Plymouth Elks from Lodge 1780 are distributing gift packets this week to about 800 homeless and hospitalized veterans.

Elks members reach out to veterans for the holidays

Military veterans in the Detroit area and across southeast Michigan are receiving some holiday cheer courtesy of the Plymouth Elks.

The Elks from Lodge 1780 are distributing gift packets this week to about 800 homeless and hospitalized veterans. Starting Monday, the Elks will visit the Veterans Administration hospitals in Detroit, Ann Arbor and Battle Creek; by Thursday, they'll be heading to two Detroit shelters and the Veterans Haven in the city of Wayne.

"What little we can do, hey, it makes us feel great," said Vivian Biegun, a member of the Plymouth Elks, who helps with the annual gift distribution.

The gift packages focus on personal care and comfort items — each package includes soap, toothpaste, socks, lotion, tissue, shampoo and more, plus a deck of playing cards.

Biegun said she's seen hospitalized veterans moved to tears upon receiving their packages.

"You just want to stay there" and visit, but have to move on, she said.

"They just ask to be remembered and thanked for their service, and that's what these gifts do," said Stewart Israel, chairman of veterans programs at the local Elks. Israel is also involved in veterans programs sponsored by the national Elks organization.

While many veterans are "enjoying the fruits of the freedoms they helped win," homeless and hospitalized vets are left out, Israel said.

About 60 volunteers, mostly Elks members and their families and some local Girl Scouts, put together the packages and gift-wrapped them Dec. 12 at Lodge 1780 headquarters on Ann Arbor Road. It took about 90 minutes to complete the work.

"It really is a fun time, and very heartwarming, too," Biegun said. She said her work for the veterans is dedicated in part to a close friend, a veteran of World War II, who passed away in 2004.

The Christmas gift distribut ion isn't the only project the Plymouth Elks have for veterans. They sponsor monthly ice cream socials at the Detroit VA hospital, organize regular game events for veterans, and twice a year host a steak luncheon at Lodge 1780, bringing in veterans from the hospitals and shelters.

"It's better to give than receive," Biegun said.

Money for the gift-package items came from the Elks, the coffee club at Ford Motor Co.'s plant in Wayne (an Elks member works there), and the Plymouth Rock Masons. Dentist Thomas Morse donated the toothbrushes and dentists Peter Leone and Steven Olds donated the toothpaste.

Blowing smoke

Managers not fuming over bar, restaurant smoking ban

BY MATT JACHMAN
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

No big deal. That's the response from some Plymouth bar and restaurant managers to Michigan's new workplace smoking law, which will ban smoking inside their establishments come next May.

The long-debated bill was signed into law Friday by Gov. Jennifer Granholm. It prohibits smoking at most indoor workplaces, with exceptions for truck cabs, cigar bars and tobacco shops, as well as the gaming floors of Detroit's three casinos.

"I do not have a major concern about it," said Paul Zajac, the general manager at Station 885 on Starkweather in Old Village. "To us, it's just business as usual, and we'll just keep doing what we've always been doing."

But, Zajac added, Station 885 will be planning an outdoor smoking area that fits the requirements of the law. To his understanding, he said, any outdoor smoking area must be more than 50 feet from a door.

"In the long run it's going to be a good thing, and I don't think it's going to affect too many businesses," said Kevin Khashan, who, with brother Sam, owns Sean O'Callaghan's, a tavern on Penniman.

Both Khashan and Zajac said they expected the ban to be passed sooner or later.

"I have a lot of people who just can't wait for it," Khashan said.

"We always knew it was just a matter of time," Zajac said.

Like Khashan, Patrick Long, the general manager at Compari's on the Park and Fiamma Grille, said the ban could help business by bringing out diners who previously would have considered a restaurant or bar too smoky.

Compari's and Fiamma had been contemplating their own smoking ban for about six months, he said.

Regulars who smoke have weighed in on the ban. "A lot of them have told us they're actually OK with it," Long said.

Khashan said he lived in Florida and California, which have similar smoking bans, and that bars and restaurants there had more outdoor seating, where smoking was allowed. "It doesn't seem to be much of a problem," he said. But he was uncertain what restrictions Michigan's new law might put on outdoor smoking.

Khashan said Sean O'Callaghan's banned pipes and cigars last year, and that diners who aren't aware of the ban are cooperative when told they can't light up.

"I got more thank yous about it than anything else," he said.

mjachman@hometownlife.com | (313) 222-2405

Pam Reeder, sitting at Hermann's Olde Town Grill, said business owners should be allowed to make their own decisions about whether to allow smoking.

Student project helps children get through traumatic events

BY MATT JACHMAN
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Plymouth Township Police Officer Bryan Rupard accepts the donation of about 200 stuffed animal toys from the Plymouth Congress, the student government at Plymouth High School, on Wednesday. Next to Rupard are PHS students Priya Joshi, Plymouth Congress president; Megan Renner, attendance secretary; and Nisha Gopal, correspondence secretary.

The efforts of Plymouth High School students will help comfort local children during traumatic situations.

PHS students Wednesday donated about 200 stuffed animal toys to the Plymouth Township Police Department. Officers typically carry the toys in the trunks of their patrol cars, and hand them out to children who've been involved in or witnessed fires, domestic violence, traffic accidents, or other stressful events.

"The intent is to give the child something to focus on, to take their mind off the immediate problem," said Officer Jamie Senkbeil, the department's community resources officer.

IKEA reopens after flood damage repair

BY BRAD KADRICH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

After wondering how many shopping days Tuesday's flooding would cost them, officials at the Canton IKEA reopened to the public on a limited basis Thursday, then reopened everything but its children's playland on Saturday.

IKEA, closed since a fire suppression sprinkler ruptured in the early hours of Tuesday morning, opened its first-floor Market Hall, self-serve warehouse and second-floor restaurant Thursday.

The second-floor showroom opened Saturday after store officials got approval from the Canton fire marshal, store manager Kelly Frieze said.

As a reward to patient customers, IKEA officials are offering free breakfast to shoppers 9:30-10:30 a.m. daily and 10-11 a.m. Sunday through Jan. 10. Kids will be able to eat free all day through Jan. 10.

Officials said they'd also start their sale offers four days early — Dec. 22 — to give shoppers a chance to catch up on shopping they missed while the store was closed.

The closure was forced when a sprinkler head ruptured around 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, flooding the main showroom.

Frieze estimated "thousands of gallons" of water spilled into the main showroom, causing significant damage to inventory and display items there. The store's warehouse, Frieze said, was undamaged.

Frieze wouldn't estimate how much monetary damage was done. The flood came at a bad time, just 10 days before Christmas.

"There's never a good time, but this is certainly inopportune," said Frieze, who noted he'd been dealing with unhappy customers all day. "People drive from all over to visit us. We service the local community, certainly, but we're also a regional destination. We understand it's frustrating."

More information is available at the retailer's Web site (www.ikea.com) or by calling (734) 981-6300.

Crews from Jarvis disaster recovery helped IKEA staffers clean up fast enough to partially reopen Thursday, then open everything but the children's playland on Saturday.

The toy drive was organized and promoted by the Plymouth Congress, the student government at the high school.

"I'm proud of the kids," said Lauren Kulczycki, the Plymouth Congress adviser and the school's student activities director. "They did a great job."

The drive was promoted on T-shirts worn by Plymouth

Congress members, and on stickers that were slapped on about 300 drink bottles at the school cafeteria, Kulczycki said.

With teachers' consent, collection boxes were set out in about 10 different classrooms, and the stuffed animals were collected Dec. 7-14. Student Congress members delivered them to the police department Wednesday.

"We have provided stuffed animals to many children over the years. It is incredible how much comfort and reassurance the teddy bears provide, under some of the most stressful situations," Senkbeil said.

In past years, Kulczycki said, the PHS student government has collected toys for the Toys For Tots program, but members decided they wanted to do something different this holiday season.

"I thought they were really excited about doing something new and doing something that affects their local community," Kulczycki said.

EDUCATION

Student efforts providing food, shoes for the needy

BY MAGGIE WUNDERLICH
CORRESPONDENT

This holiday season, students from Canton Charter Academy and Salem High School are doing their part to help the needy in the U.S. and other countries.

Locally, CCA students are taking part in the Empty Bowls Project, a grassroots movement to help end hunger. The students started this project in November, when they began to create ceramic bowls.

Then, on Jan. 29, CCA will host a school-wide banquet where they serve a simple meal, in exchange for $10 donations. Banquet attendees will keep the empty bowls, as reminders of the hungry people in the world.

"At a time when our community is suffering economically, our school is extremely blessed and we thought this would be a good way to give back," said Michael Shank, CCA's art teacher. "It helps demonstrate our moral focus of generosity and it's a fun way to help, since the students enjoy playing with clay."

CCA will donate the money to Food Gatherers, Michigan's first food rescue program. This comes at a crucial time when the current level of hunger in America is the highest it's been since 1995. In fact, according to a USDA report, 2008 figures showed more than 49 million Americans at risk to go hungry.

CCA's Assistant Principal, Walter Reese, said, "We tell our students that we cannot cure all of the world's hunger," said CCA Assistant Principal Walter Reese, "but every little bit can go a long way."

For more information about how you can get involved, contact www.emptybowls.net.

Internationally, Salem Congress students took part in LIFE's Christmas Shoe Project, sponsored by LIFE Outreach International.

The idea behind the project is to collect money and, for each $3.60, a pair of shoes will be given to a needy child in underdeveloped countries such as Cambodia, Laos and some African countries.

"I was shocked that so many children didn't have shoes and contracted diseases through their bare feet," said Melanie Gingell, an 11th-grader who chaired the project.

Without shoes, these children are subjected to infections that can lead to crippling consequences, disease and even death. "It's a good way to improve the children's health," Gingell said.

Salem Congress consists of 28 students in ninth through 12th grades, and Ty Moss, a Salem Language Arts teacher, is their advisor.

"What helped to raise $400 was carrying around canisters for a couple of days," student

Kevin Chung said. "This way, more students became aware of this noble and helpful cause and gradually donated money."

Thanks to the efforts of Salem students, the children will receive 100 pairs of sturdy, all-terrain and waterproof shoes. LIFE Outreach International's goal is to provide 200,000 shoes around the world. For many children, this will be their only Christmas gift.

McCotter: Dems' health bill should be scrapped

BY KEN ABRAMCZYK
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

CONGRESSMAN THADDEUS MCCOTTER SPEAKS AT THE LIVONIA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROGRAM FRIDAY MORNING.

U.S. Rep. Thaddeus McCotter (R-Livonia) believes health insurance should be competitive and sold across state lines, government bail-out of banks was a failure and government stimulus packages do not help the American economy.

Those were some of McCotter's talking points Friday at Madonna University in Livonia, where he was the guest speaker for the Livonia Chamber of Commerce's monthly breakfast program.

McCotter, now in his fourth term as a congressman representing communities in western Wayne and western Oakland counties, stepped up to the podium and immediately started taking questions from the audience about health care and other national issues.

Chamber President Dan West took the highly unusual step of telling the audience before McCotter's appearance that anyone with video and audio recording devices at the event would be asked to leave. West also asked the audience to "keep questions civil."

On the bank bailout and the lack of credit available to the public, McCotter said: "We have to make sure Wall Street is decentralized, like the economy it serves, to ensure that community banks do not suffer problems due to regulatory problems due to overzealous government."

On health care, McCotter said the House Democrats' bill should be scrapped. "I don't know what the Senate is going to do," he said. "I don't know if the Senate knows what it's going to do, so we will have to wait and see."

McCotter quoted advice he received from U.S. Rep. John Dingell, who told McCotter after McCotter was first elected, that if congressional members wanted to get something done, they should start in the middle and work out in ulus funds. "That 'job creation' and funding is all going to go away," he said. "I call it the government bubble."

Afterward, chamber members reacted to McCotter's discussion.

Kathy Hoen said Congress needed to work toward a consensus on health care.

"I think he likes to keep things along the party line," said Hoen, who identifies herself as an independent. "People have to give a little bit to get things done."

She added: "I like his ideas about reduced government." Hoen believes that health care has to be driven by the marketplace, but she would like to see Republicans and Democrats work together on the issue.

Hoen also said McCotter should have spoken to the group more, rather than using a question and answer format. "I don't know if everyone knows exactly what he thinks," she said. "What is your position? Speak to the group. He has to remember that we are the people who put him there."

Margaret Lightner of the Botsford Commons Senior Community in Farmington Hills said she believed that McCotter is "reasonable in his approach" toward health care. She told McCotter she was concerned about reductions in Medicare payments under the health care proposal.

"With the Medicare cuts, fewer (senior) facilities will be open and there will be severe cuts in staff," Lightner said. With Medicaid cuts at the state level, she expects the reimbursement will be cut 5 percent in 2010.

"I think he understands the challenges," Lightner said. "Sometimes it's hard to make change when the ball is rolling down the hill."

Lightner agrees that health care reform is needed. "Don't give us more than we can handle," she added.

McCotter also shared his thoughts on government stim-

Plenty to do locally, even on Christmas day

BY DIANE GALE ANDREASSI
CORRESPONDENT

Whether it's last minute shopping, a place to eat or entertainment, many businesses are open on Christmas Day.

George Yarbenet, manager of Emagine Theater in Canton, says it's actually a "very busy day for us and it's mostly families."

The holidays are a busy season for movie theaters and most (Emagine in Canton and Novi, AMC-20 in Livonia) are open on Christmas, but independent and smaller theaters have different schedules, so call ahead.

"When I first started years ago (Christmas) was slow and over the years it has gotten busier and busier," Yarbenet says. "There's nothing on tv and nothing to do."

"Sherlock Holmes," rated PG-13, starring Robert Downey Jr., Jude Law and Rachel McAdams and opens on Christmas Day along with "It's Complicated," and "Nine."

Several area bowling lanes are open on Dec. 25. Super Bowl, 45100 Ford Road, (734) 459-6070 in Canton is open 5 p.m. to midnight. Vision Lanes, 38250 Ford Road, Westland, (734)641-8181 plans to be open 5 p.m. to 2 a.m.

"Generally we get a little rush at 6 p.m.," says Doug Sewesky, general manager at Canton's Super Bowl. "People are tired of sitting around at home. The last couple of years have been fairly steady all evening. There are a lot of families who come out. Bowling is a great family activity, because everyone is together and it's good for all ages, from four year olds to the grandparents."

If you need to purchase a last minute gift, Walgreens and CVS Pharmacy locations throughout the area are the best bet. Meijer, Kmart, Walmart and Target along with major malls are closed. Dec. 25 is the only day of the year that Meijer stores are closed. Most 24-hour Walgreens and CVS Pharmacy locations will be open for business on Christmas.

There should be no problem finding a place to eat on Christmas Day, especially if you like Asian or other ethnic cuisine. Most area Asian restaurants (dine-in and carry-out) are open including: Asian Buffet and Sushi on Five Mile and Sheldon roads in Plymouth Township (open 11 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.); Panda Buffet on Warren Road in Westland (11 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.); Great Wall (take-out), 45100 Ford Road, Canton; Red Dragon (dine-in or take out), 44515 W. Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth Township from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.).

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Bowlers looking for something to do on Christmas Day will be happy to know Super Bowl in Canton is scheduled to be open.

The International House of Pancakes (IHOP), on Schoolcraft and Middlebelt is open Christmas Day from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Coffee drinkers looking for their java fix on Christmas Day can stop in at the Caribou Coffee, on Haggerty and Six Mile in Livonia, (9 a.m. to 3 p.m.) or the Dunkin' Donuts inside the BP Station, 39600 E. Ann Arbor Road, just east of I-275 which is always open.

Sweet Lorraine's in the Livonia Marriott Laurel Park Place at Six Mile and I-275 is open on Christmas from 7 a.m. to noon for a breakfast buffet and from 1-9 p.m. featuring a special holiday a la carte menu. Reservations will be taken, but walk-ins are welcome, too.

"There are a lot of people with family coming and for one reason or another they don't want to cook," explains Pamela Conrad, Sweet Lorraine's restaurant manager.

"There are very few places that are open on Christmas," Conrad says. "It's Chinese or a hotel restaurant and we happen to be a really great restaurant in a hotel."

As far as getting employees to work on Christmas, Conrad says, it really isn't that hard.

"We know it's (Christmas) coming and it's the same time every year," Conrad jokes.

"And you have a large enough staff where some people want to work the holidays and some request it off." For many businesses, Christmas is the only day of the year that they are closed. For instance, the local pub or beer and wine shop won't be open. The Michigan Liquor Control Commission prohibits sale of alcoholic beverages after 9 p.m. on Dec 24 and on Christmas Day.

Canton aces test

BY TIM SMITH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Canton's boys basketball team capped off the 2009 portion of the schedule in grand style, defeating South Lyon 62-48 Thursday night in a KLAA crossover.

The Chiefs (2-2) now prepare for 2010, feeling pretty good about prospects for the rest of the season, having knocked off the defending KLAA Kensington Conference champions.

"South Lyon was the conference champ last year, so it's a good win for us," Canton first-year head coach Jimmy Reddy said. "I'm proud of the kids for the way they competed and came back after a tough loss on Tuesday (against Birmingham Seaholm).

"Now we have 17 days off and we'll try to get better and see where we're at after Christmas."

Canton, with an offense featuring Kevin Weisz (19 points, 10 rebounds) and Dietrich Lever (17 points, 10 assists), hit the ground running against the Lions to build a 28-12 halftime lead.

That lead remained substantial (44-24) entering the fourth quarter, and only in the final eight minutes did South Lyon put anything together.

"They (Lions) turned up the pressure and made four threes in the fourth and forced some turnovers," Reddy said. "But we held on."

The closest South Lyon got to the Chiefs was nine points, not nearly close enough to cause any panic on the Canton sidelines.

Paul Baumgart also had a solid game for Canton, with 10 points and nine rebounds.

Reddy said excellent team defense held the Lions' top scorers (Aaron Shelt and Jeff Schmitz) to 10 points each.

Next up for the Chiefs is a game at 7 p.m. Monday, Jan. 4, at Utica Eisenhower.

Plymouth's Mike Nadratowski tries to move past Salem defender Blake Hayes during Thursday's varsity boys basketball game.

Wildcats flex muscle, drop Rocks

BY TIM SMITH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

Never trailing all night, Plymouth rolled over district rival Salem in a KLAA varsity boys basketball matchup Thursday.

The host Wildcats parlayed physical play, defensive energy and some long-range shooting into a 51-38 triumph. Plymouth (2-1) built an 18-14 lead after one quarter and maintained that edge until the fourth.

That's when the Wildcats — up 38-33 after three — went on an 11-0 tear to completely seal Salem's fate.

"We put together a two-minute stretch in the fourth quarter where we really saw glimpses of the team we can become," Plymouth head coach Mike Soukup said. "We had great pressure, we were an attacking team the entire time and our defense was tremendous."

Sparking the impressive run was scrappy, 6-4 junior forward Pat Salo (10 points), who canned a trey from the left corner (converting a nifty feed from under the bucket by Brennen Beyer) and followed up moments later with a driving move to the rim for another basket.

"Pat really had his best game for us tonight," Soukup said. "He was in attacking mode."

Before long, senior guard Dion Johnson (10 points) forced a turnover and raced in for a layup to make it 45-33 with six minutes left.

Finishing up the surge was junior guard Mike Nadratowski (10 points) with a pair of layups.

Finally, Salem senior center Jake Peterson (13 points) sank a jumper from the top of the key, which only cut the Plymouth lead to 49-35 midway through the fourth.

IN SYNC

According to Soukup, "every guy was clicked and dialed in" for the surge, which started with unrelenting defensive pressure.

"Salem's got some wide-bodied young men and they were competing very hard and they execute well, they're well-coached," Soukup said. "We were able to take them out of some of their sets and exert our will defensively, and that's just what we're looking to do the entire season."

Once again, the Wildcats featured the sandpaper style of 6-5 power forward Beyer — a force in the paint at both ends of the floor. He finished with 12 points and 10 rebounds.

"He played a heck of a game down there tonight," Soukup said.

Salem head coach Bob Brodie, whose team dropped to 1-1, said the young Rocks did not execute well on offense and wound up veering away from the kind of team basketball that leads to victories.

"You've got to share the basketball," Brodie said. "It's not an individual game and in a lot of cases we didn't let the ball come out of our hands enough and we didn't execute our offense like we're supposed to. When you do that, you're going to lose some basketball games."

CANTON 54, SOUTH LYON 27: Kari Schmitt's double-double (14 points, 13 rebounds) sparked the visiting Chiefs to a resounding KLAA crossover road victory Thursday night.

Kari Schmitt led a balanced offensive attack, which also included eight-point games from Sara Schmitt, Kayla Bridges and CarolAnn Sexauer.

"But we still need to continue to work on crashing the boards offensively," said Canton head coach Brian Samulski, whose team improved to 3-1.

The Chiefs came out firing on all cylinders, building a 17-2 lead after one quarter and extended that edge to 42-20 after three.

"Overall it was a pretty solid team effort," Samulski said. "We held them under 30 points, so that's good. In the first half we wanted to get after them defensively and I thought we did that."

Samulski said an important aspect of the win was the play of Robyn Mack, Melanie Pickert and Alyssa Cottrell against the Lions' top player (Kristen Short, six points). Pickert and Lindsey Winters helped out on offense, too, with five points each.

SALEM 49, PLYMOUTH 31: In Thursday's district matchup at Salem, the Rocks were paced by 15 points and 11 rebounds by Sara Stone as well as 13 points each from Brett deBear and Rachel Norman.

Plymouth's top scorer was Stacey Klonowski, with 21 points, while Tabitha Mann added six points for Salem (3-2).

"We kind of held our own, we had a good start and played well for our last game before the break," Salem head coach Fred Thomann said.

Salem led 17-10 after one quarter and 24-14 at halftime before breaking the game open in the third thanks to a

Wildcats springing toward regional goal

BY TIM SMITH
OBSERVER STAFF WRITER

The season just started, yet Plymouth's gymnastics team is already planning for the stretch run.

Jump-starting the enthusiasm was an impressive showing in Monday's season opener against perennial powerhouse Northville — the Wildcats lost 145.45-129.75, falling one point short of setting a school record.

With that showing, Plymouth wasted no time collecting the first of four 120-or-better team scores required to qualify for the regionals. And head coach Pam Yockey and the girls won't rest until they become the first Plymouth squad in five years to make it that far.

"They have a good attitude, they want it," Yockey said during Thursday's practice. "They're very determined and hard workers."

Yockey likes the work ethic as well as the fact her squad will always be up against some of the top teams in

GYMNASTICS PREVIEW

Michigan, with eight of 12 teams in the KLAA Kensington Conference qualifying for the state meet in 2008-09. One of those was Northville.

"What's really nice is they're always competing against the highest level," she said. "So it really makes them work hard."

Also a good sign for a strong season was the fact seven girls set 17 individual qualifying scores for regionals against the Mustangs. That group includes juniors Natalia Dilacovo and Jessica Luibakka, sophomores Reagan Engstrom (captain) and Alisha Punjabi and freshmen all-arounder Sarah Uhlian, Teilor Duncan and Jane McCurry.

Those seven bring consistency and promise at the same time.

"We have a real strong team that's balanced all the way across," Yockey said. "They're just all very consistent and at the same level. At this point, Sarah is probably one of our strongest."

Having that much depth is essential to competing against the KLAA powerhouses.

"It means if one girl has a bad day, the others pick it up," Yockey said. "They're all scoring at just about the same level."

Yockey said Duncan and McCurry are new to competitive gymnastics: "Two of our beginners actually scored for regional qualifying and they've never competed in their life."

The Wildcats, meanwhile, have others who should contribute. At the top of that list are Shante Parks and Lydia Plencner.

"I'm expecting (Parks and Plencner) to add greatly to the team's performance in the future," said Yockey, who is assisted this season by coaches Meghan Negele and Shawdi Dasger.

Prep bowling

PLYMOUTH 16, NORTHVILLE 14 (BOYS): Visiting Plymouth defeated the Mustangs at Superbowl Thursday, led by Justin Thompson (218-180-398), Rob Korstjens (183-214-397) and Antonio Spinale (169-196-365) as the Wildcats tallied scores of 894 and 931 for team games 1 and 2.

Joseph Langell rolled a 168 in the opener, while Brandon Congdon's 170 helped out in the second match.

Evan Grimme (156-171-327) also had a solid day. Northville, meanwhile, captured both Baker matches, 197-170 and 189-176.

NORTHVILLE 30, PLYMOUTH 0 (GIRLS): The host Mustangs rolled Thursday, winning the Baker matches (140-101, 175-123) and going on for 829-582 and 803-713 wins in the regular matches.

For the Wildcats, Allyson Gibbs (111-158-269), Alyssa Conrad (125-121-246), Mandy Martin (125-147-272), Kristyn Sturtz (122-155-277) and Mackenzie Carlson (99-158-257) provided the scoring.

CANTON 16, CLARENCEVILLE 14 (BOYS): On Monday at Town 'N Country Lanes in Westland, Canton lost a "strike-fest" in the first Baker game and came up short, losing 224-222 to the Trojans. But the Chiefs bounced back in the second Baker game with six quick strikes and finishing strong for a 253-184 victory.

In the team games, Canton fell behind early in the first game and couldn't make up the difference, despite Ross Terrasi's 198, Casey Bindas' 195 and Andrew Klein's 194.

After a pep talk, Canton recovered to win 973-933 in the second game, paced by Terrasi (223) and Kurt Kowalski (217). Those big games, plus anchor Klein's two-pin win, sealed the victory for the Chiefs.

In the JV match, Trevor Cummins (235-227-462) and Alex Champagne (242) sparked a 22-8 victory.

Meanwhile, the girls match between the Chiefs and Trojans was conceded, due to Clarenceville fielding only four bowlers. Ashley Cade (144-169-313), Allison Fries (144) and freshman Charlotte Zimmer (160-174-334) all had strong outings for the Chiefs.

GRAND BLANC 21, CANTON 9

(GIRLS): On Sunday at Wonderland Lanes in Commerce, the Chiefs came out of the game with a 200 game in the first Baker game, 65 pins better than Grand Blanc. But the magic quickly faded in Baker Game 2 (a 145-143 loss) despite four strikes in a row by both teams over the final two frames.

In the team games, Grand Blanc won 810-685 in the opener despite a 184 tally from Charlotte Zimmer. In Game 2, the Chiefs lost 774-655. Top Canton performers were junior captain Ashley Cade (155) and Jackie Polaski (151).

GRAND BLANC 19, CANTON 11 (BOYS): The Chiefs lost 206-179 in the first Baker tilt only to bounce back (192-181) in the followup.

In team action, the Bobcats caught fire and never looked back, with games ranging from 212-259 for a 1,165 series (Canton tallied 1,002). The lone point for the Chiefs was collected by junior Andrew Klein, who managed to throw a fine 232 game against the carnage.

But then the Chiefs brought in the heavy artillery for a 1,046-1,040 win in the second team game. Junior Ryan Washburn came off the bench and after an opening frame spare proceeded to throw eight straight strikes until a stubborn 7-pin ended the run. Washburn rolled a 268 game, augmented by junior Ross Terrasi's 245 to keep Canton close.

In the 10th frame, Klein carried all 10 pins when the Chiefs needed it most.

SALEM 17, PLYMOUTH 13 (BOYS): On Monday at Town 'N Country Lanes, great performances by Kyle Newcomb (227-222-449) and Ryan Clark (232-256-488) enabled the Rocks to earn the victory in a hard-fought matchup.

Top Plymouth performances were turned in by Justin Thompson (263 in the second game), Kyle Webb (222-230-452) and Brandon Congdon (208-224-432).

The Rocks JV team lost 19-11 to Plymouth despite excellent efforts from freshman Kevin Williams (183-243-426) and Elliot Stout (224). For the Wildcats, Joey McBride (205) and Kyle Webb (203-235-438) had big games.

PLYMOUTH 15.5, SALEM 14.5 (GIRLS): A 200 game by Plymouth's Kristin Sturtz gave the Wildcats just enough to get over the hump Monday in an evenly matched dual meet, at Town 'N Country.

W.L. CENTRAL 19, PLYMOUTH 11 (BOYS): After the Wildcats won both Baker games Sunday at Wonderland Lanes, the Vikings took control in the team games. Plymouth's Congdon rolled a 234 while Thompson (202) and Evan Grimme (202) also had productive outings.

Canton girls, Salem boys earn bowling wins

District rivals Canton and Salem met for the first time this prep bowling season, Thursday night at Superbowl. The matches provided intensity throughout.

In the girls varsity match (Canton 28, Salem 2), it was high drama right from the start as Canton held a slim lead all the way through the first Baker game, and pulled out a 126-111 win.

In the second Baker game, every pin counted as each team leapfrogged the other all the way through 10 frames, with Canton squeaking out a 125-123 victory.

In the first team game, Canton found its groove and posted wins across the board. Led by junior Cheryl Cosby's 213 game, Canton was well supported by fellow junior Ashley Cade's 167 and senior Lauren O'Bradovich's 154.

Salem's Kristin Larkins led her squad with a 142, followed closely by Ashley Kretschmer with 139.

In the second team game, pesky Salem stayed close until Canton closed strong, winning by a score of 730-642.

Cosby continued her exceptional performance, leading Canton with a 162. Cade contributed a 156 and senior Chelsie "Huz" Husband kicked in a fine 147 game.

Salem's top scorers were Kretschmer (144) and Rachel Amodio, who threw a 141 game.

Boys match

Salem won the boys match, 24-6, but it wasn't that easy.

The Rocks stayed consistent in the first Baker game while Canton missed some key spares. Salem's 179-152 victory gave the Rocks confidence, and they pounded on Canton 236-166 in the second Baker game.

In the first team game, the lead changed too many times to count and Salem found the winning formula with key strikes in the 10th frame.

Led by a pair of 207's from senior Shaun Schmidt and junior Ryan Clark, the Rocks won by the skinny margin of just 11 pins, 881-870. Canton was paced by sophomore David Blythe's 214, and junior Andrew Klein's 196.

In the second team game, the Chiefs came out strong, covering most spares and looking to win the game and capture totals. Canton's Klein matched the Rocks' Clark with six in a row from the 2nd through 7th frames. With a 50-pin lead in the 8th frame, Canton watched the Rocks pull closer as each player for each team tried desperately to help their own cause.

The Chiefs' lead shrunk to less than 30 pins going into the 10th and final frame.

Key spares and strikes by the Rocks Kevin Williams and Tyler Foley brought Salem within 10 pins as the game and match wound down to the anchor men for both teams.

Going first was Canton's Klein went first, and he left a single pin, while Salem's Clark buried his first shot for a strike. Klein would go on to make his spare, and strike on the ensuing shot, but another strike by Clark in the 11th led to a 248 game and sealed the victory for Salem.

JUNIOR VARSITY: In the boys JV match, Salem won the initial Baker game, 136 to Canton's 128.

From then on, Canton settled down and evened the match with a 176-160 toll.

In the team games, senior Trevor Cummins continued strong play this week as he threw 243 and 227 (to go with a 227 and a 235 earlier this week against Clarenceville) to lead the Chiefs.

Junior Justin Newton tossed a fine 207 game and senior Billy Keppen contributed a 190. For the Rocks, Evan Ross was solid with a 207 and Eric Snyder helped his team with a 171.

PLYMOUTH 28, NORTHVILLE 2 (JV BOYS): On Thursday at Superbowl, the Wildcats junior varsity boys team received excellent showings from Matt Bracey (201, 161 - 362), Zach Behr (187, 174 - 361), Ryan Riva (165, 174 - 339) and Mike Brasseur (174, 149 - 323).

Bowling loses a legend in Lindemann

Over the past 21 years of writing this bowling column, this story is the most painful to put into print.

Older bowlers will easily recognize the name Tony Lindemann. He was in a car accident several weeks ago in which he suffered some serious injuries. After hospitalization he went into rehab at St. Johns Hospital and seemed to be making some progress.

But unfortunately his 90 year-old body did not have enough fight left and he passed away on Dec. 4 in his sleep.

Lindemann was a fierce competitor on the lanes, but a soft-spoken, easy-going gentleman off the lanes. Tony moved to Detroit in 1942 and soon developed enough talent to become a member of the fabulous Stroh's team. He bowled with Stroh's for 11 years, the last four of which he was captain.

In 1951 Tony won practically every title available, including the ABC Individual All-Events with 2,005 and his Stroh's team won the All-Events crown. He and Buzz Fazio captured the BPAA Doubles Match Game title from Ned Day and Buddy Bomar and he led Stroh's to the BPAA Team Match Game championship.

He capped the year by being voted to the All-American Team and won the "King of Bowling" title in Detroit by averaging 205, 211 and 213 in the Major Classic Leagues. He won BPAA Championships in 1951 through 1955, leading his team to an unprecedented five consecutive BPAA Match Game titles. He also had six 300 games and three 800 series with a high of 803. His last 300 game was on March 19, 1994 at the ABC Tournament in Mobile, Ala., making him the oldest person to ever have shot a 300 game in the national tournament at the age of 74.

Ten Pin Alley

Tony has won virtually every local and state title available, including the 1952 State Doubles Match Game Championship, 1953 State Singles and All Events and 1957 and 1958 City Tournament Team events with Stroh's.

At the age of 86 he led his team to the Senior Team Championship of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association with a 683 series. The same year he averaged 200 in one of the three leagues he participated in. He served on the GDBA Board of Directors for 16 years and was the last president of the GDBA prior to the merger in 2006. He was an ABC, State of Michigan and Greater Detroit Hall-of-Famer and was one of the all-time greatest bowlers to come out of the Detroit area.

He competed during a different era when bowling was king, especially in Detroit

He will be remembered as a true gentleman and a fine ambassador for the sport of bowling.

The 79th annual Old Timers tournament was held Nov. 28 at Thunderbowl Lanes. Our local senior shooters did themselves proud as 85-year-old Jack Dahlstrom of Redford captured the 80-and-over age category with 228-206-235 - 669.

In the 70-74 age group Phil Horowitz (70) of West Bloomfield took second place with a set of 238-259-223 - 720, followed by William Swain (71) from Westland 225-235-200 - 660. In the Under 50 group, it was Garrett Nagle (43) of Westland who led the way with 2500-216-258 - 691 while Brian Snapke (46), also a Westlander, came in third with scores of 228-259-204 - 691. Ernie Segura Jr. (49) of Taylor came in second in this group with 235-248-22 - 710 while his dad, Ernie Segura Sr. of Brownstown was scoring 234-190-258 - 662 good for third place in the 75-79 group.

The overall champion was Len Cianciolo (67) of Warren with a sweet score of 267-218-258 - 743. High Game honors went to James Robinson, Jr. with a 299 game. There were 550 bowlers signed up, which is a reflection of the fine effort as usual by John Chmelko Sr. and Jr. both of whom worked diligently as always to make it happen.

Tony Lindemann was the president this year of the Old Timers, and he had sent a message to the bowlers from his hospital bed wishing everyone good luck in the tournament. Ted Kress of Redford was the M.C. for both squads and also led the singing of the National Anthem.

The United States Bowling Congress has developed a new system for setting up specific lane conditions to apply to regular house leagues. They will call it Red, White and Blue conditions.

Red will be the easiest, white will be somewhat harder and the blue would be the more challenging. Every league will have the opportunity to choose which condition it would like to bowl on.

This new formula will start with the 2010-2011 season in some test markets.

The idea evolved from the Sport Condition venture which has proven popular among the professional bowlers. The pros are skillful enough to figure out the best way to score well on each of these conditions.

On Jan. 3, 2010, the Pro Bowlers Tour will bowl the Red, White and Blue conditions on the Sunday ESPN-TV show from Wichita, Kan. This may turn out to be a good viewing opportunity for bowling leagues such as your's and mine.

Al Harrison is a resident of Southfield, and a member of the Bowling Writers Association of America and the Detroit Bowling Hall of Fame. He can be reached by email: tenpinalley710@yahoo.com.

Canton icers fall to Churchill

BILL BRESLER | STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

There was plenty of exciting one-on-one action Thursday, such as Salem point guard Devonta Riley (No. 12) working against Plymouth's Dion Johnson.

The Livonia Churchill boys hockey gave coach Pete Mazzoni the birthday present he was desperately looking for Wednesday night.

The Chargers, who hadn't gotten into the win column since their season opener on Nov. 20, skated to a 2-1 KLAAs South Division triumph over host Canton at the Arctic Edge.

"It was a good team win, we needed a win to keep pace with everybody else," said the 41-year-old Mazzoni, whose team is 2-4-2 overall and 1-2-1 in the division. "It's been the longest (winless) stretch since I've been here. We just needed it. We play everybody once in our (Kensington) conference, so they all count. We're close and I hope this is a step in the right direction."

According to Canton head coach Jeremy Majszak, his team had plenty of chances to even up the contest during the third period, but could not net the equalizer against Churchill goalie Aaron Crouse (21 saves).

"We just ran out of time," Majszak said. "We had some real good opportunities but we just couldn't get the puck into the net."

Canton's Jordan Smith opened the scoring at 6:03 of the first period off assists from Kyle Korte and A.J. Rosales, but Churchill answered at the 11:09 mark on Chris Papaioannou's power-play goal from Mike Woynick.

Jake Otto then tallied what proved to be the game-winner with 7:59 left in the second period off an assist from Steven Klisz.

Max Sexton played well in defeat, making 31 saves for the Chiefs, who slipped to 3-4-1 overall and 0-2-1 in the KLAAs South.

STEVENSON 3, PLYMOUTH 2: A pair of first-period goals held up Wednesday as host Livonia Stevenson (5-1-1, 2-0-1) shaved the Wildcats (7-2-1, 1-1-1) in a Kensington Conference cross-over at Edgar Arena.

The Spartans jumped out to a 2-0 lead on Tim Pruchnik's fifth goal of the year from Jacob Poynter and Evan Malick followed by J.J. Petterson second of the season, a power-play effort from John Strauch.

Strauch added a power-play goal in the second period from Petterson as the Spartans outshot Plymouth 15-4.

The Wildcats got a goal and assist each from Ryan Renault and Pat Smiatacz.

Stevenson netminder Danny Sager, who stopped 26-of-28 shots, got his fourth win of the year.

Michael Justus made 29 saves for the Wildcats.

BASKETBALL

He added that Salem's inside game was not where he wants it to be.

"We got it in there when we wanted it," Brodie said. "But it was just too cramped and congested. Our spacing was off."

Brodie did praise the work of sophomore forward Tyler Stewart (seven points), who "was pretty steady for us. He controls the ball and does the things we expect of him."

NO CIGAR

The Rocks managed to make it 8-8 midway through the first thanks to consecutive treys by junior guard Devonta Riley (accounting for his six points).

It was 14-14 following a layup by senior guard Blake Hayes (five points), but two foul shots by Beyer and a high-glasser by Nadratowski opened up an 18-14 edge after the opening quarter.

The same pattern continued, with Salem getting close only to falter yet again. With about three minutes left in the second, buckets by Hayes and junior guard Josh Perrin sliced the Plymouth advantage to 25-23.

But Wildcats junior forward Jake Morris skied for a defensive rebound, then dribbled down to the other end for a layup, making it 27-23 at intermission. A 6-2 run opened the third, with Johnson accounting for four of those points.

If Salem had any late hopes of a rally, following a triple by Stewart with about 2:30 left in the third, they were dashed shortly thereafter when Salo's three-ball from the right wing found the mark.

"They beat us in every phase tonight, give them the credit," Brodie said. "But we're young and it's only our second game. Hopefully we'll get better, but it's not going to be easy. We've got to do a lot of work."

FOOD

Snow day delights

It's true — the kitchen is the heart of the home. Ever notice how people always gather there? Whether baking treats, making dinner or spending time with family and friends, the kitchen is my favorite place to be. Since my day job is Consumer Test Kitchen project manager for the Nestlé Test Kitchens, you can bet I love to stir things up. This column lets me pass along to you some of my best recipes, tips and baking secrets. Gray winter skies keep many a kid peering out the windows, hoping to hear two magic words — snow day! When snow or bad weather keeps the family indoors for too long, however, the excitement can fade into boredom if you're not prepared.

That's why I like to keep a few tricks up my sleeve to turn snow day doldrums into snow day delights. What can you add to this list?

- Indoor picnic. Turn the family room into a picnic area with blankets and fun foods. Have the kids draw outdoor scenes for a cheery backdrop.
- Scavenger hunt. Give them fun clues that will have them searching all over the house for silly items. Who knows — they might even find those missing toys.
- Old-fashioned forts. Pull out blankets and sheets and let them turn the living room or dining room into a fort or secret hideout. You'll be amazed at how long they can entertain themselves.
- Baking goodies together. Of course, this is my favorite thing to do. I love this fun recipe for Snow Day Cookie Shovels — they're a real treat after shoveling real snow!

For more baking ideas to warm up your snow days, visit www.TollHouse.com.

SNOW DAY COOKIE SHOVELS

Makes 24 servings

1 package (16.5 ounces) Nestlé Toll House Refrigerated Chocolate Chip Cookie Bar Dough

12 pretzel rods, broken in half

1 cup (6 ounces) Nestlé Toll House Premier White Morsels, divided

2 teaspoons vegetable shortening

½ cup mini marshmallows

White decorator sprinkles or sugars, sweetened flakes coconut (optional)

PREHEAT oven to 350° F. Grease three baking sheets.

BREAK dough along pre-scored lines. Place eight squares of cookie dough about three inches apart onto each prepared baking sheet. Insert broken end of pretzel rod into each square of cookie dough; flatten dough slightly to form a rectangle. Flatten each square slightly with fingers to form a rectangle, about 1½-inches long by 1-inches wide. Refrigerate for 15 minutes.

BAKE for 14 to 16 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from oven and immediately pat sides of each shovel with edge of knife to form straight sides. Cool on baking sheets for two minutes; remove to wire racks to cool completely.

LINE cooled baking sheets with wax paper.

MICROWAVE ¾ cup morsels and shortening in small, uncovered, microwave-safe bowl on MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent) power for 45 seconds; STIR. Morsels may retain some of their original shape. If necessary, microwave at additional 10- to 15-second intervals, stirring just until morsels are melted.

DIP bottom 1-inch edge of each cookie shovel in melted morsels; scraping bottom of shovel along edge of bowl to remove excess. Place on prepared baking sheets. Immediately sprinkle dipped end of each shovel with remaining ¼ cup morsels, mini marshmallows and sprinkles. Refrigerate for 20 minutes or until set. Store shovels between layers of wax paper in covered containers at room temperature.

NOTES:
1½ cups Nestlé Toll House

Refrigerated Chocolate Chip Cookie Tub Dough can be substituted for the bar dough. Roll dough into 24, 1½-inch balls. Refrigerating dough shovels before baking helps cookies retain their shape during baking.

Keep chocolate, holly, tinsel away from pets

Joyful holiday traditions can pose serious risks for four-legged family members. The Michigan Humane Society (MHS) offers the following tips for keeping pets safe during the busy holiday season:

- Holiday plants can be harmful or toxic, including mistletoe, holly, poinsettias, Japanese yew, Jerusalem cherry, lilies and the bulb of the amaryllis plant. Contact your veterinarian immediately if your companion animal is vomiting, lethargic or foaming at the mouth.
- Keep animals away from holiday decorations and never leave them unsupervised around the Christmas tree. Tinsel, ribbon, bows and angel hair — which many cats find irresistible — are choking hazards and can cause intestinal blockages if swallowed. Glass balls may be “fetched” off the tree and break. Also, ingested pine needles can puncture the intestines, so vacuum around the tree frequently.
- Preservatives, aspirin — which is especially deadly to cats — or sugar commonly used to prolong a Christmas tree’s life may prove harmful if the water is ingested; even without preservatives, the water may contain harmful fertilizers from the tree.
- Make sure lights and electrical cords are out of reach. Besides the risk of electrocution, the whole tree may topple over.
- Secure four-legged family members while entertaining. More guests mean more chances for a pet to slip out; as always, be sure he is wearing a collar and ID tag. In conjunction with a visible tag for each pet, MHS highly recommends microchips as a permanent, safe and effective form of identification.

- Some pets are social butterflies who enjoy the extra activity of the holidays, but others may prefer peace and quiet. Provide a safe place away from all the commotion with favorite toys, food and water, a litter box for cats, quiet background music, and comfy bedding.
- Hold the leftovers. A taste or two may be okay for most pets, but a drastic change in a pet’s diet can cause severe gastrointestinal upset and require emergency medical attention. Never give animals poultry or steak bones, which can splinter or lodge in the throat, stomach or intestinal tract. Also, be sure the garbage is secured.

Chocolate is poisonous to dogs and can prove fatal depending on the dog’s size and the amount and type of chocolate ingested. The safest rule is to keep all chocolate out of a dog’s reach.

- Lighted candles should never be left unattended, especially with animals around.
- Alcohol and pets do not mix. Keep alcoholic drinks where animals can not reach them. If ingested, the animal could become very sick and weak, possibly resulting in respiratory failure.

ADOPTABLE GREYHOUNDS

Domino

Greyheart Greyhound Rescue and Adoption found homes for five greyhounds this month, but has other retired racers that are looking for permanent homes.

“I believe people are beginning to see the benefits of their docile and lay back personalities. Not to mention that they are mature dogs without the puppy chewing and all that goes along with adopting a puppy,” said Jackie Bowen, Greyheart spokeswoman.

Bowen hopes Dom and Tinkerbell also find homes this month. Here’s what Greyheart says about them:

Domino is this 3½-year-old greyhound’s racing name, but he’s also called Dom. He is white with black markings on his sleek and beautiful coat. He’s very friendly and loving. If you’re looking for that special guy for under your Christmas tree, you’ll fall in love with Dom.

Tinkerbell is a 4-year-old girl with a fawn color coat. She is stunningly beautiful. She loves to cuddle and be close to people.

If you want to meet Dom or Tinkerbell, call Greyheart Greyhound Rescue and Adoption at (866) 438-4739. Check out other photos of both dogs at www.greyheart.org

Cash paid out without any return

Before I give you the content of an e-mail sent to me by Phyllis of Redford, let me tell you that Walter’s Appliance, with three store locations in the area, is no longer in business. It is a shame to lose one of the old-timers in the appliance business as they have sold products to thousands for many years.

If anyone else has a story similar to the one you are about to read, please get in touch with me. Phyllis writes: “Hi Joe, Enjoy reading your column in the Observer and learn a lot from your advice.

I thought maybe you could direct me to the proper place for help. I purchased a GE refrigerator in August of 2007. The first part of my problem is my disappointment with the product. I was replacing a harvest gold Hotpoint refrigerator that was purchased in the 70s. Never had a problem with the old frig but was tired of the color and knew it was time for an energy-efficient model. I do not like this GE I purchased. The first few months I had it I had to have the ice maker changed. It was literally throwing ice cubes around the freezer. Then I noticed items in the freezer seemed to go from frozen to soft and back to frozen. GE replaced the thermostat. Now comes my second problem.

“I purchased the GE refrigerator and a Whirlpool microwave oven with a two-year extended warranty on both appliances from Walter’s Home Appliances, now out of business. I called GE to have them check this crummy refrigerator and was told I did not have an extended warranty. So I checked with Whirlpool (no problems with the microwave, no service needed) just checking on the warranty, and was told I also did not have an extended warranty with them. What Walters did was take my money and run and never sent in the paperwork to the manufacturers for the extended warranty. Good learning experience, make sure to get the warranty papers in hand.

“I contacted GE Money Bank, who I financed through, asking for a refund because I did not receive the merchandise, but account is closed and they paid Walters and I paid GE. Wrote the Attorney General Mike Cox and that went nowhere. My problem is with the freezer. Anything, especially bread, left more than a couple of weeks gets freezer burn. Anything in a box or can is covered with frost and boxes are soft like they were wet. Bar on the door has frost and ice formations. I’ve dialed down but it doesn’t seem to help. With no warranty, service calls can be costly. Any ideas what I can do? Any help would be appreciated. Thank you.”

Well Phyllis, your story reminds me of the days way back when Highland Appliance went out of business. Different book with the same page. I only hope this was a mistake on the part of Walter’s and if not, I may be asked to help a whole lot of homeowners. If this becomes the case, I would expect the Attorney General to make haste with his assistance. Remember, he is running for the Governor’s office. For right now, I have asked my son Mark who owns the Appliance Doctor Service Company in Livonia to perform the necessary service call and labor on your GE refrigerator. Mark will only charge you for any needed parts at his cost and he is very versed on your products. You may call his office at (734) 953-6991. Stay tuned.

Joe Gagnon can be heard at 8 a.m., Saturdays on WAAM 1600 and Sundays at 2 p.m. on WDTK 1400. You can e-mail your problems and questions on appliances to appldr@twmi.rr.com

Volunteer project touches teens, adults, hospice patients

BY SHARON DARGAY
OSE STAFF WRITER

Diane Bergendahl extends a simple invitation to teens every December.

"We tell them it's the second Saturday and bring your pruners and come help."

And they do, year after year.

Last year more than 50 teens and adults answered the call to make evergreen arrangements under the guidance of Bergendahl and other Livonia Garden Club members. About 25 pitched in this month to craft the pieces, which Angela Hospice delivered to families in its home care program.

"I think it's a worthwhile thing to do for Christmas. It's reaching out to others in need and we have a good feeling when we're done with 75 arrangements, and knowing who they are going to. Hopefully it will brighten their Christmas," Bergendahl said.

Livonia Garden Club members were looking for a service project 18 years ago when they suggested making holiday arrangements for hospice patients. They made 50 arrangements that first year and then gradually expanded to 75 as more teens, some of them earning community service credits for school, volunteered.

"We supply everything that goes in the arrangements," said Marilyn Irwin, member. "We're happy to do this. It's something that's on our calendar every year. Angela Hospice is happy to receive it. And the kids are happy to learn to make arrangements."

"It's pretty challenging, although I find kids are always open to learn something new. The girls — and we even have male students come — feel so good when they see what they've actually accomplished and made."

Teens show off their completed arrangements before they are delivered to Angela Hospice.

Volunteers add evergreens and place pine cones, ribbons and other decorations, giving each arrangement a personal touch.

Adults, girl scout troops and individual teens hear about the project through word of mouth. Jessica Crachiola, Emily Fradette, Hannah Gove, Kristen Karwan, Julianna Schneider and Julia Wolgram represented Troop 40916 from Livonia at this month's session.

NEW SKILL

Emina DiCello, a senior at Stevenson High School in Livonia, has volunteered for two years out of a personal interest rather than for service credit.

"I know Diane Bergendahl and I like to help out. It was so much fun. It was fun to learn something new."

She said the arranging seemed a bit overwhelming at first, but most volunteers catch on quickly.

Emma used her new-found skill to make three arrangements at home for her family.

"It was fun teaching my mom something she didn't know how to do," she added.

Volunteers spend two hours making two or three of the evergreen decorations, working together in a room at Angela Hospice.

"We do lots of wonderful projects around here, but this is my favorite. The outreach from this project is great," said Donna Kolodsick of Angela Hospice. "It's an amazing project because it touches so many people in different ways. It's encouraging people to know the benefit and rewards of volunteering is a good thing. These young people are learning that and they are learning a skill. And the garden club members are sharing something they love."

Kolodsick said holiday decorating often is put on the back burner when a family member is ill.

"To have someone arrive at the house with an unexpected gift says that the community cares."

The Livonia Garden Club meets at 7 p.m., the first Tuesday of the month, at the Livonia Senior Center, Five Mile and Farmington. Dues are $20 a year. Julia Hofley will be the guest speaker in January with a presentation on creating unforgettable home entrances.

JOINT INJECTIONS: WHY SUCCESSFUL, WHY NOT

When a doctor injects a joint with cortisone, he does it in a logical manner that over years becomes habit. The physician rarely alters his routine. So the physician is surprised when the patient returns and says that the last injection didn't work, or on over occasions, the patient remarks that the last injection was really good, and asks the doctor to do it the same way again.

What the doctor believes is that in the not so successful injections the patient placed unusual strain on the knee or shoulder or that the usefulness of the injections is coming to an end.

The purpose of joint injection is to retard the return of irritation to an impaired joint such as the knee or shoulder. Certainly one reason that an injection fails is that the medication did not get to the right place. In many cases, the physician will inject again to settle the question of the accuracy of the first injection.

However, if wear and tear or inflammation to a joint has gone too far, the message of the failure is not to try again, but to move on to other therapy, which usually means a referral to the orthopedist for surgical intervention.

Harder to explain is when the injection provides greater or prolonged relief as compared with past efforts. In those instances, the injection site was particularly apt or the patient's general health was better than usual and did not place the expected strain on the body.

Livonia resident honored for peace work

The Livonia branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) honored long-time Livonia resident, Rosemary Doyle, with its Salute to Women Award at the annual Salute to Women Luncheon Saturday, Dec. 12, at Ernesto's.

Since 1973, the Livonia Branch of the AAUW has honored a woman whose efforts reflect the organization's goals of equity and education for women, and effecting positive social change.

Doyle has been working for more than 25 years as a career consultant and transition specialist. In that capacity, she has assisted many women as they transition from home to work. However, it is her volunteer work that so impressed the AAUW selection committee.

As education director for Citizens for Peace since 2003, Doyle developed a Peace Collection Bibliography of nonviolent materials with more than 570 books. Several hundred were donated to the Livonia Civic Center Library. Last year she initiated a Peace Essay Contest for the Season for Nonviolence that was open to all Michigan high school and college students.

She is responsible for organizing training sessions for school personnel in Wayne County on restorative practices, a violence prevention program. In addition, she has taught numerous classes in nonviolent communication, a method for resolving conflict.

For 16 years, Doyle was a member of a national group of ethnically and racially diverse women, who provided panel presentations on the effects of prejudice to community and business organizations.

At Oakland University's Continuum Center, she volunteered for eight years as a peer counselor, coordinator and presenter of personal and professional development programs for women entering the workforce.

"Watching Rosemary empowering others and tirelessly giving of herself has been an inspiration to me" said attendee Denise Marsico of Birmingham.

Doyle has devoted her life to personal growth, teaching, guiding and motivating others.

"We are proud to salute you," said Dorothy Trent, AAUW Livonia branch president, as she presented the 2009 "Salute to Women" Award.

Follow these tips and quit smoking

Many people will make New Year's resolutions to quit smoking this year. Having a solid smoking cessation plan can greatly improve a person's chance for success. The American Lung Association offers tips and resources that have helped thousands of people give up smoking for good:

- Talk to your doctor or pharmacist about the different over-the-counter and prescription medications to help you quit smoking.
- Look into the different options available to help smokers quit. Visit www.lungusa.org or call (800) 548-8252 for suggestions.
- Take time to plan. Pick your quit date a few weeks ahead of time and mark it on the calendar. If you can, pick a day when life's extra stresses are not at their peak, such as after the holidays. Mark a day on the calendar and stick to it.
- Get some exercise every day. Walking is a great way to reduce the stress of quitting. Exercise is proven to not only combat weight gain but also to improve mood and energy levels.
- Eat a balanced diet, drink lots of water and get plenty of sleep.
- Ask family, friends and co-workers for their help and support. Having someone to take a walk with or just listen can give a needed boost.

You don't have to quit alone. Help is available online and in your community. Consider joining a stop-smoking program like Freedom From Smoking (www.ffsonline.org) from the American Lung Association.

"Smokers have different experiences when they quit," said Norman Edelman, M.D. American Lung Association Chief Medical Officer. "Some people may feel tired or even easily excitable. Others may feel lightheaded, nervous or irritable and experience headaches in addition to craving tobacco or sweets. It's important to know that these feelings are normal, and may last for several weeks, but eventually they will pass."

Try snubbing out that cigarette in 2010 with a little help from the American Lung Association.

The American Lung Association's Freedom From Smoking (FFS) program has helped thousands of people quit smoking. An FFS program also is available online. For no cost, people can choose a Basic FFS Online membership which includes a complete, eight-module program.

The multi-step Freedom from Smoking program also is offered in a group setting, as many participants find the support of others a beneficial component of the quitting process.

through a local American Lung Association office. Visit www.lungusa.org.

"Quitting smoking is one of the most important things that you can do for your health," Edelman said. "Half of all regular smokers will die of smoking-related diseases so it's important to plan for and set your quit date as soon as possible."

Nurses earn top honors at DMC Huron Valley-Sinai

The American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC) has granted DMC Huron Valley-Sinai Hospital "Magnet" recognition for excellence in nursing.

"Achieving Magnet designation is a hospital-wide accomplishment that speaks very well to the amazing sense of teamwork, focus on excellence, and willingness to go beyond perceived limitations," said Lynn Torossian, president of Huron Valley-Sinai Hospital. "I am extremely proud of the team here for achieving this outstanding accomplishment."

Less than six percent of hospitals in the United States have qualified for Magnet status. In Michigan, 10 health care organizations have been honored by the Magnet Recognition Program. Only four of those are located in Southeastern Michigan.

"Magnet status is considered the gold standard of nursing care," said Bette Fitz, vice president of patient care services at Huron Valley-Sinai Hospital. "This very high honor takes all of us working together to deliver the best possible patient experience and we should all share pride in this achievement. It also confirms what we already knew to be true, that nurses at Huron Valley-Sinai Hospital are among the best in the country."

The hospital underwent an evaluation process that began in 2004 and included submission of a 15-volume application document, multiple stages of review and a three-day on-site appraisal conducted by the Magnet Recognition Program. During the on-site visit, appraisers evaluated nursing criteria and interviewed patients, nurses, doctors, executive administrators, and community members.

The Magnet Recognition Program was developed by the ANCC from research conducted in 1983 that identified 14 characteristics in organizations best able to recruit and retain nurses during the nursing shortages.

Huron Valley-Sinai Hospital, located in Commerce Township, is one of nine hospitals and institutes operated by the Detroit Medical Center. www.hvsh.org

Botsford joins patient safety partnership

As part of a continuing series of initiatives to improve patient safety, Botsford Hospital in Farmington Hills, has joined Michigan Hospital Association's Keystone Center for Patient Safety and Quality collaborative to address care in the Emergency Department.

Botsford is one of 71 hospitals across the state of Michigan participating in the ER collaborative.

"This Keystone collaborative will help us build upon existing processes by bringing large numbers of hospitals together in a single improvement initiative. We expect see additional improvement in areas where we already excel and to make fast track progress on issues that have been a challenge in the past," said Sanford Vieder, D.O., Medical Director of the Botsford Emergency Center. "We treat about 60,000 patients a year in the fast-paced Emergency Center environment. The Keystone collaborative provides the opportunity to take a focused look at what we do and how we can apply evidence-based best practices."

The goal of the MHA Keystone ER collaborative is to prevent patient harm in hospital emergency rooms by improving safety, reducing overcrowding, and treating sepsis (blood poisoning) in the early stages. Keystone interventions will help ensure that the most critically ill patients receive treatment first and reduce the likelihood that a patient will leave a hospital before receiving appropriate care.

It is expected that patients treated at hospitals participating in the collaborative will receive more efficient, higher quality and safer care and that both patient and staff satisfaction will increase.

'BOUNDARY-SPANNERS' THRIVING TODAY

by Mildred L.
Culp

At this very moment, "boundary-spanners" are thriving in the workplace and elsewhere, despite the economy and lost jobs. Who are they? David Trickett, president of the Methodist Iliff School of Theology in Denver, Colo., explains that they're "highly creative. They understand that they have a place in more than one realm of experience." This orientation nurtures their ability to make "relevant patterns of connections" in the workplace (and elsewhere) at a time when people are always making transactions and affirming their separateness. Trickett discusses them in his chapter of "Faith in Leadership," by Robert Banks and Kimberly Powell (Jossey-Bass, $46.59). The three boundary-spanners in this column became that way for intellectual, aesthetic and spiritual reasons.

RICHNESS
Boundary-spanners in the workplace feel that their lives are fuller. Steven Zelin of Zelin Entertainment L.L.C., in New York City, is "The Singing CPA" in addition to being a practicing CPA. He writes humorous songs about accounting, which he sings while strumming his guitar. Harriette Rose Katz, president of the same city's Gourmet Advisory Services Inc., designs, plans and manages such special events as weddings, bar mitzvahs, holiday parties and surprise parties. Although she describes herself as "very Jewish," these days she's putting on more weddings for Christians than Jews, and some mixed marriages. Much like Katz, Gary Gambhir, vice president at Integrated Resources Inc., a national staffing firm with 75 employees based in Edison, N.J., spans boundaries all year long. He is Sikh, while the company president is Hindu. Other religions represented are Christianity, Judaism and Islam.

Why are they spanning boundaries? Meshed cultures have a lot to do with it for Zelin: "Having grown up in Brooklyn, I've been exposed to many religions and I value diversity of people, cultures and religions. I'm happy to celebrate and make fun of everybody." Katz was hooked as a child on Christmas trees: "I love the smell of pine in my house." Gambhir, coming out of a 500-year old tradition based in India and parts of Pakistan, became interested in other religions when he formed his American company with its president 13 years ago. As the company grew, they began to celebrate other traditions, such as a holiday (Christmas) dinner for everyone. That's been going on for more than eight years.

PERSPECTIVES

Zelin has been known to spend Christmas in the home countries of Mexican and French families. His first songs were about Christmas. "Jingle Bells" morphed into "IRS Jingle Bells." He wrote a dozen or more songs for his holiday CD and realized that many accountants are Jewish. That led to Jewish songs around taxes, including "Hava Tequila."

Katz loves the beauty of Christmas. "Christmas to me is the most beautiful time of year, the decorations, lights, festive feeling and music," she comments. "I love the carolers." She drives with Sirius tuned to Christmas music. One year, when working with a couple planning a Jewish wedding at the prestigious Metropolitan Club in New York City, she mentioned that there would be a large Christmas tree and lots of wreaths. She persuaded her clients to incorporate them in their own decorative scheme.

Zelin thrives on hearing and learning about other traditions -- almost a necessity for survival in New York. Gambhir has read quite a bit about them and loves bonding with others. As a Sikh, he believes "that the human race is basically one and that people love connecting with each other. We are all the same. There is one god. The teachings are pretty much the same. Do good deeds, be truthful and good to others, and life is good. If you're not, things are not good."

Clearly, boundary-spanning creates richer lives at work.

Fun By The Numbers
 Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
 Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HAPPY HOLIDAYS

Just a note to let everyone know how our quest to finish #1 in the nation for 2009 is going...

As of December 15, 2009 we are 111 sales ahead of the #2 dealer, Woodhouse Ford, in Nebraska, and 161 sales ahead of Galpin Ford in California. Galpin has finished #1 for 19 straight years. Both are well aware where they stand and are doing everything they can to catch us.

Likewise, we are doing everything we can to stay ahead. If you know anyone that is considering buying a new vehicle in the next few months, please ask them to see us now. We are committed to doing whatever it takes to finish #1 and that means the best deal possible for them.

We believe this is a once in a lifetime opportunity. It would truly be a proud moment for all of us at Bill Brown Ford as well as for our friends and customers to be able to say that BILL BROWN FORD is the NUMBER 1 FORD DEALER IN THE USA. Total retail sales 2009 YTD, per Ford Division
