow beliefs than the very real pain of sick or injured people?

Do we want cures or scares?

No wonder embryonic stem cell research has wide support across this nation. Recent surveys show that 68 percent of Americans support it. Embryonic stem cell research has the backing of the American Medical Association and the National Health Council. And it has the bipartisan blessing of both presidential candidates, Sens. John McCain and Barack Obama.

But now, more than ever, it needs your sup-s a person living with metastatic cancer, I would love as much as anyone to find cures and new treatments for diseases and illnesses. However, Proposal 2 will not provide the answers promised by backers.

Instead, Proposal 2 goes too far because it is deceptive and is being presented with emotional and dishonest appeals.

Pat McDonald

In November, Michigan voters will be voting on Proposal 2, but its language has nothing to do with finding cures or with stem cell research. I'm opposed to Proposal 2 because it removes state and local oversight of experimentation involving live human embryos or embryonic stem cells.

I urge voters to read the fine print of Proposal 2, and not merely rely on the packaged description of the amendment offered by its proponents.

This proposed constitutional amendment provides that no state or local law may prevent, restrict, obstruct, discourage or provide disincentives to any embryonic stem cell research. In other words, no laws would apply to embryonic stem cell research.

I would like to clarify a few misconceptions on Proposal 2. First, embryonic stem cell research is not illegal in Michigan. Forty scientists are currently conducting human embryonic research at the University of Michigan alone.

Second, this constitutional amendment does not ban human cloning.

And third, those of us who are opposed to this proposal are not opposed to all science related to stem cell research.

Human embryonic stem cell research is already legal in Michigan. Research has been conducted on human embryonic stem cells for years, primarily at the University of Michigan Center for Human Embryo Stem Cell Research, one of the largest research centers in the country. Proposal 2 would allow unregulated and unrestricted research, not only on stem cells, but also on human Proposal 2 does not place a human cloning ban into the Michigan Constitution. It does state that nothing shall be interpreted to "alter" the statute that is currently on the books that bans human cloning. However, if Michigan law changes to allow human cloning, the proposed amendment would then allow cloning, and there are two bills that would allow human cloning pending in the Michigan Legislature right now.

The proposed amendment is very deceptive and gives the impression that it addresses human cloning without doing so in any way.

There is nothing in the proposal that protects Michigan's existing statutory ban on human Supporters of Proposal 2 told the Detroit Free Press that the ban on human cloning could be revisited once the general public becomes more familiar with the science.

inating Michigan's ban on human cloning. Finally, MI-CAUSE supports science, but with reasonable restrictions and regulations.

Quite obviously, their intent is to pursue elim-

Inserting language in the state Constitution that allows for unrestricted and unregulated scientific experimentation is bad policy and creates a horrible slippery slope that is next to impossible to reverse or control.

If Proposal 2 is passed, state law would not be able to regulate matters of commerce, patient safety, record keeping, donor and recipient privacy and other unforeseen issues. If a business were involved in stem cell experimentation that utilized hazardous viruses or animal DNA, the state would be prevented from overseeing it.

Certainly, any industry that does business in our state should be subject to laws and requirements that state and local governments and the people of our state feel are necessary. Industry centered around human embryonic research should be treated no differently.

In fact, the nature of the industry demands that the most stringent and exacting laws and regulations be in place as they are in other

Regardless of how pure the motives of its practitioners, regulations and restrictions do have a place in science and research. Unfortunately, Proposal 2 fails to include regulations and restrictions to prohibit human embryo experimentation.

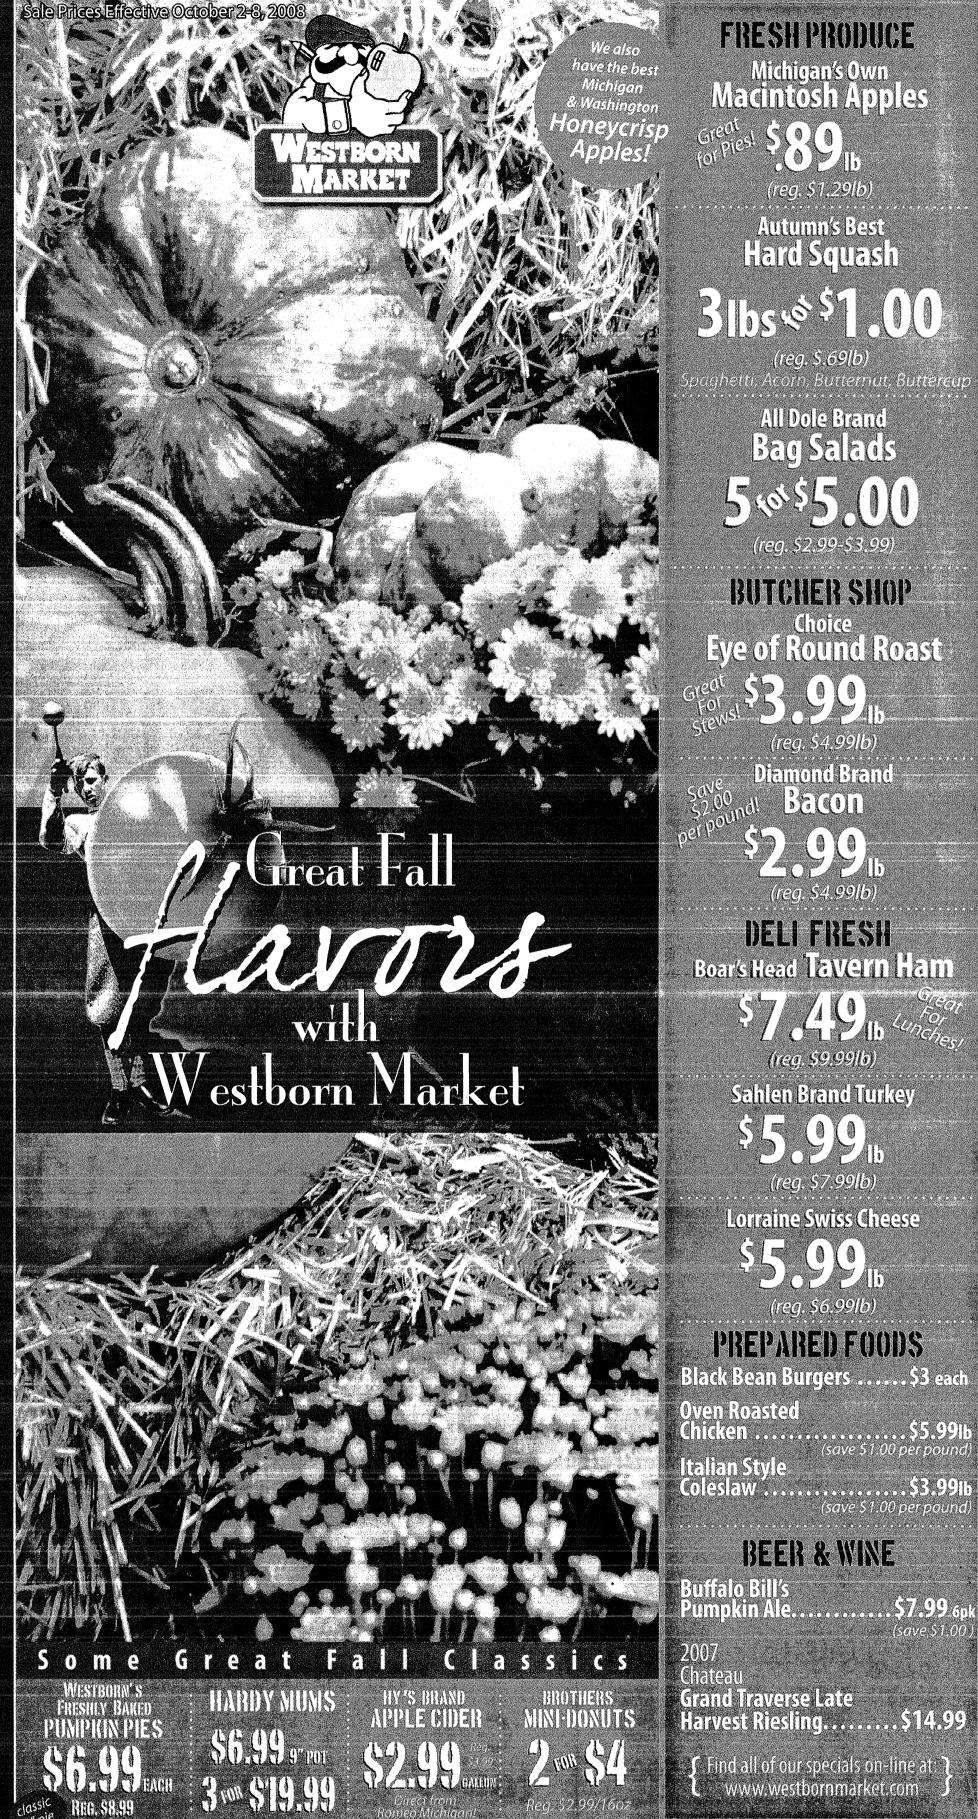

Science involving adult stem cells and induced pluripotent stem cells continues to make great strides and can produce discoveries that make our lives healthier and more productive. Personally, new discoveries that may help anyone who has cancer or another disease or illness would be wonderful, but I do not believe Proposal 2 is the avenue we should take to find new treatments and cures.

Likewise, the people of Michigan should not be fooled by claims that unregulated and unrestricted experimentation can bring us closer to cures. We're too smart to believe this is possible or that this is how science should

Canton's Kielty rises to the occasion in Chiefs' sweep

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Canton's offense was running on all "kill" inders during Tuesday night's cross-campus volleyball match with Plymouth.

Led by junior sensation Jordan Kielty's 22 kills — all set up by senior Kacy Moran's pin-point feeds — the Chiefs swept the Wildcats 25-14, 25-19 and 25-19, on a night when Canton's usually reliable defense struggled to find its groove.

"Offensively, Kacy and Jordan worked well together up front," said Canton coach Jen Barnes, whose team improved to 16-4 overall and 2-1 in the KLAA South Division. "Normally, we're a strong serve-receive and defensive team, but tonight we weren't in the right spots, we weren't moving our feet and we weren't talking.

"This was our worst match of the season by far."

Unlike Canton, Plymouth's woes were mostly the result of an inconsistent passing attack that nullified some stellar defensive efforts.

"I was impressed with our defense tonight, but we still weren't clicking offensively," said Plymouth coach Kelly McCausland, whose squad dropped to 9-7-3 overall and 1-2 in the South Division. "We're not putting balls away that we should.

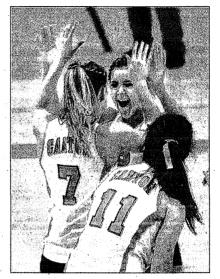

"I think we have some of the best passers in the league. Some days, our passing is unbelievable — like target passing. But tonight our offense was off just a little."

After winning the opening game handily, the Chiefs surged to an 18-12 lead in Game 2 before the Wildcats strung together a 5-0 run to cut their deficit to 18-17. The catalysts for the revival were

Erin O'Connor, who picked up four straight service points — the last an ace - and Kelly Smoltz, who registered three straight blocks during the comeback. The Chiefs regained the momentum on the next point when Moran placed a perfect set in the wheelhouse of Kielty, who emphatically slammed the ball into a dead zone in the Wildcats' defense to make it 19-17.

The teams exchanged points on a Plymouth error and a kill by the Wildcats' Danielle Risi before the Game 3 proved to be an entertaining battle for the large crowd that jammed the east stands in Canton's Phase III gymnasium.

Neither team led by more than three points until the Chiefs broke open a 16all contest by outscoring the Wildcats 9-3 down the stretch. The winners put a wrap on the night in appropriate fashion with Kielty and Torry Riley powering no-doubt kills into the Plymouth side of the hardwood court. Kielty added 13 digs to her 22-kill night. Moran racked up 28 set assists and 16 digs while Riley posted six kills.

Shelby Anthony also sparkled for the Chiefs, recording 14 digs — including a spectacular diving effort that led to a Kielty kill late in Game 3 - and four service aces.

Senior captain Gina Waite added 11 digs for the Chiefs.

Risi and Mandy McManus led Plymouth with six kills each. Jenna Livingston carded a career-high 17 digs while Megan Quinlan and Briana Beyer notched 13 and 11 digs, respectively.

"The girls were really pumped up for the Churchill game last week," said Barnes. "We need them to get up like that every night, especially against a Park rival like Plymouth."

Oktoberfest golf

On Saturday, Oct. 11, Pheasant Run Golf Course in Canton will host Oktoberfest — a three-person scramble event sponsored by Outback Steakhouse.

The 18-hole tournament will tee off with a 10:30 a.m. shotgun start. Food and beverages will be provided as well as prizes from the Pheasant Run pro shop.

The entry fee is $300 per threesome. The deadline to enter is Oct. 3. Entries are limited to the first 50 teams that sign up and pay in full.

To register, call (734) 397-6460. To learn more about Pheasant Run or the Oktoberfest event, visit leisure.canton-mi.org.

PC Pride triumphs

The PC Pride 14U Stars captured the 2008 Pride Fall Classic slow-pitch softball tournament recently by defeating Torco Pink of Kalamazoo, 9-8, in the title game, which was decided with an international overtime.

The Stars won five of six games and rallied from three runs down to tie the championship game in the bottom of the last inning to send it into extra innings. They rallied again from one run down to win in the international overtime extra inning. This victory qualifies the Stars to play in the 2009 USSSA World Series.

The team consists of: Rebecca Middleton, Elliott Mitchem, Catherine Porter, Elaine Gerou, Allison Raylean, Jessica Webster, Abby Jewell, Alexis Powell, Ayanna Martin, Andria Gietl, Casey Bias and Shannon Watson.

The team is coached by Mike Gerou and Kevin Bias.

Radosevich in middle of action for No. 1 Rocks

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The 40-yard stretch of cleatstrampled grass Dan Radosevich patrols for the Salem soccer team lies somewhere between the areas where headline-producing goals are scored and crowd-pleasing saves are made.

Although Radosevich's best work is done outside the attention-grabbing 18-yard boxes, he's responsible for making things happen in what most soccer experts will tell you is the most important part of the pitch — the mid-field — where a relentless struggle for ball possession never ceases.

A three-year starter, Radosevich has teamed with fellow senior captain Jeremy Stoychoff to give the Rocks one of the state's most-respected mid-field duos during a season in which Salem has owned the No. 1 ranking in the Division 1 boys soccer polls since Day 1.

"Dan is a terrific play-maker," said Salem coach Ed McCarthy. "A lot of what we build offensively goes through him. He helps us keep possession of the ball and he's great defensively as well.

"Dan doesn't blow guys away with his speed, but he can take guys off the dribble because he's very crafty."

Foreseeing greatness

Radosevich, who started playing soccer competitively at the age of 6, said he had a feeling this season could be spectacular before he ever pulled on a Salem jersey for the first time.

"Ever since eighth grade I thought our senior year could be special because I knew our senior class was going to be so talented and deep," said Radosevich, who has played a key role in the Rocks' 15-0-4 start. "With 10 seniors, this team has great leadership and experience. All three of the captains are three-year starters, so we've been through it all.

"It's an honor to be ranked No. 1. Every team we play though comes out and plays with an extra drive against us because they want to be the team that beats the No. 1 team in the state. We have a big target on our backs, so we have to play that much harder and we can't get big heads."

Love at first kick

Radosevich said the sport has appealed to him since he first laced on a pair of soccer cleats in first grade. "I like that it's such an unpredictable sport," he said. "Any team can beat any other team on any given day. I like the intensity that comes with every game we play, too. There's more intensity in the high school games than the club games because there's so much at stake. One loss can really ruin your Radosevich is one of the few Rocks - one of the few high school players period — who plays — with the exception of blow-outs — every minute of every game.

The iron man responsibilities require supreme conditioning, something the three-year starter takes pride in.

"Jeremy and I both usually play all 80 minutes, so we have to be in extremely good shape," he said. "We probably run anywhere from three to five miles each game I'd guess, so conditioning is very important."

Middle of the action

While his position isn't as glamorous as forward or goal-keeper, Radosevich couldn't be happier with his role.

The mid-fielders are like the engine of the team." he said. "If a team doesn't have a decent mid-field, it can get dominated.

"Jeremy and I have been playing together since we were 12, so we know to stay back if the other one is making a run and stuff like that. We work pretty well together."

Among Radosevich's non-soccer interests is music. He plays the drums in a band he made up with a few friends called "The Reggies."

If Radosevich and his fellow Rock kickers continue to live up to their No 1 ranking, "The Reggies" had better start practicing a potential theme song come November: "We Are the Champions."

Plymouth's Liz Cizek cuts loose on a drive during Monday's match against Canton.

Wildcats' division title hopes dashed by Chargers

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Plymouth's bid for a Kensington Lakes Activities Association South Division title hit a bump in the path Tuesday.

The Wildcats' perfect season was upended by Livonia Churchill, 24-35, in a dual meet held at Cass Benton Park in Northville. The loss dropped Plymouth's record to 3-1 while the Chargers improved to 4-0.

"We knew it was going to be tough going in," said Plymouth coach Mary Kerwin. "I was pleased with how competitive the girls were today. They didn't approach the race as if they were going to get beat. Churchill was just the better team today."

The Wildcats' top three runners — Molly Slavens (20:12), Nicole Traitses (20:13) and Kelly Hahn (20:15) - were bunched together in third, fourth and fifth, respectively. Tricia Pniewski (11th in 21:23) and Adrienne White (12th in 21:33) rounded out the scoring for Plymouth, which was missing senior co-captain Beth Heldmeyer.

On Saturday, the Wildcats placed fourth in the ultra-competitive Haslett Invitational,

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

which was won by East Grand Rapids (80 points). Plymouth finished with 112 points, within breathing distance of thirdplace Dearborn (103) and fourth-place Ann Arbor Huron

"This was a highly competitive invitational," said Kerwin. "My top four girls ran in the 19's and my fifth and sixth were in the 20's — and we still finished fourth."

was the performance of Slavens, who recorded a school-record time of 19:11, which was good enough for 11th place. Also scoring for Plymouth were Traitses (19th in 19:33), Heldmeyer (22nd in 19:37) and Hahn, who placed 23rd in 19:43. Julie Forster rounded out Plymouth's scoring with a 37th-place effort in 20:26.

Chiefs 2nd in Ypsi

Canton's girls cross country team recorded its third runner-up finish of the season Saturday when it placed second at the Ypsilanti Invitational. The Chiefs earned 51 points, 25 more than first-place Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Brighton placed third with 72 points. Saline was fourth with 86 and Livonia Ladywood was fifth with 159.

Canton's Bianca Kubicki won the race with a time of 20:12, 20 seconds faster than Pioneer's Amy Boudreau. Also scoring for the Chiefs were Rachel Rohrbach (fourth in 20:43), Sarah Thomas (fifth in 20:55), Abigail Gorzalski (17th in 21:51) and Emily Southern (24th in 22:10).

Cassie Kramer and Kaitlin The highlight of the afternoon David placed 36th and 39th, respectively.

Salem 6th in Haslett

The Rocks placed sixth at Saturday's 22-team Haslett Invitational with 173 points, 93 more than champion East Grand Rapids.

A pair of Rocks medaled: Victoria Tripp, who placed 18th in 19:30; and Kelley Determan, who was 24th in 19:45.

Also running well for Salem were: Kelly Kerwin (41st in 20:31), Shannon Griffiths (44th in 20:35), Linda Ling (46th in 20:36), Kara Booms (47th in 20:37) and Phoebe VanHoof (61st in 21:04).

Plymouth's perfect season rolls on

BY ED WRIGHT OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The Plymouth boys cross country team's magical season continued Tuesday afternoon at Cass Benton Park in Northville.

That was the site of the Wildcats' latest conquest - a 24-31 victory over Livonia Churchill that all but wrapped up the Kensington Lakes Activities Association South Division crown.

The triumph improved firstyear coach Jon Mikosz's squad to 4-0 in the division. The Chargers slipped to 2-2.

The Wildcats were paced by Elmar Engholm, who placed first in 16:37. He was followed by runner-up Derek Lax (17:11).

The guys are really stepping up," said Mikosz. "We expected big things from our top guys

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

— Elmar and Derek — but the key for us has been our fifth runner, Joe Porcari, who has been beating the other teams' fifth runner consistently. We thought going into the season that the fifth spot may be a weakness, but it's turned into a strength for us."

Also scoring for Plymouth on Tuesday were Warren Buzzard (fifth place in 17:20), Matt Neumann (seventh in 17:24) and Porcari (ninth in 17:40).

Mark Waterbury and Matt Szado finished third and fourth, respectively, for Churchill with times of 17:15 and 17:17. On Saturday, the Wildcats won the Divine Child Falcon Invitational with a score of 45 points. Lax was the top Plymouth runner, finishing third in 16:45.9. Also scoring for the champions were Buzzard (fifth in 17:02.8), Neumann (sixth in 17:03.6), Porcari (10th in 17:29.0), Jimmy Eiben (21st in 17:56.5) and Stephen Balaze (24th in 18:03.3)

Canton humbles Wayne

The Chiefs streaked to a lopsided 15-50 victory Tuesday over the Zebras, who suited up just four runners.

The first 11 runners to cross the finish line were wearing red and white. Kyle Clinton was first in 17:40 followed by Duncan Spitz (17:51).

Also scoring for Canton were Greg Reed (18:12), Mitch Clinton (18:23) and Mike Limers (18:26).

Wildcats fall to Churchill, 4-1; Rocks top South Lyon

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Livonia Churchill has booked its spot in the first-ever Kensington Conference boys soccer championship match.

The Chargers, unbeaten in their last 12 games, clinch the KLAA-South Division title outright Tuesday with a 4-1 win at Plymouth.

Churchill, 11-2-1 overall and 9-0 in the KLAA-South, will travel Monday, Oct. 6 to play either KLAA-Central Division champ. either Livonia Stevenson or Salem, for the conference crown. (Game time is 7 p.m.). Jakub Herout, an exchange student from the PREP SOCCER

Czech Republic, had a pair of goals for the victorious Chargers, who bolted out to a 4-1 halftime lead over the Wildcats (6-8-1, 3-5-2)

Chris DeNapoli and Matt Regan also tallied goals for the Chargers. Assists went to Etienne Lussiez (on a crafty flick to Regan just two minutes into the match) along with Erik Bird. Simon Bank and Ben Merritt (on a cross to Plymouth's Vinh Nguyen scored for the Wildcats midway through the first half to make it 1-all.

SALEM 4, SOUTH LYON 1: The Rocks improved to 15-0-4 overall and 6-0-3 in the KLAA Central.

Matt Woster, Sal Savage, Josh Pascarella and Garrett Rogers scored goals for the winners while Will Allen picked up his fourth consecutive victory between the pipes..

Salem led 3-0 at the half.

CANTON 9, WAYNE 0: Senior Joey Krizanek scored four goals and senior Sherif Hassanien added two Tuesday as the host Chiefs (10-4-3, 7-2) mercied Wayne Memorial (0-14-1, 0-9) during the second half in a KLAA-South Division encounter.

Senior Kyle Breitmeyer added a goal and assist for Canton, which led 4-0 at halftime. Freshman Mitch Posuniak and senior Josh Hurst completed the goal scoring for Canton. Senior Nick Turnbull (one saves) posted the shutout in goal for the Chiefs. CANTON 2, NORTHVILLE 0: The Chiefs earned an impressive KLAA crossover win over the Mustangs Monday night. Sherif Hassanien sparked the triumph with an unassisted goal one minute into the contest. Kyle Breitmeyer added an insurance marker with 2:55 left in the game off an assist from Scott Zech.

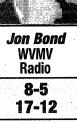

Kai Walther earned the shutout in net for the Chiefs, who improved to 9-4-3 overall.

WWII veteran, US Army. Bill was an extraordinary man who made a full life for himself and his family out of sheer determination. An inventor and entrepreneur, he designed a fluid power product that formed the basis for ACE Controls, Inc., the company he founded and guided to become the world leader in deceleration technology. Working with him from the beginning was wife Alice as well as members of the Larry Ellis family. Bill and Alice's children later became involved in the business during the family's 38-year ownership. Bill's industry contributions are documented in the book "Fluid Power: The Hidden Giant" and were recognized by his National Fluid Power Association chairmanship as well as an honorary degree from Lawrence Technological University. An avid antique car collector, he par ticipated in Concours d'Elegance exhibitions across the country. Bill was the one who people went to when they needed advice or help, and he responded with wisdom, caring and generosity. Loved and respected by family and friends, who will miss him dearly. Bill's passing leaves a void in our lives no one else can fill. Visitation will be Wednesday 6-9 pm and Thursday 2-4 and 6-9 pm at McCabe Funeral Home, 31950 W. 12 Mile Rd., Farmington Hills, A Funeral Mass will be celebrated at 10:30 am on Friday at St. Fabian Catholic Church, 32200 W. 12 Mile, Farmington HIlls. # Rockets end Steelers' four-game streak

The Farmington Rockets curtailed the Plymouth-Canton Steelers varsity squad's quest for a perfect season Sunday when they handed the gold and black their first setback, 40-30. Avery Simms and Joshua Mayberry played well on the offensive side of the ball for the Steelers while Austin Sylvester, Camerson Dillard and Jonathan Moore shined for the defense. The special teams' highlight was Michael Kennedy's kick-off return for

The junior varsity Steelers dropped a 26-12 decision to the host Rockets. Shining for the Steelers' "Black" offensive line were Ryan Broughman, Bradley Deeg and Nick Lanava. Lucas Callahan proved to be an intimidating force for the P-C defense. Jacob Marsh played well on both sides of the ball and Christian Mayberry was instrumental in stopping the

The Steelers freshmen unit dropped a 19-18 squeaker to the Rockets despite strong blocking from David Dart, Jr., Ethan Pearce and Nicholas Saker. Joey Ahearn, Jacob McKinnon and Christian Pearson all proved to be stalwarts on the defensive side of the ball.

The Steelers junior freshmen defensive unit sent a message to the Rockets on the first play from scrimmage, forcing and recovering a fumble. Offensively, Steven Barlow, Chase Cunningham, Ian Gozdor, Justin Kuhn and Cameron Smith opened gaping holes for the running backs.

Lions remain perfect

The Canton Lions varsity squad extended its unbeaten season to 5-0

Sunday with a 44-22 triumph over the Belleville Cougars. Spearheading the win were offensive linemen James Dodge and Austin Banfield, who opened huge holes for Malcolm Hollingsworth (four TDs). Quarterback Jamarl Eiland threw a TD pass to Nate Emminger, who added a kickoff return for a TD. Defensively, the winners were paced by Wally Turner, Alex Smith, Lucas Bunting, Brandon Lee, Cody Korpus and Brendan Swanson.

The Lions JV contingent fell 20-14 to the Cougars despite a 46-yard scoring pass from Evan Thomas to James Hall and a 4-yard scoring hook-up from Allante Wheeler to Hall. Defensively, Charles Turfe, Daniel Jipping, Forest Hall, Daniel Kilgore, Kenny Arnold and Kyle Murray all played a hard-fought 20-14 decision to the Cougars. The Lions drove to the Belleville 4-yard line in the waning seconds, but couldn't punch in the goahead score. Providing spirited efforts on the defensive side of the ball were Jackson Austin, Matthew Wayne, David Mason and Kyrece Smith. Offensively, Mason Robichaud, Eric Daniels and Patrick Wayne provided outstanding blocking.

The Lions junior freshmen turned in perhaps their best showing of the season behind the strong running of Spencer Brown. Guido Constantino chipped in with strong running between the tackles. Kollin Murray excelled on long-snaps and Jack Underwood was flawless from the center position. Other key Lions were Devin Farmer, Trevor LaPere, Cody Tapp, Mason Lamarand, Mathew Palukas and Luke Bonifacio.

PC gridders win third straight

The Plymouth Christian football team improved to 3-1 in its inaugural season Saturday with an impressive 21-0 victory over the Flint Warriors.

The Eagles' offense was engineered by quarterback J.R. Hope, who completed 4-of-9 passes for 78 yards. Hope's primary targets were receivers Matt Sauter and Brian Beach.

Pacing the winners' 200yard-plus rushing attack were to action Saturday against Jordan Allen, who scored a pair of touchdowns, and Douglas Malcolm, who tallied Spencer Wiard converted all three of the Eagles' extrapoint attempts.

The Eagles registered four interceptions on defense, one each from Andrew Weaver. Joe Greff, Jordan Early-Pitts and Wiard.

Zachary Hare and Eric Jipping recorded quarterback sacks while Blake VanTiem and Sauter led the team in Plymouth Christian returns North Branch.

The 3 p.m. game will be played at Whitmore Lake High School.

Resources to help owners fight off foreclosure

Foreclosures have dominated local news, especially in Michigan, in recent times. You can find help avoiding foreclosure from your local public library. This list of resources is from the Web site of the William P. Faust Public Library of Westland, www.westland. lib.mi.us.

http://www.ewashtenaw.org/ government/treasurer/MFP Some local resources for people who are facing foreclosures.

The Michigan State Housing Development Authority, which can be reached from the Michigan: Save the Dream link shown above, offers this information on home loans

Q. How can I find out who my lender is and how to contact them?

A. The name of your lender (or servicer) and their address and phone number should be listed on your monthly mortgage statement or mortgage coupons.

Q. What is the difference between a lender and a servicer?

A. When you first obtained your mortgage loan you worked with a lender. They provided the funds for your loan. A servicer collects your monthly mortgage payments and if you have an escrow account they also pay the taxes and homeowners insurance on your behalf. The servicer may be a different company than your original lender. The term lender and servicer are often used interchangeably, but you should always contact whatever company you are sending your payments. Q. What information should I have when I call my lender?

A. You should have your account number (from your mortgage statement or coupons), be able to briefly explain your situation, have a copy of your paycheck stub or other income information and a list of regular household expenses. Q. What is foreclosure?

A. Foreclosure is a legal process where a bank or mortgage company can take back your home in order to satisfy your mortgage loan to them. If you fail to make your mortgage payments (including first mortgages, second mortgages, and home equity lines of credit) it can result in a foreclosure. A foreclosure can also be due to non-payment of real estate property taxes. Q. How many payments do I need to miss before I lose my home?

A. After one missed payment on your mortgage, you are in breach of your agreement with your mortgage lender. Although most lenders do not start foreclosure proceedings after only one missed mortgage payment, late charges apply and over time can add up. If you continue to miss your payments it will make it harder for you to catch up. Most lenders will start the foreclosure process after you are three payments behind.

Q. My lender has started foreclosure proceedings. What should I do?

A. Immediately contact an attorney and/or a MSHDA-approved foreclosure prevention counselor in your county. Many Michigan counties have lawyer referral services that can assist you in finding an attorney.

Watch your wallet: Savvy bankers have business tips

BY JULIE BROWN 0&E STAFF WRITER

Douglas Jahner and Crystal Cornwall of Chase Bank know a lot about retail fraud

Jahner, assistant vice president/business banker at a Chase site in Wayne, told Westland Rotarians of customers who get a check in the mail saying they've been hired to be a secret shopper. They're asked to send money via Western Union.

"I think what it preys on is a person who really needs the money," said Jahner, speaking Sept. 18 to the Rotary at the Wayne-Westland Salvation Army. One customer lost $5,000 in such a scam.

You also need to avoid foreign lottery come-ons, the bankers said. "Again people who need the money somehow don't want to believe it's not true," he said of letters saying the recipient has won a foreign lottery.

Another customer took a cashier's check over the amount of sale for a car, and was asked for the difference. "He's out the car," Jahner said.

Cashier's checks are often counterfeited, with sophisticated printers in the hands of criminals. The Chase bankers were asked about time needed for checks to clear. "You have to put it in an account and give it a few days to clear," he said. Cornwall, a Westland John Glenn High School graduate. said some issuing banks have 800 numbers business people can call to verify checks.

Money orders and cashier's checks can have payments stopped, she said.

"There've been a lot of law changes that prevent saying things over the phone," she Jahner had a customer cash an income tax refund check that turned out to be bogus. Cornwall urged the business people to use debit cards, credit cards and even cash.

Jahner said businesses can use a service which provides names of people who've written bad checks in the past. "I'd probably look into TeleCheck," which helps to verify checks, he added.

Local police departments and the Michigan attorney general are sources of help for bad checks issued to businesses. "You take that check, you're taking some risks," he said.

They showed equipment sold inexpensively at office stores, a black light or marker that can help to verify money's legit. The devices can also show if a driver's license is real. "We do that at a bank," he said of verifying licenses.

He also urged businesses to protect their own accounts with online bill paying, as well as payroll services "especially if I have a lot of employees who come and go."

Harlow Tire co-owner Margaret Harlow, who invited the speakers, had praise: "She's always friendly, always helpful," Harlow said of Cornwall.

"I've never seen her down." Other Chase tips are:

■ Scan and reconcile your bank and credit card statements. Immediately report any fraudulent activity.

Lock away all unused checks and identification. ■ Shred (cross-cut) all personal documents. ■ Never give out personal information over the phone.

Review your credit report ■ Carry only what you need.

■ Don't sign blank checks. ■ Cancel credit cards no longer in use. ■ Report lost or stolen credit cards, checks or ATM cards immediately.

■ Never deposit or negotiate strange checks or any other item with which you're unfamiliar. ■ Beware of Internet scams that don't make sense, but which appear to be lucrative for you.

A: You need to get a community association lawyer to ascertain whether or not someone is taking the place of the developer and how to organize your association in order to function even though the developer is no longer involved. You may have recourse against the developer and/or the successor developer if there is one. In any event, you need to ensure that you are operating the association in a proper fashion, including the collection of assessments, etc. The sooner you get good help, the better.

Meisner & Associates will present "Introduction to Successful Condominium Operation," a four-week course, 7-9 p.m. Oct. 7, 14, 21 and 28 at the Bingham Farms office, 30200 Telegraph, Suite 467. The course is for those interested in serving on a board of directors of a condo, co-op or community association, as well as developers and managing agents who are assisting these boards. All attendees will receive a copy of attorney Robert Meisner's booklet, "Condominium Operation: Getting Started and Staying on the Right Track."

Advance registration is required. For registration information, call (800) 470-4433 or e-mail bmeisner@meisner-associates.com.

Checks should be payable to Meisner & Associates, P.C.

Cost is $95 per person, with $85 each for additional attendees from the same association.

BIA

■ Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) will present "Condominium Flexibility: Cleaning Up After The Flood on Friday, Oct. 10, from 8:30 a.m. to noon at Association Headquarters, 30375 Northwestern Highway in Farmington Hills.

The inherent flexibility of the Michigan Condominium Act makes it possible to reposition and reformat existing residential projects. Participants will gain an understanding of the risks and opportunities related to stepping into an existing project.

Topics include: using expansion, contraction and convertability rights to your advantage; developer-retained rights; successor developer liabilities and rights; association administration in the stalled project; and escrow and lien issues peculiar to the Condominium Act.

Speakers for the seminar are Jim Babcock of Babcock Building, Bill Freeman of Freeman Cotton & Gleeson, PLC, Greg J. Gamalski of Giamarco, Mullins & Horton, PC, and Phil Seaver of Seaver Title.

Registration fees are $10 for BIA or Apartment Association of Michigan members and $25 for guests.

For registration information, call (248) 862-1033 or register online at www.builders.org.

■ Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) will present Green Built™ Training on Wednesday, Oct. 15, from 9 a.m. to noon at Association Headquarters, 30375 Northwestern Highway, in Farmington Hills.

Chris Pratt of Wake-Pratt Construction will discuss building with materials and methods that result in Green Built™ certification. Building Green offers a change from selling cost per square foot to making an environmental statement. Topics in this training include building more energy-efficient, more durable and more environmentally sustainable homes with emphasis on indoor air quality and low impact development.

This course is required for all builder members of Green Built™ Michigan. Cost for the training is $65 per person. For registration information, call (248) 862-1033 or register online at www.builders.org.

■ Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) will sponsor a Certified Graduate Course, Business Accounting & Job Costs on Tuesday, Oct. 14. The course will be held from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at BIA headquarters, 30375 Northwestern Highway, Suite 100, in Farmington

Chuck Breidenstein, CAPS, of Builders Professional Services Group will present how a good foundation in the basics of finance is vital for sustaining growth and profitability in conducting a business. The course provides an explanation of basic accounting terms, job cost analysis, financial reporting and other controls needed to manage a small business. Successful completion of this course meets a requirement for the Certified Graduate Associate, Certified Graduate Builder and Certified Graduate Remodeler designations. This course counts toward pre-licensure and continuing education competency for the State of Michigan.

Registration fees are $155 for National Association of Home Builder Remodelor members, $175 for BIA or Apartment Association of Michigan members and $200 for guests.

For registration information, call (248) 862-1033 or register online at www.builders.org.

■ Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) and its NAHBR Professional Remodelers Council (NAHBR) will present a seminar on Avoiding the Top 5 Legal Mistakes Remodelers Make, at BIA headquarters, 30375 Northwestern Highway, Suite 100, in Farmington Hills on Wednesday, Oct. 15, from 6-8 p.m.

Ken Neuman of Neuman Anderson, PC will answer these questions: When do you sue? When do you settle? How does the Lien Act help you get paid? How is the contractor accountable?

Registration fees, including dinner, are $35 for NAHBR members, BIA members and guests. For registration information, call (248) 862-1008 or register online at www. builders.org.

■ The Sales and Marketing Council (SMC) of the Building Industry Association of Southeastern Michigan (BIA) will present a two-day Certified Sales Professional (CSP) and Master Certified Sales Professional (MCSP) course "House Construction as a Selling Tool" on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 22-23. Each class will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Association Offices. 30375 Northwestern Highway, Suite 100, in Farmington Hills. The course gives the student credit toward CSP and Master CSP designations. This course counts toward pre-licensure and continuing education competency for the State of Michigan.

The professional-level course is designed for specialists in new home sales. Participants gain a broad understanding of the home building business, discuss consumer psychology, and learn advanced techniques used by real estate veterans for greeting, closing, and overcoming objections. Also included is an overview of the construction process, financial and legal aspects, and customer service.

Registration fees are $300 for SMC members, $350 for BIA members and $400 for guests. For registration information, call (248) 862-1033 or register online at www. builders.org.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Fun By The

Level: Beginne

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Travis Walters discusses some of the surprising elements of Meadow Brook's opening play, the chiller 'Murder By Poe,' while showing a model of the set.

Beginning next week, Livonia native and actress Kelly Komlen will don the thick petticoats of The Woman in White, the lead character in Meadow Brook Theatre's chilling season opener, Murder By Poe. The show, a period piece that links the characters of author Edgar Allan Poe's stories with his own life, drew Komlen's interest from the start. It is set in the 1840s and filled with intrigue.

"At the beginning of the play we meet the Woman in White when she is lost in the woods," said Komlen. "She happens upon a house." But rather th the shelter she sought, she is swept into an unraveling mystery and encounters ghostly beings and some of Poe's famous characters — who all seem to be part of the house itself.

Komlen said she was familiar with the playwright, Jeffrey Hatcher, but this work was new to her prior to the audition. "When I first read it, it seemed very easy and straightforward," she said.

The complexities began to show during rehearsals over the past few months. Since the audience will experience this story in much the same way as her character does, some of the most crucial scenes require Komlen to "stand still and be present," which she said is much more difficult than it might sound. "I'm really excited about it," she said.

That goes double for Director Travis Walter, who also serves as artistic administrator for the Meadow Brook Theater itself.

Sara Catheryn Wolf is among the cast members in 'Murder By Poe.'

Patrick O'Connor Cronin, of Bloomfield Township, appears in 'Murder By Poe.'

An Oakland University graduate, he's worked for the theatre since 2002 and was recently promoted to his position. He handles everything from actor contracts to group sales and promotion. Last winter while he and fellow board members began sifting through musicals, plays, comedies and dramas to choose a suitable set for the 2008-09 season, his passion for this particular show was noted and he was asked to direct it.

The play delves into classic haunting stories like The Fall of the House of Usher, The Black Cat, The Tell-Tale Heart and characters like his Detective C.

Find cheap thrills in city of Livonia

BY LANA MINI

Times are tough but that doesn't mean we can't go out on the town. In fact during these rough days, we need to relax.

Filter is here to find inexpensive entertainment, for all ages, in your community.

Today, the focus is in the city of Livonia.

Enjoy award-winning foreign and classic films and art exhibits for free; play Euchre for $5; dance to '80s cover bands for the price of onion rings; see comedians for $5 and catch the Dancing with the Stars craze for $6.

Yes, all in Livonia. Every Saturday, since 1975, crowds get dressed up and gather at the Livonia Civic Park Senior Center to mambo, tango, chacha, fox trot, swing, polka and Merengue with the Moon Dusters Ballroom Dance Club.

Anyone can come to mingle with the 175-plus people who dance to live swing bands every Saturday.

"You don't need a dance partner either," said Moon Dusters' president Joe Castrodale.

siders "date style" clothing. Jackets and ties required for men. The $6 admission fee goes to cancer research, veterans groups and other charitable events. This Saturday, Oct. 4, respected musicians Walt Lipiec and his band perform.

"We have people from ages 31 to 95," Castrodale said. "And if you're over 90, get in for free."

Don't know how to dance? Don't worry. There are 90-minute lessons available that night too.

Or, on the third Monday of every month, the Livonia Civic Center Library hosts free movie night in its auditorium. October 20 is the award-winning film Ben X, in Belgian with English subtitles.

"Our movie nights are growing in popularity every month," said Carol Guerriero, Livonia's video librarian.

It gives people a chance to view movies on the big screen that they may not normally see.

"Most of the films are ones that have played at the (independent)

Farmington Hills' Hay Day is good, old-fashioned fun

BY LANA MINI STAFF WRITER

Don't you just need a break from the chaos?

Turn thoughts of bailout into hay bales at the Farmington Hills annual Hay Day in Heritage Park from 5-8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 7.

Bryan Farmer of Farmington's Recreation Division expects up to 4,000 people to come for a giant marshmallow roast in the area's largest campfire. And there's a hayride, fall treats like cider and apples, and a paint-a-pumpkin party. "It's very much an old-fashioned kind of day," Farmer said. "It's perfect to enjoy the fall color change." Families can also get inside looks at a fire engine, create crafts, walk the trails and make s'mores.

In the past nine years, 18,000 people have attended the event.

It's located at Heritage Park between 10 and 11 mile roads. Attendance is free and includes the rides and marshmallows but there are fees for hot dogs, apples, s'mores and pumpkins.

For more information, call (248) 473-1800.

Local band Murrow's Boys focuses on social issues

STAFF WRITER

The setting: Outside it's a paved area with tables and chairs surrounded by bright pumpkins and colorful mums.

Inside, there are fresh flowers, tangerine and blue walls, wireless Internet, sofas, cozy tables and chairs and the scent of coffee in the air.

The sound: This Saturday, on the intimate stage of the friendly, independently-owned Plymouth Coffee Bean is well-composed, well-honed music by a trio of seasoned, local musicians named Murrow's Boys.

The band performs a listenable blend of catchy folk, blues, rock and intelligent yet grooving Americana.

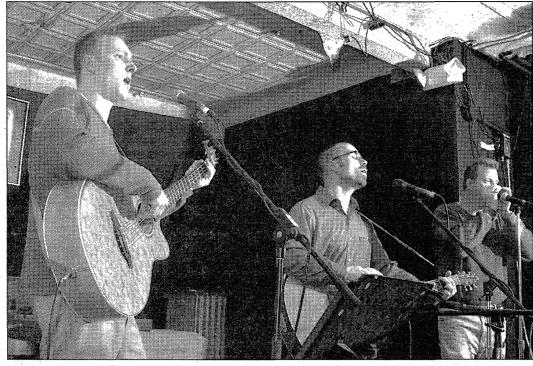

Livonia resident James Murphy plays guitar and bass.

Ken Marten of Hamtramck helps set the mood with his bluesy harmonica and occasional percussion. Brother Greg Marten plays guitar, bass and mandolin. (Greg Marten and Murphy both sing).

Murrow's Boys call themselves observers - and Ken Marten is the perfect example. He's both a journalist and co-songwriter. Their music focuses on social commentary, topics you don't always expect to hear in While many bands of their genre focus on subjects like love and romance, Murrow's Boys sing about the ups-and-downs of casinos in their hometown, for example. The song Friday Hero is about the aging guy who can't let go of his school years when he was the Friday night football star. The song TV Land is about the phony perfection created in 1950s sitcoms, where broken homes and marriages were never shown.

'That song talks about how those images effect the American psyche," Ken Marten

Murrow's Boys write songs that aren't preachy or high-brow.

They welcome newcomers to their CD release party at the Coffee Bean. Admission is free but their new, self-titled 14-track CD will be for sale.

THEIR HISTORY

The trio, all with strong musical backgrounds, are equals in the music-making process of Murrow's Boys.

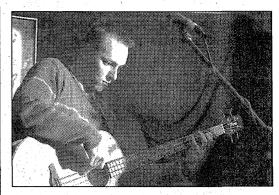

"Lyrics are usually written by just one of us, but all three contribute to creating the music that surrounds and enhances the story," Murphy said. "We enjoy the creative process which is fairly unique with ideas coming from three different angles."

The band formed two years ago, but all the musicians have played music for decades.

"Ken and I have been making music together on and off for more than 20 years, going back to our high school rock band days," brother Greg Marten said. "We know each other's musical signature real well, and we were fortunate to find James, who fit right in with us."

Murrow's Boys is not a band expecting to make it big in the music world. They all have careers by day. Yet that doesn't mean

James Murphy strums his guitar with Murrow's Boys.

Trinity House season packed with big names

BY LANA MINI STAFF WRITER

Professional musician Billy Brandt, of Ferndale, speaks of Livonia's Trinity House almost in a spiritual manner.

Many musicians do. The intimate, 87-seat theater is a favorite venue for many musicians — even for those who can play to larger crowds. "It's almost like a big living room with stained glass windows," said Brandt, of the band Grievous Angel. "It's kind of church-like. You can reach out and touch the hands of folks in the front

Trinity House is where music lovers gather; and that's why musicians love it. The audience knows why they are there," Brandt said. "They have come to listen to everything you are laying down — from the music, to the stories about the music - to share the inside jokes that your bandmates pass quietly between each other.

"Slowly over the length of a set, you and your partners (the audience) develop a intuitive bond that strengthens as the evening continues. It's always supportive, leaving both you and the audience transformed. And when they leave they thank you. How cool it that?"

Brandt's Grievous Angel plays at Trinity House on Friday, Oct. 24. (He also performs at Royal Oak's Memphis Smoke on Sunday, Auguste Dupin. "Edgar Allan Poe is the father of detective fiction, said Walter. "Without him we wouldn't have CSI."

Patrick O'Connor Cronin, an actor hailing from Bloomfield Township, finds himself returning to the Rochester Hills stage in this show. He first appeared at Meadow Brook last year as the young Scrooge in the annual production of A Christmas Carol. Like many of his castmates he'll take on multiple roles in Murder By Poe, from a police officer to a tortured man. He said audiences can expect to experience a story within a story, a play with multiple layers. He's worked with most of his castmates on previous projects. "We are just having a great time," he said during a Sept. 24 rehearsal.

Sara Catheryn Wolf can attest to that. The St. Clair Shoresbased actress portrays four different characters in Murder By Poe and for her it's a chance to bring to the stage the stories crafted by an author she reveres. "I became interested in Poe at the age of 12 when my father gave me a book and told me to read The Tell-Tale Heart," said Wolf. She found the stories fascinating and frightening and looks forward to bringing their element of surprise to the Komlen, a Dearborn Heights resident, commended her fellow cast members. "They're scaring me, which is what they're supposed to be doing," she said. "It's a testament to their talent. They're helping me. They're drawing me in. It's a great cast."

Audiences should brace for the unexpected. The set may appear simple, but this is the sort of play where things are not always what they seem.

Cronin called the set itself "a puzzle box." And Wolf noted that a comprehensive knowledge of Poe's works won't be necessary for audience members. "I think people are going to be surprised," said Wolf. She said those familiar with Poe's writing will have an appreciation for it and those not as familiar will "still find it excit-

"There are no pre-requisites," she said. "It's not necessary for anyone to read up on it."

To augment the experience, Meadow Brook Theatre will trace Poe's personal history and feature synopses of his works on public display along the theater's entrance. It's just a touch of something extra that Walter hopes will enhance the entire experience. "We always say the audience is the final character," he said.

Meadow Brook's season line-up

BY STEPHANIE ANGELYN CASOLA 0&E STAFF WRITER

Meadow Brook Theatre is poised for a break-out year. With a season filled with premieres, marquee names like Joanna Cassidy and returning stars like Cindy Williams, the independent theater on Oakland University's campus is ready to fill its seats.

"We are Michigan's largest producing professional theater," said Travis Walter, artistic administrator. He admits Meadow Brook has long held a reputation as Rochester Hills' "best-kept secret," but said, "We don't want it to be a secret any longer."

Since 1966 the local stage has welcomed the likes of Robert "Freddy Krueger" Englund, William Hurt and Curtis Armstrong. For the 2008-2009 season, its fresh roster ranges from farcical comedies to serious dramas, Christmas traditions past and present and a spook in time for Halloween.

It all begins this month with Murder By Poe, a 90-minute mystery ride directed by Walter himself (see related story). An Oakland University graduate and Sterling Heights resident, Walter has worked for Meadow Brook for the past 6 years. His recent promotion to finds him in a varied role. He has worked his way up from an intern to group sales and beyond, always valuing the experience. "Who doesn't dream of having a theater and running one?" he said. "If you are an actor, that's what you dream."

Walter was putting the finishing touches on Murder By Poe when FILTER visited Sept. 24. He was delicately balancing his full time work for the theater with his directing duties for the opening show. Still his energy seemed contagious. "This season is so exciting," said Walter. "Our audiences have never seen shows like these before. We've got something for everyone." The rest of Meadow Brook

Theatre's season is as follows: A Christmas Carol: Though it's not included in the season ticket package, Charles Dickens' classic, adapted and directed by Charles Nolte, runs Nov. 28-Dec. 21. In this the 27th year, Joe Reed will portray everyone's favorite Bah humbug, Ebenezer Scrooge.

Beyond the Rainbow: The Michigan premiere of William Randall Beard's tale about the life and rise of Judy Garland, runs Jan. 7-Feb. 1. Listen for songs pulled straight from her much-touted 1961 Carnegie Hall performance, like The Trolley Song, Stormy Weather and, Over the Rainbow.

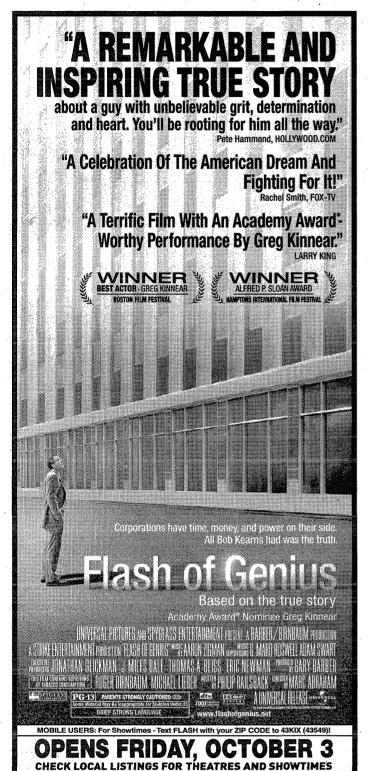

Kong's Night Out: Actress Cindy Williams drops the habit but returns after a successful run last season in Nunsense. This story, a farce written and directed by Jack Neary, finds theater producer Myron Siegel in a pinch as his show Foxy Felicia is failing due to the popularity of his arch enemy, Carl Denham's, secret Ape-traction. Characters are borrowed from the film classic King Kong. The show also stars Eddie Mekka (Carmine Ragusa of Laverne & Shirley fame), Kady Zadora Riklis (daughter of Pia Zadora) and Christo Savalas (son of Telly Savalas). This show runs Feb. 11-March 8.

The Trip to Bountiful: This Horton Foote drama marks the return of Meadow Brook Theatre veteran, Mary Benson, and actress Joanna Cassidy, known for memorable roles in Boston Legal and Six Feet Under.

By Jeeves: With music by Andrew Lloyd Webber and book and lyrics by Alan Ayckbourn, this final season package show deals with mistaken identity, forbidden love and more, as it follows a day in the life of Bertie Wooster and his servant and stars David Edwards who played this role on Broadway. It runs April 22 through May 17.

Nunsense 2: The Second Coming: Call it a bonus. Creator Dan Goggin, a Michigan native, brings back his popular series about the Little Sisters of Hoboken. The show runs May 27-June 14 and stars Marcia Wallace of The Bob Newhart Show.

Single tickets and subscriptions are now on sale for the season. Subscriptions range from $104 to $166, and allow ticketholders priority seating, and a 20 percent discount on additional tickets, as well as pre-sale tickets for A Christmas Carol and Nunsense 2: The Second Coming. # New Commerce restaurant and bar is worth the trip

BY WENSDY VON BUSKIRK O&E STAFF WRITER

At Uptown Grille in Commerce Township, all-American food gets "a healthy twist."

According to co-owner Joseph Hibbert, locally-grown, organic produce and meats are a priority at the new dining hot spot.

"The meat is all natural, no hormones, no antibiotics. All the fish is wild as opposed to farm raised. We use a lot of Michigan produce while it's available," Hibbert said. "All the sauces and dressings, the pizza dough, everything is made from scratch. Great Harvest Bread Company, they make all the bread for us and deliver it every day."

Hibbert grew up in Canada, and has worked in restaurants all his life, holding positions from dishwasher to general manager. About five years ago he moved to Canton, where he met his business partner, Ryan Adams, of Farmington Hills.

Adams, whose parents own Zerbo's Health Foods in Livonia, was raised in a nutrition-conscious household and, like Hibbert, always dreamed of opening a healthy, upscale restaurant. Hibbert and Adams found a location in the former Elephant Bar, and spared no expense converting it to the Uptown Grille.

Whether you're looking for a good meal or a great time, the 14,000-square-foot establishment can deliver. One half is devoted to the restaurant, where lunch and dinner are served with a gourmet flair. The other half is a bar complete with 16 plasma screen televisions, a stage and dance floor.

We wanted a pretty casual family atmosphere in the restaurant, which is why we have a separate bar, to fulfill as many needs as possible for our clientele," said

The menu offers appetizers like Crab Stuffed Mushrooms, Calamari Steaks, Riblets and Roasted Red Pepper Hummus.

Entrees include a variety of salads and a wide selection of Italian dishes, with meat and vegetarian lasagna drawing rave

The Michigan Chicken Salad ($8.95) is field greens, rotisserie chicken, dried cherries, tomatoes, crumbled gorgonzola and candied walnuts tossed with cherry vinaigrette.

The Politics of Fashion

Plymouth exhibit highlights first lady fashion

BY, WENSDY VON BUSKIRK O&F STAFF WRITER

As election season heats up, citizens are talking about more than hot-button issues. From Sarah Palin's eyeglasses and Michelle Obama's distaste for pantyhose, to Cindy McCain's colorful skirt suits and Hillary Clinton's haircuts, people are discussing the politics of fashion.

According to an exhibit currently on display at the Plymouth Historical Museum, the fascination is nothing new.

"Inaugural Gowns of the First Ladies," open through Nov. 5, shows society has always been interested in what White House women were wearing.

From Martha Washington to Laura Bush, all of history's first ladies are represented in the exhibit. Displays feature a vast collection of first lady dolls, along with photographs and short histories of each first lady's life and style.

Highlighting the exhibit are 15 replicas of inaugural gowns on mannequins. The gowns were recreated in 1971, when Joan Deer of Birmingham launched the project as a fundraiser for the Republican Party.

Deer enlisted the help of late Frankenmuth designers Don Nagel and David Zeese, who visited the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C.

This Jacqueline Kennedy doll is one of many featured at the exhibit "Inaugural Gowns of the First Ladies."

to view the authentic first lady gowns displayed there. Based on their sketches and extensive research into fabrics, Margaret Remindino of Birmingham and Juan Horrax of Detroit then sewed the garments.

After the exhibit toured the nation, the GOP put the dresses up for auction. The Deers acquired many of them, which they donated to the Frankenmuth Historical Museum.

The PHM rents the collection every four years to coincide with presidential elections.

The garments date back to a ribbon brocade dress of the kind Washington might have worn had there been an inauguration ceremony for her husband, George, to the wool coat dress Rosalynn Carter famously purchased 'off the rack.'

In between are two yellow dresses with matching coats that reflect the change from bustles and ball gowns to slimmer silhouettes. One, made from 15 yards of fabric embroidered with 1,500 flowers, was worn by Dolley Madison in

The other, a sleek designer set trimmed with brown sable, was donned by Lady Bird Johnson in 1963.

The evolution of style offers insight into the changing role of the first lady.

According to PHM's Executive Director Elizabeth Kelley Kerstens, the duties of first lady started out as strictly

"It was a hostess job, essentially. They would set up dinners and entertain guests to the White House," she said.

"Today, they've become advocates, like Laura Bush, who was a librarian, promoting literacy. They pick a cause to stand behind so they have something meaningful to add."

FIRST LADY FASHION FACTS

- Two months before the inauguration of Franklin Pierce, he and his wife lost their son. Jane Pierce (1806-1863) wore black mourning clothes every day for the rest of her life.
- Mary Lincoln (1818-1882) was criticized for lavish entertaining during the Civil War.
- The dress Abigail Fillmore (1798-1853) wore to her husband's inauguration was the first to be sewn with a machine.
- The poor health of Ida McKinley (1847-1907) confined her to bed during her husband's pregnancy, where she knitted slippers that were auctioned for charity.
- The flashy style of Grace Coolidge (1879-1957), one of the White House's all-time favorite hostesses, is reflected in her red velvet inauguration dress, cinched with a wide silver belt.
- Lou Henry Hoover (1874-1944) and her husband, Herbert, used their own funds to entertain guests in the White House during the Depression.
- After becoming first lady, Bess Truman (1885-1982) continued to visit the same salon for her weekly $3 manicure, shampoo and set, though she arrived via chauffered limo.

- Mamie Eisenhower (1896-1979) was so often seen in her favorite color that a paint company created "First Lady Pink." Her hairstyle, a bob with short bangs, was frequently copied.
- Jacqueline Kennedy's (1929-1994) fashions - including the pillbox hat she wore to her husband's swearing-in ceremony - were emulated more than any other first

- "Pat" Nixon (1912-1993) was the first president's wife to wear pants in public.
- Rosalynn Carter (1927-) was the first to buy her inauguration dress "off the rack," to demonstrate her budget-conscious values.
