Courtesy or 'meddling'? Officials bicker

Matt Jachman
Staff Writer

A Plymouth Township trustee's objections to what other officials described as a courtesy by a neighboring community sparked a terse email exchange between the trustee and Northville Township Manager Chip Snider.

Trustee Bob Doroshewitz opposed the involvement of Jennifer Frey, Northville Township community development director, in helping Plymouth Township officials review proposals from consulting firms vying for a contract to update Plymouth Township's open space and recreation plan. On the evening of Sept. 7 — the day before the Board of Trustees voted on the contract — Doroshewitz emailed Frey, asking "why you think it is appropriate for you to be doing that."

He also copied the Northville Township board.

"Board of Trustees, I am quite sure you would be equally offended if this happened in your community and I am equally sure you would expect that staff work to be done by your own residents/employees," he wrote.

When Northville Township Trustee Mindy Herrmann forwarded Doroshewitz's message to Snider, Snider responded, and the exchange was on, with Doroshewitz criticizing Snider and decrying what he called Frey's "meddling" and Snider defending Frey's involvement as a gesture of cooperation and saying he would continue to emphasize "servant leadership."

Doroshewitz called Snider a "perfect stooge" in one message, while Snider quipped that Doroshewitz was "too busy for a pen pal."

Strained relations?

Plymouth Township Supervisor Shannon Price, who apologized in one email for Doroshewitz's remarks and said he appreciated Frey's help, said the incident has hurt relations with officials in Northville Township.

"I've spent the last week and a half working with people in Northville (Township) to try and mend fences," said Price, who used to represent the area as a Wayne County commissioner. "We're still going to have to work together."

Email 'pen pals' trade barbs across township lines

Here are excerpts from emails sent Sept. 7-8 by officials in Plymouth and Northville townships.

Plymouth Township Trustee Bob Doroshewitz began the back-and-forth when he emailed Jennifer Frey, Northville Township planner, asking about her involvement in helping Plymouth Township officials review proposals from companies seeking a contract to update the open space and recreation master plan:

"I would like to understand why you think it is appropriate for you to be doing that and I will ask the same of the Northville Township Board."

"To my knowledge you neither work nor live in Plymouth Township."

Northville Township Manager Chip Snider answered, defending the cooperation. He copied other officials:

"The level of collaboration between Plymouth and Northville Townships has never been higher."

In the same message, he reacted to Doroshewitz's tone:

"This office is deeply concerned with the abrupt comments made to Ms. Frey and hopes Supervisor (Shannon) Price takes this issue up with his Trustee."

Doroshewitz responded: "Our recreation strategy is an internal matter and I respectfully request you remove your nose from it."

Doroshewitz, in the same message, criticized Snider's participation on a panel that recommended in June the hiring of Mike Mitchell, Plymouth Township's recreation and grants director, a controversial appointment:

"Sorry to be the one to inform you, Mr. Snider, you got played for the perfect stooge on that one. I would have thought you could have seen that one coming as I understand you are a pretty smart guy."

Price weighed in, apologizing to Frey and other Northville Township officials about Doroshewitz's remarks and explaining what led to his request for Frey's assistance:

"I hope that the comments from one of our Board members criticizing Ms. Frey's efforts to help a neighbor will not reflect badly on her, her career or our relationship."

Doroshewitz responded

'One busy place': PARC introduces itself

Matt Jachman
Staff Writer

In late May, the public said goodbye to Plymouth's Central Middle School, the former Plymouth High School.

On Thursday, it said hello to the Plymouth Arts and Recreation Complex in the very same spot at Church and Main.

Thursday's PARC open house at the former school, attended by well over 100 visitors, showed off cleaned-up and partially updated facilities, gave people from tenant organizations a chance to introduce themselves and let PARC supporters share their vision of a preserving a historic building while improving the site as a central location

his position. "The relationship was damaged when Northville Township ventured south of Five Mile," he emailed Friday. "This is a key strategic decision, we don't need people from Northville Township sticking their noses in it," he wrote earlier in response to emailed questions from the Observer. "They have been interfering in too much of our business since Price came to town." Price, however, said Frey was merely offering her professional opinion on contenders for the planning work, not affecting the planning product. Frey joined Patrick Felrath, Plymouth Township's public services director, and Mike Mitchell, its parks and grants director, in reviewing proposals from 11 planning consultants. The panel recommended M.C. Smith Associates, which had bid $18,500 for the contract, but a 3-3 Board of Trustees vote Sept. 8 shot down the recommendation, with Doroshewitz and Trustee Mike Kelly saying the work should be done in-house (Trustee Chuck Curmi also voted no). Price, however, said he doesn't think the township has the staff to update the master plan and that he is working on another approach. Price said he sought Frey's input on the bidders because Plymouth Township's planner, Janina Radtke, was on leave, and the consultant hired temporarily to take up her work, McKenna Associates, was also a bidder, raising a potential conflict of interest. "It's a courtesy," Price said of Frey's help. "It's a good-neighbor thing to do."

PARC angle

Doroshewitz has a conflict, Price suggested, in that he is active in Plymouth Arts and Recreation Complex, a committee that runs a new recreation and cultural center of the same name, PARC for short, in the former Central Middle School in Plymouth. PARC organizers say they eventually want to go to Plymouth and Plymouth Township taxpayers for funding to refurbish the oldest part of the school building, which dates from 1917, add new facilities such as an auditorium and a new gymnasium and redevelop the entire site. The Plymouth Township board, however, voted early last year to not enter any such partnerships with the city, with Doroshewitz voting against that resolution. "I think it has a lot to do with him being the general counsel and vice president of PARC,"

Price said. He added that Doroshewitz "wouldn't have a problem" if someone from PARC helped review planning bidders. Doroshewitz responded that PARC should be included in long-term recreation planning, but that the bidder vetting committee should have been made up of township employees only. He contended Frey's involvement was deeper than the way Price described it and said she had an incentive to "steer" development in a way that favored Northville Township. "The so-called 'committee' submitted a recommendation and the Board was not provided with any of the other proposals. We had no other options," he wrote. If "outsiders" are involved in township recreation plans, he argued, they should be from the city of Plymouth. "We are tied to them and our kids already go to school together, play together, share recreation space," he wrote. "The plans to switch teams and (join) with Northville Township are hare-brained." But, he added, he still believes the open space and recreation plan should be done in-house. Asked about a possible conflict of interest, Doroshewitz said he was proud of his service with PARC. "I encourage every Board member to get deeply involved in projects they believe in, projects that have nothing to do with their public paychecks," he said. More cooperation? Snider said he wasn't personally offended by Doroshewitz's emails, but that he was "professionally offended" because he had pledged Northville Township's cooperation to Price, who was chosen supervisor in April following the resignation of Richard

Reaume. "He's like us. He runs lean and mean and he only has one person (planner) and she's gone," Snider said. Northville Township, he said, didn't have ties to any of the planning firms Frey helped review. Northville and Plymouth townships, Snider said, cooperate on many issues, especially recently in the Five Mile corridor, where officials are developing an advanced-technology business park, that straddles the communities. He doesn't expect that spirit of cooperation to change. "Mr. Doroshewitz either doesn't know, isn't aware or doesn't care that since we share borders, we ought to (work) together," Snider said. mjachman@hometownlife.com

Club offers nest egg information session

Canton Club 55+ is offering area residents an opportunity to learn the keys to enjoying their golden years through a free workshop on Protecting Your Nest Egg. The informational session will be at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 7, at the Chestnut Room of the Summit on the Park, 46000 Summit Parkway, Canton. Light refreshments will be available. The workshop encourages participants, whether currently retired or thinking about it, to discuss their goals for retirement, providing tips focused on everything from A to Z related to securing a stable financial future. The three-hour session will cover techniques to make retirement planning more manageable by shedding light on key concepts and answering questions before retirement planning becomes overwhelming. Discussion highlights from presenters will include understanding your options for real estate - downsizing, assisted living and estates; the upside and downside of financial plans during retirement; preparing for estate planning, probates, wills and trusts; and the details of moving from your current residence. There is no cost for this class, however, registration is required. For additional information or to register for this class, go to www.cantonfun.org or call 734/394-5485.

to Price and Board of Trustees members: "Northville Township has no business working on our recreation plan. It's an insult to every one of our Board members as well as to the 26,000+ residents." He also emailed Frey and Northville Township board members, standing by his comments and reacting to Price's remarks: "Our Supervisor was out of line and I ask you to remove yourself from any further meddling in the affairs of Plymouth Township. Thank you." Snider responded to Doroshewitz: "I'm certain your (sic) much too busy for a pen pal however - just a few closing comments. "If you subscribe to the notion the cooperation is an unnatural act between two non-consenting entities, then the opportunities for collaboration are greatly diminished. ... "What you define as 'interference,' I define as working in partner (sic) ship." Doroshewitz got in the last word, apologizing to Frey, but attacking Snider: "OK, now the pen pal comment is funny - I will give you points for that one. "You are right my comments should not be directed at Ms. Frey. ... This was a leadership failure and a seasoned veteran such as yourself should have known better. "Please give me the time, date and location of the next interviews you will be conducting for openings in NT. We will be sure to send someone who will interview your candidates and then tell you who you should hire. It's a 'partnership,' right? "Get my point now? "Thank you."

New volunteer coordinator has 'sympathetic ear'

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

Meacham

Patricia Meacham has rolled up her sleeves and gotten to work at the Wayne-Westland Corps of the Salvation Army. "I actually grew up right around here," the 37-year-old Canton resident said, pausing from her duties at the corps on Venoy, south of Palmer. She graduated from Wayne Memorial High School and learned medical billing at Dorsey Schools.

She grew up in the Salvation Army, since age 8-9, and is a church member at the Wayne-Westland Corps. Meacham is the new volunteer coordinator and administrative assistant there, succeeding Phil Hull, who took a Salvation Army job in Indiana.

She's also volunteered at the Wayne-Westland

Corps in Sunday school, "whatever's needed in the corps, basically."

Meacham has volunteered with the Plymouth Salvation Army as well. She and husband Chris Meacham have three children ages 14, 11 and 8, who were in preschool at the Plymouth Corps where she helped.

"This is my community I grew up in," Patricia Meacham said of her new role, which she began in July. "It's being back in the community to help." She finds it rewarding, working with people and groups.

"Because you know some of the things they struggle with," she said. "Knowing what struggles they go through helps. I think it gives you more of a sympathetic ear."

Wayne-Westland is a different corps and community from Plymouth and Canton, Meacham added.

In her free time, "it's just spending time with family." Her husband is involved with Boy Scouts and their middle child in football.

"We're very happy to have her," envoy Jim Hulett said. "This position is very valuable. She's good, she knows the corps. It was of great benefit she kind of knows the Salvation Army and the community."

Hulett added that being relatively new himself, he needs good staffers – and volunteers.

"We are wanting to build a volunteer base," he said.

That's true for the upcoming Christmas season, including bell ringing for the Red Kettle campaign and helping to screen assistance applications. The holiday senior dinner and toy shop draw volunteers, but other volunteers are needed, particularly for assistance applications and bell ringing.

Contact the Wayne-Westland corps at 734-722-3660 and Meacham at ext. 101.

for athletic teams, arts and cultural groups and other nonprofits.

PARC officials were thrilled with the response.

"We couldn't imagine we'd come this far in 60 days," Don Soenen, PARC president, told a crowd of close to 100 people in the PARC "cafetorium," which had been given a face-lift.

Soenen was speaking to a second wave of visitors; many who had stopped by earlier had already left on guided tours of the building.

There are currently 11 tenants at PARC, Soenen said, and the pace of growth has gone beyond where officials thought it would be even a year from now. PARC benefits from about 40 volunteers, he said, and local businesses stepped up with donations that improved the landscaping.

"This is one busy place," Soenen said.

'We all share'

football and cheerleading program, Plymouth-Canton Cruisers youth swimming, the Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic School athletic programs and more. Even the Rotary Club of Plymouth A.M. has a home there.

PARC also runs its own swimming program, with lessons for those 6 months old and up and open swim times.

The Michigan Philharmonic, which had been based at the Plymouth Community Arts Council, was the first tenant. The orchestra has rehearsal space, offices and a music library.

"I'm in the principal's office, so that's pretty cool," said Beth Stewart, the Philharmonic's executive director.

Stewart said having different arts organizations under one roof is a big plus.

"We all share with each other. ... There's a lot of great synergy," she said.

Jane Libbing of the Michigan Philharmonic Youth Orchestra, said the opportunity to move to PARC was "from heaven." The orchestra, which has more than 100 members, had outgrown its space at the PCAC, she said. The group rehearses in small auditoriums and has instrument storage space.

Stella Greene, a former Plymouth City Commission member, was enthusiastic as she greeted visitors to Central PARC Art Studios, where director Leslie Greeneisen offers lessons and studio time. PARC is "the right thing for a community like ours," Greene said.

"I foresee this as being something that just kind of gets everyone's creative juices going," she said.

Soenen says PARC is currently paying its way, through rent paid by tenants, and will publish a business plan next spring. In general, the plan is to ask Plymouth and Plymouth Township taxpayers for funding to tear down parts of the complex, renovate the oldest part of it, which dates from 1917, and redevelop other parts of the site with new facilities.

P-CCS graduates jump into alumni association

Alex Aresco
 Correspondent

P-CCS ALUMNI ASSOCIATION
 Alumni, Staff, and Students Thriving Together

The Plymouth-Canton Community Schools has been in existence for more than 100 years — meaning a lot of alumni. These thriving alumni are clear examples of P-CCS success: engineers, doctors, athletes, designers, actors and innovators. The alumni are spread all over the world, as well as our district. A vast number of alumni end up returning to our area to raise their own children or work in our district. The cycle of P-CCS graduates continues. Some families have four generations of alumni.

To this end, the district, in conjunction with the Educational Excellence Foundation, has created an alumni association. The association has multiple goals: to reconnect alumni to the district and each other; connect students to alumni to enrich the lives of current and former P-CCS students; and to give alumni/staff an avenue to give back.

The alumni association is run by alumni and current students. Recently, alumni were voted into interim leadership positions. Laura Packard (CHS '94) is president; Robin Maslyk (SHS '75) is vice president, Rebecca Middleton (CHS '13) is secretary, Pam Davis (SHS '83) is treasurer and Miranda VanderRoest (SHS '16) is student director.

The association also features multiple committees: marketing/communications; events/reunions; student/career relations; development/fundraising, all run by alumni, such as Shamaila Ashraf, Marybeth Turner, Kurt Runchey, Marie Everitt and Sue Shanlikian.

This effort to form an alumni association has largely been a student effort through the National Honor Society, through the hard work of seniors Beaumont Hoffman, Alex Aresco, Harrison Samoy and Miranda VanderRoest. While each is undertaking their own project within the association, they collectively work toward reconnecting students to the district and giving current students an avenue to establish relationships with possible mentors, employers and experts in various respected fields.

Hoffman, 17, a Canton senior, is the head of communications and the Alumni Outreach Program. He operates the association Twitter (follow at @pccs_assoc), helps with the Facebook page (like it at P-CCS Alumni Association) and works to keep graduates and staff informed on what's new and how alumni are succeeding around the world via social media and WSDP-FM (88.1), the Park radio station.

Hoffman works closely with Taryn Reid, the district's assistant director of marketing, and Laura Packard, an independent business owner who works with media, to connect to alumni. Facebook, Twitter and LinkedIn are just a few of the methods that they utilize. Find the association website at <http://www.pccs.k12.mi.us/connect/pccs-alumni-association>.

Aresco, 17, a Canton senior, works on publishing a series of magazines that highlight current students K-12, top-notch staff and graduates. He interviews and hosts graduates and students and airs it on the Community Focus portion of 88.1 The Park. The print and digital magazines revolve around the arts, athletics and the STEM program. Find them at the above website.

VanderRoest, 17, a Salem senior, is an event planner. On Oct. 9, alumni are invited to attend the Plymouth vs. Canton football game. With free admission, alumni get the chance to see arch-rivals duke it out on the field from special seating. Additionally, they will be honored at a halftime show.

Samoy, 17, a Canton senior, keeps tabs on graduates as he plans a career fair for mid-March. A week-long event that targets undecided juniors and seniors, the fair will include days dedicated to different professions: athletics/sports medicine, law/criminology, business, engineering and education. Should you be willing to attend and present at the career fair, contact communicationsintern@pccsk12.com for information.

Many of you alumni of P-CCS are probably wondering, "How can I join the association?" Interested alumni can join the association by going on the district website, pccs.k12.mi.us, head to the "connect" tab and join the association. Alumni benefit from joining the association by receiving newsletters keeping them up to date with everything P-CCS. Additionally, alumni can stay up to date with the district by following social media and checking out the district website.

Finally, do not forget about the alumni football game Friday, Oct. 9, between the Canton Chiefs and Plymouth Wildcats. As you read above, alumni will be honored at this game. Like the event on Facebook and spread the word!

Wayne-Westland board approves superintendent's goals for '15-16

Sue Mason
Staff Writer

Wayne-Westland Community School District Superintendent Michele Harmala will have a busy year ahead working on goals approved by the Board of Education.

The school board approved her goals at Monday's meeting. The goals had been fine-tuned at a special session earlier this month in which the board reviewed last year's goals, as well as develop new ones for 2015-16.

"This isn't something that came about overnight," Trustee Charles "Trav" Griffin said. "We as a board discussed this and decided we would like to see this happen over time. It's nice that after one year with Dr. Harmala's tenure, we've been able to come up with goals. I think as a school district we can look forward to their implementation in the future, depending on money, time and staff."

Harmala

For Harmala, the mission will be to develop a strategic plan for long- and short-term needs of the district that include, among other things, an instructional plan that ensures student achievement in academics. She also must continue to build a foundation of trust with board members and be transparent about teamwork with the staff and the community.

"I believe strategic planning is a big goal for this year and we can bring in some items from previous goals," Harmala said in presenting her list to the school board at the special meeting.

The strategic planning goal includes five sections. In addition to the instructional plan, Harmala will work on investigating alternative schools like a magnet, charter and STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) schools that will attract new enrollment; developing a building and site use plan that looks at demolition, land sale or re-development; conducting a study on the feasibility of a bond request; and developing a talent plan to attract and retain high-quality employees.

The strategic plan will also include providing stakeholders with a common understanding and acceptance of the district's mission and vision.

"People have talked about how the culture has changed in the district, how Dr. Harmala is approachable," board Treasurer Shawna Walker said at the special meeting. "I think this should be an ongoing goal. Trust can be lost."

"We need to work at it," board President Thomas Buckalew added. "If you don't work at it, it can be lost."

Trustee Sally Madison noted that the board has built that foundation with Harmala and the staff and that it's more of a "common practice."

"I think it should be a common practice; a goal is something you reach for," she said. "I feel we have a great foundation and we can continue that process while we focus on another goal. I can see so much change that I'm comfortable and confident that this has become a common practice."

The board approved Harmala's goals by a 6-0 vote, with Buckalew absent.

"I am very supportive of the superintendent and we, as a board, will work with her to accomplish her goals," Griffin said.

Knezek seeks repeal of Michigan fireworks law

State Sen. David Knezek, D-Dearborn Heights, has introduced legislation that would repeal the Fireworks Safety Act of 2011, returning Michigan to the rules and guidelines that were in place prior to its passage.

municipalities, fair associations, amusement parks or other eligible groups of

This legislation was prompted by several constituent complaints and resolutions passed by the Dearborn Heights City Council, the Garden City Council and the Redford Township Board of Trustees.

"Since first being elected in 2012, my office has routinely handled constituent complaints surrounding the use of fireworks," Knezek said. "The complaints have come from many different people, ranging from pet owners to parents, worried about the safety of their homes and families, and our military veterans."

Knezek's legislation would only allow municipalities to grant fireworks permits for outdoor pest control or agricultural purposes; for public display by individuals.

It would prohibit anyone under age 18 from being granted a fireworks permit. The legislation still allows the sale, possession or transfer of certain toy pistols, paper caps, sparklers and toy snakes as well as other small products.

Senate Bills 450 and 451 were read for the first time on the Senate Floor on Sept. 9 and referred to the Committee on Government Operations where they await a hearing. Identical legislation was introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives on June 16 by Rep. Henry Yanez, D-Sterling Heights.

There have also been multiple petitions circulated calling for a ban with thousands of signatures from across the state.

Man charged in Plymouth Road fire that injured two

David Veselenak
Staff Writer

One person who police believe may have been responsible for an early morning fire Sept. 19 in Livonia has been arrested and charged.

Sgt. Steve Petsch of the Livonia Police Department said Jonathan Darlington, 45, of Wayne, was arraigned last week on charges stemming from a fire at a building on Plymouth Road, near Deering.

Petsch said Darlington was arrested shortly after the fire, which fire officials said originated in the front of the building. He was arraigned on two counts of attempted murder, two counts of first-degree arson, two counts of placing offensive substance with intent to cause physical injury, one count of arson preparation to burn a dwelling and habitual offender fourth offense. His preliminary exam was scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 1, in Livonia's 16th District Court, Petsch said.

If convicted, he faces up to life in prison.

Fire inspector Keith Bo of the Livonia Fire Department said two individuals were inside the building when the fire broke out. He said both were transported to the hospital with non-life-threatening injuries.

The individuals injured with burns inside the building, Petsch said, appeared to be spending the night there. He could not say for sure whether Darlington knew there were people inside.

"That's what we believe," he said. "Whether he did, in fact, know, we can't say."

Fire knocked down quickly

Livonia Fire Chief Shadd Whitehead said firefighters were called to the building after an employee at the Crestwood Lounge Bar and Grill noticed the fire and called first responders. Crews arrived from across the city and knocked down the fire in about 10 minutes, Whitehead said.

"It was a fire that was knocked down fairly quickly," he said. "It was pretty much contained to the front portion of that building."

The Michigan State Police also arrived to assist in the investigation, Whitehead said.

He said the building was not vacant and it appeared the owner was possibly using it for storage.

"The building is occupied, but it's not in use. It's not a vacant building, it does have an owner," he said. "I would say it's not in significant use right now."

The incident remains under investigation by both the fire and police departments.

Bras, oils, cooking on tap for library women's program

Women's health and fitness will be the focus as the Canton Public Library hosts a program in honor of Breast Cancer Awareness Month in October.

It's called "All About the Girls: A Ladies Night Out" and it happens 5:30-8:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 8.

A discussion of custom bra fittings with Millie Heinz, "The Bra Lady," will be on the agenda. A library press release says 80 percent of women are wearing the wrong size bra.

Heinz is expected to explain how wearing the right size bra not only improves the way women look and feel, but also provides the proper support that is important to a woman's overall health and well-being.

Heinz, from Essential Bodywear, will provide custom bra fittings and talk about undergarment care. She also accepts donations of gently used bras for local women's shelters.

Another session, "Essential Oils with Cheryl Ziobrom," explores how essential oils can support a woman's health and wellness.

Also, a cooking demonstration with chef Kristi Zebrowski of Grace Savory & Sweet is on tap for the program. Some may recognize her from the Canton Farmers Market. She will be showing how to make gluten-free and other healthy meals.

Light refreshments will be served and registration is required. Go to www.cantonpl.org or call 734-397-0999.

Oakland Hills superintendent set to climb four miles high

Jay Grossman
Staff Writer

A month or so from now, Steve Cook expects to find himself on the side of a mountain.

The Milford resident is preparing to climb Ama Dablam in Nepal, a trek of slightly more than 22,300 feet. He departs Oct. 17 from Michigan, when his 22-hour flight will take him from Los Angeles to Seoul, South Korea, to Kathmandu.

"The thing I've never done before is climb this high," Cook said. "And you don't know how you're going to do until you get up there. You never know how you're going to handle the thin air."

It's a journey of a lifetime for Cook, the 17-year golf course superintendent at Oakland Hills Country Club in Bloomfield Township. Plus, he's climbing for a cause by pledging to raise a minimum of $30,000 for Make-A-Wish Michigan. The amount equates to about $1.34 for every foot he climbs up the mountain.

"My wife has volunteered with Make-A-Wish for over 10 years," he said. "I'm not a parent and I can't imagine what a parent goes through when they find out their child is ill ... but here's an organization trying to help these kids and put a little joy back in their lives."

Bigger mountains

Cook, 56, has been climbing since 2009, when he ascended Mount Rainier in Washington. He's honed his skills through technical climbs in Ouray, Colo., and Wyoming's Grand Teton with an elevation of more than 13,700 feet.

He often climbs with Brian Warren, a professional guide with California-based Alpenglow, and for the past several years the two have talked about taking on bigger mountains.

"This is the right time," he said. "It's the off-season at the golf course and, at my age, it's a mountain I can handle safely. I've hiked and backpacked my whole life and I've transitioned to rock climbing and climbing ice in the winter. The U.S. Amateur is coming next year to Oakland Hills and in 2017 I'll be pushing 59. I'm ready to take my shot."

By any definition, Ama Dablam is a big mountain. The Himalayan peak, about 12 miles from Mount Everest, is known for its breathtaking views and steep passages carved out rock, snow and ice.

Cook knows the climb is dangerous. His trip coincides with the opening of the film Everest, which chronicles the death of eight climbers in 1996 who were trapped near the peak in a blizzard. Ten years later, in 2006, six climbers were killed on Ama Dablam when they were caught in an avalanche.

"It's a very technical mountain, so your rope skills have to be good," he said. "You need to make sure your winter camping skills are honed in ... and there's the weather. We'll probably continue even if it drops to 15 (degrees) below (zero), but we won't climb if it gets too windy. If someone gets hurt up there, it's very difficult to get them down."

He does most of his cross-training at Kensington Metropark, where he jogs, hikes and bikes with a loaded backpack.

"Not getting sick is the biggest thing right now," he said. "The last thing you want to pick up is a bug or virus right before you're about to climb."

Sherpa guides

Warren and a small team of Sherpa guides will lead the expedition. Along with Cook, the group will include a climber from Singapore and another climber from Russia. They'll rendezvous in Kathmandu before heading to base camp.

Oxygen won't be necessary, since the ascent won't exceed 24,000 feet. Cook said, for the most part, the terrain is very similar to Grand Teton, only much higher.

"I've lived in Europe and traveled a lot back and forth," he said. "But I've never flown to Asia, so this will be a whole new experience for me."

He plans to chronicle it with a diary and photographs. Even if he doesn't make it to the top, he won't be disappointed.

"There are so many factors - especially the weather," he said. "My goal has already been reached, knowing I'll be helping out others. If it's in God's hands to reach the summit, great, it will be a wonderful experience. But I won't be disappointed if things don't work out."

He'll return home Nov. 19. Go to www.westveswishclimb.blogspot.com to track his journey or help with his fundraising efforts.

Observer's Mason receives key to city before retirement

LeAnne Rogers
Staff Writer

Journalists usually try to stay out of the spotlight, but Wayne-Westland Observer editor Sue Mason was center stage at the State of the City Address.

Before beginning his speech, Westland Mayor William Wild recognized Mason, who is retiring next month, presenting her with the key to the city.

"If you are an avid reader of the local Observer & Eccentric or live in the area, then you have to know Sue Mason," Wild said. "After 35 years of community journalism, Sue is retiring. She has done an incredible job advancing news to our community through her work."

Also editor of the Garden City Observer, Mason has been with the papers since 1985 and had worked previously for other suburban newspapers in Dearborn and Wayne.

"Sue is someone who always exudes the highest level of professional excellence and brings true meaning to the term professional journalism," Wild said.

During her career, Mason has won numerous awards for her writing and for her sections from the National Newspaper Association, Suburban Newspapers of America and the Michigan Press Association. She has twice been recognized by the Michigan PTA for coverage of education and schools and she was honored by the Wayne-Westland Community Schools for her exemplary coverage of educational issues.

Mason was also the 2007 Westland Civitans Citizen of the Year and served 15 years on the Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Advisory Board. Mason is also a past recipient of the prestigious ATHENA Award that recognizes individuals on the merits of attaining and personifying the highest level of professional excellence and for opening the door to professional opportunities for women.

A John Glenn High School graduate and Westland resident, Mason and her husband Bob have two children, Bobby and Carolee.

"Sue, it is apparent in your writing that you know and care deeply about your hometown," Wild said. "I have always enjoyed your columns and appreciate you keeping us abreast of important issues happening in our communities and the fairness you have always showed me personally and my administration over the years."

"I will truly treasure this," Mason said, receiving the key to the city.

Birmingham's Emagine Palladium ready to offer enhanced movie-going experience

Jay Grossman
Staff Writer

Step inside the Emagine Palladium and Ironwood Grill, where Hollywood magic meets Birmingham bliss.

Emagine Entertainment CEO Paul Glantz led a personal tour Wednesday of the new theater, which is located on the top floor of the newly-remodeled Palladium Building off North Old Woodward and Hamilton Row. The five-screen complex opens to the public Oct. 2, just in time for the premiere of Matt Damon's The Martian.

"What we're offering here is a great evening where you can relax and enjoy a movie," Glantz said. "If you're arriving early to see a film, come in and have a drink or enjoy a meal. ... If you're running late, don't worry about it because you'll have designated seating."

The complex will have a total of 540 seats, a sharp contrast from the former Uptown Palladium that offered 12 screens and 2,500 seats at the same location. The old escalator that once carried customers up to the theaters has been replaced with two elevators.

The culinary team from the Ironwood Grill of Plymouth will be running the theater restaurant, which Glantz describes as "upscale casual." Large-screen televisions fill the dining room and bar area, while a series of retractable windows has been added along one of the walls to offer diners a spectacular view of downtown Birmingham. Canton Township is also home to an Emagine Theater.

"I've been told there's

Previews ran on one of the screens at the Emagine Palladium. Each auditorium is equipped with digital surround sound and 4K projectors.

not really a great sports bar in Birmingham," Glantz said. "There is now."

Looking inside one of the auditoriums, Glantz said the biggest change is in the seating: a room that once sat 340 customers now seats 120. Large reclining leather chairs and plenty of leg room fill the extra space.

"The goal is to make sure everyone has a great seat in the house," he said. "There's no point to selling a seat if you're going to create an unhappy customer."

Each of the five auditoriums is equipped with digital surround sound and 4K projectors. Glantz even promises the theater will serve only fresh popcorn and that it won't be stored in bags overnight like at some theaters.

The theater is selling up to 1,000 annual Platinum Memberships that will offer customers preferred seating and other perks. Glantz said 250 memberships have already been sold. His partner in the project is Jon Goldstein, owner of the Maple Theater in Bloomfield Township.

Local residents living around the theater have been invited to a pair of open house events set for Wednesday and Thursday nights. Based on the number of RSVPs, Glantz said he expects more than 800 people over the course of the two evenings.

And while there's plenty of home entertainment systems available, Glantz said he's doing his best to continually raise the bar on the thrill of watching a movie on the big screen.

"Everyone has a big-screen TV," he said. "But I don't think they have a screen like ours."

Sweetest Day event benefit for Scarlet's Smile

Spinal muscular atrophy is the leading genetic cause of death in infants. One in 6,000 children is born with it – and Scarlet's Smile wants to do something about that.

Named for 3-year-old Scarlet Goszczynski of Commerce Township, Scarlet's Smile is launching its 501(c)3 foundation with a Sweetest Day dinner, dance and auction Oct. 3 in the Grand Ballroom at the Sheraton Hotel in Novi.

Emceed by WXYZ-TV (Channel 7) chief meteorologist Dave Rexroth, the evening starts at 6:30 p.m. with an hour of cocktails and mingling with local celebrities and a musical performance by Motown legend Martha Reeves. A formal dinner will be served as dozens of items are put on display for silent auction, including autographed jerseys from Detroit Tigers player Miguel Cabrera and Detroit Red Wings legend Chris Chelios. Also up for auction is an eight-day/seven-night condo stay at one of dozens of resorts worldwide, including airfare for two. Roger Penske has donated grandstand tickets for four to the Detroit Grand Prix, plus four "hot laps," a one-of-a-kind opportunity to speed around the track with a professional driver behind the wheel. Guests can also bid on a helicopter ride over Detroit, courtesy of Thomas Helicopters, followed by dinner at a top area restaurant.

The Scarlet's Smile Foundation's goal is to help local families of SMA babies, specifically, and all disabled children in general. Among plans on the drawing board: a totally accessible playground in Oakland County, the gift of iPads and other technology for SMA children and funds for medical and therapy equipment not covered by insurance. A portion of proceeds raised by Scarlet's Smile will be earmarked for medical research.

Scarlet Goszczynski was diagnosed with Type 2 SMA at 8 months of age. The disease has robbed her of most of her strength, leaving her unable to walk or sit up and she has only limited use of her arms. But her gregarious personality and infectious smile prompted Michigan Gov. Rick Snyder to invite her to the state Capitol to witness the signing of an SMA Awareness Month proclamation in August. Her face adorned billboards across Michigan through August and she inspired the viral #SMashSMA social media campaign that had thousands of people, including TV talk show star Jimmy Kimmel, posting videos of themselves smashing things.

Jesuit experience has Farmington grad appreciating what he has

Pamela A. Zinkosky
Correspondent

Most Farmington-area adults have a driver's license and own at least one pair of winter boots, not to mention have a roof over their heads and eat three meals per day. But Farmington High School graduate Adam Perry has befriended many who are quite grateful to get any of these things.

As a Jesuit Volunteer Corps member working at the Coalition for the Homeless in New York City, Perry learned to appreciate what he has. "It really made me appreciate the simple things," he said. "I had clients start crying because I gave them a pair of boots" or got them a new driver's license — two prized items among the homeless.

Since homeless people don't have a place to put their belongings, identification cards can get stolen or lost, which makes applying for a job very difficult, he explained. Boots likewise get stolen, lost or worn out from the wear and tear of being on the street, Perry said.

Perry, 23, obtained his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and was beginning a master's degree program in social work. He wanted to experience social work firsthand to make sure it was what he wanted to do and he saw the Jesuit Volunteer Corps as a good opportunity.

As a member of the Jesuit-run St. Mary Student Parish on the Ann Arbor U-M campus, Perry learned about the Jesuit Volunteer Corps. The 75-employee organization places volunteers at 250 different agencies in 37 U.S. cities and six had people who cared about them in the past, but "they've used those resources up. That's why they're in the situation they're in."

Building on experience

"For social work, experience in the field is huge," said Perry, so spending a year in the Jesuit Volunteer Corps was a good resume-builder. He would recommend it to anyone looking for experience in social services.

"I really enjoyed my experience," he said. "It's a good way to get that experience. You get to travel and it's a pretty streamlined program."

For instance, some organizations require volunteers to find their own affordable housing, whereas the Jesuit Volunteer Corps has housing already set up. It is also a well-known organization with a good reputation, so social service agencies want to work with it.

Looking to future

These days, Perry is working on his master's degree and looking toward bigger things. In New York, he worked on the micro level, managing individual cases and running the food van — sometimes as a one-man show if no volunteers were available. His future interests, however, lie in macro social work, he said — like creating new programs, helping companies spend their dollars more efficiently and advocating for social issues.

In the meantime, Perry lives on the Ann Arbor campus with his brother and enjoys being a Wolverine. He's in good company, as his older brother graduated from the university as well.

countries and boasts low administrative costs, with 87 cents per dollar going to direct services.

"They have a really good track record," said Perry, who also liked the organization's Catholic foundation. "I wanted that spiritual component."

Food and outreach

At the Coalition for the Homeless, Perry worked for the Grand Central Food Program from August 2014 to August 2015, managing the company's soup kitchen several days a week, running one of three food vans other days and conducting individual case management for the homeless on other days — responsibilities he said would typically be given to social workers with master's degrees.

The food vans serve 800 to 1,000 meals per night, Perry said. They traveling through lower Manhattan, upper Manhattan and the Bronx and afford the Coalition a means for outreach. Homeless people who may never have known about the soup kitchen could learn about the Coalition's case management services, which could be anything from helping someone apply for a job to interpreting apartment contracts to referrals to homeless shelters.

"I really got a wide breadth of what a case manager would do," Perry said.

As a case manager, Perry befriended many homeless people and learned to empathize with their situations. Many of them had one catastrophic event that led them to ultimately become homeless, he said.

"The one thing my clients had in common was that they needed someone to care," he said. They might have

Mustangs' backup QB gets job done vs. Salem

Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Jack Burke proved Friday night that he's was more than your normal understudy.

The Northville junior quarterback, filling in for injured starter Justin Zimbo, took on the lead role without a hitch while keeping the Mustangs' unbeaten season intact with a hard-fought 20-13 homecoming win over Salem.

Burke, who also played full time all night in the secondary, rushed for a team-high 137 yards on 22 carries and scored the game-winning touchdown on a 7-yard keeper to break a 13-13 tie with only 7:08 remaining to push Mustangs' overall record to 5-0 and 3-0 in the KLAA's Central Division.

The 6-foot, 184-pound Burke learned mid-week he was getting the start.

"I heard Zimbo wasn't going to be able to play and just got ready from there," Burke said. "Zimbo gave me some pointers. He just told me, 'Ball-out, get that victory and move on to next week.'"

Even though Burke took varsity snaps last year as a sophomore, he admitted to some early-game jitters.

"Especially when I came straight from defense I was a

Sanders sparks Chiefs to big win

Tim Smith

There were two noteworthy things going on Friday at the Plymouth-Canton Educational Park junior varsity football field.

On the field, the Canton Chiefs — led by the unstoppable Markus Sanders — blitzed Westland John Glenn, 26-0, in the first half and went on to a 47-7 KLAA South Division victory.

More importantly, fans coming to the contest were able to donate money and buy pink "Rise as One" T-shirts to help support Friday's Coaches vs. Cancer benefit. The fundraiser is part of a national program between the American Cancer Society and Na-

WHAT A WILD (CAT) NIGHT

Plymouth is last team standing in crazy 48-44 win over Franklin

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

It was homecoming night at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park and the stands were overflowing with fans hungry to see the host Wildcats hang on against Livonia Franklin.

One of those Wildcats who had plenty to say about whether those people went home happy was senior Victor Abraham, who came up with one of the biggest plays in Plymouth's scoring march that turned a potential defeat into a 48-44 victory.

The KLAA South Division match-up was a back-and-forth affair all night, with the Patriots riding the strong legs of senior quarterback Denzel Adams and going up 44-42 with just under six minutes remaining.

Plymouth got the ball back near its own 30 and didn't waste any time as senior quarterback Chris Walls' short screen to senior running back Cameron Stella turned into a 50-yard scamper down the right sideline.

Two plays later, at Franklin's 19, Walls threw a pass intended for Abraham near the goal line.

Concentration

The ball was tipped by a Patriots linebacker, but Abraham maintained his focus and hauled it in at the 3. That set up Stella's winning touchdown with 2:34 remaining.

"I was focused," Abraham said. "I just really wanted us

Chiefs blank Wildcats in battle of division's top teams

This campus rivalry thing never gets old between Canton's and Plymouth's varsity boys soccer teams.

But for Plymouth junior defender Van Nguyen, falling short once again to the Chiefs is getting tiring.

Canton took a stranglehold on the KLAA South Division lead with Thursday's hard-fought and downright chippy 2-0 victory over the Wildcats on the varsity turf field at Plymouth-Canton Educational Park.

"It's a rivalry game, you know? We haven't beaten this team in a long time. It's just really tough for us to take another loss here."

"We had a lot of chances in front of the net, we just struggled to put it away. We'll get them next time, though, we'll see them in playoffs."

Canton improved to 10-2-1 overall and 5-0-1 in the KLAA South with the victory while Plymouth dropped to 9-3-1 and 4-2-0.

All it took

The Chiefs only needed one goal, especially with the way junior goalkeeper Steven Page and his defense played against Plymouth offensive stalwarts such as seniors Mike Blake and Jayden Huxtable.

That goal came with about seven minutes remaining in the first half when Canton senior forward Hunter Olson sent a pass up to senior for-

to score. I wasn't letting the game go down."

The mob of thrilled Plymouth fans let him know he succeeded.

Abraham, however, shook his head when talking about Adams — who twice during the second half led his team on scoring drives that put the Patriots on top.

"He's a good athlete; I've got to give him credit," Abraham said. "But it doesn't take one guy, it takes a whole team to win a game. Obviously, we were on top this game."

Plymouth (4-1, 3-0) still didn't breathe a collective sigh of relief until the final seconds ticked off the new scoreboard at P-CEP's varsity turf field.

First, a hard hit injured Adams (jammed shoulder) with 25 seconds to go. Then, a desperation pass by junior David Brackett was picked off by Walls to conclude the tense, thrilling game.

"Those boys can play," Plymouth head coach Mike Sawchuk said about Abraham and Stella, among others. "Now we got to make sure everybody plays and does their job."

"If we want to be good, we've got to do our job."

Sawchuk lamented some key penalties that nullified one Plymouth touchdown in the fourth and set up what at the time was Franklin's go-ahead TD (44-42) on a 25-yard run by Jacob Clark, followed by his two-point conversion run).

There were other miscues, too.

"They (Patriots) did a great job of putting the ball in that athlete's hands, he's a pretty damn good football player," Sawchuk said, referring to Adams. "Credit goes to their coaching staff, they did a great job."

"Obviously, we self-inflicted again and blew coverages. We got to clean it up or we're not going to win games like this."

Franklin head coach Chris Kelbert, whose team dipped to 2-3, 1-2, said an early 14-0 hole was what ultimately did in his team.

In the first quarter, Stella scored on runs of 74 and 3 yards.

"To come and play a first quarter like that is inexcusable," Kelbert said. "We knew we had to play a perfect game to beat these guys and they didn't show up."

The Patriots did rally in the second quarter, however, making it a 28-28 contest at the break.

Franklin got on the board with 10:21 left in the second on a 3-yard run by Adams, but gave it right back to Plymouth when Walls took it to the house from his own 35-yard line.

Adams responded, breaking free for a 38-yard scoring dash with 7:41 to go, slicing the Plymouth lead to 21-14.

Just 16 seconds later, the Wildcats bumped their advantage up to 14 points when junior Isaac Emminger went 90 yards on a kickoff return for the TD.

little shaky, but I think I settled down a little bit and settled into the game," Burke said.

Northville struck first with 1:50 left in the first quarter on the first Jake Moody's two field goals, this one from 31 yards for a 3-0 lead.

But Salem, led by 5-9, 195-pound senior running back Deston Langford, answered just 79 seconds later on Langford's 20-yard TD run as the Rocks drove 67 yards in just four plays.

But William Neumaier's extra point attempt hit the left upright to keep the Salem lead at 6-3.

Northville scored on its next possession, capping a six-play, 65-yard drive as Zach Prystash ran around end for a 2-yard TD with 11:18 left in the second quarter.

Moody's PAT made it 10-6 and the sophomore kicker came through with another field goal, this time from 34 yards out with 2:35 left in the half, to put Northville ahead 13-6.

But with three timeouts in their pocket and despite starting on their own 20, the Rocks moved down the field in 11 plays as Langford, who had 152 yards on 22 carries, bulled in from 2 yards out with only 18 seconds remaining to even the count at 13-13 at intermission.

In the third quarter, a 35-yard run by Burke put the ball in the red zone, but the Rocks thwarted the Northville threat on Calin Crawford's interception in the end zone.

With the game still tied in the fourth, Burke ran in from 7 yards out for the game-winning TD.

And then Northville's defense came up with three big stops, including one and a fourth-and-five and another on a fourth-and-eight with only 1:26 to go.

Northville's Christian Field also came up with clutch 52- and 40-yard punts on pin Salem back on its own 7 and 16, respectively, on its final two possessions.

Although the Mustangs were outgained in total offense, 368-259, it was their defense which held tough, led by Ryan Nelson, who was in on 12 tackles, along with Michael Minick (11 tackles) and Burke (10 tackles, including four solo).

"We had some opportunities to make some big plays in the first half and we missed," Northville coach Matt Ladach said. "And as a result, we gave up some big plays. In the second half, we were able to turn it around and make those plays. So really, really great job by our defense — by the players, by the coaching staff. It was just a great team effort."

Salem quarterback Alex Nicholson was 10-of-21 passing for 154 yards, but the Rocks couldn't get into the end zone during the second half.

"It's just the little things that keep bringing us back after something good would happen," said Salem coach Kurt Britnell, whose team slipped to 2-3 overall and 1-2 in the KLAAC Central. "We just couldn't get the 'mojo' going and had a couple good stops there where I thought we could get something going and we just couldn't do it."

The Rocks had eight penalties for 85 yards, which didn't help their cause, while also having a player ejected in the second quarter.

"And we shot ourselves in the foot more than anything else," Britnell said. "We did it last week and we did it this week. We're doing it to ourselves. We got our offense going a little bit, even though it doesn't show it on the scoreboard. Hopefully, we can build on that and stick together and get this thing the rest of the way."

Salem converted just two of 13 on third down and only one of four on fourth.

"Hopefully, we can work those out," Britnell said. "There's a lot of football to be played for us to do what we want to do. We're good enough, we're just not showing it. We'll be all right ... I hope."

Of Northville's 259 total yards, 214 came on the ground. Burke credited his offensive line.

"They opened up some huge holes and guys just executed," he said. "Great team effort."

Ladach, meanwhile, challenged his blockers at half-time.

"We said, 'Hey, we can hit the edge?'" he said. "We'd been trying to throw the ball, (we) got the whole O-line together in the corner of the locker room and asked them, 'Can we rely on you?' And we could."

And the Mustangs could also rely on Burke, who will be ready for next week's home game against unbeaten Livonia Stevenson (5-0, 3-0) if called upon.

"With Zimbo being out, we've got the most confidence in Jack," Ladach said. "I've been saying it all year, we have to have the best quarterback situation in southeast Michigan. We got two really good players at quarterback and Jack played really well tonight. I'm so proud of him."

Ladach said Zimbo is expected to play next Friday.

"Actually, there was a little bit of gray area to-night whether he could play or not," he said. "We were thinking he might be able to play, but for precautionary reasons we held him out and he's going to be back next week."

Canton Lions gridders enjoy Week 3 success

On Sept. 20, the Canton Lions hosted their first home game at P-CEP against the Milan Big Red, who are new to the Western Suburban Junior Football League. Following is a recap of Week 3:

Varsity

In their first-ever meeting with the Milan Big Red, the Canton Lions varsity squad prevailed with a 20-12 win. Quarterback Jeremy Fuchs connected with Daylin Banks on an 18-yard touchdown pass. Cameron Wilborn had a 10-yard touchdown run, and Josh Bergevin pushed through for a one-yard touchdown.

Banks and Shamar Odom were responsible for the extra-point runs.

A tough Lions offensive line led by Nick Azzouz, Sean Britt, James Goldring, Lucas Holden, Seth Humm and Cameron Wallace blocked for the successful running plays. Greatest gains were 25-yard runs by both Fuchs and Wilborn.

Varsity highlights on defense included a fumble recovery by Banks, a 35-yard interception return by Bergevin, a sack forcing a turnover on downs by Jon Hanton, and a goal-line tackle by Wilborn. Leading tacklers were Azzouz, Banks, Bergevin, Britt, Ivan

Davis, Hanton, Holden, Humm, Daniel Martin, Odom, Ezell Snipes, Wallace and Wilborn. Gabe Fisher had a 30-yard kickoff.

The Lions will travel to John Glenn High School Sunday, Sept. 26 to meet the Westland Comets.

Junior varsity

The Canton Lions junior varsity team was on the winning end of a shutout this week, with a final score of 35-0. Lions scoring started with Marco Johnson's 26-yard touchdown run and Aidan Thompson on the extra-point carry. Johnson scored again on a punt return, with extra point courtesy of Gavin Bobby. Another first-half touchdown was made by Joshua Nichols, extra point by Michael Kuzara.

Daniel Carroll started the second-half scoring, with another extra point by Kuzara. Derik Watson recovered a fumble for a touchdown, and Carroll delivered the extra point.

The defensive line led by Daniel Baldwin, Giulian Bodiu, Ethan Bennett and Brandon Keen shut down Milan's running game. George Faris Jr. made a fumble recovery.

Freshman

The freshman Lions dominated the Milan Big Red with a final score of 48-0. A relentless defense prevented Milan from any first downs. Highlights included a sack by Dominic Johnson and a fumble recovery by Luke Matusik.

Kris Easley scored two touchdowns. Aaron Alexander, Andrew (AJ) Clark, Ryan Goodson, Diego Hernandez-Ramirez, Luke Matusik and Josiah West each scored touchdowns and/or extra points.

The freshmen squad is currently 3-0 for the season.

Junior freshman

The junior freshman Lions scrimmaged with the Southfield Falcons, as Milan does not have a junior freshman team. The Lions started off with a roar due to an early fumble recovery by Evan Borsvold. A second fumble recovery by Borsvold later in the first quarter positioned the Lions offense for a 60-yard touchdown run by Julian Nichols.

Strong tackling led by Nichols, Borsvold, Brendan Seed and Terrence Banks Jr. held the Falcons to only one touchdown run of their own, ending the contest in a draw.

Van Gassen keeps starring for Schoolcraft women kickers

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Led by the offensive flair and production of Shae Van Gassen, Schoolcraft College's women's soccer team continues to score goals and win games.

Van Gassen scored a goal Wednesday afternoon, helping spark the Lady Ocelots to a 7-0 victory over Delta College. The win upped Schoolcraft's record to 7-0-0 overall and 5-0-0 in the Michigan Community College Athletic Association.

In addition, Van Gassen — who tallied four shots during 76 minutes of play against Delta — was named National Junior College Athletic Association Division I Player of the Week for the second time this season.

Schoolcraft had others who brought it against

Delta, including midfielder Colleen McKay and forward Katie Vitella, each registering two goals. Other markers were scored by Devon Powers and Tori Koontz.

Canton native Kelly Schmidt picked up an assist, while Lacey Chanady tallied three helpers.

Schoolcraft goalkeeper Katie Dangelmaier only needed to make two stops. The Ocelots out-shot Delta by a 32-5 margin.

Van Gassen registered six goals along with six assists earlier in the week, as Schoolcraft routed Owens Community College and Jackson College by respective scores of 8-0 and 13-0.

For the season, she is third in the nation in points with 38 and tied for fifth in goals with 14.

Schoolcraft men roll

On Wednesday at Owens Community College in Toledo, Schoolcraft blanked the home team 4-0 behind two goals and an assist by Victor Contreras.

The Ocelots opened up a 3-0 halftime lead on goals by Contreras, Aiden Shennan (Canton) and Connor Rutz.

Contreras then capped off the day's scoring when he scored in the 72nd minute, off a feed from Costa Wells.

Making six stops for the shutout was goalkeeper Cameron Gwin.

Other Schoolcraft assists were tallied by David Tetaj and Jacob Rosen.

The Ocelots entered the weekend with a 7-0-1 record; Owens dropped to 4-6-0.

Salem netters split pair of tough matches

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

Despite the return of Parshva Sanghvi, who missed most of the season with a broken hand, Salem's varsity boys tennis team dropped a tough 6-3 matchup Thursday against Pinckney.

Sanghvi at 3 singles lost 6-0, 6-4 to Edwin Bredick. The Rocks' lone win in singles play was at 4 singles, with Abi Thiruvankat besting Matt Folk in three sets (4-6, 6-4, 10-7).

Keerthi Sajja and Taha Zirapory were defeated in 1 and 2 singles, respectively.

In doubles play, the Rocks scored wins at 2 (Caden and Conor Sweet winning 6-0, 7-5) and 4 (with A.J. Choukair and Jacob Rumpitz prevailing by a 6-1, 6-3 score).

Things turned out better Monday for Salem, 5-4 winners over Walled Lake Central.

Victorious for the Rocks were Zirapory at 3 singles, Andrew Clark at 4 singles, Caden and Conor Sweet at 2 doubles, WenHao Yu-Ajai Bharathan at 3 doubles and Choukair-Rumpitz at 4 doubles.

Plymouth wrap

The KLAA South Division champion Wildcats lost a close match Monday against KLAA North champ Walled Lake Northern.

After Plymouth swept singles matches in straight sets, the Knights turned the tables to win all five doubles matches.

tional Association of Basketball Coaches.

On Wednesday, Sanders and all of Canton's football players — including those on the freshman, junior varsity and varsity teams — wore those same T-shirts as a way to support a cause that hits close to home for just about everybody.

"It's been very well-taken; people have been coming with bags of money," said Canton's Joelle Troszak, who has a son on the ninth-grade team. "And anybody who doesn't have change is giving dollar bills, $5, $10, and $20 bills."

"It's supporting the cause, all (Canton) football players, varsity, JV and freshman received that. They all wore it to school on Wednesday to support the cause. They're selling extra ones, too."

Troszak, along with Brian Bartos of Plymouth and Katherine Herb, met fans as they arrived at the gate, collecting change, bills and selling T-shirts.

"It's a great event. We're all touched by cancer," Troszak said. "I'm actually a breast cancer survivor, 14 years now. It's great anytime we can give support."

According to Julie Baechler, wife of Canton head football coach Tim Baechler, the cancer fight is something that is taken seriously by everybody connected with the program.

"There's a former player, Joshua Nolan, who graduated in 2011, who is battling cancer," Baechler said. "I think they hold that close to their heart."

"In addition, we have one of the coach's wives who's battling breast cancer and some other people. Everybody's touched by cancer, so I think everybody realizes how important it (the benefit) is."

There was no charity taking place on the grass field not far from where Baechler was standing, largely because of the efforts of 5-7 junior Sanders.

In the first quarter, Sanders scored on a 47-yard run just 18 seconds into the KLAA South Division match-up. That launched his 257-yard, six-TD performance.

Before halftime, Sanders found the end zone on runs of 16, 3 and 13 yards as the Chiefs outgained the Rockets by a 256-44 margin in the first half alone.

John Glenn had trouble putting much of anything together and the Canton defense made some key plays whenever they were needed.

With just seven seconds to go in the first half, sophomore Colin Troup intercepted a pass to slow any Rockets momentum.

Canton did give up a touchdown in the third quarter, but Sanders responded with TD runs of 25 and 23 yards to put the Chiefs up 40-7.

Capping off the night's scoring was Walter Beavers, who carried it in from 1 yard out.

All told, the Chiefs outgained the Rockets by a 428-194 margin en route to improving to 5-0 overall and 3-0 in the division.

Junior Julian Thornton collected 96 all-purpose yards (63 on the ground) to augment Sanders' offensive prowess.

Canton came up big on defense, too, with Micah Rinke (five solo tackles, one assist) and Jared Stephens (two solos, six assists) leading the way.

Contributing three tackles each were Eddie Lang and Drew Osika, with Thomas Evely and Lou Baechler chipping in with two tackles each.

The loss dropped John Glenn's record to 0-5, 0-3.

ward Sam DeLoy cruising into the 18-yard box from the right flank.

DeLoy launched a shot from about 10 yards that glanced off the body of Plymouth senior goalkeeper Damon Favero — who came out to challenge challenged DeLoy's bid — and into the cage.

"I've been on a little slow streak, so it was really great to score again," DeLoy said. "It was a real team effort and I just had to finish."

"Great ball through (by Olson) and I just placed it in. I just slotted it past him."

Canton took that 1-0 lead into halftime, despite nearly padding the advantage in the final minutes.

Junior midfielder Ryen O'Meara's shot from the right side of the box slithered past the left post with about 3:30 to go.

Right after that, Olson missed the mark on a break-away.

The Canton attack continued early in the second half. Olson ripped a low sharp-angle shot from the right side of the goal box that Favero sprawled to stop.

At the other end, Page jumped up to grab a Plymouth scoring attempt with about 25 minutes remaining.

A throw-in from junior Anthony Iacopelli sailed into the 18-yard box where the ball was flicked toward the goal by senior Dylan Dwyer.

Unfortunately for the Wildcats, Page was ready to make the snag.

Later on, with Canton players draped all over him, Blake threaded a pass across to Huxtable, whose shot was thwarted by Page's lunging save.

The effort from Blake on that play alone brought a smile to the face of Plymouth assistant coach Glenn Liguori.

"I've never seen a player work as hard as Mike does," Liguori said. "In all the years I've been doing this, 18 years. I've never seen a guy work so hard, so hard."

"He was playing out of his mind, he was coming out and grabbing everything," said DeLoy, about Page. "It's really a confidence booster having him back there."

Page, in turn, gave props to his back line. "Best defense in the state, unstoppable brick wall."

Just in case

Canton got some crucial insurance with 18:44 left, going up 2-0 on a goal by senior midfielder Josh Posuniak.

The play developed off an indirect kick, with Posuniak blasting a 30-yard shot into the upper left corner.

"He (Posuniak) caught the guy off the line, he was leaning for the cross," Canton head coach Mark Zemanski said. "Josh saw that and put it in the net, so that was a really smart play."

Zemanski said it was "a good win for us," but he and the team won't celebrate anything just yet.

"Plymouth's a good team, they battle hard," Zemanski said. "I think they've only lost two games all year, both times to us. There's still more games to play but we're in good shape."

He praised players up and down the roster for how they competed.

"I thought Ryen O'Meara and Jason Ren did a nice job of controlling the middle," Zemanski noted. "And Matt Rockafellow, JP (Jordan Percy) and Beau (Hoffman), tremendous defensive effort."

SALEM 3, NOVI 0: Also on Thursday, Salem blanked Novi in a KLAA Central Division matchup on the varsity soccer field at P-CEP. Scoring for the Rocks were Nick Massey, Mike Schwartz and Luke Nolita. Earning the shutout for Salem (10-3-1, 5-1-0) was goalkeeper Karson Gregory.

Novi dropped to 6-4-1 overall and 3-3-0 in the division.

Dynamic duo lead Blazers' fast start

All-staters Moores and March bring all-around skills to the court

Ed Wright
Staff Writer

For Livonia Ladywood volleyball coach Peter Lau, having senior all-around standouts Kayla March and Haley Moores on his roster is like having two Rolls Royces in the garage, two winning lottery tickets in his hand and, well, two all-state outside hitters on the court at the same time.

"I feel extremely fortunate to be able to coach two four-year varsity players - both of whom are returning all-state players," said Lau, whose team had rocketed to a 16-1-2 record with two tournaments championships heading into Thursday's home match against Catholic League foe Warren Regina.

"Obviously, when you go undefeated and win a tournament, it's a team effort, but Kayla and Haley have been our leaders. They lead us in kills, but they're also great because of the experience and leadership they bring to the team."

As co-captains of a youthful squad - the Blazers' roster is populated by four freshmen and a sophomore in addition to several key upperclassmen - Moores and March bring the right approach to the gym every day.

"Personality-wise, they're like carbon copies of one another," said Lau. "Neither one of them will get in a teammate's face about something. They're both more subtle, which is good because a lot of young players respond better to positive re-inforcement from their older teammates."

"Skills-wise, they're good at everything they're asked to do. They're outstanding outside hitters, but they excel in the back row, too. And Kayla is doing a nice job as our third setter this year - a role she's never been asked to play."

Both Blazer captains share a mutual respect for the other - both on the court and off.

When asked to describe the other's strengths, their responses were nearly mirror images.

"Haley's best strength is her hitting," March said, smiling. "But she also has a really good serve and she's good in the back row, too."

"Kayla is a good hitter who gets the job done wherever she's playing," Moores countered. "She does everything well, and she's a setter now, too."

Moores, who is a rare two-year captain, and March are appreciative of their leadership roles.

"Being a captain, it's important to be a good role model, especially for our younger players," said March. "Coach always tells us it's important to work hard because you always have someone looking up to us."

"It's nice to know that coach recognizes us as leaders," Moores added.

Moores, who lives in Northville, said she loves the adrenaline rushes volleyball offers.

"It's really intense when you get on a roll, you have the momentum and you want to keep it - especially in a big match," she said. "You're ready to do whatever it takes to get that next point."

March, a resident of Livonia, has been passionate about the sport since delivering her first under-hand serve during a second-grade rec league game.

"I've always loved playing volleyball," said March, who played competitively for St. Raphael Catholic School in Garden City before enrolling at Ladywood her freshman year. "I've always had an instinct or something for it."

Both players are brilliant students with grade-point averages at or a little above the 3.8 mark.

March is poised to play at the next level while Moores is accepting the fact that this season will probably be her final one, at least on a higher level of competition.

"I want to go to a Division 1 college, and to play Division 1 volleyball as an outside hitter, you almost have to be 6-foot or taller," Moores said, smiling.

March said she has some collegiate volleyball opportunities, but will wait a while longer before making the ultimate selection.

HIGH SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL

Hard-hitting Marlins spike rival Mustangs

Dan O'Meara
Staff Writer

Farmington Hills Mercy came out swinging and scoring points Thursday night in its first volleyball meeting of the season with arch-rival Birmingham Marian.

The Marlins put on an impressive display of offense and won the match between Catholic League powers in four sets, 25-19, 19-25, 25-17, 25-12.

"I thought it was awesome," Mercy senior Colleen Hadley said of her team's attack. "The outsiders really moved the ball around. They went from lines to across; they found the open shots on the court."

"The middles played a huge role, because they really pulled the block. And, when there was a split, our setter did a great job of finding the middles."

"Everyone was just on fire. They were really killing it and doing a great job."

The Marlins spread the offense around. Junior middle Bella McDonald and sophomore outside Lauren Hunter had a dozen kills each, Hadley eight and junior Kennedy Kuffner seven.

Hunter, who played a lot of minutes on the varsity last year, missed 2½ weeks after twisting an ankle in the first tournament. Her return to the lineup makes the Marlins that much more stronger.

Junior Jordyn Kreucher and freshmen Jaeda Porter and Kylie Kreucher also contributed to the team's kill total. Junior Elizabeth Susitko was the setter.

"I thought our attacking (was the best part of the Mercy game), picking up what zones were open," Marlins coach Loretta Vogel said. "You could tell what shots we were scoring on, so that changed what offense we were calling. That made a big difference, also."

Going for the big kill

The Marlins were hitting the ball as well as they ever have, despite losing some of their top hitters from last season.

"We were able to get some aggressive swings," Hadley said. "It's a different feel from last year, but I love it. It's just awesome."

"We played more of a control game last year, placing the ball. We're still working on control, but we're a lot more aggressive with our swings. We're swinging a lot bigger than last year."

"Last year we were really strong on defense, and this year we're really strong on offense, getting those big swings and putting the ball away."

Marlins take charge

Marian rallied to tie the first set, 17-17, before Mercy pulled away at the end with the help of three kills by McDonald.

The Mustangs had the strong finish in the second set after the Marlins had pulled even at 19-19.

Mercy was ahead all the way in the third and overcame an early deficit in the fourth to win going away.

"I think we got tired, to be honest," Marian coach Angela Kalczyński said. "I think fatigue set in. We were serving at people instead of trying to find seams."

"You have to be at your best when you play a team like that. There can't be any mental lapses in the serve and serve-receive battle. You have to be consistent from game to game."

Marian standouts

Junior Kate Schafran had 11 kills and 16 digs to lead the Mustangs, who are 0-1 in the league and 15-6 overall.

Junior Emma Sorey had 10 kills, junior Carol Audette eight and sophomore Maggie DePorre six. Sorey and DePorre had three blocks each.

Audette also had 14 digs, freshman Maddie Dowd four aces and junior Marissa Eshaki 36 assists.

"We've handled a lot of adversity in the last week," Kalczyński said, citing injuries and illness affecting players, including two starters.

"I'm really proud of the way they performed, being that we have (sophomore middle) Lauren (Wenzel) out and girls who are injured. I'm not making any excuses. We've just gone through a lot of adversity."

The Mustangs, who have only two seniors, are a young team and still learning to play as a varsity unit.

"There were glimpses of what we can do," Kalczyński said. "We spend a ton of time on serve and receive in practice, but there are times we struggle."

"We play really well for periods of time and then we get sloppy. We have to continue to get better in practice, so that does translate to game situations."

Young team, too

The Marlins, who are 2-0 in the league, have just four seniors among their 18 players.

Junior libero Jackie Kaminski and senior Sloan Horejsi played key roles on defense Thursday.

"We're not quite halfway through the season, but I feel like we're just beginning," Vogel said. "We're just beginning to piece things together."

"We're a young team compared to last year. It's taking us a little time, and we're figuring that out. I'm happy with the girls."

"Last year's seniors did set a high standard, but I think everyone is rising to the occasion," Hadley said. "We're meshing and learning to play with each other. As the season progresses, I think we'll get better and better."

Hadley added the win over Marian is a confidence-builder for the Marlins.

"I think we can use it as we go through the season," she said. "I think we need to remain humble with the win but build on it."

GIRLS SWIMMING

Chiefs victorious in opener

Canton bests Franklin; Salem fourth at Rock Mauer Invite

Tim Smith
Staff Writer

The Canton varsity girls swimming and diving team got off to a good start in dual meet action, with Thursday's 109-70 win over Livonia Franklin.

"Overall, Canton was able to swim ... some new events," head coach Ed Weber said. "The girls enjoy the opportunity to try something fresh and set new PRs."

Balow won in the 200 freestyle with a time of 2 minutes, 12.55 seconds. Wiseman prevailed in the 200 IM (2:30.70) with MacDonald winning in the 50 free (31.29).

Also victorious were Russo in the 100 butterfly (1:07.69), Osika in the 100 free (57.09), Clark in the 500 free (5:32.64) and Waligora in the 100 backstroke (1:12.54).

The Chiefs also took firsts in the 200 medley relay (Madelaine Brownley, Ruoxuan Shi, Brenna Wayne and Mans won in 2:09.76) and 200 free relay (the tandem of Rachel McGue, Maddie Helms, Balow and Osika won in 1:55.25).

Rock Maurer Invite

The host Rocks finished fourth out of six teams at last Saturday's Rock Maurer Invitational with 146.5 points.

Earning the top spot was Saline (305), followed by Farmington Hills Mercy (285) and Northville (207).

In sixth place with 83.5 points was Canton.

PREP ROUNDUP

Plymouth gaining key experience

Plymouth's varsity girls cross country team lost 18-41 Thursday to Livonia Churchill.

Many of the Wildcats enjoyed personal bests despite falling short to the experienced and talented Chargers.

"The race helps add experience to our young team and push them towards the team goal of a strong season finish," Plymouth coach Alice Ahearn said.

Volleyball

Canton swept Westland John Glenn 25-18, 25-23, 25-19 in Thursday's KLLA South Division varsity girls volleyball tilt.

Leading the Chiefs with 17 kills and 25 serve-receive passes was senior Alyssa Burke, with middle hitter Hannah Madis (seven kills) and outside hitter Emma Clark (10 kills) helping the cause.

"Very consistent play tonight," Canton coach Irick Gardner said. "We beat a good team but we have to keep improving."

Check out 2016 Maxima at Nissan of Canton

Cars.com

The redesigned 2016 Nissan Maxima is a powerful, good-handling sedan that stays true to the nameplate's performance-oriented heritage and features an upscale interior that befits its price. You can view and test drive one at Nissan of Canton, 42175 Michigan Ave.

"Maxima" is Nissan's longest continually-in-use nameplate, and the eighth-generation car is a boldly styled sedan that draws heavily from the Nissan Sport Sedan Concept.

Ever since the Nissan Altima grew into a midsize family sedan in the early 2000s, the Maxima hasn't fit neatly into a segment. Nissan says the 2016 Maxima is designed to compete with larger, traditional full-size sedans like the Chevrolet Impala and Toyota Avalon, as well as appeal to buyers looking to move up to a luxury car, like the Acura TLX.

The 2016 Maxima is offered in five trim levels — S, SV, SL, SR and Platinum — that determine the level of equipment; accessories are available, but there are no option packages. We drove an SL, which is priced at $37,715, and the $38,495 SR. That one is the most performance-focused model, with unique suspension bushings, springs, shocks, front stabilizer bar and chassis bracing, in addition to 19-inch alloy wheels with stickier Goodyear tires (prices include an $825 destination charge).

Exterior and styling

The Maxima brings Nissan's Energetic Flow design language to its sedan lineup. Signature cues include a plunging grille bordered by LED daytime running lights and gloss-black pillar finishes that give the roof a floating appearance — something Nissan says is inspired by a fighter jet's canopy. The front end is aggressive — the car looks menacing when you see it coming up on you in your rear-view mirror — and also memorable. It's a design that demands a reaction, good or bad.

How it drives

2016 Nissan Maxima

Large cars may be known for a forgiving, comfortable ride quality, but that's not the Maxima formula. Compared with a Chevrolet Impala or Chrysler 300, which both do a good job smoothing out bumps and cracks in the road, the Maxima is a much more connected, tighter-handling car. There's remarkably little body roll when driving quickly through a corner. You feel bumps, but they're dealt with in a refined way.

The SR trim level's unique suspension is considerably firmer and busier; you feel more road imperfections, even smaller ones, and the impact is harsher when you hit a big pavement crack. It's a little too rough-riding for me, especially considering the good ride-and-handling balance the regular suspension provides.

You'll want the SR trim if you really care about steering feel, as it offers the best of the bunch. Press the Sport button in an SR, however, and the steering wheel gains a nice, firm heft to it and some feedback through the wheel. It feels right in this performance-focused trim.

All trim levels benefit from the performance of the standard 3.5-liter V-6 engine, which provides smooth, effortless acceleration. Rated at 300 horsepower, the V-6 still has power to spare for a quick pass at highway speeds. It pairs with a continuously variable automatic transmission that's programmed to act like a conventional automatic at low speeds for a more traditional driving experience, according to Nissan.

The Maxima shows how far CVT technology has come recently, at least when paired with a powerful engine. It's mostly unobtrusive, with only a hint of the droning that's associated with this type of transmission when you accelerate hard. If you've been driving a car with a conventional automatic, this CVT won't seem strange or different.

One of the benefits of a CVT is that it's able to quickly increase engine speed when you want more power because it doesn't need to shift to a lower gear. The Maxima's CVT is very responsive; nudge the gas pedal and engine rpm immediately increases, providing more power.

CVTs usually enhance gas mileage, and the Maxima's EPA-estimated 25 mpg combined rating tops most V-6 competitors by a few mpg or so.

Interior

Overall quality and attention to detail is very good. The standard leather-wrapped steering wheel feels great; it's even better in the SR, which has Alcantara simulated-suede inserts. The upper sections of the doors are finished with soft-touch material that's a comfortable alternative to the door armrests. The center console has a padded section to rest your knee against, and there's real stitching on the doors, console and dashboard.

Cargo and storage

The Maxima's 14.3-cubic-foot trunk is nicely shaped, and the trunk lid's support arms move within an enclosed area, so there's no risk of them crushing your cargo. The release straps for the 60/40-split folding backseat are in the trunk. The rear seatbacks fold flat with the trunk floor.

The Maxima has a media bin just ahead of the center console cupholders. The bin is large enough for an iPhone 6 Plus, according to Nissan, and it's also where the car's two standard USB ports are located.

Safety

Most of the Maxima's active safety features come on SL and higher trims. These models have standard blind spot warning, rear cross-traffic alert, adaptive cruise control, forward collision warning with autonomous braking and predictive forward collision warning. Predictive forward collision warning uses low-mounted radar to "see" under the car directly ahead of you to the next one in line. The system can issue a warning if it senses that car slowing suddenly — even if you can't see it yourself.

The top-of-the-line Platinum trim adds a surround camera system with moving-object detection and a drowsy-driver warning system. Drowsy-driver warning compares steering inputs at the beginning of a drive with ones later in the trip to determine if the driver is getting tired and needs to take a break.

Value in its class

Years ago, Nissan dubbed the Maxima the 4-Door Sports Car. It's an ambitious tagline, but it reflects the fact that the car caters to a specific type of buyer: the driving enthusiast who still needs sedan practicality. The 2016 Maxima is no different from its predecessors in this regard, but its new level of luxury — both in terms of cabin materials and features — now makes it a credible alternative to entry-luxury sedans. If you're shopping sport sedans, it's worth a test drive.

2015 Lincoln MKX is on sale now at Jack Demmer Lincoln in Dearborn

The 2015 Lincoln MKX is on sale now at Jack Demmer Lincoln, where customers benefit from the Demmer Difference.

Sales Manager Chris Conley said that this midsize luxury crossover vehicle is ideally balanced, and noted its 305 horsepower and 26 miles per gallon highway on regular unleaded.

"Most of the competition requires premium fuel," he said.

A main feature, Conley said, is the optional Intelligent All-Wheel Drive that helps give the Lincoln MKX enhanced traction while providing impressive performance along with tighter handling and control. The system responds actively by redirecting power to the appropriate wheel for best traction. It also helps enhance the vehicle's performance and handling in driving conditions such as rain, sleet, snow, gravel or sand.

The MKX's voice-activated technology helps drivers keep their eyes on the road and stay connected; its features include:

- » Hands-free calling

- » A compatible digital music player

- » Bluetooth audio
- » Incoming texts read with audible text messaging.
- » Voice/touch climate control

- » 911 Assist using your connected mobile phone.

Conley said that MKX owner loyalty is very high.

"Most MKX clients buy or lease another MKX," he said.

And many return to Jack Demmer Lincoln because of the Demmer Difference, which includes:

- » Complimentary maintenance for a new Lincoln
- » Complimentary service loaner
- » Complimentary valet service
- » Complimentary car wash
- » Multilingual sales consultants
- » A great selection of certified pre-owned Lincoln vehicles
- » Being part of the Jack Demmer Automotive Group family
- » And attentive, knowledgeable professionals

"Great lease and purchase offers are going on now," Conley said.

Jack Demmer Lincoln is located at 21531 Michigan Ave. in Dearborn. The dealership is open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday and Thursday and 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

Canton woman to lobby D.C. on cancer

Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Elizabeth Paruch will be in Washington, D.C., on Tuesday, Sept. 29, to lobby on behalf of other cancer survivors and patients — just as she has every year for the past nine years.

The Canton woman is a team leader for the American Cancer Society's Cancer Action Network (CAN) and will visit with her representatives as a part of the Network's annual Leadership Summit and Lobby Day.

She considers her advocacy work a calling after undergoing a breast lumpectomy, chemotherapy and radiation 11 years ago.

"What I went through was nothing compared to what a lot of people go through," said Paruch, 61, who is married and the mother of three adult sons. "I feel very fortunate."

"After being diagnosed with breast cancer, opportunities started to present themselves and doors started to open. I felt that there was a purpose. My faith is very strong and I felt it (advocacy) was something I needed to do."

In 2006, she joined with other cancer survivors at the nation's capital for a celebration and to ask Congress to make the battle against cancer a top priority.

"It was just so touching. Everyone nowadays knows someone who has had cancer," she said. "There was a lot going on and it was overwhelming. I had completely stepped outside of my box, way outside of my comfort zone. But I felt it was something that needed to be done."

Becoming an advocate

The following year, CAN started a volunteer advocacy network and its Michigan office asked Paruch to take on a leadership role. She has attended every Leadership Summit and Lobby Day as a team leader since 2007. The event includes a daylong training session for volunteers and time for meeting with congressional representatives.

Paruch will meet with 11th District Congressman Dave Trott, and Sens. Gary Peters and Debbie Stabenow to promote three cancer-related issues:

- » The need for an increase in federal funding for cancer research
- » Co-sponsorship of a bill that would support increased education and training for palliative care

» Legislation that would close a loophole in Medicare that often results in higher costs for seniors when a polyp is found during a routine colonoscopy

Dorm fridge freezers need manual defrosting

The young person in the family goes off to college and we all know how dramatic that can be and at the same time, it's most exciting for the potential graduate.

Knowing that your child will need some sort of small refrigerator in the dorm room, you ask around or stop by your local appliance retailer. You make the trek to campus, unload belongings and install this small refrigerator on a table or in an out-of-the-way corner. You have read this column for years so you are aware that you should not plug it in until two hours have passed after you put it in a normal position. You know that this factor allows the oil in the system to migrate back down to the bottom of the compressor.

No problems now except that the new college student may be the one who has to plug in the new small refrigerator. You might have received a signal that your job was done and he or she wanted to quickly get accustomed to life on the campus. And so life goes on as normal and the refrigerator does its job and the student always has something cold to drink. BUT, what happens when this little refrigerator has a whole bunch of frost build up inside and around the tiny freezer compartment? The temperature inside warms up, the pop isn't cold enough and the student calls home to ask what is wrong. Here is where the answer gets tricky or let's say, could cost you a lot of money. It is most important to give the right answer or you and the future professor will both get a failing grade. I would suggest you cut out this column and send it to the student as they don't teach this stuff in schools.

Hot water

Do not use anything made of metal to try and scrape off the accumulation of snow or frost built up. The knife or sharp instrument will pierce the aluminum coil which is painted over. It may be hard to determine which is the aluminum coil but it is there, trust me. You can't mend this coil once you pierce it so the small refrigerator is basically destroyed. Repair costs are three times what you paid for it. To defrost this refrigerator correctly means to empty it, and place the products in a box covered with a heavy blanket. Place a pot or something filled with the hottest water possible on a refrigerator shelf, leave the door open and make sure you unplug the refrigerator. In a few hours, the frost will be all melted and has turned to water. It is wise to place a thick towel inside the unit to absorb the melted snow. Should you want to rush the job, use a plastic tool to remove some of the snow after you see signs of dripping water. After all evidence of snow is gone, take a dry towel and dry all surfaces inside the unit and wipe off around the door gasket.

Dealing with environmental laws today can be very costly. In many communities across America, you cannot dispose of a refrigeration product without having a tag on it that verifies that the refrigerant has been removed from the product by a qualified service technician making the product environmentally safe for disposal.

In my years in the appliance repair industry I have witnessed hundreds of these small refrigerators with holes in the evaporators caused by persons who didn't know about the "art of manual defrost."

One last tip for you when installing this small refrigerator. Do not run a small extension cord to plug it in. Use the shortest cord possible and make sure it is of heavier gauge than the cord connected to the product. A hardware store will handle what you need and you won't burn out the compressor. Stay tuned.

Joe Gagnon can be heard at 8 a.m. Saturdays on WAAM 1600. You can email your problems and questions on appliances to appldr@twmi.rr.com.

LOBBY

"Research funding hasn't stayed with inflation. We're asking Congress to support cancer research with a $6 billion increase over the next two years."

According to the American Cancer Society, more than 57,000 Michigan residents will be diagnosed with cancer this year and more than 20,000 will die from the disease.

Staying hopeful

Paruch said she sometimes feels frustrated with how slowly changes occur, but will continue being a "squeaky wheel" for cancer issues.

"You can't give up hope. The more volunteers we have that are going to speak up or write email, maybe the more they will listen."

Paruch was the Michigan co-winner of CAN's volunteer of the year award in 2013. She also received a national volunteer award that year. In addition to advocacy work, she also has particcancer a few months after her first Relay. She also regularly meets newly diagnosed cancer patients at the University of Michigan Hospital and offers them information about resources and support services.

FIBROMYALGIA AND LUPUS

There are far more instances when Fibromyalgia is diagnosed as Lupus than there are examples of Lupus being mistakenly called Fibromyalgia.

A feature of Lupus that many practitioners overlook is that the full name of Lupus is Systemic Lupus Erythematosus or SLE. The term "Systemic" means that SLE involves a number of body systems; there is a category of Lupus that involves only the skin, but that variant is not part of the discussion today.

Commonly, a patient with Fibromyalgia will experience joint aching, possibly have a rash that comes and goes, the patient may complain of hair loss, tingling in the arms or legs, or may feel the body is swelling because lymph nodes in the neck are enlarging.

As noted above, Lupus is systemic; it can be part of the condition to note hair loss, fatigue joint pains, and find enlarged lymph nodes in the neck. However, the resemblance of SLE to Fibromyalgia is only superficial. The joint pains of SLE involve the small joints in the hands and feet, and are not migrating as in Fibromyalgia. In Lupus, the hand ankle swelling persists and is not a feeling the person experiences but has resolved by the time the person came to the office. In Fibromyalgia laboratory tests for inflammation such as a complete blood count, sedimentation rate and ANA test give normal results. In SLE, even when patients believe they are well, these same tests will show abnormal results.

The foundation of treatment in SLE is Plaquenil and prednisone; neither drug has a place in therapy for Fibromyalgia. It is important that the physician makes the correct diagnosis, and that the patient learns the true nature of his or her condition.

BATTENFIELD, AUDREY

of Livonia, passed away peacefully, at home, surrounded by her family on September 18. Loving mother of Bill (Diane) Battenfield, Nora (Gary) Gebhart, Gail Battenfield, and Bruce (Cindy) Battenfield. Beloved grandmother of Stacey (Stacey William) Battenfield-Fox and Lisa Battenfield. Great grandmother of Liam and Spencer Fox; Darryl, Mike and Brian Landskroener; and Amanda Battenfield. Great great grandmother of 11. She was preceded in death by her loving husband, William, of 53 years. Starting in her early years, Audrey was a lifelong member of the Detroit Skating Club, as a professional roller and figure skater. She went on to teach skating starting in 1964, spanning 40 plus years. The majority of her career was with Livonia Parks and Recreation. She traveled all over the U.S. judging figure skating competitions. Well known as the "Coach in Pink Skate, she leaves behind a positive legacy affecting the lives of her many students. She coached many award winning skaters including 2 on Stanley Cup Teams and 1 Olympic Gold Medalist. At her request, cremation has taken place with a private memorial. Donations may be made to Angela Hospice, 14100 Newburgh Rd., Livonia, MI 48154. Please share a memory of Audrey at www.cremationmichigan.com

BANFIELD, JANET M.
 Age 85, September 24, 2015. Beloved wife of the late Gerald for 46 years. Loving mother of the late Gerald Jr. (Catherine), Douglas (Nancy), Barbara Banfield (Mumtaz George), Daniel (Linda) and Kathleen Banfield. Cherished grandmother of Jennifer, Sarah, Jerry, Jim, Alex, Vanessa, Katie, Brian; and great-grandmother of six. Also survived by daughter-in-law Wendy. BATES, ROBERT

Born January 23, 1943, Bob was loved by his sister and brother-in-law, two sons, two daughters and four grandchildren, plus many other family and friends. He was an honest man, who rarely found fault or never spoke ill of another. He did not move quickly, nor did he aspire to much, he enjoyed his books, TV, friendships, a little bit of work to keep him busy, his jewelry and giving gifts to his grandkids. He was one of the best people on this planet and with his departure, humanity becomes a little less humane. May he rest in peace, finally. We love you. Details on his memorial will be posted on the following website once we've figured them out http://gbates12.wix.com/bobbatesbraveandkind

HACKER, ROBERT "BOB"

Age 53, suddenly. Beloved partner of Rowland Bullerick, son of Barbara and the late Fred Hacker. Brother of Karen, Mike (Kim), Susan (Matt Kozdron), David (Andrea) and Heather (Chris Dib). Survived by many nieces and nephews. Memorial service 11:30am, October 3, at Farmington Masonic Temple.

Free cleanup kit helps prevent deadly sepsis

Sharon Dargay
Staff Writer

Sepsis can strike anyone, at any age, and it can develop from something as severe as pneumonia or a simple cut or scratch.

"I'm a nurse practitioner and I see it in the ER every day," said Michele Moccia, R.N., program director, senior emergency center at St. Mary Mercy Livonia. "It's a life-threatening response to an infection, a bad outcome from an infection. All of a sudden your body goes haywire. The body starts to destroy itself. When people get sepsis, it can lead to tissue damage, organ failure and death. If you survive sepsis, you can have long-term functional and cognitive effects. Some people get amputations."

According to Sepsis Alliance, the condition starts with an infection caused by an illness, such as diabetes, cancer, upper respiratory infection, or appendicitis. Or an injury, like a cut or scrape, can turn into sepsis, causing systemic inflammation. It also can be caused by an infection following routine surgery. It can strike all ages, although the elderly, young children and individuals with weakened immune systems, chronic diseases and burn victims are at greater risk.

According to the National Institutes of Health, more than one million Americans develop sepsis and 28-50% die as a result.

"Five hundred people (nationwide) die from sepsis every day and they can die within hours. It's the ninth leading cause of death," Moccia said.

Spreading the word

September is Sepsis Awareness Month and Moccia and other members of STAR FoRuM, based at St. Mary Mercy, are doing their part to raise awareness of the condition. STAR FoRuM is a collaboration of representatives from the hospital, nursing homes, Home Instead, a senior care company in Livonia, will distribute cleaning kits to help prevent sepsis, 2-7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 30.

rehab centers, home care companies and other agencies working to improve patient transitions between the hospital and their facilities.

The group distributed information about sepsis, along with Clorox cleaning kits from Home Instead Senior Care at St. Mary Mercy's annual Embrace Life run/walk earlier this month and placed table displays showing the signs of sepsis in the hospital cafeteria. Moccia also spoke on the topic at a Michigan Hospital Association meeting in Traverse City.

St. Mary Mercy and Home Instead will team up Wednesday, Sept. 30, to distribute information and Clorox cleanup kits to help battle sepsis, 2-7 p.m. at Home Instead, 16013 Middlebelt, Livonia; 734-525-5300. Glenna Yaroch, owner of Home Instead, a senior care company and member of STAR FoRuM, said her employees have been trained to identify sepsis symptoms. Their name badges also carry information on how to recognize early signs of infection.

"We need to start planting the word sepsis in our conversation," Yaroch said. "With sepsis, time is a critical piece to the outcome."

Treatment

According to the National Institutes of Health, patients diagnosed with sepsis generally are treated in hospital intensive care units and receive antibiotics and other medications. They may also need intravenous fluids, oxygen, kidney dialysis, or surgery.

Yaroch said vaccinating up-to-date with vaccinations and using good hygiene can help prevent sepsis. That includes frequent hand washing and proper bathing, toileting and clean clothing, especially for seniors.

"Clorox created home care cleanup kits. They donated several hundred to me and we're pushing them out as a part of our sepsis awareness campaign," she said.

They contain gloves, hand sanitizer, a germicidal nonbleach spray, and a disinfectant.

"The biggest thing you can do is to make sure you get your vaccinations. Clean scrapes and wounds with soap and water," Moccia said. "There is no single symptom for sepsis. However, spelling out the word sepsis, the 's' is for shivering, with fever or very cold."

The 'e' represents extreme pain or discomfort, 'p' is for pale or discolored skin, 's' is for sleepy or confused, 'i' means I feel like I might die, and 's' is for shortness of breath.

She said individuals who have those symptoms should tell the doctor "I am concerned about sepsis," when they go to the emergency room or clinic.

Getting interviews but no job offers?

BY SUSAN RICKER
CAREERBUILDER

Getting called in for an interview is a positive sign — it usually means that your resumé, cover letter and reputation made a good impression on the hiring manager and she would like to have a more in-depth conversation with you about your experience.

However, if you're getting a lot of interviews but no job offers, there are some red flags to watch for. Here are some questions to ask yourself to ensure your next interview is a success.

Do your application materials match your personality?

If hiring managers are won over by your qualifications until you start elaborating on them in person, you may not be presenting yourself as the same candidate that the hiring manager "met" on your application. Did you describe yourself as an excellent public speaker but you're stammering during the interview? Did your extensive experience in design software suddenly disappear from your memory when you were asked about which programs you prefer?

Some lapses can be blamed on interview jitters, but it's crucial that you are able to give in-depth explanations about your experience and thoughtful answers to interview questions. Take plenty of time to study your resumé and any other application materials you submitted, and jot down what highlights you want to cover. Aligning your answers with the resumé the hiring manager has in front of her will help you introduce yourself as the candidate she was hoping to meet.

Did you prepare well enough for the interview?

Similar to mismatches in personality or skills, if you're not prepared for your interview, the hiring manager is going to be disappointed. She's taking the time to talk about how you might fit in at their organization, which means she expects you to be ready for that conversation. If you haven't looked at your application since you sent it in three months ago, or if you opted for a night out partying instead of preparing interview answers and doing company research, you're going to have a hard time impressing the hiring manager.

That's because while employers recognize that your skills and experience might be a good fit for their organization, there are plenty of other candidates who will be able to connect the dots as to why they're the ideal candidate. Can you relate your experience to the company's goals and values? Have you read the new book the CEO released? Researching a company and preparing for your interview ensures that you're more than just a resumé — you're a viable fit for their business.

Is your body language sending the wrong message?

A recent CareerBuilder survey found that 49 percent of employers know within the first five minutes of an interview if a candidate is a good fit for the position. How can that be? It all comes down to personality and body language. The top body language mistakes job seekers make, according to hiring managers, are failing to make eye contact or smile, playing with something on the table, having bad posture, fidgeting too much in their seat, crossing their arms over their chest, playing with their hair or touching their face, having a weak handshake or using too many hand gestures. Being more aware of how you present yourself — and how the hiring manager is perceiving you — can be the missing link between getting an interview and getting to that next step.

To that point, when you're preparing, also consider the company culture and what that means for your interview attire. If you wear a suit to your interview, will you be overly formal? Is the company a tech startup where employees act casually and wear jeans? Paying attention to these social cues, and behaving confidently and acting approachable during your interview, may be what gets you the job. The hiring manager is looking for somebody who will fit in well at the organization.

By following these tips and building up your confidence, you'll stop the interview-but-no-offer cycle and finally hear, "You're hired!"

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

They're Showing At Frankfurt, But These Cars Could Make U.S. Mark

By Dale Buss

One big pride point for Detroit is the annual North American International Auto Show each January at Cobo Center, hosted by the Detroit Auto Dealers Association. As U.S. auto sales have recovered robustly over the last several years, the import of this annual showpiece of the American auto industry has only grown in importance, now typically featuring dozens of North American and global debuts for new production vehicles, exciting concept cars, new technology features and other stuff.

But there are other major auto shows around the world as well, and one of them, the Frankfurt Motor Show, has been unfolding this month in Germany. It occurs every other year, alternating with Paris auto show, and is one of the pillars of European automotive exhibitions also along with the annual show in Geneva.

While part of the backdrop to this year's affair is nearly two years of overall slight recovery in the European auto market, the Frankfurt show also is occurring amid trepidation about everything from the immigrant crisis to the direction of oil prices to whether automakers or tech companies will own the self-driving car business of the future.

As the European auto industry has recovered lately, so has the importance of the Frankfurt show as a stage for upcoming new models and other innovations by many of the world's automakers. General Motors CEO Mary Barra underscored the importance of the Frankfurt event to GM's own continental and global ambitions by showing up there at the press preview this year.

Also, many products, concepts and other wrinkles on display in Frankfurt this month either eventually will show up in vehicles in the U.S. market or heavily influence what appears here.

Some of the most iconic cars in the world have been launched at the Frankfurt show over the years, CNN notes, including the Porsche 911 (1963) and the Volkswagen Golf GTI (1975).

This year at Frankfurt, one of the biggest buzz-builders was Hyundai's N 2025 Vision Gran Turismo supercar, also known as the Muroc, which marked the debut of its N series as well as its creation for the Sony PlayStation game Gran Turismo 6.

As The Verge noted, the concept car may not see the light of day — or Le Mans, for that matter — but the highly hyped reveal is an important one because N is Hyundai's "new division that will focus on high-performance cars — think Nissan's Nismo, BMW's M, or Cadillac's V. So while you're not going to see the Muroc on the road any time soon (or ever, actually), you will eventually see N cars driving around."

Volkswagen's ultra-luxury Bugatti's Vision Gran Turismo concept was also revealed at Frankfurt. Also generating buzz: Bentley's unveiling of its new Bentayga SUV, with prices starting at $229,000. Its first customer: The Queen of England, who will use the car at her Scottish estate for "hunting expeditions on the property," Bentley Motors President and CEO for the Americas Michael Winkler told Bloomberg.

Here's what some other brands were up to in Frankfurt, and what we might see coming to the United States at some point:

Audi: Its electric-powered e-tron quattro concept car boasts a range of more than 300 miles.

Alfa Romeo: The Giulia sport sedan kicks off a stream of new models for the Fiat Chrysler-owned brand, which are crucial to CEO Sergio Marchionne's hopes for a revival of the brand in the US market and stronger sales in Europe.

Infiniti: Nissan's luxury brand unveiled the first vehicle it developed with Mercedes-Benz, the Q30 compact hatchback, which goes on sale in the US next year.

Jaguar: The luxury brand launched its first SUV, F-Pace, which is attempting to provide some of the benefits of a crossover, such as a high seating position, without cannibalizing the bread-and-butter nameplates of sibling Land Rover.

Maserati: Notable by the absence of its own SUV launch to compete against the other luxury makes trotting out their crossovers, Maserati plans to field its Levante crossover at the Geneva show in March.

Mazda: The brand unveiled an all-new crossover concept, Koeru, which offers "sporty yet delightfully refined styling and driving performance" the company said, as Mazda aims for a bigger presence in the fast-growing compact crossover market.

Mercedes-Benz: The brand highlighted its first S-class convertible in more than four decades, a sleek four-seater that features an Aircap system designed to protect passengers from the wind—although isn't that one point of a convertible?

Porsche: Mission E, its prototype battery-driven sports car, aims to rival Tesla.
