Plymouth Township girl found in rural area of Washtenaw County; man she was with arrested

By Matt Jachman
Staff Writer

A 15-year-old Plymouth Township girl and the man she left home with were found safe Tuesday afternoon, not quite two days after her mother reported the girl missing. Emily Lalinsky and Robert

Messer, 37, were found in a field in the area of Seven Mile and Chubb Road in Washtenaw County after a witness recognized Messer's pickup truck and called police, township Detective Charlie Rozum said. The Michigan State Police responded first and township officers who then arrived at the scene confirmed Emily and Messer were the people they had sought since late Sunday, police said. "When they encountered them, they were just sitting in the truck," township Police Chief Tom Tiderington said.

Messer was arrested without incident and Emily was reunited with her family, Rozum said. The two were also treated for minor wounds, Rozum said.

Emily's mother Lisa Swartz had reported the girl missing about 6 p.m. Sunday. She told police she last seen Emily about 7:30 a.m. Sunday.

Emily and Messer were also seen at Messer's home in Northville Township around 2 p.m. Sunday, police said.

The two had left behind notes professing love for each other, police said. Police believed they had no money or access to money.

"There doesn't appear to be a plan," Rozum said of the pair's Sunday departure. "I

Thousands of runners, many of them in Halloween costumes, had a wicked good time Sunday morning in Plymouth.

The third annual Wicked Halloween Run, 10-kilometer, five-kilometer and one-mile events that began and ended at Kellogg Park, drew more than 5,200 runners, plus on-lookers who came outside along the routes to cheer them on.

"There were a lot of people out there encouraging us," said Alanna Maguire of Plymouth Township, who ran the Wicked 5K dressed as a zombie. "Along the whole route there were people cheering."

Maguire said she tries to do one fun 5K a year and the Wicked "just sounded super cool."

"I like running around downtown Plymouth," she said. "It's flat, for one thing."

Maguire, who joined friends for the run, said she saw several other zombies at Sunday's run. "There were varying degrees of elaborateness in the costumes," she said. Maguire wore fake

Record number turns out for fourth annual event

Plymouth's past came to life Saturday afternoon in Riverside Cemetery as the Plymouth Historical Museum's annual cemetery walk drew nearly 300 visitors, a record.

Several historical figures buried in the event, with the actors stationed in front of the respective grave markers to talk about the characters' lives, in the first person. There were 272 tickets sold for the walk, museum executive director Liz Kerstens said. It was the fourth cemetery walk.

Carolyn Palodino of Warren portrayed Eleanor Kellogg, the wife of John Kellogg, a town founder who laid out the city's street patterns. Eleanor Kellogg (1793-1867) had moved with her husband to what was then a wilderness in the 1830s, after 20 years of a comfortable, settled married life in New York state. The couple had 10 children.

"The things that I had to talk about sort of spoke to the women," Palodino said, explaining that Eleanor was not pleased with her husband's decision to move the family to the Michigan Territory.

"He was a territorial of the era. He made the decisions," she said.

Plymouth Christian student 'bridges' school record

Like her father, Plymouth Christian Academy eighth-grader Allie Kwang wants to be an engineer.

She may be on her way.

Allie, the daughter of Alisa and Michael Kwang, set a school record in Deb Hope's annual science class toothpick-bridge-building experiment when her 97-gram bridge bore up under more than 308 pounds worth of weights, easily besting the previous record of 181 pounds.

"I learned the design is really important," said Allie, who used some 400 toothpicks in building her bridge. "It takes time. ... You have to be really consistent with things. It's fun."

The bridge-building experiment is part of the technological design unit in Hope's science class. Students are presented with a problem-solving task that requires research and analytical thought: Build a bridge that weighs no more than 100 grams, made of standard, uncut toothpicks and a glue of the builder's choice.

The bridge must be at least 35 centimeters long, 10 centimeters wide and span a gap 30 centimeters wide. To qualify, it must hold at least 5,000 grams for at least 10 seconds.

Allie's 97-gram bridge held 308.75 pounds and never did break on the initial test.

Hope said the experiment is a real-world application of what students learn.

"I think science ought to be taught hands-on, because kids learn better that way," said Hope, who has taught at PCA some 11 years. "When kids get to actually do things, (the lesson) stays with them longer."

Allie got some help from her dad Michael, an engineer. Together they spent about three weeks researching and testing toothpicks – "They had to pass my test ... if they bent, they were out of the picture," Allie said with a smile – of every brand from a variety of sources.

She also tested various glues before settling on non-foam Gorilla Glue and even did blueprints to make sure her work was on track. Working with her dad, she said, kept her focused.

"He helped me stay organized," Allie said. "We tried to make it as symmetrical as possible."

The 308-pound total more than doubled what her brother Andrew's bridge held two years ago – "It's impressive," Andrew said – but that hasn't spurred much sibling rivalry at home. Mostly, the family is proud of Allie and enjoying watching her do something she loves.

"It's kind of neat ... something the kids look forward to," mom Alisa said. "We're excited to see (Allie) excited about science. It's something she really enjoys."

think Emily was relieved to be reunited with her family."

Rozum said the two appeared to have stayed in the area since leaving Messer's home Sunday. Emily had not shown up for school Monday, while Messer had not shown up at his workplace, Rozum said.

Rozum said Wednesday that he was preparing a report for the Wayne County prosecutor's office and that charges against Messer were possible. Messer had refused to answer questions from police, Rozum said, and had asked for a lawyer.

Police had released photos of each, plus a photo of Messer with his two-toned 1991 Ford pickup, and asked for tips from the public following the pair's disappearance. Rozum said police had received about a dozen tips on the case.

He also offered thanks to the public and the state police for assistance in the case.

The run was sponsored by the Kona Running Co., which also stages a St. Patrick's Day run in the city and is planning its inaugural Chocolate Run for next month.

Kona's Alan Whitehead said about 40 percent of the runners Sunday were in costume. There were 2,300 people signed up for the 10K (6.2 miles), 2,600 for the 5K (3.1 miles) and 300 for the mile, Whitehead said.

"So much creativity of the runners," he said of the costumes, explaining that one runner dressed as a flamingo, using real feathers.

"She was shedding feathers, so it almost looked like it was real," he said.

The event included traditional runners' snacks – bananas and bagels – in a heated tent in Kellogg Park, a performance to the Michael Jackson song Thriller by costumed dancers from Northville's Piazza Dance Co. and a costume contest.

Library boosts diaper bank campaign

Group hoping to collect 250,000 diapers to distribute to needy before Thanksgiving

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

With a Thanksgiving deadline looming, the Canton-based Detroit Area Diaper Bank is rushing to beat its fall campaign to collect 250,000 diapers to help vulnerable children and adults served by social service agencies across southeast Michigan.

"We just cracked the 200,000-diaper mark," founder Marybeth Levine said Wednesday.

In what has become an anchor event for the fall campaign, the Canton Public Library has stepped up for a fifth year in hopes of helping the volunteer diaper bank reach its goal of meeting a need not covered by government safety-net programs.

The library will accept on-site diaper donations from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 20-21, at 1200 S. Canton Center, in hopes of filling a truck loaned by Canton-based food-catering company Fat Chef in a Little Coat.

Library Director Eva Davis said she hopes the Stuff the Truck campaign can help the diaper bank reach or surpass its 250,000-diaper goal by Thanksgiving. She said the library and the diaper bank serve many of the same constituents – children, disabled residents and adults in need. "It is a true community organization," Davis said of the diaper bank.

"Our hope is that we will be the diaper drive that pushes it over the 250,000 mark. Every year it grows. We have such a generous community."

The library collected 38,954 diapers last year alone and has cumulatively surpassed the 100,000 mark during the first four years of the Stuff the Truck campaign.

"We are thrilled that the Canton library is running a diaper drive for the fifth year in a row to support or annual fall drive," Levine said. "This year's Stuff the Truck event will be crucial in helping us reach our bigger goal this fall to collect 250,000 diapers by Thanksgiving."

The library will accept donations of any size or brand, for babies to adults, along with other incontinent supplies. Open packages of diapers also are accepted.

The diaper bank helps more than 50 social service agencies across southeast Michigan. The organization also accepts financial donations to help its partners.

To learn more ways to help the diaper bank, go to www.detroitareadiaperbank.org. For more information about the Stuff the Truck campaign, call the library's marketing and communications department head, Laurie Golden, at 734-397-0999.

when she mentioned John Kellogg had found Detroit "a dirty and disorganized place" and continued west until he arrived in the Plymouth area.

Palodino has portrayed characters in re-enactments of Civil War events, in which she got to interact with other characters, but the experience of sitting by herself in front of Eleanor Kellogg's grave and delivering soliloquies to small crowds was a new one for her, she said.

"We had fun with it," she said.

"All of the characters did a fabulous job," said Kerstens, who was a tour guide and dressed as a "ghost bride."

Historic career

Longtime Observer photographer Bill Bresler played Romeo Wood, a photographer in early Plymouth who ran a studio for nearly 70 years, beginning in 1908. Wood closed his studio two weeks before he died at age 90 in 1975, Bresler said.

Bresler researched Wood's life using museum archives and put together a talk in Wood's voice, dressed for the part and carried a box camera of the era as a prop.

Bresler's wife Susan played Dora Wood, Romeo's wife, whom Bresler had photographed for her 104th birthday in 1991.

"It was fun playing the part of the town photographer. I've known and worked for several people like Romeo, so I think I had a feeling for the part," Bresler wrote in an email.

"I'm impressed that, even as the rain was falling sideways in the cemetery, people still stood there and listened to Romeo's story."

"Why All the Household Dust?"

I'm Keith Meadows, owner and operator of American Power Vac, Inc. For years, I've been improving our community's health one family at a time. By now we've all heard the statistics: 50% of all illness is a direct relation to dirty indoor air and our indoor air is up to 90 times more polluted than outdoor air. Yet, 90% of the calls I receive everyday are from desperate people complaining about dust. They tell me they dust the T.V. on Friday, but by Sun-day they are pushing the dust out of the way again so they can watch Dancing with the Stars, and none of them know exactly where it's coming from. Well, I'm here to tell you that it's not because you're a bad house-keeper. I tell people that by simply having your ducts cleaned will drastically reduce household dust, and the reason is, your cold air returns.

Cold air returns suck in dirty air, and over time it builds up until you have the same type of debris that you would find in your vacuum bag.

Visit our website at www.americanpowervac.com for an actual photo of the debris that is pulled from a typical home.

Cold air returns are also the reason new homeowners are experiencing dust. While your drywall was being sanded, your cold air returns sucked all of the dust through the system and it settled on the bottom of the duct lines where a little at a time gets blown back into your home. To prove it, take a walk down into your basement, look up at the ceiling for thin sheets of tin nailed between your floor joists. These are your cold air return lines. Give them a good pounding. You'll see puffs of dust seeping out of the edges. That my friends, is the reason you have uncontrollable dust problems!

This debris cannot be removed without a professional. Which brings me to my next point: choosing an airduct cleaning company. Most companies use portable units, which are like a shop vac that you would vacuum your car with, obviously absolutely useless. Then there are companies who claim they have a truck-mounted system. In reality, they have a low powered portable system attached inside a van, again, absolutely useless. Visit our website for photos of our equipment vs. portable or truck mounted equipment at www.americanpowervac.com.

American Power Vac has the equipment that is powerful enough to get the job done right and that equipment is a Power Vac truck. It is the most powerful equipment in the industry. This is where the entire truck is the vacuum and the truck motor powers the equipment. You'll know it's a Power Vac truck because it's the size of an ambulance and when engaged twelve large air bags will come out of the roof. What makes the difference in equipment? Power! To put things into perspective, your furnace moves 2,000 CFM's (cubic feet of air per minute), basically what you feel coming out of your register. Truck-mounted equipment only moves 4,000 CFM's. American Power Vac moves over 16,000 cubic feet of air per minute, more than quadruple the power of any truck-mounted equipment.

Beware of companies using cheap equipment and advertising cheap prices...most are unlicensed and advertise that they are licensed and are not!

Avoid Scams by not falling for cheap get you in the door prices.

When asked what sets you apart from your competitors Keith says "Honest service is number one, equipment is number two. I know the importance of being on time, working with a smile, and respecting people's homes and their belongings." There are a lot of duct cleaners around but rest assured you'll receive the same Quality and Service we expect. American Power Vac is family owned and were here to help by offering a

Case involving dementia patients heads to trial

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

A Westland woman is facing trial on felony larceny charges after police say she is suspected of stealing jewelry from two dementia patients while working as a health care employee at Crystal Creek, a Canton assisted living center.

Gail Lynn Good, 45, has waived her right to a preliminary hearing in front of 35th District Judge Ron Lowe, who ruled Friday the case should be sent to Wayne County Circuit Court for disposition.

Good, with a not-guilty plea on her court record, could face penalties ranging from probation to four years in prison if she is found guilty of two counts of larceny in a building. She has been released from custody after posting bond.

Good

necklaces, one with a diamond, had been stolen from elderly women who have dementia. The incidents occurred at Crystal Creek, on Lilley north of Warren.

Relatives of the victims notified the assisted living center's administration, which in turn contacted police to report the alleged thefts.

Baugh said the necklaces had been taken to separate jewelry shops in Westland, where one was recovered but the other already had been melted down.

Baugh described the jewelry shops as "very cooperative" and said Crystal Creek "did a great job" of notifying police rather than handling the matter internally.

Police have said Good was arrested Oct. 15 on the job.

CANTON CRIME WATCH

Shooting arrest

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department has arrested a 57-year-old Canton woman who allegedly shot her 54-year-old boyfriend early Tuesday in the groin after an argument.

Deputies responded to the incident in the 400 block of Sandalwood Drive in Rochester Hills after reports that the man had been shot. Witnesses told deputies the woman had fled the scene in a dark-colored vehicle.

The victim was transported to a local hospital for medical treatment.

Some time later, OCS

dispatchers received a call from someone who, according to police, told them he was with the suspect in the shooting. Patrol units were sent to a strip mall in the area of Bywater and Union Lake Road and took the woman into custody.

She has been turned over to OCSD detectives, who are continuing the investigation.

Disorderly behavior

Canton police arrested a drunken 28-year-old Ypsilanti man and cited him for being disorderly after he was nearly hit by a car while walking across Canton Center near Michigan Avenue, a police report said.

An officer spotted the man shortly after 10 p.m. Sunday, when the driver of a vehicle on Canton Center had to brake quickly to avoid hitting the man, who was stumbling, the report said.

The man told police he was going to a gas station to get some water. He said his vehicle ran out of gas on Michigan Avenue and claimed a friend who had been driving was picked up by another person at the scene.

Police drove the man to his Ford Focus on Michigan Avenue near Beck. The car was towed and the man was arrested for being disorderly.

According to a police report, his blood-alcohol level was nearly three times the legal limit.

Fraud attempt

A 48-year-old Canton woman notified police after she received a phone call from a would-be scam artist who told her that she owed $2,137 in back taxes – and that her husband would be arrested unless she sent the money within 15 minutes, a police report said.

Police received the call shortly before 11 a.m. last Thursday, when the woman was contacted by someone claiming to be from the Internal Revenue Service. She said the caller, with a Texas phone number, told her to send a money order and instructed her to go to a local drugstore.

The woman instead called her husband, who advised her not to send the money and to report the incident.

Drunken gun-toter

Canton police arrested a 26-year-old Belleville man and cited him for having a firearm while intoxicated during an incident that happened in the 40600 block of Douglas, southeast of Cherry Hill and I-275, a police report said.

Police had gone to the scene shortly before 2 a.m. Oct. 23 to remain on standby while the suspect went into a residence to retrieve property he had left there, the police report said.

Police learned the man had been drinking alcohol and was in possession of a firearm and ammunition. The gun was under the driver's seat of his vehicle.

The man told police he had one drink at the Imagine Theater, but a police report indicated he was over the legal limit. He was placed under arrest and his gun and ammunition were confiscated as evidence.

PLYMOUTH CRIME WATCH

Liquor stolen

Two men are suspected of stealing four to six bottles of premium vodka from a Plymouth Township drug store Oct. 23.

The shoplifting occurred at the CVS store at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road shortly before 10 a.m., a Plymouth Township Police Department report said.

A store manager told police she noticed the men in the liquor aisle as she was stocking shelves and that when she went to the front of the store, the men left.

She went back to the liquor aisle, she said, and noticed several bottles of Ciroc vodka were missing.

The manager left the store to see the men walking northward and asked them to return, but they began walking faster and didn't answer, a police report said.

The vodka was priced at $34.95 a bottle.

Glove theft

A 46-year-old Plymouth woman was arrested Friday in the theft of a pair of $17.99 gloves from the Kmart on Ann Arbor Road.

A security guard told police the woman had been spotted putting the gloves in her purse and leaving the store. She was confronted outside and police were called.

Cough-drop caper

A 32-year-old Canton Township man was arrested on a shoplifting charge the morning of Oct. 21 at the Kmart on Ann Arbor Road.

Police said a store security guard reported witnessing the man conceal two bottles of cough lozenges within a flier he was carrying and leave the store without paying. The guard confronted him outside, a police report said.

The suspect began to run, but fell in the parking lot, police said, and the guard caught up to him.

The suspect suffered an abrasion to his left elbow, police said.

Theft from car

A navigation device was reported stolen from a Chrysler Sebring last week as the car sat outside a house on Dogwood Drive in the township.

The theft occurred between 9 p.m. Oct. 22 and early the next morning, the complainant told police. The Sebring had been left unlocked.

An unlocked truck parked nearby was apparently entered during the same time frame, but nothing was reported stolen from it.

Battery swiped

A heavy-duty battery was reported stolen recently from a trailer sitting in a storage yard on Ann Arbor Road west of Haggerty. The theft occurred between Oct. 17 and Oct. 19, a police report said.

Precision is key for Plymouth-Canton marchers in the Huron Valley competition. TERRI WOHL

Band places in top four at Huron

By Peggy Fenwick
Correspondent

If last Saturday is any indication how the Nov. 2 marching band state competition is going to go, it's going to be a close battle for the top four places in Flight I competition.

The Plymouth-Canton Marching Band competed in the Huron Valley Invitational last Saturday night at Lakeland High School in White Lake Township.

The hometown marchers finished fourth with a score of 86.05. Walled Lake Central won the invitational with a score of 88.85. L'Anse Creuse finished second with 86.7 and Lake Orion was a close third with 86.35.

Ten of the 11 bands that competed in Flight I competition (based on size of high school enrollment), qualified to march next Saturday at Ford Field for a chance at the state championship. Plymouth-Canton is the defending champion.

The Huron Valley competition was challenging for some bands, with wind, cold and driving rain coming down hard in the early afternoon. Salem drummer Zach Tinglan thought his band dodged the rain nicely.

"During the unload of our equipment, it started to sprinkle. We all went back to our bus and waited, while other bands got soaking wet. We were nice and dry," Tinglan said after the competition.

Canton sophomore clarinet player Kayla

Drum major Katie Wolf leads the band at Huron Valley. TERRI WOHL

Ward thought the Plymouth-Canton performance was spot on.

said. "We have the whole show on the field and everyone is excited."

Despite a quick season, Tinglan said there's still much work to be done for next Saturday's state finals and Grand Nationals two weeks later.

"I think it went good, but it can still get better," Tinglan said. "We have a huge freshman class and I'm looking forward to a bunch of improvement between now and Grand Nationals."

Plymouth-Canton marchers were able to watch only one of the bands after their performance was complete.

The L'Anse Creuse High School band performed a show about a black widow spider and utilized several props, including staircases, in its performance.

Ward, who is a section leader for the clarinets, seemed to enjoy the L'Anse Creuse performance.

"They were amazing," Ward said. "Their show was so cool."

The next stop for the band is the state championship, which starts for Flight I at 3:45 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 2, at Detroit's Ford Field. The top 12 qualifying bands will compete, with awards to follow. Tickets can be purchased at the door with cash only. Adults are $16 and seniors and students are $12.

Fans who attend need to be aware of the new NFL bag policy, which will be in effect that day. For more information, visit www.TheMC-BA.org.

Legs for Life

Are You One of 10 Million Americans at Risk for PAD?

Peripheral arterial disease (PAD) is a very common and potentially fatal disease. Caused by blocked blood flow in the arteries of the legs, symptoms include:

- pain, cramping and fatigue in the legs while walking
- painful skin discoloration of the feet and/or toes

PAD affects over 10 million men and women, typically over age 50. People who smoke, have high blood pressure, diabetes or high cholesterol level are at increased risk.

Kids haunt Old Village for annual block party

Young ghosts and goblins and their parents enjoyed plenty of tricks and treats Sunday afternoon in Old Village during the neighborhood's Haunted Halloween Block Party.

Pumpkin-stacking, pumpkin bowling, bobbing for doughnuts and train rides around the neighborhood were among the activities at the annual party on Liberty Street between Starkweather and Mill. The event netted between $500 and $600 for the Old Village Association, said Tony Sebastian, the OVA president.

The event draws Old Village families as well as families from outside the neighborhood and outside Plymouth, Sebastian said, and has grown in recent years. It started out as an annual block party for adults, with live music and an adult costume contest, but became more family oriented as parents began bringing their children.

The money raised will go toward OVA beautification projects, such as tree-planting and neighborhood welcome signs. Sebastian estimated the effort has resulted in 70 new trees planted in public spaces in the last five years.

Work clothes, scarves: Group pays tribute to Rosie the Riveter

By Sue Mason
Staff Writer

Six women point to Alison Beatty in explaining why they wear blue coveralls and red polka dot bandanas.

It was Beatty who came up with the idea of dressing as Rosie the Riveter to help promote a fundraising campaign for the Yankee Air Museum.

Upset that the campaign wasn't attracting enough attention, she dressed up as Rosie and stood in the corner by Zingerman's Delicatessen, promoting the SaveTheBomberPlant.org website.

Now there's a group of six Rosies who have taken up the cause, creating a stir wherever they go and gladly striking the "We Can Do It" pose for people who want a picture with the iconic woman who appeared on World War II posters.

"She stood there on the corner, dressed up as Rosie, and we decided to come along with her for the ride," said her mother Wendy Zielen of Ann Arbor.

Beatty did it in part for her grandfather, who had been a tail gunner on a B-24 Liberator bomber. She told her mother the plan about dressing up as Rosie, standing on the street corner and pointing to the SaveTheBomberPlant.org sign. Her mother "was a bit dubious," but helped her daughter.

"We went around the house looking for parts of the clothing. We got some old boots at the Salvation Army," Zielen said.

"She'd never really stood on a street corner before. People honked and some tried to give her money."

Standing on the corner

She kept on campaigning and the museum supplied her with a sign. That's when her mother came up with the idea of the Rosies.

She started asking friends to get involved and Christy Mayhew of Plymouth was the first to say yes.

"Wendy and I sit on a nonprofit board. She called and asked if I wanted to do it," Mayhew said. "Our first event was the air show. I think we were the most photographed group. It was fun to do."

The Rosies created such a stir at YAM's Thunder Over Michigan air show that they only made it 15 feet through the crowd in two hours.

"That's when we realized there's power in numbers, so we created the group," said Jane Vass of Ypsilanti. "We're now the official the Yankee Air Museum's Tribute Rosies. We feel attached to the (B-24) bomber and the people who worked here. They paid it forward, now it's time for us to pay it back."

In addition to Vass, Zielen and Mayhew, the group includes Jeannette Gutierrez, Nancy Zajac and Kim Godek, all of

Ann Arbor.

Since August, the Rosies have made appearances and done two YouTube videos.

The first one, "Rosie the Riveter says Save the Bomber Plant," went online Sept. 12 and since has gotten 1,200 hits.

The second video, "Rosie the Riveter on the Liberator Line," went up last Friday and as of last Saturday morning had 825 hits.

Vass became the leader and is now known as Head Jane. Her selection was due in part to her not working, "a matter of timing and I came up with some ideas," she said.

One of her ideas happened Wednesday, when they hoped to get more than 250 people to "Rosie Up" to set a Guinness Book of World Records record for the most Rosies in one place. The photograph was taken at Willow Run Airport next to the Willow Run Bomber Plant.

'Beyond fun'

For the ladies, being tribute Rosies is "beyond fun."

"We get to dress up and play somebody,"

Godek said. "We all bring our own identity and vision to our Rosie."

Mayhew believes that if she had been around when the bomber plant was in operation, "I would have been working here or been a Rosie somewhere else."

"When I went into the plant, I felt I could see and feel what happened there," she said. "The plant was the biggest thing I'd ever seen. It was fascinating. I felt like I was in a time capsule and back in the 1940s."

The Rosies were out in force Saturday at two YAM events looking at the history of the bomber plant and in introducing the public to the museum's home. They were as excited about meeting men and women who had worked at the plant as posing for pictures with them.

"We've all made new friends, we've bonded," Mayhew said. "I believe I will continue to volunteer and do Rosie. I've grown passionate to this cause and I can't walk away."

New tech items flood holiday market

Stop me if you've heard this one before. There are a bunch of new tablets, smart phones and other tech items out on the market and everyone won't stop talking about them. Truthfully, this time more than ever, new products are hitting the shelves in time for the holiday rush. Here's a look at some of the most anticipated devices that were launched or will launch soon.

iPad Air: The new fifth-generation iPad is now lighter and thinner. Weighing one pound and still featuring the 9.7-inch screen, the new iPad is 28-percent lighter than the fourth-generation device. It is also about 50 times faster than the original iPad. The iPad Air starts at $499 for a 16GB device, which is enough for most people who don't have too much media to store. Models go all the way up to $799 for a 128GB, perfect for the person who wants to store every song they've ever heard of.

The Apple iPad 2, will stick around at a lower price point. Meanwhile Apple is also releasing a second generation Mini iPad, which is called the Retina iPad Mini. Retina in the Apple world stands for "better" display. The cost for the new iPad mini is $399 or $539 to match it to include cellphone signal instead of just Wi-Fi Internet capabilities. The first generation iPad is now down to $299.

Jon Gunnells

Lost in the shuffle of Apple's yearly iPad news was the release of Nokia's first tablet. It's a 10.1-inch, Windows-based device that is available in Wi-Fi only or Wi-Fi plus 4G cellphone connectivity. It also can be paired with a sleek POWER-KEYBOARD for $150. At 1.26 pounds, it is slightly bigger than the new iPad, but still smaller than most tablets. It has the battery life of 10 hours and a full Microsoft Office Suite, making it perfect for business use.

Other tablets

A few other Windows tablets also went on sale in October. Second generation of the Windows Surface 2 tablet and the Windows Surface Pro 2 convertible tablet are now faster and full of new features. Both have USB ports for removable storage, can be paired with keyboards and have built in kickstands. The Surface 2 has a lower price point than the iPad - as I'm sure you've seen in commercials. The original Surface and Surface Pro are now discounted.

More interesting than Nokia's new tablet is its new camera phone. The Nokia Lumia 1020 features a 41-megapixel camera. Yes, you read that correctly. The Nokia Lumia 1020 has about four times the megapixels as an iPhone from 2011 or 2012 - and those aren't bad phones. This is now the best camera phone on the market and ideal for anyone who prefers taking quality pictures over a robust app market.

Sticking with its camera dominance, Nokia developed what is considered to be the first true

"phablet," which merges a phone and a tablet. It is called the Nokia Lumia 1520 and has a 20-megapixel camera. The Nokia Lumia 1520 has, by far, the best camera within a tablet in the market. It comes with a six-inch display.

In brief: The popular app Instagram is coming to Windows phones and tablets, which means you can soon use Instagram with Nokia Lumia's awesome phone and tablet cameras.

Fifth-generation florist makes transition

Canton-based Keller and Stein Florist has a new address.

The fifth-generation florist is relocating to a new storefront at 320 N. Canton Center, just east of the Canton Post Office. The current location, about four miles to the northwest, at 42158 Michigan Ave., closed Oct. 15.

The former location served the business well for decades, said Christine Keller Patton, who owns the store with her husband Glenn Patton. Nevertheless, both owners and employees were eager to transition to the new space.

"The new store is better for both our staff and our customers," Keller Patton said. "While we loved the nostalgia of our former building, it was simply not meeting our needs in servicing our customers. It lacked air-conditioning and the greenhouses next to it were becoming a burden due to the high costs of heating and maintaining them. Plus, we wanted to be closer to where our customers shop."

Looking around the new shop, Keller Patton points out the interactive floor plan, which moves floral designers from their traditional location at the back of the facility to a position that is customer-friendly. "Customers can now see our designers creating our floral arrangements," she said. "I'm really excited for our customers to be able to ask about the designs and smell, touch and experience the process."

The fifth-generation owner attributes her family business' enduring success to its employees. "They have made the difference," she said. "Our prosperity can be attributed to their talents, dedication and attitudes."

Keller and Stein is now open in its new digs at 320 N. Canton Center, just east of the Canton Post Office.

She added that ingenuity, diversity and creativity have also been elements in the company's growth. Add in the entire staff's work ethic and insistence on quality and service, she said, and "you have a recipe for achieving true customer satisfaction."

"The Keller family is proud of our history and our dedicated and professional staff," she said.

"We intend on furthering the vision that Charles Keller began so many years ago. But we also want to embrace and provide even more offerings to the greater Canton community today."

With its new location, Keller Patton anticipates the florist shop will continue its role as one of the largest and oldest family-owned flower retailers in the country that has not sold out to "fast flower" chains. She admits that the road to the shop's current success has had its challenges. But she says those same challenges have made the business stronger.

"We have had to re-evaluate each and every thing we do to maintain our customer loyalty, compete for the more frugal market and to still maintain quality and service," she said. "There is no margin for error."

PLYMOUTH-CANTON BUSINESS BRIEFS

Coney opens

Area corporate and civic leaders from Canton organizations gathered Oct. 22 to cut a Coney to open the new National Coney Island Canton. It's the 21st location for National Coney Island and brought more than 70 new jobs to Canton. The new restaurant is located at 45250 Ford Road (across from Meijer) and has 140 seats in 5,000 square feet.

Mural unveiling

The Kresge Eye Institute hosts a reception at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 6, to celebrate the unveiling of a new mosaic art mural in its third-floor pediatric waiting room.

The installation, "Rainbow Man," is a visually striking 13 feet wide by 7 feet tall and is made of more than 1,000 hand-sculpted clay pieces. The installation features 3-D details that provide low-vision or visually impaired children and adults an opportunity to experience art by touch. One section also features a Helen Keller quote in Braille type.

The mural was created by Royal Oak artist Laurie Eisenhardt, with funding from the Sara Williams Parish Foundation. The pediatric waiting area where the mural will be installed is called "Christopher's Corner" to honor a former patient, Christopher Kight, who lost sight in one eye as a result of an injury as an infant. Christopher is now 11 years old and lives in Canton with his family.

"A few years ago, we were able to make a small donation and direct some additional funding to Kresge," said Jackie Kight, Christopher's mom. "This helped create a waiting area for the children. When Christopher was being treated, I noticed that there was not a space for the children to play quietly while they waited. Christopher's Corner was our contribution to give back to Kresge and provide a place for the kids to wait to see the wonderful doctors."

The Kresge Eye Institute is located at 4717 St. Antoine St. in Detroit.

Hospital president

The Detroit Medical Center has appointed Canton resident Reginald J. Eadie, M.D., to serve as president of DMC Harper University Hospital and DMC Hutzel Women's Hospital. Eadie, a board certified emergency medicine physician and current president of DMC Sinai-Grace Hospital, assumed his new role Monday.

Eadie joined the DMC in April 2008 as vice president of medical affairs at DMC Harper University Hospital and DMC Hutzel Women's Hospital.

In July 2010, Eadie was appointed as president of Detroit Receiving Hospital and most recently he was named president of DMC Sinai-Grace Hospital in January 2012.

Extended hands

All seven Bright Side Dental offices, including the one in Canton, will be collecting items for Extended Hands Charity Food Drive for families in need Nov. 1-27.

The 37th annual Holiday Food Drive is now under way. The goal of this annual event is to collect more than 300 holiday food baskets for needy families on a community-wide scale. Donors can help by donating canned goods and non-perishable food items at any Bright Side Dental location throughout metro Detroit. Offices will also be collecting monetary donations, gift cards, and toys.

To make a monetary donation, make a check payable to Extended Hands Charity. The check may be dropped off at any Bright Side Dental location (Canton's is at 7676 Canton Center) or mailed to Extended Hand Inc., Attn: Miss Linda Curnutte, 4130 24 Mile Rd., Shelby Township, MI 48316.

Donations will directly benefit low-income families, senior citizens, couples, and singles.

Air museum has May 1 deadline to buy bomber plant

By Sue Mason
Staff Writer

Hundreds of people packed Bay 8 of Hangar 1 at Willow Run Airport to hear the announcement Saturday afternoon about the Willow Run Bomber Plant and walk inside the building where 8,685 B-24s were built in World War II.

Standing around and under the wings of the pride of the Yankee Air Museum — its B-17 bomber, the Yankee Lady, and its B-25 Yankee Warrior — the crowd listened as museum officials announced the organization now has until May 1, 2014, to raise the $8 million needed to buy 175,000 square feet of the former bomber plant.

"It's an awesome and inspiring building and hopefully the new home of the Yankee Air Museum," YAM director Kevin Walsh said. "It's a very unique place and I can't think of a better place for the museum."

Walsh said May 1 is the "do or die" date for YAM to purchase the portion of the bomber plant where, at peak production, a finished plane rolled off the assembly line every hour. The new deadline — the third the museum has received since the announcement in April of its intention to purchase the plant — opens the door for YAM to solicit larger donations from corporations and foundations.

To date, YAM has raised almost $6 million in money and in-kind donations.

About preservation
"We never would have guessed we would be doing this," said Dennis Norton, museum founder and president of the Michigan Aeronautical Foundation, which is spearheading the fundraising. "When we started this, it was about preservation. It was an active plant at the time and we never entertained the idea of it being the site of the museum."

In September, RACER (Revitalizing Auto Communities Environmental Response) Trust, Devon Industrial Group and Walbridge Development LLC announced that Devon and Walbridge Development would redevelop the property into a first-of-its-kind shared research and development center and test track that would serve automakers, suppliers and technology companies.

The plant is being dismantled, clearing the way for the new development. But contractors will wait until late in the process to demolish the area YAM wants to purchase, giving it the time to complete fundraising. The funds already raised include cash and long- and short-term donations. The museum recently received a commitment from the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality for a $1 million grant for environmental cleanup.

Norton is very excited about moving the museum into the former bomber plant.

"It's been a dream of mine since day one," he said. "When we found out GM was abandoning the plant, we went to RACER. We had to prove we had the ability to raise the funds. We have a 32-year history and they decided to give us the opportunity."

Can-do spirit

Both Norton and Walsh are confident YAM can meet the $8 million goal. Norton noted the group raised two-thirds of the money in the seven months since announcing the museum's intention to purchase the property. The new deadline leaves it about six months to raise the remaining money.

"May 1 is it, it's do or die," Walsh said. "But it gives us the opportunity for large amounts of money where we haven't had enough time. Fundraising doesn't happen at the higher level in three or four months."

Christmas comes early

Goodfellows donations help fund gift-giving effort during holidays

The mission of both the Plymouth and Canton Goodfellows is to make sure no child goes without a merry Christmas and Saturday both groups got a big boost toward accomplishing that mission.

Goodfellows in both communities partnered with O&E Media, Inc., at Canton's Summit on the Park and Plymouth's Penn Theatre for Make A Difference Day and the response was amazing.

Hundreds of people came out to both sites, donating hundreds of dollars toward the effort both groups will begin making in earnest as the Christmas holidays near.

The effort was dubbed "Pennies from Heaven" and that's how the majority of donations came – in pennies by the droves. They came in milk jugs and shoe boxes, in plastic bags and cartons. They were donated by children who went around the neighborhood collecting change and by families who just wanted to help.

There weren't just pennies. Change in all denominations was donated and some people opened their wallets – and their hearts – to donate cash to the effort.

And they all had one aim: Make a difference in their community.

The Goodfellows do the lion's share of the Christmas work, community volunteers dedicated to providing food, clothing and Christmas gifts to families with young children. Donated funds are used to purchase new clothing, toys and food to provide Christmas gifts and food for the holidays for the families.

And while the donations will absolutely help with the Christmas programs, Goodfellows know need follows no calendar. The need is year-round, so the effort must be year-round. To accomplish that, the Goodfellows depend on the generosity of donors, knowing that when the money runs out, so does the help.

It'll be a little tougher this year, especially in Canton, where the Goodfellows are foregoing their annual newspaper drive because they had trouble finding someone to run it.

That's why the pennies – and nickels, dimes, quarters and paper money – are so critical. Those pennies are going to ensure your neighbors, your friends and the children down the block all have a brighter holiday season.

The Goodfellows thank you, we at O&E Media thank you and the children who will have a nice Christmas thank you.

Why so few candidates for city elections?

What if they gave an election and nobody came?

We're not to that point, but a dearth of candidates in Tuesday's Plymouth City Commission election – the second straight no-contest contest – causes one to wonder what's going on in city politics.

The election will determine who will fill four commission spots. There are only four candidates on the ballot; with a successful write-in campaign all but impossible at this point, the only election uncertainty is around who will win the three-year terms, which go to the top three finishers, and who will finish in fourth place and get the two-year term.

On the ballot are incumbents Mayor Dan Dwyer and Diane Bognerier, plus, making their first commission bids, Oliver Wolcott and Dan Dalton. They will join Mike Wright, Meg Doolley and Ed Hingelberg, whose terms expire in two years.

Two years ago, same scenario: Four seats, four candidates. In the 2009 race, there were just five hopefuls.

That's quite a shift from 1999, when, according to Dwyer, there were 14 candidates and a primary was needed to narrow the field. Longtime commission member Ron Loiselle says he can't remember a time when, in two straight elections, there were the same number of candidates as commission spots.

The commission, on which members serve for just $20 a meeting (the commission voted to halve its pay a few years back), is the city's principal legislative body, politically responsible for the management of city government and its $20 million in annual spending. After each biennial election, the group selects a mayor from among their ranks to serve for the next two years.

So does a lack of competition indicate a high level of confidence in the current commission and the city administration in general – or a lack of interest in local politics? Dwyer and Loiselle would like to say it's the former and their arguments are convincing.

The current group works well together, dialogue is positive and commissioners stay cordial, even when they disagree. Commissioners seem engaged and informed and are active on subcommittees and other aspects of city government. All profess a deep feeling for the city and a commitment to it and this extends to candidates Wolcott and Dalton, both of whom are already active in appointed roles.

But with the downsizing of city government that's taken place over a decade, the revenue losses that came with the Great Recession and the side effects of economic transformation – zoning questions, discussions over liquor license quotas, major redevelopment projects, public safety pressures – commissioners have also had their hands full as they tried to adapt to changing economic conditions and citizen demands. That kind of change doesn't come easy and, indeed, the commission meeting room has been packed over issues such as a new fire department model (adopted), the possibility of more downtown restaurants (coming ... maybe?) and a rezoning that would have allowed a regional shopping center (denied).

Somehow, those hot-button issues haven't resulted in many commission hopefuls throwing their hats in the ring these last couple of campaigns and that's too bad. Though the commission seems to be in good hands – and will remain so after next week – contested elections could prompt even more creative thinking and problem-solving among those elected, something the city will need to face ongoing challenges.

COMMUNITY VOICE

There is talk among state lawmakers of allowing some bars to stay open until 4 a.m. with a special license and fee. Good idea or bad idea?

We asked this question at the Plymouth District Library.

"Bad idea – 2 a.m. is late enough."

Jackie Brown
New Boston

"Bad idea. I just think people coming out of bars (would) start getting mixed up with people going to work."

Tom Brown
New Boston

"It could go both ways. More money would come. The bad thing – there would be more accidents."

Justin Burton
Northville

"That's when most people are asleep. I don't think that's a good idea. ... It's late enough."

Hearing both sides

I fear that your report ("Lawyer: Same-sex parents 'every bit as good,'" Observer, Oct. 20) perpetuates a dangerous misunderstanding.

The academic studies upon which that conclusion is based are methodologically flawed and statistically weak, having used a technique called "snowballing" to accumulate their small samples. Snowballing is when initial participants in a study recruit their friends and acquaintances. This is considered to be so flawed that I once heard an editor of a major journal in the management field (my academic area) state that he was surprised people would even submit studies based on such samples, since his journal would not publish them.

In other words, what do you get when you put together a bunch of snowballs? A snow job.

Recently, studies have been conducted using more rigorous methodology and these have found that same-sex parents perform worse than opposite-sex married ones. The most recent study (published in Review of Economics of the Household and authored by Douglas Allen) showed that children from same-sex households were an alarming 35-percent less likely to graduate from high school. Somewhat ominously for the current court case, Allen also found that children from households headed by lesbians did even worse.

Other higher quality studies have shown similar deleterious outcomes of exposing children to same-sex parenting. I suggest looking at the 2012 article by Loren Marks in Social Science Research on same-sex parenting (particularly regarding the stunning 1996 study by Sarantakos), as well as the 2012 study by Allen, Pakaluk & Price in the journal Demography on Nontraditional Families. Further, a 2012 study by Regnerus in Social Science Research, though not as good, also shows similar negative same-sex outcomes.

I understand that Nessel is a lawyer and so will say anything to win the case for her clients. Journalists should be a bit more careful regarding perpetuating what very well may be myths. I don't blame you: My guess is that you weren't aware of the latest and highest quality research (though now you are). I do fear, however, that Nessel is aware but chooses, like many others, to simply ignore it.

In reality, no rational basis exists for redefining marriage to include non-reproductive couples, particularly when the most rigorous academic research is showing such parenting to be, on average, inferior. It is not about marriage equality, it is about removing from that institution its distinguishing characteristic (potential biological reproduction) while pretending to have left it untouched.

It is important to hear both sides of this crucial argument.

Scott Julian, Ph.D.
Livonia

Congressman an 'embarrassment'

The shutdown of the federal government is now over, with nothing to show for it but a $24 billion bill for the American taxpayer and the frightening evidence of just how damaging the tea party can be to the country as a whole and the Republican Party in particular.

The governing of this country has always relied on a strong two-party system. When one of the parties is hijacked by a renegade faction to the point where it can no longer function in the legislative process, the whole system breaks down and will continue to break down until the renegade faction is eliminated or at least weakened to the point where it can no longer be an obstruction.

In Michigan, we can do nothing to remove the "big guns" in the tea party. Minnesota will need to deal with Michelle Bachmann and Texas with Ted Cruz (which they won't). The only power we have is to rid ourselves of Kerry Bentivolio. Mr. Bentivolio is far from a "big gun" in Washington; he will hardly rate a footnote in the history of the U.S. Congress – perhaps only as the man who amazingly came into office when Thaddeus McCotter evaporated from office in amazing fashion. But he is clearly a voting member of the tea party bloc who, perhaps more than any, is single-mindedly focused on one thing – doing harm to President Obama – not representing his constituents, just getting one man.

Kerry was quoted, and captured on tape, saying it would be "a dream come true" if he could draft the bill to impeach Obama, but then admitted that he had no grounds on which to do this and no idea where he would be able to dig up grounds.

Bentivolio sneaked into office by being invisible, relying on the fact that he was a Republican candidate in a heavily Republican district to win by party affiliation alone. He has continued to keep a low profile, breaking cover only occasionally, as he did with his embarrassing impeachment remarks, and will continue to keep a low profile, hoping to slide back in during the next election.

Be an informed voter. Look very closely at our congressman and make an informed choice next November. He is an embarrassment to this district and the tea party is a threat to the future of this country.

John D. Webster
Northville

Mission accomplished

Hooray, hooray for some Washington Republicans. They have been trying everything they could to get the attention that they so badly wanted. They got their 21 hours of fame and shut down the U.S. government.

There was seemingly a total disregard for those who would get hurt in the process.

They now are responsible for reinventing the meaning of the familiar battle-cry "Mission Accomplished."

The future will hold many opportunities to fill in the ovals for a Republican or a Democrat – which will it be?

FOOTBALL PRE-DISTRICT PREVIEW

Chiefs hit road for 1st playoff test

Canton to face
Walled Lake Western in battle of 8-1 teams

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

A lot of high school football enthusiasts will be focused on Friday's playoff showdown between Novi-Detroit Catholic Central and Northville.

But there will be another barn burner taking place a few miles to the north when Canton visits Walled Lake Western in a matchup of two 8-1 teams with prolific offenses.

The Division 1 pre-district tilt features two teams that won their respective Kensington Lakes Activities Association divisions while averaging nearly 40 points per contest and being defensively stout.

MU's Schmid named top goalkeeper

For the second straight week and the second time in his career, Madonna University goalkeeper Marcel Schmid (Stuttgart, Germany) has been named Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference Men's Soccer Defensive Player of the Week (Oct. 21-27).

Schmid led MU to an undefeated week with a pair of double overtime ties.

On Oct. 23, the Crusaders tied second place University of Northwestern Ohio, 1-1, with Schmid making five saves in the 1-1 draw.

On Friday, Schmid made five more saves as MU ran its undefeated streak to seven games — covering the entire month of October — with a 0-0 tie against UM-Dearborn.

Schmid currently has a 6-2-4 overall record and is 4-1-3 in the conference.

The freshman has a 0.88 overall goals against average and is 0.76 in conference matches.

The Crusaders close their regular season 2:30 p.m. Saturday at home against Indiana Tech.

D1 BOYS SOCCER REGIONAL FINAL

THAT'S A KEEPER

Rocks nip Shamrocks
on PK shootout,
advance to semifinal

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Rainy Saturdays are becoming a staple for Salem's varsity boys soccer team — and so is the thrill of taking another step toward the ultimate goal of playing in the Division 1 state finals.

For the second straight Saturday, Salem overcame weather conditions to nab another trophy. The Rocks needed penalty kicks to edge Novi-Detroit Catholic Central 2-1 in the Division 1 regional final at Saline. It gave the Rocks their first regional title since 2009.

In the PK shootout, a sensational diving stop by Salem senior goalkeeper Collin Hewett proved to be enough while his teammates finished all five bids. Scoring in order were Brady Cole, Ryan Morley, Connor Cole, Jordan Salhani and Andriy Pelekh.

With the win, Salem (16-2-6) advanced to the D1 semifinal, slated for 6 p.m. Wednesday against Ann Arbor Skyline.

Hewett batted aside a low drive by CC junior Noah Kleedtke (who scored in regulation) moments after going through his pre-kick routine of touching each goal post and the crossbar.

"Make him realize as I go from post-to-post and the crossbar, just kind of saying with my body 'I can cover the whole goal, there's no way you're scoring,'" Hewett said. "It was a great shot, but something just came over me and I just exploded. It was awesome. It felt fantastic."

According to Salem head coach Scott Duhl, who bested CC's Gene Pulice (both coach for the Michigan Hawks/Wolves), it

Top KLAAs gridders

The Kensington Lakes Activities Association recently unveiled its list of Kensington All-Conference football players.

Making the prestigious list from Canton were Jake Boucher, Greg Williams, KJ Wooley, Nathan Michalik, Chuck Turfe, Westen Price, Daniel Kilgore, Jalen Cochran, Blaine Golles and Evan Piontek.

Named from Plymouth were Hussein Youssef, Matt Busch, Connor Stella, DJ Rossell, Jacob Gage, Shane Raymond, Logan Luttrell and Kalen Dunham.

Salem's all-conference picks included Drake Jordan, Justin Sydlowski and Michael Hoover.

Coaches sought

East and Pioneer middle schools are seeking wrestling coaches for the 2013-14 season.

Candidates should be high school graduates who have experience coaching at the middle school or high school level (or at least have experience as an athlete in the sport); knowledge of CPR and/or first aid; a schedule compatible with the school's; ability to work with parents and children.

Write a letter of intent to: Pioneer Middle School Principal Kevin Rhein, 46081 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, 48170; East Middle School Principal Scott Burek, 1042 S. Mill Street, Plymouth, 48170.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Rocks 2nd, qualify for D1 finals

Chiefs place 4th, but will

International Speedway

By Tim Smith

Brooklyn is beckoning Salem's varsity girls cross country team yet again.

The Rocks qualified for the Division 1 state finals — to be held Saturday at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn — for the fourth time in five seasons with a runner-up finish at last weekend's regionals at Willow Metropark in New Boston.

Northville dominated the field in the same way as at the recent Wayne County Championships; the Mustangs finished first with 17 points. In second was Salem, with 59 points, followed by Ann Arbor Pioneer (100) and Canton (112).

"This has been a very emotionally tough year for these young ladies and through some rough bumps, they have persevered," Salem head coach Dave Gerlach said. "This is the fourth time in five years this team has gone to the state finals and that is a tribute to a strong work ethic, high goals and tradition."

"Big time athletes step up in big time competitions and today was no different."

Leading the charge for Salem were junior Anya Cho, sixth overall with a time of 18:57.1.

"Anya Cho has been nothing short of remarkable this season," Gerlach said. "She had stepped up and been a force all year long."

In ninth was senior Kayla Kavulich, who continues to bounce back from an illness that slowed her down earlier this season. Kavulich finished in 19:14.3.

Junior Lauren Arquette placed 11th with a time of 19:18.2 while senior Natasha Stevenson enjoyed a personal best of 19:36.6 to come in 16th.

Rounding out the Salem lineup were sophomore Kayla Hughes (17th, 19:45.1), junior Elizabeth Tripp (26th, 20:12.3) and senior Emily Marcero (46th, 20:51.2).

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Wildcats get 4-peat as KLAA champs

Canton Chiefs come up short in championship match

Once again, Novi reigns as the queens of Kensington Lakes Activities Association girls volleyball.

The Wildcats, the Kensington Conference and Central Division champs, earned their fourth straight KLAA Gold Bracket tournament title Saturday by defeating Canton 25-16, 25-16 in the finals at Brighton.

Novi reached the championship match of the 12-team first through third divisional finishers with 25-19, 19-25, 15-10 semifinal win over Livonia Stevenson, while Canton stopped upstart Livonia Churchill in the other semifinal, 25-17, 25-23.

Stevenson, now 32-11-2 overall, won all six sets in Pool D to earn the top seed and a first-round bye in the elimination round.

The Spartans posted victories against Canton (26-24, 25-19), Walled Lake Central (25-22, 31-29) and Churchill (25-18, 25-12).

The Spartans then ousted Plymouth in the quarterfinals, 25-20, 25-20.

Despite falling in the Gold finals, the Chiefs (29-11-1) had a commendable showing, finishing 4-2 in matches.

"We got nice, even contributions from the entire team with huge days coming from Courtney Kurkie and Madison Kielty," Canton coach Steve Johnson said. "Throughout the day we were playing with anywhere from 2-5 kids out of their normal positions due to injuries and trying to match up against other teams."

Kurkie tallied 52 kills, along with 11 digs. Kielty contributed with 120 kills and eight aces.

A number of other players helped the cause. Those included Haley Diedrick (32 kills, 62 digs), Lauren Schornack (25 kills, 56 digs), Chelsea Janice (40 digs, 90 assists) and Rachel Buzenberg (34 assists).

"I haven't had my complete roster available to me for three quarters of the season so it's nice to see these kids step up and filling in positions," Johnson said.

"The depth of my bench really is the secret to our successful season."

Rocks fall

In the Silver Bracket, Salem went 3-2 for the day, defeating Wayne (25-12, 26-24), Grand Blanc (25-15, 25-14) and Livonia Franklin (25-15, 25-18).

But the Rocks were defeated by Pinckney (26-28, 20-25) and Grand Blanc (14-25, 15-25).

"We played well in the morning and waited around too long, over two hours, and fell apart in the semifinals," Salem coach Amanda Nies said.

Kelly Lidzbarski (45 digs), Hannah Moote (8 aces), Tess Ganich (31 kills, 29 digs), Kelly Whalen (18 kills, 4 aces, 4 blocks), Taylor Jaaska (35 assists), Nicole Jablonski (15 assists) and Nikki Manser (27 digs, 5 aces) had solid showings for Salem.

Baechler, in a Tuesday e-mail to the Observer, said his team will be up for the challenge of playing a road game.

In the case of the Chiefs and Warriors, the teams were mere points apart in the "weight of schedule" system used by the MHSAA to parcel out playoff matchups on Selection Sunday.

Because Western had an edge of 101.222-to-98.556, the Warriors get to host the contest.

"In the big picture it doesn't really matter that we are on the road just a little surprising to be 8-1 and still be a No. 3 seed," Baechler noted. "The state uses geographic location when choosing the regions and then the districts."

"There are a lot of good teams around metro Detroit, so it's not surprising that we are in a tough district once again."

Two outstanding offenses will hit the field, and something will have to give.

Young vet

Perhaps key to the outcome will be who plays better at quarterback. The Chiefs have junior Greg Williams going up against Western senior Kyle Bambard, who is a finalist for Player of the Year by MLive.

Baechler likes his team's chances with Williams leading the way. Williams already is a battle-tested varsity athlete, in his third season with the football Chiefs in addition to already having two years as a backcourt mainstay on the varsity boys basketball team.

"Greg Williams has been outstanding for us as a passer, rusher, and a leader," Baechler said. "When we give him time, he is a playmaker. That's why I really like multisport athletes especially at the quarterback position.

"He is used to having the ball in his hands when the game is on the line, but more importantly, he wants the ball whether it be in football or basketball."

Another key for the Chiefs against Western is having his offensive and defensive lines at full strength.

Baechler said some starting linemen are ready to return after missing time due to injuries.

Those linemen will be called upon to protect Williams and Canton's other offensive playmakers such as senior running back West-en Price, who always is a threat to take it "to the house."

Another senior running back with speed is Josh Winningham, while senior James Hall and junior Charles Turfe also are big-play threats.

Williams likely will look to throw to any of those runners when the situation calls for it. Add to the mix capable tight ends such as senior Jake Boucher among others.

If the Chiefs are able to move the chains, and take time off the clock, they should be in the ball-game right until its conclusion.

OHL HOCKEY

Whalers prevail 5-4 in annual Pink Out game

On a night in which breast cancer survivor Kim Hartman was among the participants in a ceremonial faceoff before Saturday's game with the Plymouth Whalers and Sarnia Sting, it made sense that her son, Ryan, was the game's first star in Plymouth's 5-4 victory over Sarnia at Compuware Arena.

Plymouth's game on Saturday was the Whalers sixth annual Pink Out! for breast cancer awareness and Plymouth (7-9-0-0) — wearing specially designed pink jerseys that were auctioned off to charity for the Karmanos Cancer Institute — didn't disappoint, rebounding from Sarnia leads of 1-0 and 2-1 to lead 4-2 after 40 minutes.

And after Sarnia (4-10-0-1) came back to the game at 4-4 with a pair of goals in the third period, Hartman set up linemate Zach Lorentz for the game-winning goal. Lorentz's goal broke the tie and sent the crowd home happy.

Hartman had a great one-on-one battle with Sarnia defenseman Anthony DeAngelo to set up the game-winning goal, following DeAngelo in the right corner in the Sarnia zone and finding Lorentz out in front of the Sting goal. Lorentz beat Sarnia goaltender Taylor Dupuis with a backhand.

"He's a great defenseman," Hartman said of DeAngelo and the game-winning goal. "I was alone (with DeAngelo) and it was just me and him. I saw the trailer (Lorentz) coming and tried to throw it to him. Zach made a great play."

Lighting the lamp

Besides Lorentz's sixth of the year, Hartman (eighth), Carter Sandlak (ninth), Francesco Vilardi (fourth) and Connor Sills (first) scored for the Whalers. Nikolay Goldobin scored a goal (ninth) and added two assists for Sarnia, while Nick Latta (12th), Bryan Moore (sixth), Davis Brown (second) scored one each.

The second period started on Sandlak's goal at 0:16 with a hard shot from the right circle that popped the water bottle to tie the game at 1-1.

"We had a good forecheck that caused a turnover," Sandlak said. "I was going to drop the puck to 'Lori' (Zach Lorentz), but decided to take the shot."

After Sarnia took a 2-1 lead in the second period on Moore's goal at 14:04 of the second period, the Whalers erupted with three goals in a span of 2:12. Vilardi intercepted a loose puck in the Sarnia zone and scored, top-shelf, at 17:10 to tie the game at 2-2; Sills gave Plymouth their first lead at 19:05 and Hartman scored on a backhand through traffic at the left post at 19:22.

Hartman didn't the touch puck and didn't earn an assist on the Vilardi goal, but his forechecking caused a turnover in the Sarnia zone when Sting defenseman Jeff King and goaltender Dupuis mishandled the puck and it squirted to Vilardi at the hashmarks, who scored top-shelf.

On the Sills goal, Sandlak and Lorentz won battles for the puck along the right boards in the Sarnia zone and Lorentz found Sills breaking out in front of the Sarnia blue ice to score on a back hand.

"We had another good forecheck going that put pressure on their 'd'," Sandlak said. "We got the turnover and 'Z' made a good pass to Sills to put it in."

"My goal came on a turnover," said Hartman. "Victor (Crus Rydberg) took the puck and took it to the slot and threw it on net. It hit their defenseman and landed right on my stick. I tried to throw it on net to make a play and it went five-hole."

Plymouth outshot Sarnia, 46-33.

The Whalers play on the road all of next week, playing in Saginaw on Wednesday and Mississauga on Friday. Plymouth's next home game is Sat. Nov. 9 against Windsor.

Darrell Johnson (No. 6) of the Canton Lions freshman team scampers down the field Sunday against the P-C Steelers. In the background for the field is Preston Long (No. 7).

Freshman Lions finish undefeated

The Canton Lions' freshman football team finished the season undefeated thanks to Sunday's 25-18 win over the Plymouth-Canton Steelers at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

It was the first loss for the freshman all four.

Scoring all four touchdowns for the Lions was Darrell Johnson, one per quarter.

Johnson got the ball running in the first, scoring shortly after teammate Malcolm Clements recovered a fumble. Running in the extra point was Ray Anderson.

In the second a Steelers TD, the Lions answered with another Johnson score (following Aidan Garrett's fumble recovery) and led 13-6 at halftime.

It was 19-12 after three as each team found the end zone, including Johnson for the third time.

Capping the win was Johnson's fourth TD, along with a quarterback sack by Spenser Korroch and interception by Anderson.

JUNIOR VARSITY: The Canton Lions Junior Varsity team finished up their season on Sunday with a 32-13 loss to the Plymouth Steelers, ending their season with a 4-4 record.

The offense worked hard to drive the ball downfield with carries by Kameron Arnold, Justin Reynolds, DJ Harding, Lucas Holden, Calvin Brown, and Tywayne Williams. Kick returns by Harding and Wilborn helped set up touchdowns by Reynolds and Harding.

The defense was energized by a tackle in the backfield by Joe Kaceli, fumble recovery by Andrew Atalah and a blocked extra point by Harding. Sean Britt, Arnold, Williams, Kaceli, and Brown contributed tackles as well.

P-C Steelers garner trophy from Lions

By Ed Wright
Staff Writer

The Plymouth-Canton Steelers captured the coveted "Black & Blue" trophy from their crosstown rival Canton Lions after winning two of three games Sunday afternoon at the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park varsity stadium.

Possession of the trophy rode on the outcome of the varsity contest after the Lions' freshman won the opener, 25-18, before the JV Steelers upended their foes, 32-13.

The varsity Steelers prevailed, 32-20, to finish the regular season with a perfect 8-0 mark and the No. 1 seed entering the Western Suburban Junior Football League's playoffs. Leading the way on Sunday was tight end Danny Lavana, who grabbed a pair of touchdown passes from quarterback Ryan Young. Parker Selby and Andrew Davis also scored for the Steelers while Selby added four two-point extra-point kicks.

Outstanding blocking was provided by Bryce Lynn, Ryan MacAuliffe, Seth Trozszak and Aaron Garbarino.

The Steelers' punishing defense was spearheaded by Trozszak, who forced a fumble that was recovered by Young, Jack Yates and Ronald Federson. Linebackers Lavana and Kareem Mourad also wreaked havoc on the Lions' offense.

Rangers on Sunday at 3 p.m. in Wayne Memorial High School in the opening round of the WSJFL playoffs.

Canton finished 5-3 after giving the Steelers fits in the title tilt, forcing an interception by Noah Brown and a fumble recovery by Colin Troup.

Rubin Williams scored to close out a drive sparked by the running of Kyle Petruski and receiving of Troup and Spencer Brown. Also scoring for the Lions was Troup.

The junior varsity Steelers were powered by the strong running of Ben Bennett, who scored a pair of red-zone TDs. Also scoring for the Steelers were Carson Miller (two TDs) and Ben Wright, who added a 70-yard TD scamper.

Defensively, the Steelers were fueled by strong performances from Tyler Overairis and Nick Downs, both of whom recorded sacks.

The freshmen Steelers suffered their first loss of the season as the Lions displayed a knack for producing big plays. Garrett Geyer paced the Steelers offense with 68 yards rushing and two TDs. Andrew Iaquaniello added a one-yard TD plunge in addition to picking off a pass on defense. Offensive linemen Brendan Jankowski, Justin Tafelski, Ryan Fisher, Colin McAuliffe, Adam Nicholas and Nolan Mathew blocked well.

Geyer was a special-teams maven, recovering two on-side kicks.

was "kind of tough to go over there and shake his hand when we've been talking about this game and this being a possibility. Obviously, I wish we could have beat somebody else."

Anybody's game

Pulice tipped his cap to Duhl and Hewett, but praised his squad for going "all in" in the bid to reach the semifinal.

"We were in it to win it," Pulice said. "We played our hearts out and left everything out on the field. And when it comes down to PKs, if you got to lose, it's anybody's game at that point."

Pulice said Kleedtke did everything he was supposed to on his PK try — except get the ball past Hewett.

"He (Kleedtke) feels kind of bad that he didn't finish his PK, but he had a great shot," Pulice noted. "Noah is on 100 percent with that, it just happened that the goalkeeper made a great save. That wasn't an easy save to make."

Following a closely contested and scoreless second half, the teams took a 1-1 tie into the two 10-minute extra sessions.

Each of Salem's Cole twins had Grade A opportunities to give the Rocks the lead late in the final two minutes of the first OT.

Brady Cole took a centering feed from Connor Cole only to sail the ball over the top of the CC goal. A minute later, Connor Cole broke in only to hit the left post.

Salem's best chance in the second extra frame was a header by sophomore forward Jay Lee that missed the target. A hustling play by sophomore midfielder Max Kummer led to the bid.

According to Hewett, the Rocks wanted to finish the game before getting to the shootout. "We haven't done too well in PKs this season," he noted. "So we were going for the win. We felt we had to get a goal and avoid PKs, because then it's anybody's game."

When it did, Salem senior midfielder/forward Brady Cole was first up. He made no mistake. "I've been struggling a lot this year with PKs in shootouts," Cole explained. "And so he tried to boost my confidence by making me go first, not as much pressure."

Then came the gigantic stop by Hewett followed by Salem's second PK goal, tallied by Morley.

The Salem junior midfielder sprinted up to the ball and blasted it into the center of the goal behind CC senior Alex Pastor.

"We had a kid that didn't play in the game tonight, Ryan Morley, he takes our duhnd shot and crushes it," Duhl said. "What a big-time moment it is for him."

Early offense

Salem had to deal with the elements for the second consecutive Saturday, in the D1 regional final at Saline High School.

It poured during the first half, as the Rocks and Shamrocks (who finished 15-5-1) played to a 1-1 deadlock. The precipitation dissipated after halftime, unlike the previous Saturday — when Salem edged Canton in the district final.

The teams battled to a 1-1 draw after 40 minutes of action, during a half where players gained confidence in what they could or couldn't do with runs and crosses. A few players did slip on the wet turf, but for the most part, the action heated up as the half progressed.

Brady Cole opened the scoring with 24:26 remaining in the first half.

He received a ball from the left flank in full stride, then broke in and ripped a hard drive from about 15 yards that bounced off Pastor and into the goal.

"I took it from their center-back, kind of beat him, and actually with a horrible finish managed to slip it by the keeper because of the conditions," Cole said. "It was wet out, I think that helped."

The Rocks came close to opening a two-goal cushion six minutes later. Senior forward Connor Cole was stymied by Pastor's diving save and a rebound bid by Kummer glanced off the crossbar.

Catholic Central netted the equalizer with 11:04 left when Kleedtke hammered a 25-yarder into the top right corner behind the post.

Kleedtke patiently controlled the ball, then put everything he could into the drive.

Salem carried the play in the early going, as both teams tried to get accustomed to the rain-slickened field.

With about 36 minutes to go in the first half, Salem junior defender William Benintende pooched the ball into the box where sophomore midfielder Nick Massey's header sailed just to the left of the wide-open CC cage.

COLLEGE VOLLEYBALL

Lady Ocelots fall

It was one-and-done Saturday for Schoolcraft College in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association women's volleyball tournament hosted by Jackson CC.

In a quarterfinal matchup, Grand Rapids CC ousted the Lady Ocelots in straight sets, 25-19, 25-17, 25-13.

Stephanie Gibson and Emily Bondar each had five kills as Schoolcraft fell to 15-17 overall.

Amber Staudt and Lindsey Umin contributed seven and six assists, respectively, while Megan Wright added a team-high 15 digs.

Gibson also collected 10 digs.

Eventual MCCA champion Oakland CC (29-1) ousted Grand Rapids (26-7) in the semifinals, 25-19, 21-25, 25-21 and 25-20.

OCC, ranked No. 4 in the latest NJCAA Division II poll, captured the crown with a 23-25, 25-17, 22-25, 25-22, 15-8 win over Muskegon CC (33-5) in a battle of top seeds from the Eastern and Western conferences.

Schoolcraft will open NJCAA District E Tournament play against No. 4 seed Owens Technical CC (Ohio) beginning at 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 1, at Ford Fieldhouse in Grand Rapids.

COLLEGE SOCCER

Serratos's shot counts in MU win

The Madonna University women's soccer team posted just one shot on goal, but made it count as Liliana Serratos scored less than two minutes into the match and it held up in a 1-0 victory Saturday over visiting Cornerstone.

The victory snapped a two-match losing streak for the Crusaders, who improved to 8-8-1 overall and 4-4 in the Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference. The win also clinched a bid to the upcoming WHAC tournament for MU.

MU got on the board at the 1:28 mark as sophomore Kelly Capoccia (Livonia Ladywood) sent the ball across the top of the 18-yard box to Serratos, whose shot just cleared through and under the crossbar past Golden Eagles goalkeeper Allison Snowden.

Cornerstone had a pair of chances to tie the match, the first coming in the 39th minute, but a potential tying goal was called back because of an offside.

The Golden Eagles (9-6-1, 4-3-1) had another scoring chance snuffed out in the 54th minute when the ball was loose inside the six-yard box and Kerri Hoffman struck the ball, but Crusader freshman defender Taylor Kelly was there to knock it away.

Neither side could register another shot on goal the remainder of the match.

Goalkeeper Blaire Schmalenberg made three saves as MU notched its fifth shutout of the season.

The Crusaders will close out the regular season noon Saturday vs. Lawrence Tech.

SCHOOLCRAFT COLLEGE (MEN) 6, LAKE-LAND (OHIO) 2: Romario Georgis tallied his 18th and 19th goals of the season and added one assist Saturday as host Schoolcraft College (11-5, 11-5) rolled to an NJCAA Region XII victory over Lakeland Community College of Ohio (2-17, 1-15).

The Ocelots pulled away in the second half after being deadlocked 1-1 as Daniel Ovesea (Canton) scored in the 16th minute from Travis Hamers, while Sebastian Vieira tallied for Lakland in the 23rd minute.

Georgis gave Schoolcraft the lead for keeps with goals in the 61st (unassisted) and 65th (from Victor Ammons) minute.

Ammons then scored from Georgis in the 68th minute and Tom Ashmore contributed two more goals (both from Nathan Bergeson) to complete the Schoolcraft scoring.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Plymouth boys harriers grab D1 finals berth

By Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Spearheaded by Zane Berlanga's fourth-place finish, Plymouth's varsity boys cross country team earned a spot in the Division 1 state finals.

Saturday at Willow Metropark in New Boston, the Wildcats finished third in the D1 regionals with 83 points — trailing victorious Northville (60) and Ann Arbor Pioneer (73). The top three teams at regionals automatically qualify for the finals.

Berlanga carried the load for Plymouth, finishing with a time of 16:03.00, not too far behind overall medalist Costa Willets of the Pioneers (15:47.30).

"Zane ran at the front like he has most of the season," Plymouth coach Jon Mikosz said.

Of course, the Wildcats had other notable performers who contributed to nabbing a spot in the D1 finals, slated for Saturday at Brooklyn's Michigan International Speedway.

In 11th overall was Matthew Pahl (16:13.10) while Liam Cardenas also cracked the top 20, finishing 18th with a mark of 16:39.20.

Other Plymouth runners included Blerim Mema (24th, 16:56.70), Max Rogowski (26th, 17:02.00), Mayur Patil (41st, 17:21.40) and Jonny Dalton (42nd, 17:22.00).

Placing seventh overall was Canton, with 191 points; Salem came in 10th out of 12 teams with a 229 total.

Canton performers were Ammar Chishti (28th, 17:02.90), Evan Dunklee (31st, 17:04.60), Evan Childs (39th, 17:17.50), Nick Socha (40th, 17:20.80), Billy Toth (53rd, 17:40.30), Sean Carey (59th, 17:52.80) and Mike Roberts (62nd, 18:07.20).

Finishing for the Rocks were Noah Engerer (27th, 17:02.40), Jason Rogers (35th, 17:12.70), Brendan McCann (46th, 17:25.50), Donovan Drouillard (58th, 17:51.70), Nabil Ahmed (63rd, 18:10.60), Patrick Casey (67th, 18:29.80) and Chaz Jeffress (69th, 18:35.70).

RUNNERS

Gerlach noted that having five top 20 finishers demonstrated that the Rocks finally showed the kind of team consistency that has lacked at times this season.

The timing couldn't be any better, with the brightest spotlight about to shine.

"Consistency has been an issue all year and I thought today we had five good races," Gerlach said. "I still believe when we put five great races together this team can put itself back in the top 10 in Division 1."

Chiefs come close

Since the top three teams qualify for the finals, fourth-place Canton narrowly missed the cut with 112 points although both Kate Cotham and Anne Gorzalski qualified as individuals. Meanwhile, Plymouth (207) placed ninth in the team standings.

"I knew going in that it was going to be a close meet," Chiefs head coach Eric Pahl said.

"The girls ran very well and came within 12 points of qualifying for the state meet.

"Unfortunately, Ann Arbor Pioneer had a better day. But, that being said, we still had two of the four individual qualifiers from our region."

Cotham finished 12th overall with her time of 19:21 while Gorzalski's 19:30 was good for 15th. Both runners enjoyed lifetime bests, as did Alyssa Bradley (24th, 20:04).

Other Canton finishers were Olivia McIntee (22nd, 19:59), Mary Galm (39th, 20:35), Samantha Rohrbach (56th, 21:14) and Jessica Siegler (70th, 23:02).

Meanwhile, Salem's Gerlach said Cho, Kavulich and Arquette all qualified for the finals as individuals in addition to going to Brooklyn as part of the squad.

REGIONAL GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Lutheran Westland finds its way to MIS

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Lutheran High Westland, bolstered by sophomore Jenna Wisner, earned its fifth consecutive berth in the MHSAA Division 4 girls cross country finals by finishing runner-up in Saturday's regional meet held at Willow Metropark in New Boston.

Coach Allie Unger's squad was edged by Sand Creek for the regional crown, 79-80.

Britton Deerfield was a close third with 91 while also earning a spot in this Saturday's state finals at Michigan International Speedway in Brooklyn.

On the heels of winning the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference meet last week at Nankin Mills, Wisner covered the 5,000-meter Willow Metropark course in 19 minutes, 33.3 seconds.

Division 2

In Friday's Division 2 regional meet at Lake St. Clair Metropark, Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook (51), Beverly Hills Detroit Country Day (63) and Birmingham Marian (83) all gained spots in the state finals.

Livonia Ladywood took fifth with 103 and got both freshman Catherine McLaurin (fifth, 19:46.0) and sophomore Sarah Wilson (10th, 20:39.0) in as additional individual state qualifiers.

REGIONAL CROSS COUNTRY

PCA trio qualifies for Division 4 finals

Plymouth Christian Academy will have three cross country athletes participating in Saturday's Division 4 finals following strong performances at regionals.

Making the cut as individual qualifiers were sophomore Joey Fanelli — 11th overall Saturday at Willow Metropark in New Boston with a time of 18:16.7 — while senior Jacob Bailey checked in at 15th with a mark of 18:31.2. Both were personal bests, said Eagles head coach Jennifer Lemieux.

She added the team was buoyed by gutsy efforts from others to help PCA deal with recent injuries.

Finishing 21st was sophomore Gareth Matson (18:57.6), sophomore Paul Chamberlain turned in a time of 20:09.7 for 38th place and junior Torre Crown placed 70th with a time of 23:22.2.

In the team standings, the Eagles tallied 143 points to finish sixth, just ahead of Lutheran Westland (seventh, 161).

Meanwhile, in the girls race, PCA's Terra Crown came in fourth overall (20:39.1) and also will be going to Brooklyn's Michigan International Speedway.

Schoolcraft College play raises questions about family, responsibility

By Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

James Hartman hopes the fall play at Schoolcraft College will generate thoughtful conversation among audience members.

Hartman, professor of theatre and drama, is staging All My Sons, one of Arthur Miller's lesser known dramas, as dinner theater Friday-Saturday, Nov. 1-2 and show only Nov. 8-9.

"I think it's beautifully written. I love the play and I like doing something of Arthur Miller's that isn't as well known. Most people know Death of a Salesman or The Crucible," Hartman said.

"And I like the theme of responsibility, and there's the theme of family relationships. Who are we responsible for, just ourselves and our families? Arthur Miller raises the question, aren't we responsible for more than just immediate family? I don't think Miller answered it, but a good question was raised."

The plot

The play tells the story of Joe Keller and Herbert Deever, business partners in a factory that made airplane parts during the war. After it's discovered that the parts are defective, and responsible for the deaths of 21 servicemen, Deever is imprisoned. Keller avoids jail on an appeal and continues to profit from his business. Deever's daughter, Ann, had been romantically involved with Keller's son, Larry, who was reported missing during the war, but now is in love with his remaining son, Chris. The pair plan to marry. Deever's son, George, returns from the war and becomes angry and bitter after discovering his father is in prison, while Keller is free. George opposes his sister's marriage.

Paul Schimmel of Canton plays Joe Keller. Jack Cowper of Livonia and Ronya Rose Mallard of Canton are the young lovers who plan to marry. The cast is a mix of Schoolcraft students and community members from Northville, Canton, Livonia, Dearborn and Redford.

True story?

"I love a play that has a theme where the answer is not directly there but gives you something to think about," Hartman said. "One gentleman came to me last weekend and said this is an interesting play because this kind of thing goes on in many businesses. He said people are aware of it, but

"ALL MY SONS"

When: 6:30-10 p.m. Friday-Saturday, Nov. 1-2 and 8-10 p.m. Friday-Saturday, Nov. 8-9
Where: Dinner is served Nov. 1-2 at the VisTaTech Center, with performances in the Liberal Arts Theatre, on Schoolcraft College's main campus, located on Haggerty, between Six Mile and Seven Mile, Livonia
Dinner menu: Early fall chilled gazpacho soup, avocado sorbet, butter roast breast of turkey, sweet corn polenta, braised greens and natural pan sauce, old fashioned bread and butter pudding with golden raisins and brandied caramel sauce, and coffee and tea because of need and cost some (defective) things go out."

Hartman suspects the play may draw some World War II veterans or individuals interested in the war's history, as well as students involved in an on-campus book club. "In my research I found — although it's not completely documented — that this play may be based on a true story. During the war there was a plant manufacturing airplane

Play synopsis: During the war Joe Keller and Herbert Deever ran a machine shop that made airplane parts. Deever went to prison because the firm turned out defective parts, causing the deaths of 21 men. Keller went free and made a lot of money. While Keller's youngest son was reported missing during the war, Deever's son, George, returns from battle to find his father in jail and his father's partner free. He bitterly opposes his sister's love affair with Keller's remaining son, Chris. The climax shows the reaction of a son to his guilty father.
Tickets: $27 for Nov. 1-2 and $15 for Nov. 8-9, available at the Schoolcraft College Bookstore. Call 734.462.4596 or stop by the store 8:30 a.m.-7 p.m. Monday-Thursday and 8:30-4 p.m. Friday parts and there was a story about it sending out defective parts," he said.

The student book club read the play earlier this fall and then screened a movie version. Hartman was on hand at the club meeting to talk about the themes in the play.

He'll will stage a comedy, Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit, early next year.

Cook and eat vegetarian lunch at temple's monthly gathering

By Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Brenda Chen lifted the cover on a stock pot simmering in the kitchen at Zhong Shu temple in Farmington Hills, and gave its contents a stir.

"This is burdock," she said, pointing to neatly-chopped pieces of a parsnip-like root floating in hot water alongside sticks of ginger. "It's long, like a tail, and then you slice it. I'm going to put in pumpkin for flavor. This has a lot of fiber. Pumpkins and squash are really in season, so today's cooking is all about seasonal cooking."

The session was all about vegetarian cooking, too. "To be vegetarian helps us purify our minds, so we appreciate what we have," said Chen, of Farmington Hills. "We respect all the animals, so there is no killing. Tao teaches us to be responsible."

Chen and other members of the Taoist temple share their love of cooking at monthly classes in the temple's kitchen. Everyone pitches in to create vegetarian fare that is shared at lunch.

Seasonal ingredients

Ester Onaga, a temple member from East Lansing, led the October class in making baked apples, kale stir fry, a sticky rice dessert, tabouli, soup and a shredded brussel sprouts side dish for Thanksgiving dinner. Women chopped, shredded and measured ingredients throughout the kitchen, chatting in English and Chinese, and stopping occasionally to watch Onaga point out a new technique or favorite spice.

Onaga teaches family and human development at Michigan State University. She also started a cooking class at Okemos High School to develop a sense of community among families with special needs members. Onaga's 27-year-old son is autistic.

She joined the temple after considering a check-list of parenting skills and came up short on spiritual cultivation. "It's about cultivating a compassionate heart. I wanted my son to have that introduction at least."

She and her daughter try to maintain a vegetarian diet. Her son eats meat.

Adding more vegetables

Ronda Goryoka of Farmington Hills and her family aren't vegetarian, but they love vegetables. She attended the class to learn "something new."

"This is my first time here," said Goryoka, an Iraqi native. "I like to cook. I enjoy cooking. I always cook healthy food for my family. We like vegetables and we're trying to add more."

Goryoka chopped burdock root for soup and noted that Arabic food stores often include a section of Asian ingredients.

"We do tabouli, too. We make a lot of salads, cucumber salad. We make torshi (pickled vegetables) and eat a lot of that," she said.

She and others went home with copies of the recipes they helped cook and eat. A handout also explained the "Tao of Vegetarianism."

"Being a vegetarian is a wise choice because not only can we restore our True Self, but also realize that we are in Oneness with all beings," it said. "There are several other benefits of being a vegetarian. There are many environmental reasons to become a vegetarian to save the Earth."

The next session is 10 a.m. Friday, Nov. 1. The tentative menu is grilled vegetables — potato, red bell pepper, mushroom, zucchini and eggplant; black bean soup with cabbage, celery, black bean and spices; and grass cake for dessert. RSVP by emailing to michigantemple@yahoo.com.

KALE AND APPLE STIR FRY

5 large flat leaf kale
1 large apple
sea salt
olive oil
balsamic vinegar

Wash the kale. Pat dry. Take the leafy part away from the spine. Role the leafy parts and cut in ½-inch width. Core the apple. Slice the apple into thin wedges. Drizzle olive oil onto pan. Throw in the kale when the oil is hot. Sprinkle sea salt as needed. Throw in the apple wedges. Stir. Drizzle balsamic over it. Enjoy.

TABOULI

1 ½ cups cracked wheat
1 ¾ cups water
sea salt
whole hot house cucumber
2 tomatoes
bunch of mint
bunch of curly parsley
2-3 fresh lemons
olive oil

Boil the water until full boil. Pour over cracked wheat and sea salt. Cool the cracked wheat. Dice cucumber and tomatoes. Chop mint and parsley. Squeeze lemons. Mix cracked wheat with vegetables and herbs. Mix in lemon juice. Pour olive oil. Add salt to taste.

BAKED CHI-CHI MOCHI

1 pound mochiko
2 cups sugar
12 ounce can coconut milk
2 cups water
food coloring as desired

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Pour into greased 9- by 13-inch pan. Cover with foil and bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Take out of oven and replace foil with a dish cloth. Make sure the dishcloth does not touch hot mocha. Set in a cool place. Do not refrigerate. Cut with plastic knife into narrow strips and roll in kinako or potato starch.

SPICED BAKED APPLE

Prep Time: 10 minutes
Cook time: 35 minutes
Total Time: 45 minutes

4 large firm, tart apples such as Crispin, Winesap, Granny Smith or Jonagold
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup maple syrup or agave nectar
¼ cup golden raisins
¼ cup finely chopped, toasted pecans or walnuts
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 cup apple cider or ½ cup water if not available

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Core apples whole or, alternatively, cut in half and remove core with a small knife. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Place apples in glass or other nonreactive baking dish. Mix maple syrup or agave, raisins, nuts and spices. Fill apples or apple halves with mixture. Pour apple cider into bottom of dish and cover with lid or foil. Bake 25 minutes. Remove foil, baste apples with pan juices and bake, uncovered, for an additional 10-15 minutes or until apples are tender but not mushy. Serve warm or room temperature.

CITY BITES

Free cooking demos

Westland — Chef Isabella Nicoletti will share tips on healthy eating, cooking techniques, wine pairings and more in a series of free cooking demonstrations that focus on soups next month, at the Weight Watchers Center at 36585 W. Warren Road. These meetings are open to the public and include samples and recipe sheets. Isabella, who is the personal chef to Florine Mark, president and CEO of Weight Watchers Group, also will answer questions about Mark's favorite soups. Her presentations are at 8:30 a.m.,

9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. Nov. 9; 11:15 a.m. and 12:15 p.m., Nov. 21; 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. Nov. 26; and 10 a.m., 11 a.m. and noon, Nov. 27. Reservations are not required. For more information, call 248-479-1362 or visit the "Chef Isabella" tab on askflorine.com.

Fundraiser dinner

Dearborn Heights — Constance Laymon of Farmington Hills and her sons, Grant, 18, and Luke, 5, will benefit from a mostaccioli dinner Sunday, Nov. 3, at Confetti's Liquor Box Lounge, 3932 Pelham, near Dartmouth. Laymon and her sons suffer from Lyme disease. Laymon, a single mom, says that although she has health insurance, it doesn't pay for all of the expensive medications the family needs.

Laymon

Carol Bonzack, a family friend, is coordinating the dinner and fundraiser, which will run from noon to 5 p.m. and will feature live music, raffles, a silent auction and the dinner. The suggested donation of $10 for adults includes a chance at winning a new iPhone 5. Lyme disease is a chronic condition that is the most commonly-reported tick-borne disease in the country. It can be hard to diagnose because many of its symptoms are nonspecific and occur in many other diseases. Without treatment, its victims become increasingly debilitated. For more information about the dinner, search Facebook for "Laymon Family Fight against Lyme Mostaccioli Dinner/Raffle," or contact Bonzack at 313-651-6008.

Limited edition flavors
Southeastern Michigan — Hudsonville Ice Cream has introduced a line of limited edition ice cream flavors for fall. Pure Michigan Double Berry Pie is a combination of blueberries and strawberries swirled together with vanilla ice cream and pie crust pieces. Pure Michigan Caramel Apple, the winner of the 2012 Pure Michigan and DNR state park inspired ice cream flavor contest, has returned with lightly flavored apple ice cream drizzled with Michigan caramel. Another new flavor, Toasted Coconut, includes chocolate-covered coconut pieces in coconut-flavored ice cream. It will be available in mid-November.

Owners value energy efficiency in homes

Homeowners frequently see their heating bills rise as fall begins and the weather cools. For this reason, homes with energy-efficient and environmentally-friendly features are often a priority to prospective buyers. According to the National Association of Realtors' 2012 Profile of Home Buyers and Sellers, nearly nine out of 10 recent home buyers said that heating and cooling costs were somewhat or very important when considering a home for purchase.

"Realtors build communities and know that consumer demand for greener homes and features has grown considerably over the past several years. Going green has proven to be more than a trend; many people now seek out this way of living and want homes and communities that are more resource efficient and sensitive to the environment," said NAR President Gary Thomas, broker-owner of Evergreen Realty in Villa Park, Calif. "As energy savings and green building features are becoming more important to buyers, sellers and businesses, it comes as no surprise that consumers are placing a higher value on properties with those features."

It's easy to understand why home buyers tend to favor greener houses; often the higher a home's energy efficiency, the more money is potentially saved in monthly heating and cooling costs. NAR data show that features which directly affect monthly energy costs are important to buyers; 39 percent of survey respondents reported that a home's heating and cooling costs were very important when considering a home for purchase, followed by energy-efficient appliances and lighting, each at 24 percent. Landscaping for energy conservation and environmentally friendly community features were less important but were still a factor in the minds of home buyers; nearly half of buyers found these features very or somewhat important.

Regionally, buyers in the North and South placed a greater importance on heating and cooling costs, probably due to more extreme temperatures in those areas of the country. The survey also found that buyers who purchased more recently built homes placed greater importance on environmentally friendly features than buyers who purchased older homes; nearly 60 percent of buyers who bought homes built in 2011 said heating and cooling costs were very important, compared to less than 30 percent of buyers whose homes were built before 1910.

To help its Realtor members meet the growing consumer demand for green building practices and energy-efficient homes, NAR created the Green Resource Council in 2008. The council administers NAR's Green Designation, which provides advanced training in green building and sustainable business practices so that Realtors can seek out, understand, and market properties with green features; nearly 9,000 Realtors have earned the Green Designation.

The National Association of Realtors, "The Voice for Real Estate," is America's largest trade association, representing one million members involved in all aspects of the residential and commercial real estate industries.

Best to head off suit at pass

Q: I own a condo in Florida, and I know that there is a Florida statute that specifically prohibits "deadbeat lists," and it is not limited to debt collectors. Do you know of anything like that in Michigan, and do you think it is a good idea?

Robert Meisner

A: I am not aware of any statute in the Michigan Condominium Act that makes deadbeat lists illegal. However, it is not something that our firm recommends to its community association clients, because there are ample remedies available to associations to collect assessments, fines and the like. Moreover, there is always the prospect that the list that is published may not be accurate and may result in the association being sued for defamation, intentional infliction of emotional distress, harassment, invasion of privacy, and other intentional torts that may be pursued. In short, don't do it.

Q: I live in an apartment complex and there is a great deal of crime resulting in problems for the tenants. Does the landlord have any enforcement given the tendency for criminal acts?

A: In a recent Michigan Supreme Court decision, the court held that landlords and their agents, including security guards, have a duty to call law enforcement when notified of an imminent risk of danger to identifiable tenants or guests on the premises. The court basically held that landlords owe the same limited duty of care when put on notice of criminal acts that pose a risk of eminent and foreseeable harm to an identifiable tenant or invitee. This is a duty to reasonably expedite police involvement. The court also said, however, that just as a landlord does not owe a duty of repair within a tenant's leasehold, a landlord likewise does not have a duty to respond to criminal acts occurring within the leasehold of a tenant, meaning inside the apartment unit. In any event, you should get a lawyer to verify your landlord and advise it of its legal obligations.

The e-book is available for download through iTunes, Amazon.com, and barnesandnoble.com.

REAL ESTATE BRIEFS

Short sales

If you owe more than what your house is worth, you may be interested in a free informational seminar on short sale procedures. Many sellers are misinformed or not sure about how the procedures work. Organizers will also discuss the internal workings of short sales and the different steps involved.

Bonnie David, broker/owner of Quantum Real Estate, is the presenter. It will be 6-7 p.m. Thursdays at 129 N. Lafayette, downtown South Lyon.

Additional parking across the street in back. Please call the office at 248-782-7130 or email june.quantum@gmail.com for your reservation or additional information.

Seminar on Tuesdays, Thursdays

A free seminar on government-insured reverse mortgage is offered by Colonial Mortgage Corp. on Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. and Thursdays at 2 p.m., held at various locations.

RSVP with Colonial Mortgage at 800-260-5484.

Free foreclosure tours

Free foreclosure tours are 1 p.m. every other Sunday. Meeting place is Panera Bread on the southeast corner of Middlebelt and I-96.

Email Georgia@addedvaluerealty.com or visit FreeForeclosureTour.com.

Investors

The Real Estate Investors Association of Wayne will have an open forum. Investors will answer questions and offer a market update. Meetings are at 7:30 p.m. each first Tuesday of the month at the Red Lobster on Eureka in Southgate.

Members are free, guests $20, which will be applied to their membership.

Any questions or concerns, call Wayne Koehler at 313-277-4168.

NOTICE TO BRIGHT HOUSE NETWORKS CABLE CUSTOMERS

This notice is to inform our Bright House Networks customers of upcoming changes to their cable programming lineup.

From time to time our agreements with cable channels and television stations come up for renewal. While we do not anticipate any loss or disruption of service, regulations require us to notify you of the possibility of losing programming. Therefore, please be advised that our agreements with Go! TV, Lifetime, Lifetime Movie Network, Lifetime Real Women, MLB Extra Innings, MLB Strike Zone, Music Choice (MC), NHL Center Ice, NHL Network and Youtube remain in effect on a month-to-month basis, but we may have to cease carriage in all formats if our authority to continue is withheld. Also, our agreements with A&E, Biography, C&I, H2, History, and Military history expire on November 30, 2013 and we may have to cease carriage in all formats if our authority to continue is withheld.

We are working diligently at this time to come to acceptable and fair terms with all these channels.

On or after December 1, 2013, Detroit On Demand, channel 123 & 470, will be removed from the channel lineup.

On or after December 1, 2013, Bright House Networks Local On Demand will be added to channel 999.

On December 10, 2013, Music Choice will relocate from channel 901-947 to 901-951.

On December 18, 2013, Howard TV On Demand, channel 821, will be removed from the channel lineup.

On or before December 31, 2013 the following channels will be made available to Digital Tier subscribers:
Smithsonian HD Channel 694
Smithsonian HD On Demand Channel 696

Bright House Networks utilizes a new digital video delivery technology known as Switched Digital Video (SDV). SDV is a robust bandwidth management system that makes it possible to offer more digital video programming services than before including new HD channels. To be able to offer more new video services, Bright House Networks will be moving some existing programming services to the new SDV system as well as adding new services on the SDV system.

On or before October 31, 2013, the following channels will be added to the SDV system:
PBS Sprout Channel 133
PBS Sprout HD Channel 333

On or after December 1, 2013, the following channel will be added to the SDV system:
GAC HD Channel 373

On or after December 10, 2013, Showtime Showcase West, channel 518 will be removed from the channel lineup.

On or after December 10, 2013, the following channel will be added to the SDV system:
Family Zone Channel 518

On or before December 31, 2013 the following channels will be added to the SDV system:
Smithsonian Channel 157
Smithsonian HD Channel 357

These services will not be available on unidirectional retail devices as of the date(s) noted above. If you want to subscribe to these services, you will need a digital set-top box or tuning adaptor from Bright House Networks. Customers may continue to use their unidirectional retail device and CableCARD to receive video programming other than the programming delivered on the SDV system. Customers who also utilize a digital set-top box or tuning adaptor will be able to receive video programming delivered on the SDV system. Customers will be notified in advance of any other programming changes.

For more information, please call 1-877-885-8318 or visit our website at brighthouse.com

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
