Honor father

What was the most important thing your father ever taught you? Tell us in 100 words or fewer and include a photo of vourself and vour Dad. We will publish as many tributes as we can on Father's Day.

Dad or child or both must live in Plymouth.

Include your name and city and your father's name and city. Include the year photo was taken.

E-mail to bkadrich@ hometownlife.com or mail to Brad Kadrich, Plymouth Observer, 615 W. Lafayette, Second Level, Detroit MI 48226. E-mailed photos must be in JPEG format. Call (313) 222-8899 for questions.

Can drive

The Fiegel Elementary School PTO conducts a can drive 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday, June 8, to raise much-needed funds for next year's activities and supplies for the classroom.

Due to the embezzlement charges that were recently brought upon former members, the PTO had to make some major cuts in the budget for next year. The can drive will be at 39750 Joy Road in Plymouth, between Haggerty and Hix.

Any questions, please contact Kristina Wing at kmwing@wowwav.com or Andrea Chaparo at aychaparro@yahoo.com.

Clerical honor

Maureen Brodie, deputy city clerk/executive assistant to Plymouth City Manager Paul Sincock, recently completed the requirements to earn the Certified Municipal Clerk designation. Brodie joins City Clerk Linda Langmesser, who previously earned the CMC designation and is working on her Masters Clerk certification designation.

The International Institute of Municipal Clerks grants the designation to municipal clerks who complete demanding education requirements, and who have a record of significant contributions to their local government, their community and state.

"The city is very proud of our employees and to now have two Certified Municipal Clerks on our staff speaks volumes about our employees' commitment to our residents," Mayor Phil Pursell said.

Plymouth OKs $7.6 million budget

BY MATT JACHMAN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Amid talk of increasingly difficult economic times ahead, the Plymouth City Commission on Monday approved a $7.6 million general-fund spending plan for the next fiscal year.

Officials say the new budget, which totals I percent less than the plan passed a year ago despite cost increases in some areas, represents a continuation of budget-cutting that began years ago. But that may not be enough. Revenue from the state has been cut since Plymouth's budget was proposed and is likely to drop further, and falling property values are expected to cut into tax revenue.

"I anticipate we'll have to make more cuts as the year goes on," said Mayor Phil Pursell on Wednesday.

Pursell credited the city administration with delivering services even as some expenses have been cut. He said City Manager Paul Sincock and Finance Director Mark Christiansen keep a close watch on the shifting financial picture.

"Hopefully we'll continue to deliver the great services the residents have come to expect," he said.

The plan cuts spending in some areas, including administration, buildings and grounds and public works. Spending for the police department (nearly $3 million) and emergency fire and medical service (just over $1 million) is going up.

Plymouth has 41 full-time employees and a number of part-timers. The full-time-equivalent workforce is expected to be 59 at the start of the budget year, Wednesday, July 1. That's down from a recent high of 73.

The general fund represents roughly half of the city's annual spending. The second-biggest fund is the $3.9 million water and sewer fund, supported through the fees charged to residential and commercial water users. Officials do not plan to raise water or sewer rates for the coming year.

YOUNG HERO

Vinnie Jean, at left, saved the life of his friend, Brendan Randolph, when Brendan suffered a seizure while both were swimming in a pool.

In his second rescue, Plymouth boy pulls friend from pool

Vinnie Jean has now saved two lives, having already helped out with a Heimlich maneuver

BY MATT JACHMAN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

A 9-year-old boy's inner voice and quick actions recently saved the life of a friend in a backyard pool in Plymouth.

Vinnie Jean, a student at Smith Elementary, pulled Brendan Randolph from the pool on Memorial Day weekend after Brendan passed out. Parents standing alongside the pool noticed and began trying to revive Brendan and called for an ambulance.

Brendan, a 9-year-old who attends Bird Elementary and lives with his family in Plymouth Township, has a history of seizures and apparently had one in the pool, said his mother, Joanne Randolph.

The rescue took place in the pool at Vinnie's house on Byron Street, where he lives with parents Lisa and Phil and a brother,

Vinnie, Brendan and four other children had been playing in the pool when, Vinnie said, he noticed Brendan was face-down in the water. He looked again a few seconds later and, he later told his mother, he knew something was wrong.

"I saw his head kind of laying on his shoulder," after turning him over, Vinnie said. He began slapping Brendan, who didn't respond, he said. "I carried him up the steps, outside the pool." Chris Randolph saw the boys,

Pursell bows out after 2 city terms

BY MATT JACHMAN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The term-limiting of Phil Pursell has been greatly exaggerated.

Contrary to a story in the May 28 Plumouth Observer, Pursell, Plymouth's current mayor and a City Commission member for nearly eight years, is not prohibited by term limits from seeking re-election. His second term ends in November; six people, including three incumbents, are running for four commission Pursell said he's bowing out of a re-election bid because he wants to spend more time with his family and with his business, Main Street Auto Wash. He and wife Paula have two daughters, both in college.

"I've had my turn at the wheel and I've enjoyed my time," he said. "I've made a lot of friends."

Pursell said he entered the 2001 commission race during a crazy time in city politics, but that leaders have pulled together since then to work cooperatively. He called local government "the trenches" — a place where, when people come to officials with problems, the offi-

Plymouth Mayor Phil Pursell, here with Plymouth resident and Detroit Red Wing goalie Chris Osgood, decided not to seek another term on the city commission.

Pursell, whose father is former U.S. Congressman Carl Pursell, said he's likely shutting the door on a return to local politics.

"I think it's just time for me personally to go," he said. "Get some fresh faces in there with some fresh ideas."

and he and Phil Jean started trying to revive Brendan while Lisa Jean dialed 9-1-1.

When a paramedic picked Brendan up, water gushed out of his mouth, his mother said. He had turned blue and was groggy, she said, and wasn't alert until he reached the emergency room at St. Mary Mercy Hospital in Livonia. He was quickly transferred to Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, where he spent two days.

Vinnie wears his hero status as lightly as he wears his big smile. "Good," he said when asked Tuesday how he feels about his heroism.

Brendan, asked how he views his rescuer, turned toward Vinnie and answered with a wide smile of his own.

It wasn't Vinnie's first rescue: A couple of months ago, he successfully used the Heimlich maneuver to dislodge a bite of pizza from a friend who was choking on it. His mother says she's

"I pick out their clothes in the morning, and this kid has already saved two lives in three months," Lisa Jean said. For her and a grateful Joanne Randolph, the incident was a lesson in the importance of vigilance, in how quickly normalcy can slide toward tragedy.

"You can't be reminded enough of how quickly something can happen," Joanne Randolph said.

The Randolphs have had a plaque made to recognize Vinnie; they were to present him with it on Wednesday in front of Vinnie's baseball team.

"He's always looking out for others," Joanne Randolph said. "He's a good kid. He's a great kid."

Plymouth Relay for Life has cancer fighters on the move

BY JULIE BROWN OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The Plymouth Relay for Life isn't a solemn occasion, even though participants are fighting the good fight against Katie Brennan, community representative for the American Cancer Society, which receives Relay proceeds, is looking forward to the June 13-14 event.

"I'm very confident," she said. "We have a tremendous committee of people this year." Organizers are dedicating a lot of time and effort. Brian Waskiewicz is chairman, Laura Compton vice chair.

The third annual Relay for Life will be 10 a.m. Saturday, June 13, to 10 a.m. Sunday, June 14, at Central Middle School, Main and Church streets in downtown Plymouth. "It's growing tremendously this year," Brennan said. "Every year, it has grown." Organizers hope to reach the goal of 30 teams, and recommend 10-15 people per team, but that's up to the team captain. That's about 250-300 people, Brennan said, plus public attendees.

Observer & Eccentric | Thursday, June 4, 2009

"I'm just really proud of the Plymouth community." Compton said. "We're getting tremendous support. The growth is just incredible. With good weather, I think it will be a great event."

Last year's event raised just under $50,000, with this year's goal beyond that. Compton will walk with the Walking for Life team. She is a five-year survivor of breast cancer.

"I really Relay because my dad lost his fight to cancer.' She and others, including a team member who also lost a loved one to the disease, hope to raise money and awareness "and eventually people won't have to go through what our families went through."

A goal is to bring survivors together, "and hopefully build that every year," said Compton, whose dad had colon cancer. She's a Ford Motor Co. retiree who enjoys volunteering. "I have the time I can give to the community, and I thought this was a good way," the Salem Township resident said.

There will be a 10 a.m. opening ceremony, followed by a 10:30-10:45 a.m. survivor lap.

Leo's Coney Island is donating food for a meal for cancer survivors.

The event will include information on cancer prevention, as well as networking for survivors available through the ACS. "It is actually international now," Brennan said of the Relay for Life.

The event started in the early 1980s by a doctor, Gordon Klatt, in Washington state. "He actually started the Relay himself by raising money for his local American Cancer Society," Brennan said.

There are now some 5,000 Relays nationwide, plus those in other countries. Participants walk on a track all 24 hours, taking turns. "The reason we ask that is to symbolize the fact that cancer never sleeps.' Brennan said.

"Most people are good about doing that. They understand the purpose." The aim is to have a presence from each team all night. "It's actually amazing people will be up and walking at 3 in the morning," Brennan said.

Saturday around 9 or so, there's a luminaria ceremony. "We basically light up the track with decorated bags" holding candles. That's done to remember those who've lost battle, as well as honor those fighting cancer now.

"It's kind of designed around a memorial service," Brennan

The hard-working Plymouth Relay volunteers are considering an alternate location for future Relays, although the school district has been helpful with the Central Middle School site.

It would be nice to outgrow that location "to accommodate the massive amounts of people that want to help," Brennan

You can learn more about the Plymouth Relay for Life at the Web site www.relayforlife. org/plymouthmi. You can call Brennan at (248) 663-3436 or (248) 251-3733 for further information. Brennan, who grew up in Royal Oak, didn't really know the west side. "I call it my little hidden treasure because people there are so amazing," the Rochester resident said. "I was just so taken aback by the wonderful community spirit."

"It's hard to fine someone who hasn't been touched somehow," added Compton of cancer. "It touches people's hearts. It's not too hard to ask people to get involved. They step up and get involved."

Organizers will also have a charity golf outing Saturday, June 6, to support the Relay at Fox Hills Country Club.

Off-duty police officer nabs 2 in wheel-cap thefts

Two Detroiters suspected of taking wheel caps from cars in the parking lot of Compuware Arena on Sunday were detained by an off-duty Southfield police officer and arrested on theft charges by Plymouth Township police.

Officers were dispatched to the arena, on Beck Road near Five Mile, about 2:30 p.m., a township police report said. The Southfield officer told them he had seen a man removing wheel caps from a

Taillight a tipoff

A Plymouth Township man was arrested on multiple charges and an outstanding warrant Sunday evening after a township officer noticed a nonworking taillight on the car he was driving.

The officer first spotted the Pontiac Sunfire heading east on Ann Arbor Road east of I-275, a police report said. The driver got onto southbound I-275, and the officer stopped him near Joy Road, police said.

The officer discovered the driver's license was suspended and that there was an outstanding warrant for him, police said.

The suspect told the officer that he was a heroin addict and that there was a hypodermic needle in the car. The officer found it, along with an open bottle of beer and rolling papers, police said.

The man was arrested on the warrant and on charges of possessing drug paraphernalia, having an open container of alcohol in his car and driving on a suspended license.

Garage burglary

Power tools, 18-volt batteries and a flashlight were reported stolen from the garage of a house on Gilbert after a recent burglary.

The victim told police the burglary occurred between May 16 and Sunday, when he discovered it. It was not reported whether the garage had been locked or how the burglar or burglars got into it.

Pickup break-in

Baseball and softball gear and tools were reported stolen from a pickup truck parked on Lakewood after a break-in that occurred early on May 24.

The General Motors Sierra was parked in the driveway of the victim's house at the time, a police report said. The rear window of the truck's cap had been broken.

The victim told police the break-in occurred between midnight and 6 a.m.

Police keep eyes out for peeper

Police in Plymouth Township are looking for a nighttime window-peeper who may have struck twice at a house in the Lake Pointe subdivision.

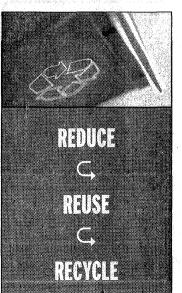

The most recent incident occurred the night of May 21, when a neighbor reported spotting a man on a ladder at the window of a second-floor bedroom where a 17-year-old girl slept, said Police Chief Tom Tiderington.

Police were called, but the peeper had fled by the time an officer arrived. The man was described only as white and in his mid- to late 20s.

One night in April, at the same house, a woman spotted a man of a similar description peering in to a window, Tiderington said. The man

CHAMBER CHAT

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce presents multiple ways to get involved when it presents its annual Golf Outing Monday, July 13, at Northville Hills.

Sponsored by Victory Honda of Plymouth, this is a first class day of golf for a first class community. The golfing package you receive is one of the most complete and enjoyable you will have at any outing this year. The package includes lunch, refreshments on the course, cocktails/ beer and dinner. Foursomes also receive a tee sign, sponsor recognition and one free raffle ticket.

Add to this package the free golf clinic, plus spending the day with many fellow Plymouth Community Chamber members and you will see why this is one of the best outings in our area.

Sponsorships, silent raffle donations and gift bag items are all available.

There are other ways you can showcase your business if you are not golfing in this year's outing by being a sponsor, donating a silent auction item or providing items for the golf-'ers' gift bags.

For more information about golfing or making a contribution, please call (734) 453-1540 or e-mail wes@plymouthmich.

Parade walk

As members you, your family and friends can walk in the Fourth of July Parade in Downtown Plymouth with the Chamber. We will be promoting the "Plymouth Rocks" community marketing theme at the parade. We ask that those who participate to wear a black Tshirt or purchase a "Plymouth Rocks" T-shirt for just $8.

The parade starts at 7:30 a.m., making the Plymouth Community famous for having the first parade of the day in the United States each year. For those early risers that want to participate you must be at the parade site by 6:30 a.m. While you do have to wipe the sleep out of your eyes, the early start time does give you the rest of the day to enjoy the holiday with friends and family.

If you are interested in walking in the parade, please contact the Chamber at (734) 453-1540 or e-mail wes@ plymouthmich.org.

Community map

New maps of the community have arrived. Members are welcome to use copies of the maps for their own purposes, such as customer give-a-ways, setting them out in their place of work for others to take or for new employees. Please stop by the Chamber office to pick up as many maps as you would like to use.

Web Site of the Week:

Coldwell Banker Preferred To help members see other web sites in the community and get ideas they could use for their own sites, we will feature a different member's site each week. This week we are featuring the web site from Coldwell Banker Preferred: www.cbpreferred.com.

Karmann taps PR firm

Karmann USA, a leading supplier of automotive convertible tops, has selected AutoCom Associates as its public relations agency of record in North America.

Founded in 1996, Karmann USA is based in Plymouth Township, and is a subsidiary of the Karmann Group. The world's leading Tier-1 supplier of convertible tops, the Karmann Group also has served as the contract manufacturer of several complete vehicles, including the VW Karmann Ghia, the VW Beetle convertible and the Mercedes-Benz CLK convertible.

At its Plymouth Township campus, Karmann USA employs more than 300 people. In addition to the manufacture of convertible roof-top systems, Karmann USA provides OEMs with world class engineering solutions and recently launched a new aftermarket unit -- Karmann Classics - a convertible top restoration service for Karmann Ghias and classic VWs

Additional information on Karmann USA can be found at www.karmann.

Based in suburban Detroit, AutoCom Associates provides public relations services and counseling to automotive and high-technology businesses on a global basis.

In addition to Karmann USA

AutoCom clients include: Behr America, Coherix, Eberspaecher, ecarlist, Eview 360, Gibbs Technologies, GKN Driveline, Hella KGaA Hueck & Co., Icom, Intermap, InterRegs, Lear Corporation, Thetford Corporation and Trubiquity. The agency also represents economic development entities such as, the Stuttgart (Germany) Regional Economic Development Corporation and the Wallonia (Belgium) Office for Foreign Investors.

Our fundamental purposes are to enhance the lives of our readers, nurture the hometowns we serve and contribute to the business success of our customers.

OUR VIEWS

Observer still here, but we need you, too

As many may have heard, the Observer & Eccentric closed its West Bloomfield, Troy, Rochester, Southfield and Mirror newspapers, with their final publication on May 31.

The Birmingham Eccentric was also on that list, but was revived to a once-a-week paper, after a groundswell of community support and pledges to boost subscriptions and advertising for that edition. It remains a "wait and see" proposition, but the company is willing to give it a try.

A South Oakland Eccentric paper will cover Southfield, Royal Oak, Ferndale and other southcentral Oakland County communities. The paper will be published on Sunday.

Many people are shocked and dismayed by the loss of the local papers. Many readers of the Plymouth and Canton Observers have expressed relief that their papers remain open.

But, they can only survive with the support of the community.

We view the Observer's long-standing relationship with the Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township communities as a partnership. We depend on local advertising and home delivery subscriptions to survive. The community depends on the Observer to inform people about all aspects of their communities, from stories that affect neighborhoods and taxes, to spreading the word about fund-raisers, special events and incredible people who do incredible things.

The Plymouth community has had a local paper since the days of the Plymouth Mail, long before it became the Observer. The Canton Observer has been publishing for more than 30

Just as we've promoted the "buy local" concept, in an effort to push local consumers to locally owned stores, we're urging folks to invest, to engage, in the Plymouth and Canton Observers. Advertising budgets are tight, we know, and household budgets are also tight, but if we support each other, we'll make it through.

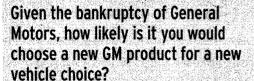

Here's what you can do to help the Observer. Urge merchants to advertise. Patronize local merchants who do advertise. Don't forget to tell merchants that you saw their ad in the Observer.

Purchase an annual subscription to the paper. The newspaper industry is in transition with print and on-line editions. But that transition is incomplete as newspapers search for a successful business model that will help sustain local information on the Web. So if you read us free on-line, that's fine; however, it's important to pay for the print subscription - that's the only way we can afford to sustain that hyper-local Web site.

Each and every issue of the Observer contains items that support local causes, local events, local people. We're here to shine the light on the good, to evoke conversations, to support local businesses and to provide a forum for healthy debate on local issues that affect you. We want to be around for many years to come. You can help.

For subscription information, call (866) 887-2737. To advertise in the Canton Observer, call Frank Cibor at (734) 582-8361; to advertise in the Plymouth Observer, call Nicole Stone, (734) 582-8357.

Keep Wright writing

It was bad enough news when I lost my job in April, then my little morning enjoyment of reading the Free Press was upset when they decided not to deliver my newspaper every day (reading online is not the same and I can't take it with me).

Now I find out that our/my beloved sports editor, Ed Wright, will no longer be writing those amazing sports articles in our Plymouth Observer, due to the economy!

Ed's stories — so well written, so interesting, so much more than just reporting sports — were my favorite part of the Observer newspaper. He really got the "back story" right ... or should I say "wright." I would liken his style to Mitch Albom. I would find myself reading about sports I knew nothing about only because Ed wrote the story. I would end up smiling at the end of each article.

Please reconsider and keep Ed Wright WRITING!!!

Not so safe?

My husband and I have lived in Canton for almost four years. We moved here for his employer, from Toledo. I have always been happy with our city and schools. I always felt safe.

Yet now I feel that our Canton Police Department is falling into the same routine as police departments across the country. Townships and cities across the country are utilizing their time by handing out common traffic citations. This is a huge source of money, yet it is hurting our community.

If Michigan wasn't in enough trouble before, now we are handing out $65 tickets for not wearing a seat belt. Officers are sitting at corners waiting for someone to turn on a no-turn-on-red. Yet, in my subdivision alone there have been two break-ins.

I read the paper and see many crimes that are now being committed in my oncesafe community. Why are our officers more concerned with traffic violations than crimes being had all over the place?

My background and education is in the criminal justice field, I respect our officers and firemen more than most. But I am concerned with the crimes that I have been reading about. My husband and I are actually considering having an alarm put on our house. The last thing I thought about when moving to Canton was having to worry about someone breaking into our home. Now, it is much more of a reality - and I think it is about time that our community stands up and voices our opinions.

Angela Skaff Canton

Compassion needed

We are going through the worst financial downturn since the Great Depression and Canton Township officials respond by throwing ordinance codes at a center helping those in need.

What a shame! Inspector Jeff Goulet is quoted in the article as saying "We don't like large numbers of people in a general industrial zone." I'm sure the large numbers of people who visit the Open Door also don't like the situation — but for a different reason. They don't like being in such a tenuous situation where they need help to feed themselves and their families.

In these extraordinary times, with people's lives on the line, is this really the best our township officials can do? Perhaps compassion and wisdom would dictate something beyond the bureaucratic hassling that is being offered.

Charters an answer?

Disgruntled with public education for innumerable reasons, parents hoping to find something better need to first ask themselves, "Can it be found in charter schools?"

Legally, charter schools are public schools, having to adhere to the same woeful "standards" and much of the same curriculum as that of public schools. They are still beholden to the state, still have to implement Michigan's questionable standardized testing, MEAP, and still have to implement the same "values" or lack thereof.

Personally, I have opted to turn to private religious schools. The only problem is that many of them even resemble public schools. We can run but we cannot hide.

Phyllis Pelloni

Canton

Charters a blessing

People choose charter schools for many different reasons. We have many freedoms living in the United States — freedom of speech and religion. Please keep printing articles that stress the overwhelming need of charter schools here in Michigan to help allow parents the freedom of school choice for their children's education.

. The numbers say it all. I am sure you've seen the long waiting lists for charter schools that aren't even open yet. The need for additional charter schools in Michigan is immense. The strong academic curriculum and high moral values have guided my children to become better citizens of the community.

Yes, my children are students of Canton Charter Academy and I feel it is a blessing to our entire family. Being a part of a school that outscores (in almost all categories of the MEAP) the traditional public schools in the same district, says a lot. You should write an article about that, as many people do not understand what a charter school is or how successful they are. The general population is uninformed to how charter schools are different from traditional public or private schools. I am asked every day how much is the tuition at CCA?

My family is all for charter schools in Canton and everywhere else too. But just like any learning environment it all begins at home. Parent promotion and participation in their child's education on a daily basis is truly the best way to ensure successful students!

Keep ministry open

There are two issues that complicate the problem of the facility ("Township threatens to shut down food bank," Canton Observer, Thursday, May 21).

The first related to the physical building. Only safety issues should be pursued. Code issues for heavy industrial are not valid for the use of the building.

The second issue of heavy traffic in a general industrial area is not valid because the building in question is the ONLY building in the area. The street is a dead-end street with only the ministry on it. The township should do everything it can to facilitate the continuance of the ministry without compromising safety.

Be wary of combining insurance, investing

recently had a conversation with a client regarding life insurance. Before the individual was a client, he purchased a variable universal life insurance policy that is now causing him problems. In order to keep the insurance at its current amount, the premium is increasing. He was told when he purchased the policy that the premium would remain level, however, now he is learning that is not the case. Unfortunately, there are many people in his situation. They purchased a policy with an investment component which impacts the premium. Since the investments within the insurance policy have taken a major hit, these policy holders are now finding that to keep the insurance as is, the premiums are going up - substantially.

Whenever I discuss life insurance I always make it clear that I do not believe life insurance or any type of insurance is an investment. Insurance is a means of covering risk. If the underlying risk doesn't exist, you don't need the insur-Money Matters ance. After all, you and me.

you don't buy Rick Bloom boat insurance unless you have a boat. I believe when you combine investing and insurance in one product, it is generally to the detriment of

In this situation, the first issue is whether life insurance is needed. My client needs the life insurance and so his options are limited. However, he has options that should be explored before automatically paying the higher premiums. I don't like to combine insurance and investing together because the product is too complex for most to understand and it is generally stuffed with high fees and costs. In addition, there are no guarantees that the premiums won't go up again in the

Another option, and the one I recommended to my client, was to buy a new, term life insurance policy for the amount of the insurance needed. By buying a term policy he is covering his life insurance needs and separating his investments from his insurance needs. Before canceling his original policy I made sure he was approved for the new, term policy. If you need life insurance never cancel an old policy until the new policy has been approved.

Shopping around and purchasing the term insurance policy enabled my client to obtain insurance for the specific amount and time he needed at a much lower cost then he was paying on his original policy. The savings freed up money to make a Roth IRA contribution.

If you're in the same situation as my client, don't automatically assume your only option is to pay the higher premiums. The key is to get independent advice.

When used correctly, life insurance is a very valuable tool in the area of personal financial planning. Life insurance is not an investment, but rather a way of providing for dependents upon death. Don't get hooked by gimmicks when it comes to life insurance because ultimately it is not beneficial for you. When it comes to life insurance, keeping it simple is the strategy I recommend. I believe you may just find it benefits you too. Good luck!

Win lunch with George Blaha

Dining With the Stars will close out the 2009 spring season with George Blaha, a familiar voice in the broadcast and sports world in metro Detroit.

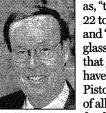

Tell us in 100 words or less why you want to have lunch with Blaha at Buddy's Pizza in Farmington Hills. E-mail your entry to BuddysDiningStars@gmail. com by 5 p.m. Thursday, June Dining With the Stars is sponsored by Buddy's Pizza and the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

The contest winner will be treated to a limo ride from Class Plus Limo, a makeover courtesy of Christine from Beauty Salon in Birmingham, a $100 gift certificate from Reaver Diamond Co. in Southfield and a dance exhibition by the Fred Astaire Dance Studio in Bloomfield Hills.

A local broadcasting icon and one of the most recognizable personalities in Detroit and the NBA, Blaha recently completed his 33rd consecutive season as the television and radio play-by-play voice of the Detroit Pistons. The "Voice of the Pistons" is the longest tenured play-by-play announcer in the state of Michigan following the retirement of legendary Detroit Tigers broadcaster Ernie Harwell.

Blaha brings a high-energy style to go with his extensive basketball knowledge and demonstrates a true passion for Pistons basketball. His trademark colloquialisms such as, "two and 22 to play" and "a high glass gun that goes" have thrilled Pistons fans of all ages for three decades.

Blaha handles play-by-play duties on either television or radio for all 82 regular-season games plus pre- and postseason games on FSN Detroit and WDFN - the Pistons' flagship stations. He also hosts the Pistons Weekly television program, which airs Sunday nights on WDIV TV4 at midnight, and has handled playby-play duties for Michigan State football since 1971. In 2002, he was made an honorary alumnus of Michigan State University.

Born in Detroit, Blaha graduated with a bachelor's degree in economics from Notre Dame University and earned an M.B.A. from the University of Michigan. He lives in Troy and Gaylord.

Blaha enjoyed a banner year in 2008 when he was named Michigan's Sportscaster of the Year for the second time by The Detroit News (2003, 2008) and enshrined in the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

He was also honored by Michigan State as an honorary letterman and member of the "S" Club. Blaha was honored with the Ty Tyson Award for broadcasting excellence by the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association in 2003.

Chiefs' dream run jolted by late call

BY TIM SMITH OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

What a night it could have Canton hung right in with defending Division 1 state champion Ann Arbor Huron

Tuesday night, going toe-to-toe all 80 minutes at Saline. But after a goal by senior forward Tracy Rymph staked Canton to an early 1-0 lead in the regional girls soccer semifinal, the Chiefs gave up the tying goal with just three minutes left in the first half. Canton (14-3-1) then wound up losing 2-1 on a disputed penalty kick with 14:04 remaining.

Huron (16-2-2) will face Livonia Churchill at 7 p.m. Friday in the final.

"My girls did a good job, they did what they've been doing all year and basically it came down to an official's call," said Canton head coach George Tomasso. "The first one was saved by our keeper (junior Samantha McPartlin) and the second one wasn't justified.

"If you review the tape it clearly will show our player got the ball first and he awarded

On the play, Canton sophomore defender Melanie Pickert and River Rats' junior forward Michelle Freed converged on a 50-50 ball in the box.

They collided in front of McPartlin and the penalty kick was awarded. Senior Lisa Masini took the shot and buried it high inside the left post.

"Yes, it happens all the time, and inexperienced referees at this level cost teams games," said Tomasso, about how the contact was a matter of momentum and nothing else. "It should have been a corner kick."

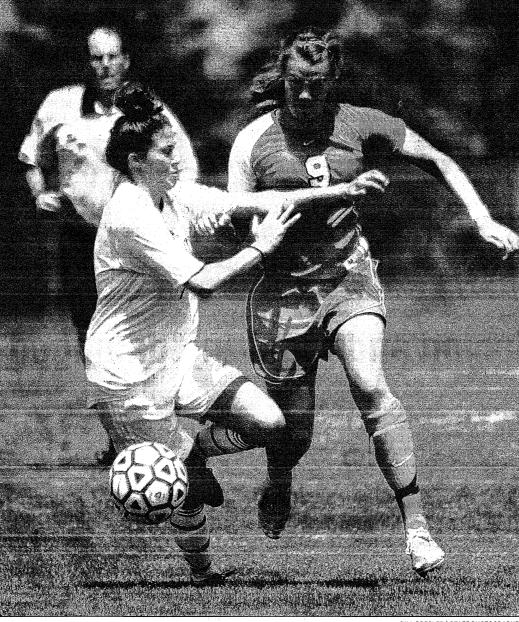

Of course, Canton's opponent saw things differently.

"Their defender tried to get in front," said Huron head coach Todd Pfeifer. "The same thing happened on both penalty kicks.

"My player cut through the box and got clipped from pitcher Amy Dunleavy and Kaitlyn Mattson collected two hits apiece Saturday as the Chiefs (31-6) downed Livonia Churchill (15-16) in the Division 1 district semifinal at Plymouth.

Dunleavy worked the first five innings to pick up the victory as Churchill was limited to four hits.

Canton scored three runs on two hits and two walks, along with an error off Churchill starter Abby Jewell, who was eventually replaced by Natalie Hiser.

The Chiefs built a sevenrun lead as Sam Partain scored twice.

Taylor Kerr and Mackenzie Everson each had two hits for the Chargers.

STATE TOURNAMENT: Mercy fared best among the three Farmington schools that qualified for the Division 2 state meet that was played Friday and Saturday at Kalamazoo College.

The Marlins finished in eighth place with 11 points. North Farmington and East Lansing tied for 10th with eight points each; Farmington, Grosse Pointe North, Holly and Allen Park finished in a four-way tie for 13th (six).

North Farmington's Emily Hand and Emily Jan experienced only their second defeat of the season in the No. 1 doubles final.

The No. 2-seeded Raiders lost to the top-seeded team from Grand Rapids Forest Hills Northern, Shelby Florida and Macey Hallstedt, 6-1, 6-3.

Hand and Jan advanced to the championship match with victories over Bloomfield Hills Marian (2-1), Portage Northern (1-4) and Traverse City Central, 7-6(3), 6-4.

Farmington's Victoria Amponsah reached the semifinals at No. 3 singles. The second-seeded Amponsah lost to Jenny Tsai, the eventual runner-up from Okemos, 6-1, 6-2.

Singles players reaching the quarterfinal round were Ariana Kabodian (Mercy) and Jennifer Yen (North) at No. 1, Margaux Kabodian (Mercy) and Michelle Mac (Farmington) at No. 2 and Emily Walsh (Mercy) at No. 4.

North Farmington's Danielle Balsis and Heena Patel and Mercy's Lisa Carlson and Michelle Ho were quarterfinalists at Nos. 2 and 3 doubles, respectively.

Mercy's No. 4 doubles team of Sarah Tienan and Lauren Dubosh lost an extended, three-setter in the second round to Hudsonville, 7-6(4), 6-7(3), 7-5.

Aaron Cieslak (Kellogg CC) went 2-for-4, while Jake Rhodes (Wabash Valley, Ill., CC) and Brett Mazmanian (Kankakee, Ill., CC) knocked in runs.

In the nightcap, Tom Whiting (Worcester, Mass., Polytech) went all seven innings to earn the victory as the Rams downed the Blue Knights, 7-2.

Whiting scattered five hits and did not allow a walk while fanning nine.

Plymouth hangs on for D-1 softball district title

BY BRAD KADRICH

OBSERVER STAFF WRITER Talk about a good news-

bad news kind of day.

Plymouth shortstop Stacy Klonowski had a tough day in the field, committing three errors, including one that led to Canton's only two runs of the game. But she was also instrumental in the Wildcats' only scoring rally, driving in Plymouth's first two runs with a long double, then scoring what turned out to be the game-winning run on a third-inning single by Amanda Burnard as the Wildcats hung on for a 3-2 win in the championship game of a girls' softball district Saturday.

The win puts the Wildcats into the Novi regional Saturday.

"It was an ... interesting ... day," said Klonowski, able to smile after her team won the game. "The whole time at bat (on the double), I was thinking, 'I can do this.' In the field, the team had to pick me up. They helped me."

Sophomore pitcher Lauren Smith scattered seven hits to get the win. She issued just one walk and struck out only two, but one of them was pinch hitter Heide Lucke with two outs and the tying run on second in the seventh Plymouth coach Val Canfield said Smith never let the Chiefs get into any kind of rhythm.

"Lauren mixed it up a lot," Canfield said. "She kept them off balance. She really made it happen today.'

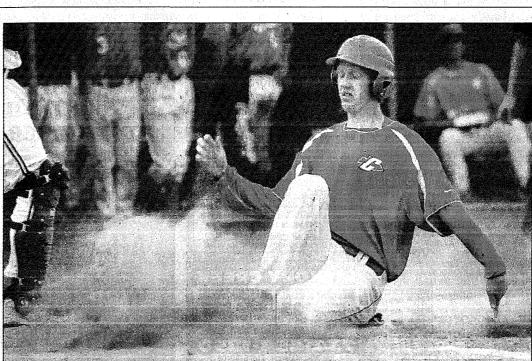

Smith got the winning rally started with a leadoff single in the bottom of the third. She went to second when Allison Raylean beat out a bunt single. Both runners advanced on a sacrifice from Erin Rodes and scored on Klonowski's double. Klonowski herself scored on Burnard's single.

Canton got right back in the game in the top of the fourth. With one out, Lauren Leskovitz and Smith were safe on back-to-back errors — two of six the Wildcats made in the game. Jordan Puskar beat out a bunt to load the bases. Leskovitz and Smith scored on Jesse Larner's two-run single. The Chiefs might have tied the score, but Plymouth first baseman Tessa Heldmeyer scooped a throw from Klonowski out of the dirt for the third out of the inning. Canfield said she wouldn't have believed her team could win a game in which they played such poor defense.

Canton baseball coach Mark Blomshield got doused by his players pouring the water bucket over his head Saturday afternoon.

But it was the only bad thing that happened to Blomshield — or his Chiefs — all day. Canton used an II-run fourth inning, and the coach said. "We were a little too anxious defensively. (But) our offense came into play, and our pitching kept us in there."

Ironically, in a game where the Wildcats made six errors, it was a pair of stellar defensive plays that clinched the game. Canton's Christy VanEsley was safe on an error leading off the sixth. Puskar was also safe when her grounder to third was thrown away by Plymouth's Burnard, putting runners at second and third with no outs.

Canton's last chance came in the sixth when Amy Dunleavy singled, then scampered to second when the ball skipped past center fielder Jillian Brennan. But Smith settled down and got the final two outs to preserve the win.

"(The sixth inning) was huge," Canton coach Jim Arnold said. "We had that pick at third, then the double play. It took us right out of the game."

The rules of replacing and repairing damaged clubs

By Jeannie Myers

Everyone seems to know that a player may not start a round with more than 14 clubs. However, there is some confusion about when a club may be replaced during the round.

Rule 4-3 says that, "If, during a stipulated round, a player's club is damaged in the normal course of play, he may: use it in its damaged state for the remainder of the round, without delaying play, repair it or have it repaired, or if the club has become unfit for play, he may replace it."

The replacement may not unduly delay play and the player may not borrow any club from any other person playing on the course.

This leads us to two definitions. What constitutes "normal course of play?" Obviously it includes making a stroke or practice swing, but also includes removing or replacing a club in the bag, using a club to search for a ball, leaning on it while waiting to play and accidentally dropping it. Normal course of play does not include throwing the club in anger, slamming it into the bag or intentionally striking something with the club.

Normal course of play does include using a club as a cane while climbing a hill, because that is considered a reasonable act. However, a club that breaks because the player has a habit of hitting the head of the club on the ground while walking to the next tee has not been broken in the normal course of play and may not be replaced.

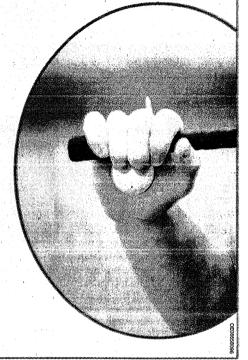

Notice that the only time you can replace a club is when it has become unfit for play in the normal course of play. It has become "unfit" if it is substantially damaged, e.g., the shaft is dented, bent or broken, or the club head has become loose, detached or deformed, or the grip has become loose. You may not replace clubs just because the grips have become wet. If the shaft of a player's club has become bent in the normal course of play, he has the right to try to repair it. If in the course of bending it back into its original shape, the player snaps the shaft in pieces, he may replace the club. A player may replace a club which has become unfit for play while practicing on the range during a suspension of play. And, in equity, a player may replace clubs that have become unfit because, while lying on the ground, they were damaged by a maintenance vehicle or a golf cart. For those of you who may become involved in a stroke play play-off, please notice that the play-off constitutes a new round, and you may replace any club, even it had been broken in anger.

A lost club may not be replaced because it has not become "unfit for play" during the normal course of play. And a player may not replace a club by borrowing one from another player playing on the course.

If a player does damage a club other than in the normal course of play, so that it is non-conforming or its playing characteristics have changed, it may not be subsequently used or replaced during the round. The penalty for using or replacing it is disqualification. Such is the unhappy fate of a player who misses a short putt, bangs the putter head on his shoe bending the neck of the putter, and then taps in the one inch putt with the damaged club.

Plymouth golf team has its first state qualifier

BY BRAD EMONS OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Friday's Division 1 boys golf regional at Lakes of Taylor proved to be as challenging and nerve-wracking as The National Spelling Bee.

Twelve teams started the morning on a course that was nearly 7,000 yards in length and by the early afternoon only three teams survived the cut and will be moving on to the state finals scheduled for next Friday and Saturday at Michigan State University's Forest Akers (West Course).

Temperance Bedford, sporting a four-player total of 312, captured the team title on a fifth-man tiebreaker to beat runner-up Ann Arbor Pioneer (led by individual medalist Davis Ransdell's 71).

Northville, the state's No. 1-ranked team, garnered the final spot with a 314. Canton and Saline were not far behind tied for fourth with 319 each.

"It was a tough day, tough conditions," Northville coach Matt Stetson said. "And at this to get to the next step. It was set up 400 yards longer than normal, and with the wind, it was extremely tough for every-

Northville boasted two players in the top five as senior Wes Gates and junior Trevor Grigg both tied for second place with identical 74s. Steve Brown added an 82, while Erik Goebel shot 84. Saline's Phil Gieseker, who shot a 74, and teammate Nick Areddy, who carded a 76, each earned individual qualifying berths. They will be joined in East Lansing by Plymouth's Justin Bauer, a sophomore, who became the Wildcats' first individual state qualifier since Matt Talbot did it during the 2006 fall season.

"It feels good," said Bauer, who plays on the Top 50 Junior Tour during the summer. "I wanted to have a good round - keep it low. I hit a lot of greens and made some putts. I had a birdie on No. 1 and a double bogey on No. 17. I didn't think I'd be low level there's the added pressure enough. But I've been playing good of late. This is my best score so far."

Despite his 5-foot-8, 140pound frame, Bauer gets every ounce out of his driver.

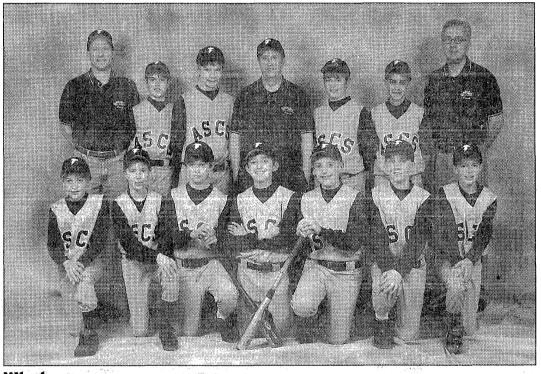

"What stands out is his distance, he hits it a long ways,' Plymouth coach Chris Moore said. "He's also a very consistent. He plays smart as a sophomore. There were no bad

"He's peaked at the end of the year. His scores have gone down progressively except for one blow-up (round). It's good to see."

Just missing the cut for an individual berth were Canton's Zach Conrad, the district medalist, and Brendan Muir. Both shot 78 along with Westland John Glenn's Andy Myers, who is bound for Siena Heights University.

"To shot 78 on the Blues (tees) when they're actually are at the Blacks (tees) is a good score," Glenn coach Steve Pilon said.

M-Generation highlights event celebrating late rabbi

CORRESPONDENT

The inspirational words of an Israeli ambassador and the culturally sweet and often humorous songs of the world-renown M-Generation boy's choir will highlight a celebration of the life of the late Rebbe Menachem Mendel Schneerson.

Chabad Lubavitch of Michigan will present An Evening of Song, Speech & Vision, 6 p.m. June 16 at Rock Financial Showcase in Novi.

Chabad-Lubavitch is a Hasidic movement in Orthodox Judaism. Chabad-Lubavitch has had seven leaders or rebbes, most recently the late Rebbe Menachem Mendel Schneerson, who served until his death in 1994.

His inspirational life encouraged thousands of people around the world to advocate for education and philanthropy.

Keynote speaker Ambassador Yehuda Avner is known for his animated oration on his life as a veteran Israeli diplomat. As an aid and advisor to four Israeli prime ministers he witnessed first-hand the unique role the Rebbe played in their lives.

The featured entertainment, the M-Generation, consists of 12 young boys bonded through music in a world-touring choir. M-Generation is a project of Friends of Refugees of Eastern Europe, a non-profit dedicated to the aid and educational prosperity of Eastern European refugees affected by the former Soviet Union. The choir sings in English, Russian, Hebrew and Yiddish. The youngest is six years old.

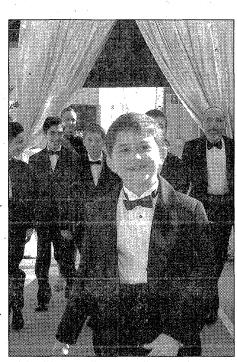

M-Generation is a project of Friends of Refugees of Eastern Europe, a nonprofit dedicated to the aid and educational prosperity of Eastern European refugees affected by the former Soviet Union.

Michael Furman, 11, of Brooklyn, N.Y., said he joined after finding out about the group at age 6.

"They took me in and I was happy. We get to hang out with friends and it's really cool. I am very excited to come see Detroit because I have never been there. It will be cool to see a new audience!"

Tickets for An Evening of Song, Speech & Vision are $36 per person and sponsorship opportunities are available. For more information visit www. chabadmi.com or call (248) 877-7978.

Levi Stein contributed to this report.

Michael Furman, of M-Generation, said he's excited to come to the Detroit area for a performance.

Local author celebrates Detroit characters in two new books

BY WENSDY VON BUSKIRK O&E STAFF WRITER

After almost a decade-long dry spell, Michael Zadoorian is in the unique position of promoting two new books at the same time.

The Ferndale author has a calendar full of book signings for Leisure Seeker (Morrow, 2009), and The Lost Tiki Palaces of Detroit (Wayne State University Press, 2009).

After the success of his debut novel Second Hand, released in 2000 to critical acclaim, Zadoorian stopped writing in part to care for his aging parents. He didn't know if he'd ever publish again.

But four years ago, Zadoorian quietly began sitting down at his desk again, writing each morning before he left for work as a copy editor at Campbell-Ewald.

His experience with his parents laid the foundation for Leisure Seeker, the story of an ailing elderly couple who leave their doctors behind and embark on a cross country road trip along old Route 66.

Leisure Seeker was rejected by several publishers, probably due to the fact that the protagonists were in their 80s and suffering from cancer and dementia, Zadoorian said. Yet while the subject matter sounds depressing, the book is actually a fun ride, full of humor, insight and nostalgia. In 2007, Zadoorian got word that Leisure Seeker was accepted by Morrow, an imprint of Harper Collins.

The very next day, Wayne State University Press called with news they would publish Zadoorian's short story collection,  $The\ Lost\ Tiki$ Palaces of Detroit.

"The stories have a sort of dark quality to them," he said. "A lot of them are about people who go through tough times and are pushed to the brink, but find a strength and resilience inside to keep going. Detroit is like that."

Renowned artist Glenn Barr, of Ferndale, lent his work to the book's cover, and will join Zadoorian at a tikithemed book signing 7-9 p.m. June 18 at Book Beat in Oak Park. Leisure Seeker is available in hardcover for $24.95. The Lost Tiki Palaces of Detroit, (paperback, $18.95) is part of the Made in Michigan Writers Series. Visit www.michaelzadoorian.com.

Trader Joe's cookbook emphasizes freshness & flavor

If you're into one-stop shopping, you'll love "Cooking With All Things Trader Joe's" by Deana Gunn and Wona Miniati.

The cookbook (Brown Bag Publishers, 2008) features recipes with ingredients that all can be found on the shelves of the fun food retailer.

Trader Joe's, one of the fastest growing grocery chains in the nation, has Michigan locations in Ann Arbor, Farmington Hills, Grosse Pointe, Northville, Royal Oak and Rochester Hills.

Stop in to buy the book, along with everything it takes to make wholesome meals, sides, desserts, drinks, breakfasts and bachelor quickies. In the meantime, here are a few recipes from the colorful book.

Hands-off cooking time: 12-14 minutes Serves 4-6

LIFE IS A BOWL OF CHERRIES, PINE NUTS, AND SPINACH SALAD Michigan is one of the top growers of sour cherries in the country, which are high in antioxidants. This salad calls for the Montmorency variety.

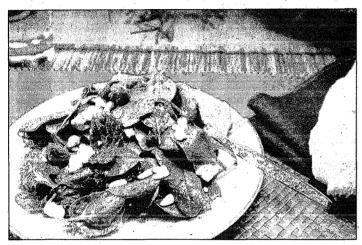

½ (6-ounce) bag Organics baby spinach

¼ cup crumbled Feta cheese

¼ cup dried tart Montmorency cherries

2-4 tablespoons balsamic vinaigrette

Combine ingredients, toss, and serve immediately. The salad can be assembled ahead of time, but don't add the vinaigrette until you're ready to serve or the spinach will wilt down.

Pine nuts and cherries enhance spinach salad.

Prep time: 5 minutes Serves 4-6

BLACK BEAN SOUP

This soup is a hearty, spicy soup with the warm earthy flavor of cumin and the zing of fresh lime. Not only are black beans high in fiber and folate, but they rival grapes and cranberries for their antioxidant properties.

1 medium yellow onion, peeled and chopped, or 1½ cups bagged freshly diced onion

1 clove garlic, crushed or 1 cube frozen crushed garlic

2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil

1 teaspoon ground cumin

2 (15-ounce) cans black beans (do not drain)

1 cup (half a jar) chunky salsa 2 tablespoon lime juice (juice of one lime)

Plain yogurt or sour cream

In a medium pot, sauté onions in olive oil until they are soft and translucent. Sprinkle in cumin and garlic and sauté for a minute; pour in black beans (including juices), salsa, and lime. Stir to combine and bring to a simmer. Simmer covered for 20 minutes.

Ladle soup into individual bowls and top with a dollop of yogurt. White corn tortilla chips go nicely on the side.

Prep time: 10 minutes

Hands-off Cooking time: 20 minutes Serves 4-6

HONEY, I ATE THE CHOCOLATE BREAD PUDDING

Cold vanilla ice cream melting on warm bread pudding is one of those feelgood dessert combinations. And this recipe makes a happy cook as well. There's no melting butter, no measuring ingredients ... just toss it all in and

½ loaf (8 slices) Whole Wheat Honey Bread

1½ cups Brownie Truffle Baking Mix (just the dry mix, don't add anything else)

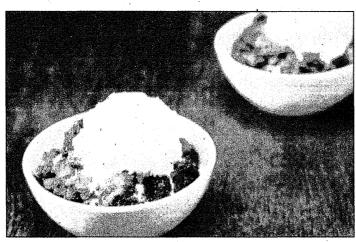

Cut crusts off bread slices. Cube bread into ½-inch by ½-inch pieces. Toss diced bread in an 8-inch square lightly greased or buttered baking pan and arrange so pan is filled evenly.

Combine milk and brownie mix. Stir well for a minute until dissolved. Pour brownie mixture over diced bread. Lightly press down on bread pieces so that they are thoroughly soaked through with brownie liquid.

Set pan aside while you preheat oven to 350 degrees, perhaps 10 minutes or so. This extra time will give the bread time to soak further. Cover pan tightly with foil and bake for 30 minutes.

When done, remove pan from oven and let it cool for 15 minutes, allowing bread pudding to set. Serve warm, with optional vanilla or chocolate ice cream

Prep time: 5-10 minutes

Make this chocolate bread pudding with only three ingredients.

APRICOT BAKED BRIE

Even if you think you don't like Brie, try this baked version; you may not recognize it. This warm and creamy cheese dish is a great accompaniment to some rapes and a bottle of red wine.

1(0.6 pound) wedge Brie, such as Double Crème Brie

2 heaping tablespoons Organic Reduced Sugar Apricot Preserves

1 handful Raw Sliced Almonds

1tablespoon Triple Sec (optional)

1 box water crackers

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Place the wedge of Brie in a small baking dish that is slightly bigger than the Brie. Top with apricot preserves, sprinkle on almonds, and drizzle Triple Sec over the top. Cover tightly with foil and bake for 12-14 minutes or until cheese is melting. Remove from oven and serve with water crackers. Before your guests attack the Brie unrelentingly, remind them that the dish is hot.

Wayne State leads way in 'green' building

Demonstrating leadership by example, Wayne State University recently erected a Franklin Vertical Axis Wind Turbine (VAWT) — the first small wind energy turbine of its kind in North America — atop the university's Engineering Technology Building in Midtown Detroit.

Mounted on a mast that extends the unit 30 feet into the air, the VAWT's 5kW of electrical energy will initially power the computer lab in this 20,000-square-foot building where electrical engineering researchers will evaluate performance and improve its power delivery efficiency

The Franklin wind turbine, developed by Vbine Energy, can take wind from any direction, operates at low RPM with no vibration, and emits little noise. It also provides steady, uninterrupted power via battery storage for up to 10 hours.

Michele Grimm of Canton, associate dean of WSU's College of Engineering, was staffing the WSU booth May 2 at the Green Street Fair.

"We wanted to get the word out. We've had a number of people come by," Grimm said of the downtown Plymouth event, held May 2-3. She appreciated the opportunity to let people know about Wayne State's educational activities and its environmentally friendly practices.

The Detroit campus recently opened the Marvin I. Danto Engineering Development Center, the first campus building built to exacting LEED (Leadership in Environmental and Energy Design) standards. The building will help WSU learn about sustainable engineering and construc-

Grimm's also proud of Detroit's first wind turbine at Wayne State, which will be a living lab for students. It will generate energy for the campus as

"It's been a big interest of Wayne State's for a long time," she said of "green" living, the goal of the Green Street Fair. Wayne State faculty are working in such areas as water quality and brownfield cleanup.

Colleagues at Wayne State agree with Grimm's assessment.

"Wayne State's decision to use the Franklin Wind Turbine as an alternative to powering its own laboratories reflects the university's 'translational' research mission and its commitment to integrate sustainable technology into virtually every aspect of our operations," said Ralph Kummler, dean of the College of Engineering. "Clean wind energy is emerging as a viable path along with other renewable technologies in addressing the global energy crisis. And for us in Michigan, it offers the potential to create skilled jobs.

David Koyle, chairman and CEO of Franklin Wind Energy Group, said the Franklin VAWT provides significant savings as a superior investment in comparison to traditional power generation sources using fossil fuels. He explained that the Franklin wind turbine extracts more energy from an existing mass of wind than other turbines. This benefit is possible because wind is a variable and dynamic energy source, and the Franklin Wind Turbine design takes advantage of unique engineering features, which makes it a more efficient method for capturing wind energy.
"This is an important first step in our plans to become the premier provider of leading edge small wind turbines in America," said Koyle, who is also an adjunct professor at Wayne State. "We see these turbines being installed in homes and businesses as people realize they can have their own flittle oil well on their roof pumping free renewable energy from the sky, reducing their energy bills and becoming energy independent. The cost of producing energy using fossil fuels is only going to increase, and our wind turbine will save customers a few cents every hour it is operating. As our company's namesake Ben Franklin once said, 'a penny saved is a penny earned. It all adds up to an eco-savvy investment and the right thing to do for energy independence."

He added that President Barack Obama's recent legislation provides federal rebates of up to 30 percent.

That savings, combined with other incentives like net metering, carbon credits, feed in tariffs, and state tax credits, makes small wind energy economically viable on a national level.

"Franklin Wind Energy Group, located in Franklin, Michigan, invested in small wind technologies because we believe this is one of the most important growth sectors for creating jobs for Michigan," said Koyle. "We are pleased that our partnership with Wayne State will help to promote our turbines as a principal source of energy production and consumption in our state."

Kummler concurred with Koyle about the value of collaboration. "Supported by Wayne State's excellent Facilities Management Team, our faculty has made tremendous strides in the area of efficient power transfer and delivery. That expertise, in conjunction with Franklin's unique wind turbine design, creates an unprecedented opportunity for us to jointly demonstrate clean, potentially costefficient energy production," he said. "This pilot project is a perfect example of how the academic-business model at Wayne State and the College of Engineering are working to promote leading-edge alternative energy technologies and economic development in Michigan."

Wayne State isn't the only school with interest in going green. Schoolcraft College, with campuses in Livonia and Garden City, was ably represented May 2 by Hannah Booth of Northville at the Green Street Fair in Plymouth. The 2007 Schoolcraft graduate works for a marketing firm with Schoolcraft.

"Now I'm at Grand Valley State," the marketing senior said. She was providing information on green careers and continuing education at Schoolcraft.

Booth said 85-90 percent of those she met at the fair had heard of Schoolcraft: "It's a very positive image in the community, I would say."

One couple asked why college is so expensive, and Booth was quick to note she saved some $12,000 by doing her first two years of college at Schoolcraft.

Ford Motor Co. had eight vehicles in the heart of downtown Plymouth for the fair. Plymouth resident Barbara Zdan, who has a business Xperience which does Ford marketing, pointed out a green Fiesta.

"That's actually the European one," said Zdan, whose business is in Dearborn. "We'll start getting them

There was also a 2010 Mustang GT, as well as a 2009 Escape hybrid.

"Ford was the first company to make a hybrid SUV," she noted with pride. The 2010 Taurus SHO was drawing interest, as was the '10 Fusion hybrid.

"The Ford employees, a lot of the, have been thanking my crew," Zdan said. The emphasis at such events isn't on sales, with product specialists on hand who can answer questions.

Zdan drives an Escape, but is eyeing the Fusion hybrid. She agreed some visitors were interesting in buying, and that Ford has set itself apart by not seeking government aid. "Oh, yes, we do" hear about that. "We had a good day yesterday. Ford beat Toyota for sales" in April.

We need to build something in the country," she added. Zdan said fair goers are concerned about cost and gas mileage.

Outside Panera Bread near the cars was Tom Olszewski of Novi, collecting for the Plymouth Kiwanis peanut drive. He was substituting for son Tom Olszewski, a Northville resident and president of Plymouth's Evening Kiwanis.

Wendy Olszewski, the younger Tom's wife, came along for a fundraising progress report. "It's been really good. Really friendly people," her father-in-law said. Money supports the Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps, she said.

Beautiful day," she said with a smile. "A good showing."

Commerce definition specific by law

Q: I am one of four adjoining lot owners who purchased property and have had the use of the lots for commercial purposes. The deed said that the property could only be used for residential or dwelling house purposes. I am now thinking about converting the existing building into a three-unit apartment building and we were concerned about the neighbors in single family homes challenging our right to do so. They are basically claiming that I can't use the property for profit. Do you think we have a problem?

A: Based on a similar case in Maine, according to that determined that although the grantor's intent to prevent the use of the property for commercial applications was clear from the language in the deed,

case it was there was no restriction on the character of the residential use which would have been easy to express. Moreover, the language barring industrial use as well as commercial use suggested that the restriction was aimed at activities engaged in and for commerce as the primary activity. The court stated that "commercial" is a common everyday meaning and that merely residing in an apartment and paying rent to an owner is not engaging in commerce where having a profit is the primary aim. Instead the court indicated, as with the neighboring single family residences, that the apartment building remains a place for people to live; its character being fundamentally different from a department store or service station.

Q: My mortgage company is promising to work out some sort of forbearance agreement and they want us to make a payment before the agreement is signed to show good faith. What do you think?

A: I don't think that is a good idea based upon a recent case, since your forbearance arrangement will not be enforceable unless it is in writing. The court will require that the agreement be in writing and even if you paid the money in reliance of the oral promise, the court may well take the position that you may not be entitled to claim estoppel because you did not sufficiently change your position to justify that claim. You are best advised not to pay any money until there is a written agreement outlining the terms and conditions of the arrangement.

Web site

Weir Manuel Realtors has a new version of its Web site at www.weirmanuel.com. The site has a new design and a host of new features to make it user-friendly.

'We undertook an exhaustive study to find out what consumers wanted - especially those in their 20s and 30s, who use the Internet as their primary information source," said Kelly Sweeney, president and CEO of WMR. "We're excited to offer them a fullyevolved one-stop real estate site with more than 60,000 local properties, and hundreds of thousands of national properties.'

The Weir Manuel Web site has features like "live chat," virtual tours, mortgage calculation tools, and more. Now, a number of new features have been added, such as: an intuitive home search; a "what's my home worth?" tool; large photos of homes in slideshow view; upgraded mapping to locate homes; a front page news scroller updated with the latest real estate information; a new feature called "My Weir Manuel" where visitors can create their own portfolio of homes and information.

The site also offers how-to articles; e.g. first-time buyer tools, foreclosure advice, advantages of buying vs. renting. Weir Manuel's property management division is also featured on the site, for those who plan to lease their homes, or want to lease one.

Weir Manuel Realtors is a leading real estate company in Southeast Michigan, with more than 150 professionals in Birmingham and Rochester. Its Web site is at www.weirmanuel.

Firm lauded

The American Institute of Architects Michigan Chapter recognized McIntosh Poris Associates of Birmingham with a pair of 2009 Honor Awards. The architecture firm was awarded for two Michigan projects: Parent Avenue Lofts in Royal Oak and YMCA Renaissance Center in Detroit. Those projects were among 11 award recipients; the architecture, interiors, and planning firm was one of only two winning multiple project awards.

Jurors called the Parent Avenue Lofts "a classic case of making a silk purse out of a sow's ear." Simple use of materials was praised as a commercial warehouse was transformed into urban lofts. The character of the building was preserved as contemporary design elements were added, jurors noted.

The YMCA project includes a vibrant mural wrapped around folded planes of the central wall. "The mural wall creates an incredible passageway negotiating the transition between the Winter Garden and fitness center, as well as between center and periphery," iurors said.

Private areas, like offices and locker rooms, were kept to the interior core, allowing users to take advantage of views of the Riverwalk and Canada while working out.

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Beginne

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Nissan Titan Still Looms Large in the U.S. Pickup-Truck Market

By Dale Buss

Get your Nissan Titan fast! After this year, it's expected that Nissan's relationship with Chrysler presuming the latter automaker survives its emergence from bankruptcy court and the early days of its new status as a ward of the federal government - will mean that Nissan's full-size pickup trucks will be built in some kind of strategy along the Dodge

It's likely they'll be designed somehow in tandem under a joint venture between the two companies and that Titan and Ram will be built together on an assembly line in Mexico.

So for now, you can enjoy the enhancements that Nissan has made to the Titan in what is expected to be its last pure and distinct version. These days, Titan comes with a fivespeed automatic transmission instead of the four-speed tranny that is found on most other full-size pickups. It also has airbag protection that is enhanced over that of the competition.

And there's more: a host of innovative features that you won't find in combination in the Ford F-150 series, the Dodge Ram, the Chevrolet Silverado or the Toyota Tundra.

Titan's distinctives include a fully boxed, closed-ladder frame; independent double-wishbone front suspension; solid rear axle with dualstage shackled leaf springs and offset shock absorbers; and a big V8 engine. Also, Nissan has triple door seals compared with the double seals in the F-150, which reduces the intrusion of noise, air and moisture into the cab.

Today's Titan also is the first pickup available with a factoryapplied, sprayed-in resin bed liner, a type that is popular in the aftermarket. And Titan also offers a new Utility-Track system, consisting of grooves or channels in the bed - two on the bed floor and one each along the top inside edge of the sides and cab-end of the box.

Nissan has always brought up the rear in the pickup-truck segment with its Titan line, a position on which it seems to be solidifying its hold. Edmunds.com projects that Titan will sell only 18,000 units for all of 2009, which would represent an 80-percent fall from its 2005 sales peak.

For one thing, the "lifestyle" buyers who expanded the pickup-truck segment very heavily during the early years of this decade essentially have gone elsewhere these days, driven away from their fascination with pickups by the sour economy and higher gasoline prices.

on in the pickuptruck segment with an improved 2009 Titan.

"People driving pickup trucks just for the sake of driving a pickup because it's cool have exited the segment," said Vinay Shahani, director of truck marketing for Nissan USA. "So marketing messages have to be focused on the durability and utility of the truck and industry firsts that you have to offer.'

But Shahani said that "there's no way we can sit this out; we have to play the game." So Nissan is taking what he called "a very pragmatic approach to marketing [Titan] in this environment.'

That strategy begins, he said, with an unwillingness to play "the deepdiscounting incentive game that competitors play in this segment. It ultimately destroys value for the segment and the industry and the brand. We're not going to go crazy spending $8,000 or $9,000 on incentives per vehicle.

So, on average so far this year, Shahani said, Titan is offering about $5,500 per vehicle in incentives while, he noted, the brand-new Ram has been putting as much as $6,000 apiece competitive transaction price," he said. "We're not going to be the cheapest truck in the segment, but we're not going to be the most expensive either, given that we're a couple of years older than some of the newest entries.'

Nissan also is focusing on the inherent value of Titan. For example, it is launching the 2010 Heavy Metal edition of the vehicle, which features a chrome billet grille, side rails, rearview mirrors and wheels for a package price of about $1,200 – on separately valued components that would total

That speaks value to the customer and allows the dealers to have a very

In advertising, he said, Titan's new theme is "Look closer." "It allows us to focus on ours versus competitive models, and consumers will find that our value proposition is outstanding, Shahani explained. "It underscores the much more pragmatic approach we need to take in this kind of economy."
