Friendship Station to become 'true senior center' for city and township

Matt Jachman
Staff Writer

The Plymouths will have a "true senior center" and more social and educational opportunities for senior citizens under a plan for senior services that's taking shape between Plymouth Township and the city of Plymouth.

The plan calls for the Plymouth Community Council on Aging, now based at Plymouth City Hall, to move to Plymouth Township Hall and also to run programming at the Friendship Station, an occasionally used township senior center on Schoolcraft Road near Northville Road.

The PCCA is a grant-funded nonprofit, serving both communities, that organizes senior activities and support programs and provides resources to seniors, and their families, looking to maintain senior independence.

"I have a building over there that gets used on a limited basis," township Supervisor Shannon Price said of the Friendship Station. "We're going to turn it into a real, true senior center."

"We do a lot now, we just bounce everywhere to do it," said Bobbie Pummill, PCCA director. "It'll be the start of a senior center for this community."

Pummill said she tentatively

It was an art-filled summer for Noelle Pacifici: painting, sculpture, pottery, cartooning. The 9-year-old from Northville Township found time for drumming and yoga, too.

"I liked the yoga class," Noelle said Tuesday at the Plymouth Community Arts Council, where she attended several youth arts camps over the summer. "The teacher was really nice and we each got to teach a part of yoga."

Noelle, her parents and dozens of other young artists and their proud parents gathered Tuesday evening at the PCAC to celebrate a summer of creativity during the nonprofit's annual summer camp art show and reception.

"She loved it," said Danielle Pacifici, Noelle's mother.

Summer efforts put shine on P-C school buildings

There's no doubt that some Plymouth-Canton Community Schools buildings were in rough shape last year — the first year for contracted maintenance by GRBS. But district officials believe students and parents are in for a treat when school doors open Tuesday.

"We said this was going to take three years to do," said Karin Wysocki, president of GRBS, who toured some of the buildings Wednesday with the Observer staff. "I'm not going to pretend it was perfect."

There were plenty of complaints last year from teachers, parents and even some P-CCS plant engineers.

The Plymouth-Canton district, which privatized custodial/maintenance services more than a year ago, uses a hybrid model for school cleaning. P-CCS plant engineers — school district employees —

Hunger and the Aktion Club for adults with disabilities.

"We're going to be able to help a lot of people," he said.

Community spirit

The event also gets the community involved, enlisting wrestlers from Canton High School for setup and tear-down and Special Olympics athletes and handicapped adults for help with the breakfast.

Students from the Plymouth-Canton Education Park Key Club, a high school version of Kiwanis, will be running the city's central parking deck during the festival, earning 40 percent of the take for their club's budget.

The festival grew out of a 1956 chicken barbecue organized by the Plymouth Rotary Club. The barbecue, planned for Sunday, is still run by the Rotary and is the best-known festival attraction, with 10,000 or more chicken dinners sold in recent years. It is the club's biggest annual fundraiser; proceeds go to the Rotary Foundation, which pays for college scholarships, local beautification ef-orts, upkeep at Plymouth's Rotary Park, clean-water projects in underdeveloped parts of Honduras and more.

Grutza said he likes to see other clubs and organizations involved in the Fall Festival as well. The casual, friendly atmosphere there, he said, is similar to that of a Friday night concert at the park.

"There's never an issue," he said. "It just kind of shows the community."

An ancillary Fall Festival event is Taste Fest, a chance for visitors to sample food and drink from about two dozen area restaurants and food businesses. Taste Fest, sponsored by the Plymouth-Canton Civitan Club, is 6-8 p.m. Friday outside Station 885 on Starkweather in Old Village. Tickets are $15 each; children ages 5-10 are $5 each; children under 5 are free.

Participating establishments include Bahama Breeze, Happy's Pizza & Ribs, La Bistecca, Max & Erma's, Rocky's of Northville, the Rusty Bucket, Plymouth ROC and Station 885, Zoup! Soup, Salad & Sandwiches, plus newcomers Extreme Pizza, Famous Dave's and Leo's Coney Island. There will be a cash bar and live entertainment.

Fitness open house for seniors

The Plymouth Community Council on Aging will host a fitness open house for senior citizens 10-11:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Friendship Station in Plymouth Township. The Friendship Station is at 42375 Schoolcraft Road, east of Northville Road.

Jennifer Atkinson, a certified senior fitness instructor, will conduct free 30-minute class demonstrations, one on senior yoga at 10 a.m. and another on senior cardiovascular fitness at 10:30 a.m. A grant from the Plymouth Community United Way was used to purchase fitness equipment.

Regular classes will begin Wednesday, Sept. 23. Call 734-453-1234, ext. 236, for more information.

SENIORS

plans to move her office to the first floor of Township Hall by Friday and also to eventually have a small office at the Friendship Station. A presence there, she said, will facilitate increased programming at the Friendship Station, but having a main PCCA office at township hall will offer enough space and the privacy needed for family consultations.

The dispatch for the Plymouth area senior transportation program, which the PCCA manages, will also relocate to the Friendship Station from the Plymouth Community Cultural Center on Farmer, where it is now based.

'Active programming'

The Friendship Station is now open only for card games organized by the Plymouth Township Seniors Club and for sporadically scheduled activities. Pummill envisions a senior center there open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, not only for cards but for fitness classes, yoga, health seminars, Wii bowling and more.

"There will be active programming all day," she said.

People have often asked, Pummill said, why the Friendship Station is not open more frequently. "It wasn't (being) utilized for what it was meant for," she said.

The city offers space at city hall to the PCCA as an in-kind contribution and the arrangement with the township will be similar, Pummill said, with no rent being charged.

Pummill said the PCCA will continue some programming at the Cultural Center, which is in Plymouth, and also use it for larger events like monthly membership meetings.

She didn't think transportation would be an issue for seniors who might live closer to the Cultural Center than the Friendship Station. "Our bus service will definitely take anyone out there for any event," she said.

"We have been pleased to assist the Council on Aging in the past and are thrilled to join in efforts to expand their efforts to help our seniors," Mayor Dan Dwyer said. "Maintaining and improving the quality of life in our community has always been a priority and this plan meets that goal."

Officials in both communities also agreed last month to the purchase of a new van for the senior transportation program. The $52,700 van will be paid for through grants from the Wilcox Foundation, the Plymouth Community United Way and the PCCA, as well as through $5,675 from each community. It will take about six months for the van to be delivered.

er, explaining that Noelle started camps without knowing anyone, but would always make friends. "The teachers are young. They make it fun."

"My kids all like art and I enjoy letting them learn new things," said Lisa Beyer of Northville, whose 14-year-old daughter Grace took the Art In 3D camp, during which she made an abstract sculpture of her dog, Rufus, among other things.

PCAC director Lisa Howard said it was a successful summer - about 470 camp seats were filled - and a successful season-ending reception.

"We had more families, I think, than we ever had," Howard said Friday. Artists, their siblings, parents and grandparents dropped in to see the art on display, take photos and enjoy refreshments (including free Kona Ice snow cones).

Howard, of Plymouth, said about half the arts campers were new this year: "That's really nice. We have people coming back but we have new families, too."

More tech art

On feedback cards filled out at the reception, Howard said, there was a strong call for more pottery camps, more digital photography and more camps that apply new technology to art. Those, plus camps in theater and fashion design, have proven extremely popular, she said.

"The hands-on, real life-type art, I think, is where things are going," Howard said. She'll consider the suggestions, she added, as she plans next year's camps.

Howard's daughter Katie, 11, enjoyed an Urban Art camp during which campers used paint, old hubcaps and PVC pipes to construct pieces for an art garden installed on the front lawn at the PCAC. The camp looked to found objects and urban art such as that seen in Detroit.

"We were just inspired by that to do whatever we wanted with this," Katie said.

Mia Hagen, 9, of Canton Township, used found objects of a different sort - stuff that would normally be thrown in the trash or recycled - to make a "tube bug" during the Upcycled Art camp.

"Our teacher was really, really good with this stuff, and it was so much fun," she said.

you

Olivia was a 4th grader. She loved to read, but didn't have any books at home. So if she was given a book in class, she would read it cover to cover, again and again, until she had to give it back. One day Mrs. Kolish, her teacher, handed out brand-new copies of Charlotte's Web. As usual, Olivia read it cover to cover, again and again. She reluctantly went to give it back, but this time was different. Mrs. Kolish wouldn't accept the book because Charlotte's Web was Olivia's to keep. You see, Olivia didn't know that every time you shopped at Target, you were giving to education. And each time you did, you helped raise one billion dollars for supplies and books for students like Olivia. So when Olivia said thanks a billion to Mrs. Kolish for the first book she could call her own, she was saying thanks a billion to you, too.

Superintendent welcomes the 2015-16 school year

To the P-CCS community: It is my absolute pleasure to welcome the you back to kick off the 2015-16 school year. It has been a busy summer for our district, but it is my genuine hope that all of our students and families found time to relax, rest and enjoy what the past few months have brought. I hope it was a time of family, fun and restoration as we all embark on what is sure to be an inspiring school year working with the amazing young people in our district.

Change continues to be in the air at P-CCS and our hope is that all of our changes are for the better of our students, our families and our staff. There were many success stories during the summer months that I would love to bring the community up to speed on:

» Liberty Middle School is ready to open its doors to a brand new community for our school district — the Liberty

Micheal Meissen
GUEST COLUMNIST

Lions community. The building looks incredible and I and many others cannot wait to see students learning within those walls every day. If you have the opportunity, please stop by our grand opening event at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 1, to see this new crown jewel for our school district.

» Speaking of new educational homes, the Allen Early Learning Academy will also open its doors for the 2015-16 school year, expanding our preschool program and offering new and exciting opportunities for countless young learners in the Plymouth-Canton community and beyond. Our respect for those special walls meant that we wanted to ensure that future generations of learners would continue to carry on the legacy and tradition that Allen built for so many families in our community. We are excited for all who will begin their journey of learning in the AELA this fall.

» Congratulations to some of our schools — at the elementary, middle and high school levels — that recently were released from the Michigan Department of Education Focus Schools list, thanks to lots of hard work and dedication from building administrators and teachers. This shows that we are “practicing what we preach” in terms of working to close achievement gaps and it is a terrific accomplishment for school district — one that is worthy of celebration!

» Another exciting achievement is the recent news that our P-CEP buildings were named to the Newsweek “Top 500 High Schools in the U.S.” list. Congrats to our three principals and all of the fantastic staff that work so hard to make

The Park such a special place to work and learn.

» We also launched the all-new official district website at www.pccsk12.com in early July. This cutting-edge online home for P-CCS is packed with enhanced features and information and I strongly recommend all of you to visit it often during the school year.

» Lastly, we want to congratulate the P-CEP Marching Band for recently being named as one of the performers at the 2016 Tournament of Roses Parade in Pasadena, Calif. This outstanding program, led by director David Armbruster, sets the standard for what all programs at P-CCS should strive for: passionate practice, team-first philosophies and the desire to perform at nothing lower than a championship level. Congratulations to all who contributed to the special honor and opportunity.

As you can see, P-CCS is a pretty special place to be right now. But what really makes our district special is the support we get from all of you — the communities that have helped build us and the communities we hope that we have helped build as well. It is this idea that makes Plymouth-Canton Community Schools a place that I am so honored to lead and a place that I hope you all continue to support as we progress in these challenging times.

At P-CCS, we talk every day about being a “Team of One” — one who will do everything we can to help our students to LEARN, PREPARE and THRIVE.

We cannot do it without you and we look forward to working alongside our valued community to make the 2015-16 school year an amazing experience for all involved.

Five P-CCS schools removed from state ‘Focus’ list

Joanne Maliszewski
Staff Writer

Five Plymouth-Canton schools — Farrand, Field, Miller, East and Discovery — have been released from state designation as “Focus” schools, leaving only Salem High School on the list.

In 2012, the Michigan Department of Education created the Focus designation for schools across the state that have an achievement gap — based on state testing — between the top 30 percent of high-achieving students and the lowest-achieving students.

“We have had growth (in testing scores) of the lower performing students,” Superintendent Michael Meissen said. “It’s a credit to the hard work and focus of the school community around high-quality curriculum and effective teaching and support.”

Those improvements — and removal from the Focus list — are based on improvement over a two-year period, Meissen added.

DOE spokesman Bill Disessa confirmed that assessment. “Those schools simply had achievement in the bottom 30 percent,” he said.

Focus designation means that each school in that category was placed under increased performance monitoring by the state DOE.

“The goal will be to continue to raise the bottom 30 percent,” Nick Brandon, district communications director, said about Salem High School’s continuance on the Focus list.

The initial designation in 2012 kicked in a plan for district administrators and principals to close the gaps. “I was at Discovery when it was designated,” said Brandon, who was previously a social studies teacher at the middle school.

“It creates a lot of efforts to prove you will improve,” he added. “There is a lot of paperwork, a lot of recording.”

Despite the previous Focus designations, 14 Plymouth-Canton schools last August were placed in the top 80th percentile or better in the DOE’s Top to Bottom List. In that same list, 21 of the total 23 schools ranked in the 50th percentile or better.

Dodson Elementary School last year earned the label of a Reward School for the third consecutive year, finishing with a 97th percentile ranking.

In the Top to Bottom ranking of all the public schools in the state, the DOE created an index in an attempt to normalize the scores. After several statistical calculations, the scores earned by each school are then ranked in numerical order.

Statistically, four P-CCS schools had ranked in the top 90th percentile, including Dodson, Bird, Discovery and Pioneer elementary schools. Dodson and Bird repeated their strong performance of a year earlier, while Discovery and Pioneer surpassed the 90th percentile for the first time.

Canton Lions raise $4,800 at annual corn roast

The numbers are in and the Canton Lions Club raised nearly $4,800 during its Aug. 22 corn roast to buy eyeglasses, hearing aids and other devices for hearing- and vision-impaired people in need.

"That's excellent for us," longtime Canton Lions volunteer Bill Van Winkle said. "That's one of the most successful corn roasts we've had."

Van Winkle said about 700 people attended the event, near the Cady-Boyer Barn in Preservation Park, on Canton's west side.

The event also offered vision and hearing tests for those who attended, helping to identify potential problems for some.

Van Winkle said the Lions Club is grateful for the community's support for the event.

"We couldn't be more pleased," he said.

The Canton Concert Band played at the corn roast.

Children got to play during the corn roast.

Tickets on sale for Beer, Brats & Bands at the Barn

Craft beer lovers still have time to get tickets for Brew, Brats & Bands at the Barn in Canton.

B4, as some call it, happens 6-9 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12, at the Cady-Boyer Barn, 500 N. Ridge, north of Cherry Hill, on Canton's west side.

Tickets are $25 in advance and $30 at the door - and just $10 for designated drivers.

"Metro Detroit's growing craft beer culture can taste and appreciate specialty brews from all over the country in one location," said Gregg King, Canton facilities supervisor and fundraiser organizer.

The event, which draws hundreds and is geared toward the over-21 crowd, benefits the Canton Historical Society with its educational efforts in schools, exhibits at the Canton Historical Museum and displays at the old pole barn at Preservation Park, CHS president Bill Tesen said.

Organizers say the event includes more than 75 craft and specialty beers.

Entertainment will include the Dale Hicks Band, performing classic rock hits, and

Audition for Canton's Central City Christmas Spectacular

Experienced dancers, soloist singers and gymnasts, ages 6 through adult, are invited to try out for a cast of more than 100 performing in Canton's holiday tradition, the Central City Christmas Spectacular. Auditions will be held Wednesday, Sept. 9, at Central City Dance Center, 6700 N. Canton Center Road.

The Christmas Spectacular is a Broadway-style Christmas show, featuring some of the most talented performers from Plymouth/Canton and surrounding communities. The auditions are not specific to students of any one dance studio, but are open to anyone in the community interested in participating in a professional theatrical spectacle. Past cast members have consisted of performers from as far away as Brighton, Detroit, Ann Arbor and even Toledo.

dancers, sensational singers, glitzy costumes, flashy set-designs and follows an exciting story with professional actors about what "really" happens at the North Pole and how Christmas is celebrated around the world. The show is designed for the entire family to enjoy.

The Christmas Spectacular has sold out for 11 seasons at The Village Theater at Cherry Hill. "It's the hottest Christmas show around town," said Tim Smola, one of the show's directors.

Auditions are open to the general public and to all area dancers ages 6 to adult, gymnasts of all ages, and singers ages 14 to adult. Auditions run 4:30-9 p.m. and specific times for each age group are listed at www.centralcitydance.com. Participants must arrive 30 minutes prior to their audition time to register and warm up.

Those participating must read through the audition process information, pay a $10 fee to audition, due at the time of registration, and must bring a non-returnable photo of themselves with the audition form.

Dancers must have proper dance attire and bring all their dance shoes. Dancers will be taught a dance combination as a group and performers will be chosen not only on their dance skills, but ability to listen and follow directions.

Singers, ages 14 to adult, bring choice of a prepared piece of holiday music, in CD format or choose to sing without music. Singers will be asked to sing at least one minute of a Christmas song.

Gymnasts should be able to demonstrate three different passes across the floor and will be chosen based on their technique and originality.

Cast members selected for the Central City Christmas Spectacular 2015 will be posted on the Central City Dance website Sept. 12.

For specific information regarding the audition process for the Central City Christmas Spectacular, go to www.centralcitydance.com and click on the 2015 Christmas Spectacular Auditions link. Call Central City Dance at 734-459-0400 or email centralcitydance@comcast.net.

Plymouth friends of library join Fall Fest fun

The Friends of the Plymouth District Library will join in the fun of Fall Festival when they sponsor a free family event at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12, in Kellogg Park.

Magician Chris Linn will bring his zany sense of fun to the Fall Festival stage. Known as "America's Magical Funnyman" Linn is part comedian, part magician and 100-percent pure entertainment.

In the event of rain, the show will be moved just down the parking lot to the library.

"We are delighted that the Friends are making this event possible," library Director Carol Souchock said. "We are excited to join the community in this annual Plymouth tradition, the Fall Festival."

Magician Chris Linn will perform at 3:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 12, in Kellogg Park.

Michigan Phil, National Arab Orchestra present fusion fest

The Michigan Philharmonic and The National Arab Orchestra will bring music lovers together this concert season for the inaugural HAFLAH! Arab Fusion Festival at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19, at Detroit's Music Hall.

In Arabic, "haflah" means "large festive party" — and what a musical party it will be. This unique concert features classical music with a Middle Eastern flair, as well as works by Middle Eastern composers and others from around the world.

"This concert collaboration has never been done before and that's one of the reasons the Michigan Philharmonic is so excited to work with Michael Ibrahim and the musicians of the National Arab Orchestra," said Beth Stewart, executive director of the Michigan Philharmonic.

According to Nan Washburn, music director and conductor of the Michigan Philharmonic, one of the things that makes this an extra special musical event is the opportunity for musicians of the Michigan

Philharmonic to perform side by side with the fabulous musicians of the National Arab Orchestra, to premiere composer Kareem Roustom's exciting new work, Hewar, which means dialogue or conversation.

"Kareem has written a musical expression of the interplay between musicians and between cultures," Washburn said. "In my book, this type of special musical event is one of the best and most fun ways to build cultural bridges and celebrate our wonderfully diverse community."

Many Detroit arts and culture organizations have helped make this unique concert possible. The HAFLAH! Arab Fusion Festival is a winner of the 2013 Knight Arts Challenge Detroit, an initiative of the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation.

"The arts offer a unique opportunity to experience different cultures and perspectives. This collaboration is testament to its potential to unite, inspire and connect diverse groups to the place they live and to each other," said Victoria Rogers, Knight Foundation vice president for arts.

Another partner in this effort is Detroit Public Television, which will produce a video of the performance with support from Knight Foundation, the Muna and Basem Hishmeh Foundation and the American Syrian Arab Cultural Association. The concert will air at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 4, on WTVS-TV (Channel 56).

"Music is a universal language and we have the opportunity to bring our audiences something unique and meaningful, celebrating the power of the arts to unite us all," said Michael Ibrahim, founder and director of the National Arab Orchestra.

Being My Mom's Mom~ A Journey Through Dementia from a Daughter's Perspective

FREE MEET THE AUTHOR EVENTS

Featuring Loretta Anne Woodward Veney Author, Being My Mom's Mom

After learning that her beloved mother Doris was the first female in the family to suffer from dementia, Loretta began documenting the details of doctor visits, and recording people, places, and things as a substitute for her Mom's lost memory.

The combination of written documentation and her incredible memory became Loretta's first published work, entitled Being My Mom's Mom. Through her book, Loretta offers practical ideas and a wealth of encouragement for her readers. Don't miss your opportunity to learn from Loretta and hear her speak about her journey.

Loretta will be available to sign copies of her book after the seminar.

Adult day care will be provided by qualified staff. Please ask for this service when making your reservation.

For your convenience, this seminar will be offered at two locations. Please RSVP for the location most convenient for you.

lead GRBS employees in the schools.

District employees and GRBS officials and employees are collaborating, beginning with a committee to oversee plans to improve the conditions of buildings and keeping them clean daily.

"The conditions under which children learn matter," Superintendent Michael Meissen said.

Three standards are followed for building conditions: clean, healthful and safe.

"These define what we are doing," Meissen said. "P-CCS employees are critical to these functions."

The adoption of the 2015-16 district budget included a reduction of 5.7 plant engineers — out of a total of 23. That means plant engineers will share responsibilities for the buildings, Meissen said.

The reduction in plant engineers was part of an overall push to offset a more than $5 million deficit to balance the new budget. Many of the reductions, including plant engineers, were met with complaints from district employees and members of the public.

But budget cuts have become a reality in Michigan's public schools. State funding is some $500 less per pupil going into the new school year — with $7,300 per pupil — than it was in 2008, when it topped $7,800 per pupil, Meissen said.

"You put that force out there and (add) declining enrollment and that's what we have," Meissen said.

GRBS and district plant engineers have spent the summer scouring the elementary, middle and high schools to get ready for opening day. "There were so many layers (of wax) — about two to eight — covering the floors," Wysocki said.

With previous budget cuts, including available resources, buildings' appearances naturally deteriorated, Wysocki and district officials said.

At Pioneer Middle School, for example, the main halls' flooring was darker — previous to deep cleaning — than it actually is. "They all thought it was light brown," Wysocki said.

The summer has been spent restoring conditions at the buildings. The work has included restoring floors in classrooms and halls, removing all furniture from rooms and cleaning it, cleaning carpets and, where needed, painting.

"We start cleaning from the ceilings down," said plant engineer Mike Lardin, who works in Tonda Elementary School.

"We stripped the floors."

The collaborative effort between district plant engineers and GBRBS employees, Lardin said, has improved not only the work process, but the buildings. District employees have trained GBRBS employees, who will be in the buildings for eight hours daily.

"We have a good, bonding relationship," Lardin said. Still, Wysocki said she understands there is still a bittersweet feeling in the district because of the loss of some of the district's plant engineers. "It is hard," she said. "These are some well-loved people."

In addition to the end-of-the-day pickup by students in the classrooms, each room will be cleaned daily. One classroom will be picked every night for a more in-depth "weekly upkeep," Wysocki said.

While restorative cleaning is winding down as school doors are slated to open, work also continues in courtyards — pulling weeds and generally improving the appearance.

"Collaboration is the key between the principals, teachers and parent volunteers," said Mike Peterson, district operations director.

Registration open for Wayne County Parks' Heroes of Hines runs

Wayne County Parks, in partnership with Running Fit, is hosting the third annual Heroes on Hines Half Marathon and 5K Run on Saturday, Oct. 3. Proceeds from the race will support and maintain the First Responders Memorial in Hines Park, located at the corner of Hines Drive and Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township.

Built in 2013, the First Responders Memorial contains the names of the police, fire and EMS personnel from Wayne County communities who have lost their lives in the line of duty. The memorial includes monuments, seat walls, concrete walkways, a paver plaza, site furnishings and special lighting. The Heroes on Hines Half Marathon and 5K Run will start and finish at the memorial site.

"I know what a place

First Responders Memorial is in Hines Park, at the corner of Hines Drive and Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township.

HEROESOFHINES.ORG

like the First Responders Memorial means to the families who have lost loved ones in the line of duty," Wayne County Executive Warren C. Evans said. "The men and women represented on the wall were true heroes who made great sacrifices and encountered great risks to ensure all of our safety. "To honor them in this way is not enough, but this memorial shows that we are grateful for their bravery in service and most importantly it shows that they have not been forgotten. The Heroes on Hines Half Marathon and 5K Run is an opportunity for us to support them in remembrance," he added. Last year's Heroes on Hines Half Marathon and 5K Run raised $10,000 for the First Responders Memorial. Improvements to the memorial included a video security system and new American, Wayne County and state of Michigan flags. Participants can register online at www.heroesonhines.com or in person at the Nankin Mills Interpretive, 33175 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland. The center is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday. Online registration for the Half Marathon and the 5K Run will be accepted until noon Oct. 1. After Oct. 1, participants must register in person. Entry fees include a technical race shirt, drawstring backpack, post-race food and finisher's medal for all participants. The Half Marathon begins at 8 a.m. The registration fee is $59 through noon Oct. 1. Registration thereafter will be $70. The 5K Run begins at 8:45 a.m. The registration fee is $34 through noon Oct. 1. Registration thereafter will be $40. Participants can also compete for the chance to win the Community Spirit Award. This award is awarded to the largest group that registers to participate together in either the Half Marathon or the 5K. Last year's winner of the Community Spirit Award was the Sumpter Township Police Department. Sponsors for the 2015 Heroes on Hines event include Running Fit Events, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Lou LaRiche Chevrolet, Burroughs Inc., Aunt Millie's Bakeries, Huron Valley Ambulance, Durr and Friends of Wayne County Parks. ## Ask Dr. Stewart

Dr. James Stewart is a general and cosmetic dentist from Livonia, MI. Today, Dr. Stewart answers a question about a surprisingly-widespread-but-rarely-discussed issue:

TMJ Disorders.

Dear Dr. Stewart: I've noticed lately that my jaw either makes this popping or crackling sound. Is this something serious? Do I see a dentist or my physician?

Dr. Stewart: It does sound like you may have a problem, a TMJ disorder to be exact. For some people, a TMJ disorder isn't an issue, but others may actually have trouble opening and closing their mouths. Plus, you might have other symptoms that seem unrelated but are actually quite common with a TMJ disorder, such as chronic headaches or earaches. Also, many TMJ patients also suffer from sleep apnea.

I recommend seeing a dental professional who offers treatment for TMJ disorders, which occurs when your jaw joints (temporomandibular joints, or TMJs) become strained. Causes of TMJ disorders include everything from an injury to tooth grinding or a bad bite.

In many cases of TMJ disorders, treatment is simple: an oral appliance. The appliance will look like a night guard but will hold the jaw in place during the night to prevent straining. You might start noticing a lot less popping or crackling with regular use.

If you have a question about your oral health and what you can do to enjoy a healthier smile and higher quality of life, contact Dr. James Stewart.

Back to school: Parents can help ease way for young students

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

Karen Paciorek is a veteran of sending kids off to school.

Her two grown children navigated the waters from grade school to college. Paciorek, a Novi resident and past president of the Northville Public Schools Board of Education, is a professor at Eastern Michigan University.

Paciorek

"There are going to be some tears, probably," said Paciorek, who earned her Ph.D. at Peabody College of Vanderbilt University in Tennessee and is a professor and program coordinator, Early Childhood Education, at EMU's Department of Teacher Education.

She has advice for parents sending a child off, especially to kindergarten. "Many of our children now have had a preschool experience before kindergarten," she said. "Help your child be independent."

That includes being sure pants can be snapped and unsnapped for toileting and shoes and jackets taken on and off. "If I can take care of myself as a child, I will have less anxiety," Paciorek said.

Agreeing is kindergarten teacher Jennifer Wichmann of Cleveland Elementary School in the Livonia district. "I think it's a good time to start to encourage a lot of that independence," said Wichmann, a Plymouth resident who's starting her 14th year in LPS and

SAFETY FIRST

The American Academy of Pediatrics offers these tips for students traveling to and from school:

SCHOOL BUS

Children should always board and exit the bus at locations that provide safe access to the bus or to the school building.

Remind your child to wait for the bus to stop before approaching it from the curb.

Make sure your child walks where she can see the bus driver (which means the driver will be able to see her, too).

Remind your student to look both ways to see that no other traffic is coming before crossing the street, just in case traffic does not stop as required.

Your child should not move around on the bus.

If your child's school bus has lap/shoulder seat belts, make sure your child uses one at all times when in the bus. (If your child's school bus does not have lap/shoulder belts, encourage the school system to buy or lease buses with lap/shoulder belts.)

CAR

All passengers should wear a seat belt or use an age- and size-appropriate car safety seat or booster seat.

Your child should ride in a car safety seat with a harness as long as possible and then ride in a belt-positioning booster seat. Your child is ready for a booster seat when she has reached the top weight or height allowed for her seat, her shoulders are above the top harness slots, or her ears have reached the top of the seat.

Your child should ride in a belt-positioning booster seat until the vehicle's seat belt fits properly (usually when the child reaches about 4-foot-9 in height and is between 8 to 12 years of age). This means that the child is tall enough to sit against the vehicle seat back with her legs bent at the knees and feet hanging down and the shoulder belt lies across the middle of the chest and shoulder, not the neck or throat; the lap belt is low and snug across the thighs, not the stomach.

All children younger than 13 years of age should ride in the rear seat of vehicles. If you must drive more children than can fit in the rear seat (when carpooling, for example), move the front-seat passenger's seat as far back as possible and have the child ride in a booster seat if the seat belts do not fit properly without it.

Remember that many crashes occur while novice teen drivers are going to and from school. You should require seat belt use, limit the number of teen passengers, and do not allow eating, drinking, cell phone conversations, texting or other mobile device use to prevent driver distraction. Limit nighttime driving and driving in inclement weather. Familiarize yourself with your state's graduated driver's license law and consider the use of a parent-teen driver agreement to facilitate the early driving learning process. For a sample parent-teen driver agreement, see www.healthychildren.org/

BIKE

Always wear a bicycle helmet, no matter how short or long the ride.

Ride on the right, in the same direction as auto traffic. Use appropriate hand signals.

Respect traffic lights and stop signs.

Wear bright-colored clothing to increase visibility. White or light-colored clothing and reflective gear is especially important after dark.

Know the "rules of the road."

WALKING TO SCHOOL

Make sure your child's walk to school is a safe route with well-trained adult crossing guards at every intersection.

Identify other children in the neighborhood with whom your child can walk to school. In neighborhoods with higher levels of traffic, consider organizing a "walking school bus," in which an adult accompanies a group of neighborhood children walking to school.

Be realistic about your child's pedestrian skills. Because small children are impulsive and less cautious around traffic, carefully consider whether or not your child is ready to walk to school without adult supervision.

If your children are young or are walking to a new school, walk with them the first week or until you are sure they know the route and can do it safely.

Bright-colored clothing will make your child more visible to drivers.

her fifth at Cleveland.

Paciorek told her sons to buddy up, to get help with school assignments from friends.

Let's get organized

Being organized in the morning is key. Children should pick their clothing and put out their backpack the night before.

"Even if the child wears a uniform, they can choose their underwear," Paciorek said. "We rush off to work and we're frantic and frazzled. It just sets a bad tone for the day."

Reading for pleasure should continue all year, with 20 minutes a day a good rule of thumb, the professor said. That can

Author, *Being My Mom's Mom

After learning that her beloved mother Doris was the first female in the family to suffer from dementia, Loretta began documenting the details of doctor visits, and recording people, places, and things as a substitute for her Mom's lost memory.

The combination of written documentation and her incredible memory became Loretta's first published work, entitled Being My Mom's Mom. Through her book, Loretta offers practical ideas and a wealth of encouragement for her readers. Don't miss your opportunity to learn from Loretta and hear her speak about her journey.

Loretta will be available to sign copies of her book after the seminar.

Adult day care will be provided by qualified staff. Please ask for this service when making your reservation.

For your convenience, this seminar will be offered at two locations. Please RSVP for the location most convenient for you.

be the child reading independently or with a parent.

"Sometimes before bed, we're tired; they're ready to nod off," Paciorek said. It's fine to read for 10 minutes earlier and then 10 minutes at bedtime.

"They need to have that opportunity to hear vocabulary and language. It's the best and least expensive thing we can do for children," she said of reading, adding public libraries have a wealth of materials.

"Oh, absolutely," Wichmann, mom to two daughters entering third and sixth grades, said of daily reading. "That's one of my main readiness tips, reading aloud to your child daily. Kids see their parents reading."

Regular reading at home helps children learn parts of a sentence, as well as the beginnings and ends of words, Wichmann said. "It's also just a wonderful time to cuddle with your child," she added.

Wichmann said it's typical for children starting kindergarten to feel nervous and that family routines like breakfast, bath time and brushing teeth help children.

"Those are really important to keep, especially when a child is starting something new in life," Wichmann said.

"Parents want to help get their children organized" for homework, Paciorek said. Early elementary homework, usually minimal, is designed to prepare children for middle school and high school, which are more demanding.

Even a young child needs a place to do homework, not in front of a TV, she said, as well as materials required. Paciorek urges parents to watch a child doing homework.

"Is the homework too hard? Are they having problems?" she said. Generally 10 minutes of homework per grade level per day is usual, so a third-grader struggling for an hour and a half raises questions.

Writing a note to the teacher in that case is recommended, said Paciorek, who touts email as a good way to communicate and which allows the teacher to respond when he or she gets time.

"Then the teacher knows how to adjust," Paciorek said, noting some lessons may have caused difficulty for multiple children in a classroom.

'Communicate problems'

Many teachers now have websites and private Facebook pages to help families. "Communicate problems you notice your child is having," Paciorek said.

You want to first get the whole story from your child if an issue arises. It's best to then approach the teacher;

you can go to the principal if that doesn't answer questions.

Schools have administrators for curriculum, as well as those who handle behavior issues, and they can help if the principal isn't able to do so, Paciorek added.

"The kindergartners keep us very busy during the school day," Wichmann said. Some teachers may not be able to answer an email until the next day, she said.

Paciorek and Wichmann agreed families need to share at some level if there are problems at home, such as an ill grandparent or a separation. "Life is a little hectic or disruptive for us now," can be said. "You don't have to bare your soul," Paciorek added.

"There may be resources at school for help," such as with a custody issue, Paciorek noted.

Knowing of difficulties at home helps, "just so we can kind of get a better idea of the child's experience and where they may be coming from," Wichmann said. She meets with parents before or after school or at lunch, "to try to make a plan to work things out" if needed.

Some families from foreign countries relocate here and Paciorek noted technology enables those a long distance away to get information on their child and the school. Educators shouldn't assume an announcement will be understood by all, with Paciorek's example of Halloween being the same as previous years.

"Is there a family that knows the area well that can serve as a mentor family?" Such mentoring is vital, the professor said, "because U.S. education can be very different from other countries."

Involvement by parents is key, Paciorek said: "Get up in the morning. I know those school buses come early for high school students." Asking specific questions about the student's day, such as "What made you think?" or others, is essential. "Be creative in your questioning, because that will give you more information," Paciorek said.

Keeping up with school, showing interest at home and taking children places where they can explore and learn all boost their education, Paciorek added. If your work prevents you from getting to parent conferences, ask about Skype options.

"They help the parents stay involved and feel connected," Paciorek said of using such technology.

Wichmann added, "I think every parent wants the best for their child, both academically and socially." She added, after a busy day of professional development with colleagues, "I think it promises to be a wonderful year at Cleveland."

Foster Closet helps families with essential needs

Nathan Mueller
Staff Writer

Michele Austin will always remember her first foster child, the one who came to her with a bag with clothes that didn't fit and a box of toys that were broken.

Unfortunately, seven years and 17 foster children later, that scenario has repeated itself far too often for Austin and numerous other foster families.

So in September 2013, Austin set out to do something about it. The Foster Closet of Michigan was just over a year old and the Farmington Hills resident decided to form an Oakland County branch out of her home.

Now two years later, the nonprofit organization has grown tremendously, from five branches when Austin started to 15 across Michigan. Her Oakland County branch has become the second largest in the state and she expects to service close to 600 foster children this year alone.

"(My wife and I) saw when the children came to us, they came with nothing," she said. "Families do get a stipend from the state, but it's not enough to take care of the needs of children in care."

According to Austin, there are more than 13,000 foster children in care in Michigan, including nearly 900 in care in Oakland County. Her branch hopes to help those children and families by providing them with essential hygiene items, clothes, toys, games and more.

Her house has been taken over by the foster closet and regularly she comes home to find donated items on her back porch.

"It feels very much like Christmas morning," she said of the times she discovers the donated goods.

Help needed

While Austin has been able to establish a strong volunteer base, more help is always needed.

She accepts new and like new items, monetary donations she can use to buy things for the kids and, especially, helping hands to sort through everything.

Austin posts many of her immediate needs on the organization's Facebook page (which can be found by going on Facebook and searching "Foster Closet of Michigan - Oakland County Branch") and encourages students to get their community service hours by volunteering at the closet.

Back to school

The start of the school year is just weeks away or, in some cases, might have already started and the closet is hosting a pair of programs to help foster children prepare.

The first is a private event Sept. 2 in which the closet is partnering with the Judson Center in Royal Oak to let 114 children come in and shop for hygiene items, new clothes and shoes, while the second is Austin's own back-to-school event 6-8 p.m. Sept. 3 at her home.

The Sept. 3 event is on a first-come, first-served basis and an appointment is required to shop. Appointments can be made by sending a private Facebook message to the branch's page or by calling 800-554-4966, ext. 206.

"These kids deserve a loving and safe environment and the essential things in life," Austin said. "We just want them to feel like every other kid."

Rats, rats, everywhere: Livonia residents fight problem

David Veselenak
Staff Writer

It was a busy August for Linda Brown and Bill Coatta at their home in the 29500 block of Westfield.

The brother and sister say they caught upward of 20 rats on their property, the worst problem with the rodents they've ever seen at their house.

"I started setting traps two weeks ago yesterday," Coatta said Monday. "So in that amount of time, that's how many I've caught."

While they went last weekend without catching one, they caught another large rat Monday night going into Tuesday.

They've set up larger rat traps with peanut butter, which have trapped several rats during the night. A bait box containing poison food was set up in Brown's garden in the back of their yard. The garden has remained fairly empty this year, with just cucumbers and peppers growing, since Brown said the rats tend to avoid eating those.

Linda Brown and Bill Coatta, who live in the 29500 block of Westfield, caught 20 rats on their property during a two-week period.

"I had to pull my garden up this year," Brown said. "I had to pull all of my tomato plants. They were eating them."

Rats are a typical problem each year across Livonia and city officials encourage residents to do whatever they can to try to keep them at bay, said Alex Bishop, director of inspection for the city.

Despite some claims that rats are only found in certain parts of the city, Bishop said they've gotten reports of rats from many different neighborhoods. He said rats don't tend to stay stationary.

"It's a continuing issue. They don't stay in one place," he said. "Then what's left will rotate somewhere else. They look for shelter and they look for food."

He said while some residents have claimed large construction projects, such as the I-96 reconstruction project last year, have driven rats to the neighborhoods, Bishop said there hasn't been any correlation between the two issues. "We have no evidence to support that," he said.

Keeping rats at bay

Residents are responsible for keeping rat problems under control, though city inspectors can come out and determine whether there is a problem and what can be done about it.

To avoid attracting rats at a residence, the city recommends residents pick up their yard of animal waste; keep trash in bags inside of a sturdy garbage can; and eliminate stagnant pools of water.

Brown said she's worked to try to keep the yard picked up, even watching her dog closely when it goes outside to relieve itself.

"I'm out here," she said. "I'm following my dog around."

The city also recommends eliminating opportunities for rats to find shelter on a property. Ways to do this include: keeping building materials at least 12 inches off the ground; fixing holes in a garage or other structure; and keeping brush and other weeds clear around buildings on the property.

Jim Raisigel, who lives behind Brown and Coatta off Grandon, said he started seeing rats at about the same time as his neighbors.

His dog was the first to spot the rodents; he saw them once a flood light came on on his property one night.

"As soon as the light came on, I saw like four of them and they ran under porches," Raisigel said. "The majority of where I've seen mine are up by the air conditioner."

He said he knows city inspectors have visited his neighbor and informed her they believed rats could be living under her driveway and recommended hiring a professional pest control service.

Typically, a professional vermin control solution is the recommended solution given by the city to residents, Bishop said.

Anyone who believes they have issues with rats or wants more information can call the city's ordinance department at 734-466-2588.

Madonna University student awarded SCAN scholarship

Cynthia Hardiman, a Madonna University student majoring in aging studies, was awarded one of the 2015 Carol Green Scholarships presented by SCAN Oakland at its meeting Aug. 25.

Hardiman, a Royal Oak resident, said she was grateful to have received the $1,000 scholarship and that she plans to put the money toward books and other university costs. "The experience of participating and receiving the SCAN Oakland Carol Green Scholarship was an amazing feeling," Hardiman said. "I plan to become active in supporting and participating in programs such as SCAN. I feel so humbled; it's unbelievable."

Madonna student Cynthia Hardiman (left) with Sue Sweeney, chair of the Department of Aging Studies at Madonna University.

inating Aging Network) Oakland (www.scanoakland-mi.com) is a committed network of professionals serving the senior community in Oakland County. Through annual networking events and fundraisers, SCAN offers an annual scholarship to college students in senior, geriatric or social work fields of study. Applicants submitted essays explaining why they would be a good candidate for the scholarship. The board reviewed the applications and selected three scholarship recipients.

Madonna University's Department of Aging Studies, which recently celebrated 40 years of academic excellence, is committed to preparing students to address the concerns of an aging population, and to promote the potential of people in their later years through its gerontology curriculum, field placements and role in the aging services community that serves older adults in southeast Michigan.

Sanders' OT touchdown spearheads Canton to 27-21 victory

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Hartland found out Thursday night that there is no easy way to stop Canton running back Markus Sanders.

The host Eagles had few answers for Sanders and the Chiefs in one of the few KLAA football games that weren't postponed by the wave of thunderstorms in southeast Michigan.

Sanders rushed for 234 yards in 20 carries (9.8 avg.) and scored three touchdowns — including the winner in OT — as Canton improved to a 27-21 victory to improve to 2-0 on the young season.

Sanders scored on a 20-yard run in the extra frame to snap a 21-21 tie. He found the end zone earlier in the contest on gallops of 25 and 2 yards, respectively.

"It was a very hard fought game," Canton head coach Tim Baechler said. "We ran the ball very well, but missed on some big play opportunities that hurt us a little bit. Defensively, we played well enough to win."

Baechler cited a goal-line stand by his defense in the fourth quarter after Hartland ran a kickoff to Canton's 5-yard line. That stop kept the Chiefs from falling behind.

Canton got on the scoreboard early in the second quarter when Jacob Wickens punched it in from the 1-yard line. A point-after by Ben

Matinee meltdown for Rocks, pummeled by Warriors 47-7

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Thursday night's thunderstorms pushed the Salem-Walled Lake Western game to Friday afternoon.

The way it turned out for the host Rocks, maybe it would have been better to skip the game altogether. Unable to do much on offense and beset by costly turnovers, Salem was victimized, 47-7, by the Warriors.

"Obviously, we were not ready to play," Salem head coach Kurt Britnell said following the matinee match-up of KLAA teams from opposite conferences. "We got manhandled a little up front. It's a wake-up call."

Salem's first home game on the newly refurbished varsity turf field at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park turned out to be an obvious disappointment to players such as senior quarterback Alex Nicholson.

"You can learn more from a loss than you can from a win," Nicholson said. "So we'll see how we do."

In a nutshell, here is how the game went for Salem: The Rocks registered five first downs all day and turned the ball over four times. Salem managed just 55 yards total offense.

Britnell said his team hopefully took a close look at the Warriors (2-0), particularly if it has any designs on snapping a long streak of not making

"I think it's awesome you play that competition early, just to know where you're at and what you got to do," Britnell said. "Hopefully, we learn from it and step up, all of us. Coaches,

PREP VOLLEYBALL PREVIEW - PART 4

PCA spikers eye winning encore

Eagles feature plenty of talent and confidence entering new season

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Last season was a big success for Plymouth Christian Academy's varsity volleyball team and nothing suggests the Eagles won't have another winning year in 2015.

New coaches D.J. Kellogg and Mary Anleitner welcome seven players from the 2014 squad (28-6-2), led by all-state honorable mentions Olivia Mady and Grace Kellogg.

The Eagles, already off to a winning start with a 3-1 win Tuesday against Lutheran Westland (25-12, 24-26, 25-12, 25-19), also have determination to stay on the winning track.

"We have a great group of young ladies who are hungry for a successful season and really want to push themselves to go farther than last year," Kellogg said. "We believe that if we focus on the little details that we can control now, good results should simply be a byproduct."

Kellogg, an assistant coach for PCA last season, listed those details as attitude, hustle, willingness to learn from mistakes and work ethic.

Spearheading the roster will be Mady, a junior outside hitter who was named to the all-MIAC first team for her efforts last year.

Kellogg, who can play both outside hitter and defensive specialist, is a talented sophomore who, like Mady, made first team all-conference and all-state (as an honorable mention pick).

Another key returnee is junior libero/defensive specialist Divna Roi (all-region).

Storms put home opener on hold

Renovated P-CEP football field ready for action, but weather dampens things

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

While thunder clapped and lightning brightened the dark skies Thursday night over Plymouth-Canton Educational Park, folks waited around hoping to watch the first football game on the newly spiffed up varsity turf field.

Bright bulbs — much brighter than the previous lights — illuminated a lush, green playing surface featuring colorful school logos for Salem, Canton and Plymouth in the end zone.

But fans could only catch a glimpse from the perimeter, because unrelenting storms forced postponement of the scheduled KLAA crossover game between Salem and Walled Lake Western.

The contest was rescheduled for noon Friday (instead of Saturday as originally announced) because a crew of officials was found to work the contest, Salem head coach Kurt Britnell said late Thursday. The wait did not turn out to be worth it for the Rocks as Western rolled to a 47-7 win.

"The kids are probably going, 'Ohhh, we're probably not going to play tonight,'" Salem football parent Jennifer Ayers said. "I think we're forecasted for rain for the weekend, too, so who knows?"

Ayers, who was waiting near the concession stand for final word about Thursday's game, said her son Roger is "excited, he can't wait" to play the first home game on the refurbished field.

"The whole team can't wait to get out on the field and just show off their pride," she said.

Salem athletic director Brian Samulski nodded when asked if it was frustrating for weather to spoil what would have been a grand opening — although soccer games already have been played under the new lights.

"You can't control weather at all, but we'll just come back," Samulski said. "It's one of those things you can't control."

"You got to follow the rules and weather dictated we're not going to play tonight."

As each round of thunder and lightning occurred, the game continued getting pushed back another 30 minutes per MHSAA rules. Finally, around 8:15, the game was postponed.

Beautiful job

One of those holding out hope for a break in the storms was Salem varsity boys lacrosse coach Corey Mattingly. He was slated to work in the press box as a spotter.

"The coolest part about (being a spotter) is having the binoculars, looking down at the field and getting a beautiful view of our new field," Mattingly said.

He said the work on the field, which also included installation of new bleachers, turned out top-notch.

In particular, he was thrilled with the trio of team logos lined up across the end zone.

"I really enjoyed what they've done, how they look," Mattingly said. "I was a part of the facility updates and it's really nice that they were able to bring in both Salem, Plymouth and Canton all on to the field, because we all use it."

Mattingly also said the new lights will enhance the game-night electricity in more ways than one. Walking toward the facility from the parking lot, those new towers lit up the Canton sky.

NEW LIGHTS AND TURF BUT NO FOOTBALL, THANKS TO THURSDAY'S THUNDERSTORMS. SALEM'S GAME AGAINST WALLED LAKE WESTERN WAS POSTPONED UNTIL FRIDAY.

WHILE SPECTATORS AND TEAMS WAITED TO SEE IF FOOTBALL WOULD BE PLAYED THURSDAY AT THE PARK, A SOLITARY BLUE UMBRELLA RESTED IN THE EMPTY BLEACHERS IN FRONT OF THE PRESS BOX.

"Everything is just amplified by the lights," he said. "It brings that much more energy to it."

"I'm looking forward to the spring, having a Friday night game or a Thursday night game here (for lacrosse)."

After the rescheduled Salem-WLW game, the next game scheduled for the varsity turf field is 7 p.m. Sept. 11, when Canton hosts Livonia Franklin.

and keep working."

McGee magic

The highlight for the home fans was senior Freddie McGee III's 67-yard fumble recovery for a Salem touchdown on the first play of the second quarter, which at the time made it a 14-7 game.

Warriors quarterback Kyle Thomas (10-of-22 passing, 142 yards, two TDs) lost the handle after making a 14-yard run that would have set Western up near Salem's 30.

McGee scooped up the ball and raced down the right sideline for the score. Connecting on the extra point was Alex Warren-Green.

But in keeping with how the game unfolded on a hot, muggy afternoon, the Warriors got it right back just two plays later. Thomas found Javon Gabriel wide open behind the Salem secondary, resulting in a 38-yard TD to make it 21-7.

"(McGee's touchdown) was a good play," Britnell said. "We were hoping we got that as a momentum-builder and then they come right back. You got to be able to build on that."

Western sealed Salem's fate with 12 points late in the second quarter, to take a 33-7 halftime lead.

With 3:25 to play, Nicholson tried to punt from his own goal line. But Jackson Noracher got through Salem blockers to swat the ball through the end zone for a safety.

The Warriors then got the subsequent free kick and needed just five plays to score on a 31-yard touchdown gallop by Thomas.

Picking it

Britnell put junior Roger Ayers III in at quarterback to open the third quarter and the move resulted in a brief spark.

Ayers quickly hit receivers Mason Phillips and McGee for completions of 16 and 8 yards, but the Rocks lost possession two plays after that on an interception.

"I know (Nicholson) was frustrated on offense, that's all that was," Britnell said. "And get Roger some reps, that's all that was."

Salem didn't quit, even though the game was spiraling out of reach. Senior defensive back Jacob Miller made two interceptions during the third quarter, following one made early in the game by junior linebacker Trevor Nowaske.

Arnold and Nowaske were "all over the field," with nine and seven tackles, respectively.

The game's final two TDs came in the final quarter. One was on a 1-yard rush by Jalen Marshall (11 rushes, 72 yards) before Cody White's 50-yard run closed out the scoring.

White broke Salem tackles near the line of scrimmage before breaking into the open.

Meanwhile, Britnell needed a third quarterback to finish the game after Ayers limped off the field in the fourth. Junior Luis Carrion played the team's final series and he completed a 15-yard pass to McGee.

For Nicholson, Britnell and the rest of the squad, they hope to quickly snuff out any memory of the lopsided defeat when they host South Lyon at 6:30 p.m. Friday on the junior varsity grass field.

SPORTS BRIEFS

D'Agostino voted Athlete of the Week

The first Athlete of the Week poll was won by Gino D'Agostino, a senior receiver from Livonia Stevenson. He edged Simon Roennecke, a junior forward on the Roper varsity soccer team, as the top vote getter with 2,408.

Roennecke received 2,082 votes.

A total of 4,889 votes were cast during the four-day period on hometownlife.com.

Jamison Scarber, a senior slot back for the Harrison varsity football team, had the early lead, but voting really took off Wednesday, turning into a two-athlete race until the end.

Scarber ended with 157 votes. Rounding out the voting was Deston Langford from Salem with 178 and Tyler Laurentius from Catholic Central with 64.

This week's poll will begin Tuesday due to the holiday weekend.

Following are how the nominees fared:

(2,408) GINO D'AGOSTINO, LIVONIA STEVENSON, FOOTBALL — A senior receiver, D'Agostino caught six passes for 142 yards and two touchdowns and also returned a kickoff 70 yards for a touchdown Friday in Stevenson's 49-39 victory over rival Livonia Franklin.

(178) DESTON LANGFORD, SALEM, FOOTBALL — A senior running back, Langford was instrumental in the Rocks' 22-12 win over Belleville. He rushed 36 times for a career-best 233 yards. He scored one touchdown, on a run of 11 yards.

(64) TYLER LAURENTIUS, NOVI DETROIT CATHOLIC CENTRAL, FOOTBALL — The 5-10, 175-pound senior defensive back had seven unassisted tackles, one assist and a key interception in the Shamrocks' come-from-behind 15-12 win over state power Muskegon.

(2,082) SIMON ROENNECKE, ROEPER, SOCCER — A junior forward, Roennecke scored 10 goals and added two assists in three games last week. He scored five goals with an assist Aug. 25 in a 7-1 victory over Ferndale; scored four goals with an assist Aug. 27 in a 5-2 win against Lutheran Northwest; and added one goal Friday in a 7-1 loss to Royal Oak Shrine.

(157) JAMISON SCARBER, FARMINGTON HARRISON, FOOTBALL — A senior slotback, Scarber caught five passes for 150 yards and three touchdowns Friday in Harrison's 35-28 loss to East Kentwood. His touchdown catches covered 34, 26 and 40 yards. Scarber (5-8, 160) also had 91 return yards on four kickoffs, rushed the ball four times and played cornerback on defense.

Mini kickers soccer school

The AC Milan Detroit soccer club will be hosting a Saturday morning soccer school for girls and boys ages 3-5.

The school will run 9-10 a.m. for six consecutive Saturdays, beginning Sept. 12, at the Dickinson Soccer Complex, located at 18000 Newburgh in Livonia.

The cost of the six-week school is $105, which also includes a jersey for each participant.

Interested parents can register online at acmilan-detroit.com.

For more information, call 734-464-8575.

Girls lax info meeting

Canton Leisure Services is trying to launch a girls lacrosse program and is holding an informational meeting Sept. 14.

New and experienced girls lacrosse players grades 5-8 who are interested in playing in a one day tournament Oct. 17 are invited to the organizational meeting at 7 p.m. Sept. 14 at Summit on the Park-PDC.

The team will be coached by Jennifer Herzfeld (Central Michigan grad) and Dave Medley (Salem coach). This program is presented by Canton Leisure Services, Stacey's School of Lax and Local High School Coaches to Grow Girls Lax in our Community.

For general information or to reserve a spot, contact Coralee Ott at Canton Sports Center at 734-483-5600 or email cott@canton-mi.org.

Plymouth junior scores pair of TDs, safety to lead comeback victory over Pinckney

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

A clutch two-way performance by Plymouth junior Darius Timmons proved just enough for the Wildcats to bust into the win column for the first time this football season. Timmons registered two touchdowns and a safety to spark Plymouth's 23-17 come-from-behind victory Thursday night over host Pinckney in a KLAAs crossover contest. With Pinckney leading 17-14 with under five minutes to go in the third quarter, Timmons scored from the 5-yard line to put the Wildcats in front. He added two key insurance points in the fourth quarter when he tackled Pinckney quarterback Austin Staebler in the end zone for a safety. That made it a 23-17 Plymouth lead with about seven minutes remaining and the Wildcats were able to hang on from there to even their record at 1-1. Plymouth outplayed the Pirates more than the six-point differential would indicate. Timmons ran the ball 30 times for 180 yards and also scored in the first quarter on a 2-yard plunge to knot the score at 7-7. The Wildcats enjoyed a 354-184 edge in offense, with their defense limiting the Pirates to just 55 snaps. Plymouth also tallied 19 first downs to Pinckney's eight. Even so, the victory wasn't easy. Pinckney led 10-7 late in the first half before Plymouth quarterback Jonah Peterson fired a 20-yard scoring pass to Victor Abraham to give the Wildcats a 14-10 advantage at halftime. Abraham complemented the Timmons-led running game with five catches for 98 yards. Pinckney regained the lead 17-14 in the third quarter when Tyler Diehr scored on a 6-yard run. All that did was set the stage for Timmons' heroics, both on offense and defense as he accounted for eight of Plymouth's final nine points (kicker Van Nguyen's PAT being the ninth). Timmons and senior Michael Jordan were the top defenders for Plymouth, with five tackles each.

Hanging on for a fingertip grab Thursday night is Plymouth receiver Chris Walls.

CANTON

Tubaro made it 7-0. Hartland answered with the equalizer four minutes later, setting the tone for a back-and-forth game. But Sanders enabled Canton to go into the intermission up 14-7 following his 25-yard TD. The teams traded touchdowns in the second half, too, with Sanders putting the Chiefs in front for the second time when he scored from 2-yards out with just three seconds left in the third stanza.

That 21-14 edge held for most of the fourth quarter, until the Eagles forced overtime with just 2:03 remaining in regulation. Sanders wasn't finished, however, to the chagrin of the home crowd. Led by the diminutive dynamo — he stands 5-7 — Canton outgained Hartland by a 376-206 margin. Chipping in with 70 all-purpose yards was Jared Stephens (45 on the ground, 25 in the air on a single reception) while quarterback Joel Foster added 37 yards on the ground. Leading the defensive charge was junior Jake Warner, with six solo tackles. Stephens helped the cause with four solo tackles. Junior Reid McDonnell tallied two solos and three assists. Baechler said it was instrumental that the Chiefs make the first stop on defense during overtime. "In overtime our defense stepped up huge for us," Baechler said. "We stopped them first. Our plan was to run two running plays and then kick the field goal on third down, but fortunately we scored on first down. A great win over an excellent team."

PREP SPORTS ROUNDUP

Boys soccer

The Canton and Plymouth varsity boys soccer teams are on a collision course. Both squads are coming off victories as they prepare for Tuesday's 7 p.m. campus clash, slated for the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park varsity soccer stadium. After being blanked their previous two games, the Chiefs turned the tables on Grand Blanc, winning 2-0 Wednesday. Canton (3-2-1) got off and running in the first half, when Alex Yokely scored from Luke Kurili. The Chiefs padded their lead after the intermission, when Ryen O'Meara took a feed from Jason Ren and found the mark. Goalkeeper David McGrath kept Grand Blanc off the score sheet. Chiefs head coach Mark Zemanski said there was solid team defense, particularly from Matt Rockafellow. Meanwhile, the Wildcats (4-2-1) parlayed goals by Mike Blake and Nicholas Yoshioka (with 58 seconds to go) into a 2-1 victory over host Brighton. Yoshioka's winner was set up off a perfect free kick from Bennett Brooks.

Salem improved to 3-1-1 with a pair of wins, 4-0 Monday over Milford and 3-1 Thursday over Lakeland. Against Milford, Luke Nolta and Nick Massey registered a goal and an assist, while Karson Gregory and Andrew Kozan split the shut-out. The Rocks tuned up for the start of KLAAs Central action (Tuesday at Novi) with the win over Lakeland. Massey scored two more goals to give him five on the season. Christian Freitag, Mikey Schwartz and Jordan Salhani all had standout performances for the Rocks.

Girls golf

Thursday at Fox Hills Golf Course, Plymouth won the PCS Classic Tournament with 321. In second place was Saline (331), Salem came in fifth (341) and Canton came in 10th (376). Darby Scott led the Rocks with 76 (fifth overall), while Kiley Flynn tallied 84. Other individual Salem scores were Hope Warkoczewski (85), Grace Grelak (96) and Hannah Saad (106). Canton freshman Nicole Dawson registered 86, while sophomore Manasa Potluri tallied 87. Other Canton finishers were senior Meghan Meredith (98), junior Avery Ralston (105) and sophomore Molly Mundorf (107). Plymouth individual results were not available. DUAL MATCHES: In dual matches, Canton defeated Wayne Memorial, 215-275, Monday at Fellows Creek and followed up Tuesday with a 203-205 win over Livonia Churchill at Whispering Willows. Medalist both days was Canton's Dawson, shooting 46 and 44. Salem dropped a close 167-173 decision Tuesday against Northville, despite a 38 by match medalist Scott.

Girls cross country

Salem's varsity girls cross country team Tuesday bested Hartland, 15-49. The Rocks dominated the standings, with Sierra Bowden first (21:25), followed by Madalyn Simko (second, 21:29), Erin McCann (third, 21:30), Gabrielle Mancini (fourth, 21:38), Madison Justice (fifth, 21:48) and Kayla Hughes (sixth, 21:57). Salem's strong pack included Hannah Jeffress (eighth, 23:00), Shea Wilson (ninth, 23:06), Kayla De-laCruz (10th, 23:11), Madison Grant (12th, 23:37), Lizzy Lu (13th, 23:38), Brianna Essien (14th, 23:36) and Hallie Younglas (15th, 24:05). Salem now gears up for the Ramblin' Rock Invite at Willow Run Metropark on Saturday, Sept. 12.

The Canton Lions junior varsity team runs a big play against the Gators at EMU.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

Strong opening week for Canton Lions

It was a successful launch Aug. 30 to the 2015 Western Suburban Junior Football League by three of the Canton Lions' four teams. The Lions' junior varsity, freshman and junior freshman teams all prevailed against the Metro Detroit Gators at Eastern Michigan University's Rynearson Stadium. Because the Gators, a new entry in the league, do not have a varsity team, the varsity Lions open Sept. 13 against the Westland Meteors. Following is a recap of Week 1:

Junior varsity: The junior varsity's first touchdown of the season was scored by the defense when a punt was blocked by Preston Long and scooped up and returned for a touchdown by Derik Watson. That set the tone for a 34-12 victory. Quarterback Long went on to score two additional touchdowns. Also reaching the end zone were running back Ethan Bennett and Aiden Thompson, who had a fumble-recovery return for a touchdown. The Lions defense was led by Marco Johnson with two interceptions. Strong defensive line play for the Lions came courtesy of Daniel Baldwin, Giuliano Bodiu and Tyler Klabunde. Freshman: Canton prevailed 20-0, behind a sturdy D led by Aaron Alexander, Kris Easley, Caleb Williams, Bryndet Millet and Aiden Wallace. The team also played well on offense, striking fast on a

TD run by Alexander and extra-point run by Williams. After a pair of Gators turnovers, Lions running back Easley rushed for 25 yards, putting Alexander in position for another touchdown run in the second half. Alexander would go on to score the third and final touchdown of the game, with Josiah West carrying it in for the extra point. Junior freshman: A fumble recovery by Evan Williams kick started the Canton Lions junior freshman offense early in their game with the Metro Detroit Gators. Julian Nichols, Carson (Werbby) Wrybowski, and Brendan Seed powered through with the majority of the team's carries. Though strong tackling from Nichols, Evan Borsvold and Jacob Modelski held the Gators to just one touchdown, the junior freshmen Lions were unable to find the end zone in this battle of defenses.

After a very competitive, second-place showing at the Wayne State Warrior Relays, Salem's varsity girls swim and dive team dropped a 116-70 non-league dual meet to Dexter.

But Thursday's loss to the Dreadnaughts wasn't viewed as a negative, according to veteran Salem head coach Chuck Olson.

"It was a fast meet," Olson wrote in an email to the Observer. "Happy with our times."

Pacing Salem with two individual firsts each were seniors Linda Zhang (200 IM, 2:09.49; 100 breaststroke, 1:06.86) and Lisa Zhang (50 free, 24.87; 100 butterfly, 59.10).

Also first for the Rocks was Camille Burt in diving, with 249.10 points.

The Rocks had a solid showing in their relays, placing second in all three.

The tandem of Molly Rowe, Linda Zhang, Katie Xu and Lisa Zhang finished in second in the 200-yard medley relay with a time of 1:51.30.

In the 200 free relay, Xu, Jenna Chen, Meghan Maikowski and Patricia Freitag had a second-place time of 1:47.23.

The 400-free relay of Lisa Zhang, Freitag, Chen and Linda Zhang finished in 3:45.00, just short of Dexter's first-place time of 3:43.3.

Warrior relays

At Wayne State, Salem's 64 points trailed first-place Lake Orion by only three points. In third place among 10 teams was Bloomfield Hills (52).

The Rocks scored firsts in four of the nine events, the most by any team:

» In the 200 medley relay, Salem's quartet of Xu, Linda Zhang, Lisa Zhang and Freitag took the top spot with a time of 1:50.59.

» In the 400 medley relay, the tandem of Linda Zhang, Xu, Miranda Li and Lisa Zhang prevailed (4:10.03).

Salem's Linda Zhang is off to a fast start this season for the Rocks.

» Finishing first in the 200 backstroke relay were Rowe, Kate Cousino, Freitag and Xu (1:56.97).

» Salem's Lisa Zhang, Li, Jessica Zhang and Linda Zhang also won in the 200 breaststroke relay (2:11.99).

Plymouth breakdown

A large, promising influx of freshmen could bolster the chances for Plymouth.

The Wildcats' roster, according to the Plymouth Athletics website, features just four seniors — Meghana Somsaale, Sruthi Sundar, Audrey Roth and Allison Lennig.

But head coach Kenneth Forbes welcomes 11 ninth-graders to the fold.

That group includes Christina Brown, Sofia Giacobone, Natalie Gifford, Siddhi Jadhav, Kelsey Peregor, Gabrielle Kendall, Sarah Kim, Korrine Stevens, Sneha Sundar, Puja Modi and Vy Nguyen.

Nearly as many juniors (nine) are on the roster, namely Cequola Bobee, Olivia Richmond, Caroline Whitaker, Isabella Giacobone, Grace Pierzynski, Sarah Haggitt, Nicole Misquitta, Kathryn Waters and Kaylee Yang.

Rounding out the roster are five sophomores — Courtney Sturgeon, Alyssa Crisp, Sarah Zrull, Emma Reeves and Grace MacLellan.

Last year's team went 5-1 overall and 4-1 in the KLAA South Division, good for second place.

GIRLS SWIMMING

Rockets blaze to big win over Ladywood

Westland John Glenn's girls swim and dive team rocketed off the launching pad during Thursday's season-opening dual meet against Livonia Ladywood.

Buoyed their deep and talented roster, the Rockets torched the Blazers, 102-71.

John Glenn's 200-yard medley relay team of Sahara Tomlin, Hannah Cizauskas, Kera Sells and Sidney Aloisi got things rolling for the winners by winning the first event with a time of 2 minutes, 6.57 seconds.

Ladywood's foursome of Natalie Stevenson, Monica Rzepka, Lemmer Katy and Olivia Dario touched seven seconds later to earn the Blazers four second-place points.

With little time to rest, Stevenson captured the 200 freestyle for Ladywood in 2:24.77 — six seconds faster than John Glenn's Taylor Mifsud.

Ladywood prevailed again in the third race — the 200 individual medley — thanks to a golden performance from Rzepka, who completed the challenging event in 2:26.33. Cizauskas was second for the Rockets in 2:43.79.

The Rockets seized control of the meet in the 50 freestyle, which they swept thanks to lightning-quick strokes from Aloisi (25.81), Alanha Rudd (30.07) and Amethyst Weiss (30.95).

Ladywood's Rachel Williams, the meet's lone diver, earned six points by racking up 126.05 points.

The Rockets' speed struck again the 100 freestyle as Aloisi (57.47), Rudd (1:08.14) and Weiss (1:11.54) went 1-2-3 to chalk up 13 big points.

Moments later, Mifsud put her endurance on display by winning the 500 freestyle in 6:46.89 — close to 20 seconds swifter than Ladywood's Grace Doyle.

Glenn's quartet of Sells, Rudd, Weiss and Aloisi won the 200 freestyle relay in 1:58.15 before Sells cruised through the water to win the 100 backstroke in 1:10.10.

Rzepka won the 100 breaststroke in 1:12.59, nine seconds quicker than Hannah Cizauskas. Ladywood's team of Stevenson, Dario, Katy and Rzepka gave the Blazers some momentum heading into their next meet by touching first in the 400 freestyle relay in 4:30.42.

Would you like a pit bull pup with your ice cream cone?

DOG FOSTERING

The dog days this summer have passed, but it's always canine time at Dairy King in downtown Plymouth.

Spring through fall, the family-owned business draws ice-cream lovers, many with dogs on leash, who meet other dog owners, see other dogs, and bring their pooches to the outdoor service window, hoping owner Michael Hurley will take a snapshot for the Dairy King Facebook page.

"It's become a thing on Facebook," said Kathryn Hurley, 24, who often works with her dad at the ice cream parlor. "That has only been the last year and a half to two years that he has been putting the dogs on Facebook. People definitely comment on it."

"He just loves people's dogs," said mom Mary Hurley, adding that patrons want her husband to photograph their pets. "They ask, when are you going to post it? It's so funny."

Dogs lick ice cream, sport ice cream on their noses, smile with lolling tongues and stand on hind legs in photos that populate the page. Several Paws with a Cause dogs earned a posting in July. Buster, an akita who visits daily with Jim and Monica Woltkamp, hugs the service counter in a photo sequence dated July 30.

"We just love it," said Monica Woltkamp, during a recent visit with her husband and Buster, 3 1/2. "We live in Westland. There's nothing like this in Westland."

When Dairy King closes for the season in October, the postings continue, often with photos of adoptable pit bull puppies that Mary fosters at the family's Plymouth Township home. She also promotes small, grassroots animal rescue organizations by holding fundraisers at Dairy King during the summer.

Restoring their health

"It was roughly two years ago that she started. It seemed like it was one after the other," Michael described his wife's work as a dog foster. "She had befriended a couple of girls who had different rescue organizations and she kept bringing home these pit bulls. It is just amazing how wonderful they are."

"They come in and

Here are a few observations from Mary and Kathryn Hurley on dog fostering:

- » Exercise patience and realize that fostering is "not something that is just for fun," Kathryn says.
- » Have a support system, so you can take occasional breaks from caring for your foster dog.
- » Expect to spend time at adoption events. "Some of the bigger rescues have events every Saturday and you'll have to bring your dog there," Kathryn notes. "So, pick someone local and know that there will be a time commitment."
- » Find a rescue you like. "You want to find someone who really matches up with your moral standpoint," Kathryn says.
- » Get to know the individuals you're working with.

they are thin and you know there has been cruelty involved and in two to three weeks you see the transformation. It's due solely to her. Once you place a dog you've got another one coming in. That's where my daughter came in."

Kathryn, a former intern at Detroit Dog Rescue and former employee at Michigan Animal Rescue League, promotes the pups on social media. Although all three of the Hurley children — and the couple's grandchildren — love animals, it's Kathryn who keeps a leash and blanket ready for rescue.

She's not sure how some callers get her phone number, but she has responded to numerous rescue calls. There was the time she headed out to Detroit at 5 a.m. to pick up German shepherd puppies from a recycling bin. Another time, a Detroit police officer asked her to take a pit bull found on a porch during a storm. "My friends joke whenever we go to a Tiger game, 'OK, let's get her to the car before she starts searching for a stray dog to take home,'" Kathryn said.

Making them adoptable

Mary fosters, working primarily with Plymouth Township-based Good Juju Rescue Fund, and with a dog rescuer in Berkley. Most of the puppies are pit bulls, although she has taken in a German shepherd, Pomeranian siblings and Yorkshire terriers. She fosters puppies because they get along with the family's own adult dogs.

Kathryn Hurley nuzzles one of her family's foster puppies.

The rescues allow her to interview the potential adopters, visit their homes and decide whether they are a good match for her foster pup. She pays for her foster dogs' food and vet care.

"I don't ask my rescues for anything," she said. "I pay for all my own stuff because I can and I want to."

Mary maintains a relationship with the adopters, often visiting the growing pups in their new home or welcoming them to Dairy King.

"For whatever reason, we're just too darn good about getting homes. They come and go pretty quickly," Mary said. It helps that Dairy King is known as a dog-friendly establishment and that mother and daughter network on social media.

A joy to help

Finding the perfect home for her foster puppies is a rewarding and emotional experience. But saying goodbye comes with tears.

"You get so attached. You get these puppies that are full of worms and fleas and then we get them healthy and we find amazing homes for them," Mary said. "If they could talk, they'd say thank you."

Since she began fostering, Mary once took in seven dogs simultaneously. She nursed a puppy with deadly parvo back to health and helped transport a dog. Once, when visiting a former foster, the dog's exuberant siblings tackled her to the ground and knocked out her tooth.

But it's all good with the Hurley family. "We're the ones chasing the dog in the middle of the highway, trying to get the dog into the car," Mary said. "It's nothing but a joy to help these animals."

Dairy King is located at 232 S. Main. Visit its page on Facebook.

Five authors to talk about their books at fall luncheon

Three novelists and two nonfiction writers will discuss their new books at the Metro Detroit Book & Author Society's fall book luncheon, Oct. 19 at Burton Manor, 27777 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

The authors are David Maraniss, a Pulitzer

Bonnie Jo Campbell

Katzenbach, master of

Prize-winning reporter and Detroit native; Lily Tuck, author of five novels; John the modern psychological thriller; Jason Gay, a Wall Street Journal reporter and columnist; and Bonnie Jo Campbell, a novelist and short story writer from Comstock.

In Once in a Great City: A Detroit Story, Maraniss draws a vivid portrait of the Motor City in the 1960s when it was in the midst of a golden age. Tuck's new novel, The Double Life of Liliane, is an intimate portrait of a writer's coming of age.

Katzenbach's new novel, The Dead Student, follows a young man set on avenging the uncle who saved his life. Gay writes about everything from sports to his "Rules" in columns in the Wall Street Journal that provide advice for everyday life.

Campbell's new collection of stories is titled Mothers, Tell Your Daughters.

The event starts at noon and will include lunch, book sales and the opportunity to have books autographed. Tickets are $40 and online at www.bookandauthor.info and by phone at 586-685-5750.

Prosecutor Kym Worthy to speak at Giving Hope annual event

Wayne County Prosecutor Kym L. Worthy will talk about rape kits at the annual Giving Hope, Women's Giving Circle Annual Event on Wednesday, Oct. 7, at the Village Theater at Cherry Hill, 50400 Cherry Hill Road, in Canton.

One of Worthy's goals has been to decrease the backlog of more than 10,000 untested rape kits in Wayne County through the Enough SAID (Sexual Assault in Detroit) campaign. She'll talk about her efforts in reducing the backlog and in preventing future backlogs, at the event which will start with a reception at 5:30 p.m., followed by the program at 6:45 p.m. Admission is $30, which includes appetizers and desserts. Online registration for the event is available at www.canton-foundation.org/giving-hope.

Survivors of sexual assault in Detroit are one step closer to justice after the announcement this past week that more than 10,000 sexual assault evidence kits discovered on a shelf in a warehouse several years ago have been processed and the results sent to investigators for further action.

Maria Miller, spokeswoman for the Wayne County prosecutor, said Friday "We're onto the next phase of the process. Now it's the investigation and the prosecution."

Gov. Rick Snyder, Col. Kriste Kibbey Etue of the Michigan State Police, Worthy, Laura Moody of Attorney General Bill Schuette's office, and Debi Cain, director of the Michigan Domestic and Sexual Violence Prevention and Treatment Board, all made remarks at a press conference that highlighted the completion of the forensic testing and outlined the next steps in seeking justice for survivors.

"The completion of the forensic examination of these sexual assault evidence kits is long overdue, and I commend all the various parties that came together to make this a priority and get it done," Snyder said. "Survivors of sexual assault crimes deserve swift justice, and we will continue working to make sure a stockpile of this nature never again occurs in Michigan."

A supplemental budget enacted in 2013 by Snyder included funding to test an additional 8,000 sexual assault evidence kits, after the first 2,000 were initially processed by the Michigan State Police using federal grants. The state approved $4 million in funding for the 8000 Project, with an additional $3 million for the Attorney General's office to assist in prosecuting the offenders identified by the testing. Additional money raised from private donors and nonprofits, organized by the Michigan Women's Foundation Enough SAID project, is expected to help with next steps and prosecution efforts.

"We have been working tirelessly to bring justice to sexual assault victims since 2009," Worthy said. "Through various collaborations and partnerships, we have been able to do so on local, state, and national levels. Getting the rape kits tested was only the first step. Now we must investigate and prosecute all of the cases that have CODIS hits. We must also take a second look at those that did not have CODIS hits."

In all, a total of 10,087 sexual assault evidence kits from the Detroit Police Department have been tested, resulting in 2,616 associations in the FBI's Combined DNA Index System (CODIS), including associations to either criminal cases or individuals in 35 states and the District of Columbia. CODIS is used to search DNA profiles obtained from crime scene evidence against DNA profiles from convicted offenders and arrestees to generate leads in cases when an association is obtained.

Worthy has served as Wayne County prosecutor since 2004. Previously, she served as a judge on the Wayne County Circuit Court from 1994 to 2004 and as assistant Wayne County prosecutor from 1984-94.

"The Giving Hope Women's Giving Circle is pleased to support this important initiative through our Annual Event program," said Debbie Maloni, Giving Hope Special Events chair, in a press release. "Giving Hope will make a donation to the Enough SAID campaign to help continue its work."

Giving Hope, Women's Giving Circle is a donor-advised fund of the Canton Community Foundation that provides grants to address the needs of women and families in the greater Canton and Plymouth areas. Approximately 80 women comprise the Giving Circle, which aspires to make a positive community impact through philanthropy

ARTHRITIS AND CANCER

Does having arthritis place a person at risk for cancer? The general answer is no. The diagnosis of osteoarthritis, gout or back arthritis carries no concern for malignancy. But people with rheumatoid arthritis and lupus are different.

These two conditions fit into the group known as the autoimmune arthritides. The root cause of both rheumatoid and arthritis comes from an error of lymphocyte production and response. Lymphocytes are white blood cells whose purpose is to act as a sentinel against invasion by irritants, bacteria, viruses, fungi and a variety of substances, which if not opposed will cause bodily harm. In the case of rheumatoid arthritis and lupus, lymphocytes mistake a constituent of the body as being foreign, and mount an attack against the self via the production of auto antibodies, that is antibodies against itself.

In rheumatoid arthritis the perceived invaders are in the joints of the hands; in lupus the source of lymphocyte reaction is the kidney. This battle between lymphocytes and the body can continue for years. Medication acts to dampen this inappropriate lymphocyte activity, but only in a few instances does therapy completely quell the lymphocyte-antibody response.

Years of over activity form the basis for lymphocytes to change from ordinary white cells into cancer cells. Over a hundred years ago, long before we had medicine to fight rheumatoid and lupus, physicians observed that patients with these conditions developed lymphoma at a rate greater than people who were healthy or afflicted with other disease.

Oddly, patients with psoriasis or psoriatic arthritis, despite spending so much time in the sun, develop skin cancer at the rate of the public at large, but have lymphoma at the same rate as patients with rheumatoid arthritis.

Tour homes in Northville, help raise funds for AAUW

From a cool condo makeover, to Victorian era houses real and faux, and a rare vintage train collection, Northville's 2015 home tour from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 26, has something for everyone.

This year's homes offer homeowners ideas that they can adapt to suit their own taste and space. It's a chance to see the beautiful home interiors.

Guests will set their own tour pace while listening to commentary by stationed docents. Two tour homes are in Northville Township — on Crystal Lake Drive and Crestview Circle — and three are in the city — on Hutton, Beal and Randolph streets. Parking for the Randolph Street house is at nearby First Baptist Church.

Ticket holders get exclusive access to a bonus Garden Party, 2-5 p.m. on tour day at Starring "The Gallery" at 118 W. Main St. in Northville. The Garden Party will include free refreshments provided by Busch's Market and other local vendors.

Tickets are $20. Buy them online at www.aauwnn.org (click "Home Tour 2015 Tickets"). Tickets also are available at Starring "The Gallery," Gardenviews, 117 E. Main, Northville; Pear-Aphernalia, 184 E. Main, Northville; Meadowbrook Art Center, 41200 10 Mile, Novi; and Northville Chamber of Commerce, 195 S. Main, Northville.

Tickets may also be on sale at the display homes on tour day, but availability is not guaranteed. For details, contact Home Tour chair Jane Hecker at 734-276-6160.
